"SECTION 2.(a) The Executive Director of the Wildlife Resources Commission, the Director of the Division of Marine Fisheries of the Department of Environment and Natural Resources, and the Commissioner of Agriculture shall, in consultation with various user groups, study the current organization of the State's fish and wildlife management agencies and consider whether these agencies might be reorganized to provide for more efficient, productive, and enjoyable uses of the State's fish and wildlife resources.

SECTION 2.(b) In conducting this study, the Executive Director, the Director, and the Commissioner shall specifically consider all of the following:

- (1) The efficient and effective transfer of statutory authority, powers, duties, and functions, including, but not limited to, rulemaking, licensing, and the rendering of findings, orders, and adjudications.
- (2) The efficient and effective transfer and consolidation of records, personnel, property, and unexpended balances of appropriations, allocations, or other funds. This component of the study shall specifically identify any areas of overlap between agency programs or personnel.
- (3) The uninterrupted and unimpaired continuation of all services provided by the agencies, rules adopted or implemented by the agencies, contracts or other obligations entered into by the agencies, and proceedings to which any agency is a party.
- (4) All statutory, rule, and policy changes that would be necessary to reorganize fish and wildlife management in the State.
- (5) Positions or duties regarding fisheries resource management currently carried out by the Marine Fisheries Commission or the Division of Marine Fisheries of the Department of Environment and Natural Resources that are within the scope of the overall mission of the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services.
- (6) Any other issues necessary for the potential reorganization of fish and wildlife management in the State.
