32 SECTION 4. G.S. 66-57.2 reads as rewritten:

33 "§ 66-57.2. Employer's rights.

34 (a) An employer may not require a provision of an employment agreement made 35 unenforceable under G.S. 66-57.1 as a condition of employment or continued employment. An 36 employer, in an employment agreement, may require that the employee report all inventions
 37 developed by the employee, solely or jointly, during the term of his employment to the employer,
 38 including those asserted by the employee as nonassignable, for the purpose of determining
 39 employee or employer rights. ~~If required by a contract between the employer and the United States~~
 40 ~~or its agencies, the employer may require that full title to certain patents and inventions be in the~~
 41 ~~United States.~~

42 (b) An employer's ownership of an employee's invention, discovery, or development that 43 has or becomes vested in the employer by contract or by operation of law shall not be subject to 44 revocation or rescission in the event of a dispute between the employer and employee concerning 45 payment of compensation or benefits to the employee, subject to any contrary provision in the 46 employee's written employment agreement. The foregoing provision shall not apply where the 47 employee proves that the employer acquired ownership of the employee's invention, discovery, or 48 development fraudulently.

49 (c) If required by a contract between the employer and the United States or its agencies,
 50 the employer may require that full title to certain patents and inventions be in the United States."

1 SECTION 5. This act becomes effective October 1, 2016. Sections 1 and 2 of this act
2 apply to operating agreements entered into on or after that date.
