General Assembly Of North Carolina

An employee under the supervision of a veterinarian may perform such duties as are 1 (c) 2 required in the physical care of animals and in carrying out medical orders as prescribed by the 3 veterinarian, requiring an understanding of animal science but not requiring the professional 4 services as set forth in G.S. 90-181(6)a. In addition, a veterinary technician may assist 5 veterinarians in diagnosis, laboratory analysis, anesthesia, and surgical procedures. Neither the 6 employee nor the veterinary technician may perform any act producing an irreversible change in 7 the animal. An employee, other than a veterinary technician, or intern, or preceptee, may, under 8 the direct supervision of a veterinarian, perform duties including collection of specimen; testing 9 for intestinal parasites; collecting blood; testing for heartworms and conducting other laboratory 10 tests; taking radiographs; and cleaning and polishing teeth, provided that the employee has had 11 sufficient on-the-job training by a veterinarian to perform these specified duties in a competent 12 manner. It shall be the responsibility of the veterinarian supervising the employee to ascertain 13 that the employee performs these specified duties assigned to the employee in a competent 14 manner. These specified duties shall be performed under the direct supervision of the veterinarian 15 in charge of administering care to the patient.

16 (d) Veterinary student interns, in addition to all of the services permitted to veterinary 17 technicians, may, under the direct personal supervision of a veterinarian, perform surgery and 18 administer therapeutic or prophylactic drugs.

19 Veterinary student preceptees, in addition to all of the services permitted to veterinary (e) 20 technicians and veterinary student interns, may, upon the direction of the employing veterinarian, 21 make ambulatory calls and hospital and clinic diagnoses, prescriptions and treatments.

Any person registered as a veterinary technician, or veterinary student intern, or 22 (f) 23 veterinary student preceptee, who shall practice veterinary medicine except as provided herein, 24 shall be guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor, and shall also be subject to revocation of registration. 25 Any nonregistered veterinary employee employed under subsection (c) who practices veterinary 26 medicine except as provided under that subsection shall be guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor.

27 Any veterinarian directing or permitting a veterinary technician, intern, preceptee or (g) 28 other employee to perform a task or procedure not specifically allowed under this Article and the 29 rules of the Board shall be guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor.
