"SECTION 38.10.(g) A pole owner shall promptly review a request for access, perform surveys, provide estimates and final invoices, and complete, or require the completion by other attaching entities, of any make-ready work necessary for purposes of offering broadband service in an unserved area. A pole owner shall provide a good-faith estimate for any make-ready costs to the communications service provider within sixty (60) days after receipt of a complete application for access. If requested by the communications service provider, the pole owner shall provide accompanying documentation indicating the basis of all estimated fees or other charges, including but not limited to administrative costs, that form the basis of its estimate. A good-faith estimate shall remain valid for fourteen (14) days. To accept a good-faith estimate, a communications service provider must provide the pole owner with written acceptance and payment of the good-faith estimate. For a request for access affecting up to thirty (30) utility poles for the purpose of providing broadband service to an unserved area, make-ready work shall be completed within ninety (90) days of written acceptance and payment of the good-faith estimate by the communication service provider. For a request for access affecting more than thirty (30) utility poles for the purpose of providing broadband service to an unserved area, make-ready work shall be conditioned upon payment of the good-faith estimate and shall be completed within a reasonable timeframe mutually agreed to by the communications service provider and the pole owner. A pole owner may treat multiple requests from a single communications service provider as one application for access when the requests are filed within 90 days of one another. A pole owner may deviate from the time limits specified in this subsection during performance of make-ready for good and sufficient cause that renders it infeasible to complete make-ready within the time limits specified in this subsection. Any deviation from the time limits specified..."
in this subsection shall extend for a period no longer than necessary. A communications service provider shall promptly be notified, in writing, of the reason for a deviation and the new completion date estimate. A communications service provider shall provide notice, in writing, to the pole owner no later than fourteen (14) days after attaching equipment to a pole in an unserved area.
