6 THE ADDRESS CONFIDENTIALITY PROGRAM, AND ENACTING THE CIVIL 7 LIABILITY FOR DOXING ACT.

8 The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

9 SECTION 1.(a) Chapter 132 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new 10 section to read:

11 "§ 132-1.15. Identification and location information of current and former military 12 personnel exempted from disclosure.

13 (a) Definitions. – The following definitions apply in this section:

14 (1) Identification and location information or information. – Includes the 15 following:

16 a. Home addresses, telephone numbers, and dates of birth of current and 17 former military personnel and the telephone numbers associated with 18 the personal communication devices of current and former military 19 personnel.

20 b. Home addresses, telephone numbers, and dates of birth of the spouses 21 and dependents of current and former military personnel, and the 22 telephone numbers associated with the personal communication
23 devices of such spouses and dependents.

24 c. Names and locations of schools attended by the spouses of current and 25 former military personnel and schools or daycare facilities attended by 26 dependents of current and former military personnel.

27 (2) Military personnel. – Persons employed by the United States Department of 28 Defense who are authorized to access information deemed "secret" or "top 29 secret" by the federal government or persons who are servicemembers of a 30 special operations force.

31 (3) Special operations force. – The active and reserve component forces of the 32 United States military services, designated by the Secretary of War or

1 Combatant-Craft Crewmen; the United States Air Force Combat Control,

9 (b) Findings. – The General Assembly finds that:

10 (1) Military personnel perform among the most critical, most effective, and most 11 dangerous operations in defense of our nation's freedom.

12 (2) Terrorist groups, insurgents, and hostile nations have threatened military 13 personnel and their families and have encouraged actions to harm military 14 personnel and their families within the United States. Such actions can 15 intimidate communities, demoralize military families, and potentially weaken 16 operations.

17 (3) Allowing continued public access to the identification and location 18 information of current and former military personnel and their families 19 jeopardizes the safety of these personnel, their spouses, and their dependents.

20 (4) Protecting the safety and security of current and former military personnel, 21 and their spouses and dependents, outweighs any public benefit that may be 22 derived from the public disclosure of the identification and location 23 information.

24 (c) Information Protected. – Identification and location information held by a State 25 agency is confidential, not a public record as defined by G.S. 132-1, and shall be exempt from 26 disclosure under this Chapter when the current or former military personnel member submits the 27 following to the State agency that has custody of the identification and location information:

28 (1) A written request to exempt the member's identification and location 29 information from public disclosure; and

30 (2) A written statement that the member has made reasonable efforts to protect 31 the identification and location information from being accessible through 32 other means available to the public.

33 (d) The head of each State agency shall ensure that current and archived identification 34 and location information is removed as soon as practicable from the State agency website in 35 conformity with the requirements of this section."

36 SECTION 1.(b) The provisions of this section apply to identification and location 37 information as defined in G.S. 132-1.15, as enacted by this act, held by a custodian before, on, 38 or after the effective date of this act.

39 SECTION 2.(a) The Department of Justice shall study extending coverage under 40 Chapter 15C of the General Statutes (Address Confidentiality Program) to military personnel as 41 defined in G.S. 132-1.15, as enacted by this act. The Department of Justice shall complete the 42 study and report its findings and recommendations to the General Assembly and Fiscal Research 43 Division by October 1, 2027.

44 SECTION 2.(b) Notwithstanding Chapter 15C of the General Statutes, during the 45 period from July 1, 2026, through June 30, 2027, the Attorney General may authorize 46 participation in the Address Confidentiality Program by military personnel, as defined in 47 G.S. 132-1.15, for the purpose of evaluating program administration, participant demand, 48 resource needs, and other implementation considerations associated with a potential expansion 49 of program eligibility. Participation authorized under this subsection shall be subject to any 50 procedures and requirements established by the Attorney General.
