2000078975	2020 VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN	North Carolina Coalition Against	NCCADV DV FA	$63,999.99	Open	10/1/2024	9/30/2025	One in four homicides in the US are DV-related (Kivisto & Porter, 2020). Nationally, 25 million adults have been threatened with a firearm, nonfatally shot, or shot at by an intimate partner (Adhia et al, 2021). DV homicides often claim the lives of children and family members as well (Everytown Research & Policy, 2023). As of August 17, 2024, there have been 57 DV homicides in NC. Over 75% of these homicides involved a firearm (NCCADV, 2024). Proper implementation of DV firearm protections saves lives. A 2018 study found a 13% reduction in DV gun homicide in states like NC that restrict firearm possession by people with active DVPOs (Zeoli et al. 2018). Repeal of the pistol-permitting system means that background checks that would have flagged a DVPO or disqualifying criminal history are no longer required for private sales in NC and creates a means for DV offenders to keep and purchase new firearms that can be used against their partner.

2000070975	2021 VICTIMS OF CRIME ACT	REACH of Macon County	Specialized Outreach and Intervention fo	$41,528.69	OPEN	10/1/2024	9/30/2025	REACH's vision is to help build healthy families and a strong community through an advocacy philosophy that provides comprehensive services for victims. Historically, victim service models have emphasized outreach/intervention services tailored for women that are female-centric. While women do make up the largest reported percentage of victims of trauma, according to the CDC, 1 in 7 men age 18+ in the US have been the victim of severe physical violence by an intimate partner in their lifetime, while 1 in 10 men have experienced rape, physical violence, and/or stalking by an intimate partner. REACH's current statistics show that males make up approximately 10% of the overall number of victims seeking our services; we know based on national statistics that the number of male victims in our community is higher; our job is to eliminate the barriers that prevent those victims from seeking services. This project would work to do just that by eliminating barriers for male victims through outreach, training, and intervention. The projects intersectional framework would address societal norms that contribute to misinformation and stereotypes, provide training for system providers who intersect with male victims, would be gender inclusive, and would provide specialized outreach that is relevant to meeting men where they a

Children identified as victims of maltreatment with trauma symptoms, and mental health treatment by highly specialized therapists will be the #next step# to begin the healing process. Children need trauma-focused mental health interventions to address complex sequelae of symptoms caused from thoughts and behaviors that commonly occur when children have been sexually abused. The vast majority of rural counties within our catchment area do not have therapists with expertise in trauma models to effectively treat abused children, their non-offending caregivers, and family members. In addition, caregivers need a high degree of support, psycho-education, and advocacy to ensure children complete their complete course of trauma treatment which often requires six to eight months of weekly sessions. Gathering details and background information relative to the child's experience of abuse ensures appropriate referrals from caregivers and involved professionals to determine appropriate trauma therapy and other treatment interventions. The referral includes gathering information and family histories from

Onslow Women's Center will educate the community on sexual assault and safety through various educational and awareness events. This includes providing 1-hour educational programs to students across 36 public schools in Onslow County. Onslow Women's Center will also host and provide sexual assault training to law enforcement, educators, and social workers. We host sexual assault

2000071431	2021 VICTIMS OF CRIME ACT	Thompson Child & Family Focus	Thompson - Mental Health Services for Un	$158,804.17	OPEN	10/1/2024	9/30/2025	Children who have experienced trauma such as abuse or witnessing domestic violence have an increased likelihood of negative outcomes later in life, including social, emotional and cognitive impairment, substance misuse, high-risk sexual behavior, lifetime depressive episodes, and early death (Council for Children's Rights State of Our Children 2020). Without intervention and treatment, these children often become adult victims of domestic violence, perpetuating the cycle. This project's primary purpose is to help child victims/witnesses and non-offending caregivers heal from trauma, and to end the inter-generational cycle of violence and abuse by employing evidence-based, trauma-informed therapeutic best practices (PCIT and TF-CBT). These models have been proven to be effective in addressing and interrupting cycles of trauma. PCIT increases the number of positive interactions caregivers have with their children and directly alters negative discipline strategies, thus disrupting cycles of maltreatment. TF-CBT is widely regarded as the most effective tool for addressing trauma in children ages 6.5 and up. In addition to PCIT and TF-CBT, all children, youth and families served will have access to Thompson's continuum of services, including childcare, parenting education, wraparound mental health services,
2000071434	2021 VICTIMS OF CRIME ACT	Southmountain Children And Family	Southmountain Ashe CVS Underserved -	$125,000.00	OPEN	10/1/2024	9/30/2025	The new Ashe County CAC will utilize the CAC model and bring together the key agencies involved in child abuse investigations into one multidisciplinary team to allow child victims to receive key services in an efficient and sensitive manner. The Ashe CAC will allow families to receive services in a convenient location that will result in more families receiving the services they need. Work has already been done to speed the opening of the new CAC. A rent-free building has been identified to house the CAC. This will save the program over $20,000 per year. We were also able to receive a grant for the equipment needed for forensic interviews and child medical exams. The equipment has been purchased and installed. If we are fortunate to receive GCC funding, we will hire staff and be open for services in October 2022. The CAC Model outlines specific protocol whereby key agencies that investigate and intervene in child abuse work together using a multidisciplinary team model. At the CAC, this team will ensure the conduct of forensic interviews and medical exams, they provide advocacy, and provide evidence-based therapy for children ages birth-17 who have suffered sexual and physical abuse or were witness to a violent crime. The Center Director will ensure the conduct of a forensic interview and ensure the victims' ne

Mecklenburg Underserved Crime Victims	$250,000.00	OPEN	10/1/2024	9/30/2025	This project seeks to increase underserved populations# (specifically Limited English Proficiency, immigrant, and LatinX individuals) access to domestic violence and sexual assault services by removing linguistic/cultural barriers to care within our service model. Given the prevalence of other languages and cultures in our community, along with the growing LatinX population, Safe Alliance is dedicated to making its services known and accessible. Accessibility policies are currently embedded within each program. We offer interpretation services, provide all printed forms in Spanish, have audio versions of our website available in 6 languages, and staff 8 bilingual positions across the agency. We plan to expand these policies through our Language Access Plan. We will continue hiring bilingual staff (primarily Spanish-speaking) in direct service roles to work with LEP clients and expand outreach efforts in immigrant/LatinX communities. All program staff will screen LEP clients for their primary language, be trained to use the Language Line interpreter platform, and provide #I Speak# cards to clients as a resource to be used when seeking other local services. Internal procedures for communicating client interpretation needs to partner agencies will also be developed for external agency referrals. All language access

Family Justice Center (FJC) that will radically transform victim services by co-locating service providers in one location. The Survivor Resource Center (SRC) opened in 2021 as a stop-gap measure to serve the highest lethality cases and to test/develop the FJC model. This project aims to deepen the collaborative work while significantly enhancing the sexual assault services offered through the SRC. Safe Alliance has a long history of partnering with hospital-based services and our collaboration with area Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner Services (SANES) to provide 24/7 hospital accompaniment has produced strong results. Due to the pandemic, our ability to provide onsite services has been limited. However, all partners are prepared to resume this vital service and, in the interim, Safe Alliance is providing virtual support and enhanced services outside of the hospital facility. Safe Alliance also offers crisis services, which empowers survivors to make informed decisions by identifying the options available to them. Utilizing trained staff, interns, and volunteers, we offer 24-hour hospital response. Trained staff are available at all times to

2000071441	2021 VICTIMS OF CRIME ACT	ALAMANCE COUNTY FINANCE OFFICE	Alamance Family Justice Center -	$125,000.00	OPEN	10/1/2024	9/30/2025	In general, victims report that navigating systems can be confusing and overwhelming. Communities can experience a lack of communication between agencies, low referrals, difficulty identifying high risk cases and an inability to meet the needs of marginalized populations. Victims experience many barriers to accessing services, and may not know all the options available. The Family Justice Center model was created to address these issues. The core of the model is strengthening communication and collaboration to improve the victim experience. This model allows for a coordinated response between a multi-disciplinary system in order to identify gaps, avoid duplication, and focus on new initiatives to meet the needs of the community. Project funds will be used to offer services that increases access, safety, and build resiliency. On-site partners at the Family Justice Center include: Alamance Sheriff#s Office SVU, Burlington PD SVU, Child Protective Services, Crossroads, Department of Social Services, Elder Justice Project, Elon Law Legal Services, EnviroSafe, Family Abuse Services, Legal Aid of NC, RHA Health Services, and Women#s Resource Center. By creating a one stop shop, victims are able to choose the services best for their situation, with FJC staff navigating victims and providing the follow up with victims.

2000071444	2021 VICTIMS OF CRIME ACT	Women Veterans Support Services, Inc.	Women Veterans CVS Support Services	$56,175.82	OPEN	10/1/2024	9/30/2025	There are very few resources available to address women veterans' unique needs and access to tailored services. NC has a population of 68,000 women veterans and is ranked 6th in the nation for population. Since the 2019 GEMS award, WVSS has provided program services to more than 150 active-duty and veteran clients. These services included: Crisis Intervention/Transportation, Emergency Selter, and appropriate referrals. Although strides are being made, there is an urgency for identifying those veteran female victims that require safety and making them aware that WVSS can help in crisis. There is a concern that too many of these victims fall through the cracks by not having access to the right resources to have their unique needs addressed; that often bring a history of military abuse. As widespread as the media coverage is, knowledge of our underserved population remains at less than 1% and 0.5 % of agencies surveyed by our Coalitions in NC. It is imperative that WVSS continue its presence among the various organizations and agencies in NC. When you consider that North Carolina has the third-largest military population in the United States, one could easily extrapolate NC statistics for SA/DV are in the thousands. According to the New York Times in October 2021, nearly 1 in 4 report Sexual Assault. #Women remain
2000071445	2021 VICTIMS OF CRIME ACT	Southmountain Children and Family Services	Southmountain Carteret, Craven, Edgecomb	$250,000.00	Completed	10/1/2024	9/30/2025	Southmountain Children and Family Services has been operating CACs for the past 23 years. Since this time, Southmountain Children and Family Services has opened, and now operates 11 CACs across North Carolina. Due to the reduction in VOCA funds, many critical services provided at 6 of our CACs will be lost. Further, due to Covid-19, we have reduced opportunities for fund-raising to support CAC operations. Mental Health Therapists, Medical Providers, and Family Advocates are all extremely critical to the operation of the CACs. Mental health services are desperately needed. Children who suffered from abuse often experience mental health disorders and life altering symptoms related to the abuse. During the 2020-2021 year, at the 6 CACs, a total of 1177 child victims of crime were served, an average of 196 at each CAC. Mental Health Therapists provided 2892 individual therapy sessions, an average of 482 sessions annually at each CAC. Without these funds, these families will be denied the mental health services they desperately need. The Family Advocates are also critical staff at the 6 CACs. Our Family Advocates provided 5690 advocacy services across the 6 CACs during 2020-2021. This is an average of 948 services provided annually at each CAC. These services include support to families through the investigation and

Southeastern Region - Coastal Horizons -	$125,000.00	Open	10/1/2024	9/30/2025	This project will provide free specialized clinical services for victims of sexual assault in New Hanover, Brunswick, Pender, and Duplin Counties. Short term therapy will focus on increased coping skills for improved daily functioning. Longer term therapy will address serious problems often manifested after unresolved sexual trauma, such as PTSD. All therapy will utilize evidence-based modalities such as Cognitive Behavioral Therapy and Eye Movement Desensitization Reprocessing (EMDR). Barriers to successful treatment will also be addressed by offering transportation assistance, telehealth/virtual sessions, and scheduling appointments outside of normal business hours when necessary. To demonstrate the positive impact of these services, throughout the last two years, over 90% of clients receiving therapy at the RCC experienced a significant decrease in PTSD symptoms and 100% indicated that they were satisfied with the services they received. Direct client quotes include: #I appreciate the team at RCC. They always make me feel safe and comfortable when I visit my therapist. I have recommended their services to multiple people as I feel like their compassion and professionalism is by far the best I have ever experienced, #EMDR was helpful to get to the feelings of past traumas when

We strive to increase access to culturally specific sheltered services. Currently, Friend to Friend offers victims free core crisis intervention services, such as: a 24/7-crisis-line, 34 bed emergency shelter as well as a three bedroom, high-trauma shelter, court advocacy, case management, client outreach services, information and referral to evidence-based mental health services, medical accompaniment, ER advocacy, and language and translation services. 2000071467	2021 VICTIMS OF CRIME ACT	All Souls Counseling Center	Buncombe/WNC - ASCC - Providing Vital Me	$84,422.42	OPEN	10/1/2024	9/30/2025	This project provides evidence-based counseling services to underserved victims of crime that are uninsured or whose current insurance and financial situation makes it prohibitive to pay for therapy. This includes victims of domestic violence, intimate partner violence, and sexual abuse, LGBTQ victims, immigrant victims, survivors of homicide, and more. We are centrally located near downtown Asheville and provide a confidential and welcoming space at our Counseling Center. Our services are available to all residents of the western counties of North Carolina. We currently operate from a hybrid model and our Therapists are providing counseling sessions both in person and via telehealth platforms as needed or preferred by clients. General benefits of mental health counseling include improved relationships, better overall health, and job retention. Accessible counseling can also prevent mental health issues from turning into a crisis, thereby reducing utilization of more costly services such as mobile crisis, emergency department visits, and inpatient care. According to a 2019 memorandum by the US Department of Health and Human Services, being victimized by an intimate partner increases a person's risk for depression, PTSD, substance use disorders, eating disorders, and suicidality. The surveys/focus group results will be institutionalized in our strategic plan and in the design for our next emergency shelter, for which land has been purchased and planning is underway. Shelter expansion is critical since we can currently meet less than half the demand. 41% of survivors sheltered are people of color (compared to 11% of the county population). Since our shelter serves survivors with the highest homicide risks and lowest resources, people of color are overrepresented due to disparities in our community related to victimization rates, poverty, health and housing. Helpmate invests in recruiting, training and retaining staff members adept at helping survivors navigate systemic issues. Based on strong feedback from survivors, we intend to hire a counselor who is African American. A recent counseling intern who was African American was regularly personally requested and served 50% more Black survivors than any of our other 3 counselors. We will provide specialized services that are multilingual and culturally informed. We have English-Spanish bilingual staff in each of our service settings (shelter, Famil

Kiran#s vision is to bring a change in the way South Asian Community views and responds to domestic and sexual violence. Kiran#s values lie in understanding diversity, violence prevention, empowerment, promoting healthy and non-violent relationships, commitment to social change, professionalism and equity. There are approximately 97 DV agencies and shelters located throughout NC. Though there are main stream Domestic violence and Sexual Assault agencies in every county, they are often not equipped to provide culturally specific services. Although domestic violence and sexual assault occurs in all societies, the added layers of cultural barriers make it even harder for the South Asian clients to feel heard and understood. Our mission cannot be achieved by merely intervening and managing a crisis, but proactively engaging the South Asian community to bring awareness and education about domestic violence and its effects on the entire family, not just the immediate victim/target. To achieve this goal, our services are broadly classified into three categories - crisis

Currently, this is part of a Governor's Crime Commission grant that focuses on veterans, elders, and victims with disabilities. Because the elder population currently served by this grant will now be funded under another umbrella, this proposed grant is combining services to focus specifically on veteran victims of crime and can address their disabilities and other survival needs. From 2020 to present, and during Covid, 427 veterans received services from the Alliance. Of those receiving services, 138 veterans (32%) were new to the program. The Veteran program advocate is certified in Mental Health First Aid and is experienced in training and presentations related to effective trauma informed response to veterans who may be in trauma related to PTSD and in need of specialized response. Collaborative efforts to support this population include work with law enforcement and the court system in effective victim response, collaboration with mental health services for specialized needs, and collaboration with Veteran Services of the Carolinas to assist with basic needs issues critical for life transitions. Based on information obtained during the initial field response of a report of child abuse or during the forensic interview, the multidisciplinary team determines case-by-case whether or not a medical examination of the child is appropriate and necessary. A medical exam is always recommended for children with allegations or suspicions of any type of penetration. The CAC must be able to provide medical exams for penetration victims in order to maintain its national accreditation. An exam reassures children and their parents that the child's body is okay and collects physical evidence of an assault, if present, especially in acute cases (forensic medical exams). Medical exams assess and treat sexually transmitted diseases, injuries, and pregnancy. The role of a comprehensive forensic medical examination is of major importance in the full investigation of such cases and in the building of an effective prosecution in the court. During the pandemic, HopeLine was able to pivot quickly and offer services remotely. We recrafted our comprehensive 40-hour volunteer training and made it virtual. The entire curriculum became available to potential volunteers throughout North Carolina. The training teaches CLA's to listen, review, reflect, and refer. There is specific training regarding domestic and sexual violence, bullying, trafficking, harassment, and other types of victimizations. One of the key components is lethality training to determine the caller's risk for suicide. Over 90% of our callers who are feeling suicidal do not require any further intervention. Our trained team is able to offer support and help the caller find connections to other services, through active listening. We have MOUs with the dv, sa and child abuse coalitions in NC, Kiran, and homeless providers in Raleigh. To increase awareness and recruit volunteers from marginalized communities we will strengthen relationships with the LGBT center, NC Trafficking Unit, El Pueblo, and other service providers who serve marginalized communities. The Battered Women's Justice Project states that #when the civilian community and the military do not work together on their response to acts of intimate partner violence (IPV) and sexual assault (SA) that involve military-related victims and offenders, there are gaps in the inter-system response that offenders use to their advantage and a reduction in options and services available to victims and their children.# There will be a concerted effort made by the VS to increase communication and support relationships between the OCSO, Camp Lejeune, and New River Air Station. Currently, a group of stakeholders meets quarterly to share statistics, and this could be an opportunity to collaborate on a Military-Civilian Coordinated Community Response to domestic violence cases. Studies have found that maltreated children show deficits or delays in understanding and regulating emotions. Individuals who experience trauma in childhood are at increased risk for numerous psychiatric disorders, including attachment disorders, PTSD, depression, and anxiety disorders, oppositional or conduct disorders, substance abuse, a dissociative variant of PTSD, and personality disorders. Traumatized children also are at risk for self-harm, sexualized behavior, anger, poor impulse control, and attention difficulties. Mountain CAC will employ a full-time Outpatient Therapist to appropriately screen, assess, and treat children that are referred for problematic behavior and trauma related symptoms to prevent unsuitable interventions that may exacerbate children's conditions. Barriers to service such as transportation, financial concerns, lack of childcare, and other issues must also be addressed to ensure victims can properly access services. Direct outreach must be consistent and ongoing, especially over such a large geographic area, to ensure that victims are aware of services available to them. LatinX/Hispanic victims face additional barriers to services due to fear of deportation, cultural barriers, and, oftentimes, language barriers. There is no standalone agency that can meet all of the needs of crime victims, it is essential that service providers be experts in community resources in order to facilitate referrals. Detecting early signs of harm in children is key in suppressing viscous violence/abuse cycles. And as seniors continue to age at an exponential rate, those in need of safety and support to ensure their continued quality of life and healthy lifestyles increases as well. From physical abuse and neglect to financial exploitation, responses for seniors are often overlooked until something egregious happens. Incidents of violence/abuse pose a substantial economic impact to both the County and the criminal justice system. Costs impact court calendars, calls to law enforcement, human services, and victim service agencies. Moreover, we recognize the disparity among cases that go unreported. Fear of retaliation, shame, belief that police will not help, fear that there#s not enough evidence or that too much time has passed, are a few of the reasons we know survivors may be reluctant to report. Studies by US DOJ strongly suggest that post-SANE victims received more healthcare, are more likely to report to law enforcement, and have higher prosecution rates. In 2020, 125 rape victims came to InterAct#s Solace Center. 59% of those served chose to have a sexual assault evidence kit completed. 98% of these patients decided to report # 32% anonymously and 66.2% directly to law enforcement. REACH recognizes the long-lasting effects of trauma and understands it can take considerable time and resources for a victim to truly be able to become emotionally and financially independent and maintain violence free lives. Therefore, our philosophy is to provide services and advocacy at any point in the recovery process. Because victims of trauma often suffer from comorbidity including mental health and substance use disorders, creating and implementing a project that decreases barriers to therapeutic counseling, support group, and treatment is essential to the recovery process. It is no secret that there is a lack of access to mental health and substance use support services within the US; however, rural communities often face greater barriers including topographical challenges, lack of public transportation, lack of providers, substantial wait times, lack of providers with experience in working with victims of trauma, lack of treatment centers, and an inability for victims to pay for the necessary treatments. In WNC, geographical isolation amplifies these barriers. We believe that any person seeking our services as a result of victimization

We have consistently strong survivor outreach programming and are well integrated into other community services; therefore, Helpmate serves nearly 3x as many survivors per capita as the statewide average (Council for Women). Last year, we served 3,435 victims and responded to 3,969 hotline calls. We sheltered 226 adults and children for a total of 9904 total bednights. Our programs have reliably strong outcomes, with more than 90% of victims served reporting increased community connections, improved sense of safety and increased knowledge about how to safety plan. Helpmate has grown substantially in the past decade, both in depth and breadth of services offered. After a rash of homicides in 2013, we led an overhaul of violence response systems in our county, and saw a significant increase in requests for service with numbers climbing each year since. Helpmate now serves 80% more victims, answers quadruple the number of hotline calls and forms 5 times as many safety plans as we did in 2012. This growth was necessary to make sure that when survivors made that first courageous reach out for help,

The shelter is able to sleep 17. Agency staff including a Victim Advocate and a Direct Services Specialist will provide legal, housing, educational, and other appropriate advocacy for consumers. Staff will be available 24/7 to provide in person advocacy at hospital. The agency contracts with a trauma based therapist for other counseling needs and therapy. We provide support groups 2 nights per week.

Union CAC	$101,759.54	OPEN	10/1/2024	9/30/2025	For this project, The CAC receives referrals from Law Enforcement and Child Protective Services regarding allegations of child abuse or neglect. At the appointment, the Family Advocate first meets with the caregiver to explain the process of forensic interviewing and provide advocacy services, such as emotional support, psychoeducation, assistance with the legal process (e.g., completing paperwork for Victims# Compensation, communicating with law enforcement), therapy referrals, and obtaining basic needs. The Forensic Interviewer completes a child forensic interview following the evidenced based protocols RADAR and Child First. This interview is recorded and can be used as evidence in court. The investigators in the case (i.e., Law Enforcement, CPS) and prosecutors can observe the interview in an adjacent room and provide feedback to the interviewer as needed. Following the interview, the Family Advocate meets with the child to provide additional advocacy services and complete a trauma assessment. The family then meets with a medical provider and nurse to provide medical history and complete a forensic medical exam. The photos taken during the exam and medical report may also be used as evidence in court. Prior to leaving the appointment, the Family Advocate meets with the caregiver to assess for any additional

2000071630	2022 VICTIMS OF CRIME ACT	Harbor Inc.	Johnston Co VOCA DV Basic Services Grant	$166,491.14	OPEN	10/1/2024	9/30/2025	For the 37 years Harbor has been providing help, hope, and safety for those impacted by domestic violence and sexual assault. In 2016 Harbor moved into a newly constructed facility, increasing capacity from 14 to 28 beds. With the increase in bed utilization, the need to increase staff capacity is essential. It is critical that the facility maintains staff coverage 24/7. To ensure that this goal is met, two staff persons will be assigned per 8-hour rotation for both the week and weekend shifts. As noted in the Abstract, the need to have a full time bilingual court advocate will ensure that staff are available to assist individuals in completing DVPO's, understanding the judicial process (testifying before a judge), and increasing their knowledge base as it relates to their options once the DVPO has been granted. The court advocacy

Forsyth Family Services - Basic DV/SA	$164,340.31	OPEN	10/1/2024	9/30/2025	Family Services continues to improve our services to victims and develop a trauma-informed approach that supports hope, healing, safety and strength. We offer multiple services to interpersonal violence victims and often refer to different programs and services within our own agency as well as to other agency partners. Family Services has led the Forsyth County effort to create the Bridges to Hope Family Justice Center, which opened in the past year. The Bridges to Hope FJC is replacing Safe on Seven, the first FJC like co-located DV service coordination model in NC. Family Services and local partners created and implemented this model in 2005. During the last two years of the COVID pandemic, Family Services continued all operations and did not close shelter, crisis lines, or advocacy for one day of normal business operations. The counseling provided by Family Services therapists shifted to telehealth so this essential service could continue. Counseling is now being offered in-person and through telehealth. The Family Services Domestic Violence Shelter participates with other homeless service providers in our local Continuum of Care. Family Services also participates in the Rapid Re-Housing program. This allows us to leverage federal funds to qualifying domestic violence survivors that allows them to receive ren

Buncombe, Our VOICE SA Basic Services -	$114,401.60	OPEN	10/1/2024	9/30/2025	Our VOICE will provide 24/7 Crisis Support, hospital accompaniment, case management, and counseling as part of the Fundamental Basic Services contracted through the state of North Carolina. These services are provided by trained advocates and Masters and PhD level counselors to all individuals ages 13 and older in Buncombe County and secondary survivors. Our VOICE is also seeking to serve the most marginalized survivors in our community. Asheville and Buncombe County have seen a dramatic increase in the number of houseless individuals as well as those seeking social services over the past several years. This is believed to be in part because of the COVID-19 pandemic but also as a side effect of the community's explosive growth and reliance on service industry level jobs which are typically lower income. In order to serve ALL survivors of sexual violence and human trafficking, Our VOICE must be vigilant in ensuring our services are accessible, free of charge, and in collaboration with other social service agencies in our region. Together, we can provide hope and healing for victims and the larger

2000077706	2023 BYRNE-STATE CRISIS INTERVENTION PROGRAM	U Care, Inc.	Sampson/Duplin DVIP	$47,787.00	Awarded	10/1/2024	9/30/2025	Our agency DVIP is designed using the Duluth Domestic Abuse Intervention Program (DAIP). This 26-week curriculum creates a process in which dialogue provides an opportunity for participants to think critically and reflectively about their relationships. Through this course participants will go through stages in their journey back from violence. The stages range from acceptance of the behavior, where it was learned, facing up to personal faults and accountability, putting into practice new skills learned through the program. The Duluth Model asserts that the primary responsibility of placing controls on abusers belongs to the community and the individual abuser, not the victim.

2000077723	2023 BYRNE-STATE CRISIS INTERVENTION PROGRAM	SPARC Foundation	SPARC CVI SCIP FY2425	$498,681.70	Open	10/1/2024	9/30/2026	The PEACE Team, successfully completing its first year, has made significant strides in violence prevention and community support. In its inaugural year, the initiative trained Community Health Workers (CHWs) extensively, ensuring they were well-equipped with over 100 hours of specialized training. These CHWs provided daily support to more than 75 individuals, addressing their immediate needs and connecting them with essential services. Additionally, the initiative hosted monthly community engagement activities, fostering unity and awareness within the neighborhoods. As the program moves into its second year, the focus will shift from county-wide attention to two specific neighborhoods with high rates of gun violence. This targeted approach will allow the team to concentrate their efforts and resources more effectively, aiming for a more significant impact within these areas. Additional funding would enable the team to extend focused efforts to four communities, amplifying their impact and continuing to build safer, healthier environments for residents. Through collaboration and targeted intervention, the initiative aims to sustain and expand its positive influence on violence
2000078196	2023 BYRNE-STATE CRISIS INTERVENTION PROGRAM	Safelight, Inc.	DVIP/PIP (SCIP)	$49,999.99	Open	10/1/2024	3/31/2026	The need for services has only been escalated with the added stressors from inflation and the increased cost of living. The need for our services has gone up nearly 40% since 2017. Our impact in our community has been substantial, having helped over 45,000 survivors since 1984. In FY23 (October 1, 2022 – September 30, 2023), 1224 unique clients sought, received, and participated in Safelight’s services and programs. Improving the effectiveness of DVIP and PIP programs will help reduce family violence in our community. Children who grow up in homes with violence and abuse experience lasting lifelong struggles as explained by Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs) research. Addressing how we think about relationships in sessions allows group participants to actively change how and what characteristics they role model to their children. Incorporating the evidence-based DAIP Duluth Model with the Emerge Curriculum increases both DVIP and PIP’s effectiveness by improving the completion rate. Safelight’s programs emphasis critical thinking and have participants challenge pre-conceptions around relationships, roles, and accountability. Ongoing case management and assessments create an opportunity for PIP/DVIP staff to refer participants for help with mental health, substance abuse, and social problems that often go untr
2000079312	2023 JAG-PREA REALLOCATION PENALTY AWARD	NC Depart of Adult Correction	2023 JAG PREA Reallocation	$165,371.00	Open	10/1/2024	9/30/2025	The North Carolina Department of Adult Correction believes to eliminate sexual abuse; we must first prevent the undue familiarity and offender behavior that can lead to sexual acts. It is our agency’s goal to establish an environment that protects the offenders/juveniles supervised while safeguarding the communities to which they may eventually be released. In keeping with PREA, the North Carolina Department of Adult Correction has adopted the standard of zero tolerance of sexual abuse of offenders/juveniles by an offender/juvenile and/or staff as defined in the policy. Although the agency strives to provide a safe and secure environment free from the threat of sexual abuse, this continues to present many challenges for the Department. Critical issues that impact the agency’s efforts as it moves through the process of implementing the national PREA standards are a decrease in the workforce, security threat groups, populations with significant medical and mental health issues, changes in risk and needs with an initiative to meet them, antiquated technology, and staff recruitment and retention. To ensure compliance with national standards and make the necessary changes based on audit findings, funding must be identified to meet agency needs. The agency has identified the following areas to

Legal Aid Statewide -	$1,000,000.00	Completed	10/1/2024	9/30/2025	The DVSAP staff consists of dedicated attys who, through their training and extensive practice in civil DV and SA laws, have built unparalleled expertise in this practice area. As a non-profit public interest law firm that was organized for the primary purpose of offering legal services pursuant to NCGS 84-5,1 we are governed by a Board and the legal work is subject to a supervisory scheme that includes Managing Attys, the DVSAP Project Director, Litigation Director and Executive Director. Additionally, DVSAP attys balance the critical need for emergency protective matters with other legal needs that bring about cessation to the violence. Therefore, they work closely with LANC colleagues who contribute their area of expertise to the project by co-counseling, strategizing, and handling ancillary matters, including DVPOs. When survivors contact LANC's Helpline directly, they are vetted for DV/SA matters to ensure we adequately address their legal needs and make appropriate referrals that support holistic advocacy. This component of our resources proved invaluable during the pandemic because LANC was able absorb an uptick in calls from survivors in the place of local dv and sa agencies affected adversely by the pandemic. During this time, we also initiated a bi-monthly check-in with DVSAP across the state in order
