IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my official seal.

DONE IN OFFICE at Raleigh, this 6th day of January, 2025.

S/ Elaine F. Marshall
Secretary of State

The roll is called and one hundred-sixteen Members-elect are present.

The Chair declares a quorum to be present.

Leaves of absence are granted to Representatives Harrison, John, Pless, and Shepard for today.

The Members-elect take and subscribe to the following oath of office, which is administered by Associate Justice Tamara Barringer, North Carolina Supreme Court.

OATH FOR MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES 2025 SESSION

"I do solemnly and sincerely swear that I will support the Constitution of the United States; that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to the State of North Carolina, and to the constitutional powers and authorities which are or may be established for the government thereof; and that I will endeavor to support, maintain and defend the Constitution of said State, not inconsistent with the Constitution of the United States, to the best of my knowledge and ability; so help me God.

"I do swear (or affirm) that I will well and truly execute the duties of the office of a member of the North Carolina House of Representatives according to the best of my skill and ability, according to law; so help me, God."

ELECTION OF SPEAKER

The Chair states that the first order of business is the election of a Speaker and explains the voting procedure to be used in the absence of adopted rules.

The Chair declares that nominations are in order for Speaker of the House of Representatives.

The Chair recognizes Representative B. Jones who nominates Representative Destin Hall for Speaker of the House of Representatives.

"Mr. Clerk, Members of the House, and distinguished guests, it is my distinct honor to rise today to nominate Representative Destin Hall of Caldwell County as the next Speaker of the North Carolina House of Representatives.

"Since first being elected, Representative Hall has demonstrated the qualities we need in a leader: a deep commitment to the principles of small government, fiscal responsibility, and personal liberty, as well as an unrelenting dedication to the people of North Carolina.

"As Chair of the House Rules Committee, Representative Hall has proven time and again his ability to manage the most complex and consequential legislation that comes before this Body. His steady leadership, thoughtful approach, and ability to build consensus have made him a trusted voice in our caucus and across the aisle.

"A proud son of Caldwell County, Representative Hall understands the values and needs of everyday North Carolinians, and he brings that perspective to his work every day. He's a problem-solver who is focused on delivering results not just for his district, but for our entire State.

"Colleagues, this is a pivotal moment for North Carolina. We need a Speaker who will continue to uphold the conservative values that have driven our success while fostering collaboration to address the challenges ahead. Representative Hall is that leader. It is with great pride and confidence that I place in nomination the name of Representative Destin Hall to serve as Speaker of the North Carolina House of Representatives."

The Chair recognizes Representative Bell who seconds the nomination.

"Thank you, Mr. Clerk and Members. Today I am honored to stand before you and second the nomination of the gentleman from Caldwell County, Representative Destin Hall, to serve as the next Speaker of the House.

"Representative Hall has distinguished himself as a skilled committee Chair and has earned the admiration of all his colleagues. He consistently shows respect and compassion to the Members of both sides of the aisle and the other Chamber. As Speaker of the House, Representative Hall will display the ability to facilitate the business of our House in a fair and transparent manner - where every voice in here is heard.

"Today, history will be made - and I am proud to second the nomination of my friend, Representative Destin Hall, to be the Speaker of the North Carolina House of Representatives. Thank you, Sir."

Representative Bell moves that the nominations be closed and that Representative D. Hall be elected by acclamation. In compliance with Article VI, Section 5 of the North Carolina Constitution, the election is confirmed by vote of the Members and Representative D. Hall is elected Speaker of the 2025 House of Representatives by acclamation.

The Speaker takes and subscribes to the following oath of office administered by Associate Justice Tamara Barringer, North Carolina Supreme Court.

OATH FOR SPEAKER OF THE
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
2025 SESSION

"I, DESTIN HALL, do solemnly and sincerely swear that I will support the Constitution of the United States; that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to the State of North Carolina, and to the constitutional powers and authorities which are or may be established for the government thereof; and that I will endeavor to support, maintain and defend the Constitution of said State, not inconsistent with the Constitution of the United States, to the best of my knowledge and ability; so help me God.

"I, DESTIN HALL, do swear (or affirm) that I will well and truly execute the duties of the office of Speaker of the North Carolina House of Representatives according to the best of my skill and ability, according to law; so help me, God."

"Alright, everybody can have a seat now.

"I'll start by, of course, saying thank you to everyone here today. I want to thank God, of course, first for the blessings that He has given me. I want to thank my wife who swore me in today; or held the Bible as I was sworn in; thank her for putting up with the unreasonable schedule that you all on this floor know that this place takes sometimes in your life. And I'm thankful for my family members, my grandparents who are here today, my friends, my mother, a bunch of folks from Caldwell County and some from Watauga County who are here today as well. And thank you to all the Members of this Body for giving me the honor to serve as your Speaker.

"For those of you who are in your first term here today - maybe you haven't been out here on the floor yet - you see on this video board there are 120 names. And your name, if you were elected, is up there. If it's not, then you need to let the Clerk know because something's wrong. But it's an incredible honor and solemn duty to have your name on that voting board. And there is almost 11 million people in this State and there are 120 folks in this Body who get to make decisions about the policies of our State. And I've served with many of you now for almost a decade. I know what honorable and what accomplished people you all are. And it gives me that much more gratitude that you all would allow me to serve as the Speaker of the House.

"Justice Barringer said it earlier - only in America could she be here as a Justice of the Supreme Court. And I feel the same way. Because for sure, only in America, could somebody with the background that I have, and the childhood that I had, wind up here in the State House. Before that - getting an education, getting elected to the State House, and now becoming Speaker of the North Carolina House - I grew up where I live at today, that's in Caldwell County. It's rural North Carolina, small town America; the kind of place where the neighbors know each other, and they trust each other. And when I was growing up, like so many other small towns in North Carolina and across this country, Lenoir and Caldwell County were built on the backs of blue-collar workers. And for us, it was mostly furniture. Across the country it was other things like steel - other types of goods that were manufactured. As I was growing up and in my formative years in the 90s we saw a lot of those jobs leave and go overseas.

"And for me, it left an impact in my mind of what can happen when poor government decisions are made - kind of like NAFTA. So, I grew up thinking, 'I want to make sure that doesn't happen in the future.' You know, some of the folks in my hometown like a lot of other small towns across the country - some of them never recovered from some of the damage from losing those jobs. And certainly, in my own family we had some of those same challenges. But I was blessed with wonderful grandparents who I was raised by. Grandparents who taught me about what was important in life. Things like faith in God, honoring your word, making sure that you're spending your money wisely. They taught me about the dignity of hard work, the value of a dollar, and the discipline to live within your means. But most importantly for me growing up, they always believed in me.

"And one of the great stories that I've seen is Jim Valvano who you all - many of you know or knew well - you know who he is. He's a former NC State basketball coach who has passed away now. He tells the story of his father when Jimmy V. was at a smaller school before he was at State. He was at a school that really didn't have much chance of making the NCAA tournament, much less winning a national championship. And he was in his first job, and he told his dad, 'Hey, you know, I want to win a national championship someday.' And his dad said, 'Well I've got my bags packed.' And so, he literally put all of his clothes in a suitcase. And Jimmy V. tells us this story later on when State ultimately, years later, won the National Championship, that his dad was there with him in New Mexico. And you know - he said that he got the greatest gift that anybody could ever give him from his father and that was that his father believed in him. And that's what I had with my grandparents. And that's what we need to work and make sure that every child in North Carolina has - they've got somebody who believes in them. Because for me, it made me believe that I could go and get an education. Nobody in my family had been to college - I didn't even know any lawyers growing up - but I believed that I could go and do those things because my grandparents believed that I could and told me that I could do it. And so, it made me understand and come to realize the great catalyst that this country can be for folks when you work hard and when you don't give up.

"And so, our job here as Members of this House is to do all that we can to make sure the members of this State have the opportunity to experience that American dream, like all of you all who have served in this Body. There are a number of folks - everyone here who is serving has had success in their careers in their communities. Our number one job here is to make sure that we make it as easy as possible for the folks of our State to also live that American dream. And the first way that we go about doing that is making sure we continue to secure North Carolinians' economic future. And thankfully, since 2011, a lot of the work has been done. As we know, we've cut taxes again and again. We've put more money back in the pockets of the citizens of our State. We've got one of the best tax environments in the country and we're going to continue to provide tax relief to North Carolinians.

"But we've got to do more than just cut taxes. We've got to be creative in how we provide economic opportunity for the citizens of our State. We've got to encourage business expansion and job growth in North Carolina. The states who are around us - they're serious about job growth. We're competing with them. We've got to reject policies that make our State less attractive for business. We've got to build a business climate that is going to reward high wages, high benefits, and upward mobility for everyone.

"But a big part of economic success, of course, is education. And we've got to work to continue to invest in and nurture the education system in North Carolina. And that's at all levels: K-12, community colleges, and the university system. North Carolina's competitive advantage really lies in our best asset and that's our people. We've got a great tax environment - other states have a good tax environment as well - but why do we continue to grow at a higher rate than almost every other state? And the reason is our human resources - the people of this State. We've got probably the best university system in the world in the UNC System - incredible K-12 and community college system as well. And we can't lose sight of the fact that that is North Carolina's competitive advantage. Now I'm proud of some of the things that this Body has done during my time here over the last - this is my fifth term here - so the prior four terms. We've done things like expand school choice, letting parents decide where their children go to school. Giving parents the opportunity to go to schools that best meet their particular child's needs. We need to continue to expand that school choice. We've increased funding and we've pushed it into the classroom and away from bureaucrats in the school system. We've increased teacher pay with every budget. We've prioritized our community colleges and the type of programs where they partner with employers who come into areas - that folks in those areas can get high paying jobs. We've also kept tuition incredibly low at the UNC System. So not only is it probably the best university system in the world, it's one of the cheapest. Therefore, it's one of the best values in the entire world right here in North Carolina. We've got to guard that competitive advantage that we have.

"But there is more to do on top of that. Just like it was for me with the encouragement I had from my grandparents, the most important factor in education for any child is parental involvement. And that's not an easy solution - an easy problem to find a solution for. But I can tell you this, that anything that this Body can come up with that incentivizes parents to be involved in their children's education, I'm for. And we need to work to do those things because it's so critical to the success of young kids and their education.

"We've got to continue to invest in our teachers: incentivize them to go to school here, get their educations in North Carolina, and then stay here to teach after they graduate. Teachers are professionals and we ought to let them go into the classroom and teach and get the government out of their way. Let them do the job that they were trained to do.

"And the last thing is especially important to me. We've got to figure out ways to incentivize people, like me, from rural North Carolina, who left to go get an education - incentivize them to go back to rural North Carolina. You know, I saw firsthand the benefits of going back to those places. Because they're thirsting for young folks, they're thirsting for leadership, thirsting for people to be involved in those communities. Many of you all in this Body, as I look out today, serve in rural North Carolina - you know what I'm talking about. The difficulty in getting young folks to come back. We've got to incentivize those folks to come back.

"The other thing we've got to do very quickly and work hard at is we've got to lower the cost of living. The fact is right now in North Carolina, just like so many places across the country, folks' budgets are tight. Their groceries and gas and their other goods have gone up. And we've got to do what we can at our level to help meet the needs and try to lower the rising inflation in our country. And we do that by things like helping with childcare. We do that by working to lower energy costs and healthcare costs in our State. Of course, it's a federal government issue in many ways, but we have a role to play. And I think that this Body needs to be laser focused on that from the very beginning. We've got to offer some real solutions to it to the extent that we can do that on the state level.

"With all that said, our agenda here, it's not going to matter very much unless we do the number one thing that government has to do and that's to keep our people safe. I'm proud of some of the things this Body has done over the course of the last several years. We passed a bill, that was actually my bill, last session requiring law enforcement to cooperate with immigration authorities at the federal level to help deport illegal aliens who are committing serious crimes in our State. You've seen us crack down on drug dealers who are selling drugs that kill people. And we've even amended the Constitution to make sure that the victims of crime also have rights - just like those who have been charged with crimes. And we've got to continue to enact those policies to meet the number one obligation of government. And so, I hope that we'll work with the incoming administration in Washington - crack down on gang activity and trafficking and drugs that are devastating to so many communities across North Carolina. And we need to support law enforcement. We need to give them the funding and education that they need, the legal protection, and recognize them for the heroes that they are. And then finally, let's spend the dollars that we need to keep our schools safe. Let's make sure every school has a resource officer - invest in technology to make sure that when our kids go to school, they're safe there.

"I've talked so far a lot about the issues that face the entire State, but I do want to make one thing clear - the number one priority of this Body, starting today because today is day one, is doing all we can to rebuild Western North Carolina. To my friends in the mountains, in the west, know that you're not forgotten. Know that this Body is going to put you all as the number one priority, our number one fix as we come in this Session - we are working on some of those things now. It's going to be a long road to recovery. There's more than $50 billion, probably, in damage, but this Body is committed to doing everything possible to build back Western North Carolina and build it back stronger than before.

"Now I'm going to talk to my colleagues in the House a little bit. Another lesson I learned from my grandparents was that we should always treat each other with respect. Everything we do in our life is about relationships - your relationship with God, with your family, with your folks at work. And you all who have served here know well how important it is to have relationships when you want to get things done in this Body. So, let's respect each other as we debate in this People's House. To my Democratic friends, I know from time to time we've had some minor disagreements on certain policy items. But what I will tell you is that my commitment to you will always be that where we do disagree, I'll do it civilly, in a way that honors the people who sent us all here to act on their behalf. Because I know that we all - on both sides of this Chamber - we all want the best for the folks of North Carolina. I genuinely believe that. Sometimes we disagree about how to get there and that's okay. That's one of the parts of representative democracy for all its ills. But what we have to do is respect one another and make sure that we're not questioning motives, that we have a good and robust debate - let the votes fall where they may.

"And as I close, I want to say this to the young people of this State because I'm told I'm on the younger side of Speakers in our State. And I see Speaker Tillis, Moore, and Brubaker here today - I'm told that the average age of our Speakers has gone down by a few years today. But, according to some of the liberal trolls on Twitter, the IQ average hasn't changed, so you're safe there. But to the young folks of this State, I want to speak to you to tell you that I know what it feels like to look out and say, 'Well I don't have trust in government,' because I sort of felt the same way growing up. I felt like, in many ways, our politicians had failed us in my part of the world. And so, I didn't know if I wanted to be involved. And eventually I realized that if I wanted things to change, I had to be involved. And I moved back home to my hometown - and of course when I started running there were some folks who disagreed with me, plenty of doubters and people who said I was too young to run and that I ought to wait. Thankfully I was hard-headed enough to not believe them and it's turned out okay for me thus far. But you all can do that too. And every part of this State is thirsting for younger folks to get involved - it's incredibly important that they do that. If you do get involved, you'll find that you have a unique opportunity - and that's what's so unique about this country - is that every person has the ability to get involved and truly make a difference.

"You all who serve in this Body - you know well, as you serve here you get to make a difference here every day. You get to write laws, but it's not only that. You get to help your constituents every day, with everyday problems that they have with state government and federal government - sometimes problems they have with their neighbors and sometimes when they need a ride. But you're here to help. And the young folks of this State can do the same thing, and I can tell you that in ways probably not a lot of people can. And ultimately that's my commitment to the State as the Speaker. I'll focus on the things that matter, on the things that I learned from my grandparents, and on the things every North Carolinian needs to thrive in our great State.

"So, I'll close by saying thank you all for giving me the incredible honor to serve as the Speaker of the House. I'm looking forward to working with each and every one of you in the upcoming Session. And congratulations to you all for coming back. Thank you to the family members, who again are lending you to us for unreasonable amounts of time. And we're going to try to make sure that time commitment is not as much as it has been in the past. Thank you all for having me."

The Speaker assumes the duties of the Chair.

ADOPTION OF TEMPORARY RULES

Representative Bell is recognized and states that he has placed a resolution with the Clerk for consideration by the Body.

The Speaker directs the Clerk to number the resolution and places H.R. 1, A HOUSE RESOLUTION ADOPTING THE TEMPORARY RULES OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES FOR THE 2025 REGULAR SESSION, before the Body.

The resolution is adopted, by electronic vote (104-11).

ELECTION OF SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The Speaker declares that nominations are in order for Speaker Pro Tempore of the House of Representatives.

The Speaker recognizes Representative Howard who nominates Representative Setzer for Speaker Pro Tempore of the House of Representatives.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, Members of the Supreme Court, special guests, and fellow Representatives.

"It is my pleasure and honor to nominate the gentleman from Catawba, the Honorable Mitchell S. Setzer for Speaker Pro Tempore of the North Carolina House of Representatives for the 2025-2026 biennium of this General Assembly.

"Without hesitation or mental reservation, I can truthfully say that Mitchell Setzer is the right choice to become the Speaker Pro Tempore of the House of Representatives. We all know that Mitchell is a statesman, skilled businessman, and valued friend, but his service over his 13 House terms has distinguished him as a uniquely gifted leader with the vision we need to improve the lives of all North Carolinians.

"As Representatives, our duty to those North Carolinians who elected us is inherent in the title that we now hold, and it is a humbling privilege for me to stand here today with the other Representatives of this House and elect our Speaker Pro Tempore. As each of us were chosen by the voters of our respective districts to be here and speak for them in this Body, it is our duty to elect a Speaker Pro Tempore who will continue to lead us forward, and I believe there is no one more capable, more qualified, and more appropriate to be a leader in this Chamber than my friend Mitchell Setzer.

"Similar to my circumstances of my service in the House, Mitchell has served here many years. Mitchell was elected to the House in 1999. He is a product of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. Mitchell knows that constantly improving our education systems and our state economy are the top priorities of most parents and taxpayers in our State, and that's exactly what he will do as Speaker Pro Tempore.

"More importantly than what he has done, Mitchell has shown the vision and dedication to put the priorities of our people first, improve their quality of life and forge a successful path forward for our State with the rare ability to create consensus out of discord.

"We may represent different districts and hold competing views about the best path forward for our State, but we all speak for our constituents, and care deeply about serving our neighbors and those who are most vulnerable.

"Mitchell Setzer will be a great Speaker Pro Tempore because he cares deeply about the places we call home, the duties we have to our constituents, and working together to effectively represent the citizens of our State.

"As our Speaker Pro Tempore, Mitchell Setzer will continue to be a man who listens first so he can serve others best. Mitchell can find common ground not only among Members of this House, but with Members of the Senate, the Governor, and others in public service concerning the key issues facing North Carolina. He will always work for the benefit and betterment of our State and her citizens, and there is much work to be done.

"Mr. Speaker, my fellow Representatives, I proudly place into nomination for Speaker Pro Tempore of the North Carolina House, the gentleman from Catawba, the Honorable Mitchell Setzer."

The Speaker recognizes Representative Huneycutt who seconds the nomination.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Members of the House, I will keep my comments brief as we do have family and friends here with us today that are eager to congratulate all of us. I'm going to expand on a few topics that Representative Howard mentioned - willingness to help and serve others. Representative Setzer, in my ten years of knowing him, I have watched him help and serve countless others in his community as well as in this Chamber. I have watched him smile, laugh, cry, and mourn with many Members here and many individuals at home. Honesty - in a true leader you want someone who is honest and truthful. In my ten years of knowing him, I have never heard anybody say, 'I don't know what Mitchell was really thinking there, if he was being honest or not.' There is no doubt, he is an honest human being.

"Another crucial thing that he has is institutional knowledge. Representative Howard mentioned that he's been elected here since 1999. I'm not trying to question her, but with my research I did this morning, I found out that in his first term of office, Abraham Lincoln was only three years old. He has been here a long, long time. And Representative Howard, don't laugh - I looked you up as well. He is a man full of institutional knowledge that I would encourage everyone who doesn't know him to get to know him. He will take these three points along with willing to make hard decisions. He will work with the majority leader, minority leader, Mr. Speaker, everyone here, to make North Carolina a brighter and more prosperous North Carolina. And it is an honor to second the motion for Representative Mitchell Smith Setzer to be the next Speaker Pro Tem of the North Carolina House of Representatives. Mr. Speaker, I yield back."

Representative Bell moves that the nominations be closed and that Representative Setzer be elected by acclamation. In compliance with Article VI, Section 5 of the North Carolina Constitution, the election is confirmed by vote of the Members and Representative Setzer is elected Speaker Pro Tempore of the 2025 House of Representatives by acclamation.

The following Members are appointed and repair to the rear of the Chamber to escort the Speaker Pro Tempore, Mr. Mitchell S. Setzer, to the Well of the House: Representative Blust, Chair; Representatives Adams, Carney, Rhyne, Davis, Ross, and McNeely.

PRINCIPAL CLERK PRESIDING.

The Speaker Pro Tempore takes and subscribes to the following oath of office administered by the Speaker of the House, Destin Hall, as authorized under G.S. 120-5.

January 8, 2025

OATH FOR SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES 2025 SESSION

"I, MITCHELL S. SETZER, do solemnly and sincerely swear that I will support the Constitution of the United States; that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to the State of North Carolina, and to the constitutional powers and authorities which are or may be established for the government thereof; and that I will endeavor to support, maintain and defend the Constitution of said State, not inconsistent with the Constitution of the United States, to the best of my knowledge and ability; so help me God.

"I, MITCHELL S. SETZER, do swear (or affirm) that I will well and truly execute the duties of the office of Speaker Pro Tempore of the North Carolina House of Representatives according to the best of my skill and ability, according to law; so help me, God."

SPEAKER HALL PRESIDING.

Speaker Pro Tempore Setzer makes the following remarks from the Well of the House.

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, distinguished guests and of course, Mama.

"It is difficult for me to contemplate that 27 years ago I was sworn in as a Member of the North Carolina House of Representatives. It has been an honor and a blessing to serve in this institution and I would like to thank each of you for your dedicated service to our great State.

"In addition, I would like to thank the Members of the House for electing me to the Office of Speaker Pro Tempore. It is a gift that I will always cherish, and I promise that I will fulfill the station to the best of my knowledge, strength, and ability.

"Our ceremonies today are grounded in a tradition that extends from the very foundations of our State, exemplifying the hopes, values, and dreams we as North Carolinians hold dear.

"North Carolinians are a proud family who will meet any adversity head on. The recent trauma experienced in the west by Hurricane Helene showed the world that we can take a hit, but we will come back swinging, and that we will look after our own. We are North Carolina, proud and strong and together, we are unstoppable.

"May we fully comprehend the impact that our actions have on others and may every action we take as a General Assembly, be prudent and beneficial to all, never taking for granted the sacred responsibility that has been given to us.

"Our time here is limited but the ramifications of our actions can be far-reaching. May that precept always be the guiding force as we move forward.

"Thank you for your kind attention today. 2025 awaits! Take due notice thereof and govern yourself accordingly. Here we come!

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, and ladies and gentlemen of the House."

ELECTION OF PRINCIPAL CLERK

The Speaker declares that nominations are in order for Principal Clerk of the House of Representatives.

The Speaker recognizes Representative B. Jones who nominates James White for Principal Clerk of the House of Representatives.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

"Members, today I rise to nominate Mr. James White to continue as our House Principal Clerk. Mr. White does not only have an impressive resume of service, but has worked to earn the trust and respect of each Member of this Chamber. Mr. White and his team work hard to make sure the House is ready for Session each day. Mr. White has served honorably for the last few years as our House Principal Clerk, and I ask you join me in his re-election."

The Speaker recognizes Representative Reives who seconds the nomination.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, and I rise to second the nomination of Mr. James White to continue as our House Principal Clerk. Not only does he have the attributes that have been spoken of already by Representative Jones, but I would indicate that one of the things he never does is - he never fails to smile and to encourage. And we appreciate that. There are long nights, long days here, and he is always the picture of steadiness, goodness, and even-temperedness. And we appreciate his service. We appreciate his knowledge. We appreciate his ability. It amazes me that he has all that he has at such a young age. We are thankful that he has chosen to keep his talents here in the House. And we are happy to follow up on seconding the nomination of Mr. James White as Principal Clerk."

Representative Bell moves that the nominations be closed and that James White be elected by acclamation. In compliance with Article VI, Section 5 of the North Carolina Constitution, the election is confirmed by vote of the Members and James White is elected Principal Clerk of the 2025 House of Representatives by acclamation.

The Principal Clerk takes and subscribes to the following oath of office administered by the Speaker of the House, Destin Hall, as authorized under G.S. 120-5.

OATH FOR PRINCIPAL CLERK OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES 2025 SESSION

"I, JAMES WHITE, do solemnly and sincerely swear that I will support the Constitution of the United States; that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to the State of North Carolina, and to the constitutional powers and authorities which are or may be established for the government thereof; and that I will endeavor to support, maintain and defend the Constitution of said State, not inconsistent with the Constitution of the United States, to the best of my knowledge and ability; so help me God.

The following prayer is offered by Representative Brian Biggs:

"Lord,

"We come before You with humble hearts, seeking Your presence and guidance as we embark on the work entrusted to us. You have said in Your Word, 'If any of you lacks wisdom, let him ask of God, who gives to all liberally and without reproach, and it will be given to him' (James 1:5). Lord, we ask for that wisdom now.

"Grant us clarity of mind and understanding to discern what is just and good for those we serve. Teach us to listen with open hearts, to speak with kindness, and to act with integrity, knowing that each decision we make impacts the lives of many.

"Lord, You instructed King Solomon to seek wisdom above all else, and we too asked for wisdom - not for our own gain, but that we might govern with fairness, compassion, and righteousness. May we reflect the justice of Your throne as we seek solutions that honor You and benefit all people.

"Guide us, Lord, in unity, that we may set aside our differences and come together for the common good. Let Your Spirit of peace and truth dwell among us, softening our hearts, and lighting the paths we are to take.

"We commit our deliberations to You, trusting in Your promise that 'The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom, and the knowledge of the Holy One is understanding' (Proverbs 9:10). Lead us as we strive to uphold the trust placed in us and fulfill our duties with excellence and humility.

"In Jesus' Name, we pray. Amen."

Official and Heartfelt Announcement from the Office of Representative Joe John

January 19, 2025

It is with deep sorrow and a heavy heart that I announce my resignation from my position as your Representative of North Carolina State House District 40. After a courageous and arduous battle with cancer, I have been informed by my doctors that all treatment options have been exhausted, and I now face a terminal diagnosis.

This decision, though incredibly difficult, is made with the intention of focusing on my health and spending cherished time with my family during this challenging period. Throughout this journey, I've given everything I have, and I am deeply proud of the work we've done together as a community.

I was first elected as your State Representative in 2016, and I have been honored to serve four terms, winning five consecutive elections. It has been one of the greatest privileges of my life. Over the years, I have also had the honor of serving in many capacities, each of which has shaped my professional life and further fueled my dedication to public service. As I did for nearly 25 years as a North Carolina Judge, I have always made it my priority to carefully consider all sides, diligently review the pros and cons, and make the best decisions I can - guided by the law and in the best interest of the taxpaying citizens of our state. The values I hold dear - integrity, hard work, family, and a deep commitment to our community - will remain with me as I navigate the next phase of my life.

As I reflect on my time in service, I hope my legacy will be one of dedication to the common good - working to build bridges, advocate for the voiceless, and fight for justice. My deepest wish is that the work we've done together will live on, inspiring future leaders to carry the torch of compassion, reasonableness, and progress. If my time in office has made even a small difference in your lives, then I will leave this world knowing I've done my part.

I have always been and remain grateful for my loving wife, Evelyn, and my children, Steffi, Andy, and Joe, who have supported my goals and ambitions over the years. While my professional title has changed a few times over the years, the titles I always felt were the most important are husband and father, and of course, grandfather.

I am profoundly grateful for your support over the years and for the incredible privilege of serving you. Please keep me and my family in your prayers as we navigate the difficult road ahead. I will always treasure the opportunity to have been part of such a remarkable community.

With deep appreciation and gratitude,
S/ Representative Joseph R. John Sr.

[The letter of resignation was received by the Office of the House Principal Clerk on January 21, 2025. The Member-elect died on January 20, 2025, vacating State House District 40 before the resignation was officially received and effective.]

THE APPOINTMENT OF PHILLIP ANTHONY RUBIN

BY THE GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA

"Father,

"As we begin our new Legislative Session, I ask that all things considered be for the benefit of the citizens of North Carolina and pleasing in Your sight. Anoint us equally with both wisdom and courage. Grant that we never hesitate to do the right thing as You give us light to see it. Build in each of us a burning desire to serve and hearts filled with humility and compassion. Bless all who have been called to serve in government, both here and in Washington. Bless our military and all those who serve to protect us. Guide and direct them and keep them safe as they work to keep us safe. Thank You for all the many blessings You have poured out on this State, the Nation, and each of us personally. Know that we acknowledge with grateful hearts that You are the giver of all good things. Keep us always in the narrow path of Your good will for our lives.

"For we ask this all in Jesus' Name. Amen."

STATE OF THE STATE ADDRESS

"Mr. Speaker, Mr. President Pro Tempore, Lieutenant Governor, other members of the Council of State, Members of the General Assembly, Mr. Chief Justice and members of the Supreme Court, Mr. Chief Judge and members of the Court of Appeals, Cabinet Secretaries, and to all North Carolinians watching from home - good evening.

"With me tonight are my parents Adam and Jane, my sister Gerda, my brother-in-law Lee, my brother Eric, and my incredible wife, our First Lady, Anna, and our wonderful daughter Leah.

"I am honored to address this Chamber and share my vision for our future. But first, I must report on the state of our State. I was sworn in as Governor 10 weeks ago today. Assuming this office's responsibilities has led to prayer and reflection. When any of us faces an important challenge, we search for strength. Strength to rise to the occasion. Strength to reach across differences in search of common ground. Strength to stand up for what we know is right. Strength to meet the moment. Sometimes, you don't know how strong you are until you are put to the test.

"Hurricane Helene and its horrific aftermath tested our State and our people in unprecedented ways. The storm flooded much of western North Carolina, stealing too many lives from us and devastating too many communities. But in the days, weeks, and months that followed, I have seen - we all have seen - that the state of our State is strong - North Carolina strong! And that is because our people are strong.

"Ashley Cook is a lifelong resident of Avery County. Her life completely changed on September 27th when Hurricane Helene swept through her mountain town of Minneapolis. Her roof was damaged, but her neighbors got hit worse, so she immediately turned her attention to what they needed. She and her cousin Freddy Carpenter first went to work clearing roads and then spent weeks hauling food, propane tanks, and heaters. In the months since, Ashley's used her Facebook page to connect people with whatever they need - gravel for driveways, roof repairs, notary services, even a sludge pump.

"You ask me if our State is strong? I point to Ashley and Freddy and the thousands of Ashleys and Freddys who stared devastation down and went to work helping others. The spirit of the people of North Carolina has never been stronger! Ashley and Freddy were due to join us tonight, but unfortunately Ashley is under the weather. But let's still thank them and all of our citizen heroes. And let's make sure they can hear us all the way out in Avery County and the rest of western North Carolina!

"By the way, the people who have been aiding folks out west don't care a whit about the politics of the people they are helping. They simply want to help their neighbors in need, just like the Good Samaritan who took mercy on the traveler left beaten and bloody on the side of the road to Jericho. We must follow their example and step up for our neighbors in western North Carolina.

"My team and I have been focused on doing whatever we can to help. On day 1 as Governor, I took action to cut red tape and make it easier for folks to recover. The crews and contractors of the Department of Transportation have reopened more than 1,300 roads so far. And as of March 1st, I-40 is open! That's great work, Secretary Hopkins. We've removed nearly 5 million cubic yards of debris from our roadways. Half of all state parks and cultural sites hit by the storm have fully reopened, and almost all of them are accepting visitors.

"So many people and organizations, public and private, have worked so hard. I saw firsthand the remarkable efforts of Baptists on Mission in mid-January when I volunteered with them to repair the home of a schoolteacher in Spruce Pine. Groups like Baptists on Mission and Habitat for Humanity are working tirelessly to get people back into their homes. We need them to keep up their good work. That's why, in January, I announced $6 million in grants to these two organizations!

"In addition to addressing housing, we've been focused on supporting struggling small businesses. After a major disaster, more than 40% of all affected small businesses never reopen; within two years, 60% have permanently closed their doors. Folks, we cannot let that become our story! Small business is the beating heart of the economy of western North Carolina.

"So, we have partnered with the Dogwood Health Trust and the Duke Endowment to offer $35 million in grants to impacted small businesses. They can use these grants for paying their staff, restoring inventory, and fixing up their property - whatever they need. So far, we have been able to award grants to more than 1,000 small businesses!

"One of those is Chimney Rock Gemstone Mine, a beloved family destination. Matt and Michelle Banz have run their gemstone mine for 21 years. That was until Helene caused the Rocky Broad River to jump its banks and flood their store.

"They've been working hard to rebuild so they can reopen this summer, and their small business grant has enabled them to start replenishing their merchandise, hiring back staff, and rebuilding. Matt and Michelle, thank you for not giving up on Chimney Rock. We will not give up on you!

"Western North Carolina's small businesses aren't looking for a handout. They just need a hand up, so they can get back on their feet. And as many small businesses as we've been able to support, many, many more are still waiting for help. So let's support small businesses with grants, just like we do our farmers.

"Folks, we're talking $60 billion in damages overall - by far the costliest storm to ever hit North Carolina. That's too much for those affected to bear themselves. They need our help. People need to get back in their homes. Roads and bridges need to be fixed. Businesses need to keep their doors open and their workers employed. And communities need clean drinking water.

"That's why I'm working with President Trump, his cabinet, and our congressional delegation to seek billions more in federal funds - ASAP. And that's why I urge you to pass the $500 million western North Carolina recovery bill.

March 12, 2025

"We need that money now. Heck, we needed it yesterday. Ashley and Freddy, Matt and Michelle, all of western North Carolina - they need us to do our jobs. So let's do it, and let's pass this bill. I am ready to sign it! And once we get it done, let's get right back to work. We want the people of western North Carolina to know - we will not forget you!

"And by the way, when we talk about rebuilding, we don't mean only out west. A number of folks down east still need help, folks who lost everything after Hurricanes Matthew and Florence, folks who just want their home back. That bill we're waiting on also includes funding to help them move forward, as well. And no matter where you live, you need to know that if disaster strikes, we will be there!

"Fundamentally, our commitment to our people is that they have a real shot at success - to get a good-paying job or start a small business. That's the promise of North Carolina - that where you come from should never limit how far you can go. Delivering on that promise is what drives me as your Governor.

"In recent years, we've recruited businesses that have created tens of thousands of jobs across the State. We've been ranked in the top two states for business, four years running! We've become a leader in the clean energy economy. There is a lot to be proud of and plenty of credit to go around. And I am committed to doing my part as Governor to continue our State's economic success.

"In just the past two months, we've announced more than 1,500 new jobs, most of which are in rural North Carolina. But we cannot rest on our laurels. Other states want what we have here - it's a competitive world. We cannot afford to leave anyone's talents on the sidelines - we must be a State that is welcoming to all people.

"We must continue to grow our economy and ensure it works for everyone! The people of North Carolina are our greatest asset. So to invest in our future, we must invest in our people. And know this: while I am Governor, when it comes to developing our workforce, no state will outwork us!

"Our goal is to set the national pace in growing the number of skilled workers, including doubling the number of apprentices over the next four years, and empowering hundreds of thousands more North Carolinians with the credentials they need to secure a good-paying job. So, I'm proposing that for students getting certified in high-demand sectors, like in advanced manufacturing, health care, and IT, we provide them free community college!

"We've also got to support Propel NC, which rewards community colleges when students earn credentials for high wage jobs. And I'm creating a Council on Workforce and Apprenticeships to unite our community colleges, public schools, and local businesses around our shared goal of getting more people access to good jobs with good wages. We know how to do this; heck, in many corners of the State, we already are.

"Northern Regional Hospital in Mt. Airy had a nursing shortage and had to pay for expensive traveling nurses to fill the gaps. So, in partnership with Surry-Yadkin Works, a local workforce organization, the hospital worked with Surry Community College to create an apprenticeship program.

"Emily Orellana always knew she wanted to be a nurse, but she didn't know where to start. This apprenticeship program helped Emily get connected to Northern Regional as a high schooler and earn her certified nursing assistant credential. Now, she's about to graduate from the community college's nursing program as a registered nurse with a focus on ICU care.

"Emily inspired her sister Haylee, who is now pursuing her own nursing credential to work in labor and delivery. Haylee and Emily, please stand so we can thank you for taking care of our people.

"Thanks to this apprenticeship program, Northern Regional Hospital is training its next generation of health care workers - homegrown - dramatically reducing its dependence on traveling nurses.

"It's about turning apprenticeships into careers, which is good for both workers and employers. Folks should not have to get a bachelor's degree to get a good-paying job and provide for their family. Every hard-working North Carolinian deserves a real shot at a brighter future!

"And we have to create the conditions that allow them to fulfill their potential. Yes, that means good-paying jobs. It also means clean air to breathe and clean water to drink. And it means lower costs. Too many North Carolinians are struggling to pay their bills, including housing and child care.

"North Carolina is the third fastest growing state in the nation after Texas and Florida. But our housing supply has not kept up. To keep prices down, we need more housing of all types - single family, duplexes, triplexes, condos, apartments, special needs housing. We can find bipartisan solutions to high housing costs if we're willing to work together. So let's do it and get more homes built for our people!

"It's not just housing that's in short supply; we also need more child care options. You want to hear something crazy - too many parents cannot afford to work. That's because they can't find child care they can afford, if they can find it at all. At the same time, we don't have enough child care workers because they don't get paid enough. Currently, there is only one child care spot for every five families wanting one. Of course, parents should always have the option to stay home with their children. But it should be a choice - parents shouldn't be pushed out of the workforce. When they are, they suffer - and our economy suffers.

"Each year, our State loses billions of dollars in economic activity because of our child care crisis. So this week, I announced a bipartisan Task Force on Child Care and Early Education to find innovative solutions to this challenge. When we do, it will be a win for our children, a win for our parents, and a win for our businesses and economy. Let's work together to expand access to quality, affordable child care here in North Carolina!

"To make North Carolina a state where folks thrive, we need to invest in children and their families by cutting taxes for middle-class families. We can cut taxes to help families manage the cost of raising a child. We can cut taxes to make child care more affordable. And we can cut taxes on working families to put more money in their pockets, lift children out of poverty, and stimulate local economies. These three targeted tax cuts are what being pro-family looks like!

"We can afford them and still meet our critical education, health care, and public safety needs. But we won't be able to make these necessary investments if we do not address the self-inflicted fiscal cliff we face in a couple of years, especially given today's uncertainties. We're at a fork in the road when it comes to our budget.

"We can go ahead with nearly $10 billion of tax giveaways over the next four years, mainly to the wealthy and to corporate shareholders. By the way, very few of these shareholders are North Carolinian - heck, many aren't even American! Or we can help our neighbors recover from Hurricane Helene, invest in our public safety and public schools, provide targeted tax cuts to support our working families, and keep up with the needs of our fast-growing population.

"So what's it going to be? Give money to out-of-state shareholders, or invest in North Carolina families? We cannot afford to do both. We should choose North Carolina's children and families every time!

March 12, 2025

"Of course, we have to be fiscally prudent - to be smart about how we invest taxpayers' dollars. That's why I'm directing my budget office to set up the Impact Center to ensure our government is run effectively and efficiently, because people should know that their tax dollars are being well spent! But let's get this right. Let's use a scalpel, not a chainsaw.

"Today, the State of North Carolina is strong - let's invest to keep it that way! That includes investing in our teachers. Just remember your favorite teacher. A good teacher inspires their students. That's why we must recruit and retain the best. And that's why we must give teachers a real pay raise!

"Right now, North Carolina's starting teacher pay is the second-lowest in the Southeast, lower than every one of our bordering states - even South Carolina. Anna and I know some parents of recent college graduates. Those graduates wanted to live and teach in their home state, but they chose other states because our salaries simply aren't competitive. It's an embarrassment. We can and must do better! Here's a goal we can all get behind: let's make starting teacher salaries in North Carolina the highest in the Southeast!

"And let's reward experienced teachers who stay in the classroom. I know that there is bipartisan support for these efforts. This is an area where we can work together. So let's do it; let's invest in our kids; and let's pay our teachers a salary that shows how much we value them!

"We are honored to be joined this evening by several recent North Carolina Teachers of the Year and Beginning Teachers of the Year, including Ms. Kimberly Jones who teaches English at my alma mater, Chapel Hill High. Will these remarkable educators please stand up? They are shaping our next generation, and we are grateful.

"Yes, we have to pay teachers more, but raising pay alone isn't enough to improve our kids' education. We need to expand the State's advanced teacher initiative to better utilize our best teachers and give them a career pathway. We need to extend the 'science of reading' to middle schools to improve learning.

"And we need to put our public dollars toward our public schools. North Carolina is 48th in the nation in per pupil investment - we can do so much better. We should not be taking money from our public school kids to pay for wealthy parents sending their kids to unaccountable private schools, to the tune of $7.5 billion over the next decade.

"We also need to feed our kids because they can't learn when they're hungry. A square meal improves student attendance, behavior, and learning. Principal Ali Setser leads Eastern Elementary in Pitt County, which is already providing free school meals to all of its students. Principal Setser, will you please stand? Thank you for your leadership.

"The experience of Pitt and several other school systems prove that we can do it. Let's provide every North Carolina student a free school breakfast!

"Our students also need safe and well-built schools. Unfortunately, too many of our schools are overcrowded or use trailers or have old, leaking roofs and broken heating and air conditioning. It's 2025 - we shouldn't have to send kids home from school because the heat doesn't work. We need safer, healthier, and more modern schools. So tonight, I'm proposing a $4 billion public school bond! Let's let the voters decide!

"We also need safety upgrades like cameras, fences around playgrounds, exterior locks, and fewer access points to secure our school buildings from people who mean harm. Nothing is more important than keeping our kids safe! And that also means protecting their mental health. North Carolina has underinvested in school social workers, counselors, and psychologists for far too long. Let's make sure our schools have the support staff they need to improve our kids' mental health and help them thrive.

"And when we talk youth mental health, we've got to talk about cell phones and social media. Cell phones are a major source of distraction for students and disruption for teachers. When teachers don't have to compete with TikTok for student attention, and when students don't have to choose between social studies and social media, real learning happens. And their mental health improves.

"Too many young people are struggling. Too many kids are bullied. They need and they deserve a seven-hour break from the unrelenting pressures of phones and social media. Classrooms should be cell phone-free zones! I'm pleased that bipartisan Members of both Chambers are tackling this issue. And I look forward to working with you to make this happen.

"I spent my last eight years as Attorney General working to keep North Carolinians safe, and as Governor, I'm still at it. So I'm standing up for the people who protect our communities. We ask our law enforcement officers to make tremendous sacrifices. We ask them to run towards danger when the rest of us might flee. Time and time again, they say yes - to protect and to serve. There are a number of law enforcement officers here tonight with us - will all of you please stand? Every one of these people is a hero.

"For brevity, I'll call out just one - Forsyth County Sheriff Bobby Kimbrough, who has dedicated four decades to public safety. Sheriff, we appreciate you, all of your peers here tonight, and every one of North Carolina's more than 30,000 certified law enforcement officers. Thank you, all!

"As I travel the State, I regularly hear about law enforcement staffing challenges. Vacancies make it harder for our law enforcement to keep us safe. That's why I'm proposing salary increases for state law enforcement and correctional officers and signing bonuses for new officers. Let's make sure that we have more police officers on the beat.

"Let's show the nation: that we put our money where our mouths are. That in North Carolina, we value our law enforcement. And that we invest in them like they invest in us!

"And let's improve public safety and health by tackling the scourges of opioid and fentanyl addiction.

"I first met Debbie Dalton after she experienced one of the most terrible tragedies a parent can face. Her son Hunter was one of those larger-than-life people who made everyone he met feel special. He loved golf and travel and once beat Steph Curry in a free-throw shooting competition at Davidson Basketball Camp.

"Three days ago, Hunter should have celebrated his 32nd birthday. But at 23 years old, fentanyl tragically ended his life. There are thousands of stories like Hunter's - young people whose lives ended too soon because of one of the deadliest drugs ever to poison our country. And too many North Carolinians are like Debbie - parents, siblings, spouses, children, and friends who will never get their loved one back.

"During my time as Attorney General, we made real progress combatting the fentanyl crisis and reducing overdose deaths. But even one death to fentanyl is one death too many. That's why I'm calling on the General Assembly to fund a Fentanyl Control Unit of law enforcement and prosecutors dedicated to getting it off our streets!

"That's how we can honor the memory of Hunter and all the North Carolinians we have lost too soon. Debbie, thank you for your willingness to turn your personal pain into purpose for other people. Please stand.

"What we've been talking about tonight - they are not red issues or blue issues, they are North Carolina issues! Of course, on some of them, we may differ about how best to get there. That's fine. That's the democratic process. But I am certain that if we come together across our differences, we can find common ground and make progress.

"If those of us who believe in the possibility of bipartisanship look to Washington, D.C., we will surely become discouraged. But we do not need to be pulled into those political games. We can create something better, something forward-looking right here in North Carolina. And we can do it together!

"After all, we've done it before. Two years ago, Republicans and Democrats worked together to expand Medicaid here in North Carolina! Today, more than 640,000 of our neighbors have access to newfound, high-quality health care. And our struggling rural hospitals have been given a lifeline.

"But we know that some in Washington are poised to take aim at our effective, efficient, and critical Medicaid program. The cuts Congress is considering would be absolutely devastating to the health of our people and our entire health care system. I've been urging Washington to follow our example by putting party aside and people first.

"Just as we stood arm-in-arm as North Carolinians to make Medicaid expansion a reality, let's stand arm-in-arm to defend our health care. When we - Republicans and Democrats - come together, that's when we make a real difference for our people. We've made big things happen before, and we can do it again.

"We can help western North Carolina recover from the most damaging storm in our history. We can grow our economy and make it work for more people. We can make sure our workforce meets the needs of our people and our businesses. We can keep our communities safe. And we can put our kids first, every time. That's because the state of our State is strong - North Carolina strong!

"Our teachers make us strong! Our law enforcement officers make us strong! Our small business owners, our farmers, our vets, our child care workers, and our community college students make us strong! You the people of North Carolina make us strong. So, let's come together to keep North Carolina strong!

"Thank you. May God bless you, and may God bless the Old North State."

"Every day, as Legislators, we are exposed to so much information, through emails, text, social media, news from so many sources and venues. Sometimes there is little room left for Your instruction.

"Details are important, and information makes our work arena function. Help us to clear our minds with morning prayer and reading Your Word.

"Help us to close out our day on our knees thanking You and seeking guidance for the next mind-boggling day. Let everything fade away for a brief period in devotion to let You speak in our hearts.

"Heavenly Father,

"As we gather in this Chamber today, we do so with heavy hearts and a deep sense of responsibility - for those we serve and for those currently walking through hardship. Today, we lift up the communities that are being affected by wildfires.

"Lord, we ask Your hand of protection over the first responders, the firefighters, and emergency personnel who risk their lives to protect ours. Grant them strength when they are weary, courage in the face of danger, and wisdom in every decision they make.

"When the call comes, may they move swiftly, and when the danger rises, may they stand boldly. May they be a shield for the helpless, a light in the smoke, and calm in the chaos.

"For the families affected, may Your comfort surround them. For our State, may we act with compassion to meet their needs. And for each of us here, Lord, give us servant hearts, steady hands, and clear minds as we do the work of the people.

"In Jesus' Name we pray. Amen."

"You are greater than us, so we humbly bow at this time to seek Your wisdom as we quiet ourselves to hear You speak - even in the midst of this prayer. Keep us always reminded that even on our best days we are but clay in Your hands and utterly dependent on You.

"Bless now our work today - each of us, Representatives and staff alike - so that the end result is that we bring You joy and hear You say, 'Well done.' And, as this is Autism Awareness Month, we pray, please Lord, that You will bless, in a special way, those who see the world in a neurodiverse way and those who love and care for them.

"In Christ's Name we pray. Amen."

The following prayer is offered by Representative Harry Warren:

"Dear Lord, please help us to remember that in times of trouble, fear, and uncertainty, You are with us always, that You are our strength. Help us to realize when we are relying on ourselves, and call us back to You.

"Remind us that we must do Your bidding in these positions of responsibility that You have called us into and we have accepted.

"Open our eyes to see the opportunity You have given us to help others. Help us to see the potential in each other and give us the maturity to work together in servitude to others, as You have positioned us to do.

"Help us to see each other as one of Your creations, so we might recognize our similarities and not the distraction of our differences; that we might demonstrate the agape love for one another that will empower us to overcome our human weaknesses and work together, strengthened by Your eternal patience and undying love for us.

"This we humbly ask. Amen."

"Lord, through Your prophet Isaiah, You comforted us with the words that the government rests upon Your shoulder.

"And throughout Your Holy Word, You expose us to knowledge of many of Your characteristics: You love justice; You love peace; You love unity; and You love us, each of us, with no respect of person.

"Therefore, even though we are aware that eternal justice and peace are under Your control, we also recognize that by grace, You are allowing each of us to work and legislate in this place of earthly authority.

"So please help us - we who are made in Your image - to reflect Your characteristics.

"Help us to love justice and to legislate justly. Help us to love peace and to legislate in ways that bring peace. Help us to love unity, like You love unity, and to legislate in ways that unite us, rather than divide us; with the full knowledge that real people are impacted by what we do.

"'And the government shall rest upon His shoulders.' So please help us to legislate guided by the truth that our ultimate reward is not found in winning our district in the next election, but in ultimately hearing You say, 'Well done.'

"In Christ's Name. Amen."
