

NORTH CAROLINA CENTER FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF TEACHING

NCCAT was established by the General Assembly in 1985. NCCAT's mission, as defined by General Statute, is to advance teaching as an art and as a profession.

Contact: Richard L. Thompson

The North Carolina Center for the Advancement of Teaching

richard.thompson@nccat.org

rlted@earthlink.net

Work: 828.293.5202 ext. 1117

Cell: 919.949.8273

IMPACTS STUDENTS

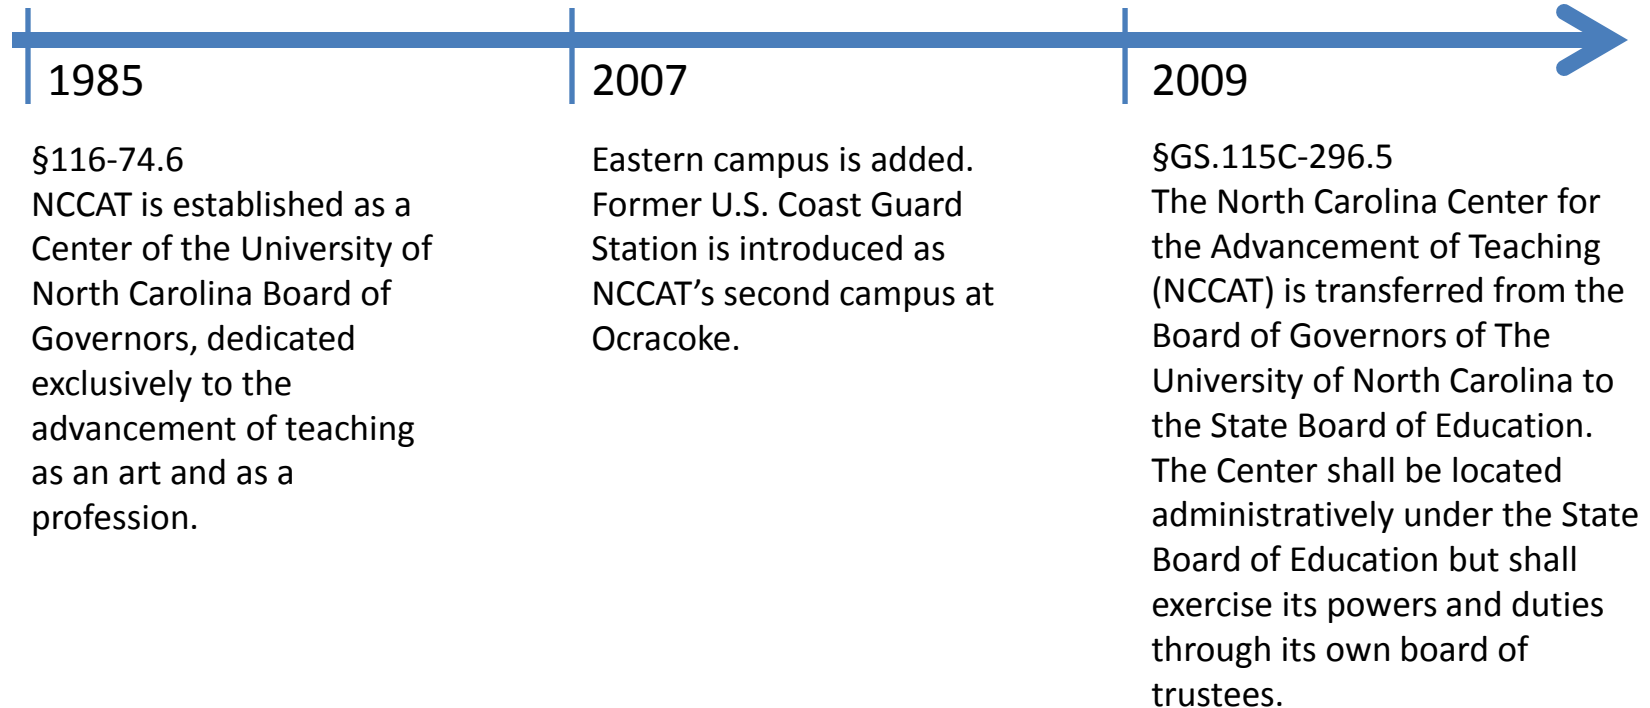

SUPPORTS TEACHERS

RESPONDS TO STATE INITIATIVES

NCCAT Timeline

Moving Forward

Digital
Learning

Early
Grades
Literacy

EXAMPLES OF FALL/SPRING PROGRAMS

- Reading, Writing, and Ready by 3rd Grade: Early Grades Literacy Instruction
- Catching Up With Your Students: Navigating Technology for 21st Century Classrooms
- Reading Resources: Equipping Your Classroom for Reading Success
- Digital Learning Across the Curriculum
- Building a Strong Literacy Foundation in the Early Grades
- Bridging Achievement Gaps with Digital Learning
- Using Data Wisely: Formal and Informal Formative Assessment
- Integrating the Arts Across the Curriculum

Moving Forward

Beginning
Teachers

Teacher
Leadership

EXAMPLES OF FALL/SPRING PROGRAMS

- Success from the Start: How to Survive and Thrive Your First Three Years in the Classroom
- Special Project: Wilson County Teacher Leadership Pilot
- Research and Development Teams

Statewide Impact

Individual Impact

Schoolwide Impact

Districtwide Impact

Regional Impact

REGION 4

“We absolutely credit NCCAT for helping our school go from one of the lowest performing schools in North Carolina to today being recognized as a Reward School for consistently performing in the top ten percent of [Title] One schools. Very purposefully over the years, we have sent teams of teachers to NCCAT. Upon their return, those teachers would conduct staff development on what they learned, and we put those lessons into practice. Today and for the future, NCCAT remains an important part of our strategy to keep our students achieving at the highest levels.”

*—Heddie Alston-Somerville, Principal
Pinkston Street Elementary, Vance County Schools, 2013*

NCCAT's Core Values

- Treat teachers as professionals
- Give teachers the opportunity to become active learners
- Provide teachers with time to interact and share with their colleagues
- Inspire and motivate teachers