Safety Rules for Activity Buses Executive Summary For Information March 11, 2004

The State Board of Education was directed to study the adequacy of the safety rules and policies adopted by local boards of education regarding the use of activity buses. The State Board is to report the results of this study to the Joint Legislative Oversight Committee by March 15, 2004. In response to this request, the Department of Public Instruction sent a survey to the 117 LEAs in North Carolina requesting their policies related to activity bus transportation.

Background - Applicable Laws

The primary safety of activity bus operation is addressed in a number of North Carolina general statutes. According to Motor Vehicle Law (G.S. 4.01 (27d3)) a School Activity Bus is defined as "A vehicle, generally painted a different color from a school bus, whose primary purpose is to transport school students and others to or from a place for participation in an event other than regular classroom work. The term includes a public, private, or parochial vehicle that meets this description."

Motor Vehicles Law – both state and federal – addresses the qualifications of the driver, requiring that the driver of a School Activity Bus has a Commercial Driver's License and either a P (passenger) endorsement or a School Bus Driver's Certificate (valid in-state only). Changing laws will require all drivers to have a federal P and S (school bus) endorsement by the fall, 2005. Further, Motor Vehicles Law requires that all of these drivers participate in random drug and alcohol testing.

Public School Law – addresses the safety of the vehicle itself, just like for school buses. G.S. 115C-248(d) states the following

"The superintendent of each local school administrative unit, shall cause each activity bus which is used for the transportation of students by such local school administrative unit or any public school system therein to be inspected for mechanical defects, or other defects which may affect the safe operation of such activity bus, at the same time and in the same way and manner as the regular public school buses for the normal transportation of public school pupils are inspected. A report of such inspection, together with the recommendations of the person making the inspection, shall be filed with the principal of the school which uses and operates such activity bus and a copy shall be forwarded to the superintendent of the local school administrative unit involved. It shall be the duty of the driver of each activity bus to make the same reports to the principal of the school using and operating such activity bus as is required by this section. If any public school activity bus is found to be so defective that the activity bus may not be operated with reasonable safety, it shall be the duty of such principal to cause the use of such activity bus to be discontinued until such defect is remedied to the satisfaction of the person making the inspection and a report to this effect has been filed in the manner herein prescribed. Nothing in this subsection shall authorize the use of State funds for the purchase, operation or repair of any activity bus."

State Board of Education Policy EEO-H-005 – the Preventive Maintenance and Vehicle Replacement Manual – outlines specific preventive maintenance for buses. These procedures are implemented through the state's Vehicle Fleet Management System (operated by NCDOT). The required maintenance for school buses and school activity buses is identical, consisting of 30-day inspections and scheduled preventive maintenance every 6,000 miles.

Local Board of Education Policies

Beyond these state laws and policies, specific activity bus transportation policies are not mandated by the State Board of Education or North Carolina General Statute. These policies are developed at the discretion of the local boards of education across the state. Many policies are procedural, detailing the requirements for reserving, picking up and fueling activity buses. Others supplement the public school law by adding additional driver qualifications. Others have no formal policies, relying on the general statutes above for guidance in how to operate activity buses.

Survey of Existing Policies, rules and procedures

All 117 LEAs responded to the survey and 87 submitted copies of their written documentation. The policies and procedures sent to DPI varied in length from one paragraph to several pages. A copy of the survey is attached to this document as well as the summary sheet that shows each LEA and the type of policy, procedure or rule noted.

Summary of Results

Seventy-nine LEAs (67%) have local board of education policies related to activity bus transportation. Of these, forty-six LEAs have administrative procedures or rules in addition to their board policies. Another fourteen LEAs (12%) rely on administrative procedures or rules to supplement state laws regarding activity bus transportation. Three LEAs (2.6%) that have neither board policies nor written procedures are in the process of developing board policies. Twenty-one LEAs (18%) reported no board policies or other written rules or procedures. State laws address the safety of the driver and the vehicle as discussed above. Whether adopted policy or written rules or procedures, ninety-six LEAs, including the three in-process, or 82% have adequately documented local guidelines to be followed that supplement state law. Twenty-one LEAs have not adequately documented their policies and procedures regarding activity bus transportation; however conversations with LEA staff indicate that they use state laws as a basis for their ongoing, non-written procedures.

In reviewing the applicable motor vehicle and public school laws, it is clear that the safety of activity bus transportation is adequately addressed in state law in much the same way as "yellow" school bus transportation. Nevertheless, many LEAs have adopted local rules or have policies and rules in place. Actual copies of those policies submitted are available in the office of DPI School Support.

Ti Ci									All of our activity buses are operated like yellow school buses, i.e. drivers all have to be CDL with S restriction certified, all maintenance is done in accordance with state regulations, all trips are scheduled and assigned by transportation department, etc. School board policies are assumed to be in place for both yellow buses and locally owned buses. We do not lease our buses out to other agencies and they are locally insured. See CHCCS
