§115C-83.10. Accountability measures.

(a) Each local board of education shall publish annually on a Web site maintained by that local school administrative unit and report in writing to the State Board of Education by September 1 of each year the following information on the prior school year:

(1) The number and percentage of third grade students demonstrating and not demonstrating reading proficiency on the State-approved standardized test of reading comprehension administered to third grade students.

(2) The number and percentage of third grade students who take and pass the alternative assessment of reading comprehension.

(3) The number and percentage of third grade students retained for not demonstrating reading proficiency.

(4) The number and percentage of third grade students exempt from mandatory third grade retention by category of exemption as listed in G.S. 115C-83.7(b).

(b) Each local board of education shall report annually in writing to the State Board of Education by September 1 of each year a description of all reading interventions provided to students who have been retained under G.S. 115C-83.7(a).

(c) The State Board of Education shall establish a uniform format for local boards of education to report the required information listed in subsections (a) and (b) of this section and shall provide the format to local boards of education no later than 90 days prior to the annual due date. The State Board of Education shall compile annually this information and submit a State level summary to the Governor, the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the Joint Legislative Education Oversight Committee by October 15 of each year, beginning with the 2014-2015 school year.

(d) The State Board of Education and the Department of Public Instruction shall provide technical assistance as needed to aid local school administrative units to implement all provisions of this Part. (2012-142, s. 7A.1(b).)

The accountability measures for school year 2014-2015 are listed on the following pages.

|--|---|---|-------------------|
| State of North Carolina2014–15Read to Achieve Grade 3End-of-Year Results   |   | G.S. §115C-83.10 requires “each local board of education to publish annually on a Web site maintained by that local school administrative unit and to report in writing to the State Board of Education (SBE) by September 1 of each year the following information on the prior school year:” |                   |
| Note: The denominator for calculating the required percentages for Rows 1, 2, and 3 is all students in membership at grade 3 for the first day of spring testing. |   | Number of Students   | Percentage |
| 1  | Demonstrated reading proficiency on the Beginning-of-Grade 3 (BOG3) ELA/Reading Assessment, the End-of-Grade (EOG) ELA/Reading Assessment, or the EOG ELA/Reading Retest (scored Level 3 or higher)   | 70,148  | 59.3%             |
| 2  | Did not demonstrate reading proficiency on the BOG3 ELA/Reading Assessment, the EOG ELA/Reading Assessment, or the EOG ELA/Reading Retest   | 48,207  | 40.7%             |
| 3  | The number and percentage of students exempt from mandatory retention in third grade for good cause. Students may be counted in this category only once.  | 12,360  | 10.4%             |
| The denominator for Row 4 is the number of students from Row 2 minus the number of students from Row 3.   |   |   |                   |
| 4  | The number and percentage of students who took and passed an alternative assessment approved by the State Board of Education (SBE) (i.e., Read to Achieve Test or locally determined SBE-approved alternative assessment). Students may be counted in the numerator and/or the denominator only once for this category.   | 15,607  | 43.5%             |
| The denominator for Row 5 is all students in membership at grade 3 for the first day of spring testing.   |   |   |                   |
| 5  | Total number and percentage of students retained for not demonstrating reading proficiency on third-grade standards (For 2015-16, students who are not proficient will be either: (1)retained in third grade accelerated class, (2) placed in a ¾ transition class with a retained label, or (3)placed in a fourth-grade accelerated class with a retained reading label. | 16,089  | 13.6%             |
| The denominator for Row 6 is the number of retained students recorded in number 5.  |   |   |                   |
| 6  | Charter Schools Only: Charter schools must indicate the number and percentage of retained students recorded in number 5 who do not return to the charter school for 2015–16  | N/A   | N/A               |

Note: Privacy laws dictate that for fewer than 5 students, the specific number and percentage should not be given. Therefore, if the number is fewer than 5 students, schools should use an asterisk (*) to represent fewer than 5 students and the percentage. An * indicates that the student population number and percentage is too small to report the value. The percentage and number of students are not shown if the percentage is greater than 95 percent (>95) or less than 5 percent (<5).

  - Daily reading support for an additional 25 minutes on grade 3 Journey's Program.
  - Double dipping in guided reading—some groups provided by classroom teacher, some by our Title I reading teachers, some by ESL teachers (these "extra" groups often focused on specific skill deficits, one of which was often written comprehension.)
  - Increased the time allotted for the literacy block.
  - Incorporated an inclusion model for EC and ESL students in the regular classroom during literacy blocks.
  - After school tutoring offered in literacy that focused on fluency, comprehension, and power standards.
  - Intervention block (30 minutes every day) offered for all students—focusing on deficits as identified by benchmarks and other common assessments.
  - ExC-ELL vocabulary strategies were used in 3-4 Transition Classrooms.
  - 30 minutes of whole class mini lesson which focused on the 4th grade reading objectives.
  - 20 minutes Guided Reading instruction on the student's reading level with their classroom teacher.
  - 20 minutes Guided Reading instruction with a Reading Facilitator in an inclusion setting.
  - 20 minutes whole class Novel Study. Students were exposed to grade level text and participated in classroom discussions and vocabulary around these texts.
  - 45 minutes of an EC Reading Program (Corrective Reading) for identified EC students with a retained reading label.

Avery County Schools had one student that was retained following the 2013-14 school year as part of Read to Achieve. This retention took place after attending a 5 week summer school and unsuccessful attempt to pass the RtA assessment, as well as the 3rd grade reading portfolio. The student was placed in  $\frac{3}{4}$  transition class of that had a class size of 13 students. Additionally, the student was scheduled for a daily 90 minute block of uninterrupted instruction, and received tutoring from the reading specialist who is also certified as an exceptional children's teacher. The student's teacher frequently conferenced with the parent as part of the collaborative effort to meet the student's learning needs.

RtA Students Receive the Following Interventions:

Leveled Literacy Intervention Provides:

- Combination of reading, writing, and phonics/word study.
- Emphasis on teaching for comprehending strategies.
- Explicit attention to genre and to the features of nonfiction and fiction texts.
- Special attention to disciplinary reading, literature inquiry, and writing about reading.
- Specific work on sounds, letters, and words in activities designed to help students notice the details of written language and learn how words "work."
- Close reading to deepen and expand comprehension.
- Explicit teaching of effective and efficient strategies for expanding vocabulary.
- Explicit teaching for fluent and phrased reading.

Corrective Reading Intervention:

Corrective Reading is designed to promote reading accuracy (decoding), fluency, and comprehension skills of students in grades 4–12 who are reading below their grade level. The program includes four sequential levels that address students' decoding skills and six sequential levels that address students' comprehension skills. The levels are designed to target students who need assistance with particular types of reading skills based on the results of Corrective Reading placement tests.

Foundations Intervention:

A systematic program in critical foundational skills, emphasizing:

- Phonemic awareness
- Phonics/ word study
- High frequency word study
- Reading fluency
- Vocabulary
- Comprehension strategies
- Handwriting
- Spelling

Fountas and Pinnell Guided Reading:

The Eight Components of Guided Reading (2010) align with the key tenets of the Common Core State Standards:

1. Complex, high level reading comprehension is the goal of guided reading instruction.
2. Guided reading centers on a sequence of high quality texts that support individual progress on a scale of spiraling text difficulty.
3. Guided reading lessons increase the volume of independent reading that students do; the goal always is confident, capable independent readers.
4. Guided reading provides explicit instruction in accurate, fluent reading.

The following reading interventions were provided to students in our  $\frac{3}{4}$  transition classes:

- 90 minute uninterrupted literacy block
- mClass Reading 3D accounts where teachers progress monitored and benchmarked these students
- Guided Reading (Small Group) instruction tailored to the individual reading level of students
- an additional 150 minutes of reading instruction using the LLI program in addition to guided reading with the classroom teacher each day.
- an additional 45 minutes/daily literacy instruction from the reading specialist using the Wilson Reading System in addition to receiving balanced literacy components from the classroom teacher.
- students received 90+ minutes of balanced literacy instruction in the regular classroom, including guided reading, shared reading, read aloud, independent reading, and word study. They visited the reading teacher 3 times weekly for 45 minutes each session for additional instruction in reading comprehension strategies. In addition some met with the ESL teacher 3 times each week for small group instruction in a supplemental guided reading group.
- reading and ESL teachers identified and taught skill deficits to 4T students during a daily 35-minute intervention block.
- students received 105 minutes of uninterrupted Language Arts instruction during Literacy. Also, reading teacher pushed in during the block to support the students and the class. The reading teacher also served the students for 30 minutes daily, 5 times a week during intervention block, in addition to their literacy instruction. The students received targeted phonemic awareness instruction and all the components of balanced literacy.

  - Success Maker- This is a technology-based program that assesses students on grade level and then places them in their correct level of instruction. The teachers built custom sessions and assigned these to individual students as well as following the prescribed course level.
  - Waterford Early Learning-(Math/Reading/Science) - This is a digital, personalized, learning program for K-2 which addresses all 5 components of reading. This was used with areas such as phonemic awareness, and phonics for the lowest struggling students as data has revealed.
  - Soar to Success/Early Success Reading Intervention Program- This is a researched based intervention that goes along with our Reading Core. Student's level of learning was matched with appropriate level of the program.
  - Journey's Write-In Readers- These are intervention was that is used to enhance written comprehension skills.
  - Leveled Readers- Leveled text are used to reinforce phonics skills and increase fluency while improving the level of reading as well as teaching in small group the comprehension strategies.
  - Florida Center of Reading Research- Literacy stations are built and used to promote mastery of non-mastered skills in literacy stations.
  - Freereading.org- This site is used to access materials used to provide extra lessons in all areas of reading where mastery had not occurred.
  - Readworks.org- These passages provided practice with teaching comprehension strategies as well as fluency reads in other content areas. These were also used in small groups for instruction.

Student's individual data was discussed weekly during PLC's with all staff (certified/non-certified) to plan for instruction. Our District Leads as well as our District Elementary Curriculum Director attends PLCs regularly to assist in the disaggregation of data and the planning for proper instruction for the different tiers.

List all the reading interventions schools provided in the 2014-15 school year to students who have been retained (i.e., students with a retained reading label placed in a third-grade accelerated reading class, placed in a ¾ transition class, and placed in a fourth-grade accelerated reading class).

All of our 4RR students had extra time (30-60 minutes) with Reading Specialists in addition to the strategies listed below. Each school placed these students with one of the teachers from the RtA summer camp who used A+ Arts Integrated and Active Learning strategies in their classrooms. Students had already experienced success with this approach in their summer experience and we continued to combine that with Hill RAP and comprehension building. This list is comprehensive of all reading interventions used during the 2014-2015 school year.

- A. Hill RAP- for students who continued to struggle with decoding and processing
- B. Reading Clinics - morning (often prior to the start of the school day) sessions were tailored to small groups (3-4) and were prescriptive based on reports generated by SuccessMaker and mClass.
- C. SuccessMaker - Reading and Comprehension - initial evaluation followed by sequential, skill development lessons (usually 3x per week)
- D. Pullout groups with Reading Specialists (readers with similar profiles)
- E. Push-in instruction with the Reading Specialists
- F. STAR Reader was also used regularly with all 4RR students.
- G. Prescriptive informal interventions were designed with information acquired through the use of mClass, TRC, STAR, SuccessMaker, and Making Connections.
- H. Music teacher - separate class for 4RR students (sometimes included ELL students with similar learning profiles) in which lessons were designed to build fluency using rhythm-based reading and singing. (2x a week)
- I. Visual Art teacher - Literacy and Art lessons for 4RR students in a class that emphasized the connection between non-fiction texts and fiction texts. Question stems were specifically designed to increase comprehension and the understanding of cause and effect, point of view, and summarizing. (2x a week)
- J. Media Coordinator - Special once a week class for 4RRs that centered on Readers Theatre and demonstrating understanding by incorporating character studies, plot analysis, and setting descriptions.
- K. Increased use of leveled texts, high-interest reading such as magazines, flyers, recipe books, repair guides, botanical identification guides, birding guides, and radio dramas with narrated text.

Reading Interventions Report
2014–15 School Year

- L. Formative assessments constructed to match standards which included probes and critical thinking stimuli to have an effect on a broader range of learners. Use of mClass and TRC data to determine appropriate levels was used in an ongoing way.
- M. 4th RR readers worked with 2nd grade emerging readers on leveled texts both non-fiction and fiction. This was a paired approach that worked well.
- N. Photography and composition of self-published books that were aligned with themes from 4th grade Social Studies and Science. Comprehension skills were heavily supported by scaffolding concepts.
- O. Reading Round Table: 20–30 minute activities in the classroom where 4–5 4RR students read to a partner, to the group, and to themselves. This was followed by drawing a question from the comprehension box and answering in a specific order. Each student got credit for adding detail or vocabulary to the original answer. The student with the greatest credit became the “director” the following day. Efforts were made to have each student serve as “director” each week.
- P. Some schools included Basal Readers in their “free reading” selection times.

List all the reading interventions schools provided in the 2014-15 school year to students who have been retained (i.e., students with a retained reading label placed in a third-grade accelerated reading class, placed in a  $\frac{3}{4}$  transition class, and placed in a fourth-grade accelerated reading class).
  - Students received an additional 30 minutes per day of small group differentiated reading instruction that targets the development of specific reading skills. This provides students with 120 minutes of literacy instruction per day. Students were progress monitored throughout the year. Progress monitoring data was regularly communicated with classroom teachers, parents, and MTSS teams to guide instructional planning for individual students. Anchor materials for instruction included Fountas and Pinnell's Leveled Literacy Intervention System.

The Fountas & Pinnell Leveled Literacy Intervention System (LLI) is a small-group, supplementary literacy intervention designed to help teachers provide powerful, daily, small-group instruction for the lowest achieving students at their grade level. Through systematically designed lessons and original, engaging leveled books, LLI supports learning in both reading and writing, helps students expand their knowledge of language and words and how they work. The goal of LLI is to bring students to grade level achievement in reading.

From: http://www.heinemann.com/fountasandpinnell/lli\_overview.aspx
  - From March 2– May 29, 2014–2015, After School Academy provided students with an additional 45 minutes of differentiated small group reading instruction after school five days per week. The instruction was led by Greene County teachers with proven effectiveness in teaching reading. Progress monitoring data was regularly communicated with classroom teachers, parents, and MTSS teams to guide instructional planning for individual students. In addition to individual and/or small group instruction, students practiced skill development using Read 180/System 44, and Reading Eggs software.

READ 180 is the most thoroughly researched reading intervention program in the world. Hundreds of studies, peer-reviewed journals, and the federal government's What Works Clearinghouse have all documented its effectiveness on student reading achievement across multiple grade levels and student populations.

System 44 is a proven foundational reading program designed to meet the needs of your most challenged readers in Grades 3-12+. A personalized learning progression driven by technology and explicit instruction facilitated by the teacher engages students in reading, writing, language, speaking and listening. System 44 is improving the learning trajectory of over 100,000 students each day. Endorsed by the Council of Administrators of Special Education (CASE), System 44 is proven to raise reading achievement for students with learning disabilities, and includes specific supports and scaffolds to address each student's unique learning needs.

- Instruction was/is differentiated. Balanced literacy is a focus in our district, and The Comprehension Toolkit is used as the framework for teaching reading. As a result, students read texts within their zone of proximal development and learned to apply reading strategies taught to their reading of a text and then apply that to their independent reading. Students are exposed to grade level texts via Interactive Read Aloud and Shared Reading.

Strategies focused on (Strategies from the Toolkit):

- Asking Questions
  - Inferring Meaning
  - Summarize and Synthesize
  - Monitoring Comprehension
  - Activate and Connect
  - Determining Importance
- Non-fiction texts integrated with science and social studies to engage students in reading texts and writing about what they were reading. These materials provide a real life purpose for reading for the students. The Toolkit is the framework we use for this as well.
  - Students were placed in small groups based on like reading readiness. There are no more than four to five students in a reading group. This provides for intensive one on one instruction with each student.
  - An emphasis on vocabulary building at each student's guided reading level is a focus. Again, differentiated and individualized.
  - Short texts at a variety of reading levels and on a variety of topics have been purchased and provided for use in guided reading and as independent reading
  - Students are provided supplemental reading support in the Title I and EC classrooms.

FCRR Strategies: A nationally recognized, evidenced based web site that provides strategies and program approaches designed to remediate students demonstrated learning gaps. Strategies are based on individual level reading levels. Teachers use diagnostic assessments (i.e. CORE Phonics, etc.) to determine specific skill gaps. FCRR activities are matched to these skill gaps.

Guided Reading: Guided reading is an instructional setting that supports student growth through small group instruction where students construct meaning from text, make personal connections to text and go beyond text for a broader world connection. Leveled books are used to individualize instruction. Guided reading instruction includes independent reading, guided reading, and literature study. Teachers are able to target students' needs through small group instruction.

Corrective Reading: Corrective reading is a structured, systemic reading program that supports students reading ability through organized, teacher led, sessions where a child's reading ability is recognized and leveled. Teachers must be specifically trained for teaching Corrective Reading and assessment is frequent.

Reading Eggs: An on–line remediation program that provides reading passages for students based on individual assessments of the student's reading abilities. An incentive feature of the program is "eggs" that students use to purchase incentives that foster the motivation for student reading. The program aligns with all CCSS standards and is evidence based. Moby Max is also an on–line program providing the same above focus. Many schools using these programs will not be able to continue due to lack of funding.

1. Five schools offered small self-contained classes of the  $\frac{3}{4}$  transition students that included a 90 minute block of uninterrupted instruction targeting skills identified at the beginning of the school year. Four schools offered the additional 90 minute block of reading instruction through a pull out model by reading specialists and teachers. At all schools, the transition students worked through activities that were specific to their learning needs such as drawing conclusions, vocabulary based lessons, inferences, and opened ended questions.
2. Teachers used the RtA passages throughout the year to prepare students for the assessment.
3. The SRA Corrected Reading program was implemented in some  $\frac{3}{4}$  transition classes.
4. Some schools offered an additional 30 minute small leveled reading group sessions (above and beyond the 90 minute direct reading instruction) to target reading instruction based on their specific learning needs as identified by assessment data (DIBELS). These groups changed throughout the year based on the changing needs and levels of the students.
5. Some schools were able to offer students after school remediation by fourth grade teachers in small group and one on one instruction to work on reading skills and RtA passages.
6. All schools notified parents of regular progress
7. Peer tutoring, paired reading, story maps, graphic organizers, sight word flashcards, Cloze reading/note taking, repeat readings and storytelling/summarizing were all reading intervention strategies used regularly in the schools to target the needs of our students who were retained per RtA.

Reading Interventions Report
2014–15 School Year

The Read to Achieve law requires each local board of education to report annually in writing to the State Board of Education by September 1 of each year a description of all reading interventions provided to students who have been retained. Reading interventions are evidence-based strategies used to remediate reading deficiencies by targeting specific reading skills and abilities.

The following interventions were used with students at Fred A. Anderson Elementary School who had a retained reading label and/or in the  $\frac{3}{4}$  transition classroom:

- A retired Elementary Reading Specialist was hired to specifically work with the identified students and their teachers during each day (90 minutes each classroom- there were two).
- The CORE Diagnostic assessment was administered to all students who were retained for reading.
- Based upon the results of this assessment and the identified skills deficits, an individualized remediation plan was developed for each student.
- Intervention was provided in all 5 areas of reading using many of the Reading Foundations Training Materials.
- Students were placed in the Reading Tutors fluency building program.
- Magic Treehouse books were used as the decodable texts.
- A-Z Leveled Readers were also used.
- Continued to assess, benchmark, progress monitor with Amplify (DibelsNext and Reading 3D) – school system purchased licenses and materials for both grades 4 and 5.

  - Classworks
    - Classworks is an interactive, online program that allows teachers to individualize instruction for every student. Based on a universal screener, Classworks identifies where students are struggling in reading and helps teachers create a path to success for each student. In addition, this program is computer adaptive – it adjusts the level of the text based on student’s results.
  - Achieve 3000
    - Achieve 3000 is an interactive, online program that delivers daily differentiated nonfiction reading and writing instruction tailored to each student’s Lexile reading level. Based on the programs screener, students are given access to text and comprehension questions on their level. This program is computer adaptive – it adjusts the level of the text based on student’s results.
  - Specialized and individualized instruction provided by certified reading specialists
    - Certified reading specialists met with individual or small groups of students based on Reading 3D benchmark and progress monitoring data. Areas of need in reading were identified prior to placing students into groups. Groups were flexible. Reading specialists followed Dr. Jan Richardson’s guided reading lesson structure and used the Leveled Literacy Intervention text.
  - Tutoring provided by Highly-Qualified certified teachers
    - Highly-qualified certified teachers met with individual students or small groups based on areas of need in reading. Dr. Jan Richardson’s guided reading lesson structure was used, as well as leveled text. Reading 3D data was used to place students into groups.
  - Jan Richardson Reading Strategies
    - Dr. Jan Richardson’s reading strategies (comprehension scaffolds) were used during small group guided reading lessons by certified classroom teachers. Strategies were chosen based upon student’s areas of need in reading. Reading 3D data was used to place students into groups.

Reading Interventions Report
2014–15 School Year

- Fountas and Pinnell Guided Reading
  - The Fountas and Pinnell guided reading structure was used in some classrooms to meet the reading needs of students. Teachers used Reading 3D data to form flexible groups that were based on the strengths, needs and background knowledge of the students.
- Fountas & Pinnell Leveled Literacy Intervention System (LLI)
  - Leveled Literacy Intervention (LLI) was used by Reading Specialists within Randolph County. LLI is a small-group, supplementary literacy intervention designed to help teachers provide powerful, daily, small-group instruction for the lowest achieving students at their grade level.
- Debbie Diller Literacy Stations
  - Debbie Diller Literacy Stations were used during the guided reading block to help provide additional support for students struggling in reading. Stations were differentiated based on the individual needs of the student and were adjusted frequently. Some stations focused on fluency, decoding (phonic skills), vocabulary and comprehension.
- Journeys Write-In Readers (Houghton Mifflin Harcourt)
  - The Journeys Write-In Readers is a part of the Journeys basal program. It is a consumable workbook that was used with struggling readers. It helps students with vocabulary and gives them the opportunity to apply other reading skills and strategies.

- My teachers mostly did small, guided reading groups with these kids using leveled texts that were appropriate for them based off of their mClass data.
- Task Cards
- Differentiation in classwork
- FCRR Stations for Comprehension
- Inference Board Game
- 3rd Grade Scoot Pad Practice
- Last year I pulled those children in a variety of ways. I used one-on-one, small group, and peer tutors. I also had a retired teacher come in twice a week that worked with them one-on-one and in small groups. We did a lot of closed readings, decoding skills, and fluency passages. Their work was modeled every day and differentiated. They had readings based on their lexile levels.

All Vance County Schools were provided with a copy of the student's most recent Reading3D results with annotations completed by the district reading specialist that outlined the individual student needs. Students were then clustered together in transitional classrooms where they were given more opportunities for individualization by using small group instruction.

The web based motivational program, RAZ kids, was implemented to facilitate an increase in student time spent interacting with text.

Other interventions across the district varied from school to school but included:

- Reduction of overall class size for the transitional classes
- Additional scheduled intervention time daily
- Co-teaching with a highly trained teacher of reading for a period of the day
- A focus on foundational word attack skills from particular programs like Reading Mastery, Words Their Way, and RAVE O

Warren County Schools' provided reading interventions to students who were retained during the 2014-2015 school year. The intervention sessions were facilitated by certified teachers at each school site. During these sessions teachers used a variety of evidence-based methods and strategies that focused on Phonemic Awareness, Phonics, Building Fluency, Vocabulary Development, and Comprehension. The reading strategies used during reading interventions were selected as a result of student formative and summative assessment data. Each site had a variety of resources and materials to use as they focused on student needs. The following is a list of strategies that were implemented during these sessions:

- Small Group Instruction
- Guided Reading Instruction: Use of Leveled reading materials (Scholastic and Fontas & Pinnell)
- Think-Alouds, QAR (Question Answer Relationships) instruction, Graphic organizers, sequencing activities, questioning practices, etc... to build comprehension skills
- Word studies to support phonemic awareness that involve manipulation of phonemes to make new words
- Blending and segmenting phonemes
- Activities that build letter-sound associations
- Phonetic contextualizing
- Activities and resources to build fluency such as modeling, practice, repeat reading, reading with expression and prosody
- Direct vocabulary instruction on activities with compound words, synonyms and antonyms, homophones and homographs, etc... to build student vocabulary
- Use of semantic mapping
- Standards based instructional passages

The strategies listed above are not all inclusive because teachers adjust their teaching to meet the needs of the students being served. The schools provide the teacher instructing with leveled readers to assist with providing a comprehensive intervention session to enhance a student's reading development in phonemic awareness, phonics, fluency, vocabulary, and comprehension.

Reading Interventions Report
2014-15 School Year

The Read to Achieve law requires each local board of education to report annually in writing to the State Board of Education by September 1 of each year a description of all reading interventions provided to students who have been retained. Reading interventions are evidence-based strategies used to remediate reading deficiencies by targeting specific reading skills and abilities.

Conclusions

This report included two basic components:

1. Accountability Measures reporting on proficiency rates and retentions
2. Reading Interventions used by districts for retained students in 2014-15

An analysis and comparison of both reports reveal similarities within districts that are the most successful in moving students toward proficiency by the end of third grade. Similar processes, strategies, and methods (such as those listed below) could be used as a model for other districts to emulate.

Prevalent practices used by the most successful districts:

- Direct and focused instruction on the foundational skills in reading – phonemic awareness, phonics, vocabulary, fluency, and comprehension
- Intervention and tutoring time outside of the normal reading block
- Small group and individualized instruction
- Targeted instruction aligned to the individual needs of the student

These practices were reiterated throughout the Reading Interventions reports of the districts with very successful proficiency rates. The common practices emphasize the need for teachers to ensure that students have sound foundational reading skill development in order to understand increasingly complex text and vocabulary. Students who are struggling in reading need extra time and individualization through small intervention groups and tutoring. The data teachers collect on students should be used to plan and target instruction for each student.
