DRY-CLEANING SOLVENT CLEANUP ACT ANNUAL REPORT

Executive Summary

As required by the Dry-Cleaning Solvent Cleanup Act (DSCA) of 1997 and amendments (G.S. 143-215.104A et seq.), this report provides an annual update on activities conducted in the DSCA Program in 2009. The DSCA of 1997 and its amendments created a fund for assessment and cleanup of dry-cleaning solvent environmental contamination at dry-cleaning and wholesale distribution facilities and also authorized the program to develop and enforce rules relating to the prevention of dry-cleaning solvent releases at operating facilities.

Significant progress has been made in all aspects of program implementation. Senate Bill 700, ratified on Aug. 26, 2009, extended the sunset dates for program funding and implementation to 2020 and 2022, respectively. It also amended DSCA with respect to land-use controls, public notification and the ability to perform cleanups on state-owned property. Risk-based rules that became effective on Oct. 1, 2007 have allowed the program to perform risk assessments and identify those sites that will require cleanup and those that are ready for closure. Five sites were closed in 2009 and another 15 sites have been identified for no further action, pending the results of indoor air sampling. Cleanup of contamination through soil excavation has been performed at 24 sites and groundwater remediation has been initiated at 33 sites. Assessment of the extent of contamination is progressing at many sites, while the program continues to provide groundwater users with clean sources of drinking water and to remove hazardous contaminant vapors from buildings.

The N.C. Department of Environment and Natural Resources, or DENR, has identified 310 operating or abandoned dry-cleaning facilities with environmental contamination by dry-cleaning solvent. Of these, 243 have voluntarily petitioned for acceptance, and 226 have been certified into the DSCA Program.

Since 2006, the DSCA facility compliance group has provided educational assistance to dry-cleaning business owners and operators at 548 facilities for environmental regulations applicable to dry cleaners. Follow-up inspections have begun at those facilities where violations were identified to ensure corrections were made. The compliance group also developed and distributed to cleaners a 2009 perchloroethylene compliance calendar that provides rules, guidance and recordkeeping tables.

The DSCA Fund continues to be solvent, with a fund balance of approximately $24.3 million and encumbered funds totaling $21.4 million. Annual fund expenditures increased from $8.4 million in fiscal 2007-08 to $14.8 million in fiscal 2008-09, primarily due to a substantial increase in site cleanup actions. Approximately $130 million will be necessary to clean up the 390 sites that are projected to be closed by 2020. DENR estimates there may be as many as 1,500 contaminated dry-cleaning sites in North Carolina. Projected costs to clean up 50 percent of those sites would exceed $250 million. With current funding levels and extension of the funding sunset to 2020, fund revenues should continue to be adequate to address existing and new sites that continue to be accepted into the program.

Program Activity

The General Assembly ratified DSCA and its subsequent amendments to remediate contaminated dry-cleaning and solvent wholesale distribution sites and to protect human health and the environment by preventing future releases from these facilities. DENR made significant progress during 2009 implementing the cleanup and compliance components of DSCA.

Site Cleanups

During 2009, DSCA staff directed significant energy towards full implementation of the cleanup program through initiatives, including legislative amendments to DSCA, contracts with environmental firms and site assessment and remediation.

DSCA Reauthorization and Legislative Amendments

On Aug. 26, 2009, Gov. Bev Perdue signed into law Senate Bill 700 which amended the Dry-Cleaning Solvent Cleanup Act as follows:

Reauthorization of Program Funding and Implementation: S.B. 700 extended the sunset dates for collection of the tax on dry-cleaning solvent and the transfer into the DSCA Fund of a portion of the net state sales and use taxes for dry-cleaning services to Jan. 1, 2020 and July 1, 2020, respectively. It also extended the sunset for the programmatic elements such as assessment and remediation of contaminated dry-cleaning sites to Jan. 1, 2022.

Allowance of State and Local Controls and Deed Notices: To facilitate the closure of sites where dry-cleaning solvent contamination has migrated to properties beyond the dry-cleaning facility parcel, S.B. 700 amended DSCA to allow the use of state or local land-use controls and deed notices in lieu of land-use restrictions to protect human health and the environment from exposure to the contamination.

Public Notification: Under the old law, the DSCA Program was required to publish a summary of the proposed notice of intent to remediate the site (the remedial action plan) in the North Carolina Register as well as in a newspaper of general circulation in the area of the site. S.B. 700 removed the requirement to publish in the North Carolina Register because of its limited readership among the general public and replaced it with a mandate to mail a copy of the summary to each property owner located within and adjacent to the contaminated site. In addition, the public comment period was reduced from 60 days to 30 days to make DSCA consistent with other environmental cleanup programs in DENR.

Dry-Cleaning Solvent Contamination on State Property: S.B. 700 removed the limitation that did not allow the DSCA Fund to be used for dry-cleaning facility sites that were located on state-owned property, provided that the contamination was not caused by the state. Previously, if contamination was discovered at an active or abandoned facility on state-owned property, the dry-cleaning business owner or operator would not be eligible for DSCA and would be responsible for all site cleanup costs.

Sites in Program

Table 1 provides the current statistics for sites that have petitioned the DSCA Program. A listing of the certified sites along with current site status is shown in Appendix A. The cleanup unit consists of a unit supervisor and seven project managers who oversee site work performed by five independent environmental engineering firms contracted by DENR. During fiscal 2008-09, DSCA staff and the program's independent contractors performed the following activities:

- Screening sites for imminent hazards such as threatened supply wells and vapor intrusion into buildings;
- Providing alternative sources of clean drinking water;
- Abatement of indoor vapor hazards from contaminated soils;
- Site prioritization;
- Comprehensive site assessments delineating extent of contamination;
- Removal and remediation of contaminated soil; and
- Groundwater remediation.

Rules that establish a risk-based approach to assessing and cleaning up certified sites in the DSCA Program became effective on Oct. 1, 2007. These rules and associated guidance allow program staff to determine the risk that is being posed by contamination to human health and the environment and, if necessary, to calculate the appropriate cleanup levels for soil and groundwater. Risk assessments that determine the risks posed by contamination to current and future receptors (drinking water wells, indoor air, surface water bodies and sensitive ecological environments) have been performed at 116 sites.

Five DSCA sites have now been closed. An additional 15 sites have been identified where no further remediation would be required (see "Sites Pending Closure" in Table 1). However, indoor air at most of those 15 sites is being tested as a final measure prior to closure to ensure that solvent vapors are not posing a hazard to occupants of buildings where dry cleaning is or was being performed. The closure process consists of the preparation of a risk management plan that typically includes land-use restrictions and a plat map of the site. For the closures completed to date, DSCA required that these documents be provided to the appropriate local governments (counties and municipalities) and also made available to the public through publication in the North Carolina Register, local newspapers and by posting a notice at the site. No comments were received within the 60-day public notice period for any of the five closed sites, and DSCA staff recorded the land-use restrictions and plat at the appropriate county register of deeds office. With the ratification of S.B. 700, the public notification process has been modified as previously described with the new procedures implemented on Aug. 26, 2009.

At most sites, remediation will be conducted to protect human health and ecological receptors. Soil excavation and, where necessary, soil-vapor extraction have been performed at 24 sites to remove contaminant sources that threaten indoor air in buildings and cause further degradation of groundwater. Remediation of groundwater has been initiated at 33 locations.

Investigation of Potential New Sites

An amendment to DSCA that went into effect in 2007 allowed the program to spend up to 1 percent of the DSCA fund balance each year to identify active and abandoned dry-cleaning sites that the program believes may be contaminated. If contamination is found that is attributed to a facility, the potential responsible party is given the choice of entering the program as a petitioner or allowing the site to be addressed under the Inactive Hazardous Sites Program. If they choose the latter, the responsible party is required to reimburse the program for all of the investigation costs that were incurred. The program has completed this type of investigation at 24 sites with work at another 11 locations underway.

The program is using a variety of sources to identify new sites across the state. Data from the Inactive Hazardous Sites Program, the Underground Storage Tank Program and the Public Water Supply Program reveal water supply well samples containing contaminants that may have originated from dry-cleaning operations. The locations of more than 2,000 active and abandoned dry-cleaning facilities obtained from the DSCA compliance program, the N.C. Department of Labor, a commercial marketing firm, and old city directories have been entered into a geographic information system to identify facilities that are close to the contaminated wells. Analysis of this data has helped the program identify a number of sites where DSCA contractors will perform sampling using the 1 percent investigative allowance.

DSCA Contracts

The program currently is managing six contracts with a total encumbrance of $21.4 million. It is anticipated that two new contracts will be advertised and awarded in 2010.

Identified Contamination Sites

A total of 310 sites contaminated by dry-cleaning solvents have been reported to DSCA. As noted in Table 1, 243 of these sites have petitioned the program. Appendix B provides a list, by county, of all known sites contaminated with dry cleaning solvent. A total of 32 new dry-cleaning solvent releases were reported to DSCA in 2008. As noted above, the program anticipates that additional contamination sites will be identified using the 1 percent investigative allowance in 2010.

Outreach

DSCA staff continues to provide training on the cleanup program when requested. A brochure describing the program has been produced. Letters have been sent to property owners of former dry-cleaning facilities to inform them of the potential for contamination and the benefits that are provided by the program. The DSCA Web site continues to be used to distribute program documents and data to the public. An electronic newsletter is being developed for regular distribution beginning in 2010.

Facility Compliance

DENR has been authorized under DSCA to develop rules that operating dry-cleaning facilities must follow to prevent environmental contamination by dry-cleaning solvents. These rules, or Minimum Management Practices, or MMPs, were implemented in 2001 as temporary rules and were approved as permanent rules in 2002. In 2005, the DSCA Program created and filled a new position that coordinates compliance assistance visits and formal inspections of facilities and also serves as the lead for enforcement actions where necessary. Since 2005, DSCA has hired three inspectors and an enforcement specialist. A fourth inspector will join the compliance staff in 2010.

In addition to the program's MMP regulations, DSCA has been authorized to inspect facilities for compliance with Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA) regulations, which currently are administered by the Division of Waste Management's Hazardous Waste Section. The program also entered into a memorandum-of-agreement with the N.C. Division of Air Quality that enables DSCA staff to perform compliance inspections for air quality regulations that are applicable to dry-cleaning facilities. Enforcement authority is delegated to the DSCA Program for violations of the air quality rules. Such multimedia inspections enable one program within DENR to ensure compliance with all environmental regulatory requirements and give dry cleaners and the public a single DENR point-of-contact for compliance questions or concerns.

Educational Assistance Visits

Approximately 850 active dry-cleaning facilities have been identified in the state based on lists obtained from other state programs. Because many of these facilities have never been inspected by a DENR program, DSCA is currently visiting every facility to provide educational assistance to owners and operators regarding MMPs, RCRA and air quality regulations. Inspectors also use these visits to thoroughly document all compliance issues that are observed. Follow-up inspections have begun at facilities where violations are identified to ensure that sufficient corrections have been made. Enforcement with civil penalties may be initiated against facilities that remain out of compliance. Since facility visits began in 2006, DSCA inspectors have provided educational outreach at 558 active plants and full compliance inspections at 39 facilities. After educational assistance visits have been completed, facilities will be inspected on a two-to-four year cycle.

Additional Compliance Outreach

The DSCA Program developed a 2009 perchloroethylene (perc) compliance calendar that provides all applicable rules, recordkeeping, guidance and reference information in one document for the convenience of facility owners and operators. Mailed or hand-delivered to more than 500 facilities across the state, the calendar has received positive reviews from both dry-cleaners in North Carolina and industry officials in other states where it has been praised for its comprehensive scope and functionality.

Program Financial Status and Projections

Fund Receipts and Disbursements

The primary funding sources for the dry-cleaning solvent cleanup fund are a tax on dry-cleaning solvents, the state portion of the current sales tax on dry-cleaning, deductible payments from petitioners participating in the cleanup program and interest earned on the account. Disbursements consist primarily of payments to the program's independent contractors for site assessment and remediation, reimbursements to petitioners for past-cost claims and program administration costs.

The DSCA Fund's finances through fiscal 2008-09 (ending June 30, 2009) are summarized below:

Receipts	FY 2008-09	Duration of Program (through 6/30/09)

¹ This represents the actual amount charged by the Department of Revenue for its expenses. The Department of Revenue is authorized by DSCA to charge no more than $125,000 per year.

A total of $11,685.86 was paid to petitioners for work conducted by petitioners under DSCA Prioritization Assessment Agreements for amounts that exceeded the petitioners' financial obligations (deductibles). Any additional claims against the fund for past work not performed by DSCA contractors may only be credited toward petitioners' financial obligations for each site.

Three transfers from the DSCA Fund were made in fiscal 2008-09 for expenditures unrelated to program activities. Two transfers were mandated by the General Assembly, including $400,000 to the Inactive Hazardous Sites Program for assessment and remediation and $1,287,400 for cleanup of dry-cleaning solvent contamination that did not qualify for remediation under DSCA at DENR's Green Square Project site in Raleigh. A total of $6,326,799 was transferred to the state's General Fund under a directive from the governor to help close North Carolina's budget shortfall for fiscal 2008-09.

Estimated Future Assessment and Remediation Expenditures

Fund expenditures directly related to implementation of DSCA increased significantly in fiscal 2008-09 over the previous year ($8.4 million to $14.8 million) primarily due to the substantial increase in cleanup activities such as contaminated soil removal and groundwater treatment. As the number of sites undergoing remediation continues to increase, expenditures are projected to increase to approximately $16 million in fiscal 2009-10.

Based on cost figures provided by other states, DSCA can calculate an approximate total cleanup cost for those sites that have been certified into the program. Approximately 390 sites are projected to be closed by 2020. Using an average total cleanup cost of $330,000 per site, the total projected cost to remediate those anticipated sites is approximately $130 million (not including DENR's administrative costs). Based on data from the North Carolina Department of Labor, there are at least 2,000 active and abandoned dry-cleaning facilities in the state. Investigations performed across the nation indicate that contamination is present in about 75 percent of all dry-cleaning operations. Applying this percentage to the number of current and former facilities in North Carolina, a total of 1,500 contaminated sites may be present. If only 50 percent of these contaminated sites are accepted into the DSCA Program, the projected total cleanup cost (adjusted for inflation) would be approximately $250 million.

Recommendations to Ensure Fund Solvency

With ratification of S.B. 700 which extended the funding mechanisms for DSCA to 2020, the program appears to have sufficient funding to address sites currently in the program as well as new sites coming into DSCA.

As noted above, total collections for fiscal 2007-08 were approximately $9.5 million. Therefore, the DSCA Fund is solvent.
