

NORTH CAROLINA POLICE BENEVOLENT ASSOCIATION

”THE VOICE OF LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS”

The North Carolina Police Benevolent Association is a division of the Southern States Police Benevolent Association, Inc., a not-for-profit professional organization dedicated to improving the law enforcement profession. We have over 15,000 members in North Carolina and serve as the largest law enforcement association in North Carolina. The North Carolina PBA has been active in North Carolina for over 30 years. PBA members are full time or retired employees of various federal, state, county, and municipal agencies in North Carolina. Our professional association, funded by membership dues and citizen contributions, provides legal, legislative, disciplinary, and other representation to member officers as well as an accidental death benefit to members’ beneficiaries. The North Carolina PBA is very active in the political process and works to educate elected officials and candidates seeking office through our interview and endorsement process. We then develop relationships with these elected officials to pass legislation for the betterment of the profession, our members, and the communities they serve.
