They shall have the right to arrest without warrant persons committing violations of the state law or the ordinances of that hospital or school, in their presence, and within the grounds of their hospital or school, and carry the offenders before some justice of the peace for trial. The justice of the peace shall issue a warrant and proceed as in other criminal cases before him. (Rev., s. 4569; 1899, c. 1, s. 55; 1901, c. 627; 1921, c. 267; C. S. 6181.)

The board of directors may, if there be sufficient room, admit other than indigent patients upon the payment of proper compensation. If any inmate of any state hospital shall require private apartments, extras, or private nurses, the directors, if practicable, shall provide the same at a fair price to be paid by such patient. State v. Security Nat. Bank, 207 N. C. 697, 178 S. E. 487.

§ 122-39. § 122-41. Settlement of patient determined.—For the purposes of this chapter the settlement of every person admitted to a state hospital as insane shall be in the county where the actual place of his residence at his admission may be situated, when such settlement comes in question, but no person can have a settlement in any county in this state unless he is a bona fide citizen and resident of this state, and was so before mental disease became manifest. (Rev., s. 4574; 1899, c. 1, s. 28; C. S. 6189.)

§ 122-42. The certificate of the clerk of the superior court need not accompany this application. The superintendent may, if he think it a proper application, receive the patient thus voluntarily committed, and treat him until the next meeting of the board of directors or the executive committee, and shall report the application and admission to the first meeting of said board, and if said board approve such admission, the patient shall be considered as having been regularly committed, and shall in all respects be treated as such. But no report need be made to the clerk of the court of his county of settlement. The superintendent and board of directors shall have the same control over patients who commit themselves voluntarily as they have over those committed under the regular proceedings hereinbefore provided and no voluntary patient shall be entitled to a discharge until he shall have given the superintendent ten days notice of his desire to be discharged. The cost of such proceedings and conveyance away from this state shall be borne by the county in which the person shall have been adjudged to be insane. (Rev., s. 4594; 1899, c. 1, s. 16; C. § 122-67. Discharge of patient from hospital; sheriff's duty; expense paid.—Any three of the board of directors, upon the superintendent certifying the facts (a copy of which certificate shall be sent to the clerk of the superior court of the county of settlement), shall be a board to discharge or remove from their hospital any person admitted as insane, when such person has become or is found to be of sane mind, or when such person is incurable, and in the opinion of the superintendent his being at large will not be injurious to himself or dangerous to the community, or the board may permit such person to go to the county of his settlement on probation, when in the opinion of the superintendent it will not be injurious to himself or dangerous to the community; and the board may discharge or remove such person, upon other sufficient causes appearing to them; and whenever any such person, admitted as indigent may be so discharged or removed, except as sane, it shall be the duty of the sheriff of the county of his settlement to convey such person to his county at its expense, and any such person discharged as restored or probated shall receive from such hospital a sum of money sufficient to pay his transportation to the county of his settlement, which sum shall be repaid by said county, and if necessary, the hospital shall provide the patient with a decent suit of clothes. When notified by the superintendent to come for and remove any insane person from the hospital, it shall be the duty of the sheriff of the county in which the insane person has a settlement forthwith to convey the insane person from the hospital to the county of his settlement. The cost of such removal shall be advanced by the sheriff and repaid to him by the county of insane person's settlement; and if any sheriff, after having been notified by the superintendent to remove any insane person, as aforesaid, shall fail to do so within fifteen days from the time of the receipt of the letter of notice, he shall forfeit and pay to the hospital the sum of fifty dollars, to be collected in the manner provided for the collection of penalties given in this chapter; and if the commissioners of any county shall fail to repay to the hos-
§ 122-68. Superintendent may discharge patient temporarily.—Each superintendent may, for the space of thirty days, or until the next meeting of the board of three directors provided for in the preceding section, discharge upon probation any patient, when in his opinion the same would not prove injurious to the patient or dangerous to the community. A report of all such probations shall be rendered to the said board of three directors at their first ensuing meeting. (Rev., s. 4596; 1899, c. 1, s. 22; 1917, c. 150, s. 1; C. S. 6214.)

Cross Reference.—As to liability of directors for torts committed by discharged insane, see annotation under § 122-24.

Discharge as Evidence of Sanity in Will Case.—Upon the issue of testamentary capacity an instruction that "he will duly probated in accordance with the formalities of law is presumed to be valid" is not objectionable, there being no presumption of mental incapacity by reason of commitment in an asylum when it has been shown that the testator had been discharged as restored or cured by a certificate issued in accordance with the provisions of this section. In re Crabtree, 300 N. C. 4, 156 S. E. 98.

§ 122-70. Form of bond for safe-keeping of insane person.—The form of bond mentioned in the preceding section shall be as follows:

The condition of the above obligation is this: Whereas, the said A..... B....., with the view of hindering G..... (Rev., s. 4598; 1899, c. 1, s. 30; C. S. 6217.)

§ 122-71. Patient returned, if condition of bond not complied with.—Whenever it shall be made to appear to the clerk of the superior court of the county of settlement of an insane person released on bond that the conditions of the bond are not faithfully complied with, said insane person shall be sent back to the proper hospital by him, unless some other responsible and discreet friend will undertake to fulfill the duties of said obligation: and whenever said insane person shall be sent back, he shall not be delivered on any new bond of the defaulting obligor. (Rev., s. 4598; 1899, c. 1, s. 33; C. S. 6218.)

Each hospital, home, or school shall file with the board a copy of its by-laws, rules, and regulations, and rates of charges. The books of each hospital, home, or school shall at all times be open to the inspection of the board or any member thereof. The state board of charities and public welfare is hereby given the authority to supervise and regulate all private hospitals, homes, and schools established hereafter in this state for the treatment of the above classes of people, and the board shall have power to prescribe all such rules and regulations as they may deem necessary, and shall exercise the power of visitation, and for that purpose may depute any member of their board to visit and supervise any private hospital, home, or school hereafter established under this article. (Rev., s. 4600; 1899, c. 1, s. 60; C. S. 6219.)

§ 122-75. Insane persons placed in private hospital. — Whenever any person shall be found to be insane in the mode hereinbefore prescribed, and such person shall be possessed of an income sufficient to support those who may be legally dependent upon him, the court shall appoint a guardian; or, in case such insane person is incapable of declaring such preference, then the same may be declared by his guardian, and two respectable physicians who shall have examined such insane person, with the clerk of the court or justice of the peace who determined his authority for holding the insane person, idiot, or inebriate by the officers of the private hospital. (Rev., s. 4603; 1899, c. 1, s. 39; C. S. 6232.)

§ 122-76. Justice of the peace to report to clerk. — It shall be the duty of the justice, when he shall have examined an individual of the individual is properly sustained. Board of Public Welfare v. Hospital, 196 N. C. 735, 147 S. E. 288.

Board of Public Welfare v. Hospital, 196 N. C. 752, 147 S. E. 288.

§ 122-77. Clerk to report proceedings to judge. — The clerk of the court shall lay the proceedings before the judge of the superior court of the district in which such insane person may reside or be domiciled, and if he approve them, he shall so declare in writing, and such proceedings, with the approval thereof, shall be recorded by the clerk. (Rev., s. 4605; 1899, c. 1, s. 42; C. S. 6234.)

§ 122-79. This certificate shall be filed with and approved by the clerk of the superior court in the county in which the examination is held, or in the county in which the private hospital is located, and a certified copy of this certificate and approval of the clerk shall be deposited with the superintendent of the private hospital as his authority for holding the insane person. The clerk of the court may, if he sees fit, issue warrants and have the alleged insane person brought before him in manner prescribed in article three of this chapter for the examination and admission to state hospitals, and he may, if he sees fit, order any insane person brought before him to be taken to a private hospital within the state instead of one of the state hospitals, and his warrant shall be sufficient authority for holding such insane person in such private hospital. Idiots, feeble-minded persons, and inebriates may be committed to and held in private hospitals or homes in this state in the manner hereinbefore prescribed for insane persons: Provided, that a period of detention in a private hospital or home of not less than one month and not more than six months shall be prescribed for inebriates, at the discretion of the clerk of the superior court approving the commitment. (Rev. s. 4610; 1899, c. 1, s. 40; 1903, c. 329, s. 4; C. S. 6228.)

Art. 6. Dangerous Insane.

§ 122-83. Insane persons charged with crime to be committed to hospital.—All persons who may hereafter commit crime while insane, and all persons who, being charged with crime, are adjudged to be insane at the time of their arraignment, and for that reason cannot be put on trial for the crimes alleged against them, shall be sent by the court before whom they are or may be arraigned for trial, when it shall be ascertained by due course of law that such person is insane and cannot plead, to the state hospital at Raleigh, if the alleged criminal is white, or to the state hospital at Goldsboro if the alleged criminal is colored, and if the alleged criminal is an Indian from Robeson county, to the state hospital at Raleigh, as provided for insane Indians from Robeson county, and they shall be confined therein under the rules and regulations prescribed by the board of directors under the authority of this article, and they shall be treated, cared for, and maintained in said hospital. As a means of such care and treatment, the said boards of directors may make rules and regulations under which the persons so committed to said institutions may be employed in labor upon the farms of said institutions under such supervision as said boards of directors may direct: Provided, that the superintendent and medical director of the hospital shall determine, in each case, that such employment is advantageous in the physical or mental treatment of the particular inmate to be so employed. Their confinement in said hospital shall not be regarded as punishment for any offense. (Rev. s. 4517; 1899, c. 1, s. 63; 1923, c. 165, ss. 2, 3; 1927, c. 228; C. S. 6226.)

§ 122-84. Persons acquitted of certain crimes or incapable of being tried, on account of insanity, committed to hospital. When a person accused of the crime of murder, attempt at murder, rape, assault with the intent to commit rape, highway robbery, train wrecking, arson, or other crime, shall have escaped indictment or shall have been acquitted upon trial upon the ground of insanity, or shall be found by the court to be without sufficient mental capacity to undertake his defense or to receive sentence after conviction, the court before which such proceedings are had shall detain such person in custody until an inquisition shall be had in regard to his mental condition. The judge shall, at the term of court at which such person is acquitted, cause notice to be given in writing to such person and his attorney, and, if in his good judgment it be necessary, to his nearest relative, naming the day upon which he shall proceed to make an inquisition in regard to the mental condition of such person. The judge shall cause such witness to be summoned and examined as he may deem proper or as the person so acquitted or his counsel may desire. At such inquisition the judge shall cause the testimony to be taken in writing and be preserved, and a copy of which shall be sent to the superintendent of the hospital designated in § 122-83. If upon such examination the judge shall find that the mental condition or disease of such person is such as to render him dangerous either to himself or other persons, and that his confinement for care, treatment, and security demands it, he shall commit such person to the hospital designated in § 122-83, to be kept in custody therein for treatment and care as herein provided. Such person shall be kept therein, unless transferred under the previous provisions of this chapter, until restored to his right mind, in which event it shall be the duty of the authorities having the care of such person to notify the sheriff of the county from which he came, who shall order that he appear before the judge of the superior court of the district, to be dealt with according to law. The expense incidental to such commitment and removal shall be paid by the county authorities from which such patient was sent. (Rev. s. 4618; 1899, c. 1, s. 65; 1923, c. 165, s. 4; C. S. 6337.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1923 so amended this section as to conform it to the change affected by amendment of the preceding section, by making a reference to the hospitals designated in that section.

Constitutionality — Strict Construction. — This section is within the Legislature's constitutional authority, but, being a restraint upon the liberty of the prisoner within the constitutional guarantee for his protection, should be strictly construed in his favor. State v. Craig, 176 N. C. 740, 79 S. E. 400.

High Degree Crimes Contemplated by Section.—This section specifies a high degree of crime, such as murder, rape, and the like, indicating a class of criminals who may be dangerous to the public or individuals, if left at large, and by the addition thereof of the words, the other criminal did not include the offense of resisting an officer when arrested, especially, the resistance was only by words, in the nature of a threat to the officer, and the officer did not take him alive. See v. Craig, 176 N. C. 740, 79 S. E. 400.

Section Penal in Character.—This section is penal in its character. State v. Craig, 176 N. C. 740, 79 S. E. 400.

Release on Habeas Corpus.—A person illegally detained in a hospital for the dangerous insane cannot be released on habeas corpus if he is insane at the time of the return of the writ. In re Boyett, 136 N. C. 415, 48 S. E. 789.

Court May Bring Prisoner Back from Asylum to Examine Him.—See State v. Fritchett, 106 N. C. 667, 11 S. E. 357.

Finding by the court implies a discretion on the part of the trial judge. State v. Godwin, 216 N. C. 49, 3 S. E. (2d) 347.

Knowledge of Section by Jury in Murder Prosecution.—A defendant charged with a capital felony, whose defense is a lack of the capacity to understand his crime or to deliberate in the first degree, is not entitled to have the jury know the provisions of this section and § 122-86. State v. Bracy, 215 N. C. 248, 1 S. E. (2d) 891.

§ 122-85. Convicts becoming insane committed to hospital.—All convicts becoming insane after commitment to the state prison, and the fact being certified as now required by law in the case of other insane persons, shall be admitted to the hospital designated in § 122-83. In case of the expiration of the sentence of any convict, insane person, while such person is confined to the said hospital, such person shall be kept until restored to his right mind or such time as he may be considered harmless and incurable. (Rev., s. 4619; 1899, c. 1, s. 66; 1923, c. 165, s. 5; C. S. 6238.)

Editor’s Note.—By the amendment of 1923 insane convicts are to be committed to the hospitals designated in section 122-83.

§ 122-86. Persons acquitted of crime on account of insanity; how discharged from hospital.
—No person acquitted of a capital felony on the ground of insanity, and committed to the hospital designated in § 122-83 shall be discharged therefrom except upon an order from the governor. No person acquitted of a crime of a less degree than a capital felony and committed to the hospital designated in § 122-83 shall be discharged therefrom except upon an order from the judge of the county for trial, and the person shall not be discharged without an order from said court. In all cases where such person confined in said hospital, and reported insane, has recovered or been restored to normal health or criminal sanity, the superintendent of such hospital shall certify that he has examined such person so confined in the hospitals designated in § 122-83, as authorized and provided in this chapter, and the person’s settlement will repay the sheriff for his expenses and services. (Rev., s. 4621; 1899, c. 1, s. 64; 1923, c. 165, s. 7; C. S. 6240.)

§ 122-88. Ex-convicts with homicidal mania committed to hospital—Whenever any person who has been confined in the state prison under sentence for the felonious killing of another person, and who has been discharged therefrom at the expiration of his term of sentence, or as the result of executive clemency, shall thereafter act as to justify the belief that he is possessed of a homicidal mania, and shall be duly adjudged insane, in accordance with the provisions of article three of this chapter, the clerk of the superior court or other officer having jurisdiction of the proceedings in which such person shall be adjudged insane may, in his discretion, commit such person to the state hospital designated in § 122-83, as authorized and provided in this chapter. (1911, c. 169, s. 1; 1923, c. 165, s. 8; C. S. 6241.)

§ 122-89. Hospital authorities to receive and treat such patients.—It shall be the duty of the duly constituted authorities of the state hospitals designated in this act for the insane to receive all such insane persons as shall be committed to said institutions in accordance with the provisions of this law, and to treat and care properly for the same until discharged in accordance with the provisions of the law. (1911, c. 169, s. 2; 1923, c. 165, s. 9; C. S. 6242.)

§ 122-90. Inferior courts without jurisdiction to commit.—No court inferior to the superior court of this state shall have authority to send or commit any insane person to any state hospital for the criminal insane, as provided in this article. (1939, c. 66.)

There shall be paid monthly to staff sergeants of fifteen dollars, and to shoeshoers ten dollars, of units entitled to and actually having animals to care for.

Each enlisted man belonging to an organization of the National Guard shall receive fifty cents as compensation for each armory drill, not exceeding sixty (60) drills per annum, ordered for his organization, where he is officially present and in which he participates, the said compensation to be paid in the same manner and under such laws and regulations as now or hereafter may be prescribed by the United States Government or by the War Department therefor for pay for National Guard enlisted men: And provided further, that the appropriation made by the State of North Carolina for the support of the National Guard is sufficient, after the payment of other necessary expenses of maintaining said guard, to make such payment.

All payments are to be made by the State disbursing officer in semi-annual installments on the first day of July and the first day of January of each year; but no payment shall be made unless all drills and parades required by law are duly performed by all organizations named. No officer shall be entitled to receive any part of the amounts named herein unless he has performed satisfactorily all duties required of him by law and has pursued such course of instruction as may from time to time be required.

The commanding officer of all organizations participating in the appropriations herein made shall render an itemized statement of all funds received from any source whatever for the support of their respective organizations in such manner and on such forms as may be prescribed by the Adjutant General. Failure on the part of any officer to submit promptly when due the financial statement of his organization will be sufficient cause to withhold all appropriations for such organizations. (1917, c. 200, s. 97; 1919, c. 311; 1921, c. 120, s. 11; 1923, c. 24; 1924, c. 6; 1927, c. 227, s. 2; C. S. 6889.)

Cross Reference.—As to provisions of this section not being applicable to personnel and units of state guard, see § 127-111, subsection 6.

Enlisted Man within Workmen's Compensation Act.—By this and § 127-78 the State has provided for payment in a certain manner to privates who have enlisted in the North Carolina National Guard, and a private therein who is absent from the post and has been for the purposes of the State within the meaning of the Workmen's Compensation Act, and where he has sustained an injury arising out of and in the course of the performance of his duties as an enlisted man he is entitled to compensation prescribed by the statute. Baker v. State, 200 N. C. 232, 156 S. E. 917.

§ 127-103. Reports of officers.—All officers of the national guard and the naval militia shall make such returns and reports to the governor, secretary of war, secretary of the navy, or to such officers as they may designate, at such times and in such forms as may from time to time be prescribed. (1917, c. 200, s. 21; C. S. 6890.)

§ 127-104. Officer to give notice of absence.—When any officer shall have occasion to be absent from his usual residence one week or more, he shall notify the officer next in command, and also his next superior officer in command, of his intended absence, and shall arrange for the officer next in command to handle and attend to all official communications. (1917, c. 200, s. 22; C. S. 6891.)

§ 127-105. Articles of war applicable in time of peace.—The national guard and naval militia, when not in the service of the United States, shall, except as to punishments, be governed respectively by the United States army regulations and articles of war, and the navy regulations and articles for the government of the navy. (1917, c. 200, s. 34; C. S. 6892.)

§ 127-106. Commanding officer may prevent trespass and disorder.—The commanding officer upon any occasion of duty may place in arrest during the continuance thereof anyone who shall trespass upon the camp ground, parade ground, armory, or other place devoted to such duty, or who shall in any way or manner interrupt or molest the orderly discharge of duty by those under arms, or shall disturb or prevent the passage of troops going to or returning from any duty. He may prohibit and prevent the sale or use of all spirituous liquors, wine, ale, beer, or cider, the holding of huckster or auction sales, and all gambling within the limits of the post, camp ground, place of encampment, parade, or drill under his command, or within such limits not exceeding one mile therefrom as he may prescribe. And he may in his discretion abate as common nuisance all such sales. (1917, c. 200, s. 94; C. S. 6893.)

§ 127-107. Organizing company without authority.—If any person shall organize a military company, or drill or parade under arms as a military body, except under the militia laws and regulations of the state, or shall exercise or attempt to exercise the power or authority of a military officer in this state, without holding a commission from the governor, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3338; 1893, c. 374, s. 38; C. S. 6894.)

§ 127-108. Placing name on muster roll wrongfully.—If any officer of the militia of the state shall knowingly or wilfully place, or cause to be placed, on any muster roll the name of any person not regularly or lawfully enlisted, or the name of any enlisted man who is dead or who has been dishonorably discharged, or has lost membership for any cause whatsoever, or who has been convicted of any infamous crime, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3339; 1893, c. 374, s. 33; C. S. 6895.)

§ 127-109. Protection of the uniform.—It shall be unlawful for any person not an officer or enlisted man in the United States army, navy, or marine corps to wear the duly prescribed uniform of the United States army, navy, or marine corps, or any distinctive part of such uniform, or a uniform any part of which is similar to a distinctive part of the duly prescribed uniform of the United States army, navy, or marine corps: Provided, that the foregoing provisions shall not be construed so as to prevent officers or enlisted men of the national guard from wearing, in pursuance of law and regulations, the uniform lawfully prescribed to be worn by such officers or enlisted men of the national guard; nor to prevent members of the cadet corps of a state university, state college, or public high school from wearing, while in attendance upon such course of instruction, the uniform authorized and prescribed by such cadet corps for wear during such course of instruction; nor to prevent any person from wearing the uniform of the United States army, navy, or marine corps, in any playhouse or theater, or in moving-picture films while actually engaged in representing therein a military or naval character not tending to bring discredit or reproach upon the United States army, navy, or marine corps: Provided further, that the uniform worn by officers or enlisted men of the national guard, or by the members of the military societies, or the instructors and members of the cadet corps referred to in the preceding proviso, shall include some distinctive mark or insignia to be prescribed by the secretary of war to distinguish such uniforms from the uniforms of the United States army, navy, or marine corps; and provided further, that the members of the military societies and the instructors and members of the cadet corps hereinbefore mentioned shall not wear the insignia of rank prescribed to be worn by the officers of the United States army, navy, or marine corps, or any insignia of rank similar thereto. Any person who offends against the provisions of this section, shall on conviction, be punished by a fine not exceeding fifty dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding thirty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. (1921, c. 120, s. 12; C. S. 6895(a).)

§ 127-110. Upkeep of camps.—There shall be paid from the appropriations from the national guard such amounts as may be necessary for the maintenance, upkeep, and improvement of the state camp or camps: Provided, such expenditures shall be approved and authorized by the governor. (1921, c. 120, s. 13; C. S. 6895(b.).)

Art. 12. State Guard.

§ 127-111. Authority to organize and maintain state guard of North Carolina.

1. Whenever the president of the United States shall order or call all or any part of the national guard of the state into active federal service, the governor shall authorize the United States to use the regular organizations as the secretary of war may prescribe, to organize such part of the unorganized militia as a state force, for discipline and training, into companies, battalions, or regiments, as may be deemed necessary for the defense of the state; to maintain, uniform, and equip such military force within the appropriation available; to exercise discipline in the same manner as is now or may be hereafter provided by the state laws for the national guard; to train such force in accordance with training regulations issued by the war department. Such military force to be subject to the call or order of the governor to execute the law, suppress riots or insurrections, or to repel invasion, as is now or may hereafter be provided by law for the national guard and for the unorganized militia. Units of the state guard will be disbanded upon return of the national guard to state control, or as soon thereafter as practical.

2. Such military force shall be designated as the "North Carolina state guard" and shall be composed of men of the unorganized militia as shall volunteer for service therein, or as shall be drafted as provided by law. Membership in the North Carolina state guard shall be open to men of not less than eighteen and not more than fifty years of age. They shall be additional to and distinct from the national guard organized under existing law. They shall not be required to serve outside the boundaries of this state.

3. The governor is hereby authorized to prescribe the rules and regulations governing the appointment of officers, the enlistment of men, the organization, administration, equipment, discipline and discharge of the personnel of such military force; to requisition from the secretary of war such arms and equipment as may be in possession of and can be spared by the war department, and to extend thereto the facilities of available armories and their equipment and such state premises and property as may be available for the purpose of drill and instruction.

4. Such force shall not be called, ordered, or in any manner drafted, as such, into the military service of the United States, but no person shall by reason of his membership in any such unit or organization be exempted from military service under any federal law.

5. The governor is hereby authorized to appropriate to the benefit of the state guard any and all unexpended monies found by the governor to be unnecessary for use of the national guard in the appropriation made to the national guard for the support of their respective organizations in such manner and on such terms as may be prescribed by the adjutant general. Failure on the part of any officer to submit promptly, when due, the financial statement of his organization will be sufficient cause to withhold all appropriations for such organizations. (1941, c. 43; 1943, c. 166.)

Editor's Note.—The 1943 amendment inserted the second sentence of paragraph 2.

I. EDITOR'S NOTE.

Editor's Note.—The celebrated case of Hoke v. Henderson, 15 N. C. 2, 33 December Term, 1833. In that case the court held that a public office constitutes a species of private property based upon a contract between the officer and the State, and while the Legislature has the power, as the mere incident of a general law, to abolish offices as useless, it cannot retain the office and deprive the officer of his property therein. Thus the status of a public office was established as a vested right. This decision and approximately forty cases following it form a part of our legal history, and are justly famous in the courts of the United States.

II. GENERAL CONSIDERATIONS.

One man may not hold two offices.

Statute held unconstitutional as requiring the same person to fill two public offices in violation of this section. Brigham v. Bailey, 213 N. C. 119, 195 S. E. 617.

At common law there was no limit on the right of a citizen to hold several offices, except the incompatibility of the duties of the several offices, and much learning was involved in determining this question on the warranty for "incompatibility." Barnhill v. Thompson, 122 N. C. 493, 29 S. E. 720, 721.

Under Constitution.—The question in this State does not turn upon the incompatibility of the duties of the two offices alone, as it did at common law, but upon the plain positive language of the Constitution. Caldwell v. Wilson, 123 N. C. 412, 50 S. E. 493; Barnhill v. Thompson, 122 N. C. 493, 29 S. E. 720, 722.

Under art. 14, § 7, providing that no person shall hold any office or place of trust or profit under the United States or any department thereof or under the State, etc., shall hold or exercise any other office or place of trust or profit under the authority of the State, an office or place of trust is a public office, and one involving a delegation to the individual of some part of the sovereign functions of the government to be exercised for the public benefit. State v. Smith, 145 N. C. 476, 59 S. E. 649.

Office Vacated Ipso Facto.—The acceptance of a second office by one already holding a public office operates ipso facto to vacate the first. While the officer has a right to elect which of the two he will retain, his election is deemed to be made when he accepts and qualifies for the second. State v. Thompson, 122 N. C. 493, 29 S. E. 720.

Necessity of Taking Oath.—The taking of an oath of office, or the incompatibility of the public offices, is not imposed by the State or any department thereof or under the State, etc., to deprive them of the whole. Cotten v. Ellis, 52 N. C. 467. This case is evidently following Hoke v. Henderson, 15 N. C. 1, which was overruled by Miall v. Ellington, 134 N. C. 131, 33 S. E. 151, 153.

Power of the Legislature.—The Legislature may reduce or increase the number of state and federal officers as are not protected by the constitution during their term of office, but cannot deprive them of the whole. People v. Maginnis, 144 N. C. 476, 54 S. E. 260; Commissioners v. Stedman, 141 N. C. 448, 54 S. E. 269.

The Legislature may attach additional duties to an existing office, and it may afterwards log off those duties and assign them to a new office, leaving the original office as it was before the additional duties were attached to it. Downey v. Beardsley, 126 N. C. 119, 35 S. E. 241. As to power of Legislature to wholly abolish an office, or to transfer its duties, see Editor's Note, supra.

Manner of Appointment.—Where officers have to be appointed to fill a regular term, the Governor nominates to fill a regular term, the Governor nominates to the Senate, under their advice and consent, an officer who is elected by the people, and then he fills the vacancy or term until the people can elect his successor. People v. McIver, 68 N. C. 457; People v. Lindsey, 68 N. C. 457; People v. McKee, 68 N. C. 457; Commissioners v. Stedman, 141 N. C. 448, 54 S. E. 269.

Authority to Suspend or Remove.—The power to create vacancies in a public office, incumbents of which are chosen by the people, and to fill such vacancies and disabilities in the absence of provisions to the contrary, in the body possessing the original power of appointment. Greene v. Owen, 125 N. C. 212, 34 S. E. 424.

All consolidations.—Officers whose duties are congruous may be consolidated; but it is just, in cases of consolidation of offices, to postpone the operation of the law until a vacancy appears in the office whose duties are to be transferred. Hoy v. Young, 32 N. C. 372.

III. DISTINGUISHING CHARACTERISTICS.

Definition.—Public office is tenure by virtue of an appointment, conferred by public authority. Willis v. Melvin, 56 N. C. 63, 63.

It embodies the ideas of tenure, duration, emolument and duties. United States v. Hartwell, 6 Wall. 385, 393, 18 L. Ed. 830; State v. Patrick, 124 N. C. 651, 662, 33 S. E. 151.

Same.—Portion of Sovereignty Attaches.—A office or place of trust is an agency of the sovereign power. The motion of the incumbent is defined as follows: "A public position to which a portion of the sovereignty of the conferring power is attached, and which is exercised for the benefit of the public." High Ex. Leg. Rem., sec. 620; Mechem Pub. Off., sec. 1; State v. Smith, 145 N. C. 476, 477, 59 S. E. 649.

Same.—Agency from State.—A public office is an agency from the State, and the person whose duty it is to perform this agency is a public officer. State Prison v. Day, 124 N. C. 362, 32 S. E. 748.

Same.—Same.—Essence of Duty.—This is considered to be the true definition of a public office in its original, broad sense. The essence of it is the duty of performing an agency, that is, of doing some act or acts or series of acts for the State. State v. Smith, 145 N. C. 476, 59 S. E. 649.

Same.—Authority to Appoint.—If a person is authorized to appoint to an office, this duty of itself constitutes him a public officer. State v. Stanley, 66 N. C. 60, 8 Am. Rep. 492; People v. Hender, 122 N. C. 493, 495, 29 S. E. 720; State v. Tate, 68 N. C. 456, cited in note in 17 L. R. A. 243, 244, 247, 249; State v. Tate, 68 N. C. 456, cited in note in 17 L. R. A. 243.

Same.—Classification of Office.—In the textbooks it is taught that the word office in its primary signification implies a duty or duties—the agency from the State to perform the duties. The duties of the office of the Chief Convenor of the State to perform those duties is the next step in the creation of an office. It is the union of the two factors, duty and agency, which makes the office. State Prison v. Day, 124 N. C. 362, 368, 32 S. E. 748, 46 L. R. A. 295.

Distinguished from a Public Agency.—The most important characteristic which distinguishes an office from a public agency is that the conferring of the office carries with it a duty to perform the duties assigned to the public officer. In this respect the terms 'office' and 'place of trust' as used in our Constitution are synonymous. Worthy v. Barrett (supra) is this: "It is an administrative agency or public employment, and, as was said by Chief Justice Marshall, 'although an office is an employment, it does not follow that every employment is an office.'"

Distinguished from Placemen.—The distinction between officers and placemen is that the former are required to possess the original power of appointment, to take an oath to support the Constitutions of the State and of the United States; whilst the latter are not. Worthy v. Barrett, 63 N. C. 199.

Distinguished from Employment and Contract.—An "office" is defined by good authority as involving a delegation to the individual of some of the sovereign functions of government, to be exercised by him for the benefit of the public, by which it is distinguished from "employment" or "contract." Mech. Pub. Off. secs. 1, 4; Elison v. Coleman, 86 N. C. 236, 59 S. E. 429. A public office is an agency for the state. State v. Stanley, 66 N. C. 60; Barnhill v. Thompson, 122 N. C. 493, 29 S. E. 720.

IV. GENERAL ILLUSTRATIONS.

The Executive Department is an agency for the State, and the Governor and others, whose duty it is to discharge this agency, are public officers. State v. Stanley, 66 N. C. 60, 8 Am. Rep. 492.

The trustees of the University, and the directors of the penitentiary, of the lunatic asylum and of the institution for the deaf, dumb and blind, are public officers. People v. McKee, 68 N. C. 457; People v. Bledsoe, 68 N. C. 457, cited in notes in 17 L. R. A. 243, 246; People v. Johnson, 68 N. C. 471; People v. McGowan, 68 N. C. 520.

The position of public administrator is a mere administrative agency, and not an office or place of trust, within the Const. Art. 14, sec. 7, prohibiting a person from filling two or more offices or places of trust under the federal, State, or city government at the same time. State v. Smith, 145 N. C. 476, 59 S. E. 649.

Legislative Members.—Mr. Justice Reade declares that "members of the Legislature are not officers. Theirs are places of trust and profit, but not offices of trust and profit." Worthy v. Barrett, 63 N. C. 199; Doyle v. Raleigh, 89 N. C. 133, 136. But see the two following notes.

The Legislative Department is an agency for the State, and the members of the Senate and of the House of representatives are public officials, 66 N. C. 60, 64. This case and the next preceding one are to be considered in the light of the explanation given in the next section. These terms are used in the Constitution of the State; there we were treating the terms in the restricted sense in which [376] they are used in Article XIV of the Amendment of the Constitution of the United States."

Judges.—The judicial department is an agency for the State as a whole, and the judges are public officers. State v. Stanley, 66 N. C. 60, 64.

Federal Attorney Acting as Solicitor.—The appointment by the President of the United States District Attorney to act temporarily for the absent solicitor in the prosecution of a criminal action in the State court, does not come within the inhibition of our Constitution, Art. XIV, sec. 7, as to holding two offices at the same time. State v. Wood, 173 N. C. 839, 95 S. E. 1050.

Deputy clerk and justice of the peace under Acts 1806, c. 12, sec. 3, declares the appointment of deputy clerk of court to be incompatible with the office of a justice of the peace. State v. Warden, 5 N. C. 431, 468, 69 S. E. 436.

Under Const. Art. 14, sec. 7, excepting a justice of the peace from the inhibition against one holding two offices of trust or profit, one may be both a justice of the peace and the recorder of a city recorder's court. State v. Lord, 145 N. C. 479, 59 S. E. 656.

A clerk of the peace is a public officer. Rhodes v. Love, 153 N. C. 468, 69 S. E. 436.

Secretary of State.—Under Acts 1899-70, c. 41, abolishing this office of State printer, and Acts 1871-72, c. 180, providing for the letting of the State printing by contract, the position of State printer is not a public office. Brown v. Turpin, 151 N. C. 479, 59 S. E. 436.

A clerk of the city works is a public officer. Rhodes v. Love, 153 N. C. 468, 69 S. E. 436.

The services performed under such appointments are paid for by salary or fees, presumed to be adjusted at the point of adequate remuneration only. Any premium paid to obtain office interferes with this adjustment and tempts to speculate, overcharges and frauds in the effort to restore balance through bribery. See § 1-58, Laws 1924, by adding thereunto the proviso restricting the place of chief engineer of the W. N. C. R. R. is not a public office. White v. Hill, 125 N. C. 194, 34 S. E. 432.

The place of chief engineer of the W. N. C. R. R. is not a public office. The true test of a public office is that it is incompatible with the office of a justice of the peace. State v. Somers, 96 N. C. 153, in the appendix. But it is now customarily to lower the character of the appointments, to the great detriment of the public. Hence, such agreements, of whatever nature, have always been held void as being against public policy. Basket v. Moss, 115 N. C. 448, 458, 20 S. E. 733.

The public has a right to some better test of the capacity of their servants than the fact that they possess the means of purchasing their offices. Basket v. Moss, 115 N. C. 448, 457, 20 S. E. 733.

Agreements Void.—Public offices are public trusts, and contracts to procure appointments to an office (Mechem on Public Officers, sec. 351), or to resign an office in another's favor for salary or fees, are contrary to public policy, integrity, fidelity and fitness for the position. Agreements for compensation to procure these tend directly and necessarily to lower the character of the appointments, to the great detriment of the public. Hence, such agreements, of whatever nature, have always been held void as being against public policy. Basket v. Moss, 115 N. C. 448, 457, 20 S. E. 733.

Contracts to procure appointments to an office (Mechem on Public Officers, sec. 351), or to resign an office in another's favor for salary or fees, are contrary to public policy, integrity, fidelity and fitness for the position. Agreements for compensation to procure these tend directly and necessarily to lower the character of the appointments, to the great detriment of the public. Hence, such agreements, of whatever nature, have always been held void as being against public policy. Basket v. Moss, 115 N. C. 448, 457, 20 S. E. 733.

Same—Common Law.—Such agreements are void at common law, as well as by statute. Basket v. Moss, 115 N. C. 448, 457, 20 S. E. 733.

Same—Federal Officers.—Notwithstanding the office is an office under the United States government, if an action is brought it is considered to retain the same character and the same penalties given for such consideration, our courts would hold it void. Basket v. Moss, 115 N. C. 448, 457, 20 S. E. 733.

§ 128-4. Receiving compensation of subordinates for appointment or retention; removal.—Any official or employee of this state or any political subdivision thereof, in whose office or under whose supervision are employed one or more subordinate officials or employees who shall, directly or indirectly, receive any compensation or remuneration for their services from such subordinate, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor: Provided, that this section shall not apply in cases in which an official or employee is given an allowance for the conduct of his office from which he is to compensate himself and his subordinates in such manner as he sees fit. Any person convicted of violating this section, in addition to the criminal penalties, shall be subject to removal from office. The procedure for removal shall be the same as that provided for removal of certain local officials from office.
by §§ 128-16 to 128-90, inclusive. (1937, c. 32, ss. 1, 2.)

§ 128-5. Oath required before acting; penalty.—Every officer and other person required to take an oath of office, or an oath for the faithful discharge of any duty imposed on him, and also the oath appointed for such as hold any office of trust or profit in the state, shall take all said oaths before entering on the duties of the office, or the duties imposed on such person, on pain of forfeiting five hundred dollars to the use of the poor of the county in or for which the office is to be used, and of being ejected from his office or place by proper proceedings for that purpose. (Rev., s. 2367; Code, s. 1873; R. C., c. 77, s. 4; C. S. 3203.)

Office May Exist without Taking of Oath.—The taking of the oath of office is not an indispensable criterion, for the office may exist without it. It is a mere incident, and constitutes no part of the office. State v. Stanley, 66 N. C. 672; Comrs. v. Evans, 74 Penn. St., 124, 139; State v. Patrick, 124 N. C. 651, 663, 33 S. E. 151.

§ 128-6. Persons admitted to office deemed to hold lawfully.—Any person who shall, by the proper authority, be admitted and sworn into any office, shall be held, deemed, and taken, by force of such admission, to be rightfully in such office, until, by judicial sentence, upon a proper proceeding, he shall be ousted therefrom, or his admission thereto be, in due course of law, declared void. (Rev., s. 2368; Code, s. 1872; R. C. 77, s. 3; 1544, c. 38, s. 2; 1848, c. 64, s. 1; Const. Art. III. § 25; C. S. 3201.)

Appointment Biennially.—A proviso for an appointment to office "biennially" ex vi termini, implies a two years' term of office. State v. Patrick, 124 N. C. 651, 33 S. E. 151.

A relator in quo warranto proceedings to try title to office accepts the position that he has been displaced in the office, and whose acts are recognized by other public functionaries, and third persons are concerned, there is no difference what- ever. The mere fact that, apart from his usurpation, he may be ousted by a direct proceeding against him, while the latter cannot be. So far as the public and third persons are concerned, there is no difference whatever. The answer which has one has, if it is a fact, as the acts of the other. People v. Staton, 73 N. C. 546, 559; Burton v. Staton, 73 N. C. 546; Keeler v. New Bern, 61 N. C. 505; Culver v. Eggers, 63 N. C. 630; Ellis v. New C. Institution, 68 N. C. 423.

A person in quo warranto proceedings is not required to show the colorable election or appointment to and induction into the office. Van Amringe v. Taylor, 106 N. C. 196, 12 S. E. 1004, 23 At. L. R., 202; Burke v. Elliott, 26 N. C. 355; Keeler v. New Bern, 61 N. C. 505; Culver v. Eggers, 63 N. C. 630; Ellis v. New C. Institution, 68 N. C. 423.

To be a lawful officer de facto it is requisite that there be some colorable election or appointment to and induction into the office. Burton v. Patton, 47 N. C. 124; Commissions v. McDaniel, 52 N. C. 107; People v. Staton, 73 N. C. 546; Keeler v. New Bern, 61 N. C. 505; State v. Lewis, 107 N. C. 967, 12 S. E. 457, 13 S. E. 247.

The indispenisal basis of being a de facto officer is that there is such an office. Meacham Public Offices, sec. 334, and numerous cases there cited; State v. Shuford, 128 N. C. 588, 591, 38 S. E. 808, cited in note in 15 L. R. A., N. S. 109.

Persons who have been regarded as public officers for the greater part of the time during which the office existed, and whose acts are recognized by other public functionaries, must be taken to be officers de facto. Burton v. Patton, 47 N. C. 124, 63 Am. Dec. 194.

An officer de facto is one whose acts, though not those of a lawful officer, the law, upon principles of policy and justice, will hold valid, so far as they involve the interests of the public and third persons, where the duties of the office were exercised (1) without a known appointment or election, (2) under color of a known and valid appointment or election, but under such circumstances of reputation or acquiescence as were calculated to induce people, without inquiry, to submit to or invoke his action, supposing him to be the officer he assumed to be; (2) under color of a known and valid appointment or election, but where the officer failed to conform to some precedent requirement or condition, such as taking an oath, giving a bond, or the like; (3) under color of a known and valid appointment or election, but where, in addition, there was a want of power in the electing or appointing body, or by reason of some defect or irregularity in its ex-
General upon his own information, or upon the complaint

Right of Action.—Any person having a right to an office, can in his own name, bring an action for the purpose of testing his right as against one claiming adversely. Brown v. Rust, 78 N. C. 116.

Notwithstanding the maxim “De minimis non curat lex,” a suit will be entertained to determine rights to an office paying only eight dollars a month in addition to board. Greene v. Owen, 123 N. C. 212, 34 S. E. 424.

Same—As to Necessity of Demand.—No demand is necessary before bringing an action of quo warranto. Shannon- house v. Withers, 121 N. C. 376, 28 S. E. 522.

Same—Allegation of Citizenship in Complaint.—Where persons who have been elected and qualified as county commissioners bring an action against persons appointed by the judge of the district, under the provisions of ch. 135, Laws 1895, to try the defendants’ title to office, the complaint must allege that the plaintiffs are citizens and tax-payers of the county. Houghtalling v. Taylor, 122 N. C. 141, 29 S. E. 101, citing Hines v. Vann, 118 N. C. 3, 33 S. E. 932; Board v. Hall, 111 N. C. 369, 16 S. E. 430, and cases cited.

Conduct of Incumbent as Estoppel to Deny Vacancy.—Where a person had been elected clerk of the superior court, and at the proper time had tendered his bonds, which had been approved by the judge, and resigned he was dismissed into office while the former clerk was present in court, cognizant of what was going on, and did not object thereto, but surrend- ered up the books to the new clerk. Williams v. Somers, 18 N. C. 61.

Same—Estoppel to Deny.—A person who held himself out as an officer qualified and who signed his name as such, and who in writing resigned the office, is estopped to deny that he was qualified and to show that he was not sworn on the Bible when he qualified. Midgett v. Gray, 159 N. C. 443, 74 S. E. 1050, reversing judgment on rehearing on other grounds 158 N. C. 133, 73 S. E. 791; State v. Long, 76 N. C. 254; State v. Cansler, 75 N. C. 442. Where a person who acted as an officer and who signed his name as such, and who in writing resigned the office, is estopped to deny that he was qualified and to show that he was not sworn on the Bible when he qualified. Midgett v. Gray, 159 N. C. 443, 74 S. E. 1050, reversing judgment on rehearing on other grounds 158 N. C. 133, 73 S. E. 791; State v. Long, 76 N. C. 254; State v. Cansler, 75 N. C. 442.

§ 128-7. Officer to hold until successor qualified.—All officers shall continue in their respective offices until their successors are elected or appointed, and duly qualified, (Rev. s. 2368; Code, s. 1872; R. C. c. 77, s. 3; 1848, c. 64, s. 2; C. S. 3205.)

Holding over after Expiration of Term.—An officer elected by the people, holding over his regular term on failure of his successor to qualify, holds over until the place is filled at the next general election, under Const. Art. 3, §§ 1, 13. People v. McIver, 68 N. C. 467, cited in note in 50 L. R. A., 371.

When an officer has been inducted into his office before the beginning of the term for which he was re-elected, one who is appointed to fill the vacancy, caused by his death or resignation, may be lawfully elected or appointed and have properly qualified. State v. Simpson, 175 N. C. 135, 95 S. E. 105.

Same—De Facto.—Where a clerk of the superior court held over in office until his successor qualified, he was at least clerk de facto; his acts can not be collaterally im-

§ 128-8. Officers and employees responsible for cash or property to be surety bonded.—All officers, officials and employees of the State charged with responsibility for cash, securities and/or property shall be surety bonded in corporate surety bonds to do business in the State in such sums as may be fixed by the Governor and the Advisory Budget Commission. The premiums on such surety bonds will be paid by the State out of the appropriations to the respective departments and institutions and other agencies. (1929, c. 337, s. 5.)

§ 128-9. Peace officers employed by state to give bond.—The State of North Carolina shall require every peace officer employed by the state, elected or appointed, to give a bond with good surety payable to the state of North Carolina, in a sum not less than one thousand ($1,000.00) dollars and not more than two thousand five hundred ($2,500.00) dollars, conditioned as well for the faithful discharge of his or her duty as such peace officer as for his or her diligence in the performance of the duties of such office. Said bond shall be duly approved and filed in the office of the insurance commissioner, and certified copies of the same by the insurance commissioner shall be received and read in evidence in all actions and proceedings where the original might be. (1929, c. 339, s. 1.)

§ 128-10. Citizen to recover funds of county or town retained by delinquent official.—When an official of a county, city or town is liable upon his bond for unlawfully and wrongfully retaining by virtue of his office a fund, or a part there-ting forth the fund alleged to be retained or permitted to be retained, and demanding that suit be instituted by the authorities authorized to sue within sixty days. The citizen and taxpayer so suing shall receive one-third part, up to the sum of five hundred dollars, of the amount recovered, to indemnify him for his services, but the amount received by the taxpayer and citizen as idemnity shall in no case exceed five hundred dollars.

(1913, c. 80; C. S. 3206.)

The section applies to money collected before the passage of the act, and a citizen and taxpayer on sufficient and necessity which is paid out of the county funds on part of the has a right to maintain an action of this character without resort to the provisions of the statute. Waddill v.
Masten, 172 N. C. 582, 585, 90 S. E. 694.

Under the provisions of this section, citizens and taxpayers of a county may maintain an action against the commissioners of the county and its defaulting sheriff to enforce collection of the amount of the default upon allegations that the county commissioners have corruptly refused to perform their duties in this respect. Weaver v.
Hampton, 201 N. C. 796, 161 S. E. 450.

§ 128-11. Trust funds to be kept separate.

—Any sheriff, treasurer or other officer of any county, city, town or other political subdivision of the State, receiving, by virtue of his office, public money or money to be held by him in trust shall keep or deposit such money or the credits or other evidence thereof separate and apart from his own funds and shall not, at any time, apply such money to his own use or benefit or intermingle the same in any manner with credits or funds of his own. (1931, c. 77, s. 1.)

Editor’s Note.—To the extent that this section requires local public officers to keep their official bank accounts separate from their personal accounts and prohibits them from intermingling official and personal moneys, it probably states a well-known principle of law. The need for the statute, however, arose out of cases where local officials had defaulted and where the intermingling of personal and official funds in the same account made tracing difficult if not impossible. The new statute, therefore, by making the principle specific, perhaps puts the officers on warning. It should be read in connection with §§ 153-60 and 153-35, relating to the reports and deposits.

S. E. 564.

§ 128-12. Violations to be reported; misdemeanors. — It shall be the duty of the director of the Local Commission to report to the solicitor of the district any violation of § 128-11 of which he may have knowledge, and any violation of such section shall be unlawful and shall consti-tuate a misdemeanor, punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court. (1931, c. 60, s. 2; 1931, c. 77, s. 2.)

S. E. 364.

§ 128-13. Local: Officers compensated from fees to render statement; penalty; proceeds to school fund.—Every clerk of the superior court, register of deeds, sheriff, coroner, surveyor, or other county officer, whose compensation for servces performed shall be derived from fees, shall remain in the office of county commissioner of their respective counties, on the first Monday in December of each year, a statement, verified under oath, showing: first, the total gross amount of all fees collected during the preceding fiscal year; second, the total amount paid out during the preceeding fiscal year for clerical or office assistance.
Any county officer, subject to this section, who refuses or fails to file such report as above provided, on or before the first Monday in December, shall be subject to a fine of twenty-five dol-ars and ten dollars additional for each day or fraction of a day such failure shall continue. The board of county commissioners shall assess and collect the penalty above provided for, and apply same to the general school fund of the county.
The first report under this section shall be for the fiscal year beginning December twelfth, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

This section applies only to the counties of Anson, Bertie, Bladen, Cabarrus, Carteret, Chowan, Carrurk, Duplin, Harnett, Haywood, Hertford, Johnston, Jones, Moore, Pender, Per-quimans, Pitt, Randolph, Richmond, Rowan, Scotland, Union, Vance, Warren, Washington,
Wayne, Wilson. (1913, c. 97; Ex. Sess. 1913, c.
10; 1935, c. 390.)

Power of Legislature to Regulate Pay.—One who accepts a public office does so, with well defined exceptions as to certain constitutional offices, under the authority of the Legislature to change the emoluments he is to receive for rendering services, and in his discretion, while the office of sheriff is a constitutional one, the regulation of his fees is within the control of the Legislature, and the same may be reduced during the term of the incumbent, or he may therein be compensated by a salary instead of on a fee basis. Mills v. Deaton, 170 N. C. 386, 87 S. E. 123.

Construction of Act Changing Pay from Salary to Fee Basis.—An act changing the pay of county officers from a salary to a fee basis, taking prospective effect from the expiration of the terms of the present incumbents, will be presumed to have a sensible and just intent, with knowledge of existing conditions and will not be construed as a law attempting to deprive the incumbent sheriff of the emoluments of his term by requiring that he deliver the tax lists to his § 128-14. Identification cards for field agents or departments of state departments.—Every field agent or deputy of the various state departments who is authorized to collect money, audit books, inspect premises of individual or business firms and/or any other field work pertaining to the department which he represents, shall be furnished with an identification card signed by the head of the department represented by him, certifying that the said field agent or deputy has authority to represent the department, and such identification card shall carry a photographic likeness of said representative.

(1937, c. 236.)

§ 128-15. Preference for veterans in employment.—Hereafter in all examinations of applicants for positions with this state or any of its departments or institutions, a preference rating of ten per cent shall be awarded to all the citizens of the state who served the state or the United States honorably in either the army, navy, marine corps, or nurses’ corps in time of war.

All departments and institutions of the state, or their agencies, shall give preference to such unemployed veterans as are permitted by the section in filling vacant positions in construction or maintenance of public buildings and grounds, construction of highways, or any other employment under the supervision of the state or its departments, institutions, or agencies: Provided, that the provision of this section shall apply to widows of such veterans and to the wife of any disabled veteran. (1939, c. 8.)

§ 128-15.1. Section 128-15 applicable to persons serving in present war.—All the provisions for preference rating and preference of employment

to citizens who served the state or the United States, honorably in either the army, navy, marine corps or nurses’ corps in time of war and to the widows of such veterans and the wives of disabled veterans provided in section 128-15 are hereby specifically made applicable to men and women who have served, are now serving, or shall serve in any branch of the armed services or the nurses’ corps during the present war, and are honorably discharged from such service, and to the widows of such veterans and the wives of disabled veterans of the present war. (1943, c. 168.)

Art. 2. Removal of Unfit Officers.

§ 128-16. Officers subject to removal; for what offenses.—Any city prosecuting attorney, any sheriff, police officer, or constable, shall be removed from office by the judge of the superior court upon charges made in writing, and hearing thereunder, for the following cause:

First. For willful or habitual neglect or refusal to perform the duties of his office.

Second. For willful misconduct or maladministration in office.

Third. For corruption.

Fourth. For extortion.

Fifth. Upon conviction of a felony.

Sixth. For intoxication, or upon conviction of being intoxicated. (1919, c. 288; P. L. 1913, c. 761, s. 20; C. S. 3298.)

Cross References.—As to appropriate manner of action by which to try the title to an office, see § 1-315 and annotations that follow. See § 1-517 for a law for removing compensation of subordinates, see § 128-4. As to removal of sheriffs and police officers, see § 18-24.

Purpose.—The officer may be removed for misconduct or failure to perform the duties of his office, whether such failures were willful or habitually negligent; the statute was evidently enacted for the protection of the public, and not for the punishment of the delinquent officer. State v. Hamme, 180 N. C. 684, 687, 104 S. E. 174.

Failure to Take Oath Does Not Exempt from Liability.—The taking of one oath by an officer takes possession of it, and engages in the exercise of its duties, and misbehaves as in this case—takes unlawful and extortionate fees—he will be liable for such misbehavior, notwithstanding the fact that he failed to take oath of office. State v. Canister, 75 N. C. 442, 444.

What Evidence Sufficient.—The evidence of a prosecuting attorney in proceedings before the judge to remove him from office is sufficient to sustain an order removing him when it admits that he attempts to induce, and did induce, a person to violate the statutes of our State in participating in acts made an offense for immorality, etc., whatever his intent may have been therein. State v. Hamme, 180 N. C. 684, 687, 104 S. E. 174. It was also held in this case that the prosecuting attorney could not complain because he was removed not in accordance with the specifications alleged in the petition, but upon his own evidence, the element of surprise or possibility of an amendment, not withstanding the fact that he was failed to take oath of office. State v. Cansler, 75 N. C. 442, 444.

Jury Not Required.—The proceedings under this section do not require an issue to be submitted to the jury. Upon the defendant’s own admissions in this case, and evidence, he is guilty of the offense charged, which is sufficient to remove him from office; such office is not a property right under the provisions of the Constitution of North Carolina, Art. 1, section 19. State v. Hamme, 180 N. C. 684, 104 S. E. 174.

Appeal from Superior Court.—An appeal from the judgment of the superior court judge that a prosecuting attorney could not be removed for misconduct or maladministration in office, etc., is upon questions of law and legal inferences, if justified by the findings of facts supported by evidence. Constitution, Art. VI, sec. 8; and the appeal is allowed by § 1-277. State v. Hamme, 180 N. C. 684, 104 S. E. 174.

Enjoining Vacating of Office by Commissioners before They Have Qualified.—An action to enjoin newly-elected county commissioners, who had not yet qualified, from declaring a public office vacant, and electing a successor, is properly dismissed as premature. Cozart v. Fleming, 123 N. C. 547, 31 S. E. 822.

§ 128-17. Petition for removal; county attorney to prosecute.—The complaint or petition shall be entitled in the name of the state of North Carolina, and may be filed upon the relation of any five qualified electors of the county in which the person charged is an officer, upon the approval of the county attorney of such county, or the solicitor of the district, or by any such officer upon his own motion. It shall be the duty of the county attorney or solicitor to appear and prosecute this proceeding. (1919, c. 288; P. L. 1913, c. 761, s. 21; C. S. 3290.)

§ 128-18. Petition filed with clerk; what it shall contain; answer.—The accused shall be named as defendant, and the petition shall be signed by some elector, or by such officer. The petition shall state the charges against the accused, and may be amended, and shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the person charged is an officer. The accused may at any time prior to the time fixed for hearing file in the office of the clerk of the superior court his answer, which shall be verified. (1919, c. 288; P. L. 1913, c. 761, s. 22; C. S. 3210.)

§ 128-19. Suspension pending hearing; how vacancy filled.—Upon the filing of the petition in the office of the clerk of the superior court, and the presentation of the same to the judge, the judge may suspend the accused from office if in his judgment sufficient cause appear from the petition and affidavits, or affidavits, which may be presented in support of the charges contained therein. In case of suspension, as herein provided, the temporary vacancy shall be filled in the manner provided by law for filling of the vacancies in such office. (1919, c. 288; P. L. 1913, c. 761, s. 23; C. S. 3211.)

§ 128-20. Precedence on calendar; costs.—In the trial of the case in the superior court the cause shall be advanced and taken precedence over all other causes upon the court calendar, and shall be heard at the next term after the petition is filed, provided the proceedings are filed in said court in time for said action to be heard. The superior court shall fix the time of hearing. If the final termination of such proceedings be favorable to any accused officer, said officer shall be allowed the reasonable and necessary expense, including a reasonable attorney fee, to be fixed by the judge, he has incurred in making his defense, by the county, if he be a county officer, or by the city or town in which he holds office, if he be a city officer. If the action is instituted upon the complaint of citizens as herein provided, and it appears to the court that there was no reasonable cause for filing the complaint, the costs may be taxed against the complaining parties. (1919, c. 288; P. L. 1913, c. 761, s. 24; C. S. 3212.)

Editor's Note.—The 1941 amendment inserted the word "local" in subsection (1) and substituted "forty-one" for "thirty-nine" in subsection (6).

For comment on the 1941 amendment, see 19 N. C. Law Rev. 510.

The 1943 amendment substituted "forty-three" for "forty-one" in line three of subsection (6).

For acts relating to retirement systems for New Hanover county and the city of Wilmington, see Session Laws 1943, cc. 669, 708.

For comment on the 1999 enactment, see 17 N. C. Law Rev. 369.

§ 128-22. The retirement system so created shall become operative as of the first day of July, nineteen hundred and forty-three:

Provided, that in the judgment of the board of trustees an adequate number of persons have indicated their intention to participate; otherwise at such later date as the board of trustees may set.

It shall have the power and privileges of a corporation and shall be known as the "North Carolina Local Governmental Employees' Retirement System," and by such name all of its business shall be transacted, all of its funds invested, and all of its cash and securities and other property held. (1939, c. 300, s. 2; 1941, c. 537, s. 2; 1943, c. 535.)

Editor's Note.—The 1941 amendment substituted "forty-one" for "thirty-nine" in the first paragraph, and inserted the word "local" in the second paragraph.

The 1943 amendment substituted "forty-three" for "forty-one" in line three of the second sentence.
§ 128-23. Acceptance by cities, towns and counties.—(1) The governing body of any incorporated city or town may, by resolution legally adopted and approved by the board of trustees, elect to have its employees become eligible to participate in the retirement system, and the said municipal governing body may make the necessary appropriation therefor and if necessary levy annually taxes for payment of the same.

(2) The board of commissioners of any county may, by resolution legally adopted and approved by the board of trustees, elect to have its employees become eligible to participate in the retirement system, and the said county board of commissioners may make the necessary appropriation therefor and if necessary levy annually taxes for payment of the same as a special purpose, in addition to any tax allowed by any special statute for the purposes enumerated in § 153-9 and in addition to the rates allowed by the constitution.

(3) Any eligible employer desiring to participate in the retirement system shall file with the board of trustees an application for participation under the conditions included in this article on a form approved by the board of trustees. In such application the employer shall agree to make the contributions required of participating employers, to deduct from the salaries of employees who may become members the contributions required of members under this article, and to transmit such contributions to the board of trustees. It shall also agree to make the employer's contributions for the participation in the retirement system of all employees entering the service of the employer, after its participation begins, who shall become members.

(4) Such contributions as are made by employers shall be regarded as additions to the compensation of such employees as are members of the retirement system and deducted therefrom for the purpose of making the employer's contribution, in addition to the deduction from the compensation of employees on account of member contributions.

(5) The agreement of such employer to contribute on account of its employees shall be irrevocable, but should an employer for any reason become financially unable to make the normal and accrued liability contributions payable on account of its employees, then such employer shall be deemed to be in temporary default. Such temporary default shall not relieve such employer from any liability for its contributions payable on account of its employees, but such contributions payable during the period of temporary default shall be paid at such later time as may be mutually agreed upon by the employer and the board of trustees together with interest thereon at the rate of six per centum (6%) per annum. At such time as such defaulted contributions together with interest thereon shall be fully paid, such employer shall no longer be deemed in temporary default and shall be restored to good standing in the retirement system.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary, the retirement system shall not be liable for the payment of any pensions or other benefits on account of the employees or pensioners of any employer under this article, for which reserves have not been previously created from funds contributed by such employer or its employees for such benefits. (1939, c. 390, s. 3.)

§ 128-24. Membership. The membership of this Retirement System shall be composed as follows:

(1) All employees entering or reentering the service of a participating county, city, or town after the date of participation in the Retirement System of such county, city, or town.

(2) All persons who are employees of a participating county, city, or town except those who shall notify the Board of Trustees in writing, on or before ninety days following the date of participation in the retirement system by such county, city, or town: Provided, that persons who are or who shall become members of any existing retirement system and who are or who may be thereby entitled to benefit by existing laws providing for retirement allowances for employees wholly or partly at the expense of funds drawn from the treasury of the State of North Carolina or of any political subdivision thereof, shall not be members: Provided, further, that employees of welfare or health departments whose compensation is derived from both state and local funds may be members of a North Carolina Local Government Employees' Retirement System to the extent of that part of their compensation derived from a county, city or town. (1939, c. 390, s. 4; 1941, c. 357, s. 3.)

Editor's Note.—The 1941 amendment struck out this section as it formerly read and substituted in lieu thereof the above.

§ 128-25. Membership in system.—Should sixty per centum (60%) of the members of any retirement, pension or annuity fund or system of any county, city or town of the state, hereafter referred to as a local pension system, elect to become members of the North Carolina governmental employees' retirement system, by a petition duly signed by such members, the participation of such members in the retirement system may be approved as provided in § 128-24 as though such local pension system were not in operation, and the provisions of this article shall also apply, except that the existing pensioners or annuitants of the local pension system who were being paid pensions on the date of the approval shall be continued and paid at their existing rates by the North Carolina governmental employees' retirement system, and the liability on this account shall be included in the computation of the accrued liability by the actuary as provided by § 128-30, subsection three. Any cash and securities to the credit of the local pension system shall be transferred to the North Carolina governmental employees' retirement system as of the date of the approval. The trustees or other administrative head of the local pension system as of the date of the approval shall certify the proportion, if any, of the funds of the system that represents the accumulated contributions of the members, and the relative shares of the members as of that date. Such shares shall be credited to the respective annuity savings accounts of such members in the North Carolina governmental employees' retirement system. The balance of the funds transferred to the North Carolina governmental employees' retirement system shall be offset against the accrued liability before determining the special accrued liability contribution to be paid by the county, city or town as provided by § 128-30, subsection three. The op-teration of the local pension system shall be discontinued as of the date of the approval. (1939,
c. 390, s. 5; 1941, c. 357, s. 4.)

Editor's Note.—The 1941 amendment struck out the former first paragraph of this section.

§ 128-26. Allowance for service. — (1) Under such rules and regulations as the board of trustees shall adopt each member who was an employee at any time during the year immediately preceding July first, nineteen hundred and forty-three, and who becomes a member during the first year of operation of the retirement system, shall file a detailed statement of all service as an employee rendered by him to any county, city or town prior to July first, nineteen hundred and forty-three, for which he claims credit.

(2) The board of trustees shall fix and determine by appropriate rules and regulations how much service in any year is equivalent to one year of service, but in no case shall more than one year of service be creditable for all service in one calendar year.

(3) Subject to the above restrictions and to such other rules and regulations as the board of trustees may adopt, the board of trustees shall verify, as soon as practicable after the filing of such statements of service, the service therein claimed.

In lieu of a determination of the actual compensation of the members that was received during such period of prior service, the board of trustees may use for the purpose of this article the compensation rates which if they had progressed with the rates of salary increase shown in the tables as prescribed in subsection fourteen of § 128-28 would have resulted in a same average salary of the member for the five years immediately preceding July first, nineteen hundred and forty-three, as the records show the member acquired by him to any county, city or town prior to July first, nineteen hundred and forty-three, for which he claims credit.

(4) Upon verification of the statements of service the board of trustees shall issue prior service certificates certifying to each member the length of service rendered prior to July first, nineteen hundred and forty-three, with which he is credited on the basis of his statement of service.
So long as membership continues a prior service certificate shall be final and conclusive for retirement purposes as to such service: Provided, however, that any member may, within one year from the date of issuance or modification of such certificate, request the board of trustees to modify or revise its provisions; and

When membership ceases such prior service certificate shall become void. Should the employee again become a member, such employee shall enter the system as an employee not entitled to prior service credit except as provided in § 128-27, subsection five, paragraph (b).

(5) Creditable service at retirement on which the retirement allowance of a member shall be based shall consist of the membership service rendered by him since he last became a member, and also if he has a prior service certificate which is in full force and effect, the amount of the service certified on his prior service certificate.
(1939, c. 390, s. 6; 1941, c. 357, s. 5; 1943, c. 535.)

Editor's Note.—The 1941 amendment substituted "forty-one" for "thirty-nine" in subsections (1), (3) and (4).
The 1943 amendment substituted "forty-three" for "forty-one" in subsections (1), (3) and (4).

§ 128-27. Benefits. — (1) Service Retirement Benefit.—(a) Any member in service may retire upon written application to the board of trustees setting forth at what time, not less than thirty days nor more than ninety days subsequent to the execution and filing thereof, he desires to be retired: Provided, that the said member at the time so specified for his retirement shall have att-tained the age of sixty years, and notwithstanding that, during such period of notification, he may have separated from service.
(b) Any member in service who has attained the age of sixty-five shall be retired at the end of the fiscal year unless the employing board requests such person to remain in the service, and notice of this request is given in writing thirty days prior to the end of the fiscal year.
(c) Any member in service who has attained the age of seventy years shall be retired forthwith: Provided, that with the approval of his employer he may remain in service until the end of the fiscal year following the date on which he attains the age of seventy years: Provided, further, that with the approval of the board of trustees and his employer, any member who has attained or shall attain the age of seventy years may be continued in service for a period of two years following each such request.

(2) Allowance for Service Retirement.—Upon retirement from service a member shall receive a service retirement allowance which shall consist of:
(a) An annuity which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his accumulated contributions at the time of his retirement; and
(b) A pension equal to the annuity allowable at the age of sixty years computed on the basis of contributions made prior to the attainment of age sixty; and
(c) If he has a prior service certificate in full force and effect, an additional pension which shall be equal to the annuity which would have been provided at the age of sixty years by twice the contributions which he would have made during such prior service had the system been in operation and he contributed thereunder.

(3) Disability Retirement Benefits.—Upon the application of a member in service or of his employer, any member who has had ten or more years of creditable service may be retired by the board of trustees, not less than thirty and not more than ninety days next following the date of filing such application, on a disability retirement allowance which shall consist of:
(a) An annuity which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his accumulated contributions at the time of the retirement, and

(b) A pension equal to seventy-five per centum of the pension that would have been payable upon service retirement at the age of sixty years had the member continued in service to the age of sixty years without further change in compensation.

(5) Reexamination of Beneficiaries Retired on Account of Disability.—Once each year during the first five years following retirement of a member on a disability retirement allowance, and once in every three year period thereafter, the board of trustees may, and upon his application shall, require any disability beneficiary who has not yet attained the age of sixty years, to submit to at least one medical examination in any such year by a physician or physicians designated by the board of trustees. Should any disability beneficiary who has not yet attained the age of sixty years refuse to submit to at least one medical examination in any such year by a physician or physicians designated by the board of trustees, his allowance may be discontinued until his withdrawal of such refusal, and should his refusal continue for one year, all his rights in and to his pension may be revoked by the board of trustees.

(a) Should the medical board report and certify to the board of trustees that such disability beneficiary is engaged in or is able to engage in a gainful occupation paying more than the difference between his retirement allowance and the average final compensation, his retirement allowance shall cease, and his actuarial equivalent at that time, of his retirement allowance in a reduced retirement allowance payable throughout life, or he may elect to receive such other benefit or benefits, together with the actuarial equivalent at that time, of his retirement allowance in a reduced retirement allowance payable throughout life with the provision that:

Option one. If he dies before he has received in annuity payments the present value of his annuity as it was at the time of his retirement, the balance shall be paid to his legal representatives or to such person as he shall nominate by written designation duly acknowledged and filed with the board of trustees; or

Option two. Upon his death his reduced retirement allowance shall be continued throughout the life of, and paid to such person as he shall nominate by written designation duly acknowledged and filed with the board of trustees at the time of his retirement; or

Option three. Upon his death, one-half of his reduced retirement allowance shall be continued throughout the life of, and paid to such person as he shall nominate by written designation duly acknowledged and filed with the board of trustees at the time of his retirement; or

Option four. Some other benefit or benefits shall be paid either to the member or to such person or persons as he shall nominate: Provided, that such other benefit or benefits, together with the actuarial equivalent at that time, of his reduced retirement allowance, shall be certified by the actuary to be of equivalent actuarial value to his retirement allowance, and approved by the board of trustees. (1939, c. 390, s. 7.)

§ 128-28. Administration. — The general administration and responsibility for the proper operation of the retirement system and for making effective the provisions of this article are hereby vested in the Board of Trustees of the Teachers' and State Employees' Retirement System of North Carolina, and all of the provisions of § 135-6, relating to the administration by said Board of Trustees shall apply to the administration of this article by said Board of Trustees: Provided, that all expenses in connection with the administration of this North Carolina Local Government Employees' Retirement System shall be charged against this retirement system and paid from the expense fund as provided in subsection five of § 128-30. (1939, c. 390, s. 8; 1941, c. 357, s. 6.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the 1941 amendment, which rewrote this section, administration was vested in a board of trustees created by the section.
§ 128-29. Management of funds.—(1) Vested in Board of Trustees.—The board of trustees shall be the trustee of the several funds created by this article as provided in § 128-30, and shall have full power to invest and reinvest such funds, subject to all the terms, conditions, limitations and restrictions imposed by the laws of North Carolina upon domestic life insurance companies in the making and disposing of their investment; and subject to like terms, conditions, limitations and restrictions, said trustee shall have full power to hold, purchase, sell, assign, transfer and dispose of any of the securities and investments in which any of the funds created herein shall have been invested, as well as the proceeds of said investments and any monies belonging to said funds.

(2) Annual Allowance of Regular Interest.—The board of trustees annually shall allow regular interest on the mean amount for the preceding year in each of the funds with the exception of the expense fund. The amounts so allowed shall be due and payable to said funds, and shall be annually credited thereto by the board of trustees and subject to like terms, conditions, limitations and restrictions imposed by the laws of North Carolina upon domestic life insurance companies in the making and disposing of their investment; and subject to like terms, conditions, limitations and restrictions, said trustee shall have full power to hold, purchase, sell, assign, transfer and dispose of any of the securities and investments in which any of the funds created herein shall have been invested, as well as the proceeds of said investments and any monies belonging to said funds.

§ 128-30. Method of financing.—All of the assets of the retirement system shall be credited according to the purpose for which they are held to one of five funds, namely, the annuity savings fund, the annuity reserve fund, the pension accumulation fund, the pension reserve fund and the expense fund.

(1) Annuity Savings Fund.—The annuity savings fund shall be a fund in which shall be accumulated contributions from the compensation of members for the purposes provided for herein and shall be the custodian of the several funds. All payments from said funds shall be made by him only upon vouchers signed by two persons designated by the board of trustees. The secretary of the board of trustees shall furnish said board a surety bond in a company authorized to do business in North Carolina in such an amount as shall be required by the board, the premium to be paid from the expense fund.

(4) Cash Deposits for Meeting Disbursements.—For the purpose of meeting disbursements for pensions, annuities and other payments there may be kept available cash, not exceeding ten per centum of the total amount in the several funds of the retirement system, on deposit in one or more banks or trust companies of the state of North Carolina, organized under the laws of the state of North Carolina, or of the United States. Provided, that the sum on deposit in any one bank or trust company shall not exceed twenty-five per centum of the paid up capital and surplus of such bank or trust company.

(5) Selection of Depositaries.—The board of trustees shall select a bank or banks for the deposits of the funds and securities of the retirement system in the same manner as such banks are selected by the treasurer of the state of North Carolina. Such banks selected shall be required to conform to the law governing banks selected by the state. The funds and properties of the North Carolina governmental employees' retirement system held in any bank of the state shall be safeguarded by a fidelity and surety bond, the amount to be determined by the board of trustees.

(6) Immunity of Funds.—Except as otherwise herein provided, no trustee and no employee of the board of trustees shall have any direct interest in the gains or profits of any investment made by the board of trustees, nor as such receive any pay or emolument for this service. No trustee or employee of the board shall, directly or indirectly, for himself or as an agent in any manner use the same, except to make the current and necessary payments as are authorized by the board of trustees; nor shall any trustee or employee of the board of trustees become an endorser or surety or in any manner an obligor for monies loaned or borrowed on the form of the board of trustees. (1939, c. 390, s. 9; 1941, c. 357, s. 7.)

Editor's Note.—The 1941 amendment substituted in subsection (3) the words "state treasurer" for the words "secretary-treasurer," and the word "secretary" for "secretary-treasurer."
his full salary or compensation, and payment of salary or compensation less said deduction shall be a full and complete discharge and acquittance of all claims and demands whatsoever for the services rendered by such person during the period covered by such payment, except as to the benefits provided under this article. The employer shall certify to the board of trustees on each and every payroll or in such other manner as the board of trustees may prescribe, the amounts to be deducted; and each of said amounts shall be deducted, and when deducted shall be paid into said annuity savings fund, and shall be credited, together with regular interest thereon to the individual account of the member from whose compensation said deduction was made.

(c) In addition to the contributions deducted from compensation as hereinafter provided, subject to the approval of the board of trustees, any member may deposit in the annuity savings fund by a single payment or by an increased rate of contribution an amount equal to the total amount which he previously withdrew therefrom as provided in this article, or any part thereof; or any member may deposit therein by a single payment or by an increased rate of contribution an amount computed to be sufficient to purchase an additional annuity, which, together with his prospective retirement allowance, will provide for him a total retirement allowance of not to exceed one-half of his average final compensation at age sixty. Such additional amounts so deposited shall become a part of his accumulated contributions except in the case of reirement, when they shall be treated as excess contributions returnable to the member in cash or as an annuity of equivalent actuarial value and shall not be considered in computing his pension. The accumulated contributions of a member drawn by him, or paid to his estate or to as provided in this article, or any part thereof; or any member may deposit therein by a single payment or by an increased rate of contribution an amount computed to be sufficient to purchase an additional annuity, which, together with his prospective retirement allowance, will provide for him a total retirement allowance of not to exceed one-half of his average final compensation at age sixty. Such additional amounts so deposited shall become a part of his accumulated contributions except in the case of retirement, when they shall be treated as excess contributions returnable to the member in cash or as an annuity of equivalent actuarial value and shall not be considered in computing his pension. The accumulated contributions of a member drawn by him, or paid to his estate or to beneficiaries which is not dischargable by the board of trustees, an amount equal to a certain percentage of the earnable compensation of each member, to be known as the "normal contribution," and an additional amount equal to a percentage of his earnable compensation to be known as the "accrued liability contribution." The rate per centum of such contributions shall be fixed on the basis of the liabilities of the retirement system as shown by actuarial valuation. Until the first valuation the normal contribution for general employees shall be two and fourteen one hundredths per centum (2.14%) and the accrued liability contribution for general employees shall be one and seventy-eight one hundredths per centum (1.78%) of the payroll of the employer, general employees, including sheriffs and other law enforcing officers, shall be three and eighty one hundredths per centum (3.80%), and the accrued liability contribution for police and firemen, including sheriffs and other law enforcing officers, shall be three and nineteen one hundredths per centum (3.19%) of the payroll of the employer, police and firemen and other law enforcing officers.

(b) On the basis of regular interest and of such mortality and other tables as shall be adopted by the board of trustees, the actuary engaged by the board to make each valuation required by this article during the period over which the accrued liability contribution is payable, immediately after making such valuation, shall determine the uniform and constant percentage of the earnable compensation of the average new entrant throughout his entire period of active service which would be sufficient to provide for the payment of any pension payable on his account and for the pro rata share of the cost of administration of the retirement system. The rate per centum so determined shall be known as the "normal contribution" rate. After the accrued liability contribution has ceased to be payable, the normal contribution rate shall be the rate per centum of the earnable salary of all members obtained by deducting from the total liabilities of the pension accumulation fund the amount of the funds in hand to the credit of that fund and dividing the remainder by one per centum of the present value of the prospective future salaries of all members as computed on the basis of the mortality and service tables adopted by the board of trustees and regular interest. The normal rate of contributions shall be determined by the actuary after each valuation.

(c) Immediately succeeding the first valuation the actuary engaged by the board of trustees shall compute the rate per centum of the total annual compensation of all members which is equivalent to four per centum of the amount of the total pension liability on account of all members and beneficiaries which is not dischargeable by the aforesaid normal contribution made on account of such members during the remainder of their active service. The rate per centum originally so determined shall be known as the "accrued liability contribution" rate.

(d) The county, city or town participating in the system as provided in subsection four of § 128-23 shall make a special accrued liability contribution on account of its approval of the participation of its employees in the North Carolina local governmental employees' retirement system, which shall be determined by actuarial valuation of the accrued liability on account of the employees of such county, city or town who elected to become members in the same manner as the accrued liability rate was originally determined for employees who become members of the local governmental employees' retirement system prior to January first, nineteen hundred and forty-four. This special accrued liability contribution, subject to such adjustment as may be necessary on account of any additional prior service credits awarded to employees of such county, city or town, shall be payable in lieu of the accrued liability contribution payable on account of other employees in the system. The expense of making such initial valuation shall be assessed against and paid by the county, city or town on whose account it is necessary.

(e) The total amount payable in each year to the pension accumulation fund shall not be less than the sum of the rate per centum known as the normal contribution rate and the accrued liability contribution rate of the total compensation earnable by all members during the preceding year: Provided, however, that the amount of each annual accrued liability contribution shall be at least three per centum greater than the preceding annual accrued liability payment, and that the aggregate liability payable by any employer shall be subject to such adjustment as may be necessary to organize and establish the retirement system.

(f) The accrued liability contribution shall be discontinued as soon as the accumulated reserve in the pension accumulation fund shall equal the present value, as actuarially computed and approved by the board of trustees, of the total liability of such fund less the present value, computed on the basis of the normal contribution rate then in force, of the prospective normal contributions to be received on account of all persons who are at that time members.

(g) All pensions, and benefits in lieu thereof, with the exception of those payable on account of members who received no prior service allowance, payable from contributions of employers, shall be paid from the pension accumulation fund.

(h) Upon the retirement of a member not entitled to credit for prior service, an amount equal to his pension reserve shall be transferred from the pension accumulation fund to the pension reserve fund.

(4) Pension Reserve Fund.—The pension reserve fund shall be the fund in which shall be held the reserves of all pensions granted to members not entitled to credit for prior service and from which such pensions and benefits in lieu thereof shall be paid. Should such a beneficiary retired on account of disability be restored to active service with a compensation not less than his average final compensation at the time of his last retirement the pension thereon shall be transferred from the pension reserve fund to the pension accumulation fund. Should the pension of such disability beneficiary be reduced as a result of an increase in his earning capacity, the amount to the annual reduction in his pension shall be paid annually into the pension accumulation fund during the period of such reduction.

(5) Expense Fund.—The expense fund shall be the fund from which the expenses of the administration of the retirement system shall be paid, exclusive of amounts payable as retirement allowances and as other benefits provided herein. Contribution shall be made to the expense fund as follows:

(a) The board of trustees shall determine annually the amount required to defray such administrative expenses for the ensuing fiscal year and shall adopt a budget in accordance therewith. The budget estimate of such expenses shall be paid to the expense fund from the pension accumulation fund.

(b) For the purpose of organizing the retirement system and establishing an office, the board of trustees may provide as a prerequisite to participation in the retirement system that each participating employer or employee or both shall pay an additional contribution to the retirement system for the expense fund not to exceed two dollars for each employee, such contribution of the employee to be credited to his individual account in the annuity savings fund at such later time as the board of trustees shall determine, and/or the board of trustees may borrow such amounts as may be necessary to organize and establish the retirement system.

(6) Collection of Contributions.—(1) The collection of members' contributions shall be as follows:

(a) Each employer shall cause to be deducted on each and every payroll of a member for each and every payroll subsequent to the date of participation in the retirement system the contributions payable by such member as provided in this article. Each employer shall certify to the treasurer of said employer on each and every payroll a statement as vouchers for the amount so deducted.

(b) The treasurer of each employer on the authority from the employer shall make deductions from salaries of members as provided in this article and shall transmit monthly, or at such time as the board of trustees shall designate, the amount specified to be deducted, to the secretary-treasurer of the board of trustees. The secretary-treasurer of the board of trustees after making a record of all such receipts shall deposit them in a bank or banks selected by said board of trustees for use according to the provisions of this article.

(2) The collections of employers' contributions shall be made as follows: Upon the basis of each actuarial valuation provided herein the board of trustees shall annually prepare and certify to each employer a statement of the total amount necessary for the ensuing fiscal year to the pension accumulation fund as provided under subsection three of this section (1939, c. 590, s. 10; 1941, c. 357, s. 8; 1943, c. 535.)

Editor's Note.—The 1941 amendment added the last sentence to paragraph (a) of subsection (1). It also made changes in the first sentence of paragraph (d) of subsection (1) by substituting "subsection (4) of section 128-23" for "the last sentence of section 128-24," inserting the word "local" twice and changing the date from 1941 to 1942.

The 1943 amendment substituted "forty-four" for "forty-two" in paragraph (d) of subsection (3).
§ 128-31 Exemptions from execution. — The right of a person to a pension, an annuity, or a retirement allowance, to the return of contributions, the pension, annuity, or retirement allowance itself, any optional benefit or any other right accrued or accruing to any person under the provisions of this article, and the monies in the various funds created by this article, are hereby exempt from any state or municipal tax, and except from levy and sale, garnishment, attachment, or any other process whatsoever, and shall be unassignable except as in this article specifically otherwise provided. No payment on account of any benefit granted under the provisions of § 128-27, subsections one to four inclusive, shall become effective or begin to accrue until the end of one year following the date the system is established nor shall any compulsory retirement be made during that period. Notwithstanding anything else to the contrary in this section, however, this article shall apply only to counties having a population of more than fifteen thousand inhabitants by the last preceding United States census and to municipalities. (1939, c. 390, s. 13.)

§ 128-35. Obligations of pension accumulation fund. — The maintenance of annuity reserves and pension reserves as provided for, and regular interest creditable to the various funds as provided in § 128-30, and the payment of all pensions, annuities, retirement allowances, refunds and other benefits granted under the provisions of this article, are hereby made obligations of the pension accumulation fund. All income, interest and dividends derived from deposits and investments authorized by this article shall be used for the payment of said obligations of the said fund. (1939, c. 390, s. 15.)

14. In its discretion, to provide necessary and adequate messenger service for the state departments and agencies for whom the board is required to furnish office or working space: Provided, that this shall not be construed to prevent the employment and control of messengers by any state department or agency when such messengers are compensated out of funds of said department or agency.

The tax shall be collected quarterly by the sheriff, as other taxes, and shall be paid by the sheriff directly to the treasurer of the state board of health.

It shall be the duty of the secretary of the state board of health when any person, firm or corporation is delinquent in the payment of taxes and penalties due the state board of health for a period of six months to notify the attorney general of such delinquency, stating the amount then due by said person, firm or corporation for taxes and penalties. It shall be the duty of the attorney general to immediately institute an action in the superior court of the county in which such delinquent person, firm or corporation for the collection of said delinquent taxes and penalties resides or is situated, and upon the final determination of said suit, the judgment rendered in favor of the state board of health shall be certified by the clerk of the superior court of the county to the county in which the delinquent taxpayer lives and/or conducts his business, and such judgment shall be a lien as like judgments and be enforced under the general law of the State: Provided, however, that when any delinquent taxpayer has entered into an agreement with the state board of health to pay up his delinquent taxes and penalties in installments and is paying them according to said agreement, that the secretary of the state board of health may or may not in his discretion notify the attorney general to bring an action as provided in this section. (Rev., s. 3057; 1905, c. 415; 1907, cc. 721, 884; 1911, c. 62, s. 36; 1935, c. 340; C. S. 7059.)

Duty of seller to make reports and transmit samples; penalties.—Every corporation, firm, or person selling water in the manner set forth in the preceding section shall file with the treasurer of the state board of health on the first day of January of each year an affidavit as to the gross amount received from sales of water for the previous calendar year, and upon this affidavit the tax for the current year shall be based. Failure to file such affidavit within the time prescribed shall subject the delinquent to a fine not in his discretion notify the attorney general to bring an action as provided in this section. Failure to file such affidavit within the time prescribed shall subject the corporation, firm, or person to double tax for the current year. Failure to transmit sample within five days after receipt of sterilized bottle or container from the laboratory of hygiene shall be a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall subject the delinquent to a fine of twenty-five dollars. Transportation charges, by mail, shall be paid by the sender; by express, by the laboratory. When deemed advisable, the laboratory of hygiene shall analyze samples purchased by it in the open market in lieu of those sent direct from the spring. (1911, c. 62, s. 36; C. S. 7060.)

§ 130-15. Nonresidents selling water.—Any person, firm, or corporation not a citizen of the state who shall sell or offer for sale any water in bottle or other package for consumption by the people of the state shall obtain a license from the treasurer of the state board of health and shall pay for said license the sum of sixty-four dollars per annum, or a less amount, equal to the tax paid by springs of the same class within the state, upon compliance with the conditions applying to them, payable in advance: Provided, that satisfactory evidence of purity furnished by the state hygienic laboratories of other states agreeing to reciprocate in the matter with this state shall be accepted in lieu of the license tax. (1911, c. 62, s. 36; C. S. 7061.)

When upon subsequent analysis the water shall be found to be no longer dangerous to health, a certificate thereof shall be furnished and paid for out of the county laboratory shall be furnished and paid for out of the county treasury. (1911, c. 62, s. 36; C. S. 7062.)

§ 130-17. Printing and stationery for laboratory.—The printing and stationery necessary for the laboratory shall be furnished and paid for out of the appropriation to the state board of health. (1911, c. 62, s. 36; 1919, c. 181, s. 14; 1917, c. 290, s. 1; 1919, c. 145, s. 23; C. S. 7063.)

Art. 3. County Organization.

§ 130-18. County board of health; organization: terms of members; chairman.—The chairman of the board of county commissioners, the mayor of the county town, and in county towns where there is no mayor the clerk of the superior court, and the county superintendent of schools shall meet together on the first Monday in April, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, and thereafter on the first Monday of January in the odd years of the calendar, and elect from the regularly registered physicians and dentists of the county two physicians and one dentist, who, with themselves, shall constitute the county board of health. The chairman of the board of county commissioners shall be the chairman of the county board of health, and the presence of three members at any regular or called meeting shall constitute a quorum. The term of office of members of the county board of health shall terminate on the first Monday in January in the odd years of the calendar, and while on duty the county may at its discretion pay them four ($4.00) dollars per diem, unless such board members are full time employees of the county or municipality located therein, in which event they shall receive no per diem compensation as member of the county board of health. (R. S., 2444; 1901, c. 245, s. 3; 1911, c. 62, s. 9; 1931, c. 149; 1941, c. 188; C. S. 7064.)

Local Modification.—Cumberland: 1915, c. 159; 1943, c. 91; Caldwell: 1939, c. 366; Moore: 1941, c. 326, s. 2; Nash: 1941, c. 6, s. 1.

Editor’s Note.—The Act of 1941 amended this section by placing a dentist on the board. This Act omitted the per diem to be paid by the county “appearing at the end of the sentence” appearing at the end of the Act of 1931. (1941, c. 326, s. 2.)

Act of De Facto Officers Cannot Be Upheld.—The acts of the Madison county board of health, created by ch. 332, Public-Local Laws of 1911, cannot be upheld on the ground that the fact of the particular act is not only the act of de jure officers, since a de jure board of health for the county had been properly constituted under this section. Sams v. Board of Com’rs, 217 N. C. 364, 7 S. E. (2d) 540.

§ 130-19. Duties of county board of health; meetings; expenses.—The county board of health shall have the immediate care and responsibility of the health interests of their county. They shall meet annually in the county town, and three members of the board are authorized to call a meeting of the board whenever in their opinion the public health interest of the county requires it. They shall make such rules and regulations, pay such fees and salary, and impose such penalties as in their judgment may be necessary to protect and advance the public health. All expenditures shall be approved by the board of county commissioners before being paid. (Rev., s. 4444; 1901, c. 245, s. 3; 1911, c. 62, s. 9; C. S. 7065.)

Limited Powers.—County boards of health and other administrative agencies, being creatures of statute, have only such powers as are conferred upon them by statute, either expressly or by necessary implication. Champion v. Vance County Board of Health, 221 N. C. 36, 100, 19 S. E. (2d) 239.

This section gives no power to tax, nevertheless, it indicates that a county board of health is a subordinate governmental agency which of necessity must derive funds either from the state or county, or both, with which to pay salaries or other expenditures required in carrying on the health program of the state. Champion v. Vance County Board of Health, 221 N. C. 36, 100, 19 S. E. (2d) 239.

Findings of Board Not Final.—The finding of the county board of health that the maintenance of a cemetery upon the watershed is a nuisance to the public health has not the same force as the positive declarations of statute, and it may be shown in answer to a notice to show cause why an injunction should not be continued to the final hearing that the particular acts or conditions applying to the cemetery did not constitute a nuisance entitling the plaintiff to injunctive relief. Board of Health v. Lewis, 196 N. C. 641, 146 S. E. 592.

§ 130-20. Violation of rules of county board a misdemeanor.—If any person shall violate the rules and regulations made by the board of health he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days. (Rev., s. 399.)
§ 130-21. To elect county physician or health officer.—The board of health shall meet on the first Monday of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, and thereafter on the second Monday of January in the odd years of the calendar, and elect either a county physician or a county health officer, whose tenure of service shall be terminable at the pleasure of the county board of health, and who shall serve thereafter until the second Monday in January of the odd years of the calendar. If the county board of health of any county shall not elect a county health officer within two calendar months of the time set in this section, the secretary of the state board of health shall appoint a registered physician, of good standing in the said county, to the office of county physician, who shall serve the remainder of the two years, and shall fix his compensation, to be paid by the said county, in proportion to the compensation paid by other counties for like service, having in view the amount of taxes collected by said county. (Rev. ss. 4444, 4446; 1897, c. 201, s. 1; 1901, c. 245, s. 3; 1911, c. 62, s. 9; 1913, c. 181, s. 1; 1915, cc. 214, 283; C. S. 7067.)

Local Modification.—Nash: 1941, c. 6, s. 2; c. 192.

§ 130-22. Duties of county health officer; non-performance a misdemeanor.—The duties of the county health officer shall be to devote his entire time to the county public-health work, and he shall perform the duties of county physician, the duties of quarantine officer, and the additional duties: he shall make a sanitary examination during the summer months of every public school building and grounds in the county, and no school committee or teacher shall make use of any school building or grounds until the county superintendent of health shall certify in writing that said building and grounds have been inspected and found to be in a satisfactory sanitary condition within four months of the date of the certificate. He shall examine every school child that has previously been examined by the teacher according to methods furnished to the teacher by the county superintendent of schools, and reported to said county superintendent of schools as probably defective in the condition of its eyes, ears, nose, or throat, and he shall further endeavor to have examined the faces of every child whom he suspects of having hookworm disease. He shall notify on blank forms and in accordance with instructions furnished by the state department of public instruction, every parent or guardian of a child having an ailment of the aforesaid organs, or hookworm disease, and he shall suggest to said parent or guardian the proper course of treatment and urge that such treatment be procured. He shall cooperate fully with the county board of education, the county superintendent of schools, and the teachers in the public schools, to the end that children may be better informed in regard to the importance of health and the methods of preventing disease. He shall, through the county press, public addresses, and in every available way, endeavor to educate the people of his county to set a higher value on health, and to adopt such public and private measures as will tend to a greater conservation of life. Any violation of this section shall constitute a misdemeanor, and shall subject the defendant to a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars. (1911, c. 62, s. 11; 1913, c. 181, s. 2; C. S. 7068.)

§ 130-23. Duties of county physician; may employ another physician.—The duties of the county physician shall be to make the medico-legal post-mortem examinations for the coroner's inquests, to make examination of lunatics for commitment, to render professional service to sick inmates of the convict camp, jail, and county home, upon request of the superintendent or keeper of these institutions, and to determine the nature of any particular disease, upon the request of the quarantine or deputy quarantine officer. The county physician shall have the right to employ any other regularly registered physician of his county, to perform any or all of the duties pertaining to the jail, county home, or convict camp, when in his judgment it is desirable to do so; but the terms under which such physician is employed by the county physician shall be approved by the board of county commissioners. (Rev. ss. 4445; 1901, c. 245, s. 3; 1911, c. 62, s. 11; 1913, c. 181, s. 2; C. S. 7069.)

Right to Delegate Duties.—A county superintendent of health has no right to delegate the performance of his official duties to others, so as to give his employees the right to make their services a county charge. Copple v. Commissioners, 138 N. C. 127, 50 S. E. 574.

Same—Care of Smallpox Patient.—Under Laws 1893, ch. 214, sec. 9, providing that contagious diseases shall be promptly quarantined by the county superintendent of health, the services rendered by a person infected with smallpox to a person afflicted with smallpox to a pethouse, taking his meals to him and attending to him continually during his sickness, is a legitimate county charge, where the patient is insolvent and the services were rendered by the direction of the superintendent of health. Copple v. Commissioners, 138 N. C. 127, 50 S. E. 574.

§ 130-24. County quarantine officer.—The election, term of office, and compensation of county quarantine officer are regulated as provided in article 14 of this chapter, entitled Infectious Diseases Generally. The county superintendent, county health officer, municipal physician, or municipal health officer shall be eligible to the position of quarantine officer. The county board of health shall arrange with the quarantine officer to accept and discharge the duties assigned in this chapter to him and any other duties relating to the control of infectious diseases which may be assigned to him by the county board of health.

The quarantine officer is charged with the enforcement of article 14 of this chapter, entitled Infectious Diseases Generally, and nothing herein contained shall interfere with the performance of his duties under that article. He shall faithfully enforce all laws pertaining to inland quarantine and disinfection and the rules and regulations governing these matters as prescribed by the local, county, or municipal boards of health, but any child or other person may remain in the custody and care of parents or family.

The quarantine of ports shall not be interfered with, but the officers of the local state boards shall render all aid in their power to quarantine officers in the discharge of their duties.

The failure of the quarantine officer to perform the duties imposed in this section shall be a misdemeanor, and he shall be punished for each offense, except as otherwise specifically provided, by a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars. (1911, c. 62, ss. 18, 20; C. S. 7070.)

§ 130-25. Abatement of nuisances.—Whenever and wherever a nuisance shall exist which in the opinion of the county physician or county health officer is dangerous to the public health, it shall be his duty to notify in writing the parties responsible for its continuance, of the character of the nuisance and the means of abating it. Upon this notification, the parties shall proceed to abate the nuisance: Provided, however, that if the party notified shall make oath or affirmation before a justice of the peace of his or her inability to carry out the directions of the county physician or county health officer, it shall be done at the expense of the town, city, or county in which the offender lives. In the latter case the limit of the expense chargeable to the city, town, or county shall not be more than one thousand dollars in any case: Provided further, that nothing in this section shall be construed to give the county physician or county health officer the power to destroy or injure property without a due process of law as now exists for the abatement of nuisances. (Rev., s. 4450; 1893, c. 214, s. 22; 1911, c. 62, s. 12; 1913, c. 181, s. 3; C. S. 7071.)

Sufficient Evidence of a Nuisance.—Evidence that a stable is within four feet of a dwelling house, and because of its filth and malodors the inhabitants of the house were unable to eat, and the health officer has given notice to abate the nuisance, is sufficient to convict under this section, and sufficient to sustain a fine under sec. 130-26. State v. Wilkes, 170 N. C. 225, 87 S. E. 66.

Power to Burn Dwellings.—Neither town nor county commissioners have authority under this section to burn a residence house to prevent the spread of contagious and infectious diseases. But in case they exceed their authority and burn a house no action will lie against them, in their official capacity, their liability, if any, is personal. Prichard v. Board, 126 N. C. 908, 36 S. E. 353. This is a specific application of the general rule that a municipality is not liable for the torts committed by its agents or officers.

§ 130-26. Failure to abate nuisance after notice misdemeanor.—If any person, firm, corporation or municipality responsible for the existence and continuance of a nuisance, after being duly notified in writing by the county physician or county health officer to abate said nuisance, shall fail to abate the same for twenty-four hours after such notice prescribed, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined two dollars a day as long as said nuisance remains. (Rev., s. 3448; 1893, c. 214, s. 22; 1911, c. 62, s. 13; 1913, c. 181, s. 3; C. S. 7072.)

§ 130-27. Certain nuisances in seaport towns.—All ponds of stagnant water, all cellars and foundations of buildings, whose bottoms contain stagnant and putrid water; all dead and putrefied animals lying about docks, streets, lanes, alleys, vacant lots, or yards; all privies that have no wells sunk under them; all slaughter-houses, all docks whose bottoms are alternately wet and dry by the ebbing and flowing of the tide, all accumulations of vegetable and animal substances undergoing putrefactive fermentation, in any of the seaport towns of the state, are declared common nuisances, productive of offensive vapors and noxious exhalations, the causes of disease, and ought to be restrained, regulated, and removed. (Rev., s. 4462; Code, s. 2907; R. C., c. 94, s. 15; 1815, c. 893, s. 1; C. S. 7073.)

§ 130-28. Duty of owners of sunken lots in seaport towns; penalty.—Every person possessed of a lot in any seaport town, which from its low or sunken situation is liable to retain tide or rain water, or on which cellars or foundations for buildings may be dug (whether a tenement be erected over the same or not), shall during the months of June, July, August, September, and October, preserve and keep the said lot, cellars, and foundations dry and free from stagnant or putrid water and other filth; and any person offending herein shall forfeit and pay five dollars for the use of the town for every week he shall suffer such stagnant or putrid water or other filth to remain therein. And if the said owner shall, notwithstanding the above provisions, neglect to remove such stagnant or putrid water or other filth, the commissioner of the town may employ any person, upon such terms as to them may seem reasonable and just, to remove such filth or stagnant or putrid waters; and the expense shall be considered as a further fine for not complying with this section, and shall be collected accordingly, and shall also be a lien upon the lot upon which the same has been expended. (Rev., s. 4461; Code, s. 2908; R. C., c. 94, s. 16; 1815, c. 893, s. 2; C. S. 7074.)

§ 130-29. County commissioners may levy special tax to protect health.—The board of county commissioners of each county is hereby authorized at any time to levy a special tax, to be expended under the direction of a committee composed of the chairman of the board of county commissioners and the county health officer of county physician for the preservation of the public health. (Rev., s. 4455; C. S. 7075.)

Establishing Public Hospitals.—This section should be construed in connection with the sections of Chapter 131, as to the maintenance of permanent public hospitals, and retains that the question of establishing such hospitals, shall have the approval of the voters of the county in accordance to the methods and in the manner specified by the statute. Armstrong v. Board, 185 N. C. 465, 117 S. E. 388.

Maintenance of Public Welfare Departments.—No authority is given by this section to levy a special tax for the Art. 4. Joint Health Departments.

§ 130-30. Appropriations for joint city and county health departments.—The governing authorities of all cities, towns and counties of North Carolina shall have the power and authority to appropriate annually and from time to time public moneys for the maintenance and operation of boards of health which have heretofore been created and are existing as joint city and county boards of health, and to appropriate annually and from time to time public funds for the purchase, acquisition, erection, maintenance, alteration and repair of a building or buildings necessary to house and quarter such joint county and city health department, and to levy special taxes therefor, for which the special approval of the general assembly is hereby given. (1941, c. 296.)

Art. 5. Municipal Organization.

§ 130-31. Municipal physician or health officer; municipal regulations.—The authorities of any city or town, not already authorized in its charter, are hereby authorized to elect a municipal physician or municipal health officer whenever in their judgment municipal health would be improved thereby, and to make such regulations, pay such fees and salaries, and impose such penalties as in their judgment may be necessary for the protection and the advancement of the public health. (Rev., s. 4454; 1893, c. 214, s. 25; 1911, c. 62, s. 14; 1913, c. 181, s. 4; C. S. 7076.)

§ 130-32. Duties of the municipal physician or health officer; enforcement.—The duties of the municipal physician within the jurisdiction of the town or city for which he is elected shall be identical with those of the county physician for the county, with the exception of the duties of the county physician pertaining to the jail, convict camp, and county home. The authorities of any city or town shall have the power to assign the duties of quarantine officers to the municipal physician or health officer, and in such cases the municipal health officer shall faithfully perform the duties of the quarantine officers as prescribed in this chapter, and shall be subject to the penalties provided for the refusal or nonperformance of such duties. If the physician is employed to devote his entire time to the public health interests of his town or city, he shall be known as the municipal health officer, and shall discharge all duties pertaining to the public schools of his town or city which were assigned in this chapter to the county health officer, and such other duties as may be assigned him by the municipal board of health.

Any one violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and subject to a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars. (Rev., s. 4509; 1893, c. 214, s. 9; 1911, c. 62, s. 15; 1913, c. 181, s. 3; C. S. 7077.)

§ 130-33. Creation by state board of health.—For the purpose of preserving and promoting the public health and welfare the State Board of Health may, as hereinafter provided, create sanitary districts without regard for county, township or municipal lines: Provided, however, that no municipal corporation or any part of the territory in a municipal corporation shall be included in a sanitary district except at the request of the governing board of such municipal corporation. (1927, c. 100, s. 1.)

Local Modification.—Caswell: 1939, c. 3, ss. 1, 2; 1941, c. 89; 1941, c. 287; Moore: 1939, c. 3, ss. 3.

§ 130-34. Incorporation; petition from freeholders.—Such sanitary district shall be incorporated as hereinafter set out. Fifty one per cent or more of the resident freeholders within the proposed district may petition the board of county commissioners of the county in which all or the major portion of the proposed district is located setting forth the boundaries of the proposed sanitary district and the objects it is proposed to accomplish. Upon receipt of such petition the board of county commissioners, if the same is approved by them, shall, through its chairman, transmit the petition to the State Board of Health requesting that the proposed sanitary district be created. Provided, however, that the board or county commissioners before passing upon said petition shall hold a public hearing upon the same and shall give prior notice of such hearing by advertising to be made by posting a notice at the court-house door of their county and also by publication in a newspaper published in said county at least once a week for four successive weeks; and in the event such hearing is to be before a joint meeting of the boards of county commissioners of more than one county, or in the event the land to be affected lies in more than one county, then in either of such events a like publication of notice shall be made and given in each of said counties. (1927, c. 100, ss. 2, 3.)

Withdrawal of names from petition.—Signers of a petition for the creation of a sanitary district under this article are entitled as a matter of right to withdraw their names from the petition at any time before action is taken on the petition by the county commissioners on the question of approval, and when petitioners withdraw their names the number of signers to less than 51% of the resident freeholders within the proposed district the board of county commissioners is without jurisdiction and its approval of the petition may be enjoined. Idell v. Hanes, 219 N. C. 723, 14 S. E. (2d) 801.

§ 130-35. State board of health to hold public hearing.—The State Board of Health shall name a time and place within the proposed district at which the State Board of Health, through a representative, shall hold a public hearing concerning the creation of the proposed sanitary district. The State Board of Health shall cause at least twenty days' notice to be given of the time and place of such hearing by publishing this information at least five times in a newspaper or newspapers published in or near the proposed district and having a general circulation therein. In the event that all matters pertaining to the creation of this sanitary district cannot be concluded at the hearing, any such hearing may be continued at a time and place named by the representative of the State Board of Health. (1927, c. 100, s. 4.)

shall deem it advisable to comply with the request of said petition and that a district for the purpose or purposes therein stated should be created and established, the State Board of Health shall adopt a resolution to that effect, defining the boundaries of such district and declaring the territory within such boundaries to be a sanitary district; Provided, however, that any industrial plant and its contiguous village shall be included within or excluded from the area embraced within such sanitary district as expressed in the application of the person, persons or corporation owning or controlling such industrial plant and its contiguous village, said application to be filed with the State Board of Health on or before the date of the public hearing as hereinbefore provided. Each district when created shall be identified by a name or number assigned by the State Board of Health. (1927, c. 100, s. 5.)

§ 130-37. Election and terms of office of sanitary district boards.—The State Board of Health shall cause copies of the resolution adopted creating the sanitary district to be sent to the board or boards of county commissioners of the county or counties in which all or parts of the territory within the district is located, whereupon the said board or boards of county commissioners shall hold a meeting or joint meeting for the purpose of electing a sanitary district board of three members, freeholders within the district, which shall thereafter be the governing body of the sanitary district. At this meeting or joint meeting of said board or boards of county commissioners shall serve until their successors are elected and qualified. At the next general election following said appointment by the board of county commissioners candidates for said district board shall be elected in the primary and elected at said general election as are county officers except that the nomination and election shall be confined to said district.

When more than six candidates qualify for a primary, then the six candidates receiving the highest number of votes in the primary shall be nominated as candidates to be elected in the general election, and the three candidates receiving the highest number of votes in the general election shall be elected as members of said sanitary district board. When six or less candidates qualify for the primary, then each shall be declared to be a candidate in the general election without their names being voted upon in the primary. The primary and general election shall be nonpartisan, and each shall be conducted by the board of elections in the county in which the sanitary district is located. The said board of elections is authorized and empowered to cause a special election to be held at such time or times as it may designate, if necessary to break a tie between any candidates in the primary or general election: Provided that this paragraph shall apply only to sanitary districts located wholly within the limits of a single county, and which adjoin and are contiguous to cities having a population of fifty thousand or more. The members of the board so nominated and elected shall be residents of the district. They shall qualify by taking the oaths of office on the first Monday in December following their election. The term of office shall be two years and until their successors qualify. (1927, c. 100, s. 6; 1943, c. 602.)

Editor's Note.—The 1941 amendment added the matter contained in the second paragraph.

§ 130-38. Vacancy appointments to district boards.—Hereafter any vacancy that may exist in any sanitary district board of any sanitary district of the State for any cause shall be filled by the county commissioners of the county in which said sanitary district may be situate. (1935, c. 357, s. 2.)

§ 130-39. Corporate powers.—When a sanitary district is organized as herein provided the sanitary district board selected under the provisions of this article shall be a body politic and corporate and as such may sue and be sued in matters relating to such sanitary district. In addition, such board shall have the following powers:

1. Under the supervision of the state board of health to acquire, construct, maintain and operate a sewerage system, sewage disposal or treatment plant, water supply system, water purification or treatment plant or such other utilities as may be necessary for the preservation and promotion of the public health and sanitary welfare within the district.

2. To issue certificates of indebtedness against the district in the manner hereinafter provided.

3. To issue bonds of the district in the manner hereinafter provided.

4. To cause taxes to be levied and collected upon all the taxable property within the district sufficient to meet the obligations of the district evidenced by bonds, certificates of indebtedness and revenue anticipation notes issued against the district and to pay all obligations incurred by the district in the performance of all of its lawful undertakings.

5. To acquire, either by purchase, condemnation or otherwise and hold real and personal property, easements, rights-of-way and water rights in the name of the district within and/or without the corporate limits of the district, necessary or convenient for the construction or maintenance of the works of the district.

6. To employ such engineers, counsel and other such persons as may be necessary to carry into effect any projects undertaken and to fix compensation thereof.

7. To negotiate and enter into agreement with the owners of existing water supplies, sewerage systems or other such utilities as may be necessary to carry into effect the intent of this article.

8. To formulate rules and regulations necessary for proper functioning of the works of the district.

9. (a) To contract with any person, firm, corporation, city, town, village or political subdivision of the state both within and/or without the corporate limits of the district to supply raw water without charge to said person, firm, corporation, city, town, village or political subdivision of the state in consideration of said person, firm, corporation, city, town, village or political subdivision permitting the contamination of its source of water supply by discharging sewage therein and to construct all improvements necessary or con-
§ 130-40. Organization of board. — Upon election a sanitary district board shall meet and elect one of its members as chairman, and another member as secretary. Each member of the board may receive a per diem compensation of five dollars when actually engaged in the business of the district payable from the funds of the district. The board may employ a clerk, stenographer, or such other assistance as may be necessary and may fix the duties and compensation thereof.

A sanitary district board may at any time remove any of its employees and may fill any vacancies however arising. (1927, c. 100, s. 8.)

§ 130-41. Power to condemn property. — When, in the opinion of the sanitary district board, it is necessary to procure real estate, right-of-way or easement within and/or without the corporate limits of the district for any of the improvements authorized by this article, they may purchase the same or if the board and the owner or owners thereof are unable to agree upon its purchase and sale, or the amount of damage to be awarded therefor, the board may condemn such real estate, right-of-way or easement within and/or without the corporate limits of the district and in so doing the ways, means and method and procedure of chapter 40 entitled “eminent domain” shall apply. Section 40-10 shall not, however, be applicable to such condemnation proceedings. In the event the owner or owners shall appeal from the report of the commissioners, it shall not be necessary for the sanitary board to deposit the money assessed with the clerk, but it may proceed and use the property to be condemned until the final determination of the action. (1927, c. 100, s. 9; 1933, c. 8, s. 3.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws 1933, c. 8, inserted the § 130-42. Construction of systems by corporations or individuals.—Whenever a corporation or the residents of any locality within the sanitary district shall desire a water supply, sewerage system or any part thereof and the sanitary district board shall deem it inadvisable or impracticable at that time, due to remoteness from its general system or other cause, for the sanitary district to build such system, such corporation or residents may nevertheless build and operate such system at its or their own expense but it shall be constructed and operated under plans, specifications and regulations approved by the district board. (1927, c. 100, s. 10.)

§ 130-43. Reports.—Upon the election of any sanitary district board it shall become the duty of the board to employ competent engineers to make a report or reports on the problems of the sanitary district, which report or reports shall be prepared and filed with the sanitary district board. Such report or reports shall embrace the following:
1. Suitable comprehensive maps showing the boundaries of the sanitary district and in a general way the location of the various parts of the work that is proposed to be done and such information as may be useful for a thorough understanding of the proposed undertaking.
2. A general description of existing facilities for carrying out the objects of the district.
3. A general description of the various plans which might be adopted for accomplishment of the objects of the district.
4. General plans and specifications for such work.
5. General descriptions of property it is proposed to be acquired or which may be damaged in carrying out the work.
6. Comparative detail estimates of cost for the various construction plans.
7. Recommendations. (1927, c. 100, s. 11.)

§ 130-44. Consideration of reports by sanitary district board.—The report or reports filed by the engineers shall be given careful consideration by the sanitary district board for adoption of a plan which they approve. If deemed advisable by the sanitary district board they may hold a public hearing, giving due and ample notice of the time and place thereof, for the purpose of considering objections to carrying out of the work according to the plan adopted by them. (1927, c. 100, s. 12.)

§ 130-45. Resolution after adoption of plan. —After final approval of the plan adopted the sanitary district board shall adopt a resolution setting forth:
1. A general outline of the work that is proposed to be done.
2. A reference to the engineer's report for details as to the plan adopted.
3. The amount of bonds that the board proposes to issue to cover the cost of doing the proposed work.
4. The form and term of the proposed bonds and the interest rate thereon.

The resolution shall, immediately after adoption, be published at least three times in one or more newspapers having a general circulation within the district. (1927, c. 100, s. 13.)

§ 130-46. Call for election. — Following the adoption of the resolution by the sanitary district board the said board shall call upon the board or boards of county commissioners in the county or counties in which the district or any portion thereof is located to name election officers, set date, name polling places, and cause to be held an election within the district on the proposition of issuing bonds to provide funds for doing the work as set forth in the resolution adopted by the sanitary board. If, at such election the majority of the registered voters vote in favor of incurring the indebtedness as proposed, the district board shall issue and sell bonds for the amount set forth in the resolution. Should the proposition of issuing bonds submitted at any election as provided under this article fail to receive the required number of votes, the sanitary district board may, at any time after the expiration of six months, cause another election to be held for the same objects and purposes or for any other objects and purposes. The expenses of holding bond election shall be paid from the funds of the sanitary district.

The board of commissioners of the county in which said sanitary district is located, if wholly located in a single county, may in their discretion at any special election held under the provisions of this article make the whole sanitary district a voting precinct, or may create therein one or more voting precincts as to them seems best to suit the convenience of voters, the said precinct not to be the general election precinct unless the boundaries of the sanitary district are co-terminal with one or more whole general election precincts. If said sanitary district is located in more than one county, the election precincts thereof shall be fixed by the board of the particular county in which the portion of the sanitary district is located.

The said board or boards of commissioners shall provide registration and polling books for each precinct in the sanitary district, the cost of the same to be paid from the funds of the sanitary district. The notice of the election shall be given by publication at least three times in some newspaper published or circulated in the district. It shall set forth the boundary lines of the district and the amount of bonds proposed to be issued. The first publication shall be at least thirty days before the election. At the first election after the organization of the sanitary district, a new registration of the qualified voters within the same shall be ordered and notice of such new registration shall be deemed to be sufficiently given if given by publication once in some newspaper published or circulated in said district at least thirty days before the close of the registration books. The notice of registration may be considered one of the three notices required of the election. Time of such registration shall as near as may be conform with that of the registration of voters in municipal elections as provided in § 160-37. The published notice of registration shall state the days on which the books shall be open for registration of voters and place or places on which they will be open on Saturdays. The books of such new registration shall close on the second Saturday before the election. The Saturday before the election shall be a challenge day and except as otherwise provided in this article, such election shall be held in accordance with the law governing general elections.

The ballots to be used and the manner of voting shall conform to the provisions of Chapter 184, Public Laws of 1929. After the election and after the vote has been counted, canvassed and returned to the board or boards of county commissioners, the election books shall be deposited in the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court as polling books for the particular sanitary district involved. At any subsequent election, whether upon the recall of an officer as provided in § 130-53 or for an additional bond issue in the particular district, a new registration may or may not be ordered as may be determined by the board of county commissioners interested in said election. (1927, c. 100, s. 14.)

§ 130-47. Bonds.—The sanitary district board shall, subject to the provisions of this article, and under competent legal and financial advice prescribe by resolution the form of bonds and the interest coupons attached thereto, the denominations of the bonds and the date and place at which they shall become payable. These bonds shall not be sold at less than par nor bear an interest rate in excess of six per cent. The bonds shall be signed by the chairman and secretary of the sanitary district board, and the seal of the board shall be affixed thereto. In the event coupons are issued, the coupons thereof may be signed by the secretary alone, or he may have lithographed, engraved, or printed thereon a facsimile of his signature. The proceeds from the sale of such bonds shall be placed in a bank in the State of North Carolina to the credit of the sale of such bonds shall be placed in a bank. (1927, c. 100, s. 14.)

Constitutionality.—The validity of this article is not affected by the provisions that certain industrial enterprises and villages situate therein may be excluded upon application of the owners. Drysdale v. Prudden, 195 N. C. 722, 143 S. E. 530.

This article constitutes a general law of Statewide application relating to health, and is valid. Drysdale v. Prudden, 195 N. C. 722, 143 S. E. 530.

Bonds Valid as General Tax.—Bonds issued by a sanitary district formed in accordance with this article, are a valid obligation, and binding upon the property within the district as a general tax and not an assessment of property according to benefits received. Drysdale v. Prudden, 195 N. C. 722, 143 S. E. 530.

Differentiating between Property Benefited and Not Benefited.—Bonds issued by a sanitary district for sewerage and a water supply, under the provision of this article, will not be declared invalid because not differentiating between property benefited and not benefited when the vote thereon is unanimously voted for their issuance, and having full notice and opportunity to do so, no one appeared to make objection on that ground. Drysdale v. Prudden, 195 N. C. 722, 143 S. E. 722.

§ 130-48. Additional bonds. — Whenever the proceeds from the sale of bonds issued by any district as in this article authorized shall have been expended or contracted to be expended and the sanitary district board shall determine that the interest or necessity of the district demands that additional bonds are necessary for carrying out any of the objects of the district, the board may again proceed as in this article provided to have an election held for the issuance of such additional bonds and the issue and sale of such bonds and the expenditure of the proceeds therefrom shall be carried out as hereinbefore provided. In the event the proceeds from the sale of the bonds shall be in excess of the amount necessary to complete the costs of the completed works of the district and pay the interest and principal due on said bonds before the placing into service of the works of the district and the collection of taxes levied or to be levied for that purpose, then the sanitary district board shall be required to purchase with said surplus, at par and accrued interest, any part of the outstanding issue of said bonds. (1927, c. 100, s. 16; 1933, c. 8, s. 4.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 8, added last sentence of this section as it now appears.

§ 130-49. Valuation of property; determining annual revenue needed. — Upon the creation of a sanitary district and after each assessment for taxes thereafter the board or boards of county commissioners of the county or counties in which the sanitary district is located shall file with the sanitary district board the valuation of assessable property within the district. The sanitary district board shall then determine the amount of funds to be raised for the ensuing year in excess of the funds available from surplus operating revenues set aside as provided in § 130-52 to provide payment of interest and the proportionate part of the principal of all outstanding bonds, and retire all outstanding certificates of indebtedness, revenue anticipation notes issued against the district and to pay all obligations incurred by the district in the performance of its lawful undertakings.

The sanitary district board shall determine the number of cents per $100 necessary to raise the said amount and so certify to the board or boards of county commissioners. The board or boards of county commissioners in their next annual levy shall include the number of cents per $100 so certified by the sanitary district board in the levy against all taxable property within the district, which tax shall be collected as other county taxes are collected and every ninety days the amount of tax so collected shall be remitted to the sanitary district board and deposited by said board in a bank in the State of North Carolina separately from other funds of the district. Said bank, however, before said funds are deposited in it is to execute a proper surety bond as described in § 130-47 for the proper care and disbursement of and accounting for said taxes.

The sanitary district board of any sanitary district, in lieu of collecting the taxes in the manner as hereinbefore provided, may cause to be Listed by all the taxpayers residing within the district with the person designated by the district board, all the taxable property located with—in the district, and after determining the amount of funds to be raised for the ensuing year in excess of the funds available from surplus operating revenues set aside as provided in § 130-52 to provide payment of interest and the proportionate part of the principal of all outstanding bonds, certificates of indebtedness, revenue anticipation notes issued against the district and to pay all obligations incurred by the district in the performance of all of its lawful undertakings, to determine the number of cents per one hundred ($100.00) dollars necessary to raise said amount. The said sanitary district board in its next annual levy shall levy against all taxable property in the district the number of cents per one hundred ($100.00) dollars necessary to raise the amount with which to pay the obligations of the district, including principal and interest on bonds, certificates of indebtedness, revenue anticipation notes and other lawful obligations of the district, which tax shall be collected in the same manner as taxes of other political sub-divisions of the State of North Carolina are collected by a tax collector, to be selected by the sanitary district board of the sanitary district electing to assess, levy and collect its taxes in the manner herein provided. The tax collector selected by said sanitary district board and the depository, in which said taxes so collected are deposited, shall qualify in the same manner and give the necessary surety bonds as are required of tax collectors and depositories of county funds in the county or counties in which said sanitary districts are located.

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1935 added the clause beginning with the word "revenue" to the last sentence of the first paragraph of this section and added the last paragraph in its entirety.

§ 130-50. Certificates of indebtedness in anticipation of taxes; loans under Local Government Act.—A sanitary district board may issue certificates of indebtedness in anticipation of the levy and collection of taxes to cover any or all expenses incurred by the board incident to the purchase of materials for the work undertaken by the district. As the necessity arises the sanitary district board may borrow money under the provisions of the Local Government Act, for the purpose of paying appropriations made for the current fiscal year in anticipation of the collection of the taxes and other revenues of such fiscal year, payable at such time or times, not later than thirty days after the expiration of the current fiscal year, as the governing board may fix. No such loan shall be made if the amount thereof, together with the amount of similar previous loans remaining unpaid, shall exceed fifty per cent of the amount of uncollected taxes and other revenue for the fiscal year in which the loan is made, as estimated by the chief financial officer and certified in writing by him to the governing body.

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1935 added the last paragraph of this section relative to loans under local government act.

§ 130-51. Engineers to provide plans and supervise work; bids.—The sanitary district board shall retain competent engineers to provide detail plans and specifications and to supervise the doing of the work undertaken by the district. As determined by the sanitary district board, such work or any portion thereof, may be done by the sanitary district board purchasing the material and letting a contract for the doing of the work or by letting a contract for furnishing all the material and the doing of the work.

Any contract shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder submitting a sealed bid in response to a notice calling for such bid and published at least five times over a period of at least fifteen days in a newspaper or newspapers having a general circulation within the county or counties in which the district is located.

On the first day of each month the person, firm, or corporation selling caskets shall report to the state registrar each sale for the preceding month, on a blank provided for that purpose. But persons, firms, or corporations selling caskets to dealers or undertakers only shall be required to keep such record, nor shall such report be required from undertakers when they have direct charge of the disposition of a dead body. Every person, firm, or corporation selling a casket at retail, and not having charge of the disposition of the body, shall enclose within the casket a notice furnished by the state registrar, calling attention to the requirements of the law, a blank certificate of death, and the rules and regulations of the state board of health concerning the burial or other disposition of a dead body. (1913, c. 109, s. 9; C. S. 7097.)

§ 130-83. Permit for burial in state.—If the interment, or other disposition of the body is to be made within the state, the wording of the burial or removal permit may be limited to a statement by the registrar, over his signature, that a satisfactory certificate of death having been filed with him, as required by law, permission is granted to inter, remove, or dispose otherwise of the body, stating the name, age, sex, cause of death, and other necessary details upon the form prescribed by the state registrar. (1913, c. 109, s. 10; C. S. 7098.)

§ 130-84. Interment without permit forbidden.—No person in charge of any premises in which interments are made shall inter or permit the interment or other disposition of any body unless it is accompanied by a burial, removal, or transit permit, as herein provided. Such person shall endorse upon the permit the date of interment, over his signature, and shall return all permits so endorsed to the local registrar of his district within ten days from the date of interment. He shall also keep a record of all bodies interred or otherwise disposed of on the premises under his charge, in each case stating the name of each deceased person, place of death, date of burial or disposal, and name and address of the undertaker; which record shall at all times be open to official inspection. When burying a body in a cemetery or burial ground having no person in charge, the undertaker, or person acting as such, shall sign the burial or removal permit, giving the date of burial, and shall write across the face of the permit the words "No person in charge," and file the burial or removal permit within ten days with the registrar of the district in which the cemetery is located. (1913, c. 109, s. 11; C. S. 7099.)

§ 130-85. Registration of births.—The birth of every child born in this state shall be registered as hereinafter provided. (1913, c. 109, s. 12; C. S. 7100.)

§ 130-86. Birth certificate to be filed within five days.—Within five days after the date of each birth there shall be filed with the local registrar of the district in which the birth occurred a certificate of such birth, which certificate shall be upon the form adopted by the state board of health with a view of procuring a full and accurate report with respect to each item of information enumerated in § 130-89. Where a physician, midwife, or person acting as midwife, was in attendance upon the birth, it shall be the duty of such person to file the required certificate. Where there was no physician, midwife, or person acting as midwife, in attendance upon the birth, it shall be the duty of the father or mother of the child, the householder or owner of the premises where the birth occurred, or the manager or superintendent of the public or private institution where the birth occurred, each in the order named, within five days after the date of the birth, to report the fact to the local registrar. In such case and in case the physician, midwife, or person acting as midwife, in attendance is unable, by diligent inquiry, to obtain any of the items specified in the following section, it is the duty of the local registrar to secure from the person reporting the birth, or from any other person who knows the facts, information to enable him to prepare the required certificate of birth, and it is the duty of the person questioned to answer correctly to the best of his knowledge all such questions, and to verify his statement by his signature, when requested to do so by the local registrar. (1913, c. 109, s. 13; 1915, c. 85, s. 1; C. S. 7101.)

§ 130-87. Registration of birth certificate more than five days and less than four years after birth.  Any birth may be registered more than five days and less than four years after birth in the same manner as births are registered under this article within five days of birth. Such registration shall have the same force and effect as if the registration had occurred within five days of birth: Provided, such registration shall not relieve any person of criminal liability for the failure to register such birth within five days of birth as required under § 130-86.

§ 130-88. Registration of birth certificate four years or more after birth.—The state board of health is authorized to promulgate rules and regulations under which any birth which has not been registered with the bureau of vital statistics within four years after birth, as provided in § 130-86 or 130-87, may be registered with the register of deeds of the county in which the birth occurred: Provided, such registration shall not relieve any person of criminal liability for the failure to register such birth within five days of birth as required under § 130-86. Each such birth must be registered in duplicate on forms approved by the state registrar, the register of deeds shall forward the original and duplicate certificate to the bureau of vital statistics for final approval. If the certificate complies with the rules and regulations of the state board of health and has not been previously registered, the state registrar shall file the original and return the duplicate to the register of deeds for recording.

Certificates registered with the register of deeds under this section shall contain the date of the delayed filing and be distinctly marked "Delayed," and those altered after being filed shall contain the date of alteration and be distinctly marked "Altered."

All copies of birth certificates registered under the provisions of this section, properly certified by the state registrar, shall have the same evidentiary value as those registered within five days after birth.

The register of deeds shall receive a fee of fifty cents for each registration, to be paid by the registrant. (1941, c. 126.)

§ 130-90. Validation of irregular registration of birth certificates.—The registration and filing with the bureau of vital statistics of the birth certificate of any person whose birth has not been registered within five days of birth under § 130-86 is hereby validated. All copies of birth certificates filed prior to April 9, 1941, properly certified by the state registrar, shall have the same evidentiary value as if the birth had been registered within five days of such birth as provided by § 130-86. (1941, c. 126.)

§ 130-91. Blank furnished for report of name.—When any certificate of birth of a living child is presented without the statement of the given name, then the local registrar shall make out and deliver to the parents of the child a special blank for the supplemental report of the given name, as hereinafter provided. (1913, c. 109, s. 16; C. S. 7103.)

§ 130-92. Institutions to keep records of inmates.—All superintendents or managers, or other persons in charge of hospitals, almshouses, lying-in or other institutions, public or private, to which persons resort for treatment of disease, confinement, or are committed by process of law, shall make a record of all the personal and statistical particulars relative to the inmates in their institutions at the date of approval of this article, which are required in the forms of the certificates provided for by this article, as directed by the state registrar; and thereafter such record shall be, by them, made for all future inmates at the time of their admittance. In case of persons admitted or committed for treatment of disease, the physician in charge shall specify for entry in the record the nature of the disease, and where, in his opinion, it was contracted. The personal particulars and information required by this section shall be obtained from the individual himself if it is practicable to do so; and when they cannot be so obtained, they shall be obtained in as complete a manner as possible from relatives, friends, or other persons acquainted with the facts. (1913, c. 109, s. 16; C. S. 7104.)

Editor's Note.—See note 13 N. C. Law Rev., 326, 328, on "Admissibility of Medical Records in Evidence."

§ 130-93. Certificate of identification in lieu of birth certificate where parentage cannot be established.—A certificate of identification for a foundling child whose parentage cannot be established shall be filed with the local registrar of vital statistics of the district in which the child was found by the juvenile court which determines that the child is a foundling. This certificate of identification shall contain such information and be in such form as the state board of health may prescribe and shall serve in lieu of a birth certificate. (1941, c. 297, s. 3.)

§ 130-94. State registrar to supply blanks; to perfect and preserve birth certificates.—The state registrar shall prepare, have printed, and supply to all registrars all blanks and forms used in registering, recording, and preserving the relevant number of births, as hereinafter provided. (1913, c. 109, s. 14; C. S. 7102.)

Editor's Note.—The 1941 amendment inserted that part of this section beginning with the proviso following the fourth sentence and extending down to, but not including, the last paragraph.
§ 130-95. To inform registrar as to dangerous diseases.—He shall inform all registrars what diseases are to be considered infectious, contagious, or communicable and dangerous to the public health, as decided by the state board of health, in order that when deaths occur from such diseases proper precautions may be taken to prevent their spread. (1913, c. 109, s. 17; C. S. 7106.)

§ 130-96. Birth certificate as evidence.—At the expiration of five years after the ratification of this article, certified copies of birth registration certificates shall be accepted by public school authorities in this state as prima facie evidence of age of children registering for school attendance, and to other proof shall be required. At the expiration of fourteen years from the passage of this article certified copies of birth registration certificates shall be required by all factory inspectors, and employers of youthful labor, as prima facie proof of age, and no other proof shall be required from children born in this state or states which for fourteen years previous to the date of such certificate have had registration laws essentially identical with this article. When, however, it is not possible to secure such certified copy of birth registration certificate for any child, the school authorities and factory inspectors may accept as secondary proof of age any competent evidence by which the age of persons is usually established. (1913, c. 109, s. 17; C. S. 7107.)

§ 130-97. Church and other records filed and indexed; fees for transcript.—If any cemetery company or association, or any church or historical society or association, or any other corporation, society, or association, or any individual, is in possession of any record of births or deaths which may be of value in establishing the genealogy of any resident of this state, such company, society, association, or individual may file such record or a duly authenticated transcript thereof with the state registrar, and it shall be the duty of the state registrar to preserve such record or transcript and to make a record and index thereof in such form as to facilitate the finding of any information contained therein. Such record and index shall be open to inspection by the public, subject to such reasonable conditions as the state registrar may prescribe. If any person desires a transcript of any record filed in accordance herewith, the state registrar shall furnish the same upon application, together with a certificate that it is a true copy of such record, as filed in his office, and for his services in so furnishing such transcript and certificate he shall be entitled to a fee of (fifty cents per hour or fraction of an hour necessarily consumed in making such transcript) and to a fee of fifty cents for the certificate, which fees shall be paid by the applicant. (1913, c. 109, § 17; C. S. 7108.)

§ 130-98. Clerk of court to furnish state registrar with facts as to paternity of illegitimate children judicially determined.—Upon the entry of a judgment determining the paternity of an illegitimate child, the clerk of the court in which such judgment is entered shall notify in writing the state registrar of vital statistics of the name of the person against whom such judgment has been entered, together with such other facts disclosed by the record as may assist in identifying the record of the birth of the child as the same may appear in the office of the said registrar. If such judgment shall thereafter be modified or vacated, that fact shall be reported by the clerk to the state registrar in the same manner. (1941, c. 297, s. 1.)

§ 130-99. Duties of local registrar as to birth and death certificates; reports.—Each local registrar shall supply blank forms of certificates to such persons as require them. Each local registrar shall carefully examine each certificate of birth or death presented for record in order to ascertain whether or not it has been made out in accordance with the provisions of this article and the instructions of the state registrar; and if any certificate of death is incomplete or unsatisfactory, it shall be his duty to call attention to the defects in the return, and to withhold the burial or removal permit until such defects are corrected. All certificates, either of birth or of death, shall be written legibly, in durable black ink, and no certificate shall be held to be complete and correct that does not supply all of the items of information called for therein, or satisfactorily account for their omission. If the certificate of death is properly executed and complete, he shall then issue a burial or removal permit to the undertaker: Provided, that in case the death occurred from some disease which is held by the state board of health to be infectious, contagious, or communicable and dangerous to the public health, no permit for the removal or other disposition of the body shall be issued by the registrar, except under such conditions as may be prescribed by the state board of health. If a certificate of birth is incomplete the local registrar shall immediately notify the informant, and require him to supply the missing items of information if they can be obtained. He shall number consecutively the certificates of birth and death, in two separate series, beginning with number one for the first birth and the first death in each calendar year, and sign his name as registrar in attestation of the fact of filing in his office. He shall issue two complete and accurate copies of each birth and death certificate registered by him on blanks supplied by the state registrar. He shall, on the fifth day of each month, transmit to the state registrar all original certificates registered by him for the preceding month and shall, at the same time, transmit to the register of deeds of the county a copy of each certificate of birth or death registered by him for the preceding month and shall retain one copy of each certificate for his own files. The register of deeds shall make and keep an index, the form of which shall be of the births and deaths that have occurred in the county, and these records shall be open at all times to official inspection. If no births or no deaths occurred in any month, the local registrar shall, on the fifth day of the following month, report that fact to the state registrar and the register of deeds of the county, on cards provided for such purpose. (1913, c. 109, s. 18; 1915, c. 85, s. 2; 1915, c. 164, s. 2; Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 58, s. 1; 1931, c. 79; 1933, c. 9, s. 1; 1943, c. 673; C. S. 7109.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment Ex. Sess. 1920, ch. 58, sec. 1, the date for depositing record books with the registers of deaths was changed from not later than January fifteenth to not later than February fifteenth. The Act of 1931 inserted before the last sentence the following: "and he shall at the same time transmit to the Register of Deeds of the county in which such birth or death occurred an exact copy of each such certificate."

Public Laws of 1933, c. 9, omitted a provision, formerly appearing at the end of the last sentence, that the register shall transmit an exact copy of the certificate to the register of deeds.

The 1943 amendment rewrote the last four sentences.

§ 130-100. Delivery of data to health officer.—Each local registrar of vital statistics serving in any county or municipality of North Carolina in which there is employed a whole-time county or municipal health officer shall, on or before the fifth day of each month, deliver by mail or in person to the health officer of his respective county or municipality such data from birth and death certificates filed with such local registrar during the preceding calendar month as may be needed in the proper execution of the duties of the said whole-time county or municipal health officer, and as authorized by the State Registrar of Vital Statistics.

All forms necessary for the use of local registrars in complying with this section shall be supplied, without charge, by the State Registrar of Vital Statistics.

Any local registrar who shall fail, neglect, or refuse to perform the duties required by this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars ($50.00). (1925, c. 53.)

§ 130-101. Pay of local registrars.—Each local registrar shall be paid the sum of fifty cents for each birth certificate and each death certificate properly and completely made out and registered with him, correctly recorded and promptly returned by him to the state registrar, as required by this article. And in case no births or deaths were registered during any month, the local registrar shall certify every six months to the state registrar and the amounts due each at the rates fixed herein. (1913, c. 109, s. 20; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 15, s. 2; 1919, c. 145, s. 25; 1941, c. 297, s. 4; C. S. 711.)

Editor’s Note.—The 1941 amendment struck out the words "not exceeding two cents for each certificate" formerly appearing after the word "service" in the second sentence.

Death Certificate as Evidence of Cause of Death.—The exclusion of the death certificate of insured, offered for the purpose of showing cause of death, was not reversible error, it not appearing whether the cause of death was stated therein as a fact or as an opinion, the certified copy of such record being prima facie evidence of the facts therein. In re Green, 144 N. C. 576, 58 S. E. 729. (1923, c. 53.)

Error in Admission Cured by Verdict.—In an action for wrongful death plaintiff objected to admission in evidence of his testator’s death certificate, which had not been certified in accordance with this section, plaintiff contending that admission of the certificate was prejudicial. The verdict of the jury, however, was not a verdict of negligence, rendered the error, if any, in the admission of the certificate harmless. McClamroch v. Colonial Ice Co., 217 N. C. 428, 42 S. E. (2d) 15. (1941, c. 53.)

§ 130-103. Information furnished to officers of American Legion.—Upon application to the Bureau of Vital Statistics made by the Adjutant or any officer of a local post of the American Legion, it shall be the duty of the Bureau of Vital Statistics to furnish immediately to such applicant the vital statistical records and necessary copies thereof, made up in the necessary forms for the use of such applicant, without charge. This section shall apply only to ex-soldiers of the World War and members of their families and/or beneficiaries under Government insurance or adjusted compensation certificate issued to such ex-soldier. Provided, that the state registrar shall furnish to any American Legion Post in this state, upon application therefor in connection with junior baseball, certified copies only of death certificates, without the payment of the fees prescribed in this section. (1931, c. 318; 1939, c. 353.)

Editor’s Note.—The 1939 amendment added the proviso.

§ 130-104. Violations of article; penalty.—Any person, who for himself or as an officer, agent, or employee of any other person, or of any corporation or partnership, shall do or omit any of the following acts:

1. Inter, cremate, or otherwise finally dispose of the dead body of a human being, or permit the same to be done, or shall remove said body from the primary registration district in which the death occurred or the body was found, without the authority of a burial or removal permit issued by the local registrar of the district in which the death occurred or in which the body was found;

2. Refuse or fail to furnish correctly any information in his possession, or shall furnish false information affecting any certificate or record, required by this article;

3. Willfully alter, otherwise than as provided by § 130-94, or shall falsely any certificate of birth or death, or any record established by this article; and be required by this article to fill out a certificate of birth or death and file the same with the local registrar, or deliver it, upon request, to any person charged with the duty of filing the same, shall fail, neglect or refuse to perform such duty in the manner required;

5. Being a state registrar, a chairman of a board of county commissioners, a mayor of a city or town, a local registrar, a deputy registrar, or sub-registrar, shall fail, neglect, or refuse to perform his duty as required by this article and by the instructions and direction of the state registrar thereunder, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall for the first offense be fined not less than five dollars nor more than fifty dollars, and for each subsequent offense not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail not more than thirty days. (1913, c. 109, s. 21; 1919, c. 210, s. 22; C. S. 7112.)

§ 130-105. Duties of registrars and others in enforcing this article.—Each local registrar is hereby charged with the strict and thorough enforcement of the provisions of this article in his registration district, under the supervision and direction of the state registrar thereunder. He shall make an immediate report to the state registrar of any violation of this article coming to his knowledge, by observation or upon complaint of any person or otherwise.

The state registrar is hereby charged with the thorough and efficient execution of the provisions of this article in every part of the state, and is hereby granted supervisory power over local registrars, deputy local registrars, and sub-registrars, to the end that all of its requirements shall be uniformly complied with. The state registrar, either personally or through an accredited representative, shall have authority to investigate cases of irregularity or violation of this article, and all registrars shall aid him, upon request, in such investigations. When he shall deem it necessary, he shall report cases of violation of the provisions of this article to the prosecuting attorney of the county, or the solicitor of the district, with a statement of the facts and circumstances; and when any such case is reported to him by the state registrar, the prosecuting attorney or solicitor of the district, as the case may be, shall forthwith initiate and promptly follow up the necessary court proceedings against the person or corporation responsible for the alleged violation of law. Upon request of the state registrar, the attorney-general shall likewise assist in the enforcement of the provisions of this article. (1913, c. 109, s. 22; C. S. 7113.)

§ 130-106. Local systems abrogated. — No systems for the registration of births and deaths shall be continued or maintained in any of the several municipalities of this state other than the one provided for and established by this article. (1913, c. 109, s. 24; C. S. 7115.)

§ 130-107. Establishing fact of birth by persons without certificate.—1. Any person born in the state of North Carolina not having a duly recorded certificate of his or her birth, may file a duly verified petition with the clerk of the superior court in the county of his or her legal residence or place of birth, setting forth the date, place, and parentage of his or her birth, and petitioning the said clerk to hear evidence, and find, and adjudge the date, place, and parentage of the birth of said petitioner. Upon filing said petition the clerk shall set a date for hearing evidence upon the same, and shall conduct said proceeding in the same manner as other special proceedings. At the time set for said hearing the petitioner shall present such evidence as may be required by the court to establish the fact of such birth to the satisfaction of said court. At said hearing, if the evidence offered shall satisfy said court of the date, place, and parentage of said petitioner's birth, the court shall thereupon find the facts and enter a judgment duly establishing the date and place of birth and parentage of said petitioner, and record the same in the record of said proceedings in his office. The said clerk shall certify the same to the state bureau of vital statistics and the same shall thereupon be recorded in the state bureau of vital statistics upon forms which it may adopt and a copy thereof certified to the register of deeds of the county in which said petitioner was born. The fees charged hereunder by the clerk shall not exceed two dollars ($2.00).

2. The record of birth established by such person under this section when so recorded shall become a public record, and shall be accepted as such by the courts and other agencies of this state in the same manner as other public records.

3. The provisions provided hereunder shall be cumulative, and not in disparagement of any other acts or provisions for obtaining a delayed birth certificate. (1941, c. 122.)

SUBCHAPTER III. SANITATION AND PROTECTION OF PUBLIC.

Art. 10. Water Protection.

§ 130-108. Persons supplying water to protect its purity.—In the interest of the public health, every person, company, or municipal corporation or agency thereof selling water to the public for drinking and household purposes shall take every reasonable precaution to protect from contamination and assure the healthfulness of such water, and any provisions in any charters herefore granted to such persons, companies, or municipal corporations in conflict with the provisions of this article are hereby repealed. (Rev., s. 3058; 1899, c. 670, s. 1; 1903, c. 159, s. 1; 1911, c. 62, s. 24; C. S. 7116.)

Cited in Hudson v. Morganton, 205 N. C. 333, 171 S. E. 329.

§ 130-109. Board of health to control and examine waters; rules; penalties.—The state board of health shall have the general oversight and care of all inland waters, and shall from time to time, as it may deem advisable, cause examinations of said waters and their sources and surroundings to be made for the purpose of ascertaining whether the same are adapted for use as water supplies for drinking and other domestic purposes, or are in a condition likely to impair the health of the public or of persons lawfully using the same, or to imperil the public health. For the purpose aforesaid, it may employ such expert assistants as may be necessary. The said board shall make such reasonable rules and regulations as in its judgment may be necessary to prevent contamination and to secure other purifications as may be required to safeguard the public health. Any individual, firm, corporation, or municipality, or person responsible for the management of water supply, failing to comply with said rules and regulations, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, at the discretion of the court. (1911, c. 62, s. 24; C. S. 7117.)

§ 130-110. Systems of water supply and sewerage; plans submitted; penalties.—The state board of health shall from time to time consult with and advise the boards of all state institutions, the authorities of cities and towns, corporations, or firms already having or intending to introduce systems of water supply, drainage or sewerage, as to the most appropriate source of supply, the best practical method of assuring the purity thereof, or of disposing of their drainage or sewage, having regard to the present and prospective needs and interests of other cities, towns, corporations, or firms which may be affected thereby. All such boards of directors, authorities, corporations, and firms are hereby required to give notice to said board of their intentions in the premises and to submit for its advice outlines of their proposed plans or schemes in relation to water supplies and disposal of sewage, and no contract shall be entered into by any state institution or town for the introduction of a system of water supply or sewage disposal until said advice shall have been received, considered, and approved by the said board. For the purpose of carrying out the general provisions of this and the preceding sections, every municipal or private corporation, company, or individual supplying or authorized to supply water for drinking or other domestic purposes to the public shall file with the secretary of the state board of health, within ninety days after the receipt of notice from said secretary, certified plans and surveys, in duplicate, pertaining to the source from which the water is derived, the possible source of pollution thereof, and the means in use for the purification thereof, in accordance with the directions to be furnished by the said secretary. Failure on the part of any individual, firm, corporation, or municipality to comply with this section shall be a misdemeanor, and upon conviction those responsible therefor shall be fined not less than fifty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, at the discretion of the court. (1911, c. 62, s. 24; C. S. 7118.)

§ 130-111. Condemnation of lands for water supply.—All municipalities operating water systems and sewer systems, and all water companies operating under charter from the state or license from municipalities, which may maintain public water supplies, may acquire by condemnation such lands and rights in lands and water as are necessary for the successful operation and protection of their plants, said proceedings to be the same as prescribed by law under the chapter Eminent Domain. (Rev., s. 3060; 1903, c. 159, s. 16; 1905, c. 287, s. 2; 1905, c. 544; 1911, c. 62, s. 25; C. S. 7119.)

§ 130-112. Compensation for land.—If damages shall be claimed for the use of such lands, and the parties cannot agree as to the amount of compensation to be paid, they may proceed in the manner now provided by law under the chapter Eminent Domain. (1911, c. 62, s. 27; C. S. 7120.)

§ 130-113. Inspection of watersheds.—The municipality or water company shall have quarterly sanitary inspections made of the entire watershed of any waterworks that derives its water from a surface supply, except in those cases where the supply is taken from large creeks or rivers that have a minimum daily flow of ten million gallons, in which case the inspection shall apply to the fifteen miles of watershed above the waterworks intake. Whenever in the opinion of the board of health of the city or town to which the water is supplied, or, where there is no such local board of health, in the opinion of the county board of health, or county physician or county health officer, or in the opinion of the state board of health, there is special reason to apprehend the infection of the water from any particular locality by the germs of typhoid fever or cholera, then the municipality or water company shall cause to be made at least once in every week a sanitary inspection of that particular locality. The inspection of the entire watershed as herein provided for shall include a particular examination of the premises of every inhabited house on the watershed, and, in passing from house to house, a general inspection for dead bodies of animals or accumulations of filth. It is not intended that the term "entire watershed" shall include uninhabited fields and wooded tracts that are free from suspicion. The sanitary inspector shall give in person to the head of each household on the watershed, or, in his absence, to some member of the household, the necessary directions for the proper sanitary care of his premises, and shall deliver to each family residing on the watershed such literature on pertinent sanitary subjects as may be supplied by the municipal health officer or by the secretary of the state board of health. Full report in duplicate of all such inspections shall be made promptly by the sanitary inspector to the secretary of the state board of health, and their accuracy certified to by the affidavit of the inspector. The authorities of any town or city that makes use of a public surface water supply or the officers of a public surface water supply company may make such additional inspections as such officials may deem necessary. (Rev., ss. 3045, 3046; 1899, c. 670; 1903, c. 159, s. 2; 1911, c. 62, s. 28; 1919, c. 71, s. 14; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 49, s. 1; C. S. 7121.)
§ 130-114. Inspectors may enter premises.—Each sanitary inspector is authorized and empowered to enter upon any premises and into any building upon his respective watershed for the purpose of making the inspections required. (Rev., s. 301, 1949, c. 670, s. 8; 1903, c. 159, s. 10; 1911, c. 62, s. 30; C.S. 7192.)

§ 130-115. Control of residents on watersheds.—Every person residing or owning property on the watershed of a lake, pond, or stream from which a drinking supply is obtained shall carry out such reasonable instructions as may be furnished him in the matter herebefore set forth directly by the municipal health officer or by the state board of health. Any one refusing or neglecting to comply with the requirements of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars, or imprisoned for not less than ten nor more than thirty days. (Rev., ss. 3049, 3859; 1903, c. 159, s. 7; 1911, c. 62, s. 31; C.S. 7123.)

Instructions Must Be Furnished.—If the instructions as to sanitation required by this section are not furnished, one is not subject to a penalty, since this is a condition precedent to the enforcement of this section. Hudson v. Morganton, 205 N. C. 353, 355, 171 S. E. 329.

Allegation.—It is not necessary to allege that defendant owned or lived upon the land embraced in the municipal watershed, to state a cause of action under this section and § 130-108. Morganton v. Hudson, 207 N. C. 360, 177 S. E. 119.

§ 130-116. Defiling water supply misdemeanor.—If any person shall defile, corrupt, or make impure any well, spring, drain, branch, brook, creek, or other source of public water supply by depositing or allowing to remain the body of a dead animal on the watershed, or in any other manner, and if any person shall destroy or injure any pipe, conductor of water, or other property pertaining to an aqueduct, or shall aid and abet therein, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., ss. 3437, 3857; Code, s. 1114; R. C. c. 31, s. 97; 1903, c. 214; 1850, c. 104; 1903, c. 159, s. 12; 1911, c. 62, s. 32; C. S. 7124.)

§ 130-117. Discharge of sewage into water supply prohibited.—No person, firm, corporation, or municipality shall flow or discharge sewage above the intake into any drain, brook, creek, or river from which a public drinking-water supply is taken, unless the same shall have been passed through some well-known system of sewage purification approved by the state board of health; and the continued flow and discharge of such sewage may be enjoined upon application of any person.

If any person, firm, corporation, or officer of any municipality having a sewerage system in charge shall violate the provisions of this section, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., ss. 3051, 3858; 1903, c. 159, s. 13; 1911, c. 62, ss. 33, 34; C.S. 7125.)

Constitutionality.—This section is not unconstitutional as a taking of property without compensation and without condemnation, but is a valid exercise of the police power of the State to secure the public health. Durham v. Eno Cotton Mills, 141 N. C. 615, 54 S. E. 453; Shelby v. Cleveland Mill, et al., 205 N. C. 478, 191 S. E. 281; North Carolina State Board v. Commissioners, 173 N. C. 250, 91 S. E. 1019.

Sewage Defined.—The meaning of "sewerage," under this section, is confined to the liquid and solid matter flowing from the water-closets through the sewer and drain. Durham v. Eno Cotton Mills, 141 N. C. 705, 57 S. E. 465.

Dye stuff of male origin from cotton, which were not passed through sewer to the river from which water supply is taken, is not subject to the police power of the state. York v. Durham, 141 N. C. 597, 57 S. E. 465.

This section does not impose the mandatory duty upon the trial judge of enjoining a municipality from discharging raw sewage into a stream from which another municipality takes its water supply, and where the order for such injunction could cause suffering or loss to the inhabitants of defendant municipality, the court's order denying the injunctive relief but providing that the judgment shall not prevent the bringing of another suit for the same relief upon a change in the fundamental conditions, will be upheld on appeal. Smithfield v. Raleigh, 207 N. C. 597, 178 S. E. 114.

And Sounding Facts Are to Be Considered.—The words "may be enjoined" as used in this section, clearly demonstrate that surrounding facts and circumstances must be considered in entering a peremptory order of injunction. Smithfield v. Raleigh, 207 N. C. 597, 178 S. E. 114.

Injurious Effects Unnecessary.—An injunction will issue under this section against emptying sewerage into a stream, without proof of any injurious effect on plaintiff's water supply. Durham v. Eno Cotton Mills, 144 N. C. 705, 178 S. E. 465.

No Right by Prescription Acquired.—The unlawful emptying of untreated sewage into a stream without hindrance or question on the part of the health authorities or others, cannot confer upon a town the right to continue emptying untreated sewage into the stream contrary or the express prohibition of the statutes, or acquire for it a prescriptive right as against the public, however long the same may have continued; nor can the occupancy of the public water supply, unattended with proof of any injurious effect on plaintiff's water supply, be considered as providing a vested right to empty untreated sewage into the stream. Durham v. Eno Cotton Mills, 144 N. C. 705, 178 S. E. 465.

§ 130-118. Cemeteries on watersheds forbidden.—No burying ground or cemetery shall be established on the watershed of any public water supply nearer than fifteen miles from the source of supply, nor in violation of the rules and regulations of the state board of health as authorized by this article. (Rev., s. 3053; 1903, c. 159, s. 15; C.S. 7126.)

§ 130-119. Water supply of communities without sewerage systems.—All schools, hamlets, villages, towns, or industrial settlements which are...
§ 130-120. Damage to private water supply misdemeanor.—If any person shall wilfully put into the well, spring, or cistern of water of any other person any substance or thing whereby such well, spring, or cistern may be endangered, or the water thereof be made less wholesome or fit for use, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3146; Code, c. 114; R. C., c. 31, s. 97; 1850, c. 104; C. S. 7128.)

Art. 11. State Housing Law.

§§ 130-121 to 130-146: Repealed by Session Laws 1913, c. 55.

§ 130-147. Privy defined.—The term “privy” as used in this article shall be understood to include any and all buildings which are not connected with a system of sewerage, or with septic tanks of such construction and maintenance as approved by the state board of health and which are used for affording privacy in acts of urination or defecation. (1919, c. 71, s. 1; C. S. 7129.)

§ 130-148. Sewerage, septic tank or approved privy required, when.—No person shall maintain or use a residence, located within three hundred yards of another residence, that is not provided with sewerage, or with septic tanks approved by the state board of health, or with a sanitary privy which complies in construction and maintenance with the requirements of this article: Provided, however, that nothing in this section shall curtail the right of a municipality to require and enforce immediate sewer connection. Provided, that plans and specifications for construction of privy buildings prescribed by the state board of health by authority of this article shall be construed as recommendatory but not mandatory as to exact size, architecture and dimensions of same: Provided, further, that privy buildings as used in the above last proviso shall not be construed to include any item pertaining to the exclusion of flies from excreta. (1919, c. 71, s. 2; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 49, s. 2; 1927, c. 214; C. S. 7130.)

Editor’s Note.—All of this section including and following the phrase “Provided that plans,” was added by Public Laws 1927, ch. 244.

§ 130-149. License form to be fastened on certain privies.—The state board of health, through its officers and inspectors, shall fasten a license form on all privies within three hundred yards of the residence of any person other than that of the owner or tenant thereof during the last three calendar months of every year, when, on inspection, the said privy is approved by the officer making the inspection as constructed in a sanitary manner and to be in good repair, in accordance with reasonable rules and regulations to be prescribed by the state board of health for the sanitary construction and maintenance of privies. The license shall apply to the calendar year following its issuance, except as hereinafter provided. (1919, c. 71, s. 3; C. S. 7131.)

§ 130-150. Certain privies to be maintained in accordance with regulations.—Every privy located within three hundred yards of the residence of any person other than that of the owner or tenant thereof shall be maintained in a sanitary manner and in accordance with reasonable rules and regulations to be prescribed by the state board of health and posted in suitable form inside of the privy by an officer of the said board. (1919, c. 71, s. 4; C. S. 7132.)

§ 130-151. Responsibility for sanitary maintenance of privy.—The head of a family or household, the proprietor of a boarding-house, hotel, restaurant, or store, the principal or superintendent of a school, the agent or station-master of a railroad station or depot, or the person in charge of an office building, establishment, or institution, shall be responsible for the sanitary maintenance, as prescribed in § 130-150, of such privy or privies as may be used by him or her household, guests, customers, pupils, passengers, occupants, employees, workers or other persons. (1919, c. 71, s. 5; C. S. 7133.)

§ 130-152. Supervision of privies by board of health.—The state board of health, through its officers and inspectors, shall exercise such supervision over the sanitary construction and maintenance of privies as may be necessary to enforce the provisions of this article. (1919, c. 71, s. 6; C. S. 7134.)

§ 130-153. Use of insanitary privies prohibited.—If an officer or an inspector of the state board of health shall find a privy located within three hundred yards of the residence of a person other than that of the owner or tenant thereof which is not constructed in accordance with the provisions of § 130-149 of this article, he shall securely fasten on the said privy a notice reading, “Insanitary; unlawful to use”; and if the inspector or officer of the board shall find, in the course of his inspection, a privy not being maintained in a sanitary manner and in accordance with the reasonable rules and regulations of the state board of health for the maintenance of privies, he shall remove the license from the privy and securely fasten on the privy a notice reading, “Insanitary; unlawful to use.” (1919, c. 71, s. 7; C. S. 7135.)

§ 130-154. Privy license not to be removed or defaced.—No person shall remove or deface a privy license or other official notice fastened on or in a privy by an officer of the state board of health. (1919, c. 71, s. 8; C. S. 7136.)

§ 130-155. Violation of this article.—Any person who violates any of the provisions of this article, and any person who is responsible for the sanitary maintenance of a privy, and who permits such privy after an official notice reading, "Insanitary; unlawful to use," has been fastened on it, to be used, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not less than five dollars nor more than fifty dollars nor imprisoned not exceeding thirty days. (1919, c. 71, s. 9; C. S. 7137.)

§ 130-156. Bureau of sanitary engineering and inspection; duties.—For the faithful execution of this article, the state board of health shall organize and maintain a bureau of sanitary engineering and inspection which shall (1) study, ascertain, and recommend for installation suitable types of privies for the variety of geologic, sociologic, and economic conditions found in the state of North Carolina; (2) exercise such oversight over the construction and maintenance of privies coming within the meaning of this article as may be necessary for the protection of public health; (3) organize, supervise, and direct a force of sanitary inspectors who shall (a) inspect, license, and close privies in accordance with the provisions of this article and the rules and regulations of the state board of health, as provided for in this article; (b) make such other sanitary inspections as are required of the state board of health by law; (c) assist in the enforcement of the public health laws of the state, more especially the vital statistics law and the quarantine law; (d) collect samples of water from public water supplies for analyses by the state laboratory of hygiene when such analyses are deemed necessary by the state board of health. (1919, c. 71, s. 11; C. S. 7139.)

§ 130-157. Powers of board of health and inspectors; penalty for interference.—The members of the executive staff of the state board of health, and such additional state sanitary inspectors as shall be appointed for the enforcement of this article, are hereby authorized and are empowered to enter upon any premises and into any buildings or institutions for the purposes of inspection as provided for or required by state laws or regulations of the state board of health pursuant to such laws, but the privacy of no person shall be violated. Any person or persons who wilfully interfere with or obstruct the officers of the state board of health in the discharge of any of the aforementioned duties shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, or imprisonment at the discretion of the court. (1919, c. 71, s. 12; C. S. 7140.)

When Judge May Direct Verdict. — In an indictment against one who is charged with willfully obstructing a sanitary inspector of the State Board of Health in the discharge of his duties, the trial judge may not direct a verdict, and it is only when uncontradicted evidence, if accepted as true, establishes the defendant's guilt that he may properly give the jury to return a verdict of guilty if they find the evidence to be true beyond a reasonable doubt. State v. Estes, 185 N. C. 722, 117 S. E. 581.

More words or opprobrious language with an expression of an intention to sell are not sufficient to sustain an indictment for willfully interfering with or obstructing an officer of the law in the performance of his duties, as prescribed by this section, unless spoken under circumstances which are calculated to deter an officer of ordinary courage and reasonable prudence in the discharge of his duty pertaining to his office, which raises an issue of fact for the jury to determine. State v. Estes, 185 N. C. 722, 117 S. E. 581.

§ 130-158. Provisions of this article applicable to all privies on watersheds.—The provisions of this article shall apply to all residences, institutions, and establishments, and all privies without regard to their distance from the homes of persons other than that of the owners or tenants thereof, which are located on the watershed of a public surface water supply. For the purpose of this article, the term "watershed" shall include the entire watershed of all streams, creeks, and rivers that have a daily average flow of less than ten million gallons, but for watersheds of streams, creeks or rivers that have a daily average flow of more than ten million gallons, the watershed shall include only such drainage areas as lie within fifteen miles of the waterworks intake. (1919, c. 71, s. 13; C. S. 7141.)

§ 130-159. Exceptions to provisions of this article.—This article shall not apply to any city the population of which shall be in excess of twenty thousand according to the latest official estimates of the bureau of the census, if the authorities of such city, before October first, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, shall officially request the state board of health to exempt it from its provisions. This article shall not apply to the residences of farmers and the homes of their tenants that are located more than one mile from the corporate limits of a town or city or the geographic center of a village. (1919, c. 71, s. 16; Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 71; C. S. 7144.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment, Ex. Sess. 1920, ch. 71, this section was by its last sentence made not to apply to residences and homes of farmers and tenants located more than three hundred yards from residences that come within the meaning of this article.

Art. 13. Used Plumbing Fixtures.

§ 130-160. Regulations for installation or sale of fixtures.—In order to prevent the spread of disease through the sale of unsanitary, inefficient or defective plumbing fixtures, and in order to promote the general health, it is hereby declared to be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell or offer to sell, or install, or cause to be sold or installed, any second-hand or used bathroom fixtures, toilet fixtures or other plumbing fixtures until the same have been inspected and labeled in the manner hereinafter set forth, and unless at the time of such sale or installation it shall bear the label indicating that it has been inspected and approved by the state board of health. (1939, c. 324, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—For comment on this enactment, see 17 N. C. Law Rev. 300.

§ 130-161. Application for inspection of fixtures.—Any person, firm or corporation desiring to sell or install any second-hand or used bathroom fixtures, toilet fixtures or other plumbing fixtures, shall file with the state board of health, or some agent or representative thereof, on the form prescribed by the state board of health, an application for the inspection and installation of such fixtures. Such application (among other things) shall contain a description and identification marks of each fixture and the sworn statement of the applicant as to the person, firm or corporation from whom said fixture was purchased, and as to the approximate date when the same was manufactured, and as to where and for how long the said fixture had been used prior to the date of such application. (1939, c. 324, s. 2.)

§ 130-162. Preparation of labels by state board of health.—The state board of health shall cause to be prepared labels in the form prescribed by the state board of health, stating (among other things) that the fixture is a second-hand or used fixture, and stating further that said fixture has been inspected and approved, and providing a blank for the date of such approval and a blank for the approximate date of the manufacture of the fixture. Such labels shall be assembled in books of one hundred; and such books shall be sold by the state board of health for the sum of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) per book. When a book has been so sold, the name of the person, firm or corporation buying the same shall be entered on the back thereof and the book shall be retained by the state board of health for use in labeling the fixtures or accessories of the purchaser. No application shall be received from any person, firm or corporation for a greater number of fixtures than the number of labels of the applicant held by the state board of health at the time of such application. (1939, c. 324, s. 3.)

§ 130-163. Inspection of fixtures by state board; labeling of fixtures for resale.—Upon receiving an application for inspection, it shall be the duty of the state board of health, through such agents or representatives as shall be employed under the terms of this article, to inspect the fixtures referred to in the application, for the purpose of determining whether they can be resold and used without danger to public health. If the state board of health shall determine that any fixture can be used without danger to public health, it shall affix to each complete fixture a label of the applicant in the form prescribed in § 130-162 and shall insert in said label the date of approval and the approximate date of the manufacture of the fixture. (1939, c. 324, s. 6.)

§ 130-164. Proceeds from sale of labels to be used in administration of article.—All proceeds received by the state board of health from the sale of the labels provided for in this article shall be used by the state board of health in the administration of this article; and the state board of health shall be under no duty to use any of its other funds for the administration of this article. (1939, c. 324, s. 5.)

§ 130-165. Construction of article.—This article shall not be construed to prevent any person, firm or corporation from using or installing on his own premises fixtures which have theretofore been used on other premises of such person, firm or corporation. This article shall not apply to any person, firm or corporation not regularly engaged in the sale or installation of plumbing fixtures as a part of his or its business. (1939, c. 324, s. 6.)

§ 130-166. Violations made misdemeanor.—Any person, firm or corporation who shall sell, offer for sale, install or cause to be sold or installed any used or second-hand bathroom fixtures, toilet fixtures or other plumbing fixtures except as provided in this article, or who shall violate any provision or requirement of this article, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined the sum of one hundred dollars ($100.00) or imprisoned for not less than one nor more than three months. The sale of each separate fixture in violation of this article shall constitute a separate offense. (1939, c. 324, s. 7.)

§ 130-168. Quarantine officers; election; term; vacancies.—The county board of health in each county shall designate some person in each county to be county quarantine officer. The official term of service of a county quarantine officer, including those in office and serving on June first, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, except in those counties where there is a county health officer, shall expire on the first Monday in January of the fourth year from the year of their appointment or election. In those counties where there is a county health officer who makes official oath or affirmation to enforce this article, the office of county quarantine officer shall be coterminal with the office of the said county health officer. The county board of health shall elect a successor to the county quarantine officer, or the county health officer acting as county quarantine officer, on or before the expiration of the term of service of said officer as herein defined. If the county quarantine officer, or the county health officer acting as such, is disqualified to continue in office by resignation, death, or otherwise, the county board of health shall, within five days thereafter, elect a county health officer or county quarantine officer to fill out the unexpired term. If the county board of health fails to elect a successor to complete the unexpired term, the secretary of the North Carolina state board of health shall immediately appoint a county quarantine officer who shall make official oath or affirmation to enforce this article. (1917, c. 263, s. 2; C. S. 7146.)

§ 130-169. Election notified to state board of health; officer to qualify.—The county board of health on electing a county quarantine officer shall promptly notify, in writing, the secretary of the North Carolina state board of health of such action, and failure to do so shall nullify the election. The officer-elect shall promptly notify the secretary of the North Carolina state board of health, in writing, of his having taken the oath or affirmation of office, inclosing a certified copy thereof, and failure to do so shall be construed as failure to have taken such official oath or affirmation. (1917, c. 263, s. 3; C. S. 7147.)
§ 130-170. Failure of officer to enforce article; penalty.—Any county quarantine officer, or county health officer acting as county quarantine officer, who fails or refuses to enforce this article in his county shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction, fined not exceeding fifty dollars, and may, if the secretary of the North Carolina state board of health so decide, be disqualified for continuance in office. (1917, c. 263, s. 4; C. S. 7148.)

§ 130-171. Municipalities; how far included.—This article shall not apply to incorporated towns and cities of the state having a population, according to the last decennial census, of ten thousand or over; nor shall it apply to those counties the sanitary administration of which is directed by a joint board of health presiding over both the county and a town or city having a population, according to the last federal decennial census, of ten thousand or more; but the system of quarantine in force in such cities and counties shall be approved by the North Carolina state board of health, and reports of the occurrence of contagious diseases therein shall be made to the North Carolina state board of health as from all other cities and counties in the state. (1917, c. 263, s. 5; C. S. 7149.)

§ 130-172. Compensation of quarantine officers.—For his services the county quarantine officer shall be paid monthly, on certification from the secretary of the North Carolina state board of health that he has performed the duties of his office in a satisfactory manner, out of the county funds by the county treasurer, or in those counties that have no county treasurer by that official who performs the usual duties of the treasurer’s office. The said certification and the sum paid the quarantine officer by the county authority shall be in accordance with a system of fees determined by the North Carolina state board of health for each item of work involved in the duties of the quarantine officer: Provided, however, that the total annual payment for any county shall not be in excess of the sum stated for such county classified according to population as follows:

Per month.

In addition to such monthly salary, the county treasurer, or the person acting as county treasurer, shall pay to the quarantine officer all financial statements with receipted bills attached for sums paid out for postage registration of letters, and disinfectants, the total sum not to exceed ten dollars in any month nor one hundred dollars in any one year. The secretary of the North Carolina state board of health shall supply the county quarantine officer, without cost to the county, with all forms, placards, and literature necessary for carrying out the provisions of this article. County authorities may revise their understandings with those county physicians who are acting as both physicians to county charges and as quarantine officers, and whose terms of office as quarantine officer shall expire in January, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, unless discontinued by death, resignation, or other disqualification, on a basis of compensation adequate to the new duties herein required; but in no case shall the compensation allowed for the services required of quarantine officers be less than that herein named. (1917, c. 263, s. 6; 1921, c. 53; C. S. 7150.)

Editor’s Note.—Prior to the amendment, Public Laws 1921, ch. 53, which installed the fee system in this section, a salary was paid under the scale in this section, which now, because of the amendment, limits the amount of fees to be paid.

§ 130-173. Physicians to report infectious diseases.—It shall be the duty of every physician to notify the county quarantine office of the name, address, including the name of the school district, of any person living or residing, permanently or temporarily, in the county about whom such physician is consulted professionally and whom he has reason to suspect of being afflicted with whooping-cough, measles, diphtheria, scarlet fever, smallpox, infantile paralysis, typhoid fever, typhus fever, Asiatic cholera, bubonic plague, yellow fever, or other disease declared by the North Carolina state board of health to be preventable, within twenty-four hours after obtaining reasonable evidence for believing that such person is so afflicted. If the afflicted person is a minor, the physician consulted professionally about him shall notify the county quarantine officer of the name and address of the parent or guardian of the minor in addition to the name, address, and school district of the minor himself. (Rev., s. 3448; 1893, c. 214, s. 11; 1917, c. 263, s. 7; 1921, c. 223, s. 1; C. S. 7151.)

Editor’s Note.—By amendment, Public Laws 1921, ch. 223, sec. 1, the part of this section reading as follows: “or other disease declared by the North Carolina state board of health to be preventable” replaced a part reading as follows: “of other disease declared by the North Carolina state board of health to be infectious or contagious.”

§ 130-174. Parents and householders to report.—It shall be the duty of every parent, guardian, or householder in the order named to notify the county quarantine officer of the name, address, including the name of the school district, of any person in their family or household about whom no physician has been consulted but whom they have reason to suspect of being afflicted with whooping-cough, measles, diphtheria, scarlet fever, smallpox, infantile paralysis, typhoid fever, Asiatic cholera, typhus fever, bubonic plague, yellow fever, or other disease declared by the North Carolina state board of health to be preventable. (1917, c. 263, s. 8; 1921, c. 223, s. 2; C. S. 7152.)

Editor’s Note.—By amendment Public Laws 1921, ch. 223, sec. 1, the last words of this section, i. e. “preventable” replaced the words “infectious or contagious.”

§ 130-175. Quarantine officers to report cases to state board of health.—It shall be the duty of the county quarantine officer to report all cases of whooping-cough, measles, diphtheria, scarlet fever, smallpox, infantile paralysis, typhoid fever, Asiatic cholera, typhus fever, bubonic plague, yellow fever, or other disease declared by the North Carolina state board of health to be preventable, reported to him by physicians and parents, guardians, or householders, within twenty-four hours of the receipt of such report to the secretary of the North Carolina state board of health at Raleigh, and to make this report on forms supplied by him the secretary and in accordance with the rules and regulations adopted by the North Carolina state board of health. (1917, c. 263, s. 9; 1921, c. 223, s. 3; C. S. 7153.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment, Public Laws, 1921, ch. 223, sec. 3, the following words, "declared by the North Carolina state board of health to be preventable" replaced, "declared by the North Carolina state board of health to be infectious and contagious."

§ 130-176. Rules of state board of health; rules of local authorities.—The North Carolina state board of health shall adopt what in their judgment seems to be the necessary rules and regulations governing the management, supervision, or control of the diseases coming within the meaning of this article, and shall cause the rules and regulations adopted to be published in the North Carolina state board of health bulletin and to be supplied in suitable quantities to all concerned with the execution of this article, and the North Carolina state board of health shall revise such rules and regulations from time to time to adjust their requirements to new discoveries and improved methods for dealing with the sources and modes of infection of the diseases specified. The rules and regulations so adopted shall be regarded as the minimum requirements, and the authorities of any county, town, or city may adopt such additional rules and regulations for the control of the diseases mentioned in this article, and pay such additional fees and salaries as in their judgment seem necessary. (1917, c. 263, s. 10; C. S. 7154.)

§ 130-177. Violation of article or rules misdemeanor.—Any person wilfully violating any of the provisions of this article and any person violating any of the rules and regulations adopted by the North Carolina state board of health, as provided in the preceding section, shall, in the absence of specific provisions in other sections of this article, be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not exceeding fifty dollars, or imprisoned not more than thirty days, at the discretion of the court. In case the offender be stricken with the disease for which he is quarantinable, he shall be subject to the penalty on recovery, unless in the opinion of the secretary of the North Carolina state board of health the penalty should be omitted. (Rev., s. 3448; 1893, c. 214, s. 11; 1917, c. 263, s. 11; C. S. 7155.)

§ 130-178. Bureau of epidemiology; state epidemiologist.—For the purpose of seeing that this article and the rules and regulations adopted by the North Carolina state board of health, as provided in this article, are faithfully executed, a bureau of epidemiology and the office of state epidemiologist is hereby created. The aforesaid bureau and the state epidemiologist shall be under the control and supervision of the North Carolina state board of health. (1917, c. 263, s. 12; C. S. 7156.)

§ 130-179. Disposal of bowel discharges in typhoid and cholera; penalties.—Any household in whose family there is to his knowledge a person sick of cholera or typhoid fever, who shall permit the bowel discharges of such sick person to be emptied without first having disinfected them according to the instructions to be obtained from the attending physician or county superintendent of health, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than two nor more than twenty-five dollars, or imprisoned not less than ten nor more than thirty days. In cases where such undisinfected discharges are emptied on the watershed of any stream or pond furnishing the source of water supply for any public institution, city, or town, the penalty shall be a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than fifty dollars, or imprisonment for not more than thirty days. And any physician attending a case of cholera or typhoid fever who refuses or neglects to give the proper instructions for such disinfection as soon as the diagnosis is made shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars.

During an epidemic of cholera all common carriers shall so arrange their water-closets as to catch in water-tight receptacles the dejections of all persons using them, and shall disinfect the said dejections in a manner satisfactory to the state board of health before emptying them. (Rev., s. 4459; 1893, c. 214, s. 16; 1909, c. 793, s. 8; C. S. 7158.)

§ 130-180. Travel of infected persons regulated; inspectors; penalty.—The county or municipal boards of health in counties, cities, or towns near to or bordering upon either of the neighboring states, may appoint, by writing, suitable persons to attend at places by which travelers may pass from infected places in other states, who may examine such travelers as may be suspected of bringing any infection dangerous to the public health, and, if need be, may restrain them from traveling using licensed thereto by the quarantine officer or by the proper municipal health authorities of the city or town to which they may come. A traveler coming from such infected place who, without such license, travels within this state, except to return by the most direct route to the state whence he came, after he has been cautioned to depart by the persons so appointed, shall be isolated or ejected, at the discretion of the quarantine officer or of the municipal health authorities last mentioned. And all common carriers bringing into this state any such persons as named above are hereby required to return them to some point without this state, if required by the quarantine officer or municipal health authorities above specified; and upon refusal to comply with the regulations of such boards of health or municipal health authorities upon this subject, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than twenty-five nor more than fifty dollars, or imprisoned not more than thirty days. Nothing in this section shall prevent the state board of health in time of epidemics from appointing such additional examiners as they may deem necessary to the preservation of the public health. (Rev., ss. 3454, 4506; 1893, c. 214, s. 15; 1901, c. 245, s. 6; C. S. 7159.)

which is infected or has lately been infected with either of the diseases specified in this article or other disease declared by the North Carolina state board of health to be infectious or contagious, the quarantine officer or lawful municipal authority specified in this article shall make effective provision in the manner deemed best for the safety of the inhabitants by preventing such person to a separate house or otherwise, and by providing nurses and other assistance and necessaries, which shall be at the charge of the person himself or his parents, where able, otherwise at the charge of the city, town, or county to which he belongs. (Rev., s. 4507; 1893, c. 214, s. 14; 1901, c. 248, s. 5; C. S. 7160.)

§ 130-182. Transportation of bodies of persons dying of infectious diseases.—No railroad corporation or other common carrier or persons shall convey or cause to be conveyed through or from any city, town, or county in this state the remains of any person who has died of small-pox, measles, scarlet fever, diphtheria, typhus fever, yellow fever, or cholera until such body has been disinfected and encased in such manner as shall be directed by the state board of health, so as to preclude any danger of communicating the disease to others by its transportation; and no local registrar, clerk, or health officer or any other person shall give a permit for the removal of such body until he has received from the local board of health or other proper health authorities of the city, town, or county where the death occurred a certificate stating the cause of death and that the said body has been prepared in the manner set forth in this section; which certificate shall be delivered in duplicate to the agent or person who receives the body, and one copy shall be pasted on the box containing the corpse; said certificate shall be furnished in blank by the transportation company, when no local board of health exists. (Rev., s. 4459; 1893, c. 214, s. 16; C. S. 7161.)

Art. 15. Smallpox.

§ 130-183. Notification of occurrence required; vaccination of school children.—On the appearance of a case of smallpox in any neighborhood, town, or city, the quarantine officer shall use all due diligence to warn the public of its existence and to notify the public of the proper means for preventing its spread; the said warning and notification to be according to the instructions of the state health officer. The board of health of any town, city, or county shall have authority to require children attending the public schools to present certificate of immunity from small-pox either through recent vaccination or previous attack of the disease. If any parent, guardian, school committee, principal, or teacher shall permit a child to violate such a requirement of the aforesaid authorities, he or she shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars. (1901, c. 62, s. 23; 1913, c. 181, s. 11; C. S. 7162.)

Prior to this section, under a regulation providing for vaccination of all the inhabitants of a town the school children were subject to vaccination the same as other persons in the town. Morgan v. Stewart, 144 N. C. 424, 57 S. E. 149.

Power to Require Vaccination.—Where a school board has entire and exclusive control of the public schools, they may require vaccination as a prerequisite to attendance. Holinski v. School Committee, 137 N. C. 68, 49 S. E. 46.

§ 130-184. Free vaccination.—On the appearance of a case of smallpox in any neighborhood due warning of the existence of the disease shall be given, and all persons not able to pay shall be vaccinated free of charge by the county physician or health officer or by the municipal physician or health officer, and the county physician or health officer shall vaccinate every person admitted into a public institution, jail, or county home as soon as practicable, unless he is satisfied, upon examination, that the person is already successfully vaccinated; the money for vaccine to be furnished by the county commissioners. (Rev., s. 4451; 1913, c. 181, s. 12; C. S. 7163.)

Constitutional.—There is no provision of the Constitution which forbids the Legislature to enact laws for the preservation of the health of the inhabitants of the state, and it is indeed an exercise of that governmental police power to legislate for the public welfare which is inherent in the General Assembly, except when restrained by some express constitutional provision. State v. Hay, 126 N. C. 999, 1000, 35 S. E. 459.

Such rules and regulations as provided for by this section, when reasonable and relevant to the purpose, are a valid exercise of authority. Morgan v. Stewart, 144 N. C. 424, 57 S. E. 149.

Reasonableness.—Clark, J., in State v. Hay, 126 N. C. 999, 1003, 35 S. E. 459, in discussing the vaccination laws says: "But even if we were of opinion with the small number of medical men who contend that vaccination is dangerous to health, and not a preventive of the disease, the Court is not a paternal despot, gifted with infallible wisdom, whose function is to correct the errors and mistakes of the Legislature."

Douglas J., concurring, in State v. Hay, 126 N. C. 999, 1004, 35 S. E. 459, says: "Compulsory vaccination is not an unreasonable requirement, as experience has shown that it is in time of epidemic necessary for the protection of the community and equally so of the individual."

Arrest of Persons Exposed. —A city is not liable to one arrested on the ground of having been exposed to smallpox, when the officers act without malice. Levin v. Burlington, 129 N. C. 184, 39 S. E. 822.

§ 130-185. Rules as to vaccination; violations punished.—The board of health of any city, town, or county may make such regulations and provisions for the vaccination of the inhabitants of their city, town, or county, and impose such penalties as they may deem necessary to protect the public health, and the violations of such rules shall be a misdemeanor, punishable by fine not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisonment not exceeding thirty days. (Rev., s. 3455; 1913, c. 181, s. 12; C. S. 7164.)

Cross Reference.—As to constitutionality see note to preceding section.

Punishment.—The punishment provided for by this section when administered for the violation of a reasonable regulation, is a valid exercise of authority. Morgan v. Stewart, 144 N. C. 424, 57 S. E. 149.

When Vaccination Would Be Dangerous.—The general law embraces all, leaving it optional to no one's private judgment whether to render compliance or not. If there are exceptional cases, where owing to the peculiar state of the health or system, vaccination would be dangerous, that would be matter of defense, the burden of which would be on the defendant, and a fact to be found by the jury. State v. Hay, 126 N. C. 999, 35 S. E. 459.

Art. 16. Diphtheria.

§ 130-186. Antitoxin furnished to indigents.—The state board of health is hereby authorized and directed to arrange for a sufficient supply of diphtheria antitoxin for the treatment therewith, free of charge, of indigent persons sick of diphtheria, and for immunizing against infection such indigent persons as may be exposed to the disease, and to extend the facilities for making the diagnosis of the disease. (1909, c. 389, s. 1; C. S. 7165.)

§ 130-187. Laboratory of hygiene to furnish antitoxin to counties.—The board of health shall keep on hand in the state laboratory of hygiene a supply of reliable diphtheria antitoxin, and shall distribute it, through the said laboratory, to the several counties of the state, whenever the boards of county commissioners thereof shall request it, and shall notify the secretary of the state board of health that they will pay for the same upon presentation of a bill, and shall designate the person or persons with whom it shall be deposited. The antitoxin shall be furnished at the lowest figure obtainable for a reliable preparation. (1909, c. 389, s. 2; C. S. 7166.)

§ 130-188. Physician's requisitions for antitoxin. —Whenever a physician is called to a case of diphtheria in an indigent person or one in immediate need and unable to pay for antitoxin, he may obtain the same from one of the depositories or diphtheria stations by filling out and signing in duplicate the blank requisition form to be supplied with the antitoxin by the said board of health, and presenting the same to the county health officer or county physician or any member of the county board of health, or to such person as the said county board of health may appoint, who, after satisfying himself as to the indigency of the person or persons for whom the antitoxin is intended, shall approve and countersign in duplicate the requisition form. The person dispensing the antitoxin shall retain one copy of the requisition and shall mail the duplicate promptly to director of the laboratory of hygiene. He shall also return to the said director all packages of antitoxin in his possession as soon as they become out of date. (1909, c. 389, s. 3; C. S. 7167.)

§ 130-189. Article applicable to cities and towns. —The provisions of §§ 130-186 to 130-189 shall apply to cities and towns upon the same conditions as it does to counties. (1909, c. 389, s. 4; C. S. 7168.)

§ 130-190. Immunization of children.—The parent or parents or guardian of any child in North Carolina shall have administered to such child between the ages of six months and twelve months an immunizing dose of a prophylactic diphtheria agent which meets the standard approved by the United States public health service for such biologic products. The parent or parents or guardian of any child in North Carolina between the ages of twelve months and five years who has not been previously immunized against diphtheria, shall have administered to such child an immunizing dose of prophylactic diphtheria agent which meets the standard approved by the United States public health service for such biologic products. It shall be incumbent upon the parent or parents or guardian of such child to present said child to a regularly licensed physician in the state of North Carolina, of his or her or their own choice, and request said physician to render this professional service. If the said parent or parents or guardian of such child are unable to pay for the services of a private physician of his, or her or their own choice, they shall then present such child to the county health officer in the county in which such child resides and ask that an immunizing dose of prophylactic diphtheria agent which meets the standard approved by the United States public health service for such biologic products, be administered, and such county health officer shall administer such treatment.

If there is no regularly employed health officer in the given county in which the indigent parent, or parents, or guardian referred to in the third paragraph of this section resides, the parent or parents, or guardian of the indigent child shall present such child to the county physician, who shall then administer the prophylactic diphtheria agent or secure the services of another regularly licensed physician in such county and pay such physician for such services to the said indigent child out of such funds of said county as are provided for such purposes.

A certificate giving the name and address of the parent, parent, or guardian, the name and address of the child and the date of the administration of the prophylactic agent, shall be submitted by the physician rendering this professional service to the local health officer, and in instances where there is no health officer, said certificate shall be submitted to the county physician. Such certificate shall be kept on file as a permanent record by the local county registrar for births. Furthermore, such certificate of immunization shall be presented to school authorities upon admission to any public, private or parochial school in North Carolina.

Any willful violation of this section, or any part thereof, shall constitute a misdemeanor and shall be punishable at law by a fine of not more than five dollars ($50.00) or by imprisonment for not more than thirty (30) days, in the discretion of the court. Provided this section shall not apply to children whose parent or parents or guardians are bona fide members of a religious organization whose teachings are contrary to the practices herein required, and no certificates for admission to any public, private or parochial school shall be required as to them. (1939, c. 126.)

Editor's Note.—For comment on this enactment, see 17 N. C. Law Rev. 350.

Art. 17. Hydrophobia.

§ 130-191. Board of health to provide treatment. —The state board of health is hereby authorized and empowered to provide for and have conducted under its direction the preventive treatment of hydrophobia or rabies, whenever in its judgment circumstances, financial and other, will justify it. To meet the expenses of this treatment the said board is hereby given authority to supplement the revenue derived from the fees for the treatment by such sums from the treasury of the state laboratory of hygiene as may be necessary: Provided, that the usefulness and efficiency of the said laboratory is not thereby impaired. (1907, c. 891, s. 1; C. S. 7170.)

§ 130-192. Treatment to be without charge. —The benefits of said treatment shall be given free of charge to all residents of the state who shall present to the secretary of the state board of health or its representative having in charge the management of this special work, an affidavit of inability to pay, duly sworn to and subscribed before a justice of the peace, or, if the case be a minor, such an affidavit by the parent or guardian. To meet as far as may be the expenses of this special work the said state board of health is hereby authorized and directed to demand from those able to do so the payment in advance of a reasonable fee, not to exceed in any case the usual charge made by the reputable Pasteur institutes of this country. (1907, c. 891, s. 2; C. S. 7171.)

Art. 18. Inflammation of Eyes of Newborn.

§ 130-193. Ophthalmia neonatorum described.—Any inflammation, swelling, or unusual redness in either one or both eyes of any infant, either apart from or together with any unnatural discharge from the eye or eyes of such infant, independent of the nature of the infection, if any, occurring any time within two weeks after the birth of such infant, shall be known as “inflammation of the eyes of the newborn” (ophthalmia neonatorum). (1917, c. 257, s. 1; C. S. 7180.)

§ 130-194. Inflammation of eyes of newborn to be reported.—It shall be the duty of any physician, surgeon, obstetrician, midwife, nurse, maternity home, or hospital of any nature, parent, relative, and any persons attendant on or assisting in any way whatsoever any infant, or the mother of any infant at childbirth or any time within two weeks after childbirth, knowing the condition, hereinafter defined, to exist, immediately to report such fact, as the state board of health shall direct, to the local health officer of the county, city, town, village, or whatever other political division there may be within which the infant or the mother of any such infant may reside. For such services the attending physician, surgeon, obstetrician, midwife, nurse, maternity home, or hospital shall receive from the state treasurer a fee of fifty cents. In the event of there being no health officer in the city, village, or town in which the infant resides, midwives shall immediately report the condition to some qualified practitioner of medicine, and thereupon withdraw from the case, except as she may act under a physician’s instructions. On receipt of such receipt, the health officer, or the physician notified by a midwife where no health officer exists, shall immediately give to the parents or persons having charge of such infant a warning of the danger to the eye or eyes of said infant, and shall for indigent cases provide the necessary treatment at the expense of the said county, city, village, or town. (1917, c. 257, s. 2; C. S. 7181.)

§ 130-195. Eyes of newborn to be treated; penalty for omission.—It shall be unlawful for any physician or midwife practicing midwifery in the state of North Carolina to neglect or otherwise fail to instill or have instilled, immediately upon its birth, in the eyes of the newborn babe, two drops of a solution prescribed or furnished by the state board of health. (1917, c. 257, s. 3; C. S. 7182.)

Duty of Physician.—This section does not impose upon the physician attempting in good faith to obey the statute the absolute duty of ascertaining the percentage of the solution furnished by a hospital for this purpose, and he is not liable for damages resulting from the use of a larger per cent of such solution when so furnished by the hospital. Covington v. Wyatt, 196 N. C. 367, 145 S. E. 673.

§ 130-196. Duties of local health officer.—It shall be the duty of the local health officer:
1. To investigate or to have investigated each case as filed with him in pursuance with the law, and any other such cases as may come to his attention.
2. To report all cases of inflammation of the eyes of the newborn and the result of all such investigations as the state board of health shall direct.
3. To conform to such other rules and regulations as the state board of health shall promulgate for his further guidance. (1917, c. 257, s. 4; C. S. 7183.)

§ 130-197. Duties of state board of health.—It shall be the duty of the North Carolina state board of health:
1. To enforce the provisions of this article.
2. To promulgate such rules and regulations as shall, under this article, be necessary for the purposes of this article, and such as the state board of health may deem necessary for the further and proper guidance of local health officers.
3. To provide for the gratuitous distribution of the scientific prophylactic for inflammation of the eyes of the newborn, as designated in § 130-195, together with proper directions for the use and administration thereof, to all physicians and midwives as may be engaged in the practice of obstetrics or assisting at childbirth.
4. To publish and promulgate such further advice and information concerning the dangers of inflammation of the eyes of the newborn, and the necessity for prompt and effective treatment.
5. To furnish copies of this law to all physicians and midwives as may be engaged in the practice of obstetrics or assisting at childbirth.
6. To report all cases of inflammation of the eyes of the newborn as shall be filed in the office of the state board of health in pursuance with this law and as may come to their attention in any way, and to constitute such records a part of the biennial report to the governor and the legislature. (1917, c. 257, s. 5; C. S. 7184.)

§ 130-198. Treatment in hospitals and institutions.—It shall be the duty of physicians, midwives, or other persons in attendance upon a case of childbirth in a maternity home, hospital, public or charitable institution, in every infant’s eyes, within two hours after birth, to use the prophylactic against inflammation of the eyes of the newborn specified in this article, and to make record of the prophylactic used. It shall also be the duty of such institution to maintain such records of cases of inflammation of the eyes of the newborn as the state board of health shall direct. (1917, c. 257, s. 6; C. S. 7185.)

§ 130-199. Violations of article; penalties. —Whoever being a physician, surgeon, midwife, obstetrician, nurse, manager, or person in charge of a maternity home or hospital, parent, relative, or person attendant upon or assisting at the birth of any infant, violates any of the provisions... of this article shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof be fined in a sum not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars, and, if possessed of the required amount of property, subject to suit by the parent or guardian of the children for damages resulting to the child; and if such a suit shall be brought the establishment of the fact that the physician or midwife did not place the drops in the child's eyes within two hours of its birth shall be accepted as prima facie evidence of the physician's or midwife's responsibility for the injury of the disease to the eye or eyes of the child. It shall be the duty of the prosecuting attorney to prosecute all violations of this article.
(1917, c. 257, s. 7; C. S. 7186.)

§ 130-200. Registration of midwives.—All midwives who now practice midwifery in North Carolina, other than regularly registered physicians, shall register, without fee, their names and addresses with the secretary of the North Carolina state board of health on or before the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, in order that the prophylactic solution and necessary instructions may be furnished them. After the aforesaid date no person, physician, or midwife shall practice midwifery in North Carolina until at least ten days have elapsed following the registration of the name and address of the person who intends to engage in the practice of midwifery, and in this period of ten days elapsing between the registration and beginning of the practice of midwifery by the registered person the state board of health shall furnish the necessary directions and solution to the physician or midwife for compliance with this article. (1917, c. 257, s. 8; C. S. 7187.)

§ 130-201. Failure to register; penalty.—Any physician or midwife failing to register their names and addresses with the North Carolina state board of health as required in the preceding section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of from ten dollars to fifty dol-ars. (1917, c. 257, s. 9; C. S. 7188.)

§ 130-202. Expenses of prosecution.—Any and all necessary and legitimate expenses that may be incurred in prosecuting a case under this article shall, on proper showing, be met by the state board of health. (1917, c. 257, s. 10; C. S.

§ 130-203. Copies of article to be distributed.— Every health officer shall furnish a copy of this article to each person who is known to him to act as midwife or nurse in the county, city, or town for which such health officer is appointed, and the secretary of state shall cause a sufficient number of copies of this article to be printed and supply the same to the health officer of the county, city, or town, and the state board of health, on application. (1917, c. 257, s. 11; C. S.
7190.)

Part 1. Control and Treatment.

§ 130-204. Venereal infection.—Syphilis, gonorhea, and chancroid, hereinafter designated as venereal diseases, are hereby declared to be contagious, infectious, communicable, and dangerous to the public health. It shall be unlawful for any one infected with these diseases or any of them to expose another person to infection.
(1919, c. 206, s. 1; C. S. 7191.)

§ 130-205. Physicians and superintendents of in-istitutions to report cases.—Any physician or other person who makes a diagnosis in or treats a case of venereal disease, and any superintendet or manager of a hospital, dispensary, or charitable institution in which there is a case of venereal disease, shall make a report of such case to the health authorities according to such form and manner as the North Carolina state

§ 131-9. Trustees to have control, and to make regulations.—The board of hospital trustees shall make and adopt such by-laws, rules and regulations for their own guidance and for the government of the hospital as may be deemed expedient for the economic and equitable conduct thereof, not inconsistent with this article and the ordinances of the city or town wherein such public hospital is located. They shall have the exclusive control of the expenditure of all money collected to the credit of the hospital fund, and the purchase of the site or sites, the purchase or construction of any hospital building or buildings, and of the supervision, care, and custody of the grounds, rooms, or buildings purchased, constructed, leased, or set apart for that purpose. (1913, c. 42, s. 4; 1917, c. 268; C. S. 7260.)

§ 131-11. Meetings of board; reports required.—The board of hospital trustees shall hold meetings at least once each month, and shall keep a complete record of all its proceedings. No trustee shall have a personal pecuniary interest, either directly or indirectly, in the purchase of any supplies for such hospital, unless the same are purchased by competitive bidding. (1913, c. 42, s. 4; 1917, c. 268; C. S. 7261.)

§ 131-12. Vacancies filled. — Vacancies in the board of trustees occasioned by removals, resignations, or otherwise shall be reported to the governing body of the county, township, or town and be filled in like manner as original appointments, appointees to hold office until the next following general election, when such vacancies shall be filled by election in the usual manner. (1913, c. 42, s. 5; 1917, c. 268; C. S. 7262.)

Local Modification—Alamance: 1943, c. 379, s. 2.

§ 131-13. Deposit and payment of funds.—All money received for such hospital shall be deposited in the treasury of the county, township, or town to the credit of the hospital fund, and paid out only upon warrants drawn by the auditor, or other proper officer, of such county, township, or town upon the properly authenticated vouchers of the hospital board. (1913, c. 42, s. 4; 1917, c. 268; C. S. 7263.)

§ 131-14. Regulations as to bond issue.—Whenever any county, township, or town in this state shall have provided for the appointment and election of hospital trustees, and voted a tax for a term not exceeding thirty years for hospital purposes, as authorized by law, the county, township, or town may issue bonds in anticipation of the collection of such tax in such sums and amounts as the board of hospital trustees shall certify to the governing body of such county, township, or town to be necessary for the purposes contemplated by such tax, but such bonds in the aggregate shall not exceed the amount which might be realized by said tax, based on the amount which may be yielded on the property valuation of the year in which the tax is voted. Such bonds shall mature in thirty years from date and shall be in sums not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, drawing interest at a rate not exceeding five per cent per annum, payable annually or semiannually; the bonds shall be payable at pleasure of county, township, or town after five years, and each of such bonds shall provide that it is subject to this condition, and shall not be sold for less than par, and shall be substantially in the form provided for county bonds, but subject to changes that will conform them to the provisions of this article, and be numbered consecutively and redeemable in the order of their issuance. The governing body shall have the power and option of issuing, instead of long-term bonds, as above provided, serial bonds in such forms and denominations as said governing body may determine, subject to the restrictions of this section. Said serial bonds may be issued as one issue or divided into two or more separate issues, and in either case may be issued all at one time or in blocks from time to time, and each issue thereof shall so mature that the aggregate principal amount of the issue shall be payable in annual installments or series, beginning not more than three years after the date of the bonds of such issue and ending not more than thirty years after such date. No installments shall be more than two and one-half times as great in amount as the smallest prior installment of the same bond issue. Said bonds, if said governing body shall elect to issue serial bonds instead of long-term bonds, may be either coupon bonds or registered bonds, and if issued in coupon form may be registerable as to principal, or as to both [ 442 ]
§ 131-15. Condemnation of land. — If the board of hospital trustees and the owners of any property desired by them for hospital purposes cannot agree as to the price to be paid therefor, they shall report the fact to the governing body of the county, township, or town, and condemnation proceedings shall be instituted by such governing body and prosecuted in the name of the county, township, or town wherein such public hospital is to be located, by the attorney for such county, township, or town, under the provisions of law for the condemnation of land for railroads. (1913, c. 42, s. 7; 1917, c. 268; C. S. 7266.)

Cross Reference. — As to condemnation proceedings, see §§ 40-11 et seq.

§ 131-16. Plans to be approved; advertisement for bids. — No hospital buildings shall be erected or constructed until the plans and specifications have been made therefor and adopted by the board of hospital trustees, and bids advertised for according to law for other county buildings. (1913, c. 42, s. 8; C. S. 7266.)

§ 131-17. Additional appropriation. — In the counties, townships, or towns exercising the rights conferred by this article, the governing body may appropriate each year, in addition to tax for hospital fund hereinbefore provided for, not exceeding five per cent of its general fund for the improvement and maintenance of any public hospital so established. (1913, c. 42, s. 10; 1917, c. 268; C. S. 7267.)

§ 131-18. Power to accept donations. — Any person, firm, corporation, or society desiring to make donations of money, personal property, or real estate for the benefit of such hospital shall have the right to vest title of the property so donated in said county, township, or town, to be controlled, when accepted, by the board of hospital trustees according to the terms of the deed, gift, devise, or bequest of such property. (1913, c. 42, s. 13; 1917, c. 268; C. S. 7268.)

§ 131-19. Persons entitled to benefit of hospital. — Every hospital established under this article shall be for the benefit of the inhabitants of such county, township, or town, and of any person falling sick or being injured or maimed within its limits; but every person who is not a pauper shall pay to such board of hospital trustees, or such officer as it shall designate, for such public hospital, a reasonable compensation for occupancy, nursing, care, medicine, or attendance, according to the rules and regulations prescribed by the board, such hospital always being subject to such reasonable rules and regulations as the board may adopt, in order to render the use of the hospital of the greatest benefit to the greatest number. The board may exclude from the use of such hospital all persons who shall wilfully violate such rules and regulations; the board may extend the privileges and use of such hospital to persons residing outside of such county, township, or town, upon such terms and conditions as may be prescribed from time to time by its rules and regulations. (1913, c. 42, s. 11; 1917, c. 268; C. S. 7269.)

§ 131-22. Conditions and privileges of physicians to practice in public hospitals to be determined by the trustees. — The board of trustees of such hospitals shall determine the conditions under which the privileges of practice within the hospital may be available to physicians, and shall promulgate reasonable rules and regulations governing the conduct of physicians and nurses while on duty in said hospital. (1913, c. 42, s. 14; 1925, c. 177; C. S. 7272.)

Editor’s Note. — Prior to the amendment Public Laws 1925, ch. 177, this section provided that no discrimination should be made and that a patient might employ his own physician.

§ 131-23. Training school for nurses. — The board of trustees of such county, township, or town public hospital may establish and maintain, in connection therewith and as a part of said public hospital, a training school for nurses. (1913, c. 42, s. 15; 1917, c. 268; C. S. 7273.)

§ 131-24. Room for examination of insane persons. — The board of trustees shall at all times provide a suitable room for the detention and examination of all persons who are brought before the commissioners of insanity for such county, provided that such public hospital is located at the county-seat. (1913, c. 42, s. 16; C. S. 7274.)

§ 131-25. Charity patients determined. — The board of hospital trustees shall have the power to determine whether or not patients presented at the public hospital for treatment are subjects for charity, and shall fix the compensation to be paid by patients other than those unable to assist themselves. (1913, c. 42, s. 18; C. S. 7275.)

§ 131-26. Department for tuberculous patients. — The board of trustees are authorized to provide as a department of the public hospital, but not necessarily attached thereto, suitable accommodations and means for the care and treatment of persons suffering from tuberculosis, and to formulate such rules and regulations for the government of such persons, and for the protection from infection of other patients and of nurses and attendants in such public hospital, as they may deem necessary; and it shall be the duty of all persons in charge of or employed at such hospitals, or residents thereof, to faithfully obey and comply with all such rules and regulations. The board of hospital trustees shall, if practicable, employ as head nurse to be placed in charge of the public tuberculosis sanatorium one who has had experience in the management and care of tuberculosis person. (1913, c. 42, s. 17; C. S. 7276.)

§ 131-27. Plans for county and municipal tuberculosis sanatoria.—Any county or town desiring to erect a sanatorium or hospital, shack, tent, or other structure in which it is intended to keep persons suffering with tuberculosis shall first submit to the state board of health for its approval or rejection the plans of said sanatorium, hospital, shack, tent, or other structure, and it shall be unlawful for any county or town to begin the erection of any structure referred to above without the consent or approval of the state board of health.

Any person, firm, or corporation failing, neglecting, or refusing to comply with the provisions of this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned, in the discretion of the court. (1917, c. 216, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 7277.)

§ 131-28. Nonresident tuberculous patients. —The governing body of any county, township, or town where no suitable provision has been made for the care of indigent tuberculosis residents may contract with the board of hospital trustees of any public hospital for the care of such persons in the sanatorium department of such hospital, upon such reasonable terms as may be agreed upon. (1913, c. 42, s. 19; 1917, c. 268; C. S. 7278.)

Art. 3. County Tuberculosis Hospitals.

§ 131-29. Power to establish.—Any county within the state shall have power and authority at any time to establish, erect, and maintain a hospital for the care and treatment of persons suffering with the disease known as tuberculosis, as hereinafter provided in this article. (1917, c. 99, s. 1; C. S. 7279.)

Proceedings under Conflicting Local Act Invalid.—Where the county commissioners have proceeded under a special local act, which was later held to be unconstitutional, to submit to its electorate the question of erecting and maintaining a tuberculosis hospital, to issue $100,000 in bonds therefor, and levy an additional tax of eight cents on the $100 valuation of its property for maintenance, their action thus taken cannot be sustained under the provisions of the general law, ch. 131, this section et seq., authorizing an expenditure for the purpose of not exceeding $100,000, and a maintenance tax not to exceed fifteen cents on the $100 valuation. (1917, c. 99, s. 2; 1919, c. 159, s. 2; Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 47; 1925, c. 75; 1927, c. 34, s. 2; 1929, c. 164; 1937, c. 197; 1939, c. 290; C. S. 7280.)

Editor’s Note.—By amendment, Ex. Sess. 1924, ch. 47, the provision for holding special election was added. By Public Laws 1925, ch. 75, the bond limit was raised from one hundred thousand to two hundred and fifty thousand. In Public Laws of 1927, ch. 34, sec. 1 and 2 the same amendment was made in 1929, that is, raising the bond limit from one hundred thousand to two hundred and fifty thousand was made without reference to the amendment of 1925. Evidently the Legislature overlooked the amendment of 1925 in making the amendment of 1929. The 1939 amendment increased the maximum tax rate authorized in the fourth sentence from five to eight cents. The 1939 amendment which increased this rate to ten cents, provides: “This amendment shall in no way be construed as affecting the right of the county to enact a tax on property in towns or cities in the state to continue to levy any tax heretofore approved by a vote of the people in accordance with the provisions of chapter ninety-nine Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred seventeen and acts amendatory thereof.
§ 130-31. Board of managers; term of office; compensation. — For each hospital so established, the board of county commissioners shall, by a majority vote, elect a board of managers to consist of five members, of whom one shall be a member of said board of commissioners and shall be chairman of said board of managers. None of the remaining four members of said board of managers shall be a member of the board of commissioners. The chairman of said board of managers shall be elected for a term of two years, and the other members of said board of managers shall be elected for terms of four years each: Provided, that at the first election of said board of managers the chairman shall be elected for a term equal to the unexpired portion of his term as a member of the board of commissioners, and of the remaining members of said board of managers one member shall be elected for a term of one year, one member for a term of two years, one member for a term of three years, and one member for a term of four years: Provided, also, that any vacancy in said board, occurring at any time, shall be filled by the board of commissioners for the unexpired term. In all counties having a health officer, such health officer, in addition to the five elected members, shall be ex officio a member of such board of managers. Women shall be eligible to said board of managers. The compensation of the members of said board of managers shall be the same as that of the members of the board of commissioners: Provided, that in counties in which the chairman of the board of commissioners receives a fixed salary, and the remaining members of said board are compensated upon the basis of per diem and mileage, the compensation of the members of the board of managers shall be equal to that of the members of the board of commissioners, paid upon a per diem and mileage basis. The chairman of the board of managers shall be entitled to the same compensation as other members of said board, in addition to his compensation as a member of the board of commissioners. The county health officer, however, shall not receive compensation as a member of said board of managers: Provided, that this section shall not affect the present term of office of any member of a board of managers elected prior to the passage of this section, but as to such members this section shall become effective as their present terms of office, respectively, shall expire. (1917, c. 99, s. 4; 1925, c. 313, s. 1; C. S. 7282.)

Editor's Note.—The provisions as to the membership of the board of managers, and the provision as to per diem compensation are new with Public Laws 1925, c. 313, sec. 1.

§ 131-32. Powers of board; title to property.—Authority in regard to the purchase of lands, election and maintenance of buildings, selection of officers, employees, and attendants, formulation of rules and regulations for the admission and government of patients, and general conduct of the hospital, shall vest in the board of managers. No one related by blood or marriage to any member of the board of managers shall be appointed to any office or position in connection with the hospital, except by unanimous vote of the board of managers. All property, both real and personal, pertaining to such hospital, shall be vested in the county: Provided, however, that any donations, bequests, or devises made for the use of such hospital shall be held by the county in trust according to the terms of such donation, devise, or bequest. Provided, that the board of commissioners, in their discretion, either may appoint the board of managers following the official determination of the election, in which event said board of managers shall have the sole authority as to the selection of a site for such hospital, the purchase of lands therefor, and the erecting and equipping of the buildings for such hospital; or the said board of commissioners may defer the appointment of said board of managers until such hospital is constructed, in which event said board of commissioners shall, themselves, select the site for such hospital, purchase lands therefor, erect and equip, or make contracts for erecting and equipping the buildings for such hospital, and shall thereafter turn such hospital over to said board of managers to be operated and maintained in accordance with this article. (1917, c. 99, s. 5; 1925, c. 313, s. 2; C. S. 7283.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment, Public Laws 1925, ch. 313, the provisio for appointment of a board of managers, their powers and the powers of the board of commissioners in regard to the appointment was added.

§ 131-33. Contract power; regulations for admission.—The board of county commissioners, or the board of managers, according to the authority vested in them by the board of county commissioners or by this article, shall have power and authority to purchase property, both real and personal, to make contracts, to formulate, change, and alter rules and regulations for the admission and government of patients, and to do all things reasonably incidental or necessary to carry out the true intent and purpose of this article. Patients may be admitted and kept without charge or for such compensation as may be deemed just and proper in each particular case: Provided, that no person who is not a bona fide resident of the county maintaining such hospital shall be kept for less than actual cost. The county commissioners of any county may, instead of erecting the institution in the county where the vote is taken, use a part or all of the funds in erecting and maintaining a building or buildings at the state sanatorium at Montrose, or the county commissioners may in their discretion erect and maintain a tuberculosis hospital in the county where the bonds are issued, and may also use part of the funds to erect and maintain a building or buildings at Montrose, as they may deem best. Before erecting any building or buildings at Montrose the county commissioners shall make due arrangements and enter into the necessary contract or contracts with the board having charge of the state sanatorium at Montrose. And the board having in charge the state sanatorium at Montrose is hereby authorized and empowered to make contracts with any county in the state, specifying the terms upon which such building or buildings may be erected and making such arrangements as it may deem wise for the maintenance of such buildings and the care and support of such county patients. In case the board of commissioners of any county, or the people of any county, do not decide to issue bonds for the erection of such hospital, but do decide to levy the special tax provided for in § 131-50, they may make arrangements with the board having in charge the State Sanatorium at Montrose for the maintenance and care of tubercular patients of such county. (1917, c. 99, s. 6; 1919, c. 159, s. 3; 1921, c. 178; 1925, c. 313, s. 3; C. S. 7284.)

Art. 4. Joint County Tuberculosis Hospitals.

§ 131-34. Authorization.—Any group of counties within the State of North Carolina shall have power and authority at any time hereafter to establish, erect, and maintain a hospital for the care and treatment of persons suffering with the disease known as tuberculosis, as hereinafter provided in this article. (1925, c. 154, s. 1.)

Local Modification.—Edgecombe, Halifax and Martin: 1927, c. 58.

§ 131-35. Vote on bond issue.—The boards of commissioners of each such group of counties in North Carolina may, by majority vote of said boards, or upon petition of five per cent (5%) of the freeholders of said counties, shall, after thirty days notice at the courthouse door of each of the counties and publication in one or more newspapers published in each of said counties, order an election to be held at the next general election, or order a special election to be held at such time as they may fix, to determine the will of the people in each of the counties in the group whether there shall be issued and sold bonds to an amount not to exceed two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) for each county in the group, to bear interest at such rate as said boards may fix and to be payable, both principal and interest, when and where they may decide. The proceeds of said bonds shall be used in securing lands and erecting or altering buildings and equipping same to be used as a hospital for the treatment of tuberculosis. The election shall be conducted in the manner prescribed in §§ 163-70 to 163-77, 163-148 to 163-187. If the majority of the qualified voters in each county of the group at said election shall vote in favor of the issuing of said bonds, then said bonds shall be issued and sold by said boards and a special tax shall be levied to pay the interest on said bonds and provide a sinking fund to pay said bonds at maturity. Said boards of commissioners are hereby also authorized to levy a special annual tax not to exceed five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of property and fifteen cents on the poll to be used as a maintenance fund for said hospital for tuberculosis. (1925, c. 154, s. 2; 1929, c. 164.)

The member at large shall hold office for two years and the other members shall hold office for four years unless the vacancy is for the office of member at large, in which case the vacancy shall be filled for the unexpired term by the commissioners of all the counties of the group at a joint meeting. Women shall be eligible for election to such board of managers. The compensation for such board shall be the same as that of the county commissioners. (1925, c. 154, s. 4.)

§ 131-37. Authority of board.—Authority in regard to the purchase of lands, erection and maintenance of buildings, selection of officers, employees and attendants, formulation of rules and regulations for the admission and government of patients, and general conduct of the hospital, shall vest in the board of managers; no one related by blood or marriage to any member of the board of managers shall be appointed to any office or position in connection with the hospital, except by unanimous vote of the board of managers; all property, both real and personal, pertaining to such hospital shall be vested jointly in the counties of the group: Provided, however, that any donations, bequests, or devises made for the use of such hospital shall be held by the counties in the group in trust according to the terms of such donation, devise, or bequest. (1925, c. 154, s. 5.)

§ 131-38. Purchasing property; charges.—The boards of county commissioners of the group, or the board of managers, according to the authority vested in them by the boards of county commissioners of the group or by this article, shall have power and authority to purchase property, both real and personal, to make contracts, to formulate, change, and alter rules and regulations for the admission and government of patients, and to do all things reasonably incidental or necessary to carry out the true intent and purpose of this article. Patients may be admitted and kept without charge or for such compensation as may be deemed just and proper in each.
Art. 5. County Tuberculosis Hospitals; Additional Method of Establishment.

§ 131-39. Additional method of establishing; election.—The board of commissioners for each county in the State shall have power to cause to be held in their county an election wherein this article shall be submitted to the qualified voters of said county for their approval or disapproval. Said election shall be in all respects as nearly as may be, held and conducted conformably to the rules for the election of members of the General Assembly. The said board of commissioners shall provide registration and polling books, and shall publish due notice of said election. They shall cause a new registration of voters to be made for said election, and shall publish due notice of the time and place for such registration to be made, and of the time when challenges of such registered voters may be made, all of which shall conform as near as may be, to the general laws regulating the election of members of the General Assembly. The form of the ballot shall be as prescribed in § 163-155, subsec. (c). If in said election a majority of the voters of said county registered for said election vote for said county tubercular hospital, then this article and the following provisions thereof shall thenceforth be in full force and effect in said county; but if in said election a majority of the said registered voters shall not vote for said county tubercular hospital, then the provisions of this article shall be in no further force and effect in said county. (1927, c. 208, s. 3; 1929, c. 164.)

Meeting for qualification and organization; expenditures; care of property.—These said trustees shall within ten days after their appointment meet and qualify by taking the oath of civil officers, and organize their board by the election of one of their members as chairman, and one as secretary, and by the election of such other officers as may be necessary. The treasurer of the county for which said trustees are appointed shall be treasurer of the said board of trustees, and such treasurer shall receive and pay out all moneys under the control of said board as directed by it, but shall receive no compensation from said board, and no trustee shall receive any compensation whatsoever for services performed as such trustee. Said board of trustees shall make and adopt such by-laws, rules and regulations for their own guidance and the government of the said hospital, as it may deem proper, not inconsistent with this article. It shall have the control of the expenditure of all moneys collected to the credit of the hospital, including the proceeds from the sale of such bonds, hereinafter mentioned, and said board of trustees shall have the supervision, care and custody of the grounds, buildings and rooms purchased, constructed, leased or set apart for the purposes of such hospital, and they may employ such assistants, including a superintendent and matron and such other employees as they may deem necessary for the operation of said hospital, insofar as funds available for such purposes will permit. (1927, c. 208, s. 3.)

(2) That the health and welfare, including the health and welfare of persons of low income in the city and said surrounding area, require the construction, maintenance or operation of public hospital facilities for the inhabitants thereof; the council shall adopt a resolution so finding (which need not go into any detail other than the mere finding) and shall cause notice of such determination to be given to the mayor, who shall thereupon appoint, as hereinafter provided, eighteen commissioners to act as an authority. Said commission shall be a public body and a body corporate and politic upon the completion of the taking of the following proceedings:

The commissioners shall present to the secretary of state an application signed by them, which shall set forth (without any detail other than the mere recital): (1) That the council has made the aforesaid determination after such investigation, and that the mayor has appointed them as commissioners; (2) the name and official residence of each of the commissioners, together with a certified copy of the appointment evidencing their right to office, the date and place of induction into and taking oath of office, and that they desire the hospital authority to become a public body and a body corporate and politic under this article; (3) the term of office of each of the commissioners; (4) the name which is proposed for the corporation; and (5) the location and the principal office of the proposed corporation. The application shall be subscribed and sworn to by each of the said commissioners before an officer authorized by the laws of the state to take and certify oaths, who shall certify upon the application that he personally knows the commissioners and knows them to be the officers as asserted in the application, and that each subscribed and swore, thereto in the officer's presence. The secretary of state shall examine the application and if he finds that the name proposed for the corporation is not identical with that of a person or of any other corporation of this state or so nearly similar as to lead to confusion and uncertainty he shall receive and file it and shall record it in an appropriate book of record in his office.

When the application has been made, filed and recorded, as herein provided, the authority shall constitute a public body and a body corporate and politic under the name proposed in the application; the secretary of state shall make and issue to the said commissioners a certificate of incorporation pursuant to this article, under the seal of the state, and shall record the same with the application.

The boundaries of such authority shall include said city and the area within ten miles from the territorial boundaries of said city but in no event shall it include the whole or a part of any other city nor any area included within the boundaries of another authority. In case an area lies within ten miles of the boundaries or more than one city such area shall be deemed to be within the boundaries of the authority embracing such area which was first established, all priorities to be determined on the basis of the time of the issuance of the aforesaid certificates by the secretary of state. After the creation of an authority, the subsequent existence within its territorial boundaries of more than one city shall in no way affect the territorial boundaries of such authority.

In any suit, action or proceeding involving the validity or enforcement of or relating to any contract of the authority, the authority shall be conclusively deemed to have been established in accordance with the provisions of this article upon proof of the issuance of the aforesaid certificate by the secretary of state. § 131-94. Appointment, qualifications, and tenure of commissioners.—An authority shall consist of eighteen commissioners appointed by the mayor and he shall designate the first chairman.

One third of the commissioners who are first appointed shall be designated by the mayor to serve for terms of four years, one third to serve for terms of eight years, and one third to serve for terms of twelve years respectively from the date of their appointment. Thereafter, the term of office shall be three years. A commissioner shall hold office until his successor has been appointed and has qualified. Vacancies shall be filled for the unexpired term. In the event of a vacancy or vacancies in the membership of the board by expiration of term of office or otherwise, the remaining members of the board shall submit to the mayor nominations for appointments. The mayor may successively require any number of additional nominations, and shall have power to appoint any person so nominated. All such vacancies shall be filled from such nominations. A majority of the commissioners shall constitute a quorum. The mayor shall file with the city clerk a certificate of the appointment or reappointment of any commissioner and such certificate shall be conclusive evidence of the due and proper appointment of such commissioner. A commissioner shall receive no compensation for his services but he shall be entitled to the necessary expenses including traveling expenses incurred in the discharge of his duties.

When the office of the first chairman of the authority becomes vacant, the authority shall select a chairman from among its members. An authority shall select from among its members a vice-chairman, and it may employ a secretary, technical experts and such other officers, agents and employees, permanent and temporary, as it may require, and shall determine their qualifications, duties and compensation. An authority may employ its own counsel and legal staff. An authority may delegate to one or more of its agents or employees such powers or duties as it may deem proper. (1943, c. 780, s. 5.)

§ 131-95. Duty of the authority and commissioners of the authority.—The authority and its commissioners shall be under a statutory duty to comply or to cause compliance strictly with all provisions of this article and the laws of the state and in addition thereto, with each and every term, provision and covenant in any contract of the authority on its part to be kept or performed. (1943, c. 780, s. 6.)

§ 131-96. Interested commissioners or employees.—No commissioner or employee of an authority shall acquire any interest direct or indirect in any hospital project or in any property included or planned to be included in any property included or planned to be included in any hospital project, nor shall he have any interest direct or indirect in any contract or proposed contract for materials or services to be furnished or used in connection with any hospital project. If any commissioner or employee of an authority owns or controls an interest direct or indirect in any property included or planned to be included in any hospital project, he shall immediately disclose the same in writing to the authority and such disclosure shall be entered upon the minutes of the authority. Failure to so disclose such interest shall constitute misconduct in office. (1943, c. 780, s. 7.)

§ 131-97. Removal of commissioners.—The mayor may remove a commissioner for inefficiency or neglect of duty or misconduct in office, but only after the commissioner shall have been given a copy of the charges against him (which may be made by the mayor) at least ten days prior to the hearing thereon and had an opportunity to be heard in person or by counsel.

Any obligee of the authority may file with the mayor written charges that the authority is violating wilfully any law of the state or any term, provision or covenant in any contract to which the authority is a party. The mayor shall give each of the commissioners a copy of such charges at least ten days prior to the hearing thereon and an opportunity to be heard in person or by counsel and shall within fifteen days after receipt of such charges remove any commissioners of the authority who shall have been found to have acquiesced in any such wilful violation.

If, after due and diligent search, a commissioner to whom charges are required to be delivered hereunder cannot be found within the county where the authority is located, such charges shall be deemed served upon said commissioner if mailed to him at his last known address as same appears upon the records of the authority.

A commissioner shall be deemed to have acquiesced in a wilful violation by the authority of a law of this state or of any term, provision or covenant contained in a contract to which the authority is a party, if, before a hearing is held on charges against him, he shall not have filed a written statement with the authority of his objections to, or lack of participation in, such violation.

In the event of the removal of any commissioner, the mayor shall file in the office of the city clerk a record of the proceedings together with the charges made against the commissioners and the findings thereon. (1943, c. 780, s. 8.)

§ 131-98. Powers and authority.—An authority shall constitute a public body and a body corporate and politic, exercising public powers, and having all the powers necessary or convenient to carry out and effectuate the purposes and provisions of this article, including the following powers in addition to others herein granted:

(a) Bonds on which the principal and interest are payable exclusively from the income and revenues of the project constructed, furnished and equipped with the proceeds of such bonds or with such proceeds together with the proceeds of a grant from the federal government to aid in financing, furnishing or equipment thereof, provided, however, that the credit of the authority shall not be pledged to the payment of such bonds, but such bonds shall be payable only (and the bonds shall so state on their face) from the revenues of the designated hospital project or projects, and if the authority so determines, shall be additionally secured by a trust indenture pledging such revenues from such designated hospital project or projects.

Neither the commissioners of the authority nor any person executing the bonds shall be liable personally on the bonds by reason of the issuance thereof.

The bonds and other obligations of the authority (and such bonds and obligations shall so state on their face) shall not be a debt of any city or municipality located within its boundaries or of the state and neither the state nor any such city or municipality shall be liable therefor, nor in any event shall they be payable out of any funds or properties other than those of the authority. The bonds shall not constitute an indebtedness within the meaning of any constitutional or statutory debt limitation of the laws of the state. Bonds may be issued under this article notwithstanding any debt or other limitation prescribed in any statute.

§ 131-102. Form and sale of bonds. — The bonds of the authority shall be authorized by its resolution and shall be issued in one or more series and shall bear such date or dates, mature at such time or times, not exceeding sixty years from their respective dates, bear interest at such rate or rates, not exceeding six per centum (6%) per annum payable semiannually, be in such denominations (which may be made interchangeable) be in such form, either coupon or registered, carry such registration privileges, be executed in such manner, be payable in such medium of payment, at such place or places, and be subject to such terms of redemption (with or without premium) as such resolution or its trust indenture or mortgage may provide.

The bonds may be sold at such price or prices as the authority shall determine provided that the interest cost to maturity of the money received for any issue of said bonds shall not exceed six per centum (6%) per annum.

Pending the authorization, preparation, execution or delivery of definitive bonds, the authority may issue interim certificates, or other temporary obligations, to the purchaser of such bonds. Such interim certificates, or other temporary obligations, shall be in such form, contain such terms, conditions and provisions, bear such date or dates, and evidence such agreements relating to their discharge or payment or the delivery of definitive bonds as the authority may by resolution, trust indenture or mortgage determine.

In case any of the officers whose signatures appear on any bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officers before the delivery of such bonds, such signatures shall, nevertheless, be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if they had remained in office until such delivery.

The authority shall have power out of any funds available therefor to purchase any bonds issued by it at a price not more than the principal amount thereof and the accrued interest; provided, however, that such bonds payable exclusively from the revenues of a designated project or projects shall be purchased out of any such revenues available therefor. All bonds so purchased shall be canceled. This paragraph shall not apply to the redemption of bonds.

§ 134-1. Incorporation; certain powers.—The Stonewall Jackson Manual Training and Industrial School is hereby created a corporation, and as such corporation it is authorized and empowered to accept and use donations and appropriations and to do all other things necessary and requisite to be done in furtherance of the purpose of its organization and existence as hereinafter set forth. (1907, c. 509, s. 1; 1907, c. 955; 1925, c. 306, s. 1; 1943, c. 776, s. 12; C. S. 7313.)

Editor's Note.—No material change was made in this section by the Public Laws 1925, except the omission of the names of certain individual trustees.

Prior to the 1943 amendment this section related to the board of trustees of the school as a body corporate.

Constitutional.—This article is constitutional and committing a child to the institution is not imprisonment as for the punishment of crime, but is a paternal restraint exercised by the state for the protection of society and for the interest of the child. In re Watson, 175 N. C. 340, 72 S. E. 1049.

Detention Cannot Be for Punishment.—The punishment for vagrancy cannot exceed thirty days under our statute, and a legislative act which provides for a longer detention of a child in a reformatory for that offense, if merely for the purpose of punishment, would be violative of section 14 of the Bill of Rights. In re Watson, 157 N. C. 340, 72 S. E. 1906.

§ 134-2. Purpose of the school.—The trustees are empowered to establish and operate a school for the training and moral and industrial development of the criminally delinquent children of the state; and when such school has been organized the trustees may, in their discretion, receive therein such delinquent and criminal children under the age of sixteen years as may be sent or committed thereto under any order or commitment by the judges of the superior courts, the judges of the juvenile courts, or the recorders or other presiding officers of the city or criminal courts, and shall have the sole right and authority to keep, restrain, and control them during their minority, or until such time as they shall deem proper for their discharge, under such proper and humane rules and regulations as may be adopted by the trustees. (1907, c. 509, s. 2; 1907, c. 955, s. 1; C. S. 7314.)

§ 134-3. Power to purchase land and locate school.—The board of trustees shall select a suitable place outside of and away from any city, town, or village, for the location of such school, and they are empowered to purchase, at some suitable and convenient place in this state, not less than one hundred acres nor more than five hundred acres of land whereon to erect and operate such school. (1907, c. 509, ss. 2, 15; C. S. 7315.)

§ 134-4: Repealed by Session Laws 1943, c. 776, s. 12.

§ 134-5. Application of funds; account required.

—All moneys received by the trustees by private gifts, donations, or otherwise shall be expended in the establishment, operation, and maintenance of the school for the training and the moral and industrial development of such delinquent children, and in securing homes for them; and in case the trustees receive or are allowed any state aid for said school, it shall be their duty to duly account for all moneys so received by them and to make report of the manner of its expenditure and of the work done by them as hereinafter more particularly provided for. (1907, c. 509, s. 3; C. S. 7317.)

§ 134-6. Trustees to employ superintendent and assistants, and make regulations.—The board of trustees shall have the management and control of the school, and shall have authority to employ a superintendent and such other assistants as they may deem necessary; to fix their salaries, to define their duties, to discharge any employees, and to make any and all rules and regulations as they may deem necessary for the management and conducting of such reformatory under the provisions of this article, and not inconsistent therewith. (1907, c. 509, s. 8; C. S. 7318.)

§ 134-7. Treasurer and superintendent to give bond.—The treasurer and superintendent shall, before receiving any of said funds, make a good and sufficient bond, payable to the state of North Carolina, in such sums as may be named by the governor and approved by the state treasurer. (1907, c. 509, s. 7; C. S. 7319.)

§ 134-8. Powers of superintendent.—The superintendent employed by the board is authorized to require obedience from all the inmates of the school, and is intrusted with the authority for correcting and punishing any inmate thereof to the same extent as a parent may under the law impose upon his own child, and the trustees shall have the right at any time to discharge the superintendent for cause. (1907, c. 509, s. 9; C. S. 7320.)

§ 134-9. Governor to visit reformatory.—It shall be the duty of the governor of the state to visit the reformatory at least once in each year, and oftener if he deems it necessary, and to make such suggestions to the board of trustees as he may deem wise and for the best interests of the school or reformatory. (1907, c. 509, s. 10; C. S. 7321.)

§ 134-10. Courts may commit offenders to reformatory.—The judges of the superior courts, recorders, or other presiding officers of the city or criminal courts of this state, shall have authority, and it shall be their duty, to sentence to the school all persons under the age of sixteen years convicted in any court of this state of any violation of the criminal laws: Provided, that such judge or other of said officers shall be of the opinion that it would be best for such person, and the community in which he may be convicted, that he should be so sentenced. Any commitment under this article, whether by judge or court, as hereinbefore provided, shall be full, final, and competent authority to the officers and agents of the school for the detention and keeping therein of the child so committed. (1907, c. 509, ss. 11, 17; 1907, c. 955, s. 1; C. S. 7322.)

In General.—The act creating the Stonewall Jackson Training School is "for the training and moral development of the criminally delinquent children of the State," and the superintendent is "intrusted with the authority for correcting and punishing any inmate thereof to the same extent as a parent may, under the law, impose upon his own child," and in its general scheme and purposes is for the benefit of a child therein detained. Hence, the provisions in the act that the child committed thereto must be "convicted" and "sentenced" by the court, construing the act as a whole, does not make it clear that detention therein is an imprisonment as a punishment for a crime, but that the "conviction" is merely evidence that the child needs the care and nurture of the State, and that the sentence is an order of detention. In re Watson, 127 N. C. 346, 72 S. E. 1046.

It would seem that the legislature did not intend that a fifteen-year-old boy, convicted of a capital crime, should be sentenced to a reformatory, but if the statute be construed to permit such sentence, the power of the court to impose such sentence is made permissive and not compulsory, and sentence of death upon a conviction of a fifteen-year-old boy of the crime of rape is without error. State v. Smith, 213 N. C. 299, 198 S. E. 89.

§ 134-11. Governor may transfer prisoners to reformatory.—The governor of the state may by order transfer any person under the age of sixteen years from any jail, chain-gang, or penitentiary in this state to such reformatory. (1907, c. 509, s. 12; C. S. 7323.)

§ 134-12. Department first established; sexes separated.—The board of trustees shall first establish and maintain such departments of the manual training school as shall be adapted to the use of such class of boys as in the discretion of the board may be most in need of such care and training and will probably be most benefited thereby. When both sexes are admitted, the males and females shall be kept in separate apartments or buildings. (1907, c. 509, ss. 17, 18; C. S. 7324.)

§ 134-13. Industrial training provided.—There shall be established and conducted in such lands as may be owned in connection with the school such agriculture, horticulture, workshops, and other pursuits as the board of trustees may deem expedient so as to keep regularly at work all able-bodied inmates. (1907, c. 509, s. 4; C. S. 7325.)

§ 134-14. General instruction and training given.—The officers of the school shall receive and take into it all children committed thereto by competent authority, or received therein as aforesaid, and shall cause all such children in the school to be instructed in such rudimentary branches of useful knowledge as may be suited to their various ages and capacities. The children shall be taught such useful trades and given such manual training as the board may direct, and shall perform such manual labor as the principal or other superintending officers, subject to the direction of the board, may order. All the inmates shall, if possible, be taught the precepts of the Holy Bible, good moral conduct, how to work and to be industrious. (1907, c. 509, ss. 5, 14; C. S. 7326.)

§ 134-15. Ungovernable inmates removed.—If it shall appear to the board of trustees that any inmate of the school is or becomes ungovernable and is exerting an unwholesome influence over any other inmate, it shall be their duty to certify the same to the governor of the state, and he may order such inmate to the state's prison or to the jail or chain-gang in the county in which such inmate was convicted, where such person shall serve out his unexpired term. (1907, c. 509, s. 13; C. S. 7327.)

§ 134-16. Trustees to receive gifts for cottages.—The board of trustees of the Stonewall Jackson training school are hereby empowered to receive specific gifts from individuals or other sources for the exclusive purpose of erecting and equipping cottages on the grounds of the institution under such rules and regulations as may be fixed by the said board of trustees. (Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 48, s. 1; C. S. 7328(a).)

chief to erect or to erect and equip a cottage sufficient to accommodate thirty boys, are received from individuals or other sources from any given county of the state, the trustees of the Stonewall Jackson training school may enter into an obligation to receive and maintain in the institution only according to their fixed rules and regulations for entrance, maintenance and discharge, a number of boys from the said county equal to the number which may be accommodated in such building. Such cottage may be designated county cottage. (Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 48, s. 3; C. S. 7328(b).)

§ 134-18. Cottages erected by two or more counties.—Should two or more counties desire to combine for the purpose of erecting such buildings, the same may be done under like conditions as stated in § 134-17, and such cottage may be known by the names of the counties so combining. (Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 48, s. 3; C. S. 7328(c).)

§ 134-19: Repealed by Session Laws 1943, c. 543.

§ 134-20. Contributions from public funds; bond issues.—It shall be lawful for county commissioners or the governing bodies of cities and towns to contribute from the public funds such amounts as they may deem proper for the purpose stated in §§ 134-17 and 134-18, and such funds may be lawfully devoted from any public funds of said bodies or secured by bond issue under such rules of issue as may be ordained by said boards of county commissioners or governing bodies of towns and cities. (Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 48, s. 4; C. S. 7329(c).)

§ 134-21. Cherokee Indians admitted.—The governing authorities of the Stonewall Jackson Training School at Concord and the state home and industrial school for girls at Samarcand are hereby authorized and directed to make proper provisions for admitting delinquent boys and girls respectively of the Cherokee Indian Race of Robeson county to these institutions under the same rules and regulations as are now provided for admitting delinquent boys and girls of the white race. Provided, however, that the boys and girls so admitted shall be separated from the white inmates of the said institutions. (1933, c. 490, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—Section 2 of Public Laws of 1933, chapter 490, provided for an appropriation for carrying out the purpose of this section. This appropriation was extended and enlarged by Public Laws 1935, chapter 316.

Art. 2. State Home and Industrial School for Girls.

§ 134-22. Incorporation and name.—A corporation to be known and designated as the State Home and Industrial School for Girls is hereby created, and as such corporation it is authorized and empowered to accept and use donations and appropriations and to do all other things necessary and requisite to be done in furtherance of the purpose of its organizations and existence as hereinafter set forth. (1917, c. 255, s. 1; 1937, c. 147, s. 1; C. S. 7329.)

Editor's Note.—The 1937 amendment changed the name of the institution by omitting the word “women.”

§ 134-24. Power to purchase land and erect buildings.—The board of managers is authorized to secure by gift or purchase suitable real estate within the state, not less than fifty acres, at such place as the board may deem best, and with the money or other property which the corporation may have received for that purpose, either by donations from individuals or by appropriation from the state, to proceed to erect on such real estate buildings suitable for carrying out the purposes for which the corporation is created. (1917, c. 255, s. 3; C. S. 7331.)

§ 134-25. Power of control.—The board of managers shall have the general superintendence, management, and control of the institution and the grounds and buildings, officers, and employees thereof; of the inmates therein and all matters relating to the government, discipline, contracts, and fiscal concerns thereof; and may make such rules and regulations as may seem to them necessary for carrying out the purposes of the institution. And the board shall have the right to keep, restrain, and control the inmates of the institution until such time as the board may deem proper for their discharge under such proper and humane rules and regulations as the board may adopt. The board shall endeavor as far as possible to classify the inmates and keep the different classes in separate wards or divisions, so as to produce the best results in the reformatory work. The board of managers shall constitute a board of parole of the institution and shall have power to parole and discharge the inmates under such rules and regulations as the board may prescribe. (1917, c. 255, s. 4; C. S. 7332.)

§ 134-26. Appointment of officers; compensation; by-laws.—The board of managers shall appoint from among its members a president, a secretary, and a treasurer, who shall hold office for one year, from the date of appointment; and if the board deem it proper to do so, the office of secretary and treasurer may be combined in one. The board shall also appoint a superintendent, who shall be a woman of experience and training. The board shall fix the compensation of the superintendent and all officers and employees of the institution, and shall prescribe the duties of each. The board shall further adopt such by-laws as, in the judgment of the board, may be necessary fixing the time and place of the meetings of the board and making such other provisions as may be necessary for the proper management of the institution. (1917, c. 255, s. 5; C. S. 7333.)

§ 134-27. Persons committed to the reformatory; time of detention.—Any girl who may come or be brought before any court of the state, and may either have confessed herself guilty or have been convicted of being a habitual drunkard, or being a prostitute, or of frequenting disorderly houses or houses of prostitution, or of vagrancy, or of any other misdemeanor, may be committed by such court for confinement in the institution aforesaid: Provided, such person is not insane or mentally or physically incapable of being substantially benefited by the discipline of such institution: and provided further, that before sentencing such person to confinement in the institution the court shall ascertain whether the institution is in position to care for such person; and it shall be at all times within the discretion of the board of directors as to whether the board will receive any person in the institution. No commitment shall be for any definite term, but any person so committed may be paroled or discharged at any time after her commitment by the board of managers, but no inmate shall in any case be detained longer than three years: Provided, that when any girl under twenty-one years of age shall have been committed to the institution the trustees shall have the sole right and authority to keep, restrain and control her until she is twenty-one years old. Until such time as they shall deem proper for her discharge, under such proper and humane rules and regulations as may be adopted by the trustees. When any such person shall come before any court for the purpose of confessing guilt or for trial, the court shall, as far as feasible and as far as consistent with public policy, give a private hearing, and in all respects avoid unnecessary publicity in connection with the proceedings before the court. (1917, c. 255, s. 6; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 69; 1937, c. 147, s. 2; C. S. 7334.)

Editor's Note.—The provision allowing the restraining of girls under twenty-one was added by Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 69.

The 1937 amendment struck out the words "or woman" formerly appearing as the third and fourth words of this section.

§ 134-28. Delivery of inmates to institution; expenses.—It shall be the duty of the county authorities of the county from which any girl or woman is sent to the home, or the city authorities, if any girl or woman is ordered to be sent to the home by any city court, to see that such girl or woman is safely and duly delivered to the home, and to pay all the expenses incident to her conveyance and delivery to the home. (1919, c. 122; C. S. 7335.)

§ 134-29. Voluntary application for admission; care of children.—In addition to caring for such persons as may be committed to the institution by order of court, the board of managers may, in their discretion, receive into the institution any such person who may have in writing confessed herself guilty of any offense or any wayward conduct and may in writing express her desire to become an inmate of the institution; but the board shall not admit any such person unless upon examination of such person, freely and voluntarily held under the direction of the board, the board shall conclude that confinement in the institution will probably aid in the reformation of such person. Any person becoming an inmate of the institution under the provisions of this section shall be subject to the same rules and regulations as those who have been committed by order of court, and shall be detained for such time as the board, in its judgment, may deem best, not exceeding, however, the term of three years. And it shall further be the duty of the board of managers to make suitable provision for the care and maintenance of children born in the institution, and also of the infant children that any woman may have when she is committed to the institution. (1917, c. 255, s. 7; C. S. 7336.)

§ 134-30. Law as to juvenile delinquents applied.—The provisions of the chapter pertaining to the reclamation and training of juvenile delinquents shall apply to young girls, and any court before whom a young girl is brought pursuant to the provisions of said chapter may be by order of court placed in the institution herein established, and shall be subject to all the provisions of law relating thereto: Provided, however, that no girl shall be admitted to the institution under this provision without the previous consent of the board of managers. (1917, c. 255, s. 8; C. S. 7337.)

§ 134-31. Discharge on parole; arrest for escape or violation of parole.—The board of managers may conditionally discharge any person at any time, and if any such person shall violate any condition of her parole or shall violate any condition upon which she has been discharged, or if any inmate escape from the institution, the board of managers may cause any such person to be rearrested and returned to the institution and be detained therein for the unexpired portion of her term, dating from the time of her parole, conditional discharge, or escape. The board of managers is empowered to issue to any person designated by the board a commitment signed by the president and attested by the secretary, and having attached thereto the common seal of the corporation, by the terms of which commitment such person may be authorized and empowered to apprehend any such person who may have violated her parole or any condition of her discharge or that may have escaped, and carry such person back to the institution. Such commitment shall briefly state the reason for the issuance of the same, and the person designated to execute the same may execute it in any county in the state. (1917, c. 255, s. 9; C. S. 7338.)

§ 134-32. Industrial training; compensation; power to punish.—The board of managers is authorized and empowered to establish and maintain within the institution an industrial school, and shall provide for the safe-keeping and employment of the inmates for the purpose of teaching each of them a useful trade or profession and improving her mental and moral condition. If the board of managers sees fit, they may pay each inmate reasonable compensation for labor performed, after deducting such sum as they may deem reasonable for necessary expenses of her maintenance and discipline. To secure the safe-keeping, obedience, and good order of the inmates, the superintendent shall have the same power as to such inmates as keepers of jails and other penal institutions possess as to persons committed to their custody. (1917, c. 255, s. 10; C. S. 7339.)

§ 134-33. Unlawful acts of inmates and others; escape; prostitution, etc.—It shall be unlawful:
(a) For any inmate of the state home and industrial school for girls and women to escape from said school, or for any person to aid and abet any inmate of escape therefrom;
(b) For any person to advise, or solicit, or to offer to advise, or solicit, any inmate of said school to escape therefrom; (c) For any person to transport, or to offer to transport, in automobile or other vehicle or conveyance, any inmate of said school to or from any place: Provided, this shall not apply
§ 134-34. "Inmate" and "prostitution" defined. —The term "inmate" as used in § 134-33 shall be construed to include any and all girls committed to, or received into said state home and industrial school for girls under the provisions of this article; and the term "prostitution" shall be construed to include the offering or receiving of the body for sexual intercourse. (Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 40, s. 2; C. S. 7343(b).)

§ 134-35. Punishment for violation of section 134-33.—Any person who shall knowingly and willfully violate any one of the provisions of § 134-33 shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, shall be fined or imprisoned, or both fined and imprisoned, in the discretion of the court. (Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 40, s. 3; C. S. 7343(c).)

Art. 3. The Industrial Farm Colony for Women.

§ 134-36. Name and establishment.—A State institution for women, to be known as the Industrial Farm Colony for Women, is hereby established. (1927, c. 219, s. 1.)

§ 134-38. Located in healthful section. —The board of directors is authorized to use for the purpose of said institution, any site already owned by the State, when approved by the Governor and Council of State. Such land shall be located in a healthful section of the State and shall have natural drainage and adequate natural water supply. It shall also include woodland and arable land to the end that, as far as practicable, the food for the inmates may be produced on such land. The farm must also be accessible by rail or road to all sections of the State. (1927, c. 219, s. 3.)

§ 134-39. Plans for buildings.—The directors shall cause to be prepared plans and specifications for remodeling or erecting on such site necessary buildings for a suitable plant for the institution. The directors shall furnish and equip the same ready for use. Contracts shall be made by the directors and those calling for an expenditure of over five hundred dollars shall be duly advertised and competitive bids received thereon, but whenever possible convict labor shall be used, the compensation for such to be agreed upon by the directors and State Highway and Public Works Commission. When such buildings have been prepared and equipped, and the necessary staff of officers has been organized, the directors shall make announcement that the institution is ready for the reception of inmates. (1927, c. 219, s. 4.)

§ 134-40. Authority of directors.—The directors shall have control of the institution; determine the policy of the same and make necessary rules for the discipline, instruction, mental and physical examination and treatment of the inmates and for the labor of the inmates; cause to be kept proper records, including those of inmates; hold regular meetings, at least quarterly, at said institution and audit the accounts of the superintendent quarterly. They shall report biennially to the Governor the general and financial condition of said institution, with such recommendations as they desire to make. (1927, c. 219, s. 5.)

§ 134-41. Power to appoint and remove.—The directors shall appoint and remove at their discretion, a superintendent of said institution who shall be a woman of liberal education and special training, and who has had experience in institutional management or social work, not of their number, and who, before entering upon the duties of her office, shall be sworn to a faithful performance of her duties. The superintendent shall receive such compensation as shall be fixed by the directors and shall reside at said institution. (1927, c. 219, s. 6.)

§ 134-42. Management of institution. —The superintendent shall manage such institution and have control over the inmates thereof, and shall make rules and regulations for the administration of said institution, subject to the approval of the board of directors. The superintendent shall, also, subject to the approval of the board of directors, determine the number, select, appoint and assign duties of all subordinate officers of said institution, who shall be women, as far as practicable, and shall be sworn to a faithful performance of their duties. As soon as the size of the institution demands it, a resident woman physician shall be employed. The superintendent may remove any officer appointed by her. (1927, c. 219, s. 7.)

§ 134-43. Women subject to committal. —Women sixteen years of age and older belonging to the following classes and who are not eligible for admission to Samarcand may be committed by any court of competent jurisdiction to said institution, and not otherwise; persons convicted of, or who plead guilty to the commission of misdeeds including prostitution, habitual drunkenness, drug-using, disorderly conduct. The board of directors may in its discretion receive and detain as an inmate of the institution any woman or girl, not otherwise provided for, who may be sentenced by any court of the United States within this state: Provided, that no woman who has been adjudged epileptic or insane by a competent authority, or is of such low mentality or is so markedly psychopathic as to prevent her from profiting by the training program of the institution, shall be admitted. Immediately upon commitment, a careful physical and mental examination by a competent physician and a psychologist shall be made of each person.
committed. The court imposing sentence upon offenders of either class shall not fix the term of such commitment except as hereinafter provided. Commitment to said institution shall be made within one week after sentence is imposed, by the sheriff when sentenced by the Superior Court, and by a police officer when sentence is imposed by any city, town or inferior court, but no offender shall be committed to such institution without being accompanied by a woman in addition to the officer. The expenses of such commitment shall be paid the same as commitments to other penal institutions in the State. The trial court shall cause a record of the case to be set with the commitment papers on blanks furnished by the institution. such rules for its own meetings and guidance as it deems necessary; have the general superintendence, management, and control of the institution; of the grounds and buildings, officers, and employees thereof; of the inmates therein, and all matters relating to the government, discipline, contracts, and fiscal concerns thereof; and may any court of proper jurisdiction, to receive an inmate above the age of sixteen, but this shall be a matter wholly within the discretion of the board.

When any commitment to the institution is made, board, not to exceed the age of majority of the inmate. (1921, c. 190, s. 4; C. S. 5912(d).)

Sentence of Death on 15-Year-Old Valid.—It would seem that the legislature did not intend that a fifteen-year-old boy, convicted of a capital crime, should be sentenced to a reformatory, but if the statutes be construed to permit such sentence, the power of the court to impose such sentence is made permissive and not compulsory, and sentence of death upon a conviction of a fifteen-year-old boy of the crime of rape is without error. State v. Smith, 213 N. C.
299, 195 S. E. 819.

§ 134-83. Selection of location of institution; title.—The location of the institution shall be recommended by the board of trustees and ap-directed and authorized to transfer title to the portions of the said property as the governor may direct, without compensation, as the governor may decem proper for the best interests of the state.

§ 134-84. Apportionment of admissions; private or municipal contributions.—In receiving inmates of the institution, the trustees shall distribute such admissions as near as may be in relation to the negro population of the several counties until all the maintenance appropriation from the state is exhausted. If after such maintenance fund is exhausted it be found possible to provide then the trustees may receive such additional number of inmates as can be cared for upon the pay-authorities of the actual cost of the maintenance of such inmates. County and municipal authori-

§ 134-84.4. Operation of institution before permanent quarters established.—In order to provide for the operation of the said institution prior to the time that permanent quarters can be established, the board of directors, with the approval of the governor and council of state, is authorized and empowered to enter into an agreement with any other state institution or agency for the temporary use of any state-owned property which such other state institution or agency may be able and willing to divert for the time being from its original purpose; and any other state institution or agency, which may be in possession of real estate suitable for the purpose of the State Training School for Negro Girls and which is not occupied or needed by said institution or agency, is hereby authorized to turn such real estate over to the directors of the State Training School for Negro Girls upon such terms as may be mutually agreed upon. And the board shall have the right to keep, restrain, and control the inmates of the institution and all such parts of the institution as the board may deem proper for their discharge under such proper and humane rules and regulations as the board may adopt. The board shall endeavor as far as possible to classify the inmates and keep the different classes in separate wards or divisions, so as to produce the best results in the reformatory work. The board of directors shall constitute a board of parole of the institution and shall have the power to parole and discharge the inmates under such rules and regulations as the board may prescribe. No commitment shall be for any definite term, but any person so committed may be conditionally released or discharged by the board of directors at any time after commitment, but in no case shall any inmate be detained in the institution for a period longer than such time at which she may attain the age of twenty-one years. § 134-84.8. Conditional release of inmates; final discharge.—The superintendent shall have power to grant a conditional release to any inmate of the institution under the rules adopted by the board of directors, and such conditional release may be terminated at any time by the written revocation of the superintendent, which written revocation shall be sufficient authority for any officer of the school or peace officer to apprehend any inmate named in such written revocation, in any county of the state, and to return such inmate to the institution. Final discharge of any inmate of the institution may be granted by the superintendent under rules adopted by the board of directors at any time after such inmate has been admitted to the institution. Provided, however, that such final discharge must be granted before such inmate shall arrive at her twenty-first birthday. (1943, c. 381, s. 8.)

Such conditional release shall in no way affect any suspended sentence, a condition of which is that the inmate be admitted to and remain at such institution. (1937, c. 145, s. 1.)

§ 134-86. Final discharge.—Final discharge of any inmate of any institution enumerated in § 134-85 may be granted by the superintendent of such institution, under rules adopted by the board of directors or managers, at any time after such inmate has been admitted to the institution: Provided, however, that such final discharge must be granted before such inmate arrives at his or her twenty-first birthday. Any payments received under the contracts authorized by this article shall be deposited in the State Treasury for the use and maintenance of the institution with which any such contract is made. Chapter is Valid.—It is the verdict of the general assembly embodied and expressed in this and the following sections that the retirement plan has a definite relation to the public school system which the legislative policy supposes it to have, and the act is sufficiently invested with a public purpose and the tax is valid, and is a constitutional and valid expression of the legislative will, both generally and in its application to the local administrative units with which it deals. Bridges v. Charlotte, 221 N. C. 472, 481, 20 S. E. (2d) 825.

If the retirement plan has that relation to the public school system which the legislative policy supposes it to have, the act is sufficiently invested with a public purpose and the tax is valid, and is a constitutional and valid expression of the legislative will, both generally and in its application to the local administrative units with which it deals. Bridges v. Charlotte, 221 N. C. 472, 481, 20 S. E. (2d) 825.

§ 135-2. Name and date of establishment.—A retirement system is hereby established and placed under the management of the board of trustees for the purpose of providing retirement allowances and other benefits to the members of the retirement system so created shall be established as of the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and forty-one.

It shall have the power and privileges of a corporation and shall be known as the “Teachers' and State Employees' Retirement System of North Carolina,” and by such name all of its business shall be transacted, all of its funds invested, and all of its cash and securities and other property held. (1941 C. 25, s. 2.)

§ 135-3. Membership.—The membership of this retirement system shall be composed as follows:

(1) All persons who shall become teachers or state employees on or before July first, one thousand nine hundred and forty-one, or who may become teachers or state employees on or before July first, one thousand nine hundred and forty-one, except those who shall notify the board of trustees, in writing, on or before January first, one thousand nine hundred and forty-two, that they do not wish to become members of this retirement system, shall become members of the retirement system.

(2) All persons who become teachers or state employees on February 17, 1941, or who may become teachers or state employees on or before July first, one thousand nine hundred and forty-one, except those who shall notify the board of trustees, in writing, on or before January first, one thousand nine hundred and forty-two, that they do not wish to become members of this retirement system, shall become members of the retirement system.

(3) Should any member in any period of six consecutive years after becoming a member be absent from service more than five years, or should he withdraw his accumulated contributions, or should he become a beneficiary or die, he shall thereafter cease to be a member. (1941 C. 25, s. 3.)

§ 135-3.1. Membership of highway patrolmen.—Every person who is employed in the future as a state highway patrolman shall automatically become a member of the teachers' and state employees' retirement system unless such person shall, within fifteen days after his employment, furnish the executive secretary of the board of trustees, teachers' and state employees' retirement system, sufficient evidence that such person has become a member of the law enforcement officers' benefit and retirement fund, in which event such person shall not be entitled to membership in the teachers' and state employees' retirement system. (1943, c. 150, s. 6.)

§ 135-4. Creditable service.—(1) Under such rules and regulations as the board of trustees shall adopt, each member, who was a teacher or state employee at any time during the five years immediately preceding the establishment of the system and who becomes a member during the first year of operation of the retirement system, shall file a detailed statement of all North Carolina service as a teacher or state employee rendered by him prior to the date of establishment for which he claims credit.

(2) The board of trustees shall fix and determine by appropriate rules and regulations how much service in any year is equivalent to one year of service, but in no case shall more than one year of service be creditable for all services in one year. Service rendered for the regular school year in any district shall be equivalent to one year's service.

(3) Subject to the above restrictions and to such other rules and regulations as the board of trustees may adopt, the board of trustees shall verify, as soon as practicable after the filing of such statements of service, the service therein claimed.

In lieu of a determination of the actual compensation of the members that was received during such period of prior service the board of trustees may use for the purpose of this chapter the compensation rates which will be determined by the average salary of the members for five years immediately preceding the date this system became operative as the records show the member actually received.

(4) Upon verification of the statements of service, the board of trustees shall issue prior service certificates certifying to each member the period of service prior to the establishment of the retirement system, with which the member is credited on the basis of his statement of service. So long as membership continues a prior service certificate shall be final and conclusive for retirement purposes as to such service: Provided, however, that any member may, within one year from the date of issuance or modification of such certificate, request the board of trustees to modify or correct such prior service certificate.

When membership ceases, such prior service certificate shall become void. Should the teacher or state employee again become a member, such teacher or state employee shall enter the system as a teacher or state employee not entitled to prior service credit except as provided in § 135-5, subsection five, paragraph (b).

(5) Creditable service at retirement on which the retirement allowance of a member shall be based shall consist of the membership service rendered by him since he last became a member, and also if he has a prior service certificate which is in full force and effect, the amount of service certified on his prior service certificate.

(6) Teachers and other state employees who entered the armed services of the United States after September sixteenth, one thousand nine hundred and forty, and prior to February seventeenth, one thousand nine hundred and forty-one and who § 135-5. Benefits. — (1) Service Retirement Benefit.—(a) Any member in service may retire upon written application to the board of trustees setting forth at what time, not less than thirty days nor more than ninety days subsequent to the execution of and filing thereof, he desires to be retired:

(b) Provided, that the said member at the time so specified for his retirement shall have attained the age of sixty years, and notwithstanding that, during such period of notification, he may have separated from service.

(b) Any member in service who has attained the age of sixty-five years shall be retired at the end of the year unless the employer requests such person to remain in the service, and notice of this request is given in writing thirty days prior to the end of the year.

(c) Any member in the service who has attained the age of seventy years shall be retired forthwith: Provided, that with the approval of his employer he may remain in service until the end of the year following the date on which he attains the age of seventy years: Provided, that with the approval of his employer and the board of trustees, any member who has attained or shall attain the age of seventy years may be continued in service for a period of two years following each such request.

Service Retirement Allowances.—Upon retirement from service a member shall receive a service retirement allowance which shall consist of:

(a) An annuity which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his accumulated contributions at the time of his retirement; and

(b) A pension equal to the annuity allowable at age of sixty years computed on the basis of contributions made prior to the attainment of age sixty; and

(c) If he has a prior service certificate in full force and effect, an additional pension which shall be equal to the annuity which would have been provided at the age of sixty years by twice the contributions which he would have made during such prior service had the system been in operation and he contributed thereunder.

Disability Retirement Benefits.—Upon the application of a member in service or of his employer, any member who has had ten or more years of creditable service may be retired by the board of trustees, not less than thirty and not more than ninety days next following the date of filing such application, on a disability retirement allowance: Provided, that the medical board, after a medical examination of such member, shall certify that such member is mentally or physically incapacitated for the further performance of duty, that such incapacity is likely to be permanent, and that such member should be retired.

(4) Allowance on Disability Retirement.—Upon retirement for disability a member shall receive a service retirement allowance if he has attained the age of sixty years, otherwise he shall receive a disability retirement allowance which shall consist of:

(a) An annuity which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his accumulated contributions at the time of retirement; and

(b) A pension equal to seventy-five per centum of the pension that would have been payable upon service retirement at the age of sixty years had the member continued in service to the age of sixty years without further change in compensation.

(5) Re-Examination of Beneficiaries Retired for Disability.—Once each year following retirement of a member on a disability retirement allowance, and once in every three-year period thereafter, the board of trustees may, and upon his application shall, require any disability beneficiary who has not yet attained the age of sixty years to undergo a medical examination, such examination to be made at the place of residence of said beneficiary or other place mutually agreed upon, by a physician or physicians designated by the board of trustees.

Should any disability beneficiary who has not yet attained the age of sixty years refuse to submit to at least one medical examination in any such year by a physician or physicians designated by the board of trustees, his allowance may be discontinued until his withdrawal of such refusal, and should his refusal continue for one year all his rights in and to his pension may be revoked by the board of trustees.

(a) Should the medical board report and certify to the board of trustees that such disability beneficiary is engaged in or is able to engage in a gainful occupation paying more than the difference between his retirement allowance and the average final compensation, and should the board of trustees concur in such report, then the amount of his pension shall be reduced to an amount which, together with his annuity and the amount earnable by him, shall equal the amount of his average final compensation. Should his earning capacity be later changed, the amount of his pension may be further modified: Provided, that the new pension shall not exceed the amount of the pension originally granted nor an amount which, when added to the amount earnable by the beneficiary together with his annuity, equals the amount of his average final compensation. A beneficiary restored to active service at a salary less than the average final compensation shall not become a member of the retirement system.

(b) Should a disability beneficiary under the age of sixty years be restored to active service at a compensation not less than his average final compensation, his retirement allowance shall cease, he shall again become a member of the retirement system, and he shall contribute thereafter at the same rate he paid prior to disability. Any such prior service certificate on the basis of which his service was computed at the time of his retirement shall be restored to full force and effect, and in addition, upon his subsequent retirement he shall be credited with all his service as a member, but should he be restored to active service on or after the attainment of the age of fifty years his pension upon subsequent retirement shall not exceed the sum of the pension which he was receiving immediately prior to his last restoration and the pension that he would have received on account of his service since his last restoration had he entered service at the time as a new entrant.

(6) Return of Accumulated Contributions.— Should a member cease to be a teacher or state employee except by death or retirement under the provisions of this chapter, he shall be paid such part of the amount of the accumulated contributions standing to the credit of his individual account in the annuity savings fund as he shall demand. Should a member die before retirement the amount of his accumulated contributions standing to the credit of his individual account shall be paid to his estate or to such persons as he shall have nominated by written designation, duly executed and filed with the board of trustees.

(7) Election of Optional Allowance.—With the provision that no optional selection shall be effective in case the beneficiary dies within thirty days after retirement, and that such a beneficiary shall be considered as an active member at the time of death; until the first payment on account of any benefit becomes normally due, any member may elect to receive his benefit in a retirement allowance payable throughout life, or he may elect to receive the actuarial equivalent at that time, of his retirement allowance in a reduced retirement allowance payable throughout life with the provisions that:

Option 1. If he dies before he has received in annuity payments the present value of his annuity as it was at the time of his retirement, the balance shall be paid to his legal representatives or to such person as he shall nominate by written designation duly acknowledged and filed with the board of trustees; or

The retirement payment provided by this section constitutes delayed compensation in consideration of services rendered. It is compensation for public services. Its purpose is to induce experienced and competent teachers to remain in service and thus promote the efficiency and effectiveness of the educational program. Bridges v. Charlotte, 221 N. C. 472, 486, 20 S. E. (2d) 825 (con. op.).

Such oath shall be subscribed to by the member making it, and certified by the officer before whom it is taken, and immediately filed in the office of the secretary of state.

(5) Voting Rights.—Each trustee shall be entitled to one vote in the board. Four affirmative votes shall be necessary for a decision by the trustees at any meeting of said board.

(6) Rules and Regulations.—Subject to the limitations of this chapter, the board of trustees shall, from time to time, establish rules and regulations for the administration of the funds created by this chapter and for the transaction of its business. The board of trustees shall also, from time to time, in its discretion, adopt rules and regulations to prevent injustices and inequalities which might otherwise arise in the administration of this chapter.

(7) Officers and Other Employees, Salaries and Expenses.—The state treasurer shall be ex-officio chairman of the board of trustees. The board of trustees shall, by a majority vote of all the members, appoint a secretary, who may be, but need not be, one of its members. It shall publish annually a report showing the fiscal transactions of the retirement system for the preceding year, the amount of the accumulated cash and securities of the system, and the last balance sheet showing the financial condition of the system by means of an actuarial valuation of the assets and liabilities of the retirement system.

(10) Legal Adviser.—The attorney general shall be the legal adviser of the board of trustees.

(11) Medical Board.—The board of trustees shall designate a medical board to be composed of three physicians not eligible to participate in the retirement system. If required, other physicians may be employed to report on special cases. The medical board shall arrange for and pass upon all medical examinations required under the provisions of this chapter, and shall investigate all essential statements and certificates by or on behalf of a member in connection with an application for disability retirement, and shall report in writing to the board of trustees its conclusion and recommendations upon all the matters referred to it.

(12) Duties of Actuary.—The board of trustees shall designate an actuary who shall be the technical adviser of the board of trustees on matters regarding the operation of the funds created by the provisions of this chapter and shall perform such other duties as are required in connection therewith.

(13) Immediately after the establishment of the retirement system the actuary shall make such investigation of the mortality, service and compensation experience of the members of the system as he shall recommend and the board of trustees shall authorize, and on the basis of such investigation he shall recommend for adoption by the board of trustees such tables and such rates as are required in subsection fourteen, paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section. The board of trustees shall adopt tables and certify rates, and as soon as practicable thereafter the actuary shall make a valuation based on such tables and rates of the assets and liabilities of the funds created by this chapter.

(14) In the year one thousand nine hundred and forty-three, and at least once in each five-year period thereafter, the actuary shall make an actuarial investigation into the mortality, service and compensation experience of the members and beneficiaries of the retirement system, and shall make a valuation of the assets and liabilities of the funds of the system, and taking into account the result of such investigation and valuation, the board of trustees shall:

(2) Regular Interest Allowance.—The board of trustees annually shall allow regular interest on the mean amount for the preceding year in each of the funds with the exception of the expense fund. The amounts so allowed shall be due and payable to said funds, and shall be annually credited to said funds. The board of trustees on the basis of the interest earnings of the system for the preceding year and of the probable earnings to be made, in the judgment of the board, during the immediate future, such rate to be limited to a minimum of three per centum and a maximum of four per centum, with the latter rate applicable during the first year of operation of the retirement system.

(3) Custodian of Funds; Disbursements; Bond of Secretary.—The state treasurer shall be the custodian of the several funds. All payments from said funds shall be made by him only upon vouchers signed by two persons designated by the board of trustees. The secretary of the board of trustees shall furnish said board a surety bond in a company authorized to do business in North Carolina in such an amount as shall be required by the board, the premium to be paid from the expense fund.

(4) Deposits to Meet Disbursements.—For the purpose of meeting disbursements for pensions, annuities and other payments there may be kept available cash, not exceeding ten per centum of the total amount in the several funds of the retirement system, on deposit with the state treasurer of North Carolina.

(5) Personal Profit or Acting as Surety Prohibited.—Except as otherwise herein provided, no trustee and no employee of the board of trustees shall have any direct interest in the gains or profits of any investment made by the board of trustees, nor as such receive any pay or emolument for his service. No trustee or employee of the board shall, directly or indirectly, for himself or as an agent in any manner use the same, except to make such current and necessary payments as are authorized by the board of trustees; nor shall any trustee or employee of the board of trustees become an endorser or surety or in any manner an obligor for moneys loaned or borrowed from the board of trustees. (1941, c. 25, s. 7.)

§ 135-7.1. Purchase of notes obtained from loans made from state literary fund.—The state board of education is hereby authorized, in its discretion, to sell notes, obtained from loans made from the state literary fund, to the board of trustees of the teachers' and state employees' retirement system of North Carolina. The board of trustees of the teachers' and state employees' retirement system of North Carolina is hereby authorized, in its discretion, to purchase from the state board of education notes obtained by said board from loans made from the state literary fund. (1945, c. 603.)

§ 135-8. Method of financing.—All of the assets of the retirement system shall be credited according to the purpose for which they are held to one of four funds, namely, the annuity savings fund, the annuity reserve fund, the pension accumulation fund, and the pension reserve fund.

(1) Annuity Savings Fund.—The annuity savings fund shall be a fund in which shall be accumulated contributions from the compensation of members to provide for their annuities. Contributions to and payments from the annuity savings fund shall be made as follows:

(a) Each employer shall cause to be deducted from the salary of each member on each and every payroll period four per centum of his earnable compensation. The employer also shall deduct four per centum of any compensation received by any member for teaching in public schools, or in any of the institutions, agencies or departments of the state from salaries other than the appropriations from the state of North Carolina. In determining the amount earnable by a member in a payroll period, the board of trustees may consider the rate of annual compensation payable to such member on the first day of the payroll period as continuing throughout such payroll period, and it may omit deduction from compensation for any period less than a full payroll period if a teacher or state employee was not a member on the first day of the payroll period.

(b) The deductions provided for herein shall be made notwithstanding that the minimum compensation provided for by law for any member shall be reduced thereby. Every member shall be deemed to consent and agree to the deductions made and provided for herein and shall receive for his full salary or compensation, and payment of salary or compensation less said deduction shall be a full and complete discharge and acquittance of all claims and demands whatsoever for the services rendered by such person during the period covered by such payment, except as to the benefits provided under this chapter. The employer shall certify to the board of trustees on each and every payroll or in such other manner as the board of trustees may prescribe, the amounts to be deducted; and each of said amounts shall be deducted, and when deducted shall be paid into said annuity savings fund, and shall be credited, together with regular interest thereon to the individual account of the member from whose compensation said deduction was made.

(c) Each board of education of each county and each board of education of each city, and the employer in any department, agency or institution of the state, in which any teacher receives compensation from sources other than appropriations of the state of North Carolina shall deduct from the salaries of those teachers paid from sources other than state appropriations an amount equal to that deducted from the salaries of the teachers whose salaries are paid from state funds, and remit this amount to the state retirement system. City boards of education and county boards of education in each and every county and city which has employees compensated from other than the state appropriation shall pay to the state retirement system the same per centum of the salaries that the state of North Carolina pays and shall transmit same to the state retirement system monthly: Provided, that for the purpose of enabling the county boards of education and the board of trustees of city administrative units to make such payment, the tax levying authorities in each such city or county administrative unit are hereby authorized, empowered and directed to provide the necessary funds therefor: Provided, that it shall be within the discretion of the county board of education in a county administrative unit and the board of trustees in a city administrative unit, with the approval of the tax levying authorities of such unit, to provide for the payment from local tax funds of any amount specified in subsection (c) of this section in excess of the amount to be remitted to the retirement system from the basis of the state salary schedule and terms. In case the salary is paid in part from state funds and in part from local funds, the local authorities shall not be relieved of providing and remitting the same per centum of the salary paid from local funds as is paid from state funds. In case the entire salary of any teacher, as defined in this chapter, is paid from county or local funds, the county or city paying such salary shall provide and remit to the retirement system the same per centum that would be required if the salary were provided by the state of North Carolina.

(d) In addition to the contributions deducted from compensation as hereinbefore provided, subject to the approval of the board of trustees, any member may redeposit in the annuity savings fund by a single payment an amount equal to the total amount which he previously withdrew therefrom as provided in this chapter. Such amounts so deposited shall become a part of his accumulated contributions in the same manner as if said contributions had not been withdrawn.

(e) Subject to the approval of the board of trustees, any member, who is on leave of absence on account of military service or for any other purpose which might tend to increase the efficiency of the services of the member to his or her employer, may make monthly contributions toward the retirement system on the basis of the salary or wage such member was receiving at the time such leave of absence was granted.

(2) Annuity Reserve Fund.—The annuity reserve fund shall be the fund in which shall be held the reserves on all annuities in force and from which shall be paid all annuities and all benefits in lieu of annuities, payable as provided in this section (c) of this section in excess of the amount to be remitted to the retirement system from the basis of the state salary schedule and terms.
chapter. Should a beneficiary retired on account of disability be restored to active service with a compensation not less than his average final compensation at the time of his last retirement his annuity reserve shall be transferred from the annuity reserve fund to the annuity savings fund and credited to his individual account therein.

(3) Pension Accumulation Fund.—The pension accumulation fund shall be the fund in which shall be accumulated all reserves for the payment of all pensions and other benefits payable from contribution made by employers and from which shall be paid all pensions and other benefits on account of members with prior service credit. Contributions to and payments from the pension Accumulation Fund shall be made as follows:

(a) On account of each member, there shall be paid annually in the pension accumulation fund by employers for the preceding fiscal year an amount equal to a certain percentage of the earnable compensation of each member to be known as the "normal contribution," and an additional amount equal to a percentage of his earnable compensation to be known as the "accrued liability contribution." The rate per centum of such contributions shall be fixed on the basis of the liabilities of the retirement system as shown by actuarial valuation. Until the first valuation the normal contribution shall be two and fifty-seven one-hundredths per centum (2.57%) for teachers, and one and fifty-nine one-hundredths per centum (1.59%) of the salary of other state employees.

(b) On the basis of regular interest and of such mortality and other tables as shall be adopted by the board of trustees, and regular interest. The normal rate of contribution has ceased to be payable, the normal contribution rate shall be the rate per centum of the earnable salary of all members obtained by deducting from the total liabilities of the pension accumulation fund the amount of the funds in hand to the credit of that fund and dividing the remainder by one per centum of the present value of the prospective future salaries of all members as computed on the basis of the mortality and service tables adopted by the board of trustees and regular interest. The normal rate of contribution shall be determined by the actuary after each valuation.

(c) Immediately succeeding the first valuation the actuary engaged by the board of trustees shall compute the rate per centum of the total annual compensation of all members which is equivalent to four per centum of the amount of the total pension liability on account of all members and beneficiaries which is not dischargeable by the aforesaid normal contribution made on account of such members during the remainder of their active service. The rate per centum originally so determined shall be known as the "accrued liability contribution" rate.

(d) The total amount payable in each year to each pension as established fund shall be not less than the sum of the rate per centum known as the normal contribution rate and the accrued liability contribution rate of the total compensation earnable by all members during the preceding year.

Provided, however, that the amount of each annual accrued liability contribution shall be at least three per centum greater than the preceding annual accrued liability payment, and that the aggregate payment by employers shall be sufficient, when combined with the amount in the fund to provide the pensions and other benefits payable out of the fund during the year then current.

(e) The accrued liability contribution shall be discontinued as soon as the accumulated reserve in the pension accumulation fund shall equal the present value, as actuarially computed and approved by the board of trustees, of the total liability of such fund less the present value, computed on the basis of the normal contribution rate then in force, of the prospective normal contributions to be received on account of all persons who are at the time members.

(f) All pensions, and benefits in lieu thereof, with the exception of those payable on account of members who received no prior service allowance, payable from contributions of employer shall be paid from the pension accumulation fund.

(g) Upon the retirement of a member not entitled to credit for prior service, an amount equal to his pension reserve shall be transferred from the pension accumulation fund to the pension reserve fund.

(4) Pension Reserve Fund.—The pension reserve fund shall be the fund in which shall be held the reserves on all pensions granted to members not entitled to credit for prior service and from which such pensions and benefits in lieu thereof shall be paid. Should such a beneficiary retired on account of disability be restored to active service with a compensation not less than his average final compensation at the time of his last retirement, the pension theretofore shall be transferred from the pension reserve fund to the pension accumulation fund. Should the pension of such disability beneficiary be reduced as a result of an increase in his earning capacity, the amount of the annual reduction in his pension shall be paid annually into the pension accumulation fund during the period of such reduction.

(5) Collection of Contributions.—(1) The collection of members' contributions shall be as follows:

(a) Each employer shall cause to be deducted on each and every payroll of a member for each and every payroll subsequent to the date of establishment of the retirement system the contributions payable by such member as provided in this chapter, and the employer shall draw his warrant for the amount so deducted, payable to the teachers’ and state employees' retirement system of North Carolina, and shall transmit the same, together with schedule of the contributions, on such forms as prescribed.

(b) The collections of employers' contributions shall be made as follows:

(a) Upon the basis of each actuarial valuation provided herein the board of trustees shall annually prepare and certify to the budget bureau a statement of the total amount necessary for the ensuing fiscal year to the pension accumulation and expense funds, as provided under subsections (three) and (five) of this section, and these funds shall be handled and disbursed in accordance with chapter one hundred, Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine, and amendments thereto [§ 145-1 et seq.], known as The Executive Budget Act.

Until the first valuation has been made and the rates computed as provided in subsection (three) of this section, the amount payable by employers on account of the normal and accrued liability contributions shall be five and fifty-one one-hundredths per centum (5.51%) of the payroll of all teachers and three and sixteen one-hundredths per centum (3.16%) for other state employees.

(c) The auditor shall issue his warrant to the state treasurer directing the state treasurer to pay this sum to the board of trustees, from the appropriation for the teachers' and state employees' retirement system.

(d) Each board of education in each county and each board of education in each city in which teachers or other employees of the schools receive compensation for services in the public schools from sources other than the appropriation of the state of North Carolina shall pay the board of trustees of the state retirement system such rate of their respective salaries as are paid those of other employees.

(e) Each employer shall transmit monthly to the state retirement system on account of each employee, who is a member of this system, an amount sufficient to cover the normal contribution and the accrued liability contribution of each member employed by such employer for the preceding month. (1941, c. 25, s. 8, c. 143; 1943, c. 207.)

Editor's Note.—The 1943 amendment inserted in the second sentence of subdivision (c) of subsection (f) the words "and shall transmit the same to the state retirement system monthly." It also inserted subdivision (e) of said subsection and added paragraph (c) at the end of the section.

Local Unit Contribution.—Where a local unit assumes the burden of supplementing state support for the schools, the provision of subsection (f) (c) of this section that the local unit make its contribution and the taxing authority provide the necessary funds is mandatory. Bridges v. Charlotte, 221 N. C. 472; 5 S. E. (2d) 225, holding no vote necessary to tax to meet deficiency in previously authorized tax.

§ 135-9. Exemption from taxes, garnishment, attachment, etc.—The right of a person to a pension, or annuity, or a retirement allowance, to the return of contributions, the pension, annuity or retirement allowance itself, any optional benefit or any other right accrued or accruing to any person under the provisions of this chapter, and the moneys in the various funds created by this chapter, are hereby exempt from any state or municipal tax, and exempt from levy and sale, garnishment, attachment, or any other process whatsoever, and shall be unassignable except as in this chapter specifically otherwise provided. (1941, c. 25, s. 9.)

Editor's Note.—For comment on this enactment, see 19 N. C. Law Rev. 519.

§ 135-10. Protection against fraud.—Any person who shall knowingly make any false statement or shall falsify or permit to be falsified any record or records of this retirement system in any attempt to defraud such system as a result of such act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof by any court of competent jurisdiction, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500.00), or imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding twelve months, or both such fine and imprisonment at the discretion of the court. Should any change or error in the records result in any member or beneficiary receiving from the retirement system more or less than he would have been entitled to receive had the records been correct, the board of trustees shall correct such error, and as far as practicable, shall adjust the payment in such a manner that the actuarial equivalent of the benefit to which such member or beneficiary was correctly entitled shall be paid. (1941, c. 25, s. 10.)

§ 135-11. Application of other pension laws.—No other provision of law in any other statute which provides wholly or partly at the expense of the state of North Carolina for pensions or retirement benefits for teachers or state employees of the said state, their widows, or other dependents shall apply to members or beneficiaries of the retirement system established by this chapter, their widows or other dependents. (1941, c. 25, s. 11.)

§ 135-12. Obligation of maintaining reserves and paying benefits.—The maintenance of annuity reserves and pension reserves as provided for, and regular interest creditable to the various funds as provided in § 135-8, and the payment of all pensions, annuities, retirement allowances, refunds and other benefits granted under the provisions of this chapter, are hereby made obligations of the pension accumulation fund. All income, interest and dividends derived from deposits and investments authorized by this chapter shall be used for the payment of the said obligations of the said fund. (1941, c. 25, s. 12.)

§ 135-13. Certain laws not repealed; suspension of payments and compulsory retirement.—Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to repeal or invalidate any of the provisions of chapter four hundred and eighty-three of the Public Local Laws of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, as amended, relating to pensions for school teachers in New Hanover county. No payment on account of any benefit granted under the provisions of § 135-8, subsections (1)-(4) inclusive, shall become effective or begin to accrue until the end of one year following the date the system is established nor shall any compulsory retirement be made during such period. (1941, c. 25, s. 13.)

§ 135-14. Pensions of certain public school classroom teachers.—Any person who has been a classroom teacher in the public schools of North Carolina for a total of twenty or more years, and who was not teaching in the public schools of this state at the time of the enactment of the teachers' retirement system act, the same being this chapter, and whose cessation of employment as a teacher was not due to any dishonorable cause, shall be entitled to receive benefits under said retirement act for such services in the same

(3) No person reemployed under the authority contained in subsection (1) of this section shall remain in service for a longer period than six months after the termination of the present World War, or at the termination of the school term in which such teachers shall be engaged.

(4) Any employer, as defined in this chapter, employing a person who has retired under the provisions of this chapter on account of age, shall immediately notify in writing the executive secretary of the board of trustees, teachers' and state employees' retirement system, and said executive secretary shall immediately suspend all service retirement benefits to which such person is entitled during the period of such reemployment.

(5) Upon the termination of the contract of reemployment on account of the lapse of time, or for any other reason, the person so reemployed shall be entitled to begin to receive the service retirement benefits to which such person was entitled, under the provisions of this chapter. (1943, c. 195.)

§ 135-15. Reemployment of retired teachers and employees.—(1) All employers within the meaning of this chapter are hereby authorized during the continuation of the present World War, and for six months after its termination, or at the termination of the school term in which such teachers shall be engaged, to reemploy any persons who have retired under the provisions of this chapter on account of age.

(2) No person reemployed under the authority contained in subsection (1) of this section shall remain in service for a longer period than six months after the termination of the present World War, or at the termination of the school term in which such teachers shall be engaged.

§ 136-1. State highway and public works commission created.—A highway and public works commission is hereby created to be and continue an agency of the state government and to be known as the “State Highway and Public Works Commission.” The said commission shall consist of a chairman and ten commissioners; the chairman and each of said commissioners shall be appointed by the Governor for a term of four years, the said terms to commence May first, one thousand nine hundred and forty-one, and continue until their successors are appointed and qualified. Provided, that the chairman or any commissioner appointed pursuant to this section may be removed by the Governor for cause. In case of the death, resignation, or removal from office of said chairman or any commissioner prior to the expiration of his term of office, his successor shall be appointed by the Governor to fill out the unexpired term. At the expiration of the term for which said chairman and commissioners are appointed, their successors shall be appointed for the term of four years each. The chairman shall devote his entire time and attention to the work of the commission, and shall receive as compensation not exceeding seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500.00) per annum, to be fixed by the Governor and the Advisory Budget Commission, payable monthly, and his actual traveling expenses when engaged in the discharge of his duties. The said chairman shall be vested with all authority of the commission when the commission is not in session, and shall be the executive officer of the said commission and shall execute all orders, rules, and regulations established by said commission. The commissioners, except the chairman, shall each receive ten dollars ($10.00) per day while engaged in the discharge of the duties of their office and their actual traveling expenses. The commissioners shall be so selected that it will be physically possible to divide the state into ten divisions of substantially equal size on the joint bases of area, population and mileage; and said commissioners shall, on or before the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven, designate the boundary lines of said divisions in such manner that each of said commissioners will be a resident of a separate division. Provided, however, that said division lines may be changed from time to time by a two-thirds vote of the commission and with the consent and approval of the board of county commissioners of the county or counties immediately affected thereby. Notwithstanding the provisions contained herein for the selection of commissioners in such manner as to make it physically possible to divide the State into ten divisions, it is the intent and purpose of this section that all of said commission and the chairman shall represent the State at large and not be representative of any particular division. It shall be the duty of the commission as a whole to select the road projects to be constructed or reconstructed which now or shall constitute a part of the primary highway system of the State. The intent and purpose of this section is that there shall be maintained and developed a state-wide highway system commensurate with the needs of the State as a whole and not to sacrifice the general statewide interest to the purely local desires of any division.

It shall be the duty of each commissioner to inform himself of the road needs of the particular division from which said commissioner is chosen and to report his findings from time to time to the commission. The commission shall formulate general policies and make such rules and regulations as it may deem necessary, governing the construction, repair and maintenance of the highway system of the State, with due regard to farm-to-market roads and school bus routes. Each member of the commission shall designate some time and place during each calendar month where he will be for the purpose of hearing such matters and things as may be presented to him by the governing bodies of the several counties of his district; and shall advise the chairmen of said governing bodies accordingly. (1938, c. 172, s. 2; 1937, c. 597, s. 1; 1941, c. 57, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—P. L. 1915, c. 113, s. 1 (Michie's Code, § 3573), established a state highway commission. The above section superseded that law by the establishment of a state highway and public works commission. The function of the state highway commission was declared to be “to assist the counties in developing a state and county system of highways.” Prior to the Act of 1921 (§§ 136-45 et seq.), creating a state highway system, the primary control was in the counties and political subdivisions, and the state commission served in an advisory capacity. By that act the state highway commission, now the state highway and public works commission, has primary control. The 1941 amendment changed the term of office from six to four years, inserted the second paragraph and made other changes.

Action May Be Maintained in Corporate Name.—The state highway and public works commission, as successor to the state prison department, has implied power to maintain an action in its corporate name on behalf of the state. State Highway, etc., Comm. v. Cobb, 215 N. C. 556, 2 S. E. (2d) 585.

§ 136-2. Headquarters; meetings; minutes.—The headquarters and main office of the said commission shall be located in Raleigh, and the commission shall meet in its main office at least once in each sixty days, or at such regular time as the commission may by rule provide, and may hold special meetings at any time and place within the state at the call of the chairman or the Governor or any three members of the commission. The Governor and the State Treasurer shall § 136-3. When acting chairman may be designated. — The commission may, with the approval of the Governor, designate a member of the commission or some other suitable person as acting chairman and confer upon the said acting chairman all authority of the chairman, or such restricted authority as the commission may by resolution determine to be exercised, in the event the chairman, on account of absence from the state, illness, or other cause, may be unable temporarily to discharge the duties of his office. (1935, c. 257, s. 1.)

§ 136-4. State highway engineer and other employees. — The State Highway and Public Works Commission shall employ a state highway engineer, who shall be a competent civil engineer, qualified by technical training as well as practical construction experience in highway work. The engineer shall hold office during the pleasure of the commission, but not to exceed a period of four years without reappointment. He shall receive an annual salary to be fixed by the commission, with the approval of the Governor and the Budget Bureau, payable in monthly installments, together with such actual and other necessary expenses as may be incurred in the official discharge of his duties. The engineer, before entering upon the discharge of the duties of his office, shall take an oath that he will faithfully and honestly execute the duties of his office. Said commission shall prescribe and fix the duties of the engineer, and shall provide the engineer with offices and sufficient equipment to discharge his duties as prescribed by the commission and this chapter. The commission shall employ such other engineers, clerks, and assistants as may be needed, and at such salaries and for such terms as appear necessary, and prescribe and fix their duties. In the discretion of the commission, such offices may be established in the construction districts as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter. (1921, c. 2, ss. 5, 6; 1933, c. 172, s. 17; C. S. 3846(g).)

§ 136-5. Oath of office of commissioners. — Before entering upon the performance of their duties, the chairman and each member of the State Highway and Public Works Commission shall take and subscribe to an oath of office before some person authorized to administer oaths that they will faithfully support the Constitution of the State of North Carolina and all laws enacted pursuant thereto and not inconsistent therewith, and that they will faithfully perform the duties of their respective offices. Said oaths shall be filed and preserved by the commission as a part of its permanent records. (1921, c. 2, s. 6; 1933, c. 172, s. 10; C. S. 3846(h).)

§ 136-6. Bonds of commissioners and engineer. — Before entering upon the performance of their duties, the chairman and each member of the State Highway and Public Works Commission and the State Highway Engineer shall give a bond, to be fixed and approved by the Governor, conditioned upon the faithful discharge of the duties of their respective offices and the full and proper accounting for all public funds and property coming into their possession or under their control. The premiums on said bonds shall be paid out of the state highway fund. (1921, c. 2, s. 6; 1933, c. 173, s. 17; C. S. 3846(h).)

§ 136-7. Employees of commission governed by classification filed with Budget Bureau; exceptions. — All employments by the State Highway and Public Works Commission and all changes in existing employment shall be in accordance with the classifications established in the report authorized by and adopted in conformance with Chapter three hundred fifty-five of the Public Laws of 1941, as said report is approved by the Governor and Advisory Budget Commission. The Assistant Director of the Budget shall certify the salary or wages of the particular employee within the range of the minimum and maximum established in the said report for such employment. The hourly maintenance and construction employees now or hereafter exempted from the Personnel Act shall not be placed under the Personnel Act, even if they are placed on a monthly basis of salary payment to facilitate operation under the State Employees and Teachers’ Retirement Act, but they shall be paid according to the said salary schedule or classification as established. (1941, c. 355.)

§ 136-8. Revision of salary schedules. — The salary schedule provided for in § 136-7 may be amended from time to time by order of the commission, subject to the approval of the governor and the advisory budget commission. (1939, c. 128, s. 1; 1933, c. 172, ss. 16, 17; 1949, c. 410.)

Editor’s Note. — Prior to the 1943 amendment this section related to the maximum compensation that could be paid by the commission.

§ 136-9. Employment of counsel. — The State highway and public works commission may in its discretion, with the approval of the governor, employ any attorney or attorneys to advise them for the purpose of condemning land acquired by this chapter, making any contracts, and to do other legal work that the commission may believe necessary for carrying out this chapter, and compensation for all such services shall be paid out of the state highway fund. (1921, c. 2, s. 21; 1933, c. 173, s. 17; 1943, c. 410; C. S. 3846(k).)

Editor’s Note. — The 1943 amendment inserted in line three the phrase “with the approval of the governor.”

§ 136-10. Annual audits; report of audit to general assembly. — The books and accounts of the highway and public works commission shall be audited at least once a year by a certified public accountant to be designated by the auditor of the state, and the report of certified accountant shall be made a part of the report of the commission to the general assembly as herein provided. (1921, c. 2, s. 24; 1933, c. 172, s. 17; C. S. 3846(m).)

§ 136-11. Annual reports to governor. — The state highway and public works commission shall make to the budget bureau, or to the governor, a full report of its finances and the physical condition of the state’s prison, prison camps, and other § 136-12. A full account of each road project shall be kept by and under the direction of the commission or its representatives, to ascertain at any time the expenditures and the liabilities against all projects; also records of contracts and force account work. The account records, together with all supporting documents, shall be open at all times to the inspection of the governor or directors of the budget may call for the same. (1933, c. 172, s. 11.)

§ 136-13. Malfeasance of commissioners, employees, or contractors.—It shall be unlawful for any member or employee of the highway and public works commission to knowingly or fraudulently perform any act with intent to injure the state; or for any contractor or agent or employee of a contractor to conspire with a member or employee of the commission or with a state official to permit a violation of a contract with intent to injure the state; or for any contractor or agent or employee of any contractor to do any work on any state highway in violation of contract with intent to defraud the state. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a felony, and, upon conviction, shall be confined in the state prison for a term of not less than one year nor more than five years, and be liable to the state in a civil action instituted by the state on relation of the highway and public works commission, for double the amount the state may have lost by reason of the violation of this section. (1931, c. 2, s. 23; 1933, c. 172, s. 17; C. S. 3846(l).)

§ 136-15. Establishment of administrative districts.—The State Highway and Public Works Commission may establish such administrative districts as in their opinion shall be necessary for the proper and efficient performance of the duties of the commission. Such districts as may be established shall be without regard to the places of residence of the members of the Commission. The commission may from time to time change the number of such districts, or they may change the territory embraced within the several districts, when in their opinion it is in the interest of efficiency and economy to make such change. (1931, c. 145, s. 5; 1933, c. 172, s. 17.)

§ 136-16. Funds and property converted to State Highway Fund.—Except as otherwise provided, all funds and property collected by the State Highway and Public Works Commission shall be paid over, and converted into the State Highway Fund. (1919, c. 189, s. 8; 1933, c. 172, s. 17; C. S. 3395.)

Art. 2. Powers and Duties of Commission.

Seal; rules and regulations.—The State Highway and Public Works Commission shall adopt a common seal and shall have the power to adopt and enforce rules and regulations for the government of its meetings and proceedings, and for the transaction of all business of the commission, and to make all necessary rules and regulations for carrying out the intent and purposes of this chapter. The commission shall succeed to all the rights, powers and duties heretofore vested in the State Highway Commission and the State Prison Department, and it is hereby empowered to make all necessary rules and regulations for carrying out such duties. (1933, c. 172, s. 2.)

§ 136-18. Powers of commission.—The said state highway and public works commission shall be vested with the following powers:

(a) The general supervision over all matters relating to the construction of the state highways, letting of contracts therefor, and the selection of materials to be used in the construction of state highways under the authority of this chapter.

(b) To take over and assume exclusive control for the benefit of the state of any existing county or township roads, and to locate and acquire rights of way for any new roads that may be necessary for a state highway system, with full power to widen, relocate, change or alter the grade or location thereof and to change or relocate any existing roads that the commission may now own or may acquire; to acquire by gift, purchase, or otherwise, any road or highway, or tract of land or other property whatsoever that may be necessary for a state highway system. Provided, all changes or alterations authorized by this subsection shall be subject to the provisions of §§ 136-54 to 136-63, to the extent that said sections are applicable: Provided, that nothing in this chapter shall be construed to authorize or permit the commission to allow or pay anything to any county, township, city or town, or to any board of commissioners or governing body thereof, for any existing road or part of any road heretofore constructed by any such county, township, city or town, unless contract has already been entered into with the commission.

Contract with County Commissioners.—In contemplation of the statute, the State Highway Commission is entrusted to construct and maintain a system of public highways and to contract in reference thereto, and a contract made between this board and the board of commissioners of a county wherein the latter is to advance certain moneys as a proportionate expense in the former's taking over and maintaining a particular highway to be repaid by the State Highway Commission, is a valid and legal contract, supported by a sufficient consideration. Young v. Board, 190 N. C. 52, 128 S. E. 491.

Broad Discretion in Changing Roads.—The statute, this section, subsection (b), and section 126-45, give broad discretionary powers to the State Highway Commission in changing, altering, or abandoning county roads that are or are proposed to be absorbed in the State highway system of public roads. Road Comm. v. State Highway Comm., 185 N. C. 159, 190 S. E. 675.
The State Highway and Public Works Commission is vested with the power to acquire such rights of way and title to such land, gravel, gravel beds, or bars, sand, sand beds or bars, rock, stone, boulders, quarries, or quarry beds, lime or other earth or mineral deposits or formations, and such standing timber as it may deem necessary and suitable for road construction, maintenance, and repair, and the necessary approaches and ways through, and a sufficient amount of land surrounding and adjacent thereto, as it may determine to enable it to properly prosecute the work, either by purchase, donation, or condemnation, in the manner hereinafter set out. The commission is also vested with the power to acquire such additional land alongside of the rights of way or roads as in its opinion may be necessary and proper for the protection of the roads and roadways, and such additional area as may be necessary as by it determined for approaches to and from such material and other requisite area as may be desired by it for working purposes.

Whenever the commission and the owner or owners of the lands, materials, and timber required by the commission to carry on the work as herein provided for, are unable to agree as to the price thereof, the commission is hereby vested with the power to condemn the lands, materials, and timber, and in so doing the ways, means, methods, and procedure of chapter 40, entitled "Eminent Domain," shall be used by it as near as the same is suitable for the purposes of this section, and in all instances the general and special benefits shall be assessed as offsets against damages: Provided, that all actions for damages for rights of way or other causes shall be commenced within six months from the completion of each particular project.

In case condemnation shall become necessary the commission is authorized to enter the lands and take possession of the same, and also take possession of such materials and timber as is required by it prior to bringing the proceedings for condemnation, and prior to the payment of the money for the said property.

In the event the owner or owners shall appeal from the report of the commissioners, it shall not be necessary for the commission to deposit the money assessed with the clerk, but it may proceed and use the property to be condemned until the final determination of the action.

The state highway and public works commission shall have the same authority, under the same provisions of law hereinbefore provided for construction of state highways, for the acquirement of all rights of way and easements necessary to comply with the rules and regulations of the United States government for the construction of federal parkways in the state of North Carolina. The acquirement of a total of one hundred and twenty-five acres per mile of said parkways, including roadway and recreational and scenic areas on either side thereof, shall be deemed a reasonable area for said purpose. The right of way acquired or appropriated may, at the option of the commission, be a fee simple title, and the nature and extent of the right of way and easements so acquired or appropriated shall be designated upon a map showing the location across each county, and, when adopted by the commission, shall be filed with the register of deeds in each county, and, upon the filing of said map, such title shall vest in the state highway and public works commission. The said commission is hereby authorized to convey such title so acquired to the United States government, or its appropriate agency, free and clear of all claims for compensation. All compensation contracted to be paid or legally assessed shall be a valid claim against the state highway and public works commission, payable out of the construction fund of said commission.

The action of the State Highway and Public Works Commission heretofore taken in the acquirement of areas for the Blue Ridge Parkway in accordance with the rules and regulations of the United States Government is hereby ratified and approved and declared to be a reasonable exercise of the discretion vested in the said Commission and in furtherance of the public interest.
When areas have been tentatively designated by the United States Government to be included within a Parkway, but the final survey necessary for the filing of maps as provided in this section has not yet been made, no person shall cut or remove any timber from said areas pending the filing of said maps after receiving notice from the State Highway and Public Works Commission that such area is under investigation, and any person who suffers loss by reason of the restraint upon his right to use the said timber pending such investigation shall be entitled to recover compensation from the State Highway and Public Works Commission for the temporary appropriation of his property, in the event the same is not finally included within the appropriated area, and the provisions of this section may be enforced under the same law now applicable for the adjustment of compensation in the accomplishment of rights of way on other property by the State Highway and Public Works Commission. (1921, c. 2, s. 22; 1923, c. 160, s. 6; 1931, c. 145, s. 23; 1935, c. 172, s. 17; 1935, c. 2, c. 1937, c. 42; C. S. 3539.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 struck out the following from the first paragraph of this section: "Provided, that the right of condemnation provided for in this article shall not apply to gravel beds or bars, sand beds or bars, rock beds or barrens, quarries for cement, gypsum, lime, or other earth, or mineral deposits or formations, in actual bona fide operation for commercial purposes by private persons." The amendment of 1935 added the last paragraph of this section, as it stood prior to the amendment of 1923.

The amendment of 1937 inserted the second sentence in the fifth paragraph.

The amendatory act ratified the appropriation of areas for Blue Ridge Parkway, prohibited cutting of timber from areas prior to the survey and compensation, and provided for temporary restraint.

See the discussion of this section by Mr. Charles Ross, General Counsel of the State Highway and Public Works Commission, in his pamphlet "State Highway Laws and Practices," page 6 et seq.

When Amendment Took Effect.—At the time of the re-location of the road in question and when this suit was instituted, the rule for the admeasurement of damages was as stated by the trial court in his charge, as prescribed by this section prior to the amendment. Lanier v. Greenville, 177 S. C. 114, 179 S. E. 396. The legislative intent to include in the provision of the suit and before trial, the Legislature amended the law by adding: "And in all instances the general and special benefits shall be assessed as off-sets against damages in accordance with the public laws as amended and in force at the time of trial should have been followed in determining the amount plaintiff was entitled to recover. Wade v. State Highway Comm., 196 N. C. 240, 211, 124 S. E. 193.

Procedure for Adjusting Claim Exclusive. — The State highway commission is charged with the duty of exercising certain administrative and governmental functions, and statutory method of procedure for adjusting and binding claims against it is exclusive and may alone be pursued. Latham v. State Highway Comm., 191 N. C. 141, 131 S. E. 389.

The owner of land cannot maintain an action in tort against the State Highway Commission, an unincorporated governmental agency, for damages caused to his land for its use in the construction of a public road or highway, which is too speculative. Riverside Milling Co. v. State Highway, etc., Comm., 209 N. C. 548, 184 S. E. 513.

Negligence Causing Cave-In.—Where plaintiff's building was damaged by a cave-in resulting from alleged negligence in excess of the right of private property overpass, plaintiffs were not relegated to a claim for damages against the highway commission as for a taking of their property under this section, and the demurrer to the complaint for the highway commission in plaintiff's action in tort was properly overruled. Broadhurst v. Bylyte Bros. Co., 220 N. C. 464, 17 S. E. (2d) 66.

Right to Just Compensation Where Evidence Is Insufficient to Show Taking Was for Private Purpose.—Where there was no evidence upon the record showing that the taking over of a road as part of the county system was for a private purpose sufficient to raise an issue of fact, plaintiff was entitled to his remedy under this section for the recovery of just compensation. Reed v. State Highway, etc., Comm., 209 N. C. 468, 184 S. E. 513.

Elements of Damage. — In proceedings to take land for a public highway, the measure of damages is the difference in the fair market value of respondent's land immediately before and immediately after the taking, the elements upon which the damages are predicated being the fair market value of the land taken and the injury to respondent's remaining land, less any general and special benefits accruing to respondent from the construction of the new highway, etc., Comm. v. Hartley, 218 N. C. 438, 11 S. E. (2d) 314.

Offsets Allowed. — In an action to recover damages resulting from the relocation of a public road through the lands of plaintiff, both the special and general benefits accruing to plaintiff by reason of the construction of the highway should be allowed as offsets against any issues of what plaintiff might have sustained, and an instruction that limits offsets to special advantages that accrued to plaintiff is erroneous. Bailey v. State Highway, etc., Comm., 214 N. C. 689, 197 S. E. 291.

Power of Townships.—No such broad and explicit powers to acquire land and road materials by condemnation were granted to the roads commissioners of Lovelady township by Burke County, by Pub. Loc. Laws 1915, ch. 425, as are given by this section to the state highway commission, and courts should not go beyond language of statute in construing it. Lowman v. Aber, 191 N. C. 147, 131 S. E. 277.

§ 136-20. Elimination or safeguarding of grade crossings and inadequate underpasses or overpasses.

(a) Whenever any road or street forming a link in or a part of the State highway system, whether under construction or heretofore or hereafter constructed, shall cross or intersect any railroad at the same level or grade, or by an underpass or overpass, and in the opinion of the chairman of the State Highway and Public Works Commission such crossing is dangerous to the traveling public, or unreasonably impedes traffic on said State highway, the Commission shall issue notice requiring the person or company operating such railroad to appear before the Commission, at its office in Raleigh, up-on a day named, which shall not be less than ten days or more than twenty days from the date of said notice, and show cause, if any it has, why such railroad company shall not be required to alter such crossing in such way as to remove such dangerous condition and to make such changes and improvements therat as will safeguard and secure the safety and convenience of the traveling public thereafter. Such notice shall be served on such railroad company as is now provided by law for the service of summons on domestic corporations, and officers serving such notice shall receive the same fees as now provided by law for the service of such summons.

(b) Upon the day named, the Commission shall hear said matter and shall determine whether such crossing is dangerous to public safety, or unreasonably interferes with traffic thereon. If it shall determine that said crossing is, or upon the completion of such highway will be, dangerous to public safety and its elimination or safeguarding is necessary for the proper protection of the traffic on said State highway, the Commission shall thereupon order the construction of an adequate underpass or overpass at said crossing or it may in its discretion order said railroad company to install and maintain gates, alarm signals or other approved safety devices if and when in the opinion of said commission upon the hearing as afore-said the public safety and convenience will be secured thereby. And said order shall specify that one-half of the cost of the construction of such underpass or overpass or the installation of such safety device shall be borne by the Commission and one-half thereof by the railroad company operating such railroad, as provided in section (c) hereof, but in no instance shall the Commission bear any part of the cost of the maintenance of any structure or safety device so constructed or installed except in the maintenance of an overpass.

(c) Upon the filing and issuance of the order as hereinbefore provided for requiring the construction of any underpass or overpass or the installation and maintenance of gates, alarm signals or other safety devices at any crossing upon the State highway system, it shall be the duty of the railroad company operating the railroad with which said public road or street intersects or crosses to construct such underpass or overpass or to install and maintain such safety device as may be required in said order. The work may be done and material furnished either by the railroad company or the Commission, as may be agreed upon, and, in case of an underpass, the railroad company shall be responsible for one-half of the expense of all excavations through the existing railroad fill as well as one-half of the complete cost of the structure, including both the foundation and superstructure, and in case of an overpass, the railroad company shall be responsible for one-half of the entire cost of the bridge which will span the opening over the tracks of the railroad from abutment to abutment and including such abutments. And if a grade crossing or unsafe or inadequate underpass or overpass is not eliminated by an adequate overpass or underpass, the railroad company shall be responsible for one-half of the cost of installing gates, alarm signals or other approved safety devices. If the work is done and material furnished by the railroad company, an itemized statement of the total amount expended therefor shall, at the completion of the work, be furnished the Commission, and the commission shall pay such amount to the railroad company as may be shown on such statement after deducting the amount for which the railroad company is responsible; and if the work is done by the Commission, an itemized statement of the total amount expended shall be furnished to the railroad company, and the railroad company shall pay to the Commission such part thereof as the railroad company may be responsible for as herein provided; such payment by the railroad company shall be under such rules and regulations and by such methods as the Commission may provide.

(d) Within sixty days after the issuance of the order for construction of an underpass or overpass or the installation of other safety device as herein provided for, the railroad company against which such order is issued shall submit to the Commission plans for such construction or installation, and within ten days thereafter said Commission, through its chairman, shall notify such railroad company of its approval of said plan or of such changes and amendments thereto as to it shall seem advisable. If such plans are not submitted to the Commission by said railroad company within sixty days as aforesaid, the chairman of the Commission shall have plans prepared and submit them to the railroad company. The railroad company shall within ten days notify the chairman of its approval of the said plans or shall have the right within such ten days to suggest such changes and amendments in the plans so submitted by the chairman of the Commission as to it shall seem advisable. The plans so prepared and finally approved by the chairman of the Commission shall have the same force and effect, and said railroad company shall be charged with like liability, and said underpass or overpass shall be constructed or such safety device installed in accordance therewith as if said plans had been originally prepared and submitted by said railroad company. If said railroad company shall fail or neglect to begin or complete the construction of said underpass or overpass, or the installation of such safety device, as required by the order of the Commission, said commission is authorized and directed to prepare the necessary plans therefor, which plans shall have the same force and effect, and shall fix said railroad company with like liability, as if said plans had been originally prepared and submitted by said railroad company, and the Commission shall proceed to construct said underpass or overpass or install such safety device in accordance therewith. An accurate account of the cost of said construction or installation shall be kept by the Commission and upon the completion of such work a statement of that portion thereof chargeable to such railroad company as set out in the order of the commission shall be rendered said railroad company. Upon the failure or refusal of said company to pay the bill so rendered, the Commission shall recover the amount thereof by suit therefor against said company in the Superior Court of Wake County: Provided, that the payment by such railroad company of said proportionate part may be made under such rules and regulations and by such methods as the Commission may provide. If the Commission shall undertake to do the work, it shall not obstruct or impair the operation of the railroad and shall keep the roadbed and track safe for the operation of trains at every stage of work. If said railroad company shall construct such underpass or overpass or shall install such safety devices in accordance with the order of the Commission, one-half of the cost of such construction shall upon the completion of said work be paid to such railroad company by the Commission. The Commission may inspect and check the expenditures for such construction or installation so made by the railroad company and an accurate account of the cost thereof shall upon the completion of said work be submitted to the Commission by the railroad company. If the Commission shall neglect or refuse to pay that portion of the cost of said construction or installation chargeable to it, the railroad company shall recover the amount thereof by suit therefor against the Commission in the Superior Court of Wake County.

(e) If any railroad company so ordered by the Commission to construct an underpass or overpass or to install safety devices at grade crossings as hereinbefore provided for shall fail or refuse to comply with the order of the Commission requiring such construction or installation, said railroad company shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not less than fifty nor more than one hundred dollars in the discretion of the court for each day such failure or refusal shall continue, each said day to constitute a separate offense.

(f) The jurisdiction over and control of said grade crossings and safety devices upon the State highway system herein given the Commission shall be exclusive.

(g) From any order or decision so made by the Commission the railroad company may appeal to the Superior Court of the county in which the crossing affected by said order, or installation of such safety device was necessary but the cost thereof unreasonable, then such railroad company shall bear its proportion (not to exceed fifty per cent) of such cost as may be determined on appeal would have been reasonable to meet the necessity in the instant case. Upon said appeal from an order of the Commission, the burden of proof shall be upon the railroad company, and if it shall not be found and determined upon said appeal that said order was unreasonable or unnecessary for the protection of the traveling public at said crossing, then such railroad company shall bear its proportion of the cost of such construction or installation in accordance with this section. (1921, c. 2, s. 19: 1923, c. 100, s. 5: 1925, c. 377: 1929, c. 74; 1933, c. 178, s. 17: C. S. 3846(y).)

§ 136-21. Drainage of highway; application to court; summons; commissioners.—Whenever in the establishment, construction, improvement or maintenance of any public highway it shall be necessary to drain said highway, and to accomplish such purpose it becomes necessary to excavate a canal or canals for carrying the surplus water to some appropriate outlet, either along the right-of-way of said highway or across the lands of other landowners, and by the construction, enlargement or improvement of such canal or canals, lands other than said highway will be drained and benefited, then, and in such event, the State Highway and Public Works Commission, if said highway be a part of the State highway system, or the county commissioners, if said road is not under state supervision, may, by petition, apply to the Superior Court of the county in which, in whole or in part, said highway lies or said canal is to be constructed, setting forth the necessity for the construction, improvement or maintenance of said canal, the lands which will be drained thereby, with such particularity as to enable same to be identified, the names of the owners of said land and the particular circumstances of the case; whereupon a summons shall be issued for and served upon each of the proprietors, requiring them to appear before the court at a time to be named in the summons, which shall not be less than ten days from the service thereof, and upon such day the petition shall be heard, and the court shall appoint three disinterested persons, one of whom shall be a competent civil and drainage engineer recommended by the Department of Conservation and Development, and the other two of whom shall be resident freeholders of the county or counties in which the road and lands are, in whole or in part, located, as commissioners, who shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, be sworn to do justice between the parties. (1935, c. 85, s. 3; c. 122, s. 4: 1938, c. 172, s. 17.)

§ 136-22. View by commissioners; report; judgment.—The commissioners, or a majority of them, one of whom must be the engineer aforesaid, shall, on a day of which each party is to be notified at least five days in advance, meet on the premises, and view the highway, or proposed highway, and also the lands which may be drained by the proposed canal, and shall determine and report what lands will be drained and benefited by the construction, enlargement or improvement of such canal, and whether said drainage ought to be done exclusively by said highway authorities, and if they are of opinion that the same ought not to be drained exclusively at their expense, then they shall decide and determine the route of the canal, the dimensions and character thereof, and the manner in which the same shall be cut or thrown up, considering all the circumstances of the case, the extent, area and identity of lands which shall be permitted to drain therein, and providing as far as possible for the effectual drainage of said highway, and the protection and benefit of the lands of all the parties; and they shall apportion the cost of the construction, repair and maintenance of said canal among said highway authorities and said landowners, and report the same to the court, which when confirmed by the clerk shall stand as a judgment of the court against each of the parties, his or its executors, administrators, heirs, assigns or successors. (1925, c. 85, s. 4.)

§ 136-23. Appeal.—Upon the entry of the judgment or decree aforesaid the parties to said action, or any of them, shall have the right to appeal to the Superior Court in term time under the same rules and regulations as apply to other special proceedings. (1925, c. 85, s. 5.)

§ 136-24. Rights of parties.—The parties to such special proceeding shall have all the rights which are secured to similar parties by article one of chapter one hundred fifty-six, of this Code and shall be regulated by the provisions thereof and amendments thereto, in so far as the same are not inconsistent herewith. (1925, c. 85, s. 6.)

§ 136-25. Repair of road detour.—It shall be mandatory upon the state highway and public works commission, its officers and employees, or any contractor or subcontractor employed by the said commission, to select, lay out, maintain and keep in as good repair as possible suitable detours by the most practical route while said highways or roads are being improved or constructed, and it shall be mandatory upon the said commission and its employees or contractors to place or cause to be placed explicit directions to the traveling public during repair of said highway or road under the process of construction. All expense of laying out and maintaining said detours shall be paid out of state highway fund. (1981, c. 2, s. 11; 1933, c. 172, s. 17; C. S. 3845(s).)

§ 136-26. Closing of state highways during construction; injury to barriers, warning signs, etc. — If it shall appear necessary to the state highway and public works commission, its officers, or appropriate employees, to close any road or highway coming under its jurisdiction so as to permit of proper completion of work which is being performed, such commission, its officers or employees, may close, or cause to be closed, the whole or any portion of such road or highway deemed necessary to be excluded from public travel. While any such road or highway, or portion thereof, is so closed, or while any such road or highway, or portion thereof, is in process of construction or maintenance, such commission, its officers or appropriate employees, or its contractor, under authority from such commission, may erect, or cause to be erected, suitable barriers or obstructions thereon; may post, or cause to be posted, conspicuous notices to the effect that the road or highway, or portion thereof, is closed; and may place warning lights, signs and lanterns on such road or highway, or portions thereof. When such road or highway is closed to the public or in process of construction or maintenance, as provided herein, any person who willfully drives into new construction work, breaks down, removes, injures or destroys any such barrier or barriers or obstructions on the road closed or being constructed, or tears down, removes or destroys any such signs, or extinguishes, removes, injures or destroys any such warning lights or lanterns so erected, posted or placed, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (1921, c. 2, s. 12; 1933, c. 172, s. 17; C. S. 3846(a).)

Liability of Contractor for Injury.—Contractor constructing highway was not relieved, by an order of the state highway commission closing the road to travel, of liability for injuries in an automobile collision with an unlighted disabled truck left by defendant on the side of the highway, where on the part of the road where the accident happened barriers had been removed and to defendant's knowledge many people had habitually traversed it. Thompson Caldwell Const. Co. v. Young, 294 Fed. 145.

§ 136-27. Connection of highways with improved streets; pipe lines and conduits; cost. — When any portion of the state highway system shall run through any city or town it shall be found necessary to connect the state highway system with improved streets of such city or town as may be designated as part of such system, the state highway and public works commission shall build such connecting links, the same to be uniform in dimensions and materials with such state highways: Provided, however, that whenever any city or town may desire to widen its streets which may be traversed by the state highway, the commission may make such arrangements with said city or town in connection with the construction of said road as, in its discretion, may seem wise and just under all the facts and circumstances in connection therewith: Provided further, that such city or town shall save the commission harmless from any claims for damage arising from the construction of said road through such city or town and including claims for rights of way, change of grade line, and interference with public-service structures. And the commission may require such city or town to cause to be laid all water, sewer, gas or other pipe lines or conduits, together with all necessary house or lot connections or services, to the curb line of such road or street to be constructed: Provided further, that whenever by agreement with the road governing body of any city or town any street designated as a part of the state highway system shall be surfaced by order of the commission at the expense, in whole or in part, of a city or town it shall be lawful for the governing body of such city or town to declare an assessment of such city or town, and whether or not the same shall be made, to be levied against such city or town, to be collected by the sheriff or his deputies, and the city or town shall then bring suit in the name of the city or town against some representative of the owner or owners of the property, and the city or town shall be entitled to recover the same, and interest thereon as provided by the Code of Civil Procedure. (1921, c. 2, s. 12; 1933, c. 172, s. 17; C. S. 3846(a).) ments, according to the extent of their respective frontage thereon by an equal rate per foot of such frontage. (1921, c. 2, s. 16; 1923, c. 160, s. 4; 1933, c. 172, s. 17; C. S. 3846(f)).

Local Modification.—Durham: 1925, c. 312; Town of Siler City: 1935 Pr. c. 143.

City Has Power to Condemn Land.—Under authority of this section a city has the power and authority to condemn land which is wholly within its limits for a street, and the fact that the state highway and public works commission aided in the construction of a street within the city limits and relieved the city, is for the benefit of the city and in no way abridges the city’s power and authority to condemn the land. Raleigh v. Hatcher, 220 N. C. 619, 18 S. E. 2d 71.

Construed with Local Act.—Chapter 56, article 9, of the acts of 1921 providing for local improvements of the streets of a city or incorporated town by a method of assessing the owners of abutting land, and this section, are to be construed together in pari materia. Shute v. Monroe, 187 N. C. 676, 123 S. E. 71.

Same—Exercise of Power by City.—Where the State Highway Commission orders a connecting link to be hard-surfaced, and the municipality voluntarily agrees to make the improvement, it is not required, under chapter 56, article 9, that a petition of the abutting owners of land through which such connecting link is to pass be filed to assess the owners of the municipal power to make it an assessment district. Shute v. Monroe, 187 N. C. 676, 123 S. E. 71.

Invalid Assessment May Be Subsequently Validated.—When a city or incorporated town, under authority of this section, has a considerable portion of its streets hard-surfaced, the municipality may voluntarily assess and undertakes the improvement of a street being a connecting link in the highway system. Shute v. Monroe, 187 N. C. 676, 123 S. E. 71.

Surety Is Chargeable with Notice of Factors Affecting Risk.—In entering into the contract the surety is chargeable with notice, not only of the financial ability and integrity of the contractor, but also with notice as to whether he possesses the plant, equipment, and tools required in undertaking the particular work, or will be compelled to rent or hire the same or some part thereof, all of which matters are factors to be considered in determining the risk.

§ 136-28. Letting of contracts to bidders after advertisement; enforcing claims against contractor by action on bond.—All contracts over one thousand dollars that the commission may let for street improvements in paving a strip on either side of a state highway running through the town, but such state highway and public works commission, to a contractor for the construction of a highway under the provisions of this section, are to be construed together in pari materia. Letting of contracts to bidders after advertisement; enforcing claims against contractor by action on bond.—All contracts over one thousand dollars that the commission may let for street improvements in paving a strip on either side of a state highway running through the town, but such state highway and public works commission, to a contractor for the construction of a highway under the provisions of this section, are to be construed together in pari materia. Shute v. Monroe, 187 N. C. 676, 123 S. E. 71.

City Has Power to Condemn Land.—Under authority of this section a city has the power and authority to condemn land which is wholly within its limits for a street, and the fact that the state highway and public works commission aided in the construction of a street within the city limits and relieved the city, is for the benefit of the city and in no way abridges the city’s power and authority to condemn the land. Raleigh v. Hatcher, 220 N. C. 619, 18 S. E. 2d 71.

Construed with Local Act.—Chapter 56, article 9, of the acts of 1921 providing for local improvements of the streets of a city or incorporated town by a method of assessing the owners of abutting land, and this section, are to be construed together in pari materia. Shute v. Monroe, 187 N. C. 676, 123 S. E. 71.

Same—Exercise of Power by City.—Where the State Highway Commission orders a connecting link to be hard-surfaced, and the municipality voluntarily agrees to make the improvement, it is not required, under chapter 56, article 9, that a petition of the abutting owners of land through which such connecting link is to pass be filed to assess the owners of the municipal power to make it an assessment district. Shute v. Monroe, 187 N. C. 676, 123 S. E. 71.

Invalid Assessment May Be Subsequently Validated.—When a city or incorporated town, under authority of this section, has a considerable portion of its streets hard-surfaced, the municipality may voluntarily assess and undertake the improvement of a street being a connecting link in the highway system. Shute v. Monroe, 187 N. C. 676, 123 S. E. 71.

Surety Is Chargeable with Notice of Factors Affecting Risk.—In entering into the contract the surety is chargeable with notice, not only of the financial ability and integrity of the contractor, but also with notice as to whether he possesses the plant, equipment, and tools required in undertaking the particular work, or will be compelled to rent or hire the same or some part thereof, all of which matters are factors to be considered in determining the risk.
and upon which the surety fixe\ the premiums exacted for executing the bond. Wise\man v. Lacy, 193 N. C. 751, 138 S. E. 121, 122.

Settlement of Surety's Liability.—The surety on a contractor's bond for the building of a public road or highway is presumed to have acquainted itself with the character of the road contracted for by its principal, and the local constru\tion that would affect the cost of its construction, and where its bond includes payment by the contractor of lab\or and material to be employed or used therein, it is liable to one who has rented to the contractor a steam shovel, boiler, etc., for use in the construction of a highway and is the said constru\ction existing conditions. Wise\man v. Lacy, 193 N. C. 751, 138 S. E. 121.

Materials and Supplies Protected by Surety's Bond.—

Candies, cigars, cigarettes, tobacco, ginger ale and other similar articles rented to a contractor at a laborer's camp in con\structing a highway and charged in the pay roll against the laborers buying them, are not necessary\s under the terms of the surety bond on the contract. Over\man & Co. v. Maryland Cas. Co., 193 N. C. 86, 90, 136 S. E. 250.

Venue of Suit.—All action against the State Highway Commission and surety on contractor's bond given for the benefit of those performing labor or work upon a State highway since 10 March, 1925, is governed as to venue by ch. 260, Public Laws, 1925, which is prospective in effect. Inde\pendent Trust Co. v. Massachusetts etc., Ins. Co., 195 N. C. 690, 136 S. E. 427.

Laborers, etc., Having No Statutory Lien.—The surety bond given to the State Highway Commission by a contractor for the construction of a highway under the provisions of this section contemplates the protection of laborers and materialmen who have no statutory lien. John L. Roper Lumber Co. v. Lawson, 195 N. C. 840, 143 S. E. 847.

§ 136-29. Settlement of controversies between commission and awardees of contracts.—Upon the completion of any contract awarded by the state highway and public works commission to any contractor, if the contractor fails to receive such settlement as he claims to be entitled to under his contract, he may, within sixty days from the time of receiving his final estimate, file with the state highway engineer a claim for such amount as he deems himself entitled to under the said contract; and the state highway engineer shall, within thirty days from the receipt of the said claim, pass upon the same and notify the contractor in writing of his decision. If the contractor desires to do so, he may, within thirty days from the receipt of the said decision of the state highway engineer, appeal in writing to the state highway and public works commission. Upon the receipt of the said appeal, the chairman of the state highway and public works commission shall immediately appoint a committee of three members of the said commission, no one of whom shall be the commiss\ioner from the division in which the said work was done; and the committee so appointed shall promptly set a time and place for the hearing of the said appeal. The committee or the claimant shall have power and authority to summon persons and papers and the committee shall make a complete investigation of all matters relating to the said appeal and the contract and the work out of which it grows, and determine all matters at issue in a fair and equitable manner according to their best judgment. The decision of the said committee shall be final and any amount which they may award the said contractor will be a valid claim against the state highway and public works commission; provided, however, an appeal may be brought from the decision of the said committee to the superior court of Wake county under the same terms, conditions and procedure as appeals from the industrial commission, as provided in § 97-86. The provisions of this section shall be deemed to enter into and form a part of every contract entered into between the state highway and public works commission and any contractor, and no provision in said contracts shall be valid that are in conflict herewith. (1939, c. 318.)

Editor's Note.—For comment on this enactment, see 17 C. Law Rev. 340.

§ 136-30. Uniform guide and warning signs on highways.—The state highway and public works commission is hereby authorized to classify, designate and mark both intrastate and interstate highways, including connecting streets in incorporated towns and cities, lying within this state and to provide a system of marking and signing such highways. Highways shall be distinctly marked with some standard, uniform design and the numbers thereon shall correspond with the numbers given the various routes by the commission and shown on official maps issued by the commission. Other guide signs and warning signs shall also be of uniform design. The system of marking and signing highways shall correlate with and so far as possible conform to the system adopted in other states.

The commission shall have the power to control all signs within the right-of-way of state highways.

The commission may erect proper and uniform signs directing persons to roads and places of importance. (1921, c. 2, ss. 9(a), 9(b); 1937, c. 148, s. 54; 1933, c. 172, s. 17; C. S. 3846(q), 3846(r).)

Editor's Note.—See 13 N. C. Law Rev. 101.

§ 136-31. Local traffic signs.—Local authorities in their respective jurisdictions shall cause appropriate signs to be erected and maintained, designating residence and business districts, highway and steam or interurban railway grade crossings and such other signs as may be deemed necessary to carry out the provisions of §§ 136-50 to 136-33. Local authorities shall erect appropriate signs giving notice of special local parking and other regulations. (1927, c. 148, s. 55.)

§ 136-32. Other than official signs prohibited.—No unauthorized person shall erect or maintain upon any highway any warning or direction sign, marker, signal or light or imitation of any official sign, marker, signal or light erected under the provisions of §§ 136-30 and 136-31, except in cases of emergency. No person shall erect or maintain upon any highway any traffic or highway sign or signal bearing thereon any commercial advertising: Provided, nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the erection or maintenance of signs, markers, or signals bearing thereon the name of an organization authorized to erect the same by the State Highway and Public Works Commission or by any local authority referred to in § 136-31. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punished in the discretion of the court. The commission may remove any signs erected without authority. (1921, c. 2, s. 9(b); 1927, c. 148, ss. 56, 58; 1933, c. 172, s. 17; C. S. 3846(r).)

§ 136-33. Injuring or removing signs.—Any person who shall deface, injure, knock down or remove any sign posted as provided in §§ 136-30 and 136-31 shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (1927, c. 148, s. 57.)

§ 136-34. State Highway and Public Works Commission authorized to furnish road equipment to municipalities.—The State Highway and Public Works Commission is hereby authorized to furnish municipalities road maintenance equipment to aid such municipalities in the maintenance of streets for which no State highway funds are provided, upon such rental agreement as may be agreed upon by the State Highway and Public Works Commission and the said municipality. Such rental, however, is to be at least equal to the cost of operation, plus wear and tear on such equipment; and the State Highway and Public Works Commission shall not be required to furnish equipment when to do so would interfere with the maintenance of the streets and highways under the control of said commission. (1941, c. 299.)

§ 136-35. Cooperation with other states and federal government.—It shall also be the duty of the State Highway and Public Works Commission, where possible, to cooperate with the state highway commissions of other states and with the federal government in the correlation of roads so as to form a system of intercounty, interstate, and national highways. (1915, c. 113, s. 12; 1933, c. 172, s. 17; C. S. 3984.)

§ 136-36. Appropriations to cities and towns for maintenance, construction, and improvement of streets.—The money appropriated and provided for in the Appropriations Bill for the fiscal years one thousand nine hundred and forty-one and one thousand nine hundred and forty-two and one thousand nine hundred and forty-three from funds collected from the tax on gasoline and license fees on motor vehicles and such further sums as may be appropriated from time to time and allocated to cities and towns shall be spent for the maintenance, repair, improvement, construction, reconstruction, or widening of highways in cities and towns, as provided in §§ 136-36 to 136-41. (1941, c. 217, s. 1.)

§ 136-37. Basis of apportionment between municipalities; annual certification of allocations.—Of such funds as may be appropriated from time to time for the maintenance, repair, improvement, construction, reconstruction or widening of highways and streets in cities and towns, one third shall be apportioned or allocated as between the several cities and towns by the state highway and public works commission upon the basis that the population of each city or town bears to the total population of all the cities and towns at the last preceding United States census and one third upon the basis that the mileage of streets which form a part of the state highway system in all the cities and towns and one third on the basis of relative need as between the various cities and towns as determined by the state highway and public works commission. Each year before the first day of June the state highway and public works commission shall certify an accurate account of such allocations to each city or town. (1941, c. 217, s. 2.)

§ 136-38. Use of funds recommended by local governing body; primary use; balance of funds.—Each year before the first day of July the governing body of each city and town shall recommend for the approval of the state highway and public works commission the use of such funds as are allocated to such city or town: Provided, that all of such funds so allocated to cities and towns shall be used first for the maintenance, repair, improvement, construction, reconstruction, or widening of the streets within said cities and towns which form a part of the state highway system until such streets shall be in a condition satisfactory to the state highway and public works commission and to the governing body of such city or town, after which, if there is any balance of funds remaining in the allotment to any city or town, such balance shall be used for the maintenance, repair, improvement, construction, reconstruction or widening of streets which form important connecting links to the state highway system or the county highway system or farm to market roads. Should any balance remain in the allotment to any city or town at the end of a fiscal year, such balance shall accrue to the credit of such city or town to be added to its allotment for the ensuing fiscal year. (1941, c. 217, s. 3.)

§ 136-39. Performance of work on streets; specifications.—The work of maintaining, repairing, improving, constructing, reconstructing, or widening such streets shall be performed by the state highway and public works commission, except that in the discretion of the commission it may contract with any city or town having adequate facilities that the city or town shall do the work of maintaining, repairing, improving, constructing, reconstructing, or widening such streets. In the event the work is performed by the city or town, it shall account quarterly to the state highway and public works commission for the use of the funds in such work; and in the event the work is performed by the state highway and public works commission, it shall account annually to the city or town for the use of the funds in such work. All work for which the funds herein provided for are spent shall be in accordance with the specifications of the state highway and public works commission. (1941, c. 217, s. 4.)

§ 136-40. Right of municipalities to construct, improve, etc., additional streets.—Neither the undertaking nor doing of any work upon streets in cities and towns by the state highway and public works commission shall deprive the cities or towns of the right to construct streets or to improve or maintain them as they may deem necessary, in addition to the work done by the state highway and public works commission. (1941, c. 217, s. 4.)

§ 136-41. Enforcement of contracts between commission and municipalities.—All contracts entered into between the state highway and public works commission and the municipalities of the state under §§ 136-36 to 136-41 or other provision of the state highway law may be enforced by proper actions either in the superior court of the county in which said municipality exists or in Wake county. (1941, c. 217, s. 5.)

§ 136-42. Markers on highway; cooperation of commission.—The State Highway and Public Works Commission is hereby authorized to cooperate with the North Carolina Historical Commission in marking historic spots along the State highways. (1927, c. 226, s. 1; 1933, c. 172, s. 17.)

§ 136-43. Expenditure of highway funds for erection of historical markers.—Whereas, the State of North Carolina is rich in points of historic interest, such as the first attempt at colonization on this continent, the efforts of the thirteen colonies to gain independence, Revolutionary and Civil War history, numerous burial places and graves of foremost North Carolinians who have played important roles in the history of the nation, as well as other historic shrines; and

Whereas, such facts are not generally known save to a few historians, and in many instances only to residents of the immediate territory; and

Whereas, no effective method has yet been adopted or provided for imparting knowledge of all these important facts to citizens of this and other states; and

Whereas, at the request and pursuant to a resolution of the Department of Conservation and Development, and the State Historical Commission, a group of five historians, one from each of the following named institutions of learning: Duke University, University of North Carolina, North Carolina State College, Wake Forest College and Davidson College, together with the State Historian, have agreed to serve as an advisory committee without expense to the state, and to designate such points of historic interest in the order of their importance, and to provide appropriate wording for their proper marking;

Now, therefore, in order to enable the Department of Conservation and Development to carry out this plan, in cooperation with the State Historical Commission, and the State Highway Commission; the General Assembly of North Carolina do enact:

That expenditures by the State Highway and Public Works Commission in cooperation with the Department of Conservation and Development and the State Historical Commission for the purposes of carrying out the program outlined in the preamble hereof is hereby declared to be a valid expenditure of State Highway maintenance funds: Provided, that not more than five thousand dollars in any one year shall be expended for this purpose, but this limitation shall not be construed to prevent the expenditure of any Federal Highway Funds that may be available for this purpose. (1933, c. 197.)

§ 136-44. Maintenance of grounds at home of Nathaniel Macon and grave of Anne Carter Lee.—The Highway and Public Works Commission is hereby authorized and directed through the Highway Supervisor of the Warren County District, to clean off and keep clean the premises and grounds at the old home of Nathaniel Macon, known as "Buck Springs," which are owned by the County of Warren, and also to look after the care and keeping the grounds surrounding the grave of Miss Anne Carter Lee, daughter of General Robert E. Lee, in Warren County. (1939, c. 38.)

Art. 3. General Provisions.

Part I. Highway System.

§ 136-45. General purpose of law; control, repair and maintenance of highways.—The general purpose of the laws creating the state highway and public works commission is that said commission shall take over, establish, construct, and maintain a state-wide system of hard-surfaced and other dependable highways running to all county-seats, and to all principal towns, state parks, and principal state institutions, and linking up with state highways of adjoining states and with national highways into national forest reserves by the most practical routes, with special view of development of agriculture, commercial and natural resources of the state, and for the further purpose of permitting the state to assume control of the state highways, repair, construct, and reconstruct and maintain said highways at the expense of the entire state, and to relieve the counties and cities and towns of the state of this burden. (1921, c. 2, s. 2; 1943, c. 410; C. S. 3846(a.).)

Editor's Note.—The statutes in Parts I and II of this article reflect the growth and culmination of general state control of the public roads, and must be read in this light. Sections 136-45 to 136-47 are codified from the act which authorized the state highway system of 1921—the first important step. Sections 136-48 to 136-50, enacted in 1927, and repealed by 1943, c. 410, authorized an extension of this system. Sections 136-51 to 136-53 authorized the assumption of control by the state over the county public roads.

As to the general policy of the state as to highway, see Young v. Board, 190 N. C. 52, 128 S. E. 401.

The 1943 amendment rewrote the first part of this section.

Laws Repealed.—Former sections 3580-3593 are repealed by this article in so far as the former conflict with the latter and under the latter power is conferred on the State Highway and Public Works Commission to take over county highways as a part of the national highway system of roads upon such terms and agreements with the county commissioners as may be made by them as authorized by the article. Lassiter v. Board, 188 N. C. 379, 124 S. E. 738.

The purpose of the act of 1921 is to encourage cooperation between the highway commission and the county authorities. Young v. Board, 190 N. C. 52, 128 S. E. 401.

Statutes Construed in Pari Materia.—The statute relating to the creation, maintenance, etc., of a State-wide system of public roads, and the amendatory act providing for the taking over of county highways for state maintenance are to be construed together in pari materia. Board of Com’rs v. State Highway Comm., 195 N. C. 26, 141 S. E. 539.

Bread Discretion Given.—The statutes section 136-18, subsections 1, 2, and subsection 136-19, subsection 136-3, authorize the State Highway Commission in establishing, altering and changing the route of county roads that are or are proposed to be absorbed in the State highway system of public roads. Bond Comm. v. State Highway Comm., 185 N. C. 56, 115 S. E. 886.

Control of Discretion as to Change of Highway.—The State Highway Commission, neither by contract nor otherwise, can be controlled beforehand in the exercise of such discretion, conferred on it by statute, as to the change of...
there shall be publicly posted at the courthouse door in every county in the state a map of all the roads in such county in the state system, and the board of county commissioners or county road-governing body of each county, or street governing body of each city or town in the state shall be notified of the routes that are to be selected and made a part of the state system of highways; and if no objections or protest is made by the Board of County Commissioners of the county or street-governing body of any county, or street-governing body of any city or town in the state within sixty days after the notification before mentioned, then and in that case the said roads or streets, to which no objections are made, shall be constituted parts or links of the state highway system. If any objections are made by the board of county commissioners or county road-governing body of any county or street-governing body of the city or town, the whole matter shall be heard and determined by the state highway and public works commission in session, under such rules and regulations as may be laid down by the commission, notice of the time and place of hearing to be given in such manner as the commission shall determine. A map showing the proposed roads to constitute the state highway system is attached to chapter two of the Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one and made a part hereof. The roads so shown can be changed, altered, added to or discontinued by the commission: Provided, no roads shall be changed, altered or discontinued so as to disconnect county-seats, principal towns, state or national parks or forest reserves, principal state institutions, and highway systems of other states. The rights of way to all roads taken over under this section shall be not less than thirty (30) feet: Provided, that no toll road shall be taken over under this section unless by agreement or condemnation as herein provided.

Prior to the 1943 amendment the approximate maximum limit of the state highway system was fifty-five hundred miles.

§ 136-46. Establishment of system of state highways; work leading to hard-surfaced construction.—The purpose and intent of chapter two of the Public Laws of 1921 is to establish a system of state highways for the state, hard-surfacing said highways as rapidly as possible, and maintaining the entire system of said highways in the most approved manner as outlined in that act. Work on the various links in the state highway system shall be of such a character as will lead to ultimate hard-surfaced construction of said highways as rapidly as possible, and materials, labor, and materials will permit, and to a state system of durable hard-surfaced, all-weather roads, connecting the various county-seats, principal towns, and cities. (1921, c. 2, s. 3; C. S. 3846(b.).)

§ 136-47. Routes and maps; objections; changes.—The designation of all roads comprising the state highway system as proposed by the state highway and public works commission shall be mapped, and of the State Highway system, by placing certain towns along its proposed route, does not affect the discretionary authority of the State Highway Commission in locating the highway between county-seats, or prevent the commission from changing the route from them, but its determination is reviewed by the trial court only to determine whether the change decided upon goes by the principal towns as required by the statute. Cameron v. State Highway Comm., 188 N. C. 84, 123 S. E. 465.

Same.—Effect of Findings of Trial Court on Appeal.—A finding by the trial judge that an entire change of route in a link of the State System of public highways is not authorized by statute to make an entire change of route in its system of State Highway between county-seats, and for the interest thereon, that may be out Enjoining Unauthorized Change.—An injunction will lie against the State Highway Commission from proceedings to make a change in a link of the State System of public highways unauthorized by the statute. Newton v. State Highway Comm., 194 N. C. 159, 138 S. E. 601.

But the power of the commission to slightly or immaterially vary the location of the highway in question is not at an end until its final acceptance thereof. Smith v. State Highway Commission, 194 N. C. 333, 139 S. E. 696, approving Newton v. Highway Comm., 194 N. C. 159, 138 S. E. 601.

Presumption as to Posting of Map.—It is presumed on appeal, when the record is silent in relation thereto, that the publication of the map of a link in the State Highway System, by posting the map thereof at the county-seat, etc., as the law requires. Newton v. State Highway Comm., 194 N. C. 159, 138 S. E. 601.

Effect of Finding of Trial Court on Appeal.—A finding by the trial judge that an entire change of route in a link of highways connecting two county-seats was only temporarily adopted, not permanently adopted, does not lie as a matter of law, upon the evidence, it is conclusively made otherwise to appear. Newton v. State Highway Comm., 194 N. C. 159, 138 S. E. 601.

Failure to Protest Location.—Upon the failure of any principal town along the proposed route to object thereto, it is not a proper or necessary party to the proceedings, and the trial court may refuse its motion to be made a party. Newton v. State Highway Comm., 194 N. C. 159, 138 S. E. 601.

Provided, further, that in order to fully carry out the provisions of this section the respective boards of county commissioners are vested with full authority to prosecute all suitable legal actions. (1931, c. 145, s. 7; 1938, c. 172, s. 17.)

§ 136-48. Eminent domain with respect to county roads.—To the end that the State Highway and Public Works Commission may better take over the maintenance and improvement, reconstruction and construction of the public roads in the various counties, together with the bridges and railroad grade crossings thereon, and may better carry out the intent and purposes of § 136-51, the Commission is vested, in respect of and to the public roads in the various counties, with the same powers of and responsibility of eminent domain as are conferred and imposed upon the Commission in §§ 136-18 and 136-19 in respect of and to the State Highway System, and the Commission is authorized and empowered to adopt rules and regulations governing the use of the various county road systems and to promulgate the same.

§ 136-53. Map of county road systems posted; objections.—On or before May first, one thousand and nine hundred and thirty-one, the designations of all roads comprising the several county road systems as are proposed to be taken over for maintenance and improvement by the State Highway and Public Works Commission shall be mapped, and there shall be publicly posted at the courthouse door in each county a map of all the roads in such county to be contained in the county road system of such county, and the board of county commissioners of such county and the street-governing body of each city or town in such county shall be notified of the roads that are to be selected and to be made a part of the county road system of such county. If no objection is made by the board of county commissioners or the street-governing body of any city or town in such county within thirty (30) days after the notification herein provided for, then in that event the roads to which no objections are made shall be and constitute the county road system for such county. If objections are made by the board of county commissioners of the county or the street-governing body of any city or town in the county, the Commission shall as soon as practicable send an agent to such county who shall take the matter up with the view of adjusting the objections and agreeing with the county commissioners or the street-governing body of any city or town. If such agent and the board of county commissioners or the street-governing body of any city or town cannot agree, then the whole matter shall be heard and determined by the Commission in session under such rules and regulations as may be made by the Commission. Notice of the time and place of hearing shall be given by the Commissioners to the courthouse door and in some newspaper, if any, published in the county, at least ten days prior to the hearing, and the decision of the Commission shall be final. It is the intent and purpose of this section that all roads legally established and used as public roads in the various counties on March 20, 1931, are to and shall be included in the county road systems of the various counties. Maps showing the proposed roads to constitute the county road systems in the several counties have been printed and bound and are now on file in the office of the Commission, and are the maps which shall be posted. If it shall appear to the Commission prior to the posting of the maps under this section that any road or roads which should be included in the county road systems of any county have been omitted from the map of any county as printed, the commission may change such maps so as to include such road or roads before posting. (1931, c. 145, s. 11; 1933, c. 172, s. 17.)

Part III. Power to Make Changes in Highway System.

§ 136-54. Power to make changes.—Subject to the provisions of §§ 136-56, 136-57 and 136-60 the State Highway and Public Works Commission shall be authorized, when in its judgment the public good requires it, to change, alter, add to, or abandon and substitute new sections for, any portion of the State highway system, as now or hereafter, taken over, maintained and established: Provided, no road shall be changed, altered, or abandoned so as to disconnect county seats and principal towns. (1927, c. 46, s. 1; 1933, c. 172, s. 17.)

Editor's Note.—The relation between §§ 136-54, 136-55, 136-56, 136-57 and 136-60 should be noted. Section 136-55 prescribes a procedure for the change or abandonment of portions of the state highway system, under which the decision of the Commission is final. However, §§ 136-54 and 136-55 are subject to the provisions of § 136-56 (requiring the consent of the street governing body of a town before the number of state highways entering certain towns may be reduced); § 136-57 (requiring the consent of the road governing body of the county if the road in question has been located and constructed in accordance with plans and specifications prepared and on file with the Commission); and § 136-60 (requiring the consent of the county commissioners if the road in question was a portion of the county road system taken over by the State by virtue of §§ 136-51 to 136-54). Thus §§ 136-54 and 136-55 must be read with these limitations in mind.

The preamble to the act from which this section was taken reads, "Whereas, the system of highways, by act of the General Assembly, is peculiarly a State system as distinct from county roads; and, "Whereas, it is the established policy of North Carolina that State highways shall be well posted and maintained by funds derived from sources other than ad valorem taxes; and, "Whereas, certain counties, in order to hasten the construction of State highways within said counties, have heretofore made cash donations in part payment of the construction of State highways within said counties; and, "Whereas, certain other counties have made loans to the State Highway Commission under form of contract by which such loans are to be repaid out of future allocations of State highway construction funds: Now, therefore," and then followed the section.

Elimination of Underpass.—Where the State highway commission, in the interest of public safety, builds an overpass and relocates a highway to cut out dangerous curves and an inadequate underpass, it has the authority to order the underpass closed, if not by authority expressly conferred the commission is powerless to exercise police power by an appropriate agency of the State. § 136-55. Notice to local road authorities.—Before any road, which is being maintained by the State Highway and Public Works Commission as a part of the State Highway System, can be changed, altered, or abandoned, the chairman or his duly authorized agent shall notify the road governing authorities of the county or counties in which said change, alteration, or abandonment is proposed, of the extent, nature and character of the proposed change, alteration or abandonment, and a map showing the old location and the new proposed location shall be posted at the courthouse door. If within thirty days after the giving of such notice and the posting of such map the road governing body of such county or the street governing body of any county seat or principal town immediately affected thereby, shall protest the proposed change, alteration or abandonment by filing a written notice of such protest with the Commission at Raleigh; the Commission shall thereupon designate three members of the Commission of its own selection to hear such protest. The place, which shall be within the county, and the time of such hearings shall be fixed by the chairman and notice given to the protesting parties. Such hearings shall be held publicly and all persons desiring to be heard shall be heard. At the close of such hearing the committee shall publicly state their decision. The protesting parties may appeal from such decision to the whole Commission and such appeal shall be heard at a regular or duly called meeting for this purpose in the city of Raleigh and notice given to the appellants. The decision of the whole commission shall be determined by roll call vote duly recorded upon the minutes of the commission.

Any county seat or principal town shall be deemed "immediately affected" if the proposed change or alteration shall enter or leave said town by streets other than those used for such purposes prior to the proposed change. (1927, c. 46, s. 2; 1931, c. 145; 1933, c. 172, s. 17.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 added the words "as a part of the State Highway System" in lines three and four of the sentence. It also struck out the words "commissioner of the district in which said road is located" formerly appearing in the same sentence and inserted in lieu thereof "chairman or his duly authorized agent." Parker v. State Highway Commission, 195 N. C. 783, 143 S. E. 871.

Decision of Commission Final.—The decision of the state highway commission upon appeal by the board of commissioners from an adverse decision is final and conclusive. Parker v. State Highway Commission, 195 N. C. 783, 143 S. E. 871.

§ 136-60. Road taken over not to be abandoned without consent of county commissioners. —No road, which shall be a part of any county road system as the same shall be finally adopted in pursuance of § 136-57 of any part of the land hereby abandoned, shall be materially changed without the consent of the board of county commissioners of the county in which said road is located, except the state highway and public works commission may be relieved of all responsibility for county roads in areas where the federal government acquires exclusive ownership and control. (1931, c. 145, s. 12; 1943, c. 410.)

Editor's Note.—The 1943 amendment added the exception clause at the end of the section.

§ 136-61. Petition by county commissioners to change or abandon roads or build new roads.—The board of county commissioners of any county may, when in the opinion of said board the best interests of the people of said county or of any particular community thereof will be subserved thereby, petition the State Highway and Public Works Commission to change or abandon any road in the county road system or to add thereto any new road. Said petition shall be filed with the chairman of the Commission, who shall personally or by his duly constituted deputy, after conference with the board of county commissioners of said county, make diligent inquiry into and study of the proposed change, abandonment, or addition, and if in his opinion the public interest demands the same, such change, abandonment, or addition shall be made. Provided, however, that if any such change or abandonment of a road shall affect a road connecting with any street of any city or town in such county, no such change or abandonment shall be made until the street-governing body of such town shall have been duly notified thereof and given opportunity to be heard upon the question. If the chairman of the Commission shall be of the opinion that the public interest does not demand the change, abandonment, or addition petitioned for, the board of county commissioners filing such petition may appeal from his decision to the whole commission, who shall, at such time and place as shall be designated, due notice of which shall be given to the parties interested, give public hearing on the matter. The action of the Commission upon all such matters shall be final. Provided, however, any petition which has been declined by the Commission may be again presented under the provisions hereof after the expiration of twelve (12) months. (1931, c. 145, s. 13; 1933, c. 172, s. 17.)

Taking Held to Be for Public Purpose.—Under this section the county commissioners petitioned that certain roads in the county be taken over as a part of the county system. Plaintiff, owner of part of the land involved, obtained a temporary injunction prohibiting the taking over of the road, claiming the "taking was for a private and not [ 004 ] a public purpose. The court found that the taking was for a public purpose, and dismissed the action, it appearing from the pleadings that the proposed road would give four families access to the county-seat and that the road would constitute a part of a through scenic highway. Reed v. State Highway, etc., Comm., 209 N. C. 648, 184 S. E. 513.

Scenic Value May Be Considered.—In taking over a road as a part of the highway system, the scenic value of such road and its necessity as a part of the system of scenic highways for the public may be considered in determining whether taking over the road is for a public or private purpose. Id.

§ 136-62. Petition of citizens to county commissioners to ask Commission to make road changes.—When any number of citizens of any county or any community thereof, not less than twenty-five (25), shall sign and file with the board of county commissioners of such county a petition asking that any road in the county road system of the county be changed or abandoned or that any new road be added to said system, it shall be the duty of said board of county commissioners to make full and thorough investigation, and if in their opinion the best interests of the people of said county or of the particular community thereof be affected require such change, abandonment, or addition, the said board of county commissioners shall file and prosecute before the State Highway and Public Works Commission the petition provided for in § 136-61.

§ 136-63. Public hearings on road changes.—All public hearings provided for in §§ 136-61 and 136-62 shall, when practicable, be held in the county in which the road or roads under consideration and the subject of said hearing, shall be located. (1931, c. 145, s. 15.)

§ 136-64. Filing of complaints with Commission; hearing and appeal.—In the event of failure to maintain the roads of the State Highway System or any county road system in good condition, the board of county commissioners of such county may file complaint with the State Highway and Public Works Commission. When any such complaint is filed, the Commission shall at once investigate the same, and if the same be well founded, the said commission shall at once order the repair and maintenance of the roads complained of and investigate the negligence of the persons in charge of the roads so complained of, and if upon investigation the person in charge of the road complained of be at fault, he may be discharged from the service of the commission. The board of commissioners of any county, who shall feel aggrieved at the action of the Commission upon complaint filed, may appeal from the decision of the Commission to the Governor, and it shall be the duty of the Governor to adjust the differences between the board of county commissioners and the Commission. (1921, c. 5, s. 20; 1931, c. 145, s. 17; 1933, c. 172, s. 17; C. S. 3846(11).)

Art. 4. Neighborhood Roads, Cartways, Church Roads, etc.

§ 136-67. Neighborhood public roads.—All those portions of the public road system of the State which have not been taken over and placed under maintenance or which have been abandoned by the State Highway and Public Works Commission, but which remain open and in general use by the public, and all those roads that have been laid out, constructed, or reconstructed with unemployment relief funds under the supervision of the Department of Public Welfare, and all other roads or streets or portions of roads or streets whatsoever outside of the boundaries of any incorporated city or town in the State which serve a public use regardless of whether the same have ever been a part of any county or city road systems, are hereby declared to be neighborhood public roads and they shall be subject to all of the provisions of §§ 136-68, 136-69 and 136-70 with respect to the alteration, extension, or discontinuance thereof, and any interested citizen is authorized to institute such proceeding, and in lieu of personal service with respect to this class of roads, notice by publication once in a week in any newspaper published in said county, or in the event there is no such newspaper, by posting at the courthouse door and three other public places, shall be deemed sufficient: Provided, that this definition of neighborhood public roads shall not be construed to embrace any street, road or driveway that serves principally private purposes. Upon request of the Board of County Commissioners of any county, the State Highway and Public Works Commission is permitted, but is not required, to place such roads in a passable condition without incorporating the same into the State or County Systems, and without becoming obligated in any manner for the permanent maintenance thereof.

This section shall not authorize the reopening on abandoned roads of any railroad grade crossing that has been closed by order of the State Highway and Public Works Commission in connection with the building of an overpass bridge or underpass to take the place of such grade crossing. (1929, c. 257, s. 1; 1933, c. 305; 1941, c. 182.)

Editor's Note.—The 1941 amendment inserted the provision in the third sentence beginning with the words "in lieu of other" in line ten and ending at the next comma. It also inserted the proviso and changed the wording of the second sentence.

Use of Abandoned Way.—Where plaintiffs' allegations and evidence tended to show that the alleged public way was an old wharf had been abandoned by the highway commission when it took over the old wharf to establish their right to the use of the passway as a public purpose, not reside along the alleged public road, and that it was not necessary to them as a way of egress and ingress to their homes, but they used same in getting to the old wharf to their boats for fishing and hunting parties, they failed to establish their right to the use of the passway as a neighborhood public road. Cahoon v. Roughton, 215 N. C. 376, 1 S. E. (2d) 360.

Question of Discontinuance Raised by Special Proceeding.—The question of the discontinuance of a special proceeding which is a neighborhood public road, within the meaning of this section, must be determined by a special proceeding before the clerk, and where the question has been presented by petition to the board of county commissioners the judgment of the Superior Court on appeal dismissing the petition is correct, but that part of the judgment providing that the road shall remain open is erroneous and will be stricken out on further appeal to the Supreme Court. In re Edwards, 196 N. C. 549, 174 S. E. 505.

Persons living along a highway which had been taken over by the State Highway Commission, and subsequently abandoned by it, are "interested citizens" within the meaning of this section and may maintain a proceeding to have the road established as a "neighborhood public road." Grady v. Grady, 209 N. C. 749, 184 S. E. 512.

This section merely fixes the status of roads abandoned by the state highway commission, and does not invest any private easement in owners of property abutting the abandoned road, their right to the continued use of such road being the same as that of the public gen-

What Constitutes Abandonment.—Where the state highway commission, in the interest of public safety, builds an overpass and relocates a short section of the road in order to cut out dangerous curves and an inadequate underpass, and thereafter tears up the section of old road lying on one side of the underpass, the short section of old road is not abandoned by the commission when it remains open and in general use by the public within the purview of this section and does not become a public road.

§ 136-68. Special proceeding for establishment, alteration or discontinuance of cartways, etc.; petition; appeal. — The establishment, alteration, or discontinuance of any cartway, church road, mill road, or like easement, for the benefit of any person, firm, association, or corporation, over the lands of another, shall be determined by a special proceeding instituted before the Clerk of the Superior Court in the county where the property affected is situated. Such special proceeding shall be commenced by a petition filed with said Clerk and the service of a copy thereof on the person or persons whose property will be affected thereunder, and the service of a final order of discontinuance or alteration of the said special proceeding, any interested party may appeal to the Superior Court for trial de novo and make report of their findings in writing to the Clerk of the Superior Court. Exceptions to said report may be filed by any interested party and such exceptions shall be heard and determined by the Clerk of the Superior Court. The Clerk of the Superior Court may affirm or modify said report, or set the same aside and order a new jury of view. All damages assessed by a judgment of the Clerk, together with the cost of the proceeding, shall be paid in to the Clerk's office before the petitioners shall acquire any rights under said proceeding. (Rev., s. 2686; Code, s. 2056; 1917, c. 283, s. 1; 1917, c. 187, s. 1; 1909, c. 384, s. 1; 1903, c. 102; 1887, c. 46; R. C., c. 101, s. 37; 1798, c. 508, s. 1; 1822, c. 1139, s. 1; 1879, c. 258; 1921, c. 133; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 73; 1929, c. 197, s. 1; 1931, c. 448; C. S. 3836.)

Editor's Note.—This section was amended by Public Laws 1921, ch. 135, so as to include industrial and manufacturing vias, and the right to cross canals and streams; and by the Act of 1921, Public Laws Ex. Sess. ch. 73, this section was again amended to include the right to alter or discontinue cartways when the old ones had become unreasonably inconvenient.

The Act of 1931 made material changes in the section. Section Strictly Construed.—This section is in derogation of the rights of landowners, and must be strictly construed. Warlick v. Lowman, 103 N. C. 123, 9 S. E. 458.

Section Must Be Followed.—The right to establish cartways, tramways, etc., over the lands of another has already one or more convenient rights of way of ingress and egress to a given point, the petitioner's exclusive remedy is under the provisions of this and the previous section, and the proceedings in the Superior Court were properly nonsuited. White v. Coghill, 201 N. C. 421, 160 S. E. 472.

Cartway Quasi-Public Road.—Cartways are regarded as quasi-public roads, and the condemnation of private property for such use has been held to be a valid exercise of the power of eminent domain. Cook v. Vickers, 141 N. C. 101, 53 S. E. 740.

Undedicated Neighborhood Road Not a Public Road.—A neighborhood road not dedicated to the public, but used by the public under permission or license of the owner of the land, is not a public road within the meaning of this section. Collins v. Patterson, 119 N. C. 602, 26 S. E. 154.

Requisites for Cartways.—The fact that there is no public road leading to the premises upon which a petitioner for a cart-way resides, and that such way will be more convenient to him, will not warrant its establishment; it must be made to appear further that the petitioner has no other way of ingress and egress, and that it is necessary, reasonable and just. Burwell v. Snead, 104 N. C. 118, 10 S. E. 152. Cartway will not be granted, under this section as a mere matter of convenience, but only when it is necessary, reasonable and just that the petitioner should have it. Warlick v. Lowman, 103 N. C. 122, 9 S. E. 458.

From any legal order or judgment that the land of another has already one or more convenient rights of way over the land of another to the public road or other public place to which he seeks access, his application shall be rejected, and no other order or judgment has been obtained, the cartway will be discontinued on the petition of the owner of the land. Pilmmons v. Friady, 60 N. C. 200. See, also, Burgwyns v. Lockhart, 60 N. C. 264.
the cultivated lands, the petition is properly dismissed. Rhodes v. Shelton, 187 N. C. 716, 122 S. E. 761.

Section 136-70. Alteration or abandonment of cartways, etc., in same manner. — Cartways or other ways established under this article or heretofore established, may be altered, changed, or abandoned in like manner. Where any individual, corporation, or municipality, for their establishment upon petition instituted by any individual, corporation, or municipality, shall automatically terminate at the end of a period of five years, unless a greater time is set forth in the petition and the judgment establishing the same. — Rev. c. 269; Code, c. 2057; 1887, c. 46, s. 2; R. C. c. 101, s. 38; 1798, c. 508, ss. 1, 2, 3; 1834, c. 16, s. 1; 1887, c. 266; 1931, c. 448; C. S. 3837.)

See “Local Modifications” under § 136-68. Excerpts from The Act of 1931 inserted this section in place of the former one.

When Petitioner Acquires Servient Tract.—A petitioner who has acquired a right, by order of the court, to have a cartway or other way over the land of another, and who has afterwards obtained title to the servient tenement, has a right to obstruct and discontinue such cart-way. Jacoby v. Newby, 19 N. C. 266.

§ 136-71. Church roads laid out on petition; procedure. — Necessary roads leading to any church or other place of public worship may be established in the same manner as set forth in the preceding sections of this article upon petition of the duly constituted officials of such church. (Rev., ss. 2687, 2689; Code, ss. 2062, 2064; 1872-3, c. 189, ss. 1-3; 1931, c. 448; C. S. 3838.)

Editor’s Note.—The Act of 1931 made material changes in this section. Formerly the proceedings were before the Board of Commissioners, and thence to the Superior Court, although the order may not have been executed. Warlick v. Lowman, 101 N. C. 546, 195 S. E. 615.

Cited in Waldrop v. Ferguson, 213 N. C. 198, 195 S. E. 615.
Works Commission shall have authority to determine the maximum load limit for any and all bridges on the State Highway System or on any county road systems, to be taken over under §§ 136-51 to 136-53, and post warning signs thereon, and it shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to transport any vehicle over and across any such bridge with a load exceeding the maximum load limit established by the Commission and posted upon said bridge, and any person, firm, or corporation violating the provisions of this section shall, in addition to being guilty of a misdemeanor, be liable for any or all damages resulting to such bridge because of such violation, to be recovered in a civil action, in the nature of a penalty, to be brought by the Commission in the Superior Court in the county in which such bridge is located or in the county in which the person, firm, or corporation is domiciled; if such person, firm, or corporation causing the damage shall be a nonresident or a foreign corporation, such action may be brought in the Superior Court of Wake County. (1931, c. 145, s. 16; 1933, c. 173, s. 17.)

§ 136-73. Duty as to bridges of millowners on, or persons ditching or enlarging ditches across, highways.—It shall be the duty of every owner of a water-mill which is situated on any public road, and also of every person who, for the purpose of draining his lands, or for any other purpose, shall construct any ditch, drain or canal across a public road, respectively, to keep at his own expense in good and sufficient repair all bridges that are or may be erected or attached to his milldam, immediately over which a public road may run; and also to erect and keep in repair all necessary bridges over such ditch, drain or canal on the highway, so long as they may be needed by reason of the continuance of said mill, or milldam, ditch, drain or canal. Nothing herein shall be construed to extend to any mill which was erected before the laying off of such road, unless the road was laid off by the request of the owner of the mill. The duty hereby imposed on the owner of the mill, and on the person cutting the drain or canal, shall continue on all subsequent owners of the mill, or other property, for the benefit of which the said ditch, drain or canal was cut. When any ditch or drain originally constructed across any public road, and bridged for the convenience and safety of the traveling public, has been or may hereafter be enlarged by the owner of adjacent lands to drain his lands, it shall be the duty of such owner to keep up and in repair all bridges crossing such ditch, drain or canal, and such charge shall be imposed upon all subsequent owners of the lands so drained: Provided, no public road or highway shall be cut except in accordance with provisions of § 136-93. (Rev., s. 2097; Code, ss. 2036; 1887, c. 261; R. C. c. 101, s. 24; 1817, c. 941, s. 1; 1846, c. 95, s. 1; 1881, c. 290; 1943, c. 410; C. S. 3795.) Editor's Note.—The 1943 amendment added the proviso at the end of the section.

Duty of One Constructing Ditch.—When the proprietor of lands, for the purpose of draining the same, shall construct a ditch, drain or canal across a public road, it shall be the duty of such owner to build a bridge over said ditch, drain, etc., and keep the same in repair. Nobles v. Langly, 66 N. C. 287.

Owners of land cutting ditches through a highway are bound to maintain bridges over them. Norfleet v. Cronwell, 64 N. C. 1, 16.

Priority of Road to Mill.—In an action for failing to keep a sufficient bridge over a canal cut across a public road, brought under this section, the plaintiff need not allege that the road was laid off before the mill was erected, in order to negative the proviso in that statute. Wadsworth v. Stewart, 97 N. C. 116, 2 S. E. 190.

Oversee Not Liable.—When a civil action was brought to recover damages alleged to have been incurred in consequence of his negligently permitting a bridge over a canal to become unsafe and in bad condition, it was competent for him to show that the canal had been dug across the bridge by the request of the owner of the milldam, and for the purpose of draining the same, and that a bridge had been built over the canal by the proprietor of the land, and had been kept up by him for several years. Nobles v. Langly, 66 N. C. 287.

§ 136-74. Liability for failure to maintain bridges; penalty and damages.—If any owner of a watermill situated on any public road, or any other person whose duty it is under this chapter to keep up and repair bridges built across any public road or across any ditch, drain, or canal, shall refuse or neglect to keep up and repair, or shall suffer to remain out of repair for the space of ten days, unless repair was prevented by unavoidable circumstances, any bridges which by law he may be required to keep up and repair, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be liable for such damages as may be sustained. (Rev., ss. 2703, 3772, 3773; Code, ss. 1086, 2037; R. C., c. 34, s. 40; c. 101, s. 25; 1817, c. 941, ss. 2, 3; 1876-7, cc. 90, 211; C. S. 3796.)

Editor's Note.—As to liability of the county commissioners, see Holnes v. Upton, 192 N. C. 179, 134 S. E. 401.

§ 136-75. Railroad companies to maintain bridges which they make necessary.—All railroad companies shall keep up, at their own expense, any bridge on or over public roads, when the building of such bridge was made necessary in establishing the railroad; and on failure to do so, shall forfeit and pay twenty-five dollars to any person who may sue for the same, and in addition thereto be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., ss. 2700, 3775; Code, c. 2054; R. C., c. 101, ss. 35; 1838, c. 5, ss. 1-4; C. S. 3797.)

§ 136-76. Counties to provide draws for vessels.—The county or counties which may erect bridges shall, by their boards of commissioners, provide and keep up draws in all such bridges, where the same may be necessary to allow the convenient passage of vessels. When any such draw shall be necessary to be erected for the passage of timber rafts, said draw may not exceed twenty feet in width. (Rev., s. 2698; Code, s. 2053; 1891, c. 168; R. C., c. 101, s. 34; C. S. 3798.)

Cross Reference.—As to liability of commissioners for neglect, see § 153-15.

It is within the discretion of the commissioners as to whether the draws in the bridges should turn both ways. Lenoir County v. Crabtree, 158 N. C. 357, 74 S. E. 105.

When Commissioner Excused for Failure to Provide Draws.—Where in an action for the penalty under § 153-15, for defendant's failure to provide a draw and navigable waterway, the evidence appeared that there had been a question whether the stream above the bridge was navigable, and that during six months or more of the year the water was insufficient to float boats and that the draw had been put in as soon as the question of the navigability was determined by the Engineering Department of the United States Government, it was proper for the trial judge to direct a verdict for the defendant. Staton v. Wimberly, 122 N. C. 107, 29 S. E. 63.

§ 136-77. Owner of bridge to provide draws on § 136-78. Railroad companies to provide draws.
—Railroad companies, erecting bridges across watercourses, shall attach and keep up good and sufficient draws, by which vessels may be allowed conveniently to pass. (Rev., s. 2705; Code, s. 2051; R. C., c. 101, s. 32; 1846, c. 51, ss. 1, 2; 1883-8, c. 5; C. S. 3803.)

§ 136-79. Solicitor to prosecute for injury to county bridges.—The solicitors of the superior court are authorized and directed to institute suits in the name of the state, in the counties wherein the injuries may be done, for the recovery of damages, against all persons who shall wilfully or negligently injure any public bridge belonging to any county or counties, by forcibly running any decked vessel, boat or raft against the same; by cutting trees or timber in the rivers or creeks above such bridges, or by any other manner or means whatsoever. In case the injury is done to two counties, the action may be brought in the name of the state, in the counties wherein the same is done. (Rev., s. 2705; Code, s. 2051; R. C., c. 101, s. 32; 1846, c. 51, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 3803.)

§ 136-80. Fastening vessels to bridges misdemeanor.—If any person shall fasten any decked vessel or steamer to any bridge that crosses a navigable stream for floatage of logs, causing damage to a county bridge, the action may be brought in the name of the state in the county where such injury is committed. (Rev., s. 2774; Code, s. 2050; 1887, c. 99, ss. 3, 4; R. C., c. 101, s. 31; R. S., c. 104; 1858-59, c. 58, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 3804.)

§ 136-81. Commission may maintain footways.
—The state highway and public works commission shall have the power to erect and maintain adequate footways over swamps, waters, chasms, gorges, gaps, or in any other places whatsoever, whenever said commission shall find that such footways are necessary, in connection with the use of the highways, for the safety and convenience of the public. (Rev., s. 2695; Code, s. 2029; R. C., c. 101, s. 17; 1817, c. 949, ss. 1, 2; 1921, c. 2; 1931, c. 145; 1933, c. 173, ss. 17; C. S. 3789.)

Art. 6. Ferries and Toll Bridges.

§ 136-82. State highway and public works commission to establish and maintain ferries.—The State Highway and Public Works Commission is vested with authority to provide for the establishment and maintenance of ferries connecting the parts of the State Highway System, whenever in its discretion the public good may so require, and to prescribe and collect such tolls therefor as may, in the discretion of the Commission, be expedient. To accomplish the purpose of this section said Commission is authorized to acquire, own, lease, charter or otherwise control all necessary vessels, boats, terminals or other facilities required for the proper operation of such ferries or to enter into contracts with persons, firms or corporations for the operation thereof and to pay therefor such reasonable sums as may in the opinion of said Commission represent the fair value of the public service rendered. (1927, c. 233; 1933, c. 172, s. 17.)

§ 136-83. Control of county public ferries and toll bridges transferred to State.—The State Highway and Public Works Commission shall succeed to all the rights and duties vested in the county commissioners or county highway commissions on the thirty-first day of March, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, with respect to the maintenance and operation of any public ferries or toll bridges forming links in the county highway systems: Provided, that where there is an outstanding indebtedness against any such ferry or bridge, all tolls collected shall be turned over to the County Treasurer to be applied to debt service until all indebtedness against such ferry or bridge has been discharged. (1931, c. 145, ss. 38; 1933, c. 172, s. 17.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1935 added the proviso at the end of this section.

§ 136-84. State highway and public works commission to fix charges.—The state highway and public works commission is directed, authorized, and empowered to fix and determine the charges to be made by all ferries and toll bridges connecting any state highway within the state of North Carolina, which said charges shall be uniform for the same service rendered. (Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 86, s. 3; 1933, c. 172, s. 17; C. S. 3821(a).)

§ 136-85. Extent of power to fix rates.—The state highway and public works commission is vested with all the rights, powers and authorities granted the utilities commission in the hearing and fixing of rates for ferries and toll bridges now vested in it by law. (Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 106, s. 2; 1933, c. 134, ss. 8; 1933, c. 172, ss. 17; 1941, c. 97; 1943, c. 410; C. S. 3821(b).)

Editor's Note.—The 1943 amendment substituted the words "ferries and toll bridges" for the words "any purpose."

§ 136-86. Existing rights of appeal conferred.—All rights given any firm, person or corporation in any hearing before the utilities commission in the fixing of rates by way of appeal shall exist in all cases of charges fixed by the state highway and public works commission under and by virtue of §§ 136-84 to 136-87. (Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 86, s. 2909)
§ 136-87. Making of excessive charges a misdemeanor; punishment.—Any person, firm or corporation who shall charge any sum greater than the amount fixed by the state highway and public works commission for crossing any ferry or toll bridge connecting any state highway within the state of North Carolina, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not exceeding the sum of one hundred dollars or imprisoned not exceeding six months, or both in the discretion of the court. (Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 88, s. 4; 1953, c. 172, s. 17; C. S. 3821(d).)

§ 136-88. Authority of County Commissioners with regard to ferries and toll bridges; rights and liabilities of owners of ferries or toll bridges not under supervision of Commission.—Subject to the provisions of §§ 136-67, 136-99, and 136-198, the boards of commissioners of the several counties are vested, in regard to the establishment, operation, maintenance, and supervision of ferries and toll bridges on public roads not under the supervision and control of the State Highway and Public Works Commission, with all the power and authority regarding ferries and toll bridges vested by law in county commissioners on the thirty-first day of March, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one. And the owners or operators of ferries or toll bridges not under the supervision and control of the State Highway and Public Works Commission shall be entitled to the same rights, powers, and privileges, and subject to the same duties, responsibilities and liabilities, to which owners or operators of ferries or toll bridges were entitled or were subject on the thirty-first day of March, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one.

§ 136-89. Safeguarding transportation of life; guard chains or gates.—Each and every person, firm or corporation, owning or operating a public ferry upon any sound, bay, river, creek or other stream, shall have securely affixed and attached thereto, at each end of the same, a detachable steel or iron chain, or in lieu thereof a steel or iron gate, and so affixed and arranged that the person or persons controlling the same shall be free to open or shut the ferry after such motor vehicle, buggy, cart, wagon, or other conveyance shall have been driven upon or shall enter upon the same; and shall be securely fastened or closed at each end and the ferry after such motor vehicle, buggy, cart, wagon, or other conveyance shall have been driven or shall have entered upon the same. And the said gates or chains shall remain closed or fastened, at each end of the ferry after it has entered upon the same. And the said gates or chains shall remain closed or fastened, at each end of the ferry after it has entered upon the same, or chains or gates shall remain closed or fastened, at each end of the ferry after it has entered upon the same. And the said gates or chains shall remain closed or fastened, at each end of the ferry after it has entered upon the same, or on the thirty-first day of March, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one. And the owners or operators of ferries or toll bridges shall fix and determine a standard weight or size of chain, and a standard size, type, or character of gate, for use by said ferries, leaving optional with the said owner or operator the use of chains or gates of other sizes.

Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (1923, c. 133; 1927, c. 283; 1931, c. 145, s. 38; 1933, c. 172, s. 17; C. S. 3825(a).)

§ 136-90. Obstructing highways and roads misdemeanor.—If any person shall willfully alter, change, or obstruct any highway, cartway, mill road or road leading to and from any church or other place of public worship, whether the right of way thereto be secured in the manner provided for by law or by purchase, donation or otherwise, such person shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined or imprisoned, or both, as a judge may think fit, and either of such persons shall himself or herself, in any manner interfere with the making of any road or cartway laid off according to law, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and punished by fine or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3784; Code, s. 2065; 1872-3, c. 189, s. 6; 1893, c. 383; C. S. 3789.)

Requisites of Indictment and Conviction.—An indictment for obstructing a neighborhood road leading to a church, which follows the words of this section, will be sustained—still, to warrant a conviction, it is essential that the indictment shall state an actual dedication, or of a laying out by public authority under section 136-71 to show a user for twenty years, and it must have been worked and kept in order by public authority. State v. Lucas, 124 N. C. 804, 32 S. E. 553. A special verdict, rendered on a trial for obstructing a road, is also defective in that it does not find that the user of the road by the public was as of right and Stewart, 91 N. C. 566.

Placing Nails in Highway.—Placing nails in the highway in order to puncture automobile tires is an obstruction within the meaning of section 136-90, State v. McNease, 172 S. E. 557.

Preventing Construction of Drainage Ditch.—Where a person obstructs an overseer in cutting a ditch across his land to drain a public road, he is not guilty of obstructing justice, unless there was a provision of taking private property for this purpose and the payment of just compensation therefor. State v. New, 130 N. C. 731, 41 S. E. 1033.

Highway Unknowingly Obstructed.—When a mill company gratuitously maintained a ball ground on its premises for its employees, without direction or supervision, it is manifest that the relation of licensor and licensee under pecuniary compensation existed between them, and it is not liable for injury caused by obstructing the highway by a rope intended to exclude spectators who did not pay for admission, there being no evidence that it had actual or implied knowledge thereof. Brooks v. Henrietta Mills, 182 N. C. 719, 110 S. E. 96.

Damages Allowed Also.—Damages are allowable for the obstruction of a highway. Tate v. Seaboard Air Line R. Co., 160 S. C. 868, 84 S. E. 890.

Obstruction of Permissive Cartway.—A way over the lands of another as an outlet to and from the lands of the one claiming it, cannot be established by permissive user, but by possession adverse to the true owner; and a way of this character which has not been established by the public authorities or used and kept up by the public for a sufficient length of time does not fall within the meaning of this section so as to make its obstruction punishable. State v. Norris, 174 N. C. 808, 93 S. E. 950.

Private Easement.—A reservation by deed to the grantor of a restricted easement across the lands conveyed, without description or locating it, and which has not since been located, the grantor and his family going across the lands conveyed whenever they choose, is sufficient proof of a public road to sustain an indictment under this section. State v. Haynie, 169 N. C. 277, 84 S. E. 385.

Private Roadway.—In a prosecution for unlawfully and willfully obstructing a public cartway, in the absence of evidence that the public was requested to obstruct the cartway, a per- son having the property was not a public user by the prosecuting witness for the purpose required by law to give him an easement, defendant could not be guilty where the obstruction was on the part of the road where he created his roadway. State v. Lucas, 124 N. C. 773, 32 S. E. 557.

Maximum Penalty Constitutional.—Where a defendant is convicted of obstructing a highway and of wanton injury to personal property by the same act, it is not in violation of maximum penalty for each offense. State v. Malpass, 189 N. C. 349, 127 S. E. 248.

Law Shortening Statute of Limitation.—A public-local law which shortens the period for the running of the statute of limitations to a time already expired and depriving the owner of lands of his right to stop the public use of a private right of way thereover, and declares the right of way a public one, is unconstitutional in taking the property of the owner without due process of law and in denying him the equal protection of the laws. State v. Haynie, 169 N. C. 277, 84 S. E. 385.

§ 136-91. Placing glass, etc., or injurious obstructions in road.—No person shall throw, place or deposit any glass or other sharp or cutting substance or any injurious obstruction in or upon any of the public highways of this state. Any person violating this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days. (1917, c. 140, ss. 18, 21; C. S. 2599, 2619.)

§ 136-92. Obstructing highway drains, misdemeanor.—Any person who shall obstruct any drains along or leading from any public road in the state shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and punished by a fine of not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars. (1917, c. 253; C. S. 3791.)

§ 136-93. Openings, structures, pipes, trees, and issuance of permits.—No opening or other interference whatsoever shall be made in any state road or highway other than streets not maintained by the state highway and public works commission in cities and towns, nor shall any structure be placed thereon, nor shall any structure which has been placed thereon be changed or removed except in accordance with a written permit from the state highway and public works commission or its duly authorized officers, who shall exercise complete and permanent control over such roads and highways. No state road or state highway, other than streets not maintained by the state highway and public works commission in cities and towns, shall be dug up for laying or placing pipes, conduits, sewers, wires, railways, or other objects, and no tree or shrub in or on any state road or state highway shall be planted, trimmed, or removed, and no obstruction placed thereon, without a written permit as hereinbefore provided for, and then only in accordance with the regulations of said commission or its duly authorized officers or employees; and the work shall be under the supervision and to the satisfaction of the commission or its officers or employees, and the entire expense of replacing the highway in as good condition as before shall be paid by the persons, firms, or corporations to whom the permit is given, or by whom the work is done: the commission, or its duly authorized officers, may, in its discretion, before granting a permit under the provisions of this section, require the applicant to file a satisfactory bond, payable to the state of North Carolina, in such an amount as may be deemed sufficient by the commission or its duly authorized officers, conditioned upon the execution of said work in accordance with the requirements of this section by the person, firm, or corporation granted such permit. Any person making any opening in a state road or State highway, or placing any structure thereon, or changing or removing any structure thereon without obtaining a written permit as herein provided, or not in compliance with the terms of such permit, or otherwise violating the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor: Provided, this section shall not apply to railroad crossings. The railroads shall keep up said crossings as now provided by law. (1921, c. 2, s. 13; 1923, c. 160, s. 2; 1933, c. 172, s. 17; 1943, c. 410; C. S. 3846(u).)

Editor's Note.—The 1943 amendment inserted in the first and second sentences the words "not maintained by the state highway and public works commission."

§ 136-94. Gates projecting over rights-of-way forbidden.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to erect, maintain or operate upon his own land, or the land of another, any farm gate or other gate which, when opened, will project over the right-of-way of any state highway.

Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be fined not more than fifty dollars or imprisoned not more than thirty days, in the discretion of the court. (1927, c. 130.)

§ 136-95. Water must be diverted from public road by ditch or drain.—When any ditch or drain is cut in such a way as to turn water into any public road, the person cutting the ditch or drain shall be compelled to cut another ditch or drain as may be necessary to take the water from the road. (Rev., s. 2697; Code, s. 2036; C. S. 3790.)

§ 136-96. Road or street not used within 20 years after dedication deemed abandoned; declaration of withdrawal recorded; defunct corporations.—Every strip, piece, or parcel of land which shall have been at any time dedicated to public use as a road, highway, street, avenue, or for any other purpose whatsoever, by any deed, grant, map, plat, or other means, which shall not have been actually opened and used by the public within twenty years from and after the dedication thereof, shall be thereupon conclusively presumed to have been abandoned by the public for the purposes for which same shall have been dedicated; and no person shall have any right, or cause of action therefor, to enforce any public or private easement therein, unless such right shall have been asserted within two years from and after March 8, 1921: Provided, that no abandonment of any such public or private right or easement shall be presumed until the dedication has been withdrawn by the public; and all rights accruing by virtue of any dedication shall be vested in those persons, firms, or corporations owning lots or parcels of land adjacent thereto, subject to the provisions set out hereinbefore in this section. The provisions of this section shall have no application in any case where the continued use of any strip of land dedicated for street or highway [ 811 ]
The streets in question were dedicated to the public by the mayor. Home Real Estate Loan, etc., Co. v. Oaks, 217 N. C. 32, 6 S. E. (2d) 817.

Effect of Withdrawal before Acceptance.—The prospective dedication of streets through reference to a plat will not bind the city, nor the general public, until the streets are opened and used by the public even for a part of the twenty years prior to the institution of this action. Sheets v. Walsh, 217 N. C. 32, 6 S. E. (2d) 817.

Use by Public Prevents Withdrawal.—Where a street is dedicated by a plat, but the plat is not opened or used at any time, and no person asserted any public or private easement therein within two years from the passage of this act, or at any other time. The streets in question were never actually opened or used by the public between the passing of the act and the commencement of this suit. Sheets v. Walsh, 217 N. C. 32, 6 S. E. (2d) 817.

Declaration of Withdrawal Must Be Filed.—When certain streets and alleys have been dedicated in reference to a plat and to the public by the sale of lots within two years from the passage of this act, no future dedication of the same streets and alleys by the owner, no matter how the dedication is made, subsequent to this act, will be permitted, except upon the owner's showing that the streets were opened and used by the public within two years after the dedication. Wilkins v. Burton, 220 N. C. 13, 16 S. E. (2d) 406.

§ 136-97. Responsibility of counties for upkeep, etc., terminated; liability of commission for damage on state highway system.—The board of county commissioners or other road-governing bodies of the various counties in the state are hereby relieved of all responsibility or liability for the upkeep or maintenance of any of the roads or bridges thereon constituting the state highway system, after the same shall have been taken over, and the control thereof assumed by the state highway and public works commission. The state highway and public works commission as a commission and the individual members thereof, shall not be liable for any damage sustained by any person, firm, or corporation on the state highway system, except for wanton and corrupt negligence. (1921, c. 2, s. 50; 1933, c. 172, s. 17; C. S. 3846(dd).)

Failure to Remove Obstruction after Notice.—In an action to recover for injuries sustained when the car in which plaintiffs were riding struck a limb lying on a dirt highway, it was shown that defendant was a divisional engineer of the state highway and public works commission, that the highway in question was embraced within his division, that defendant was given notice that the limb was lying across the highway and that the accident occurred some six hours after such notice. It was held that defendant's motion to nonsuit was properly allowed, since, if defendant's failure to remove the obstruction was due to a ministerial duty involving the exercise of discretion, there was neither allegation nor evidence of corruption or malice, and if such duty was a ministerial duty it was of a public nature imposed entirely for the public benefit, and there was neither allegation nor proof that this section provided for personal liability. Wilkins v. Burton, 220 N. C. 13, 16 S. E. (2d) 406.

Art. 1. State Rural Rehabilitation Law.
§ 137-1. Title of article.—This article shall be known as the "State Rural Rehabilitation Law." (1935, c. 459, s. 1.)

§ 137-2. Declaration of necessity for subsistence homesteads; agencies established to effect purpose.—It is hereby declared that it is necessary in the public interest to make provision for the establishment of small individual farms or subsistence homesteads with the necessary dwellings and other structures in planned rural communities, together with livestock, farm implements, equipment and initial materials and supplies to enable success of the applicant and his family, and that the providing of such subsistence homesteads or farm homes and operating facilities in community settlements, being now otherwise impossible, it is essential that provision be made for the investment of private and public funds at low interest rates, the acquisition at fair prices of adequate parcels of land (not classed as sub-marginal lands) the construction of new agricultural facilities, the clearing, grading, draining of lands, and building of planned rural communities under public supervision in accord with proper standards of sanitation and safety at a cost which will permit their use or sale at prices which families of low income and/or families of agricultural experience or ability can afford to pay. Therefore, there are created and established the agencies and instrumentalities hereinafter prescribed which are declared to be the agencies and instrumentalities of the State of North Carolina and/or the agencies and instrumentalities of the United States government when and if designated by it as such, for the purpose of attaining the ends herein recited and their necessity in the public interest. (1935, c. 459, s. 2.)

§ 137-3. State board of rural rehabilitation created; appointment and terms of members; vacancies; compensation.—There is hereby created a state board of rural rehabilitation of the State of North Carolina, which will consist of three (3) members, to be appointed by the governor. Two of the three members shall be appointed for two years, and one for four years, and at the expiration of these terms their successors shall be appointed for a term of four years. All vacancies which may occur for any unexpired term shall be filled by the governor. The members of the board shall receive no salary, but shall be entitled to a per diem of not in excess of $10.00 when attending meetings of the corporation and the necessary traveling and other expenses incurred in the discharge of their duties, which shall be paid by the corporation. (1935, c. 459, s. 4.)

§ 137-4. Officers and employees.—The members of the board shall choose from among their number a chairman, and the board may appoint such other officers and employees, including a secretary, as it may require, for the performance of its duties, and shall fix and determine their qualifications, duties and salaries. (1935, c. 459, s. 4.)

§ 137-5. Submission to board of projects; community corporations; supervision of board form trusts of such corporations; naming of trustee; duties; disbursement of funds.—No rural community project proposed by a corporation incorporated under this article shall be undertaken without the approval of the board.
(a) There shall be submitted to the board a community plan and financial plan in such forms and with such assurances as the board may prescribe to raise the actual cost of the lands and projected improvements and operating facilities by subscriptions to or the sale of the stock, income debentures, and/or mortgage bonds of such corporation. Whenever reference is made in this article to cost of projects or of buildings and improvements in projects, such cost shall include the necessary personal property in farm units and community buildings, charges for financing and supervision approved by the board, and carrying charges during construction required in the project, including interest on borrowed and, where approved by the board, on invested capital.
(b) The corporation agrees to accept a designee of the board of rural rehabilitation as a member of the board of directors of said corporation, which designee may be a representative of the United States or of the principal creditor of said corporation.
(c) If required by the board, the corporation shall deposit all monies received by it as proceeds of its mortgage bonds, notes, income debentures, or stock, with a trustee which shall be a banking corporation authorized to do business in the State of North Carolina and to perform trust functions, and such trustee shall receive such monies and make payment therefrom for the acquisition of land, the construction of improvements and other items entering into cost of land improvements and the personal property and supervision necessary for successful independent farm units and rural community centers, upon presentation of draft, check, or order signed by a proper officer of the corporation and, if required by the board, countersigned by the said board or a person designated by it for said purpose. Any funds remaining in the custody of said trustee after the completion of the said project and payment or arrangement in a manner satisfactory to the board for payment in full thereof shall be paid to the corporation. (1935, c. 459, s. 5.)

§ 137-6. Investigation into affairs of corporations; judicial powers. — The board shall have power to investigate into the affairs of limited dividend and/or non-dividend companies incorporated under this article, and into the dealings, transactions, or relationships of such companies with other persons. Any of the investigations provided for in this article may be conducted by the board or by a committee to be appointed by the board consisting of one or more members of the board. Each member of the board or a committee thereof shall have power to administer oaths, take affidavits, and to make personal inspections of all places to which their duties relate. The board or a committee thereof shall have power to subpoena and require the attendance of witnesses and the production of books and papers relating to the investigations and inquiries authorized in this article, and to examine them in relation to any matter it has power to investigate, and to issue commissions for the examination of witnesses who are out of the State or unable to attend before the board or excused from attendance. (1935, c. 459, s. 6.)

§ 137-7. Study of rural conditions; programs for betterment; dissemination of information; approval of community projects; co-operation with local officials. — The board is hereby empowered to (a) study rural conditions and farm tenancy throughout the State, to determine in what areas unhealthful and insanitary conditions constitute a menace to health, and reasonable comfort of the citizens of the State; (b) prepare programs for correcting such conditions as may be relieved by the purposes of this article; (c) collect and distribute information relating to rural development; (d) recommend and approve the areas within which or adjacent to which the construction of rural community projects by limited dividend and/or non-dividend companies may be undertaken, and (e) co-operate with local officials and planning commissions or similar bodies in the development of projects they may have under consideration. (1935, c. 459, s. 7.)

§ 137-8. Consolidation of projects. — The board may permit the consolidation of two or more approved projects or the extension or amendment of any approved project, or the consolidation of any approved project with a proposed project. In any of these events the consolidation project shall be treated as an original project and an application shall be submitted as in the case of an original project, and sale prices may be averaged throughout the consolidated or extended project. The board may by approval of its charter likewise permit any limited dividend and/or non-dividend corporation to organize and operate one or more rural community projects which may be organized and operated independently of each other under such by-laws, rules and regulations authorized by the board, not inconsistent with the provisions of this article, as may be necessary for the proper conduct of the affairs of the corporation. (1935, c. 459, s. 8.)

§ 137-9. Other powers of board. — In pursuance of its power and authority to supervise and regulate the operations of limited dividend and/or non-dividend companies incorporated under this article the board may in its discretion: (a) Order all such corporations to do such acts as may be necessary to comply with the provisions of the law, the rules and regulations adopted by the board, or by the terms of any project approved by the board for protection of its security holders or creditors, or to refrain from doing any acts in violation thereof. (b) Examine all such corporations and keep informed as to their general condition, their capitalization, and the manner in which their property is constructed, operated, or managed and sold. (c) Either through its members or agents duly authorized by it, enter in or upon and inspect the property, equipment, buildings, plants, offices, apparatus, and devices of any such corporation, examine all books, contracts, records, documents, and papers of any such corporation, and by subpoena duces tecum compel the production thereof. (d) In its discretion prescribe uniform methods and forms of keeping accounts, records, and books to be observed by such companies and to prescribe by order accounts in which particular outlays and receipts shall be entered, charged, or credited. (e) Require every such corporation to file with the board an annual report setting forth such information as the board may require, verified by the oath of the president and general manager or receiver, if any, thereof, or by the person required to file the same. Such report shall be in the form, cover the period, and be filed at the time prescribed by the board. (f) From time to time make, amend, and repeal rules and regulations for carrying into effect the provisions of this article. (1935, c. 459, s. 9.)

§ 137-10. Price fixing for farms sold; determination of payments made by corporations; dividends; sinking funds. — The board shall fix the maximum and minimum purchase price to be charged for the farms sold by such corporation. Such minimum purchase price shall be determined upon the basis of the actual final cost of the project so as to secure, together with all other income of the corporation, a sufficient income to meet all necessary payments to be made by said corporations, as herein prescribed, and such purchase prices shall be subject to revision by the board from time to time. Chapter 139. Soil Conservation Districts.

Sec. 139-1. Title of chapter.—This chapter may be known and cited as the Soil Conservation Districts Law. (1937, c. 393, s. 1.)

Sec. 139-2. Legislative determinations, and declaration of policy.— It is hereby declared, as a matter of legislative determination—

A. The Condition.—The farm, forest and grazing lands of the state of North Carolina are among the basic assets of the state and the preservation of these lands is necessary to protect and promote the health, safety, and general welfare of its people; improper land-use practices have caused and have contributed to, and are now causing and contributing to, a progressively more serious erosion of the farm and grazing lands of this state by wind and water; the breaking of natural grass, plant, and forest cover has interfered with the natural factors of soil stabilization, causing loosening of soil and exhaustion of humus, and developing a soil condition that favors erosion; the topsoil is being blown and washed out of fields and pastures; there has been an accelerated washing of sloping fields; these processes of erosion by wind and water speed up with removal of absorptive topsoil, causing exposure of less absorptive and less protective but more erosive subsoil; failure by any land occupier to conserve the soil and control erosion upon his lands causes a washing and blowing of soil and water from his land into other lands and makes the conservation of soil and control of erosion on such other lands difficult or impossible.

B. The Consequences.—The consequences of such soil erosion in the form of soil-blowing and soil-washing are the silting and sedimentation of stream channels, reservoirs, dams, ditches, and harbors; the loss of fertile soil material in dust storms; the piling up of soil on lower slopes, and its deposit over alluvial plains; the reduction in productivity or outright ruin of rich bottom lands by overwash of poor subsoil material, sand, and gravel swept out of the hills; deterioration of soil and its fertility, deterioration of crops grown thereon, and declining acre yields despite development of scientific processes for increasing such yields; loss of soil and water which causes destruction of food and cover for wildlife; a blowing and washing of soil into streams which silts under any circumstances depart, would be known to every one. West v. Reynolds, 94 N. C. 333, 336.

Effect of unconditional Pardon.— Fees due officers of the court are vested rights by law, and are not discharged when the defendant receives an unconditional pardon, after conviction and sentence, from the Governor of the State. State v. Mooney, 74 N. C. 98, 99.

Supreme Court Clerk's Fee for Docketing Case. — The appellant's undertaking does not cover the fee of the clerk of the Supreme Court in docketing the case, and the clerk is in the exercise of his right in refusing to docket the transcript where he has demanded the prescribed fee in advance and its payment has been refused. Dunn v. Clerk's Office, 176 N. C. 50, 96 S. E. 738.

Right of Clerk of Superior Court. — The clerk had the right, even under the common law, as he has under the statute, to demand his fees in advance. West v. Reynolds, 94 N. C. 333; Clerk v. Wagoner, 26 N. C. 131; Andrews v. Whissant, 83 N. C. 446; Long v. Walker, 102 N. C. 90, 97, 10 S. E. 885; Martin v. Chesten, 75 N. C. 96; Ballard v. Gay, 108 N. C. 544, 545, 13 S. E. 207.

Same.—In Criminal Actions.—In criminal actions, the clerk of the superior court cannot require that the costs of transcript upon appeal shall be paid in advance, although the defendant did not appear for pauperis, so certiorari will issue directing the clerk to send up the transcript which he holds for such prepayment. State v. Nash, 109 N. C. 822, 13 S. E. 733.

Same.—Section 1-305.—This section and section 1-305 providing that clerk shall issue execution on all judgments rendered in their respective courts, within six weeks of the rendition thereof, or be amerced in the sum of one hundred dollars, must be construed together, it follows that clerks of the superior court will not incur the penalty prescribed in section 1-305 unless the plaintiff pays or tenders him his fees for that service. Bank v. Bobbitt, 111 N. C. 194, 16 S. E. 169.

Register May Refuse to Function.—The register has the right to refuse to treat a mortgage as delivered to him for that service. Bank v. Claus, 114 N. C. 483, 14 S. E. 169.

Legislative Power.—The Legislature may reduce or increase the salaries of such officers as are not protected by the constitution, during their term of office. Cotten v. Ellis, 52 N. C. 545.

Taxation of Salary.—But a State cannot tax the salary of a State officer whose office is created by the Constitution. Pursell v. Page, 132 N. C. 125, 45 S. E. 534. And this applies to the salaries of judges. State Const. Art. IV, § 18, and notes thereto.

Improperly Collected Fee Subject to Recovery.—Where a person is compelled to pay a public officer fees which he had no right to claim, in order to induce him to do his duty such fees may be recovered back. Robinson v. Ezell, 72 N. C. 231.

§ 138-3. Compensation limited to that fixed by law. — No officer or employee of the state shall receive any compensation other than the salaries fixed by law, except as provided by way of fees or by special appropriation or from any departmental fund. (1907, c. 830, s. 1; 1907, c. 994, s. 1; 1925, c. 128, s. 1; 1935, c. 128, s. 1; C. S. 3850.) over spawning beds, and destroys water plants, diminishing the food supply of fish; a diminishing of the underground water reserve, which causes water shortages, intensifies periods of drought, and causes crop failures; an increase in the speed and volume of rainfall run-off, causing severe and increasing floods, which bring suffering, disease, and death; impoverishment of families attempting to farm eroding and eroded lands; damage to roads, highways, railways, farm buildings, and other property from floods and from dust storms; and losses in navigation, hydro-electric power, municipal water supply, drainage developments, farming, and grazing.

C. The Appropriate Corrective Methods.—To conserve soil resources and control and prevent soil erosion, it is necessary that land-use practices contributing to soil wastage and soil erosion be discouraged and discontinued, and appropriate soil-conserving land-use practices be adopted and carried out. Among the procedures necessary for widespread adoption, are the carrying on of engineering operations such as the construction of terraces, terrace outlets, check-dams, dikes, ponds, ditches, and the like; the utilization of strip cropping, lister furrowing, contour furrowing, and contour furrowing; land irrigation; seeding and planting of waste, sloping, abandoned, or eroded lands with water-conserving and erosion-preventing plants, trees, and grasses; forestation and reforestation; rotation of crops; soil stabilization with trees, grasses, legumes, and other thick-growing, soil-holding crops; the addition of soil amendments; manurial materials, and fertilizers for the correction of soil deficiencies and/or to promote increased growth of soil-protecting crops; retarding of run-off by increasing the absorption of rainfall; and retirement from cultivation of steep, highly erosive areas and areas now badly gullied or otherwise eroded.

D. Declaration of Policy.—It is hereby declared to be the policy of the legislature to provide for the conservation of the soil and soil resources of this state, and for the control and prevention of soil erosion, and thereby to preserve natural resources, control floods, prevent impairment of dams and reservoirs, assist in maintaining the navigability of rivers and harbors, preserve wildlife, protect the tax base, protect public lands, and protect and promote the health, safety, and general welfare of the people of this state. (1937, c. 393, s. 2.)

§ 139-4. State soil conservation committee. —A. There is hereby established to serve as an agency of the state and to perform the functions conferred upon it in this chapter, the state soil conservation committee. The following shall serve, ex-officio, as members of the committee:

The director of the state agricultural extension service, the director of the state agricultural experiment station, and the state forester. The committee may invite the secretary of agriculture of the United States of America to appoint one person who is a resident of North Carolina to serve with the above-mentioned members as a member of the committee. The committee in cooperation with the North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering in the state shall develop a program for soil conservation and for other purposes as provided for in this chapter, and shall keep a record of its official actions, shall adopt a seal, which seal shall be judicially noticed, and may perform such acts, hold such public hearings, and promulgate such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the execution of its functions under this chapter.

D. In addition to the duties and powers hereinafter conferred upon the state soil conservation committee, it shall have the following duties and powers:

(1) To offer such assistance as may be appropriate to the supervisors of soil conservation districts, organized as provided hereinafter, in the carrying out of any of their powers and programs.

(2) To keep the supervisors of each of the several districts organized under the provisions of this chapter informed of the activities and experience of all other districts organized hereunder, and to facilitate an interchange of advice and experience between such districts and cooperation between them.

(3) To coordinate the programs of the several soil conservation districts organized hereunder so far as this may be done by advice and consultation.

(4) To secure the cooperation and assistance of the United States and any of its agencies, and of agencies of this state, in the work of such districts.

(5) To disseminate information throughout the state concerning the activities and programs of the soil conservation districts organized hereunder, and to encourage the formation of such districts in areas where their organization is desirable. (1937, c. 393, s. 4.)

§ 189-5. Creation of soil conservation districts.

—A. Any twenty-five occupiers of land lying within the limits of the territory proposed to be organized into a district may file a petition with the state soil conservation committee asking that a soil conservation district be organized in function in the territory described in the petition. Such petition shall set forth:

(1) The proposed name of said district.

(2) That there is need, in the interest of the public health, safety, and welfare, for a soil conservation district to function in the territory described in the petition.

(3) A description of the territory proposed to be organized as a district, which description shall not be required to be given by metes and bounds or by legal subdivisions, but shall be deemed sufficient if generally accurate.

(4) A request that the state soil conservation committee duly define the boundaries for such district; that a referendum be held within the territory so defined on the question of the creation of a soil conservation district in such territory; and that the committee determine that such a district be created.

Where more than one petition is filed covering parts of the same territory, the state soil conservation committee may consolidate all or any such petitions.

B. Within thirty days after such a petition has been filed with the state soil conservation committee, it shall cause due notice to be given of a proposed hearing upon the question of the desirability and necessity, in the interest of the public health, safety, and welfare, of the creation of such district, upon the question of the appropriate boundaries to be assigned to such district, upon the propriety of the petition and other proceedings taken under this chapter, and upon all questions relevant to such inquiries. All occupiers of land within the limits of the territory described in the petition, and of lands within any territory considered for addition to such described territory, and all other interested parties, shall have the right to attend such hearings and to be heard. If it shall appear upon the hearing that it may be desirable to include within the proposed district territory outside the area within which due notice of the hearing has been given, the hearing shall be adjourned and due notice of further hearing shall be given throughout the entire area considered for inclusion of the district, and such further hearing held. After such hearing, if the committee shall determine, upon the facts presented at such hearing and upon such other relevant facts and information as may be available, that there is need, in the interest of the public health, safety and welfare, for a soil conservation district to function in the territory considered at the hearing, it shall make and record such determination, and shall define, by metes and bounds or by legal subdivisions, the boundaries of such district. In making such determination and in defining such boundaries, the committee shall give due weight and consideration to the topography or the area considered and of the state and composition of soils therein, the distribution of erosion, the prevailing land-use practices, the desirability and necessity of including within the boundaries the particular lands under consideration and the benefits such lands may receive from being included within such boundaries, the relation of the proposed area to existing watersheds and agricultural regions, and to other soil conservation districts already organized or proposed for organization under the provisions of this chapter, and such other physical, geographical and economic factors as are relevant, having due regard to the legislative determination set forth in § 139-2. The territory so determined shall be eligible to vote.

If the committee shall determine after such hearing, after due consideration of the said relevant facts, that there is no need for a soil conservation district to function in the territory considered at the hearing, it shall make and record such determination and shall deny the petition. After six months shall have expired from the date of the denial of any such petition, subsequent petitions covering the same or substantially the same territory may be filed as aforesaid and new hearings held and determinations made thereon.

C. After the committee has made and recorded a determination that there is need, in the interest of the public health, safety and welfare for the organization of a district in a particular territory and has defined the boundaries thereof, it shall consider the question whether the operation of a district within such boundaries with the powers conferred upon soil conservation districts in this chapter is administratively practicable and feasible. To assist the committee in the determination of such administrative practicability and feasibility, it shall be the duty of the committee, within a reasonable time after entry of the finding that there is need for the organization of the proposed district and the determination of the boundaries thereof, to hold a referendum within the proposed district upon the proposition of the creation of the district, and to cause due notice of such referendum to be given. The question shall be submitted by ballots upon which the words "For creation of a soil conservation district of the lands below described and lying in the county (ies) of ......... and .........," and "Against creation of a soil conservation district of the lands below described and lying in the county (ies) of ......... and .........," shall appear with a square before each proposition and a direction to insert an X mark in the square before one or the other of said propositions as the voter may favor or oppose creation of such district. The ballot shall set forth the boundaries of such proposed district as determined by the committee. All occupiers of land lying within the boundaries of the territory, as determined by the state soil conservation committee, shall be eligible to vote in such referendum. Only such land occupiers shall be eligible to vote such boundaries.

D. The committee shall pay all expenses for the issuance of such notices and the conduct of such hearings and referenda, and shall supervise the conduct of such hearings and referenda. It shall issue appropriate regulations governing the conduct of such hearings and referenda, and providing for the registration prior to the date of the date of the referendum of all eligible voters, or prescribing some other appropriate procedure for the determination of those eligible as voters in such referendum. No informality in the conduct of such referendum or in any matters relating thereto shall invalidate said referendum or the result thereof if notice thereof shall have been given substantially as herein provided and said referendum shall have been fairly conducted.

E. The committee shall publish the results of such referendum and shall thereupon consider and determine whether the operation of the district within the defined boundaries is administratively practicable and feasible. If the committee shall determine that the operation of such district is administratively practicable and feasible, it shall record such determination and deny the petition. If the committee shall determine that the operation of such district is administratively practicable and feasible, it shall record such in the manner hereinafter provided. In making such determination the committee shall give due regard and weight to the attitudes of the occupiers of lands lying within the defined boundaries, the number of land occupiers eligible to vote in such referendum who have voted, the proportion of the votes cast in such referendum in favor of the creation of the district to the total number of votes cast, the approximate wealth and income of the land occupiers of the proposed district, the probable expense of carrying on erosion control operations within such district, and such other economic and social factors as may be relevant to such determination, having due regard to the legislative determination set forth in § 139-2: Provided, however, that the committee shall not have authority to determine that the operations of the proposed district within the defined boundaries is administratively practicable and feasible unless at least a majority of the votes cast in the referendum upon the proposition of creation of the district shall have been cast in favor of the creation of such district.

F. If the committee shall determine that the operation of the proposed district within the defined boundaries is administratively practicable and feasible, it shall appoint two supervisors as provided hereinafter, as the governing body of the district. Such district shall be a governmental subdivision of this state and a public body corporate and politic, upon the taking of the following proceedings:

The two appointed supervisors shall present to the secretary of state an application signed by them which shall set forth (and such application need contain no detail other than the mere recitals): (1) that a petition for the creation of the district was filed with the state soil conservation committee pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, and that the proceedings specified in this chapter were taken pursuant to such petition; that the application is being filed in order to complete the organization of the district as a governmental subdivision and public body, corporate and politic under this chapter; and that the committee has appointed them as supervisors; (2) the name and official residence of each of the supervisors, together with a certified copy of the appointment evidencing their right to office; (3) the term of office of each of the supervisors; (4) the name which is proposed for the district; and (5) the location of... the principal office of the supervisors of the district. The application shall be subscribed and sworn to by each of the said supervisors before an officer authorized by the laws of this state to take and certify oaths, who shall certify upon the application that he personally knows the supervisors and knows them to be the officers as affirmed in the application, and that each has subscribed thereunto in the officer's presence. The application shall be accompanied by a statement by the state soil conservation committee, which shall certify (and such statement need contain no detail other than the mere recitals) that a petition was filed, notice issued, and hearing held as aforesaid, that the committee did duly determine that there is need, in the interest of the public health, safety and welfare, for a soil conservation district to function in the proposed territory and did define the boundaries thereof; that notice was given and a referendum held on the question of the creation of such district, and that the result of such referendum showed a majority of the votes cast in such referendum to be in favor of the creation of the district; that thereafter the committee did duly determine that the operation of the proposed district is administratively practicable and feasible. The said statement shall set forth the boundaries of the district as they have been defined by the committee.

The secretary of state shall examine the application and statement and, if he finds that the name proposed for the district is not identical with that of any other soil conservation district of this state or so nearly similar as to lead to confusion or uncertainty, he shall receive and file them and shall record them in an appropriate book of record in his office. If the secretary of state shall find that the name proposed for the district is identical with that of any other soil conservation district of this state, or so nearly similar as to lead to confusion and uncertainty, he shall certify such fact to the state soil conservation committee, which shall thereupon submit to the secretary of state a new name for the said district, which shall not be subject to such defects. Upon receipt of such new name, free of such defects, the secretary of state shall record the application and statement, with the name so modified, in an appropriate book of record in his office. When the application and statement have been made, filed and recorded, as herein provided, the district shall constitute a governmental subdivision of this state and a public body corporate and politic. The secretary of state shall make and issue to the said supervisors a certificate, under the seal of the state, of the due organization of the said district, and shall record such certificate with the application and statement. The boundaries of such district shall include the territory as determined by the state soil conservation committee as aforesaid, but in no event shall they include any area included within the boundaries of any other soil conservation district organized under the provisions of this chapter.

G. After six months shall have expired from the date of entry of a determination by the state soil conservation committee that operation of a proposed district is not administratively practicable and feasible, and denial of a petition pursuant to such determination, subsequent petitions may be filed as aforesaid, and action taken thereon in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

H. Petitions for including additional territory within an existing district may be filed with the state soil conservation committee, and the proceedings herein provided for in the case of petitions to organize a district shall be observed in the case of petitions for such inclusions. The committee shall prescribe the form for such petitions, which shall be as nearly as may be in the form prescribed in this chapter for petitions to organize a district. Where the total number of land occupiers in the area proposed for inclusion shall be less than twenty-five, the petition may be filed when signed by two-thirds of the occupiers of such area, and in such case no referendum need be held. In referenda for such inclusion, all occupiers of land lying within the proposed additional area shall be eligible to vote.

I. In any suit, action or proceeding involving the validity or enforcement of, or relating to any contract, proceeding or action of the district, the district shall be deemed to have been established in accordance with the provisions of this chapter upon proof of the issuance of the aforesaid certificate by the secretary of state. A copy of such certificate duly certified by the secretary of state shall be admissible in evidence in any such suit, action, or proceeding and shall be proof of the filing and contents thereof. (1937, c. 393, s. 5.)

§ 139-6. Election of three supervisors for each district. — Within thirty days after the date of issuance by the secretary of state of a certificate of organization of a soil conservation district, nominating petitions may be filed with the state soil conservation committee to nominate candidates for supervisors of such district. The committee shall have authority to extend the time within which nominating petitions may be filed. No such nominating petitions shall be accepted by the committee unless it shall be subscribed by twenty-five or more qualified voters of such district. Qualified voters may sign more than one such nominating petition to nominate more than one candidate for supervisor. The committee shall give due notice of an election to be held for the election of three supervisors for the district. The names of all nominees on behalf of whom such nominating petitions have been filed within the time herein designated, shall appear, arranged in the alphabetical order of the surnames, upon ballots, with a square before each name and a direction to insert an X mark in the square before any three names to indicate the voter's preference. All qualified voters residing within the district shall be eligible to vote in such election. The three candidates who shall receive the largest number, respectively, of the votes cast in such election shall be elected supervisors for such district. The committee shall pay all the expenses of such election, shall supervise the conduct thereof, shall prescribe regulations governing the conduct of such election and the determination of the eligibility of voters therein, and shall publish the results thereof. (1937, c. 393, s. 6.)

§ 139-7. Appointment, qualifications and tenure of supervisors. — The governing body of the district shall consist of five supervisors, elected or appointed as provided hereinabove. The two supervisors appointed by the committee shall be persons who are by training and experience qualifi-§ 139-8. Powers of districts and supervisors.

—A soil conservation district organized under the provisions of this chapter shall constitute a governmental subdivision of this state, and a public body corporate and politic, exercising public powers, and such district, and the supervisors thereof, shall have the following powers in addition to others granted in other sections of this chapter:

1. To carry out preventive and control measures within the district including, but not limited to, engineering operations, methods of cultivation, the growing vegetation, changes in use of land, and the measures listed in subsection C of § 139-8, on lands owned or controlled by this state or any of its agencies, with the co-operation of the agency administering and having jurisdiction thereof, and on any other lands within the district upon obtaining the consent of the occupier of such lands or the necessary rights or interest in such lands.

2. To cooperate, or enter into agreements with, and within the limits of appropriations duly made available to it by law, to furnish financial or other aid to, any agency, governmental or otherwise, or any occupier of lands within the district, in the carrying on of erosion-control and prevention operations within the district, subject to such conditions as the supervisors may deem necessary to advance the purposes of this chapter.

3. To obtain options upon and to acquire, by purchase, exchange, lease, gift, grant, bequest, devise, or otherwise, any property, real or personal, or rights or interest therein; to maintain, administer, and improve any properties acquired, to receive income from such properties and to expend such income in carrying out the purposes and provisions of this chapter; and to sell, lease, or otherwise dispose of any of its property or interest therein in furtherance of the purposes and provisions of this chapter.

4. To make available, on such terms as it shall prescribe, to land occupiers within the district, agricultural and engineering machinery and equipment, fertilizers, seeds, and seedlings, and such other material or equipment, as will assist such land occupiers to carry on operations upon their lands for the conservation of soil resources and for the prevention and control of soil erosion.

5. To construct, improve, and maintain such structures as may be necessary or convenient for the performance of any of the operations authorized in this chapter.

6. To develop comprehensive plans for the conservation of soil resources and for the control and prevention of soil erosion within the district, which plans shall specify in such detail as may be possible, the acts, procedures, performances, and avoidance which are necessary for the effectuation of such plans, including the specification of engineering operations, methods of cultivation, the growing of vegetation, cropping programs, tillage practices, and changes in use of land; and to bring such plans and information to the attention of occupiers of lands within the district.

7. To act as agent for the United States, or any of its agencies, in connection with the acquisition, construction, operation, or administration of any soil conservation, erosion-control, or erosion-prevention project within its boundaries; to accept donations, gifts, and contributions in money, services, materials, or otherwise, from the supervisory boards of the district, as constituted by law.
United States or any of its agencies, or from this state or any of its agencies, and to use or expend such moneys, services, materials, or other contributions in carrying on its operations.

(8) To sue and be sued in the name of the district; to have a seal, which seal shall be judicially noticed; to have perpetual succession unless terminated as hereinafter provided; to make and execute contracts and other instruments, necessary or convenient to the exercise of its powers; to make, and from time to time amend and repeal, rules and regulations not inconsistent with this chapter, to carry into effect its purposes and powers.

(9) As a condition to the extending of any benefits under this chapter to, or the performance of work upon, any lands not owned or controlled by this state or any of its agencies, the supervisors may require contributions in money, services, materials, or otherwise to any operations conferring such benefits, and may require land occupiers to enter into and perform such agreements or covenants as to the permanent use of such lands as will tend to prevent or control erosion thereon.

(10) No provisions with respect to the acquisition, operation, or disposition of property by other public bodies shall be applicable to a district organized hereunder unless the legislature shall specifically so state. (1937, c. 393, s. 8; 1939, c. 341.)

Editor's Note.—The 1939 amendment omitted an exception clause formerly contained in paragraph (7) relating to obtaining forest tree seedlings from the state forest nursery.

§ 139-9. Adoption of land-use regulations.—The supervisors of any district shall have authority to formulate regulations governing the use of lands within the district in the interest of conserving the soil and soil resources and preventing and controlling soil erosion. The supervisors may conduct such public meetings and public hearings upon tentative regulations as may be necessary to assist them in this work. The supervisors shall not have authority to enact such land-use regulations into law until after they shall have caused due notice to be given of their intention to conduct a referendum for submission of such regulations to the occupiers of lands lying within the boundaries of the district for their indication of approval or disapproval of such proposed regulations, and until after the supervisors have considered the result of such referendum. The proposed regulations shall be embodied in a proposed ordinance. Copies of such proposed ordinance shall be available for the inspection of all eligible voters during the period between publication of such notice and the date of the referendum. The notices of the referendum shall recite the contents of such proposed ordinance, or shall state where copies of such proposed ordinance may be examined. The question shall be submitted by ballots, upon which the words “For approval of proposed ordinance number ........., prescribing land-use regulations for conservation of soil and prevention of erosion” and “Against approval of proposed ordinance number ........., prescribing land-use regulations for conservation of soil and prevention of erosion” shall appear, with a square before each proposition and a direction to insert an X mark in the square before one or the other of said propositions as the voter may favor or oppose approval of such proposed ordinance. The supervisors shall supervise such referendum, shall prescribe appropriate regulations, governing the conduct thereof, and shall publish the result thereof. All occupiers of lands within the district shall be eligible to vote in such referendum. Only such land occupiers shall be eligible to vote. No informalities in the conduct of such referendum or in any matters relating thereto shall invalidate said referendum or the result thereof if notice thereof shall have been given substantially as herein provided and said referendum shall have been fairly conducted.

The supervisors shall not have authority to enact such proposed ordinance into law unless at least two-thirds of the votes cast in such referendum shall have been cast for approval of the said proposed ordinance. The approval of the proposed ordinance by a two-thirds of the votes cast in such referendum shall not be deemed to require the supervisors to enact such proposed ordinance into law. Land-use regulations prescribed in ordinances adopted pursuant to the provisions of this section by the supervisors of any district shall have the force and effect of law in the said district and shall be binding and obligatory upon all occupiers of lands within such district.

Any occupier of land within such district may at any time file a petition with the supervisors asking that any or all of land-use regulations prescribed in any ordinance adopted by the supervisors under the provisions of this section shall be amended, supplemented, or repealed. Land-use regulations prescribed in any ordinance adopted pursuant to the provisions of this section shall not be amended, supplemented, or repealed except in accordance with the procedure prescribed in this section for adoption of land-use regulations. Referenda on adoption, amendment, supplementation, or repeal of land-use regulations shall not be held more often than once in six months.

The regulations to be adopted by the supervisors under the provisions of this section may include:

1. Provisions, requiring the carrying out of necessary engineering operations, including the construction of terraces, terrace outlets, check dams, dikes, ponds, ditches, and other necessary structures.

2. Provisions requiring observance of particular methods of cultivation including contour cultivating, contour furrowing, lister furrowing, sowing, planting, strip cropping, seeding, and planting of lands to water-conserving and erosion-preventing plants, trees and grasses, forestation, and reforestation.

3. Specifications of cropping programs and tillage practices to be observed.

4. Provisions requiring the retirement from cultivation of highly erosive areas or of areas on which erosion may not be adequately controlled if cultivation is carried on.

5. Provisions for such other means, measures, operations, and programs as may assist conservation of soil resources and prevent or control soil erosion in the district, having due regard to the legislative findings set forth in § 139-3.

The regulations shall be uniform, throughout the territory comprised within the district except that the supervisors may classify the lands within the district with reference to such factors as soil type, degree of slope, degree of erosion threatened or existing, cropping and tillage practices in use, and other relevant factors, and may provide regulations varying with the type or class of land affected, but uniform as to all lands within each class or type. Copies of land-use regulations adopted under the provisions of this section shall be printed and made available to all occupiers of lands lying within the district. (1937, c. 393, s. 9.)

§ 139-10. Enforcement of land-use regulations.
—The supervisors shall have authority to go upon any lands within the district to determine whether land-use regulations adopted under the provisions of § 139-9 are being observed. The supervisors are further authorized to provide by ordinance that any land occupier who shall sustain damages from any violation of such regulations by any other land occupier may recover damages at law from such other land occupier for such violation. (1937, c. 393, s. 10.)

§ 139-11. Nonobservance of prescribed regulations; performance of work under the regulations by the supervisors.—Where the supervisors of any district shall find that any of the provisions of land-use regulations prescribed in an ordinance adopted in accordance with the provisions of § 139-9 are not being observed on particular lands, and that such non-observance tends to increase erosion on such lands and is interfering with the prevention of control of erosion on other lands within the district, the supervisors may present to the superior court for the county or counties within which the lands of the defendant lie a petition, duly verified, setting forth the adoption of the ordinance prescribing land-use regulations, the failure of the defendant land occupier to observe such regulations, and to perform particular work, operations, or avoidances as required thereby, and that such non-observance tends to increase erosion on such lands and is interfering with the prevention or control of erosion on other lands within the district, and praying the court in its discretion to order the defendant to perform the work, operations, or avoidances as required, and to prosecute the same to completion with reasonable diligence, the supervisors may enter upon the lands involved and perform the work or operations or otherwise bring the condition of such lands into conformity with the requirements of the regulations and recover the costs and expenses thereof, with interest at the rate of five per centum per annum, from the occupier of such lands.

The court shall retain jurisdiction of the case until after the work has been completed. Upon completion of such work pursuant to such order of the court the supervisors may file a petition with the court, a copy of which shall be served upon the defendant in the case, stating the costs and expenses sustained by them in the performance of the work and praying judgment therefor with interest. The court shall have jurisdiction to enter judgment for the amount of such costs and expenses, with interest at the rate of five per centum per annum until paid, together with the costs of suit, including a reasonable attorney’s fee to be fixed by the court. This judgment, when filed in accordance with the provisions of § 1-334, shall constitute a lien upon such lands. (1937, c. 393, s. 11.)

§ 139-12. Co-operation between districts.—The supervisors of any two or more districts organized under the provisions of this chapter may co-operate with one another in the exercise of any or all powers conferred in this chapter. (1937, c. 393, s. 12.)

§ 139-13. Discontinuance of districts.—At any time after five years after the organization of a district under the provisions of this chapter, any twenty-five occupiers of land lying within the boundaries of such districts may file a petition with the state soil conservation committee praying that the operations of the district be terminated and the existence of the district discontinued. 2289; 1889, c. 475, ss. 1518, ss. 15; 1909, c.
51, s. 1; C. S. 7396.)

State Boundaries — Line Between North Carolina and Tennessee.—Under the acts of 1821 of the states of North Carolina and Tennessee confirming the boundary line between the two states "as run and marked" by the joint commission, when it is clearly shown where the line between two known points but a few miles apart was run and marked by the commission, such line must be accepted by the courts, in a suit between private persons, as the true and ancient boundary, even though it now appears that a different line between such points might more accurately conform to a general call in the act of cession for "the extreme height" of a certain mountain for a distance of 100 miles. Stevenson v. Fein, 116 Fed. 147.

§ 141-2. Payment of expenses of establishing boundaries.—When the line has been rerun and remarked as above provided between this state and any of the contiguous states, or such portion of said lines as shall be mutually agreed by the commissioners, the governor is authorized to issue his warrant upon the state treasurer for such portion of the expenses as shall fall to the share of this state. (Rev., s. 5316; Code, s. 2290; 1889, c. 475, s. 2; 1881, c. 347, s. 2; C. S. 7397.)

§ 141-4. Disagreement of arbitrators reported to general assembly.—In case of any serious disagreement and inability on the part of the said arbitrators to agree upon said boundary, such fact shall be reported by the governor to the next general assembly for their action. (Rev., s. 5318; Code, s. 2292; 1889, c. 475, s. 4; 1881, c. 347, s. 4; C. S. 7399.)

§ 141-5. Approval of survey.—When the commissioners shall have completed the survey, or so much as shall be necessary, they shall report the same to the governor, who shall lay the same before the council of state; and when the governor and the council of state shall have approved the same the governor shall issue his proclamation, declaring said lines to be the true boundary line or lines, and the same shall be the true boundary line or lines between this and the states above referred to. (Rev., s. 5319; Code, s. 2293; 1889, c. 475, s. 5; 1881, c. 347, s. 5; C. S. 7400.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment, Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 66, ss. 1, 2, the provision for all bonds being made payable to bearer unless registered replaced a provision that they should be payable to the purchaser or to bearer. The provision in regard to not attaching registered interest coupons, and the provision for optional payment of place was added at the same time. The provision for no bonds below par replaced a provision for no bonds below one thousand dollars.

§ 142-2. Title of act and year of enactment recited in bonds.—In every bond or certificate of debt issued by the state, and in the body thereof, shall be set forth the title of the act, with the year of its enactment, under the authority of which the same may be issued; or reference shall be made thereto by the number of the chapter, and the year of the legislative session. (Rev., s. 5023; Code, s. 3566; R. C., c. 90, s. 6; 1856, c. 90, s. 6; C. S. 7402.)

(Rev., s. 5021; Code, s. 3564; R. C., c. 90, s. 4; 1852, c. 10, s. 2; C. S. 7403.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment of this section, Ex. Sess. 1921, ch. 66, s. 3, it provided for transfer by delivery, of bonds payable to bearer, but those payable to holder by name alone were transferred by delivery to the state treasurer for cancellation, where new bonds were issued.

§ 142-5. Registration as to principal.—Upon the presentation at the office of the state treasurer of any bond or certificate that has heretofore been or may hereafter be issued by the state, or upon the first issuance of any bond or certificate, the same may be registered as to principal in the name of the holder upon such register, such registration to be noted on the reverse of the bond or certificate by the state treasurer. The principal of any bond or certificate so registered shall be payable only to the registered payee or his legal representative, and such bond or certificate shall be transferable to another holder or back to bearer only upon presentation to the state treasurer with a written assignment acknowledged or approved in a form satisfactory to the treasurer. Registration as to principal and interest.—If, upon the registration of any such bond or certificate, or at any time thereafter, the coupons thereto attached, evidencing all interest to be paid thereon to the date of maturity, shall be surrendered, such coupons shall be canceled by the treasurer, and he shall sign a statement endorsed upon such bond or certificate of the cancellation of all unmatured coupons and of the fact that such bond has been converted into a fully registered bond, and shall make like entry in the said register. Thereafter the interest evidenced by such canceled coupons shall be paid at the times provided therein, to the registered owner, or his legal representatives, in New York exchange, mailed to his address, unless he shall have requested the state treasurer to pay such interest in funds current at the state capital, which request shall be entered in the said register. Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment, Ex. Sess. 1921, ch. 66, sec. 6, a fee of two dollars was charged for exchange of bonds (which was for registration). All bonds surrendered were destroyed by the treasurer in the presence of the governor and attorney-general. By the amendment of 1921 a fee of twenty-five cents was charged for each registration or transfer. By the Public Laws 1925, ch. 49, it was provided that no fees be charged.

§ 142-8. Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment Ex. Sess. 1921, ch. 66, sec. 7, this section provided for negotiation of bonds by surrender, cancellation, and the issuance of a new bond.

§ 142-9. Duties performed by other officers.—If the council of state shall at any time find that either the governor or the state treasurer is unable by reason of absence, disability, or otherwise, to sign any bonds or certificates, the lieutenant-governor may sign the same in lieu of the governor, and they may be signed in lieu of the treasurer by any member of the council of state designated by it. (Rev., s. 5024; Code, s. 3567; 1864-5, c. 24; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 66, s. 8; C. S. 7409.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment by Ex. Sess. 1921, ch. 66, sec. 8, this section provided for a registration and transfer office now the time of the registration and the issuance of a new bond.

§ 142-10. Chief clerk may issue when Treasurer unable to act.—Whenever it shall appear by formal finding of the Governor and Council of State, within seven days before any bonds or notes of the State or any interest thereon shall fall due, that it is advisable to issue notes of the State to provide for the renewal or payment of such bonds, notes or interest and that the State Treasurer is unable for any reason to negotiate or to issue such notes, it shall be the duty of the chief clerk of the State treasury, if the issuance of such notes shall have been authorized by law, upon certification to him of such finding, and in the name of the State Treasurer, to make all necessary negotiations and to sign and deliver such notes for value and to attach thereto the seal of the State Treasurer. (1927, c. 12.)

§ 142-11. When bonds deemed duly executed.—State bonds duly authorized by law and approved by the Governor and Council of State shall be regarded as duly executed by proper officers if signed and sealed while in office by the officer or officers then authorized to sign and seal the same, notwithstanding one or more of such officers shall not be in office at the time of actual delivery of such bonds. (1925, c. 2.)

§ 142-12. State bonds exempt from taxation.—The original bonds or certificates of debt of the state, which have been issued since the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, or which may hereafter be issued under the authority of any act whatever, as likewise the bonds and certificates substituted for such original bonds and certificates, shall be, and they and the interest accruing thereon, exempt from taxation. (Rev., s. 5023; Code, s. 3565; R. C., c. 90, s. 5; 1892, c. 10, s. 4; C. S. 7410.)

§ 142-13. List of surrendered bonds kept; bonds and coupons destroyed.—The treasurer shall provide a substantially bound book for the purpose, in which he shall make a correct descriptive list of all bonds of the state surrendered, which list shall embrace the number, date and amount of each, and the purpose for which the same was issued, whether the same can be ascertained; and after such list shall be made, such surrendered bonds, being ascertained to be present, shall be consumed by fire in the presence of the governor, the treasurer, the auditor, the attorney general, the secretary of state and superintendent of public instruction, who shall each certify under his hand respectively in such book that he saw such described bonds so consumed and destroyed. The treasurer shall also provide a certificate setting forth the amount and kind of coupons which have been paid for the redemption of such bonds, if any, which said coupons shall be consumed by fire in the same way and manner as is provided for the cremation of bonds referred to herein. (Rev., s. 5035; Code, s. 3578; 1879, c. 98, s. 8; 1941, c. 98; C. S. 7415.)

Editor's Note.—The 1941 amendment substituted "descriptive" for "description" in line three, omitted a provision that the list contain the names of the persons surrendering the bonds, and added the provision relating to coupons.

§ 142-14. Issuance of temporary bonds.—Whenever the State Treasurer shall be authorized by law to issue bonds or notes of the State, and all acts, conditions and things required by law to happen, exist and be performed, before the delivery thereof for value, shall have happened, shall exist and shall have been performed, except the printing, lithographing or engraving of the definitive bonds or notes authorized and the execution thereof, the State Treasurer is authorized, by and with the consent of the Governor and Council of State, to issue and deliver for value temporary bonds or notes, with or without coupons, which may be printed or lithographed in any denomination or denominations which may be a multiple of one thousand dollars, and shall be signed and sealed as shall be provided for the signing and sealing of such definitive bonds or notes, and shall be substantially of the tenor of such definitive bonds or notes except as herein otherwise provided and except that such temporary bonds or notes shall contain such provisions as the treasurer may elect as to the conditions of payment of the semianual interest thereon. Every such temporary bond or note shall bear upon its face the words "Temporary Bond (or Note) Exchangeable for Definitive Bond." Upon the completion and ex-

Editor's Note.—Section four of the act from which this section was taken repeals a prior law which was similar to this section.

Public Laws 1931, c. 28, authorized the State Treasurer by and with the consent of the Governor and Council of State to borrow money on short term notes for paying obligation incurred under this section.

Public Laws 1941, c. 81, provided for the issuance of bonds to reimburse state funds for emergency advances authorized under this section.

Art. 4. Sinking Fund Commission.

§ 142-30. Title of article.—This article shall be known as "The Sinking Fund Commission Act." (1925, c. 62, s. 1.)

§ 142-31. Creation; duties. — A State Sinking Fund Commission is hereby created, the members of which shall be the Governor, State Treasurer and Auditor, who shall serve without additional compensation. It shall be the duty of the commission to see that the provisions of all sinking fund laws are complied with and to provide for the custody, investment and application of all sinking funds. The commission and its members may call upon the Attorney-General for legal advice as to their duties, powers and responsibilities hereunder. (1925, c. 62, s. 2.)

§ 142-32. To adopt rules; organization. — The commission shall adopt rules for its organization and government and the conduct of its affairs. Its chairman shall be the Governor and its secretary the Auditor. All clerks and employees in the office of the Governor, Auditor and Treasurer may be called upon to assist the commission. (1925, c. 62, s. 3.)

§ 142-33. Treasurer of commission; liability. — The State Treasurer shall be ex officio treasurer of the commission and the custodian of the sinking fund and the investments thereof. He and the sureties upon his official bond as State Treasurer shall be liable for any breach of faithful performance of his duties under this article as well as his duties as State Treasurer, and his official bond shall be made to comply with this requirement. (1925, c. 62, s. 4.)

§ 142-34. Investment of sinking funds. — Moneys in the sinking funds herein shall not be loaned to any department of the State, but shall be invested by the commission in: (a) Bonds of the United States or bonds or securities fully guaranteed both as to principal and interest by the United States. (b) Bonds or notes of the State of North Carolina, and in the obligations of any quasi-public corporation in which the State of North Carolina owns not less than fifty-one per cent of its capital stock. (c) Bonds of any other state whose full faith and credit are pledged to the payment of the principal and interest thereof. (d) Bonds of any county in North Carolina, any city or town in North Carolina and any school district in North Carolina, provided such bonds are general obligations of the subdivision or municipality issuing the same and provided that there is no limitation of the rate of taxation for the payment of principal and interest of the bonds. (1925, c. 62, s. 5; 1931, c. 415; 1935, c. 146; 1937, c. 82; 1941, c. 17, s. 1.) Cross Reference.—As to investment of bonds guaranteed by the United States, see § 53-44. Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 amended this section by striking out all references to population. The amendment of 1935 added the last clause to subsection (b). § 142-35. Purchase of securities.—No such securities shall be purchased at more than the market price thereof, nor sold at less than the market price thereof. No securities shall be purchased except bonds of the United States, or bonds or securities fully guaranteed both as to principal and interest by the United States, or bonds or notes of the state of North Carolina, unless the vendor shall deliver with the securities an opinion of an attorney at law, believed by the commission to be competent and to be recognized by investment dealers as an authority upon the law of public securities, to the effect that the securities purchased are valid and binding obligations of the issuing governmental agency or unit, unless the commission shall be satisfied that such opinion can be readily obtained when required, it being the intention of this requirement to assure the commission that such securities are valid and that they will not be unsalable by the commission because of doubts as to the validity thereof. The commission is empowered to appoint one or more of its members for the purpose of making purchases and sales of securities. (1925, c. 62, s. 6; 1941, c. 17.)

§ 142-36. Interest of securities held as part of sinking fund.—The interest and revenues received upon securities held for any sinking fund and any profit made on the resale thereof shall become and be a part of such sinking fund. Bonds and notes of the State of North Carolina purchased for any sinking fund shall not be canceled before maturity, but shall be kept alive, and the interest and principal thereof shall be paid into the sinking fund for which the same are held. (1925, c. 62, s. 7.)

§ 142-37. Registration of securities; custody thereof.—Where practicable, securities purchased for sinking funds shall be registered as to the principal thereof in the name of "The State of North Carolina for the sinking fund for" (here briefly identify the sinking fund) and may be released from such registration by the signature of the State Treasurer, but the treasurer shall not make such release unless and until the securities to be so released shall have been sold by the commission or until the commission shall have ordered such release. The treasurer shall rent a safety deposit box or boxes in some responsible bank in Raleigh in which he may keep all securities purchased for sinking funds and in which it shall be his duty to keep all such securities not registered as to the principal thereof. (1925, c. 62, s. 8.)

§ 142-38. Expenses of commission.—The necessary expense of the commission for the rental of a safety deposit box, publication of advertisements, postage, insurance upon securities in transit, etc., not exceeding one-twentieth of one percent of the amount in all sinking funds at the end of any fiscal year, shall be a charge upon the general fund. (1925, c. 62, s. 9.)

§ 142-39. Report of commission. — The commission shall make a report in writing to the General Assembly not later than the tenth day of each regular and extraordinary session thereof, stating the nature and amount of all receipts and disbursements of each sinking fund since the last preceding report, and the amount contained in each fund, and giving an itemized statement of all investments of each fund as to name of security, purpose of issuance, date of maturity and interest rate, which report shall be spread upon the journals of the Senate and House of Representatives. (1925, c. 62, s. 10.)

§ 142-40. Embezzlement by member of commission. — If any member of the commission shall embezzle or otherwise willfully and corruptly use or misapply any funds or securities in any sinking fund for any purpose other than that for which the same are held, such member shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be fined not more than ten thousand dollars, or imprisoned in the State's Prison not more than twenty years, or both, at the discretion of the court. (1925, c. 62, s. 11.)

§ 142-41. False entry by secretary or treasurer.—If the secretary or treasurer of the commission shall wittingly or falsely make, or cause to be made, any false entry or charge in any book kept by him as such officer, or shall wittingly or falsely form, or cause to be formed, any statement of the condition of any sinking fund, or any statement required by this article to be made, with intent in any of said instances to defraud the State, or any person or persons, such secretary or treasurer, as the case may be, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined at the discretion of the court not exceeding three thousand dollars, and imprisoned for not exceeding three years. (1925, c. 62, s. 12.)

§ 142-42. Interest of member in securities; removal. — If any member of the commission shall have any pecuniary interest, either directly or indirectly, proximately or remotely, in any securities purchased or sold by the commission, or shall act as agent for any investor or dealer for any securities to be purchased or sold by the commission, or shall receive directly or indirectly any gift, emolument, reward, or promise of reward for his influence in recommending or procuring any such purchase or sale, he shall forthwith be removed from his position, and shall upon conviction be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined not less than five hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, and be imprisoned, in the discretion of the court. (1925, c. 62, s. 13.)

§ 142-43. Report of sufficiency of sinking fund. — When the funds or securities in any sinking fund shall be found by the sinking fund commission to be sufficient with interest accretions reasonably to be expected for the retirement at maturity of all bonds for which such sinking fund is held, and when the commission shall file a statement of such finding in the office of the Auditor and in the office of the State Treasurer, further payments into such sinking fund shall be suspended and shall not again be made unless such fund should thereafter become insufficient for any reason. (1925, c. 62, s. 18.)

Art. 5. Sinking Funds for Highway Bonds.

§ 142-44. Highway bonds; annual payments.—For the retirement of the principal of nineteen million five hundred thousand dollars highway serial bonds heretofore issued under chapter two Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, Regular Session, a sinking fund is § 142-45. Highway bonds not issued; annual payments.—For the retirement of the principal of bonds issued for highway purposes, chapter two, Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, Regular Session, the state highway and public works commission shall be determined by the commission, and such determination shall be based, as far as practicable, by making the appropriate transfer of moneys of such charges and such credits shall be adjusted from one sinking fund to the other sinking fund. The state highway and public works commission is hereby authorized to exchange any bonds of the state which shall at any time be held as an investment of moneys in any other sinking fund under its control, and in each year after setting aside moneys necessary for the payment of which said sinking fund was so created, into which fund the state treasurer shall pay during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1924, from any funds not heretofore pledged or appropriated, the sum of four hundred thousand dollars. (1923, c. 188, s. 3; 1925, c. 62, s. 16; C. S. 7472(t).)

Editor's Note.—The 1925 amendment substituted the words "fiscal year ending June 30, 1924" for the word "year."

§ 142-46. Source of funds.—All of the highway bond sinking fund payments to be made under §§ 142-44 and 142-45, aggregating five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) annually, shall be made from the revenues collected under the provisions of said chapter two (2) public laws of 1921, if such revenues are sufficient therefor after setting aside therefrom the moneys provided by said chapter two (2) for the maintenance of the State Highway and Public Works Commission and the expenses of collecting highway revenues, and after setting aside moneys necessary for the payment of maturing principal of and interest upon highway bonds of the State: Provided, however, that no holder of any highway bonds of the State shall be prejudiced by this amendment or by any act amendatory of this section passed subsequent to the issuance of such bonds, and any such bondholder shall be entitled to all rights to which he would be entitled if no such amendment had been made. (1923, c. 188, s. 4; 1925, c. 45, s. 4; 1925, c. 135, s. 4; C. S. 7472(u).)

Art. 5A. Exchange and Cancellation of Bonds Held in Sinking Funds; Investment of Moneys.

§ 142-47. Exchange of securities.—The state sinking fund commission is hereby authorized to exchange any bonds of the state which shall at any time be held as an investment of moneys in any sinking fund under its control, for like principal amounts of bonds of the state which shall then be held as an investment of moneys in any other sinking fund under its control, and in each such exchange each such sinking fund shall be charged with the market value of the bonds received by it, plus the accrued interest thereon, and shall be credited with the market value of the bonds exchanged therefor, plus the accrued interest thereon. Any difference in the amounts of such charges and such credits shall be adjusted by making the appropriate transfer of moneys from one sinking fund to the other sinking fund. The market value of each bond so exchanged shall be determined by the commission, and such determination shall be based, as far as practicable, upon the current offering prices of bankers and dealers, taking into account the interest rates borne by the bonds and their maturities. (1943, c. 321, s. 1.)

§ 142-48. Investment of sinking funds.—The state sinking fund commission shall invest the moneys in the sinking funds created by sections 142-44 and 142-45 in highway bonds of the state unless the commission shall determine that it would be more practicable, at the time of such investment, to invest such moneys in other bonds of the state or in other securities eligible for such investment. (1943, c. 321, s. 2.)

§ 142-49. Cancellation of highway bonds in sinking funds; increase of payments to funds.—If requested so to do by the governor and council of state, the state sinking fund commission may at any time cancel any highway bonds of the state which are held in the sinking fund created by section 142-44 and which are a part of the bonds for the payment of which said sinking fund was so created, and to cancel any highway bonds of the state which are held in the sinking fund created by section 142-45 and which are a part of the bonds for the payment of which said sinking fund was so created.

Upon the cancellation of any highway bonds of the state which are held in the sinking fund created by section 142-44, as hereinabove provided, the annual payment to be made into said sinking fund in each year after such cancellation shall be increased from one hundred thousand dollars to one hundred and fifty thousand dollars. Upon the cancellation of any highway bonds of the state which are held in the sinking fund created by section 142-45, as hereinabove provided, the annual payment to be made into said sinking fund in each year after such cancellation shall be increased from four hundred thousand dollars to six hundred thousand dollars. (1943, c. 321, ss. 3-5.)

Art. 1. Executive Budget Act.

§ 143-1. Scope and definitions. — This article shall be known, and may be cited, as "The Executive Budget Act." Whenever the word "Director" is used herein, it shall be construed to mean "Director of the Budget." Whenever the word "Commission" is used herein, it shall be construed to mean "Advisory Budget Commission," if the context shows that it is used with reference to any power or duty belonging to the Budget Bureau and to be performed by it, but it shall mean when used otherwise any state agency, and any other agency, person or commission by whatever name called, that uses or expends or receives any state funds. "State funds" are hereby defined to be any and all moneys appropriated by the General Assembly of North Carolina, or moneys collected by or for the state, or any agency thereof, pursuant to the authority granted in any of its laws.

§ 143-2. Purposes. — It is the purpose of this article to vest in the Governor of the State a direct and effective supervision of all agencies, institutions, departments, bureaus, boards, commissions, and every State agency by whatsoever name now or hereafter called, including the same power and supervision over such private corporations and persons and organizations of all kinds that may receive, pursuant to statute, any funds either appropriated by, or collected for, by North Carolina, or any of its departments, boards, divisions, agencies, institutions and commissions; for the efficient and economical administration of all agencies, institutions, departments, bureaus, boards, commissions, persons and corporations that receive or use State funds; and for the initiation and preparation of a balanced budget of any and all revenues and expenditures for each session of the General Assembly.

The Governor shall be Ex-officio Director of the Budget and shall be the responsible head of the Budget Bureau, which Bureau is a part of the Governor's office. The Governor shall or before: the first day of July next after his inauguration appoint a budget officer, who shall be known as the "Assistant to the Director," and such officer shall serve for a term of four years beginning on the first day of July next after the inauguration of each Governor, at a salary to be fixed by the Director, who makes the appointment.

The purpose of this article is to include within the powers of the Budget Bureau all agencies, institutions, departments, bureaus, boards, and commissions of the State of North Carolina under whatever name now or hereafter known, and the change of the name of such agencies hereafter shall not affect or lessen the powers and duties of the Budget Bureau in respect thereto.

The test as to whether an institution, department, agency, board, commission, or corporation or person is included within the purpose and powers and duties of the Budget Bureau shall be whether such agency or person receives for use, or expends, any of the funds of the State of North Carolina, including funds appropriated by the General Assembly and funds arising from the collection of fees, taxes, donations appropriative, or otherwise. (1925, c. 89, s. 1; 1929, c. 100, s. 1.)

Editor's Note. — As director of the budget, the Governor has large powers in supervising the expenditure of State funds and in determining what appropriations shall be made by the General Assembly. The idea that our governments, Federal, State and local, should be run in a business-like manner gaining prevalence and the budget system in government is an attempt to carry out the wishes of the people that government shall be administered economically and efficiently. 4 N. C. Law Rev. 17.

§ 143-3. Examination of officers and agencies; disbursements. — The Director shall have power to examine under oath any officer or any head, any clerk or employees, of any department, institution, bureau, division, board, commission, corporation, association, or any agency; to cause the attendance of all such persons, requiring such persons to furnish any and all information desired relating to the affairs of such agency; to compel the production of books, papers, accounts, or other documents in the possession or under the control of such person so required to attend. The Director or his authorized representative shall have the right and the power to examine any State institution or agency, board, bureau, division, commission, corporation, person, and to inspect its property, and inquire into the method of operation and management.

The Director shall have power to have the books and accounts of any of such agencies or persons audited; to supervise generally the accounting and auditing systems thereof now in force, and to inaugurate such changes in respect thereto which may be necessary, in his opinion, to exhibit and to furnish complete and correct information as to its financial condition, including the budget accounts of such departments, bureaus or associations within the terms of this article. The cost of making all audits and effecting all necessary changes in the system of accounting shall be paid from the regular maintenance appropriation made by the General Assembly for such bureaus, departments, divisions, institutions, commissions, persons or agencies that may be thus audited.

It shall be the duty of the Director to recommend to the General Assembly at each session changes in the organization, management and general conduct of the various departments, institutions and other agencies of the State, and included within the terms of this article, as in his judgment will promote the more efficient and economical operation and management thereof.

The Director of the Budget under the provisions of the Executive Budget Act shall prescribe the manner in which disbursements of the several institutions and departments shall be made and may require that all warrants, vouchers or checks, except those drawn by the State Auditor and the State Treasurer, shall bear two signatures of such officers as will be designated by the Director of the Budget. (1925, c. 89, s. 3; 1929, c. 100, s. 3; c. 337, s. 4.)

§ 143-4. Advisory Budget Commission. — The Chairman of the Appropriations and the Finance Committees of the House and of the Senate, and two other persons to be appointed by the Governor, shall constitute the Advisory Budget Commission, whose duties shall be such as are hereinafter defined.

The members of the Advisory Budget Commission shall receive as full compensation for their services ten dollars per day for each day which they shall serve and their expenses. The Advisory Budget Commission shall be called in conference in January and July of each year, upon ten days' notice by the Director or Assistant to the Director of the Budget, and at such other times as in the opinion of the Director may be for the public interest.

(1925, c. 89, s. 4; 1929, c. 100, s. 4; 1931, c. 295.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 added the last paragraph to this section.

This section shall not apply to any trustee or director who holds office as such by virtue of another public office held by him and shall not apply to any trustee or director chosen by any agency or authority other than the State of North Carolina. (1927, c. 225.)

§ 143-111. Director not to be elected to position under board.—It shall be unlawful for any board of directors, board of trustees or other governing body of any of the various state institutions (penal, charitable, or otherwise) to appoint or elect any person who may be or has been at any time within six months a member of such board of directors, board of trustees, or other governing body, to any position in the institution, which position may be under the control of such board of directors, board of trustees, or other governing body. § 143-114. Diversion of appropriations to state institutions.—It shall be unlawful for the board of trustees, board of directors, or other body controlling any state institution, to divert, use, or expend any moneys appropriated for the use of said institutions for its permanent improvement and enlargement to the payment of any of the current expenses of said institution or for the payment of the cost of the maintenance thereof; it shall likewise be unlawful for any board of trustees, board of directors, or other controlling body of any state institution to which money is appropriated for its maintenance by the state to divert, use, or expend any money so appropriated for maintenance, for the permanent enlargement or permanent equipment, or the purchase of land for said institution. (1921, c. 232, s. 1; C. S. 7521(a)).

Editor's Note.—This act is an attempt to place all State charitable institutions on the same basis, with similar policies, so that the expense which the State bears will be lightened by requiring those who are able to pay to bear the expense of their care, maintenance and treatment. Suits may be brought in favor of the State for the recovery of the cost of caring for patients who are able to pay, and such patients may be removed from State institutions if no payment is made. 4 N. C. Law Rev. 17.

§ 143-118. Governing board to fix cost and charges.—The respective boards of trustees or directors of each of said institutions, by whatever name they may be called, are hereby empowered with the final authority to determine and fix the actual cost of such training, treatment, care and maintenance, to be paid for by or for each inmate or patient, and the said boards of trustees or directors shall, to the best of their ability, fix such cost so as to include all the cost of such care, maintenance, treatment and training at such institutions, for each respective inmate, pupil or patient thereof, and the said sum, when so fixed, shall be the actual cost thereof. Provided, however, the respective boards of each of said institutions above named, in determining and fixing the actual cost of such care, maintenance and treatment to be paid for by non-indigent inmates thereof, are hereby given full and final authority to fix a general rate of charge, to be paid on a monthly basis by inmates able to pay same, or in cases where indigent inmates later are found to be non-indigent, then such cost for past care and maintenance of such inmates shall be paid in one or more payments based on the monthly rates of cost in effect for the period or periods of time during which such inmates have been confined in said institutions. The past acts of the boards of directors in fixing a monthly rate to be paid by non-indigent inmates for their care and maintenance in such institutions are hereby in every respect ratified and validated, and on all claims and causes of actions for such purpose now pending and are unsettled, or which hereafter may be made or begun for the payment of said past indebtedness for care, maintenance and treatment, the rates so fixed by said board of directors shall prevail and said collections shall be made in accordance therewith. In any action by any of said state's charitable institutions for the recovery of the cost of the care, maintenance and treatment of any inmate, now pending or which may hereafter be instituted, a verified and itemized statement of the account, showing the period of time during which the said non-indigent inmate was confined to the institution, the monthly rate of charge as fixed by said board of directors of such institution for the period of time that the inmate was confined therein, the total amount claimed to be due thereon as predicated upon said rate of charge, and the proper credits for any payments which may have been made on said account, shall be filed with the complaint and shall constitute a prima facie case, and such state institution shall be entitled to a judgment thereon in the absence of allegation and proof on the part of the inmate's guardian, trustee, administrator, executor, or other fiduciary, that said verified and itemized statement of the superintendent or bookkeeper of said institution is not correct because of—

(a) an error in the calculation of the amount due as predicated upon said monthly rate or charge fixed by the board of directors, or

(b) an error as to the period of time during which the inmate was confined in said state institution, or

(c) an error in not properly crediting the account with any cash payment, or payments, which
§ 143-119. Payments.—Such cost, when so fixed and determined by the respective boards of trustees or directors of each institution, shall be paid by the patient, pupil or inmate thereof, or his parent, guardian, trustee or other person legally responsible therefor, and the payment thereof shall constitute a valid expenditure of the funds of any such pupil, patient or inmate by any fiduciary who may be in the control of such fund, and a receipt for the payment of such cost in the hands of such fiduciary shall be a valid voucher to the extent thereof in the settlement of his accounts of his trust. Immediately upon the determination of the cost, as herein provided for, the superintendent of the institution shall notify the patient, pupil, inmate, parent, guardian, trustee, or such other person who shall be legally responsible for the payment thereof, of the monthly amount thereof, and such statement shall be rendered from month to month. The respective boards of trustees or directors of the various institutions are vested with full and complete authority to arrange with the patient, pupil, inmate, parent, guardian, trustee, or other person legally responsible for the cost, for the payment of any portion of such cost monthly or otherwise, in the event such patient, pupil, inmate, parent, guardian, trustee, or other person legally responsible therefor shall not be able to pay the total cost. The head of the various institutions shall annually file with the Auditor of the State a list of all unpaid accounts. The provisions of this article directing the boards of directors of the various institutions of this State above named to ascertain which of the inmates are non-indigent and able to pay for their care, maintenance and treatment, and also directing said boards of directors to make certain periodical demands upon the guardians or other persons responsible for said inmates for the payment of said charges, and which further directs them to remove all of those inmates found able to pay but who refuse to pay, and all of the other provisions of this article relating to the manner in which said board shall collect said costs, shall be construed to be directory provisions on the part of the authorities of said institutions and now remaining unpaid. The provisions of this article directing the boards of directors of the various institutions of this State above named to ascertain which of the inmates are non-indigent and able to pay for their care, maintenance and treatment, and also directing said boards of directors to make certain periodical demands upon the guardians or other persons responsible for said inmates for the payment of said charges, and which further directs them to remove all of those inmates found able to pay but who refuse to pay, and all of the other provisions of this article relating to the manner in which said board shall collect said costs, shall be construed to be directory provisions on the part of the authorities of said institutions and now remaining unpaid.

§ 143-120. Determining who is able to pay.—From and after March 4, 1925, the respective boards of trustees or directors of each institution shall ascertain which of the various patients, pupils or inmates thereof, or which of the parents, guardians, trustees, or other persons legally responsible therefor, are financially able to pay the cost, to be fixed and determined by this article, and so soon as it shall be ascertained such patient, pupil, inmate, parent, guardian, trustee or other person legally responsible therefor shall be notified of such cost, and in general of the provisions of this article and such patient, pupil, inmate or the parent, guardian, trustee, or other person legally responsible therefor shall have the option to pay the same or to remove the patient, pupil or inmate from such institution, unless such person was committed by an order of a court of competent jurisdiction, in which event the liability for the cost as fixed by this article shall be fixed or determined and payment shall be made in accordance with the terms of this article. (1925, c. 120, s. 4.)

Where patient is indigent at time of admission to state hospital and later becomes nonindigent, under this section, the hospital is entitled to recover the actual cost of the ward's care and maintenance for the whole period the ward was an inmate of the hospital, including the time the ward was indigent as well as the time he was nonindigent, and including the period both before and after demand by the hospital for the cost of his maintenance, and the State for the use of such institution may sue upon such cause of action in the courts of Wake County, or in the courts of the county in which such institution is located, against said patient, pupil or inmate, or his parents, or either of them, or guardian, trustee, committee, or other person legally responsible therefor, or in whose possession and control there may be any funds or property belonging to either the said pupil, patient or inmate, or to any person upon whom the said patient, pupil, or inmate may be legally dependent, including both parents. (1925, c. 120, s. 5.)

§ 143-121. Action to recover costs.—Immediately upon the fixing of the amount of such actual cost, as herein provided, a cause of action shall accrue therefor in favor of the State for the use of the institution in which such patient, pupil or inmate is receiving training, treatment, maintenance or care, and the State for the use of such institution may sue upon such cause of action in the courts of Wake County, or in the courts of the county in which such institution is located, against said patient, pupil or inmate, or his parents, or either of them, or guardian, trustee, committee, or other person legally responsible therefor, or in whose possession and control there may be any funds or property belonging to either the said pupil, patient or inmate, or to any person upon whom the said patient, pupil, or inmate may be legally dependent, including both parents. (1925, c. 120, s. 5.)

§ 143-122. No limitation of such action.—No statute of limitation shall apply to or constitute a defense to any cause of action asserted by any of the above named institutions for the collection of the cost of care, treatment, training, or maintenance, or any or all of these against any person liable therefor, as herein provided, and all statutes containing limitations which might apply to the same are hereby pro tanto repealed, as to all such causes of action or claims, and this section shall apply to all claims, and causes of action for like cost heretofore incurred with such institutions and now remaining unpaid. (1925, c. 120, s. 6.)

authority and power of the management of the boards of trustees, or directors of any of the institutions named herein, to make provision for the care, custody, treatment and maintenance of all indigent persons who may be otherwise entitled to admission in any of the said institutions, and as to indigent pupils, inmates and patients, the same provisions now contained in the several statutes relating thereto shall continue in force, but if at any time any of the said indigent patients, pupils or inmates shall succeed to or inherit, or acquire, in any manner, property, or any of the persons named above as legally responsible for the cost of care, treatment and maintenance of the pupil, inmate and patient at the above named institutions, shall acquire property, or shall otherwise be reputed to be solvent, then each of said institutions shall have the full right and authority to collect and sue for the entire cost and maintenance of such inmate, pupil or patient, without let or hindrance on account of any statute of limitation whatsoever. (1925, c. 120, s. 7.)

§ 143-124. Suit by attorney general; venue.—At the request of such institution, all actions and suits shall be sued upon and prosecuted by the Attorney General, and such institution shall have the right to elect as to whether it will institute such action in the courts of Wake County or in the courts of the county in which such institution is located. (1925, c. 120, s. 8.)

§ 143-125. Judgment; never barred.—Any judgment obtained by the State for the use of any of the above named institutions shall never be barred by any statute of limitation, but shall continue in force, and, at the request of the Attorney General or the superintendent of any of said institutions, an execution shall issue therefor at any time without requiring such institution to revive the said judgment, as is now provided by statute, but in case any judgment debtor, or any fiduciary responsible for the payment thereof, shall make affidavit and file the same with the clerk of the Superior Court from which such execution is issued, that payments have been made upon the said judgments, then the clerk shall recall said execution and proceed to hear and determine what is the true amount due thereon, if anything, in the same manner as is now required in motions to revive dormant judgments with the right of appeal to the judge of the Superior Court, as now provided in such motions, and the clerk of the Superior Court and the judge thereof shall have authority, in their discretion, to require security for the payment of the amount of said judgment pending such appeal. (1925, c. 120, s. 9.)

§ 143-126. Death of inmate; lien on estate.—In the event of the death of any inmate, pupil or patient of either of said institutions above named, leaving any such cost of care, maintenance, training and treatment unpaid, in whole or in part, then such unpaid cost shall constitute a first lien on all the property, both real and personal, of the said decedent, subject only to the payment of funeral expenses and taxes to the State of North Carolina. (1925, c. 120, s. 10.)

§ 143-127. Money paid into state treasury.—All money collected by any institution pursuant to this article shall be by such institution paid into the State treasury, and shall be by the State Treasurer credited to the account of the institution collecting and turning the same into the treasury, and shall be paid out by warrants drawn by the Auditor as in cases of appropriations made for the maintenance of such institutions and shall be used by such institution as it uses and is authorized by law to use appropriations made for maintenance. (1925, c. 120, s. 11.)

§ 143-128. Separate specifications for building contracts. — Every officer, board, department, commission or commissions charged with the duty of preparing specifications or awarding or entering into contract for the erection, construction or alteration of buildings for the State, when the entire cost of such work shall exceed ten thousand dollars, must have prepared separate specifications for each of the following branches of work to be performed: 1. Heating and ventilating and accessories. 2. Plumbing and gas fitting and accessories. 3. Electrical installations. 4. Air conditioning, for the purpose of comfort cooling by the lowering of temperature, and accessories. All such specifications must be so drawn as to permit separate and independent bidding upon each of the classes of work enumerated in the above subdivisions. All contracts hereafter awarded by the State or a department, board, commissioner, or officer thereof, for the erection, construction or alteration of buildings, or any part thereof, shall award the respective work specified in the above subdivisions separately to responsible and reliable persons, firms or corporations regularly engaged in their respective line of work. (1925, c. 141, s. 2; 1929, c. 339, s. 2; 1931, c. 46; 1943, c. 387.)

Cross Reference.—For similar statute applicable to counties and cities, see § 160-270.

Editor’s Note.—The 1941 amendment added the words “and accessories” as at the end of subdivisions 1 and 2. It also inserted subdivisions 3 and 4.

For comment on this section, see 4 N. C. Law Rev. 14.

§ 143-129. Procedure for letting of public contracts. — No construction or repair work, or purchase of apparatus, supplies, materials, or equipment requiring an estimated expenditure of public money in an amount equal to or more than one thousand dollars ($1000.00), except in cases of special emergency involving the health and safety of the people or their property, shall be performed, nor shall any contract be awarded therefor, by any board or governing body of the state, or of any institution of the state government, or of any county, city, town, or other subdivision of the state, unless the provisions of this section are complied with.

Advertisement of the letting of such contracts shall be as follows:

Where the contract is to be let by a board or governing body of the state government, or of a state institution, as distinguished from a board or governing body of a subdivision of the state, proposals shall be invited by advertisement at least one week before the time specified for the opening.
of said proposals in a newspaper having general circulation in the state of North Carolina.

Where the contract is to be let by a county, city, town or other subdivision of the state, proposals shall be invited by advertisement at least one week before the time specified for the opening of said proposals in a newspaper having general circulation in such county, city, town or other subdivision. Provided, if there is no newspaper published in the county and the estimated cost of the contract is less than two thousand dollars ($2000.00), such advertisement may be either published in some newspaper as required herein or posted at the court house door not later than one week before the opening of the proposals in answer thereto, and in the case of a city, town or other sub-division wherein there is no newspaper published and the estimated cost of the contract is less than two thousand dollars ($2000.00), such advertisement may be either published in some newspaper as required herein or posted at the court house door of the county in which such city, town or other subdivision is situated and at least one public place in such city, town or other subdivision.

Such advertisement shall state the time and place where plans and specifications of proposed work or a complete description of the apparatus, supplies, materials or equipment may be had, and the time and place for opening the proposals, and shall reserve to said board or governing body the right to reject any or all such proposals.

Proposals shall not be rejected for the purpose of evading the provisions of this article and no board or governing body of the state or subdivision thereof shall assume responsibility for construction or purchase contracts or guarantee the payment of labor or materials therefor.

All proposals shall be opened in public and shall be recorded on the minutes of the board or governing body and the award shall be made to the lowest responsible bidder, taking into consideration quality and the time specified in the proposals for the performance of the contract. No proposal shall be considered or accepted by said board or governing body unless at the time of filing the same shall be accompanied by a deposit on account of said board or governing body of cash or a certified check on some bank or trust company authorized to do business in this state, in an amount equal to not less than two per cent (2%) of the proposal. This deposit shall be retained if the successful bidder fails to execute the contract within ten days after the award or fails to give satisfactory surety as required herein.

All contracts to which this section applies shall be executed in writing, and the board or governing body shall require the person to whom the award of contract is made to furnish bond in some surety company authorized to do business in the state, or require a deposit of money, certified check or government securities for the full amount of said contract for the faithful performance of the terms of said contract; and no such contract shall be altered except by written agreement of the contractor, the sureties on his bond, and the board or governing body. Such surety bond or securities required herein shall be deposited with the treasurer of the branch of the government for which the work is to be performed until the contract has been carried out in all respects.

Nothing in this section shall operate so as to require any public agency to enter into a contract that will prevent the use of unemployment relief labor paid for in whole or in part by appropriations or funds furnished by the state or federal government. (1931, c. 358, s. 1; 1933, cc. 50, 460, 5. 1; 1957, c. 355.)

The requirements of this section are mandatory, and a contract made in contravention of such requirements is ultra vires and void. Raynor v. Louisburg Com'rs, 220 N. C. 348, 17 S. E. (2d) 495.

Emergency Defined.—The meaning of the word "emergency" within the provisions of this section is not susceptible of precise definition and each case must, to some extent, stand upon its own bottom, but in any event the term connotes an immediate and present condition and not one which may or may not arise in the future or one that is apt to arise or may be expected to arise. Raynor v. Louisburg Com'rs, 220 N. C. 348, 17 S. E. (2d) 495.

Judicial Review of Finding of Emergency.—The provision of this section that a municipality may let a contract for expenditures in excess of $1,000 without advertisement "in cases of special emergency" constitutes an exception to the general rule, and the commissioners of a municipality may not declare an emergency where none exists and thus defeat the law, nor is such finding by the municipal board upon competent evidence conclusive on the courts, but the courts may review the evidence and determine whether an emergency as declared by said board or governing body exists. Raynor v. Louisburg Com'rs, 220 N. C. 348, 17 S. E. (2d) 495.

Louisburg.—Ch. 305, Public Laws 1903, does not authorize the town of Louisburg to contract for machinery for its water and sewer system and electric light plant in a sum in excess of $1,000 without submitting the same to competitive bidding after due advertisement. Raynor v. Louisburg Com'rs, 220 N. C. 348, 17 S. E. (2d) 495.

§ 143-130. Allowance for convict labor must be specified.—In cases where the board or governing body may furnish convict or other labor to the contractor, manufacturer or others entering into contracts for the performance of construction work, installation of apparatus, supplies, materials or equipment, the specifications covering such projects shall carry full information as to what wages shall be paid for such labor or the amount of allowance for same. (1933, c. 400, s. 2.)

§ 143-131. When counties, cities, towns and other subdivisions may let contracts on informal bids.—All contracts for construction or repair work or for the purchase of apparatus, supplies, materials or equipment, involving the expenditure of public money in the amount of two hundred dollars ($200.00) or more but less than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), made by any officer, department, board or commission of any county, city, town or other subdivision of this State, when practical, shall be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder after informal bids have been secured, and it shall be the duty of such officer, department, board or commission to keep a record of all bids submitted, and such record shall be subject to public inspection at any time. (1931, c. 358, s. 2.)

§ 143-132. Minimum number of bids for contracts for state institutions.—No contracts to which § 143-129 applies for construction or repair work or any alteration or improvement of any institution of the State shall be awarded by any board or governing body of such institution unless proposals shall have been made by at least three reputable contractors where the estimated cost thereof shall not exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) and by at least five reputable contractors where the estimated cost thereof shall exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000.00). (1931, c. 291, s. 3.)

§ 143-133. No evasion permitted.—No bill or contract shall be divided for the purpose of evading the provisions of this article. (1933, c. 400, s. 3.)

§ 143-134. Highway and prison departments excepted.—This article shall not apply to the state highway and prison department of the state of North Carolina. (1933, c. 400 s. 3-A.)

§ 143-135. Limitation of application of article.—This article shall not apply to governmental agencies of sub-divisions of the state of North Carolina doing or performing by or through its or their duly elected officers or agents work for such agency up to and including an amount not to exceed five thousand ($5,000.00) dollars. (1933, c. 553, ss. 1, 2.)

§ 143-136. N. C. building code.—This article shall be known and may be cited as the North Carolina building code. (1933, c. 392, s. 1.)

§ 143-137. Purpose of article.—It is the purpose of this article to protect life, health, and property and all its provisions shall be construed liberally to that end. (1933, c. 392, s. 2.)

§ 143-138. Administration by insurance commissioner; duties of state board of health.—It shall be the duty of the insurance commissioner or his deputy or deputies in cooperation with local officials in accordance with §§ 160-115 to 160-123, inclusive, to enforce the building code hereinafter ratified and adopted, and all rules and regulations which the building code council is authorized to promulgate in modification or addition to said building code under the authority of this article, and further, in cooperation with local authorities, to enforce ordinances of municipal corporations relating to a building code or building rules and regulations: Provided, however, it shall be the duty of the state board of health, instead of the duty of the insurance commissioner, to enforce all provisions of the building code hereinafter designated and all other rules and regulations duly promulgated by the building code council relating to plumbing where such plumbing regulations are not otherwise prescribed by local ordinance or rules and regulations of county health boards. (1933, c. 392, s. 3; 1941, c. 280, s. 1.)

For comment on the 1941 amendment, see 19 N. C. Law Rev. 457.

§ 143-139. Building code council created; powers and duties; application of building code.—There is hereby created a building code council which shall consist of the following members registered in accordance with the laws of North Carolina where registration laws apply: One architect, one general contractor, one structural engineer, one plumbing and heating contractor, and one representative of organized labor. Members of the building code council shall be appointed or removed by the governor. The terms of office shall be as follows: One architect five years, one general contractor four years, one structural engineer three years, one plumbing and heating contractor two years and one representative of organized labor one year. Vacancies caused by expiration of term of office shall be filled by the governor and appointments made for a period of five years. Vacancies caused by resignation or otherwise shall be filled by the governor for the unexpired term of the person leaving office.

Within thirty days after the passage and publication of this article, the building code council shall meet and organize and shall have power to elect its own officers, to fix the times and places for its meetings, to adopt necessary rules of procedure, and to adopt all other rules and regulations not inconsistent herewith which may be necessary for the proper discharge of its duties and it shall keep an accurate record of all its proceedings. Subject to the limitations hereinafter set forth, the said building code council is authorized and empowered to establish reasonable and suitable classifications of buildings, both as to use and occupancy; to determine general building restrictions as to location, height and floor areas; to promulgate rules for the lighting and ventilation of buildings; means of egress therefrom; construction thereof and precautions to be taken during such construction; materials, loads and stresses of construction; chimneys and heating appliances and elevators; plumbing, heating, electrical control and protection; and to adopt such other rules and regulations as may be reasonably necessary to effectuate the purposes of this article: Provided, however, the said building code council shall not establish any standard or adopt or promulgate any rule, regulation, classification, limitation or restriction more rigid, exacting or stringent in its requirements than is authorized in the “North Carolina Building Code” adopted and promulgated by said council in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and published in full in August of that year in a printed volume as an official publication of the North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering of the University of North Carolina, the said volume being known and designated as the “North Carolina Building Code, prepared by the North Carolina Building Code Council” and also known and identified as “Bulletin number ten, Engineering Experiment Station, State College Station, Raleigh.”

The provisions of said “North Carolina Building Code” so published are hereby in all respects ratified and adopted and shall continue in full force and effect unless and until they may be modified as hereinafter authorized: Provided, further, the said building code council may, subject to the approval of the insurance commissioner, promulgate rules and regulations which shall have the effect of establishing requirements less rigid and less stringent than those set forth in said “North Carolina Building Code”; Provided, further, any municipal corporation may adopt a building code or building rules and regulations which are more rigid, stringent and exacting than the “North Carolina Building Code” referred to above as the same is now adopted or as it may be hereafter modified pursuant to the

Editor's Note.—The 1941 amendment added the paragraph at the end of this section.

§ 143-140. Appeals to council.—An appeal from the decision of the insurance commissioner upon any matter affecting the building code may be taken to the building code council as hereinafter provided. (1933, c. 392, s. 5.)

§ 143-141. Compensation; appeals to council and to courts; buildings to meet code standards. —The members of the building code council may each receive five dollars per day as compensation for the time given in the performance of his duty and may be reimbursed for compensation and actual traveling expenses from funds of the organization which he represents.

When the insurance commissioner shall reject or refuse to approve the mode or manner of construction proposed to be followed, or materials to be used in the erection or alteration of any building or structure, or when it is claimed that the provisions of this code do not apply, or that an equally good or more desirable form of construction can be employed in any specific case, the owner of such building or structure, or his duly authorized agent, may demand that the decision of the insurance commissioner be reviewed by the chairman and two or more members of the building code council who are qualified to render a fair and impartial decision where the amount in question shall exceed the sum of $1,000.00. The members best qualified in the opinion of the chairman shall be selected to review the decision of the insurance commissioner.

After a review of the decision of the insurance commissioner the chairman shall forward the findings and recommendations to the insurance commissioner immediately. It is understood that the building code council shall serve in an advisory capacity only and that the final decision and responsibility for such decision shall rest upon the insurance commissioner: Provided, nothing in this article shall prohibit the owner his right of appeal to the superior courts.

It shall be the duty of the council not only to make recommendations to the insurance commissioner relative to the proper construction of the pertinent provisions of the building code but it shall also recommend that he shall allow materials and methods of construction other than those required by the building code to be used, when in its opinion such other material and methods of construction are as good as those required by the code, and for this purpose the requirements of the building code as to such matters shall be considered simply as a standard to which construction shall conform. (1933, c. 392, s. 6.)

§ 143-142. Hearings before insurance commissioner as to questions under law or building code, etc.—Any person desiring to raise any question under the “North Carolina Building Code” or any rule or regulation promulgated by the building code council shall be entitled to a full hearing before the insurance commissioner, and upon request in writing by any such person, the insurance commissioner shall appoint a time for the hearing, giving such person reasonable notice thereof. The insurance commissioner shall conduct a full and complete hearing of the matters in controversy and make a determination thereof. Any person affected by any decision of the insurance commissioner upon such matters may, either before or after appeal to the building council as provided for in § 143-141, proceed against the insurance commissioner in the superior court of Wake county, to enjoin the enforcement of the ruling or decision. In any such injunction proceeding the trial of all matters which may have been involved in the hearing before the insurance commissioner shall be de novo but the decision and ruling of the commissioner shall be prima facie correct and valid and the burden of proof shall be on the party attacking such decision. The provisions of this section shall not deprive any person of any other right of action or appeal which he may have and shall not limit any party to the assertion of said right by injunction as herein permitted: Provided, however, that where the question raised relates to any provision, regulation, ruling or decision regarding plumbing, the hearing shall be held before the state board of health instead of the insurance commissioner; but otherwise the procedure, rights and remedies in such cases shall be as outlined in this section. (1941, c. 280, s. 3.)

Cross Reference.—As to injunction generally, see §§ 1-485 et seq.

§ 143-143. Violation of act subjects offender to fine.—If any employer, owner or other person shall violate any of the provisions of this article, or shall do any act prohibited herein, or shall fail to perform any duty lawfully enjoined within the time prescribed by the insurance commissioner or his deputy or shall fail, neglect, or refuse, to obey any lawful order given or made by the insurance commissioner, for each such violation, failure, or refusal, such employer, owner or other person upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than ten dollars ($10.00), nor more than fifty dollars ($50.00) for each offense. Each seven days neglect shall constitute a separate and distinct offense. (1933, c. 392, s. 7.)

Art. 12. Law Enforcement Officers' Benefit and Retirement Fund.

§ 143-166. The local custodian of such costs shall monthly transmit such moneys to the state treasurer, with a statement of the case in which the same has been collected, provided however that the costs assessed under this article shall not apply to violations of municipal ordinances unless a warrant is actually issued and served, provided no part of said costs or assessments shall be paid by any county or municipality.

(a) The moneys so received shall annually be set up in a special fund to be known as The Law Enforcement Officers' Benefit and Retirement Fund.

(b) For the purpose of determining the recipients of benefits under this section the amounts thereof to be disbursed and for formulating and making such rules and regulations as may be essential for the equitable and impartial distribution of such benefits to and among the persons entitled to such benefits, there is hereby created a board to be known as The Board of Commissioners of the Law Enforcement Officers' Benefit and Retirement Fund, which shall consist of the state auditor, who shall be chairman ex-officio of said board, the state treasurer, the state insurance commissioner, and four members to be appointed by the governor and to serve at his will, one of whom shall be a sheriff, one a police officer, one from the group of law enforcement officers as hereinafter defined, employed by the state, and one representing the public at large. No member of said board of commissioners shall receive salary, compensation or expenses other than a per diem of not exceeding seven dollars ($7.00) for each day's attendance at duly and regularly called and held meetings of the commission, the total of which meetings for which per diem may be allowable as herein provided not to exceed eight meetings in any one year. Four members of said board shall constitute a quorum at any of said meetings, and no business shall be transacted unless a quorum be present. Ex-officio members shall not receive any per diem.

(c) As soon as is practicable after March 13, 1941, and after the appointment of the four members herein authorized to be appointed by the governor, the organization of said board shall be perfected by the selection from its members of a vice-chairman, and secretary, to serve for a term of one year and until their successors shall have been elected and qualified, and by the selection by the board, by a majority vote, of such employees as in the opinion of the board, with the approval of the governor, may be necessary for the proper handling of the business of the board of commissioners, such employee or such employees to hold office at the will of the board of commissioners. No employee of the board of commissioners shall receive and of such employment or during any leave of absence therefrom hold any public office, be a candidate for any public office, or engage in any political activity whatsoever for or on behalf of any candidate for public office, either in the primary or election. The violation of the restriction herein contained against political activity shall subject such employee to immediate discharge; and any such employee who shall use any funds of the commission for political purposes or shall incur any expense whatsoever in connection with any political activity, paid or payable out of the funds of said commission, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable as provided by law in the case of misdemeanors. Nothing herein contained shall prevent any employee from exercising his individual right of franchise in any primary or election. Nothing in this section shall affect the right of any employee of said commission who is at present a member of the general assembly from continuing as such member for the duration of such present term.

(d) The said board of commissioners shall have control of all payments to be made from such fund. It shall hear and decide all applications for compensation and for retirement benefits created and allowed under this article, and shall have power to make all necessary rules and regulations for its administration and government, and for the employees in the proper discharge of their duties; it shall have the power to make decisions on applications for compensation or retirement benefits and its decision thereon shall be final and conclusive and not subject to review or reversal, except by the board itself; it shall cause to be kept a record of all its meetings and proceedings. Any person who shall willfully swear falsely in any oath or affirmation for the purpose of obtaining any benefits under this article, or the payment thereof, shall be guilty of perjury and shall be punished therefor as provided by law.

(e) There shall be kept in the office of the said board of commissioners by the secretary, records which shall give a complete history and record of all actions of the board of commissioners in granting benefits, including retirement benefits, to peace officers as herein defined; such records shall give the name, date of the beginning of his service as a peace officer, and of his incapacity and the reason therefor. All records, papers, and other data shall be carefully preserved and turned over to the succeeding officers or board members.

(f) On or before the first day of January of each year the said board of commissioners shall make to the governor of the state of North Carolina a verified report containing a statement of all receipts and disbursements, together with the name of each beneficiary, and the amount paid to each beneficiary, for or on account of such fund. There shall be annually made by the state auditor's department a complete audit and examination of the receipts and the disbursements of the board of commissioners herein created.

(g) The board of commissioners of the said fund may take by gift, grant, devise, or bequest, any money, real or personal property, or other things of value and hold or invest the same for the uses of said fund in accordance with the purposes of this article. And the board shall have the authority to invest any funds not immediately needed in any securities which the state sinking fund commission may be authorized to invest in, or in certificates of deposit in any bank or trust company authorized to do business in North Carolina in which the deposits are guaranteed by the federal deposit insurance corporation not to exceed the sum of five thousand ($5,000.00) dollars in any one bank or trust company, or in the shares of federal savings and loan associations and state chartered building and loan associations not to exceed five thousand ($5,000.00) dollars in any one of such associations; provided that no such funds may be so invested in a state chartered building and loan association unless and until authorized by the federal deposit insurance corporation.

(h) In case the amount derived from the different sources mentioned and included in this article shall not be sufficient at any time to enable the said board of commissioners to pay each person entitled to the benefits therefor, in full, the compensation granted, or the retirement benefit allowed, then an equitably graded percentage of such monthly payment or payments shall be made to each beneficiary until said fund shall be replenished sufficiently to warrant the presumption thereafter of such compensation or retirement benefit to each of said beneficiaries.

(i) The board of commissioners herein created shall have power and authority to promulgate rules and regulations and to set up standards under and by which it may determine the eligibility of officers for benefits under this article, payable to peace officers who may be killed or become seriously incapacitated while in the discharge of their duty; such rules, regulations and standards shall include the amount of the benefits to be paid to the recipient in case of incapacity to perform their duty, as well as the amount to be paid such officers' dependents in case such officer is killed while in the discharge of his duty. The said board is also authorized to promulgate rules and regulations and set up standards under and by which officers may be eligible for retirement and to determine the amounts to be paid such officers as retirement benefits after it has been determined by the board that such officers are so eligible.

In order for an officer to be eligible for retirement benefits under this article, he shall voluntarily pay into the fund herein created a percentage of his monthly salary, which percentage shall be determined by the said board: Provided, that any officer so voluntarily contributing to the fund herein created, who has become incapacitated in the line of duty, shall not be required to contribute to the fund during the period of his disability. All peace officers as herein defined who are compensated on a fee basis, before they shall be eligible to participate in the retirement fund herein provided for, shall voluntarily pay into the fund a monthly amount to be determined by the said board, based upon such officer's average monthly income.

(j) All officers who have contributed to the retirement fund herein provided for, and who have had twenty years continuous service as such peace officer in this state, shall be eligible for retirement benefits and the board of commissioners is authorized, in their discretion under rules and regulations promulgated by it, to determine when an officer has completed twenty years of continuous service.

(k) The board of commissioners is authorized and empowered in its discretion, upon a finding that any officer who has contributed to the retirement fund herein provided for has been discharged from the service through no fault of his own, to reimburse from the fund herein created an amount not to exceed that which such officer has contributed to the fund under the provisions of subsection (i) of this section.

(l) No officers as herein defined shall be eligible to the retirement benefits herein provided for until the expiration of five years from the date of the ratification of this article.

(m) Law enforcement officers in the meaning of this article shall include sheriffs, deputy sheriffs, constables, police officers, prison wardens and deputy wardens, prison camp superintendents, prison stewards, prison foremen and guards, highway patrolmen, and any citizen duly deputized as a deputy by a sheriff or other law enforcement officer in an emergency, and all other officers of this state, or of any political subdivision thereof, who are clothed with the power of arrest and whose duties are primarily in enforcing the criminal laws of the state.

(n) Each justice of the peace required to assess and collect the additional cost provided for in this law shall, on or before the first day of each month, transmit such cost so collected, giving the name of the case in which such cost was taxed, to the clerk of the superior court of the county in which such case was tried, who will forthwith remit such funds to the treasurer of the state of North Carolina as in all other cases. Failure of any justice of the peace to comply with the terms of this subsection shall make such justice of the peace liable for removal from office by the resident judge.
of the judicial district in which such action was tried.

(o) No state employees participating in the retirement benefits of this article shall be eligible to participate in the retirement benefits provided by Public Laws, 1941, chapter 25, known as “The Teachers and State Employees Retirement System Act.”

(p) No state employee participating in the retirement benefits of this article shall be eligible to participate in the retirement benefits provided by “The Teachers and State Employees Retirement System Act,” § 135-1 et seq. (1937, c. 349, s. 9; 1939, c. 6, ss. 2, 3, c. 233; 1941, cc. 56, 157; 1943, c. 145.)

Editor's Note.—The 1939 amendments so changed this section that a comparison here is not practical.

The first 1941 amendment added the last sentence of subsection (g) and added at the end of subsection (m) the words “and whose duties are primarily in enforcing the criminal laws of the state.” The second 1941 amendment made changes in the first paragraph of the section and in subsection (m) and added the proviso to the said paragraph. Prior to the amendment part of the moneys mentioned in subsection (m) was paid into the general fund of the state.

For temporary act permitting highway patrolmen to transfer membership from law enforcement officers’ benefit and retirement fund to teachers’ and state employees’ retirement system, see Session Laws, 1941, c. 120.

For provision relating to membership of highway patrolmen, see § 135-3.

Art. 1. Lands Subject to Grant.

§ 146-1. Vacant lands; exceptions.—All vacant and unappropriated lands belonging to the state shall be subject to entry by any citizen thereof, in the manner hereinafter provided, except—

1. Lands covered by navigable waters.

2. Lands covered by the waters of any lake, or which, though now covered, may hereafter be gained therefrom by the recession of such waters, or have been so gained heretofore and not lawfully entered.

3. Marsh or swamp land, where the quantity of land in any one marsh or swamp exceeds two thousand acres, or where, if of less quantity, the same has been surveyed by the state, or by the state board of education, with a view to draining and reclaiming the same. (Rev., s. 1693; Code, s. 2751; R. C., c. 42, s. 1; 1854-5, c. 21; C. S. 7540.)

Cross Reference.—As to lands covered by "navigable water," see § 146-8 and notes thereto.

Effect of Grant.—Lands once granted by the state to individual citizens do not become "vacant lands" within the meaning of the statute, where the state subsequently acquires title to them but abandons the actual use to which they were put. State v. Bevers, 86 N. C. 588.

Swamp lands, within the meaning of this section are those that have not been drained and reclaimed except by drainage, or by the state. Beer v. Whitewake Lumber Co., 170 N. C. 337, 86 S. E. 1024.

A tract of land within the area of swamp lands coming within the meaning of this section need not necessarily be free from knolls or higher and drier places. State Board v. Roanoke R. Co., 128 N. C. 313, 73 S. E. 994.

Tide-lands.—The fact that tide-lands conveyed by the state board of education are thereafter filled in and reclaimed by the purchaser does not divest the title of the purchaser, since the conveyance is of the fee and not an easement in the lands. Home Real Estate Loan, etc., Co. v. Parmele, 214 N. C. 63, 197 S. E. 714.

Grant Impeding Navigation.—In respect to navigable waters the state has no right to grant or convey the land under such waters for any purpose which will destroy or materially impede the use of such waters for navigation. Home Real Estate Loan, etc., Co. v. Parmele, 214 N. C. 63, 197 S. E. 714.

Grants to Land Not Subject to Entry.—An entry made to swamp land when the body contains more than 2,000 acres is void, and a grant under such entry is void. State Board v. Roanoke R. Co., 158 N. C. 313, 73 S. E. 994. See Home Real Estate Loan, etc., Co. v. Parmele, 214 N. C. 63, 197 S. E. 714.

§ 146-2. What swamp lands subject to grant.—Marsh or swamp lands, lying in a swamp where the quantity of land does not in the whole swamp or marsh exceed two thousand acres, and which has not been surveyed by the state or state board of education, and marsh or swamp lands, unsurveyed as aforesaid, not exceeding fifty acres in one body, though lying within a marsh or swamp of a greater number of acres than two thousand, may be entered, when the same shall be situation altogether between the lines of tracts heretofore granted. (Rev. s. 1694; Code, s. 2751; R. C., c. 48, s. 1; 1854-5, c. 21; C. S. 7541.)

§ 146-3. Department of conservation and development to locate land subject to entry. — The State Department of Conservation and Development is hereby directed to investigate and locate all vacant and unappropriated lands now subject to entry and grant as described in §§ 146-1 and 146-2, and determine what parcels of land among them seem suitable for State parks, State forests, State game refuges or shooting grounds, and report at once the result of their investigation to the Governor of the State, together with their findings thereupon, and such recommendations as to the disposition of the particular parcels of land within the meaning of this section as they may determine best. If upon such report the Governor should determine that it is to the interest of the State that any particular parcel of such land should be devoted to such purposes, he shall recommend to the next succeeding session of the General Assembly the withdrawal of such parcel or parcels of land from entry, and immediately upon the publication of such proclamation, such parcel or parcels of land shall be devoted to the public purpose designed and specified. Upon such withdrawal from entry such parcel or parcels of land shall be administered for the purposes to which it is devoted by the said State Department of Conservation and Development. (1927, c. 83, s. 1.)

§ 146-4. Swamp lands defined. — The words "marsh and swamp land" wherever employed in this chapter, and the words "swamp lands" employed in the statutes creating the literary fund and literary board of North Carolina and the state board of education of North Carolina, or in any act in relation thereto, shall be construed to include all those lands which have been or may now be known and called "swamp" or "marsh" lands, "pocosin bay," "briary bay," and "savanna," and all lands which may be covered by the waters of any lake or pond. (Rev., s. 1695; 1891, c. 302; C. S. 7542.)

Cited in Home Real Estate Loan, etc., Co. v. Parmele, 214 N. C. 63, 197 S. E. 714.

§ 146-5. Investigating and locating marsh or swamp lands. — The State Department of Conservation and Development is hereby directed to investigate and locate the body or bodies, or parcel or parcels of marsh or swamp land, the title to which is now vested in the State Board of Education under §§ 146-1 and 146-4, and determine what parcels of land among them seem suitable for State parks, State forests, State game refuges or shooting grounds, and report at once the result of their investigation to the Governor of the State, together with their findings thereupon and such recommendations as to the disposition of the particular parcels of land within the meaning of this section as they may determine best. Upon such report to the Governor, he shall bring the matter to the attention of the next succeeding session of the General Assembly and if his recommendation thereupon is approved by the General Assembly, said parcel or parcels of marsh or swamp lands shall be withdrawn from sale and shall be administered for the benefit of the people of the State for the purposes set out in this act by said Department of Conservation and Development. (1927, c. 83.)

§ 146-6. Land covered by water, for wharves.—Persons owning lands on any navigable sound, river, creek or arm of the sea, for the purpose of erecting wharves on the side of the deep waters thereof, next to their lands, may make entries of the lands covered by water, adjacent to their own, as far as the deep water of such sound, river, creek, or arm of the sea, and obtain title as in other cases. But persons making such entries shall be confined to straight lines, including only the fronts of their own tracts, and shall in no respect obstruct or impair navigation. When any such entry shall be made in front of the lands in any incorporated town, the town corporation shall regulate the line on deep water to which wharves may be built. This shall not affect existing rights. For all lands thus entered there shall be paid into the treasury not less than one dollar per acre. When any person has erected a wharf on public lands of the description aforesaid, before the first of January, one thousand nine hundred and three, such person shall have liberty to enter such land, including thirty feet of any wharf, pier or stand used as a wharf, as required by this section. Wool v. Wood, 107 N. C. 139, 13 S. E. 261.

Prior to this case the court had held, because of statute, that a riparian owner in a city could not make an entry and the secretary of state could not issue a grant until the line of deep water had been regulated by the municipal corporation. Wool v. Saunders, 108 N. C. 729, 13 S. E. 294. But by statute now the duty of the town is "when any such entry is made," not in terms to fit the line of deep water but to "regulate the deep water line to which wharves may be built" as required by this section. Wool v. Edenton, 115 N. C. 10, 20 S. E. 165.

Rights go with Land.—Riparian rights being incident to land abutting on navigable water may be conveyed without a conveyance of such land, and lands covered by navigable water are subject to entry only by the owner of the land abutting thereon. Zimmerman v. Robinson, 114 N. C. 19, 19 S. E. 397, 46 S. E. 749. A plaintiff acquires only an easement in the bed of navigable waters in front of its shore lots, for the purpose of building a wharf. Atlantic, etc., R. Co. v. Way, 172 N. C. 744, 140 S. E. 937.

Same—Fishing Rights.—The right to build a wharf in front of riparian property does not give the riparian owner exclusive fishing privilege in the navigable part of the stream on which his property fronts. But the riparian owner will be protected from wrongful interference. Beil v. Smith, 171 N. C. 116, 17 S. E. 987.

§ 146-8. Recreational use of State lakes regulated.—All recreation, including hunting, fishing, etc., in, upon, or from State lakes, referred to in § 146-7 and subsequent laws, may be regulated in the public interest by the State agency having administrative authority over these areas. (1923, c. 516, s. 1.)

§ 146-9. Fish breeding protected.—For the purpose of protecting the breeding grounds of the fish inhabiting these State lakes, the administrative authority in control of said lakes may extend to the waters of all streams running into said lakes, so that such regulations relating to fishing, as in the opinion of such authority will help to accomplish such purpose, may be put into effect. (1933, c. 516, s. 2.)

Local Modification.—Craven: 1933, c. 516, s. 5.

§ 146-10. Erection of piers, etc.; permits.—No person, firm or corporation shall erect upon the floor of, or in or upon, the waters of any State lake which is State property, any dock, pier, pavilion, boat house, bath house, or other structure without first having secured a permit to do so from the State agency in charge of such State property. Said permit must set forth in required detail the size, cost and nature of such structure, and any person, firm or corporation erecting any such structure, without a proper permit or not in accordance with the specifications of said permit shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not more than $50 or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days. The State being the owner of the property may immediately proceed to remove such unlawful structure through due process of law, or may abate or remove the same as a nuisance after five days' notice. (1933, c. 516, s. 3.)

Local Modification.—Craven: 1933, c. 516, s. 5.

§ 146-11. Fishing license fees for non-residents of counties in which State lakes are situated.—The Department of Conservation and Development, through its authorized agent or agents, is hereby authorized to require of nonresidents of the county within which a State lake is situated a daily or weekly permit in lieu of the regular “resident State license” for fishing with hook and line or rod and reel within said lake in accordance with the regulations of the Department relating to said lake, as follows: A one-day permit, 35 cents; a two-day permit, 50 cents; a weekly permit, $1. With the exception of the features of this section, the laws and regulations dealing with the issuance of fishing permits by said Department must be complied with. (1933, c. 516, s. 4.)

Local Modification.—Craven: 1933, c. 516, s. 5.

§ 146-12. State lakes of 50 acres or more prohibited from ever being sold.—All lakes now belonging to the State, having an area of fifty acres or more, shall never be sold or conveyed to any person, firm or corporation, but shall always be and remain the property of the State of North Carolina for the use and benefit of all the people of the State to be administered as provided for other recreational areas now owned or to be acquired by the State. (1929, c. 165.)

§ 146-13. Void grants; not color of title.—Every entry made, and every grant issued, for any lands not authorized by this subchapter to be entered or granted, shall be void; and every grant of land made since the sixth day of March, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three, in pursuance of the statutes regulating entries and grants, shall, if such land or any portion thereof has been heretofore granted by this state, so far as relates to any such land heretofore granted, be absolutely void for all purposes whatever, shall confer no rights upon the grantee therein or those claiming under such grantee, and shall in no case and under no circumstances constitute any color of title to any person. (Rev., s. 1699; Code, s. 2755; R. C., c. 42, s. 2; 1893, c. 490; C. S. 7545.)

In General.—Where there are two or more conflicting titles derived from the State, the elder shall be preferred, upon the familiar maxim that he who in prior time shall be prior in right and shall be adjudged to have the better title. Berry v. Lumber Co., 141 N. C. 306, 54 S. E. 272.

When the express provisions of this statute where land in controversy has been previously granted to plaintiff’s predecessor in title, a subsequent grant of the same land, under which defendants claimed title, was void for all purposes. Johnston v. Kramer Bros., 200 Fed. 723.

The state’s grant of land was held not invalid under this section where land conveyed by the grant had not been covered by any previous grant. Peterson v. Lucro, 101 F. (2d) 262.

State Not Interested in Conflicting Grants.—A protest to the entry raises the issue of title solely between the enterer and protestant, in which the State is not interested, the burden being on the enterer to prove the protestants grant does not cover the land described in his entry. Walker v. Parker, 169 N. C. 150, 151, 85 S. E. 306.

Title by Adverse Possession.—Whereupon protest to the entry of State’s lands it is ascertained that the lands described in the entry are not contained in the former grant, the protestant may show, that the lands are not vacant and unappropriated by sufficient adverse possession to take the title out of the State and vest it in himself. Walker v. Parker, 169 N. C. 150, 151, 85 S. E. 306.

Title to Lappage by Adverse Possession.—To mature a title to lappage or junior grant, there must be shown actual and exclusive possession of the lappage, or the law will presume possession to be in the true owner as to that portion of the lappage not actually occupied by the junior claimant. Carolina Land Co. v. Floyd, 167 N. C. 686, 83 S. E. 607; Currie v. Gilchrist, 147 N. C. 648, 61 S. E. 581; McLean v. Smith, 106 N. C. 172, 11 S. E. 184; Boomer v. Gibbs, 114 N. C. 199, 19 E. 226; Carolina Central Land Co. v. Potter, 189 N. C. 56, 122 S. E. 743.

Application to Grants Prior to March 6, 1893.—This section providing that a junior grant shall not be color of title so far as it covers land previously granted, applies by the terms of that section, only to grants issued since March 6, 1893. Weaver v. Love, 146 N. C. 414, 415, 417, 59 S. E. 1041; Land Co. v. Westerna, 177 N. C. 246, 98 S. E. 706.

Art. 2. Entry-Taker.

§ 146-14. Election and term of office.—The board of commissioners of the several counties shall elect one person to receive entries of claims for lands within each county; and such entry-taker shall hold his office for four years. (Rev., s. 1700; Code, s. 2756; C. S. 7546.)

Deputies Not Allowed.—The duties of the entry-taker are personal and cannot be performed by a deputy or any other person. Pearson v. Powell, 100 N. C. 86, 6 S. E. 188; Maxwell v. Wallace, 38 N. C. 393.

§ 146-15. Oath of office.—The entry-taker shall take the oath of office prescribed in the chapter entitled Oaths. (Rev., s. 1703; Code, s. 2760; 1868-9, c. 173, s. 5; C. S. 7547.)

§ 146-16. Fees of entry-taker.—Entry-takers shall receive the following fees, and no other, namely: For an entry, including all services, forty cents; issuing each duplicate warrant, when thereto required, twenty-five cents; for posting and advertising, twenty-one dollars; and the costs of the newspaper advertisement. (Rev., s. 2801; Code, ss. 2765, 3744; R. C., c. 102, s. 38; 1870-1, c. 139, s. 3; 1903, c. 372, s. 3; C. S. 3920.)

§ 146-17. Bond required.—Every entry-taker shall enter into bond in the sum of five hundred dollars, payable to the state, with sufficient surety, approved by the county commissioners, for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office. (Rev., s. 304; Code, s. 2758; 1868-9, c. 173, s. 3; C. S. 7548.)

courthouse of his county, or within one mile thereof, on pain of forfeiting one hundred dollars to the county, to be sued for by the county treasurer. (Rev., s. 1704; Code, s. 2759; 1868-9, c. 173, s. 4; C. S. 7549.)

§ 146-19. Annual returns. — Every entry-taker shall make return to the secretary of state annually, on the first day of January, of all lands entered with him, under a penalty of two hundred dollars. (Rev., s. 1705; Code, s. 2775; R. C., c. 42, s. 18; 1796, c. 455, s. 9; 1881, c. 265; C. S. 7550.)

§ 146-20. Penalty for failure to make returns; how recovered. — The secretary of state shall furnish the attorney-general, at every spring term of the superior court of Wake county, with a certificate of failure in every case where an entry-taker shall fail to make return according to law; and the attorney-general shall move for judgment against such entry-taker and his sureties, and the courts shall give judgment accordingly. (Rev., s. 1706; Code, s. 2776; R. C., c. 42, s. 19; 1833, c. 15; C. S. 7551.)

§ 146-21. Warrants issued by successor in office. — In all cases where an entry is made, and the entry-taker dies or resigns before a warrant is issued thereupon, his successor shall issue a warrant. (Rev., s. 1702; Code, s. 2772; R. C., c. 42, s. 18; 1835, c. 19; C. S. 7552.)

§ 146-22. Register of deeds acts in case of vacancy. — When a vacancy exists in the office of entry-taker, the register of deeds shall act as entry-taker; the register of deeds belonging to the office, shall discharge all duties and receive the emoluments, and shall subject to the rules, regulations, and penalties prescribed for entry-takers. (Rev., s. 1701; Code, s. 2757; 1868-9, c. 100, s. 2; 1868-9, c. 173, s. 2; C. S. 7553.)

Art. 3. Entries.

§ 146-23. Who entitled to make entries. — Any citizen of this state, and all persons who come into the state with the bona fide intent of becoming residents and citizens thereof, have the right and privilege of making entries of, and obtaining grants for, vacant and unappropriated lands. (Rev., s. 1692; Code, s. 2754; 1869-70, c. 19, s. 1; C. S. 7554.)

Title of Nonresident Grantee.—A nonresident claiming under a state grant has a valid title, unless it appears that he did not conform to the statute in procuring the grant. The burden of proof is upon the plaintiff in setting aside a grant for any cause not appearing upon the face. Weaver v. Love, 146 N. C. 414, 415, 59 S. E. 1041.

How Title of Nonresident Questioned. — An alien has capacity to take, but not capacity to hold land; he cannot hold it against the sovereign, should the sovereign choose to assert his claim thereto as forfeited. But against all the rest of the world the alien has full capacity to hold, and he can hold even against the sovereign until the estate be divested by an order issued from some other equally solemn sovereign act. Rouche v. Williamson, 22 N. C. 141, 146; Wilson v. Land Co., 77 N. C. 457; Johnson v. Eversole Lumber Co., 144 N. C. 717, 730, 57 S. E. 358.

Rights of Alien Bona Fide Entered. — A resident of another State coming into this State with the intention of becoming a bona fide resident, and entering vacant land, is of right entitled to recover grants for the same, provided he moved and settled here within the time required to perfect his entry. Mockridge v. Howerton, 72 N. C. 221.

Railroads Not Included.—A railroad company having no power to acquire lands except that which is limited to railroad purposes, does not come within the intent and meaning of this section. Wallace v. Moore, 178 N. C. 114, 100 S. E. 247.

Enterer Must Show Land Is Vacant.—The burden is upon the enterer to sustain his right to make entry by showing such to be in substantial form a compliance with the statute, and the courts shall give judgment accordingly. Walker v. Carpenter, 144 N. C. 674, 57 S. E. 461.

§ 146-24. Entries in writing, with description of land. — The claimant of land shall produce to the entry-taker a writing, signed by such claimant, setting forth where the land is situated, the nearest water-courses and remarkable places, and such water-courses and remarkable places as may be therein, the natural boundaries and the lines of any other person, if any, which divide it from other lands; and every such writing shall be one-quarter sheet of paper at least. (Rev., s. 1707; Code, s. 2765; R. C., c. 42, s. 11; 1777, c. 114, s. 5; 1783, c. 185, s. 11; 1885, c. 132; 1891, c. 70; 1893, cc. 120, 270; 1903, c. 272, s. 3; C. S. 7555.)

Rights Acquired by Entry. — By making the entry as prescribed by law the enterer does not acquire title to the land, but only the right to call for a grant upon compliance with the statute. Janney v. Blackwell, 138 N. C. 437, 50 S. E. 657; Wool v. Saunders, 108 N. C. 729, 13 S. E. 294.

Rights Acquired by Entry.—An entry that is so vague that the land claimed is not identified is a "floating entry" and unless the land is identified by survey in the required time 60 days, "entry" is not good against subsequent entry. Fisher v. Owen, 144 N. C. 669, 57 S. E. 393.

It was said in an early decision, Harris v. Ewing, 21 N. C. 369, that an entry is not absolutely void in any case, merely because it is not as "special" as the party could have made it by the use of all the indicia, internal and external, supplied by the act as evidence of identity, but it is valid or invalid in respect of a subsequent enterer according to the fact that he made the same mistakes in the same circumstances, that want of particularity in it. Cain v. Downing, 161 N. C. 592, 594, 77 S. E. 764.

§ 146-25. Duty of entry-taker. — The entry-taker shall immediately endorse the same with the name of the claimant, the number of acres claimed, and date of the entry; and shall copy the same in a book well bound, and ruled with a large margin into spaces of equal distance, each space to contain one entry only, and every entry to be made in the order of time in which it shall be recorded by the entry-taker. The entry-taker shall thereupon cause a copy of the entry to be posted for thirty days at three public places in the township or townships in which the land covered by the entry is located. A copy of the entry shall also be posted for thirty days at the courthouse door of the county in which such land lies, and advertised for thirty days in a newspaper published at the county-seat of such county. If there be no newspaper published in such county, then the advertisement provided for shall be made in the nearest newspaper. (Rev., s. 1708; Code, s. 2765; 1903, c. 272, s. 3; C. S. 7556.)

Purpose of Notice. — The purpose of this notice is to give information to the public. Any person who claims title or interest in the land covered by the entry has the right within the time provided for the publication of the notice and the advertisement, and not thereafter, to file his protest (Garrison v. Williams, 150 N. C. 674, 677, 64 S. E. 783), which should contain a denial that the land is vacant and unappropriated land belonging to the State, and allegations as to his claim or interest therein. Walker v. Parker, 169 N. C. 151, 57 S. E. 180.

Entry Must Be Made by the Entry-Taker. — The entry must be made by the entry-taker and an entry made, as in [579] this case, by the claimant is void. The entry-taker is not authorized by statute to appoint a deputy. Pearson v. Pettey, 108 N. C. 387, 6 S. E. 188. An entry made by the wife of the entry-taker in his absence is void, although he allowed her to make entries, and subsequently acquiesced to what she had done. Maxwell v. Wallace, 38 N. C. 391.

§ 146-26. Protest filed; bonds required.—If any person shall claim title to or an interest in the land covered by the entry, or any part thereof, he shall, within the time of the advertisement as above provided, file his protest in writing with the entry-taker against the issuing of a warrant thereon; and upon the filing of such protest, the entry-taker shall certify copies of the entry and protest to the superior court; thereupon a notice shall be issued by the clerk of the superior court to both parties, commanding them to appear before the clerk in twenty days and file their respective bonds for costs as in other cases of the court and show cause why the entry shall not be declared inoperative and void. This section shall not deprive either party of the advantage of prosecuting or defending without giving bond, as provided in other cases. (Rev., s. 1709; Code, s. 2763; 1903, c. 272, s. 3; 1907, c. 66, s. 1; C. S. 7557.)

Purpose of Section.—The purpose of this statute is to protect a landowner's estate from irreparable damages by subsequent entries that might be fraudulent or mistaken. In re Drewery, 130 N. C. 342, 41 S. E. 937.

In re Drewery, 129 N. C. 457, 46 S. E. 208, and McNeill v. Lewis, 152 N. C. 517, are overruled—Ed Note.

Grounds for Filing Protest.—Unless the entry by the claimant is to land claimed by the protestant, protest will not lie. This is the only ground for filing protest. Cain v. Downing, 161 N. C. 592, 77 S. E. 764.

Burden on Protestant.—"The right to protest is not given to intermedi debtors, but to those who claim title to or interest in the land. (Lumber Co. v. Clarke, 122 N. C. 544, 546, 67 S. E. 1657), and the protestant is therefore required to assert his title or interest." Walker v. Parker, 188 N. C. 150, 153, 85 S. E. 316.

If a protestant shows that he claims under a grant from the state and the claimant's entry is to the same land, the entry will be set aside. The protestant does not have to show a perfect claim of title as he would have to do in ejectment. Code, s. 1104; C. S. 1104. Note.

Protestant Can Only Show His Title.—A protestant can only enter evidence as to his title. He has no evidence to disprove claimant's right to enter the land in question. Lumber Co. v. Clarke, 122 N. C. 544, 546, 67 S. E. 1657.

Title by Adverse Possession.—It is not necessary that the protestant claim title by grant, he may claim title by adverse possession. When a claim of adverse possession is interposed the burden of proof shifts to the protestant. Walker v. Parker, 169 N. C. 150, 85 S. E. 306. Note.

Floating Entry Not Notice.—An entry that is so vague or ill defined that one cannot identify it as a floating entry shall not give notice. (Rev., s. 1709; Code, s. 2763; 1907, c. 272, s. 3; 1907, c. 66, s. 1; C. S. 7557.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to 1905 this section provided that "all entries of land, made in the course of any one year, shall, in every event, be paid for, or on or before the thirty-first day of December, which shall happen, in the second year following the date of entry, thereafter; and all entries of land, not thus paid for, shall be declared null and void, and may be entered by any other person." In Barker v. Donont, 190 N. C. 723, 64 S. E. 774, the section is construed as prior cases cited. This case construes the section in a different light to the construction given in some of the early cases.

As the section was made clear by the code of 1905, the question of payment of entry will more often arise in regard to entries prior to that time.

This section is not applicable to Cherokee Lands as the entry and grant of this land is governed by chapter 11 of the Code of 1883. Frasier v. Gibson, 140 N. C. 272, 53 S. E. 1035; Kimsey v. Monday, 112 N. C. 816, 17 S. E. 583.

§ 146-28. When entry lapses, subsequent entry valid.—Whenever an entry of land shall be made in any entry-taker's office, and the enterer shall fail to have the land surveyed and pay the price for the same within the time limited by law, any person who may have made a subsequent entry for the same land shall have the same surveyed and pay the price and have a grant. (Rev., s. 1710; Code, s. 2767; R. C., c. 42, s. 9; 1809, c. 771; C. S. 7559.)

In General.—"Where an enterer allows his entry to lapse, before taking out his grant the entry becomes null, and any grant founded upon it is also void. If the entry is of such a nature as to give a notice of it, and if the entry was gone by the efflux of time, and, after the right of another, who had shown more diligence, accrued. Stanly v. Biddle, 126 N. C. 383; Wilson v. Land Co., 77 N. C. 457; Horton v. Cook, 54 N. C. 270; Bryson v. Dobson, 38 N. C. 138." Gilchrist v. Middleton, 107 N. C. 663, 678, 12 S. E. 83.

By failure to have a grant issued on an entry in the required time, such entry will lapse and a junior entry will give good title. Kimsey v. Monday, 112 N. C. 816, 17 S. E. 583.

When Senior Enterer Trustee for Junior Enterer.—Under an entry where the purchase-money has been paid to state in due time the enterer has a right to call on the state for a grant even 46 years after the entry. But if there has been a subsequent entry by an innocent person without notice the senior enterer will hold as trustee for the junior enterer with senior grant. Gilchrist v. Middleton, 108 N. C. 705, 13 S. E. 227.

§ 146-29. Lapsed entries not renewed within one year.—No lands entered on the books of the entry-taker, the entry of which shall be suffered to lapse by nonpayment of the price thereof, shall be reentered within one year after the time at which such entry shall lapse, by the person in whose name such entry was made, but such entry shall be void. (Rev., s. 1712; Code, s. 2768; R. C., c. 42, s. 10; C. S. 7560.)

§ 146-30. Entry for benefit of entry-taker.—If any entry-taker shall desire to make an entry in his own name, the same shall be made in its proper place, before a justice of the peace of the county, not being a surveyor or assistant; which entry the justice shall return to the next meeting of the board of county commissioners, who shall insert it; and every entry made by or for such entry-taker, in any other manner, shall be void. (Rev., s. 1711; Code, s. 2773; R. C., c. 42, s. 13; 1907, c. 134, s. 13; 1917, c. 134, s. 13.)

Strictly Construed.—This section was passed to prohibit improper practice and therefore must be followed. An entry by an entry-taker in any other manner is void. Terrell v. Manney, 6 N. C. 375, 377.

Art. 4. Surveys.

§ 146-31. Warranty for survey issued.—If no protest be filed, or where the protest is filed and the right of the claimant to make the entry is sustained, the entry-taker shall deliver to the party a copy of the entry with its proper number and a warrant to the surveyor to survey the same, which warrant shall contain a copy of the entry with its number and date, and a certificate that notice has been given as above provided, and that no protest has been filed, or that protest has been filed and that the court has decided in favor of the claimant. Each warrant shall be delivered to the surveyor in the order of time in which the entry was made. (Rev., s. 1713; Code, s. 2763; 1903, c. 272, s. 3; C. S. 7562.)

§ 146-32. Duplicate warrants.—When any person duly makes an entry of lands which has not become void by lapse of time, and upon which the entry-taker has issued his warrant of survey, and the same be lost by accident, the entry-taker, on due proof being made to his satisfaction, by affidavit of the claimant or the surveyor, may issue a duplicate warrant of survey, of the same tenor and date taking care to set forth, on the face of such warrant, that the same is a duplicate; in which case such warrant shall be made as valid as the original. (Rev., s. 1714; Code, s. 2771; R. C., c. 42, s. 14; 1814, c. 878, s. 1; C. S. 7565.)

§ 146-33. Surveys according to priority of entry.—The surveyor shall survey all entries of land according to the priority of entry, paying due respect to the number of each warrant; and every grant obtained by any subsequent entry otherwise than is by this chapter directed, shall be void: Provided, nothing herein shall be construed to prevent any person who shall make a subsequent entry from surveying and obtaining a grant, as the law directs, for all such surplus land as shall remain, after the enterer of such land has surveyed his entry as aforesaid. (Rev., s. 1715; Code, s. 2770; R. C., c. 42, s. 13; 1787, c. 279; C. S. 7564.)

Time of Junior Entry.—It is not necessary that the prior entry be made before the junior entry is made, for the junior entry is only good as to what remains after the survey of the prior entry, or by lapse of the prior entry. Stanly v. Biddle, 57 N. C. 383, 384.

Survey by a Deputy.—A survey by a deputy not duly sworn is not sufficient to give enterer good title under the survey. Avery v. Walker, 8 N. C. 140.

§ 146-34. Chainbearers sworn.—No survey for the purpose of obtaining a grant shall be made until the chainbearers shall be sworn to measure justly and truly, and to deliver a true account thereof to the surveyor. The chainbearers shall actually measure the land surveyed. The surveyor is empowered to administer the oath. (Rev., s. 1717; Code, s. 2769; R. C., c. 42, s. 12; 1777, c. 11; s. 10; C. S. 7555.)

In General.—It is necessary that the chain-carrier be sworn before a bill for relief and conveyance of legal title will lie against one claiming under a junior entry and grant. Avery v. Walker, 8 N. C. 140.

This and the following sections do not prescribe the method to be used in measuring the lines in surveying an entry. Cody v. England, 221 N. C. 40, 19 S. E. (2d) 10.

§ 146-35. Survey made and plots prepared.—Every county surveyor, upon receiving the copy of the entry and order of survey for any claim of lands, shall, within ninety days, lay off and survey the same agreeably to this chapter; and make thereof two fair plots, the scale whereof and the number of the entry shall be mentioned on such plots; and shall set down in words the beginning, angles, distances, marks, and water-courses, and other remarkable places crossed or touched by or near to the lines of such lands, and also the quantity of acres; and land lying on any navigable water shall be surveyed in such manner that the water shall form one side of the survey, and the land be laid off back from the water. (Rev., s. 1716; Code, s. 2769; R. C., c. 42, s. 12; 1777, c. 114, s. 10; 1903, c. 272, s. 4; C. S. 7566.)

Plots Evidence of Land Actually Surveyed.—The plots are evidence of the survey and in case of a mistake of the draughtsman in drawing the deed they are admissible to show the land actually surveyed, and intended to be included in the grant and deed. Higdon v. Rice, 119 N. C. 525, 26 S. E. 256.

A plat may be introduced to show that the grant does not include the land surveyed. Dugger v. McKesson, 100 N. C. 1, 6 S. E. 746.

The original plat is made a part of the grant for the purpose of indicating the shape and location of the boundary, and is, of course, evidence, though not conclusive, to be submitted to the jury as to the true shape and location of the land. Redmond v. Mallenax, 113 N. C. 503, 512, 18 S. E. 708.

Line on Navigable Waters.—A grant of riparian property running with a navigable stream will be construed to grant only to the low water mark. This rule applies to municipal corporations as well as to individuals. State v. Eason, 114 N. C. 787, 791, 19 S. E. 88.

§ 146-36. Plots and warrants sent to secretary of state.—The surveyor shall, within one year, transmit the plots, together with the warrant or order of survey, to the office of the secretary of state, or deliver them to the claimant. The secretary of state shall, on receipt of the plots, file one in his office, and attach the other to the grant. (Rev., ss. 1718, 1734; Code, s. 2769; R. C., c. 42, s. 12; 1777, c. 114; C. S. 7567.)

Plots as Evidence.—As the county surveyor is required to send two plots to the Secretary of State, a certified copy can be used in evidence to show the shape of the land surveyed. Such evidence is not conclusive. Higdon v. Rice, 119 N. C. 623, 26 S. E. 256.

§ 146-37. Special surveyor appointed, if no county surveyor.—When the office of county surveyor is vacant, the county commissioners may appoint a special surveyor to survey any lands that may be entered; and the plots and certificates of such special surveyor, accompanied by a copy of the order of the county commissioners appointing him, shall be held valid, as if done by a county surveyor duly elected. (Rev., s. 1719; Code, s. 2769; R. C., c. 42, s. 12; 1777, c. 114, s. 10; C. S. 7568.)

§ 146-38. Special surveyor, when county surveyor interested.—When a county surveyor wishes to have lands surveyed in a county where he acts as principal surveyor, for the purpose of obtaining a grant, the board of county commissioners of the county shall appoint some person to make the survey, and the entry-taker shall direct his warrant of survey to such person; and all certificates, surveys, and plots of the same shall be made under the same regulations as prescribe the duty of the county surveyor in similar cases. (Rev., s. 1721; Code, s. 2774; R. C., c. 42, s. 17; 1828, c. 23; C. S. 7569.)

A deputy surveyor cannot be appointed by a county surveyor, and if properly appointed a deputy cannot survey his own land. Avery v. Walker, 8 N. C. 140.
§ 146-39. Record of surveys to be kept.—The county commissioners of the several counties of the state shall provide a suitable book or books for recording of surveys of entries of land, to be known as Record of Surveys, to be kept in the office of the county surveyor or his deputy surveyor who makes a survey to record in such book a perfect and complete record of all surveys of lands made upon any warrant issued upon any entry, and date and sign same as of the day such survey was made. (Rev., s. 1722; 1905, c. 242; C. S. 7570.)

Vague Record Not Good against Junior Enterer.—Prior to this section an entry of the State's vacant and unappropriated lands too vague to give notice of the boundaries of the land intended to be entered was not sufficient notice to a second enterer who has perfected his grant in ignorance of the first; and the mere running of the lines of the lands by survey or the making of a map by the first enterer which he could keep in his possession, or the warrant to the county surveyor, necessarily no more definite than the original entry, did not remedy the defective description of the entry. This section provides for notice of all surveys and such will not hereafter arise. Lovin v. Carver, 150 N. C. 710, 64 S. E. 775.

§ 146-40. Former surveys recorded.—Where any ex-county surveyor is alive and has correct minutes or notes of surveys of land on entries made by him during his term of office, it shall be lawful for the surveyor or his deputy surveyor who makes a survey to record in such book a perfect and complete record of all surveys of lands made upon any warrant issued upon any entry, and date and sign same as of the day such survey was made. (Rev., s. 1722; 1905, c. 242; C. S. 7570.)

§ 146-41. What record must show; received as evidence.—All surveys so recorded in such book shall show the number of the tract of land, the name of the party entering, and the name of the assignee if there be any assignee, and shall be duly indexed, both alphabetically and numerically, in such record in the name of the party making the entry, and the name of the assignee if there be any assignee. Such record of any survey by a county surveyor when so made shall be read in evidence in any action or proceeding in any court: Provided, that if such record differs from the original certificates of survey heretofore made or on file in office of secretary of state, such original or certified copy of the certificate in secretary of state's office shall control. (Rev., s. 1725; 1905, c. 242, s. 2; C. S. 7571.)

§ 146-42. Fees for recording.—For recording and indexing such surveys the surveyor may charge twenty-five cents, which shall be paid by the party for whom the survey is made; and any surveyor shall not be required to make any survey until his fees provided by law are paid, including the twenty-five cents for recording and indexing. (Rev., s. 1724; 1905, c. 242, s. 4; C. S. 7573.)

§ 146-43. Penalty for failure to make record.—Any county surveyor or deputy surveyor failing to make such record as any surveyor within sixty days after he makes a survey shall forfeit and pay to any party who may sue for the same two hundred dollars, and be subject to be removed from office by the board of county commissioners, and if any surveyor is removed the county commissioners shall appoint his successor, and all papers and records of a public nature in the possession of such surveyor so removed, or who may die, shall be turned over to his successor in office. (Rev., s. 1726; 1905, c. 242, s. 5; 1907, c. 579, s. 1; C. S. 7574.)

Art. 5. Grants.

§ 146-44. Price to be paid for land.—Whenever an entry and survey of any vacant and unappropriated land belonging to the state shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, he shall immediately investigate the character of the land and determine its market value from its character and location, and thereupon fix the price per acre for said lands. Said price so fixed by the secretary of state shall be paid by the enterer to the treasurer of the state before any grant of the same is made by the secretary of state. (Rev., s. 1733; 1909, c. 447; 1927, ch. 8, s. 3; 1929, cc. 78, 210; 1931, c. 119; C. S. 7575.)

Local Modification.—Cherokee, Clay, Graham, Macon and Swain: Fees for entering land fixed at one and one-half dollars per acre. Mooney v. Morgan, 191 N. C. 277, 14 S. E. (2d) 46.

§ 146-45. Price paid state treasurer.—The state treasurer shall receive the money for vacant and unappropriated lands belonging to the state, with certain well defined exceptions, subject to entry and grant, and when there are successive grants of the same land, the prior grant prevails. Perry v. Morgan, 219 N. C. 277, 14 S. E. (2d) 46.

§ 146-46. Grant issued on auditor's certificate.—No grant shall issue on the treasurer's receipt for the money; but the auditor shall make out and deliver to the secretary of state a certificate, conformable to each receipt by him countersigned, on which the secretary shall issue the grant. (Rev., s. 1728; Code, s. 2777; R. C., c. 42, s. 20: 1827, c. 23: 1829, c. 30: C. S. 7576.)

Payment into the state treasury without the certificate of the Secretary of State is a voluntary unauthorized act and does not entitle the party to a grant, under his entry, Buchanan v. Fitzgerald, 41 N. C. 121.

§ 146-47. Manner of issuing grant.—The secretary of state, on application of claimants, shall make out grants for all surveys returned to his office, which grants shall be authenticated by the governor, countersigned by the secretary, and recorded in his office. The date of the entry, and the number of the survey from the certificate of survey upon which the grant is founded shall be inserted in every grant, and a copy of the plot shall be attached to the grant; and no grant shall issue upon any survey unless the same be signed by the surveyor of the county. Upon certificate from the entry-taker that the claimant has assigned his interest under the entry, a grant shall be issued in the name of the assignee: Provided, that as the assignee is a citizen and resident of this state, or has come into the state with the bona fide intent of becoming a resident and citizen thereof. (Rev., ss. 1729, 1734, 1735; Code, ss. 2779, 2779 R.; R. C. c. 42, s. 22, 1777, c. 114, s. 170, 170 N. C. 298, 43 S. E. 699. A paper signed by the Governor and countersigned by the Secretary of State, although not bearing the Great Seal of the State, is admissible in evidence to show title. Howell v. Hurley, 170 N. C. 401, 87 S. E. 107. This case came up twice to be heard, and it was decided that as a grant it was not admissible in evidence but as an abstract of grant it was admissible as it was entered on record, and it will be presumed that the officers performed their duty in issuing the grant. Ed. Note.

Secretary of State Must Sign.—A grant of land if not signed by the Secretary of State is void. Hunter v. Williams, 8 N. C. 221.

Deputy Signing.—It is necessary that the Secretary of State must countersign the grant of land if it is signed by a deputy of the Secretary of State, provided no vested rights are inter-

Grant Not Void for Failure to Register it.—A grant is not void because of failure to record it. A junior grant that is signed by the Secretary of State is void. Richards v. Lumber Co., 158 N. C. 729, 43 S. E. 497.

Sufficient Evidence for Registration.—The certificate of the Secretary of State of North Carolina, attached to a grant of land and attested by the great seal of the State, is sufficient evidence of its official character to warrant the registration of such a grant. Barchell v. Moore, 113 N. C. 713, 732, 24 S. E. 124; Wyman v. Taylor, 134 N. C. 436, 32 S. E. 740; Ray v. Stewart, 103 N. C. 472, 11 S. E. 183.

Extension of Time for Registration.—"Prior to 1885 the statutes provided that all grants, deeds, etc., be registered in the county wherein the land was situated within two years of the date thereof. With one or two omissions, the Legislature uniformly extended the time for registration for two years. The Supreme Court with equal uniformity held that such instrument, when registered within the prescribed time, their dates within the extended period, were good and valid for all purposes from their date by registration." Janney v. Blackwell, 136 N. C. 437, 438, 49 S. E. 897.

Cited in United States v. 7,405.3 Acres of Land, 97 F. (2d) 488.

§ 146-49. Grant issued in case of claimant's death.—In case of the death of any person having made an entry of lands, pending the same or before making out the grant, the secretary shall issue the grant in the name of the decedent; and those interested, as heirs at law, devisees, tenants in dower, by the curtesy, or otherwise, shall have the same estate as if the land had been granted during the life of the decedent. (Rev., s. 1730; Code, ss. 2776; R. C. c. 42, s. 23; 1715, c. 44, s. 6; 1798, c. 459, s. 6; C. S. 7580.)
for exchange by the governor, the secretary of state, on request of the department of conservation and development, shall issue grants in accordance with such agreements. (Rev. s. 1727; 1903, c. 272, s. 3; 1935, c. 173; C. S. 7581.)

Editor's Note.—The case of Wool v. Saunders, 108 N. C. 729, 13 S. E. 294, laid down the rule that the Secretary of State must issue a grant when enterer had complied with all requirements. But by this section the rule is changed. The last paragraph of this section was added by the 1935 amendment.

§ 146-51. Cutting timber on land before obtaining a grant.—If any person shall make an entry of any lands, and before perfecting title to same shall enter upon such lands and cut therefrom any wood, trees, or timber, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Any person found guilty under the provisions of this section shall further pay to the secretary of the solicitor of the district in which the land lies to sue for the same. (Rev., s. 3741; 1903, c. 272, s. 4; C. S. 7582.)

§ 146-52: Transferred to § 104-25.

§ 146-53. Card index system for grants.—The secretary of state shall install in his office a card index system for grants, and every warrant, plot, and survey that can be found shall be encased in separate envelopes. Each card and envelope shall show substantially the following:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>County</th>
<th>Grant No.</th>
<th>Issue</th>
<th>Grant Book</th>
<th>Page</th>
<th>Entry No.</th>
<th>Entered</th>
<th>File No.</th>
<th>Location</th>
<th>Remarks</th>
</tr>

Such grant books as are old and falling to pieces shall be recopied, and whenever any part of the record of a grant is partly gone or destroyed the secretary of state shall restore same, if he can do so with accuracy from the description in the plot and survey upon which the grant was issued and original record made. (1909, c. 505, ss. 1, 2, 3; C. S. 7584.)

§ 146-54. Grant of Moore’s Creek battlefield authorized.—In conjunction with an act of Congress relating to the establishment of the Moore’s Creek National Military Park (June 2, 1926, c. 448, s. 2, 44 Stat. 684, U. S. Code, Title 16, ss. 422-422(d), the Governor of the State of North Carolina is hereby authorized to execute to the United States Government a deed vesting the title to Moore’s Creek Battlefield, Pender County, in said United States Government on behalf of the State of North Carolina, to preserve the same as an historical battlefield: Provided, that the consent of the State of North Carolina to such acquisition by the United States is upon the express condition that the State of North Carolina shall so far retain a concurrent jurisdiction with the United States over such battlefield as that all civil and criminal processes issued from the courts of the State of North Carolina may be executed thereon in like manner as if this authority had not been given: Provided further, that the title to said battlefield so conveyed to the United States shall revert to the State of North Carolina unless said land is used for the purpose for which it is ceded. (1925, c. 40; 1927, c. 56.)

Editor's Note.—The 1927 amendment struck the words “and that the state of North Carolina also reserves authority to prevent all violation of its criminal laws committed on said tract of land so ceded” which immediately preceded the last proviso.

Art. 6. Correction of Grants.

§ 146-55. Change of county line before grant issued or registered.—All grants issued on entries for lands which were entered in one county, and before the issuing of the grants therefor, or the registration of the grants, by the change of former county lines, or the establishment of new lines, the lands so entered were placed in a county, or in counties different from that in which they were situated, and the grants were registered in the county where the entries were made, shall be good and valid, and the registration of the grants shall have the same force and effect as if they had been registered in the county where the lands were situated; and all persons claiming under and by such grants may have them, or a certified copy of the same, from the office of the secretary of state, or from the office of the register of deeds where they had been erroneously registered, recorded in the office of the register of deeds of the county or counties where the lands lie, and such registration shall have the same force and effect as if the grants had been duly registered in such county or counties. (Rev., s. 1736; 1897, c. 37; C. S. 7585.)

When the entry and survey are made in one county, the registering of the deed in that county gives good title although a new county may have been organized including the land granted before the grant was registered. Wyman v. Taylor, 124 N. C. 426, 32 S. E. 740; McMillan v. Gombill, 106 N. C. 359, 11 S. E. 273.

§ 146-56. Entries in wrong county.—Whereas many citizens of the state, on making entries of lands near the lines of the county wherein they reside, either for want of proper knowledge of the land laws of the state or not knowing the county lines, have frequently made entries and extended their surveys on such entries into other counties than those wherein they were made, and obtained grants on the same; and whereas doubts have existed with respect to the validity of the titles to lands situated as aforesaid, so far as they extend into other counties than those where the entries were made; for remedy whereof it is hereby declared that all grants issued on entries made for lands situated as aforesaid shall be good and valid against any entries thereafter made or grants issued thereon. (Rev., s. 1737; Code, s. 2784; R. C., c. 42, s. 27; 1805, c. 675; 1834, c. 17; C. S. 7586.)

Entry in County Where No Part of Land Lies.—Land can only be entered in the county where it lies, and entry and grant in another county is void. Lumsford v. Bostion, 16 N. C. 483; Harris v. Norman, 96 N. C. 59, 2 S. E. 72; Avery v. Strother, 1 N. C. 558.

Land in Two Counties.—This section only extends to cases where the entry of land lying partly in two counties, which is unknown to the grantee, is made only in one county. In such cases the statute cures the defect. Harris v. Norman, 96 N. C. 59, 2 S. E. 72.

§ 146-57. Errors in surveys of plots corrected.—Whenever there may be an error by the surveyor in plotting or making out the certificate for the secretary's office, or the secretary shall make a mistake in the courses according to such returns, or the name of the grantee, or make other mistake, so as such claimant shall be injured thereby, the claimant may prefer a petition to the superior court of the county in which the land lies, setting forth the injury which he might sustain in consequence of such error or mistake, with all the matters and things relative thereto; and the court may hear testimony respecting the truth of the allegations set forth in the petition; and if it shall appear by the testimony that the patentee is liable to be injured thereby, the court shall direct the clerk to certify the facts to the secretary of state. Provided, no such petition shall be preferred except when any person may have made himself a party to prevent the prayer of the petitioner being granted, in which case the costs shall be paid as the court may decree. The benefits granted by this section shall affect the rights or interest of any person claiming under a patent issued between the dates of the patents referred to in the proper place the words, figures, or names omitted or not correctly given or suggested by the context; or if the description in the grant does not correspond with the surveyor's certificate attached to the grant, or if in recording the grant in his office the secretary of state has heretofore made or may hereafter make any mistake or omission by which any part of any grant has not been correctly recorded, the secretary of state shall, upon the application of any party interested and the payment to him of his lawful fees, correct the original grant by inserting in the proper place the words, figures, or names omitted or not correctly given or suggested by the context; or if the description in the grant does not correspond with the surveyor's plot or certificate, he shall make the former correspond with the latter as the true facts may require. In case the party interested prefer it, the secretary of state shall issue a duplicate of the original grant, including therein the corrections made; and in those cases in which grants have not been correctly recorded he shall make the proper corrections upon his records, or by rerecording, as he may prefer; and any grant corrected as aforesaid may be recorded in any county of the state as other grants are recorded, and have relation to the time of the entry and date of the grant as in other cases. (Rev., s. 1741; 1889, c. 460; C. S. 7590.)

Power to Correct Errors Not Judicial.—The power conferred upon the Secretary of State to correct errors in grants of State's land, by supplying omissions, or correcting the names of grantees, material words, figures, etc., conferred upon him only a ministerial authority and not a judicial power. Herbert v. Union Development Co., 179 N. C. 662, 103 S. E. 380.

§ 146-61. Irregular entries validated.—Wherever persons have prior to January first, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three, irregularly entered lands and have paid the fees required by law to the secretary of state, and have obtained grants for such lands duly executed, the title to the lands shall not be affected by reason of such irregular entries; and the grants are hereby declared to be as valid as if such entries had been properly made. (Rev., s. 1743; Code, s. 2761; 1901, c. 42; 1874-5, c. 662, 103 S. E. 380.)

In General.—An irregularity in receiving grants from the state is cured by this act. Wyman v. Taylor, 124 N. C. 426, 75 S. E. 291.
in such capacity, such grants are hereby declared valid; but nothing herein contained shall interfere with vested rights. (Rev., s. 1744; 1905, c. 519; C. S. 7592.)

This section does not interfere with vested rights, and therefore a grant countersigned by a clerk is not valid if it conflicts with a prior grant, but is valid as between the state and the grantee, if there was no prior grant. Richard v. Ritter Lumber Co., 156 N. C. 54, 73 S. E. 485.

§ 146-63. Time for registering grants extended.
—All grants from the state of North Carolina of lands and interests in land heretofore made, which were required or allowed to be registered within a time specified by law, or in the grants themselves, may be registered in the counties in which the lands lie respectively at any time within six years from the first day of January, nineteen hundred and eighteen, notwithstanding the fact that such specified time has already expired, and all such grants heretofore registered after the expiration of such specified time shall be taken and treated as if they had been registered within such specified time: Provided, that nothing herein contained shall be held or have the effect to divest any rights, titles, or equities in or to the land covered by such grants, or any of them, acquired by any person from the state of North Carolina by or through any entry or grant made or issued since such grants were respectively issued, or those claiming through or under such subsequent entry or grant. (Rev., s. 1474; 1905, c. 40; 1901, c. 175; 1905, c. 6; 1907, c. 505; 1909, c. 187; 1911, c. 189; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 27; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 45; 1915, c. 170; 1917, c. 84; Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 78; 1921, c. 153; C. S. 7593.)

Editor’s Note.—By the Public Laws of Extra Session 1920 the time for registration was extended two years. The Public Laws of 1921 extended this time two years more. Registration against Junior Grant.—Where neither party has possession the senior grant is valid against a junior grant duly recorded no matter how long registration may have been delayed by senior grantee. Janney v. Blackwell, 138 N. C. 43, 59 S. E. 857.

It is not necessary that a grant from the state be registered to make it valid. The retroactive statutes making grants registered after the time prescribed valid, gives good title against a junior grant duly recorded. Dew v. Pyke, 145 N. C. 300, 59 S. E. 76.

§ 146-64. Time for registering grants extended.
—The time is hereby extended until September first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six, for the proving and registering of all deeds of gift, grants from the State, or other instruments of writing heretofore executed and which are permitted or required by law to be registered, and which were or are required to be proved and registered within a limited time from the date of their execution; and all such instruments which have heretofore been or may be probated and registered before the expiration of the period herein limited shall be held and deemed, from and after the date of such registration, to have been probated and registered in due time, if proved in due form, and registration thereof to be of other respects valid: Provided, that nothing in this section shall be held or deemed to validate or attempt to validate or give effect to any informal instrument; and Provided further, that this section shall not affect pending litigation: Provided further, that nothing herein contained shall be held deemed to place any limitation upon the time allowed for the registration of any instrument where no such limit is now fixed by law. (Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 20.)

Cross Reference.—As to holdings prior to this section, see notes to § 146-47.

Effect on § 47-26.—Where a mother has made a deed of gift of her lands to her son, who has failed to have it registered in the time required by § 47-26, and it is for that reason void, a later curative statute extending the time for registration cannot revive the void deed to the son. Under the facts, vested rights thereunder have been acquired. Booth v. Hairston, 193 N. C. 278, 136 S. E. 879, 57 A. L. R. 1116; (rehearing) 195 N. C. 841, 141 S. E. 480.

§ 146-65. Time for registering grants extended.
—The time for the registration of grants issued by the State of North Carolina be and the same is hereby extended for a period of two years from January first, nineteen hundred and twenty-five: Provided, that nothing herein contained shall be held or have the effect to divest any rights, titles or equities in or to the land covered by such grants, or any of them, acquired by any person from the State of North Carolina by or through any entry or grant made or issued since such grants were respectively issued, or those claiming through or under such subsequent entry or grant. (1925, c. 97.)

§ 146-66. Further extension.—The time for the registration of grants issued by the State of North Carolina, or copies of such grants duly certified by the Secretary of State under his official seal, be and the same hereby is extended for a period of two years from the first day of January, nineteen hundred and twenty-seven, and such grants or copies thereof duly certified as above set forth may be registered within such time as fully as the original might have been registered at any time heretofore: Provided, that nothing herein contained shall be held or have the effect to divest any rights, titles, or equities in or to the land covered by such grants or any of them, acquired by any person from the State of North Carolina by or through any entry or grant made or issued since such grants were respectively issued, or those claiming through or under such subsequent entry or grant. (1927, c. 140.)

Art. 7. Grants Vacated.

§ 146-67. Civil action to vacate grant.—When any person claiming title to lands under a grant, or patent from the king of Great Britain, any of the lords proprietors of North Carolina, or from the state of North Carolina, shall consider himself aggrieved by any grant or patent issued or made since the fourth day of July, one thousand seven hundred and seventy-six, to any other person, against law or obtained by false suggestions, surprise, or fraud, the person aggrieved may bring a civil action in the superior court for the county in which such land may be, together with an authenticated copy of such grant or patent, briefly stating the grounds whereon such patent should be repealed and vacated, whereupon the grantee, patentee, or the person, owner, or claimant under such grant or patent, shall be required to show cause why the same shall not be repealed and vacated. (Rev., s. 1748; Code, s. 2786; R. C., c. 42, s. 29; C. S. 7594.)

Collateral Attack of Grant.—If the land be not subject to entry, the grant is void and may be attacked collaterally. Janney v. Blackwell, 138 N. C. 437, 50 S. E. 887.
Plaintiff Must Claim an Interest in Land.—An action cannot be had under this section unless it is made to appear that the plaintiff has an interest in the land claimed by the defendant. Wadsworth v. Coxard, 175 N. C. 15, 94 S. E. 670. Jones v. Riggs, 104 N. C. 281, 70 S. E. 465.

Where the state has no interest in the land an action to vacate a grant must be brought by the party in interest in his own name or for his own expense. State v. Blanchard, 123 N. C. 739, 31 S. E. 475.

§ 146-68. Judgment recorded in secretary of state's office.—If, upon verdict or demurrer, the court believe that the patent or grant was made under the provisions of this section, some of which lay in a different county from that wherein the action was brought, that the allegation of fraud and false suggestion involve one and the same transaction, affecting each and all the grants, if any, subject of the litigation, it is unnecessary to bring a separate action in respect to the grants issued in the other county, some of the lands, the subject of the action lying in the county wherein the action was brought. Hardware v. Waldo, 161 N. C. 196, 76 S. E. 680.

§ 146-69. Action by state to vacate grants.—An action may be brought by the attorney-general, in the name of the state, for the purpose of vacating or annulling letters patent granted by the state, in the following cases:

1. When he has reason to believe that such letters patent were obtained by means of some fraudulent suggestion or concealment of a material fact, made by the person to whom the patent or grant was made, or with his consent or knowledge; or

2. When he has reason to believe that such letters patent were issued through mistake, or in ignorance of a material fact; or

3. When he has reason to believe that the patentee, or those claiming under him, have done or omitted an act, in violation of the terms and conditions on which the letters patent were granted, so as to have forfeited the interest acquired under the same. (Rev., s. 1749; Code, s. 2787; R. C., c. 42, s. 30; C. S. 7595.)

State Must Be a Party Interested.—The state can only bring an action to set aside a grant because of fraud practiced on the state must be brought by the attorney-general in the name of the state, and cannot be brought by any other person. Henry v. McCloy, 131 N. C. 586, 42 S. E. 255; Jones v. Riggs, 112 N. C. 816, 830, 17 S. E. 583.

Grounds for Vacating.—Where a grant has been in strict compliance with the law; right of property has been acquired which cannot be taken away, even by the state, in the absence of an allegation of fraud or mistake, except after compensation and under the principle of eminent domain. State v. Spencer, 114 N. C. 770, 19 S. E. 93.

Applicable Only to Land Grants.—A license to sell liquor is not a letter patent to be vacated by quo warranto under this section. Hargett v. Bell, 134 N. C. 394, 46 S. E. 959.

Proceeding by the attorney-general to vacate a charter of a corporation cannot be brought under this section, or because of any authority vested by law or charter, but must be brought under section 55-126. Attorney-General v. Holly Shelter R. Co., 134 N. C. 481, 46 S. E. 959.

Art. 8. Phosphate Beds.

§ 146-70. Phosphate beds in navigable waters entered.—Any resident of this state who shall make affidavit before the clerk of the superior court of any county through which such navigable stream may flow, that he has discovered in any navigable stream or waters of this state any phosphate rock or phosphate deposit therein shall have authority and power to enter under the entry laws of this state so much of the bed of any such navigable stream or waters as shall not exceed in any one entry two miles in length up the middle of any such stream or water for the purpose of digging, mining, or removing any such deposit or rock. (Rev., s. 1751; 1891, c. 476; C. S. 7597.)

§ 146-71. Grant obtained; term; royalty.—Upon such affidavit being filed with the entry-taker, and upon a survey and plot being made of such entry by the county surveyor as is now required by law in cases of entry of land, being made and certified to the secretary of state with a copy of such affidavit and entry so made, the secretary of state shall issue a patent of patent or grant to such person, his heirs or assigns, for a term of twenty-five years for the land, with the proviso and condition inserted therein that the grantee therein shall pay to the treasurer of the state of the number of tons of phosphate rock and phosphate deposit so dug, mined, or removed. (Rev., s. 1752; 1891, c. 476, s. 2; C. S. 7598.)

§ 146-72. Exclusive right to mine; bond for royalty.—Such grantee, his heirs or assigns, shall have the exclusive right to mine, dig, or remove any such phosphate rock or deposit for the term of twenty-five years from the date of the patent upon paying the royalty of one dollar per ton for every ton of the crude phosphate rock or deposit mined, dug, or removed. (Rev., s. 1753; 1891, c. 476, s. 3; C. S. 7599.)

such stream or water, nor confer upon such person or his assigns any other right than that granted to take, mine, or dig phosphate rock or deposit therefrom. (Rev., s. 1754; 1891, c. 476, s. 4; C. S. 7600.)

§ 146-74. Fees for issuing grant for phosphate beds.—No fee or cost shall be charged or collected by the secretary of state of any person or corporation receiving any patent or grant under this article, except the fee allowed by law to the secretary of state for issuing a patent under the entry laws of the state. (Rev., s. 1755; 1891, c. 476, s. 5; C. S. 7601.)

§ 146-75. Failure to operate for two years vacates grant.—Any person or corporation who shall fail to dig, mine or remove phosphate rock or deposit from any such stream or water to which he or it may be entitled under any patent or grant issued under the provisions of this article for the period of two years from the date of the patent, or after beginning digging, mining, or removing the same, shall fail to continue to do so dig, mine, or remove the same for the period of 'two years, shall forfeit all rights therein granted, and the territory shall immediately thereupon become subject to entry under the provisions of this article, without making the affidavit of the discovery of any such deposits or rocks. (Rev., s. 1756; 1891, c. 476, s. 6; C. S. 7602.)

§ 146-76. Mining phosphate without grant.—Any person or corporation resident of this state shall have the right to mine, dig, or remove phosphate rock or deposits from any of the navigable streams or waters in this state to which no exclusive patent or grant may have been issued, upon such person or corporation first entering into bond in the penal sum of five thousand dollars, payable to the treasurer of the state, for the payment of the same royalty, in the same manner and under the same regulations as are prescribed in this article for persons operating under a grant; but nothing in this section shall be construed to give to any such person or corporation any exclusive franchise or privilege to dig, mine, or remove any such phosphate rock or deposit from any stream or water of this state. (Rev., s. 1757; 1891, c. 476, s. 7; C. S. 7603.)

§ 146-77. Mining phosphate rock in rivers.—If any person shall dig, mine, or remove any phosphate rock or deposit from any of the navigable waters of this state, except for the purpose of prospecting and discovering as allowed by law, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall also forfeit and pay ten dollars per ton for every ton of phosphate rock or deposit so mined, dug, or removed, one-half to the use of the state and the other one-half to go to the informer. (Rev., s. 3744; 1891, c. 476, s. 8; C. S. 7604.)

SUBCHAPTER II. LANDS CONTROLLED BY STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Art. 9. Swamp Lands Reclaimed.

§ 146-78. Power in state board of education.—The state board of education is invested with full power to adopt all necessary ways and means for causing so much of the swamp lands to be surveyed as it may deem capable of being reclaimed, and shall cause to be constructed such canals, ditches, roads, and other necessary works of improvement as it may deem proper and necessary. (Rev., s. 4036; Code, s. 2508; R. C., c. 66, s. 5; R. S., c. 67, s. 5; 1885, c. 70, ss. 1, 2, 4; 1899, c. 253, s. 5; C. S. 7605.)

§ 146-79. Expenditures limited.—The state board of education shall not lend or expend any part of the public moneys, stocks, funds, or property vested in it by law, or under its control, for the purpose of reclaiming lands, or for any other purpose whatsoever, except by the direction of the general assembly. (Rev., s. 4037; Code, ss. 2518, 2530; R. C., c. 66, s. 12; 1870-1, c. 279; C. S. 7606.)

§ 146-80. Purchase and exchange of land.—Whenever, in the process of draining, it may be necessary, in order to prevent a sacrifice of the interests of the state, to purchase small tracts owned by individuals, the corporation may buy them, or exchange for them some other portions of the swamp lands; and the lands thus acquired by the corporation shall be held by it as other swamp lands. (Rev., s. 4038; Code, s. 2517; R. C., c. 66, s. 14; C. S. 7607.)

§ 146-81. Title vested in board by written consent.—Whenever it is necessary to construct any such works on the lands of any individual proprietor, his written consent, without any formal deed of conveyance of the lands necessary to the work and its future enjoyment, shall vest the title thereof in the corporation forever; and when any infant or person non compos mentis is owner thereof, his guardian is authorized to give such consent; and a feme covert and her husband may do so without any private examination; and the consent so given shall be valid for all purposes. (Rev., s. 4039; Code, s. 2509; R. C., c. 66, s. 6; R. S., c. 67, s. 6; C. S. 7608.)

§ 146-82. Condemnation of lands.—Whenever the consent of the proprietor shall be withheld, the corporation's agents may enter on the lands and lay off so much as may be necessary to be used in such work, the value of which shall be assessed to the proprietor according to law; and, upon the payment thereof, the title shall be vested in the corporation forever. In the assessment of valuation, the benefit that will accrue to the proprietor by reason of the improvement may be likewise reckoned and set off against the damages. The proceedings for such condemnation shall be the same as are provided for condemnation of lands by railroad corporations. And the corporation's officers and agents shall have a right to enter upon the lands of all persons whosoever, for the purpose of surveying. (Rev., s. 4040; Code, ss. 2510, 2513; R. C., c. 66, s. 7; R. S., c. 67, s. 7; C. S. 7609.)

§ 146-83. Private lands assessed for benefits.—When there are lands owned by individuals which can be reclaimed by reason of the canals, ditches, or other works of the corporation, the same shall be assessed to contribute an equitable proportion of the cost of such works; which assessment shall be made by the board or a board of commissioners appointed by them, and the same shall be charged on the lands; but the corporation, by contract with individual proprietors, may agree upon the assessment, and accept payment thereof in labor or money. (Rev., s. 4041; Code, s. 2511; R. C., c. 66, s. 8; R. S., c. 67, s. 8; C. S. 7610.)

§ 146-84. Regulations for surveying, reclaiming, and assessing.—The state board of education may enact all necessary rules and regulations for surveying and reclaiming the swamp lands; for assessing the lands of individuals which may be improved by the works, and for collecting assessments; and the assessments shall be published weekly for five weeks in one of the newspapers published in Raleigh, and also filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county wherein the lands assessed are situate. If no objections are filed at the court next after such advertisement, the assessments shall be confirmed by the court and the lands adjudged liable for the amount, and execution may be issued for the court for that purpose; and if any reasons be shown against the assessments, they shall be heard and determined by the court, and the assessments shall be increased or diminished, as the court shall adjudge. (Rev., s. 4042; Code, s. 2512; R. C., c. 66, s. 9; R. S., c. 67, s. 9; 1899, c. 253, 1901, c. 529; C. S. 7611.)

§ 146-85. Engineer, surveyor, and other servants employed.—The state board of education may appoint an engineer and surveyor and other servants to plan the works directed by this subchapter, and such board may annually appoint an agent to superintend and supervise all the swamp lands belonging to the state board of education. (Rev., s. 4043; Code, ss. 2512, 2523; R. C., c. 66, ss. 9, 20; R. S., c. 67, s. 9; 1854, c. 48; 1899, s. 253, s. 1, 2, 5; 1901, c. 529; C. S. 7612.)

§ 146-86. Agent's duties.—Such agent shall devote his entire attention to the business; abandon all prior engagements that may conflict with the interest of the state board of education; aid and assist counsel in the preparation and trial of all suits that may be directed by the corporation; collect information as to the location and value of such lands; survey or have surveyed such tracts of such lands, or such other lands necessary to ascertain the location of lands belonging to the corporation as he may deem necessary, under the direction of the corporation. He shall make reports from time to time to the corporation of all the information he obtains, with such suggestions as he may deem proper; and shall prepare a statement of each tract of land owned by the corporation and its location, quantity, as well as ascertained and probable value, distinguishing between those tracts the title to which is doubtful or good; and this statement shall be recorded by him in a book to be kept by the corporation and in a manner, by index or otherwise, easy for reference. (Rev., s. 4044; Code, s. 2524; R. C., c. 66, s. 21; 1899, c. 253, s. 3; C. S. 7613.)

§ 146-87. Agent may be removed.—The agent may be removed by the state board of education at any time and another appointed to supply the vacancy, the agent removed being paid a pro rata compensation. The agency may be continued in the discretion of the board. (Rev., s. 4045; Code, s. 2525; R. C., c. 66, s. 22; 1899, c. 253, s. 4; 1901, c. 529; C. S. 7614.)

Art. 10. Lands Sold for Taxes.

§ 146-88. Title vested in state board of education.—The title of all lands acquired by the state by virtue of being sold for taxes is hereby vested in the state board of education. (1917, c. 209; C. S. 7615.)

§ 146-89. Protection of interest in lands sold for taxes.—Whenever any lands in which the state board of education has an interest, by way of mortgage or otherwise, are advertised to be sold for any taxes, special assessment, or under any lien, the state board of education is authorized, if in its judgment it is necessary to protect the interest of the board, to appear at any sale of such lands and to buy the same as any other person would, and for the purpose of paying therefor use any funds which the state board of education may have on hand, or, if necessary, borrow the money with which to make such purchase and to execute its notes therefor, and may use any funds coming to the state board of education from the sale of any property, or otherwise to pay such notes. (1917, c. 246; C. S. 7616.)

Art. 11. Controversies Concerning Lands.

§ 146-90. Title presumed in the board; tax titles.—In all controversies and suits for any of the swamp lands to which the state board of education or its assigns shall be a party, the title to such lands shall be taken and deemed to be in that corporation or its assigns until the other party shall show that he has a good and valid title to such lands in himself. In all controversies touching the title to or the right of possession to any lands claimed by the state, the state board of education or the university of North Carolina, under any sale for taxes at any time heretofore made or which hereafter may be made, the deed of conveyance made by the sheriff or other officer or person making such sale, or who may have been authorized to execute such deed, shall be presumptive evidence that the lands therein mentioned were, at the time the lien for such taxes attached and at the time of the sale, the property of the person therein designated as the delinquent owner; that such lands were subject to taxation; that the taxes were duly levied and assessed; that the lands were duly listed; that the taxes were due and unpaid; that the manner in which the listing, assessment, levy, and sale were conducted was in all respects as the law directed; that all the prerequisites of the law were duly complied with by all officers or persons who had or whose duty it was to have had any part or action in any transaction relating to or affecting the title conveyed or purporting to be conveyed by the deed, from the listing and valuation of the property up to the execution of the deed, both inclusive; and that all things whatsoever required by law to make a good and valid sale and vest the title in the purchaser were done, and that all recitals in such deed contained are true as to each and every of the matters so recited.

In all controversies and suits involving the title to real property claimed and held under and by virtue of a deed made substantially as above the person claiming title adverse to the title conveyed by such deed shall be required to prove, in order to defeat such title, either that the real property was not subject to taxation for the year or years named in the deed, that the taxes had been paid before the sale, that the property had been redeemed from the sale according to the provisions of law, and that such redemption was had or made for the use or benefit of persons having the right of redemption under the laws of this state, or that there had been an entire omission to list the property, to levy the taxes or to sell the property; but no person shall be permitted to question the title acquired under such sale and deed without first showing that he or the person under whom he claims title had the property at the time of the sale, and that all taxes due upon the property have been paid by such person or the person under whom he claims title. (Rev., s. 4047; Code, s. 2527; R.C., c. 66, s. 24; 1842-3, c. 36, s. 3; 1889, c. 243; C.S. 7617.)

Title Presumed to Be in the Board. — When it is shown that the land is swamp land and within a swamp of more than 2,000 acres, the law presumes that the Board of Education is the owner thereof, because grants of such land are void and unauthorized. Board v. Makely, 139 N.C. 31, 54, 51 S.E. 784. State Board v. Roanoke R. Co., 158 N.C. 313, 73 S.E. 734.

Presumption Rebuttable. — The presumption of title in the Board of Education lasts only until good title is shown to be in another party. Shingle Co. v. Lumber Co., 178 N.C. 221, 100 S.E. 332.

Presumption That Officers Do Their Duty. — It is entirely proper and competent for the state to provide that the presumption that public officials have done their duty should apply, and throw upon any adverse claimant the burden of proving the contrary. This decision does not, in any way, conflict with the cases of King v. Cooper, 128 N.C. 347, 38 S.E. 924; Warren v. Williford, 148 N.C. 674, 63 S.E. 697; Matthews v. Fry, 141 N.C. 582, 54 S.E. 379, and Rexford v. Phillips, 159 N.C. 213, 74 S.E. 337, the facts in those cases and this one being very different. State v. Remick, 160 N.C. 562, 570, 76 S.E. 627.

§ 146-91. Statute of limitations. No statute of limitation shall affect the title or bar the action of the state board of education or its assigns, unless the same would protect the person holding and claiming adversely against the state; and no statute of limitation shall be a bar to the state board of education or of its assigns in the trial of any action in any court of competent jurisdiction against any person, firm, or corporation for damages for timber heretofore or hereafter cut and removed from lands owned by the board of education or for any other acts of trespass committed on such lands. (Rev., s. 4048; Code, s. 2528; R.C., c. 66, s. 25; 1848, c. 36, s. 5; 1917, c. 287; C.S. 7618.)

Editor's Note. — Tillery v. Lumber Co., 172 N.C. 296, 90 S.E. 841, the rule that this statute was not intended to protect an assignee of the state against the statute of limitations when the action was for damage to timber. By amendment 1917 the part of the section following the semi-colon was added making it clear that the statute of limitations was not to be applied in actions for damages to timber.

Assignee Not Barred by Statute of Limitations. — In an action to sell the land the plaintiff is not barred by the statute of limitations, which does not run in such cases, unless the state would have been barred by adverse possession. State Board v. Roanoke R. Co., 158 N.C. 313, 315, 73 S.E. 944.

The purpose of this section providing that no statute of limitation shall affect the title or bar the action of the state board of education "or its assigns," unless the same would protect the person holding and claiming adversely against the state, was to make applicable to the state board of education the same limitations applicable to the state, and the quoted words were intended to make applicable to assigns of the board the same limitations applicable to the board, but only as applied to adverse possession had while title was in the board. Virginia-Carolina Tie, etc., Co. v. Dunbar, 106 F. (2d) 383, dicta.

Harmless Error. — In action for damages for alleged trespass in the cutting of timber on swamp land where defendants claimed adverse possession under color of title to land in dispute, and plaintiff claimed title under deeds executed by the state board of education to a third party, error, if any, in charging that the 7-year statute of limitations, rather than the 21-year statute, was applicable was harmless error. State v. Tillery, 172 N.C. 296, 90 S.E. 841.

§ 146-92. Actions by board; counsel; compromise. — The state board of education may employ counsel learned in the law to aid and assist it in the investigation and prosecution of its title to any of the swamp lands; and may compromise upon such terms as to it shall seem reasonable and just, for the title, so as to secure the corporation an indefeasible right in such lands. (Rev., s. 4051; Code, s. 2516; R.C., c. 66, s. 13; 1854, s. 48; C.S. 7620.)

§ 146-93. Agreement with others to prosecute or survey. — The state board of education has full power and authority to agree with any person to prosecute its claim to any swamp lands in any county or counties, or to survey and indentify its lands in such counties, and allow to such person a share of any such land as a compensation for his services. (Rev., s. 4052; Code, s. 2526; R.C., c. 66, s. 23; 1854, s. 48; C.S. 7620.)

§ 146-94. Sale of swamp lands. — The state board of education is authorized and directed to sell and convey the swamp lands at public or private sale at such times, for such prices, in such portions, and on such terms as to it may seem proper; but it shall not sell at a price less than twelve and one-half cents per acre. It shall report each sale to the next session of the general assembly. The proceeds, as also money received on entries of vacant land, shall become a part of the state literary fund. The corporation shall not sell any canal by it constructed under this subchapter. (Rev., s. 4049; Code, ss. 2514, 2515, 2529; R.C., c. 66, s. 12; 1872-3, c. 194, s. 2; 1889, c. 243, s. 4; C.S. 7621.)

May Sell Tide-Lands. — The state board of education may sell and convey the fee in tide-lands which are not adjacent to navigable water and which comprise one tract of marsh lands of more than 2,000 acres. Home Real Estate Loan, etc., Co. v. Parmele, 214 N.C. 63, 197 S.E. 714.

§ 146-95. Reservation to the state. — In any sale which shall be made by the state board of education the following powers shall be expressly reserved to the state, to be exercised under such laws as are now or may be enacted by the general assembly: 1. To make any expedient regulations respecting the repair of the canals which have been cut by the state, or enlargement of such canals. 2. To impose taxes on the lands benefited by those canals for their repair, and which shall not be closed. 3. That the navigation of the canal shall be free to all persons, subject to a right in the state to impose tolls. 4. (1935, c. 273.)

And every such application shall contain the grounds and reasons upon which the executive pardon is asked, and shall be in every case accompanied by a certified copy of the indictment, and the verdict and judgment of the court thereon. (Rev., s. 5334; Code, s. 3336; 1869-70, c. 171; 1870-1, c. 61; C. S. 7642.)

§ 147-23. Conditional pardons may be granted. — In any case in which the governor is authorized by the constitution to grant a pardon he may, upon the petition of the prisoner, grant it, subject to such conditions, restrictions, and limitations as he considers proper and necessary, and he may issue his warrant to all proper officers to carry such pardon into effect in such manner as he thinks proper. nor shall order him remanded and confined for the unexpired term of his sentence; said confinement, if the prisoner is under any other sentence of imprisonment at the time of said order, to begin upon expiration of such sentence. In computing the period of his confinement the time between the conditional pardon and subsequent arrest shall not be taken to be a part of the time of his sentence. If it appears to the governor that he has not broken the conditions of his conditional pardon he shall be released and his conditional pardon shall remain in force. (Rev., s. 5330; 1905, c. 356, ss. 2, 3; C. S. 7644.)

Editor's Note.—This section is reviewed and its merits considered in an able article appearing in 1 N. C. Law Rev. 47, 48, where the law of parole generally is fully discussed.

Conditional Pardon.—The Governor may grant a pardon upon a condition precedent that the prisoner pay costs of trial; and upon condition subsequent, that he remain of good character, and be sober and industrious. See Constitution, sec. 6, Art. 3. In re Williams, 149 N. C. 436, 63 S. E. 108.

Same—Revocation.—Upon delivery and acceptance of a pardon with conditions precedent and subsequent, it is irrevocable upon the compliance by the prisoner with the condition precedent, unless he shall violate the conditions subsequent and be recommitted for such violation after the release. In re Williams, 149 N. C. 436, 63 S. E. 108.

Rearrest of Paroled Prisoner.—Under the provisions of our State Constitution and Statutes, a “parole” granted by the governor to a prisoner imports a conditional pardon, and the governor may cause his rearrest either upon his own admission, or on such evidence as he may require, for violating the conditions which the prisoner has accepted under the terms of the parole. State v. Yates, 183 N. C. 753, 111 S. E. 337.

Reasonable Conditions Imposed.—The power of the governor to grant a conditional pardon is generally subject to the limitation that the conditions imposed must not be illegal, immoral or impossible of performance, which does not apply to cases wherein he is only required not to violate the state law and remain of good conduct. State v. Yates, 183 N. C. 753, 111 S. E. 337.

Same—Breach by Prisoner.—Where the prisoner has accepted his freedom upon the terms of the conditional pardon from the governor, his breach of such conditions avoids the pardon and cancels his right to further immunity from punishment. State v. Yates, 183 N. C. 753, 111 S. E. 337.

§ 147-25. Duty of sheriff and clerk on pardon granted.—If a prisoner is pardoned conditionally or unconditionally, or his punishment is commuted, the officer to whom the warrant for such purpose is issued shall, as soon as may be after executing it, make return thereof, signed by him, when the governor has accepted a conditional pardon from the governor and has obtained his freedom, the breaking of the condition after the term would have otherwise expired, affords no legal excuse why he should not be recommitted to serve out the balance of his sentence. State v. Yates, 183 N. C. 753, 111 S. E. 337.

§ 147-26. To procure great seal of state; its description.—The governor shall procure for the state a seal, which shall be called the great seal of the state of North Carolina, and shall be two and one-quarter inches in diameter, and its design shall be a representation of the figures of Liberty and Plenty, looking toward each other, but not more than half fronting each other and otherwise disposed as follows: Liberty, the first figure, standing, her pole with cap on it in her left hand and a scroll with the word “Constitution” inscribed thereon in her right hand. Plenty, the second figure, sitting down, her right arm half extended towards Liberty, three heads of wheat in her right hand, and in her left, the small end of her horn, the mouth of which is resting at her feet, and the contents of the horn rolling out; there shall also be inserted thereon the words “esse quam videri.” It shall be the duty of the governor to file in the office of secretary of state an impression of the great seal, certified to under his hand and attested by the secretary of state, which impression so certified the secretary of state shall carefully preserve among the records of his office. (Rev., s. 5339; Code, ss. 3332, 3339; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 35; 1883, c. 392; 1893, c. 145; C. S. 7646.)

§ 147-27. Affixing great seal a second time to public papers.—In all cases where any person may find it necessary to have the great seal of the state put again to any public paper, other than a grant for lands, he may prefer his petition to the governor and council, who shall, if they deem the same proper, direct the seal to be put thereto. (Rev., s. 5338; Code, s. 3333; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 38; C. S. 7647.)

§ 147-28. To procure seals for departments and courts.—The governor shall also procure a seal for each department of the state government to be used for attesting and authenticating grants, proclamations, commissions, and other public acts, in such manner as may be directed by law and the usage established in the public offices; also a seal for every court of record in the state, for the purpose of authenticating the papers and records of such court. All such seals shall be delivered to the proper officers, who shall give a receipt therefor and be accountable for their safe-keeping. (Rev., s. 5340; Code, ss. 3328, 3332; 1868-9, c. 270, ss. 35, 37; 1883, c. 71; C. S. 7648.)

§ 147-29. Seal of department of state described.—The seal of the department of state shall be two inches in diameter and shall be of the same design as the great seal of the state, with the words “State of North Carolina, Department of State,” surrounding the figures. (Rev., s. 5341; Code, s. 3330; 1883, c. 238; C. S. 7649.)

§ 147-30. To provide new seals when necessary.—Whenever the great seal of the state shall be lost or so worn or defaced as to render it unfit for use, the governor shall provide a new one and when such new one is provided the former one, if it can be found, shall be destroyed in the

When Sheriff Cannot Defeat Pardon.—The sheriff, by returning a pardon after its delivery and acceptance by the prisoners or officers or public officials, shall not impair its legal results. In re Williams, 149 N. C. 436, 63 S. E. 108.

Recovery of Fine Paid before Pardon.—Where one convicts alleged to have been convicted in violation of the state or federal laws and then has obtained a pardon from the Governor, it is the duty of the court to return the fine upon his application and pre

§ 147-32. Compensation for widows of governors.—All widows of the governors of the state of North Carolina who were married to said governors before or during their term of office as governor of the state of North Carolina and who have attained, or shall hereafter attain, the age of sixty-five years, shall be paid the sum of twelve hundred ($1,200.00) dollars per annum during the hundred ($1,200.00) dollars per month out of the state treasury unles, and until the council of state shall find that the beneficiary does not have an income adequate for her support. (1937, c. 416.)

§ 147-33. Compensation when attending meetings.—Whenever the lieutenant-governor shall attend any meeting of state officials or otherwise, which he is required by law to attend, he shall be entitled to receive as compensation the per diem allowed him under the constitution as president of the senate for the time required in attending said meeting, together with his necessary traveling expenses in going to and from said meeting. The amount to which he shall be entitled shall be certified to by him, and shall be paid to him by the state treasurer upon the proper warrant. (1911, c. 103; C. S. 3862.)

(4) Whenever it should be certified by the adjutant general of the state that emergency conditions require such procedure, the governor, with the approval of the council of state, shall have the power to call up and mobilize state militia in addition to the existing units of the state guard; to provide transportation and facilities for mobilization and full utilization of the state guard, or other units of militia, in such emergency, and to allocate from the contingency and emergency fund such amounts as may be necessary for such purposes during the period of such emergency.

(j) Aid in the administration and enforcement in this state of any rationing, freezing, price-fixing or similar order or regulation duly promulgated by any federal officer or agency under or pursuant to the authority of any act of Congress or of any order or proclamation of the president of the United States, by making temporarily available personnel and facilities of the state to assist in the administration thereof and/or by adopting and promulgating in this state an order or regulation substantially embodying the provisions of such federal order or regulation, filing the same in the office of the secretary of state, prescribing the penalties for the violation thereof, and specifying the state and local officers and agencies to be charged with the enforcement thereof.

(k) Formulate and execute plans and adopt rules for:

(1) The organization, recruiting, training, maintenance and operation of aircraft warning services, observation and listening posts, information and control centers and such other services and facilities as may be necessary for the prompt and accurate reception and transmission of air raid warnings and signals;

§ 147-33.3. Orders, rules and regulations.—All orders, rules and regulations promulgated by the governor pursuant to this article shall have the full force and effect of law from and after the date of the filing of a duly authenticated copy thereof in the office of the secretary of state. All laws, ordinances, rules and regulations, in so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions of this article or of any rule, order or regulation made pursuant to this article, shall be suspended during the period of time and to the extent that such conflict exists. A violation of any such order, rule or regulation, unless otherwise provided therein, shall be deemed a misdemeanor and punishable as such. (1943, c. 706, s. 3.)

§ 147-33.4. Immunity.—Neither the state nor any political subdivision thereof, nor the agents or representatives of the state or any political subdivision thereof, under any circumstances, nor any individual, firm, partnership, corporation or other entity, or any agent thereof, in good faith complying with or attempting to comply with any order, rule or regulation made pursuant to this article, shall be liable for the death of or any injury to persons or for any damage to property as the result of any air raid, invasion, act of sabotage, or other form of enemy action, or of any action taken under this article or such order, rule or regulation. This section shall not be construed to impair or affect the right of any person to receive any benefits or compensation to which he may otherwise be entitled under workmen’s compensation law, any pension law, or any other law, or any act of Congress, or any contract of insurance or indemnification. (1948, c. 706, s. 4.)

Blackouts, radio silences and evacuations shall be carried out only in such areas, at such times, and for such periods as shall be designated by air-raid warnings or orders with respect thereto issued by the United States army, or its duly designated agency, and only under such conditions and in such manner as shall be consistent with such warning or order, and practice blackouts shall be held only when and as authorized by the United States army or its duly designated agency. § 147-33.7. Duration of article.—This article shall be in full force and effect while the existing state of war continues with any foreign power and for six months thereafter, or until the convening of the next general assembly, and none of the powers herein granted shall be thereafter exercised and no contract, order, rule or regulation made or other action taken pursuant to this article shall thereafter be enforceable or effective, except for the performance of an obligation therefore incurred thereunder or the prosecution of an act theretofore committed in violation thereof. (1943, c. 706, s. 8.)

§ 147-35. Salary of secretary of state. — The salary of the secretary of state shall be six thousand six hundred dollars a year, payable monthly. Cross Reference.—As to bond of secretary of state, see § 128-8.

Editor’s Note.—The amendment of 1941 increased the salary of the secretary of state from $4,500 to $6,000, and added the provision making such salary payable monthly. The 1941 amendment provided that, effective January 1, 1941, the salary should be $6,000.00 per annum, payable monthly.

§ 147-36. Duties of secretary of state.—It is the duty of the secretary of state:

Cross Reference.—As to issuing grants, see § 146-47.

Editor’s Note.—The 1941 amendment struck out the words “documents” formerly appearing after the word “journals” in subsection 4.

The second 1943 amendment added items 7 to 12, inclusive, and the first 1943 amendment added item 11.

For act authorizing secretary of state to enroll in a book the Constitution of 1868 and amendments thereto, see Session Laws 1943, c. 107.

The secretary of state shall keep books of records and documents—The secretary of state shall immediately thereafter cause to be bound in volumes of convenient size. Each such volume shall be lettered on the back with its title and the date of its session. (Rev., s. 2381; 1887, c. 119, s. 14; C. S. 7657.)

§ 147-42. Binding original statutes, resolutions, and documents.—The original statutes and joint resolutions passed at each session of the general assembly the secretary of state shall immediately thereafter cause to be bound in volumes of convenient size. Each such volume shall be lettered on the back with its title and the date of its session. (Rev., s. 5348; Code, s. 3343; 1866-7, c. 71; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 46; C. S. 7658.)

§ 147-43. Reports of state officers.—The secretary of state shall file and keep in his office one copy of each of the reports of state officers in the best binding in which any such report is issued, and the state librarian shall likewise keep five similarly bound copies of each such report. (Rev., s. 4423; 1903, c. 6; 1927, c. 217, s. 1; C. S. 6109.)

Editor's Note.—This section formerly appeared as § 120-23 and was transferred to its present position by Session Laws 1943, c. 543.

Prior to the amendment of 1927 the captions of the acts and resolutions were also required to be indexed and published.

§ 147-43.2. Secretary of state to have laws printed.—The secretary of state, immediately upon the termination of each session of the general assembly, shall cause to be published in one volume all the laws and joint resolutions passed at such session, whether public, private, general or special within the meaning of the constitution and without regard to classification, except that the laws and resolutions shall be kept separate and indexed separately; and the volume shall contain his certificate that it was printed under his direction from enrolled copies on file in his office. In the printing, he shall omit the certificate required to be endorsed upon the original bills and resolutions; but he shall insert immediately at the end of each law or resolution the word “ratified,” adding the day, month and year. (Rev., s. 4425; Code, s. 3573; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 14; 1943, c. 48, s. 1; C. S. 6111.)

Editor's Note.—The 1943 amendment rewrote the section. This section formerly appeared as § 120-24 and was transferred to its present position by Session Laws 1943, c. 543.

Session Laws 1943, c. 35, being an act revising and consolidating the public and general statutes of the state of North Carolina, was exempted from the provisions of this section by Session Laws 1943, c. 15, s. 2. (1929, c. 85, s. 1; 1941, c. 379, s. 6; 1943, c. 48, s. 5.)

Editor's Note.—The 1943 amendment substituted “session” for “public” in line three and omitted a former provision relating to Public-Local and Private Laws. This section formerly appeared as § 120-25 and was transferred to its present position by Session Laws 1943, c. 543. The 1941 amendment increased the authorized printing of the House and Senate Journals from five to six hundred volumes.

§ 147-46. Publications furnished institutions of learning.—The secretary of state, upon application made by any chartered institution of learning in this state, for which provision is not elsewhere made in § 147-45, having a library of not less than five thousand volumes, shall furnish and transmit to each of such institutions, to be kept in its library, a copy of all future current supreme court reports, session laws of the general assembly and journals of both houses, whenever the same shall be ready for distribution. He shall furnish to each of such institutions, if he have them on hand, or when reprinted or otherwise obtained, one volume each of such of the supreme court reports, public laws, public-local and private laws, and journals as have not been theretofore furnished. (1941, c. 379, s. 2; 1943, c. 48, s. 4.)

Editor’s Note.—The 1943 amendment substituted the words “public,” “public-local” and “private” or any combination of these words in the table and struck out of the table the former column relating to Public-Local and Private Laws.

§ 147-47. Apportionment of half bound volumes of session laws among justices of the peace.—The secretary of state shall apportion the fifteen hundred copies of half bound session laws among the justices of the peace of the state on a county population basis and distribute them to the justices. The secretary of state shall notify all the clerks of the superior court of the number of copies of session laws available for distribution for justices of the peace in their respective counties, and the clerk shall thereupon certify to the secretary of state the names and post office addresses of the licensed number of qualified and active justices of the peace thus entitled to receive said laws. (1941, c. 379, s. 3; 1943, c. 48, s. 4.)

Editor’s Note.—The 1943 amendment substituted “session laws” for “public laws.”

§ 147-48. Sale of laws and journals and supreme court reports.—Such laws and journals as may be printed in excess of the number directed to be distributed the secretary of state may sell at such price as he deems reasonable, not exceeding ten dollars for full bound copies of the session laws; and not exceeding five per centum in advance of the cost for copies of the journals.

The secretary of state shall sell any and all of the supreme court reports, both the current reports and the reprints, at such price as he deems reasonable, not less than one dollar and fifty cents per volume. The secretary of state may allow to regular licensed booksellers in this state a discount on laws, journals and supreme court reports not exceeding twelve and one-half per centum. All proceeds received from sales made pursuant to this section shall be paid into the

The copies of reports furnished each justice as set out in the table above may be retained by him personally to enable him to keep up-to-date his personal set of reports. One copy each of the public laws, the public-local laws and the supreme court reports shall be furnished the head of any department of state government created in the future. Five complete sets of the public laws, the public-local and private laws, the senate and house journals and the supreme court reports heretofore published, insofar as the same are available and without necessitating reprinting, shall be furnished to the North Carolina College for Negroes. (1941, c. 379, s. 1; 1943, c. 48, s. 4.)

Editor’s Note.—The 1943 amendment substituted “session laws” for “public laws, public-local and private laws” in the introductory paragraph. It also substituted “session laws” for “public laws” in the table and struck out of the table the former column relating to Public-Local and Private Laws.
§ 147-49. Disposition of damaged and unsaleable publications.—The Secretary of State is hereby authorized and empowered to dispose of such damaged and unsaleable North Carolina Supreme Court Reports, House and Senate Journals and Public Laws of various years at a price to be determined by the Secretary of State, the Supreme Court Reporter and the Marshall-Librarian of the Supreme Court. (1939, c. 345.)

§ 147-50. Publications of state officials and department heads furnished to certain institutions, agencies, etc.—Every state official and every head of a state department, institution or agency issuing any printed report, bulletin, map, or other publication, shall, on request, furnish copies of such reports, bulletins, maps or other publications to the following institutions in the number set out below:

Duke University .......................................................................................... 25 copies;
Wake Forest College .................................................................................... 2 copies;
Davidson College .......................................................................................... 2 copies;
North Carolina Supreme Court Library .................................................. 2 copies; and to governmental officials, agencies and departments and to other educational institutions, in the discretion of the issuing official and subject to the supply available, such number as may be requested: Provided that five sets of all such reports, bulletins and publications heretofore issued, insofar as the same are available and without necessitating reprinting, shall be furnished to the North Carolina College for Negroes. (1941, c. 379, s. 5.)

§ 147-51. Clerks of superior courts to furnish inventory of reports; lending prohibited.—On or before the first Monday in June of each and every year after March 9, 1927, the clerks of the Superior Courts of the State are required to furnish to the Secretary of State an inventory of the volumes of the reports of the Supreme Court of North Carolina which they have on hand.

From and after March 9, 1927, the clerks of the Superior Courts of the State of North Carolina are held officially responsible for the volumes of the North Carolina Supreme Court reports furnished and to be furnished them by the said State.

The said clerks of the various courts shall not lend or permit to be taken from their custody the said reports, nor shall any person with or without the permission of the said clerks take them from their possession. (1927, c. 259.)

§ 147-52. Reprints of Supreme Court reports.—The Supreme Court is authorized to have such of the reports of the Supreme Court of the State of North Carolina as are not on hand for sale, republished and numbered consecutively, retaining the present numbers and names of the reporters and by means of star pages in the margin retaining the original numbering of the pages. The Supreme Court is authorized and directed to have such reports reprinted without any alteration from the original edition thereof, except as may be directed by the Supreme Court. The contract for such reprinting and republication shall be made by the Supreme Court in the manner prescribed in § 7-34. Such republication shall thus continue until the State shall have for sale all of such reports; and hereafter when the editions of any number or volume of the Supreme Court reports shall be exhausted, it shall be the duty of the Supreme Court to have the same reprinted under the provisions of this section and § 7-34. In reprinting the reports that have already been annotated, the annotations and the additional indexes therein shall remain and such reports shall be further annotated so as to make the annotations in all reprints complete up to the date of the reprinting thereof. In reprinting reports the Supreme Court is authorized to provide for, and to secure, such further annotations for reports that have been heretofore annotated and for the annotating of the reports that have not been heretofore annotated and the costs thereof as provided in the contract made by the Supreme Court with the annotator selected by it, shall be paid as a part of the cost of reprinting the said reports. (Rev., s. 5361; Code, s. 3634; 1885, c. 309; 1889, c. 473, ss. 1-4, 6; 1907, c. 503; 1917, cc. 201, 292; 1923, c. 176; 1929, c. 39, s. 2; C. S. 7671.)

§ 147-53: Superseded by 1943, c. 716.

§ 147-54. Payment of proceeds of sales to Treasurer.—The Secretary of State, as often as now provided by law, shall pay over to the treasurer of the state the proceeds of any and all sales which may be made by him under authorization of § 147-53. (1933, c. 115, s. 2.)

§ 147-54.1. Division of publications; duties.—The Secretary of State is authorized to set up a division to be designated as the Division of Publications and to appoint a director thereof who shall be known as the assistant to the Secretary of State. This division shall collect, tabulate, annotate, and digest information for the use of members and committees of the General Assembly, and other officials of the State and of the various counties and cities, upon all questions of state, county, and municipal legislation; make references and analytical comparisons of legislation upon similar questions in other states and nations; and have at hand for the use of the members of the General Assembly the laws of other states and nations as well as those of North Carolina, and such other books, papers, and articles as may throw light upon questions under consideration.

It shall also be the duty of the Division of Publication to classify and arrange by proper indexes, so as to make them accessible, all public bills relating to the aforesaid matters heretofore introduced in the General Assembly. Upon request by members of the General Assembly, the Division shall secure all available information on any particular subject.

The Division shall also perform all such other duties as may be assigned by the Secretary of State.

The several departments of the state government shall, upon request of the Division of Publications, supply said Division with such copies of their reports and other publications as may be necessary to effect exchanges with other states for their publications of a similar character for the use of the said Division. (1915, c. 202, ss. 1, 2; 1939, c. 316; C. S., ss. 6147, 6148.)

Art. 5. Auditor.

§ 147-55. Salary of auditor.—The salary of the state auditor shall be six thousand six hundred dollars a year, payable monthly. (Rev., s. 2744; Code, s. 3726; 1879, c. 340, s. 7; 1881, c. 213; 1885, c. 352; 1889, c. 433; 1891, c. 334, s. 5; 1907, c. 830, s. 5; 1907, c. 994, s. 2; 1911, c. 108, s. 1; 1911, c. 136, s. 1; 1913, c. 172; 1919, c. 149; 1919, c. 247, s. 7; Ex. Sess. 1930, c. 49, s. 3; 1921, c. 11, s. 1; 1935, c. 448; 1941, c. 1; C. S. 5867.)

Editor's Note.—The 1941 amendment increased the salary of the state auditor from $6,000 to $6,600 per annum.

§ 147-56. Office and office hours.—The auditor shall keep his office at the city of Raleigh, and shall attend thereat between the hours of ten o'clock a. m. and three o'clock p. m., Sundays and legal holidays excepted. (Rev., s. 5364; Code, s. 3353; 1868-9, c. 270, ss. 69, 70; C. S. 7674.)

§ 147-57. Bond.—The State Auditor shall be placed under an official bond in a penal sum to be fixed by the Governor and Council of State at not less than fifty thousand ($50,000) dollars. Such official bond shall be corporate surety and furnished by a company admitted to do business in the State. The premiums will be paid by the State out of the appropriations to the State Auditor's Office. (1929, c. 337, s. 1.)

§ 147-58. Duties of auditor.—It is the duty of the auditor:
1. To superintend the fiscal concerns of the state.
2. To report to the governor, annually, and to the general assembly at the beginning of each biennial session thereof, a complete statement of the funds of the state, of its revenues and of the public expenditures during the preceding fiscal year, and, as far as practicable, an account of the same down to the termination of the current calendar year, together with a detailed estimate of the expenditures to be defrayed from the treasury for the ensuing fiscal year, specifying therein each object of expenditure and distinguishing between such as are provided for by permanent or temporary appropriations, and such as must be provided for by a new statute, and suggesting the means from which such expenditures are to be defrayed.
3. To suggest plans for the improvement and management of the public revenue.
4. To keep and state all accounts in which the state is interested.
5. To examine and settle the accounts of all persons indebted to the state, and to certify the amount of balance to the treasurer.
6. To direct and superintend the collection of all moneys due to the state.
7. To examine and liquidate the claims of all persons against the state, in cases where there is sufficient provision of law for the payment thereof; and where there is no sufficient provision, to examine the claim and report the fact, with his opinion thereon, to the general assembly.
8. To require all persons who have received any moneys belonging to the state, and have not accounted therefor, to settle their accounts.
9. To have the exclusive power and authority to issue all warrants for the payment of money upon the state treasurer; and it shall be the auditor's duty, before issuing the same, to examine the laws authorizing the payment thereof, and satisfy himself of the correctness of the accounts of persons applying for warrants; and to this end he shall have the power to administer oaths, and he shall also file in his office the voucher upon which the warrant is drawn and cite the law upon said warrant.
10. To procure from the banks in which the treasurer makes his deposits, monthly statements of the moneys received and paid on account of the treasurer.
11. To keep an account between the state and the treasurer, and therein charge the treasurer with the balance in the treasury when he came into office, and with all moneys received by him, and credit him with all warrants drawn or paid by him.
12. To examine carefully on the first Tuesday of every month, or oftener if he deems it necessary, the accounts of the debts and credits in the bank book kept by the treasurer, and if he discovers any irregularity or deficiency therein, unless the same be rectified or explained to his satisfaction, to report the same forthwith, in writing, to the governor.
13. To require, from time to time, all persons who have received moneys or securities, or have had the disposition or management of any property of the state, of which an account is kept in his office, to render statements thereof to him; and all such persons shall render such statements at such time and in such form as he shall require.
14. To require any person presenting an account for settlement to be sworn before him and to answer orally as to any facts relating to its correctness. (Rev., s. 5365; Code, s. 3350; 1868-9, c. 270, ss. 63, 64, 65; 1893, c. 71; 1919, c. 153; 1929, c. 268; C. S. 7675.)

Cross References.—As to being constitutional office, see Const., Art. III, secs. 1 and 13; as to mandamus by governor to compel performance of certain duties, see note to § 147-12; as to reports to be furnished the director of the budget, see § 143-8.

Par. 7.—Mandamus to Compel Payment.—The duty of the auditor under par. 7 is not a ministerial duty but is one involving judgment and discretion, and mandamus will not lie against him for refusal to issue a warrant for payment of a claim he does not approve. Burton v. Furnam, 115 N. C. 166, 167; 1915, c. 202, ss. 1, 2; 1919, c. 149; 1919, c. 247, s. 7; Ex. Sess. 1930, c. 49, s. 3; 1921, c. 11, s. 1; 1935, c. 448; 1941, c. 1; C. S. 5867.)

Where a Clerk of the General Assembly had received a warrant for the entire number of days to which he was entitled, at seven dollars per day, he had no right to a writ of mandamus against the Auditor of the State because he refused to give him a warrant for three dollars per day additional for the same number of days for which he had theretofore obtained a warrant. Boner v. Adams, 65 N. C. 639.

Report to the General Assembly.—The Auditor of the State is not a mere ministerial officer; when a claim is presented to him against the state, he is to decide whether there is a sufficient provision of law for its payment, and if in his opinion there is not sufficient provision of law, he must require the claimant to file his claim and report the fact, with his opinion, to the General Assembly. Boner v. Adams, 65 N. C. 639.

§ 147-59. Warrants to bear limitations; presented within sixty days.—All warrants drawn by the State Auditor on the Treasurer shall bear, and shall be printed upon the face thereof in plain type so as to be easily read, the following words, to-wit: “This warrant will not be paid if presented to the Treasurer after the expiration of sixty (60) days from the date hereof;” and the State Treasurer shall not pay, and he is hereby prohibited from paying any warrant drawn by the Auditor unless the same shall be presented within sixty (60) days from the date of such warrant. (1925, c. 246, s. 1.)

§ 147-60. Surrender of barred warrant; issue of new warrant.—Any person, firm or corporation holding a warrant drawn by the State Auditor which cannot be paid because of the provisions of §§ 147-59, 147-60 and 147-61 may present the same to the State Auditor, and upon satisfactory proof that such person, firm or corporation is the owner thereof and is entitled to have and receive the proceeds of such warrant and that the obligations for which the warrant is drawn is a subsisting obligation against the State of North Carolina, may surrender said warrant to the Auditor and cancel the same, whereupon the Auditor is authorized and empowered to issue another warrant for like amount in lieu thereof. (1925, c. 246, s. 2.)

§ 147-61. Warrants issued before March 10, 1925.—Every person, firm or corporation holding a warrant, drawn and issued by the State Auditor prior to March 10, 1925, shall present the same before May 1, 1925, to the State Auditor for payment prior to May 1, 1925, the same shall not be paid, but the holder thereof shall be notified of the provisions of §§ 147-59, 147-60 and 147-61, and upon satisfactory proof that the holder thereof is the proper owner and is entitled to have and receive the proceeds of such warrant and that the obligation for which the warrant is drawn is a subsisting obligation against the State of North Carolina, the warrant may be surrendered to the Auditor and cancelled and the Auditor is authorized and empowered to issue another new warrant for like amount in lieu thereof. (1925, c. 246, s. 3.)

§ 147-62. Assignments of claims against state.—All transfers and assignments made of any claim upon the State of North Carolina or any of its departments, bureaus or commissions or upon any State institution or of any part or share thereof or interest therein, whether absolute or conditional and whatever may be the consideration therefor and all powers of attorney, orders or other authorities for receiving payment of any such claim or any part or share thereof, shall be absolutely null and void unless such claim has been duly audited and allowed and the amount due thereon fixed and a warrant for the payment thereof has been issued; and no warrant shall be issued to any assignee of any claim or any part or share thereof or interest therein: Provided that this section shall not apply to assignments made in favor of hospitals, building and loan associations and life insurance companies: Provided, further, that employees of the state or of any of its institutions, departments, bureaus or commissisions who are members of the state employees credit union may in writing authorize any periodical payment or obligation to such credit union to be deducted from their salaries or wages as such employee, and such deductions shall be made and paid to said credit union as and when said salaries and wages are payable: Provided, further, that this section shall not apply to assignments made by members of the State Highway Patrol, agents of the State Bureau of Investigation, Motor Vehicle Inspectors of the Revenue Department, and State Prison Guards, to the commissioners of the Law Enforcement Officers’ Benefit and Retirement Fund in payment of dues due by such persons to such fund. (1925, c. 249; 1935, c. 19; 1939, c. 61; 1941, c. 128.)

Editor’s Note.—The first proviso was added by the 1935 amendment, and the 1939 amendment added the second proviso. The 1941 amendment added the proviso at the end of this section.

For assignments in general, see 13 N. C. Law Rev., 113, 118.

§ 147-63. Warrants for money paid into treasury by mistake.—Whenever the governor and council of state are satisfied that moneys have been paid into the treasury through mistake, they may direct the auditor to draw his warrant therefor on the treasurer, in favor of the person who made said payment or obligation to such credit union to be paid to said credit union as and when said salaries and wages are payable: Provided, further, that this section shall not extend to payments on account of taxes nor to payments on bonds and mortgages. (Rev., s. 5366; Code, s. 3351; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 66; C. S. 7676.)

§ 147-64. Warrants for surplus proceeds of sale of property mortgaged to state.—Whenever any real property mortgaged to the state, or bought in for the benefit of the state, of which a certificate shall have been given to a former purchaser, is sold by the attorney-general on a foreclosure by notice, or under a judgment, for a greater sum than the amount due to the state, with costs and expenses, the surplus money received into the treasury, after a conveyance has been executed to the purchaser, shall be paid to the person legally entitled to such real property at the time of the foreclosure on the forfeiture of the original contract. The auditor shall not draw his warrant for such surplus money but upon satisfactory proof by affidavit or otherwise, of the legal rights of such person. (Rev., s. 5368; Code, s. 3352; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 68; C. S. 7676.)

Art. 6. Treasurer.

§ 147-65. Salary of state treasurer.—The salary of the state treasurer shall be six thousand six hundred dollars a year, payable monthly. (Rev., s. 2739; Code, s. 3723; 1891, c. 505; 1907, c. 830, s. 2; 1917, c. 161; 1919, c. 233; 1919, c. 247, s. 3; Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 40, s. 2; 1921, c. 11, s. 1; 1933, c. 249; 1941, c. 1; C. S. 3888.)

Cross Reference.—As to bonds required of state treasurer, see § 122-S.

Editor’s Note.—The 1941 amendment increased the salary of the state treasurer from $6,000 to $6,600 per annum.

Bond of Clerk Not Official Bond.—A bond by a clerk executed to the State Treasurer individually is not an official bond and does not extend beyond the term during which the clerk was appointed. Jackson v. Martin, 136 N. C. 196, 48 S. E. 672.

Same.—Limitation.—An action against the sureties on the bond of a clerk for defalcations in the office of the State Treasurer is barred after three years. Jackson v. Martin, 136 N. C. 196, 48 S. E. 672.

§ 147-66. Office and office hours.—The treasurer shall keep his office at the city of Raleigh, and shall attend there between the hours of ten o'clock a. m. and three o'clock p. m., Sundays and legal holidays excepted. He shall be allowed such office room as may be necessary. (Rev., s. 5369; Code, s. 3362; 1868-9, c. 270, ss. 80, 81; C. S. 7678.)

§ 147-67. Bonds of treasurer's clerks. — The clerks in the treasurer's office shall enter into good and sufficient bonds, payable to the state of North Carolina, as provided in § 128-8. These several bonds shall be in addition and cumulative to the official bond of the state treasurer, and shall not be construed to affect in any way the liability of the state treasurer upon his official bond. (Rev., s. 289; 1919, c. 8; 1921, c. 175; C. S. 7681.)

§ 147-68. To receive and disburse moneys; to make reports.—It is the duty of the treasurer to receive all moneys which shall from time to time be paid into the treasury of this state; to pay all warrants legally drawn on the treasurer by the auditor; and no moneys shall be paid out of the treasury except on the warrant of the auditor; to report to the governor annually and to the general assembly at the beginning of each biennial session thereof the exact balance in the treasury to the credit of the state, with a summary of the receipts and payments of the treasurer during the preceding fiscal year, and so far as practicable an account of the same down to the termination of the current calendar year. (Rev., s. 5370; Code, s. 3356; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 71; C. S. 7682.)

Editor's Note.—For an act providing that the state treasurer shall settle with counties for the ad valorem school taxes for 1931, see P. L. 1905, ch. 397.

Duty to Pay Warrants.—As it is the duty of the State Treasurer to keep his accounts, showing the transactions of each fiscal year ending December 31st, he has no right to pay out money except upon proper warrants drawn upon the proper funds in the treasury. Arendell v. Worth, 125 N. C. 111, 34 S. E. 212.

The public treasurer is not required to pay any and every warrant which the auditor may draw upon the bond of those who are legally drawn, and the fact that the auditor finds that a claim for which he issues a warrant on the public treasurer is authorized by law is not binding upon or a protection to the treasurers for their disbursements. See § 147-58 as to auditor. Burford v. Furnam, 115 N. C. 166, 20 S. E. 443.

Mandamus for Payment of Warrant.—The State Treasurer is not liable to a mandamus for refusing to pay a warrant improperly drawn, and he is entitled to a mandamus to enforce the drawing of proper warrants upon the proper funds before paying them, as they are his vouchers. Arendell v. Worth, 125 N. C. 111, 34 S. E. 232.

Same.—When Fraud Is Alleged.—Where the State Treasurer denies the correctness of a claim audited by the State Auditor and alleges fraud in the creation of the indebtedness or that the services for which a warrant was issued were not rendered, mandamus will not lie to compel him to pay it, the question raised by such claim being for the Legislature, and not the courts, to determine. Garner v. Worth, 125 N. C. 250, 29 S. E. 364.

Mandamus without Warrant.—Mandamus will not lie to compel the treasurer to pay a claim as he can only pay on the warrant of the auditor. See § 147-58 as to auditor. Burford v. Furnam, 115 N. C. 166, 20 S. E. 443.

§ 147-69. Deposits of state funds in banks regulated.—Banks having state deposits shall furnish to the auditor of the state, upon his request, a statement of the moneys which have been received and paid by them on account of the treasurer. The treasurer shall keep in his office a full account of all moneys deposited in and drawn from all banks in which he may deposit or cause to be deposited any of the public funds, and such account shall be open to the inspection of the auditor. The treasurer shall sign all checks, and no depository bank shall be authorized to pay checks not bearing his official signature. No depository bank shall make any charge for exchange or for the collection of the treasurer's checks or for the transmission of any funds which may come into his hands as state treasurer. The commissioner of banks and the bank examiners, when so required by the state treasurer, shall keep the state treasurer fully informed at all times as to the condition of all such depository banks, so as to fully protect the state from loss. The state treasurer shall, before making deposits in any bank, require ample security from the bank for such deposit.

The payment of interest on deposits of state money in any bank or banks shall be controlled by the governor and council of state, who shall have full power and authority to determine for what periods of time payment of interest on such deposits shall or shall not be required, and to fix the rate of interest to be paid thereon. The interest collected on the bank balances from time to time shall be paid into the state's general fund; but the treasurer shall credit to the funds of the agricultural department all money which is received as interest on the funds of the department, and he shall notify the commissioner of agriculture when such amounts are paid. (Rev., s. 5371; 1905, c. 520; 1915, c. 168; 1917, c. 139; 1931, c. 127, s. 1; 1931, c. 483, s. 8; 1933, c. 175, s. 1; C. S. 7684.)

The interest rate on state deposits which was temporarily fixed by P. L. 1931, ch. 127, at 2½% is by the 1933 amendment left to determination of the Governor, Council of State and a corresponding change is made in relation to deposit by the Commissioner of Banks of funds from the liquidation of banks. See 11 N. C. Rev. 202.

§ 147-69.1. Investment of surplus state fund; report to general assembly.—The governor and the state treasurer, acting jointly, with the approval of the council of state, are hereby authorized and empowered whenever in their opinions there is cash in the general fund of the state, to invest said excess funds in bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the United States of America, or in bonds, notes or other obligations of any agency or instrumentality of the United States of America, when the payment of principal and interest thereof is fully guaranteed by the United States of America, or in bonds or notes of the state of North Carolina. The said funds shall be invested in such obligations as in the judgment of the governor and state treasurer may be readily converted into money.

The state treasurer shall include in his biennial reports to the general assembly a full and complete statement of all funds invested by virtue of the provisions of this section, the nature and character of investments therein, and the revenues derived therefrom, together with all such other information as may seem to him to be pertinent for the full information of the general assembly with reference thereto. (1943, c. 2.)

§ 147-70. To make short-term notes in emergencies.—Subject to the approval of the governor and council of state, the state treasurer is authorized to make short-term notes for temporary emergencies, but such notes must only be made to provide for appropriations already made by the general assembly. (1915, c. 168, s. 3; C. S. 7685.)

§ 147-71. May demand and sue for money and property of state.—The treasurer is authorized to demand, sue for, collect and receive all money and property of the state not held by some person under authority of law. (Rev., s. 5375; Code, s. 3359; 1866, c. 46; C. S. 7688.)

§ 147-72. Ex officio treasurer of state institutions; duties as such.—The treasurer shall be ex officio the treasurer of each department of agriculture, of the North Carolina state college of agriculture and engineering, of the North Carolina school for the deaf and dumb at Morganton, of the North Carolina institution for the deaf and dumb and the blind at Raleigh, for the state hospitals (for the insane) at Raleigh, Morganton, and Goldsboro, for the state's prison and soldiers home. He may appoint deputies to act for him at Morganton and Goldsboro, and may pay such deputies reasonable compensation. He shall keep all accounts of the institutions, and shall pay out all moneys, upon the warrant of the respective chief officers or superintendents, countersigned by two members of the board of directors, managers, or trustees. He shall report to the respective boards at such times as they may call on him, showing the amount received on account of the institution, amount paid out, and amount on hand. He shall perform his duties as treasurer of these several institutions under such regulation as shall be prescribed in each case by their respective boards of managers, trustees, or directors, with the approval of the governor; and shall be responsible on his official bond for the faithful discharge of his duties as treasurer of each of the several institutions. As treasurer of such institutions he shall, annually, after the examination, verification, and cancellation of his vouchers, deposit the same with the respective institutions, and the superintendents thereof shall be responsible for their safekeeping. (Rev., s. 5376; Code, ss. 2235, 2251, 3723; 1879, c. 240, s. 2; 1881, c. 811, s. 9; c. 128; 1883, c. 156, s. 12, c. 405; 1895, c. 434; 1899, c. 1, s. 11; 1919, c. 314, s. 6; C. S. 7689.)

§ 147-73. Office of treasurer of each State Institution abolished.—The office of Treasurer of each of the several State institutions of which the State Treasurer is ex officio Treasurer is hereby abolished. (1929, c. 337, s. 3.)

§ 147-74. Office of State Treasurer declared office of deposit and disbursement.—The office of the State Treasurer is declared to be an office of deposit and disbursement and only such records and accounts as may be necessary to disclose the accountability of the State Treasurer shall be kept. The purpose of this section is to prevent duplication in account and record keeping and such accounts as may be necessary shall be prescribed by the Director of the Budget under the terms of the Executive Budget Act. (1929, c. 337, s. 2.)

§ 147-75. May authorize chief clerk to act for him; treasurer liable.—The treasurer may authorize his chief clerk to perform any duties pertaining to the office, except signing checks; but the treasurer shall be responsible for the conduct of all his clerks. (Rev., s. 5377; Code, s. 3358; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 76; C. S. 7690.)

§ 147-76. Liability for false entries in his books.—If the treasurer of the state shall willfully or falsely make, or cause to be made, any false entry or charge in any book kept by him as treasurer, or shall willfully or falsely form, or procure to be formed, any statement of the treasury, to be by him laid before the governor, the general assembly, or any committee thereof, or to be by him used in any settlement which he is required to make with the auditor, with intent, in any of said instances, to defraud the state or any person, such treasurer shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined, at the discretion of the court, not exceeding three thousand dollars, and imprisoned not exceeding three years. (Rev., s. 3606; Code, s. 1119; R. C., c. 34, s. 68; C. S. 7691.)

§ 147-77. Daily deposit of funds to credit of treasurer.—All funds belonging to the State of North Carolina, in the hands of any head of any department of the State which collects revenue for the State in any form whatsoever, and every institution, agency, officer, employee, or representative of the State, or any agency, department, division or commission thereof, except officers and the clerk of the Supreme Court, collecting or receiving any funds or money belonging to the State of North Carolina, shall daily deposit the same in some bank, or trust company, or other depositary agent of the State of North Carolina, in the hands of any head of any department of the State which is authorized to make short-term notes for temporary emergencies, but such notes must only be made to provide for appropriations already made by the general assembly, or any committee thereof, or to be by him used in any settlement which he is required to make with the auditor, with intent, in any of said instances, to defraud the state or any person, such treasurer shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined, at the discretion of the court, not exceeding three thousand dollars, and imprisoned not exceeding three years. (Rev., s. 3606; Code, s. 1119; R. C., c. 34, s. 68; C. S. 7691.)

§ 147-78. Treasurer to select depositories; bond.—The State Treasurer is hereby authorized and empowered to select and designate, wherever necessary, in this State some bank or banks or trust company as an official depository of the State, and the said Treasurer shall require of such depository a bond, or in lieu thereof, of collateral security for such deposit, consisting of such bonds as are approved for investment by the State sinking fund, as provided for in §§ 143-31 to 143-43, payable to the State of North Carolina, in a sufficient amount to protect the State on account of any deposit of State funds made therein. (1925, c. 128, s. 1.)

§ 147-79. Deposits of state funds in banks that have provided for safety of deposits without requiring depository bonds.—Where any bank or trust company, state or national, has come within the provisions of the national banking laws, providing guarantee or insurance on security, in full, for the deposits in such bank or trust company, and for payment thereof upon demand of the depositor, and when thereby such protection is afforded depositors of such bank or trust company, and where any such bank or trust company may be properly designated as a depository for the deposits of moneys of the state of North Carolina, or of any county, city, town, or other political subdivision of the state of North Carolina, it shall be permissible and lawful to deposit the moneys of the state, or of such county, city, town, or other political subdivision therein, without requiring of the said bank or trust company to furnish any additional security for the protection of such deposits, or the payment thereof upon demand, as now required by law. Provided, however, that the council of state shall have previously passed upon the character and extent of the guarantee afforded by the United States banking laws, and shall have approved the same as satisfactory: Provided further, that the approval of such bank or trust company as a depository for moneys of the state of North Carolina must be given by the council of state, and approval by the local government commission must be secured for such bank or trust company to act as a depository for any county, city, town, or other political subdivision of the state: Provided further, that any action in regard to these matters shall be discretionary with the council of state as far as this section applies to them, and with the local government commission as far as this section applies to it.

Where the deposits are guaranteed or insured only in part, the bank or trust company receiving such deposits shall be required to deposit bonds or security only to the extent of the unguaranteed portion of said deposits. (1933, c. 461, ss. 1, 1½.)

Editor's Note.—See 11 N. C. Law Rev. 201, for review of this section.

§ 147-80. Deposit in other banks unlawful; liability.—It shall be unlawful for any funds of the State to be deposited by any person, institution, or department or agency in any place or bank or trust company, other than those so selected and designated as official depositories of the State of North Carolina by the State Treasurer, and any person so offending or aiding and abetting in such offense shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punished by a fine or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court, and any person so offending or aiding and abetting in such offense shall also immediately become civilly liable to the State of North Carolina in the amount of the money or funds unlawfully deposited, and, at the instance of the State Treasurer, or at the instance of the Governor, the Attorney-General shall forthwith institute the civil action in the name of the State of North Carolina against such person or persons, either in the courts of Wake County, according to their respective jurisdiction, or in the county in which said unlawful deposit has been made, according to the selection made by the officer requesting the institution of such action, for the purpose of recovering the amount of the money so unlawfully deposited, with interest thereon at six per cent per annum, and for the cost of said action, and the court in which said action is tried may also tax, as a part of the cost in said action, to the use of the State of North Carolina, a sum sufficient to reimburse the State of North Carolina for all expense incidental to or connected with the preparation and prosecution of such action. (1925, c. 128, s. 3.)

§ 147-81. Number of depositories; contract.—The State Treasurer is authorized and empowered to select as many depositories in one place and in the State as may appear to him to be necessary and convenient for the various officers, representatives and employees of the State, to comply with the purposes of §§ 147-77, 147-78, 147-80, 147-81, 147-82, 147-83 and 147-84, and may make such contracts with said depositories for the payment of interest on average daily or monthly balances as may appear advantageous to the State in the opinion of such treasurer and the Governor. (1925, c. 128, s. 4.)

§ 147-82. Accounts of funds kept separate.—In order to preserve and keep them separate, all funds that are now required by law to be kept separate or to be separately administered, both by state departments, institutions, commissions, and other agencies or divisions of the state which collect or receive funds belonging to the state, or funds handled or maintained as trust funds in any form by such department, division or institution, shall be evidenced in daily reports by distribution sheets, which shall reflect and show an exact copy of the accounts, showing the distribution of said money kept by such collecting departments, institutions and agencies, and the same shall be entered in the records of the office of the State Treasurer, so as to keep and maintain in the office where the same is first collected or received the same account thereof, and of the distribution thereof, the same records and accounts as are kept in the office of the State Treasurer relating thereto. (1925, c. 128, s. 5.)

§ 147-83. Receipts from Federal government and gifts not affected.—Sections 147-77, 147-78, 147-80, 147-81, 147-82, 147-83 and 147-84 shall not be held or construed to affect or interfere with the receipts and disbursements of any funds received from the Federal government, or in the instrument evidencing the said private donation or gift, a contrary disposition or handling is prescribed or required, and the said sections shall not apply to any moneys paid to any department, institution or agency, or undertaking of the State of North Carolina, as a part of any legislative appropriation, or allotment from any contingency fund, as provided by law, after the same has been paid out of the State treasury. § 148-1. Commission to employ servants and agents.—The state highway and public works commission may employ a director and such supervisors, inspectors, superintendents, wardens, physicians, overseers, guards, and other servants and agents as it may deem necessary for the management of the affairs of the state prison system and the safeguarding and employment of the prisoners therein confined. The compensation and duties of these employees shall be fixed under the provisions of the budget act and the personnel act. The commission may discharge the director with the consent and approval of the governor, and may discharge any other servants or agents at will. (Rev., s. 5388; 1901, c. 472, s. 3; 1925, c. 163; 1933, c. 172, s. 18; 1943, c. 409; C. S. 7703.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 172, §§ 2, 18, created the state highway and public works commission and conferred upon it all the powers and duties formerly exercised by the state prison department. And section 18 of said chapter further provided for the substitution of the terms “highway and public works commission,” etc., for “prison department,” etc., throughout this chapter. The 1943 amendment rewrote the section.

§ 148-2. Employees' bonds; money paid to state treasurer.—The state highway and public works commission shall require its officers, employees, or agents, who may be authorized by law, or hereafter authorized by the commission, to collect or receive the moneys and earnings of the state prison, to enter into bonds payable to the State of North Carolina in such penal sums and with such security as may be approved by the commission, conditioned upon the faithful performance of their duties in collecting and receiving, and paying over the moneys and earnings of the prison. Only such corporate security shall be accepted as is with sureties licensed to do business in North Carolina. (Rev., s. 5389; 1901, c. 472, s. 7; 1925, c. 156; 1925, c. 163; 1933, c. 172, s. 18; C. S. 7704.)

§ 148-3. Acquisition and alienation of property. —Whenever it may be necessary or convenient in the operation of the state prison system, or whenever expressly authorized by law, such property, both real and personal, as may be deemed necessary by the state highway and public works commission may be acquired by gift, devise, purchase, or lease; and whenever it may be necessary or convenient in the opinion of the state highway and public works commission, the commission may dispose of any such property, either real or personal, or any interest or estate therein, but all sales of real property shall be subject to the approval of the governor and council of state and deeds shall be executed in accordance with the provisions of General Statutes, §§ 147 to 150. (Rev., s. 5392; 1901, c. 472, ss. 3, 6; 1925, c. 163; 1933, c. 172, s. 18; 1943, c. 409; C. S. 7705.)

Editor's Note.—The 1943 amendment rewrote this section.

§ 148-4. Management of convicts and prison property; recapture of escaped convicts. —The commission shall have control and custody of all state convicts, either in the prison or on farms leased or purchased for their employment, and may be commissioned by the governor, either generally or specially, as special officers for returning escaped prisoners or other fugitives from justice from outside the State, when such persons have been extradited or voluntarily surrendered. The commission shall manage and have charge of all the property and effects of the state prison, and conduct all its affairs subject to the provisions of this chapter. It may adopt and enforce such rules and regulations for the government of the state prison, its agents and employees and the convicts therein confined as to them may seem just and proper. (Rev., s. 5390; 1901, c. 472, s. 4; 1925, c. 163; 1933, c. 172, ss. 5, 18; 1935, c. 257, s. 2; 1943, c. 409; C. S. 7706.)

§ 148-5. Commission to have control over prison property.—The state highway and public works commission shall have control and custody of all state highway prison camps, together with all property of every kind assigned thereto, the central prison at Raleigh, and all state prison farms, camps and other places for detention and employment of prisoners, together with all property of every kind and description, and all books, accounts, and records of such establishments. (1933, c. 172, s. 4.)

§ 148-6. Custody, employment and hiring out of convicts.—The state highway and public works commission shall provide for receiving, and keeping in custody until discharged by law, all such convicts as may be now confined in the prison and such as may be hereafter sentenced to imprisonment therein by the several courts of this State. The commission shall have full power and authority to provide for employment of such convicts, either on the prison or on farms owned by the State of North Carolina, or elsewhere, or otherwise; and may contract for the hire or employment of any able-bodied convicts upon such terms as may be just and fair, but such convicts so hired, or employed, shall remain under the actual management, control and care of the commission: Provided, however, that no female convict shall be worked on public roads or streets in any manner. (Rev., s. 5591; 1895, c. 194, s. 5; 1897, c. 270; 1901, c. 472, ss. 5, 6; 1925, c. 163; 1933, c. 172, s. 18; C. S. 7707.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment, Public Laws 1925, the provision for fire or employment of any property owned by the state replaced a provision for work on property owned by the state prison. There was also a former provision restricting prisoners to be hired out to those not necessary to be detained in the prison near Raleigh, which was omitted by the Public Laws 1925.

§ 148-7. Inspection of mines.—The state highway and public works commission is hereby authorized, in its discretion, to have monthly inspection made of all mines in North Carolina in which state convicts are or may be employed and to employ for this purpose the services of an accredited mine inspector approved by the United States Bureau of Mines. public works commission is authorized to purchase and install automobile license tag plant equipment for the purpose of manufacturing license tags and for such other purposes as the commission may direct.

§ 148-11. State highway and public works commission to make regulations.—The state highway and public works commission may adopt such rules and regulations for enforcing discipline as their judgment may indicate, not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the state. They shall upon the report of said physician as to his physical and mental capacity. (1917, c. 286, s. 22; 1925, c. 163; 1933, c. 172.)

§ 148-12. Record of conduct of prisoners.—The director of the state prison system and the superintendents of county chain gangs or road forces, under rules and regulations of the state highway and public works commission, shall keep a record of the conduct and demeanor of all prisoners held in the state prison system and on county chain gangs. Uniforms of stripes to designate felonies may be used by the prison authorities of the commission as a matter of discipline only; and prisoners, even though convicted of felony, need not be clothed in such stripes except as a form of discipline for violation of prison rules. No person not convicted of a felony shall be required to wear a uniform of stripes such as is usually used to designate felonies.

Editor's Note.—The 1943 amendment struck out at the end of the first paragraph the words "and until such rules are so made by the commission, the regulations set out in §§ 148-14 to 148-16 and 148-18 shall govern these matters."

§§ 148-14 to 148-17: Repealed by Session Laws 1943, c. 409.

§ 148-20. Whipping or flogging prisoners. —It is unlawful for the state highway and public works commission to whip or flog, or have whipped or flogged, any prisoner committed to their charge until twenty-four hours after the report of the offense or disobedience, and only then in the presence of the physician of prison or prison chaplain; and no prisoner other than those of the third class as defined in this article shall be whipped or flogged at any time.

Cross Reference.—As to control of county convicts, see § 153-190.

Editor's Note.—In State v. Nipper, 166 N. C. 272, 81 S. E. 164, decided in 1914, it was held that there was no law which allowed flogging of convicts to enforce discipline, and that its infliction was contrary to law. Clark, C. J., in writing the opinion, does not mention prison conditions in other countries, and how most of them have abolished flogging in all cases, where formerly they allowed it in the armies, navies, schools and homes. Although it seemed that flogging had been a custom so well established in controlling prisons that the right to administer it had never been formerly questioned, there was no direct control on it. The above was the law in 1917 and though the right and power to punish by flogging is guarded and limited it shows that the legislature still leaves flogging power in the guards as means of control, and so it has been for years.

Constitutionality.—Where a public-local law provides for whipping to be administered to convicts sentenced to work and administered "fifteen or twenty licks," it is held that discipline, safeguarded in respect to its being humanely administered after due notice to the offender, under proper assurance of our Constitution and is a valid enactment. Constitutionality—Where a guard is charged with an assault upon a convict, and it is shown that his superior officer instructed him to take the convict over the hill away from the rest of the prisoners and give him five or six licks for refractory conduct; but that the guard used a leather strap 2% inches wide, 2% feet long, and %4 inch thick, upon the prisoner's bare back, with other prisoners holding his head, legs, and feet, in the presence of the "whole crowd," and administered "fifteen or twenty licks," it is held that the guarantor, and the superior officer instructed him to do so brutally or without mercy: Held, the statute is not inhibited by any provision of our Constitution and is a valid enactment. Constitutionality—Where an assault upon a convict, and it is shown that his superior officer instructed him to take the convict over the hill away from the rest of the prisoners and give him five or six licks for refractory conduct; but that the guard used a leather strap 2% inches wide, 2% feet long, and %4 inch thick, upon the prisoner's bare back, with other prisoners holding his head, legs, and feet, in the presence of the "whole crowd," and administered "fifteen or twenty licks," it is held that the guarantor, and the superior officer instructed him to do so brutally or without mercy: Held, the statute is not inhibited by any provision of our Constitution and is a valid enactment.

§ 148-21. Prisoner's supplies and clothes to be marked.—The prisoner's number shall be used for marking all clothes, bedding, beds, and other supplies used by prisoners, so that when such clothes, bedding, clothing, and supplies are washed and cleaned they shall be always returned for the use of the same prisoner. (1917, c. 286, s. 9; 1925, c. 163; C. S. 7729.)

§ 148-22. Recreation and instruction of prisoners.—The state highway and public works commission shall arrange certain forms of recreation for the prisoners, and arrange so that the prisoners during their leisure hours between work and time to retire shall have an opportunity to take part in games, to attend lectures, and to take part in other forms of amusement that may be provided by the commission. The commission shall organize classes among the prisoners so that those who desire may receive instruction in various lines of educational pursuits. They shall utilize, where possible, the services of the prisoners who are sufficiently educated to act as instructors for such classes; such services, however, shall be voluntary on the part of the prisoner. This section shall apply to the state prison and to the state farms and state camps. (1917, c. 286, s. 15; 1925, c. 163; 1933, c. 172, s. 18; C. S. 7730.)

§ 148-23. Prison employee not to use intoxicants or profanity.—No one addicted to the use of intoxicating liquors shall be employed as to enforce tendent, warden, guard, or in any other position connected with the state highway and public works commission, where such position requires: the incumbent to have any charge or direction of the prisoners; and any one holding such position, or any one who may be employed in any other capacity in the state prison system, who shall come under the influence of intoxicating liquors, shall at once cease to be an employee of any of the institutions and shall not be eligible for reinstatement to such position or be employed in any other position in any of the institutions. Any superintendent, warden, guard, supervisor, or other person holding any position in the state highway and public works commission who commits a prisoner under this charge shall at once cease to be an employee and shall not be eligible for reinstatement. (1917, c. 286, s. 16; 1919, c. 80, s. 8; 1925, c. 163; 1933, c. 172, s. 18; C. S. 7733.)
§ 148-27. Women prisoners; limitations on labor of prisoners.—The state highway and public works commission may provide suitable quarters for women prisoners and arrange for work suitable to their capacity; and the several courts of the state may assign women convicted of offenses, whether felonies or misdemeanors, to these quarters. No woman prisoner shall be assigned to work under the supervision of the state highway and public works commission whose term of imprisonment is less than six months, or who is under eighteen years of age. (1931, c. 145, s. 32; 1933, c. 309; 1933, c. 172, s. 18; 1935, c. 257, s. 3; 1943, c. 409.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment of 1935, this section was so radically changed that no comparison can be made.

The 1943 amendment transferred from the end of this section to the end of § 148-30 the following language, to-wit: "No male person shall be so assigned whose term of imprisonment is less than thirty days." It also struck out the following proviso: "Provided, that in criminal actions in which the penalty of the peace has final jurisdiction, no county shall be liable for or taxed with any costs."

§ 148-28. Sentencing of prisoners to central prison.—The several judges of the superior courts of this state are hereby given express authority in passing sentence upon persons convicted of a felony, when, in their opinion, the nature of the offense or the character or condition of the defendant makes it advisable to do so, to sentence such person to the central prison at Raleigh, and thereupon a sheriff or other appropriate officer of the county shall cause such prisoner to be delivered with the proper commitment papers to the warden of the central prison. (1933, c. 172, s. 7.)

§ 148-29. Transportation of convicts to prison; sheriff's expense affidavit; state not liable for maintenance expenses until convict received.—The sheriff having in charge any prisoner sentenced to the central prison at Raleigh shall send him to the central prison within five days after the adjournment of the court at which he was sentenced, if no appeal has been taken. The sheriff shall file with the board of commissioners of his county a copy of his affidavit as to necessary guard, together with a copy of his itemized account of expenses, both certified to by the auditor as true copies of those on file in his office. The state is not liable for the expenses of maintaining convicts until they have been received by the state highway and public works commission authorities, nor shall any moneys be paid out of the treasury for support of convicts prior to such reception. (Rev., ss. 5398, 5399, 5400; Code, ss. 3432, 3437, 3483; 1869-70, c. 180, s. 3; 1870-1, c. 124, s. 3; 1874-5, c. 107, s. 3; 1925, c. 163; 1933, c. 172, s. 18; C. S. 7718, 7719, 7720.)

Expense of Conveying.—This section only applies to expenses of maintenance and does not apply to expense of conveying convicts to the penitentiary. By the Acts of 1869-73 it was especially provided that the expense of conveying should be paid by the state and this section did not repeal that act. Taylor v. Adams, 66 N. C. 338.

§ 148-30. Sentencing to public roads.—In all cases not provided for in §§ 148-28 and 148-29, the courts sentencing defendants to imprisonment with hard labor shall sentence such prisoners to jail, to be assigned to work under the state highway and public works commission, and the clerks of the several courts in which such sentences are pronounced shall notify the superintendent of the nearest highway prison camp, or such other agent of the commission as he may be advised by them is the proper person to receive such notice. Whereupon, the commission shall cause some duly authorized agent thereof to take such prisoners into custody, with the proper commitments therefor, and deliver them to such camp or station as the proper authorities of the commission shall designate: Provided, however, the commission shall not be required to accept any prisoner from any court inferior to the superior court when an appeal has been taken to the superior court, or when the judge of such inferior court shall retain control over the sentence for the purpose of modifying or changing the same. No male person shall be so assigned whose term of imprisonment is less than thirty days. (1933, c. 172, s. 8; 1943, c. 409.)

Editor's Note.—The 1943 amendment added the last sentence.

§ 148-31. Maintenance of central prison; warden; powers and duties. The central prison shall be maintained in such a manner as to conform to all the requirements of Article 11 of the State Constitution, relating to a state's prison. A suitable person shall be appointed warden of the central prison, and he shall succeed to and be vested with all the rights, duties, and powers heretofore vested by law in the superintendent of the state's prison or the warden thereof with respect to capital punishment, or any matter of discipline of the inmates of the prison not otherwise provided for in this article. (1933, c. 172, s. 14.)

§ 148-32. Prisoners may be sentenced to work on city and county properties; commission may provide prisoners for county.—Any county, city or town that operates farms, parks, or other public grounds by convict labor may retain a sufficient number of prisoners for the operation of such properties, and the judges in the courts of such counties, cities, or towns, in lieu of sentencing prisoners to jail to be assigned to work under the state highway and public works commission, shall sentence a sufficient number to the county jail to be assigned to work on such county, city or town properties for the necessary operation thereof; and courts may also sentence prisoners to the county jail to be assigned to work at the county home or other county-supported institution. The commission may in its discretion provide prison labor upon terms and conditions agreed upon from time to time for doing specific tasks of work for the several county homes, county farms, or other county owned properties, but prisoners assigned to such work shall be at all times under the control and custody of a duly authorized agent of the division of prisons. (1931, c. 145, s. 30; 1933, c. 172, s. 31; 1939, c. 243.)

§ 148-33. Prison labor furnished other state agencies.—The state highway and public works commission may furnish to any of the other state departments, state institutions, or agencies, upon such conditions as may be agreed upon from time to time between the commission and the governing authorities of such department, institution or agency, prison labor for carrying on any work where it is practical and desirable to use prison labor in the furtherance of the purposes of any state department, institution or agency, and such other employment as is now provided by law for inmates of the state’s prison under the provisions of § 148-32. Provided that such prisoners shall at all times be under the custody of and controlled by the duly authorized agent of such commission. (1933, c. 172, s. 30.)

§ 148-34. Establishment of prison districts and camps.—There shall be established in this State by the state highway and public works commission such number of prison districts as shall determine advisable. The state highway and public works commission shall, as soon thereafter as practicable, locate the prison camp or camps in each of said districts. Until such time as it shall be feasible for the commission to build and construct prison camps in accordance with the provisions of this article, it shall be the duty of the commission to take over and acquire by contract such county or road district prison camps as in their opinion shall be necessary for the use of the county prisoners on the public roads of the several county road systems as hereafter provided.

The state highway and public works commission, in lieu of locating and constructing prison camps in lieu of the dissolved or new acquire by contract and take over prison camps in any county or road district and may make such alterations and additions thereto as shall be necessary to render the same suitable for a district prison camp. (1931, c. 145, s. 26; 1933, c. 172, s. 17; 1943, c. 409.)

Editor’s Note.—Prior to the 1943 amendment the duties of the commission were to be performed with the approval of the governor and the prison districts were limited to "not less than five."

§ 148-35. Plans and specifications for original prison camps.—All district prison camps authorized by § 148-34, and all additions made to county camps taken over by the state highway and public works commission as authorized by § 148-34, shall be constructed, altered or changed, under plans and specifications prepared by the commission. The construction, alterations or changes shall be done by the highway and public works commission and, as far as shall be practicable, prisoners shall be used to do the work. (1931, c. 145, s. 27; 1933, c. 172, s. 17; 1943, c. 409.)

Editor’s Note.—The 1943 amendment struck out the words “with the approval of the governor, the state board of health, and the state board of charities and public welfare.”

§ 148-36. Highway and public works commission to control camps.—The district prison camps and all county prison camps acquired by the state highway and public works commission in lieu of district prison camps shall be under the control and direction of the commission, and operated under rules and regulations to be made by the commission, and approved by the governor, and subject to such rules and regulations so adopted and approved, the commission shall establish grades for prisoners according to conduct, and so far as possible introduce the honor system, and may transfer honor prisoners to honor camps. The district prison camps shall be under the control and direction of the commission, and operated under rules and regulations to be made by the commission, and approved by the governor, and the prison districts were limited to "not less than five."

Editor’s Note.—The 1943 amendment struck out the words “the state board of charities and public welfare” formerly appearing after the word “governor” in line eight. The amendment also struck out the words “by and with the consent and approval of the governor and the division of personnel of the budget bureau” formerly appearing after the words “by the commission” in the last sentence.

§ 148-37. Additional prison camps authorized.—The commission may establish such additional camps as are necessary for use by the division of prisons, such camps to be either of a permanent type of construction, or of temporary or movable type as the commission may find most advantageous to the particular needs, to the end that work to be done by the prisoners under its supervision may be so distributed throughout the state as to render their employment most economical and profitable, the commission to be the sole judges of the type and character of such buildings without the control of any other department. For this purpose, the commission may purchase or lease camp sites and suitable lands adjacent therefor and erect necessary buildings thereon, all within the limits of allotments as approved from time to time by the budget bureau for this purpose. (1931, c. 172, s. 19.)

§ 148-38. Employment of prisoners assigned to camps.—All able-bodied prisoners committed or assigned to the district prison camps shall be employed in the maintenance and construction of roads in the public road system of the several counties, or upon the state highway system, or assigned to such special duty in connection with the prison camps, or the preparation and repair of all road equipment and supplies as the state highway and public works commission may determine. (1931, c. 145, s. 29; 1933, c. 173, s. 17.)

§ 148-39. Cost of keeping prisoners borne by state highway and public works commission.—The cost and expense of construction of the various prison camps, the care, transportation and maintenance of prisoners and their guarding and supervision shall be paid by the state highway and public works commission from the county road maintenance funds provided in the Budget Appropriations Act: Provided, however, when prisoners are used upon the state highway system in construction or maintenance, the cost and expense of transportation and maintenance of such prisoners, their guarding and supervision, shall be paid from § 148-40. Recapture of escaped prisoners. — State highway and public works commission may, in the rules and regulations to be adopted by it, provide for the recapture of convicts that may escape, or any convicts that may have escaped from the state's prison or highway prison camps, or county road camps of this state, and may pay such reward or expense of recapture as the commission may by regulation provide to any person making the same. Any citizen of North Carolina shall have authority to apprehend any convict who may escape before the expiration of his term of imprisonment whether he be guilty of a felony or misdemeanor, and retain him in custody and deliver him to the division of prisons. (1933, c. 172, s. 21.)

§ 148-41. Recapture of escaping prisoners; reward; punishment for escape.—The state highway and public works commission shall use every means possible to recapture, regardless of expense, any prisoners escaping from or leaving without permission any of the state prisons, camps, or farms. When any person who has been confined or placed to work escapes from the state prison system, the commission shall immediately notify the Governor, and accompany the notice with a full description of the escaped prisoner, together with such information as will aid in the recapture. The Governor may offer such rewards as he may deem advisable and necessary for the recapture and return to the state prison system of any person who may escape or who heretofore has escaped therefrom. Such reward earned shall be paid by warrant of the state highway and public works commission and accounted for as a part of the expense of maintaining the state's prisons.

If a prisoner of Class A or Class B attempts to escape or leaves the state prison or any state farm or state camp without permission, he shall, upon being recaptured, be reduced to Class C and shall permanently lose all his accumulated time and good conduct. (Rev., s. 5407; Code, s. 3442; 1873-4, c. 158, s. 13; 1917, c. 236; 1917, c. 286, s. 13; 1925, c. 363; 1933, c. 172, s. 18; 1935, c. 414, s. 16; 1943, c. 409; C. S. 7742, 7743.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the 1943 amendment the last sentence of the first paragraph read: "Such reward earned shall be paid by the treasurer of the state on the warrant of the state treasury, and counted for as a part of the expense of maintaining the state’s prisons."

§ 148-42. Indeterminate sentences. — The several judges of the superior court are authorized in their discretion in sentencing prisoners for a term in excess of twelve months to provide for a minimum and maximum sentence, and the commission is authorized to consider at least once in every six (3) months the cases of such prisoners that have thus been committed with indeterminate sentences, and to take into consideration the prisoners’ conduct, and to authorize his discharge at any time after the service of the minimum term subject to his earned allowance for good behavior which his conduct may justify. (1933, c. 172, s. 24.)

§ 148-43. Prisoners of different races kept separate. — White and colored prisoners shall not be confined or shackled together in the same room of any building or tent, either in the State Prison or at any State or county convict camp, during the eating or sleeping hours, and at all other times the separation of the two races shall be as complete as practicable. Any officer or employee of either the State or any county in the State having charge of convicts or prisoners who shall violate or permit the violation of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not more than fifty dollars or imprisoned not more than thirty days. (1909, c. 832, ss. 1, 2; 1917, c. 286, s. 24; 1923, c. 163; C. S. 7740.)

Cross Reference.—As to subsequent statute on this subject, see § 148-44.

§ 148-44. Segregation as to race, sex and age. —The commission shall provide separate sleeping quarters and separate eating space for the different races and the different sexes; and, in so far as it is practical to do so, shall provide for youthful convicts to segregate to themselves. (1933, c. 172, s. 25.)

§ 148-45. Penalty for escaping or assisting in. —Any prisoner who escapes or attempts to escape, or in any manner connives, aids or assists in helping other prisoners to escape or attempt to escape shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be imprisoned at the discretion of the court, such term of imprisonment to commence at the termination of the sentence being served at the time of the offense, and such offending prisoner shall likewise forfeit all gained time that he has earned by previous good conduct. (1933, c. 172, s. 26.)

§ 148-46. Degree of protection against violence allowed. — When any prisoner, or several combined shall offer violence to any officer, overseer, or guard, or to any fellow prisoner, or attempt to do any injury to the prison building, or to any workshop, or other equipment, or shall attempt to escape, or shall resist, or disobey any lawful command, the officer, overseer, or guard shall use any means necessary to defend himself, or to enforce the observance of discipline, or to secure the person of the offender, and to prevent an escape. (1933, c. 172, s. 27.)

§ 148-47. Disposition of child born of female prisoner. —Any child born of a female convict while she is in custody shall upon the arrival of a suitable age be surrendered to the clerk of the superior court of Wake county for disposition as the law provides in the case of children whose parents are dead or unable to provide for them. (1933, c. 172, s. 28.)

§ 148-48. Parole powers of governor unaffected. —Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to limit or restrict the power of the governor to parole prisoners under such conditions as he may himself impose or prevent the reimprisonment of such prisoners upon the violation of the conditions of such parole, as now provided by law. (1933, c. 172, s. 29.)
.§ 148-49. Prison indebtedness not assumed by commission.—The state highway and public works commission shall not assume or pay off any part of the deficit of the state prison existing on March 22, 1933. (1933, c. 172, s. 33.)

Art. 4. Paroles.

.§ 148-50. Advisory board of paroles created; term of office; vacancy appointments.—The governor of North Carolina is hereby authorized and empowered to name an advisory board of paroles of six members, consisting of the attorney general, the chairman of the state highway and public works commission, the superintendent of public welfare, and three others, who are not state office holders and who are not connected officially with the state highway and public works commission, to be selected by the governor and to serve for the term of his appointment, and to perform such duties in the state prison program as may be assigned to them by the governor. The members of the board, other than ex-officio members, shall be appointed as follows: One for a term of one year, one for a term of two years, and one for a term of three years. The members of the board, other than the ex-officio members, shall receive as compensation the sum of seven dollars per day and actual expenses while attending the meetings of the board, or while performing such other duties as may be assigned to them by the governor: Provided, however, the compensation may be raised to the sum of ten dollars per day by the governor at his discretion. (1935, c. 414, s. 1.)

.§ 148-52. Commissioner of paroles; assistants.—The governor of North Carolina is authorized and empowered to appoint a commissioner of paroles and one or more assistants to said commissioner as he may deem wise and expedient, who shall, under the governor's direction, aid the governor in more fully performing all of the duties of the parole commissioner, and who shall, under the direction of the governor, maintain frequent contacts with paroled prisoners and find out whether or not they are observing the conditions of their paroles, and assist them in every possible way toward compliance with the conditions of their paroles, and they shall perform such other duties in connection with paroled prisoners as the governor may require. The number of supervisors may be increased by the governor as and when the number of paroled prisoners to be supervised requires or justifies such increase. (1935, c. 414, s. 4.)

§ 148-59. Duties of clerks of all courts as to commitments; statements filed with commissioner of paroles.—The several clerks of the superior courts and the clerks of all inferior courts shall attach to the commitment of each prisoner sentenced in such courts a statement furnishing such information as the governor shall by regulations prescribe, which information shall contain, among other things, the following: (1) The court in which the prisoner was tried; (2) the name of the prisoner and of all co-defendants; (3) the date or term when the prisoner was tried; (4) the offense with which the prisoner was charged and the offense for which convicted; (5) the judgment of the court and the date of the beginning of the sentence; (6) the name and address of the presiding judge; (7) the name and address of the prosecuting solicitor; (8) the name and address of private prosecuting attorney, if any; (9) the name and address of the arresting officer; and (10) all available information of the previous criminal record of the prisoner.

Forms for furnishing the information required by this section shall, upon request, be furnished to the said clerks by the state highway and public works commission without charge. (1935, c. 414, s. 9.)

§ 148-60. Time for release of prisoners discretionary.—The time of releasing each prisoner eligible for consideration for parole as provided for herein shall be discretionary, and due consideration shall be given to the reasonable probability that the prisoner will live and remain in liberty without violating the law; that the release of the prisoner is not incompatible with the welfare of society, and that the record of the prisoner during his confinement established that the prisoner is obedient to prison rules and regulations, and has shown the proper respect for prison officials, and due regard and consideration for his fellow prisoners; and that the prisoner harbors no resentment against society or the judge, prosecuting attorneys, or jury that convicted the prisoner. (1935, c. 414, s. 10.)

§ 148-61. Contents of release order. — When a prisoner is released on parole, the parole instrument shall specify in writing the conditions of the parole, the place of residence of the parolee, within or without the State, the name and address of the party to whom the parolee is to report, and times and places when and where the said parolee shall report to the said party during the entire period of the parole. (1935, c. 414, s. 11.)

§ 148-62. Cooperation of prison officials; information to be furnished. — The warden of each prison and the superintendent of each camp and farm and all officers and employees thereof and all other public officials shall at all times cooperate with the governor and parole commissioner and shall furnish to them all information that may be requested from time to time that will assist them in performing their functions, and all such wardens and other employees shall at all times give to the governor and parole commissioner and his staff free access to all prisoners. (1935, c. 414, s. 14.)

§ 148-65. § 148-66. Cities and towns and board of agriculture may contract for prison labor.—The corporate authorities of any city or town may contract in writing with the state highway and public works commission for the employment of convicts upon the highways or streets of such city or town, and such contracts when so exercised shall be valid and enforceable against such city or town, and the attorney-general may prosecute an action in the Superior Court of Wake County in the name of the State for their enforcement.

The board of agriculture of the state of North Carolina is hereby authorized and empowered to § 148-67. Hiring to cities and towns and board of agriculture.—The state highway and public works commission shall in their discretion, upon application to them, hire to the corporate authorities of any city or town for the purposes specified in § 148-66, such convicts as are mentally and physically capable of performing the work or labor contemplated and are not at the time of such application hired or otherwise engaged in labor under the direction of the commission; but the convicts so hired for services shall be fed, clothed and quartered while so employed by the commission.

Upon application to it, it shall be the duty of the state highway and public works commission, in its discretion, to hire to the board of agriculture of the state of North Carolina for the purposes of working on the state test farms and/or state experimental stations, such convicts as may be mentally and physically capable of performing the work or labor contemplated; but the convicts so hired for services shall be fed, clothed and quartered while so employed by the state highway and public works commission. (Rev., s. 5411; Code, s. 3450; 1881, c. 127, s. 2; 1925, c. 163; 1931, c. 145, s. 35; 1933, c. 172, s. 18; 1943, c. 605, s. 2; C. S. 7739.)

Editor's Note.—The 1943 amendment added the second paragraph.

§ 148-68. Payment of contract price; interest; enforcement of contracts.—The corporate authorities of any city or town so hiring convicts shall pay into the treasury of the state for the labor of any convict so hired such sum or sums of money at such time or times as may be agreed upon in the contract of hire; and if any such city or town fails to pay the state money due for such hiring, the same shall bear interest from the time it is due until paid at the rate of six per cent per annum and an action to recover the same may be instituted by the attorney-general in the name of the state in the courts of Wake County. (Rev., s. 5412; Code, s. 3451; 1881, c. 127, s. 3; 1925, c. 163; 1931, c. 145, s. 35; C. S. 7760.)

(Rev., s. 5413; Code, s. 3452; 1881, c. 127, s. 4; 1925, c. 163; 1931, c. 145, s. 35; C. S. 7761.)

§ 148-70. Management and care of convicts; prison industries; disposition of products of convict labor.—The state highway and public works commission in all contracts for labor shall provide for feeding and clothing the convicts and shall maintain, control and guard the quarters in which the convicts live during the time of the contracts; and the commission shall provide for the guarding and working of such convicts under its sole supervision and control. The commission may make such contracts for the hire of the convicts confined in the state prison as may in its discretion be proper and will promote the purpose and duty to make the state prison as nearly self-supporting as is consistent with the purposes of its creation, as set forth in section eleven, article eleven of the Constitution. The commission may use the labor of convicts confined in the state prison in such work on farms, in manufacturing, either within or without the state prison, and may sell or dispose of the products of the labor of the convicts, either in farming or in manufacturing or in other industry at the state prison, to or for any public institution owned, managed, or controlled by the state, or to or for any county, city or town in the state; and the commission may sell or dispose of the same elsewhere and in the open markets or otherwise, as in its discretion may seem profitable. (1917, c. 286, s. 2; 1919, c. 80, s. 1; 1925, c. 163; 1931, c. 145, s. 35; 1933, c. 172, s. 18; C. S. 7762.)

§ 148-70.1. Commission authorized to furnish prison labor to farmers.—The state highway and public works commission is hereby authorized, subject to the conditions hereinafter contained, to furnish prison labor to assist farmers in the production and harvesting of food and feed crops. (1943, c. 452, s. 1.)

§ 148-70.2. When governor declares extraordinary emergency.—Whenever the governor shall find and declare that there exists an extraordinary emergency in any particular section due to the lack of available labor in the work of producing and harvesting food and feed crops, and the chairman of the state highway and public works commission shall find that it is possible to release certain prisoners from highway work without serious prejudice to the maintenance of the public roads, the commission may make such prisoners available for assistance to farmers in such production and harvesting work. (1943, c. 452, s. 2.)

§ 148-70.3. Prerequisites to work on particular farm; county agent as intermediary.—Before any prisoners are furnished for such farm work, the county farm agent in said county shall ascertain and determine that such work is needed upon the particular farm and shall negotiate with the designated representative of the prison department of the state highway and public works commission as to the number of prisoners that may be available for such work, and shall act as an intermediary between the owner of the farm and such designated representative of the prison department of the commission as to the number of prisoners to be employed, the estimated time for which they are to be employed, and the place and character of their work. No prisoners shall be assigned to work on any farm until the owner

§ 148-70.5. Authority of commission to suspend farm work.—Notwithstanding any agreement thereof has deposited with the county farm agent a sum of money sufficient to cover the estimated cost of such work; and when the work is completed, the county farm agent shall remit to the state highway and public works commission pay for such work upon the basis agreed upon. (1943, c. 452, s. 3.)

§ 148-70.6. Prisoners to remain under control of prison department.—Any prisoners furnished for farm work under the provisions of this article shall at all times be under the control of the duly appointed agents of the prison department of the state highway and public works commission and shall be fed and otherwise cared for by the said prison department to the same extent as if they were engaged in highway work. (1943, c. 452, s. 5.)

§ 148-70.7. Duration of article.—This article shall be in force and effect during the present war and for six months thereafter, and no longer. (1943, c. 452, s. 7.)
Chapter 149. State Song.

§ 149-1. "The Old North State."—The song known as "The Old North State," as hereinafter written, is adopted and declared to be the official song of the State of North Carolina, said song being in words as follows:

"Carolina! Carolina! Heaven's blessings attend her!
While we live we will cherish, protect and defend her;
Though the scouter may sneer at and witlings defame her,
Our hearts swell with gladness whenever we name her.
Hurrah! Hurrah! The Old North State forever!
Hurrah! Hurrah! the good Old North State!
Though she envies not others their merited glory,
Say, whose name stands the foremost in Liberty's story!
Though too true to herself e'er to crouch to oppression,
Who can yield to just rule more loyal submission?
Plain and artless her sons, but whose doors open faster
At the knock of a stranger, or the tale of disaster?
How like to the rudeness of their dear native mountains,
With rich ore in their bosoms and life in their fountains,
And her daughters, the Queen of the Forest resembling—
So graceful, so constant, yet to gentlest breath trembling;
And true lightwood at heart, let the match be applied them,
How they kindle and flame! Oh! none know but who've tried them.
Then let all who love us, love the land that we live in
(As happy a region as on this side of Heaven),
Where Plenty and Freedom, Love and Peace smile before us, Raise aloud, raise together, the heart-thrilling chorus!"

(1927, c. 26, s. 1.)

Procedure for hearings on suspension or revocation of licenses by certain state boards and commissions.—No license issued by the state board of examiners of electrical contractors, state licensing board for contractors, state board of accountancy, state board of embalmers, board of chiropody examiners, North Carolina board of veterinary medical examiners, board of barber examiners, state board of registration for engineers and land surveyors, cosmetologists board, tile contractors board, plumbing and heating board, board of boiler rules, and board of photographic examiners shall be revoked or suspended except fixing a date and place for a hearing which shall not be less than thirty days from the issuance of said notice upon the person to whom it is issued, and shall be served upon the person named therein by an officer authorized by law to serve process, or by mailing by registered mail to the person named therein at the address given in the license or the last known address; (2) a hearing before the board, or a member thereof specifically designated by the board for the purpose of hearing the matters involved, at which hearing the accused shall have the right to be present to enter his defense, if any, and be represented by counsel and produce evidence by witnesses or records; (3) notice of action by the board which shall be a written report containing findings of fact and conclusions of law thereon; (4) appeal from the action of the board to the superior court of the county in which the hearing was held or to the superior court of Wake county upon filing of an appeal bond in the sum of fifty dollars which shall act as a supersedeas. (1939, c. 218, s. 1.)

Cross Reference.—As to compulsory reference generally, see § 1-189 et seq.

Editor's Note.—For comment on this enactment, see 17 N. C. Law Rev. 331; 19 N. C. Law Rev. 438.

§ 150-2. Venue of hearings.—All hearings shall be in the county of the residence of the person whose license is involved; provided that after notice such person and the board may agree that the hearing may be held in some other county. (1939, c. 218, c. 2.)

§ 150-3. Authority of boards to issue subpoenas, etc.—For all hearings the board shall have authority to issue subpoenas to witnesses to appear in person and to produce books, records, papers and other evidence as may be necessary or requested. (1939, c. 218, s. 3.)

§ 150-4. Notice of appeal.—When appeal is taken from the decision of the board, the person whose license is involved shall give notice in writing of appeal and shall state therein the exceptions to the decision of the board. Within thirty days the board shall cause to be filed in the office of the clerk of the court in the proper county a complete transcript, including the notice of charges, evidence taken at the hearing, the order or decision of the board and the exceptions filed thereto. The person whose license is involved shall upon his appeal have the right to a trial by jury of the issues of fact arising on the pleadings, but such trial shall be only upon the written evidence taken before the trial committee or counsel. If after the action of the board new evidence shall be discovered by the person whose license is involved or by the board, motion may be made that the matter be remanded to the board for the taking of further evidence, and order thereon may be entered in the discretion of the judge of the superior court in which the matter is pending. (1939, c. 218, s. 4.)

§ 150-5. Right of appeal to supreme court.—From any decision of the superior court either the board or the person whose license is involved shall have the right of appeal to the supreme court. Whenever any notice of appeal is given and the bond required herein is filed, the order of the board shall be superseded until the appeal is finally determined, whereupon, unless reversed, modified or changed, the order shall become binding. (1939, c. 218, s. 5.)

§ 150-6. Power of board to restore licenses.—Whenever any license has been suspended or revoked by any of the boards named in § 150-1, the board shall have the right to restore the license upon satisfactory evidence that the person whose license has been suspended or revoked intends to comply with the law and the rules and regulations of the board. (1939, c. 218, s. 6.)

§ 150-7. Additional powers of boards.—The board is empowered and authorized to sue or be sued in its own name and to apply for such writs as may be desired to prevent the violations of the provisions of the act establishing said board and the amendments thereto. (1939, c. 218, s. 7.)

§ 150-8. Construction of chapter.—Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to remove any additional procedural requirement which may be provided in the laws creating any of the boards named in § 150-1, nor as preventing any of such boards from providing additional rules and regulations concerning the procedure for the suspension or revocation of license. (1939, c. 218, s. 8.)

Chapter 151. Constables.

Sec. 151-1. Election and term.——In each township there shall be a constable, elected by the voters thereof, who shall hold his office for two years. (Rev., s. 933; Const., Art. 4, s. 24; C. S. 971.)

Cross References.—See § 31-3, subsec. 10-12. See also, Const. Art. IV, § 24.

Term of Office.——The provision of Art. IV, § 25 of the Constitution that officers shall hold office until their successors are qualified, does not embrace the office of constable. State v. McLure, 84 N. C. 153.

§ 151-2. Oaths to be taken.——All constables, before they shall be qualified to act, shall take before the board of county commissioners the oaths prescribed for public officers, and also an oath of office. (Rev., s. 934; Code, s. 612; R. C., c. 24, s. 8; C. S. 972.)

Cross References.—As to form of oath, see § 11-11. As to oaths required of public officers, see §§ 11-6, 11-7; Const. Art. VI, § 7. As to penalty for failure, see § 126-5.

§ 151-3. Bond; where registered; how fees paid.——The board of commissioners of each county shall require of each constable, elected or appointed for a township, on entering upon the duties of his office, to give a bond with good security, payable to the state of North Carolina, in a sum not exceeding one thousand dollars, conditioned as well for the faithful discharge of his duty as constable as for his diligently endeavoring to collect all claims put into his hands for collection, and faithfully paying over all sums thereon received, either with or without suit, unto the persons to whom the same may be due. Said bond shall be duly proved and registered and, after registration, filed in the office of the register of deeds; and certified copies of the same from the register's office shall be received and read in evidence in all actions and proceedings where the original might be. The fees for proving and registering the bond of constable shall be paid by the constable. (Rev., s. 302; Code, s. 647; R. C., c. 24, s. 7; 1818, c. 980; 1820, c. 1045, s. 2; 1833, c. 17; 1869-70, c. 185; 1899, c. 54, s. 52; 1901, c. 229; C. S. 973.)

Local Modification.——Stanly: C. S. 973.

Cross References.—See §§ 109-3 to 109-15; 151-9, subsecs. 10-12.

See also, §§ 128-9 et seq. and notes thereto.

Liability Where No Execution Issued.—The securities on a constable's bond are accountable for his default in paying the moneys collected, even though no execution was issued for the purpose of collecting the same. Holcomb v. Franklin, 11 N. C. 274, 277.

Failure to Pay over Money.——Where a claim against a constable becomes due, the claimant is entitled to recover only nominal damages, unless he shows some actual injury sustained. State v. Skinner, 25 N. C. 639, 641, 10 S. E. 872.

Money in Excess of Amount of Execution.——Where a sale of property under execution is made by a sheriff or a constable, and the property brings more than the amount of execution, it is the duty of such sheriff or constable to see that the excess is paid to the owner of the property. If he fails to do so, he is liable on his official bond. State v. Reed, 2 N. C. 357.

Sec. 151-6. Vacancies in office.

Sec. 151-7. Powers and duties.

Sec. 151-8. To execute notices within justice's jurisdiction.

Failure to Collect.——Where a person puts into the constable's hands for collection a note, the amount of which exceeded the jurisdiction of a justice of the peace, and the constable procured the maker to substitute for it two notes, each within the jurisdiction of a justice, and afterwards failed to collect the same when he might have done so, it was held that he was liable on his bond. State v. Stephen, 25 N. C. 92.

Failure to Return Uncollected Notes.——Where a constable received notes to collect, and for want of time did not collect them before his term of office expired, and afterwards refused to deliver them up, it was held that his surties were liable therefor on his official bond. State v. Johnson, 29 N. C. 77.

Constable Becoming Surety.——If an insolvent constable become surety for stay of execution committed to him for collection, it is a breach of his bond. The law requires him to take responsible sureties. Governor v. Davidson, 14 N. C. 361. The same, Governor v. Cable, 13 N. C. 489.

Necessity of Demand.——In an action upon a constable's bond for failing to pay over money collected by him, it is necessary to prove a demand on him. White v. Miller, 20 N. C. 59.

Where negligence in failing to collect is the breach assigned in a suit on a constable's bond, no demand is necessary. Nixon v. Bagby, 52 N. C. 4.

Defense to Suit on Constable's Bond.——It is a sufficient defense to a suit on a constable's bond for failing to return a note given him for collection that the note had been sued and judgment obtained upon it. The note is thus sufficiently accounted for. Miller v. Pickle, 87 N. C. 396. See also, State v. Hooks, 33 N. C. 371.

Limitation of Action.——An action by warrant against a constable's sureties to recover moneys collected by a constable by virtue of his office can only be barred by the same length of time that bars an action on the bond. Wilson v. Coffield, 27 N. C. 513.

Parties.——Where a debt is due to A., and he places it in the hands of a constable for collection, A. is the only person who can maintain, as relator, an action on the official bond of the constable, in the absence of or for want of a constable specifically appointed to execute his mandate. State v. Wynne, 63 N. C. 639, 641, 10 S. E. 872.

Cross References.—See §§ 128-8 et seq. and notes thereto.

Decision of Justice Conclusive as to Extraordinary Case.——The decision of the justice of the peace is conclusive as to the existence of an "extraordinary case" for which he is, under this section, authorized to appoint anyone a special constable to execute his mandate. State v. Wynne, 118 N. C. 1250, 1256, 24 S. E. 215; State v. Armistead, 106 N. C. 639, 641, 10 S. E. 872.

However, while as much was stated in the preceding paragraph is true, it is always well to state that the person specifically appointed is so appointed for the want of a regularly constituted officer; as the section does not contemplate the appointment of special constables except on "ex-

A vacancy in the office of coroner shall be filled by the county commissioners, and the person so appointed shall, upon qualification, hold office until his successor is elected and qualified.

When the coroner shall be out of the county, or shall for any reason be unable to hold the necessary inquest as provided by law, or there is a vacancy existing in the office of coroner which has not been filled by the County Commissioners and it is made to appear to the clerk of the superior court by satisfactory evidence that a deceased person whose body has been found within the county precepts and processes of whatever nature to them directed by any justice of the peace or other competent authority within their county or upon any bay, river, or creek adjoining thereto; and the said precepts and processes shall be returned to the magistrate, or other proper authority. Common Law Rule Not Changed.—This section and section 162-14 do not change the common law rule that an escaped convict may be rearrested in any county of the State, without new process, by the officer in charge of him. State v. Finch, 177 N. C. 559, 99 S. E. 499.

Effect of Constitutional Requirement.—Section 24, Article IV, of the Constitution of North Carolina, was not meant to restrict the powers and duties of the constables to the township in which they were elected, but to intersperse the constables throughout every part of the county. How Process Addressed to Officer.—To make a valid service of process from the superior courts by constables, the same should be specially addressed to such officer by his official title. Carson v. Woodrow, 160 N. C. 143, 147, 75 S. E. 996.

§ 151-8. To execute notices within justice's jurisdiction.—Constables shall likewise execute, within the places aforesaid, all notices tendered to them which are required by law to be given for the commencement or in the prosecution of any cause before a justice of the peace; and the service thereof shall be made by delivering a copy to the person to be notified or by leaving a copy at his usual place of abode, if in the jurisdiction of the constable, which service, with the time thereof, he shall return on the notice, and such return shall be evidence of its service. On demand they shall deliver the notice to the party at whose instance it was issued. (Rev., s. 934; Code, s. 644; R. C., c. 24, s. 10; C. S. 977.)

Town Constable's Authority to Serve Papers Other Than Process.—A town constable is given no authority to serve any process from the superior courts by constables, and that only when expressly directed to him by the court. Forte v. Boone, 114 N. C. 177, 19 S. E. 632.
Coroner of a county, though it may appear he has not renewed his official bonds, as required by law, yet his acts as coroner de facto are valid, at least as regards third persons.

Cross References.—See §§ 153-9, subsections 10-12. See also, Const. Art. IV, § 24.

Editor's Note.—The provision in this section that the coroner shall hold office "until his successor is elected and qualified" is new with the Acts of 1924. The provision for filling vacancies "occurring for any reason" is also new. The old section provided only for appointment by the clerk for special cases, but since the Acts of 1924 the clerk appoints a coroner to fill the vacancy "until his successor is elected and qualified."

The amendment of 1935 adds the proviso at the end of this section relating to appointment when the coroner is out of the county or for any reason is unable to hold the inquest.

§ 152-2. Oaths to be taken.—Every coroner, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall take and subscribe to the oaths prescribed for public officers, and an oath of office. (Rev., s. 1048, Code, s. 661; Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 65; C. S. 1015.)

Cross References.—As to form of oath, see § 11-11. As to oaths required of public officers, see §§ 11-6, 11-7; Const. Art. VI, § 7. As to penalty for failure to take oath, see § 128-5.

Editor's Note.—This section was not changed by Acts of 1924.

§ 152-3. Coroner's bond.—Every coroner shall execute an undertaking conditioned upon the faithful discharge of the duties of his office with good and sufficient surety in the penal sum of two thousand dollars ($2,000), payable to the State of North Carolina, and approved by the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the office is held, and filed as sheriffs' bonds are required to be filed, and certified copies of the same duly certified by the register of deeds, with official seal attached, shall be duly approved, certified, registered, and filed as sheriffs' bonds are now allowed to be read in evidence. (Rev., s. 2909; Code, s. 661; R. C., c. 25, s. 2; 1791, c. 342, ss. 1, 2; 1820, c. 1047, ss. 1, 2; 1899, c. 54, s. 52; Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 65; C. S. 1016.)

Editor's Note.—The words "and sufficient" and "penal sum" in this section were added by the Acts of 1924.

Want of Official Bond.—Where one has been appointed coroner of a county, though it may appear he has not renewed his official bonds, as required by law, yet his acts as coroner de facto are valid, at least as regards third persons. Malby v. Turrentine, 30 N. C. 201.

§ 152-4. Coroners' bonds registered; certified copies evidence.—All official bonds of coroners shall be duly approved, certified, registered, and filed as sheriffs' bonds are required to be; and certified copies of the same duly certified by the register of deeds, with official seal attached, shall be received and read in evidence in the like cases and in like manner as such copies of sheriffs' bonds are now allowed to be read in evidence. (Rev., s. 500; Code, s. 662; 1860-1, c. 18; Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 65; C. S. 1017.)

pal or accessory, or otherwise, if known; and the cause and manner of his death.

4. Whenever in such investigations, whether preliminary or before his jury, it shall appear to the coroner or to the jury that any person or persons are culpable in the matter of such death, he shall forthwith issue his warrant for such person and cause the same to be brought before him and the inquiry shall proceed as in the case of preliminary hearings before justices of the peace, and in case it appears to the said coroner and the jury that such persons are probably guilty of any crime in connection with the death of the deceased, then the said coroner shall commit such person to jail. If it appears that such person is probably guilty of a capital crime, and in case it appears that such persons are not probably guilty of a capital crime, but are probably guilty of a lesser crime, then such coroner is to have the power and authority to fix bail for such person or persons. All such persons as are found probably guilty in such hearing shall be delivered to the keeper of the common jail for such county by the sheriff or such other officer as may perform his duties at such hearings and committed to jail unless such persons have been allowed and given the bail fixed by such coroner.

5. As many persons as are found to be material witnesses in the matters involved in such inquiry and hearings, and are not culpable themselves shall be bound in recognizance with sufficient surety to appear at the next Superior Court to give evidence, and such as may default in giving such recognizance may be by such coroner committed to jail as is provided for State witnesses in other cases.

6. To summon a physician or surgeon and to cause him to make such examination as may be necessary whenever it appears to such coroner as proper to have such examination made, or, upon request of his jury, or upon the request of the solicitor of his district or counsel for any accused or any member of the family of the deceased: Provided, however, that when the coroner shall himself be a physician or surgeon, he may make such examination himself.

7. Immediately upon information of the death of a person within his county under such circumstances as, in the opinion of the coroner, may make it necessary for him to investigate the same, to notify the solicitor of his district, and to make such additional investigation as he may be directed to do by such solicitor.

8. To permit counsel for the family of the deceased, the solicitor of his district, or any one designated by him, and counsel for any accused person to be present and participate in such hearing and examine and cross-examine witnesses and, whenever a warrant shall have been issued for any accused person, such accused person shall be entitled to counsel and to a full and complete hearing.

9. To begin his inquiry with his jury where the body of the deceased shall be, but said hearing may be adjourned to other times and places, and the body of the deceased need not be present at such further hearing.

10. To reduce to writing all of the testimony of all witnesses, and to have each witness to sign his testimony in the presence of the coroner, who shall attest the same, and, upon direction of the solicitor of the district, all of the testimony heard by the coroner and his jury shall be taken stenographically, and expense of such taking, when approved by the coroner and the solicitor of the district, shall be paid by the county. When the testimony is taken by a stenographer, the witness shall be caused to sign the same after it has been written out, and the coroner shall attest such signature. The attestation of all the signatures of witnesses who shall testify before the coroner shall include attaching his seal, and such statements, when so signed and attested, shall be received as competent evidence in all courts either for showing the existence of facts stated or as evidence of the credibility of witnesses who make the same, under the same rules as other evidence to contradict or corroborate may be now admitted. (Rev., s. 1051; Code, s. 657; 1899, c. 478; 1905, c. 628; 1909, c. 707, s. 1; Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 65; C. S. 1020.)

Cross References.—As to contempt for certain omissions of duty, see § 5-8. As to limitation on right to perform autopsies, see § 90-217. As to duty to report death involving homicide, see § 20-166.

Editor's Note.—No radical changes were made to the old section by the Act of 1924. The same procedural steps are retained but are set out in much greater detail. Subsection 9 is also a model of how the coroner's court and it is an indispensable requisite that the body of the deceased shall be brought before the coroner in the presence of the body of the deceased. Though the coroner is judge of the court and the power and authority to administer oaths to the witnesses rests in him, the administration of oaths is a ministerial act and may be performed by anyone by the direction and in the presence of the court. State v. Knight, 84 N. C. 790. A coroner has no power to perform an autopsy in cases where there is no suspicion of foul play. Gurganious v. Simpson, 213 N. C. 613, 197 S. E. 163.

§ 152-8. Acts as sheriff in certain cases; special coroner.—If at any time there is no person properly qualified to act as sheriff in any county, the coroner of such county is hereby required to execute all process and in all other things to act as sheriff, until some person is appointed sheriff in said county; and he shall be under the same rules and regulations, and subject to the same forfeitures, fines, and penalties as sheriffs are by law for neglect or disobedience of the same duties. If at any time the sheriff of any county is interested in or a party to any proceeding in any court, and there is no coroner in such county, or if the coroner is interested in any such proceeding, then the clerk of the court from which such process issues shall appoint some suitable person to act as special coroner to execute such process, and such special coroner shall be under the same rules, regulations, and penalties as hereinafore provided for. (Rev., s. 1052; Code, s. 658; 1891, c. 173; Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 65; C. S. 1021.)

Editor's Note.—This section was re-enacted without change by the laws of 1924.

Service of Summons by Coroners when Sheriff is Party.—In an action to which the sheriff is a party it is proper that the summons be addressed to and served by the coroner, State v. Baird, 118 N. C. 854, 862, 24 S. E. 688, or by his deputy since the service of a summons is the discharge of a purely ministerial duty. Yeagrin v. Siler, 83 N. C. 348.

Deputation of Special Officers.—The words "any proceedings in any court" contained in the provision for deputizing special officers where the sheriff and coroner are interested, have been given a literal interpretation and the provision is held applicable to courts of justices of the peace as well as to the higher courts. Baker v. Brem, 127 N. C. 322, 37 S. E. 454.

County as corporation; acts through commissioners.—Every county is a body politic and corporate, and has the powers prescribed by statute, and those necessarily implied by law, and no others; which powers can only be exercised by the board of commissioners, or in pursuance of a resolution adopted by them. (Rev., s. 1309; Code, ss. 702, 703, 1868, c. 20, ss. 1, 2; 1876-7, c. 141, s. 1; C. S. 1290.)

Editor's Note. — Counties are of, and constitute a part of, the state government. Their chief purpose is to establish its political organization, and effectuate the local civil administration of its powers and authority. They are in their general nature governmental—mere instrumentalities of government—and possess corporate powers adapted to its purposes. It is not their purpose to create civil liability on their part, and become answerable to individuals civilly or otherwise. Indeed, they are not, in a strict legal sense, municipal corporations, like towns and cities organized under charters or particular statutes, and invested with more of the junctions of corporate existence, intended to serve, not so much the purpose of the state, as, subject to its general laws, the advantage of particular communities in particular localities in the promotion and regulation more or less of trade, commerce, industries, and the business transactions and business relations in some respects of the people residing or going there collectively and severally—their purposes are more general, and partake more largely of the purpose and powers of government proper. Manuel v. Board, 98 N. C. 9, 10, 31 S. E. 829; White v. Commissioners, 90 N. C. 437; McCormack v. Commissioners, 90 N. C. 441. The Legislature, subject to constitutional limitations, may confer upon counties such corporate powers to make contracts, create civil liabilities, and serve such business purposes, as it may deem expedient and wise, and make them answerable in damages for the negligence of their officers and agents in failing to properly exercise the powers with which they are charged, or for exercising them improperly, to the injury of individuals. But such corporate authority and liability must be especially created by and appear from statutory provision, expressed in terms or necessarily implied. Manuel v. Board, 98 N. C. 9, 10, 31 S. E. 829. The county revenue is safe from seizure by creditors, or otherwise. Indeed, they are not, in a strict legal sense, municipal corporations, like towns and cities organized under charters or particular statutes, and invested with more of the junctions of corporate existence, intended to serve, not so much the purpose of the state, as, subject to its general laws, the advantage of particular communities in particular localities in the promotion and regulation more or less of trade, commerce, industries, and the business transactions and business relations in some respects of the people residing or going there collectively and severally—their purposes are more general, and partake more largely of the purpose and powers of government proper. Indeed, they are not, in a strict legal sense, municipal corporations, like towns and cities organized under charters or particular statutes, and invested with more of the junctions of corporate existence, intended to serve, not so much the purpose of the state, as, subject to its general laws, the advantage of particular communities in particular localities in the promotion and regulation more or less of trade, commerce, industries, and the business transactions and business relations in some respects of the people residing or going there collectively and severally—their purposes are more general, and partake more largely of the purpose and powers of government proper. Manuel v. Board, 98 N. C. 9, 10, 31 S. E. 829; White v. Commissioners, 90 N. C. 437; McCormack v. Commissioners, 90 N. C. 441. The Legislature, subject to constitutional limitations, may confer upon counties such corporate powers to make contracts, create civil liabilities, and serve such business purposes, as it may deem expedient and wise, and make them answerable in damages for the negligence of their officers and agents in failing to properly exercise the powers with which they are charged, or for exercising them improperly, to the injury of individuals. But such corporate authority and liability must be especially created by and appear from statutory provision, expressed in terms or necessarily implied. Manuel v. Board, 98 N. C. 9, 10, 31 S. E. 829. The county revenue is safe from seizure by creditors, or otherwise.
all property held for it by such agencies as counties, the same protection as is given to that held in its own name. Vaughn v. Commissioners, 118 N. C. 636, 24 S. E. 425; White v. Commissioners, 90 N. C. 437, 439.

Suits in Name of County.—A county is not required in an action for mandamus to bring the suit in the name of the county. City of Raleigh v. Turley, 138 N. C. 134, 48 S. E. 425.

Liability of Counties.—Counties are not ordinarily liable to be sued civilly for the manner in which they exercise, or fail to exercise, their corporate powers. White v. Commissioners, 90 N. C. 437, 439.

A county is not liable in damages for an injury to the plaintiff, occasioned by a defective bridge forming a part of the highway across a stream, in the absence of any statutory provision. White v. Commissioners, 90 N. C. 437; Moffitt v. Asheville, 101 N. C. 217, 239, 9 S. E. 695.

Same.—Torts of Agents.—It is now well settled that counties are not liable in damages for the torts of their officers or agents, in the absence of any statutory provisions giving a right of action against them. Keenan v. Commissioners, 167 N. C. 356, 358, 83 S. E. 514.

Generally a county is not liable for damages sustained by individuals by reason of the neglect of its officers or agents, and there is no statute in this State creating such liability. Manuel v. Board, 26 N. C. 9, 11, 3 S. E. 635.

§ 153-2. Corporate powers of the county. — A county is authorized:

1. To sue and be sued in the name of the county.

2. To purchase and hold lands within its limits and for the use of its inhabitants, subject to the supervision of the general assembly.

3. To make such contracts, and to purchase and hold such personal property, as may be necessary to the exercise of its corporate powers.

4. To make such orders for the disposal or use of its property as the interests of its inhabitants require. (Rev., s. 1310; Code, s. 704; 1868, c. 29, s. 3; C. S. 1291.)

Editor's Note.—In Pegram v. Commissioners, 65 N. C. 114, and in Askew v. Pollock, 66 N. C. 49, it was held that all actions and proceedings, either by or against a county, in its corporate capacity, must be in the name of the board of commissioners. These decisions, based on the Acts of 1868, ch. 29, sec. 704, of the Code of 1883, provided that a county should "sue and be sued in the name of the board of commissioners." However, this was changed by the amendment in the Revival of 1905, sect. 1110, a county must sue and be sued in its own name. Fountain v. Pitt, 171 N. C. 113, 114, 87 S. E. 990.

Suits against Board of Financial Control.—For the pur- pose of enforcing the securities held by the county of Bun-combe, the Board of Financial Control for Buncombe County is nothing more nor less than a liquidating agent design- ated to carry out a specific purpose and is sued as provided by this section. Bourne v. Board of Financial Control, 207 N. C. 170, 177, 176 S. E. 306.

Form of Suit.—A municipal corporation may be sued in any form appropriate to the cause of action, and its liability determined in accordance with the form of the action from that of a private corporation or of an individual. Winslow v. Commissioners, 64 N. C. 218, 219.

Procedure to Commissioners.—An order to show cause, which is in the nature of an alternative writ of mandamus, ought not to be directed to the individuals com- pleting the board of commissioners. Power to Compromise.—The power to sue and to defend suits carried with it by necessary implication, the power to make bona fide compromise adjustments of such suits. Board v. Tollman, 145 Fed. 753, 772, citing 1 Dill Mun. Crop. (4th Ed.), sec. 477 and notes; and 15 Am. & Eng. Ency. (8th Ed.), 1050.

Power to Enter Consent Judgment.—Under this section the commissioners have the authority to assent to the entry of a consent judgment in an action pending against the county, which judgment is entered in good faith, and is free from fraud, etc., a consent judgment being a contract of the parties spread upon the records with the approval and consent of the court in a case of consent. Weaver v. Hampton, 204 N. C. 42, 167 S. E. 484.

Necessary Property Not Subject to Execution.—A county can only acquire and hold property for necessary public purposes and for the benefit of all its citizens, and the principles of public policy prevent such property from being sold under execution to satisfy the debt of an individual. Hughes v. Commissioners, 107 N. C. 598, 12 S. E. 465; Goff v. Gregory, 143 N. C. 142, 73 S. E. 193.

Coppie v. Commissioners, 138 N. C. 127, 131, 50 S. E. 574.

When Commissioners May Not Sell Property.—Counties commissioners have no power to sell property held for corporate purposes, where its alienation would tend to em- barrass or prevent the performance of its duties to the public. Vaughan v. Commissioners, 118 N. C. 656, 24 S. E. 427.

Remedy in Nature of Quo Warranto.—Where a plaintiff sues for the office of county commissioner which is occupied by another, his remedy is an action in the nature of quo warranto; but if he sues to be restored to an unoccupied office, his remedy is an action for a mandamus, and he shall show that he has a present right to the thing claimed, and that it is the duty of the defendant to render it to him. Lyon v. Board, 120 N. C. 237, 242, 26 S. E. 100.

Who May Try Commissioner’s Title.—In an action to try the title to the office of county commissioner held by a defendant, only citizens and tax-payers of the county can be relators. State v. Taylor, 122 N. C. 141, 29 S. E. 101.

Where persons, who have been elected and qualified as county commissioners, bring an action in the nature of quo warranto against persons appointed by the judge of the district to try the defendant’s title to the office, the complaint must allege that the plaintiffs are citizens and tax- payers of the county. Scope of Authority of Superior Court Clerk.—A tender of resignation by a county commissioner to the clerk of the superior court is a tender to a proper authority. The mere filing of the resignation does not vacate the office. (Rev., s. 1314; Code, s. 719; 1895, c. 135, s. 7; 1909, c. 490, s. 1; C. S. 1294.)

Exercise of Powers by Board is Exercise by County.—The board's exercise of statutory powers is, in contemplation of law, the exercise of such powers by the county. State v. Hanchett Bond Co., 194 N. C. 137, 138, 138 S. E. 614.

Board Has Perpetual Existence.—The board of commissioners of a county has a perpetual existence, continued by members who succeed each other, and the body remaining the same, notwithstanding a change in the individuals who compose it. Pegram v. Commissioners, 65 N. C. 114, 115.

Have Only Such Powers as Statute Prescribes.—The board of commissioners in the several counties possess only those powers which have been prescribed by statute and those necessarily implied by law, and no others. This is the general rule, it may be fairly assumed to be the rule which embodies the true scope and limit of their power and authority. Fidelity, etc., v. Fleming, 131 N. C. 332, 40 S. E. 999.

Legislature May Change Functions at Will.—A county is entrusted with many high and important functions, which are to be exercised by its officers for the public benefit. The legislature may enlarge or diminish those functions. Winslow v. Commissioners, 64 N. C. 218, (from the dissenting opinion of Dick, J.)

What Constitutes Quorum and Majority.—A majority of the members of the board constitute a quorum, that is, the legal body, and a majority of the members of the legally organized body can exercise the powers delegated to the county, as a general rule. Cleveland Cotton Mills v. Commissioners, 108 N. C. 673, 681, 13 S. E. 271.

All Duties and Powers Equally Important.—There is no grade among the duties and powers of county commisssioners, and no preference is given to one over another. Long v. Commissioners, 76 N. C. 273, 278.

2. To Levy County Taxes.—To levy, in like manner with the state taxes, the necessary taxes for county purposes within the limits prescribed in the Constitution. (Rev., s. 1318; Code, s. 707; 1868, c. 20, s. 8; C. S. 1297.)

2. To Levy County Taxes.—To levy, in like manner with the state taxes, the necessary taxes for county purposes within the limits prescribed in the Constitution. (Rev., s. 1318; Code, s. 707; 1868, c. 20, s. 8; C. S. 1297.)

Cross References.—As to constitutional limitation on county tax levies, see N. C. Constitution, Art. V, § 6. As to the time for adoption of appropriation resolution and levy of taxes, see §§ 153-120, 153-124 and 105-339. As to duty to refund all ad valorem taxes, see § 153-55.

Constitutional Authority to Levy Tax.—While the General Assembly may regulate the amount and methods for raising county revenues, the present system of county government contemplates that the function shall be performed by the county commissioners in accordance with the enactments prescribed by the Constitution. Parker v. Board, 104 N. C. 160, 10 S. E. 137.

County Levy.—In Herring v. Dixon, 122 N. C. 430, 434, 29 S. E. 368, the authorities are reviewed and the holdings summed up by Clark, J., as follows:

1. For necessary expenses, the county commissioners may levy up to the constitutional limit without a vote of the people or legislative permission.

2. For necessary expenses, the county commissioners may exceed the constitutional limit by special legislative authority without a vote of the people. Constitution, Article V, sec. 6.

3. For other purposes than necessary expenses a tax cannot be levied either within or in excess of the constitutional limit except by a vote of the people under special legislative authority. Constitution, Article VII, sec. 7, approved in State v. Board, 122 N. C. 812, 815, 50 S. E. 352.

A special tax to pay indebtedness of the county incurred for its necessary expenses may be levied by the county commissioners, without special legislation, so long as such tax together with the regular taxes, does not exceed the constitutional limit; it being the holding in State v. Board, 122 N. C. 812, 815, 30 S. E. 352. See also, State v. Board, 122 N. C. 354, 355, 30 S. E. 352 (same).

4. The county tax for the purpose of maintaining public ferries, or a sinking fund, the commissioners are without authority to levy a tax to exceed the constitutional limit; it being the holding in Williams v. Commissioners, 119 N. C. 520, 26 S. E. 150.

5. The county tax for the purpose of maintaining public ferries, or at any other time, the commissioners are without authority to levy a tax to exceed the constitutional limit by ordinary means; it being the holding in Williams v. Commissioners, 119 N. C. 520, 26 S. E. 150, approved in Herring v. Dixon, 122 N. C. 420, 423, 29 S. E. 368, it was held that a statute authorizing a special county tax for the purpose of maintaining public ferries, etc., was beyond the constitutional limit, and was void. Parker v. Board, 104 N. C. 166, 10 S. E. 137.

6. A county tax for the purpose of maintaining county schools for a term of six months each year, the Constitutional limitation does not apply to defeat such a Tax Rate Variable. — There is no constitutional requirement that a county or the legislature shall fix the same rate throughout the state. It varies in the different counties, and may vary in different townships, parts of townships, districts, towns, and cities in the same county. Jones v. Commissioners, 117 N. C. 165, 20 S. E. 435.

Property Subject to Taxation. — All of the property, including solvent credits, in the state, shall be assessed and taxed at its value in money. Caldwell Land, etc., Co. v. Small, 177 N. C. 653, 12 S. E. 465.

Same—Back Tax. — In Caldwell Land, etc., Co. v. Smith, 146 N. C. 199, 201, 59 S. E. 633, Connor, J., speaking for the court, said: "We have created out of the power of the Legislature to provide for the listing, assessment, and taxing of personal property omitted to be listed by the owner as the law requires. Nor do we perceive any reason why it may not be taxed for five or more preceding years if it has escaped taxation so long. These questions have been settled by several decisions of this court. Kyle v. Mayor, 75 N. C. 445; North Carolina R. Co. v. Commissioners, 52 N. C. 267; Wilson v. Young, 122 N. C. 168, 33 S. E. 9.

Same—When Realty of Schools and Railroads Exempt from Special Tax. — Where the act provided for the construction of a fence to inclose the whole of several districts and the real estate in said district, which was taxable by the state and county, it was held, not to embrace the real estate of schools and railroads, which was not taxable for general purposes. Bradshaw v. Board, 92 N. C. 278, 282.

Improperly Levied and Legitimately Used. — A tax levied improperly and improperly for one purpose can be collected and applied to any other legitimate purpose. Long v. Commissioners, 76 N. C. 272, 273.

Tax Lists in Hands of Sheriff. — In Caldwell Land, etc., Co. v. Smith, 146 N. C. 199, 201, 59 S. E. 633, it was said: "When no express power is conferred on the county commissioners after making the assessment to place the list so made in the hands of the sheriff, we think that by a fair construction, in the light of the power conferred in other portions of the statute respecting the regular tax list, such power is given."

The tax list is a judgment against every person for the amount of the tax, and the copy delivered to the sheriff is an act of the commissioners in the county and not a tax by the sheriff. Lutterloh v. Board, 65 N. C. 118, 33 S. E. 36; 17 S. E. 10; Higgins v. Hinson, 61 N. C. 126, cited and approved in Commissioners v. Piercy, 72 N. C. 181; London v. Office of Highways, 123 N. C. 799; Gore v. Mastin, 66 N. C. 371; Raleigh, etc., R. Co. v. Lewis, 99 N. C. 62, 3 S. E. 82.

Act Held Not to Be “Special.” — In Bennett v. Board, 173 N. C. 635, 639, 93 S. E. 603, it is held that a statute conferring upon the county commissioners the power to borrow money for the necessary expenses of the county and provide for its payment ‘‘neither is, nor does it purport to be, a special act and for a special purpose’’ within the meaning of the constitutional provision. Southern R. Co. v. Cherokee County, 177 N. C. 86, 97 S. E. 758.

Assessment for Stock Fence.—An assessment for the building of a stock law fence is not a tax which requires a referendum vote by the people. Tripp v. Commissioners, 158 N. C. 180, 73 S. E. 896, 898.

3. To Provide for Payment of Outstanding Debts by Taxation or Otherwise.—To provide by taxation or otherwise for the prompt and regular payment, with interest, of any existing debt owing by the county. (Rev., s. 1318; Code, s. 707; 1868, c. 20, s. 8; C. 1297.)

Mandamus Lies to Compel Levy of Tax. — A plaintiff, upon a proper prayer for judgment, may have a mandamus to compel the board of commissioners to levy a tax to pay the debt of a county. Winslow v. Commissioners, 64 N. C. 218.

Same—Satisfaction of Judgment. — A defendant who has obtained a judgment against the county upon a consideration and an agreement to pay the judgment with interest thereon, may be compelled by writ of mandamus against the board of commissioners of the county to compel them to levy a tax for the satisfaction of the judgment. Southern R. Co. v. Cherokee County, 177 N. C. 86, 97 S. E. 758.

Same—Ordinarily, Only Remedy. — Ordinarily, the only remedy of a judgment creditor of a county is a writ of mandamus to compel its commissioners to levy a tax to pay the debt. Hughes v. Commissioners, 107 N. C. 599, 605, 12 S. E. 465; Gooch v. Gregory, 65 N. C. 142; Pegram v. Commissioners, 271 N. C. 557; Luttrell v. Commissioners, 65 N. C. 403; Rogers v. Jenkins, 98 N. C. 129, 3 S. E. 821; 2 Dillon on Mun. Corp. (3 ed.), secs. 855 and 856.

Same—When Granted. — The writ of mandamus will be granted only on a showing that the party issuing it has ""a special legal right and has no other specific remedy adequate to enforce it."" Hughes v. Commissioners, 107 N. C. 599, 605, 12 S. E. 465; State v. Justices, 24 N. C. 480; Winslow v. Commissioners, 64 N. C. 218, 223; Ex parte Biggs, 64 N. C. 202.

When Mandamus Unnecessary. — An action may be maintained against the county commissioners establishing a debt against the county without asking for a writ of mandamus, where it appears that the county has property subject to trust, or such as can be reached only by proceedings supplemental. Hughes v. Commissioners, 107 N. C. 599, 12 S. E. 460.

When Public and Private Interests Conflict. — Upon the principle that where public interests conflict with private interests, if the entire fund which can be raised by taxation is required to meet the necessary expenses of an economical administration of the county government, and none can be diverted to its indebtedness without serious detriment to the public, none ought to be thus appropriated. Cromartie v. Commissioners, 85 N. C. 211, 216.

Bonds Issued under Unconstitutional Act. — A taxpayer may enjoin county commissioners from making a tax levy to pay interest on railroad bonds issued under an unconstitutional statute, without restoring to the bona fide holders of the bonds the consideration paid therefor. Graves v. Board, 135 N. C. 49, 47 S. E. 134.

Notice to Holder. — A county bond standing on its face the act under which it is issued is notice to the holder, and ends his right to proceed against the county. Commissioners v. Call, 123 N. C. 308, 31 S. E. 481.

4. To Purchase County Indebtedness. — To purchase if they desire, at any price, not exceeding their par value and accumulated interest, any of the outstanding bonds or other indebtedness of the county. (Rev., s. 1320; Code, s. 718; 1868-9, c. 269, s. 2; C. 1297.)

5. To Levy Taxes for Interest and Sinking Funds for Outstanding Bonds Not Provided for. —(a) To levy, in like manner with the county taxes, the necessary taxes to pay the interest and create a sinking fund for the retirement of bonds issued and sold for the purpose of meeting necessary expenses of the county, where no other provision for such levy has been specially provided for. Such levy shall not exceed any constitutional limitation.

(b) To levy, in like manner with the county taxes, the necessary taxes to pay the interest and create a sinking fund for the retirement of township road improvement bonds, issued either by vote of the people or by act of the general assembly, where the amount of levy provided by the act under which the vote is held or tax levied is inadequate to pay the interest on bonds heretofore issued or authorized by acts now in force, but the levy shall not exceed any constitutional limitation. (1917, c. 121, ss. 1, 2; C. 1297.)

Where taxes are levied and collected to pay coupons on bonds issued by a county, the funds so collected are impressed with a trust for the benefit of the owners of the coupons. Board v. Tollman, 145 Fed. 735, 773.

6. Special Tax Authorized for Certain Purposes; Limit of Rate. — The boards of commissioners of the various counties in the state, for the purpose of the unkeep of county buildings, county homes for the aged and infirm and other similar institutions, and to supplement the general county fund, are hereby authorized to levy annually a tax upon all taxable property not to exceed five cents on the one hundred dollars of valuation, in addition to any tax allowed by any special statute for the above enumerated purposes and in addition to the rate allowed by the Constitution. (1923, c. 7; C. S. 1297.)

Local Modification.—Madison: 1931, c. 436.

In General.—This section authorizes the boards of commissioners to levy a tax for the purpose of maintaining county homes for the aged and infirm. This is a special purpose within the contemplation of the constitutional provision, and the words "county aid and poor relief" should be construed to be within the scope of the special purpose which is indicated in the statute. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co. v. Lenoir County, 200 N. C. 494, 496, 157 S. E. 610.

7. Same.—In Certain Counties.—Subject to the approval of the director of local government, the boards of county commissioners of Alamance, Anson, Avery, Buncombe, Burke, Cherokee, Clay, Dare, Duplin, Durham, Edgecombe, Graham, Granville, Halifax, Henderson, Iredell, Jackson, McDowell, Macon, Mitchell, Montgomery, Orange, Pender, Perquimans, Person, Polk, Randolph, Rutherford, Sampson, Scotland, Stokes, Swain, Tyrrell, Watauga and Wilson counties are hereby authorized to levy such special property taxes as may be necessary not to exceed five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation for the following special purposes respectively, in addition to any tax now allowed by law for such purposes and in addition to the rate allowed by the constitution: (1) For the expense of the quadrennial valuation or assessment of taxable property, (2) for the expense of holding courts in the county levying the tax and the expense of maintenance of jails and jail prisoners, (1923, c. 441; 1933, c. 54; 1935, c. 330; 1937, c. 119; 1939, cc. 190, 336; 1943, c. 646.).

Editor's Note.—The only change effected by the amendment of 1935 occurs in this subsection in which "Henderson" is added to the list of counties. The 1937 amendment added Buncombe and Randolph to the list of counties, and the 1939 amendments added Orange and Anson. The 1943 amendment made subsection 7 applicable to Sampson county.

Levies Held Unconstitutional.—Ordinarily, the purposes named in this subsection are general rather than special, and a levy of taxes under this subsection is invalid under Art. V, § 6 of the Constitution in the absence of circumstances rendering the purpose special rather than general. Southern R. Co. v. Cherokee County, 218 N. C. 169, 10 S. E. (2d) 607; Nantahala Power, etc., Co. v. Clay County, 215 N. C. 698, 197 S. E. 603.

Cross References.—As to procedure for letting of public contracts, see §§ 143-129 to 143-135. As to duty to require contractor to execute bond, see § 44-14. As to separate specifications for building contract, see § 160-288.

Erection, Repair and Maintenance of Courthouses.—It is the duty of the county commissioners to provide a sufficient courthouse and keep it in repair. It is their duty both to erect and keep in repair. They are cognizant duties, and failure of them to do so is "neglect of duty." State v. Leeper, 146 N. C. 655, 658, 61 S. E. 585.

Same.—Mandamus Does Not Lie to Provide.—A mandamus will not lie against county commissioners to compel them to provide a sufficient courthouse. State v. Leeper, 146 N. C. 655, 61 S. E. 585.

Same.—Remedy by Indictment.—For such neglect of duty the remedy is by indictment. State v. Leeper, 146 N. C. 655, 661, 61 S. E. 585.

Same.—Need Not Allege Corrupt Intent.—It is not necessary to allege corrupt intent in a bill of indictment. State v. Leeper, 146 N. C. 655, 61 S. E. 585.

§ 153-9

Injunction of Commissioners. The board of commissioners have the discretionary power to issue and sell or discount the notes of the county to provide the means to pay for a courthouse, and such discretion will not be interfered with by the courts. Vaughn v. Board, 117 N. C. 432, 117 S. E. 354.

Cannot Mortgage Courthouse Site.—The county commissioners have no authority to convey the land on which they propose to erect the courthouse by a mortgage deed to secure the bonds issued to build it, and thereby render the site and buildings liable to sale for the satisfaction of the debt. Vaughn v. Commissioners, 118 N. C. 636, 640, 24 S. E. 488.

Commissions Not Individually Liable for Failure to Take Bond.—The county commissioners are not individually liable for the failure of their ministerial duty to take the bond required by a contractor for the erection of a county building, such not having been expressly declared; and the remedy is by indictment. Poe v. Feimster, 171 N. C. 551, 552, 88 S. E. 553.

Prior Special Act Does Not Bar Action Hereunder.—The fact that ch. 345, Acts of 1889, authorizing the county commissioners of Forsyth County to issue bonds for a new courthouse, required the assent of a majority of the qualified voters to such issue, is no bar to the power of the commissioners conferred by a later act of the Legislature (ch. 135, Acts of 1893) to erect necessary public buildings and to create a sinking fund to pay the interest thereon. Vaughn v. Board, 117 N. C. 432, 23 S. E. 354.

Necessary Expenses.—The cost of the erection of a courthouse is a necessary expense of a county, and the exercise of the necessary power of the board of county commissioners to provide the means to pay for a courthouse is a necessary county expense. Burgin v. Smith, 151 N. C. 561, 66 S. E. 697.

A jail is a necessary county expense, and, in the absence of statutory restrictions, the county commissioners may sell county property to provide the necessary power of the county in order to obtain the necessary funds. Haskell v. Tyrrell County, 152 N. C. 714, 68 S. E. 202.

While the county commissioners are clothed with the necessary power to erect and repair county buildings, they have no power to levy a special tax out of which they may pay the interest and create a sinking fund, unless they have the special authority of the General Assembly, but construing this section with § 153-1 and § 153-77, it would seem such authority is implied. Harrell v. Board of Com'rs, 236 N. C. 225, 228, 173 S. E. 614.

9. To Designate Site for County Buildings.—To remove or designate a new site for any county building; but the site of any county building already located shall not be changed, unless by a unanimous vote of all the members of the board at any regular monthly meeting, and unless upon notice of the proposed change, specifying the new site. Such notice shall be published in a newspaper printed in the county, if there is one, and posted in one or more public places in every township in the county for three months, next immediately preceding the monthly meeting at which the final vote on the proposed change is to be taken. Such new site shall not be more than one mile distant from the old, except upon the special approval of the general assembly. (Rev., s. 1318; Code, 707; 1868, cc. 20, s. 8; 1925, c. 229; C. S. 1297.)

Editor's Note.—This subsection was amended by the Laws of 1925, c. 229. The amendment struck out the words "the regular December" in line five of the subsection and in lieu thereof inserted the words "any regular monthly." In line eleven of the said subsection the word "annual" was struck out, and in lieu thereof inserted the word "monthly."
value, while in possession and control of the county authorities. Hearne v. Stanly County, 188 N. C. 45, 123 S. E. 641, 642.

County Officers

10. To Require Officers to Report.—To require from any county officer, or other person employed and paid by the county, a report under oath at any time on any matters connected with his duties. (Rev., s. 1318; Code, s. 707; 1868, c. 20, s. 8; C. S. 1297.)

11. To Approve Bonds of County Officers and Induct into Office.—To qualify and induct into office at the meeting of the board, on the first Monday in the month next succeeding their election or appointment, the following named county officers, to wit: clerk of the superior court, sheriff, coroner, treasurer, register of deeds, surveyor, and constable; and to take and approve the official bonds of such officers, which the board shall cause to be registered in the office of the register of deeds. The original bonds shall be deposited, with the clerk of the superior court, except the bond of the said clerk, which shall be deposited with the register of deeds, for safe keeping.

If the board declares the official bonds of any of said county officers to be insufficient, or declines to receive the same, the officer may appeal to the superior court judge riding the district in which the county is, or to the resident judge of said district, as he may elect, who shall hear said appeal in chambers, at any place in said district he designates, within ten days after notice by him of the same, and if, upon the hearing of the appeal, the judge is of the opinion that the bond is sufficient, he shall issue an order to the board of commissioners to induct the officer into office, or that he shall be retained in office, as the case may be. If, upon the hearing of the appeal, the judge is of the opinion that the bond is insufficient, he shall give the appellant ten days in which to file before him an additional bond, and if the appellant within said ten days fails to file a good and sufficient bond, in the opinion of the judge, he shall so declare and issue his order to said board directing and requiring them to induct the appellant into office, or retain him, as the case may be. If, in the opinion of the judge, both the original and the additional bonds are insufficient, he shall declare the said officer vacant and notify the commissioners, who shall appoint to fill the vacancy and notify the clerk of the superior court. In case of a vacancy in the office of the clerk of the superior court said vacancy shall be filled by the resident judge. The judgment of the superior court judge shall be final. The appeal and the finding and judgment of the superior court judge shall be recorded on the minutes of the board of commissioners. (Rev., s. 1318; Code, s. 707; 1868, c. 20, s. 8; 1874-5, c. 237, s. 3; 1895, c. 135, s. 3; C. S. 1297.)

This section is mandatory on the county commissioners. Moffitt v. Davis, 205 N. C. 565, 569, 172 S. E. 317.

But there is no penalty or crime prescribed by this section, for failure of county commissioners to perform the ministerial duty therein imposed upon them of qualifying and inducting into office certain county officers and approving the bonds of the same. But § 109-13, makes it criminal as a surety on bonds which they approve with knowledge, actual or implied, that they are insufficient in penal or security. Moffitt v. Davis, 205 N. C. 565, 172 S. E. 317.

De Facto Board May Act.—If from any cause the newly elected commissioners of a county fail to qualify at the time prescribed by law, the old board of commissioners may perform the power to perform the functions prescribed by this section. State v. Jones, 80 N. C. 127; Buckman v. Commissioners, 80 N. C. 121.

Commissioners to Induct into Office County Officers.—The commissioners are authorized and required to qualify and induct into office the several officers of the county, and to take and approve their official bonds, which they shall have the power to perform the functions prescribed by this section. State v. Jones, 80 N. C. 127; Buckman v. Commissioners, 80 N. C. 121.

When a certificate of election is published, and the county canvassers are not present to open the ballot box, the county commissioners are authorized and required to open the ballot box and to decide and announce the result of the election. Swain v. McRea, 80 N. C. 111, 114.

Right to Examine Officers.—Elect.—When a person presents himself before a board of commissioners, with a certificate of election, and asks to be inducted into office, the said commissioners have a right to inquire into his constitutional capacity to exercise the functions of the office to which he may have been chosen. Hannon v. Grizzard, 99 N. C. 161, 6 S. E. 91, 100.

In the case of a sheriff who has previously held office the board must go further, and see that he is not delinquent in the payment of the taxes of a previous term. Hannon v. Grizzard, 99 N. C. 161, 6 S. E. 91, 100.

Same.—May Exclude Unfit.—If the commissioners refuse to induct one who is plainly ineligible, the courts will not compel them to do so, and thus put one into an office which he cannot constitutionally hold. State v. Somers, 96 N. C. 467, 2 S. E. 161.

An elected person not competent to hold office under the Constitution of the State has no legal right to be admitted to office by the board of commissioners. E. L. Hannon v. Grizzard, 99 N. C. 161, 6 S. E. 91, 100.

Commissioners Not Liable for Error of Judgment.—And if, in the exercise of this function, the commissioners commit an error of judgment in refusing to induct the elected candidate into office they are not responsible, these functions being quasi judicial. Hannon v. Grizzard, 99 N. C. 161, 6 S. E. 91, 100.

Sheriff's Bonds.—To entitle a sheriff to be inducted into office, it is essentially necessary that there be several bonds in the county, which he can constitutionally hold. State v. Somers, 96 N. C. 467, 2 S. E. 161.

May Declare Office Vacant and Fill it.—The board has the power—all the business before them being disposed of—to adjourn, and, if any officer shall fail to perfect his bond according to law before such adjournment, to declare the office vacant, and to fill it, when the power to fill such vacancy is vested by law in the board. State v. Patterson, 97 N. C. 560, 2 S. E. 263; Kilburn v. Latham, 81 N. C. 312.

Term of office of sheriff begins on the first Monday in [639]
December after the election. Freeman v. Cook, 217 N. C. 63, 6 S. E. (2d) 894.

12. To Fill Vacancies.—To fill by appointment a vacancy in the offices of sheriff, constable, coroner, register of deeds, county treasurer, or county surveyor. (Rev., s. 1321; Code, s. 720; 1868, c. 4; C. S. 1297.)

As to commissioners of certain counties to abolish office of treasurer and appoint banks, see § 155-3.

Same.—Elect and Elect Hereunder.—The commissioners of a county board vote and elect when they exercise the power to fill a vacant office. State v. Bullock, 80 N. C. 120, 136.

Failure to Perform Duty.—Only one penalty is given against each commissioner composing the board, if he fails to perform his duty under this section. Bray v. Barnard, 109 N. C. 44, 46, 13 S. E. 72.

Application.—Upon the failure of public officers, when the statutes so require, to renew annually their official bonds, and of sheriffs to, in addition, produce receipts for the public moneys collected by them, it shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners to declare the office vacant. Bray v. Barnard, 109 N. C. 44, 13 S. E. 729.

Same.—Sheriff's Office.—It is the right and the duty of the commissioners to declare the office of sheriff vacant, and appoint some one for the unexpired term, whenever the incumbent thereof is found to be, on a re-election, in arrears in his settlement of the public taxes; or when he takes no notice whatever of a summons by the commissioners to appear before them on a day certain and justify or renew his official bond. People v. Green, 75 N. C. 329.

Same.—Office of Treasurer.—When a vacancy exists in the office of treasurer, it can only be filled by the county commissioners. State v. Hampton, 101 N. C. 629, 633, 8 S. E. 219.

County Property

13. To Make Orders Respecting County Property.—To make such orders respecting the corporate property of the county as may be deemed expedient. (Rev., s. 1318; Code, s. 707; 1868, c. 20, s. 8; C. S. 1297.)

Extent of Commissioner's Duty Hereunder.—This section imposes upon the commissioners the duty of employing such agents, and appropriating such moneys, as may be sufficient to keep the public buildings in repair, and maintain them in such a condition as to prevent any noxious and offensive emanations from the same. Where the expenditures are otherwise necessary for any public county building, and for the support of the poor, and to determine the site thereof, where it has not already been located; and to purchase land at any execution sale, when it is deemed expedient to do so, to secure a debt due the county. The deed shall be made to the county, and the board may, in its discretion, sell any lots so purchased. (Rev., s. 1318; Code, s. 707; 1868, c. 20, s. 8; 1879, c. 144, s. 1; C. S. 1297.)

County Bound by Conditions Subsequent.—Where a county, owning a site upon which to build its courthouse, is authorized by statute to buy, sell, and exchange real estate surrounding it upon such terms and conditions as it may deem just and proper, and for the best interest of the county, and in pursuance of this authority, has acquired conveyance of lands from adjoining owners upon condition that they shall be used as a public square and kept open for that purpose, etc., it is held, that whether the conditions be called conditions subsequent or otherwise, they were within the purview of the authority conferred upon the counties by the intent of the parties as expressed in the conveyance, and forming a material part of the consideration for the lands, they are valid and binding upon the county. Guilford County v. Porter, 167 N. C. 566, 83 S. E. 564.

16. To Purchase or Lease a County Farm, and Work Convicts Thereon.—To lease or purchase a county farm, and where proper provisions are made for securing and caring for convicts, such of them as are subject to road duty may be worked on said farm, and, in the discretion of the board, such farms may be made experimental farms. The court, in its discretion, may sentence convicted prisoners either to said farm or to the roads. Where a farm is purchased or leased in those counties having a road system, the board may work the convicts on such farms. (1915, c. 140; C. S. 1297.)

Highways and Bridges

17. Roads and Bridges.—To supervise the maintenance of neighborhood public roads or roads not under the supervision of the State Highway and Public Works Commission and bridges thereon: Provided, however, county funds may not be expended for such maintenance except to the extent such expenditures are otherwise authorized by law; to exercise such authority with regard to ferries and toll bridges on public roads not under the supervision of the State Highway and Public Works Commission as is granted in § 136-88 of the Chapter on Roads and Highways or by other Statutes; to provide draws on all bridges not on roads under supervision of the State Highway and Public Works Commission where the same may be necessary for the convenient passage of vessels; to allow and contract for the building of toll bridges on all roads not under the supervision of the State Highway and Public Works Commission and to take bond from the builders thereof. It is the intent of this subsection that the powers and authorities herein granted shall be exercised in accordance with the provisions of the Chapter on Roads and Highways.

Editor's Note.—The cases treated here were decided under former statutes which authorized counties to lay out, repair, etc., public roads, bridges and ferries and should be considered in that light.

Roads Are a Necessary Expense. — The well ordering and maintenance of the public roads of a county are "necessary expenses" within the meaning of our Constitution and statutes. Bunch v. Commissioners, 159 N. C. 335, 74 S. E. 1048. A county is authorized to contract an indebtedness for the maintenance of its public roads, and such indebtedness being within the discretion of the county commissioners, § 153-9, it is not required that a special act be passed authorizing it under the provisions of our Constitution, Art. II, sec. 14. Pritchard v. Commissioners, 159 N. C. 635, 75 S. E. 849.

Board of Commissioners May Be Deprived of Power over Roads. — The powers given to county commissioners over public highways, Const., Art. VII, sec. 2, may be delegated to other political agencies of the State, and such agencies may be deprived of the discretionary powers conferred by this section. Day v. Commissioners, 123 N. C. 307, 25 S. E. 958.

When Superior Court Not to Grant Injunction. — It is not competent for a superior court to grant an injunction against an order by the county commissioners within the sphere of their general duties, laying out a public road. McArthur v. McEachin, 64 N. C. 454.

Discretionary Powers of Board over Roads. — The laying out and maintenance of the public roads or highways of a county are matters left wholly within the discretion of the county commissioners, and, in the absence of express legislation to the contrary, they are not to be controlled by a vote of the people or by any other localities who are interested, and where it is shown that they have officially dealt with a question largely submitted to their judgment, their action may not be controlled or interfered with by the courts, unless there has been a gross violation of their trust, or a manifest abuse of their discretion, or it is made clearly to appear that they have not acted for the public interest, but in promotion of personal or private ends. Edwards v. Commissioners, 170 N. C. 448, 87 S. E. 346.

The order in which work upon the public highways is to be performed is within the sound discretion of the county commissioners, and the laying out and maintenance, etc., of roads for the different townships therein, and have accordingly issued bonds and expended most of the money on the township roads, they may not be enjoined at the suit of the taxpayer from laying out an additional road, with the use of the money remaining on hand from the sale of the bonds, upon allegation, as to this particular road, that it was not for the public convenience, or that the majority of the voters were not in favor of it. Edwards v. Commissioners, 170 N. C. 448, 87 S. E. 346.

Public Roads — To Issue Notice of Proposed Route to Landowners. — The county commissioners will not be enjoined from building a public road in a township of a county from the proceeds of the sale of bonds, at the suit of taxpayers, because they had not notice of the application for such right. Edwards v. Commissioners, 170 N. C. 448, 449, 87 S. E. 346.

Cannot Bind County by Contract to Perpetually Maintain Road. — A board of county commissioners has no power to enter into a contract with a citizen to perpetually maintain and keep in repair a public road or bridge giving to such citizen a cause of action against the county whenever, in the exercise of its discretion, it is in the interest of the public, the same or another board shall deem it proper to discontinue such road or bridge. Glenn v. Commissioners, 139 N. C. 412, 52 S. E. 58.

Control of Bridges and Ferries. — While county commissioners control public bridges and ferries, it is by virtue of their duties, imposed by law, in regard to public roads. Graham v. Commissioners, 56 N. C. 486.

Public bridges and ferries are incidental to public roads and are not to be established or assumed, or maintained, as county charges, unless as parts thereof, in actual existence or in contemplation. Greenleaf v. Commissioners, 123 N. C. 31, 31 S. E. 264.

Same—Rests Solely with Commissioners. — The county commissioners have the power to make the necessity for the construction or repair of bridges and to contract for the same, and such power can not be delegated. McPhail v. Board, 119 N. C. 330, 25 S. E. 958.

When Bridge Not Part of Highway. — It is ultra vires for a county board of commissioners to accept a bridge to be maintained at the county’s cost, where it appears it is not a part of a public road, in existence or in contemplation of being made so, unless they may be enjoined from doing so. Greenleaf v. Board, 123 N. C. 31, 31 S. E. 264.

Where a citizen, at his own expense, constructed a bridge and opened up the public roads over his lands leading to and from both sides of the river, and the board of commissioners accepted said bridge as a public bridge and have kept it in repair ever since, the fact that the commissioners paid him only a part of the cost of its construction did not change the character of the bridge from one subject to the control of the commissioners, as all other bridges in the county. Glenn v. Commissioners, 139 N. C. 412, 52 S. E. 58.

Liability of Commissioners in Placing Drawbridge. — When county commissioners commits an honest error in placing, or refusing to place, a drawbridge, he is not liable. Staton v. Wimberly, 122 N. C. 107, 29 S. E. 63.

18. To Appoint Commissioners to Open Rivers and Creeks. — To appoint a commissioner to open and clear the rivers and creeks, in the manner prescribed by law within the county, or where such river or creek forms a county line or a part thereof. (Rev., s. 1318; Code, s. 707; 1868, c. 20, s. 8; C. S. 1297.)

19. To Grant Right to Bridge Navigable Streams. To grant, subject to the approval and permission of the war department, to any person, firm or corporation owning or occupying lands on both sides of any navigable stream or creek lying wholly within the limits of the county, the right to construct and maintain a bridge across the said navigable water between the lands owned or occupied by them upon such terms and conditions and for such time as the said board shall deem advisable and proper. Before any order allowing the construction of the same shall be made, it shall be made to appear to the board that four weeks notice of the application for such right has been given by posting a notice at the courthouse door and four other copies placed in the county, and also (if there be a newspaper published in the county) by publishing once a week for four consecutive weeks in some newspaper in the county. Any party aggrieved may appeal from the order of the commissioners to the superior court of the county in term time. (Pub. Loc. 1911, c. 227; C. S. 1297.)

Cross Reference.—As to cognizance poor generally, see §§ 153-152 et seq.

No Recovery by One Officially Providing for Pauper.—Although a person may be a proper subject of county charge, any one who officiously provides for such person cannot recover of the county the amount of his outlay. Coppel v. Commissioners, 138 N. C. 127, 132, 50 S. E. 574.

Each County to Be Charged for Its Poor.—It is the manifest purpose of the law to charge each county with the support of its own poor. Commissioners v. Commissioners, 101 N. C. 554, 5 S. E. 176; State v. Elam, 61 N. C. 460.

May Require Charges to Be Placed in Poorhouse.—Where the county commissioners have provided a poorhouse, they have the right to require that all persons who are cared for at their expense shall be placed in the house which they have provided for the purpose. Coppel v. Commissioners, 138 N. C. 127, 132, 50 S. E. 574.

Residence or Settlement Governs.—The liability of a county for the support of a pauper does not depend upon the law of domicile or citizenship but upon that of residence or settlement, as prescribed in sec. 3544 of the Code. Commissioners v. Commissioners, 101 N. C. 554, 5 S. E. 176.

(Rev., s. 1318; Code, s. 707; 1868, c. 20, s. 8; 1923, c. 81; C. S. 1297.)

Cross Reference.—As to establishment and maintenance of tuberculosis sanatoria, see §§ 131-29 to 131-35.

25. To Provide for a House of Correction.—To make provision for the erection in each county of a house of correction, where vagrants and persons guilty of misdemeanors shall be restrained and usefully employed; to regulate the employment of labor therein; to appoint a superintendent thereof, and such assistants as are deemed necessary, and to fix their compensation. (Rev., s. 1318; Code, s. 707; 1868, c. 20, s. 8; 1931, c. 302; C. S. 1297.)

vide each county into convenient districts, called townships, and to determine the boundaries and prescribe the names of said townships. (Rev., s. 1318; Code, s. 707; 1868, c. 20, s. 8; C. S. 1297.)

Editor's Note.—The Constitution of 1868 provided for the division of the several counties of the state into convenient districts, and as townships were already in existence, the townships thus created was vested corporative powers for necessary purposes of local government. A clerk and two justices, elected biennially, constituted the board of trustees for the township; also that one of the justices, elected biennially, constituted the board of trustees of the several townships, it must be that the question of vested rights arose. However, in several cases it was held that a party dealing with a municipal corporation has no vested rights in the exercise of its corporate powers unless allowed by statute to contract. Jones v. Commissioners, 107 N. C. 248, 265, 12 S. E. 69.

Need Not Be Created by Direct Legislative Action.—It is not essential that such sub-divisions of territory shall always be created directly by legislative enactment. In many cases, certain existing agencies, or agencies to be provided, are required by statute to establish them, and when established, they become, by the force of law, invested with certain powers and required to discharge prescribed duties. McCormac v. Commissioners, 90 N. C. 441, 444.

County Officers May Be Charged with Township Duties.—The township is a constituent part of the county organization, and the township officers may well be charged with duties and authority in precisely the same manner and extent as are township officers in other counties. Jones v. Commissioners, 107 N. C. 248, 265, 12 S. E. 69.

County Bonds Cannot be Issued upon Note of One Township.—While the building of public roads has been held a necessary expense, the application of the principle may not be extended to instances where a statute requires the county to issue its bonds for road purposes to obtain aid for a township or local taxing district therein, upon the approval of the voters of the particular district alone, and without benefit to the others. Commissioners v. Lacy, 174 N. C. 141, 142, 91 S. E. 482.

Commissioners' Power to Issue Township Bonds.—The county commissioners are not authorized to issue bonds on the credit of the township for the purpose of constructing a railroad. Graves v. Board, 135 N. C. 49, 47 S. E. 134.

Towns in Altered Townships.—When a township has been altered, erected, or divided, to apportion, in its discretion, the public fund of such township between the new township divisions or subdivisions, and the warrant of the board upon the treasurer for the apportionment shall constitute a valid voucher for any three freeholders of each township to be affected may, after the notice previously to be mentioned, apply by petition to the board of commissioners to erect a new township, or divide an existing township, or change the name of or alter the boundaries thereof. Notice of the application shall be posted in one or more public places in each of such townships and published in a newspaper printed in the county, if there is one, for at least four weeks preceding the meeting at which the application is made to be heard. No township shall have or exercise any corporate powers whatsoever, unless authorized by act of the general assembly, to be exercised under the supervision of the board of commissioners. (Rev., s. 1318; Code, s. 707; 1868, c. 20, s. 8; 1876-7, c. 141, ss. 3, 5; C. S. 1297.)

Legislative Power to Subdivide and Bestow Corporate Functions.—It is within the power and is the province of the Legislature to subdivide the territory of the State and invest the inhabitants of such subdivisions with corporate functions. McCormac v. Commissioners, 90 N. C. 441, 444.
30. To Authorize Chairman to Issue Subpoenas.—To authorize the chairman to issue subpoenas to compel the attendance before the board of persons, and the production of books and papers relating to the affairs of the county, for the purpose of examination on any matter within the jurisdiction of the board. The subpoena shall be served by the sheriff or any constable to whom it is delivered; and upon return of personal service thereof, whoever neglects to comply with the subpoena or refuses to answer any proper question shall be guilty of contempt and punishable therefor by the board. A witness is bound in such cases to answer all the questions which he would be bound to answer in like case in a court of justice; but his testimony given before the board shall not be used against the witness on the trial of any criminal prosecution other than for perjury committed on the examination. The chairman of the board of county commissioners for each county is authorized in his official capacity to administer oaths in any matter coming before either of such boards. Any member of such board while temporarily acting as such chairman has and may exercise like authority.

31. To Audit Accounts.—To audit accounts against the county, and direct the raising of the moneys necessary to defray them. (Rev. s. 1318; Code, s. 707; 1868, c. 20, s. 8; C. S. 1297.)

Claim Must Be Audited.—A claim against a county must be audited and approved at a regular meeting of the board of commissioners. First Nat. Bank v. Warlick, 125 N. C. 593, 594, 34 S. E. 687.

Must Be Itemized and Verified.—No account shall be audited by a board of county commissioners unless the itemized and verified. Turner v. McKee, 137 N. C. 251, 49 S. E. 330.

Court Cannot Interfere with Discretionary Power of Commissioners.—The courts cannot interfere with the exercise of the discretion of the board of county commissioners in ordering an investigation by public accountants of the books of the various departments of the county government. Wilson v. Holding, 170 N. C. 352, 86 S. E. 1043.

Not Subject to Review.—The board of county commissioners is not such a judicial tribunal, that its decision in passing on claims against the county can be reviewed on appeal. The proper remedy to test the validity of a rejected claim is by civil action. Jones v. Commissioners, 88 N. C. 56.

32. To Appoint Proxies.—To appoint proxies to represent in any annual or other meetings the shares or other interest held by any county in a railroad company, or other corporation, under the charter of such corporation, or under any special acts of the general assembly, authorizing county subscriptions in such cases. (Rev. s. 1318; Code, s. 707; 1868, c. 20, s. 8; C. S. 1297.)

33. To Procure Weights and Measures.—To procure for each county sealed weights and measures, according to the standard prescribed by Congress; and to elect a standard keeper, who shall qualify before the board and give bond approved by the board, as prescribed by law. (Rev., s. 1318; Code, s. 707; R. C. c. 117, s. 4; 1868, c. 20, s. 26; C. S. 1297.)

34. To Adopt a County Seal.—To adopt a seal for the county, a description and impression of which shall be filed in the office of superior court clerk and of the secretary of state. (Rev. s. 1318; Code, s. 707; 1868, c. 20, s. 8; C. S. 1297.)

35. To Promote Farmers' Cooperative Demonstration Work.—To cooperate with the state and national departments of agriculture to promote the farmers cooperative demonstration work, and to appropriate such sum as they may agree upon for the purpose. (1911, c. 1; C. S. 1297.)

Cross Reference.—As to authority of county commissioners to co-operate in cotton grading program, see § 106-427.

36. To Be Appropriate for the National Guard.—To appropriate such sums of money to the various organizations of the national guard, and at such times, as the board may deem proper. (1915, c. 259; C. S. 1297.)

Cross References.—See also, § 127-101. As to power of county to support family of members of the militia, see § 127-86.

37. To Make Appropriations for Libraries.—To appropriate the funds necessary to defray the expenses of maintaining and extending the public library of a county, and to appropriate such sums as may be necessary for the maintenance and extension of such library. (1917, c. 149; C. S. 1297.)

Cross Reference.—As to establishment of library and levy of taxes therefor, see § 160-65.

38. Homes for Indigent and Delinquent Children.—To provide for the establishment and maintenance of homes for indigent and delinquent children in said county, to as to them may seem proper or necessary, or to co-operate with the board of county commissioners or other governing authority in any other county or counties in the establishment and maintenance, at some mutually agreeable point, of a district home for such purposes, said district to be established by agreement and said home to be established and maintained upon such terms as may be agreed upon by the boards of county commissioners of the several counties concerned. (1927, c. 248.)

Local Modification.—Anson: 1939, c. 343.

Editor's Note.—The first provision we find for a home for indigent children is in the amendment, Laws of 1923, c. 81, to subsection 24 of this section. However, that merely referred to indigent and delinquent orphan children. This subsection, providing a more detailed and broad provision for the establishment and maintenance of a home for indigent and delinquent children, was added by the Acts of 1927, c. 248.

Public Laws 1929, c. 343, applicable only to Anson county, amended this section by adding at the end thereof a new section to be designated "44" as follows: "To purchase or acquire any real estate within the limits of the county that be desired by the county commissioners, and to sell, lease, or otherwise dispose of same, to any person, firm or corporation, upon such terms and conditions as may seem just and proper to the board of county commissioners."
§ 153-11. To settle disputed county lines.—When there is any dispute concerning the dividing line between counties, the board of commissioners of each county interested in the adjustment of said line, a majority of the board consisting thereto, may appoint one or more commissioners, on the part of each county, to settle and fix the line in dispute; and their report, when ratified by a majority of the commissioners in each county, is conclusive of the location of the true line, and shall be recorded in the register's office of each county, and in the office of the secretary of state. If the board of commissioners of any county refuses upon request of the other county or counties to appoint one or more commissioners pursuant to this section to settle and fix the line or lines in dispute, then, and in such event, the county or counties making such request may file a verified petition before the resident judge of the district in which the said county or counties lie, or the judge holding the courts thereof for the time being, and in the event that said counties shall lie in more than one judicial district, to the resident judge or the judge holding the courts of either district, setting forth briefly the line or lines which are in dispute; the refusal of the other county or counties to settle and fix the line in dispute, pursuant to this section; whereupon, such judge before whom such petition is filed shall issue a notice to the other county or counties, returnable before him within not less than ten nor more than twenty days, and if it appear to such judge upon hearing said notice, and he shall find as a fact that there is bona fide dispute as to the true location of the boundary line or lines referred to in the petition and that the county or counties have refused to settle and fix the line in dispute as provided in this section, such judge shall thereupon appoint three (3) persons, one person from each of the counties and some disinterested person from some adjoining county, who shall go upon the ground, hear such evidence and testimony as shall be offered and make report to the said judge as to the true location of the boundary line or lines in dispute. The judge shall thereupon ratify the report and a copy thereof shall be recorded in the office of the register of deeds of each of the counties and shall be indexed and cross indexed and shall also be recorded in the office of the Secretary of State and the location so fixed shall be conclusive. If it shall appear to the judge that the services of a surveyor are necessary he shall appoint such surveyor and fix his compensation. The cost thereof shall be defrayed by the two counties in proportion to the number of taxable polls in each. (Rev., s. 1322; Code, s. 721; R. C., c. 97; 1836, c. 3; 1925, c. 251; C. S. 1299.)

Editor's Note.—This section was amended by the Laws of 1925, ch. 251, by providing that in case the county commissioners refuse to appoint one or more commissioners to fix the lines in dispute the judge may appoint. If, after issuance of said notice, there is a bona fide dispute, the judge is to appoint three commissioners, one from each of the disputing counties, and one from a neutral county. After the said commissioners make their report, and it is confirmed by the judge, it is recorded in the office of the register of deeds, and a copy sent to the office of the secretary of state.

§ 153-11.1. Contributions by counties and cities to governmental agencies in war effort.—The several boards of county commissioners in the state of North Carolina and the governing bodies of the municipalities of the state are authorized, in their discretion, to appropriate from the general fund of their respective counties and municipalities such funds as they may determine to be a necessary and proper contribution to local organizations of official state and federal governmental agencies engaged in the war effort, including defense councils and office of price administration. Proceeds of such contribution may not be made in the way of compensation to members of the boards of such agencies, or any panels thereof. The provisions of this section shall not apply to Avery, Clay, Cumberland, Currituck, Davie, Forsyth, Graham, Hyde, Macon, Swain, Buncombe, Surry and Transylvania counties. (1943, c. 711.)

§ 153-12. How commissioners sworn and paid.—Such commissioners, before entering on the duties assigned them, shall be sworn before a justice of the peace; and they, with all others employed, shall be allowed reasonable pay for their labors. (Rev., s. 1323; Code, s. 722; C. S. 1300.)

§ 153-13. Compensation of county commissioners.—Except where otherwise provided by law, each county commissioner shall receive for his services and expenses in attending the meetings of the board not exceeding two dollars per day, as a majority of the board may fix upon, and they may be allowed mileage to and from their respective places of meeting, not to exceed five cents per mile. (Rev., s. 2785; Code, s. 709; 1907, c. 500; C. S. 3918.)

Mileage Allowed.—Members of the board of county commissioners are only entitled to mileage for the distance by the usual route traveled to attend such meeting of the board as the statute has prescribed, and returning from such meeting; they cannot charge mileage for each day, although they may actually return to their homes at the close of each day of a meeting. State v. Norris, 111 N. C. 652, 16 S. E. 2d. When Mileage Allowance Erroneous but Innocent.—Where a board of county commissioners audited in favor of its members for mileage, to which they were not entitled, and it was found as a fact that they did so under advice and without any fraudulent motive, it was held that the members of the board were not indictable either under the Statute, section 14-234, or at common law. State v. Norris, 111 N. C. 652, 16 S. E. 2.

Compensation Not Allowed Commissioner for Inspecting Bridge.—A member of the board of county commissioners who, under the direction of the board, inspected and reported upon a bridge cannot recover in his action for the services rendered on mileage, he is forbidden to do so as a county commissioner under this section, and is indictable if claiming compensation for extra services under either an express or implied contract with the board, under section 14-234. Davidson v. Guilford County, 155 N. C. 436, 67 S. E. 918.

1. The number of commissioners may be increased from three to five or decreased from five to three.

2. All commissioners may be elected for two years.

3. At the first election, if the board is to have three members, one may be elected for two years, one for four years, and one for six years, but if the board is to have five members, two may be elected for two years, two for four years, and one for six years. (1927, c. 91, s. 3.)

§ 153-19. How change may be made.—Upon a petition filed with the board of county commissioners, signed by voters not less in number than ten per cent of the whole number of voters who voted in the last election at which votes were cast for Governor, asking for the adoption of one of the modifications above set forth, the board of commissioners shall order an election, and on the question of whether such election shall be held, which election shall be held under the general law governing elections for members of the General Assembly in the county, presenting the question of making the change asked for in the petition.

If a majority of the votes cast at such election shall be in favor of the change designated, it shall go into effect at the expiration of the term of office of the then existing board of commissioners. At the general election for county commissioners next preceding the date when the said change goes into effect, the members of the board shall be elected in accordance with the plan adopted. If the members of the board are to be elected for different terms, the term for which each member is to serve shall be indicated in the election; and the members so elected shall hold office for the terms designated, and at the expiration of the term of each member, his successor shall be elected for the term of six years. (1927, c. 91, s. 4.)

II. Manager Form.

§ 183-20. Manager appointed or designated.—The board of county commissioners may appoint a county manager who shall be the administrative head of the county government, and shall be responsible for the administration of all the departments of the county government which the board of county commissioners has the authority to control. He shall be appointed with regard to merit only, and he need not be a resident of the county at the time of his appointment. In lieu of the appointment of a county manager, the board may impose and confer upon the chairman of the board of county commissioners the duties and powers of a manager, as hereinafter set forth, and under such circumstances said chairman shall be considered a whole-time chairman. On the board may impose and confer upon any other officer or agent of the county who may be sufficiently qualified to per-

§ 153-22. Removal of officers and agents.—The county manager may remove such officers, agents, and employees as he may appoint, and upon any appointment or removal he shall report the same to the next meeting of the board of commissioners. (1927, c. 91, s. 6.)

§ 153-23. Compensation.—The county manager shall hold his office at the will of the board of commissioners, and shall be entitled to such reasonable compensation for his services as the board of commissioners may determine. The board shall also fix the compensation of such subordinate officers, agents and employees as may be appointed by the county manager. (1927, c. 91, s. 7.)

§ 153-24. Manager plan adopted by popular vote.—If the board of county commissioners does not exercise its discretion to appoint or designate a county manager, as above provided, a petition may be filed with the board, signed by voters not less in number than ten per cent of the whole number of voters who voted in the last election at which votes were cast for Governor, asking for the adoption of the manager form of county government. Upon the filing of such petition, the board of commissioners shall order an election to be held under the general laws governing elections for members of the General Assembly in the county, presenting the question of the adoption of the manager form of county government. If a majority of the votes cast at such election shall be in favor of such manager form, the board of commissioners shall proceed to appoint a county manager as provided in this article. (1927, c. 91, s. 8.)

§ 153-25. How often elections may be held.—Not more than one election may be held within any period of twenty-three months upon the question of modifying the county commissioners plan, nor more than one election as defined in § 159-2 in any period of twenty-three months upon the question of adopting the manager plan, whether or not such election resulted in favor of the question submitted or against the same. (1927, c. 91, s. 10.)

III. Certain Powers and Duties of the Board.

§ 153-26. Powers and duties of the board.—The powers and duties of the board of commissioners under the manager form, or the county commissioners form, whether modified as herein provided or not modified, shall be the same as now provided by general or local laws for the administration of the county government, and such additional powers and duties as may be given in this article. But whatever form is adopted, or shall be in use in a county, it shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners to provide, so far as possible, consistent with law, for unifying fiscal management of county affairs, for securing the sources of revenue, for safeguarding the collection of all revenue, for guarding adequately all expenditures, for securing proper accounting of all funds, and for preserving the physical property of the county. (1927, c. 91, s. 11.)

§ 153-27. Purchasing agent.—It shall be the duty of the board of commissioners to provide for the purchasing of supplies for the different departments of the county government in such manner as may prevent waste and duplication in purchasing, and may obtain the advantage of purchasing in larger quantities. To that end the board may designate some competent person, either a member of the board or some other officer or agent of the county, as purchasing agent, whose duty it shall be to superintend the purchasing of all material and supplies for the county, and the board may prescribe the duties of such purchasing agent. (1927, c. 91, s. 12.)

It shall be the duty of the Director of Local Government to visit the local units of government in the State, and to advise and assist the governing bodies and other officers of said units in providing a competent, economical and efficient administration; to suggest approved methods for levying and collecting taxes and other revenues; to suggest such changes in the organization of

The Director shall have the power to require the use of such systems, books, forms, classifications and budgets as provided herein by officers or employees of local units, and to enforce the use of the same. Where the accounting system of any unit shall in part or in whole substantially meet the requirements of uniformity as prescribed by the Director of Local Government, the Director may, in his discretion, approve or modify such system as he may deem necessary. As soon as practicable after March 12, 1931, it shall be the duty of the Director of Local Government to proceed, as rapidly as possible, with the installation of uniform records and systems of accounting in each and every local unit of the State. (1931, c. 100, ss. 1, 3.)

§ 153-31. Director to inspect and supervise the keeping of records; unlawful not to furnish director with requested information.—The Director of Local Government shall have the power to inspect or supervise the keeping of the records of any department or office of any local unit for the purpose of determining that such records are being properly kept and that public money is being properly accounted for, and it shall be unlawful for any officer or employee to fail or refuse to turn over such records or give access to same and give such other information which may be requested of him and relating to the records of his office to the Director or his representative upon request of said Director or representative. (1931, c. 100, s. 1.)

§ 153-32. Violation of two preceding sections misdemeanor. — Any officer or employee of any local unit who shall fail or refuse to observe the provisions of §§ 153-30 and 153-31 shall be guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court. (1931, c. 100, s. 1.)

§ 153-33. All counties affected by this article. — The powers and privileges conferred by this article, and the duties imposed thereby, are conferred and imposed upon every county within the State, whether governed wholly by general laws or governed wholly or in part by local acts. (1927, c. 91, s. 21.)

Art 4. State Association of County Commissioners.

§ 153-34. Membership of association. — The State Association of County Commissioners consists of the boards of county commissioners of the several counties, and any member of the board of any county may be a member of the association, but it is not mandatory for any county to become a member. (1909, c. 870, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 1303.)

§ 153-35. Purposes of association. — The purpose of the association is to promote and cultivate more intimate association and more friendly relations among the county commissioners of the state; to secure as far as possible a uniform valuation of property for taxation; to promote the cause of good roads; to propose laws for the best interests of county governments; to secure uniformity in the handling of county affairs; to propose laws for the protection of county finances, and preservation of resources and assets; and to promote the general welfare of the state. (1909, c. 870, s. 1; C. S. 1304.)

§ 153-36. Powers of association. — The association has power to adopt by-laws, rules and regulations for the government of its members, for the collection of fees and dues, for the number and election of its officers and the duties thereof, for the safe keeping of its property, and the general management of its affairs, and has power to alter, modify or amend such by-laws, rules and regulations, from time to time, as it deems best. (1909, c. 870, s. 3; C. S. 1305.)

§ 153-37. Officers of association. — The officers shall be a president, a vice president at large and ten other vice presidents, or one from each congressional district, a secretary and treasurer, and an executive committee. The duties of the officers shall be prescribed by the by-laws, rules and regulations. (1909, c. 870, s. 4; C. S. 1306.)

§ 153-38. Dues and expenses of members. — There shall be assessed against each county an annual membership fee of five dollars, which shall be paid by the county treasurer upon the order of the board of county commissioners, but the executive committee of the association may increase the annual membership fee to a sum not to exceed ten dollars. The various boards of commissioners are authorized to pay out of the county treasury the expenses of one of its members attending the meetings of the association. (1909, c. 870, ss. 5, 7; C. S. 1307.)

§ 153-39. Meetings of association. — The annual meeting of the association shall be held on Wednesday after the second Monday in August of each year, and the place of meeting shall be designated by the executive committee. Upon ten days notice, the president or a majority of the executive committee may call a called meeting, and the time and place shall be designated, together with a short statement of the object of the meeting. (1909, c. 870, s. 6; C. S. 1308.)

Art. 5. Clerk to Board of Commissioners.

§ 153-40. Register clerk ex officio to board; compensation.—The register of deeds is ex officio clerk of, and his compensation shall be fixed by, the board of commissioners. (Art. VII, s. 2, N. C. Const.; Rev., s. 1324; Code, s. 710; 1895, c. 135, s. 4; C. S. 1309.)

§ 153-41. Duties of clerk.—It is the clerk's duty—
1. To record in a book to be provided for the purpose all the proceedings of the board.
2. To enter every resolution or decision concerning the payment of money.
3. To record the vote of each commissioner on any question submitted to the board, if required by any member present.
4. To preserve and file in alphabetical or other due order all accounts presented or acted on by the board, and to designate upon every account audited the amount allowed and the charges for which it was allowed.
5. To keep the books and papers of the board free for the examination of all persons.
6. To administer oaths to all persons presenting claims against the county, but he shall receive no fee therefor. (Rev., s. 1235; Code, s. 712; 1905, c. 530; C. S. 1310.)

Cross References.—See also, § 161-22. As to duty to report public funds to the county commissioners, see § 2-46. As to duty of clerk to record votes of commissioners on approval of bonds and liability for failure to do so, see § 139-12.

Correction of Record.—The record of a board of county commissioners may be corrected nunc pro tunc to speak the truth as to what had been correctly made; the county treasurer may correct the entries on their records to speak the truth as to what had been correctly made. (Rev., s. 1389; Code, s. 758; R. C., c. 28, s. 17; 1838, c. 31, s. 1; 1871-2, c. 71, s. 1; 1897, c. 513; C. S. 1312.)

Constitutional Power to Create.—The Legislature has constitutional power to provide a board of audit and finance for a particular county and to direct that payment of an expert accountant authorized thereunder be made by the county treasurer as a charge against the county's public funds, upon an order made by said board in a certain prescribed manner. Such a power is derived under Article VII, sec. 2, of the State Constitution, providing that the county commissioners shall have control of the county's finances "as may be prescribed by law," taken in connection with section 14 thereof, giving full power to the General Assembly to modify, etc., the provisions of this article and to substitute others, etc. Sou. Audit Co. v. McKenzie, 147 N. C. 461, 61 S. E. 283.

Mistake as to Amount Due.—Money paid under protest should be refunded if it should be shown that there has been a mistake in the report of the finance committee and that the sum was not in fact due. Moore v. Commissioners, 87 N. C. 209, 213.

When Mandamus Will Lie to Enforce Order.—Upon refusal of a county treasurer to pay from the public funds of a county an order made on him by a board of audit and finance for the payment of moneys authorized and prescribed by a legislative enactment, a mandamus will lie. Southern Audit Co. v. McKenzie, 147 N. C. 461, 61 S. E. 283.

§ 153-44. Compensation of finance committee.

The members of the finance committee shall each receive such compensation for the performance of his duties as the board of commissioners may allow, not exceeding three dollars per day; but they shall not be paid for more than ten days in any one year. (Rev., s. 2751; Code, s. 763; 1871-2, c. 71, s. 5; 1873-4, c. 107; C. S. 3915.)

§ 153-45. Oath of members.—The members of the finance committee before entering upon their duties shall, before the clerk of the superior court, subscribe to the following oath or affirmation: I, A. B., do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will diligently inquire into all matters relating to the receipts and disbursements of county funds and a true report make, without partiality. So help me, God. (Rev., s. 1390; Code, s. 762; 1871-2, c. 71, s. 4; C. S. 1313.)

§ 153-46. Powers of finance committee.—The finance committee has power and authority to send for persons and papers, and to administer oaths; and any person failing to obey their summons, or to produce promptly any paper relating or supposed to relate to any matter appertaining to the duties of the finance committee, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction in the superior court, shall be fined and imprisoned at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 1391; Code, s. 750; R. C. c. 28, s. 17; 1831, c. 31: 1871-2, c. 71, s. 2: 1889, c. 392; C. S. 1314.)

§ 153-47. Penalty on officer failing to settle.—If any clerk, sheriff, constable, county treasurer, register of deeds, justice of the peace, or other officer or commissioner, who holds any county money, fails duly to account for the same, the finance committee shall give such person ten days previous notice, in writing, of the time and place at which they will attend to make a settlement; and every officer receiving notice and failing to make settlements shall forfeits the sum of five hundred dollars, to be sued and every officer receiving notice and failing to make the settlement within the time fixed shall pay the sum of five hundred dollars, to be sued and directed that the justices should, from time to time, and at the expense of the county, unless the court releases the officers from the forfeiture. (Rev., s. 1392; Code, s. 760; R. C. c. 28, s. 19; 1831, c. 31, s. 3; C. S. 1315.)

Cross Reference.—As to duty of county commissioners to sue upon the official bond when officer fails to settle, see § 155-18.

§ 153-48. Annual report of finance committee.—It is the duty of the finance committee to make and publish their reports as hereinbefore directed on or before the first Monday of December in each year. (Rev., s. 1393; Code, s. 761; 1871-2, c. 71, s. 3; C. S. 1316.)

Cross Reference.—As to failure to publish report, see § 14-211.

Art. 7. Courthouse and Jail Buildings.

§ 153-49. Built and repaired by commissioners.—There shall be kept and maintained in good and sufficient repair in every county a courthouse and common jail, at the expense of the county wherein the same are situated. The boards of commissioners of the several counties respectively shall lay and collect taxes, from year to year, as long as may be necessary, for the purpose of building, repairing and furnishing their several courthouses and jails, in such manner as they think proper; and from time to time they shall order and establish such rules and regulations for the preservation of the courthouse, and for the government and management of the persons, as may be conducive to the interests of the public and the safety and comfort of the persons confined. (Rev., s. 1335; Code, s. 782; R. C., c. 30, s. 1: 1741, c. 33, ss. 1, 2: 1795, c. 433, s. 1: 1816, c. 914, s. 1: C. S. 1317.)

Editor's Note.—By the Act of 1741, ch. 33, the tax herein provided for was to be laid for two years, and to be collected in the same manner as the public and parish taxes, and to be accounted for by him to the justices of the county court on oath. Viewing the first section of this Act by itself, it would seem that this tax was only temporary, and to be laid as once for two years. But the second section of the Act removes this idea, for by that the justices were empowered to lay a tax of the same character, viz., a poll tax from time to time, as often as it might be necessary to repair or erect public buildings.

This authority was repeated and confirmed by the Act of 1793, ch. 43, by which the taxes were to be laid and collected annually. This brings us to the Act of 1808, ch. 755, by which the sheriff was again authorized to collect the taxes for public buildings, and was for the first time made accountable to the treasurer of public buildings. The Act of 1816, c. 911, converted this authority into a positive duty, and directed that the justices should, from time to time, lay a sufficient tax, erect and keep in repair the public jail, courthouse and stocks, in their respective counties. In State v. Justice, 11 N. C. 194, 196, Henderson, J., in speaking of these statutes says, "The justices of our county courts are not obliged, by their own exertions, to build and repair jails; they are only to use the means to that end which the law has placed in their power, viz., to lay the tax, make the order, appoint a treasurer of public buildings, and appoint committees to contract for the building of the jail."

The provisions of these Acts are found in a substantial form as section 1, chapter 30 of the Revised Statutes, which is likewise carried forward as section 1, chapter 30 of the Revised Code of 1871-2, re-enacted in the Civil War, and the Reconstruction period, which brought about so many changes in North Carolina laws, we find this duty shifted from the old county courts to the county commissioners. For the change as accomplished by section one, chapter thirty-one, of Battle's Revision of 1872-73.

Constitutionality.—The power of limited taxation for the purposes of erecting and maintaining a courthouse and jail, and for its insurance, was first provided for by the Bill of Rights, Lockhart v. Harrington, 8 N. C. 408.

Article XI, sec. 6, of the Constitution (1839) requires that the same be provided for by the respective county courts in the name of the state and prosecuted for the same; and directed that the justices should, from time to time, and at the expense of the county wherein the same are situated. The courts in the absence of maladministration, may proceed to build and erect and repair the courthouses and jails; they are only to use the means to that end which the law has placed in their power, viz., to lay the tax, make the order, appoint a treasurer of public buildings, and appoint committees to contract for the building of the jail.

Where a sheriff has in an emergency requested a physician to render services to a prisoner in his custody who has been badly wounded resisting arrest, and there is evidence tending to show that under the circumstances he could not have obtained in time an order from the board of county commissioners that would assume responsibility on behalf of the county to pay them, the objection of the commission- ers is that under such circumstances the county would not pay for them, and the liability would only attach as to those prisoners delivered at the county jail, is untenable. Spicer v. Williamson, 191 N. C. 487, 112 S. E. 291.

An action cannot be maintained against a county for damages sustained by one while imprisoned in the county jail by reason of the failure of the commissioners to provide adequate means for his health and protection. Manuel v. Commissioners, 98 N. C. 9, 3 S. E. 829.

Where A was arrested at night by a policeman for violation of an ordinance of the city of Raleigh and confined in the city guardhouse in which he died the next morning, there being no evidence in an action for damages instituted by his administrator against the city, the jury found that his death was "accidental in the guardhouse," the plaintiff is entitled to recover. Lewis v. Raleigh, 77 N. C. 229.

Same—Responsibility of Town.—A town is responsible in damages for the gross neglect of its officials in the matter of providing suitable protection for the health of persons confined in the receptacle for prisoners. Shields v. Durham, 118 N. C. 459, 24 S. E. 794.

Same—Liability of Agent of City.—The act of a city's chief of police in causing the incarceration of one violating the laws of the State, and not of the city, in the unsanitary lockup of the county, when unauthorized on the part of the city, and for which the latter is made liable, for a consequent injury to the health of the prisoner; the right of action existing only against the chief of police. Hall v. Raleigh, 88 N. C. 290, 84 S. E. 391.

Extent of Commissioner's Liability.—In the excellent work of Judge Dillon on Municipal Corporations, (section 963,) the author says: "A county is not liable for a nuisance to a citizen in the streets or in his house, or to the immediate vicinities of his residence, nor for suffering it to become so filthy and disorderly as to be a nuisance to him and his family." The doctrine is that while these corporate agencies must provide the means and employ the men to perform such duties, they are not personally and by their own labor to perform such menial services; and the default to make them liable must be in neglecting to exercise their authority in the use of labor and money for that purpose, and so must it be charged to make a cause of action against them. Threlagilli v. Commissioners, 99 N. C. 352, 6 S. E. 189, 191.

Duty to make proper rules and regulations imposes a discretionary duty on the board of commissioners exer- cizable only in its corporate capacity, and the commission- ers are not answerable unless they corrupt or with malice fail to make proper rules and regulations. Moyer v. McLawhorn, 208 N. C. 412, 182 S. E. 493.

§ 153-50. Formation of district jail by con- tinuous counties.—Any two or more counties contiguous to one another or which lie in a continu- ous group may enter into an agreement for the construction and maintenance of a district jail. Such agreement shall specify the amount of the construction and maintenance cost to be borne by each county and shall fix the terms upon which such jail may thereafter be used by the counties becoming parties to the agreement.

The commissioners may also by agreement establish a jail already built as a district jail, and provide for the improvement, enlargement, maintenance cost and use thereof.

When and if such district jail has been established, all the counties in such district may then sell or dispose of their separate jails upon such terms as the board of county commissioners may decide. (1933, c. 201.)

Editor's Note.—See 11 N. C. Law Rev. 214.

§ 153-51. Jail to have five apartments.—The common jails of the several counties shall be pro- vided with at least five separate and suitable apartments, one for the confinement of white male criminals; one for white female criminals; one for the colored male criminals; one for colored female criminals; and one for other prisoners. (Rev., s. 1398; Code, s. 783; R. C., c. 30, s. 2; 1795, c. 433, s. 4; 1816, c. 911; C. S. 1318.)

Cross References.—As to separate apartments for the Cherokee Indians of Robeson County, see § 71-2. As to segregation of county prisoners with tuberculosis, see §§ 130-226 to 130-220. As to confining prisoners to improper apartments, see § 14-351.

§ 153-52. To be heated.—It is the duty of the board of county commissioners in every county to have the common jails so heated by furnaces, stoves, or otherwise, as to render them warm and com- fortable. (Rev., s. 1338, c. 10; 1822, c. 1136, c. 1320.)

Failure to Supply Bedclothing.—Where the bedcloth- ing furnished for the inmates of the police prison has been destroyed, but the governing officers of the town are not shown to have had actual notice of the destruction, or to have been negligent in omitting to provide for such over- sight of the inmates, they must naturally be expected to give them timely information of its condition, there is not such a failure in discharging the duties of superintendence as to subject the corporation to liability. Moffitt v. Asheville, 113 N. C. 292, 299, 9 S. E. 695.

§ 153-54. Prison bounds.—For the preservation of the health of persons committed to jail, the board of commissioners of each county shall mark out such a parcel of the land as they think fit, not exceeding six acres, adjoining the prison, for the rules thereof; and every prisoner not committed for treason or felony, giving bond with good se- curity to the sheriff of the county to keep within the rules, shall have liberty to walk therein, out of the prison, for the preservation of his health; and on keeping continually within the said rules, shall be deemed to be in law a true prisoner. In order that every person may know the true bounds of said rules, they shall be recorded in the county records, and the marks thereof shall be renewed as occasion may require. (Rev., s. 1339; Code, s. 3465; R. C., c. 87, s. 10; 1822, c. 1136; C. S. 1320.)

Editor's Note.—The first provision for prison bounds in this State was enacted by the Act of 1741, chap. 33, sec. 3, which is c. 90, sec. 11, of the Rev. St. It seems to be based on a known usage and regulation respecting prisons in England. There are provisions by the laws of the several states for the liberty of walking in the prison yards, or within such other limits as the prison rules prescribe, of their respective prisoners, at such hours and on such days as "the rules" may designate. The "grounds" came in time to be called the "rules of the pris- on." In our Act of 1741 the court was authorized to mark off the said prison bounds, or the "rules of the prison." (For a construction of that Act, see Ex parte Bradley, 26 N. C. 543, 544.) This has been changed by making it the duty of the county commissioners to lay off the said bounds.

Purpose.—Both the words and the policy of the section show the purpose to be simply to preserve the health of those who are so unfortunate as to be in prison. Northam v. Terry, 30 N. C. 175, 176.

This section does not apply in favor of persons who have been convicted of criminal offenses and sentenced to imprisonment by the judgment of the court. It applies to prisoners who in civil cases are committed to jail for lack of bail, or to take any bond, such conduct on the part of the sheriff is a waiver of any further act to be done by the prisoner, and renders it unnecessary for the prisoner to prepare and render it unnecessary for the prisoner to prepare and answer the criminal charge preferred against him. State v. Pearson, 169 N. C. 414, 417, 6 S. E. 380; Mann v. Vick, 8 N. C. 427.

Sheriff Not Guilty of Escape.—By taking a bond from a prisoner under this section, the sheriff is guilty of no escape in letting him out of the walls of the prison, for he does only what the law requires of him. Northam v. Terry, 30 N. C. 175, 176.

When Bond Void.—A bond for keeping the prison bounds, taken from a prisoner before he has been committed to close custody, is void. Northam v. Terry, 30 N. C. 175.

When Prisoner Not Tender Bond.—Where a prisoner, desirous of being admitted to the prison bounds, applies to the sheriff, and offers to prepare a bond with ample security, and the sheriff refuses to admit him to the rules, or to take any bond, such conduct on the part of the sheriff is a waiver of any further act to be done by the prisoner, and renders it unnecessary for the prisoner to prepare and tender a bond written and executed in order to maintain his action. Mann v. Vick, 8 N. C. 427.

Art. 8. County Revenue.

§ 153-55. Unlawful for counties not to reduce ad valorem taxes; exceptions; other levies void.—As it was intended by the State Highway Commission Act and the Six Months School Term Act and other acts tending to this result to effect a reduction of ad valorem taxes in the several counties of the State, it is hereby declared to be unlawful for any board of county commissioners, for the current year, or for any time within the hundred and thirty-one—one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two and other fiscal years succeeding to make any tax levy, which in the gross does not reflect within three per cent (3%) a reduction in the ad valorem taxes accomplished by these acts. The tax rate for one thousand nine hundred and thirty—one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one shall be the standard from which the reduction shall be made. To this prohibition there shall be the following exceptions:

A. If there should be a new assessment of the value of property for taxation and that assessment should show a reduction in the value of such property, then said board of county commissioners, or any one of them, if the reduction is local, shall levy, in addition to the rate fixed hereinafter, a rate increased sufficiently to take care of this decrease in the valuation of the property in the particular county involved.

B. To prevent a current deficit and, if an emergency should arise, requiring the levy of an additional rate of taxation in a particular county, greater than that herein provided and there should be existing authority for such levy, then the board of commissioners of any county or counties in which such emergency should arise shall be permitted to increase the rate of taxation sufficiently to meet such emergency, when it is declared and the facts upon which the declaration is made are entered at large upon the minutes of the board and the whole matter is referred to the Local Government Commission of the State of North Carolina, which shall have authority to pass upon the application and if, in the opinion of that Commission, a levy of the additional rate is reasonably necessary, then upon certifying this fact to any board of county commissioners, that board shall have authority to increase the levy to the extent necessary to meet the contingency. Standard form of application shall be prescribed by the Local Government Commission.

C. Levies for debt service on outstanding valid indebtedness heretofore incurred, or hereafter permitted by the Local Government Commission. Except as herein permitted, any levy made by any board of county commissioners, in excess of the limit herein fixed, shall be absolutely void, for whatever purposes such excess shall be levied. (1931, c. 134.)

Editor's Note.—The meaning of this enactment is not entirely clear, thereby as the expression "the excess as is possible, notwithstanding the provisions of this section.

§ 153-56. Taxes collected by sheriff or tax collector.—The ad valorem taxes shall be collected by the sheriffs of the county or the tax collector if one is provided by law (Rev., s. 1376; Code, s. 723; R. C. c. 28, s. 2, 1798, c. 509, s. 2; 1811, c. 833; C. S. 1322.)

County Taxes Defined.—The words "county taxes" include all amounts levied by taxation and which are to be used in the counties where they are collected, and where they are paid to the county treasurer. Board v. Commissioners, 123 N. C. 63, 64, 25 S. E. 123; Commissioners v. Steadman, 141 N. C. 448, 54 S. E. 123.

Constitutional Office.—The Legislature may, within reasonable limits, diminish the emoluments of an office by the transfer of a portion of its duties to another office, or by reducing the salary or the fees, for the incumbent takes the office subject to the power of the Legislature to make such changes as the public good may require. There are offices created by the Constitution which are placed beyond the control of the General Assembly, so that body can neither abolish the office nor reduce its compensation. Mial v. Ellington, 134 N. C. 131, 46 S. E. 961; State v. Gales, 27 N. C. 281; Mills v. Deaton, 170 N. C. 386, 388, 72 S. E. 123; Commissioners v. Steadman, 141 N. C. 448, 54 S. E. 209.

Same—Not to Be Deprived of Right.—The sheriff can be deprived of the right to collect taxes by an act of the Legislature, since the office is a constitutional one, and to allow it to be stripped of its more important functions at the will of the Legislature would be equivalent to destruction. King v. Hunter, 65 N. C. 603, 611.

Upon Insanity of Sheriff.—Upon the official ascertainment of the insanity of a sheriff his surrogates have the right to collect the current tax list then in his hands. Somers v. Commissioners, 123 N. C. 583, 594, 31 S. E. 878.

School Taxes Included.—All the school taxes are included in the accounting to be made between the county treasurer, the sheriff, and the school tax. Tillery v. Candler, 118 N. C. 889, 894, 24 S. E. 709.

Commission out of School Tax.—A sheriff is entitled to a commission out of the school tax. Board v. Commissioners, 137 N. C. 63, 43 S. E. 47.

Overpayment.—The State Auditor is authorized to make deduction of over-payment in the settlement for taxes collected where there is error in the "value shown to the taxables," and the sheriff is "charged with more than the true amount," etc., and though the same deductions and corrections are permitted the county in making settlements under the act of Congress, none of these credits claimed are not from either of these causes; and to allow them otherwise would be to permit an offset or counterclaim. Commissioners v. Hall, 177 N. C. 490, 99 S. E. 372.

In the courts of the United States this absolute liability is put mainly on public policy and the evil consequences which would follow from a different construction. United States v. Doshell, 4 Wall., 185, 18 L. Ed. 319; United States v. Prescott, 3 How., 578, 587, 11 L. Ed. 734; United States v. Kehlner, 9 Wall., 83, 19 L. Ed. 574. The reasons apply with equal force to State officials, and the same doctrine has accordingly been held in Muese v. Shattuck, 1 Den 231. Thompson v. Trustees, 30 Ill., 99; Hancock v. Hazard, 12 Cush. (Mass.) 112; Atkinson v. Whithead, 66 N. C. 296; Atlantic, etc., R. Co. v. Cowles, 69 N. C. 59; State v. Clarke, 73 N. C. 255, 257.

Obligation Not a Debt in Ordinary Sense.—The obligation of a sheriff to settle for county taxes collected in accordance with "the list of taxables" furnished him, is not a debt in the ordinary sense but a charge imposed by the Legislature, or under its authority, permitting no offset or counterclaim. Commissioners v. Bain, 173 N. C. 490, 99 S. E. 372.

Tax Lists in Sheriff's Hands upon Expiration of Term.—While collecting the county taxes is made a part of the duties of a sheriff, it is not a function of his term, but a separate function, and exists after his term as such, for the purpose of collecting, from the tax lists in his hands, the taxes for the current year, in the absence of legislation to the contrary. Commissioners v. Bain, 173 N. C. 377, 92 S. E. 176.

Failure to Answer to Treasurer of Public Buildings.—Where the condition of a sheriff's bond was in these words, "the sheriff agrees, from his nature, being punishment for violation of the criminal law, are imposed in favor of the State and belonging to the State, the Legislature can not appropriate their clear proceeds to any other purpose than the school fund. State v. Maultsby, 139 N. C. 583, 51 S. E. 956; Katzenstein v. Raleigh, etc., R. Co., 84 N. C. 68; State v. Marietta, etc., R. Co., 108 N. C. 24, 30, 32, 12 S. E. 1041; Sutton v. Phillips, 116 N. C. 502, 21 S. E. 968, and cases there cited and reaffirmed in Goodwin v. Fertilizer Co., 112 N. C. 130, 125, 25 S. E. 795; Carter v. Wilmington, etc., R. Co., 112 N. C. 437, 445, 36 S. E. 14; Board v. Henderson, 126 N. C. 689, 36 S. E. 138; School Directors v. Asheville, 117 N. C. 503, 300, 50 S. E. 139.

A Fine Defined.—A fine is the sentence pronounced by the court for a violation of the criminal law of the State. Board v. Henderson, 126 N. C. 689, 36 S. E. 138.

Clear Proceeds Defined.—By "clear proceeds" is meant the total sum less only the sheriff's fees for collection, when the fine and costs are not collected in full. This has been fully discussed and settled. State v. Maultsby, 139 N. C. 583, 51 S. E. 956; Katzenstein v. Raleigh, etc., R. Co., 84 N. C. 68; State v. Marietta, etc., R. Co., 108 N. C. 24, 30, 32, 12 S. E. 1041; Sutton v. Phillips, 116 N. C. 502, 21 S. E. 968, and cases there cited and reaffirmed in Goodwin v. Fertilizer Co., 112 N. C. 130, 125, 25 S. E. 795; Carter v. Wilmington, etc., R. Co., 112 N. C. 437, 445, 36 S. E. 14; Board v. Henderson, 126 N. C. 689, 36 S. E. 138; School Directors v. Asheville, 117 N. C. 503, 300, 50 S. E. 139.

Penalty Defined.—A penalty is the amount prescribed for a violation of the statute law of the State or the ordinance of a town, and is recoverable in a civil action of debt. Board v. Henderson, 126 N. C. 689, 36 S. E. 138.

Fines, Etc., of Municipality.—The section does not extend to fines, penalties or forfeitures, incurred, or arising in the enforcement of ordinances and rules adopted by a municipal corporation for local government. They do not "accrue to the state," nor are they collected in the counties for a violation of penal or military law, or by county officers upon whom this duty is devolved. Wake Com'rs v. Raleigh, 86 N. C. 120, 122.

When Collected by Mayor of Town. — Where such fines are collected through the mayor of a town, by virtue of his authority as justice of the peace, they are to be accounted for to the board of education by authority as justice of the peace, they are to be accounted for to the board of education. Board v. Henderson, 126 N. C. 689, 36 S. E. 138.

An action by a county board of school directors for fines and penalties collected by a city is barred within three years. School Directors v. Asheville, 128 N. C. 269, 38 S. E. 874.

Forfeited Bond of Prisoner.—Where the Governor has granted requisition for a fugitive from justice into another state, to be turned over to the agent of that state here, and the prisoner seeks out the agent of his state, the court is the proper forum. It is otherwise where the penalties are imposed for the violation of town ordinances, which are to be sued for. Board v. Henderson, 126 N. C. 689, 36 S. E. 138.

An action by a county board of school directors for fines and penalties collected by a city is barred within three years. School Directors v. Asheville, 128 N. C. 269, 38 S. E. 874.
§ 153-59. Expenditures of county funds directed by commissioners.—The board of commissioners is invested with full power to direct the application of all moneys arising by virtue of this chapter for the purposes herein mentioned, and to any other good and necessary purpose for the use of the county. (Rev., s. 1379; Code, s. 753; R. C., c. 28, s. 16; 1777, c. 129, s. 4; C. S. 1328.)

Necessary Expenses Determined by Commissioners.—In Wilson v. Holding, 170 N. C. 352, 355, 68 S. E. 1943, Walker J. held, per curiam, that "We hold repeatedly held beginning with Broadnax v. Groom, 64 N. C. 244, 250, and ending with Comrs. v. Comms., 165 N. C. 632, 81 S. E. 1907, and finally Haag v. Comrs., 168 N. C. 626, 84 S. E. 1904, that what is a 'necessary expense' for a county is to be determined by the sound judgment and discretion of its board of commissioners."

It is within the province of the courts to determine what expenditures fall within the definition of the necessary expenses of a county, the authority for controlling the commissioners in incurring a debt, when the expense is necessary, is deposited within the control of a judicial authority. Burgin v. Smith, 151 N. C. 561, 566, 66 S. E. 607, citing Hightower v. Raleigh, 120 N. C. 569, 55 S. E. 279; Cromartie v. Commissioners, 87 N. C. 134; Broadnax v. Groom, 64 N. C. 244.

Power to Create Necessary Debts.—The Legislature may confer upon a county the power to create debts for necessary expenses without the approval of a majority of the qualified voters" in the county. Evans v. Commissioners, 89 N. C. 154.

When Commissioners' Actions Not Subject to Review.—The commissioners' exercise of their discretion will not be reviewed except when mala fides is shown. Jackson v. Commissioners, 171 N. C. 379, 382, 88 S. E. 521.

Support of Convicts.—The support of the county convicts must be paid out of the general county fund. Chambers v. Walker, 120 N. C. 401, 27 S. E. 77.

Legislature to Determine Care of Indigent.—It is the exclusive right of the Legislature to determine, how the indigent of the State entitled to support shall be ascertained, and from what fund and by whom allowances for their support shall be made. Board v. Commissioners, 113 N. C. 357, 380, 46 S. E. 662.

County May Hire Auditors.—The commissioners of a county have the right to contract with skilled expert accountants for the auditing of the books and accounts of the county, and to pay them for the same, and to order that the same be paid by the county treasurer out of the county funds. Wilson v. Holding, 170 N. C. 352, 86 S. E. 1943.

§ 153-60. County officers receiving funds to report annually.—Sheriffs, treasurers, clerks of any court, registrars of deeds and all other officers of the several counties, into whose hands any public funds may come by virtue of their office, shall make an annual account and report of the amount and management of the same, on the first Monday of December, or oftener if required, in each year, to the board of commissioners. Such report shall give an itemized and detailed account of the public funds received and disbursed, the amount, date and source from which it was received, and the amount, date and person to whom paid. It shall be addressed to the chairman of the board of commissioners for the county, and shall be subscribed and verified by the oath of the party making the same, before any person authorized to administer oaths. (Rev., s. 1380; Code, s. 728; 1874-5, c. 151, s. 1; 1876-7, c. 276, s. 1; C. S. 1326.)

§ 153-61. Board to enforce duty to report.—If any person required to make any of the reports herein provided for fails to do so, or if, after a report has been made, the board of commissioners disapprove the same, such board may take such legal steps to compel a proper report to be made, either by suit on the bond of such officer failing to comply or otherwise, as said board may deem best. (Rev., s. 1381; Code, s. 730; 1874-5, c. 151, s. 3; 1876-7, c. 276, s. 3; C. S. 1327.)

§ 153-62. Reports to be recorded in register's office.—If the board of commissioners approves of any of the said reports, it shall cause the same to be registered in the office of the register of deeds in a book to be furnished to the register of deeds by the county, which book shall be marked and styled Record of Official Reports, with a proper index of all reports recorded therein, and each official report shall, if approved, be indorsed by the chairman of the board with the word "approved," with the date of approval, and when recorded by the register of deeds he shall state thereon the date of registration, the page of the Record of Official Reports upon which the same is registered, sign the same and file it in his office. (Rev., s. 1382; Code, s. 739; 1874-5, c. 151, s. 2; 1876-7, c. 276, s. 2; C. S. 1328.)

§ 153-63. Penalty for failure to report.—If any clerk, sheriff, justice of the peace, or other officer, fails or neglects to account for and pay over as required by law any taxes on suits, or any fines, forfeitures and amercements, as required by this chapter, or fails to make the returns herein specified, he shall forfeit and pay five hundred dollars, to be recovered in the name of the board of commissioners for the use of the public schools of the county. (Rev., s. 1383; Code, s. 764; R. C., c. 28, s. 7; 1808, c. 756; 1809, c. 769; 1813, c. 864; 1830, c. 1, ss. 11-13; C. S. 1329.)

"Account" Defined.—An account is defined to be "a statement in writing of debts and credits, or of receipts and payment; a list of items of debts and credits, with their respective dates." Black's Dictionary, p. 17. In this section the word is used in this sense, and when not only an account, but payment or settlement, is intended, additional words are used to express that idea. State v. Dunn, 134 N. C. 663, 668, 46 S. E. 949.

Penalty Statutes Construed Strictly.—A penalty statute must be strictly construed in accordance with the meaning of the words employed, and must not be extended by implication or construction when the act complained of does not fall clearly within the spirit and letter thereof. Alexander v. R. R., 144 N. C. 93, 56 S. E. 697.

Liability of Clerk for Taxes on Suits.—A superior court clerk, who collects taxes upon suits to an amount unauthorized by law, is nevertheless bound to account for the same to the proper county officer. Hewlett v. Nutt, 79 N. C. 263.

Same.—County Treasurer as Plaintiff.—The county treasurer is the proper plaintiff in an action on the bond of a superior court clerk to recover money collected by him as taxes on suits. Hewlett v. Nutt, 79 N. C. 263.

§ 153-64. Demand before suit against municipality; complaint.—No person shall sue any city, county, town or other municipal corporation for any debt or demand arising out of contract when the damages are liquidated unless the claimant has made a demand upon the proper municipal authorities. And every such action shall be dismissed unless the complaint is verified and contains the following allegations: (1) That the claimant presented his claim to the lawful municipal authorities to be audited and allowed, and that they had neglected to act upon it, or had disallowed it; or (2) that he had presented to the treasurer of said municipal corporation the claim sued on, which had been so allowed and audited, and that such treasurer had notwithstanding neg- the payment of municipal interest coupons on the city manager of a municipal corporation the claim

An action to recover the face value of interest coupons on municipal bonds, payment having been refused except at a lower rate of interest, is an action ex contractu, and this section does not provide for payment to be made upon the proper municipal authorities, is applicable. Nevins v. Lexington, 212 N. C. 616, 194 S. E. 297.

Same.—Failure Taken Advantage of by Demurrer.—It has been uniformly held that failure to allege the demand may be taken advantage of by demurrer. Williams v. Smith, 133 N. C. 509, 512, 45 S. E. 503; citing Love v. Commissioners, 64 N. C. 706; Alm v. Commissioners, 71 N. C. 182.

Recovery of Taxes Illegally Collected. — Where a tax-payer has paid his taxes authorized by an unconstitutional statute under protest, and has complied with the provisions of Revial, sec. 2855, which regulates and controls actions to recover illegal taxes paid under protest, it is unnecessary to bring an action to recover the payment of the taxes. He follows the provisions of this section, requiring that he present his claim and make his demand, etc. R. v. County, 177 N. C. 462, 67 S. E. 378, 22 S. E. 751.

Each account shall state the nature of the services, and where no specific compensa- tion is provided for in the agreement of minds, contract and not an ex

Duty of Commissioners.—The law commits to the board of commissioners the power and duty of auditing and passing upon the validity of claims. (Rev. s. 1387; Code s. 751; R. C. c. 28, s. 12; 1793, c. 387; C. S. 1333.)

No such loan shall be made if the amount thereof, together with the amount of similar previous loans remaining unpaid, shall exceed 50 per cent of the amount of uncollected taxes for the fiscal year in which the loan is made, as determined by the chief financial officer and certified in writing to him by the governing body. (1931, c. 81, s. 6; 1931, c. 60, s. 59; 1939, c. 231, s. 2)(d).

Cross Reference.—As to certain powers delegated in issuance of notes for temporary loans, see § 159-43.

The 1939 amendment added the last sentence.

§ 153-75. Certification of revenue anticipation notes.—No revenue anticipation notes shall be valid unless there shall be written or printed on the face or the reverse thereof a statement signed by the chief financial officer of the county in the words: "This note and all other revenue anticipation notes of the county amount to less than 50 per cent of the amount of uncollected taxes for the current year": Provided, however, that if such notes are issued under the authority given by § 153-73, said statement may be either in said words or in the words, "This note is issued under § 153-73 of the county finance act for the payment of principal or interest of bonds or notes." (1927, c. 81, s. 7.)

§ 153-76. Certain notes of counties validated; proceeds lost in insolvent banks.—All notes herefore issued by counties pursuant to the provisions of the County Finance Act applicable to notes issued for money borrowed under § 153-73 are hereby validated, notwithstanding that said notes were issued for the purpose of paying the principal or interest of notes evidencing indebtedness incurred under § 153-72: Provided, that this section shall not be construed to validate securities issued to refund or renew notes, the proceeds from which originally were deposited in banks that have failed, causing the loss of such deposits or making them unavailable to the unit of government. (1931, c. 332.)

§ 153-77. Purposes for which bonds may be issued and taxes levied.—The special approval of the general assembly is hereby given to the issuance by counties of bonds and notes for the special purposes named in this section, and to the levy of property taxes for the payment of such bonds and notes and interest thereon. Accordingly, authority is hereby given to all counties in the state, under the terms and conditions hereinafter described, to issue bonds and notes, and to levy property taxes for the payment of the same, with interest thereon, for the following purposes, including therein purchase of the necessary land and, in the case of buildings, the necessary equipment:

(a) Erection and purchase of schoolhouses.
(b) Erection and purchase of court-house and jails, including a public auditorium within and as a part of a court-house.
(c) Erection and purchase of county homes for the indigent and infirm.
(d) Erection and purchase of hospitals.
(e) Erection and purchase of public auditoriums.
(f) Elimination of grade crossings over railroads and interurban railways, including approaches and damages, when not less than one-half of the cost shall be payable to the county at one time, or from time to time under contract made with a railroad or interurban railway company, the bonds herein authorized to be for the entire cost or any portion thereof.
(g) Acquisition and improvement of lands for public parks and playgrounds.
(h) Funding or refunding of valid indebtedness if such indebtedness be payable at the time of the passage of the order authorizing the bonds or be payable within one year thereafter, or, although payable more than one year thereafter, is to be cancelled prior to its maturity and simultaneously with the issuance of the funding or refunding bonds, and all debt not evidenced by bonds which was created for necessary expenses of any county and which remains outstanding on March 7, 1927, is hereby validated. The term 'indebtedness' as used in this clause (h) includes all valid or enforceable indebtedness of a county, whether incurred for current expenses or for any other purpose, except indebtedness incurred in the name of a county on behalf of a school district or township and not payable by means of taxes au-authorized to be levied on all taxable property in the county. It also includes indebtedness incurred in the name of a county board of education for the maintenance of schools for the six months' term required by § 153-77 to the General Constitution. It includes indebtedness evidenced by bonds, bond anticipation notes, revenue anticipation notes, judgments and unpaid interest on said indebtedness accrued to the date of the bonds issued. It also includes indebtedness assumed by a county as well as indebtedness created by a county. Bond anticipation notes evidencing indebtedness may, at the option of the governing body, be retired either by means of funding bonds issued under this subsection or by means of bonds in anticipation of the sale of the notes were issued. Furthermore, the said word "debt" as used in this section includes the principal of and accrued interest on funding bonds, refunding bonds, and other evidences of indebtedness heretofore or hereafter issued. The above enumeration of particular kinds of debt shall not be construed as limiting the word "debt" as used in this section, the intention being that said word shall include debts of every kind and character. Bonds hereafter issued to fund or refund interest may, at the option of the governing body, be named or designated as certificates of indebtedness. No interest accruing after the year one thousand nine hundred forty shall be funded or refunded.

(i) A portion to be determined by the governing body of the cost of construction of bridges at county boundaries, when an adjoining county or municipality, within or without the state, shall have agreed to pay the remaining cost of construction.

(j) A portion to be determined by the governing body of the cost of public buildings constructed or acquired in order that a part of such buildings may be used for a purpose hereinabove expressed when a municipality within the county shall agree to pay the remaining cost.

(k) Acquiring, constructing and improving airports or landing fields for the use of airplanes or other aircraft. (1927, c. 51, s. 8; 1929, c. 171, s. 1; 1911, c. 60, s. 54; 1933, c. 259, s. 2; 1933, c. 502, s. 2; 1939, c. 271, s. 2(c)).

Local Modification.—Guilford: 1933, c. 566.

Public Laws 1933, c. 259, omitted a proviso, from subsection (b), which related to refunding serial bonds and added the second sentence to the definition of the term "indebtedness" contained in that subsection.

The amendment of 1935, omitted from subsection (b) of this section the words omitted before July 1, 1933, in the section twice after the word "indebtedness." The amendment also added to that subsection the last four sentences. The 1935 act, which also amended sections 153-78, 160-278 and 160-379, provided for two "sections one and two of chapter two hundred fifty-nine of the Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred thirty-three be and the same are hereby amended to conform to the foregoing amendments." Such section of the 1933 act, so far as the language quoted applies, amended sections 153-73, 153-110 and 160-374. The 1939 amendment changed the date at the end of subsections (b) and (i).

This Section Is Constitutional.—Evens v. Mecklenburg County, 205 N. C. 560, 564, 172 S. E. 332.

The word "repair" although omitted in the rewriting of this section is "necessarily implied in" when construed in conjunction with § 153-1 and §§ 153-9, 153-49. See Harrell v. Board of Com'rs, 206 N. C. 225, 173 S. E. 614.

Necessity for Submission to Voters.—A bond order passed by the board of commissioners of a county in this state, the authority and extent of which is defined in this section and related sections, is subject to the approval of the voters of the county, when a petition signed by the requisite number of voters of said county has been filed with the sheriff of the county. State Board of Education v. Board of Com'rs, 206 N. C. 845, 847, 175 S. E. 168.

Authority is given the county under this section and § 115-92 to issue without a vote bonds for sanitary improvement, for school purposes, and to levy taxes for the payment of said bonds. The counties of the state are authorized by this and the following sections to issue bonds and notes for the erection of schoolhouses and for the purchase of land necessary for school purposes, and to levy taxes for the payment of said bonds and notes, with interest on the same, without submitting the question as to whether said bonds or notes shall be issued or said taxes levied, in the first instance, to the voters of the county, where such schoolhouses are required for the establishment or maintenance of the state system of public schools, in accordance with the provisions of the constitution. Bridges v. Charlotte, 221 N. C. 472, 20 S. E. (2d) 825.

Indebtedness Incurred for School Purposes.—Where a county under power conferred by special statute has borrowed money from time to time for the equipment of its public schools, its bonds to refund the indebtedness so incurred are valid if issued in conformity with the provisions of this section. Hartsfield v. Craven County, 195 N. C. 338, 141 S. E. 744.

Indebtedness for teachers' salaries held to come within the purview of subsection (b) of this act. Hampton v. Board of Education, 195 N. C. 213, 141 S. E. 744.

Refunding Bonds May Be Issued without Submitting Question to Qualified Voters.—Reasonable and necessary expenses incurred in good faith to effect a refunding of county indebtedness authorized by this section held to be a necessity for the expense of the county. Bonds may be issued therefor without submitting the question to the qualified voters of the county. Morrow v. Board of Com'rs, 210 N. C. 554, 187 S. E. 752.

Section Does Not Include Teacherage as Necessary Equipment of School.—To hold as a matter of law that a teacherage is a part of the necessary equipment of a rural consolidated school would be to go farther than the Assembly has gone, and, perhaps, entail some judicial engraftment. This section is not fraught with any dubiety of meaning. A teacherage, which is to be run for profit and solely for the benefit of the teachers, is not included within its terms. Denny v. Mecklenburg County, 211 N. C. 558, 559, 191 S. E. 26.

§ 153-79. CH. 153. COUNTIES, ETC.—FINANCE ACT

(b) The maximum aggregate principal amount of the bonds;

c) That a tax sufficient to pay the principal and interest of the bonds when due shall be annually levied and collected; Provided, in lieu of the foregoing and in the case of funding or refunding bonds, such statement with respect to an annual tax may, in the discretion of the governing body, be altered or omitted;

d) That a statement of the county debt has been filed with the clerk, and is open to public inspection;

2. A clause stating the conditions upon which the order will become effective, and the same shall become effective in accordance with such clause, which clause shall be as follows:

1. If the bonds are funding or refunding bonds, that the order shall take effect upon its passage, and shall not be submitted to the voters; or

2. If the bonds are for a purpose other than the payment of necessary expenses, or if the governing body, although not required to obtain the assent of the voters before issuing the bonds, deems it advisable to obtain such assent, that the order shall take effect when approved by the voters of the county at an election as provided in this article; or

3. In any other case, that the order shall take effect thirty days after the first publication thereof after final passage, unless in the meantime a petition for its submission to the voters is filed under this article, and that in such event it shall take effect when approved by the voters of the county at an election as provided in this article.

4. No restriction, limitation, or provision contained in any other law, except a law state-wide application relating to the issuance of bonds, notes or other obligations of a county, shall apply to bonds or notes issued under this article for the purpose of refunding, funding or renewing indebtedness, and no vote of the people shall be required for the issuance of bonds or notes for said purposes, unless required by the constitution of this state. The other laws here referred to include all laws enacted prior to the expiration of this section as it now reads were added.

Local Modification.—Guilford: 1933, c. 566.

Cross References.—For amendments made by the Local Government Commission, see § 159-7.

As to facts influencing the Local Government Commission in determining the advisability of bond issues, see § 159-8.

As to provisions which may be included in the order, see § 159-46.

Editor's Note.—The last part of subsection (a) relating to description of indebtedness to be funded or refunded and the last two sentences of subsection (c) were added by Public Laws 1933, c. 259.

The amendment of 1935 made changes only in subsection 4 of this section. In that subsection the words "in the meantime" before July 1, 1913" were omitted and the last two sentences of the section as it now reads were added.

Courts Cannot Supply Deficiency in Order.—In order to constitute a valid issue of county bonds under this article, to purchase schoolhouses to comply with the mandate of our Constitution for a six months term of public schools, as a necessary county expense, without submitting the question to the vote of the people of the county, it is required that the resolution passed by the board of county commissioners so declares the fact to be, and the courts are without authority to supply the deficiency in the order. Hall v. Commissioners, 195 N. C. 367, 142 S. E. 315.

Repeal of Issuance of Bonds.—Where the taxpayers of a county file suit under this section to restrain the issuance of bonds until authorized by the qualified voters of the county, and there is a controversy as to whether the requisite 15% of qualified voters has obtained to the petition, as set out in § 153-91, a temporary restraining order will be continued until the sufficiency of the petition can be determined. Scruggs v. Rollins, 207 N. C. 335, 177 S. E. 180.

§ 153-79. Order need not specify details of purpose.—In stating the purpose of a bond issue, an order need not specify the location of any improvement or property, or the material of construction. (1937, c. 81, s. 10.)

§ 153-80. Maturities of bonds.—All bonds shall mature as hereinafter provided, and no funding or refunding bonds shall mature after the expiration of the period herein fixed for such bonds, respectively; and no other bonds shall mature after the expiration of the period estimated by the governing body as the life of the improvement for which the bonds are issued, each such period to be computed from a day not later than one year after the passage of the order. Such periods shall not exceed the following for the respective classes of lands:

(a) Funding or refunding bonds, fifty years.

(c) Elimination of grade crossings, thirty years.

(d) Lands for public parks and playgrounds, including improvements, buildings, and equipment, forty years.

(e) Public buildings, if they are:

1. Of fireproof construction, that is, a building the walls of which are constructed of brick, stone, iron, or other hard, incombustible materials, and in which there are no wood beams or lintels, and in which the floors, roofs, stair halls, and public halls are built entirely of brick, stone, iron, or other hard, incombustible materials, and in which no woodwork or other inflammable materials are used in any of the partitions, flooring, or ceiling (but the building shall be deemed to be of fireproof construction notwithstanding that elsewhere than in the stair halls and entrance halls there is wooden flooring supported by wooden sleepers on top of the fireproof floor, and that it contains wooden handrails and treads, made of hardwood, not less than two inches thick), forty years;

2. Of non-fireproof construction, that is, a building the outer walls of which are constructed of brick, stone, iron, or other hard, incombustible materials, but which in any other respect differs from a fireproof building as defined in this section, thirty years;

3. Of other construction, twenty years.

(f) Land for airports or landing fields, including grading and drainage, forty years.

(g) Buildings, equipment and other improvements for airports or landing fields, other than grading and drainage, ten years. (1927, c. 81, s. 11, 1929, c. 171, s. 2; 1931, c. 60, s. 56; 1933, c. 259, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1929 added subsections (f) and (g) to this section. The Act of 1931 struck out clauses (a) and (b) and inserted in lieu thereof clause (a), (b). Prior to Public Laws 1933, c. 259, subsection (a), (b) of this section provided for thirty years in case the debt was § 153-81. Accelerating maturity of bonds and notes of counties and municipalities. — Any municipality or county may provide that its bonds or notes shall become due and payable before maturity at the election of the holders or a majority in amount of the holders or a representative of the holders, upon the happening of such events and upon such conditions and subject to such limitations (which may include a provision for rescission of action taken in the exercise of said election) as may be set forth in a resolution or ordinance passed before the issuance of the bonds or notes: Provided, however, that such a provision, in order to become effective, must either be set forth in the bonds or notes or incorporated therein by reference to such resolution or ordinance. The negotiability of such bonds or notes shall not be affected by the adoption of such provision or by the recital thereof in the bonds or notes. (1931, c. 418; 1933, c. 258, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws 1933, c. 258, inserted the words "or a majority in amount of the holders" and added the last sentence relating to negotiability.

§ 153-82. Consolidated bond issues. — It shall be lawful to consolidate into one issue bonds authorized by two or more orders for different purposes, in which event the bonds of such consolidated issue shall mature within the average of the periods estimated as the life of the several improvements, taking into consideration the amount of bonds to be issued on account of each item for which a period shall be estimated. (1927, c. 81, s. 12.)

§ 153-83. Sworn statement of debt, before authorization of bonds for school purposes. — After the introduction and at least ten days before the final passage of an order for the issuance of bonds for school purposes, an officer designated by the governing body for that purpose shall file with the clerk a statement of debt incurred and to be incurred for other than school purposes, or including obligations incurred to meet appropriations in anticipation of revenues to an amount not exceeding the amount of the last preceding tax levy for other than school purposes, or including debt incurred in anticipation of the sale of any kind of bonds except funding and refunding bonds, which statement shall show the following:

(a) The assessed valuation of property as last fixed for county taxation.
(b) Outstanding debt for other than school purposes.
(c) Bonded debt to be incurred for other than school purposes under orders either passed or introduced.
(d) The sum of items "b" and "c".
(e) School sinking funds, being money or investments thereof pledged and held for the payment of principal of outstanding school debt.
(f) School credits, being principal sums owing to the county from school districts which are pledged to and when collected will be used in the retirement of outstanding school debt.
(g) Amount of unissued funding and refunding school bonds included in gross debt.
(h) The sum of items "e" and "f" and "g".
(i) Net school debt, being the sum by which item "d" exceeds item "h".
(j) The percentage that the net school debt bears to said assessed valuation. (1927, c. 81, s. 13.)

Cross Reference.—As to facts influencing the Local Government Commission in determining the advisability of bond issue, see § 159-8.

§ 153-84. Sworn statement of debt before authorization of bonds for other than school purposes. — After the introduction and at least ten days before the final passage of an order for the issuance of bonds for other than school purposes, an officer designated by the governing body for that purpose shall file with the clerk a statement of debt incurred and to be incurred for other than school purposes under orders either introduced or passed, whether evidenced by bonds, notes, or otherwise, and whether incurred by original creation of the debt, or by assumption of the debt, including debt to the State or any department thereof, but not including obligations incurred to meet appropriations in anticipation of revenues to an amount not exceeding the amount of the last preceding tax levy for other than school purposes, or including debt incurred in anticipation of the sale of any kind of bonds except funding and refunding bonds, which statement shall show the following:

(a) The assessed valuation of property as last fixed for county taxation.
(b) Outstanding debt for other than school purposes.
(c) Bonded debt to be incurred for other than school purposes under orders either introduced or passed.
(d) The sum of items "b" and "c".
(e) Sinking funds (except school sinking funds), being money or investments thereof pledged and held for the payment of principal of debt outstanding for other than school purposes.
(f) Moneys payable to the county by a railroad or interurban railway company, under contract, as all or part of the cost of grade crossing elimination, if such moneys are pledged to and when collected will be used in the retirement of outstanding debt for other than school purposes.
(g) Amount of unissued funding and refunding bonds not for school purposes included in gross debt.
(h) The sum of items "e", "f" and "g".
(i) Net debt for other than school purposes, being the sum by which item "d" exceeds item "h".
(j) The percentage that the net debt for other than school purposes bears to said assessed valuation. (1927, c. 81, s. 14.)

Cross Reference.—As to facts influencing the Local Government Commission in determining the advisability of bond issue, see § 159-8.

Failure to File Statement.—Where taxpayers instituted an action attacking a bond order passed by the board of county commissioners on the ground that the commissioners had failed to comply with this section, requiring the filing of a true statement of the county debt, the attack upon the order is upon statutory as distinguished from constitutional § 153-85. Financial statement filed for inspection.—The sworn statement of debt shall remain on file with the clerk and be open to public inspection. In any case wherein a proceeding in any court involving the validity of bonds, said statement shall be deemed to be true and to comply with the provisions of this article, unless it appears, in an action or proceeding commenced within the time limited by this article for actions to set aside bond orders, first, that the representations contained therein could not by any reasonable method of computation be true; or, second, that a true statement would show that the order authorizing the bonds could not be passed. (1927, c. 81, s. 15.)

§ 153-86. Publication of bond order.—As soon as possible after the introduction of the order and the filing of the financial statement hereinafore required, the clerk shall publish the order as introduced. Before publishing the same he shall fix an hour and day for a public hearing upon the order unless the governing body shall itself have fixed such hour and day. The hour and day, if fixed by the clerk, shall be ten o'clock A. M. of the first Monday of the following month, if ten days shall elapse between such publication and the day so fixed, but otherwise shall be ten o'clock A. M. of the first Monday of the next succeeding month. In connection with the publication of the order, and immediately below the same, the clerk shall publish a statement signed by him with blanks properly filled in substantially the following form:

"The foregoing order has been introduced and a sworn statement has been filed under the county finance act showing the assessed valuation of the county to be $................................and the net debt for school purposes (substitute net debt for other than school purposes if the proposed bonds are for other than school purposes) including the proposed bonds, to be $.......................... A tax will be levied for the payment of the proposed bonds and in the same amount if the same shall be issued. Any citizen or taxpayer may protest against the issuance of such bonds at a meeting of the board of county commissioners to be held at............. M. .......... 19..... or an adjournment thereof.

"Clerk of Board of Commissioners."

Section Mandatory. — The proper publication of the notices required by this act is mandatory, and cannot be dispensed with. Frazier v. Board of Commissioners, 194 N. C. 49, 59, 138 S. E. 433.

Sufficiency of Publication of Various Orders.—The provisions as to notice given to taxpayers, etc., required by this section, of an opportunity to be heard before the county may issue bonds for various purposes, is sufficiently complied with if the several orders of the county commissioners are printed in some advertisement and a date and place fixed for passing upon the objections made, if any, separately placed in the publication and distinctly referring to each of the separate purposes. Frazier v. Board of Commissioners, 194 N. C. 49, 138 S. E. 433.

The publication of one statement in connection with all three orders was sufficient as a compliance with this section for a statement for each order not being necessary. Frazier v. Board of Commissioners, 194 N. C. 49, 59, 138 S. E. 433.

§ 153-87. Hearing; passage of order; debt limitations.—On the day so fixed for the public hearing, but not earlier than ten days after the first publication of the order, the governing body shall hear any and all citizens and taxpayers who may desire to protest against the issuance of the bonds, but such hearing may be adjourned from time to time. After such hearing, the governing body may pass the order in the form of its introduction, or in an amended form but the amount of bonds to be issued shall not be increased by such amendment, nor the purpose of issuance substantially changed, without due notice and hearing as above required. Provided, however, that no order for the issuance of school bonds shall be passed unless it appears from said sworn statements that the net school indebtedness does not exceed five per cent of said assessed valuation, unless the bonds to be issued are funding or refunding bonds; and no order shall be passed for the issuance of bonds other than school bonds unless it appears from said sworn statement that the net indebtedness for other than school purposes does not exceed five per cent as said assessed valuation, unless the bonds to be issued are funding or refunding bonds: Provided, however, that if the net school debt of any county shall, on March 7, 1927, be in excess of four-fifths of the limitation above fixed therefor, such order for the issuance of school bonds may be passed, if the net debt shall not be increased thereby more than five per cent of said assessed valuation; and that if the net debt of any county for other than school purposes shall, on March 7, 1927, be in excess of four-fifths of the limitations above fixed therefor, such order may be passed if the net debt for other than school purposes shall not be increased thereby more than two per cent of such assessed valuation: Provided, further, that if any county shall assume all outstanding indebtedness for school purposes of every city, town school district, school taxing district, township or other political sub-division therein, the limit of the net debt of such county for school purposes, including the debt so assumed, shall be eight per cent (8%) of the tax valuation; and that the privilege of creating or assuming an additional gross debt of two per cent (2%) under certain circumstances shall not be allowed such county. (1927, c. 81, s. 17.)

Cross Reference.—As to hearings by the Local Government Commission, see § 159-9.

Editor's Note.—For a discussion of this section, see 8 N. C. L. Rev. 61 et seq.

§ 153-88. Material of construction and other details.—The statements as to kind and material of construction, so far as the same constitute conditions upon which maturities of bonds are to be determined under this article, as well as all details of bonds not required to be set forth in the order, may be set forth in resolution or resolutions to be passed on or after the passage of the order, and before the issuance of the bonds. (1927, c. 81, s. 18.)

§ 153-89. Publication of bond order.—A bond order after final passage thereof shall be published once in each of two successive weeks after its final passage. A notice substantially in the following form (the blanks being first properly filled [601] in) with the printed or written signature of the clerk appended thereto, shall be published with the order:

"The foregoing order was finally passed on the ... day of 19... and was first published on the... day of... 19... Any action or proceedings questioning the validity of said order must be commenced within thirty days after its first publication.

§ 153-90. Limitation of action to set aside order.—Any action or proceeding in any court to set aside a bond order, or to obtain any other relief, upon the ground that the order is invalid, must be commenced within thirty days after the first publication of the notice aforesaid and the order or supposed order referred to in the notice. After the expiration of such period of limitations, no right of action or defense upon the validity of the order shall be asserted, nor shall any petition be questioned in any court upon any ground whatever, except in an action or proceeding commenced within such period. (1927, c. 81, s. 20.)

Constitutionality.—This section has not been construed by the Supreme Court, but statutes requiring notice to be given and providing that failure to give a notice within the time specified will operate as a bar, have been frequently construed, and upheld. Kirby v. Board of Commissioners, 198 N. C. 440, 443, 152 S. E. 165.

Suit to Restrain Issuance of Bonds.—Where the board of county commissioners have under ordinance passed and hearing thereon has been about to issue bonds for the necessary purpose of erecting a jail, etc., contrary to the restrictions of the County Finance Act limiting the amount of bonds for other than school purposes to an amount not to exceed five per cent of the property valuation, a suit to restrain the issuance of the bonds is required by the express terms of this section to be commenced within thirty days after the publication of the required notice and order of the issue, and a suit instituted after the time prescribed cannot be maintained and the validity of the bonds will be upheld. The question of whether the statute is strictly one of limitation or a condition annexed to the cause of action is immaterial. Kirby v. Board of Commissioners, 198 N. C. 440, 152 S. E. 165.

When the proposed bond issue contravenes the constitution, the requirement of this section that actions to restrain issuance of bonds by counties must be commenced within 30 days of the first publication of notice of the adoption of the bond resolution, does not apply. Sessions v. Columbus County, 214 N. C. 634, 200 S. E. 418.

Suit to Restrain Issuance of Bonds.—Where taxpayers instituted an action attacking a bond order passed by the board of county commissioners on the ground that the commission erred in complying with § 153-84, requiring the filing of a true statement of the county debt, the action upon the order is upon statutory as distinguished from constitutional grounds, and an action instituted more than 30 days after publication of the order cannot be maintained under this section. Garrell v. Columbus County, 215 N. C. 599, 2 S. E. (2d) 701.

§ 153-91. Petition for referendum of bond order.—A petition demanding that a bond order be submitted to the voters may be filed with the clerk within thirty days after the first publication of the order. The petition shall be in writing and signed by voters of the county equal in number to at least fifteen per centum of the total number of votes cast at the last preceding election for the office of Governor. The residence address of each signer shall be written after his signature. The petition need not contain the text of the order to which it refers. The petition need not be all on one sheet and if on more than one sheet, it shall be verified as to each sheet. The clerk shall investigate the sufficiency of the petition and present it to the governing body, with a certificate stating the result of his investigation. The governing body, after hearing any taxpayer who may request to be heard, shall thereupon determine the sufficiency of the petition, and the determination of the governing body shall be conclusive. (1927, c. 81, s. 21.)

Bond Order Is Valid in Absence of Petition for Referendum.—If no petition is filed attacking a bond order prescribed by this section, praying that a bond order duly passed by the board of commissioners of a county, be submitted to the voters of the county, in accordance with the provisions of the act, the bond order is valid and effectual without the approval of the voters of the county. Hemric v. Board of Com'rs, 306 N. C. 845, 847, 175 S. E. 168.

But It Is Otherwise if Petition Is Filed.—Where a petition is filed in accordance with the provisions of this section, praying that a bond order duly passed by the board of commissioners of a county in this state, authorizing and directing the issuance of bonds of the county for the purpose of procuring money for the purchase, construction, improvement or equipment of schoolhouses required for the maintenance of a school in each of the districts for which the county as required by the Constitution of the State, be submitted to the voters of the county, such bond order is not valid or effective, until the same has been approved by a vote of the community as provided, Hemric v. Board of Com'rs, 206 N. C. 845, 847, 175 S. E. 168.

§ 153-92. What majority required.—If a bond order provides for the issuance of bonds for a purpose other than the payment of necessary expenses of the county, the approval of the qualified voters of the county, as required by the Constitution of North Carolina, shall be necessary in order to make the order operative. If, however, the bonds are to be issued for necessary expenses, the affirmative vote of the majority of the voters voting on the bond order shall be sufficient to make it operative, in all cases where the order is required by this article to be submitted to the voters. (1927, c. 81, s. 22.)

Lands and Equipment for Schools.—The issuance of bonds for school purposes does not require the submission of the question to the voters for the issuance of county bonds for the purchase of additional lands or equipment for established public schools on the same occasion as the issuance of bonds for other purposes, when the same is authorized by this act. The Constitution, Art. IX, sec. 2. Art. VII, sec. 7, does not apply. Frazier v. Board of Commissioners, 194 N. C. 49, 138 S. E. 433. Cited in Sessions v. Columbus County, 214 N. C. 634, 200 S. E. 418.

§ 153-93. When election held.—Whenever the taking effect of an order authorizing the issuance of bonds is dependent upon the approval of the order by the voters of a county, the governing body may submit the order to the voters at an election to be held not more than one year after the passage of the order. The governing body may call a special election for that purpose, or may submit the order to the voters at the regular election for county officers next succeeding the passage of the order, but no such special election shall be held within one month before or after a regular election for county officers. Several orders or other matters may be voted upon at the same election. (1927, c. 81, s. 23.)

§ 153-94. New registration.—The governing body of the county in which such election is held may in their discretion, order a new registration of the voters for such election. The books for such new registration shall remain open in each precinct from 9 A. M. to 6 P. M. on each day, except Sundays and holidays, for three weeks, beginning on a Saturday morning and ending on the second Saturday evening before the election. A registrar and two judges of election shall be appointed by the governing body for each precinct: Provided, that the books shall be open at the polling places on each Saturday during the registration period. Sufficient notice shall be deemed to have been given of such new registration and of the appointment of the election officers if a notice thereof be published at least thirty (30) days before the closing of the registration books stating the hours and days for registration. It shall not be necessary to specify in said notice the places for registration. In case any registrar shall fail or refuse for any cause to perform his duties, it shall be lawful for the clerk to appoint another person to perform such duties, and no notice of such appointment shall be necessary. (1927, c. 81, s. 24.)

§ 153-95. Notice of election.—A notice of the election shall be deemed sufficiently published if published once not later than thirty (30) days before the election, and thereafter twice before the election, at intervals of at least one week between publications. Such notice shall state the date of the election, the maximum amount of the proposed bonds, and the purpose thereof, and the fact that a tax will be levied for the payment thereof. The notice shall state the places at which the election will be held, but without enumeration thereof may state that the election will be held at the same places at which the last preceding election was held for members of the General Assembly, with such changes as may have been ordered by the governing body. (1927, c. 81, s. 25.)

§ 153-96. Ballots.—The form of the question as stated on the ballot shall be in substantially the words: "For the order authorizing $......... bonds (briefly stating the purpose) and a tax therefor" and "Against the order authorizing $......... bonds (briefly stating the purpose) and a tax therefor." Such affirmative and negative forms shall be printed upon one ballot, containing squares opposite the affirmative and the negative forms, in one of which squares the voter may make a mark (x). (1927, c. 81, s. 28.)

§ 153-97. Returns canvassed.—The officers appointed to hold the election, in making return of the result thereof, shall incorporate therein not only the number of votes cast for and against each order submitted but also the number of voters registered and qualified to vote in the election. The governing body shall canvass the returns, and shall include in their canvass the votes cast and the number of voters registered and qualified to vote in the election, and shall determine and declare the result of the election. (1927, c. 81, s. 27.)

§ 153-98. Application of other laws.—Except as herein otherwise provided, the registration and election shall be conducted in accordance with the laws then governing elections for members of the General Assembly in said county, and governing the registration of electors for such elections. (1927, c. 81, s. 28.)

§ 153-99. Statement of result.—The governing body shall prepare a statement showing the number of votes cast for and against each order submitted, and the number of voters qualified to vote in the election and declaring the result of the election, which statement shall be signed by a majority of the members of the governing body and delivered to the clerk, who shall record it in the minutes of the governing body, and file the original in his office and publish it once. (1927, c. 81, s. 29.)

§ 153-100. Limitation as to actions upon elections.—No right of action or defense founded upon the invalidity of the election shall be asserted, nor shall the validity of the election be open to question in any court upon any ground whatever, except in an action or proceeding commenced within thirty days after the publication of such statement of result as provided in § 153-99. (1927, c. 81, s. 30.)

§ 153-101. Preparation for issuing bonds.—At any time after the final passage of a bond order, all steps preliminary to the actual issuance of bonds under the order may be taken, but the bonds shall not be actually issued unless and until the order takes effect. (1927, c. 81, s. 31.)

§ 153-102. Within what time bonds issued.—After a bond order takes effect, bonds may be issued in conformity with its provisions at any time within three years after the order takes effect, unless the order shall have been repealed, which repeal is permitted (without the privilege of referendum upon the question of repeal), unless notes issued in anticipation of the proceeds of the bonds shall be outstanding: Provided, however, that funding or refunding bonds hereafter authorized may be issued at any time within five years after the order takes effect. (1927, c. 81, s. 32; 1939, c. 231, s. 2(d).)

Local Modification.—Buncombe and municipalities therein: 1943, c. 56, s. 1.

§ 153-103. Bonded debt payable in installments.—Each bond issue made under this article shall mature in annual installments or series the first of which, if funding bonds, shall be made payable not more than two years, and if not funding bonds, not more than three years, after the date of the first issued bonds of such issue and the last within the period prescribed by § 153-80 for bonds of the class issued. No such installment or series shall be more than two and one-half times as great in amount as the smallest prior installment or series of the same bond issue. If all the bonds of an issue are not issued at the same time, the bonds at any one time outstanding shall mature as aforesaid. This section shall not apply to funding or refunding bonds. (1927, c. 81, s. 33; 1931, c. 60, s. 57; 1933, c. 259, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the Amendment of 1933, P. L., c. 259, the section applied to funding and refunding bonds except in cases where the debt exceeded ten per cent of the value of county property.

§ 153-104. Medium and place of payment.—The bonds may be made payable in such kind of § 153-105. Formal execution of bonds. — The bonds shall be issued in such forms as the officers who execute them shall adopt, except as otherwise provided by the governing body. They shall be signed by two or more officers designated by the governing body, or if the governing body makes no such designation, then by the chairman of the governing body and by the clerk, and the corporate seal of county or of the governing body shall be affixed to the bonds. The bonds may have coupons attached for the interest to be paid thereon, which coupons shall bear a facsimile signature of the clerk in office at the date of the bonds or at the date of delivery thereof. The delivery of bonds so executed shall be valid, notwithstanding any change in officers or in the seal affixed to them occurring after signing and sealing of the bonds. (1987, c. 81, s. 35.)

§ 153-106. Registration and transfer of bonds. —(a) Bonds payable to bearer. Bonds issued under this article shall be payable to the bearer, unless they are registered as provided in this section; and each coupon appertaining to a bond shall be payable to the bearer of the coupon.

(b) Registration and effect. A county may keep in the office of a county officer to be designated by the governing body, or in the office of a bank or trust company appointed by the governing body as bond registrar a register or registers for the registration and transfer of its bonds, in which it may register any bond at the time of its issue, or, at the request of the holder, thereafter. After such registration the principal and interest of the bond shall be payable to the person in whose name it is registered except in the case of a coupon bond registered as to principal only, in which case the principal shall be payable to such person, unless the bond shall be discharged from registry by being registered as payable to bearer. After registration a bond may be transferred on such register by the registered owner in person or by attorney, upon presentation to the bond registrar, accompanied by delivery of a written instrument of transfer in a form approved by the bond registrar, executed by the registered owner.

(c) Registration and transfer noted on bond. Upon the registration or transfer of a bond as aforesaid, the bond registrar shall note such registration or transfer on the back of the bond. Upon the registration or transfer of a coupon bond to the bondprincipal and interest, he shall also cut off and cancel the coupons, and endorse upon the back of the bond a statement that such coupons have been cancelled.

(d) Agreement for registration. A county may, by recital in its bonds, agree to register the bonds as to principal only, or agree to register them either as to principal only, or as to both principal and interest, at the option of the bondholder. (1927, c. 81, s. 36.)

§ 153-107. Application of funds. — The proceeds of the sale of bonds and bond anticipation notes under this article shall be used only for the purposes specified in the order authorizing said bonds, and for the payment of the principal and interest of such notes issued in anticipation of the sale of bonds: Provided, however, that if for any reason any part of such proceeds are not applied to or are not necessary for such purposes, such unexpended part of the proceeds shall be applied to the payment of the principal or interest of said bonds. The cost of preparing, issuing, and marketing bonds shall be deemed to be one of the purposes for which the bonds are issued. If any notes issued in anticipation of the sale of bonds shall be outstanding and unpaid when the proceeds of the sale of bonds are received, such proceeds, or an amount thereof sufficient to retire such notes, shall be immediately, upon the receipt thereof, placed in a separate fund, which shall be held and used solely for the payment of such notes. If any member of the governing body or any county officer shall vote to apply or shall apply, or shall participate in applying any proceeds of bonds or bond anticipation notes in violation of this section, such member or such officer shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be prosecuted by the solicitor of the district in which the county lies, and shall be fined not more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or imprisoned in the State's prison not more than twenty years, or both, at the discretion of the court, and shall forfeit and pay to any taxpayer or any holder of such bonds or notes who sues for the same the sum of two hundred dollars for each such act, and also all damages caused thereby. (1927, c. 81, s. 38.)

Cross Reference. — As to authority to invest proceeds of bonds which cannot be used for purpose of issue, see § 159-49.1.

§ 153-108. Bond anticipation loans. — At any time after a bond order has taken effect, as provided in § 153-78, a county may borrow money for the purposes for which the bonds are to be issued, in anticipation of the receipts of the proceeds of the sale of the bonds, and within the maximum authorized amount of the bond issue. Such loans shall be paid not later than three years after the time of taking effect of the order authorizing the bonds upon which they are predicated. The governing body may, in its discretion, retire any such loans by means of current revenues or other funds, in lieu of retiring them by means of bonds: Provided, however, that the governing body, at or before the actual retirement of any such loans by any means other than the issuance of bonds under the bond order upon which such loans are predicated, shall amend or repeal such order so as to reduce the authorized amount of the bond issue by the amount of the loan to be so retired. Such an amendatory or repealing order shall take effect upon its passage, and need not be published. Negotiable notes shall be issued for all moneys so borrowed. Such notes may be renewed from time to time, and money may be borrowed upon notes from time to time for the payment of any indebtedness evidenced thereby, but all such notes shall mature within the time limited by this section for the payment of the original loan. No money shall be borrowed under this section at a rate of interest exceeding the maximum rate permitted by law. The said notes, if maturing not more than six months from their date, may be disposed of by public or private negotiations, after five days notice published in some newspaper.

having a general circulation in the county, but if maturing more than six months from date, they shall be sold after advertisement as provided in this article for advertisement and sale of bonds. The issuance of such notes shall be authorized by resolution of the governing body, which shall fix the actual or maximum face amount of the notes and the actual or maximum rate of interest to be paid upon the amount borrowed. The governing body may delegate to any officer the power to fix said face amount and rate of interest with the limitations prescribed by said resolution, and the power to dispose of said notes. All such notes shall be executed in the manner provided in § 153-105 for the execution of bonds. They shall be submitted to and approved by the attorney for the county before they are issued, and his written approval endorsed on the notes. (1927, c. 81, s. 39.)

§ 153-109. Bonds and notes shall recite the authority for issuance.—All bonds and notes authorized by this article shall recite that they are issued under and pursuant to this article. (1927, c. 81, s. 40.)

§ 153-110. Taxes levied for payment of bonds. —The full faith and credit of the county shall be deemed to be pledged for the punctual payment of the principal of and interest on every bond and note issued under this article, including bonds for which special funds are provided. The governing body shall annually levy and collect a tax ad valorem upon all the taxable property in the county sufficient to pay the principal and interest of all bonds issued under this article, as such principal and interest become due: Provided, however, that such tax may be reduced by the amount of other moneys appropriated and actually available for such purpose. The powers stated in this section in respect of the levy of taxes for the payment of the principal and interest of bonds and notes shall not be subject to any limitation prescribed by law upon the amount or rate of taxes which a county may levy; the General Assembly does here give its special approval to the levy of taxes in the manner and to the extent provided by this article for the payment of obligations incurred pursuant to this article for the special purposes for which such obligations are in this article authorized. Taxes levied under this section shall be levied and collected in the same manner as other taxes are levied and collected upon property in the county. If any member of the governing body or any county officer shall vote to apply or shall apply or participate in applying any tax, in violation of this section, such member or officer shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be prosecuted by the solicitor of the district in which the county lies, and shall be fined not more than ten thousand dollars ($16,000) or imprisoned in the state prison not more than twenty years, or both, at the discretion of the court, and shall forfeit and pay to any taxpayer or any holder of such bonds or notes who sues for the same the sum of two hundred dollars for each such act, and also all damages caused thereby.

Nothing in this section shall be construed as authorizing an unlimited tax for the payment of bonds not issued for a special purpose within the meaning of section six of article five of the constitution of North Carolina. It is the intention of this article, however, to authorize the issuance of funding and refunding bonds and notes as herein provided in cases where taxation for their payment is limited by the constitution, as well as in other cases. The general assembly hereby declares that an emergency exists by reason of the present extraordinary financial condition of the counties of this state, and hereby gives it special approval to the levying of taxes to the fullest extent permitted by the constitution for the purpose of paying bonds and notes issued hereunder to fund or refund or renew indebtedness outstanding on March 3, 1931, or incurred before July first, nineteen hundred and thirty-three, and hereby declares that the payment of such bonds and notes constitutes a special purpose: Provided, in case of funding or refunding bonds which do not mature in installments as provided in § 153-103, a tax for the payment of the principal of the said bonds need not be levied prior to the fiscal year or years said bonds mature, unless it is so provided for in an order or resolution passed before the issuance of said bonds, in which case such tax shall be levied in accordance with the provisions of such order or resolution. (1927, c. 81, s. 41; 1931, c. 60, s. 60; 1933, c. 259, s. 2.)

Cross Reference.—As to statute authorizing counties, with the approval of the local government commission, to avail themselves of the Federal Bankruptcy Act, see § 23-46.

Public Laws 1933, c. 259, added the last proviso of this section as it now reads.

§ 153-111. Destruction of surrendered bonds. —All surrendered county bonds may, in the discretion of the board of county commissioners, be destroyed. Before such bonds are destroyed, the county treasurer shall make a correct descriptive list of all bonds of the county surrendered, in a substantially bound book to be kept by him for that purpose, which list shall include the number, date and amount of each bond and the purpose for which it was issued, when this can be ascertained; and after such list shall be made, the surrendered bonds shall be destroyed by burning in the presence of the chairman of the board of county commissioners, the county accountant or treasurer or auditor, the county attorney, the secretary of the board of county commissioners and the county superintendent of public instruction, who shall each certify under his hand in such book that he saw such described bonds so burned and destroyed. (1941, c. 283.)

§ 153-112. Enforcement of article. — If, any boards or officer of a county shall be ordered by a court of competent jurisdiction to levy or collect a tax to pay a judgment or other debt, or to perform any duty required by this article to be performed by such board or officer, and shall fail to carry out such order, the court, in addition to all other remedies, may appoint its own officers and other persons to carry out such order and remove such board or officer who has thus refused to carry out such order. (1927, c. 81, s. 42.)

§ 153-113. Repeals.—All acts and parts of acts, whether general, special, private or local, authorizing or limiting or prohibiting the issuance of bonds or other obligations of a county or counties, are hereby repealed: Provided, further, that the repeal shall not affect the validity of any bonds or obligations issued or incurred prior to March 7, 1927, nor shall such repeal affect the powers, duties or obligations for providing for the payment of such bonds or obligations or interest thereon. Provided, further, that this article shall not affect any local or private act enacted at the 1927 session of the General Assembly, but the powers hereby conferred and the methods of procedure hereby provided shall be deemed to be conferred and provided in addition to and not in substitution for those conferred or provided by any such local or private act enacted at the 1927 session of the General Assembly; and any county may at its option proceed under any such local or private act applicable to it enacted at the 1927 session of the General Assembly, without regard to the restrictions imposed by this article, or may proceed under this article without regard to the restrictions imposed by such local or private act: Provided, further, that any county which prior to March 7, 1927, has entered into a valid contract for permanent improvements for which, prior to March 7, 1927, such county was empowered by law to issue bonds in sufficient amount, is hereby authorized to issue such an amount of bonds as may be necessary to comply with said contract, either in the manner provided by this article or in the manner provided by law at the time such contract for permanent improvements was made: Provided, further, that nothing herein contained shall be applicable to or shall govern the method by which any county board of education may borrow money from the special building fund created by Chapter 201, Public Laws of 1925, or from any special building fund of the State created by any law enacted at the regular session of the General Assembly of 1927, or from the State Literary Fund as provided in §§ 115-220 to 115-224, as amended, but the limitations of this article upon the amount of net school debt shall apply to such borrowing. Provided, further, that except as provided in § 153-78-71 herein contained there shall have the effect of repealing any act in force on March 7, 1927, or enacted by the session of the General Assembly of one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven, requiring the question of issuing bonds by any county to be submitted to a vote of the people, (1927, c. 81, s. 43; 1929, c. 110; 1931, c. 60, s. 61; 1941, c. 266.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 struck out the last proviso relating to Rockingham and New Hanover counties formerly appearing in this section. The Act of 1929 had already omitted New Hanover from the provision. The Act of 1931 further amended this section by inserting the reference to § 153-78 in the last proviso. The 1941 amendment inserted in the next to the last proviso of this section the provisions relating to the state literary fund.

Inconsistent Public-Local Law.—This section expressly repeals a public-local law applied to a county when inconsistent with its terms. Hartsfield v. Craven County, 191 N. C. 338, 139 S. E. 698.

Art. 10. County Fiscal Control.

Cross Reference.—As to application of this article to municipalities, see §§ 160-409 et seq.

Common Contingent Fund.—A municipality is without authority to make an appropriation and levy a tax for a common contingent fund, and while it may appropriate an additional five per cent for emergency purposes for each fund for which it has authority to levy a tax, which becomes a part of the fund requirement to be covered by a subsequent tax levy, it may not make a transfer from one fund to another except from the general municipal expense fund, under this and following sections. Sing v. Charlotte, 213 N. C. 60, 195 S. E. 371.

What are necessary municipal expenses for which a tax may be levied without a vote is a question for the courts and the courts determine what class of expenses are necessary expenses of a municipality, and the governing body of § 153-115. County accountant.—It shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners in each county in the State, on or before the first Monday in April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven, and biennially thereafter, to appoint some person of honesty and ability, who is experienced in modern methods of accounting, as county accountant, to hold such office at the will of the board, or until the appointment of his successor; but, in lieu of appointing a county accountant in counties in which there is an auditor, the board shall impose and confer upon the county auditor all the powers and duties herein imposed and conferred upon county accountants, and in any county of the State in which there is no auditor, the board may impose and confer such powers and duties upon any county officer, except the sheriff or the tax collector or the county treasurer, or any person or bank acting as county financial agent or performing the duties ordinarily performed by a county treasurer or county financial agent. If such duties and powers are imposed or conferred upon any officer of the county, the board may revise and adjust the salary or compensation of such officer in order that adequate compensation may be paid to him for the duties of his office. Wherever in this article reference is made to the county accountant, such reference shall be deemed to include either the person appointed as county accountant or the officer upon which the duties thereof are imposed. (1927, c. 146, s. 3.)

Local Modification.—Brunswick: 1991, c. 34; 1941, c. 71; 1941, c. 327; Harnett: 1933, c. 295.

Detailed Accounts to Be Kept.—Under the provisions of this article it is the duty of the county accountant to keep detailed accounts of appropriations and disbursements of county funds and to certify on each warrant or order drawn against the county that provision has been made for its payment and appropriation duly made or a bond or note duly authorized as required by this article. Avery County v. Braswell, 201 N. C. 68, 158 S. E. 864, followed in 215 N. C. 279, 1 S. E. (2d) 870.

§ 153-116. Additional duties of county accountant.—In addition to the duties imposed and powers conferred upon the county accountant by this article, he shall have the following duties and powers:

(a) He shall act as accountant for the county and subdivisions in settling with all county officers.

(b) He shall keep a record of the date, source, and amount of each item of receipts, and the date, the payee or contractor, the specific purpose, and the amount of every disbursement or contract made.

(c) He shall require every officer and department receiving or disbursing money of the county or its subdivisions to keep a record of the date, source, and amount of each item of receipts, and the date, the payee or contractor, the specific purpose, and the amount of every disbursement or contract made, and shall require the officer or department to keep a copy of such contract.

(d) He shall examine once a month, and at such other times as the board may direct, all books, accounts, receipts, vouchers, and other records of all county officers and employees and departments of the county administration receiving or expending public money, including the road commission, if there is such commission in the county, the county board of education and other subdivisions.

(e) He shall require all officers and employees in the county whose duty it is to collect fines, penalties, and other money to be applied to public purposes, to file with him each month, or oftener if the board so directs, a report showing amounts collected by such officers, including a report of all fees collected for the performance of their duties, whether they are entitled to such fees as the whole or a part of their compensation or are not entitled to the same.

(f) He shall once a year, or as often as he may be directed by the board of county commissioners, file with the board a complete statement of the financial condition of the county and subdivisions, showing the receipts and expenditures of the different departments of the county and its subdivisions, including the department of public schools.

He shall not allow any bill or claim unless the same be itemized and verified as now required by law.

(h) He shall perform such other duties having relation to the purposes of this article as may be imposed upon him by the board of county commissioners. (1927, c. 146, s. 4.)

§ 153-117. Heads of departments and officers to file statement before 1st June.—It shall be the duty of all heads of departments and officers in charge of the functions for which county money or money of subdivision is to be expended, to file with the county accountant, before the first day of June of each year (a) a complete statement of the amounts expended and estimated to be expended for each object in his department in the current fiscal year, and (b) beginning in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-eight, a statement of the amounts expended for each object in his department in the fiscal year preceding the then current fiscal year, and (c) an estimate of the requirements of his department for each object in the ensuing fiscal year. Such statements and estimates shall list each object of disbursement under the appropriate class of functions as defined in § 153-114. (1927, c. 146, s. 5.)

Local Modification.—Mecklenburg: 1991, c. 38, s. 72.

§ 153-118. Estimates necessary for ensuing fiscal year itemized.—Upon receipt of such statements and estimates, the county accountant shall prepare (a) his estimate of the amounts necessary to be appropriated for the next ensuing fiscal year for the different objects of the county and subdivisions, listing each object of disbursement under the appropriate class of functions as defined...
§ 153-119. The figures of the supplemental budget showing increases or decreases in unencumbered balances and surplus revenues, and showing the amount of miscellaneous revenues collected in the preceding fiscal year from sources other than taxes, and showing the estimate of taxes uncollectible in the current fiscal year, shall not affect the appropriation resolutions, but shall be taken into consideration in the levy of taxes as hereinafter provided. (1927, c. 146, s. 10; 1933, c. 191.)

Provided: that in case of emergency upon application to the Local Government Commission such Local Government Commission may permit the Board of Commissioners for any county to anticipate the taxes of the next fiscal year by not more than five per cent of the tax levy for the current year; provided, further, that where a contingent fund has been provided for in the county budget the Local Government Commission shall not authorize such anticipation in excess of the difference between five per centum and the amount theretofore levied as a contingent fund. (1929, c. 321, s. 1.)

§ 153-126. Execution of notes in anticipation of taxes.—In the event of the approval of such anticipation of the taxes of the next fiscal year by the Local Government Commission, the County Commissioners of any such county are authorized to execute a note or notes in an amount not in excess of the amount authorized by such Local Government Commission, and such note or notes shall be payable not later than June thirtieth of the next fiscal year and shall be paid by a tax levied for such purpose. (1929, c. 321, s. 2.)

§ 153-129. Withdrawals of money from said fund shall be made only for the purposes and within the amounts and for the periods and upon the conditions stated in §§ 153-72 and 153-73 in respect to the borrowing of money. Such withdrawals shall not be made unless approved by the Local Government Commission in the same manner as loans made under said sections. No contract or agreement or requisition requiring the payment of money shall be valid unless the same be in writing, and unless the same shall have been signed, written, or typewritten thereon a statement signed by the county accountant, as follows: "Provision for the payment of the money or bonds or notes is made by (a) an appropriation resolution as provided by this article, or (b) through the means of bonds or notes duly authorized, as required by the 'County Fiscal Control Act.'" Such certificate shall not, however, make valid any agreement or contract made in violation of this section. Before making such certificate, the county accountant shall ascertain that a sufficient unencumbered balance of the specific appropriation remains for the payment of the obligation, or that bonds or notes have been so authorized the proceeds of which are applicable to such payment, and the appropriation or provision so made shall thereafter be deemed unencumbered by the amount to be paid on such contract or agreement until the county is discharged therefrom. The board shall not approve any claim or bill which has been disallowed by the county accountant without entering upon the minutes of the board its reason for approving the same in such detail as may show the board's reason for reversing the county accountant's disallowance. (1927, c. 146, s. 17.)

§ 153-134. Bond of county accountant. — The county accountant shall furnish bond in some surety company authorized to do business in North Carolina, the amount to be fixed by the board of commissioners in a sum not less than five thousand dollars ($5,000), which bond shall be approved by the board of county commissioners, and shall be conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties under this article. (1927, c. 146, s. 19; 1929, c. 37; 1939, c. 134.)

§ 153-141. Construction and application of article.—All laws and parts of laws, whether general, local or special, which are in conflict with this article, are hereby repealed. They shall proceed promptly with the purchase of a site for such hospital-home, including, if they deem it desirable, a farm of suitable size, location and fertility, giving due consideration to sanitary surroundings and transportation facilities, and shall then cause to be erected suitable plain, substantial, comfortable and permanent buildings for the accommodation of those for whom this article is intended, giving due regard to the separation of the sexes and races, and such other plans for segregation as their judgment and existing conditions may suggest. Said buildings are to be furnished with plain, substantial furniture, and such other equipment as conditions demand. Necessary hospital facilities may be included, but provisions for such facilities and equipment shall have the approval of the State Board of Charities and Public Welfare and the State Board of Health. (1931, c. 129, s. 5.)

§ 153-167. Apportionment of cost.—The several counties constructing, equipping, and operating a district hospital-home shall pay for the site and for the construction and equipment of the plant in proportion to the population of the individual county to the total population of the several counties comprising the district, but each county shall pay for the number of persons maintained at the hospital-home at the actual per capita cost of such maintenance. (1931, c. 129, s. 6.)

§ 153-168. Plans and specifications for hospital-home.—The State Board of Charities and Public Welfare shall have prepared plans for such district hospital-home and shall furnish such plans on request to any board of trustees of any district hospital-home at cost; and all such hospital-homes shall be built in accordance with plans furnished or approved by the State Board of Charities and Public Welfare. (1931, c. 129, s. 7.)

§ 153-169. Closing of county homes.—As soon as the district hospital-home is ready for occupancy the several county homes or poorhouses, heretofore owned by the several counties, shall be closed and occupants shall be transferred and located in the district hospital-home for the aged and infirm herein provided for. (1931, c. 129, s. 8.)

§ 153-170. Superintendent and employees.—The board of trustees of the said district hospital-home shall elect a capable superintendent or matron, preferably a woman who is a trained nurse, and such other employees as it may deem necessary to the efficient management of said district hospital-home, and shall fix their salaries with due regard to number and condition of inmates occupying said district hospital-home. (1931, c. 129, s. 9.)

§ 153-171. Meetings of trustees.—The board of trustees shall meet at least twice a year for the transaction of such business as the provisions of this article may require. They shall have the general conduct and management of the district hospital-home's affairs. They shall meet at the call of the chairman whenever he shall deem it necessary, or upon call issued by a majority of the board. (1931, c. 129, s. 10.)

§ 153-172. Purpose of special meetings set out in call.—The matter to be considered at any special meeting shall be set out in the call for the special meeting, but any business may be transacted at special meetings which received a two-thirds' vote of the entire board of trustees, although not mentioned in the call. (1931, c. 129, s. 11.)

§ 153-173. Powers of trustees.—The board is vested with all powers not already mentioned which are possessed by boards supervising State institutions. (1931, c. 129, s. 12.)

§ 153-174. Sending of inmates to institution.—The counties constructing, operating and maintaining a district hospital-home for the aged and infirm shall, as required by law now in force for the care and maintenance of those not able to care for themselves, send such person or persons to the district hospital-home for the aged and infirm in lieu of the county home if it appears to the commissioners and the superintendent of public welfare that such persons need institutional care. (1931, c. 129, s. 13.)

§ 153-175. Annual report on affairs of institution.—As soon after the first day of January of each year as may be practicable the board of trustees shall cause a report to be made of the hospital-home, which report shall show the number of inmates, the county admitting them, date of admission, age, condition of health, sex, color, educational acquirements, diagnosis of disease if diseased, total number of inmates received during the year, average number cared for per month, names and disposition of those dismissed, pro rata cost of maintenance, the total amount of money expended, the total amount of money received from each county, and such information as the State Board of Charities and Public Welfare and the board of trustees of the district hospital-home may request. It shall also show an inventory and appraisement of property, real and personal, and give a strict account of receipts from farm and expenditure thereon, and such other information as may be required to check up the institution from all viewpoints. (1931, c. 129, s. 14.)

§ 153-176. Copies of report to county commissioners.—A copy of the said report of the said board of trustees shall be furnished the county commissioners of the respective counties interested in and providing said district hospital-home. (1931, c. 129, s. 15.)

Art. 15. County Prisoners.

§ 153-177. Bonds of prisoner in criminal case returned to court.—Every bond taken of any person confined for an offense, or otherwise than on process issuing in a civil case, shall be returned to the court by whose order or process such person is confined, or which may be entitled to cognizance of the matter, and shall be of the force and effect of a recognizance. On breach thereof it shall be
Bond to Keep Prison Bounds.—A bond to keep the prison bounds need not be proved by the subscribing witness, for it must be proved as a record, so far as concerns proof of its execution. Wynn v. Bucket, 1 N. C. 93.

Discharge of Insolvent Discharges Sureties.—When a prisoner is discharged upon taking the insolvent debtor's oath, the sureties upon his bond to keep the prison rules are also thereupon discharged. Howard v. Pasteur, 7 N. C. 270.

A prisoner's going out of the limits of the rules after he was discharged as an insolvent debtor was lawful, although he was in close jail at the instance of another creditor. The order of liberation extends to discharge him from all imprisonment for debt, or delivering him in close jail. Brown v. Gaylord, 48 N. C. 286.

§ 153-178. Bond of prisoner committed on capias as civil action.—Every bond given by any person committed in arrest and bail, or in custody, after final judgment, shall be assigned by the sheriff to the party at whose instance such person was committed to jail, and shall be returned to the office of the clerk of the court where the judgment was rendered, and shall have the force of a judgment. If any person who obtains the rules of any prison, as aforesaid, escapes out of the same before he has paid the debt or damages and costs according to the condition of his bond, the court where the bond is filed, upon motion of the assignee thereof, shall award execution against such person and his sureties for the debt or damages and costs, with interest from the time of escape till payment; and no person committed to jail on such execution shall be allowed the rules of prison. Provided, the obligors have ten days previous notice of such motion, in writing; but they shall not be admitted to deny the making of the bond in their answer, unless by affidavit they prove the truth of the plea. (Rev., s. 1341; Code, s. 3469; R. C., c. 87, s. 14; 1759, c. 65, ss. 2, 3; C. S. 1345.)

Bond Has Force of Judgment.—This section gives to the court the force of a judgment, and authorizes the party to have execution sued out thereon, upon mere motion, and the plaintiff cannot require to have it as a common deed. Brown v. Frazier, 5 N. C. 421, 422.

When Action Not Maintainable.—An action cannot be maintained upon a bond given by a person arrested upon a capias ad satisfaciendum, to keep within the limits of the rules of the prison. Brown v. Frazier, 5 N. C. 421.

§ 153-179. Jailer to cleanse jail, furnish food and water.—The sheriff or keeper of any jail shall, every day, cleanse the room of the prison in which any prisoner is confined, and cause all filth to be removed therefrom; and shall also furnish the prisoner plenty of good and wholesome water, three times in every day; and shall furnish each prisoner fuel, not less than one pound of whole roasted or boiled flesh, and every necessary attendance. (Rev., s. 1343; Code, s. 3464; R. C., c. 87, s. 9; 1816, c. 911, s. 2; C. S. 1346.)

Editor's Note.—See 11 N. C. Law Rev. 172 for comment involving this section.

§ 153-180. Fees of jailers.—Jailers shall receive, for furnishing prisoner with fuel, one pound of wholesome bread, one pound of good roasted or boiled flesh, and a sufficient quantity of water, with every necessary attendance, a sum not exceeding fifty cents per day, unless the board of commissioners of the county shall deem it expedient to increase the fees, which it may do provided such increase shall not exceed fifty per cent on the above sum. (Rev., s. 2799; Code, s. 3746; R. C., c. 102, s. 38; 1878, c. 87; 1919, c. 118; C. S. 3019.)

§ 153-181. Prisoner to pay charges and prison fees.—Every person committed by lawful authority, for any criminal offense or misdemeanor, shall bear all reasonable charges for guarding and carrying him to jail, and also for his support therein until released; and all the estate which such person possessed at the time of committing the offense shall be subjected to the payment of such charges and other prison fees, in preference to all other debts and demands. If there is no visible estate whereon to levy such fees and charges, the amount shall be paid by the county. (Rev., s. 1346; Code, s. 3461; R. C., c. 87, s. 6; 1795, c. 433, s. 7; C. S. 1347.)

§ 153-182. Prisoner may furnish necessaries.—Prisoners shall be allowed to purchase and procure such necessaries, in addition to the diet furnished by the jailer, as they may think proper; and to provide their own bedding, linen and clothing, without paying any perquisite to the jailer for such indulgence. (Rev., s. 1344; Code, s. 3463; R. C., c. 87, s. 8; 1795, c. 433, s. 6; C. S. 1348.)

This section permits prisoners to procure such additional comforts as their circumstances allow. Wilkes v. Slaughtier, 10 N. C. 211, 221.

§ 153-183. United States prisoners to be kept.—When a prisoner is delivered to the keeper of any jail by the authority of the United States, such keeper shall receive the prisoner, and commit him to the custody of the jailer, and it must also direct and command the marshal commanding him to convey the prisoner into the prison, as the marshal can take the prisoner out of the custody of any keeper, unless some proper process of law shall ever to receive a prisoner into his custody without some written authority to detain him, issued by a person having power to grant such authority, except under the order of a court in session. United States v. Harden, 10 Fed. 802, 807.

The Mittimus.—The mittimus must be directed to the marshal commanding him to convey the prisoner into the custody of the jailer, and it must also direct and command the jailer to receive the prisoner and keep him in close custody until discharged, or taken from his custody by some proper process of law. United States v. Harden, 10 Fed. 802, 807.

Same.—Copy to Jailer.—The marshal must deliver a copy of such mittimus to the jailer as his authority to hold the prisoner. United States v. Harden, 10 Fed. 802, 807.

Jailer Should Have Written Authority.—A jailer ought never to receive a prisoner into his custody without some written authority to detain him, issued by a person having power to grant such authority, except under the order of a court in session. United States v. Harden, 10 Fed. 802, 807.

Commitment Not Absolute.—This is not an absolute commitment, as the marshal can take the prisoner out of the custody of the jailer, when it becomes necessary for him to complete the service of the capias by producing the body of the prisoner at the ensuing term of court. United States v. Harden, 10 Fed. 802, 807.
§ 153-184. Arrest of escaped persons from penal institutions.—Upon information received from the superintendent of any correctional or any penal institution, established by the laws of the state, that any person confined in such institution or assigned thereto by juvenile or other court under authority of law, has escaped therefrom and is still at large, it shall be the duty of sheriffs of the respective counties of the state, and of any peace officer in whose jurisdiction such person may be found, to take into his custody such escaped person, if to be found in his county, and to cause his return to the custody of the proper officer of the institution from which he has escaped. (1933, c. 105, s. 1.)

Cross Reference.—As to recapture of persons escaped from the State Prison, see §§ 146-4, 146-40, and 148-41.

§ 153-185. Guard when escape apprehended; compensation.—When the sheriff of the county, or keeper of the jail, apprehends that there is danger of a prisoner escaping, through the insufficiency of the jail or other cause, it is his duty, without delay, to make information thereof to a judge of the superior court, the attorney-general, or a solicitor, if any of those officers is in the county, and if not, then to three justices of the peace, and they are authorized, if they deem it advisable, to furnish the sheriff or keeper of the jail with an order in writing, addressed to the commanding officer of the militia of the county, setting forth the danger, and requiring him forthwith to furnish such guard as to him may appear to be suitable for the occasion. For which service the persons ordered on guard shall receive such compensation as militiamen in actual service for defense of the state, and on application for pay, may receive in the same manner as if such prisoner had been confined in jail of his proper county. (Rev., s. 1349; Code, s. 3459; R. C., c. 87, s. 4; 1835, c. 2, s. 7; C. S. 1835.)

§ 153-186. What counties liable for guarding and removing prisoners.—The expense for guarding prisons shall be paid by the county where the prison is situated; and for conveying prisoners, also the expense attending such prisoners while in jail, when the same may be chargeable on the county, shall be paid by the county from which the prisoner is removed. (Rev., s. 1347; Code, s. 3460; R. C., c. 87, s. 5; 1826; C. S. 1835.)

Expense of Removal.—When upon proper application, the commanding officer of a county is required to furnish the jailer with a guard as may be required for the safe keeping of prisoners, the expenses of the guard so incurred are to be paid by the county from which the prisoners are removed. Board v. Board, 75 N. C. 240.

§ 153-187. Transfer of prisoners to succeeding sheriff.—The delivery of prisoners, by indenture between the late and present sheriff, or the entering on record in court the names of the several prisoners, and the causes of their commitment, delivered over to the present sheriff, shall be sufficient to discharge the late sheriff from all liability for any escape that shall happen. (Rev., s. 1349; Code, s. 3470; R. C., c. 87, s. 18; 1777, c. 118, s. 12; C. S. 1835.)

§ 153-188. Where no jail, sheriff may imprison in jail of adjoining county.—The sheriffs, constables, and other ministerial officers of any county in which there is no jail have authority to confine any prisoner arrested on process, civil or criminal, and held in custody for want of bail, in the jail of any adjoining county, until bail be given or tendered. And any sheriff or jailer having a prisoner in his custody, by virtue of any mode of commitment provided in this article, shall be liable, civilly and criminally, for his escape, in the same manner as if such prisoner had been confined in the prison of his proper county. (Rev., s. 1349; Code, s. 3459; R. C., c. 87, s. 4; 1835, c. 2, s. 7; C. S. 1835.)

§ 153-189. Where no jail, courts may commit to jail of adjoining county.—Whenever there happens to be no jail, or when there is an unfit or insecure jail, in any county, the superior court judges, justices of the peace, and all judicial officers of such county may commit all persons brought before them, whether in a criminal or civil proceeding, to the jail or any jail of any adjoining county; and the sheriffs, constables, and other officers of such county in which there is no jail, or an unfit one, and the sheriffs or keepers of the jails of the adjoining counties, shall obey any order of commitment so made. Any officer failing to obey such order shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 1350; Code, s. 3458; R. C., c. 87, s. 3; 1835, c. 2, s. 2; C. S. 1835.)

§ 153-190. When jail destroyed, transfer of prisoners provided for.—When the jail of any county is destroyed by fire or other accident, any justice of the peace of such county may cause all prisoners then confined therein to be brought before him; and upon the production of the process under which any prisoner was confined shall order his commitment to the jail of any adjacent county: and the sheriff, constable, or other officer of the county deputed for that purpose, shall obey the order; and the sheriff or keeper of the common jail of such adjacent county shall receive such prisoners upon the order aforesaid. Any officer failing to obey such order of commitment shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 1351; Code, s. 5457; R. C., c. 87, s. 2; 1835, c. 3, s. 1; C. S. 1835.)

§ 153-191. Counties and towns may hire out certain prisoners.—The board of commissioners of the several counties, within their respective jurisdictions, or such other county authorities therein as may be established, and the mayor and intendant of the several cities and towns of the state, have power to provide under such rules and regulations as they may deem best for the employment of the public streets, public highways, public works, or other labor for individuals or corporations, of all persons imprisoned in the jails of their respective counties, cities and towns, upon conviction of any crime or misdemeanor, or who may be committed to jail for failure to enter into bond for keeping the peace or for good behavior, and who fail to pay all the costs which they are adjudged to pay, or to give good and sufficient security therefor: Provided, such prisoner or convict shall not be detained beyond the time fixed by the judgment of the court. The amount realized from hiring out such persons shall be credited to them for the fine and bill of costs in all cases of conviction. It is unlawful to farm out any such convicted person who may be imprisoned for the nonpayment of a fine, or as punishment imposed for the offense of which he may have been convicted, unless the court before whom the trial is had shall in its judgment so authorize. (Rev., s. 1352; Code, s. 3448; 1866-7, c. 30; 1872-3, c. 174, s. 10; 1874-5, c. 113; 1876-7, c. 196, s. 1; 1879, c. 218; C. S. 1356.)

Cross Reference.—See also, §§ 153-194 and 23-24. Every prisoner must be credited with sections 23-24 and 153-94. State v. Morgan, 141 N. C. 726, 53 S. E. 142. Before the enactment of this section, if one in jail in default of payment of fine and costs was not provided with some mode of discharge, he would remain therein indefinitely, or take the insolvent debtor's oath. But it was felt that some other mode of discharge should be provided, and that it was a serious and unjust charge upon the public, that these prisoners should pay an additional fine on account of farming out their labor to others, leaving the labor to themselves, and the tax payer to bear the additional burden of the cost of maintaining the inmates in jail.

It seems that the Legislature was attracted by this suggestion, and realizing the opening for evil under the existing law, enacted the Act of March 13, 1879, c. 218, which added as a third proviso, the last sentence of this section, substantially complying with Justice Rodman's suggestion. See State v. Shaft, 78 N. C. 464; State v. Sneed, 93 N. C. 578, 580.

Constitutionality.—The section is constitutional. State v. Young, 138 N. C. 571, 573, 59 S. E. 213; State v. Weathers, 93 N. C. 578, 580; 51 S. E. 142; State v. Palin, 63 N. C. 459; State v. Morgan, 141 N. C. 726, 53 S. E. 142.

When Must Be Released.—A prisoner sentenced for less than thirty days, see § 153-94, subsection 26. § 153-193. Person hired may prevent escape. The party in whose service said convicts may be used the necessary means to hold and keep them in custody and to prevent their escape. (Rev., s. 1353; Code, s. 3454; 1876-7, c. 196, s. 2; C. S. 1357.)

Cross Reference.—As to allowing hired out prisoners to escape, see § 14-257.

§ 153-193. Sheriff to have control of prisoners hired out.—All convicts hired or farmed out by the county or other municipal authorities shall at all times be under the supervision and control, as to their government and discipline, of the sheriff, or his deputy, of the county in which they were convicted and imprisoned, and the sheriff, or his deputy, shall be deemed a state officer for the purpose of this section. (Rev., s. 1354; Code, s. 3455; 1876-7, c. 196, s. 2; C. S. 1358.)

§ 153-194. Convicts who may be sentenced to or worked on roads and public works.—It is lawful for and the duty of the judge holding court to sentence to imprisonment at hard labor on the public roads, in accordance with §§ 148-28, 148-30 and 148-32 for such terms of thirty days or more as are now prescribed by law for their imprisonment in the county jail or in the state's prison, the following classes of convicts: First, all persons convicted of offenses the punishment whereof would otherwise be wholly, or in part, imprisonment in the common jail; second, all persons convicted of crimes the punishment whereof would otherwise, wholly or in part, be imprisonment in the state's prison.

There may also be worked on the public works, in like manner, all persons sentenced to imprisonment in jail for less than 30 days by any magistrate; and also, all insolvents imprisoned by any court in said counties for nonpayment of costs in criminal causes may be retained in imprisonment and worked on the public works until they repay the county to the extent of the half fees charged up against the county for each person taking the insolvent oath. The rate of compensation to be allowed each insolvent for work on the public works shall be fixed by the county commissioners at a just and fair compensation, regard being had to the amount of work of which each insolvent is capable. (Rev., s. 1355; 1887, c. 355; 1899, c. 419; C. S. 1359.)

Cross References.—See also, §§ 153-191 and 23-24. As to prisoners sentenced for less than thirty days, see § 153-9, subsection 26.

Editor's Note.—The first paragraph of this section is the Act of 1887, c. 355, and refers exclusively to persons sentenced by the judge holding the courts of the county. The second paragraph is the Amendment of 1889, c. 419, which added as a third proviso, the section to the Act of March 13, 1879, c. 218, which added as a third proviso, the last sentence of this section, substantially complying with Justice Rodman's suggestion. See State v. Shaft, 78 N. C. 464; State v. Sneed, 93 N. C. 578, 580.

Does Not Apply to Employment on Public Works.—The provisions of the section forbidding the hiring out of convicted persons for punishment, and the Like. The imprisonment, or where it shall be performed. That matter is left to the discretion of the county commissioners, under rules and regulations prescribed by them. State v. Norwood, 91 N. C. 578, 580.

§ 153-192. Person hiring may prevent escape. The party in whose service said convicts may be used the necessary means to hold and keep them in custody and to prevent their escape. (Rev., s. 1353; Code, s. 3454; 1876-7, c. 196, s. 2; C. S. 1357.)

Cross Reference.—As to allowing hired out prisoners to escape, see § 14-257.
Constitutionality.—A sentence to work the public roads is constitutional and valid. State v. Smith, 126 N. C. 1057, 35 S. E. 574, 67 S. E. 685, 4 S. S. 321; State v. Haynie, 118 N. C. 1265, 24 S. E. 556.

A sentence of a defendant convicted of a misdemeanor to thirty days' imprisonment and that he be assigned to the county authorities to work on the public roads of the county" during said term is valid under the section and Article XI, section 1, of the Constitution. State v. Young, 138 N. C. 490, 66 S. E. 253.

Judge's Duty.—Where county has made provision for working convicts upon the public roads, it is the duty of the judge holding court in such county to impose imprisonment for such term on the public roads for such person as are prescribed by law for imprisonment in the county jail. State v. Saunders, 146 N. C. 597, 598, 59 S. E. 695.

Presumption as to Enforcement.—Where judgment has been pronounced, it will be presumed that the county authorities have made the proper provisions for its enforcement. State v. Hicks, 101 N. C. 747, 7 S. E. 777.

An Incident of Sentence Proper.—The order of the commissioners directing the employment of a convict upon the public roads, and committing him to the custody of a superintendent of such public works, is not an additional sentence or judgment pronounced by the commissioners but an incident to the sentence properly imposed by the court in contemplation of which the prisoner committed the offense. State v. Bailey, 130 N. C. 574, 575, 44 S. E. 574; State v. Saunders, 146 N. C. 574, 575, 59 S. E. 695.

To Work Roads of Another County.—A sentence to work the public roads of another county is valid when authorized by statute. State v. Hamby, 126 N. C. 1066, 33 S. E. 614. An incident of sentence for such terms as are prescribed by law for imprisonment in the county jail. State v. Saunders, 146 N. C. 597, 598, 59 S. E. 695.

New Hanover.—Where a prisoner confined in the public jail was used by the county authorities to work on the public roads, the person in charge of him was guilty of an escape for negligently allowing such person to make his escape. S. S. 194 N. C. 565.

Classes of Prisoners Section Not Applicable to.—This section does not include among those authorized to be worked on the public roads, those imprisoned for nonpayment of cost in criminal cases, or parolees under the parole system. State v. Morgan, 141 N. C. 627, 55 S. E. 142.

Husband Convicted of Abandonment.—A husband convicted of abandonment under section 14-322 of this code, and other offenses of like kind, may be assigned to work on the roads during his term. State v. Paulkner, 185 N. C. 615, 116 S. E. 168.

Prisoners Convicted for Affray and Assault.—In State v. Weathers, 43 N. C. 685, 4 S. E. 512, upon conviction for an affray and mutual assault, the court pronounced judgment that the defendant be put to work on the public roads of the county commissioners, and the judgment was affirmed. The court said, speaking through Smith, C. J., at p. 688: "The form of the sentence is fully warranted in the recent Act regulating the working of convicts on the public roads (Laws 1887, ch. 355), which directly warrants the judgment, and places convicts sentenced to imprisonment and hard labor on the public roads under the control of the county authorities. Indeed, a guard has no legal right or authority to whip convicts in his care or custody. State v. Morris, 166 N. C. 451, 51 S. E. 462.

Prisoners Convicted for Bastardy.—The Supreme Court declared in Myers v. Stafford, 114 N. C. 234, 19 S. E. 764, that bastardy having become a "petty misdemeanor," a defendant convicted of that offense may, under the authority of section 60-42, be put to work on the public roads, and costs are paid. State v. Young, 138 N. C. 571, 573, 59 S. E. 213.

Convicted for Assault and Battery with Deadly Weapon.—State v. Yandle, 119 N. C. 874, 25 S. E. 796, was a conviction for an assault and battery with a deadly weapon, and it was held that if the defendant had any crime or misdemeanor be, under the authority of this section, sentenced to work upon the public roads. This was approved in Herring v. Dixon, 122 N. C. 420, 425, 29 S. E. 368. State v. Young, 138 N. C. 571, 573, 59 S. E. 213.

§ 153-195. Deductions from sentence allowed for good behavior.—When a convict has been sentenced to work upon the public works of a county, and has faithfully performed the duties assigned to him during his term of sentence, he is entitled to a deduction from the time of his sentence of five days for each month, and he shall be discharged from the county works when he has served his sentence, less the number of days he may be entitled to have deducted. The authorities having him in charge shall be the sole judges as to the faithful performance of the duties assigned to him. Should he escape or attempt to escape he shall forfeit and lose any deduction he may have been entitled to prior to that time. This section shall apply also to women sentenced to a county farm or county home. (1913, c. 167, s. 1; C. S. 1360.)

§ 153-235. Liability for bonded indebtedness.—Any such new county thus established shall be liable for all of the bonded and other indebtedness of the separate counties so consolidated, and any and all rights which might have been enforced against any of said counties may be enforced against the new county as fully as though the proceeding were against the county originally liable. Nor shall such consolidation affect the existing lines of state senatorial or congressional districts or the representation therein. (1933, c. 193, s. 105.)

§ 153-238. If it appear that a majority of those voting in each of said counties voted in favor of the proposed annexation, then said annexation shall be declared to be in effect. If it appear that a majority of those voting in either of said counties voted against the proposed annexation, then said annexation shall be declared to have failed for all purposes. (1933, c. 194, s. 2.)

§ 153-240. Dissolution of county merged.—In the event such annexation shall be voted upon favorably in each of said counties, then the county which was voted to be annexed to the other shall thereupon stand dissolved and abolished, and its territory thereby shall be transferred to and for all purposes shall become a part of the annexing county, and townships of the annexed county shall be deemed townships of the annexing county until thereafter altered in the manner prescribed by law. Local Modification.—Buncombe: 1937, c. 103; Caswell: Pub. Laws, 1901, c. 137; Chowan: 1941, c. 350; Mitchell: 1911, c. 53; 1941, c. 168.

Cross Reference.—As to duty of county commissioners to fill vacancy in office of county treasurer, see § 159-3, subsection 102.

Editor's Note.—The Legislature in 1875, under authority conferred by section fourteen of Article VII, of the Constitution of 1868, amended sec. 1, of the said section VII, by providing in the boards of county commissioners of the several counties, might abolish the office of the county treasurer at will. The Code of 1883, sec. 786, conferred a like power upon the said boards of justices. When the justices chose to abolish the office, the duties and liabilities attaching thereunto devolved upon the sheriff, who became ex officio county treasurer. This was carried forward as sec. 193 of the Revival of 1905. However, the potential evil of making the vital and important office of county treasurer a playing ground, dependent for its very life upon whim and fancy of the several boards of justices, which must, by their very nature, react immediately to every manifestation of local prejudice and passion, is quite obvious to the observer. To remove and abolish a situation so precarious and so liable to abuse, it was necessary to enact the office of county treasurer, the Legislature, by the Laws of 1919, ch. 141, repealed the provision empowering the justice to abolish the office.

The office is a ministerial officer. Martin v. Clark, 135 N. C. 178, 179, 47 S. E. 397.

The term of office of the county treasurer is two years.

State v. McKee, 65 N. C. 257.

Term of Appointee.—The term of a treasurer appointed by the board of commissioners in a county to fill a vacancy is only that of the unoccupied term of his predecessor. State v. McKee, 65 N. C. 257.

When Election a Nullity.—The election of a person to the office of county treasurer, which has been abolished, or when there is no vacancy, is a nullity. Rhodes v. Hamp- ton, 101 N. C. 629, 8 S. E. 219.

§ 155-2. Bond; penalty; when renewed.—The county treasurer, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall give bond with three or more sufficient sureties, to be approved by the board of county commissioners, payable to the state, conditioned that he will faithfully execute the duties of his office, and pay according to law, and on the warrant of the chairman of the board of commissioners, all moneys which shall come into his hands as treasurer, and render a just and true account thereof to the board when required by law or by the board of commissioners. The penalty of his bond shall be a sum not exceeding the amount of the county and local taxes assessed during the previous year, and the board of commissioners at any time, by an order, may require him to renew, increase or strengthen his bond. A failure to do so within ten days after the service of such an order shall vacate his office, and the board shall appoint a successor. (Rev., s. 297; Code, s. 766; 1868-9, c. 157, s. 4; 1898, c. 270, s. 2; 1899, c. 132; 1899, c. 207, s. 4; 1899, c. 154, s. 52; 1901, c. 536; 1903, c. 12, s. 2; C. S. 1388.)

Local Modification.—Craven, Forsyth: C. S. 1888.

Cross Reference.—As to limitation of actions upon bond, see § 1-50. As to approval of bond by county commissioners, see § 159-9, subsection 11. As to right of action on official bond, see § 159-3, subsection 102.

Time to File Bond.—It was the duty of a county treasurer elected in August, 1878, to appear before the board of county commissioners on the first Monday in the month next succeeding the date of his election, and file his bond; and on his failure to do so, it was competent for the board of commissioners to declare the office vacant and fill it. Kilburn v. Latham, 81 N. C. 312.

Settlement of Retiring Treasurer Does Not Discharge Bond.—A settlement had between a county and its outgoing treasurer, does not operate as a discharge of liability upon his bond; nor is it conclusive evidence of a proper accounting, but is open to proof that a mistake was made. Commissioners v. MacRae, 89 N. C. 95.

Actual Payment of Funds Alone Discharges Bond.—The actual payment of the funds remaining in a treasurer's hands will alone relieve the bond from liability, and it is in the interest of the.Government to know to what extent it is in hand belonged. Commissioners v. MacRae, 89 N. C. 95.

Demand Unnecessary.—Where the county treasurer collects and retains county moneys or fails to pay over to his successor, it is not necessary before suit is brought Commissioners v. Magnin, 86 N. C. 286.

Proper Parties Relator.—The commissioners of a county are proper parties to relator to sue upon the official bond of a county treasurer. Commissioners v. Magnin, 86 N. C. 286, approving Commissioners v. Magnin, 78 N. C. 181.

Limitation of Actions upon Bonds.—An action upon the official bonds of a county treasurer may be brought within six years after a breach thereof; the statute does not begin to run from the date, but only from the breach of the bond. Commissioners v. MacRae, 89 N. C. 95.

Bond as Treasurer of Board of Education.—The county treasurer is required, as treasurer of the board of education, to file a separate bond with different conditions from those that are prescribed for the treasurer of the county board of education; and in case of any breach an action must be brought by the county board of education; whereas for any default in accounting for the county funds proper, he must be sued by the board of county commissioners. Koonce v. Commissioners, 106 N. C. 192, 199, 10 S. E. 1038.

Protection of School Fund.—The bond of a county treasurer is required, in the event of an illegal defalcation from the school fund, to cover an illegal defalcation from the school fund. Commissioners v. Magnin, 86 N. C. 286.

Same—New Duty Not Covered by Bond.—The new statutory duty of being treasurer of the county board of education, requiring an additional and special bond, is not embraced by the bonds formerly required. State v. Bateman, 103 N. C. 52, 8 S. E. 882.

§ 155-3. Local: Commissioners may abolish office and appoint bank.—In the counties of Bladen, Carteret, Chatham, Cherokee, Chowan, Craven, Edgecombe, Granville, Hyde, Madison, Mitchell, Montgomery, Martin, Moore, Onslow, Perquimans, Polk, Rowan, Stanly, Tyrrell, Transylvania, and Union, the board of county commissioners is hereby authorized and empowered, in its discretion, to abolish the office of county treasurer, and to appoint bank.—In the counties of Bladen, Carteret, Chatham, Cherokee, Chowan, Craven, Edgecombe, Granville, Hyde, Madison, Mitchell, Montgomery, Martin, Moore, Onslow, Perquimans, Polk, Rowan, Stanly, Tyrrell, Transylvania, and Union, the board of county commissioners is hereby authorized and empowered, in its discretion, to abolish the office of county treasurer, and to appoint bank.
nated as said financial agent of said county which compensation shall not exceed the sum of five hundred dollars per annum and said bank is to furnish, without cost to the county, a good and sufficient bond as such financial agent.

The bank or trust company, appointed and acting as the financial agent of its county, shall be appointed for a term of two years, and shall be required to execute the same bonds for the safe keeping and proper accounting of such funds as may come into its possession and belonging to such county and for the faithful discharge of its duties, as are now required by law of county treasurers of said county. See sections 155-135, 155-136, 155-137, 155-138, 153-158, 155-220, cc. 67, 268, 458, 481; 1919, c. 48; 1925, c. 46; 1933, c. 63; (S. 1389.)

Editor's Note.—This section was amended by the Laws of 1925, c. 46, by inserting the word "Transylvania" after the word "Tyrrell" and before the word "and" in line five of the said section. The said Act also amended the said section by placing a comma after the word "banking" near the end of line twenty-four of said section, and adding the following: "Or such sum as may be agreed upon as compensation between said board of county commissioners of said county and said bank or banks as may be designated by said board of county commissioners."

It might be interesting here to raise the question as to whether, under the provisions of this section, the banks or trust companies to perform the duties of treasurer, or sheriff acting in the office of a county treasurer, are required to give bond for the safekeeping and proper disbursement of said funds, and for faithful performance of their duties concerning them. Tyrrell County v. Holloway, 182 N. C. 64, 67, 108 S. E. 337.

Mandamus against Treasurer.—Where, under the power of a valid statute, the county commissioners of a county have abolished the office of county treasurer, and have vested the duties of the office in certain banks and trust companies which have qualified thereunder, mandamus will lie to compel the treasurer, seeking to hold over and denying the validity of the statute, to turn over to the proper party the moneys that he has received and attempts to hold by virtue of his former office. Tyrrell County v. Holloway, 182 N. C. 64, 108 S. E. 337.

Consideration Moving to Bank.—The consideration moving to a bank when its officers without individual benefit become sureties of the community banking house or trust company to perform the duties of the said office, how can the bonds executed by the said bank be for the benefit of the bank acting without personal advantage or gain sign as sureties on an obligation of the bank executed to the county or county officers, the county commissioners, under the section, becomes ipso facto, the official bonds of public officers, as ex officio treasurer of the county, such designated depository, or by the court for the bank, subsequently becoming insolvent. Page Trust Co. v. Rose, 192 N. C. 673, 135 S. E. 795.

Sureties Entitled to Collateral.—Sureties on an indemnity bond are entitled to all county funds required by the section, are entitled to the collateral given by the bank for their protection in becoming sureties, and such collateral is available to them in preference to a receiver of the bank, thereafter appointed by the court, claiming the proceeds for distribution among the general creditors of the bank, when the transaction has been made by the sureties in good faith and without personal advantage to them. Page Trust Co. v. Rose, 192 N. C. 673, 135 S. E. 795.

Bank Entitled to All County Funds.—Under Public Local Laws 1917, ch. 46, sec. 1, for Robeson County, the bank selected by the commissioners, upon the abolishment of the office of county treasurer, is entitled to receive all county moneys, including those derived from assessments of a "drainage" district. Commissioners v. Lewis, 174 N. C. 528, 94 S. E. 8.

Changing Terms of Appointment as Impairing Obligation of Contracts.—Where a bank has been appointed under this section to perform the duties of treasurer of Edgecombe County, and receive as compensation the profits of the moneys deposited by the county arising in the course of the banking business conducted by the bank, the statute is unconstitutional as an unwarranted delegation of legislative power. The court held, however, the section to be constitutional and valid. Tyrrell County v. Holloway, 182 N. C. 64, 67, 108 S. E. 337. A wide discretionary power of local self-government may be vested in municipal subdivisions of the State, without infringement upon the familiar rule that the state cannot impair the obligation of its contracts. The court held the statute constitutional in view of the fact that the state had provided by the constitution prohibiting the impairing of the obligations of a contract, but the obligations arise by statutory provisions relating to public matters within legislative control. The county may at a later date, under authority of § 135-135 require the bank to give bonds for the protection of the public funds, or to pay interest on the daily average balance. Farmers Banking, etc., Co. v. Contry, 196 N. C. 48, 144 S. E. 519. See note under § 155-7.

§ 155-4. Office includes person acting as treasurer.—The office of county treasurer shall always be construed to refer to, and include, the person authorized by law to perform the duties of that office in any county, if there is no county treasurer therein. (Rev. s. 1396; Code, s. 770; C. S. 1390.)

§ 155-5. Is treasurer of county board of education.—The county treasurer is ex officio treasurer of the county board of education. (Rev. s. 1396; Code, s. 770; C. S. 1391.)

Cross Reference.—As to powers, duties, and responsibilities of the county treasurer in disbursing school funds, see §§ 115-165 et seq.

Sherriff Become Treasurer of Board of Education.—In Koonce v. Commissioners, 106 N. C. 192, 198, 10 S. E. 1038, Avery, J., said: "The plaintiffs was ex-officio treasurer of [989]
§ 155-6. Sheriff acting as treasurer, bond liable. — In counties where the office of county treasurer is abolished, and where the sheriff is authorized to perform the duties of county treasurer, the bond he gives as sheriff shall be construed to include his liabilities and duties as such county treasurer, and may be increased to such amount by the board of commissioners as may be deemed necessary to cover the trust funds coming to his hands. (Rev., s. 1397; Code, s. 769; 1879, c. 202; C. S. 1392.)

Cross Reference. — As to duty of county commissioners to take and approve bond, see § 153-9, subsection 11, and § 162-9.

§ 155-7. Duties of county treasurer. — It is the duty of the treasurer—

2. To keep true accounts. To keep a true account of the receipts and expenditures of all such moneys, taking proper vouchers in every case in books provided for that purpose at the expense of the county; which said books shall at all times show the date, amount, and from whom he has received such moneys; the date, amount, and to whom he has paid out any of the said moneys; the total amount received and the total amount paid out during the current fiscal year for school purposes, for general county purposes, for jury fund, and for each special purpose, all separately kept, so that at all times his said books shall correctly and accurately show the condition of the said several accounts. His account of expenditures for general county purposes shall also show separately the amounts expended each year on account of the county home, indigent persons, jails, workhouses, courthouse, bridges, insolvent fees, courts, and such other special accounts as the board of commissioners of the county require, the total amount received and the total amount paid out during the current fiscal year for school purposes, for general county purposes, for jury fund, and for each special purpose, all separately kept, so that at all times his said books shall correctly and accurately show the condition of the said several accounts. 3. To call on county officers for funds in their hands. To call on the sheriff, or the clerk of the superior court, or other officer having county moneys in his hands, at least once in each month, or oftener if necessary, to pay over to him, and to account for all such moneys.

To keep accounts of fines, etc. To enter in a book to be kept by him the exact amount of any fine, penalty or forfeiture paid over to him, giving the date of payment, the name of the clerk or other person so paying the same, the name of the party from whom such fine, penalty or forfeiture was collected, and in what case.

5. To exhibit to the board of commissioners his books and accounts as treasurer for examination. To exhibit his books and accounts and moneys once every three months, or oftener, if the board of commissioners of his county deem it necessary, to a committee to be composed of the chairman of the board of commissioners and one other person to be selected by the board of commissioners, who shall be an expert accountant. It is the duty of this committee to examine the books and accounts of his office, and to see that the accounts are correctly and properly kept, and to count the money in the hands of the treasurer, and to see that it corresponds with the amount shown by the books to be in his hands. At every such examination of the books and accounts of his office, the said treasurer shall exhibit a full, perfect and itemized statement to said committee of the use he has made of every dollar of public funds in his hands since the last exhibition of his books to said committee; and if any part of said funds has been loaned out, this statement shall state to whom loaned and on what security and the amount of interest paid on said loan, and such interest shall be covered into the county treasury by the treasurer. This statement shall be sworn to and published in a county newspaper or at the courthouse door. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to authorize the county treasurer to lend any public funds.

If at any time there is a deficit in the amount of money in the hands of the treasurer, the committee shall so report to the board of commissioners, whose duty it is to institute proceedings in the superior court for the issuance of an issued bond: for the purpose of lending their proceeds to the county treasurer to pay a warrant drawn on a specific fund by the county treasurer as the fiscal agent of the county, is not restricted to the use of the general county fund coming within her control, under the provisions of the statute. Lewis v. Commissioners, 192 N. C. 456, 457, 135 S. E. 347.

Warrant on Specific Fund. — It is the duty of the county treasurer to pay a warrant drawn on a specific fund by the board of commissioners. Martin v. Clark, 115 N. C. 178, 179, 47 S. E. 397.

Proceeds from Highway Bonds. — Where a county has issued bonds for the purpose of lending their proceeds to the State Highway Commission, to be used for the construction of certain highways within the county, and the county commissioners have such proceeds on hand, mandamus by the county treasurer will not lie for control of the funds as a part of the general county funds coming within her control, under the provisions of the statute. Lewis v. Commissioners, 192 N. C. 456, 135 S. E. 347.

Liability for Interest. — A local bank acting under a valid appointment to perform the duties of a county treasurer, as the fiscal agent of the county, is not required by subsection 5 of this section to pay interest on the deposits of county funds thus received by it, and the surety on its bond is not liable for the failure of the special depository to charge itself interest on the deposits collected by it as a part of the general county funds coming within its control, under the provisions of the statute. Green County v. First Nat. Bank, 194 N. C. 438, 140 S. E. 38. See note under § 155-3.

§ 155-8. Compensation of county treasurer. — The county treasurer shall receive as compensation in full for all services required of him such a sum, not exceeding one-half of one per cent on moneys received and not exceeding two and a half per cent on moneys disbursed by him, as the board of commissioners of the county may allow. As treasurer of the county school fund he shall receive such sum as the board of education may allow him not exceeding two per cent on disbursements; and the said commissions shall be paid only upon the order of the county board of education, signed by the chairman and secretary, and the county board of education is hereby forbidden to sign any such order until the treasurer shall have made all reports and kept all such accounts required by law in the form and manner prescribed: Provided, that said treasurer shall be allowed no commission or compensation for receipts and disbursements of any loan or loans made to the county by the state board of education out of the state literary fund, the special building fund, nor from funds derived from county or district bond issues for the building of school-houses: Provided, that in counties where the treasurer's total compensation cannot exceed two hundred and fifty dollars per annum the treasurer may be allowed, in the discretion of the board of county commissioners and of the board of education, as to the school fund, a sum not exceeding two and one-half per cent on his receipts and not exceeding two and one-half per cent on his disbursements of all funds handled by him; but the commissions allowed by virtue of the provisions of this last proviso shall not be operative to give a total compensation in excess of two hundred and fifty dollars per annum to such treasurers. (Rev., s. 2778; Code, s. 770; 1899, c. 233; 1909, c. 577; 1913, c. 144; 1910, c. 254, s. 9; 1924, c. 121, s. 6; C. S. 3910.)

Cross Reference.—As to compensation for disbursing funds of a drainage district, see § 156-113.

Editor's Note.—This section was amended by chapter 121, section 6, Laws 1924, by inserting after the words "of the state literary fund" and before the words "for the building of school-houses" the words "the special building funds derived from county or district bond issues."

Koonce v. Commissioners, 106 N. C. 192, 10 S. E. 1038.

§ 155-10. Treasurer not to speculate in county claims; penalty.—No county treasurer purchasing a claim against the county at less than its face value is entitled to charge the county a greater sum than what he actually paid for the same; and the board of commissioners may examine him as well as any other person on oath concerning the matter. Any county treasurer who is concerned or interested in any such speculation shall forfeit his office. (Rev., s. 1399; Code, s. 772; 1869-9, c. 157, s. 8; C. S. 1394.)

§ 155-11. Treasurer administers property held in trust for county.—All real and personal property held by deed, will or otherwise by any person or officer in trust for any county, or for any charitable use to be administered in and for the benefit of such county or the citizens thereof, shall be transferred to and vest in the county treasurer, to be administered and applied by him under the direction of the board of commissioners, upon the same uses, purposes and trusts as declared by the grantor, testator or other person in the original deed, devise or other instrument of donation. (Rev., s. 1400; Code, s. 778; 1869-70, c. 85; C. S. 1395.)

§ 155-12. Treasurer to take charge of county trust funds; additional bonds.—It is the duty of the county treasurer to take charge of all such trust funds and property; but he shall not do so without giving a bond payable to the state, in a penalty double the estimated value of said property or funds, with three or more sureties, each of whom is worth at least the amount of the penalty of the bond over and above all his liabilities and property exempt from execution, which bond shall be taken by the board of commissioners, and recorded and otherwise treated and dealt with as the official bond of the treasurer. (Rev., s. 1401; Code, s. 779; 1869-70, c. 85, s. 2; C. S. 1396.)

Treasurer to exhibit separate statement as to trust funds.—The county treasurer, whenever he is required to exhibit to the board of commissioners the financial condition of the county, shall exhibit also distinctly and separately the amount and condition of all such trust funds and property, how invested, secured, used, and other particulars concerning the same. (Rev., s. 1403; Code, s. 781; 1869-70, c. 85, s. 4; C. S. 1398.)

§ 155-15. Treasurer to pay no claim unless audited.—It is unlawful for the county treasurer to pay a claim against the county, unless the same has been audited and allowed by the board of commissioners. (Rev., s. 1404; Code, s. 777; 1868, c. 19; C. S. 1399.)

Claims Audited and Allowed by Commissioners.—It is the treasurer's duty to pay claims audited and allowed by the commissioners. Jones v. Commissioners, 73 N. C. 182, 184; State v. Wilkerson, 86 N. C. 797, 68 S. E. 683.

Warrant or Order Drawn by Commissioners.—An order or warrant drawn by the commissioners upon the county treasurer is the appropriate method of disbursing the pub-Ill moneys. State v. Wilkerson, 98 N. C. 606, 701, 3 S. E. 683.

Cannot Refuse Claim Allowed by Commissioners. — It is not within the power or duty of the treasurer of the county to refuse to pay a county order issued by the board of commissioners, because he does not think it a just or lawful claim, or for any other reason, when the order has been passed upon by the board acting within its power. Martin v. Clark, 135 N. C. 178, 180, 47 S. E. 399.

§ 155-16. Treasurer to deliver books, etc., to successor.—When the right of any county treasurer to his office expires, the books and papers belonging to his office, and all moneys in his hands by virtue of his office, shall, upon his death, or in case of his death, upon the oath of his personal representative, be delivered to his successor. (Rev., s. 1105; Code, s. 776; 1868-9, c. 157; C. S. 1400.)

Cross References.—As to criminal liability for failure to deliver books, etc., to successor, see § 14-231.

A county treasurer going out of office is bound in contemplation of law to know what moneys he has on hand, and to what specified funds they belong, and to pay over all of the fund he has. Commissioners v. MacRae, 89 N. C. 96, 98.

§ 155-17. Action on treasurer's bond to be by commissioners.—The board of commissioners shall bring an action on the treasurer's bond whenever they have knowledge or a reasonable belief of any breach of the bond. (Rev., s. 1106; Code, s. 777; 1868-9, c. 157; C. S. 1401.)

Cross References.—As to limitation of action on bond, see § 1-50. As to action on bond generally, see § 109-34.

§ 155-18. Officers failing to account to treasurer sued by commissioners.—In case of the failure or refusal of a sheriff, clerk, or other officer to account and pay over, when called on as directed in this article, the treasurer shall report the facts to the board of commissioners, who may forthwith bring suit on the official bond of such delinquent officer, and the said board is also allowed to bring suit on the official bond of the clerk of the superior court of any adjoining county. (Rev., s. 1107; Code, s. 778; 1868-9, c. 157, s. 10; C. S. 1402.)

Cross References.—As to liability of sheriff upon his official bond, see § 162-8. As to liability of clerk upon his official bond, see § 2-4; constable, see § 151-3; register of deeds, see § 161-4. As to limitation of action on bonds, see § 1-50.

As to duty of county commissioners to approve bonds, see § 153-9, subsection 11.

Commissioners May, but Need Not, Necessarily, Bring Suit. — The section does not make it the imperative duty of the board of commissioners of the county to "bring suit on the official bond of the sheriff or other officer," it provides that they "may forthwith do so." It is then left to their sound discretion whether to do so. There might be substantial reasons why they would not, and, they might be content to leave it to the county treasurer to bring suit, especially as he is the proper officer to do so. Hewlett v. Nutt, 79 N. C. 263; Bray v. Barnard, 109 N. C. 44, 48, 13 S. E. 729.

Taxpayer May Prosecute Suit.—A taxpayer has the right to prosecute a suit against the register of deeds of the county to enforce payment of taxes collected and wrongfully withheld by him when the county commissioners have refused to institute action to recover them; and when such right of action exists, unless an appertaining to the case of the equitable jurisdiction of the courts, this jurisdiction is not necessarily withdrawn because the Legislature has provided a legal remedy, unless the statute itself shall so direct. Waddell v. Masten, 172 N. C. 392, 90 S. E. 694.

Same—Parties.—While a taxpayer, in his suit independent of the statute, should make the proper county officials parties to his action against a register of deeds for unlawfully withholding fees collected by him, so they may be heard on the question presented, and that the funds, if recovered, should be in proper custody or control, this matter affects the remedy, and may be cured by amendment.

Bonds Subject to Subsequent Legislation.—A learned author says: "It has been held that all laws enacted during the continuing contract of an official bond are also part of the contract, and that the obligors entered into the engagement in view of the possible and probable modification of their liability by the legislative branch of the government." Murfree on Official Bonds, section 193. To the same effect is People v. Vilas, 36 N. Y. 458; also see Prairie v. Worth, 78 N. C. 169; State v. Bradshaw, 32 N. C. 229, 232; Daniel v. Grizzard, 117 N. C. 105, 106, 110, 23 S. E. 93.

SUBCHAPTER I. DRAINAGE BY INDIVIDUAL OWNERS.

Art. 1. Jurisdiction in Clerk of Superior Court.
Part 1. Petition by Individual Owner.

§ 156-1. Name of proceeding.—The proceeding under this subchapter shall be the same as prescribed in the chapter Eminent Domain, article 2, Condemnation Proceedings. (Rev., s. 4028; Code, s. 1324; C. S. 5260.)

Cross Reference.—As to condemnation proceedings, see §§ 40-11 et seq.

Constitutionality.—The laws, enacted under this and the following sections of this chapter, are constitutional. Forehand v. Taylor, 155 N. C. 353, 71 S. E. 433; Sanderlin v. Luken, 152 N. C. 738, 68 S. E. 225, and cases cited. They come within the power of the State for police regulations. Winslow v. Winslow, 95 N. C. 24.

Various Statutes Harmonized.—While the various statutes for the drainage of swamp lands in Eastern North Carolina have not the same provisions in all respects, they have been collected and are to be found in this chapter and should be construed to harmonize, and constitute, with such variations, a system of drainage laws for the State. Adams v. Joyner, 147 N. C. 77, 60 S. E. 725.

Right to Condemn.—The right of the state to condemn land for drains rests on the same foundation as its right in cases of public roads, mills, railroads, school houses, etc. Norfleet v. Cromwell, 70 N. C. 634.

The right to drain through the banks of a natural watercourse is exactly similar in character to the right to construct dykes or levees to keep their excessive waters from overflowing the adjacent lands, a right which has been recognized in the legislation of all countries from the most ancient times. Sanderlin v. Luken, 152 N. C. 738, 742, 68 S. E. 225.

§ 156-2. Petition filed; commissioners appointed.
—Any person owning pocosin, swamp, or flat lands, or owning lowlands subject to inundation, which cannot be conveniently drained or embanked so as to drain off or dam out the water from such lands, except by cutting a canal or ditch, or erecting a dam through or upon the lands of other persons, may by petition apply to the superior court of the county in which the lands sought to be drained or embanked or some part of such lands lie, setting forth the particular circumstances of the case, the situation of the land to be drained or embanked, to what outlet and through whose lands he desires to drain, or on what lands he would erect his dam, and who are the proprietors of such lands; whereupon a summons shall be served on each of the proprietors, and, on the hearing of the petition the court shall appoint three persons as commissioners, who shall be duly sworn to do justice between the parties. (Rev., s. 3983; Code, s. 1297; R. C., c. 40, s. 1; 1795, c. 436; 1852, c. 57, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 5561.)

Jurisdiction.—The clerk of the superior court has jurisdiction of a proceeding to obtain a right of drainage over the land of an adjoining landowner, and to assess damages, etc. Durden v. Simmons, 84 N. C. 555.

In such proceeding the law requires the appointment of disinterested freeholders as commissioners. Durden v. Simmons, 84 N. C. 555.

This chapter, and the amendments thereto, are the charts which should guide the commissioners, and that portion of the judge's order, wherein he undertakes to instruct the new commissioners as to their duties, should be set by the court. Porter v. Armstrong, 139 N. C. 179, 51 S. E. 536.

§ 156-3. Duty of Commissioners.—The commissioners, or a majority of them, on a day of which each proprietor of land aforesaid is to be notified at least five days, shall meet on the premises and proceed to determine whether the land shall be drained or embanked, and the lands through or on which the drain is to pass or the embankment to be erected, and shall determine and report whether the lands of the petitioner can be conveniently drained or embanked except through or on the lands of the defendants or some of them; and if they are of opinion that the same cannot be conveniently done except through or on such lands, they shall decide and determine the route of the canal, ditch, or embankment, the width thereof, and the depth or height, as the case may be, and the manner in which the same shall be cut or thrown up, considering all the circumstances of the case, and providing as far as possible for the effectual drainage or embankment of the water from the petitioner's land, and also securing the defendant's lands from inundation, and every other injury to which the same may be probably subjected by such canal, ditch, or embankment, and they shall assess, for each of the defendants, such damage as in their judgment will fully indemnify him for the use of his land in the mode proposed; but in assessing such damages, benefits shall be deducted. (Rev., s. 3984; Code, s. 1299; R. C., c. 40, s. 2; 1795, c. 135; 1852, c. 57, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 5228.)

§ 156-4. Report and confirmation; easement acquired; exceptions.—The commissioners shall report in writing, under their hands, the whole matter to the court, which shall confirm the same, unless good cause be shown to the contrary; and on payment of the damages and cost of the proceedings the court shall order and decree that the petitioner may cut the canal or ditch, or raise the embankment in the manner reported and determined by the commissioners; and thereupon the petitioner shall be seized in fee simple of the easement aforesaid. Provided, that, without the consent of the proprietor, such canal, ditch, or embankment shall not be cut or raised through or on his yard or curtilage, nor be allowed when the same shall injure any mill, by cutting off or stopping the water flowing thereto; nor shall such dam be allowed so as to create a nuisance by stagnant water, or cut off the flow of useful springs or necessary streams of water, or stop any ditches of such proprietor when there is no freshet. (Rev., s. 3985; Code, s. 1899; R. C., c. 40, s. 3; 1795, c. 436, s. 9; 1853, c. 7; 1858, c. 57, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 5228.)

Report of Commissioners Conclusive.—The report of commissioners appointed to condemn lands and assess damages of the purpose of drainage is, like the verdict of a jury, conclusive of the facts therein ascertained, until set aside. Norfolk Southern R. Co. v. Elv, 101 N. C. 8, 7 S. E. 476.

Commissioners' Report Set Aside.—Where judge set aside report of commissioners because it did not comply with the statute, and further found as a fact in his order that two of the commissioners had been guilty of gross indiscretion, the appeal filed by the petitioner would not reverse his order, where a report conforming to the statute or not. Porter v. Armstrong, 139 N. C. 179, 51 S. E. 936.

§ 156-6. Right of owner to fence; entry for repairs.—Any proprietor, through or on whose land such canal or ditch may be cut or embankment raised, may put a fence or make paths across the same, provided the usefulness thereof be not impaired; and the owner of the canal, ditch, or dam, except as aforesaid: Provided, that in no case shall a greater width of land on both sides, inclusive of a dam, be taken than five times the base of such dam. (Rev., s. 3985a; Code, s. 1302; R. C., c. 40, s. 6; C. S. 5264.)

§ 156-7. Earth for construction of dam; removal of dam.—The earth necessary for the erection of a dam may be taken from either side of it, or wherever else the commissioners may designate and allow. And such dam may be removed by the proprietor of the land, his heirs or assigns, to any other part of his lands, and he may adjoin any dam of his own thereto, if allowed by the court on a petition and such proceedings therein as are provided in this chapter, as far as the same may apply to his case: Provided, that the usefulness thereof will not be thereby impaired or endangered. (Rev., s. 3987; Code, s. 1301; R. C., c. 40, s. 5; C. S. 5266.)

§ 156-8. Earth from canal removed or leveled.—The earth excavated from the canal or ditch shall be removed away or leveled as nearly as may be with the surface of the adjacent land, unless the commissioners shall otherwise specially allow. (Rev., s. 3988; Code, s. 1303; R. C., c. 40, s. 7; C. S. 5267.)

§ 156-9. No drain opened within thirty feet.—The proprietor of any swamp or flat lands through which a canal or ditch passes shall not have a right to open or cut any drain within thirty feet thereof but by the consent of the owner. Such proprietor, however, and other persons may cut into such canal or ditch in the manner hereinafter provided. (Rev., s. 3999; Code, s. 1304; R. C., c. 40, s. 8; C. S. 5268.)

§ 156-10. Right to drain into canal.—Any person desirous of draining into the canal or ditch of another person as an outlet may do so in the manner hereinafter provided, and in addition to the persons directed to be made parties, all others shall be parties through whose lands, canals, or ditches the water to be drained may pass till it shall have reached the furthest artificial outlet. And the privilege of cutting into such canal or ditch may be granted under the same rules and upon the same conditions and restrictions as are provided in respect to cutting the first canal or ditch: Provided, that no canal or ditch shall be allowed to be cut into another if thereby the safety or utility of the latter shall be impaired or endangered: Provided, further, that if such impairing and danger can be avoided by imposing on the petitioner duties or labor in the enlarging or deepening of such canal or ditch, or otherwise, the same may be done; but no absolute decree for cutting such second canal or ditch shall pass till the duties or work so imposed shall be performed and the effect thereof is seen, so as to enable the commissioners to determine the matter whether such second canal or ditch ought to be allowed or not: Provided, that any party to the proceeding may appeal from the judgment of the court rendered under this section to the superior court of the county at term-time, and the appeal of all issues raised in the pleadings shall be had as in other cases before a judge and jury. (Rev., s. 3990; Code, s. 1305; 1887, c. 222; R. C., c. 40, s. 9; C. S. 5269.)

§ 156-11. Expense of repairs apportioned.—Besides the damages which the commissioners may assess against the petitioner for the privilege of cutting into such canal or ditch, they shall assess and apportion the labor which the petitioner and defendants shall severally contribute towards repairing the canal or ditch, or otherwise, the same may be done; but no absolute decree for cutting such second canal or ditch shall pass till the duties or work so imposed shall be performed and the effect thereof is seen, so as to enable the commissioners to determine the matter whether such second canal or ditch ought to be allowed or not: Provided, that any party to the proceeding may appeal from the judgment of the court rendered under this section to the superior court of the county at term-time, and the appeal of all issues raised in the pleadings shall be had as in other cases before a judge and jury. (Rev., s. 3991; Code, s. 1306; R. C., c. 40, s. 10; C. S. 5270.)

When Report Fatally Defective.—A report of commissioners under this section, which fails to assess and apportion the labor which the petitioner and defendants shall severally contribute towards repairing the canal or ditch into or through which the petitioner drains the water from his lands, and report the same to court; which, when confirmed, shall stand as a judgment of the court against each of the parties, his executors and administrators, heirs and assigns. (Rev., s. 3991; Code, s. 1306; R. C., c. 40, s. 10; C. S. 5270.)

When Report Conformed to the Statute or Not.—Porter v. Armstrong, 139 N. C. 179, 51 S. E. 936.

§ 156-12. Notice of making repairs.—Whenever the canals or ditches for the reparation of which [700] more than one person shall be bound under the provisions of § 156-11 shall need to be repaired, any of the persons so bound may notify the others thereof, and of the time he proposes to repair the same; and thereupon each of the persons shall jointly work on the same and contribute his proportion of labor till the same be repaired or the work cease by consent. (Rev., s. 3992; Code, s. 1307; R. C., c. 40, s. 11; C. S. 5372.)

§ 156-13. Judgment against owner in default; lien.—In case the person so notified shall make default, any of the others may perform his share of labor and recover against him the value thereof, and unless good cause to the contrary be shown on the return of the notice, the court shall render judgment for the same with interest and costs; which judgment shall be a lien on the lands from the date of the performance of the work. (Rev., s. 3993; Code, s. 1308; 1899, c. 306; R. C., c. 40, s. 12; C. S. 5372.)

Notice to Landowner.—Before any specific amount may be adjudged against a landowner as the former judgment does not bar the second one.

§ 156-14. Subsequent owners bound.—All persons to whom may descend, or who may otherwise own or occupy lands drained by any canal or ditch, for the privilege of cutting which any labor for repairing is assessed, shall contribute the same, and shall be bound therefor to all intents and purposes, and in the same manner and by the same judgment as the original party himself would be if he occupied the land. (Rev., s. 3994; Code, s. 1309; R. C., c. 40, s. 13; C. S. 5373.)

§ 156-15. Amount of contribution for repair ascertained.—Whenever there shall be a dam, canal, or ditch, in the repairing and keeping up of which two or more persons shall be interested and receive actual benefit therefrom, and the duties and proportion of labor which each one ought to do and perform thereafter shall not be fixed by agreement or by the mode already in this subchapter provided for assessing and apportioning such labor, any of the parties may have the same assessed and apportioned by applying to a justice of the peace, who shall give all parties at least three days notice, and shall summons two disinterested free-holders who, together with the justice, shall meet on the premises and assess the damages sustained by the applicant for damages or for work done on such ditch or lands. The costs of this proceeding shall be in the discretion of the justice. (Rev., s. 3995; Code, s. 1310; 1889, c. 101; R. C., c. 40, s. 14; C. S. 5374.)

Constitutionality.—Section held constitutional and valid. Forehand v. Taylor, 135 N. C. 333, 71 S. E. 433.

Proceeding under this section is in effect a motion in the cause which can be brought forward from time to time, upon notice to all the parties to be affected, for orders in the cause, to promote the objects of the proceeding, the whole matter being determined before the court. Staton v. Stasion, 148 N. C. 490, 491, 62 S. E. 596.

Action Dismissed for Non-Compliance with Statute.—Not Bar to Second Action.—When damages have been sought in an action before a justice of the peace, relating to drainage districts, etc., and the action was dismissed because there had been no contract or agreement between the parties and the requirements of the act had not been met, the plaintiff is not thereby barred from proceeding under the act to have the damages for repairing them from the person owning the same thereby as the former judgment does not bar the second one. Forehand v. Taylor, 135 N. C. 333, 71 S. E. 433.

Enlarging or Deepening Canal.—The method by which the users of a canal by prescriptive right enlarge the same, and the placing water upon the lower proprietor to his damage, they are liable therefor, and, upon conflicting evidence, the issue should be submitted to the jury. Armstrong v. Spruill, 182 N. C. 1, 108 S. E. 300.

Same.—Liability for Damages.—Where the users of a canal by prescriptive right enlarge the same, and thereby place water upon the lower proprietor to his damage, they are liable therefor, and, upon conflicting evidence, the issue should be submitted to the jury. Armstrong v. Spruill, 182 N. C. 1, 108 S. E. 300.
