“O beautiful for spacious skies, for amber waves of grain, for purple mountain majesties above the fruited plain. America, America, God shed his grace on thee.”* As we come to thee, thanking thee for thy goodness, thanking thee for thy kindness, thanking thee for the goodness and the joy and the love that you share with each and every one of us, we ask at this time as we prepare to depart from this place—yet never from thy presence—that you would continue to be with all of us—all of our families and friends and places that we come from—that as we continue to do thy will, you will continue to be with each and every one of us. Let us continue to experience the joy and the responsibility of freedom. Let us continue to experience the freedom that you have given to each and every one of us that we might act in thy will and that we might act responsibly. Now we ask as we journey down the highways to our various places of abode that you would be with us and allow us to come back to this place, where we will continue to do the business of the Old North State. These things we pray in your name, and all of the people said, ‘Amen.’”

CALENDAR (continued)

S.J.R. 718, A JOINT RESOLUTION HONORING THE LIFE AND MEMORY OF HARRIS BLAKE, FORMER MEMBER OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY, upon second reading.

Without objection, the Joint Resolution is read in its entirety.

Upon motion of Senator Pate, without objection, the debate on S.J.R. 718 and all subsequent comments about the former Senator Harris Blake are spread upon the journal as follows:

SENATOR TILLMAN: "Members of the Senate, it's very fitting that we do this for Senator Blake. He and I were friends many years before we came to the Senate in the session of 2003. We came in as freshmen that year, and I went back today and sat there in my old seat 48 and Harris's seat 47, and I sat there to reminisce a little bit about some conversations we used to have. You know, when you're on the back row, cameras are not on you, you can take a nap, you can leave or whatever you want to do—and I would do that from time to time. Senator Blake was a true gentleman. I've never been accused of that, but he was a real gentleman, and if you knew Harris you absolutely were going to like Harris Blake. His word was his bond. He came up in the business world. You remember he was orphaned at the age of five. He started out as a clerk in a hardware store—he finally owned the hardware store, finally developed that whole business park there. It's still there and doing well. Then it became Blake Realty, and it's doing well. He left a huge footprint on Moore County. You can mention that name today and people will tell you that he was a man of integrity, absolutely a man of honor, and he was a good friend. He would ask me once in a while, he said: 'Jerry, do you reckon we'll ever be on the front row?' I said, 'Harris, it don't look it. I doubt it.' He said, 'I wonder what it would be like?' Well, he lived to see that day. Joy, his daughter, and David Blake and Trudy and Dr. Xie, they're up there today. Mr. President, I know you'll recognize them a little later. But, Dr. Xie, you were his China liaison buddy, and you got this North Carolina China Business Council going that's still going today, and Harris went to China with you and went other places, and you brought the pilot's body back, and he thought the world of you and that relationship. I'm hoping that we've got somebody here that can pick that up and sort of take on that role that Harris was performing. But, I remember well when his wife, Barbara, died, and she was a really genteel, Southern lady. When she passed away, Joy, you know this and you know it well, it took a lot out of Harris. She was his confidant, his social secretary, and she made sure the yard was mowed and all those little things that wives do, but she was definitely a Southern lady. I think he met her when she was probably a cheerleader in high school, going way, way back. I think that's the story I remember Harris telling me. Something you all don't know, unless you paid attention back then, our Reading Clerk, Lee Settle, drove Harris back and forth the last, I don't know, probably two or three years, and when there were events at night Lee Settle, right here, would bring him up to those events and take him back. Lee was there the day he passed away, at his bedside, so Lee was about as close to Senator Blake—probably closer than any of us. My relationship with Harris, like I said, transcends by a long time our coming to the Senate, and I thought the world of him and looked up to him and respected him a great deal, and I think it's only fitting that we honor and memorialize Harris Blake—a true gentleman, very, very much a big, big player in the history of Moore County. Representative Boles, you would agree with that, wouldn't you? You've been down there most of your life. I just want to say that I wish the family well. I know Joy is carrying on a lot of the businesses there, and they're still going and he's still an impact, and, Senator Blake, we love you, my friend."

SENATOR BROCK: "Thank you, Jerry. You know one thing you talked about the other day—about my family—one thing I inherited from my father was some of his friends. One of the first people I remember meeting in politics was Harris. It was my job to put stickers on people for them—or then it was little buttons—and from that time on, even though he wasn't successful when he ran for Congress in the '80's, every time he would see me at any event or anything else, he knew me by name, and he'd come up and make it a point to come up and talk to me. That meant a lot to me. Even when he was up here in the Senate, Harris would always take time to talk to the interns, talk to the pages, to get them really involved and to reach out to them, and knowing about how he felt about trying to help the children of today and how much of an interest he took in their lives and their activities. I'll keep this short, and I just never forget what my Dad first said the first time I met Harris. He said, 'Son, this is Harris Blake. He's a good man.' I urge you to support the resolution."

SENATOR PATE: “Ladies and gentleman, for people who come here to visit our chamber and don’t get any closer to the desks than up in the balcony, they may not realize it, but attached to each desk is a plaque, and on the plaque is inscribed the names of the senators who have occupied that desk over the years. My seat, which is number 9, has, just above my name, the name of Harris Blake when he served his term as Deputy President Pro Tem of the Senate. I feel honored to follow him in this seat. In 2011, when I was first elected to the Senate—you know how we go through the drill of office assignments, which office you’re going to get, how much floor space you’ll have and all that. Well, I was assigned to something like a broom closet over in the LOB, being my first term in the Senate. The broom closet sized room was part of the suite that Senator Blake had assigned to him, and so we shared not only that space, but we shared a lot of stories and tales and fun times, and I shared with his philosophy of governance and the very conservative ideas that that man had. I enjoyed those two years with him and then the remaining two years when I got moved out of there over to the Medicaid bunker in this building. Harris meant a lot to me, and I know that he has several investments around in various businesses and all, but I don’t believe he had much money in the oil business, and I want to illustrate with one point. Harris and I were to drive down to a conference in Atlanta, Georgia, and I lived about 100 miles east of him, and he wanted me to come by and pick him up in Pinehurst, and we would drive together from there down to Atlanta. When I got to his home he had his car out on the driveway, and he said, ‘Let’s drive my car,’ and I said, ‘O.K.,’ so I started getting in on the passenger side. He said, ‘No, no, no, I want you to drive,’ and so we started out that way. Would you know that a Buick Electra can make it from Pinehurst to Atlanta back to Pinehurst almost on a full tank of gas? South Carolina—I don’t know what it is about South Carolina, but their gas prices are quite a bit lower than ours. I must admit that Harris had a favorable notion in mind about the price of gas in South Carolina because he was determined that we were going to get that car back to South Carolina before it ran out of gas. He was almost right. The last 20 steps on that trip, I pushed the car up to the gas pump. On a more serious note, you know, we can’t do our jobs without our legislative assistants and all of the other people who keep our offices going, and, Mr. President, Anna Kidd, who was the L.A. for Senator Blake for his entire time in the Senate, is up in the gallery today, and I hope that she will be recognized as part of the official family. For the family of Senator Blake, we enjoyed his tenure with us and all the funny tales he had to tell, and we certainly miss him dearly today. I recommend the resolution to you.”

SENATOR BLUE: “Ladies and gentlemen, I knew Senator Blake, and there’s a line in the resolution—lines 6 and 7 on the second page—that says that ‘he will be remembered as a true Southern gentleman who treated everyone with respect and dignity.’ I can’t think of any truer statement about Senator Blake. He was one of the most respectful individuals I’ve ever known. For someone—when I first met him in the ‘60’s or ‘70’s—to be as respectful for someone young enough to be a son or a grandson is almost unprecedented nowadays. It might used to have been the case, but he was, and he was sincere in that respect that he showed everybody. He was a very accommodating person. I'd talk to him on occasions, when I came back to the legislature, about a multitude of things, and he always had an interest in what you were talking about. I had several connections to Moore County, both personal with extended family as well as business associations and relationships down there, and he was always inquiring about them—knowledgeable about everything. One of his very good friends was an extended relative of mine. He was genteel; I guess that's the best way to put it. As I think about what these two lines mean, I think that Harris embodied it better than most individuals I've known across my lifetime. He was very caring, he was empathetic—even before and after he moved from the back row to the front row. He wanted to know what issues concerned you and what he could do to help you with those issues. Even when he, intentionally or not, may have not been on the same side with you on issues, he came back to talk to you about them, so he understood that. I think one of the real joys of serving in this legislature is having the privilege to serve with people that you know are genuine—people that you know care very much not only about what you are debating at the moment, but care about you individually, and I think that Senator Blake embodied that as much, if not more, than any individual that I've served with over the last three decades up here.”

SENATOR MCKISSICK: “I likewise had that privilege and honor of serving with Senator Blake when he was on the back row there. Senator Debbie Clary was over there too, and I was ahead of them on the seating podium over there, but we had many conversations. He shared an excellent sense of humor. He was always someone who was warm, always somebody that was friendly, and always somebody who was receptive to listening, even when there were close bills where there might have been people that, for whatever the reasons might have been, could not support something I was trying to advocate for in terms of legislation. I don't think there was hardly a single occasion that I couldn't go to Senator Blake and make an appeal—and he was able to help me out most of the time. If you want to look at a role model for a public servant, you look at the attributes of Senator Blake. He was a class act, a true gentleman, well respected, well regarded, but very, very principled, an outstanding advocate for the constituents who he represented, but, more importantly, he was always receptive, always able to extend a hand, and whatever the circumstances were, he was somebody whom you could confide in. When you sit next to people in the chamber year after year, you get to know those people around you. Senator Blake was sincere and genuine in what he was; it wasn't a pretense. When you saw Senator Blake, you knew that he stood up for what he believed, and while we didn't always agree, he was someone who not only earned my respect, he deserved my respect, and this body is humbled by the public service that he provided. I thank him and his family for sharing those many dedicated years with us, but, more importantly, wherever he may be today, I'm sure he's standing up forthright, passionately, in a principled way for the voices that may be unheard, for the principles that he believes in, with a compassionate ear for public service.”

SENATOR APODACA: “I can hear Harris now saying, ‘O.K., that’s enough, let’s move on.’ But the first thing I’d like to say is, Senator Pate, you probably are glad you drove and not Harris. After Mrs. Blake passed, who we all felt was part of the family and loved her—what a wonderful, wonderful woman she was—Harris drove himself for a while. My goodness, every other week the car had another ding, so, Lee, we were all happy when you came on board to help your good friend. The two things I remember about Harris—one is that voice. Senator Ford, you have that voice, Senator Lowe, you have that voice, but when he spoke it rattled in here, and it would draw your attention, and it was just a wonderful voice he had. He had a wicked sense of humor. A lot of people didn’t know that, but, Senator Smith-Ingram, Senator Lowe, you’re going to appreciate this. Senator Stein, I think you’ll remember this story. We were in Commerce, and someone had brought forth one of those bottle bills where you collect deposits and bring it in, and they had a church group there saying they would set up various redemption centers for the bottles. Well Senator Blake, in that voice, broke out and said, ‘Well, isn’t every church a redemption center?’ I mean, it just carried the day. I mean, it was what we needed in the meeting, and it was so appropriate. Now Harris was a little tight with a dollar—I think all of us knew that, we talked about the gas in South Carolina, but, Senator Alexander, you’ll appreciate this one. We went down to a fundraising golf tournament for Harris, and that’s the first time I met you. You didn’t make a putt all day, really didn’t help the team at all, but we were glad to have you along. So, we came in second or something, I think, did pretty well. Jamie, you’ll appreciate this—yeah, you did great—you did—oh, these freshmen—but anyway, the prize was one sleeve of a cheap golf ball, and he made the members pay the entry fee. You know, we didn’t get a break for coming down and participating with him, and I asked, ‘Is this the best you can do.’ He said, ‘I’m here to raise money, not give it out,’ and I’ll remember that. He was a Southern gentleman, no doubt, and he lived the American dream. We miss him, and I know where he is, he’s upstairs looking down on us. I ask you to support the resolution.”

SENATOR MCINNIS: “I’m going to come at it from a little different perspective because I didn’t have the privilege to serve with Harris, but my great-grandmother was born in Jackson Springs. That allowed my family, for over 200 years, to be friends with his family, and we cherished our friendship with the Blake family that whole time. Harris was an entrepreneur before the word ‘entrepreneur’ was in the dictionary. He wrote the book on it. We’ve heard that he came to work as a clerk there at Pinehurst Hardware, and that is exactly the truth, and he worked there long, hard, diligently, and dedicated. The owner of that store took a liking to him, and the owner of that store gave him the opportunity to be that owner that day. Harris told me on many occasions, he said, ‘I never would have been able to do that without that good man financing that opportunity for me to be that business owner and to be that entrepreneur,’ which he, again, expanded that business into three other operations as well as the many other ventures that he was in. He was a humble man, and he came from humble beginnings. If you’ve never had the opportunity to go to Jackson

Springs, I would challenge you to go there. It's on Highway 73; it's in the western part of Moore County and the eastern part of Richmond County, and it's the way that we go from my property to Pinehurst and to the Pinehurst Hospital and all the grocery stores there. It's one of those towns that it has the city limits sign back to back on the same post, but it's a town that is dearly loved by all who know it and who are from there and who grew up there. Harris would never, ever, ever let you leave his presence without you knowing that he grew up in Jackson Springs, North Carolina, and that's where he was born. I had the opportunity to work with him on his campaign for the United States Congress, and one of the highlights of my life at that time—when one night he brought Jack Kemp down to work with him and to support him in that endeavor. We had a lot of fun; that was a great campaign. It wasn't successful, but because he showed such true leadership ability and such tenacity and perseverance in the campaign, the President of the United States, Ronald Reagan, nominated and directed him to go to work in his sub-cabinet, which was an absolute high honor, and he always said, 'what a feast for somebody from Jackson Springs.' He was a man of absolute integrity and absolute character, dedication, and principle. Everything about him read integrity. We are honored to have had him to be a member of this organization. We're honored that he came our way, and the County of Moore, the State of North Carolina, and the United States of America all are a better place because of Harris Blake. Thank you."

Upon the appearance of Senator Woodard in the chamber, the Chair acknowledges his presence and the leave of absence granted previously is withdrawn.

The Joint Resolution passes its second reading (48-0) and, without objection, is read a third time and passes its third reading, with all present members standing, and is ordered sent to the House of Representatives by special message.

Senator Phil Berger, President Pro Tempore, offers the following remarks about the former Senator Harris Blake:

SENATOR BERGER: "I have a couple of things that I would like to say and some people that we need to recognize. I don't know that I can add anything to what's been said about Senator Blake. He was everything that folks have indicated, and he is someone that I know I miss and I know anyone that knew him misses as well. One of the things about him, to me, that was most interesting was the interest he took in China towards the end of his life. It was something that he approached and pursued with, I'm sure, the same tenacity and dedication that he did in his business efforts because he, it appeared to me, almost singlehandedly connected the State of North Carolina with China, and I don't know if there was a time that I spoke with him that he didn't mention Hunan Province. Every time I talked to him he was talking about Hunan Province, and when he went to China to begin working on bringing back the remains of that American serviceman, it was something that he really dedicated his life to. He thought a great deal not only of the Chinese people and the people in Hunan Province, but I think there was a special place in his heart for Lian Xie—Dr. Xie—because he was constantly talking about the things that he would be working on and the kinds of things that he wanted to see for the relationship between North Carolina and China, so it was something that, I would say, in many respects, capped off at least the professional part of his life, and it was something he spent a great deal of time and effort on. With us today, members, as I'm sure you would want to know, in the gallery are Senator Blake's daughter, Joy Donat, also is Dr. Lian Xie, Trudy Engebretson, David Blake, David Sinclair, and former staff members Anna Kidd, as has been indicated, and Dana Suitis. I would ask if you would please stand to be recognized by the Senate. Thank you for being here."

—Applause—

SENATOR BERGER (continued): "Members, one other person that's been referred to that is actually on the floor is Representative Jamie Boles, who represents Moore County. He has been a special friend of Senator Blake's for a long time. Also present, and has been mentioned, is Lee Settle, who was a close personal friend and has been our Reading Clerk for a number of years. I thank everyone who has made mention of their relationship with Senator Blake; we thank you for sharing him with us. I don't think there is anyone that he met that did not have their lives touched."

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Upon motion of Senator Tarte, the words spoken by Senator Rabin are spread upon the Journal as follows:

July 30, 2015

SENATOR RABIN: “Thank you. I know that as Senator Tucker said, it’s a short day and we might want to get home for the weekend, but every once in a while something happens that will trigger an old man to stand up and try to talk to the younger people especially. We are at a, as far as I’m concerned, from what I have seen of history, we are a nation that’s about to run amok in a world that’s about to run amok. A lot of things are pushing that, and I believe that one of the things is this penchant for political correctness. To me, political correctness is a stifler of the truth not a purveyor of any kind of truth. Not too long ago the University of California came out and had a seminar for their instructors that dealt with terms not to say because it was offensive to people. One of the terms was, ‘It is offensive to someone to say that America is the land of opportunity.’ I want you to know that America is the land of opportunity. If that weren’t true, I wouldn’t be here and the people in this room wouldn’t be here and the people in Washington wouldn’t be where they are. We have all the opportunity in the world if we take the personal responsibility to take advantage of the opportunities that are there. Now I find out this morning that at the University of New Hampshire they have come out with 60 terms that students are not allowed to say. One of those, because it’s offensive, is to say, ‘I am an American.’ Folks in the balcony, all you young people, and all you senators, I am an American, and I am damn proud to be an American, and everyone should be that way, and you should be also. Do not let anyone ever tell you in your classrooms that America isn’t the greatest thing that ever happened on God’s green earth. I want you to carry that with you. I want everyone to carry it with them. We are on a path—I saw live, the first time the newsreels came out, of the book burnings in Nazi Germany. There is no difference between all of this stifling of free speech and the book burnings that the Nazis did. We have got to be careful. Protect your freedoms by standing up for them, especially your right to say what you want. Thank you very much.”

Upon motion of Senator Tucker, seconded by Senator Smith, the Senate adjourns at 10:17 a.m., subject to the standard stipulations set forth in Senate Rule 24.1, the ratification of bills, the receipt of messages from the House of Representatives, and the appointment of conferees, to reconvene Monday, August 3, at 1:30 p.m.

secure in the knowledge that a good person's steps are ordered by you. Lord, help them to remember the poor and the rich, the feeble and the strong, the elderly and the young. Help them to consider the needs of the many as well as the needs of the few. Give them clarity in decision making and humility in the face of power. Lord, protect each member and each member's family from any who might seek to do them harm. Shelter them, Lord, just as you have sheltered leaders in times past. Lord, we pray a special prayer for one called Philip Berger, Sr., for we know that you place both a unique burden and a unique blessing on those charged with the task of leadership. Lord, we thank you for your unending kindness, both to this nation and to this state. We make all these petitions in the name that is above every name. Amen."

Senate Chamber

August 12, 2015

Prayer is offered by The Reverend Dr. Willie T. Ramey III from Ridgeway Missionary Baptist Church, Henderson, North Carolina, as follows:

“Father, we thank you for allowing the breath of life to remain in our bodies to enable us to see another day that we may do your will. Empower the members of this Senate Chamber to explore all the avenues of opportunities to provide for the least of our state’s citizenry, and give encouragement to those who need it. Help our senators to deliberate the business of this Chamber in compassion, concern, sincerity, and integrity. Father, help our senators to always be cognizant of the fact that they were elected to be servants of the people they represent. Prick their consciences so that they are mindful that they are the voice for the voiceless, the hope for the hopeless, and that they are the armor bearers of justice for all of their constituency. We pray that bills in this Chamber will be filled with mercy, quickly passed and speedily enacted so that the masses benefit. Give our senators ears that they may hear the hurting, the displaced, the misunderstood, the sick, the hungry, the unemployed, the elderly, and the youth. When deliberation is concluded today, let the senators’ hearts be filled, minds and consciences be full of awe and pride because they have performed justly, walked humbly, loved mercifully and pleased you, the Father of mankind, with their uprightness. Senators of the North Carolina General Assembly, may you be surrounded by God’s love, comforted by His grace, blessed by His peace, aware of His presence, and filled with His abundant joy. May the Lord bless you with his richest mercy, may His loving care today be in yours forever, and may you sense His presence in your midst. Amen.”

Upon motion of Senator Daniel, without objection, the words spoken about the Joint Resolution are spread upon the Journal as follows:

SENATOR DANIEL: "It's an unfortunate part of life that many times we know wonderful people in our community, but often we do not learn much of their life story until after they pass away. For me, this is true of Senator Dan

Simpson. During most of the time that he served here in the Senate, I was away in college and in the military, and while I voted for him on many occasions, I did not have the opportunity to get to know him as well as I would have liked. So, in preparation for this resolution I talked to my Dad, who knew him as a fellow attorney, and to other local leaders and members of the community where we live. I asked them to tell me what they thought were the qualities that made Dan Simpson the great man that he was, and this is what they told me: [He was] a gentleman's gentleman and as humble a man as you would ever find, always a patriotic American, a World War II veteran and a dedicated family man, a consistent, conservative legislator, whether popular or not, and always in the minority, a good attorney and a good, Christian man. Dan had a contagious sense of humor and didn't take it personally if somebody disagreed with him. He was a friend to anyone who wanted to be a friend to him, and he helped people when they fell on hard times. He helped people financially who were hurting. One said, 'He gave me a job when I needed one;' another said, 'He co-signed a note in 1969 so that me and my wife could buy our first home.' He knew the people of Burke County and what they needed. He was never above people, and he always listened, always wanted to improve the community, was instrumental in bringing a community college to Burke County and did many things for the community that the public never knew. On one occasion, a new middle school was being built, but no one had planned on needing to expand the road in front of the school to accommodate the increased traffic. When this was mentioned to Dan, he drove to Raleigh the next day to talk to DOT about getting the road widened. This was the kind of man that Senator Dan Simpson was. As a small town mayor, a family man and a member of this body, he made his mark on Burke County and on this state, so today to the Senate and to the family who are here, we honor the memory of Senator Dan Simpson, and I recommend the resolution to you."

SENATOR HARTSELL: "Members of the Senate, I think that I may have been the only person here who served with Dan Simpson in the Senate in at least the early '90's. Let me simply echo what the senator has already said. Dan Simpson was an humble man, he was a simple man, and, Senator Jackson, he was a very plainspoken man. He was my seat mate for three terms from whom I learned an immense amount about this body, about the practice of law, and, frankly, about life. He was a sportsman, Senator Newton, of the first magnitude. Even more than that, he was a fiscal conservative of a plenipotential magnitude. He did not suffer ignorance well, but he was pleasant in dealing with it. I think it is most appropriate today that we considered the Constitutional Amendment involving the rainy day fund. I say that because it's not commonly known, but 1993 was when we truly first adopted the rainy day fund—when we who are now on the front row were on the back row, and we were down 39-11. Senator Basnight wanted a 50 to nothing vote in support of the Senate budget that year. What Dan Simpson extracted for that—for us—was the rainy day fund, very simply put, very straightforwardly said. He was an extraordinarily fine lawyer; he was a superb public servant. I would consider him to have been my mentor, having sat beside him for six years, first where Senator Stein is sitting—he sat with Senator Robinson—and second, where Senator Meredith is sitting when I sat where Senator Davis is. I simply say this to say that I am, and will always be, in Dan Simpson's debt. He helped me personally, legally, in assisting clients in my own district because he had an extraordinary knowledge of the law. He had an extraordinary knowledge of the functioning of this body in serving in the minority for all those years. He also introduced me to his son, J.R., on the telephone when we were sitting back there during the crime session of '93 as I recall, and I discovered that J.R.—or he told me that J.R.—was a graduate of an institution that my son was extraordinarily interested in attending. It worked out fairly well for him. When I say that I was in debt to Dan, I was in debt to Dan, but I'm also still in debt to that institution that he helped my son to attend. It is very difficult for me to speak about Dan. It's been a while since I've seen him. I was unaware when he passed when he did and was unable to attend the services as a result or I would have because I consider him to have been an extraordinarily fine mentor, the sort of person that cared. You've already heard this from Warren, but he cared about everybody. It didn't matter who you were, what you were doing, but he would help. But then again, he never did attend a session on Thursday."

SENATOR BROCK: "Senator Hartsell was right when he said he was a friend to everyone. When we have these resolutions, so many times those who speak are people that served with them, and there's not a reflection of how staff felt about Senator Dan. Back in the back where I was a Sergeant-at-Arms back in his last session, Dan was a giant of a man as an orator on the floor of the Senate. People that have been here for a while talk about Tony Rand and Ham Horton; I think both Ham and Tony would almost tremble when they had to go against Dan. Senator Hartsell was right—he talked about his plainspoken, but it was just a phenomenal, speaking ability on the floor to just get right to the point and how important it was, and he was a sportsman. One time I followed him down here on I-40, and he had his four-wheeler behind him. He was going to try to do some hunting right after session, and it was...that type of sportsman, Senator Newton. One thing that was so great for him is that my grandfather served in the General Assembly, as a lot of y'all know, but he died before I was born, and I had no connection to him of what my grandfather was like here. So Dan would take the time out of his day to talk to me about serving with my grandfather and who my grandfather was as a legislator down here in Raleigh. I didn't have that connection with any other person, so I am forever grateful for Senator Simpson, a mountain man, a great man, and North Carolina truly misses a great statesman."

The Joint Resolution passes its second reading (44-0) and, without objection, is read a third time and passes its third reading, with all present members standing, and is ordered sent to the House of Representatives by special message.

The Chair grants a leave of absence for the remainder of today's session to Senator Stein.

The Lieutenant Governor invites Retired Colonel Durwood B. Williams, United States Air Force, to address the Senate. Upon motion of Senator D. Davis, Colonel Williams' remarks are spread upon the Journal as follows:

“Never in my wildest dreams have I seen myself standing, speaking in such a forum. I am intimidated. Bear with me with what I have to say. I thank all who helped put this occasion together to honor these World War II veterans. Seventy-three years ago, give or take a few years, they answered to a higher calling and defended the freedom that we enjoy today. Freedom is a fragile state. It's not a thing; it's a state. Every generation is called to defend the freedom that their fathers leave them. I flew as a fighter pilot in the Pacific Theater. The Pacific offered beauty and a threat. Many regions of the Western Pacific are shallow—shallow when you think in terms of oceans. The sun reaches the bottom of the shallow ocean, and coral grows profusely on the ocean floor—on the little islands that dot the ocean. If you fly over them you see a panorama of color—colors of the rainbow—and as you travel you see a lovely changing ocean before you. The Pacific offered also a threatening environment. We flew long missions, long flights, with no landmarks to steer by, no navigation equipment, no radio points to steer by. We flew a compass heading and watched the clock and at the estimated time of arrival we hoped to find the target. Most times we did. On the return flight we hoped to find home base and a place to land, remembering Amelia Earhart all the way home. If you count the operational losses and the combat losses, 40 percent of our air crews did not come home. They rest today in a watery grave, still defending our freedom. My group flew escort missions over Kyushu, the southernmost home island of Japan, escorting reconnaissance airplanes taking pictures of the beaches on the southern coast of Kyushu. At the same time, a huge convoy remained at anchor in a lagoon called Ulithi, 350 miles south of Guam, waiting for orders to steer north and land on those beaches. Those orders never came. Two atomic bombs dropped on Japan, and the war ended. Many, many ‘Sunday morning quarterbacks’ have condemned

August 18, 2015

President Truman for ordering those bombs dropped, but I applaud him. Had that force landed on those beaches and continued on to Tokyo, thousands of casualties amongst our troops would have occurred. Equally important, a greater number of the Japanese would have died. The Japanese culture did not permit surrender. The Japanese soldiers, the Japanese civilians, would have fought to the death with guns, pitchforks, sticks, and stones. The World War II Memorial is located on the mall between the Capitol Building and the Monument. In the center of that memorial, a pool contains fountains that toss water into the air to fall freely back into the pool, symbolizing freedom. If you stand facing the west wall, a small pool of water is before you—a small pool of water, quiet water, symbolizing death. On the edge of that pool is an inscription: ‘Here marks the price of freedom.’ On the wall before you, you see row after row after row of gold stars—4,048 in total. Each star represents 100 war deaths. If President Truman had not dropped those bombs, there would have been thousands more stars on that wall. We, today—our country, today—faces threats that, in my judgment, are equal to those we saw in 1939. I trust and I hope and I am confident that a younger generation will hear the call and then defend our freedom about today’s threat. I close with saying, God bless that younger generation. Thank you.”

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Upon motion of Senator Pate, the words spoken by Senator J. Davis about Eagle Scout Cooper Smalley are spread upon the Journal as follows:

SENATOR DAVIS: “Ladies and gentlemen, you were introduced to my constituent, Cooper Smalley, an Eagle Scout from Sylva. I’d like to tell you a little bit about this young man. He’s a tenth grader at Lord and Liberty Academy in Sylva, North Carolina. He has accomplished quite a lot in his 15 years of life. Cooper has been involved in scouting since he was six. He started out as a Cub and now is an Eagle Scout. He has 35 merit badges. To put that into perspective, our Sergeant-at-Arms, Phil King, only earned 27, I understand, and Senator Curtis, 24. Of course, that’s compared to zero from yours truly. Unfortunately, I was near Casablanca, Morocco, with my military Dad at that time, so I didn’t have any. His favorite badge to earn was Shotgun Shooting, and, Phil, did you earn that one? You didn’t have it. His least favorite was Environmental Science because he had to sit in a classroom for eight hours with only 30 minutes of free time for the outdoorsy part. Cooper’s Eagle Scout service project was sponsored by the Lions Club in Sylva. For three years, he assisted with the placement of patriotic flags in the downtown area for all patriotic holidays. Over the decades, the flag holders had fallen into disrepair. Cooper noticed the problem long before he became an Eagle Scout, and he determined that one day he was going to do something about that and he was going to refurbish the flag holders so that they would fly straight and proud. The Boy Scout Oath has traditionally been considered to have three promises. Those are: duty to God and country, duty to other people, and duty to self. Duty to God and country—Cooper, your family and religious leaders have taught you to know and serve God, and by following these teachings you are doing your duty to God. Men and women of the past worked to make America great, and many gave their lives for their country. By being a good family member and a good citizen, working for your country’s good and obeying its laws, you are doing your duty to your country. Duty to other people—many people need help. A cheery smile and a helping hand make life easier for others. By doing a good turn daily and helping when you’re needed, you have proven yourself a scout and do your part to make this a better world. Duty to self—keeping yourself physically strong means taking care of your body, eat the right foods, and build your strength. Staying mentally awake means learn all you can, be curious, and ask questions. Being morally straight means to live your life with honesty, to be clean in your speech and actions, and to be a person of strong character. Cooper, your life is an impressive example of these three promises. You honor this Assembly by being here with us today. Congratulations.”

Defend our liberties; fashion us into a people that might be worthy of thy name. Then we ask that you would continue to bless us with wisdom that we might be able to continue to do thy will as we uplift the downtrodden, as we help those and comfort those that are hurting, as we make ways for those that cannot find a way. Then, when we do that, we ask that you would continue to give us the energy and the courage to do all of the things that you have called us to do. These things we pray in the name of He that orders our steps and meets us with mercy. These things we pray, and all of the people said, 'Amen.'"

SENATE JOURNAL
FIRST SESSION

EDITOR'S NOTES

Pursuant to N.C. Gen. Stat. § 120-11.1, previously amended by Session Law 2012-194, s. 66.5(a), the Senate convened at 9:00 a.m. on January 14, 2015, the second Wednesday in January next after their election, and met solely to elect officers, adopt rules, and otherwise organize the session. When they adjourned that day in accordance with Resolution 2015-1, they stood adjourned until noon on January 28, 2015, at which time the regular business of the Senate began.

A number of bills and resolutions passed second reading and were read a third time on the same day.

Rule 50 states:

No bill on its third reading shall be acted upon out of the regular order in which it stands on the calendar, and no bill shall be acted upon on its third reading the same day on which it passed its second reading, unless so ordered by two-thirds of the membership of the Senate present and voting.

In order to comply with this rule, no bill which has passed its second reading is read a third time unless it is ordered by two-thirds of the membership of the Senate present and voting, there is a rule suspension motion which prevails by at least a three-fifths vote of the membership of the Senate present and voting, or the Chair determines that there is no objection, which constitutes unanimous consent.

When a bill passes its second reading and remains on the calendar for further consideration, the measure is placed on the calendar for the next legislative day in its regular order of business unless indicated otherwise.

Upon a motion offered, the phrase "without objection" reflects a determination by the Chair that there is no objection from a member present, which constitutes unanimous consent, for the order of the Chair.

The five digit numbers appearing throughout the Senate Journal indicate the coded draft number of either the proposed committee substitute or proposed conference committee substitute approved by a committee and submitted to the Senate for consideration.

The Presiding Officer rules whether or not individual bills require a call of the roll. The ruling is made pursuant to Rule 25 and the following citation from Article II, Section 23, of the Constitution of North Carolina, which reads:

Sec. 23 - Revenue bills. No laws shall be enacted to raise money on the credit of the State, or to pledge the faith of the State directly or indirectly for the payment of any debt, or to impose any tax upon the people of the State or to allow the counties, cities, or towns to do so, unless the bill for the purpose shall have been read three several times in each house of the General Assembly and passed three several readings, which readings shall have been on three different days, and shall have been agreed to by each house respectively, and unless the yeas and nays on the second and third readings of the bill shall have been entered on the journal.

The numerical figures which appear in parentheses throughout the Senate Journal represent the affirmative and negative votes cast and recorded electronically, pursuant to Rule 25. Original vote tabulation sheets are deposited in the Division of Archives and History of the Department of Cultural Resources. Voting data may also be obtained at the Legislative Library and on the N.C. General Assembly's website, www.ncleg.net.

Through their electronic web device, Senators are required to use the "Chamber Dashboard" to examine bill drafts eligible for filing, co-sponsor legislation, and view bills, resolutions and amendments for consideration on the chamber floor. A version of the Chamber Dashboard is available on the internet for public use through the N.C. General Assembly's website.

Upon motion, the Senate often stood in recess or adjourned subject to the standard stipulations set forth in Senate Rule 24.1. This rule allows for the introduction of bills and resolutions, the referral and re-referral of bills and resolutions, the reading of Senatorial Statements, and the reading of messages from the Governor while the Senate is in recess or post adjournment.

Several messages received required clarification or modification, as follows:

January 28, 2015—page 51

Gregory Grantham's last name was misspelled in the letter from the Governor appointing him to serve on the N.C. Teachers' and State Employees' Retirement System Board of Trustees. The correct spelling is Grantham.

February 25, 2015—page 131

A letter from the Governor appointing Christopher Loutit to serve on the N.C. Industrial Commission was submitted with the incorrect starting date of the term of office. The Governor submitted a subsequent corrected letter on February 27. Upon confirmation, Mr. Loutit's term of office will begin May 1, 2015.

September 28, 2015—page 1080

A message from the House of Representatives stating that the House adopted the conference report for H.B. 117 is dated September 23 but was not sent to the Senate by the House until September 28. H.B. 117 was ordered enrolled by the House on September 23 and was ratified by both chambers on September 24.

Adopted February 12, 2015 (see pg. 113)

S.R. 47, A SENATE RESOLUTION TO ESTABLISH THE PROCEDURE FOR NOMINATING AND ELECTING MEMBERS OF THE BOARD OF GOVERNORS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA.

Be it resolved by the Senate:

SECTION 1. The following procedures for nominating and electing members of the Board of Governors of The University of North Carolina are adopted:

I. COMMITTEE RESPONSIBILITIES

1. It is the duty of the Senate Select Committee on UNC Board of Governors (hereinafter referred to as the "Senate Committee") to choose nominees for each opening on the Board of Governors of The University of North Carolina to which the Senate is to elect members.

2. The Senate Committee shall receive suggestions of proposed candidates for nomination for election to the Board of Governors of The University of North Carolina from Monday, February 16, 2015, through Monday, February 23, 2015. In 2015, the total number of positions available for election by the Senate is eight, and each position is for a four-year term. A Senator may propose candidates for nomination only for the openings available for election by the Senate. In order for a person to have standing to be considered as a candidate for nomination by the Senate Committee, that person must be formally nominated as a candidate by a member of the Senate. Only a written nomination on a form provided by the Chair of the Senate Committee for that purpose and received in the Office of the Senate Principal Clerk on or after Monday, February 16, 2015, and no later than 5:00 P.M. on Monday, February 23, 2015, shall constitute a formal nomination of a candidate. Delivery to the Office of the Senate Principal Clerk of a nomination form by facsimile transmission or e-mail transmission shall not constitute a formal nomination of a candidate. An individual is not eligible for nomination by a member of the Senate if he or she was nominated for election to the Board of Governors by a member of the House of Representatives during the 2015 Session.

3. Notwithstanding G.S. 138A-22, every person who has been formally nominated shall file a completed North Carolina State Ethics Commission Statement of Economic Interest with the North Carolina State Ethics Commission to be received by the North Carolina State Ethics Commission no later than 5:00 P.M. on Monday, February 23, 2015. The Statement of Economic Interest must clearly state that the person is a candidate who has been nominated for the Board of Governors of The University of North Carolina.

4. On or after February 23, 2015, the Senate Committee shall list all proposed candidates for nomination. The Senate Committee shall screen the proposed candidates for nomination as to their qualifications and background and may interview each one to make sure that suitable persons are nominated. The Senate Committee shall ascertain that each candidate for nomination is willing and able to serve and has no statutory disability. On completion of the screening process, the Senate Committee shall conduct a vote to ensure that the slate of legally qualified candidates lists no more than twice the number of candidates for the total seats open.

5. The Chair of the Senate Committee shall ascertain whether the nominees for election by the Senate would serve if elected. Any nominee may withdraw without the approval of the sponsor.

6. Senate Committee nominees shall be placed before and recommended to the Senate for election.

II. ELECTIONS IN THE SENATE

1. A ballot shall be prepared under the supervision of the Chair of the Senate Committee for the use of the Senate.

2. The ballot shall list only the names of those nominees proposed by the Senate Committee who have consented to run and for whom the Senate is entitled to vote. Their names shall be arranged alphabetically by surname.

3. The Senate shall hold its election no later than Wednesday, March 18, 2015. Before the voting begins, the Chair of the Senate Committee shall explain the voting rules, which are:

- (a) No nomination shall be received from the floor.
- (b) In order to be chosen, a nominee must receive the votes of a majority of all members present and voting.

(c) Each member present and voting shall vote for as many nominees as there are positions to be filled, and any ballot not so marked shall be deemed void.

(d) If fewer than eight nominees receive the votes of a majority of all members present and voting, a runoff to fill the open position or positions shall be conducted among the nominees who were not elected but who received the highest numbers of votes cast; and the number of nominees eligible to be voted on in the runoff shall be twice the number of positions to be filled.

(e) If there is a tie for the last position between two nominees who are eligible for the next runoff, both nominees shall be included in the next runoff balloting, even though there would be more than two nominees per available position, unless the deciding vote is cast in accordance with the North Carolina Constitution, Article II, Section 13.

(f) If more than eight nominees receive the votes of a majority of all members present and voting, then the eight nominees receiving the highest numbers of votes shall be deemed to have been chosen.

4. The Senators shall proceed to mark their ballots for eight persons, each to serve four-year terms. Every ballot shall be signed by the Senator casting it, and no unsigned ballots shall be counted.

5. The Chair of the Senate Committee shall be responsible for canvassing the vote and declaring the results. All ballots shall be retained by the Principal Clerk as part of the permanent records of the Senate and shall be open for immediate public inspection.

6. When the Chair of the Senate Committee has determined that the Senate has chosen eight persons to serve as members of the Board of Governors for terms of four years, the President of the Senate shall entertain a motion for the simultaneous election of those persons by the Senate to the indicated positions and for the indicated terms. The vote shall then be called electronically. If a majority of those voting shall vote "aye" and the vote is orally confirmed, those eight persons named in the motion shall be declared to have been elected to the Board of Governors by the Senate.

7. The results of the election in the Senate shall then be sent by Special Messenger to the House.

III. NOTIFICATION OF ELECTION RESULTS

When the election process is complete, the Chair of the Senate Committee shall notify the Secretary of the Board of Governors of The University of North Carolina of the names of the persons elected by the Senate and of the term for which each person was elected.

SECTION 2. As used in this resolution, the term "Chair" means the Chair of the Senate Select Committee on UNC Board of Governors.

Submitted by Senator Robinson, January 29, 2015 (see pg. 58)

WHEREAS, on February 1, 1960, Ezell Blair, Jr., David Richmond, Joseph McNeil, and Franklin McCain, freshmen at North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University (A&T), boldly and courageously stood against obstinately resistant segregation in this country by sitting at the all-white lunch counter in the F.W. Woolworth department store in Greensboro, North Carolina, and demanding service; and

WHEREAS, on the following days, the determination and boldness of these young men forced them to return to the store along with other A&T students and sit at the counter, which drew widespread media attention and brought focus to discriminatory practices against African-Americans in the South and highlighted the courage of these A&T students; and

WHEREAS, when the fourth President of A&T, Warmoth T. Gibbs, was asked by Greensboro city leaders to preclude the students' activities and keep them on campus, he responded, "We teach our students how to think, not what to think," allowing the demonstrations to continue uninterrupted; and

WHEREAS, the A&T Four's sit-in fueled the movement to desegregate public facilities in this country and led to sleep-ins in segregated motels, kneel-ins in segregated churches, and swim-ins in segregated pools resulting in more than 70,000 people participating in similar demonstrations across the country by August 1961; and

WHEREAS, the actions of these brave young people were instrumental in the adoption of anti-discriminatory laws and policies that have led to a more diverse nation; and

WHEREAS, to acknowledge and honor the sacrifices and actions of the A&T students and many others, activities have been planned to commemorate the 55th anniversary of the Greensboro sit-ins;

“INTERNATIONAL YEAR OF SOILS” IN NORTH CAROLINA

Submitted by Senator B. Jackson, August 19, 2015 (see pg. 983)

WHEREAS, the 68th United Nations General Assembly declared 2015 as the “International Year of Soils”; and

WHEREAS, the residents of North Carolina depend on healthy soils, water, and clean air to sustain their quality of life, and

WHEREAS, North Carolina's many agricultural and natural resource industries depend on soil biodiversity and nutrients to produce commodities for our communities; and

WHEREAS, in addition to producing commodities, soil filters water, acts as a rooting support for plants that provide the oxygen we breathe and the fibers for our materials and acts as a structural support for our infrastructure; and

WHEREAS, Soil Scientists and Soil Conservationists work collaboratively with professionals of other disciplines, such as professional geologists, surveyors and civil engineers, to service the needs of thousands of businesses to help them meet their respective goals in both urban and rural settings; and

WHEREAS, many North Carolina academic institutions, including North Carolina State University, North Carolina A&T University and Duke University, have well-established academic programs which educate individuals in the practice and science of soil; and

WHEREAS, coinciding with this historic year for soils, the Smithsonian DIG IT! The Secrets of Soil exhibit is on display in North Carolina, and the Soil and Water Conservation Society is celebrating its 70th Annual International Conference in North Carolina.

WHEREAS, members of the North Carolina's Hugh Hammond Bennett Chapter of Soil and Water Conservation Society have undertaken the role to work with professionals and peers in informing the state's residents, businesses and municipalities about the need to understand the importance of soil science; therefore be it

NOW, THEREFORE, that the North Carolina General Assembly recognize 2015 as the "International Year of Soils" in order to increase awareness of the importance of soil and soil science to residents of this state.

RECOGNIZING WOMEN'S EQUALITY DAY AND THE CONTINUED MARCH TOWARDS EQUALITY

Submitted by Senator Waddell, August 26, 2015 (see pg. 997)

WHEREAS, on August 26, 1920, the 19th Amendment to the United States Constitution was ratified, granting full women's suffrage. This accomplishment came after decades of protest and a movement to better the lives of women in the United States and to establish equal rights in their role in democracy; and

WHEREAS, Women's Equality Day not only acknowledges the passage of the 19th Amendment but also calls attention to the continued fight for equal rights in the workforce, the collegiate arena, organizations, and the public eye; and

WHEREAS, much progress has been made to strengthen the rights and privileges of women in the United States. Women have united to ensure their mothers, sisters, and daughters are not treated as second-class citizens; and

WHEREAS, as of today in 2015, the promise of full women's equality has yet to be realized. There is more work to be done to eliminate gender inequality, discrimination, and violence against women; and

WHEREAS, let us celebrate the victories won for women's equality and continue to stride forward with a steeled mind and a firm grip on our future, fighting for the rights of women to be equal with the rights of men;

NOW, THEREFORE, the women of the General Assembly, the women of this State, the women of this nation, and the women of this world should be recognized in our efforts to better the existence we have been granted.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the undersigned certifies that the foregoing statement was read in the Senate and placed upon the Journal on the twenty-sixth day of August, 2015.

WHEREAS, Tom Ross has served as President of the UNC system since January 1, 2011; and

WHEREAS, during his tenure, Tom has built a strong and capable leadership team within UNC General Administration, recommended to the UNC Board of Governors the election of 12 new chancellors, led the development and implementation of UNC's focused, data-informed five-year strategic plan, and maneuvered the system through very challenging economic times, including allocation of some of the largest budget cuts in UNC's history; and
