EXPLANATION OF SENATE BILL 1092:
Eliminate State Food Tax

TO: Senate Finance Committee
FROM: Martha Walston, Committee Counsel
DATE: May 12, 1998
SPONSOR: Senator Hoyle

Senate Bill 1092 reduces the State sales tax on food from 2% to 1%, effective November 1, 1998, and repeals the State sales tax on food, effective July 1, 1999. The bill also creates a new section to the Sales and Use Tax Article that exempts food from the State sales and use tax. This section is effective July 1, 1999.

In 1996, the General Assembly reduced the State sales tax on food from 4% to 3%, effective January 1, 1997. Last year, the General Assembly reduced the State sales tax on food from 3% to 2%, effective July 1, 1998. These reductions, as well as the reduction and then repeal of the tax in SB 1092, apply to food that may be purchased with food stamps. Federal law determines what can be purchased with food stamps and, therefore, what food is subject to the reduced State sales tax rate.

Examples of food items that are subject to the reduced State sales tax rate are fruits, vegetables, bread, meat, fish, milk, snack foods such as candy, gum, soft drinks, and chips, distilled water, ice, tomato plants, fruit trees, and cold prepared food for home consumption. Items that are not considered food items under federal law and therefore remain subject to the 4% State sales tax include alcoholic beverages, tobacco products, pet food, prepared foods that are hot at the point of sale and are therefore ready for immediate consumption, such as a broiled chicken kept in a heated display case, and food, such as a hamburger, a pastry, or soup, that is marketed to be heated on the premises of the retailer in a microwave oven or other heating device.

Neither SB 1092 nor any of the past reductions in the food tax affect the local 2% sales tax on food.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The first reduction from 2% to 1% is effective November 1, 1998 and the second reduction from 1% to 0 is effective July 1, 1999.

BILL SUMMARY: The 1996 General Assembly lowered the state sales tax on food items intended for home consumption (defined as those items eligible for purchase with Food Stamps) from 4% to 3%, effective January 1, 1998. The 1997 General Assembly lowered the sales tax on food from 3% to 2% effective July 1, 1998. This proposed bill reduces the state tax from 2% to 1% on November 1, 1998 and from 1% to 0 on July 1, 1999.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: The original source of data for the estimate was a 1961 field survey conducted by field auditors of the Department of Revenue assigned to tabulate the impact of eliminating the tax exemption on food. Over the years these numbers have been updated for growth with data from the monthly "type of business establishment" reports of the Department of Revenue. Data from a special tabulation of the Department of Revenue for February and March 1997 indicates that the estimates used in previous fiscal notes are on target.

As a check on the data, estimates of food tax exemptions from other states have been reviewed. Furthermore, the estimates are consistent with nationwide food consumption data compiled by the U. S. Department of Commerce (and allocated to North Carolina by the Fiscal Research Division). Based on federal data, the estimated 3% annual growth in food tax purchases is also on target.

With a November 1 effective date, the first year revenue loss is for eight months minus a lag between the retail sale and the remittance of the tax in November. The full year cost of the 1998 reduction will be in FY 1999-00. The July 1, 1999 reduction will also be less than 12 months of revenue loss due to a lag between the retail sale and the remittance of the tax. The full year cost of that 1 cent reduction will be in FY 2000-01.

Explanation of State/Local Retiree Lawsuit -- Bailey
Revised May 14, 1998

TO: Senate Finance Committee
FROM: Legislative Staff
DATE: May 19, 1998

Ruling. On May 8, 1998, the North Carolina Supreme Court ruled against the State in the Bailey case. The background for and history of this case are set out below. The North Carolina Supreme Court's decision means that the State will have to reimburse taxpayers for State income taxes paid on their State, local, and federal pensions since 1989, and exempt these pensions in future tax years for those taxpayers whose pensions had vested as of August 12, 1989. A correction issued by the Court on May 14,1998, states that the refunds and the exemption apply to the entire pensions of those employees who were vested as of August 12, 1989, not just to the benefits attributable to service before August 12, 1989. The case applies only to State and local retirees but the same relief must be granted to federal retirees under the federal doctrine of intergovernmental tax immunities. The Court held that both protesters and nonprotesters are entitled to refunds.

The case now returns to the trial court to administer the refunds, determine attorneys fees, and resolve other matters. There are many unanswered questions. Staff of the Attorney General's Office, the Department of Revenue, and the General Assembly will continue researching the issues and provide answers as soon as possible.

Costs. The recurring cost of the exemption for State, local, and federal retirees could be a as much as $128.6 million annually.[1] In addition, there would be a one-time cost of refunds for tax years 1989-97 to all State, local, and federal who paid taxes on benefits attributable to pre-1989 service. The total cost of refunds plus interest is estimated at nearly $1.06 billion (one-time). The Court affirmed the lower court's order that 15% of the refunds must be deducted from the refunds, to be used to pay attorneys fees and costs and expenses related to the litigation and the administration of the refunds.

[1] Because detailed data is not yet available, this estimate includes all benefits without regard to vesting date. The estimate may, therefore, include benefits being paid to retirees who had not vested in 1989 and thus are not eligible for the tax exclusion. For this reason, the actual cost may be lower. An estimated $45.5 million of the total estimated cost would be attributable to State and local retirees and $83.1 million to federal retirees. This recurring cost will grow but then will eventually phase out as 1989-vested retirees die.

It is not clear at this time whether these refunds must be made immediately or may be made in installments. The lower court opinion, affirmed by the Court, provided a complex mechanism combining tax credits and refunds. This mechanism may not be administrable as a practical matter. However the refunds are administered, the Department of Revenue will undoubtedly need additional funds for personnel and computer needs to carry out their duties in this matter.

30-Day Rule. The Court did not invalidate the 30-day rule completely, but appears to have held that if a taxpayer pays under protest and initiates litigation, all other similarly situated taxpayers benefit from the protest if the litigation succeeds. It is quite possible that this ruling would be applied to the intangibles tax nonprotesters who received no relief for the 1991-94 tax years and have appealed their case to the North Carolina Supreme Court. The cost of refunds to these nonprotesters, with interest, for the 1991-94 tax years would be approximately $338.1 million (one-time). It seems less likely that it would be applied retroactively to the federal retiree nonprotesters who received some but not complete relief for the tax they paid on their retirement benefits for 1985-88.

Relief Unlikely. The State plans to ask the North Carolina Supreme Court for a re-hearing in order to reconsider its judgment. Because the opinion was unanimous regarding the refunds to protesters, it is unlikely to change. The court may agree to reconsider its ruling on the nonprotesters, however, or to reexamine other issues.

The State would probably have the right to ask the United States Supreme Court to review the case. Although the case was brought under federal constitutional provisions (prohibiting impairment of contracts and taking of property without just compensation), the State's defense was based on a State constitutional provision (prohibiting the State from contracting away its taxing power). Thus, because the basis for the rejection of the State's defense chiefly involves a State issue, rather than a federal issue, it may not be possible to have the case reviewed by the United States Supreme Court. If the State seeks review, we would probably not know whether review was granted until fall of 1998.

If it asks the United States Supreme Court to review the case, the State would probably also ask the North Carolina Supreme Court to stay (freeze) the judgment until the United States Supreme Court made a decision. It is not known whether a stay would be granted.

Background

In 1989, the United States Supreme Court ruled in Davis v. Michigan that the doctrine of intergovernmental tax immunity prohibits a state from taxing federal retirement income at a higher rate than State retirement income. Prior to 1989, North Carolina allowed a $3,000 income tax exclusion for federal and military retirees and allowed a full income exclusion for State retirement income. To comply with the Davis decision, the General Assembly in 1989 allowed all government retirees, both State and federal, a $4,000 exclusion. The General Assembly increased the amount of retirement benefits paid to State retirees to help offset the impact of the tax on their retirement income. It also gave private retirees a $2,000 exclusion.

In 1990, State and local retirees sued North Carolina regarding the 1989 change of their tax exemption from a 100% exemption to an exemption for the first $4,000 in government retirement benefits received each year. This case is known as Bailey I. The plaintiffs claimed that the reduction of their retirement benefits was unconstitutional and sought refunds of taxes paid in 1989 and later years. Upon appeal from a trial court decision in favor of the plaintiffs, the North Carolina Supreme Court ruled that the plaintiffs were entitled to no relief because they had failed to comply with the 30-day protest rule; the United States Supreme Court declined to review the decision.

In 1992, Bailey II was filed as a class action on behalf of all State and local retirees who individually complied with the 30-day protest requirement for the 1989, 1990, and 1991 tax years. The plaintiffs' chief claim was that the taxation of State and local retirement income is a breach of contract and violates the federal constitutional prohibition against impairment of contracts. The State's response is that (1) the tax exemption for state and local pension income that existed prior to 1989 was not a contractual right and (2) the North Carolina Constitution does not allow the General Assembly to contract away its taxing authority.

In May 1995, the trial court ruled in favor of the plaintiffs, holding that taxation of retirement benefits earned and vested before August 12, 1989, is a breach of contract, violates the State and federal constitutional prohibitions against impairment of contracts, violates the State prohibition against retrospective tax laws, violates the federal due process clause, and, with regard to judges, retrospectively reduces their salaries in violation of the North Carolina Constitution. The court voided the 1989 act of the General Assembly that repealed the 100% tax exemption for State and local retirement benefits, as it applies to benefits earned and vested before August 12, 1989.

The State appealed the trial court decision and expedited the appeal to the North Carolina Supreme Court (bypassing the North Carolina Court of Appeals). The Court heard arguments in September 1996 but did not issue its opinion until May 1998.

The lien is created at the date of death of the decedent and continues until the tax is paid, 10 years have elapsed since the date of the decedent's death, or the lien is released. A lien is released when the Secretary issues a tax waiver for the lien, the Secretary issues an inheritance tax certificate, or the personal representative files a tax certification with the clerk of superior court. A tax waiver may be filed in the office of the register of deeds of each county where the property is located. No formalities as to acknowledgment, probate, or approval by any officer are required as a condition to filing. The filing of a tax waiver is conclusive evidence that the real property described in the waiver is not subject to a lien for taxes imposed by this Article."

Section 7. G.S. 105-24 reads as rewritten:

"§ 105-24. ~~Tax waiver required for transfer of decedents' property in some cases; inventory of lock boxes; withdrawal of bank deposits, etc., payable to either husband or wife or survivor.~~ Inventory of safe-deposit boxes.

~~(a) No safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank, or other institution, person or persons having in possession or control or custody, in whole or in part, securities, deposits, assets, or property belonging to or standing in the name of a decedent, or belonging to or standing in the joint names of decedent and one or more persons, shall deliver or transfer the same to any person whatsoever, whether in a representative capacity or not, or to the survivor or to the survivors when held in the joint names of a decedent and one or more persons, without retaining a sufficient portion or amount thereof to pay taxes or interest assessed under this Article on property transferred by the decedent; but the Secretary of Revenue may consent in writing to such delivery or transfer, and such consent shall relieve said safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank or other institution, person or persons from the obligation herein imposed. EXPLANATION OF SENATE BILL 1229:
Abolish Inheritance Tax Waivers

TO: Senate Finance Committee
FROM: Martha Walston, Committee Counsel
DATE: May 25, 1998
SPONSOR: Senator Shaw of Guilford

Senate Bill 1229 is a recommendation of the Revenue Laws Study Committee.

Current Law

G.S. 105-24 currently requires that when a person dies, the Department of Revenue must be notified of any accounts, stocks, and bonds in the name of the decedent and of the contents in decedent's safe-deposit box. The Department then issues inheritance tax waivers authorizing the bank or financial institution in possession of the decedent's property to transfer or release the property. Accounts held by the decedent and spouse with right of survivorship do not require a waiver before transfer.

Senate Bill 1229

The Bill deletes all language in G.S. 105-24 requiring the inheritance tax waivers, and repeals sections of the Inheritance Tax Article regarding penalties for failure to obtain waivers and forms required for the waivers. The Bill retains the requirement that the Secretary of Revenue must be notified of payments of proceeds of a life insurance policy when the payments are the result of the death of the individual who owned the policy and was the named insured under the policy. Notification is also required of the initial payment of an annuity or initial distribution of an IRA when the payment or distribution is the result of the death of the annuitant or owner of the IRA. However, notification is not required in the following instances:

1. When the payment or distribution is to a surviving spouse.
2. When the payment or distribution is to a class A beneficiary and the proceeds of the policy or the total amount paid under the annuity or distributed under the IRA do not exceed $100,000.

Senate Bill 1229 clarifies that inheritance taxes are a lien on real property in the decedent's estate and makes technical changes to the Inheritance Tax Article.

The Department of Revenue supports the abolishment of inheritance tax waivers, because the lien on the decedent's property is adequate security for payment of inheritance taxes. Also, most estates do not have to pay inheritance taxes. The abolishment of tax waivers also relieves the burden on the public to apply for and receive tax waivers when administering a decedent's estate. The Department feels that the tax waiver requirement creates a burden to the public that is much greater than any benefit derived.

SENATE BILL 1230

Short Title: Motor Fuel Tax Changes. (Public)

Sponsors: Senators Kerr, Cochrane, Dalton, Hartsell, and Hoyle.

Referred to: Finance.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO EXEMPT RACING GASOLINE FROM THE PER GALLON EXCISE TAX, TO CLARIFY THE TAXATION OF KEROSENE, AND TO MAKE OTHER CHANGES IN THE MOTOR FUEL TAX LAWS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. G.S. 105-449.39 reads as rewritten:

"§ 105-449.39. Credit for payment of motor fuel tax.

Every motor carrier subject to the tax levied by this Article is entitled to a credit for tax paid by the carrier on fuel purchased in the State. A motor carrier who files a quarterly report is entitled to a credit at a rate equal to the flat cents-per-gallon rate plus the variable cents-per-gallon rate of tax in effect during the quarter for which the credit is claimed. A motor carrier who files an annual report is entitled to a credit at a rate equal to the flat cents-per-gallon rate plus the average of the two variable cents-per-gallon rates of tax in effect during the year for which the credit is claimed. To obtain a credit, the motor carrier must furnish evidence satisfactory to the Secretary that the tax for which the credit is claimed has been paid.

If the amount of a credit to which a motor carrier is entitled for a reporting period exceeds the motor carrier's liability for that reporting period, ~~the excess may, in accordance with rules adopted by the Secretary, be refunded to the motor carrier or carried forward and applied to the motor carrier's tax liability for another reporting period. Before the Secretary allows a motor carrier a refund, the Secretary may audit the motor carrier's records or require the motor carrier to furnish a bond under G.S. 105-449.40.~~ the Secretary must refund the excess to the motor carrier."

Section 2. G.S. 105-449.52(b) reads as rewritten:

"(b) Hearing. -- Any person denying liability for a penalty imposed under this section ~~may~~ must pay the penalty under protest and apply to the Department of Revenue for a hearing. Upon receiving a request for a hearing, the Secretary shall schedule a hearing before a duly designated employee or agent of the Department within 30 days after receipt of the request. If after the hearing the Department determines that the person was not liable for the penalty, the amount collected shall be refunded. If after the hearing the Department determines that the person was liable for the penalty, the person paying the penalty may bring an action in the Superior Court of Wake County against the Secretary of Revenue for refund of the penalty. No restraining order or injunction shall issue from any court of the State to restrain or enjoin the collection of the penalty or to permit the operation of the vehicle without payment of the penalty."

(2) A retailer of kerosene, if the distributor dispenses the kerosene into a storage facility that is marked for nonhighway use in accordance with the requirements in G.S. 105-449.123(a)(1) through (a)(3) and has a dispensing device that is not suitable for use in fueling a highway vehicle."

Section 9. G.S. 105-164.13(11)a. reads as rewritten:

"a. Motor fuel, as defined in G.S. 105-449.60, except motor fuel for which a refund of the per gallon excise tax is allowed under G.S. 105-449.105(c) or ~~(d)~~ (d), under G.S. 105-449.105A, or under G.S. 105-449.107."

Section 10. G.S. 105-449.108 reads as rewritten:

"§ 105-449.108. When an application for a refund is due.

(a) ~~Annual Refunds. -- An application for an annual refund of excise tax is due by April 15 following the end of the calendar year for which the refund is claimed. The application must state whether or not the applicant has filed a North Carolina income tax return for the preceding taxable year, and must state that the applicant has paid for the fuel for which a refund is claimed or that payment for the fuel has been secured to the seller's satisfaction.~~ Due Dates. -- The due dates of applications for refunds are as follows:

Refund Period	Due Date
Annual	April 15 after the end of the year
Quarterly	Last day of the month after the end of the quarter
Monthly	22nd day after the end of the month
Upon Application	Last day of month after month in which tax was paid or the event occurred that is the basis of the refund.

(b) ~~Quarterly Refunds. -- An application for a quarterly refund of excise tax is due by the last day of the month following the end of the calendar quarter for which the refund is claimed. The application must state that the applicant has paid for the fuel for which a refund is claimed or that payment for the fuel has been secured to the seller's satisfaction.~~ Requirements. -- An application for an annual refund must state whether or not the applicant has filed a North Carolina income tax return for the preceding taxable year. An application for a refund allowed under this Part must state that the applicant has paid for the fuel for which a refund is claimed or that payment for the fuel has been secured to the seller's satisfaction.

~~(c) Upon Application. — An application for a refund of excise tax upon application under G.S. 105-449.105 is due by the last day of the month that follows the payment of tax or other event that is the basis of the refund.~~"

"§ 105-449.132. How to apply for a license.

To obtain a license, an applicant must file an application with the Secretary on a form provided by the Secretary. An application must include the applicant's name, address, federal employer identification number, and any other information required by the Secretary. An applicant must meet the requirements for obtaining a license set out in G.S. 105-449.69(b)."

Section 12. The following persons who have kerosene that is on hand or in their possession as of 12:01 a.m. on July 1, 1998, and is not in the terminal transfer system must inventory the kerosene, report the results of the inventory to the Secretary of Revenue, and pay tax on the kerosene at the motor fuel rate:

(1) Retailers who maintain storage facilities for kerosene of at least 2,000 gallons.
(2) Distributors.
(3) Importers.
(4) Suppliers.

The amount of kerosene in dead storage is not considered to be part of inventory and shall not be included in the report. "Dead storage" is the amount of kerosene in a storage tank that will not be pumped out of the tank because the kerosene is below the mouth of the draw pipe. For a storage tank with a capacity of less than 2,000 gallons, the amount of kerosene in dead storage is considered to be 200 gallons. For a storage tank with a capacity of 2,000 gallons or more, the amount of kerosene in dead storage is considered to be 400 gallons. The report of inventory must be made on a form provided by the Secretary. The report is due by July 15, 1998.

Section 13. The change made in Section 1 of this act applies to credits generated from reports filed by motor carriers for the reporting period beginning July 1, 1998. The changes made in Sections 3, 5, 6, 8, 9, and 10 become effective July 1, 1998. The remaining sections of this act are effective when they become law.

EXPLANATION OF SENATE BILL 1230:
Motor Fuel Tax Changes

TO: Senate Finance Committee
FROM: Martha Walston, Committee Counsel

---

Senate Bill 1230 is a recommendation of the Revenue Laws Study Committee, and exempts racing fuel from the per gallon excise tax on motor fuel, clarifies the taxation of kerosene, and makes other clarifying and conforming changes to the motor fuel tax laws.

Racing Fuel

Under current law the excise tax on racing fuel is refunded, because racing fuel is used for off highway purposes. The Bill exempts racing fuel from the motor fuels tax by exempting it from the definition of gasoline. The exemption for racing fuel includes any product that meets one of the following three descriptions:

- A product with an Antiknock Index Number of less than 80.
- A product with an Antiknock Index Number of more than 100, containing more than 0.05 grams per gallon of lead, and having a 90% evaporation at a maximum of 290 degrees Fahrenheit.
- A product with an Antiknock Index Number of more than 100, containing more than 2.8 weight percent oxygen, and having a 90% evaporation at a maximum temperature of 209 degrees Fahrenheit.

Senate Bill 1230 relieves the taxpayer of the burden of applying for a refund and the Department of Revenue from having to distribute the refund. The Bill also solves current inconsistencies among taxpayers who use racing fuel, and would result in the correct amount of tax being collected with less paper work. The proposed changes regarding racing fuel become effective July 1, 1998.

Kerosene

Senate Bill 1230 clarifies that kerosene is a form of diesel fuel by stating that the term diesel fuel includes kerosene. This is to conform to the Federal Government, who will begin taxing kerosene unless it is dyed effective July 1, 1998. The Bill adds diesel fuel that is kerosene and that is sold to an airport to the list of fuel exempt from the motor fuels tax. The Bill also adds a new section to the part of the motor fuels law dealing with refunds, so that a distributor will be allowed to obtain a refund on the sale of kerosene in the following instances:

(1) when the distributor sells kerosene to an end user and the distributor dispenses the kerosene into the end user's storage facility that contains fuel used only for heating, or (2) when the distributor sells kerosene to a retailer and the kerosene is dispensed into a storage facility marked for non-highway use and that has a dispensing device that is not suitable to fuel highway vehicles. These proposed changes become effective July 1, 1998.

Senate Bill 1230 provides that persons possessing kerosene as of July 1, 1998, that is not in the terminal transfer system, must inventory the kerosene, report the inventory to the Secretary, and pay tax on the kerosene. This provision applies to retailers who maintain storage facilities for kerosene of at least 2,000 gallons, distributors, importers, and suppliers. This is a transitional provision and is necessary, because kerosene will be taxed at the rack beginning July 1, 1998. This provision in the Bill is effective when it becomes law.

Other Changes to the Motor Fuel Tax Laws

Section 1 of the Bill provides for an automatic refund to a motor carrier whose credit exceeds his tax liability. A carrier operating in this State is taxed on the amount of motor fuel the carrier used in the State. The carrier is also entitled to a credit for tax paid by the carrier on any fuel purchased in the State. This section applies to credits generated from reports filed by motor carriers for the reporting period beginning July 1, 1998.

Section 2 of the Bill is a conforming change requiring a carrier, who denies liability for a penalty, to pay the penalty under protest and then apply to the Department for a hearing. This section is effective when it becomes law.

Section 4 gives the Secretary of Revenue the authority to send a letter of release instead of returning a bond when a license holder files a bond or irrevocable letter of credit as a replacement for a previously filed bond or letter of credit and the license holder has paid all taxes and penalties due. The Secretary already has this authority under G.S. 105-449.76, when a license is canceled. This section is effective when it becomes law.

Section 5 provides that if the Secretary determines that a bulk-end user or retailer used or sold untaxed dyed diesel fuel to operate a highway vehicle when the fuel was dispensed from a storage facility marked for non-highway use, then all fuel delivered to that storage facility is presumed to have been used for highway use and is taxable. This presumption currently applies to alternative fuels in G.S. 105-449.138(b). This section becomes effective July 1, 1998.

Section 7 imposes a penalty on a licensed distributor or licensed importer when they deduct an exempt sale when paying the excise tax to a supplier and then fail to report the exempt sale when filing a reconciling return showing the exempt sales. The penalty for failing to report is the amount of tax that would have been payable if the distributor or importer had not claimed the sale as an exempt sale. This section is effective when it becomes law.

Section 9 amends G.S. 105-164.13, the statute that sets out exemptions and exclusions from the sales and use tax. This statute lists motor fuel as exempt from the sales and use tax unless a refund of the motor fuel tax is allowed. The proposal adds a distributor, who receives a motor fuel tax refund on kerosene sold, to those taxpayers who must pay sales tax on motor fuel.

Section 10 clarifies when applications for refunds of the motor fuel tax are due. This section becomes effective July 1, 1998.

Section 11 requires an applicant for a license as a provider of alternative fuel, a bulk-end user of alternative fuel, or a retailer of alternative fuel to meet the requirements for licensing set out in G.S. 105-449.69(b). This section is effective when it becomes law.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Department of Revenue - Motor Fuels Tax Division

EFFECTIVE DATE: The change made in section 1 applies to credits generated from reports filed by motor carriers for the reporting period beginning July 1, 1998. The changes made in sections 3,5,6,8,9, and 10 become effective July 1, 1998. The remaining sections are effective when the bill becomes law.

BILL SUMMARY: The bill exempts racing fuel from the motor fuels tax, provides automatic refunds of motor fuel taxes to motor carriers each quarter, clarifies the taxation of kerosene, and makes other changes in the motor fuel tax laws.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

The following sections of SB 1230 have a fiscal impact:

Section 1

A motor carrier operating in North Carolina is taxed on the amount of motor fuel it uses in the state and is entitled to a credit for the motor fuels tax it paid on purchases made in the state. Under current law, a carrier has two years to request a refund when its tax credits exceed its tax liability. If the motor carrier fails to request a refund within two years of tax payment, then the Department of Revenue keeps the overpayment. From 1990 to 1996, the Department of Revenue earned $6 million or approximately $83,300 per quarter from lapsed refunds. Since the complete implementation of the International Fuel Tax Agreement (IFTA) in 1996, motor carriers have been more aggressive in seeking refunds owed to them. Based on a review of the second quarter of 1997, the amount of lapsed refunds was down to $60,000. Under this bill, carriers would automatically receive refunds and the Highway Fund would no longer receive $240,000 in unanticipated revenues from lapsed refunds each year.

Section 3

This section exempts racing fuel from the motor fuels tax and subjects the retail price of this fuel to the 6% state and local sales tax. Purchasers of racing fuel now receive a refund of the excise tax minus an administrative and inspection fee equal to 1.25 cents per gallon. Beginning in January 1998, sales tax was imposed on racing fuel based on the average wholesale price of regular motor fuel for the prior 12 months. Based on data supplied by the Department of Revenue, 652,347 gallons of racing fuel were purchased in the North Carolina in 1996. Assuming 1996 racing fuel purchases as the standard, the fiscal impact of this tax change is as follows:

Highway Fund = By exempting racing fuel, the Highway Fund would lose $8,154 from the administrative and inspection fee. (652,347 gallons X $.0125)

General Fund = Racing fuel is now subject to the average wholesale price of regular motor fuel. This price was 68.59 cents per gallon in 1997. The average retail price of racing fuel is $3.50 per gallon. This bill will tax motor fuel at the actual retail price as shown in the example below.

652,347 gallons X $3.50	= $136,993	Retail price
652,347 gallons X $ .6859	= $ 26,850	Wholesale price
Net Change	$110,143

The General Fund would receive $73,429 of this increase and local governments would receive $36,714.

Section 7

This section imposes a new penalty on licensed distributors or licensed importers who deduct an exempt sale when paying the excise tax to a supplier and then fail to report the exempt sale when filing a reconciling return. The Department anticipates a revenue gain from this penalty, but cannot estimate the amount.

Section 12

As of July 1,1998, any kerosene in the inventory of retailers, suppliers, distributors, and importers will be taxed at the motor fuel rate. When a similar inventory was taken in 1995, there were 7.6 million gallons of kerosene reported to the Department of Revenue. Assuming the 1998 inventory will mirror 1995, then 7.6 million gallons of kerosene will be taxed at 22.3 cents per gallon to yield a one-time revenue gain of $1,694,800. This gain will be divided 75% to the Highway Fund ($1,271,100) and 25% to the Highway Trust Fund ($423,700).

Short Title: No Tax on Gas Cities. (Public)

Referred to:

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO PRESERVE THE TAX-EXEMPT STATUS FOR PIPED NATURAL GAS SOLD BY MUNICIPALITIES, TO MAKE THE TAXES ON OTHER SALES OF PIPED NATURAL GAS MORE UNIFORM, AND TO LIMIT THE SERVICE AREA A MUNICIPALITY MAY SERVE WITH PIPED NATURAL GAS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. Chapter 105 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new Article to read:

"ARTICLE 5E.

"Piped Natural Gas Tax.

"§ 105-187.40. Definitions.

The definitions in G.S. 105-228.90 and the following definitions apply in this Article:

(1) Gas city. -- A city in this State that operated a piped natural gas distribution system as of July 1, 1998. These cities are Bessemer City, Greenville, Kings Mountain, Lexington, Monroe, Rocky Mount, Shelby, and Wilson.

(2) Local distribution company. -- A natural gas company to whom the North Carolina Utilities Commission has issued a franchise under Chapter 62 of the General Statutes to serve an area of this State.

(3) Sales customer. -- An end-user who does not have direct access to an interstate gas pipeline and whose piped natural gas is delivered by the seller of the gas.

(4) Transportation customer. -- An end-user who does not have direct access to an interstate gas pipeline and whose piped natural gas is delivered by a person who is not the seller of the gas.

"§ 105-187.41. Tax imposed on piped natural gas.

(a) Scope. -- An excise tax is imposed on piped natural gas received for consumption in this State. This tax is imposed in lieu of a sales and use tax and a percentage gross receipts tax on piped natural gas.

(b) Rate. -- The tax rate is set in the table below. The tax rate is based on monthly therm volumes of piped natural gas received by the end-user of the gas. If an end-user receives piped natural gas that is metered through two or more separate measuring devices, the tax is calculated separately on the volume metered through each device rather than on the total volume metered through all measuring devices.

Monthly Volume of Therms Received	Rate Per Therm
First 200	$.047
201 to 15,000	.027
Over 15,001	.022

(c) Gas City Exemption. -- The tax imposed by this section does not apply to piped natural gas received by a gas city for consumption by that city or to piped natural gas delivered by a gas city to a sales or transportation customer of the gas city.

"§ 105-187.42. Liability for the tax.

The excise tax imposed by this section on piped natural gas is payable as follows:

(1) For piped natural gas delivered by a local distribution company to a sales or transportation customer, the tax is payable by the local distribution company.

(2) For piped natural gas delivered by a person who is not a local distribution company to a sales or transportation customer, the tax is payable by that person.

(3) For piped natural gas received by a person by means of direct access to an interstate gas pipeline for consumption by that person, the tax is payable by that person.

"§ 105-187.43. Payment of the tax.

(a) Monthly Return. -- The tax imposed by this Article is payable monthly to the Secretary. A monthly tax payment is due by the last day of the month that follows the month in which the tax accrues. The tax imposed by this Article on piped natural gas delivered to a sales or transportation customer accrues when the gas is delivered. The tax payable on piped natural gas received by a person who has direct access to an interstate pipeline for consumption by that person accrues when the gas is received.

(b) Small Underpayments. -- A person is not subject to interest on or penalties for an underpayment of a monthly amount due if the person timely pays at least ninety-five percent (95%) of the amount due and includes the underpayment with the next return the person files.

"§ 105-187.44. Distribution of part of tax proceeds to cities.

(a) City Information. -- A monthly return filed under this Article must indicate the amount of tax attributable to the following: if a tax return does not state this information, the Secretary must determine how much of the tax proceeds are to be attributed to each city:

(1) Piped natural gas delivered during the month to sales or transportation customers in each city in the State.

(2) Piped natural gas received during the month in each city in the State by persons who have direct access to an interstate gas pipeline and who receive the gas for their own consumption.

(b) Distribution. -- Within 75 days after the end of each calendar quarter, the Secretary must distribute to the cities part of the tax proceeds collected under this Article during that quarter. The amount to be distributed to a city is one-half of the amount of tax attributable to that city for that quarter under subsection (a) of this section.

"§ 105-187.45. Information exchange and information returns.

(a) Utilities Information. -- The North Carolina Utilities Commission or the Public Staff of that Commission must give the Secretary a list of the entities that receive piped natural gas from an interstate pipeline and any other information available to the Commission that the Secretary asks for in administering the tax imposed by this Article.

(b) Information Return. -- The Secretary may require the operator of an interstate pipeline to report the amount of piped natural gas taken from the pipeline in this State, the persons that received the gas, and the volume received by each person.

"§ 105-187.46. Records and audits.

(a) Records. -- A person who is required to file a return under this Article must keep a record of all documents used to determine information provided in the return. The records must be kept for three years after the due date of the return to which the records apply.

(b) Audits. -- The Secretary may audit a person who is required to file a return under this Article."

Section 2. G.S. 105-116 reads as rewritten:

"§ 105-116. Franchise or privilege tax on electric power, ~~natural gas,~~ water, and sewerage companies.

(a) Tax. -- An annual franchise or privilege tax is imposed on the following:

(1) An electric power company engaged in the business of furnishing electricity, electric lights, current, or power.

~~(2) A natural gas company engaged in the business of furnishing piped natural gas.~~

(2a) A regional natural gas district created under Article 28 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes.

(3) A water company engaged in owning or operating a water system subject to regulation by the North Carolina Utilities Commission.

(4) A public sewerage company engaged in owning or operating a public sewerage system.

The tax on an electric power company is three and twenty-two hundredths percent (3.22%) of the company's taxable gross receipts from the business of furnishing electricity, electric lights, current, or power. ~~The tax on a natural gas company is three and twenty-two hundredths percent (3.22%) of the company's taxable gross receipts from the business of furnishing piped natural gas.~~ The tax on a regional natural gas district is three and twenty-two hundredths percent (3.22%) of the district's taxable gross receipts from the furnishing of piped natural gas. The tax on a water company is four percent (4%) of the company's taxable gross receipts from owning or operating a water system subject to regulation by the North Carolina Utilities Commission. The tax on a public sewerage company is six percent (6%) of the company's taxable gross receipts from owning or operating a public sewerage company. A company's taxable gross receipts are its gross receipts from business inside the State less the amount of gross receipts from sales reported under subdivision (b)(2). A company that engages in more than one business taxed under this section shall pay tax on each business. A company is allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this section for the company's investments in certain entities in accordance with Division V of Article 4 of this Chapter.

(b) Report and Payment. -- The tax imposed by this section is payable monthly or quarterly as specified in this subsection. A report is due quarterly. An electric power ~~company, a natural gas company, or a regional natural gas district~~ company shall pay tax monthly. A monthly tax payment is due by the last day of the month that follows the month in which the tax accrues, except the payment for tax that accrues in May. The payment for tax that accrues in May is due by June 25. A taxpayer is not subject to interest on or penalties for an underpayment of a monthly amount due if the taxpayer timely pays at least ninety-five percent (95%) of the amount due and includes the underpayment with the next report the company files. A water company or a public sewerage company shall pay tax quarterly when filing a report.

A quarterly report covers a calendar quarter and is due by the last day of the month that follows the quarter covered by the report. A taxpayer shall submit a report on a form provided by the Secretary. The report shall include the taxpayer's gross receipts from all property it owned or operated during the reporting period in connection with its business taxed under this section and shall contain the following information:

(1) The taxpayer's gross receipts for the reporting period from business inside and outside this State, stated separately.

(2) The taxpayer's gross receipts from commodities or services described in subsection (a) that are sold to a vendee subject to the tax levied by this section or to a joint agency established under ~~G.S. Chapter 159B~~ Chapter 159B of the General Statutes or a city having an ownership share in a project established under that Chapter.

(3) The amount of and price paid by the taxpayer for commodities or services described in subsection (a) that are purchased from others engaged in business in this State and the name of each vendor.

(4) For an electric power ~~company, a natural gas company, or a regional natural gas district,~~ company the entity's gross receipts from the sale within each city of the commodities and services described in subsection (a).

A taxpayer ~~shall~~ must report its gross receipts on an accrual basis. If a taxpayer's report does not state the taxpayer's taxable gross receipts derived within a city, the Secretary must determine a practical method of allocating part of the taxpayer's taxable gross receipts to the city.

~~(1) Special charges collected within this State by the company pursuant to drilling and exploration surcharges approved by the North Carolina Utilities Commission, if the surcharges are segregated from the other receipts of the company and are devoted to drilling, exploration, and other means to acquire additional supplies of natural gas for the account of natural gas customers in North Carolina and the beneficial interest in the surcharge collections is preserved for the natural gas customers paying the surcharges under rules established by the Commission.~~

~~(2) Natural gas expansion surcharges imposed under G.S. 62-158.~~

(d) Distribution. -- Part of the taxes imposed by this section on electric power companies, natural gas companies, and regional natural gas districts is distributed to cities under G.S. 105-116.1.

(e) Local Tax. -- So long as there is a distribution to cities from the tax imposed by this section, no city shall impose or collect any greater franchise, privilege or license taxes, in the aggregate, on the businesses taxed under this section, than was imposed and collected on or before January 1, 1947. ~~If any municipality shall have collected any privilege, license or franchise tax between January 1, 1947, and April 1, 1949, in excess of the tax collected by it prior to January 1, 1947, then upon distribution of the taxes imposed by this section to municipalities, the amount distributable to any municipality shall be credited with such excess payment.~~

~~(f) Gas City Exemption. -- The tax imposed by this section does not apply to the following cities that operate their own piped natural gas systems: Bessemer City, Kings Mountain, Lexington, Shelby, Greenville, Monroe, Rocky Mount, and Wilson.~~"

Section 3. G.S. 105-116.1 reads as rewritten:

"§ 105-116.1. Distribution of gross receipts taxes to cities.

(a) Definitions. -- The following definitions apply in this section:

(1) Freeze deduction. -- The amount by which the percentage distribution amount of a city was required to be reduced in fiscal year 1995-96 in determining the amount to distribute to the city.

(2) Percentage distribution amount. -- Three and nine hundredths percent (3.09%) of the gross receipts derived by an electric power ~~company, a natural gas company, a regional natural gas district,~~ company and a telephone company from sales within a city that are taxable under G.S. 105-116 or G.S. 105-120.

(b) Distribution. -- The Secretary must distribute to the cities part of the taxes collected under this Article on electric power ~~companies, natural gas companies, regional natural gas districts,~~ companies and telephone companies. Each city's share for a calendar quarter is the percentage distribution amount for that city for that quarter minus one-fourth of the city's hold-back amount and one-fourth of the city's proportionate share of the annual cost to the Department of administering the distribution. The Secretary must make the distribution within 75 days after the end of each calendar quarter.

(c) Limited Hold-Harmless Adjustment. -- The hold-back amount for a city that, in the 1995-96 fiscal year, received from gross receipts taxes less than ninety-five percent (95%) of the amount it received in the 1990-91 fiscal year is the amount determined by the following calculation:

(1) Adjust the city's 1995-96 distribution by adding the city's freeze deduction to the amount distributed to the city for that year.

(2) Compare the adjusted 1995-96 amount with the city's 1990-91 distribution.

(3) If the adjusted 1995-96 amount is less than or equal to the city's 1990-91 distribution, the hold-back amount for the city is zero.

(4) If the adjusted 1995-96 amount is more than the city's 1990-91 distribution, the hold-back amount for the city is the city's freeze deduction minus the difference between the city's 1990-91 distribution and the city's 1995-96 distribution.

(d) Allocation of Hold-Harmless Adjustment. -- The hold-back amount for a city that, in the 1995-96 fiscal year, received from gross receipts taxes at least ninety-five percent (95%) of the amount it received in the 1990-91 fiscal year is the amount determined by the following calculation:

(1) Determine the amount by which the freeze deduction is reduced for all cities whose hold-back amount is determined under subsection (c) of this section. This amount is the total hold-harmless adjustment.

(2) Determine the amount of gross receipts taxes that would be distributed for the quarter to cities whose hold-back amount is determined under this subsection if these cities received their percentage distribution amount minus one-fourth of their freeze deduction.

(3) For each city included in the calculation in subdivision (2) of this subsection, determine that city's percentage share of the amount determined under that subdivision.

(4) Add to the city's freeze deduction an amount equal to the city's percentage share under subdivision (3) of this subsection multiplied by the total hold-harmless adjustment."

Section 4. G.S. 105-164.3(25) reads as rewritten:

"(25) 'Utility' means an electric power ~~company, a gas company, a regional natural gas district,~~ company or a telephone company that is subject to a privilege tax based on gross receipts under G.S. 105-116 or 105-120, a business entity that provides local, toll, or private telecommunications service as defined by G.S. ~~105-120(c)~~ 105-120(e), or a municipality that sells electric power, other than a municipality whose only wholesale supplier of electric power is a federal agency and who is required by a contract with that federal agency to make payments in lieu of taxes."

Section 5. G.S. 105-164.4(a) reads as rewritten:

"(a) A privilege tax is imposed on a retailer at the following percentage rates of the retailer's net taxable sales or gross receipts, as appropriate. The general rate of tax is four percent (4%).

(1) The general rate of tax applies to the sales price of each item or article of tangible personal property that is sold at retail and is not subject to tax under another subdivision in this section.

(1a) The rate of two percent (2%) applies to the sales price of each manufactured home sold at retail, including all accessories attached to the manufactured home when it is delivered to the purchaser. The maximum tax is three hundred dollars ($300.00) per article. Each section of a manufactured home that is transported separately to the site where it is to be erected is a separate article.

(1b) The rate of three percent (3%) applies to the sales price of each aircraft, boat, railway car, or locomotive sold at retail, including all accessories attached to the item when it is delivered to the purchaser. The maximum tax is one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) per article.

b. Semen to be used in the artificial insemination of animals.

c. Sales of fuel, other than ~~electricity or piped natural gas,~~ electricity, to farmers to be used by them for any farm purposes other than preparing food, heating ~~dwellings~~ dwellings, and other household purposes. The quantity of fuel purchased or used at any one time shall not in any manner be a determinative factor as to whether any sale or use of fuel is or is not subject to the one percent (1%) rate of tax imposed ~~herein.~~ by this subdivision.

d. Sales of fuel, other than ~~electricity or piped natural gas,~~ electricity, to manufacturing industries and manufacturing plants for use in connection with the operation of such industries and plants other than sales of fuels to be used for residential heating purposes. The quantity of fuel purchased or used at any one time shall not in any manner be a determinative factor as to whether any sale or use of fuel is or is not subject to the rate of tax provided in this subdivision.

e. Sales of fuel, other than ~~electricity or piped natural gas,~~ electricity, to commercial laundries or to pressing and dry-cleaning establishments for use in machinery used in the direct performance of the laundering or the pressing and cleaning service.

f. Sales to freezer locker plants of wrapping paper, cartons and supplies consumed directly in the operation of such plant.

(1d) The rate of one percent (1%) applies to the sales price of the following articles. The maximum tax is eighty dollars ($80.00) per article.

a. Sales to a farmer of machines and machinery, and parts and accessories for these machines and machinery, for use by the farmer in the planting, cultivating, harvesting, or curing of farm crops or in the production of dairy products, eggs, or animals. A 'farmer' includes a dairy operator, a poultry farmer, an egg producer, a livestock farmer, a farmer of crops, and a farmer of an aquatic species, as defined in G.S. 106-758. Items that are exempt from tax under G.S. 105-164.13(4c) are not subject to tax under this section.

The term 'machines and machinery' as used in this subdivision is defined as follows:

The term shall include all vehicular implements, designed and sold for any use defined in this subdivision, which are operated, drawn or propelled by motor or animal power, but shall not include vehicular implements which are operated wholly by hand, and shall not include any motor vehicles required to be registered under Chapter 20 of the General Statutes.

The term shall include all nonvehicular implements and mechanical devices designed and sold for any use defined in this subdivision, which have moving parts, or which require the use of any motor or animal power, fuel, or electricity in their operation but shall not include nonvehicular implements which have no moving parts and are operated wholly by hand.

The term shall also include metal flues sold for use in curing tobacco, whether such flues are attached to handfired furnaces or used in connection with mechanical burners.

b. Sales of mill machinery or mill machinery parts and accessories to manufacturing industries and plants, and sales to contractors and subcontractors purchasing mill machinery or mill machinery parts and accessories for use by them in the performance of contracts with manufacturing industries and plants, and sales to subcontractors purchasing mill machinery or mill machinery parts and accessories for use by them in the performance of contracts with general contractors who have contracts with manufacturing industries and plants. As used in this paragraph, the term 'manufacturing industries and plants' does not include delicatessens, cafes, cafeterias, restaurants, and other similar retailers that are principally engaged in the retail sale of foods prepared by them for consumption on or off their premises.

c. Sales of central office equipment and switchboard and private branch exchange equipment to telephone companies regularly engaged in providing telephone service to subscribers on a commercial basis, and sales to these companies of prewritten computer programs used in providing telephone service to their subscribers.

d. Sales to commercial laundries or to pressing and dry cleaning establishments of machinery used in the direct performance of the laundering or the pressing and cleaning service and of parts and accessories thereto.

e. Sales to freezer locker plants of machinery used in the direct operation of said freezer locker plant and of parts and accessories thereto.

f. Sales of broadcasting equipment and parts and accessories thereto and towers to commercial radio and television companies which are under the regulation and supervision of the Federal Communications Commission.

g. Sales to farmers of bulk tobacco barns and racks and all parts and accessories thereto and similar apparatus used for the curing and drying of any farm produce.

h. Sales to farmers of grain, feed or soybean storage facilities and accessories thereto, whether or not dryers are attached, and all similar apparatus and accessories thereto for the storage of grain, feed or soybeans.

i. Sales of containers to farmers or producers for use in the planting, producing, harvesting, curing, marketing, packaging, sale, or transporting or delivery of their products when such containers do not go with and become part of the sale of their products at wholesale or retail.

(1e) The rate of three percent (3%) applies to the sales price of each mobile classroom or mobile office sold at retail, including all accessories attached to the mobile classroom or mobile office when it is delivered to the purchaser. The maximum tax is one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) per article. Each section of a mobile classroom or mobile office that is transported separately to the site where it is to be placed is a separate article.

(1f) The rate of two and eighty-three-hundredths percent (2.83%) applies to the sales price of electricity ~~and piped natural gas~~ described in this subdivision and measured by a separate meter or another separate device:

a. Sales of electricity ~~and piped natural gas~~ to farmers to be used by them for any farm purposes other than preparing food, heating dwellings, and other household purposes. The quantity of electricity or gas purchased or used at any one time shall not be a determinative factor as to whether its sale or use is or is not subject to the rate of tax provided in this subdivision.

b. Sales of electricity ~~and piped natural gas~~ to manufacturing industries and manufacturing plants for use in connection with the operation of the industries and plants other than sales of electricity ~~and gas~~ to be used for residential heating purposes. The quantity of electricity ~~or gas~~ purchased or used at any one time shall not be a determinative factor as to whether its sale or use is or is not subject to the rate of tax provided in this subdivision.

c. Sales of electricity ~~and piped natural gas~~ to commercial laundries or to pressing and dry-cleaning establishments for use in machinery used in the direct performance of the laundering or the pressing and cleaning service.

(2) The applicable percentage rate applies to the gross receipts derived from the lease or rental of tangible personal property by a person who is engaged in the business of leasing or renting tangible personal property, or is a retailer and leases or rents property of the type sold by the retailer. The applicable percentage rate is the rate and the maximum tax, if any, that applies to a sale of the property that is leased or rented. A person who leases or rents property shall also collect the tax imposed by this section on the separate retail sale of the property.

(3) Operators of hotels, motels, tourist homes, tourist camps, and similar type businesses and persons who rent private residences and cottages to transients are considered retailers under this Article. A tax at the general rate of tax is levied on the gross receipts derived by these retailers from the rental of any rooms, lodgings, or accommodations furnished to transients for a consideration. This tax does not apply to any private residence or cottage that is rented for less than 15 days in a calendar year or to any room, lodging, or accommodation supplied to the same person for a period of 90 or more continuous days.

As used in this subdivision, the term 'persons who rent to transients' means (i) owners of private residences and cottages who rent to transients and (ii) rental agents, including 'real estate brokers' as defined in G.S. 93A-2, who rent private residences and cottages to transients on behalf of the owners. If a rental agent is liable for the tax imposed by this subdivision, the owner is not liable.

(4) Every person engaged in the business of operating a dry cleaning, pressing, or hat-blocking establishment, a laundry, or any similar business, engaged in the business of renting clean linen or towels or wearing apparel, or any similar business, or engaged in the business of soliciting cleaning, pressing, hat blocking, laundering or linen rental business for any of these businesses, is considered a retailer under this Article. A tax at the general rate of tax is levied on the gross receipts derived by these retailers from services rendered in engaging in any of the occupations or businesses named in this subdivision. The tax imposed by this subdivision does not apply to receipts derived from coin or token-operated washing machines, extractors, and dryers. The tax imposed by this subdivision does not apply to gross receipts derived from services performed for resale by a retailer that pays the tax on the total gross receipts derived from the services.

(4a) The rate of three percent (3%) applies to the gross receipts derived by a utility from sales of ~~electricity, piped natural gas,~~ electricity or local telecommunications service as defined by G.S. 105-120(e), other than sales of electricity ~~or piped natural gas~~ subject to tax under another subdivision in this section. ~~Gross receipts from sales of piped natural gas shall not include natural gas expansion surcharges imposed under G.S. 62-158.~~ A person who operates a utility is considered a retailer under this Article.

(4b) A person who sells tangible personal property at a flea market, other than the person's own household personal property, is considered a retailer under this Article. A tax at the general rate of tax is levied on the sales price of each article sold by the retailer at the flea market. A person who leases or rents space to others at a flea market may not lease or rent this space unless the retailer requesting to rent or lease the space shows the license or a copy of the license required by this Article or other evidence of compliance. A person who leases or rents space at a flea market shall keep records of retailers who have leased or rented space at the flea market. As used in this subdivision, the term 'flea market' means a place where space is rented to a person for the purpose of selling tangible personal property.

(4c) The rate of six and one-half percent (6 1/2%) applies to the gross receipts derived from providing toll telecommunications services or private telecommunications services as defined by G.S. 105-120(e) that both originate from and terminate in the State and are not subject to the privilege tax under G.S. 105-120. Any business entity that provides these services is considered a retailer under this Article. This subdivision does not apply to telephone membership corporations as described in Chapter 117 of the General Statutes.

(5) (Effective until July 1, 1998) The rate of three percent (3%) applies to the sales price of food that is not otherwise exempt pursuant to G.S. 105-164.13 but would be exempt pursuant to G.S. 105-164.13 if it were purchased with coupons issued under the Food Stamp Program, 7 U.S.C. § 51.

(5) (Effective July 1, 1998) The rate of two percent (2%) applies to the sales price of food that is not otherwise exempt pursuant to G.S. 105-164.13 but would be exempt pursuant to G.S. 105-164.13 if it were purchased with coupons issued under the Food Stamp Program, 7 U.S.C. § 51."

Section 6. G.S. 105-164.13 is amended by adding a new subdivision to read:

"(44) Piped natural gas. -- This item is exempt because it is taxed under Article 5D of this Chapter."

Section 7. G.S. 105-164.20 reads as rewritten:

"§ 105-164.20. Cash or accrual basis of reporting.

Any retailer, except a utility, ~~taxable under this Article having both cash and credit sales~~ may report ~~such~~ sales on either the cash or accrual basis of accounting upon making application to the Secretary for permission to use ~~such~~ the basis ~~of reporting under such rules and regulations as shall be promulgated from time to time by the Secretary. Such permission shall continue in force and effect unless revoked by the Secretary but he may grant written permission to any such taxpayer upon application therefor to change from one basis to another under such rules and regulations. A utility shall~~ selected. Permission granted by the Secretary to report on a selected basis continues in effect until revoked by the Secretary or the taxpayer receives permission from the Secretary to change the basis selected. A utility must report its sales on an accrual basis. A sale by a utility of ~~electricity, piped natural gas,~~ electricity or intrastate telephone service is considered to accrue when the utility bills its customer for the sale."

Section 8. G.S. 105-122(d) reads as rewritten:

"(d) After determining the proportion of its total capital stock, surplus and undivided profits as set out in subsection (c) of this section, which amount so determined shall in no case be less than fifty-five percent (55%) of the appraised value as determined for ad valorem taxation of all the real and tangible personal property in this State of each such corporation plus the total appraised value of intangible property returned for taxation of intangible personal property as herein specified nor less than its total actual investment in tangible property in this State, every corporation taxed under this section shall annually pay to the Secretary of Revenue, at the time the report and statement are due, a franchise or privilege tax, which is hereby levied at the rate of one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50) per one thousand dollars ($1,000) of the total amount of capital stock, surplus and undivided profits as herein provided. The tax imposed in this section shall in no case be less than thirty-five dollars ($35.00) and shall be for the privilege of carrying on, doing business, and/or the continuance of articles of incorporation or domestication of each such corporation in this State. Appraised value of tangible property including real estate shall be the ad valorem valuation for the calendar year next preceding the due date of the franchise tax return. Appraised value of intangible property shall be the total gross valuation required to be reported for intangible tax purposes on April 15 coincident with or next preceding the due date of the franchise tax return. The term "total actual investment in tangible property" as used in this section shall be construed to mean the total original purchase price or consideration to the reporting taxpayer of its tangible properties, including real estate, in this State plus additions and improvements thereto less reserve for depreciation as permitted for income tax purposes, and also less any indebtedness incurred and existing by virtue of the purchase of any real estate and any permanent improvements made thereon. In computing "total actual investment in tangible personal property" there shall also be deducted reserves for the entire cost of any air-cleaning device or sewage or waste treatment plant, including waste lagoons, and pollution abatement equipment purchased or constructed and installed which reduces the amount of air or water pollution resulting from the emission of air contaminants or the discharge of sewage and industrial wastes or other polluting materials or substances into the outdoor atmosphere or into streams, lakes, or rivers, upon condition that the corporation claiming such deduction shall furnish to the Secretary a certificate from the Department of Environment and Natural Resources or from a local air pollution control program for air-cleaning devices located in an area where the Environmental Management Commission has certified a local air pollution control program pursuant to G.S. 143-215.112 certifying that said Department or local air pollution control program has found as a fact that the air-cleaning device, waste treatment plant or pollution abatement equipment purchased or constructed and installed as above described has actually been constructed and installed and that such device, plant or equipment complies with the requirements of the Environmental Management Commission or local air pollution control program with respect to such devices, plants or equipment, that such device, plant or equipment is being effectively operated in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth in the permit, certificate of approval, or other document of approval issued by the Environmental Management Commission or local air pollution control program and that the primary purpose thereof is to reduce air or water pollution resulting from the emission of air contaminants or the discharge of sewage and waste and not merely incidental to other purposes and functions. The cost of constructing facilities of any private or public utility built for the purpose of providing sewer service to residential and outlying areas shall be treated as deductible for the purposes of this section; the deductible liability allowed by this section shall apply only with respect to such pollution abatement plants or equipment constructed or installed on or after January 1, 1955.

~~In determining the total tax payable by any corporation under this section, there shall be allowed as a credit on such tax the amount of the credit authorized by Division V of Article 4 of this Chapter.~~"

Section 9. G.S. 105-122 is amended by adding a new subsection to read:

"(d1) Credits. -- A corporation is allowed the following credits against the tax imposed by this section for a taxable year:

(1) The credit claimed for the taxable year under Division V of Article 4 of this Chapter.

(2) One-half of the amount of tax payable during the taxable year under Article 5D of this Chapter."

Section 10. G.S. 105-259(b)(5b) reads as rewritten:

"(5b) To furnish to the finance officials of a city a list of the utility taxable gross receipts ~~that were derived from sales within the city and used to determine the city's distribution~~ and piped natural gas tax revenues attributable to the city under G.S. 105-116.1 ~~or~~ and G.S. 105-187.38 or under former ~~distribution under~~ G.S. 105-116 and G.S. 105-120."

Section 11. G.S. 105-259(b) is amended by adding a new subdivision to read:

"(21) To exchange information concerning the tax on piped natural gas imposed by Article 5D of this Chapter with the North Carolina Utilities Commission or the Public Staff of that Commission."

Section 12. G.S. 160A-211 is amended by adding a new subsection to read:

"(c) Piped Gas Restriction. -- A city may not levy a privilege license tax on a person who is engaged in the business of supplying piped natural gas and is subject to tax under Article 5D of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes."

Section 13. Notwithstanding G.S. 105-164.4 and G.S. 105-164.6, sales and use tax levied under Article 5 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes does not apply to piped natural gas sold by a city in this State that operated a piped natural gas distribution system as of July 1, 1998. These cities are Bessemer City, Greenville, Kings Mountain, Lexington, Monroe, Rocky Mount, Shelby, and Wilson.

Section 14. Chapter 62 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 62-110.2A. Piped gas service area outside of municipalities.

(a) Service Area. -- A municipality that operates a piped natural gas distribution system has the right to serve all premises being served by it on June 30, 1998, and all premises initially requiring piped natural gas service after June 30, 1998, that are located wholly within the county where the municipality is located. A municipality may not serve any premises that are outside the service area authorized by this subsection.

(b) Definition. -- As used in this section, the term "premises" has the same meaning as in G.S. 62-110.2. When applying the definition of premises to this section, "electric service" is considered as piped natural gas service."

Section 15. The provisions of this act are severable. If any provision of this act is held invalid by a court of competent jurisdiction, the invalidity does not affect other provisions of the act that can be given effect without the invalid provision.

Section 16. Sections 1 through 12 of this act become effective January 1, 1999. Section 13 of this act becomes effective July 1, 1998. The remainder of this act is effective when it becomes law.

EXPLANATION OF SENATE BILL 1327:
No Tax on Gas Cities

TO: Senate Finance
FROM: Cindy Avrette, Committee Counsel
DATE: May 26, 1998
SPONSOR: Senator Walter Dalton and Senator Jim Phillips

Senate Bill 1327 preserves the tax-exempt status for piped natural gas sold by one of the eight municipalities that operate their own piped gas system. It also makes the taxes on other sales of piped natural gas more uniform and it limits the service area a gas city may serve with piped natural gas.

There are three types of sellers of piped natural gas: a utility company, a gas marketer, and a gas city. A utility company is a utility regulated by the Utilities Commission. A gas marketer is a person who sells piped natural gas but is not a regulated utility. Gas marketers use the pipeline infrastructure of the utilities to deliver the gas they sell and they pay a transportation charge to the utilities for this service. Piped natural gas is increasingly sold by persons who are not utilities. A gas city is a city that operates its own piped gas system. Eight cities in the State do this and have since at least the 1950's. The eight gas cities are: Bessemer City, Greenville, Kings Mountain, Lexington, Monroe, Rocky Mount, Shelby, and Wilson.

Two taxes now apply to piped natural gas. The applicability and rate of the taxes varies depending upon both the identity of the seller and the identity of the consumer. One of these taxes is a gross receipts tax equal to 3.22% of the gross receipts derived by a utility from the business of furnishing piped natural gas. The franchise tax applies only to the receipts of a regulated utility. The franchise tax on piped natural gas was enacted around 1925, when only regulated utilities could sell piped natural gas. Federal and state regulation of the piped natural gas industry has changed and now these regulations allow persons who are not utilities to sell piped natural gas. Therefore, gas marketers and gas cities, because they are not regulated utilities, are not subject to the franchise tax, except to the extent it is imposed on the transportation charges or embedded in the price paid on gas bought from a utility for resale to customers.

The second of these two taxes is the sales tax on piped gas. This tax is the result of a change made by the General Assembly in 1985. That year, the existing 6% utility franchise tax was split into a 3% sales tax and a 3.22% gross receipts tax to make the sales tax portion deductible by individuals on their federal income tax returns. Although the federal tax law changes in 1986 removed this deduction, North Carolina did not change its taxation of utilities.

For several years, the Department did not impose the general 4% State and 2% local sales and use tax rate to the sale of piped natural gas. However, under a directive recently issued by the Department of Revenue, the Department clarified that piped natural gas is tangible personal property as that term is defined in the sales and use tax statutes. Therefore, the retail sale of piped natural gas is subject to sales and use tax unless specifically exempted by statute.

The sale of piped gas by a gas city or by a gas marketer is not exempt from sales and use tax. Therefore, the retail sale of piped gas by these sellers is subject to a 6% State and local sales and use tax unless a lower rate applies. The law provides a lower rate of 3% for all sales made by regulated utilities and a lower rate of 2.83% for sales made to farmers, manufacturers, and laundries. Piped natural gas taxes at the State rate of 3% or 2.83% are not subject to the 2% local sales and use tax. If piped natural gas is purchased from a seller who is not required to collect North Carolina sales tax, then the purchaser is subject to a use tax on the purchase.

Prior to the Department's sales tax directive, the sales and use tax was not imposed on the sale of piped natural gas sold by gas cities and gas marketers. The changes made by the directive become effective July 1, 1998. This bill preserves the tax-exempt status for piped natural gas sold by gas cities. It also limits the area a gas city may serve to the area being served by it on June 30, 1998, and areas initially requiring piped natural gas service after that date if the area is located wholly within the county in which the gas city is located.

To correct the other inequities embedded in the bifurcated taxation of piped natural gas, the bill eliminates the distinction between sales by utilities and sales by others and applies a uniform tax to all piped natural gas consumed in this State. The uniform tax is an excise tax on the gas. The tax rate is structured as a "declining block" that decreases as the amount of therms of piped gas consumed in a month increases. A tax rate based upon the amount of gas consumed, versus the price paid for gas and the gross receipts derived from gas, should result in a more stable revenue stream. The price of gas varies from season to season and year to year.

A declining block tax rate is also used to preserve the current distribution of the tax burden between the three classes of piped gas customers. These three classes are residential, business, and industrial. The current taxes are a percentage of price. The rates for the three classes are also based on price; residential rates are the highest, business rates are in the middle, and industrial rates are the lowest. The current combination of rate and tax therefore results in a higher effective rate of tax on residential customers and a lower rate on business and industrial customers.

EXPENDITURES

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Department of Revenue, Counties, and Municipalities

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 1, 1998

BILL SUMMARY: In the natural gas industry there are three types of sellers: utility companies, gas marketers, and cities that sell their own gas. Several types of taxes are now applied to piped natural gas, with the rates and type of tax charged determined by the type of seller and buyer. Utility companies are responsible for a sales tax of 3% (2.83% if the customer is a manufacturer) and a gross receipts tax of 3.22% on the commodity price. Under current law they are the only group responsible for sales tax. Gas marketers are responsible for a gross receipts tax on the transportation charge (not the commodity price). However, if the gas is sold to a customer with direct access, no gross receipts tax is payable. Gas cities pay no sales tax and pay a gross receipts tax only on the gas they purchase from a North Carolina utility for resale to their customers. A use tax should be paid by the customers of out of state gas marketers. All taxes are based on the price paid for the gas.

On May 5, 1998, the Department of Revenue issues a directive concerning the sale of piped natural gas. Under this directive piped natural gas is defined as tangible personal property, and its retail sale is subject to the 4% state and 2% sales and use tax, unless specifically exempt by statute. Sales of piped natural gas by the producer of the gas will continue to be exempt from the sales tax on piped gases because of a sales tax exemption that applies to sales of "products of forests and mines in their original or unmanufactured state" when the sales are made by the "producer in the capacity of producer." However, the sale of piped gas by a city or by a gas marketer is not exempt from sales and use tax, and would be subject to the 6% rate unless the city is a utility or the gas is sold to a farmer, manufacturer, or laundry. Utilities will only be responsible for a 3% sales tax rate, or 2.83% if the gas is sold to farmers, manufacturers, or laundries. The Department of Revenue directive becomes effective July 1, 1998.

This bill would restructure the taxes on natural gas. The bill eliminates the distinction between sales by utilities and sales by others, and applies a uniform tax to all piped natural gas consumed in North Carolina. The uniform tax is an excise tax. The rate is structured as a "declining block" that decreases as the amount of therms of piped gas consumed in a month increases. The tax rate will be based on the amount of gas consumed, rather than the price paid for the gas. The bill would also exempt the gas cities from the new tax.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: Actual sales and gross receipts tax collections (related to piped natural gas) in 1997 were estimated to be $58.4 million by the Public Staff of the Utilities Commission. This number was then increased to reflect the 2% growth rate used in the economic model. An adjustment was made to convert the calendar year numbers to the fiscal year basis. An additional $2.7 million was added to the revenue estimate to reflect the expected sales tax income from taxing the gas cities, per the May 1998 Department of Revenue directive. An additional $7.1 million was included as the estimated additional tax income from taxing gas marketers at 6% (2.83% if the customer is a manufacturer), per the May 1998 Department directive. Approximately 1.6 million of the revenue from taxing gas marketers would be forwarded to the counties as local sales tax. In total, this created a 1998-9 revenue estimate from piped natural gas, under the current system and including the Department of Revenue directive, of $69.9 million. Future years were forecasted based on a 2% growth rate.

Estimates for tax income under the bill were based on actual volumes delivered in 1997. The 1997 deliveries were grouped into "rate blocks" and increased to reflect the 2% growth rate used in the economic model. An adjustment was made to convert the calendar year numbers to a fiscal year basis. Future years were forecasted based on a 2% growth rate.

The simulation is provide as a mechanism to account for use taxes already collected by the Department of Revenue from the customers of natural gas marketers.

TECHNICAL CONSIDERATIONS: The estimated revenue associated with the May 5, 1998, Department of Revenue directive was included in the baseline estimate of potential revenue without the bill. It should also be noted that natural gas prices are highly violable and are very sensitive to changes in climate and market forces. As such, year to year variations in the revenue associated with natural gas taxes, under the current system, could vary dramatically.

(b) Definitions. -- The following definitions apply in this section:

(1) Gas city. -- Defined in G.S. 105-187.40.

EXPLANATION OF AMENDMENT:
S1327-ARBX-2

This amendment does three things:

- Changes the third rate category on page 2, line 17, to provide the State with the same amount of revenue under the bill that it anticipates receiving under the current franchise/sales tax structure. The targeted amount of revenue needed is $60 million. This amount is based on the law prior to the directive issued by the Department of Revenue.

- Makes a technical change on page 3, lines 39 and 40. These lines are no longer needed because regional natural gas districts will not pay a franchise tax under the bill.

- Modifies the service area in which a gas city may operate. It expands the area to include premises located in a county in which the gas city currently operates, as opposed to limiting it to premises located in the gas city's home county. It also clarifies that the expansion of a gas city's service area is limited by the requirements of G.S. 159-96 and G.S. 160A-312.

  G.S. 159-96 says that a city may not use revenue bonds to finance, in whole or in part, a natural gas distribution system that will serve users outside the corporate limits of the city if service is available or will be available within a reasonable time from a local distribution company.

  G.S. 160A-312 gives cities the authority to operate public utilities within their corporate limits and, within reasonable limitations, outside their corporate limits. Caselaw provides that certain factors may be considered when determining whether an extension of service is reasonable. As applied to electricity, those factors include the electric providers' current levels of service in the area in question, particularly in the immediate vicinity of the potential customer, and the present readiness, willingness, and ability of each to serve the potential customer.

COMMENTS BEFORE

THE SENATE FINANCE COMMITTEE

ON SENATE BILL 1327--NO TAX ON GAS CITIES

MAY 27, 1998

RESPECTFULLY SUBMITTED BY BILL McAULAY

ON BEHALF OF PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY OF NORTH CAROLINA, INC.

Thank you for the opportunity to speak before you today about two concerns that Public Service Company has with this bill. First, this bill creates a new, distinctly unlevel playing field. If the eight municipalities that are in the natural gas business are exempted from this tax, they will receive a distinct competitive advantage in recruiting new industry. This competitive advantage will exist over not only the natural gas local distribution companies of the state, but also over the state's other municipalities. In other words, if I were a large gas-using industry locating in North Carolina, I would have a strong economic incentive to locate my new plant in one of these eight municipalities where natural gas is not subject to the tax, as opposed to other cities in the state where natural gas is taxed. Prior to the recent directive issued by the Department of Revenue, this industry would not have paid the tax no matter where in the state they located. Now, to avoid the tax, they need only to locate in one of these eight cities.

Our second concern is with regard to the section entitled "piped gas service area outside of municipalities" on pages 14 and 15 of the bill. This should be revised to ensure that there are no conflicts or inconsistencies with current law, so that the intent of the proposed legislation is clear.

In a more general sense, it's our opinion that this bill in total is too much, too fast. The issue of taxes on natural gas was discussed and debated at length last year with no consensus close to being reached. The directive that was recently issued changed the current law's interpretation, and it has a far-reaching effect--in addition to causing the municipalities that this bill would exempt to now pay the tax, it also causes many of the state's largest industries to pay the tax. A change of the current law's interpretation with this significant impact should not be hastily made. For this reason, we think the best course of action at this time would be to return to the status quo that existed before this directive was issued, so that this issue could receive in-depth and comprehensive study.

In closing, let me reiterate that we oppose legislative action that would create a competitive advantage for one at the disadvantage of another. We feel this bill needs to be studied in a much broader context, and we'll be happy to work with this committee and any interested party on this issue. Thank you.

POSITION STATEMENT OF
NORTH CAROLINA NATURAL GAS CORPORATION
SENATE BILL 1327
NO TAX ON GAS CITIES

North Carolina Natural Gas Corporation favors that part of this bill contained on page 2, lines 4-31, excluding lines 18-20, which helps to equalize taxes that are collected by sellers of gas and paid by all users of gas. This helps to level the playing field among all customers and sellers of natural gas. However, NCNG would like to see the per therm charge for those volumes in excess of 15,001 at a rate of $ .011 per therm which would more closely mirror the rates charged by surrounding states and not set North Carolina at an economic disadvantage for keeping and attracting new industry.

- NCNG objects to some provisions of this bill as follows:

- On page 14, lines 40-44, include a proposal to expand the service area of eight municipalities that currently serve natural gas to their citizens to include "all premises initially requiring piped natural gas service after June 30, 1998, that are located wholly within the county where the municipality is located." North Carolina Natural Gas presently serves many customers in large portions of the counties in which four of the municipalities are located and this language would, in effect, confiscate parts of our franchised territory. NCNG recommends that lines 40-44 on page 14 and lines 1 & 2 on page 15 be stricken from this bill.

- NCNG is regulated by the North Carolina Utilities Commission and is required to be a supplier of last resort and has an obligation to serve. This language could render NCNG's investment in these areas valueless and this loss would have to be made up by NCNG's remaining customers.

- Residents outside of a municipality do not have any vote in municipal elections and their rates would be established by the municipality, which could be very detrimental to those county residents as it is common in this state for municipals to charge out-of-town residents twice the in-town rate for water service they are receiving.

- NCNG's customers, who have disputes or disagreements with NCNG, have the right to bring their disagreements before the North Carolina Utilities Commission for resolution. Customers of municipalities do not have this protection.

- NCNG also recommends that lines 18-20 on page 2 be eliminated from this bill. NCNG cannot understand why eight cities think they should not collect the excise tax on the piped natural gas sold and transported by them when all of the other citizens, businesses, and industries in cities such as Goldsboro, Gastonia, Wilmington, Lumberton, Kenansville, New Bern, Fayetteville, Hickory, and Whiteville, to name a few, would be required to pay the excise tax. This would give these eight cities a competitive advantage in recruiting new industry over all areas of the state. Either all consumers of gas in the state should pay the tax or not pay the tax. It is a fairness issue.

- If these eight cities collect the excise tax, they would receive half of it back on a quarterly basis as described in lines 10-14 on page 3, just like the other cities in the state are to receive.

AN ACT TO IMPLEMENT A RECOMMENDATION OF THE JOINT LEGISLATIVE ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURE OVERSIGHT COMMITTEE TO DIRECT THE BOARD OF PHARMACY TO REFUND FEES ERRONEOUSLY COLLECTED.

Whereas, the Board of Pharmacy charged persons it deemed to be "pharmacy technicians" a registration fee based on an erroneous interpretation of Chapter 231 of the 1997 Session Laws; and Section 1. The Board of Pharmacy shall develop a plan, including a timetable, for the repayment of fees erroneously collected.

Section 2. The Board of Pharmacy shall submit the plan in writing to the Joint Legislative Administrative Procedure Oversight Committee no later than September 1, 1998.

Section 3. This act is effective when it becomes law.

Pharmacy Bd./Refund Fees
Pharmacy Personnel

FROM: Cindy Avrette, Committee Counsel
DATE: June 2, 1998
SPONSOR: Senator Kerr

The Joint Legislative Administrative Procedure Oversight Committee recommended Senate Bills 1199 and 1200 to the 1998 General Assembly. Senate Bill 1199 requires the Board of Pharmacy to develop a plan to refund a $25 registration fee it imposed on persons it deemed to be "pharmacy technicians" based on an erroneous interpretation of S.L. 1997-231. The Board must submit the plan to the Joint Legislative Administrative Procedure Oversight Committee by September 1, 1998. The Board mailed the refund checks last Thursday and Friday, May 28 and 29. Therefore, there is no need to act on Senate Bill 1199. Senate Bill 1200 amends the Pharmacy Practice Act to accomplish what the Board intended to accomplish in S.L. 1997-239. It defines "pharmacy technicians" and authorizes the Board of Pharmacy to register pharmacy technicians and impose a $25 registration fee on them.

Last session, the General Assembly authorized the Board of Pharmacy to charge and collect "for the registration of any change in pharmacist personnel as required under G.S. 90-85.21(a), twenty-five dollars ($25.00)." Based upon that legislation, the Board, through its rule-making power, defined the term "pharmacy technician", required pharmacy technicians to be registered with the Board, and charged pharmacy technicians an annual $25.00 registration fee.

After studying the Pharmacy Practice Act, the Joint Legislative Administrative Procedure Oversight Committee found that the Board did not have the statutory authority to adopt administrative rules defining or registering pharmacy technicians and that it did not have the statutory authority to charge pharmacy technicians an annual $25 registration fee. G.S. 90-85.21(a), the statute upon which the Board relied when it developed its rules, requires each pharmacy to identify the pharmacist-manager and all pharmacist personnel. The Act defines the terms "pharmacist" as a person licensed to practice pharmacy. The Act does not define "pharmacist personnel".

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:
In 1997 and 1998, the Board of Pharmacy collected $106,500 in fees by registering 4,260 unlicensed pharmacy personnel. The Joint Legislative Administrative Procedure Oversight Committee reviewed the $25 fee on pharmacy technicians and found that the Board of Pharmacy had no statutory authority to charge the fee. The fees were refunded on May 28 and 29, 1998. This bill gives the Board of Pharmacy the statutory authority to charge a $25 registration fee for pharmacy technicians. The note assumes the same 4,260 personnel licensed in 1997 and 1998 will be licensed again in FY 1998-99. Since no estimate is available on the growth rate in this profession, the revenue for future years is equal to FY 1998-99.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO PRESERVE THE TAX-EXEMPT STATUS FOR PIPED NATURAL GAS SOLD BY MUNICIPALITIES, TO MAKE THE TAXES ON OTHER SALES OF PIPED NATURAL GAS MORE UNIFORM, AND TO LIMIT THE SERVICE AREA A MUNICIPALITY MAY SERVE WITH PIPED NATURAL GAS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. Chapter 105 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new Article to read:

"ARTICLE 5E.

"Piped Natural Gas Tax.

"§ 105-187.40. Definitions.

The definitions in G.S. 105-228.90 and the following definitions apply in this Article:

(1) Gas city. -- A city in this State that operated a piped natural gas distribution system as of July 1, 1998. These cities are Bessemer City, Greenville, Kings Mountain, Lexington, Monroe, Rocky Mount, Shelby, and Wilson.

(2) Local distribution company. -- A natural gas company to whom the North Carolina Utilities Commission has issued a franchise under Chapter 62 of the General Statutes to serve an area of this State.

(3) Sales customer. -- An end-user who does not have direct access to an interstate gas pipeline and whose piped natural gas is delivered by the seller of the gas.

(4) Transportation customer. -- An end-user who does not have direct access to an interstate gas pipeline and whose piped natural gas is delivered by a person who is not the seller of the gas.

"§ 105-187.41. Tax imposed on piped natural gas.

(a) Scope. -- An excise tax is imposed on piped natural gas received for consumption in this State. This tax is imposed in lieu of a sales and use tax and a percentage gross receipts tax on piped natural gas.

(b) Rate. -- The tax rate is set in the table below. The tax rate is based on monthly therm volumes of piped natural gas received by the end-user of the gas. If an end-user receives piped natural gas that is metered through two or more separate measuring devices, the tax is calculated separately on the volume metered through each device rather than on the total volume metered through all measuring devices.

Monthly Volume of Therms Received	Rate Per Therm
First 200	$.047
201 to 15,000	.027
Over 15,001	.022

(c) Gas City Exemption. -- The tax imposed by this section does not apply to piped natural gas received by a gas city for consumption by that city or to piped natural gas delivered by a gas city to a sales or transportation customer of the gas city.

"§ 105-187.42. Liability for the tax.

The excise tax imposed by this section on piped natural gas is payable as follows:

(1) For piped natural gas delivered by a local distribution company to a sales or transportation customer, the tax is payable by the local distribution company.

(2) For piped natural gas delivered by a person who is not a local distribution company to a sales or transportation customer, the tax is payable by that person.

(3) For piped natural gas received by a person by means of direct access to an interstate gas pipeline for consumption by that person, the tax is payable by that person.

"§ 105-187.43. Payment of the tax.

(a) Monthly Return. -- The tax imposed by this Article is payable monthly to the Secretary. A monthly tax payment is due by the last day of the month that follows the month in which the tax accrues. The tax imposed by this Article on piped natural gas delivered to a sales or transportation customer accrues when the gas is delivered. The tax payable on piped natural gas received by a person who has direct access to an interstate pipeline for consumption by that person accrues when the gas is received.

(b) Small Underpayments. -- A person is not subject to interest on or penalties for an underpayment of a monthly amount due if the person timely pays at least ninety-five percent (95%) of the amount due and includes the underpayment with the next return the person files.

"§ 105-187.44. Distribution of part of tax proceeds to cities.

(a) City Information. -- A monthly return filed under this Article must indicate the amount of tax attributable to the following: if a tax return does not state this information, the Secretary must determine how much of the tax proceeds are to be attributed to each city:

(1) Piped natural gas delivered during the month to sales or transportation customers in each city in the State.

(2) Piped natural gas received during the month in each city in the State by persons who have direct access to an interstate gas pipeline and who receive the gas for their own consumption.

(b) Distribution. -- Within 75 days after the end of each calendar quarter, the Secretary must distribute to the cities part of the tax proceeds collected under this Article during that quarter. The amount to be distributed to a city is one-half of the amount of tax attributable to that city for that quarter under subsection (a) of this section.

The tax on an electric power company is three and twenty-two hundredths percent (3.22%) of the company's taxable gross receipts from the business of furnishing electricity, electric lights, current, or power. ~~The tax on a natural gas company is three and twenty-two hundredths percent (3.22%) of the company's taxable gross receipts from the business of furnishing piped natural gas.~~ The tax on a regional natural gas district is three and twenty-two hundredths percent (3.22%) of the district's taxable gross receipts from the furnishing of piped natural gas. The tax on a water company is four percent (4%) of the company's taxable gross receipts from owning or operating a water system subject to regulation by the North Carolina Utilities Commission. The tax on a public sewerage company is six percent (6%) of the company's taxable gross receipts from owning or operating a public sewerage company. A company's taxable gross receipts are its gross receipts from business inside the State less the amount of gross receipts from sales reported under subdivision (b)(2). A company that engages in more than one business taxed under this section shall pay tax on each business. A company is allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this section for the company's investments in certain entities in accordance with Division V of Article 4 of this Chapter.

(b) Report and Payment. -- The tax imposed by this section is payable monthly or quarterly as specified in this subsection. A report is due quarterly. An electric power ~~company, a natural gas company, or a regional natural gas district~~ company shall pay tax monthly. A monthly tax payment is due by the last day of the month that follows the month in which the tax accrues, except the payment for tax that accrues in May. The payment for tax that accrues in May is due by June 25. A taxpayer is not subject to interest on or penalties for an underpayment of a monthly amount due if the taxpayer timely pays at least ninety-five percent (95%) of the amount due and includes the underpayment with the next report the company files. The report shall include the taxpayer's gross receipts from all property it owned or operated during the reporting period in connection with its business taxed under this section and shall contain the following information:

(1) The taxpayer's gross receipts for the reporting period from business inside and outside this State, stated separately.

(2) The taxpayer's gross receipts from commodities or services described in subsection (a) that are sold to a vendee subject to the tax levied by this section or to a joint agency established under ~~G.S. Chapter 159B~~ Chapter 159B of the General Statutes or a city having an ownership share in a project established under that Chapter.

(3) The amount of and price paid by the taxpayer for commodities or services described in subsection (a) that are purchased from others engaged in business in this State and the name of each vendor.

(4) For an electric power ~~company, a natural gas company, or a regional natural gas district,~~ company the entity's gross receipts from the sale within each city of the commodities and services described in subsection (a).

A taxpayer ~~shall~~ must report its gross receipts on an accrual basis. If a taxpayer's report does not state the taxpayer's taxable gross receipts derived within a city, the Secretary must determine a practical method of allocating part of the taxpayer's taxable gross receipts to the city.

~~(1) Special charges collected within this State by the company pursuant to drilling and exploration surcharges approved by the North Carolina Utilities Commission, if the surcharges are segregated from the other receipts of the company and are devoted to drilling, exploration, and other means to acquire additional supplies of natural gas for the account of natural gas customers in North Carolina and the beneficial interest in the surcharge collections is preserved for the natural gas customers paying the surcharges under rules established by the Commission.~~

~~(2) Natural gas expansion surcharges imposed under G.S. 62-158.~~

(d) Distribution. -- Part of the taxes imposed by this section on electric power companies, natural gas companies, and regional natural gas districts is distributed to cities under G.S. 105-116.1.

(e) Local Tax. -- So long as there is a distribution to cities from the tax imposed by this section, no city shall impose or collect any greater franchise, privilege or license taxes, in the aggregate, on the businesses taxed under this section, than was imposed and collected on or before January 1, 1947. ~~If any municipality shall have collected any privilege, license or franchise tax between January 1, 1947, and April 1, 1949, in excess of the tax collected by it prior to January 1, 1947, then upon distribution of the taxes imposed by this section to municipalities, the amount distributable to any municipality shall be credited with such excess payment.~~

~~(f) Gas City Exemption. — The tax imposed by this section does not apply to the following cities that operate their own piped natural gas systems: Bessemer City, Kings Mountain, Lexington, Shelby, Greenville, Monroe, Rocky Mount, and Wilson.~~"

Section 3. G.S. 105-116.1 reads as rewritten:

"§ 105-116.1. Distribution of gross receipts taxes to cities.

(a) Definitions. -- The following definitions apply in this section:

(1) Freeze deduction. -- The amount by which the percentage distribution amount of a city was required to be reduced in fiscal year 1995-96 in determining the amount to distribute to the city.

(2) Percentage distribution amount. -- Three and nine hundredths percent (3.09%) of the gross receipts derived by an electric power ~~company, a natural gas company, a regional natural gas district,~~ company and a telephone company from sales within a city that are taxable under G.S. 105-116 or G.S. 105-120.

(b) Distribution. -- The Secretary must distribute to the cities part of the taxes collected under this Article on electric power ~~companies, natural gas companies, regional natural gas districts,~~ companies and telephone companies. Each city's share for a calendar quarter is the percentage distribution amount for that city for that quarter minus one-fourth of the city's hold-back amount and one-fourth of the city's proportionate share of the annual cost to the Department of administering the distribution. The Secretary must make the distribution within 75 days after the end of each calendar quarter.

(c) Limited Hold-Harmless Adjustment. -- The hold-back amount for a city that, in the 1995-96 fiscal year, received from gross receipts taxes less than ninety-five percent (95%) of the amount it received in the 1990-91 fiscal year is the amount determined by the following calculation:

(1) Adjust the city's 1995-96 distribution by adding the city's freeze deduction to the amount distributed to the city for that year.

(2) Compare the adjusted 1995-96 amount with the city's 1990-91 distribution.

(3) If the adjusted 1995-96 amount is less than or equal to the city's 1990-91 distribution, the hold-back amount for the city is zero.

(4) If the adjusted 1995-96 amount is more than the city's 1990-91 distribution, the hold-back amount for the city is the city's freeze deduction minus the difference between the city's 1990-91 distribution and the city's 1995-96 distribution.

(d) Allocation of Hold-Harmless Adjustment. -- The hold-back amount for a city that, in the 1995-96 fiscal year, received from gross receipts taxes at least ninety-five percent (95%) of the amount it received in the 1990-91 fiscal year is the amount determined by the following calculation:

(1) Determine the amount by which the freeze deduction is reduced for all cities whose hold-back amount is determined under subsection (c) of this section. This amount is the total hold-harmless adjustment.

(2) Determine the amount of gross receipts taxes that would be distributed for the quarter to cities whose hold-back amount is determined under this subsection if these cities received their percentage distribution amount minus one-fourth of their freeze deduction.

(3) For each city included in the calculation in subdivision (2) of this subsection, determine that city's percentage share of the amount determined under that subdivision.

(4) Add to the city's freeze deduction an amount equal to the city's percentage share under subdivision (3) of this subsection multiplied by the total hold-harmless adjustment."

Section 4. G.S. 105-164.3(25) reads as rewritten:

"(25) 'Utility' means an electric power ~~company, a gas company, a regional natural gas district,~~ company or a telephone company that is subject to a privilege tax based on gross receipts under G.S. 105-116 or 105-120, a business entity that provides local, toll, or private telecommunications service as defined by G.S. ~~105-120(c)~~ 105-120(e), or a municipality that sells electric power, other than a municipality whose only wholesale supplier of electric power is a federal agency and who is required by a contract with that federal agency to make payments in lieu of taxes."

Section 5. G.S. 105-164.4(a) reads as rewritten:

The tax imposed in this section shall in no case be less than thirty-five dollars ($35.00) and shall be for the privilege of carrying on, doing business, and/or the continuance of articles of incorporation or domestication of each such corporation in this State. The term "total actual investment in tangible property" as used in this section shall be construed to mean the total original purchase price or consideration to the reporting taxpayer of its tangible properties, including real estate, in this State plus additions and improvements thereto less reserve for depreciation as permitted for income tax purposes, and also less any indebtedness incurred and existing by virtue of the purchase of any real estate and any permanent improvements made thereon. In computing "total actual investment in tangible personal property" there shall also be deducted reserves for the entire cost of any air-cleaning device or sewage or waste treatment plant, including waste lagoons, and pollution abatement equipment purchased or constructed and installed which reduces the amount of air or water pollution resulting from the emission of air contaminants or the discharge of sewage and industrial wastes or other polluting materials or substances into the outdoor atmosphere or into streams, lakes, or rivers, upon condition that the corporation claiming such deduction shall furnish to the Secretary a certificate from the Department of Environment and Natural Resources or from a local air pollution control program for air-cleaning devices located in an area where the Environmental Management Commission has certified a local air pollution control program pursuant to G.S. 143-215.112 certifying that said Department or local air pollution control program has found as a fact that the air-cleaning device, waste treatment plant or pollution abatement equipment purchased or constructed and installed as above described has actually been constructed and installed and that such device, plant or equipment complies with the requirements of the Environmental Management Commission or local air pollution control program with respect to such devices, plants or equipment, that such device, plant or equipment is being effectively operated in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth in the permit, certificate of approval, or other document of approval issued by the Environmental Management Commission or local air pollution control program and that the primary purpose thereof is to reduce air or water pollution resulting from the emission of air contaminants or the discharge of sewage and waste and not merely incidental to other purposes and functions. The cost of constructing facilities of any private or public utility built for the purpose of providing sewer service to residential and outlying areas shall be treated as deductible for the purposes of this section; the deductible liability allowed by this section shall apply only with respect to such pollution abatement plants or equipment constructed or installed on or after January 1, 1955.

~~In determining the total tax payable by any corporation under this section, there shall be allowed as a credit on such tax the amount of the credit authorized by Division V of Article 4 of this Chapter.~~"

Section 15. The provisions of this act are severable. If any provision of this act is held invalid by a court of competent jurisdiction, the invalidity does not affect other provisions of the act that can be given effect without the invalid provision.

Section 16. Sections 1 through 12 of this act become effective January 1, 1999. Section 13 of this act becomes effective July 1, 1998. The remainder of this act is effective when it becomes law.

and on page 1, lines 4 through 6, by inserting a period immediately after the word "UNIFORM" and by deleting the remainder of those lines; and on page 1, lines 21 and 22, by inserting a new definition between those lines to read:

"(3) Premises. -- Defined in G.S. 62-110.2. When applying the definition of premises to this Article, electric service is to be construed as piped natural gas service."; and on page 1, line 22, by deleting "(3)" and substituting "(4);

and on page 2, line 1, by deleting "(4)" and substituting "(5)";

and on page 2, lines 12 through 17, by rewriting those lines to read:

"each device rather than on the total volume metered through all measuring devices, unless the devices are located on the same premises and are part of the same billing account. In that circumstance, the tax is calculated on the total volume metered through the two or more separate measuring devices.

Monthly Volume of Therms Received	Rate Per Therm

EXPLANATION OF AMENDMENT:
S1327-ARBX-8

This amendment does four things:

- It changes the third rate category on page 2, line 17, to provide the State with the same amount of revenue under the bill that it anticipates receiving under the current franchise/sales tax structure. The targeted amount of revenue needed is $60 million. This amount is based on the law prior to the directive issued by the Department of Revenue.

- It provides that the tax is calculated on the total volume metered through two or more separate measuring devices if the devices are located on the same premises and are part of the same billing account. (Page 2, line 12) Many large industrial customers have more than one meter because, at the time the meters were installed, there was not a meter that could reliably gauge the large volumes of piped gas received. Although technology has improved and such a meter exist today, it would cost several million dollars to replace the multiple meters with one improved meter. It is the seller's responsibility to replace the meter. If the seller replaces the meter, the cost of doing so will be reflected in its rates. Rather than impose this burden on the seller, and ultimately the consumers, the amendment makes this technical change.

- It makes a technical change on page 3, lines 39 and 40. These lines are no longer needed because regional natural gas districts will not pay a franchise tax under the bill.

- It deletes Section 14, which sets forth the service area of gas cities. The statutes that currently govern the expansion of a gas city's service area will remain. G.S. 159-96 says that a city may not use revenue bonds to finance, in whole or in part, a natural gas distribution system that will serve users outside the corporate limits of the city if service is available or will be available within a reasonable time from a local distribution company. G.S. 160A-312 gives cities the authority to operate public utilities within their corporate limits and, within reasonable limitations, outside their corporate limits. Caselaw provides that certain factors may be considered when determining whether an extension of service is reasonable. As applied to electricity, those factors include the electric providers' current levels of service in the area in question, particularly in the immediate vicinity of the potential customer, and the present readiness, willingness, and ability of each to serve the potential customer.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO TRANSFER THE AREA OF MECKLENBURG COUNTY KNOWN AS MECK NECK TO IREDELL COUNTY.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. The boundary line between Iredell County and Mecklenburg County is hereby changed and relocated so as to divest Mecklenburg County of the territory described below, which territory shall vest in and become part of Iredell County:

That area commonly known as the Meck Neck, being all that land in Mecklenburg County which is connected by land to Iredell County and not connected by land to Mecklenburg County, and the area of Lake Norman in Mecklenburg County around such land, all as more particularly described as follows:

BEGINNING at Latitude 35° at 29.466" North and Longitude 80° at 56.597" West (the "present location of Fixed Lighted Marker D1" as established by the global positioning system, and being approximately .3 mile south of the southerly most point of the Meck Neck Land Area); thence in a northeasterly direction in a straight line which passes through Latitude 35° at 30.024" North and Longitude 80° at 55.736" West (the "present location of Fixed Lighted Marker D5" as established by the global positioning system) to a point in the Mecklenburg County-Iredell County line located near where the old channel of Reeds Creek intersects said line; thence in a westerly direction with the Mecklenburg County-Iredell County line to the point where said line intersects the Lincoln County line; thence in a southerly direction with the Mecklenburg County-Lincoln County line to a point where a straight line from the present location of Fixed Lighted Marker D5 to the present location of Fixed Lighted Marker D1 extended would intersect with the Mecklenburg County-Lincoln County line; thence in a northeasterly direction with said straight line from the present location of Fixed Lighted Marker D5 to the present location of Fixed Lighted Marker D1 extended to the Mecklenburg County-Lincoln County Line to the present location of Fixed Lighted Marker D1, the point or place of BEGINNING.

Section 2. (a) On and after July 1, 1998, all papers, documents, and instruments required or permitted to be filed or registered, involving residents and property in the area described in Section 1 of this act, which previously would have been recorded in Mecklenburg County shall be recorded in Iredell County.

(b) All public records related to residents and property in the area described in Section 1 of this act which were filed or recorded prior to July 1, 1998, in Mecklenburg County, shall remain in Mecklenburg County where filed or recorded, and such records shall be valid public records as to the property and persons involved even though they are recorded in Mecklenburg County, a county where the property is no longer located.

(c) On and after July 1, 1998, all real and personal property in the area described in Section 1 of this act which was subject to ad valorem taxation in that area on January 1, 1998, shall be subject to ad valorem taxes in Iredell County for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1998, to the same extent as it would have been had it been located in Iredell County on January 1, 1998, except as hereinafter provided with respect to classified registered motor vehicles. On July 1, 1998, the Mecklenburg County Tax Administrator shall transfer to the Iredell County Tax Assessor the ad valorem tax listings and valuations for all real and personal property subject to ad valorem taxation in the area described in Section 1 except classified motor vehicles which were registered in Mecklenburg County prior to July 1, 1998.

For the fiscal year which begins July 1, 1998, all real and personal property in the area described in Section 1 of this act which was subject to ad valorem taxation in that area on January 1, 1998, shall be assessed and taxed as follows:

(1) The ad valorem property taxes assessed on all classified registered motor vehicles registered or listed between January 1, 1998, and June 30, 1998, shall be collected by the Mecklenburg County Tax Collector and all such taxes shall be retained by Mecklenburg County. The taxes on all classified registered motor vehicles registered after June 30, 1998, shall be assessed and collected by the Iredell County Tax Department.

(2) The values established by the Mecklenburg County Tax Administrator on all personal property other than classified registered motor vehicles shall be used by the Iredell County Tax Assessor without adjustment in computing taxes due for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1998. All such taxes shall be assessed and collected by the Iredell County Tax Department.

(3) The values established by the Mecklenburg County Tax Administrator on all real property shall be reduced by the Iredell County Tax Assessor by applying the difference between one hundred percent (100%) of such values and the Iredell median ratio, as established by the Sales Assessment Ratio Study compiled by the North Carolina Department of Revenue as of January 1, 1998. The taxes determined by applying this method will be collected and retained by the Iredell County Tax Collector.

(4) Beginning January 1, 1999, all property in the area described in Section 1 which is subject to ad valorem taxation shall be listed, assessed, and taxed by Iredell County in the same manner as is prescribed by law for all other property located in Iredell County.

(5) The final tax values of property subject to ad valorem taxation in the area described in Section 1 as of January 1, 1998, shall be determined by the Mecklenburg County Tax Administrator or the Mecklenburg County Board of Equalization and Review. Appeals to the North Carolina Property Tax Commission or to the courts shall be defended by Mecklenburg County, and Iredell County shall reimburse Mecklenburg County for all costs and expenses, including attorneys' fees, incurred in connection with such appeals.

(6) Any unpaid taxes or tax liens for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1998, or for prior years on property subject to taxation in the area described in Section 1 of this act shall continue to be valid and enforceable by Mecklenburg County, including the foreclosure remedies provided for in G.S. 105-374 and G.S. 105-375, and the remedies of attachment and garnishment provided for in G.S. 105-366 through G.S. 105-368. Mecklenburg County shall supply Iredell County with a list of unpaid taxes as of July 1, 1998. Any such taxes collected by Iredell County shall be promptly paid to Mecklenburg County including accrued interest.

(d) On July 1, 1998, Iredell County shall become fully responsible for completing the Street Assessment Program begun by Mecklenburg County pursuant to authority granted to counties by Article 9 of Chapter 153A of the General Statutes to improve Blarney Road and Gainswood Drive to meet the State's requirements for adding such roads to the State Secondary Road System, said roads being located within the area described in Section 1 of this act. To the extent not already completed by July 1, 1998, Iredell County shall become responsible for preparing the Preliminary Assessment Roll, conducting the hearing on the Preliminary Assessment Roll Resolution, adopting the Final Assessment Roll Resolution, publishing the Notice of Confirmation of the Assessment Roll, and collecting the unpaid assessments. Should Mecklenburg County have paid the Department of Transportation for the improvement work performed on said roads before the date that the area described in Section 1 of this act is transferred to Iredell County, Iredell County will reimburse Mecklenburg County for said cost, to the extent not reimbursed by the property owners, within 90 days of said transfer of the area described in Section 1 of this act to Iredell County.

(e) No cause of action, including criminal actions, involving persons or property in that area described in Section 1 of this act which is pending on July 1, 1998, shall be abated, and such actions shall continue in Mecklenburg County.

(f) The Board of Elections of Mecklenburg County shall immediately after July 1, 1998, transfer the voter registration records pertaining to persons residing in the area described in Section 1 of this act to the Iredell County Board of Elections, and thereafter the registered voters so transferred shall be validly registered to vote in Iredell County.

(g) The Jury Commission of each county shall revise its jury lists to add to or eliminate therefrom those persons subject to jury duty who reside in the area described in Section 1 of this act, said revised jury lists to be effective July 1, 1998.

(h) The area described in Section 1 of this act shall be transferred into Superior Court District 22, District Court District 22, and Prosecutorial District 22. The area described in Section 1 of this act shall remain in the same Congressional District, the same State House of Representatives District, and the same State Senate District.

Section 3. The Meck Neck Transfer Joint Undertaking Agreement made as of November 18, 1997, by and between Iredell County and Mecklenburg County is ratified.

Section 4. Iredell County shall pay, on behalf of residents of the Meck Neck, all tuition charges which might have been imposed by the Iredell County Board of Education on children living in the Meck Neck who attended schools operated by the Iredell County Board of Education prior to July 1, 1998.

Section 5. Any child who was a resident of the area annexed by Section 1 of this act on its date of ratification and who was a student in the Charlotte-Mecklenburg school system during the 1997-98 school year, and the siblings of any such person, may attend school in the Charlotte-Mecklenburg school system without necessity of a release or payment of tuition. Such student, while attending the Charlotte-Mecklenburg school system, shall be considered a resident of Mecklenburg County for all public school purposes, including transportation, athletics, and funding formulas. Notice must be given to both school systems by the parent or guardian in order to exercise the privilege granted by this section.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO ANNEX THE MECK NECK AREA OF MECKLENBURG COUNTY TO IREDELL COUNTY.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. (a) The boundary line between Mecklenburg County and Iredell County is hereby changed and relocated so as to divest Mecklenburg County of all the territory now and heretofore embraced in the bounds of Meck Neck as defined in subsection (b) of this section, and vest and include all of said territory in Iredell County, and the said territory shall become and be a part of Iredell County.

(b) "Meck Neck" is that area commonly known as the Meck Neck, and surrounding waters, being all that land in Mecklenburg County which is connected by land to Iredell County and not connected by land to Mecklenburg County, and the area of Lake Norman in Mecklenburg County extending out 300 feet from such land. Such area also includes the area of Lake Norman in Mecklenburg County beginning at a point 300 feet south of the southernmost point of the Meck Neck land area, running due west to the Lincoln-Mecklenburg County line, following that line to the Iredell-Mecklenburg-Lincoln corner, thence along the Iredell-Mecklenburg County line to a point 300 feet west of land, thence along a line 300 feet from land to the beginning point of description in this sentence.

Section 2. Courts. All civil and criminal cases now pending in the Superior Court of Mecklenburg County, or in any other courts held in Mecklenburg County which would have been properly triable in Iredell County, if the territory affected by this act had been a part of Iredell County at the time the cause was instituted, or the right of action therein accrued, or where the criminal offense charged was committed in the territory affected by this act, shall upon motion of any defendant in any criminal case pending, or upon motion of any party in a civil cause, be transferred to the Superior Court or other proper court of Iredell County. Such motion for removal shall be made no later than the first day of the session of court at which such case would be tried. It shall be the duty of the Clerk of the Superior Court of Mecklenburg County to transmit the original papers in all such cases removed, together with a proper record of all such causes removed, to the Clerk of the Superior Court of Iredell County. All actions, causes or proceedings, matters, and things pending before the Clerk of the Superior Court of Mecklenburg County, which would have been within the jurisdiction of the Clerk of the Superior Court of Iredell County, had the territory affected by this act been a part of Iredell County at the time said cause, proceeding, matter, or thing was begun, or the right therein accrued, shall upon motion of any party thereto or interested therein be transferred to Iredell County and the jurisdiction of the Clerk of the Superior Court of Iredell County to be heard, determined, or proceeded with before him in all respects as if the said cause, matter, or proceeding had originally been begun in Iredell County. Upon such removal, it shall be the duty of the Clerk of the Superior Court of Mecklenburg County from which the removal is made to transmit to the Clerk of the Superior Court of the County of Iredell the original papers in such cause, matter, or proceeding, together with the proper record thereof.

Section 3. Taxes. All taxes levied by Mecklenburg County on the real and personal property located in the territory described in subsection (b) of Section 1 of this act, for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1997, and for all prior years shall be collected and retained by Mecklenburg County.

Section 4. Juries. The Jury Commission of Iredell County shall include persons within the territory affected by this act on jury lists in Iredell County beginning July 1, 1998, and no person resident in such area shall be included on jury lists in Mecklenburg County after that date.

Section 5. Voter Registration. The Mecklenburg County Board of Elections shall transfer to Iredell County all voter registrations for persons in the territory affected by this act, and such persons shall be registered to vote in Iredell County as of July 1, 1998, without any action on the part of the voter. This act does not affect the boundaries of any State House, State Senate, or Congressional district.

Section 6. (a) Iredell County shall pay to Mecklenburg County for fiscal year 1998-99 and the next nine succeeding fiscal years the annual sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), plus for the second through tenth fiscal years an additional amount as defined by subsection (b) of this section.

(b) For each year, the additional amount is calculated by FIRST taking the value of the property in the Meck Neck subject to ad valorem taxation minus the value of property in the Meck Neck subject to ad valorem taxation as of January 1, 1998, then DIVIDING that number by the value of the property in the Meck Neck subject to ad valorem taxation minus the value of property in the Meck Neck subject to ad valorem taxation as of January 1, 1998, then MULTIPLYING that number times one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000).

(c) Each payment required by this section shall be made on or before January 15 of each fiscal year.

Section 7. Iredell County shall pay, on behalf of residents of the Meck Neck, all tuition charges which might have been imposed by the Iredell County Board of Education on children living in the Meck Neck who attended schools operated by the Iredell County Board of Education prior to July 1, 1998.

Section 8. Any child who was a resident of the area annexed by Section 1 of this act on its date of ratification and who was a student in the Charlotte-Mecklenburg school system during the 1997-98 school year, and the younger sibling of any such person, may attend school in the Charlotte-Mecklenburg school system without necessity of a release or payment of tuition. Such student, while attending the Charlotte-Mecklenburg school system, shall be considered a resident of Mecklenburg County for all public school purposes, including transportation, athletics, and funding formulas. Notice must be given to both school systems by the parent or guardian in order to exercise the privilege granted by this section.

Section 9. This act is effective when it becomes law, except that for the purposes of ad valorem property tax situs, listing, and appraisal, the boundary changes in this act are effective as of January 1, 1998, and apply to the 1998-99 tax year and all subsequent tax years.

NORTH CAROLINA GENERAL ASSEMBLY

LEGISLATIVE FISCAL NOTE

BILL NUMBER: S.B. 1222

SHORT TITLE: Meck Neck

SPONSOR(S): Senators Odom, Dannelly, Forrester, Phillips, Rucho, and Winner.

FISCAL IMPACT

Yes (X) No ( ) No Estimate Available ( )

	FY 1998-99	FY 1999-00	FY 2000-01	FY 2001-02	FY 2002-03
REVENUES
EXPENDITURES

No expected General Fund impact
Will redistribute approximately $600,000 - $700,000 in revenues and expenses between Mecklenburg and Iredell Counties.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Mecklenburg County, Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools, Iredell County, Statesville-Iredell Schools, Department of Public Instruction.

EFFECTIVE DATE: When law, except for property tax sections, which become effective January 1, 1998.

BILL SUMMARY: The bill will change the territory of Mecklenburg and Iredell Counties by incorporating into Iredell County the "Meck Neck" area (area of Mecklenburg County connected by land to Iredell County but not connected by land to Mecklenburg County) and certain portions of Lake Norman. The bill includes provisions dealing with the transfer of property taxes, public school students, civil and criminal cases, jury lists, and voting regulations. It also requires Iredell to pay Mecklenburg $100,000 per year for the next nine years, as well as a premium on any growth in the value of property in the "Meck Neck" area.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: Because there are only 12 students in the Meck Neck area, and all have the option of staying in Mecklenburg, it is assumed that there will be no significant cost to the state associated with student transfers. This is the only item in the bill that could have an impact on the General Fund.

The county impact assumes the following:

1) Property taxes and valuation. According to the Mecklenburg County Manager, the total value of property in the "Meck Neck" area is approximately $88 million. The current property tax rate in Iredell county is a base of $0.45/$100.00 assessed value, with a fire assessment of $0.05/$100.00 assessed value. The expected rate in Mecklenburg County for 1998-9 will be approximately $0.665/$100.00, plus a law enforcement assessment of $0.095/$100.00. Mecklenburg County also pays a service contract of $215,000for the area, which they will not pay if the bill is passed. New construction growth in the "Meck Neck" area is approximately 2.14%.
2) Other costs. It is assumed that the costs associated with transferring court documents, jury lists, etc. will be minimal. Because it is impossible to determine how many of the 12 school students will transfer to Iredell schools, no accurate estimate of the cost associated with the transfer is possible.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO REMOVE THE SUNSET FROM THE QUALIFIED BUSINESS TAX CREDIT AND TO INCREASE THE CAP FROM SIX MILLION DOLLARS TO NINE MILLION DOLLARS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. Section 7 of Chapter 443 of the 1993 Session Laws is repealed.

Section 2. Section 10 of Chapter 443 of the 1993 Session Laws reads as rewritten:

"Sec. 10. Section 6 of this act is effective upon ratification. ~~Section 7 of this act becomes effective for investments made on or after January 1, 1999.~~ The remainder of this act becomes effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1994.

A business registered as a qualified business venture or a qualified grantee business before January 1, 1994, retains its registration until the renewal date for the registration of that business under Division V of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes as in effect before January 1, 1994. The Secretary of State shall not grant renewal of a registration as a qualified business venture or a qualified grantee business unless at the time of filing the renewal application, the business meets the requirements then in effect for a new registration.

Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-163.014(a), as amended by this act, a credit under Division V of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes for an investment made before January 1, 1994, is not forfeited solely on the grounds that a sibling of the taxpayer provides services for compensation to the business in which the taxpayer invested.

Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-163.014(d), as amended by this act, a credit under Division V of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes for an investment made before January 1, 1994, is not forfeited solely on the grounds that a redemption of the securities received in the investment is made within five years after the investment was made.

The Secretary of State may require a qualified business venture or a qualified grantee business that is unable to renew its registration after January 1, 1994, to file reports the Secretary of State considers appropriate to determine the location of the headquarters and principal business operations of the business until three years after the date of the last investment in the business that qualified for the tax credit allowed under Division V of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes."

Section 3. G.S. 105-163.012(b) reads as rewritten:

"(b) The total amount of all tax credits allowed to taxpayers under G.S. 105-163.011 for investments made in a calendar year may not exceed ~~six million dollars ($6,000,000).~~ nine million dollars ($9,000,000). The Secretary of Revenue shall calculate the total amount of tax credits claimed from the applications filed pursuant to G.S. 105-163.011(c). If the total amount of tax credits claimed for investments made in a calendar year exceeds ~~six million dollars ($6,000,000),~~ nine million dollars ($9,000,000), the Secretary shall allow a portion of the credits claimed by allocating a total of ~~six million dollars ($6,000,000)~~ nine million dollars ($9,000,000) in tax credits in proportion to the size of the credit claimed by each taxpayer."

Section 4. Section 3 of this act is effective for investments made on or after January 1, 1997. The remainder of this act is effective when it becomes law.

Section 2. Section 10 of Chapter 443 of the 1993 Session Laws reads as rewritten:

"Sec. 10. Section 6 of this act is effective upon ratification. ~~Section 7 of this act becomes effective for investments made on or after January 1, 1999.~~ The remainder of this act becomes effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1994.

A business registered as a qualified business venture or a qualified grantee business before January 1, 1994, retains its registration until the renewal date for the registration of that business under Division V of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes as in effect before January 1, 1994. The Secretary of State shall not grant renewal of a registration as a qualified business venture or a qualified grantee business unless at the time of filing the renewal application, the business meets the requirements then in effect for a new registration.

Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-163.014(a), as amended by this act, a credit under Division V of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes for an investment made before January 1, 1994, is not forfeited solely on the grounds that a sibling of the taxpayer provides services for compensation to the business in which the taxpayer invested.

Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-163.014(d), as amended by this act, a credit under Division V of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes for an investment made before January 1, 1994, is not forfeited solely on the grounds that a redemption of the securities received in the investment is made within five years after the investment was made.

The Secretary of State may require a qualified business venture or a qualified grantee business that is unable to renew its registration after January 1, 1994, to file reports the Secretary of State considers appropriate to determine the location of the headquarters and principal business operations of the business until three years after the date of the last investment in the business that qualified for the tax credit allowed under Division V of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes."

Section 3. G.S. 105-163.012(b) reads as rewritten:

"(b) The total amount of all tax credits allowed to taxpayers under G.S. 105-163.011 for investments made in a calendar year may not exceed ~~six million dollars ($6,000,000).~~ twelve million dollars ($12,000,000). The Secretary of Revenue shall calculate the total amount of tax credits claimed from the applications filed pursuant to G.S. 105-163.011(c). If the total amount of tax credits claimed for investments made in a calendar year exceeds ~~six million dollars ($6,000,000),~~ twelve million dollars ($12,000,000), the Secretary shall allow a portion of the credits claimed by allocating a total of ~~six million dollars ($6,000,000)~~ twelve million dollars ($12,000,000) in tax credits in proportion to the size of the credit claimed by each taxpayer."

Section 4. Section 3 of this act becomes effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999. The remainder of this act is effective when it becomes law.

EXPLANATION OF SENATE BILL 1239:
Proposed Senate Committee Substitute
Expand Qualified Business Tax Credit

TO: Senate Finance Committee
FROM: Martha Walston, Committee Counsel
DATE: June 1, 1998
SPONSOR: Senator Hoyle

Both Senate Bill 1239 and the proposed committee substitute increase the cap on the total amount of all tax credits allowed to taxpayers who purchase the equity or subordinated debt of a qualified business venture or a qualified grantee business directly from that business from $6 million to $12 million. Both bills also repeal the sunset provision that is effective for investments made on or after January 1, 1999. The proposed committee substitute makes the increase in the cap effective for investments made on or after January 1, 1997. The repeal of the sunset provision is effective when the bill becomes law.

History of the tax credits for qualified business tax investments

The qualified business tax credits were enacted in August 1987. The purpose of the credits was to promote economic development for certain business developments. The initial credits applied to both corporations and individual taxpayers and there was a cap on the total amount of all tax credits of $12 million. The credit could also be taken only for investments in North Carolina businesses. In 1996, the General Assembly reduced the $12 million cap to $6 million, placed the sunset on the business tax credits, and removed the requirement that the qualified businesses be headquartered or operating in North Carolina. The repeal of this last requirement was due to the Fulton case which held that it was unconstitutional to provide tax preferences to North Carolina corporations but not to out-of-state corporations.

Current Law

An individual taxpayer is allowed a tax credit against the taxpayer's individual income tax when the taxpayer purchases the equity securities or subordinated debt of a qualified business venture or a qualified grantee business directly from that business. The credit is equal to 25% of the amount invested and may not exceed $50,000 per individual in a single taxable year. An individual investor may also claim his allocable share of credits obtained by "pass-through entities" of which the investor is an owner. Pass-through entities include limited partnerships, general partnerships, S corporations, and limited liability companies. The credit may not be taken in the year the investment is made. Instead, the credit is taken in the year following the calendar year in which the investment was made, but only if the taxpayer filed an application with the Secretary of State. The unused credit may be carried forward for the next 5 years. The total amount of credits allowed to all taxpayers for investments made in a calendar year may not exceed $6 million. (This cap is increased to $12 million in SB 1239.) The Secretary of Revenue calculates the total amount of tax credits claimed from applications filed with the Secretary of State. If the amount exceeds the cap, then the Secretary allows a portion of the tax credits claimed by allocating the total of $6 million in tax credits in proportion to the size of the credit claimed by each taxpayer.

Both the Bill and the proposed committee substitute also repeal the sunset on the qualified business tax credit. Under current law the tax credits for qualified business investments are repealed effective for investments made on or after January 1, 1999. The proposed committee substitute makes the increase in the cap effective for investments made on or after January 1, 1997. This would mean that the credit would affect the 1998-1999 budget, because the fiscal impact of the credit would be felt when taxpayers, who made investments in 1997, paid their taxes on April 1999 for taxable year 1998.

The credits are allowed only for investments in a qualified business venture or qualified grantee business that has registered with the Securities Division within the Secretary of State's office.

A qualified business venture must meet the following requirements:

1. It is organized to engage primarily in manufacturing, processing, warehousing, wholesaling, research and development, or a service-related industry.
2. It was organized after January 1 of the calendar year in which it filed its application, or during the most recent fiscal year before the application it had gross revenues of no more than $5 million.
3. It does not engage as a substantial part of its business in providing professional services, construction or contracting, selling or leasing at retail, investing, entertainment or recreation, or personal grooming or cosmetics service.
4. It is not organized primarily to manage or operate real estate.

A qualified grantee business must meet the following requirements:

1. It has received during the preceding 3 years a grant or other funding from the North Carolina Technological Development Authority, the North Carolina Technological Development Authority, Inc., North Carolina First Flight, Inc., the North Carolina Biotechnology Center, the Microelectronics Center of North Carolina, the Kenan Institute for Engineering, Technology, and Science, or the Federal Small Business Innovation Research Program.

A qualified business venture and qualified grantee business must renew their registration annually in order to remain qualified. The following filing fees apply:

application of registration	$100
application for renewal of registration	$ 50
application for reinstatement	$ 50

As of October 1, 1997, only two qualified business ventures were located out of state.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Department of Revenue; Department of the Secretary of State

EFFECTIVE DATE: Section 3 (increasing the cap) is effective for investments made on or after January 1, 1997. The remaining sections of the act are effective when it becomes law.

BILL SUMMARY: The proposed committee substitute repeals the sunset on the qualified business tax credit and increases the cap on these credits from $6 million to $12 million.

BACKGROUND: The qualified business tax credits given since 1993 are as follows:

1993	$4,711,913
1994	$6,011,513
1995	$3,523,894
1996	$4,677,221
1997	$6,000,000 *
1998	$4,893,891 **

* The Department of Revenue received requests for $9,264,679 in credits, but the General Assembly limited the credit amount to $6 million in 1997.

 This amount represents the applications processed as of May 28, 1998. (applications pending)

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

REPEAL SUNSET

The current tax credit for qualified business ventures expires for investments made on or after January 1, 1999. This means that investments made in 1998 will be taken in tax year 1999. The last General Fund impact for this credit will be in FY 99-00 when individual income tax returns are filed in the spring of 2000. (carry forwards will extend some of the credits into future years). Budget availability estimates for future years assume the credit will sunset in 1999. Removal of the sunset in 1999, effective for tax year 2000, will produce an annual General Fund revenue loss of $6 million for fiscal year 2000-01 and beyond.

CAP INCREASE

Section 3 of the bill will increase from $6 million to $12 million the amount of credits allowed taxpayers each year. Investments made in 1997 will be eligible for the increased credit amount in tax year 1998. The Department of Revenue does not anticipate any fiscal impact from this change in FY 1998-99. As of May 28, 1998, the Department had processed $4,893,891 in 1997 credits. The Department estimates that the 35 files remaining to be processed will not push the total over $6 million. The decline from the $9.2 million in 1996 to $6 million in 1997 can be partly explained by limitations on corporations and pass-through entities in 1997.

For budgetary planning and projection purposes, the fiscal impact of the increased cap for FY 1999-00 and beyond is $6 million per year. The state's General Fund will be legally obligated to award a credit for each legitimate investment up to the $12 million cap. If fully utilized, the increased credit amount will affect future year budget availability. Based on the considerable interest in this credit by Certified Public Accountants, investment firms, the Council for Entrepreneurial Development, and others, it is not unreasonable that the maximum amount of credits will be used in future years.

Note: Effective for investments on or after January 1, 1996, G.S. 105-163.012 limits the total tax credits that can be claimed for the tax year to $6,000,000. In 1997, taxpayers applied for total tax credits of $9,264,679. Therefore, each taxpayer's credit was reduced to approximately 65 percent of the amount claimed.

HAHT Software

Chairman

HAHT Software was founded in June of 1995. HAHT received initial seed funding of $175,896.00 from a group of local investors. This amount qualified the investors for the qualified business tax credit and was a major factor in their decision to invest. Since that initial funding by local investors, HAHT Software has raised a total of $21,000,000.00 from professional venture capital sources. This large amount of professional funding makes HAHT the largest funded software company in the Southeastern United States and one of the largest ever funded nationwide. Today, less than 3 years after the initial funding, HAHT Software is growing at a rate of 400% annually, has over 100 employees, and a projected 1998 payroll of $5,700,000.00. We have brought in over $100 of outside capital for every dollar that was invested by individuals under the Qualified Business Tax Credit; have created 100 new high wage jobs; and have generated payroll taxes an order of magnitude greater than the amount of the actual tax credit.

In addition to HAHT, I have personally invested in or acted as an advisor to 6 other companies that received their initial funding from individual investors who qualified for the credit. These companies have raised several million dollars from local NC investors who qualified for the credit. In many cases these investors had never invested in high risk entrepreneurial activities before and the 25% tax credit was a major factor in their investment decision. Although there is no way to prove it, I believe that at least half of these companies would never have been established had it not been for the credit. All 6 of these companies are now growing and doing well except for one which was purchased in its second year of operation for $10,000,00.00 by a public company.

My personal experience is that the credit is one of the primary factors in making an investment decision in these very high risk ventures. If the entrepreneurial community is going to continue to grow and flourish in NC it is essential that our young companies have access to desperately needed seed capital. This capital comes almost exclusively from individual sources. In my opinion, the existing Qualified Business Tax Credit is the single most beneficial legislation in NC for promoting this vital sector of the state's economy. I fully support the bill to extend the credit and increase the cap of the tax credit.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO MAKE THE REVENUE ACT PENALTIES UNIFORM, TO DELETE OBSOLETE AND INEFFECTIVE PENALTIES, AND TO GIVE NONPROFIT ENTITIES THREE YEARS TO FILE APPLICATIONS FOR REFUND OF TAXES PAID.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. G.S. 105-16 reads as rewritten:

"§ 105-16. ~~Interest and penalty.~~ When tax must be paid.

If the federal government corrects or otherwise determines the value of an estate reported on an estate tax return, the personal representative must, within two years after being notified of the correction or final determination by the federal government, file an inheritance tax return with the Secretary reflecting the corrected or determined value. EXPLANATION OF SENATE BILL 1241:
Amendments to the Revenue Laws

TO: Senate Finance Committee
FROM: Cindy Avrette, Committee Counsel
DATE: June 3, 1998
SPONSOR: Senator Hoyle

G.S. 105-237 gives the Secretary the authority to waive or reduce all penalties imposed under the tax laws, except the penalty for bad checks. In practice, the authority to waive or reduce penalties is delegated to approximately 55 individuals who are in the collection field offices and the audit department located in Raleigh. The Department of Revenue has a penalty policy that these employees must follow to ensure consistent treatment among taxpayers. The Department of Revenue is currently revising its penalty guidelines. As part of the review process, the Department looked at all of the penalty provisions in Chapter 105. Based upon its review of the penalty provisions, the Department of Revenue requested the Revenue Laws Study Committee to recommend the following changes to the revenue laws:

Section	Explanation
1	Modernizes the statute that determines when inheritance taxes are due. It conforms the penalties for late payment with the general penalty provisions in G.S. 105-236: 5% failure to file penalty and a 10% failure to pay penalty. It also conforms the waiver provision in the inheritance tax statutes with the general rule of G.S. 105-237: the Secretary may waive penalties, but not interest.
2	Removes the $100 penalty that may be assessed against a superior court clerk who fails to file the required monthly reports of death. The penalty is enforceable by a court action. The Department does not enforce this penalty. If a clerk does not perform the necessary duties, the Department contacts the Administrative Office of the Courts.

3	This statute applies to a personal representative who fails to report federal changes in the value of an estate. This section removes the reference to 105-236 because there is not an appropriate penalty in that section. Besides, the estate is already subject to failure to file return and failure to pay tax when due penalties.
4	Modernizes and streamlines the privilege license statute by removing redundant provisions. Incorporates the provisions of G.S. 105-112 so that all of the provisions concerning the need to obtain a privilege license are in one statute. It also conforms the penalty provisions with G.S. 105-236. By conforming to the penalty provisions of G.S. 105-236, it removes the Class 1 misdemeanor criminal penalty for operating without a license.
5	Repeals a statute relating to the criminal provision that is deleted in Section 4 of the bill.
6	Removes the penalty for failing to display the privilege license in a conspicuous place. The remaining provisions have been incorporated into G.S. 105-109.
7	This statute addresses the failure to pay tobacco products tax when due. The statute conforms the penalty with Article 9. The current failure to pay tobacco products tax when due penalty is 50% of the amount of tax due. By conforming with Article 9, the penalty amount will be 10% of the amount of tax due.
8	Provides that a refund of the excise tax paid on sacramental wine is barred if filed more than 3 years after the due date. The current law provides a reduction of the amount refunded for late applications and that the refund is barred after 6 months.
9	This statute concerns the penalties that may be assessed against a corporation that fails to file a consolidated return when applicable. This section deletes a reference to a penalty provided "in this act" because one does not exist. It clarifies that Article 9 penalties, as well as dissolution under G.S. 105-230, are the appropriate remedies.
10	This section removes a provision that is moved to G.S. 105-253, contained in section 18 of the bill. The provision is moved so that all of the penalty provisions are contained in one statute.
11	Specifies that the additional tax is imposed as a penalty. The Secretary has the ability to waive penalties under G.S. 105-237.

Section	Explanation
12	Provides that a refund of sales tax paid is barred if filed more than 3 years after its due date.
13	Provides that Article 9 penalties will apply.
14	This statute provides that a corporation or a LLC's article of incorporation or certificate of authority may be suspended if the taxpayer does not pay a tax due or file a report when due. This section adds a provision currently contained in G.S. 105-231 because G.S. 105-231 is repealed in section 15 of the bill.
15	Repeals the statute and moves the relevant provisions to G.S. 105-230, in section 14 of this bill. This statute provides a penalty for exercising functions after the suspension of a corporation's articles of incorporation or a LLC's certificate of authority. The penalty of $100 to $1,000 is recoverable in an action brought in Superior Court. The Department does not enforce this penalty. The suspension or the articles or certificate is severe by itself.
16	This statute is the statute that contains most of the revenue law penalties. This section includes a statement that clarifies that penalties assessed by the Secretary are assessed as additional taxes. This language conforms with the definition of "tax" contained in G.S. 105-228.90: "[T]he term "tax" and "additional tax" include penalties and interest as well as the principal amount." In some statutes, the term "additional tax" is used instead of the term "penalty". This statement clarifies that the additional tax is a penalty, and as such may be waived by the Secretary under G.S. 105-237. Although this does not allow the taxpayer to deduct the penalty on the federal income tax return, it does ensure the taxpayer that the full administrative and judicial remedies applicable to tax assessments are applicable to assessments of tax penalties. This section also makes several substantive changes: • Provides a uniform penalty for all tax deficiencies that exceed 25% of the tax liability. The general 10% negligence penalty applies to all taxes. The large tax deficiency language specifies that it does not apply to inheritance and gift tax deficiencies that are the result of valuation understatements.

Section	Explanation
16	• It deletes the penalty for failing to file partnership and fiduciary informational returns for two reasons: the Department does not assess penalties against these fiduciaries and second, the Department does not generally assess a penalty that is less than $30 because it costs more to assess than it is worth. • It deletes the penalty for failing to file timely statements of payments to another person with respect to wages, dividends, rents, or interest paid because the penalty amount is an ineffective deterrent and the Revenue Laws Study Committee voted to repeal the penalty rather than increase it.
17	Deletes the $100 penalty that the Tax Review Board may impose for frivolous petitions because it is not used. The dismissal of the petition appears to be sufficient "punishment".
18	Repeals the statute that allows the Secretary of Revenue to ask the Attorney General's office to bring a court action for an injunction restraining a corporation or public utility from doing business until its return is filed and the tax is paid. The Department uses the grant of authority under G.S. 105-230 when necessary; it does not use the provisions of this statute.
19	Expands the statute concerning the personal liability of corporate officers who fail to remit certain taxes when due to include the manager and managing members of a LLC. The taxes addressed by this statute are sales and use taxes, motor fuel taxes, and income tax withholding taxes.
20	Provides that a motor carrier that fails to file a timely report is subject to a $50 penalty. This section deletes the words "up to" and the higher penalty for subsequent failures. This change reflects current Department practice since it imposes a flat penalty $50.
21	Provides that an application for a motor fuel tax refund is barred if submitted more than 3 years after it is due.
22	Repeals the statute concerning a reduction or denial of a late motor fuel tax refund application. The provision is incorporated into G.S. 105-449.108 in Section 21 of this bill.
23	Provides that this act becomes effective July 1, 1998.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Department of Revenue

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act becomes effective July 1, 1998

BILL SUMMARY: The bill gives uniformity and simplicity to a number of penalties imposed by the Department of Revenue.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: This bill uses GS 105 - 236 as the standard for penalties charged by the Department of Revenue. A number of technical or clarifying changes are made in the bill to bring uniformity to a list of penalties imposed by the Department. Some penalties are deleted because they are not used by the Department of Revenue, such as the penalty on the clerks of Superior Court in Section 2 and the penalty for frivolous petitions in section 17. However, in the attempt for uniformity, some sections of the bill may create a small revenue impact (less than $100,000). Section 7 lowers the penalty on the tobacco products tax and thus should produce a decrease in revenue. Sections 4 and 9 have higher penalties than the previous statute and may create a revenue gain. Unfortunately, no estimate can be made because the Department does not collect data on these penalties.

(b) ~~If the business made taxable or the privilege to be exercised under this Article is carried on at two or more separate places, a separate State license for each place is required.~~ License Taxes. -- A license tax imposed by this Article is an annual tax. The tax is due by July 1 of each year. The tax is imposed for the privilege of engaging in a specified activity during the fiscal year that begins on the July 1 due date of the tax. The full amount of a license tax applies to a person who, during a fiscal year, begins to engage in an activity for which this Article requires a license.

Before a person engages in an activity for which this Article requires a license, the person must obtain the required license.

(c) ~~Every State license issued under this Article or schedule shall be for 12 months, shall expire on the thirtieth day of June of each year, and shall be for the full amount of tax prescribed; provided, that where the tax is levied on an annual basis and the licensee begins such business or exercises such privilege after the first day of January and prior to the thirtieth day of June of each year, then such licensee shall be required to pay one half of the tax prescribed other than the tax prescribed to be computed and levied upon a gross receipts and/or percentage basis for the conducting of such business or the exercising of such privilege to and including the thirtieth day of June, next following. Section 4. G.S.105-37.1 reads as rewritten:

(a) Every ~~person, firm, or corporation~~ person engaged in the business of giving, ~~offering~~ offering, or managing any form of entertainment or amusement not otherwise taxed ~~or specifically exempted in this Article,~~ for which an admission is charged, shall pay ~~an annual license tax of fifty dollars ($50.00) for each room, hall, tent or other place where such admission charges are made.~~

~~In addition to the license tax levied above, such person, firm, or corporation shall pay an additional~~ a tax upon the gross receipts of ~~such~~ the business at the rate of three percent (3%). Reports shall be made to the Secretary ~~of Revenue, in such form~~

The mere sponsorship of dance or other amusement by such a school, civic, or fraternal organization shall not be deemed to exempt such dance or other amusement as provided in this paragraph, but the exemption shall apply only when the dance or amusement is actually managed and conducted by the school, civic, or fraternal organization and the proceeds are used as herein before required.~~

~~Dances and other amusements promoted and managed by a qualifying corporation that operates a center for the performing and visual arts are exempt from the license tax and the gross receipts tax imposed under this section if the dance or other amusement is held at the center. "Center for the performing and visual arts" means a facility, having a fixed location, that provides space for dramatic performances, studios, classrooms and similar accommodations to organized arts groups and individual artists. This exemption shall not apply to athletic events.~~

~~The license and gross receipts taxes imposed by this section do not apply to a person, firm, or corporation that is exempt from income tax under Article 4 of this Chapter and is engaged in the business of operating a teen center. A "teen center" is a fixed facility whose primary purpose is to provide recreational activities, dramatic performances, dances, and other amusements exclusively for teenagers.~~

This subsection does not restrict the date on which a fair or tobacco festival may be held if (i) it is held by a veteran's organization or post chartered by Congress or organized and operated on a statewide or nationwide basis and (ii) the organization or post has held the fair or festival annually since before July 1, 1988.~~"

Section 5. G.S. 105-38 reads as rewritten:

Upon receipt of such statement, the Secretary of Revenue shall fix and determine the amount of State license tax with which such person, firm, or corporation is chargeable, shall endorse his findings upon such statement, and shall transmit a copy of such statement and findings to each such person, firm, or corporation to be charged, to the sheriff or tax collector of each county in which exhibitions or performances are to be given, and to the division deputy of the Secretary of Revenue, with full and particular instructions as to the State license tax to be paid. Before giving any of the exhibitions or performances provided for in such statement, the person, firm, or corporation making such statement shall pay the Secretary of Revenue the tax so fixed and determined. If one or more of such exhibitions or performances included in such statement and for which the tax has been paid shall be canceled, the Secretary of~~

~~Revenue may, upon proper application made to him, refund the tax for such canceled exhibitions or performances. Every such person, firm, or corporation shall give to the Secretary of Revenue a notice of not less than five days before giving any of such exhibitions or performances in each county.~~

~~(c) The sheriff of each county in which such exhibitions or performances are advertised to be exhibited shall promptly communicate such information to the Secretary of Revenue; and if the statement required in this section has not been filed as provided herein, or not filed in time for certified copies thereof, with proper instructions, to be transmitted to the sheriffs of the several counties and the division deputy, the Secretary of Revenue shall cause his division deputy to attend at one or more points in the State where such exhibitions or performances are advertised or expected to exhibit, for the purpose of securing such statement prescribed in this section, of fixing and determining the amount of State license tax with which such person, firm, or corporation is taxable, and to collect such tax or give instructions for the collection of such tax.~~

~~(d) Every such person, firm, or corporation by whom or which any such exhibition or performance described in this section is given in any county, city or town, or within five miles thereof, wherein is held an annual agricultural fair, during the week of such annual agricultural fair, shall pay a State license of one thousand dollars ($1,000) for each exhibition or performance in addition to the license tax first levied in this section, to be assessed and collected by the Secretary of Revenue or his duly authorized deputy.~~

~~(e) The provisions of this section, or any other section of this Article, shall not be construed to allow without the payment of the tax imposed in this section, any exhibition or performance described in this section for charitable, benevolent, educational, or any other purpose whatsoever, by any person, firm, or corporation who is engaged in giving such exhibitions or performances, no matter what terms of contract may be entered into or under what auspices such exhibitions or performances are given. It being the intent and purpose of this section that every person, firm, or corporation who or which is engaged in the business of giving such exhibitions or performances, whether a part or all of the proceeds are for charitable, benevolent, educational, or other purposes or not, shall pay the State license tax imposed in this section.~~

~~(f) Upon all performances taxable under this section there is levied, in addition to the license tax levied in this section, a tax upon the gross receipts of such business at the rate of three percent (3%). The license tax herein levied shall be treated as an advance payment of the tax upon gross receipts herein levied, and the license tax shall be applied as a credit upon or advance payment of the gross receipts tax. The Secretary of Revenue may adopt such regulations as may be necessary to effectuate the provisions of this section and shall prescribe the form and character of reports to be made, and shall have such authority of supervision as may be necessary to effectuate the purpose of this Subchapter.~~

(g) Repealed.

(h) ~~Counties, cities, and towns~~ Counties and cities may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of ~~one half of the license tax levied by the State, but shall not levy a parade tax or a tax under subsection (g) of this section.~~ twenty-five dollars ($25.00) for each day or part of a day for each place where exhibitions or performances are to be given."

Section 6. G.S. 105-40 reads as rewritten:

The mere sponsorship of a dance or another amusement by a school, civic, or fraternal organization does not exempt the dance or other amusement, because the exemption applies only when the dance or amusement is actually managed and conducted by the school, civic, or fraternal organization.

(7) All dances and other amusements promoted and managed by a qualifying corporation that operates a center for the performing and visual arts if the dance or other amusement is held at the center. EXPLANATION OF SENATE BILL 1252:
Simplify Privilege License Tax

TO: Senate Finance Committee
FROM: Martha Walston, Committee Counsel
DATE: June 2, 1998
SPONSOR: Senator Hoyle

Senate Bill 1252 is a recommendation of the Revenue Laws Study Committee and makes numerous changes to simplify and/or reduce the State privilege license taxes on amusements, professionals, installment paper dealers, banks, and alcoholic beverages. The Bill also increases ABC permit fees. The changes to the taxes and fees on alcoholic beverages would become effective May 1, 1999. All other changes would become effective July 1, 1999.

Amusements. The current law imposes an annual $50 State privilege license tax and a 3% gross receipts tax on any form of entertainment not otherwise taxed or specifically exempted under Article 2 of Chapter 105. The license tax is due July 1 of each year and the tax on gross receipts is due monthly. Taxable forms of entertainment include athletic contests, sporting events, concerts, plays, musicals, night clubs, comedy clubs, amusement parks, carnivals, and festivals. Antique shows, craft shows, and auto shows, when a band is provided or a celebrity signs autographs, are also subject to the tax. Other taxable amusements are fashion shows, beauty pageants, air shows, mud slings, and tractor pulls. Current law also imposes a $50 privilege license tax and gross receipts tax on amusements such as a circus, menagerie, wild west show, a dog and/or pony show, or any other similar amusement not taxed in Article 2. The privilege tax on these amusements is assessed for each day or part of a day that the circus or similar amusement is held. Exempt amusements set out in Article 2 are high school and elementary school athletic contests, teen centers, dances and amusements promoted and managed by a corporation that operates a center for the performing and visual arts when the dance or amusement is held at the center, and amusements on the Cherokee Indian reservation where the entity providing the amusement is authorized to do business on the reservation and pays the tribal gross receipts levy to the tribal council.

The State privilege license tax on amusements is treated as an advance payment of the corresponding gross receipts tax, and the license tax is applied as a credit upon the gross receipts tax. Sections 4 and 5 of the Bill repeal the State privilege license taxes on amusements. This repeal would simplify the taxes assessed on amusements and would be revenue neutral since the license tax is a credit upon the gross receipts tax. Amusements will continue to pay a 3% gross receipts tax and any existing local license tax.

Section 6 reorganizes the exemptions for certain amusements, so that a list of all exempt amusements will appear in one place in the statutes. The list includes those amusements that are currently exempted in Article 2, amusements that are listed as exempt in other sections of the statutes, and amusements that are described in other sections of the statutes and that are not currently taxed.

Professionals. G.S. 105-41 imposes a statewide privilege license on persons practicing certain professions or engaging in certain businesses. Section 7 of the Bill makes various clarifying and technical changes to the statute and reorganizes existing exemptions found throughout the statutes so that all exemptions will appear in G.S. 105-41. Currently the statute exempts persons age 75 and over and certain persons practicing the professional art of healing. The Bill adds to this list blind persons engaging in a trade or profession as a sole proprietor. The exemption for blind persons is currently set out in another section of Chapter 105, which this bill repeals. Section 8 of the Bill moves from Chapter 105 to Chapter 93B, Occupational Licensing Boards, a provision that exempts any person serving in the armed forces or in the merchant marine from paying license fees to a licensing board or commission or to the State. This exemption belongs in the Occupational Licensing Chapter because it relates to occupational licensing, not to taxes.

Installment Paper Dealers. Installment paper dealers are persons engaged in the business of dealing in, buying, or discounting installment paper, notes, bonds, contracts, or evidences of debt, when at the time or in connection with the execution of these instruments, a lien is reserved or taken on personal property located in the State to secure the payment of the obligations. These dealers pay an annual $100 license tax and a quarterly tax of .275% of the total face value of the obligations within the preceding quarterly calendar months. Section 9 repeals the $100 license tax. Dealers will continue to pay the quarterly tax.

Banks. Under current law, banks are issued a privilege license each year and pay a tax at the rate of $30 for each $1,000,000 or fractional part of total assets held. These assets are determined by averaging the total assets shown in the four quarterly call reports of condition (consolidation domestic subsidiaries) for the preceding calendar year as required by bank regulatory authorities. Section 10 eliminates the license and requires the banks to submit instead an annual report to the Department of Revenue showing the average of their total assets. The privilege tax must be paid with the report by July 1. The submission of a report in lieu of issuing an annual license will relieve the Department of having to issue licenses that vary yearly for each bank. The Department's current computer system has had difficulty issuing licenses that vary each year, and this problem will become even more difficult with the year 2000 changeover. Also, a report will assist the Department in auditing banks. The Bill also repeals the $100 annual privilege tax for banks that have been in operation for less than a year. New banks will be required instead to pay a tax on the average of the total assets determined by the number of days in operation.

Alcoholic Beverages. Senate Bill 1252 repeals annual privilege licenses on ABC permittees, raises the ABC permit fees by the corresponding amount, and simplifies the tax rate on malt beverages. In order to engage in a business involving alcoholic beverages, a person must obtain both a permit issued by the ABC Commission and a corresponding annual State license issued by the Department of Revenue. The person must obtain the ABC permit before applying for the license. Upon payment of the State license tax, issuance of the license is mandatory if the applicant has the corresponding ABC permit. The information and qualifications required for the annual State license are the same as the information and qualifications required for the corresponding one-time ABC permit. The additional State license serves no purpose other than to raise revenue. The Bill repeals these privilege licenses in order to eliminate the duplicate requirement of applying for a State privilege license and a corresponding ABC permit. The approximately $3.1 million revenue loss from the repeal of these privilege licenses would be offset by an increase in the ABC permit fees set out in G.S. 18B-902(d), by repeal of the reduced fees for combined permits in G.S. 18B-902(e), and by an increase in the annual renewal fees for mixed beverage and guest room cabinet permits in G.S. 18B-903(b).

Senate Bill 1252 also simplifies the filing requirements for malt beverage taxpayers by setting a single rate of excise tax on malt beverages. Currently, an excise tax of 48.387 cents per gallon is assessed against malt beverages in barrels holding at least 7¾ gallons and an excise tax of 53.376 cents per gallon is assessed against malt beverages in cans, bottles, barrels, or other containers holding less than 7¾ gallons. The Bill imposes an excise tax of 53.177 cents per gallon on the sale of any malt beverage, regardless of the container. Thus, the Bill simplifies the filing and reporting requirements for malt beverages, unfortified wine, and fortified wine by eliminating the requirement that vendors of these products specify the size and type of containers sold in their monthly reports to the Secretary. This information will now be shown on the invoice.

Other changes. Sections 1, 2, 3, and 5 of the Bill make conforming changes throughout Article 2 to clarify that the Article now deals more with privilege taxes, such as a tax on a business' gross receipts, rather than with license taxes. The only State license taxes that will remain in Article 2 if this Bill is enacted are attorneys-at-law and other professionals ($50.00) (G.S. 105-41) and loan agencies or brokers ($750.00) (G.S. 105-88). These sections of the Bill also eliminate the half-rate license tax for professionals and loan agencies that begin business more than halfway through the year.

POSITIONS: Abolish 3 clerical positions in the Department of Revenue beginning FY 99-00.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Department of Revenue, Alcoholic Beverage Commission

EFFECTIVE DATE: Sections 1 through 13, 27, and 28 (privilege licenses) become effective July 1, 1999 and remaining sections (ABC licenses and permits) become effective May 1, 1999.

BILL SUMMARY: The act repeals the state privilege license taxes for amusements, installment paper dealers, and alcoholic beverages. It changes the privilege tax on new banks and eliminates the proration of license fees for loan agencies and professionals. It creates a uniform malt beverage tax, raises the fee on ABC permits, and simplifies the filing and reporting requirements for alcoholic beverages.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

Section 2

Part (c) of section 2 of the bill ends the practice of charging half the privilege license tax to an individual who applies after the midpoint of the fiscal year. Upon passage of this bill, only professionals and loan agencies remain subject to annual license fees. Except for accountants, the Department of Revenue does not have data on the number of licenses that were paid for half year. 675 accountants paid $25 for a half year license in FY 1996-97and 472 bought a half year license in FY 1995-96. Averaging the two years, this note assumes 575 accountants needing a partial year license will pay the full $50 in FY 1999-00. This will generate a gain to the General Fund of $14,375.

Sections 4 & 5

In FY 1996-97, there were 323 privilege licenses issued to amusements, circuses, dances, and rodeos generating $17,737 in General Fund income. For this group the license fee serves as advance payment toward the 3% gross receipts tax collected on their performances. Except for the small amount of interest that the Department may earn on license revenue, there is no fiscal impact from eliminating the annual license fee.

Section 9

Section 9 eliminates the $100 license fee for installment paper dealers who engage in the business of "dealing in, buying, or discounting installment paper, notes, bonds, contracts, or evidences of debt". These dealers also pay a tax of .275% of the face value of the financial instruments they handle. Unlike the amusements license, the $100 paid by installment paper dealers is not an advance payment for the tax they pay. Based on FY 1996-97 collections, this bill will produce a loss of $123,800 annually beginning in FY 1999-00.

Section 10

Banks pay an annual privilege tax equal to $30 for each million dollars of assets they hold. However, a new bank pays a $100 privilege tax until it has been in operation for a year. This $100 fee is eliminated in section 10 and replaced with a requirement for new banks to pay the regular tax prorated by the number of days it operated during the fiscal year.

According to Ray Grace of the North Carolina Banking Commission, the establishment of new banks is cyclical and influenced both by the economy and by actions of the mega-banks. There were no new banks in 1993 and 1994. There were 2 in 1995 and 3 in 1996. In 1997, there were 10 new banks plus the conversion of a thrift to a bank. Mr. Grace anticipates 6 new banks in 1998.

This note assumes three new banks are established each year and uses FY 1996-97 as a model.

The chart below shows the date each bank was chartered by the Banking Commission in 1996 and the average assets for the three banks in the four quarters of 1996-97. Under this bill, instead of paying $100 in their first year, the banks would pay $30 for each million dollars in assets with an adjustment for the number of days in operation. For example, Bank A would pay $30 x 13.239 ($13,239,250/$1,000,000) x (344 days/365 days) = $374.13

	Established	Avg. Assets	Est. Tax	Current Tax
Bank A	7/22/96	$13,239,250	$374.13	$100
Bank B	11/18/96	$30,036,333	$555.06	$100
Bank C	7/31/96	$28,317,750	$779.00	$100
			$1,708.19	$300	Difference = $1,408.19

In summary, this note assumes additional revenue of $1,400 per year due to the change in section 10.

Sections 14 - 30

Under current law, a business that sells beer, wine, and/or spirituous liquor is required to secure the appropriate permits from the State Alcoholic Beverage Commission (ABC) and the appropriate commercial and retail licenses from the Department of Revenue. Sections 17 & 18 repeal the Department of Revenue's annual commercial and retail licensing requirements. New businesses filing permit applications with the ABC will no longer have to file a license application with the Department of Revenue. The Department collected an estimated $3.1 million from 40,000 licensees in FY 1996-97. This note assumes the revenue from ABC licenses in FY 1998-99 and beyond would have been $3.3 million per year. To offset this loss, ABC permit fees are increased in sections 29 and 30 of the bill. Using 1996-97 data on the number of ABC permits issued, the ABC worked with the Fiscal Research Division of the General Assembly to propose increased permit fees that would make the repeal of the retail licenses revenue neutral.

Since ABC permits are business specific (malt beverage, fortified wine, etc.), some businesses may be required to hold more than one permit. All ABC permits are continuing except for the brown bagging and the special occasions permits. This means as long as the permittee meets the qualifications of a permit, the permit does not have to be renewed annually. Under the proposed act, all businesses that currently hold licenses and permits prior to May 1, 1999 will not be affected by this act as long as they continue to meet the qualifications of their ABC permit. If an existing business fails to qualify, then they will have to reapply for new ABC permits and pay the higher fees.

By eliminating the processing of 40,000 ABC licenses each year, the Department of Revenue estimates that it could reduce its clerical staff by up to three Grade 57 clerical employees in the Business License & Returns Section of the Office Examination Division. The savings from these positions is $68,877 in FY 1999-00. This amount is adjusted for future growth in wages and fringe benefits.

Section 22

The excise tax rates on beer are combined into a single rate in section 22. Beer sold in barrels is currently taxed at 48.387 cents per gallon and beer sold in bottles and cans is currently taxed at 53.376 cents per gallon. The combined rate of 53.177 cents per gallon preserves the General Fund revenue expected to be collected from both rates. Although the proposal is revenue neutral, those selling beer in bottles and cans will pay a little less tax and those selling beer in barrels will pay a little more. For example, in 1996-97 producers of beer in bottles and cans would have paid $302,252 less in excise tax while producers of beer by the barrel would have paid $302,252 more in excise tax.

REQUEST FOR ANNEXATION BY SPECIAL ACT OF THE NORTH CAROLINA GENERAL ASSEMBLY

SUBMITTED BY THE TOWN OF FRANKLIN, NORTH CAROLINA

The North Carolina General Assembly may enlarge the boundaries of a municipality by a special act of the legislature. This method of annexation is especially useful in annexing territory that cannot be annexed under one of the general law procedures provided for municipalities in the N.C. General Statutes.

The Town of Franklin requests the General Assembly assist the Town by passing a special act to annex into the corporate limits of Franklin an area along highway U.S. 441 South and immediately south of the present primary corporate limits of the Town. This area is described by an attached written description and shown on an attached map. This area is adjacent to the Town and is completely developed. There are a total number of nine lots in this area. All these lots are developed for commercial and industrial purposes. These lots are adjacent to or in close proximity to satellite annexations conducted by the Town in recent years.

This area does not qualify for annexation by the involuntary or standards and services method of annexation provided to municipalities in G.S. 160A-36. Specifically, the area cannot meet the required one-eighth contiguity requirement, i.e., at least one-eighth of the aggregate external boundaries of the area must coincide with the existing primary corporate limit. Also, large tracts of undeveloped property contiguous to the existing primary corporate boundary prohibit involuntary annexation. Therefore, the Town respectfully requests the General Assembly's assistance with this annexation.

The proposed annexation area is currently provided with Town of Franklin municipal services. Town of Franklin water and sewer services are currently available to all these lots. The Town Police and Fire services are currently available to this area. Routine patrol of the areas contained in the satellite annexation areas requires officers to pass by most of these unincorporated lots. The only municipal services not provided to these lots at this time is municipal garbage collection services and street lighting.

The described area is urban in character, fully developed, adjacent to the Town and currently receives most of the Town's municipal services. The benefit of annexation of this area to the Town is to provide for the efficient delivery of municipal services to urbanized areas and provide for orderly growth and development of the community. The benefit to the property owners will be the opportunity to receive complete municipal services for a modest increase in property taxes. This increase in property taxes will be off set to some degree by a reduction in water and sewer rates for inside corporate customers. Presently, outside city customers pay a higher rate for water and sewer services.

SENATE BILL 1203

Short Title: Charlotte Stormwater Fees. (Local)

Sponsors: Senators Winner; Dannelly and Odom.

Referred to: Finance.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO ALLOW THE CITY OF CHARLOTTE TO CONTINUE TO LEVY STORMWATER FEES IF REVENUE BONDS HAVE BEEN ISSUED AND ARE OUTSTANDING.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. G.S. 160A-314 reads as rewritten:

"§ 160A-314. Authority to fix and enforce rates.

(a) A city may establish and revise from time to time schedules of rents, rates, fees, charges, and penalties for the use of or the services furnished by any public enterprise. Schedules of rents, rates, fees, charges, and penalties may vary according to classes of service, and different schedules may be adopted for services provided outside the corporate limits of the city.

(a1) Before it establishes or revises a schedule of rates, fees, charges, or penalties for structural and natural stormwater and drainage systems under this section, the city council shall hold a public hearing on the matter. A notice of the hearing shall be given at least once in a newspaper having general circulation in the area, not less than seven days before the public hearing. The hearing may be held concurrently with the public hearing on the proposed budget ordinance.

The fees established under this subsection must be made applicable throughout the area of the city. Schedules of rates, fees, charges, and penalties for providing structural and natural stormwater and drainage system service may vary according to whether the property served is residential, commercial, or industrial property, the property's use, the size of the property, the area of impervious surfaces on the property, the quantity and quality of the runoff from the property, the characteristics of the watershed into which stormwater from the property drains, and other factors that affect the stormwater drainage system. Rates, fees, and charges imposed under this subsection may not exceed the city's cost of providing a stormwater and drainage system.

No stormwater utility fee may be levied under this subsection whenever two or more units of local government operate separate structural and natural stormwater and drainage system services in the same area within a ~~county.~~ county, except that a unit of local government that has issued revenue bonds, including revenue bonds issued to refund prior revenue bonds, for which stormwater utility fees have been pledged under Article 5 of Chapter 159 of the General Statutes may continue to levy a stormwater utility fee under this subsection for the sole purpose of (i) paying principal, interest, or redemption premiums in accordance with the terms of the revenue bonds, (ii) funding any reserve requirements or similar obligations imposed by any documents, instruments, or agreements pursuant to which the revenue bonds are authorized or issued or securing the same or any related credit facility, liquidity facility, derivative agreement, or any other similar agreement, and (iii) paying any related cost, fees, and expenses until the revenue bonds have been retired. However, two or more units of local government may allocate among themselves the functions, duties, powers, and responsibilities for jointly operating a single structural and natural stormwater and drainage system service in the same area within a county, provided that only one unit may levy a fee for the service within the joint service area. For purposes of this subsection, a unit of local government shall include a regional authority providing structural and natural stormwater and drainage system services.

(a2) A fee for the use of a disposal facility provided by the city may vary based on the amount, characteristics, and form of recyclable materials present in solid waste brought to the facility for disposal. This section does not prohibit a city from providing aid to low-income persons to pay all or part of the cost of solid waste management services for those persons.

(b) A city shall have power to collect delinquent accounts by any remedy provided by law for collecting and enforcing private debts, and may specify by ordinance the order in which partial payments are to be applied among the various enterprise services covered by a bill for the services. A city may also discontinue service to any customer whose account remains delinquent for more than 10 days. When service is discontinued for delinquency, it shall be unlawful for any person other than a duly authorized agent or employee of the city to do any act that results in a resumption of services. If a delinquent customer is not the owner of the premises to which the services are delivered, the payment of the delinquent account may not be required before providing services at the request of a new and different tenant or occupant of the premises, but this restriction shall not apply when the premises are occupied by two or more tenants whose services are measured by the same meter.

(c) Except as provided in subsection (d) and G.S. 160A-314.1, rents, rates, fees, charges, and penalties for enterprisory services shall be legal obligations of the person contracting for them, and shall in no case be a lien upon the property or premises served, provided that no contract shall be necessary in the case of structural and natural stormwater and drainage systems.

(d) Rents, rates, fees, charges, and penalties for enterprisory services shall be legal obligations of the owner of the premises served when:

(1) The property or premises is leased or rented to more than one tenant and services rendered to more than one tenant are measured by the same meter.

(2) Charges made for use of a sewage system are billed separately from charges made for the use of a water distribution system.

(e) Nothing in this section shall repeal any portion of any city charter inconsistent herewith."

Section 2. This act applies to the City of Charlotte only.

Section 3. This act is effective when it becomes law.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO CLARIFY THE AUTHORITY OF REGIONAL TRANSIT AUTHORITIES TO USE INSTALLMENT PURCHASE FINANCING.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 4. This act is effective when it becomes law.

EXPLANATION OF SENATE BILL 1289(PCS):
Clarify Transit Authority Debt

TO: Senate Finance Committee
FROM: Martha Walston, Committee Counsel
DATE: June 9, 1998
SPONSOR: Senators Gulley, Hartsell; and Reeves

The proposed committee substitute for Senate Bill 1289 authorizes a regional public transportation authority or a regional transportation authority, created pursuant to Article 26 or Article 27 of Chapter 160A, to use installment purchase financing. The proposed committee substitute changes the short title and long title of the original bill to make clear that the bill is only clarifying the transportation authorities' power to use installment purchase financing. Under current law these authorities are already authorized to use equipment trust certificates, which are similar to installment purchase contracts. Installment purchase financing is a type of local government debt created when a local unit enters into an installment contract secured by a security interest in the property constructed or renovated. Certificates of participation may be issued as part of the installment purchase financing. A certificate of participation is a document setting out the share of the local unit's debt owed to the holder of the certificate. In practice, the holder receives interest and principal payments in a manner similar to interest and principal payments on a bond issued by the borrowing unit. Unlike the issuance of general obligation bonds, however, installment purchase financing is not subject to the vote of the people.

This Bill applies to the Research Triangle Regional Public Transportation Authority and the Triad Regional Public Transportation Authority. The Triangle Regional Public Transportation Authority serves Wake, Durham, and Orange Counties. The creation of the Triad Regional Public Transportation Authority was authorized by the 1997 General Assembly. This Authority serves Forsyth, Guilford, Randolph, Davidson, and Alamance Counties. The four major cities involved in the creation of the Triad Authority are Greensboro, High Point, Winston-Salem, and Burlington.

The Bill is effective when it becomes law.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Department of Revenue

EFFECTIVE DATE: Section 1 becomes effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999. The remainder of the bill is effective when it becomes law.

BILL SUMMARY: The bill makes technical and conforming changes to the revenue laws and related statutes.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: Except for Section 1, this bill has no revenue impact. Section 1 recodifies the corporate income and franchise taxes on savings institutions. These entities currently pay tax under Article 8D of Chapter 105. The taxes are identical to the income and franchise taxes paid by other corporations, with two adjustments. This section moves the taxation of savings institutions from Article 8D to the regular corporate income and franchise taxes in Articles 3 and 4. The two adjustments are retained.

Under G.S. 115C-546.1, a portion of the corporate income tax is earmarked for the Public School Capital Building Fund. Monies in the fund are distributed to counties on a per average daily membership basis to be used for public school capital outlay projects. Because Savings and Loans pay income tax under a separate Article, no part of their income tax goes to the Public School Building Capital Fund. When they begin to pay the identical tax under the general corporate income tax, rather than a separate Article, part of their income tax that would otherwise go to the General Fund will go to the Public School Building Capital Fund.

The estimate for the first year cost of earmarking was provided by the Department of Revenue. A growth rate of 5% was used for future years.

Revenue Laws Technical Changes

TO: Senate Finance Committee
FROM: Martha Walston, Committee Counsel
DATE: June 9, 1998
SPONSOR: Senator Cochrane

Senate Bill 1226 is a recommendation of the Revenue Laws Study Committee and makes numerous technical and clarifying changes to the revenue laws and related statutes. The following table provides a section-by-section analysis of the proposed changes The proposed changes that were added in the Proposed Committee Substitute are indicated in bold.

PART I. GENERAL TECHNICAL CHANGES

Section	Explanation
1	Recodifies the corporate income and franchise taxes on savings institutions. These entities currently pay tax under Article 8D of Chapter 105. The taxes are identical to the income and franchise taxes paid by other corporations, with two adjustments. This section moves the taxation of savings institutions from Article 8D to the regular corporate income and franchise taxes in Articles 3 and 4. The two adjustments are retained. In addition, a general exemption in Article 8D has been transferred to the relevant privilege tax statutes: G.S. 105-83, G.S. 105-88, and G.S. 105-102.3. This technical change has been reviewed and approved by the Bankers Association, which represents savings institutions.
2 - 3	Repeals obsolete provisions of the inheritance tax.
4	Conforms cross-reference to corporate tax credits to reflect that some credits are in other Articles of the Revenue Act.
5 - 8	Makes conforming changes to Subchapter S Corporation law to reflect the fact that trusts may now be shareholders.
9	Repeals an individual income tax definition for a term that is no longer used in the individual income tax law.
10	Adds cross-reference to two individual income tax credits that do not apply to estates and trusts.
11	Corrects grammar.
12 - 13	Clarifies that withholding is not required on payments to tax-exempt entities.
13.1	Removes reference to type of payment for food purchased under the Food Stamp Program, because counties are beginning to use a system in which a type of credit card will be used in lieu of food stamps or coupons.

14 Removes references to sales tax applying to two types of motor fuel for which motor fuel tax refunds are allowed, because refunds are not made on these types of motor fuel (accidental mixes and fuel sold to marinas).

14.1 Removes reference to type of payment for food purchased under the Food Stamp Program, because counties are beginning to use a system in which a type of credit card will be used in lieu of food stamps or coupons.

15 Modifies the definition of interstate carrier for purposes of sales tax refunds to reflect the deregulation of the industry.

15.1 Makes a conforming change to reflect a change under the Equitable Distribution Laws that now provides for the distribution of marital property and divisible property.

16 Provides that a gift tax return is not required for gifts that are exempt from tax: gifts to charity and gifts between spouses. The 1997 federal tax act made a similar change to the federal gift tax, which formerly required returns for gifts to charity above $10,000.

17 Removes incorrect language describing the calculation of the gross premiums tax.

18 Clarifies insurance company tax exemption language. G.S. 105-228.10 was enacted in 1945 to provide that local governments may not levy additional taxes on insurers and other entities subject to the gross premiums tax. This section rewrites the statute to state that cities and counties are prohibited from levying a privilege license tax or a gross premiums tax on entities subject to gross premiums tax. The vague language of the statute is rewritten to clarify that insurance companies are not exempt from local sales taxes, local meals taxes, and other similar taxes that the General Assembly has authorized for local governments since this statute was enacted in 1945. Insurance companies currently pay these taxes and the terms of the tax statutes make it clear that they are not exempt.

19 Deletes an individual income tax exemption that is no longer needed because federal law exempts the same income and our law piggybacks the federal law.

20 Provides that tax information may be shared on a reciprocal basis with tax officials from jurisdictions outside the United States, as required by the International Fuel Tax Agreement.

21 Clarifies that taxpayers may rely upon directives published by the Department of Revenue to the same extent as provided under current law for bulletins published and rules adopted by the Department of Revenue.

22 - 24	Remove ambiguities in the use value property tax law that were created unintentionally when these statutes were rewritten and reorganized in 1995. The rewrite created potential, although strained, interpretations that deferred taxes were no longer required to be paid in some or in many cases where the law has always intended for them to be paid. These sections clarify that the law with respect to "rollback" of deferred taxes was not restricted by the 1995 rewrite. They also make further clarifying changes to the language.
25	Revises definition of public service company to reflect deregulation of carriers and to conform to Institute of Government interpretation that regulation requirement applies only to catch-all category of "any other company performing a public service."
26 - 27	Repeal two property tax provisions that have expired.
28	Clarifies that motor fuel sold to the federal government is exempt only if sold for use by the federal government.
29	Repeals a provision allowing refunds for motor fuel tax paid by marinas. Federal law no longer requires marinas to pay tax on motor fuel they purchase, so refunds are no longer necessary.
30	Corrects an incorrect cross-reference.
30.1	Removes reference to type of payment for food purchased under the Food Stamp Program, because counties are beginning to use a system in which a type of credit card will be used in lieu of food stamps or coupons.
31 - 32	Deletes provisions that have expired.
33 - 35	Corrects incorrect term describing short-term rental vehicles.
36	Reenacts a law modifying historic rehabilitation tax credits. The law was not roll called. Although the law expands the credits, in certain instances it could postpone part of the tax benefit allowed under prior law.
37	Repeals an obsolete tax on consigned candy products.
38	Amends the Setoff Debt Collection Act to reflect the new names given to public assistance programs by the 1997 welfare reform legislation, and to remove excess verbiage that resulted from a redlining error.
39	Conforms the structure of the Revenue Laws Study Committee statute to fit the requirements of the General Assembly's new computer system, and corrects gender-specific language.
40	Repeals list of cross-references to Highway Bond Acts. The list is incomplete and serves no purpose.

PART II. CONFORM STATUTORY NOMENCLATURE

Section	Explanation

41 - 54	Change from "Division" to "Part" the name of the subdivisions within Articles of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes, in order to be consistent with all other General Statutes. The new computer statutory database software will function better with consistent nomenclature.
55 - 67	Eliminate the term "Schedule" used as an additional name for Articles in Chapter 105 of the General Statutes, in order to be consistent with all other General Statutes. The new computer statutory database software will function better with consistent nomenclature.
68 - 113	Change cross-references to "Divisions" and "Schedules" to "Parts" and "Articles," respectively.

PART III. EFFECTIVE DATE

Section	Explanation
114	Provides that the act is effective when it becomes law.

AN ACT TO PRESERVE THE TAX-EXEMPT STATUS FOR PIPED NATURAL GAS SOLD BY MUNICIPALITIES, TO MAKE THE TAXES ON OTHER SALES OF PIPED NATURAL GAS MORE UNIFORM, AND TO LIMIT THE SERVICE AREA A MUNICIPALITY MAY SERVE WITH PIPED NATURAL GAS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. Chapter 105 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new Article to read:

"ARTICLE 5E.

"Piped Natural Gas Tax.

"§ 105-187.40. Definitions.

The definitions in G.S. 105-228.90 and the following definitions apply in this Article:

(1) Gas city. -- A city in this State that operated a piped natural gas distribution system as of July 1, 1998. These cities are Bessemer City, Greenville, Kings Mountain, Lexington, Monroe, Rocky Mount, Shelby, and Wilson.

(2) Local distribution company. -- A natural gas company to whom the North Carolina Utilities Commission has issued a franchise under Chapter 62 of the General Statutes to serve an area of this State.

(3) Sales customer. -- An end-user who does not have direct access to an interstate gas pipeline and whose piped natural gas is delivered by the seller of the gas.

(4) Transportation customer. -- An end-user who does not have direct access to an interstate gas pipeline and whose piped natural gas is delivered by a person who is not the seller of the gas.

"§ 105-187.41. Tax imposed on piped natural gas.

(a) Scope. -- An excise tax is imposed on piped natural gas received for consumption in this State. This tax is imposed in lieu of a sales and use tax and a percentage gross receipts tax on piped natural gas.

(b) Rate. -- The tax rate is set in the table below. The tax rate is based on monthly therm volumes of piped natural gas received by the end-user of the gas. If an end-user receives piped natural gas that is metered through two or more separate measuring devices, the tax is calculated separately on the volume metered through each device rather than on the total volume metered through all measuring devices.

Monthly Volume of Therms Received	Rate Per Therm
First 200	$.047
201 to 15,000	.027
Over 15,001	.022

(c) Gas City Exemption. -- The tax imposed by this section does not apply to piped natural gas received by a gas city for consumption by that city or to piped natural gas delivered by a gas city to a sales or transportation customer of the gas city.

"§ 105-187.42. Liability for the tax.

The excise tax imposed by this section on piped natural gas is payable as follows:

(1) For piped natural gas delivered by a local distribution company to a sales or transportation customer, the tax is payable by the local distribution company.

(2) For piped natural gas delivered by a person who is not a local distribution company to a sales or transportation customer, the tax is payable by that person.

(3) For piped natural gas received by a person by means of direct access to an interstate gas pipeline for consumption by that person, the tax is payable by that person.

"§ 105-187.43. Payment of the tax.

(a) Monthly Return. -- The tax imposed by this Article is payable monthly to the Secretary. A monthly tax payment is due by the last day of the month that follows the month in which the tax accrues. The tax imposed by this Article on piped natural gas delivered to a sales or transportation customer accrues when the gas is delivered. The tax payable on piped natural gas received by a person who has direct access to an interstate pipeline for consumption by that person accrues when the gas is received.

(b) Small Underpayments. -- A person is not subject to interest on or penalties for an underpayment of a monthly amount due if the person timely pays at least ninety-five percent (95%) of the amount due and includes the underpayment with the next return the person files.

"§ 105-187.44. Distribution of part of tax proceeds to cities.

EXPLANATION OF SENATE BILL 1327:
No Tax on Gas Cities

TO: Senate Finance
FROM: Cindy Avrette, Committee Counsel
DATE: May 26, 1998
SPONSOR: Senator Walter Dalton and Senator Jim Phillips

Senate Bill 1327 preserves the tax-exempt status for piped natural gas sold by one of the eight municipalities that operate their own piped gas system. It also makes the taxes on other sales of piped natural gas more uniform and it limits the service area a gas city may serve with piped natural gas.

There are three types of sellers of piped natural gas: a utility company, a gas marketer, and a gas city. A utility company is a utility regulated by the Utilities Commission. A gas marketer is a person who sells piped natural gas but is not a regulated utility. Gas marketers use the pipeline infrastructure of the utilities to deliver the gas they sell and they pay a transportation charge to the utilities for this service. Piped natural gas is increasingly sold by persons who are not utilities. A gas city is a city that operates its own piped gas system. Eight cities in the State do this and have since at least the 1950's. The eight gas cities are: Bessemer City, Greenville, Kings Mountain, Lexington, Monroe, Rocky Mount, Shelby, and Wilson.

Two taxes now apply to piped natural gas. The applicability and rate of the taxes varies depending upon both the identity of the seller and the identity of the consumer. One of these taxes is a gross receipts tax equal to 3.22% of the gross receipts derived by a utility from the business of furnishing piped natural gas. The franchise tax applies only to the receipts of a regulated utility. The franchise tax on piped natural gas was enacted around 1925, when only regulated utilities could sell piped natural gas. Federal and state regulation of the piped natural gas industry has changed and now these regulations allow persons who are not utilities to sell piped natural gas. Therefore, gas marketers and gas cities, because they are not regulated utilities, are not subject to the franchise tax, except to the extent it is imposed on the transportation charges or embedded in the price paid on gas bought from a utility for resale to customers.

The second of these two taxes is the sales tax on piped gas. This tax is the result of a change made by the General Assembly in 1985. That year, the existing 6% utility franchise tax was split into a 3% sales tax and a 3.22% gross receipts tax to make the sales tax portion deductible by individuals on their federal income tax returns. Although the federal tax law changes in 1986 removed this deduction, North Carolina did not change its taxation of utilities.

For several years, the Department did not impose the general 4% State and 2% local sales and use tax rate to the sale of piped natural gas. However, under a directive recently issued by the Department of Revenue, the Department clarified that piped natural gas is tangible personal property as that term is defined in the sales and use tax statutes. Therefore, the retail sale of piped natural gas is subject to sales and use tax unless specifically exempted by statute.

The sale of piped gas by a gas city or by a gas marketer is not exempt from sales and use tax. Therefore, the retail sale of piped gas by these sellers is subject to a 6% State and local sales and use tax unless a lower rate applies. The law provides a lower rate of 3% for all sales made by regulated utilities and a lower rate of 2.83% for sales made to farmers, manufacturers, and laundries. Piped natural gas taxes at the State rate of 3% or 2.83% are not subject to the 2% local sales and use tax. If piped natural gas is purchased from a seller who is not required to collect North Carolina sales tax, then the purchaser is subject to a use tax on the purchase.

Prior to the Department's sales tax directive, the sales and use tax was not imposed on the sale of piped natural gas sold by gas cities and gas marketers. The changes made by the directive become effective July 1, 1998. This bill preserves the tax-exempt status for piped natural gas sold by gas cities. It also limits the area a gas city may serve to the area being served by it on June 30, 1998, and areas initially requiring piped natural gas service after that date if the area is located wholly within the county in which the gas city is located.

To correct the other inequities embedded in the bifurcated taxation of piped natural gas, the bill eliminates the distinction between sales by utilities and sales by others and applies a uniform tax to all piped natural gas consumed in this State. The uniform tax is an excise tax on the gas. The tax rate is structured as a "declining block" that decreases as the amount of therms of piped gas consumed in a month increases. A tax rate based upon the amount of gas consumed, versus the price paid for gas and the gross receipts derived from gas, should result in a more stable revenue stream. The price of gas varies from season to season and year to year.

A declining block tax rate is also used to preserve the current distribution of the tax burden between the three classes of piped gas customers. These three classes are residential, business, and industrial. The current taxes are a percentage of price. The rates for the three classes are also based on price; residential rates are the highest, business rates are in the middle, and industrial rates are the lowest. The current combination of rate and tax therefore results in a higher effective rate of tax on residential customers and a lower rate on business and industrial customers.

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 1, 1998.

BILL SUMMARY: In the natural gas industry there are three types of sellers: utility companies, gas marketers, and cities that sell their own gas. Several types of taxes are now applied to piped natural gas, with the rates and type of tax charged determined by the type of seller and buyer. Utility companies are responsible for a sales tax of 3% (2.83% if the customer is a manufacturer) and a gross receipts tax of 3.22% on the commodity price. Under current law the utilities are the only group responsible for sales tax. Gas marketers are responsible for a gross receipts tax on the transportation charge (not the commodity price). However, if the gas is sold to a customer with direct access, no gross receipts tax is payable. Gas cities pay no sales tax and pay a gross receipts tax on only the gas they purchase for resale, from a North Carolina utility. A use tax should be paid by the customers of out of state gas marketers. All taxes are based on the price paid for the gas.

On May 5, 1998, the Department of Revenue issued a directive concerning the sale of piped natural gas. As a result of the directive piped natural gas will be defined as tangible personal property, and its retail sale will be subject to the 4% state and 2% sales and use tax, unless specifically exempt by statute. Sales of piped natural gas by the producer will continue to be exempt from sales tax. The sale of piped gas by a city is not exempt, and is subject to either a 6% or 3% sales tax. A gas marketer is not exempt and would be responsible for the 6% rate. All gas sold to farmers, manufacturers, or laundries would be subject to a 2.83% tax. Utilities will only be responsible for a 3% sales tax rate, or 2.83% if the gas is sold to farmers, manufacturers, or laundries. The Department of Revenue directive becomes effective July 1, 1998.

This bill would restructure the taxes on natural gas. The bill eliminates the distinction between sales by utilities and sales by others, and applies a uniform tax to all piped natural gas consumed in North Carolina. The uniform tax is an excise tax. The rate is structured as a "declining block" that decreases as the amount of gas consumed in a month increases. The tax rate will be based on the amount of gas consumed, rather than the price paid for the gas. The bill would also exempt the gas cities from the new tax.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: Actual sales and gross receipts tax collections (related to piped natural gas) in 1997 were estimated to be $58.4 million by the Public Staff of the Utilities Commission. This number was then increased to reflect the 2% growth rate used in the economic model. An adjustment was made to convert the calendar year numbers to a fiscal year basis. An additional $2.7 million was added to the revenue estimate to reflect the expected sales tax income from taxing the gas cities, per the May 1998 Department of Revenue directive. $6.2 million was included as the estimated additional tax income from taxing gas marketers at 6% (2.83% if the customer is a manufacturer), per the May 1998 Department directive. Approximately 1.3 million of the revenue from taxing gas marketers would be forwarded to the counties as local sales tax. In total, this created a 1998-9 revenue estimate from piped natural gas, under the current system and including the Department of Revenue directive, of $69.1 million. Future years were forecasted based on a 2% growth rate.

Estimates for tax income under the bill were based on actual volumes delivered in 1997. The 1997 deliveries were grouped into "rate blocks" and increased to reflect the 2% growth rate used in the economic model. An adjustment was made to convert the calendar year numbers to a fiscal year basis. Future years were forecasted based on a 2% growth rate.

TECHNICAL CONSIDERATIONS: The estimated revenue associated with the Department directive was included in the baseline estimate of potential revenue without the bill. It should also be noted that natural gas prices are highly violable and very sensitive to changes in climate and market forces. As such, year to year variations in the revenue associated with natural gas taxes, under the current system, could vary dramatically.

EXPLANATION OF AMENDMENT:
S1327-ARBX-8

This amendment does four things:

- It changes the third rate category on page 2, line 17, to provide the State with the same amount of revenue under the bill that it anticipates receiving under the current franchise/sales tax structure. The targeted amount of revenue needed is $60 million. This amount is based on the law prior to the directive issued by the Department of Revenue.

- It provides that the tax is calculated on the total volume metered through two or more separate measuring devices if the devices are located on the same premises and are part of the same billing account. (Page 2, line 12) Many large industrial customers have more than one meter because, at the time the meters were installed, there was not a meter that could reliably gauge the large volumes of piped gas received. Although technology has improved and such a meter exist today, it would cost several million dollars to replace the multiple meters with one improved meter. It is the seller's responsibility to replace the meter. If the seller replaces the meter, the cost of doing so will be reflected in its rates. Rather than impose this burden on the seller, and ultimately the consumers, the amendment makes this technical change.

- It makes a technical change on page 3, lines 39 and 40. These lines are no longer needed because regional natural gas districts will not pay a franchise tax under the bill.

- It deletes Section 14, which sets forth the service area of gas cities. The statutes that currently govern the expansion of a gas city's service area will remain. G.S. 159-96 says that a city may not use revenue bonds to finance, in whole or in part, a natural gas distribution system that will serve users outside the corporate limits of the city if service is available or will be available within a reasonable time from a local distribution company. G.S. 160A-312 gives cities the authority to operate public utilities within their corporate limits and, within reasonable limitations, outside their corporate limits. Caselaw provides that certain factors may be considered when determining whether an extension of service is reasonable. As applied to electricity, those factors include the electric providers' current levels of service in the area in question, particularly in the immediate vicinity of the potential customer, and the present readiness, willingness, and ability of each to serve the potential customer.

Proposed Committee Substitute S1327-PCS3622

Short Title: No Tax on Gas Cities. (Public)

Sponsors:

Referred to:

May 27, 1998

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO PRESERVE THE TAX-EXEMPT STATUS FOR PIPED NATURAL GAS SOLD BY MUNICIPALITIES AND TO MAKE THE TAXES ON OTHER SALES OF PIPED NATURAL GAS MORE UNIFORM.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. Chapter 105 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new Article to read:

"ARTICLE 5E.

"Piped Natural Gas Tax.

"§ 105-187.40. Definitions.

The definitions in G.S. 105-228.90 and the following definitions apply in this Article:

(1) Gas city. -- A city in this State that operated a piped natural gas distribution system as of July 1, 1998. These cities are Bessemer City, Greenville, Kings Mountain, Lexington, Monroe, Rocky Mount, Shelby, and Wilson.

(2) Local distribution company. -- A natural gas company to whom the North Carolina Utilities Commission has issued a franchise under Chapter 62 of the General Statutes to serve an area of this State.

(3) Premises. -- Defined in G.S. 62-110.2. When applying the definition of premises to this Article, electric service is to be construed as piped natural gas service.

(4) Sales customer. -- An end-user who does not have direct access to an interstate gas pipeline and whose piped natural gas is delivered by the seller of the gas.

(5) Transportation customer. -- An end-user who does not have direct access to an interstate gas pipeline and whose piped natural gas is delivered by a person who is not the seller of the gas.

"§ 105-187.41. Tax imposed on piped natural gas.

(a) Scope. -- An excise tax is imposed on piped natural gas received for consumption in this State. This tax is imposed in lieu of a sales and use tax and a percentage gross receipts tax on piped natural gas.

(b) Rate. -- The tax rate is set in the table below. The tax rate is based on monthly therm volumes of piped natural gas received by the end-user of the gas. If an end-user receives piped natural gas that is metered through two or more separate measuring devices, the tax is calculated separately on the volume metered through each device rather than on the total volume metered through all measuring devices, unless the devices are located on the same premises and are part of the same billing account. In that circumstance, the tax is calculated on the total volume metered through the two or more separate measuring devices.

Monthly Volume of Therms Received	Rate Per Therm
First 200	$.047
201 to 15,000	.035
15,001 to 60,000	.024
60,001 to 500,000	.020
Over 500,000	.004

(c) Gas City Exemption. -- The tax imposed by this section does not apply to piped natural gas received by a gas city for consumption by that city or to piped natural gas delivered by a gas city to a sales or transportation customer of the gas city.

"§ 105-187.42. Liability for the tax.

The excise tax imposed by this section on piped natural gas is payable as follows:

(1) For piped natural gas delivered by a local distribution company to a sales or transportation customer, the tax is payable by the local distribution company.

(2) For piped natural gas delivered by a person who is not a local distribution company to a sales or transportation customer, the tax is payable by that person.

(3) For piped natural gas received by a person by means of direct access to an interstate gas pipeline for consumption by that person, the tax is payable by that person.

"§ 105-187.43. Payment of the tax.

(a) Monthly Return. -- The tax imposed by this Article is payable monthly to the Secretary. A monthly tax payment is due by the last day of the month that follows the month in which the tax accrues. The tax imposed by this Article on piped natural gas delivered to a sales or transportation customer accrues when the gas is

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO AUTHORIZE THE ISSUANCE OF GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS OF THE STATE, SUBJECT TO A VOTE OF THE QUALIFIED VOTERS OF THE STATE, TO ADDRESS CRITICAL STATEWIDE NEEDS BY PROVIDING FUNDS (1) FOR GRANTS, LOANS, AND REVOLVING LOANS TO LOCAL GOVERNMENT UNITS FOR WATER SUPPLY AND DISTRIBUTION SYSTEMS, WASTEWATER COLLECTION SYSTEMS, WASTEWATER TREATMENT WORKS, WATER CONSERVATION PROJECTS, AND WATER REUSE PROJECTS AND (2) FOR GRANTS, LOANS, OR OTHER FINANCING TO PUBLIC OR PRIVATE ENTITIES FOR CONSTRUCTION OF NATURAL GAS FACILITIES.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. Short title. This act shall be known as the "Clean Water and Natural Gas Bond Act of 1998".

Section 2. Purpose. It is the intent of the General Assembly by this act to provide for the issuance of general obligation bonds of the State and to provide that the proceeds realized from the sale of the bonds shall be allocated as follows:

(1) $465,000,000 to provide State matching funds required to receive federal wastewater or water supply assistance funds and to provide additional funding for the Clean Water Revolving Loan and Grant Fund established in Chapter 159G of the General Statutes or to provide funding by grants to local government units for wastewater treatment and water supply distribution needs.

(2) $320,000,000 to provide loans to local government units to finance all or a portion of the cost of construction, improvements, enlargements, extensions, and reconstruction of water supply and distribution systems, wastewater collection systems, wastewater treatment works, and water conservation and water reuse projects.

(3) $100,000,000 to provide grants, loans, or other financing to natural gas local distribution companies, persons seeking natural gas distribution franchises, State or local government agencies, or other entities for construction of natural gas facilities.

The funds to be derived from the sale of the Clean Water Bonds authorized by this act are sufficient to meet no more than a fraction of the needs that now exist and will arise in the immediate future. For this reason, although public necessity shall be the primary consideration in granting and loaning funds, great emphasis shall also be placed on achieving stringent reductions in the levels of nutrients and other pollutants discharged into the State's waters, particularly in nutrient sensitive river basins, in reducing the overall volume of effluent discharged to the State's waters by using alternative methods of wastewater treatment when feasible, on the creation of efficient systems of regional wastewater disposal and regional water supply, and on the willingness and ability of local government units to meet their responsibilities through sound fiscal policies, creative planning, and efficient operation and management.

Section 3. Definitions. As used in this act, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Bond rating" means a numerical rating of a unit of local government developed by the North Carolina Municipal Council, Inc. The rating formula is based on 100 being a theoretically 'perfect' unit of government and is an assessment of the creditworthiness of the unit. Units of local government with rating below 75 or with no ratings are generally considered to be 'nonbank eligible' and such communities therefore have limited, if any access to the private market for financing water and sewer or other debt.

(2) "Bonds" means bonds issued under this act.

(3) "Capacity grant" means a grant awarded by the Rural Economic Development Center to a local government unit to assist in financing a portion of the cost associated with the planning and writing of a grant or loan application, a capital improvement plan,

Section-by-Section Analysis

Section 1. Short title is Clean Water and Natural Gas Bond Act of 1998.

Section 2. Purpose of the PCS is to authorize nine hundred fifty-five million dollars in general obligation bonds. The bond proceeds are to be allocated as follows:

(a) Clean Water Bonds
   (1) $485 million to provide State matching funds for federal moneys and to provide grants to local government units for water and sewer needs.
   (2) $320 million to provide loans to local government units for water and sewer needs.

(b) Natural Gas Bonds
   $150 million to provide grants, loans, or other financing to natural gas distribution companies, persons seeking natural gas distribution franchises, State or local government agencies, or other entities for construction of natural gas facilities.

Section 3. Definitions are set out.

Section 4. Bond bill "boiler plate" language. Authorizes the State Treasurer to issue and sell at any time Clean Water Bonds, subject to a favorable vote of the people. Also authorizes the State Treasurer to issue and sell at any time Natural Gas Bonds, subject to a favorable vote of the people.

Section 5. Specifies what the bond proceeds may be used for and the amount of bond proceeds that may be used for each purpose. The two main purposes are (i) water and sewer needs (Clean Water Bonds) and (ii) natural gas needs (Natural Gas Bonds).

The Clean Water Bond proceeds ($805 million) are divided into two categories, one for grants and one for loans.

Water/Sewer Grants ($485 million)

The total amount of bond proceeds that is to be used for grants to local governments is $485 million and is allocated among the Department of Environment and Natural Resources, the Rural Economic Development Center, and the Department of Commerce.

*Counties not likely to be served in the next two years

The Department of Environment and Natural Resources is to use $365 million in bond proceeds for high unit wastewater grants under the Clean Water Revolving Loan and Grant Fund, for high unit water supply grants under the Clean Water Revolving Loan and Grant Fund, and to match federal funds in compliance with the statutory provisions of the Clean Water Revolving Grant and Loan Fund.

The Rural Economic Development Center is to use $50 million as grants to local government units that are "unsewered communities" to assist with financing of wastewater treatment works and wastewater collection systems.

The Rural Economic Development Center is to use $50 million as supplemental and capacity grants to local government units in compliance with the criteria set out in subdivision (3). (See pages 13-14 of the PCS.) Of the $50 million in bond proceeds, $40 million is allocated for supplemental grants and $10 million is allocated for capacity grants. However, no more than a total of $10 million in bond proceeds ($8 million limit on supplemental grants and $2 million limit on capacity grants) may be used in any fiscal year.

The criteria for the grants to be administered by the Rural Economic Development Center is set out. An annual review by the Secretary of Commerce to verify compliance by the Rural Economic Development Center with the legislative criteria for grants is required, and certain documentation and records regarding those same grants must be provided to the Department of Commerce.

The Department of Commerce is to use $20 million as grants for water and sewer, $10 million to be administered in the same manner as funds in the Industrial Development Fund and $10 million to be administered in the same manner as funds in the Utility Account of the Industrial Development Fund.

Water/Sewer Loans ($320 million)

The total amount of bond proceeds that is to be used for loans to local governments is $320 million. Those proceeds are allocated to the Department of Environment and Natural Resources to be loaned out in compliance with the statutory criteria under the Revolving Loan and Grant Fund, but not as revolving loans. The repayment of the loans is to be credited to the General Fund and may be used for debt service on the bonds.

A final provision under the Clean Water Bond portion of this section provides that the General Assembly may increase or decrease allocations of the bond proceeds for clean water purposes, provided the aggregate amount of the allocations does not exceed $805 million.

Natural Gas Financing ($150 million)

The total amount of proceeds that is to be used for natural gas needs is $150 million. Those proceeds may be used to provide any type of financing to natural gas local distribution companies, private entity, public entity or person seeking natural gas distribution franchises for the construction of natural gas facilities. The bond proceeds are to be expended under the direction and supervision of the Director of the Budget. The North Carolina Utilities Commission must report quarterly to the Join Legislative Commission on governmental Operations, the Chairs of the Senate and House Appropriations Committees, and the Fiscal Research Division on the expenditure of moneys from the Natural Gas Bonds Fund.

Section 6. Bond bill "boiler plate" language. Provides technical provisions governing allocation and disbursement of bond proceeds.

Section 7. Provides that the bond referendum shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November 1998. There are two separate questions, one addressing whether $805 million in general obligation bonds should be issued to make loans and grants to local governments to pay for all or part of the cost of clean water projects, and one addressing whether $150 million in general obligation bonds should be issued to provide grants, loans, or other financing to public or private entities for the construction of natural gas facilities.

Section 8. Bond bill "boiler plate" language. Provides technical provisions governing bonds, including terms, form, manner of sale, refunding bonds, etc.

Section 9. Bond bill "boiler plate" language. Provides technical provisions governing credit facilities, variable interest rates, redemption, and remarketing.

Section 10. Sets out special provisions and additional criteria governing clean water loans. Provides that the section applies only to loans that are not made from the Clean Water Revolving Loan and Grant Fund. Creates a special Clean Water Bonds Loan Fund for the bond proceeds that are to be used to make loans. Provides that interest on the proceeds may be used for loans for the purposes indicated in the PCS. Sets out the criteria that must be met to qualify for a loan and the procedures that must be followed both to apply for the loan and to award the loan including hearings and the opportunity for voters to petition for a vote. Authorizes the State to intercept State funds otherwise distributable to a local unit if the unit fails to repay its loan. Allows inspection by DENR personnel or qualified engineers of a project for which a loan has been made. Authorizes the State Treasurer, the Local Government Commission, and DENR to adopt, modify, and appeal rules as necessary for administration of their various duties. Also includes a reporting requirement.

Section 11. Sets out reporting requirements for the Rural Economic Development Center, the Department of Commerce, and the Department of Environment and Natural Resources regarding grants awarded from bond proceeds.

Section 12. Requires the Department of Environment and Natural Resources, the Department of Commerce, and the Rural Economic Development Center to monitor compliance with goals for participation by minority businesses with regard to projects funded by bond proceeds.

Section 13. "Boilerplate language" governing interpretation of the act.

Section 14. Establishes the State Infrastructure Council. The Council is charged with developing a strategic plan that addresses North Carolina's water supply and distribution and wastewater treatment needs. The Council consists of 17 members, 12 appointed members and 5 ex officio members. Of the 12 appointed members, four are appointed by the Governor, four are appointed by the President

Pro Tempore of the Senate, and four are appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives. The five ex officio members are the Secretary of Commerce, the Secretary of Environment and Natural Resources, the State Treasurer, the Executive Director of the League of Municipalities, and the Executive Director of the County Commissioners Association. The Governor appoints the Chair from the members biennially. The Department of Environment and Natural Resources must provide office space and staff as requested by the Council. The Council must report annually to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations and the Fiscal Research Division regarding its progress in carrying out its charge. This section becomes effective only if the bond referendum passes.

Section 15. Amends G.S. 159G-6 to increase the cap on the total amount of any loan made from the Clean Water Revolving Loan and Grant Fund from three million dollars to ten million dollars and to increase the cap on the total amount of any grant made from the Clean Water Revolving Loan Grant Fund from one million dollars to three million dollars. Further amends G.S. 159G-6(b) to revise the grant eligibility threshold to 1.5 percent of the median household income of the unit rather than the county. Also makes a technical correction. This section becomes effective only if the bond referendum passes.

Section 16. Provides legislative findings stating the need for additional funding methods, including appropriations and bond proceeds, to facilitate the expansion of natural gas service to unserved areas of the State where such expansion may not be economically feasible with traditional funding methods.

Section 17. Creates new G.S. 62-159 authorizing the Utilities Commission to provide funding for the expansion of natural gas service to unserved areas of the State through appropriations or bond proceeds for the construction of natural gas facilities that it would otherwise not be economically feasible to construct. Provides criteria for the Commission to consider in determining whether to approve the use of funds for a particular project. Provides for a recipient to return project funds to the Commission in the event that the project is later determined to be economically feasible and for returned funds to be used for other expansion projects.

Authorizes the Utilities Commission to cancel an existing franchise and grant a recipient of expansion funds a new exclusive franchise if the public interest requires it. Requires the Commission to report to the Joint Legislative Utility Review Committee on the use of expansion funding.

Section 18. Amends the policy statement in G.S. 62-2 to allow for more than one expansion fund to be established in order to facilitate the expansion of natural gas service to unserved areas of the State.

Section 19. Effective date. With the exception of Sections 14 and 15, the act is effective when it becomes law. Sections 14 and 15 become effective only if the bond referendum passes. The Utilities Commission must immediately begin rulemaking process when the act becomes law.

Water districts warned to prepare for the future

By DON McLOUD
News-Argus Staff Writer

State officials concerned about a reduction in groundwater levels in the Central Coastal Plain are warning local governments and water districts to look for ways to reduce demand and find other sources of water.

The area includes eastern Wayne County, as well as Lenoir County, where some of Wayne's water districts have wells. The region also encompasses Jones, Onslow, Pitt, and Wilson counties and west Craven County.

The state is most concerned with Kinston, according to Nat Wilson, lead hydrogeologist with the state Division of Water Resources. But as water providers in the region prepare five-year plans, the state is telling water system officials in the region to prepare for future regulations.

For Wayne County, the area of most concern is Fork Water District in the Rosewood area. All of the district's wells are in Lenoir County, where levels in the aquifer have dropped at a rate that concerns officials with the Division of Water Resources. An aquifer is a large underground source of water.

Tony McCabe, Fork district manager, says there is no mandate from the state. But the district is looking for other sources to prepare for the future.

This week, officials from the Division of Water Resources are scheduled to help find a suitable place to drill for a well in the Rosewood area. A previous attempt to drill a well there failed.

The Fork board will also hear a presentation this month from Johnston County about buying water for emergencies, and the district will soon finish a water line to Southwestern Wayne Sanitary District for emergency use.

McCabe sees excessive use of water as one of the main problems facing the water district. Last year, Fork placed a mandatory restriction on irrigating lawns. Other water districts in the county also asked residents to reduce lawn irrigation, but none had mandatory restrictions.

"Water usage got out of hand," McCabe said. "A lot of people feel the water system is basically unlimited."

Fork board members also considered joining the Wayne Water Districts, a five-member partnership of nonprofit water districts around the county. That issue was one of the deciding factors in last year's elections, when opponents of joining the system won a majority on the district's board.

Over the 10 years he has been with the district, McCabe said, there has been a lot of development, and well levels in Lenoir County have dropped. But he feels that one or two wells operating in the Fork district would help alleviate pressure on the system during dry summer months. It takes three to four years for a well to come on line.

"We've said they are going to have to decrease their demand, so that we can allow the aquifer to come into equilibrium. If we stabilize it, we will know how long it will last."

Nat Wilson, lead hydrogeologist, state Division of Water Resources

Wayne Water Districts has almost completed a circle of water lines around the county that will transfer water from one area of the county to the other at a moment's notice.

Some of the Wayne Water Districts' wells are in Lenoir County where the aquifer has dropped, but the system's manager, Eddie Coltrane, says he is not too concerned, as the districts have many different sources of water.

"If it was going down all the Wilson said the state is helping districts like Fork find sources of water. It is also encouraging water systems to come up with regional solutions.

Wilson's and other state officials' main concern is over the Black Creek and Upper Cape Fear aquifers, which have declined by rates of 2 to 8 feet a year in places of heavy use.

"In some cases the water declined below the top of the aquifer," Wilson said. When it drops below the top, it takes longer for it to refill because of air pockets and less water is available to be pumped from the wells.

Wells that once yielded 850 gallons of water a minute are down to 600 to 650 gallons in some areas of the Central Coastal Plain. Wilson said the state is not at the regulatory stage yet, but the process is beginning. It will be lengthy and allow for public comment, but the state needs to begin the process soon to prepare for future problems, he said.

The Division of Water Resources plans to go before the state's Environmental Management Commission later this year to develop a plan to protect the aquifers in the Central Coastal Plain from overuse. The EMC is the same commission that developed the nitrogen-reduction plan for the Neuse River for sewer systems, hog operations, farms and other sources of pollution.

So far, Wayne County is in good shape, officials say. Goldsboro gets its water from the Neuse River. The western part of the county's aquifer is not declining like the ones in the Central Coastal Plain, Wilson said, because it is closer to the surface and does not take as long to refill.

time and not coming up some I would really be worried," Coltrane said of the aquifer. But for now, "we're doing fine."

Coltrane believes the state needs to study the aquifers and educate people about wasting water, but he does not look forward to the state regulating water usage. "If you're growing, adding one thousand customers a year," he asks, "are you going to tell them they can't get on a water system?"

There are many large industrial users on the aquifers that should be required to go to surface water like rivers and lakes before forcing the public to do so, he says.

As far as the state Division of Water Resources is concerned, Wilson says, "I think that we will continue to head in the direction of regulation."

Wilson says the aquifer will always have water, but "it's going to be impossible to use it as they have in the past."

The state is unsure to what extent the aquifers' levels have dropped. The goal for now is to get the water systems to find alternative sources of water and reduce demand to relieve the pressure on the aquifers in the region.

"We've said they are going to have to decrease their demand, so that we can allow the aquifer to come into equilibrium," Wilson said. "If we stabilize it, we will know how long it will last."

"It may be that in the aggregate, the aquifer can supply all of that demand" by distributing the usage more evenly throughout, he adds. "We want to get people to understand this is a serious situation, and they need to be in the planning process."

EXPLANATION OF SENATE BILL 1252:
Simplify Privilege License Tax

TO: Senate Finance Committee
FROM: Martha Walston, Committee Counsel
DATE: June 2, 1998
SPONSOR: Senator Hoyle

Senate Bill 1252 is a recommendation of the Revenue Laws Study Committee and makes numerous changes to simplify and/or reduce the State privilege license taxes on amusements, professionals, installment paper dealers, banks, and alcoholic beverages. The Bill also increases ABC permit fees. The changes to the taxes and fees on alcoholic beverages would become effective May 1, 1999. All other changes would become effective July 1, 1999.

Amusements. The current law imposes an annual $50 State privilege license tax and a 3% gross receipts tax on any form of entertainment not otherwise taxed or specifically exempted under Article 2 of Chapter 105. The license tax is due July 1 of each year and the tax on gross receipts is due monthly. Taxable forms of entertainment include athletic contests, sporting events, concerts, plays, musicals, night clubs, comedy clubs, amusement parks, carnivals, and festivals. Antique shows, craft shows, and auto shows, when a band is provided or a celebrity signs autographs, are also subject to the tax. Other taxable amusements are fashion shows, beauty pageants, air shows, mud slings, and tractor pulls. Current law also imposes a $50 privilege license tax and gross receipts tax on amusements such as a circus, menagerie, wild west show, a dog and/or pony show, or any other similar amusement not taxed in Article 2. The privilege tax on these amusements is assessed for each day or part of a day that the circus or similar amusement is held. Exempt amusements set out in Article 2 are high school and elementary school athletic contests, teen centers, dances and amusements promoted and managed by a corporation that operates a center for the performing and visual arts when the dance or amusement is held at the center, and amusements on the Cherokee Indian reservation where the entity providing the amusement is authorized to do business on the reservation and pays the tribal gross receipts levy to the tribal council.

The State privilege license tax on amusements is treated as an advance payment of the corresponding gross receipts tax, and the license tax is applied as a credit upon the gross receipts tax. Sections 4 and 5 of the Bill repeal the State privilege license taxes on amusements. This repeal would simplify the taxes assessed on amusements and would be revenue neutral since the license tax is a credit upon the gross receipts tax. Amusements will continue to pay a 3% gross receipts tax and any existing local license tax.

Section 6 reorganizes the exemptions for certain amusements, so that a list of all exempt amusements will appear in one place in the statutes. The list includes those amusements that are currently exempted in Article 2, amusements that are listed as exempt in other sections of the statutes, and amusements that are described in other sections of the statutes and that are not currently taxed.

Professionals. G.S. 105-41 imposes a statewide privilege license on persons practicing certain professions or engaging in certain businesses. Section 7 of the Bill makes various clarifying and technical changes to the statute and reorganizes existing exemptions found throughout the statutes so that all exemptions will appear in G.S. 105-41. Currently the statute exempts persons age 75 and over and certain persons practicing the professional art of healing. The Bill adds to this list blind persons engaging in a trade or profession as a sole proprietor. The exemption for blind persons is currently set out in another section of Chapter 105, which this bill repeals. Section 8 of the Bill moves from Chapter 105 to Chapter 93B, Occupational Licensing Boards, a provision that exempts any person serving in the armed forces or in the merchant marine from paying license fees to a licensing board or commission or to the State. This exemption belongs in the Occupational Licensing Chapter because it relates to occupational licensing, not to taxes.

Installment Paper Dealers. Installment paper dealers are persons engaged in the business of dealing in, buying, or discounting installment paper, notes, bonds, contracts, or evidences of debt, when at the time or in connection with the execution of these instruments, a lien is reserved or taken on personal property located in the State to secure the payment of the obligations. These dealers pay an annual $100 license tax and a quarterly tax of .275% of the total face value of the obligations within the preceding quarterly calendar months. Section 9 repeals the $100 license tax. Dealers will continue to pay the quarterly tax.

Banks. Under current law, banks are issued a privilege license each year and pay a tax at the rate of $30 for each $1,000,000 or fractional part of total assets held. These assets are determined by averaging the total assets shown in the four quarterly call reports of condition (consolidation domestic subsidiaries) for the preceding calendar year as required by bank regulatory authorities. Section 10 eliminates the license and requires the banks to submit instead an annual report to the Department of Revenue showing the average of their total assets. The privilege tax must be paid with the report by July 1. The submission of a report in lieu of issuing an annual license will relieve the Department of having to issue licenses that vary yearly for each bank. The Department's current computer system has had difficulty issuing licenses that vary each year, and this problem will become even more difficult with the year 2000 changeover. Also, a report will assist the Department in auditing banks. The Bill also repeals the $100 annual privilege tax for banks that have been in operation for less than a year. New banks will be required instead to pay a tax on the average of the total assets determined by the number of days in operation.

Alcoholic Beverages. Senate Bill 1252 repeals annual privilege licenses on ABC permittees, raises the ABC permit fees by the corresponding amount, and simplifies the tax rate on malt beverages. In order to engage in a business involving alcoholic beverages, a person must obtain both a permit issued by the ABC Commission and a corresponding annual State license issued by the Department of Revenue. The person must obtain the ABC permit before applying for the license. Upon payment of the State license tax, issuance of the license is mandatory if the applicant has the corresponding ABC permit. The information and qualifications required for the annual State license are the same as the information and qualifications required for the corresponding one-time ABC permit. The additional State license serves no purpose other than to raise revenue. The Bill repeals these privilege licenses in order to eliminate the duplicate requirement of applying for a State privilege license and a corresponding ABC permit. The approximately $3.1 million revenue loss from the repeal of these privilege licenses would be offset by an increase in the ABC permit fees set out in G.S. 18B-902(d), by repeal of the reduced fees for combined permits in G.S. 18B-902(e), and by an increase in the annual renewal fees for mixed beverage and guest room cabinet permits in G.S. 18B-903(b).

Senate Bill 1252 also simplifies the filing requirements for malt beverage taxpayers by setting a single rate of excise tax on malt beverages. Currently, an excise tax of 48.387 cents per gallon is assessed against malt beverages in barrels holding at least 7¾ gallons and an excise tax of 53.376 cents per gallon is assessed against malt beverages in cans, bottles, barrels, or other containers holding less than 7¾ gallons. The Bill imposes an excise tax of 53.177 cents per gallon on the sale of any malt beverage, regardless of the container. Thus, the Bill simplifies the filing and reporting requirements for malt beverages, unfortified wine, and fortified wine by eliminating the requirement that vendors of these products specify the size and type of containers sold in their monthly reports to the Secretary. This information will now be shown on the invoice.

Other changes. Sections 1, 2, 3, and 5 of the Bill make conforming changes throughout Article 2 to clarify that the Article now deals more with privilege taxes, such as a tax on a business' gross receipts, rather than with license taxes. The only State license taxes that will remain in Article 2 if this Bill is enacted are attorneys-at-law and other professionals ($50.00) (G.S. 105-41) and loan agencies or brokers ($750.00) (G.S. 105-88). These sections of the Bill also eliminate the half-rate license tax for professionals and loan agencies that begin business more than halfway through the year.

POSITIONS: Abolish 3 clerical positions in the Department of Revenue beginning FY 99-00.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Department of Revenue, Alcoholic Beverage Commission

EFFECTIVE DATE: Sections 1 through 13, 27, and 28 (privilege licenses) become effective July 1, 1999 and remaining sections (ABC licenses and permits) become effective May 1, 1999.

BILL SUMMARY: The act repeals the state privilege license taxes for amusements, installment paper dealers, and alcoholic beverages. It changes the privilege tax on new banks and eliminates the proration of license fees for loan agencies and professionals. It creates a uniform malt beverage tax, raises the fee on ABC permits, and simplifies the filing and reporting requirements for alcoholic beverages.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

Section 2

Part (c) of section 2 of the bill ends the practice of charging half the privilege license tax to an individual who applies after the midpoint of the fiscal year. Upon passage of this bill, only professionals and loan agencies remain subject to annual license fees. Except for accountants, the Department of Revenue does not have data on the number of licenses that were paid for half year. 675 accountants paid $25 for a half year license in FY 1996-97and 472 bought a half year license in FY 1995-96. Averaging the two years, this note assumes 575 accountants needing a partial year license will pay the full $50 in FY 1999-00. This will generate a gain to the General Fund of $14,375.

Sections 4 & 5

In FY 1996-97, there were 323 privilege licenses issued to amusements, circuses, dances, and rodeos generating $17,737 in General Fund income. For this group the license fee serves as advance payment toward the 3% gross receipts tax collected on their performances. Except for the small amount of interest that the Department may earn on license revenue, there is no fiscal impact from eliminating the annual license fee.

Section 9

Section 9 eliminates the $100 license fee for installment paper dealers who engage in the business of "dealing in, buying, or discounting installment paper, notes, bonds, contracts, or evidences of debt". These dealers also pay a tax of .275% of the face value of the financial instruments they handle. Unlike the amusements license, the $100 paid by installment paper dealers is not an advance payment for the tax they pay. Based on FY 1996-97 collections, this bill will produce a loss of $123,800 annually beginning in FY 1999-00.

Section 10

Banks pay an annual privilege tax equal to $30 for each million dollars of assets they hold. However, a new bank pays a $100 privilege tax until it has been in operation for a year. This $100 fee is eliminated in section 10 and replaced with a requirement for new banks to pay the regular tax prorated by the number of days it operated during the fiscal year.

According to Ray Grace of the North Carolina Banking Commission, the establishment of new banks is cyclical and influenced both by the economy and by actions of the mega-banks. There were no new banks in 1993 and 1994. There were 2 in 1995 and 3 in 1996. In 1997, there were 10 new banks plus the conversion of a thrift to a bank. Mr. Grace anticipates 6 new banks in 1998.

This note assumes three new banks are established each year and uses FY 1996-97 as a model.

The chart below shows the date each bank was chartered by the Banking Commission in 1996 and the average assets for the three banks in the four quarters of 1996-97. Under this bill, instead of paying $100 in their first year, the banks would pay $30 for each million dollars in assets with an adjustment for the number of days in operation. For example, Bank A would pay $30 x 13.239 ($13,239,250/$1,000,000) x (344 days/365 days) = $374.13

	Established	Avg. Assets	Est. Tax	Current Tax
Bank A	7/22/96	$13,239,250	$374.13	$100
Bank B	11/18/96	$30,036,333	$555.06	$100
Bank C	7/31/96	$28,317,750	$779.00	$100
			$1,708.19	$300	Difference = $1,408.19

In summary, this note assumes additional revenue of $1,400 per year due to the change in section 10.

Sections 14 - 30

Under current law, a business that sells beer, wine, and/or spirituous liquor is required to secure the appropriate permits from the State Alcoholic Beverage Commission (ABC) and the appropriate commercial and retail licenses from the Department of Revenue. Sections 17 & 18 repeal the Department of Revenue's annual commercial and retail licensing requirements. New businesses filing permit applications with the ABC will no longer have to file a license application with the Department of Revenue. The Department collected an estimated $3.1 million from 40,000 licensees in FY 1996-97. This note assumes the revenue from ABC licenses in FY 1998-99 and beyond would have been $3.3 million per year. To offset this loss, ABC permit fees are increased in sections 29 and 30 of the bill. Using 1996-97 data on the number of ABC permits issued, the ABC worked with the Fiscal Research Division of the General Assembly to propose increased permit fees that would make the repeal of the retail licenses revenue neutral.

Since ABC permits are business specific (malt beverage, fortified wine, etc.), some businesses may be required to hold more than one permit. All ABC permits are continuing except for the brown bagging and the special occasions permits. This means as long as the permittee meets the qualifications of a permit, the permit does not have to be renewed annually. Under the proposed act, all businesses that currently hold licenses and permits prior to May 1, 1999 will not be affected by this act as long as they continue to meet the qualifications of their ABC permit. If an existing business fails to qualify, then they will have to reapply for new ABC permits and pay the higher fees.

By eliminating the processing of 40,000 ABC licenses each year, the Department of Revenue estimates that it could reduce its clerical staff by up to three Grade 57 clerical employees in the Business License & Returns Section of the Office Examination Division. The savings from these positions is $68,877 in FY 1999-00. This amount is adjusted for future growth in wages and fringe benefits.

Section 22

The excise tax rates on beer are combined into a single rate in section 22. Beer sold in barrels is currently taxed at 48.387 cents per gallon and beer sold in bottles and cans is currently taxed at 53.376 cents per gallon. The combined rate of 53.177 cents per gallon preserves the General Fund revenue expected to be collected from both rates. Although the proposal is revenue neutral, those selling beer in bottles and cans will pay a little less tax and those selling beer in barrels will pay a little more. For example, in 1996-97 producers of beer in bottles and cans would have paid $302,252 less in excise tax while producers of beer by the barrel would have paid $302,252 more in excise tax.

EXPLANATION OF SENATE BILL 1252 (PCS):
Simplify Privilege License Tax

TO: Senate Finance Committee
FROM: Martha Walston, Committee Counsel
DATE: June 15, 1998
SPONSOR: Senator Hoyle

Senate Bill 1252 is a recommendation of the Revenue Laws Study Committee and makes numerous changes to simplify and/or reduce the State privilege license taxes on amusements, professionals, installment paper dealers, banks, and alcoholic beverages. The Bill also increases ABC permit fees. The changes to the taxes and fees on alcoholic beverages would become effective May 1, 1999. All other changes would become effective July 1, 1999. Explanations of the amendments incorporated in the proposed committee substitute are indicated in bold.

Amusements. The current law imposes an annual $50 State privilege license tax and a 3% gross receipts tax on any form of entertainment not otherwise taxed or specifically exempted under Article 2 of Chapter 105. The license tax is due July 1 of each year and the tax on gross receipts is due monthly. Taxable forms of entertainment include athletic contests, sporting events, concerts, plays, musicals, night clubs, comedy clubs, amusement parks, carnivals, and festivals. Antique shows, craft shows, and auto shows, when a band is provided or a celebrity signs autographs, are also subject to the tax. Other taxable amusements are fashion shows, beauty pageants, air shows, mud slings, and tractor pulls. Current law also imposes a $50 privilege license tax and gross receipts tax on amusements such as a circus, menagerie, wild west show, a dog and/or pony show, or any other similar amusement not taxed in Article 2. The privilege tax on these amusements is assessed for each day or part of a day that the circus or similar amusement is held. Exempt amusements set out in Article 2 are high school and elementary school athletic contests, teen centers, dances and amusements promoted and managed by a corporation that operates a center for the performing and visual arts when the dance or amusement is held at the center, and amusements on the Cherokee Indian reservation where the entity providing the amusement is authorized to do business on the reservation and pays the tribal gross receipts levy to the tribal council. The amendment also exempts all elementary and secondary school dances and other amusements. Current law only exempts the first $1,000 of gross receipts derived from dances and amusements actually promoted and managed by secondary schools when the proceeds are used exclusively for the school and not to defray expenses.

The State privilege license tax on amusements is treated as an advance payment of the corresponding gross receipts tax, and the license tax is applied as a credit upon the gross receipts tax. Sections 4 and 5 of the Bill repeal the State privilege license taxes on amusements. This repeal would simplify the taxes assessed on amusements and would be revenue neutral since the license tax is a credit upon the gross receipts tax. Amusements will continue to pay a 3% gross receipts tax and any existing local license tax.

Section 6 reorganizes the exemptions for certain amusements, so that a list of all exempt amusements will appear in one place in the statutes. The list includes those amusements that are currently exempted in Article 2, amusements that are listed as exempt in other sections of the statutes, and amusements that are described in other sections of the statutes and that are not currently taxed.

Professionals. G.S. 105-41 imposes a statewide privilege license on persons practicing certain professions or engaging in certain businesses. Section 7 of the Bill makes various clarifying and technical changes to the statute and reorganizes existing exemptions found throughout the statutes so that all exemptions will appear in G.S. 105-41. Currently the statute exempts persons age 75 and over and certain persons practicing the professional art of healing. The Bill adds to this list blind persons engaging in a trade or profession as a sole proprietor. The exemption for blind persons is currently set out in another section of Chapter 105, which this bill repeals. Section 8 of the Bill moves from Chapter 105 to Chapter 93B, Occupational Licensing Boards, a provision that exempts any person serving in the armed forces or in the merchant marine from paying license fees to a licensing board or commission or to the State. This exemption belongs in the Occupational Licensing Chapter because it relates to occupational licensing, not to taxes. The amendment allows an individual who is serving in the armed forces of the U.S. an extension of time to pay any license fee charged by an occupational licensing board, if the individual qualifies for the extension of time to file a tax return under G.S. 105-249.2. This statute provides that the Secretary of Revenue may not assess interest or penalty against a taxpayer for any period that is disregarded under section 7508 of the IRC in determining the taxpayer's liability for a federal tax. This section of the IRC postpones tax liaibility for an individual serving in the Armed Forces, or serving in support ot the armed forces, in an area designated by the President as a "combat zone". The period of service in such area, plus the period of continuous qualified hospitalization attributable to injury received while serving in the area, and the next 180 days thereafter, are disregarded in determining tax liability.

Installment Paper Dealers. Installment paper dealers are persons engaged in the business of dealing in, buying, or discounting installment paper, notes, bonds, contracts, or evidences of debt, when at the time or in connection with the execution of these instruments, a lien is reserved or taken on personal property located in the State to secure the payment of the obligations. These dealers pay an annual $100 license tax and a quarterly tax of .275% of the total face value of the obligations within the preceding quarterly calendar months. Section 9 repeals the $100 license tax. Dealers will continue to pay the quarterly tax. The amendment increases the quarterly tax of .275% to .277% to offset the loss of revenue from repealing the annual $100 license tax. According to the Department of Revenue, this increase in rate would cover $112,811 of the $123,800 loss.

Banks. Under current law, banks are issued a privilege license each year and pay a tax at the rate of $30 for each $1,000,000 or fractional part of total assets held. These assets are determined by averaging the total assets shown in the four quarterly call reports of condition (consolidation domestic subsidiaries) for the preceding calendar year as required by bank regulatory authorities. Section 10 eliminates the license and requires the banks to submit instead an annual report to the Department of Revenue showing the average of their total assets. The privilege tax must be paid with the report by July 1. The submission of a report in lieu of issuing an annual license will relieve the Department of having to issue licenses that vary yearly for each bank. The Department's current computer system has had difficulty issuing licenses that vary each year, and this problem will become even more difficult with the year 2000 changeover. Also, a report will assist the Department in auditing banks. The Bill also repeals the $100 annual privilege tax for banks that have been in operation for less than a year. New banks will be required instead to pay a tax on the average of the total assets determined by the number of days in operation.

Alcoholic Beverages. Senate Bill 1252 repeals annual privilege licenses on ABC permittees, raises the ABC permit fees by the corresponding amount, and simplifies the tax rate on malt beverages. In order to engage in a business involving alcoholic beverages, a person must obtain both a permit issued by the ABC Commission and a corresponding annual State license issued by the Department of Revenue. The person must obtain the ABC permit before applying for the license. Upon payment of the State license tax, issuance of the license is mandatory if the applicant has the corresponding ABC permit. The information and qualifications required for the annual State license are the same as the information and qualifications required for the corresponding one-time ABC permit. The additional State license serves no purpose other than to raise revenue. The Bill repeals these privilege licenses in order to eliminate the duplicate requirement of applying for a State privilege license and a corresponding ABC permit. The approximately $3.1 million revenue loss from the repeal of these privilege licenses would be offset by an increase in the ABC permit fees set out in G.S. 18B-902(d), by repeal of the reduced fees for combined permits in G.S. 18B-902(e), and by an increase in the annual renewal fees for mixed beverage and guest room cabinet permits in G.S. 18B-903(b).

Senate Bill 1252 also simplifies the filing requirements for malt beverage taxpayers by setting a single rate of excise tax on malt beverages. Currently, an excise tax of 48.387 cents per gallon is assessed against malt beverages in barrels holding at least 7¾ gallons and an excise tax of 53.376 cents per gallon is assessed against malt beverages in cans, bottles, barrels, or other containers holding less than 7¾ gallons. The Bill imposes an excise tax of 53.177 cents per gallon on the sale of any malt beverage, regardless of the container. Thus, the Bill simplifies the filing and reporting requirements for malt beverages, unfortified wine, and fortified wine by eliminating the requirement that vendors of these products specify the size and type of containers sold in their monthly reports to the Secretary. This information will now be shown on the invoice.

Other changes. Sections 1, 2, 3, and 5 of the Bill make conforming changes throughout Article 2 to clarify that the Article now deals more with privilege taxes, such as a tax on a business' gross receipts, rather than with license taxes. The only State license taxes that will remain in Article 2 if this Bill is enacted are attorneys-at-law and other professionals ($50.00) (G.S. 105-41) and loan agencies or brokers ($750.00) (G.S. 105-88). These sections of the Bill also eliminate the half-rate license tax for professionals and loan agencies that begin business more than halfway through the year.

POSITIONS: Abolish 3 clerical positions in the Department of Revenue beginning FY 99-00.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Department of Revenue, Alcoholic Beverage Commission

EFFECTIVE DATE: Sections 1 through 13, 27, and 28 (privilege licenses) become effective July 1, 1999 and remaining sections (ABC licenses and permits) become effective May 1, 1999.

BILL SUMMARY: The act repeals the state privilege license taxes for amusements, installment paper dealers, and alcoholic beverages. It increases the tax on tax on installment paper dealers from .275% to .277%. It changes the privilege tax on new banks and eliminates the proration of license fees for loan agencies and professionals. It creates a uniform malt beverage tax, raises the fee on ABC permits, and simplifies the filing and reporting requirements for alcoholic beverages.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

Section 2

Part (c) of section 2 of the bill ends the practice of charging half the privilege license tax to an individual who applies after the midpoint of the fiscal year. Upon passage of this bill, only professionals and loan agencies remain subject to annual license fees. Except for accountants, the Department of Revenue does not have data on the number of licenses that were paid for half year. 675 accountants paid $25 for a half year license in FY 1996-97and 472 bought a half year license in FY 1995-96. Averaging the two years, this note assumes 575 accountants needing a partial year license will pay the full $50 in FY 1999-00. This will generate a revenue gain to the General Fund of $14,375.

Sections 4 & 5

In FY 1996-97, there were 323 privilege licenses issued to amusements, circuses, dances, and rodeos generating $17,737 in General Fund income. For this group the license fee serves as advance payment toward the 3% gross receipts tax collected on their performances. Except for the small amount of interest that the Department may earn on license revenue, there is no fiscal impact from eliminating the annual license fee.

Section 9

Section 9 eliminates the $100 license fee for installment paper dealers who engage in the business of "dealing in, buying, or discounting installment paper, notes, bonds, contracts, or evidences of debt". Unlike the amusements license, the $100 paid by installment paper dealers is not an advance payment for the tax they pay. Based on FY 1996-97 collections, this change will produce a loss of $123,800 annually beginning in FY 1999-00. These dealers also pay a tax of .275% of the face value of the financial instruments they handle. To offset the revenue loss, this tax rate is increased to .277% to raise $112,810. The net revenue impact from eliminating the $100 fee and increasing the tax rate to .277% is a revenue loss of $10,990.

Section 10

Banks pay an annual privilege tax equal to $30 for each million dollars of assets they hold. However, a new bank pays a $100 privilege tax until it has been in operation for a year. This $100 fee is eliminated in section 10 and replaced with a requirement for new banks to pay the regular tax prorated by the number of days it operated during the fiscal year.

According to Ray Grace of the North Carolina Banking Commission, the establishment of new banks is cyclical and influenced both by the economy and by actions of the mega-banks. There were no new banks in 1993 and 1994. There were 2 in 1995 and 3 in 1996. In 1997, there were 10 new banks plus the conversion of a thrift to a bank. Mr. Grace anticipates 6 new banks in 1998.

This note assumes three new banks are established each year and uses FY 1996-97 as a model. The chart below shows the date each bank was chartered by the Banking Commission in 1996 and the average assets for the three banks in the four quarters of 1996-97. Under this bill, instead of paying $100 in their first year, the banks would pay $30 for each million dollars in assets with an adjustment for the number of days in operation. For example, Bank A would pay $30 x 13.239 ($13,239,250/$1,000,000) x (344 days/365 days) = $374.13

Bank A	7/22/96	$13,239,250	$374.13	$100
Bank B	11/18/96	$30,036,333	$555.06	$100
Bank C	7/31/96	$28,317,750	$779.00	$100
			$1,708.19	$300	Difference = $1,408.19

In summary, this note assumes additional revenue of $1,400 per year due to the change in section 10.

Sections 14 - 30

Under current law, a business that sells beer, wine, and/or spirituous liquor is required to secure the appropriate permits from the State Alcoholic Beverage Commission (ABC) and the appropriate commercial and retail licenses from the Department of Revenue. Sections 17 & 18 repeal the Department of Revenue's annual commercial and retail licensing requirements. New businesses filing permit applications with the ABC will no longer have to file a license application with the Department of Revenue. The Department collected an estimated $3.1 million from 40,000 licensees in FY 1996-97. This note assumes the revenue from ABC licenses in FY 1998-99 and beyond would have been $3.3 million per year. To offset this loss, ABC permit fees are increased in sections 29 and 30 of the bill. Using 1996-97 data on the number of ABC permits issued, the ABC worked with the Fiscal Research Division of the General Assembly to propose increased permit fees that would make the repeal of the retail licenses revenue neutral.

Since ABC permits are business specific (malt beverage, fortified wine, etc.), some businesses may be required to hold more than one permit. All ABC permits are continuing except for the brown bagging and the special occasions permits. This means as long as the permittee meets the qualifications of a permit, the permit does not have to be renewed annually. Under the proposed act, all businesses that currently hold licenses and permits prior to May 1, 1999 will not be affected by this act as long as they continue to meet the qualifications of their ABC permit. If an existing business fails to qualify, then they will have to reapply for new ABC permits and pay the higher fees.

By eliminating the processing of 40,000 ABC licenses each year, the Department of Revenue estimates that it could reduce its clerical staff by up to three Grade 57 clerical employees in the Business License & Returns Section of the Office Examination Division. The savings from these positions is $68,877 in FY 1999-00. This amount is adjusted for future growth in wages and fringe benefits.

Section 22

The excise tax rates on beer are combined into a single rate in section 22. Beer sold in barrels is currently taxed at 48.387 cents per gallon and beer sold in bottles and cans is currently taxed at 53.376 cents per gallon. The combined rate of 53.177 cents per gallon preserves the General Fund revenue expected to be collected from both rates. Although the proposal is revenue neutral, those selling beer in bottles and cans will pay a little less tax and those selling beer in barrels will pay a little more. For example, in 1996-97 producers of beer in bottles and cans would have paid $302,252 less in excise tax while producers of beer by the barrel would have paid $302,252 more in excise tax.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO AUTHORIZE THE ISSUANCE OF GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS OF THE STATE, SUBJECT TO A VOTE OF THE QUALIFIED VOTERS OF THE STATE, TO ADDRESS CRITICAL STATEWIDE NEEDS BY PROVIDING FUNDS (1) FOR GRANTS, LOANS, AND REVOLVING LOANS TO LOCAL GOVERNMENT UNITS FOR WATER SUPPLY AND DISTRIBUTION SYSTEMS, WASTEWATER COLLECTION SYSTEMS, WASTEWATER TREATMENT WORKS, WATER CONSERVATION PROJECTS, AND WATER REUSE PROJECTS AND (2) FOR GRANTS, LOANS, OR OTHER FINANCING TO PUBLIC OR PRIVATE ENTITIES FOR CONSTRUCTION OF NATURAL GAS FACILITIES.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. Short title. This act shall be known as the "Clean Water and Natural Gas Bond Act of 1998".

Section 2. Purpose. It is the intent of the General Assembly by this act to provide for the issuance of general obligation bonds of the State and to provide that the proceeds realized from the sale of the bonds shall be allocated as follows:

(1) $465,000,000 to provide State matching funds required to receive federal wastewater or water supply assistance funds and to provide additional funding for the Clean Water Revolving Loan and Grant Fund established in Chapter 159G of the General Statutes or to provide funding by grants to local government units for wastewater treatment and water supply distribution needs.

(2) $320,000,000 to provide loans to local government units to finance all or a portion of the cost of construction, improvements, enlargements, extensions, and reconstruction of water supply and distribution systems, wastewater collection systems, wastewater treatment works, and water conservation and water reuse projects.

(3) $100,000,000 to provide grants, loans, or other financing to natural gas local distribution companies, persons seeking natural gas distribution franchises, State or local government agencies, or other entities for construction of natural gas facilities.

The funds to be derived from the sale of the Clean Water Bonds authorized by this act are sufficient to meet no more than a fraction of the needs that now exist and will arise in the immediate future. For this reason, although public necessity shall be the primary consideration in granting and loaning funds, great emphasis shall also be placed on achieving stringent reductions in the levels of nutrients and other pollutants discharged into the State's waters, particularly in nutrient sensitive river basins, in reducing the overall volume of effluent discharged to the State's waters by using alternative methods of wastewater treatment when feasible, on the creation of efficient systems of regional wastewater disposal and regional water supply, and on the willingness and ability of local government units to meet their responsibilities through sound fiscal policies, creative planning, and efficient operation and management.

Section 3. Definitions. As used in this act, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Bond rating" means a numerical rating of a unit of local government developed by the North Carolina Municipal Council, Inc. The rating formula is based on 100 being a theoretically 'perfect' unit of government and is an assessment of the creditworthiness of the unit. Units of local government with rating below 75 or with no ratings are generally considered to be 'nonbank eligible' and such communities therefore have limited, if any access to the private market for financing water and sewer or other debt.

(2) "Bonds" means bonds issued under this act.

(3) "Capacity grant" means a grant awarded by the Rural Economic Development Center to a local government unit to assist in financing a portion of the cost associated with the planning and writing of a grant or loan application, a capital improvement plan,

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO AUTHORIZE THE ISSUANCE OF GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS OF THE STATE, SUBJECT TO A VOTE OF THE QUALIFIED VOTERS OF THE STATE, TO ADDRESS CRITICAL STATEWIDE NEEDS BY PROVIDING FUNDS (1) FOR GRANTS AND LOANS TO LOCAL GOVERNMENT UNITS FOR WATER SUPPLY AND DISTRIBUTION SYSTEMS, WASTEWATER COLLECTION SYSTEMS, WASTEWATER TREATMENT WORKS, WATER CONSERVATION PROJECTS, AND WATER REUSE PROJECTS AND (2) FOR GRANTS, LOANS, OR OTHER FINANCING TO PUBLIC OR PRIVATE ENTITIES FOR CONSTRUCTION OF NATURAL GAS FACILITIES.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. Short title. This act shall be known as the "Clean Water and Natural Gas Bond Act of 1998".

Section 2. Purpose. It is the intent of the General Assembly by this act to provide for the issuance of general obligation bonds of the State and to provide that the proceeds realized from the sale of the bonds shall be allocated as follows:

(a) Clean Water Bonds.

(1) $485,000,000 to provide State matching funds required to receive federal wastewater or water supply assistance funds and to provide additional funding for the Clean Water Revolving Loan and Grant Fund established in Chapter 159G of the General Statutes or to provide funding by grants to local government units for wastewater treatment and water supply and distribution needs.

(2) $320,000,000 to provide loans to local government units to finance all or a portion of the cost of construction, improvements, enlargements, extensions, and reconstruction of water supply and distribution systems, wastewater collection systems, wastewater treatment works, and water conservation and water reuse projects.

The funds to be derived from the sale of the Clean Water Bonds authorized by this act are sufficient to meet no more than a fraction of the needs that now exist and will arise in the immediate future. For this reason, although public necessity shall be the primary consideration in granting and loaning funds, great emphasis shall also be placed on achieving stringent reductions in the levels of nutrients and other pollutants discharged into the State's waters, particularly in nutrient sensitive river basins, in reducing the overall volume of effluent discharged to the State's waters by using alternative methods of wastewater treatment when feasible, on the creation of efficient systems of regional wastewater disposal and regional water supply, and on the willingness and ability of local government units to meet their responsibilities through sound fiscal policies, creative planning, and efficient operation and management. In addition, great emphasis shall also be placed on the protection and improvement of fisheries habitats for both saltwater and freshwater fish based upon recommendations made by the Director of the Marine Fisheries Division of the Department of Environment and Natural Resources.

(b) Natural Gas Bonds.

$150,000,000 to provide grants, loans, or other financing to natural gas local distribution companies, persons seeking natural gas distribution franchises, State or local government agencies, or other entities for construction of natural gas facilities.

Section 3. Definitions. As used in this act, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Bond rating" means the numerical rating of a unit of local government developed by the NCMC. The rating formula is based on 100 being a theoretically 'perfect' unit of local government and is an assessment of the creditworthiness of the unit. Units of local government with a rating below 75 or with no ratings have limited, if any, access to the private markets for financing water and sewer or other debt.

Explanation – 6/11/98

The proposed committee substitute (PCS) authorizes the issuance of general obligation bonds in the amount of $955 million, subject to approval by the voters in a bond referendum, for $805 million in grants and loans to local governments for water supply systems, wastewater collection systems, wastewater treatment works, water conservation projects, and water reuse projects and for $150 million in grants, loans, and other financing to public or private entities for the construction of natural gas facilities.

Section-by-Section Analysis

Section 1. Short title is Clean Water and Natural Gas Bond Act of 1998.

Section 2. Purpose of the PCS is to authorize nine hundred fifty-five million dollars in general obligation bonds. The bond proceeds are to be allocated as follows:

(a) Clean Water Bonds
(1) $485 million to provide State matching funds for federal moneys and to provide grants to local government units for water and sewer needs.
(2) $320 million to provide loans to local government units for water and sewer needs.

(b) Natural Gas Bonds
$150 million to provide grants, loans, or other financing to natural gas distribution companies, persons seeking natural gas distribution franchises, State or local government agencies, or other entities for construction of natural gas facilities.

Section 3. Definitions are set out.

Section 4. Bond bill "boiler plate" language. Authorizes the State Treasurer to issue and sell at any time Clean Water Bonds, subject to a favorable vote of the people. Also authorizes the State Treasurer to issue and sell at any time Natural Gas Bonds, subject to a favorable vote of the people.

Section 5. Specifies what the bond proceeds may be used for and the amount of bond proceeds that may be used for each purpose. The two main purposes are (i) water and sewer needs (Clean Water Bonds) and (ii) natural gas needs (Natural Gas Bonds).

The Clean Water Bond proceeds ($805 million) are divided into two categories, one for grants and one for loans.

Water/Sewer Grants ($485 million)

The total amount of bond proceeds that is to be used for grants to local governments is $485 million and is allocated among the Department of Environment and Natural Resources, the Rural Economic Development Center, and the Department of Commerce.

The Department of Environment and Natural Resources is to use $365 million in bond proceeds for high unit wastewater grants under the Clean Water Revolving Loan and Grant Fund, for high unit water supply grants under the Clean Water Revolving Loan and Grant Fund, and to match federal funds in compliance with the statutory provisions of the Clean Water Revolving Grant and Loan Fund.

The Rural Economic Development Center is to use $50 million as grants to local government units that are "unsewered communities" to assist with financing of wastewater treatment works and wastewater collection systems.

The Rural Economic Development Center is to use $50 million as supplemental and capacity grants to local government units in compliance with the criteria set out in subdivision (3). (See pages 13-14 of the PCS.) Of the $50 million in bond proceeds, $40 million is allocated for supplemental grants and $10 million is allocated for capacity grants. However, no more than a total of $10 million in bond proceeds ($8 million limit on supplemental grants and $2 million limit on capacity grants) may be used in any fiscal year.

The criteria for the grants to be administered by the Rural Economic Development Center is set out. An annual review by the Secretary of Commerce to verify compliance by the Rural Economic Development Center with the legislative criteria for grants is required, and certain documentation and records regarding those same grants must be provided to the Department of Commerce.

The Department of Commerce is to use $20 million as grants for water and sewer, $10 million to be administered in the same manner as funds in the Industrial Development Fund and $10 million to be administered in the same manner as funds in the Utility Account of the Industrial Development Fund.

Water/Sewer Loans ($320 million)

The total amount of bond proceeds that is to be used for loans to local governments is $320 million. Those proceeds are allocated to the Department of Environment and Natural Resources to be loaned out in compliance with the statutory criteria under the Revolving Loan and Grant Fund, but not as revolving loans. The repayment of the loans is to be credited to the General Fund and may be used for debt service on the bonds.

A final provision under the Clean Water Bond portion of this section provides that the General Assembly may increase or decrease allocations of the bond proceeds for clean water purposes, provided the aggregate amount of the allocations does not exceed $805 million.

Natural Gas Financing ($150 million)

The total amount of proceeds that is to be used for natural gas needs is $150 million. Those proceeds may be used to provide any type of financing to natural gas local distribution companies, private entity, public entity or person seeking natural gas distribution franchises for the construction of natural gas facilities. The bond proceeds are to be expended under the direction and supervision of the Director of the Budget. The North Carolina Utilities Commission must report quarterly to the Join Legislative Commission on governmental Operations, the Chairs of the Senate and House Appropriations Committees, and the Fiscal Research Division on the expenditure of moneys from the Natural Gas Bonds Fund.

Section 6. Bond bill "boiler plate" language. Provides technical provisions governing allocation and disbursement of bond proceeds.

Section 7. Provides that the bond referendum shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November 1998. There are two separate questions, one addressing whether $805 million in general obligation bonds should be issued to make loans and grants to local governments to pay for all or part of the cost of clean water projects, and one addressing whether $150 million in general obligation bonds should be issued to provide grants, loans, or other financing to public or private entities for the construction of natural gas facilities.

Section 8. Bond bill "boiler plate" language. Provides technical provisions governing bonds, including terms, form, manner of sale, refunding bonds, etc.

Section 9. Bond bill "boiler plate" language. Provides technical provisions governing credit facilities, variable interest rates, redemption, and remarketing.

Section 10. Sets out special provisions and additional criteria governing clean water loans. Provides that the section applies only to loans that are not made from the Clean Water Revolving Loan and Grant Fund. Creates a special Clean Water Bonds Loan Fund for the bond proceeds that are to be used to make loans. Provides that interest on the proceeds may be used for loans for the purposes indicated in the PCS. Sets out the criteria that must be met to qualify for a loan and the procedures that must be followed both to apply for the loan and to award the loan including hearings and the opportunity for voters to petition for a vote. Authorizes the State to intercept State funds otherwise distributable to a local unit if the unit fails to repay its loan. Allows inspection by DENR personnel or qualified engineers of a project for which a loan has been made. Authorizes the State Treasurer, the Local Government Commission, and DENR to adopt, modify, and appeal rules as necessary for administration of their various duties. Also includes a reporting requirement.

Section 11. Sets out reporting requirements for the Rural Economic Development Center, the Department of Commerce, and the Department of Environment and Natural Resources regarding grants awarded from bond proceeds.

Section 12. Requires the Department of Environment and Natural Resources, the Department of Commerce, and the Rural Economic Development Center to monitor compliance with goals for participation by minority businesses with regard to projects funded by bond proceeds.

Section 13. "Boilerplate language" governing interpretation of the act.

Section 14. Establishes the State Infrastructure Council. The Council is charged with developing a strategic plan that addresses North Carolina's water supply and distribution and wastewater treatment needs. The Council consists of 17 members, 12 appointed members and 5 ex officio members. Of the 12 appointed members, four are appointed by the Governor, four are appointed by the President

Pro Tempore of the Senate, and four are appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives. The five ex officio members are the Secretary of Commerce, the Secretary of Environment and Natural Resources, the State Treasurer, the Executive Director of the League of Municipalities, and the Executive Director of the County Commissioners Association. The Governor appoints the Chair from the members biennially. The Department of Environment and Natural Resources must provide office space and staff as requested by the Council. The Council must report annually to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations and the Fiscal Research Division regarding its progress in carrying out its charge. This section becomes effective only if the bond referendum passes.

Section 15. Amends G.S. 159G-6 to increase the cap on the total amount of any loan made from the Clean Water Revolving Loan and Grant Fund from three million dollars to ten million dollars and to increase the cap on the total amount of any grant made from the Clean Water Revolving Loan Grant Fund from one million dollars to three million dollars. Further amends G.S. 159G-6(b) to revise the grant eligibility threshold to 1.5 percent of the median household income of the unit rather than the county. Also makes a technical correction. This section becomes effective only if the bond referendum passes.

Section 16. Provides legislative findings stating the need for additional funding methods, including appropriations and bond proceeds, to facilitate the expansion of natural gas service to unserved areas of the State where such expansion may not be economically feasible with traditional funding methods.

Section 17. Creates new G.S. 62-159 authorizing the Utilities Commission to provide funding for the expansion of natural gas service to unserved areas of the State through appropriations or bond proceeds for the construction of natural gas facilities that it would otherwise not be economically feasible to construct. Provides criteria for the Commission to consider in determining whether to approve the use of funds for a particular project. Provides for a recipient to return project funds to the Commission in the event that the project is later determined to be economically feasible and for returned funds to be used for other expansion projects.

Authorizes the Utilities Commission to cancel an existing franchise and grant a recipient of expansion funds a new exclusive franchise if the public interest requires it. Requires the Commission to report to the Joint Legislative Utility Review Committee on the use of expansion funding.

Section 18. Amends the policy statement in G.S. 62-2 to allow for more than one expansion fund to be established in order to facilitate the expansion of natural gas service to unserved areas of the State.

Section 19. Effective date. With the exception of Sections 14 and 15, the act is effective when it becomes law. Sections 14 and 15 become effective only if the bond referendum passes. The Utilities Commission must immediately begin rulemaking process when the act becomes law.

(c) Relationship With Enterprise Tiers. -- For the purpose of the credit for worker training allowed in G.S. 105-129.11, a development zone is considered an enterprise tier one area. For all other purposes, a development zone has the same enterprise tier designation as the county in which it is located.

"§ 105-129.4. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Eligibility; forfeiture.

(a) Type of Business. -- A taxpayer is eligible for a credit allowed by G.S. 105-129.12 if the real property for which the credit is claimed is used for a central administrative office that creates at least 40 new jobs. A taxpayer is eligible for the other credits allowed by this Article if the taxpayer engages in one of the following types of businesses and the jobs with respect to which a credit is claimed are created in that business, the machinery and equipment with respect to which a credit is claimed are used in that business, and the research and development for which a credit is claimed are carried out as part of that business:

(1) Air courier services.
(2) Central administrative office that creates at least 40 new jobs.
(3) Data processing.
(4) ~~Manufacturing or processing.~~ Manufacturing.
(5) Warehousing or ~~distribution.~~ wholesale trade.

(a1) Central Administrative Office. -- A central administrative office creates at least 40 new jobs ~~if, during the taxable year the taxpayer first uses the property as a central administrative office,~~ if the taxpayer hires at least 40 additional full-time employees to fill new positions at the ~~office.~~ office either in the year the taxpayer first uses the property as a central administrative office or in the preceding 24 months while using temporary space for the central administrative office functions during completion of the administrative office property. Jobs transferred from one area in the State to another area in the State are not considered new jobs for purposes of this subsection.

(b) Wage Standard. -- A taxpayer is eligible for the credit for creating jobs or the credit for worker training if the jobs for which the credit is claimed meet the wage standard at the time the taxpayer applies for the credit. A taxpayer is eligible for the credit for investing in machinery and equipment, the credit for research and development, or the credit for investing in real property for a central administrative office if the jobs at the location with respect to which the credit is claimed meet the wage standard at the time the taxpayer applies for the credit. Jobs meet the wage standard if they pay an average weekly wage that is at least equal to the applicable percentage times the applicable average weekly wage for the county in which the jobs will be located, as computed by the Secretary of Commerce from data compiled by the Employment Security Commission for the most recent period for which data are available. The applicable percentage for jobs located in an enterprise tier one area is one hundred percent (100%). The applicable percentage for all other jobs is one hundred ten percent (110%). The applicable average weekly wage is the lowest of the following: (i) the average wage for all insured private employers in the county, (ii) the average wage for all insured private employers in the State, and (iii) the average wage for all insured private employers in the county multiplied by the county income/wage adjustment factor. The county income/wage adjustment factor is the county income/wage ratio divided by the State income/wage ratio. The county income/wage ratio is average per capita income in the county divided by the annualized average wage for all insured private employers in the county. The State income/wage ratio is the average per capita income in the State divided by the annualized average wage for all insured private employers in the State.

(b1) Large Investment. -- A taxpayer who is otherwise eligible for a tax credit under this Article becomes eligible for the large investment enhancements provided for credits under this Article if the Secretary of Commerce certifies that the taxpayer will purchase or lease, and place in service in connection with the eligible business within a two-year period, at least one hundred fifty million dollars ($150,000,000) worth of one or more of the following: real property, machinery and equipment, or central administrative office property. If the taxpayer fails to make the level of investment certified within this two-year period, the taxpayer forfeits the large investment enhancements as provided in subsection (d) of this section.

~~(c) Worker Training. -- A taxpayer is eligible for the tax credit for worker training only for training workers who occupy jobs for which the taxpayer is eligible to claim an installment of the credit for creating jobs or which are full-time positions at a location with respect to which the taxpayer is eligible to claim an installment of the credit for investing in machinery and equipment for the taxable year.~~

~~The credit for worker training is allowed only with respect to employees in positions not classified as exempt under the Fair Labor Standards Act, 29 U.S.C. § 213(a)(1) and for expenditures for training that would be eligible for expenditure or reimbursement under the Department of Community Colleges' New and Expanding Industry Program, as determined by guidelines adopted by the State Board of Community Colleges. The credit is not allowed for expenditures that are paid or reimbursed by the New and Expanding Industry Program. To establish eligibility, the taxpayer must obtain as part of the application process under G.S. 105-129.6 the certification of the Department of Community Colleges that the taxpayer's planned worker training would satisfy the requirements of this paragraph. A taxpayer shall apply to the Department of Community Colleges for this certification. The application must be on a form provided by the Department of Community Colleges, must provide a detailed plan of the worker training to be provided, and must contain any information required by the Department of Community Colleges to determine whether the requirements of this paragraph will be satisfied. If the Department of Community Colleges determines that the planned worker training meets the requirements of this paragraph, the Department of Community Colleges shall issue a certificate describing the location with respect to which the credit is claimed and stating that the planned worker training meets the requirements of this paragraph. The State Board of Community Colleges may adopt rules in accordance with Chapter~~

~~150B of the General Statutes that are needed to carry out its responsibilities under this paragraph.~~

(d) Forfeiture. -- A taxpayer forfeits a credit allowed under this Article if the taxpayer was not eligible for the credit at the time the taxpayer applied for the credit. In addition, a taxpayer forfeits a large investment enhancement of a tax credit if the taxpayer fails to make the level of investment certified by the Secretary of Commerce under subsection (b1) of this section within the required two-year period. A taxpayer that forfeits a credit under this Article is liable for all past taxes avoided as a result of the credit plus interest at the rate established under G.S. 105-241.1(i), computed from the date the taxes would have been due if the credit had not been allowed. The past taxes and interest are due 30 days after the date the credit is forfeited; a taxpayer that fails to pay the past taxes and interest by the due date is subject to the penalties provided in G.S. 105-236. If a taxpayer forfeits the credit for creating jobs or the credit for investing in machinery and equipment, the taxpayer also forfeits any credit for worker training claimed for the jobs for which the credit for creating jobs was claimed or the jobs at the location with respect to which the credit for investing in machinery and equipment was claimed.

(e) Change in Ownership of Business. -- The sale, merger, acquisition, or bankruptcy of a business, or any ~~other~~ transaction by which an existing business reformulates itself as another business, does not create new eligibility in a succeeding business with respect to credits for which the predecessor was not eligible under this Article. A successor business may, however, take any installment of or carried-over portion of a credit that its predecessor could have taken if it had a tax liability. The acquisition of a business is a new investment that creates new eligibility in the acquiring taxpayer under this Article if either of the following conditions are met:

(1) The business closed before it was acquired.

(2) The business was required to file a notice of plant closing or mass layoff under the federal Worker Adjustment and Retraining Notification Act, 29 U.S.C. § 2102, before it was acquired.

"§ 105-129.5. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Tax election; cap.

(a) Tax Election. -- The credits provided in this Article are allowed against the franchise tax levied in Article 3 of this Chapter and the income taxes levied in Article 4 of this Chapter. The credit for investing in central administrative office property provided in G.S. 105-129.12 is also allowed against the gross premiums tax levied in Article 8B of this Chapter. The taxpayer shall elect the tax against which a credit will be claimed when filing the return on which the first installment of the credit is claimed. This election is binding. Any carryforwards of the credit must be claimed against the same tax.

(b) Cap. -- The credits allowed under this Article may not exceed fifty percent (50%) of the tax against which they are claimed for the taxable year, reduced by the sum of all other credits allowed against that tax, except tax payments made by or on behalf of the taxpayer. This limitation applies to the cumulative amount of credit, including carryforwards, claimed by the taxpayer under this Article against each tax for the taxable year. Any unused portion of ~~the~~ a credit with respect to a large investment may be carried forward for the succeeding ~~five years.~~ 20 years. Any unused portion of any other credit may be carried forward for the succeeding five years.

"§ 105-129.6. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Application; reports.

(a) Application. -- To claim the credits allowed by this Article, the taxpayer must provide with the tax return the certification of the Secretary of Commerce that the taxpayer meets all of the eligibility requirements of G.S. 105-129.4 with respect to each credit. A taxpayer shall apply to the Secretary of Commerce for certification of eligibility. The application must be on a form provided by the Secretary of Commerce and must contain any information necessary for the Secretary of Commerce to determine whether the taxpayer meets the eligibility requirements. If the Secretary of Commerce determines that the taxpayer meets all of the eligibility requirements of G.S. 105-129.4 with respect to a credit, the Secretary shall issue a certificate describing the location with respect to which the credit is claimed, outlining the eligibility requirements for the credit, and stating that the taxpayer meets the eligibility requirements. If the Secretary of Commerce determines that the taxpayer does not meet all of the eligibility requirements of G.S. 105-129.4 with respect to a credit, the Secretary must advise the taxpayer in writing of the eligibility requirements the taxpayer fails to meet. The Secretary of Commerce may adopt rules in accordance with Chapter 150B of the General Statutes that are needed to carry out the Secretary of Commerce's responsibilities under this section.

(a1) Fee. -- When filing an application for certification under this section, the taxpayer must pay the Department of Commerce a fee of seventy-five dollars ($75.00). Fees collected under this subsection are receipts of the Department of Commerce.

(b) Reports. -- The Department of Commerce shall report to the Department of Revenue and to the Fiscal Research Division of the General Assembly by May 1 of each year the following information for the 12-month period ending the preceding April 1:

(1) The number of applications for each credit allowed in this Article.
(2) The number and enterprise tier area of new jobs with respect to which credits were applied for.
(3) The cost of machinery and equipment with respect to which credits were applied for.

"§ 105-129.7. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Substantiation.

To claim a credit allowed by this Article, the taxpayer must provide any information required by the Secretary of Revenue. Every taxpayer claiming a credit under this Article shall maintain and make available for inspection by the Secretary of Revenue any records the Secretary considers necessary to determine and verify the amount of the credit to which the taxpayer is entitled. The burden of proving eligibility for the credit and the amount of the credit shall rest upon the taxpayer, and no credit shall be allowed to a taxpayer that fails to maintain adequate records or to make them available for inspection.

"§ 105-129.8. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for creating jobs.

(a) Credit. -- A taxpayer that meets the eligibility requirements set out in G.S. 105-129.4, has five or more employees for at least 40 weeks during the taxable year, and hires an additional full-time employee during that year to fill a position located in this State is allowed a credit for creating a new full-time job. The amount of the credit for each new full-time job created is set out in the table below and is based on the enterprise tier of the area in which the position is ~~located.~~ located. In addition, if the position is located in a development zone, the amount of the credit is increased by four thousand dollars ($4,000) per job.

Area Enterprise Tier	Amount of Credit
Tier One	$12,500
Tier Two	4,000
Tier Three	3,000
Tier Four	1,000
Tier Five	500

A position is located in an area if more than fifty percent (50%) of the employee's duties are performed in the area. The credit may not be taken in the taxable year in which the additional employee is hired. Instead, the credit shall be taken in equal installments over the four years following the taxable year in which the additional employee was hired and shall be conditioned on the continued employment by the taxpayer of the number of full-time employees the taxpayer had upon hiring the employee that caused the taxpayer to qualify for the credit.

If, in one of the four years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the number of the taxpayer's full-time employees falls below the number of full-time employees the taxpayer had in the year in which the taxpayer qualified for the credit, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit. The taxpayer may, however, take the portion of an installment that accrued in a previous year and was carried forward to the extent permitted under G.S. 105-129.5.

Jobs transferred from one area in the State to another area in the State shall not be considered new jobs for purposes of this section. If, in one of the four years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the position filled by the employee is moved to an area in a higher- or lower-numbered enterprise tier, or is moved from a development zone to an area that is not a development zone, the remaining installments of the credit shall be calculated as if the position had been created initially in the area to which it was moved.

(b) Repealed by Session Laws 1989, c. 111, s. 1.

(b1), (c) Repealed by Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 3.3.

(d) Planned Expansion. -- A taxpayer that signs a letter of commitment with the Department of Commerce to create at least twenty new full-time jobs in a specific area within two years of the date the letter is signed qualifies for the credit in the amount allowed by this section based on the area's enterprise tier and development zone designation for that year even though the employees are not hired that year. The credit shall be available in the taxable year after at least twenty employees have been hired if the hirings are within the two-year commitment period. The conditions outlined in subsection (a) apply to a credit taken under this subsection except that if the area is redesignated to a higher-numbered enterprise tier or loses its development zone designation after the year the letter of commitment was signed, the credit is allowed based on the area's enterprise tier and development zone designation for the year the letter was signed. If the taxpayer does not hire the employees within the two-year period, the taxpayer does not qualify for the credit. However, if the taxpayer qualifies for a credit under subsection (a) in the year any new employees are hired, the taxpayer may take the credit under that subsection.

(e), (f) Repealed by Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 3.3 for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1996.

"§ 105-129.9. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for investing in machinery and equipment.

(a) Credit. -- If a taxpayer that has purchased or leased eligible machinery and equipment places it in service in this State during the taxable year, the taxpayer is allowed a credit equal to seven percent (7%) of the excess of the eligible investment amount over the applicable threshold. Machinery and equipment is eligible if is capitalized by the taxpayer for tax purposes under the Code and is not leased to another party. In addition, in the case of a large investment, machinery and equipment that is not capitalized by the taxpayer is eligible if the taxpayer leases it from another party. The credit may not be taken for the taxable year in which the equipment is placed in service but shall be taken in equal installments over the seven years following the taxable year in which the equipment is placed in service.

(b) Eligible Investment Amount. -- The eligible investment amount is the lesser of (i) the cost of the eligible machinery and equipment and (ii) the amount by which the cost of all of the taxpayer's eligible machinery and equipment that is in service in this State on the last day of the taxable year exceeds the cost of all of the taxpayer's eligible machinery and equipment that was in service in this State on the last day of the base year. The base year is that year, of the three immediately preceding taxable years, in which the taxpayer had the most eligible machinery and equipment in service in this State.

(c) Threshold. -- ~~The~~ For eligible machinery and equipment placed in service in a development zone during the taxable year, the applicable threshold is zero. For other eligible machinery and equipment, the applicable threshold is the appropriate amount set out in the following table based on the enterprise tier of the area where the eligible machinery and equipment are placed in service during the taxable year. If the taxpayer places eligible machinery and equipment in service in more than one area during the taxable year, the threshold applies separately to the eligible machinery and equipment placed in service in each area. If the taxpayer places eligible machinery and equipment in service in an area over the course of a two-year period, the applicable threshold for the second taxable year is reduced by the eligible investment amount for the previous taxable year.

Area Enterprise Tier	Threshold
Tier One	$ -0-
Tier Two	100,000
Tier Three	200,000

Tier Four	500,000
Tier Five	1,000,000

(d) Expiration. -- If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the machinery and equipment with respect to which the credit was claimed are disposed of, taken out of service, or moved out of State, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit. The taxpayer may, however, take the portion of an installment that accrued in a previous year and was carried forward to the extent permitted under G.S. 105-129.5.

If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the machinery and equipment with respect to which the credit was claimed are moved to an area in a higher-numbered enterprise tier, or are moved from a development zone to an area that is not a development zone, the remaining installments of the credit are allowed only to the extent they would have been allowed if the machinery and equipment had been placed in service initially in the area to which they were moved.

(e) Planned Expansion. -- A taxpayer that signs a letter of commitment with the Department of Commerce to place specific eligible machinery and equipment in service in an area within two years after the date the letter is signed may, in the year the eligible machinery and equipment are placed in service in that area, calculate the credit for which the taxpayer qualifies based on the area's enterprise tier and development zone designation for the year the letter was signed. All other conditions apply to the credit, but if the area has been redesignated to a higher-numbered enterprise tier or has lost its development zone designation after the year the letter of commitment was signed, the credit is allowed based on the area's enterprise tier and development zone designation for the year the letter was signed. If the taxpayer does not place part or all of the specified eligible machinery and equipment in service within the two-year period, the taxpayer does not qualify for the benefit of this subsection with respect to the machinery and equipment not placed in service within the two-year period. However, if the taxpayer qualifies for a credit in the year the eligible machinery and equipment are placed in service, the taxpayer may take the credit for that year as if no letter of commitment had been signed pursuant to this subsection.

"§ 105-129.10. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for research and development.

(a) General Credit. -- A taxpayer that claims for the taxable year a federal income tax credit under section ~~41~~ 41(a) of the Code for increasing research activities is allowed a credit equal to five percent (5%) of the State's apportioned share of the taxpayer's expenditures for increasing research activities. The State's apportioned share of a taxpayer's expenditures for increasing research activities is the excess of the taxpayer's qualified research expenses for the taxable year over the base amount, as determined under section 41 of the Code, multiplied by a percentage equal to the ratio of the taxpayer's qualified research expenses in this State for the taxable year to the taxpayer's total qualified research expenses for the taxable year.

(b) Alternative Credit. -- A taxpayer that claims the alternative incremental credit under section 41(c)(4) of the Code for increasing research activities is allowed a credit equal to twenty-five percent (25%) of the State's apportioned share of the federal credit claimed. The State's apportioned share of the federal credit claimed is the amount of the alternative incremental credit the taxpayer claimed under section 41(c)(4) of the Code for the taxable year multiplied by a percentage equal to the ratio of the taxpayer's qualified research expenses in this State for the taxable year to the taxpayer's total qualified research expenses for the taxable year.

(c) Definitions. -- As used in this section, the terms "qualified research expenses" and "base amount" have the meaning provided in section 41 of the Code.

"§ 105-129.11. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for worker training.

(a) Credit. -- A taxpayer that provides worker training for five or more of its eligible employees during the taxable year is allowed a credit equal to ~~fifty percent (50%) of its eligible expenditures for~~ the wages paid to the eligible employees during the training. Wages paid to an employee performing his or her job while being trained are not eligible for the credit. For positions located in an enterprise tier one area, the credit may not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) per employee trained during the taxable year. For other positions, the credit may not exceed five hundred dollars ($500.00) per employee trained during the taxable year. A position is located in an area if more than fifty percent (50%) of the employee's duties are performed in the area.

(b) Eligibility. -- ~~The eligibility of a taxpayer's expenditures and employees is determined as provided in G.S. 105-129.4.~~ An employee is eligible if the employee is in a full-time position not classified as exempt under the Fair Labor Standards Act, 29 U.S.C. § 213(a)(1) and meets one or more of the following conditions:

(1) The employee occupies a job for which the taxpayer is eligible to claim an installment of the credit for creating jobs.

(2) The employee is being trained to operate machinery and equipment for which the taxpayer is eligible to claim an installment of the credit for investing in machinery and equipment.

"§ 105-129.12. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for investing in central administrative office property.

(a) Credit. -- If a taxpayer that has purchased or leased real property in this State begins to use the property as a central administrative office during the taxable year, the taxpayer is allowed a credit equal to seven percent (7%) of the eligible investment amount. The eligible investment amount is the lesser of (i) the cost of the property and (ii) the amount by which the cost of all of the property the taxpayer is using in this State as central administrative offices on the last day of the taxable year exceeds the cost of all of the property the taxpayer was using in this State as central administrative offices on the last day of the base year. The base year is that year, of the three immediately preceding taxable years, in which the taxpayer was using the most property in this State as central administrative offices. In the case of property that is leased, the cost of the property is not determined as provided in G.S. 105-129.2 but is considered to be the taxpayer's lease payments over a seven-year period, plus any expenditures made by the taxpayer to improve the property before it is used as the taxpayer's central administrative office if the expenditures are not reimbursed or credited by the lessor. The maximum credit allowed a taxpayer under this section for property used as a central administrative office is five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000). The entire credit may not be taken for the taxable year in which the property is first used as a central administrative office but shall be taken in equal installments over the seven years following the taxable year in which the property is first used as a central administrative office. The basis in any real property for which a credit is allowed under this section shall be reduced by the amount of credit allowable.

(b) Mixed Use Property. -- If the taxpayer uses only part of the property as the taxpayer's central administrative office, the amount of the credit allowed under this section is reduced by multiplying it by a fraction the numerator of which is the square footage of the property used as the taxpayer's central administrative office and the denominator of which is the total square footage of the property.

(c) Expiration. -- If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the property with respect to which the credit was claimed is no longer used as a central administrative office, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit. If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, part of the property with respect to which the credit was claimed is no longer used as a central administrative office, the remaining installments of the credit shall be reduced by multiplying it by the fraction described in subsection (b) of this section. If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the total number of employees the taxpayer employs at all of its central administrative offices in this State drops by 40 or more, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit.

In each of these cases, the taxpayer may nonetheless take the portion of an installment that accrued in a previous year and was carried forward to the extent permitted under G.S. 105-129.5."

Section 2. G.S. 105-129.15(2) reads as rewritten:

"(2) Cost. -- ~~Determined~~ In the case of property owned by the taxpayer, cost is determined pursuant to regulations adopted under section 1012 of the Code, subject to the limitation on cost provided in section 179 of the Code. In the case of property the taxpayer leases from another, cost is value as determined pursuant to G.S. 105-130.4(j)(2)."

Section 3. G.S. 143B-437.04 reads as rewritten:

"§ 143B-437.04. Economic development block grants.

G.S. ~~105-129.3.~~ 105-129.3 or in development zones that have met the conditions of subsection (b) of this section.

(b) In order to qualify for the benefits of this section, after an area is designated a development zone under G.S. 105-129.3A, the governing body of the city in which the zone is located must adopt a strategy to improve the zone and establish a development zone committee to oversee the strategy. The strategy and the committee must conform with requirements established by the Secretary of Commerce."

EXPLANATION OF SENATE BILL 1569[1]:
Proposed Committee Substitute (June 16)
Economic Opportunity Act of 1998

TO: House and Senate Finance Committees
FROM: Martha H. Harris, Staff Attorney
DATE: June 15, 1998
SPONSOR: Senator Hoyle

This bill is designed to promote economic development throughout the State in five ways[2]:

1. It makes various amendments to the William S. Lee Act to encourage large investments and remove technical problems with the Act. (1 - 13)
2. It authorizes enhanced incentives for development zones, which are economically distressed areas located within municipalities. (3-4, 8)
3. It expands and modifies the Industrial Development Fund to provide financial support for projects in rural and less prosperous areas of the State. (13 - 15)
4. To encourage development of air courier hubs, it provides sales tax and property tax reductions for air couriers and provides a temporary bidding law exemption for specific projects of the Piedmont Triad International Airport Authority. (15-16)
5. To encourage development of the recycling industry in Tier One counties, it provides an investment tax credit for large and major recycling facilities that locate in Tier One counties and, in addition, it provides a refundable reinvestment credit and sales tax reductions for major recycling facilities. (16 - 23)

William S. Lee Act Modifications. Part I of the bill makes a number of changes to the William S. Lee Quality Jobs and Business Expansion Act, some technical and some substantive. Unless a different date is given, these changes all become effective beginning with the 1999 tax year.

[1] The House companion to this bill is House Bill 1688, introduced by Representative Gray.

[2] The proposed committee substitute differs from the original bill in four ways. First, it authorizes local governments to use up to 2% of a grant from the Industrial Development Fund to administer the grant and to verify that the funds are used for the required purposes. Second, it specifies that under the Bill Lee Act, the wage standard for a development zone is the same as in a Tier One County. Third, it narrows the sales tax reductions for air carriers to apply only to air courier hubs. Fourth, it adds Part IV of the bill to encourage development of the recycling industry in Tier One counties.

Part I makes two changes to the central administrative office credit that was enacted last year. First, it allows the credit to be taken against the insurance gross premiums tax. This change will permit insurance companies to qualify for the credit. Second, it clarifies that a central administrative office meets the requirement for creating new jobs if the jobs begin before the office property is in service but are located at a temporary facility that the business occupies while waiting for its office property to be completed.

Part I also makes two changes to the credit for investing in machinery and equipment. First, it provides that for projects that span two tax years, the threshold applies only once to the investment. Otherwise, a project put in service from May through September would receive more benefit than a project put in service from November through March. This change goes into effect beginning with the 1998 tax year. Second, it expands the credit to include machinery and equipment the taxpayer uses under an operating lease, but only if the machinery and equipment are part of a project valued at $150 million or more. Otherwise, the current law allows the credit only for machinery and equipment the taxpayer acquires under a capital lease or purchases and capitalizes.

Part I expands the credit for research and development. The existing credit for research and development piggybacks the federal credit, allowing a State credit equal to approximately ¼ of the federal credit as it relates to North Carolina activities. In 1997, Congress enacted an alternative credit for research and development. The bill modifies the State credit to also allow a credit equal to approximately ¼ of the federal alternative credit as it relates to North Carolina activities.

Part I simplifies the credit for worker training. In order to qualify under current law for the credit for worker training, the taxpayer must get its planned training certified in advance by the Department of Community Colleges. This requirement has been difficult both for taxpayers and for the Department of Community Colleges. The bill replaces the current credit measured by costs of training with a credit for wages paid to workers while they are being trained (not including on-the-job training). The credit is restricted to employees for whom the taxpayer qualifies for the jobs tax credit and employees being trained to operate machinery and equipment for which the taxpayer qualifies for the credit for investing in machinery and equipment.

Finally, Part I makes a number of administrative and technical changes to the William S. Lee Act. First, it levies a $75.00 application fee on taxpayers who seek to qualify for a credit. The proceeds of the fee will help the Department of Commerce defray its costs in administering the credits. Most states with similar incentives laws require a fee, and their fees tend to be much higher. The application fee would become effective January 1, 1999. Second, the bill extends the credit carryforward period for investments over $150 million. Currently, the credit may not reduce the taxpayer's tax liability by more than half, and any excess may be carried forward for up to five years. The bill provides that for large investments, the excess may be carried forward for up to 20 years. Third, the bill clarifies that credits are allowed only for new and expanding businesses, not for existing businesses that are sold to another taxpayer. The bill provides an exception, however, for a business that has closed, has filed a federally required notice that closure is imminent, or has been purchased in an employee buyout. In these cases, the business will be able to qualify for the credits to the same extent as a new business. Fourth, the bill clarifies the definitions of the different types of businesses that are eligible for credits[3] and clarifies the method of calculating the investment tax credit and the business tax credit for property acquired by a capital lease.

State Development Zones. Part I of the bill provides for the designation of economically distressed areas located within municipalities as State development zones, and authorizes enhanced incentives for businesses that locate in a development zone. This change becomes effective beginning with the 1999 tax year. The bill defines a development zone as an area (1) consisting of one or more contiguous census tracts and block groups, (2) with a population of 1,000 or more, at least 20% of whom are below the poverty level, and (3) located at least partly in a municipality with a population over 5,000. If a business locates in a development zone, the wage standard it has to meet is the same as for Tier One counties - slightly lower than the standard for other counties. In addition, if a business locates in a development zone, its maximum worker training credit is $1,000 rather than $500, it receives an additional $4,000 per job on its jobs tax credit, and there is no threshold for the credit for investing in machinery and equipment.

The Secretary of Commerce will designate development zones upon request of a taxpayer or a local government. The designation is effective for four years. The bill provides that a development zone may qualify for priority in receiving community development block grants if the municipality's governing body adopts a strategy to improve the zone and establishes a committee to implement the strategy, in accordance with guidelines established by the Department of Commerce.

[3] The bill changes statutory references from the Standard Industrial Classifications (SIC) to the North American Industrial Classification System (NAICS) to conform to the federal system. These references are used in the William S. Lee act to define various types of businesses. The bill also changes the term "manufacturing and processing" to "manufacturing" and the term "warehousing and distribution" to "warehousing and wholesale trade" to conform to the NAICS. In April 1997, the United States Office of Management and Budget announced the adoption of a new industry classification replacing the SIC, a system used to classify most of the data we have about industries or kinds of business in our economy. The updating of industry classifications is nothing new. Since its origination in the 1930s, the SIC system has been revised or updated every 10 or 15 years to reflect new developments in the American economy and to address problems identified by data users and statistical agencies. It was last revised in 1987.

Infrastructure Funds. Part II of the bill states the intent of the General Assembly to appropriate funds to the Industrial Development Fund and the Utility Account of the Industrial Development Fund. The Governor's budget requested an appropriation of $32 million, $18 million for the Fund and $14 million for the Utility Account. Under current law, money in the Utility Account can be used in Tier One counties for construction or improvements to new or existing water, sewer, gas, or electrical utility distribution lines or for existing, new, or proposed industrial buildings to be used in manufacturing and processing, warehousing and distribution, or data processing. The bill would expand the scope of the Utility Account to include Tier Two counties. p.13 p 15

Under current law, the Industrial Development Fund provides funding for manufacturing projects in Tier One, Two, and Three counties as well as in areas experiencing major economic dislocations. The funds may be used for equipment, capital improvements, and utility distribution lines. Projects in Tier Two and Three Counties are required to match the State funds on a $1/$3 basis. The funding is capped at $4,000 per job to be created and $400,000 per project. The bill would raise the per-job cap to $5,000 and the per-project cap to $500,000. The bill would also expand the industries covered by both the Industrial Development Fund and the Utility Account to include all of the following: manufacturing, central administrative offices, air courier services, data processing, and warehousing and wholesale trade. p. 14 pp 13-15

Under current law, funds in the Industrial Development Fund and the Utility Account are used for grants to local governments and, in some cases, loans to businesses through the local government and a bank that matches the loan. The bill would clarify that a local government that receives funds, may, if necessary, use up to 2% of the funds to verify that the funds are used as required by law and otherwise to administer the grant or loan. p. 14

Air Courier Hubs. Part III of the bill provides sales tax and property tax reductions for interstate air couriers in order to encourage the development of air courier hubs in North Carolina. An air courier is an air carrier that delivers individually addressed letters, parcels, and packages. Effective January 1, 2001, the bill provides that sales to an interstate air courier of equipment for handling and storing materials at its hub will be subject to a reduced sales tax of 1%, capped at $80 per item. In addition, the bill provides a sales tax exemption for p. 16

p.16 sales to interstate an air courier of aircraft lubricants, aircraft repair parts, and aircraft accessories for use at the air courier's hub in this State. Effective beginning with the 2001 property tax year, the bill provides a property tax p.16 exemption for aircraft owned by an air courier and apportioned for property tax purposes to the courier's hub in this State. A hub is the place in this State where the air courier allocates for property tax purposes more than 50% of its North Carolina aircraft value and where it receives packages from consolidation locations for sorting and distribution.

p.16 Part III also grants a bidding law exemption for the Piedmont Triad International Airport Authority. The exemption is effective for a five-year period beginning January 1, 1999, and applies to design and construction of an air freight distribution facility on airport property, and related supplies, equipment, and services.

Recycling Facilities. Part IV of the bill provides tax incentives for "large" and "major" recycling facilities located in Tier One counties at the time of initial p.17 construction. A recycling facility is a plant that manufactures products, most of which are made from at least 50% post-consumer waste material. The facility also includes related infrastructure, buildings, and equipment on land p.17 surrounding the plant. A large recycling facility is one that will involve at least $150 million in new investment and 155 new jobs within a two-year period. A major recycling facility is one that will involve at least $300 million in new investment and 250 new jobs within a four-year period. In order to qualify for the applicable tax incentives, the owner of the facility must obtain certification from the Department of Commerce that it will meet the minimum investment and new job requirements. If the facility fails to meet either requirement within p.18 the applicable time period, it forfeits any tax benefit it received as a result of being certified.

Part IV provides an investment tax credit for both large and major pp18-19 recycling facilities, effective beginning with the 1998 tax year. This investment tax credit is in lieu of the investment tax credit provided in the William S. Lee Act. The recycling facility investment tax credit differs from the Bill Lee Act credit in the following ways:

1. The Bill Lee Act credit is equal to 7% of the cost of machinery and equipment, while the large recycling facility credit is equal to 20% of p.18 the cost and the major recycling facility credit is equal to 50% of the cost.
2. The credit is allowed at the time the owner of the recycling facility accrues expenses to purchase or lease the machinery and equipment, p.18 rather than at the time the machinery and equipment are placed in service, as under the Bill Lee Act. If the recycling facility fails to put the machinery and equipment in service within 30 months after taking the credit, the credit is forfeited and must be repaid.

3. The credit is allowed against both the corporate franchise tax and the corporate income tax. Under the Bill Lee Act, the credit is allowed against either but not both of those taxes.
4. The credit may equal 100% of the tax due from the owner of the facility. Under the Bill Lee Act, the credit is limited to 50% of tax due, so that the taxpayer will be paying some tax in every case.
5. The excess credit may be carried forward for 25 years. Under the Bill Lee Act, as revised by this bill, the relevant carryforward period would be 20 years.

Part IV also provides to major recycling facilities locating in Tier One counties a refundable corporate income tax "credit for reinvestment," effective beginning with the 1998 tax year. The credit applies if the major recycling facility is not accessible by ocean barge or ship and incurs additional expenses due to transporting its materials and products by alternative modes of transportation. The reinvestment credit is equal to the amount of these additional expenses, which must be documented annually to the Secretary of Commerce. The credit is subject to a dollar cap each year, in increasing amounts. In 1999, the cap is $640,000. In 2004, the cap levels off at $10.4 million a year. The bill sunsets this reinvestment credit effective with the 2008 tax year. The bill states the intent, however, to postpone the sunset if any major recycling facility can document that it is still experiencing additional expenses in 2008 due to its inability to use ocean barges or ships to transport materials and products.

The reinvestment credit is refundable. That means that if the amount of credit exceeds the major recycling facility's tax liability after all other credits are subtracted, the balance is paid out in cash. For the first ten years the reinvestment credit is in effect, a major recycling facility must use the amount received in credit to invest in rail and roads associated with the facility, in transportation infrastructure to reduce the expense of transporting materials and products to and from the facility, or in land and infrastructure for industrial sites, other than the facility itself, in the same county. If there are not enough reasonable opportunities for investments in those purposes in a given year, however, the major recycling facility may invest the amount of credit received in the facility itself, but only after it has made the minimum investment of $300 million required to qualify as a major recycling facility. The facility must document its compliance with this reinvestment requirement and forfeits any part of the credit it spends for another purpose. It is this reinvestment requirement that gives the credit its name.

Part IV provides several sales and use tax reductions for major recycling facilities locating in Tier One counties, effective beginning July 1, 1998. First, it provides that a reduced sales tax rate of 1%, capped at $80 per item, will apply to cranes, foundations, transportation equipment, and materials handling equipment used at the major recycling facility. These items would otherwise be subject to 4% State sales tax and 2% local sales tax. Second, it exempts from sales tax lubricants and other additives for vehicles and machinery used at the plant, and other materials and supplies (not including machinery and equipment) that are used or consumed directly in the manufacturing process. These items would also otherwise be subject to a combined State and local rate of 6%. Third, it exempts from sales tax electricity purchased for use at the major recycling facility. This electricity would otherwise be subject to State sales tax at 3% or 2.83%. Fourth, Part IV provides an annual sales tax refund for taxes a major recycling facility pays directly or indirectly on building materials, building supplies, fixtures, and equipment that become a part of the real property of the recycling facility located in a Tier One county.

Finally, Part IV modifies the existing property tax exemption for property used for recycling, effective beginning with the 1999-20 property tax year. Under current law, to qualify for exemption, the property must be used exclusively for recycling and have recycling as its primary purpose. The bill would provide instead that the property must be used predominantly for recycling and have recycling as a purpose. The Department of Environment and Natural Resources determined that these changes would be necessary to prevent a recycling facility from being disqualified because it adds fillers or other materials to the post-consumer waste material when manufacturing products.

(a) Tiers Defined. -- An enterprise tier one area is a county whose enterprise factor is one of the 10 highest in the State. An enterprise tier two area is a county whose enterprise factor is one of the next 15 highest in the State. An enterprise tier three area is a county whose enterprise factor is one of the next 25 highest in the State. An enterprise tier four area is a county whose enterprise factor is one of the next 25 highest in the State. An enterprise tier five area is any area that is not in a lower-numbered enterprise tier.

(1) The county's rank in a ranking of counties by average rate of unemployment from lowest to highest, for the preceding three years.

(2) The county's rank in a ranking of counties by average per capita income from highest to lowest, for the preceding three years.

(3) The county's rank in a ranking of counties by percentage growth in population from highest to lowest.

The Secretary of Commerce shall then rank all the counties within the State according to their enterprise factor from highest to lowest, identify all the areas of the State by enterprise tier, and provide this information to the Secretary of Revenue. An enterprise tier designation is effective only for the calendar year following the designation.

In measuring rates of unemployment and per capita income, the Secretary shall use the latest available data published by a State or federal agency generally recognized as having expertise concerning the data. In measuring population growth, the Secretary shall use the most recent estimates of population certified by the State Planning Officer.

(c) Exception for Enterprise Tier One Areas. -- Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, an enterprise tier one area may not be redesignated as a higher-numbered enterprise tier area until it has been an enterprise tier one area for at least two consecutive years.

"§ 105-129.3A. Development zone designation.

(a) Development Zone Defined. -- A development zone is an area comprised of one or more contiguous census tracts and census block groups in the most recent federal decennial census that meets all of the following conditions:

(1) It is located in whole or in part in a city with a population of more than 5,000 according to the most recent annual population estimates certified by the State Planning Officer.

(2) It has a population of 1,000 or more according to the most recent annual population estimates certified by the State Planning Officer.

(3) More than twenty percent (20%) of its population is below the poverty level according to the most recent federal decennial census.

(b) Designation. -- Upon request of a taxpayer or a local government, the Secretary of Commerce shall designate whether an area is a development zone that meets the conditions of subsection (a) of this section. A development zone designation is effective for 48 months following the designation.

(c) Relationship With Enterprise Tiers. -- For the purpose of the wage standard requirement of G.S. 105-129.3(b), the credit for investing in machinery and equipment allowed in G.S. 105-129.9, and the credit for worker training allowed in G.S. 105-129.11, a development zone is considered an enterprise tier one area. For all other purposes, a development zone has the same enterprise tier designation as the county in which it is located.

"§ 105-129.4. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Eligibility; forfeiture.

(a) Type of Business. -- A taxpayer is eligible for a credit allowed by G.S. 105-129.12 if the real property for which the credit is claimed is used for a central administrative office that creates at least 40 new jobs. A taxpayer is eligible for the other credits allowed by this Article if the taxpayer engages in one of the following types of businesses and the jobs with respect to which a credit is claimed are created in that business, the machinery and equipment with respect to which a credit is claimed are used in that business, and the research and development for which a credit is claimed are carried out as part of that business:

(1) Air courier services.
(2) Central administrative office that creates at least 40 new jobs.
(3) Data processing.
(4) ~~Manufacturing or processing.~~ Manufacturing.
(5) Warehousing or ~~distribution.~~ wholesale trade.

(a1) Central Administrative Office. -- A central administrative office creates at least 40 new jobs ~~if, during the taxable year the taxpayer first uses the property as a central administrative office,~~ if the taxpayer hires at least 40 additional full-time employees to fill new positions at the ~~office.~~ office either in the year the taxpayer first uses the property as a central administrative office or in the preceding 24 months while using temporary space for the central administrative office functions during completion of the administrative office property. Jobs transferred from one area in the State to another area in the State are not considered new jobs for purposes of this subsection.

(b) Wage Standard. -- A taxpayer is eligible for the credit for creating jobs or the credit for worker training if the jobs for which the credit is claimed meet the wage standard at the time the taxpayer applies for the credit. A taxpayer is eligible for the credit for investing in machinery and equipment, the credit for research and development, or the credit for investing in real property for a central administrative office if the jobs at the location with respect to which the credit is claimed meet the wage standard at the time the taxpayer applies for the credit. Jobs meet the wage standard if they pay an average weekly wage that is at least equal to the applicable percentage times the applicable average weekly wage for the county in which the jobs will be located, as computed by the Secretary of Commerce from data compiled by the Employment Security Commission for the most recent period for which data are available. The applicable percentage for jobs located in an enterprise tier one area is one hundred percent (100%). The applicable percentage for all other jobs is one hundred ten percent (110%). The applicable average weekly wage is the lowest of the following: (i) the average wage for all insured private employers in the county, (ii) the average wage for all insured private employers in the State, and (iii) the average wage for all insured private employers in the county multiplied by the county income/wage adjustment factor. The county income/wage adjustment factor is the county income/wage ratio divided by the State income/wage ratio. The county income/wage ratio is average per capita income in the county divided by the annualized average wage for all insured private employers in the county. The State income/wage ratio is the average per capita income in the State divided by the annualized average wage for all insured private employers in the State.

(b1) Large Investment. -- A taxpayer who is otherwise eligible for a tax credit under this Article becomes eligible for the large investment enhancements provided for credits under this Article if the Secretary of Commerce certifies that the taxpayer will purchase or lease, and place in service in connection with the eligible business within a two-year period, at least one hundred fifty million dollars ($150,000,000) worth of one or more of the following: real property, machinery and equipment, or central administrative office property. If the taxpayer fails to make the level of investment certified within this two-year period, the taxpayer forfeits the large investment enhancements as provided in subsection (d) of this section.

~~(c) Worker Training. -- A taxpayer is eligible for the tax credit for worker training only for training workers who occupy jobs for which the taxpayer is eligible to claim an installment of the credit for creating jobs or which are full-time positions at a location with respect to which the taxpayer is eligible to claim an installment of the credit for investing in machinery and equipment for the taxable year.~~

~~The credit for worker training is allowed only with respect to employees in positions not classified as exempt under the Fair Labor Standards Act, 29 U.S.C. § 213(a)(1) and for expenditures for training that would be eligible for expenditure or reimbursement under the Department of Community Colleges' New and Expanding Industry Program, as determined by guidelines adopted by the State Board of Community Colleges. The credit is not allowed for expenditures that are paid or reimbursed by the New and Expanding Industry Program. To establish eligibility, the taxpayer must obtain as part of the application process under G.S. 105-129.6 the certification of the Department of Community Colleges that the taxpayer's planned worker training would satisfy the requirements of this paragraph. A taxpayer shall apply to the Department of Community Colleges for this certification. The application must be on a form provided by the Department of Community Colleges, must provide a detailed plan of the worker training to be provided, and must contain any information required by the Department of Community Colleges to determine whether the requirements of this paragraph will be satisfied. If the Department of Community Colleges determines that the planned worker training meets the requirements of this paragraph, the Department of Community Colleges shall issue a certificate describing the location with respect to which the credit is claimed and~~

~~stating that the planned worker training meets the requirements of this paragraph. The State Board of Community Colleges may adopt rules in accordance with Chapter 150B of the General Statutes that are needed to carry out its responsibilities under this paragraph.~~

(d) Forfeiture. -- A taxpayer forfeits a credit allowed under this Article if the taxpayer was not eligible for the credit at the time the taxpayer applied for the credit. In addition, a taxpayer forfeits a large investment enhancement of a tax credit if the taxpayer fails to make the level of investment certified by the Secretary of Commerce under subsection (b1) of this section within the required two-year period. A taxpayer that forfeits a credit under this Article is liable for all past taxes avoided as a result of the credit plus interest at the rate established under G.S. 105-241.1(i), computed from the date the taxes would have been due if the credit had not been allowed. The past taxes and interest are due 30 days after the date the credit is forfeited; a taxpayer that fails to pay the past taxes and interest by the due date is subject to the penalties provided in G.S. 105-236. If a taxpayer forfeits the credit for creating jobs or the credit for investing in machinery and equipment, the taxpayer also forfeits any credit for worker training claimed for the jobs for which the credit for creating jobs was claimed or the jobs at the location with respect to which the credit for investing in machinery and equipment was claimed.

(e) Change in Ownership of Business. -- The sale, merger, acquisition, or bankruptcy of a business, or any ~~other~~ transaction by which an existing business reformulates itself as another business, does not create new eligibility in a succeeding business with respect to credits for which the predecessor was not eligible under this Article. A successor business may, however, take any installment of or carried-over portion of a credit that its predecessor could have taken if it had a tax liability. The acquisition of a business is a new investment that creates new eligibility in the acquiring taxpayer under this Article if any of the following conditions are met:

(1) The business closed before it was acquired.

(2) The business was required to file a notice of plant closing or mass layoff under the federal Worker Adjustment and Retraining Notification Act, 29 U.S.C. § 2102, before it was acquired.

(3) The business was acquired by its employees through an employee stock option transaction or another similar mechanism.

"§ 105-129.5. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Tax election; cap.

(a) Tax Election. -- The credits provided in this Article are allowed against the franchise tax levied in Article 3 of this Chapter and the income taxes levied in Article 4 of this Chapter. The credit for investing in central administrative office property provided in G.S. 105-129.12 is also allowed against the gross premiums tax levied in Article 8B of this Chapter. The taxpayer shall elect the tax against which a credit will be claimed when filing the return on which the first installment of the credit is claimed. This election is binding. Any carryforwards of the credit must be claimed against the same tax.

(b) Cap. -- The credits allowed under this Article may not exceed fifty percent (50%) of the tax against which they are claimed for the taxable year, reduced by the sum of all other credits allowed against that tax, except tax payments made by or on behalf of the taxpayer. This limitation applies to the cumulative amount of credit, including carryforwards, claimed by the taxpayer under this Article against each tax for the taxable year. Any unused portion of ~~the~~ a credit with respect to a large investment may be carried forward for the succeeding ~~five years.~~ 20 years. Any unused portion of any other credit may be carried forward for the succeeding five years.

"§ 105-129.6. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Application; reports.

(a) Application. -- To claim the credits allowed by this Article, the taxpayer must provide with the tax return the certification of the Secretary of Commerce that the taxpayer meets all of the eligibility requirements of G.S. 105-129.4 with respect to each credit. A taxpayer shall apply to the Secretary of Commerce for certification of eligibility. The application must be on a form provided by the Secretary of Commerce and must contain any information necessary for the Secretary of Commerce to determine whether the taxpayer meets the eligibility requirements. If the Secretary of Commerce determines that the taxpayer meets all of the eligibility requirements of G.S. 105-129.4 with respect to a credit, the Secretary shall issue a certificate describing the location with respect to which the credit is claimed, outlining the eligibility requirements for the credit, and stating that the taxpayer meets the eligibility requirements. If the Secretary of Commerce determines that the taxpayer does not meet all of the eligibility requirements of G.S. 105-129.4 with respect to a credit, the Secretary must advise the taxpayer in writing of the eligibility requirements the taxpayer fails to meet. The Secretary of Commerce may adopt rules in accordance with Chapter 150B of the General Statutes that are needed to carry out the Secretary of Commerce's responsibilities under this section.

(a1) Fee. -- When filing an application for certification under this section, the taxpayer must pay the Department of Commerce a fee of seventy-five dollars ($75.00). Fees collected under this subsection are receipts of the Department of Commerce.

(b) Reports. -- The Department of Commerce shall report to the Department of Revenue and to the Fiscal Research Division of the General Assembly by May 1 of each year the following information for the 12-month period ending the preceding April 1:

(1) The number of applications for each credit allowed in this Article.
(2) The number and enterprise tier area of new jobs with respect to which credits were applied for.
(3) The cost of machinery and equipment with respect to which credits were applied for.

"§ 105-129.7. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Substantiation.

To claim a credit allowed by this Article, the taxpayer must provide any information required by the Secretary of Revenue. Every taxpayer claiming a credit under this Article shall maintain and make available for inspection by the Secretary of Revenue any records the Secretary considers necessary to determine and verify the amount of the credit to which the taxpayer is entitled. The burden of proving eligibility for the credit and the amount of the credit shall rest upon the taxpayer, and no credit shall be allowed to a taxpayer that fails to maintain adequate records or to make them available for inspection.

"§ 105-129.8. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for creating jobs.

(a) Credit. -- A taxpayer that meets the eligibility requirements set out in G.S. 105-129.4, has five or more employees for at least 40 weeks during the taxable year, and hires an additional full-time employee during that year to fill a position located in this State is allowed a credit for creating a new full-time job. The amount of the credit for each new full-time job created is set out in the table below and is based on the enterprise tier of the area in which the position is ~~located.~~ located. In addition, if the position is located in a development zone, the amount of the credit is increased by four thousand dollars ($4,000) per job.

Area Enterprise Tier	Amount of Credit
Tier One	$12,500
Tier Two	4,000
Tier Three	3,000
Tier Four	1,000
Tier Five	500

A position is located in an area if more than fifty percent (50%) of the employee's duties are performed in the area. The credit may not be taken in the taxable year in which the additional employee is hired. Instead, the credit shall be taken in equal installments over the four years following the taxable year in which the additional employee was hired and shall be conditioned on the continued employment by the taxpayer of the number of full-time employees the taxpayer had upon hiring the employee that caused the taxpayer to qualify for the credit.

If, in one of the four years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the number of the taxpayer's full-time employees falls below the number of full-time employees the taxpayer had in the year in which the taxpayer qualified for the credit, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit. The taxpayer may, however, take the portion of an installment that accrued in a previous year and was carried forward to the extent permitted under G.S. 105-129.5.

Jobs transferred from one area in the State to another area in the State shall not be considered new jobs for purposes of this section. If, in one of the four years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the position filled by the employee is moved to an area in a higher- or lower-numbered enterprise tier, or is moved from a development zone to an area that is not a development zone, the remaining installments of the credit shall be calculated as if the position had been created initially in the area to which it was moved.

(b) Repealed by Session Laws 1989, c. 111, s. 1.

(b1), (c) Repealed by Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 3.3.

(d) Planned Expansion. -- A taxpayer that signs a letter of commitment with the Department of Commerce to create at least twenty new full-time jobs in a specific area within two years of the date the letter is signed qualifies for the credit in the amount allowed by this section based on the area's enterprise tier and development zone designation for that year even though the employees are not hired that year. The credit shall be available in the taxable year after at least twenty employees have been hired if the hirings are within the two-year commitment period. The conditions outlined in subsection (a) apply to a credit taken under this subsection except that if the area is redesignated to a higher-numbered enterprise tier or loses its development zone designation after the year the letter of commitment was signed, the credit is allowed based on the area's enterprise tier and development zone designation for the year the letter was signed. If the taxpayer does not hire the employees within the two-year period, the taxpayer does not qualify for the credit. However, if the taxpayer qualifies for a credit under subsection (a) in the year any new employees are hired, the taxpayer may take the credit under that subsection.

(e), (f) Repealed by Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 3.3 for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1996.

"§ 105-129.9. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for investing in machinery and equipment.

(a) Credit. -- If a taxpayer that has purchased or leased eligible machinery and equipment places it in service in this State during the taxable year, the taxpayer is allowed a credit equal to seven percent (7%) of the excess of the eligible investment amount over the applicable threshold. Machinery and equipment is eligible if is capitalized by the taxpayer for tax purposes under the Code and is not leased to another party. In addition, in the case of a large investment, machinery and equipment that is not capitalized by the taxpayer is eligible if the taxpayer leases it from another party. The credit may not be taken for the taxable year in which the equipment is placed in service but shall be taken in equal installments over the seven years following the taxable year in which the equipment is placed in service.

(b) Eligible Investment Amount. -- The eligible investment amount is the lesser of (i) the cost of the eligible machinery and equipment and (ii) the amount by which the cost of all of the taxpayer's eligible machinery and equipment that is in service in this State on the last day of the taxable year exceeds the cost of all of the taxpayer's eligible machinery and equipment that was in service in this State on the last day of the base year. The base year is that year, of the three immediately preceding taxable years, in which the taxpayer had the most eligible machinery and equipment in service in this State.

(c) Threshold. -- The applicable threshold is the appropriate amount set out in the following table based on the enterprise tier of the area where the eligible machinery and equipment are placed in service during the taxable year. If the taxpayer places eligible machinery and equipment in service in more than one area during the taxable year, the threshold applies separately to the eligible machinery and equipment placed in service in each area. If the taxpayer places eligible machinery and equipment in service in an area over the course of a two-year period, the applicable threshold for the second taxable year is reduced by the eligible investment amount for the previous taxable year.

Area Enterprise Tier	Threshold
Tier One	$ -0-

Tier Two	100,000
Tier Three	200,000
Tier Four	500,000
Tier Five	1,000,000

(d) Expiration. -- If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the machinery and equipment with respect to which the credit was claimed are disposed of, taken out of service, or moved out of State, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit. The taxpayer may, however, take the portion of an installment that accrued in a previous year and was carried forward to the extent permitted under G.S. 105-129.5.

If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the machinery and equipment with respect to which the credit was claimed are moved to an area in a higher-numbered enterprise tier, or are moved from a development zone to an area that is not a development zone, the remaining installments of the credit are allowed only to the extent they would have been allowed if the machinery and equipment had been placed in service initially in the area to which they were moved.

(e) Planned Expansion. -- A taxpayer that signs a letter of commitment with the Department of Commerce to place specific eligible machinery and equipment in service in an area within two years after the date the letter is signed may, in the year the eligible machinery and equipment are placed in service in that area, calculate the credit for which the taxpayer qualifies based on the area's enterprise tier and development zone designation for the year the letter was signed. All other conditions apply to the credit, but if the area has been redesignated to a higher-numbered enterprise tier or has lost its development zone designation after the year the letter of commitment was signed, the credit is allowed based on the area's enterprise tier and development zone designation for the year the letter was signed. If the taxpayer does not place part or all of the specified eligible machinery and equipment in service within the two-year period, the taxpayer does not qualify for the benefit of this subsection with respect to the machinery and equipment not placed in service within the two-year period. However, if the taxpayer qualifies for a credit in the year the eligible machinery and equipment are placed in service, the taxpayer may take the credit for that year as if no letter of commitment had been signed pursuant to this subsection.

"§ 105-129.10. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for research and development.

(a) General Credit. -- A taxpayer that claims for the taxable year a federal income tax credit under section ~~41~~ 41(a) of the Code for increasing research activities is allowed a credit equal to five percent (5%) of the State's apportioned share of the taxpayer's expenditures for increasing research activities. The State's apportioned share of a taxpayer's expenditures for increasing research activities is the excess of the taxpayer's qualified research expenses for the taxable year over the base amount, as determined under section 41 of the Code, multiplied by a percentage equal to the ratio of the taxpayer's qualified research expenses in this State for the taxable year to the taxpayer's total qualified research expenses for the taxable year.

(b) Alternative Credit. -- A taxpayer that claims the alternative incremental credit under section 41(c)(4) of the Code for increasing research activities is allowed a credit equal to twenty-five percent (25%) of the State's apportioned share of the federal credit claimed. The State's apportioned share of the federal credit claimed is the amount of the alternative incremental credit the taxpayer claimed under section 41(c)(4) of the Code for the taxable year multiplied by a percentage equal to the ratio of the taxpayer's qualified research expenses in this State for the taxable year to the taxpayer's total qualified research expenses for the taxable year. For the purpose of this subsection, the amount of the alternative incremental credit claimed by a taxpayer is determined without regard to any reduction elected under section 280C(c) of the Code.

(c) Definitions. -- As used in this section, the terms 'qualified research expenses' and 'base amount' have the meaning provided in section 41 of the Code.

"§ 105-129.11. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for worker training.

(a) Credit. -- A taxpayer that provides worker training for five or more of its eligible employees during the taxable year is allowed a credit equal to ~~fifty percent (50%) of its eligible expenditures for~~ the wages paid to the eligible employees during the training. Wages paid to an employee performing his or her job while being trained are not eligible for the credit. For positions located in an enterprise tier one area, the credit may not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) per employee trained during the taxable year. For other positions, the credit may not exceed five hundred dollars ($500.00) per employee trained during the taxable year. A position is located in an area if more than fifty percent (50%) of the employee's duties are performed in the area.

(b) Eligibility. -- ~~The eligibility of a taxpayer's expenditures and employees is determined as provided in G.S. 105-129.4.~~ An employee is eligible if the employee is in a full-time position not classified as exempt under the Fair Labor Standards Act, 29 U.S.C. § 213(a)(1) and meets one or more of the following conditions:

(1) The employee occupies a job for which the taxpayer is eligible to claim an installment of the credit for creating jobs.

(2) The employee is being trained to operate machinery and equipment for which the taxpayer is eligible to claim an installment of the credit for investing in machinery and equipment.

"§ 105-129.12. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for investing in central administrative office property.

(a) Credit. -- If a taxpayer that has purchased or leased real property in this State begins to use the property as a central administrative office during the taxable year, the taxpayer is allowed a credit equal to seven percent (7%) of the eligible investment amount. The eligible investment amount is the lesser of (i) the cost of the property and (ii) the amount by which the cost of all of the property the taxpayer is using in this State as central administrative offices on the last day of the taxable year exceeds the cost of all of the property the taxpayer was using in this State as central administrative offices on the last day of the base year. The base year is that year, of the three immediately preceding taxable years, in which the taxpayer was using the most property in this State as central administrative offices. In the case of property that is leased, the cost of the property is not determined as provided in G.S. 105-129.2 but is considered to be the taxpayer's lease payments over a seven-year period, plus any expenditures made by the taxpayer to improve the property before it is used as the taxpayer's central administrative office if the expenditures are not reimbursed or credited by the lessor. The maximum credit allowed a taxpayer under this section for property used as a central administrative office is five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000). The entire credit may not be taken for the taxable year in which the property is first used as a central administrative office but shall be taken in equal installments over the seven years following the taxable year in which the property is first used as a central administrative office. The basis in any real property for which a credit is allowed under this section shall be reduced by the amount of credit allowable.

(b) Mixed Use Property. -- If the taxpayer uses only part of the property as the taxpayer's central administrative office, the amount of the credit allowed under this section is reduced by multiplying it by a fraction the numerator of which is the square footage of the property used as the taxpayer's central administrative office and the denominator of which is the total square footage of the property.

(c) Expiration. -- If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the property with respect to which the credit was claimed is no longer used as a central administrative office, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit. If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, part of the property with respect to which the credit was claimed is no longer used as a central administrative office, the remaining installments of the credit shall be reduced by multiplying it by the fraction described in subsection (b) of this section. If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the total number of employees the taxpayer employs at all of its central administrative offices in this State drops by 40 or more, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit.

In each of these cases, the taxpayer may nonetheless take the portion of an installment that accrued in a previous year and was carried forward to the extent permitted under G.S. 105-129.5."

Section 2. G.S. 105-129.15(2) reads as rewritten:

(a) Credit. -- An owner that purchases or leases machinery and equipment for a major recycling facility in this State during the taxable year is allowed a credit equal to fifty percent (50%) of the amount payable by the owner during the taxable year to purchase or lease the machinery and equipment. An owner that purchases or leases machinery and equipment for a large recycling facility in this State during the taxable year is allowed a credit equal to twenty percent (20%) of the amount payable by the owner during the taxable year to purchase or lease the machinery and equipment.

(b) Taxes Credited. -- The credit provided in this section is allowed against the franchise tax levied in Article 3 of this Chapter and the income tax levied in Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter. Any other nonrefundable credits allowed the owner are subtracted before the credit allowed by this section.

(c) Carryforwards. -- The credit provided in this section may not exceed the amount of tax against which it is claimed for the taxable year, reduced by the sum of all other credits allowed against that tax, except tax payments made by or on behalf of the owner. Any unused portion of the credit may be carried forward for the succeeding 25 years.

(d) Change in Ownership of Facility. -- The sale, merger, acquisition, or bankruptcy of a recycling facility, or any transaction by which the facility is reformulated as another business, does not create new eligibility in a succeeding owner with respect to a credit for which the predecessor was not eligible under this section. A successor business may, however, take any carried-over portion of a credit that its predecessor could have taken if it had a tax liability.

(e) Forfeiture. -- If any machinery or equipment for which a credit was allowed under this section is not placed in service within 30 months after the credit was allowed, the credit is forfeited. A taxpayer that forfeits a credit under this section is liable for all past taxes avoided as a result of the credit plus interest at the rate established under G.S. 105-241.1(i), computed from the date the taxes would have been due if the credit had not been allowed. The past taxes and interest are due 30 days after the date the credit is forfeited; a taxpayer that fails to pay the past taxes and interest by the due date is subject to the penalties provided in G.S. 105-236.

(f) No Double Credit. -- A recycling facility that is eligible for the credit allowed in this section is not allowed the credit for investing in machinery and equipment provided in G.S. 105-129.9.

"§ 105-129.28. Credit for reinvestment.

(a) Credit. -- A major recycling facility that is accessible by neither ocean barge nor ship and that transports materials to the facility or products away from the facility is allowed a credit against the tax imposed by Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter equal to its additional transportation and transloading expenses incurred with respect to the materials and products due to its inability to use ocean barges or ships. The additional expenses for which credit is allowed are expenses due to using river barges and expenses due to having to use another mode of transportation because the quantity that is transported by river barge is insufficient to meet the facility's needs. In order to claim the credit allowed by this section, the facility must provide the Secretary of Commerce audited documentation of the amount of its additional transportation and transloading expenses incurred during the taxable year.

(b) Cap. -- The credit allowed to a major recycling facility under this section for the taxable year may not exceed the applicable annual cap provided in the following table:

Taxable Year	Cap
1998	$ 150,000
1999	$ 640,000

2000	$ 3,860,000
2001	$ 8,050,000
2002	$ 9,550,000
2003	$10,100,000
2004-2007	$10,400,000

(c) Reduction. -- For the first ten taxable years after the owner begins transporting materials and products to and from the major recycling facility, the credit allowed by this section must be reduced by the amount of credit allowed in previous years that was used for a purpose other than an allowable purpose under subsection (d) of this section, as certified by the Secretary of Commerce.

(d) Use of Credited Amount. -- For the first ten taxable years after the owner begins construction of the major recycling facility, the owner must use the amount of credit allowed under this section to pay for (i) investment in rail or roads associated with the facility, (ii) investment in water system infrastructure designed to reduce the expense of transporting materials and products to and from the recycling facility, and (iii) investment in land and infrastructure for other industrial sites located in the same county as the recycling facility. If the owner determines that there are no reasonable economic opportunities in a given year to use the total amount of credit for the expenditures described above, the owner may use the excess for investment at or in connection with the recycling facility above the initial required investment of three hundred million dollars ($300,000,000).

Expenses incurred for the purposes allowed in this subsection during a taxable year in the ten-year period may be counted toward a credit allowed in a later taxable year in the ten-year period. If the owner is not able to use the full amount of the credit during a taxable year for any of the purposes allowed by this subsection, the excess may be used for these purposes in subsequent taxable years.

The owner must provide the Secretary of Commerce with annual audited documentation demonstrating that the amount of credit received under this section during the previous twelve-month period has not been used for a purpose inconsistent with this subsection. If the Secretary of Commerce determines that the owner has used any of the credit for a purpose that is inconsistent with the requirements of this subsection, the Secretary of Commerce shall certify the amount so used to the Secretary of Revenue and the credit allowed the owner under this section for the following taxable year shall be reduced by that amount in accordance with subsection (c) of this section.

After the end of the ten-year period, the amount of any credit allowed under this section that has not yet been used may be used for investment at or in connection with the recycling facility above the initial required investment of three hundred million dollars ($300,000,000).

(e) Credit Refundable. -- If the credit allowed by this section exceeds the amount of tax imposed by Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowable, the Secretary shall refund the excess to the taxpayer. The refundable excess is governed by the provisions governing a refund of an overpayment by the taxpayer of the tax imposed in Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter. In computing the amount of tax against which multiple credits are allowed, nonrefundable credits are subtracted before refundable credits."

Section 13. G.S. 105-164.3 is amended by renumbering subdivision (8) as (7b) and adding a new subdivision to read:

"(8) Major recycling facility. -- Defined in G.S. 105-129.25."

Section 14. G.S. 105-164.4(a)(1d) is amended by adding a new sub-subdivision to read:

"j. Sales to a major recycling facility of the following tangible personal property for use in connection with the facility: cranes, structural steel crane support systems, foundations related to the cranes and support systems, port and dock facilities, rail equipment, and material handling equipment."

Section 15. G.S. 105-164.13 is amended by adding two new subdivisions to read:

"(10a) Sales to a major recycling facility of (i) lubricants and other additives for motor vehicles or machinery and equipment used at the facility and (ii) materials, supplies, parts, and accessories, other than machinery and equipment, that are not capitalized by the taxpayer and are used or consumed in the manufacturing and material handling processes at the facility.

(10b) Sales to a major recycling facility of electricity used at the facility."

Section 16. G.S. 105-164.14 is amended by adding a new subsection to read:

"(g) Major Recycling Facilities. -- The owner of a major recycling facility is allowed an annual refund of sales and use taxes paid by it under this Article on building materials, building supplies, fixtures, and equipment that become a part of the real property of the recycling facility. Liability incurred indirectly by the owner for sales and use taxes on these items is considered tax paid by the owner. A request for a refund must be in writing and must include any information and documentation required by the Secretary. A request for a refund is due within six months after the end of the major recycling facility's fiscal year. Refunds applied for after the due date are barred."

Section 17. G.S. 105-164.14(f) reads as rewritten:

"(f) Information to Counties. -- Upon written request of a county, the Secretary shall, within 30 days after the request, provide the designated county official a list of each claimant that has, within the past 12 months, received a refund under subsection ~~(b) or (e)~~ (b), (c), or (g) of this section of at least one thousand dollars ($1,000) of tax paid to the county. The list shall include the name and address of each claimant and the amount of the refund it has received from that county. Upon written request of a county, a claimant that has received a refund under subsection ~~(b) or (e)~~ (b), (c), or (g) of this section shall provide the designated county official a copy of the request for the refund and any supporting documentation requested by the county to verify the request. For the purpose of this subsection, the designated county official is the chair of the board of county commissioners or a county official designated in a resolution adopted by the board. Information provided to a county under this subsection is not a public record and may not be disclosed except in accordance with G.S. 153A-148.1. If a claimant determines that a refund it has received under subsection ~~(b) or (c)~~ (b), (c), or (g) of this section is incorrect, it shall file an amended request for the refund."

Section 18. G.S. 105-275(8) is amended by adding a new sub-subdivision to read:

"d. Real or personal property that is used or, if under construction, is to be used by a major recycling facility as defined in G.S. 105-129.25 predominantly for recycling or resource recovering of or from solid waste, if the Department of Environment and Natural Resources furnishes a certificate to the tax supervisor of the county in which the property is situated stating the Department of Environment and Natural Resources has found that the described property has been or will be constructed or installed for use by a major recycling facility, complies or will comply with the rules of the Department of Environment and Natural Resources, and has, or will have as a purpose recycling or resource recovering of or from solid waste."

Section 19. G.S. 105-129.28, as enacted by Section 12 of this act, is repealed effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2008. This section does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under G.S. 105-129.28 before the effective date of its repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under G.S. 105-129.28 before the effective date of its repeal.

The sole purpose of this ten-year sunset provision is to allow a determination to be made whether any major recycling facility continues to experience additional transportation and transloading expenses due to its inability to use ocean barges or ships to transport materials and products to and from the facility. It is the expectation and intent that the General Assembly will postpone the sunset of G.S. 105-129.28 if it is determined that, based on audited documentation submitted by a major recycling facility and verified by the Secretary of Commerce, that any major recycling facility continues to experience these additional transportation and transloading expenses as of 2008.

For all other purposes, a development zone has the same enterprise tier designation as the county in which it is located.

"§ 105-129.4. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Eligibility; forfeiture.

(a) Type of Business. -- A taxpayer is eligible for a credit allowed by G.S. 105-129.12 if the real property for which the credit is claimed is used for a central administrative office that creates at least 40 new jobs. A taxpayer is eligible for the other credits allowed by this Article if the taxpayer engages in one of the following types of businesses and the jobs with respect to which a credit is claimed are created in that business, the machinery and equipment with respect to which a credit is claimed are used in that business, and the research and development for which a credit is claimed are carried out as part of that business:

(1) Air courier services.
(2) Central administrative office that creates at least 40 new jobs.
(3) Data processing.
(4) ~~Manufacturing or processing.~~ Manufacturing.
(5) Warehousing or ~~distribution.~~ wholesale trade.

(a1) Central Administrative Office. -- A central administrative office creates at least 40 new jobs ~~if, during the taxable year the taxpayer first uses the property as a central administrative office,~~ if the taxpayer hires at least 40 additional full-time employees to fill new positions at the ~~office.~~ office either in the year the taxpayer first uses the property as a central administrative office or in the preceding 24 months while using temporary space for the central administrative office functions during completion of the administrative office property. Jobs transferred from one area in the State to another area in the State are not considered new jobs for purposes of this subsection.

(b) Wage Standard. -- A taxpayer is eligible for the credit for creating jobs or the credit for worker training if the jobs for which the credit is claimed meet the wage standard at the time the taxpayer applies for the credit. A taxpayer is eligible for the credit for investing in machinery and equipment, the credit for research and development, or the credit for investing in real property for a central administrative office if the jobs at the location with respect to which the credit is claimed meet the wage standard at the time the taxpayer applies for the credit. Jobs meet the wage standard if they pay an average weekly wage that is at least equal to the applicable percentage times the applicable average weekly wage for the county in which the jobs will be located, as computed by the Secretary of Commerce from data compiled by the Employment Security Commission for the most recent period for which data are available. The applicable percentage for jobs located in an enterprise tier one area is one hundred percent (100%). The applicable percentage for all other jobs is one hundred ten percent (110%). The applicable average weekly wage is the lowest of the following: (i) the average wage for all insured private employers in the county, (ii) the average wage for all insured private employers in the State, and (iii) the average wage for all insured private employers in the county multiplied by the county income/wage adjustment factor. The county income/wage adjustment factor is the county income/wage ratio divided by the State income/wage ratio. The county income/wage ratio is average per capita income in the county divided by the annualized average wage for all insured private employers in the county. The State income/wage ratio is the average per capita income in the State divided by the annualized average wage for all insured private employers in the State.

(b1) Large Investment. -- A taxpayer who is otherwise eligible for a tax credit under this Article becomes eligible for the large investment enhancements provided for credits under this Article if the Secretary of Commerce certifies that the taxpayer will purchase or lease, and place in service in connection with the eligible business within a two-year period, at least one hundred fifty million dollars ($150,000,000) worth of one or more of the following: real property, machinery and equipment, or central administrative office property. If the taxpayer fails to make the level of investment certified within this two-year period, the taxpayer forfeits the large investment enhancements as provided in subsection (d) of this section.

~~(c) Worker Training. -- A taxpayer is eligible for the tax credit for worker training only for training workers who occupy jobs for which the taxpayer is eligible to claim an installment of the credit for creating jobs or which are full-time positions at a location with respect to which the taxpayer is eligible to claim an installment of the credit for investing in machinery and equipment for the taxable year.~~

~~The credit for worker training is allowed only with respect to employees in positions not classified as exempt under the Fair Labor Standards Act, 29 U.S.C. § 213(a)(1) and for expenditures for training that would be eligible for expenditure or reimbursement under the Department of Community Colleges' New and Expanding Industry Program, as determined by guidelines adopted by the State Board of Community Colleges. The credit is not allowed for expenditures that are paid or reimbursed by the New and Expanding Industry Program. To establish eligibility, the taxpayer must obtain as part of the application process under G.S. 105-129.6 the certification of the Department of Community Colleges that the taxpayer's planned worker training would satisfy the requirements of this paragraph. A taxpayer shall apply to the Department of Community Colleges for this certification. The application must be on a form provided by the Department of Community Colleges, must provide a detailed plan of the worker training to be provided, and must contain any information required by the Department of Community Colleges to determine whether the requirements of this paragraph will be satisfied. If the Department of Community Colleges determines that the planned worker training meets the requirements of this paragraph, the Department of Community Colleges shall issue a certificate describing the location with respect to which the credit is claimed and~~

~~stating that the planned worker training meets the requirements of this paragraph. The State Board of Community Colleges may adopt rules in accordance with Chapter 150B of the General Statutes that are needed to carry out its responsibilities under this paragraph.~~

(d) Forfeiture. -- A taxpayer forfeits a credit allowed under this Article if the taxpayer was not eligible for the credit at the time the taxpayer applied for the credit. In addition, a taxpayer forfeits a large investment enhancement of a tax credit if the taxpayer fails to make the level of investment certified by the Secretary of Commerce under subsection (b1) of this section within the required two-year period. A taxpayer that forfeits a credit under this Article is liable for all past taxes avoided as a result of the credit plus interest at the rate established under G.S. 105-241.1(i), computed from the date the taxes would have been due if the credit had not been allowed. The past taxes and interest are due 30 days after the date the credit is forfeited; a taxpayer that fails to pay the past taxes and interest by the due date is subject to the penalties provided in G.S. 105-236. If a taxpayer forfeits the credit for creating jobs or the credit for investing in machinery and equipment, the taxpayer also forfeits any credit for worker training claimed for the jobs for which the credit for creating jobs was claimed or the jobs at the location with respect to which the credit for investing in machinery and equipment was claimed.

(e) Change in Ownership of Business. -- The sale, merger, acquisition, or bankruptcy of a business, or any ~~other~~ transaction by which an existing business reformulates itself as another business, does not create new eligibility in a succeeding business with respect to credits for which the predecessor was not eligible under this Article. A successor business may, however, take any installment of or carried-over portion of a credit that its predecessor could have taken if it had a tax liability. The acquisition of a business is a new investment that creates new eligibility in the acquiring taxpayer under this Article if any of the following conditions are met:

(1) The business closed before it was acquired.

(2) The business was required to file a notice of plant closing or mass layoff under the federal Worker Adjustment and Retraining Notification Act, 29 U.S.C. § 2102, before it was acquired.

(3) The business was acquired by its employees through an employee stock option transaction or another similar mechanism.

"§ 105-129.5. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Tax election; cap.

(a) Tax Election. -- The credits provided in this Article are allowed against the franchise tax levied in Article 3 of this Chapter and the income taxes levied in Article 4 of this Chapter. The credit for investing in central administrative office property provided in G.S. 105-129.12 is also allowed against the gross premiums tax levied in Article 8B of this Chapter. The taxpayer shall elect the tax against which a credit will be claimed when filing the return on which the first installment of the credit is claimed. This election is binding. Any carryforwards of the credit must be claimed against the same tax.

(b) Cap. -- The credits allowed under this Article may not exceed fifty percent (50%) of the tax against which they are claimed for the taxable year, reduced by the sum of all other credits allowed against that tax, except tax payments made by or on behalf of the taxpayer. This limitation applies to the cumulative amount of credit, including carryforwards, claimed by the taxpayer under this Article against each tax for the taxable year. Any unused portion of ~~the~~ a credit with respect to a large investment may be carried forward for the succeeding ~~five years.~~ 20 years. Any unused portion of any other credit may be carried forward for the succeeding five years.

"§ 105-129.6. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Application; reports.

(a) Application. -- To claim the credits allowed by this Article, the taxpayer must provide with the tax return the certification of the Secretary of Commerce that the taxpayer meets all of the eligibility requirements of G.S. 105-129.4 with respect to each credit. A taxpayer shall apply to the Secretary of Commerce for certification of eligibility. The application must be on a form provided by the Secretary of Commerce and must contain any information necessary for the Secretary of Commerce to determine whether the taxpayer meets the eligibility requirements. If the Secretary of Commerce determines that the taxpayer meets all of the eligibility requirements of G.S. 105-129.4 with respect to a credit, the Secretary shall issue a certificate describing the location with respect to which the credit is claimed, outlining the eligibility requirements for the credit, and stating that the taxpayer meets the eligibility requirements. If the Secretary of Commerce determines that the taxpayer does not meet all of the eligibility requirements of G.S. 105-129.4 with respect to a credit, the Secretary must advise the taxpayer in writing of the eligibility requirements the taxpayer fails to meet. The Secretary of Commerce may adopt rules in accordance with Chapter 150B of the General Statutes that are needed to carry out the Secretary of Commerce's responsibilities under this section.

(a1) Fee. -- When filing an application for certification under this section, the taxpayer must pay the Department of Commerce a fee of seventy-five dollars ($75.00). Fees collected under this subsection are receipts of the Department of Commerce.

(b) Reports. -- The Department of Commerce shall report to the Department of Revenue and to the Fiscal Research Division of the General Assembly by May 1 of each year the following information for the 12-month period ending the preceding April 1:

(1) The number of applications for each credit allowed in this Article.
(2) The number and enterprise tier area of new jobs with respect to which credits were applied for.
(3) The cost of machinery and equipment with respect to which credits were applied for.

"§ 105-129.7. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Substantiation.

To claim a credit allowed by this Article, the taxpayer must provide any information required by the Secretary of Revenue. Every taxpayer claiming a credit under this Article shall maintain and make available for inspection by the Secretary of Revenue any records the Secretary considers necessary to determine and verify the amount of the credit to which the taxpayer is entitled. The burden of proving eligibility for the credit and the amount of the credit shall rest upon the taxpayer, and no credit shall be allowed to a taxpayer that fails to maintain adequate records or to make them available for inspection.

"§ 105-129.8. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for creating jobs.

(a) Credit. -- A taxpayer that meets the eligibility requirements set out in G.S. 105-129.4, has five or more employees for at least 40 weeks during the taxable year, and hires an additional full-time employee during that year to fill a position located in this State is allowed a credit for creating a new full-time job. The amount of the credit for each new full-time job created is set out in the table below and is based on the enterprise tier of the area in which the position is ~~located.~~ located. In addition, if the position is located in a development zone, the amount of the credit is increased by four thousand dollars ($4,000) per job.

Area Enterprise Tier	Amount of Credit
Tier One	$12,500
Tier Two	4,000
Tier Three	3,000
Tier Four	1,000
Tier Five	500

A position is located in an area if more than fifty percent (50%) of the employee's duties are performed in the area. The credit may not be taken in the taxable year in which the additional employee is hired. Instead, the credit shall be taken in equal installments over the four years following the taxable year in which the additional employee was hired and shall be conditioned on the continued employment by the taxpayer of the number of full-time employees the taxpayer had upon hiring the employee that caused the taxpayer to qualify for the credit.

If, in one of the four years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the number of the taxpayer's full-time employees falls below the number of full-time employees the taxpayer had in the year in which the taxpayer qualified for the credit, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit. The taxpayer may, however, take the portion of an installment that accrued in a previous year and was carried forward to the extent permitted under G.S. 105-129.5.

Jobs transferred from one area in the State to another area in the State shall not be considered new jobs for purposes of this section. If, in one of the four years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the position filled by the employee is moved to an area in a higher- or lower-numbered enterprise tier, or is moved from a development zone to an area that is not a development zone, the remaining installments of the credit shall be calculated as if the position had been created initially in the area to which it was moved.

(b) Repealed by Session Laws 1989, c. 111, s. 1.

(b1), (c) Repealed by Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 3.3.

(d) Planned Expansion. -- A taxpayer that signs a letter of commitment with the Department of Commerce to create at least twenty new full-time jobs in a specific area within two years of the date the letter is signed qualifies for the credit in the amount allowed by this section based on the area's enterprise tier and development zone designation for that year even though the employees are not hired that year. The credit shall be available in the taxable year after at least twenty employees have been hired if the hirings are within the two-year commitment period. The conditions outlined in subsection (a) apply to a credit taken under this subsection except that if the area is redesignated to a higher-numbered enterprise tier or loses its development zone designation after the year the letter of commitment was signed, the credit is allowed based on the area's enterprise tier and development zone designation for the year the letter was signed. If the taxpayer does not hire the employees within the two-year period, the taxpayer does not qualify for the credit. However, if the taxpayer qualifies for a credit under subsection (a) in the year any new employees are hired, the taxpayer may take the credit under that subsection.

(e), (f) Repealed by Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 3.3 for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1996.

"§ 105-129.9. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for investing in machinery and equipment.

(a) Credit. -- If a taxpayer that has purchased or leased eligible machinery and equipment places it in service in this State during the taxable year, the taxpayer is allowed a credit equal to seven percent (7%) of the excess of the eligible investment amount over the applicable threshold. Machinery and equipment is eligible if is capitalized by the taxpayer for tax purposes under the Code and is not leased to another party. In addition, in the case of a large investment, machinery and equipment that is not capitalized by the taxpayer is eligible if the taxpayer leases it from another party. The credit may not be taken for the taxable year in which the equipment is placed in service but shall be taken in equal installments over the seven years following the taxable year in which the equipment is placed in service.

(b) Eligible Investment Amount. -- The eligible investment amount is the lesser of (i) the cost of the eligible machinery and equipment and (ii) the amount by which the cost of all of the taxpayer's eligible machinery and equipment that is in service in this State on the last day of the taxable year exceeds the cost of all of the taxpayer's eligible machinery and equipment that was in service in this State on the last day of the base year. The base year is that year, of the three immediately preceding taxable years, in which the taxpayer had the most eligible machinery and equipment in service in this State.

(c) Threshold. -- The applicable threshold is the appropriate amount set out in the following table based on the enterprise tier of the area where the eligible machinery and equipment are placed in service during the taxable year. If the taxpayer places eligible machinery and equipment in service in more than one area during the taxable year, the threshold applies separately to the eligible machinery and equipment placed in service in each area. If the taxpayer places eligible machinery and equipment in service in an area over the course of a two-year period, the applicable threshold for the second taxable year is reduced by the eligible investment amount for the previous taxable year.

Area Enterprise Tier	Threshold
Tier One	$ -0-

Tier Two	100,000
Tier Three	200,000
Tier Four	500,000
Tier Five	1,000,000

(d) Expiration. -- If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the machinery and equipment with respect to which the credit was claimed are disposed of, taken out of service, or moved out of State, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit. The taxpayer may, however, take the portion of an installment that accrued in a previous year and was carried forward to the extent permitted under G.S. 105-129.5.

If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the machinery and equipment with respect to which the credit was claimed are moved to an area in a higher-numbered enterprise tier, or are moved from a development zone to an area that is not a development zone, the remaining installments of the credit are allowed only to the extent they would have been allowed if the machinery and equipment had been placed in service initially in the area to which they were moved.

(e) Planned Expansion. -- A taxpayer that signs a letter of commitment with the Department of Commerce to place specific eligible machinery and equipment in service in an area within two years after the date the letter is signed may, in the year the eligible machinery and equipment are placed in service in that area, calculate the credit for which the taxpayer qualifies based on the area's enterprise tier and development zone designation for the year the letter was signed. All other conditions apply to the credit, but if the area has been redesignated to a higher-numbered enterprise tier or has lost its development zone designation after the year the letter of commitment was signed, the credit is allowed based on the area's enterprise tier and development zone designation for the year the letter was signed. If the taxpayer does not place part or all of the specified eligible machinery and equipment in service within the two-year period, the taxpayer does not qualify for the benefit of this subsection with respect to the machinery and equipment not placed in service within the two-year period. However, if the taxpayer qualifies for a credit in the year the eligible machinery and equipment are placed in service, the taxpayer may take the credit for that year as if no letter of commitment had been signed pursuant to this subsection.

"§ 105-129.10. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for research and development.

(a) General Credit. -- A taxpayer that claims for the taxable year a federal income tax credit under section ~~41~~ 41(a) of the Code for increasing research activities is allowed a credit equal to five percent (5%) of the State's apportioned share of the taxpayer's expenditures for increasing research activities. The State's apportioned share of a taxpayer's expenditures for increasing research activities is the excess of the taxpayer's qualified research expenses for the taxable year over the base amount, as determined under section 41 of the Code, multiplied by a percentage equal to the ratio of the taxpayer's qualified research expenses in this State for the taxable year to the taxpayer's total qualified research expenses for the taxable year.

(b) Alternative Credit. -- A taxpayer that claims the alternative incremental credit under section 41(c)(4) of the Code for increasing research activities is allowed a credit equal to twenty-five percent (25%) of the State's apportioned share of the federal credit claimed. The State's apportioned share of the federal credit claimed is the amount of the alternative incremental credit the taxpayer claimed under section 41(c)(4) of the Code for the taxable year multiplied by a percentage equal to the ratio of the taxpayer's qualified research expenses in this State for the taxable year to the taxpayer's total qualified research expenses for the taxable year. For the purpose of this subsection, the amount of the alternative incremental credit claimed by a taxpayer is determined without regard to any reduction elected under section 280C(c) of the Code.

(c) Definitions. -- As used in this section, the terms 'qualified research expenses' and 'base amount' have the meaning provided in section 41 of the Code.

"§ 105-129.11. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for worker training.

(a) Credit. -- A taxpayer that provides worker training for five or more of its eligible employees during the taxable year is allowed a credit equal to ~~fifty percent (50%) of its eligible expenditures for~~ the wages paid to the eligible employees during the training. Wages paid to an employee performing his or her job while being trained are not eligible for the credit. For positions located in an enterprise tier one area, the credit may not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) per employee trained during the taxable year. For other positions, the credit may not exceed five hundred dollars ($500.00) per employee trained during the taxable year. A position is located in an area if more than fifty percent (50%) of the employee's duties are performed in the area.

(b) Eligibility. -- ~~The eligibility of a taxpayer's expenditures and employees is determined as provided in G.S. 105-129.4.~~ An employee is eligible if the employee is in a full-time position not classified as exempt under the Fair Labor Standards Act, 29 U.S.C. § 213(a)(1) and meets one or more of the following conditions:

(1) The employee occupies a job for which the taxpayer is eligible to claim an installment of the credit for creating jobs.

(2) The employee is being trained to operate machinery and equipment for which the taxpayer is eligible to claim an installment of the credit for investing in machinery and equipment.

"§ 105-129.12. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for investing in central administrative office property.

(a) Credit. -- If a taxpayer that has purchased or leased real property in this State begins to use the property as a central administrative office during the taxable year, the taxpayer is allowed a credit equal to seven percent (7%) of the eligible investment amount. The eligible investment amount is the lesser of (i) the cost of the property and (ii) the amount by which the cost of all of the property the taxpayer is using in this State as central administrative offices on the last day of the taxable year exceeds the cost of all of the property the taxpayer was using in this State as central administrative offices on the last day of the base year. The base year is that year, of the three immediately preceding taxable years, in which the taxpayer was using the most property in this State as central administrative offices. In the case of property that is leased, the cost of the property is not determined as provided in G.S. 105-129.2 but is considered to be the taxpayer's lease payments over a seven-year period, plus any expenditures made by the taxpayer to improve the property before it is used as the taxpayer's central administrative office if the expenditures are not reimbursed or credited by the lessor. The maximum credit allowed a taxpayer under this section for property used as a central administrative office is five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000). The entire credit may not be taken for the taxable year in which the property is first used as a central administrative office but shall be taken in equal installments over the seven years following the taxable year in which the property is first used as a central administrative office. The basis in any real property for which a credit is allowed under this section shall be reduced by the amount of credit allowable.

(b) Mixed Use Property. -- If the taxpayer uses only part of the property as the taxpayer's central administrative office, the amount of the credit allowed under this section is reduced by multiplying it by a fraction the numerator of which is the square footage of the property used as the taxpayer's central administrative office and the denominator of which is the total square footage of the property.

(c) Expiration. -- If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the property with respect to which the credit was claimed is no longer used as a central administrative office, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit. If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, part of the property with respect to which the credit was claimed is no longer used as a central administrative office, the remaining installments of the credit shall be reduced by multiplying it by the fraction described in subsection (b) of this section. If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the total number of employees the taxpayer employs at all of its central administrative offices in this State drops by 40 or more, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit.

In each of these cases, the taxpayer may nonetheless take the portion of an installment that accrued in a previous year and was carried forward to the extent permitted under G.S. 105-129.5."

Section 2. G.S. 105-129.15(2) reads as rewritten:

"(2) Cost. -- ~~Determined~~ In the case of property owned by the taxpayer, cost is determined pursuant to regulations adopted under section 1012 of the Code, subject to the limitation on cost provided in section 179 of the Code. In the case of property the taxpayer leases from another, cost is value as determined pursuant to G.S. 105-130.4(j)(2)."

Section 3. G.S. 143B-437.04 reads as rewritten:

(b) In order to qualify for the benefits of this section, after an area is designated a development zone under G.S. 105-129.3A, the governing body of the city in which the zone is located must adopt a strategy to improve the zone and establish a development zone committee to oversee the strategy. The strategy and the committee must conform with requirements established by the Secretary of Commerce."

"§ 105-129.26. Qualification; forfeiture.

(a) Major Recycling Facility. -- A recycling facility qualifies for the tax benefits provided in this Article and in Article 5 of this Chapter for major recycling facilities if it meets all of the following conditions:

(1) The facility is located in an area that, at the time the owner began construction of the facility, was an enterprise tier one area pursuant to G.S. 105-129.3.

(2) The Secretary of Commerce has certified that the owner will, by the end of the fourth year after the year the owner begins construction of the recycling facility, invest at least three hundred million dollars ($300,000,000) in the facility and create at least 250 new, full-time jobs at the facility.

Forfeiture does not occur, however, if the failure was due to events beyond the owner's control. Upon forfeiture of tax benefits previously received, the owner is liable under Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter for a tax equal to the amount of all past taxes under Articles 3, 4, and 5 previously avoided as a result of the tax benefits received plus interest at the rate established in G.S. 105-241.1(i), computed from the date the taxes would have been due if the tax benefits had not been received. (d) Substantiation. -- To claim a credit allowed by this Article, the owner must provide any information required by the Secretary of Revenue. (e) Reports. -- The Department of Commerce shall report to the Fiscal Research Division of the General Assembly by May 1 of each year the following information for the 12-month period ending the preceding April 1:

"§ 105-129.27. Credit for investing in large or major recycling facility.

(a) Credit. -- An owner that purchases or leases machinery and equipment for a major recycling facility in this State during the taxable year is allowed a credit equal to fifty percent (50%) of the amount payable by the owner during the taxable year to purchase or lease the machinery and equipment. An owner that purchases or leases machinery and equipment for a large recycling facility in this State during the taxable year is allowed a credit equal to twenty percent (20%) of the amount payable by the owner during the taxable year to purchase or lease the machinery and equipment.

(b) Taxes Credited. -- The credit provided in this section is allowed against the franchise tax levied in Article 3 of this Chapter and the income tax levied in Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter. Any other nonrefundable credits allowed the owner are subtracted before the credit allowed by this section.

(c) Carryforwards. -- The credit provided in this section may not exceed the amount of tax against which it is claimed for the taxable year, reduced by the sum of all other credits allowed against that tax, except tax payments made by or on behalf of the owner. Any unused portion of the credit may be carried forward for the succeeding 25 years.

(d) Change in Ownership of Facility. -- The sale, merger, acquisition, or bankruptcy of a recycling facility, or any transaction by which the facility is reformulated as another business, does not create new eligibility in a succeeding owner with respect to a credit for which the predecessor was not eligible under this section. A successor business may, however, take any carried-over portion of a credit that its predecessor could have taken if it had a tax liability.

(e) Forfeiture. -- If any machinery or equipment for which a credit was allowed under this section is not placed in service within 30 months after the credit was allowed, the credit is forfeited. A taxpayer that forfeits a credit under this section is liable for all past taxes avoided as a result of the credit plus interest at the rate established under G.S. 105-241.1(i), computed from the date the taxes would have been due if the credit had not been allowed. The past taxes and interest are due 30 days after the date the credit is forfeited; a taxpayer that fails to pay the past taxes and interest by the due date is subject to the penalties provided in G.S. 105-236.

(f) No Double Credit. -- A recycling facility that is eligible for the credit allowed in this section is not allowed the credit for investing in machinery and equipment provided in G.S. 105-129.9.

"§ 105-129.28. Credit for reinvestment.

(a) Credit. -- A major recycling facility that is accessible by neither ocean barge nor ship and that transports materials to the facility or products away from the facility is allowed a credit against the tax imposed by Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter equal to its additional transportation and transloading expenses incurred with respect to the materials and products due to its inability to use ocean barges or ships. The additional expenses for which credit is allowed are expenses due to using river barges and expenses due to having to use another mode of transportation because the quantity that is transported by river barge is insufficient to meet the facility's needs. In order to claim the credit allowed by this section, the facility must provide the Secretary of Commerce audited documentation of the amount of its additional transportation and transloading expenses incurred during the taxable year.

(b) Cap. -- The credit allowed to a major recycling facility under this section for the taxable year may not exceed the applicable annual cap provided in the following table:

Taxable Year	Cap
1998	$ 150,000
1999	$ 640,000
2000	$ 3,860,000
2001	$ 8,050,000

2002	$ 9,550,000

2004-2007	$10,400,000

(c) Reduction. -- For the first ten taxable years after the owner begins transporting materials and products to and from the major recycling facility, the credit allowed by this section must be reduced by the amount of credit allowed in previous years that was used for a purpose other than an allowable purpose under subsection (d) of this section, as certified by the Secretary of Commerce.

(d) Use of Credited Amount. -- For the first ten taxable years after the owner begins construction of the major recycling facility, the owner must use the amount of credit allowed under this section to pay for (i) investment in rail or roads associated with the facility, (ii) investment in water system infrastructure designed to reduce the expense of transporting materials and products to and from the recycling facility, and (iii) investment in land and infrastructure for other industrial sites located in the same county as the recycling facility. If the owner determines that there are no reasonable economic opportunities in a given year to use the total amount of credit for the expenditures described above, the owner may use the excess for investment at or in connection with the recycling facility above the initial required investment of three hundred million dollars ($300,000,000).

Expenses incurred for the purposes allowed in this subsection during a taxable year in the ten-year period may be counted toward a credit allowed in a later taxable year in the ten-year period. If the owner is not able to use the full amount of the credit during a taxable year for any of the purposes allowed by this subsection, the excess may be used for these purposes in subsequent taxable years.

The owner must provide the Secretary of Commerce with annual audited documentation demonstrating that the amount of credit received under this section during the previous twelve-month period has not been used for a purpose inconsistent with this subsection. If the Secretary of Commerce determines that the owner has used any of the credit for a purpose that is inconsistent with the requirements of this subsection, the Secretary of Commerce shall certify the amount so used to the Secretary of Revenue and the credit allowed the owner under this section for the following taxable year shall be reduced by that amount in accordance with subsection (c) of this section.

After the end of the ten-year period, the amount of any credit allowed under this section that has not yet been used may be used for investment at or in connection with the recycling facility above the initial required investment of three hundred million dollars ($300,000,000).

(e) Credit Refundable. -- If the credit allowed by this section exceeds the amount of tax imposed by Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowable, the Secretary shall refund the excess to the taxpayer. The refundable excess is governed by the provisions governing a refund of an overpayment by the taxpayer of the tax imposed in Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter. In computing the amount of tax against which multiple credits are allowed, nonrefundable credits are subtracted before refundable credits."

Section 13. G.S. 105-164.3 is amended by renumbering subdivision (8) as (7b) and adding a new subdivision to read:

"(8) Major recycling facility. -- Defined in G.S. 105-129.25."

Section 14. G.S. 105-164.4(a)(1d) is amended by adding a new sub-subdivision to read:

"j. Sales to a major recycling facility of the following tangible personal property for use in connection with the facility: cranes, structural steel crane support systems, foundations related to the cranes and support systems, port and dock facilities, rail equipment, and material handling equipment."

Section 15. G.S. 105-164.13 is amended by adding two new subdivisions to read:

"(10a) Sales to a major recycling facility of (i) lubricants and other additives for motor vehicles or machinery and equipment used at the facility and (ii) materials, supplies, parts, and accessories, other than machinery and equipment, that are not capitalized by the taxpayer and are used or consumed in the manufacturing and material handling processes at the facility.

(10b) Sales to a major recycling facility of electricity used at the facility."

Section 16. G.S. 105-164.14 is amended by adding a new subsection to read:

"(g) Major Recycling Facilities. -- The owner of a major recycling facility is allowed an annual refund of sales and use taxes paid by it under this Article on building materials, building supplies, fixtures, and equipment that become a part of the real property of the recycling facility. Liability incurred indirectly by the owner for sales and use taxes on these items is considered tax paid by the owner. A request for a refund must be in writing and must include any information and documentation required by the Secretary. A request for a refund is due within six months after the end of the major recycling facility's fiscal year. Refunds applied for after the due date are barred."

Section 17. G.S. 105-164.14(f) reads as rewritten:

"(f) Information to Counties. -- Upon written request of a county, the Secretary shall, within 30 days after the request, provide the designated county official a list of each claimant that has, within the past 12 months, received a refund under subsection ~~(b) or (c)~~ (b), (c), or (g) of this section of at least one thousand dollars ($1,000) of tax paid to the county. The list shall include the name and address of each claimant and the amount of the refund it has received from that county. Upon written request of a county, a claimant that has received a refund under subsection ~~(b) or (c)~~ (b), (c), or (g) of this section shall provide the designated county official a copy of the request for the refund and any supporting documentation requested by the county to verify the request. For the purpose of this subsection, the designated county official is the chair of the board of county commissioners or a county official designated in a resolution adopted by the board. Information provided to a county under this subsection is not a public record and may not be disclosed except in accordance with G.S. 153A-148.1. If a claimant determines that a refund it has received under subsection ~~(b) or (c)~~ (b), (c), or (g) of this section is incorrect, it shall file an amended request for the refund."

Section 18. G.S. 105-275(8)b. reads as rewritten:

"b. Real or personal property that is used or, if under construction, is to be used ~~exclusively~~ predominantly for recycling or resource recovering of or from solid waste, if the Department of Environment and Natural Resources furnishes a certificate to the tax supervisor of the county in which the property is situated stating the Department of Environment and Natural Resources has found that the described property has been or will be constructed or installed, complies or will comply with the rules of the Department of Environment and Natural Resources, and has, or will have as ~~its primary~~ a purpose recycling or resource recovering of or from solid waste."

Section 19. G.S. 105-129.28, as enacted by Section 12 of this act, is repealed effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2008. This section does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under G.S. 105-129.28 before the effective date of its repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under G.S. 105-129.28 before the effective date of its repeal.

The sole purpose of this ten-year sunset provision is to allow a determination to be made whether any major recycling facility continues to experience additional transportation and transloading expenses due to its inability to use ocean barges or ships to transport materials and products to and from the facility. It is the expectation and intent that the General Assembly will postpone the sunset of G.S. 105-129.28 if it is determined that, based on audited documentation submitted by a major recycling facility and verified by the Secretary of Commerce, that any major recycling facility continues to experience these additional transportation and transloading expenses as of 2008.

RE: SB1565

There was some question raised concerning the financing of the Fed Ex facility at the Piedmont Triad Airport yesterday.

For clarification, I have attached a letter from the in-house tax counsel for Fed Ex, along with a letter from Edward A. Johnson, Executive Director of the Piedmont Triad Airport Authority.

I hope this clarifies the issue.

RE: Financing for Federal Express Corporation's North Carolina Hub

Dear Ashley and Sandy:

The Piedmont Triad Airport Authority (the "Authority") will issue approximately $300 million of tax-exempt "special purpose facility" revenue bonds to provide the costs of constructing and equipping the cargo handling facility. Federal Express Corporation ("FedEx") will enter into an agreement with the Authority to lease the facility for operation. The bonds will provide that they are limited obligations of the Authority, payable solely from the lease payments received by the Authority from the leasing of the facility. Under the terms of the lease, FedEx will be obligated to make lease payments sufficient to cover all debt service on the special purpose facility bonds. The bonds will not be payable from general airport revenues. In the marketplace, the bonds will be offered and sold on the basis of the FedEx obligations under the lease agreement, and not based upon the general credit of the Authority. Although the special purpose facility bonds technically are not industrial revenue bonds, conceptually they will work the same as industrial revenue bonds.

Very truly yours,

Mr. Martin Johnson
North Carolina Department of Commerce
301 N. Wilmington Street

Raleigh, NC 27626

Dear Martin:

Based on our discussions with FedEx, it is contemplated that the Authority will issue Special Purpose Facility Revenue Bonds to help finance the construction and equipping of the FedEx Hub facility at the Airport. The Special Purpose Facility Revenue Bonds will be backed by the credit of FedEx, which will pay project rent under its lease with the Authority in the amount necessary to pay the debt service on the bonds as it becomes due. The bonds will not constitute a general obligation of the Authority and will be payable solely from the project rents. The term of the lease would coincide with the period the bonds are outstanding and would be approximately 25 years, based on present projections.

The Authority would hold legal title to the land to be leased to FedEx and to the facilities to be financed with the Special Purpose Facility Revenue Bonds.

Sincerely,

PIEMDONT TRIAD AIRPORT AUTHORITY

Federal Express and the Workforce

- Federal Express was honored by the state of Tennessee for hiring 200 people off the welfare rolls in the last two years. Gov. Don Sundquist presented the Families First Large Employer of the Year award to Federal Express during a Families First "Best Practice" conference in Gatlinburg on June 9.

- Of the new Families First employees, 20 percent have already received promotions. The retention rate of these employees has been high: 62 percent.

- The annual starting salary for part-time employees at the Mid-Atlantic hub will be $9 an hour. Part-time employees receive the same benefits as full-time workers: full health, dental and vision insurance; 401(k) and pension plans; and up to $2,000 a year in college tuition reimbursement.

- All employees are guaranteed 17.5 hours a week, and the company is one of the few in the nation to offer a "no layoff" policy.

- The annual salary and benefits package for a part-time employee who works the minimum number of hours (at $9 an hour, with two weeks off for vacation) would total $11,812. If he or she averaged 25 hours a week, the annual total would be $16,875.

- Fortune and Mother Jones magazines have both named Federal Express one of the 20 best companies to work for in America. A book, The 100 Best Companies to Work for in America, placed Federal Express on its lists for "10 Best Overall Companies," "10 Best for Job Security," "10 Best for Women," and "10 Best for Minorities." The National Minority Business Council awarded the company its "Outstanding Corporate Support Award" in 1996.

- At each Federal Express hub, employees manage their own volunteer office, through which they coordinate thousands of hours of community service to organizations such as the March of Dimes, the United Way, and the Toys for Tots program at Christmas.

- Employees have the privilege of riding in the "jump seat" on company planes free of charge for both business and personal travel.

- When a cargo airplane is added to the FedEx fleet, employees have an opportunity to name it by submitting their children's names for a drawing.

- Dr. G. Donald Jud Jr., a professor at the Bryan School of Business at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro, estimates that the Mid-Atlantic hub will add more than 2,500 jobs, $51 million in annual salaries, and $4.1 million to the state and local tax bases. By 2013, the new hub will have had a $2.4 billion impact on the Triad.

(2) The county's rank in a ranking of counties by average per capita income from highest to lowest, for the preceding three years.

(3) The county's rank in a ranking of counties by percentage growth in population from highest to lowest.

The Secretary of Commerce shall then rank all the counties within the State according to their enterprise factor from highest to lowest, identify all the areas of the State by enterprise tier, and provide this information to the Secretary of Revenue. An enterprise tier designation is effective only for the calendar year following the designation.

In measuring rates of unemployment and per capita income, the Secretary shall use the latest available data published by a State or federal agency generally recognized as having expertise concerning the data. In measuring population growth, the Secretary shall use the most recent estimates of population certified by the State Planning Officer.

(c) Exception for Enterprise Tier One Areas. -- Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, an enterprise tier one area may not be redesignated as a higher-numbered enterprise tier area until it has been an enterprise tier one area for at least two consecutive years.

(2) It has a population of 1,000 or more according to the most recent annual population estimates certified by the State Planning Officer.

(3) More than twenty percent (20%) of its population is below the poverty level according to the most recent federal decennial census.

(b) Designation. -- Upon request of a taxpayer or a local government, the Secretary of Commerce shall designate whether an area is a development zone that meets the conditions of subsection (a) of this section. A development zone designation is effective for 48 months following the designation.

(c) Relationship With Enterprise Tiers. -- For the purpose of the wage standard requirement of G.S. 105-129.3(b), the credit for investing in machinery and equipment allowed in G.S. 105-129.9, and the credit for worker training allowed in G.S. 105-129.11, a development zone is considered an enterprise tier one area. For all other purposes, a development zone has the same enterprise tier designation as the county in which it is located.

"§ 105-129.4. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Eligibility; forfeiture.

(a) Type of Business. -- A taxpayer is eligible for a credit allowed by G.S. 105-129.12 if the real property for which the credit is claimed is used for a central administrative office that creates at least 40 new jobs. A taxpayer is eligible for the other credits allowed by this Article if the taxpayer engages in one of the following types of businesses and the jobs with respect to which a credit is claimed are created in that business, the machinery and equipment with respect to which a credit is claimed are used in that business, and the research and development for which a credit is claimed are carried out as part of that business:

(1) Air courier services.
(2) Central administrative office that creates at least 40 new jobs.
(3) Data processing.
(4) ~~Manufacturing or processing.~~ Manufacturing.
(5) Warehousing or ~~distribution.~~ wholesale trade.

(a1) Central Administrative Office. -- A central administrative office creates at least 40 new jobs ~~if, during the taxable year the taxpayer first uses the property as a central administrative office,~~ if the taxpayer hires at least 40 additional full-time employees to fill new positions at the ~~office.~~ office either in the year the taxpayer first uses the property as a central administrative office or in the preceding 24 months while using temporary space for the central administrative office functions during completion of the administrative office property. Jobs transferred from one area in the State to another area in the State are not considered new jobs for purposes of this subsection.

(b) Wage Standard. -- A taxpayer is eligible for the credit for creating jobs or the credit for worker training if the jobs for which the credit is claimed meet the wage standard at the time the taxpayer applies for the credit. A taxpayer is eligible for the credit for investing in machinery and equipment, the credit for research and development, or the credit for investing in real property for a central administrative office if the jobs at the location with respect to which the credit is claimed meet the wage standard at the time the taxpayer applies for the credit. Jobs meet the wage standard if they pay an average weekly wage that is at least equal to the applicable percentage times the applicable average weekly wage for the county in which the jobs will be located, as computed by the Secretary of Commerce from data compiled by the Employment Security Commission for the most recent period for which data are available. The applicable percentage for jobs located in an enterprise tier one area is one hundred percent (100%). The applicable percentage for all other jobs is one hundred ten percent (110%). The applicable average weekly wage is the lowest of the following: (i) the average wage for all insured private employers in the county, (ii) the average wage for all insured private employers in the State, and (iii) the average wage for all insured private employers in the county multiplied by the county income/wage adjustment factor. The county income/wage adjustment factor is the county income/wage ratio divided by the State income/wage ratio. The county income/wage ratio is average per capita income in the county divided by the annualized average wage for all insured private employers in the county. The State income/wage ratio is the average per capita income in the State divided by the annualized average wage for all insured private employers in the State.

(b1) Large Investment. -- A taxpayer who is otherwise eligible for a tax credit under this Article becomes eligible for the large investment enhancements provided for credits under this Article if the Secretary of Commerce certifies that the taxpayer will purchase or lease, and place in service in connection with the eligible business within a two-year period, at least one hundred fifty million dollars ($150,000,000) worth of one or more of the following: real property, machinery and equipment, or central administrative office property. If the taxpayer fails to make the level of investment certified within this two-year period, the taxpayer forfeits the large investment enhancements as provided in subsection (d) of this section.

~~(c) Worker Training. -- A taxpayer is eligible for the tax credit for worker training only for training workers who occupy jobs for which the taxpayer is eligible to claim an installment of the credit for creating jobs or which are full-time positions at a location with respect to which the taxpayer is eligible to claim an installment of the credit for investing in machinery and equipment for the taxable year.~~

~~The credit for worker training is allowed only with respect to employees in positions not classified as exempt under the Fair Labor Standards Act, 29 U.S.C. § 213(a)(1) and for expenditures for training that would be eligible for expenditure or reimbursement under the Department of Community Colleges' New and Expanding Industry Program, as determined by guidelines adopted by the State Board of Community Colleges. The credit is not allowed for expenditures that are paid or reimbursed by the New and Expanding Industry Program. To establish eligibility, the taxpayer must obtain as part of the application process under G.S. 105-129.6 the certification of the Department of Community Colleges that the taxpayer's planned worker training would satisfy the requirements of this paragraph. A taxpayer shall apply to the Department of Community Colleges for this certification. The application must be on a form provided by the Department of Community Colleges, must provide a detailed plan of the worker training to be provided, and must contain any information required by the Department of Community Colleges to determine whether the requirements of this paragraph will be satisfied. If the Department of Community Colleges determines that the planned worker training meets the requirements of this paragraph, the Department of Community Colleges shall issue a certificate describing the location with respect to which the credit is claimed and~~

~~stating that the planned worker training meets the requirements of this paragraph. The State Board of Community Colleges may adopt rules in accordance with Chapter 150B of the General Statutes that are needed to carry out its responsibilities under this paragraph.~~

(d) Forfeiture. -- A taxpayer forfeits a credit allowed under this Article if the taxpayer was not eligible for the credit at the time the taxpayer applied for the credit. In addition, a taxpayer forfeits a large investment enhancement of a tax credit if the taxpayer fails to make the level of investment certified by the Secretary of Commerce under subsection (b1) of this section within the required two-year period. A taxpayer that forfeits a credit under this Article is liable for all past taxes avoided as a result of the credit plus interest at the rate established under G.S. 105-241.1(i), computed from the date the taxes would have been due if the credit had not been allowed. The past taxes and interest are due 30 days after the date the credit is forfeited; a taxpayer that fails to pay the past taxes and interest by the due date is subject to the penalties provided in G.S. 105-236. If a taxpayer forfeits the credit for creating jobs or the credit for investing in machinery and equipment, the taxpayer also forfeits any credit for worker training claimed for the jobs for which the credit for creating jobs was claimed or the jobs at the location with respect to which the credit for investing in machinery and equipment was claimed.

(e) Change in Ownership of Business. -- The sale, merger, acquisition, or bankruptcy of a business, or any ~~other~~ transaction by which an existing business reformulates itself as another business, does not create new eligibility in a succeeding business with respect to credits for which the predecessor was not eligible under this Article. A successor business may, however, take any installment of or carried-over portion of a credit that its predecessor could have taken if it had a tax liability. The acquisition of a business is a new investment that creates new eligibility in the acquiring taxpayer under this Article if any of the following conditions are met:

(1) The business closed before it was acquired.

(2) The business was required to file a notice of plant closing or mass layoff under the federal Worker Adjustment and Retraining Notification Act, 29 U.S.C. § 2102, before it was acquired.

(3) The business was acquired by its employees through an employee stock option transaction or another similar mechanism.

"§ 105-129.5. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Tax election; cap.

(a) Tax Election. -- The credits provided in this Article are allowed against the franchise tax levied in Article 3 of this Chapter and the income taxes levied in Article 4 of this Chapter. The credit for investing in central administrative office property provided in G.S. 105-129.12 is also allowed against the gross premiums tax levied in Article 8B of this Chapter. The taxpayer shall elect the tax against which a credit will be claimed when filing the return on which the first installment of the credit is claimed. This election is binding. Any carryforwards of the credit must be claimed against the same tax.

(b) Cap. -- The credits allowed under this Article may not exceed fifty percent (50%) of the tax against which they are claimed for the taxable year, reduced by the sum of all other credits allowed against that tax, except tax payments made by or on behalf of the taxpayer. This limitation applies to the cumulative amount of credit, including carryforwards, claimed by the taxpayer under this Article against each tax for the taxable year. Any unused portion of ~~the~~ a credit with respect to a large investment may be carried forward for the succeeding ~~five years.~~ 20 years. Any unused portion of any other credit may be carried forward for the succeeding five years.

"§ 105-129.6. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Application; reports.

(a) Application. -- To claim the credits allowed by this Article, the taxpayer must provide with the tax return the certification of the Secretary of Commerce that the taxpayer meets all of the eligibility requirements of G.S. 105-129.4 with respect to each credit. A taxpayer shall apply to the Secretary of Commerce for certification of eligibility. The application must be on a form provided by the Secretary of Commerce and must contain any information necessary for the Secretary of Commerce to determine whether the taxpayer meets the eligibility requirements. If the Secretary of Commerce determines that the taxpayer meets all of the eligibility requirements of G.S. 105-129.4 with respect to a credit, the Secretary shall issue a certificate describing the location with respect to which the credit is claimed, outlining the eligibility requirements for the credit, and stating that the taxpayer meets the eligibility requirements. If the Secretary of Commerce determines that the taxpayer does not meet all of the eligibility requirements of G.S. 105-129.4 with respect to a credit, the Secretary must advise the taxpayer in writing of the eligibility requirements the taxpayer fails to meet. The Secretary of Commerce may adopt rules in accordance with Chapter 150B of the General Statutes that are needed to carry out the Secretary of Commerce's responsibilities under this section.

(a1) Fee. -- When filing an application for certification under this section, the taxpayer must pay the Department of Commerce a fee of seventy-five dollars ($75.00). Fees collected under this subsection are receipts of the Department of Commerce.

(b) Reports. -- The Department of Commerce shall report to the Department of Revenue and to the Fiscal Research Division of the General Assembly by May 1 of each year the following information for the 12-month period ending the preceding April 1:

(1) The number of applications for each credit allowed in this Article.
(2) The number and enterprise tier area of new jobs with respect to which credits were applied for.
(3) The cost of machinery and equipment with respect to which credits were applied for.

"§ 105-129.7. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Substantiation.

To claim a credit allowed by this Article, the taxpayer must provide any information required by the Secretary of Revenue. Every taxpayer claiming a credit under this Article shall maintain and make available for inspection by the Secretary of Revenue any records the Secretary considers necessary to determine and verify the amount of the credit to which the taxpayer is entitled. The burden of proving eligibility for the credit and the amount of the credit shall rest upon the taxpayer, and no credit shall be allowed to a taxpayer that fails to maintain adequate records or to make them available for inspection.

"§ 105-129.8. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for creating jobs.

(a) Credit. -- A taxpayer that meets the eligibility requirements set out in G.S. 105-129.4, has five or more employees for at least 40 weeks during the taxable year, and hires an additional full-time employee during that year to fill a position located in this State is allowed a credit for creating a new full-time job. The amount of the credit for each new full-time job created is set out in the table below and is based on the enterprise tier of the area in which the position is ~~located.~~ located. In addition, if the position is located in a development zone, the amount of the credit is increased by four thousand dollars ($4,000) per job.

Area Enterprise Tier	Amount of Credit
Tier One	$12,500
Tier Two	4,000
Tier Three	3,000
Tier Four	1,000
Tier Five	500

A position is located in an area if more than fifty percent (50%) of the employee's duties are performed in the area. The credit may not be taken in the taxable year in which the additional employee is hired. Instead, the credit shall be taken in equal installments over the four years following the taxable year in which the additional employee was hired and shall be conditioned on the continued employment by the taxpayer of the number of full-time employees the taxpayer had upon hiring the employee that caused the taxpayer to qualify for the credit.

If, in one of the four years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the number of the taxpayer's full-time employees falls below the number of full-time employees the taxpayer had in the year in which the taxpayer qualified for the credit, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit. The taxpayer may, however, take the portion of an installment that accrued in a previous year and was carried forward to the extent permitted under G.S. 105-129.5.

Jobs transferred from one area in the State to another area in the State shall not be considered new jobs for purposes of this section. If, in one of the four years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the position filled by the employee is moved to an area in a higher- or lower-numbered enterprise tier, or is moved from a development zone to an area that is not a development zone, the remaining installments of the credit shall be calculated as if the position had been created initially in the area to which it was moved.

(b) Repealed by Session Laws 1989, c. 111, s. 1.

(b1), (c) Repealed by Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 3.3.

(d) Planned Expansion. -- A taxpayer that signs a letter of commitment with the Department of Commerce to create at least twenty new full-time jobs in a specific area within two years of the date the letter is signed qualifies for the credit in the amount allowed by this section based on the area's enterprise tier and development zone designation for that year even though the employees are not hired that year. The credit shall be available in the taxable year after at least twenty employees have been hired if the hirings are within the two-year commitment period. The conditions outlined in subsection (a) apply to a credit taken under this subsection except that if the area is redesignated to a higher-numbered enterprise tier or loses its development zone designation after the year the letter of commitment was signed, the credit is allowed based on the area's enterprise tier and development zone designation for the year the letter was signed. If the taxpayer does not hire the employees within the two-year period, the taxpayer does not qualify for the credit. However, if the taxpayer qualifies for a credit under subsection (a) in the year any new employees are hired, the taxpayer may take the credit under that subsection.

(e), (f) Repealed by Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 3.3 for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1996.

"§ 105-129.9. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for investing in machinery and equipment.

(a) Credit. -- If a taxpayer that has purchased or leased eligible machinery and equipment places it in service in this State during the taxable year, the taxpayer is allowed a credit equal to seven percent (7%) of the excess of the eligible investment amount over the applicable threshold. Machinery and equipment is eligible if is capitalized by the taxpayer for tax purposes under the Code and is not leased to another party. In addition, in the case of a large investment, machinery and equipment that is not capitalized by the taxpayer is eligible if the taxpayer leases it from another party. The credit may not be taken for the taxable year in which the equipment is placed in service but shall be taken in equal installments over the seven years following the taxable year in which the equipment is placed in service.

(b) Eligible Investment Amount. -- The eligible investment amount is the lesser of (i) the cost of the eligible machinery and equipment and (ii) the amount by which the cost of all of the taxpayer's eligible machinery and equipment that is in service in this State on the last day of the taxable year exceeds the cost of all of the taxpayer's eligible machinery and equipment that was in service in this State on the last day of the base year. The base year is that year, of the three immediately preceding taxable years, in which the taxpayer had the most eligible machinery and equipment in service in this State.

(c) Threshold. -- The applicable threshold is the appropriate amount set out in the following table based on the enterprise tier of the area where the eligible machinery and equipment are placed in service during the taxable year. If the taxpayer places eligible machinery and equipment in service in more than one area during the taxable year, the threshold applies separately to the eligible machinery and equipment placed in service in each area. If the taxpayer places eligible machinery and equipment in service in an area over the course of a two-year period, the applicable threshold for the second taxable year is reduced by the eligible investment amount for the previous taxable year.

Area Enterprise Tier	Threshold
Tier One	$ -0-

Tier Two	100,000
Tier Three	200,000
Tier Four	500,000
Tier Five	1,000,000

(d) Expiration. -- If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the machinery and equipment with respect to which the credit was claimed are disposed of, taken out of service, or moved out of State, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit. The taxpayer may, however, take the portion of an installment that accrued in a previous year and was carried forward to the extent permitted under G.S. 105-129.5.

If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the machinery and equipment with respect to which the credit was claimed are moved to an area in a higher-numbered enterprise tier, or are moved from a development zone to an area that is not a development zone, the remaining installments of the credit are allowed only to the extent they would have been allowed if the machinery and equipment had been placed in service initially in the area to which they were moved.

(e) Planned Expansion. -- A taxpayer that signs a letter of commitment with the Department of Commerce to place specific eligible machinery and equipment in service in an area within two years after the date the letter is signed may, in the year the eligible machinery and equipment are placed in service in that area, calculate the credit for which the taxpayer qualifies based on the area's enterprise tier and development zone designation for the year the letter was signed. All other conditions apply to the credit, but if the area has been redesignated to a higher-numbered enterprise tier or has lost its development zone designation after the year the letter of commitment was signed, the credit is allowed based on the area's enterprise tier and development zone designation for the year the letter was signed. If the taxpayer does not place part or all of the specified eligible machinery and equipment in service within the two-year period, the taxpayer does not qualify for the benefit of this subsection with respect to the machinery and equipment not placed in service within the two-year period. However, if the taxpayer qualifies for a credit in the year the eligible machinery and equipment are placed in service, the taxpayer may take the credit for that year as if no letter of commitment had been signed pursuant to this subsection.

"§ 105-129.10. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for research and development.

(a) General Credit. -- A taxpayer that claims for the taxable year a federal income tax credit under section ~~41~~ 41(a) of the Code for increasing research activities is allowed a credit equal to five percent (5%) of the State's apportioned share of the taxpayer's expenditures for increasing research activities. The State's apportioned share of a taxpayer's expenditures for increasing research activities is the excess of the taxpayer's qualified research expenses for the taxable year over the base amount, as determined under section 41 of the Code, multiplied by a percentage equal to the ratio of the taxpayer's qualified research expenses in this State for the taxable year to the taxpayer's total qualified research expenses for the taxable year.

(b) Alternative Credit. -- A taxpayer that claims the alternative incremental credit under section 41(c)(4) of the Code for increasing research activities is allowed a credit equal to twenty-five percent (25%) of the State's apportioned share of the federal credit claimed. The State's apportioned share of the federal credit claimed is the amount of the alternative incremental credit the taxpayer claimed under section 41(c)(4) of the Code for the taxable year multiplied by a percentage equal to the ratio of the taxpayer's qualified research expenses in this State for the taxable year to the taxpayer's total qualified research expenses for the taxable year. For the purpose of this subsection, the amount of the alternative incremental credit claimed by a taxpayer is determined without regard to any reduction elected under section 280C(c) of the Code.

(c) Definitions. -- As used in this section, the terms 'qualified research expenses' and 'base amount' have the meaning provided in section 41 of the Code.

"§ 105-129.11. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for worker training.

(a) Credit. -- A taxpayer that provides worker training for five or more of its eligible employees during the taxable year is allowed a credit equal to ~~fifty percent (50%) of its eligible expenditures for~~ the wages paid to the eligible employees during the training. Wages paid to an employee performing his or her job while being trained are not eligible for the credit. For positions located in an enterprise tier one area, the credit may not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) per employee trained during the taxable year. For other positions, the credit may not exceed five hundred dollars ($500.00) per employee trained during the taxable year. A position is located in an area if more than fifty percent (50%) of the employee's duties are performed in the area.

(b) Eligibility. -- ~~The eligibility of a taxpayer's expenditures and employees is determined as provided in G.S. 105-129.4.~~ An employee is eligible if the employee is in a full-time position not classified as exempt under the Fair Labor Standards Act, 29 U.S.C. § 213(a)(1) and meets one or more of the following conditions:

(1) The employee occupies a job for which the taxpayer is eligible to claim an installment of the credit for creating jobs.

(2) The employee is being trained to operate machinery and equipment for which the taxpayer is eligible to claim an installment of the credit for investing in machinery and equipment.

"§ 105-129.12. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for investing in central administrative office property.

(a) Credit. -- If a taxpayer that has purchased or leased real property in this State begins to use the property as a central administrative office during the taxable year, the taxpayer is allowed a credit equal to seven percent (7%) of the eligible investment amount. The eligible investment amount is the lesser of (i) the cost of the property and (ii) the amount by which the cost of all of the property the taxpayer is using in this State as central administrative offices on the last day of the taxable year exceeds the cost of all of the property the taxpayer was using in this State as central administrative offices on the last day of the base year. The base year is that year, of the three immediately preceding taxable years, in which the taxpayer was using the most property in this State as central administrative offices. In the case of property that is leased, the cost of the property is not determined as provided in G.S. 105-129.2 but is considered to be the taxpayer's lease payments over a seven-year period, plus any expenditures made by the taxpayer to improve the property before it is used as the taxpayer's central administrative office if the expenditures are not reimbursed or credited by the lessor. The maximum credit allowed a taxpayer under this section for property used as a central administrative office is five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000). The entire credit may not be taken for the taxable year in which the property is first used as a central administrative office but shall be taken in equal installments over the seven years following the taxable year in which the property is first used as a central administrative office. The basis in any real property for which a credit is allowed under this section shall be reduced by the amount of credit allowable.

(b) Mixed Use Property. -- If the taxpayer uses only part of the property as the taxpayer's central administrative office, the amount of the credit allowed under this section is reduced by multiplying it by a fraction the numerator of which is the square footage of the property used as the taxpayer's central administrative office and the denominator of which is the total square footage of the property.

(c) Expiration. -- If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the property with respect to which the credit was claimed is no longer used as a central administrative office, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit. If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, part of the property with respect to which the credit was claimed is no longer used as a central administrative office, the remaining installments of the credit shall be reduced by multiplying it by the fraction described in subsection (b) of this section. If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the total number of employees the taxpayer employs at all of its central administrative offices in this State drops by 40 or more, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit.

In each of these cases, the taxpayer may nonetheless take the portion of an installment that accrued in a previous year and was carried forward to the extent permitted under G.S. 105-129.5."

Section 2. G.S. 105-129.15(2) reads as rewritten:

"(2) Cost. -- ~~Determined~~ In the case of property owned by the taxpayer, cost is determined pursuant to regulations adopted under section 1012 of the Code, subject to the limitation on cost provided in section 179 of the Code. In the case of property the taxpayer leases from another, cost is value as determined pursuant to G.S. 105-130.4(j)(2)."

Section 3. G.S. 143B-437.04 reads as rewritten:

"§ 143B-437.04. ~~Economic~~ Community development block grants.

(a) The Department of Commerce shall adopt guidelines for the awarding of Community Development Block Grants ~~for economic development that will ensure that no~~ to ensure that:

(1) No local match is required for grants awarded for projects located in enterprise tier one areas as defined in G.S. ~~105-129.3 and, to~~ 105-129.3.

(2) To the extent practicable, ~~that~~ priority consideration for grants is given to projects located in enterprise tier one areas as defined in G.S. ~~105-129.3.~~ 105-129.3 or in development zones that have met the conditions of subsection (b) of this section.

(b) In order to qualify for the benefits of this section, after an area is designated a development zone under G.S. 105-129.3A, the governing body of the city in which the zone is located must adopt a strategy to improve the zone and establish a development zone committee to oversee the strategy. The strategy and the committee must conform with requirements established by the Secretary of Commerce."

The term also includes utility infrastructure and transportation infrastructure to and from the plant.

"§ 105-129.26. Qualification; forfeiture.

(a) Major Recycling Facility. -- A recycling facility qualifies for the tax benefits provided in this Article and in Article 5 of this Chapter for major recycling facilities if it meets all of the following conditions:

(1) The facility is located in an area that, at the time the owner began construction of the facility, was an enterprise tier one area pursuant to G.S. 105-129.3.

(2) The Secretary of Commerce has certified that the owner will, by the end of the fourth year after the year the owner begins construction of the recycling facility, invest at least three hundred million dollars ($300,000,000) in the facility and create at least 250 new, full-time jobs at the facility.

(3) The jobs at the recycling facility meet the wage standard in effect pursuant to G.S. 105-129.4(b) as of the date the owner begins construction of the facility.

(b) Large Recycling Facility. -- A recycling facility qualifies for the tax credit provided in G.S. 105-129.27 for large recycling facilities if it meets all of the following conditions:

(1) The facility is located in an area that, at the time the owner began construction of the facility, was an enterprise tier one area pursuant to G.S. 105-129.3.

(2) The Secretary of Commerce has certified that the owner will, by the end of the second year after the year the owner begins construction of the recycling facility, invest at least one hundred fifty million dollars ($150,000,000) in the facility and create at least 155 new, full-time jobs at the facility.

(3) The jobs at the recycling facility meet the wage standard in effect pursuant to G.S. 105-129.4(b) as of the date the owner begins construction of the facility.

(c) Forfeiture. -- If the owner of a large or major recycling facility fails to make the required minimum investment or create the required number of new jobs within the period certified by the Secretary of Commerce under this section, the recycling facility no longer qualifies for the applicable recycling facility tax benefits provided in this Article and in Article 5 of this Chapter and forfeits all tax benefits previously received under those Articles. Forfeiture does not occur, however, if the failure was due to events beyond the owner's control. Upon forfeiture of tax benefits previously received, the owner is liable under Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter for a tax equal to the amount of all past taxes under Articles 3, 4, and 5 previously avoided as a result of the tax benefits received plus interest at the rate established in G.S. 105-241.1(i), computed from the date the taxes would have been due if the tax benefits had not been received. The tax and interest are due 30 days after the date of the forfeiture. An owner that fails to pay the tax and interest is subject to the penalties provided in G.S. 105-236.

(d) Substantiation. -- To claim a credit allowed by this Article, the owner must provide any information required by the Secretary of Revenue. Every owner claiming a credit under this Article shall maintain and make available for inspection by the Secretary of Revenue any records the Secretary considers necessary to determine and verify the amount of the credit to which the owner is entitled. The burden of proving eligibility for the credit and the amount of the credit shall rest upon the owner, and no credit shall be allowed to an owner that fails to maintain adequate records or to make them available for inspection.

(e) Reports. -- The Department of Commerce shall report to the Fiscal Research Division of the General Assembly by May 1 of each year the following information for the 12-month period ending the preceding April 1:

(1) The number and location of large and major recycling facilities qualified under this Article.

(2) The number of new jobs created by each recycling facility.

(3) The amount of investment in each recycling facility.

(4) The amount of reinvestment credit refunded to each major recycling facility under G.S. 105-129.28.

"§ 105-129.27. Credit for investing in large or major recycling facility.

(a) Credit. -- An owner that purchases or leases machinery and equipment for a major recycling facility in this State during the taxable year is allowed a credit equal to fifty percent (50%) of the amount payable by the owner during the taxable year to purchase or lease the machinery and equipment. An owner that purchases or leases machinery and equipment for a large recycling facility in this State during the taxable year is allowed a credit equal to twenty percent (20%) of the amount payable by the owner during the taxable year to purchase or lease the machinery and equipment.

(b) Taxes Credited. -- The credit provided in this section is allowed against the franchise tax levied in Article 3 of this Chapter and the income tax levied in Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter. Any other nonrefundable credits allowed the owner are subtracted before the credit allowed by this section.

(c) Carryforwards. -- The credit provided in this section may not exceed the amount of tax against which it is claimed for the taxable year, reduced by the sum of all other credits allowed against that tax, except tax payments made by or on behalf of the owner. Any unused portion of the credit may be carried forward for the succeeding 25 years.

(d) Change in Ownership of Facility. -- The sale, merger, acquisition, or bankruptcy of a recycling facility, or any transaction by which the facility is reformulated as another business, does not create new eligibility in a succeeding owner with respect to a credit for which the predecessor was not eligible under this section. A successor business may, however, take any carried-over portion of a credit that its predecessor could have taken if it had a tax liability.

(e) Forfeiture. -- If any machinery or equipment for which a credit was allowed under this section is not placed in service within 30 months after the credit was allowed, the credit is forfeited. A taxpayer that forfeits a credit under this section is liable for all past taxes avoided as a result of the credit plus interest at the rate established under G.S. 105-241.1(i), computed from the date the taxes would have been due if the credit had not been allowed. The past taxes and interest are due 30 days after the date the credit is forfeited; a taxpayer that fails to pay the past taxes and interest by the due date is subject to the penalties provided in G.S. 105-236.

(f) No Double Credit. -- A recycling facility that is eligible for the credit allowed in this section is not allowed the credit for investing in machinery and equipment provided in G.S. 105-129.9.

"§ 105-129.28. Credit for reinvestment.

(a) Credit. -- A major recycling facility that is accessible by neither ocean barge nor ship and that transports materials to the facility or products away from the facility is allowed a credit against the tax imposed by Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter equal to its additional transportation and transloading expenses incurred with respect to the materials and products due to its inability to use ocean barges or ships. The additional expenses for which credit is allowed are expenses due to using river barges and expenses due to having to use another mode of transportation because the quantity that is transported by river barge is insufficient to meet the facility's needs. In order to claim the credit allowed by this section, the facility must provide the Secretary of Commerce audited documentation of the amount of its additional transportation and transloading expenses incurred during the taxable year.

(b) Cap. -- The credit allowed to a major recycling facility under this section for the taxable year may not exceed the applicable annual cap provided in the following table:

Taxable Year	Cap
1998	$ 150,000
1999	$ 640,000

2000	$ 3,860,000
2001	$ 8,050,000
2002	$ 9,550,000
2003	$10,100,000
2004-2007	$10,400,000

(c) Reduction. -- For the first ten taxable years after the owner begins transporting materials and products to and from the major recycling facility, the credit allowed by this section must be reduced by the amount of credit allowed in previous years that was used for a purpose other than an allowable purpose under subsection (d) of this section, as certified by the Secretary of Commerce.

(d) Use of Credited Amount. -- For the first ten taxable years after the owner begins construction of the major recycling facility, the owner must use the amount of credit allowed under this section to pay for (i) investment in rail or roads associated with the facility, (ii) investment in water system infrastructure designed to reduce the expense of transporting materials and products to and from the recycling facility, and (iii) investment in land and infrastructure for other industrial sites located in the same county as the recycling facility. If the owner determines that there are no reasonable economic opportunities in a given year to use the total amount of credit for the expenditures described above, the owner may use the excess for investment at or in connection with the recycling facility above the initial required investment of three hundred million dollars ($300,000,000).

Expenses incurred for the purposes allowed in this subsection during a taxable year in the ten-year period may be counted toward a credit allowed in a later taxable year in the ten-year period. If the owner is not able to use the full amount of the credit during a taxable year for any of the purposes allowed by this subsection, the excess may be used for these purposes in subsequent taxable years.

The owner must provide the Secretary of Commerce with annual audited documentation demonstrating that the amount of credit received under this section during the previous twelve-month period has not been used for a purpose inconsistent with this subsection. If the Secretary of Commerce determines that the owner has used any of the credit for a purpose that is inconsistent with the requirements of this subsection, the Secretary of Commerce shall certify the amount so used to the Secretary of Revenue and the credit allowed the owner under this section for the following taxable year shall be reduced by that amount in accordance with subsection (c) of this section.

After the end of the ten-year period, the amount of any credit allowed under this section that has not yet been used may be used for investment at or in connection with the recycling facility above the initial required investment of three hundred million dollars ($300,000,000).

(e) Credit Refundable. -- If the credit allowed by this section exceeds the amount of tax imposed by Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowable, the Secretary shall refund the excess to the taxpayer. The refundable excess is governed by the provisions governing a refund of an overpayment by the taxpayer of the tax imposed in Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter. In computing the amount of tax against which multiple credits are allowed, nonrefundable credits are subtracted before refundable credits."

Section 13. G.S. 105-164.3 is amended by renumbering subdivision (8) as (7b) and adding a new subdivision to read:

"(8) Major recycling facility. -- Defined in G.S. 105-129.25."

Section 14. G.S. 105-164.4(a)(1d) is amended by adding a new sub-subdivision to read:

"j. Sales to a major recycling facility of the following tangible personal property for use in connection with the facility: cranes, structural steel crane support systems, foundations related to the cranes and support systems, port and dock facilities, rail equipment, and material handling equipment."

Section 15. G.S. 105-164.13 is amended by adding two new subdivisions to read:

"(10a) Sales to a major recycling facility of (i) lubricants and other additives for motor vehicles or machinery and equipment used at the facility and (ii) materials, supplies, parts, and accessories, other than machinery and equipment, that are not capitalized by the taxpayer and are used or consumed in the manufacturing and material handling processes at the facility.

(10b) Sales to a major recycling facility of electricity used at the facility."

Section 16. G.S. 105-164.14 is amended by adding a new subsection to read:

"(g) Major Recycling Facilities. -- The owner of a major recycling facility is allowed an annual refund of sales and use taxes paid by it under this Article on building materials, building supplies, fixtures, and equipment that become a part of the real property of the recycling facility. A request for a refund must be in writing and must include any information and documentation required by the Secretary. A request for a refund is due within six months after the end of the major recycling facility's fiscal year. Refunds applied for after the due date are barred."

Section 17. G.S. 105-164.14(f) reads as rewritten:

"(f) Information to Counties. -- Upon written request of a county, the Secretary shall, within 30 days after the request, provide the designated county official a list of each claimant that has, within the past 12 months, received a refund under subsection ~~(b) or (c)~~ (b), (c), or (g) of this section of at least one thousand dollars ($1,000) of tax paid to the county. The list shall include the name and address of each claimant and the amount of the refund it has received from that county. Upon written request of a county, a claimant that has received a refund under subsection ~~(b) or (c)~~ (b), (c), or (g) of this section shall provide the designated county official a copy of the request for the refund and any supporting documentation requested by the county to verify the request. For the purpose of this subsection, the designated county official is the chair of the board of county commissioners or a county official designated in a resolution adopted by the board. Information provided to a county under this subsection is not a public record and may not be disclosed except in accordance with G.S. 153A-148.1. If a claimant determines that a refund it has received under subsection ~~(b) or (c)~~ (b), (c), or (g) of this section is incorrect, it shall file an amended request for the refund."

Section 18. G.S. 105-275(8) is amended by adding a new sub-subdivision to read:

"d. Real or personal property that is used or, if under construction, is to be used by a major recycling facility as defined in G.S. 105-129.25 predominantly for recycling or resource recovering of or from solid waste, if the Department of Environment and Natural Resources furnishes a certificate to the tax supervisor of the county in which the property is situated stating the Department of Environment and Natural Resources has found that the described property has been or will be constructed or installed for use by a major recycling facility, complies or will comply with the rules of the Department of Environment and Natural Resources, and has, or will have as a purpose recycling or resource recovering of or from solid waste."

Section 19. G.S. 105-129.28, as enacted by Section 12 of this act, is repealed effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2008. This section does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under G.S. 105-129.28 before the effective date of its repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under G.S. 105-129.28 before the effective date of its repeal.

The sole purpose of this ten-year sunset provision is to allow a determination to be made whether any major recycling facility continues to experience additional transportation and transloading expenses due to its inability to use ocean barges or ships to transport materials and products to and from the facility. It is the expectation and intent that the General Assembly will postpone the sunset of G.S. 105-129.28 if it is determined that, based on audited documentation submitted by a major recycling facility and verified by the Secretary of Commerce, that any major recycling facility continues to experience these additional transportation and transloading expenses as of 2008.

There was some question raised concerning the financing of the Fed Ex facility at the Piedmont Triad Airport yesterday.

For clarification, I have attached a letter from the in-house tax counsel for Fed Ex, along with a letter from Edward A. Johnson, Executive Director of the Piedmont Triad Airport Authority.

I hope this clarifies the issue.

RE: Financing for Federal Express Corporation's North Carolina Hub

Dear Ashley and Sandy:

The Piedmont Triad Airport Authority (the "Authority") will issue approximately $300 million of tax-exempt "special purpose facility" revenue bonds to provide the costs of constructing and equipping the cargo handling facility. Federal Express Corporation ("FedEx") will enter into an agreement with the Authority to lease the facility for operation. The bonds will provide that they are limited obligations of the Authority, payable solely from the lease payments received by the Authority from the leasing of the facility. Under the terms of the lease, FedEx will be obligated to make lease payments sufficient to cover all debt service on the special purpose facility bonds. The bonds will not be payable from general airport revenues. In the marketplace, the bonds will be offered and sold on the basis of the FedEx obligations under the lease agreement, and not based upon the general credit of the Authority. Although the special purpose facility bonds technically are not industrial revenue bonds, conceptually they will work the same as industrial revenue bonds.

Very truly yours,

Mr. Martin Johnson

Raleigh, NC 27626

Dear Martin:

Based on our discussions with FedEx, it is contemplated that the Authority will issue Special Purpose Facility Revenue Bonds to help finance the construction and equipping of the FedEx Hub facility at the Airport. The Special Purpose Facility Revenue Bonds will be backed by the credit of FedEx, which will pay project rent under its lease with the Authority in the amount necessary to pay the debt service on the bonds as it becomes due. The bonds will not constitute a general obligation of the Authority and will be payable solely from the project rents. The term of the lease would coincide with the period the bonds are outstanding and would be approximately 25 years, based on present projections.

The Authority would hold legal title to the land to be leased to FedEx and to the facilities to be financed with the Special Purpose Facility Revenue Bonds.

Sincerely,

PIEMDONT TRIAD AIRPORT AUTHORITY

SENATE BILL 1426

Short Title: Increase Autopsy Fee. (Public)

Sponsors: Senator Rand.

May 28, 1998

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO INCREASE THE FEE FOR AUTOPSIES.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. G.S. 130A-389 reads as rewritten:

"§ 130A-389. Autopsies.

(a) If, in the opinion of the medical examiner investigating the case or of the Chief Medical Examiner, it is advisable and in the public interest that an autopsy or other study be made; or, if an autopsy or other study is requested by the district attorney of the county or by any superior court judge, an autopsy or other study shall be made by the Chief Medical Examiner or by a competent pathologist designated by the Chief Medical Examiner. A complete autopsy report of findings and interpretations, prepared on forms designated for the purpose, shall be submitted promptly to the Chief Medical Examiner. Copies of the report shall be furnished the authorizing medical examiner, district attorney or superior court judge. A copy of the report shall be furnished to other persons upon request. A fee for the autopsy or other study shall be paid by the State. However, if the deceased is a resident of the county in which the death or fatal injury occurred, that county shall pay the fee. The fee shall be ~~four hundred dollars ($400.00).~~ one thousand dollars ($1,000).

(b) In deaths where the Chief Medical Examiner and the medical examiner investigating the case do not deem it advisable and in the public interest that an autopsy be performed, but the next-of-kin of the deceased requests that an autopsy be performed, the Chief Medical Examiner or a designated pathologist may perform the autopsy and the cost shall be paid by the next-of-kin.

(c) When the next-of-kin of a decedent whose death does not fall under G.S. 130A-383 or 130A-384 requests that an autopsy be performed, the Chief Medical Examiner or a designated pathologist may perform that autopsy and the cost shall be paid by the next-of-kin.

(d) The report of autopsies performed pursuant to subsections (b) and (c) shall be a part of the decedents' medical records and therefore not public records open to inspection."

Section 2. This act becomes effective July 1, 1998, and applies to autopsies or other studies performed on and after that date.

SENATE BILL 1426 - INCREASE AUTOPSY FEE

- Autopsies are essential to the effective investigation of homicides and other suspicious deaths in North Carolina.

- The fee for these autopsies has been frozen by statute for more than a decade (since 1986) at $400. Senate Bill 1426 (Rand) proposes to increase the statutory autopsy fee to $1,000. (Private pathologist must pay staff and hospital out of this fee, the costs of which are approximately $100).

- Experience and studies have shown that the statutory fee is not sufficient to cover the cost of facilities, personnel and professional services needed to properly conduct a medical-legal autopsy.

- A study done by Wake Forest School of Medicine concluded that the total costs of a medical examiner autopsy is $1,615.24.

- Another study appearing in the 1985 Pathology Annual, Vol. 20 Part 1, indicated that the cost of a complete autopsy in 1978 was $1,000 and approximately $1,500 in 1985. In addition, the journal The Autopsy Medical Practice and Public Policy in 1986 cited several studies that indicate that the costs of an autopsy reach at least $1,000.

- The medical examiner system depends on a network of private pathologists who are willing to contract with the State to perform this vital service. These private pathologists are performing approximately 2,000 of the 3,570 medical-legal autopsies ordered each year.

- As a general rule, the county pays for the autopsy when a person dies or receives a death-inducing injury in their home county. Other autopsies are paid by the State. State-paid autopsies comprise approximately 20% of all medical-legal autopsies.

- The evidence obtained through autopsies is becoming vital in any subsequent legal proceeding and is vital for law enforcement and other investigative agencies that may be involved.

- This bill is supported by the Office of the Chief Medical Examiner, Department of Human Resources, District Attorneys, NC Medical Society, State Health Director, Office of Chief Medical Examiner.

EXPLANATION OF SENATE BILL 1426:
Increase Autopsy Fee

TO: Senate Finance Committee
FROM: Cindy Avrette, Committee Counsel
DATE: June 18, 1998
SPONSOR: Senator Rand

An autopsy must be performed when a medical examiner, a district attorney, or a superior court judge decides that one is necessary. The cost of performing the autopsy is borne by the State unless the decedent is a resident of the county in which the death or fatal accident occurred. In that instance, the county pays the cost of the autopsy. Of the 3,570 autopsies performed each year, approximately 2,010 are performed by private contracted pathologists and the remaining 1,560 are performed by the State through the Office of the Chief Medical Examiner in Chapel Hill and the Mecklenburg County Office. Senate Bill 1426 increases the fee that may be charged for an autopsy by private contracted pathologists and the medical institutions from $400 to $1,000.

An autopsy is the physical examination of a dead person for the purpose of determining what injuries or illnesses might be present within the decedent's body and what role those injuries or illnesses played in the decedent's death. The steps involved in an autopsy include medical histories, interviews with witnesses and law enforcement officers, external and internal examinations of the body, samples of blood, urine, and fluids taken for taxicological purposes, and preparation of reports submitted to the Office of the Chief Medical Examiner.

Professionals in the field of pathology do not believe this fee is adequate to cover the costs of performing autopsies. Under the statute, there is not a separate reimbursement for overhead expenses. In some circumstances, the pathologists must give part of the fee to a hospital or their staff to cover these overhead charges. Many physicians who have served as regional pathologists for the State Medical Examiner's system for many years are no longer agreeing to serve as medical examiners and regional pathologists because the fee they are able to charge does not cover their costs of performing the work.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Department of Health and Human Services

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 1, 1998

BILL SUMMARY: This bill increases the fee for autopsies from four hundred dollars ($400.00) to one thousand dollars ($1,000), amending G.S. 130A-389.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: According to the Office of the Chief Medical Examiner, there are approximately 3,570 medical examiner autopsies performed each year. This number is expected to remain constant. Of the medical examiner autopsies performed each year, approximately 2,010 are performed by private contracted pathologists, 1,260 are performed at the Office of the Chief Medical Examiner in Chapel Hill, and 300 are performed at the Mecklenburg County Office. Payment for these autopsies is as follows:

402 paid by the state to private contracted pathologists
1,608 paid by the county to private contracted pathologists
1,008 paid by the county to the state
+ 552 no payment, conducted by the state for the state
3,570 TOTAL AUTOPSIES PERFORMED

Cost increase for State (Costs incurred by the State are offset by payments from the counties for autopsies performed by the State)

The difference in costs paid for autopsies by the state given a $600 increase in the autopsy fee computes as follows:

- 402 x $1,000 = $402,000
$241,200 Increase in costs paid by the state to private contracted pathologists

Cost increase for Counties

The difference in costs paid for autopsies by the counties given a $600 increase in the autopsy fee computes as follows:

1,608 x $400 = $643,200
+1,008 x $400 = $403,200
$1,046,400 Costs paid for autopsies by the counties with autopsy fee set at $400

1,608 x $1000 = $1,608,000
+1,008 x $1000 = $1,008,000
$2,616,000 Costs paid for autopsies by the counties with a $600 increase in the autopsy fee

$2,616,000
- $1,046,400
$1,569,600 TOTAL INCREASED COSTS TO THE 100 COUNTIES

Net Revenue to the State

The cost increase for the state of $241,200 is offset by the autopsy fees paid to the state from the counties. The increased revenue to the state generated by a $600 increase in the autopsy fee is $604,800 = $1,008,000- $403,200. Thus, the net revenue increase to the state is $363,600 = $604,800 - 241,200.

TECHNICAL CONSIDERATIONS: None.

SENATE BILL 1450

May 28, 1998

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO PROVIDE A GROSS RECEIPTS TAX EXEMPTION FOR CERTAIN NONPROFIT COMMUNITY FESTIVALS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. G.S. 105-37.1(a) reads as rewritten:

"(a) Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of giving, offering or managing any form of entertainment or amusement not otherwise taxed or specifically exempted in this Article, for which an admission is charged, shall pay an annual license tax of fifty dollars ($50.00) for each room, hall, tent or other place where such admission charges are made.

In addition to the license tax levied above, such person, firm, or corporation shall pay an additional tax upon the gross receipts of such business at the rate of three percent (3%). Reports shall be made to the Secretary of Revenue, in such form as he may prescribe, within the first 10 days of each month covering all such gross receipts for the previous month, and the additional tax herein levied shall be paid monthly at the time such reports are made. The annual license tax herein levied shall be treated as an advance payment of the tax upon gross receipts herein levied, and the annual license tax shall be applied as a credit upon or advance payment of the gross receipts tax.

Every person, firm, or corporation giving, offering, or managing any dance or athletic contest of any kind, except high school and elementary school athletic contests, for which an admission fee in excess of fifty cents (50¢) is charged, shall pay an annual license tax of fifty dollars ($50.00) for each location where such charges are made, and, in addition, a tax upon the gross receipts derived from admission charges at the rate of three percent (3%). The additional tax upon gross receipts shall be levied and collected in accordance with such regulations as may be made by the Secretary of Revenue. No tax shall be levied on admission fees for high school and elementary school contests.

Dances and other amusements actually promoted and managed by civic organizations and private and public secondary schools, shall not be subject to the license tax imposed by this section and the first one thousand dollars ($1,000) of gross receipts derived from such events shall be exempt from the gross receipts tax herein levied when the entire proceeds of such dances or other amusements are used exclusively for the school or civic and charitable purposes of such organizations and not to defray the expenses of the organization conducting such dance or amusement. The mere sponsorship of dance or other amusement by such a school, civic, or fraternal organization shall not be deemed to exempt such dance or other amusement as provided in this paragraph, but the exemption shall apply only when the dance or amusement is actually managed and conducted by the school, civic, or fraternal organization and the proceeds are used as herein before required.

Dances and other amusements promoted and managed by a qualifying corporation that operates a center for the performing and visual arts are exempt from the license tax and the gross receipts tax imposed under this section if the dance or other amusement is held at the center. "Qualifying corporation" means a corporation that is exempt from income tax under G.S. 105-130.11(a)(3). "Center for the performing and visual arts" means a facility, having a fixed location, that provides space for dramatic performances, studios, classrooms and similar accommodations to organized arts groups and individual artists. This exemption shall not apply to athletic events.

The license and gross receipts taxes imposed by this section do not apply to a person, firm, or corporation that is exempt from income tax under Article 4 of this Chapter and is engaged in the business of operating a teen center. A "teen center" is a fixed facility whose primary purpose is to provide recreational activities, dramatic performances, dances, and other amusements exclusively for teenagers.

The license and gross receipts taxes imposed by this section do not apply to community festivals held by a nonprofit organization that meets all of the following conditions:

(1) It holds no more than one community festival during a calendar year.

(2) Its community festival lasts no more than seven days.

(3) Its community festival involves a variety of exhibitions, walking tours, entertainments, and activities, the majority of which are held outdoors and are open to the public."

Section 2. This act becomes effective July 1, 1998.

EXPLANATION OF SENATE BILL 1450 (PCS):
Community Festival Tax Exemption

TO: Senate Finance Committee
FROM: Martha Walston, Committee Counsel
DATE: June 17, 1998
SPONSOR: Senator Ballentine

This bill creates a new exemption from the privilege license tax for community festivals held by a person who is exempt from State income tax and who meets all of the following conditions:

(1) The person holds no more than one community festival a year.
(2) The festival lasts no more than 7 days.
(3) The festival involves a variety of exhibitions, walking tours, entertainments, and activities, the majority of which are held outdoors and are open to the public.

The bill becomes effective July 1, 1998. The proposed committee substitute states that the community festival must be held by a person who is exempt from State income tax, while the bill's earlier version stated that the festival must be held by a nonprofit organization.

Current Law

The State levies a 3% gross receipts tax on anyone engaged in the business of offering amusements, athletic events, dances, and entertainments for which an admission is charged. These exemptions from the tax are narrowly drawn:

- Elementary and secondary athletic contests
- The first $1,000 of receipts from fund-raising dances actually managed by the civic group or school raising funds
- Fund-raising entertainments produced exclusively by volunteer local talent
- Entertainments (but not athletic events) offered at and by a nonprofit arts center
- Nonprofit teen centers.
- Amusements on the Cherokee Indian Reservation

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Department of Revenue

EFFECTIVE DATE: This bill is effective July 1, 1998.

BILL SUMMARY: The bill exempts certain nonprofit community festivals from paying the gross receipts tax.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: Only one community festival in Southeastern North Carolina appears to meet the following qualifications: 1) is held once a year, 2) last no more than 7 days, and 3) involves a variety of exhibitions, walking tours, entertainers, and activities which are held mostly outdoors. The Department of Revenue identified New Year's Eve festivals and crop/product festivals that potentially could benefit from the exemption, but found they did not meet all the qualifications of this act. The requirement for the festival to include a walking tour seems to exclude most of the festivals from the exemption.

Based on tax records from 1996, 1997, and 1998 provided by the one currently eligible festival, the state collected less than $8,000 each year in gross receipts tax. A gross receipts tax was charged on admissions to two concerts sponsored by the festival. Since this festival plans to continue scheduling two concerts per year in the near future, the estimated revenue loss from SB 1450 is $8,000 per year.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO MODIFY THE PURPOSES FOR WHICH DAVIE OCCUPANCY TAX PROCEEDS MAY BE USED AND TO MAKE TECHNICAL AND CONFORMING CHANGES TO THE LAW.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. Section 1 of Chapter 928 of the 1989 Session Laws reads as rewritten:

"Section 1. ~~Occupancy~~ Davie County occupancy tax.

(a) Authorization and Scope. -- The Davie County Board of Commissioners may ~~by resolution, after not less than 10 days' public notice and after a public hearing held pursuant thereto,~~ levy a room occupancy tax of three percent (3%) of the gross receipts derived from the rental of any room, lodging, or similar accommodation furnished by a hotel, motel, inn, or similar place within the county that is subject to sales tax imposed by the State under G.S. 105-164.4(a)(3). This tax is in addition to any State or local sales tax. This tax does not apply to accommodations furnished by nonprofit charitable, educational, or religious organizations.

(b) ~~Collection.~~ Administration. -- A tax levied under this section shall be levied, administered, collected, and repealed as provided in G.S. 153A-155. The penalties provided in G.S. 153A-155 apply to a tax levied under this section.

~~Every operator of a business subject to the tax levied under this section shall, on and after the effective date of the levy of the tax, collect the tax. This tax shall be collected as part of the charge for furnishing a taxable accommodation. The tax shall be stated and charged separately from the sales records, and shall be paid by the purchaser to the operator of the business as trustee for and on account of the county.~~

~~The tax shall be added to the sales price and shall be passed on to the purchaser instead of being borne by the operator of the business. The county shall design, print, and furnish to all appropriate businesses and persons in the county the necessary forms for filing returns and instructions to ensure the full collection of the tax. An operator of a business who collects the occupancy tax levied under this section may deduct from the amount remitted to the county a discount of three percent (3%) of the amount collected.~~

~~(c) Administration. The county shall administer a tax levied under this section. A tax levied under this section is due and payable to the county tax administrator in monthly installments on or before the 15th day of the month following the month in which the tax accrues. Every person, firm, corporation, or association liable for the tax shall, on or before the 15th day of each month, prepare and render a return on a form prescribed by the county. The return shall state the total gross receipts derived in the preceding month from rentals upon which the tax is levied.~~

~~A return filed with the county tax administrator under this section is not a public record as defined by G.S. 132-1 and may not be disclosed except as required by law.~~

~~(d) Penalties. A person, firm, corporation, or association who fails or refuses to file the return required by this section shall pay a penalty of ten dollars ($10.00) for each day's omission. In case of failure or refusal to file the return or pay the tax for a period of 30 days after the time required for filing the return or for paying the tax, there shall be an additional tax, as a penalty, of five percent (5%) of the tax due in addition to any other penalty, with an additional tax of five percent (5%) for each additional month or fraction thereof until the tax is paid. The board of commissioners may, for good cause shown, compromise or forgive the additional tax penalties imposed by this subsection.~~

~~Any person who willfully attempts in any manner to evade a tax imposed under this section or who willfully fails to pay the tax or make and file a return shall, in addition to all other penalties provided by law, be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punishable by a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000), imprisonment not to exceed six months, or both.~~

(e) Distribution and use of tax revenue. -- Davie County shall, on a monthly basis, deposit in a special account ~~thirty-three and one-third percent (33-1/3%)~~ at least fifty percent (50%) of the net proceeds of the occupancy tax. Funds in the special account may be used only to promote travel and tourism in Davie County and to finance tourism related capital projects in the county. However, any tax proceeds in the special account that have not been appropriated after three years following the date they were deposited in the account shall be remitted to the general fund of Davie County and may be used for any lawful purpose.

Davie County shall, on a monthly basis, remit the remaining ~~sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3) of the~~ net proceeds of the tax to its general funds and may use these funds for any lawful purpose. ~~As used in this subsection, "net proceeds" means gross proceeds, including penalties and interest, less the cost to the county of administering and collecting the tax, as determined by the finance office.~~ The following definitions apply in this subsection:

(1) Net proceeds. -- Gross proceeds less the cost to the county of administering and collecting the tax, as determined by the finance officer, not to exceed seven percent (7%) of the amount collected.

(2) Promote travel and tourism. -- To advertise or market an area or activity, publish and distribute pamphlets and other materials, conduct market research, or engage in similar promotional activities that attract tourists or business travelers to the area; the term includes administrative expenses incurred in engaging in the listed activities.

~~(f) Effective date of levy. A tax levied under this section shall become effective on the date specified in the resolution levying the tax. That date must be the first day of a calendar month, however, and may not be earlier than the first day of the second month after the date the resolution is adopted.~~

~~(g) Repeal. A tax levied under this section may be repealed by a resolution adopted by the Davie County Board of Commissioners. Modifies How Davie Room Tax is Used

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Davie County Government

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 1, 1998

BILL SUMMARY: The bill modifies the use of Davie County room taxes. Currently, approximately 33% of the net room tax proceeds are used for travel and tourism in Davie County (including tourism related capital projects). The balance is deposited in the general fund. Under the bill, at least 50% of the net proceeds must be used for travel and tourism, with the balance available to the general fund. The bill also defines the percentage (7%) of the gross proceeds that can be retained by the county to cover the costs of administration and collecting the tax. The bill modernizes the local act by incorporating the uniform provisions for county room occupancy taxes, and incorporates a formal definition of "promoting travel and tourism."

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: Under current law Davie County collects a 3% occupancy tax. According the Davie County Finance Office, the occupancy tax proceeds have remained relatively constant, with revenue of $32,464 in 1995-6 and $33,168 in 1996-7. Collections through May of 1998 are $31,689. The county anticipates 1997-8 revenue of approximately $34,689. This creates a three year average revenue stream of $33,440. Under current law approximately $11,147 of that amount had to be deposited in a special account for travel and tourism activities. Under the bill, the amount dedicated to travel and tourism would increase to $16,720. No substantial increase in the number of rooms available is expected.

EXPLANATION OF HOUSE BILL 1246:
Modify Davie Room Tax Use

To: Senate Finance Committee
From: Cindy Avrette, Committee Counsel
Date: June 17, 1998
Sponsor: Rep. Howard

This bill increases the amount of the occupancy tax net proceeds Davie County must use to promote travel and tourism in Davie County. It also modernizes the language in the current local authorizing legislation.

The General Assembly authorized Davie County to levy a 3% occupancy tax in 1989. The legislation requires that one-third of the net proceeds from the tax be used to promote travel and tourism and to finance tourism related capital projects. The remaining two-thirds may be used for any lawful purpose. This bill proposes to increase the percentage of the net proceeds that must be used for travel and tourism from 33.3% to at least 50%. The remaining net proceeds may continue to be used for any lawful purpose.

In 1997, the General Assembly enacted G.S. 153A-155. That statute sets forth the uniform provisions for county room occupancy taxes. The uniform provisions address the following points:

- The room occupancy tax may be levied only by resolution.
- The room occupancy tax is collected by the operator of businesses subject to the tax. An operator who collects the tax may deduct from the amount remitted to the taxing county a discount equal to the discount the State allows the operator for State sales and use tax. Under current law, there is no discount allowed retailers who collect the State sales and use tax.
- The taxing county administers the room occupancy tax.
- The penalties for failing to file a return or pay the tax are the same as for the sales tax. Hotels and motels are already subject to the sales tax and its penalties. The relevant penalties are as follows: Failure to file return is 5% per month up to a maximum of 25%; Failure to pay tax is 10%; Negligent failure to comply with the law is 10%, but may be 25% if the negligence resulted in a substantial understatement of tax; Fraud is 50%; Intentional tax evasion is a Class I felony; and Intentional failure to collect, file, or pay is a Class 1 misdemeanor. Under the current local act, the penalty is $10 for each day's omission plus an additional penalty equal to 5% of the tax due if the return is more than 30 days late. The county board of commissioners may waive the penalties.
- The room occupancy tax may be repealed by resolution.

The bill modernizes the local act by incorporating the uniform provisions contained in G.S. 153A-155 (Section 2), repealing the redundant provisions in the current local act, and incorporating a definition for "net proceeds" and "promote travel and tourism". The definition of "net proceeds" limits the county's cost of collecting and administering the tax to 7% of the amount collected. The term "promote travel and tourism" means "to advertise or market an area or activity, publish and distribute pamphlets and other materials, conduct market research, or engage in similar promotional activities that attract tourists or business travelers to the area." The term also includes administrative expenses incurred in engaging in the listed activities.

SENATE BILL 1102*

Short Title: Modify Davie Room Tax Use. (Local)

Sponsors: Senator Cochrane.

Referred to: Finance.

May 13, 1998

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO MODIFY THE PURPOSES FOR WHICH DAVIE OCCUPANCY TAX PROCEEDS MAY BE USED AND TO MAKE TECHNICAL AND CONFORMING CHANGES TO THE LAW.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. Section 1 of Chapter 928 of the 1989 Session Laws reads as rewritten:

"Section 1. ~~Occupancy~~ Davie County occupancy tax.

(a) Authorization and Scope. -- The Davie County Board of Commissioners may ~~by resolution, after not less than 10 days' public notice and after a public hearing held pursuant thereto,~~ levy a room occupancy tax of three percent (3%) of the gross receipts derived from the rental of any room, lodging, or similar accommodation furnished by a hotel, motel, inn, or similar place within the county that is subject to sales tax imposed by the State under G.S. 105-164.4(a)(3). This tax is in addition to any State or local sales tax. This tax does not apply to accommodations furnished by nonprofit charitable, educational, or religious organizations.

(b) ~~Collection.~~ Administration. -- A tax levied under this section shall be levied, administered, collected, and repealed as provided in G.S. 153A-155. The penalties provided in G.S. 153A-155 apply to a tax levied under this section.

~~Every operator of a business subject to the tax levied under this section shall, on and after the effective date of the levy of the tax, collect the tax. This tax shall be collected as part of the charge for furnishing a taxable accommodation. The tax shall be stated and charged separately from the sales records, and shall be paid by the purchaser to the operator of the business as trustee for and on account of the county.~~

~~The tax shall be added to the sales price and shall be passed on to the purchaser instead of being borne by the operator of the business. The county shall design, print, and furnish to all appropriate businesses and persons in the county the necessary forms for filing returns and instructions to ensure the full collection of the tax. An operator of a business who collects the occupancy tax levied under this section may deduct from the amount remitted to the county a discount of three percent (3%) of the amount collected.~~

~~(c) Administration. The county shall administer a tax levied under this section. A tax levied under this section is due and payable to the county tax administrator in monthly installments on or before the 15th day of the month following the month in which the tax accrues. Every person, firm, corporation, or association liable for the tax shall, on or before the 15th day of each month, prepare and render a return on a form prescribed by the county. The return shall state the total gross receipts derived in the preceding month from rentals upon which the tax is levied.~~

~~A return filed with the county tax administrator under this section is not a public record as defined by G.S. 132-1 and may not be disclosed except as required by law.~~

~~(d) Penalties. A person, firm, corporation, or association who fails or refuses to file the return required by this section shall pay a penalty of ten dollars ($10.00) for each day's omission. In case of failure or refusal to file the return or pay the tax for a period of 30 days after the time required for filing the return or for paying the tax, there shall be an additional tax, as a penalty, of five percent (5%) of the tax due in addition to any other penalty, with an additional tax of five percent (5%) for each additional month or fraction thereof until the tax is paid. The board of commissioners may, for good cause shown, compromise or forgive the additional tax penalties imposed by this subsection.~~

~~Any person who willfully attempts in any manner to evade a tax imposed under this section or who willfully fails to pay the tax or make and file a return shall, in addition to all other penalties provided by law, be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punishable by a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000), imprisonment not to exceed six months, or both.~~

(e) Distribution and use of tax revenue. -- Davie County shall, on a monthly basis, deposit in a special account ~~thirty-three and one-third percent (33-1/3%)~~ at least fifty percent (50%) of the net proceeds of the occupancy tax. Funds in the special account may be used only to promote travel and tourism in Davie County and to finance tourism related capital projects in the county. However, any tax proceeds in the special account that have not been appropriated after three years following the date they were deposited in the account shall be remitted to the general fund of Davie County and may be used for any lawful purpose.

Davie County shall, on a monthly basis, remit the remaining ~~sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66-2/3) of the~~ net proceeds of the tax to its general funds and may use these funds for any lawful purpose. ~~As used in this subsection, "net proceeds" means gross proceeds, including penalties and interest, less the cost to the county of administering and collecting the tax, as determined by the finance office.~~ The following definitions apply in this subsection:

(1) Net proceeds. -- Gross proceeds less the cost to the county of administering and collecting the tax, as determined by the finance officer, not to exceed seven percent (7%) of the amount collected.

(2) Promote travel and tourism. -- To advertise or market an area or activity, publish and distribute pamphlets and other materials, conduct market research, or engage in similar promotional activities that attract tourists or business travelers to the area; the term includes administrative expenses incurred in engaging in the listed activities.

~~(f) Effective date of levy. A tax levied under this section shall become effective on the date specified in the resolution levying the tax. That date must be the first day of a calendar month, however, and may not be earlier than the first day of the second month after the date the resolution is adopted.~~

~~(g) Repeal. A tax levied under this section may be repealed by a resolution adopted by the Davie County Board of Commissioners. Repeal of a tax levied under this section shall become effective on the first day of a month and may not become effective until the end of the fiscal year in which the repeal resolution was adopted. Repeal of a tax levied under this section does not affect a liability for a tax that was attached before the effective date of the repeal, nor does it affect a right to a refund of a tax that accrued before the effective date of the repeal.~~"

Section 2. County Administrative Provisions. Section 3(b) of S.L. 1997-102, as amended by Section 2 of S.L. 1997-255, Section 2 of S.L. 1997-342, Section 3 of S.L. 1997-364, and Section 6 of S.L. 1997-410, reads as rewritten:

"(b) This section applies only to Avery, Brunswick, Davie, Madison, Nash, Person, Randolph, and Scotland Counties."

Section 3. This act becomes effective July 1, 1998.

EXPLANATION OF SENATE BILL 77:
Sales Tax Refunds for Schools (PCS)

TO: Senate Finance Committee
FROM: Martha H. Harris, Staff Attorney
DATE: June 23, 1998
SPONSOR: Senator Winner

Senate Bill 77 would add local school administrative units to the list of governmental entities that may obtain an annual refund of the State and local sales and use taxes paid by them. The bill becomes effective July 1, 1998, and applies to purchases made on or after that date. The proposed committee substitute changes the effective date and removes the original bill's limitation to taxes paid on capital outlay purchases.

The refunds apply to direct purchases of tangible personal property. They also apply to sales and use tax liability indirectly incurred by a local school administrative unit on building materials, supplies, fixtures, and equipment that become a part of any building that is owned or leased by the unit and is being built, altered, or repaired for use by the unit. To obtain a sales and use tax refund, a local school administrative unit must request the refund in writing within six months after the end of the unit's fiscal year. The request must include any information and documentation required by the Secretary of Revenue.

Prior to 1961, the State granted sales and use tax exemptions to state and local governmental entities, including public schools, and nonprofit entities. Because of the number of abuses involving the exemption and the difficulty of auditing these transactions, the legislature changed the law in 1961 to allow refunds as opposed to outright exemptions. The statute lists those entities that are entitled to a refund. Nonprofit educational institutions, as well as most other nonprofit entities, are entitled to a semiannual refund of State and local sales and use tax.

The General Assembly did not include State agencies in the list of entities entitled to an annual refund of State and local sales taxes because the refund process would not benefit the General Fund, from which the agencies receive their appropriations, and would create unnecessary paperwork for the agencies. The General Assembly did not include public schools in the list of entities entitled to an annual refund for similar reasons. First, public school books and school lunches are exempt from sales tax. Second, most of the operating money for public schools comes from the General Fund, although most of the capital money comes from the counties.

Under current law, although a school board cannot receive sales tax refunds, a county would be entitled to a refund of State sales and use taxes paid if it purchased items on behalf of its school board. More than one-half of the counties have statutory authority to acquire property on behalf of their school boards and thus may receive sales tax refunds if they exercise that authority. The other counties do not have this authority, although the Attorney General's Office has stated that they may acquire property on behalf of their school boards if they enter into an interlocal agreement with the school board. Under this bill, the school board could receive the refunds directly, without having to arrange for the county to acquire the property and apply for the refunds on its behalf.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: The refunds are administered by the Department of Revenue.

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 1, 1998.

AMENDMENT SUMMARY: Cities, counties, and other specifically named local government authorities are allowed an annual refund for state and local sales taxes paid. The amendment would add local school administrative units to the list.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: The estimate for the current expense portion was based on a review of data shown in the Statistical Profile: 1997 publication of the Department of Public Instruction. The data shown included current expense by spending category for the 1995-96 fiscal year. That data was grown by 6.5% per year to project the amount for future years. The analysis excluded the "materials and supplies" numbers for the "Child Nutrition" and "Transportation of Pupils" categories because public schools purchase food for use in a cafeteria tax-free under a resale certificate and the fact that the sales tax does not apply to motor fuel purchases.

For capital outlay the 1995-96 numbers were grown by 6.5% and amounts were added for the $1.8 billion school bond authorization. The analysis assumed that the remaining $900 million of authorized bonds would be issued in equal annual increments in March of each year. In addition, it was assumed that 30% of the bond proceeds would be spent in the first fiscal year after the bonds were sold, 40% the next year, and 30% the following year. Finally, the tangible personal property portion of capital outlay was assumed to be 50% of the total cost.

EXPLANATION OF SENATE BILL 1150:
Proposed Committee Substitute
Amend Local Sales Tax

TO: Senate Finance Committee
FROM: Cindy Avrette, Committee Counsel
DATE: June 22, 1998
SPONSOR: Senator Dalton
Recommendation of the Education Oversight Committe

There are three Articles of the Revenue Act that authorize counties to levy local sales and use taxes. Article 39 authorizes a one-cent tax, Article 40 authorizes a half-cent tax, and Article 42 authorizes an additional half-cent tax. Article 40, enacted in 1983, and Article 42, enacted in 1986, each provided that for the first ten fiscal years in which the tax was in effect in a county, the county was required to use a percentage of the tax revenue for public school capital outlay purposes, including retirement of outstanding debt. In 1993, the earmarking was extended for an additional five years. The first earmarking expires this year; the second will expire in 2002.

The original bill made the earmarking permanent. The proposed committee substitute for Senate Bill 1150 extends the time periods under Articles 40 and 42 so that the earmarking will continue to the year 2011. For these additional years, counties will be required to use 30% of the tax revenue from the first half-cent local sales tax (Article 40) and 60% of the tax revenue from the second half-cent local sales tax (Article 42) only for public school capital outlay purposes. In 1985, the General Assembly exempted Burke County from the restriction that it use a percentage of the first half-cent local sales tax for public school capital outlay purposes. This exemption will remain in effect.

If a county can demonstrate that it does not need the earmarked revenue to meet its public school capital needs, it may petition the Local Government Commission to authorize it to use the money for any public purposes. In making its decision, the Commission must consider not only the public school capital needs but also the other capital needs of the county.

Senate Bill 1150 also defines public school capital outlay purposes as the term is defined in the School Budget and Fiscal Control Act. The term is defined broadly in this act to include appropriations for the acquisition of real property and building s for school purposes as well as the acquisition of furniture, computers, equipment, buses, etc. The Local Government Commission currently interprets the term as it is defined in the School Budget and Fiscal Control Act. Therefore, this clarification of the law will not change the way counties are currently using the money.

NORTH CAROLINA GENERAL ASSEMBLY
LEGISLATIVE FISCAL ESTIMATE

BILL NUMBER: SB 1150 (Proposed Senate Committee Substitute)
SHORT TITLE: Amend Local Sales Tax

FISCAL IMPACT

Yes ( ) No (X) No Estimate Available ( )

SUMMARY OF COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE: (1) The 1983 General Assembly authorized counties to levy a ½ cent local sales tax, to be collected by the State and distributed on a per capita basis to each county area., with the requirement that 40% of the county government share should be allocated to school capital projects for the first 5 years and 30% for the next 5 years. The 1993 General Assembly extended the earmarking 5 more years. This earmarking ends with the 1997-98 fiscal year. The Committee substitute would extend the earmarking for an additional 13 years. For all but a handful of counties the earmarking would be end on July 1, 2011. (2) The 1986 General Assembly authorized counties to levy a ½ cent local sales tax, to be distributed on a per capita basis, with the requirement that a certain percentage of the county government portion be spent on school facilities for an 11-year period. The earmarking share for the final year was 60%. The 1993 General Assembly extended the 60% earmarking another 5 years. This earmarking will end with the 2001-02 fiscal year. The Committee substitute would extend the earmarking an additional 9 years. This means that for all counties this earmarking would end July 1, 2011.

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 1, 1998.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: There is no direct impact on state or local revenue or expenditures. The effect of the bill would be to extend the required earmarking of the two ½ cent local option sales taxes. For information purposes, an FRD estimate of the earmarked portion of the two taxes for the 1998-99 fiscal year is $233.8 million. In addition, from 1998-84 to 1997-98 the estimated total required earmarking has amounted to $2.0 billion.

For all other purposes, a development zone has the same enterprise tier designation as the county in which it is located.

"§ 105-129.4. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Eligibility; forfeiture.

(a) Type of Business. -- A taxpayer is eligible for a credit allowed by G.S. 105-129.12 if the real property for which the credit is claimed is used for a central administrative office that creates at least 40 new jobs. A taxpayer is eligible for the other credits allowed by this Article if the taxpayer engages in one of the following types of businesses and the jobs with respect to which a credit is claimed are created in that business, the machinery and equipment with respect to which a credit is claimed are used in that business, and the research and development for which a credit is claimed are carried out as part of that business:

(1) Air courier services.
(2) Central administrative office that creates at least 40 new jobs.
(3) Data processing.
(4) ~~Manufacturing or processing.~~ Manufacturing.
(5) Warehousing or ~~distribution.~~ wholesale trade.

(a1) Central Administrative Office. -- A central administrative office creates at least 40 new jobs ~~if, during the taxable year the taxpayer first uses the property as a central administrative office,~~ if the taxpayer hires at least 40 additional full-time employees to fill new positions at the ~~office.~~ office either in the year the taxpayer first uses the property as a central administrative office or in the preceding 24 months while using temporary space for the central administrative office functions during completion of the administrative office property. Jobs transferred from one area in the State to another area in the State are not considered new jobs for purposes of this subsection.

(b) Wage Standard. -- A taxpayer is eligible for the credit for creating jobs or the credit for worker training if the jobs for which the credit is claimed meet the wage standard at the time the taxpayer applies for the credit. A taxpayer is eligible for the credit for investing in machinery and equipment, the credit for research and development, or the credit for investing in real property for a central administrative office if the jobs at the location with respect to which the credit is claimed meet the wage standard at the time the taxpayer applies for the credit. Jobs meet the wage standard if they pay an average weekly wage that is at least equal to the applicable percentage times the applicable average weekly wage for the county in which the jobs will be located, as computed by the Secretary of Commerce from data compiled by the Employment Security Commission for the most recent period for which data are available. The applicable percentage for jobs located in an enterprise tier one area is one hundred percent (100%). The applicable percentage for all other jobs is one hundred ten percent (110%). The applicable average weekly wage is the lowest of the following: (i) the average wage for all insured private employers in the county, (ii) the average wage for all insured private employers in the State, and (iii) the average wage for all insured private employers in the county multiplied by the county income/wage adjustment factor. The county income/wage adjustment factor is the county income/wage ratio divided by the State income/wage ratio. The county income/wage ratio is average per capita income in the county divided by the annualized average wage for all insured private employers in the county. The State income/wage ratio is the average per capita income in the State divided by the annualized average wage for all insured private employers in the State.

(b1) Large Investment. -- A taxpayer who is otherwise eligible for a tax credit under this Article becomes eligible for the large investment enhancements provided for credits under this Article if the Secretary of Commerce certifies that the taxpayer will purchase or lease, and place in service in connection with the eligible business within a two-year period, at least one hundred fifty million dollars ($150,000,000) worth of one or more of the following: real property, machinery and equipment, or central administrative office property. If the taxpayer fails to make the level of investment certified within this two-year period, the taxpayer forfeits the large investment enhancements as provided in subsection (d) of this section.

~~(c) Worker Training. -- A taxpayer is eligible for the tax credit for worker training only for training workers who occupy jobs for which the taxpayer is eligible to claim an installment of the credit for creating jobs or which are full-time positions at a location with respect to which the taxpayer is eligible to claim an installment of the credit for investing in machinery and equipment for the taxable year.~~

~~The credit for worker training is allowed only with respect to employees in positions not classified as exempt under the Fair Labor Standards Act, 29 U.S.C. § 213(a)(1) and for expenditures for training that would be eligible for expenditure or reimbursement under the Department of Community Colleges' New and Expanding Industry Program, as determined by guidelines adopted by the State Board of Community Colleges. The credit is not allowed for expenditures that are paid or reimbursed by the New and Expanding Industry Program. To establish eligibility, the taxpayer must obtain as part of the application process under G.S. 105-129.6 the certification of the Department of Community Colleges that the taxpayer's planned worker training would satisfy the requirements of this paragraph. A taxpayer shall apply to the Department of Community Colleges for this certification. The application must be on a form provided by the Department of Community Colleges, must provide a detailed plan of the worker training to be provided, and must contain any information required by the Department of Community Colleges to determine whether the requirements of this paragraph will be satisfied. If the Department of Community Colleges determines that the planned worker training meets the requirements of this paragraph, the Department of Community Colleges shall issue a certificate describing the location with respect to which the credit is claimed and~~

~~stating that the planned worker training meets the requirements of this paragraph. The State Board of Community Colleges may adopt rules in accordance with Chapter 150B of the General Statutes that are needed to carry out its responsibilities under this paragraph.~~

(d) Forfeiture. -- A taxpayer forfeits a credit allowed under this Article if the taxpayer was not eligible for the credit at the time the taxpayer applied for the credit. In addition, a taxpayer forfeits a large investment enhancement of a tax credit if the taxpayer fails to make the level of investment certified by the Secretary of Commerce under subsection (b1) of this section within the required two-year period. A taxpayer that forfeits a credit under this Article is liable for all past taxes avoided as a result of the credit plus interest at the rate established under G.S. 105-241.1(i), computed from the date the taxes would have been due if the credit had not been allowed. The past taxes and interest are due 30 days after the date the credit is forfeited; a taxpayer that fails to pay the past taxes and interest by the due date is subject to the penalties provided in G.S. 105-236. If a taxpayer forfeits the credit for creating jobs or the credit for investing in machinery and equipment, the taxpayer also forfeits any credit for worker training claimed for the jobs for which the credit for creating jobs was claimed or the jobs at the location with respect to which the credit for investing in machinery and equipment was claimed.

(e) Change in Ownership of Business. -- The sale, merger, acquisition, or bankruptcy of a business, or any ~~other~~ transaction by which an existing business reformulates itself as another business, does not create new eligibility in a succeeding business with respect to credits for which the predecessor was not eligible under this Article. A successor business may, however, take any installment of or carried-over portion of a credit that its predecessor could have taken if it had a tax liability. The acquisition of a business is a new investment that creates new eligibility in the acquiring taxpayer under this Article if any of the following conditions are met:

(1) The business closed before it was acquired.

(2) The business was required to file a notice of plant closing or mass layoff under the federal Worker Adjustment and Retraining Notification Act, 29 U.S.C. § 2102, before it was acquired.

(3) The business was acquired by its employees through an employee stock option transaction or another similar mechanism.

"§ 105-129.5. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Tax election; cap.

(a) Tax Election. -- The credits provided in this Article are allowed against the franchise tax levied in Article 3 of this Chapter and the income taxes levied in Article 4 of this Chapter. The credit for investing in central administrative office property provided in G.S. 105-129.12 is also allowed against the gross premiums tax levied in Article 8B of this Chapter. The taxpayer shall elect the tax against which a credit will be claimed when filing the return on which the first installment of the credit is claimed. This election is binding. Any carryforwards of the credit must be claimed against the same tax.

(b) Cap. -- The credits allowed under this Article may not exceed fifty percent (50%) of the tax against which they are claimed for the taxable year, reduced by the sum of all other credits allowed against that tax, except tax payments made by or on behalf of the taxpayer. This limitation applies to the cumulative amount of credit, including carryforwards, claimed by the taxpayer under this Article against each tax for the taxable year. Any unused portion of ~~the~~ a credit with respect to a large investment may be carried forward for the succeeding ~~five years.~~ 20 years. Any unused portion of any other credit may be carried forward for the succeeding five years.

"§ 105-129.6. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Application; reports.

(a) Application. -- To claim the credits allowed by this Article, the taxpayer must provide with the tax return the certification of the Secretary of Commerce that the taxpayer meets all of the eligibility requirements of G.S. 105-129.4 with respect to each credit. A taxpayer shall apply to the Secretary of Commerce for certification of eligibility. The application must be on a form provided by the Secretary of Commerce and must contain any information necessary for the Secretary of Commerce to determine whether the taxpayer meets the eligibility requirements. If the Secretary of Commerce determines that the taxpayer meets all of the eligibility requirements of G.S. 105-129.4 with respect to a credit, the Secretary shall issue a certificate describing the location with respect to which the credit is claimed, outlining the eligibility requirements for the credit, and stating that the taxpayer meets the eligibility requirements. If the Secretary of Commerce determines that the taxpayer does not meet all of the eligibility requirements of G.S. 105-129.4 with respect to a credit, the Secretary must advise the taxpayer in writing of the eligibility requirements the taxpayer fails to meet. The Secretary of Commerce may adopt rules in accordance with Chapter 150B of the General Statutes that are needed to carry out the Secretary of Commerce's responsibilities under this section.

(a1) Fee. -- When filing an application for certification under this section, the taxpayer must pay the Department of Commerce a fee of seventy-five dollars ($75.00). Fees collected under this subsection are receipts of the Department of Commerce.

(b) Reports. -- The Department of Commerce shall report to the Department of Revenue and to the Fiscal Research Division of the General Assembly by May 1 of each year the following information for the 12-month period ending the preceding April 1:

(1) The number of applications for each credit allowed in this Article.
(2) The number and enterprise tier area of new jobs with respect to which credits were applied for.
(3) The cost of machinery and equipment with respect to which credits were applied for.

"§ 105-129.7. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Substantiation.

To claim a credit allowed by this Article, the taxpayer must provide any information required by the Secretary of Revenue. Every taxpayer claiming a credit under this Article shall maintain and make available for inspection by the Secretary of Revenue any records the Secretary considers necessary to determine and verify the amount of the credit to which the taxpayer is entitled. The burden of proving eligibility for the credit and the amount of the credit shall rest upon the taxpayer, and no credit shall be allowed to a taxpayer that fails to maintain adequate records or to make them available for inspection.

"§ 105-129.8. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for creating jobs.

(a) Credit. -- A taxpayer that meets the eligibility requirements set out in G.S. 105-129.4, has five or more employees for at least 40 weeks during the taxable year, and hires an additional full-time employee during that year to fill a position located in this State is allowed a credit for creating a new full-time job. The amount of the credit for each new full-time job created is set out in the table below and is based on the enterprise tier of the area in which the position is ~~located.~~ located. In addition, if the position is located in a development zone, the amount of the credit is increased by four thousand dollars ($4,000) per job.

Area Enterprise Tier	Amount of Credit
Tier One	$12,500
Tier Two	4,000
Tier Three	3,000
Tier Four	1,000
Tier Five	500

A position is located in an area if more than fifty percent (50%) of the employee's duties are performed in the area. The credit may not be taken in the taxable year in which the additional employee is hired. Instead, the credit shall be taken in equal installments over the four years following the taxable year in which the additional employee was hired and shall be conditioned on the continued employment by the taxpayer of the number of full-time employees the taxpayer had upon hiring the employee that caused the taxpayer to qualify for the credit.

If, in one of the four years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the number of the taxpayer's full-time employees falls below the number of full-time employees the taxpayer had in the year in which the taxpayer qualified for the credit, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit. The taxpayer may, however, take the portion of an installment that accrued in a previous year and was carried forward to the extent permitted under G.S. 105-129.5.

Jobs transferred from one area in the State to another area in the State shall not be considered new jobs for purposes of this section. If, in one of the four years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the position filled by the employee is moved to an area in a higher- or lower-numbered enterprise tier, or is moved from a development zone to an area that is not a development zone, the remaining installments of the credit shall be calculated as if the position had been created initially in the area to which it was moved.

(b) Repealed by Session Laws 1989, c. 111, s. 1.

(b1), (c) Repealed by Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 3.3.

(d) Planned Expansion. -- A taxpayer that signs a letter of commitment with the Department of Commerce to create at least twenty new full-time jobs in a specific area within two years of the date the letter is signed qualifies for the credit in the amount allowed by this section based on the area's enterprise tier and development zone designation for that year even though the employees are not hired that year. The credit shall be available in the taxable year after at least twenty employees have been hired if the hirings are within the two-year commitment period. The conditions outlined in subsection (a) apply to a credit taken under this subsection except that if the area is redesignated to a higher-numbered enterprise tier or loses its development zone designation after the year the letter of commitment was signed, the credit is allowed based on the area's enterprise tier and development zone designation for the year the letter was signed. If the taxpayer does not hire the employees within the two-year period, the taxpayer does not qualify for the credit. However, if the taxpayer qualifies for a credit under subsection (a) in the year any new employees are hired, the taxpayer may take the credit under that subsection.

(e), (f) Repealed by Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 3.3 for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1996.

"§ 105-129.9. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for investing in machinery and equipment.

(a) Credit. -- If a taxpayer that has purchased or leased eligible machinery and equipment places it in service in this State during the taxable year, the taxpayer is allowed a credit equal to seven percent (7%) of the excess of the eligible investment amount over the applicable threshold. Machinery and equipment is eligible if is capitalized by the taxpayer for tax purposes under the Code and is not leased to another party. In addition, in the case of a large investment, machinery and equipment that is not capitalized by the taxpayer is eligible if the taxpayer leases it from another party. The credit may not be taken for the taxable year in which the equipment is placed in service but shall be taken in equal installments over the seven years following the taxable year in which the equipment is placed in service.

(b) Eligible Investment Amount. -- The eligible investment amount is the lesser of (i) the cost of the eligible machinery and equipment and (ii) the amount by which the cost of all of the taxpayer's eligible machinery and equipment that is in service in this State on the last day of the taxable year exceeds the cost of all of the taxpayer's eligible machinery and equipment that was in service in this State on the last day of the base year. The base year is that year, of the three immediately preceding taxable years, in which the taxpayer had the most eligible machinery and equipment in service in this State.

(c) Threshold. -- The applicable threshold is the appropriate amount set out in the following table based on the enterprise tier of the area where the eligible machinery and equipment are placed in service during the taxable year. If the taxpayer places eligible machinery and equipment in service in more than one area during the taxable year, the threshold applies separately to the eligible machinery and equipment placed in service in each area. If the taxpayer places eligible machinery and equipment in service in an area over the course of a two-year period, the applicable threshold for the second taxable year is reduced by the eligible investment amount for the previous taxable year.

Area Enterprise Tier	Threshold
Tier One	$ -0-

Tier Two	100,000
Tier Three	200,000
Tier Four	500,000
Tier Five	1,000,000

(d) Expiration. -- If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the machinery and equipment with respect to which the credit was claimed are disposed of, taken out of service, or moved out of State, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit. The taxpayer may, however, take the portion of an installment that accrued in a previous year and was carried forward to the extent permitted under G.S. 105-129.5.

If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the machinery and equipment with respect to which the credit was claimed are moved to an area in a higher-numbered enterprise tier, or are moved from a development zone to an area that is not a development zone, the remaining installments of the credit are allowed only to the extent they would have been allowed if the machinery and equipment had been placed in service initially in the area to which they were moved.

(e) Planned Expansion. -- A taxpayer that signs a letter of commitment with the Department of Commerce to place specific eligible machinery and equipment in service in an area within two years after the date the letter is signed may, in the year the eligible machinery and equipment are placed in service in that area, calculate the credit for which the taxpayer qualifies based on the area's enterprise tier and development zone designation for the year the letter was signed. All other conditions apply to the credit, but if the area has been redesignated to a higher-numbered enterprise tier or has lost its development zone designation after the year the letter of commitment was signed, the credit is allowed based on the area's enterprise tier and development zone designation for the year the letter was signed. If the taxpayer does not place part or all of the specified eligible machinery and equipment in service within the two-year period, the taxpayer does not qualify for the benefit of this subsection with respect to the machinery and equipment not placed in service within the two-year period. However, if the taxpayer qualifies for a credit in the year the eligible machinery and equipment are placed in service, the taxpayer may take the credit for that year as if no letter of commitment had been signed pursuant to this subsection.

"§ 105-129.10. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for research and development.

(a) General Credit. -- A taxpayer that claims for the taxable year a federal income tax credit under section ~~41~~ 41(a) of the Code for increasing research activities is allowed a credit equal to five percent (5%) of the State's apportioned share of the taxpayer's expenditures for increasing research activities. The State's apportioned share of a taxpayer's expenditures for increasing research activities is the excess of the taxpayer's qualified research expenses for the taxable year over the base amount, as determined under section 41 of the Code, multiplied by a percentage equal to the ratio of the taxpayer's qualified research expenses in this State for the taxable year to the taxpayer's total qualified research expenses for the taxable year.

(b) Alternative Credit. -- A taxpayer that claims the alternative incremental credit under section 41(c)(4) of the Code for increasing research activities is allowed a credit equal to twenty-five percent (25%) of the State's apportioned share of the federal credit claimed. The State's apportioned share of the federal credit claimed is the amount of the alternative incremental credit the taxpayer claimed under section 41(c)(4) of the Code for the taxable year multiplied by a percentage equal to the ratio of the taxpayer's qualified research expenses in this State for the taxable year to the taxpayer's total qualified research expenses for the taxable year. For the purpose of this subsection, the amount of the alternative incremental credit claimed by a taxpayer is determined without regard to any reduction elected under section 280C(c) of the Code.

(c) Definitions. -- As used in this section, the terms 'qualified research expenses' and 'base amount' have the meaning provided in section 41 of the Code.

"§ 105-129.11. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for worker training.

(a) Credit. -- A taxpayer that provides worker training for five or more of its eligible employees during the taxable year is allowed a credit equal to ~~fifty percent (50%) of its eligible expenditures for~~ the wages paid to the eligible employees during the training. Wages paid to an employee performing his or her job while being trained are not eligible for the credit. For positions located in an enterprise tier one area, the credit may not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) per employee trained during the taxable year. For other positions, the credit may not exceed five hundred dollars ($500.00) per employee trained during the taxable year. A position is located in an area if more than fifty percent (50%) of the employee's duties are performed in the area.

(b) Eligibility. -- ~~The eligibility of a taxpayer's expenditures and employees is determined as provided in G.S. 105-129.4.~~ An employee is eligible if the employee is in a full-time position not classified as exempt under the Fair Labor Standards Act, 29 U.S.C. § 213(a)(1) and meets one or more of the following conditions:

(1) The employee occupies a job for which the taxpayer is eligible to claim an installment of the credit for creating jobs.

(2) The employee is being trained to operate machinery and equipment for which the taxpayer is eligible to claim an installment of the credit for investing in machinery and equipment.

"§ 105-129.12. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for investing in central administrative office property.

(a) Credit. -- If a taxpayer that has purchased or leased real property in this State begins to use the property as a central administrative office during the taxable year, the taxpayer is allowed a credit equal to seven percent (7%) of the eligible investment amount. The eligible investment amount is the lesser of (i) the cost of the property and (ii) the amount by which the cost of all of the property the taxpayer is using in this State as central administrative offices on the last day of the taxable year exceeds the cost of all of the property the taxpayer was using in this State as central administrative offices on the last day of the base year. The base year is that year, of the three immediately preceding taxable years, in which the taxpayer was using the most property in this State as central administrative offices. In the case of property that is leased, the cost of the property is not determined as provided in G.S. 105-129.2 but is considered to be the taxpayer's lease payments over a seven-year period, plus any expenditures made by the taxpayer to improve the property before it is used as the taxpayer's central administrative office if the expenditures are not reimbursed or credited by the lessor. The maximum credit allowed a taxpayer under this section for property used as a central administrative office is five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000). The entire credit may not be taken for the taxable year in which the property is first used as a central administrative office but shall be taken in equal installments over the seven years following the taxable year in which the property is first used as a central administrative office. The basis in any real property for which a credit is allowed under this section shall be reduced by the amount of credit allowable.

(b) Mixed Use Property. -- If the taxpayer uses only part of the property as the taxpayer's central administrative office, the amount of the credit allowed under this section is reduced by multiplying it by a fraction the numerator of which is the square footage of the property used as the taxpayer's central administrative office and the denominator of which is the total square footage of the property.

(c) Expiration. -- If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the property with respect to which the credit was claimed is no longer used as a central administrative office, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit. If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, part of the property with respect to which the credit was claimed is no longer used as a central administrative office, the remaining installments of the credit shall be reduced by multiplying it by the fraction described in subsection (b) of this section. If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the total number of employees the taxpayer employs at all of its central administrative offices in this State drops by 40 or more, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit.

In each of these cases, the taxpayer may nonetheless take the portion of an installment that accrued in a previous year and was carried forward to the extent permitted under G.S. 105-129.5."

Section 2. G.S. 105-129.15(2) reads as rewritten:

"(2) Cost. -- ~~Determined~~ In the case of property owned by the taxpayer, cost is determined pursuant to regulations adopted under section 1012 of the Code, subject to the limitation on cost provided in section 179 of the Code. In the case of property the taxpayer leases from another, cost is value as determined pursuant to G.S. 105-130.4(j)(2)."

Section 3. G.S. 143B-437.04 reads as rewritten:

"§ 143B-437.04. ~~Economic~~ Community development block grants.

(a) The Department of Commerce shall adopt guidelines for the awarding of Community Development Block Grants ~~for economic development that will ensure that no~~ to ensure that:

(1) No local match is required for grants awarded for projects located in enterprise tier one areas as defined in G.S. ~~105-129.3 and, to~~ 105-129.3.

(2) To the extent practicable, ~~that~~ priority consideration for grants is given to projects located in enterprise tier one areas as defined in G.S. ~~105-129.3.~~ 105-129.3 or in development zones that have met the conditions of subsection (b) of this section.

(b) In order to qualify for the benefits of this section, after an area is designated a development zone under G.S. 105-129.3A, the governing body of the city in which the zone is located must adopt a strategy to improve the zone and establish a development zone committee to oversee the strategy. The strategy and the committee must conform with requirements established by the Secretary of Commerce."

"§ 105-129.26. Qualification; forfeiture.

(a) Major Recycling Facility. -- A recycling facility qualifies for the tax benefits provided in this Article and in Article 5 of this Chapter for major recycling facilities if it meets all of the following conditions:

(1) The facility is located in an area that, at the time the owner began construction of the facility, was an enterprise tier one area pursuant to G.S. 105-129.3.
(2) The Secretary of Commerce has certified that the owner will, by the end of the fourth year after the year the owner begins construction of the recycling facility, invest at least three hundred million dollars ($300,000,000) in the facility and create at least 250 new, full-time jobs at the facility.
(3) The jobs at the recycling facility meet the wage standard in effect pursuant to G.S. 105-129.4(b) as of the date the owner begins construction of the facility.

(b) Large Recycling Facility. -- A recycling facility qualifies for the tax credit provided in G.S. 105-129.27 for large recycling facilities if it meets all of the following conditions:

(1) The facility is located in an area that, at the time the owner began construction of the facility, was an enterprise tier one area pursuant to G.S. 105-129.3.
(2) The Secretary of Commerce has certified that the owner will, by the end of the second year after the year the owner begins construction of the recycling facility, invest at least one hundred fifty million dollars ($150,000,000) in the facility and create at least 155 new, full-time jobs at the facility.

(3) The jobs at the recycling facility meet the wage standard in effect pursuant to G.S. 105-129.4(b) as of the date the owner begins construction of the facility.

(c) Forfeiture. -- If the owner of a large or major recycling facility fails to make the required minimum investment or create the required number of new jobs within the period certified by the Secretary of Commerce under this section, the recycling facility no longer qualifies for the applicable recycling facility tax benefits provided in this Article and in Article 5 of this Chapter and forfeits all tax benefits previously received under those Articles. Forfeiture does not occur, however, if the failure was due to events beyond the owner's control. Upon forfeiture of tax benefits previously received, the owner is liable under Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter for a tax equal to the amount of all past taxes under Articles 3, 4, and 5 previously avoided as a result of the tax benefits received plus interest at the rate established in G.S. 105-241.1(i), computed from the date the taxes would have been due if the tax benefits had not been received. The tax and interest are due 30 days after the date of the forfeiture. An owner that fails to pay the tax and interest is subject to the penalties provided in G.S. 105-236.

(d) Substantiation. -- To claim a credit allowed by this Article, the owner must provide any information required by the Secretary of Revenue. Every owner claiming a credit under this Article shall maintain and make available for inspection by the Secretary of Revenue any records the Secretary considers necessary to determine and verify the amount of the credit to which the owner is entitled. The burden of proving eligibility for the credit and the amount of the credit shall rest upon the owner, and no credit shall be allowed to an owner that fails to maintain adequate records or to make them available for inspection.

(e) Reports. -- The Department of Commerce shall report to the Fiscal Research Division of the General Assembly by May 1 of each year the following information for the 12-month period ending the preceding April 1:

(1) The number and location of large and major recycling facilities qualified under this Article.

(2) The number of new jobs created by each recycling facility.

(3) The amount of investment in each recycling facility.

(4) The amount of reinvestment credit refunded to each major recycling facility under G.S. 105-129.28.

"§ 105-129.27. Credit for investing in large or major recycling facility.

(a) Credit. -- An owner that purchases or leases machinery and equipment for a major recycling facility in this State during the taxable year is allowed a credit equal to fifty percent (50%) of the amount payable by the owner during the taxable year to purchase or lease the machinery and equipment. An owner that purchases or leases machinery and equipment for a large recycling facility in this State during the taxable year is allowed a credit equal to twenty percent (20%) of the amount payable by the owner during the taxable year to purchase or lease the machinery and equipment.

(b) Taxes Credited. -- The credit provided in this section is allowed against the franchise tax levied in Article 3 of this Chapter and the income tax levied in Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter. Any other nonrefundable credits allowed the owner are subtracted before the credit allowed by this section.

(c) Carryforwards. -- The credit provided in this section may not exceed the amount of tax against which it is claimed for the taxable year, reduced by the sum of all other credits allowed against that tax, except tax payments made by or on behalf of the owner. Any unused portion of the credit may be carried forward for the succeeding 25 years.

(d) Change in Ownership of Facility. -- The sale, merger, acquisition, or bankruptcy of a recycling facility, or any transaction by which the facility is reformulated as another business, does not create new eligibility in a succeeding owner with respect to a credit for which the predecessor was not eligible under this section. A successor business may, however, take any carried-over portion of a credit that its predecessor could have taken if it had a tax liability.

(e) Forfeiture. -- If any machinery or equipment for which a credit was allowed under this section is not placed in service within 30 months after the credit was allowed, the credit is forfeited. A taxpayer that forfeits a credit under this section is liable for all past taxes avoided as a result of the credit plus interest at the rate established under G.S. 105-241.1(i), computed from the date the taxes would have been due if the credit had not been allowed. The past taxes and interest are due 30 days after the date the credit is forfeited; a taxpayer that fails to pay the past taxes and interest by the due date is subject to the penalties provided in G.S. 105-236.

(f) No Double Credit. -- A recycling facility that is eligible for the credit allowed in this section is not allowed the credit for investing in machinery and equipment provided in G.S. 105-129.9.

"§ 105-129.28. Credit for reinvestment.

(a) Credit. -- A major recycling facility that is accessible by neither ocean barge nor ship and that transports materials to the facility or products away from the facility is allowed a credit against the tax imposed by Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter equal to its additional transportation and transloading expenses incurred with respect to the materials and products due to its inability to use ocean barges or ships. The additional expenses for which credit is allowed are expenses due to using river barges and expenses due to having to use another mode of transportation because the quantity that is transported by river barge is insufficient to meet the facility's needs. In order to claim the credit allowed by this section, the facility must provide the Secretary of Commerce audited documentation of the amount of its additional transportation and transloading expenses incurred during the taxable year.

(b) Cap. -- The credit allowed to a major recycling facility under this section for the taxable year may not exceed the applicable annual cap provided in the following table:

Taxable Year	Cap
1998	$ 150,000
1999	$ 640,000

2000	$ 3,860,000
2001	$ 8,050,000
2002	$ 9,550,000
2003	$10,100,000

(c) Reduction. -- For the first ten taxable years after the owner begins transporting materials and products to and from the major recycling facility, the credit allowed by this section must be reduced by the amount of credit allowed in previous years that was used for a purpose other than an allowable purpose under subsection (d) of this section, as certified by the Secretary of Commerce.

(d) Use of Credited Amount. -- For the first ten taxable years after the owner begins construction of the major recycling facility, the owner must use the amount of credit allowed under this section to pay for (i) investment in rail or roads associated with the facility, (ii) investment in water system infrastructure designed to reduce the expense of transporting materials and products to and from the recycling facility, and (iii) investment in land and infrastructure for other industrial sites located in the same county as the recycling facility. If the owner determines that there are no reasonable economic opportunities in a given year to use the total amount of credit for the expenditures described above, the owner may use the excess for investment at or in connection with the recycling facility above the initial required investment of three hundred million dollars ($300,000,000).

Expenses incurred for the purposes allowed in this subsection during a taxable year in the ten-year period may be counted toward a credit allowed in a later taxable year in the ten-year period. If the owner is not able to use the full amount of the credit during a taxable year for any of the purposes allowed by this subsection, the excess may be used for these purposes in subsequent taxable years.

The owner must provide the Secretary of Commerce with annual audited documentation demonstrating that the amount of credit received under this section during the previous twelve-month period has not been used for a purpose inconsistent with this subsection. If the Secretary of Commerce determines that the owner has used any of the credit for a purpose that is inconsistent with the requirements of this subsection, the Secretary of Commerce shall certify the amount so used to the Secretary of Revenue and the credit allowed the owner under this section for the following taxable year shall be reduced by that amount in accordance with subsection (c) of this section.

After the end of the ten-year period, the amount of any credit allowed under this section that has not yet been used may be used for investment at or in connection with the recycling facility above the initial required investment of three hundred million dollars ($300,000,000).

(e) Credit Refundable. -- If the credit allowed by this section exceeds the amount of tax imposed by Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowable, the Secretary shall refund the excess to the taxpayer. The refundable excess is governed by the provisions governing a refund of an overpayment by the taxpayer of the tax imposed in Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter. In computing the amount of tax against which multiple credits are allowed, nonrefundable credits are subtracted before refundable credits."

Section 13. G.S. 105-164.3 is amended by renumbering subdivision (8) as (7b) and adding a new subdivision to read:

"(8) Major recycling facility. -- Defined in G.S. 105-129.25."

Section 14. G.S. 105-164.4(a)(1d) is amended by adding a new sub-subdivision to read:

"j. Sales to a major recycling facility of the following tangible personal property for use in connection with the facility: cranes, structural steel crane support systems, foundations related to the cranes and support systems, port and dock facilities, rail equipment, and material handling equipment."

Section 15. G.S. 105-164.13 is amended by adding two new subdivisions to read:

"(10a) Sales to a major recycling facility of (i) lubricants and other additives for motor vehicles or machinery and equipment used at the facility and (ii) materials, supplies, parts, and accessories, other than machinery and equipment, that are not capitalized by the taxpayer and are used or consumed in the manufacturing and material handling processes at the facility.

(10b) Sales to a major recycling facility of electricity used at the facility."

Section 16. G.S. 105-164.14 is amended by adding a new subsection to read:

"(g) Major Recycling Facilities. -- The owner of a major recycling facility is allowed an annual refund of sales and use taxes paid by it under this Article on building materials, building supplies, fixtures, and equipment that become a part of the real property of the recycling facility. Liability incurred indirectly by the owner for sales and use taxes on these items is considered tax paid by the owner. A request for a refund must be in writing and must include any information and documentation required by the Secretary. A request for a refund is due within six months after the end of the major recycling facility's fiscal year. Refunds applied for after the due date are barred."

Section 17. G.S. 105-164.14(f) reads as rewritten:

"(f) Information to Counties. -- Upon written request of a county, the Secretary shall, within 30 days after the request, provide the designated county official a list of each claimant that has, within the past 12 months, received a refund under subsection ~~(b) or (c)~~ (b), (c), or (g) of this section of at least one thousand dollars ($1,000) of tax paid to the county. The list shall include the name and address of each claimant and the amount of the refund it has received from that county. Upon written request of a county, a claimant that has received a refund under subsection ~~(b) or (c)~~ (b), (c), or (g) of this section shall provide the designated county official a copy of the request for the refund and any supporting documentation requested by the county to verify the request. For the purpose of this subsection, the designated county official is the chair of the board of county commissioners or a county official designated in a resolution adopted by the board. Information provided to a county under this subsection is not a public record and may not be disclosed except in accordance with G.S. 153A-148.1. If a claimant determines that a refund it has received under subsection ~~(b) or (c)~~ (b), (c), or (g) of this section is incorrect, it shall file an amended request for the refund."

Section 18. G.S. 105-275(8) is amended by adding a new sub-subdivision to read:

"d. Real or personal property that is used or, if under construction, is to be used by a major recycling facility as defined in G.S. 105-129.25 predominantly for recycling or resource recovering of or from solid waste, if the Department of Environment and Natural Resources furnishes a certificate to the tax supervisor of the county in which the property is situated stating the Department of Environment and Natural Resources has found that the described property has been or will be constructed or installed for use by a major recycling facility, complies or will comply with the rules of the Department of Environment and Natural Resources, and has, or will have as a purpose recycling or resource recovering of or from solid waste."

Section 19. G.S. 105-129.28, as enacted by Section 12 of this act, is repealed effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2008. This section does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under G.S. 105-129.28 before the effective date of its repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under G.S. 105-129.28 before the effective date of its repeal.

The sole purpose of this ten-year sunset provision is to allow a determination to be made whether any major recycling facility continues to experience additional transportation and transloading expenses due to its inability to use ocean barges or ships to transport materials and products to and from the facility. It is the expectation and intent that the General Assembly will postpone the sunset of G.S. 105-129.28 if it is determined that, based on audited documentation submitted by a major recycling facility and verified by the Secretary of Commerce, that any major recycling facility continues to experience these additional transportation and transloading expenses as of 2008.

In measuring rates of unemployment and per capita income, the Secretary shall use the latest available data published by a State or federal agency generally recognized as having expertise concerning the data. In measuring population growth, the Secretary shall use the most recent estimates of population certified by the State Planning Officer.

(c) Relationship With Enterprise Tiers. -- For the purpose of the wage standard requirement of G.S. 105-129.3(b), the credit for investing in machinery and equipment allowed in G.S. 105-129.9, and the credit for worker training allowed in G.S. 105-129.11, a development zone is considered an enterprise tier one area. For all other purposes, a development zone has the same enterprise tier designation as the county in which it is located.

"§ 105-129.4. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Eligibility; forfeiture.

(a) Type of Business. -- A taxpayer is eligible for a credit allowed by G.S. 105-129.12 if the real property for which the credit is claimed is used for a central administrative office that creates at least 40 new jobs. A taxpayer is eligible for the other credits allowed by this Article if the taxpayer engages in one of the following types of businesses and the jobs with respect to which a credit is claimed are created in that business, the machinery and equipment with respect to which a credit is claimed are used in that business, and the research and development for which a credit is claimed are carried out as part of that business:

(1) Air courier services.
(2) Central administrative office that creates at least 40 new jobs.
(3) Data processing.
(4) ~~Manufacturing or processing.~~ Manufacturing.
(5) Warehousing or ~~distribution.~~ wholesale trade.

(a1) Central Administrative Office. -- A central administrative office creates at least 40 new jobs ~~if, during the taxable year the taxpayer first uses the property as a central administrative office,~~ if the taxpayer hires at least 40 additional full-time employees to fill new positions at the ~~office.~~ office either in the year the taxpayer first uses the property as a central administrative office or in the preceding 24 months while using temporary space for the central administrative office functions during completion of the administrative office property. Jobs transferred from one area in the State to another area in the State are not considered new jobs for purposes of this subsection.

(b) Wage Standard. -- A taxpayer is eligible for the credit for creating jobs or the credit for worker training if the jobs for which the credit is claimed meet the wage standard at the time the taxpayer applies for the credit. A taxpayer is eligible for the credit for investing in machinery and equipment, the credit for research and development, or the credit for investing in real property for a central administrative office if the jobs at the location with respect to which the credit is claimed meet the wage standard at the time the taxpayer applies for the credit. Jobs meet the wage standard if they pay an average weekly wage that is at least equal to the applicable percentage times the applicable average weekly wage for the county in which the jobs will be located, as computed by the Secretary of Commerce from data compiled by the Employment Security Commission for the most recent period for which data are available. The applicable percentage for jobs located in an enterprise tier one area is one hundred percent (100%). The applicable percentage for all other jobs is one hundred ten percent (110%). The applicable average weekly wage is the lowest of the following: (i) the average wage for all insured private employers in the county, (ii) the average wage for all insured private employers in the State, and (iii) the average wage for all insured private employers in the county multiplied by the county income/wage adjustment factor. The county income/wage adjustment factor is the county income/wage ratio divided by the State income/wage ratio. The county income/wage ratio is average per capita income in the county divided by the annualized average wage for all insured private employers in the county. The State income/wage ratio is the average per capita income in the State divided by the annualized average wage for all insured private employers in the State.

(b1) Large Investment. -- A taxpayer who is otherwise eligible for a tax credit under this Article becomes eligible for the large investment enhancements provided for credits under this Article if the Secretary of Commerce certifies that the taxpayer will purchase or lease, and place in service in connection with the eligible business within a two-year period, at least one hundred fifty million dollars ($150,000,000) worth of one or more of the following: real property, machinery and equipment, or central administrative office property. If the taxpayer fails to make the level of investment certified within this two-year period, the taxpayer forfeits the large investment enhancements as provided in subsection (d) of this section.

~~(c) Worker Training. -- A taxpayer is eligible for the tax credit for worker training only for training workers who occupy jobs for which the taxpayer is eligible to claim an installment of the credit for creating jobs or which are full-time positions at a location with respect to which the taxpayer is eligible to claim an installment of the credit for investing in machinery and equipment for the taxable year.~~

~~The credit for worker training is allowed only with respect to employees in positions not classified as exempt under the Fair Labor Standards Act, 29 U.S.C. § 213(a)(1) and for expenditures for training that would be eligible for expenditure or reimbursement under the Department of Community Colleges' New and Expanding Industry Program, as determined by guidelines adopted by the State Board of Community Colleges. The credit is not allowed for expenditures that are paid or reimbursed by the New and Expanding Industry Program. To establish eligibility, the taxpayer must obtain as part of the application process under G.S. 105-129.6 the certification of the Department of Community Colleges that the taxpayer's planned worker training would satisfy the requirements of this paragraph. A taxpayer shall apply to the Department of Community Colleges for this certification. The application must be on a form provided by the Department of Community Colleges, must provide a detailed plan of the worker training to be provided, and must contain any information required by the Department of Community Colleges to determine whether the requirements of this paragraph will be satisfied. If the Department of Community Colleges determines that the planned worker training meets the requirements of this paragraph, the Department of Community Colleges shall issue a certificate describing the location with respect to which the credit is claimed and stating that the planned worker training meets the requirements of this paragraph. The State Board of Community Colleges may adopt rules in accordance with Chapter 150B of the General Statutes that are needed to carry out its responsibilities under this paragraph.~~

(d) Forfeiture. -- A taxpayer forfeits a credit allowed under this Article if the taxpayer was not eligible for the credit at the time the taxpayer applied for the credit. In addition, a taxpayer forfeits a large investment enhancement of a tax credit if the taxpayer fails to make the level of investment certified by the Secretary of Commerce under subsection (b1) of this section within the required two-year period. A taxpayer that forfeits a credit under this Article is liable for all past taxes avoided as a result of the credit plus interest at the rate established under G.S. 105-241.1(i), computed from the date the taxes would have been due if the credit had not been allowed. The past taxes and interest are due 30 days after the date the credit is forfeited; a taxpayer that fails to pay the past taxes and interest by the due date is subject to the penalties provided in G.S. 105-236. If a taxpayer forfeits the credit for creating jobs or the credit for investing in machinery and equipment, the taxpayer also forfeits any credit for worker training claimed for the jobs for which the credit for creating jobs was claimed or the jobs at the location with respect to which the credit for investing in machinery and equipment was claimed.

(e) Change in Ownership of Business. -- The sale, merger, acquisition, or bankruptcy of a business, or any ~~other~~ transaction by which an existing business reformulates itself as another business, does not create new eligibility in a succeeding business with respect to credits for which the predecessor was not eligible under this Article. A successor business may, however, take any installment of or carried-over portion of a credit that its predecessor could have taken if it had a tax liability. The acquisition of a business is a new investment that creates new eligibility in the acquiring taxpayer under this Article if any of the following conditions are met:

(1) The business closed before it was acquired.

(2) The business was required to file a notice of plant closing or mass layoff under the federal Worker Adjustment and Retraining Notification Act, 29 U.S.C. § 2102, before it was acquired.

(3) The business was acquired by its employees through an employee stock option transaction or another similar mechanism.

"§ 105-129.5. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Tax election; cap.

(a) Tax Election. -- The credits provided in this Article are allowed against the franchise tax levied in Article 3 of this Chapter and the income taxes levied in Article 4 of this Chapter. The credit for investing in central administrative office property provided in G.S. 105-129.12 is also allowed against the gross premiums tax levied in Article 8B of this Chapter. The taxpayer shall elect the tax against which a credit will be claimed when filing the return on which the first installment of the credit is claimed. This election is binding. Any carryforwards of the credit must be claimed against the same tax.

(b) Cap. -- The credits allowed under this Article may not exceed fifty percent (50%) of the tax against which they are claimed for the taxable year, reduced by the sum of all other credits allowed against that tax, except tax payments made by or on behalf of the taxpayer. This limitation applies to the cumulative amount of credit, including carryforwards, claimed by the taxpayer under this Article against each tax for the taxable year. Any unused portion of ~~the~~ a credit with respect to a large investment may be carried forward for the succeeding ~~five years.~~ 20 years. Any unused portion of any other credit may be carried forward for the succeeding five years.

"§ 105-129.6. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Application; reports.

(a) Application. -- To claim the credits allowed by this Article, the taxpayer must provide with the tax return the certification of the Secretary of Commerce that the taxpayer meets all of the eligibility requirements of G.S. 105-129.4 with respect to each credit. A taxpayer shall apply to the Secretary of Commerce for certification of eligibility. The application must be on a form provided by the Secretary of Commerce and must contain any information necessary for the Secretary of Commerce to determine whether the taxpayer meets the eligibility requirements. If the Secretary of Commerce determines that the taxpayer meets all of the eligibility requirements of G.S. 105-129.4 with respect to a credit, the Secretary shall issue a certificate describing the location with respect to which the credit is claimed, outlining the eligibility requirements for the credit, and stating that the taxpayer meets the eligibility requirements. If the Secretary of Commerce determines that the taxpayer does not meet all of the eligibility requirements of G.S. 105-129.4 with respect to a credit, the Secretary must advise the taxpayer in writing of the eligibility requirements the taxpayer fails to meet. The Secretary of Commerce may adopt rules in accordance with Chapter 150B of the General Statutes that are needed to carry out the Secretary of Commerce's responsibilities under this section.

(a1) Fee. -- When filing an application for certification under this section, the taxpayer must pay the Department of Commerce a fee of seventy-five dollars ($75.00). Fees collected under this subsection are receipts of the Department of Commerce.

(b) Reports. -- The Department of Commerce shall report to the Department of Revenue and to the Fiscal Research Division of the General Assembly by May 1 of each year the following information for the 12-month period ending the preceding April 1:

(1) The number of applications for each credit allowed in this Article.
(2) The number and enterprise tier area of new jobs with respect to which credits were applied for.
(3) The cost of machinery and equipment with respect to which credits were applied for.

"§ 105-129.7. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Substantiation.

To claim a credit allowed by this Article, the taxpayer must provide any information required by the Secretary of Revenue. Every taxpayer claiming a credit under this Article shall maintain and make available for inspection by the Secretary of Revenue any records the Secretary considers necessary to determine and verify the amount of the credit to which the taxpayer is entitled. The burden of proving eligibility for the credit and the amount of the credit shall rest upon the taxpayer, and no credit shall be allowed to a taxpayer that fails to maintain adequate records or to make them available for inspection.

"§ 105-129.8. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for creating jobs.

(a) Credit. -- A taxpayer that meets the eligibility requirements set out in G.S. 105-129.4, has five or more employees for at least 40 weeks during the taxable year, and hires an additional full-time employee during that year to fill a position located in this State is allowed a credit for creating a new full-time job. The amount of the credit for each new full-time job created is set out in the table below and is based on the enterprise tier of the area in which the position is ~~located.~~ located. In addition, if the position is located in a development zone, the amount of the credit is increased by four thousand dollars ($4,000) per job.

Area Enterprise Tier	Amount of Credit
Tier One	$12,500
Tier Two	4,000
Tier Three	3,000
Tier Four	1,000
Tier Five	500

A position is located in an area if more than fifty percent (50%) of the employee's duties are performed in the area. The credit may not be taken in the taxable year in which the additional employee is hired. Instead, the credit shall be taken in equal installments over the four years following the taxable year in which the additional employee was hired and shall be conditioned on the continued employment by the taxpayer of the number of full-time employees the taxpayer had upon hiring the employee that caused the taxpayer to qualify for the credit.

If, in one of the four years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the number of the taxpayer's full-time employees falls below the number of full-time employees the taxpayer had in the year in which the taxpayer qualified for the credit, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit. The taxpayer may, however, take the portion of an installment that accrued in a previous year and was carried forward to the extent permitted under G.S. 105-129.5.

Jobs transferred from one area in the State to another area in the State shall not be considered new jobs for purposes of this section. If, in one of the four years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the position filled by the employee is moved to an area in a higher- or lower-numbered enterprise tier, or is moved from a development zone to an area that is not a development zone, the remaining installments of the credit shall be calculated as if the position had been created initially in the area to which it was moved.

(b) Repealed by Session Laws 1989, c. 111, s. 1.

(b1), (c) Repealed by Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 3.3.

(d) Planned Expansion. -- A taxpayer that signs a letter of commitment with the Department of Commerce to create at least twenty new full-time jobs in a specific area within two years of the date the letter is signed qualifies for the credit in the amount allowed by this section based on the area's enterprise tier and development zone designation for that year even though the employees are not hired that year. The credit shall be available in the taxable year after at least twenty employees have been hired if the hirings are within the two-year commitment period. The conditions outlined in subsection (a) apply to a credit taken under this subsection except that if the area is redesignated to a higher-numbered enterprise tier or loses its development zone designation after the year the letter of commitment was signed, the credit is allowed based on the area's enterprise tier and development zone designation for the year the letter was signed. If the taxpayer does not hire the employees within the two-year period, the taxpayer does not qualify for the credit. However, if the taxpayer qualifies for a credit under subsection (a) in the year any new employees are hired, the taxpayer may take the credit under that subsection.

(e), (f) Repealed by Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 3.3 for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1996.

"§ 105-129.9. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for investing in machinery and equipment.

(a) Credit. -- If a taxpayer that has purchased or leased eligible machinery and equipment places it in service in this State during the taxable year, the taxpayer is allowed a credit equal to seven percent (7%) of the excess of the eligible investment amount over the applicable threshold. Machinery and equipment is eligible if is capitalized by the taxpayer for tax purposes under the Code and is not leased to another party. In addition, in the case of a large investment, machinery and equipment that is not capitalized by the taxpayer is eligible if the taxpayer leases it from another party. The credit may not be taken for the taxable year in which the equipment is placed in service but shall be taken in equal installments over the seven years following the taxable year in which the equipment is placed in service.

(b) Eligible Investment Amount. -- The eligible investment amount is the lesser of (i) the cost of the eligible machinery and equipment and (ii) the amount by which the cost of all of the taxpayer's eligible machinery and equipment that is in service in this State on the last day of the taxable year exceeds the cost of all of the taxpayer's eligible machinery and equipment that was in service in this State on the last day of the base year. The base year is that year, of the three immediately preceding taxable years, in which the taxpayer had the most eligible machinery and equipment in service in this State.

(c) Threshold. -- The applicable threshold is the appropriate amount set out in the following table based on the enterprise tier of the area where the eligible machinery and equipment are placed in service during the taxable year. If the taxpayer places eligible machinery and equipment in service in more than one area during the taxable year, the threshold applies separately to the eligible machinery and equipment placed in service in each area. If the taxpayer places eligible machinery and equipment in service in an area over the course of a two-year period, the applicable threshold for the second taxable year is reduced by the eligible investment amount for the previous taxable year.

Area Enterprise Tier	Threshold
Tier One	$ -0-
Tier Two	100,000
Tier Three	200,000
Tier Four	500,000
Tier Five	1,000,000

(d) Expiration. -- If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the machinery and equipment with respect to which the credit was claimed are disposed of, taken out of service, or moved out of State, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit. The taxpayer may, however, take the portion of an installment that accrued in a previous year and was carried forward to the extent permitted under G.S. 105-129.5.

If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the machinery and equipment with respect to which the credit was claimed are moved to an area in a higher-numbered enterprise tier, or are moved from a development zone to an area that is not a development zone, the remaining installments of the credit are allowed only to the extent they would have been allowed if the machinery and equipment had been placed in service initially in the area to which they were moved.

(e) Planned Expansion. -- A taxpayer that signs a letter of commitment with the Department of Commerce to place specific eligible machinery and equipment in service in an area within two years after the date the letter is signed may, in the year the eligible machinery and equipment are placed in service in that area, calculate the credit for which the taxpayer qualifies based on the area's enterprise tier and development zone designation for the year the letter was signed. All other conditions apply to the credit, but if the area has been redesignated to a higher-numbered enterprise tier or has lost its development zone designation after the year the letter of commitment was signed, the credit is allowed based on the area's enterprise tier and development zone designation for the year the letter was signed. If the taxpayer does not place part or all of the specified eligible machinery and equipment in service within the two-year period, the taxpayer does not qualify for the benefit of this subsection with respect to the machinery and equipment not placed in service within the two-year period. However, if the taxpayer qualifies for a credit in the year the eligible machinery and equipment are placed in service, the taxpayer may take the credit for that year as if no letter of commitment had been signed pursuant to this subsection.

"§ 105-129.10. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for research and development.

(a) General Credit. -- A taxpayer that claims for the taxable year a federal income tax credit under section ~~41~~ 41(a) of the Code for increasing research activities is allowed a credit equal to five percent (5%) of the State's apportioned share of the taxpayer's expenditures for increasing research activities. The State's apportioned share of a taxpayer's expenditures for increasing research activities is the excess of the taxpayer's qualified research expenses for the taxable year over the base amount, as determined under section 41 of the Code, multiplied by a percentage equal to the ratio of the taxpayer's qualified research expenses in this State for the taxable year to the taxpayer's total qualified research expenses for the taxable year.

(b) Alternative Credit. -- A taxpayer that claims the alternative incremental credit under section 41(c)(4) of the Code for increasing research activities is allowed a credit equal to twenty-five percent (25%) of the State's apportioned share of the federal credit claimed. The State's apportioned share of the federal credit claimed is the amount of the alternative incremental credit the taxpayer claimed under section 41(c)(4) of the Code for the taxable year multiplied by a percentage equal to the ratio of the taxpayer's qualified research expenses in this State for the taxable year to the taxpayer's total qualified research expenses for the taxable year. For the purpose of this subsection, the amount of the alternative incremental credit claimed by a taxpayer is determined without regard to any reduction elected under section 280C(c) of the Code.

(c) Definitions. -- As used in this section, the terms 'qualified research expenses' and 'base amount' have the meaning provided in section 41 of the Code.

"§ 105-129.11. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for worker training.

(a) Credit. -- A taxpayer that provides worker training for five or more of its eligible employees during the taxable year is allowed a credit equal to ~~fifty percent (50%) of its eligible expenditures for~~ the wages paid to the eligible employees during the training. Wages paid to an employee performing his or her job while being trained are not eligible for the credit. For positions located in an enterprise tier one area, the credit may not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) per employee trained during the taxable year. For other positions, the credit may not exceed five hundred dollars ($500.00) per employee trained during the taxable year. A position is located in an area if more than fifty percent (50%) of the employee's duties are performed in the area.

(b) Eligibility. -- ~~The eligibility of a taxpayer's expenditures and employees is determined as provided in G.S. 105-129.4.~~ An employee is eligible if the employee is in a full-time position not classified as exempt under the Fair Labor Standards Act, 29 U.S.C. § 213(a)(1) and meets one or more of the following conditions:

(1) The employee occupies a job for which the taxpayer is eligible to claim an installment of the credit for creating jobs.

(2) The employee is being trained to operate machinery and equipment for which the taxpayer is eligible to claim an installment of the credit for investing in machinery and equipment.

"§ 105-129.12. (Repealed effective January 1, 2002) Credit for investing in central administrative office property.

(a) Credit. -- If a taxpayer that has purchased or leased real property in this State begins to use the property as a central administrative office during the taxable year, the taxpayer is allowed a credit equal to seven percent (7%) of the eligible investment amount. The eligible investment amount is the lesser of (i) the cost of the property and (ii) the amount by which the cost of all of the property the taxpayer is using in this State as central administrative offices on the last day of the taxable year exceeds the cost of all of the property the taxpayer was using in this State as central administrative offices on the last day of the base year. The base year is that year, of the three immediately preceding taxable years, in which the taxpayer was using the most property in this State as central administrative offices. In the case of property that is leased, the cost of the property is not determined as provided in G.S. 105-129.2 but is considered to be the taxpayer's lease payments over a seven-year period, plus any expenditures made by the taxpayer to improve the property before it is used as the taxpayer's central administrative office if the expenditures are not reimbursed or credited by the lessor. The maximum credit allowed a taxpayer under this section for property used as a central administrative office is five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000). The entire credit may not be taken for the taxable year in which the property is first used as a central administrative office but shall be taken in equal installments over the seven years following the taxable year in which the property is first used as a central administrative office. The basis in any real property for which a credit is allowed under this section shall be reduced by the amount of credit allowable.

(b) Mixed Use Property. -- If the taxpayer uses only part of the property as the taxpayer's central administrative office, the amount of the credit allowed under this section is reduced by multiplying it by a fraction the numerator of which is the square footage of the property used as the taxpayer's central administrative office and the denominator of which is the total square footage of the property.

(c) Expiration. -- If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the property with respect to which the credit was claimed is no longer used as a central administrative office, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit. If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, part of the property with respect to which the credit was claimed is no longer used as a central administrative office, the remaining installments of the credit shall be reduced by multiplying it by the fraction described in subsection (b) of this section. If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the total number of employees the taxpayer employs at all of its central administrative offices in this State drops by 40 or more, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit.

In each of these cases, the taxpayer may nonetheless take the portion of an installment that accrued in a previous year and was carried forward to the extent permitted under G.S. 105-129.5."

Section 2. G.S. 105-129.15(2) reads as rewritten:

"(2) Cost. -- ~~Determined~~ In the case of property owned by the taxpayer, cost is determined pursuant to regulations adopted under section 1012 of the Code, subject to the limitation on cost provided in section 179 of the Code. In the case of property the taxpayer leases from another, cost is value as determined pursuant to G.S. 105-130.4(j)(2)."

Section 3. G.S. 143B-437.04 reads as rewritten:

(b) In order to qualify for the benefits of this section, after an area is designated a development zone under G.S. 105-129.3A, the governing body of the city in which the zone is located must adopt a strategy to improve the zone and establish a development zone committee to oversee the strategy. The strategy and the committee must conform with requirements established by the Secretary of Commerce."

The term also includes utility infrastructure and transportation infrastructure to and from the plant.

"§ 105-129.26. Qualification; forfeiture.

(a) Major Recycling Facility. -- A recycling facility qualifies for the tax benefits provided in this Article and in Article 5 of this Chapter for major recycling facilities if it meets all of the following conditions:

(1) The facility is located in an area that, at the time the owner began construction of the facility, was an enterprise tier one area pursuant to G.S. 105-129.3.

(2) The Secretary of Commerce has certified that the owner will, by the end of the fourth year after the year the owner begins construction of the recycling facility, invest at least three hundred million dollars ($300,000,000) in the facility and create at least 250 new, full-time jobs at the facility.

(3) The jobs at the recycling facility meet the wage standard in effect pursuant to G.S. 105-129.4(b) as of the date the owner begins construction of the facility.

(3) The jobs at the recycling facility meet the wage standard in effect pursuant to G.S. 105-129.4(b) as of the date the owner begins construction of the facility.

(c) Forfeiture. -- If the owner of a large or major recycling facility fails to make the required minimum investment or create the required number of new jobs within the period certified by the Secretary of Commerce under this section, the recycling facility no longer qualifies for the applicable recycling facility tax benefits provided in this Article and in Article 5 of this Chapter and forfeits all tax benefits previously received under those Articles. Forfeiture does not occur, however, if the failure was due to events beyond the owner's control. Upon forfeiture of tax benefits previously received, the owner is liable under Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter for a tax equal to the amount of all past taxes under Articles 3, 4, and 5 previously avoided as a result of the tax benefits received plus interest at the rate established in G.S. 105-241.1(i), computed from the date the taxes would have been due if the tax benefits had not been received. The tax and interest are due 30 days after the date of the forfeiture. An owner that fails to pay the tax and interest is subject to the penalties provided in G.S. 105-236.

(d) Substantiation. -- To claim a credit allowed by this Article, the owner must provide any information required by the Secretary of Revenue. Every owner claiming a credit under this Article shall maintain and make available for inspection by the Secretary of Revenue any records the Secretary considers necessary to determine and verify the amount of the credit to which the owner is entitled. (e) Reports. -- The Department of Commerce shall report to the Fiscal Research Division of the General Assembly by May 1 of each year the following information for the 12-month period ending the preceding April 1:

(3) The amount of investment in each recycling facility.

(4) The amount of reinvestment credit refunded to each major recycling facility under G.S. 105-129.28.

"§ 105-129.27. Credit for investing in large or major recycling facility.

(a) Credit. -- An owner that purchases or leases machinery and equipment for a major recycling facility in this State during the taxable year is allowed a credit equal to fifty percent (50%) of the amount payable by the owner during the taxable year to purchase or lease the machinery and equipment. An owner that purchases or leases machinery and equipment for a large recycling facility in this State during the taxable year is allowed a credit equal to twenty percent (20%) of the amount payable by the owner during the taxable year to purchase or lease the machinery and equipment.

(b) Taxes Credited. -- The credit provided in this section is allowed against the franchise tax levied in Article 3 of this Chapter and the income tax levied in Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter. Any other nonrefundable credits allowed the owner are subtracted before the credit allowed by this section.

(c) Carryforwards. -- The credit provided in this section may not exceed the amount of tax against which it is claimed for the taxable year, reduced by the sum of all other credits allowed against that tax, except tax payments made by or on behalf of the owner. Any unused portion of the credit may be carried forward for the succeeding 25 years.

(d) Change in Ownership of Facility. -- The sale, merger, acquisition, or bankruptcy of a recycling facility, or any transaction by which the facility is reformulated as another business, does not create new eligibility in a succeeding owner with respect to a credit for which the predecessor was not eligible under this section. A successor business may, however, take any carried-over portion of a credit that its predecessor could have taken if it had a tax liability.

(e) Forfeiture. -- If any machinery or equipment for which a credit was allowed under this section is not placed in service within 30 months after the credit was allowed, the credit is forfeited. A taxpayer that forfeits a credit under this section is liable for all past taxes avoided as a result of the credit plus interest at the rate established under G.S. 105-241.1(i), computed from the date the taxes would have been due if the credit had not been allowed. The past taxes and interest are due 30 days after the date the credit is forfeited; a taxpayer that fails to pay the past taxes and interest by the due date is subject to the penalties provided in G.S. 105-236.

(f) No Double Credit. -- A recycling facility that is eligible for the credit allowed in this section is not allowed the credit for investing in machinery and equipment provided in G.S. 105-129.9.

"§ 105-129.28. Credit for reinvestment.

(a) Credit. -- A major recycling facility that is accessible by neither ocean barge nor ship and that transports materials to the facility or products away from the facility is allowed a credit against the tax imposed by Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter equal to its additional transportation and transloading expenses incurred with respect to the materials and products due to its inability to use ocean barges or ships. The additional expenses for which credit is allowed are expenses due to using river barges and expenses due to having to use another mode of transportation because the quantity that is transported by river barge is insufficient to meet the facility's needs. In order to claim the credit allowed by this section, the facility must provide the Secretary of Commerce audited documentation of the amount of its additional transportation and transloading expenses incurred during the taxable year.

(b) Cap. -- The credit allowed to a major recycling facility under this section for the taxable year may not exceed the applicable annual cap provided in the following table:

Taxable Year	Cap
1998	$ 150,000
1999	$ 640,000
2000	$ 3,860,000
2001	$ 8,050,000
2002	$ 9,550,000
2003	$10,100,000
2004-2007	$10,400,000

(c) Reduction. -- For the first ten taxable years after the owner begins transporting materials and products to and from the major recycling facility, the credit allowed by this section must be reduced by the amount of credit allowed in previous years that was used for a purpose other than an allowable purpose under subsection (d) of this section, as certified by the Secretary of Commerce.

(d) Use of Credited Amount. -- For the first ten taxable years after the owner begins construction of the major recycling facility, the owner must use the amount of credit allowed under this section to pay for (i) investment in rail or roads associated with the facility, (ii) investment in water system infrastructure designed to reduce the expense of transporting materials and products to and from the recycling facility, and (iii) investment in land and infrastructure for other industrial sites located in the same county as the recycling facility. If the owner determines that there are no reasonable economic opportunities in a given year to use the total amount of credit for the expenditures described above, the owner may use the excess for investment at or in connection with the recycling facility above the initial required investment of three hundred million dollars ($300,000,000).

Expenses incurred for the purposes allowed in this subsection during a taxable year in the ten-year period may be counted toward a credit allowed in a later taxable year in the ten-year period. If the owner is not able to use the full amount of the credit during a taxable year for any of the purposes allowed by this subsection, the excess may be used for these purposes in subsequent taxable years.

The owner must provide the Secretary of Commerce with annual audited documentation demonstrating that the amount of credit received under this section during the previous twelve-month period has not been used for a purpose inconsistent with this subsection. If the Secretary of Commerce determines that the owner has used any of the credit for a purpose that is inconsistent with the requirements of this subsection, the Secretary of Commerce shall certify the amount so used to the Secretary of Revenue and the credit allowed the owner under this section for the following taxable year shall be reduced by that amount in accordance with subsection (c) of this section.

After the end of the ten-year period, the amount of any credit allowed under this section that has not yet been used may be used for investment at or in connection with the recycling facility above the initial required investment of three hundred million dollars ($300,000,000).

(e) Credit Refundable. -- If the credit allowed by this section exceeds the amount of tax imposed by Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowable, the Secretary shall refund the excess to the taxpayer. The refundable excess is governed by the provisions governing a refund of an overpayment by the taxpayer of the tax imposed in Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter. In computing the amount of tax against which multiple credits are allowed, nonrefundable credits are subtracted before refundable credits."

Section 13. G.S. 105-164.3 is amended by renumbering subdivision (8) as (7b) and adding a new subdivision to read:

"(8) Major recycling facility. -- Defined in G.S. 105-129.25."

Section 14. G.S. 105-164.4(a)(1d) is amended by adding a new sub-subdivision to read:

"j. Sales to a major recycling facility of the following tangible personal property for use in connection with the facility: cranes, structural steel crane support systems, foundations related to the cranes and support systems, port and dock facilities, rail equipment, and material handling equipment."

Section 15. G.S. 105-164.13 is amended by adding two new subdivisions to read:

"(10a) Sales to a major recycling facility of (i) lubricants and other additives for motor vehicles or machinery and equipment used at the facility and (ii) materials, supplies, parts, and accessories, other than machinery and equipment, that are not capitalized by the taxpayer and are used or consumed in the manufacturing and material handling processes at the facility.

(10b) Sales to a major recycling facility of electricity used at the facility."

Section 16. G.S. 105-164.14 is amended by adding a new subsection to read:

"(g) Major Recycling Facilities. -- The owner of a major recycling facility is allowed an annual refund of sales and use taxes paid by it under this Article on building materials, building supplies, fixtures, and equipment that become a part of the real property of the recycling facility. Liability incurred indirectly by the owner for sales and use taxes on these items is considered tax paid by the owner. A request for a refund must be in writing and must include any information and documentation required by the Secretary. A request for a refund is due within six months after the end of the major recycling facility's fiscal year. Refunds applied for after the due date are barred."

Section 17. G.S. 105-164.14(f) reads as rewritten:

"(f) Information to Counties. -- Upon written request of a county, the Secretary shall, within 30 days after the request, provide the designated county official a list of each claimant that has, within the past 12 months, received a refund under subsection ~~(b) or (c)~~ (b), (c), or (g) of this section of at least one thousand dollars ($1,000) of tax paid to the county. The list shall include the name and address of each claimant and the amount of the refund it has received from that county. Upon written request of a county, a claimant that has received a refund under subsection ~~(b) or (c)~~ (b), (c), or (g) of this section shall provide the designated county official a copy of the request for the refund and any supporting documentation requested by the county to verify the request. For the purpose of this subsection, the designated county official is the chair of the board of county commissioners or a county official designated in a resolution adopted by the board. Information provided to a county under this subsection is not a public record and may not be disclosed except in accordance with G.S. 153A-148.1. If a claimant determines that a refund it has received under subsection ~~(b) or (c)~~ (b), (c), or (g) of this section is incorrect, it shall file an amended request for the refund."

Section 18. G.S. 105-275(8) is amended by adding a new sub-subdivision to read:

"d. Real or personal property that is used or, if under construction, is to be used by a major recycling facility as defined in G.S. 105-129.25 predominantly for recycling or resource recovering of or from solid waste, if the Department of Environment and Natural Resources furnishes a certificate to the tax supervisor of the county in which the property is situated stating the Department of Environment and Natural Resources has found that the described property has been or will be constructed or installed for use by a major recycling facility, complies or will comply with the rules of the Department of Environment and Natural Resources, and has, or will have as a purpose recycling or resource recovering of or from solid waste."

Section 19. G.S. 105-129.28, as enacted by Section 12 of this act, is repealed effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2008. This section does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under G.S. 105-129.28 before the effective date of its repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under G.S. 105-129.28 before the effective date of its repeal.

The sole purpose of this ten-year sunset provision is to allow a determination to be made whether any major recycling facility continues to experience additional transportation and transloading expenses due to its inability to use ocean barges or ships to transport materials and products to and from the facility. It is the expectation and intent that the General Assembly will postpone the sunset of G.S. 105-129.28 if it is determined that, based on audited documentation submitted by a major recycling facility and verified by the Secretary of Commerce, that any major recycling facility continues to experience these additional transportation and transloading expenses as of 2008.

PART V. EFFECTIVE DATES

The remainder of Part I of this act is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999.

EXPLANATION OF SENATE BILL 1569, 2nd Edition[1]:
Economic Opportunity Act of 1998

TO: House and Senate Finance Committees
FROM: Martha H. Harris, Staff Attorney
DATE: June 23, 1998
SPONSOR: Senator Hoyle

This bill is designed to promote economic development throughout the State in five ways:

1. It makes various amendments to the William S. Lee Act to encourage large investments and remove technical problems with the Act.
2. It authorizes enhanced incentives for development zones, which are economically distressed areas located within municipalities.
3. It expands and modifies the Industrial Development Fund to provide financial support for projects in rural and less prosperous areas of the State.
4. To encourage development of air courier hubs, it provides sales tax and property tax reductions for air couriers and provides a temporary bidding law exemption for specific projects of the Piedmont Triad International Airport Authority.
5. To encourage development of the recycling industry in Tier One counties, it provides an investment tax credit for large and major recycling facilities that locate in Tier One counties and, in addition, it provides a refundable reinvestment credit and sales tax reductions for major recycling facilities.

William S. Lee Act Modifications. Part I of the bill makes a number of changes to the William S. Lee Quality Jobs and Business Expansion Act, some technical and some substantive. Unless a different date is given, these changes all become effective beginning with the 1999 tax year.

Part I makes two changes to the central administrative office credit that was enacted last year. First, it allows the credit to be taken against the insurance gross premiums tax. This change will permit insurance companies to qualify for the credit. Second, it clarifies that a central administrative office meets the requirement for creating new jobs if the jobs begin before the office property is in service but are located at a temporary facility that the business occupies while waiting for its office property to be completed.

[1] The House companion to this bill is House Bill 1688, introduced by Representative Gray.

Part I also makes two changes to the credit for investing in machinery and equipment. First, it provides that for projects that span two tax years, the threshold applies only once to the investment. Otherwise, a project put in service from May through September would receive more benefit than a project put in service from November through March. This change goes into effect beginning with the 1998 tax year. Second, it expands the credit to include machinery and equipment the taxpayer uses under an operating lease, but only if the machinery and equipment are part of a project valued at $150 million or more. Otherwise, the current law allows the credit only for machinery and equipment the taxpayer acquires under a capital lease or purchases and capitalizes.

Part I expands the credit for research and development. The existing credit for research and development piggybacks the federal credit, allowing a State credit equal to approximately ¼ of the federal credit as it relates to North Carolina activities. In 1997, Congress enacted an alternative credit for research and development. The bill modifies the State credit to also allow a credit equal to approximately ¼ of the federal alternative credit as it relates to North Carolina activities.

Part I simplifies the credit for worker training. In order to qualify under current law for the credit for worker training, the taxpayer must get its planned training certified in advance by the Department of Community Colleges. This requirement has been difficult both for taxpayers and for the Department of Community Colleges. The bill replaces the current credit measured by costs of training with a credit for wages paid to workers while they are being trained (not including on-the-job training). The credit is restricted to employees for whom the taxpayer qualifies for the jobs tax credit and employees being trained to operate machinery and equipment for which the taxpayer qualifies for the credit for investing in machinery and equipment.

Finally, Part I makes a number of administrative and technical changes to the William S. Lee Act. First, it levies a $75.00 application fee on taxpayers who seek to qualify for a credit. The proceeds of the fee will help the Department of Commerce defray its costs in administering the credits. Most states with similar incentives laws require a fee, and their fees tend to be much higher. The application fee would become effective January 1, 1999. Second, the bill extends the credit carryforward period for investments over $150 million. Currently, the credit may not reduce the taxpayer's tax liability by more than half, and any excess may be carried forward for up to five years. The bill provides that for large investments, the excess may be carried forward for up to 20 years. Third, the bill clarifies that credits are allowed only for new and expanding businesses, not for existing businesses that are sold to another taxpayer. The bill provides an exception, however, for a business that has closed, has filed a federally required notice that closure is imminent, or has been purchased in an employee buyout. In these cases, the business will be able to qualify for the credits to the same extent as a new business. Fourth, the bill clarifies the definitions of the different types of businesses that are eligible for credits[2] and clarifies the method of calculating the investment tax credit and the business tax credit for property acquired by a capital lease.

State Development Zones. Part I of the bill provides for the designation of economically distressed areas located within municipalities as State development zones, and authorizes enhanced incentives for businesses that locate in a development zone. This change becomes effective beginning with the 1999 tax year. The bill defines a development zone as an area (1) consisting of one or more contiguous census tracts and block groups, (2) with a population of 1,000 or more, at least 20% of whom are below the poverty level, and (3) located at least partly in a municipality with a population over 5,000. If a business locates in a development zone, the wage standard it has to meet is the same as for Tier One counties - slightly lower than the standard for other counties. In addition, if a business locates in a development zone, its maximum worker training credit is $1,000 rather than $500, it receives an additional $4,000 per job on its jobs tax credit, and there is no threshold for the credit for investing in machinery and equipment.

The Secretary of Commerce will designate development zones upon request of a taxpayer or a local government. The designation is effective for four years. The bill provides that a development zone may qualify for priority in receiving community development block grants if the municipality's governing body adopts a strategy to improve the zone and establishes a committee to implement the strategy, in accordance with guidelines established by the Department of Commerce.

[2] The bill changes statutory references from the Standard Industrial Classifications (SIC) to the North American Industrial Classification System (NAICS) to conform to the federal system. These references are used in the William S. Lee act to define various types of businesses. The bill also changes the term "manufacturing and processing" to "manufacturing" and the term "warehousing and distribution" to "warehousing and wholesale trade" to conform to the NAICS. In April 1997, the United States Office of Management and Budget announced the adoption of a new industry classification replacing the SIC, a system used to classify most of the data we have about industries or kinds of business in our economy. The updating of industry classifications is nothing new. Since its origination in the 1930s, the SIC system has been revised or updated every 10 or 15 years to reflect new developments in the American economy and to address problems identified by data users and statistical agencies. It was last revised in 1987.

Infrastructure Funds. Part II of the bill states the intent of the General Assembly to appropriate funds to the Industrial Development Fund and the Utility Account of the Industrial Development Fund. The Governor's budget requested an appropriation of $32 million, $18 million for the Fund and $14 million for the Utility Account. Under current law, money in the Utility Account can be used in Tier One counties for construction or improvements to new or existing water, sewer, gas, or electrical utility distribution lines or for existing, new, or proposed industrial buildings to be used in manufacturing and processing, warehousing and distribution, or data processing. The bill would expand the scope of the Utility Account to include Tier Two counties.

Under current law, the Industrial Development Fund provides funding for manufacturing projects in Tier One, Two, and Three counties as well as in areas experiencing major economic dislocations. The funds may be used for equipment, capital improvements, and utility distribution lines. Projects in Tier Two and Three Counties are required to match the State funds on a $1/$3 basis. The funding is capped at $4,000 per job to be created and $400,000 per project. The bill would raise the per-job cap to $5,000 and the per-project cap to $500,000. The bill would also expand the industries covered by both the Industrial Development Fund and the Utility Account to include all of the following: manufacturing, central administrative offices, air courier services, data processing, and warehousing and wholesale trade.

Under current law, funds in the Industrial Development Fund and the Utility Account are used for grants to local governments and, in some cases, loans to businesses through the local government and a bank that matches the loan. The bill would clarify that a local government that receives funds, may, if necessary, use up to 2% of the funds to verify that the funds are used as required by law and otherwise to administer the grant or loan.

Air Courier Hubs. Part III of the bill provides sales tax and property tax reductions for interstate air couriers in order to encourage the development of air courier hubs in North Carolina. An air courier is an air carrier that delivers individually addressed letters, parcels, and packages. Effective January 1, 2001, the bill provides that sales to an interstate air courier of equipment for handling and storing materials at its hub will be subject to a reduced sales tax of 1%, capped at $80 per item. In addition, the bill provides a sales tax exemption for sales to an interstate air courier of aircraft lubricants, aircraft repair parts, and aircraft accessories for use at the air courier's hub in this State. Effective beginning with the 2001 property tax year, the bill provides a property tax exemption for aircraft owned by an air courier and apportioned for property tax purposes to the courier's hub in this State. A hub is the place in this State where the air courier allocates for property tax purposes more than 60% of its North Carolina aircraft value and where it receives packages from consolidation locations for sorting and distribution.

Part III also grants a bidding law exemption for the Piedmont Triad International Airport Authority. The exemption is effective for a five-year period beginning January 1, 1999, and applies to design and construction of an air freight distribution facility on airport property, and related supplies, equipment, and services.

Recycling Facilities. Part IV of the bill provides tax incentives for "large" and "major" recycling facilities located in Tier One counties at the time of initial construction. A recycling facility is a plant that manufactures products, most of which are made from at least 50% post-consumer waste material. The facility also includes related infrastructure, buildings, and equipment on land near (and in the same county as) the plant. A large recycling facility is one that will involve at least $150 million in new investment and 155 new jobs within a two-year period. A major recycling facility is one that will involve at least $300 million in new investment and 250 new jobs within a four-year period. In order to qualify for the applicable tax incentives, the owner of the facility must obtain certification from the Department of Commerce that it will meet the minimum investment and new job requirements. If the facility fails to meet either requirement within the applicable time period, it forfeits any tax benefit it received as a result of being certified.

Part IV provides an investment tax credit for both large and major recycling facilities, effective beginning with the 1998 tax year. This investment tax credit is in lieu of the investment tax credit provided in the William S. Lee Act. The recycling facility investment tax credit differs from the Bill Lee Act credit in the following ways:

1. The Bill Lee Act credit is equal to 7% of the cost of machinery and equipment, while the large recycling facility credit is equal to 20% of the cost and the major recycling facility credit is equal to 50% of the cost.
2. The credit is allowed at the time the owner of the recycling facility accrues expenses to purchase or lease the machinery and equipment, rather than at the time the machinery and equipment are placed in service, as under the Bill Lee Act. If the recycling facility fails to put the machinery and equipment in service within 30 months after taking the credit, the credit is forfeited and must be repaid.
3. The credit is allowed against both the corporate franchise tax and the corporate income tax. Under the Bill Lee Act, the credit is allowed against either but not both of those taxes.

4. The credit may equal 100% of the tax due from the owner of the facility. Under the Bill Lee Act, the credit is limited to 50% of tax due, so that the taxpayer will be paying some tax in every case.
5. The excess credit may be carried forward for 25 years. Under the Bill Lee Act, as revised by this bill, the relevant carryforward period would be 20 years.

Part IV also provides to major recycling facilities locating in Tier One counties a refundable corporate income tax "credit for reinvestment," effective beginning with the 1998 tax year. The credit applies if the major recycling facility is not accessible by ocean barge or ship and incurs additional expenses due to transporting its materials and products by alternative modes of transportation. The reinvestment credit is equal to the amount of these additional expenses, which must be documented annually to the Secretary of Commerce. The credit is subject to a dollar cap each year, in increasing amounts. In 1999, the cap is $640,000. In 2004, the cap levels off at $10.4 million a year. The bill sunsets this reinvestment credit effective with the 2008 tax year. The bill states the intent, however, to postpone the sunset if any major recycling facility can document that it is still experiencing additional expenses in 2008 due to its inability to use ocean barges or ships to transport materials and products.

The reinvestment credit is refundable. That means that if the amount of credit exceeds the major recycling facility's tax liability after all other credits are subtracted, the balance is paid out in cash. For the first ten years the reinvestment credit is in effect, a major recycling facility must use the amount received in credit to invest in rail and roads associated with the facility, in transportation infrastructure to reduce the expense of transporting materials and products to and from the facility, or in land and infrastructure for industrial sites, other than the facility itself, in the same county. If there are not enough reasonable opportunities for investments in those purposes in a given year, however, the major recycling facility may invest the amount of credit received in the facility itself, but only after it has made the minimum investment of $300 million required to qualify as a major recycling facility. The facility must document its compliance with this reinvestment requirement and forfeits any part of the credit it spends for another purpose. It is this reinvestment requirement that gives the credit its name.

Part IV provides several sales and use tax reductions for major recycling facilities locating in Tier One counties, effective beginning July 1, 1998. First, it provides that a reduced sales tax rate of 1%, capped at $80 per item, will apply to cranes, foundations, transportation equipment, and materials handling equipment used at the major recycling facility. These items would otherwise be subject to 4% State sales tax and 2% local sales tax. Second, it exempts from sales tax lubricants and other additives for vehicles and machinery used at the plant, and other materials and supplies (not including machinery and equipment) that are used or consumed directly in the manufacturing process. These items would also otherwise be subject to a combined State and local rate of 6%. Third, it exempts from sales tax electricity purchased for use at the major recycling facility. This electricity would otherwise be subject to State sales tax at 3% or 2.83%. Fourth, Part IV provides an annual sales tax refund for taxes a major recycling facility pays directly or indirectly on building materials, building supplies, fixtures, and equipment that become a part of the real property of the recycling facility located in a Tier One county.

Finally, Part IV provides for major recycling facilities an expanded version of the existing property tax exemption for property used for recycling, effective beginning with the 1999-20 property tax year. Under current law, to qualify for exemption, the property must be used exclusively for recycling and have recycling as its primary purpose. The bill would provide that, for major recycling facilities only, the property must be used predominantly for recycling and have recycling as a purpose. The Department of Environment and Natural Resources determined that these changes would be necessary to prevent a major recycling facility from being disqualified because it adds fillers or other materials to the post-consumer waste material when manufacturing products.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO RAISE THE SALES TAX QUARTERLY THRESHOLD AND TO REPEAL THE ANNUAL WHOLESALE SALES TAX LICENSE.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. G.S. 105-164.16(b) reads as rewritten:

"(b) General Reporting Periods. -- Returns of taxpayers who are required by this subsection to report on a monthly or quarterly basis are due within 15 days after the end of each monthly or quarterly period. Returns of taxpayers who are required to report on a semimonthly basis are due within 10 days after the end of each semimonthly period.

A taxpayer who is consistently liable for less than ~~fifty dollars ($50.00)~~ one hundred dollars ($100.00) a month in State and local sales and use taxes may, with the approval of the Secretary, file a return on a quarterly basis. A taxpayer who is consistently liable for at least twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) a month in State and local sales and use taxes shall, when directed to do so by the Secretary, file a return on a semimonthly basis. All other taxpayers shall file a return on a monthly basis. Quarterly reporting periods end on the last day of March, June, September, and December; monthly reporting periods end on the last day of the month; and semimonthly reporting periods end on the 15th of each month and the last day of each month.

The Secretary shall monitor the amount of tax remitted by a taxpayer and shall direct a taxpayer who consistently remits at least twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) each month to file a return on a semimonthly basis. In determining the amount of tax due from a taxpayer for a reporting period the Secretary shall consider the total amount due from all places of business owned or operated by the same person as the amount due from that person.

A taxpayer who is directed to remit sales and use taxes on a semimonthly basis but who is unable to gather the information required to submit a complete return for either the first reporting period or both the first and second semimonthly reporting periods may, upon written authorization by the Secretary, file an estimated return for that first reporting period or both periods on the basis prescribed by the Secretary. Once a taxpayer is authorized to file an estimated return for the first period or both periods, the taxpayer may continue to file an estimated return for the first or both periods until the Secretary, by written notification, revokes the taxpayer's authorization to do so. When filing a return for the second semimonthly reporting period, a taxpayer who files an estimated return for the first period but not both periods shall remit the amount of tax due for both the first and second reporting periods, less the amount ~~he~~ the taxpayer remitted with ~~his~~ the estimated return.

A taxpayer who files an estimated return for both periods is considered to have been granted an extension for both the first and second reporting periods. Notwithstanding G.S. 105-164.19, if a taxpayer who files an estimated return for both periods files a reconciling return for those periods within ten days of the due date of the return for the second period and any underpayment of estimated taxes remitted with the reconciling return is less than ten percent (10%) of the amount of taxes due for both the first and second reporting periods, no interest shall be charged. Otherwise, a taxpayer who files an estimated return for both periods shall be charged interest at the statutory rate from the due date of the return for the first reporting period to the date the reconciling return is filed."

Section 2. Part 2 of Division II of Article 5 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes is repealed.

Section 3. G.S. 105-164.4(c) reads as rewritten:

"(c) Certificate of Registration. -- ~~Any person who engages in any business for which a privilege tax is imposed by this Article shall apply for and obtain from the Secretary upon payment of fifteen dollars ($15.00) a license to engage in and conduct the business upon the condition that the person shall pay the tax accruing to the State under this Article; the person shall thereby be duly licensed and registered to engage in the business.~~

~~A license issued under this subsection shall be a continuing license until it becomes void or is revoked for failure to comply with the provisions of this Article. A license issued under this subsection to a person, other than a person who makes only wholesale sales or only exempt sales, becomes void if, for a period of eighteen months, the license holder files no return or files returns showing no sales.~~

~~A retailer who sells tangible personal property at a flea market shall conspicuously display the retailer's sales tax license when making sales at the flea market.~~

Before a person may engage in business as a retailer or a wholesale merchant, the person must obtain a certificate of registration from the Department. To obtain a certificate of registration, a person must register with the Department and pay fifteen dollars ($15.00).

A certificate of registration is valid unless it is revoked for failure to comply with the provisions of this Article or becomes void. A certificate issued to a retailer becomes void if, for a period of 18 months, the retailer files no returns or files returns showing no sales."

Section 4. G.S. 105-164.6(f) reads as rewritten:

"(f) ~~Every retailer engaged in business in this State selling or delivering tangible personal property for storage, use, or consumption in this State shall apply for and obtain from the Secretary upon payment of fifteen dollars ($15.00) a license to engage in and conduct the business upon the condition that the person shall pay the tax accruing to the State under this Article; the person shall thereby be duly licensed and registered to engage in the business. A license issued under this subsection shall be a continuing license until it becomes void or is revoked for failure to comply with the provisions of this Article. A license issued under this subsection to a person, other than a person who makes only wholesale sales or only exempt sales, becomes void if, for a period of 18 months, the license holder files no return or files returns showing no sales.~~

Before a person may engage in business in this State selling or delivering tangible personal property for storage, use, or consumption in this State, the person must obtain a certificate of registration from the Department. To obtain a certificate of registration, a person must register with the Department and pay fifteen dollars ($15.00).

A certificate of registration is valid unless it is revoked for failure to comply with the provisions of this Article or becomes void. A certificate issued to a retailer becomes void if, for a period of 18 months, the retailer files no returns or files returns showing no sales."

Section 5. G.S. 105-164.4(a)(4b) reads as rewritten:

"(4b) A person who sells tangible personal property at a ~~flea~~ specialty market, other than the person's own household personal property, is considered a retailer under this Article. A tax at the general rate of tax is levied on the sales price of each article sold by the retailer at the ~~flea~~ specialty market. ~~A person who leases or rents space to others at a flea market may not lease or rent this space unless the retailer requesting to rent or lease the space shows the license or a copy of the license required by this Article or other evidence of compliance. A person who leases or rents space at a flea market shall keep records of retailers who have leased or rented space at the flea market. As used in this subdivision, the term "flea market" means a place where space is rented to a person for the purpose of selling tangible personal property.~~ The term "specialty market" has the same meaning as defined in G.S. 66-250."

Section 6. G.S. 66-252 reads as rewritten:

"§ 66-252. Display and possession of ~~retail sales tax license.~~ certificate of registration.

(a) When Required. -- A person who sells tangible personal property at a specialty market, other than the person's own household personal property, is considered a retailer under G.S. 105-164.4 and must obtain a certificate of registration from the Department of Revenue before the person may engage in business. An itinerant merchant must keep the merchant's ~~retail sales tax license~~ certificate of registration conspicuously and prominently displayed, so as to be visible for inspection by patrons of the itinerant merchant at the places or locations at which the goods are to be sold or offered for sale. A peddler must carry the peddler's ~~retail sales tax license~~ certificate of registration when the peddler offers goods for sale and must produce the ~~license~~ certificate upon the request of any customer, State or local revenue agent, or law enforcement agent. A specialty market vendor must keep the ~~retail sales tax license~~ certificate of registration conspicuously and prominently displayed, so as to be visible for inspection by patrons of the specialty market vendor at the places or locations at which the goods are to be sold or offered for sale. A specialty market operator must have its ~~retail sales tax license,~~ certificate of registration, if any, available for inspection during all times that the specialty market is open and must produce it upon the request of any customer, State or local revenue agent, or law enforcement agent.

(b) Compliance. -- The requirement that a ~~retail sales tax license~~ certificate of registration be displayed is satisfied if the vendor displays either of the following:

(1) A copy of the ~~license.~~ certificate.

(2) Evidence that the ~~license~~ certificate has been applied for and the applicable ~~license~~ registration fee has been paid within 30 days before the date the ~~license~~ certificate was required to be displayed."

Section 7. G.S. 66-255 reads as rewritten:

"§ 66-255. Specialty market registration list.

A specialty market operator must maintain a daily registration list of all specialty market vendors selling or offering goods for sale at the specialty market. The registration list must clearly and legibly show each specialty market vendor's name, permanent address, and ~~retail sales and use tax registration~~ certificate of registration number. The specialty market operator must require each specialty market vendor to exhibit a valid ~~retail sales tax license~~ certificate of registration for visual inspection by the specialty market operator at the time of registration, and must require each specialty market vendor to keep the ~~retail sales tax license~~ certificate of registration conspicuously and prominently displayed, so as to be visible for inspection by patrons of the specialty market vendor at the places or locations at which the goods are offered for sale. Each daily registration list maintained pursuant to this section must be retained by the specialty market operator for no less than two years and must at any time be made available upon request to any law enforcement officer."

Section 8. G.S. 66-257 reads as rewritten:

"§ 66-257. Misdemeanor violations.

(a) Class 1 Misdemeanors. -- A person who does any of the following commits a Class 1 misdemeanor:

(1) Fails to keep a record of new merchandise and fails to produce a record or an affidavit pursuant to G.S. 66-254.

(2) Falsifies a record of new merchandise required by G.S. 66-254.

(b) Class 2 Misdemeanors. -- A person who does any of the following commits a Class 2 misdemeanor:

(1) If the person is an itinerant merchant or a specialty market vendor, fails to display the ~~retail sales tax license~~ certificate of registration as required by G.S. 66-252.

(2) If the person is a specialty market operator, fails to maintain the daily registration list as required by G.S. 66-255.

(c) Class 3 Misdemeanors. -- A person who does any of the following commits a Class 3 misdemeanor:

(1) If the person is a peddler or an itinerant merchant, fails to obtain the permission of the property owner as required by G.S. 66-251.

(2) If the person is a peddler or a specialty market operator, fails to produce the ~~retail sales tax license~~ certificate of registration as required by G.S. 66-252.

(3) Fails to provide name, address, or identification upon request as required by G.S. 66-253 or provides false information in response to the request.

(4) Knowingly gives false information when registering pursuant to G.S. 66-255.

(d) Defense. -- Whenever satisfactory evidence is presented in any court of the fact that permission to use property was not displayed as required by G.S. 66-251 or that a ~~retail sales tax license~~ certificate of registration was not displayed or produced as required by G.S. 66-252, the person charged may not be found guilty of that violation if the person produces in court a valid permission or a valid ~~retail sales tax license,~~ certificate of registration, respectively, that had been issued prior to the time the person was charged."

Section 9. Section 1 of this act becomes effective January 1, 1999. Sections 2 through 8 of this act become effective July 1, 1998. The remainder of this act is effective when it becomes law.

EXPLANATION OF HOUSE BILL 1367:
Sales Tax Changes

TO: Senate Finance Committee
FROM: Cindy Avrette, Committee Counsel
DATE: June 18, 1998
SPONSOR: Representative Hill

House Bill 1367 makes three changes to the sales tax statutes that the Department of Revenue requested the Revenue Laws Study Committee to recommend:

- It raises the sales tax quarterly threshold from $50 to $100.
- It repeals the annual wholesale sales tax license.
- It changes the name of the retail sales tax license to certificate of registration.

Sales Tax Quarterly Threshold

Under current law, taxpayers that are liable for less than $50.00 a month in State and local sales and use taxes may file returns and remit the sales and use taxes owed on a quarterly basis. Taxpayers that are consistently liable for at least $20,000 a month in State and local sales and use taxes must file returns and remit taxes on a semi-monthly basis. All other taxpayers must file returns and remit taxes on a monthly basis.

Section 1 of the bill increases the sales tax quarterly threshold from $50 to $100. This change means that approximately 10,000 taxpayers that are now filing monthly sales and use tax returns will be able to file quarterly returns. The change will reduce the number of returns currently being filed by one-third. The threshold was last increased in 1991 from $25 to $50. This section becomes effective January 1, 1999. This change in the law will mean that approximately $2 million that would have been collected in fiscal year 1998-99 will not be collected until fiscal year 1999-00 because two months of collections are shifted into the 1999-00 fiscal year.

Repeal of the Wholesale Sales Tax License

Under current law, a wholesale merchant must obtain both a wholesale sales tax license and a certificate of registration, referred to in the statute as a retail sales tax license. The form for the two licenses is the same form. The information necessary to obtain both of these licenses is the same. The only difference is that the wholesale sales tax license is an annual license that costs $25. The certificate of registration needs to be acquired only once and it costs $15.

Section 2 of the bill repeals the wholesale sales tax license. Part 2 of Division II of Article 5 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes contains one statute and that statute imposes an annual privilege license tax of $25 on wholesale merchants. The Department does not need the information from this license because the wholesale merchant has already provided the Department with the information it needs on the certificate of registration. The tax is also expensive to collect and document and it is a nuisance tax for wholesale businesses to report and pay.

The statute being repealed contains a couple of other provisions that are also duplicated by other statutes in the Sales and Use Tax Article. G.S. 105-164.25 requires wholesale merchants to retain a duplicate copy of each bill of sale for a period of at least three years. G.S. 105-164.26 establishes the presumption that all gross receipts of a wholesale merchant are considered taxable unless the merchant obtains a certificate of resale from the purchaser. If the merchant does not obtain a certificate of resale from the purchaser, then the purchase is taxable at the rate established by the Sales and Use Tax Article.

Section 3 rewrites the law to clarify that both wholesale merchants and retailers must obtain a certificate of registration before beginning business. Although the statute refers to the certificate as a "retail sales tax license", it must be obtained by both wholesale merchants and retailers because a privilege tax is imposed on both of them under the sales and use tax article.

The section changes the name of the license to a "certificate of registration" because that more accurately reflects the nature of the document. It also corresponds to the name it is most commonly known as in the business community: a "Merchant's Certificate of Registration". Unlike the annual wholesale sales tax license, the certificate of registration needs to be obtained only once. It is valid unless it is revoked because the retailer or wholesale merchant fails to comply with the sales and use tax law. In the case of a retailer, the certificate becomes void if the retailer does not make any sales for a period of 18 months. If the certificate is revoked or becomes void, the retailer or wholesale merchant must register with the Department and obtain a new certificate of registration before engaging in business.

Sections 4 through 8 of the bill make conforming changes in the sales and use tax statutes and in the Article 32 of Chapter 66 of the General Statutes, which governs peddlers, itinerant merchants, and specialty markets. The changes made in sections 2 through 8 of the bill become effective July 1, 1998.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Section 1(threshold) becomes effective January 1, 1999. Sections 2 through 8 become effective July 1, 1998. The remainder is effective when it becomes law.

BILL SUMMARY: This act repeals the annual $25 wholesale license tax. The bill also increases the quarterly filing threshold for sales tax from $50 to $100.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

Wholesale License

Section 1 of the bill repeals the annual $25 wholesale license. The Department of Revenue reports $1.25 million in revenue from this tax each year. Since the Director of the Sales Tax Division projects little or no growth in wholesale license revenues, this memo assumes a flat growth rate for this license.

Filing Threshold

Businesses that are liable for less than $50 in sales and use tax remit this tax to the Department of Revenue on a quarterly basis. The bill raises the filing threshold from $50 to $100 beginning January 1, 1999. After analyzing sales and use tax collections and the number of accounts by tax bracket, the Department of Revenue's Tax Research Division estimates that this will affect 10,000 taxpayers and will shift $2 million in collections from FY 1998-99 to 1999-00. There is no actual loss of income, but on a cash flow basis there will be $2 million less to spend on the FY 1998-99 budget.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO IMPOSE TEACHER CERTIFICATION FEES.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. G.S. 115C-296 is amended by adding a new subsection to read:

"(a2) The State Board of Education shall impose the following schedule of fees for teacher certification and administrative changes:

(1) Application for demographic or administrative changes to a certificate, $30.00.

(3) Application for a renewal, extension, addition, upgrade, and variation to a certificate, $55.00.

(4) Initial application for New, In-State Approved Program Graduate, $55.00.

(5) Initial application for Out-of-State certificate, $85.00.

(6) All other applications, $85.00.

The applicant must pay the fee at the time the application is submitted."

Section 2. This act is effective when it becomes law.

EXPLANATION OF SENATE BILL 1594 (PCS):
Teacher Certification Fees

TO: Senate Finance Committee
FROM: Martha Walston, Committee Counsel
DATE: June 24, 1998
SPONSOR: Senator Lee

The proposed committee substitute for Senate Bill 1594 would amend G.S. 115C-296 by adding a new subsection that would set out a fee schedule for certification of teachers in all public elementary and high schools in the State. Currently the fees are only set out in the State Board of Education Policy Manual and are used to support the personnel in the State Board of Education's certification division. The State Board has indicated that this division is very understaffed. The Bill would also, in effect, increase the following current fees set out in the Policy Manual:

> Application for renewal, extension, addition, upgrade and variation to a a certificate would increase from $45.00 to $55.00.
> Initial application for New, In-State Approved Program Graduate would increase from $45.00 to $55.00.
> Initial application for Out-of-State certificate would increase from $65.00 to $85.00.
> All other applications not listed in the schedule would increase from $65.00 to $85.00.

Although there is currently no statute that establishes the fees for certification or that authorizes the State Board to set fees, it is clear from past budget bills that the Board's budget takes into account the receipts from certification fees. The General Assembly has known about the fees and has approved them each time it has adopted a budget bill since 1975. That year, the State Board adopted a certification fee schedule. The Board has increased the fees several times since 1975, but has never gone through the State's rulemaking procedure. If someone were to challenge the Board's authority to establish certification fees, it is possible a court would accept the position that the Board has implied authority to set and increase fees. If the court rejected this theory, however, the consequences would be that the fees are unenforceable.

Senate Bill 1594 as introduced would have given the State Board of Education the authority to set the application fees for teacher certification.

However, the Board would be required to go through rulemaking to establish these fees, and this process could take a year. The proposed committee substitute sets the fee amounts in the statutes, thus allowing the fee schedule to be effective immediately upon enactment of the bill into law. When a State agency establishes a fee, it is exercising the taxing authority of the State. Therefore an agency may only establish a fee if a statute sets the exact fee amount or if a statute gives the agency the express authority to set the fee.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act is effective when it becomes law.

BILL SUMMARY: The act establishes a schedule for teacher certification fees.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

Revenue

SB 1594 establishes a fee schedule for the initial certification, renewal, and extension of all teaching certificates for the State Board of Education. In fact, the State Board of Education adopted such a fee schedule for teacher certification in 1975. The current fee schedule charges $45 for first time in-state licenses, upgrades, additions, and renewals; $65 for out-of-state applicants, Junior ROTC, lateral entry, vocational, and provisional licenses; and $30 for miscellaneous administrative changes. This bill gives statutory authority to what the Board has done administratively up till now.

The bill reflects the Board's intention to raise the fees beginning in FY 1998-99 to fund additional certification specialist positions. The Board proposes to increase the $45 fee to $55 and increase the $65 fee to $85 as shown in the chart below. The proposed revenue from SB 1594 was included on page 18 of the Governor's Recommended Changes to the 1998-99 State Budget. Based on FY 1996-97 data, the increased fees will raise an additional $208,790 in receipts each year.

Description	FY 1996-97 Requests	Current Fee	Current Revenue	Proposed Fee	Proposed Revenue

Expenditure

The additional revenue will be used to add four Certification Specialists (Grade 65) to the Teacher Licensure Section to handle the 6 to 8 week backlog in teacher certification requests. These four positions are requested in the Governor's Recommended Changes to the 1998-99 State Budget. The projected budget for these positions is as follows:

	FY 1998-99	FY 1999-00	FY 2000-01	FY 2001-02	FY 2002-03
Salaries	$97,232	$97,232	$97,232	$97,232	$97,232

Total	$160,000	$124,948	$124,948	$124,948	$138,948

The salary of a Certification Specialist is budgeted at the minimum level of $24,308 per year. No increase in salary or benefits is included in the projection, but receipts are sufficient to cover any increases. The first year budget includes one time cost for furniture, computers and transportation. The budget reflects that the computers will be replaced in four years.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO AMEND THE EXCISE TAX ON CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES.

Whereas, North Carolina enacted the Controlled Substances Tax Act in 1989 for the purpose of levying an excise tax to generate revenue for State and local law enforcement agencies and the General Fund and to collect taxes from persons engaged in a highly profitable activity that had escaped taxation; and

Whereas, the intent of the General Assembly in enacting this tax continues to be to raise revenue through a civil tax on this highly profitable activity; and

Whereas, the intent of the General Assembly in enacting this tax is not to create a criminal penalty, other than for nonpayment of the tax, above and beyond the criminal sanctions in the criminal code; and

Whereas, upon constitutional challenge on double jeopardy grounds by a defendant who had been assessed for the tax and also convicted of criminal drug charges, the North Carolina Court of Appeals held that the tax "was not predicated upon whether the taxpayer in possession of the controlled substance has been arrested or charged with criminal conduct, nor is it assessed on property that necessarily has been confiscated or destroyed;" and

Whereas, the court further held that the statute "is a legitimate and remedial effort to recover revenue from those persons who would otherwise escape taxation when engaging in the highly profitable, but illicit and sometimes deadly activity of possessing, delivering, selling, or manufacturing large quantities of controlled drugs" and that the statute "does not have such fundamentally punitive characteristics as to render it violative of the prohibition against multiple punishments for the same offense contained in the Double Jeopardy Clause;" and

Whereas, that decision was affirmed on appeal to the North Carolina Supreme Court and not disturbed by the United States Supreme Court; and

Whereas, upon further challenge in the federal courts, the controlled substance tax has been found to be a criminal penalty, and a petition for certiorari is now pending in the United States Supreme Court; and

Whereas, it is, therefore, the intent of the North Carolina General Assembly to modify the tax during the pendency of the appeal so that the tax may continue to be assessed in a manner consistent with the opinion now in effect, but to reinstate it as it read on January 12, 1998, if the United States Supreme Court reverses the lower court decision and finds the tax constitutional; and

Whereas, it is also the intent of the General Assembly that if the lower court decision is reversed, the higher tax rate should be reinstated retroactively and collected; Now, therefore,

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. G.S. 105-113.107(a) reads as rewritten:

"(a) Controlled Substances. -- An excise tax is levied on controlled substances possessed, either actually or constructively, by dealers at the following rates:

(1) At the rate of forty cents (40¢) for each gram, or fraction thereof, of harvested marijuana stems and stalks that have been separated from and are not mixed with any other parts of the marijuana plant.

(1a) At the rate of three dollars and fifty cents ($3.50) for each gram, or fraction thereof, of marijuana, other than separated stems and stalks taxed under subdivision (1) of this section.

(1b) At the rate of fifty dollars ($50.00) for each gram, or fraction thereof, of cocaine.

(2) At the rate of two hundred dollars ($200.00) for each gram, or fraction thereof, of any other controlled substance that is sold by weight.

(2a) At the rate of fifty dollars ($50.00) for each 10 dosage units, or fraction thereof, of any low-street-value drug that is not sold by weight.

(3) At the rate of ~~four hundred dollars ($400.00)~~ two hundred dollars ($200.00) for each 10 dosage units, or fraction thereof, of any other controlled substance that is not sold by weight.

(a1) Weight. -- A quantity of marijuana or other controlled substance is measured by the weight of the substance whether pure or impure or dilute, or by dosage units when the substance is not sold by weight, in the dealer's possession. A quantity of a controlled substance is dilute if it consists of a detectable quantity of pure controlled substance and any excipients or fillers."

Section 2. In collecting the tax on controlled substances levied in Article 2D of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes, the Secretary of Revenue shall assure that every affected taxpayer is notified that the lower tax rates apply only until the tax is upheld by the United States Supreme Court, and that the higher rates will then be collected on any tax that accrued before the Court's ruling upholding the tax.

Section 3. This act is effective when it becomes law. If the United States Supreme Court rules in Lynn, et al. v. West, et al., that the provisions of Article 2D of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes, as they existed on January 12, 1998, are constitutional, then this act is repealed retroactively as of the date it became law.

Senate Bill 1554 changes the controlled substance tax in two ways:

1. Effective when the bill becomes law, it reduces certain tax rates of the excise tax on controlled substance, in order to remove features of the tax found unconstitutional by the United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit in Lynn v. West.
2. If and when the United States Supreme Court overturns the Lynn decision and upholds the tax, the bill retroactively repeals those reductions, thus raising the rates for the period between the date the bill becomes law and the date the United States Supreme Court upholds the tax.

Retroactive Tax Increase. In my opinion, the second change made by the bill is unconstitutional. Article I, Section 16 of the North Carolina Constitution provides: "No law taxing retrospectively sales, purchases, or other acts previously done shall be enacted." Section 3 of the bill repeals retroactively the rate reductions enacted by Section 1, but only if the United States Supreme Court later upholds the tax. Thus, the bill would tax retrospectively the prior act of possessing certain illegal drugs, which would have been taxed at a lower rate until the Supreme Court decision occurs. Although Section 2 of the bill requires the Secretary of Revenue to notify affected taxpayers of the possible retroactive tax increase, I do not believe this notice makes the retroactive tax constitutional.

Tax Rate Changes. The purpose of the temporary tax rate reductions is to remove features of the tax that caused the federal court to hold it unconstitutional. If these rate reductions have the effect of rendering the tax constitutional, then the State can collect the tax. If a court later holds that these rate reductions did not render the tax constitutional, the State could be required to refund taxes illegally collected or to rescind criminal drug prosecutions. The rate reductions appear to address the federal court's concerns but, because the federal court did not provide a clear test of what would make the tax constitutional, there remains some risk that the tax might later be invalidated again notwithstanding the rate reductions. The issues, outlined below, are complex.

In Lynn v. West, the federal court ruled that the controlled substance tax was, "in reality," a criminal penalty rather than a tax, and could not be enforced without all the criminal procedure safeguards guaranteed by the Fifth and Sixth Amendments of the United States Constitution. As a result of the Lynn case, the Department of Revenue was forced to stop collecting the tax on the date the opinion was issued, January 13, 1998. The Department of Revenue did not stop collecting the tax on illicit spirituous liquor, however. The Department of Revenue has asked the United States Supreme Court to review, and overturn, the Lynn case.

The double jeopardy clause was not an issue in the Lynn case because only the federal government, not the State, had brought criminal charges against Lynn for illegal drug possession. The double jeopardy clause protects against successive prosecutions by the same sovereign, but not against prosecutions by different sovereigns. The holding in the Lynn case that the tax is a criminal penalty means, however, that North Carolina would not be able to collect the tax from an individual and also prosecute the individual for a criminal drug violation. Therefore, the State has been required to drop criminal charges against some drug defendants who had also been assessed the controlled substance tax.

The federal court in the Lynn case analyzed the tax under the United States Supreme Court's 1994 Kurth Ranch[1] case holding Montana's illegal drug tax unconstitutional because it was a second punishment, not a true tax, and thus violated the double jeopardy clause of the Fifth Amendment. In analyzing a civil measure to determine if it is in fact a criminal penalty, the court will look first at whether the legislature intended it as a civil penalty and second, even if it is so intended, whether it is so punitive either in purpose or effect to transform it into a criminal penalty.[2] The Court in the Kurth Ranch case stated that the tax must be examined as a whole to determine whether it has crossed the line to becoming a criminal punishment. Neither a high rate of tax alone nor an obvious deterrent purpose alone would make a tax a criminal punishment, but these factors are significant, the Court ruled. The Court found both these factors present in the Montana law, as well as the fact that the tax is conditioned on the commission of a crime and has no relationship to lawful possession.

In the Lynn case, the federal court found that all four of these same factors were present in North Carolina's controlled substance tax: a high rate of tax, a deterrent purpose, application only to illegal activity, and no relationship to lawful possession. For this reason, the court ruled that North Carolina's controlled substance tax is a criminal penalty. Section 1 of the bill would lower the tax rates in the hope of addressing that factor. It would be difficult to address the deterrent purpose of the tax, its application only to illegal drug possession, or its lack of a relationship to legal position.

Nearly a kilogram of cocaine was seized from Lynn in 1993. The tax rate was $200 a gram, with a penalty equal to 100% of the tax.[3] Although no evidence of the value of cocaine had been offered, the court found that its market value was $25,000 a kilogram, which translates to $25 a gram. Thus, the court found the tax rate to be eight times the market value of the cocaine, which, when combined with the 100% tax penalty,[4] yielded a total tax that was sixteen times the market value of the cocaine. The tax rate in the Kurth Ranch case, by comparison, was eight times the market value of the drug. The Lynn court's concern with North Carolina's high tax rate was compounded by the fact that the full rate applies no matter how pure or dilute the controlled substance may be.

This bill provides a separate tax rate of $50 a gram for cocaine and changes the tax rate on drugs sold by dosage units from $400 to $200 per ten dosage units. Crack cocaine is sold in dosage units. Based on the court's holding that cocaine's market value is $25 a gram, the proposed rate tax would be twice the market value; when the current 50% penalty is added, the total would be three times the market value. The bill does not address the court's concern that the same tax rate applies whether the substance is pure or dilute.

The General Assembly enacted the excise tax on controlled substances in 1989 as a means of generating revenue for State and local law enforcement agencies and for the General Fund. Under the law, a person who acquires illegal drugs is required to pay tax on them within 48 hours of acquiring possession if the tax has not already been paid as evidenced by a tax stamp. A person paying the tax is not required to disclose his or her identity and any information obtained in assessing the tax is confidential and cannot be used in a criminal prosecution other than a prosecution for failure to comply with the tax statute itself. Seventy-five percent of the revenue generated by assessments of the tax is distributed to the law enforcement agencies whose investigation led to the assessment. The remainder of the revenue is credited to the General Fund.

The North Carolina Court of Appeals upheld the constitutionality of the State's excise tax on controlled substances in 1996 and the North Carolina Supreme court affirmed March 7, 1997. Because the constitutionality of the tax depends on an interpretation of the federal constitution, the federal courts are not bound by the opinion of the North Carolina courts.

[3] The tax on marijuana is $3.50 a gram, except for separated stems and stalks, which are taxed at 40¢ a gram. The tax on "low-street-value" drugs is $50.00 for ten dosage units and the tax on other drugs not sold by weight is $400.00 for ten dosages units.

[4] The 100% penalty was reduced to 50% in 1995. The tobacco tax penalty is also 50%.

a. Processing of applications for permits or registrations issued under ~~Articles~~ Article 21, other than Parts 1 and 1A, Articles 21A, 21B, and 38 of this Chapter;

b. Administering permits or registrations issued under ~~Articles~~ Article 21, other than Parts 1 and 1A, Articles 21A, 21B, ~~or~~ and 38 of this Chapter including monitoring compliance with the terms of those permits; and

c. Reviewing, processing, and publicizing applications for construction grant awards under the Federal Water Pollution Control Act.

No fee may be charged under this provision, however, to a farmer who submits an application that pertains to his farming operations.

(1b) ~~The fee to be charged pursuant to G.S. 143-215.3(a)(1a) for processing an application for a permit under G.S. 143-215.1 of Article 21 may not exceed four hundred dollars ($400.00).~~ The fee to be charged pursuant to G.S. 143-215.3(a)(1a) for processing an application for a permit under G.S. 143-215.108 and G.S. 143-215.109 of Article 21B of this Chapter may not exceed five hundred dollars ($500.00). The fee to be charged pursuant to G.S. 143-215.3(a)(1a) for processing a registration under Part 2A of this Article or Article 38 of this Chapter may not exceed fifty dollars ($50.00) for any single registration. An additional fee of twenty percent (20%) of the registration processing fee may be assessed for a late registration under Article 38 of this Chapter. The fee for administering and compliance monitoring under ~~G.S. 143-215.1 of Article 21~~ Article 21, other than Parts 1 and 1A, and G.S. 143-215.108 and G.S. 143-215.109 of Article ~~21B~~ 21B shall be charged on an annual basis for each year of the permit term and may not exceed one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) per year. Fees for processing all permits under Article 21A and all other sections of ~~Articles 21 and~~ Article 21B shall not exceed one hundred dollars ($100.00) for any single permit. ~~Notwithstanding any other provision of this subdivision, the~~ The total payment for fees ~~required~~ that are set by the Commission under this subsection for all permits ~~under this subsection~~ for any single facility shall not exceed seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500) per year, which amount shall include all application fees and fees for administration and compliance monitoring. A single facility is defined to be any contiguous area under one ownership and in which permitted activities occur. For all permits issued under these Articles where a fee schedule is not specified in the statutes, the Commission, or other commission specified by statute shall adopt a fee schedule in a rule following the procedures established by the Administrative Procedure Act. Fee schedules shall be established to reflect the size of the emission or discharge, the potential impact on the environment, the staff costs involved, relative costs of the issuance of new permits and the reissuance of existing permits, and shall include adequate safeguards to prevent unusual fee assessments which would result in serious economic burden on an individual applicant. A system shall be considered to allow consolidated annual payments for persons with multiple permits. In its rulemaking to establish fee schedules, the Commission is also directed to consider a method of rewarding facilities which achieve full compliance with administrative and self-monitoring reporting requirements, and to consider, in those cases where the cost of renewal or amendment of a permit is less than for the original permit, a lower fee for the renewal or amendment.

(1c) Moneys collected pursuant to G.S. 143-215.3(a)(1a) shall be used to:

a. Eliminate, insofar as possible, backlogs of permit applications awaiting agency action;

b. Improve the quality of permits issued;

c. Improve the rate of compliance of permitted activities with environmental standards; and

d. Decrease the length of the processing period for permit applications.

(1d) The Commission may adopt and implement a graduated fee schedule sufficient to cover all direct and indirect costs required for the State to develop and administer a permit program which meets the requirements of Title V. The provisions of subdivision (1b) of this subsection do not apply to the adoption of a fee schedule under this subdivision. In adopting and implementing a fee schedule, the Commission shall require that the owner or operator of all air contaminant sources subject to the requirement to obtain a permit under Title V to pay an annual fee, or the equivalent over some other period, sufficient to cover costs as provided in section 502(b)(3)(A) of Title V. The fee schedule shall be adopted according to the procedures set out in Chapter 150B of the General Statutes.

a. The total amount of fees collected under the fee schedule adopted pursuant to this subdivision shall conform to the requirements of section 502(b)(3)(B) of Title V. No fee shall be collected for more than 4,000 tons per year of any individual regulated pollutant, as defined in section 502(b)(3)(B)(ii) of Title V, emitted by any source. Fees collected pursuant to this subdivision shall be credited to the Title V Account.

b. The Commission may reduce any permit fee required under this section to take into account the financial resources of small business stationary sources as defined under Title V and regulations promulgated by the United States Environmental Protection Agency.

c. When funds in the Title V Account exceed the total amount necessary to cover the cost of the Title V program for the next fiscal year, the Secretary shall reduce the amount billed for the next fiscal year so that the excess funds are used to supplement the cost of administering the Title V permit program in that fiscal year.

(1e) The Commission shall collect the application, annual, and project fees for processing and administering permits, certificates of coverage under general permits, and certifications issued under Parts 1 and 1A of this Article and for compliance monitoring under Parts 1 and 1A of this Article as provided in G.S. 143-215.3D and G.S. 143-215.10G.

(2) To direct that such investigation be conducted as it may reasonably deem necessary to carry out its duties as prescribed by this Article or Article 21A or Article 21B of this Chapter, and for this purpose to enter at reasonable times upon any property, public or private, for the purpose of investigating the condition of any waters and the discharge therein of any sewage, industrial waste, or other waste or for the purpose of investigating the condition of the air, air pollution, air contaminant sources, emissions, or the installation and operation of any air-cleaning devices, and to require written statements or the filing of reports under oath, with respect to pertinent questions relating to the operation of any air-cleaning device, sewer system, disposal system, or treatment works. In the case of effluent or emission data, any records, reports, or information obtained under this Article or Article 21A or Article 21B of this Chapter shall be related to any applicable effluent or emission limitations or toxic, pretreatment, or new source performance standards. No person shall refuse entry or access to any authorized representative of the Commission or Department who requests entry for purposes of inspection, and who presents appropriate credentials, nor shall any person obstruct, hamper or interfere with any such representative while in the process of carrying out his official duties.

(3) To conduct public hearings and to delegate the power to conduct public hearings in accordance with the procedures prescribed by this Article or by Article 21B of this Chapter.

(4) To delegate such of the powers of the Commission as the Commission deems necessary to one or more of its members, to the Secretary or any other qualified employee of the Department. The Commission shall not delegate to persons other than its own members and the designated employees of the Department the power to conduct hearings with respect to the classification of waters, the assignment of classifications, air quality standards, air contaminant source classifications, emission control standards, or the issuance of any special order except in the case of an emergency under subdivision (12) of this subsection for the abatement of existing water or air pollution. Any employee of the Department to whom a delegation of power is made to conduct a hearing shall report the hearing with its evidence and record to the Commission.

(5) To institute such actions in the superior court of any county in which a violation of this Article, Article 21B of this Chapter, or the rules of the Commission has occurred, or, in the discretion of the Commission, in the superior court of the county in which any defendant resides, or has his or its principal place of business, as the Commission may deem necessary for the enforcement of any of the provisions of this Article, Article 21B of this Chapter, or of any official action of the Commission, including proceedings to enforce subpoenas or for the punishment of contempt of the Commission.

(6) To agree upon or enter into any settlements or compromises of any actions and to prosecute any appeals or other proceedings.

(7) To direct the investigation of any killing of fish and wildlife which, in the opinion of the Commission, is of sufficient magnitude to justify investigation and is known or believed to have resulted from the pollution of the waters or air as defined in this Article, and whenever any person, whether or not he shall have been issued a certificate of approval, permit or other document of approval authorized by this or any other State law, has negligently, or carelessly or unlawfully, or willfully and unlawfully, caused pollution of the waters or air as defined in this Article, in such quantity, concentration or manner that fish or wildlife are killed as the result thereof, the Commission, may recover, in the name of the State, damages from such person. The measure of damages shall be the amount determined by the Department and the North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission, whichever has jurisdiction over the fish and wildlife destroyed to be the replacement cost thereof plus the cost of all reasonable and necessary investigations made or caused to be made by the State in connection therewith. Upon receipt of the estimate of damages caused, the Department shall notify the persons responsible for the destruction of the fish or wildlife in question and may effect such settlement as the Commission may deem proper and reasonable, and if no settlement is reached within a reasonable time, the Commission shall bring a civil action to recover such damages in the superior court in the county in which the discharge took place. Upon such action being brought the superior court shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine all issues or questions of law or fact, arising on the pleadings, including issues of liability and the amount of damages. On such hearing, the estimate of the replacement costs of the fish or wildlife destroyed shall be prima facie evidence of the actual replacement costs of such fish or wildlife. In arriving at such estimate, any reasonably accurate method may be used and it shall not be necessary for any agent of the Wildlife Resources Commission or the Department to collect, handle or weigh numerous specimens of dead fish or wildlife.

The State of North Carolina shall be deemed the owner of the fish or wildlife killed and all actions for recovery shall be brought by the Commission on behalf of the State as the owner of the fish or wildlife. The fact that the person or persons alleged to be responsible for the pollution which killed the fish or wildlife holds or has held a certificate of approval, permit or other document of approval authorized by this Article or any other law of the State shall not bar any such action. The proceeds of any recovery, less the cost of investigation, shall be used to replace, insofar as and as promptly as possible, the fish and wildlife killed, or in cases where replacement is not practicable, the proceeds shall be used in whatever manner the responsible agency deems proper for improving the fish and wildlife habitat in question. Any such funds received are hereby appropriated for these designated purposes. Such order may be issued only upon determination by the Commission, after public hearing, that the permitting of any new or additional source or sources of water or air pollution will result in a generalized condition of water or air pollution within the area contrary to the public interest, detrimental to the public health, safety, and welfare, and contrary to the policy and intent declared in this Article or Article 21B of this Chapter. The Commission may make reasonable distinctions among the various sources of water and air pollution and may direct that its order shall apply only to those sources which it determines will result in a generalized condition of water or air pollution.

The determination of the Commission shall be supported by detailed findings of fact and conclusions set forth in the order and based upon competent evidence of record. (9) If an investigation conducted pursuant to this Article or Article 21B of this Chapter reveals a violation of any rules, standards, or limitations adopted by the Commission pursuant to this Article or Article 21B of this Chapter, or a violation of any terms or conditions of any permit issued pursuant to G.S. 143-215.1 or 143-215.108, or special order or other document issued pursuant to G.S. 143-215.2 or G.S. 143-215.110, the Commission may assess the reasonable costs of any investigation, inspection or monitoring survey which revealed the violation against the person responsible therefor. If the violation resulted in an unauthorized discharge to the waters or atmosphere of the State, the Commission may also assess the person responsible for the violation for any actual and necessary costs incurred by the State in removing, correcting or abating any adverse effects upon the water or air resulting from the unauthorized discharge. If the person responsible for the violation refuses or fails within a reasonable time to pay any sums assessed, the Commission may institute a civil action in the superior court of the county in which the violation occurred or, in the Commission's discretion, in the superior court of the county in which such person resides or has his or its principal place of business, to recover such sums.

Fees collected under this subdivision shall be credited to the Water and Air Account and used to administer this subdivision. These fees shall be applied to the cost of certifying commercial, industrial, and municipal laboratory facilities.

(11) Repealed by Session Laws 1983, c. 296, s. 6.

Immediately after the issuance of such order, the chairman of the Commission shall fix a place and time for a hearing before the Commission to be held within 24 hours after issuance of such order, and within 24 hours after the commencement of such hearing, and without adjournment thereof, the Commission shall either affirm, modify or set aside the order.

In the absence of a generalized condition of air or water pollution of the type referred to above, if the Secretary finds that the emissions from one or more air contaminant sources or the discharge of wastes from one or more sources of water pollution is causing imminent danger to human health and safety or to fish and wildlife, he may with the concurrence of the Governor order the person or persons responsible for the operation or operations in question to immediately reduce or discontinue the emissions of air contaminants or the discharge of wastes or to take such other measures as are, in his judgment, necessary, without regard to any other provisions of this Article or Article 21B of this Chapter. In such event, the requirements for hearing and affirmance, modification or setting aside of such orders set forth in the preceding paragraph of this subdivision shall apply.

(13) Repealed by Session Laws 1983, c. 296, s. 6.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO LIMIT THE LIABILITY OF THE TOWN OF COLUMBUS FOR REPAYMENT OF ERRONEOUS FRANCHISE TAX DISTRIBUTIONS.

AN ACT TO AUTHORIZE THE TOWN OF LONG BEACH TO LEVY AN ADDITIONAL TWO PERCENT OCCUPANCY TAX TO BE USED FOR BEACH RENOURISHMENT AND PROTECTION AND TO AUTHORIZE THE TOWN OF NORTH TOPSAIL BEACH TO LEVY A ROOM OCCUPANCY AND TOURISM DEVELOPMENT TAX.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. Part IX of Chapter 908 of the 1983 Session Laws, as amended by Chapter 985 of the 1983 Session Laws and Chapter 857 of the 1989 Session Laws, as it relates to the Town of Long Beach only, is recodified and rewritten as Section 2 of this act.

Section 2. Long Beach occupancy tax. (a) Authorization and scope. The Long Beach Town Council may levy a room occupancy tax of up to three percent (3%) of the gross receipts derived from the rental of any room, lodging, or accommodation furnished by a hotel, motel, inn, tourist camp, or similar place within the town that is subject to sales tax imposed by the State under G.S. 105-164.4(a)(3) and from the rental of private residences and cottages, whether or not the residence or cottage is rented for less than 15 days. This tax is in addition to any State or local sales tax.

(b) Authorization of additional tax. In addition to the tax authorized by subsection (a) of this section, the Long Beach Town Council may levy an additional room occupancy tax of up to two percent (2%) of the gross receipts derived from the rental of accommodations taxable under subsection (a). The levy, collection, administration, and repeal of the tax authorized by this subsection shall be in accordance with the provisions of this section. The governing body of a town may not levy a tax under this subsection unless it also levies the tax authorized under subsection (a) of this section.

(c) Administration. A tax levied under this section shall be levied, administered, collected, and repealed as provided in G.S. 160A-215. The penalties provided in G.S. 160A-215 apply to a tax levied under this section.

The tax collector may collect any unpaid taxes levied under this act through the use of attachment and garnishment proceedings as provided in G.S. 105-368 for collection of property taxes. The tax collector has the same enforcement powers concerning the tax imposed by this act as does the Secretary of Revenue in enforcing the State sales tax under G.S. 105-164.30.

(d) Distribution and use of tax revenue. The Town of Long Beach may use the proceeds of the tax levied pursuant to subsection (a) of this section only for tourism-related expenditures. As used in this section, "tourism-related expenditures" includes any of the following expenditures: criminal justice system, fire protection, public facilities and utilities, health facilities, solid waste and sewage treatment, and the control and repair of waterfront erosion. The term does not include, however, expenditures for services normally provided by the town on behalf of its citizens unless these services promote tourism and enlarge its economic benefits by enhancing the ability of the town to attract and provide for tourists.

The Town of Long Beach may use the proceeds of the tax levied pursuant to subsection (b) of this section only for beach renourishment and protection.

Section 3. Occupancy tax. (a) Authorization and scope. The Board of Aldermen of the Town of North Topsail Beach may levy a room occupancy tax of up to three percent (3%) of the gross receipts derived from the rental of any room, lodging, or accommodation furnished by a hotel, motel, inn, tourist camp, or similar place within the town that is subject to sales tax imposed by the State under G.S. 105-164.4(a)(3). This tax is in addition to any State or local sales tax. This tax does not apply to accommodations furnished by nonprofit charitable, educational, or religious organizations when furnished in furtherance of their nonprofit purpose.

(b) Administration. A tax levied under this section shall be levied, administered, collected, and repealed as provided in G.S. 160A-215. The penalties provided in G.S. 160A-215 apply to a tax levied under this section.

(c) Distribution and use of tax revenue. North Topsail Beach shall, on a quarterly basis, remit the net proceeds of the occupancy tax to the North Topsail Beach Tourism Development Authority. Of the net proceeds of the tax levied under this section for the first 24 months the tax is in effect, the Authority must use at least twenty-five percent (25%) to promote travel and tourism in North Topsail Beach and must use the remainder for beach stabilization and maintenance, for construction of tourist-related amenities, and to address health, safety, and welfare issues related to tourism. Of the net proceeds of the tax levied after the first 24 months that the tax is in effect, the Authority must use at least two-thirds of the net proceeds of a tax levied under this section to promote travel and tourism in North Topsail Beach and must use the remainder for beach stabilization and maintenance, for construction of tourist-related amenities, and to address health, safety, and welfare issues related to tourism.

The following definitions apply in this subsection:

(1) Net proceeds. -- Gross proceeds less the cost to the town of administering and collecting the tax, as determined by the finance officer, not to exceed three percent (3%) of the first five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) of gross proceeds collected each year and one percent (1%) of the remaining gross receipts collected each year.

(2) Promote travel and tourism. -- To advertise or market an area or activity, publish and distribute pamphlets and other materials, conduct market research, or engage in similar promotional activities that attract tourists or business travelers to the area; the term includes administrative expenses incurred in engaging in the listed activities.

Section 4. Tourism Development Authority. (a) Appointment and membership. When the Board of Aldermen of the Town of North Topsail Beach adopts a resolution levying a room occupancy tax under this act, it shall also adopt a resolution creating a North Topsail Beach Tourism Development Authority, which shall be a public authority under the Local Government Budget and Fiscal Control Act. The resolution shall provide for the membership of the Authority including the members' qualifications and terms of office, and for the filling of vacancies on the Authority. The Authority shall be composed of five members, three of whom must be currently active in the promotion of travel and tourism in the town and two of whom must be residents of the town. The board of aldermen shall designate one member of the Authority as chair and shall determine the compensation, if any, to be paid to members of the Authority.

The Authority shall meet at the call of the chair and shall adopt rules of procedure to govern its meetings. The Finance Officer for the Town of North Topsail Beach shall be the ex officio finance officer of the Authority.

(b) Duties. The Authority shall expend the net proceeds of the tax levied under this act for the purposes provided in Section 3 of this act. (c) Reports. The Authority shall report quarterly and at the close of the fiscal year to the board of aldermen on its receipts and expenditures for the preceding quarter and for the year in such detail as the board may require.

FISCAL IMPACT

	FY 1998-99	FY 1999-00	FY 2000-01	FY 2001-02	FY 2002-03
REVENUES	$2,900	$3,050	$3,200	$3,350	$3,500
EXPENDITURES
POSITIONS: NA

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Secretary of State

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 1, 1998

BILL SUMMARY:

Amends G.S. 10A-2 to specify that one of the chapter's purposes is to prevent fraud and forgery. Amends G.S. 10A-4 to require payment of a $50 fee to be certified to teach a course of study for notaries public, and to renew certification. Adds director and employees of the Notary Division of the Department of the Secretary of State to existing exemption from certain instructor certification requirements. Amends G.S. 10A-15 to permit director and employees of the Notary Division to act as notaries public by virtue of their employment by the Secretary of State, and to allow them to certify their notarial acts under the Secretary of State's seal. Amends G.S. 10A-4 (c) to specify that the Secretary of State may deny an application for commission or recommission as a notary if applicant has been convicted of a felony. Amends G.S. 10A-11 to add to and clarify specifications for notary seals. Amends G.S. 10A-16 to validate various notarial acts performed before October 1, 1998, and to clarify and add to the acts that are covered by the validation.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:
The number of initial certifications to teach a course of study for notaries public and the certification renewals to teach the courses are represented below by the single figures for the 1993-94 through the 1997-98 (projected) fiscal years:

1993-94	1994-95	1995-96	1996-97	1997-98 (est.)
43	47	50	52	55

Senate Bill 1552 authorizes the Secretary of State to charge a $50 fee for each initial certification and renewal to teach a course of study for notaries public. Relying on the experience from 1993-94 to 1996-97, we estimate an average annual increase of 3 individuals to the total number of individuals receiving initial certification and/or certification renewal. The following numbers (by fiscal year) represent the projected number of certifications and renewals in the out years:

1998-99	1999-00	2000-01	2001-02	2002-03

We simply multiply the projected numbers of initial certificates and renewals (above) times the $50 fee (authorized by the bill) to get the revenue projections by fiscal year reflected in the FISCAL IMPACT section of this note.

Section 2. Long Beach occupancy tax. (a) Authorization and scope. The Long Beach Town Council may levy a room occupancy tax of up to three percent (3%) of the gross receipts derived from the rental of any room, lodging, or accommodation furnished by a hotel, motel, inn, tourist camp, or similar place within the town that is subject to sales tax imposed by the State under G.S. 105-164.4(a)(3) and from the rental of private residences and cottages, whether or not the residence or cottage is rented for less than 15 days. This tax is in addition to any State or local sales tax.

(b) Authorization of additional tax. In addition to the tax authorized by subsection (a) of this section, the Long Beach Town Council may levy an additional room occupancy tax of up to two percent (2%) of the gross receipts derived from the rental of accommodations taxable under subsection (a). The levy, collection, administration, and repeal of the tax authorized by this subsection shall be in accordance with the provisions of this section. The governing body of a town may not levy a tax under this subsection unless it also levies the tax authorized under subsection (a) of this section.

(c) Administration. A tax levied under this section shall be levied, administered, collected, and repealed as provided in G.S. 160A-215. The penalties provided in G.S. 160A-215 apply to a tax levied under this section.

The tax collector may collect any unpaid taxes levied under this act through the use of attachment and garnishment proceedings as provided in G.S. 105-368 for collection of property taxes. The tax collector has the same enforcement powers concerning the tax imposed by this act as does the Secretary of Revenue in enforcing the State sales tax under G.S. 105-164.30.

(d) Distribution and use of tax revenue. The Town of Long Beach may use the proceeds of the tax levied pursuant to subsection (a) of this section only for tourism-related expenditures. As used in this section, "tourism-related expenditures" includes any of the following expenditures: criminal justice system, fire protection, public facilities and utilities, health facilities, solid waste and sewage treatment, and the control and repair of waterfront erosion. The term does not include, however, expenditures for services normally provided by the town on behalf of its citizens unless these services promote tourism and enlarge its economic benefits by enhancing the ability of the town to attract and provide for tourists.

The Town of Long Beach may use the proceeds of the tax levied pursuant to subsection (b) of this section only for beach renourishment and protection.

Section 3. North Topsail Beach occupancy tax. (a) Authorization and scope. The Board of Aldermen of the Town of North Topsail Beach may levy a room occupancy tax of up to three percent (3%) of the gross receipts derived from the rental of any room, lodging, or accommodation furnished by a hotel, motel, inn, tourist camp, or similar place within the town that is subject to sales tax imposed by the State under G.S. 105-164.4(a)(3). This tax is in addition to any State or local sales tax. This tax does not apply to accommodations furnished by nonprofit charitable, educational, or religious organizations when furnished in furtherance of their nonprofit purpose.

(b) Administration. A tax levied under this section shall be levied, administered, collected, and repealed as provided in G.S. 160A-215. The penalties provided in G.S. 160A-215 apply to a tax levied under this section.

(c) Distribution and use of tax revenue. North Topsail Beach shall, on a quarterly basis, remit the net proceeds of the occupancy tax to the North Topsail Beach Tourism Development Authority. Of the net proceeds of the tax levied under this section for the first 24 months the tax is in effect, the Authority must use at least twenty-five percent (25%) to promote travel and tourism in North Topsail Beach and must use the remainder for beach stabilization and maintenance, for construction of tourist-related amenities, and to address health, safety, and welfare issues related to tourism. Of the net proceeds of the tax levied after the first 24 months that the tax is in effect, the Authority must use at least two-thirds of the net proceeds of a tax levied under this section to promote travel and tourism in North Topsail Beach and must use the remainder for beach stabilization and maintenance, for construction of tourist-related amenities, and to address health, safety, and welfare issues related to tourism.

The following definitions apply in this subsection:

(1) Net proceeds. -- Gross proceeds less the cost to the town of administering and collecting the tax, as determined by the finance officer, not to exceed three percent (3%) of the first five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) of gross proceeds collected each year and one percent (1%) of the remaining gross receipts collected each year.

(2) Promote travel and tourism. -- To advertise or market an area or activity, publish and distribute pamphlets and other materials, conduct market research, or engage in similar promotional activities that attract tourists or business travelers to the area; the term includes administrative expenses incurred in engaging in the listed activities.

Section 4. North Topsail Beach Tourism Development Authority. (a) Appointment and membership. When the Board of Aldermen of the Town of North Topsail Beach adopts a resolution levying a room occupancy tax under this act, it shall also adopt a resolution creating a North Topsail Beach Tourism Development Authority, which shall be a public authority under the Local Government Budget and Fiscal Control Act. The resolution shall provide for the membership of the Authority including the members' qualifications and terms of office, and for the filling of vacancies on the Authority. The Authority shall be composed of five members, three of whom must be currently active in the promotion of travel and tourism in the town and two of whom must be residents of the town. The board of aldermen shall designate one member of the Authority as chair and shall determine the compensation, if any, to be paid to members of the Authority.

The Authority shall meet at the call of the chair and shall adopt rules of procedure to govern its meetings. The Finance Officer for the Town of North Topsail Beach shall be the ex officio finance officer of the Authority.

A quorum of the Board shall consist of five members. The Board shall meet upon the call of the chair.

(b) Each member shall serve a term of four years and may be appointed to no more than two successive terms. Vacancies may be filled in the same manner as the original appointment.

(c) The Board shall establish and maintain the Wireless Fund as an insured, interest-bearing account into which the Board shall deposit all revenues derived from the service charge levied on CMRS connections in the State and collected pursuant to G.S. 62B-3. The Wireless Fund shall be a separate fund restricted to the uses set forth in this Chapter. The Board may invest the revenue in the Wireless Fund in the same manner that State funds may be invested. The Board shall deposit any income earned from such an investment in the Wireless Fund.

(d) The Board may disburse the revenues remitted to the Wireless Fund in the manner set forth in G.S. 62B-5. The Board shall establish procedures for disbursement of these revenues and advise the CMRS providers and eligible counties of such procedures within 60 days after all members are appointed pursuant to G.S. 62B-2(a).

(e) The Board shall serve without compensation, but members of the Board shall receive per diem, subsistence, and travel allowances at the rate established in G.S. 138-5.

"§ 62B-3. Amount of service charge.

(a) The Board shall levy a monthly wireless Enhanced 911 service charge on each CMRS connection. The rate of such service charge shall initially be set at eighty cents (80¢) per month per each CMRS connection beginning July 1, 1998. The service charge shall have uniform application and shall be imposed throughout the State.

(b) The service charge may be adjusted by the Board every two years, beginning July 1, 2000. The Board is to set the service charge at such a rate as to ensure full recovery for CMRS providers and for PSAPs, over a reasonable period of time, of the costs associated with developing and maintaining a wireless Enhanced 911 system. If necessary to ensure full recovery of costs for both CMRS providers and PSAPs over a reasonable period of time, the Board may, at the time it adjusts the service charge, also adjust the allocation percentages set forth in G.S. 62B-5(a) and G.S. 62B-5(b).

(c) The service charge shall not exceed one dollar and twenty-five cents ($1.25).

(d) The Board may adopt other rules and procedures as may be necessary to effect the provisions of this act but may not regulate any other aspect of the provision of wireless Enhanced 911 service, such as technical standards.

(e) No other State agency or local government may levy any additional surcharge relating to the provision of wireless Enhanced 911 service.

"§ 62B-4. Management of funds.

(a) Each CMRS provider, as a part of its monthly billing process, shall collect the wireless Enhanced 911 service charge described in G.S. 62B-3. The CMRS provider may list the service charge as a separate entry on each bill. If a CMRS provider receives a partial payment for a monthly bill from a subscriber, the provider shall apply the payment first against the amount the subscriber owes the provider.

(b) A CMRS provider has no obligation to take any legal action to enforce the collection of the service charges for which any subscriber is billed. However, a collection action may be initiated by the Board and reasonable costs and attorneys' fees associated with that collection action may be awarded.

(c) State and local taxes do not apply to the wireless Enhanced 911 service charge.

(d) Each CMRS provider shall be entitled to deduct a one percent (1%) administrative fee from the total service charges collected.

(e) All service charges collected by the CMRS providers, less the administrative fee described in subsection (d) of this section, are to be remitted to the Board to be placed in the Wireless Fund, not later than 30 days after the end of the calendar month in which such service charges are collected.

"§ 62B-5. Use of funds.

(a) Sixty percent (60%) of the funds in the Wireless Fund established in G.S. 62B-2(c) shall be held in escrow and used to reimburse CMRS providers, in response to sworn invoices submitted to the Board, for the actual costs incurred by the CMRS providers in complying with the wireless 911 requirements established by the FCC Order and any rules and regulations which are or may be adopted by the FCC pursuant to the FCC Order, including costs and expenses incurred for designing, upgrading, purchasing, leasing, programming, installing, testing, or maintaining all necessary data, hardware, and software required in order to provide such service as well as the recurring and nonrecurring costs of operating such service.

(b) Forty percent (40%) of the funds in the Wireless Fund established in G.S. 62B-2(c) shall be used to make monthly distributions to eligible PSAPs (the '40% Fund'). The 40% Fund shall be distributed as follows:

(1) Fifty percent (50%) of it shall be divided equally among the total number of PSAPs in North Carolina. However, monthly distribution shall be made only to those PSAPs that have complied with the provisions of this Chapter. Distribution to each eligible PSAP will begin the month following its compliance with the provisions of this Chapter. All monies remaining in this portion of the 40% Fund on January 31 of each year will then be evenly distributed to each of the eligible PSAPs.

(2) The other fifty percent (50%) shall be divided pro rata among the eligible PSAPs based on the population served by the PSAP. The population data to be used will be those numbers on file with the Secretary of State. All monies remaining in this portion of the 40% Fund on January 31 of each year will then be evenly distributed to each of the eligible PSAPs.

(c) Sworn invoices shall be presented by CMRS providers in connection with any request for reimbursement under this section. In no event shall any invoice for reimbursement be approved for the payment of costs that are not related to compliance with the wireless Enhanced 911 service requirements established by the FCC Order and any rules and regulations which are or may be adopted by the FCC pursuant to the FCC Order.

(d) In no event shall any invoice for reimbursement be approved for payment of costs of any CMRS provider exceeding one hundred twenty-five percent (125%) of the service charges remitted by such CMRS provider unless prior approval for such expenditures is received from the Board. If the total amount of invoices submitted to the Board and approved for payment exceeds the amount in the Wireless Fund in any month, CMRS providers that have invoices approved for payment shall receive a pro rata share of the Wireless Fund, based on the relative amount of their approved invoices available that month, and the balance of the payments will be carried over to the following month or months and shall include interest at the rate set out in G.S. 24-1 until all of the approved payments are made.

"§ 62B-6. Distributions of funds.

(a) The Board shall, upon majority vote, retain an independent, third-party accounting firm for the purposes of processing checks and distributing funds as directed by the Board, in accordance with the provision of this Chapter.

(b) The Board shall be entitled to deduct a one percent (1%) administrative fee from the total service charges remitted by the CMRS providers for its expenses.

"§ 62B-7. Provision of services.

In accordance with the FCC Order, no CMRS provider shall be required to provide wireless Enhanced 911 service until such time as (i) the provider receives a request for such service from the administrator of a PSAP that is capable of receiving and utilizing the data elements associated with the service; (ii) funds are available pursuant to G.S. 62B-4; and (iii) the local exchange carrier is able to support the wireless Enhanced 911 system.

"§ 62B-8. Audit.

The State Auditor may perform audits pursuant to Article 5A of Chapter 147 of the General Statutes to ensure that funds in the Wireless Fund are being managed in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter and shall perform an audit at least every two years. The State Auditor shall provide the audit to the Board when it meets to adjust the service charge pursuant to G.S. 62B-3. The cost of audits shall be reimbursed to the State Auditor by the Board.

"§ 62B-9. Customer records.

Each CMRS provider shall provide its ten thousand number groups to the PSAPs upon request. This information shall remain the property of the disclosing CMRS provider and shall be used only in providing emergency response services to 911 calls.

"§ 62B-10. Proprietary information.

All proprietary information submitted to the Board or the State Auditor shall be retained in confidence. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no proprietary information submitted pursuant to this Chapter shall be subject to the North Carolina Public Records Law or subpoena, or otherwise released to any person other than to the submitting CMRS provider, the Board, and the independent, third-party auditor retained pursuant to G.S. 62B-6, without the express permission of the submitting CMRS provider. Further, proprietary information shall constitute trade secrets as defined by the North Carolina Trade Secrets Protection Act, G.S. 66-152. General information collected by the Board or the State Auditor shall be released or published only in aggregate amounts that do not identify or allow identification of numbers of subscribers or revenues attributable to an individual CMRS provider.

"§ 62B-11. Limitation of liability.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no CMRS provider, local exchange company, service supplier, PSAP, the Board or their employees, directors, officers, or agents, except in cases of wanton and willful misconduct, shall be liable for any damages in a civil action or subject to criminal prosecution resulting from death or injury to the person or from damage to property incurred by any person in connection with developing, adopting, implementing, maintaining, or operating any wireless 911 system or wireless Enhanced 911 system.

"§ 62B-12. Misuse of wireless 911 system; penalty.

Wireless emergency telephone service shall be used solely for emergency communications by the public. Any person who knowingly uses or attempts to use wireless emergency telephone service for a purpose other than obtaining public safety assistance, or who knowingly uses or attempts to use wireless emergency telephone service in an effort to avoid any CMRS charges, is guilty of a Class 3 misdemeanor. If the value of the CMRS charge or service obtained in a manner prohibited by this section exceeds one hundred dollars ($100.00), the person is guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor."

Section 2. G.S. 150B-1(c) reads as rewritten:

"(c) Full Exemptions. -- This Chapter applies to every agency except:

Section 3. G.S. 136-18 is amended by adding a new subdivision to read:

"(35) The Department of Transportation may lease land, or any interest thereof, for the purposes of construction and placement of communications towers on State land controlled by the Department of Transportation or for placement of antennas upon State-owned structures controlled by the Department of Transportation. The following requirements shall apply to such leases:

a. The lease shall require the lessee to permit other telecommunications carriers to colocate on the communications tower on commercially reasonable terms between the lessee and the colocating carrier until the communications tower reaches its capacity. Unless the Department of Transportation determines that colocation is unfeasible at that location, the communications tower shall be designed and constructed to accommodate at least one other carrier on the tower.

b. The Department of Transportation shall, in determining the location of lands to be leased for communications towers, encourage communications towers to be located near other communications towers to the extent technically desirable.

For purposes of this subdivision, 'colocate and colocation' mean the sharing of a communications tower for two or more services.

City and county zoning ordinances apply to leases and rentals created under this subdivision.

Leases created under this subdivision do not require approval under G.S. 146-29."

Section 4. G.S. 146-29 reads as rewritten:

"§ 146-29. Procedure for sale, lease, or rental.

(a) If, after investigation, the Department of Administration determines that it is in the best interest of the State that land be sold, leased, or rented, the Department shall proceed with its sale, lease, or rental, as the case may be, in accordance with rules adopted by the Governor and approved by the Council of State. If an agreement of sale, lease, or rental is reached, the proposed transaction shall then be submitted to the Governor and Council of State for their approval or disapproval. Every conveyance in fee of land owned by the State or by any State agency shall be made and executed in the manner prescribed in G.S. 146-74 through 146-78.

(b) The State may lease land, or any interest thereof, for the purposes of construction and placement of communications towers on State land or for placement of antennas upon State-owned structures. The following additional requirements shall apply to such leases:

(1) The lease shall require the lessee to permit other telecommunications carriers to colocate on the communications tower on commercially reasonable terms between the lessee and the colocating carrier until the communications tower reaches its capacity. Unless the State determines that colocation is unfeasible at that location, the communications tower shall be designed and constructed to accommodate at least one other carrier on the tower.

(2) The State shall, in determining the location of lands to be leased for communications towers, encourage communications towers to be located near other communications towers to the extent technically desirable.

(3) The State shall, when choosing a communications tower or antenna location, choose a location which minimizes the visual impact on surrounding landscape.

For purposes of this subsection, 'colocate and colocation' mean the sharing of a communications tower by two or more services.

City and county zoning ordinances apply to leases and rentals created under this subsection."

Section 5. If any provision of this act or the application of this act to any person or circumstance is held invalid, that invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this act that can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are severable.

Section 6. Sections 1 and 2 of this act become effective 90 days after it becomes law. Appointments to the Wireless 911 Advisory Board created in G.S. 62B-2 shall be made within 30 days of the effective date of Sections 1 and 2 of this act. (12) 'Pseudoautomatic number identification' or 'Pseudo-ANI' means a wireless Enhanced 911 service capability that enables the automatic display of the number of the cell site or cell face.

(13) 'Service supplier' means a person or entity who provides exchange telephone service to a telephone subscriber.

(14) 'Wireless 911 system' means an emergency telephone system that provides the user of a CMRS connection the ability to reach a PSAP by dialing the digits 911.

(15) 'Wireless Enhanced 911 system' means an emergency telephone system that provides the user of the CMRS connection with wireless 911 service and, in addition, directs 911 calls to appropriate PSAPs by selective routing based on the geographical location from which the call originated and provides the capability for ANI (or Pseudo-ANI) and ALI features, in accordance with the requirements of the FCC Order.

(16) 'Wireless Fund' means the Wireless Emergency Telephone System Fund required to be established and maintained pursuant to G.S. 62B-2(c).

"§ 62B-2. Wireless 911 Board.

(a) There is created a Wireless 911 Board ('Board'), consisting of eleven members as follows:

(1) Two members appointed by the Governor, one upon the recommendation of the North Carolina League of Municipalities and one upon the recommendation of the North Carolina Association of County Commissioners;

(2) Four members appointed by the General Assembly upon the recommendation of the Speaker of the House of Representatives, one of whom shall be a sheriff, two representing CMRS providers licensed to do business in North Carolina and one representing the North Carolina Chapter of the Association of Public Safety Communications Officials (APCO);

(3) Four members appointed by the General Assembly upon the recommendation of the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, one of whom shall be a chief of police, one representing CMRS providers licensed to do business in North Carolina, one representing local exchange carriers licensed to do business in North Carolina, and one representing the North Carolina Chapter of the National Emergency Number Association (NENA); and

(4) The Secretary of Commerce or the Secretary's designee, who shall serve as the chair.

A quorum of the Board shall consist of six members. The Board shall meet upon the call of the chair.

(b) Each member shall serve a term of four years and may be appointed to no more than two successive terms. Vacancies may be filled in the same manner as the original appointment.

(c) There is established with the Treasurer the Wireless Fund into which the Board shall deposit all revenues derived from the service charge levied on CMRS connections in the State and collected pursuant to G.S. 62B-3. The Wireless Fund shall be a separate fund restricted to the uses set forth in this Chapter.

(d) Consistent with the provisions of G.S. 143-3.2, the Board shall disburse the revenues remitted to the Wireless Fund in the manner set forth in G.S. 62B-5. The Board shall establish procedures for disbursement of these revenues and advise the CMRS providers and eligible counties of such procedures within 60 days after all members are appointed pursuant to G.S. 62B-2(a).

(e) The Board shall serve without compensation, but members of the Board shall receive per diem, subsistence, and travel allowances at the rate established in G.S. 138-5.

"§ 62B-3. Amount of service charge.

(a) The Board shall levy a monthly wireless Enhanced 911 service charge on each CMRS connection. The rate of such service charge shall initially be set at eighty cents (80¢) per month per each CMRS connection beginning October 1, 1998. The service charge shall have uniform application and shall be imposed throughout the State.

(b) The service charge may be adjusted by the Board beginning July 1, 2000 and every two years thereafter. The Board is to set the service charge at such a rate as to ensure full recovery for CMRS providers and for PSAPs, over a reasonable period of time, of the costs associated with developing and maintaining a wireless Enhanced 911 system. If necessary to ensure full recovery of costs for both CMRS providers and PSAPs over a reasonable period of time, the Board may, at the time it adjusts the service charge, also adjust the allocation percentages set forth in G.S. 62B-5(a) and G.S. 62B-5(b).

(c) The service charge shall not exceed one dollar and twenty-five cents ($1.25).

(d) The Board may adopt other rules and procedures as may be necessary to effect the provisions of this act but may not regulate any other aspect of the provision of wireless Enhanced 911 service, such as technical standards.

(e) No other State agency or local government may levy any additional surcharge relating to the provision of wireless Enhanced 911 service.

"§ 62B-4. Management of funds.

(a) Each CMRS provider, as a part of its monthly billing process, shall collect the wireless Enhanced 911 service charge described in G.S. 62B-3. The CMRS provider may list the service charge as a separate entry on each bill. If a CMRS provider receives a partial payment for a monthly bill from a subscriber, the provider shall apply the payment first against the amount the subscriber owes the provider.

(b) A CMRS provider has no obligation to take any legal action to enforce the collection of the service charges for which any subscriber is billed. However, a collection action may be initiated by the Board and reasonable costs and attorneys' fees associated with that collection action may be awarded.

(c) State and local taxes do not apply to the wireless Enhanced 911 service charge.

(d) Each CMRS provider shall be entitled to deduct a one percent (1%) administrative fee from the total service charges collected.

(e) All service charges collected by the CMRS providers, less the administrative fee described in subsection (d) of this section, are to be remitted to the Board to be placed in the Wireless Fund, not later than 30 days after the end of the calendar month in which such service charges are collected.

"§ 62B-5. Use of funds.

(a) Sixty percent (60%) of the funds in the Wireless Fund established in G.S. 62B-2(c) shall be used to reimburse CMRS providers, in response to sworn invoices submitted to the Board, for the actual costs incurred by the CMRS providers in complying with the wireless 911 requirements established by the FCC Order and any rules and regulations which are or may be adopted by the FCC pursuant to the FCC Order, including costs and expenses incurred for designing, upgrading, purchasing, leasing, programming, installing, testing, or maintaining all necessary data, hardware, and software required in order to provide such service as well as the recurring and nonrecurring costs of operating such service. All costs and expenses must be commercially reasonable.

(b) Forty percent (40%) of the funds in the Wireless Fund established in G.S. 62B-2(c) shall be used to make monthly distributions to eligible PSAPs (the '40% Fund'). Money from the 40% Fund shall be used only to pay for the lease, purchase, or maintenance of emergency telephone equipment for the wireless Enhanced 911 system, including necessary computer hardware, software and database provisioning, and nonrecurring costs of establishing a wireless Enhanced 911 system. Money from the 40% Fund shall also be used to pay the rates associated with the local telephone companies' charges related to the operation of the wireless Enhanced 911 system. The 40% Fund shall be distributed as follows:

(1) Fifty percent (50%) of it shall be divided equally among the total number of PSAPs in North Carolina. However, monthly distribution shall be made only to those PSAPs that have complied with the provisions of this Chapter. Distribution to each eligible PSAP will begin the month following its compliance with the provisions of this Chapter. All monies remaining in this portion of the 40% Fund on January 31 of each year will then be evenly distributed to each of the eligible PSAPs.

(2) The other fifty percent (50%) shall be divided pro rata among the eligible PSAPs based on the population served by the PSAP. The population data to be used shall be the latest certified county and official municipal estimates of population published by the Office of State Planning. All monies remaining in this portion of the 40% Fund on January 31 of each year will then be evenly distributed to each of the eligible PSAPs.

(c) Sworn invoices shall be presented by CMRS providers in connection with any request for reimbursement under this section. In no event shall any invoice for reimbursement be approved for the payment of costs that are not related to compliance with the wireless Enhanced 911 service requirements established by the FCC

Order and any rules and regulations which are or may be adopted by the FCC pursuant to the FCC Order.

(d) In no event shall any invoice for reimbursement be approved for payment of costs of any CMRS provider exceeding one hundred twenty-five percent (125%) of the service charges remitted by such CMRS provider unless prior approval for such expenditures is received from the Board. If the total amount of invoices submitted to the Board and approved for payment exceeds the amount in the Wireless Fund in any month, CMRS providers that have invoices approved for payment shall receive a pro rata share of the Wireless Fund, based on the relative amount of their approved invoices available that month, and the balance of the payments will be carried over to the following month or months and shall include interest at the rate set out in G.S. 24-1 until all of the approved payments are made.

(e) In January of each year every participating PSAP will submit to the Board a copy of its governing agency's approved budget detailing the PSAP's revenues and expenditures associated with the operation of its wireless Enhanced 911 system. PSAPs must comply with all requests by the Board for financial information related to the operation of the wireless Enhanced 911 system.

(f) On February 15, 2000, and every two years thereafter the Board shall report to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations and the Revenue Laws Study Committee. The report shall contain complete information regarding receipts and expenditures of all funds received by the Board during the period covered by the report as well as the status of wireless Enhanced 911 systems in North Carolina at the time of the report. The first report shall cover the period from the formation of the Board to December 31, 1999. Each succeeding report shall cover the two year period of time from the ending date of the previous report.

"§ 62B-6. Administrative fee.

The Board shall be entitled to deduct a one percent (1%) administrative fee from the total service charges remitted by the CMRS providers for its expenses.

"§ 62B-7. Provision of services.

In accordance with the FCC Order, no CMRS provider shall be required to provide wireless Enhanced 911 service until such time as (i) the provider receives a request for such service from the administrator of a PSAP that is capable of receiving and utilizing the data elements associated with the service; (ii) funds are available pursuant to G.S. 62B-4; and (iii) the local exchange carrier is able to support the wireless Enhanced 911 system.

"§ 62B-8. Audit.

The State Auditor may perform audits pursuant to Article 5A of Chapter 147 of the General Statutes to ensure that funds in the Wireless Fund are being managed in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter and shall perform an audit at least every two years. The State Auditor shall provide the audit to the Board when it meets to consider adjusting the service charge pursuant to G.S. 62B-3. The cost of audits shall be reimbursed to the State Auditor by the Board.

"§ 62B-9. Customer records.

Each CMRS provider shall provide its ten thousand number groups to the PSAPs upon request. This information shall remain the property of the disclosing CMRS provider and shall be used only in providing emergency response services to 911 calls. CMRS connection information obtained by PSAP personnel for public safety purposes is not public information under Chapter 132 of the General Statutes. No person shall disclose or use, for any purpose other than for the wireless 911 calling system, information contained in the data base of the telephone network portion of a wireless 911 calling system established pursuant to this Chapter.

"§ 62B-10. Proprietary information.

All proprietary information submitted to the Board or the State Auditor shall be retained in confidence. Proprietary information submitted pursuant to this Chapter shall not be subject to disclosure under Chapter 132 of the General Statutes, or otherwise released to any person other than to the submitting CMRS provider, the Board, and the independent, third-party auditor retained pursuant to G.S. 62B-6, without the express permission of the submitting CMRS provider. Further, proprietary information shall constitute trade secrets as defined by the North Carolina Trade Secrets Protection Act, Article 24 of Chapter 66 of the General Statutes. General information collected by the Board or the State Auditor shall be released or published only in aggregate amounts that do not identify or allow identification of numbers of subscribers or revenues attributable to an individual CMRS provider.

"§ 62B-11. Limitation of liability.

A CMRS provider, local exchange company, service supplier, or their employees, directors, officers, or agents, except in cases of wanton and willful misconduct, shall not be liable for any damages in a civil action resulting from death or injury to any person or from damage to property incurred by any person in connection with developing, adopting, implementing, maintaining, or operating any wireless 911 system or wireless Enhanced 911 system. This section shall not apply to actions arising out of the operation or ownership of a motor vehicle.

"§ 62B-12. Misuse of wireless 911 system; penalty.

Wireless emergency telephone service shall be used solely for emergency communications by the public. Any person who knowingly uses or attempts to use wireless emergency telephone service or information for a purpose other than obtaining public safety assistance, or who knowingly uses or attempts to use wireless emergency telephone service in an effort to avoid any CMRS charges, is guilty of a Class 3 misdemeanor. If the value of the CMRS charge or service obtained in a manner prohibited by this section exceeds one hundred dollars ($100.00), the person is guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor."

Section 2. G.S. 150B-1(c) reads as rewritten:

"(c) Full Exemptions. -- This Chapter applies to every agency except:

(1) The North Carolina National Guard in exercising its court-martial jurisdiction.

(2) The Department of Health and Human Services in exercising its authority over the Camp Butner reservation granted in Article 6 of Chapter 122C of the General Statutes.

(3) The Utilities Commission.

(4) The Industrial Commission.

(5) The Employment Security Commission.

(6) The Wireless 911 Board."

Section 2.1. G.S. 62A-10 reads as rewritten:

"§ 62A-10. Limitation of liability.

A service supplier, including any telephone company and its employees, directors, officers and agents, is not liable for any damages in a civil action for injuries, death, or loss to persons or property incurred by any person as a result of any act or omission of a service supplier or of any of its employees, directors, officers, or agents, except for willful or wanton misconduct, in connection with developing, adopting, implementing, maintaining, or operating any 911 system. This section shall not apply to actions arising out of the operation or ownership of a motor vehicle."

Section 3. Chapter 146 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 146-29.2. Lease provisions for communications towers.

The State may lease real property, or any interest in real property, for the purposes of construction and placement of communications towers on State land or for placement of antennas upon State-owned structures. The following additional requirements shall apply to such leases:

(1) The lease shall require the lessee to permit other telecommunications carriers to co-locate on the communications tower on commercially reasonable terms between the lessee and the co-locating carrier until the communications tower reaches its capacity. Unless the State determines that co-location is not feasible at that location, the communications tower shall be designed and constructed to accommodate other carriers on the tower.

(2) The State shall, in determining the location of lands to be leased for communications towers, encourage communications towers to be located near other communications towers to the extent technically desirable.

(3) The State shall, when choosing a communications tower or antenna location, choose a location which minimizes the visual impact on surrounding landscape.

For purposes of this section, 'co-locate and co-location' mean the sharing of a communications tower by two or more services.

City and county zoning ordinances apply to leases and rentals created under this section."

Section 4. If any provision of this act or the application of this act to any person or circumstance is held invalid, that invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this act that can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are severable.

Section 5. This act is effective when it becomes law.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Senate Committee on Finance

FROM: Steven Rose, Principal Attorney

RE: Proposed Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 1242; Wireless 911 Telephone Service and Tower Act

The proposed committee substitute for Senate Bill 1242 establishes a system for charging cellular telephone users for enhanced 911 service and establishes a method of administering and distributing the funds collected. It also provides authority to the State to lease space on State land and buildings for the purpose of locating wireless telecommunications facilities.

Section 1 of the bill adds Chapter 62B to the General Statutes. G.S. 62B-2 creates an eleven member Wireless 911 Advisory Board which will determine the service charge to be levied on cellular telephone users for wireless enhanced 911 service, aggregate the charges collected, and distribute them for purposes of paying for these systems. The Board consists of two members appointed by the Governor, one upon the recommendation of the League of Municipalities, and one upon the recommendation of the Association of County Commissioners; four members appointed by the Speaker, a sheriff, two representing CMRS (Commercial Mobile Radio Service) providers and one representing the North Carolina Chapter of the Association of Public Safety Communications Officials; four appointed by the President Pro Tempore, a chief of police, one representing CMRS providers, one representing local exchange carriers, and one representing the North Carolina Chapter of the National Emergency Number Association. The Chair of the Board is the Secretary of Commerce, or the Secretary's designee. Terms are four years and limited to two successive terms.

Under G.S. 62B-3, the initial rate authorized is 80 cents per month. This may be adjusted every two years but may not exceed $1.25 per month.

Under G.S. 62B-4, the CMRS providers collect the monthly fee from their customers and may deduct one percent for administrative expenses.

Use of the funds is restricted under G.S. 62B-5. Sixty percent may be used to reimburse cellular service providers for complying with wireless 911 requirements established by FCC order, including design, upgrade, purchasing, leasing, programming, installing, testing and maintaining of hardware and software components and data necessary to operate the system. Forty percent is distributed to the public safety answering points (the agencies that receive incoming 911 calls and make the dispatches). The use of these funds is restricted to direct costs of establishing and maintaining a wireless enhanced 911 system. The Board may retain one percent of funds collected for administrative expenses.

G.S. 62B-5(e) requires each PSAP to report wireless 911 related income and expenses annually to the Board. G.S. 62B-5(f) requires the Board to make biennial reports to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations and the Revenue Laws Study Committee.

G.S. 62B-8 gives the State Auditor authority to perform audits to ensure that funds are being managed in accordance with the provisions of the act. An audit must be performed at least every two years.

G.S. 62B-9 and 62B-10 protect customer records and proprietary information from public disclosure.

G.S. B-11 limits liability for personal injury and property damages. It does not apply to motor vehicle accidents.

Under G.S. 62B-12, misuse of a wireless 911 system or information will be a Class 3 misdemeanor, unless the value of the charge or service obtained exceeds $100, in which case it is a Class 1 misdemeanor.

The Wireless 911 Advisory Board is not subject to the Administrative Procedures Act.

Section 2.1 amends G.S. 62A-10, which limits liability in connection with the supplying of services for a hard-wired 911 system. It adds a provision clarifying that G.S. 62A-10 does not apply to motor vehicle liability.

Section 3 of the bill amends Chapter 146 by adding a new section authorizing the State to enter into leases for location of telecommunications towers on State real property and for placement of antennas upon state structures. Lessees must permit other carriers to co-locate on communications towers under contracts between the leasee and the co-locating carrier and, unless the State determines co-location to be infeasible, towers must be constructed to accommodate other carriers. The State is to encourage towers to be located near each other and must choose locations which minimize the visual impact on surrounding landscape. City and county zoning ordinances will apply to such leases.

The act is effective when it becomes law.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Wireless 911 Board, Department of Administration.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Sections 1 and 2 become effective 90 days after it becomes law. Appointments to the Wireless board shall be made within 30 days of the effective dates of sections 1 and 2. The remainder becomes effective when it becomes law.

BILL SUMMARY: The bill creates a Wireless 911 Board, establishes the Wireless Fund, and directs the board to oversee the fund's operation. An $0.80 per month per subscriber charge on wireless customers statewide will generate revenue for the fund. Under the bill the carrier (Bell South Mobility, GTE, 360 Communications, etc.) collects the subscriber charge, and retains 1% of the total revenue to cover the costs of administration. The Wireless 911 board will also retain 1% for its expenses. The remaining revenue raised is distributed 60% to wireless carriers and 40% to the organizations that answer 911 calls. Of the 40% distributed to 911 organizations, 50% is divided equally among the total number of 911 organizations, and 50% is distributed according to population. The board can revise the fee every two years to a maximum rate of $1.25 per month per customer. The board is required to report to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations and the Revenue Laws Study Committee. The bill also releases state agencies to lease public property for the construction of wireless communication towers.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION: In June 1996 the Federal Communications Commission adopted a "Report and Order," taking steps to foster major improvements in the quality and reliability of 911 services available to the customers of wireless telecommunications service providers. The new system recommended is enhanced 911 or E911. E911 provides emergency service organizations (Public Safety Answering Points or PSAPs) with location information (ALI or Automatic Location Identification) and number of the cellular caller (ANI or Automatic Number Identification). At present wireless carriers usually provide access only to basic 9-1-1 services, which does not provide this information about cellular callers. GTE estimates that at least 25% of 911 calls made in North Carolina are made from a cellular or wireless telephone.

In December of 1997 the FCC adopted a more specific Memorandum Opinion and Order. In this document the FCC outlines a two phase implementation process for E911. In Phase I of the E911 deployment, carriers are required to relay the telephone number of the originator of a 911 call (ANI), and the location of the cell site or base station receiving a 911 call (a capability often provided through a technique known as ``pseudo-ANI'') to the designated emergency service organization (PSAP). For E911 Phase II, the FCC adopted rules requiring that, as of October 1, 2001, covered carriers provide to the designated PSAP the location of a 911 call by longitude and latitude within a radius of no more than 125 meters in 67 percent of all cases.

The FCC also stated that their mandate only applied if: 1) a PSAP capable of receiving and utilizing the E911 information requests that are wireless carrier provides that information and 2) a mechanism for cost recovery is available. This bill is an attempt to create a cost recovery structure.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

Revenue: The Cellular Telecommunications Industry Association (CTIA) reports 55 million wireless phones exist nationwide. CTIA estimates national cellular market penetration is 20.52% of the population. Using the CTIA estimate, North Carolina's 1998-9 population projection of 7,670,783 suggests that 1,574,045 cellular phones will be used in North Carolina in FY 1998-9. No more specific information is available because cellular telephones are a deregulated industry, and each cellular provider's customer base is proprietary information.

Under the bill each cellular customer is charged $0.80 per month once the legislation is enacted. Given the above estimates of the number of cellular telephones, this will generate approximately $1,259,236 in revenue per month in 1998-9, for a 1998-9 total of $15.11 million. Past experience suggests that the industry will grow more than 10% annually, although no market projections are available. This note assumes a 10% growth rate in the number of cellular telephones in fiscal years 1999-2000 through 2002-3.

	Wireless Customers	Monthly Revenue	Annual Revenue	Less Carrier Adm. Fee
FY 1998-9	1,574,045	1,259,236	15,110,832	14,959,724
FY 1999-0	1,731,450	1,385,160	16,621,915	16,455,696
FY 2000-1	2,077,739	1,662,192	19,946,298	19,746,835
FY 2001-2	2,493,287	1,994,630	23,935,558	23,696,202
FY 2002-3	2,991,945	2,393,556	28,722,669	28,435,443

The amounts under the "Less Carrier Adm. Fee" funds are placed a special Wireless Fund. One percent of the amount can be used by the Board for administration.

Wireless Costs: Moines from the Wireless fund can be used for two types of expenses during Phase 1. First, commercial mobile radio service (CMRS) providers such as GTE, Bell South Mobility, and 360 Communications, can be reimbursed from the fund for the costs associated with the FCC Order. These costs are generally those associated with the technological changes needed to be able to 1) discover the telephone number of the caller and 2) find their approximate location - i.e. their nearest cellular tower. Because specific costs and customer information is proprietary, industry representatives are only willing to provide an average monthly cost estimate. For the larger companies, these estimates are based on a national model, and include start up and maintenance costs to be incurred between this summer and December 2001. In a consensus industry document, GTE estimates the cost for large, established providers with a large existing customer base will be between $0.15 and $0.27 per subscriber per month. The estimate for smaller, new competitor entrants is likely to be between $0.20 and $0.35 per subscriber per month. Currently there are 38 license holders in North Carolina that could apply for the funds. In the near future that number will increase to near 100. The specific types of costs are as follows:

Non-recurring/Upfront Costs
Switch Software/Hardware Upgrades
Database Development
Installation
Network Design and Connectivity
Map Overlay
Testing

Recurring/Monthly Costs
Database Usage and Administration
Routine Maintenance
Administrative (technical, etc.)
Trunkng
Map Updates

CMRS providers are required to submit sworn invoices to the board before reimbursement. Industry officials do not expect to begin submitting invoices until December 1998. Most industry officials expect that the transition to E911 will be gradual over the next three years. The local 911 service must request the enhanced service before the industry can begin upgrading the technology. Sixty percent (60%) of the funds in the Wireless Fund shall be used to reimburse these CMRS providers.

PSAP Costs: A second type of cost associated with enhanced 911 service is to the organization that answers 911 calls. These are referred to in the bill as PSAPs or public safety answering points. At present North Carolina has 258 PSAPs.

According the representatives from the National Emergency Number Association and the Association of Public Safety Communications Officials, the actual cost to upgrade center hardware and software to take enhanced 911 calls will differ dramatically. According to association representatives the cost per center will be between $3,000 and $300,000. The association representatives also note that all PSAPs may not be interested in participating in the program. These PSAPs may determine that it would be more effective to forward the calls to another center, or that the local cellular load does not justify the added expense. Under the bill 40% of the fund revenue is used by the PSAPs.

Phase II Costs: At this point no cost estimates are available from the industry regarding the potential phase II costs.

TECHNICAL CONSIDERATIONS: Because the vast majority of information surrounding this issue is proprietary, exact start up and maintenance costs are not available. Industry representatives are not able to provide cost information on phase II at this time, as they believe the technology may change substantially by the end of 2001. No cost or revenue estimates are available for the communications towers portion of the bill.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO AMEND PROVISIONS IN THE INSURANCE LAWS DEALING WITH EXAMINATIONS OF INSURANCE COMPANIES AND AUDITS OF THEIR FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND TO CLARIFY THE LAW ON INSURERS' FUNDING AGREEMENT RESERVES.

EXPLANATION OF SENATE BILL 1300:
Proposed Committee Substitute
Insurance Company Examinations

TO: Senate Finance Committee
FROM: Cindy Avrette, Committee Counsel
DATE: July 8, 1998
SPONSOR: Senators Odom and Hoyle

The proposed committee substitute for Senate Bill 1300 allows domestic insurers to maintain part of their records or assets outside the State and provides that the Department of Insurance may bill an insurance company for an examination of those records and assets.

Section 1 amends the law that requires every North Carolina insurance company to maintain its records and assets in this State by making it clear that the Commissioner may permit a domestic insurer to maintain a part of its records or assets outside North Carolina.

Sections 2 and 3 are technical. They amend two statutory provisions to include a cross-reference to the new statute section in Section 4 of the bill.

Section 4 adds a new section to the Examination Law that would provide that the Department of Insurance may bill an insurance company for an examination of its records and assets, up to a maximum billing of $100,000 (unless there is a mutual agreement for a higher amount), in only three situations:

1. When a North Carolina insurer keeps records and assets out of North Carolina and the Department needs to examine those out-of-state records or assets.
2. When an insurer requests an examination, usually this happens when another company wants to acquire or merge with the insurer and the insurer wants an official "stamp of approval" on its financial situation.
3. When an insurer is financially unstable. The last item is important because intervention by the Department through an examination can keep the insurer from becoming insolvent, thus avoiding a liquidation and assessments by a guaranty fund on all other insurers. Billing an impaired insurer does not cause further deterioration in the insurer's financial situation.

Section 5 amends the law that gives the Commissioner authority to regulate the issuance and sale of funding agreements. In determining the appropriate level of reserves to be required by the Commissioner, the Commissioner's actuarial staff has determined that the statute should reference and permit the Commissioner to use relevant guidelines published by the Society of Actuaries or the American Academy of Actuaries, when determined by the Commissioner to be reasonable.

NORTH CAROLINA GENERAL ASSEMBLY
LEGISLATIVE FISCAL NOTE

BILL NUMBER: Senate Bill 1300
SHORT TITLE: Insurance Company Exams
SPONSOR(S): Proposed Committee Substitute

FISCAL IMPACT

Yes (X) No ( ) No Estimate Available ( )

	FY 1998-99	FY 1999-00	FY 2000-01	FY 2001-02	FY 2002-03
REVENUES:	$100,000 every three years
EXPENDITURES:	Equal to the cost of examination.
POSITIONS:	None
PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED:	Department of Insurance
EFFECTIVE DATE:	When it becomes law.

BILL SUMMARY: The proposed act expands the types of records and assets an insurance company can maintain outside the State. Under G.S. 58-7-55, certain exemptions exist that allow a domestic insurance company to maintain financial and accounting records outside the State so long as a company makes a written request and the Commissioner approves.

In the event approval is given to a company to hold certain records and assets outside the State the Commissioner of Insurance can charge for the examination of records in certain circumstances. An insurance company can be required to pay up to $100,000 of the Department's cost of examinations when the insurer maintains part of its records and or assets out of the State, when the insurer requests the Department examine its records, and when an insurer's solvency is in question. The cost can exceed $100,000 if the insurer and the Commissioner agree to a greater amount.

The Commissioner of Insurance is given the authority to regulate the issuance and sale of funding agreements in G.S. 58-7-16(f). Section 5 of this act, allows the Commissioner to use any relevant actuarial guidelines, regulations, interpretations or papers published by the Society of Actuaries or the American Academy of Actuaries in carrying out his authority to determine minimum valuation reserves to be maintained by the issuer.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

The Department of Insurance does not expect many domestic companies to take advantage of this regulatory change except in certain circumstances. There is expected to be at least one that would be subject to this act within a three year period.

Data provide by the Department of Insurance.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO LIMIT THE LIABILITY OF THE TOWN OF COLUMBUS FOR REPAYMENT OF ERRONEOUS FRANCHISE TAX DISTRIBUTIONS.

Whereas, G.S. 105-116.1 provides for distribution of certain utility franchise tax proceeds to municipalities based on the amount of taxable utility sales within each municipality; and

Whereas, due to an incorrect report by a utility, the Town of Columbus received during a three-year period approximately one hundred eighty-seven thousand dollars ($187,000) of tax proceeds that should have been distributed to a different municipality; and

Whereas, repayment of these funds to which the town was not entitled would create a substantial hardship because of the town's small budget; Now, therefore,

Section 1. The Town of Columbus is required to repay only fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) of the one hundred eighty-seven thousand dollars ($187,000) distributed to it erroneously under G.S. 105-116.1.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO LIMIT THE LIABILITY OF THE TOWN OF COLUMBUS FOR REPAYMENT OF ERRONEOUS FRANCHISE TAX DISTRIBUTIONS.

Whereas, G.S. 105-116.1 provides for distribution of certain utility franchise tax proceeds to municipalities based on the amount of taxable utility sales within each municipality; and

Whereas, due to an incorrect report by a utility, the Town of Columbus received during a three-year period approximately one hundred fifty-three thousand four hundred ninety-eight dollars and twenty-two cents ($153,498.22) of tax proceeds that should have been distributed to a different municipality; and

Whereas, the erroneous overpayment to the Town exceeds twenty-five percent (25%) of the Town's annual general fund budget; and

Whereas, the Town has increased its property tax rate by fifteen cents (15¢) to help repay the erroneous distribution; and

Whereas, repayment of the total overpayment would create a substantial hardship on the Town; Now, therefore,

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. The Department of Revenue is directed to recoup seventy-two thousand dollars ($72,000) of the total amount of erroneous franchise tax distribution made under G.S. 105-120 to the Town of Columbus during the period from April 1, 1994, through 1996. The Department shall recoup this amount by withholding a set amount from the Town's quarterly franchise tax distributions for quarters beginning July 1, 1998. The amount to be withheld for each quarter shall be determined by the Department in consultation with the Town. Repayment of the amount stated in this section satisfies the Town's obligation concerning the erroneous franchise tax distributions.

Section 2. This act is effective when it becomes law.

(1) Two members appointed by the Governor, one upon the recommendation of the North Carolina League of Municipalities and one upon the recommendation of the North Carolina Association of County Commissioners;

(2) Three members appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, two representing CMRS providers licensed to do business in North Carolina and one representing the North Carolina Chapter of the Association of Public Safety Communications Officials (APCO);

(3) Three appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, one representing CMRS providers licensed to do business in North Carolina, one representing local exchange carriers licensed to do business in North Carolina, and one representing the North Carolina Chapter of the National Emergency Number Association (NENA); and

(4) The Secretary of Commerce or the Secretary's designee, who shall serve as the chair.

A quorum of the Board shall consist of five members. The Board shall meet upon the call of the chair.

(b) Each member shall serve a term of four years and may be appointed to no more than two successive terms. Vacancies may be filled in the same manner as the original appointment.

(c) The Board shall establish and maintain the Wireless Fund as an insured, interest-bearing account into which the Board shall deposit all revenues derived from the service charge levied on CMRS connections in the State and collected pursuant to G.S. 62B-3. The Wireless Fund shall be a separate fund restricted to the uses set forth in this Chapter. The Board may invest the revenue in the Wireless Fund in the same manner that State funds may be invested. The Board shall deposit any income earned from such an investment in the Wireless Fund.

(d) The Board may disburse the revenues remitted to the Wireless Fund in the manner set forth in G.S. 62B-5. The Board shall establish procedures for disbursement of these revenues and advise the CMRS providers and eligible counties of such procedures within 60 days after all members are appointed pursuant to G.S. 62B-2(a).

(e) The Board shall serve without compensation, but members of the Board shall receive per diem, subsistence, and travel allowances at the rate established in G.S. 138-5.

"§ 62B-3. Amount of service charge.

(a) The Board shall levy a monthly wireless Enhanced 911 service charge on each CMRS connection. The rate of such service charge shall initially be set at eighty cents (80¢) per month per each CMRS connection beginning July 1, 1998. The service charge shall have uniform application and shall be imposed throughout the State.

(b) The service charge may be adjusted by the Board every two years, beginning July 1, 2000. The Board is to set the service charge at such a rate as to ensure full recovery for CMRS providers and for PSAPs, over a reasonable period of time, of the costs associated with developing and maintaining a wireless Enhanced 911 system. If necessary to ensure full recovery of costs for both CMRS providers and PSAPs over a reasonable period of time, the Board may, at the time it adjusts the service charge, also adjust the allocation percentages set forth in G.S. 62B-5(a) and G.S. 62B-5(b).

(c) The service charge shall not exceed one dollar and twenty-five cents ($1.25).

(d) The Board may adopt other rules and procedures as may be necessary to effect the provisions of this act but may not regulate any other aspect of the provision of wireless Enhanced 911 service, such as technical standards.

"§ 62B-4. Management of funds.

(a) Each CMRS provider, as a part of its monthly billing process, shall collect the wireless Enhanced 911 service charge described in G.S. 62B-3. The CMRS provider may list the service charge as a separate entry on each bill. If a CMRS provider receives a partial payment for a monthly bill from a subscriber, the provider shall apply the payment first against the amount the subscriber owes the provider.

(b) A CMRS provider has no obligation to take any legal action to enforce the collection of the service charges for which any subscriber is billed. However, a collection action may be initiated by the Board and reasonable costs and attorneys' fees associated with that collection action may be awarded.

(c) State and local taxes do not apply to the wireless Enhanced 911 service charge.

(d) Each CMRS provider shall be entitled to deduct a one percent (1%) administrative fee from the total service charges collected.

(e) All service charges collected by the CMRS providers, less the administrative fee described in subsection (d) of this section, are to be remitted to the Board to be placed in the Wireless Fund, not later than 30 days after the end of the calendar month in which such service charges are collected.

"§ 62B-5. Use of funds.

(a) Sixty percent (60%) of the funds in the Wireless Fund established in G.S. 62B-2(c) shall be held in escrow and used to reimburse CMRS providers, in response to sworn invoices submitted to the Board, for the actual costs incurred by the CMRS providers in complying with the wireless 911 requirements established by the FCC Order and any rules and regulations which are or may be adopted by the FCC pursuant to the FCC Order, including costs and expenses incurred for designing, upgrading, purchasing, leasing, programming, installing, testing, or maintaining all necessary data, hardware, and software required in order to provide such service as well as the recurring and nonrecurring costs of operating such service.

(b) Forty percent (40%) of the funds in the Wireless Fund established in G.S. 62B-2(c) shall be used to make monthly distributions to eligible PSAPs (the '40% Fund'). The 40% Fund shall be distributed as follows:

(1) Fifty percent (50%) of it shall be divided equally among the total number of PSAPs in North Carolina. However, monthly distribution shall be made only to those PSAPs that have complied with the provisions of this Chapter. Distribution to each eligible PSAP will begin the month following its compliance with the provisions of this Chapter. All monies remaining in this portion of the 40% Fund on January 31 of each year will then be evenly distributed to each of the eligible PSAPs.

(2) The other fifty percent (50%) shall be divided pro rata among the eligible PSAPs based on the population served by the PSAP. The population data to be used will be those numbers on file with the Secretary of State. All monies remaining in this portion of the 40% Fund on January 31 of each year will then be evenly distributed to each of the eligible PSAPs.

(c) Sworn invoices shall be presented by CMRS providers in connection with any request for reimbursement under this section. In no event shall any invoice for reimbursement be approved for the payment of costs that are not related to compliance with the wireless Enhanced 911 service requirements established by the FCC Order and any rules and regulations which are or may be adopted by the FCC pursuant to the FCC Order.

(d) In no event shall any invoice for reimbursement be approved for payment of costs of any CMRS provider exceeding one hundred twenty-five percent (125%) of the service charges remitted by such CMRS provider unless prior approval for such expenditures is received from the Board. If the total amount of invoices submitted to the Board and approved for payment exceeds the amount in the Wireless Fund in any month, CMRS providers that have invoices approved for payment shall receive a pro rata share of the Wireless Fund, based on the relative amount of their approved invoices available that month, and the balance of the payments will be carried over to the following month or months and shall include interest at the rate set out in G.S. 24-1 until all of the approved payments are made.

"§ 62B-6. Distributions of funds.

(a) The Board shall, upon majority vote, retain an independent, third-party accounting firm for the purposes of processing checks and distributing funds as directed by the Board, in accordance with the provision of this Chapter.

(b) The Board shall be entitled to deduct a one percent (1%) administrative fee from the total service charges remitted by the CMRS providers for its expenses.

"§ 62B-7. Provision of services.

In accordance with the FCC Order, no CMRS provider shall be required to provide wireless Enhanced 911 service until such time as (i) the provider receives a request for such service from the administrator of a PSAP that is capable of receiving and utilizing the data elements associated with the service; (ii) funds are available pursuant to G.S. 62B-4; and (iii) the local exchange carrier is able to support the wireless Enhanced 911 system.

"§ 62B-8. Audit.

The State Auditor may perform audits pursuant to Article 5A of Chapter 147 of the General Statutes to ensure that funds in the Wireless Fund are being managed in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter and shall perform an audit at least every two years. The State Auditor shall provide the audit to the Board when it meets to adjust the service charge pursuant to G.S. 62B-3. The cost of audits shall be reimbursed to the State Auditor by the Board.

"§ 62B-9. Customer records.

Each CMRS provider shall provide its ten thousand number groups to the PSAPs upon request. This information shall remain the property of the disclosing CMRS provider and shall be used only in providing emergency response services to 911 calls.

"§ 62B-10. Proprietary information.

All proprietary information submitted to the Board or the State Auditor shall be retained in confidence. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no proprietary information submitted pursuant to this Chapter shall be subject to the North Carolina Public Records Law or subpoena, or otherwise released to any person other than to the submitting CMRS provider, the Board, and the independent, third-party auditor retained pursuant to G.S. 62B-6, without the express permission of the submitting CMRS provider. Further, proprietary information shall constitute trade secrets as defined by the North Carolina Trade Secrets Protection Act, G.S. 66-152. General information collected by the Board or the State Auditor shall be released or published only in aggregate amounts that do not identify or allow identification of numbers of subscribers or revenues attributable to an individual CMRS provider.

"§ 62B-11. Limitation of liability.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no CMRS provider, local exchange company, service supplier, PSAP, the Board or their employees, directors, officers, or agents, except in cases of wanton and willful misconduct, shall be liable for any damages in a civil action or subject to criminal prosecution resulting from death or injury to the person or from damage to property incurred by any person in connection with developing, adopting, implementing, maintaining, or operating any wireless 911 system or wireless Enhanced 911 system.

"§ 62B-12. Misuse of wireless 911 system; penalty.

Wireless emergency telephone service shall be used solely for emergency communications by the public. Any person who knowingly uses or attempts to use wireless emergency telephone service for a purpose other than obtaining public safety assistance, or who knowingly uses or attempts to use wireless emergency telephone service in an effort to avoid any CMRS charges, is guilty of a Class 3 misdemeanor. If the value of the CMRS charge or service obtained in a manner prohibited by this section exceeds one hundred dollars ($100.00), the person is guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor."

Section 2. G.S. 150B-1(c) reads as rewritten:

"(c) Full Exemptions. -- This Chapter applies to every agency except:

(3) The Utilities Commission.

(4) The Industrial Commission.

Section 3. G.S. 136-18 is amended by adding a new subdivision to read:

"(35) The Department of Transportation may lease land, or any interest thereof, for the purposes of construction and placement of communications towers on State land controlled by the Department of Transportation or for placement of antennas upon State-owned structures controlled by the Department of Transportation. The following requirements shall apply to such leases:

a. The lease shall require the lessee to permit other telecommunications carriers to colocate on the communications tower on commercially reasonable terms between the lessee and the colocating carrier until the communications tower reaches its capacity. Unless the Department of Transportation determines that colocation is unfeasible at that location, the communications tower shall be designed and constructed to accommodate at least one other carrier on the tower.

b. The Department of Transportation shall, in determining the location of lands to be leased for communications towers, encourage communications towers to be located near other communications towers to the extent technically desirable.

c. The Department of Transportation shall, when choosing a communications tower or antenna location, choose a location which minimizes the visual impact on surrounding landscape.

For purposes of this subdivision, 'colocate and colocation' mean the sharing of a communications tower for two or more services.

City and county zoning ordinances apply to leases and rentals created under this subdivision.

Leases created under this subdivision do not require approval under G.S. 146-29."

Section 4. G.S. 146-29 reads as rewritten:

"§ 146-29. Procedure for sale, lease, or rental.

(a) If, after investigation, the Department of Administration determines that it is in the best interest of the State that land be sold, leased, or rented, the Department shall proceed with its sale, lease, or rental, as the case may be, in accordance with rules adopted by the Governor and approved by the Council of State. If an agreement of sale, lease, or rental is reached, the proposed transaction shall then be submitted to the Governor and Council of State for their approval or disapproval. Every conveyance in fee of land owned by the State or by any State agency shall be made and executed in the manner prescribed in G.S. 146-74 through 146-78.

(b) The State may lease land, or any interest thereof, for the purposes of construction and placement of communications towers on State land or for placement of antennas upon State-owned structures. The following additional requirements shall apply to such leases:

(1) The lease shall require the lessee to permit other telecommunications carriers to colocate on the communications tower on commercially reasonable terms between the lessee and the colocating carrier until the communications tower reaches its capacity. Unless the State determines that colocation is unfeasible at that location, the communications tower shall be designed and constructed to accommodate at least one other carrier on the tower.

(2) The State shall, in determining the location of lands to be leased for communications towers, encourage communications towers to be located near other communications towers to the extent technically desirable.

(3) The State shall, when choosing a communications tower or antenna location, choose a location which minimizes the visual impact on surrounding landscape.

For purposes of this subsection, 'colocate and colocation' mean the sharing of a communications tower by two or more services.

City and county zoning ordinances apply to leases and rentals created under this subsection."

Section 5. If any provision of this act or the application of this act to any person or circumstance is held invalid, that invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this act that can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are severable.

Section 6. Sections 1 and 2 of this act become effective 90 days after it becomes law. Appointments to the Wireless 911 Advisory Board created in G.S. 62B-2 shall be made within 30 days of the effective date of Sections 1 and 2 of this act. The remainder of this act becomes effective when it becomes law.

Money from the 40% Fund shall also be used to pay the rates associated with the local telephone companies' charges related to the operation of the wireless Enhanced 911 system. The 40% Fund shall be distributed as follows:

(1) Fifty percent (50%) of it shall be divided equally among the total number of PSAPs in North Carolina. However, monthly distribution shall be made only to those PSAPs that have complied with the provisions of this Chapter. Distribution to each eligible PSAP will begin the month following its compliance with the provisions of this Chapter. All monies remaining in this portion of the 40% Fund on January 31 of each year will then be evenly distributed to each of the eligible PSAPs.

(2) The other fifty percent (50%) shall be divided pro rata among the eligible PSAPs based on the population served by the PSAP. The population data to be used shall be the latest certified county and official municipal estimates of population published by the Office of State Planning. All monies remaining in this portion of the 40% Fund on January 31 of each year will then be evenly distributed to each of the eligible PSAPs.

(c) Sworn invoices shall be presented by CMRS providers in connection with any request for reimbursement under this section. In no event shall any invoice for reimbursement be approved for the payment of costs that are not related to compliance with the wireless Enhanced 911 service requirements established by the FCC

Order and any rules and regulations which are or may be adopted by the FCC pursuant to the FCC Order.

(d) In no event shall any invoice for reimbursement be approved for payment of costs of any CMRS provider exceeding one hundred twenty-five percent (125%) of the service charges remitted by such CMRS provider unless prior approval for such expenditures is received from the Board. If the total amount of invoices submitted to the Board and approved for payment exceeds the amount in the Wireless Fund in any month, CMRS providers that have invoices approved for payment shall receive a pro rata share of the Wireless Fund, based on the relative amount of their approved invoices available that month, and the balance of the payments will be carried over to the following month or months and shall include interest at the rate set out in G.S. 24-1 until all of the approved payments are made.

(e) In January of each year every participating PSAP will submit to the Board a copy of its governing agency's approved budget detailing the PSAP's revenues and expenditures associated with the operation of its wireless Enhanced 911 system. PSAPs must comply with all requests by the Board for financial information related to the operation of the wireless Enhanced 911 system.

(f) On February 15, 2000, and every two years thereafter the Board shall report to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations and the Revenue Laws Study Committee. The report shall contain complete information regarding receipts and expenditures of all funds received by the Board during the period covered by the report as well as the status of wireless Enhanced 911 systems in North Carolina at the time of the report. The first report shall cover the period from the formation of the Board to December 31, 1999. Each succeeding report shall cover the two year period of time from the ending date of the previous report.

"§ 62B-6. Administrative fee.

The Board shall be entitled to deduct a one percent (1%) administrative fee from the total service charges remitted by the CMRS providers for its expenses.

"§ 62B-7. Provision of services.

In accordance with the FCC Order, no CMRS provider shall be required to provide wireless Enhanced 911 service until such time as (i) the provider receives a request for such service from the administrator of a PSAP that is capable of receiving and utilizing the data elements associated with the service; (ii) funds are available pursuant to G.S. 62B-4; and (iii) the local exchange carrier is able to support the wireless Enhanced 911 system.

"§ 62B-8. Audit.

The State Auditor may perform audits pursuant to Article 5A of Chapter 147 of the General Statutes to ensure that funds in the Wireless Fund are being managed in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter and shall perform an audit at least every two years. The State Auditor shall provide the audit to the Board when it meets to consider adjusting the service charge pursuant to G.S. 62B-3. The cost of audits shall be reimbursed to the State Auditor by the Board.

"§ 62B-9. Customer records.

Each CMRS provider shall provide its ten thousand number groups to the PSAPs upon request. This information shall remain the property of the disclosing CMRS provider and shall be used only in providing emergency response services to 911 calls. CMRS connection information obtained by PSAP personnel for public safety purposes is not public information under Chapter 132 of the General Statutes. No person shall disclose or use, for any purpose other than for the wireless 911 calling system, information contained in the data base of the telephone network portion of a wireless 911 calling system established pursuant to this Chapter.

"§ 62B-10. Proprietary information.

All proprietary information submitted to the Board or the State Auditor shall be retained in confidence. Proprietary information submitted pursuant to this Chapter shall not be subject to disclosure under Chapter 132 of the General Statutes, or otherwise released to any person other than to the submitting CMRS provider, the Board, and the independent, third-party auditor retained pursuant to G.S. 62B-6, without the express permission of the submitting CMRS provider. Further, proprietary information shall constitute trade secrets as defined by the North Carolina Trade Secrets Protection Act, Article 24 of Chapter 66 of the General Statutes. General information collected by the Board or the State Auditor shall be released or published only in aggregate amounts that do not identify or allow identification of numbers of subscribers or revenues attributable to an individual CMRS provider.

"§ 62B-11. Limitation of liability.

A CMRS provider, local exchange company, service supplier, or their employees, directors, officers, or agents, except in case of wanton and willful misconduct, shall not be liable for any damages in a civil action resulting from death or injury to any or person or from damage to property incurred by any person in connection with developing, adopting, implementing, maintaining, or operating any wireless 911 system or wireless Enhanced 911 system. This section shall not apply to actions arising out of the operation or ownership of a motor vehicle.

"§ 62B-12. Misuse of wireless 911 system; penalty.

Wireless emergency telephone service shall be used solely for emergency communications by the public. Any person who knowingly uses or attempts to use wireless emergency telephone service or information for a purpose other than obtaining public safety assistance, or who knowingly uses or attempts to use wireless emergency telephone service in an effort to avoid any CMRS charges, is guilty of a Class 3 misdemeanor. If the value of the CMRS charge or service obtained in a manner prohibited by this section exceeds one hundred dollars ($100.00), the person is guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor."

Section 2. G.S. 150B-1(c) reads as rewritten:

"(c) Full Exemptions. -- This Chapter applies to every agency except:

(1) The North Carolina National Guard in exercising its court-martial jurisdiction.

(2) The Department of Health and Human Services in exercising its authority over the Camp Butner reservation granted in Article 6 of Chapter 122C of the General Statutes.

(3) The Utilities Commission.

(4) The Industrial Commission.

(5) The Employment Security Commission.

(6) The Wireless 911 Board."

Section 2.1. G.S. 62A-10 reads as rewritten:

"§ 62A-10. Limitation of liability.

A service supplier, including any telephone company and its employees, directors, officers and agents, is not liable for any damages in a civil action for injuries, death, or loss to persons or property incurred by any person as a result of any act or omission of a service supplier or of any of its employees, directors, officers, or agents, except for willful or wanton misconduct, in connection with developing, adopting, implementing, maintaining, or operating any 911 system. This section shall not apply to actions arising out of the operation or ownership of a motor vehicle."

Section 3. Chapter 146 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 146-29.2. Lease provisions for communications towers.

The State may lease real property, or any interest in real property, for the purposes of construction and placement of communications towers on State land or for placement of antennas upon State-owned structures. The following additional requirements shall apply to such leases:

(1) The lease shall require the lessee to permit other telecommunications carriers to co-locate on the communications tower on commercially reasonable terms between the lessee and the co-locating carrier until the communications tower reaches its capacity. Unless the State determines that co-location is not feasible at that location, the communications tower shall be designed and constructed to accommodate other carriers on the tower.

(2) The State shall, in determining the location of lands to be leased for communications towers, encourage communications towers to be located near other communications towers to the extent technically desirable.

(3) The State shall, when choosing a communications tower or antenna location, choose a location which minimizes the visual impact on surrounding landscape.

For purposes of this section, 'co-locate and co-location' mean the sharing of a communications tower by two or more services.

City and county zoning ordinances apply to leases and rentals created under this section."

Section 4. If any provision of this act or the application of this act to any person or circumstance is held invalid, that invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this act that can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are severable.

Section 5. This act is effective when it becomes law.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Senate Committee on Finance

FROM: Steven Rose, Principal Attorney

RE: Proposed Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 1242; Wireless 911 Telephone Service and Tower Act

The proposed committee substitute for Senate Bill 1242 establishes a system for charging cellular telephone users for enhanced 911 service and establishes a method of administering and distributing the funds collected. It also provides authority to the State to lease space on State land and buildings for the purpose of locating wireless telecommunications facilities.

Section 1 of the bill adds Chapter 62B to the General Statutes. G.S. 62B-2 creates an eleven member Wireless 911 Advisory Board which will determine the service charge to be levied on cellular telephone users for wireless enhanced 911 service, aggregate the charges collected, and distribute them for purposes of paying for these systems. The Board consists of two members appointed by the Governor, one upon the recommendation of the League of Municipalities, and one upon the recommendation of the Association of County Commissioners; four members appointed by the Speaker, a sheriff, two representing CMRS (Commercial Mobile Radio Service) providers and one representing the North Carolina Chapter of the Association of Public Safety Communications Officials; four appointed by the President Pro Tempore, a chief of police, one representing CMRS providers, one representing local exchange carriers, and one representing the North Carolina Chapter of the National Emergency Number Association. The Chair of the Board is the Secretary of Commerce, or the Secretary's designee. Terms are four years and limited to two successive terms.

Under G.S. 62B-3, the initial rate authorized is 80 cents per month. This may be adjusted every two years but may not exceed $1.25 per month.

Under G.S. 62B-4, the CMRS providers collect the monthly fee from their customers and may deduct one percent for administrative expenses.

AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY/AFFIRMATIVE ACTION EMPLOYER

Use of the funds is restricted under G.S. 62B-5. Sixty percent may be used to reimburse cellular service providers for complying with wireless 911 requirements established by FCC order, including design, upgrade, purchasing, leasing, programming, installing, testing and maintaining of hardware and software components and data necessary to operate the system. Forty percent is distributed to the public safety answering points (the agencies that receive incoming 911 calls and make the dispatches). The use of these funds is restricted to direct costs of establishing and maintaining a wireless enhanced 911 system. The Board may retain one percent of funds collected for administrative expenses.

G.S. 62B-5(e) requires each PSAP to report wireless 911 related income and expenses annually to the Board. G.S. 62B-5(f) requires the Board to make biennial reports to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations and the Revenue Laws Study Committee.

G.S. 62B-8 gives the State Auditor authority to perform audits to ensure that funds are being managed in accordance with the provisions of the act. An audit must be performed at least every two years.

G.S. 62B-9 and 62B-10 protect customer records and proprietary information from public disclosure.

G.S. B-11 limits liability for personal injury and property damages. It does not apply to motor vehicle accidents.

Under G.S. 62B-12, misuse of a wireless 911 system or information will be a Class 3 misdemeanor, unless the value of the charge or service obtained exceeds $100, in which case it is a Class 1 misdemeanor.

The Wireless 911 Advisory Board is not subject to the Administrative Procedures Act.

Section 2.1 amends G.S. 62A-10, which limits liability in connection with the supplying of services for a hard-wired 911 system. It adds a provision clarifying that G.S. 62A-10 does not apply to motor vehicle liability.

Section 3 of the bill amends Chapter 146 by adding a new section authorizing the State to enter into leases for location of telecommunications towers on State real property and for placement of antennas upon state structures. Lessees must permit other carriers to co-locate on communications towers under contracts between the leasee and the co-locating carrier and, unless the State determines co-location to be infeasible, towers must be constructed to accommodate other carriers. The State is to encourage towers to be located near each other and must choose locations which minimize the visual impact on surrounding landscape. City and county zoning ordinances will apply to such leases.

The act is effective when it becomes law.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Wireless 911 Board, Department of Administration.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Sections 1 and 2 become effective 90 days after it becomes law. Appointments to the Wireless board shall be made within 30 days of the effective dates of sections 1 and 2. The remainder becomes effective when it becomes law.

BILL SUMMARY: The bill creates a Wireless 911 Board, establishes the Wireless Fund, and directs the board to oversee the fund's operation. An $0.80 per month per subscriber charge on wireless customers statewide will generate revenue for the fund. Under the bill the carrier (Bell South Mobility, GTE, 360 Communications, etc.) collects the subscriber charge, and retains 1% of the total revenue to cover the costs of administration. The Wireless 911 board will also retain 1% for its expenses. The remaining revenue raised is distributed 60% to wireless carriers and 40% to the organizations that answer 911 calls. Of the 40% distributed to 911 organizations, 50% is divided equally among the total number of 911 organizations, and 50% is distributed according to population. The board can revise the fee every two years to a maximum rate of $1.25 per month per customer. The board is required to report to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations and the Revenue Laws Study Committee. The bill also releases state agencies to lease public property for the construction of wireless communication towers.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION: In June 1996 the Federal Communications Commission adopted a "Report and Order," taking steps to foster major improvements in the quality and reliability of 911 services available to the customers of wireless telecommunications service providers. The new system recommended is enhanced 911 or E911. E911 provides emergency service organizations (Public Safety Answering Points or PSAPs) with location information (ALI or Automatic Location Identification) and number of the cellular caller (ANI or Automatic Number Identification). At present wireless carriers usually provide access only to basic 9-1-1 services, which does not provide this information about cellular callers. GTE estimates that at least 25% of 911 calls made in North Carolina are made from a cellular or wireless telephone.

In December of 1997 the FCC adopted a more specific Memorandum Opinion and Order. In this document the FCC outlines a two phase implementation process for E911. In Phase I of the E911 deployment, carriers are required to relay the telephone number of the originator of a 911 call (ANI), and the location of the cell site or base station receiving a 911 call (a capability often provided through a technique known as ``pseudo-ANI") to the designated emergency service organization (PSAP). For E911 Phase II, the FCC adopted rules requiring that, as of October 1, 2001, covered carriers provide to the designated PSAP the location of a 911 call by longitude and latitude within a radius of no more than 125 meters in 67 percent of all cases.

The FCC also stated that their mandate only applied if: 1) a PSAP capable of receiving and utilizing the E911 information requests that are wireless carrier provides that information and 2) a mechanism for cost recovery is available. This bill is an attempt to create a cost recovery structure.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

Revenue: The Cellular Telecommunications Industry Association (CTIA) reports 55 million wireless phones exist nationwide. CTIA estimates national cellular market penetration is 20.52% of the population. Using the CTIA estimate, North Carolina's 1998-9 population projection of 7,670,783 suggests that 1,574,045 cellular phones will be used in North Carolina in FY 1998-9. No more specific information is available because cellular telephones are a deregulated industry, and each cellular provider's customer base is proprietary information.

Under the bill each cellular customer is charged $0.80 per month once the legislation is enacted. Given the above estimates of the number of cellular telephones, this will generate approximately $1,259,236 in revenue per month in 1998-9, for a 1998-9 total of $15.11 million. Past experience suggests that the industry will grow more than 10% annually, although no market projections are available. This note assumes a 10% growth rate in the number of cellular telephones in fiscal years 1999-2000 through 2002-3.

	Wireless Customers	Monthly Revenue	Annual Revenue	Less Carrier Adm. Fee
FY 1998-9	1,574,045	1,259,236	15,110,832	14,959,724
FY 1999-0	1,731,450	1,385,160	16,621,915	16,455,696
FY 2000-1	2,077,739	1,662,192	19,946,298	19,746,835
FY 2001-2	2,493,287	1,994,630	23,935,558	23,696,202
FY 2002-3	2,991,945	2,393,556	28,722,669	28,435,443

The amounts under the "Less Carrier Adm. Fee" funds are placed a special Wireless Fund. One percent of the amount can be used by the Board for administration.

Wireless Costs: Moines from the Wireless fund can be used for two types of expenses during Phase 1. First, commercial mobile radio service (CMRS) providers such as GTE, Bell South Mobility, and 360 Communications, can be reimbursed from the fund for the costs associated with the FCC Order. These costs are generally those associated with the technological changes needed to be able to 1) discover the telephone number of the caller and 2) find their approximate location - i.e. their nearest cellular tower. Because specific costs and customer information is proprietary, industry representatives are only willing to provide an average monthly cost estimate. For the larger companies, these estimates are based on a national model, and include start up and maintenance costs to be incurred between this summer and December 2001. In a consensus industry document, GTE estimates the cost for large, established providers with a large existing customer base will be between $0.15 and $0.27 per subscriber per month. The estimate for smaller, new competitor entrants is likely to be between $0.20 and $0.35 per subscriber per month. Currently there are 38 license holders in North Carolina that could apply for the funds. In the near future that number will increase to near 100. The specific types of costs are as follows:

Non-recurring/Upfront Costs
Switch Software/Hardware Upgrades
Database Development
Installation
Network Design and Connectivity
Map Overlay
Testing

Recurring/Monthly Costs
Database Usage and Administration
Routine Maintenance
Administrative (technical, etc.)
Trunkng
Map Updates

CMRS providers are required to submit sworn invoices to the board before reimbursement. Industry officials do not expect to begin submitting invoices until December 1998. Most industry officials expect that the transition to E911 will be gradual over the next three years. The local 911 service must request the enhanced service before the industry can begin upgrading the technology. Sixty percent (60%) of the funds in the Wireless Fund shall be used to reimburse these CMRS providers.

PSAP Costs: A second type of cost associated with enhanced 911 service is to the organization that answers 911 calls. These are referred to in the bill as PSAPs or public safety answering points. At present North Carolina has 258 PSAPs.

According the representatives from the National Emergency Number Association and the Association of Public Safety Communications Officials, the actual cost to upgrade center hardware and software to take enhanced 911 calls will differ dramatically. According to association representatives the cost per center will be between $3,000 and $300,000. The association representatives also note that all PSAPs may not be interested in participating in the program. These PSAPs may determine that it would be more effective to forward the calls to another center, or that the local cellular load does not justify the added expense. Under the bill 40% of the fund revenue is used by the PSAPs.

Phase II Costs: At this point no cost estimates are available from the industry regarding the potential phase II costs.

TECHNICAL CONSIDERATIONS: Because the vast majority of information surrounding this issue is proprietary, exact start up and maintenance costs are not available. Industry representatives are not able to provide cost information on phase II at this time, as they believe the technology may change substantially by the end of 2001. No cost or revenue estimates are available for the communications towers portion of the bill.

EXPLANATION OF SENATE BILL 1433 (PCS):
Exempt Voluntary Severance Pay

TO: Senate Finance Committee
FROM: Martha H. Harris, Staff Attorney
DATE: August 5, 1998
SPONSOR: Senator Hoyle

Senate Bill 1433 expands the income tax exclusion for involuntary severance pay to include severance pay a taxpayer receives as a result of electing voluntary termination when the taxpayer would otherwise have been at risk of involuntary termination, not for fault, as part of the employer's business plan to reduce its workforce. The bill further modifies the exclusion by limiting it to taxpayers whose adjusted gross income is below $70,000 for married couples filing jointly or $42,000 for single individuals. The bill would become effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1998.

In 1996, the General Assembly enacted an income tax exclusion for severance pay a taxpayer receives due to the permanent closure of a manufacturing or processing plant, not to exceed a maximum of $35,000 for the taxable year. In 1997, the General Assembly expanded the tax exemption to include severance pay received due to any involuntary termination through no fault of the employee. The expanded exemption included being fired without cause, being laid off due to a reduction in force, as well as being terminated due to plant closure. The act also expanded the tax exemption to cover any type of job in the private sector, not just a job at a manufacturing plant. Finally, the act clarified that the $35,000 cap applied to the total amount paid to an employee by an employer for the same termination, regardless of when the taxpayer received the money. This change prevented taxpayers from avoiding the $35,000 cap by arranging to receive part of the severance pay in December and the rest in January.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT AFFECTED: Department of Revenue.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1998.

*Revenue impact has already been included on annual General Fund revenue estimates as part of cost of 1996 and 1997 legislation on issue (See "Assumptions and Methodology")

BILL SUMMARY: The 1996 General Assembly enacted a bill allowing a $35,000 income tax exclusion per year for severance pay that results from the permanent closure of a manufacturing or processing plant. The 1997 General Assembly widened the exclusion to include all industries but also tightened the language to restrict the exclusion to a maximum of $35,000 for all taxable years and made the exclusion apply to a taxpayer's permanent, involuntary termination through no fault of the taxpayer. The bill expands the exclusion to apply to severance pay received as a result of the taxpayer's electing a voluntary termination when the taxpayer would have otherwise been at risk of a forced termination as part of the employer's plan to reduce its workforce. In addition, the bill modifies the exclusion by limiting it to taxpayers whose adjusted gross income is less than $70,000 for married couples filing jointly ($60,000 for head of household and $42,000 for single filers).

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: The revenue impact estimates developed under the 1996 and 1997 legislation were based on an analysis of Employment Security Commission data on mass layoffs (50 or more employees) required to be reported under federal law and private establishment closings and permanent layoffs announced in news reports. These estimates indicate that the 1998-99 fiscal year cost of the 1996 and 1997 bills is $6.1 million. This number includes severance pay for all establishment closings and permanent layoffs, regardless of whether the job elimination occurred through the voluntary resignation or retirement of the employee as part of an separation incentive.

An extensive internet search was unsuccessful in uncovering hard data on the proportion of terminations where voluntary severance pay applies or the dollars involved. Part of the problem is the sensitive nature of downsizings and competitive practices within an industry. The best sources of information included a Government Accounting Office (GAO) survey of defense contractors affected by federal budget cuts, a GAO study of the results of the major federal downsizing initiative of the mid-1990's, and a GAO study of 25 private industry and state government downsizing efforts. The studies indicate a widespread usage of voluntary separation incentives as a means for employers to deal with the adverse publicity of a downsizing or plant closing and to allow employees to avoid the stigma of a firing. Typically, a large employer will offer a package of incentive options for the employee to choose from and many of the options do not include a cash payout. In addition, one study indicated that over time employers are reducing the amount of severance benefits. This is the reason the estimate shown above does not grow over time. Finally, it is estimated that at least 20% of taxpayers have incomes above the income limitation in the bill.

The estimated net impact of adding voluntary severance pay and applying a means test to taxpayers is 30% of the $6.1 million cost of the 1996 and 1997 legislation. Due to lack of data this projection is a judgment call.

EXPLANATION OF SENATE BILL 1556 (PCS):
Amend Education Finance Act

TO: Senate Finance Committee
FROM: Martha H. Harris, Staff Attorney
DATE: July 8, 1998
SPONSOR: Senator Rand

This bill would add private institutions for elementary and secondary education to the Educational Facilities Finance Act, which currently covers only private institutions for higher education. An institution for elementary and secondary education is defined as a nonprofit institution providing kindergarten, elementary, or secondary education, or any combination of the three. Under the act, a qualifying institution may obtain tax-exempt financing to acquire, construct, and improve educational facilities. Tax-exempt financing may include revenue bonds issued by the Educational Facilities Finance Agency or other forms of debt, but does not include any financing that would pledge the faith or credit of the State or any political subdivision. The interest rates on tax-exempt financing are significantly lower than on taxable financing. The educational institution must pay for the entire cost of the financing and of the facility being financed.

Tax-exempt financing is available for capital facilities, including parking, that are related to or useful to an educational institution and will be operated to serve and benefit the public.[1] In addition to the building, the financing may cover land acquisition, landscaping, site preparation, furniture, and machinery and equipment, as well as engineering and architectural services and other administrative expenses related to construction or acquisition of a project. Financing is not available under the act for facilities that will be used for sectarian instruction, as a place of religious worship, or in connection with a department of divinity for any religious denomination. Financing is not available for projects that discriminate based on race, creed, color, or national origin.

The Educational Facilities Finance Act is administered by the Educational Facilities Financing Agency, which is located in the Department of State Treasurer. The Agency has seven members: the State Treasurer, the State Auditor, one member appointed upon the recommendation of the President Pro

[1] The law specifies the following facilities that may qualify: housing, dining halls and food preparation centers, student unions, administration buildings, academic buildings, libraries, laboratories, research facilities, classrooms, athletic facilities, health care facilities, laundry facilities, maintenance, storage, and utility facilities, and parking facilities.

Tempore of the Senate, one member appointed upon the recommendation of the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and three members appointed by the Governor. The appointive members must be residents of North Carolina and cannot hold other public office. The Agency is audited annually and submits an annual report to the Governor and the General Assembly.

An institution may qualify for tax-exempt financing only if the Agency finds that it is financially responsible and capable of fulfilling its obligations. Before financing is approved, the Agency must find that the educational institution has provided adequately for the payment of principal and interest on the bonds and for the operation, repair, and maintenance of the facility to be financed.

The Agency may issue bonds only if they are approved by the Local Government Commission. The Local Government Commission sets the interest rates on the bonds and administers their sale. The bonds may be secured by a trust agreement with a corporate trustee, such as a bank. The Agency will require the educational institution to pay fees, loan repayments, rents, or other charges sufficient to cover the payment of principal and interest on the bonds and the operation, repair, and maintenance of the facility to be financed, and the bonds will be secured by the pledge of these revenues.

NORTH CAROLINA GENERAL ASSEMBLY
LEGISLATIVE FISCAL NOTE

BILL NUMBER: SB 1556 (PCS3626-LC)
SHORT TITLE: Amend Education Finance Act

FISCAL IMPACT

Yes (X) No ( ) No Estimate Available (X)

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: The program would be administered by the Educational Facilities Financing Agency, located in the Department of State Treasurer. The bonds must be approved by the Local Government Commission, which will also set the interest rate on the bonds and administer the sale.

EFFECTIVE DATE: When the bill becomes law.

BILL SUMMARY: Adds private nonprofit elementary and secondary education institutions to the Education Facilities Finance Act. This would allow a qualifying institution to obtain tax-exempt financing to acquire, construct, and improve educational facilities. Such financing would not include general obligation debt. The institution would be required to pay for the entire cost of the facility and the financing of the facility.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: A discussion with the Department of State Treasurer indicated that any additional personnel and other requirements would depend on the volume of activity, which is unknown at this time. For a number of years the Department has been allowed to recover its cost in administering bonds through agency receipts. It is the intention of the Department to fully recover whatever costs are incurred under the new responsibilities.

"Article 34.

"CERTIFICATES OF AUTHENTICATION

"§ 66-270. Authority of Secretary of State to Authenticate Documents.

The Secretary, or the Secretary's designee, may sign and issue a certificate of authentication for a document that has been executed or issued in this State so that it can be recognized in a foreign jurisdiction. The certificate may be issued under the seal of the Department of the Secretary of State or under the great seal of the State of North Carolina. The Secretary may adopt rules to implement this Article in accordance with Chapter 150B of the General Statutes.

§ 66-271. Definitions.

The following definitions apply in this Article:

(1) Authentication. -- Certification of the genuineness of an official's signature, seal, or position within the State of North Carolina so the document can be recognized in a foreign jurisdiction.
(2) Department. -- The Department of the Secretary of State.
(3) Foreign Jurisdiction. -- A jurisdiction outside the State of North Carolina.
(4) Foreign Official. -- An individual authorized by a foreign jurisdiction to attest to the genuineness of a document or to the position of an individual within that foreign jurisdiction.
(5) Notary public. -- Defined in G.S. 10A-3.
(6) Official. -- An individual who is a notary public, an individual who is elected or appointed to hold an office in State government, or an individual who is elected or appointed to hold an office in a local governmental unit of this State.
(7) Secretary. -- The Secretary of State.
(8) Specimen. -- A record of a person's signature, seal, or position as an official within the State maintained in the Department.

"§ 66-272. Certificate of Authentication.

To authenticate a document, the Secretary must compare the official's seal and signature on the document with a specimen of the official's seal and signature on file in the Department. If no specimen is on file in the Department, the Secretary must require that the document be authenticated by an official for whom the Department does have a specimen. The Secretary must also verify the official's authority to perform a particular act when the law of a foreign jurisdiction requires it to be verified before it will recognize the authenticity of the document. When the Secretary is able to authenticate the official's seal, signature, position, and authority, the Secretary shall sign and issue a certificate of authentication. The certificate of authentication may be placed on the document itself, if space is available, or by appending it to the document on a separate sheet.

"§ 66-273. Prerequisites for Authentication.

All of the following conditions must be met before a document can be authenticated:

(1) All seals and signatures must be originals.

(2) All dates must follow in chronological order on all certifications.

(3) All acknowledgments to be authenticated by the Secretary shall be in English or accompanied by a certified or notarized English translation.

(4) Whenever a copy is used, it must include a statement that it is a true and accurate copy.

"§ 66-274. Limitations on Authentication.

(a) The Secretary shall not issue a certificate of authentication for a document if the Secretary has cause to believe that the certificate is desired for an unlawful or improper purpose. The Secretary may examine not only the document for which a certificate is requested, but also any documents to which the previous seals or other certifications may have been affixed by other authorities. The Secretary may request any additional information that may be necessary to establish that the requested certificate will serve the interests of justice and is not contrary to public policy, including a certified or notarized English translation of document text in a foreign language.

(b) The Secretary shall not issue a certificate of authentication for any one or more of the following:

(1) A seal or signature that cannot be authenticated by either the Secretary or another official.

(2) A seal or signature of a foreign official.

EXPLANATION OF SENATE BILL 1552:
Proposed Committee Substitute
Changes to the Notary Public Act

TO: Senate Finance Committee
FROM: Martha Walston and Cindy Avrette, Committee Counsel
DATE: July 14, 1998
SPONSOR: Senator Kerr

Senate Bill 1552 makes several changes to the Notary Public Act. The proposed committee substitute also makes changes to the law concerning the recordation of maps and it gives the Secretary of State the authority to authenticate documents. The Office of the Secretary of State currently issues certificates of authentication even though it does not have the specific statutory authority to do so.

Sections 1 through 9 contain the changes to the Notary Public Act:

- Section 1 states that one of the purposes of the Notary Public Act is to prevent fraud and perjury.
- Section 2 adds the words "Director" and "Secretary" to the list of terms defined in the Act.
- Section 3 makes four changes to G.S. 10A-4. It provides that the Secretary may deny a notary commission or re-commission to a person who has been convicted of a felony and whose rights have not been restored. The Secretary currently denies an applicant a notary commission if the applicant has been convicted of a felony. Article VI, Sec. 8 of the North Carolina Constitution says that a felon may not hold an office in this State. The Secretary considers a notary an office holder for purposes of this Constitutional provision.
  Second, it imposes a $50 fee for certification and re-certification as a notary instructor. Currently, there is no fee charged for this certification, which lasts for two years. The fee would assist in defraying the costs associated with teaching the instructor's course.
  Third, it exempts the Director of the Notary Section of the Department of the Office of the Secretary of State, and any employee of that Section designated by the Director, from having to have six months of active experience as a notary public and from maintaining a current commission as a notary public to be certified as an instructor.
  Lastly, this section provides that registers of deeds, clerks of courts, and employees of the Notary Division of the Department of the Secretary of State do not have to pay this fee to be certified as an instructor.

- Section 4 clarifies that the notary's name must be clear from either the notary's signature or the notary's typed, printed, or embossed name near the signature. The proposed committee substitute adds "embossed name" and deletes the requirement that the name not be contained within the notary's stamp or seal. As written, this section is clear that the notary's name must be readable to be an attested act. The proposed committee substitute also deletes the requirement that a notary's stamp must be imprinted on a document with black ink. Black ink is preferred because, many of the microfilm and other copying mechanisms used by the Registers of Deeds will only copy black ink. This preference will be made known in the courses taught to notaries.
- Section 5 increases the amount a notary may charge for the notary's services from $2 to $3 per person or signature.
- Section 6 clarifies the law as to the alteration of a notary's seal or stamp. Some stamps and seals contain a blank for a notary to write-in the notary's expiration date. However, an Attorney General's opinion states that this in an impermissible alteration of the notary's seal. This section provides that a stamp or seal may provide for a handwritten expiration date. However, if the expiration date is permanently imprinted on the stamp or seal, it may not be altered. The proposed committee substitute deletes the sentence that "the official stamp or seal, including a permanently imprinted expiration date, shall not be altered by any typed, printed, drawn, or handwritten material."
- Section 7 authorizes the Director of the Notary Section of the Department of the Secretary of State, and any employee of that Section designated by the Director, to act as notaries. These notaries would be notaries by virtue of their employment. They would not need to apply for commissioning, take the course of study, pay the $25 fee, or have a five-year re-commissioning. The section consolidates two statutes that concern notaries ex officio: Registers of Deeds and Clerks of Courts. The section provides that these notaries ex officio may charge for their notary services to the extent allowed under G.S. 10A-10, unless otherwise provided by law. (Clerks of court are allowed to charge $1.00 for a notarial act under G.S. 7A-308.) The fee is payable to the governmental unit or agency by whom the notary is employed.
- Section 8 repeals a statute that is consolidated in Section 7.
- Section 9 expands the curative provision from June 1, 1997, to July 1, 1998.

Sections 10 through 13 contain the changes to the mapping statutes:

- Section 10 requires that maps attached to deeds or other instruments be no larger than 8 ½ by 14. This provision is added so that it is clear that such a map can be recorded in the deed books.

- Maps that are not prepared by a registered land surveyor may be attached to a deed or other instrument for recordation for illustrative purposes if it contains a label that it is not a certified survey and it is no larger than 8 ½ by 14. Section 11 changes the wording of the label to recognize that some maps in this category may be accurate. The new wording also contains language regarding the lack of governmental review to guard against an innocent purchaser believing that because he is given a map that all subdivision and other land use regulations have been satisfied.
- Last session, the General Assembly required certain maps to be reviewed and certified by a plat Review Officer before the maps could be recorded. Section 12 creates some additional exemptions to this requirement: municipal annexation and boundary maps, highway right-of-way and roadway corridor maps, and maps attached to deeds for illustrative purposes under G.S. 47-30(n).

The last section of the bill, Section 13, addresses the Secretary of State's concern that the Department of the Secretary of State needs specific legislative authority to authenticate documents. The Department currently provides this service. A certificate of authentication certifies a document as to the genuineness of an official's signature, seal, or position within the State so that the document can be recognized in a foreign jurisdiction. This certificate is needed in many international adoptions and international business transactions.

Section 9 of the act is effective when it becomes law. Sections 12 and 13 of the act become effective December 1, 1998. The remainder of the act becomes effective September 1, 1998.

EXPLANATION OF SENATE BILL 1552:
Proposed Committee Substitute
Changes to the Notary Public Act

TO: Senate Finance Committee
FROM: Cindy Avrette, Committee Counsel

Senate Bill 1552 makes several changes to the Notary Public Act. The proposed committee substitute also makes changes to the law concerning the recordation of maps and it gives the Secretary of State the authority to authenticate documents. The Office of the Secretary of State currently issues certificates of authentication even though it does not have the specific statutory authority to do so.

Sections 1 through 9 contain the changes to the Notary Public Act:

- Section 1 states that one of the purposes of the Notary Public Act is to prevent fraud and perjury.
- Section 2 adds the words "Director" and "Secretary" to the list of terms defined in the Act.

Article VI, Sec. 8 of the North Carolina Constitution says that a felon may not hold an office in this State.   Lastly, this section provides that registers of deeds, clerks of courts, and employees of the Notary Division of the Department of the Secretary of State do not have to pay this fee to be certified as an instructor.

- Section 4 clarifies that the notary's name must be clear from either the notary's signature or the notary's typed or printed name near the signature line. The notary's name, as it appears on the seal or stamp, is not sufficient. In many instances, the notary's name from the seal becomes unreadable over time. A typed or printed name remains readable indefinitely. The section also specifies that a notary's stamp must be imprinted on a document with black ink. Many of the microfilm and other copying mechanisms used by the Registers of Deeds will only copy black ink.
- Section 5 increases the amount a notary may charge for the notary's services from $2 to $3 per person or signature.
- Section 6 clarifies the law as to the alteration of a notary's seal or stamp. Some stamps and seals contain a blank for a notary to write-in the notary's expiration date. - Section 8 repeals a statute that is consolidated in Section 7.
- Section 9 expands the curative provision from June 1, 1997, to July 1, 1998.

Sections 10 through 14 contain the changes to the mapping statutes:

- Sections 10 and 11 exempt plats of easements to an electric membership corporation, an electric power company, a gas company, a telephone company, and a cable television company from the mapping requirements of G.S. 47-30 and from certification by a review officer. These maps of transmission easements are prepared by surveyors, but there appears to be no reason to require them to meet all of the detailed requirements of G.S. 47-30.
- Section 12 requires that maps attached to deeds or other instruments be no larger than 8 ½ by 14. This provision is added so that it is clear that such a map can be recorded in the deed books.

- Maps that are not prepared by a registered land surveyor may be attached to a deed or other instrument for recordation for illustrative purposes if it contains a label that it is not a certified survey and it is no larger than 8 ½ by 14. Section 13 changes the wording of the label to recognize that some maps in this category may be accurate. The new wording also contains language regarding the lack of governmental review to guard against an innocent purchaser believing that because he is given a map that all subdivision and other land use regulations have been satisfied.
- Last session, the General Assembly required certain maps to be reviewed and certified by a plat Review Officer before the maps could be recorded. Section 14 creates some additional exemptions to this requirement: municipal annexation and boundary maps, highway right-of-way and roadway corridor maps, and maps attached to deeds for illustrative purposes under G.S. 47-30(n).

The last section of the bill, Section 15, addresses the Secretary of State's concern that the Department of the Secretary of State needs specific legislative authority to authenticate documents. A certificate of authentication certifies a document as to the genuineness of an official's signature, seal, or position within the State so that the document can be recognized in a foreign jurisdiction. This certificate is needed in many international adoptions and international business transactions.

The fee for being certified and re-certified as a notary instructor becomes effective August 1, 1998. The remainder of the act is effective when it becomes law.

EXPENDITURES
POSITIONS: NA

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Secretary of State

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 1, 1998

BILL SUMMARY:

Amends G.S. 10A-2 to specify that one of the chapter's purposes is to prevent fraud and forgery. Amends G.S. 10A-4 to require payment of a $50 fee to be certified to teach a course of study for notaries public, and to renew certification. Adds director and employees of the Notary Division of the Department of the Secretary of State to existing exemption from certain instructor certification requirements. Amends G.S. 10A-15 to permit director and employees of the Notary Division to act as notaries public by virtue of their employment by the Secretary of State, and to allow them to certify their notarial acts under the Secretary of State's seal. Amends G.S. 10A-4 (c) to specify that the Secretary of State may deny an application for commission or recommission as a notary if applicant has been convicted of a felony. Amends G.S. 10A-11 to add to and clarify specifications for notary seals. Amends G.S. 10A-16 to validate various notarial acts performed before October 1, 1998, and to clarify and add to the acts that are covered by the validation.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:
The number of initial certifications to teach a course of study for notaries public and the certification renewals to teach the courses are represented below by the single figures for the 1993-94 through the 1997-98 (projected) fiscal years:

1993-94	1994-95	1995-96	1996-97	1997-98 (est.)
43	47	50	52	55

Senate Bill 1552 authorizes the Secretary of State to charge a $50 fee for each initial certification and renewal to teach a course of study for notaries public. Relying on the experience from 1993-94 to 1996-97, we estimate an average annual increase of 3 individuals to the total number of individuals receiving initial certification and/or certification renewal. The following numbers (by fiscal year) represent the projected number of certifications and renewals in the out years:

1998-99	1999-00	2000-01	2001-02	2002-03
58	61	64	67	70

We simply multiply the projected numbers of initial certificates and renewals (above) times the $50 fee (authorized by the bill) to get the revenue projections by fiscal year reflected in the FISCAL IMPACT section of this note.

EXPLANATION OF SENATE BILL 873 (PCS):
Local Government Debt Approval

TO: Senate Finance Committee
FROM: Martha H. Harris, Staff Attorney
DATE: July 13, 1998
SPONSOR: Senator Kerr

Senate Bill 873 extends the requirement of Local Government Commission approval to certain local government debt not now subject to approval by the Local Government Commission (LGC). The LGC would be required to approve the debt if it found that the amount is not excessive, that the entity operating the project and the entity issuing, securing, or incurring the debt demonstrate financial responsibility, and that the proposed date and manner of sale will not have an adverse affect on any other anticipated sale of State or local obligations. The bill applies to the few types of debt that are not now generally subject to LGC approval, but does not apply to debt that, because of its small size or other similar characteristics, is specifically exempted from LGC approval under current law.

Virtually all bonds, installment purchase contracts, and other debt arrangements that local governments may enter into must be approved by the Local Government Commission. The LGC was created in the early 1930s in response to local government bond defaults resulting from the depression. The LGC provides assistance and oversight to assure that proposed financings are fully understood by the local officials and are fiscally sound. In evaluating proposed projects, the LGC considers whether the operator of the project and the unit obligating itself for the debt can demonstrate the financial capability to fulfill their obligations. In general, the LGC is required to approve proposed debt if all of the following conditions are met:[1]

1. The debt is necessary or expedient.
2. The amount is adequate and not excessive.
3. The local government has good debt management practices.
4. In the case of general obligation debt and installment purchase contracts, that an excessive increase in taxes will not be required. In the case of revenue bonds, that the project that will generate revenues to pay the debt is feasible.
5. That the proposed debt can be marketed at reasonable interest costs.

[1] G.S. 159-52, 159-86, 159-151.

There are a two types of debt for which Local Government Commission approval is not specifically required: local housing debt and debt issued by a nonprofit corporation on behalf of a local government. As explained below, these are not specific exceptions to the approval requirement enacted by the General Assembly. Instead, they are situations that have evolved independently and do not reflect a policy judgment by the General Assembly that LGC approval should not be required.

These situations represent loopholes enabling local units to issue debt that the LGC considers unsound. The standards for LGC approval are not unduly strict. Failure to obtain LGC approval may be due to a lack of security for the debt. If a local government uses one of these loopholes to issue less secure debt without LGC approval, the resulting risks of default will have a negative effect on the bond ratings or the debt interest cost of all local governments in North Carolina.

Local Housing Debt. Local Government Commission approval is not required for debt of local housing authorities or of local governments exercising the powers of local housing authorities. Chapter 157 of the General Statutes authorizes the creation of local housing authorities. This law, enacted in 1935, is apparently based on a model act. The law was originally enacted to enable local housing authorities to act as conduits for federal housing funds. The authority issued the bonds for housing projects it owned and operated. Housing subsidy payments by the federal government to the authority effectively provided federal government backing for the bonds. For these reasons, a LGC approval requirement was not added to the law. In the late 1980s, however, the situation changed. First, local housing authorities were granted expanded authority to provide low-income and moderate income-housing.[2] Then, the federal funds that supported housing projects were phased out. In search of a new mission, some local housing authorities have looked to issuing tax-exempt bonds for private developers. Without the backing of the federal government and without any requirement for Local Government Commission approval, some of these bonds may not be as secure as other North Carolina local bonds.

The housing bond problem is compounded by the fact that G.S. 160A-456 and G.S. 153A-376 grant counties, cities, and towns the authority to exercise the statutory powers of local housing authorities. Under general law, a county or city can finance housing with bonds or installment purchase contracts, subject to approval by the Local Government Commission. If its proposed project is too risky to be approved, however, it can issue the bonds through the authority granted to local housing authorities under Chapter 157 of the General Statutes. This loophole creates the potential for a local government bond default.

[2] Chapter 464 of the 1987 Session Laws.

Nonprofit Corporate Agent Debt. The other type of local debt for which Local Government Commission approval is not required is debt issued on behalf of a local government by a nonprofit corporation. The Internal Revenue Service ruled in 1963[3] that bonds issued by such a nonprofit corporation may be tax-exempt if the income and property of the corporation will revert to the local government, and certain other requirements for tax exemption are satisfied. The debt issued is not the debt of the local government but of the nonprofit corporation. Some bond attorneys believe that, as an agency of the local government, the nonprofit corporation must comply with the restrictions, such as LGC approval, that apply to the government. Other bond attorneys, however, take the view that the nonprofit corporation is subject only to the rules applicable generally to nonprofit corporations under Chapter 55A of the General Statutes and need not seek LGC approval before issuing debt. Thus, if the LGC turns down a proposed local government financing because it is too risky, the local government can use a nonprofit corporation to go ahead with the debt. These nonprofit corporations are generally given names that make them sound like government or quasi-government agencies, such as "City of X Financing Assistance Corporation." As a result, although any default would technically be by the corporation and not the local government, in the marketplace, the default is likely to be considered a default by a local government unit. This perception will damage the reputation of North Carolina local governments in general.

Exceptions to Approval Requirement. Except in the cases noted above, all local government bonds are subject to approval by the Local Government Commission. The current law[4] provides an exemption from the LGC approval requirement, however, for non-bond debt in specific situations. This bill will not affect those exemptions. These exemptions are:

1. Obligations for a period of less than five years.
2. Debts that are less than $500,000 or 1/10 of 1% of the local unit's property tax base, whichever is less.
3. Contracts between a unit of local government and the State or the United States, entered into as a condition of a grant or loan to the local unit.
4. Financing of motor vehicles or voting machines.

[4] G.S. 159-148. Although G.S. 159-148 also exempts financing from the Solid Waste Management Loan Program in Chapter 159I of the General Statutes, these agreements are subject to LGC approval under G.S. 159I-12.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO ALLOW THE TOWN OF STANFIELD AND THE CITY OF LOCUST TO COLLECT UTILITY BILLS AS IF THEY WERE TAXES DUE THE TOWN AND THE CITY.

Section 1. Section 2 of Chapter 1070 of the 1989 Session Laws reads as rewritten:

"Sec. 2. This act applies to the ~~Town~~ Towns of Richfield and Stanfield and the City of Locust only."

Section 2. This act is effective when it becomes law.

EXPLANATION OF HOUSE BILL 1587:
Stanfield/Locust Utility Bills

TO: Senate Finance Committee
FROM: Martha Walston, Committee Counsel
DATE: July 13, 1998
SPONSOR: Representatives Barbee and Hightower

House Bill 1587 allows the Town of Stanfield and the City of Locust to collect utility bills as if they were taxes due. The bill would allow these municipalities to collect in this manner for water supply or distribution or sewage collection or disposal provided by the municipality when the person responsible for the bill fails to pay for more than 60 days after the bill becomes delinquent. The municipality could collect the delinquent amount through the use of levy on the person's tangible personal property under G.S. 105-366 and G.S. 105-367. G.S. 105-366 gives the tax collector authority to levy on the delinquent person's personal property. G.S. 105-367 provides that the tax collector shall conduct the sale of the personal property, unless the governing body of the taxing unit authorizes the tax collector to direct the sheriff to execute on the property and conduct the sale.

Pursuant to Chapter 1070 of the 1989 Session Laws, the Town of Richfield has the authority to collect utility bills by levying on the delinquent person's personal property House Bill 1587 adds the Town of Stanfield and the City of Locust to this Session Law. Richfield, Stanfield, and Locust are all located in Stanly County. House Bill 1587 passed second and third reading in the House on July 6.

EXPLANATION OF SENATE BILL 1241:
Proposed Committee Substitute
Amendments to the Revenue Laws

TO: Senate Finance Committee
FROM: Cindy Avrette, Committee Counsel
DATE: July 15, 1998
SPONSOR: Senator Hoyle

The proposed committee substitute for Senate Bill 1241 incorporates two bills that the committee has previously discussed:

- Senate Bill 1241, which amends several provisions in the penalty sections of the revenue laws at the request of the Department of Revenue. These changes are contained in sections 1 through 22 of the bill. They become effective September 1, 1998.
- Senate Bill 1239, which extends the sunset for the qualified business tax credit an additional four years, until the year 2003. It retains the current $6 million cap on the credit. This change is contained in sections 23 and 24 of the bill. It becomes effective when the act becomes law.

Senate Bill 1241:

G.S. 105-237 gives the Secretary the authority to waive or reduce all penalties imposed under the tax laws, except the penalty for bad checks. In practice, the authority to waive or reduce penalties is delegated to approximately 55 individuals who are in the collection field offices and the audit department located in Raleigh. The Department of Revenue has a penalty policy that these employees must follow to ensure consistent treatment among taxpayers. The Department of Revenue is currently revising its penalty guidelines. As part of the review process, the Department looked at all of the penalty provisions in Chapter 105. Based upon its review of the penalty provisions, the Department of Revenue requested the Revenue Laws Study Committee to recommend the following changes contained in sections 1 - 22 of this bill:

- It conforms the waiver provision in the inheritance tax statutes with the general rule of G.S. 105-237: the Secretary may waive penalties, but not interest.
- It repeals several penalties that are obsolete or ineffective.
- It provides that a refund of sales taxes, motor fuel taxes, and excise taxes on sacramental wine are barred if filed more than 3 years after their due date. The current law provides a reduction of the amount refunded for late applications.

- It clarifies that additional taxes are assessable as penalties so that it is clear the taxes may be waived by the Secretary. It also clarifies that penalties are assessable as additional taxes to ensure the taxpayer receives the full administrative and judicial remedies applicable to tax assessments. This clarification conforms with the statutory definition of "tax" in G.S. 105-228.90: "[T]he term "tax" and "additional tax" include penalties and interest as well as the principal amount."
- It provides a uniform penalty for all tax deficiencies that exceed 25% of the tax liability.
- It expands the statute concerning the personal liability of corporate officers who fail to remit certain taxes when due to include the manager and managing members of a LLC.

Senate Bill 1239:

The qualified business tax credit was enacted in August 1987 to promote economic development for North Carolina business developments. The initial credits applied to both corporations and individual taxpayers and there was a cap on the total amount of all tax credits of $12 million. In response to a United States Supreme Court decision in Fulton Corp. v. Faulkner in 1996, the General Assembly reduced the $12 million cap to $6 million, limited the credit to individuals and small pass-through entities, and removed the requirement that the qualified businesses be headquartered or operating in North Carolina. The credit will expire for investments made on or after January 1, 1999. The PCS extends the credit for four additional years - until January 1, 2003.

The credit is allowed for an individual taxpayer who purchases the equity securities or subordinated debt of a qualified business venture or a qualified grantee business directly from that business. The credit is equal to 25% of the amount invested and may not exceed $50,000 per individual in a single taxable year. An individual investor may also claim his allocable share of credits obtained by "pass-through entities" of which the investor is an owner. Pass-through entities include limited partnerships, general partnerships, S corporations, and limited liability companies. The credit may not be taken in the year the investment is made. Instead, the credit is taken in the year following the calendar year in which the investment was made, but only if the taxpayer filed an application with the Secretary of State. The unused credit may be carried forward for the next 5 years. The total amount of credits allowed to all taxpayers for investments made in a calendar year may not exceed $6 million. The Secretary of Revenue calculates the total amount of tax credits claimed from applications filed with the Secretary of State. If the amount exceeds the cap, then the Secretary allows a portion of the tax credits claimed by allocating the total of $6 million in tax credits in proportion to the size of the credit claimed by each taxpayer.

Under the 1996 Fulton case, the original credit provisions clearly violated the interstate commerce clause of the federal constitution because it reduced a taxpayer's tax liability by an amount equal to 25% of the cost of purchasing stock in a business whose purpose is to invest in businesses with headquarters and operations in North Carolina while no tax reduction is allowed for purchasing similar stock in corporations whose purpose is to invest in businesses with headquarters and operations outside of North Carolina. In response to the Fulton case, the Revenue Laws Study Committee discussed this credit, along with several others, at great length. The original proposal of the Committee was to repeal ALL qualified business investment credits, effective 1-1-97. In response to appeals to the Committee and to the General Assembly, the credit was expanded to include all investments wherever located but was limited to individuals and small pass-through entities under the theory that these investors are not likely to invest outside of a 50 mile radius of their home.

Dear Senators Kerr and Hoyle:

This letter is written to express the Association's opposition to an amendment currently under consideration to Senate Bill 1241, "Amendments to the Revenue Laws." The amendment, offered on the Senate Floor on June 16, 1998, by Senator Blust, is designed to require state and local governments to pay costs and expenses, including attorneys' fees, in actions in which taxpayers challenge governmental decisions. In the case of local governments, inclusion of this provision would involve significant costs to local governments in defending challenges that reach the Property Tax Commission. In addition, anticipation of these costs would lead to premature settlement of such disputes.

It is our belief that the current system through which taxpayers are able to challenge state and local tax decisions is balanced and affords ample due process. Adoption of the proposed amendment is unnecessary and would upset the balance that exists. We urge you and other members of the Senate Finance Committee to reject the language included in the proposed amendment.

Sincerely yours,

Jim

SENATE BILL 396
Rules and Operations of the Senate Committee Substitute Adopted 6/29/98

Short Title: Downtown Development Zone Improvement. (Public)

Sponsors:

Referred to: Appropriations.

March 17, 1997

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO PROVIDE FOR DOWNTOWN REVITALIZATION BY ALLOWING A CREDIT FOR CONTRIBUTIONS FOR DEVELOPMENT ZONE PROJECTS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. The General Assembly finds that downtowns are central to the creation of small, locally owned businesses and that vital downtowns also play a role in the recruitment of larger businesses. Strong downtowns reduce urban sprawl and the costs and quality of life problems associated with urban sprawl. For these reasons, the General Assembly finds that revitalizing declining urban areas is crucial to the well-being of the State as a whole.

Section 2. Article 3A of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 105-129.13. Credit for contribution for development zone project.

(a) Credit. -- A taxpayer who contributes cash or property to a development zone agency for an improvement project in a development zone is allowed a credit equal to twenty-five percent (25%) of the value of the contribution. A contribution is for an improvement project for the purposes of this section if the agency receiving the contribution contracts in writing to use the contribution for the project. The credit may not be taken for the year in which the contribution is made but shall be taken for the taxable year beginning during the calendar year in which the application for the credit becomes effective as provided in subsection (d) of this section.

(b) Definitions. -- The following definitions apply in this section:

(1) Community development corporation. -- A nonprofit corporation that meets all of the following conditions:
a. It is chartered pursuant to Chapter 55A of the General Statutes and is tax-exempt pursuant to section 501(c)(3) of the Code.
b. Its primary mission is to develop and improve low-income communities and neighborhoods through economic and related development.
c. Its activities and decisions are initiated, managed, and controlled by the constituents of those local communities.
d. Its primary function is to act as deal-maker and packager of projects and activities that will increase its constituency's opportunities to become owners, managers, and producers of small businesses, to obtain affordable housing, and to obtain jobs designed to produce positive cash flow and curb blight in the targeted community.

(2) Control. -- A person controls an entity if the person owns, directly or indirectly, more than ten percent (10%) of the voting securities of that entity. As used in this subdivision, the term "voting security" means a security that (i) confers upon the holder the right to vote for the election of members of the board of directors or similar governing body of the business or (ii) is convertible into, or entitles the holder to receive upon its exercise, a security that confers such a right to vote. A general partnership interest is a voting security.

(3) Development zone agency. -- Any of the following agencies that the Department of Commerce certifies will undertake an improvement project in a development zone:
a. A community development corporation.
b. A community development financial institution certified by the United States Department of the Treasury under the Community Development Banking and Financial Institutions Act of 1994 (12 U.S.C. § 4701, et seq.).
c. A local housing authority created under Article 1 of Chapter 157 of the General Statutes.

(4) Improvement project. -- A project to construct or improve residential, commercial, or public real property located in a development zone.

(c) Limitations. -- A taxpayer who claims a credit under this section shall identify in the application the development zone agencies to which the taxpayer made contributions and the amount contributed to each. No credit is allowed for a contribution if the taxpayer is related to the development zone agency as defined in section 1313 of the Code or if the taxpayer controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with an affiliate of the development zone agency. No credit is allowed to the extent the taxpayer receives anything of value in exchange for the contribution.

(d) Application. -- To be eligible for the tax credit provided in this section, the taxpayer must file an application for the credit with the Secretary on or before April 15 of the year following the calendar year in which the contribution was made. The Secretary may grant extensions of this deadline, as the Secretary finds appropriate, upon the request of the taxpayer, except that the application may not be filed after September 15 of the year following the calendar year in which the contribution was made. An application is effective for the year in which it is timely filed. The application shall be on a form prescribed by the Secretary and shall include any supporting documentation that the Secretary may require. If a contribution for which a credit is applied for was of property rather than cash, the taxpayer shall include with the application a certified appraisal of the value of the property contributed.

(e) Ceiling. -- The total amount of all tax credits allowed to taxpayers under this section for contributions made in a calendar year may not exceed five million dollars ($5,000,000). The Secretary of Revenue shall calculate the total amount of tax credits claimed from the applications filed pursuant to subsection (d) of this section. If the total amount of tax credits claimed for contributions made in a calendar year exceeds five million dollars ($5,000,000), the Secretary shall allow a portion of the credits claimed by allocating a total of five million dollars ($5,000,000) in tax credits in proportion to the size of the credit claimed by each taxpayer. If a credit is reduced pursuant to this subsection, the Secretary shall notify the taxpayer of the amount of the reduction of the credit on or before December 31 of the year following the calendar year in which the contribution was made. The Secretary's allocations based on applications filed pursuant to subsection (d) of this section are final and shall not be adjusted to account for credits applied for but not claimed.

Each development zone agency certified by the Department of Commerce shall file with the Department of Commerce annual financial statements audited in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. The annual statements are required each time the agency receives a contribution eligible for the credit allowed under this section until the entire contribution has been used for improvement projects. If the Department of Commerce determines that a development zone agency has used part or all of a contribution for any purpose other than an improvement project, the Department shall notify the Secretary of Revenue of the forfeiture, the taxpayer who made the contribution, and the amount forfeited."

Section 3. G.S. 105-129.4(a) reads as rewritten:

"(a) Type of Business. -- A taxpayer is eligible for a credit allowed by G.S. 105-129.12 if the real property for which the credit is claimed is used for a central administrative office that creates at least 40 new jobs. A taxpayer is eligible for the credit allowed by G.S. 105-129.13 without regard to the taxpayer's type of business. A taxpayer is eligible for the other credits allowed by this Article if the taxpayer

(2) Central administrative office that creates at least 40 new jobs.
(3) Data processing.

Jobs transferred from one area in the State to another area in the State are not considered new jobs for purposes of this subsection."

Section 4. G.S. 105-129.6(a) reads as rewritten:

"(a) Application. -- To claim the credits allowed by this Article, the taxpayer must provide with the tax return the certification of the Secretary of Commerce that the taxpayer meets all of the eligibility requirements of G.S. 105-129.4 or G.S. 105-129.13, as applicable, with respect to each credit. A taxpayer shall apply to the Secretary of Commerce for certification of eligibility. The application must be on a form provided by the Secretary of Commerce and must contain any information necessary for the Secretary of Commerce to determine whether the taxpayer meets the eligibility requirements. If the Secretary of Commerce determines that the taxpayer meets all of the eligibility requirements of G.S. 105-129.4 or G.S. 105-129.13, as applicable, with respect to a credit, the Secretary shall issue a certificate describing the location with respect to which the credit is claimed, outlining the eligibility requirements for the credit, and stating that the taxpayer meets the eligibility requirements. EXPLANATION OF SENATE BILL 396 (2nd Edition):
Downtown Development Zone Improvement

TO: Senate Finance Committee
FROM: Martha H. Harris, Staff Attorney
DATE: July 14, 1998
SPONSOR: Senator Rand

Senate Bill 396 adds a new section to the William S. Lee Act to allow an income or franchise tax credit for 25% of the cash or property contributed to a development zone agency for a project to construct or improve residential, commercial, or public real property located in a development zone. The bill becomes effective beginning with the 1999 tax year.

A development zone agency is defined in the bill to include a community development corporation, a community development financial institution, or a local housing authority. The development zone agency receiving the contribution must contract in writing to use the contribution for a development zone improvement project and must obtain the certification of the Secretary of Commerce that it will be undertaking such a project.

Another bill, Senate Bill 1569, the Economic Opportunity Act of 1998, provides for the designation of economically distressed areas located within municipalities as State development zones. It defines a development zone as an area (1) consisting of one or more contiguous census tracts, block groups, or both, (2) with a population of 1,000 or more, at least 20% of whom are below the poverty level, and (3) located at least partly in a municipality with a population over 5,000.

The credit is to be taken in the tax year immediately following the contribution year. The total amount of credits for a given tax year is capped at $5 million. To receive the credit, the taxpayer must file an application by April 15 of the year following the contribution year. The Secretary of Revenue may allow this deadline to be extended to September 15. If more than $5 million of credits are applied for, the Secretary of Revenue will reduce each taxpayer's credit proportionally.

The credit is disallowed to the extent the taxpayer receives anything of value in exchange for the contribution. In addition, no credit is allowed for contributions between related parties or parties under common control. If a development zone agency that agreed to use a contribution for a development zone improvement project later uses the project for another purpose, the taxpayer forfeits any credit allowed for the contribution. Development zone agencies certified by the Secretary of Commerce are required to file audited financial statements with Commerce on an annual basis. If the Department of Commerce determines that a contribution has been used for a purpose other than for a development zone improvement project, it will notify the Secretary of Revenue of the forfeiture.

A proposal similar to this bill was supported by the Governor's Economic Development Board, but was not included in the Governor's recommended budget.

	FY 1998-99	FY 1999-00	FY 2000-01	FY 2001-02	FY 2002-03
REVENUES (GENERAL FUND)			-$5.0	-$5.0	-$5.0

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: The income tax is administered by the Department of Revenue. Development zones are determined by the Department of Commerce.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1999.

BILL SUMMARY: Provides for a state income or franchise tax credit for 25% of the cash or property contributed to a development zone agency for a project to construct or improve residential, commercial, or public real property located in a development zone. The credit is to be taken in the tax year immediately following the contribution year. To receive the credit the taxpayer must file an application by April 15 of the year following the contribution year (Secretary of Revenue may allow deadline to be extended to September 15) and the agency receiving the contribution must contract in writing to use the contribution for the project. Development zone agency is defined in the bill to include a community development corporation, a community development financial institution, or a local housing authority.

The total amount of credits for a given tax year is capped at $5.0 million. If more than this amount of credits are applied for, the credits shall be prorated based on application amounts.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: Following the practice established in the 1987 fiscal estimate for the qualified business investment credit, the estimated impact is equal to the capped credit. The reason is that it is impossible to predict in advance the potential amount of contributions under the new credit.
