RE: Proposed Committee Substitute for House Bill 579, Campaign Finance Changes.

The Proposed Committee Substitute for House Bill 579 would make changes to the campaign finance statutes designed to:

- Tighten the campaign contribution limits;
- Bring the statutes into conformity with federal court decisions; and
- Lengthen the statute of limitations for campaign finance misdemeanors.

Contribution Limits: Section 1 of the bill contains three provisions concerning contribution limits.

First, it reduces from $4,000 to $2,000 the amount that a contributor (individual or political committee) may give to a candidate or political committee for an election.

Second, it removes the exemption from the contribution limit for the parents and siblings of a candidate. The candidate and the candidate's spouse would still be able to contribute without limit to the candidate.

Third, it removes the exemption from the contribution limit now enjoyed by political party executive committees. Now, those committees may receive and give contributions without limit. Under the bill, those committees would be limited to $2,000 in contributions coming in and going out. The bill prohibits State and local party committees from accepting unlimited contributions from national parties through their so-called "soft money" accounts.

All the provisions of Section 1 were passed by the Senate in 1997 as part of Senate Bill 1, but they were not in the ratified version of that bill.

Court Compliance: Section 2 of the bill attempts to bring North Carolina into conformity with federal court decisions on campaign finance. On April 30, 1998, Judge Terrence Boyle of U.S. Eastern District Court entered an order in N.C. Right to Life, Inc. v. Bartlett invalidating three sections of North Carolina's campaign finance law. First, he held the State's definition of "political committee" too broad because it includes groups that engage only in "issue advocacy" as opposed to "express advocacy of clearly identified candidates." Second, he held the State's prohibition on corporate contributions and expenditures unconstitutionally overbroad because it could apply to independent expenditures by certain kinds of non-business entities that, although incorporated, are issue-oriented and more akin to political committees than to business firms. (The U.S. Supreme Court in FEC v. Massachusetts Citizens for Life (MCFL) recognized that such special corporations could not be banned from making independent expenditures.) Third, he struck the State's restriction on contributions by lobbyists and their political committees to elected officials and candidates during legislative sessions. He said that ban was not narrowly tailored to prevent corruption and the appearance of corruption: He said that the potential for corruption was not limited to legislative sessions, that the law restricts all lobbyist contributions during the session and not just large ones with potential to corrupt, and that the law should not extend to non-incumbent candidates.

The bill addresses the first two aspects of Judge Boyle's decision, but not the third. It addresses his concern about political committees by making several changes to some basic definitions in the statute that were written 24 years ago, before major Supreme Court decisions such as Buckley v. Valeo. The Court said in Buckley that spending money on politics is First Amendment speech. The Court said government may place dollar limits only on contributions to politicians, to prevent corruption or the appearance of corruption. Expenditures made without consulting with a politician cannot be limited as to size, but government may require them to be disclosed. The Court has said that corporations may be prohibited from making either contributions or independent expenditures (subject to the MCFL exception). But none of that regulation is acceptable for expression that is merely discussion of issues; the Court interpreted the federal campaign act as applying only to express advocacy of clearly identified candidates.

- "Political Committee": Currently the term is defined as a group of two or more people "the primary or incidental purpose of which is to support or oppose any candidate or political party or to influence or attempt to influence the result of an election..." The bill trims that broad definition back to a group that:
  - Is controlled by a candidate; or
  - Makes contributions to a candidate or other political committee; or
  - Has as a non-incidental purpose making expenditures to support or oppose the election or defeat of a clearly identified candidate.
- "Contribution": The bill clarifies that, to be a contribution, the gift must be made to a candidate or political committee, and does not include "independent expenditures."
- "Expenditure": The bill clarifies that an expenditure for purposes of the act must either be a contribution or be made to support or oppose the election or defeat of a candidate. The bill also adds a definition for "independent expenditure," an expenditure that is made without consultation or coordination with the candidate or party that benefits. The courts have said that independent expenditures may be regulated in some ways, but may not be subject to dollar-amount limits.

The bill addresses the judge's concern about the overbroad ban on corporate political spending by carving out an exception for independent expenditures by certain kinds of issue-oriented, non-business organizations even though they take the corporate form. North Carolina Right to Life, Inc., the plaintiff in the lawsuit that brought about Judge Boyle's order, pointed out that the U.S. Supreme Court has recognized such an exception in a 1986 case.

Enforcement: Section 3 of the bill addresses enforcement of campaign finance laws by lengthening the statute of limitations for campaign finance misdemeanors from two years to five years.

4 means any primary, second primary, or general election in which 5 the candidate or political committee may be involved, without 6 regard to whether the candidate is opposed or unopposed in the 22 from a corporation, labor union, insurance company, business

23 entity, or professional association may make any contribution to 24 another referendum committee, to a candidate or to a political 25 committee.

26 (f) Any individual, candidate, political committee, or

29 (b) This section becomes effective January 1, 1999, and 30 applies to all elections occurring on or after that date.

31 --- CONFORM THE CAMPAIGN FINANCE LAW TO FEDERAL COURT OPINIONS.

32 Section 2. (a) G.S. 163-278.6(14) reads as rewritten:

33 " (14) The term 'political committee' means a combination
34 of two or more individuals, or any person,
35 committee, association, or ~~organization, the~~

5                   ~~or which~~ If the group qualifies as a 'political 6                   committee' under sub-subdivision a., b., or c. of 7                   this subdivision, it continues to be a political 8                   committee if it receives contributions to repay
9                   loans or cover a deficit, or ~~which~~ makes 10                  expenditures to satisfy obligations of an election
11                  already held.

12                The term includes, without limitation, any 13                political party's State, county or district
14                executive committee."

15               (b) G.S. 163-278.6(6) reads as rewritten:

16               "(6) The terms 'contribute' or 'contribution' mean any 17                advance, conveyance, deposit, distribution,
18                transfer of funds, loan, payment, gift, pledge or 20                whatsoever, to a candidate, political committee, or 21                referendum committee from any person or individual,

22                whether or not made in an election year, and any
23                contract, agreement, promise or other obligation,
24                whether or not legally enforceable, to make a 25                contribution, in support of or in opposition to any 26                candidate, political committee, referendum
27                committee, or political party. These terms include,

32                aircraft, office space, or similar or related 33                services, goods, or personal or real property.
34                These terms also include, without limitation, the 35                proceeds of sale of services, campaign literature
36                and materials, wearing apparel, tickets or 37                admission prices to campaign events such as rallies
38                or dinners, and the proceeds of sale of any 39                campaign-related services or ~~goods notwithstanding~~ 40                goods. Notwithstanding the foregoing meanings of 41                'contribution,' the word shall not be construed to 42                include services provided without compensation by 43                individuals volunteering a portion or all of their 44                time on behalf of a candidate, political committee,

1 or referendum committee. The term 'contribution'
2 does not include an 'independent expenditure.'"

3 (c) G.S. 163-278.6(9) reads as rewritten:

4 "(9) The terms 'expend' or 'expenditure' mean any 5 purchase, advance, conveyance, deposit,
6 distribution, transfer of funds, loan, payment,
7 gift, pledge or subscription of money or anything
8 of value whatsoever, from any person or individual,
9 whether or not made in an election year, and any
10 contract, agreement, promise or other obligation,
11 whether or not legally enforceable, to make an 12 expenditure, ~~in support of or in opposition to~~ to 13 support or oppose the nomination or election or 14 defeat of any clearly identified candidate,
15 political committee, referendum committee, or 16 political party ~~or to make a contribution.~~"

17 (d) G.S. 163-278.6 is amended by adding a new 18 subdivision to read:

19 " (9A) The term 'independently expend' or 'independent 20 expenditure' mean an expenditure made without 21 consultation or coordination with any candidate or 22 political party that benefits or would benefit
23 electorally from the expenditure."

29 candidate."

30 (f) G.S. 163-269 is repealed.

31 (g) G.S. 163-278.19 is amended by adding a new 32 subsection to read:

33 "(f) This section does not prohibit an independent expenditure

ORDER

This matter is before the Court on the parties' Motions for Summary Judgment and Defendants' Motion to Certify Questions and to Abstain. In the underlying action, Plaintiffs challenge provisions of North Carolina's election laws regulating political contributions and expenditures by corporations, political committees, and individuals, and seek an injunction against enforcement of the challenged provisions. For the reasons discussed below, Plaintiffs' Motion for Summary Judgment will be granted, and Defendants' Motions for Summary Judgment and to Certify Questions and to Abstain will be denied.

BACKGROUND

Plaintiff North Carolina Right to Life, Inc. (hereinafter, "NCRL"), is a non-profit corporation organized under Chapter 55A of the North Carolina General Statutes. NCRL produces voter guides and other election materials that it distributes to its members and the general public. Verified Complaint at ¶ 29. Plaintiff North Carolina Right to Life Political Action Committee ("NCRLPAC") was established by NCRL as a segregated fund through which NCRL makes contributions to candidates and engages in other activities that support or oppose the elections of identified candidates. Plaintiff Barbara Holt ("Holt") is a registered lobbyist, a principal agent of NCRL and NCRLPAC, and the president of NCRL.

Plaintiffs commenced this action on September 27, 1996, by filing a complaint seeking declaratory and injunctive relief and challenging the constitutionality of various provisions of the North Carolina General Statutes regulating election campaign financing. Plaintiffs filed an amended complaint on December 5, 1997, and now argue that sections 163-278.6(14) (defining "political committee"), 163-269, et seq. ("Violations by corporations"), 163-278.19 (corporate contributions for "political purpose"), and 163-278.13B ("Limitation on fund-raising during legislative session"), as amended, violate the Plaintiffs' rights under the First and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution by infringing protected political speech and association and by denying them the equal protection of the law.

This Court held a hearing on this matter on October 15, 1996, and issued a Declaratory Judgment on February 7, 1997. Both parties subsequently moved for summary judgment. Defendants also filed a Motion to Certify Questions pursuant to section 163-278.23 of the North Carolina General Statutes, urging this Court to abstain from ruling on these questions pending an authoritative interpretation of the challenged statutes from the Executive Secretary-Director of the State Board of Elections. Another hearing was held on November 24, 1997, and the parties' motions are ripe for ruling.

DISCUSSION

I. Defendants' Motion to Certify Questions to the Board of Elections

North Carolina has no legislative authority for certifying questions of state law to the highest state court for decision. The Defendants' argument that this Court should adopt such a procedure in the absence of legislative authority is without merit. There is no basis for abstention in this Court, and this Court is under a duty to rule on issues of federal and constitutional law when they are properly presented to it. The motion to certify will be denied.

II. Motions for Summary Judgment

Summary judgment is appropriate when "the pleadings, depositions, answers to interrogatories, and admissions on file, together with affidavits, if any, show that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact and that the moving party is entitled to summary judgment as a matter of law." Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(c). To avoid summary judgment, the opposing party must introduce evidence to create an issue of material fact on "an element essential to the party's case, and on which the party will bear the burden of proof at trial." Celotex Corp. v. Catrett, 477 U.S. 317, 322, 106 S. Ct. 2548, 2552, 91 L.Ed.2d 265 (1986). A verified complaint based on personal knowledge is the equivalent of an affidavit for summary judgment purposes. Williams v. Griffin, 952 F.2d 820, 823 (4th Cir. 1991).

In Buckley v. Valeo, 424 U.S. 1, 96 S. Ct. 612, 46 L.Ed.2d 659 (1976), the Supreme Court emphasized that "[d]iscussion of public issues and debate on the qualifications of candidates are integral to the operation of the system of government established by our Constitution. The First Amendment affords the broadest protection to such political expression in order 'to assure [the] unfettered interchange of ideas for the bringing about of political and social changes desired by the people.'" Id., at 14, 96 S. Ct., at 632 (quoting Roth v. United States, 354 U.S. 476, 484, 77 S. Ct. 1304, 1308, 1 L.Ed.2d 1498 (1957)). The Supreme Court expressly noted that money spent on political campaigns, whether involving candidates or issues, is a form of political expression and thus entitled to First Amendment protection. Id., at 19, 96 S. Ct., at 634-635.

The Buckley Court, considering the constitutionality of limits on campaign contributions and expenditures in the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 ("FECA"), distinguished between these two categories of political expression. A limitation on contributions to candidates, the Court held, "involves little direct restraint on . . . political communication, for it permits the symbolic expression of support evidenced by a contribution but does not in any way infringe the contributor's freedom to discuss candidates and issues." Id., at 21, 96 S. Ct., at 636. FECA's expenditure limitations, on the other hand, were struck down for placing "substantial and direct restrictions on the ability of candidates, citizens, and associations to engage in protected political expression, restrictions that the First Amendment cannot tolerate." Id., at 58-59, 96 S. Ct., at 654.

Since Buckley, the Supreme Court has held that statutes regulating political expenditures are subject to "exacting scrutiny," McIntyre v. Ohio Elections Comm'n, 514 U.S. 334, 344-46, and that States may not infringe upon such expression absent a compelling state interest, Federal Election Comm'n v. Massachusetts Citizens for Life, Inc., 479 U.S. 238, 256, 107 S. Ct. 616, 627, 93 L.Ed.2d 539 (1986) ("MCFL"); Austin v. Michigan

Chamber of Commerce, 494 U.S. 652, 657, 110 S. Ct. 1391, 1396, 109 L.Ed.2d 652 (1990). The Court has also held that "preventing corruption or the appearance of corruption are the only legitimate and compelling government interests thus far identified for restricting campaign finances." Federal Election Comm'n v. National Conservative Political Action Comm., 470 U.S. 480, 496-497, 105 S. Ct. 1459, 1468, 84 L.Ed.2d 455 (1985).

The Buckley Court also drew a distinction between "express advocacy"-communication which advocates in express terms the election or defeat of a clearly identified candidate,<sup>1</sup> 424 U.S., at 44, 96 S. Ct., at 646-647-and "issue advocacy"-which encompasses any other type of political communication expressing one's views on issues without expressly calling for a candidate's election or defeat, id. Statutes which regulate campaign expenditures may regulate express advocacy in the interest of preventing actual or apparent corruption, but may not regulate spending on issue advocacy. Id., at 43-44, 96 S. Ct., at 646-647.

Finally, the Supreme Court has held that a statute may be infirm for overbreadth "when [it] does not aim specifically at evils within the allowable area of State control but, on the contrary, sweeps within its ambit other activities that in ordinary circumstances constitute an exercise of freedom of speech or of the press." Thornhill v. Alabama, 310 U.S. 88, 97, 60 S. Ct. 736, 742, 84 L.Ed.2d 1093 (1940). Specifically in the First Amendment context, the Supreme Court has long recognized that "statutes attempting to restrict or burden the exercise of First Amendment rights must be narrowly drawn and represent a considered legislative judgment that a particular mode of expression has to give way to other compelling needs of society." Bradrick v. Oklahoma, 413 U.S. 601, 611-612, 93 S. Ct. 2908, 2915, 37 L.Ed.2d 830 (1973). Thus, overbreadth attacks have been allowed where rights of speech and association "were ensnared in statutes which, by their broad sweep, might result in burdening innocent associations." Id., at 612, 93 S. Ct., at 2916.

With these distinctions and definitions in mind, the Court will review the North Carolina statutes challenged by the Plaintiffs.

A. The definition of "political committee" in section 163-278.6(14)

The North Carolina election laws define a "political committee" as "any person, committee, association, or organization, the primary or incidental purpose of which is to support or oppose any candidate or political party or to influence or attempt to influence the result of an election . . . ." N.C. Gen. Stat. § 163-278.6(14). Classification as a "political committee" requires an entity to register as such and to comply with the requirements of sections 163-278.7(b) (filing a statement of organization with the Board of Elections), 163-278.8 (keeping detailed accounts of expenditures and contributions), and 163-278.9 and 163-278.11 (regular filing of organizational and financing reports). Failure to comply with these requirements carries criminal penalties. See N.C. Gen. Stat. §§ 163-278.27 and 163-278.34.

In construing the FECA in Buckley, the Supreme Court noted that, "[s]o long as persons and groups eschew expenditures that in express terms advocate the election or defeat of a clearly identified candidate, they are free to spend as much as they want to promote the candidate and his views." Id., at 45, 96 S. Ct., at 647. While noting that "compelled disclosure has the potential for substantially infringing the exercise of First Amendment rights," id., at 66, 96 S. Ct., at 657, the Buckley Court "acknowledged that there are governmental interests sufficiently important to outweigh the possibility of infringement . . ." id. Thus the Court held that independent reporting requirements may be imposed upon individuals and groups "when they make expenditures for communications that expressly advocate the election or defeat of a clearly identified candidate." Id., at 80, 96 S. Ct., at 664.

In the instant case, section 163-278.6(14) defines individuals and groups that seek to "influence or attempt to influence the result of an election" as political committees and subjects them to registering and reporting requirements whether or not they "expressly advocate the election or defeat of a clearly identified candidate." Groups engaging only in issue advocacy are thus subject to spending restrictions and reporting requirements. This violates the First Amendment, as construed by the Supreme Court in Buckley v. Valeo. The Buckley Court noted that, while a statute may target "those expenditures that expressly advocate a particular election result," id., it may not target funds used for general issue advocacy. By this standard, section 163-278.6(14) is fatally overbroad: it does not limit its coverage to entities engaging in express advocacy.

Because section 163-278.6(14) denies full First Amendment protection to individuals and groups engaged in issue advocacy, thereby chilling political speech, it is facially unconstitutional.

B. The prohibitions on independent expenditures and direct contributions in section 163-269 and 163-278.19

Section 163-269 makes it unlawful for any corporation "directly or indirectly, to make any contribution or expenditure . . . for any political purpose whatsoever. . . ." Similarly, section 163-278.19 prohibits corporations from "mak[ing] any contribution or expenditure . . . for any political purpose whatsoever."<sup>2</sup> In Austin v. Michigan Chamber of Commerce, 494 U.S., at 657, 110 S. Ct., at 1396, the Supreme Court held that "[t]he mere fact that [an entity] is a corporation does not remove its speech from the ambit of the First Amendment." Of course, corporate involvement in politics poses a risk of corruption, or the appearance of corruption, to the political process through "the corrosive and distorting effects of immense aggregations of wealth that are accumulated with the help of the corporate form and that have little or no correlation to the public's support for the corporation's political ideas." Id., at 66, 110 S. Ct., at 1397.

The Supreme Court has noted the need "to restrict the influence of political war chests funneled through the corporate form," Federal Election Comm'n v. National Conservative Political Action Comm., 470 U.S. 480, 501, 105 S. Ct. 1459, 1470, 84 L.Ed.2d 455 (1985) ("NCPAC"), to curb the political influence of "those who exercise control over large aggregations of capital," Automobile Workers, 352 U.S. 567, 585, 77 S. Ct. 529, 538, 1 L.Ed.2d 563 (1957), and to regulate the "substantial aggregations of wealth amassed by the special advantages which go with the corporate form of organization," Federal Election Comm'n v. National Right to Work Comm., 459 U.S. 197, 206, 103 S. Ct. 552, 559, 74 L.Ed.2d 364 (1982). The "concern over the corrosive influence of concentrated corporate wealth reflects the conviction that it is important to protect the integrity of the marketplace of ideas." MCFL, 479 U.S., at 257, 107 S. Ct., at 627. Corporate political activity may thus be regulated to serve the compelling state interest of protecting the integrity of the political process.

In MCFL the Supreme Court found that not-for-profit corporations structured to avoid corrupting the political process could be "more akin to voluntary political associations than business firms, and therefore should not have to bear burdens on independent spending solely because of their incorporated status." Id., at 263, 107 S. Ct., at 631. The MCFL Court described the three salient characteristics which demonstrated why the plaintiff corporation should be exempt from corporate expenditure limitations: (1) it was formed for the express purpose of promoting political ideas, (2) it did not have shareholders or other persons which had an economic interest in its assets and earnings, and (3) it was not established by a traditional business corporation or labor union and did not accept contributions from such entities. Id., at 264, 107 S. Ct., at 631. These factors are not dispositive in determining when corporations should be exempt from expenditure limitations, but are instructive in showing that statutes limiting corporate political spending must distinguish between those corporations which threaten the political process and those which do not.

In the case at bar section 163-269 and 163.278.19 prohibit all nonprofit corporations from making independent expenditures, regardless of whether the corporations demonstrate a real or perceived threat to the political process. The statutes make no attempt to distinguish between corporations which pose a threat to the integrity of the political process and those which do not. They merely prohibit all corporations, without regard for their purpose or threat of corruption, from making independent expenditures "for any political purpose whatsoever." This violates the Supreme Court's mandate to "be as vigilant against the modest diminution of speech as we are against its sweeping restriction. Where at all possible, government must curtail speech only to the degree necessary to meet the particular problem at hand, and must avoid infringing on speech that does not pose the danger that has prompted regulation." Id., at 265, 107 S. Ct., at 631.

Because sections 163-269 and 163-278.19 are drawn too broadly, and might result in burdening innocent entities with expenditure limitations properly designed for traditional for-profit corporate entities, they are facially overbroad and unconstitutional.

C. The prohibition on legislators or candidates soliciting contributions from lobbyists in section 163-278.13B

Section 163-278.13B(b) prohibits "limited contributees" from soliciting or accepting contributions from "limited contributors" while the North Carolina General Assembly is in session. Similarly, during a legislative session a "limited contributor" may not make or offer to make a contribution to a "limited contributee". § 163-278.13B(c). A "limited contributee" is defined as "a member of or candidate for the Council of State, a member or candidate for the General Assembly, or a political committee the purpose of which is to assist a member or members of or candidate or candidates for the Council of State or General Assembly." § 163-278.13B(a)(2). A "limited contributor" is defined as "a lobbyist, . . . that lobbyist's agent, or a political committee that employs or contracts with or whose parent entity employs or contracts with a lobbyist. . . ."

As noted above, the Buckley Court held that, while limitations on contributions clearly implicate fundamental First Amendment rights, they "entail[] only a marginal restriction upon the contributor's ability to engage in free communication." 424 U.S., at 20, 96 S. Ct., at 635. Because contribution limitations usually involve lesser impositions upon First Amendment freedoms than do expenditure limitations, the Supreme Court has held that they generally "require less compelling justification" to pass constitutional muster. MCFL, 479 U.S., at 259-260, 107 S. Ct., at 629.

Unlike the statutes considered in Buckley and MCFL, however, the restrictions at issue here are limitations on when a contribution can be made, regardless of the amount of the contribution. Because this temporal limitation is a complete ban on fundraising while the legislature is in session, it has "a severe impact on political dialogue" by "prevent[ing] candidates from amassing the resources necessary for effective advocacy." Buckley, 424 U.S., at 21, 96 S. Ct., at 636. This limitation on effective advocacy places such a high burden on the free speech and associational rights of the candidates that this Court will apply the "strict scrutiny" standard elucidated by the Supreme Court in Austin and MCFL. The State must therefore demonstrate that this limitation is narrowly tailored to advance a "compelling state interest."

The State argues that the statute aims to prevent corruption or the appearance of corruption. The Supreme Court has recognized that these may be "legitimate and compelling government interests" for restricting campaign finances. Austin, 494 U.S., at 658, 110 S. Ct., at 637; NCPAC, 470 U.S., at 496-497, 105 S. Ct., at 1468-1469. Assuming, without deciding, that the State's asserted aims are legitimate and compelling in this case, the statute is not narrowly tailored to advance these interests in the least intrusive way.

The prohibition in section 163-278.13B applies to all candidates for office, both incumbents and non-incumbents. A statute seeking to avoid corruption or the appearance of corruption in the State legislature does not advance those purposes by limiting the fundraising of non-incumbent candidates for office. Additionally, the statute fails to account for the fact that political corruption may occur at anytime, whether or not the legislature is in session. Finally, the ban during legislative sessions is complete; it does not discriminate between large contributions with the potential to corrupt and small contributions with no such corruptive potential.

The limitations contained in section 163-278.13B are not narrowly tailored to address the harms asserted by the State to justify the statute, and cannot survive strict scrutiny. Section 163-278.13B is therefore unconstitutional.

CONCLUSION

For the reasons stated above, the Court hereby GRANTS Plaintiffs' motion for summary judgment as to all claims, and DENIES Defendants' motion for summary judgment and Defendants' motion to certify and abstain. Defendants are hereby permanently enjoined from relying on, enforcing, or prosecuting violations of sections 163-278.6(14), 163-269, 163-278.19, and 163-278.13B against NCRL, Holt, NCRLPAC, and others similarly situated.

"§ 143B-522. Compensation to children in care.

Juveniles who have been committed to the Department may be compensated for work or participation in training programs at rates approved by the Secretary within available funds. "§ 143B-525. Regional detention services.

(1) The Department shall plan with the counties operating a county detention facility to provide regional juvenile detention services to surrounding counties, except that the Department shall have some discretion in defining the geographical boundaries of the regions based on negotiations with affected counties, distances, availability of juvenile detention care that meets State standards, and other appropriate variable factors.

(2) The Department shall plan for and administer five or more regional detention homes, including careful planning on location, architectural design, construction, and administration of a program to meet the needs of juveniles in juvenile detention care. Both the physical facility and the program of a regional detention home shall comply with State standards.

Any county placing a juvenile in a detention home in another county shall pay fifty percent (50%) of the total cost of caring for the child to the Department. The exact funding formulas may be varied by the Department to operate within existing State

1 appropriations or other funds that may be available to pay for juvenile detention
2 care.

14 juvenile detention care on a regional basis that meet State
15 standards;
- 16 (4) To develop a plan whereby law enforcement officers or other 17 appropriate employees of local government shall be reimbursed by 18 the State for the costs of transportation of a juvenile to and from 19 any juvenile detention facility;
- 20 (5) To seek funding for juvenile detention services from federal 21 sources, and to accept gifts of funds from public or private sources;
22 and
- 23 (6) To transfer State funds appropriated for institutions or other youth 24 services programs to develop a pilot program of juvenile detention 25 care, to purchase detention care in a county detention facility that 26 meets State standards, and to operate a detention facility.

THE FOLLOWING PART IS NEW:

"Part 4. Comprehensive Juvenile Delinquency and Substance Abuse Prevention Plan.
"§ 143B-540. Comprehensive Juvenile Delinquency and Substance Abuse Prevention Plan.

(a) The Department shall develop a comprehensive juvenile delinquency and substance abuse prevention plan that will provide nonduplicative, collaborative, cooperative, public/private, State/local juvenile delinquency and substance abuse prevention programs to youth and their families. These collaborative programs shall be interdisciplinary and multitiered, shall provide a continuum of services, and shall be cooperatively and collaboratively administered at and accessible to community and local levels. In administering the programs, communities and localities shall adhere to proven effective principles. The Department shall ensure that localities are informed about best practices in juvenile delinquency and substance abuse prevention.

1 (b) The Department shall ensure that any program provided through this plan
2 contains at least the following critical elements:

- 3 (1) An addressing of the highest priority problem areas and an
4 identification of the risk and protective factors to which youth in a
5 particular community are exposed;
- 6 (2) The strongest focus on populations exposed to a number of risk
7 factors;
- 8 (3) An addressing of problem areas and an identification of strengths
9 both early in life and at appropriate developmental stages;
- 10 (4) An addressing of multiple risk factors in different settings such as 11 family, school, community, and peer group;
- 12 (5) An offering of comprehensive interventions across many systems

- 16 (7) An operation that is strength-based rather than deficiency-based, 17 that builds on a youth's strengths rather than on deficiencies;
- 18 (8) A holistic approach to youth within the context of their 19 relationships to and with others rather than focusing solely on the 20 youth; and
- 21 (9) An incorporation of community participation and ethnic and 22 cultural diversity into the development and evaluation of services.

23 (c) The Department shall ensure that the plan contain at least the following

- 26 (1) Early intervention;
- 27 (2) In-home and community-based family counseling and parent
28 training;

36 other caring adult programs.

37 (d) Prior to the implementation of any plan and program development prescribed 38 in this section, the Department shall report to the General Assembly in detail on its 39 plan to implement this section, including detailed descriptions of the plan and 40 programs contemplated. The report shall also provide a detailed cost analysis of this 41 section's implementation.

42 (e) The Department shall cooperate with all other affected State agencies and 43 entities in implementing this section.

1 THE FOLLOWING PART REPLACES ARTICLE 24A OF CHAPTER 7A, 2 DELINQUENCY PREVENTION AND YOUTH SERVICES:

4 "Part 5. Juvenile Crime Prevention Councils.

5 "§ 143B-550. Juvenile Crime Prevention Councils; legislative intent.

6 (a) It is the intent of the General Assembly both to reduce the number of juveniles
7 committed by the courts for delinquency to institutions operated by the Department
8 of Juvenile Justice or other State agencies and to prevent juveniles who are at risk
9 from becoming delinquent. The primary intent of this Article is to provide an 10 ongoing, comprehensive State/local, public/private, cooperative, collaborative 11 partnership to develop both streamlined and enhanced community-based alternatives
12 to training school and detention commitment and unified, nonduplicative, 13 coordinated, and collaborative community-based prevention strategies and programs.
14 Additionally, it is the intent of the General Assembly to provide noninstitutional 15 dispositional alternatives that will protect the community and the juvenile.

16 (b) The Juvenile Crime Prevention Councils shall prioritize funding for 17 dispositions of court-adjudicated youth pursuant to minimum standards adopted by 18 the Department.

19 (c) The Department shall ensure that juvenile court services and delinquency
20 prevention programs are developed by a State/local, private/public, cooperative and 21 collaborative partnership that avoids overlapping and duplication and that optimizes
22 and evaluates all programs and services on an ongoing basis. The programs
23 developed under this partnership shall fulfill the following organizational and 24 objective requirements:

25 (1) These programs shall be planned and organized at the community
26 level, and developed in partnership with the State. These planning
27 efforts shall include appropriate representation from local 28 government, local public and private agencies serving families and 29 children, local business leaders, citizens with an interest in youth
30 problems, youth representatives, and others as may be appropriate
31 in a particular community. The planning bodies at the local level
32 shall be the Juvenile Crime Prevention Councils.

33 (2) At the State level, the Department shall:

34 a. Serve the community level as a clearinghouse for 35 information on delinquency prevention strategies and on
36 alternatives to commitment. The Department shall research,
37 collect, and distribute information to local agencies about
38 best practices, what works, what is promising, and what does
39 not work;

40 b. Provide technical assistance to Juvenile Crime Prevention
41 Councils;

42 c. Make recommendations to State and local governments on 43 changes to laws, rules, or policies that will reduce the

- 1 incidence of delinquency and the incidence of inappropriate
2 commitment;
- 3 d. Develop a comprehensive structure for follow-up and 4 delivery of program and treatment services to ensure
5 juvenile, adult, and system accountability;
- 6 e. Coordinate statewide media campaigns that accurately
7 inform people about the development of strategies to 8 prevent delinquency; and
- 9 f. Channel existing delinquency prevention funding streams to 10 the community level until a permanent funding stream for 11 delinquency prevention is established.
- 12 (3) At the local level, as a prerequisite for receiving funding for 13 juvenile court service and delinquency prevention programs, the 14 board of county commissioners of each county shall appoint a
15 Juvenile Crime Prevention Council. The Juvenile Crime
16 Prevention Council shall consist of not more than 25 members and 17 should include, if possible, the following:
- 18 a. The local school superintendent, or that person's designee;
19 b. A chief of police in the county;
20 c. The local sheriff, or that person's designee;
21 d. The district attorney, or that person's designee;
22 e. The chief court counselor, or that person's designee;
23 f. The Director of the Area Mental Health Authority, or that 24 person's designee;
- 25 g. The director of the local department of social services, or 26 that person's designee;
- 27 h. The county manager, or that person's designee;
- 28 i. A substance abuse professional;
- 29 j. A member of the faith community;
- 30 k. A county commissioner;
- 31 l. A youth representative;
- 32 m. A juvenile defense attorney;
- 33 n. A district court judge;
- 34 o. A member of the business community;
- 35 p. A public health professional;
- 36 q. A representative from the United Way or other nonprofit 37 agency; and
- 38 r. Up to six members of the public to be appointed by the 39 county board of commissioners.
- 40 The county shall modify the Council's membership as necessary to 41 ensure that current Council members reflect the racial and 42 socioeconomic diversity of the community and to minimize 43 potential conflicts of interest by members.

(4) The Council shall annually review the needs of troubled juveniles, both those at risk of delinquency and those adjudicated delinquent, within the county and the assets and resources that are available to address the needs of those juveniles. The Council shall use a public/private, nonduplicative, collaborative, coordinated, multifaceted, and multidisciplinary approach to this review, and to the utilization of any existing programs as well as to the development of any new programs and services. In particular, the Council shall review the existing resources that can be expanded to provide prevention programs and services. The Council shall include the faith-based community as a vital part of this approach. The Council shall develop and advertise a Request for Proposal process, and submit a written Plan of Action for the expenditure of juvenile sanction and prevention funds to the county for its approval. Upon the county's authorization, the Plan shall be submitted to the Department for final approval and subsequent implementation.

In addition to its annual review, the Council shall perform the following functions on an ongoing basis:

- a. Conduct an ongoing updated community needs assessment in order to identify resources and needs and develop appropriate solutions to meet these needs;
- b. Perform rigorous and ongoing performance evaluations of prevention and alternatives programs and services. The Council shall require each prevention initiative and each alternatives initiative to have a strong evaluation component and the Council shall make this accountability responsibility a condition of each initiative's continued funding;
- c. Increase public awareness of the causes of delinquency and of strategies to reduce the problem;
- d. Develop strategies to intervene and appropriately respond to and treat the needs of juveniles at risk of delinquency or of juveniles requiring alternatives to commitment as these needs are identified through appropriate risk assessment instruments;
- e. Provide services to juveniles who are in need of treatment, counseling, or rehabilitation and to the families of those juveniles, including court-ordered parenting responsibility classes; and
- f. Plan for the establishment of a permanent funding stream for delinquency prevention.

(5) To meet the programming needs of delinquent and at-risk youth in smaller, rural counties, Juvenile Crime Prevention Councils shall examine the benefits of joint program development between

1 counties within the same judicial district. If two or more counties
2 determine that a multicounty initiative would be beneficial, they
3 may establish a multicounty Juvenile Crime Prevention Council,
4 with the membership consisting of the members from each county
5 represented.

6 (6) The Secretary shall develop a funding mechanism for programs
7 that meet the standards as developed under the provisions of this 8 Part. The Secretary shall ensure that the guidelines for the 9 State/local partnership's funding process include the following 10 requirements:

11 a. Fund what works. -- Programs and projects that demonstrate 12 progress, that have been proven to be effective, or that show
13 promise, based on valid research should be supported. The 14 partnership shall fund projects based on a 'menu' of types of 15 services. In addition, new innovative projects shall be 16 rigorously evaluated to determine their effectiveness in
17 preventing delinquency and recidivism and their proximal
18 risk factors and may be funded on a discretionary basis.
19 The merits of a program shall be determined on the basis of 20 known or reasonably projected outcomes. Bad practices,
21 poor outcomes, and programs that have proven to be
22 ineffective shall not be funded;

23 b. The money should follow the juvenile. -- The funding
24 process shall be designed in such a way that, whenever a
25 juvenile is being served by a program, funds are allocated to 26 that program for that juvenile and will follow that juvenile.
27 For example, if a juvenile is receiving delinquency
28 prevention services and is subsequently adjudicated
29 delinquent and committed to training school, the county
30 shall continue to fund the services for the juvenile, if still 31 appropriate to reduce the recidivism risk, and shall send the 32 program dollars to the training school;

33 c. Use a formula for the distribution of funds. -- A funding
34 formula shall be developed that ensures that even the 35 smallest counties will be able to provide the basic 36 prevention and alternatives services to juveniles in their
37 communities;

38 d. Allow and encourage local flexibility. -- A vital component
39 of the State/local partnership established by this section is 40 local flexibility to determine how best to allocate prevention
41 and alternatives funds; and

42 e. Combine resources. -- Counties shall be allowed and 43 encouraged to combine resources and services.

The Secretary shall adopt rules to implement the policy and intent summarized in this section.

"§ 143B-551. Purchase of care or services from programs meeting State standards.

The Department of Juvenile Justice and any other appropriate State or local agency may purchase care or services from public or private agencies providing delinquency prevention programs or juvenile court services, including parenting responsibility classes. The programs shall meet the State standards as authorized by G.S. 143B-550. As institutional populations are reduced, the Department of Juvenile Justice may divert State funds appropriated for institutional programs to purchase the services pursuant to the provisions of the Executive Budget Act.

The Secretary of Juvenile Justice shall prepare an annual report on the effectiveness and cost-benefit of the Department's programs, which shall include the most current institutional populations of juveniles being served by the various departments of State government which shall include comparative costs of all child-serving agencies. Such report shall be submitted to the Governor, the General Assembly, and the various State departments providing services to juveniles.

19 "§ 115C-110. Services mandatory; single-agency responsibility; State and local plans;
20 census and registration.

21 (a) The Board shall cause to be provided by all local school administrative units
22 and by all other State and local governmental agencies providing special education
23 services or having children with special needs in their care, custody, management,
24 jurisdiction, control, or programs, special education and related services appropriate
25 to all children with special needs. In this regard, all local school administrative units 26 and all other State and local governmental agencies providing special education and 27 related services shall explore available local resources and determine whether the 28 services are currently being offered by an existing public or private agency.

29 When a specified special education or related service is being offered by a local 30 public or private resource, any unit or agency described above shall negotiate for the 31 purchase of that service or shall present full consideration of alternatives and its 32 recommendations to the Board. In this regard, a new or additional program for 33 special education or related services shall be developed with the approval of the 34 Board only when that service is not being provided by existing public or private 35 resources or the service cannot be purchased from existing providers. Further, the 36 Board shall support and encourage joint and collaborative special education planning 37 and programming at local levels to include local administrative units and the 38 programs and agencies of the Departments of Health and Human ~~Services~~ Services, 39 Juvenile Justice, and Correction.

40 The jurisdiction of the Board with respect to the design and content of special 41 education programs or related services for children with special needs extends to and 42 over the Department of Health and Human ~~Services~~ Services, the Department of 43 Juvenile Justice, and the Department of Correction.

1 All provisions of this Article that are specifically applicable to local school
2 administrative units also are applicable to the Department of Health and Human
3 ~~Services~~ Services, the Department of Juvenile Justice, and the Department of 4 Correction and their divisions and agencies; all duties, responsibilities, rights and 5 privileges specifically imposed on or granted to local school administrative units by 6 this Article also are imposed on or granted to the Department of Health and Human 7 ~~Services~~ Services, the Department of Juvenile Justice, and the Department of 8 Correction and their divisions and agencies. However, with respect to children with 9 special needs who are residents or patients of any state-operated or state-supported 10 residential treatment facility, including without limitation, a school for the deaf, 11 school for the blind, mental hospital or center, mental retardation center, or in a 12 facility operated by the Department of Juvenile Justice, the Department of Correction
13 or any of its divisions and agencies, the Board shall have the power to contract with 14 the Department of Health and Human ~~Services~~ Services, the Department of Juvenile 15 Justice, and the Department of Correction for the provision of special education and 16 related services and the power to review, revise and approve ~~said~~ these Departments'
17 plans for special education and related services to those residents.

22 education to be administered by it, by local educational agencies, and by the 23 Departments of Health and Human ~~Services~~ Services, Juvenile Justice, and 24 Correction. The Board may grant specific exemptions for programs administered by 25 the Department of Health and Human ~~Services~~ Services, the Department of Juvenile 26 Justice, or the Department of Correction when compliance by them with the Board's 27 standards would, in the Board's judgment, impose undue hardship on ~~such~~ this 28 Department and when other procedural due process requirements, substantially
29 equivalent to those of G.S. 115C-116, are assured in programs of special education
30 and related services furnished to children with special needs served by ~~such~~ this 31 Department. Further, the Board shall recognize that inpatient and residential special 32 education programs within the Departments of Health and Human ~~Services~~ Services, 33 Juvenile Justice, and Correction may require more program resources than those 34 necessary for optimal operation of ~~such~~ these programs in local school administrative 35 units.

36 Every State and local department, division, unit or agency covered by this section
37 is hereinafter referred to as a 'local educational agency' unless the text of this Article

- 13 levels and patterns of education financial support.

14 (c) The Board shall annually submit amendments to or revisions of the plan
15 required by subsection (b) to the Governor and General Assembly and make it
16 available for public comment pursuant to subdivision (1) and for public distribution

18 forth in detail the progress made in the implementation of the plan.

19 (d) The Board shall adopt rules ~~or regulations~~ covering:

Unless thereafter modified with approval of the Board, the plan shall be adhered to by the local educational agency. The procedure for approving, disapproving, establishing, and enforcing the plan shall be the same as that set forth for the annual plan. No matriculation or tuition fees or other fees or charges shall be required or asked of children with special needs or their parents or guardians except ~~such~~ those fees or charges as are required uniformly of all public school pupils. Suspected children are those in the formal process of being identified, evaluated or diagnosed as children with special needs. 7 custody, management, jurisdiction, control, or programs, the number of children with 8 special needs being served by each department or agency, and such other information
9 or data as the Board shall require. The census shall be of children with special needs
10 between the ages of three and 21, inclusive.

11 (k) The Department shall monitor the effectiveness of individualized education
12 programs in meeting the educational needs of all children with special needs other 13 than pregnant children, and of educational programs in meeting the educational 14 needs of the pregnant children.

15 (l) The Board shall provide for procedures assuring that in carrying out the 16 requirements of this Article procedures are established for consultation with 17 individuals involved in or concerned with the education of children with special 18 needs, including parents or guardians of such children, and there are public hearings, 19 adequate notice of such hearings, and an opportunity for comment available to the 20 general public prior to the adoption of the policies, procedures, and rules or

35 "§ 7B-100. Purpose.

36 This Subchapter shall be interpreted and construed so as to implement the 37 following purposes and policies:

 39 fairness and equity and that protect the constitutional rights of 40 juveniles and parents;
 41 (2) To develop a disposition in each juvenile case that reflects
 42 consideration of the facts, the needs and limitations of the juvenile, 43 the strengths and weaknesses of the family, and the protection of 44 the public safety;

(3) To provide for services for the protection of juveniles by means that respect both the right to family autonomy and juveniles' needs for safety, continuity, and permanence; and

(4) To provide standards for the removal, when necessary, of juveniles from their homes and for the return of juveniles to their homes consistent with preventing the unnecessary or inappropriate separation of juveniles from their parents.

17                   approval of the care provider to assume responsibility for the 18                   juveniles under the care of the care provider. Nothing in this

"ARTICLE 2.

"Jurisdiction.

"§ 7B-200. Jurisdiction.

(a) The court has exclusive, original jurisdiction over any case involving a juvenile who is alleged to be abused, neglected, or dependent. This jurisdiction does not extend to cases involving adult defendants alleged to be guilty of abuse or neglect.

The court also has exclusive original jurisdiction of the following proceedings:

- (1) Proceedings under the Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children set forth in Article 38 of this Chapter;
- (2) Proceedings involving judicial consent for emergency surgical or medical treatment for a juvenile when the juvenile's parent, guardian, custodian, or other person standing in loco parentis refuses to consent for treatment to be rendered;
- (3) Proceedings to determine whether a juvenile should be emancipated;
- (4) Proceedings to terminate parental rights;
- (5) Proceedings to review the placement of a juvenile in foster care pursuant to an agreement between the juvenile's parents or guardian and a county department of social services;
- (6) Proceedings in which a person is alleged to have obstructed or interfered with an investigation required by G.S. 7B-302; and
- (7) Proceedings involving consent for an abortion on an unemancipated minor pursuant to Article 1A, Part 2 of Chapter 90 of the General Statutes.

(b) The court shall have jurisdiction over the parent of a juvenile who has been adjudicated abused, neglected, or dependent, as provided by G.S. 7B-904, provided the parent has been properly served with summons pursuant to G.S. 7B-406.

"§ 7B-201. Retention of jurisdiction.

When the court obtains jurisdiction over a juvenile, jurisdiction shall continue until terminated by order of the court, until the juvenile reaches the age of 18 years, or is otherwise emancipated.

"ARTICLE 3.

"Screening of Abuse and Neglect Complaints.

"§ 7B-300. Protective services.

The director of the department of social services in each county of the State shall establish protective services for juveniles alleged to be abused, neglected, or dependent.

Protective services shall include the investigation and screening of complaints, casework, or other counseling services to parents or other caretakers as provided by the director to help the parents or other caretakers and the court to prevent abuse or neglect, to improve the quality of child care, to be more adequate parents or caretakers, and to preserve and stabilize family life.

The provisions of this Article shall also apply to child care facilities as defined in G.S. 110-86.

"§ 7B-301. Duty to report abuse, neglect, dependency, or death due to maltreatment.

Any person or institution who has cause to suspect that any juvenile is abused, neglected, or dependent, as defined by G.S. 7B-101, or has died as the result of maltreatment, shall report the case of that juvenile to the director of the department of social services in the county where the juvenile resides or is found. The report may be made orally, by telephone, or in writing. The report shall include information as is known to the person making it including the name and address of

1 the juvenile; the name and address of the juvenile's parent, guardian, or caretaker;
2 the age of the juvenile; the names and ages of other juveniles in the home; the
3 present whereabouts of the juvenile if not at the home address; the nature and extent
4 of any injury or condition resulting from abuse, neglect, or dependency; and any 5 other information which the person making the report believes might be helpful in 6 establishing the need for protective services or court intervention. If the report is 7 made orally or by telephone, the person making the report shall give the person's 8 name, address, and telephone number. Refusal of the person making the report to 9 give a name shall not preclude the department's investigation of the alleged abuse,
10 neglect, dependency, or death as a result of maltreatment.

11 Upon receipt of any report of sexual abuse of the juvenile in a child care facility,
12 the director shall notify the State Bureau of Investigation within 24 hours or on the 13 next workday. If sexual abuse in a child care facility is not alleged in the initial 14 report, but during the course of the investigation there is reason to suspect that sexual 15 abuse has occurred, the director shall immediately notify the State Bureau of 16 Investigation. Upon notification that sexual abuse may have occurred in a child care 17 facility, the State Bureau of Investigation may form a task force to investigate the 18 report.

19 "§ 7B-302. Investigation by director; access to confidential information; notification of 20 person making the report.

21 When a report of abuse, neglect, or dependency is received, the director of the 22 department of social services shall make a prompt and thorough investigation in 23 order to ascertain the facts of the case, the extent of the abuse or neglect, and the risk
24 of harm to the juvenile, in order to determine whether protective services should be 25 provided or the complaint filed as a petition. When the report alleges abuse, the 26 director shall immediately, but no later than 24 hours after receipt of the report,
27 initiate the investigation. When the report alleges neglect or dependency, the director
28 shall initiate the investigation within 72 hours following receipt of the report. The 29 investigation and evaluation shall include a visit to the place where the juvenile 30 resides. All information received by the department of social services, including the 31 identity of the reporter, shall be held in strictest confidence by the department.

32 When a report of suspected abuse, neglect, or dependency of a juvenile is received,
33 the director of the department of social services shall immediately ascertain if other 34 juveniles remain in the home, and, if so, initiate an investigation in order to 35 determine whether they require protective services or whether immediate removal of 36 the juveniles from the home is necessary for their protection.

37 If the investigation indicates that abuse, neglect, or dependency has occurred, the 38 director shall decide whether immediate removal of the juvenile or any other
39 juveniles in the home is necessary for their protection. If immediate removal does not
40 seem necessary, the director shall immediately provide or arrange for protective
41 services. If the parent or other caretaker refuses to accept the protective services
42 provided or arranged by the director, the director shall sign a complaint seeking to 43 invoke the jurisdiction of the court for the protection of the juvenile or juveniles.

1 If immediate removal seems necessary for the protection of the juvenile or other
2 juveniles in the home, the director shall sign a complaint which alleges the applicable
3 facts to invoke the jurisdiction of the court. Where the investigation shows that it is
4 warranted, a protective services worker may assume temporary custody of the 5 juvenile for the juvenile's protection pursuant to Article 5 of this Chapter.

6 In performing any duties related to the investigation of the complaint or the 7 provision or arrangement for protective services, the director may consult with any
8 public or private agencies or individuals, including the available State or local law
9 enforcement officers who shall assist in the investigation and evaluation of the 10 seriousness of any report of abuse, neglect, or dependency when requested by the 11 director. The director or the director's representative may make a written demand for 12 any information or reports, whether or not confidential, that may in the director's
13 opinion be relevant to the investigation of or the provision for protective services.
14 Upon the director's or the director's representative's request and unless protected by 15 the attorney-client privilege, any public or private agency or individual shall provide
16 access to and copies of this confidential information and these records to the extent
17 permitted by federal law and regulations. If a custodian of criminal investigative 18 information or records believes that release of the information will jeopardize the 19 right of the State to prosecute a defendant or the right of a defendant to receive a fair
20 trial or will undermine an ongoing or future investigation, it may seek an order from 21 a court of competent jurisdiction to prevent disclosure of the information. In such an 22 action, the custodian of the records shall have the burden of showing by a 23 preponderance of the evidence that disclosure of the information in question will
24 jeopardize the right of the State to prosecute a defendant or the right of a defendant
25 to receive a fair trial or will undermine an ongoing or future investigation. Actions
26 brought pursuant to this paragraph shall be set down for immediate hearing, and 27 subsequent proceedings in the actions shall be accorded priority by the trial and 28 appellate courts.

29 Within five working days after receipt of the report of abuse, neglect, or 30 dependency, the director shall give written notice to the person making the report,
31 unless requested by that person not to give notice, as to whether the report was 32 accepted for investigation and whether the report was referred to the appropriate
33 State or local law enforcement agency.

34 Within five working days after completion of the protective services investigation,
35 the director shall give subsequent written notice to the person making the report,
36 unless requested by that person not to give notice, as to whether there is a finding of 37 abuse, neglect, or dependency, whether the county department of social services is 38 taking action to protect the juvenile, and what action it is taking, including whether 39 or not a petition was filed. The person making the report shall be informed of 40 procedures necessary to request a review by the prosecutor of the director's decision
41 not to file a petition. A request for review by the prosecutor shall be made within five 42 working days of receipt of the second notification. The second notification shall 43 include notice that, if the person making the report is not satisfied with the director's
44 decision, the person may request review of the decision by the prosecutor within five

1 working days of receipt. The person making the report may waive the person's right
2 to this notification, and no notification is required if the person making the report
3 does not identify himself to the director.

4 "§ 7B-303. Interference with investigation.

5 (a) If any person obstructs or interferes with an investigation required by G.S. 7B-
6 302, the director may file a petition naming said person as respondent and requesting
7 an order directing the respondent to cease such obstruction or interference. The 8 petition shall contain the name and date of birth and address of the juvenile who is 9 the subject of the investigation, shall specifically describe the conduct alleged to 10 constitute obstruction of or interference with the investigation, and shall be verified.

11 (b) For purposes of this section, obstruction of or interference with an 12 investigation means refusing to disclose the whereabouts of the juvenile, refusing to 13 allow the director to have personal access to the juvenile, refusing to allow the 14 director to observe or interview the juvenile in private, refusing to allow the director
15 access to confidential information and records upon request pursuant to G.S. 7B-302,
16 refusing to allow the director to arrange for an evaluation of the juvenile by a
17 physician or other expert, or other conduct that makes it impossible for the director
18 to carry out the duty to investigate.

19 (c) Upon filing of the petition, the court shall schedule a hearing to be held not
20 less than five days after service of the petition and summons on the respondent.
21 Service of the petition and summons and notice of hearing shall be made as provided
22 by the Rules of Civil Procedure on the respondent; the juvenile's parent, guardian,
23 custodian, or caretaker; and any other person determined by the court to be a 24 necessary party. If at the hearing on the petition the court finds by clear, cogent, and 25 convincing evidence that the respondent, without lawful excuse, has obstructed or 26 interfered with an investigation required by G.S. 7B-302, the court may order the 27 respondent to cease such obstruction or interference. The burden of proof shall be 28 on the petitioner.

29 (d) If the director has reason to believe that the juvenile is in need of immediate 30 protection or assistance, the director shall so allege in the petition and may seek an
31 ex parte order from the court. If the court, from the verified petition and any inquiry
32 the court makes of the director, finds probable cause to believe both that the juvenile 33 is at risk of immediate harm and that the respondent is obstructing or interfering with
34 the director's ability to investigate to determine the juvenile's condition, the court
35 may enter an ex parte order directing the respondent to cease such obstruction or 36 interference. The order shall be limited to provisions necessary to enable the director 37 to conduct an investigation sufficient to determine whether the juvenile is in need of 38 immediate protection or assistance. Within 10 days after the entry of an ex parte
39 order under this subsection, a hearing shall be held to determine whether there is 40 good cause for the continuation of the order or the entry of a different order. An 41 order entered under this subsection shall be served on the respondent along with a
42 copy of the petition, summons, and notice of hearing.

1 (e) The director may be required at a hearing under this section to reveal the
2 identity of any person who made a report of suspected abuse, neglect, or dependency
3 as required by G.S. 7B-301.

4 (f) An order entered pursuant to this section is enforceable by civil or criminal
5 contempt as provided in Chapter 5A of the General Statutes.

6 "§ 7B-304. Evaluation for court.

7 In all cases in which a petition is filed, the director of the department of social
8 services shall prepare a report for the court containing a home placement plan and a
9 treatment plan deemed by the director to be appropriate to the needs of the juvenile.
10 The report shall be available to the court immediately following the adjudicatory
11 hearing.

12 "§ 7B-305. Request for review by prosecutor.

13 The person making the report shall have five working days, from receipt of the 14 decision of the director of the department of social services not to petition the court,
15 to notify the prosecutor that the person is requesting a review. The prosecutor shall 16 notify the person making the report and the director of the time and place for the 17 review, and the director shall immediately transmit to the prosecutor a copy of the 18 investigation report.

19 "§ 7B-306. Review by prosecutor.

20 The prosecutor shall review the director's determination that a petition should not
21 be filed within 20 days after the person making the report is notified. The review
22 shall include conferences with the person making the report, the protective services
23 worker, the juvenile, if practicable, and other persons known to have pertinent
24 information about the juvenile or the juvenile's family. At the conclusion of the 25 conferences, the prosecutor may affirm the decision made by the director, may 26 request the appropriate local law enforcement agency to investigate the allegations, or
27 may direct the director to file a petition.

28 "§ 7B-307. Duty of director to report evidence of abuse, neglect; investigation by local
29 law enforcement; notification of Department of Health and Human Services and State
30 Bureau of Investigation.

31 (a) If the director finds evidence that a juvenile may have been abused as defined
32 by G.S. 7B-101, the director shall make an immediate oral and subsequent written 33 report of the findings to the district attorney or the district attorney's designee and 34 the appropriate local law enforcement agency within 48 hours after receipt of the 35 report. The local law enforcement agency shall immediately, but no later than 48
36 hours after receipt of the information, initiate and coordinate a criminal investigation
37 with the protective services investigation being conducted by the county department
38 of social services. Upon completion of the investigation, the district attorney shall 39 determine whether criminal prosecution is appropriate and may request the director
40 or the director's designee to appear before a magistrate.

41 If the director receives information that a juvenile may have been physically
42 harmed in violation of any criminal statute by any person other than the juvenile's
43 parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker, the director shall make an immediate oral 44 and subsequent written report of that information to the district attorney or the

1 district attorney's designee and to the appropriate local law enforcement agency
2 within 48 hours after receipt of the information. The local law enforcement agency
3 shall immediately, but no later than 48 hours after receipt of the information, initiate
4 a criminal investigation. Upon completion of the investigation, the district attorney
5 shall determine whether criminal prosecution is appropriate.

6 If the report received pursuant to G.S. 7B-301 involves abuse or neglect of a
7 juvenile in child care, the director shall notify the Department of Health and Human
8 Services within 24 hours or on the next working day of receipt of the report.

9 (b) If the director finds evidence that a juvenile has been abused or neglected as 10 defined by G.S. 7B-101 in a child care facility, the director shall immediately so
11 notify the Department of Health and Human Services and, in the case of sexual 12 abuse, the State Bureau of Investigation, in such a way as does not violate the law
13 guaranteeing the confidentiality of the records of the department of social services.

14 (c) Upon completion of the investigation, the director shall give the department
15 written notification of the results of the investigation required by G.S. 7B-302. Upon
16 completion of an investigation of sexual abuse in a child care facility, the director
17 shall also make written notification of the results of the investigation to the State
18 Bureau of Investigation.

19 The director of the department of social services shall submit a report of alleged 20 abuse, neglect, or dependency cases or child fatalities that are the result of alleged 21 maltreatment to the central registry under the policies adopted by the Social Services
22 Commission.

23 "§ 7B-308. Authority of medical professionals in abuse cases.

24 (a) Any physician or administrator of a hospital, clinic, or other medical facility to 25 which a suspected abused juvenile is brought for medical diagnosis or treatment shall 26 have the right, when authorized by the chief district court judge of the district or the 27 judge's designee, to retain physical custody of the juvenile in the facility when the 28 physician who examines the juvenile certifies in writing that the juvenile who is 29 suspected of being abused should remain for medical treatment or that, according to 30 the juvenile's medical evaluation, it is unsafe for the juvenile to return to the 31 juvenile's parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker. This written certification must be 32 signed by the certifying physician and must include the time and date that the judicial 33 authority to retain custody is given. Copies of the written certification must be 34 appended to the juvenile's medical and judicial records and another copy must be 35 given to the juvenile's parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker. The right to retain 36 custody in the facility shall exist for up to 12 hours from the time and date contained 37 in the written certification.

38 (b) Immediately upon receipt of judicial authority to retain custody, the physician, 39 the administrator, or that person's designee shall so notify the director of social 40 services for the county in which the facility is located. The director shall treat this 41 notification as a report of suspected abuse and shall immediately begin an 42 investigation of the case.

43 (1) If the investigation reveals (i) that it is the opinion of the certifying
44 physician that the juvenile is in need of medical treatment to cure

or alleviate physical distress, or to prevent the juvenile from suffering serious physical injury, and (ii) that it is the opinion of the physician that the juvenile should for these reasons remain in the custody of the facility for 12 hours, but (iii) that the juvenile's parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker cannot be reached or, upon request, will not consent to the treatment within the facility, the director shall within the initial 12-hour period file a juvenile petition alleging abuse and setting forth supporting allegations and shall seek a nonsecure custody order. A petition filed and a nonsecure custody order obtained in accordance with this subdivision shall come on for hearing under the regular provisions of this Subchapter unless the director and the certifying physician together voluntarily dismiss the petition.

(2) In all cases except those described in subdivision (1) above, the director shall conduct the investigation and may initiate juvenile proceedings and take all other steps authorized by the regular provisions of this Subchapter. If the director decides not to file a petition, the physician, the administrator, or that person's designee may ask the prosecutor to review this decision according to the provisions of G.S. 7B-305 and G.S. 7B-306.

(c) If, upon hearing, the court determines that the juvenile is found in a county other than the county of legal residence, in accord with G.S. 153A-257, the juvenile may be transferred, in accord with G.S. 7B-903(2), to the custody of the department of social services in the county of residence.

(d) If the court, upon inquiry, determines that the medical treatment rendered was necessary and appropriate, the cost of that treatment may be charged to the parents, guardian, custodian, or caretaker, or, if the parents are unable to pay, to the county of residence in accordance with G.S. 7B-903 and G.S. 7B-904.

(e) Except as otherwise provided, a petition begun under this section shall proceed in like manner with petitions begun under G.S. 7B-302.

(f) The procedures in this section are in addition to, and not in derogation of, the abuse and neglect reporting provisions of G.S. 7B-301 and the temporary custody provisions of G.S. 7B-500. Nothing in this section shall preclude a physician or administrator and a director of social services from following the procedures of G.S. 7B-301 and G.S. 7B-500 whenever these procedures are more appropriate to the juvenile's circumstances.

"§ 7B-309. Immunity of persons reporting and cooperating in an investigation.

Anyone who makes a report pursuant to this Article, cooperates with the county department of social services in a protective services inquiry or investigation, testifies in any judicial proceeding resulting from a protective services report or investigation, or otherwise participates in the program authorized by this Article, is immune from any civil or criminal liability that might otherwise be incurred or imposed for that action provided that the person was acting in good faith. In any proceeding involving liability, good faith is presumed.

1 "§ 7B-310. Privileges not grounds for failing to report or for excluding evidence.

2 No privilege shall be grounds for any person or institution failing to report that a
3 juvenile may have been abused, neglected, or dependent, even if the knowledge or 4 suspicion is acquired in an official professional capacity, except when the knowledge
5 or suspicion is gained by an attorney from that attorney's client during representation
6 only in the abuse, neglect, or dependency case. No privilege, except the attorney-
7 client privilege, shall be grounds for excluding evidence of abuse, neglect, or 8 dependency in any judicial proceeding (civil, criminal, or juvenile) in which a
9 juvenile's abuse, neglect, or dependency is in issue nor in any judicial proceeding
10 resulting from a report submitted under this Article, both as this privilege relates to 11 the competency of the witness and to the exclusion of confidential communications.

12 "§ 7B-311. Central registry.

13 The Department of Health and Human Services shall maintain a central registry of 14 abuse, neglect, and dependency cases and child fatalities that are the result of alleged 15 maltreatment that are reported under this Article in order to compile data for 16 appropriate study of the extent of abuse and neglect within the State and to identify 17 repeated abuses of the same juvenile or of other juveniles in the same family. This 18 data shall be furnished by county directors of social services to the Department of 19 Health and Human Services and shall be confidential, subject to policies adopted by 20 the Social Services Commission providing for its use for study and research and for 21 other appropriate disclosure. Data shall not be used at any hearing or court
22 proceeding unless based upon a final judgment of a court of law.

23 "ARTICLE 4.

24 "Venue; Petitions.

25 "§ 7B-400. Venue; pleading.

26 A proceeding in which a juvenile is alleged to be abused, neglected, or dependent
27 may be commenced in the district in which the juvenile resides or is present. When a 28 proceeding is commenced in a district other than that of the juvenile's residence, the 29 court, on its own motion or upon motion of any party, may transfer the proceeding to 30 the court in the district where the juvenile resides. A transfer under this subsection 31 may be made at any time.

32 "§ 7B-401. Pleading and process.

33 The pleading in an abuse, neglect, or dependency action is the petition. The 34 process in an abuse, neglect, or dependency action is the summons.

35 "§ 7B-402. Petition.

36 (a) The petition shall contain the name, date of birth, address of the juvenile, the 37 name and last known address of the juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian and 38 shall allege the facts which invoke jurisdiction over the juvenile. The petition may 39 contain information on more than one juvenile when the juveniles are from the same 40 home and are before the court for the same reason.

41 Sufficient copies of the petition shall be prepared so that copies will be available
42 for each juvenile, each parent if living separate and apart, the guardian ad litem, the 43 social worker, and any person determined by the court to be a necessary party.

44 "§ 7B-403. Receipt of reports; filing of petition.

1 (a) All reports concerning a juvenile alleged to be abused, neglected, or 2 dependent shall be referred to the director of the department of social services for 3 screening. Thereafter, if it is determined by the director that a report should be filed
4 as a petition, the petition shall be drawn by the director, verified before an official
5 authorized to administer oaths, and filed by the clerk, recording the date of filing.

6 (b) A decision of the director of social services not to file a report as a petition
7 shall be reviewed by the prosecutor if review is requested pursuant to G.S. 7B-305.

8 "§ 7B-404. Immediate need for petition when clerk's office is closed.

9 (a) When the office of the clerk is closed, a magistrate may be authorized by the 10 chief district court judge to draw, verify, and issue petitions as follows:

11 (1) When the director of the department of social services requests a 12 petition alleging a juvenile to be abused, neglected, or dependent,

13 or

14 (2) When the director of the department of social services requests a 15 petition alleging the obstruction of or interference with an 16 investigation required by G.S. 7B-302.

17 (b) The authority of the magistrate under this section is limited to emergency 18 situations when a petition is required in order to obtain a nonsecure custody order or 19 an order under G.S. 7B-303. Any petition issued under this section shall be delivered 20 to the clerk's office for processing as soon as that office is open for business.

21 "§ 7B-405. Commencement of action.

22 An action is commenced by the filing of a petition in the clerk's office when that 23 office is open, or by the issuance of a juvenile petition by a magistrate when the 24 clerk's office is closed, which issuance shall constitute filing.

25 "§ 7B-406. Issuance of summons.

26 (a) Immediately after a petition has been filed alleging that a juvenile is abused,
27 neglected, or dependent, the clerk shall issue a summons to the parent, guardian,
28 custodian, or caretaker requiring them to appear for a hearing at the time and place
29 stated in the summons. A copy of the petition shall be attached to each summons.

30 (b) A summons shall be on a printed form supplied by the Administrative Office
31 of the Courts and shall include:

32 (1) Notice of the nature of the proceeding;

33 (2) Notice of any right to counsel and information about how to seek 34 the appointment of counsel prior to a hearing;

35 (3) Notice that, if the court determines at the hearing that the 36 allegations of the petition are true, the court will conduct a
37 dispositional hearing to consider the needs of the juvenile and 38 enter an order designed to meet those needs and the objectives of 39 the State; and

40 (4) Notice that the dispositional order or a subsequent order:

41 a. May remove the juvenile from the custody of the parent,
42 guardian, or custodian.

b. May require that the juvenile receive medical, psychiatric, psychological, or other treatment and that the parent participate in the treatment.

c. May require the parent to undergo psychiatric, psychological, or other treatment or counseling for the purpose of remedying the behaviors or conditions that are alleged in the petition or that contributed to the removal of the juvenile from the custody of the parent.

d. May order the parent to pay for treatment that is ordered for the juvenile or the parent.

(c) The summons shall advise the parent that upon service, jurisdiction over the parent is obtained and that failure to comply with any order of the court pursuant to G.S. 7B-904 may cause the court to issue a show cause order for contempt.

(d) A summons shall be directed to the person summoned to appear and shall be delivered to any person authorized to serve process.

"§ 7B-407. Service of summons.

The summons shall be personally served upon the parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker, and the juvenile or counsel or guardian ad litem, not less than five days prior to the date of the scheduled hearing. The time for service may be waived in the discretion of the court.

If the parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker entitled to receive a summons cannot be found by a diligent effort, the court may authorize service of the summons and petition by mail or by publication. The cost of the service by publication shall be advanced by the petitioner and may be charged as court costs as the court may direct.

If the parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker is personally served as herein provided and fails without reasonable cause to appear and to bring the juvenile before the court, the parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker may be proceeded against as for contempt of court.

"ARTICLE 5.

"Temporary Custody; Nonsecure Custody; Custody Hearings.

"§ 7B-500. Taking a juvenile into temporary custody.

Temporary custody means the taking of physical custody and providing personal care and supervision until a court order for nonsecure custody can be obtained. A juvenile may be taken into temporary custody without a court order by a law enforcement officer or a department of social services worker if there are reasonable grounds to believe that the juvenile is abused, neglected, or dependent and that the juvenile would be injured or could not be taken into custody if it were first necessary to obtain a court order. If a department of social services worker takes a juvenile into temporary custody under this section, the worker may arrange for the placement, care, supervision, and transportation of the juvenile.

"§ 7B-501. Duties of person taking juvenile into temporary custody.

(a) A person who takes a juvenile into custody without a court order under G.S. 7B-500 shall proceed as follows:

- (1) Notify the juvenile's parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker that the juvenile has been taken into temporary custody and advise the parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker of the right to be present with the juvenile until a determination is made as to the need for nonsecure custody. Failure to notify the parent that the juvenile is in custody shall not be grounds for release of the juvenile.
- (2) Release the juvenile to the juvenile's parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker if the person having the juvenile in temporary custody decides that continued custody is unnecessary.
- (3) The person having temporary custody shall communicate with the director of the department of social services who shall consider prehearing diversion. If the decision is made to file a petition, the director shall contact the judge or person delegated authority pursuant to G.S. 7B-502 for a determination of the need for continued custody.

(b) A juvenile taken into temporary custody under this Article shall not be held for more than 12 hours, or for more than 24 hours if any of the 12 hours falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, unless:

- (1) A petition or motion for review has been filed by the director of the department of social services, and
- (2) An order for nonsecure custody has been entered by the court.

"§ 7B-502. Authority to issue custody orders; delegation.

In the case of any juvenile alleged to be within the jurisdiction of the court, the court may order that the juvenile be placed in nonsecure custody pursuant to criteria set out in G.S. 7B-503 when custody of the juvenile is necessary.

Any district court judge shall have the authority to issue nonsecure custody orders pursuant to G.S. 7B-503. The chief district court judge may delegate the court's authority to persons other than district court judges by administrative order which shall be filed in the office of the clerk of superior court. The administrative order shall specify which persons shall be contacted for approval of a nonsecure custody order pursuant to G.S. 7B-503.

"§ 7B-503. Criteria for nonsecure custody.

When a request is made for nonsecure custody, the court shall first consider release of the juvenile to the juvenile's parent, relative, guardian, custodian, or other responsible adult. An order for nonsecure custody shall be made only when there is a reasonable factual basis to believe the matters alleged in the petition are true, and

- (1) The juvenile has been abandoned; or
- (2) The juvenile has suffered physical injury or sexual abuse; or
- (3) The juvenile is exposed to a substantial risk of physical injury or sexual abuse because the parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker has created the conditions likely to cause injury or abuse or has failed to provide, or is unable to provide, adequate supervision or protection; or

- 1           (4)   The juvenile is in need of medical treatment to cure, alleviate, or
2           prevent suffering serious physical harm which may result in death,
3           disfigurement, or substantial impairment of bodily functions, and
4           the juvenile's parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker is unwilling
5           or unable to provide or consent to the medical treatment; or 6           (5)   The parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker consents to the 7           nonsecure custody order; or
8           (6)   The juvenile is a runaway and consents to nonsecure custody.

9 A juvenile alleged to be abused, neglected, or dependent shall be placed in nonsecure
10 custody only when there is a reasonable factual basis to believe that there is no other 11 reasonable means available to protect the juvenile. In no case shall a juvenile alleged 12 to be abused, neglected, or dependent be placed in secure custody.

13 "§ 7B-504. Order for nonsecure custody.

14 The custody order shall be in writing and shall direct a law enforcement officer or 15 other authorized person to assume custody of the juvenile and to make due return on 16 the order. A copy of the order shall be given to the juvenile's parent, guardian,
17 custodian, or caretaker by the official executing the order.

18 An officer receiving an order for custody which is complete and regular on its face
19 may execute it in accordance with its terms. The officer is not required to inquire 20 into the regularity or continued validity of the order and shall not incur criminal or 21 civil liability for its due service.

22 "§ 7B-505. Place of nonsecure custody.

23 A juvenile meeting the criteria set out in G.S. 7B-503 may be placed in nonsecure 24 custody with the department of social services or a person designated in the order for 25 temporary residential placement in:

- 26           (1)   A licensed foster home or a home otherwise authorized by law to 27           provide such care; or
28           (2)   A facility operated by the department of social services; or 29           (3)   Any other home or facility approved by the court and designated 30           in the order.

31 In placing a juvenile in nonsecure custody under this section, the court shall first
32 consider whether a relative of the juvenile is willing and able to provide proper care
33 and supervision of the juvenile in a safe home. If the court finds that the relative is 34 willing and able to provide proper care and supervision in a safe home, then the
35 court shall order placement of the juvenile with the relative. Prior to placement of a
36 juvenile with a relative outside of this State, the placement must be in accordance 37 with the Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children, Article 38 of this Chapter.

38 "§ 7B-506. Hearing to determine need for continued nonsecure custody.

39 (a) No juvenile shall be held under a nonsecure custody order for more than 40 seven calendar days without a hearing on the merits or a hearing to determine the 41 need for continued custody. A hearing on nonsecure custody conducted under this 42 subsection may be continued for up to 10 business days with the consent of the
43 juvenile's parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker and, if appointed, the juvenile's
44 guardian ad litem. In addition, the court may require the consent of additional parties

1 or may schedule the hearing on custody despite a party's consent to a continuance. In
2 every case in which an order has been entered by an official exercising authority,
3 delegated pursuant to G.S. 7B-502, a hearing to determine the need for continued
4 custody shall be conducted on the day of the next regularly scheduled session of
5 district court in the city or county where the order was entered if such session
6 precedes the expiration of the applicable time period set forth in this subsection:
7 Provided, that if such session does not precede the expiration of the time period, the 8 hearing may be conducted at another regularly scheduled session of district court in 9 the district where the order was entered.

10 (b) At a hearing to determine the need for continued custody, the court shall 11 receive testimony and shall allow the guardian ad litem, or juvenile, and the 12 juvenile's parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker an opportunity to introduce 13 evidence, to be heard in the person's own behalf, and to examine witnesses. The 14 State shall bear the burden at every stage of the proceedings to provide clear and 15 convincing evidence that the juvenile's placement in custody is necessary. The court
16 shall not be bound by the usual rules of evidence at such hearings.

17 (c) The court shall be bound by criteria set forth in G.S. 7B-503 in determining 18 whether continued custody is warranted.

19 (d) If the court determines that the juvenile meets the criteria in G.S. 7B-503 and 20 should continue in custody, the court shall issue an order to that effect. The order
21 shall be in writing with appropriate findings of fact. The findings of fact shall include
22 the evidence relied upon in reaching the decision and the purposes which continued
23 custody is to achieve.

24 (e) If the court orders at the hearing required in subsection (a) of this section that 25 the juvenile remain in custody, a subsequent hearing on continued custody shall be 26 held within seven business days of that hearing, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and 27 legal holidays, and pending a hearing on the merits, hearings thereafter shall be held
28 at intervals of no more than 30 calendar days.

29 (f) Hearings conducted under subsection (e) of this section may be waived only 30 with the consent of the juvenile's parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker, and, if 31 appointed, the juvenile's guardian ad litem.

32 The court may require the consent of additional parties or schedule a hearing
33 despite a party's consent to waiver.

34 (g) Any order authorizing the continued custody of a juvenile shall include 35 findings as to whether reasonable efforts have been made to prevent or eliminate the 36 need for placement of the juvenile in custody and may provide for services or other
37 efforts aimed at returning the juvenile promptly to a safe home. A finding that 38 reasonable efforts have not been made shall not preclude the entry of an order
39 authorizing continued custody when the court finds that continued custody is 40 necessary for the protection of the juvenile. Where efforts to prevent the need for the 41 juvenile's placement were precluded by an immediate threat of harm to the juvenile,
42 the court may find that the placement of the juvenile in the absence of such efforts
43 was reasonable. If the court finds through written findings of fact that efforts to 44 eliminate the need for placement of the juvenile in custody clearly would be futile or

1 would be inconsistent with the juvenile's safety and need for a safe, permanent home
2 within a reasonable period of time, then the court shall specify in its order that
3 reunification efforts are not required or order that reunification efforts cease.

4 (h) At each hearing to determine the need for continued custody, the court shall:

5 (1) Inquire as to the identity and location of any missing parent. The 6 court shall include findings as to the efforts undertaken to locate
7 the missing parent and to serve that parent. The order may provide
8 for specific efforts aimed at determining the identity and location
9 of any missing parent;

10 (2) Inquire as to whether a relative of the juvenile is willing and able 11 to provide proper care and supervision of the juvenile in a safe
12 home. If the court finds that the relative is willing and able to 13 provide proper care and supervision in a safe home, then the court
14 shall order temporary placement of the juvenile with the relative.
15 Prior to placement of a juvenile with a relative outside of this 16 State, the placement must be in accordance with the Interstate
17 Compact on the Placement of Children set forth in Article 38 of 18 this Chapter; and

19 (3) Inquire as to whether there are other juveniles remaining in the 20 home from which the juvenile was removed and, if there are,
21 inquire as to the specific findings of the investigation conducted
22 under G.S. 7B-302 and any actions taken or services provided by 23 the director for the protection of the other juveniles.

24 "§ 7B-507. Telephonic communication authorized.

25 All communications, notices, orders, authorizations, and requests authorized or 26 required by G.S. 7B-501, 7B-503, and 7B-504 may be made by telephone when other
27 means of communication are impractical. All written orders pursuant to telephonic 28 communication shall bear the name and the title of the person communicating by 29 telephone, the signature and the title of the official entering the order, and the hour
30 and the date of the authorization.

31 "ARTICLE 6.

32 "Basic Rights.

33 "§ 7B-600. Appointment of guardian.

34 In any case when no parent appears in a hearing with the juvenile or when the 35 court finds it would be in the best interests of the juvenile, the court may appoint a 36 guardian of the person for the juvenile. The guardian shall operate under the 37 supervision of the court with or without bond and shall file only such reports as the 38 court shall require. The guardian shall have the care, custody, and control of the 39 juvenile or may arrange a suitable placement for the juvenile and may represent the 40 juvenile in legal actions before any court. The guardian may consent to certain 41 actions on the part of the juvenile in place of the parent including (i) marriage, (ii)
42 enlisting in the armed forces, and (iii) enrollment in school. The guardian may also 43 consent to any necessary remedial, psychological, medical, or surgical treatment for 44 the juvenile. The authority of the guardian shall continue until the guardianship is

1 terminated by court order, until the juvenile is emancipated pursuant to Article 35 of 2 Subchapter IV of this Chapter, or until the juvenile reaches the age of majority.

3 "§ 7B-601. Appointment and duties of guardian ad litem.

4 (a) When in a petition a juvenile is alleged to be abused or neglected, the court
5 shall appoint a guardian ad litem to represent the juvenile. When a juvenile is alleged 6 to be dependent, the court may appoint a guardian ad litem to represent the juvenile.
7 The guardian ad litem and attorney advocate have standing to represent the juvenile 8 in all actions under this Subchapter where they have been appointed. The 9 appointment shall be made pursuant to the program established by Article 12 of this 10 Chapter unless representation is otherwise provided legally made. The appointment
11 shall terminate at the end of two years. The court may reappoint the guardian ad 12 litem pursuant to a showing of good cause upon motion of any party, including the 13 guardian ad litem, or of the court. In every case where a nonattorney is appointed as 14 a guardian ad litem, an attorney shall be appointed in the case in order to assure 15 protection of the juvenile's legal rights through the dispositional phase of the 16 proceedings, and after disposition when necessary to further the best interests of the 17 juvenile. The duties of the guardian ad litem program shall be to make an 18 investigation to determine the facts, the needs of the juvenile, and the available 19 resources within the family and community to meet those needs; to facilitate, when 20 appropriate, the settlement of disputed issues; to offer evidence and examine 21 witnesses at adjudication; to explore options with the court at the dispositional
22 hearing; and to protect and promote the best interests of the juvenile until formally
23 relieved of the responsibility by the court.

24 (b) The court may order the department of social services or the guardian ad
25 litem to conduct follow-up investigations to ensure that the orders of the court are 26 being properly executed and to report to the court when the needs of the juvenile are 27 not being met. The court may also authorize the guardian ad litem to accompany the 28 juvenile to court in any criminal action wherein the juvenile may be called on to 29 testify in a matter relating to abuse.

30 (c) The court may grant the guardian ad litem the authority to demand any
31 information or reports, whether or not confidential, that may in the guardian ad
32 litem's opinion be relevant to the case. Neither the physician-patient privilege nor the 33 husband-wife privilege may be invoked to prevent the guardian ad litem and the 34 court from obtaining such information. The confidentiality of the information or 35 reports shall be respected by the guardian ad litem and no disclosure of any 36 information or reports shall be made to anyone except by order of the court or unless 37 otherwise provided by law.

38 "§ 7B-602. Parent's right to counsel.

39 In cases where the juvenile petition alleges that a juvenile is abused, neglected, or 40 dependent, the parent has the right to counsel and to appointed counsel in cases of 41 indigency unless the parent waives the right. In no case may the court appoint a 42 county attorney, prosecutor, or public defender.

43 "§ 7B-603. Payment of court-appointed attorney or guardian ad litem.

1 An attorney or guardian ad litem appointed pursuant to G.S. 7B-601 or G.S. 7B-
2 602 pursuant to any other provision of the Juvenile Code shall be paid a reasonable
3 fee fixed by the court in the same manner as fees for attorneys appointed in cases of 4 indigency or by direct engagement for specialized guardian ad litem services through
5 the Administrative Office of the Courts. The court may require payment of the 6 attorney or guardian ad litem fee from a person other than the juvenile as provided
7 in G.S. 7A-450.1, 7A-450.2, and 7A-450.3. In no event shall the parent or guardian be
8 required to pay the fees for a court-appointed attorney or guardian ad litem in an
9 abuse, neglect, or dependency proceeding unless the juvenile has been adjudicated to 10 be abused, neglected, or dependent, or, in a proceeding to terminate parental rights,
11 unless the parent's rights have been terminated. A person who does not comply with 12 the court's order of payment may be punished for contempt as provided in G.S. 5A-
13 21.

14 "ARTICLE 7.

15 "Discovery.

16 "§ 7B-700. Regulation of discovery; protective orders.

17 (a) Upon written motion of a party and a finding of good cause, the court may at 18 any time order that discovery be denied, restricted, or deferred.

19 (b) The court may permit a party seeking relief under subsection (a) of this section
20 to submit supporting affidavits or statements to the court for in camera inspection. If,
21 thereafter, the court enters an order granting relief under subsection (a) of this
22 section, the material submitted in camera must be available to the Court of Appeals
23 in the event of an appeal.

24 "ARTICLE 8.

25 "Hearing Procedures.

26 "§ 7B-800. Amendment of petition.

27 The court may permit a petition to be amended when the amendment does not 28 change the nature of the offense alleged or the conditions upon which the petition is 29 based.

30 "§ 7B-801. Adjudicatory hearing.

31 The adjudicatory hearing shall be held in the district at such time and place as the 32 chief district court judge shall designate. The court may exclude the public from the 33 hearing unless the juvenile moves that the hearing be open, which motion shall be 34 granted.

35 "§ 7B-802. Conduct of hearing.

36 The adjudicatory hearing shall be a judicial process designed to adjudicate the 37 existence or nonexistence of any of the conditions alleged in a petition. In the 38 adjudicatory hearing, the court shall protect the following rights of the juvenile and 39 the juvenile's parent to assure due process of law.

40 "§ 7B-803. Continuances.

41 The court may, for good cause, continue the hearing for as long as is reasonably 42 required to receive additional evidence, reports, or assessments that the court has 43 requested, or other information needed in the best interests of the juvenile and to 44 allow for a reasonable time for the parties to conduct expeditious discovery.

1 Otherwise, continuances shall be granted only in extraordinary circumstances when
2 necessary for the proper administration of justice or in the best interests of the
3 juvenile.

4 "§ 7B-804. Rules of evidence.

5 Where the juvenile is alleged to be abused, neglected, or dependent, the rules of
6 evidence in civil cases shall apply.

7 "§ 7B-805. Quantum of proof in adjudicatory hearing.

8 The allegations in a petition alleging abuse, neglect, or dependence shall be proved
9 by clear and convincing evidence.

10 "§ 7B-806. Record of proceedings.

11 All adjudicatory and dispositional hearings shall be recorded by stenographic notes
12 or by electronic or mechanical means. Records shall be reduced to a written
13 transcript only when timely notice of appeal has been given. The court may order
14 that other hearings be recorded.

15 "§ 7B-807. Adjudication.

16 If the court finds that the allegations in the petition have been proven by clear and 17 convincing evidence, the court shall so state. If the court finds that the allegations 18 have not been proven, the court shall dismiss the petition with prejudice and the 19 juvenile shall be released from nonsecure custody.

20 "§ 7B-808. Predisposition investigation and report.

21 The court shall proceed to the dispositional hearing upon receipt of sufficient
22 social, medical, psychiatric, psychological, and educational information. No
23 predisposition report shall be submitted to or considered by the court prior to the 24 completion of the adjudicatory hearing. The court shall permit the guardian ad litem
25 or juvenile to inspect any predisposition report to be considered by the court in 26 making the disposition unless the court determines that disclosure would seriously
27 harm the juvenile's treatment or rehabilitation or would violate a promise of 28 confidentiality. Opportunity to offer evidence in rebuttal shall be afforded the 29 guardian ad litem or juvenile, and the juvenile's parent, guardian, custodian, or 30 caretaker at the dispositional hearing. The court may order counsel not to disclose
31 parts of the report to the guardian ad litem or juvenile, or the juvenile's parent,
32 guardian, custodian, or caretaker if the court finds that disclosure would seriously
33 harm the treatment or rehabilitation of the juvenile or would violate a promise of 34 confidentiality given to a source of information.

35 "ARTICLE 9.

36 "Dispositions.

37 "§ 7B-900. Purpose.

38 The purpose of dispositions in juvenile actions is to design an appropriate plan to 39 meet the needs of the juvenile and to achieve the objectives of the State in exercising
40 jurisdiction. If possible, the initial approach should involve working with the juvenile 41 and the juvenile's family in their own home so that the appropriate community
42 resources may be involved in care, supervision, and treatment according to the needs
43 of the juvenile. Thus, the court should arrange for appropriate community-level

1 services to be provided to the juvenile and the juvenile's family in order to strengthen
2 the home situation.

3 "§ 7B-901. Dispositional hearing.

4 The dispositional hearing may be informal and the court may consider written
5 reports or other evidence concerning the needs of the juvenile. The juvenile and the 6 juvenile's parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker shall have an opportunity to 7 present evidence, and they may advise the court concerning the disposition they
8 believe to be in the best interests of the juvenile. The court may exclude the public
9 from the hearing unless the juvenile moves that the hearing be open, which motion
10 shall be granted.

11 "§ 7B-902. Consent judgment in abuse, neglect, or dependency proceeding.

12 Nothing in this Article precludes the court from entering a consent order or 13 judgment on a petition for abuse, neglect, or dependency when all parties are present,
14 the juvenile is represented by counsel, and all other parties are either represented by 15 counsel or have waived counsel, and sufficient findings of fact are made by the court.

16 "§ 7B-903. Dispositional alternatives for abused, neglected, or dependent juvenile.

17 The following alternatives for disposition shall be available to any court exercising
18 jurisdiction, and the court may combine any of the applicable alternatives when the 19 court finds the disposition to be in the best interests of the juvenile:

20 (1) The court may dismiss the case or continue the case in order to 21 allow the parent or others to take appropriate action.

22 (2) In the case of any juvenile who needs more adequate care or 23 supervision or who needs placement, the court may:

24 a. Require that the juvenile be supervised in the juvenile's own
25 home by the department of social services in the juvenile's
26 county, or by other personnel as may be available to the 27 court, subject to conditions applicable to the parent,
28 guardian, custodian, or caretaker as the court may specify;
29 or

30 b. Place the juvenile in the custody of a parent, relative,
31 private agency offering placement services, or some other
32 suitable person; or

33 c. Place the juvenile in the custody of the department of social 34 services in the county of the juvenile's residence, or in the
35 case of a juvenile who has legal residence outside the State,
36 in the physical custody of the department of social services
37 in the county where the juvenile is found so that agency
38 may return the juvenile to the responsible authorities in the
39 juvenile's home state. The director may, unless otherwise
40 ordered by the court, arrange for, provide, or consent to,
41 needed routine or emergency medical or surgical care or
42 treatment. In the case where the parent is unknown,
43 unavailable, or unable to act on behalf of the juvenile, the 44 director may, unless otherwise ordered by the court, arrange

1 for, provide, or consent to any psychiatric, psychological,
2 educational, or other remedial evaluations or treatment for
3 the juvenile placed by a court or the court's designee in the 4 custody or physical custody of a county department of social
5 services under the authority of this or any other Chapter of
6 the General Statutes. Prior to exercising this authority, the 7 director shall make reasonable efforts to obtain consent from 8 a parent or guardian of the affected juvenile. If the director
9 cannot obtain such consent, the director shall promptly
10 notify the parent or guardian that care or treatment has
11 been provided and shall give the parent frequent status
12 reports on the circumstances of the juvenile. Upon request
13 of a parent or guardian of the affected juvenile, the results
14 or records of the aforementioned evaluations, findings, or 15 treatment shall be made available to such parent or guardian
16 by the director unless prohibited by G.S. 122C-53(d).

17 (3) In any case, the court may order that the juvenile be examined by 18 a physician, psychiatrist, psychologist, or other qualified expert as 19 may be needed for the court to determine the needs of the
20 juvenile:

21 a. Upon completion of the examination, the court shall 22 conduct a hearing to determine whether the juvenile is in 23 need of medical, surgical, psychiatric, psychological, or other
24 treatment and who should pay the cost of the treatment. The 25 county manager, or such person who shall be designated by
26 the chairman of the county commissioners, of the juvenile's
27 residence shall be notified of the hearing, and allowed to be 28 heard. If the court finds the juvenile to be in need of 29 medical, surgical, psychiatric, psychological, or other
30 treatment, the court shall permit the parent or other
31 responsible persons to arrange for treatment. If the parent
32 declines or is unable to make necessary arrangements, the 33 court may order the needed treatment, surgery, or care, and 34 the court may order the parent to pay the cost of the care
35 pursuant to G.S. 7B-904. If the court finds the parent is 36 unable to pay the cost of treatment, the court shall order the 37 county to arrange for treatment of the juvenile and to pay
38 for the cost of the treatment. The county department of 39 social services shall recommend the facility that will provide 40 the juvenile with treatment.

41 b. If the court believes, or if there is evidence presented to the 42 effect that the juvenile is mentally ill or is developmentally
43 disabled, the court shall refer the juvenile to the area mental 44 health, developmental disabilities, and substance abuse

services director for appropriate action. A juvenile shall not be committed directly to a State hospital or mental retardation center; and orders purporting to commit a juvenile directly to a State hospital or mental retardation center except for an examination to determine capacity to proceed shall be void and of no effect. The area mental health, developmental disabilities, and substance abuse director shall be responsible for arranging an interdisciplinary evaluation of the juvenile and mobilizing resources to meet the juvenile's needs. If institutionalization is determined to be the best service for the juvenile, admission shall be with the voluntary consent of the parent or guardian. If the parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker refuses to consent to a mental hospital or retardation center admission after such institutionalization is recommended by the area mental health, developmental disabilities, and substance abuse director, the signature and consent of the court may be substituted for that purpose. In all cases in which a regional mental hospital refuses admission to a juvenile referred for admission by a court and an area mental health, developmental disabilities, and substance abuse director or discharges a juvenile previously admitted on court referral prior to completion of treatment, the hospital shall submit to the court a written report setting out the reasons for denial of admission or discharge and setting out the juvenile's diagnosis, indications of mental illness, indications of need for treatment, and a statement as to the location of any facility known to have a treatment program for the juvenile in question.

"§ 7B-904. Authority over parents of juvenile adjudicated as abused, neglected, or dependent.

(a) If the court orders medical, surgical, psychiatric, psychological, or other treatment pursuant to G.S. 7B-903, the court may order the parent or other responsible parties to pay the cost of the treatment or care ordered.

(b) At the dispositional hearing or a subsequent hearing in the case of a juvenile who has been adjudicated abused, neglected, or dependent, if the court finds that it is in the best interests of the juvenile for the parent to be directly involved in the juvenile's treatment, the court may order the parent to participate in medical, psychiatric, psychological, or other treatment of the juvenile. The cost of the treatment shall be paid pursuant to G.S. 7B-903.

(c) At the dispositional hearing or a subsequent hearing in the case of a juvenile who has been adjudicated abused, neglected, or dependent, the court may determine whether the best interests of the juvenile requires that the parent undergo psychiatric, psychological, or other treatment or counseling directed toward remediating or

1 remedying behaviors or conditions that led to or contributed to the juvenile's
2 adjudication or to the court's decision to remove custody of the juvenile from the
3 parent. If the court finds that the best interests of the juvenile require the parent
4 undergo treatment, it may order the parent to comply with a plan of treatment
5 approved by the court or condition legal custody or physical placement of the 6 juvenile with the parent upon the parent's compliance with the plan of treatment.
7 The court may order the parent to pay the cost of treatment ordered pursuant to this
8 subsection. In cases in which the court has conditioned legal custody or physical
9 placement of the juvenile with the parent upon the parent's compliance with a plan
10 of treatment, the court may charge the cost of the treatment to the county of the 11 juvenile's residence if the court finds the parent is unable to pay the cost of the 12 treatment. In all other cases, if the court finds the parent is unable to pay the cost of 13 the treatment ordered pursuant to this subsection, the court may order the parent to 14 receive treatment currently available from the area mental health program that serves
15 the parent's catchment area.

16 (d) Whenever legal custody of a juvenile is vested in someone other than the 17 juvenile's parent, after due notice to the parent and after a hearing, the court may 18 order that the parent pay a reasonable sum that will cover, in whole or in part, the 19 support of the juvenile after the order is entered. If the court requires the payment of 20 child support, the amount of the payments shall be determined as provided in G.S.
21 50-13.4(c). If the court places a juvenile in the custody of a county department of 22 social services and if the court finds that the parent is unable to pay the cost of the 23 support required by the juvenile, the cost shall be paid by the county department of 24 social services in whose custody the juvenile is placed, provided the juvenile is not
25 receiving care in an institution owned or operated by the State or federal government
26 or any subdivision thereof.

27 (e) Failure of a parent who is personally served to participate in or comply with 28 this section may result in a civil proceeding for contempt.

29 "§ 7B-905. Dispositional order.

30 (a) The dispositional order shall be in writing and shall contain appropriate
31 findings of fact and conclusions of law. The court shall state with particularity, both 32 orally and in the written order of disposition, the precise terms of the disposition
33 including the kind, duration, and the person who is responsible for carrying out the 34 disposition and the person or agency in whom custody is vested.

35 (b) A dispositional order under which a juvenile is removed from the custody of a
36 parent or person standing in loco parentis shall direct that the review hearing
37 required by G.S. 7B-906 be held within six months of the date of the juvenile's
38 placement in custody and, if practicable, shall set the date and time for the review
39 hearing.

40 (c) Any order directing placement of a juvenile in foster care shall also contain:

41 (1) A finding that the juvenile's continuation in or return to the 42 juvenile's home would be contrary to the juvenile's best interests;

(2) Findings as to whether reasonable efforts have been made to prevent or eliminate the need for placement of the juvenile in foster care. A finding that reasonable efforts were not made shall not preclude entry of a dispositional order authorizing placement in foster care when the court finds that such placement is needed for protection of the juvenile. When efforts to prevent the need for the juvenile's placement are precluded by an immediate threat of harm to the juvenile, the court may find that placement of the juvenile in the absence of such efforts is reasonable.

The order may provide for services or other efforts aimed at returning the juvenile promptly to a safe home. If the court finds through written findings of fact that efforts to eliminate the need for placement of the juvenile in custody clearly would be futile or would be inconsistent with the juvenile's safety and need for a safe, permanent home within a reasonable period of time, the court shall specify in its order that reunification efforts are not required or order that reunification efforts cease.

(d) An order that places a juvenile in the custody of a county department of social services for placement shall specify that the juvenile's placement and care are the responsibility of the county department of social services and that the county department is to provide or arrange for the foster care or other placement of the juvenile.

"§ 7B-906. Review of custody order.

(a) In any case where custody is removed from a parent, the court shall conduct a review within six months of the date the order was entered, shall conduct a second review within six months after the first review, and shall conduct subsequent reviews at least every year thereafter. The director of social services shall make timely requests to the clerk to calendar the case at a session of court scheduled for the hearing of juvenile matters within six months of the date the order was entered. The director shall make timely requests for calendaring subsequent reviews. The clerk shall give 15 days' notice of the review to the parent or the person standing in loco parentis, the juvenile, if 12 years of age or more, the guardian, foster parent, custodian or agency with custody, the guardian ad litem, and any other person the court may specify, indicating the court's impending review.

(b) Notwithstanding other provisions of this Article, the court may waive the holding of review hearings required by subsection (a) of this section, may require written reports to the court by the agency or person holding custody in lieu of review hearings, or order that review hearings be held less often than every 12 months, if the court finds by clear, cogent, and convincing evidence that:

(1) The juvenile has resided with a relative or has been in the custody of another suitable person for a period of at least one year;

(2) The placement is stable and continuation of the placement is in the juvenile's best interests;

(3) Neither the juvenile's best interests nor the rights of any party require that review hearings be held every 12 months;

1           (4) All parties are aware that the matter may be brought before the
2 court for review at any time by the filing of a motion for review or
3 on the court's own motion; and

4           (5) The court order has designated the relative or other suitable 5 person as the juvenile's permanent caretaker or guardian of the 6 person.

7 The court may not waive or refuse to conduct a review hearing if a party files a
8 motion seeking the review.

9       (c) At every review hearing, the court shall consider information from the 10 department of social services, the juvenile, the parent or person standing in loco
11 parentis, the custodian, the foster parent, the guardian ad litem, and any public or 12 private agency which will aid it in its review.

13 In each case the court shall consider the following criteria and make written
14 findings regarding those that are relevant:

15           (1) Services which have been offered to reunite the family, or whether 16 efforts to reunite the family clearly would be futile or inconsistent
17 with the juvenile's safety and need for a safe, permanent home
18 within a reasonable period of time.

19           (2) Where the juvenile's return home is unlikely, the efforts which 20 have been made to evaluate or plan for other methods of care.

21           (3) Goals of the foster care placement and the appropriateness of the 22 foster care plan.

23           (4) A new foster care plan, if continuation of care is sought, that 24 addresses the role the current foster parent will play in the 25 planning for the juvenile.

26           (5) Reports on the placements the juvenile has had and any services
27 offered to the juvenile and the parent.

28           (6) When and if termination of parental rights should be considered.

29           (7) Any other criteria the court deems necessary.

30       (d) The court, after making findings of fact, may appoint a guardian of the person
31 for the juvenile pursuant to G.S. 7B-600 or may make any disposition authorized by 32 G.S. 7B-903, including the authority to place the juvenile in the custody of either
33 parent or any relative found by the court to be suitable and found by the court to be 34 in the best interests of the juvenile. If the juvenile is placed in or remains in the 35 custody of the department of social services, the court may authorize the department
36 to arrange and supervise a visitation plan. Except for such visitation, the juvenile 37 shall not be returned to the parent or person standing in loco parentis without a
38 hearing at which the court finds sufficient facts to show that the juvenile will receive
39 proper care and supervision. The court may enter an order continuing the placement
40 under review or providing for a different placement as is deemed to be in the best
41 interests of the juvenile. If at any time custody is restored to a parent, the court shall 42 be relieved of the duty to conduct periodic judicial reviews of the placement.

43       (e) At a hearing designated by the court, but at least within 12 months after the 44 juvenile's placement, a review hearing shall be held under this section and designated

1 as a permanency-planning hearing. The purpose of the hearing shall be to develop a
2 plan to achieve a safe, permanent home for the juvenile within a reasonable period of
3 time. Notice of the hearing shall inform the parties of the purpose of the hearing. At 4 the conclusion of the hearing, if the juvenile is not returned home, the court shall
5 make specific findings as to the best plan of care to achieve a safe, permanent home
6 for the juvenile within a reasonable period of time and shall enter an order consistent
7 with those findings.

8 (f) The provisions of subsections (b), (c), and (d) of G.S. 7B-905 shall apply to any 9 order entered under this section which continues the foster care placement of a
10 juvenile.

11 "§ 7B-907. Posttermination of parental rights' placement court review.

12 (a) The purpose of each placement review is to ensure that every reasonable effort
13 is being made to provide for a permanent placement plan for the juvenile who has 14 been placed in the custody of a county director or licensed child-placing agency,
15 which is consistent with the juvenile's best interests. At each review hearing the court
16 may consider information from the department of social services, the licensed 17 child-placing agency, the guardian ad litem, the juvenile, the foster parent, and any 18 other person or agency the court determines is likely to aid in the review.

19 (b) The court shall conduct a placement review not later than six months from the 20 date of the termination hearing when parental rights have been terminated by a
21 petition brought by any person or agency designated in G.S. 7B-1102(2) through (5)
22 and a county director or licensed child-placing agency has custody of the juvenile.
23 The court shall conduct reviews every six months until the juvenile is placed for 24 adoption and the adoption petition is filed by the adoptive parents:

25 (1) No more than 30 days and no less than 15 days prior to each
26 review, the clerk shall give notice of the review to the juvenile if 27 the juvenile is at least 12 years of age, the legal custodian of the 28 juvenile, the foster parent, the guardian ad litem, if any, and any 29 other person the court may specify. Only the juvenile, if the 30 juvenile is at least 12 years of age, the legal custodian of the 31 juvenile, the foster parent, and the guardian ad litem shall attend
32 the review hearings, except as otherwise directed by the court.

33 (2) If a guardian ad litem for the juvenile has not been appointed 34 previously by the court in the termination proceeding, the court, at 35 the initial six-month review hearing, may appoint a guardian ad
36 litem to represent the juvenile. The court may continue the case
37 for such time as is necessary for the guardian ad litem to become 38 familiar with the facts of the case.

39 (c) The court shall consider at least the following in its review:

40 (1) The adequacy of the plan developed by the county department of 41 social services or a licensed child-placing agency for a permanent 42 placement relative to the juvenile's best interests and the efforts of 43 the department or agency to implement such plan;

1           (2) Whether the juvenile has been listed for adoptive placement with
2 the North Carolina Adoption Resource Exchange, the North
3 Carolina Photo Adoption Listing Service (PALS), or any other
4 specialized adoption agency; and

5           (3) The efforts previously made by the department or agency to find a
6 permanent home for the juvenile.

7       (d) The court, after making findings of fact, shall affirm the county department's 8 or child-placing agency's plans or require specific additional steps which are 9 necessary to accomplish a permanent placement which is in the best interests of the
10 juvenile.

11       (e) If the juvenile has been placed for adoption prior to the date scheduled for 12 the review, written notice of said placement shall be given to the clerk to be placed
13 in the court file, and the review hearing shall be cancelled with notice of said
14 cancellation given by the clerk to all persons previously notified.

15       (f) The process of selection of specific adoptive parents shall be the responsibility
16 of and within the discretion of the county department of social services or licensed
17 child-placing agency. The guardian ad litem may request information from and 18 consult with the county department or child-placing agency concerning the selection
19 process. If the guardian ad litem requests information about the selection process, the 20 county shall provide the information within five days. Any issue of abuse of 21 discretion by the county department or child-placing agency in the selection process
22 must be raised by the guardian ad litem within 10 days following the date the agency
23 notifies the court and the guardian ad litem in writing of the filing of the adoption
24 petition.

25 "§ 7B-908. Review of agency's plan for placement.

26       (a) The director of social services or the director of the licensed private child-
27 placing agency shall promptly notify the clerk to calendar the case for review of the 28 department's or agency's plan for the juvenile at a session of court scheduled for the 29 hearing of juvenile matters in any case where:

30           (1) One parent has surrendered a juvenile for adoption under the 31 provisions of Part 7 of Article 3 of Chapter 48 of the General
32 Statutes and the termination of parental rights proceedings have 33 not been instituted against the nonsurrendering parent within six 34 months of the surrender by the other parent, or

35           (2) Both parents have surrendered a juvenile for adoption under the 36 provisions of Part 7 of Article 3 of Chapter 48 of the General
37 Statutes and that juvenile has not been placed for adoption within 38 six months from the date of the more recent parental surrender.

39       (b) In any case where an adoption is dismissed or withdrawn and the juvenile 40 returns to foster care with a department of social services or a licensed private child-
41 placing agency, then the department of social services or licensed child-placing 42 agency shall notify the clerk, within 30 days from the date the juvenile returns to 43 care, to calendar the case for review of the agency's plan for the child at a session of
44 court scheduled for the hearing of juvenile matters.

(c) Notification of the court required under subsection (a) or (b) of this section shall be by a petition for review. The petition shall set forth the circumstances necessitating the review under subsection (a) or (b) of this section. The review shall be conducted within 30 days following the filing of the petition for review unless the court shall otherwise direct. The court shall conduct reviews every six months until the juvenile is placed for adoption and the adoption petition is filed by the adoptive parents. The initial review and all subsequent reviews shall be conducted pursuant to G.S. 7B-907.

"§ 7B-909. Review of voluntary foster care placements.

(a) The court shall review the placement of any juvenile in foster care made pursuant to a voluntary agreement between the juvenile's parents or guardian and a county department of social services and shall make findings from evidence presented at a review hearing with regard to:

- (1) The voluntariness of the placement;
- (2) The appropriateness of the placement;
- (3) Whether the placement is in the best interests of the juvenile; and
- (4) The services that have been or should be provided to the parents, guardian, foster parents, and juvenile, as the case may be, either (i) to improve the placement or (ii) to eliminate the need for the placement.

(b) The court may approve the continued placement of the juvenile in foster care on a voluntary agreement basis, disapprove the continuation of the voluntary placement, or direct the department of social services to petition the court for legal custody if the placement is to continue.

(c) An initial review hearing shall be held not more than 180 days after the juvenile's placement and shall be calendared by the clerk for hearing within such period upon timely request by the director of social services. Additional review hearings shall be held at such times as the court shall deem appropriate and shall direct, either upon its own motion or upon written request of the parents, guardian, foster parents, or director of social services. A juvenile placed under a voluntary agreement between the juvenile's parent or guardian and the county department of social services shall not remain in placement more than 12 months without the filing of a petition alleging abuse, neglect, or dependency.

(d) The clerk shall give at least 15 days' advance written notice of the initial and subsequent review hearings to the parents or guardian of the juvenile, to the juvenile if 12 or more years of age, to the director of social services, and to any other persons whom the court may specify.

"ARTICLE 10.

"Modification and Enforcement of Dispositional Orders; Appeals.

"§ 7B-1000. Authority to modify or vacate.

(a) Upon motion in the cause or petition, and after notice, the court may conduct a review hearing to determine whether the order of the court is in the best interests of the juvenile, and the court may modify or vacate the order in light of changes in circumstances or the needs of the juvenile.

(b) In any case where the court finds the juvenile to be abused, neglected, or dependent, the jurisdiction of the court to modify any order or disposition made in the case shall continue during the minority of the juvenile, until terminated by order of the court, or until the juvenile is otherwise emancipated.

"§ 7B-1001. Right to appeal.

Upon motion of a proper party as defined in G.S. 7B-1002, review of any final order of the court in a juvenile matter under this Article shall be before the Court of Appeals. Notice of appeal shall be given in open court at the time of the hearing or in writing within 10 days after entry of the order. However, if no disposition is made within 60 days after entry of the order, written notice of appeal may be given within 70 days after such entry. A final order shall include:

(1) Any order finding absence of jurisdiction;

(2) Any order which in effect determines the action and prevents a judgment from which appeal might be taken;

(3) Any order of disposition after an adjudication that a juvenile is abused, neglected, or dependent; or

(4) Any order modifying custodial rights.

"§ 7B-1002. Proper parties for appeal.

An appeal may be taken by the guardian ad litem, or juvenile, the juvenile's parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker, or the petitioner. The State's appeal is limited to any final order.

"§ 7B-1003. Disposition pending appeal.

Pending disposition of an appeal, the return of the juvenile to the custody of the parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker of the juvenile, with or without conditions, should issue in every case unless the court orders otherwise. For compelling reasons which must be stated in writing, the court may enter a temporary order affecting the custody or placement of the juvenile as the court finds to be in the best interests of the juvenile or the State. The provisions of subsections (b), (c), and (d) of G.S. 7B-905 shall apply to any order entered under this section which provides for the placement or continued placement of a juvenile in foster care.

"§ 7B-1004. Disposition after appeal.

Upon the affirmation of the order of adjudication or disposition of the court by the Court of Appeals or by the Supreme Court in the event of an appeal, the court shall have authority to modify or alter the original order of adjudication or disposition as the court finds to be in the best interests of the juvenile to reflect any adjustment made by the juvenile or change in circumstances during the period of time the appeal was pending. If the modifying order is entered ex parte, the court shall give notice to interested parties to show cause within 10 days thereafter as to why the modifying order should be vacated or altered.

"ARTICLE 11.

"Termination of Parental Rights.

"§ 7B-1100. Legislative intent; construction of Article.

The General Assembly hereby declares as a matter of legislative policy with respect to termination of parental rights:

- (1) The general purpose of this Article is to provide judicial procedures for terminating the legal relationship between a juvenile and the juvenile's biological or legal parents when the parents have demonstrated that they will not provide the degree of care which promotes the healthy and orderly physical and emotional well-being of the juvenile.
- (2) It is the further purpose of this Article to recognize the necessity for any juvenile to have a permanent plan of care at the earliest possible age, while at the same time recognizing the need to protect all juveniles from the unnecessary severance of a relationship with biological or legal parents.
- (3) Action which is in the best interests of the juvenile should be taken in all cases where the interests of the juvenile and those of the juvenile's parents or other persons are in conflict.
- (4) This Article shall not be used to circumvent the provisions of Chapter 50A of the General Statutes, the Uniform Child Custody Jurisdiction Act.

"§ 7B-1101. Jurisdiction.

The court shall have exclusive original jurisdiction to hear and determine any petition relating to termination of parental rights to any juvenile who resides in, is found in, or is in the legal or actual custody of a county department of social services or licensed child-placing agency in the district at the time of filing of the petition. The court shall have jurisdiction to terminate the parental rights of any parent irrespective of the age of the parent. The parent has the right to counsel and to appointed counsel in cases of indigency unless the parent waives the right. The fees of appointed counsel shall be borne by the Administrative Office of the Courts. In addition to the right to appointed counsel set forth above, a guardian ad litem shall be appointed in accordance with the provisions of G.S. 1A-1, Rule 17, to represent a parent in the following cases:

- (1) Where it is alleged that a parent's rights should be terminated pursuant to G.S. 7B-1110(7); or
- (2) Where the parent is under the age of 18 years.

The fees of the guardian ad litem shall be borne by the Administrative Office of the Courts when the court finds that the respondent is indigent. In other cases the fees of the court-appointed guardian ad litem shall be a proper charge against the respondent if the respondent does not secure private legal counsel. Provided, that before exercising jurisdiction under this Article, the court shall find that it would have jurisdiction to make a child-custody determination under the provisions of G.S. 50A-3. Provided, further, that the clerk of superior court shall have jurisdiction for adoptions under the provisions of G.S. 48-2-100 and Chapter 48 of the General Statutes generally.

"§ 7B-1102. Who may petition.

A petition to terminate the parental rights of either or both parents to his, her, or their minor juvenile may only be filed by:

- (1) Either parent seeking termination of the right of the other parent; or
- (2) Any person who has been judicially appointed as the guardian of the person of the juvenile; or
- (3) Any county department of social services, consolidated county human services agency, or licensed child-placing agency to whom custody of the juvenile has been given by a court of competent jurisdiction; or
- (4) Any county department of social services, consolidated county human services agency, or licensed child-placing agency to which the juvenile has been surrendered for adoption by one of the parents or by the guardian of the person of the juvenile, pursuant to G.S. 48-9(a)(1); or
- (5) Any person with whom the juvenile has resided for a continuous period of two years or more next preceding the filing of the petition; or
- (6) Any guardian ad litem appointed to represent the minor juvenile pursuant to G.S. 7B-601 who has not been relieved of this responsibility and who has served in this capacity for at least one continuous year; or
- (7) Any person who has filed a petition for adoption pursuant to Chapter 48 of the General Statutes.

"§ 7B-1103. Petition.

The petition shall be verified by the petitioner and shall be entitled 'In Re (last name of juvenile)', a minor juvenile; and shall set forth such of the following facts as are known; and with respect to the facts which are unknown the petitioner shall so state:

- (1) The name of the juvenile as it appears on the juvenile's birth certificate, the date and place of birth, and the county where the juvenile is presently residing.
- (2) The name and address of the petitioner and facts sufficient to identify the petitioner as one entitled to petition under G.S. 7B-1102.
- (3) The name and address of the parents of the juvenile. If the name or address of one or both parents is unknown to the petitioner, the petitioner shall set forth with particularity the petitioner's efforts to ascertain the identity or whereabouts of the parent or parents. The information may be contained in an affidavit attached to the petition and incorporated therein by reference.
- (4) The name and address of any person appointed as guardian of the person of the juvenile pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 35A of the General Statutes, or of G.S. 7B-600.

(5) The name and address of any person or agency to whom custody of the juvenile has been given by a court of this or any other state; and a copy of the custody order shall be attached to the petition.

(6) Facts that are sufficient to warrant a determination that one or more of the grounds for terminating parental rights exist.

(7) That the petition has not been filed to circumvent the provisions of Chapter 50A of the General Statutes, the Uniform Child Custody Jurisdiction Act.

"§ 7B-1104. Preliminary hearing; unknown parent.

(a) If either the name or identity of any parent whose parental rights the petitioner seeks to terminate is not known to the petitioner, the court shall, within 10 days from the date of filing of the petition, or during the next term of court in the county where the petition is filed if there is no court in the county in that 10-day period, conduct a preliminary hearing to ascertain the name or identity of such parent.

(b) The court may, in its discretion, inquire of any known parent of the juvenile concerning the identity of the unknown parent and may appoint a guardian ad litem for the unknown parent to conduct a diligent search for the parent. Should the court ascertain the name or identity of the parent, it shall enter a finding to that effect; and the parent shall be summoned to appear in accordance with G.S. 7B-1105.

(c) Notice of the preliminary hearing need be given only to the petitioner who shall appear at the hearing; but the court may cause summons to be issued to any person directing the person to appear and testify.

(d) If the court is unable to ascertain the name or identity of the unknown parent, the court shall order publication of notice of the termination proceeding and shall specifically order the place or places of publication and the contents of the notice which the court concludes is most likely to identify the juvenile to such unknown parent. The notice shall be published in a newspaper qualified for legal advertising in accordance with G.S. 1-597 and G.S. 1-598 and published in the counties directed by the court, once a week for three successive weeks. Provided, further, the notice shall:

(1) Designate the court in which the petition is pending;

(2) Be directed to 'the father (mother) (father and mother) of a male (female) juvenile born on or about .....in

.....County, .....

(city)

..... respondent';

(State)

(3) Designate the docket number and title of the case (the court may direct the actual name of the title be eliminated and the words 'In Re Doe' substituted therefor);

(4) State that a petition seeking to terminate the parental rights of the respondent has been filed;

(5) Direct the respondent to answer the petition within 30 days after a date stated in the notice, exclusive of such date, which date so

1                    stated shall be the date of first publication of notice and be
2                    substantially in the form as set forth in G.S. 1A-1, Rule 4(j1); and
3                    (6)   State that the respondent's parental rights to the juvenile will be
4                    terminated upon failure to answer the petition within the time
5                    prescribed.

6                    Upon completion of the service, an affidavit of the publisher shall be filed with the 7                    court.

8                    (e) The court shall issue the order required by subsections (b) and (d) of this
9                    section within 30 days from the date of the preliminary hearing unless the court shall
10                   determine that additional time for investigation is required.

11                   (f) Upon the failure of the parent served by publication pursuant to subsection (d)
12                   of this section to answer the petition within the time prescribed, the court shall issue
13                   an order terminating all parental rights of the unknown parent.

14                   "§ 7B-1105. Issuance of summons.

15                   (a) Except as provided in G.S. 7B-1104, upon the filing of the petition, the court
16                   shall cause a summons to be issued. The summons shall be directed to the following 17                   persons or agency, not otherwise a party petitioner, who shall be named as 18                   respondents:

19                   (1)   The parents of the juvenile;

20                   (2)   Any person who has been judicially appointed as guardian of the 21                   person of the juvenile;

22                   (3)   The custodian of the juvenile appointed by a court of competent
23                   jurisdiction;

24                   (4)   Any county department of social services or licensed child-placing 25                   agency to whom a juvenile has been released by one parent
26                   pursuant to Part 7 of Article 3 of Chapter 48 of the General
27                   Statutes; and

28                   (5)   The juvenile, if the juvenile is 12 years of age or older at the time
29                   the petition is filed.

30                   Provided, no summons need be directed to or served upon any parent who has 31                   previously surrendered the juvenile to a county department of social services or 32                   licensed child-placing agency nor to any parent who has consented to the adoption of 33                   the juvenile by the petitioner. The summons shall notify the respondents to file a 34                   written answer within 30 days after service of the summons and petition. Service of 35                   the summons shall be completed as provided under the procedures established by 36                   G.S. 1A-1, Rule 4(j); but the parent of the juvenile shall not be deemed to be under 37                   disability even though the parent is a minor.

38                   (b) The summons shall be issued for the purpose of terminating parental rights
39                   pursuant to the provisions of subsection (a) of this section and shall include:

40                   (1)   The name of the minor juvenile;

41                   (2)   Notice that a written answer to the petition must be filed with the 42                   clerk who signed the petition within 30 days after service of the 43                   summons and a copy of the petition, or the parent's rights may be 44                   terminated;

(3) Notice that if they are indigent, the parents are entitled to appointed counsel. The parents may contact the clerk immediately to request counsel;

(4) Notice that this is a new case. Any attorney appointed previously will not represent the parents in this proceeding unless ordered by the court;

(5) Notice that the date, time, and place of the hearing will be mailed by the clerk upon filing of the answer or 30 days from the date of service if no answer is filed; and

(6) Notice of the purpose of the hearing and notice that the parents may attend the termination hearing.

"§ 7B-1106. Failure of respondents to answer.

Upon the failure of the respondents to file written answer to the petition with the court within 30 days after service of the summons and petition, or within the time period established for a defendant's reply by G.S. 1A-1, Rule 4(j1) if service is by publication, the court shall issue an order terminating all parental and custodial rights of the respondent or respondents with respect to the juvenile; provided the court shall order a hearing on the petition and may examine the petitioner or others on the facts alleged in the petition.

(a) Any respondent may file a written answer to the petition. The answer shall admit or deny the allegations of the petition and shall set forth the name and address of the answering respondent or the respondent's attorney.

(b) If an answer denies any material allegation of the petition, the court shall appoint a guardian ad litem for the juvenile to represent the best interests of the juvenile, unless the petition was filed by the guardian ad litem pursuant to G.S. 7B-1102. A licensed attorney shall be appointed to assist those guardians ad litem who are not attorneys licensed to practice in North Carolina. The appointment, duties, and payment of the guardian ad litem shall be the same as in G.S. 7B-601 and G.S. 7B-603. The court shall conduct a special hearing after notice of not less than 10 days nor more than 30 days to the petitioner, the answering respondent, and the guardian ad litem for the juvenile to determine the issues raised by the petition and answer. Notice of the hearing shall be deemed to have been given upon the depositing thereof in the United States mail, first-class postage prepaid, and addressed to the petitioner, respondent, and guardian ad litem or their counsel of record, at the addresses appearing in the petition and responsive pleading.

(c) In proceedings under this Article, the appointment of a guardian ad litem shall not be required except, as provided above, in cases in which an answer is filed denying material allegations, or as required under G.S. 7B-1101; but the court may, in its discretion, appoint a guardian ad litem for a juvenile, either before or after determining the existence of grounds for termination of parental rights, in order to assist the court in determining the best interests of the juvenile.

(d) If a guardian ad litem has previously been appointed for the juvenile under G.S. 7B-601, and the appointment of a guardian ad litem could also be made under

1 this section, the guardian ad litem appointed under G.S. 7B-601, and any attorney
2 appointed to assist that guardian, shall also represent the juvenile in all proceedings
3 under this Article and shall have the duties and payment of a guardian ad litem
4 appointed under this section, unless the court determines that the best interests of the 5 juvenile require otherwise.

6 "§ 7B-1108. Adjudicatory hearing on termination.

7 (a) The hearing on the termination of parental rights shall be conducted by the
8 court sitting without a jury. Reporting of the hearing shall be as provided by G.S.
9 7A-198 for reporting civil trials.

10 (b) The court shall inquire whether the juvenile's parents are present at the 11 hearing and, if so, whether they are represented by counsel. If the parents are not 12 represented by counsel, the court shall inquire whether the parents desire counsel but 13 are indigent. In the event that the parents desire counsel but are indigent as defined
14 in G.S. 7A-450(a) and are unable to obtain counsel to represent them, the court shall 15 appoint counsel to represent them. The court shall grant the parents such an 16 extension of time as is reasonable to permit their appointed counsel to prepare their 17 defense to the termination petition. In the event that the parents do not desire 18 counsel and are present at the hearing, the court shall examine each parent and make 19 findings of fact sufficient to show that the waivers were knowing and voluntary. This 20 examination shall be reported as provided in G.S. 7A-198.

21 (c) The court may, upon finding that reasonable cause exists, order the juvenile to 22 be examined by a psychiatrist, a licensed clinical psychologist, a physician, a public or 23 private agency, or any other expert in order that the juvenile's psychological or 24 physical condition or needs may be ascertained or, in the case of a parent whose
25 ability to care for the juvenile is at issue, the court may order a similar examination
26 of any parent of the juvenile.

27 (d) The court may for good cause shown continue the hearing for such time as is 28 required for receiving additional evidence, any reports or assessments which the court
29 has requested, or any other information needed in the best interests of the juvenile.

30 (e) The court shall take evidence, find the facts, and shall adjudicate the existence
31 or nonexistence of any of the circumstances set forth in G.S. 7B-1110 which authorize
32 the termination of parental rights of the respondent.

33 (f) All findings of fact shall be based on clear, cogent, and convincing evidence.
34 No husband-wife or physician-patient privilege shall be grounds for excluding any 35 evidence regarding the existence or nonexistence of any circumstance authorizing the 36 termination of parental rights.

37 "§ 7B-1109. Disposition.

38 (a) Should the court determine that any one or more of the conditions authorizing
39 a termination of the parental rights of a parent exist, the court shall issue an order
40 terminating the parental rights of such parent with respect to the juvenile unless the 41 court shall further determine that the best interests of the juvenile require that the 42 parental rights of the parent not be terminated.

43 (b) Should the court conclude that, irrespective of the existence of one or more 44 circumstances authorizing termination of parental rights, the best interests of the

1 juvenile require that rights should not be terminated, the court shall dismiss the
2 petition, but only after setting forth the facts and conclusions upon which the
3 dismissal is based.

4 (c) Should the court determine that circumstances authorizing termination of
5 parental rights do not exist, the court shall dismiss the petition, making appropriate
6 findings of fact and conclusions.

7 (d) Counsel for the petitioner shall serve a copy of the termination of parental
8 rights order upon the guardian ad litem for the juvenile, if any, and upon the 9 juvenile if the juvenile is 12 years of age or older.

10 (e) The court may tax the cost of the proceeding to any party.

11 "§ 7B-1110. Grounds for terminating parental rights.

12 The court may terminate the parental rights upon a finding of one or more of the 13 following:

14 (1) The parent has abused or neglected the juvenile. The juvenile 15 shall be deemed to be abused or neglected if the court finds the 16 juvenile to be an abused juvenile within the meaning of G.S. 7B-
17 101 or a neglected juvenile within the meaning of G.S. 7B-101.

18 (2) The parent has willfully left the juvenile in foster care for more
19 than 12 months without showing to the satisfaction of the court
20 that reasonable progress under the circumstances has been made
21 within 12 months in correcting those conditions which led to the 22 removal of the juvenile. Provided, however, that no parental rights
23 shall be terminated for the sole reason that the parents are unable 24 to care for the juvenile on account of their poverty.

25 (3) The burden in such proceedings shall be upon the petitioner to 26 prove the facts justifying such termination by clear and convincing
27 evidence.

28 (4) The juvenile has been placed in the custody of a county
29 department of social services, a licensed child-placing agency, a 30 child-caring institution, or a foster home, and the parent, for a 31 continuous period of six months next preceding the filing of the 32 petition, has willfully failed for such period to pay a reasonable 33 portion of the cost of care for the juvenile although physically and 34 financially able to do so.

35 (5) One parent has been awarded custody of the juvenile by judicial 36 decree or has custody by agreement of the parents, and the other 37 parent whose parental rights are sought to be terminated has for a 38 period of one year or more next preceding the filing of the petition 39 willfully failed without justification to pay for the care, support, 40 and education of the juvenile, as required by said decree or 41 custody agreement.

42 (6) The father of a juvenile born out of wedlock has not, prior to the 43 filing of a petition to terminate parental rights;

- 1           a.     Established paternity judicially or by affidavit which has 2                 been filed in a central registry maintained by the 3                 Department of Health and Human Services; provided, the 4                 court shall inquire of the Department of Health and Human
5                 Services as to whether such an affidavit has been so filed
6                 and shall incorporate into the case record the Department's 7                 certified reply; or
8           b.     Legitimated the juvenile pursuant to provisions of G.S. 49-9                 10 or filed a petition for this specific purpose; or 10          c.     Legitimated the juvenile by marriage to the mother of the 11                 juvenile; or 12          d.     Provided substantial financial support or consistent care with 13                 respect to the juvenile and mother.
14          (7)    That the parent is incapable of providing for the proper care and 15                 supervision of the juvenile, such that the juvenile is a dependent
16                 juvenile within the meaning of G.S. 7B-101, and that there is a 17                 reasonable probability that such incapability will continue for the 18                 foreseeable future. Incapability under this subdivision may be the 19                 result of substance abuse, mental retardation, mental illness,
20                 organic brain syndrome, or any other similar cause or condition.
21          (8)    The parent has willfully abandoned the juvenile for at least six 22                 consecutive months immediately preceding the filing of the 23                 petition. For the purpose of this subdivision, a juvenile may be 24                 willfully abandoned by the juvenile's natural father if the mother
25                 of the juvenile had been willfully abandoned by and was living
26                 separate and apart from the father at the time of the juvenile's
27                 birth, although the father may not have known of such birth; but in 28                 any event the juvenile must be over the age of three months at the 29                 time of the filing of the petition.

30   "§ 7B-1111. Effects of termination order.

31    An order terminating the parental rights completely and permanently terminates
32    all rights and obligations of the parent to the juvenile and of the juvenile to the 33    parent arising from the parental relationship, except that the juvenile's right of 34    inheritance from the juvenile's parent shall not terminate until a final order of 35    adoption is issued. The parent is not thereafter entitled to notice of proceedings to 36    adopt the juvenile and may not object thereto or otherwise participate therein:

- 37          (1)    If the juvenile had been placed in the custody of or released for 38                 adoption by one parent to a county department of social services
39                 or licensed child-placing agency and is in the custody of the agency
40                 at the time of the filing of the petition, including a petition filed
41                 pursuant to G.S. 7B-1102(6), that agency shall, upon entry of the 42                 order terminating parental rights, acquire all of the rights for 43                 placement of the juvenile as the agency would have acquired had 44                 the parent whose rights are terminated released the juvenile to

1           that agency pursuant to the provisions of Part 7 of Article 3 of
2           Chapter 48 of the General Statutes, including the right to consent
3           to the adoption of the juvenile.

4           (2) Except as provided in subdivision (1) above, upon entering an 5           order terminating the parental rights of one or both parents, the 6           court may place the juvenile in the custody of the petitioner, or 7           some other suitable person, or in the custody of the department of 8           social services or licensed child-placing agency, as may appear to 9           be in the best interests of the juvenile.

10 "§ 7B-1112. Appeals; modification of order after affirmation.

11       Any juvenile, parent, guardian, custodian, caretaker, or agency who is a party to a
12 proceeding under this Article may appeal from an adjudication or any order of 13 disposition to the Court of Appeals, provided that notice of appeal is given in open
14 court at the time of the hearing or in writing within 10 days after the hearing.
15 Pending disposition of an appeal, the court may enter a temporary order affecting the 16 custody or placement of the juvenile as the court finds to be in the best interests of 17 the juvenile or the best interests of the State. Upon the affirmation of the order of 18 adjudication or disposition of the court in a juvenile case by the Court of Appeals, or 19 by the Supreme Court in the event of an appeal, the court shall have authority to 20 modify or alter its original order of adjudication or disposition as the court finds to 21 be in the best interests of the juvenile to reflect any adjustment made by the 22 juvenile or change in circumstances during the period of time the case on appeal was 23 pending, provided that if the modifying order be entered ex parte, the court shall give 24 notice to interested parties to show cause, if any there be, within 10 days thereafter,
25 as to why the modifying order should be vacated or altered.

28 "§ 7B-1200. Office of Guardian ad Litem Services established.

29       There is established within the Administrative Office of the Courts an Office of 30 Guardian ad Litem Services to provide services in accordance with G.S. 7B-601 to 31 abused, neglected, or dependent juveniles involved in judicial proceedings and to 32 assure that all participants in these proceedings are adequately trained to carry out
33 their responsibilities. Each local program shall consist of volunteer guardians ad
34 litem, at least one program attorney, a program coordinator who is a paid State
35 employee, and any clerical staff as the Administrative Office of the Courts in 36 consultation with the local program deems necessary. The Administrative Office of 37 the Courts shall adopt rules and regulations necessary and appropriate for the 38 administration of the program.

39 "§ 7B-1201. Implementation and administration.

40       (a) Local Programs. -- The Administrative Office of the Courts shall, in 41 cooperation with each chief district court judge and other personnel in the district,
42 implement and administer the program mandated by this Article. Where a local 43 program has not yet been established in accordance with this Article, the district

1 court district shall operate a guardian ad litem program approved by the
2 Administrative Office of the Courts.

3 (b) Advisory Committee Established. -- The Director of the Administrative Office
4 of the Courts shall appoint a Guardian ad Litem Advisory Committee consisting of at
5 least five members to advise the Office of Guardian ad Litem Services in matters
6 related to this program. The members of the Advisory Committee shall receive the 7 same per diem and reimbursement for travel expenses as members of State boards
8 and commissions generally.

9 "§ 7B-1202. Conflict of interest or impracticality of implementation.

10 If a conflict of interest prohibits a local program from providing representation to 11 an abused, neglected, or dependent juvenile, the court may appoint any member of 12 the district bar to represent the juvenile. If the Administrative Office of the Courts
13 determines that within a particular district court district the implementation of a local
14 program is impractical, or that an alternative plan meets the conditions of G.S. 7B-
15 1203, the Administrative Office of the Courts shall waive the establishment of the 16 program within the district.

17 "§ 7B-1203. Alternative plans.

18 A district court district shall be granted a waiver from the implementation of a
19 local program if the Administrative Office of the Courts determines that the following
20 conditions are met:

- 21       (1) An alternative plan has been developed to provide adequate 22 guardian ad litem services for every juvenile consistent with the 23 duties stated in G.S. 7B-601; and
24       (2) The proposed alternative plan will require no greater proportion of 25 State funds than the district court district's abuse and neglect
26 caseload represents to the State's abuse and neglect caseload.
27 Computation of abuse and neglect caseloads shall include such 28 factors as the juvenile population, number of substantiated abuse
29 and neglect reports, number of abuse and neglect petitions, number 30 of abused and neglected juveniles in care to be reviewed pursuant 31 to G.S. 7B-906, nature of the district's district court caseload, and 32 number of petitions to terminate parental rights.

33 When an alternative plan is approved pursuant to this section, the Administrative 34 Office of the Courts shall retain authority to monitor implementation of the said plan
35 in order to assure compliance with the requirements of this Article and G.S. 7B-601.
36 In any district court district where the Administrative Office of the Courts determines 37 that implementation of an alternative plan is not in compliance with the requirements
38 of this section, the Administrative Office of the Courts may implement and 39 administer a program authorized by this Article.

40 "§ 7B-1204. Civil liability of volunteers.

41 Any volunteer participating in a judicial proceeding pursuant to the program
42 authorized by this Article shall not be civilly liable for acts or omissions committed in 43 connection with the proceeding if the volunteer acted in good faith and was not 44 guilty of gross negligence.

2                                   "Prevention of Abuse and Neglect.

3 "§ 7B-1300. Purpose.

4     It is the expressed intent of this Article to make the prevention of abuse and 5 neglect, as defined in G.S. 7B-101, a priority of this State and to establish the 12     (b) Staff and support services for implementing this program shall be provided by 13 the Division of Community Schools in the Department of Public Instruction.

14     (c) In order to carry out the purposes of this Article:

15             (1) The Council shall, with the assistance of the Division of 16 Community Schools, review applications and make 17 recommendations to the State Board of Education concerning the 18 awarding of contracts pursuant to this Article.

19             (2) The State Board of Education shall contract with public or private 20 nonprofit organizations, agencies, schools, or with qualified

23 Every contract entered into by the State Board of Education shall 24 contain provisions that at least twenty-five percent (25%) of the 25 total funding required for a program be provided by the 26 administering organization in the form of in-kind or other services 27 and that a mechanism for evaluation of services provided under 28 the contract be included in the services to be performed. In 29 addition, every proposal to the Council for funding pursuant to this 30 Article shall include assurances that the proposal has been 31 forwarded to the local department of social services for comment
32 so that the Council may consider coordination and duplication of 33 effort on the local level as criteria in making recommendations to 34 the State Board of Education.

35             (3) The State Board of Education shall, with the assistance of the 36 Division of Community Schools, develop appropriate guidelines
37 and criteria for awarding contracts pursuant to this Article. These 38 criteria shall include, but not be limited to: documentation of need 39 within the proposed geographical impact area; diversity of 40 geographical areas of programs funded pursuant to this Article;
41 demonstrated effectiveness of the proposed strategy or program for 42 preventing abuse and neglect; reasonableness of implementation
43 plan for achieving stated objectives; utilization of community
44 resources including volunteers; provision for an evaluation

- 1 component that will provide outcome data; plan for dissemination
2 of the program for implementation in other communities; and 3 potential for future funding from private sources.
- 4 (4) The State Board of Education shall, with the assistance of the 5 Division of Community Schools, develop guidelines for regular 6 monitoring of contracts awarded pursuant to this Article in order
7 to maximize the investments in prevention programs by the 8 Children's Trust Fund and to establish appropriate accountability
9 measures for administration of contracts.
- 10 (5) The State Board of Education shall develop a State plan for the 11 prevention of abuse and neglect for submission to the Governor, 12 the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of 13 Representatives.
- 14 (d) To assist in implementing this Article, the State Board of Education may 15 accept contributions, grants, or gifts in cash or otherwise from persons, associations, 16 or corporations. All moneys received by the State Board of Education from 17 contributions, grants, or gifts and not through appropriation by the legislature shall be 18 deposited in the Children's Trust Fund. Disbursements of the funds shall be on the 19 authorization of the State Board of Education or a duly authorized representative 20 thereof. In order to maintain an effective expenditure and revenue control, such 21 funds shall be subject in all respects to State law and regulations, but no 22 appropriation shall be required to permit expenditure of the funds.
- 23 "§ 7B-1302. Programs.
- 24 (a) Programs contracted for under this Article are intended to prevent abuse and 25 neglect of juveniles. Abuse and neglect prevention programs are defined to be those 26 programs and services which impact on juveniles and families before any 27 substantiated incident of abuse or neglect has occurred. These programs may include, 28 but are not limited to:
- 29 (1) Community-based educational programs on prenatal care, perinatal 30 bonding, child development, basic child care, care of children with

- 42 "ARTICLE 14.
- 43 "North Carolina Child Fatality Prevention System.
- 44 "§ 7B-1400. Declaration of public policy.

The General Assembly finds that it is the public policy of this State to prevent the abuse, neglect, and death of juveniles. The General Assembly further finds that the prevention of the abuse, neglect, and death of juveniles is a community responsibility; that professionals from disparate disciplines have responsibilities for children or juveniles and have expertise that can promote their safety and well-being; and that multidisciplinary reviews of the abuse, neglect, and death of juveniles can lead to a greater understanding of the causes and methods of preventing these deaths. It is, therefore, the intent of the General Assembly, through this Article, to establish a statewide multidisciplinary, multiagency child fatality prevention system consisting of the State Team established in G.S. 7B-1404 and the Local Teams established in G.S. 7B-1406. The purpose of the system is to assess the records of selected cases in which children are being served by child protective services and the records of all deaths of children in North Carolina from birth to age 18 in order to (i) develop a communitywide approach to the problem of child abuse and neglect, (ii) understand the causes of childhood deaths, (iii) identify any gaps or deficiencies that may exist in the delivery of services to children and their families by public agencies that are designed to prevent future child abuse, neglect, or death, and (iv) make and implement recommendations for changes to laws, rules, and policies that will support the safe and healthy development of our children and prevent future child abuse, neglect, and death.

43 including the possible civil or criminal consequences of any breach of confidentiality.

(e) Cases receiving child protective services at the time of review by a Local Team shall have an entry in the child's protective services record to indicate that the case was received by that Team. Additional entry into the record shall be at the discretion of the director of the county department of social services.

(f) The Social Services Commission shall adopt rules to implement this section in connection with reviews conducted by Community Child Protection Teams. The Health Services Commission shall adopt rules to implement this section in connection with Local Teams that review additional child fatalities. #### "ARTICLE 17.

"Screening of Delinquency and Undisciplined Complaints.

"§ 7B-1700. Intake services.

The chief court counselor, under the direction of the Secretary, shall establish intake services in each judicial district of the State for all delinquency and undisciplined cases.

The purpose of intake services shall be to determine from available evidence whether there are reasonable grounds to believe the facts alleged are true, to determine whether the facts alleged constitute a delinquent or undisciplined offense within the jurisdiction of the court, to determine whether the facts alleged are sufficiently serious to warrant court action, and to obtain assistance from community resources when court referral is not necessary. The intake counselor shall not engage in field investigations to substantiate complaints or to produce supplementary evidence but may refer complainants to law enforcement agencies for those purposes.

"§ 7B-1701. Preliminary inquiry.

When a complaint is received, the intake counselor shall make a preliminary determination as to whether the juvenile is within the jurisdiction of the court as a delinquent or undisciplined juvenile. If the intake counselor finds that the facts contained in the complaint do not state a case within the jurisdiction of the court, that legal sufficiency has not been established, or that the matters alleged are frivolous, the intake counselor, without further inquiry, shall refuse authorization to file the complaint as a petition.

When requested by the intake counselor, the prosecutor shall assist in determining the sufficiency of evidence as it affects the quantum of proof and the elements of offenses.

The intake counselor, without further inquiry, shall authorize the complaint to be filed as a petition if the intake counselor finds reasonable grounds to believe that the juvenile has committed one of the following nondivertible offenses:

- (1) Murder;
- (2) First-degree rape or second degree rape;
- (3) First-degree sexual offense or second degree sexual offense;
- (4) Arson;
- (5) Any violation of Article 5, Chapter 90 of the General Statutes that would constitute a felony if committed by an adult;
- (6) First degree burglary;
- (7) Crime against nature; or
- (8) Any felony which involves the willful infliction of serious bodily injury upon another or which was committed by use of a deadly weapon.

"§ 7B-1702. Evaluation.

Upon a finding of legal sufficiency, except in cases involving nondivertible offenses set out in G.S. 7B-1701, the intake counselor shall determine whether a complaint should be filed as a petition, the juvenile diverted pursuant to G.S. 7B-1706, or the case resolved without further action. In making the decision, the counselor shall consider criteria provided by the Secretary. The intake process shall include the following steps if practicable:

- 1           (1) Interviews with the complainant and the victim if someone other
2           than the complainant;
3           (2) Interviews with the juvenile and the juvenile's parent, guardian, or
4           custodian;
5           (3) Interviews with persons known to have relevant information about
6           the juvenile or the juvenile's family.
7 Interviews required by this section shall be conducted in person unless it is necessary
8 to conduct them by telephone.

9 "§ 7B-1703. Evaluation decision.

10       (a) The intake counselor shall complete evaluation of a complaint within 15 days
11 of receipt of the complaint, with an extension for a maximum of 15 additional days at 12 the discretion of the chief court counselor. The intake counselor shall decide within 13 this time period whether a complaint shall be filed as a juvenile petition.

14       (b) If the intake counselor determines that a complaint should be filed as a
15 petition, the counselor shall file the petition as soon as practicable, but in any event
16 within 15 days after the complaint is received, with an extension for a maximum of 15
17 additional days at the discretion of the chief court counselor. The intake counselor 18 shall assist the complainant when necessary with the preparation and filing of the 19 petition, shall include on it the date and the words 'Approved for Filing', shall sign 20 it, and shall transmit it to the clerk of superior court.

21       (c) If the intake counselor determines that a petition should not be filed, the 22 intake counselor shall notify the complainant immediately in writing with reasons for 23 the decision and shall include notice of the complainant's right to have the decision 24 reviewed by the prosecutor. The intake counselor shall sign the complaint after 25 indicating on it:

- 26           (1) The date of the determination;
27           (2) The words 'Not Approved for Filing'; and
28           (3) Whether the matter is 'Closed' or 'Diverted and Retained'.

29       Except as provided in G.S. 7B-1706, any complaint not approved for filing as a 30 juvenile petition shall be destroyed by the intake counselor after holding the 31 complaint for a temporary period to allow review as provided in G.S. 7B-1705.

32 "§ 7B-1704. Request for review by prosecutor.

33       The complainant has five calendar days, from receipt of the intake counselor's
34 decision not to approve the filing of a petition, to request review by the prosecutor.
35 The intake counselor shall notify the prosecutor immediately of such request and 36 shall transmit to the prosecutor a copy of the complaint. The prosecutor shall notify 37 the complainant and the intake counselor of the time and place for the review.

38 "§ 7B-1705. Review of determination that petition should not be filed.

39       No later than 20 days after the complainant is notified, the prosecutor shall review
40 the intake counselor's determination that a juvenile petition should not be filed.
41 Review shall include conferences with the complainant and the intake counselor. At 42 the conclusion of the review, the prosecutor shall: (i) affirm the decision of the intake 43 counselor or direct the filing of a petition and (ii) notify the complainant of the 44 prosecutor's action.

1 "§ 7B-1706. Diversion plans and referral.

2 (a) Unless the offense is one in which a petition is required by G.S. 7B-1701, upon 3 a finding of legal sufficiency the intake counselor may divert the juvenile pursuant to 4 a diversion plan, which may include referring the juvenile to any of the following 5 resources:

6 (1) An appropriate public or private resource;

7 (2) Restitution;

8 (3) Community service;

9 (4) Victim-offender mediation;

10 (5) Regimented physical training;

11 (6) Counseling;

12 (7) A teen court program, as set forth in subsection (c) of this section.

13 As part of a diversion plan, the intake counselor may enter into a diversion contract
14 with the juvenile and the juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian.

15 (b) Unless the offense is one in which a petition is required by G.S. 7B-1701, upon 16 a finding of legal sufficiency the intake counselor may enter into a diversion contract
17 with the juvenile and the parent, guardian, or custodian; provided, a diversion 18 contract requires the consent of the juvenile and the juvenile's parent, guardian, or 19 custodian. A diversion contract shall:

20 (1) State conditions by which the juvenile agrees to abide and any 21 actions the juvenile agrees to take;

22 (2) State conditions by which the parent, guardian, or custodian agrees
23 to abide and any actions the parent, guardian, or custodian agrees 24 to take;

25 (3) Describe the role of the court counselor in relation to the juvenile 26 and the parent, guardian, or custodian;

27 (4) Specify the length of the contract, which shall not exceed six 28 months;

29 (5) Indicate that all parties understand and agree that:

30 a. The juvenile's violation of the contract may result in the 31 filing of the complaint as a petition; and 32 b. The juvenile's successful completion of the contract shall 33 preclude the filing of a petition.

34 After a diversion contract is signed by the parties, the intake counselor shall 35 provide copies of the contract to the juvenile and the juvenile's parent, guardian, or 36 custodian. The intake counselor shall notify any agency or other resource from which 37 the juvenile or the juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian will be seeking services or 38 treatment pursuant to the terms of the contract. At any time during the term of the 39 contract if the court counselor determines that the juvenile has failed to comply 40 substantially with the terms of the contract, the court counselor shall file the 41 complaint as a petition. Unless the court counselor has filed the complaint as a 42 petition, the counselor shall close the juvenile's file in regard to the diverted matter
43 within six months after the date of the contract.

1 (c) If a teen court program has been established in the district, the intake
2 counselor, upon a finding of legal sufficiency, may refer any case in which a juvenile 3 has allegedly committed an offense that would be an infraction or misdemeanor if 4 committed by an adult to a teen court program. However, the counselor shall not 5 refer a case to a teen court program (i) if the juvenile has been referred to a teen 6 court program previously, or (ii) if the juvenile is alleged to have committed any of 7 the following offenses:

8 (1) Driving while impaired under G.S. 20-138.1, 20-138.2, 20-138.3, 20-9 138.5, or 20-138.7, or any other motor vehicle violation;

10 (2) A Class A1 misdemeanor;

11 (3) An assault in which a weapon is used; or

12 (4) A controlled substance offense under Article 5 of Chapter 90 of the 13 General Statutes, other than simple possession of a Schedule VI
14 drug or alcohol.

15 (d) The intake counselor shall maintain diversion plans and contracts entered into 16 pursuant to this section to allow intake counselors to determine when a juvenile has 17 had a complaint diverted previously. Diversion plans and contracts are not public
18 records under Chapter 132 of the General Statutes, shall not be included in the clerk's 19 record pursuant to G.S. 7B-3000, and shall be withheld from public inspection or 20 examination. Diversion plans and contracts shall be destroyed when the juvenile 21 reaches the age of 18 years or when the juvenile is no longer under the jurisdiction of 22 the court, whichever is longer.

23 (e) No later than 60 days after the intake counselor diverts a juvenile, the intake
24 counselor shall determine whether the juvenile and the juvenile's parent, guardian, or 25 custodian have complied with the terms of the diversion plan or contract. In making 26 this determination, the intake counselor shall contact any referral resources to 27 determine whether the juvenile and the juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian
28 complied with any recommendations for treatment or services made by the resource.
29 If the juvenile and the juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian have not complied, the 30 intake counselor shall reconsider the decision to divert and may authorize the filing of 31 the complaint as a petition within 10 days after making the determination. If the 32 intake counselor does not file a petition, the intake counselor may continue to monitor
33 the case for up to six months from the date of the diversion plan or contract. At any 34 point during that time period if the juvenile and the juvenile's parent, guardian, or 35 custodian fail to comply, the intake counselor shall reconsider the decision to divert 36 and may authorize the filing of the complaint as a petition. After six months, the 37 intake counselor shall close the diversion plan or contract file.

38 "ARTICLE 18.

39 "Venue; Petition; Summons.

40 "§ 7B-1800. Venue.

41 A proceeding in which a juvenile is alleged to be delinquent or undisciplined shall 42 be commenced and adjudicated in the district in which the offense is alleged to have 43 occurred. When a proceeding is commenced in a district other than that of the juvenile's residence, the court shall proceed to adjudication in that district. After adjudication, these procedures shall be available to the court:

(1) The court may transfer the proceeding to the court in the district where the juvenile resides for disposition.

(2) Where the proceeding is not transferred under subdivision (1) of this section, the court shall immediately notify the chief district judge in the district in which the juvenile resides. If the chief district judge requests a transfer within five days after receipt of notification, the court shall transfer the proceeding.

(3) Where the proceeding is not transferred under subdivision (1) or (2), the court, upon motion of the juvenile, shall transfer the proceeding to the court in the district where the juvenile resides for disposition. The court shall advise the juvenile of the juvenile's right to transfer under this section.

"§ 7B-1801. Pleading and process.

"§ 7B-1802. Petition.

The petition shall contain the name, date of birth, and address of the juvenile and the name and last known address of the juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian. The petition shall allege the facts which invoke jurisdiction over the juvenile. The petition shall not contain information on more than one juvenile.

A petition in which delinquency is alleged shall contain a plain and concise statement, without allegations of an evidentiary nature, asserting facts supporting every element of a criminal offense and the juvenile's commission thereof with sufficient precision clearly to apprise the juvenile of the conduct which is the subject of the allegation.

Sufficient copies of the petition shall be prepared so that copies will be available for the juvenile, for each parent if living separate and apart, for the court counselor, for the prosecutor, and for any person determined by the court to be a necessary party.

"§ 7B-1803. Receipt of complaints; filing of petition.

(a) All complaints concerning a juvenile alleged to be delinquent or undisciplined shall be referred to the intake counselor for screening and evaluation. Thereafter, if the intake counselor determines that a petition should be filed, the petition shall be drawn by the intake counselor or the clerk, signed by the complainant, and verified before an official authorized to administer oaths. If the circumstances indicate a need for immediate attachment of jurisdiction and if the intake counselor is out of the county or otherwise unavailable to receive a complaint and to draw a petition when it is needed, the clerk shall assist the complainant in communicating the complaint to the intake counselor by telephone and, with the approval of the intake counselor, shall draw a petition and file it when signed and verified. A copy of the complaint and petition shall be transmitted to the intake counselor. Procedures for receiving delinquency and undisciplined complaints and drawing petitions thereon, consistent

1 with this Article and Article 17 of this Chapter shall be established by administrative
2 order of the chief judge in each judicial district.

3 (b) If review is requested pursuant to G.S. 7B-1704, the prosecutor shall review a
4 complaint and any decision of the intake counselor not to authorize that the
5 complaint be filed as a petition. If the prosecutor, after review, authorizes a 6 complaint to be filed as a petition, the prosecutor shall prepare the complaint to be
7 filed by the clerk as a petition, recording the day of filing.

8 "§ 7B-1804. Commencement of action.

9 (a) An action is commenced by the filing of a petition in the clerk's office when 10 that office is open, or by a magistrate's acceptance of a petition for filing pursuant to 11 subsection (b) of this section when the clerk's office is closed.

12 (b) When the office of the clerk is closed and an intake counselor requests a
13 petition alleging a juvenile to be delinquent or undisciplined, a magistrate may draw
14 and verify the petition and accept it for filing, which acceptance shall constitute 15 filing. The magistrate's authority under this subsection is limited to emergency
16 situations when a petition is required in order to obtain a secure or nonsecure
17 custody order. Any petition accepted for filing under this subsection shall be 18 delivered to the clerk's office for processing as soon as that office is open for 19 business.

20 "§ 7B-1805. Issuance of summons.

21 (a) Immediately after a petition has been filed alleging that a juvenile is 22 undisciplined or delinquent, the clerk shall issue a summons to the juvenile and to 23 the parent, guardian, or custodian requiring them to appear for a hearing at the time
24 and place stated in the summons. A copy of the petition shall be attached to each
25 summons.

26 (b) A summons shall be on a printed form supplied by the Administrative Office
27 of the Courts and shall include:

- 28       (1) Notice of the nature of the proceeding and the purpose of the 29       hearing scheduled on the summons.
30       (2) Notice of any right to counsel and information about how to seek
31       the appointment of counsel prior to a hearing.
32       (3) Notice that, if the court determines at the adjudicatory hearing that 33       the allegations of the petition are true, the court will conduct a
34       dispositional hearing and will have jurisdiction to enter orders
35       affecting substantial rights of the juvenile and of the parent,
36       guardian, or custodian, including orders that:
37           a. Affect the juvenile's custody;
38           b. Impose conditions on the juvenile;
39           c. Require that the juvenile receive medical, psychiatric,
40           psychological, or other treatment and that the parent,
41           guardian, or custodian participate in the treatment;
42           d. Require the parent, guardian, or custodian to undergo 43           psychiatric, psychological, or other treatment or counseling;

e. Order the parent to pay for treatment that is ordered for the juvenile or the parent; and

f. Order the parent to pay support for the juvenile for any period the juvenile does not reside with the parent or to pay attorneys' fees or other expenses as ordered by the court.

(4) Notice that the parent, guardian, or custodian shall be required to attend scheduled hearings and that failure without reasonable cause to attend may result in proceedings for contempt of court.

(5) Notice that the parent, guardian, or custodian shall be responsible for bringing the juvenile before the court at any hearing the juvenile is required to attend and that failure without reasonable cause to bring the juvenile before the court may result in proceedings for contempt of court.

(c) The summons shall advise the parent, guardian, or custodian that upon service, jurisdiction over the parent, guardian, or custodian is obtained and that failure of the parent, guardian, or custodian to appear or bring the juvenile before the court without reasonable cause or to comply with any order of the court pursuant to Article 27 of this Chapter may cause the court to issue a show cause order for contempt. The summons shall contain the following language in bold type:

'TO THE PARENT, GUARDIAN, OR CUSTODIAN: YOUR FAILURE TO APPEAR IN COURT FOR A SCHEDULED HEARING OR TO COMPLY WITH AN ORDER OF THE COURT MAY RESULT IN A FINDING OF CONTEMPT.'

(d) A summons shall be directed to the person summoned to appear and shall be delivered to any person authorized to serve process.

The summons and petition shall be personally served upon the parent, the guardian, or custodian and the juvenile not less than five days prior to the date of the scheduled hearing. The time for service may be waived in the discretion of the court.

If the parent, guardian, or custodian entitled to receive a summons cannot be found by a diligent effort, the court may authorize service of the summons and petition by mail or by publication. The cost of the service by publication shall be advanced by the petitioner and may be charged as court costs as the court may direct.

The court may issue a show cause order for contempt against a parent, guardian, or custodian who is personally served and fails without reasonable cause to appear and to bring the juvenile before the court.

The provisions of G.S. 15A-301(a), (c), (d), and (e) relating to criminal process apply to juvenile process; provided the period of time for return of an unserved summons is 30 days.

"§ 7B-1806.1. Notice to parent and juvenile of scheduled hearings.

The clerk shall give to all parties, including both parents of the juvenile, five days written notice of the date and time of all scheduled hearings unless the party is notified in open court or the court orders otherwise.

"§ 7B-1807. First appearance for felony cases.

1 (a) A juvenile who is alleged in the petition to have committed an offense that
2 would be a felony if committed by an adult shall be summoned to appear before the
3 court for a first appearance within 10 days of the filing of the petition. If the juvenile
4 is in secure or nonsecure custody, the first appearance shall take place at the initial
5 hearing required by G.S. 7B-1906. Unless the juvenile is in secure or nonsecure
6 custody, the court may continue the first appearance to a time certain for good cause.

7 (b) At the first appearance, the court shall:

8 (1) Inform the juvenile of the allegations set forth in the petition;

9 (2) Determine whether the juvenile has retained counsel or has been
10 assigned counsel and, if the juvenile is not represented by counsel,
11 appoint counsel for the juvenile;

12 (3) If applicable, inform the juvenile of the date of the probable cause 13 hearing, which shall be within 15 days of the first appearance; and

14 (4) Inform the parent, guardian, or custodian that the parent,
15 guardian, or custodian is required to attend all hearings scheduled 16 in the matter and may be held in contempt of court for failure to 17 attend any scheduled hearing.

18 "ARTICLE 19.

19 "Temporary Custody; Secure and Nonsecure Custody;
20 Custody Hearings.

21 "§ 7B-1900. Taking a juvenile into temporary custody.

22 Temporary custody means the taking of physical custody and providing personal 23 care and supervision until a court order for secure or nonsecure custody can be 24 obtained. A juvenile may be taken into temporary custody without a court order
25 under the following circumstances:

26 (1) By a law enforcement officer if grounds exist for the arrest of an
27 adult in identical circumstances under G.S. 15A-401(b).

28 (2) By a law enforcement officer or a court counselor if there are 29 reasonable grounds to believe that the juvenile is an undisciplined
30 juvenile.

31 (3) By a law enforcement officer, by a court counselor, by a member
32 of the Black Mountain Center, Alcohol Rehabilitation Center, and 33 Juvenile Evaluation Center Joint Security Force established
34 pursuant to G.S. 122C-421, or by personnel of the Department if 35 there are reasonable grounds to believe the juvenile is an
36 absconder from any residential facility operated by the Department
37 or from an approved detention facility.

38 "§ 7B-1901. Duties of person taking juvenile into temporary custody.

39 (a) A person who takes a juvenile into custody without a court order under G.S.
40 7B-1900(1) or (2) shall proceed as follows:

41 (1) Notify the juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian that the 42 juvenile has been taken into temporary custody and advise the 43 parent, guardian, or custodian of the right to be present with the 44 juvenile until a determination is made as to the need for secure or nonsecure custody. Failure to notify the parent, guardian, or custodian that the juvenile is in custody shall not be grounds for release of the juvenile.

(2) Release the juvenile to the juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian if the person having the juvenile in temporary custody decides that continued custody is unnecessary. In the case of a juvenile unlawfully absent from school, if continued custody is unnecessary, the person having temporary custody may deliver the juvenile to the juvenile's school or, if the local city or county government and the local school board adopt a policy, to a place in the local school administrative unit.

(3) If the juvenile is not released, request that a petition be drawn pursuant to G.S. 7B-1803 or G.S. 7B-1804. Once the petition has been drawn and verified, the person shall communicate with the intake counselor. If the intake counselor approves the filing of the petition, the intake counselor shall contact the judge, or the person delegated authority pursuant to G.S. 7B-1902 if other than the intake counselor, for a determination of the need for continued custody.

(b) A juvenile taken into temporary custody under this Article shall not be held for more than 12 hours, or for more than 24 hours if any of the 12 hours falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, unless a petition or motion for review has been filed and an order for secure or nonsecure custody has been entered.

(c) A person who takes a juvenile into custody under G.S. 7B-1900(3), after receiving an order for secure custody, shall transport the juvenile to the nearest approved facility providing secure custody. The person then shall contact the administrator of the facility from which the juvenile absconded, who shall be responsible for returning the juvenile to that facility.

In the case of any juvenile alleged to be within the jurisdiction of the court, when the court finds it necessary to place the juvenile in custody, the court may order that the juvenile be placed in secure or nonsecure custody pursuant to criteria set out in G.S. 7B-1903.

Any district court judge may issue secure and nonsecure custody orders pursuant to G.S. 7B-1903. The chief district court judge may delegate the court's authority to the chief court counselor or the chief court counselor's counseling staff by administrative order filed in the office of the clerk of superior court. The administrative order shall specify which persons may be contacted for approval of a secure or nonsecure custody order. The chief district court judge shall not delegate the court's authority to detain or house juveniles in holdover facilities pursuant to G.S. 7B-1905 or G.S. 7B-2509.

"§ 7B-1903. Criteria for secure or nonsecure custody.

(a) When a request is made for nonsecure custody, the court shall first consider release of the juvenile to the juvenile's parent, guardian, custodian, or other

1 responsible adult. An order for nonsecure custody shall be made only when there is a 2 reasonable factual basis to believe the matters alleged in the petition are true, and 3 that:

- 4       (1) The juvenile is a runaway and consents to nonsecure custody; or 5       (2) The juvenile meets one or more of the criteria for secure custody, 6       but the court finds it in the best interests of the juvenile that the 7       juvenile be placed in a nonsecure placement.

8       (b) When a request is made for secure custody, the court may order secure custody 9 only where the court finds there is a reasonable factual basis to believe that the 10 juvenile committed the offense as alleged in the petition, and that:

- 11       (1) The juvenile is charged with a felony and has demonstrated that 12       the juvenile is a danger to property or persons;
13       (2) The juvenile is charged with a misdemeanor at least one element
14       of which is assault on a person;
15       (3) The juvenile has willfully failed to appear on a pending
16       delinquency charge or on charges of violation of probation or post-
17       release supervision, providing the juvenile was properly notified;
18       (4) A delinquency charge is pending against the juvenile, and there is 19       reasonable cause to believe the juvenile will not appear in court;
20       (5) The juvenile is an absconder from (i) any residential facility
21       operated by the Department or any detention facility in this State
22       or (ii) any comparable facility in another state;
23       (6) There is reasonable cause to believe the juvenile should be 24       detained for the juvenile's own protection because the juvenile has 25       recently suffered or attempted self-inflicted physical injury. In such 26       case, the juvenile must have been refused admission by one
27       appropriate hospital, and the period of secure custody is limited to 28       24 hours to determine the need for inpatient hospitalization. If the 29       juvenile is placed in secure custody, the juvenile shall receive 30       continuous supervision and a physician shall be notified
31       immediately;
32       (7) The juvenile is alleged to be undisciplined by virtue of the 33       juvenile's being a runaway and is inappropriate for nonsecure
34       custody placement or refuses nonsecure custody, and the court
35       finds that the juvenile needs secure custody for up to 24 hours,
36       excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and State holidays, or where 37       circumstances require, for a period not to exceed 72 hours to 38       evaluate the juvenile's need for medical or psychiatric treatment or 39       to facilitate reunion with the juvenile's parents; or 40       (8) The juvenile is alleged to be undisciplined and has willfully failed
41       to appear in court after proper notice; the juvenile shall be brought 42       to court as soon as possible and in no event should be held more
43       than 24 hours, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and State holidays or 44       where circumstances require for a period not to exceed 72 hours.

(c) When a juvenile has been adjudicated delinquent, the court may order secure custody pending the dispositional hearing or pending placement of the juvenile pursuant to G.S. 7B-2504.

(d) The court may order secure custody for a juvenile who is alleged to have violated the conditions of the juvenile's probation or post-release supervision, but only if the juvenile is alleged to have committed acts that damage property or injure persons.

(e) If the criteria for secure custody as set out in subsection (b), (c), or (d) of this section are met, the court may enter an order directing an officer or other authorized person to assume custody of the juvenile and to take the juvenile to the place designated in the order.

"§ 7B-1904. Order for secure or nonsecure custody.

The custody order shall be in writing and shall direct a law enforcement officer or other authorized person to assume custody of the juvenile and to make due return on the order. The official executing the order shall give a copy of the order to the juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian. If the order is for secure custody, copies of the petition and custody order shall accompany the juvenile to the detention facility or holdover facility of the jail. A message of the Division of Criminal Information, State Bureau of Investigation, stating that a juvenile petition and secure custody order relating to a specified juvenile are on file in a particular county shall be authority to detain the juvenile in secure custody until a copy of the juvenile petition and secure custody order can be forwarded to the juvenile detention facility. The copies of the juvenile petition and secure custody order shall be transmitted to the detention facility no later than 72 hours after the initial detention of the juvenile.

An officer receiving an order for custody which is complete and regular on its face may execute it in accordance with its terms and need not inquire into its regularity or continued validity, nor does the officer incur criminal or civil liability for its execution.

"§ 7B-1905. Place of secure or nonsecure custody.

(a) A juvenile meeting the criteria set out in G.S. 7B-1903(a), may be placed in nonsecure custody with a department of social services or a person designated in the order for temporary residential placement in:

- (1) A licensed foster home or a home otherwise authorized by law to provide such care;
- (2) A facility operated by a department of social services; or
- (3) Any other home or facility approved by the court and designated in the order.

In placing a juvenile in nonsecure custody, the court shall first consider whether a relative of the juvenile is willing and able to provide proper care and supervision of the juvenile. If the court finds that the relative is willing and able to provide proper care and supervision, the court shall order placement of the juvenile with the relative. Placement of a juvenile outside of this State shall be in accordance with the Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children set forth in Article 38 of this Chapter.

1     (b) A juvenile meeting the criteria set out in G.S. 7B-1903(b), (c), or (d) may be
2 temporarily detained in an approved detention facility which shall be separate from 3 any jail, lockup, prison, or other adult penal institution, except as provided in 4 subsection (c) of this section. It shall be unlawful for a county or any unit of 5 government to operate a juvenile detention facility unless the facility meets the 6 standards and rules adopted by the Department of Health and Human Services.

7     (c) A juvenile who has allegedly committed an offense that would be a Class A, B1,
8 B2, C, D, or E felony if committed by an adult may be detained in secure custody in a 9 holdover facility up to 72 hours, if the court, based on information provided by the 10 court counselor, determines that no acceptable alternative placement is available and 11 the protection of the public requires the juvenile be housed in a holdover facility.

12 "§ 7B-1906. Secure or nonsecure custody hearings.

13     (a) No juvenile shall be held under a secure custody order for more than five 14 calendar days or under a nonsecure custody order for more than seven calendar days 15 without a hearing on the merits or an initial hearing to determine the need for 16 continued custody. A hearing conducted under this subsection may not be continued
17 or waived. In every case in which an order has been entered by an official exercising 18 authority delegated pursuant to G.S. 7B-1902, a hearing to determine the need for 19 continued custody shall be conducted on the day of the next regularly scheduled 20 session of district court in the city or county where the order was entered if the 21 session precedes the expiration of the applicable time period set forth in this 22 subsection. If the session does not precede the expiration of the time period, the 23 hearing may be conducted at another regularly scheduled session of district court in 24 the district where the order was entered.

25     (b) As long as the juvenile remains in secure or nonsecure custody, further
26 hearings to determine the need for continued secure custody shall be held at intervals
27 of no more than 10 calendar days. A subsequent hearing on continued nonsecure
28 custody shall be held within seven business days, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and 29 legal holidays, of the initial hearing required in subsection (a) of this section and 30 hearings thereafter shall be held at intervals of no more than 30 calendar days. In the 31 case of a juvenile alleged to be delinquent, further hearings may be waived only with 32 the consent of the juvenile, through counsel for the juvenile.

33     (c) The court shall determine whether a juvenile who is alleged to be delinquent
34 has retained counsel or has been assigned counsel; and, if the juvenile is not
35 represented by counsel, appoint counsel for the juvenile.

36     (d) At a hearing to determine the need for continued custody, the court shall 37 receive testimony and shall allow the juvenile and the juvenile's parent, guardian, or 38 custodian an opportunity to introduce evidence, to be heard in their own behalf, and 39 to examine witnesses. The State shall bear the burden at every stage of the 40 proceedings to provide clear and convincing evidence that restraints on the juvenile's
41 liberty are necessary and that no less intrusive alternative will suffice. The court shall 42 not be bound by the usual rules of evidence at the hearings.

43     (e) The court shall be bound by criteria set forth in G.S. 7B-1903 in determining
44 whether continued custody is warranted.

1 (f) The court may impose appropriate restrictions on the liberty of a juvenile who
2 is released from secure custody, including:

3 (1) Release on the written promise of the juvenile's parent, guardian,
4 or custodian to produce the juvenile in court for subsequent
5 proceedings;

6 (2) Release into the care of a responsible person or organization;

7 (3) Release conditioned on restrictions on activities, associations,
8 residence, or travel if reasonably related to securing the juvenile's
9 presence in court; or

10 (4) Any other conditions reasonably related to securing the juvenile's
11 presence in court.

12 (g) If the court determines that the juvenile meets the criteria in G.S. 7B-1903 and 13 should continue in custody, the court shall issue an order to that effect. The order
14 shall be in writing with appropriate findings of fact. The findings of fact shall include
15 the evidence relied upon in reaching the decision and the purposes which continued
16 custody is to achieve.

17 (h) The court may conduct a hearing to determine the need to continue custody by 18 audio and video transmission between the court and the juvenile in which the parties
19 can see and hear each other. If the juvenile has counsel, the juvenile may 20 communicate fully and confidentially with the juvenile's attorney during the 21 proceeding. Prior to the use of audio and video transmission, the procedures and type 22 of equipment for audio and video transmission shall be submitted to the 23 Administrative Office of the Courts by the chief district court judge and approved by 24 the Administrative Office of the Courts.

25 "§ 7B-1907. Telephonic communication authorized.

26 All communications, notices, orders, authorizations, and requests authorized or 27 required by G.S. 7B-1901, 7B-1903, and 7B-1904 may be made by telephone when 28 other means of communication are impractical. All written orders pursuant to 29 telephonic communication shall bear the name and the title of the person
30 communicating by telephone, the signature and the title of the official entering the 31 order, and the hour and the date of the authorization.

32 "ARTICLE 20.

33 "Basic Rights.

34 "§ 7B-2000. Juvenile's right to counsel; presumption of indigence.

35 (a) A juvenile alleged to be within the jurisdiction of the court has the right to be 36 represented by counsel in all proceedings. The court shall appoint counsel for the 37 juvenile, unless counsel is retained for the juvenile, in any proceeding in which the 38 juvenile is alleged to be (i) delinquent or (ii) in contempt of court when alleged or 39 adjudicated to be undisciplined.

40 (b) All juveniles shall be conclusively presumed to be indigent, and it shall not be
41 necessary for the court to receive from any juvenile an affidavit of indigency.

42 "§ 7B-2001. Appointment of guardian.

43 In any case when no parent, guardian, or custodian appears in a hearing with the 44 juvenile or when the court finds it would be in the best interests of the juvenile, the

1 court may appoint a guardian of the person for the juvenile. The guardian shall
2 operate under the supervision of the court with or without bond and shall file only
3 such reports as the court shall require. Unless the court orders otherwise, the 4 guardian:

- 5 (1) Shall have the care, custody, and control of the juvenile or may 6 arrange a suitable placement for the juvenile.
- 7 (2) May represent the juvenile in legal actions before any court.
- 8 (3) May consent to certain actions on the part of the juvenile in place
9 of the parent, guardian, or custodian, including (i) marriage, (ii)
10 enlisting in the armed forces, and (iii) enrollment in school.
- 11 (4) May consent to any necessary remedial, psychological, medical, or 12 surgical treatment for the juvenile.

13 The authority of the guardian shall continue until the guardianship is terminated by 14 court order, until the juvenile is emancipated pursuant to Subchapter IV of this
15 Chapter, or until the juvenile reaches the age of majority.

16 "§ 7B-2002. Payment of court-appointed attorney.

17 An attorney appointed pursuant to G.S. 7B-2000 or pursuant to any other 18 provision of this Subchapter shall be paid a reasonable fee fixed by the court in the 19 same manner as fees for attorneys appointed in cases of indigency through the 20 Administrative Office of the Courts. The court may require payment of the 21 attorneys' fees from a person other than the juvenile as provided in G.S. 7A-450.1, 22 7A-450.2, and 7A-450.3. A person who does not comply with the court's order of 23 payment may be found in civil contempt as provided in G.S. 5A-21.

24 "ARTICLE 21.

25 "Law Enforcement Procedures in Delinquency Proceedings.

26 "§ 7B-2100. Role of the law enforcement officer.

27 A law enforcement officer who takes a juvenile into temporary custody should 28 select the most appropriate course of action to the situation, the needs of the juvenile,
29 and the protection of the public safety. The officer may:

- 30 (1) Release the juvenile, with or without first counseling the juvenile;
- 31 (2) Release the juvenile to the juvenile's parent, guardian, or 32 custodian;
- 33 (3) Refer the juvenile to community resources;
- 34 (4) Seek a petition; or
- 35 (5) Seek a petition and request a custody order.

36 "§ 7B-2101. Interrogation procedures.

37 (a) Any juvenile in custody must be advised prior to questioning:

- 38 (1) That the juvenile has a right to remain silent;
- 39 (2) That any statement the juvenile does make can be and may be 40 used against the juvenile;
- 41 (3) That the juvenile has a right to have a parent, guardian, or 42 custodian present during questioning; and

(4) That the juvenile has a right to consult with an attorney and that one will be appointed for the juvenile if the juvenile is not represented and wants representation.

(b) When the juvenile is less than 14 years of age, no in-custody admission or confession resulting from interrogation may be admitted into evidence unless the confession or admission was made in the presence of the juvenile's parent, guardian, custodian, or attorney. If an attorney is not present, the parent, guardian, or custodian as well as the juvenile must be advised of the juvenile's rights as set out in subsection (a) of this section; however, a parent, guardian, or custodian may not waive any right on behalf of the juvenile.

(c) If the juvenile indicates in any manner and at any stage of questioning pursuant to this section that the juvenile does not wish to be questioned further, the officer shall cease questioning.

(d) Before admitting into evidence any statement resulting from custodial interrogation, the court shall find that the juvenile knowingly, willingly, and understandingly waived the juvenile's rights.

"§ 7B-2102. Fingerprinting and photographing juveniles.

(a) A law enforcement officer or agency may fingerprint and photograph a juvenile in custody who is alleged to have committed an offense that would be a felony if committed by an adult.

(b) If a law enforcement officer or agency does not take the fingerprints or a photograph of the juvenile pursuant to subsection (a) of this section or the fingerprints or photograph have been destroyed pursuant to subsection (e) of this section, a law enforcement officer or agency shall fingerprint and photograph a juvenile who has been adjudicated delinquent if the juvenile was 10 years of age or older at the time the juvenile committed an offense that would be a felony if committed by an adult.

(c) A law enforcement officer or agency who fingerprints or photographs a juvenile pursuant to this section shall do so in a proper format for transfer to the State Bureau of Investigation and the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Fingerprints obtained pursuant to this section shall be transferred to the State Bureau of Investigation and placed in the Automated Fingerprint Identification System (AFIS) to be used for all investigative and comparison purposes. Photographs obtained pursuant to this section shall be placed in a format approved by the State Bureau of Investigation and may be used for all investigative or comparison purposes. Fingerprints of a juvenile who has been adjudicated delinquent for an offense that would be a Class A, B1, B2, C, D, or E felony if committed by an adult, and who was 10 years of age or older at the time the juvenile committed the offense, shall be transferred to the Federal Bureau of Investigation to be used for all investigative or comparison purposes.

(d) Fingerprints and photographs taken pursuant to this section are not public records under Chapter 132 of the General Statutes, shall not be included in the clerk's record pursuant to G.S. 7B-3000, shall be withheld from public inspection or examination, and shall not be eligible for expunction pursuant to G.S. 7B-3200. Fingerprints and photographs taken pursuant to this section shall be maintained

1 separately from any juvenile record, other than the electronic file maintained by the
2 State Bureau of Investigation.

3 (e) If a juvenile is fingerprinted and photographed pursuant to subsection (a) of this 4 section, the custodian of records shall destroy all fingerprints and photographs at the 5 earlier of the following:

6 (1) The intake counselor or prosecutor does not file a petition against 7 the juvenile;

8 (2) The court does not find probable cause pursuant to G.S. 7B-2202; or

9 (3) The juvenile is not adjudicated delinquent.

10 The chief court counselor shall notify the local custodian of records, and the local 11 custodian of records shall notify any other record-holding agencies, when a decision is 12 made not to file a petition, the court does not find probable cause, or the court does 13 not adjudicate the juvenile delinquent.

14 "§ 7B-2103. Authority to issue nontestimonial identification order where juvenile 15 alleged to be delinquent.

16 Except as provided in G.S. 7B-2102, nontestimonial identification procedures shall 17 not be conducted on any juvenile without a court order issued pursuant to this
18 Article unless the juvenile has been charged as an adult or transferred to superior
19 court for trial as an adult in which case procedures applicable to adults, as set out in 20 Articles 14 and 23 of Chapter 15A of the General Statutes, shall apply. A
21 nontestimonial identification order authorized by this Article may be issued by any 22 judge of the district court or of the superior court upon request of a prosecutor. As 23 used in this Article, 'nontestimonial identification' means identification by 24 fingerprints, palm prints, footprints, measurements, blood specimens, urine specimens,
25 saliva samples, hair samples, or other reasonable physical examination, handwriting
26 exemplars, voice samples, photographs, and lineups or similar identification
27 procedures requiring the presence of a juvenile.

28 "§ 7B-2104. Time of application for nontestimonial identification order.

29 A request for a nontestimonial identification order may be made prior to taking a
30 juvenile into custody or after custody and prior to the adjudicatory hearing.

31 "§ 7B-2105. Grounds for nontestimonial identification order.

32 (a) Except as provided in subsection (b) of this section, a nontestimonial
33 identification order may issue only on affidavit or affidavits sworn to before the court
34 and establishing the following grounds for the order:

35 (1) That there is probable cause to believe that an offense has been 36 committed that would be a felony if committed by an adult;

37 (2) That there are reasonable grounds to suspect that the juvenile 38 named or described in the affidavit committed the offense; and

39 (3) That the results of specific nontestimonial identification procedures
40 will be of material aid in determining whether the juvenile named
41 in the affidavit committed the offense.

42 (b) A nontestimonial identification order to obtain a blood specimen from a 43 juvenile may issue only on affidavit or affidavits sworn to before the court and 44 establishing the following grounds for the order:

- (1) That there is probable cause to believe that an offense has been committed that would be a felony if committed by an adult;
- (2) That there is probable cause to believe that the juvenile named or described in the affidavit committed the offense; and
- (3) That there is probable cause to believe that obtaining a blood specimen from the juvenile will be of material aid in determining whether the juvenile named in the affidavit committed the offense.

"§ 7B-2106. Issuance of order.

Upon a showing that the grounds specified in G.S. 7B-2105 exist, the judge may issue an order following the same procedure as in the case of adults under G.S. 15A-274, 15A-275, 15A-276, 15A-277, 15A-278, 15A-279, 15A-280, and 15A-282.

"§ 7B-2107. Nontestimonial identification order at request of juvenile.

A juvenile in custody for or charged with an offense which if committed by an adult would be a felony offense may request that nontestimonial identification procedures be conducted. If it appears that the results of specific nontestimonial identification procedures will be of material aid to the juvenile's defense, the judge to whom the request was directed must order the State to conduct the identification procedures.

"§ 7B-2108. Destruction of records resulting from nontestimonial identification procedures.

The results of any nontestimonial identification procedures shall be retained or disposed of as follows:

- (1) If a petition is not filed against a juvenile who has been the subject of nontestimonial identification procedures, all records of the evidence shall be destroyed.
- (2) If the juvenile is not adjudicated delinquent or convicted in superior court following transfer, all records resulting from a nontestimonial order shall be destroyed. Further, in the case of a juvenile who is under 13 years of age and who is adjudicated delinquent for an offense that would be less than a felony if committed by an adult, all records shall be destroyed.
- (3) If a juvenile 13 years of age or older is adjudicated delinquent for an offense that would be a felony if committed by an adult, all records resulting from a nontestimonial order may be retained in the court file. Special precautions shall be taken to ensure that these records will be maintained in a manner and under sufficient safeguards to limit their use to inspection by law enforcement officers for comparison purposes in the investigation of a crime.
- (4) If the juvenile is transferred to and convicted in superior court, all records resulting from nontestimonial identification procedures shall be processed as in the case of an adult.
- (5) Any evidence seized pursuant to a nontestimonial order shall be retained by law enforcement officers until further order is entered by the court.

1           (6) Destruction of nontestimonial identification records pursuant to 2 this section shall be performed by the law enforcement agency
3 having possession of the records. Following destruction, the law
4 enforcement agency shall make written certification to the court of 5 the destruction.

6 "§ 7B-2109. Penalty for willful violation.

7 Any person who willfully violates provisions of this Article which prohibit 8 conducting nontestimonial identification procedures without an order issued by the 9 court shall be guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor.

10 "ARTICLE 22.

11 "Probable Cause Hearing and Transfer Hearing.

12 "§ 7B-2200. Transfer of jurisdiction of juvenile to superior court; direct filing in 13 superior court.

14 (a) Except as provided in subsection (b) of this section, after notice, hearing, and a 15 finding of probable cause the court may, upon motion of the prosecutor or the 16 juvenile's attorney or upon its own motion, transfer jurisdiction over a juvenile to 17 superior court if the juvenile was 13 years of age or older at the time the juvenile 18 allegedly committed an offense that would be a felony if committed by an adult. If 19 the alleged felony constitutes a Class A felony and the court finds probable cause, the 20 court shall transfer the case to the superior court for trial as in the case of adults.

21 (b) Notwithstanding G.S. 7B-1601, the prosecutor may file charges in superior court 22 against a juvenile who was 15 years of age at the time the juvenile allegedly 23 committed an offense that would be a Class A, B1, B2, C, D, or E felony if committed 24 by an adult.

25 "§ 7B-2201. Fingerprinting juvenile transferred to superior court.

26 When jurisdiction over a juvenile is transferred to the superior court, the juvenile
27 shall be fingerprinted and the juvenile's fingerprints shall be sent to the State Bureau
28 of Investigation.

29 "§ 7B-2202. Probable cause hearing.

30 (a) The court shall conduct a hearing to determine probable cause in all felony
31 cases in which a juvenile was 13 years of age or older when the offense was allegedly 32 committed. The hearing shall be conducted within 15 days of the date of the juvenile's
33 first appearance. The court may continue the hearing for good cause.

34 (b) At the probable cause hearing:

- 35           (1) A prosecutor shall represent the State;
36           (2) The juvenile shall be represented by counsel;
37           (3) The juvenile may testify, call, and examine witnesses, and present
38               evidence; and
39           (4) Each witness shall testify under oath or affirmation and be subject
40               to cross-examination.

41 (c) The State shall by nonhearsay evidence, or by evidence that satisfies an 42 exception to the hearsay rule, show that there is probable cause to believe that the 43 offense charged has been committed and that there is probable cause to believe that 44 the juvenile committed it, except:

- (1) A report or copy of a report made by a physicist, chemist, firearms identification expert, fingerprint technician, or an expert or technician in some other scientific, professional, or medical field, concerning the results of an examination, comparison, or test performed in connection with the case in issue, when stated by that person in a report made by the juvenile, is admissible in evidence;
- (2) If there is no serious contest, reliable hearsay is admissible to prove value, ownership of property, possession of property in a person other than the juvenile, lack of consent of the owner, possessor, or custodian of property to the breaking or entering of premises, chain of custody, and authenticity of signatures.

(d) Counsel for the juvenile may waive in writing the right to the hearing and stipulate to a finding of probable cause.

(e) If probable cause is found and transfer to superior court is not required by G.S. 7B-2200, upon motion of the prosecutor or the juvenile's attorney or upon its own motion, the court shall either proceed to a transfer hearing or set a date for that hearing. If the juvenile has not received notice of the intention to seek transfer at least five days prior to the probable cause hearing, the court shall continue the transfer hearing.

(f) If the court does not find probable cause for a felony offense, the court shall:

- (1) Dismiss the proceeding, or
- (2) If the court finds probable cause to believe that the juvenile committed a lesser included offense that would constitute a misdemeanor if committed by an adult, either proceed to an adjudicatory hearing or set a date for that hearing.

"§ 7B-2203. Transfer hearing.

(a) At the transfer hearing, the prosecutor and the juvenile may be heard and may offer evidence, and the juvenile's attorney may examine any court or probation records, or other records the court may consider in determining whether to transfer the case.

(b) In the transfer hearing, the court shall determine whether the protection of the public and the needs of the juvenile will be served by transfer of the case to superior court and shall consider the following factors:

- (1) The age of the juvenile;
- (2) The maturity of the juvenile;
- (3) The intellectual functioning of the juvenile;
- (4) The prior record of the juvenile;
- (5) Prior attempts to rehabilitate the juvenile;
- (6) Facilities or programs available to the court prior to the expiration of the court's jurisdiction under this Subchapter and the likelihood that the juvenile would benefit from treatment or rehabilitative efforts;
- (7) Whether the alleged offense was committed in an aggressive, violent, premeditated, or willful manner; and

1           (8) The seriousness of the offense and whether the protection of the 2           public requires that the juvenile be prosecuted as an adult.

3           (c) Any order of transfer shall specify the reasons for transfer. When the case is 4 transferred to superior court, the superior court has jurisdiction over that felony, any 5 offense based on the same act or transaction or on a series of acts or transactions 6 connected together or constituting parts of a single scheme or plan of that felony, and 7 any greater or lesser included offense of that felony.

8           (d) If the court does not transfer the case to superior court, the court shall either
9 proceed to an adjudicatory hearing or set a date for that hearing.

10 "§ 7B-2204. Right to pretrial release; detention.

11 Once the order of transfer has been entered, the juvenile has the right to pretrial
12 release as provided in G.S. 15A-533 and G.S. 15A-534. The release order shall 13 specify the person or persons to whom the juvenile may be released. Pending release, 14 the court shall order that the juvenile be detained in a detention facility while 15 awaiting trial. The court may order the juvenile to be held in a holdover facility at 16 any time the presence of the juvenile is required in court for pretrial hearings or trial,
17 if the court finds that it would be inconvenient to return the juvenile to the detention 18 facility.

19 Should the juvenile be found guilty, or enter a plea of guilty or no contest to a 20 criminal offense in superior court and receive an active sentence, then immediate 21 transfer to the Department of Correction shall be ordered. Until such time as the 22 juvenile is transferred to the Department of Correction, the juvenile may be detained
23 in a holdover facility. The juvenile may not be detained in a detention facility
24 pending transfer to the Department of Correction.

25 The juvenile may be kept by the Department of Correction as a safekeeper until 26 the juvenile is placed in an appropriate correctional program.

27 "§ 7B-2205. When jeopardy attaches.

28 Jeopardy attaches in an adjudicatory hearing when the court begins to hear 29 evidence.

30 "ARTICLE 23.

31 "Discovery.

32 "§ 7B-2300. Disclosure of evidence by petitioner.

33 (a) Statement of the Juvenile. -- Upon motion of a juvenile alleged to be
34 delinquent, the court shall order the petitioner:

35           (1) To permit the juvenile to inspect and copy any relevant written or 36 recorded statements within the possession, custody, or control of 37 the petitioner made by the juvenile or any other party charged in 38 the same action; and

39           (2) To divulge, in written or recorded form, the substance of any oral 40 statement made by the juvenile or any other party charged in the 41 same action.

42 (b) Names of Witnesses. -- Upon motion of the juvenile, the court shall order the 43 petitioner to furnish the names of persons to be called as witnesses. A copy of the

1 record of witnesses under the age of 16 shall be provided by the petitioner to the
2 juvenile upon the juvenile's motion if accessible to the petitioner.

3 (c) Documents and Tangible Objects. -- Upon motion of the juvenile, the court
4 shall order the petitioner to permit the juvenile to inspect and copy books, papers,
5 documents, photographs, motion pictures, mechanical or electronic recordings,
6 tangible objects, or portions thereof:

7 (1) Which are within the possession, custody, or control of the 8 petitioner, the prosecutor, or any law enforcement officer
9 conducting an investigation of the matter alleged; and

10 (2) Which are material to the preparation of the defense, are intended 11 for use by the petitioner as evidence, or were obtained from or 12 belong to the juvenile.

13 (d) Reports of Examinations and Tests. -- Upon motion of a juvenile, the court
14 shall order the petitioner to permit the juvenile to inspect and copy results of physical
15 or mental examinations or of tests, measurements, or experiments made in connection
16 with the case, within the possession, custody, or control of the petitioner. In addition 17 upon motion of a juvenile, the court shall order the petitioner to permit the juvenile
18 to inspect, examine, and test, subject to appropriate safeguards, any physical evidence 19 or a sample of it or tests or experiments made in connection with the evidence in the 20 case if it is available to the petitioner, the prosecutor, or any law enforcement officer
21 conducting an investigation of the matter alleged and if the petitioner intends to offer
22 the evidence at trial.

23 (e) Except as provided in subsections (a) through (d) of this section, this Article
24 does not require the production of reports, memoranda, or other internal documents
25 made by the petitioner, law enforcement officers, or other persons acting on behalf of 26 the petitioner in connection with the investigation or prosecution of the case or of 27 statements made by witnesses or the petitioner to anyone acting on behalf of the 28 petitioner.

29 (f) Nothing in this section prohibits a petitioner from making voluntary disclosures
30 in the interest of justice.

31 "§ 7B-2301. Disclosure of evidence by juvenile.

32 (a) Names of Witnesses. -- Upon motion of the petitioner, the court shall order the 33 juvenile to furnish to the petitioner the names of persons to be called as witnesses.

34 (b) Documents and Tangible Objects. -- If the court grants any relief sought by the 35 juvenile under G.S. 7B-2300, upon motion of the petitioner, the court shall order the 36 juvenile to permit the petitioner to inspect and copy books, papers, documents,
37 photographs, motion pictures, mechanical or electronic recordings, tangible objects,
38 or portions thereof which are within the possession, custody, or control of the 39 juvenile and which the juvenile intends to introduce in evidence.

40 (c) Reports of Examinations and Tests. -- If the court grants any relief sought by 41 the juvenile under G.S. 7B-2300, upon motion of the petitioner, the court shall order
42 the juvenile to permit the petitioner to inspect and copy results of physical or mental 43 examinations or of tests, measurements, or experiments made in connection with the 44 case within the possession and control of the juvenile which the juvenile intends to

1 introduce in evidence or which were prepared by a witness whom the juvenile
2 intends to call if the results relate to the witness's testimony. In addition, upon
3 motion of a petitioner, the court shall order the juvenile to permit the petitioner to
4 inspect, examine, and test, subject to appropriate safeguards, any physical evidence or
5 a sample of it if the juvenile intends to offer the evidence or tests or experiments
6 made in connection with the evidence in the case.

7 "§ 7B-2302. Regulation of discovery; protective orders.

8 (a) Upon written motion of a party and a finding of good cause, the court may at 9 any time order that discovery or inspection be denied, restricted, or deferred.

10 (b) The court may permit a party seeking relief under subsection (a) of this section
11 to submit supporting affidavits or statements to the court for in camera inspection. If 12 thereafter the court enters an order granting relief under subsection (a) of this 13 section, the material submitted in camera must be available to the Court of Appeals
14 in the event of an appeal.

15 "§ 7B-2303. Continuing duty to disclose.

16 If a party, subject to compliance with an order issued pursuant to this Article,
17 discovers additional evidence prior to or during the hearing or decides to use
18 additional evidence, and if the evidence is or may be subject to discovery or 19 inspection under this Article, the party shall promptly notify the other party of the 20 existence of the additional evidence or of the name of each additional witness.

21 "ARTICLE 24.

22 "Hearing Procedures.

23 "§ 7B-2400. Amendment of petition.

24 The court may permit a petition to be amended when the amendment does not 25 change the nature of the offense alleged. If a motion to amend is allowed, the 26 juvenile shall be given a reasonable opportunity to prepare a defense to the amended
27 allegations.

28 "§ 7B-2401. Determination of incapacity to proceed; evidence; temporary 29 commitment; temporary orders.

30 The provisions of G.S. 15A-1001, 15A-1002, and 15A-1003 apply to all cases in 31 which a juvenile is alleged to be delinquent. No juvenile committed under this 32 section may be placed in a situation where the juvenile will come in contact with 33 adults committed for any purpose.

34 "§ 7B-2402. Open hearings.

35 All hearings authorized or required pursuant to this Subchapter shall be open to the 36 public unless the court closes the hearing or part of the hearing for good cause, upon 37 motion of a party or its own motion.

38 "§ 7B-2403. Adjudicatory hearing.

39 The adjudicatory hearing shall be held within a reasonable time in the district at 40 the time and place the chief district judge designates.

41 "§ 7B-2404. Participation of the prosecutor.

42 A prosecutor shall represent the State in contested delinquency hearings including 43 first appearance, detention, probable cause, transfer, adjudicatory, dispositional, 44 probation revocation, post-release supervision, and extended jurisdiction hearings.

1 "§ 7B-2405. Conduct of the adjudicatory hearing.

2 The adjudicatory hearing shall be a judicial process designed to determine whether
3 the juvenile is undisciplined or delinquent. In the adjudicatory hearing, the court
4 shall protect the following rights of the juvenile and the juvenile's parent, guardian,
5 or custodian to assure due process of law:

6 (1) The right to written notice of the facts alleged in the petition;

7 (2) The right to counsel;

8 (3) The right to confront and cross-examine witnesses;

9 (4) The privilege against self-incrimination;

10 (5) The right of discovery; and

11 (6) All rights afforded adult offenders except the right to bail, the right 12 of self-representation, and the right of trial by jury.

13 "§ 7B-2406. Continuances.

14 The court for good cause may continue the hearing for as long as is reasonably 15 required to receive additional evidence, reports, or assessments that the court has 16 requested, or other information needed in the best interests of the juvenile and to 17 allow for a reasonable time for the parties to conduct expeditious discovery.
18 Otherwise, continuances shall be granted only in extraordinary circumstances when 19 necessary for the proper administration of justice or in the best interests of the
20 juvenile.

21 "§ 7B-2407. When admissions by juvenile may be accepted.

22 (a) The court may accept an admission from a juvenile only after first addressing 23 the juvenile personally and:

24 (1) Informing the juvenile that the juvenile has a right to remain silent
25 and that any statement the juvenile makes may be used against the
26 juvenile;

27 (2) Determining that the juvenile understands the nature of the charge;

28 (3) Informing the juvenile that the juvenile has a right to deny the 29 allegations;

30 (4) Informing the juvenile that by the juvenile's admissions the 31 juvenile waives the juvenile's right to be confronted by the 32 witnesses against the juvenile;

33 (5) Determining that the juvenile is satisfied with the juvenile's
34 representation; and

35 (6) Informing the juvenile of the most restrictive disposition on the 36 charge.

37 (b) By inquiring of the prosecutor, the juvenile's attorney, and the juvenile
38 personally, the court shall determine whether there were any prior discussions
39 involving admissions, whether the parties have entered into any arrangement with 40 respect to the admissions and the terms thereof, and whether any improper pressure
41 was exerted. The court may accept an admission from a juvenile only after 42 determining that the admission is a product of informed choice.

43 (c) The court may accept an admission only after determining that there is a 44 factual basis for the admission. This determination may be based upon any of the

1 following information: a statement of the facts by the prosecutor; a written statement
2 of the juvenile; sworn testimony which may include reliable hearsay; or a statement of
3 facts by the juvenile's attorney.

4 "§ 7B-2408. Rules of evidence.

5 If the juvenile denies the allegations of the petition, the court shall proceed in
6 accordance with the rules of evidence applicable to criminal cases. In addition, no
7 statement made by a juvenile to the intake counselor during the preliminary inquiry
8 and evaluation process shall be admissible prior to the dispositional hearing.

9 "§ 7B-2409. Quantum of proof in adjudicatory hearing.

10 The allegations of a petition alleging the juvenile is delinquent shall be proved
11 beyond a reasonable doubt. The allegations in a petition alleging undisciplined
12 behavior shall be proved by clear and convincing evidence.

13 "§ 7B-2410. Record of proceedings.

14 All adjudicatory and dispositional hearings and hearings on probable cause and 15 transfer to superior court shall be recorded by stenographic notes or by electronic or 16 mechanical means. Records shall be reduced to a written transcript only when timely
17 notice of appeal has been given. The court may order that other hearings be 18 recorded.

19 "§ 7B-2411. Adjudication.

20 If the court finds that the allegations in the petition have been proved as provided
21 in G.S. 7B-2409, the court shall so state. If the court finds that the allegations have 22 not been proved, the court shall dismiss the petition with prejudice and the juvenile 23 shall be released from secure or nonsecure custody if the juvenile is in custody.

24 "§ 7B-2412. Legal effect of adjudication of delinquency.

25 An adjudication that a juvenile is delinquent or commitment of a juvenile to the 26 Department shall neither be considered conviction of any criminal offense nor cause
27 the juvenile to forfeit any citizenship rights.

28 "§ 7B-2413. Predisposition investigation and report.

29 The court shall proceed to the dispositional hearing upon receipt of sufficient
30 social, medical, psychiatric, psychological, and educational information. No
31 predisposition report shall be submitted to or considered by the court prior to the 32 completion of the adjudicatory hearing. The court shall permit the juvenile to inspect
33 any predisposition report to be considered by the court in making the disposition
34 unless the court determines that disclosure would seriously harm the juvenile's
35 treatment or rehabilitation or would violate a promise of confidentiality. Opportunity
36 to offer evidence in rebuttal shall be afforded the juvenile and the juvenile's parent,
37 guardian, or custodian at the dispositional hearing. The court may order counsel not 38 to disclose parts of the report to the juvenile or the juvenile's parent, guardian, or 39 custodian if the court finds that disclosure would seriously harm the treatment or 40 rehabilitation of the juvenile or would violate a promise of confidentiality given to a 41 source of information.

42 "ARTICLE 25.

43 "Dispositions.

44 "§ 7B-2500. Purpose.

The purpose of dispositions in juvenile actions is to design an appropriate plan to meet the needs of the juvenile and to achieve the objectives of the State in exercising jurisdiction, including the protection of the public. The court should develop a disposition in each case that:

(1) Promotes public safety;

(2) Emphasizes accountability and responsibility of both the parent, guardian, or custodian and the juvenile for the juvenile's conduct; and

(3) Provides the appropriate consequences, treatment, training, and rehabilitation to assist the juvenile toward becoming a nonoffending, responsible, and productive member of the community.

"§ 7B-2500.1. Dispositional hearing.

(a) The dispositional hearing may be informal, and the court may consider written reports or other evidence concerning the needs of the juvenile.

(b) The juvenile and the juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian shall have an opportunity to present evidence, and they may advise the court concerning the disposition they believe to be in the best interests of the juvenile.

(c) In choosing among statutorily permissible dispositions, the court shall select the most appropriate disposition both in terms of kind and duration for the delinquent juvenile. Within the guidelines set forth in G.S. 7B-2505, the court shall select a disposition that is designed to protect the public and to meet the needs and best interests of the juvenile, based upon:

(1) The seriousness of the offense;

(2) The need to hold the juvenile accountable;

(3) The importance of protecting the public safety;

(4) The degree of culpability indicated by the circumstances of the particular case; and

(5) The rehabilitative and treatment needs of the juvenile.

(d) The court may dismiss the case, or continue the case for no more than six months in order to allow the family an opportunity to meet the needs of the juvenile through more adequate home supervision, through placement in a private or specialized school or agency, through placement with a relative, or through some other plan approved by the court.

"§ 7B-2500.2. Evaluation and treatment of undisciplined and delinquent juveniles.

(a) In any case, the court may order that the juvenile be examined by a physician, psychiatrist, psychologist, or other qualified expert as may be needed for the court to determine the needs of the juvenile.

(b) Upon completion of the examination, the court shall conduct a hearing to determine whether the juvenile is in need of medical, surgical, psychiatric, psychological, or other evaluation or treatment and who should pay the cost of the evaluation or treatment. The county manager, or any other person who is designated by the chair of the board of county commissioners, of the county of the juvenile's residence shall be notified of the hearing, and allowed to be heard. If the court finds

1 the juvenile to be in need of medical, surgical, psychiatric, psychological, or other 2 evaluation or treatment, the court shall permit the parent, guardian, custodian, or 3 other responsible persons to arrange for evaluation or treatment. If the parent, 4 guardian, or custodian declines or is unable to make necessary arrangements, the 5 court may order the needed evaluation or treatment, surgery, or care, and the court
6 may order the parent to pay the cost of the care pursuant to Article 27 of this 7 Chapter. If the court finds the parent is unable to pay the cost of evaluation or 8 treatment, the court shall order the county to arrange for evaluation or treatment of 9 the juvenile and to pay for the cost of the evaluation or treatment. The county 10 department of social services shall recommend the facility that will provide the 11 juvenile with evaluation or treatment.

12 (c) If the court believes, or if there is evidence presented to the effect that the 13 juvenile is mentally ill or is developmentally disabled, the court shall refer the 14 juvenile to the area mental health, developmental disabilities, and substance abuse
15 services director for appropriate action. A juvenile shall not be committed directly to 16 a State hospital or mental retardation center; and orders purporting to commit a 17 juvenile directly to a State hospital or mental retardation center except for an 18 examination to determine capacity to proceed shall be void and of no effect. The area 19 mental health, developmental disabilities, and substance abuse director shall be 20 responsible for arranging an interdisciplinary evaluation of the juvenile and 21 mobilizing resources to meet the juvenile's needs. If institutionalization is determined
22 to be the best service for the juvenile, admission shall be with the voluntary consent
23 of the parent or guardian. If the parent, guardian, or custodian refuses to consent to a 24 mental hospital or retardation center admission after such institutionalization is 25 recommended by the area mental health, developmental disabilities, and substance
26 abuse director, the signature and consent of the court may be substituted for that 27 purpose. In all cases in which a regional mental hospital refuses admission to a
28 juvenile referred for admission by the court and an area mental health,
29 developmental disabilities, and substance abuse director or discharges a juvenile 30 previously admitted on court referral prior to completion of the juvenile's treatment, 31 the hospital shall submit to the court a written report setting out the reasons for 32 denial of admission or discharge and setting out the juvenile's diagnosis, indications
33 of mental illness, indications of need for treatment, and a statement as to the location
34 of any facility known to have a treatment program for the juvenile in question.

35 "§ 7B-2501. Dispositional alternatives for undisciplined juveniles.

36 The following alternatives for disposition shall be available to the court exercising
37 jurisdiction over a juvenile who has been adjudicated undisciplined. The court may 38 combine any of the applicable alternatives when the court finds it to be in the best 39 interests of the juvenile:

- 40 (1) In the case of any juvenile who needs more adequate care or 41 supervision or who needs placement, the judge may:
42 a. Require that the juvenile be supervised in the juvenile's own
43 home by a department of social services in the juvenile's
44 county of residence, a court counselor, or other personnel as

- 1                   may be available to the court, subject to conditions
2                   applicable to the parent, guardian, or custodian or the
3                   juvenile as the judge may specify; or
4           b.       Place the juvenile in the custody of a parent, guardian,
5                   custodian, relative, private agency offering placement
6                   services, or some other suitable person; or
7           c.       Place the juvenile in the custody of a department of social 8                   services in the county of the juvenile's residence, or in the 9                   case of a juvenile who has legal residence outside the State,
10                  in the physical custody of a department of social services in 11                  the county where the juvenile is found so that agency may 12                  return the juvenile to the responsible authorities in the
13                  juvenile's home state. The director may, unless otherwise
14                  ordered by the judge, arrange for, provide, or consent to,
15                  needed routine or emergency medical or surgical care or
16                  treatment. In the case where the parent is unknown,
17                  unavailable, or unable to act on behalf of the child or 18                  children, the director may, unless otherwise ordered by the 19                  judge, arrange for, provide or consent to any psychiatric,
20                  psychological, educational, or other remedial evaluations or 21                  treatment for the juvenile placed by a judge or the judge's
22                  designee in the custody or physical custody of a county 23                  department of social services under the authority of this or 24                  any other Chapter of the General Statutes. Prior to 25                  exercising this authority, the director shall make reasonable 26                  efforts to obtain consent from a parent or guardian of the 27                  affected child. If the director cannot obtain consent, the 28                  director shall promptly notify the parent or guardian that 29                  care or treatment has been provided and shall give the 30                  parent or guardian frequent status reports on the 31                  circumstances of the child. Upon request of a parent or 32                  guardian of the affected child, the results or records of the 33                  aforementioned evaluations, findings, or treatment shall be
34                  made available to the parent or guardian by the director
35                  unless prohibited by G.S. 122C-53(d).
36       (2)       Place the juvenile under the protective supervision of a court
37                  counselor for no more than one year.
38       (3)       Excuse the juvenile from compliance with the compulsory school
39                  attendance law when the court finds that suitable alternative plans
40                  can be arranged by the family through other community resources
41                  for one of the following: an education related to the needs or 42                  abilities of the juvenile including vocational education or special 43                  education; a suitable plan of supervision or placement; or some

1           other plan that the court finds to be in the best interests of the
2           juvenile.

3 "§ 7B-2502. Conditions of protective supervision for undisciplined juveniles.

4       The court may place a juvenile on protective supervision pursuant to G.S. 7B-2501
5 so that the court counselor may (i) assist the juvenile in securing social, medical, and 6 educational services and (ii) visit and work with the family as a unit to ensure the 7 juvenile is provided proper supervision and care. The court may impose any 8 combination of the following conditions of protective supervision that are related to 9 the needs of the juvenile, including:

- 10           (1) That the juvenile shall remain on good behavior and not violate any 11           laws;
- 12           (2) That the juvenile attend school regularly;
- 13           (3) That the juvenile maintain passing grades in up to four courses 14           during each grading period and meet with the court counselor and 15           a representative of the school to make a plan for how to maintain 16           those passing grades;
- 17           (4) That the juvenile not associate with specified persons or be in 18           specified places;
- 19           (5) That the juvenile abide by a prescribed curfew;
- 20           (6) That the juvenile report to a court counselor as often as required by 21           a court counselor;
- 22           (7) That the juvenile be employed regularly if not attending school; and 23           (8) That the juvenile satisfy any other conditions determined
24           appropriate by the court.

25 "§ 7B-2503. Contempt of court for undisciplined juveniles.

26       Upon motion of the court counselor or on the court's own motion, the court may 27 issue an order directing a juvenile who has been adjudicated undisciplined to appear 28 and show cause why the juvenile should not be held in contempt for willfully failing to 29 comply with an order of the court. The first time the juvenile is held in contempt, the 30 court may order the juvenile confined in an approved detention facility for a period
31 not to exceed 24 hours. The second time the juvenile is held in contempt, the court 32 may order the juvenile confined in an approved detention facility for a period not to 33 exceed three days. The third time and all subsequent times the juvenile is held in 34 contempt, the court may order the juvenile confined in an approved detention facility 35 for a period not to exceed five days.

36 "§ 7B-2504. Dispositional alternatives for delinquent juveniles.

37       The court exercising jurisdiction over a juvenile who has been adjudicated
38 delinquent may use the following alternatives in accordance with the dispositional
39 structure set forth in G.S. 7B-2505:

- 40           (1) In the case of any juvenile who needs more adequate care or 41           supervision or who needs placement, the judge may:
  - 42           a. Require that a juvenile be supervised in the juvenile's own
43           home by the department of social services in the juvenile's
44           county, a court counselor, or other personnel as may be

- 1                   available to the court, subject to conditions applicable to the
2                   parent, guardian, or custodian or the juvenile as the judge
3                   may specify; or
4            b.   Place the juvenile in the custody of a parent, guardian,
5                   custodian, relative, private agency offering placement
6                   services, or some other suitable person; or
7            c.   Place the juvenile in the custody of the department of social
8                   services in the county of his residence, or in the case of a 9                   juvenile who has legal residence outside the State, in the 10                  physical custody of a department of social services in the 11                  county where the juvenile is found so that agency may 12                  return the juvenile to the responsible authorities in the 13                  juvenile's home state. The director may, unless otherwise
14                  ordered by the judge, arrange for, provide, or consent to,
15                  needed routine or emergency medical or surgical care or
16                  treatment. In the case where the parent is unknown,
17                  unavailable, or unable to act on behalf of the child or 18                  children, the director may, unless otherwise ordered by the 19                  judge, arrange for, provide, or consent to any psychiatric,
20                  psychological, educational, or other remedial evaluations or
21                  treatment for the juvenile placed by a judge or his designee
22                  in the custody or physical custody of a county department of 23                  social services under the authority of this or any other
24                  Chapter of the General Statutes. Prior to exercising this 25                  authority, the director shall make reasonable efforts to 26                  obtain consent from a parent or guardian of the affected
27                  child. If the director cannot obtain such consent, the 28                  director shall promptly notify the parent or guardian that 29                  care or treatment has been provided and shall give the 30                  parent or guardian frequent status reports on the 31                  circumstances of the child. Upon request of a parent or 32                  guardian of the affected child, the results or records of the 33                  mentioned evaluations, findings, or treatment shall be
34                  made available to such parent or guardian by the director
35                  unless prohibited by G.S. 122C-53(d).
36    (2)   Excuse the juvenile from compliance with the compulsory school
37            attendance law when the court finds that suitable alternative plans
38            can be arranged by the family through other community resources
39            for one of the following: an education related to the needs or 40            abilities of the juvenile including vocational education or special
41            education; a suitable plan of supervision or placement; or some 42            other plan that the court finds to be in the best interests of the
43            juvenile.

- (3) Order the juvenile to cooperate with a community-based program or a professional residential or nonresidential treatment program. Participation in the programs shall not exceed 12 months.
- (4) Require restitution, full or partial, payable within a 12-month period to any person who has suffered loss or damage as a result of the offense committed by the juvenile. The court may determine the amount, terms, and conditions of the restitution. If the juvenile participated with another person or persons, all participants should be jointly and severally responsible for the payment of restitution; however, the court shall not require the juvenile to make restitution if the juvenile satisfies the court that the juvenile does not have, and could not reasonably acquire, the means to make restitution.
- (5) Impose a fine related to the seriousness of the juvenile's offense. If the juvenile has the ability to pay the fine, it shall not exceed the maximum fine for the offense if committed by an adult.
- (6) Order the juvenile to perform supervised community service consistent with the juvenile's age, skill, and ability, specifying the nature of the work and the number of hours required. The work shall be related to the seriousness of the juvenile's offense and in no event may the obligation to work exceed 12 months.
- (7) Order the juvenile to participate in the victim-offender reconciliation program.
- (8) Place the juvenile on probation under the supervision of a court counselor, as specified in G.S. 7B-2506.
- (9) Order that the juvenile shall not be licensed to operate a motor vehicle in the State of North Carolina for as long as the court retains jurisdiction over the juvenile or for any shorter period of time and notify the Division of Motor Vehicles of that order.
- (10) Impose a curfew upon the juvenile.
- (11) Order the juvenile to cooperate with placement in a residential treatment facility or in a group home other than a multipurpose group home operated by a State agency.
- (12) Order the juvenile to cooperate with placement in a wilderness program.
- (13) Impose confinement on an intermittent basis in an approved detention facility. Confinement shall be limited to not more than five 24-hour periods, the timing of which is determined by the court in its discretion.
- (14) Place the juvenile on intensive probation under the supervision of a court counselor.
- (15) Order the juvenile to cooperate with a supervised day program requiring the juvenile to be present at a specified place for all or part of every day or of certain days. The court also may require the juvenile to comply with any other reasonable conditions specified in the dispositional order that are designed to facilitate supervision.

(16) Order the juvenile to participate in a regimented training program.

(17) Order the juvenile to submit to house arrest.

(18) Suspend imposition of a more severe, statutorily permissible disposition with the provision that the juvenile meet certain conditions agreed to by the juvenile and specified in the dispositional order. The conditions shall not exceed the allowable dispositions for the level under which disposition is being imposed.

(19) Order that the juvenile be confined in a secure juvenile detention facility for a term of up to 14 24-hour periods, which confinement shall not be imposed consecutively with intermittent confinement pursuant to subdivision (13) of this section at the same dispositional hearing.

(20) Order the residential placement of a juvenile in a multipurpose group home operated by a State agency.

(21) Commit the juvenile to the Department in accordance with G.S. 7B-2509 for a period of not less than six months.

"§ 7B-2504.1. Delinquency history levels.

(a) Generally. -- The delinquency history level for a delinquent juvenile is determined by calculating the sum of the points assigned to each of the juvenile's prior adjudications and to the juvenile's probation status, if any, that the court finds to have been proved in accordance with this section.

(b) Points. -- Points are assigned as follows:

(1) For each prior adjudication of a Class A through E felony offense, 4 points.

(2) For each prior adjudication of a Class F through I felony offense or Class A1 misdemeanor offense, 2 points.

(3) For each prior adjudication of a Class 1, 2, or 3 misdemeanor offense, 1 point.

(4) If the juvenile was on probation at the time of adjudication, 2 points.

(c) Delinquency History Levels. -- The delinquency history levels are:

(1) Low -- No more than 1 point.

(2) Medium -- At least 2, but not more than 3 points.

(3) High -- At least 4 points.

In determining the delinquency history level, the classification of a prior offense is the classification assigned to that offense at the time the juvenile committed the offense for which disposition is being ordered.

(d) Multiple Prior Adjudications Obtained in One Court Session. -- For purposes of determining the delinquency history level, if a juvenile is adjudicated delinquent for more than one offense in a single session of district court, only the adjudication for the offense with the highest point total is used.

1 (e) Classification of Prior Adjudications From Other Jurisdictions. -- Except as 2 otherwise provided in this subsection, an adjudication occurring in a jurisdiction other
3 than North Carolina is classified as a Class I felony if the jurisdiction in which the 4 offense occurred classifies the offense as a felony, or is classified as a Class 3 5 misdemeanor if the jurisdiction in which the offense occurred classifies the offense as
6 a misdemeanor. If the juvenile proves by the preponderance of the evidence that an 7 offense classified as a felony in the other jurisdiction is substantially similar to an 8 offense that is a misdemeanor in North Carolina, the conviction is treated as that class
9 of misdemeanor for assigning delinquency history level points. If the State proves by 10 the preponderance of the evidence that an offense classified as either a misdemeanor
11 or a felony in the other jurisdiction is substantially similar to an offense in North 12 Carolina that is classified as a Class I felony or higher, the conviction is treated as 13 that class of felony for assigning delinquency history level points. If the State proves 14 by the preponderance of the evidence that an offense classified as a misdemeanor in 15 the other jurisdiction is substantially similar to an offense classified as a Class A1
16 misdemeanor in North Carolina, the adjudication is treated as a Class A1
17 misdemeanor for assigning delinquency history level points.

18 (f) Proof of Prior Adjudications. -- A prior adjudication shall be proved by any of 19 the following methods:

- 20 (1) Stipulation of the parties.
- 21 (2) An original or copy of the court record of the prior adjudication.
- 22 (3) A copy of records maintained by the Division of Criminal
23 Information or by the Department.
- 24 (4) Any other method found by the court to be reliable.

25 The State bears the burden of proving, by a preponderance of the evidence, that a 26 prior adjudication exists and that the juvenile before the court is the same person as 27 the juvenile named in the prior adjudication. The original or a copy of the court
28 records or a copy of the records maintained by the Division of Criminal Information
29 or of the Department, bearing the same name as that by which the juvenile is 30 charged, is prima facie evidence that the juvenile named is the same person as the 31 juvenile before the court, and that the facts set out in the record are true. For 32 purposes of this subsection, 'a copy' includes a paper writing containing a
33 reproduction of a record maintained electronically on a computer or other data
34 processing equipment, and a document produced by a facsimile machine. The 35 prosecutor shall make all feasible efforts to obtain and present to the court the 36 juvenile's full record. Evidence presented by either party at trial may be utilized to 37 prove prior adjudications. If asked by the juvenile, the prosecutor shall furnish the 38 juvenile's prior adjudications to the juvenile within a reasonable time sufficient to 39 allow the juvenile to determine if the record available to the prosecutor is accurate.
40 "§ 7B-2505. Dispositional limits for each class of offense and delinquency history
41 level.

42 (a) Offense Classification. -- The offense classifications are as follows:

- 43 (1) Violent -- adjudication of a Class A through E felony offense;

(2) Serious -- adjudication of a Class F through I felony offense or a Class A1 misdemeanor;

(3) Minor -- adjudication of a Class 1, 2, or 3 misdemeanor.

(b) Delinquency History Levels. -- A delinquency history level shall be determined for each delinquent juvenile as provided in G.S. 7B-2504.1.

(c) Level 1 -- Community Disposition. -- A court exercising jurisdiction over a juvenile who has been adjudicated delinquent and for whom the dispositional chart in subsection (f) of this section prescribes a Level 1 disposition may provide for evaluation and treatment under G.S. 7B-2500.2 and for any of the dispositional alternatives contained in subdivisions (1) through (13) of G.S. 7B-2504. In determining which dispositional alternative is appropriate, the court shall consider the needs of the juvenile, the appropriate community resources available to meet those needs, and the protection of the public.

(d) Level 2 -- Intermediate Disposition. -- A court exercising jurisdiction over a juvenile who has been adjudicated delinquent and for whom the dispositional chart in subsection (f) of this section prescribes a Level 2 disposition may provide for evaluation and treatment under G.S. 7B-2500.2 and for any of the dispositional alternatives contained in subdivisions (1) through (20) of G.S. 7B-2504, but shall provide for at least one of the intermediate dispositions authorized in subdivisions (12) and (14) through (20) of G.S. 7B-2504. In determining which dispositional alternative is appropriate, the court shall consider the needs of the juvenile, the appropriate community resources available to meet those needs, and the protection of the public.

(e) Level 3 -- Commitment. -- A court exercising jurisdiction over a juvenile who has been adjudicated delinquent and for whom the dispositional chart in subsection (f) of this section prescribes a Level 3 disposition shall commit the juvenile to the Department in accordance with G.S. 7B-2504(21). However, a court may impose a Level 2 disposition rather than a Level 3 disposition if the court submits written findings on the record that substantiate extraordinary needs on the part of the offending juvenile.

DELINQUENCY HISTORY

OFFENSE

	LOW	MEDIUM	HIGH
VIOLENT	Level 2 or 3	Level 3	Level 3
SERIOUS	Level 1 or 2	Level 2	Level 2 or 3

MINOR	Level 1	Level 1 or 2	Level 2.

(g) The court may consider as a mitigating factor evidence of a juvenile's cooperation with law enforcement in providing information about other persons with whom the juvenile acted in the commission of the offense for which the juvenile was adjudicated. A mitigating factor may be used in determining the appropriate dispositional options within the level prescribed by the dispositional chart in subsection (f) of this section.

(h) If a juvenile is adjudicated of more than one offense at the same time, the court shall consolidate the offenses for disposition and impose a single disposition for the consolidated offenses. The disposition shall be specified for the class of offense and delinquency history level of the most serious offense.

"§ 7B-2506. Conditions of probation; violation of probation.

(a) In any case where a juvenile is placed on probation pursuant to G.S. 7B-2504(8), the court counselor shall have the authority to visit the juvenile where the juvenile resides. The court may impose conditions of probation that are related to the needs of the juvenile and that are reasonably necessary to ensure that the juvenile will lead a law-abiding life, including:

- (1) That the juvenile shall remain on good behavior and not violate any laws.
- (2) That the juvenile attend school regularly.
- (3) That the juvenile maintain passing grades in up to four courses during each grading period and meet with the court counselor and a representative of the school to make a plan for how to maintain those passing grades.
- (4) That the juvenile not associate with specified persons or be in specified places.
- (5) That the juvenile remain free of any controlled substance included in any schedule of Article 5 of Chapter 90 of the General Statutes, the Controlled Substances Act, and the juvenile submit to random drug testing.
- (6) That the juvenile abide by a prescribed curfew.
- (7) That the juvenile submit to a warrantless search at reasonable times.
- (8) That the juvenile possess no firearm, explosive device, or other deadly weapon.
- (9) That the juvenile report to a court counselor as often as required by a court counselor.
- (10) That the juvenile make specified financial restitution or pay a fine in accordance with G.S. 7B-2504(4) and (5).
- (11) That the juvenile be employed regularly if not attending school.
- (12) That the juvenile satisfy any other conditions determined appropriate by the court.

(b) In addition to the regular conditions of probation specified in subsection (a) of this section, the court may order the juvenile to comply, if directed to comply by the court counselor, with one or more of the following conditions:

- (1) Perform up to 20 hours of community service;
- (2) Submit to substance abuse monitoring and treatment;
- (3) Cooperate with electronic monitoring;
- (4) Cooperate with intensive supervision; and
- (5) Participate in a life skills or an educational skills program administered by the Department.

(c) An order of probation shall remain in force for a period not to exceed two years from the date entered. Prior to expiration of an order of probation, the court may extend it for an additional period of one year after a hearing if the court finds that the extension is necessary to protect the community or to safeguard the welfare of the juvenile.

(d) If the juvenile violates the conditions of probation set by the court, the court may elect to continue the original conditions of probation, modify the conditions of probation, or, except as provided in subsection (e) of this section, order a new disposition at the next higher level on the disposition chart in G.S. 7B-2505. In the court's discretion, part of the new disposition may include an order of confinement in a secure juvenile detention facility for up to twice the term authorized by G.S. 7B-2505.

"§ 7B-2507. Probation review.

The court may review the progress of any juvenile on probation at any time during the period of probation or at the end of probation. Except as provided in G.S. 7B-2506, the conditions or duration of probation may be modified only as provided in this Subchapter and only after there is notice and a hearing. If a juvenile violates the conditions of probation, the juvenile and the juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian after notice may be required to appear before the court and the court may make any disposition of the matter authorized by this Subchapter. At the end of or at any time during probation, the court may terminate probation by written order upon finding that there is no further need for supervision. The finding and order terminating probation may be entered in chambers in the absence of the juvenile and may be based on a report from the court counselor or, at the election of the court, the order may be entered with the juvenile present after notice and a hearing.

"§ 7B-2508. Dispositional order.

The dispositional order shall be in writing and shall contain appropriate findings of fact and conclusions of law. The court shall state with particularity, both orally and in the written order of disposition, the precise terms of the disposition including the kind, duration, and the person who is responsible for carrying out the disposition and the person or agency in whom custody is vested.

"§ 7B-2509. Commitment of delinquent juvenile to Department.

(a) Pursuant to G.S. 7B-2504 and G.S. 7B-2505, the court may commit a delinquent juvenile who is at least 10 years of age to the Department for placement in one of the residential facilities operated by the Department. Commitment shall be for

1 a definite or indefinite term of at least six months. In no event shall the term exceed
2 the nineteenth birthday of the juvenile.

3 (b) The court may commit a juvenile to a definite term of not more than two
4 years if the court finds that the juvenile is 14 years of age or older, has been
5 previously adjudicated delinquent for two or more felony offenses, and has been
6 previously committed to a residential facility operated by the Department.

7 (c) The chief court counselor shall have the responsibility for transporting the 8 juvenile to the residential facility designated by the Department. The juvenile shall be
9 accompanied to the residential facility by a person of the same sex.

10 (d) The chief court counselor shall ensure that the records requested by the 11 Secretary or the Secretary's designee accompany the juvenile upon transportation for 12 admittance to a training school or, if not obtainable at the time of admission, are sent 13 to the training school within 15 days of the admission. If records requested by the 14 Department for admission do not exist, to the best knowledge of the chief court
15 counselor, the chief court counselor shall so stipulate in writing to the training school.
16 If such records do exist, but the chief court counselor is unable to obtain copies of 17 them, a district court may order that the records from public agencies be made
18 available to the training school. Records that are confidential by law shall remain
19 confidential and the Department shall be bound by the specific laws governing the 20 confidentiality of these records. All records shall be used in a manner consistent with 21 the best interests of the juvenile.

22 (e) A commitment order accompanied by information requested by the Secretary
23 shall be forwarded to the Department. The Secretary shall place the juvenile in the 24 residential facility that would best provide for the juvenile's needs and shall notify the 25 committing court. The Secretary may assign a juvenile committed for delinquency to 26 any institution or other program of the Department or licensed by the Department,
27 which program is appropriate to the needs of the juvenile.

28 (f) When the court commits a juvenile to the Department, the Secretary shall 29 prepare a plan for care or treatment within 30 days after assuming custody of the
30 juvenile.

31 (g) Commitment of a juvenile to the Department does not terminate the court's 32 continuing jurisdiction over the juvenile and the juvenile's parent, guardian, or 33 custodian. Commitment of a juvenile to the Department transfers only physical 34 custody of the juvenile. Legal custody remains with the parent, guardian, custodian,
35 agency, or institution in whom it was vested.

36 (h) Pending placement of a juvenile with the Department, the court may house a
37 juvenile who has been adjudicated delinquent for an offense that would be a Class A,
38 B1, B2, C, D, or E felony if committed by an adult in a holdover facility up to 72
39 hours if the court, based on the information provided by the court counselor, 40 determines that no acceptable alternative placement is available and the protection of 41 the public requires that the juvenile be housed in a holdover facility.

42 "§ 7B-2510. Post-release supervision planning; release.

43 (a) The Secretary shall be responsible for evaluation of the progress of each 44 juvenile at least once every six months as long as the juvenile remains in the care of

1 the Department. If the Secretary determines that a juvenile is ready for release, the
2 Secretary shall initiate a post-release supervision planning process. The post-release
3 supervision planning process shall be defined by rules and regulations of the 4 Department, but shall include the following:

5 (1) Written notification shall be given to the court that ordered
6 commitment.

7 (2) A post-release supervision planning conference shall be held
8 involving as many as possible of the following: the juvenile, the 9 juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian, court counselors who
10 have supervised the juvenile on probation or will supervise the 11 juvenile on post-release supervision, and staff of the facility that 12 found the juvenile ready for release. The planning conference shall 13 include personal contact and evaluation rather than telephonic
14 notification.

15 (3) The planning conference participants shall consider, based on the 16 individual needs of the juvenile and pursuant to rules adopted by 17 the Department, placement of the juvenile in any program under 18 the auspices of the Department, including the Community-Based 19 Alternatives programs, that, in the judgment of the Department,
20 may serve as a transitional placement, pending release under G.S.
21 7B-2512.

22 (b) The Department shall develop the plan in writing and base the terms on the 23 needs of the juvenile and the protection of the public. Every plan shall require the 24 juvenile to complete at least 90 days of post-release supervision.

25 (c) The Department shall release a juvenile under a plan of post-release supervision 26 at least 90 days prior to the later of:

27 (1) Completion of the juvenile's definite term of commitment; or

28 (2) If the juvenile is committed for an indefinite term, either on the 29 juvenile's eighteenth birthday if no motion for extended jurisdiction
30 has been filed pursuant to G.S. 7B-2513 or on the juvenile's
31 nineteenth birthday.

32 (d) Notwithstanding Articles 30 and 31 of Subchapter III of this Chapter, before
33 the court releases a juvenile who is serving a commitment for a Class A or B1 felony
34 to post-release supervision, the Department shall notify, at least 45 days in advance of 35 the scheduled release date, by first-class mail at the last known address:

36 (1) The juvenile;

37 (2) The juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian;

38 (3) The district attorney of the district where the juvenile was 39 adjudicated;

40 (4) The head law enforcement agency that took the juvenile into 41 custody; and

42 (5) The victim and any of the victim's immediate family members who 43 have requested in writing to be notified.

1    The notification shall include only the juvenile's name, offense, date of
2 commitment, and date of consideration for release. A copy of the notice shall be
3 placed in the juvenile's file.

4    (e) The Department may release a juvenile under an indefinite commitment to 5 post-release supervision only after the juvenile has been committed for a period of at 6 least six months.

7    (f) A juvenile committed to the Department for a definite term shall receive credit
8 toward that term for the time the juvenile spends on post-release supervision.

9    "§ 7B-2511. Revocation of post-release supervision.

10    If a juvenile fails to complete the terms of post-release supervision, the court
11 counselor providing post-release supervision may make a motion for review in the 12 court in the district where the juvenile has been residing during post-release
13 supervision. The court shall hold a hearing to determine whether there has been a 14 violation. With respect to any hearing pursuant to this section, the juvenile:

15            (1) Shall have reasonable notice in writing of the nature and content
16                of the allegations in the motion, including notice that the purpose
17                of the hearing is to determine whether the juvenile has violated the 18                terms of post-release supervision to the extent that post-release
19                supervision should be revoked;

20            (2) Shall be represented by an attorney at the hearing;

21            (3) Shall have the right to confront and cross-examine any persons
22                who have made allegations against the juvenile; and

23            (4) May admit, deny, or explain the violation alleged and may present
24                proof, including affidavits or other evidence, in support of the 25                juvenile's contentions. A record of the proceeding shall be made
26                and preserved in the juvenile's record.

27    If the court determines that the juvenile has violated the terms of post-release
28 supervision, the court may revoke the post-release supervision or make any other
29 disposition authorized by this Subchapter.

30    If the court revokes the post-release supervision, the chief court counselor shall 31 have the responsibility for returning the juvenile to the facility specified by the 32 Department.

33    "§ 7B-2512. Final discharge.

34    (a) The Department shall release a juvenile only after the juvenile completes post-
35 release supervision or when the juvenile is released to the Department of Correction
36 pursuant to G.S. 15A-1340.16B.

37    (b) Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, in no event shall a juvenile
38 remain committed after the juvenile's eighteenth birthday except pursuant to G.S.
39 7B-2513.

40    "§ 7B-2513. Extended jurisdiction under certain circumstances; review hearing.

41    (a) By order of the court, juvenile court jurisdiction over a juvenile may be 42 extended past the age of 18 years until the person reaches the person's nineteenth 43 birthday. The provisions of this Subchapter shall apply to any person under the

1 jurisdiction of the juvenile court pursuant to this section, regardless of whether the
2 term 'person' or 'juvenile' is used in the provision.

3 (b) When the chief court counselor, or the Department if the juvenile is committed
4 to the Department, determines a juvenile should remain under the jurisdiction of the 5 court for a period of time after the age of 18 years, the chief court counselor or 6 Department shall file a motion for a review hearing in the judicial district where the 7 juvenile was adjudicated. This motion shall be filed at least 180 days prior to the 8 eighteenth birthday of the juvenile. The chief court counselor or Department shall 9 notify the juvenile, the juvenile's attorney, and the juvenile's parent, guardian, or
10 custodian in writing of the date and time of the scheduled hearing at least 10 days
11 prior to the scheduled hearing date.

12 (c) Within 30 days after the motion is filed, the court shall conduct a review
13 hearing to determine whether the juvenile shall remain under the jurisdiction of the 14 court. The court counselor and the prosecutor shall attend the hearing and, if the 15 court requests, present testimony or evidence as to whether the juvenile continues to 16 be in need of and can benefit from further treatment or services.

17 (d) In determining whether to order that the juvenile remain under the 18 jurisdiction of the court, the court shall consider:

19 (1) The recommendation of the chief court counselor or the Secretary
20 based on the juvenile's progress;

21 (2) The likelihood that continued jurisdiction will lead to further 22 rehabilitation;

23 (3) The safety and protection of the facility's juvenile population, if 24 applicable; and

25 (4) The protection of the public.

26 (e) If the court orders the juvenile remain under the jurisdiction of the court and 27 the juvenile is committed to the Department, commitment shall be for a definite term 28 or an indefinite term not to exceed the nineteenth birthday of the person.

29 (f) The Secretary shall modify the plan for care or treatment of the juvenile 30 prepared pursuant to G.S. 7B-2509.

31 "§ 7B-2514. Transfer authority of Governor.

32 The Governor may order transfer of any person less than 18 years of age from any 33 jail or penal facility of the State to one of the residential facilities operated by the 34 Department in appropriate circumstances, provided the Governor shall consult with 35 the Department concerning the feasibility of the transfer in terms of available space, 36 staff, and suitability of program.

37 When an inmate, committed to the Department of Correction, is transferred by the 38 Governor to a residential program operated by the Department, the Department may 39 release the juvenile based on the needs of the juvenile and the best interests of the 40 State. Transfer shall not divest the probation or parole officer of the officer's 41 responsibility to supervise the inmate on release.

42 "ARTICLE 26.

43 "Modification and Enforcement of Dispositional Orders; Appeals.

44 "§ 7B-2600. Authority to modify or vacate.

1 (a) Upon motion in the cause or petition, and after notice, the court may conduct
2 a review hearing to determine whether the order of the court is in the best interests
3 of the juvenile, and the court may modify or vacate the order in light of changes in
4 circumstances or the needs of the juvenile.

5 (b) In a case of delinquency, the court may reduce the nature or the duration of 6 the disposition on the basis that it was imposed in an illegal manner or is unduly 7 severe with reference to the seriousness of the offense, the culpability of the juvenile,
8 or the dispositions given to juveniles convicted of similar offenses.

9 (c) In any case where the court finds the juvenile to be delinquent or 10 undisciplined, the jurisdiction of the court to modify any order or disposition made in 11 the case shall continue (i) during the minority of the juvenile, (ii) until the juvenile 12 reaches the age of 19 years, if the court has extended jurisdiction, or (iii) until 13 terminated by order of the court.

14 "§ 7B-2601. Request for modification for lack of suitable services.

15 If the Secretary finds that any juvenile committed to the Department's care is not 16 suitable for its program, the Secretary may make a motion in the cause so that the 17 court may make an alternative disposition that is consistent with G.S. 7B-2505.

18 "§ 7B-2602. Right to appeal.

19 Upon motion of a proper party as defined in G.S. 7B-2603, review of any final 20 order of the court in a juvenile matter under this Article shall be before the Court of 21 Appeals. Notice of appeal shall be given in open court at the time of the hearing or 22 in writing within 10 days after entry of the order. However, if no disposition is made
23 within 60 days after entry of the order, written notice of appeal may be given within 24 70 days after such entry. A final order shall include:

25 (1) Any order finding absence of jurisdiction;

26 (2) Any order which in effect determines the action and prevents a
27 judgment from which appeal might be taken;

28 (3) Any order of disposition after an adjudication that a juvenile is 29 delinquent or undisciplined; or

30 (4) Any order modifying custodial rights.

31 "§ 7B-2603. Proper parties for appeal.

32 An appeal may be taken by the juvenile, the juvenile's parent, guardian, or 33 custodian, or the State or county agency. The State's appeal is limited to the 34 following orders in delinquency or undisciplined cases:

35 (1) An order finding a State statute to be unconstitutional; and

36 (2) Any order which terminates the prosecution of a petition by 37 upholding the defense of double jeopardy, by holding that a cause
38 of action is not stated under a statute, or by granting a motion to 39 suppress.

40 "§ 7B-2604. Disposition pending appeal.

41 Pending disposition of an appeal, the release of the juvenile, with or without 42 conditions, should issue in every case unless the court orders otherwise. For 43 compelling reasons which must be stated in writing, the court may enter a temporary order affecting the custody or placement of the juvenile as the court finds to be in the best interests of the juvenile or the State.

"§ 7B-2605. Disposition after appeal.

Upon the affirmation of the order of adjudication or disposition of the court by the Court of Appeals or by the Supreme Court in the event of an appeal, the court shall have authority to modify or alter the original order of adjudication or disposition as the court finds to be in the best interests of the juvenile to reflect any adjustment made by the juvenile or change in circumstances during the period of time the appeal was pending. If the modifying order is entered ex parte, the court shall give notice to interested parties to show cause within 10 days thereafter as to why the modifying order should be vacated or altered.

"ARTICLE 27.

"Authority Over Parents of Juveniles

Adjudicated Delinquent or Undisciplined.

"§ 7B-2700. Appearance in court.

(a) The parent, guardian, or custodian of a juvenile under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court shall attend the hearings of which the parent, guardian, or custodian receives notice. The court may excuse the appearance of either or both parents or the guardian or custodian at subsequent hearings. Unless so excused, the willful failure of a parent, guardian, or custodian to attend a hearing of which the parent, guardian, or custodian has notice shall be grounds for contempt.

(b) No employer may discharge or demote any employee because the employee is required to appear in court pursuant to this section. Any employer who violates any provision of this section shall be liable in a civil action for reasonable damages suffered by an employee as a result of the violation, and an employee discharged or demoted in violation of this section shall be entitled to be reinstated to the employee's former position. The burden of proof shall be upon the employee. The statute of limitations for actions under this section shall be one year pursuant to G.S. 1-54.

"§ 7B-2701. Parental responsibility classes.

The court may order the parent of a juvenile who has been adjudicated undisciplined or delinquent to attend parental responsibility classes if those classes are available in the judicial district in which the parent resides.

"§ 7B-2702. Medical, surgical, psychiatric, or psychological evaluation or treatment of juvenile or parent.

(a) If the court orders medical, surgical, psychiatric, psychological, or other evaluation or treatment pursuant to G.S. 7B-2500.2, the court may order the parent or other responsible parties to pay the cost of the treatment or care ordered.

(b) At the dispositional hearing or a subsequent hearing, if the court finds that it is in the best interests of the juvenile for the parent, guardian, or custodian to be directly involved in the juvenile's evaluation or treatment, the court may order that person to participate in medical, psychiatric, psychological, or other evaluation or treatment of the juvenile. The cost of the evaluation or treatment shall be paid pursuant to G.S. 7B-2500.2.

(c) At the dispositional hearing or a subsequent hearing, the court may determine whether the best interests of the juvenile require that the parent, guardian, or custodian undergo psychiatric, psychological, or other evaluation or treatment or counseling directed toward remedying behaviors or conditions that led to or contributed to the juvenile's adjudication or to the court's decision to remove custody of the juvenile from the parent, guardian, or custodian. If the court finds that the best interests of the juvenile require the parent, guardian, or custodian undergo evaluation or treatment, it may order that person to comply with a plan of evaluation or treatment approved by the court or condition legal custody or physical placement of the juvenile with the parent, guardian, or custodian upon that person's compliance with the plan of evaluation or treatment.

(d) In cases in which the court has ordered the parent of the juvenile, rather than a guardian or custodian, to comply with or undergo evaluation or treatment, the court may order the parent to pay the cost of evaluation or treatment ordered pursuant to this subsection. In cases in which the court has conditioned legal custody or physical placement of the juvenile with the parent upon the parent's compliance with a plan of evaluation or treatment, the court may charge the cost of the evaluation or treatment to the county of the juvenile's residence if the court finds the parent is unable to pay the cost of the evaluation or treatment. In all other cases, if the court finds the parent is unable to pay the cost of the evaluation or treatment ordered pursuant to this subsection, the court may order the parent to receive evaluation or treatment currently available from the area mental health program that serves the parent's catchment area.

"§ 7B-2703. Compliance with orders of court.

(a) The court may order the parent, guardian, or custodian, to the extent that person is able to do so, to provide transportation for a juvenile to keep an appointment with a court counselor or to comply with other orders of the court.

(b) The court may order a parent, guardian, or custodian to cooperate with and assist the juvenile in complying with the terms and conditions of probation or other orders of the court.

"§ 7B-2704. Payment of support or other expenses; assignment of insurance coverage.

At the dispositional hearing or a subsequent hearing, if the court finds that the parent is able to do so, the court may order the parent to:

(1) Pay a reasonable sum that will cover in whole or in part the support of the juvenile. If the court requires the payment of child support, the amount of the payments shall be determined as provided in G.S. 50-13.4;

(2) Pay a fee for probation supervision or residential facility costs;

(3) Assign private insurance coverage to cover medical costs while the juvenile is in secure detention, training school, or other out-of-home placement; and

(4) Pay court-appointed attorneys' fees.

If the court places a juvenile in the custody of a county department of social services and if the court finds that the parent is unable to pay the cost of the support required

1 by the juvenile, the cost shall be paid by the county department of social services in
2 whose custody the juvenile is placed, provided the juvenile is not receiving care in an
3 institution owned or operated by the State or federal government or any subdivision
4 thereof.

5 "§ 7B-2705. Contempt for failure to comply.

6 Upon motion of the court counselor or prosecutor or upon the court's own
7 motion, the court may issue an order directing the parent, guardian, or custodian to 8 appear and show cause why the parent, guardian, or custodian should not be found or 9 held in civil or criminal contempt for willfully failing to comply with an order of the 10 court. Chapter 5A of the General Statutes shall govern contempt proceedings initiated 11 pursuant to this Article.

12 "ARTICLE 28.

13 "Interstate Compact on Juveniles.

14 "§ 7B-2800. Execution of Compact.

15 The Governor is hereby authorized and directed to execute a Compact on behalf
16 of this State with any other state or states legally joining therein in the form
17 substantially as follows: The contracting states solemnly agree.

18 "§ 7B-2801. Findings and purposes.

19 Juveniles who are not under proper supervision and control, or who have 20 absconded, escaped, or run away, are likely to endanger their own health, morals,
21 and welfare, and the health, morals, and welfare of others. The cooperation of the 22 states party to this Compact is therefore necessary to provide for the welfare and 23 protection of juveniles and of the public with respect to:

- 24 (1) Cooperative supervision of delinquent juveniles on probation or 25 parole;
- 26 (2) The return, from one state to another, of delinquent juveniles who 27 have escaped or absconded;
- 28 (3) The return, from one state to another, of nondelinquent juveniles
29 who have run away from home; and
- 30 (4) Additional measures for the protection of juveniles and of the 31 public, which any two or more of the party states may find
32 desirable to undertake cooperatively.

33 In carrying out the provisions of this Compact, the party states shall be guided by 34 the noncriminal, reformatory, and protective policies which guide their laws
35 concerning delinquent, neglected, or dependent juveniles generally. It shall be the 36 policy of the states party to this Compact to cooperate and observe their respective 37 responsibilities for the prompt return and acceptance of juveniles and delinquent
38 juveniles who become subject to the provisions of this Compact. The provisions of 39 this Compact shall be reasonably and liberally construed to accomplish the foregoing
40 purposes.

41 "§ 7B-2802. Existing rights and remedies.

42 All remedies and procedures provided by this Compact are in addition to and not 43 in substitution for other rights, remedies, and procedures and are not in derogation of 44 parental rights and responsibilities.

1 "§ 7B-2803. Definitions.

2 For the purposes of this Compact, 'delinquent juvenile' means any juvenile who
3 has been adjudged delinquent and who, at the time the provisions of this Compact
4 are invoked, is still subject to the jurisdiction of the court that has made adjudication
5 or to the jurisdiction or supervision of an agency or institution pursuant to an order
6 of the court; 'probation or parole' means any kind of post-release supervision of 7 juveniles authorized under the laws of the states party hereto; 'court' means any court
8 having jurisdiction over delinquent, neglected, or dependent children; 'state' means
9 any state, territory, or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, and 10 the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico; and 'residence' or any variant thereof means a 11 place at which a home or regular place of abode is maintained.

12 "§ 7B-2804. Return of runaways.

13 (a) The parent, guardian, person, or agency entitled to legal custody of a juvenile 14 who has not been adjudged delinquent but who has run away without the consent of 15 the parent, guardian, person, or agency may petition the appropriate court in the 16 demanding state for the issuance of a requisition for the juvenile's return. The 17 petition shall state the name and age of the juvenile, the name of the petitioner and
18 the basis of entitlement to the juvenile's custody, the circumstances of the running
19 away, the juvenile's location if known at the time application is made, and any other 20 facts that may tend to show that the juvenile who has run away is endangering the 21 juvenile's own welfare or the welfare of others and is not an emancipated minor. The 22 petition shall be verified by affidavit, shall be executed in duplicate, and shall be 23 accompanied by two certified copies of the document or documents on which the 24 petitioner's entitlement to the juvenile's custody is based, such as birth certificates,
25 letters of guardianship, or custody decrees. Any further affidavits and other
26 documents as may be deemed proper may be submitted with the petition. The judge 27 of the court to which this application is made may hold a hearing thereon to 28 determine whether for the purposes of this Compact the petitioner is entitled to the 29 legal custody of the juvenile, whether or not it appears that the juvenile has in fact
30 run away without consent, whether or not the juvenile is an emancipated minor, and
31 whether or not it is in the best interests of the juvenile to compel the juvenile's return
32 to the state. If the judge determines, either with or without a hearing, that the 33 juvenile should be returned, the judge shall present to the appropriate court or to the 34 executive authority of the state where the juvenile is alleged to be located a written 35 requisition for the return of the juvenile. The requisition shall set forth the name and
36 age of the juvenile, the determination of the court that the juvenile has run away
37 without the consent of a parent, guardian, person, or agency entitled to legal custody,
38 and that it is in the best interests and for the protection of the juvenile that the 39 juvenile be returned. In the event that a proceeding for the adjudication of the 40 juvenile as a delinquent, neglected, or dependent juvenile is pending in the court at 41 the time when the juvenile runs away, the court may issue a requisition for the return
42 of the juvenile upon its own motion, regardless of the consent of the parent, guardian,
43 person, or agency entitled to legal custody, reciting therein the nature and 44 circumstances of the pending proceeding. The requisition shall in every case be

1 executed in duplicate and shall be signed by the judge. One copy of the requisition
2 shall be filed with the Compact Administrator of the demanding state, there to
3 remain on file subject to the provisions of law governing records of the court. Upon 4 the receipt of a requisition demanding the return of a juvenile who has run away, the
5 court or the executive authority to whom the requisition is addressed shall issue an
6 order to any peace officer or other appropriate person directing that person to take
7 into custody and detain the juvenile. The detention order must substantially recite the 8 facts necessary to the validity of its issuance hereunder. No juvenile detained upon 9 the order shall be delivered over to the officer whom the court has appointed to 10 receive the juvenile unless the juvenile first is taken before a judge of a court in the 11 state, who shall inform the juvenile of the demand made for the juvenile's return, and 12 who may appoint counsel or guardian ad litem for the juvenile. If the court finds that
13 the requisition is in order, the court shall deliver the juvenile over to the officer
14 appointed to receive the juvenile by the court demanding the juvenile. The court,
15 however, may fix a reasonable time to be allowed for the purpose of testing the 16 legality of the proceeding.

17 Upon reasonable information that a person is a juvenile who has run away from 18 another state party to this Compact without the consent of a parent, guardian, person,
19 or agency entitled to legal custody, the juvenile may be taken into custody without a
20 requisition and brought before a judge of the appropriate court who may appoint
21 counsel or guardian ad litem for the juvenile and who shall determine after a hearing
22 whether sufficient cause exists to hold the person, subject to the order of the court,
23 for the juvenile's own protection and welfare, for such a time not exceeding 90 days
24 as will enable the return of the juvenile to another state party to this Compact
25 pursuant to a requisition for return from a court of that state. If, at the time when a
26 state seeks the return of a juvenile who has run away, there is pending in the state
27 wherein the juvenile is found, any criminal charge, or any proceeding to have the 28 juvenile adjudicated a delinquent juvenile for an act committed in the state, or if the 29 juvenile is suspected of having committed within the state a criminal offense or an act
30 of juvenile delinquency, the juvenile shall not be returned without the consent of the 31 state until discharged from prosecution or other form of proceeding, imprisonment,
32 detention, or supervision for the offense or juvenile delinquency. The duly accredited
33 officers of any state party to this Compact, upon the establishment of their authority 34 and the identity of the juvenile being returned, shall be permitted to transport the 35 juvenile through any and all states party to this Compact, without interference. Upon 36 return of the juvenile to the state from which the juvenile ran away, the juvenile shall 37 be subject to such further proceedings as may be appropriate under the laws of that 38 state.

39 (b) The state to which the juvenile is returned under this Article shall be
40 responsible for payment of the transportation costs of return.

41 (c) The term 'juvenile' as used in this Article means any person who is a minor
42 under the law of the state of residence of the parent, guardian, person, or agency
43 entitled to the legal custody of the minor.

44 "§ 7B-2805. Return of escapees and absconders.

1 (a) The appropriate person or authority from whose probation or parole
2 supervision a delinquent juvenile has absconded or from whose institutional custody a
3 delinquent juvenile has escaped shall present to the appropriate court or to the 4 executive authority of the state where the delinquent juvenile is alleged to be located
5 a written requisition for the return of the delinquent juvenile. The requisition shall
6 state the name and age of the delinquent juvenile, the particulars of the juvenile's
7 adjudication as a delinquent juvenile, the circumstances of the breach of the terms of 8 probation or parole or of the juvenile's escape from an institution or agency vested
9 with legal custody or supervision, and the location of the delinquent juvenile, if 10 known, at the time the requisition is made. The requisition shall be verified by 11 affidavit, shall be executed in duplicate, and shall be accompanied by two certified
12 copies of the judgment, formal adjudication, or order of commitment which subjects
13 the delinquent juvenile to probation or parole or to the legal custody of the 14 institution or agency concerned. Any further affidavits and documents as may be 15 deemed proper may be submitted with the requisition. One copy of the requisition
16 shall be filed with the Compact Administrator of the demanding state, there to 17 remain on file subject to the provisions of the law governing records of the 18 appropriate court. Upon the receipt of a requisition demanding the return of a 19 delinquent juvenile who has absconded or escaped, the court or the executive 20 authority to whom the requisition is addressed shall issue an order to any peace
21 officer or other appropriate person directing the person to take into custody and 22 detain such delinquent juvenile. The detention order must substantially recite the 23 facts necessary to the validity of its issuance hereunder. No delinquent juvenile 24 detained upon the order shall be delivered over to the officer whom the appropriate
25 person or authority demanding the juvenile has appointed to receive the juvenile,
26 unless the juvenile is first taken forthwith before a judge of an appropriate court in 27 the state, who shall inform the juvenile of the demand made for the return and who 28 may appoint counsel or guardian ad litem for the juvenile. If the judge of the court
29 finds that the requisition is in order, the judge shall deliver the delinquent juvenile 30 over to the officer whom the appropriate person or authority demanding the juvenile 31 appointed to receive the juvenile. The judge, however, may fix a reasonable time to 32 be allowed for the purpose of testing the legality of the proceeding.

33 Upon reasonable information that a person is a delinquent juvenile who has 34 absconded while on probation or parole, or escaped from an institution or agency
35 vested with legal custody or supervision in any state party to this Compact, the 36 person may be taken into custody in any other state party to this Compact without a 37 requisition. But in that event, the juvenile shall be taken forthwith before a judge of 38 the appropriate court, who may appoint counsel or guardian ad litem for the person
39 and who shall determine after a hearing, whether sufficient cause exists to hold the 40 person subject to the order of the court for a length of time, not exceeding 90 days, as
41 will enable detention of the juvenile under a detention order issued on a requisition
42 pursuant to this Article. If, at the time when a state seeks the return of a delinquent 43 who has either absconded while on probation or parole or escaped from an 44 institution or agency vested with legal custody or supervision, there is pending in the

1 state wherein the juvenile is detained any criminal charge or any proceeding to have
2 the juvenile adjudicated a delinquent juvenile for an act committed in the state, or if
3 the juvenile is suspected of having committed a criminal offense or an act of juvenile
4 delinquency within the state, the juvenile shall not be returned without the consent of
5 the state until discharged from prosecution or other form of proceeding,
6 imprisonment, detention, or supervision for the offense or juvenile delinquency. The 7 duly accredited officers of any state party to this Compact, upon the establishment of 8 their authority and the identity of the delinquent juvenile being returned, shall be 9 permitted to transport the delinquent juvenile through any and all states party to this
10 Compact, without interference. Upon return to the state from which the juvenile 11 escaped or absconded, the delinquent juvenile shall be subject to any further 12 proceedings appropriate under the laws of that state.

13 (b) The state to which a delinquent juvenile is returned under this Article shall be
14 responsible for the payment of transportation costs of the return.

15 "§ 7B-2806. Voluntary return procedure.

16 Any delinquent juvenile who has absconded while on probation or parole, or 17 escaped from an institution or agency vested with legal custody or supervision in any
18 state party to this Compact, and any juvenile who has run away from any state party
19 to this Compact, who is taken into custody without a requisition in another state
20 party to this Compact under the provisions of G.S. 7B-2804(a) or G.S. 7B-2805(a),
21 may consent to the immediate return of the juvenile to the state from which the 22 juvenile absconded, escaped, or ran away. Consent shall be given by the juvenile or 23 delinquent juvenile and the juvenile's counsel or guardian ad litem, if any, by 24 executing or subscribing a writing in the presence of a judge of the appropriate court,
25 which states that the juvenile or delinquent juvenile and the juvenile's counsel or 26 guardian ad litem, if any, consent to return of the juvenile to the demanding state.
27 Before consent is executed or subscribed, however, the judge, in the presence of 28 counsel or guardian ad litem, if any, shall inform the juvenile or delinquent juvenile 29 of the juvenile's rights under this Compact. When the consent has been duly 30 executed, it shall be forwarded to and filed with the Compact Administrator of the 31 state in which the court is located, and the judge shall direct the officer having the 32 juvenile or delinquent juvenile in custody to deliver the juvenile to the duly 33 accredited officer or officers of the state demanding return of the juvenile and shall 34 cause to be delivered to the officer or officers a copy of the consent. The court may,
35 however, upon the request of the state to which the juvenile or delinquent juvenile is 36 being returned, order the juvenile to return unaccompanied to the state and shall 37 provide the juvenile with a copy of the court order; in that event a copy of the 38 consent shall be forwarded to the Compact Administrator of the state to which the 39 juvenile or delinquent juvenile is ordered to return.

40 "§ 7B-2807. Cooperative supervision of probationers and parolees.

41 (a) That the duly constituted judicial and administrative authorities of a state party
42 to this Compact (herein called 'sending state') may permit any delinquent juvenile 43 within such state, placed on probation or parole, to reside in any other state party to 44 this Compact (herein called 'receiving state') while on probation or parole, and the

1 receiving state shall accept the delinquent juvenile, if the parent, guardian, or person
2 entitled to the legal custody of the delinquent juvenile is residing or undertakes to
3 reside within the receiving state. Before granting permission, opportunity shall be
4 given to the receiving state to make investigations as it deems necessary. The
5 authorities of the sending state shall send to the authorities of the receiving state
6 copies of pertinent court orders, social case studies, and all other available
7 information which may be of value to and assist the receiving state in supervising a
8 probationer or parolee under this Compact. A receiving state, in its discretion, may 9 agree to accept supervision of a probationer or parolee in cases where the parent,
10 guardian, or person entitled to the legal custody of the delinquent juvenile is not a 11 resident of the receiving state, and if so accepted, the sending state may transfer the 12 supervision accordingly.

13 (b) That each receiving state will assume the duties of visitation and of supervision
14 over any delinquent juvenile and in the exercise of those duties will be governed by 15 the same standards of visitation and supervision that prevail for its own delinquent
16 juveniles released on probation or parole.

17 (c) That, after consultation between the appropriate authorities of the sending state
18 and of the receiving state as to the desirability and necessity of returning the 19 delinquent juvenile, the duly accredited officers of a sending state may enter a
20 receiving state and there apprehend and retake any delinquent juvenile on probation
21 or parole. For that purpose, no formalities will be required other than establishing the 22 authority of the officer and the identity of the delinquent juvenile to be retaken and 23 returned. The decision of the sending state to retake a delinquent juvenile on 24 probation or parole shall be conclusive upon and not reviewable within the receiving 25 state, but if, at the time the sending state seeks to retake a delinquent juvenile on 26 probation or parole, there is pending against the juvenile within the receiving state
27 any criminal charge or any proceeding to have the juvenile adjudicated a delinquent
28 juvenile for any act committed in the state or if the juvenile is suspected of having 29 committed within the state a criminal offense or an act of juvenile delinquency, the 30 juvenile shall not be returned without the consent of the receiving state until 31 discharged from prosecution or other form of proceeding, imprisonment, detention,
32 or supervision for the offense or juvenile delinquency. The duly accredited officers of 33 the sending state shall be permitted to transport delinquent juveniles being so
34 returned through any and all states party to this Compact without interference.

35 (d) The sending state shall be responsible under this Article for paying the costs of 36 transporting any delinquent juvenile to the receiving state or of returning any 37 delinquent juvenile to the sending state.

38 "§ 7B-2808. Responsibility for costs.

39 (a) The provisions of G.S. 7B-2804(b), 7B-2805(b), and 7B-2807(d) shall not be
40 construed to alter or affect any internal relationship among the departments, agencies,
41 and officers of and in the government of a party state, or between a party state and its 42 subdivisions, as to the payment of costs or responsibilities therefor.

43 (b) Nothing in this Compact shall be construed to prevent any party state or 44 subdivision thereof from asserting any right against any person, agency, or other

1 entity in regard to costs for which such party state or subdivision thereof may be
2 responsible pursuant to G.S. 7B-2804(b), 7B-2805(b), and 7B-2807(d).

3 "§ 7B-2809. Detention practices.

4 To every extent possible, it shall be the policy of states party to this Compact that
5 no juvenile or delinquent juvenile shall be placed or detained in any prison, jail, or 6 lockup, nor be detained or transported in association with criminal, vicious, or 7 dissolute persons.

8 "§ 7B-2810. Supplementary agreements.

9 The duly constituted administrative authorities of a state party to this Compact
10 may enter into supplementary agreements with any other state or states party hereto
11 for the cooperative care, treatment, and rehabilitation of delinquent juveniles
12 whenever they find that the agreements will improve the facilities or programs
13 available for care, treatment, and rehabilitation. Care, treatment, and rehabilitation
14 may be provided in an institution located within any state entering into a 15 supplementary agreement. Supplementary agreements shall:

- 16 (1) Provide the rates to be paid for the care, treatment, and custody of 17 delinquent juveniles taking into consideration the character of 18 facilities, services, and subsistence furnished;
- 19 (2) Provide that the delinquent juvenile shall be given a court hearing 20 prior to the juvenile being sent to another state for care, treatment,
21 and custody;
- 22 (3) Provide that the state receiving a delinquent juvenile in one of its 23 institutions shall act solely as agent for the state sending the 24 delinquent juvenile;
- 25 (4) Provide that the sending state shall at all times retain jurisdiction 26 over delinquent juveniles sent to an institution in another state;
- 27 (5) Provide for reasonable inspection of the institutions by the sending 28 state;
- 29 (6) Provide that the consent of the parent, guardian, person, or agency 30 entitled to the legal custody of the delinquent juvenile shall be 31 secured prior to the juvenile being sent to another state; and
- 32 (7) Make provisions for any other matters and details as shall be 33 necessary to protect the rights and equities of delinquent juveniles 34 and of the cooperating states.

35 "§ 7B-2811. Acceptance of federal and other aid.

36 Any state party to this Compact may accept any and all donations, gifts, and grants 37 of money, equipment, and services from the federal or any local government, or any 38 agency thereof and from any person, firm, or corporation, for any of the purposes and 39 functions of this Compact, and may receive and utilize, the same subject to the terms, 40 conditions, and regulations governing such donations, gifts, and grants.

41 "§ 7B-2812. Compact administrators.

42 The governor of each state party to this Compact shall designate an officer who,
43 acting jointly with like officers of other party states, shall promulgate rules and 44 regulations to carry out more efficiently the terms and provisions of this Compact.

1 "§ 7B-2813. Execution of Compact.

2 This Compact shall become operative immediately upon its execution by any state
3 as between it and any other state or states so executing. When executed it shall have 4 the full force and effect of law within the state, the form of execution to be in 5 accordance with the laws of the executing state.

6 "§ 7B-2814. Renunciation.

7 This Compact shall continue in force and remain binding upon each executing
8 state until renounced by it. Renunciation of this Compact shall be by the same 9 authority which executed it, by sending six months' notice in writing of its intention 10 to withdraw from the Compact to the other states party hereto. The duties and 11 obligations of a renouncing state under G.S. 7B-2807 hereof shall continue as to 12 parolees and probationers residing therein at the time of withdrawal until retaken or 13 finally discharged. Supplementary agreements entered into under G.S. 7B-2810 hereof 14 shall be subject to renunciation as provided by supplementary agreements and shall 15 not be subject to the six months' renunciation notice of the present section.

16 "§ 7B-2815. Severability.

17 The provisions of this Compact shall be severable and if any phrase, clause,
18 sentence, or provision of this Compact is declared to be contrary to the constitution
19 of any participating state or of the United States or the applicability thereof to any 20 government, agency, person, or circumstances is held invalid, the validity of the 21 remainder of this Compact and the applicability thereof to any government, agency,
22 person, or circumstances shall not be affected thereby. If this Compact shall be held 23 contrary to the constitution of any state participating therein, the Compact shall 24 remain in full force and effect as to the remaining states and in full force and effect
25 as to the state affected as to all severable matters.

26 "§ 7B-2816. Authority of Governor to designate Compact Administrator.

27 Pursuant to said Compact, the Governor is hereby authorized and empowered to 28 designate an officer who shall be the Compact Administrator and who, acting jointly
29 with like officers of other party states, shall adopt rules and regulations to carry out
30 more effectively the terms of the Compact. The Compact Administrator shall serve
31 subject to the pleasure of the Governor. The Compact Administrator is hereby 32 authorized, empowered, and directed to cooperate with all departments, agencies,
33 and officers of and in the government of this State and its subdivisions in facilitating 34 the proper administration of the Compact or of any supplementary agreement or 35 agreements entered into by this State hereunder.

36 "§ 7B-2817. Authority of Compact Administrator to enter into supplementary
37 agreements.

38 The Compact Administrator is hereby authorized and empowered to enter into 39 supplementary agreements with appropriate officials of other states pursuant to the 40 Compact. In the event that the supplementary agreement shall require or contemplate
41 the use of any institution or facility of this State or require or contemplate the 42 provision of any service by this State, the supplementary agreement shall have no
43 force or effect until approved by the head of the department or agency under whose

1 jurisdiction said institution or facility is operated or whose department or agency will
2 be charged with the rendering of the service.

3 "§ 7B-2818. Discharging financial obligations imposed by Compact or agreement.

4 The Compact Administrator, subject to the approval of the Director of the Budget,
5 may make or arrange for any payments necessary to discharge any financial
6 obligations imposed upon this State by the Compact or by any supplementary
7 agreement entered into thereunder.

8 "§ 7B-2819. Enforcement of Compact.

9 The courts, departments, agencies, and officers of this State and subdivisions shall 10 enforce this Compact and shall do all things appropriate to the effectuation of its 11 purposes and intent which may be within their respective jurisdictions.

12 "§ 7B-2820. Additional procedure for returning runaways not precluded.

13 In addition to any procedure provided in G.S. 7B-2804 and G.S. 7B-2806 of the 14 Compact for the return of any runaway juvenile, the particular states, the juvenile or 15 the juvenile's parents, the courts, or other legal custodian involved may agree upon
16 and adopt any other plan or procedure legally authorized under the laws of this State
17 and the other respective party states for the return of any runaway juvenile.

18 "§ 7B-2821. Proceedings for return of runaways under G.S. 7B-2804 of Compact;
19 'juvenile' construed.

20 The judge of any court in North Carolina to which an application is made for the 21 return of a runaway under the provisions of G.S. 7B-2804 of the Interstate Compact
22 on Juveniles shall hold a hearing thereon to determine whether for the purposes of 23 the Compact the petitioner is entitled to the legal custody of the juvenile, whether or 24 not it appears that the juvenile has in fact run away without consent, whether or not 25 the juvenile is an emancipated minor and whether or not it is in the best interests of 26 the juvenile to compel the return of the juvenile to the state. The judge of any court
27 in North Carolina, finding that a requisition for the return of a juvenile under the 28 provisions of G.S. 7B-2804 of the Compact is in order, shall upon request fix a 29 reasonable time to be allowed for the purpose of testing the legality of the 30 proceeding. The period of time for holding a juvenile in custody under the provisions
31 of G.S. 7B-2804 of the Compact for the protection and welfare of the juvenile, subject
32 to the order of a court of this State, to enable the juvenile's return to another state
33 party to the Compact pursuant to a requisition for return from a court of that state,
34 shall not exceed 30 days. In applying the provisions of G.S. 7B-2804 of the Compact
35 to secure the return of a runaway from North Carolina, the courts of this State shall 36 construe the word 'juvenile' as used in this Article to mean any person who has not
37 reached the person's eighteenth birthday.

38 "§ 7B-2822. Interstate parole and probation hearing procedures for juveniles.

39 Where supervision of a parolee or probationer is being administered pursuant to 40 the Interstate Compact on Juveniles, the appropriate judicial or administrative
41 authorities in this State shall notify the Compact Administrator of the sending state
42 whenever, in their view, consideration should be given to retaking or reincarceration
43 for a parole or a probation violation. Prior to giving of notification, a hearing shall be 44 held in accordance with this Article within a reasonable time, unless the hearing is

1 waived by the parolee or probationer. The appropriate officer or officers of this State
2 shall, as soon as practicable, following termination of any hearing, report to the
3 sending state, furnish a copy of the hearing record, and make recommendations
4 regarding the disposition to be made of the parolee or probationer by the sending
5 state. Pending any proceeding pursuant to this section, the appropriate officers of this
6 State may take custody of and detain the parolee or probationer involved for a period
7 not to exceed 10 days prior to the hearing and, if it appears to the hearing officer or
8 officers that retaking or reincarceration is likely to follow, for a reasonable period
9 after the hearing or waiver as may be necessary to arrange for retaking or the 10 reincarceration.

11 "§ 7B-2823. Hearing officers.

12 Any hearing pursuant to this Article may be before the Administrator of the 13 Interstate Compact on Juveniles, a deputy of the Administrator, or any other person
14 authorized pursuant to the juvenile laws of this State to hear cases of alleged juvenile
15 parole or probation violations, except that no hearing officer shall be the person
16 making the allegation of violation.

17 "§ 7B-2824. Due process at parole or probation violation hearing.

18 With respect to any hearing pursuant to this Article, the parolee or probationer:

- 19 (1) Shall have reasonable notice in writing of the nature and content 20 of the allegations to be made, including notice that the purpose of 21 the hearing is to determine whether there is probable cause to 22 believe that the parolee or probationer has committed a violation
23 that may lead to a revocation of parole or probation;
- 24 (2) Shall be permitted to advise with any persons whose assistance the 25 parolee or probationer reasonably desires, prior to the hearing;
- 26 (3) Shall have the right to confront and examine any persons who 27 have made allegations against the parolee or probationer, unless 28 the hearing officer determines that confrontation would present a 29 substantial present or subsequent danger of harm to the person or 30 persons; and
- 31 (4) May admit, deny, or explain the violation alleged and may present
32 proof, including affidavits and other evidence, in support of the 33 parolee's or probationer's contentions.

34 A record of the proceedings shall be made and preserved.

35 "§ 7B-2825. Effect of parole or probation violation hearing outside State.

36 In any case of alleged parole or probation violation by a person being supervised
37 in another state pursuant to the Interstate Compact on Juveniles, any appropriate
38 judicial or administrative officer or agency in another state is authorized to hold a
39 hearing on the alleged violation. Upon receipt of the record of a parole or probation
40 violation hearing held in another state pursuant to a statute substantially similar to 41 this Article, such record shall have the same standing and effect as though the 42 proceeding of which it is a record was had before the appropriate officer or officers
43 in this State, and any recommendations contained in or accompanying the record

1 shall be fully considered by the appropriate officer or officers of this State in making
2 disposition of the matter.

3 "§ 7B-2826. Amendment to Interstate Compact on Juveniles concerning interstate
4 rendition of juveniles alleged to be delinquent.

5 (a) This amendment shall provide additional remedies and shall be binding only as
6 among and between those party states which specifically execute the same.

7 (b) All provisions and procedures of G.S. 7B-2805 and G.S. 7B-2806 of the 8 Interstate Compact on Juveniles shall be construed to apply to any juvenile charged
9 with being a delinquent by reason of a violation of any criminal law. Any juvenile,
10 charged with being a delinquent by reason of violating any criminal law, shall be 11 returned to the requesting state upon a requisition to the state where the juvenile may 12 be found. A petition in the case shall be filed in a court of competent jurisdiction in 13 the requesting state where the violation of criminal law is alleged to have been 14 committed. The petition may be filed regardless of whether the juvenile has left the 15 state before or after the filing of the petition. The requisition described in G.S. 7B-
16 2805 of the Compact shall be forwarded by the judge of the court in which the 17 petition has been filed.

18 "§ 7B-2827. Out-of-State Confinement Amendment.

19 (a) The Out-of-State Confinement Amendment to the Interstate Compact on 20 Juveniles is hereby enacted into law and entered into by this State with all other
21 states legally joining therein in the form substantially as follows:

22 (1) Whenever the fully constituted judicial or administrative 23 authorities in a sending state shall determine that confinement of a 24 probationer or reconfinement of a parolee is necessary or 25 desirable, the officials may direct that the confinement or 26 reconfinement be in an appropriate institution for delinquent
27 juveniles within the territory of the receiving state, the receiving 28 state to act in that regard solely as agent for the sending state.

29 (2) Escapees and absconders who would otherwise be returned 30 pursuant to G.S. 7B-2805 of the Compact may be confined or 31 reconfined in the receiving state pursuant to this amendment. In 32 any case in which the information and allegations are required to 33 be made and furnished in a requisition pursuant to G.S. 7B-2805, 34 the sending state shall request confinement or reconfinement in the 35 receiving state. Whenever applicable, detention orders, as provided 36 in G.S. 7B-2805, may be employed pursuant to this paragraph 37 preliminary to disposition of the escapee or absconder.

38 (3) The confinement or reconfinement of a parolee, probationer,
39 escapee, or absconder pursuant to this amendment shall require 40 the concurrence of the appropriate judicial or administrative 41 authorities of the receiving state.

42 (4) As used in this amendment: (i) 'sending state' means a sending 43 state as that term is used in G.S. 7B-2807 of the Compact or the 44 state from which a delinquent juvenile has escaped or absconded

1           within the meaning of G.S. 7B-2805 of the Compact; (ii) 'receiving
2           state' means any state, other than the sending state, in which a
3           parolee, probationer, escapee, or absconder may be found,
4           provided that the state is a party to this amendment.

5           (5) Every state which adopts this amendment shall designate at least 6           one of its institutions for delinquent juveniles as a 'Compact 7           Institution' and shall confine persons therein as provided in 8           subdivision (1) of this subsection unless the sending and receiving 9           state in question shall make specific contractual arrangements to 10           the contrary. All states party to this amendment shall have access 11           to 'Compact Institutions' at all reasonable hours for the purpose of 12           inspecting the facilities thereof and for the purpose of visiting such 13           of the State's delinquents as may be confined in the institution.

14           (6) Persons confined in 'Compact Institutions' pursuant to the terms of 15           this Compact shall at all times be subject to the jurisdiction of the 16           sending state and may at any time be removed from the 'Compact 17           Institution' for transfer to an appropriate institution within the 18           sending state, for return to probation or parole, for discharge, or 19           for any purpose permitted by the laws of the sending state.

20           (7) All persons who may be confined in a 'Compact Institution'
21           pursuant to the provisions of this amendment shall be treated in a 22           reasonable and humane manner. The fact of confinement or 23           reconfinement in a receiving state shall not deprive any person so 24           confined or reconfined of any rights which the person would have 25           had if confined or reconfined in an appropriate institution of the 26           sending state. No agreement to submit to confinement or 27           reconfinement pursuant to the terms of this amendment may be 28           construed as a waiver of any rights which the delinquent would 29           have had if the person had been confined or reconfined in any 30           appropriate institution of the sending state, except that the hearing 31           or hearings, if any, to which a parolee, probationer, escapee, or 32           absconder may be entitled (prior to confinement or reconfinement)
33           by the laws of the sending state may be had before the appropriate 34           judicial or administrative officers of the receiving state. In this 35           event, said judicial and administrative officers shall act as agents of 36           the sending state after consultation with appropriate officers of the 37           sending state.

38           (8) Any receiving state incurring costs or other expenses under this 39           amendment shall be reimbursed in the amount of the costs or other 40           expenses by the sending state unless the states concerned shall 41           specifically otherwise agree. Any two or more states party to this 42           amendment may enter into supplementary agreements determining 43           a different allocation of costs as among themselves.

(9) This amendment shall take initial effect when entered into by any two or more states party to the Compact and shall be effective as to those states which have specifically enacted this amendment. Rules and regulations necessary to effectuate the terms of this amendment may be adopted by the appropriate officers of those states which have enacted this amendment.

(b) In addition to any institution in which the authorities of this State may otherwise confine or order the confinement of a delinquent juvenile, the authorities may, pursuant to the Out-of-State Confinement Amendment to the Interstate Compact on Juveniles, confine or order the confinement of a delinquent juvenile in a Compact Institution within another party state.

"§ 7B-2901. Confidentiality of records.

(a) The clerk shall maintain a complete record of all juvenile cases filed in the clerk's office alleging abuse, neglect, or dependency. The records shall be withheld from public inspection and, except as provided in this subsection, may be examined only by order of the court. The record shall include the summons, petition, custody order, court order, written motions, the electronic or mechanical recording of the hearing, and other papers filed in the proceeding. (b) The Director of the Department of Social Services shall maintain a record of the cases of juveniles under protective custody by the Department or under placement by the court, which shall include family background information; reports of social, medical, psychiatric, or psychological information concerning a juvenile or the juvenile's family; interviews with the juvenile's family; or other information which the court finds should be protected from public inspection in the best interests of the juvenile. The records maintained pursuant to this subsection may be examined only by order of the court except that the guardian ad litem, or juvenile, shall have the right to examine them.

(c) In the case of a child victim, the court may order the sharing of information among such public agencies as the court deems necessary to reduce the trauma to the child victim.

(d) The court's entire record of a proceeding involving consent for an abortion on an unemancipated minor under Article 1A, Part 2 of Chapter 90 of the General Statutes is not a matter of public record, shall be maintained separately from any juvenile record, shall be withheld from public inspection, and may be examined only

1 by order of the court, by the unemancipated minor, or by the unemancipated minor's
2 attorney or guardian ad litem.

3 "§ 7B-2902. Disclosure in child fatality or near fatality cases.

8 subsections (c) through (f) of this section, of actions taken or 9 services rendered by a public agency following receipt of 10 information that a child might be in need of protection. The 11 written summary shall include any of the following information the 12 agency is able to provide:

13 a. The dates, outcomes, and results of any actions taken or 14 services rendered.

15 b. The results of any review by the State Child Fatality
16 Prevention Team, a local child fatality prevention team, a
17 local community child protection team, the Child Fatality
18 Task Force, or any public agency.

19 c. Confirmation of the receipt of all reports, accepted or not 20 accepted by the county department of social services, for 21 investigation of suspected child abuse, neglect, or 22 maltreatment, including confirmation that investigations
23 were conducted, the results of the investigations, a 24 description of the conduct of the most recent investigation
25 and the services rendered, and a statement of basis for the 26 department's decision.

27 (3) Near fatality. -- A case in which a physician determines that a child
28 is in serious or critical condition as the result of sickness or injury
29 caused by suspected abuse, neglect, or maltreatment.

31 subdivisions as defined in G.S. 132-1(a).

32 (b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law and subject to the provisions of 33 subsections (c) through (f) of this section, a public agency shall disclose to the public,
34 upon request, the findings and information related to a child fatality or near fatality 35 if:

36 (1) A person is criminally charged with having caused the child
37 fatality or near fatality; or

38 (2) The district attorney has certified that a person would be charged 39 with having caused the child fatality or near fatality but for that 40 person's prior death.

41 (c) Nothing herein shall be deemed to authorize access to the confidential records
42 in the custody of a public agency, or the disclosure to the public of the substance or
43 content of any psychiatric, psychological, or therapeutic evaluations or like materials
44 or information pertaining to the child or the child's family unless directly related to

1 the cause of the child fatality or near fatality, or the disclosure of information that 2 would reveal the identities of persons who provided information related to the 3 suspected abuse, neglect, or maltreatment of the child.

4 (d) Within five working days from the receipt of a request for findings and 5 information related to a child fatality or near fatality, a public agency shall consult 6 with the appropriate district attorney and provide the findings and information unless 7 the agency has a reasonable belief that release of the information:

8 (1) Is not authorized by subsections (a) and (b) of this section;

9 (2) Is likely to cause mental or physical harm or danger to a minor
10 child residing in the deceased or injured child's household;

14 or

15 (6) Is not authorized by federal law and regulations.

16 (e) Any person whose request is denied may apply to the appropriate superior
17 court for an order compelling disclosure of the findings and information of the public
18 agency. The application shall set forth, with reasonable particularity, factors
19 supporting the application. The superior court shall have jurisdiction to issue such 20 orders. Actions brought pursuant to this section shall be set down for immediate 21 hearing, and subsequent proceedings in such actions shall be accorded priority by the 22 appellate courts. After the court has reviewed the specific findings and information,
23 in camera, the court shall issue an order compelling disclosure unless the court finds
24 that one or more of the circumstances in subsection (d) of this section exist.

25 (f) Access to criminal investigative reports and criminal intelligence information
26 of public law enforcement agencies and confidential information in the possession of 27 the State Child Fatality Prevention Team, the local teams, and the Child Fatality
28 Task Force, shall be governed by G.S. 132-1.4 and G.S. 7B-1413 respectively.
29 Nothing herein shall be deemed to require the disclosure or release of any 30 information in the possession of a district attorney.

31 (g) Any public agency or its employees acting in good faith in disclosing or 32 declining to disclose information pursuant to this section shall be immune from any 33 criminal or civil liability that might otherwise be incurred or imposed for such action.

34 (h) Nothing herein shall be deemed to narrow or limit the definition of 'public
35 records' as set forth in G.S. 132-1(a).

36 "ARTICLE 30.

37 "Juvenile Records and Social Reports of 38 Delinquency and Undisciplined Cases.

39 "§ 7B-3000. Juvenile court records.

41 clerk's office to be known as the juvenile record. The record shall include the 42 summons and petition, any secure or nonsecure custody order, any electronic or 43 mechanical recording of hearings, and any written motions, orders, or papers filed in 44 the proceeding.

1 (b) All juvenile records shall be withheld from public inspection and, except as 2 provided in this subsection, may be examined only by order of the court. Except as 3 provided in subsection (c) of this section, the following persons may examine the 4 juvenile's record and obtain copies of written parts of the record without an order of 5 the court:

6 (1) The juvenile and the juvenile's attorney;

7 (2) The juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian, or authorized
8 representative;

9 (3) The prosecutor; and

10 (4) Court counselors.

11 Except as provided in subsection (c) of this section, law enforcement officers sworn in 12 this State may examine, but not photocopy, the juvenile's record without an order of 13 the court.

14 (c) The court may direct the clerk to 'seal' any portion of a juvenile's record. The 15 clerk shall secure any sealed portion of a juvenile record in an envelope clearly 16 marked 'SEALED: MAY BE EXAMINED ONLY BY ORDER OF THE COURT', or 17 with similar notice, and shall permit examination or copying of sealed portions of a 18 juvenile's record only pursuant to a court order specifically authorizing inspection or 19 copying.

20 (d) Any portion of a juvenile's record consisting of an electronic or mechanical 21 recording of a hearing shall be transcribed only when notice of appeal has been 22 timely given and shall be copied electronically or mechanically, only by order of the 23 court. After the time for appeal has expired with no appeal having been filed, the 24 court may enter a written order directing the clerk to destroy the recording of the 25 hearing.

26 (e) The juvenile's record of an adjudication of delinquency for an offense that 27 would be a felony if committed by an adult may be used by law enforcement, the 28 magistrate, and the prosecutor for pretrial release and plea negotiating decisions.

29 (f) The juvenile's record of an adjudication of delinquency for an offense that 30 would be a Class A, B1, B2, C, D, or E felony if committed by an adult may be used
31 in a subsequent criminal proceeding against the juvenile either under G.S. 8C-1, Rule

33 G.S. 15A-1340.16(d), or G.S. 15A-2000(e). The record may be so used only by order 34 of the court in the subsequent criminal proceeding, upon motion of the prosecutor, 35 after an in camera hearing to determine whether the record in question is admissible.

36 (g) Except as provided in subsection (d) of this section, a juvenile's record shall 37 be destroyed only as authorized by G.S. 7B-3200 or by rules adopted by the 38 Department of Juvenile Justice.

39 "§ 7B-3001. Other records relating to juveniles.

40 (a) The chief court counselor shall maintain a record of all cases of juveniles under 41 supervision of court counselors, to be known as the court counselor's record. The 42 court counselor's record shall include family background information; reports of 43 social, medical, psychiatric, or psychological information concerning a juvenile or the 44 juvenile's family; probation reports; interviews with the juvenile's family; or other

1 information the court finds should be protected from public inspection in the best
2 interests of the juvenile.

3 (b) Unless jurisdiction of the juvenile has been transferred to superior court, all 4 law enforcement records and files concerning a juvenile shall be kept separate from 5 the records and files of adults and shall be withheld from public inspection. The 6 following persons may examine and obtain copies of law enforcement records and 7 files concerning a juvenile without an order of the court:

21 (2) The juvenile's parent, guardian, custodian, or authorized
22 representative;

23 (3) Professionals in the agency who are directly involved in the 24 juvenile's case; and

25 (4) Court counselors.

26 Otherwise, the records and files may be examined or copied only by order of the 27 court. The court may inspect and order the release of records maintained by the 28 Department.

29 "ARTICLE 31.

30 "Disclosure of Juvenile Information.

31 "§ 7B-3100. Disclosure of information about juveniles.

32 The chief district court judge in each district shall designate by standing order 33 certain agencies in the district as 'agencies authorized to share information'.
34 Agencies so designated shall share with one another, upon request, information that 35 is in their possession that is relevant to any case in which a petition is filed alleging 36 that a juvenile is abused, neglected, dependent, undisciplined, or delinquent and shall 37 continue to do so until the juvenile is no longer subject to the jurisdiction of juvenile 38 court. Agencies that may be designated as 'agencies authorized to share information' 39 include local mental health facilities, local health departments, local departments of 40 social services, local law enforcement agencies, local school administrative units, the 41 district's district attorney's office, and the Office of Guardian ad Litem Services of 42 the Administrative Office of the Courts. Any information shared among agencies
43 pursuant to this section shall remain confidential, shall be withheld from public
44 inspection, and shall be used only for the protection of the juvenile. Nothing in this

1 section or any other provision of law shall preclude any other necessary sharing of 2 information among agencies. Nothing herein shall be deemed to require the 3 disclosure or release of any information in the possession of a district attorney.

4 "§ 7B-3101. Notification of schools when juveniles are alleged or found to be 5 delinquent.

6 (a) Notwithstanding G.S. 7B-3000, the juvenile court counselor shall deliver verbal 7 and written notification of the following actions to the principal of the school that the 8 juvenile attends:

10 an offense that would be a felony if committed by an adult;

11 (2) The court transfers jurisdiction over a juvenile to superior court
12 under G.S. 7B-2200;

13 (3) The court dismisses under G.S. 7B-2411 the petition that alleges 14 delinquency for an offense that would be a felony if committed by 15 an adult;

16 (4) The court issues a dispositional order under Article 25 of Chapter
17 7B of the General Statutes including, but not limited to, an order
18 of probation that requires school attendance, concerning a juvenile 19 alleged or found delinquent for an offense that would be a felony if 20 committed by an adult; or

21 (5) The court modifies or vacates any order or disposition under G.S.
22 7B-2600 concerning a juvenile alleged or found delinquent for an 23 offense that would be a felony if committed by an adult.

24 Notification of the school principal in person or by telephone shall be made before
25 the beginning of the next school day. Delivery shall be made as soon as practicable
26 but at least within five days of the action. Delivery shall be made in person or by 27 certified mail. Notification that a petition has been filed shall describe the nature of 28 the offense. Notification of a dispositional order, a modified or vacated order, or a 29 transfer to superior court shall describe the court's action and any applicable
30 disposition requirements. As used in this subsection, the term 'offense' shall not 31 include any offense under Chapter 20 of the General Statutes.

32 (b) If the principal of the school the juvenile attends returns any notification as 33 required by G.S. 115C-404, and if the juvenile court counselor learns that the juvenile 34 is transferring to another school, the juvenile court counselor shall deliver the 35 notification to the principal of the school to which the juvenile is transferring.
36 Delivery shall be made as soon as practicable and shall be made in person or by 37 certified mail.

38 (c) Principals shall handle any notification delivered under this section in 39 accordance with G.S. 115C-404.

40 (d) For the purpose of this section, 'school' means any public or private school in 41 the State that is authorized under Chapter 115C of the General Statutes.

42 "ARTICLE 32.

43 "Expunction of Juvenile Records.

"§ 7B-3200. Expunction of records of juveniles alleged or adjudicated delinquent and undisciplined.

(a) Any person who has attained the age of 18 years may file a petition in the court where the person was adjudicated undisciplined for expunction of all records of that adjudication.

(b) Any person who has attained the age of 16 years may file a petition in the court where the person was adjudicated delinquent for expunction of all records of that adjudication provided:

(1) The offense for which the person was adjudicated would have been a crime other than a Class A, B1, B2, C, D, or E felony if committed by an adult.

(2) The person has not subsequently been adjudicated delinquent or convicted as an adult of any felony or misdemeanor other than a traffic violation under the laws of the United States or the laws of this State or any other state.

Records relating to an adjudication for an offense that would be a Class A, B1, B2, C, D, or E felony if committed by an adult shall not be expunged.

(c) The petition shall contain, but not be limited to, the following:

(1) An affidavit by the petitioner that the petitioner has been of good behavior since the adjudication and, in the case of a petition based on a delinquency adjudication, that the petitioner has not subsequently been adjudicated delinquent or convicted as an adult of any felony or misdemeanor other than a traffic violation under the laws of the United States, or the laws of this State or any other state;

(2) Verified affidavits of two persons, who are not related to the petitioner or to each other by blood or marriage, that they know the character and reputation of the petitioner in the community in which the petitioner lives and that the petitioner's character and reputation are good;

(3) A statement that the petition is a motion in the cause in the case wherein the petitioner was adjudicated delinquent or undisciplined.

The petition shall be served upon the district attorney in the district wherein adjudication occurred. The district attorney shall have 10 days thereafter in which to file any objection thereto and shall be duly notified as to the date of the hearing on the petition.

(d) If the court, after hearing, finds that the petitioner satisfies the conditions set out in subsections (a) or (b) of this section, the petitioner shall order and direct the clerk and all law enforcement agencies to expunge their records of the adjudication including all references to arrests, complaints, referrals, petitions, and orders.

(e) The clerk shall forward a certified copy of the order to the sheriff, chief of police, or other law enforcement agency.

1 (f) Records of a juvenile adjudicated delinquent or undisciplined being
2 maintained by the chief court counselor, an intake counselor or a court counselor
3 shall be retained or disposed of as provided by the Department.

4 (g) Records of a juvenile adjudicated delinquent or undisciplined being
5 maintained by personnel at a residential facility operated by the Department, shall be
6 retained or disposed of as provided by the Department.

7 (h) Any person who was alleged to be delinquent as a juvenile and has attained
8 the age of 16 years, or was alleged to be undisciplined as a juvenile and has attained
9 the age of 18 years, may file a petition in the court in which the person was alleged 10 to be delinquent or undisciplined, for expunction of all juvenile records of the 11 juvenile having been alleged to be delinquent or undisciplined if the court dismissed
12 the juvenile petition without an adjudication that the juvenile was delinquent or 13 undisciplined. The petition shall be served on the chief court counselor in the district
14 where the juvenile petition was filed. The chief court counselor shall have 10 days
15 thereafter in which to file a written objection in the court. If no objection is filed, the 16 court may grant the petition without a hearing. If an objection is filed or the court so 17 directs, a hearing shall be scheduled and the chief court counselor shall be notified as
18 to the date of the hearing. If the court finds at the hearing that the petitioner satisfies
19 the conditions specified herein, the court shall order the clerk and the appropriate
20 law enforcement agencies to expunge their records of the allegations of delinquent or 21 undisciplined acts including all references to arrests, complaints, referrals, juvenile 22 petitions, and orders. The clerk shall forward a certified copy of the order of 23 expunction to the sheriff, chief of police, or other appropriate law enforcement 24 agency, and to the chief court counselor, and these specified officials shall 25 immediately destroy all records relating to the allegations that the juvenile was 26 delinquent or undisciplined.

27 "§ 7B-3201. Effect of expunction.

28 (a) Whenever a juvenile's record is expunged, with respect to the matter in which 29 the record was expunged, the juvenile who is the subject of the record and the 30 juvenile's parent may inform any person or organization including employers, banks,
31 credit companies, insurance companies, and schools that the juvenile was not 32 arrested, did not appear before the court, and was not adjudicated delinquent or 33 undisciplined.

34 (b) Notwithstanding subsection (a) of this section, in any delinquency case if the 35 juvenile is the defendant and chooses to testify or if the juvenile is not the defendant
36 and is called as a witness, the juvenile may be ordered to testify with respect to 37 whether the juvenile was adjudicated delinquent.

38 "§ 7B-3202. Notice of expunction.

39 Upon expunction of a juvenile's record, the clerk shall send a written notice to the 40 juvenile at the juvenile's last known address informing the juvenile that the record
41 has been expunged and with respect to the matter involved, the juvenile may inform 42 any person that the juvenile has no record. The notice shall inform the juvenile 43 further that if the matter involved is a delinquency record, the juvenile may inform 44 any person that the juvenile was not arrested or adjudicated delinquent except that

1 upon testifying in a delinquency proceeding, the juvenile may be required by a court
2 to disclose that the juvenile was adjudicated delinquent.

3 "ARTICLE 33.

4 "Computation of Recidivism Rates.

5 "§ 7B-3300. Juvenile recidivism rates.

6 (a) On an annual basis, the Department of Juvenile Justice shall compute the 7 recidivism rate of juveniles who are adjudicated delinquent for offenses that would be
8 Class A, B1, B2, C, D, or E felonies if committed by adults and who subsequently are
9 adjudicated delinquent or convicted and shall report the statistics to the Joint
10 Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations by December 31 each year.

11 (b) The chief court counselor of each judicial district shall forward to the 12 Department relevant information, as determined by the Department, regarding every 13 juvenile who is adjudicated delinquent for an offense that would be a Class A, B1,
14 B2, C, D, or E felony if committed by an adult for the purpose of computing the 15 statistics required by this section.

17 "ARTICLE 34.

18 "Parental Authority Over Juveniles.

19 "§ 7B-3400. Juvenile under 18 subject to parents' control.

20 Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any juvenile under 18 years of age, 21 except as provided in G.S. 7B-3401 and G.S. 7B-3402, shall be subject to the 22 supervision and control of the juvenile's parents.

23 "§ 7B-3400.1. Definitions.

24 The definitions of G.S. 7B-101 and G.S. 7B-1501 apply to this Subchapter.

25 "§ 7B-3401. Exceptions.

26 This Article shall not apply to any juvenile under the age of 18 who is married or 27 who is serving in the armed forces of the United States, or who has been
28 emancipated.

29 "§ 7B-3402. No criminal liability created.

30 This Article shall not be interpreted to place any criminal liability on a parent for 31 any act of the parent's juvenile 16 years of age or older.

32 "§ 7B-3403. Enforcement.

33 The provisions of this Article may be enforced by the parent, guardian, or person
34 standing in loco parentis to the child by filing a civil action in the district court of the 35 county where the child can be found or the county of the plaintiff's residence. Upon
36 the institution of such action by a verified complaint, alleging that the defendant
37 juvenile has left home or has left the place where the juvenile has been residing and
38 refuses to return and comply with the direction and control of the plaintiff, the court
39 may issue an order directing the juvenile personally to appear before the court at a
40 specified time to be heard in answer to the allegations of the plaintiff and to comply
41 with further orders of the court. Such orders shall be served by the sheriff upon the 42 juvenile and upon any other person named as a party defendant in such action. At 43 the time of the issuance of the order directing the juvenile to appear, the court may
44 in the same order, or by separate order, order the sheriff to enter any house, building,

1 structure or conveyance for the purpose of searching for the juvenile and serving the
2 order and for the purpose of taking custody of the person of the juvenile in order to
3 bring the juvenile before the court. Any order issued at said hearing shall be treated
4 as a mandatory injunction and shall remain in full force and effect until the juvenile 5 reaches the age of 18, or until further orders of the court. Within 30 days after the 6 hearing on the original order, the juvenile, or anyone acting in the juvenile's behalf,

9 court district as defined in G.S. 7A-133 where the action was instituted shall have 10 jurisdiction to hear the matter, without a jury, and to make findings of fact,
11 conclusions of law, and render judgment thereon. Appeals from the district court to 12 the Court of Appeals shall be allowed as in civil actions generally. The district court
13 issuing the original order or the district court hearing the matter after answer has 14 been filed shall also have authority to order that any person named defendant in the 15 order or judgment shall not harbor, keep, or allow the defendant juvenile to remain

4 preponderance of the evidence that emancipation is in the petitioner's best interests.
5 Upon finding that reasonable cause exists, the court may order the juvenile to be
6 examined by a psychiatrist, a licensed clinical psychologist, a physician, or any other
7 expert to evaluate the juvenile's mental or physical condition. The court may

- 24 (7) The quality of parental supervision or support.

25 "§ 7B-3505. Final decree of emancipation.

26 After reviewing the considerations for emancipation, the court may enter a decree 27 of emancipation if the court determines:

- 28 (1) That all parties are properly before the court or were duly served 29 and failed to appear and that time for filing an answer has expired;
30 and
- 31 (2) That the petitioner has shown a proper and lawful plan for 32 adequately providing for the petitioner's needs and living expenses;
33 and
- 34 (3) That the petitioner is knowingly seeking emancipation and fully 35 understands the ramifications of the act; and
- 36 (4) That emancipation is in the best interests of the petitioner.

37 The decree shall set out the court's findings.

38 If the court determines that the criteria in subdivisions (1) through (4) are not met, 39 the court shall order the proceeding dismissed.

40 "§ 7B-3506. Costs of court.

42 order the costs remitted.

43 The clerk may collect costs for furnishing to the petitioner a certificate of 44 emancipation which shall recite the name of the petitioner and the fact of the

1 petitioner's emancipation by court decree and shall have the seal of the clerk affixed
2 thereon.

3 "§ 7B-3507. Legal effect of final decree.

4 As of entry of the final decree of emancipation:

- 5 (1) The petitioner has the same right to make contracts and 6 conveyances, to sue and to be sued, and to transact business as if 7 the petitioner were an adult.
8 (2) The parent or guardian is relieved of all legal duties and 9 obligations owed to the petitioner and is divested of all rights with 10 respect to the petitioner.
11 (3) The decree is irrevocable.

12 Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, a decree of emancipation shall 13 not alter the application of G.S. 14-326.1 or the petitioner's right to inherit property
14 by intestate succession.

15 "§ 7B-3508. Appeals.

16 Any petitioner, parent, or guardian who is a party to a proceeding under this 17 Article may appeal from any order of disposition to the Court of Appeals provided 18 that notice of appeal is given in open court at the time of the hearing or in writing
19 within 10 days after the hearing. Pending disposition of an appeal, the court may 20 enter a temporary order affecting the custody or placement of the petitioner as the 21 court finds to be in the best interests of the petitioner or the State.

22 "§ 7B-3509. Application of common law.

23 A married juvenile is emancipated by this Article. All other common-law
24 provisions for emancipation are superseded by this Article.

25 "ARTICLE 36.

26 "Judicial Consent for Emergency Surgical or Medical Treatment.

27 "§ 7B-3600. Judicial authorization of emergency treatment; procedure.

28 A juvenile in need of emergency treatment under Article 1A of Chapter 90 of the 29 General Statutes, whose physician is barred from rendering necessary treatment by 30 reason of parental refusal to consent to treatment, may receive treatment with court
31 authorization under the following procedure:

- 32 (1) The physician shall sign a written statement setting out:
33 a. The treatment to be rendered and the emergency need for 34 treatment;
35 b. The refusal of the parent, guardian, or person standing in 36 loco parentis to consent to the treatment; and
37 c. The impossibility of contacting a second physician for a
38 concurring opinion on the need for treatment in time to 39 prevent immediate harm to the juvenile.
40 (2) Upon examining the physician's written statement prescribed in 41 subdivision (1) of this section and finding:
42 a. That the statement is in accordance with this Article, and 43 b. That the proposed treatment is necessary to prevent 44 immediate harm to the juvenile.

The court may issue a written authorization for the proposed treatment to be rendered.

(3) In acute emergencies in which time may not permit implementation of the written procedure set out in subdivisions (1) and (2) of this section, the court may authorize treatment in person or by telephone upon receiving the oral statement of a physician satisfying the requirements of subdivision (1) of this section and upon finding that the proposed treatment is necessary to prevent immediate harm to the juvenile.

(4) The court's authorization for treatment overriding parental refusal to consent should not be given without attempting to offer the parent an opportunity to state the reasons for refusal; however, failure of the court to hear the parent's objections shall not invalidate judicial authorization under this Article.

(5) The court's authorization for treatment under subdivisions (1) and (2) of this section shall be issued in duplicate. One copy shall be given to the treating physician and the other copy shall be attached to the physician's written statement and filed as a juvenile proceeding in the office of the clerk of court.

(6) The court's authorization for treatment under subdivision (3) of this section shall be reduced to writing as soon as possible, supported by the physician's written statement as prescribed in subdivision (1) of this section and shall be filed as prescribed in subdivision (5) of this section.

The court's authorization for treatment under this Article shall have the same effect as parental consent for treatment.

Following the court's authorization for treatment and after giving notice to the juvenile's parent, the court shall conduct a hearing in order to provide for payment for the treatment rendered. The court may order the parent or other responsible parties to pay the cost of treatment. If the court finds the parent is unable to pay the cost of treatment, the cost shall be a charge upon the county when so ordered.

This Article shall operate as a remedy in addition to the provisions in G.S. 7B-903, 7B-2501, and 7B-2504.

40 "Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children.

41 "§ 7B-3800. Adoption of Compact.

42 The Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children is hereby enacted into law
43 and entered into with all other jurisdictions legally joining therein in a form
44 substantially as contained in this Article. It is the intent of the General Assembly that Article 4 of this Chapter shall govern interstate placements of children between North Carolina and any other jurisdictions not a party to this Compact. It is the intent of the General Assembly that Chapter 48 of the General Statutes shall govern the adoption of children within the boundaries of North Carolina.

Article I. Purpose and Policy.

It is the purpose and policy of the party states to cooperate with each other in the interstate placement of children to the end that:

(a) Each child requiring placement shall receive the maximum opportunity to be placed in a suitable environment and with persons or institutions having appropriate qualifications and facilities to provide a necessary and desirable degree and type of care.

(b) The appropriate authorities in a state where a child is to be placed may have full opportunity to ascertain the circumstances of the proposed placement, thereby promoting full compliance with applicable requirements for the protection of the child.

(c) The proper authorities of the state from which the placement is made may obtain the most complete information on the basis of which to evaluate a projected placement before it is made.

(d) Appropriate jurisdictional arrangements for the care of children will be promoted.

Article II. Definitions.

As used in this Compact:

(a) 'Child' means a person who, by reason of minority, is legally subject to parental, guardianship or similar control.

(b) 'Sending agency' means a party state officer or employee thereof; a subdivision of a party state, or officer or employee thereof; a court of a party state; a person, corporation, association, charitable agency or other entity which sends, brings, or causes to be sent or brought any child to another party state.

(c) 'Receiving state' means the state to which a child is sent, brought, or caused to be sent or brought, whether by public authorities or private persons or agencies, and whether for placement with state or local public authorities of [or] for placement with private agencies or persons.

(d) 'Placement' means the arrangement for the care of a child in a family free or boarding home or in a child-caring agency or institution but does not include any institution caring for the mentally ill, mentally defective or epileptic or any institution primarily educational in character, and any hospital or other medical facility.

(e) 'Appropriate public authorities' as used in Article III shall, with reference to this State, mean the Department of Health and Human Services and said agency shall receive and act with reference to notices required by Article III.

(f) 'Appropriate authority in the receiving state' as used in paragraph (a) of Article V shall, with reference to this State, means the Secretary.

(g) 'Executive head' as used in Article VII means the Governor.

Article III. Conditions for Placement.

(a) No sending agency shall send, bring, or cause to be sent or brought into any other party state any child for placement in foster care or as a preliminary to a possible adoption unless the sending agency shall comply with each and every requirement set forth in this Article and with the applicable laws of the receiving state governing the placement of children therein.

(b) Prior to sending, bringing or causing any child to be sent or brought into a receiving state for placement in foster care or as a preliminary to a possible adoption, the sending agency shall furnish the appropriate public authorities in the receiving state written notice of the intention to send, bring, or place the child in the receiving state. The notice shall contain:

(1) The name, date, and place of birth of the child.

(2) The identity and address or addresses of the parents or legal guardian.

(3) The name and address of the person, agency or institution to or with which the sending agency proposes to send, bring, or place the child.

(4) A full statement of the reasons for such proposed action and evidence of the authority pursuant to which the placement is proposed to be made.

(d) The child shall not be sent, brought, or caused to be sent or brought into the receiving state until the appropriate public authorities in the receiving state shall notify the sending agency, in writing, to the effect that the proposed placement does not appear to be contrary to the interests of the child.

Article IV. Penalty for Illegal Placement.

The sending, bringing, or causing to be sent or brought into any receiving state of a child in violation of the terms of this Compact shall constitute a violation of the laws respecting the placement of children of both the state in which the sending agency is located or from which it sends or brings the child and of the receiving state. Such violation may be punished or subjected to penalty in either jurisdiction in accordance with its laws. In addition to liability for any such punishment or penalty, any such violation shall constitute full and sufficient grounds for the suspension or revocation of any license, permit, or other legal authorization held by the sending agency which empowers or allows it to place, or care for children.

Article V. Retention of Jurisdiction.

(a) The sending agency shall retain jurisdiction over the child sufficient to determine all matters in relation to the custody, supervision, care, treatment, and disposition of the child which it would have had if the child had remained in the sending agency's state, until the child is adopted, reaches majority, becomes self-supporting or is discharged with the concurrence of the appropriate authority in the receiving state. Such jurisdiction shall also include the power to effect or cause the return of the child or its transfer to another location and custody pursuant to law. The sending agency shall continue to have financial responsibility for support and maintenance of the child during the period of the placement. Nothing contained herein shall defeat a claim of jurisdiction by a receiving state sufficient to deal with an act of delinquency or crime committed therein.

(b) When the sending agency is a public agency, it may enter into an agreement with an authorized public or private agency in the receiving state providing for the performance of one or more services in respect of such case by the latter as agent for the sending agency.

(c) Nothing in this Compact shall be construed to prevent a private charitable agency authorized to place children in the receiving state from performing services or acting as agent in that state for a private charitable agency of the sending state; nor to prevent the agency in the receiving state from discharging financial responsibility for the support and maintenance of a child who has been placed on behalf of the sending agency without relieving the responsibility set forth in paragraph (a) hereof.

Article VI. Institutional Care of Delinquent Children.

A child adjudicated delinquent may be placed in an institution in another party jurisdiction pursuant to this Compact but no such placement shall be made unless the child is given a court hearing on notice to the parent or guardian with opportunity to be heard, prior to the child's being sent to such other party jurisdiction for institutional care and the court finds that:

- (1) Equivalent facilities for the child are not available in the sending agency's jurisdiction; and
- (2) Institutional care in the other jurisdiction is in the best interests of the child and will not produce undue hardship.

Article VII. Compact Administrator.

The executive head of each jurisdiction party to this Compact shall designate an officer who shall be general coordinator of activities under this Compact in the officer's jurisdiction and who, acting jointly with like officers of other party jurisdictions, shall have power to promulgate rules and regulations to carry out more effectively the terms and provisions of this Compact.

Article VIII. Limitations.

This Compact shall not apply to: (a) the sending or bringing of a child into a receiving state by the child's parent, stepparent, grandparent, adult brother or sister, adult uncle or aunt, or the child's guardian and leaving the child with any such relative or nonagency guardian in the receiving state. (b) Any placement, sending or bringing of a child into a receiving state pursuant to any other interstate compact to

1 which both the state from which the child is sent or brought and the receiving state
2 are party, or to any other agreement between said states which has the force of law.

3 Article IX. Enactment and Withdrawal.

4 This Compact shall be open to joinder by any state, territory or possession of the 5 United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, and, with
6 the consent of Congress, the government of Canada or any province thereof. It shall 7 become effective with respect to any such jurisdiction when such jurisdiction has
8 enacted the same into law. Withdrawal from this Compact shall be by the enactment
9 of a statute repealing the same, but shall not take effect until two years after the 10 effective date of such statute and until written notice of the withdrawal has been 11 given by the withdrawing state to the governor of each other party jurisdiction.
12 Withdrawal of a party state shall not affect the rights, duties and obligations under 13 this Compact of any sending agency therein with respect to a placement made prior 14 to the effective date of withdrawal.

15 Article X. Construction and Severability.

16 The provisions of this Compact shall be liberally construed to effectuate the 17 purposes thereof. The provisions of this Compact shall be severable and if any 18 phrase, clause, sentence or provision of this Compact is declared to be contrary to the 19 constitution of any party state or of the United States or the applicability thereof to 20 any government, agency, person or circumstance is held invalid, the validity of the 21 remainder of this Compact and the applicability thereof to any government, agency,
22 person or circumstance shall not be affected thereby. If this Compact shall be held 23 contrary to the constitution of any state party thereto, the Compact shall remain in 24 full force and effect as to the remaining states and in full force and effect as to the 25 state affected as to all severable matters.

26 "§ 7B-3801. Financial responsibility under Compact.

27 Financial responsibility for any child placed pursuant to the provisions of the 28 Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children shall be determined in accordance 29 with the provisions of Article V thereof in the first instance. However, in the event of 30 partial or complete default of performance thereunder, the provisions of any other
31 state laws fixing responsibility for the support of children also may be invoked.

32 "§ 7B-3802. Agreements under Compact.

33 The officers and agencies of this State and its subdivisions having authority to 34 place children are hereby empowered to enter into agreements with appropriate
35 officers or agencies of or in other party states pursuant to paragraph (b) of Article V
36 of the Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children. Any such agreement which 37 contains a financial commitment or imposes a financial obligation on this State or 38 subdivision or agency thereof shall not be binding unless it has the approval in 39 writing of the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services in the case
40 of the State and of the county director of social services in the case of a county or 41 other subdivision of the State.

42 "§ 7B-3803. Visitation, inspection or supervision.

43 Any requirements for visitation, inspection or supervision of children, homes,
44 institutions or other agencies in another party state which may apply under the laws

1 of this State shall be deemed to be met if performed pursuant to an agreement
2 entered into by appropriate officers or agencies of this State or a subdivision thereof
3 as contemplated by paragraph (b) of Article V of the Interstate Compact on the 4 Placement of Children.

5 "§ 7B-3804. Compact to govern between party states.

6 The provisions of Article 37 of this Chapter shall not apply to placements made
7 pursuant to the Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children.

8 "§ 7B-3805. Placement of delinquents.

9 Any court having jurisdiction to place delinquent children may place such a child
10 in an institution or in another state pursuant to Article VI of the Interstate Compact
11 on the Placement of Children and shall retain jurisdiction as provided in Article V
12 thereof.

13 "§ 7B-3806. Compact Administrator.

14 The Governor is hereby authorized to appoint a Compact Administrator in 15 accordance with the terms of said Article VII."

16 Section 5. Article 81B of Chapter 15A of the General Statutes is 17 amended by adding a new section to read:

18 "§ 15A-1340.16B. Sentencing of juveniles.

19 (a) If a juvenile was under 16 years of age at the time the juvenile committed a 20 felony offense and has been convicted of the offense, the court shall impose a 21 sentence in accordance with G.S. 15A-1340.17. Notwithstanding other requirements
22 of this Chapter, the court may suspend the sentence and place the juvenile on 23 probation on the condition that the juvenile successfully complete any of the 24 applicable terms and conditions set forth in G.S. 15A-1343 and G.S. 7B-2504 that the 25 court deems appropriate. In determining the appropriate terms and conditions, the 26 court shall consider the dispositional report of the chief court counselor.

27 (b) In no event shall a person placed on probation pursuant to this section be 28 confined by the Department past that person's nineteenth birthday.

29 (c) In determining whether to suspend the sentence and place the juvenile on 34 and the applicability of the resources to the needs of the juvenile.

35 (d) If the court suspends the sentence of the juvenile pursuant to subsection (a) of 36 this section, the court shall order that a probation officer and a juvenile court 37 counselor be assigned to supervise and monitor the progress of the juvenile. Except 38 as provided in subsection (d) of this section, any violations of probation shall be 39 determined and heard pursuant to Article 82 of Chapter 15A of the General Statutes.

40 (e) In the judgment suspending the sentence, the court shall limit jurisdiction to 41 alter or revoke the suspension. This limitation requires that the suspension may be 42 reduced, continued, extended, modified, or revoked only by the sentencing judge or,
43 if the sentencing judge is no longer on the bench, by a presiding judge in the court 44 where the juvenile was sentenced.

1 (f) Parts 1, 2, and 3 of Article 27A of Chapter 14 of the General Statutes applies
2 to juveniles sentenced for offenses set forth in G.S. 14-208.6(5)."

34           destroyed.

35           (c) The Criminal Justice Information Network Governing Board shall 36 consider the issue of expunction of juvenile records, including the appropriate length
37 of time juvenile records should be available to law enforcement, prosecutors, and 38 service providers and under what limitations and conditions records should be 39 expunged.

40           (d) The Criminal Justice Information Network Governing Board shall 41 report to the Chairs of the Senate and House Appropriations Subcommittees on 42 Justice and Public Safety and to the Fiscal Research Division of the General
43 Assembly on the proposed system and any findings, recommendations, and legislative
44 proposals from its study on or before April 1, 1999.

Section 19. (a) The Department of Juvenile Justice shall develop a cost-effective plan to establish statewide community-based dispositional alternatives for juveniles who are adjudicated delinquent. The plan shall include a funding strategy to encourage communities to provide local resources, services, and treatment options to meet the physical, emotional, and mental needs of juveniles and their families. In developing the plan, the Department shall consider the following community-based alternatives:

- (1) Home-based family counseling with family support groups that can provide required intervention services;
- (2) After-school activity programs for middle school juveniles targeted at potential at-risk juveniles during the time when most juvenile crimes occur;
- (3) Inpatient and outpatient substance abuse and sex offender treatment programs;
- (4) Intensive supervision of high-risk juveniles;
- (5) Group homes with psychological treatment and programs for juveniles who do not pose a threat to the public but who need long term intervention services.

In addition, in developing the plan, the Department shall recommend which judicial districts with high crime rates should have non-residential day reporting centers to provide intensive supervision.

(b) The Department shall report to the Chairs of the Senate and House Appropriations Subcommittees on Justice and Public Safety and to the Fiscal Research Division of the General Assembly on the proposed plan, the cost of the plan, and on any legislative proposals required to implement the plan on or before April 1, 1999.

Each pilot program shall be conducted following the guidelines for the establishment of family courts contained in the report of the Commission for the Future of Justice and the Courts in North Carolina and shall be assigned to hear all matters involving intrafamily rights, relationships, and obligations, and all juvenile justice matters, including:

- (1) Child abuse, neglect, and dependency;

7 the Senate and House Appropriations Subcommittees on Justice and Public Safety
8 and to the Fiscal Research Division of the General Assembly by March 1, 1999, on 9 the success of the pilot programs in bringing consistency, efficiency, and fairness to 10 the resolution of family matters and on the impact of the programs on caseloads in 11 the district court division.

12 Section 21. (a) The General Assembly finds that there are multiple risk
13 factors that put youth at risk of becoming delinquent, such as aggression, school
14 failure, child abuse and neglect, substance abuse, extreme economic deprivation,
15 friends who engage in problem behavior, inconsistent, ineffective discipline, poor
16 parental supervision, and family conflict. There are currently a number of screening
17 programs available through a number of State and local entities that, if better
18 coordinated, can provide adequate identification of delinquency risk factors so that 19 delinquency prevention programs and services can be effective.

20 The General Assembly further finds that there are currently a number of 21 State and local entities that provide delinquency prevention programs to at-risk youth
22 and their families, including early intervention programs and programs improving
23 cognitive and social competence and self-control skills, improving parenting skills,
24 and providing a positive role model. Many of these programs are already available
25 and need only to be made more accessible and to be better coordinated with other
26 existing programs and services.

27 (b) The Department of Juvenile Justice shall ensure that existing 28 programs made available through a number of entities, both at the State and at the 29 local level, that provide screenings that can provide adequate identification of 30 delinquency risk factors, continue to be used in a consistent, coordinated, and cost-
31 effective way so as to enable delinquency prevention programs and services to be
32 utilized in a consistent, coordinated, and cost-effective way.

33 (c) In implementing this section, the Department shall cooperate with all
34 affected State and local public and private entities, including local education
35 agencies, local health departments, developmental evaluation centers, local 36 departments of social services, the Divisions of Women and Children's Health, of 37 Social Services, and Mental Health, Developmental Disabilities, and Substance Abuse
38 Services of the Department of Health and Human Services, law enforcement
39 agencies, and nonprofit agencies.

40 (d) The Department shall report to the General Assembly by April 1, 41 1999, on its implementation of this section. This report shall include an evaluation of 42 the screenings and prevention programs, an identification of any bars in the law or in 43 any agency's policy that preclude effective cooperation, together with any legislative 44 and rule recommendations that are needed, recommendations as to any new

1 screening or prevention programs and services that are needed, and a detailed cost
2 analysis of these recommendations.

3 Section 22. (a) The Department of Juvenile Justice, in cooperation with
4 the Department of Public Instruction, shall study more effective and efficient ways to:

5 (1) Coordinate case management of delinquency and undisciplined
6 cases;

7 (2) Provide services to juveniles who are in need of treatment,
8 counseling, or rehabilitation and to the families of those juveniles,
9 including court-ordered parenting responsibility classes; and

10 (3) Provide the maximum protection to the public and to local school
11 administrative units, in particular, through the sharing of 12 information between agencies that work with juveniles who are 13 delinquent or undisciplined and increased accountability of those 14 juveniles and their parents.

15 The study shall include a review of all the agencies, councils, and programs that
16 provide services to juveniles, including the Center for the Prevention of School
17 Violence, School Resource Officers, the Guardian ad Litem Program of the 18 Administrative Office of the Courts, the Department of Social Services, the 19 Department of Administration, the Division of Child and Family Services, the 20 Division of Mental Health, Developmental Disabilities, and Substance Abuse
21 Services, and the Willie M. Program, and whether the agencies, councils, or programs
22 should be eliminated, consolidated, or incorporated within the Department of 23 Juvenile Justice. In determining whether to incorporate any of the above-listed
24 programs or agencies in the new department, the Department of Juvenile Justice and 25 the Department of Public Instruction shall consider the funding mechanisms of those 26 programs and agencies in an effort to operate the Department of Juvenile Justice in a
27 cost-effective and efficient manner.

28 (b) The Department of Juvenile Justice in cooperation with the 29 Department of Public Instruction, shall develop proposed rules, forms, and policies
30 required to establish the Department of Juvenile Justice and to implement the 31 objectives and mandates of Article 12 of Chapter 143B of the General Statutes, as 32 enacted by this act.

33 (c) On or before April 1, 1999, the Department of Juvenile Justice and
34 the Department of Public Instruction shall report its findings and recommendations,
35 including any legislative proposals and funding requirements that are required to
36 implement Article 12 of Chapter 143B of the General Statutes, as enacted by this act,
37 to the 1999 General Assembly by April 1, 1999.

38 PART VII. DEPARTMENT OF JUVENILE JUSTICE STUDY AND REPORT.

39 Section 23. The Department of Juvenile Justice shall use funds within its 40 budget to evaluate the effectiveness of the reform measures implemented pursuant to 41 the provisions of this act. The Department shall report the results of the evaluation
42 and any recommended legislative amendments to Chapter 7B of the General Statutes

16           The facilities authorized for the 1998-99 fiscal year shall be constructed in 17 accordance with the provisions of general law applicable to the construction of State

1 (b) The Office of State Construction of the Department of
2 Administration shall provide a report by May 1, 1999, to the Chairs of the Senate and

Section 4 - Effective July 1, 1999

Section 4 of the bill creates a new Chapter 7B of the General Statutes entitled "Juvenile Code".

Chapter 7B separates the provisions regarding Abuse, Neglect, Dependency from the provisions regarding Delinquent and Undisciplined Juveniles, unlike Chapter 7A in which they were combined.

Chapter 7B, Subchapter I. Abuse, Neglect, Dependency is consistent with the existing portions of Chapter 7A relating to Abuse, Neglect, Dependency. No substantive changes have been made from the existing law, only technical and conforming changes that were required to separate these provisions from those relating to Delinquent and Undisciplined Juveniles. # JUVENILE JUSTICE REFORM ACT

"The juvenile justice system is broken. We need to make sure dangerous young criminals are held accountable and we need to rebuild the system accordingly. We need to make sure all offenders see -- the first time and every time -- that breaking the law carries consequences, in or out of courts. We need to do more to give our kids a chance for more than drugs and guns and crime and prison. Communities must work together better to make sure our children are being served effectively, and we need a lot more adults serving as mentors to keep other kids from turning down that path. We're not doing any of that well enough today. We are failing in our most basic responsibility to keep our people safe, and we are failing our children."

Gov. Jim Hunt, to the Governor's Commission on Juvenile Crime and Justice on Nov. 7, 1997

In the last decade, North Carolina has seen an increase of 172% in violent juvenile crime, and juvenile drug violations and gun crimes have jumped by more than 500%.

In the two decades since the state's juvenile justice system was last overhauled, things have changed: young people are committing more violent crimes at younger ages, and more young people are victims of juvenile crime than ever before.

In April 1997, Gov. Hunt began an intensive look at the juvenile justice system. Hunt asked Secretary Richard Moore of the Department of Crime Control & Public Safety to coordinate the effort, and former Durham prosecutor Marcia Morey, staff director of the Governor's Commission on Juvenile Crime & Justice, launched six months of intensive research: surveying judges, district attorneys and court counselors; looking at previous reform recommendations; and scanning the nation for innovative ideas that work.

In September 1997, Gov. Jim Hunt appointed the Governor's Commission on Juvenile Crime and Justice -- with 18 of the state's top leaders in law enforcement, juvenile crime and children's issues -- and charged the group with developing a comprehensive plan to fight juvenile crime with punishment and prevention strategies.

For seven months, the Commission focused on this task -- assisted by 75 advisory members with expertise in areas like juvenile court, crime prevention, child advocacy and law enforcement. The Commission held seven public hearings across the state, visited innovative programs for juveniles and heard from a wide range of people -- including parents, former and current juvenile offenders, police officers and social workers -- about how best to tackle the problem. Its March 1998 report outlined 61 specific recommendations for change.

Gov. Hunt's 1998 juvenile crime reduction initiative -- called the Juvenile Justice Reform Act -- is built on the Commission's recommendations. It focuses on three key areas identified by the Commission: making sure violent offenders get swift, sure punishment; making prevention more effective to deter youngsters from a life of crime; and overhauling the juvenile justice system to make it work better.

I. MAKING SURE VIOLENT JUVENILES GET SWIFT, SURE PUNISHMENT

The Commission repeatedly heard a clear message from juvenile offenders across the state: the current juvenile justice system is not working. Too many juveniles see no immediate consequences for their actions, time and time again. When they do come to court -- sometime months after committing a crime -- they often get only a slap on the wrist or spend a few months in training school.

As any parent of an unruly child knows, "tough love" is the most effective way to change behavior. That means letting a youngster know there is a consequence for breaking the rules -- every time. That means punishment appropriate to the crime -- the first time and every time. Without that consistency and certainty, discipline doesn't work -- not at home and not in North Carolina's juvenile justice system.

- ♦ Overhauling the way juveniles are sentenced to make sure every juvenile is held accountable -- Under the current system, juveniles are sentenced inconsistently across the state for the same crimes. There is not a definite sentence for certain crimes as in the adult system -- resulting in uneven punishment and mixed signals to juvenile criminals.

Gov. Hunt's Juvenile Justice Reform Act will change the way juveniles are sentenced. It will set guidelines and standards across the state -- depending on the offense and on the juvenile's previous criminal record. Under the new system, punishments will be tougher, more effective and consistent.

Violent, repeat offenders will immediately go to training school, which is often not the case now. Those who commit less serious crimes will be dealt with in their own communities -- at day reporting centers, detention centers, drug or alcohol treatment centers, regimented training programs, electronic house arrest, intensive probation or other intermediate sanctions. Juveniles who commit the least serious crimes will be required to perform community service, undergo counseling, make restitution and be put on probation.

Like truth in sentencing for adults, this approach will ensure the most dangerous criminals will serve their time in training school. And it ensures that all offenders see consequences for their actions, with graduated sanctions in place.

- ♦ Adult time for adult crime -- District Attorneys and judges should have the authority to transfer juveniles 15 years and older who commit violent crimes directly to adult court, without going through time-consuming red tape that could delay a juvenile's trial and jeopardize victims' rights.
- ♦ Speed up all court appearances -- Too often, juveniles charged with a crime spend weeks or months unsupervised before they appear in court. Gov. Hunt's Juvenile Justice Reform Act will mandate their first appearance within 10 days; and require a probable cause hearing be held within 15 days.

♦ Require juveniles who commit certain crimes to be held in secure custody

⇒ Detention beds -- North Carolina does not have enough detention facilities to accommodate the youth who are awaiting trial, need to be held in secure custody for a short time, or are serving a sentence. Too often, juveniles who commit serious crimes go home unsupervised because detention centers are full.

- * Build new detention beds -- Current construction efforts will increase system-wide detention bed capacity to 322. The NC Sentencing Commission estimates an additional need for 143 more detention beds over the next five years -- an increase of 44%.

Cost: $14.4 million to build, $5 a year million to operate

⇒ Training schools -- Gov. Hunt wants to overhaul training schools to emphasize a rigorous academic experience, job skill training and work or community service.

- * Require minimum stay of 6 months -- Now, a training school stay lasts only a few weeks or a few months -- but it's not consistent and it's not long enough to send a signal that serious actions carry serious consequences.
- * Extend age of training school stay -- Now, a juvenile convicted of a violent felony can be released from training school anytime before age 18. Gov. Hunt wants to change the law to require that dangerous juveniles stay in training school until their 19th birthday.
- * Enact minimum 90-day post-release -- Juveniles need better, closer supervision to help make the transition back into society.
Cost covered by additional court counselors
- * Build new training school beds -- The NC Sentencing Commission estimates a need for 208 more training school beds over the next five years.
Cost: $9.8 million to build, $10.4 million to operate

II. DETERRING YOUTH FROM A LIFE OF CRIME

The most effective way to reduce juvenile crime is to prevent it from happening in the first place. That means starting earlier, working with families who need the most help to keep their kids out of trouble. That means getting Smart Start up & running in every county in the state to give children a better start and reduce the potential that they'll turn to crime. (A new study Fight Crime: Invest in Kids, made up of North Carolina law enforcement leaders and prosecutors, says denying Smart Start to young children could multiply 10 times the risk that they will be delinquent teens.)

That means involving the community -- churches, civic groups, youth organizations like the Boy Scouts, businesses and volunteer mentors -- in teaching youngsters values and discipline, respect and responsibility. And that also means making sure parents are taking responsibility -- and are held accountable for getting their kids back on track.

◆ Start in the earliest years

- ⇒ Home visiting -- Studies show intensive home visiting that offers parenting skills to young mothers in a child's earliest years can cut in half the youngster's risk of becoming a delinquent teen.

Last year, Gov. Hunt launched maternal home visitor programs in eight counties, targeting families at risk of child abuse or neglect. This year, he is asking the General Assembly to double that number with public health nurses to provide intensive help, monitoring and child development training for mothers at risk of abusing or neglecting their children.

Cost: $800,000

- ⇒ Risk factors -- State agencies need to work together more effectively to make sure children at risk of getting in trouble are identified and helped early on. Multiple risk factors such as alcohol and substance abuse in families, broken homes, and learning disabilities should be factored in. It's critical to address the needs of at-risk children at birth, pre-school age, kindergarten, and middle school - so Smart Start should be leveraged to include more risk assessment and referral, and the new child care teacher training efforts should include efforts to help child care teachers identify at-risk children.

Under the new consolidated juvenile justice agency, risk assessment and referral will be streamlined and strengthened, and the agency will conduct a study to determine the best way to coordinate fair and appropriate risk assessment.

Cost: $100,000 for the risk assessment study

◆ Parental Responsibility

When a youngster gets in trouble, the parent needs to take responsibility -- and should be held accountable. At Dillon training school, Gov. Hunt talked to one juvenile offender whose parents didn't come to court when their son was sentenced to training school.

Under the Juvenile Justice Reform Act, parents of juveniles charged with a crime must attend court hearings with their child, pay court costs, provide transportation to court appointments, make sure the youngsters comply with court orders or probation requirements, and attend family counseling or parenting classes. If a parent of a youngster charged with a crime fails to meet these responsibilities, he or she may be held in contempt by the judge -- and face fines or other penalties.

All parents of youngsters who get in trouble -- even those who don't end up in the court system -- must sign personal responsibility contracts, pledging to better monitor the youngster, keep them in school, check on homework and be involved in other ways.

Parents are responsible for making sure their youngsters fulfill their personal responsibility contract, which outlines the specific tasks they'll undertake -- including staying in school, joining after-school activities, obeying their parents, staying drug-free, making restitution, undergoing counseling, and performing community service.

No cost

Take action after the first offense -- Many adult criminals got their start committing a minor offense in their early years, but weren't held accountable for their actions. Gov. Hunt believes many youngsters can be deterred from a life of crime with a combination of adult involvement, highly-structured programs and a clear signal that actions have consequences.

- ⇒ On Track -- On Track is Gov. Hunt's new restitution and rehabilitation initiative, targeting first-time offenders. Across the state, these youngsters and their parents must sign a personal responsibility contract outlining the specific tasks they'll undertake to get back on track -- including staying in school, joining after-school activities, obeying their parents, staying drug-free, making restitution, attending counseling, and performing community service. Juvenile court counselors will be enforcing these contracts.

In 10 pilot counties, youngsters on probation will be matched up with a volunteer mentor and a case manager in an intensive supervision program.

Cost: $600,000 to pilot the initiative in 10 counties

- ⇒ Take truancy seriously -- Runaways and truants are often one step away from more serious trouble, but too often their parents can't control them. The Juvenile Justice Reform Act gives juvenile courts authority over truants & runaways through age 18, and the power to hold them in contempt if they don't follow orders to get back in school and obey their parents -- as a way to deter them from getting into more serious trouble.

No cost

- ⇒ Electronic house arrest -- Communities like Durham have found creative ways to keep juveniles on the right path without sending them to training school. Electronic house arrest is one idea that works -- it keeps youngsters accountable and keeps them in their community.

Cost: $200,000 for new house arrest bracelets

- ⇒ Drug and alcohol prevention plan -- The Juvenile Justice Reform Act will ensure that all youngsters convicted of a drug or alcohol crime will be tested, and the new juvenile justice agency will develop a comprehensive juvenile delinquency plan targeting drug and alcohol abuse prevention.

Cost: $50,000 for plan

♦ Innovative community initiatives to teach responsibility --

- ⇒ Community involvement with Juvenile Crime Prevention Councils -- For too long, prevention efforts have been directed from Raleigh, with little responsibility given to communities who know best how to serve their troubled youngsters. Smart Start is a model example of communities galvanizing around their children; assessing the needs of those youngsters; putting together a comprehensive plan to address those needs; and applying for grants to do it their way in their community. In the case of Smart Start, some of the biggest successes have been the brainstorming and good ideas that came from that process -- for very little cost.

The Juvenile Justice Reform Act sets up Juvenile Crime Prevention Councils in every county, replacing and building on the existing Youth Service Advisory Councils. Each Council will include community leaders -- district court judge, the district attorney, a court counselor, a police chief and the sheriff, school superintendent, mental health director and social services director, business leader, members of the faith community and non-profits.

These Councils will be responsible for deciding how best to reduce juvenile crime - focusing on prevention and intervention -- in their county. Starting next year, these Councils will get prevention block grants -- made up of CBA and Governor's One-on-One funds -- and will decide how best to engage churches, non-profits and other community groups in effective prevention efforts.

No cost now; administrative & technical assistance cost to be covered by the new Juvenile Justice agency.

- ⇒ Juvenile Crime Prevention Council incentive grants -- Many churches, non-profits and community groups across North Carolina are coming up with innovative ways to teach youngsters more responsibility. The Juvenile Justice Reform Act provides communities with incentives to work with troubled youths -- mentoring, teen court, community service, drug and alcohol treatment and other critical services.

Like local Smart Start partnerships, these non-profits will put together a plan to serve their local children, compete for competitive grants for innovative local programs and contract with members of the faith community, non-profits and others who want to get involved in helping at-risk children.

Cost: $6.4 million for Juvenile Crime Prevention Council incentive grants (on top of the $16.4 million now spent on CBA and the $1.9 million for Governor's One-on-One)

- ⇒ National Guard -- Gov. Hunt's budget request includes support for the National Guard's G.R.A.S.P. (Guard Response to Alternative Sentencing Program) to set up regimented training programs across the state, involving troubled youth in rigorous exercise, discipline, mentoring efforts that help teach responsibility much like military boot camps.

Cost: $1 million

- ⇒ After-school programs -- Studies show that violent juvenile crimes triple in the hours after school.

- * SOS -- the after-school crime prevention program targeting middle-schoolers that Gov. Hunt launched in his special session on crime in 1994 is now helping 11,000 youngsters in 76 counties, matched up with more than 3,500 volunteers who serve as mentors. Both Gov. Hunt and his wife, Carolyn, volunteer weekly in the SOS program.

- * Communities in Schools -- Gov. Hunt's budget request will double the amount of money for in-school and after-school volunteer efforts -- including mentoring and tutoring -- by Communities in Schools. CIS is operating in 68 counties, expanding to 8 more counties and mentor training is underway in 13 counties as well.

Cost: $7 million in continuation budget for SOS; $950,000 in continuation and $1 million in expansion budget for CIS

- * Mentoring -- At North Carolina's Volunteer Summit this year, Gov. Hunt and 1,000 attendees pledged to match every at-risk child with a mentor. The next day, Orange County alone got 60 calls in 24 hours from people eager to volunteer. Gov. Hunt has declared 1998 "The Year of the Volunteer" and his administration is dedicating time and resources and working with private and non-profit sectors to see that at-risk children get the adult mentor they need.

III. CREATE A MORE EFFECTIVE JUVENILE JUSTICE SYSTEM

The current juvenile justice system is slow, outdated and secretive. There is not enough coordination or effective community resources. There is too much fragmentation and too little accountability to the public. The Juvenile Justice Reform Act will change that with:

- More court counselors -- Court counselors are the front-line workers in the juvenile justice system, and they are overburdened. Adding 100 new court counselors -- a 25% increase -- along with support staff -- will begin to address that need.
Cost: $5 million
- ♦ Family courts -- North Carolina will pilot family courts with specially trained judges to hear juvenile delinquency, juvenile or parental substance abuse, abuse and neglect, and other family cases.
Cost: $2 million for 3-4 pilot programs for two years
- ♦ Give law enforcement and courts the tools they need to protect the public -- Too often, prosecutors don't know the violent history of a juvenile in their court and law enforcement officers don't have full information when they make an arrest.
  - ⇒ Information system -- To arrest dangerous juveniles, law enforcement needs a common information technology system to gather, track and disseminate data on dangerous juvenile criminals. The information system will link prosecutors, court counselors, law enforcement, training schools and detention facilities.
Cost: $4.9 million
  - ⇒ Identify and fingerprint violent juvenile offenders -- Law enforcement officers will be allowed to immediately photograph and fingerprint juveniles who come into custody for serious crimes. If a juvenile is found not guilty, records are destroyed.
No cost to state

⇒ Standardize tracking -- North Carolina needs a standard way of accounting for every juvenile who comes into the system with standardized arrest forms.

No cost now

⇒ Give courts details of juvenile records -- Juvenile records are now closed to the public and not even available to District Attorneys -- which means a prosecutor might not know that a young adult charged with a crime may have committed serious violent crimes as a juvenile. The Juvenile Justice Reform Act will ensure that prosecutors and judicial officials have that information, so they can make the best decisions about public safety.

♦ Consolidate & streamline the system

⇒ Create single cabinet level agency -- State government is fragmented when it comes to serving juvenile offenders. The Administrative Office of the Courts and the Division of Youth Services share the responsibility of sanctioning and treating juvenile offenders -- but are in separate departments and branches of government, with separate budgets, procedures and policies and chief executives. We need to consolidate our efforts to be more efficient and effective. The Juvenile Justice Reform Act establishes a Cabinet-level Department of Juvenile Justice to consolidate and coordinate these efforts, starting Oct. 1, 1998.

Cost: None (according to a State Budget Office fiscal analysis that shows the consolidated administrative and personnel costs of AOC & DYS would cover the new agency; a shortfall of some $500,000 would be made up by AOC and DHHS)

⇒ Create statewide juvenile justice policy board -- Juvenile justice is not well coordinated at the state level -- multiple agencies are going in multiple directions, with no coordination, oversight or policy direction.

The Juvenile Justice Reform Act sets up a State Advisory Council on Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention, a 19-member board to advise and review the new Department of Juvenile Justice. The Governor and Chief Justice of the state Supreme Court will co-chair the council, and members will include Cabinet secretaries; the director of the Administrative Office of the Courts; the Superintendent of Public Instruction; representatives from the General Assembly; and private citizens who have demonstrated a commitment to youth and juvenile justice issues.

In addition to working with the new Department of Juvenile Justice, the council will look at the juvenile justice system as a whole -- working with agencies to set policy that promotes strong, collaborative review of juvenile offenders.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Since the last comprehensive revision of North Carolina's Juvenile Code in 1979, juvenile crime has escalated to unacceptable levels. From 1979 to 1996 the juvenile arrest rate for violent crime surged 172 percent; weapon offenses have increased seven-fold and drug arrests have doubled. Not only are younger juveniles committing more serious crimes, they also are victims of juvenile crime. The significance of these statistics are even more troublesome in that during the same time period North Carolina's 10 - 15 year old population declined.

1979 versus 1996

Category	1979	1996	Percent Change
10 - 15 year old population	584,744	560,911	- 4.1%

Criminal Justice Analysis Center of the Governor's Crime Commission

Despite the recent decline in the adult crime rates, juvenile arrests continue to escalate. If current trends persist and the juvenile population in North Carolina increases 15% over the next decade, the growth of juvenile crime could be three times higher than that of adults. Our already over-burdened juvenile justice system will face significantly larger caseloads, increased demands on detention and training school facilities and fewer resources will be available for prevention and rehabilitation. It is also of equal concern that minority youth are vastly over-represented in the juvenile justice system. Although African-American youth comprise less than one-third of North Carolina's population, they represent two-thirds of the youth who are arrested and/or placed in secure custody. Significant attention and efforts must be made to rectify this problem.

When Jim Hunt was re-elected to his fourth term as Governor, a top priority of his administration was to fight and reduce juvenile crime. In April 1997, work began in preparation for Governor Hunt's announcement of the Governor's Commission on Juvenile Crime and Justice. Over 300 North Carolina judges, juvenile justice experts, district attorneys, law enforcement and child advocates were interviewed and surveyed about the issues and problems facing the juvenile justice outdated and the system is overburdened. The majority of these experts stated that delinquent youth are not held accountable for their actions. Too many first time offenders get away with little, if any consequences. An average of 6 - 8 weeks elapse before a juvenile is brought to court after committing an offense. Detention beds are full and offenders are released from training schools in shorter periods of time in order to make way for new admissions. Finally, there is a lack of comprehensive and coordinated efforts to prevent juvenile delinquency in the first place.

On September 4, 1997, Governor Hunt, by and through Executive Order, established the Governor's Commission on Juvenile Crime and Justice. With the Governor as Chair of the Commission and Secretary of Crime Control and Public Safety Richard Moore as Vice-Chair, five Ex-Officio department heads and eighteen voting Commissioners were appointed to conduct a thorough and comprehensive review of the juvenile criminal justice system. In addition to the Commission members, seventy-five individuals including service providers, child advocates and criminal justice officials were asked to serve on one of four advisory groups: Juvenile Code Revision Advisory Group; Delinquency Prevention and Drug Education Advisory Group; Accountable Sanctions Advisory Group; and the Juvenile Justice System Agency Advisory Group.

From September 1997 through December 1997, Governor Hunt, the Commission and Advisory Groups met twice a month to study the issues, learn from juvenile justice experts and examine innovative approaches from other states. In addition to these meetings, public hearings were held in Fayetteville, Winston-Salem, Asheville, Durham, Wilmington, Charlotte and Goldsboro. Commissioners toured C.A. Dillon Training School and a county operated detention facility; observed juvenile court proceedings in Charlotte and Wilmington; visited youth homes and programs across the State; and spoke with numerous youth who were under court supervision. It was the comments from the youth themselves that made lasting impressions on the Governor and Commissioners. One young offender echoed the comments of many other youth when he referred to the juvenile justice system as a "joke" and said, "I was given fifteen second chances."

At the conclusion of the Advisory meetings, in January 1998, Governor Hunt presided over five Commission hearings. During these meetings, the Commission studied and reviewed the reports from the four Advisory Groups. On March 10, 1998, the Commission approved this final report. The sixty-one recommendations represent a balanced approach which is aimed at: 1) preventing juvenile delinquency; and 2) interrupting the development of youth violence and victimization. All of the recommendations call for accountability: Juveniles must be held swiftly and appropriately accountable for delinquent behavior; parents must be held accountable to support their children; and State and local agencies must be held accountable to provide coordinated, effective responses to delinquent and undisciplined behavior while doing everything possible to prevent juveniles from committing crime in the first place.

I. JUVENILE CODE

A. STRUCTURE OF THE JUVENILE CODE

Recommendation No. 1:

The statutory sections of the Juvenile Code that pertain to undisciplined and delinquent juveniles should be separate and distinct from those statutes that pertain to abused, neglected, and dependent juveniles.

Statement of the problem:

The Juvenile Code, Subchapter XI of Chapter 7A of the North Carolina General Statutes, contains laws pertaining to both delinquency and undisciplined matters and abuse, neglect and dependency matters. Judges, practitioners, and citizens have complained that the structure of the present Juvenile Code is confusing and difficult to understand because the statutes (as well as individual paragraphs within the same statute) combine and inter-mix laws pertaining to juvenile offenders and those pertaining to children who need protection. For example, G.S. 7A-575 - "Order for secure or nonsecure custody" reads in part: "The custody order shall be in writing and shall direct a law enforcement officer or other authorized person to assume custody of the juvenile and to make due return on the order...If the order is for secure custody, copies of the petition and the custody order shall accompany the juvenile...". Unless the new practitioner or lay person knows that secure custody pertains to delinquency cases and nonsecure custody pertains to civil abuse, neglect, and dependency cases, the paragraph is very confusing.

Rationale for the recommendation:

The organizational structure of the Juvenile Code should be changed by separating statutes that address delinquency and undisciplined matters from statutes that address abuse, neglect and dependency matters. Organizing the juvenile justice statutes into separate parts would provide a more logical and chronological organization for judges and juvenile court practitioners. Also, it would be easier for the general public to understand and to have confidence in the laws relating to the juvenile justice system.

The Court Improvement Project of the Administrative Office of the Courts endorsed this recommendation in its report submitted to this Commission on March 10, 1998.

B. AGE OF DELINQUENCY JURISDICTION*Recommendation No. 2:

The maximum age of original jurisdiction for delinquent juveniles should remain up until the 16th birthday. The age of extended juvenile jurisdiction for disposition purposes for delinquent juveniles should be raised from age 18 to age 21.

Statement of the problem:

Juvenile Court has exclusive original jurisdiction over juveniles who commit delinquent and undisciplined acts while at least age 6 and not yet age 16. The extended age for which a juvenile may be under juvenile court jurisdiction is until the 18th birthday. [G.S. 7A-523 and 7A-524]

North Carolina is one of only three states that prosecute 16-year-olds as adults in the criminal system. Juveniles who are in training school, or who are under juvenile court jurisdiction, are automatically released upon reaching their 18th birthday. Some of the more serious, violent youth who remain in training schools are released on their 18th birthday despite the fact that they have not been treated or rehabilitated effectively. With no post-release conditions, these older juveniles continue to pose a risk to community safety as well as to themselves. It has been noted that more juveniles are transferred to the adult system simply because judges do not think effective treatment can be given to them before their 18th birthday.

Rationale for the recommendation:

The majority of the Juvenile Code Advisory Committee members felt that raising the original jurisdictional age for delinquency would have a detrimental impact on an already overburdened juvenile justice system. It was stated that public opinion would not favor such a recommendation, particularly in light of the serious rise in crimes being committed by juveniles under 16 years of age. Finally, budgetary projections would be exorbitant. The Commission agreed to maintain the upper age of original jurisdiction up to a juvenile's 16th birthday.

The Commission recommends that juvenile jurisdiction be extended until a youth's 21st birthday. Giving the juvenile justice system this extended authority over 18-, 19-, and 20 year-olds (on probation, in training school, or subject to other disposition provisions) would result in more appropriate, longer rehabilitative treatment and would result in fewer transfers of juveniles to the adult system, where rehabilitation is unlikely to occur.

[Note: In 1997, three states - Connecticut, New York and North Carolina - processed 16 year

olds as adults for criminal jurisdiction purposes. Sixteen states process 17 year-olds as adults and thirty-nine states process 18 year-olds as adults. For extended jurisdiction, a majority of states have expanded the juvenile court's jurisdiction to age 21. Since 1992, eleven states have extended the age to commit juveniles to juvenile correctional facilities, including California, Oregon and Washington, to the age of 25.]

On March 10, 1998, during the final Commission meeting, the Governor, Secretary Moore and some Commissioners expressed their opinion that this recommendation for extended jurisdiction should apply only to those youth who are in training school on their 18th birthday and who should remain for an extended period of time.

C. STATUS OFFENDERS

Recommendation No. 3:

Judges should have the authority to hold undisciplined juveniles in contempt, if they are found to be in willful violation of the court's disposition order. All due process rights should be given to the juvenile in contempt proceedings.

Recommendation No. 4:

Original jurisdiction over undisciplined juveniles should be extended from age 16 to age 18.

Statement of the problem:

Presently, juveniles who are under the age of 16 may be brought to juvenile court on allegations of being "undisciplined" if they are runaways from home, truant from school, beyond the parents' control, or found regularly in places where it is unlawful for a juvenile to be. If a juvenile is found to be "undisciplined" the court may order "protective supervision." While the Juvenile Code allows the court to impose most dispositions that are available in delinquency cases, it prohibits undisciplined juveniles from being placed in secure custody for more than 24 hours (or in some instances, 72 hours).

Several North Carolina judicial districts no longer process undisciplined petitions. Judges and court counselors complain that it is a "statute without teeth" because the court cannot place a juvenile in detention if s/he fails to comply with a valid "protective supervision order" and continues to be truant from school, to run away from home, or to be beyond the disciplinary control of a parent or guardian. The majority of judges and court counselors surveyed in 1997 believed that the court should retain jurisdiction over undisciplined youth only if short term detention could be used as an option. National studies indicate that juveniles who are truant from school or are beyond the disciplinary control of parents are much more likely to engage in delinquent activity.

Presently, a juvenile who is beyond his/her 16th birthday, who refuses to obey household rules by running away, violating curfew, visiting bars or dropping out of school, remains the legal responsibility of the parents who are obligated to provide food, clothing and shelter. In fact, parents can be charged with neglect or dependency for failing to provide for their 16- and 17-year-old teenagers. For parents who seek some type of court assistance, the juvenile court lacks jurisdiction. Numerous citizens and court officials have urged that the jurisdictional age for undisciplined youth be raised from a youth's 16th to 18th birthday.

Rationale for the recommendations:

Undisciplined behavior is frequently the first step to delinquency. The Commission believes that it is important to retain juvenile court jurisdiction over status offenders and recommends that the Code continue to exercise jurisdiction over the existing categories of undisciplined juveniles (status offenders): runaways; truants; juveniles who are beyond their parents' or guardians' control; and juveniles found regularly in places where it is unlawful for a juvenile to be. The Commission agreed that the juvenile court system should continue to provide resources to these youth and their families. These youth can benefit from community-based services, such as counseling and mentoring.

The Commission recommends that the court have the ability to find undisciplined juveniles in contempt of court if they willfully fail to follow a court's valid protective supervision order. Juveniles should be afforded all due process rights in contempt proceedings since they could face detention if found to be in contempt.

Given that parents of 16- and 17- year-olds remain legally obligated to provide food, shelter, and clothing even when their children are beyond their control, out of the home, truant from school or regularly found in places where they should not be, the Commission recommends that the jurisdictional age for undisciplined juveniles be raised to age 18 to provide support and services to these families and youths. Court assistance is needed for these youth who are considered to be out of parental control.

D. SCREENING, INTAKE AND DIVERSION*Recommendation No. 5:

The Juvenile Code should provide that if a juvenile's case is not filed as a petition (when grounds for filing a petition exist) and is diverted to a community resource:

a) the case must remain "open" for follow-up by Juvenile Services until the juvenile "substantially completes" the diversion plan; and b) if the juvenile fails to substantially complete a diversion plan, a petition may be filed. Examples of programs to which juveniles may be diverted include: Teen Court, restitution, community service, victim-offender mediation, regimented physical training and counseling.

Recommendation No. 6:

Juvenile Services should maintain confidential records of all diverted cases so that intake counselors can determine whether a juvenile has had a complaint diverted previously. [See also Recommendation No. 38 in Section II, Juvenile Dispositions/Sentencing.]

Recommendation No. 7:

The Juvenile Code should allow the use of "diversion contracts" which are voluntary agreements entered into by the juvenile, the parent(s) and/or guardian(s), the intake counselor, and, when possible, appropriate service providers. Diversion contracts should provide for accountability by all parties and appropriate consequences for any party's noncompliance.

Recommendation No. 8:

Statutory criteria should be established to determine which cases may be diverted from Juvenile Court to Teen Court. Teen Court should be a one time option primarily for first offenders who are alleged to have committed misdemeanors, and should not be an option for misdemeanor assaults inflicting serious injury, assaults involving weapons, etc.

Statement of the problem:

Present law: Juvenile court delinquency and undisciplined complaints are screened initially by the local judicial district's Juvenile Services intake court counselor. The intake counselor makes a preliminary determination whether the juvenile is within the jurisdiction of the court as a delinquent or undisciplined juvenile. Upon finding legal sufficiency for the complaint, the intake counselor determines whether a complaint should be filed as a petition for court or if the juvenile should be diverted to a community resource. Generally, for nonviolent felonies and misdemeanor complaints, there are no statutory guidelines for intake counselors to consider when deciding which complaints should be filed for court action and which should be diverted to a community resource. Complaints that allege "nondivertible offenses," or serious felonies must be filed as petitions. Finally, under current law, if a juvenile's case is diverted to a community resource and the juvenile "contacts or is seen by the resource," the intake counselor must close the file. (G.S. 7A-531, 7A-532, and 7A-534)

In 1997, approximately 40% of all juvenile complaints were diverted away from court to a community based program. Under current practice, there is no statewide consistency in the handling of juvenile court cases. While some district intake counselors may file all misdemeanor assault or drug cases, other district intake counselors may divert similar types of cases. For juveniles whose cases are diverted to a community resource, as long as the juvenile makes a contact, such as a phone call, the juvenile cannot later be brought into court for that matter. Currently, no juvenile records are permitted to be kept on cases that are diverted from juvenile court, therefore a juvenile may have several complaints diverted, and thereby may never be held accountable for his/her actions.

Rationale for the recommendations:

Juveniles must be held accountable for their actions. No juvenile whose case is diverted from court should be able to avoid responsibility. The use of diversion contracts should provide clear terms and expectations of the juvenile, and would be a basis for Juvenile Services to follow-up to ensure the juvenile complies with the agreement. Official, confidential records of diversion would assist intake counselors in making later diversion decisions and assist the court in making subsequent, appropriate disposition or transfer decisions. Finally, as Teen Courts are being implemented in more jurisdictions, statutory guidelines should be implemented as to what type of offenders and cases should be heard.

E. PARENTAL ACCOUNTABILITY TO APPEAR IN COURT

Recommendation No. 9:

The parent(s) and/or guardian(s) of a juvenile should be required to attend detention, adjudication and disposition hearings. Judges should be authorized and encouraged to rigorously and consistently require the parent(s) and/or guardian(s) to attend juvenile hearings. If the court finds the parent(s) and/or guardian(s) in wilful violation of such orders, the court should have the authority to hold contempt proceedings against the parent(s) and/or legal guardian(s) with the possibility of sanctions including the payment of fines, costs and/or statutorily permissible incarceration.

Statement of the problem:

Currently, the Code provides that if a parent or guardian is personally served with a summons to appear in court, in no less than five days before the scheduled hearing, and "fails without reasonable cause to appear and to bring the juvenile before the court, he may be proceeded against as for contempt of court." [G.S. 7A-565] Despite this statutory provision many parents and/or legal guardians are never summoned to court. As a result, many juveniles appear in court alone without a parent. This lack of parental involvement in a juvenile's contact with the juvenile justice system undercuts the seriousness of the process in the juvenile's mind.

Court counselors and judges most often cite uncooperative parents/legal guardians as the primary reason juveniles do not succeed on probation. Eighty-five percent of North Carolina's juvenile court judges surveyed in the summer of 1997 stated that parents are not being held accountable in juvenile justice proceedings. It is estimated that in more than one-third of all juvenile cases, parents are detrimental to the juvenile's success on probation. Parents either do not appear for court hearings or do nothing to assist in getting their child to school or to court ordered appointments.

Rationale for the recommendation:

Parents of juveniles must take a more active and cooperative role in juvenile proceedings. The Code should authorize the court to hold parents accountable, through contempt or other means that protect the parents' due process rights, for failing without cause to appear at a detention, adjudication, or disposition hearing, or for failing to cooperate with their child's court supervision.

Recent initiatives in Kansas, Michigan and Texas require parents to attend the hearings of their children or face contempt of court sanctions, such as fines and possible jail time.

F. TIME LIMITS: FIRST APPEARANCES; DETENTION; PROBABLE CAUSE/TRANSFER HEARINGS; FILING OF PETITIONS

Recommendation No. 10:

The Code should require that if a complaint is approved for filing as a petition, the petition must be filed within 15 days from receipt of the complaint, with a possible extension of up to 15 additional days. If a juvenile petition is diverted at intake, this time period shall be stayed.

Statement of the problem:

There is no statutory time limit between the time a juvenile complaint is approved for filing and the time the petition is actually filed. Presently, the Code requires only that complaints be evaluated within 15 days of receipt, with a possible extension up to an additional 15 days.

The average length of time between the date of an offense and the juvenile's first court appearance is 6-8 weeks. Virtually every juvenile justice professional has stressed the need for quicker processing of juvenile cases so that juvenile offenders will realize the consequences of their actions and will be held accountable.

Rationale for the recommendation:

This provision would apply to the actual filing of the petition. The same 15 day limit that applies to the intake counselor's decision of whether a complaint should be filed as a petition would apply to the date when the petition should actually be filed. Presently, the Code specifies no time within which the petition must be filed. This is one of several recommendations aimed at expediting the handling of juvenile cases.

Recommendation No. 11:

Juveniles who are taken into secure custody shall have first appearances or detention hearings within five days of being placed into secure custody. For juveniles who are alleged to have committed felonies and are not in secure custody, the Code should require a first appearance within 5 days after service of the petition and summons.

Statement of the problem:

Presently, the Juvenile Code requires that juveniles who are placed in secure custody must be brought into court within five days. [G.S. 7A-577] However, for those juveniles who are charged with felonies and who are not placed in secure custody, there is no statutory time frame in which the juvenile must appear in court. In North Carolina, an average of six to eight weeks elapse between the time the juvenile commits an offense until s/he first walks into court. These prolonged delays diminish responsibility and accountability.

Rationale for the recommendation:

A prompt and meaningful first appearance would help convey to the juvenile and the parent(s) and/or guardian(s) the seriousness of the situation. Juveniles who are charged with felony offenses should be brought into court as swiftly as possible in order to be informed of the serious nature of being charged with a felony, be appointed legal counsel, and have a date set for the adjudicatory hearing.

Recommendation No. 12:

Juveniles who are held in secure custody are entitled to a detention hearing every five days. The Juvenile Code should authorize the holding of detention hearings by two-way interactive audio/visual communication from wherever a juvenile is detained to juvenile court.

Statement of the problem:

As a result of a severe shortage of detention beds in North Carolina, hundreds of juveniles must be transported across the state in order to be placed in a detention facility. Also, juveniles who are held in detention are entitled to a detention hearing every five days and must be transported to and from one of the state's 12 detention facilities. Law enforcement departments have had to bear the brunt of the transportation burden, resulting in two officers being taken away from regularly assigned duties to transport juveniles.

Rationale for the recommendation:

Interactive audio/visual communication between juvenile courtrooms and detention facilities would reduce staff and time constraints, and costs of transporting juveniles.

Recommendation No. 13:

Juveniles who are charged with felony offenses are entitled to a probable cause hearing. A probable cause hearing should be held within 15 days after the juvenile's "first appearance" (if the juvenile is not in secure custody) or the juvenile's secure custody hearing (if the juvenile is in secure custody). Upon a finding of probable cause the court may proceed with the transfer hearing, but for good cause the judge may continue the transfer hearing until a later date.

Recommendation No. 14:

A juvenile should be entitled to 5 days notice prior to the probable cause hearing of the state's intention to seek transfer to superior court. Failure to provide the 5-days notice constitutes grounds for the presiding juvenile court judge to continue the transfer hearing after a finding of probable cause.

Statement of the problem:

Juveniles who are charged with felony offenses are entitled to probable cause hearings. Unlike the adult criminal statutes, there is no time limit for which a probable cause hearing must be held. Some probable cause hearings are held months after a juvenile has been charged, resulting in some youth spending long periods of time in detention.

Article 49 of the current Juvenile Code does not provide for a transfer hearing that is separate and distinct from the probable cause hearing. Typically, if probable cause is found in a juvenile's case, the presiding judge entertains motions on the issue of transfer. The issues of probable cause and transfer are often decided during the same hearing, with the most serious cases being transferred to the adult system.

On some occasions, juvenile attorneys have not been notified of the state's intention to seek transfer to superior court. Without advance notice, important witnesses may not have been subpoenaed and the standard of fundamental fairness may not have been met.

G. FINGERPRINTS AND PHOTOGRAPHS

Recommendation No. 15:

The Code shall authorize law enforcement officials to fingerprint and photograph any juvenile who is charged with a felony at any point after the complaint is referred to Juvenile Services. If a juvenile petition is not filed, probable cause is not found, or the juvenile is not adjudicated delinquent, any and all evidence pertaining to the photographs and fingerprints shall be destroyed.

Statement of the problem:

Currently, juveniles who are arrested for misdemeanor or felony offenses cannot be photographed or fingerprinted without a court order or until after an adjudication for an offense that would be a Class A-E felony, if committed by an adult. Often, juveniles who are charged with serious felonies do not appear in court and are suspects in other crimes. Law enforcement and juvenile court officials have no way to identify these youth.

Rationale for the recommendation:

The authority to photograph and fingerprint all juveniles charged with felony offenses would assist law enforcement in investigations and would assist court counselors to locate juveniles for whom the court has issued a "pick up" (secure custody) order. In recent years, 27 states have authorized law enforcement to fingerprint and photograph juveniles upon arrest for crimes that would be felonies if committed by adults. This information has been useful for identification and subsequent investigations.

Any photographs or fingerprints obtained in a case for which the juvenile is not adjudicated delinquent should be destroyed. This provision is to ensure that only fingerprints and photographs of juveniles who actually are adjudicated become part of a permanent record.

Under the recommendation, a nontestimonial identification order would still be required before photographing or fingerprinting a juvenile at any stage prior to the referral to intake of a complaint alleging a felony offense.

H. CONFIDENTIALITY

Recommendation No. 16:

The Code should provide that juvenile hearings are open to the public, provided the court may close a hearing or a part of a hearing for good cause upon motion of a party or on the court's own motion.

Statement of the problem:

Present law authorizes the judge to exclude the public, but requires that a hearing be open at the juvenile's request. [G.S. 7A-629] In most districts juvenile court is routinely closed to the public. In a few districts, it is almost always open. There is a lack of uniformity throughout the State and oftentimes witnesses and victims are not allowed in the courtroom for the entire juvenile proceeding. Closed courtrooms have added to the secrecy of proceedings and denied the public's right to know about the nature and extent of juvenile crime.

Rationale for the recommendation:

Victims and the public have the right to know about juvenile proceedings; however, some parts of some proceedings (such as those dealing with psychiatric information or other sensitive family matters) should not be public. In 1997, 21 states required or permitted the court to open juvenile proceedings to the public if the youth was charged with serious or violent offenses or if the juveniles were repeat offenders.

I. ACCESS TO JUVENILE COURT RECORDS

Recommendation No. 17:

Juvenile records should be available for examination (but not photocopying) by law enforcement officials and possibly by service providers. Designated school officials should have access to juvenile court records in order to facilitate compliance with juvenile court orders that are in the juvenile's best interest. Any information gained from examination of juvenile records not subject to the notification to schools requirements under the North Carolina General Statutes shall not be used as the sole basis for expulsion or suspension. [See also Recommendations Nos. 48 and 49 in Section III, Juvenile Justice Agency.]

Statement of the problem:

Juvenile records are sealed and remain confidential unless a court order allows interested parties to have access to delinquency or undisciplined records.

Strict confidentiality statutes have inhibited service providers from accessing information to properly provide the best treatment for adjudicated youth. Also, closed records have prevented or restricted law enforcement officials from having access to information that may be useful in subsequent investigations.

Rationale for the recommendation:

Many agencies such as mental health, social services, drug rehabilitation, schools, etc., that serve court-supervised youth may be better able to provide appropriate treatment if they have access to juvenile records. Access to these records will improve coordination of services to the juvenile and the juvenile's family.

School officials, also, should have access to court records so that they can better respond to the needs of court-involved youth while preserving school safety. The Commission does not want or intend for schools to be able to use any information obtained from court files as a sole means to suspend or expel a student. Finally, law enforcement officers should have access to juvenile records for purposes of investigating criminal activity.

The judge should have the discretion to designate certain information in the juvenile file as "sealed" and accessible only by court order.

A 1995 survey conducted by the National Center for Juvenile Justice found that 26 states allowed law enforcement agencies to have access to juvenile court records, 20 states allowed schools to have at least limited access to information concerning the juvenile's name/address and disposition of charges, and 36 states allowed service providers to have access to juvenile information.

J. PROBABLE CAUSE/TRANSFER HEARINGS

Recommendation No. 18:

The Juvenile Code should provide that in order to transfer a case to superior court the judge must conclude that the interest of justice and the purposes of the Juvenile Code will be served by transferring the case. In addition, the Code should require that the judge, before ordering transfer of a case to superior court, consider the following factors:

- a. the juvenile's age;
- b. the juvenile's maturity;
- c. the juvenile's intellectual functioning;
- d. the juvenile's prior record;
- e. previous rehabilitative attempts;
- f. the likelihood that the juvenile can benefit from treatment within the time that the juvenile would remain under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court;
- g. the seriousness of the offense;
- h. the degree of violence involved in the offense; and
- i. the prospects for adequate protection of the public.

Statement of the problem:

Currently, the Juvenile Code, does not require a presiding judge to take any specific facts into consideration when deciding to transfer a case. The statute provides only that, "the judge may proceed to determine whether the needs of the juvenile or the best interests of the state will be served by transfer of the case to superior court for trial as in the case of adults." [G.S. 7A-610] The vagueness of the statute is interpreted to mean that judges are not required to specify any reasons for transfer.

Rationale for the recommendations:

In an effort to expedite the juvenile justice system process, the probable cause hearing should be held within a specific time frame, particularly for juveniles who are in secure custody. The recommendation provides for time extensions, if necessary; for example, when a party needs adequate time to obtain meaningful expert assistance.

Considerations of due process and fundamental fairness dictate that prosecutors must give notice of intent to seek the transfer of a juvenile to the adult system. This will encourage better preparation for the hearing and provide greater procedural fairness at this critical proceeding. Also, this recommendation resolves the present ambiguity as to whether the judge may order transfer without a motion from the prosecutor or the juvenile.

As a matter of fairness and consistency, the Code should require the presiding judge to consider certain factors when deciding whether to transfer a case to superior court. Virtually all other states provide statutory factors for the judge to consider, including the juvenile's age, the juvenile's emotional maturity, the juvenile's intellectual functioning, the juvenile's prior record, previous rehabilitation attempts, the likelihood that the juvenile can benefit from treatment within the time that the juvenile would remain under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court, the seriousness of the offense, the degree of violence involved in the offense, and the prospects for adequate protection of the public.

K. BLENDED SENTENCING

Recommendation No. 19:

North Carolina should adopt a criminal-inclusive model of blended sentencing whereby if a juvenile is transferred to superior court, the presiding superior court judge may impose a juvenile disposition and an adult criminal disposition simultaneously. Execution of the adult criminal disposition is suspended during imposition of the juvenile disposition and pending a violation or re-offense by the juvenile.

Statement of the problem:

If a juvenile has been charged with a serious or violent crime, judges are reluctant to maintain juvenile jurisdiction if the period of time spent under supervision is not enough time to provide adequate rehabilitation. Thus juveniles are more likely to be transferred to the adult system to ensure public safety. But if a juvenile is transferred to the adult system to be tried in superior court, the superior court must impose an adult sentence according to structured sentencing guidelines. Statistics show that juveniles who are transferred to the adult system are more likely to commit more crimes than those who are kept in the juvenile rehabilitative system.

Rationale for recommendation:

Blended sentencing would allow a superior court judge to impose a juvenile and/or adult sanction. The Commission recommends that North Carolina adopt a "Criminal-Inclusive Blend" whereby the superior court imposes both a juvenile and adult correctional sanction and suspends the adult sentence during imposition of the juvenile disposition and pending a violation or re-offense by the juvenile. Other states that have adopted this model include Arkansas and Missouri. Approximately one-half of the other states have adopted variations of blended sentencing.

L. DIRECT FILING OF CHARGES AGAINST 15 YEAR-OLD OFFENDERS FOR CERTAIN SERIOUS VIOLENT CRIMES

Recommendation No. 20:

If blended sentencing exists, the prosecutor should have the authority to directly charge a juvenile as an adult in the case of 15 year-olds who have committed Class A-E felony offenses.

Statement of the problem:

Fifteen year-olds who commit serious or violent crimes may have been on juvenile probation for prior offenses or may be on conditional releases from training schools. For these types of cases and for 15 year-olds who are charged with murder, rape, armed robbery or other Class A-E felonies, juvenile court proceedings delay the time in which a juvenile is ultimately transferred to the adult system.

Rationale for the recommendation:

Prosecutorial discretion would permit prosecutors to make essentially the same decision that a juvenile court judge makes in transfer decisions. Direct filing of charges in adult court against those 15 year-olds who have committed serious violent offenses or who are serious repeat offenders would quickly remove from the juvenile justice system these youth who would otherwise occupy scarce detention bed space.

II. JUVENILE DISPOSITIONS/SENTENCING

A. PURPOSE OF DISPOSITIONS

Recommendation No. 21:

"Protection of the public" should be included in the purpose paragraph of the Disposition Article. The Code should require that the judge use the "most effective" dispositional alternative or sanction and the requirement for the judge to use the "least restrictive disposition" or alternative should be eliminated.

Statement of the problem:

Currently, the North Carolina juvenile justice system focuses on the offender. The primary consideration in determining an appropriate disposition is the juvenile's rehabilitative needs. N.C. Gen. Stat. § 7A-646 states that "[i]n choosing among statutorily permissible dispositions...the judge shall select the restrictive disposition both in terms of kind and duration, that is appropriate to the seriousness of the offense, the degree of culpability indicated by the circumstances of the particular case and the age and prior record of the juvenile." Protection of the public is mentioned in other parts of the Juvenile Code but is not emphasized in the purpose of dispositions.

Rationale for the recommendation:

The Commission recommends that the system concentrate on holding the offender accountable for his/her behavior and protecting the public. In responses to increases in the rate and seriousness of juvenile crime across the country, both federal and state legislatures have been reconsidering the balancing point between the juvenile justice system's focus on child protection and treatment and the protection of the public safety. The distinct trend has been toward placing greater weight on the protection of the public safety.

In order to ensure the public safety and hold the juvenile accountable for his/her offenses, the Commission recommends that North Carolina require juvenile judges to use the "most effective" dispositional alternative. Accordingly, the Commission also recommends that North Carolina adopt a new graduated disposition structure that accounts for the seriousness of the offense, accountability of the juvenile, and the protection of the public safety. While priority factors in the dispositional process should be the seriousness of the offense and the risk of continued delinquent behavior, the degree of culpability and the rehabilitative needs of the offender should also be considered. Under a new graduated disposition structure the "least restrictive alternative" is not necessarily the most appropriate disposition to hold the juvenile accountable.

B. PARENTAL ACCOUNTABILITY

Recommendation No. 22:

The court should be authorized, in its discretion, to require parent(s) and/or guardian(s), who are able to do so, to transport or provide transportation to the juvenile to assist in the juvenile's compliance with dispositional orders, including transportation to perform community service or attend treatment.

Statement of the problem:

The current statute requires parents to transport juvenile probationers only to appointments with their court counselors. There is no provision requiring parents to transport their children to appointments with service providers, including mental health workers, social workers, etc., or to community service sites.

Rationale for the recommendation:

The court should have the authority to require parents to transport juveniles on probation to any location required as a condition of probation. If a parent is able to provide transportation, the court should be able to hold the parent accountable for ensuring that the juvenile at least arrives for appointments or community service work that are conditions of the juvenile's probation.

Recommendation No. 23:

Parental responsibility classes should be funded and the court should be authorized to require parent(s) and/or guardian(s) to attend them.

Statement of the problem:

Frequently parents of juvenile delinquents are unprepared for or frustrated with their role as parents and may be facing a myriad of other issues (e.g., family violence, poverty). In these cases, parenting classes are helpful to teach the parent appropriate responses to the juvenile and the juvenile's behavior. Parental responsibility classes are available in some parts of North Carolina. Some states provide statewide funding for these programs and authorize courts to mandate participation for parents who have children on juvenile probation.

Rationale for the recommendation:

The Commission believes that parental responsibility classes are beneficial for both the juvenile who requires structure and discipline, and the parent who may need assistance in dealing appropriately with the juvenile. More parental responsibility classes should be available and judges should be authorized to mandate participation in them.

Recommendation No. 24:

With good cause, juvenile court counselors should be authorized to initiate contempt of court proceedings if the parent(s) or guardian(s) wilfully fails to cooperate with their child's probation conditions. [See also Recommendation No. 9 in Section I, Juvenile Code.]

Statement of the problem:

Currently, only the juvenile court judge may initiate contempt proceedings against the parents of juveniles adjudicated delinquent. Contempt is rarely utilized in juvenile court though it is an available tool. When contempt proceedings are initiated by the court, some major failure on the parent's part has occurred.

Rationale for the recommendation:

Court counselors interact regularly with the parents of juvenile probationers. If the parent of a juvenile on probation fails to cooperate with the juvenile's probation conditions in any significant way, contempt of court proceedings against the parent is a legitimate way to leverage that participation. Since the court counselor is typically the first to know of and is in the best position to assess any failure of the parent to cooperate with the terms of the juvenile's probation, the court counselor is in the best position to initiate contempt proceedings. Immediate initiation of contempt proceedings may halt or diminish any adverse effect on the juvenile that a parent's non-compliance may have. Each district should develop written procedures to guide court counselors in this process.

Recommendation No. 25:

The Juvenile Code should authorize the court, in its discretion and if the parent has the means to pay, to require the parent(s) and/or guardian(s) of delinquent juveniles to:

- a) pay a daily set fee for days held in secure detention;
- b) pay a fee for probation supervision or residential facility costs;
- c) assign private insurance coverage to cover medical costs while the juvenile is in secure detention, training school or other out-of-home placement;
- d) pay court-appointed attorney's fees.

Statement of the problem:

Juveniles are presumed indigent under the Juvenile Code and are not required to pay for treatment or services. [G.S. 7A-584] A court may order the parent to pay the cost of medical, surgical, psychiatric, psychological, or other treatment ordered by the court for the juvenile, or for the parent when the treatment is directly related to the parent's behavior which contributed or led to the juvenile's adjudication. If the court finds that the parent is unable to pay the costs of treatment, the court may charge the costs to the county. [G.S. 7A-650] The statute is not consistently applied across the state, and the state bears the heaviest financial burden to detain, supervise, and/or provide treatment to the juvenile even if the parent has the means to do so.

Rationale for the recommendation:

Parental accountability is as important an issue as juvenile accountability. Part of the responsibility of parenting is providing materially for the needs of the juvenile. Some states require parents whose children are on juvenile probation to pay certain fees and to assign private medical insurance to cover costs while juveniles are in residential or detention facilities. The Juvenile Code currently provides for payment by parents for many services when the court finds that the parents have the means to pay. The financial responsibility of parents under the Code should be broadened and clarified.

C. DISPOSITIONAL OPTIONS

Recommendation No. 26:

The following dispositions should be added to the Dispositions Article of the Code:

- a) house arrest (with or without electronic monitoring);
- b) regimented training program (e.g., Sgt. Redd's program in Fayetteville);
and
- c) victim-offender reconciliation program.

Statement of the problem:

N.C. Gen.Stat. 7A-649 enumerates the following dispositional alternatives:

- (1) Suspension of more severe disposition. The judge may suspend a more severe disposition, such as commitment to training school, subject to the juvenile's complying with specified conditions. The conditions must be clearly specified in the court's order and the juvenile must agree to them.
- (2) Restitution. The juvenile may be required to make restitution to anyone who experienced loss or damage as a result of his/her offense. The judge may order full or partial restitution; however, the juvenile may be required to pay restitution only to the extent that he or she has or could reasonably acquire the means to pay according to the juvenile's age. The order for restitution cannot extend beyond a twelve-month period, unless the court extends probation for an additional year.
- (3) Payment of a fine. The juvenile may be required to pay a fine if s/he has the ability to do so. The fine must be related to the seriousness of the juvenile's offense. The fine may not be greater than the maximum fine an adult could be assessed for the same offense. Fines are not paid to the victim, if any, but to the county school fund.
- (4) Community service. The judge may order the juvenile to perform supervised community service and specify the nature of the work and the number of hours required. The work must relate to the seriousness of the juvenile's offense, and may not extend beyond the probation period.
- (5) Day program. The juvenile may be required to participate in a supervised day program and comply with reasonable conditions specified in the order.
- (6) Educational or treatment programs. The juvenile may be ordered to a community-based program of academic or vocational education, or to a professional residential or nonresidential treatment program, for up to twelve months.

- (7) Intermittent confinement. The judge may order that the juvenile be confined on an intermittent basis in an approved detention facility. Confinement may not exceed five 24-hour periods, and the confinement must be completed within ninety days of the juvenile being placed on probation.
- (8) Probation. The most frequent juvenile disposition is supervised probation. A probation order is limited to one year, however, the court may extend probation for one additional year.
- (9) No driver's license. The judge may order that the juvenile not be licensed to operate a motor vehicle in the state for as long as the court retains jurisdiction or for a shorter period of time.
- (10) Training school. The judge may commit the juvenile to the Division of Youth Services for placement in a training school. If the judge selects this disposition s/he must follow the provisions of G.S. 7A-652.

The recommended dispositions are currently available only in some parts of the state.

Rationale for the recommendation:

These recommended dispositions have been reported to be effective in those areas where available. The Code specifies certain dispositional alternatives but is not inclusive nor exhaustive of all dispositional alternatives available. These recommend dispositions should be clearly defined and authorized.

Recommendation No. 27:

The following conditions of probation should be added to the current list of dispositions authorized in the Code:

- a) remain free of any controlled substances of any type unless prescribed by a physician and submit to random drug testing;
- b) abide by a prescribed curfew;
- c) submit at reasonable times to a warrantless search;
- d) possess no firearm, explosive device, or other deadly weapon; and
- e) satisfy any other conditions determined appropriate by the court.

Statement of the problem:

Specific statutory conditions of probation include that a juvenile: remain on good behavior and not violate any laws; attend school regularly; maintain passing grades in up to four courses during each grading period; not associate with specified persons or be in specified places; report to a court counselor; make financial restitution or pay a fine; and be employed regularly if the juvenile does not attend school. [G.S. 7A-649(8)] These conditions proscribe and limit certain behaviors, but do not account for some critical behaviors in which a juvenile may engage.

Rationale for the recommendation:

Often judges add special conditions of probation including the above recommended conditions of probation. The conditions of probation ensure the juvenile's compliance with the law and provide a basis for the court's review if the juvenile engages in undesirable or unlawful behavior but is not charged with the commission of a criminal offense.

Recommendation No. 28:

The Code should allow the court to delegate authority, in the court's discretion, to the Chief Juvenile Court Counselor to add the following requirements to juvenile who are on probation:

- a) perform up to 20 hours of community service;
- b) submit to substance abuse monitoring or treatment;
- c) cooperate with electronic monitoring;
- d) cooperate with intensive supervision; and
- e) participate in a life skills or educational skills program.

Statement of the problem:

Whenever circumstances dictate that the conditions of a juvenile's probation be modified, the juvenile court counselor is required to file a motion for review. The judge may modify the conditions of the juvenile's probation after proper notice to the juvenile and a hearing on the matter. [G.S. 7A-658] Often, weeks pass before the motion for review is heard resulting in unnecessary delays in identifying and/or securing services or appropriate supervision for the juvenile.

Rationale for the recommendation:

Juvenile court counselors should have the ability to manage each offender's case while s/he is on probation. Based on the offender's behavior, the court counselor should staff the case and the Chief Juvenile Court Counselor should be able to require the offender to do certain things. The offender should have the right to ask the court to review any requirements added by the Chief Court Counselor. This process can expedite the identification or implementation of services or supervision for the juvenile without the unnecessary delays that result from having to schedule the case before the court.

Recommendation No. 29:

The State shall continue to work in partnership with local communities to strengthen the continuum of treatment options so judges can effectively implement the Dispositions Article of the Juvenile Code. To properly implement graduated sanctions statewide, all juvenile courts must have access to the following types of community-based alternatives, such as:

- Home based family counseling with family support groups that can provide required family intervention services in all cases in which the court determines a need for such service;
- Day reporting centers (which should be targeted at the highest crime communities within the State to provide the maximum supervision possible within a non-residential setting);
- After school activity programs for middle school youth targeted at the potential at-risk youth during the time when most juvenile crime occurs;
- Inpatient and outpatient substance abuse and sex offender treatment;
- Juvenile Court counselors focused on high-risk juveniles;
- Group homes with psychological treatment components for juveniles who do not pose a public threat but need an intensive long term intervention approach.

Statement of the problem:

Juvenile court practitioners across this state have expressed frustration over the lack of community resources to adequately respond to the needs of troubled juveniles and their families. This results in the use of inappropriate placements for juveniles, failure to assess and meet the needs of these troubled youth, and contributes to an unacceptable recidivism rate.

Rationale for the recommendation:

Creating dependency on training schools and detention facilities will rob us of the opportunity to create more community based and cost efficient alternatives. Funding strategies and incentives must be created to enable communities to devise a locally based continuum of appropriate sanctions and treatment options to ensure the long-term success of our juvenile justice system.

D. GRADUATED SANCTIONS

Recommendation No. 30:

The Juvenile Code should move from an offender-based dispositional system to an offense and risk-based dispositional system. The dispositional factors to consider in the new system in order of priority should be: (1) seriousness of the offense; (2) holding the offender accountable for his/her actions; (3) protecting the public safety through risk assessment and risk control; (4) the degree of culpability/blameworthiness; and (5) the rehabilitative needs of the offender. The requirement for the judge to use the "least restrictive" disposition should be eliminated.

Recommendation No. 31:

Three categories of offenses should be defined, including:

- a) violent: adjudication of a Class A-E felony offense;
- b) serious: adjudication of a Class F-I felony offense or a Class A1 misdemeanor;
- c) minor: adjudication of a Class 1, 2, or 3 misdemeanor.

Recommendation No. 32:

Three levels of risk of continued delinquent behavior should be defined, including high, medium, and low, based on a risk assessment performed by an Intake Court counselor prior to the disposition hearing.

Recommendation No. 33:

Three dispositional levels should be established as follows:

LEVEL 1 COMMUNITY	LEVEL 2 INTERMEDIATE (may also include Level 1 dispositions)	LEVEL 3 COMMITMENT
Continue for Disposition	Intensive Supervision Probation	Commitment to Training School
Community-Based Program	House Arrest with or without Electronic Monitoring
Fine	Structured Day Program
Community Service	Regimented Training Program
Counseling	Suspension of a More Severe Disposition
Restitution	Multi-purpose Group Home
Regular Probation	Eckerd Wilderness Camp
Curfew	Short-Term Secure Confinement (up to 14 days during probation period)
Residential placement with a relative, or in foster care, a group home, an Eckerd Wilderness Camp, or in a treatment facility
Vocational or Educational Program
Intermittent Confinement for 5 days during probation period

Recommendation No. 34:

Dispositional levels should be prescribed based on a combination of the offense seriousness and the risk level as follows:

OFFENSE	RISK
	LOW	MEDIUM	HIGH
Violent	Level 2 or 3	Level 3	Level 3
Serious	Level 1 or 2	Level 2	Level 2 or 3
Minor	Level 1	Level 1 or 2	Level 2

Statement of the problem:

The current North Carolina juvenile justice system is an offender based system that requires the judge to select the least restrictive disposition that is appropriate to the seriousness of the offense, the degree of culpability indicated by the circumstances of the particular case, and the age and prior record of the juvenile. The Juvenile Code mentions but does not emphasize protection of the public safety as a factor in determining the appropriate disposition. No categories of offenses or degrees of dangerousness are designated under the current Code. In the most general sense, juveniles under the current Code fall under either one of two categories: those who remain within the juvenile system and those who are transferred to the adult system. For those who remain in the juvenile system, the primary factor in determining the appropriate disposition is the juvenile and his/her rehabilitation needs. Consequently, the juvenile who has committed a serious and/or violent offense and the juvenile who has committed a minor offense could receive the same disposition.

Rationale for the recommendation:

Currently, the North Carolina juvenile justice system focuses on the offender and the primary consideration in determining an appropriate disposition is rehabilitative needs. The Commission recommends that the system focus on holding the offender accountable for his/her behavior and protecting the public. The priority factors to be considered in the dispositional process should be the seriousness of the offense and the risk of continued delinquent behavior, the degree of culpability, and the rehabilitative needs of the offender.

A dispositional structure that categorizes offenses by offense seriousness accounts for a wide range of differences between juvenile offenders, especially those who would remain in the juvenile system. A new graduated sanctions model that provides for accountability of the juvenile, the seriousness of the offense, and the public safety (an offense plus risk based system) requires that categories of offenses be defined. Delinquent offenses should be grouped by their seriousness level. Violent offenses should be disposed of differently than serious offenses and minor offenses.

Public safety should be a dispositional consideration in juvenile court. Public safety can be addressed by projecting future delinquent behavior based on a risk assessment. A risk assessment instrument estimates an offender's likelihood of continued delinquent behavior based on past delinquent behavior. The risk level should be derived from weighing the following factors: number of prior adjudications, types of prior adjudications, and probationary status at time of adjudication. The sum of the juvenile justice factors should assign the offender to either the low, medium, or high risk category.

A system of dispositional categories which increase gradually in restrictiveness, incapacity and intensity provides structure to the process of determining the appropriate disposition according to the seriousness of the offense committed and the risk of further offending. Also, within each dispositional category the needs factors of the juvenile should determine the appropriate services and/or programs for the juvenile which will also decrease the risk of recidivism. The most restrictive, incapacitating, and intensive disposition is commitment to training school. The least restrictive, incapacitating, and intensive dispositions include a range of community level dispositions. In between these levels, the intermediate disposition level contains a range of dispositions for offenders who can be handled in the community with a moderate level of restriction, incapacitation, and intensity of intervention.

A system of dispositions which accounts for the seriousness of the offense, accountability of the juvenile and the public safety removes the guesswork involved in determining the appropriate juvenile disposition. Common sense dictates that minor offenders should not initially be committed to training school, one of the most expensive services available. On the other end of the spectrum, judges should be able to commit first-time violent offenders to training school. Based on their risk level, serious offenders should be dealt with through community or intermediate dispositions or committed to training school.

E. DISPOSITIONAL RULES

Recommendations No. 35:

Judges should be authorized to depart from the Level 3 Disposition in the medium and high risk violent offense cells to a Level 2 Disposition only if the judge submits written findings on the record which substantiate "extraordinary needs of the offender."

Rationale for the recommendation:

Judges should be able to depart from a commitment to training school when an offender has "extraordinary needs" which are documented on the record.

Recommendation No. 36:

Judges should be allowed to consider evidence of a juvenile's cooperation with law enforcement to provide information about other individuals with whom the juvenile acted in the offense for which the juvenile was adjudicated. Judges should be allowed to use the juvenile's cooperation as a mitigating factor in disposition/sentencing.

Statement of the problem:

Juveniles often become involved in criminal offenses through the enticement of others. Because of the perception that sanctions imposed on juveniles adjudicated delinquent are lenient, if not meaningless, a significant current problem is the recruitment of juveniles by older drug dealers who want these youth to sell drugs or act as couriers. The current disposition structure allows for the judge to exercise considerable flexibility in designing an appropriate disposition, but the Code does not require consideration of a juvenile's cooperation with law enforcement.

Rationale for the recommendation:

Courts should encourage, or at least recognize, a juvenile's cooperation with law enforcement to identify those involved with whom the juvenile participated in criminal behavior.

Recommendation No. 37:

Judges should be authorized to impose a maximum term of confinement in a secure juvenile detention facility not to exceed 14 days for a Level 2 Intermediate disposition.

Rationale for the recommendation:

Judges should not impose more than 14 days of confinement in a local secure juvenile detention facility per dispositional hearing. Thus a juvenile should not receive a Level 2 disposition of 14 detention days and a Level 1 disposition of 5 detention days at the same dispositional hearing.

Recommendation No. 38:

Diversion agreements with juveniles should be tracked by an automated system and should be available to the juvenile court counselor at intake and to the judge at disposition. [See also Recommendation No. 6 in Section I, Juvenile Code.]

Statement of the problem:

Diversion policies vary from judicial district to judicial district, and official records of diversions are not kept. A juvenile may have been charged with an offense, which was diverted, prior to an initial delinquency adjudication. In some districts this information may be kept in informal or unofficial records so that Juvenile Services is aware of the number and type of charges filed against a juvenile prior to adjudication, and can use this information to decide whether a juvenile's case should be diverted or filed as a petition. Other districts may not track this information at all. Consequently, there may be inconsistency across the state regarding accountability of juveniles who have been previously diverted from the juvenile justice system.

Rationale for the recommendation:

Since diversion policies are discretionary, some juveniles may not be held as accountable for their behavior as others. The history of prior diversions should be available uniformly across the state to court counselors to consider in deciding whether to file a petition and to courts to consider at disposition. The number of encounters a juvenile has with the juvenile justice system even prior to an initial adjudication is an indicator of the risk of future delinquent behavior by that juvenile and an appropriate factor to consider in determining an effective disposition.

Recommendation No. 39:

The Department of Motor Vehicles should be notified when a juvenile disposition order restricts the juvenile's driving or licensing privileges.

Statement of the problem:

The Juvenile Code allows the judge to order that a juvenile adjudicated delinquent not be licensed to operate a motor vehicle in the State of North Carolina for as long as the court retains jurisdiction over the juvenile or for any shorter period of time. [G.S. 7A-649(9)] However, it is unclear whether the Division of Motor Vehicles is consistently notified when a judge prohibits a juvenile from obtaining a driver's license.

Rationale for the recommendation:

Uniform procedures should be established for notifying the Division of Motor Vehicles that a juvenile is not eligible for a driver's license and when s/he will be eligible. If the dispositional alternative of suspending a juvenile's driving privileges is available it should be enforced consistently.

Recommendation No. 40:

Judges should be authorized to continue the current conditions of probation, modify the conditions of probation, or order a new disposition in the next higher Dispositional Level when an offender violates the conditions of probation (not commits a new crime). A judge should be authorized to order up to twice the period authorized for short-term secure confinement, however, a judge may not order a Level 3 disposition for a juvenile adjudicated delinquent only for a minor offense.

Rationale for the recommendation:

When an offender who is on juvenile probation violates the conditions of probation, the judge should have the authority to determine the most appropriate response to the violation. This should include increasing the level of restrictiveness, incapacitation, or intensity, by moving the offender from a Level 1 to a Level 2 dispositional category or moving the offender from a Level 2 to a Level 3 dispositional category. However, offenders adjudicated delinquent only for minor offenses (Class 1, 2, or 3 misdemeanors) should not be moved up to a Level 3 disposition (commitment to training school). Training school should be reserved for offenders adjudicated delinquent for violent and serious offenses.

Recommendation No. 41:

The statute which prohibits a delinquent juvenile from being committed to training school in excess of the period an adult could be incarcerated for the same act should be repealed.

Statement of the problem:

Because the Code prohibits juveniles from spending time in training school in excess of the time an adult may spend in prison for the same offense, some juveniles are released from training school prior to completing the training school program.

Rationale for the recommendation:

Currently, training schools and prisons are not equivalent dispositions/sentences. Training schools reflect the treatment and rehabilitation orientation of the juvenile justice system, rather than the punitive orientation of the adult penal system. Therefore, it is not necessary to equate a term in training school to a prison term for the same offense. It should be noted that this statute is still used from twenty to thirty times per year in North Carolina. Definite commitments to training school have been found to be constitutional in three other states: Texas, Kansas, and Florida.

Recommendation No. 42:

A mandatory minimum term of six months for any juvenile committed to training school should be required.

Statement of the problem:

Juveniles who are committed to training school are placed on "indefinite commitments." There is no minimum confinement requirement. Juveniles are released back into their communities based on their behavior, number of "good days," and his/her achievement of competency levels.

Some critics in North Carolina argue that juveniles who are released from training school within six months of commitment do not have the time to receive any meaningful rehabilitative treatment.

Rationale for the recommendation:

Since 1992, fifteen states have modified statutes to provide for a mandatory minimum period of incarceration of juveniles committing certain violent or serious offenses. Release from training school should continue to be the authority of the Division of Youth Services based on when the offender has successfully completed program requirements, but no earlier than six months.

Recommendation No. 43:

Every juvenile released from training school should be required to continue on a minimum of 90 days of aftercare or post-release supervision. Staff for the training school and staff from the Court Counselor's office should be required to prepare a release plan and present it to the court. The juvenile, the juvenile's attorney, the court counselor, and the prosecutor should be required to appear before the court when the juvenile is released pursuant to the release plan. If the juvenile fails to comply with the conditions of release, s/he should return to court and the judge should continue the current disposition, modify the current disposition, or re-commit the juvenile to training school for an indefinite period of time.

Statement of the problem:

After-care provides support programs to help juveniles adapt new behaviors and attitudes acquired in residential or institutional facilities to their home communities. "Effective after-care programs provide adequate supervision and support services...[including] electronic monitoring, counseling, treatment and community service referrals, education, work training and intensive supervision probation or parole." (From A Legislator's Guide to Comprehensive Juvenile Justice, 1996 National Conference of State Legislatures.) Risk assessment, case management, selection of juveniles for after-care, access to and collaboration with community-based resources, a system of incentives and consequences, and cooperation and information sharing between agencies are important features of effective after-care. (See Legislator's Guide.)

After-care or post-release supervision is allowed by North Carolina statute for juveniles who are released from training school on a "conditional release." The Division of Youth Services provides specific release conditions, which if the juvenile violates, results in his/her return to training school, if the juvenile has not reached his/her 18th birthday. After-care supervision is provided and supervised by the Juvenile Services' court counselor. In the event that a juvenile reaches his/her 18th birthday, juvenile jurisdiction automatically terminates with no after-care.

Rationale for the recommendation:

Aftercare supervision should be mandatory after release from training school. Several states have imposed mandatory six to twelve month after-care upon release from a secure custody facility. Aftercare supervision is necessary for public safety reasons and to assist the offender to successfully reintegrate into the community. Juvenile justice staff should prepare a plan upon the offender's release from training school. If the offender violates the conditions of release, the judge should have the authority to appropriately handle the violation, including recommitting the juvenile to training school for an indefinite period of time.

F. USE OF JAIL FACILITIES FOR SHORT TERM DETENTION OF CERTAIN JUVENILE OFFENDERS

Recommendation No. 44:

In the event that the nearest local detention facility is unable to accept a juvenile who has been charged or adjudicated with a serious or violent offense and the juvenile poses a significant risk to the community safety, the Code should allow for the detention of that juvenile in an adult facility with sight and sound barriers, as a last resort for detention purposes. The juvenile shall be detained for a period of time not to exceed 72 hours. All appropriate services to protect the safety of the juvenile as promulgated by the Department of Health and Human Services shall be implemented.

Statement of the problem:

Under current North Carolina and federal law, a juvenile may be detained in an approved county detention home or a regional detention facility, but may not be detained in any jail, lockup, prison, or other adult penal institution. (Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act of 1979; N.C.G.S. 7A-576(b).) Twelve juvenile detention centers across the state range in size from 8 to 32 beds for a total number of 222 detention beds in North Carolina. The current policy for local districts is to turn away juveniles from detention beds in order to keep one or two beds open. County commissioners may impose a population cap limiting the number of juveniles who may be detained at any of the four county operated detention facilities. State operated detention centers do not operate under population caps and often experience overcrowding.

Survey data from District Attorneys and Juvenile Court Counselors indicate a need for additional detention beds. A survey of Chief Court Counselors conducted by the staff of the Governor's Commission on Juvenile Crime and Justice revealed that:

- 7 of 12 judicial districts with juvenile detention facilities with a total of 137 beds report a shortage of beds. (The optimal number of beds outnumber actual beds from 4 to 32 beds per facility.)
- 22 of 30 judicial districts report having to drive 100 miles or more to the nearest detention facility; three report having to drive over 300 miles to the nearest facility.

North Carolina law does allow for the detention of juveniles in holdover facilities upon a finding of probable cause and transfer to superior court if the juvenile does not obtain pretrial release. A holdover facility is a segregated part of a local jail approved by the Department of Health and Human Services, which provides close supervision to ensure the juvenile cannot converse with, see, or be seen by the adult population. [See G.S. 7A-611 and 7A-517(16).]

Rationale for the recommendation:

Detention bed space is limited in North Carolina. Often juveniles who have committed serious and/or violent offenses cannot be detained for lack of bed space. The protection of the public safety and the juvenile dictate that where county jails are found to be suitable, they should be used to confine certain serious and/or violent juvenile offenders prior to adjudication or trial and after trial for a limited period of time.

III. JUVENILE JUSTICE SYSTEM AGENCY

A. CREATION OF A SINGLE AGENCY

Recommendation No. 45:

A single cabinet level agency of Juvenile Justice Services should be created in North Carolina.

- a) the Juvenile Service Division of the Administrative Office of the Courts and the Division of Youth Services of the Department of Health and Human Services should be combined and transferred to the proposed Department of Juvenile Justice.
- b) Consideration should be given to the consolidation of additional juvenile justice functions within the new Department of Juvenile Justice Services, including the Center for the Prevention of School Violence, School Resource Officers, and the Guardian Ad Litem program of the Administrative Office of the Courts.

Statement of the problem:

Two state agencies are primarily responsible for supervision and delivery of services to juveniles adjudicated delinquent in North Carolina. The Juvenile Services Division of the Administrative Office of the Courts within the Judicial branch oversees intake, probation and aftercare services. The Division of Youth Services of the Department of Health and Human Services within the Executive branch operates the state's institutional and training school facilities and oversees state funded community-based alternatives. While these agencies have overlapping responsibilities they have separate budgets, separate and independent systems of collecting and reporting data, and separate division or department policies and procedures. Problems resulting from this dual agency juvenile justice system include coordination lapses in case-management of juveniles committed to and conditionally released from training school, communication barriers and restrictions on the sharing of agency information, and a general sense of "territorialism" or "turfism" between the two agencies.

Other state agencies also provide ancillary services and supervision to court adjudicated youth. These include the Department of Public Instruction, the Department of Social Services, the Department of Administration, the Division of Child and Family Services, the Division of Mental Health, Developmental Disabilities and Substance Abuse, and the Willie M. Program. Generally, this multi-system approach often results in confusion and inefficient supervision and service delivery to juveniles adjudicated delinquent. Since the last major revision of the Juvenile Code several legislative and independent study and review commissions have recognized the need for greater coordination and efficiency within the juvenile justice system and have recommended the creation of a single juvenile justice state agency. The call for agency unification stems primarily from an acknowledged need for significantly increased accountability to juveniles within the system and the citizens of North Carolina.

Rationale for the recommendation:

The new department in combination with all other accompanying recommendations regarding its form, function and authority, should lead to better coordination, increased efficiency and a genuine partnership between the state and communities in dealing with the problems associated with juvenile delinquency. It also allows the accompanying recommendations in this report to be possible.

Because of the wide range of departments and agencies serving the specific juvenile population targeted for this new Department, it would be impossible to pull all of them together under one umbrella department. However, some agencies, including the Center for the Prevention of School Violence and some functions, including all state and federal funding for School Resource Officers, could logically fit within the new organization.

The Center for the Prevention of School Violence, now housed at North Carolina State University after its initial founding and operation within the Department of Crime Control and Public Safety, would be a logical part of the Department of Juvenile Justice Services. The Center's mission is to reduce violent juvenile behavior within public schools, and it has proven to be an effective agency directed at making schools safer and more secure. Since the age for delinquency coincides with the age for compulsory school attendance, the addition of the Center would be primary to the new Department's mission.

All state and federal funding for School Resource Officers should be consolidated within the new Department. This is a logical extension of the work of the Center for the Prevention of School Violence and is a function that would be effectively integrated within the state department and its companion juvenile justice councils at the local level. [See Recommendation No. 45, Section III, Juvenile Justice System Agency for discussion of local juvenile justice councils.]

The Guardian ad Litem Program within the Administrative Office of the Courts should be included in the new department since it represents and advocates for abused and neglected children within Juvenile Court and some of the abused and neglected population of juveniles may be at risk for delinquent behavior.

B. CREATION OF STATE-LOCAL JUVENILE SERVICE COUNCILS*Recommendation No. 46:

Local juvenile justice councils should be created, replacing current Youth Service Advisory Councils to streamline and increase the quality of planning and funding of both community-based alternatives for court-adjudicated juveniles, and, community-based prevention services for youth who are at risk for becoming delinquent youth.

A state-local partnership effort should be developed, overseen, and housed within the Department of Juvenile Justice Services that is dedicated to providing programmatic expertise and other information to prevent and address juvenile delinquency to the local juvenile justice councils.

[See also Recommendation No. 54 in Section IV, Prevention.]

Statement of the problem:

Currently there is a multiplicity of state and local delinquency and delinquency prevention efforts and programs which are funded by a variety of sources, i.e. the Department of Health and Human Resources for mental health and substance abuse services, the Department of Public Instruction for educational and after school programs, the Governor's Crime Commission which awards federal juvenile justice grants, the Center for the Prevention of School Violence. Additionally local efforts through city and county programs and private funds, including United Way agencies, all support programs for youth who are in and out of the juvenile court system.

On the state level, one of the main sources of funding comes from the Division of Youth Services which provides funding to counties for community-based alternatives (CBA) for at-risk and court adjudicated juveniles. While all counties in North Carolina receive CBA funds, there has been concern expressed that the Youth Service Advisory Councils which oversee CBA programs are not operating as efficiently as possible and in some counties not enough funding is being devoted to juveniles who are under court supervision. As a result, a handful of counties have sent a disproportionately high number of juveniles to the State-operated training schools. Also, concern has been expressed that some members of the Youth Service Advisory Councils have conflicts of interest when voting on funding requests for programs in which they have an interest. Finally, at the local level, frequently, within individual counties, numerous youth boards and task forces compete for funding of programs and services which often duplicate one another.

Rationale for the recommendation:

To avoid duplication of efforts and conflicts of interest, local juvenile justice councils should be created. As a mechanism for increasing accountability, these councils will provide the oversight for direct juvenile justice funding, whether federal, state, or local. The local councils should also, at a minimum, coordinate indirect funding and related policies affecting youth at risk and those juveniles with court involvement. These councils should replace the existing, current YSACs. Community based alternatives for court adjudicated juveniles and community based prevention services for at-risk youth should be overseen as programs separate and distinct from one another.

[See Recommendation No. 54 in Section IV, Prevention for the role of local councils for delinquency prevention efforts.]

C. ESTABLISH A POLICY OVERSIGHT BOARD*Recommendation No. 47:

In conjunction with the cabinet level Department of Juvenile Justice Services a Juvenile Justice Oversight Board co-chaired by the Governor and the Chief Justice should be created.

Statement of the problem:

Juveniles who come within the jurisdiction of Juvenile Court also receive services from a variety of other state agencies including, the Department of Public Instruction, the Department of Social Services, the Department of Administration, the Division of Child and Family Services, the Division of Mental Health, Developmental Disabilities and Substance Abuse, and the Willie M. Program. Currently, no oversight body exists to review the operation of the juvenile justice system and all its ancillary components as a whole. Without oversight from North Carolina's highest ranking officials, state agencies may operate under divergent philosophies and may not be encouraged to work together in a comprehensive way.

Rationale for the recommendation:

The creation of a single state juvenile justice agency would provide uniformity and consistency in service delivery, collection and reporting of data, budget administration and disbursement of community programming funds. However, because other state agencies also provide ancillary services and supervision to court adjudicated youth a single oversight entity is necessary to allow for system-wide review and coordination of all juvenile service providers. The creation of this Board would allow for a review of the system's operation, dedication, and prioritization of funding needs, and provide a forum in which to address problems of collaboration among agencies and departments serving the juvenile offender population. It would also set policy that promotes strong, collaborative, case managed based review of juvenile offenders. Its composition would reflect the need for broad based commitment and include: the Director of the Administrative Office of the Courts, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services, the Secretary of the Department of Administration, the Secretary of the Department of Correction, the Secretary of the Department of Crime Control and Public Safety, the Secretary of the Department of Juvenile Justice Services, the President Pro Tem of the North Carolina State Senate or his/her designee, the Speaker of the North Carolina House of Representatives or his/her designee, and a private citizen who has demonstrated an interest and commitment to youth and juvenile justice issues.

D. TRANSITION TIME LINE FOR RESTRUCTURING THE JUVENILE JUSTICE SYSTEM

Recommendation No. 48:

A timely thoughtful time line for the transition from the existing system to the new organization must be developed as soon as authorization for the new department is made.

Statement of the problem:

Currently, the two main agencies providing services to juveniles adjudicated delinquent are housed within separate branches of state government. The Juvenile Services Division which oversees intake, probation and aftercare of court-involved youth is within the Administrative Office of the Courts in the Judicial branch. The Division of Youth Services which oversees state institutions, training schools, and Community Based Alternatives funding is within the Department of Health and Human Services in the Executive branch. Each agency has its own budget, policies, and procedures relating to administration and information collection and reporting.

Rationale for the recommendation:

The recommendations set forth by this Commission represent major changes and a substantive shift in the way North Carolina administers and manages its juvenile offender population and those at risk for becoming court involved. The acceptance and ultimate success of these changes depends significantly on the timing and methods of change and realignment of functions. Adequate time as well as a broad spectrum of state and local juvenile justice professionals, state and local elected officials, organizational experts, budget and fiscal analysts, and management consultants must all be part of the overall transition. Several significant subsets must work on the variety of activities required by this kind of major functional and organizational overhaul in focus, management and service delivery.

E. JUVENILE JUSTICE INFORMATION SYSTEM

Recommendation No. 49:

A comprehensive Juvenile Justice information system should be developed.

Statement of the problem:

Currently, North Carolina does not have an effective or timely information system linking the state agencies whose services include juvenile justice with each other or with local juvenile justice agencies. Anyone with a valid need for juvenile justice information has been stymied by the lack of a coordinated, integrated juvenile justice information system. While both the Division of Juvenile Services and the Division of Youth Services collect information relevant to their specific needs, the information is not compatible, integrated, and cannot be used to provide meaningful information on individual juveniles or to track juveniles through the "system." In 1996 the Governor's Crime Commission awarded a grant to the Administrative Office of the Courts, with a match provided by the Department of Health and Human Services, to assemble a core group from local and state government agencies (particularly to include technical representation from both Juvenile Services and DYS) to study the state's needs for a statewide juvenile justice information system, and to begin the large task of planning for the implementation of such a system.

Rationale for the recommendation:

This statewide information system will address the need to collect information about juveniles and the processing of juveniles at every point of contact with the system, and then to share the relevant information among appropriate agencies and individuals. The information collected will allow decision-makers to base treatment and intervention plans on client specific data. The information will also provide the basis for a research and evaluation component in order to assess the impact of the juvenile justice system of services.

Comments:

It is critical in the development of the juvenile justice information system that the system be consistent and compatible with the statewide Criminal Justice Information Network (CJIN) project now under development among state and local criminal justice information systems. CJIN will link state and local criminal justice agencies in the adult system, and will provide a wide array of necessary management and offender based information to appropriate state and local agencies with the need to know. It is important that this juvenile information be accessible to this network, and its qualified users.

Such an information system should be able to track a young person throughout his or her experiences with involved community and state agencies. The system should include client demographic information, document interactions with system components (criminal history, out-of-home placements, etc.), measure services delivered, and measure service outcomes. The information system should be compatible with information systems related to juvenile justice, but residing outside of the Department of Juvenile Justice Services, in order for services to be more easily coordinated among agencies, and to facilitate more effective measurement of system outcomes. The management of this system must be from a single independent Department of Juvenile Justice Services in order to strengthen its effectiveness, compatibility with other systems, budgeting priority, and timely implementation.

Recommendation No. 50:

Confidential information on juveniles should be shared among designated agencies as determined by the chief district court judge. [See also, Recommendation No. 17 in Section I, Juvenile Code.]

Statement of the problem:

Only the juvenile, the juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian, and the prosecutor in a subsequent criminal proceeding are allowed access to court records. All others, including schools, must receive an order from the judge granting access to information from the court file or agency records. Current confidentiality laws make it extremely difficult for agencies to share information. Law enforcement, school personnel, court professionals, social service and mental health workers have limited, if any, inter-communication which would serve the juvenile.

Rationale for the recommendation:

The sharing of information among agencies and service providers will lead to increased coordination of efforts and efficacy in service delivery. Duplication of efforts and uninformed decision-making can be avoided if service providers are able to communicate freely with one another about the facts and circumstances of a juvenile's case. When kept properly and utilized correctly, juvenile records can help predict future delinquent and criminal behavior based on past events, provide officers with important information pertaining to both officer safety and delinquency prevention, and identify appropriate services to provide to the juvenile in a timely and effective manner.

Comments:

In several judicial districts, the chief district court judge has signed an administrative order authorizing the free exchange of information among agencies and service providers specified in the order. Such a blanket order circumvents the interpretation of current confidentiality laws which impedes inter-agency information sharing for that judicial district. Such orders should be constructed with safeguards to protect against disclosures that may violate a juvenile's constitutional rights.

Recommendation No. 51:

The current Juvenile Arrest form should be amended to conform to the proposed "Juvenile Contact Report" with the specific changes noted in the form attached to this document (see page 48).

Statement of the problem:

The term "arrest" has a broad definition across different law enforcement agencies, and has contributed to noticeable differences among jurisdictions reporting "juvenile arrests."

Rationale for the recommendation:

Inconsistency in interpretation of the definition of arrest results in inconsistent data from district to district, and greater uncertainty about the extent of juvenile crime and delinquency. Consistent and accurate reporting is necessary for true assessment and evaluation of juvenile delinquency and for efficient service delivery.

Since North Carolina law enforcement agencies use the Division of Criminal Information's

"Juvenile Arrest" form, or a format with the same required data elements, the form is easily amended for greater universal understanding and consistency in reporting, renamed the "Juvenile Contact Report," subtitled "Use to Record the Handling of Juveniles Who Commit Criminal Offenses." In addition, some of the fields require amending to provide more realistic reporting options and case disposition information. The revised form, together with related and updated instructions to law enforcement, will provide greater data integrity, and is attached to this report. The law enforcement training curriculum also will be updated consistent to reflect these changes.

F. OVER-REPRESENTATION OF MINORITIES IN THE JUVENILE JUSTICE SYSTEM

Recommendation No. 52:

The final report of the Governor's Commission on Juvenile Crime and Justice to be presented to the Governor shall include in the historical section of the report an acknowledgment of the over-representation of minorities in the juvenile justice system. [See the Executive Summary.]

Recommendation No. 53:

The State of North Carolina should mandate sensitivity training for all law enforcement and juvenile justice professionals regarding minorities.

Statement of the problem:

Qualitative and empirical research demonstrates that African American and other minority youth comprise a majority of juveniles involved in the juvenile justice system in North Carolina. For FY 1996-97 the Division of Youth Services of the Department of Health and Human Services reported that of the 1118 juveniles admitted to training school, 60.6% were Black, 36.5 were Caucasian, 2% were "other" and 1% were Native American. Of the 5546 admissions to detention centers in FY 1996-97, 58% were Black, 37% were Caucasian, 2.8% were "other" and 2.1% were Native American. According to the Office of State Planning, in 1995, 1996, and 1997, 23% of the total male population in North Carolina was non-white. Among children aged 6 - 16 years, the percentage of non-whites was slightly higher: in 1995 and 1996, 70% were white and 30% were non-white. According to the 1990 US Census Bureau, approximately 91% of North Carolina's non-white population is African American. Data reported in North Carolina pursuant to federal disproportionate minority confinement legislation revealed that 84 of 100 counties in 1994 reported minority over-representation in the juvenile justice system.

In 1995, the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention reported that nationwide, minorities accounted 61.4% of all juvenile arrests.

Additionally, of 82,000 students reported to have been suspended from North Carolina public schools in 1995-1996, 67,000 were African American and were suspended an average of 3.6 days compared to 3.1 days for white students, 4.1 days for Native American students, and 3.2 days for Hispanic students. The suspension of African American males far exceeded the actual representation of these students (30%) in the school population.

State and national figures attest to the high rate of arrest and confinement of minority youth. The reasons for and solutions to this phenomena have been at the center of much debate and national research. Although the degrees and levels of crime committed by minority youth are easy to measure, the reasons for their disproportionate levels of confinement to state juvenile justice institutions are harder to assess. What is clear, however, is that there are multiple risk factors associated with violent, criminal behavior. Minority youth in North Carolina are disproportionately affected by poverty, teen pregnancy, lack of prenatal care, unemployment, school dropout, and are victimized more often than non-minorities.

Rationale for the recommendations:

Recognition of the problem needs to be the first step in addressing the issue of over-representation of minority youth in the juvenile justice system. The proposed recommendations will impact court-involved youth significantly, and given past trends will likely impact minority youth even more. Sensitivity training for all juvenile justice professionals and law enforcement officers would help to ensure that the experience of minority youth in the juvenile justice system is equitable and consistent from county to county regardless of differences in community profiles and resources.

Juvenile Contact Report

Use to Record the Handling of Juveniles Who Commit Criminal Offenses

The Division of Criminal Information has designed a special Juvenile Contact Report for utilization by any law enforcement agency. This separate report was created to record the handling of juveniles (under age 16) due to the fact that many law enforcement agencies feared it would violate State law if they documented the "arrest" or handling of a juvenile. The North Carolina Attorney General's Office has issued an opinion stating it is lawful for law enforcement agencies to document the handling of juveniles and submit them to DCI for statistical purposes. The Juvenile Contact Report provides law enforcement agencies a separate documentation method for the handling of a juvenile from adult offenders as required by law.

For purposes of Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR), the word "arrest" or "contact" as it applies to juveniles is intended to mean the law enforcement handling of all persons under the age of 16 who have committed a crime and are identified (with probable cause) as the offender when the circumstances are such that if the juvenile were an adult, an arrest would have been reported. The Juvenile Contact Report should include the classification of the offense for which the juvenile was handled. For example, if a juvenile is handled for committing an offense of larceny, the charge should be reported as Larceny/Theft, even though the technical charge is "juvenile delinquency." (While the offense of "runaway" is a juvenile status offense, those offenses will need to be included on this form for UCR purposes.) Juvenile Contact Reports should not be submitted in cases of:

1. police "contacts" with juveniles where no criminal offense was committed (except runaways); or
2. juveniles taken into custody for their own protection but no crime was committed (neglect cases).

It must be emphasized that only criminal violations by juveniles where some police or official action is taken should be reported. Mere interviews, warnings, or admonishments where no criminal offense occurred should not be reported. Do not include those situations where juveniles have committed no violation but are taken into custody because their welfare is endangered. "Call backs" or "follow-up contacts" with juvenile offenders by officers for the purpose of determining their progress should not be reported. It is useful to understand that statistics are being gathered to measure juvenile crime problems, not juvenile court activity.

INSTRUCTIONS

Instructions for filling out the Juvenile Contact Report are the same as those instructions for the Arrest Report. The only fields which are different in the two forms are those dealing with the confinement and bond information for the arrestee (Arrest Report) and the referral of the juvenile charged with a crime (Juvenile Contact Report).

Referral Section:

This field is used to indicate law enforcement's referral of the juvenile. Place an "X" in the appropriate block to indicate which action your department took in the handling of the listed juvenile.

Handled within department and released

Referred to juvenile court authorities

Referred to other police agency

Referred to a community agency or program:

(Indicate whether Social Services, Mental Health, Teen Court, or other)

This information relates to law enforcement referral of juveniles who are handled by police. A juvenile, depending on the seriousness of the offense and the offender's prior criminal record, may be warned by the police and released to parents, relatives, friends, or guardians. Juveniles may also be referred to juvenile court authorities; to a community agency, such as Social Services; or to other law enforcement agencies.

IV. PREVENTION

A. STATE-LOCAL JUVENILE SERVICE COUNCILS - PREVENTION

Recommendation No. 54:

A state-local partnership dedicated to juvenile delinquency prevention should be established. The partnership will have two components: 1) a state-level oversight body, e.g. a Commission or Office; and 2) locally-based entities, in the form of local councils which will jointly address juvenile delinquency and prevention. The goal of this partnership will be to reduce the incidence of juvenile delinquency by ensuring that delinquency prevention activities are coordinated, collaborative, non-duplicative, efficient, and accessible to the whole community. The state-local oversight body shall have permanent staff devoted solely to juvenile delinquency prevention activities. Recurring dollars will be earmarked for this state-local alliance. [See also Recommendation No. 46 in Section III, Juvenile Justice System Agency.]

Statement of the problem:

Currently there is a multiplicity of state and local delinquency prevention programs which are funded by a variety of sources including, but not limited to CBA funds from the Division of Youth Services, Juvenile Justice grants from the Governor's Crime Commission, Department of Public Instruction, Safe and Drug Free Schools, and the N.C. Center for the Prevention of School Violence. In addition, a significant amount of funding is provided by the private sector, i.e., foundations and United Way agencies. Unfortunately, many of these programs and services overlap and duplicate efforts. Currently there is no unified effort to coordinate, optimize and evaluate prevention strategies and programs.

Rationale for the recommendation:

In order to reduce juvenile delinquency, there must be a commitment on the state and local level to implement and evaluate the most effective programs and services. This proposed state-local alliance will prioritize and coordinate prevention efforts. The local councils will build on and utilize resources already in place in the community, including all critical members of the community, channeling resources, minimizing duplicative planning and organizing efforts, implementing evaluation and accountability elements, and adhering to guiding principles.

Local boards should use a collaborative, multi-disciplinary team approach representing a cross-section of the local community, including a balanced mixture of public and private individuals, and a strong cultural, ethnic, and gender balance that reflects the composition of the communities they serve. Collaboration with the private sector and the faith-based community will be necessary pieces of the organizational process.

This state-level office or commission should have the following functions:

- 1) Serve as a clearinghouse for information on delinquency prevention strategies. Collect research and distribute information to local agencies about "best practices" - what works, what is promising and what does not work;
- 2) Support community-based programs and services by providing training and technical assistance to community delinquency prevention entities;
- 3) Make recommendations to state and local governments for changes to laws, rules or policies that will reduce the incidence of juvenile delinquency;
- 4) Develop a comprehensive structure for follow-up and delivery of program and treatment services to ensure youth, adult and system accountability;
- 5) Coordinate state-wide media campaigns that accurately inform citizens about the development of strategies to prevent juvenile delinquency.

The local boards, councils or task forces should have the following functions:

- 1) Conduct an updated community needs assessment. Identify resources and needs, and develop appropriate solutions to meet those needs;
- 2) Rigorous performance evaluation. Each prevention initiative should be required to have a strong evaluation component. This accountability requirement should be tied to funding;
- 3) Increase community awareness of the causes of juvenile delinquency and strategies to reduce the problem; and
- 4) Develop strategies to intervene and appropriately respond to and treat the needs - as identified through a risk assessment instrument - of youth in a timely and constructive manner.

The creation of this partnership should also include the establishment of a permanent funding stream for juvenile delinquency prevention. Current delinquency prevention funding streams, with additional state appropriations as needed, shall be channeled through the state oversight body, and from the oversight body to the community level. Guidelines for the funding process should be as follows:

- 1) Fund what works. Programs and projects which demonstrate progress, have been proven to be effective, and/or show promise, based on valid research should be supported. The partnership should fund projects based on a "menu" of types of services. In addition, new, innovative projects should be rigorously evaluated to determine their effectiveness in preventing delinquency or its proximal risk factors and may also be funded on a discretionary basis. The merits of a program will be determined on the basis of known or reasonably projected outcomes. Bad practices, poor outcomes, and programs which have proven to be ineffective will not be funded.

- 2) The money should follow the child. The funding system should be designed in such a way that wherever a child is being served by a delinquency prevention program, funds are allocated to that program for that child. For example, if a child is sent to training school, the county will be required to send their program dollars to that training school. If a child is served in a community program, the funding will remain in the community. And, when a child moves from one program to another, the money will follow.
- 3) Use a formula for the distribution of funds. A funding formula should be developed that ensures that even the smallest of counties will be able to provide basic services to the children in that community.
- 4) Allow and encourage local flexibility. The system should send prevention/intervention dollars to the local level, where it will be determined how best to spend those funds.
- 5) Combine resources. Counties will be allowed and encouraged to combine resources and services. For example, small counties may be able to make the best use of their delinquency prevention funding by pooling their funds, and providing joint services to the youth in their communities.

Every community in our state needs the centralization and vision that would be fostered by a state-local alliance dedicated to juvenile delinquency prevention. Initially, such an initiative could be piloted in selected counties during the first year, and expanded to include additional counties in subsequent years.

B. EARLY IDENTIFICATION OF CHILDREN AT-RISK OF DELINQUENT BEHAVIOR

Recommendation No. 55:

Periodic assessments at critical points in a child's life should be implemented to identify risk and protective factors as early as possible. If necessary, there should be a coordinated, interdisciplinary treatment and service plan developed by child service agencies.

Statement of the problem:

Research has shown that there are multiple risk factors that put children at risk for becoming delinquent. Examples of risk factors include aggression, school failure, child abuse and neglect, substance abuse, extreme economic deprivation, friends who engage in problem behavior, inconsistent, ineffective discipline, poor parental supervision, and family conflict. Youth who are exposed to these risk factors are more prone to engage in delinquent behavior. Currently, there is no standard assessment to identify youth who are at-risk.

Rationale for the recommendation:

At various stages of development, it is possible to identify children and their families who could profit from supplemental programs designed to develop protective factors, such as improving cognitive and social competence and self-control skills, improving parenting skills, and having a positive adult role model. Risk indicators found at screening would trigger the need for and referral to a coordinated array of locally available family support services. The Commission recommends screening at the following critical times:

- 1) At birth. As the first stage in a comprehensive delinquency prevention plan, all newborn infants should be screened for risk factors, such as having a mother less than 19 years of age; having a mother who is a single parent; and living in a low-income family indicated by the family being on Medicaid or having no health insurance.
- 2) In day care or preschool at ages 3 and 4. Children could be screened in day care, Head Start or through Smart Start-funded programs. Early intervention during the preschool period is critical because it is easier and more cost effective to intervene early rather than wait until behavior patterns of both parents and children are ingrained and resistant to change.
- 3) At entry to kindergarten. Current screening should be supplemented with more - extensive tools.

- 4) At the end of 3rd grade. Screening should occur for those children exhibiting school failure and/or aggressive behavior.
  - 5) At the beginning of 6th grade and the beginning of 9th grade. Both of these represent key school transition points. Screening of youth at this age will provide information about the large number of adolescents who newly develop problems associated with aggression, delinquency and antisocial behavior and who did not exhibit those problems in elementary school.
  - 6) Juvenile offenders should be assessed upon adjudication. Screening would indicate high risk factors indicative of recidivism.

Although screening for risk and protective factors will require investments of both time and money, many tools already exist which allow for quick, cost-effective, and developmentally appropriate assessments. For example, there are models of screening tools currently available which are easy to use, easy to score, and can be completed in two-to-five minutes per child. The state shall select or develop its own tools which will be used uniformly statewide, thus allowing for longitudinal monitoring of effectiveness and progress.

When children score in the targeted range, they will be given additional, in depth assessments to see how much of a problem exists and what strengths the children, their families, and communities have to help the child. Individually tailored treatment including a coordinated array of assessments, interventions and family support services will follow from this more thorough assessment.

C. COMPREHENSIVE JUVENILE DELINQUENCY AND SUBSTANCE ABUSE PREVENTION SYSTEM

Recommendation No. 56:

A comprehensive juvenile delinquency and substance abuse prevention plan should be developed. The concepts contained in the "Alcohol and Drug Prevention and Treatment Services" January 27, 1998 report from the Division of Mental Health, Developmental Disabilities and Substance Abuse should be developed and incorporated into a comprehensive juvenile delinquency plan. [See Appendix VI.]

Statement of the problem:

The lack of a comprehensive juvenile delinquency and substance abuse prevention plan has resulted in a lack of a continuum of services, duplication of efforts, unwise spending of state and local funds, and a lack of credible data on the effectiveness of prevention programs. Also, juveniles arrests for drug offenses has increased dramatically over the last decade. A characteristic profile of North Carolina juvenile offenders showed that 67% of youths in training schools reported having used some type of illegal substance. Almost half of these youths reported using drugs on a daily basis. Recent surveys indicate that juveniles are consuming and abusing alcohol at alarming levels.

Rationale for the recommendation:

No one program or strategy will solve the problem of juvenile delinquency. An array of programs and services which address the needs of children and families is needed. An effective juvenile delinquency and substance abuse prevention plan must target youth and their families, hold youth, adults and systems accountable for their participation or encouragement of delinquent and harmful behavior, be culturally sensitive, and age appropriate. Further, efforts must be collaborative (including public/private initiatives), interdisciplinary, multi-tiered, provide a continuum of services and be administered and accessible at community and local levels. Communities should be responsible for adhering to certain principles that have proven effective and the state should have the responsibility for informing localities about best practices in juvenile delinquency prevention.

Effective delinquency prevention efforts should do the following:

- 1) Address the highest priority problem areas and identify risk and protective factors to which children in a particular community are exposed;
- 2) Focus most strongly on populations exposed to a number of risk factors;
- 3) Address problem areas and identify strengths early and at appropriate developmental stages;
- 4) Address multiple risk factors in multiple settings such as family, schools, community and peer groups;
- 5) Offer comprehensive interventions across many systems and deal simultaneously with many aspects of juveniles' lives;
- 6) Be intensive, involving multiple contacts weekly or even daily with at-risk juveniles;
- 7) Operate on a strength-based rather than deficiency model building on a juvenile's strengths rather than focusing on deficiencies;
- 8) Be holistic, approaching juveniles within the context of their relationships to and

- with others rather than focusing solely on the individual;
- 9) Incorporate community participation and ethnic and cultural diversity in the development and evaluation of services.

The following are types of programs that have proven effective in preventing juvenile delinquency and substance abuse, and should be available as basic services in communities:

- Early intervention is highly effective, desirable, and, in the long-run, cost effective. Quality early childhood programs provide a safe and stimulating environment for children and offer the chance for children to get off to a good start. Smart Start and other relevant initiatives should encourage and fund programming that prepares the children academically, emotionally, and behaviorally to learn. Just as children must learn their alphabet, they must learn self-discipline and how to regulate their emotions. Children who are out-of-control emotionally and behaviorally cannot learn.
- In-Home and Community-based Family Counseling and Parent Training. Ineffective parenting practices is a primary factor placing a child at risk for juvenile delinquency. Services which focus on child development and positive discipline offered to children and families in their homes when possible, or, at the very least, in their community, have proven effective. For example, intensive home visitation services for the families of certain newborns have been demonstrated to lower rates of child abuse and neglect, reduce subsequent pregnancies, reduce welfare dependency, and reduce contacts with the justice system. In addition, family planning and adolescent pregnancy prevention services avert unintended pregnancies which is a crucial means of ensuring that all children are wanted, and of increasing the likelihood that children will be born into families that are ready and able to nurture them in a safe, stable environment.
- Adolescent and family alcohol and other drug abuse services. Drug and alcohol abuse affects everyone connected to the abuser. Substance abuse programs should focus on all aspects of the problem, including community education, prevention services, and treatment services.
- Non-school hours activities. Most crimes are committed between 2:00 and 7:00 PM when children are out of school and least likely to be monitored by adults. Communities and schools need to work together to provide affordable, accessible, and appropriate activities for all youth when they are not in school (before and after school, weekends, holidays, vacations or during school hours for children suspended or expelled from school.) Examples include academic programs, clubs, recreational and cultural activities. Children at high risk are most in need of such activities but are often terminated from these programs due to disruptions or do not attend for a variety of reasons. They then find unproductive and/or harmful alternatives with which to occupy their time. Communities should place a high priority on keeping its children at highest risk in safe, structured, supervised, and stimulating programs making it difficult for them to gather unsupervised and teach each other to be better criminals.

- Law-related education and life/social skills training programs. One of the best ways to offer hope to young people is to provide them with the knowledge, skills and guidance to establish positive directions for their lives. Providing guidance which defines what is acceptable societal behavior and instilling in them that there are consequences if such behaviors are not demonstrated is an essential part of education and delinquency prevention.
- Conflict resolution, problem solving and anger management. When children and adolescents commit crimes or use aggression in response to conflict, they reflect the attitudes of their peers, families or the media of what is acceptable. The key to a successful delinquency and substance abuse prevention program is to direct (or redirect) children towards developing effective ways to regulate their emotions, and create positive goals and solutions, and help them develop the skills necessary to reach these goals. These are skills which can be used for the rest of their lives and be taught to other family members as well.
- Personal Advocates. Long-term mentoring relationships, tutors, or other caring adults for children and youth identified as "at risk" should be provided in each community. These volunteers should serve as personal advocates to assure that the children receive the services, education, or time and attention they need. For children with serious problems of aggression or delinquency, these volunteers need to be carefully screened, trained and supported to deal with the severity and magnitude of behavioral and emotional problems experienced by these children. A personal advocate should be provided for every child who needs or wants one.
- Substance abuse prevention and education is critical to alerting and teaching youth about the dangerousness of drug use. Substance abuse prevention must be comprehensive in nature and involve parents, educators and mentors. Alcohol and tobacco use must also be targeted for prevention efforts which should be aimed not only at juveniles, but also their families. Also, the efforts of the Partnership for A Drug-Free North Carolina should be supported. [See appendix]

D. APPROPRIATE AND EFFECTIVE RESPONSES TO EDUCATING CHILDREN EXPELLED FROM SCHOOL

Recommendation No. 57:

No child in North Carolina should be allowed to consistently disrupt the classrooms in the traditional school setting or pose a threat to other students. Because expulsion or long-term suspension of a child from school frequently places a child in a position to create havoc in the community, no child in North Carolina should be allowed to avoid receiving an education by getting expelled or suspended long-term from school.

Statement of the problem:

Currently, there are limited options available to students and schools for students who consistently disrupt the classrooms in the traditional school setting or pose a threat to other students. Too often, expulsion or long-term suspension of a child from school frequently places a child in a position to create havoc in the community. According to an in-depth report on out-of-school suspensions, issued by the N.C. Department of Public Instruction, nearly 82,000 students were reported to have been in out-of-school suspension in 1995-96. 700 of these students were reported as long-term suspensions. Among the 82,000 students suspended there were 119,000 individual incidents of suspension resulting in more than 500,000 days out of school. Nearly six percent of the state's students were suspended out-of-school at least once during the 1995-96 school year.

Rationale for the recommendation:

North Carolina is committed to insuring that children are able to attend schools which are safe and orderly. However, because it is recognized that children who are expelled or placed on long term suspension out of school are put in a position to compound their own problems by not receiving additional education. Therefore, it is important to provide quality alternative education settings. Such alternative settings must be carefully constructed and adequately funded and supervised. This should promote education and improvement in a youngster's behavior and achievement, while not creating an opportunity for disruption of the regular school setting.

V. OTHER RECOMMENDATIONS

A. FAMILY COURT MODEL

Recommendation No. 58:

The reorganization of juvenile justice services should be achieved to be readily integrated into the Family Court model as recommended by the Court Futures Commission and currently under study by the General Assembly, and a Family Court model should be established as a pilot in a few urban jurisdictions to demonstrate its operation and effectiveness.

Statement of the problem:

In the majority of judicial districts, more than one judge presides over any juvenile case. Consequently, no one judge develops expertise regarding a particular juvenile and his/her family circumstances and needs even if the family has appeared in Juvenile Court often or for more than one juvenile or other matter.

Rationale for the recommendation:

The Family Court model is before the General Assembly as one recommendation for court reform. Accordingly, changes made to the juvenile justice system should be easily adaptable to the adoption of the Family Court model. Changes to the juvenile system must be the first steps in the full establishment of the Family Court. Through the creation of a specialized family court with jurisdiction over all disputes involving intra-familial rights, relationships and obligations, and all juvenile matters, North Carolina can take a major step forward in dealing with matters related to a specific family in a thoughtful, integrated, and holistic fashion.

Comments:

The Family Court will be a specific and separate judicial entity within the proposed new circuit court system. A family court model could be established as a pilot in a few urban jurisdictions to demonstrate its operation and effectiveness. This Court will hear all claims involving familial rights, relationships and obligations and all juvenile matters. The family court will provide a unified, rational, and timely forum for the resolution of all judicial proceedings involving family members. Cases will be heard by a specially training judge regularly assigned to Family Court. Family case managers will be assigned to work with the family as a unit to identify, engage, and coordinate services, follow through on the court's recommendations, and increase family accountability to take specific action to resolve family related problems.

One of the strengths of this model is that ideally the same Family Court judge will hear all matters coming before the Court related to a single family. This will provide that judge much greater insight into the range of problems, events, and issues going on within a particular family. Also, the case manager will be assigned to the same one or more Family Court judges and will work with and follow the same family to address its needs and carry out the conditions and orders from the Family Court judge. This approach can be the single most effective and essential change in our response to all domestic and juvenile problems to break the generational cycles of family violence, which often manifests itself in juvenile crime. This recommendation will hold families more accountable for related matters which come before the Family Court.

This recommendation is significant, but not the only recommendation for court reform now under consideration by the General Assembly. However, if it is implemented, it must be consistent with the total court reform package under study for passage by the General Assembly.

B. COURT IMPROVEMENT PROJECT

Recommendation No. 59:

It is recommended that the Court Improvement Project's report on Juvenile Code statutes pertaining to abuse, neglect and dependency be reviewed by the General Assembly.

C. EVALUATION OF REFORM LEGISLATION

Recommendation No. 60:

The North Carolina General Assembly should allocate resources for the evaluation of the effectiveness of any reform measures recommended by the Governor's Commission on Juvenile Crime and Justice or adopted by the legislature.

D. DELAY START OF SCHOOL DAY STUDY

Recommendation No. 61:

The State Board of Education should study the feasibility and advisability of delaying the start of the school day in order to eliminate late afternoon free time when so many juvenile offenses are committed. Such study shall be referred immediately to the Education Oversight Committee of the North Carolina General Assembly.

North Carolina's Juvenile Population (10-15 Year Olds)

1981-2010

- ▶ The number of 10 to 15 year olds declined a slight 4.5 percent from 1981 to 1996.
- ▶ However, projections indicate that this population will grow 15.5 percent from 552,144 teens in 1996 to 637,777 in 2010.
- ▶ This growth trend has already begun and will steadily increase with the number of teens surpassing the 600,000 by the year 2000.

Total Number of Juvenile Arrests

- ▶ The number of juveniles arrested for all offenses in 1995 (21,138) was 110 percent greater than the number arrested in 1981 (10,040).
- ▶ Juvenile arrests grew 92 percent between 1985 and 1995.
- ▶ If current trends continue an estimated 35,224 juveniles will be arrested in 2010.
- ▶ This would represent an 67 percent increase over the total number of 1995 arrests and a 251 percent increase over the total number of juveniles arrested in 1981.

Total Number of Juvenile Arrests for Part 1 Violent Crimes
Murder, Rape, Robbery, Aggravated Assault

- ▶ The number of juveniles who were arrested for serious violent crime grew from 407 in 1981 to 1,177 in 1996 (189 percent increase).
- ▶ The number of juveniles arrested for murder, rape, robbery, and aggravated assault grew an even greater 157.5 percent over the past decade.
- ▶ As many as 2,679 violent juvenile offenders could be arrested in 2010. This would be a 128 percent increase over the number arrested in 1996 and 558 percent more than the number arrested in 1981.

- ▶ The number of drug arrests in 1995 (907) outpaced the number reported in 1981 (333) by 172 percent.
- ▶ Juvenile drug arrests grew 217 percent from 1991 to 1995.
- ▶ By 2010 close to 1,200 juveniles could be arrested for drug law violations which would be 32 percent higher than the number arrested in 1995 and 256 percent higher than the number arrested in 1981.

- ▶ The number of juvenile intake complaints, for fiscal year 1994-1995, (43,781) was 136 percent higher than the number of 1982-1983 complaints (18,520).
- ▶ Intake complaints have steadily grown by an average of 11 percent per year and have increased 51.5 percent over the last seven years.
- ▶ If the relationship between intake complaints and juvenile arrest practices persists an estimated 92,850 complaints will be filed in fiscal year 2009-2010. This would represent an increase of 221 percent over the number in 1987-88 and an increase of 401 percent over the number of 1982-1983 complaints.

Age-Specific Robbery Arrest Rates

Age Specific Burglary Arrest Rates

For example, Figure 2 and Figure 3 show the age specific arrest rates for robbery and burglary. The distance between the 1985 and 1995 lines shows that for both crimes the arrest rate for young offenders increased. While the arrest rates for both crimes increased, the change was more pronounced in the robbery arrests than the arrests for burglary. Between 1985 and 1995 the pattern of burglary arrests remained essentially the same, but the rate increased, the 1995 line is higher. For robbery there was not only an increase in the rate, but also a dramatic shift in the pattern of arrests, the line moved up and to the left indicating a dramatic increase in the arrest rate for the youngest offenders..

While Figures 2 through 7 each show a slightly different pattern, all these figures show that not only are more children involved in the criminal justice system, but younger children are starting to commit violent crimes at much higher rates than they were ten years ago. What is new is the rate at which younger children are starting to be arrested for more serious crimes.

Juvenile Casefile: “Jerry”

"JERRY" - A JUVENILE CASEFILE

The following is a case review of an actual juvenile offender as reflected in the court file. For reasons of confidentiality some names and details have been changed. While the majority of court adjudicated youth do not become chronic or violent offenders, the issues raised in Jerry's case are representative of the myriad of problems confronting the juvenile justice system and those who work within it.

October 1993 - February 1994:

Jerry was 13 years old and in the seventh grade. By October, Jerry had 23 unexcused absences from school. When he was in school he slept in class. He was also seen at school with large amounts of money in his possession. The school counselor met with Jerry's father on October 23rd. Jerry's father told the school counselor that he and Jerry's mother did not live together as she had a boyfriend and she was using drugs, and that Jerry was living with them. He told the school counselor that he was concerned that Jerry was running the streets at night and out of control. Jerry's father promised the school counselor that Jerry would move in with him and that Jerry's school attendance would improve.

The school counselor called the Department of Social Services to report this as a possible neglect case. Two weeks later DSS sent a letter to the school counselor saying that neglect was not substantiated as Jerry was now living with his father. In February of 1994 Jerry was caught stealing a $45 shirt. He was briefly detained by store personnel until the police could come and take a report. Three weeks later the police officer who took the larceny report dropped a copy off with the Juvenile Services Intake Counselor.

ISSUES:

The law requires a school principal to file a report with the District Attorney's Office if a child has accumulated more than 10 unexcused absences and the parent(s) have not made good faith efforts to comply. (G.S. 115C-378) The District Attorney can have the parent(s) charged with a misdemeanor punishable by up to 30 days in jail and/or a $50 fine. If the principal determines that the parent(s) have not made a good faith effort to comply, the principal may file a complaint with Juvenile Services.

The reality is that this statute is rarely enforced. Compliance requires a school official to appear in District Court which takes him or her away from school and continuances frequently occur in District Court resulting in wasted time for the school official. Judges are reluctant to fine a parent who often cannot afford the fine or to jail a parent when there is no one else to take care of the children at home. Frequently the child is more at fault than the parent as the parent may have left for work before the child is supposed to leave for school or the parent may have dropped the child off at school thinking the child will remain. Also, the child may intercept notices from the school that come to the home if the child is there before the parent(s) in the afternoon.

Police have the discretion to divert the matter or to take the complaint to the Juvenile Services Intake Counselor who will review the sufficiency of the complaint and then authorize it to be filed as a petition, or diverted to a community resource, or dismissed. There is no time limit by which officers must file reports with Juvenile Services Intake. Although three weeks, as in Jerry's case, may not seem long in adult terms, it is a long time to a child. The child may think he has "gotten away with it" or that there will be no repercussions.

The Intake Counselor did not know about the DSS investigation as information is not shared among agencies.

In this case, the school principal failed to file a truancy report with either the District Attorney or Juvenile Services. Had such a report been made or petition filed Jerry and/or his parent would have had to appear in court. However, the courts have virtually no authority to sanction undisciplined youth and the immediate result could have potentially been the same in either case: Jerry experienced no immediate consequences for his actions.

March - April 1994

Jerry and his father met with the Intake Officer in March. The father did not know about the larceny charge until the Intake Officer told him. Jerry's father told the Intake Officer that Jerry was doing better. The Intake Officer decided not to file a court petition for this first offense since it was minor and the Intake Officer diverted the matter. The Intake Officer did refer Jerry to mental health counseling. When Jerry went to his April 15th appointment at mental health all he had to do was to sign his name indicating that he had appeared and then he could leave.

ISSUES:

The law requires that within 15 days after receiving a police report the Intake Court Counselor must review the report to establish whether legal sufficiency exists to file a petition. If so, the Intake Court Counselor may file a petition or divert the case from Juvenile Court for the juvenile to receive "less restrictive" treatment in counseling. (Intake counselors in North Carolina divert approximately 40% of the complaints they receive. Law enforcement officers divert approximately 21% of the incidents they investigate, thus, never even bringing them to the Intake Counselor.)

Five weeks after Jerry stole the shirt and was caught he "comes to court" in the sense that he meets with an Intake Counselor. The case was diverted and Jerry was required only to make a "contact" for counseling. This means that if Jerry simply signed in at mental health he has met the contact requirement. He does not have to successfully complete a program. Because of heavy caseloads juvenile intake officers rarely follow up on diverted cases these cases are not put on the docket, and because youth cannot be sanctioned in Juvenile Court for failing to follow through with diversion orders, these cases remain unaddressed.

Because the Code has no provision providing for information-sharing among agencies within the juvenile system the Intake Officer at Juvenile Services did not know about the DSS investigation. Documentation regarding Jerry's home and school situations may have assisted the Intake Officer to make a more informed decision. Again, Jerry experienced no consequences for stealing, truancy and being out of control.

June 1994

Jerry returned to his mother to live with her during the summer. On June 10th, Jerry was standing with a crowd of other youth on the neighborhood street corner at midnight when shots rang out. Jerry's 16 year old brother was killed in this drive-by shooting. Two weeks later Jerry was a passenger in a dark green Jeep Cherokee driven by his 15 year old friend. The police stopped the Jeep as it had been reported stolen and Jerry's friend ran. The police officer detained Jerry who told the officer the name of his friend who ran. The officer recognized the name as that of a youth who had an extensive juvenile record. The police officer tried to locate Jerry's mother but she could not be located. The officer called the Juvenile Court Counselor on call and asked for a secure custody order explaining that Jerry has been caught in a stolen vehicle. The court counselor told the officer that all detention beds were full and that Jerry must be returned home. After four hours spent trying to locate some relative of Jerry's to whom the officer could release him, the officer finally released Jerry to his grandmother. The officer sent a report of the incident to Juvenile Services.

ISSUES:

Law enforcement officers have no authority to place juveniles into secure custody without a judge's or court counselor's consent. Often times this means a long delay for the law enforcement officer who must remain with the juvenile. Because secure custody facilities are frequently overcrowded the juvenile is simply released back home or to the custody of a family member.

Although Jerry told the law enforcement officer that his friend had been the driver of the Jeep and although the officer knew that Jerry's friend had an extensive juvenile record, there were no photographs nor fingerprints of Jerry's friend on file because the law only authorizes photographing and fingerprinting of juveniles for a very few specific crimes. The officer could not pursue the investigation with a photographic lineup or fingerprint comparison.

Because of lack of facilities and overcrowding no detention bed was available for Jerry, and once again Jerry experienced no immediate consequences for his actions.

July - November 1994

Seven weeks after being caught in a stolen car Jerry made his first court appearance. He met his lawyer for the first time, a "tall man", who told him to "just go ahead and admit the petition." Jerry never had an opportunity to tell his lawyer that he didn't know his friend was underage and didn't have a driver's license. Nor did Jerry have a chance to tell his lawyer that Jerry's friend had driven other cars before when Jerry had been around and that Jerry didn't know that the Jeep was stolen. Following his lawyer's advice, Jerry admitted the petition and was adjudicated delinquent. The judge continued the case for disposition until the Court Counselor could do a home study. Jerry left the courtroom.

Jerry returned to court four months later with his father. The judge had reviewed the home study and had discovered that Jerry had been suspended from school. The judge ordered that Jerry be placed on one year's probation, obey a curfew, attend counseling, stay away from his friend and be placed in detention until he could go back to school. The Court Counselor informed the court that the detention facility was full so the judge sent Jerry home with his father and warned him that he was "skating on thin ice."

ISSUES:

Jerry did not make a court appearance for seven weeks from the time the police officer caught him. There is no requirement that the parent(s) of the juvenile appear with the juvenile unless they are subpoenaed and so Jerry went to court by himself. Jerry was assumed to be indigent and an attorney was appointed to represent him but the attorney did not even meet Jerry until Jerry was in court. The attorney did not explain who he was or what his role was in the proceedings and what Jerry's options were.

Jerry was not found "guilty" of possession of a stolen vehicle but was "adjudicated delinquent". Jerry did not know what this meant. The case was continued for disposition until the judge's next court date so

Jerry felt no immediate impact. Jerry never actually spoke in court as his lawyer spoke for him.

At disposition Jerry's father was present but he was not familiar with the terms that were being used either. The judge was bound by law to use "the least restrictive means" and to use community based resources for disposition. After the hearing the Court Counselor told Jerry to report to him once a month, to get back into school and to go for his counseling appointments already scheduled with mental health. Nobody told Jerry or his father how they were to arrange for transportation for these appointments.

Because the Code does not provide a specific timetable for court appearances following the time of the filing of a petition nearly two months lapsed since the night Jerry was stopped in the stolen vehicle. Because the Code fails to require the appearance of the parent(s) with juveniles unless subpoenaed, Jerry was adjudicated without his parent present or involved in the process. Neither Jerry nor his father fully understood the significance of the adjudication and disposition hearings. Consequently, Jerry experienced no immediate consequences for his actions.

November 1994

Because Jerry had no transportation to get to his mental health appointments, he never went. When he returned to school he took a knife with him because he was afraid that his friend who had been driving the Jeep would assault him. When school officials found the knife Jerry was suspended for the rest of the school year. A week later Jerry was caught with a handgun. Nine months after stealing the shirt, Jerry was back in court. This time the Judge continued Jerry's probation for one year and placed him on a suspended commitment to training school upon the agreement of Jerry and his Court Counselor that Jerry would apply to wilderness camp. The Judge also ordered that Jerry be placed in detention for two twenty-four hour periods to begin immediately.

ISSUES:

Students in possession of a weapon on school grounds may be suspended long term and the schools are not required to provide alternative education. Thus, Jerry would not be in school during the day and since he was too young to be employed he was left with a lot of unsupervised time on his hands once he had served his two days in detention.

The judge was not satisfied that "all appropriate community resources had been exhausted" so by law he could not commit Jerry to Training School. The law also only authorizes a maximum of five twenty-four hour detention periods. The Judge could not order Jerry to wilderness camp as it is a voluntary program. Jerry visited wilderness camp but refused to go. Jerry's father was not held accountable for failing to arrange transportation to counseling and for failing to report Jerry's curfew violation.

Because of the school's "zero-tolerance" policy and lack of alternative educational placements for juveniles such as Jerry, and because the judge did not condition Jerry's suspended commitment to training school on Jerry's successful completion of the wilderness camp, Jerry experienced only a slight consequence for his actions.

February 1995

Jerry and a 16 year old friend robbed a man walking down the sidewalk. Jerry's friend brandished a handgun at the victim while Jerry reached into the victim's pockets and took five dollars. Jerry and his friend were caught and Jerry was placed into detention. The District Attorney's Office asked the Juvenile Court Judge to transfer Jerry's Armed Robbery charge to Superior Court. The Judge agreed and said that anytime a 14 year old uses a gun to commit a felony and comes before him they were "going up." Jerry was held in the juvenile detention center for eight months before his case was finally resolved in Superior Court. Jerry pleaded guilty to Common Law Robbery and was sentenced to not less than eight months and not more than ten months in the Department of Corrections which was suspended and he was placed on adult probation for thirty-six months.

While on probation Jerry killed a known drug dealer and is charged with Murder. Due to Jerry's age the District Attorney's Office allowed him to plead guilty to Manslaughter and agreed that the active sentence he will get of twenty months will run concurrently with the sentence for the robbery.

ISSUES:

The cases of juveniles 13 years old or older may be transferred to Superior Court without any specific findings of fact for the transfer required by law. Juveniles awaiting trial in Superior Court may post a bond or if they cannot afford a bond, they must be held in juvenile detention until they are sixteen. This contributes to the overcrowding in juvenile detention.

When Jerry pleaded guilty to Common Law Robbery his prior record in Juvenile Court could not be considered by law and so for sentencing purposes he had no prior record. Because he was convicted of a felony, he was not allowed back into the public schools and there were no alternative schools for him. Because of his age and his record it was virtually impossible for him to find employment.

Had the District Attorney's Office not requested transfer of Jerry's case, Jerry would in all likelihood have received an "indefinite commitment" to training school in Juvenile Court and could have remained there until he was eighteen. In training school, Jerry would have received educational and vocational services as well as counseling. Although binding a case over to Superior Court for trial as an adult may sound tough, in reality it often results in a more lenient sentence, with no rehabilitative services, than if the case had not been transferred.

While Jerry's appearance and conviction in Superior Court had earned him an adult record, he received a more lenient sentence for this offense in "adult court" than he would have in Juvenile Court.

This is an actual case.

Out-of-School Suspension in North Carolina Public Schools,
An In-Depth Study

OUT-OF-SCHOOL SUSPENSION IN NORTH CAROLINA PUBLIC SCHOOLS, AN IN-DEPTH STUDY

SUMMARY

Background Statement

"Out-of-School Suspension In North Carolina Public Schools, An In-Depth Study" is based on data collected from 109 LEAs on suspensions/expulsions during the Fall 1996 by Nancy Driscoll. Despite the difficulties experienced collecting and compiling this kind of data, we can feel confident that the general outcomes and trends emerging from the process will prove both useful and insightful as we move to address the future needs of students at-risk of suspension or expulsion. The following findings, conclusions, and recommendations are based on the data submitted by reporting LEAs:

Findings

The findings of the study are based on 109 of 118 LEAs reporting within the time limitations set for reporting. Significant results are cited below:

- Nearly 82,000 students were reported to have been in Out-of-School suspension in 1995-96. Seven hundred of these students were reported as long-term suspensions.
- Of the 82,000 suspensions, there were 119,000 individual (multiple) suspensions resulting in more than 500,000 days out of school. Nearly six percent of the state's students were suspended out-of-school at least once during 1995-96.
- According to the reported data, males were suspended three times as often as female students.
- African-American students accounted for over one-half of the suspensions. White students accounted for 47,000 of the suspension incidents, while black students accounted for 67,000.
- By gender, black males accounted for 50,000 suspension incidents, while white males accounted for 40,000. Black females accounted for nearly 20,000 suspensions and white females had over 10,000 incidents.
- Most frequently students were suspended for class disruptions or rule violations.
- The second most frequent offense resulting in suspensions was fighting.
- White students had slightly more suspensions for infractions related to substance abuse.
- Black students were suspended in middle and high schools primarily for rule violations, fighting, and other unacceptable behavior.
- Hispanic and Native American students were suspended most often for unacceptable behavior, rule violation, and fighting.

- White students are suspended an average of 3.1 days, blacks 3.6 days, Native Americans 4.1 days and Hispanic students 3.2 days.

Conclusions

From the data reported by LEAs, the following picture emerges for student suspensions in North Carolina:

- The largest number of suspensions statewide is due to rule infractions and unacceptable behavior.
- A significant number of students was suspended for fighting; however, instances of assault, possessions and sale of controlled substances, and possession of a weapon were relatively rare.
- The suspension of African-American males far exceeds the actual representation of these students (30%) in the school population.
- Males in general are much more likely to be suspended than females regardless of ethnicity at the rate of 3:1.
- Class disruptions/rule violations was the infraction for which students had the highest percentage of suspensions across the state.
- Students at ages 12 - 17 are the group most likely to be suspended.

Recommendations

- Consider a standardized state-wide database system that will provide error checking and electronic transfer of data. Use of such a database at the LEA level would provide for ongoing monitoring and analysis of critical discipline and suspension data.
- Identify early those students at highest risk for school failure because of repeated discipline problems and multiple suspensions.
- Evaluate each of these students to determine to what extent academic skill deficits or other social, emotional or family problems are contributing to school behavior problems. This evaluation could be accomplished through the mechanism of the student assistance team.
- Develop an intervention plan for high-risk/high-need students before multiple suspensions lead them to leave school altogether.
- Encourage school districts to review their in-school suspension services. If such a program is in use and (1) students are repeatedly referred to the program, (2) students go on to out-of-school suspension, (3) there does not appear to be equity in who is referred, (4) students act up in and/or are not benefiting from the programs, or (5) school discipline overall is not improving, consider moving to a therapeutic in-school suspension program which provides assessment and intervention services to truly improve behavior.

- Analyze the equity issues that are apparent from this study. Why are black students so much more likely to be suspended? Why are they also likely to be suspended for more days than white students? How can we improve educational services for black males who are more likely to be suspended than any other gender/ethnic group?
- Target ages twelve through seventeen for broad intervention services since students in this age group are the most likely to be suspended. Consider special intervention options for young students whose behavior has resulted in multiple out-of-school and/or long term suspensions.
- Finally we must encourage all LEAs to do what is best for all children as we work to improve public education. School improvement at the expense of segments of the school population is short-sighted. If too many students are left behind in our quest to meet the very valid public demand for high achievement and strong discipline, we are in danger of creating a cohort of under-educated, unemployable, angry young people with whom we all must deal for many years into the future. The public schools of North Carolina must put forth the very best effort to meet the needs of all children through thoughtful planning and workable programs.

Study reveals gap in suspension totals

More black students affected statewide

Associated Press

GREENSBORO — Black students account for almost 70 percent of out-of-school suspensions in Guilford County, a trend that's echoed across the state.

According to records given the News & Record of Greensboro by the school system, black students, who comprise less than 40 percent of the student population, were suspended about 9,000 times last school year. White students accounted for less than 4,000 suspensions.

A study commissioned in the 1995-96 school year by the state Department of Public Instruction shows a racial school-suspension gap crisscrossing North Carolina. That survey revealed black youths, who comprise about 30 percent of the state's students, accounted for 56 percent of almost 120,000 reported suspensions.

The state survey also showed that black students were suspended longer than whites, an average of 3.6 days, compared to 3.1 days for white students.

In the Charlotte-Mecklenburg school district, where black students make up a little more than 40 percent of the population, black students account for 75 percent of long-term suspensions. Black students in Wake County make up 26 percent of the public school population and account for 54 percent of out-of-school suspensions.

Reasons for the suspension gap offered by teachers, school administrators, sociologists, civil rights workers and students include:

■ White teachers' preconceived beliefs that black children will be aggressive, disruptive and have difficulty learning.

■ Socioeconomics. This is the reason, or reasons, given by most people, white and black, for the disparity. The grip of poverty and the black experience of racism and slavery lead — in many black children — to feelings of inadequacy and an early loss of self-esteem. Black students then manifest these feelings in class disruptions, fights, inappropriate language and other violations of the student Code of Conduct.

■ Tough black standards: Some black teachers and administrators may be tougher than white educators in disciplining black students.

■ Class. This reason is linked with socioeconomic reasons, minus the effects of race. Some believe the problem has nothing to do with race, that it is strictly one of poverty and class.

■ Lack of classroom management. Some believe that too many teachers are too quick to rid their rooms of disruptive students instead of trying to calm and work with them.

■ Trivial offenses. The authors of two surveys on suspensions say it might be time for school administrators to consider changing the student Code of Conduct — that students are getting suspended for relatively minor infractions.

■ Black students commit the most rule infractions and are punished fairly without regard to race.

Most school administrators, white and black, say race has no bearing on a teacher's or principal's decision to punish.

"I have to support our teachers," Guilford schools Superintendent Jerry Weast said. "I think that 95 to 96 percent of the time they make the appropriate call that any reasonable person would support and understand."

Louis Fields, chairman of the local NAACP's education committee, said school officials must realize that race is a major reason for the suspension gap.

"White teachers come to school believing that black children are going to misbehave," he said. "A lot of teachers are afraid of these kids, and they're ready to get rid of them."

Students interviewed said they have seen no evidence of racial bias in the process.

SUBJECT: Alcohol and Drug Prevention and Treatment Services

The Substance Abuse Services Section in the Division of Mental Health, Developmental Disabilities and Substance Abuse Services proposes the following activities and programs to address drug and alcohol problems in youth, ages 9-17. This plan was developed in consultation with the Governor's Office of Substance Abuse Policy. We are recommending that this plan become a companion to the Final Recommendations prepared by the Governor's Commission on Juvenile Crime and Justice. Successfully addressing substance abuse problems is a pre-requisite for the implementation of the juvenile justice initiative.

Building Capacity for Substance Abuse Prevention and Treatment Services For Youth

The Governor's Alcohol and Other Drug Program should be guided by the first goal of the 1997 National Drug Control Strategy "Educate and enable youth to reject illegal drugs as well as underage use of alcohol and tobacco." North Carolina children and their families face alcohol and other drug problems that cut across the current jurisdictions of many state agencies: juvenile justice, health, mental health, public housing, education and others. In North Carolina these agencies often work with insufficient knowledge of, or cooperation with, the efforts of other agencies. The Governor's Executive Order No. 115 "Single State Agency to Set Standards and Models of Care For Alcohol and Drug Prevention and Treatment Services" recognizes that this lack of coordinated statewide efforts has been a major obstacle to dealing with the problems of drug abuse. The Substance Abuse Services Section of the Division of MH/DD/SAS, serving as the Single State Agency (SSA), proposes to coordinate the planning and implementation of the following recommendations. These activities are designed to compliment and enhance the recommendations of the Governor's Commission on Juvenile Crime and Justice.

Primary Goal:

By the end of Year 2002, reverse the upward trend and reduce past month use of marijuana among 9-17 year olds by 25 percent (baseline 1997).

Associated Goals:

By the end of Year 2002 reduce past month use of all illicit drugs among 9-17 year olds by 35%.

By the end of Year 2002 reduce past month use of alcohol among 9-17 year olds by 20%.

Reduce the uses of tobacco among youth by 50% within five years.

Youth at Risk

Although alcohol and tobacco products cannot be legally sold to minors, drinking and smoking are widespread among youth people. Heavy drinking is pervasive even if teens do not view it as drunkenness. Smoking has substantially increased since 1991, particularly among younger children. Since 1991, illicit drug use has climbed sharply among junior high and high school students, according to the "Monitoring the Future" survey. Increases have been most dramatic among the youngest teens. Marijuana remains by far the most widely used illicit drug, but other drugs, notably LSD, methamphetamine and heroin are gaining popularity. Although heroin rates remain low overall, heroin use among adolescents has almost tripled since 1991. According to the National Institute on Drug Abuse (NIDA), today's heroin users are increasingly younger and suburban. In fact 8th graders reported higher rates of heroin use in 1996 than did older students. Cafeteria use of club drugs is reported all over the country. Illicit drugs such as Ketamine, LSD, and MDMA and prescription drugs, such as Ritalin, Rohypnol and Clonapin, are popular with teenagers who take drugs as part of a club scene to increase stamina. Many young people experiment with a variety of hallucinogenic, sedative and hypnotic drugs in combination along with alcohol.

Adolescents begin using drugs for many different reasons, reflecting individual history as well as social, family and environmental influences. Since children are particularly high risk because of person, family and community factors. The younger the child is when experimentation begins, the more likely it is that serious dependency will develop later. A recent study of juvenile arrestees found that youth who started drinking at age 10 or younger became dependent on alcohol five times more often than those who began drinking after age 15. Homeless and runaway youth report much higher alcohol, tobacco and other drug use than other children. Additional risk factors include having a parent or sibling addicted to alcohol or other drugs, impulsive or anti-social behavior and early school failure.

Alcohol and Other Drugs

Despite the legal drinking age of 21, many youth under the age of 18 consume alcohol. Nearly one-third of high school seniors experience a "binge" of five more drinks in a row within the previous two weeks. The average age at which young people begin drinking is 13. North Carolina recognizes the harmful consequences of underage drinking, including above average rates of traffic fatalities, hangover, injuries and legal difficulties as well as the potential for future heavy alcohol and other drug use.

Recommendation:

Reduce the harmful impact of early alcohol use and abuse through participation in the Robert Wood Johnson, "Underage Drinking Initiative" managed by the Governor's Institute on Alcohol and Substance Abuse.

Parents

Parents are powerful influences in the lives of their children. Through their words and their actions, parents provide key guidance on alcohol, tobacco and other drug use. Parents have a critical role to play in prevention — within the family and in collaboration with schools, churches, and community groups. Parenting is prevention.

Recommendation:

Integrate the Parenting for Prevention Program with other initiatives such as Smart Start, SOS, Communities That Care, and Employee Assistance Programs. This project will strengthen existing anti-drug programs directed by parents, help develop a drug focus for various parent groups which do not currently have a major drug focus, and provide training, technical assistance and resources for parents in initiating drug prevention programs for youth.

Media and Popular Culture

Beyond the family, children learn about tobacco, alcohol and other drugs from their larger environment. Adolescents are particularly vulnerable to social pressures. Advertising often reinforces teens assumptions that "everyone is doing it, " by promoting images of successful popular people who smoke, drink or look as if they are using drugs. Extensive research shows that exposure to advertising commercials increase drinking and drug using behavior.

Research tells us that the drug problem in America is extremely sensitive. Drug use rises and falls based on key attitudes held by consumers, specifically how dangerous and socially acceptable drugs are perceived to be.

Recommendation:

Support the activities of the Partnership for A Drug-Free North Carolina as part of a non-profit coalition of volunteers from the communication industry, best known for its anti-drug advertising campaign. The Partnership generates donations of broadcast time and print space for its campaign.

Schools and Drugs

The development and implementation of a kindergarten through twelfth grade substance abuse instructional curriculum is a critical component in the development and maintenance of drug-free schools. Education should be coupled with school policies against alcohol and community wide anti-drug initiatives. The incidence of student drug use is rising as a result of declining emphasis on comprehensive alcohol and other drug education. School is an important point of intervention to help identify students with alcohol and other drug problems and to refer them to appropriate counseling and treatment services.

Recommendation:

Ensure that every school student in North Carolina, including private school students, shall receive mandatory instruction in alcohol and other drug abuse, including tobacco in every year, in every grade from kindergarten through grade twelve.

Schools are important point of intervention to help identify students with alcohol and other drug abuse problems. Efforts to address the problem in schools should enable students to seek help for their problems through Student Assistance Programs and treatment services.

Recommendation:

Inventory availability of Student Assistance Programs in North Carolina Middle Schools and High Schools.

Recommendation:

Establish memoranda of agreement between schools and local mental health centers to ensure that students identified with alcohol and other drug problems are referred to treatment.

Recommendation:

Ensure consistent alcohol and other drug training is provided for School Resource Officers in cooperation with Students Against Violence Everywhere.

Girl Power

The National Household Survey on Drug Abuse shows alarming increases in the number of girls ages 9 to 17, who drink alcohol, smoke cigarettes and use marijuana, stimulants and inhalants. These trends signal an urgent need to educate young girls about the dangers associated with drug use and its devastating consequences. The rate of illicit drug use rises sharply as girls move into adolescence. Recent data from the Youth Risk Behavior Study (CDC) has shown that alcohol use in adolescents is a strong predictor of both sexual activity and unprotected sex. The U.S. Department of Justice reports that female juvenile violent crime arrests doubled between 1985 and 1994. Parents, teachers, and other caregivers need information and support in providing the extra boost some girls need. Girls with positive interpersonal and social skills are less likely to use drugs, as are girls who develop interests and abilities in academics, arts, and sports.

Recommendation:

Join with Health and Human Services Secretary Donna E. Shalala and the North Carolina Women's Substance Abuse Advisory Committee in the national public education campaign "Girl Power" to give girls the tools they need to increase their skills and confidence to make the transition from childhood to adolescence health and drug free. "Girl Power" is a multiphase, multimedia public education program with the overall objective to delay the onset and reduce the use of alcohol, tobacco, and illicit drugs among young girls.

Treatment for Youth

Drug treatment has traditionally focused on adult addicts, who often have developed severe problems. Only a dozen publicly funded treatment programs are designed exclusively for adolescents. Treatment should be developmentally appropriate. Different levels of drug problems require different treatment environments; not all programs are equally effective for young people. Programs across North Carolina should provide assessment, education, treatment, and continuing care for adolescents referred by parents, schools, juvenile courts and other health and human service agencies.

Recommendation:

Ensure that age appropriate alcohol and other drug treatment should be uniformly available in every community.

Child Abuse, Neglect, and Family Violence

Child abuse, neglect and family violence are closely linked with alcohol and other drug use. Illicit drugs are involved in half the reported incidents of family violence, while alcohol is involved in three-quarters of the cases according to the National Research Council. More than three quarters of all foster care cases involve drug abuse by at least one parent; this does not include alcohol abuse. One study found that 36 percent of the children eligible for foster care also had substance abuse problems. Treatment for parents is prevention for the child. Children with substance abuse problems of their own are far more likely to experience multiple placements and stay in foster care longer than other children.

Recommendation:

All families experiencing abuse and neglect investigations should be assessed for alcohol and other drug problems. Local Departments of Social Services working cooperatively with local mental health agencies will develop a protocol for such assessments. Family members or other caregivers should be required to participate in treatment to maintain custody of children.

Recommendation:

Children placed in foster care should be provided with alcohol and other drug education and intervention services. The entire family, including siblings, should be included in the assessment. Older youth will be assessed for their own alcohol and drug abuse problems and referred to treatment where appropriate.

Recommendation:

Foster families, day care providers and other caregivers should receive training for the appropriate care of children with alcohol and drug dependent parents.

Children of Addicted Parents

Children who are members of a family with an alcoholic, addicted, or alcohol or drug abusing parent, guardian or other adults are at higher risk for initiating drug use, are at higher risk for developing alcoholism and other drug dependencies, are at greater risk of physical and sexual abuse, are more likely to have school health and behavior problems than other children.

Education, prevention, and counseling services can enable children of alcoholics and addicts to better understand alcoholism and learn ways to cope with addicted family members. Services for such children can reduce the emotional and physical damage caused by their parents drinking and reduce the risk of future alcohol and other drug abuse.

Recommendation:

Area mental health centers should give priority for admission for children of alcoholics who apply for alcohol and other drug treatment.

Recommendation:

Develop services targeted to those children whose parents are participants in North Carolina Work First Program. Twenty to thirty percent of parents requesting assistance have significant alcohol and other drug problems. Intervention services for the children could result in reduced numbers of children experiencing alcohol and drug problems.

Drugs and Delinquency

Behavioral and emotional problems in adolescents are often associated with delinquency, alcohol and other drug use. According to a recent nationwide study, one in five teens ages 12 through 17 reports serious problems with depression, anxiety, delinquency and aggression. These teens are much more likely to smoke, drink heavily and use other drugs. Moreover, drugs seem to exacerbate delinquent behavior. A major study of 7th grade boys already involved in delinquent activity found that those who use drugs reported much higher rates of truancy, shoplifting, gang fighting and vandalism than boys who did not use drugs.

Rising teen drug use has been accompanied by increasing drug arrests of juveniles. From 1992 to 1996, juvenile arrests for drug law violations (possession or sale) more than doubled.

The nationwide Drug Use Forecasting System (DUF) reports that in 1996, more than half of arrested juveniles tested positive for drugs at the time of arrest, compared to less than one-fifth

The nationwide Drug Use Forecasting System (DUF) reports that in 1996, more than half of arrested juveniles tested positive for drugs at the time of arrest, compared to less than one-fifth five years ago. Some cities like Washington, DC show higher rates, with two-thirds of arrested juveniles testing positive. Studies of juveniles in custody for various offenses confirm the pervasiveness of drug use.

Recommendation:

Expand the MAJORS (Managing Access for Juvenile Offender Resources and Services) Program to an additional twelve judicial districts. Provide transition and continuing care services for juvenile offenders that blend the control measures of court requirements, sanctions and community service with substance abuse treatment. Services are directed to juveniles under court supervision in the community and juvenile offenders released from training school or residential treatment.

Recommendation:

Enhance the Governor's One on One Program through the development and delivery of an alcohol and other drug education program for volunteers.

Young Drivers

Alcohol remains closely linked to accidents, which are the leading cause of death for adolescents. In 1996, a third of the 25,000 fatal traffic accidents for this group were related to alcohol. Moreover, driving under the influence of illicit drugs may be more widespread than generally realized.

Recommendation:

The Governor's Highway Safety Initiative should re-emphasize the "Booze It or Lose It" campaign focusing on 15 to 17 year olds.

Recommendation:

Encourage law enforcement and judicial officials to enforce the zero alcohol (.00) tolerance for young drivers.

Recommendation:

Direct the DWI Section of DHHS to develop age appropriate treatment models for young DWI offenders.

Although marijuana arrests are now largely associated with white juveniles, heroin and cocaine arrests involve black juveniles by a margin of two to one. In part these differences reflect patterns of drug dealing: crack cocaine, powder cocaine and heroin have been more prevalent in inner-city drug markets, which serve both black and white clients. As high purity, low cost heroin becomes more popular in the suburbs as well as the cities, the racial distribution of ten drug arrests may soon change.

Recommendation:

Analyze capacity of narcotic treatment to provide appropriate treatment of the emergency youth heroin epidemic. Develop training and education programs for professionals in medicine, social work, and substance abuse services.

Violent Crime

Like drug abuse, violence is beginning at younger ages. One in ten students in 7th and 8th grades acknowledges committing a violent act in the past year compared to one in twelve high school students, according to the 1997 report of the National Longitudinal Study of Adolescent Health.

Homicide has long been linked to substance abuse; autopsies of homicide victims have found that 40 to 70 percent had been drinking at the time of death. Among juveniles, nearly 60 percent of homicide victims have some level of alcohol in their blood at the time of death. Add Health reports that even those who do not drink or use other drugs are much more likely to be killed in households where drugs are used.

Researchers note that the drug culture environment may contribute to the increased risk of homicide. Theft, drug dealing and other activities to obtain drugs often generate violent behavior. Drinking, other drug use and drug dealing are closely linked to juvenile violence. Half of all juveniles arrested for violent offenses test positive for drugs at the time of arrest.

Recommendation:

Substance abuse specialists will be assigned to community policing initiatives in selected cities to provide "street" outreach, alcohol and drug education to potential gang members, their parents, and other neighborhood groups.

Piney Woods Boarding School Description

Piney Woods Public Boarding School Mississippi

Per the recommendation of Sheriff Baker, the Piney Woods Country Life School's model is recommended as a strategy for preventing and addressing issues (risk factors, e.g., toxic home environments) directly relating to juvenile crime and delinquency.

Structure

The Piney Woods Country Life School is the largest of five historically Black boarding schools in the country, three in the south, two in the mid-Atlantic. The school is located in a rural area 21 miles from Jackson, Mississippi, on a 2,000 acres farm. The school itself sits on 60 acres.

Piney Woods is based on a residential, community-based academic model, with a focused academic climate, consistent discipline, and strong ethical and spiritual values. The campus functions in much the way that a community would with its own post office, security system, communal activities, outdoor amphitheater, sports fields, etc. Many of the teachers and staff live in houses on campus, as does the school's president.

- The average cost per student is approximately $20,000.
- The average student background is poor, single parent, urban and rural. Students come from communities across the United States.
- The average length of stay per student is three years.
- The age range of boarding students is 12 to 19.
- The student population is 300, male and female.
- Accredited academic instruction is offered for grades six through eleven.
- Students are enrolled through an application process. It is not a general rule to admit court-supervised youth; however, there are some exceptions.

Funding

The total annual operating budget is $7.4 million. 30% of the budget is covered through fund raising efforts (e.g., individuals, private, and corporate); 45% operating funds are generated through an unrestricted endowment; 10% through student fees; 15% through auxiliaries such as food services, farming produce.

The school does not receive any federal funds with the exception of the National Schools Lunch Program, which a major percentage of the students are eligible to receive.

Mission

The mission of the school is "to provide excellence in education within a Christian community through creation of an exceptional academic model which supports the tenet that all students can learn, develop a strong work ethic, and lead extraordinary lives through academic achievement and responsible citizenship."

Governance

Piney Woods is governed by a 22-member Board of Directors. The role of the Board is to monitor the school's fiscal management, oversee program and facility issues, assure that the school meets the academic, ethical, spiritual and safety needs of the students, and assist in the raising of funds.

Success Rate

Over 98% of the 1996 and 1997 senior classes went to college. Graduates attend the some of the nation's top universities and colleges including: Harvard, Vassar, Tufts, Amherst, Smith, Oberlin and Michigan state in addition to the fine historically Black colleges and universities across the nation.

The 1995 graduating class (100%) were accepted into more than 270 of the finest colleges and universities in the country with scholarship offers over $1.5 million. Some of the 1995 graduates are attending Morehouse, Fisk, Spelman, Jackson State University, Purdue, and Alcorn State University.

MINUTES
SENATE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE
May 26, 1998

The Senate Judiciary Committee met on May 26, 1998 at 10:00 a.m. in Room 1027 of the Legislative Building. A majority of members was present.

Senator Cooper called the meeting to order and reminded the Committee that this would be a continuance of the discussion of Senate Bill 1260 - AN ACT TO ESTABLISH THE DEPARTMENT OF JUVENILE JUSTICE, TO AMEND AND RECODIFY THE NORTH CAROLINA JUVENILE CODE, TO MAKE CONFORMING CHANGES TO THE STATUTES, AND TO APPROPRIATE FUNDS, AS RECOMMENDED BY THE COMMISSION ON JUVENILE CRIME AND JUSTICE.

Senator Cooper further announced that the bill would be broken down into sections so that each section could be discussed individually. The portions of the bill to be discussed would be the Agency and on Prevention.

Representative Baddour, Chairman of the Agency Committee of the Juvenile Justice Commission, was recognized to discuss this portion of the bill.

Representative Baddour explained that the Committee he chaired had the responsibility of looking at the agency - the way that juveniles were dealt with both at the state and local levels. The Agency Committee made three basic recommendations that are included in the bill:

1. Create a cabinet level Department of Juvenile Justice.

The present Juvenile Justice system is served by two areas:

1) Administrative Office of the Courts where the juvenile court counselors are located. They perform the function of intake, juvenile probation and after care (after a juvenile is released from a training school) and 2) the Department of Health and Human Services - Division of Youth Services. They are responsible for the facilities - detention centers, training schools, the wilderness camps, the multi-purpose group homes and the community-based alternative programs.

The Agency Committee has recommended that these two areas be brought together and create a cabinet level Department of Juvenile Justice. There would be approximately 1800 employees and the budget would be $109 million. The Governor's people have looked at this and believe that they can produce sufficient savings to be able to implement this without any additional cost. It is felt that this would enable the state to better deliver juvenile services if these two areas were brought together. There would be a cabinet level official appointed by the Governor who would be able to come before the Legislature and advocate for the needs of the system. This would enable this official to recommend policy and to determine policy for the Department.

2. Create a State Advisory Council on Juvenile Delinquency and Prevention.

This would be chaired by the Governor and the Chief Justice. The bill provides guidelines as to who would make up the Advisory Council. Basically, it would be cabinet secretaries who have as part of their responsibilities something to do with the Juvenile Justice System. This Council would recommend policy and determine the direction that the Juvenile Justice System would take.

3. Create, at the local level, Youth Service Advisory Councils.

These councils are appointed by the County Commissioners and are charged with the responsibility of allocating the state community based alternative funds. They are a very important component of the system. The counties are contributing about 35% of the funds.

The Agency Committee is recommending that the Youth Service Advisory Councils be replaced with Juvenile Crime Prevention Councils. The difference is that it would be designated in the legislation the people who would have to be appointed to these councils. In doing that it would be a much stronger council. These councils would be composed of the School Superintendent, a Chief of Police, the Sheriff, District Attorney, Chief Court Counselor, Director of Mental Health, County Manager, a substance abuse professional, member of the clergy, County Commissioner, a defense attorney, a non-profit representative or their designee, up to 25 members.

Language was put into the legislation which would make it clear that no member could have a conflict of interest when voting for funding.

Richard Moore, Secretary of the Department of Crime Control and Public Safety, was recognized to respond to questions from the Committee.

Senator Cooper recognized Senator Jeanne Lucas, Chairman of the Prevention Committee of the Juvenile Justice Commission.

The Prevention Committee had four basic concerns:

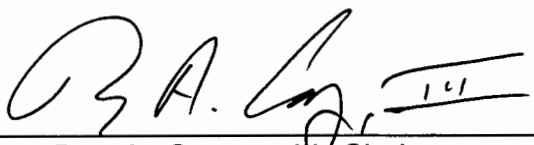

1. It is imperative that children be prevented from ever being at high risk of juvenile delinquency.
2. Children who are already at high risk must be prevented from actually becoming juvenile offenders.
3. First-time juvenile offenders must be prevented from becoming repeat offenders.
4. Chronic and/or serious juvenile offenders must be prevented from going deeper into the system.

The State of North Carolina must bring together all of the agencies in a collaborative coordinated method so as not to have a duplication of efforts and the state must get the most out of the it's money to help the children and to keep our communities safe.

The Committee is recommending that there be state-wide coordination, that there be an Advisory Council to be headed by the Governor and the Chief Justice, and that there be an opportunity to look at the communities and organize those agencies and those services to protect the children. It is known which children are at risk, the protective factors which should be there are known and it is known that with cooperative efforts, a difference can be made.

Senator Cooper reminded the Committee that the discussion and review of the bill would continue at a future meeting.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

20 "Part 4. Comprehensive Juvenile Delinquency and Substance Abuse Prevention Plan.

21 "§ 143B-540. Comprehensive Juvenile Delinquency and Substance Abuse Prevention 22 Plan.

23 (a) The Department shall develop a comprehensive juvenile delinquency and 24 substance abuse prevention plan that will provide nonduplicative, collaborative,
25 cooperative, public/private, State/local juvenile delinquency and substance abuse
26 prevention programs to youth and their families. These collaborative programs shall 27 be interdisciplinary and multitiered, shall provide a continuum of services, and shall 28 be cooperatively and collaboratively administered at and accessible to community and 29 local levels. In administering the programs, communities and localities shall adhere 30 to proven effective principles. The Department shall ensure that localities are 31 informed about best practices in juvenile delinquency and substance abuse 32 prevention.

33 (b) The Department shall ensure that any program provided through this plan
34 contains at least the following critical elements:

- 35 (1) An addressing of the highest priority problem areas and an 36 identification of the risk and protective factors to which youth in a
37 particular community are exposed;
38 (2) The strongest focus on populations exposed to a number of risk
39 factors;
40 (3) An addressing of problem areas and an identification of strengths
41 both early in life and at appropriate developmental stages;
42 (4) An addressing of multiple risk factors in different settings such as
43 family, school, community, and peer group;

- (5) An offering of comprehensive interventions across many systems that deal simultaneously with many aspects of a youth's life;
- (6) An intensive involvement of multiple contacts weekly or even daily with at-risk youth;
- (7) An operation that is strength-based rather than deficiency-based, that builds on a youth's strengths rather than on deficiencies;
- (8) A holistic approach to youth within the context of their relationships to and with others rather than focusing solely on the youth; and
- (9) An incorporation of community participation and ethnic and cultural diversity into the development and evaluation of services.

(c) The Department shall ensure that the plan contain at least the following programs, which have proven effective in preventing juvenile delinquency and substance abuse and which should be available as basic services in communities:

- (1) Early intervention;
- (2) In-home and community-based family counseling and parent training;
- (3) Adolescent and family substance abuse prevention services, including alcohol abuse prevention services and including substance abuse education;
- (4) Nonschool hours activities, both before and after school hours;
- (5) Law-related education and life/social skills training programs;
- (6) Conflict resolution, problem solving, and anger management; and
- (7) Personal advocacy, including mentoring relationships, tutors, or other caring adult programs.

(d) Prior to the implementation of any plan and program development prescribed in this section, the Department shall report to the General Assembly in detail on its plan to implement this section, including detailed descriptions of the plan and programs contemplated. The report shall also provide a detailed cost analysis of this section's implementation.

(e) The Department shall cooperate with all other affected State agencies and entities in implementing this section.

"Part 5. Juvenile Crime Prevention Councils.

"§ 143B-550. Juvenile Crime Prevention Councils; legislative intent.

(a) It is the intent of the General Assembly both to reduce the number of juveniles committed by the courts for delinquency to institutions operated by the Department of Juvenile Justice or other State agencies and to prevent juveniles who are at risk from becoming delinquent. The primary intent of this Article is to provide an ongoing, comprehensive State/local, public/private, cooperative, collaborative partnership to develop both streamlined and enhanced community-based alternatives to training school and detention commitment and unified, nonduplicative, coordinated, and collaborative community-based prevention strategies and programs. Additionally, it is the intent of the General Assembly to provide noninstitutional dispositional alternatives that will protect the community and the juvenile.

1 (b) The Juvenile Crime Prevention Councils shall prioritize funding for
2 dispositions of court-adjudicated youth pursuant to minimum standards adopted by
3 the Department.

4 (c) The Department shall ensure that juvenile court services and delinquency
5 prevention programs are developed by a State/local, private/public, cooperative and
6 collaborative partnership that avoids overlapping and duplication and that optimizes
7 and evaluates all programs and services on an ongoing basis. The programs
8 developed under this partnership shall fulfill the following organizational and 9 objective requirements:

10 (1) These programs shall be planned and organized at the community
11 level, and developed in partnership with the State. These planning
12 efforts shall include appropriate representation from local 13 government, local public and private agencies serving families and 14 children, local business leaders, citizens with an interest in youth
15 problems, youth representatives, and others as may be appropriate
16 in a particular community. The planning bodies at the local level
17 shall be the Juvenile Crime Prevention Councils.

18 (2) At the State level, the Department shall:

- 19 a. Serve the community level as a clearinghouse for 20 information on delinquency prevention strategies and on
21 alternatives to commitment. The Department shall research,
22 collect, and distribute information to local agencies about
23 best practices, what works, what is promising, and what does
24 not work;
25 b. Provide technical assistance to Juvenile Crime Prevention
26 Councils;
27 c. Make recommendations to State and local governments on 28 changes to laws, rules, or policies that will reduce the 29 incidence of delinquency and the incidence of inappropriate
30 commitment;
31 d. Develop a comprehensive structure for follow-up and 32 delivery of program and treatment services to ensure
33 juvenile, adult, and system accountability;
34 e. Coordinate statewide media campaigns that accurately
35 inform people about the development of strategies to
36 prevent delinquency; and
37 f. Channel existing delinquency prevention funding streams to 38 the community level until a permanent funding stream for 39 delinquency prevention is established.

40 (3) At the local level, as a prerequisite for receiving funding for 41 juvenile court service and delinquency prevention programs, the 42 board of county commissioners of each county shall appoint a
43 Juvenile Crime Prevention Council. The Juvenile Crime

Prevention Council shall consist of not more than 25 members and should include, if possible, the following:

- a. The local school superintendent, or that person's designee;
- b. A chief of police in the county;
- c. The local sheriff, or that person's designee;
- d. The district attorney, or that person's designee;
- e. The chief court counselor, or that person's designee;
- f. The Director of the Area Mental Health Authority, or that person's designee;
- g. The director of the local department of social services, or that person's designee;
- h. The county manager, or that person's designee;
- i. A substance abuse professional;
- j. A member of the faith community;
- k. A county commissioner;
- l. A youth representative;
- m. A juvenile defense attorney;
- n. A district court judge;
- o. A member of the business community;
- p. A public health professional;
- q. A representative from the United Way or other nonprofit agency; and
- r. Up to six members of the public to be appointed by the county board of commissioners.

The county shall modify the Council's membership as necessary to ensure that current Council members reflect the racial and socioeconomic diversity of the community and to minimize potential conflicts of interest by members.

- (4) The Council shall annually review the needs of troubled juveniles, both those at risk of delinquency and those adjudicated delinquent, within the county and the assets and resources that are available to address the needs of those juveniles. The Council shall use a public/private, nonduplicative, collaborative, coordinated, multifaceted, and multidisciplinary approach to this review, and to the utilization of any existing programs as well as to the development of any new programs and services. In particular, the Council shall review the existing resources that can be expanded to provide prevention programs and services. The Council shall include the faith-based community as a vital part of this approach. The Council shall develop and advertise a Request for Proposal process, and submit a written Plan of Action for the expenditure of juvenile sanction and prevention funds to the county for its approval. Upon the county's authorization, the Plan shall be submitted to the Department for final approval and subsequent implementation.

In addition to its annual review, the Council shall perform the following functions on an ongoing basis:

- a. Conduct an ongoing updated community needs assessment in order to identify resources and needs and develop appropriate solutions to meet these needs;
  - b. Perform rigorous and ongoing performance evaluations of prevention and alternatives programs and services. The Council shall require each prevention initiative and each alternatives initiative to have a strong evaluation component and the Council shall make this accountability responsibility a condition of each initiative's continued funding;
  - c. Increase public awareness of the causes of delinquency and of strategies to reduce the problem;
  - d. Develop strategies to intervene and appropriately respond to and treat the needs of juveniles at risk of delinquency or of juveniles requiring alternatives to commitment as these needs are identified through appropriate risk assessment instruments;
  - e. Provide services to juveniles who are in need of treatment, counseling, or rehabilitation and to the families of those juveniles, including court-ordered parenting responsibility classes; and
  - f. Plan for the establishment of a permanent funding stream for delinquency prevention.
- (5) To meet the programming needs of delinquent and at-risk youth in smaller, rural counties, Juvenile Crime Prevention Councils shall examine the benefits of joint program development between counties within the same judicial district. If two or more counties determine that a multicounty initiative would be beneficial, they may establish a multicounty Juvenile Crime Prevention Council, with the membership consisting of the members from each county represented.
- (6) The Secretary shall develop a funding mechanism for programs that meet the standards as developed under the provisions of this Part. The Secretary shall ensure that the guidelines for the State/local partnership's funding process include the following requirements:
- a. Fund what works. -- Programs and projects that demonstrate progress, that have been proven to be effective, or that show promise, based on valid research should be supported. The partnership shall fund projects based on a 'menu' of types of services. In addition, new innovative projects shall be

2 preventing delinquency and recidivism and their proximal
3 risk factors and may be funded on a discretionary basis.
4 The merits of a program shall be determined on the basis of
5 known or reasonably projected outcomes. Bad practices,
6 poor outcomes, and programs that have proven to be
7 ineffective shall not be funded;

8       b. The money should follow the juvenile. -- The funding
9 process shall be designed in such a way that, whenever a
10 juvenile is being served by a program, funds are allocated to 11 that program for that juvenile and will follow that juvenile.
12 For example, if a juvenile is receiving delinquency
13 prevention services and is subsequently adjudicated
14 delinquent and committed to training school, the county
15 shall continue to fund the services for the juvenile, if still 16 appropriate to reduce the recidivism risk, and shall send the 17 program dollars to the training school;

18       c. Use a formula for the distribution of funds. -- A funding
19 formula shall be developed that ensures that even the 20 smallest counties will be able to provide the basic 21 prevention and alternatives services to juveniles in their
22 communities;

23       d. Allow and encourage local flexibility. -- A vital component
24 of the State/local partnership established by this section is
25 local flexibility to determine how best to allocate prevention
26 and alternatives funds; and

27       e. Combine resources. -- Counties shall be allowed and 28 encouraged to combine resources and services.

29 The Secretary shall adopt rules to implement the policy and intent summarized in 30 this section.

31 "§ 143B-551. Purchase of care or services from programs meeting State standards.

32 The Department of Juvenile Justice and any other appropriate State or local 33 agency may purchase care or services from public or private agencies providing 34 delinquency prevention programs or juvenile court services, including parenting
35 responsibility classes. The programs shall meet the State standards as authorized by 36 G.S. 143B-550. As institutional populations are reduced, the Department of Juvenile 37 Justice may divert State funds appropriated for institutional programs to purchase the 38 services pursuant to the provisions of the Executive Budget Act.

39 The Secretary of Juvenile Justice shall prepare an annual report on the 40 effectiveness and cost-benefit of the Department's programs, which shall include the 41 most current institutional populations of juveniles being served by the various 42 departments of State government which shall include comparative costs of all child-
43 serving agencies. Such report shall be submitted to the Governor, the General
44 Assembly, and the various State departments providing services to juveniles.

"Part 6. State Advisory Council on Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention.

"§ 143B-560. Findings.

16 Board shall support and encourage joint and collaborative special education planning
17 and programming at local levels to include local administrative units and the 18 programs and agencies of the Departments of Health and Human ~~Services~~ Services,

19                    arrangement.
- 20           (8)     Director. -- The director of the county department of social 21                    services in the county in which the juvenile resides or is found, or

- 29           (12)    Judicial district. -- Any district court district as established by G.S.
30                    7A-133.
- 31           (13)    Juvenile. -- A person who has not reached the person's eighteenth 32                    birthday and is not married, emancipated, or a member of the 35                    supervision, or discipline from the juvenile's parent, guardian, 36                    custodian, or caretaker; or who has been abandoned; or who is not 37                    provided necessary medical care; or who is not provided necessary 38                    remedial care; or who lives in an environment injurious to the 39                    juvenile's welfare; or who has been placed for care or adoption in 40                    violation of law. In determining whether a juvenile is a neglected 41                    juvenile, it is relevant whether that juvenile lives in a home where

"ARTICLE 2.

"Jurisdiction.

"§ 7B-200. Jurisdiction.

(a) The court has exclusive, original jurisdiction over any case involving a juvenile who is alleged to be abused, neglected, or dependent. This jurisdiction does not extend to cases involving adult defendants alleged to be guilty of abuse or neglect.

The court also has exclusive original jurisdiction of the following proceedings:

(1) Proceedings under the Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children set forth in Article 38 of this Chapter;

(2) Proceedings involving judicial consent for emergency surgical or medical treatment for a juvenile when the juvenile's parent, guardian, custodian, or other person standing in loco parentis refuses to consent for treatment to be rendered;

(3) Proceedings to determine whether a juvenile should be emancipated;

(4) Proceedings to terminate parental rights;

(5) Proceedings to review the placement of a juvenile in foster care pursuant to an agreement between the juvenile's parents or guardian and a county department of social services;

(6) Proceedings in which a person is alleged to have obstructed or interfered with an investigation required by G.S. 7B-302; and

(7) Proceedings involving consent for an abortion on an unemancipated minor pursuant to Article 1A, Part 2 of Chapter 90 of the General Statutes.

(b) The court shall have jurisdiction over the parent of a juvenile who has been adjudicated abused, neglected, or dependent, as provided by G.S. 7B-904, provided the parent has been properly served with summons pursuant to G.S. 7B-406.

"§ 7B-201. Retention of jurisdiction.

1 When the court obtains jurisdiction over a juvenile, jurisdiction shall continue until 2 terminated by order of the court, until the juvenile reaches the age of 18 years, or is 3 otherwise emancipated.

4 "ARTICLE 3.

5 "Screening of Abuse and Neglect Complaints.

6 "§ 7B-300. Protective services.

7 The director of the department of social services in each county of the State shall 8 establish protective services for juveniles alleged to be abused, neglected, or 9 dependent.

10 Protective services shall include the investigation and screening of complaints, 11 casework, or other counseling services to parents or other caretakers as provided by 12 the director to help the parents or other caretakers and the court to prevent abuse or 13 neglect, to improve the quality of child care, to be more adequate parents or 14 caretakers, and to preserve and stabilize family life.

15 The provisions of this Article shall also apply to child care facilities as defined in 16 G.S. 110-86.

17 "§ 7B-301. Duty to report abuse, neglect, dependency, or death due to maltreatment.

18 Any person or institution who has cause to suspect that any juvenile is abused, 19 neglected, or dependent, as defined by G.S. 7B-101, or has died as the result of 20 maltreatment, shall report the case of that juvenile to the director of the department
21 of social services in the county where the juvenile resides or is found. The report
22 may be made orally, by telephone, or in writing. The report shall include 23 information as is known to the person making it including the name and address of 24 the juvenile; the name and address of the juvenile's parent, guardian, or caretaker;
25 the age of the juvenile; the names and ages of other juveniles in the home; the 26 present whereabouts of the juvenile if not at the home address; the nature and extent
27 of any injury or condition resulting from abuse, neglect, or dependency; and any 28 other information which the person making the report believes might be helpful in 29 establishing the need for protective services or court intervention. If the report is 30 made orally or by telephone, the person making the report shall give the person's 31 name, address, and telephone number. Refusal of the person making the report to 32 give a name shall not preclude the department's investigation of the alleged abuse,
33 neglect, dependency, or death as a result of maltreatment.

34 Upon receipt of any report of sexual abuse of the juvenile in a child care facility,
35 the director shall notify the State Bureau of Investigation within 24 hours or on the 36 next workday. If sexual abuse in a child care facility is not alleged in the initial 37 report, but during the course of the investigation there is reason to suspect that sexual 38 abuse has occurred, the director shall immediately notify the State Bureau of 39 Investigation. Upon notification that sexual abuse may have occurred in a child care 40 facility, the State Bureau of Investigation may form a task force to investigate the 41 report.

42 "§ 7B-302. Investigation by director; access to confidential information; notification of 43 person making the report.

1 When a report of abuse, neglect, or dependency is received, the director of the
2 department of social services shall make a prompt and thorough investigation in
3 order to ascertain the facts of the case, the extent of the abuse or neglect, and the risk
4 of harm to the juvenile, in order to determine whether protective services should be
5 provided or the complaint filed as a petition. When the report alleges abuse, the 6 director shall immediately, but no later than 24 hours after receipt of the report,
7 initiate the investigation. When the report alleges neglect or dependency, the director
8 shall initiate the investigation within 72 hours following receipt of the report. The 9 investigation and evaluation shall include a visit to the place where the juvenile
10 resides. All information received by the department of social services, including the 11 identity of the reporter, shall be held in strictest confidence by the department.

12 When a report of suspected abuse, neglect, or dependency of a juvenile is received,
13 the director of the department of social services shall immediately ascertain if other 14 juveniles remain in the home, and, if so, initiate an investigation in order to 15 determine whether they require protective services or whether immediate removal of 16 the juveniles from the home is necessary for their protection.

17 If the investigation indicates that abuse, neglect, or dependency has occurred, the 18 director shall decide whether immediate removal of the juvenile or any other
19 juveniles in the home is necessary for their protection. If immediate removal does not 20 seem necessary, the director shall immediately provide or arrange for protective
21 services. If the parent or other caretaker refuses to accept the protective services
22 provided or arranged by the director, the director shall sign a complaint seeking to
23 invoke the jurisdiction of the court for the protection of the juvenile or juveniles.

24 If immediate removal seems necessary for the protection of the juvenile or other
25 juveniles in the home, the director shall sign a complaint which alleges the applicable
26 facts to invoke the jurisdiction of the court. Where the investigation shows that it is 27 warranted, a protective services worker may assume temporary custody of the 28 juvenile for the juvenile's protection pursuant to Article 5 of this Chapter.

29 In performing any duties related to the investigation of the complaint or the 30 provision or arrangement for protective services, the director may consult with any
31 public or private agencies or individuals, including the available State or local law
32 enforcement officers who shall assist in the investigation and evaluation of the 33 seriousness of any report of abuse, neglect, or dependency when requested by the 34 director. The director or the director's representative may make a written demand for 35 any information or reports, whether or not confidential, that may in the director's
36 opinion be relevant to the investigation of or the provision for protective services.
37 Upon the director's or the director's representative's request and unless protected by 38 the attorney-client privilege, any public or private agency or individual shall provide
39 access to and copies of this confidential information and these records to the extent
40 permitted by federal law and regulations. If a custodian of criminal investigative 41 information or records believes that release of the information will jeopardize the 42 right of the State to prosecute a defendant or the right of a defendant to receive a fair
43 trial or will undermine an ongoing or future investigation, it may seek an order from 44 a court of competent jurisdiction to prevent disclosure of the information. In such an

1 action, the custodian of the records shall have the burden of showing by a
2 preponderance of the evidence that disclosure of the information in question will
3 jeopardize the right of the State to prosecute a defendant or the right of a defendant
4 to receive a fair trial or will undermine an ongoing or future investigation. Actions
5 brought pursuant to this paragraph shall be set down for immediate hearing, and
6 subsequent proceedings in the actions shall be accorded priority by the trial and 7 appellate courts.

8 Within five working days after receipt of the report of abuse, neglect, or 9 dependency, the director shall give written notice to the person making the report,
10 unless requested by that person not to give notice, as to whether the report was 11 accepted for investigation and whether the report was referred to the appropriate
12 State or local law enforcement agency.

13 Within five working days after completion of the protective services investigation,
14 the director shall give subsequent written notice to the person making the report,
15 unless requested by that person not to give notice, as to whether there is a finding of 16 abuse, neglect, or dependency, whether the county department of social services is 17 taking action to protect the juvenile, and what action it is taking, including whether 18 or not a petition was filed. The person making the report shall be informed of 19 procedures necessary to request a review by the prosecutor of the director's decision
20 not to file a petition. A request for review by the prosecutor shall be made within five 21 working days of receipt of the second notification. The second notification shall 22 include notice that, if the person making the report is not satisfied with the director's
23 decision, the person may request review of the decision by the prosecutor within five
24 working days of receipt. The person making the report may waive the person's right
25 to this notification, and no notification is required if the person making the report
26 does not identify himself to the director.

27 "§ 7B-303. Interference with investigation.

28 (a) If any person obstructs or interferes with an investigation required by G.S. 7B-
29 302, the director may file a petition naming said person as respondent and requesting 30 an order directing the respondent to cease such obstruction or interference. The 31 petition shall contain the name and date of birth and address of the juvenile who is 32 the subject of the investigation, shall specifically describe the conduct alleged to 33 constitute obstruction of or interference with the investigation, and shall be verified.

34 (b) For purposes of this section, obstruction of or interference with an 35 investigation means refusing to disclose the whereabouts of the juvenile, refusing to 36 allow the director to have personal access to the juvenile, refusing to allow the 37 director to observe or interview the juvenile in private, refusing to allow the director
38 access to confidential information and records upon request pursuant to G.S. 7B-302,
39 refusing to allow the director to arrange for an evaluation of the juvenile by a
40 physician or other expert, or other conduct that makes it impossible for the director
41 to carry out the duty to investigate.

42 (c) Upon filing of the petition, the court shall schedule a hearing to be held not
43 less than five days after service of the petition and summons on the respondent.
44 Service of the petition and summons and notice of hearing shall be made as provided

1 by the Rules of Civil Procedure on the respondent; the juvenile's parent, guardian,
2 custodian, or caretaker; and any other person determined by the court to be a
3 necessary party. If at the hearing on the petition the court finds by clear, cogent, and
4 convincing evidence that the respondent, without lawful excuse, has obstructed or
5 interfered with an investigation required by G.S. 7B-302, the court may order the 6 respondent to cease such obstruction or interference. The burden of proof shall be
7 on the petitioner.

8 (d) If the director has reason to believe that the juvenile is in need of immediate 9 protection or assistance, the director shall so allege in the petition and may seek an
10 ex parte order from the court. If the court, from the verified petition and any inquiry
11 the court makes of the director, finds probable cause to believe both that the juvenile 12 is at risk of immediate harm and that the respondent is obstructing or interfering with 13 the director's ability to investigate to determine the juvenile's condition, the court
14 may enter an ex parte order directing the respondent to cease such obstruction or 15 interference. The order shall be limited to provisions necessary to enable the director
16 to conduct an investigation sufficient to determine whether the juvenile is in need of 17 immediate protection or assistance. Within 10 days after the entry of an ex parte
18 order under this subsection, a hearing shall be held to determine whether there is 19 good cause for the continuation of the order or the entry of a different order. An 20 order entered under this subsection shall be served on the respondent along with a
21 copy of the petition, summons, and notice of hearing.

22 (e) The director may be required at a hearing under this section to reveal the 23 identity of any person who made a report of suspected abuse, neglect, or dependency
24 as required by G.S. 7B-301.

25 (f) An order entered pursuant to this section is enforceable by civil or criminal
26 contempt as provided in Chapter 5A of the General Statutes.

27 "§ 7B-304. Evaluation for court.

28 In all cases in which a petition is filed, the director of the department of social
29 services shall prepare a report for the court containing a home placement plan and a
30 treatment plan deemed by the director to be appropriate to the needs of the juvenile.
31 The report shall be available to the court immediately following the adjudicatory
32 hearing.

33 "§ 7B-305. Request for review by prosecutor.

34 The person making the report shall have five working days, from receipt of the 35 decision of the director of the department of social services not to petition the court,
36 to notify the prosecutor that the person is requesting a review. The prosecutor shall 37 notify the person making the report and the director of the time and place for the 38 review, and the director shall immediately transmit to the prosecutor a copy of the 39 investigation report.

40 "§ 7B-306. Review by prosecutor.

41 The prosecutor shall review the director's determination that a petition should not 42 be filed within 20 days after the person making the report is notified. The review
43 shall include conferences with the person making the report, the protective services
44 worker, the juvenile, if practicable, and other persons known to have pertinent

1 information about the juvenile or the juvenile's family. At the conclusion of the
2 conferences, the prosecutor may affirm the decision made by the director, may
3 request the appropriate local law enforcement agency to investigate the allegations, or
4 may direct the director to file a petition.

5 "§ 7B-307. Duty of director to report evidence of abuse, neglect; investigation by local
6 law enforcement; notification of Department of Health and Human Services and State
7 Bureau of Investigation.

8 (a) If the director finds evidence that a juvenile may have been abused as defined
9 by G.S. 7B-101, the director shall make an immediate oral and subsequent written 10 report of the findings to the district attorney or the district attorney's designee and 11 the appropriate local law enforcement agency within 48 hours after receipt of the 12 report. The local law enforcement agency shall immediately, but no later than 48
13 hours after receipt of the information, initiate and coordinate a criminal investigation
14 with the protective services investigation being conducted by the county department
15 of social services. Upon completion of the investigation, the district attorney shall 16 determine whether criminal prosecution is appropriate and may request the director
17 or the director's designee to appear before a magistrate.

18 If the director receives information that a juvenile may have been physically
19 harmed in violation of any criminal statute by any person other than the juvenile's
20 parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker, the director shall make an immediate oral 21 and subsequent written report of that information to the district attorney or the
22 district attorney's designee and to the appropriate local law enforcement agency
23 within 48 hours after receipt of the information. The local law enforcement agency
24 shall immediately, but no later than 48 hours after receipt of the information, initiate
25 a criminal investigation. Upon completion of the investigation, the district attorney
26 shall determine whether criminal prosecution is appropriate.

27 If the report received pursuant to G.S. 7B-301 involves abuse or neglect of a
28 juvenile in child care, the director shall notify the Department of Health and Human 29 Services within 24 hours or on the next working day of receipt of the report.

30 (b) If the director finds evidence that a juvenile has been abused or neglected as
31 defined by G.S. 7B-101 in a child care facility, the director shall immediately so
32 notify the Department of Health and Human Services and, in the case of sexual
33 abuse, the State Bureau of Investigation, in such a way as does not violate the law
34 guaranteeing the confidentiality of the records of the department of social services.

35 (c) Upon completion of the investigation, the director shall give the department
36 written notification of the results of the investigation required by G.S. 7B-302. Upon
37 completion of an investigation of sexual abuse in a child care facility, the director
38 shall also make written notification of the results of the investigation to the State
39 Bureau of Investigation.

40 The director of the department of social services shall submit a report of alleged 41 abuse, neglect, or dependency cases or child fatalities that are the result of alleged 42 maltreatment to the central registry under the policies adopted by the Social Services
43 Commission.

44 "§ 7B-308. Authority of medical professionals in abuse cases.

(a) Any physician or administrator of a hospital, clinic, or other medical facility to which a suspected abused juvenile is brought for medical diagnosis or treatment shall have the right, when authorized by the chief district court judge of the district or the judge's designee, to retain physical custody of the juvenile in the facility when the physician who examines the juvenile certifies in writing that the juvenile who is suspected of being abused should remain for medical treatment or that, according to the juvenile's medical evaluation, it is unsafe for the juvenile to return to the juvenile's parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker. This written certification must be signed by the certifying physician and must include the time and date that the judicial authority to retain custody is given. Copies of the written certification must be appended to the juvenile's medical and judicial records and another copy must be given to the juvenile's parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker. The right to retain custody in the facility shall exist for up to 12 hours from the time and date contained in the written certification.

(b) Immediately upon receipt of judicial authority to retain custody, the physician, the administrator, or that person's designee shall so notify the director of social services for the county in which the facility is located. The director shall treat this notification as a report of suspected abuse and shall immediately begin an investigation of the case.

(1) If the investigation reveals (i) that it is the opinion of the certifying physician that the juvenile is in need of medical treatment to cure or alleviate physical distress, or to prevent the juvenile from suffering serious physical injury, and (ii) that it is the opinion of the physician that the juvenile should for these reasons remain in the custody of the facility for 12 hours, but (iii) that the juvenile's parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker cannot be reached or, upon request, will not consent to the treatment within the facility, the director shall within the initial 12-hour period file a juvenile petition alleging abuse and setting forth supporting allegations and shall seek a nonsecure custody order. A petition filed and a nonsecure custody order obtained in accordance with this subdivision shall come on for hearing under the regular provisions of this Subchapter unless the director and the certifying physician together voluntarily dismiss the petition.

(2) In all cases except those described in subdivision (1) above, the director shall conduct the investigation and may initiate juvenile proceedings and take all other steps authorized by the regular provisions of this Subchapter. If the director decides not to file a petition, the physician, the administrator, or that person's designee may ask the prosecutor to review this decision according to the provisions of G.S. 7B-305 and G.S. 7B-306.

(c) If, upon hearing, the court determines that the juvenile is found in a county other than the county of legal residence, in accord with G.S. 153A-257, the juvenile

1 may be transferred, in accord with G.S. 7B-903(2), to the custody of the department
2 of social services in the county of residence.

3 (d) If the court, upon inquiry, determines that the medical treatment rendered was 4 necessary and appropriate, the cost of that treatment may be charged to the parents,
5 guardian, custodian, or caretaker, or, if the parents are unable to pay, to the county
6 of residence in accordance with G.S. 7B-903 and G.S. 7B-904.

7 (e) Except as otherwise provided, a petition begun under this section shall 8 proceed in like manner with petitions begun under G.S. 7B-302.

9 (f) The procedures in this section are in addition to, and not in derogation of, the 10 abuse and neglect reporting provisions of G.S. 7B-301 and the temporary custody
11 provisions of G.S. 7B-500. Nothing in this section shall preclude a physician or 12 administrator and a director of social services from following the procedures of G.S.
13 7B-301 and G.S. 7B-500 whenever these procedures are more appropriate to the 14 juvenile's circumstances.

15 "§ 7B-309. Immunity of persons reporting and cooperating in an investigation.

16 Anyone who makes a report pursuant to this Article, cooperates with the county
17 department of social services in a protective services inquiry or investigation, testifies
18 in any judicial proceeding resulting from a protective services report or investigation, 19 or otherwise participates in the program authorized by this Article, is immune from 20 any civil or criminal liability that might otherwise be incurred or imposed for that 21 action provided that the person was acting in good faith. In any proceeding involving 22 liability, good faith is presumed.

23 "§ 7B-310. Privileges not grounds for failing to report or for excluding evidence.

24 No privilege shall be grounds for any person or institution failing to report that a
25 juvenile may have been abused, neglected, or dependent, even if the knowledge or
26 suspicion is acquired in an official professional capacity, except when the knowledge
27 or suspicion is gained by an attorney from that attorney's client during representation
28 only in the abuse, neglect, or dependency case. No privilege, except the attorney-
29 client privilege, shall be grounds for excluding evidence of abuse, neglect, or 30 dependency in any judicial proceeding (civil, criminal, or juvenile) in which a
31 juvenile's abuse, neglect, or dependency is in issue nor in any judicial proceeding
32 resulting from a report submitted under this Article, both as this privilege relates to 33 the competency of the witness and to the exclusion of confidential communications.

34 "§ 7B-311. Central registry.

35 The Department of Health and Human Services shall maintain a central registry of 36 abuse, neglect, and dependency cases and child fatalities that are the result of alleged 37 maltreatment that are reported under this Article in order to compile data for 38 appropriate study of the extent of abuse and neglect within the State and to identify 39 repeated abuses of the same juvenile or of other juveniles in the same family. This 40 data shall be furnished by county directors of social services to the Department of 41 Health and Human Services and shall be confidential, subject to policies adopted by 42 the Social Services Commission providing for its use for study and research and for 43 other appropriate disclosure. Data shall not be used at any hearing or court
44 proceeding unless based upon a final judgment of a court of law.

"ARTICLE 4."Venue; Petitions."§ 7B-400. Venue; pleading.

A proceeding in which a juvenile is alleged to be abused, neglected, or dependent may be commenced in the district in which the juvenile resides or is present. When a proceeding is commenced in a district other than that of the juvenile's residence, the court, on its own motion or upon motion of any party, may transfer the proceeding to the court in the district where the juvenile resides. A transfer under this subsection may be made at any time.

"§ 7B-401. Pleading and process.

The pleading in an abuse, neglect, or dependency action is the petition. The process in an abuse, neglect, or dependency action is the summons.

"§ 7B-402. Petition.

(a) The petition shall contain the name, date of birth, address of the juvenile, the name and last known address of the juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian and shall allege the facts which invoke jurisdiction over the juvenile. The petition may contain information on more than one juvenile when the juveniles are from the same home and are before the court for the same reason.

Sufficient copies of the petition shall be prepared so that copies will be available for each juvenile, each parent if living separate and apart, the guardian ad litem, the social worker, and any person determined by the court to be a necessary party.

"§ 7B-403. Receipt of reports; filing of petition.

(a) All reports concerning a juvenile alleged to be abused, neglected, or dependent shall be referred to the director of the department of social services for screening. Thereafter, if it is determined by the director that a report should be filed as a petition, the petition shall be drawn by the director, verified before an official authorized to administer oaths, and filed by the clerk, recording the date of filing.

(b) A decision of the director of social services not to file a report as a petition shall be reviewed by the prosecutor if review is requested pursuant to G.S. 7B-305.

"§ 7B-404. Immediate need for petition when clerk's office is closed.

(a) When the office of the clerk is closed, a magistrate may be authorized by the chief district court judge to draw, verify, and issue petitions as follows:

(1) When the director of the department of social services requests a petition alleging a juvenile to be abused, neglected, or dependent,
or

(2) When the director of the department of social services requests a petition alleging the obstruction of or interference with an investigation required by G.S. 7B-302.

(b) The authority of the magistrate under this section is limited to emergency situations when a petition is required in order to obtain a nonsecure custody order or an order under G.S. 7B-303. Any petition issued under this section shall be delivered to the clerk's office for processing as soon as that office is open for business.

"§ 7B-405. Commencement of action.

1 An action is commenced by the filing of a petition in the clerk's office when that
2 office is open, or by the issuance of a juvenile petition by a magistrate when the
3 clerk's office is closed, which issuance shall constitute filing.

4 "§ 7B-406. Issuance of summons.

5 (a) Immediately after a petition has been filed alleging that a juvenile is abused,
6 neglected, or dependent, the clerk shall issue a summons to the parent, guardian,
7 custodian, or caretaker requiring them to appear for a hearing at the time and place
8 stated in the summons. A copy of the petition shall be attached to each summons.

9 (b) A summons shall be on a printed form supplied by the Administrative Office
10 of the Courts and shall include:

11 (1) Notice of the nature of the proceeding;

12 (2) Notice of any right to counsel and information about how to seek 13 the appointment of counsel prior to a hearing;

14 (3) Notice that, if the court determines at the hearing that the 15 allegations of the petition are true, the court will conduct a
16 dispositional hearing to consider the needs of the juvenile and 17 enter an order designed to meet those needs and the objectives of 18 the State; and

19 (4) Notice that the dispositional order or a subsequent order:

20 a. May remove the juvenile from the custody of the parent,
21 guardian, or custodian.

22 b. May require that the juvenile receive medical, psychiatric,
23 psychological, or other treatment and that the parent
24 participate in the treatment.

25 c. May require the parent to undergo psychiatric,
26 psychological, or other treatment or counseling for the 27 purpose of remedying the behaviors or conditions that are 28 alleged in the petition or that contributed to the removal of 29 the juvenile from the custody of the parent.

30 d. May order the parent to pay for treatment that is ordered
31 for the juvenile or the parent.

32 (c) The summons shall advise the parent that upon service, jurisdiction over the 33 parent is obtained and that failure to comply with any order of the court pursuant to 34 G.S. 7B-904 may cause the court to issue a show cause order for contempt.

35 (d) A summons shall be directed to the person summoned to appear and shall be
36 delivered to any person authorized to serve process.

37 "§ 7B-407. Service of summons.

38 The summons shall be personally served upon the parent, guardian, custodian, or 39 caretaker, and the juvenile or counsel or guardian ad litem, not less than five days
40 prior to the date of the scheduled hearing. The time for service may be waived in the 41 discretion of the court.

42 If the parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker entitled to receive a summons
43 cannot be found by a diligent effort, the court may authorize service of the summons

1 and petition by mail or by publication. The cost of the service by publication shall be
2 advanced by the petitioner and may be charged as court costs as the court may direct.

3 If the parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker is personally served as herein
4 provided and fails without reasonable cause to appear and to bring the juvenile 5 before the court, the parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker may be proceeded 6 against as for contempt of court.

7 "ARTICLE 5.

8 "Temporary Custody; Nonsecure Custody; Custody Hearings.

9 "§ 7B-500. Taking a juvenile into temporary custody.

10 Temporary custody means the taking of physical custody and providing personal
11 care and supervision until a court order for nonsecure custody can be obtained. A 12 juvenile may be taken into temporary custody without a court order by a law
13 enforcement officer or a department of social services worker if there are reasonable 14 grounds to believe that the juvenile is abused, neglected, or dependent and that the 15 juvenile would be injured or could not be taken into custody if it were first necessary
16 to obtain a court order. If a department of social services worker takes a juvenile 17 into temporary custody under this section, the worker may arrange for the placement, 18 care, supervision, and transportation of the juvenile.

19 "§ 7B-501. Duties of person taking juvenile into temporary custody.

20 (a) A person who takes a juvenile into custody without a court order under G.S.
21 7B-500 shall proceed as follows:

22 (1) Notify the juvenile's parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker that 23 the juvenile has been taken into temporary custody and advise the 24 parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker of the right to be present 25 with the juvenile until a determination is made as to the need for 26 nonsecure custody. Failure to notify the parent that the juvenile is 27 in custody shall not be grounds for release of the juvenile.

28 (2) Release the juvenile to the juvenile's parent, guardian, custodian,
29 or caretaker if the person having the juvenile in temporary custody
30 decides that continued custody is unnecessary.

31 (3) The person having temporary custody shall communicate with the 32 director of the department of social services who shall consider 33 prehearing diversion. If the decision is made to file a petition, the 34 director shall contact the judge or person delegated authority 35 pursuant to G.S. 7B-502 for a determination of the need for 36 continued custody.

37 (b) A juvenile taken into temporary custody under this Article shall not be held
38 for more than 12 hours, or for more than 24 hours if any of the 12 hours falls on a 39 Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, unless:

40 (1) A petition or motion for review has been filed by the director of 41 the department of social services, and

42 (2) An order for nonsecure custody has been entered by the court.

43 "§ 7B-502. Authority to issue custody orders; delegation.

1 In the case of any juvenile alleged to be within the jurisdiction of the court, the 2 court may order that the juvenile be placed in nonsecure custody pursuant to criteria
3 set out in G.S. 7B-503 when custody of the juvenile is necessary.

4 Any district court judge shall have the authority to issue nonsecure custody orders
5 pursuant to G.S. 7B-503. The chief district court judge may delegate the court's 6 authority to persons other than district court judges by administrative order which 7 shall be filed in the office of the clerk of superior court. The administrative order
8 shall specify which persons shall be contacted for approval of a nonsecure custody
9 order pursuant to G.S. 7B-503.

10 "§ 7B-503. Criteria for nonsecure custody.

11 When a request is made for nonsecure custody, the court shall first consider 12 release of the juvenile to the juvenile's parent, relative, guardian, custodian, or other 13 responsible adult. An order for nonsecure custody shall be made only when there is 14 a reasonable factual basis to believe the matters alleged in the petition are true, and

15 (1) The juvenile has been abandoned; or

16 (2) The juvenile has suffered physical injury or sexual abuse; or

17 (3) The juvenile is exposed to a substantial risk of physical injury or 18 sexual abuse because the parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker
19 has created the conditions likely to cause injury or abuse or has 20 failed to provide, or is unable to provide, adequate supervision or 21 protection; or

22 (4) The juvenile is in need of medical treatment to cure, alleviate, or 23 prevent suffering serious physical harm which may result in death,
24 disfigurement, or substantial impairment of bodily functions, and
25 the juvenile's parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker is unwilling
26 or unable to provide or consent to the medical treatment; or

27 (5) The parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker consents to the 28 nonsecure custody order; or

29 (6) The juvenile is a runaway and consents to nonsecure custody.

30 A juvenile alleged to be abused, neglected, or dependent shall be placed in nonsecure
31 custody only when there is a reasonable factual basis to believe that there is no other
32 reasonable means available to protect the juvenile. In no case shall a juvenile alleged 33 to be abused, neglected, or dependent be placed in secure custody.

34 "§ 7B-504. Order for nonsecure custody.

35 The custody order shall be in writing and shall direct a law enforcement officer or 36 other authorized person to assume custody of the juvenile and to make due return on 37 the order. A copy of the order shall be given to the juvenile's parent, guardian,
38 custodian, or caretaker by the official executing the order.

39 An officer receiving an order for custody which is complete and regular on its face
40 may execute it in accordance with its terms. The officer is not required to inquire
41 into the regularity or continued validity of the order and shall not incur criminal or 42 civil liability for its due service.

43 "§ 7B-505. Place of nonsecure custody.

1 A juvenile meeting the criteria set out in G.S. 7B-503 may be placed in nonsecure
2 custody with the department of social services or a person designated in the order for
3 temporary residential placement in:

4 (1) A licensed foster home or a home otherwise authorized by law to 5 provide such care; or

6 (2) A facility operated by the department of social services; or

7 (3) Any other home or facility approved by the court and designated
8 in the order.

9 In placing a juvenile in nonsecure custody under this section, the court shall first
10 consider whether a relative of the juvenile is willing and able to provide proper care
11 and supervision of the juvenile in a safe home. If the court finds that the relative is 12 willing and able to provide proper care and supervision in a safe home, then the 13 court shall order placement of the juvenile with the relative. Prior to placement of a
14 juvenile with a relative outside of this State, the placement must be in accordance 15 with the Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children, Article 38 of this Chapter.
16 "§ 7B-506. Hearing to determine need for continued nonsecure custody.

17 (a) No juvenile shall be held under a nonsecure custody order for more than 18 seven calendar days without a hearing on the merits or a hearing to determine the 19 need for continued custody. A hearing on nonsecure custody conducted under this 20 subsection may be continued for up to 10 business days with the consent of the 21 juvenile's parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker and, if appointed, the juvenile's
22 guardian ad litem. In addition, the court may require the consent of additional parties
23 or may schedule the hearing on custody despite a party's consent to a continuance. In 24 every case in which an order has been entered by an official exercising authority
25 delegated pursuant to G.S. 7B-502, a hearing to determine the need for continued
26 custody shall be conducted on the day of the next regularly scheduled session of 27 district court in the city or county where the order was entered if such session
28 precedes the expiration of the applicable time period set forth in this subsection:
29 Provided, that if such session does not precede the expiration of the time period, the 30 hearing may be conducted at another regularly scheduled session of district court in 31 the district where the order was entered.

32 (b) At a hearing to determine the need for continued custody, the court shall 33 receive testimony and shall allow the guardian ad litem, or juvenile, and the 34 juvenile's parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker an opportunity to introduce 35 evidence, to be heard in the person's own behalf, and to examine witnesses. The 36 State shall bear the burden at every stage of the proceedings to provide clear and 37 convincing evidence that the juvenile's placement in custody is necessary. The court
38 shall not be bound by the usual rules of evidence at such hearings.

39 (c) The court shall be bound by criteria set forth in G.S. 7B-503 in determining
40 whether continued custody is warranted.

41 (d) If the court determines that the juvenile meets the criteria in G.S. 7B-503 and
42 should continue in custody, the court shall issue an order to that effect. The order
43 shall be in writing with appropriate findings of fact. The findings of fact shall include

1 the evidence relied upon in reaching the decision and the purposes which continued
2 custody is to achieve.

3 (e) If the court orders at the hearing required in subsection (a) of this section that
4 the juvenile remain in custody, a subsequent hearing on continued custody shall be
5 held within seven business days of that hearing, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and
6 legal holidays, and pending a hearing on the merits, hearings thereafter shall be held
7 at intervals of no more than 30 calendar days.

8 (f) Hearings conducted under subsection (e) of this section may be waived only 9 with the consent of the juvenile's parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker, and, if
10 appointed, the juvenile's guardian ad litem.

11 The court may require the consent of additional parties or schedule a hearing
12 despite a party's consent to waiver.

13 (g) Any order authorizing the continued custody of a juvenile shall include
14 findings as to whether reasonable efforts have been made to prevent or eliminate the 15 need for placement of the juvenile in custody and may provide for services or other
16 efforts aimed at returning the juvenile promptly to a safe home. A finding that 17 reasonable efforts have not been made shall not preclude the entry of an order
18 authorizing continued custody when the court finds that continued custody is 19 necessary for the protection of the juvenile. Where efforts to prevent the need for the 20 juvenile's placement were precluded by an immediate threat of harm to the juvenile,
21 the court may find that the placement of the juvenile in the absence of such efforts
22 was reasonable. If the court finds through written findings of fact that efforts to 23 eliminate the need for placement of the juvenile in custody clearly would be futile or
24 would be inconsistent with the juvenile's safety and need for a safe, permanent home
25 within a reasonable period of time, then the court shall specify in its order that
26 reunification efforts are not required or order that reunification efforts cease.

27 (h) At each hearing to determine the need for continued custody, the court shall:

28 (1) Inquire as to the identity and location of any missing parent. The 29 court shall include findings as to the efforts undertaken to locate
30 the missing parent and to serve that parent. The order may provide 31 for specific efforts aimed at determining the identity and location
32 of any missing parent;

33 (2) Inquire as to whether a relative of the juvenile is willing and able
34 to provide proper care and supervision of the juvenile in a safe
35 home. If the court finds that the relative is willing and able to 36 provide proper care and supervision in a safe home, then the court
37 shall order temporary placement of the juvenile with the relative.
38 Prior to placement of a juvenile with a relative outside of this
39 State, the placement must be in accordance with the Interstate 40 Compact on the Placement of Children set forth in Article 38 of 41 this Chapter; and

42 (3) Inquire as to whether there are other juveniles remaining in the 43 home from which the juvenile was removed and, if there are,
44 inquire as to the specific findings of the investigation conducted under G.S. 7B-302 and any actions taken or services provided by the director for the protection of the other juveniles.

"§ 7B-507. Telephonic communication authorized.

All communications, notices, orders, authorizations, and requests authorized or required by G.S. 7B-501, 7B-503, and 7B-504 may be made by telephone when other means of communication are impractical. All written orders pursuant to telephonic communication shall bear the name and the title of the person communicating by telephone, the signature and the title of the official entering the order, and the hour and the date of the authorization.

"ARTICLE 6.

"Basic Rights.

"§ 7B-600. Appointment of guardian.

In any case when no parent appears in a hearing with the juvenile or when the court finds it would be in the best interests of the juvenile, the court may appoint a guardian of the person for the juvenile. The guardian shall operate under the supervision of the court with or without bond and shall file only such reports as the court shall require. The guardian shall have the care, custody, and control of the juvenile or may arrange a suitable placement for the juvenile and may represent the juvenile in legal actions before any court. The guardian may consent to certain actions on the part of the juvenile in place of the parent including (i) marriage, (ii) enlisting in the armed forces, and (iii) enrollment in school. The guardian may also consent to any necessary remedial, psychological, medical, or surgical treatment for the juvenile. The authority of the guardian shall continue until the guardianship is terminated by court order, until the juvenile is emancipated pursuant to Article 35 of Subchapter IV of this Chapter, or until the juvenile reaches the age of majority.

"§ 7B-601. Appointment and duties of guardian ad litem.

(a) When in a petition a juvenile is alleged to be abused or neglected, the court shall appoint a guardian ad litem to represent the juvenile. When a juvenile is alleged to be dependent, the court may appoint a guardian ad litem to represent the juvenile. The guardian ad litem and attorney advocate have standing to represent the juvenile in all actions under this Subchapter where they have been appointed. The appointment shall be made pursuant to the program established by Article 12 of this Chapter unless representation is otherwise provided legally made. The appointment shall terminate at the end of two years. The court may reappoint the guardian ad litem pursuant to a showing of good cause upon motion of any party, including the guardian ad litem, or of the court. In every case where a nonattorney is appointed as a guardian ad litem, an attorney shall be appointed in the case in order to assure protection of the juvenile's legal rights through the dispositional phase of the proceedings, and after disposition when necessary to further the best interests of the juvenile. The duties of the guardian ad litem program shall be to make an investigation to determine the facts, the needs of the juvenile, and the available resources within the family and community to meet those needs; to facilitate, when appropriate, the settlement of disputed issues; to offer evidence and examine witnesses at adjudication; to explore options with the court at the dispositional

1 hearing; and to protect and promote the best interests of the juvenile until formally
2 relieved of the responsibility by the court.

3 (b) The court may order the department of social services or the guardian ad
4 litem to conduct follow-up investigations to ensure that the orders of the court are
5 being properly executed and to report to the court when the needs of the juvenile are
6 not being met. The court may also authorize the guardian ad litem to accompany the 7 juvenile to court in any criminal action wherein the juvenile may be called on to
8 testify in a matter relating to abuse.

9 (c) The court may grant the guardian ad litem the authority to demand any
10 information or reports, whether or not confidential, that may in the guardian ad
11 litem's opinion be relevant to the case. Neither the physician-patient privilege nor the 12 husband-wife privilege may be invoked to prevent the guardian ad litem and the 13 court from obtaining such information. The confidentiality of the information or 14 reports shall be respected by the guardian ad litem and no disclosure of any 15 information or reports shall be made to anyone except by order of the court or unless 16 otherwise provided by law.

17 "§ 7B-602. Parent's right to counsel.

18 In cases where the juvenile petition alleges that a juvenile is abused, neglected, or 19 dependent, the parent has the right to counsel and to appointed counsel in cases of 20 indigency unless the parent waives the right. In no case may the court appoint a
21 county attorney, prosecutor, or public defender.

22 "§ 7B-603. Payment of court-appointed attorney or guardian ad litem.

23 An attorney or guardian ad litem appointed pursuant to G.S. 7B-601 or G.S. 7B-
24 602 pursuant to any other provision of the Juvenile Code shall be paid a reasonable
25 fee fixed by the court in the same manner as fees for attorneys appointed in cases of 26 indigency or by direct engagement for specialized guardian ad litem services through 27 the Administrative Office of the Courts. The court may require payment of the 28 attorney or guardian ad litem fee from a person other than the juvenile as provided
29 in G.S. 7A-450.1, 7A-450.2, and 7A-450.3. In no event shall the parent or guardian be 30 required to pay the fees for a court-appointed attorney or guardian ad litem in an 31 abuse, neglect, or dependency proceeding unless the juvenile has been adjudicated to 32 be abused, neglected, or dependent, or, in a proceeding to terminate parental rights,
33 unless the parent's rights have been terminated. A person who does not comply with 34 the court's order of payment may be punished for contempt as provided in G.S. 5A-
35 21.

36 "ARTICLE 7.

37 "Discovery.

38 "§ 7B-700. Regulation of discovery; protective orders.

39 (a) Upon written motion of a party and a finding of good cause, the court may at 40 any time order that discovery be denied, restricted, or deferred.

41 (b) The court may permit a party seeking relief under subsection (a) of this section
42 to submit supporting affidavits or statements to the court for in camera inspection. If,
43 thereafter, the court enters an order granting relief under subsection (a) of this

1 section, the material submitted in camera must be available to the Court of Appeals
2 in the event of an appeal.

3 "ARTICLE 8.

4 "Hearing Procedures.

5 "§ 7B-800. Amendment of petition.

6 The court may permit a petition to be amended when the amendment does not 7 change the nature of the offense alleged or the conditions upon which the petition is 8 based.

9 "§ 7B-801. Adjudicatory hearing.

10 The adjudicatory hearing shall be held in the district at such time and place as the 11 chief district court judge shall designate. The court may exclude the public from the 12 hearing unless the juvenile moves that the hearing be open, which motion shall be 13 granted.

14 "§ 7B-802. Conduct of hearing.

15 The adjudicatory hearing shall be a judicial process designed to adjudicate the 16 existence or nonexistence of any of the conditions alleged in a petition. In the 17 adjudicatory hearing, the court shall protect the following rights of the juvenile and 18 the juvenile's parent to assure due process of law.

19 "§ 7B-803. Continuances.

20 The court may, for good cause, continue the hearing for as long as is reasonably
21 required to receive additional evidence, reports, or assessments that the court has 22 requested, or other information needed in the best interests of the juvenile and to
23 allow for a reasonable time for the parties to conduct expeditious discovery.
24 Otherwise, continuances shall be granted only in extraordinary circumstances when 25 necessary for the proper administration of justice or in the best interests of the
26 juvenile.

27 "§ 7B-804. Rules of evidence.

28 Where the juvenile is alleged to be abused, neglected, or dependent, the rules of 29 evidence in civil cases shall apply.

30 "§ 7B-805. Quantum of proof in adjudicatory hearing.

31 The allegations in a petition alleging abuse, neglect, or dependence shall be proved
32 by clear and convincing evidence.

33 "§ 7B-806. Record of proceedings.

34 All adjudicatory and dispositional hearings shall be recorded by stenographic notes
35 or by electronic or mechanical means. Records shall be reduced to a written 36 transcript only when timely notice of appeal has been given. The court may order
37 that other hearings be recorded.

38 "§ 7B-807. Adjudication.

39 If the court finds that the allegations in the petition have been proven by clear and 40 convincing evidence, the court shall so state. If the court finds that the allegations 41 have not been proven, the court shall dismiss the petition with prejudice and the 42 juvenile shall be released from nonsecure custody.

43 "§ 7B-808. Predisposition investigation and report.

1   The court shall proceed to the dispositional hearing upon receipt of sufficient
2 social, medical, psychiatric, psychological, and educational information. No
3 predisposition report shall be submitted to or considered by the court prior to the
4 completion of the adjudicatory hearing. The court shall permit the guardian ad litem
5 or juvenile to inspect any predisposition report to be considered by the court in
6 making the disposition unless the court determines that disclosure would seriously
7 harm the juvenile's treatment or rehabilitation or would violate a promise of 8 confidentiality. Opportunity to offer evidence in rebuttal shall be afforded the 9 guardian ad litem or juvenile, and the juvenile's parent, guardian, custodian, or
10 caretaker at the dispositional hearing. The court may order counsel not to disclose
11 parts of the report to the guardian ad litem or juvenile, or the juvenile's parent,
12 guardian, custodian, or caretaker if the court finds that disclosure would seriously
13 harm the treatment or rehabilitation of the juvenile or would violate a promise of 14 confidentiality given to a source of information.

15                               "ARTICLE 9.

16                               "Dispositions.

17   "§ 7B-900. Purpose.

18   The purpose of dispositions in juvenile actions is to design an appropriate plan to 19 meet the needs of the juvenile and to achieve the objectives of the State in exercising
20 jurisdiction. If possible, the initial approach should involve working with the juvenile
21 and the juvenile's family in their own home so that the appropriate community
22 resources may be involved in care, supervision, and treatment according to the needs
23 of the juvenile. Thus, the court should arrange for appropriate community-level
24 services to be provided to the juvenile and the juvenile's family in order to strengthen
25 the home situation.

26   "§ 7B-901. Dispositional hearing.

27   The dispositional hearing may be informal and the court may consider written 28 reports or other evidence concerning the needs of the juvenile. The juvenile and the 29 juvenile's parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker shall have an opportunity to 30 present evidence, and they may advise the court concerning the disposition they
31 believe to be in the best interests of the juvenile. The court may exclude the public
32 from the hearing unless the juvenile moves that the hearing be open, which motion
33 shall be granted.

34   "§ 7B-902. Consent judgment in abuse, neglect, or dependency proceeding.

35   Nothing in this Article precludes the court from entering a consent order or 36 judgment on a petition for abuse, neglect, or dependency when all parties are present,
37 the juvenile is represented by counsel, and all other parties are either represented by 38 counsel or have waived counsel, and sufficient findings of fact are made by the court.

39   "§ 7B-903. Dispositional alternatives for abused, neglected, or dependent juvenile.

40   The following alternatives for disposition shall be available to any court exercising
41 jurisdiction, and the court may combine any of the applicable alternatives when the 42 court finds the disposition to be in the best interests of the juvenile:

- 43               (1)   The court may dismiss the case or continue the case in order to 44                       allow the parent or others to take appropriate action.

- 1           (2)   In the case of any juvenile who needs more adequate care or
2           supervision or who needs placement, the court may:
3           a.   Require that the juvenile be supervised in the juvenile's own
4           home by the department of social services in the juvenile's
5           county, or by other personnel as may be available to the
6           court, subject to conditions applicable to the parent,
7           guardian, custodian, or caretaker as the court may specify;
8           or
9           b.   Place the juvenile in the custody of a parent, relative,
10          private agency offering placement services, or some other
11          suitable person; or
12          c.   Place the juvenile in the custody of the department of social 13          services in the county of the juvenile's residence, or in the 14          case of a juvenile who has legal residence outside the State,
15          in the physical custody of the department of social services
16          in the county where the juvenile is found so that agency
17          may return the juvenile to the responsible authorities in the 18          juvenile's home state. The director may, unless otherwise
19          ordered by the court, arrange for, provide, or consent to,
20          needed routine or emergency medical or surgical care or
21          treatment. In the case where the parent is unknown,
22          unavailable, or unable to act on behalf of the juvenile, the 23          director may, unless otherwise ordered by the court, arrange
24          for, provide, or consent to any psychiatric, psychological,
25          educational, or other remedial evaluations or treatment for 26          the juvenile placed by a court or the court's designee in the 27          custody or physical custody of a county department of social 28          services under the authority of this or any other Chapter of 29          the General Statutes. Prior to exercising this authority, the 30          director shall make reasonable efforts to obtain consent from 31          a parent or guardian of the affected juvenile. If the director
32          cannot obtain such consent, the director shall promptly
33          notify the parent or guardian that care or treatment has 34          been provided and shall give the parent frequent status
35          reports on the circumstances of the juvenile. Upon request
36          of a parent or guardian of the affected juvenile, the results
37          or records of the aforementioned evaluations, findings, or
38          treatment shall be made available to such parent or guardian
39          by the director unless prohibited by G.S. 122C-53(d).
40        (3)   In any case, the court may order that the juvenile be examined by 41        a physician, psychiatrist, psychologist, or other qualified expert as 42        may be needed for the court to determine the needs of the
43        juvenile;

1           a.   Upon completion of the examination, the court shall
2           conduct a hearing to determine whether the juvenile is in
3           need of medical, surgical, psychiatric, psychological, or other
4           treatment and who should pay the cost of the treatment. The 5           county manager, or such person who shall be designated by
6           the chairman of the county commissioners, of the juvenile's
7           residence shall be notified of the hearing, and allowed to be
8           heard. If the court finds the juvenile to be in need of 9           medical, surgical, psychiatric, psychological, or other
10          treatment, the court shall permit the parent or other
11          responsible persons to arrange for treatment. If the parent
12          declines or is unable to make necessary arrangements, the 13          court may order the needed treatment, surgery, or care, and 14          the court may order the parent to pay the cost of the care
15          pursuant to G.S. 7B-904. If the court finds the parent is 16          unable to pay the cost of treatment, the court shall order the 17          county to arrange for treatment of the juvenile and to pay
18          for the cost of the treatment. The county department of 19          social services shall recommend the facility that will provide 20          the juvenile with treatment.

21          b.   If the court believes, or if there is evidence presented to the 22          effect that the juvenile is mentally ill or is developmentally
23          disabled, the court shall refer the juvenile to the area mental
24          health, developmental disabilities, and substance abuse
25          services director for appropriate action. A juvenile shall not 26          be committed directly to a State hospital or mental 27          retardation center; and orders purporting to commit a
28          juvenile directly to a State hospital or mental retardation 29          center except for an examination to determine capacity to 30          proceed shall be void and of no effect. The area mental 31          health, developmental disabilities, and substance abuse
32          director shall be responsible for arranging an 33          interdisciplinary evaluation of the juvenile and mobilizing
34          resources to meet the juvenile's needs. If institutionalization 35          is determined to be the best service for the juvenile,
36          admission shall be with the voluntary consent of the parent
37          or guardian. If the parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker
38          refuses to consent to a mental hospital or retardation center 39          admission after such institutionalization is recommended by 40          the area mental health, developmental disabilities, and 41          substance abuse director, the signature and consent of the 42          court may be substituted for that purpose. In all cases in 43          which a regional mental hospital refuses admission to a 44          juvenile referred for admission by a court and an area

1           mental health, developmental disabilities, and substance
2           abuse director or discharges a juvenile previously admitted
3           on court referral prior to completion of treatment, the 4           hospital shall submit to the court a written report setting out
5           the reasons for denial of admission or discharge and setting
6           out the juvenile's diagnosis, indications of mental illness,
7           indications of need for treatment, and a statement as to the 8           location of any facility known to have a treatment program
9           for the juvenile in question.

10 "§ 7B-904. Authority over parents of juvenile adjudicated as abused, neglected, or 11 dependent.

12       (a) If the court orders medical, surgical, psychiatric, psychological, or other 13 treatment pursuant to G.S. 7B-903, the court may order the parent or other 14 responsible parties to pay the cost of the treatment or care ordered.

15       (b) At the dispositional hearing or a subsequent hearing in the case of a juvenile 16 who has been adjudicated abused, neglected, or dependent, if the court finds that it is 17 in the best interests of the juvenile for the parent to be directly involved in the 18 juvenile's treatment, the court may order the parent to participate in medical,
19 psychiatric, psychological, or other treatment of the juvenile. The cost of the 20 treatment shall be paid pursuant to G.S. 7B-903.

21       (c) At the dispositional hearing or a subsequent hearing in the case of a juvenile 22 who has been adjudicated abused, neglected, or dependent, the court may determine 23 whether the best interests of the juvenile requires that the parent undergo psychiatric,
24 psychological, or other treatment or counseling directed toward remediating or
25 remedying behaviors or conditions that led to or contributed to the juvenile's
26 adjudication or to the court's decision to remove custody of the juvenile from the 27 parent. If the court finds that the best interests of the juvenile require the parent
28 undergo treatment, it may order the parent to comply with a plan of treatment
29 approved by the court or condition legal custody or physical placement of the 30 juvenile with the parent upon the parent's compliance with the plan of treatment.
31 The court may order the parent to pay the cost of treatment ordered pursuant to this 32 subsection. In cases in which the court has conditioned legal custody or physical 33 placement of the juvenile with the parent upon the parent's compliance with a plan
34 of treatment, the court may charge the cost of the treatment to the county of the 35 juvenile's residence if the court finds the parent is unable to pay the cost of the 36 treatment. In all other cases, if the court finds the parent is unable to pay the cost of 37 the treatment ordered pursuant to this subsection, the court may order the parent to 38 receive treatment currently available from the area mental health program that serves
39 the parent's catchment area.

40       (d) Whenever legal custody of a juvenile is vested in someone other than the 41 juvenile's parent, after due notice to the parent and after a hearing, the court may 42 order that the parent pay a reasonable sum that will cover, in whole or in part, the 43 support of the juvenile after the order is entered. If the court requires the payment of 44 child support, the amount of the payments shall be determined as provided in G.S.

1 50-13.4(c). If the court places a juvenile in the custody of a county department of
2 social services and if the court finds that the parent is unable to pay the cost of the
3 support required by the juvenile, the cost shall be paid by the county department of 4 social services in whose custody the juvenile is placed, provided the juvenile is not
5 receiving care in an institution owned or operated by the State or federal government
6 or any subdivision thereof.

7 (e) Failure of a parent who is personally served to participate in or comply with
8 this section may result in a civil proceeding for contempt.

9 "§ 7B-905. Dispositional order.

10 (a) The dispositional order shall be in writing and shall contain appropriate
11 findings of fact and conclusions of law. The court shall state with particularity, both 12 orally and in the written order of disposition, the precise terms of the disposition
13 including the kind, duration, and the person who is responsible for carrying out the 14 disposition and the person or agency in whom custody is vested.

15 (b) A dispositional order under which a juvenile is removed from the custody of a 16 parent or person standing in loco parentis shall direct that the review hearing
17 required by G.S. 7B-906 be held within six months of the date of the juvenile's
18 placement in custody and, if practicable, shall set the date and time for the review
19 hearing.

20 (c) Any order directing placement of a juvenile in foster care shall also contain:

21 (1) A finding that the juvenile's continuation in or return to the 22 juvenile's home would be contrary to the juvenile's best interests;
23 and

24 (2) Findings as to whether reasonable efforts have been made to 25 prevent or eliminate the need for placement of the juvenile in 26 foster care. A finding that reasonable efforts were not made shall 27 not preclude entry of a dispositional order authorizing placement
28 in foster care when the court finds that such placement is needed
29 for protection of the juvenile. When efforts to prevent the need for 30 the juvenile's placement are precluded by an immediate threat of 31 harm to the juvenile, the court may find that placement of the 32 juvenile in the absence of such efforts is reasonable.

33 The order may provide for services or other efforts aimed at returning the juvenile 34 promptly to a safe home. If the court finds through written findings of fact that efforts
35 to eliminate the need for placement of the juvenile in custody clearly would be futile
36 or would be inconsistent with the juvenile's safety and need for a safe, permanent 37 home within a reasonable period of time, the court shall specify in its order that 38 reunification efforts are not required or order that reunification efforts cease.

39 (d) An order that places a juvenile in the custody of a county department of social 40 services for placement shall specify that the juvenile's placement and care are the 41 responsibility of the county department of social services and that the county 42 department is to provide or arrange for the foster care or other placement of the
43 juvenile.

44 "§ 7B-906. Review of custody order.

1     (a) In any case where custody is removed from a parent, the court shall conduct a 2 review within six months of the date the order was entered, shall conduct a second
3 review within six months after the first review, and shall conduct subsequent reviews
4 at least every year thereafter. The director of social services shall make timely 5 requests to the clerk to calendar the case at a session of court scheduled for the 6 hearing of juvenile matters within six months of the date the order was entered. The 7 director shall make timely requests for calendaring subsequent reviews. The clerk
8 shall give 15 days' notice of the review to the parent or the person standing in loco
9 parentis, the juvenile, if 12 years of age or more, the guardian, foster parent, 10 custodian or agency with custody, the guardian ad litem, and any other person the 11 court may specify, indicating the court's impending review.

12     (b) Notwithstanding other provisions of this Article, the court may waive the 13 holding of review hearings required by subsection (a) of this section, may require 14 written reports to the court by the agency or person holding custody in lieu of review 15 hearings, or order that review hearings be held less often than every 12 months, if the 16 court finds by clear, cogent, and convincing evidence that:

- 17         (1) The juvenile has resided with a relative or has been in the custody
18         of another suitable person for a period of at least one year;
19         (2) The placement is stable and continuation of the placement is in the 20         juvenile's best interests;
21         (3) Neither the juvenile's best interests nor the rights of any party
22         require that review hearings be held every 12 months;
23         (4) All parties are aware that the matter may be brought before the 24         court for review at any time by the filing of a motion for review or 25         on the court's own motion; and
26         (5) The court order has designated the relative or other suitable 27         person as the juvenile's permanent caretaker or guardian of the 28         person.

29     The court may not waive or refuse to conduct a review hearing if a party files a
30 motion seeking the review.

31     (c) At every review hearing, the court shall consider information from the 32 department of social services, the juvenile, the parent or person standing in loco
33 parentis, the custodian, the foster parent, the guardian ad litem, and any public or 34 private agency which will aid it in its review.

35     In each case the court shall consider the following criteria and make written 36 findings regarding those that are relevant:

- 37         (1) Services which have been offered to reunite the family, or whether 38         efforts to reunite the family clearly would be futile or inconsistent
39         with the juvenile's safety and need for a safe, permanent home
40         within a reasonable period of time.
41         (2) Where the juvenile's return home is unlikely, the efforts which 42         have been made to evaluate or plan for other methods of care.
43         (3) Goals of the foster care placement and the appropriateness of the 44         foster care plan.

1           (4) A new foster care plan, if continuation of care is sought, that
2           addresses the role the current foster parent will play in the 3           planning for the juvenile.

4           (5) Reports on the placements the juvenile has had and any services
5           offered to the juvenile and the parent.

6           (6) When and if termination of parental rights should be considered.

7           (7) Any other criteria the court deems necessary.

8       (d) The court, after making findings of fact, may appoint a guardian of the person
9 for the juvenile pursuant to G.S. 7B-600 or may make any disposition authorized by
10 G.S. 7B-903, including the authority to place the juvenile in the custody of either
11 parent or any relative found by the court to be suitable and found by the court to be 12 in the best interests of the juvenile. If the juvenile is placed in or remains in the 13 custody of the department of social services, the court may authorize the department
14 to arrange and supervise a visitation plan. Except for such visitation, the juvenile 15 shall not be returned to the parent or person standing in loco parentis without a
16 hearing at which the court finds sufficient facts to show that the juvenile will receive
17 proper care and supervision. The court may enter an order continuing the placement
18 under review or providing for a different placement as is deemed to be in the best
19 interests of the juvenile. If at any time custody is restored to a parent, the court shall 20 be relieved of the duty to conduct periodic judicial reviews of the placement.

21       (e) At a hearing designated by the court, but at least within 12 months after the
22 juvenile's placement, a review hearing shall be held under this section and designated
23 as a permanency-planning hearing. The purpose of the hearing shall be to develop a 24 plan to achieve a safe, permanent home for the juvenile within a reasonable period of 25 time. Notice of the hearing shall inform the parties of the purpose of the hearing. At 26 the conclusion of the hearing, if the juvenile is not returned home, the court shall
27 make specific findings as to the best plan of care to achieve a safe, permanent home
28 for the juvenile within a reasonable period of time and shall enter an order consistent
29 with those findings.

30       (f) The provisions of subsections (b), (c), and (d) of G.S. 7B-905 shall apply to any 31 order entered under this section which continues the foster care placement of a
32 juvenile.

33 "§ 7B-907. Posttermination of parental rights' placement court review.

34       (a) The purpose of each placement review is to ensure that every reasonable effort
35 is being made to provide for a permanent placement plan for the juvenile who has
36 been placed in the custody of a county director or licensed child-placing agency,
37 which is consistent with the juvenile's best interests. At each review hearing the court
38 may consider information from the department of social services, the licensed 39 child-placing agency, the guardian ad litem, the juvenile, the foster parent, and any 40 other person or agency the court determines is likely to aid in the review.

41       (b) The court shall conduct a placement review not later than six months from the 42 date of the termination hearing when parental rights have been terminated by a
43 petition brought by any person or agency designated in G.S. 7B-1102(2) through (5)
44 and a county director or licensed child-placing agency has custody of the juvenile.

1 The court shall conduct reviews every six months until the juvenile is placed for
2 adoption and the adoption petition is filed by the adoptive parents:

3       (1) No more than 30 days and no less than 15 days prior to each
4 review, the clerk shall give notice of the review to the juvenile if
5 the juvenile is at least 12 years of age, the legal custodian of the 6 juvenile, the foster parent, the guardian ad litem, if any, and any
7 other person the court may specify. Only the juvenile, if the 8 juvenile is at least 12 years of age, the legal custodian of the 9 juvenile, the foster parent, and the guardian ad litem shall attend
10 the review hearings, except as otherwise directed by the court.

11       (2) If a guardian ad litem for the juvenile has not been appointed 12 previously by the court in the termination proceeding, the court, at 13 the initial six-month review hearing, may appoint a guardian ad
14 litem to represent the juvenile. The court may continue the case
15 for such time as is necessary for the guardian ad litem to become 16 familiar with the facts of the case.

17 (c) The court shall consider at least the following in its review:

18       (1) The adequacy of the plan developed by the county department of 19 social services or a licensed child-placing agency for a permanent 20 placement relative to the juvenile's best interests and the efforts of 21 the department or agency to implement such plan;

22       (2) Whether the juvenile has been listed for adoptive placement with
23 the North Carolina Adoption Resource Exchange, the North
24 Carolina Photo Adoption Listing Service (PALS), or any other
25 specialized adoption agency; and

26       (3) The efforts previously made by the department or agency to find a 27 permanent home for the juvenile.

28 (d) The court, after making findings of fact, shall affirm the county department's 29 or child-placing agency's plans or require specific additional steps which are 30 necessary to accomplish a permanent placement which is in the best interests of the
31 juvenile.

32 (e) If the juvenile has been placed for adoption prior to the date scheduled for 33 the review, written notice of said placement shall be given to the clerk to be placed
34 in the court file, and the review hearing shall be cancelled with notice of said
35 cancellation given by the clerk to all persons previously notified.

36 (f) The process of selection of specific adoptive parents shall be the responsibility
37 of and within the discretion of the county department of social services or licensed
38 child-placing agency. The guardian ad litem may request information from and 39 consult with the county department or child-placing agency concerning the selection
40 process. If the guardian ad litem requests information about the selection process, the 41 county shall provide the information within five days. Any issue of abuse of 42 discretion by the county department or child-placing agency in the selection process
43 must be raised by the guardian ad litem within 10 days following the date the agency

1 notifies the court and the guardian ad litem in writing of the filing of the adoption
2 petition.

3 "§ 7B-908. Review of agency's plan for placement.

4 (a) The director of social services or the director of the licensed private child-
5 placing agency shall promptly notify the clerk to calendar the case for review of the 6 department's or agency's plan for the juvenile at a session of court scheduled for the 7 hearing of juvenile matters in any case where:

8 (1) One parent has surrendered a juvenile for adoption under the 9 provisions of Part 7 of Article 3 of Chapter 48 of the General
10 Statutes and the termination of parental rights proceedings have 11 not been instituted against the nonsurrendering parent within six
12 months of the surrender by the other parent, or

13 (2) Both parents have surrendered a juvenile for adoption under the 14 provisions of Part 7 of Article 3 of Chapter 48 of the General
15 Statutes and that juvenile has not been placed for adoption within 16 six months from the date of the more recent parental surrender.

17 (b) In any case where an adoption is dismissed or withdrawn and the juvenile
18 returns to foster care with a department of social services or a licensed private child-
19 placing agency, then the department of social services or licensed child-placing 20 agency shall notify the clerk, within 30 days from the date the juvenile returns to 21 care, to calendar the case for review of the agency's plan for the child at a session of 22 court scheduled for the hearing of juvenile matters.

23 (c) Notification of the court required under subsection (a) or (b) of this section
24 shall be by a petition for review. The petition shall set forth the circumstances 25 necessitating the review under subsection (a) or (b) of this section. The review shall 26 be conducted within 30 days following the filing of the petition for review unless the 27 court shall otherwise direct. The court shall conduct reviews every six months until 28 the juvenile is placed for adoption and the adoption petition is filed by the adoptive
29 parents. The initial review and all subsequent reviews shall be conducted pursuant to 30 G.S. 7B-907.

31 "§ 7B-909. Review of voluntary foster care placements.

32 (a) The court shall review the placement of any juvenile in foster care made 33 pursuant to a voluntary agreement between the juvenile's parents or guardian and a 34 county department of social services and shall make findings from evidence presented 35 at a review hearing with regard to:

36 (1) The voluntariness of the placement;
37 (2) The appropriateness of the placement;
38 (3) Whether the placement is in the best interests of the juvenile; and 39 (4) The services that have been or should be provided to the parents, 40 guardian, foster parents, and juvenile, as the case may be, either (i) 41 to improve the placement or (ii) to eliminate the need for the 42 placement.

43 (b) The court may approve the continued placement of the juvenile in foster care
44 on a voluntary agreement basis, disapprove the continuation of the voluntary

1 placement, or direct the department of social services to petition the court for legal 2 custody if the placement is to continue.

3 (c) An initial review hearing shall be held not more than 180 days after the 4 juvenile's placement and shall be calendared by the clerk for hearing within such 5 period upon timely request by the director of social services. Additional review 6 hearings shall be held at such times as the court shall deem appropriate and shall 7 direct, either upon its own motion or upon written request of the parents, guardian,
8 foster parents, or director of social services. A juvenile placed under a voluntary 9 agreement between the juvenile's parent or guardian and the county department of 10 social services shall not remain in placement more than 12 months without the filing
11 of a petition alleging abuse, neglect, or dependency.

12 (d) The clerk shall give at least 15 days' advance written notice of the initial and 13 subsequent review hearings to the parents or guardian of the juvenile, to the juvenile 14 if 12 or more years of age, to the director of social services, and to any other persons 15 whom the court may specify.

16 "ARTICLE 10.

17 "Modification and Enforcement of Dispositional Orders; Appeals.

18 "§ 7B-1000. Authority to modify or vacate.

19 (a) Upon motion in the cause or petition, and after notice, the court may conduct
20 a review hearing to determine whether the order of the court is in the best interests
21 of the juvenile, and the court may modify or vacate the order in light of changes in 22 circumstances or the needs of the juvenile.

23 (b) In any case where the court finds the juvenile to be abused, neglected, or 24 dependent, the jurisdiction of the court to modify any order or disposition made in 25 the case shall continue during the minority of the juvenile, until terminated by order 26 of the court, or until the juvenile is otherwise emancipated.

27 "§ 7B-1001. Right to appeal.

28 Upon motion of a proper party as defined in G.S. 7B-1002, review of any final
29 order of the court in a juvenile matter under this Article shall be before the Court of 30 Appeals. Notice of appeal shall be given in open court at the time of the hearing or 31 in writing within 10 days after entry of the order. However, if no disposition is made
32 within 60 days after entry of the order, written notice of appeal may be given within 33 70 days after such entry. A final order shall include:

34 (1) Any order finding absence of jurisdiction;

35 (2) Any order which in effect determines the action and prevents a
36 judgment from which appeal might be taken;

37 (3) Any order of disposition after an adjudication that a juvenile is 38 abused, neglected, or dependent; or

39 (4) Any order modifying custodial rights.

40 "§ 7B-1002. Proper parties for appeal.

41 An appeal may be taken by the guardian ad litem, or juvenile, the juvenile's 42 parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker, or the petitioner. The State's appeal is 43 limited to any final order.

44 "§ 7B-1003. Disposition pending appeal.

Pending disposition of an appeal, the return of the juvenile to the custody of the parent, guardian, custodian, or caretaker of the juvenile, with or without conditions, should issue in every case unless the court orders otherwise. For compelling reasons which must be stated in writing, the court may enter a temporary order affecting the custody or placement of the juvenile as the court finds to be in the best interests of the juvenile or the State. The provisions of subsections (b), (c), and (d) of G.S. 7B-905 shall apply to any order entered under this section which provides for the placement or continued placement of a juvenile in foster care.

"§ 7B-1004. Disposition after appeal.

Upon the affirmation of the order of adjudication or disposition of the court by the Court of Appeals or by the Supreme Court in the event of an appeal, the court shall have authority to modify or alter the original order of adjudication or disposition as the court finds to be in the best interests of the juvenile to reflect any adjustment made by the juvenile or change in circumstances during the period of time the appeal was pending. If the modifying order is entered ex parte, the court shall give notice to interested parties to show cause within 10 days thereafter as to why the modifying order should be vacated or altered.

"ARTICLE 11.

"Termination of Parental Rights.

"§ 7B-1100. Legislative intent; construction of Article.

The General Assembly hereby declares as a matter of legislative policy with respect to termination of parental rights:

(1) The general purpose of this Article is to provide judicial procedures for terminating the legal relationship between a juvenile and the juvenile's biological or legal parents when the parents have demonstrated that they will not provide the degree of care which promotes the healthy and orderly physical and emotional well-being of the juvenile.

(2) It is the further purpose of this Article to recognize the necessity for any juvenile to have a permanent plan of care at the earliest possible age, while at the same time recognizing the need to protect all juveniles from the unnecessary severance of a relationship with biological or legal parents.

(3) Action which is in the best interests of the juvenile should be taken in all cases where the interests of the juvenile and those of the juvenile's parents or other persons are in conflict.

(4) This Article shall not be used to circumvent the provisions of Chapter 50A of the General Statutes, the Uniform Child Custody Jurisdiction Act.

"§ 7B-1101. Jurisdiction.

The court shall have exclusive original jurisdiction to hear and determine any petition relating to termination of parental rights to any juvenile who resides in, is found in, or is in the legal or actual custody of a county department of social services or licensed child-placing agency in the district at the time of filing of the petition.

1 The court shall have jurisdiction to terminate the parental rights of any parent
2 irrespective of the age of the parent. The parent has the right to counsel and to 3 appointed counsel in cases of indigency unless the parent waives the right. The fees
4 of appointed counsel shall be borne by the Administrative Office of the Courts. In 5 addition to the right to appointed counsel set forth above, a guardian ad litem shall 6 be appointed in accordance with the provisions of G.S. 1A-1, Rule 17, to represent a 7 parent in the following cases:

8 (1) Where it is alleged that a parent's rights should be terminated
9 pursuant to G.S. 7B-1110(7); or

10 (2) Where the parent is under the age of 18 years.

11 The fees of the guardian ad litem shall be borne by the Administrative Office of the 12 Courts when the court finds that the respondent is indigent. In other cases the fees of 13 the court-appointed guardian ad litem shall be a proper charge against the 14 respondent if the respondent does not secure private legal counsel. Provided, that 15 before exercising jurisdiction under this Article, the court shall find that it would 16 have jurisdiction to make a child-custody determination under the provisions of G.S.
17 50A-3. Provided, further, that the clerk of superior court shall have jurisdiction for 18 adoptions under the provisions of G.S. 48-2-100 and Chapter 48 of the General
19 Statutes generally.

20 "§ 7B-1102. Who may petition.

21 A petition to terminate the parental rights of either or both parents to his, her, or 22 their minor juvenile may only be filed by:

23 (1) Either parent seeking termination of the right of the other parent;
24 or

25 (2) Any person who has been judicially appointed as the guardian of 26 the person of the juvenile; or

27 (3) Any county department of social services, consolidated county
28 human services agency, or licensed child-placing agency to whom 29 custody of the juvenile has been given by a court of competent 30 jurisdiction; or

31 (4) Any county department of social services, consolidated county
32 human services agency, or licensed child-placing agency to which 33 the juvenile has been surrendered for adoption by one of the 34 parents or by the guardian of the person of the juvenile, pursuant 35 to G.S. 48-9(a)(1); or

36 (5) Any person with whom the juvenile has resided for a continuous 37 period of two years or more next preceding the filing of the 38 petition; or

39 (6) Any guardian ad litem appointed to represent the minor juvenile 40 pursuant to G.S. 7B-601 who has not been relieved of this 41 responsibility and who has served in this capacity for at least one 42 continuous year; or

43 (7) Any person who has filed a petition for adoption pursuant to 44 Chapter 48 of the General Statutes.

1 "§ 7B-1103. Petition.

2 The petition shall be verified by the petitioner and shall be entitled 'In Re (last 3 name of juvenile)', a minor juvenile; and shall set forth such of the following facts as 4 are known; and with respect to the facts which are unknown the petitioner shall so
5 state:

- 6           (1) The name of the juvenile as it appears on the juvenile's birth 7 certificate, the date and place of birth, and the county where the 8 juvenile is presently residing.
- 9           (2) The name and address of the petitioner and facts sufficient to 10 identify the petitioner as one entitled to petition under G.S. 7B-11 1102.
- 12           (3) The name and address of the parents of the juvenile. If the name 13 or address of one or both parents is unknown to the petitioner, the 14 petitioner shall set forth with particularity the petitioner's efforts to 15 ascertain the identity or whereabouts of the parent or parents. The 16 information may be contained in an affidavit attached to the 17 petition and incorporated therein by reference.
- 18           (4) The name and address of any person appointed as guardian of the 19 person of the juvenile pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 35A of 20 the General Statutes, or of G.S. 7B-600.
- 21           (5) The name and address of any person or agency to whom custody
22 of the juvenile has been given by a court of this or any other state;
23 and a copy of the custody order shall be attached to the petition.
- 24           (6) Facts that are sufficient to warrant a determination that one or 25 more of the grounds for terminating parental rights exist.
- 26           (7) That the petition has not been filed to circumvent the provisions of 27 Chapter 50A of the General Statutes, the Uniform Child Custody
28 Jurisdiction Act.

29 "§ 7B-1104. Preliminary hearing; unknown parent.

30           (a) If either the name or identity of any parent whose parental rights the petitioner 31 seeks to terminate is not known to the petitioner, the court shall, within 10 days from 32 the date of filing of the petition, or during the next term of court in the county where 33 the petition is filed if there is no court in the county in that 10-day period, conduct a 34 preliminary hearing to ascertain the name or identity of such parent.

35           (b) The court may, in its discretion, inquire of any known parent of the juvenile 36 concerning the identity of the unknown parent and may appoint a guardian ad litem
37 for the unknown parent to conduct a diligent search for the parent. Should the court 38 ascertain the name or identity of the parent, it shall enter a finding to that effect; and 39 the parent shall be summoned to appear in accordance with G.S. 7B-1105.

40           (c) Notice of the preliminary hearing need be given only to the petitioner who 41 shall appear at the hearing; but the court may cause summons to be issued to any 42 person directing the person to appear and testify.

43           (d) If the court is unable to ascertain the name or identity of the unknown parent, 44 the court shall order publication of notice of the termination proceeding and shall

1 specifically order the place or places of publication and the contents of the notice
2 which the court concludes is most likely to identify the juvenile to such unknown
3 parent. The notice shall be published in a newspaper qualified for legal advertising in 4 accordance with G.S. 1-597 and G.S. 1-598 and published in the counties directed by 5 the court, once a week for three successive weeks. Provided, further, the notice shall:

6 (1) Designate the court in which the petition is pending;

7 (2) Be directed to 'the father (mother) (father and mother) of a male 8 (female) juvenile born on or about .....in 9 (date)

10 .....County, .....

11 (city)

12 ....., respondent';

13 (State)

14 (3) Designate the docket number and title of the case (the court may 15 direct the actual name of the title be eliminated and the words 'In 16 Re Doe' substituted therefor);

17 (4) State that a petition seeking to terminate the parental rights of the 18 respondent has been filed;

19 (5) Direct the respondent to answer the petition within 30 days after a 20 date stated in the notice, exclusive of such date, which date so
21 stated shall be the date of first publication of notice and be
22 substantially in the form as set forth in G.S. 1A-1, Rule 4(j1); and

23 (6) State that the respondent's parental rights to the juvenile will be 24 terminated upon failure to answer the petition within the time
25 prescribed.

26 Upon completion of the service, an affidavit of the publisher shall be filed with the 27 court.

28 (e) The court shall issue the order required by subsections (b) and (d) of this 29 section within 30 days from the date of the preliminary hearing unless the court shall 30 determine that additional time for investigation is required.

31 (f) Upon the failure of the parent served by publication pursuant to subsection (d)
32 of this section to answer the petition within the time prescribed, the court shall issue
33 an order terminating all parental rights of the unknown parent.

34 "§ 7B-1105. Issuance of summons.

35 (a) Except as provided in G.S. 7B-1104, upon the filing of the petition, the court
36 shall cause a summons to be issued. The summons shall be directed to the following 37 persons or agency, not otherwise a party petitioner, who shall be named as 38 respondents:

39 (1) The parents of the juvenile;

40 (2) Any person who has been judicially appointed as guardian of the 41 person of the juvenile;

42 (3) The custodian of the juvenile appointed by a court of competent
43 jurisdiction;

(4) Any county department of social services or licensed child-placing agency to whom a juvenile has been released by one parent pursuant to Part 7 of Article 3 of Chapter 48 of the General Statutes; and

(5) The juvenile, if the juvenile is 12 years of age or older at the time the petition is filed.

Provided, no summons need be directed to or served upon any parent who has previously surrendered the juvenile to a county department of social services or licensed child-placing agency nor to any parent who has consented to the adoption of the juvenile by the petitioner. The summons shall notify the respondents to file a written answer within 30 days after service of the summons and petition. Service of the summons shall be completed as provided under the procedures established by G.S. 1A-1, Rule 4(j); but the parent of the juvenile shall not be deemed to be under disability even though the parent is a minor.

(b) The summons shall be issued for the purpose of terminating parental rights pursuant to the provisions of subsection (a) of this section and shall include:

(1) The name of the minor juvenile;

(2) Notice that a written answer to the petition must be filed with the clerk who signed the petition within 30 days after service of the summons and a copy of the petition, or the parent's rights may be terminated;

(3) Notice that if they are indigent, the parents are entitled to appointed counsel. The parents may contact the clerk immediately to request counsel;

(4) Notice that this is a new case. Any attorney appointed previously will not represent the parents in this proceeding unless ordered by the court;

(5) Notice that the date, time, and place of the hearing will be mailed by the clerk upon filing of the answer or 30 days from the date of service if no answer is filed; and

(6) Notice of the purpose of the hearing and notice that the parents may attend the termination hearing.

"§ 7B-1106. Failure of respondents to answer.

Upon the failure of the respondents to file written answer to the petition with the court within 30 days after service of the summons and petition, or within the time period established for a defendant's reply by G.S. 1A-1, Rule 4(j1) if service is by publication, the court shall issue an order terminating all parental and custodial rights of the respondent or respondents with respect to the juvenile; provided the court shall order a hearing on the petition and may examine the petitioner or others on the facts alleged in the petition.

"§ 7B-1107. Answer of respondents.

(a) Any respondent may file a written answer to the petition. The answer shall admit or deny the allegations of the petition and shall set forth the name and address of the answering respondent or the respondent's attorney.

1 (b) If an answer denies any material allegation of the petition, the court shall 2 appoint a guardian ad litem for the juvenile to represent the best interests of the 3 juvenile, unless the petition was filed by the guardian ad litem pursuant to G.S. 7B-
4 1102. A licensed attorney shall be appointed to assist those guardians ad litem who 5 are not attorneys licensed to practice in North Carolina. The appointment, duties,
6 and payment of the guardian ad litem shall be the same as in G.S. 7B-601 and G.S.
7 7B-603. The court shall conduct a special hearing after notice of not less than 10 days
8 nor more than 30 days to the petitioner, the answering respondent, and the guardian
9 ad litem for the juvenile to determine the issues raised by the petition and answer.
10 Notice of the hearing shall be deemed to have been given upon the depositing thereof
11 in the United States mail, first-class postage prepaid, and addressed to the petitioner,
12 respondent, and guardian ad litem or their counsel of record, at the addresses
13 appearing in the petition and responsive pleading.

14 (c) In proceedings under this Article, the appointment of a guardian ad litem shall 15 not be required except, as provided above, in cases in which an answer is filed 16 denying material allegations, or as required under G.S. 7B-1101; but the court may, in 17 its discretion, appoint a guardian ad litem for a juvenile, either before or after 18 determining the existence of grounds for termination of parental rights, in order to 19 assist the court in determining the best interests of the juvenile.

20 (d) If a guardian ad litem has previously been appointed for the juvenile under 21 G.S. 7B-601, and the appointment of a guardian ad litem could also be made under 22 this section, the guardian ad litem appointed under G.S. 7B-601, and any attorney
23 appointed to assist that guardian, shall also represent the juvenile in all proceedings
24 under this Article and shall have the duties and payment of a guardian ad litem
25 appointed under this section, unless the court determines that the best interests of the 26 juvenile require otherwise.

27 "§ 7B-1108. Adjudicatory hearing on termination.

28 (a) The hearing on the termination of parental rights shall be conducted by the 29 court sitting without a jury. Reporting of the hearing shall be as provided by G.S.
30 7A-198 for reporting civil trials.

31 (b) The court shall inquire whether the juvenile's parents are present at the 32 hearing and, if so, whether they are represented by counsel. If the parents are not 33 represented by counsel, the court shall inquire whether the parents desire counsel but 34 are indigent. In the event that the parents desire counsel but are indigent as defined
35 in G.S. 7A-450(a) and are unable to obtain counsel to represent them, the court shall 36 appoint counsel to represent them. The court shall grant the parents such an 37 extension of time as is reasonable to permit their appointed counsel to prepare their 38 defense to the termination petition. In the event that the parents do not desire 39 counsel and are present at the hearing, the court shall examine each parent and make 40 findings of fact sufficient to show that the waivers were knowing and voluntary. This 41 examination shall be reported as provided in G.S. 7A-198.

42 (c) The court may, upon finding that reasonable cause exists, order the juvenile to 43 be examined by a psychiatrist, a licensed clinical psychologist, a physician, a public or 44 private agency, or any other expert in order that the juvenile's psychological or

1 physical condition or needs may be ascertained or, in the case of a parent whose
2 ability to care for the juvenile is at issue, the court may order a similar examination
3 of any parent of the juvenile.

4 (d) The court may for good cause shown continue the hearing for such time as is
5 required for receiving additional evidence, any reports or assessments which the court
6 has requested, or any other information needed in the best interests of the juvenile.

7 (e) The court shall take evidence, find the facts, and shall adjudicate the existence
8 or nonexistence of any of the circumstances set forth in G.S. 7B-1110 which authorize
9 the termination of parental rights of the respondent.

10 (f) All findings of fact shall be based on clear, cogent, and convincing evidence.
11 No husband-wife or physician-patient privilege shall be grounds for excluding any 12 evidence regarding the existence or nonexistence of any circumstance authorizing the 13 termination of parental rights.

14 "§ 7B-1109. Disposition.

15 (a) Should the court determine that any one or more of the conditions authorizing
16 a termination of the parental rights of a parent exist, the court shall issue an order
17 terminating the parental rights of such parent with respect to the juvenile unless the 18 court shall further determine that the best interests of the juvenile require that the 19 parental rights of the parent not be terminated.

20 (b) Should the court conclude that, irrespective of the existence of one or more
21 circumstances authorizing termination of parental rights, the best interests of the 22 juvenile require that rights should not be terminated, the court shall dismiss the 23 petition, but only after setting forth the facts and conclusions upon which the 24 dismissal is based.

25 (c) Should the court determine that circumstances authorizing termination of 26 parental rights do not exist, the court shall dismiss the petition, making appropriate
27 findings of fact and conclusions.

28 (d) Counsel for the petitioner shall serve a copy of the termination of parental 29 rights order upon the guardian ad litem for the juvenile, if any, and upon the 30 juvenile if the juvenile is 12 years of age or older.

31 (e) The court may tax the cost of the proceeding to any party.

32 "§ 7B-1110. Grounds for terminating parental rights.

33 The court may terminate the parental rights upon a finding of one or more of the 34 following:

35 (1) The parent has abused or neglected the juvenile. The juvenile 36 shall be deemed to be abused or neglected if the court finds the 37 juvenile to be an abused juvenile within the meaning of G.S. 7B-
38 101 or a neglected juvenile within the meaning of G.S. 7B-101.

39 (2) The parent has willfully left the juvenile in foster care for more
40 than 12 months without showing to the satisfaction of the court
41 that reasonable progress under the circumstances has been made
42 within 12 months in correcting those conditions which led to the 43 removal of the juvenile. Provided, however, that no parental rights shall be terminated for the sole reason that the parents are unable to care for the juvenile on account of their poverty.

(3) The burden in such proceedings shall be upon the petitioner to prove the facts justifying such termination by clear and convincing evidence.

(4) The juvenile has been placed in the custody of a county department of social services, a licensed child-placing agency, a child-caring institution, or a foster home, and the parent, for a continuous period of six months next preceding the filing of the petition, has willfully failed for such period to pay a reasonable portion of the cost of care for the juvenile although physically and financially able to do so.

(5) One parent has been awarded custody of the juvenile by judicial decree or has custody by agreement of the parents, and the other parent whose parental rights are sought to be terminated has for a period of one year or more next preceding the filing of the petition willfully failed without justification to pay for the care, support, and education of the juvenile, as required by said decree or custody agreement.

(6) The father of a juvenile born out of wedlock has not, prior to the filing of a petition to terminate parental rights:

a. Established paternity judicially or by affidavit which has been filed in a central registry maintained by the Department of Health and Human Services; provided, the court shall inquire of the Department of Health and Human Services as to whether such an affidavit has been so filed and shall incorporate into the case record the Department's certified reply; or

b. Legitimated the juvenile pursuant to provisions of G.S. 49-10 or filed a petition for this specific purpose; or

c. Legitimated the juvenile by marriage to the mother of the juvenile; or

d. Provided substantial financial support or consistent care with respect to the juvenile and mother.

(7) That the parent is incapable of providing for the proper care and supervision of the juvenile, such that the juvenile is a dependent juvenile within the meaning of G.S. 7B-101, and that there is a reasonable probability that such incapability will continue for the foreseeable future. Incapability under this subdivision may be the result of substance abuse, mental retardation, mental illness, organic brain syndrome, or any other similar cause or condition.

(8) The parent has willfully abandoned the juvenile for at least six consecutive months immediately preceding the filing of the petition. For the purpose of this subdivision, a juvenile may be

1 willfully abandoned by the juvenile's natural father if the mother
2 of the juvenile had been willfully abandoned by and was living
3 separate and apart from the father at the time of the juvenile's
4 birth, although the father may not have known of such birth; but in
5 any event the juvenile must be over the age of three months at the 6 time of the filing of the petition.

7 "§ 7B-1111. Effects of termination order.

8 An order terminating the parental rights completely and permanently terminates
9 all rights and obligations of the parent to the juvenile and of the juvenile to the 10 parent arising from the parental relationship, except that the juvenile's right of 11 inheritance from the juvenile's parent shall not terminate until a final order of 12 adoption is issued. The parent is not thereafter entitled to notice of proceedings to 13 adopt the juvenile and may not object thereto or otherwise participate therein:

14 (1) If the juvenile had been placed in the custody of or released for 15 adoption by one parent to a county department of social services
16 or licensed child-placing agency and is in the custody of the agency
17 at the time of the filing of the petition, including a petition filed
18 pursuant to G.S. 7B-1102(6), that agency shall, upon entry of the 19 order terminating parental rights, acquire all of the rights for 20 placement of the juvenile as the agency would have acquired had 21 the parent whose rights are terminated released the juvenile to 22 that agency pursuant to the provisions of Part 7 of Article 3 of 23 Chapter 48 of the General Statutes, including the right to consent
24 to the adoption of the juvenile.

25 (2) Except as provided in subdivision (1) above, upon entering an 26 order terminating the parental rights of one or both parents, the 27 court may place the juvenile in the custody of the petitioner, or 28 some other suitable person, or in the custody of the department of 29 social services or licensed child-placing agency, as may appear to 30 be in the best interests of the juvenile.

31 "§ 7B-1112. Appeals; modification of order after affirmation.

32 Any juvenile, parent, guardian, custodian, caretaker, or agency who is a party to a
33 proceeding under this Article may appeal from an adjudication or any order of 34 disposition to the Court of Appeals, provided that notice of appeal is given in open
35 court at the time of the hearing or in writing within 10 days after the hearing.
36 Pending disposition of an appeal, the court may enter a temporary order affecting the 37 custody or placement of the juvenile as the court finds to be in the best interests of 38 the juvenile or the best interests of the State. Upon the affirmation of the order of 39 adjudication or disposition of the court in a juvenile case by the Court of Appeals, or 40 by the Supreme Court in the event of an appeal, the court shall have authority to 41 modify or alter its original order of adjudication or disposition as the court finds to 42 be in the best interests of the juvenile to reflect any adjustment made by the 43 juvenile or change in circumstances during the period of time the case on appeal was 44 pending, provided that if the modifying order be entered ex parte, the court shall give

1 notice to interested parties to show cause, if any there be, within 10 days thereafter,
2 as to why the modifying order should be vacated or altered.

3 "ARTICLE 12.

4 "Guardian ad Litem Program.

5 "§ 7B-1200. Office of Guardian ad Litem Services established.

6 There is established within the Administrative Office of the Courts an Office of
7 Guardian ad Litem Services to provide services in accordance with G.S. 7B-601 to 8 abused, neglected, or dependent juveniles involved in judicial proceedings and to 9 assure that all participants in these proceedings are adequately trained to carry out
10 their responsibilities. Each local program shall consist of volunteer guardians ad
11 litem, at least one program attorney, a program coordinator who is a paid State
12 employee, and any clerical staff as the Administrative Office of the Courts in 13 consultation with the local program deems necessary. The Administrative Office of 14 the Courts shall adopt rules and regulations necessary and appropriate for the 15 administration of the program.

16 "§ 7B-1201. Implementation and administration.

17 (a) Local Programs. -- The Administrative Office of the Courts shall, in 18 cooperation with each chief district court judge and other personnel in the district,
19 implement and administer the program mandated by this Article. Where a local 20 program has not yet been established in accordance with this Article, the district
21 court district shall operate a guardian ad litem program approved by the
22 Administrative Office of the Courts.

23 (b) Advisory Committee Established. -- The Director of the Administrative Office
24 of the Courts shall appoint a Guardian ad Litem Advisory Committee consisting of at
25 least five members to advise the Office of Guardian ad Litem Services in matters
26 related to this program. The members of the Advisory Committee shall receive the 27 same per diem and reimbursement for travel expenses as members of State boards
28 and commissions generally.

29 "§ 7B-1202. Conflict of interest or impracticality of implementation.

30 If a conflict of interest prohibits a local program from providing representation to 31 an abused, neglected, or dependent juvenile, the court may appoint any member of 32 the district bar to represent the juvenile. If the Administrative Office of the Courts
33 determines that within a particular district court district the implementation of a local
34 program is impractical, or that an alternative plan meets the conditions of G.S. 7B-
35 1203, the Administrative Office of the Courts shall waive the establishment of the 36 program within the district.

37 "§ 7B-1203. Alternative plans.

38 A district court district shall be granted a waiver from the implementation of a
39 local program if the Administrative Office of the Courts determines that the following 40 conditions are met:

- 41 (1) An alternative plan has been developed to provide adequate
42 guardian ad litem services for every juvenile consistent with the
43 duties stated in G.S. 7B-601; and

(2) The proposed alternative plan will require no greater proportion of State funds than the district court district's abuse and neglect caseload represents to the State's abuse and neglect caseload. 19 "ARTICLE 14.

20 "North Carolina Child Fatality Prevention System.

21 "§ 7B-1400. Declaration of public policy.

22 The General Assembly finds that it is the public policy of this State to prevent the 23 abuse, neglect, and death of juveniles. The General Assembly further finds that the 24 prevention of the abuse, neglect, and death of juveniles is a community responsibility; 25 that professionals from disparate disciplines have responsibilities for children or 26 juveniles and have expertise that can promote their safety and well-being; and that 27 multidisciplinary reviews of the abuse, neglect, and death of juveniles can lead to a 28 greater understanding of the causes and methods of preventing these deaths. It is,
29 therefore, the intent of the General Assembly, through this Article, to establish a 30 statewide multidisciplinary, multiagency child fatality prevention system consisting of 31 the State Team established in G.S. 7B-1404 and the Local Teams established in G.S.
32 7B-1406. The purpose of the system is to assess the records of selected cases in which 33 children are being served by child protective services and the records of all deaths of 34 children in North Carolina from birth to age 18 in order to (i) develop a 35 communitywide approach to the problem of child abuse and neglect, (ii) understand 36 the causes of childhood deaths, (iii) identify any gaps or deficiencies that may exist in 37 the delivery of services to children and their families by public agencies that are 38 designed to prevent future child abuse, neglect, or death, and (iv) make and 39 implement recommendations for changes to laws, rules, and policies that will support
40 the safe and healthy development of our children and prevent future child abuse,

5 provisions of Article 33C of Chapter 143 of the General Statutes. However, the 6 Local Teams may hold periodic public meetings to discuss, in a general manner not 7 revealing confidential information about children and families, the findings of their 8 reviews and their recommendations for preventive actions. Minutes of all public 9 meetings, excluding those of executive sessions, shall be kept in compliance with 10 Article 33C of Chapter 143 of the General Statutes. Any minutes or any other 11 information generated during any closed session shall be sealed from public

18 otherwise confidential information and records created by a Local Team in the 19 exercise of its duties are confidential; are not subject to discovery or introduction into 20 evidence in any proceedings; and may only be disclosed as necessary to carry out the 21 purposes of the Local Team. No member of the State Team, a Local Team, nor any 22 person who attends a meeting of the State Team or a Local Team, may testify in any 23 proceeding about what transpired at the meeting, about information presented at the 24 meeting, or about opinions formed by the person as a result of the meetings. This 25 subsection shall not, however, prohibit a person from testifying in a civil or criminal 26 action about matters within that person's independent knowledge.

27 (d) Each member of a Local Team and invited participant shall sign a statement
28 indicating an understanding of and adherence to confidentiality requirements,
29 including the possible civil or criminal consequences of any breach of confidentiality.

30 (e) Cases receiving child protective services at the time of review by a Local 31 Team shall have an entry in the child's protective services record to indicate that the 32 case was received by that Team. Additional entry into the record shall be at the 33 discretion of the director of the county department of social services.

34 (f) The Social Services Commission shall adopt rules to implement this section in 35 connection with reviews conducted by Community Child Protection Teams. The 36 Health Services Commission shall adopt rules to implement this section in connection 37 with Local Teams that review additional child fatalities. In particular, these rules 38 shall allow information generated by an executive session of a Local Team to be 39 accessible for administrative or research purposes only.

40 "§ 7B-1414. Administration; funding.

41 (a) To the extent of funds available, the chairs of the Task Force and State Team

(c) The court has jurisdiction over the parent, guardian, or custodian of a juvenile who is under the jurisdiction of the court pursuant to this section, if the parent, guardian, or custodian has been served with a summons pursuant to G.S. 7B-1805.

"§ 7B-1601. Jurisdiction over delinquent juveniles.

(a) The court has exclusive, original jurisdiction over any case involving a juvenile who is alleged to be delinquent. For purposes of determining jurisdiction, the age of the juvenile at the time of the alleged offense governs.

(b) When the court obtains jurisdiction over a juvenile alleged to be delinquent, jurisdiction shall continue until terminated by order of the court or until the juvenile reaches the age of 18 years, except as provided otherwise in this Article.

(c) When delinquency proceedings cannot be concluded before the juvenile reaches the age of 18 years, the court retains jurisdiction for the sole purpose of conducting proceedings pursuant to Article 22 of this Chapter and either transferring the case to superior court for trial as an adult or dismissing the petition.

(d) When the court has not obtained jurisdiction over a juvenile before the juvenile reaches the age of 18, for a felony and any related misdemeanors the juvenile allegedly committed on or after the juvenile's thirteenth birthday and prior to the juvenile's sixteenth birthday, the court has jurisdiction for the sole purpose of conducting proceedings pursuant to Article 22 of this Chapter and either transferring the case to superior court for trial as an adult or dismissing the petition.

(g) The court has jurisdiction over the parent, guardian, or custodian of a juvenile who is under the jurisdiction of the court pursuant to this section if the parent, guardian, or custodian has been served with a summons pursuant to G.S. 7B-1805.

If the court orders that jurisdiction be extended pursuant to G.S. 7B-2513, jurisdiction over a juvenile shall continue after the juvenile reaches the age of 18 years until (i) jurisdiction is terminated by order of the court or (ii) the juvenile reaches the age of 19 years.

The court has exclusive original jurisdiction of the following proceedings:

(1) Proceedings under the Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children set forth in Article 38 of this Chapter;

"ARTICLE 17.

"Screening of Delinquency and Undisciplined Complaints.

"§ 7B-1700. Intake services.

The chief court counselor, under the direction of the Secretary, shall establish intake services in each judicial district of the State for all delinquency and undisciplined cases.

The purpose of intake services shall be to determine from available evidence whether there are reasonable grounds to believe the facts alleged are true, to determine whether the facts alleged constitute a delinquent or undisciplined offense within the jurisdiction of the court, to determine whether the facts alleged are sufficiently serious to warrant court action, and to obtain assistance from community resources when court referral is not necessary. The intake counselor shall not engage in field investigations to substantiate complaints or to produce supplementary evidence but may refer complainants to law enforcement agencies for those purposes.

"§ 7B-1701. Preliminary inquiry.

When a complaint is received, the intake counselor shall make a preliminary determination as to whether the juvenile is within the jurisdiction of the court as a delinquent or undisciplined juvenile. If the intake counselor finds that the facts contained in the complaint do not state a case within the jurisdiction of the court, that legal sufficiency has not been established, or that the matters alleged are frivolous, the intake counselor, without further inquiry, shall refuse authorization to file the complaint as a petition.

1 When requested by the intake counselor, the prosecutor shall assist in determining 2 the sufficiency of evidence as it affects the quantum of proof and the elements of 3 offenses.

4 The intake counselor, without further inquiry, shall authorize the complaint to be 5 filed as a petition if the intake counselor finds reasonable grounds to believe that the 6 juvenile has committed one of the following nondivertible offenses:

7 (1) Murder;

8 (2) First-degree rape or second degree rape;

9 (3) First-degree sexual offense or second degree sexual offense;

10 (4) Arson;

11 (5) Any violation of Article 5, Chapter 90 of the General Statutes that 12 would constitute a felony if committed by an adult;

13 (6) First degree burglary;

14 (7) Crime against nature; or 15 (8) Any felony which involves the willful infliction of serious bodily 16 injury upon another or which was committed by use of a deadly 17 weapon.

18 "§ 7B-1702. Evaluation.

19 Upon a finding of legal sufficiency, except in cases involving nondivertible offenses
20 set out in G.S. 7B-1701, the intake counselor shall determine whether a complaint
21 should be filed as a petition, the juvenile diverted pursuant to G.S. 7B-1706, or the 22 case resolved without further action. In making the decision, the counselor shall 23 consider criteria provided by the Secretary. The intake process shall include the 24 following steps if practicable:

25 (1) Interviews with the complainant and the victim if someone other
26 than the complainant;

27 (2) Interviews with the juvenile and the juvenile's parent, guardian, or 28 custodian;

29 (3) Interviews with persons known to have relevant information about 30 the juvenile or the juvenile's family.

31 Interviews required by this section shall be conducted in person unless it is necessary
32 to conduct them by telephone.

33 "§ 7B-1703. Evaluation decision.

34 (a) The intake counselor shall complete evaluation of a complaint within 15 days
35 of receipt of the complaint, with an extension for a maximum of 15 additional days at 36 the discretion of the chief court counselor. The intake counselor shall decide within 37 this time period whether a complaint shall be filed as a juvenile petition.

38 (b) If the intake counselor determines that a complaint should be filed as a
39 petition, the counselor shall file the petition as soon as practicable, but in any event
40 within 15 days after the complaint is received, with an extension for a maximum of 41 15 additional days at the discretion of the chief court counselor. The intake
42 counselor shall assist the complainant when necessary with the preparation and filing 43 of the petition, shall include on it the date and the words 'Approved for Filing', shall 44 sign it, and shall transmit it to the clerk of superior court.

(c) If the intake counselor determines that a petition should not be filed, the intake counselor shall notify the complainant immediately in writing with reasons for the decision and shall include notice of the complainant's right to have the decision reviewed by the prosecutor. The intake counselor shall sign the complaint after indicating on it:

- (1) The date of the determination;
- (2) The words 'Not Approved for Filing'; and
- (3) Whether the matter is 'Closed' or 'Diverted and Retained'.

Except as provided in G.S. 7B-1706, any complaint not approved for filing as a juvenile petition shall be destroyed by the intake counselor after holding the complaint for a temporary period to allow review as provided in G.S. 7B-1705.

"§ 7B-1704. Request for review by prosecutor.

The complainant has five calendar days, from receipt of the intake counselor's decision not to approve the filing of a petition, to request review by the prosecutor. The intake counselor shall notify the prosecutor immediately of such request and shall transmit to the prosecutor a copy of the complaint. The prosecutor shall notify the complainant and the intake counselor of the time and place for the review.

"§ 7B-1705. Review of determination that petition should not be filed.

No later than 20 days after the complainant is notified, the prosecutor shall review the intake counselor's determination that a juvenile petition should not be filed. Review shall include conferences with the complainant and the intake counselor. At the conclusion of the review, the prosecutor shall: (i) affirm the decision of the intake counselor or direct the filing of a petition and (ii) notify the complainant of the prosecutor's action.

"§ 7B-1706. Diversion plans and referral.

(a) Unless the offense is one in which a petition is required by G.S. 7B-1701, upon a finding of legal sufficiency the intake counselor may divert the juvenile pursuant to a diversion plan, which may include referring the juvenile to any of the following resources:

- (1) An appropriate public or private resource;
- (2) Restitution;
- (3) Community service;
- (4) Victim-offender mediation;
- (5) Regimented physical training;
- (6) Counseling;
- (7) A teen court program, as set forth in subsection (c) of this section.

As part of a diversion plan, the intake counselor may enter into a diversion contract with the juvenile and the juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian.

(b) Unless the offense is one in which a petition is required by G.S. 7B-1701, upon a finding of legal sufficiency the intake counselor may enter into a diversion contract with the juvenile and the parent, guardian, or custodian; provided, a diversion contract requires the consent of the juvenile and the juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian. A diversion contract shall:

- (1) State conditions by which the juvenile agrees to abide and any actions the juvenile agrees to take;
- (2) State conditions by which the parent, guardian, or custodian agrees to abide and any actions the parent, guardian, or custodian agrees to take;
- (3) Describe the role of the court counselor in relation to the juvenile and the parent, guardian, or custodian;
- (4) Specify the length of the contract, which shall not exceed six months;
- (5) Indicate that all parties understand and agree that:
  - a. The juvenile's violation of the contract may result in the filing of the complaint as a petition; and
  - b. The juvenile's successful completion of the contract shall preclude the filing of a petition.

After a diversion contract is signed by the parties, the intake counselor shall provide copies of the contract to the juvenile and the juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian. The intake counselor shall notify any agency or other resource from which the juvenile or the juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian will be seeking services or treatment pursuant to the terms of the contract. At any time during the term of the contract if the court counselor determines that the juvenile has failed to comply substantially with the terms of the contract, the court counselor shall file the complaint as a petition. Unless the court counselor has filed the complaint as a petition, the counselor shall close the juvenile's file in regard to the diverted matter within six months after the date of the contract.

(c) If a teen court program has been established in the district, the intake counselor, upon a finding of legal sufficiency, may refer any case in which a juvenile has allegedly committed an offense that would be an infraction or misdemeanor if committed by an adult to a teen court program. However, the counselor shall not refer a case to a teen court program (i) if the juvenile has been referred to a teen court program previously, or (ii) if the juvenile is alleged to have committed any of the following offenses:

- (1) Driving while impaired under G.S. 20-138.1, 20-138.2, 20-138.3, 20-138.5, or 20-138.7, or any other motor vehicle violation;
- (2) A Class A1 misdemeanor;
- (3) An assault in which a weapon is used; or
- (4) A controlled substance offense under Article 5 of Chapter 90 of the General Statutes, other than simple possession of a Schedule VI drug or alcohol.

(d) The intake counselor shall maintain diversion plans and contracts entered into pursuant to this section to allow intake counselors to determine when a juvenile has had a complaint diverted previously. Diversion plans and contracts are not public records under Chapter 132 of the General Statutes, shall not be included in the clerk's record pursuant to G.S. 7B-3000, and shall be withheld from public inspection or examination. Diversion plans and contracts shall be destroyed when the juvenile

1 reaches the age of 18 years or when the juvenile is no longer under the jurisdiction of
2 the court, whichever is longer.

3 (e) No later than 60 days after the intake counselor diverts a juvenile, the intake
4 counselor shall determine whether the juvenile and the juvenile's parent, guardian, or
5 custodian have complied with the terms of the diversion plan or contract. In making
6 this determination, the intake counselor shall contact any referral resources to
7 determine whether the juvenile and the juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian
8 complied with any recommendations for treatment or services made by the resource.
9 If the juvenile and the juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian have not complied,
10 the intake counselor shall reconsider the decision to divert and may authorize the 11 filing of the complaint as a petition within 10 days after making the determination. If 12 the intake counselor does not file a petition, the intake counselor may continue to 13 monitor the case for up to six months from the date of the diversion plan or contract.
14 At any point during that time period if the juvenile and the juvenile's parent, 15 guardian, or custodian fail to comply, the intake counselor shall reconsider the 16 decision to divert and may authorize the filing of the complaint as a petition. After 17 six months, the intake counselor shall close the diversion plan or contract file.

18 "ARTICLE 18.

19 "Venue; Petition; Summons.

20 "§ 7B-1800. Venue.

21 A proceeding in which a juvenile is alleged to be delinquent or undisciplined shall 22 be commenced and adjudicated in the district in which the offense is alleged to have 23 occurred. When a proceeding is commenced in a district other than that of the 24 juvenile's residence, the court shall proceed to adjudication in that district. After 25 adjudication, these procedures shall be available to the court:

- 26 (1) The court may transfer the proceeding to the court in the district
27 where the juvenile resides for disposition.
28 (2) Where the proceeding is not transferred under subdivision (1) of 29 this section, the court shall immediately notify the chief district
30 judge in the district in which the juvenile resides. If the chief 31 district judge requests a transfer within five days after receipt of 32 notification, the court shall transfer the proceeding.
33 (3) Where the proceeding is not transferred under subdivision (1) or 34 (2), the court, upon motion of the juvenile, shall transfer the 35 proceeding to the court in the district where the juvenile resides
36 for disposition. The court shall advise the juvenile of the juvenile's 37 right to transfer under this section.

38 "§ 7B-1801. Pleading and process.

39 The pleading in a juvenile action is the petition. The process in a juvenile action is 40 the summons.

41 "§ 7B-1802. Petition.

42 The petition shall contain the name, date of birth, and address of the juvenile and 43 the name and last known address of the juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian.

1 The petition shall allege the facts which invoke jurisdiction over the juvenile. The 2 petition shall not contain information on more than one juvenile.

3 A petition in which delinquency is alleged shall contain a plain and concise 4 statement, without allegations of an evidentiary nature, asserting facts supporting 5 every element of a criminal offense and the juvenile's commission thereof with 6 sufficient precision clearly to apprise the juvenile of the conduct which is the subject
7 of the allegation.

8 Sufficient copies of the petition shall be prepared so that copies will be available
9 for the juvenile, for each parent if living separate and apart, for the court counselor,
10 for the prosecutor, and for any person determined by the court to be a necessary 11 party.

12 "§ 7B-1803. Receipt of complaints; filing of petition.

13 (a) All complaints concerning a juvenile alleged to be delinquent or undisciplined
14 shall be referred to the intake counselor for screening and evaluation. Thereafter, if 15 the intake counselor determines that a petition should be filed, the petition shall be 16 drawn by the intake counselor or the clerk, signed by the complainant, and verified
17 before an official authorized to administer oaths. If the circumstances indicate a need 18 for immediate attachment of jurisdiction and if the intake counselor is out of the 19 county or otherwise unavailable to receive a complaint and to draw a petition when 20 it is needed, the clerk shall assist the complainant in communicating the complaint to 21 the intake counselor by telephone and, with the approval of the intake counselor,
22 shall draw a petition and file it when signed and verified. A copy of the complaint
23 and petition shall be transmitted to the intake counselor. Procedures for receiving 24 delinquency and undisciplined complaints and drawing petitions thereon, consistent
25 with this Article and Article 17 of this Chapter shall be established by administrative
26 order of the chief judge in each judicial district.

27 (b) If review is requested pursuant to G.S. 7B-1704, the prosecutor shall review a 28 complaint and any decision of the intake counselor not to authorize that the 29 complaint be filed as a petition. If the prosecutor, after review, authorizes a 30 complaint to be filed as a petition, the prosecutor shall prepare the complaint to be
31 filed by the clerk as a petition, recording the day of filing.

32 "§ 7B-1804. Commencement of action.

33 (a) An action is commenced by the filing of a petition in the clerk's office when 34 that office is open, or by a magistrate's acceptance of a petition for filing pursuant to 35 subsection (b) of this section when the clerk's office is closed.

36 (b) When the office of the clerk is closed and an intake counselor requests a
37 petition alleging a juvenile to be delinquent or undisciplined, a magistrate may draw
38 and verify the petition and accept it for filing, which acceptance shall constitute
39 filing. The magistrate's authority under this subsection is limited to emergency
40 situations when a petition is required in order to obtain a secure or nonsecure
41 custody order. Any petition accepted for filing under this subsection shall be 42 delivered to the clerk's office for processing as soon as that office is open for 43 business.

44 "§ 7B-1805. Issuance of summons.

1 (a) Immediately after a petition has been filed alleging that a juvenile is
2 undisciplined or delinquent, the clerk shall issue a summons to the juvenile and to
3 the parent, guardian, or custodian requiring them to appear for a hearing at the time
4 and place stated in the summons. A copy of the petition shall be attached to each
5 summons.

6 (b) A summons shall be on a printed form supplied by the Administrative Office
7 of the Courts and shall include:

- 8 (1) Notice of the nature of the proceeding and the purpose of the 9 hearing scheduled on the summons.
- 10 (2) Notice of any right to counsel and information about how to seek 11 the appointment of counsel prior to a hearing.
- 12 (3) Notice that, if the court determines at the adjudicatory hearing that 13 the allegations of the petition are true, the court will conduct a
14 dispositional hearing and will have jurisdiction to enter orders
15 affecting substantial rights of the juvenile and of the parent,
16 guardian, or custodian, including orders that:
  - 17 a. Affect the juvenile's custody;
  - 18 b. Impose conditions on the juvenile;
  - 19 c. Require that the juvenile receive medical, psychiatric,
20 psychological, or other treatment and that the parent,
21 guardian, or custodian participate in the treatment;
  - 22 d. Require the parent, guardian, or custodian to undergo 23 psychiatric, psychological, or other treatment or counseling;
  - 24 e. Order the parent to pay for treatment that is ordered for the 25 juvenile or the parent; and
  - 26 f. Order the parent to pay support for the juvenile for any 27 period the juvenile does not reside with the parent or to pay
28 attorneys' fees or other expenses as ordered by the court.
- 29 (4) Notice that the parent, guardian, or custodian shall be required to 30 attend scheduled hearings and that failure without reasonable 31 cause to attend may result in proceedings for contempt of court.
- 32 (5) Notice that the parent, guardian, or custodian shall be responsible 33 for bringing the juvenile before the court at any hearing the 34 juvenile is required to attend and that failure without reasonable 35 cause to bring the juvenile before the court may result in 36 proceedings for contempt of court.

37 (c) The summons shall advise the parent, guardian, or custodian that upon 38 service, jurisdiction over the parent, guardian, or custodian is obtained and that 39 failure of the parent, guardian, or custodian to appear or bring the juvenile before the 40 court without reasonable cause or to comply with any order of the court pursuant to 41 Article 27 of this Chapter may cause the court to issue a show cause order for 42 contempt. The summons shall contain the following language in bold type:

1 'TO THE PARENT, GUARDIAN, OR CUSTODIAN: YOUR FAILURE TO APPEAR
2 IN COURT FOR A SCHEDULED HEARING OR TO COMPLY WITH AN ORDER
3 OF THE COURT MAY RESULT IN A FINDING OF CONTEMPT.'

4 (d) A summons shall be directed to the person summoned to appear and shall be
5 delivered to any person authorized to serve process.

6 "§ 7B-1806. Service of summons.

7 The summons and petition shall be personally served upon the parent, the 8 guardian, or custodian and the juvenile not less than five days prior to the date of the 9 scheduled hearing. The time for service may be waived in the discretion of the court.

10 If the parent, guardian, or custodian entitled to receive a summons cannot be 11 found by a diligent effort, the court may authorize service of the summons and 12 petition by mail or by publication. The cost of the service by publication shall be 13 advanced by the petitioner and may be charged as court costs as the court may direct.

14 The court may issue a show cause order for contempt against a parent, guardian,
15 or custodian who is personally served and fails without reasonable cause to appear 16 and to bring the juvenile before the court.

17 The provisions of G.S. 15A-301(a), (c), (d), and (e) relating to criminal process
18 apply to juvenile process; provided the period of time for return of an unserved
19 summons is 30 days.

20 "§ 7B-1806.1. Notice to parent and juvenile of scheduled hearings.

21 The clerk shall give to all parties, including both parents of the juvenile, five days 22 written notice of the date and time of all scheduled hearings unless the party is 23 notified in open court or the court orders otherwise.

24 "§ 7B-1807. First appearance for felony cases.

25 (a) A juvenile who is alleged in the petition to have committed an offense that 26 would be a felony if committed by an adult shall be summoned to appear before the 27 court for a first appearance within 10 days of the filing of the petition. If the juvenile 28 is in secure or nonsecure custody, the first appearance shall take place at the initial
29 hearing required by G.S. 7B-1906. Unless the juvenile is in secure or nonsecure
30 custody, the court may continue the first appearance to a time certain for good cause.

31 (b) At the first appearance, the court shall:

- 32 (1) Inform the juvenile of the allegations set forth in the petition;
- 33 (2) Determine whether the juvenile has retained counsel or has been 34 assigned counsel and, if the juvenile is not represented by counsel,
35 appoint counsel for the juvenile;
- 36 (3) If applicable, inform the juvenile of the date of the probable cause 37 hearing, which shall be within 15 days of the first appearance; and
- 38 (4) Inform the parent, guardian, or custodian that the parent, guardian, 39 or custodian is required to attend all hearings scheduled in the 40 matter and may be held in contempt of court for failure to attend
41 any scheduled hearing.

42 "ARTICLE 19.

43 "Temporary Custody; Secure and Nonsecure Custody;
44 Custody Hearings.

1 "§ 7B-1900. Taking a juvenile into temporary custody.

2 Temporary custody means the taking of physical custody and providing personal
3 care and supervision until a court order for secure or nonsecure custody can be
4 obtained. A juvenile may be taken into temporary custody without a court order
5 under the following circumstances:

- 6 (1) By a law enforcement officer if grounds exist for the arrest of an
7 adult in identical circumstances under G.S. 15A-401(b).
8 (2) By a law enforcement officer or a court counselor if there are 9 reasonable grounds to believe that the juvenile is an undisciplined
10 juvenile.
11 (3) By a law enforcement officer, by a court counselor, by a member
12 of the Black Mountain Center, Alcohol Rehabilitation Center, and 13 Juvenile Evaluation Center Joint Security Force established
14 pursuant to G.S. 122C-421, or by personnel of the Department if 15 there are reasonable grounds to believe the juvenile is an
16 absconder from any residential facility operated by the Department
17 or from an approved detention facility.

18 "§ 7B-1901. Duties of person taking juvenile into temporary custody.

19 (a) A person who takes a juvenile into custody without a court order under G.S.
20 7B-1900(1) or (2) shall proceed as follows:

- 21 (1) Notify the juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian that the 22 juvenile has been taken into temporary custody and advise the 23 parent, guardian, or custodian of the right to be present with the 24 juvenile until a determination is made as to the need for secure or 25 nonsecure custody. Failure to notify the parent, guardian, or 26 custodian that the juvenile is in custody shall not be grounds for 27 release of the juvenile.
28 (2) Release the juvenile to the juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian 29 if the person having the juvenile in temporary custody decides that 30 continued custody is unnecessary. In the case of a juvenile 31 unlawfully absent from school, if continued custody is unnecessary, 32 the person having temporary custody may deliver the juvenile to 33 the juvenile's school or, if the local city or county government and 34 the local school board adopt a policy, to a place in the local school
35 administrative unit.
36 (3) If the juvenile is not released, request that a petition be drawn 37 pursuant to G.S. 7B-1803 or G.S. 7B-1804. Once the petition has 38 been drawn and verified, the person shall communicate with the 39 intake counselor. If the intake counselor approves the filing of the 40 petition, the intake counselor shall contact the judge, or the person 41 delegated authority pursuant to G.S. 7B-1902 if other than the 42 intake counselor, for a determination of the need for continued
43 custody.

(b) A juvenile taken into temporary custody under this Article shall not be held for more than 12 hours, or for more than 24 hours if any of the 12 hours falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, unless a petition or motion for review has been filed and an order for secure or nonsecure custody has been entered.

(c) A person who takes a juvenile into custody under G.S. 7B-1900(3), after receiving an order for secure custody, shall transport the juvenile to the nearest approved facility providing secure custody. The person then shall contact the administrator of the facility from which the juvenile absconded, who shall be responsible for returning the juvenile to that facility.

"§ 7B-1902. Authority to issue custody orders; delegation.

In the case of any juvenile alleged to be within the jurisdiction of the court, when the court finds it necessary to place the juvenile in custody, the court may order that the juvenile be placed in secure or nonsecure custody pursuant to criteria set out in G.S. 7B-1903.

Any district court judge may issue secure and nonsecure custody orders pursuant to G.S. 7B-1903. The chief district court judge may delegate the court's authority to the chief court counselor or the chief court counselor's counseling staff by administrative order filed in the office of the clerk of superior court. The administrative order shall specify which persons may be contacted for approval of a secure or nonsecure custody order. The chief district court judge shall not delegate the court's authority to detain or house juveniles in holdover facilities pursuant to G.S. 7B-1905 or G.S. 7B-2509.

"§ 7B-1903. Criteria for secure or nonsecure custody.

(a) When a request is made for nonsecure custody, the court shall first consider release of the juvenile to the juvenile's parent, guardian, custodian, or other responsible adult. An order for nonsecure custody shall be made only when there is a reasonable factual basis to believe the matters alleged in the petition are true, and that:

- (1) The juvenile is a runaway and consents to nonsecure custody; or
- (2) The juvenile meets one or more of the criteria for secure custody, but the court finds it in the best interests of the juvenile that the juvenile be placed in a nonsecure placement.

(b) When a request is made for secure custody, the court may order secure custody only where the court finds there is a reasonable factual basis to believe that the juvenile committed the offense as alleged in the petition, and that:

- (1) The juvenile is charged with a felony and has demonstrated that the juvenile is a danger to property or persons;
- (2) The juvenile is charged with a misdemeanor at least one element of which is assault on a person;
- (3) The juvenile has willfully failed to appear on a pending delinquency charge or on charges of violation of probation or post-release supervision, providing the juvenile was properly notified;
- (4) A delinquency charge is pending against the juvenile, and there is reasonable cause to believe the juvenile will not appear in court;

- 1           (5) The juvenile is an absconder from (i) any residential facility
2 operated by the Department or any detention facility in this State
3 or (ii) any comparable facility in another state;
- 4           (6) There is reasonable cause to believe the juvenile should be
5 detained for the juvenile's own protection because the juvenile has 6 recently suffered or attempted self-inflicted physical injury. In such
7 case, the juvenile must have been refused admission by one
8 appropriate hospital, and the period of secure custody is limited to 9 24 hours to determine the need for inpatient hospitalization. If the 10 juvenile is placed in secure custody, the juvenile shall receive 11 continuous supervision and a physician shall be notified
12 immediately;
- 13           (7) The juvenile is alleged to be undisciplined by virtue of the 14 juvenile's being a runaway and is inappropriate for nonsecure
15 custody placement or refuses nonsecure custody, and the court
16 finds that the juvenile needs secure custody for up to 24 hours,
17 excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and State holidays, or where 18 circumstances require, for a period not to exceed 72 hours to 19 evaluate the juvenile's need for medical or psychiatric treatment or 20 to facilitate reunion with the juvenile's parents; or
- 21           (8) The juvenile is alleged to be undisciplined and has willfully failed 22 to appear in court after proper notice; the juvenile shall be brought 23 to court as soon as possible and in no event should be held more
24 than 24 hours, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and State holidays or 25 where circumstances require for a period not to exceed 72 hours.
- 26       (c) When a juvenile has been adjudicated delinquent, the court may order secure 27 custody pending the dispositional hearing or pending placement of the juvenile 28 pursuant to G.S. 7B-2504.
- 29       (d) The court may order secure custody for a juvenile who is alleged to have 30 violated the conditions of the juvenile's probation or post-release supervision, but 31 only if the juvenile is alleged to have committed acts that damage property or injure 32 persons.
- 33       (e) If the criteria for secure custody as set out in subsection (b), (c), or (d) of this 34 section are met, the court may enter an order directing an officer or other authorized 35 person to assume custody of the juvenile and to take the juvenile to the place 36 designated in the order.
- 37       "§ 7B-1904. Order for secure or nonsecure custody.
38       The custody order shall be in writing and shall direct a law enforcement officer or 39 other authorized person to assume custody of the juvenile and to make due return on 40 the order. The official executing the order shall give a copy of the order to the 41 juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian. If the order is for secure custody, copies of 42 the petition and custody order shall accompany the juvenile to the detention facility
43 or holdover facility of the jail. A message of the Division of Criminal Information, 44 State Bureau of Investigation, stating that a juvenile petition and secure custody order relating to a specified juvenile are on file in a particular county shall be authority to detain the juvenile in secure custody until a copy of the juvenile petition and secure custody order can be forwarded to the juvenile detention facility. The copies of the juvenile petition and secure custody order shall be transmitted to the detention facility no later than 72 hours after the initial detention of the juvenile.

An officer receiving an order for custody which is complete and regular on its face may execute it in accordance with its terms and need not inquire into its regularity or continued validity, nor does the officer incur criminal or civil liability for its execution.

"§ 7B-1905. Place of secure or nonsecure custody.

(a) A juvenile meeting the criteria set out in G.S. 7B-1903(a), may be placed in nonsecure custody with a department of social services or a person designated in the order for temporary residential placement in:

- (1) A licensed foster home or a home otherwise authorized by law to provide such care;
- (2) A facility operated by a department of social services; or
- (3) Any other home or facility approved by the court and designated in the order.

In placing a juvenile in nonsecure custody, the court shall first consider whether a relative of the juvenile is willing and able to provide proper care and supervision of the juvenile. If the court finds that the relative is willing and able to provide proper care and supervision, the court shall order placement of the juvenile with the relative. Placement of a juvenile outside of this State shall be in accordance with the Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children set forth in Article 38 of this Chapter.

(b) A juvenile meeting the criteria set out in G.S. 7B-1903(b), (c), or (d) may be temporarily detained in an approved detention facility which shall be separate from any jail, lockup, prison, or other adult penal institution, except as provided in subsection (c) of this section. It shall be unlawful for a county or any unit of government to operate a juvenile detention facility unless the facility meets the standards and rules adopted by the Department of Health and Human Services.

(c) A juvenile who has allegedly committed an offense that would be a Class A, B1, B2, C, D, or E felony if committed by an adult may be detained in secure custody in a holdover facility up to 72 hours, if the court, based on information provided by the court counselor, determines that no acceptable alternative placement is available and the protection of the public requires the juvenile be housed in a holdover facility.

"§ 7B-1906. Secure or nonsecure custody hearings.

(a) No juvenile shall be held under a secure custody order for more than five calendar days or under a nonsecure custody order for more than seven calendar days without a hearing on the merits or an initial hearing to determine the need for continued custody. A hearing conducted under this subsection may not be continued or waived. In every case in which an order has been entered by an official exercising authority delegated pursuant to G.S. 7B-1902, a hearing to determine the need for continued custody shall be conducted on the day of the next regularly scheduled session of district court in the city or county where the order was entered if the

1 session precedes the expiration of the applicable time period set forth in this
2 subsection. If the session does not precede the expiration of the time period, the
3 hearing may be conducted at another regularly scheduled session of district court in 4 the district where the order was entered.

5 (b) As long as the juvenile remains in secure or nonsecure custody, further
6 hearings to determine the need for continued secure custody shall be held at intervals
7 of no more than 10 calendar days. A subsequent hearing on continued nonsecure
8 custody shall be held within seven business days, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and 9 legal holidays, of the initial hearing required in subsection (a) of this section and 10 hearings thereafter shall be held at intervals of no more than 30 calendar days. In the 11 case of a juvenile alleged to be delinquent, further hearings may be waived only with 12 the consent of the juvenile, through counsel for the juvenile.

13 (c) The court shall determine whether a juvenile who is alleged to be delinquent
14 has retained counsel or has been assigned counsel; and, if the juvenile is not 15 represented by counsel, appoint counsel for the juvenile.

16 (d) At a hearing to determine the need for continued custody, the court shall 17 receive testimony and shall allow the juvenile and the juvenile's parent, guardian, or 18 custodian an opportunity to introduce evidence, to be heard in their own behalf, and 19 to examine witnesses. The State shall bear the burden at every stage of the 20 proceedings to provide clear and convincing evidence that restraints on the juvenile's
21 liberty are necessary and that no less intrusive alternative will suffice. The court shall 22 not be bound by the usual rules of evidence at the hearings.

23 (e) The court shall be bound by criteria set forth in G.S. 7B-1903 in determining
24 whether continued custody is warranted.

25 (f) The court may impose appropriate restrictions on the liberty of a juvenile who
26 is released from secure custody, including:

27 (1) Release on the written promise of the juvenile's parent, guardian,
28 or custodian to produce the juvenile in court for subsequent
29 proceedings;

30 (2) Release into the care of a responsible person or organization;

31 (3) Release conditioned on restrictions on activities, associations,
32 residence, or travel if reasonably related to securing the juvenile's
33 presence in court; or

34 (4) Any other conditions reasonably related to securing the juvenile's
35 presence in court.

36 (g) If the court determines that the juvenile meets the criteria in G.S. 7B-1903 and
37 should continue in custody, the court shall issue an order to that effect. The order
38 shall be in writing with appropriate findings of fact. The findings of fact shall include
39 the evidence relied upon in reaching the decision and the purposes which continued
40 custody is to achieve.

41 (h) The court may conduct a hearing to determine the need to continue custody 42 by audio and video transmission between the court and the juvenile in which the 43 parties can see and hear each other. If the juvenile has counsel, the juvenile may 44 communicate fully and confidentially with the juvenile's attorney during the

1 proceeding. Prior to the use of audio and video transmission, the procedures and 2 type of equipment for audio and video transmission shall be submitted to the 3 Administrative Office of the Courts by the chief district court judge and approved by
4 the Administrative Office of the Courts.

5 "§ 7B-1907. Telephonic communication authorized.

6 All communications, notices, orders, authorizations, and requests authorized or
7 required by G.S. 7B-1901, 7B-1903, and 7B-1904 may be made by telephone when
8 other means of communication are impractical. All written orders pursuant to 9 telephonic communication shall bear the name and the title of the person
10 communicating by telephone, the signature and the title of the official entering the 11 order, and the hour and the date of the authorization.

12 "ARTICLE 20.

13 "Basic Rights.

14 "§ 7B-2000. Juvenile's right to counsel; presumption of indigence.

15 (a) A juvenile alleged to be within the jurisdiction of the court has the right to be 16 represented by counsel in all proceedings. The court shall appoint counsel for the 17 juvenile, unless counsel is retained for the juvenile, in any proceeding in which the 18 juvenile is alleged to be (i) delinquent or (ii) in contempt of court when alleged or 19 adjudicated to be undisciplined.

20 (b) All juveniles shall be conclusively presumed to be indigent, and it shall not be
21 necessary for the court to receive from any juvenile an affidavit of indigency.

22 "§ 7B-2001. Appointment of guardian.

23 In any case when no parent, guardian, or custodian appears in a hearing with the 24 juvenile or when the court finds it would be in the best interests of the juvenile, the 25 court may appoint a guardian of the person for the juvenile. The guardian shall 26 operate under the supervision of the court with or without bond and shall file only 27 such reports as the court shall require. Unless the court orders otherwise, the 28 guardian:

- 29       (1) Shall have the care, custody, and control of the juvenile or may 30       arrange a suitable placement for the juvenile.
31       (2) May represent the juvenile in legal actions before any court.
32       (3) May consent to certain actions on the part of the juvenile in place
33       of the parent, guardian, or custodian, including (i) marriage, (ii)
34       enlisting in the armed forces, and (iii) enrollment in school.
35       (4) May consent to any necessary remedial, psychological, medical, or 36       surgical treatment for the juvenile.

37 The authority of the guardian shall continue until the guardianship is terminated by 38 court order, until the juvenile is emancipated pursuant to Subchapter IV of this
39 Chapter, or until the juvenile reaches the age of majority.

40 "§ 7B-2002. Payment of court-appointed attorney.

41 An attorney appointed pursuant to G.S. 7B-2000 or pursuant to any other
42 provision of this Subchapter shall be paid a reasonable fee fixed by the court in the 43 same manner as fees for attorneys appointed in cases of indigency through the 44 Administrative Office of the Courts. The court may require payment of the

1 attorneys' fees from a person other than the juvenile as provided in G.S. 7A-450.1,
2 7A-450.2, and 7A-450.3. A person who does not comply with the court's order of
3 payment may be found in civil contempt as provided in G.S. 5A-21.

4 "ARTICLE 21.

5 "Law Enforcement Procedures in Delinquency Proceedings.

6 "§ 7B-2100. Role of the law enforcement officer.

7 A law enforcement officer who takes a juvenile into temporary custody should
8 select the most appropriate course of action to the situation, the needs of the juvenile,
9 and the protection of the public safety. The officer may:

- 10 (1) Release the juvenile, with or without first counseling the juvenile;
11 (2) Release the juvenile to the juvenile's parent, guardian, or 12 custodian;
13 (3) Refer the juvenile to community resources;
14 (4) Seek a petition; or
15 (5) Seek a petition and request a custody order.

16 "§ 7B-2101. Interrogation procedures.

17 (a) Any juvenile in custody must be advised prior to questioning:

- 18 (1) That the juvenile has a right to remain silent;
19 (2) That any statement the juvenile does make can be and may be 20 used against the juvenile;
21 (3) That the juvenile has a right to have a parent, guardian, or 22 custodian present during questioning; and
23 (4) That the juvenile has a right to consult with an attorney and that 24 one will be appointed for the juvenile if the juvenile is not 25 represented and wants representation.

26 (b) When the juvenile is less than 14 years of age, no in-custody admission or 27 confession resulting from interrogation may be admitted into evidence unless the 28 confession or admission was made in the presence of the juvenile's parent, guardian,
29 custodian, or attorney. If an attorney is not present, the parent, guardian, or custodian
30 as well as the juvenile must be advised of the juvenile's rights as set out in subsection
31 (a) of this section; however, a parent, guardian, or custodian may not waive any right 32 on behalf of the juvenile.

33 (c) If the juvenile indicates in any manner and at any stage of questioning pursuant 34 to this section that the juvenile does not wish to be questioned further, the officer 35 shall cease questioning.

36 (d) Before admitting into evidence any statement resulting from custodial 37 interrogation, the court shall find that the juvenile knowingly, willingly, and 38 understandingly waived the juvenile's rights.

39 "§ 7B-2102. Fingerprinting and photographing juveniles.

40 (a) A law enforcement officer or agency may fingerprint and photograph a 41 juvenile in custody who is alleged to have committed an offense that would be a 42 felony if committed by an adult.

43 (b) If a law enforcement officer or agency does not take the fingerprints or a 44 photograph of the juvenile pursuant to subsection (a) of this section or the

1 fingerprints or photograph have been destroyed pursuant to subsection (e) of this
2 section, a law enforcement officer or agency shall fingerprint and photograph a 3 juvenile who has been adjudicated delinquent if the juvenile was 10 years of age or 4 older at the time the juvenile committed an offense that would be a felony if
5 committed by an adult.

6 (c) A law enforcement officer or agency who fingerprints or photographs a 7 juvenile pursuant to this section shall do so in a proper format for transfer to the 8 State Bureau of Investigation and the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Fingerprints 9 obtained pursuant to this section shall be transferred to the State Bureau of 10 Investigation and placed in the Automated Fingerprint Identification System (AFIS)
11 to be used for all investigative and comparison purposes. Photographs obtained 12 pursuant to this section shall be placed in a format approved by the State Bureau of 13 Investigation and may be used for all investigative or comparison purposes.
14 Fingerprints of a juvenile who has been adjudicated delinquent for an offense that 15 would be a Class A, B1, B2, C, D, or E felony if committed by an adult, and who was 16 10 years of age or older at the time the juvenile committed the offense, shall be 17 transferred to the Federal Bureau of Investigation to be used for all investigative or 18 comparison purposes.

19 (d) Fingerprints and photographs taken pursuant to this section are not public 20 records under Chapter 132 of the General Statutes, shall not be included in the 21 clerk's record pursuant to G.S. 7B-3000, shall be withheld from public inspection or 22 examination, and shall not be eligible for expunction pursuant to G.S. 7B-3200.
23 Fingerprints and photographs taken pursuant to this section shall be maintained
24 separately from any juvenile record, other than the electronic file maintained by the 25 State Bureau of Investigation.

26 (e) If a juvenile is fingerprinted and photographed pursuant to subsection (a) of 27 this section, the custodian of records shall destroy all fingerprints and photographs at 28 the earlier of the following:

29 (1) The intake counselor or prosecutor does not file a petition against 30 the juvenile;

31 (2) The court does not find probable cause pursuant to G.S. 7B-2202;
32 or

33 (3) The juvenile is not adjudicated delinquent.

34 The chief court counselor shall notify the local custodian of records, and the local 35 custodian of records shall notify any other record-holding agencies, when a decision
36 is made not to file a petition, the court does not find probable cause, or the court 37 does not adjudicate the juvenile delinquent.

38 "§ 7B-2103. Authority to issue nontestimonial identification order where juvenile 39 alleged to be delinquent.

40 Except as provided in G.S. 7B-2102, nontestimonial identification procedures shall 41 not be conducted on any juvenile without a court order issued pursuant to this
42 Article unless the juvenile has been charged as an adult or transferred to superior
43 court for trial as an adult in which case procedures applicable to adults, as set out in
44 Articles 14 and 23 of Chapter 15A of the General Statutes, shall apply. A

1 nontestimonial identification order authorized by this Article may be issued by any
2 judge of the district court or of the superior court upon request of a prosecutor. As
3 used in this Article, 'nontestimonial identification' means identification by
4 fingerprints, palm prints, footprints, measurements, blood specimens, urine specimens,
5 saliva samples, hair samples, or other reasonable physical examination, handwriting
6 exemplars, voice samples, photographs, and lineups or similar identification
7 procedures requiring the presence of a juvenile.

8 "§ 7B-2104. Time of application for nontestimonial identification order.

9 A request for a nontestimonial identification order may be made prior to taking a
10 juvenile into custody or after custody and prior to the adjudicatory hearing.

11 "§ 7B-2105. Grounds for nontestimonial identification order.

12 (a) Except as provided in subsection (b) of this section, a nontestimonial
13 identification order may issue only on affidavit or affidavits sworn to before the court
14 and establishing the following grounds for the order:

- 15       (1) That there is probable cause to believe that an offense has been 16       committed that would be a felony if committed by an adult;
17       (2) That there are reasonable grounds to suspect that the juvenile 18       named or described in the affidavit committed the offense; and 19       (3) That the results of specific nontestimonial identification procedures
20       will be of material aid in determining whether the juvenile named
21       in the affidavit committed the offense.

22 (b) A nontestimonial identification order to obtain a blood specimen from a
23 juvenile may issue only on affidavit or affidavits sworn to before the court and 24 establishing the following grounds for the order:

- 25       (1) That there is probable cause to believe that an offense has been
26       committed that would be a felony if committed by an adult;
27       (2) That there is probable cause to believe that the juvenile named or 28       described in the affidavit committed the offense; and 29       (3) That there is probable cause to believe that obtaining a blood 30       specimen from the juvenile will be of material aid in determining 31       whether the juvenile named in the affidavit committed the offense.

32 "§ 7B-2106. Issuance of order.

33 Upon a showing that the grounds specified in G.S. 7B-2105 exist, the judge may 34 issue an order following the same procedure as in the case of adults under G.S.
35 15A-274, 15A-275, 15A-276, 15A-277, 15A-278, 15A-279, 15A-280, and 15A-282.

36 "§ 7B-2107. Nontestimonial identification order at request of juvenile.

37 A juvenile in custody for or charged with an offense which if committed by an 38 adult would be a felony offense may request that nontestimonial identification
39 procedures be conducted. If it appears that the results of specific nontestimonial 40 identification procedures will be of material aid to the juvenile's defense, the judge to 41 whom the request was directed must order the State to conduct the identification
42 procedures.

43 "§ 7B-2108. Destruction of records resulting from nontestimonial identification
44 procedures.

The results of any nontestimonial identification procedures shall be retained or disposed of as follows:

- (1) If a petition is not filed against a juvenile who has been the subject of nontestimonial identification procedures, all records of the evidence shall be destroyed.
- (2) If the juvenile is not adjudicated delinquent or convicted in superior court following transfer, all records resulting from a nontestimonial order shall be destroyed. Further, in the case of a juvenile who is under 13 years of age and who is adjudicated delinquent for an offense that would be less than a felony if committed by an adult, all records shall be destroyed.
- (3) If a juvenile 13 years of age or older is adjudicated delinquent for an offense that would be a felony if committed by an adult, all records resulting from a nontestimonial order may be retained in the court file. Special precautions shall be taken to ensure that these records will be maintained in a manner and under sufficient safeguards to limit their use to inspection by law enforcement officers for comparison purposes in the investigation of a crime.
- (4) If the juvenile is transferred to and convicted in superior court, all records resulting from nontestimonial identification procedures shall be processed as in the case of an adult.
- (5) Any evidence seized pursuant to a nontestimonial order shall be retained by law enforcement officers until further order is entered by the court.
- (6) Destruction of nontestimonial identification records pursuant to this section shall be performed by the law enforcement agency having possession of the records. Following destruction, the law enforcement agency shall make written certification to the court of the destruction.

"§ 7B-2109. Penalty for willful violation.

Any person who willfully violates provisions of this Article which prohibit conducting nontestimonial identification procedures without an order issued by the court shall be guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor.

"ARTICLE 22.

"Probable Cause Hearing and Transfer Hearing.

"§ 7B-2200. Transfer of jurisdiction of juvenile to superior court; direct filing in superior court.

(a) Except as provided in subsection (b) of this section, after notice, hearing, and a finding of probable cause the court may, upon motion of the prosecutor or the juvenile's attorney or upon its own motion, transfer jurisdiction over a juvenile to superior court if the juvenile was 13 years of age or older at the time the juvenile allegedly committed an offense that would be a felony if committed by an adult. If the alleged felony constitutes a Class A felony and the court finds probable cause, the court shall transfer the case to the superior court for trial as in the case of adults.

1 (b) Notwithstanding G.S. 7B-1601, the prosecutor may file charges in superior
2 court against a juvenile who was 15 years of age at the time the juvenile allegedly 3 committed an offense that would be a Class A, B1, B2, C, D, or E felony if
4 committed by an adult.

5 "§ 7B-2201. Fingerprinting juvenile transferred to superior court.

6 When jurisdiction over a juvenile is transferred to the superior court, the juvenile
7 shall be fingerprinted and the juvenile's fingerprints shall be sent to the State Bureau
8 of Investigation.

9 "§ 7B-2202. Probable cause hearing.

10 (a) The court shall conduct a hearing to determine probable cause in all felony
11 cases in which a juvenile was 13 years of age or older when the offense was allegedly 12 committed. The hearing shall be conducted within 15 days of the date of the 13 juvenile's first appearance. The court may continue the hearing for good cause.

14 (b) At the probable cause hearing:

15 (1) A prosecutor shall represent the State;

16 (2) The juvenile shall be represented by counsel;

17 (3) The juvenile may testify, call, and examine witnesses, and present
18 evidence; and

19 (4) Each witness shall testify under oath or affirmation and be subject
20 to cross-examination.

21 (c) The State shall by nonhearsay evidence, or by evidence that satisfies an 22 exception to the hearsay rule, show that there is probable cause to believe that the 23 offense charged has been committed and that there is probable cause to believe that 24 the juvenile committed it, except:

25 (1) A report or copy of a report made by a physicist, chemist, firearms
26 identification expert, fingerprint technician, or an expert or 27 technician in some other scientific, professional, or medical field,
28 concerning the results of an examination, comparison, or test
29 performed in connection with the case in issue, when stated by that 30 person in a report made by the juvenile, is admissible in evidence;

31 (2) If there is no serious contest, reliable hearsay is admissible to prove 32 value, ownership of property, possession of property in a person
33 other than the juvenile, lack of consent of the owner, possessor, or 34 custodian of property to the breaking or entering of premises,
35 chain of custody, and authenticity of signatures.

36 (d) Counsel for the juvenile may waive in writing the right to the hearing and 37 stipulate to a finding of probable cause.

38 (e) If probable cause is found and transfer to superior court is not required by G.S.
39 7B-2200, upon motion of the prosecutor or the juvenile's attorney or upon its own 40 motion, the court shall either proceed to a transfer hearing or set a date for that 41 hearing. If the juvenile has not received notice of the intention to seek transfer at 42 least five days prior to the probable cause hearing, the court shall continue the 43 transfer hearing.

44 (f) If the court does not find probable cause for a felony offense, the court shall:

(1) Dismiss the proceeding, or

(2) If the court finds probable cause to believe that the juvenile committed a lesser included offense that would constitute a misdemeanor if committed by an adult, either proceed to an adjudicatory hearing or set a date for that hearing.

"§ 7B-2203. Transfer hearing.

(a) At the transfer hearing, the prosecutor and the juvenile may be heard and may offer evidence, and the juvenile's attorney may examine any court or probation records, or other records the court may consider in determining whether to transfer the case.

(b) In the transfer hearing, the court shall determine whether the protection of the public and the needs of the juvenile will be served by transfer of the case to superior court and shall consider the following factors:

(1) The age of the juvenile;

(2) The maturity of the juvenile;

(3) The intellectual functioning of the juvenile;

(4) The prior record of the juvenile;

(5) Prior attempts to rehabilitate the juvenile;

(6) Facilities or programs available to the court prior to the expiration of the court's jurisdiction under this Subchapter and the likelihood that the juvenile would benefit from treatment or rehabilitative efforts;

(7) Whether the alleged offense was committed in an aggressive, violent, premeditated, or willful manner; and

(8) The seriousness of the offense and whether the protection of the public requires that the juvenile be prosecuted as an adult.

(c) Any order of transfer shall specify the reasons for transfer. When the case is transferred to superior court, the superior court has jurisdiction over that felony, any offense based on the same act or transaction or on a series of acts or transactions connected together or constituting parts of a single scheme or plan of that felony, and any greater or lesser included offense of that felony.

(d) If the court does not transfer the case to superior court, the court shall either proceed to an adjudicatory hearing or set a date for that hearing.

"§ 7B-2204. Right to pretrial release; detention.

Once the order of transfer has been entered, the juvenile has the right to pretrial release as provided in G.S. 15A-533 and G.S. 15A-534. The release order shall specify the person or persons to whom the juvenile may be released. Pending release, the court shall order that the juvenile be detained in a detention facility while awaiting trial. The court may order the juvenile to be held in a holdover facility at any time the presence of the juvenile is required in court for pretrial hearings or trial, if the court finds that it would be inconvenient to return the juvenile to the detention facility.

Should the juvenile be found guilty, or enter a plea of guilty or no contest to a criminal offense in superior court and receive an active sentence, then immediate

1 transfer to the Department of Correction shall be ordered. Until such time as the
2 juvenile is transferred to the Department of Correction, the juvenile may be detained
3 in a holdover facility. The juvenile may not be detained in a detention facility
4 pending transfer to the Department of Correction.

5 The juvenile may be kept by the Department of Correction as a safekeeper until
6 the juvenile is placed in an appropriate correctional program.

7 "§ 7B-2205. When jeopardy attaches.

8 Jeopardy attaches in an adjudicatory hearing when the court begins to hear
9 evidence.

10 "ARTICLE 23.

11 "Discovery.

12 "§ 7B-2300. Disclosure of evidence by petitioner.

13 (a) Statement of the Juvenile. -- Upon motion of a juvenile alleged to be
14 delinquent, the court shall order the petitioner:

15 (1) To permit the juvenile to inspect and copy any relevant written or 16 recorded statements within the possession, custody, or control of 17 the petitioner made by the juvenile or any other party charged in 18 the same action; and

19 (2) To divulge, in written or recorded form, the substance of any oral 20 statement made by the juvenile or any other party charged in the 21 same action.

22 (b) Names of Witnesses. -- Upon motion of the juvenile, the court shall order the 23 petitioner to furnish the names of persons to be called as witnesses. A copy of the 24 record of witnesses under the age of 16 shall be provided by the petitioner to the 25 juvenile upon the juvenile's motion if accessible to the petitioner.

26 (c) Documents and Tangible Objects. -- Upon motion of the juvenile, the court
27 shall order the petitioner to permit the juvenile to inspect and copy books, papers,
28 documents, photographs, motion pictures, mechanical or electronic recordings,
29 tangible objects, or portions thereof:

30 (1) Which are within the possession, custody, or control of the 31 petitioner, the prosecutor, or any law enforcement officer
32 conducting an investigation of the matter alleged; and

33 (2) Which are material to the preparation of the defense, are intended 34 for use by the petitioner as evidence, or were obtained from or 35 belong to the juvenile.

36 (d) Reports of Examinations and Tests. -- Upon motion of a juvenile, the court
37 shall order the petitioner to permit the juvenile to inspect and copy results of physical
38 or mental examinations or of tests, measurements, or experiments made in connection
39 with the case, within the possession, custody, or control of the petitioner. In addition
40 upon motion of a juvenile, the court shall order the petitioner to permit the juvenile
41 to inspect, examine, and test, subject to appropriate safeguards, any physical evidence
42 or a sample of it or tests or experiments made in connection with the evidence in the
43 case if it is available to the petitioner, the prosecutor, or any law enforcement officer

1 conducting an investigation of the matter alleged and if the petitioner intends to offer
2 the evidence at trial.

3 (e) Except as provided in subsections (a) through (d) of this section, this Article
4 does not require the production of reports, memoranda, or other internal documents
5 made by the petitioner, law enforcement officers, or other persons acting on behalf of 6 the petitioner in connection with the investigation or prosecution of the case or of 7 statements made by witnesses or the petitioner to anyone acting on behalf of the 8 petitioner.

9 (f) Nothing in this section prohibits a petitioner from making voluntary disclosures
10 in the interest of justice.

11 "§ 7B-2301. Disclosure of evidence by juvenile.

12 (a) Names of Witnesses. -- Upon motion of the petitioner, the court shall order the 13 juvenile to furnish to the petitioner the names of persons to be called as witnesses.

14 (b) Documents and Tangible Objects. -- If the court grants any relief sought by the 15 juvenile under G.S. 7B-2300, upon motion of the petitioner, the court shall order the 16 juvenile to permit the petitioner to inspect and copy books, papers, documents,
17 photographs, motion pictures, mechanical or electronic recordings, tangible objects,
18 or portions thereof which are within the possession, custody, or control of the 19 juvenile and which the juvenile intends to introduce in evidence.

20 (c) Reports of Examinations and Tests. -- If the court grants any relief sought by 21 the juvenile under G.S. 7B-2300, upon motion of the petitioner, the court shall order
22 the juvenile to permit the petitioner to inspect and copy results of physical or mental 23 examinations or of tests, measurements, or experiments made in connection with the 24 case within the possession and control of the juvenile which the juvenile intends to 25 introduce in evidence or which were prepared by a witness whom the juvenile 26 intends to call if the results relate to the witness's testimony. In addition, upon 27 motion of a petitioner, the court shall order the juvenile to permit the petitioner to
28 inspect, examine, and test, subject to appropriate safeguards, any physical evidence or
29 a sample of it if the juvenile intends to offer the evidence or tests or experiments
30 made in connection with the evidence in the case.

31 "§ 7B-2302. Regulation of discovery; protective orders.

32 (a) Upon written motion of a party and a finding of good cause, the court may at 33 any time order that discovery or inspection be denied, restricted, or deferred.

34 (b) The court may permit a party seeking relief under subsection (a) of this section
35 to submit supporting affidavits or statements to the court for in camera inspection. If 36 thereafter the court enters an order granting relief under subsection (a) of this
37 section, the material submitted in camera must be available to the Court of Appeals
38 in the event of an appeal.

39 "§ 7B-2303. Continuing duty to disclose.

40 If a party, subject to compliance with an order issued pursuant to this Article,
41 discovers additional evidence prior to or during the hearing or decides to use
42 additional evidence, and if the evidence is or may be subject to discovery or 43 inspection under this Article, the party shall promptly notify the other party of the 44 existence of the additional evidence or of the name of each additional witness.

"ARTICLE 24."Hearing Procedures."§ 7B-2400. Amendment of petition.

The court may permit a petition to be amended when the amendment does not change the nature of the offense alleged. If a motion to amend is allowed, the juvenile shall be given a reasonable opportunity to prepare a defense to the amended allegations.

"§ 7B-2401. Determination of incapacity to proceed; evidence; temporary commitment; temporary orders.

The provisions of G.S. 15A-1001, 15A-1002, and 15A-1003 apply to all cases in which a juvenile is alleged to be delinquent. No juvenile committed under this section may be placed in a situation where the juvenile will come in contact with adults committed for any purpose.

"§ 7B-2402. Open hearings.

All hearings authorized or required pursuant to this Subchapter shall be open to the public unless the court closes the hearing or part of the hearing for good cause, upon motion of a party or its own motion.

"§ 7B-2403. Adjudicatory hearing.

The adjudicatory hearing shall be held within a reasonable time in the district at the time and place the chief district judge designates.

"§ 7B-2404. Participation of the prosecutor.

A prosecutor shall represent the State in contested delinquency hearings including first appearance, detention, probable cause, transfer, adjudicatory, dispositional, probation revocation, post-release supervision, and extended jurisdiction hearings.

"§ 7B-2405. Conduct of the adjudicatory hearing.

The adjudicatory hearing shall be a judicial process designed to determine whether the juvenile is undisciplined or delinquent. In the adjudicatory hearing, the court shall protect the following rights of the juvenile and the juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian to assure due process of law:

- (1) The right to written notice of the facts alleged in the petition;
- (2) The right to counsel;
- (3) The right to confront and cross-examine witnesses;
- (4) The privilege against self-incrimination;
- (5) The right of discovery; and
- (6) All rights afforded adult offenders except the right to bail, the right of self-representation, and the right of trial by jury.

"§ 7B-2406. Continuances.

The court for good cause may continue the hearing for as long as is reasonably required to receive additional evidence, reports, or assessments that the court has requested, or other information needed in the best interests of the juvenile and to allow for a reasonable time for the parties to conduct expeditious discovery. Otherwise, continuances shall be granted only in extraordinary circumstances when necessary for the proper administration of justice or in the best interests of the juvenile.

1. "§ 7B-2407. When admissions by juvenile may be accepted.

2. (a) The court may accept an admission from a juvenile only after first addressing
3 the juvenile personally and:

4 (1) Informing the juvenile that the juvenile has a right to remain silent
5 and that any statement the juvenile makes may be used against the
6 juvenile;

7 (2) Determining that the juvenile understands the nature of the charge;

8 (3) Informing the juvenile that the juvenile has a right to deny the 9 allegations;

10 (4) Informing the juvenile that by the juvenile's admissions the 11 juvenile waives the juvenile's right to be confronted by the 12 witnesses against the juvenile;

13 (5) Determining that the juvenile is satisfied with the juvenile's
14 representation; and

15 (6) Informing the juvenile of the most restrictive disposition on the 16 charge.

17 (b) By inquiring of the prosecutor, the juvenile's attorney, and the juvenile
18 personally, the court shall determine whether there were any prior discussions
19 involving admissions, whether the parties have entered into any arrangement with 20 respect to the admissions and the terms thereof, and whether any improper pressure
21 was exerted. The court may accept an admission from a juvenile only after 22 determining that the admission is a product of informed choice.

23 (c) The court may accept an admission only after determining that there is a
24 factual basis for the admission. This determination may be based upon any of the 25 following information: a statement of the facts by the prosecutor; a written statement
26 of the juvenile; sworn testimony which may include reliable hearsay; or a statement of 27 facts by the juvenile's attorney.

28 "§ 7B-2408. Rules of evidence.

29 If the juvenile denies the allegations of the petition, the court shall proceed in 30 accordance with the rules of evidence applicable to criminal cases. In addition, no
31 statement made by a juvenile to the intake counselor during the preliminary inquiry
32 and evaluation process shall be admissible prior to the dispositional hearing.

33 "§ 7B-2409. Quantum of proof in adjudicatory hearing.

34 The allegations of a petition alleging the juvenile is delinquent shall be proved
35 beyond a reasonable doubt. The allegations in a petition alleging undisciplined
36 behavior shall be proved by clear and convincing evidence.

37 "§ 7B-2410. Record of proceedings.

38 All adjudicatory and dispositional hearings and hearings on probable cause and 39 transfer to superior court shall be recorded by stenographic notes or by electronic or 40 mechanical means. Records shall be reduced to a written transcript only when timely
41 notice of appeal has been given. The court may order that other hearings be 42 recorded.

43 "§ 7B-2411. Adjudication.

1 If the court finds that the allegations in the petition have been proved as provided
2 in G.S. 7B-2409, the court shall so state. If the court finds that the allegations have
3 not been proved, the court shall dismiss the petition with prejudice and the juvenile
4 shall be released from secure or nonsecure custody if the juvenile is in custody.

5 "§ 7B-2412. Legal effect of adjudication of delinquency.

6 An adjudication that a juvenile is delinquent or commitment of a juvenile to the
7 Department shall neither be considered conviction of any criminal offense nor cause
8 the juvenile to forfeit any citizenship rights.

9 "§ 7B-2413. Predisposition investigation and report.

10 The court shall proceed to the dispositional hearing upon receipt of sufficient
11 social, medical, psychiatric, psychological, and educational information. No
12 predisposition report shall be submitted to or considered by the court prior to the 13 completion of the adjudicatory hearing. The court shall permit the juvenile to inspect
14 any predisposition report to be considered by the court in making the disposition
15 unless the court determines that disclosure would seriously harm the juvenile's
16 treatment or rehabilitation or would violate a promise of confidentiality. Opportunity
17 to offer evidence in rebuttal shall be afforded the juvenile and the juvenile's parent,
18 guardian, or custodian at the dispositional hearing. The court may order counsel not 19 to disclose parts of the report to the juvenile or the juvenile's parent, guardian, or 20 custodian if the court finds that disclosure would seriously harm the treatment or 21 rehabilitation of the juvenile or would violate a promise of confidentiality given to a
22 source of information.

23 "ARTICLE 25.

24 "Dispositions.

25 "§ 7B-2500. Purpose.

26 The purpose of dispositions in juvenile actions is to design an appropriate plan to 27 meet the needs of the juvenile and to achieve the objectives of the State in exercising
28 jurisdiction, including the protection of the public. The court should develop a 29 disposition in each case that:

30 (1) Promotes public safety;

31 (2) Emphasizes accountability and responsibility of both the parent,
32 guardian, or custodian and the juvenile for the juvenile's conduct;
33 and

34 (3) Provides the appropriate consequences, treatment, training, and 35 rehabilitation to assist the juvenile toward becoming a 36 nonoffending, responsible, and productive member of the 37 community.

38 "§ 7B-2500.1. Dispositional hearing.

39 (a) The dispositional hearing may be informal, and the court may consider written 40 reports or other evidence concerning the needs of the juvenile.

41 (b) The juvenile and the juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian shall have an 42 opportunity to present evidence, and they may advise the court concerning the 43 disposition they believe to be in the best interests of the juvenile.

(c) In choosing among statutorily permissible dispositions, the court shall select the most appropriate disposition both in terms of kind and duration for the delinquent juvenile. Within the guidelines set forth in G.S. 7B-2505, the court shall select a disposition that is designed to protect the public and to meet the needs and best interests of the juvenile, based upon:

- (1) The seriousness of the offense;
- (2) The need to hold the juvenile accountable;
- (3) The importance of protecting the public safety;
- (4) The degree of culpability indicated by the circumstances of the particular case; and
- (5) The rehabilitative and treatment needs of the juvenile.

(d) The court may dismiss the case, or continue the case for no more than six months in order to allow the family an opportunity to meet the needs of the juvenile through more adequate home supervision, through placement in a private or specialized school or agency, through placement with a relative, or through some other plan approved by the court.

"§ 7B-2500.2. Evaluation and treatment of undisciplined and delinquent juveniles.

(a) In any case, the court may order that the juvenile be examined by a physician, psychiatrist, psychologist, or other qualified expert as may be needed for the court to determine the needs of the juvenile.

(b) Upon completion of the examination, the court shall conduct a hearing to determine whether the juvenile is in need of medical, surgical, psychiatric, psychological, or other evaluation or treatment and who should pay the cost of the evaluation or treatment. The county manager, or any other person who is designated by the chair of the board of county commissioners, of the county of the juvenile's residence shall be notified of the hearing, and allowed to be heard. If the court finds the juvenile to be in need of medical, surgical, psychiatric, psychological, or other evaluation or treatment, the court shall permit the parent, guardian, custodian, or other responsible persons to arrange for evaluation or treatment. If the parent, guardian, or custodian declines or is unable to make necessary arrangements, the court may order the needed evaluation or treatment, surgery, or care, and the court may order the parent to pay the cost of the care pursuant to Article 27 of this Chapter. If the court finds the parent is unable to pay the cost of evaluation or treatment, the court shall order the county to arrange for evaluation or treatment of the juvenile and to pay for the cost of the evaluation or treatment. The county department of social services shall recommend the facility that will provide the juvenile with evaluation or treatment.

(c) If the court believes, or if there is evidence presented to the effect that the juvenile is mentally ill or is developmentally disabled, the court shall refer the juvenile to the area mental health, developmental disabilities, and substance abuse services director for appropriate action. A juvenile shall not be committed directly to a State hospital or mental retardation center; and orders purporting to commit a juvenile directly to a State hospital or mental retardation center except for an examination to determine capacity to proceed shall be void and of no effect. The area

2 responsible for arranging an interdisciplinary evaluation of the juvenile and
3 mobilizing resources to meet the juvenile's needs. If institutionalization is determined
4 to be the best service for the juvenile, admission shall be with the voluntary consent
5 of the parent or guardian. If the parent, guardian, or custodian refuses to consent to a 6 mental hospital or retardation center admission after such institutionalization is
7 recommended by the area mental health, developmental disabilities, and substance
8 abuse director, the signature and consent of the court may be substituted for that
9 purpose. In all cases in which a regional mental hospital refuses admission to a
10 juvenile referred for admission by the court and an area mental health,
11 developmental disabilities, and substance abuse director or discharges a juvenile 12 previously admitted on court referral prior to completion of the juvenile's treatment,
13 the hospital shall submit to the court a written report setting out the reasons for 14 denial of admission or discharge and setting out the juvenile's diagnosis, indications
15 of mental illness, indications of need for treatment, and a statement as to the location
16 of any facility known to have a treatment program for the juvenile in question.

17 "§ 7B-2501. Dispositional alternatives for undisciplined juveniles.

18 The following alternatives for disposition shall be available to the court exercising
19 jurisdiction over a juvenile who has been adjudicated undisciplined. The court may 20 combine any of the applicable alternatives when the court finds it to be in the best
21 interests of the juvenile:

22 (1) In the case of any juvenile who needs more adequate care or 23 supervision or who needs placement, the judge may:

- 24 a. Require that the juvenile be supervised in the juvenile's own
25 home by a department of social services in the juvenile's
26 county of residence, a court counselor, or other personnel as
27 may be available to the court, subject to conditions
28 applicable to the parent, guardian, or custodian or the 29 juvenile as the judge may specify; or
30 b. Place the juvenile in the custody of a parent, guardian,
31 custodian, relative, private agency offering placement
32 services, or some other suitable person; or 33 c. Place the juvenile in the custody of a department of social 34 services in the county of the juvenile's residence, or in the
35 case of a juvenile who has legal residence outside the State,
36 in the physical custody of a department of social services in 37 the county where the juvenile is found so that agency may 38 return the juvenile to the responsible authorities in the
39 juvenile's home state. The director may, unless otherwise
40 ordered by the judge, arrange for, provide, or consent to,
41 needed routine or emergency medical or surgical care or
42 treatment. In the case where the parent is unknown,
43 unavailable, or unable to act on behalf of the child or 44 children, the director may, unless otherwise ordered by the judge, arrange for, provide or consent to any psychiatric, psychological, educational, or other remedial evaluations or treatment for the juvenile placed by a judge or the judge's designee in the custody or physical custody of a county department of social services under the authority of this or any other Chapter of the General Statutes. Prior to exercising this authority, the director shall make reasonable efforts to obtain consent from a parent or guardian of the affected child. If the director cannot obtain consent, the director shall promptly notify the parent or guardian that care or treatment has been provided and shall give the parent or guardian frequent status reports on the circumstances of the child. Upon request of a parent or guardian of the affected child, the results or records of the aforementioned evaluations, findings, or treatment shall be made available to the parent or guardian by the director unless prohibited by G.S. 122C-53(d).

(2) Place the juvenile under the protective supervision of a court counselor for no more than one year.

(3) Excuse the juvenile from compliance with the compulsory school attendance law when the court finds that suitable alternative plans can be arranged by the family through other community resources for one of the following: an education related to the needs or abilities of the juvenile including vocational education or special education; a suitable plan of supervision or placement; or some other plan that the court finds to be in the best interests of the juvenile.

"§ 7B-2502. Conditions of protective supervision for undisciplined juveniles.

The court may place a juvenile on protective supervision pursuant to G.S. 7B-2501 so that the court counselor may (i) assist the juvenile in securing social, medical, and educational services and (ii) visit and work with the family as a unit to ensure the juvenile is provided proper supervision and care. The court may impose any combination of the following conditions of protective supervision that are related to the needs of the juvenile, including:

(1) That the juvenile shall remain on good behavior and not violate any laws;

(2) That the juvenile attend school regularly;

(3) That the juvenile maintain passing grades in up to four courses during each grading period and meet with the court counselor and a representative of the school to make a plan for how to maintain those passing grades;

(4) That the juvenile not associate with specified persons or be in specified places;

(5) That the juvenile abide by a prescribed curfew;

- 1           (6)   That the juvenile report to a court counselor as often as required
- 2               by a court counselor;
- 3           (7)   That the juvenile be employed regularly if not attending school;
- 4               and
- 5           (8)   That the juvenile satisfy any other conditions determined
- 6               appropriate by the court.

7 "§ 7B-2503. Contempt of court for undisciplined juveniles.

8     Upon motion of the court counselor or on the court's own motion, the court may 9 issue an order directing a juvenile who has been adjudicated undisciplined to appear
10 and show cause why the juvenile should not be held in contempt for willfully failing 11 to comply with an order of the court. The first time the juvenile is held in contempt, 12 the court may order the juvenile confined in an approved detention facility for a 13 period not to exceed 24 hours. The second time the juvenile is held in contempt, the 14 court may order the juvenile confined in an approved detention facility for a period
15 not to exceed three days. The third time and all subsequent times the juvenile is held 16 in contempt, the court may order the juvenile confined in an approved detention 17 facility for a period not to exceed five days.

18 "§ 7B-2504. Dispositional alternatives for delinquent juveniles.

19     The court exercising jurisdiction over a juvenile who has been adjudicated
20 delinquent may use the following alternatives in accordance with the dispositional
21 structure set forth in G.S. 7B-2505:

- 22           (1)   In the case of any juvenile who needs more adequate care or
- 23               supervision or who needs placement, the judge may:
  - 24               a.   Require that a juvenile be supervised in the juvenile's own
  - 25                   home by the department of social services in the juvenile's
  - 26                   county, a court counselor, or other personnel as may be
  - 27                   available to the court, subject to conditions applicable to the
  - 28                   parent, guardian, or custodian or the juvenile as the judge
  - 29                   may specify; or
  - 30               b.   Place the juvenile in the custody of a parent, guardian,
  - 31                   custodian, relative, private agency offering placement
  - 32                   services, or some other suitable person; or
  - 33               c.   Place the juvenile in the custody of the department of social
  - 34                   services in the county of his residence, or in the case of a
  - 35                   juvenile who has legal residence outside the State, in the
  - 36                   physical custody of a department of social services in the
  - 37                   county where the juvenile is found so that agency may
  - 38                   return the juvenile to the responsible authorities in the
  - 39                   juvenile's home state. The director may, unless otherwise
  - 40                   ordered by the judge, arrange for, provide, or consent to,
  - 41                   needed routine or emergency medical or surgical care or
  - 42                   treatment. In the case where the parent is unknown,
  - 43                   unavailable, or unable to act on behalf of the child or
  - 44                   children, the director may, unless otherwise ordered by the

1 judge, arrange for, provide, or consent to any psychiatric,
2 psychological, educational, or other remedial evaluations or
3 treatment for the juvenile placed by a judge or his designee
4 in the custody or physical custody of a county department of
5 social services under the authority of this or any other
6 Chapter of the General Statutes. Prior to exercising this
7 authority, the director shall make reasonable efforts to
8 obtain consent from a parent or guardian of the affected
9 child. If the director cannot obtain such consent, the 10 director shall promptly notify the parent or guardian that 11 care or treatment has been provided and shall give the 12 parent or guardian frequent status reports on the 13 circumstances of the child. Upon request of a parent or 14 guardian of the affected child, the results or records of the 15 aforementioned evaluations, findings, or treatment shall be
16 made available to such parent or guardian by the director
17 unless prohibited by G.S. 122C-53(d).

18 (2) Excuse the juvenile from compliance with the compulsory school
19 attendance law when the court finds that suitable alternative plans
20 can be arranged by the family through other community resources
21 for one of the following: an education related to the needs or
22 abilities of the juvenile including vocational education or special
23 education; a suitable plan of supervision or placement; or some 24 other plan that the court finds to be in the best interests of the 25 juvenile.

26 (3) Order the juvenile to cooperate with a community-based program
27 or a professional residential or nonresidential treatment program.
28 Participation in the programs shall not exceed 12 months.

29 (4) Require restitution, full or partial, payable within a 12-month
30 period to any person who has suffered loss or damage as a result of 31 the offense committed by the juvenile. The court may determine 32 the amount, terms, and conditions of the restitution. If the juvenile 33 participated with another person or persons, all participants should 34 be jointly and severally responsible for the payment of restitution;
35 however, the court shall not require the juvenile to make 36 restitution if the juvenile satisfies the court that the juvenile does 37 not have, and could not reasonably acquire, the means to make 38 restitution.

39 (5) Impose a fine related to the seriousness of the juvenile's offense. If 40 the juvenile has the ability to pay the fine, it shall not exceed the 41 maximum fine for the offense if committed by an adult.

42 (6) Order the juvenile to perform supervised community service
43 consistent with the juvenile's age, skill, and ability, specifying the 44 nature of the work and the number of hours required. The work

- 1                   shall be related to the seriousness of the juvenile's offense and in 2                   no event may the obligation to work exceed 12 months.
- 3           (7)   Order the juvenile to participate in the victim-offender
4                   reconciliation program.
- 5           (8)   Place the juvenile on probation under the supervision of a court
6                   counselor, as specified in G.S. 7B-2506.
- 7           (9)   Order that the juvenile shall not be licensed to operate a motor
8                   vehicle in the State of North Carolina for as long as the court 9                   retains jurisdiction over the juvenile or for any shorter period of 10                  time and notify the Division of Motor Vehicles of that order.
- 11           (10) Impose a curfew upon the juvenile.
- 12           (11) Order the juvenile to cooperate with placement in a residential 13                  treatment facility or in a group home other than a multipurpose
14                  group home operated by a State agency.
- 15           (12) Order the juvenile to cooperate with placement in a wilderness 16                  program.
- 17           (13) Impose confinement on an intermittent basis in an approved 18                  detention facility. Confinement shall be limited to not more than 19                  five 24-hour periods, the timing of which is determined by the 20                  court in its discretion.
- 21           (14) Place the juvenile on intensive probation under the supervision of 22                  a court counselor.
- 23           (15) Order the juvenile to cooperate with a supervised day program 24                  requiring the juvenile to be present at a specified place for all or 25                  part of every day or of certain days. The court also may require the 26                  juvenile to comply with any other reasonable conditions specified 27                  in the dispositional order that are designed to facilitate supervision.
- 28           (16) Order the juvenile to participate in a regimented training program.
- 29           (17) Order the juvenile to submit to house arrest.
- 30           (18) Suspend imposition of a more severe, statutorily permissible 31                  disposition with the provision that the juvenile meet certain 32                  conditions agreed to by the juvenile and specified in the 33                  dispositional order. The conditions shall not exceed the allowable 34                  dispositions for the level under which disposition is being imposed.
- 35           (19) Order that the juvenile be confined in a secure juvenile detention 36                  facility for a term of up to 14 24-hour periods, which confinement
37                  shall not be imposed consecutively with intermittent confinement
38                  pursuant to subdivision (13) of this section at the same 39                  dispositional hearing.
- 40           (20) Order the residential placement of a juvenile in a multipurpose
41                  group home operated by a State agency.
- 42           (21) Commit the juvenile to the Department in accordance with G.S.
43                  7B-2509 for a period of not less than six months.
- 44   "§ 7B-2504.1. Delinquency history levels.

1 (a) Generally. -- The delinquency history level for a delinquent juvenile is
2 determined by calculating the sum of the points assigned to each of the juvenile's
3 prior adjudications and to the juvenile's probation status, if any, that the court finds
4 to have been proved in accordance with this section.

5 (b) Points. -- Points are assigned as follows:

6 (1) For each prior adjudication of a Class A through E felony offense,
7 4 points.

8 (2) For each prior adjudication of a Class F through I felony offense
9 or Class A1 misdemeanor offense, 2 points.

10 (3) For each prior adjudication of a Class 1, 2, or 3 misdemeanor
11 offense, 1 point.

12 (4) If the juvenile was on probation at the time of adjudication, 2
13 points.

14 (c) Delinquency History Levels. -- The delinquency history levels are:

15 (1) Low -- No more than 1 point.

16 (2) Medium -- At least 2, but not more than 3 points.

17 (3) High -- At least 4 points.

18 In determining the delinquency history level, the classification of a prior offense is 19 the classification assigned to that offense at the time the juvenile committed the 20 offense for which disposition is being ordered.

21 (d) Multiple Prior Adjudications Obtained in One Court Session. -- For purposes
22 of determining the delinquency history level, if a juvenile is adjudicated delinquent
23 for more than one offense in a single session of district court, only the adjudication
24 for the offense with the highest point total is used.

25 (e) Classification of Prior Adjudications From Other Jurisdictions. -- Except as 26 otherwise provided in this subsection, an adjudication occurring in a jurisdiction
27 other than North Carolina is classified as a Class I felony if the jurisdiction in which 28 the offense occurred classifies the offense as a felony, or is classified as a Class 3 29 misdemeanor if the jurisdiction in which the offense occurred classifies the offense as
30 a misdemeanor. If the juvenile proves by the preponderance of the evidence that an 31 offense classified as a felony in the other jurisdiction is substantially similar to an 32 offense that is a misdemeanor in North Carolina, the conviction is treated as that 33 class of misdemeanor for assigning delinquency history level points. If the State
34 proves by the preponderance of the evidence that an offense classified as either a 35 misdemeanor or a felony in the other jurisdiction is substantially similar to an offense
36 in North Carolina that is classified as a Class I felony or higher, the conviction is 37 treated as that class of felony for assigning delinquency history level points. If the 38 State proves by the preponderance of the evidence that an offense classified as a 39 misdemeanor in the other jurisdiction is substantially similar to an offense classified
40 as a Class A1 misdemeanor in North Carolina, the adjudication is treated as a Class
41 A1 misdemeanor for assigning delinquency history level points.

42 (f) Proof of Prior Adjudications. -- A prior adjudication shall be proved by any of 43 the following methods:

44 (1) Stipulation of the parties.

- 1           (2)    An original or copy of the court record of the prior adjudication.
- 2           (3)    A copy of records maintained by the Division of Criminal
- 3                Information or by the Department.
- 4           (4)    Any other method found by the court to be reliable.

5       The State bears the burden of proving, by a preponderance of the evidence, that a
6 prior adjudication exists and that the juvenile before the court is the same person as
7 the juvenile named in the prior adjudication. The original or a copy of the court
8 records or a copy of the records maintained by the Division of Criminal Information
9 or of the Department, bearing the same name as that by which the juvenile is 10 charged, is prima facie evidence that the juvenile named is the same person as the 11 juvenile before the court, and that the facts set out in the record are true. For 12 purposes of this subsection, 'a copy' includes a paper writing containing a
13 reproduction of a record maintained electronically on a computer or other data
14 processing equipment, and a document produced by a facsimile machine. The 15 prosecutor shall make all feasible efforts to obtain and present to the court the 16 juvenile's full record. Evidence presented by either party at trial may be utilized to 17 prove prior adjudications. If asked by the juvenile, the prosecutor shall furnish the 18 juvenile's prior adjudications to the juvenile within a reasonable time sufficient to 19 allow the juvenile to determine if the record available to the prosecutor is accurate.
20 "§ 7B-2505. Dispositional limits for each class of offense and delinquency history
21 level.

- 22       (a) Offense Classification. -- The offense classifications are as follows:
- 23           (1)    Violent -- adjudication of a Class A through E felony offense;
  - 24           (2)    Serious -- adjudication of a Class F through I felony offense or a
  - 25                Class A1 misdemeanor;
  - 26           (3)    Minor -- adjudication of a Class 1, 2, or 3 misdemeanor.
- 27       (b) Delinquency History Levels. -- A delinquency history level shall be 28 determined for each delinquent juvenile as provided in G.S. 7B-2504.1.
- 29       (c) Level 1 -- Community Disposition. -- A court exercising jurisdiction over a 30 juvenile who has been adjudicated delinquent and for whom the dispositional chart
31 in subsection (f) of this section prescribes a Level 1 disposition may provide for 32 evaluation and treatment under G.S. 7B-2500.2 and for any of the dispositional
33 alternatives contained in subdivisions (1) through (13) of G.S. 7B-2504. In 34 determining which dispositional alternative is appropriate, the court shall consider 35 the needs of the juvenile, the appropriate community resources available to meet 36 those needs, and the protection of the public.
- 37       (d) Level 2 -- Intermediate Disposition. -- A court exercising jurisdiction over a 38 juvenile who has been adjudicated delinquent and for whom the dispositional chart
39 in subsection (f) of this section prescribes a Level 2 disposition may provide for 40 evaluation and treatment under G.S. 7B-2500.2 and for any of the dispositional
41 alternatives contained in subdivisions (1) through (20) of G.S. 7B-2504, but shall 42 provide for at least one of the intermediate dispositions authorized in subdivisions
43 (12) and (14) through (20) of G.S. 7B-2504. In determining which dispositional 44 alternative is appropriate, the court shall consider the needs of the juvenile, the

1 appropriate community resources available to meet those needs, and the protection of 2 the public.

3 (e) Level 3 -- Commitment. -- A court exercising jurisdiction over a juvenile who 4 has been adjudicated delinquent and for whom the dispositional chart in subsection
5 (f) of this section prescribes a Level 3 disposition shall commit the juvenile to the 6 Department in accordance with G.S. 7B-2504(21). However, a court may impose a 7 Level 2 disposition rather than a Level 3 disposition if the court submits written 8 findings on the record that substantiate extraordinary needs on the part of the 9 offending juvenile.

10 (f) Dispositions for Each Class of Offense and Delinquency History Level;
11 Disposition Chart Described. -- The authorized disposition for each class of offense
12 and delinquency history level is as specified in the chart below. Delinquency history 13 levels are indicated horizontally on the top of the chart. Classes of offense are 14 indicated vertically on the left side of the chart. Each cell on the chart indicates 15 which of the dispositional levels described in subsections (c) through (e) of this 16 section are prescribed for that combination of offense classification and delinquency
17 history level:

18 DELINQUENCY HISTORY
19 OFFENSE	20 LOW	21 MEDIUM	22 HIGH
23 VIOLENT	24 Level 2 or 3	25 Level 3	26 Level 3
27 SERIOUS	28 Level 1 or 2	29 Level 2	30 Level 2 or 3
31 MINOR	32 Level 1	33 Level 1 or 2	34 Level 2.

35 (g) The court may consider as a mitigating factor evidence of a juvenile's 36 cooperation with law enforcement in providing information about other persons with 37 whom the juvenile acted in the commission of the offense for which the juvenile was 38 adjudicated. A mitigating factor may be used in determining the appropriate 39 dispositional options within the level prescribed by the dispositional chart in 40 subsection (f) of this section.

41 (h) If a juvenile is adjudicated of more than one offense at the same time, the 42 court shall consolidate the offenses for disposition and impose a single disposition for 43 the consolidated offenses. The disposition shall be specified for the class of offense 44 and delinquency history level of the most serious offense.

45 "§ 7B-2506. Conditions of probation; violation of probation.

46 (a) In any case where a juvenile is placed on probation pursuant to G.S. 7B-47 2504(8), the court counselor shall have the authority to visit the juvenile where the 48 juvenile resides. The court may impose conditions of probation that are related to 49 the needs of the juvenile and that are reasonably necessary to ensure that the juvenile 50 will lead a law-abiding life, including:

- 1           (1)   That the juvenile shall remain on good behavior and not violate 2           any laws.
- 3           (2)   That the juvenile attend school regularly.
- 4           (3)   That the juvenile maintain passing grades in up to four courses
5           during each grading period and meet with the court counselor and
6           a representative of the school to make a plan for how to maintain 7           those passing grades.
- 8           (4)   That the juvenile not associate with specified persons or be in 9           specified places.
- 10          (5)   That the juvenile remain free of any controlled substance included 11          in any schedule of Article 5 of Chapter 90 of the General Statutes, 12          the Controlled Substances Act, and the juvenile submit to random 13          drug testing.
- 14          (6)   That the juvenile abide by a prescribed curfew.
- 15          (7)   That the juvenile submit to a warrantless search at reasonable 16          times.
- 17          (8)   That the juvenile possess no firearm, explosive device, or other 18          deadly weapon.
- 19          (9)   That the juvenile report to a court counselor as often as required
20          by a court counselor.
- 21          (10)   That the juvenile make specified financial restitution or pay a fine 22          in accordance with G.S. 7B-2504(4) and (5).
- 23          (11)   That the juvenile be employed regularly if not attending school.
- 24          (12)   That the juvenile satisfy any other conditions determined
25          appropriate by the court.
- 26          (b) In addition to the regular conditions of probation specified in subsection (a) of 27          this section, the court may order the juvenile to comply, if directed to comply by the 28          court counselor, with one or more of the following conditions:
  - 29               (1)   Perform up to 20 hours of community service;
  - 30               (2)   Submit to substance abuse monitoring and treatment;
  - 31               (3)   Cooperate with electronic monitoring;
  - 32               (4)   Cooperate with intensive supervision; and
  - 33               (5)   Participate in a life skills or an educational skills program
34               administered by the Department.
- 35          (c) An order of probation shall remain in force for a period not to exceed two 36          years from the date entered. Prior to expiration of an order of probation, the court
37          may extend it for an additional period of one year after a hearing if the court finds 38          that the extension is necessary to protect the community or to safeguard the welfare 39          of the juvenile.
- 40          (d) If the juvenile violates the conditions of probation set by the court, the court 41          may elect to continue the original conditions of probation, modify the conditions of 42          probation, or, except as provided in subsection (e) of this section, order a new 43          disposition at the next higher level on the disposition chart in G.S. 7B-2505. In the 44          court's discretion, part of the new disposition may include an order of confinement in

1 a secure juvenile detention facility for up to twice the term authorized by G.S. 7B-
2 2505.

3 "§ 7B-2507. Probation review.

4 The court may review the progress of any juvenile on probation at any time during 5 the period of probation or at the end of probation. Except as provided in G.S. 7B-6 2506, the conditions or duration of probation may be modified only as provided in 7 this Subchapter and only after there is notice and a hearing. If a juvenile violates the 8 conditions of probation, the juvenile and the juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian 9 after notice may be required to appear before the court and the court may make any 10 disposition of the matter authorized by this Subchapter. At the end of or at any time 11 during probation, the court may terminate probation by written order upon finding 12 that there is no further need for supervision. The finding and order terminating 13 probation may be entered in chambers in the absence of the juvenile and may be 14 based on a report from the court counselor or, at the election of the court, the order 15 may be entered with the juvenile present after notice and a hearing.

16 "§ 7B-2508. Dispositional order.

17 The dispositional order shall be in writing and shall contain appropriate findings of 18 fact and conclusions of law. The court shall state with particularity, both orally and in 19 the written order of disposition, the precise terms of the disposition including the 20 kind, duration, and the person who is responsible for carrying out the disposition and 21 the person or agency in whom custody is vested.

22 "§ 7B-2509. Commitment of delinquent juvenile to Department.

23 (a) Pursuant to G.S. 7B-2504 and G.S. 7B-2505, the court may commit a 24 delinquent juvenile who is at least 10 years of age to the Department for placement in 25 one of the residential facilities operated by the Department. Commitment shall be for 26 a definite or indefinite term of at least six months. In no event shall the term exceed 27 the nineteenth birthday of the juvenile.

28 (b) The court may commit a juvenile to a definite term of not more than two 29 years if the court finds that the juvenile is 14 years of age or older, has been 30 previously adjudicated delinquent for two or more felony offenses, and has been
31 previously committed to a residential facility operated by the Department.

32 (c) The chief court counselor shall have the responsibility for transporting the 33 juvenile to the residential facility designated by the Department. The juvenile shall be
34 accompanied to the residential facility by a person of the same sex.

35 (d) The chief court counselor shall ensure that the records requested by the 36 Secretary or the Secretary's designee accompany the juvenile upon transportation for 37 admittance to a training school or, if not obtainable at the time of admission, are sent 38 to the training school within 15 days of the admission. If records requested by the 39 Department for admission do not exist, to the best knowledge of the chief court
40 counselor, the chief court counselor shall so stipulate in writing to the training school.
41 If such records do exist, but the chief court counselor is unable to obtain copies of 42 them, a district court may order that the records from public agencies be made
43 available to the training school. Records that are confidential by law shall remain
44 confidential and the Department shall be bound by the specific laws governing the

1 confidentiality of these records. All records shall be used in a manner consistent with
2 the best interests of the juvenile.

3 (e) A commitment order accompanied by information requested by the Secretary
4 shall be forwarded to the Department. The Secretary shall place the juvenile in the
5 residential facility that would best provide for the juvenile's needs and shall notify the
6 committing court. The Secretary may assign a juvenile committed for delinquency to
7 any institution or other program of the Department or licensed by the Department,
8 which program is appropriate to the needs of the juvenile.

9 (f) When the court commits a juvenile to the Department, the Secretary shall 10 prepare a plan for care or treatment within 30 days after assuming custody of the
11 juvenile.

12 (g) Commitment of a juvenile to the Department does not terminate the court's 13 continuing jurisdiction over the juvenile and the juvenile's parent, guardian, or 14 custodian. Commitment of a juvenile to the Department transfers only physical 15 custody of the juvenile. Legal custody remains with the parent, guardian, custodian,
16 agency, or institution in whom it was vested.

17 (h) Pending placement of a juvenile with the Department, the court may house a
18 juvenile who has been adjudicated delinquent for an offense that would be a Class A,
19 B1, B2, C, D, or E felony if committed by an adult in a holdover facility up to 72
20 hours if the court, based on the information provided by the court counselor,
21 determines that no acceptable alternative placement is available and the protection of 22 the public requires that the juvenile be housed in a holdover facility.

23 "§ 7B-2510. Post-release supervision planning; release.

24 (a) The Secretary shall be responsible for evaluation of the progress of each 25 juvenile at least once every six months as long as the juvenile remains in the care of 26 the Department. If the Secretary determines that a juvenile is ready for release, the 27 Secretary shall initiate a post-release supervision planning process. The post-release
28 supervision planning process shall be defined by rules and regulations of the 29 Department, but shall include the following:

30 (1) Written notification shall be given to the court that ordered
31 commitment.

32 (2) A post-release supervision planning conference shall be held
33 involving as many as possible of the following: the juvenile, the 34 juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian, court counselors who 35 have supervised the juvenile on probation or will supervise the 36 juvenile on post-release supervision, and staff of the facility that 37 found the juvenile ready for release. The planning conference shall 38 include personal contact and evaluation rather than telephonic
39 notification.

40 (3) The planning conference participants shall consider, based on the 41 individual needs of the juvenile and pursuant to rules adopted by 42 the Department, placement of the juvenile in any program under 43 the auspices of the Department, including the Community-Based 44 Alternatives programs, that, in the judgment of the Department,

1 may serve as a transitional placement, pending release under G.S.
2 7B-2512.

3 (b) The Department shall develop the plan in writing and base the terms on the 4 needs of the juvenile and the protection of the public. Every plan shall require the
5 juvenile to complete at least 90 days of post-release supervision.

6 (c) The Department shall release a juvenile under a plan of post-release 7 supervision at least 90 days prior to the later of:

8 (1) Completion of the juvenile's definite term of commitment; or

9 (2) If the juvenile is committed for an indefinite term, either on the 10 juvenile's eighteenth birthday if no motion for extended
11 jurisdiction has been filed pursuant to G.S. 7B-2513 or on the 12 juvenile's nineteenth birthday.

13 (d) Notwithstanding Articles 30 and 31 of Subchapter III of this Chapter, before
14 the court releases a juvenile who is serving a commitment for a Class A or B1 felony
15 to post-release supervision, the Department shall notify, at least 45 days in advance of 16 the scheduled release date, by first-class mail at the last known address:

17 (1) The juvenile;

18 (2) The juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian;

19 (3) The district attorney of the district where the juvenile was 20 adjudicated;

21 (4) The head law enforcement agency that took the juvenile into 22 custody; and

23 (5) The victim and any of the victim's immediate family members who 24 have requested in writing to be notified.

25 The notification shall include only the juvenile's name, offense, date of 26 commitment, and date of consideration for release. A copy of the notice shall be
27 placed in the juvenile's file.

28 (e) The Department may release a juvenile under an indefinite commitment to 29 post-release supervision only after the juvenile has been committed for a period of at 30 least six months.

31 (f) A juvenile committed to the Department for a definite term shall receive credit
32 toward that term for the time the juvenile spends on post-release supervision.

33 "§ 7B-2511. Revocation of post-release supervision.

34 If a juvenile fails to complete the terms of post-release supervision, the court
35 counselor providing post-release supervision may make a motion for review in the 36 court in the district where the juvenile has been residing during post-release
37 supervision. The court shall hold a hearing to determine whether there has been a 38 violation. With respect to any hearing pursuant to this section, the juvenile:

39 (1) Shall have reasonable notice in writing of the nature and content
40 of the allegations in the motion, including notice that the purpose
41 of the hearing is to determine whether the juvenile has violated the 42 terms of post-release supervision to the extent that post-release
43 supervision should be revoked;

44 (2) Shall be represented by an attorney at the hearing;

1           (3) Shall have the right to confront and cross-examine any persons
2           who have made allegations against the juvenile; and

3           (4) May admit, deny, or explain the violation alleged and may present
4           proof, including affidavits or other evidence, in support of the
5           juvenile's contentions. A record of the proceeding shall be made
6           and preserved in the juvenile's record.

7       If the court determines that the juvenile has violated the terms of post-release
8       supervision, the court may revoke the post-release supervision or make any other
9       disposition authorized by this Subchapter.

10       If the court revokes the post-release supervision, the chief court counselor shall 11       have the responsibility for returning the juvenile to the facility specified by the 12       Department.

13       "§ 7B-2512. Final discharge.

14       (a) The Department shall release a juvenile only after the juvenile completes post-
15       release supervision or when the juvenile is released to the Department of Correction
16       pursuant to G.S. 15A-1340.16B.

17       (b) Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, in no event shall a juvenile
18       remain committed after the juvenile's eighteenth birthday except pursuant to G.S.
19       7B-2513.

20       "§ 7B-2513. Extended jurisdiction under certain circumstances; review hearing.

21       (a) By order of the court, juvenile court jurisdiction over a juvenile may be
22       extended past the age of 18 years until the person reaches the person's nineteenth
23       birthday. The provisions of this Subchapter shall apply to any person under the 24       jurisdiction of the juvenile court pursuant to this section, regardless of whether the 25       term 'person' or 'juvenile' is used in the provision.

26       (b) When the chief court counselor, or the Department if the juvenile is committed
27       to the Department, determines a juvenile should remain under the jurisdiction of the 28       court for a period of time after the age of 18 years, the chief court counselor or 29       Department shall file a motion for a review hearing in the judicial district where the 30       juvenile was adjudicated. This motion shall be filed at least 180 days prior to the 31       eighteenth birthday of the juvenile. The chief court counselor or Department shall 32       notify the juvenile, the juvenile's attorney, and the juvenile's parent, guardian, or
33       custodian in writing of the date and time of the scheduled hearing at least 10 days
34       prior to the scheduled hearing date.

35       (c) Within 30 days after the motion is filed, the court shall conduct a review
36       hearing to determine whether the juvenile shall remain under the jurisdiction of the 37       court. The court counselor and the prosecutor shall attend the hearing and, if the 38       court requests, present testimony or evidence as to whether the juvenile continues to 39       be in need of and can benefit from further treatment or services.

40       (d) In determining whether to order that the juvenile remain under the 41       jurisdiction of the court, the court shall consider:

42               (1) The recommendation of the chief court counselor or the Secretary
43               based on the juvenile's progress;

(2) The likelihood that continued jurisdiction will lead to further rehabilitation;

(3) The safety and protection of the facility's juvenile population, if applicable; and

(4) The protection of the public.

(e) If the court orders the juvenile remain under the jurisdiction of the court and the juvenile is committed to the Department, commitment shall be for a definite term or an indefinite term not to exceed the nineteenth birthday of the person.

(f) The Secretary shall modify the plan for care or treatment of the juvenile prepared pursuant to G.S. 7B-2509.

"§ 7B-2514. Transfer authority of Governor.

The Governor may order transfer of any person less than 18 years of age from any jail or penal facility of the State to one of the residential facilities operated by the Department in appropriate circumstances, provided the Governor shall consult with the Department concerning the feasibility of the transfer in terms of available space, staff, and suitability of program.

When an inmate, committed to the Department of Correction, is transferred by the Governor to a residential program operated by the Department, the Department may release the juvenile based on the needs of the juvenile and the best interests of the State. Transfer shall not divest the probation or parole officer of the officer's responsibility to supervise the inmate on release.

"ARTICLE 26.

"Modification and Enforcement of Dispositional Orders; Appeals.

"§ 7B-2600. Authority to modify or vacate.

(a) Upon motion in the cause or petition, and after notice, the court may conduct a review hearing to determine whether the order of the court is in the best interests of the juvenile, and the court may modify or vacate the order in light of changes in circumstances or the needs of the juvenile.

(b) In a case of delinquency, the court may reduce the nature or the duration of the disposition on the basis that it was imposed in an illegal manner or is unduly severe with reference to the seriousness of the offense, the culpability of the juvenile, or the dispositions given to juveniles convicted of similar offenses.

(c) In any case where the court finds the juvenile to be delinquent or undisciplined, the jurisdiction of the court to modify any order or disposition made in the case shall continue (i) during the minority of the juvenile, (ii) until the juvenile reaches the age of 19 years, if the court has extended jurisdiction, or (iii) until terminated by order of the court.

"§ 7B-2601. Request for modification for lack of suitable services.

If the Secretary finds that any juvenile committed to the Department's care is not suitable for its program, the Secretary may make a motion in the cause so that the court may make an alternative disposition that is consistent with G.S. 7B-2505.

"§ 7B-2602. Right to appeal.

Upon motion of a proper party as defined in G.S. 7B-2603, review of any final order of the court in a juvenile matter under this Article shall be before the Court of

1 Appeals. Notice of appeal shall be given in open court at the time of the hearing or
2 in writing within 10 days after entry of the order. However, if no disposition is made
3 within 60 days after entry of the order, written notice of appeal may be given within
4 70 days after such entry. A final order shall include:

- 5 (1) Any order finding absence of jurisdiction;
- 6 (2) Any order which in effect determines the action and prevents a
7 judgment from which appeal might be taken;
- 8 (3) Any order of disposition after an adjudication that a juvenile is 9 delinquent or undisciplined; or
- 10 (4) Any order modifying custodial rights.

11 "§ 7B-2603. Proper parties for appeal.

12 An appeal may be taken by the juvenile, the juvenile's parent, guardian, or 13 custodian, or the State or county agency. The State's appeal is limited to the 14 following orders in delinquency or undisciplined cases:

- 15 (1) An order finding a State statute to be unconstitutional; and
- 16 (2) Any order which terminates the prosecution of a petition by 17 upholding the defense of double jeopardy, by holding that a cause
18 of action is not stated under a statute, or by granting a motion to 19 suppress.

20 "§ 7B-2604. Disposition pending appeal.

21 Pending disposition of an appeal, the release of the juvenile, with or without 22 conditions, should issue in every case unless the court orders otherwise. For 23 compelling reasons which must be stated in writing, the court may enter a temporary 24 order affecting the custody or placement of the juvenile as the court finds to be in the 25 best interests of the juvenile or the State.

26 "§ 7B-2605. Disposition after appeal.

27 Upon the affirmation of the order of adjudication or disposition of the court by the 28 Court of Appeals or by the Supreme Court in the event of an appeal, the court shall 29 have authority to modify or alter the original order of adjudication or disposition as 30 the court finds to be in the best interests of the juvenile to reflect any adjustment
31 made by the juvenile or change in circumstances during the period of time the appeal
32 was pending. If the modifying order is entered ex parte, the court shall give notice to 33 interested parties to show cause within 10 days thereafter as to why the modifying
34 order should be vacated or altered.

35 "ARTICLE 27.

36 "Authority Over Parents of Juveniles
37 Adjudicated Delinquent or Undisciplined.

38 "§ 7B-2700. Appearance in court.

39 (a) The parent, guardian, or custodian of a juvenile under the jurisdiction of the 40 juvenile court shall attend the hearings of which the parent, guardian, or custodian
41 receives notice. The court may excuse the appearance of either or both parents or 42 the guardian or custodian at subsequent hearings. Unless so excused, the willful
43 failure of a parent, guardian, or custodian to attend a hearing of which the parent,
44 guardian, or custodian has notice shall be grounds for contempt.

(b) No employer may discharge or demote any employee because the employee is required to appear in court pursuant to this section. Any employer who violates any provision of this section shall be liable in a civil action for reasonable damages suffered by an employee as a result of the violation, and an employee discharged or demoted in violation of this section shall be entitled to be reinstated to the employee's former position. The burden of proof shall be upon the employee. The statute of limitations for actions under this section shall be one year pursuant to G.S. 1-54.

"§ 7B-2701. Parental responsibility classes.

The court may order the parent of a juvenile who has been adjudicated undisciplined or delinquent to attend parental responsibility classes if those classes are available in the judicial district in which the parent resides.

"§ 7B-2702. Medical, surgical, psychiatric, or psychological evaluation or treatment of juvenile or parent.

(a) If the court orders medical, surgical, psychiatric, psychological, or other evaluation or treatment pursuant to G.S. 7B-2500.2, the court may order the parent or other responsible parties to pay the cost of the treatment or care ordered.

(b) At the dispositional hearing or a subsequent hearing, if the court finds that it is in the best interests of the juvenile for the parent, guardian, or custodian to be directly involved in the juvenile's evaluation or treatment, the court may order that person to participate in medical, psychiatric, psychological, or other evaluation or treatment of the juvenile. The cost of the evaluation or treatment shall be paid pursuant to G.S. 7B-2500.2.

(c) At the dispositional hearing or a subsequent hearing, the court may determine whether the best interests of the juvenile require that the parent, guardian, or custodian undergo psychiatric, psychological, or other evaluation or treatment or counseling directed toward remedying behaviors or conditions that led to or contributed to the juvenile's adjudication or to the court's decision to remove custody of the juvenile from the parent, guardian, or custodian. If the court finds that the best interests of the juvenile require the parent, guardian, or custodian undergo evaluation or treatment, it may order that person to comply with a plan of evaluation or treatment approved by the court or condition legal custody or physical placement of the juvenile with the parent, guardian, or custodian upon that person's compliance with the plan of evaluation or treatment.

(d) In cases in which the court has ordered the parent of the juvenile, rather than a guardian or custodian, to comply with or undergo evaluation or treatment, the court may order the parent to pay the cost of evaluation or treatment ordered pursuant to this subsection. In cases in which the court has conditioned legal custody or physical placement of the juvenile with the parent upon the parent's compliance with a plan of evaluation or treatment, the court may charge the cost of the evaluation or treatment to the county of the juvenile's residence if the court finds the parent is unable to pay the cost of the evaluation or treatment. In all other cases, if the court finds the parent is unable to pay the cost of the evaluation or treatment ordered pursuant to this subsection, the court may order the parent to receive

1 evaluation or treatment currently available from the area mental health program that
2 serves the parent's catchment area.

3 "§ 7B-2703. Compliance with orders of court.

4 (a) The court may order the parent, guardian, or custodian, to the extent that 5 person is able to do so, to provide transportation for a juvenile to keep an 6 appointment with a court counselor or to comply with other orders of the court.

7 (b) The court may order a parent, guardian, or custodian to cooperate with and 8 assist the juvenile in complying with the terms and conditions of probation or other 9 orders of the court.

10 "§ 7B-2704. Payment of support or other expenses; assignment of insurance coverage.

11 At the dispositional hearing or a subsequent hearing, if the court finds that the 12 parent is able to do so, the court may order the parent to:

13 (1) Pay a reasonable sum that will cover in whole or in part the 14 support of the juvenile. If the court requires the payment of child 15 support, the amount of the payments shall be determined as 16 provided in G.S. 50-13.4;

17 (2) Pay a fee for probation supervision or residential facility costs;

18 (3) Assign private insurance coverage to cover medical costs while the 19 juvenile is in secure detention, training school, or other out-of-20 home placement; and

21 (4) Pay court-appointed attorneys' fees.

22 If the court places a juvenile in the custody of a county department of social services
23 and if the court finds that the parent is unable to pay the cost of the support required
24 by the juvenile, the cost shall be paid by the county department of social services in 25 whose custody the juvenile is placed, provided the juvenile is not receiving care in an
26 institution owned or operated by the State or federal government or any subdivision
27 thereof.

28 "§ 7B-2705. Contempt for failure to comply.

29 Upon motion of the court counselor or prosecutor or upon the court's own
30 motion, the court may issue an order directing the parent, guardian, or custodian to 31 appear and show cause why the parent, guardian, or custodian should not be found 32 or held in civil or criminal contempt for willfully failing to comply with an order of 33 the court. Chapter 5A of the General Statutes shall govern contempt proceedings
34 initiated pursuant to this Article.

35 "ARTICLE 28.

36 "Interstate Compact on Juveniles.

37 "§ 7B-2800. Execution of Compact.

38 The Governor is hereby authorized and directed to execute a Compact on behalf
39 of this State with any other state or states legally joining therein in the form
40 substantially as follows: The contracting states solemnly agree.

41 "§ 7B-2801. Findings and purposes.

42 Juveniles who are not under proper supervision and control, or who have 43 absconded, escaped, or run away, are likely to endanger their own health, morals,
44 and welfare, and the health, morals, and welfare of others. The cooperation of the

1 states party to this Compact is therefore necessary to provide for the welfare and
2 protection of juveniles and of the public with respect to:

- 3       (1) Cooperative supervision of delinquent juveniles on probation or 4       parole;
- 5       (2) The return, from one state to another, of delinquent juveniles who 6       have escaped or absconded;
- 7       (3) The return, from one state to another, of nondelinquent juveniles
8       who have run away from home; and
- 9       (4) Additional measures for the protection of juveniles and of the 10      public, which any two or more of the party states may find
11      desirable to undertake cooperatively.

12 In carrying out the provisions of this Compact, the party states shall be guided by 13 the noncriminal, reformative, and protective policies which guide their laws
14 concerning delinquent, neglected, or dependent juveniles generally. It shall be the 15 policy of the states party to this Compact to cooperate and observe their respective
16 responsibilities for the prompt return and acceptance of juveniles and delinquent
17 juveniles who become subject to the provisions of this Compact. The provisions of 18 this Compact shall be reasonably and liberally construed to accomplish the foregoing
19 purposes.

20 "§ 7B-2802. Existing rights and remedies.

21 All remedies and procedures provided by this Compact are in addition to and not 22 in substitution for other rights, remedies, and procedures and are not in derogation of 23 parental rights and responsibilities.

24 "§ 7B-2803. Definitions.

25 For the purposes of this Compact, 'delinquent juvenile' means any juvenile who
26 has been adjudged delinquent and who, at the time the provisions of this Compact
27 are invoked, is still subject to the jurisdiction of the court that has made adjudication
28 or to the jurisdiction or supervision of an agency or institution pursuant to an order
29 of the court; 'probation or parole' means any kind of post-release supervision of 30 juveniles authorized under the laws of the states party hereto; 'court' means any court
31 having jurisdiction over delinquent, neglected, or dependent children; 'state' means
32 any state, territory, or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, and
33 the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico; and 'residence' or any variant thereof means a
34 place at which a home or regular place of abode is maintained.

35 "§ 7B-2804. Return of runaways.

36 (a) The parent, guardian, person, or agency entitled to legal custody of a juvenile 37 who has not been adjudged delinquent but who has run away without the consent of 38 the parent, guardian, person, or agency may petition the appropriate court in the 39 demanding state for the issuance of a requisition for the juvenile's return. The 40 petition shall state the name and age of the juvenile, the name of the petitioner and
41 the basis of entitlement to the juvenile's custody, the circumstances of the running
42 away, the juvenile's location if known at the time application is made, and any other 43 facts that may tend to show that the juvenile who has run away is endangering the 44 juvenile's own welfare or the welfare of others and is not an emancipated minor. The

1 petition shall be verified by affidavit, shall be executed in duplicate, and shall be
2 accompanied by two certified copies of the document or documents on which the
3 petitioner's entitlement to the juvenile's custody is based, such as birth certificates,
4 letters of guardianship, or custody decrees. Any further affidavits and other
5 documents as may be deemed proper may be submitted with the petition. The judge
6 of the court to which this application is made may hold a hearing thereon to
7 determine whether for the purposes of this Compact the petitioner is entitled to the 8 legal custody of the juvenile, whether or not it appears that the juvenile has in fact
9 run away without consent, whether or not the juvenile is an emancipated minor, and
10 whether or not it is in the best interests of the juvenile to compel the juvenile's return
11 to the state. If the judge determines, either with or without a hearing, that the 12 juvenile should be returned, the judge shall present to the appropriate court or to the 13 executive authority of the state where the juvenile is alleged to be located a written 14 requisition for the return of the juvenile. The requisition shall set forth the name and
15 age of the juvenile, the determination of the court that the juvenile has run away
16 without the consent of a parent, guardian, person, or agency entitled to legal custody,
17 and that it is in the best interests and for the protection of the juvenile that the 18 juvenile be returned. In the event that a proceeding for the adjudication of the 19 juvenile as a delinquent, neglected, or dependent juvenile is pending in the court at 20 the time when the juvenile runs away, the court may issue a requisition for the return
21 of the juvenile upon its own motion, regardless of the consent of the parent, guardian,
22 person, or agency entitled to legal custody, reciting therein the nature and
23 circumstances of the pending proceeding. The requisition shall in every case be 24 executed in duplicate and shall be signed by the judge. One copy of the requisition
25 shall be filed with the Compact Administrator of the demanding state, there to 26 remain on file subject to the provisions of law governing records of the court. Upon 27 the receipt of a requisition demanding the return of a juvenile who has run away, the 28 court or the executive authority to whom the requisition is addressed shall issue an 29 order to any peace officer or other appropriate person directing that person to take 30 into custody and detain the juvenile. The detention order must substantially recite the 31 facts necessary to the validity of its issuance hereunder. No juvenile detained upon 32 the order shall be delivered over to the officer whom the court has appointed to 33 receive the juvenile unless the juvenile first is taken before a judge of a court in the 34 state, who shall inform the juvenile of the demand made for the juvenile's return, and 35 who may appoint counsel or guardian ad litem for the juvenile. If the court finds that
36 the requisition is in order, the court shall deliver the juvenile over to the officer
37 appointed to receive the juvenile by the court demanding the juvenile. The court, 38 however, may fix a reasonable time to be allowed for the purpose of testing the 39 legality of the proceeding.
40 Upon reasonable information that a person is a juvenile who has run away from
41 another state party to this Compact without the consent of a parent, guardian, person,
42 or agency entitled to legal custody, the juvenile may be taken into custody without a
43 requisition and brought before a judge of the appropriate court who may appoint
44 counsel or guardian ad litem for the juvenile and who shall determine after a hearing

1 whether sufficient cause exists to hold the person, subject to the order of the court,
2 for the juvenile's own protection and welfare, for such a time not exceeding 90 days
3 as will enable the return of the juvenile to another state party to this Compact
4 pursuant to a requisition for return from a court of that state. If, at the time when a
5 state seeks the return of a juvenile who has run away, there is pending in the state
6 wherein the juvenile is found, any criminal charge, or any proceeding to have the 7 juvenile adjudicated a delinquent juvenile for an act committed in the state, or if the
8 juvenile is suspected of having committed within the state a criminal offense or an act
9 of juvenile delinquency, the juvenile shall not be returned without the consent of the 10 state until discharged from prosecution or other form of proceeding, imprisonment,
11 detention, or supervision for the offense or juvenile delinquency. The duly accredited
12 officers of any state party to this Compact, upon the establishment of their authority
13 and the identity of the juvenile being returned, shall be permitted to transport the 14 juvenile through any and all states party to this Compact, without interference. Upon 15 return of the juvenile to the state from which the juvenile ran away, the juvenile shall 16 be subject to such further proceedings as may be appropriate under the laws of that
17 state.

18 (b) The state to which the juvenile is returned under this Article shall be
19 responsible for payment of the transportation costs of return.

20 (c) The term 'juvenile' as used in this Article means any person who is a minor
21 under the law of the state of residence of the parent, guardian, person, or agency
22 entitled to the legal custody of the minor.

23 "§ 7B-2805. Return of escapees and absconders.

24 (a) The appropriate person or authority from whose probation or parole
25 supervision a delinquent juvenile has absconded or from whose institutional custody a 26 delinquent juvenile has escaped shall present to the appropriate court or to the 27 executive authority of the state where the delinquent juvenile is alleged to be located
28 a written requisition for the return of the delinquent juvenile. The requisition shall
29 state the name and age of the delinquent juvenile, the particulars of the juvenile's
30 adjudication as a delinquent juvenile, the circumstances of the breach of the terms of 31 probation or parole or of the juvenile's escape from an institution or agency vested
32 with legal custody or supervision, and the location of the delinquent juvenile, if 33 known, at the time the requisition is made. The requisition shall be verified by 34 affidavit, shall be executed in duplicate, and shall be accompanied by two certified
35 copies of the judgment, formal adjudication, or order of commitment which subjects
36 the delinquent juvenile to probation or parole or to the legal custody of the 37 institution or agency concerned. Any further affidavits and documents as may be 38 deemed proper may be submitted with the requisition. One copy of the requisition
39 shall be filed with the Compact Administrator of the demanding state, there to 40 remain on file subject to the provisions of the law governing records of the 41 appropriate court. Upon the receipt of a requisition demanding the return of a
42 delinquent juvenile who has absconded or escaped, the court or the executive
43 authority to whom the requisition is addressed shall issue an order to any peace
44 officer or other appropriate person directing the person to take into custody and

1 detain such delinquent juvenile. The detention order must substantially recite the
2 facts necessary to the validity of its issuance hereunder. No delinquent juvenile
3 detained upon the order shall be delivered over to the officer whom the appropriate
4 person or authority demanding the juvenile has appointed to receive the juvenile,
5 unless the juvenile is first taken forthwith before a judge of an appropriate court in
6 the state, who shall inform the juvenile of the demand made for the return and who
7 may appoint counsel or guardian ad litem for the juvenile. If the judge of the court
8 finds that the requisition is in order, the judge shall deliver the delinquent juvenile 9 over to the officer whom the appropriate person or authority demanding the juvenile
10 appointed to receive the juvenile. The judge, however, may fix a reasonable time to 11 be allowed for the purpose of testing the legality of the proceeding.

12 Upon reasonable information that a person is a delinquent juvenile who has 13 absconded while on probation or parole, or escaped from an institution or agency
14 vested with legal custody or supervision in any state party to this Compact, the 15 person may be taken into custody in any other state party to this Compact without a
16 requisition. But in that event, the juvenile shall be taken forthwith before a judge of 17 the appropriate court, who may appoint counsel or guardian ad litem for the person
18 and who shall determine after a hearing, whether sufficient cause exists to hold the 19 person subject to the order of the court for a length of time, not exceeding 90 days, as 20 will enable detention of the juvenile under a detention order issued on a requisition
21 pursuant to this Article. If, at the time when a state seeks the return of a delinquent
22 who has either absconded while on probation or parole or escaped from an 23 institution or agency vested with legal custody or supervision, there is pending in the 24 state wherein the juvenile is detained any criminal charge or any proceeding to have 25 the juvenile adjudicated a delinquent juvenile for an act committed in the state, or if 26 the juvenile is suspected of having committed a criminal offense or an act of juvenile 27 delinquency within the state, the juvenile shall not be returned without the consent of 28 the state until discharged from prosecution or other form of proceeding,
29 imprisonment, detention, or supervision for the offense or juvenile delinquency. The 30 duly accredited officers of any state party to this Compact, upon the establishment of 31 their authority and the identity of the delinquent juvenile being returned, shall be 32 permitted to transport the delinquent juvenile through any and all states party to this 33 Compact, without interference. Upon return to the state from which the juvenile 34 escaped or absconded, the delinquent juvenile shall be subject to any further
35 proceedings appropriate under the laws of that state.

36 (b) The state to which a delinquent juvenile is returned under this Article shall be
37 responsible for the payment of transportation costs of the return.

38 "§ 7B-2806. Voluntary return procedure.

39 Any delinquent juvenile who has absconded while on probation or parole, or 40 escaped from an institution or agency vested with legal custody or supervision in any
41 state party to this Compact, and any juvenile who has run away from any state party
42 to this Compact, who is taken into custody without a requisition in another state
43 party to this Compact under the provisions of G.S. 7B-2804(a) or G.S. 7B-2805(a),
44 may consent to the immediate return of the juvenile to the state from which the

1 juvenile absconded, escaped, or ran away. Consent shall be given by the juvenile or
2 delinquent juvenile and the juvenile's counsel or guardian ad litem, if any, by
3 executing or subscribing a writing in the presence of a judge of the appropriate court,
4 which states that the juvenile or delinquent juvenile and the juvenile's counsel or
5 guardian ad litem, if any, consent to return of the juvenile to the demanding state.
6 Before consent is executed or subscribed, however, the judge, in the presence of 7 counsel or guardian ad litem, if any, shall inform the juvenile or delinquent juvenile
8 of the juvenile's rights under this Compact. When the consent has been duly 9 executed, it shall be forwarded to and filed with the Compact Administrator of the 10 state in which the court is located, and the judge shall direct the officer having the 11 juvenile or delinquent juvenile in custody to deliver the juvenile to the duly 12 accredited officer or officers of the state demanding return of the juvenile and shall 13 cause to be delivered to the officer or officers a copy of the consent. The court may,
14 however, upon the request of the state to which the juvenile or delinquent juvenile is 15 being returned, order the juvenile to return unaccompanied to the state and shall 16 provide the juvenile with a copy of the court order; in that event a copy of the 17 consent shall be forwarded to the Compact Administrator of the state to which the 18 juvenile or delinquent juvenile is ordered to return.

19 "§ 7B-2807. Cooperative supervision of probationers and parolees.

20 (a) That the duly constituted judicial and administrative authorities of a state party
21 to this Compact (herein called 'sending state') may permit any delinquent juvenile 22 within such state, placed on probation or parole, to reside in any other state party to
23 this Compact (herein called 'receiving state') while on probation or parole, and the 24 receiving state shall accept the delinquent juvenile, if the parent, guardian, or person
25 entitled to the legal custody of the delinquent juvenile is residing or undertakes to 26 reside within the receiving state. Before granting permission, opportunity shall be 27 given to the receiving state to make investigations as it deems necessary. The 28 authorities of the sending state shall send to the authorities of the receiving state
29 copies of pertinent court orders, social case studies, and all other available
30 information which may be of value to and assist the receiving state in supervising a
31 probationer or parolee under this Compact. A receiving state, in its discretion, may 32 agree to accept supervision of a probationer or parolee in cases where the parent,
33 guardian, or person entitled to the legal custody of the delinquent juvenile is not a 34 resident of the receiving state, and if so accepted, the sending state may transfer the 35 supervision accordingly.

36 (b) That each receiving state will assume the duties of visitation and of supervision
37 over any delinquent juvenile and in the exercise of those duties will be governed by
38 the same standards of visitation and supervision that prevail for its own delinquent
39 juveniles released on probation or parole.

40 (c) That, after consultation between the appropriate authorities of the sending state
41 and of the receiving state as to the desirability and necessity of returning the 42 delinquent juvenile, the duly accredited officers of a sending state may enter a
43 receiving state and there apprehend and retake any delinquent juvenile on probation
44 or parole. For that purpose, no formalities will be required other than establishing the

1 authority of the officer and the identity of the delinquent juvenile to be retaken and
2 returned. The decision of the sending state to retake a delinquent juvenile on
3 probation or parole shall be conclusive upon and not reviewable within the receiving
4 state, but if, at the time the sending state seeks to retake a delinquent juvenile on
5 probation or parole, there is pending against the juvenile within the receiving state
6 any criminal charge or any proceeding to have the juvenile adjudicated a delinquent
7 juvenile for any act committed in the state or if the juvenile is suspected of having
8 committed within the state a criminal offense or an act of juvenile delinquency, the 9 juvenile shall not be returned without the consent of the receiving state until 10 discharged from prosecution or other form of proceeding, imprisonment, detention,
11 or supervision for the offense or juvenile delinquency. The duly accredited officers of 12 the sending state shall be permitted to transport delinquent juveniles being so
13 returned through any and all states party to this Compact without interference.

14 (d) The sending state shall be responsible under this Article for paying the costs of 15 transporting any delinquent juvenile to the receiving state or of returning any
16 delinquent juvenile to the sending state.

17 "§ 7B-2808. Responsibility for costs.

18 (a) The provisions of G.S. 7B-2804(b), 7B-2805(b), and 7B-2807(d) shall not be
19 construed to alter or affect any internal relationship among the departments, agencies,
20 and officers of and in the government of a party state, or between a party state and its 21 subdivisions, as to the payment of costs or responsibilities therefor.

22 (b) Nothing in this Compact shall be construed to prevent any party state or 23 subdivision thereof from asserting any right against any person, agency, or other 24 entity in regard to costs for which such party state or subdivision thereof may be
25 responsible pursuant to G.S. 7B-2804(b), 7B-2805(b), and 7B-2807(d).

26 "§ 7B-2809. Detention practices.

27 To every extent possible, it shall be the policy of states party to this Compact that 28 no juvenile or delinquent juvenile shall be placed or detained in any prison, jail, or 29 lockup, nor be detained or transported in association with criminal, vicious, or 30 dissolute persons.

31 "§ 7B-2810. Supplementary agreements.

32 The duly constituted administrative authorities of a state party to this Compact
33 may enter into supplementary agreements with any other state or states party hereto
34 for the cooperative care, treatment, and rehabilitation of delinquent juveniles
35 whenever they find that the agreements will improve the facilities or programs
36 available for care, treatment, and rehabilitation. Care, treatment, and rehabilitation
37 may be provided in an institution located within any state entering into a 38 supplementary agreement. Supplementary agreements shall:

39 (1) Provide the rates to be paid for the care, treatment, and custody of 40 delinquent juveniles taking into consideration the character of 41 facilities, services, and subsistence furnished;

42 (2) Provide that the delinquent juvenile shall be given a court hearing
43 prior to the juvenile being sent to another state for care, treatment,
44 and custody;

- (3) Provide that the state receiving a delinquent juvenile in one of its institutions shall act solely as agent for the state sending the delinquent juvenile;
- (4) Provide that the sending state shall at all times retain jurisdiction over delinquent juveniles sent to an institution in another state;
- (5) Provide for reasonable inspection of the institutions by the sending state;
- (6) Provide that the consent of the parent, guardian, person, or agency entitled to the legal custody of the delinquent juvenile shall be secured prior to the juvenile being sent to another state; and
- (7) Make provisions for any other matters and details as shall be necessary to protect the rights and equities of delinquent juveniles and of the cooperating states.

"§ 7B-2811. Acceptance of federal and other aid.

Any state party to this Compact may accept any and all donations, gifts, and grants of money, equipment, and services from the federal or any local government, or any agency thereof and from any person, firm, or corporation, for any of the purposes and functions of this Compact, and may receive and utilize, the same subject to the terms, conditions, and regulations governing such donations, gifts, and grants.

"§ 7B-2812. Compact administrators.

The governor of each state party to this Compact shall designate an officer who, acting jointly with like officers of other party states, shall promulgate rules and regulations to carry out more efficiently the terms and provisions of this Compact.

"§ 7B-2813. Execution of Compact.

This Compact shall become operative immediately upon its execution by any state as between it and any other state or states so executing. When executed it shall have the full force and effect of law within the state, the form of execution to be in accordance with the laws of the executing state.

"§ 7B-2814. Renunciation.

This Compact shall continue in force and remain binding upon each executing state until renounced by it. Renunciation of this Compact shall be by the same authority which executed it, by sending six months' notice in writing of its intention to withdraw from the Compact to the other states party hereto. The duties and obligations of a renouncing state under G.S. 7B-2807 hereof shall continue as to parolees and probationers residing therein at the time of withdrawal until retaken or finally discharged. Supplementary agreements entered into under G.S. 7B-2810 hereof shall be subject to renunciation as provided by supplementary agreements and shall not be subject to the six months' renunciation notice of the present section.

"§ 7B-2815. Severability.

The provisions of this Compact shall be severable and if any phrase, clause, sentence, or provision of this Compact is declared to be contrary to the constitution of any participating state or of the United States or the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person, or circumstances is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this Compact and the applicability thereof to any government, agency,

1 person, or circumstances shall not be affected thereby. If this Compact shall be held
2 contrary to the constitution of any state participating therein, the Compact shall
3 remain in full force and effect as to the remaining states and in full force and effect
4 as to the state affected as to all severable matters.

5 "§ 7B-2816. Authority of Governor to designate Compact Administrator.

6 Pursuant to said Compact, the Governor is hereby authorized and empowered to
7 designate an officer who shall be the Compact Administrator and who, acting jointly
8 with like officers of other party states, shall adopt rules and regulations to carry out
9 more effectively the terms of the Compact. The Compact Administrator shall serve
10 subject to the pleasure of the Governor. The Compact Administrator is hereby 11 authorized, empowered, and directed to cooperate with all departments, agencies,
12 and officers of and in the government of this State and its subdivisions in facilitating 13 the proper administration of the Compact or of any supplementary agreement or 14 agreements entered into by this State hereunder.

15 "§ 7B-2817. Authority of Compact Administrator to enter into supplementary
16 agreements.

17 The Compact Administrator is hereby authorized and empowered to enter into 18 supplementary agreements with appropriate officials of other states pursuant to the 19 Compact. In the event that the supplementary agreement shall require or contemplate
20 the use of any institution or facility of this State or require or contemplate the 21 provision of any service by this State, the supplementary agreement shall have no
22 force or effect until approved by the head of the department or agency under whose 23 jurisdiction said institution or facility is operated or whose department or agency will 24 be charged with the rendering of the service.

25 "§ 7B-2818. Discharging financial obligations imposed by Compact or agreement.

26 The Compact Administrator, subject to the approval of the Director of the Budget,
27 may make or arrange for any payments necessary to discharge any financial 28 obligations imposed upon this State by the Compact or by any supplementary
29 agreement entered into thereunder.

30 "§ 7B-2819. Enforcement of Compact.

31 The courts, departments, agencies, and officers of this State and subdivisions shall 32 enforce this Compact and shall do all things appropriate to the effectuation of its
33 purposes and intent which may be within their respective jurisdictions.

34 "§ 7B-2820. Additional procedure for returning runaways not precluded.

35 In addition to any procedure provided in G.S. 7B-2804 and G.S. 7B-2806 of the 36 Compact for the return of any runaway juvenile, the particular states, the juvenile or 37 the juvenile's parents, the courts, or other legal custodian involved may agree upon
38 and adopt any other plan or procedure legally authorized under the laws of this State
39 and the other respective party states for the return of any runaway juvenile.

40 "§ 7B-2821. Proceedings for return of runaways under G.S. 7B-2804 of Compact;
41 'juvenile' construed.

42 The judge of any court in North Carolina to which an application is made for the 43 return of a runaway under the provisions of G.S. 7B-2804 of the Interstate Compact
44 on Juveniles shall hold a hearing thereon to determine whether for the purposes of

1. the Compact the petitioner is entitled to the legal custody of the juvenile, whether or
2 not it appears that the juvenile has in fact run away without consent, whether or not
3 the juvenile is an emancipated minor and whether or not it is in the best interests of 4 the juvenile to compel the return of the juvenile to the state. The judge of any court
5 in North Carolina, finding that a requisition for the return of a juvenile under the
6 provisions of G.S. 7B-2804 of the Compact is in order, shall upon request fix a
7 reasonable time to be allowed for the purpose of testing the legality of the 8 proceeding. The period of time for holding a juvenile in custody under the provisions
9 of G.S. 7B-2804 of the Compact for the protection and welfare of the juvenile, subject
10 to the order of a court of this State, to enable the juvenile's return to another state
11 party to the Compact pursuant to a requisition for return from a court of that state,
12 shall not exceed 30 days. In applying the provisions of G.S. 7B-2804 of the Compact
13 to secure the return of a runaway from North Carolina, the courts of this State shall 14 construe the word 'juvenile' as used in this Article to mean any person who has not
15 reached the person's eighteenth birthday.

16 "§ 7B-2822. Interstate parole and probation hearing procedures for juveniles.

17 Where supervision of a parolee or probationer is being administered pursuant to 18 the Interstate Compact on Juveniles, the appropriate judicial or administrative
19 authorities in this State shall notify the Compact Administrator of the sending state
20 whenever, in their view, consideration should be given to retaking or reincarceration
21 for a parole or a probation violation. Prior to giving of notification, a hearing shall be
22 held in accordance with this Article within a reasonable time, unless the hearing is
23 waived by the parolee or probationer. The appropriate officer or officers of this State
24 shall, as soon as practicable, following termination of any hearing, report to the 25 sending state, furnish a copy of the hearing record, and make recommendations
26 regarding the disposition to be made of the parolee or probationer by the sending 27 state. Pending any proceeding pursuant to this section, the appropriate officers of this
28 State may take custody of and detain the parolee or probationer involved for a period
29 not to exceed 10 days prior to the hearing and, if it appears to the hearing officer or
30 officers that retaking or reincarceration is likely to follow, for a reasonable period
31 after the hearing or waiver as may be necessary to arrange for retaking or the 32 reincarceration.

33 "§ 7B-2823. Hearing officers.

34 Any hearing pursuant to this Article may be before the Administrator of the 35 Interstate Compact on Juveniles, a deputy of the Administrator, or any other person
36 authorized pursuant to the juvenile laws of this State to hear cases of alleged juvenile
37 parole or probation violations, except that no hearing officer shall be the person
38 making the allegation of violation.

39 "§ 7B-2824. Due process at parole or probation violation hearing.

40 With respect to any hearing pursuant to this Article, the parolee or probationer:

- 41 (1) Shall have reasonable notice in writing of the nature and content
42 of the allegations to be made, including notice that the purpose of 43 the hearing is to determine whether there is probable cause to

- 1 believe that the parolee or probationer has committed a violation
2 that may lead to a revocation of parole or probation;
3 (2) Shall be permitted to advise with any persons whose assistance the
4 parolee or probationer reasonably desires, prior to the hearing;
5 (3) Shall have the right to confront and examine any persons who
6 have made allegations against the parolee or probationer, unless
7 the hearing officer determines that confrontation would present a
8 substantial present or subsequent danger of harm to the person or 9 persons; and
10 (4) May admit, deny, or explain the violation alleged and may present
11 proof, including affidavits and other evidence, in support of the 12 parolee's or probationer's contentions.

13 A record of the proceedings shall be made and preserved.

14 "§ 7B-2825. Effect of parole or probation violation hearing outside State.

15 In any case of alleged parole or probation violation by a person being supervised
16 in another state pursuant to the Interstate Compact on Juveniles, any appropriate
17 judicial or administrative officer or agency in another state is authorized to hold a
18 hearing on the alleged violation. Upon receipt of the record of a parole or probation
19 violation hearing held in another state pursuant to a statute substantially similar to 20 this Article, such record shall have the same standing and effect as though the 21 proceeding of which it is a record was had before the appropriate officer or officers
22 in this State, and any recommendations contained in or accompanying the record
23 shall be fully considered by the appropriate officer or officers of this State in making
24 disposition of the matter.

25 "§ 7B-2826. Amendment to Interstate Compact on Juveniles concerning interstate
26 rendition of juveniles alleged to be delinquent.

27 (a) This amendment shall provide additional remedies and shall be binding only as
28 among and between those party states which specifically execute the same.

29 (b) All provisions and procedures of G.S. 7B-2805 and G.S. 7B-2806 of the 30 Interstate Compact on Juveniles shall be construed to apply to any juvenile charged
31 with being a delinquent by reason of a violation of any criminal law. Any juvenile,
32 charged with being a delinquent by reason of violating any criminal law, shall be 33 returned to the requesting state upon a requisition to the state where the juvenile may 34 be found. A petition in the case shall be filed in a court of competent jurisdiction in 35 the requesting state where the violation of criminal law is alleged to have been 36 committed. The petition may be filed regardless of whether the juvenile has left the 37 state before or after the filing of the petition. The requisition described in G.S. 7B-
38 2805 of the Compact shall be forwarded by the judge of the court in which the 39 petition has been filed.

40 "§ 7B-2827. Out-of-State Confinement Amendment.

41 (a) The Out-of-State Confinement Amendment to the Interstate Compact on 42 Juveniles is hereby enacted into law and entered into by this State with all other
43 states legally joining therein in the form substantially as follows:

- (1) Whenever the fully constituted judicial or administrative authorities in a sending state shall determine that confinement of a probationer or reconfinement of a parolee is necessary or desirable, the officials may direct that the confinement or reconfinement be in an appropriate institution for delinquent juveniles within the territory of the receiving state, the receiving state to act in that regard solely as agent for the sending state.
- (2) Escapees and absconders who would otherwise be returned pursuant to G.S. 7B-2805 of the Compact may be confined or reconfined in the receiving state pursuant to this amendment. In any case in which the information and allegations are required to be made and furnished in a requisition pursuant to G.S. 7B-2805, the sending state shall request confinement or reconfinement in the receiving state. Whenever applicable, detention orders, as provided in G.S. 7B-2805, may be employed pursuant to this paragraph preliminary to disposition of the escapee or absconder.
- (3) The confinement or reconfinement of a parolee, probationer, escapee, or absconder pursuant to this amendment shall require the concurrence of the appropriate judicial or administrative authorities of the receiving state.
- (4) As used in this amendment: (i) 'sending state' means a sending state as that term is used in G.S. 7B-2807 of the Compact or the state from which a delinquent juvenile has escaped or absconded within the meaning of G.S. 7B-2805 of the Compact; (ii) 'receiving state' means any state, other than the sending state, in which a parolee, probationer, escapee, or absconder may be found, provided that the state is a party to this amendment.
- (5) Every state which adopts this amendment shall designate at least one of its institutions for delinquent juveniles as a 'Compact Institution' and shall confine persons therein as provided in subdivision (1) of this subsection unless the sending and receiving state in question shall make specific contractual arrangements to the contrary. All states party to this amendment shall have access to 'Compact Institutions' at all reasonable hours for the purpose of inspecting the facilities thereof and for the purpose of visiting such of the State's delinquents as may be confined in the institution.
- (6) Persons confined in 'Compact Institutions' pursuant to the terms of this Compact shall at all times be subject to the jurisdiction of the sending state and may at any time be removed from the 'Compact Institution' for transfer to an appropriate institution within the sending state, for return to probation or parole, for discharge, or for any purpose permitted by the laws of the sending state.
- (7) All persons who may be confined in a 'Compact Institution' pursuant to the provisions of this amendment shall be treated in a reasonable and humane manner. The fact of confinement or reconfinement in a receiving state shall not deprive any person so confined or reconfined of any rights which the person would have had if confined or reconfined in an appropriate institution of the sending state. No agreement to submit to confinement or reconfinement pursuant to the terms of this amendment may be construed as a waiver of any rights which the delinquent would have had if the person had been confined or reconfined in any appropriate institution of the sending state, except that the hearing or hearings, if any, to which a parolee, probationer, escapee, or absconder may be entitled (prior to confinement or reconfinement) by the laws of the sending state may be had before the appropriate judicial or administrative officers of the receiving state. In this event, said judicial and administrative officers shall act as agents of the sending state after consultation with appropriate officers of the sending state.

(8) Any receiving state incurring costs or other expenses under this amendment shall be reimbursed in the amount of the costs or other expenses by the sending state unless the states concerned shall specifically otherwise agree. Any two or more states party to this amendment may enter into supplementary agreements determining a different allocation of costs as among themselves.

(9) This amendment shall take initial effect when entered into by any two or more states party to the Compact and shall be effective as to those states which have specifically enacted this amendment. Rules and regulations necessary to effectuate the terms of this amendment may be adopted by the appropriate officers of those states which have enacted this amendment.

(b) In addition to any institution in which the authorities of this State may otherwise confine or order the confinement of a delinquent juvenile, the authorities may, pursuant to the Out-of-State Confinement Amendment to the Interstate Compact on Juveniles, confine or order the confinement of a delinquent juvenile in a Compact Institution within another party state.

14 right to examine them.

19 in the custody of a public agency, or the disclosure to the public of the substance or
20 content of any psychiatric, psychological, or therapeutic evaluations or like materials

38 court for an order compelling disclosure of the findings and information of the public
39 agency. The application shall set forth, with reasonable particularity, factors
40 supporting the application. The superior court shall have jurisdiction to issue such 41 orders. Actions brought pursuant to this section shall be set down for immediate 42 hearing, and subsequent proceedings in such actions shall be accorded priority by the 43 appellate courts. After the court has reviewed the specific findings and information,

1 in camera, the court shall issue an order compelling disclosure unless the court finds
2 that one or more of the circumstances in subsection (d) of this section exist.

3 (f) Access to criminal investigative reports and criminal intelligence information
4 of public law enforcement agencies and confidential information in the possession of

The chief district court judge in each district shall designate by standing order certain agencies in the district as 'agencies authorized to share information'. Agencies so designated shall share with one another, upon request, information that is in their possession that is relevant to any case in which a petition is filed alleging that a juvenile is abused, neglected, dependent, undisciplined, or delinquent and shall continue to do so until the juvenile is no longer subject to the jurisdiction of juvenile court. Nothing herein shall be deemed to require the disclosure or release of any information in the possession of a district attorney.

Notification of the school principal in person or by telephone shall be made before the beginning of the next school day. Delivery shall be made as soon as practicable but at least within five days of the action. Delivery shall be made in person or by certified mail. Notification that a petition has been filed shall describe the nature of the offense. (a) Any person who has attained the age of 18 years may file a petition in the court where the person was adjudicated undisciplined for expunction of all records of that adjudication.

(b) Any person who has attained the age of 16 years may file a petition in the court where the person was adjudicated delinquent for expunction of all records of that adjudication provided:

(1) The offense for which the person was adjudicated would have been a crime other than a Class A, B1, B2, C, D, or E felony if committed by an adult.

(2) The person has not subsequently been adjudicated delinquent or convicted as an adult of any felony or misdemeanor other than a traffic violation under the laws of the United States or the laws of this State or any other state.

Records relating to an adjudication for an offense that would be a Class A, B1, B2, C, D, or E felony if committed by an adult shall not be expunged.

(c) The petition shall contain, but not be limited to, the following:

(1) An affidavit by the petitioner that the petitioner has been of good behavior since the adjudication and, in the case of a petition based on a delinquency adjudication, that the petitioner has not

1 subsequently been adjudicated delinquent or convicted as an adult
2 of any felony or misdemeanor other than a traffic violation under 3 the laws of the United States, or the laws of this State or any other
4 state;

5 (2) Verified affidavits of two persons, who are not related to the 6 petitioner or to each other by blood or marriage, that they know
7 the character and reputation of the petitioner in the community in 8 which the petitioner lives and that the petitioner's character and 9 reputation are good;

10 (3) A statement that the petition is a motion in the cause in the case 11 wherein the petitioner was adjudicated delinquent or 12 undisciplined.

13 The petition shall be served upon the district attorney in the district wherein 14 adjudication occurred. The district attorney shall have 10 days thereafter in which to 15 file any objection thereto and shall be duly notified as to the date of the hearing on 16 the petition.

17 (d) If the court, after hearing, finds that the petitioner satisfies the conditions set 18 out in subsections (a) or (b) of this section, the petitioner shall order and direct the 19 clerk and all law enforcement agencies to expunge their records of the adjudication
20 including all references to arrests, complaints, referrals, petitions, and orders.

21 (e) The clerk shall forward a certified copy of the order to the sheriff, chief of 22 police, or other law enforcement agency.

23 (f) Records of a juvenile adjudicated delinquent or undisciplined being
24 maintained by the chief court counselor, an intake counselor or a court counselor
25 shall be retained or disposed of as provided by the Department.

26 (g) Records of a juvenile adjudicated delinquent or undisciplined being 27 maintained by personnel at a residential facility operated by the Department, shall be
28 retained or disposed of as provided by the Department.

29 (h) Any person who was alleged to be delinquent as a juvenile and has attained
30 the age of 16 years, or was alleged to be undisciplined as a juvenile and has attained
31 the age of 18 years, may file a petition in the court in which the person was alleged 32 to be delinquent or undisciplined, for expunction of all juvenile records of the 33 juvenile having been alleged to be delinquent or undisciplined if the court dismissed
34 the juvenile petition without an adjudication that the juvenile was delinquent or 35 undisciplined. The petition shall be served on the chief court counselor in the district
36 where the juvenile petition was filed. The chief court counselor shall have 10 days
37 thereafter in which to file a written objection in the court. If no objection is filed, the 38 court may grant the petition without a hearing. If an objection is filed or the court so 39 directs, a hearing shall be scheduled and the chief court counselor shall be notified as 40 to the date of the hearing. If the court finds at the hearing that the petitioner satisfies
41 the conditions specified herein, the court shall order the clerk and the appropriate
42 law enforcement agencies to expunge their records of the allegations of delinquent or 43 undisciplined acts including all references to arrests, complaints, referrals, juvenile 44 petitions, and orders. The clerk shall forward a certified copy of the order of

1 expunction to the sheriff, chief of police, or other appropriate law enforcement
2 agency, and to the chief court counselor, and these specified officials shall
3 immediately destroy all records relating to the allegations that the juvenile was
4 delinquent or undisciplined.

5 "§ 7B-3201. Effect of expunction.

6 (a) Whenever a juvenile's record is expunged, with respect to the matter in which
7 the record was expunged, the juvenile who is the subject of the record and the 8 juvenile's parent may inform any person or organization including employers, banks,
9 credit companies, insurance companies, and schools that the juvenile was not 10 arrested, did not appear before the court, and was not adjudicated delinquent or 11 undisciplined.

12 (b) Notwithstanding subsection (a) of this section, in any delinquency case if the 13 juvenile is the defendant and chooses to testify or if the juvenile is not the defendant
14 and is called as a witness, the juvenile may be ordered to testify with respect to 15 whether the juvenile was adjudicated delinquent.

16 "§ 7B-3202. Notice of expunction.

17 Upon expunction of a juvenile's record, the clerk shall send a written notice to the 18 juvenile at the juvenile's last known address informing the juvenile that the record
19 has been expunged and with respect to the matter involved, the juvenile may inform 20 any person that the juvenile has no record. The notice shall inform the juvenile 21 further that if the matter involved is a delinquency record, the juvenile may inform
22 any person that the juvenile was not arrested or adjudicated delinquent except that
23 upon testifying in a delinquency proceeding, the juvenile may be required by a court
24 to disclose that the juvenile was adjudicated delinquent.

26 "Computation of Recidivism Rates.

27 "§ 7B-3300. Juvenile recidivism rates.

29 recidivism rate of juveniles who are adjudicated delinquent for offenses that would be 30 Class A, B1, B2, C, D, or E felonies if committed by adults and who subsequently are 31 adjudicated delinquent or convicted and shall report the statistics to the Joint 32 Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations by December 31 each year.

33 (b) The chief court counselor of each judicial district shall forward to the 34 Department relevant information, as determined by the Department, regarding every
35 juvenile who is adjudicated delinquent for an offense that would be a Class A, B1,
36 B2, C, D, or E felony if committed by an adult for the purpose of computing the 37 statistics required by this section.

44 supervision and control of the juvenile's parents.

1 "§ 7B-3400.1. Definitions.

2 The definitions of G.S. 7B-101 and G.S. 7B-1501 apply to this Subchapter.

3 "§ 7B-3401. Exceptions.

4 This Article shall not apply to any juvenile under the age of 18 who is married or
5 who is serving in the armed forces of the United States, or who has been
6 emancipated.

7 "§ 7B-3402. No criminal liability created.

8 This Article shall not be interpreted to place any criminal liability on a parent for 9 any act of the parent's juvenile 16 years of age or older.

10 "§ 7B-3403. Enforcement.

11 The provisions of this Article may be enforced by the parent, guardian, or person
12 standing in loco parentis to the child by filing a civil action in the district court of the 13 county where the child can be found or the county of the plaintiff's residence. Upon
14 the institution of such action by a verified complaint, alleging that the defendant
15 juvenile has left home or has left the place where the juvenile has been residing and
16 refuses to return and comply with the direction and control of the plaintiff, the court
17 may issue an order directing the juvenile personally to appear before the court at a
18 specified time to be heard in answer to the allegations of the plaintiff and to comply
19 with further orders of the court. Such orders shall be served by the sheriff upon the 20 juvenile and upon any other person named as a party defendant in such action. At 21 the time of the issuance of the order directing the juvenile to appear, the court may
22 in the same order, or by separate order, order the sheriff to enter any house, building,
23 structure or conveyance for the purpose of searching for the juvenile and serving the 24 order and for the purpose of taking custody of the person of the juvenile in order to
25 bring the juvenile before the court. Any order issued at said hearing shall be treated
26 as a mandatory injunction and shall remain in full force and effect until the juvenile 27 reaches the age of 18, or until further orders of the court. Within 30 days after the

32 jurisdiction to hear the matter, without a jury, and to make findings of fact,
33 conclusions of law, and render judgment thereon. Appeals from the district court to 34 the Court of Appeals shall be allowed as in civil actions generally. The district court
35 issuing the original order or the district court hearing the matter after answer has 36 been filed shall also have authority to order that any person named defendant in the
37 order or judgment shall not harbor, keep, or allow the defendant juvenile to remain
38 on the person's premises or in the person's home. Failure of any defendant to 39 comply with the terms of said order or judgment shall be punishable as for contempt.

17 A copy of the filed petition along with a summons shall be served upon the 18 petitioner's parent, guardian, or custodian who shall be named as respondents. The 19 summons shall include the time and place of the hearing and shall notify the 20 respondents to file written answer within 30 days after service of the summons and

27 Upon finding that reasonable cause exists, the court may order the juvenile to be
28 examined by a psychiatrist, a licensed clinical psychologist, a physician, or any other
29 expert to evaluate the juvenile's mental or physical condition. The court may 30 continue the hearing and order investigation by a court counselor or by the county 31 department of social services to substantiate allegations of the petitioner or 32 respondents.

33 No husband-wife or physician-patient privilege shall be grounds for excluding any 34 evidence in the hearing.

35 "§ 7B-3504. Considerations for emancipation.

36 In determining the best interests of the petitioner and the need for emancipation,
37 the court shall review the following considerations:

44 the petitioner with the petitioner's family;

(6) The petitioner's rejection of parental supervision or support; and

(7) The quality of parental supervision or support.

"§ 7B-3505. Final decree of emancipation.

After reviewing the considerations for emancipation, the court may enter a decree of emancipation if the court determines:

(1) That all parties are properly before the court or were duly served and failed to appear and that time for filing an answer has expired; and

(2) That the petitioner has shown a proper and lawful plan for adequately providing for the petitioner's needs and living expenses; and

(3) That the petitioner is knowingly seeking emancipation and fully understands the ramifications of the act; and

(4) That emancipation is in the best interests of the petitioner.

The decree shall set out the court's findings.

If the court determines that the criteria in subdivisions (1) through (4) are not met, the court shall order the proceeding dismissed.

"§ 7B-3506. Costs of court.

The court may tax the costs of the proceeding to any party or may, for good cause, order the costs remitted.

The clerk may collect costs for furnishing to the petitioner a certificate of emancipation which shall recite the name of the petitioner and the fact of the petitioner's emancipation by court decree and shall have the seal of the clerk affixed thereon.

"§ 7B-3507. Legal effect of final decree.

As of entry of the final decree of emancipation:

(1) The petitioner has the same right to make contracts and conveyances, to sue and to be sued, and to transact business as if the petitioner were an adult.

(2) The parent or guardian is relieved of all legal duties and obligations owed to the petitioner and is divested of all rights with respect to the petitioner.

(3) The decree is irrevocable.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, a decree of emancipation shall not alter the application of G.S. 14-326.1 or the petitioner's right to inherit property by intestate succession.

"§ 7B-3508. Appeals.

Any petitioner, parent, or guardian who is a party to a proceeding under this Article may appeal from any order of disposition to the Court of Appeals provided that notice of appeal is given in open court at the time of the hearing or in writing within 10 days after the hearing. Pending disposition of an appeal, the court may enter a temporary order affecting the custody or placement of the petitioner as the court finds to be in the best interests of the petitioner or the State.

"§ 7B-3509. Application of common law.

1 A married juvenile is emancipated by this Article. All other common-law
2 provisions for emancipation are superseded by this Article.

3 "ARTICLE 36.

4 "Judicial Consent for Emergency Surgical or Medical Treatment.

5 "§ 7B-3600. Judicial authorization of emergency treatment; procedure.

6 A juvenile in need of emergency treatment under Article 1A of Chapter 90 of the 7 General Statutes, whose physician is barred from rendering necessary treatment by
8 reason of parental refusal to consent to treatment, may receive treatment with court
9 authorization under the following procedure:

10 (1) The physician shall sign a written statement setting out:

- 11 a. The treatment to be rendered and the emergency need for 12 treatment;
13 b. The refusal of the parent, guardian, or person standing in 14 loco parentis to consent to the treatment; and
15 c. The impossibility of contacting a second physician for a
16 concurring opinion on the need for treatment in time to 17 prevent immediate harm to the juvenile.

18 (2) Upon examining the physician's written statement prescribed in 19 subdivision (1) of this section and finding:

- 20 a. That the statement is in accordance with this Article, and 21 b. That the proposed treatment is necessary to prevent
22 immediate harm to the juvenile.

23 The court may issue a written authorization for the proposed
24 treatment to be rendered.

25 (3) In acute emergencies in which time may not permit
26 implementation of the written procedure set out in subdivisions (1)
27 and (2) of this section, the court may authorize treatment in person
28 or by telephone upon receiving the oral statement of a physician 29 satisfying the requirements of subdivision (1) of this section and 30 upon finding that the proposed treatment is necessary to prevent 31 immediate harm to the juvenile.

32 (4) The court's authorization for treatment overriding parental refusal 33 to consent should not be given without attempting to offer the 34 parent an opportunity to state the reasons for refusal; however,
35 failure of the court to hear the parent's objections shall not 36 invalidate judicial authorization under this Article.

37 (5) The court's authorization for treatment under subdivisions (1) and 38 (2) of this section shall be issued in duplicate. One copy shall be 39 given to the treating physician and the other copy shall be attached 40 to the physician's written statement and filed as a juvenile 41 proceeding in the office of the clerk of court.

42 (6) The court's authorization for treatment under subdivision (3) of 43 this section shall be reduced to writing as soon as possible,
44 supported by the physician's written statement as prescribed in

1                   subdivision (1) of this section and shall be filed as prescribed in 2                   subdivision (5) of this section.

3 The court's authorization for treatment under this Article shall have the same effect
4 as parental consent for treatment.

5     Following the court's authorization for treatment and after giving notice to the 6 juvenile's parent, the court shall conduct a hearing in order to provide for payment
7 for the treatment rendered. The court may order the parent or other responsible 8 parties to pay the cost of treatment. If the court finds the parent is unable to pay the 9 cost of treatment, the cost shall be a charge upon the county when so ordered.

10     This Article shall operate as a remedy in addition to the provisions in G.S. 7B-903, 11 7B-2501, and 7B-2504.

20     (b) The person with whom a child is placed for either of the purposes set out in

1 "§ 7B-3703. Violation of Article a misdemeanor.

2 Every person acting for himself or for an agency who violates any of the provisions
3 of this Article or who shall intentionally make any false statements to the Social 4 Services Commission or the Secretary or an employee thereof acting for the 5 Department of Health and Human Services in an official capacity in the placing or 18 "Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children.

19 "§ 7B-3800. Adoption of Compact.

20 The Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children is hereby enacted into law
21 and entered into with all other jurisdictions legally joining therein in a form
22 substantially as contained in this Article. It is the intent of the General Assembly that 23 Article 4 of this Chapter shall govern interstate placements of children between 26 the adoption of children within the boundaries of North Carolina.

27 Article I. Purpose and Policy.

28 It is the purpose and policy of the party states to cooperate with each other in the 32 qualifications and facilities to provide a necessary and desirable degree and type of 33 care.

34 (b) The appropriate authorities in a state where a child is to be placed may have 35 full opportunity to ascertain the circumstances of the proposed placement, thereby 36 promoting full compliance with applicable requirements for the protection of the 37 child.

38 (c) The proper authorities of the state from which the placement is made may 39 obtain the most complete information on the basis of which to evaluate a projected 42 promoted.

33           (b) Prior to sending, bringing or causing any child to be sent or brought into a

35           the sending agency shall furnish the appropriate public authorities in the receiving

37           state. The notice shall contain:

- 38           (1) The name, date, and place of birth of the child.

7           entitled to receive therefrom, such supporting or additional information as it may 8           deem necessary under the circumstances to carry out the purpose and policy of this 9           Compact.

10          (d) The child shall not be sent, brought, or caused to be sent or brought into the 11          receiving state until the appropriate public authorities in the receiving state shall 12          notify the sending agency, in writing, to the effect that the proposed placement does 13          not appear to be contrary to the interests of the child.

14                               Article IV. Penalty for Illegal Placement.

15          The sending, bringing, or causing to be sent or brought into any receiving state of 16          a child in violation of the terms of this Compact shall constitute a violation of the 17          laws respecting the placement of children of both the state in which the sending 18          agency is located or from which it sends or brings the child and of the receiving state.
19          Such violation may be punished or subjected to penalty in either jurisdiction in 20          accordance with its laws. In addition to liability for any such punishment or penalty, 21          any such violation shall constitute full and sufficient grounds for the suspension or 22          revocation of any license, permit, or other legal authorization held by the sending 23          agency which empowers or allows it to place, or care for children.

24                               Article V. Retention of Jurisdiction.

25          (a) The sending agency shall retain jurisdiction over the child sufficient to 26          determine all matters in relation to the custody, supervision, care, treatment, and 27          disposition of the child which it would have had if the child had remained in the 28          sending agency's state, until the child is adopted, reaches majority, becomes self-29          supporting or is discharged with the concurrence of the appropriate authority in the 30          receiving state. Such jurisdiction shall also include the power to effect or cause the 31          return of the child or its transfer to another location and custody pursuant to law.
32          The sending agency shall continue to have financial responsibility for support and 33          maintenance of the child during the period of the placement. Nothing contained 34          herein shall defeat a claim of jurisdiction by a receiving state sufficient to deal with 35          an act of delinquency or crime committed therein.

36          (b) When the sending agency is a public agency, it may enter into an agreement 37          with an authorized public or private agency in the receiving state providing for the 38          performance of one or more services in respect of such case by the latter as agent for 39          the sending agency.

40          (c) Nothing in this Compact shall be construed to prevent a private charitable 41          agency authorized to place children in the receiving state from performing services or 42          acting as agent in that state for a private charitable agency of the sending state; nor to 43          prevent the agency in the receiving state from discharging financial responsibility for

1 the support and maintenance of a child who has been placed on behalf of the sending 2 agency without relieving the responsibility set forth in paragraph (a) hereof.

3 Article VI. Institutional Care of Delinquent Children.

4 A child adjudicated delinquent may be placed in an institution in another party
5 jurisdiction pursuant to this Compact but no such placement shall be made unless the 6 child is given a court hearing on notice to the parent or guardian with opportunity to 7 be heard, prior to the child's being sent to such other party jurisdiction for 8 institutional care and the court finds that:

9 (1) Equivalent facilities for the child are not available in the sending 10 agency's jurisdiction; and

11 (2) Institutional care in the other jurisdiction is in the best interests of 12 the child and will not produce undue hardship.

13 Article VII. Compact Administrator.

14 The executive head of each jurisdiction party to this Compact shall designate an 15 officer who shall be general coordinator of activities under this Compact in the 16 officer's jurisdiction and who, acting jointly with like officers of other party
17 jurisdictions, shall have power to promulgate rules and regulations to carry out more 18 effectively the terms and provisions of this Compact.

19 Article VIII. Limitations.

20 This Compact shall not apply to: (a) the sending or bringing of a child into a 21 receiving state by the child's parent, stepparent, grandparent, adult brother or sister, 22 adult uncle or aunt, or the child's guardian and leaving the child with any such 23 relative or nonagency guardian in the receiving state. (b) Any placement, sending or 24 bringing of a child into a receiving state pursuant to any other interstate compact to 25 which both the state from which the child is sent or brought and the receiving state
26 are party, or to any other agreement between said states which has the force of law.

27 Article IX. Enactment and Withdrawal.

28 This Compact shall be open to joinder by any state, territory or possession of the 29 United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, and, with 30 the consent of Congress, the government of Canada or any province thereof. It shall 31 become effective with respect to any such jurisdiction when such jurisdiction has 32 enacted the same into law. Withdrawal from this Compact shall be by the enactment
33 of a statute repealing the same, but shall not take effect until two years after the 34 effective date of such statute and until written notice of the withdrawal has been 35 given by the withdrawing state to the governor of each other party jurisdiction.
36 Withdrawal of a party state shall not affect the rights, duties and obligations under 37 this Compact of any sending agency therein with respect to a placement made prior
38 to the effective date of withdrawal.

39 Article X. Construction and Severability.

40 The provisions of this Compact shall be liberally construed to effectuate the 41 purposes thereof. The provisions of this Compact shall be severable and if any 42 phrase, clause, sentence or provision of this Compact is declared to be contrary to the 43 constitution of any party state or of the United States or the applicability thereof to 44 any government, agency, person or circumstance is held invalid, the validity of the

1 remainder of this Compact and the applicability thereof to any government, agency,
2 person or circumstance shall not be affected thereby. If this Compact shall be held
3 contrary to the constitution of any state party thereto, the Compact shall remain in
4 full force and effect as to the remaining states and in full force and effect as to the
5 state affected as to all severable matters.

6 "§ 7B-3801. Financial responsibility under Compact.

7 Financial responsibility for any child placed pursuant to the provisions of the 8 Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children shall be determined in accordance 9 with the provisions of Article V thereof in the first instance. However, in the event of 10 partial or complete default of performance thereunder, the provisions of any other
11 state laws fixing responsibility for the support of children also may be invoked.

12 "§ 7B-3802. Agreements under Compact.

13 The officers and agencies of this State and its subdivisions having authority to 14 place children are hereby empowered to enter into agreements with appropriate
15 officers or agencies of or in other party states pursuant to paragraph (b) of Article V
16 of the Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children. Any such agreement which 17 contains a financial commitment or imposes a financial obligation on this State or 18 subdivision or agency thereof shall not be binding unless it has the approval in 19 writing of the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services in the case
20 of the State and of the county director of social services in the case of a county or 21 other subdivision of the State.

22 "§ 7B-3803. Visitation, inspection or supervision.

23 Any requirements for visitation, inspection or supervision of children, homes,
24 institutions or other agencies in another party state which may apply under the laws
25 of this State shall be deemed to be met if performed pursuant to an agreement
26 entered into by appropriate officers or agencies of this State or a subdivision thereof
27 as contemplated by paragraph (b) of Article V of the Interstate Compact on the 28 Placement of Children.

29 "§ 7B-3804. Compact to govern between party states.

30 The provisions of Article 37 of this Chapter shall not apply to placements made
31 pursuant to the Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children.

32 "§ 7B-3805. Placement of delinquents.

33 Any court having jurisdiction to place delinquent children may place such a child
34 in an institution or in another state pursuant to Article VI of the Interstate Compact
35 on the Placement of Children and shall retain jurisdiction as provided in Article V
36 thereof.

37 "§ 7B-3806. Compact Administrator.

38 The Governor is hereby authorized to appoint a Compact Administrator in 39 accordance with the terms of said Article VII."

40 Section 5. Article 81B of Chapter 15A of the General Statutes is 41 amended by adding a new section to read:

42 "§ 15A-1340.16B. Sentencing of juveniles.

6 procedures and mandates of Subchapter I. of Chapter 7B of the General Statutes, the 7 Juvenile Code. The study may include a review of the effectiveness of the juvenile 8 justice system with regard to the disposition of abuse, neglect, and dependency cases
9 and may consider whether the recommendations of the Court Improvement Project
10 will improve the procedures and disposition of those cases. The Legislative Research
11 Commission may report its findings, recommendations, and any legislative proposals
12 to the 1999 General Assembly on or before December 1, 1999.

13       Section 17. (a) The State Board of Education shall study the feasibility
14 and advisability of delaying the start of the school day in order to provide students 15 with constructive projects and tasks during late afternoon hours of the school week.
16 If the Board recommends that the school day be delayed, the Board shall consider 17 whether the local school administrative units should provide supervision of students 18 whose working parents do not have early morning child care available.

19       (b) The State Board of Education shall report its findings,
20 recommendations, and any legislative proposals to the Joint Legislative Education
21 Oversight Committee on or before April 1, 1999.

22       Section 18. (a) The Criminal Justice Information Network Governing
23 Board created pursuant to Section 23.3 of Chapter 18 of the Session Laws of the 1996
24 Second Extra Session shall develop a comprehensive juvenile justice information
25 system. The Board shall develop a system to collect data and information about every 26 juvenile who is alleged to be delinquent from the time a complaint is filed against the 27 juvenile, including:

- 28       (1) Fingerprints and photographs taken of the juvenile;
- 29       (2) Diversion agreements or plans entered into by the juvenile;
- 30       (3) Community services provided to the juvenile and any participation 31       of the juvenile in community-based programs;
- 32       (4) Court orders or dispositions of the juvenile; and
- 33       (5) Plans for care or treatment or for post-release supervision prepared 34       by the Department of Juvenile Justice.

35 The system shall allow for information and data on juveniles to be kept in a form to 36 be shared among appropriate agencies to develop treatment and intervention plans 37 based on specific data and to allow reliable assessment and evaluation of the 38 effectiveness of rehabilitative and preventive services provided to delinquent 39 juveniles.

40       (b) The Criminal Justice Information Network Governing Board shall 41 also study the most appropriate methods and procedures for obtaining, retaining, and 42 releasing fingerprints and photographs of juveniles alleged to be delinquent, 43 including:

- 1 (1) How to identify fingerprints and photographs of juveniles,
2 including the use of social security numbers;
- 3 (2) How long fingerprints and photographs of juveniles should be 4 maintained in the criminal justice information system;
- 5 (3) The extent to which juvenile fingerprints and photographs are kept 6 confidential;
- 7 (4) The circumstances or conditions under which juvenile fingerprints
8 and photographs should be disseminated;
- 9 (5) Whether juvenile fingerprints and photographs should be kept 10 separate from adult records and files; and
- 11 (6) When the juvenile fingerprints and photographs should be 12 destroyed.

13 (c) The Criminal Justice Information Network Governing Board shall 14 consider the issue of expunction of juvenile records, including the appropriate length
15 of time juvenile records should be available to law enforcement, prosecutors, and 16 service providers and under what limitations and conditions records should be 17 expunged.

18 (d) The Criminal Justice Information Network Governing Board shall 19 report to the Chairs of the Senate and House Appropriations Subcommittees on
20 Justice and Public Safety and to the Fiscal Research Division of the General
21 Assembly on the proposed system and any findings, recommendations, and legislative
22 proposals from its study on or before April 1, 1999.

23 Section 19. (a) The Department of Juvenile Justice shall develop a cost-24 effective plan to establish statewide community-based dispositional alternatives for 25 juveniles who are adjudicated delinquent. The plan shall include a funding strategy to 26 encourage communities to provide local resources, services, and treatment options to 27 meet the physical, emotional, and mental needs of juveniles and their families. In 28 developing the plan, the Department shall consider the following community-based 29 alternatives:

- 30 (1) Home-based family counseling with family support groups that can 31 provide required intervention services;
- 32 (2) After-school activity programs for middle school juveniles targeted 33 at potential at-risk juveniles during the time when most juvenile 34 crimes occur;
- 35 (3) Inpatient and outpatient substance abuse and sex offender
36 treatment programs;
- 37 (4) Intensive supervision of high-risk juveniles;
- 38 (5) Group homes with psychological treatment and programs for 39 juveniles who do not pose a threat to the public but who need long 40 term intervention services.

41 In addition, in developing the plan, the Department shall recommend which judicial 42 districts with high crime rates should have non-residential day reporting centers to 43 provide intensive supervision.

1 (b) The Department shall report to the Chairs of the Senate and House
2 Appropriations Subcommittees on Justice and Public Safety and to the Fiscal 3 Research Division of the General Assembly on the proposed plan, the cost of the 4 plan, and on any legislative proposals required to implement the plan on or before
5 April 1, 1999.

6 Section 20. (a) The Administrative Office of the Courts shall establish 7 pilot programs for the holding of family court within district court districts to be 8 chosen by the Administrative Office of the Courts. Each pilot program shall be 9 conducted following the guidelines for the establishment of family courts contained in 10 the report of the Commission for the Future of Justice and the Courts in North 11 Carolina and shall be assigned to hear all matters involving intrafamily rights, 12 relationships, and obligations, and all juvenile justice matters, including:

- 13 (1) Child abuse, neglect, and dependency;
- 14 (2) Delinquent and undisciplined juvenile matters;
- 15 (3) Emancipation of minors and termination of parental rights;
- 16 (4) Divorce;
- 17 (5) Annulment;
- 18 (6) Equitable distribution;
- 19 (7) Alimony and postseparation support;
- 20 (8) Child custody;
- 21 (9) Child support;
- 22 (10) Paternity;
- 23 (11) Adoption;
- 24 (12) Domestic violence civil restraining orders;
- 25 (13) Abortion consent waivers;
- 26 (14) Adult protective services; and
- 27 (15) Guardianship, involuntary commitment, and voluntary
28 admissions to mental health facilities.

29 (b) The Administrative Office of the Courts shall report to the Chairs of 30 the Senate and House Appropriations Subcommittees on Justice and Public Safety
31 and to the Fiscal Research Division of the General Assembly by March 1, 1999, on 32 the success of the pilot programs in bringing consistency, efficiency, and fairness to 33 the resolution of family matters and on the impact of the programs on caseloads in 34 the district court division.

35 Section 21. (a) The General Assembly finds that there are multiple risk
36 factors that put youth at risk of becoming delinquent, such as aggression, school
37 failure, child abuse and neglect, substance abuse, extreme economic deprivation,
38 friends who engage in problem behavior, inconsistent, ineffective discipline, poor
39 parental supervision, and family conflict. There are currently a number of screening
40 programs available through a number of State and local entities that, if better
41 coordinated, can provide adequate identification of delinquency risk factors so that
42 delinquency prevention programs and services can be effective.

43 The General Assembly further finds that there are currently a number of 44 State and local entities that provide delinquency prevention programs to at-risk youth

1 and their families, including early intervention programs and programs improving
2 cognitive and social competence and self-control skills, improving parenting skills,
3 and providing a positive role model. Many of these programs are already available
4 and need only to be made more accessible and to be better coordinated with other
5 existing programs and services.

6 (b) The Department of Juvenile Justice shall ensure that existing 7 programs made available through a number of entities, both at the State and at the 8 local level, that provide screenings that can provide adequate identification of 9 delinquency risk factors, continue to be used in a consistent, coordinated, and cost-
10 effective way so as to enable delinquency prevention programs and services to be
11 utilized in a consistent, coordinated, and cost-effective way.

12 (c) In implementing this section, the Department shall cooperate with all
13 affected State and local public and private entities, including local education
14 agencies, local health departments, developmental evaluation centers, local 15 departments of social services, the Divisions of Women and Children's Health, of 16 Social Services, and Mental Health, Developmental Disabilities, and Substance Abuse
17 Services of the Department of Health and Human Services, law enforcement
18 agencies, and nonprofit agencies.

19 (d) The Department shall report to the General Assembly by April 1, 20 1999, on its implementation of this section. This report shall include an evaluation of 21 the screenings and prevention programs, an identification of any bars in the law or in
22 any agency's policy that preclude effective cooperation, together with any legislative 23 and rule recommendations that are needed, recommendations as to any new 24 screening or prevention programs and services that are needed, and a detailed cost
25 analysis of these recommendations.

26 Section 22. (a) The Department of Juvenile Justice, in cooperation with 27 the Department of Public Instruction, shall study more effective and efficient ways to:

- 28 (1) Coordinate case management of delinquency and undisciplined
29 cases;
30 (2) Provide services to juveniles who are in need of treatment,
31 counseling, or rehabilitation and to the families of those juveniles,
32 including court-ordered parenting responsibility classes; and
33 (3) Provide the maximum protection to the public and to local school
34 administrative units, in particular, through the sharing of 35 information between agencies that work with juveniles who are 36 delinquent or undisciplined and increased accountability of those 37 juveniles and their parents.

38 The study shall include a review of all the agencies, councils, and programs that
39 provide services to juveniles, including the Center for the Prevention of School
40 Violence, School Resource Officers, the Guardian ad Litem Program of the 41 Administrative Office of the Courts, the Department of Social Services, the 42 Department of Administration, the Division of Child and Family Services, the 43 Division of Mental Health, Developmental Disabilities, and Substance Abuse
44 Services, and the Willie M. Program, and whether the agencies, councils, or programs

1 should be eliminated, consolidated, or incorporated within the Department of
2 Juvenile Justice. In determining whether to incorporate any of the above-listed
3 programs or agencies in the new department, the Department of Juvenile Justice and
4 the Department of Public Instruction shall consider the funding mechanisms of those
5 programs and agencies in an effort to operate the Department of Juvenile Justice in a
6 cost-effective and efficient manner.

7 (b) The Department of Juvenile Justice in cooperation with the
8 Department of Public Instruction, shall develop proposed rules, forms, and policies
9 required to establish the Department of Juvenile Justice and to implement the 10 objectives and mandates of Article 12 of Chapter 143B of the General Statutes, as 11 enacted by this act.

12 (c) On or before April 1, 1999, the Department of Juvenile Justice and
13 the Department of Public Instruction shall report its findings and recommendations,
14 including any legislative proposals and funding requirements that are required to 15 implement Article 12 of Chapter 143B of the General Statutes, as enacted by this act,
16 to the 1999 General Assembly by April 1, 1999.

17 PART VII. DEPARTMENT OF JUVENILE JUSTICE STUDY AND REPORT.

18 Section 23. The Department of Juvenile Justice shall use funds within its 19 budget to evaluate the effectiveness of the reform measures implemented pursuant to 20 the provisions of this act. The Department shall report the results of the evaluation
21 and any recommended legislative amendments to Chapter 7B of the General Statutes
22 to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations by April 1, 2001.

23 PART VIII. DEPARTMENT TRANSITIONAL PERIOD.

24 Section 24. Beginning October 1, 1998, the Department of Juvenile 25 Justice shall perform all functions and duties of the Division of Youth Services of the 26 Department of Health and Human Services and of the Division of Juvenile Services
27 of the Administrative Office of the Courts and shall have all powers and authority
28 vested in those Divisions pursuant to the General Statutes, notwithstanding that 29 Section 4 of this act amends the applicable sections of the General Statutes to revise 30 statutory references to "Division of Youth Services", "Division of Juvenile Services", 31 "Juvenile Services Division", "Administrative Office of the Courts", "Director of 32 Youth Services", and "Administrator of Juvenile Services", effective July 1, 1999.

33 PART IX. FACILITIES CONSTRUCTION.

34 Section 25. The Office of State Construction of the Department of 36 assistance, design, construction, or demolition of any juvenile facilities authorized for 37 the 1998-99 fiscal year, including renovation of existing adult facilities to juvenile 38 facilities.

39 The facilities authorized for the 1998-99 fiscal year shall be constructed in 40 accordance with the provisions of general law applicable to the construction of State
41 facilities. If the Secretary of Administration, after consultation with the Secretary of 42 the Department of Juvenile Justice, finds that the delivery of juvenile facilities must 43 be expedited for good cause, the Office of State Construction of the Department of 44 Administration shall be exempt from the following statutes and rules implementing

1 those statutes, to the extent necessary to expedite delivery: G.S. 143-135.26, 143-128,
2 143-129, 143-131, 143-132, 143-134, 113A-1 through 113A-10, 113A-50 through 113A-
3 66, 133-1.1(g), and 143-408.1 through 143-408.7.

4 Prior to exercising the exemptions allowable under this section, the 5 Secretary of Administration shall give reasonable notice in writing of the 6 Department's intent to exercise the exemptions to the Speaker of the House, the 7 President Pro Tempore of the Senate, the Chairs of the House and Senate
8 Appropriations Committees, the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental 9 Operations, and the Fiscal Research Division. The written notice shall contain at 10 least the following information: (i) the specific statutory requirement or requirements
11 from which the Department intends to exempt itself; (ii) the reason the exemption is 12 necessary to expedite delivery of juvenile facilities; (iii) the way in which the 14 a brief summary of the proposed contract for the project which is to be exempted.

15 The Office of State Construction of the Department of Administration
16 shall have a verifiable ten percent (10%) goal for participation by minority and 17 women-owned businesses. All contracts for the design, construction, or demolition of 18 juvenile facilities shall include a penalty for failure to complete the work by a 19 specified date.

20 The Office of State Construction of the Department of Administration
21 shall consult the Department of Juvenile Justice on these projects to the extent that 22 such involvement relates to the Department's program needs and to its responsibility
23 for the care of the population of the facility.

24 (b) The Office of State Construction of the Department of 25 Administration shall provide a report by May 1, 1999, to the Chairs of the Senate and 26 House Appropriations Committees, the Joint Legislative Commission on 27 Governmental Operations, and the Fiscal Research Division as to any changes in 28 projects and allocations authorized for the 1998-99 fiscal year. The report shall 29 include information on which contractors have been selected, what contracts have 30 been entered into, the projected and actual occupancy dates of facilities contracted 31 for, the number of beds to be constructed on each project, the location of each 32 project, and the projected and actual cost of each project.

33 PART X. APPROPRIATIONS.

35 Management a reserve fund entitled the "Juvenile Justice Reserve Fund" to provide 36 funds to implement the provisions of this act. There is appropriated from the General

38 four hundred thousand dollars ($42,400,000) for the 1998-99 fiscal year for the 39 Juvenile Justice Reserve Fund. The Office of State Budget and Management shall 40 report to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations on the 41 intended use of the funds prior to expenditure of any funds from the Juvenile Justice
42 Reserve Fund.

43 PART XI. SEVERABILITY CLAUSE.

RE: SENATE BILL 1077 - AMEND BURGLARY
Senator Dalton

Senate Bill 1077 amends the offenses of first and second degree burglary. Currently, burglary is defined by common law; G.S. 14-51 breaks the crime into degrees that depend on whether the dwelling is occupied when the breaking and entering occurs. The statute provides that there are two degrees of burglary. A person is guilty of 1st degree burglary if he or she breaks and enters without consent the dwelling house or sleeping apartment of another while it is actually occupied at night, with the intent to commit any felony or larceny therein. The elements of 2nd degree burglary are the same, except that the dwelling need not be occupied when the breaking and entering occurs, and the building broken and entered need not be a dwelling if it is "within the curtilage" of a dwelling.

Senate Bill 1077 deletes the present common-law requirement for burglary that there be a breaking and an entering, and that the breaking and entering must occur in the night-time. The bill defines first-degree burglary as (1) breaking or entering without consent, (2) with the intent of committing a larceny or felony, (3) a dwelling house or a room used as a sleeping apartment in any building, (4) and any person is actually occupying any part of the dwelling house or sleeping apartment at the time of the entry. The bill defines second-degree burglary in the same manner, except that the dwelling house or sleeping apartment need not actually be occupied by anyone at the time of the entry. Burglary in the 2nd degree also includes entering any house within the curtilage of a dwelling house.

The bill should be amended to become effective December 1, 1998 and apply to offenses committed on or after that date. The amendment would also delete redundant language regarding intent to commit a felony.

Proposed Committee Substitute
Senator Dalton

Senate Bill 909 would provide an enhanced penalty for certain offenses if the defendant possessed or took a dangerous weapon during the offense.

The bill adds a new G.S. 15A-1340.16B to provide that if a person is convicted under G.S. 14-51 (first- and second-degree burglary), 14-53 (breaking out of a dwelling house), or 14-54 (breaking or entering a building), and the sentencing judge finds that the person possessed or took a dangerous weapon during commission of the underlying offense, the person would be guilty of an offense that is one class higher than the offense committed. The enhanced sentence does not apply if evidence that the person possessed or took a dangerous weapon during the offense is needed to prove an element of the underlying offense. The new section defines "dangerous weapon" as a firearm, knife or other instrument with a point or sharp edge subject to ready use as weapon. The term also includes certain items that might be used to inflict or threaten to inflict serious bodily injury. A closed pocket knife that is neither displayed nor used is not a dangerous weapon.

The bill will become effective December 1, 1998 and apply to offenses committed on or after that date.

FROM: Brenda J. Carter, Committee Co-Counsel

RE: HOUSE BILL 904 - LIFE IMPRISONMENT/REPEAT CHILD MOLESTER
Representative Mosley

Subcommittee Recommendation: Favorable.

House Bill 904 would provide for a sentence of life imprisonment without parole for a second or subsequent conviction of a Class B1 felony, if the victim is 13 years of age or younger and there are no mitigating circumstances. Under structured sentencing, the following are Class B1 felonies:

- first-degree rape
- first-degree sexual offense
- statutory rape or sexual offense of a person who is 13, 14, or 15 years old when the defendant is at least 6 years older than the person.

The presumptive minimum sentence for a B1 offense is 192-240 months (16-20 years). In felony sentencing, a B1 felony counts as 9 points in the prior record calculation. This means that a defendant who has committed a prior B1 felony, and who has no other prior felony convictions, is placed at prior record level IV on the sentencing grid. Under current law, this means that the 2nd time B1 offender is subject to a presumptive minimum sentence of 307-384 months active punishment (approx. 25-32 years); under this bill, if the victim of the 2nd or subsequent offense is 13 years of age or younger the offender would be subject to life imprisonment without parole. (Life imprisonment without parole means that the person will spend the remainder of the person's natural life in prison. A defendant sentenced to life imprisonment without parole is entitled to review of that sentence by a resident superior court judge for the county in which the defendant was convicted after the defendant has served 25 years of imprisonment. The judge then recommends to the Governor or to any executive agency or board designated by the Governor whether or not the sentence of the defendant should be altered or commuted.)

Additional Note: G.S. 15A-1340.14 provides that the State bears the burden of proving, by a preponderance of the evidence, that a prior conviction exists and that the offender before the court is the same person as the offender named in the prior conviction. A prior conviction may be proved by: (1) Stipulation of the parties; (2) An original or copy of the court record of the prior conviction; (3) A copy of records maintained by the Division of Criminal Information, the Division of Motor Vehicles, or of the Administrative Office of the Courts; or (4) Any other method found by the court to be reliable.

The bill should be amended to become effective December 1, 1998 and apply to offenses committed on or after that date.

MEMORANDUM

To: Senator Roy Cooper, Chair
Senate Judiciary Committee

From: Mary Shuping

Re: SB 1182 - Repeal Sunset/Child Support Requirements

SB 1182 would remove the June 30, 1998 sunset provision on S.L. 1997-433, Child Support/Federal Requirements, enacted last session. This sunset was placed on the bill in order that issues relating to the implementation of the federal child support enforcement requirement could be addressed and reports made to the 1998 Regular Session of the General Assembly. Below is information on these issues.

Issues: Section 11 of S.L. 1997-433 directed the Attorney General to explore the feasibility of filing suit to challenge the federal government's authority to require states to conform with the federal child support enforcement law and report any findings and recommendations to the Short Session. Accordingly, on May 11, 1998, the Attorney General's office reported to the General Assembly that it is unlikely that North Carolina would prevail in an action for declaratory and injunctive relief.

Section 11.1 directed DHHS to apply to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services for an exemption from implementing the requirement that parties to an action to establish paternity are not entitled to a trial by jury. (*Note: S.L. 1997-433 did not abolish the right to a jury trial for paternity establishment.) On February 13, 1998, DHHS requested an exemption from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. To date, the Department has not received a response to its request for an exemption.

Background Information on S.L. 1997-433, Child Support/Federal Requirements: S.L. 1997-433 amended the child support enforcement and paternity statutes to comply with changes in federal law. Specifically, this act (1) requires employers to report information on new employees; (2) authorizes the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) to issue subpoenas without a court order for information needed for child support enforcement or paternity establishment; (3) gives DHHS access to data in the Department of Transportation and law enforcement agencies; (4) requires judges to impose work activities; (5) implements federal health care coverage requirements; (6) conforms the State income tax intercept law to federal law; (7) provides that social security numbers must be received as part of the drivers license application; (8) allows for temporary support orders pending a paternity determination in cases where genetic test results show a 97% or higher probability; (9) decreases the time employers have to withhold income; (10) provides that in IV-D cases, when the obligor is not subject to wage withholding and fails to make one month of child support payments, the obligor becomes subject to withholding immediately; (11) establishes lien procedures when the obligor is either three months behind or $3,000 in arrears, whichever occurs first; (12) directs DHHS to implement an automated collection system; (13) implements federal requirements for protecting privacy rights when there is a danger that disclosure of information regarding the location of a person may result in physical and emotional harm; and, (14) authorizes DHHS and financial institutions to enter into agreements to establish the data match system.

SENATE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE
June 2, 1998

The Senate Judiciary Committee met on Tuesday, June 2, 1998 at 10:00 a.m. in Room 1027 of the Legislative Building. A majority of members was present.

Senator Cooper called the meeting to order and told the Committee that today and Thursday would be a continuation of the discussion of Senate Bill 1260 - AN ACT TO ESTABLISH THE DEPARTMENT OF JUVENILE JUSTICE, TO AMEND AND RECODIFY THE NORTH CAROLINA JUVENILE CODE, TO MAKE CONFORMING CHANGES TO THE STATUTES, AND TO APPROPRIATE FUNDS, AS RECOMMENDED BY THE COMMISSION ON JUVENILE CRIME AND JUSTICE.

Senator Cooper recognized Richard Moore, Secretary of Crime Control and Public Safety, to continue the discussion on the Agency section of the bill.

Secretary Moore directed the Committee's attention to the memo from Marcia Morey concerning the proposed juvenile justice agency structure. (See Attachment #1.)

The two primary agencies which deal with court ordered youth in North Carolina are the Division of Juvenile Services under the Administrative Office of the Courts and the Division of Youth Services under the Department of Health & Human Services.

The Juvenile Justice Commission feels that these two should be combined in order to be more efficient and to become more accountable.

The first recommendation of the Juvenile Justice Commission in the bill is the separation of the two primary sections of the Juvenile Code. The actual changes contained in the bill are found in Attachment #2.

Senator Cooper announced that the Committee would continue the discussion of this bill at the meeting on Thursday, June 4, 1998.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

Juvenile Justice System in North Carolina

Governor Hunt's Juvenile Justice Reform Recommendations

As Reported in the final report of the Governor's Commission on Juvenile Crime and Justice

ISSUE: THE CREATION OF THE DEPARTMENT OF JUVENILE JUSTICE

Question: By creating a new Department of Juvenile Justice, doesn't that make government bigger and more expensive? Why fix something that is not broken?

Governor Hunt's response:

By consolidating two separate agencies which are now housed in two separate divisions of state government, there will be a single agency that will respond and be accountable to public and legislative demands. A new Department of Juvenile Justice will not increase governmental bureaucracy, but will consolidate efforts and budgets; provide accurate information and statistics; and be more efficient and responsive to juvenile crime and prevention programs.

Why the present system is not working:

- ▶ There is no one identifiable place in state government that provides accurate information or comprehensive services to juvenile delinquency and prevention issues.
- ▶ Juvenile crime statistics and recidivism rates are not reported in a consistent manner.
- ▶ Duplicative efforts and funding streams prevent efficiency and little accountability.
- ▶ Since 1979, violent juvenile crime rates have risen 172% and the courts are handling twice the number of cases despite the fact the juvenile population has declined.

The present bifurcated juvenile justice "system" has resulted in incomprehensible information on delinquency statistics, recidivism rates and budget requests. Diverse agency philosophies and piecemeal approaches have not effectively prevented delinquent behavior.

The evidence is clear, during the last ten years, North Carolina has not responded the dramatic rise in juvenile crime. Despite the hardworking efforts of individuals, the current bifurcated system has failed. As we approach the twenty-first century, with an expected 15% rise in the juvenile population, it is past time that North Carolina prioritizes the safety of youth.

THE JUVENILE JUSTICE AGENCY SYSTEM IN NORTH CAROLINA

North Carolina's natural but unfortunate tendency over the years has been to address the problem (juvenile crime) in piecemeal fashion. We have reacted instead of prepared. We have acknowledged instead of provided. We have legislated but not funded. We have superfluous laws, outmoded laws, and inadequate laws. We have fragmented and duplicated services. We need a change.

1979 Juvenile Code Revision Committee Final Report

Eighteen years have passed since North Carolina's last comprehensive juvenile justice initiative. The work of the 1979 Commission did, in fact, result in substantial changes to North Carolina's juvenile justice system: a new Juvenile Code was implemented, status offenders were removed from training schools, and legislation required increased funding for community-based resources to reduce training school commitments. However, one of the primary recommendations, not implemented in 1979, was to create a single juvenile justice agency. Subsequently, several other study and review commissions have made findings similar to the 1979 Committee and have urged North Carolina to consolidate the intake, probation and aftercare services provided by the Administrative Office of the Courts - Juvenile Services Division (JSD) with the Department of Human Resources' Division of Youth Services (DYS) which operates detention and training school facilities and oversees Community-Based Alternatives.

In addition to the Juvenile Services Division and the Division of Youth Services, other state agencies (each with its own policies and procedures) also provide ancillary services and supervision to court-adjudicated youth:

- < Department of Public Instruction - public schools, including alternative schools
- < Department of Social Services - foster care, placement services, welfare
- < Department of Administration - advocacy for the rights of children
- < Division of Child and Family Services, Division of Mental Health, Developmental Disabilities and Substance Abuse, the Willie M. Program - treatment services

Each of these North Carolina State agencies has dedicated professionals who provide exceptional services to juveniles who become involved in the juvenile justice system. However, far too often the youth become the victims of an uncoordinated, "disjointed" system. Criticism is not directed toward individual professionals or agencies, but is targeted to the various and often conflicting and contradictory division and department policies and protocols that result in juveniles falling deeper into delinquent behavior as they are bounced from person to person, agency to agency.

Interviews from state agency workers have provided some examples of these conflicting policies. Consider the following:

- < School safety policy: Courts order delinquent juveniles to attend school regularly, yet often the Department of Public Instruction's (DPI) policy is to suspend these youth from public schools. Critics claim that DPI's "zero tolerance" initiatives use the "most restrictive" suspension policy, while the Juvenile Code requires the "least restrictive" means for intake and dispositions.
- < Confidentiality policy: In 1997, several legislative bills were introduced to the General Assembly which mandated the sharing of law enforcement and juvenile court information with school administrators; however, juvenile confidentiality statutes prohibit the release of such information. The "policy" of most child advocates and defense attorneys is to protect this confidentiality.

- < Law enforcement policies: Law enforcement officers are sworn to protect public safety. With immediate arrest powers for adults, this policy is enforced. However, officers criticize the Juvenile Code requirements that only the Chief Court Counselor or a designated representative, can authorize secure-custody detention placements. Also, officers complain that juvenile confidentiality policies inhibit them from obtaining photographs and fingerprints to identify court supervised juveniles who subsequently become suspects of violent crime or who are wanted on pick up orders.
- < County Agency policies - Mental Health: (1) County attorneys are appearing with greater frequency in delinquency proceedings to argue that their client (agency) cannot provide the services the court is seeking, for example, sex offender treatment. This has resulted in more youth being committed to training schools. (2) Juveniles ordered to receive mental health treatment become part of the managed care system which results in limited, delayed treatment. (3) Mental health providers often do not have access to the juvenile's court or police file because of confidentiality restrictions.
- < Juvenile Services Division: In 1997, survey responses from court counselors indicate that many juveniles are being released from training school within six months, with few specified conditions for release, as compared to 1994, when juveniles were committed for an average of nine months, with extensive enumerated conditions for release. Court counselors express frustration that statutory "indefinite commitments" allow the release of juveniles back into the community before meaningful rehabilitation can be accomplished. Also, Juvenile Services objects to public schools' strict suspension policies which afford no alternative educational opportunities.
- < Willie M. Program: As a result of the 1973 class action lawsuit, approximately 1,500 youth were certified as "Willie M." in 1997. With this certification, services and treatment are provided to emotionally-behaviorally at-risk youth. Some of these Willie M. juveniles who commit crimes are committed to training school; however, the juveniles' funding as Willie M. Class members does not follow the juveniles when DYS assumes responsibility. The Willie M. policy to treat Willie M. Class members in Willie M. facilities often enables many of these juveniles to be immediately released from training school which some critics say jeopardizes public safety. There is also considerable debate over the program's expensive $55 million budget.
- < Division of Youth Services: DYS policy is to treat and provide rehabilitative services for youth who are committed to their facilities. The Division believes their agency should then be responsible for post-release conditions and aftercare upon a juvenile's release, as they have worked with the juvenile during the months of confinement. Also, the Division believes many of the juvenile training school commitments are not appropriate, as they think the judicial districts should provide more community-based treatment resources for nonviolent juveniles or juveniles adjudicated of misdemeanors. Finally, funding policies from programs, such as Medicaid and school pupil allotments, are not transferred to DYS when the Division assumes custody.
- < Department of Social Services: Courts may order DSS to assume custody of some delinquent offenders, yet without being involved in court proceedings and knowing all relevant information, it becomes extremely difficult for DSS to find appropriate, immediate placement.

- < Sheriff Department transportation policies: In some judicial districts, there is conflicting policy regarding the role of the sheriff's department for the transportation of juveniles to detention.
- < Judicial District policies- prosecutors and judges: Each judicial district operates juvenile court according to local court rules and juvenile procedures. In some districts, prosecutors do not negotiate pleas, other districts do routinely. Some district court judges refuse to hear "undisciplined" cases, while others do consistently. A few districts provide first appearances and arraignments usually within two weeks of the offense, most districts do not. Some Juvenile Services offices provide discovery only to district attorneys, others to defense counsel as well. The court counselors in many districts present the court with dispositional recommendations, while in other districts the prosecutor performs this function by presenting the "State's recommendation." Individual district policies can result in pronounced statewide disparity in the handling of juvenile cases.

Many of the issues expressed above are a result of restrictions on the sharing of agency information. (See Section C) However, other issues are a result of: 1) conflicting agency policies; 2) differing judicial district procedures; and 3) the disparity in community based resources from county to county.

MINUTES
SENATE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE
June 3, 1998

The Senate Judiciary Committee met on Wednesday, June 3, 1998 at 11:00 a.m. in Room 1027 of the Legislative Building. A majority of members was present.

Senator Cooper called the meeting to order and reminded the Committee that the discussion of Senate Bill 1260 - Juvenile Justice Reform Act would continue.

Richard Moore, Secretary of Crime Control and Public Safety was recognized to continue his explanation of the bill with the discussion of the use of diversion contracts and juvenile court counselors tracking of diversion cases. (Pages 111 and 112 in attached 2nd edition of the bill.)

Diversion Contracts:

When a juvenile commits an act and the item is presented to a juvenile intake counselor, the counselor currently has the discretion, under the law, to file a petition to continue the court action or divert that juvenile to another service in the community (i.e. mental health, Teen Court, etc.). This is a wonderful use of resources and should be continued.

Unfortunately, there is little uniformity in what is diverted and what is not. Most importantly, the juvenile court counselor has no authority to go behind that diversion contract and solve a situation. The Governor's Juvenile Crime Commission has tried to both standardize the diversion process by encouraging the use of the diversion contract, but most importantly, to give the juvenile court counselor a structured environment. They are to go back and check to see that the juvenile took advantage of the opportunities they were given.

Teen Court:

The Juvenile Crime Commission talked a great deal about Teen Court. Senate Bill 1260 contains statutory criteria for who can be diverted to Teen Court and who cannot.

Parental Involvement:

Pages 115, 116 and 149 of the bill contain the language where the Commission specifically set out the ability of the court, when appropriate, to get a parent's attention and make them responsible for what is happening with the juvenile.

Time Limits:

Page 116 sets out specifically when the juvenile is to have his first appearance in court and also that he receive a five day notice of the intention to transfer before the probable cause hearing.

Use of Jails:

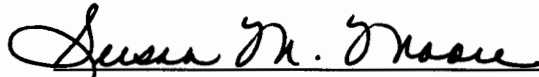

Page 120 contains the language dealing with the use of jails for serious violent offenders when the judge determines no detention space is available. Page 145 also specifies that while pending placement of a juvenile with the Department, the court may house the juvenile in an adult facility for up to 72 hours.

The discussion of the bill will continue at the meeting scheduled for June 4, 1998 at 10:00 a.m.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

  - the resources available to the juvenile within the juvenile system and the applicability of the resources to the needs of the juvenile
- If the court suspends the adult sentence, the court shall order that a probation officer and a juvenile court counselor be assigned to supervise and monitor the progress of the juvenile.
- The superior court judge may alter or revoke the suspension.

Juvenile Court Records

7B-3000 (p. 166, line 23)

- All juvenile records shall be withheld from public inspection and may be examined only by order of the court, except that law enforcement may examine the juvenile's record without an order of the court, but not photocopy the juvenile's record.

7B-3100 (p. 168, line 9)

- The chief district court judge in each district shall designate by standing order certain agencies in the district as "agencies authorized to share information" and such designated agencies shall share with one another upon request information regarding a juvenile in which a petition alleging undisciplined or delinquent behavior has been filed. Such agencies that may be so designated include:
  - local mental health facilities
  - local health departments
  - local departments of social services
  - local law enforcement agencies
  - local school administrative units
  - the district attorney's office
  - the Guardian Ad Litem office

7B-3000(e) (p. 167, line 4)

- The juvenile's record of an adjudication of delinquency for a felony offense may be used by law enforcement, the magistrate, and the prosecutor for pretrial release and plea bargaining negotiating decisions.

APPLICATION OF DISPOSITION GRID TO JUVENILE CASE SCENARIOS

I. DETERMINING GRID CELL CATEGORY

DELINQUENCY HISTORY LEVEL

	Low	Medium	High
OFFENSE
Violent	Level 2 or 3	Level 3	Level 3
Serious	Level 1 or 2	Level 2	Level 2 or 3
Minor	Level 1	Level 1 or 2	Level 2

To determine grid level:

- 1) Determine seriousness of offense:
  - Minor = Class 1, 2, 3, misdemeanors
  - Serious = F-I class felonies; A1 misdemeanors
  - Violent = A-E class felonies
- 2) Determine delinquency history level:
  - a) Determine number of prior adjudications, if any.
  - b) For each prior adjudication, assign points:
    - Each prior A-E felony offense = 4 points
    - Each prior F-I felony offense = 2 points
    - Each prior A1 misdemeanor offense = 2 points
    - Each prior Class 1, 2, or 3 misdemeanor = 1 point
    - Offense committed while on probation = 2 points
  - c) Use total number of points to determine delinquency history level:
    - Low = 0 points
    - Medium = 1-3 points
    - High = 4 or more points

MINUTES
SENATE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE
June 10, 1998

The Senate Judiciary Committee met on Wednesday, June 10, 1998 at 4:00 p.m. in Room 1027 of the Legislative Building. A majority of members was present.

Senator Cooper called the meeting to order and informed the Committee that due to the absence of Secretary Richard Moore, Marcia Morey, Executive Director of the Governor's Commission on Juvenile Crime, would continue the explanation of Senate Bill 1260 - Juvenile Justice Reform Act.

Senator Cooper introduced Susan Katzenelson, Executive Director of the N. C. Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission, to discuss the impact of changes to the juvenile justice system. (See Attachment #1.)

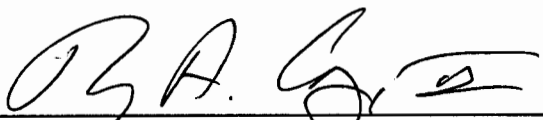

Senator Cooper noted that the Commission is trying to put in place a system that would indicate how many training school beds that would be needed. The grid tries to put the most violent offenders into training schools and keep them there for at least a six-month period. The goal was to set up a research system like in the adult system to show the number of training school beds which would be needed. That assignment fell to the N. C. Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission.

Ken Foster, with the Division of Youth Services, and Sandy Pierce, with the Department of Correction, were recognized to respond to questions from the Committee.

Senator Cooper announced that the Committee would meet on June 11, 1998 to continue the discussion of this bill.

(Other pertinent information regarding the discussion can be found in Attachment #2.)

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

corresponding to the offense seriousness and delinquent history level of the juvenile being adjudicated. Four of the nine grid cells offer two possible disposition levels, and the court can also depart in cases of documented “extraordinary need.” (A detailed list of all pertinent recommendations is presented in Appendix A.) The disposition grid is constructed along the following two axes:

1. The level of the most serious adjudicated offense:

Violent = felony classes A-E;

Serious = felony classes F-I and A1 misdemeanors; and

Minor = misdemeanors 1, 2 and 3.

2. The level of risk as measured by delinquent history, i.e., the number and type of prior adjudications, and probation status at the time of the instant offense.

DISPOSITION LEVELS

LEVEL 1 COMMUNITY	LEVEL 2 INTERMEDIATE (may also include Level 1 dispositions)	LEVEL 3 COMMITMENT
Continue for Disposition	Intensive Supervision Probation	Commitment to Training School
Community-Based Program	House Arrest with or without Electronic Monitoring
Fine	Structured Day Program
Community Service	Regimented Training Program
Counseling	Suspension of a More Severe Disposition
Restitution	Multi-purpose Group Home
Regular Probation	Eckerd Wilderness Camp
Curfew	Short-Term Secure Confinement (up to 14 days during probation period.
Residential placement with a relative, or in foster care, a group home, an Eckerd Wilderness Camp, or in a treatment facility
Vocational or Educational Program
Intermittent Confinement for 5 days during probation period

DISPOSITION GRID

OFFENSE	RISK
	LOW	MEDIUM	HIGH
Violent	Level 2 or 3	Level 3	Level 3
Serious	Level 1 or 2	Level 2	Level 2 or 3
Minor	Level 1	Level 1 or 2	Level 2

III. Research Methodology

Sampling

One of the practical problems in studying North Carolina's juvenile justice system is the lack of any aggregate, computerized data base for filings, adjudications and dispositions. Consequently, this study utilized case reviews of a random sample of 1,500 cases representing all 100 counties. Cases were identified with the help of the Juvenile Services Division of the Administrative Office of the Courts.

Two sampling frames were created, one for cases filed as felonies, one for cases filed as misdemeanors. The unit of analysis was the most recent adjudication/disposition of a juvenile within the sampling frame of cases adjudicated between January 1 and June 30, 1997. Over-sampling felonies, the original sample was comprised of 1,000 felony and 500 misdemeanor juvenile adjudications, with a final sample of 1,313 complete usable cases.<sup>3</sup>

Data Collection

The primary data collection instrument, a juvenile adjudication survey, was developed in consultation with practitioners in the field, and pretested in one district juvenile court. The survey instrument was developed to collect information from the legal files of all sampled juvenile delinquents. The variables corresponded to the factors included in the new disposition recommendations, i.e., the offense(s) of adjudication; the number of prior adjudications by most serious offense; probation status at the time of the instant offense; and disposition for the instant offense. A set of demographic variables and a seven-dimension social history scale completed the data collection for each case.<sup>4</sup> To provide a more meaningful context for interpreting the survey results, research staff have also conducted site visits to five juvenile courts varying in caseload, size, and region.

<sup>3</sup> Adjustments needed to be made to the sampling frame, based on differences between the most serious charge filed versus most serious charge adjudicated. Specifically, some of the charges filed as felonies were reduced to misdemeanors, and some cases resulted in probation revocations rather than a new adjudication. The sample was weighted based on these adjustments.

Files for the sample adjudications were pulled and analyzed by court counselors, and the completed survey instruments were coded and edited by Sentencing Commission staff. The computerized data base of 1,313 complete and usable sample cases forms the main source of information for the analyses and impact simulations in this report.<sup>5</sup>

Simulation

The Structured Sentencing Simulation (SSS) model, utilized to track legislation impact and produce correctional population projections for the adult criminal justice system, was adapted for use with the juvenile delinquency data. Simulation, in concept, allows modeling "what if" scenarios based on two givens: a set of empirical data on the phenomenon to be modeled (in this case, juvenile adjudications), and the parameters of change to be simulated (in this case, revised dispositional policies). The accuracy of simulation should not be expected to be 100 percent, and it will vary with the reliability of the empirical data and the specificity of the policies modeled.

Technically SSS, a computer based micro-simulation model, can provide a two-phase look at policy impacts: first, it can "resentence" the current sample/population under the parameters of the new policy, followed by a projection of future population distributions for the next 5-10 year period. The model displays projections that can be used to assess both the immediate and the long-term shift in resources (e.g., training school and detention beds, supervision needed for probationers, etc.).

To assist in adapting the SSS, a Technical Advisory Group was convened.<sup>6</sup> The group, in two meetings, provided invaluable input into describing juvenile justice field practices, estimating dispositional and outcome probabilities, and discussing population and juvenile delinquency trends -- all components necessary for simulating policy impacts.

IV. Findings: Juveniles Adjudicated Delinquent in 1997

This section paints an aggregate profile of juveniles adjudicated delinquent in 1997. To appreciate the systemic context for this population, Appendix E presents a process chart of the juvenile court case management system, and the flow of cases in the system.<sup>7</sup>

<sup>5</sup> The attrition from 1,500 to 1,313 cases is the result of cases not found and returned; cases transferred between counties and not located; cases with probation revocations rather than new adjudications; and cases missing information on key variables. The final sample size, weighted and used to infer parameters in the population of individuals adjudicated once (or more) in FY1997, provides for a 3% sampling error at the 95% confidence level.

Who are they?

An estimated 9,579 juveniles were adjudicated delinquent (once or more) in FY 1997 in North Carolina's juvenile courts.<sup>8</sup> As presented in Table 1, 80.6% of these juveniles were male; more than half were Black (51.4%), and over a third (34.8%) were 15 years of age at the time they committed their instant act of delinquency. Table 2 provides a summary of all the juveniles by age, gender, and race.

Based on the court counselor's evaluation, 46.5% of these juveniles had serious problems and 13% had major problems at their school or work, with parental supervision, substance abuse, peer relationships and, when applicable, in their response to court supervision.<sup>9</sup> (See Table 1.)

What were they adjudicated for?

Based on definitions in the North Carolina General Statutes, 401 of the juveniles (or 4.2%) were adjudicated for a crime of violence as their most serious instant offense.<sup>10</sup> These felonies (Classes A through E) included 134 rapes, 82 assaults with a deadly weapon, 13 kidnappings, 39 first degree burglaries, and 86 armed robberies. (See Table 3 for a distribution of all cases by offense class and offense level.)

An additional 3,595 of the juveniles (or 37.5%) were adjudicated for serious crimes: Class F-I felonies and A1 misdemeanors. This group included felony drug offenses (n=350), common law robbery (n=73), breaking and entering and burglary of dwellings and motor vehicles (n=1,165), and felony larceny (n=645). The serious offenses also included approximately 672 A1 misdemeanor assaults inflicting serious injury, involving a deadly weapon, or a victim under 12.

<sup>8</sup> This is an estimate based on the weighted Juvenile Adjudication Sample. On average, all the population estimates have a possible error rate of 3%, at the 95% confidence level. The initial population size, estimated at 9,579 adjudicated juveniles, was also discussed with and validated by a variety of field practitioners and compared to the CY 1997 figure of 9,724 "cases added, supervision/probation," provided by the Administrative Office of the Courts. Additional support for this number is offered in an article by Donn Hargrove and Janet Mason. In "North Carolina's Juvenile Court Counselors," (Popular Government, Winter 1998), they write: "In 1996, of the 30,347 juveniles that court counselors evaluated in the intake process, the counselors referred only 18,580 for court action; the others they diverted from court. Of those who went to court, judges placed 9,380 on active supervision or probation."

<sup>9</sup> The study survey collected information on seven factors of the juvenile's social history, as scored by the court counselor (see Appendix B). For summary purposes, we scored the responses from 1 - "no problems" to 4 - "major problems," and arrived at an average "social history score" for each juvenile.

<sup>10</sup> Juvenile violence, a major concern to citizens and policy makers, is already addressed in North Carolina by two existing legislative provisions: (1) defining everyone 16 years old and older as an adult transfers young people in their more violence-prone years into the adult system; and (2) allowing to bind over serious and violent felons under the age of 16 to the adult criminal justice system, to be prosecuted and sentenced as adults.

Finally, the majority of the juveniles (5,583 or 58.3%) were adjudicated for minor offenses. These misdemeanors included simple assault (n=1,048), drug possession (n=445), breaking and entering (n=581), larceny (n=911), property destruction (n=616), shoplifting (n=239), unauthorized use of a vehicle (n=205), weapon possession (n=365), and disorderly conduct (n=330).

What were their delinquent histories?

Sixty-nine percent of all juveniles had no known prior adjudications, 19.5% had one, 7.5% had two, and less than 4% had three or more prior adjudications for delinquency (see Table 4). Three factors need to be kept in mind when interpreting these findings: the 16-year old age "cap" on defining who is a juvenile (allowing less time to accumulate a record); a possible under-representation of delinquent history by often not including out-of-county and out-of-state adjudications in the juvenile's files; and a philosophy in the juvenile justice system to divert juveniles, whenever possible, short of formal court proceedings.

Delinquent history showed no significant variation by the level of instant offense. However, when correlating the most serious prior offense with the instant offense (see Table 5), violent delinquents appeared to have proportionately more prior serious and violent offenses (48%) than did serious and minor delinquents (41% and 39.9% respectively). Finally, as presented in Table 6, one-fifth of the juveniles (n=1,925) were under court supervision at the time of their instant offense, a proportion that did not vary by the type of offense.

What were their dispositions?

Seventy-seven percent of the juveniles adjudicated were placed under some form of community supervision, including probation and additional participation in a number of other programs. Thirteen percent were placed in intermediate programs, and 10% were committed to training schools. Table 7 shows a clear relationship between the type of instant offense and the form of disposition: while all delinquents were most likely to be placed in the community and least likely to be committed, the probability of commitment increased considerably from 7.4% for minor delinquents to 11.9% for serious delinquents and to 26.8% for violent delinquents.

Most dispositions involved multiple placement, with the 9,579 juveniles accounting for approximately 31,000 program assignments. Twenty six percent (n=8,129) of these assignments involved a variety of counseling programs; 22.3% (n=6,908) involved being on probation; 21.1% (n=3,766) specified curfew conditions; 11.9% (n=3,696) were community service orders; and 7.6% (n=2,366) were restitution orders.

What were their social histories?

The case files analyzed included information on seven dimensions of each juvenile's social history. As reported by juvenile court counselors, approximately 4.8% of the adjudicated juveniles were not in school or work. Of all the juveniles, 76.4% had moderate or serious behavioral problems, 78.2% had moderate or serious performance problems, and 62.6% had moderate or serious attendance problems at school/work.

Reportedly, only 27.7% had effective parental supervision and control, 66.3% had inconsistent or no supervision, and the remaining 6% had situations contributing to delinquency. Twenty-three percent of the juveniles experimented with drugs, 21.5% used it recreationally, and 6.6% were reported to have disruptive substance abuse and addiction. The majority of the juveniles, 53%, had some delinquent peers, and a disturbing 28.5% socialized mostly with delinquent peers. Finally, while 21% were not under court supervision, 24.5% had moderate compliance problems and 25.9% had major compliance problems under court supervision, including new instances of delinquency.

Table 8 summarizes the relationship between a juvenile's social history and disposition, controlling for the level of instant offense. Overall, 98.3% of the juveniles with non-problematic social histories and 90.9% with moderate problems were placed in the community, compared to community dispositions for only 70.5% with serious problems and 52.4% with major problems. Conversely, only between one and two percent of the juveniles with moderate or no problems were committed, compared to commitment for 12.6% of the juveniles with serious problems and 28.9% of those with major problems. These general findings, which held true independent of the type and level of the most serious adjudicated offense, also have implications for any risk assessments to be performed by court counselors (re: recommendation no. 32).

V. Findings: Juveniles Adjudicated in Adult Court

No picture of the juvenile justice system would be complete without a brief profile of juveniles bound over and convicted in the adult system. An analysis of the Administrative Office of the Courts' data files revealed that 207 juveniles were bound over, convicted and sentenced in Superior Court in FY 1997. The majority of these juveniles ( $n=173$ ) committed their offenses at age 15; 95% of them were male; and 68% were Black (see Table 9).

The most serious offense of conviction, as shown in Table 10, ranged from felony Classes A to I, with Class H being the most common (76, or 41.1% of the cases). The majority of the juveniles, 90.8%, were in Prior Record Level I.

Table 11 displays the sentences imposed on these juveniles. Twenty eight percent received community punishment, 42.5% were given intermediate sanctions, and 29.5% were sentenced to prison. Those with active prison terms were sentenced to serve a minimum of 56.8 months on the average (the average time serve does not include the two life terms). These minimums varied greatly by offense class, ranging from a life sentence in Class A to 10.7 months in Class G.

As summarized in Table 12, crimes against the person comprised 43% of these convictions, crimes against property were 35.7%, drug offenses (non-trafficking) were 19.3%, with other felonies accounting for 2%. Active sentences were imposed most often for offenses against the person, intermediate sanctions were given most often for property offenses, and community sanctions were ordered most often for drug offenses. Mean prison terms ranged from a low of just over one year to a high of slightly over five years.

VI. Findings: Dispositional Shifts in “Readjudicating” 1997 Cases

The next step of analysis was designed to locate the FY 1997 cases, and their actual dispositions, on the proposed disposition grid. For that purpose, each case was characterized by three variables:

1. Offense Level -- the level of the most serious instant offense, classified as violent, serious or minor (re: recommendation no. 31);
2. Delinquent History Level -- a revised version of the risk level, this variable was not fully specified by the recommendations (re: recommendation no. 32). Following lengthy deliberations, the Technical Advisory Group reached the following consensus measuring this factor:
  - Assign four points for each prior violent adjudication; two points for each prior serious adjudication, and one point for each prior minor adjudication.
  - Assign two points for being on probation at the time of the instant offense. (Two alternative proposals were also included: to assign only one point for probation status; and to assign two points for probation status if the instant offense is serious or violent but only one point for probation status if the instant offense is minor.)
  - The total of all these points comprises a juvenile’s “delinquent history score.”
  - Delinquent history scores are to be grouped as follows:

Low delinquent history level: 0-1 points;
Medium delinquent history level: 2-3 points;
High delinquent history level: 4 or more points.
3. Dispositional Level -- three levels of disposition were determined: level 1, community; level 2, intermediate; and level 3, commitment; and specific programs were grouped under each level (re: recommendation no. 33). While most juveniles were placed in more than one program, their disposition level was determined by the most restrictive program ordered.

Table 13 presents the actual distribution of all juveniles by their level of offense and delinquent history, and Table 14 displays their dispositions on the proposed grid.<sup>11</sup> Reviewing these two tables, 4.2% of the juveniles were adjudicated for a violent offense, 37.5% for a serious offense, and 58.3% for a minor offense. The great majority (72.9%) placed in the low delinquent history level, 13.3% in the medium level, and 13.8% in the high level. More than three-fourth of the juveniles (76.9%) received a community disposition, 13% were given intermediate sanctions, and 10.1% were committed to training school.

The grid, as constructed, allows for a review of each grid cell in view of the proposed policies. Shaded portions of the cell denote dispositions not usually provided for under the new policy for that level of offense and delinquent history. Summing up the number of juveniles in the shaded areas would give a rough indication of the shifts required in moving from the existing to the recommended policy. In Table 14, it would involve 1,936 cases, or 20.7% of the juvenile delinquent population.<sup>12</sup>

The next step is an attempt to estimate the new dispositions that would be ordered for these 1,936 juveniles under the new policy. Table 15 is based on the simplistic assumption that the court would impose the level of disposition available nearest to the disposition originally imposed. For example, grid cell one under the proposed policy provides only intermediate and commitment options. We assumed that the 194 juveniles originally sent to community dispositions would shift now to intermediate (but not commitment) type dispositions. Following this line of reasoning for each cell, it becomes apparent that while there would be a relatively small change in the number of juveniles ordered into community programs ( $n = -507$ , or a 7% decrease), the major shift would occur in the other two categories: intermediate dispositions would increase by 87% over their current number, while commitments to training school would decrease by 58.6% over the current number.

Two important caveats should be mentioned at this point. First, judicial decisions interact with information on the availability, quality, and accessibility of programs; with an increase in intermediate options judges' dispositional choices will most likely change over time. Second, these figures deal with initial assignments to programs, not with length of stay, population and capacity. The greatest drop, that in training school assignments, results from the diversion of misdemeanants to other dispositions, a population capped by law to be committed for no longer than the adult sentence for comparable misdemeanors. The net policy effect, therefore, may or may not lead to reduced training school capacity needs.

<sup>11</sup> Numbers in this table may vary slightly from those in the previous section, due to the exclusion of cases with missing information for offense level, delinquent history, or disposition.

<sup>12</sup> Table 14, and this entire section, examines only the basic delinquent history level scenario calculated counting 2 points for probation status at the time of the instant offense. Appendix E presents the other two scenarios: Table E-1 assigns 2 points for probation status of violent/serious delinquents and 1 point for probation status of minor delinquents; Table E-2 assigns 1 point for probation status.

VII. Findings: Projected Future Impact

The next step of the analysis focused on the five year projected impact of the proposed policy changes. Separate projections are presented for training school, intermediate, and community dispositions, based on the following scenarios:

Scenario 1: "Low impact"

- Delinquent history level includes 2 points for probation status;
- In the two discretionary disposition cells with Levels 2/3, the probability used for training school (L3) is similar to the percentage of training school dispositions in 1997, under the current "least restrictive" policy; and
- The growth rate in juvenile delinquency is assumed to be 3% annually for the next five years.

Scenario 2: "High impact"

- Delinquent history level includes 2 points for probation status;
- In the two discretionary disposition cells with Levels 2/3, the probability used for training school (L3) is 100%; and
- The growth rate in juvenile delinquency is assumed to be 3% annually for the next five years.

Scenario 3: "Medium impact"

- Delinquent history level includes 2 points for probation status;
- In the two discretionary disposition cells with Levels 2/3, the probability used for training school (L3) is between the probabilities for the "low" and "high" scenarios; and
- The growth rate in juvenile delinquency is assumed to be 3% annually for the next five years.

Table 16 presents the baseline growth in the three disposition types from FY 1998/99 to 2002/03, assuming no policy revisions. The change is reflective of the growth in the state's population and an increase in the number of its juvenile delinquents.

Table 17 summarizes the projected range of policy impacts (i.e., the net increase or decrease) on the various forms of disposition. As expected, the impact is most significant for intermediate sanctions, experiencing the greatest proportionate growth under low, medium or high impact assumptions. These projections (particularly the "medium" impact option) reflect the general direction of the proposed changes: a more selective process in utilizing training schools, and a heavier reliance on graduated sanctions and the intermediate level of treatment and supervision.

Table 18 combines the base figures with the projected "medium" impact, to arrive at net resource needs estimated for the next five years in each disposition category. Based on this analysis, the need for training school space will increase approximately 75% by the year 2003 (an increase from a base of 828 to 1,459)<sup>13</sup>; intermediate dispositions will grow threefold (from a current base of 1,215 to 4,042), while community resources will decline by approximately 8% (from 7,187 to 6,631 assignments).<sup>14</sup>

An initial look at the shifting in dispositions over time is a primary component in the cost-assessment of the proposed policies, but there are also a variety of related issues to be considered. Additional community resources will also be required to provide the mandatory minimum three months aftercare for juveniles released from training school. The shift toward more intermediate programs will have implications for counseling resources, and an increased need for more juvenile court counselors.<sup>15</sup> Judicial decisions to order juveniles into multiple programs will impact ultimate resource needs both on the state and county level. And, finally, the proposed model of criminal-inclusive blended sentencing will impact the plea bargaining process, and the number and type of juvenile felons retained in the juvenile justice system compared to those bound over to adult court (re: recommendation no. 19).

While specific program needs within each level of disposition are difficult to assess, Table 19 provides estimates for three specific programs: intensive supervision and electronic house arrest (both intermediate-level dispositions); and detention as a post-adjudication sanction of intermittent confinement. It should be noted that the final figures for additional detention slots do not represent any of the pre-adjudication needs for secured confinement of juveniles and bind-overs. In addition, to fully accommodate the system's secured facility needs, the problems of cyclical demand (weekends, seasonal variations); geographic location; and special population demands (the distribution of juvenile delinquents by gender and age) would need to be addressed as well. (For an illuminating look at the current utilization of detention, see the Division of Youth Services' Sourcebook:1997 tables, "Facilities and Regional Offices," and "Detention Client Tracking System, Summary for FY1996-97," reproduced in Appendix F).

Due to the significant impact proposed policies will have on the use of detention facilities,

<sup>13</sup> The growth pattern in training school populations is the result of a variety of changes: lower admission rates; longer stay for juveniles admitted; and extended juvenile jurisdiction to age 21, predicted to affect significantly the stay of a small number of violent and serious delinquents.

both prior to adjudication and as a disposition, the study also aimed to gather information directly from judges as to the perceived need in this area. A second survey, designed to explore district practice in juvenile courts, was mailed to Chief District Court Judges, and concentrated on the current and projected use of detention and training school beds. Appendix G offers a summary and tabulation of the survey results, and a copy of the Secured Detention Facilities Survey.<sup>16</sup> The mail-out survey instrument was sent to all 39 Chief District Court Judges. Thirty one surveys were returned, for a response rate of 80%.

The districts which responded indicated that they currently send almost three times as many juveniles to pre- adjudication as they send for disposition (359-367 prior to adjudication, 129-144 as a disposition, on a monthly basis). They also indicated that they rarely, if ever, refrain from sending a juvenile to a detention facility due to a lack of bed space (41- 43 juveniles per month pre-adjudication, and 64-70 juveniles per month as a disposition, with over one-half of the districts estimating that they have not refrained from sending juveniles to secured detention due to a lack of bed space).

Assuming the recommendations of the Governor's Commission on Juvenile Crime and Justice were enacted and the General Assembly provided additional funding for secured detention beds, the districts responding estimated that they would send, monthly, approximately 110 more juveniles to pre-adjudication detention and approximately 233 more as a disposition (104-116 additional juveniles per month prior to adjudication, 216-250 additional juveniles in a month as a disposition, with approximately one-fourth of the districts estimating they would not send any additional juveniles to secured detention).

Each district was also asked to provide information on the location and use of secured detention facilities. The Fayetteville unit in Cumberland County is used the most by the other districts. Seven districts reported that Fayetteville is the facility nearest to them and six districts reported that Fayetteville is the next available facility nearest to them. Three facilities, including Raleigh, North Wilkesboro and Butner, are each cited by eight districts as being the next available unit. Most districts send juveniles to facilities nearest to their district, with a few exceptions. Clearly, the availability, location, and accessibility of detention beds is a vital component in the judicial decision to utilize secured detention to hold juveniles pre-adjudication, and to consider intermittent confinement as a disposition.

VIII. Summary

This report, utilizing a sample of juveniles adjudicated delinquent in FY 1997, provides information on two levels. First, it presents a profile of the juvenile delinquent population -- demographic characteristics, offenses of adjudication, prior delinquency, and disposition. Second, based on the empirical data and with the application of a simulation model, it presents an impact analysis of proposed policy changes on the disposition of juvenile delinquents over a five-year span.

The policy recommendations, resulting in a realignment of dispositional resources, have their most significant impact in two areas:

- ▶ a more selective commitment of juveniles to training schools (excluding misdemeanants), resulting in lower admissions but a longer projected average stay; and
- ▶ a greater reliance on intermediate sanctions, with clear resource implications due to an enhanced supervisory role of court counselors; the need for more secured detention space not only as a pre-adjudication alternative but as a disposition and probation revocation option; and an enhancement of the type and number of intermediate programs available locally and statewide.

Figure A summarizes this realignment of resources, by presenting a comparison of projected needs under current versus proposed policy for FY 1998/99 and FY 2002/03.

On a final note, some caveats should be mentioned. These findings are based on a "snapshot" look at a sample of juvenile delinquents with a variety of possible biases. The policies studied were not fully detailed yet, and simulation modeling required a series of assumptions to be made. And, finally, assumptions about future probabilities were made using empirical knowledge of current decision making and probabilities -- the very components that may change, over time, as court practitioners and other players in the system adjust to the new policies and possibly alter their deliberation and practices.

Our final, and emphatic, recommendation is to improve the data collection capabilities of the system, conduct a more in-depth analysis of juvenile delinquents and, ultimately, build an evaluation component into the new proposed system from its inception.

the Court Counselor's office should be required to prepare a release plan and present it to the court. The juvenile, the juvenile's attorney, the court counselor, and the prosecutor should be required to appear before the court when the juvenile is released pursuant to the release plan. If the juvenile fails to comply with the conditions of release, s/he should return to court and the judge should continue the current disposition, modify the current disposition, or recommit the juvenile to training school for an indefinite period of time.

Recommendation No. 44:

In the event that the nearest local detention facility is unable to accept a juvenile who has been charged or adjudicated with a serious or violent offense and the juvenile poses a significant risk to the community safety, the Code should allow for the detention of that juvenile in an adult facility with sight and sound barriers, as a last resort for detention purposes. The juvenile shall be detained for a period of time not to exceed 72 hours. All appropriate services to protect the safety of the juvenile as promulgated by the Department of Health and Human Services shall be implemented.

- b) serious: adjudication of a Class F-I felony offense or a Class A1 misdemeanor;
- c) minor: adjudication of a Class 1, 2, or 3 misdemeanor.

Recommendation No. 32:

Three levels of risk of continued delinquent behavior should be defined, including high, medium, and low, based on a risk assessment performed by an Intake Court counselor prior to the disposition hearing.

Recommendation No. 33:

Three dispositional levels should be established as follows:

APPENDIX G

SECURE DETENTION SURVEY SUMMARY SURVEY RESULTS

Surveys were sent to all 39 chief district court judges, with responses received from 31 districts for a response rate of 80%.<sup>1</sup> The districts which responded varied in size and represented both urban and rural counties. (See attached tables G-1 through G-3 for tabulated results of the survey responses.)

The frequency with which juvenile court is held during one month varied among the districts. Nine districts reported holding juvenile court four times or less in a month. Districts 22 and 26 reported the highest numbers, with District 22 holding juvenile court 20 to 24 times in a month and District 26 holding two sessions of juvenile court daily.

Secured Detention - Current Practice

The judges were asked to respond to two questions related to their current use of secured detention facilities. First, they were asked to estimate how many juveniles they and the other judges in their district order to a secured detention facility in one month, both prior to adjudication and as a disposition. The judges who responded to the survey estimated that they send from 359 to 367 juveniles per month to secured detention prior to adjudication, and from 129 to 144 juveniles per month as a disposition.

Individual district estimates for pre-adjudication detention ranged from one or two juveniles in four districts to 29 in Districts 10 and 12 and more than 100 in District 26. As a disposition, thirteen districts estimated sending from zero to two juveniles per month, while District 26 estimated 15 juveniles and District 18 estimated 25 juveniles.

Second, the judges were asked to estimate how many times they and the other judges in their district refrain from ordering a juvenile to a detention facility in one month due to a lack of bed space. The judges who responded to the survey estimated that they refrain from detaining 41 to 43 juveniles per month prior to adjudication, and 64 to 70 juveniles per month as a disposition.

Sixteen districts estimated that they have not refrained from sending juveniles to detention prior to adjudication due to a lack of bed space. District 5 estimated sending the highest number of juveniles at 12. Seventeen districts estimated that they have not refrained from sending a juvenile to detention as part of their disposition due to a lack of bed space. District 17B estimated sending the highest number of juveniles at 20.

The judges were also asked about their use and projected use of training school beds. They were asked to estimate how many juveniles they and the other judges in their district commit to training school in one month. The judges responding to the survey estimated that they commit from

86 to 98 juveniles in one month. Eighteen districts estimated that they commit from one to three juveniles per month to training school. One district, District 26, estimated that it committed up to 10 juveniles per month to training school.

Then the judges were asked to estimate how many times they and the other judges in their district refrain from committing a juvenile to training school in one month due to a lack of bed space. Only four districts, 13, 17B, 19A, and 19B, estimated that they have refrained from committing juveniles due to a lack of bed space. They estimated a total of 17 juveniles per month.

Secured Detention - Future Practice

The judges were also given an overview of the recommendations of the Governor's Commission on Juvenile Crime and Justice which related to the use of secured detention facilities. They were asked three questions relating to their future practice if the recommendations were enacted and the General Assembly provided additional funding for secured detention beds. First, the judges were asked how many additional juveniles they estimated they and the other judges in their district would order to a secured detention facility in one month. The judges who responded to the survey estimated that they would order from 104 to 116 additional juveniles per month prior to adjudication. As a disposition, the judges estimated they would send from 216 to 250 additional juveniles in a month.

Eleven districts estimated they would not send any additional juveniles to secured detention prior to adjudication. Two districts estimated they would send more than 10 additional juveniles in a month, 12 in District 5 and 30 in District 27A. As a disposition, seven districts estimated they would not send any additional juveniles to secured detention. Four districts estimated they would send more than 20 additional juveniles in a month, 20 in District 27A, 20 to 25 in District 7, 20 to 30 in District 18, and 30 in District 17B.

Second, the judges were asked for how many additional juveniles did they estimate they and the other judges in their district would order intermittent confinement of up to five twenty-four hour periods. The judges who responded to the survey estimated they would order up to five periods of intermittent confinement as an initial disposition for 168 to 186 additional juveniles. For probation violations, the judges estimated they would order up to five periods of intermittent confinement for 201 to 226 additional juveniles per month.

Five districts estimated they would not order intermittent confinement as a disposition for any additional juveniles, while ten districts estimated they would order intermittent confinement for 10 or more additional juveniles. Seven districts estimated they would order intermittent confinement for probation violations for zero to two additional juveniles, while twelve districts estimated they would order intermittent confinement for 10 or more additional juveniles.

Third, the judges were asked for how many additional juveniles did they estimate they and the other judges in their district would order intermittent confinement of up to 14 twenty-four hour periods. The judges estimated they would order up to 14 periods of intermittent confinement as an initial disposition for 132 to 145 additional juveniles. For probation violations, the judges estimated they would order up to 14 periods of intermittent confinement for 171 to 181 additional juveniles per month.

Eleven districts estimated they would order intermittent confinement as a disposition for zero to two additional juveniles, while four district estimated they would order intermittent confinement for 10 or more additional juveniles. Nine districts estimated they would order intermittent confinement for probation violations for one or two additional juveniles, while eight districts estimated they would order intermittent confinement for 10 or more additional juveniles.

The judges were asked, if the General Assembly repealed the requirement for the judge to use the "least restrictive disposition" and provided additional funding, how many additional juveniles did they estimate they and the other judges in their district would commit to training school in one month. The judges estimated they would commit from 81 to 96 additional juveniles in one month. Eighteen districts estimated they would commit from zero to three additional juveniles, while two districts estimated they would commit up to 10 additional juveniles per month.

Secured detention facilities: sites, capacity, use

Each district was also asked to provide information on the location and use of secured detention facilities. The questions included the location of the nearest facility and the number of beds in that facility, the location of the next available facility, and how often the next available facility is used (see Table G-4). For example, the Asheville unit is located in District 28, has a design capacity of 14, is listed as the nearest facility for districts 24, 29 and 30, and is listed as the next available facility for districts 19A, 23, 27A and 27B.

There are currently twelve secured detention facilities in North Carolina. Eight units (Asheville, Butner, Dallas, Fayetteville, Greenville, North Wilkesboro, Raleigh and Wilmington) are state operated, while four units (Durham, Greensboro, Huntersville and Winston-Salem) are county operated. The Butner unit is a temporary facility with no permanent staff. The number of beds available in each facility ranges from eight beds to thirty-two beds at maximum capacity allowed by law.

Each unit houses juveniles from several districts. The Fayetteville unit in Cumberland County is used the most by the other districts. Seven districts reported that Fayetteville is the facility nearest to them and six districts reported that Fayetteville is the next available facility nearest to them. Three facilities, including Raleigh, North Wilkesboro and Butner, are each cited by eight districts as being the next available unit. Most districts send juveniles to facilities nearest to their district, with a few exceptions.<sup>2</sup> The Butner unit receives juveniles from as far away as Wilkes County and Gaston County. The Wilkes County unit receives mostly juveniles from other western counties but also houses juveniles from Pender and New Hanover counties in District 5.

<sup>2</sup> Note that the "nearest" facility tally is skewed as a result of districts not responding to the survey.

Response varied to the question of how often the next available facility is used. Twenty-four districts responded that 25% or less of the time they send juveniles to the next available facility. Ten districts responded that more than 25% but less than 50% of the time juveniles must be housed in the next available facility. Seven districts responded that 50% or more of the time juveniles must be housed in the next available facility.

SECURED DETENTION FACILITIES SURVEY

The Governor's Commission on Juvenile Crime and Justice is developing a set of recommendations to improve the juvenile justice system. Several of the proposed recommendations involve the use of detention beds.

- Judges should have the authority to hold undisciplined juveniles in contempt, if they are found to be in willful violation of the court's dispositional order over the undisciplined youth.
- Judges may impose up to five twenty-four hour periods of confinement (intermittent confinement) for certain offenses. Confinement shall be completed by the end of the period of probation.
- Judges should have the authority to impose up to fourteen twenty-four hour periods of confinement (short-term confinement) for more serious offenses. Confinement shall be completed by the end of the period of probation.
- Judges should have the authority to impose up to twice the period authorized for secure confinement when an offender violates the conditions of probation.

The requirement for the judge to use the "least restrictive disposition" or alternative should be eliminated.

SCHOOL TRUANCY

Crime's early signal

For most juveniles who commit a crime, an initial visit to juvenile court is enough to scare them back to a more productive path. But it's that estimated 10 percent of youths who become habitual offenders that frustrate North Carolina's juvenile justice system.

Our eight-part series "Juvenile Injustice" offers a detailed look at the frustration the system faces as it tries, and usually fails, to cope with this group of offenders. Court officials and other experts who spoke to The Herald-Sun's Christopher Kirkpatrick paint a picture of a creaking system unable to cope with today's young criminals.

Laws that require judges to give juveniles the least punishment, the law enforcement practice of "diverting" offenders from the legal system and the lack of swift consequences teach habitual offenders how to beat the system.

When the system does respond — after the commission of a violent crime — it's often too late to save the offender.

Getting juveniles to break this cycle of behavior must seem like an intractable problem for court officials. The old-fashioned problem of truancy from school offers a telling example of what the courts are up against.

Yes, there are laws that require parents to send their children to school. But the most that a parent who disobeys the state's compulsory attendance law will get is a $50 fine and a misdemeanor rap. Other factors compound the frustration: School officials do not have the time to go to court to testify and help prosecute neglectful parents. In some cases, such as single-parent families, prosecution would leave the child without a guardian and in worse circumstances.

Others say that schools do not follow the procedures that have been devised to help catch truants. School principals are supposed to notify the district attorney's office when a student reaches a 10th unexcused absence. But Marcia Morey, the Durham juvenile prosecutor who is director of the commission that recommended changes in the state's juvenile code, said that procedure is seldom followed.

The roots of truancy are in the home and thus beyond the reach of government. But in its final report, the Governor's Commission on Juvenile Crime and Justice made thoughtful recommendations concerning "undisciplined youths" (also known as "status offenders"), a class that includes truants, runaways and juveniles beyond their parents' control.

Recognizing that such behavior "is frequently the first step to delinquency," the commission urged that courts be allowed to hold these offenders in contempt when found to be in willful violation of a court order concerning their case. To keep track of these youths and provide help for their families, the commission urged that the court's jurisdiction over status offenders be extended from age 16 to 18.

That recommendation is among many the panel made for tightening the juvenile code. It will not mend broken families, but it would be a first step toward preventing chronic truancy, all too often the first signal of a life of crime.

SPECIAL REPORT

THE ROAD TO PRISON: Ann McDaniel agonizes over the way the juvenile justice system allowed her son, Frank, to escape punishment for minor infractions during his early teen years, despite her pleadings for prosecution. In the end, she feels that level of tolerance paved the road to the kidnapping and armed robbery that landed him at age 18 an 11-year sentence — in an adult prison.

Can't calm her guilt

All five of Ann's foster children have grown up and moved out. Her 21-year-old daughter lives in an upstairs bedroom. A grandmother at only 41, Ann babysits her neighbor's little girl during the work day — for free, she explains, because she enjoys it.

But she can't calm her guilt about Frank.

She rocks slightly in her chair as she thinks about him, just starting an 11-year state prison sentence for kidnapping and armed robbery. With new sentencing laws, he has no chance of getting out sooner.

Ann says she couldn't stop Frank from sliding into a world of drugs. She is ashamed and blames herself for what happened to him.

But she also condemns a juvenile-justice system that wouldn't prosecute her son for two breaking-and-entering crimes and a shoplifting incident when he was 14 and 15 — when, she says, he might have learned something.

"I remember hearing him say to his friend once, 'Hey man, I'm 14, I can do whatever I want,'" she said, trying not to cry. "He did small things, but we could have nipped it in the bud. He would have thought he couldn't get away with it, but he kept getting away with it."

Frank never saw the inside of a courtroom — not until last year, when he was sentenced to adult prison for kidnapping a woman and robbing her of $1,000. That time, the judicial system took the crime seriously.

Petty crimes are different. It can be hard just getting a youth into court. Many victims don't want to take the time over a broken window or even a shoplifted item.

But a timely trip to court might spell the difference between a teen who goes straight and one like Frank McDaniel who turned to larger crimes — stealing a woman's car and locking her in the trunk — to feed his drug habit.

Crime and punishment

Usually, police "divert" 65 percent to 70 percent of juvenile cases simply by calling parents. The child never goes to court. Sometimes the parents don't care about the brush with the law. And nowhere does the child see a link between his crimes and any punishment.

But with each of Frank's crimes, Ann pleaded for someone, anyone, to press charges and prosecute — for someone to teach her son a lesson while he was still just a child. She begged them not to make her constant message — that you have to pay for your crimes — ring false for her child.

Now Frank, at 18, is beginning an 11-year jail sentence.

Ann begged the court system to prosecute her son after he broke into a gas station in Forest Hills. He was caught with a hammer in his hand and broken glass at his feet, but the police just took him home — another "diverted" case.

She said she made a similar plea after a shoplifting incident at J.C. Penney's. And the Durham Housing Authority wouldn't prosecute when Frank and some friends broke into a recreation center, she said.

"It wasn't worth [Penney's] time. If it was me, an adult, they would prosecute me. Until he does something terribly wrong, there's nothing they can do," Ann said.

Even when a youth is ordered to court, it takes an average of six to eight weeks to get him before a judge.

"Virtually every juvenile-justice professional has stressed the need for quicker processing of juvenile cases so that juvenile offenders will realize the consequences of their actions and will be held accountable," Marcia Morey, a Durham juvenile prosecutor, wrote in a report for a state commission looking to reform the juvenile justice system.

And, though prosecuted, many youths leave juvenile court feeling they've escaped consequences, Morey and other critics complain.

Frank believed he couldn't be touched for any crime, Ann said.

Too many 2nd chances?

"Diverting" cases is common in a system that has few places to lock up juveniles and allows teens lots of "second chances" before getting serious about hauling them into court.

Now state lawmakers are talking about keeping records of diverted cases and increasing penalties for those first few minor crimes.

"At 3 a.m., a kid is driving a car and he has no idea how to drive, and he crashes into, hopefully, a flower bed. I don't want him or her sent home to parents who don't care where he is at 3 a.m.," said Morey, now on a leave to run the Governor's Commission on Juvenile Crime and Justice.

When police divert cases, an officer delivers the child into the hands of a parent or grandparent.

"Some of these kids are driving on probation in a stolen car. Put them in detention immediately," Morey said.

Ann-McDaniel said she would have approved detention for Frank to teach him a lesson.

"He's on his way to prison now."

If only I had gotten the help years, it really has me tore up inside," she said.

She struggles with feeling that maybe she could have done more, maybe she could have yelled louder for the authorities to prosecute when Frank was younger.

"I feel like something should have been done," Ann said. "I don't expect someone to knock on the door and say, 'Here's your help. But if you go and ask for it, I went to everyone I could think of.'"

Nowhere left to turn

She pleaded with a magistrate to arrest her son, the county Department of Social Services for treatment, the school system and some drug-treatment centers. But no one could help her, she said.

She wonders today if she could have persuaded someone to make her son pay — the way she always preached he would if he did something wrong.

"I had a couple of brothers who got into trouble and my father would say, 'I'll come visit you [in jail], but I'm not going to get you out of it,'" she remembered.

Now, Ann can't move to Texas to be with her ill father; to take care of him while he dies. She must stay close to Frank, she said.

Wherever the state decides to send him, she must visit regularly.

"My children have to come first," she said.

Frank was the son who helped with the laundry while she recovered from pneumonia.

He was the son who stopped going to school, but who would leave every morning in a destructive charade — only to roam the streets looking for drugs and eventually to steal money for the fix.

He was the son who, on many afternoons, asked if his ailing mother needed his help.

And he was the son who kidnapped and robbed a woman to get $1,000 for drugs.

Frank ordered the woman to drive to automatic teller machines and withdraw cash. He dropped her off in the country on Stage Coach Road, far from the authorities, he believed. But he returned, afraid she would tell, and forced her into the trunk at gun point.

A haunting image

That troubles his mother the most, the image of a frightened woman forced into a trunk. Frank drove the woman to the far east side of Raleigh, more than a hour in a trunk imagining what might happen, so she could not easily call police, he thought. He fled to South Carolina in her car, with her cellular phone and with her money.

He called an ex-girlfriend on the phone, and police tracked it back to him. He was caught, and this time his crime was taken seriously.

"I just feel like when I went to talk to the juvenile authorities, that they were saying until he goes before a judge they can't do anything," Ann-McDaniel said.

"All you're telling me to do is sit down and watch my son screw up his life. What he did to that woman could have been avoided. Something needs to be changed."

'Diversion' lets young lawbreakers escape punishment

Legal detour means no punishment for juveniles' crimes

By CHRISTOPHER KIRKPATRICK
The Herald-Sun

Young people who break the law never go to court, let alone jail, go home to mom or dad, or they joyride in a stolen car, smash windows or shoplift. The state's forgive-and-forgette system of juvenile justice sends them back into their parents' or grandparents' arms.

It's called "diversion," detouring young lawbreakers around the legal system toward virtually voluntary mental health treatment and drug counseling.

"How could [a] kid take that seriously?" asked Marcie Morey, a Durham juvenile prosecutor on a blue-ribbon commission charged with reforming the state's juvenile laws that govern diversion lack muscle to make anything happen. And police and court officials don't track the rerouted children.

The situation outrages many people calling for changes in juvenile laws as the state grapples with rising youth crime.

Curtis Barnett is no reformer, but he knows diversion inside and out.

Curtis, 20, is serving a life term in state prison for a murder he committed at 15.

"I was walking to my aunt's house one night pretty late, probably about one o'clock in the morning, and this guy I knew stopped," he said. "I wouldn't say he was my friend, but I knew him. No sooner do I get into the car than we're in a high-speed chase with police. The car crashed at Duke, and we end up hitting a pole at the hospital."

Curtis was only 12 then, roaming the streets while his mother worked nights. A police officer took him home after the crash, and that was the end of it. Today, some wonder whether diversion is really the end of anything. They worry that a too-soft approach to juvenile justice may be hatching a caste of children without fear of police or punishment. "There are some things that are so awful that people wouldn't be able to stand it, like being handcuffed," said John Schwade, a staff psychologist at C.A. Dillor Training School in Burnet. "But when you have a kid who's been handcuffed 30 to 40 times, it doesn't really matter. It has no effect on them because they're used to it, and that's a tragedy."

No punishment

Young people don't have to commit murder or other serious crimes to run around. Those who continually get away with petty offenses risk their schooling and future, too, because they see early on that punishment, especially tough punishment, is unlikely.

On the streets, police often simply scold juveniles and cart them home even after crimes as serious as car theft and assault. Some estimate that police officers "divert" 70 percent of all juvenile crimes.

Susan Gay can divert cases, too, into treatment programs or curfews. Or she can send them on to court.

As Durham County's juvenile-intake officer, Gay follows vague state guidelines that declare some felonies, such as murder, as too serious to divert.

Does it work? "What's your definition of work?" Gay asked. "Every once in a while, I'll make a referral and think, 'I've done a great job,' and the next week, I'll get another report on that kid."

Very little contact

The weak link in the state's diversion law is the "contact" rule. It allows a youth following a "diversion agreement," Gay set up to only make contact, literally, with a mental health counselor.

In one juvenile's case, "contact" meant simply writing his name on a sign-in sheet at the county Mental Health Department, where he had agreed to go for counseling. He didn't actually attend therapy sessions, only signed in and left. But he fulfilled his part of diversion under the law.

"The way the statute is written now, if the child makes any contact at all [with a treatment program or counselor], then they've met their obligation," Gay said. "We have to expand the definition of what compliance should be."

One step, she said, could be requiring parents to attend

Lack of space in juvenile detention centers makes the situation worse.

Durham County has just 15 detention beds. That means a police officer who wants to put a young lawbreaker behind bars may have to sit all night while officials seek space somewhere.

At times, it's in a neighboring or even distant county, where a sheriff's deputy will have to carry the youth. It also means officers spend that much less time on the street.

Frustrated sheriff's departments have refused to shuttle juveniles from county to county because of time and added expense. So in some counties the task falls to unarmed court counselors. And sometimes teens have kicked out windows to try to escape from the cars, never intended to hold prisoners.

In Gay's tiny office on the second floor of the Judicial Building are a stack of white forms, filled out in pen. Most describe minor crimes — a student steals money, a boy takes a bike.

In a room down the hall two young men — really children, but taller and stronger than anyone else in the bank of offices — stand annoyed in a sealed detention room with a tiny window. They are waiting to see a judge. Court counselors and police officers walk by without looking. For them, locked-up children are an ordinary sight.

Another child was in the room earlier. He had tried to rob a bank, the first juvenile to do so in the annals of Durham County. That struck Gay as odd. Juveniles have raped, assaulted and murdered in Durham County said, but they had never hurt — not until that day.

Many of the cases described in the white forms will be diverted. She will find treatment options set up by community services, a local minister, review the life and meditate on assorted other variables about the child.

"You try to come up with alternatives," Gay said. "If I have been in a fight, then maybe anger management. If someone's property was damaged, the repair it or do community service."

Teen Court is another option. Young lawbreakers stand in a court of their peers — adult guidance. The offender is the stung of a public court proceeding but avoid a juv record.

The days may be numbing diversion as it exists now, lawmakers, looking for ways to reform North Carolina's juvenile-justice system, are considering ways to keep cases diverted by police.

Now, the cases all but disappear. Follow-up is rare: the young criminals, virtually unpunished, often head back to the streets.

Police are frustrated. They up, release, pick up and try the same young criminals over and over. But reality offers simple solutions for police parents or juvenile courts.

"Sometimes it's madder the police," Schwade said. "I will have arrested someone numerous times for auto theft. But they have to take the

SPECIAL REPORT

HOME FOR LIFE: Curtis Barnett, 20, has finally found the boundaries that tailed him in his early teens. But these are in the form of walls surrounding him at Foothills Correctional Institution in Morganton, where he's serving a life term for second-degree murder.

Curtis had never driven a stick shift, and the Durham police car idling across the intersection made him nervous.

That night, when most other 13-year-olds were home in bed, Curtis cruised the streets in a "rented" car with two friends — a 17-year-old carrying a gun and a 19-year-old with some "rock" cocaine.

Curtis was short for his age, and not much more than 100 pounds. But he wanted to stand tall in the eyes of his pals by drinking more than they did and smoking more "grass," he said. He burned to drive the "rented" car, too, to impress them even more.

Nothing, however, could change reality. Curtis was a skinny little boy who could

The police officer watched closely as Curtis screamed forward at Fayetteville and Main streets.

"The one dude in the back seat had a little pistol. He was the one telling me to go," Curtis said. "Another threw the drugs out of the window, and he told me to pull over. I got frustrated, and so I just took off."

The officer caught the car, then chased down the fleeing Curtis. So began the twists and turns of a child's trek through the juvenile-justice system.

could happen to the Kinkeads, since it was supposed to be a good sign. Kinkead has been accepted as an adult with four counts of murder and is expected to enter a plea of "not guilty." He has not yet told his story, Kinkead's attorney, who is under a gag order, did not return calls for comment.

But to friends and neighbors, the Kinkeads could hardly have been a more wholesome family. They lived in a grapeyard-framed A-frame house set in a wooded midmountain of Springfield, a blue-cedar timber town on the Oregon-Greyhound border. It was a quiet, old, rural place, his job as a high-school Spanish instructor four years ago out of town; one evening a week at the local bar, "Johnny's" (page 24), Feb. 27, a happy even for the hiker with passion for Latin America, was a poppin' Spanish teacher at Springfield High School. Daughter Kirsten, 21, excelled at gymnastics and won a cheerleading scholarship three years ago to Earlwall Pacific University. Kip could be usually winning. "He was shy and quiet," says Steve. "And he had this big, beautiful smile." But at the Eugene Swim & Tennis Club, where Bill Knapen played tennis twice a week for years, partner Steve Knapen got two new signs of Kip's rich personality. "I'd say, 'Bill, you're a little fat,' and he'd say, 'Bill, would that hurt?' Come on Kip, time to get out of 'tall' and Kip would say, 'I'm not coming.'" Knapen used a local paper, "Bill" would have to go into the pool and get him out."

The aftermath: Kip Kinkel, 15, in custody (left) for an alleged killing spree that began in his Springfield, Ore., home with the slaying of his parents and ended at his school; his sister, Kristin, 21, and their aunt at a memorial service for the elder Kinkels.

At Providence Elementary School, Kip's grades were poor; he inquired frequently with his classmates, The Kankish spent countless hours juggling with teachers and counselors in a fruitless search for what was wrong. They suspected violence and tutored him after school to no avail. According to family friends, a therapist said he suffered from numerous physical disorders and put him on Ritalin; another prescribed Prozac to treat his depression. Kip was even taken to a high school counselor, on the theory that his poor academic performance was the result of visual impairment. Nothing worked. Finally, in desperation, the Kankish withdrew Kip from the seventh grade and tutored him at home for the ex-tire year. "Bill cut back his (college) teaching schedule to stay home with Max," says Sperry. "He never complained."

Then, with the onset of adolescence, the boy began spending hours a day reading gun magazines and cruising bomb-making Web sites; his conversation revolved around weaponry, and he begged Bill constantly to buy him a rifle. In the summer of 1995, Kinkaid took Sperry aside during break on the doubles court. "Kip's got a connection with guns and bombs, and I'm worried about it," he said. He asked Sperry, a former school administrator, to help get Kip's mind off weapons. Sperry began tennis with Kip and joined the family.

ball games. One weekend Sperry took Kip and Bill sailing on Fern Rider Reservoir outside Springfield. It proved to be another failure. "I tried to connect with him, but he was unresponsive," Sperry recalls. "At the end of the day I said 'I'm not for you, son.' And Bill said, 'I can see that.'"

Kinkel, however, was attracted to a cruel deceiver, badgered by Kip for a pass. Kinkel told Sperry that he was contemplating going in "I'd despair," he warmly confessed a year ago. "I've told everything you know," Sperry reluctantly supported Kinkel. "A year is like four years here," he told him. "You've got to be a little more patient. You've got to grow." He advised Kinkel to buy a car, a small engine, bolt-on cuffs, ride a semi-automatic—and urged him to take Kip to the firing range where they could learn to shoot together and receive minor martynovs. Kinkel was not a good shot, but Sperry told him a pistol. Two years later, Kinkel was a sergeant. Kinkel purchased a .38 Smith & Wesson semiautomatic Kip's rifle and told Kip his friend's advice—and presented it to Kip. Kinkel stored the Kip in a locked metal cabinet in this garage, to be used only in case of emergency. He told friends and family to keep the key on his pillow, he said, so that with a under his pillow.

Kip took to his new "version" with enthusiasm. One weekend last year he joined his friends Aaron Knesey and Aaron's father, Scott, on a shooting weekend in the remote backwoods of northern Oregon. The 14-year-olds and their father took a trail of footprints through the woods and into a clearing where a group of deer let up at the sound of gunfire. "They were shooting competitors to see who was better," Scott recalls. "Kip was good. He'd shoot that bull's eye to where he knew how to shoot." But the hunter didn't realize Kip was 10 years old. He begged his father for more "buckskins" and Knesey's father, who was a sports agent, gave him a rifle. "I was 10 and they pulled me out of my driveway on the same day," Kip says. "I was a professional hunter for Fox Explorer. Kip jumped on and promptly opened up a cardboard box. I saw he was shiny, new 6-mm Giodi semiautomatic, key-chain caliber pump used mainly by police. Kip was knowing it off like you would a new car." Knesey recalls. "He had no idea he was a professional hunter. He was 10."

Kip's father, Scott, says, "They took him to the Kinkiel's crisis seemed only to make it and more aggravate. Last December, while waiting at San Diego airport for a delayed flight back to Eugene, Kinkiel fell into conversation with another stranger, a philosopher, a University of Oregon associate professor and expert on juvenile violence named Dan Close. Over the next two hours, Close had much told repressed. Kinkiel concluded that his son was on the brink of an explosion. Kip was "totally obsessed" by guns, Kinkiel reportedly said; he had killed animals and threatened his parents. The 16½ had always been strong willed. Kinkel allegedly told Close, but recently his aggression had escalated. He became uncontrollably angry when told "no." He threw tantrums and threatened violence until he got what he wanted. His most recent obsessions were cars and driving, and Kinkel feared what might happen to his neighbors if Kip got behind the wheel of a car. He had run out of options, Kinkel said: he had nowhere to turn. "The man was terrified," recalled Close. Two Sundays before the massacre, Sperry and Kinkel played tennis for the last time. "I asked him about Kip and he said, 'I've seen some positive things. It's looking up,'" Sperry recalls. "Then he looked at me and said, 'Of course, we've still got problems.'" It proved to be a tragic understatement.

Ten days later Kinkel brought Kip home from the Skipworth Juvenile Detention Center in Springfield, where he had been booked for possession of a deadly weapon. "Knowing Bill, I'm sure he laid down the law at that point," Sperry says. "No driving, no guns, no privileges." And the kid just felt, 'My world is over.' Sometime that afternoon, Kip apparently found his way into his father's gun cabinet. Then, police say, he took aim and fired, putting to lethal use the gifts Bill Kinkel had once believed would bring father and son together.

Playing it safe: In Boston, a counseling program for kids like A'kheem Lipscomb

Lessons From the Front

How to prevent school shootings? Crack down at the hint of a threat—and then follow up, one kid at a time.

By DEBRA ROSENBERG

KIP KINKEL WASN'T THE first. Though school-related killings have statistically fallen over the past five years, there have been a half-dozen major school-shooting incidents in the last 16 months—and now educators and policymakers are once more trying to figure out how to keep guns out of the classroom. One Georgia lawmaker has proposed arming teachers, but most experts say the last thing schools need is more weapons. The National School Safety Center found that 70 percent of the young killers had previously brought a weapon to school. (Kinkel, who has not yet pleaded on the Springfield shootings, had been suspended for having a gun at school the day before the shootings.) "These aren't kids who do something out of the blue," says NSSC director Ronald Stephens.

Most schools already have "zero tolerance" policies for guns. But few have effective programs for handling the kids who break the rules. Too often, students who cross the line are suspended and sent home—usually home alone. But for the past decade, Boston has boasted an innovative program, one experts consider a model for students suspended for carrying weapons. Kids are required to attend the Counseling and Intervention Center, an intensive, short-term-treatment program that offers group counseling and lessons in conflict resolution.

It sounds like a liberal, do-gooder idea, but the cops love it, too. At the center, which is housed in a dilapidated former city school, social workers meet with parents and determine whether students need psychological evaluation, one-on-one counseling or follow-up social services. By government standards, it's cheap to run, just $500,000 a year. For some kids it's the first time in years they feel someone is actually listening. "You get to tell the teacher about your problems," says A'kheem Lipscomb, 14, a lanky high-schooler who was caught with a six-inch folding knife. The program includes kids caught with drugs and those who engage in "assaultive behavior," a category that gives schools broad latitude for referrals. Last year 23 students were sent there for verbal threats. "We need to take everything into account," says director Philip Jackson.

Most students in Boston stay just five to 10 days, but the center has a low 9 percent recidivism rate. Another brief program with long-term results is the Safe Alternative and Violence Education program in San Jose, Calif. Any kid caught totting a weapon to school in Santa Clara County must attend a six-hour life-skills course taught by cops. Since 1993, fewer than a quarter of the grads have been nabbed on another weapons offense.

Even the best programs will overlook some troubled students. But now some schools are at least looking harder. Last week one suburban Boston student was held for psychiatric evaluation after he reportedly threatened to pull "an Oregon." And two New Hampshire girls were arrested after threatening to get a gun and attack their teacher. The lesson of a bloody season: better safe than sorry.

A mother blames urban, family ills for son's eventual downfall as killer

By CHRISTOPHER KIRKPATRICK
The Herald-Sun

Bertha Barnette remembers the hard work and love she shared with her 13 brothers and sisters on their Virginia farm. They took care of each other, despite family squabbles that were legendary.

"We all played together. We all worked together. We all ate together," she says with a smile. "To me, we didn't have a lot, but we had love. We were together and we weren't separated."

The memories fill her head as she thinks of her son Curtis and how she raised him in Durham's rough-and-tumble West End community.

"I wish my kids had not been so connected to the violence," Bertha says. "We never had violence when we were kids. If you broke a window, that was a major thing for me."

Curtis, 20, is in jail for a murder he committed at 15: the fatal shooting of Eric Donell Brown in an argument about drugs. Curtis is eligible for parole in 2004.

Onset of urban ills

Drugs, crime and the pressures of inner-city life are far away from a simple, self-sufficient existence in rural southern Virginia. But Curtis' grandfather had a stroke, and the family headed south to Durham's West End. Urban ills began to take root in Curtis' mother's life.

Since the murder, she has moved from the West End to a new apartment in a fenced-in complex in another high-crime neighborhood. She regrets choosing the West End in the early 1990s, where she ended up living with Curtis' father.

They eventually split and Curtis began to change, she said. His grades faltered as the loving, caring son gradually turned to drugs and crime.

"He wanted his Mommy and his Daddy," Bertha says. "[But] I'm not making excuses. There were a lot of things missing."

Like Curtis, most children who end up in serious trouble have crumbling home lives, little supervision and a single mother.

In 1997, North Carolina courts committed 1,117 juveniles to training school — the modern term for reform school. That's about 6 percent of all children who appeared before a judge during those two years.

And about half of those children have little or no contact with their fathers, state figures show. More than 75 percent come from single-parent homes, (not counting unmarried couples who live together). And 45 percent of all children in training school say at least one parent has served time in training school or prison.

More than three-quarters of single parents in North Carolina, mostly mothers, work. Almost half of those are below the poverty line, according to the Raleigh-based Child Advocacy Institute, which lobbies on family issues.

Home life lacking

National research says the home life of most young lawbreakers lacks key elements: a positive atmosphere and two parents who love each other.

Curtis agrees.

"I don't like to say that, because I feel like I'm placing the blame," he said. "But I feel like there needs to be a tighter bond between family."

The court system has had spotty success being the social glue.

It has difficulty holding parents accountable even for simple things, such as just showing up in court with their child, or making sure the child gets to a probation meeting or attends mental health

MOREY

"Laws are not addressing the problems of parents who don't take responsibility," said Marcia Morey, a Durham juvenile prosecutor who now leads a governor's commission studying the juvenile justice system.

"We need to make sure that parents are subpoenaed and made to show up in court, that the parent cooperates and gives their best effort to make sure their child follows a curfew, shows up for counseling and doesn't use drugs," she said.

Neglect and abuse laws hold parents accountable for cruelty. But what about the parent who stands silently by while his or her child skips school or misses a court date or a probation appointment?

Whatever blame can be heaped onto juveniles themselves for their crimes, adults are the ones hurting the most children, says an Advocacy Institute report.

Crimes against children far outweigh the number of children who are criminals, according to institute. And some of those child victims — usually the targets of abuse and neglect — become criminals and abusers themselves. More than 30,000 children were reported as abused or neglected in 1996. North Carolina law enforcement arrested 1,177 for violent crimes that year. The figure doesn't reflect more common property crimes, such as car thefts and break-ins.

Some just don't care

Durham court counselors estimate that 10 to 20 percent of their clients have parents who blatantly skip appointments with probation officers, called court counselors in juvenile court. And a recent statewide survey conducted by the Governor's Commission on Juvenile Crime and Justice says 33 percent of parents offer no help to the courts with their children's probations.

"Those are the ones that stand out like a sore thumb because you have to reschedule," said Susan Gay, Durham County's juvenile intake officer. Her job is to direct children either to court or into treatment programs.

Parents technically are responsible for making sure juvenile offenders obey court orders, Gay said. Failure could lead to a contempt of court charge. But the rules rarely are enforced, said Gay, who has worked in juvenile court for 18 years.

On Durham County's juvenile court summons sheet, delivered to the parents of juveniles who are called into court, a section warns that a parent "may be held in contempt of court" if he or she does not come to court with the child.

In her nearly two decades in juvenile court, Gay said she can remember only four or five cases in which a parent was held in contempt of court for failing to get involved or show up to court.

And if the child misses court, a pick-up order — the youth version of a criminal warrant — is issued. But it is only for the child, Gay said, even though the parent has missed court, too.

"There are some really good programs, but the parents have to make sure that the child gets there," she said.

After a juvenile's first court appearance, a judge must subpoena a parent to ensure he or she comes to court. Through the subpoena, a judge usually is trying to force the parent to get involved with the child's case. The judge writes the parent's responsibilities into the court order and probation agreement.

But if the parent ignores the

BERTHA BARNETTE
MOTHER OF INMATE

judge's warnings, the court typically does nothing, Morey and Gay said.

Overwhelmed urban court counselors, with about 40 to 50 cases each at any one time, need the parent's help, too.

"The real weakness is the breakdown in the family,"

Gay said.

Getting a child treatment is like trying to nail Jello to a tree — you don't have anything to work with when you don't have a good parent."

But some youths are so big and strong, so deep into drugs or so tangled in teen pregnancy, that they blatantly skip appointments with probation officers, called court counselors in juvenile court.

And a recent statewide survey conducted by the Governor's

Commission on Juvenile Crime and Justice says 33 percent of parents offer no help to the courts with their children's probations.

"Those are the ones that stand out like a sore thumb because you have to reschedule," said Susan Gay, Durham County's juvenile-intake officer. Her job is to direct children either to court or into treatment programs.

Parents don't pay

Parents technically are responsible for making sure juvenile offenders obey court orders, Gay said. Failure could lead to a contempt-of-court charge. But the rules rarely are enforced, said Gay, who has worked in juvenile court for 18 years.

On Durham County's juvenile court summons sheet, delivered to the parents of juveniles who are called into court, a section warns that a parent "may be held in contempt of court" if he or she does not come to court with the child.

In her nearly two decades in juvenile court, Gay said she can remember only four or five cases in which a parent was held in contempt of court for failing to get involved or show up to they're not going to listen to anyone, even a parent.

The script from Curtis' home life includes domestic violence and alcohol abuse. And, in the end, comes the scene of a single mother who had to work nights and now struggles with guilt that she couldn't be around to keep her son at home when he was 12 and 13.

SCHWADE

But, she tells herself, she had to make a living.

"Somebody had to pay the bills or we'd be outside," she said.

Things were even tougher, she said, because Curtis' missing father didn't pay child support or spend time with his children.

Most parents fail or continue to fail their children after the youths are locked up. At C.A. Dillon Training School in Butler, only one in every five inmates has at least one parent with him in sessions with psychologists or in other treatment, says John

Schwade, a staff psychologist.

Even at 13 or 14 — sometimes as young as 11 or 12 — about 80 percent of the inmates are alone in charge of their own rehabilitation, he said. Many of their parents just don't show up or don't care. And no law says parents must participate in the training school treatment of their child, Schwade said.

"We release that child into the parent's home, and the parent has no idea what they're supposed to do," he said.

In some of the busiest juvenile courts in the country, parents are not required to take part.

In New York City, which runs five juvenile or "family" courts, parents or guardians are contacted but are not required to show up.

"There's no law that says they have to be there," said Sarina

Rosée, director of communications for juvenile detention in New York City.

In Washington, parents are encouraged to attend court with their child, but there is no requirement on the books, said a

District of Columbia juvenile prosecutor.

In North Carolina, a juvenile alone in court sometimes is assumed to be "indigent" — poor — when he may have a parent who just didn't show up.

"When they're there by themselves with no family to stand up for them, they give in to peer pressure and they say bad things to the judge to impress their friends,"

Schwade said.

He sees the children at nearly all stages of the juvenile-justice process, whether at training school, where he treats them, or in court, where he watches.

Defendants show court no respect

Some juveniles show up in court with their pants hanging almost to their knees and underwear showing — a popular fashion statement among some juvenile offenders.

Some haven't showered for days,

Schwade said, and they don't have anyone to teach them how to show respect to adults.

The bearded Schwade speaks quickly and emotionally about the subject. He says he feels like the lone character in a horror movie who tries to warn everyone of impending danger, only to be laughed off.

"It feels good to talk about it,"

he said.

Some parents don't care about what happens to their children, and others don't have the time. Curtis' mother said she attended every court hearing but had to work nights to support herself and her three children. She couldn't watch Curtis at every moment and he started to do whatever he wanted, she said.

"Don't go out and don't let anybody in my house. Don't bring no girls in my house," she would warn as she left. "When I'm at work I don't know what they were doing."

Morey, the prosecutor, has a solution: Make parents pick up the tab.

There have been recommendations to make parents pay court costs, detention fees and training school fees, she said.

"A lot of times you hit parents in the pocketbook and you see changes," she said.

But Schwade says it's not that easy. Some children can't be controlled, he said.

Bertha at times kicked Curtis out of the house because of his drug use and disobedience.

MOORE

He would sleep at a friend's house or walk to the Trinity Park home of his Durham High School teacher, Richard Moore, now a state legislator from Kannapolis.

Bertha's struggle to keep her bills paid and brood fed meant fewer minutes spent with her children. Studies show her situation is like that of many other families and only getting worse across the country. Modern life pitches more demands at all single- and two-parent households, and children tend to feel the loss.

"In the 1970s, there were studies that showed parents spent about 20 minutes a day interacting with their children," said Cynthia Howard, a state school psychologist. "Several years ago, the data suggested that the 20 minutes was down now to about eight minutes."

Shift's timing unfortunate

The shift is occurring as drugs and guns become more available.

Had Curtis talked to Howard or Schwade, he might have been shocked about his chances for the future. Then again, maybe nothing could have sobered him to his real prospects.

After he murdered the professionals, started the official tally of reasons why Curtis fell. A poor home life topped the

"The parent reports a great deal of family difficulty in his early years. He reports that he was physically abused by his father and often witnessed his father physically abusing his mother. He describes multiple episodes of killing and torturing animals," a mental health report in his court file reads.

In prison, Curtis thinks back and ponders what went wrong.

He doesn't want to talk about the violence. But the papers that trace his life and crimes are full of images of brutality and a broken home with little supervision.

"I don't know what caused the change," Curtis says. "I was pretty good in elementary school and then I started slipping. I remember one time I had all flags [failing marks] on my report card."

He now accepts responsibility for what he did, but still looks back and sees family problems as a major ingredient.

The downward spiral began after his parents split, when he was 8. He lost interest in school, stayed out late, tried to outdrink the older boys. He sought male attention, a replacement for his father.

"Really, acceptance is what I was after," Curtis says. "You want to prove yourself. You're the smallest guy. Not only that, but I was the youngest. You got to prove yourself."

Failing marks and a broken home nosedived into truancy, which collapsed into drugs, alcohol, violence — and murder.

Curtis' mother is one of the architects of a still-struggling West End renewal, a project to revive the old neighborhood and drive out criminals. Despite progress, guns, drugs and despair still threaten to mold teens into violent criminals on the West End's streets.

Bertha chose to be a single parent. Even though she and her partner had been together for 12 years and had two children, she never would marry him. She just couldn't say yes, she said. One day he hit her and she hit him back — and kicked him out for good, she said.

"He drank and I drank — two drinking parents is no way to raise a child," Bertha said. "We got along in the beginning but in the end it was pure hell."

Curtis' father could not be reached for this article.

Money problems stressed the marriage and the drinking intensified, she said. The violence increased and the father would hit Curtis, too, she said. And Curtis would watch him beat her.

"That's about all I can remember about the two of them together," Curtis says.

Finally, a father figure

But Curtis did have another father figure of sorts, more than many children in similar situations: a teacher who cared and volunteered his own time.

Moore would take Curtis and other students out for pizza and would let Curtis sleep at his house when his mother kicked him out. But it came too late, when Curtis was 15 and starting high school.

Moore helped out in other ways, too, once retrieving a gun from Curtis' home after Bertha called for help. She didn't call his father; she called Moore. Moore turned the gun over to the police.

There was a modicum of structure and some people who really cared. But it was not enough to save Curtis.

A few months later, Curtis would find another firearm, a sawed-off, .22-caliber Daisy rifle. In an argument over drugs, he shot a man dead in a very public intersection in the middle of a January day.

"He didn't have anywhere to go," Moore said. "He didn't have anywhere else to be. He committed that crime during the Christmas holiday. He used to say to me, 'You got to go home to Kannapolis, but I didn't have anywhere positive to be.'"

"He can't use that as an excuse, but we have to look at that. If he had a safe, positive place to be, could we have prevented it? The answer has to be yes."

Tomorrow: What led Curtis to murder at 15?

The Herald-Sun/CATHY SEITH

LONG LIFE SENTENCE: Curtis Barnette, 20, is serving a life sentence for the 1994 murder of Eric Donnel Brown in Durham. Many see Curtis as one of the state's juvenile-justice system failures; he had ample experience with the juvenile-justice system — breaking curfews, using drugs, failing required drug tests, refusing to go to school — and learned that he didn't have to change or pay a price for his wrongdoing.

Justice system's failures teach juveniles the wrong lessons

Youths receive light sentences until it's too late

Fourteen years ago, Curtis Barnette laughed as a photographer captured his playful innocence in an Easter Day portrait.

Today at 20, a more subdued Curtis sits in a state prison cell — eating, sleeping, reading, spending every moment wired into a routine that crawls past with the cynical cadence of a ticking clock.

Carolina lets its youngest criminals beat the system

At his mother's modest Durham apartment, the portrait hangs above an old television set that flickers on and off at will and without warning.

The 6-year-old, tuxedo-clad boy who beams from the photograph became a killer at 15. He shot a man three times in a fit of broad-daylight rage.

How Curtis grew from that innocent child to convicted murderer is a portrait, too, of a juvenile-justice system that he quickly learned was more a kid-gloved bother than a serious exercise in crime and punishment.

Curtis repeatedly wound up in court from age 12 to 15. But juvenile authorities, hands tied by timeworn state laws, always responded with probation and "treatment." When Curtis ignored "treatment," only after he murdered someone did the system sit up, take notice and send him to prison.

The tragedy is bigger than the untimely death of one man: North Carolina has thousands of potential Curtises adrift in its antiquated juvenile-justice system.

FROM A1

It prepared to manage youths like Curtis.

Overhauled juvenile laws, last overhauled 19 years ago, that give judges little sentencing flexibility and force them toward extremes: too little punishment or too much.

Exasperated teachers, 4 confronted by increasing school violence and growing lack of respect from students.

Overworked, underpaid juvenile probation officers (called court counselors) who can't keep pace with the increase in cases they handle.

Frustrated police officers, who repeatedly arrest the same teens and who say their investigations suffer because the law clocks young offenders' criminal past in too much, 3.25 confidentiality.

Disillusioned judges, who have few options for sentencing the young lawbreakers who stand before them day after day — at times in open defiance and disrespect.

The wrong lessons

All tell a tale of an embedded system failing the very community it is supposed to protect. But worst, it is a system teaching young lawbreakers that there's less bite than bark in a process that gives them numerous "last chances."

They're examples of failure by the schools, juvenile-justice system, social services, just by our whole system," said Marcia Morrey, a Durham juvenile attorney who prosecuted Curtis and now is pushing reforms in the Legislature to juvenile regulations. The system can work, of course. In fact, it works more often than it fails. Statistics show most juveniles who come to juvenile court once never return again.

The problem lies with repeat lawbreakers who commit middle-of-the-road crimes, such as assault or joyriding. Though a minority, they monopolize youth crime and manipulate what enemies attention the juvenile-justice system usually throws their way.

The state recently analyzed 1,500 juvenile-court records from 1997, chosen at random. It found that:

- 69 percent of the youths were in court for the first time;
- 19.5 percent had one previous conviction in juvenile court;
- 7.5 percent had two convictions;
- Almost 4 percent had more than three.

That's considerable, considering these kids aren't even 16 years old yet," Morrey said.

In effect, about 10 percent of those youths repeatedly get into trouble, she said. But they sap far more than their share of vital resources — such as court counselors' time — in an already overcrowded system.

Worse, today's youth who knows he can beat the system may grow into tomorrow's rapist or murderer — lawbreakers that people like Morrey and Gov. Jim Hunt say could be foiled and helped with badly needed juvenile-justice reforms.

Morrey and Hunt mean Curtis and others like him, who as juveniles blatantly ignored laws and judges' warnings and repeatedly violated probation, skipped school and bounced into juvenile court.

The budding criminals often leave the courtroom more peeved than apologetic, minus any sense of consequence — until they commit a serious crime. And then it usually is too late, as adult court and adult rules kick in for teens as young as 13.

Statistics sketching the increase in juvenile crime are sobering.

The state's population of 30- to 15-year-olds fell 4 percent over the last 20 years, but fighting and other "simple" assaults soared 508 percent. Weapons arrests skyrocketed, up 777 percent.

Juvenile laws, last overhauled in 1979, wither in the face of today's brand of violent youth crime laced with drug-driven ferocity and stoked by the growing problem of illegitimacy.

"The kids we have from 10- to 16-years-old are only 2 percent of the (juvenile) population, so 98 percent of the kids are doing great," said Archie Snipes, Durham County's head juvenile court counselor. "But if we only have 2 percent, then why can't we do better?"

Breaking the rules

Curtis, despite his escalating criminal record from age 12 to 15, got lots of "last chances" to avoid training school — today's term for reform school. He didn't want to go, so he happily accepted the judges' offers of probation and drug-treatment programs.

But he rarely obeyed those rules, and the system let him get away with it — until the day Curtis, as a 15-year-old, killed Eric Donnell Brown.

They made a dubious footnote in history on Jan. 4, 1994, in Durham's beleaguered West End community: the first murderer and victim of the new year.

Most teen criminals are not murderers. In fact, Curtis was one of only 15 North Carolina juveniles, under age 16, who were charged with murder or manslaughter in 1994.

But his ample experience with the juvenile-justice system — breaking curfew, using drugs, failing required drug tests, refusing to go to school — had taught him a clear lesson: He didn't have to change or pay a price for his wrongdoing.

Curtis could continue to skip school, drink and smoke marijuana nearly every day and ignore his probation — and no one really would do anything about it.

His mother tried, ultimately kicking him out of the house. So did a good Samaritan school teacher, who volunteered in Curtis' neighborhood and took a special interest in the boy. But still, no one could reach or change him.

The system taught Curtis all the wrong things, and he learned them well.

By age 12, he knew he could wander the streets at will while his mother worked nights. No father was around — the mother had booted him out for drinking all day and beating her, she said. He rarely visited his family and has never been to see Curtis in prison, the mother said.

Curtis, with a swagger, he says, people mistake as cockiness, takes the blame for his own actions. He faults his poor family life, but doesn't feel comfortable stacking the burden of his own actions, he said.

"I think families need to have a tighter bond," he said.

His mother said Curtis was out of control, so much that she eventually kicked him out for not obeying her.

And, like the parents of many other troubled children, she said the juvenile-justice system could have been tougher on him at the very start — when he rode in a stolen car, failed drug tests and broke probation.

But it's clear other forces also molded Curtis. He was abused by his father, who still owes 11 years' worth of child support, his mother said.

Curtis also had trouble dealing with his parents' separation. From an early age, he abused alcohol and drugs until he blacked out, his court record shows. And as a young child, Curtis said, he saw his father beat his mother.

A mental health report describes him as a "solitary, aggressive type" with a "conduct disorder."

But his mother remembers another Curtis: the son who's needed lots of hugs as a youngster and who, at 6, tried desperately to keep his parents together as their relationship crumbled.

"It's really looking through the wrong end of the telescope to say that the juvenile-justice system is completely at fault," said Susan Gay, who has worked in Durham juvenile court for 18 years. "It's schools, neighborhoods, unemployment, housing, the whole schmeer."

Making system work

Many say the system, in theory, would work better if more resources were available, such as more people to monitor youths on probation.

And parts of the system do work well, such as intensive services for the most troubled youths or electronic house arrest, Gay said.

As Durham's juvenile-intake officer, she directs the youths either to treatment programs or to court for their offenses.

"[But] I think there are some major gaps," Gay said. "The court counselors in this office are real dedicated folk. But with these huge case loads, what are they supposed to do with the 100,000 undisciplined children (the ones who commit truancy or other lesser crimes)?"

Others point the finger at state statutes, especially confidentiality rules that police say hamper their investigations and regulations that require judges to give juvenile offenders the least punishment possible, such as probation, before locking them up.

Training school, the only lock-up option, is not the answer, either, some juvenile-justice officials say. A recent UNC Charlotte study casts doubt on the effectiveness of what used to be called reform school.

Four out of every five juveniles sent to training school commit another crime after they are released, the study found.

But Darryl Person, a Durham juvenile probation officer (officially, a "court counselor"), and other critics say training school sentences come too late. An early, quick sentence also could be viewed as a treatment, Person said, designed to scare a child straight, protect him from the streets or shield him from abusive or drug-abusing parents.

"I think some kids need to go to training school right from the start, so they can know someone is in control," said Person, who is in charge of the hardest cases. "I think just placing every kid on probation is wrong. It needs to be on a case-by-case basis."

A 13-year-old — who legally can be charged as an adult for violent felonies — should spend at least one night in a jail of some sort rather than be sent home after stealing a car or shoplifting. Person and others say. But others wonder if that approach would do little more than teach children how to be criminals.

Still others blame prevention and education programs that get too little money to stand a chance to succeed.

Snipes, Durham's head court counselor, sees the least-restrictive-punishment rule as most ominous. He calls probation for early transgressions "a pat on the back" for young lawbreakers that makes the next crime easier to commit. Curtis, his reality blurred by alcohol and drugs, got a lot of pats on the back.

Sociologists, psychologists and juvenile-justice officials can argue about who or what caused Curtis and other children to turn to crime. But most agree there is a need to mend a system seemingly designed to offer a succession of "second chances."

It may be too late for Curtis. But the real issue, juvenile-justice professionals like Person and Snipes say, is saving the potential Curises of the future.

Tomorrow: A judge launches Cur criminal career. Limited options for sentencing young lawbreakers frustrate judges.

Probation officers face indifference, guns doing job

Juvenile offenders often brazen in refusal to cooperate

By CHRISTOPHER KIRKPATRICK
The Herald-Sun

Darryl Person spotted his young fugitive and moved in.

The two locked eyes.

"Person, I like you, but I'm not on your side," the boy said.

The impeccably groomed, his pride in appearance gleaming like his spotless white shirt.

At his determination — no probation violation was going to put him back in the Durham Youth Home — was as cold and hard as the pistol he flashed from under his shirt.

"You don't have to go," Person replied calmly.

After 10 years as a juvenile probation officer — officially called a court counselor — Person says he has survived because teen-agers know him as someone just trying to help.

They like him, he says. But sometimes they're armed and adamant about staying out of trouble.

Person was just determined he wasn't going to be locked up anymore. He just got fed up with it," Person said of his rush with the well-dressed teen.

Two months later, police picked him up on another charge, Person said.

Most court counselors are pseudo-social workers, who keep track of lawbreaking youths after they leave court to make sure they follow a judge's instructions about counseling or a curfew.

They usually don't take to the streets to rack down juveniles, as Person does, and they're not allowed to carry guns.

"I have guns pulled on me," he said. "It's respect — that's what has kept me alive. It's about working smart and not just working."

Person works with the hardest cases and has fewer children than most counselors.

But he can speak for all of his colleagues about frustration with the juvenile-justice system: stress over low pay, gargantuan case loads and dismay at the lack of attention the youths end up getting.

Durham court counselors average 43 cases each at any one time. The state prefers no more than 30.

"It doesn't take a rocket scientist to figure out that if they work 24 hours a day, they would not complete the job," an impassioned Durham District Court Judge Elaine O'Neal told Gov. Jim Hunt and his bipartisan panel looking into reforming the juvenile-justice system.

Each court counselor in an urban area such as Charlotte, Raleigh or Durham handles between 25 and 50 youths at a time.

"We're trying to shoot for 30 right now," said Ed Taylor, an assistant administrator with the state Division of Juvenile Services.

Too many youths end up getting too few services, said Archie Snipes, head court counselor for Durham County. And they may keep on breaking the law, he said.

A counselor must visit a youth's home at least once every 90 days and make "contact" once a month. Often counselors will go to schools, so they can see more than one client in an afternoon and satisfy several "contact" requirements.

"I think that's where some of the breakdown comes from," said Susan Gay, Durham's juvenile-intake officer, who reviews juvenile cases to see if they should go before a judge. "Children need more than once-a-month contact, but it's just physically impossible."

At any one time in Durham County, about 300 children are on probation. It usually lasts a year, with an option for a judge to assign another year.

The county employs six full-time counselors and several special-needs counselors, such as Person.

According to the court counselors' office, two-thirds of all children put on probation successfully fulfill the terms of their agreements, which might include staying off drugs and obeying a curfew.

In 1996, 659 children went to juvenile court and got probation. That same year, 252 children — 38 percent — were called back into court for breaking probation.

"Usually it'd be for things like truancy from school or breaking a curfew," Gay said.

Person said "intensive services" are the best approach. As Durham's only "intensive-services" counselor, he sees at most 10 children at any one time.

"These kids need special attention," he said.

Person is a physical presence, broad-shouldered and standing well over 6 feet tall. But his manner is soft and his caring obvious. His techniques have been honed by years of nabbing juveniles who break probation.

In high-crime neighborhoods, he'll go to a house early in the morning while everyone's asleep to pick up a youth.

"You have to use your mind to make amends for what you don't have," he said.

What he doesn't have is a gun or an armed escort.

Counselors' complaints

Person and other court counselors say they see a system that doesn't work partly because their own tasks are so impossible to fulfill and partly because the laws that guide judges and the system are too weak.

"The court does not have any teeth in its actions," Snipes said. "Juveniles don't seem to be a high priority."

Even when a court counselor does take a child to court for violating probation, the youth often gets probation again. It takes three to five "motions for review for training school" before a child is sentenced to a little hard time, Person said.

Just getting a child into court for an initial probation-violation hearing can take up to five months, said Marcia Morrey, a Durham juvenile prosecutor on leave to run N.C. Central University's Juvenile Crime and Justice.

Snipes calls court action against most teens — that is, probation — a "pat on the back, and then we send them on their way."

Few juveniles are handed back into court because they haven't followed judicial instructions. The counselors first will talk to them or warn them about missing an appointment or skipping school before the violations go to a judge.

Counselors also complain that police "divert" too many cases — handling them on the street and never sending them to court, where they can be tracked. And even when youths finally do end up in court, counselors say, judges must use the "least restrictive punishment" available, usually probation.

"These kids know they can go out and steal three or four cars and they'll be out on probation," Person said. "They need to know they can go away just for that."

With chronic offenders aware there is little price to pay, Person's job becomes more difficult, he said — and the youths more apt to pull a gun from under their shirt.

Sometimes, on a day off at the mall, he sees adolescents who have skipped probation meetings. Recently it happened at a concert at N.C. Central University.

"I was there listening to music hanging out, having a good time, and I pretended I didn't see them," Person said.

But he quietly spoke to a police officer and they set a trap.

"I turned my body so they wouldn't run away and later they walked right into our arms, into a squad car and then off to the Durham Youth Home," Person said.

Children in the middle

In many ways, he said, youths who commit more serious crimes earlier can be luckier because they get hard-core treatment and attention quicker.

The child who shoplifts and skips school, but doesn't immediately commit felony, may just get lost in the system, Snipes and Person said.

And with minor crimes outpacing major ones, it's the children in the middle who need the attention early on, Snipes said.

From 1979 to 1997, reported juvenile felonies in North Carolina increased 77 percent, from 4,994 to 8,770. But misdemeanors shot up 163 percent, from 6,746 to 17,742. Most of those cases were either diverted or put on probation for court counselors to handle.

The number of court counselors has kept pace. In urban areas of North Carolina, court counselors now are handling more than 40 cases each.

Durham County had just three children, Snipes and Person agree, it's often too late. They share a common feeling of doom about a system they think is failing.

"I think of the lack of education. I don't think you can do right when you don't know how to do right. We have to have parents living right," Snipes said. "These things weigh so heavy in my mind, it starts so early before we get the kids."

Making improvements

Snipes and other counselors have their own ideas about what needs to change, but they aren't in a position to make policy.

He wants more intervention for younger children. And he said the children need more than midnight basketball programs set up in many inner-cities.

What about the smaller children who don't play as well, he said, or others who just don't like the game?

And then there are the girls. What is out there for them? he asked.

"Not all of the kids are big and 6-foot and play basketball," he said. "I think economics plays a role in that. If you don't have the resources, there are very limited things you can get involved in. Poverty itself doesn't make you steal, but if you don't have something to occupy yourself —"

Person has his own ideas.

He would like to see sentences to training school (the modern term for reform school) imposed earlier in a child's petty-crime career. He sees it in their eyes, he said — the lawbreaking youths who know they will just get probation.

Snipes said he struggles with a lack of resources and services. He has turned mothers away from the courthouse doors as they beg him to have their children locked up.

He remembers a mother who banged on his door at 7 a.m., imploring him to have her 14-year-old son thrown into jail.

Some juveniles had broken into her home at 3 a.m. and were looking to shoot her son over money he owed. He wasn't home, and she wanted him protected and the shooting in her neighborhood to stop.

Snipes said he felt foolish trying to comfort her.

"The only thing I could say was for her to go back home and hope that nobody kills him," he said.

About a decade ago, before the crack cocaine drug trade, the woman's son probably would not have owed money he couldn't pay.

Back in 1988, with fewer juvenile crimes, a court counselor's job was easier, Snipes said. Mothers didn't bang on the door, the crimes were less vicious and the criminals not so young.

But all that changed when crack cocaine hit Durham's streets, he said. Juvenile crime shifted from truancy and shoplifting to gangs, violence and bloodshed.

"We have a lot of crack cocaine and with that came the territories. They don't call themselves gangs, but if you have this group shooting at this group over here —," Snipes said.
