Mr. Lawrence stated that their purpose is to advocate, enforce, and promote equality of opportunity in the areas of housing, fair employment practices, public accommodations, education, justice and governmental services. They serve as a focal point for developing, maintaining and improving human relations.

Representative Jeffus asked how many commissions are there. Mr. Lawrence stated that there are sixty-seven commissions in forty-three counties.

Mr. Lawrence further stated that they had just received a grant from the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development for $250,000 to focus on complaints coming from the East, particularly from Hispanics and those that flood victims. With those funds they will be able to hire an additional attorney and investigator for housing complaints being received.

Mr. Lawrence continued that once they receive a complaint, then their investigators will determine whether there is discrimination or cause for discrimination then their staff attorney would be the one to enforce the law in Administrative Hearings or Superior Court.

Representative Sherrill stated that every county has a fair housing office, how do you coordinate with the counties? Mr. Lawrence stated that they do not have any enforcement power in those areas. Buncombe County does but there are only about six, Buncombe, Guilford, Orange, Durham, Mecklenburg, and New Hanover, that have enforcement power. The remainder they handle.

Ms. Pam Deardorff, Director, was recognized to present her report. They have four advisory counselors and a staff of twelve in which they offer a variety of programs and services to the nearly two million children, youth and young adults in the state. They have two components: an advocacy and involvement. One of their accomplishments is the Students Against Destructive Decisions (SADD) and expanded to include the prevention of drug use, smoking, teen pregnancy, violence, date rapes, etc. They now have over three hundred chapters in middle and high schools in the state. They have also expanded into the college arena and have chapters at North Carolina State University and Duke University. They also administer mini-grant programs, which are awarded to youth organizations to promote youth involvement in their community services. Another program is the Youth Legislative Assembly. This is a weekend mock of the North Carolina General Assembly which has been in existence for thirty years. Receipts support the program in the form of a registration fee.

Ms. Deardorff continued that the office also administers the State Government Internship Program for college students. This program offers students work experience that will bridge the gap between what they learn in the classroom and their intended career. Money is appropriated to hire about 103 interns and they work forty hours a week for ten weeks and paid $6.75 an hour. Their interns work only in the summer. They pay the stipends.

The advocacy part of the office responds to citizens concerns about children and youth. They review policy and programs and prepare publications to keep the public informed about issues affecting children. Some of the issues they are presently involved in are infant protection, children of women in prison, the correlation between child abuse and domestic violence, underage drinking, foster care adoption and child fatality prevention. They have developed a funding resource library and database for youth programs and services to offer assistance to both public and private agencies and individuals seeking resources to operate their own programs.

Ms. Deardorff stated that they have updated two publications, Youth Rights and Responsibilities and You and the Juvenile Justice System.

GOVERNMENT OPERATIONS

Representative Jeffus introduced Mr. Carlton Myrick, Deputy Secretary of Government Operations. This office is responsible for a variety of programs and activities, which include the office for Historically Underutilized Businesses, Mail Service Center, Motor Fleet Management, Division of Purchase and Contract, Quality Coordinator, State-Local Relations, State Construction Office, State Energy Office, and State Property Office. The Division Directors are present to explain the operations and answer any questions.

Office for Historically Underutilized Businesses (Attachment 1, Pages 45-46)

Ms. Bridget Wall, Assistant to the Secretary, gave an overview of the office and the services they provide. The department was set up in the 1980's in the North Carolina Department of Commerce and was later moved to the North Carolina Department of Administration in the Secretary if Administration's Office. By doing this, it raised the awareness of the office. It also created a new position, Assistant to the Secretary for the outreach. There is a twenty-six member Council, which consists of the state chief purchasing agents, HUB vendors and a representative from the HUB community and private and non-profit business sectors. Their goals were four per cent, increased to eight per cent and the goal was set for ten per cent effective July 1, 2000. It is up to nine and half percent according to the second quarter HUB report as of December 2000.

Representative Sherrill asked what their budget is including their travel budget? Ms. Wall introduced Ms. Cathy Crooke of their office. Ms. Crooke stated that the HUB office has an operating budget of $334,000 and of that $262,000 is for salaries and the travel budget consists of approximately $10,000 to $11,000.

Representative Jeffus announced that the committee will not meet this afternoon but will meet at 8:30 A.M. tomorrow. The Committee Chairs will meet at 10:00 a.m. and following that will notify the committee regarding a 1:00 p.m. meeting. Please watch your E-mail about the 1:00 p.m. meeting tomorrow.

The meeting adjourned at 9:55 a.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Rep. Maggie Jeffus

AGENCY FOR PUBLIC TELECOMMUNICATIONS

Summary

The Agency for Public Telecommunications (APT) was founded in 1979 to provide telecommunications advice and production assistance to public agencies. APT's purpose is to increase public participation in government, to promote public access to government services, and to improve government efficiency through the best use of available telecommunications technologies. APT is supported by a combination of legislative appropriations and corporate, foundation, and federal grants, and by receipts for production services. An appointed Board of Telecommunications Commissioners, who meet quarterly, provides policy direction.

Accomplishments

APT offers a number of services to citizens and public agencies:

Live Programs: On its Open Public Events Network (OPEN), APT produces live, call-in programs on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. OPEN programs are distributed by satellite to cable systems which carry these prime-time programs as a public service to their subscribers and to homes equipped with satellite downlink receivers. Each program includes a discussion between viewers who call from their homes and public officials, policy makers and other panelists in our Raleigh studio who respond to viewers' questions and comments.

Media Services: In serving public agency clients, APT offers a full range of professional video production services ranging from conceptualization through project completion. Options include script writing, booking talent, studio and field shooting, post-production, and distribution of broadcast-quality audio and video according to the clients' needs and budgets. Our clients' productions have received numerous local and national awards for excellence.

Teleconferencing: Using KU-Band and leased C-Band, APT provides full-motion video teleconferencing to participants at community colleges, public schools and other locations across North Carolina and in other states. This one-way video, two-way audio service includes network development and studio production. Conferencing by phone and fiber optic cable is also available, depending on the client's deadlines and budget.

HUMAN RESOURCES MANAGEMENT

Summary

The Human Resources Management (HRM) Office provides a range of services for the Department of Administration. The HRM services encompass all major areas of personnel administration in accordance with the requirements of the State Personnel Act. The HRM Office is responsible for employee recruitment and selection, position management, salary administration, training and development, employee and management relations, EEO/affirmative action, safety and health, and health benefits administration. This Office also administers on a statewide basis the State Employees Incentive Bonus Program.

Accomplishments

State Employees Incentive Bonus Program (SEIBP)

The State Employees Incentive Bonus program is designed to provide a mechanism to recognize and reward the cost-saving and revenue-increasing initiatives and innovations of State employees. Since 1999, $398,000 in awards have been made to employees for state savings exceeding $2,000,000. A number of employees suggested quality improvements and were awarded certificates from the Governor with up to 3 days of leave with pay.

An accessible, user friendly and efficient SEIBP web site has been developed. Employees can access this web site to become better informed about SEIBP, to download a suggestion form, and to catch the latest money-saving idea winners.

A video entitled "Win Big with the State Employee Incentive Bonus Program" highlighted the winners of the 1999 awards. This video was mailed to all department coordinators, describes the program, encourages participation and is used by coordinators to educate employees.

A panel was aired on OpenNet to educate employees and citizens of the State regarding SEIBP and the employee management partnership which is providing state taxpayers value through increased savings.

Work/Family Life Program

To assist DOA employees with balancing work and family life, a Work Life program was developed in 1999. This program is designed to improve employee awareness of existing supportive benefits and policies and to offer support and resources regarding complex work life issues. A Work Life Resource Center is available for DOA employees and is located in the Human Resources Management Office. Lunchtime seminars have also been scheduled to provide support and information to employees faced with the demands and responsibilities of balancing their work and personal lives.

Safety and Health

The Department of Administration has offered Health and Wellness Fairs for several years. Employees from five departments have participated in the fair. The 2000 Health and Wellness Fair had 39 vendors to including audiologists, chiropractors, massage therapists, insurance companies (health, life, disability, and dental), financial institutions, and the American Red Cross.

For four consecutive years, the Department has received Certificates of Safety Achievement in recognition of outstanding accident prevention efforts. These initiatives have resulted in a substantial reduction of accidents and the promotion of safety working conditions from the NC Department of Labor.

Equal Employment Opportunity

Speakers have presented workshops and lunchtime presentations on topics such as Managing Diversity and Cross-Cultural Relations. To recognize the increase in the Spanish population in the workforce, the department began offering Spanish classes in 1999.

DIVISION OF NON-PUBLIC EDUCATION

Summary

The NC Division of Non-Public Education (DNPE) was originally established in 1961 as a regulatory agency within the NC Department of Public Instruction. In 1979, the NC General Assembly enacted legislation requiring the Governor to designate a "duly authorized representative of the State of North Carolina" to receive notices of intent to operate and also to terminate a private elementary/secondary school in North Carolina and to inspect certain records of those schools. Governor James B. Hunt Jr. subsequently assigned this responsibility to the Director of DNPE. DNPE operated as a monitoring agency under the direct jurisdiction of the Office of the Governor from October 1979 until July 1, 1998 when it was transferred to the Department of Administration.

DNPE is the only legislatively authorized state government agency which provides oversight to private elementary/secondary schools in this state. It derives its authority from G.S. 115C - 553, 561 and 563(b) of Article 39, Chapter 115C of the NC General Statutes. Article 39 sets forth a list of requirements to be met by such schools. DNPE has the legal responsibility to verify that all private elementary/secondary schools (both conventional and home) are meeting those requirements by periodically inspecting certain school records.

DNPE maintains limited current statistical data on each private elementary/secondary school including the school's name, address, telephone number, chief administrator and type of school. Information relating to the range of grades or ages taught and the number of students enrolled are also maintained. Conventional school information is published each September as the NC Directory of Non-Public Schools. Home school data is released each September. The DNPE web site posts this information annually.

During FY 99-00, there were 644 conventional and 16,623 home schools registered with the division and being monitored for legal compliance. Two staff members traveled a total of 16,430 miles and spent 37 overnights in inspecting the records of 335 conventional schools. Due to inadequate funding and staffing, no home school visits were conducted. However, 4,303 home schools voluntarily participated in the Home School Inspection By Mail Program -- whereby home school administrators mail to DNPE at the end of the school year a photocopy (keeping originals) of student attendance and nationally standardized achievement test results. The division staff handled an average of at least 2,991 incoming business telephone calls and at least 1,330 pieces of incoming business mail per month.

DNPE administers the non-public school student driving eligibility certificate program. It also serves as the State's government liaison office to the private elementary/secondary school community and the general public.

Accomplishments

Monitored 17,267 non-public schools for compliance to state laws governing them

Registered 6,262 new home schools

Registered 49 new conventional non-public schools

Mailed 13,211 student driving eligibility certificates to non-public schools requesting them

In response to requests, distributed at least 14,737 non-public school information packets to people considering starting a home or conventional non-public school

Conducted on site record inspection visits to 335 conventional non-public schools

Reviewed student attendance and nationally standardized test result records for 4,303 home schools through the Inspection By Mail Program

Focused our efforts on making the agency more efficient, cost effective and customer friendly

VETERANS AFFAIRS

Summary

The Division of Veterans Affairs provides services to veterans, their dependents and survivors. The district and county veterans service offices received 461,997 requests for assistance in 1999 and 594,631 in 2000 from veterans, their dependents and survivors which resulted in new awards to clients in the amount of $3,684,600 in 1999 and $2,512,000 in 2000 from the US Department of Veterans Affairs. The federal government also paid $66.6 million and $71.2 million for 1999 and 2000 respectively in direct monthly payments to North Carolina's eligible beneficiaries. The new awards will improve the standard of living for the clients of the North Carolina offices.

Accomplishments

State Veterans Nursing Home Program

Construction on North Carolina's first State Veterans Nursing Home in Fayetteville was completed in 1999. The home, adjacent to the VA Medical Center, opened March 8, 1999. The 150-bed facility has served 277 veterans with health care needs in skilled and intermediate nursing care.

The home currently has 147 residents (85 private pay patients, 49 medicaid patients and 13 medicare patients). Since the first patient was admitted, we have received $2,733,140.49 in per diem payments from the US Department of Veterans Affairs.

The Division employs a contract firm to operate the facility, using only receipts to provide the long-term health care for our veterans. The State Veterans Nursing Home saves North Carolina approximately $500,000 in the state and local portion of medicaid expenditures each year.

The NC General Assembly appropriated $1 million for the establishment of a second State Veterans Nursing Home in Salisbury. An application was made to the US Department of Veterans Affairs for federal matching funds of $2.1 million, and the proposal has been approved. Construction plans are complete and the final approval will be received in the very near future. We plan to begin operations in Salisbury in March 2002 of that 100-bed facility.

State Cemeteries Program

Three state veterans cemeteries located in Black Mountain, Jacksonville and Spring Lake provide interments for veterans and eligible dependents. The three cemeteries provided 563 burials in 1999 and 604 burials in 2000.

State Scholarships for Children of North Carolina War Veterans

The North Carolina Veterans Affairs Commission awarded 334 scholarships in 1999 and 297 in 2000 to children of deceased and disabled war veterans.

North Carolina Board of Science and Technology

Summary

Under North Carolina General Statute, the Board has the following duties:

To identify, and to support and foster the identification of important research needs of both public and private agencies, institutions, and organizations in North Carolina;

To make recommendations concerning policies, procedures, organizational structures, and financial requirements that will promote effective use of scientific and technological resources in fulfilling the research needs identified;

To allocate funds available to the Board to support research projects, to purchase research equipment and supplies, to construct or modify research facilities, to employ consultants, and for other purposes necessary or appropriate in discharging the duties of the Board.

Accomplishments

Vision 2030

The Vision 2030 Project is a "real-options'" planning effort undertaken to strengthen the competitiveness of North Carolina's workforce and industry by taking advantage of science and technology-driven economic development opportunities in the areas of information technology, bioscience/biotechnology, and new materials sciences. The House and Senate Information Technology Committees joined the Board in sponsoring the Vision 2030 Project, as did the North Carolina Department of Commerce's Regional Economic Development Partnerships. Bench-marking reports, policy recommendations, and draft legislation were developed along with recommendations that would assure the potential for North Carolina to remain competitive in science and technology-based economic development. Legislative and budget recommendations will be considered by the Committees on Technology in the Senate and the House in the 2001 session.

Intellectual Property and Knowledge Management

The Board has been very involved with the National Task Force for Knowledge Management and Intellectual Property. This task force has been working with universities, industry and government to develop policies necessary to make the U.S. a leader in turning knowledge to net-worth. Projects include benchmarking corporate practices, surveying systems and tools used in KM and IP, and efforts to consider the establishment of a Knowledge Management Center of Excellence in North Carolina.

Universal Service--Presentations, Public Hearings, and Workshops on the Benefits of the Federal Telecommunications Act of 1996

The Board organized public hearings and interactive video presentations around the State regarding changes to the Universal Service Policy affected by the Telecom Act of 1996. It has played a leadership role in publicizing the E-rate and assisting in E-rate applications leading to more than $85 million for NC schools and public libraries over three years. The Board also has worked to publicize the federal Lifeline and LinkUp programs.

International Partnerships and Collaborations

The Board sponsors international collaborations in the fields of information technology, education, global spatial data information systems, digital communities, aquatic science, and innovation systems. The Board's efforts have led also to the development of a virtual university project between UNC Wilmington and the Japanese prefectures of Mie and Iwate. The North Carolina Israel Partnership (NCIP) has won several awards for its new model for state-based international relations effort

Additional projects include the participation with the BiNational Science Foundation in joint research projects between North Carolina and Israeli researchers, work with Germany and the Center for Geographical Analysis; and a new biotechnology and geospatial agreement between North Carolina and the state of NordRhine-Westphalia in Germany.

North Carolina Information Highway

The Board has played a major role in support of broadband infrastructure deployment to all areas of North Carolina. This project, called the North Carolina Information Highway (NCIH), has evolved into the backbone for the transport of data, video, and voice that emanates from the state network to schools, colleges, hospitals law enforcement, etc.

Connect NC

Connect NC was an educational campaign that enabled North Carolina public and private sector leaders in the 29 western counties to understand more about the issues of telecommunications, and connectivity and its importance to our economic competitiveness as a state. The Board made a recommendation to the NC Utilities Commission that it consider development of a Universal Service Fund.

North Carolina Global Partnership and Governor's Global Forum

In an effort to connect our citizens more closely to people and organizations around the world, the first Governor's Global Forum, was held in May, 1996. After the first Forum, the Board worked with international organizations in North Carolina to create the NC Global Partnership. The Partnership has grown to include 90 member organizations and the fifth Governor's Global Forum was held in October, 2000. During the Forum, members voted to seek 501(c)(3) status and this effort is underway at the UNC-Greensboro Bryan School of Business.

The Aquatic Science and Biotechnology Consortium -- Commercial Development of Fresh Water Aquaculture of Atlantic Flounder

The Board, NC Sea Grant, UNC CH Program in Molecular Biology & Biotechnology, the NC Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services, NCSU College of Agriculture and Life Sciences, and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's Coastal Services Center convened a series of workshops on flounder aquaculture and stock enhancement in North Carolina. A number of policy recommendations are currently being considered. The Board of Science and Technology recommended that UNC-Wilmington take over the effort to create a sustainable coastal initiative.

At the Crossroads: North Carolina's Place in the 21st Century Knowledge Economy -- Research and Development Spending and Investment in North Carolina

A joint study conducted by the Board with the NC Alliance for Competitive Technologies (now Center for Entrepreneurship and Technology) to assess the impact of research and development spending and investment in North Carolina.

Virtual Collaboratories

The Board has led nationally in the effort to establish collaboratories (centers without walls) by teaming up with the National Research Council (NRC), the White House Office of Science and Technology Policy, and the Office of the Undersecretary of Commerce for Technology. The Board co-hosted an interactive forum on bioscience collaboratories with the NRC leading to the publication of Improving Research Capabilities in Chemical and Biomedical Sciences.

Global Spatial Data Infrastructure Initiative (GSDI)

The Board of Science and Technology has been instrumental in the development and support of the World Steering Committee effort to create a Global Spatial Data Infrastructure Initiative. More than 40 countries have now signed on and a technical handbook on GSDI standards has been developed. Initiatives include tracking environmental sustainability, emergency management, and large-scale planning.

Grassroots Science Program for Water Quality Testing

The Board sponsored an innovative project through Grassroots Science, a non-profit affiliate of North Carolina's science museums, to engage fifth-grade students, through their science classes in water quality testing all over the State. The Board has also been successful in advocating additional funds for science museums in North Carolina.

Challenger Learning Center Project

The Board is working collaboratively with the Challenger Center for Space Science Education and the Centennial Campus of NCSU to create, on the Centennial Campus, an educational facility called the Challenger Learning Center.

NC Space Grant Consortium

The Board supports the effort of the NC Space Grant Consortium to promote and develop aeronautics and space-related science, engineering, and technology programs by forming partnerships with all levels of educational institutions, industries, and governments.

Great Web Search 2

In collaboration with Teacher Connect, funds from the Board have been used to expand the Teacher Connect web site to include more math and science links, particularly at high school levels.

Keep North Carolina Clean and Beautiful (KNCCB) Incentive Grants

KNCCB Incentive Grants provide teachers with resources to create excitement about science and the environment. These grants enhance and support ABC initiatives to stimulate student performance across disciplines and skill areas. Promoting these grants has been a joint effort between the Board and the NC Science Museums Collaborative.

Educational Technology Policy Survey of the Fifty States

The Board created this as a resource for North Carolina's government official and legislators to assess the current status of educational technology policy throughout the nation.

Chief Information Officers of the United States and Its Territories

The Board has compiled a listing of CIO's in the United States and U.S territories for three years to assist decision leaders in North Carolina in their investigative processes of defining the digital government issues for North Carolina.

NC ECONet

The Board has supported a program directed by the State Climatologist to create a consolidated weather and climate information network in North Carolina called the North Carolina Environment and Climate Observations Network.

Electronic Governance

The Board represents North Carolina on the Electronic Governance Project. The Alliance for Converging Technologies, now known as Digital4Sight, has been the focal point of this activity. North Carolina participated with Germany, Switzerland, Canada, England, and Singapore on this project.

National Commission for Technology and Adult Learning

This project sponsored by the National Governor's Association and the American Society for Training and Development will complete its work in April 2001. The commission is reviewing activities in the e-learning environment and will make recommendations to national policy makers.

OFFICE FOR HISTORICALLY UNDERUTILIZED BUSINESSES

Summary

The Office for Historically Underutilized Businesses (HUB) advocates and promotes the use of minority, women and disabled business enterprises in the state's procurement and contracting process. By an Executive Order signed by Governor James Hunt on April 20, 1999, the HUB Office was relocated from the Division of Purchase and Contract to the Secretary of Administration's Office to increase the visibility and awareness of the HUB Program. Executive Order 150 created a new position, Assistant to the Secretary for HUB Outreach, which was filled in May 1999. The Executive Order also established a HUB Advisory Council whose members are appointed by the Governor. This 26 member Council consists of state chief purchasing agents, HUB vendors and representatives from the HUB community and private and non-profit business sectors. Statewide entities that are to provide HUB reports to the state's HUB Office on its expenditures with historically underutilized businesses were also identified in the Executive Order. Namely, these entities are state agencies, community colleges, public school systems and state universities.

The HUB goals were previously established at 4% by Executive Order 77 under Governor Jim Martin's administration (1984-1992). However, with the signing of the Executive Order 150, Governor Hunt increased the HUB goals from 4% to 8% for FY 1999-2000 and to 10% for FY 2000-2001. During the first year the new HUB goals became effective, the State of North Carolina exceeded the 8% HUB goal for FY99-00 with 8.87% HUB participation. That represents over $384 million dollars that state agencies, community colleges, public schools and state universities spent with minority, women and disabled businesses during FY99-00. During the 1st and 2nd quarters of FY00-01, 9.5% or approximately $236 million dollars has been spent with historically underutilized businesses.

Accomplishments

During the first year (July 1999-June 2000) the new HUB goals became effective, the state exceeded the 8% HUB goal with 8.87% HUB participation. That represents over $384 million dollars that was spent with minority, women and disabled business firms during FY99-00.

For FY00-01, from July 2000 through December 2000, the 1st and 2nd Quarter HUB Reports indicate that 9.5 % or approximately $236 million dollars has been spent with historically underutilized businesses. The state reporting entities are well underway to achieving the 10% HUB that became effective July 1, 2000.

In August 1999, the HUB Office developed and implemented a more comprehensive reporting system. This system included a new computer program, which was developed by in-house staff, to compile and generate the report data for over 225 state reporting entities. The Quarterly HUB Reports include individual reports on Cabinet Department Agencies, Council of State Agencies, Support Agencies, Community Colleges, Public Schools, State Universities and State Construction. The HUB Office prepares the reports for the Governor's Office and provides copies to the Cabinet Secretaries and HUB Advisory Council. With the increase use and availability of technology, head officials of department agencies, community colleges, universities and public schools can be notified when each Quarterly HUB Report is posted to the HUB Office's web site. This will allow head officials to be informed and aware of their respective organization's historically underutilized business participation. The HUB Office provides training to purchasers on preparing and compiling the HUB reports.

The HUB Office utilizes the Internet to promote the HUB Program via its web page, which was set-up in September 1999. HUB vendors gain easier access to purchasing and contracting opportunities through the Division of Purchase & Contract's VENDOR LINK system. VENDOR LINK is an electronic vendor registration and notification system. HUB Certification is also initiated through this system. Currently, over 1400 vendors are currently certified as HUB vendors in the Vendor Link database.

From February 2000 through June 2000, the HUB Office conducted a series of ten (10) HUB Regional Training Conferences across the state to improve outreach efforts and provide training on ways to improve HUB participation in public contracting for universities, community colleges, agencies and public school systems. These HUB outreach efforts resulted in excellent participation with over 665 purchasers, HUB vendors and program participants attending the statewide HUB Regional Training Conferences. The state saved monies by utilizing state-owned facilities, when available, and partnering with universities and agencies to conduct the HUB Regional Training Conferences.

In December 2000, the Office for Historically Underutilized Businesses was featured on Inside NC, a cable television program operated by the NC Agency for Public Television. The live call-in segment highlighted the HUB Office and opportunities for Historically Underutilized Businesses with the State of North Carolina. Panel participants included Bridget Wall, HUB Director; Carlton Myrick, Deputy Secretary; Andrea Harris, HUB Advisory Co-chair & President of NC Institute for Minority Economic Development and Charles Wilson, President of Intellus (HUB vendor). Several live call-in calls were received as well as subsequent follow-up calls to the HUB Office in which callers indicated the program was very informative and provided insight needed for state contracting.

From March 1999 through January 2001, the HUB Office participated in over 117 conferences, workshops, seminars, trade-shows and/or presentations promoting the HUB Program & Executive Order 150. During this time, the HUB Office has an opportunity to address new audiences and organizations to promote the HUB Program. Some of these organizations include the North Carolina Bar Association, Commission on Indian Affairs, NC Indian Unity Conference, Hispanic Chamber of Commerce, North Carolina Public School Purchasers, University Capital Project Coordinators, NC Community College Adult Education Association, NC Association of Rehabilitative Facilities, State of North Carolina Construction Conferences, and the NC Association of Real Estate Brokers to name a few. The HUB Office has also conducted numerous training and outreach workshops for various state agencies such as the Departments of Correction, Health & Human Services and individual community colleges, public schools and state universities.

MAIL SERVICE CENTER

Summary

The Governor made the decision in October 1997 that cost savings could be realized by consolidating the various mailrooms in state government into one centralized operation, the Mail Service Center (MSC). As a result of the consolidation, 26 out of 39 state agency mailrooms were closed, and 35 of the 69 positions in those mailrooms were transferred to the MSC. Most of the employees not transferred remained in their respective agencies in other positions.

Savings were also realized in the number of postage meters being used, a reduction from 50 to 12. This decrease has resulted in savings of $30,000 annually in lease and maintenance costs. Also, a cost avoidance of $49,000 was established when the MSC began processing mail by automatic, not mechanical, postage meters.

A unique zip code established by the US Postal Service for MSC clients has further centralized mail service for state government and will remain permanent even in the event of a change in the agency's location. A well-designed Web site has established a successful communications link for MSC clients. This includes general information about the service and a list of the MSC addresses.

Accomplishments

Renovations for New Facility

In January 1999 renovation was started on a 28,000-sq. ft. section of the textbook warehouse at 3905 Reedy Creek Road to house the centralized facility. The State Courier Service was combined into this operation and became the Mail Service Center (MSC) Division. Renovations were completed in April 1999.

Postage Metering Machines

The postage metering machines mentioned above, as well as the employees, are utilized a full eight hours per day compared to a maximum of three hours a day before consolidation. The JetStar sorter, a high speed mail sorter, which has a specification rate of 36,000 pieces per hour, was being used by a single agency sorting approximately 30,000 pieces of mail per day. The Mail Service Center now utilizes this machine to sort an average of 1,500,000 pieces of mail monthly. The functions of this sorter is to sort properly addressed outgoing and incoming mail which saves man-hours and creates less manual sorting. The sorter is used to produce a $0.073 per piece savings on all outbound USPS mail when properly addressed.

Daily Processing

Daily, MSC processes and delivers three types of mail - USPS, interoffice mail within Wake County and courier mail daily between Raleigh and over 4,000 agencies in all counties. Drivers log over 140,000 miles monthly making mail deliveries. MSC reevaluated its fleet of vehicles and downsized five vehicles, realizing a cost saving of approximately $26,000 per year.

Currently most to the Governor's cabinet and one Council of State agency have taken advantage of the savings that can be realized through MSC.

In the first year of operation, July 1999 – June 2000, MSC processed and delivered over 27,000,000 pieces of mail. During the six-month period of July 2000 – December 2000 MSC has processed and delivered 16,000,000 pieces of mail. It is projected that by June 2001 MSC will have increased the processing and deliver by 20% over last year.

Savings

After the first year MSC has saved the taxpayers over $1 million, primarily through reduction in manpower. In addition, the State Courier Service of MSC continues to save taxpayers approximately $1.5 million annually by delivering mail to over 4,000 different addresses on 17 routes throughout all counties in North Carolina.

MOTOR FLEET MANAGEMENT

Summary

The Motor Fleet Management Division was created by the legislature in January 1982 as the central fleet agency for all of state government. The purpose of Motor Fleet Management is to serve North Carolina state employees by acquiring, maintaining, storing, repairing, replacing and supplying passenger vehicular transportation needed in the performance of official duties, in the most efficient and cost effective way. All state agencies, including universities -- except for the State Bureau of Investigation and the State Highway Patrol -- are required to utilize Motor Fleet Management for their passenger vehicle transportation needs.

As of June 30, 2000, Motor Fleet Management had 8,209 active vehicles in its fleet, an increase of 251 vehicles over the previous year. Over the past ten years, Motor Fleet Management has had an average vehicle increase of 310 units a year. Projecting at 310 vehicles per year, by the June 2001 there will be 8,519 active vehicles in the state fleet.

Motor Fleet Management charges agencies for the use of vehicles on a per mile basis. The largest group of vehicles (compact, sedan, four cylinders) are charged out at a 23 cents per mile rate. Mileage rates range as high as 38 cents per mile for a four-wheel drive Suburban. All rates include gas, oil, tires, repairs and insurance. Motor Fleet Management rates are very low when compared to the per mile driving costs, based on a composite national average of three domestically built cars: a subcompact, a mid-size and a full-size, issued by the American Automobile Association in for model year 2000 vehicles. According to the American Automobile Association, "motorists now spend an average of 61.7 cents per mile in vehicle related costs" (gasoline, oil maintenance, depreciation and insurance). When compared with Motor Fleet Management's average rate of 31.7 cents per mile for compact, mid-size and full-size vehicles, the Motor Fleet Management is providing passenger vehicles at approximately 49 per cent of the national average cost.

Accomplishments

Automobile Rebuild Program

Sixty 1993 to 1996 Chevrolet Caprices were rebuilt in a pilot project. The average cost of rebuilding each initial vehicle was $12,845. The rebuild is comprehensive and includes new engine, transmission, brakes, suspension, new seats, carpets, dash pads and other items. New vehicles (Ford Crown Victoria) would have cost $1,245,540 ($20,909 ea. for 60 vehicles). Savings of $474,860 in new vehicle purchase costs were realized.

Asheville Chevrolet is now under contract to rebuild vehicles. To date, 410 vehicles have been rebuilt by Asheville Chevrolet. For the first 410 vehicles rebuilt on the contract, the average cost of rebuilding has been $10,535. Under this contract, the average purchase cost savings per vehicle has been $10,374. The savings from not having to purchase new vehicles has been $4,319,350. The total cost saved by not having to purchase new vehicles has been $4,794,210 for the 470 rebuilt vehicles.

Alternative Fuel Vehicles

Motor Fleet Management (MFM) has 914 flexible-fuel vehicles that are capable of running on gasoline or E-85 (Ethanol at 85%) fuel. Additionally, we have another 15 vehicles that operate on other alternative fuels such as electricity, propane, or compressed natural gas (CNG). The 230 standard fleet sedans (Ford Taurus), located at the motor pool facilities on Peace Street, are E-85 flex-fueled vehicles. In addition, 8 mini-vans are E-85 mini-vans. There are also electric, propane and CNG vehicles available. MFM has ethanol dispensing facilities at the motor pool and uses E-85 fuel in motor pool vehicles. The Department of Transportation also has an ethanol fueling site on Beryl Road near the State Fairgrounds. To remind drivers to use E-85 fuel, MFM provides green electronic fueling keys for the E-85 powered vehicles instead of the more usual black keys. The current price for E-85 is $1.28 per gallon and gasoline is $0.96 per gallon.

For the 2000 vehicle model year, MFM purchased 130 Ford Explorers that were designated as low- emission vehicles. MFM has ordered an additional 230 2001 Ford Taurus sedans that are flex-fuel E-85 vehicles.

CNG, Electric, Propane, E-85 (Ethanol) Fueling Sites

The motor pool on Peace Street will soon have all the major alternative fuels available with plans underway to install a CNG fueling site in addition to propane, electric, E-85, and gasoline currently available. Electric power supply lines and gas lines are being installed, with the installed underground piping. Concrete pads have been put in place for the gas containers and the compressor. The Motor Fleet Management facility at 1915 Blue Ridge Road has E-85 and gasoline available.

Hybrid Vehicles

MFM has two Toyota and five Honda hybrid vehicles to dispatch from the motor pool, and one Honda Insight which is permanently assigned. The Toyota hybrid gasoline engine/electric motor vehicles are capable of achieving 52 mpg in the city and 45 mpg on the highway. The Honda hybrid gasoline engine/electric motor vehicles are capable of achieving 61 mpg in the city and 70 mpg on the highway

"Right Size" Vehicles

Motor Fleet Management has identified 256 permanently assigned vehicles that are being replaced by buying smaller cars. Whenever there is a possibility, the division replaces full-size cars with mid-size cars, full-size vans with mini-vans, and full-size, 4-wheel drives with compact, 4-wheel drives. Savings of $650,332 will be realized in decreased purchase costs and $102,768 will be saved in lifetime fuel costs.

DIVISION OF PURCHASE AND CONTRACT

Summary

The Division of Purchase and Contract (P&C) serves as the central purchasing authority for state government and certain other entities. Contracts are established for the purchase, lease, lease-purchase of the goods and services required by all state agencies, institutions, universities, community colleges, and city and county boards of education amounting to approximately $4.07 billion annually (7/1/2000). In addition, the Federal Surplus Property and State Surplus Property agencies manage the placement and disposition of surplus properties.

The primary mission of the agency is to provide effective and efficient acquisition and disposal services for the State of North Carolina. This mission equates to savings to taxpayers and good customer service relationships. Long-term strategies include improved accessibility to purchasing and materials management information, improved accountability, reduced costs, reduced processing time and enabling of employees. Short-term strategies include improved communications and increased use of technology to perform work.

Accomplishments

Hurricane Floyd Involvement

September 1999 and into 2000 – Provided dedicated purchasing support during the emergency created by Hurricane Floyd through critical purchases and contracts especially for securing mobile homes, travel trailers, equipment and supplies.

Year 2000 Project (Y2K)

Successfully led Supplier Chain Management through the Y2K project. At the Information Management Resource Commission (IRMC) meeting on February 1, 2000, Percy Richardson accepted a Resolution of Appreciation Certificate on behalf of the Division's outstanding contributions.

Vendor Link NC

Implemented Vendor Link NC on April 30, 1999. This web-based system works in conjunction with our Statewide Interactive Purchasing System (IPS). In twenty months, 15,000 vendors have registered and are receiving the benefits of this technology which includes on-line vendor registration, automatic e-mail notification of bidding opportunities, sophisticated search capabilities for location of vendors in many ways including small and HUB vendors for Agency quotes. Agencies can use the IPS Vendor Link NC system for electronically advertising their requirements for goods and services within their delegation.

Recycling and Sustainability

The Department of Administration expanded its efforts of promoting the purchase and use of reusable, refillable, repairable, more durable, and less toxic supplies and products to meet the State's 40 percent waste reduction goal by the year 2001.

Ninety-six (96) contracts were awarded that support environmental purchasing. These have included used equipment, packaging materials that contain post consumer recycled content, carpet, background on companies efforts to help protect the environment and others.

Laser printers with duplex capabilities were purchased, reinforcing the use of two-sided copying for items that are needed in hard copy. Reduced copies by 35%, or 11,000 sheets of paper.

The use of a web-based vendor registry and notification system allowed the elimination of a seven-page hard copy application form, registered 15,000 vendors and sent electronically over 1,000,000 messages to vendors.

Reusable items processed at State Surplus Property included plastic drums, oil and antifreeze, pallets and computer equipment. The computer recycling program at State Surplus refurbishes surplus computers for reuse by schools in North Carolina. Computers not refurbished are broken down into components that can be recycled.

P&C eliminated faxing and mailing fuel prices on a weekly basis to agencies and vendors.
The Carolina Recycling Association presented the Division a "Buy Recycled" award in 1999 for Excellence in Waste Reduction and Recycling.

P&C established a "new" Term Contracts team on April 1, 2000. The team was charged with researching agency needs, analyzing benefits and return on investment, and implementing appropriate new statewide term contracts. Five new contracts were established.

One purchasing position was redirected to a Staff Development & Training Specialist to lead our Statewide Training effort for public purchasing certification and enhancement of purchasing skills.

Computer recycling expanded in July 2000 to include a program at Harnett Correctional Facility where inmates receive hands-on job skills training in computer refurbishment.

A drug seizure program was transferred from the Dept. of Revenue to the State Surplus Property program to allow for a more centralized and consistent approach to auctioning surplus goods seized in drug raids and forfeited to the state.

The "Blue Bird Project" was successfully implemented in the summer of 2000 to build blue bird nesting boxes, involving 5th grade students in education, and providing focus to sustainability efforts in North Carolina.

QUALITY COORDINATOR

Summary

The Quality Coordinator is charged with providing technical assistance to leadership in leading, directing, and developing Continuous Improvement in the Department of Administration. Continuous Improvement is a structured effort designed to re-focus the Department's commitment to provide outstanding service to its customers through continually improving the way business is conducted. Under the Secretary's leadership, the Department is raising awareness of "customer service" throughout its ranks.

Accomplishments

Administered the second Workplace Assessment Survey and used the results for improvements within the divisions.

Developed a three hour Continuous Improvement Awareness Training class, provided 30 training sessions, and video taped presentation resulting in all DOA employees receiving the awareness training.

Developed a four-hour Strategic Continuous Improvement Planning Training class and provided the training to all division directors.

Trained 15 division directors to be team facilitators.

Compiled all improvements within the department in a Report of Improvements that was published in 1999 and 2000. This publication was shared with all divisions for benchmarking purposes.

Expanded the Quality Leadership Team from 10 to 13 thus including more senior leadership and division directors on the team.

Started shifting from a departmental emphasis on implementation to a division emphasis thus increasing the end user impact of the effort.

Increased the linkage between the Continuous Improvement and State Employee Incentive Bonus Program.

STATE-LOCAL RELATIONS

Summary

The State-Local Relations Section works with local governments, regional and multi-state organizations, the public, as well as state and federal agencies, in a variety of areas involving intergovernmental cooperation. The section manages the Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) grant program, coordinates interagency project reviews required by the North Carolina and National Environmental Policy Acts, assists the Governor and his staff in issues involving local governments, and operates a project notification, review, and comment system to provide state and local agencies and the public with information about projects supported with public funds. Environmental and project notification processes are coordinated through this unit's Intergovernmental Review clearinghouse.

Accomplishments

Secured 50 Appalachian Regional Commission grants for North Carolina's ARC counties, directly benefiting 25 of the 29 eligible counties. Total ARC investment of funds was $8.3 million. The ARC dollars were part of projects that invested $26.8 million in the region and leveraged an additional $26 million from private sources. As a result of the ARC projects, the region will gain 866 new jobs and retain 3,445. Other benefits include 1800 at risk children received fluoride tooth varnishing applications; 450 residences were surveyed for straight piping/failing septic systems and 275 remedial systems were designed and permitted; model information technology training programs were established at a high school and at a community college; laptop computers were acquired for the lowest performing elementary schools in a Tier 1 county; a downtown revitalization revolving loan fund was established; and pilot projects to implement recommendations of the Rural Prosperity Task Force were initiated in broadband access, sustainable community development, and developmental venture capital.

Coordinated review of 659 notices by state and local entities of their intention to apply for federal grants and loans. The documents supported requests in excess of $1 billion. To enhance the functioning of this review system authorized by federal executive order, staff converted the State Clearinghouse form (CH-1, the intake document for notices of intent to apply for federal funding) to a digital document and began disseminating the form electronically.

Coordinated the review by state and local entities of 739 environmental documents prepared in compliance with state and national environmental policy acts. Information about the documents is contained in The North Carolina Environmental Bulletin which now is posted on the DOA web site so a broader audience can access the information and the information available is up to date.

Developed a standard format for state environmental assessments/findings of no significant impact (EA/FONSI) and posted the guidelines for the assessments on the department's web site.

Worked with other state agencies to facilitate environmental reviews for water and sewer bond funds, flood relief projects, and significant economic development projects (such as Nucor).

Developed special rules for handling environmental reviews during emergencies (including natural disasters).

Established DOA employee recognition awards for environmental sustainability.

Conducted a process to change a multi-county planning district boundary (only the second time in 30 years the boundaries have changed).

STATE CONSTRUCTION OFFICE

Summary

The responsibilities of the State Construction Office can be summarized by the overall coordination and management for implementation of the state's capital improvement program. Under the historical formation of the office, two primary statutes G.S. 143-31.1, the Executive Budget Act, and G.S. 143-341, the Department of Administration Act, serve as the basis to define the duties and the responsibilities of the office. Under the Executive Budget Act, the Governor is required to have performed a study and review of plans and specifications to determine whether buildings, repairs, alterations, additions or improvements to physical properties for which appropriations of state funds are made have been designed for the specific purposes for which such appropriations are made; and that such projects have been designed giving proper consideration to economy in first cost, in maintenance cost, in materials and type of construction; and that architectural features are selected which give proper consideration to economy in design.

The authority for design review and overall management responsibility is further defined under the Department of Administration Act. In addition to having the responsibility of examining and approving all plans and specifications, the State Construction Office assists all agencies in the preparation of requests for appropriations for the construction or renovation of all state buildings, and must issue a certification that the project is sufficiently defined in overall scope, building program, site development, detailed design, construction and equipment budgets and comprehensive project scheduling so as to reasonably ensure that it may be completed with the amount of funds requested. Further, the State Construction Office supervises the letting of all contracts for the design, construction or renovation of all state buildings and supervises and inspects all work done and materials used in the construction or renovation of all state buildings. No such work may be accepted by the state or by any state agency until it has been approved by the department. N.C.G.S. § 143-341(3)(d). In addition, the Facility Condition Assessment Program (FCAP) is administered by the State Construction Office. This program is responsible for identifying deficiencies in all state facilities over 3000 gross square feet.

A capital facilities project usually starts with the identification of a need by a state agency or institution. The concept of the need is further defined by the agency through a study of the program requirements that establishes a general scope of work, the size of the facility, nature of the improvements, infrastructure requirements (parking, water, sewer, steam, utilities, etc), any special requirements and schedule. The agency or institution submits this information and budget estimate to the State Construction Office for review and certification. Chapter 45 of the 1998 Session Laws requires the Department of Administration to certify the feasibility of state construction projects and makes that certification a prerequisite to funding by the General Assembly.

After the General Assembly appropriates or authorizes funding, by law the agency or institution has sixty days to select a design firm to provide design services for the project. Designers are selected in accordance with qualifications-based procedures adopted by the State Building Commission that requires advertisement and screening before three firms are submitted to the Commission for a final decision. The State Construction Office serves as staff to the State Building Commission. For University system projects, the selection of design firms is by the Boards of Trustees. A fixed fee, lump sum design agreement for execution by the agency or institution is negotiated by the State Construction Office for the design and general supervision of the construction work.

For most projects, the design progresses through three phases of development -schematic design, design development, and construction documents. Each phase of design is reviewed and the design does not proceed into the next phase until appropriate approvals have been obtained for previously submitted work. There are some 40 possible state reviews, permits and approvals that may be required on a project and the review process may involve up to 17 different state agencies. Of course, most projects do not require nearly that number of review agency approvals. To many outside of the construction industry, this may seem like a cumbersome and overextended process to get a project from design to active construction. However, each review requirement is based on legislative authority granted to the individual review agencies involved and are complementary to each other. Agency reviews are often very specific following statutory responsibility and occur concurrently so as not to delay the progress of the project.

The State Construction Office is the only agency that conducts a broad-based comprehensive review of the entire project to ensure value for the public funds committed for the project and enhance the success of the project through compliance with statutory requirements. The office deals with contractual issues such as budget, design and construction contracts, statutory and procedural issues for public work and the sufficiency of bid and contract documents. The State Construction Office essentially serves as a clearinghouse for review comments generated by other agencies and checks to see that comments and concerns are resolved prior to approval for receipt of bids. As of December 2000, the State Construction Office currently oversees on a statewide basis a total of 1030 projects in various stages of design or construction valued at approximately $2.1 billion dollars.

Accomplishments

Summary of Y2K Efforts

Beginning in the fall of 1998, and continuing into the year 2000, the State Construction Office (SCO) was instrumental in a program to ensure that the State's many building systems in its facilities in all State agencies and institutions were year 2000 compliant. This program, known as the Year 2000 Facilities Readiness Program, was coordinated through the Department of Commerce and its Year 2000 Statewide Project Office. It involved a multi-step process performed by staff from each agency and institution, beginning with an inventory of all critical building systems throughout all State-owned buildings. This inventory was originally proposed to be performed by the staff of an outside consultant at a cost of approximately $1.5 million, but that proposal was rejected by the SCO. It was instead performed by State forces within each agency and institution at a cost of only $50,000, in which a separate consultant was authorized to manage the State's inventory and assessment efforts, and to determine the compliance status of all critical building systems.

The SCO assumed the role of contacting and informing the management and physical plant directors of each agency and institution of the compliance status of their critical building systems. It was then the responsibility of each agency and institution to ensure that each of their non-compliant systems was either upgraded or replaced in order to be compliant, or that the system controls could be manually overridden. By the end of 1999, all critical systems were ensured to be compliant, and there were no reports of malfunctions or problems following the date change into the year 2000.

Temporary Housing Assistance in Eastern N.C. Due to Flooding from Hurricane Floyd

Since September 22, 1999 several State Construction Office employees have worked many long hours assisting FEMA and the Division of Emergency Management with planning and administering contracts for the design, construction, and site monitoring of eleven temporary housing sites in four Eastern NC counties. This effort has involved attending numerous meetings, contacting designers, contractors, and inspectors, making site visits, administering contracts, and approving invoices. Through early February of 2001, three of the eleven sites have been vacated. Contracts for those three sites are being developed for restoration to their original condition. To date, the State Construction Office has administered invoices totaling nearly $11.8 million for the design, construction, inspection and restoration of all temporary housing sites.

Sir Walter Raleigh Awards Community Appearance

The Department of Administration received two awards from the City of Raleigh Appearance Commission for projects under the supervision of the State Construction Office. The awards were for outstanding contribution toward enhancing the beauty of the City of Raleigh. The Museum of Natural Sciences received the award under the Institutional category and the Heck-Andrews House Renovation received an award under the Historic Preservation category.

In making the award to the Museum of Natural Sciences, the awards jury commented, "This wonderfully exciting facility could have been just another state building downtown, but instead it contributes both a creative and dignified presence to Jones Street." Regarding the Heck-Andrews House, the jury stated, "Bravo! Thanks to an exquisite restoration, this grand structure can now reclaim its place as one of the city's most eye-catching buildings. The dedication to quality renovation work shows throughout."

Special Fund for Energy Conservation Projects

A special appropriation of $1 million was made available in the year 2000 to the State Energy Office for funding a sampling of energy conservation projects within State-owned facilities. In order to determine which projects should be selected for this fund, the State Construction Office, in cooperation with the State Energy Office, contacted the Capital Project Coordinators and Facility Managers within state agencies and institutions to ask for a list of prioritized projects recommended as resulting in the greatest benefit through energy savings, if chosen for this program. Upon receiving that information, combined with a database of previously identified energy projects from the State Construction Office FCAP Section, a final list of seven projects was identified and approved for participation in this fund. These projects, which are located on four university campuses and three state agency sites, involve lighting retrofits, HVAC system upgrades, and chilled water system improvements. Upon completion, each of these projects is estimated to result in immediate cost-savings in operation costs, which also will result in a relatively short payback period. The State Construction Office will be reviewing the design, and monitoring the construction until those projects are complete.

STATE ENERGY OFFICE

Summary

The North Carolina Energy Division was created in 1973 under the Department of Military and Veteran Affairs to handle emergency energy issues, including oversight of the allocations of petroleum that occurred during the Arab Oil Embargo. Thereafter, the agency was transferred to the Department of Commerce where it operated until September 30, 2000. As a result of legislative action during the 2000 session of the General Assembly, the Energy Division was transferred to the Department of Administration on October 1, 2000. At this time, it was renamed as the State Energy Office (SEO). In addition to this transfer, the low-income weatherization programs were also moved to the Department of Health and Human Services.

The State Energy Office is primarily funded using Petroleum Violation Escrow funds that arose out of a series of federal court settlements involving petroleum companies in the 1970's and 1980's. The funds are returned to consumers and other affected groups by dividing them among the states for distribution through energy efficiency and renewable energy programs. The U.S. Department of Energy provides additional funding. Currently, no state-appropriated funds are provided to the State Energy Office.

The mission of the State Energy Office centers on three key elements:

Coordinating the state's response to energy-related emergencies (e.g. the energy aspects of floods, hurricanes, supply shortages and other disasters)

Working to make all aspects of North Carolina as energy efficient as possible to bolster the state's economy, protect its environment and lower energy costs; and

Developing the state's indigenous renewable resources---solar, wind, biomass and water----to create jobs and develop the state's economy, sustain its environment, and protect citizens from the impacts of supply disruptions and escalating energy prices.

To accomplish its work, the SEO uses both its internal resources and external contractors, such as the state's public universities and many nonprofit organizations, to provide energy-related services for industry, transportation, agriculture, utilities, local and state government agencies, schools and general consumers. These services include a wide variety of training programs, energy surveys and audits, demonstration projects, research and development support for technologies nearing commercialization, public awareness efforts, and loans for energy efficiency measures in business and industry.

Since joining the Department of Administration in October 2000, some of the recent activities and accomplishments of the State Energy Office include the following items:

Administrative

NC Energy Policy Council (EPC): The EPC is charged with overseeing the state's energy policies and providing recommendations for policy changes to the Governor and General Assembly. The EPC is composed of representatives from the General Assembly appointed by the Speaker of the House and Senate President Pro Tem, as well as cabinet Secretaries and Gubernatorial appointments for specific slots (e.g. alternative energy, industrial, environmental, etc.). The 18-member body has recently been reorganized and is expected to take on a much greater role in developing a comprehensive energy policy for the state.

DOE Grant Award: The Department of Energy awarded the SEO a new umbrella grant through June 30, 2005, under which most of its programs are undertaken and its administrative costs covered.

Selected Programs

Energy Management Diploma Series: State employees were provided with the opportunity to earn an energy management diploma by attending 14 days of intensive training provided by the SEO and NC State University's Office of Continuing and Professional Education.

Clean Cities: In November 2000, the Triangle region received notification that it had officially received designation as a member of the Clean Cities program. This important designation will be recognized in a special ceremony on March 19, 2001 in Raleigh. A direct benefit will be the expansion that numerous avenues for the funding of alternative fueled vehicles, fueling stations and related infrastructure in the Triangle region.

NC Solar Center: Operated by the College of Engineering at NC State University, the NC Solar Center has become one of the premier solar energy institutes in the nation, providing a multitude of training, information, demonstration and research programs centered around solar technologies. The Center has placed great emphasis in 2000 on support and expansion of the Million Solar Roofs Initiative, a major national effort to install one million solar systems on rooftops by 2010. Active programs are underway in Guilford, Watauga, Durham and Orange Counties with further expansion slated for 2001.

Center for Energy Research and Technology (CERT): Operated by NC A&T State University, CERT has a Manufactured Housing Initiative that resulted in the construction of two manufactured homes on campus, one being super energy efficient and the other of traditional design, that will be compared, tested and evaluated during the coming year. A special ceremony and ribbon cutting ceremony was held and attended by Secretary Dorsett and Deputy Secretary Myrick.

Swine and Poultry Waste: The SEO is funding multiple efforts to better develop methods to use swine and poultry waste as an energy source while reducing the environmental impacts of this waste. Included among these are the gasification and burning of turkey litter, the production of ethanol from swine waste, and the production of methane from animal waste for use in making electricity or providing heat for agricultural facilities.

Emergency Preparedness: The SEO has begun to revamp its emergency procedures for responding to energy crises and natural disasters, beginning with development of a new energy emergency plan for the State of North Carolina. Most of the existing plans are outdated and recent disasters, high energy prices and tight supplies have highlighted the need for new procedures to be put in place.

Energy Codes: The SEO and US Department of Energy have been working diligently to provide training to local building inspectors and utility officials on the latest energy code elements that have been upgraded and updated. Final discretion on interpretation and enforcement rests with local officials. Therefore, their knowledge and comfort with administering these new energy code provisions is critical to their use and acceptance in the field.

Hurricane Floyd Recovery Effort: As part of the Hurricane Floyd recovery effort, the SEO coordinated the construction of a model energy home in Kinston to demonstrate the energy efficiency and resulting cost savings that can accrue from "building back better." Workshops for contractors, community organizations, housing organizations and industry have been held throughout the eastern region, highlighting the demonstration home in Kinston. Three developments currently are planned to be energy efficient and borrow many of the practices demonstrated in the Kinston home. Partners in this effort include: Advanced Energy Corporation, NC Division of Emergency Management, NC Solar Center, Eastern NC Sustainable Development Center, and the City of Kinston.

Business Energy Improvement Program: The SEO is currently revamping its low-interest loan program for commercial and industrial firms. Recommendations will be presented to the General Assembly in the spring of 2001 that are expected to make the loan fund more attractive to customers and available to an expanded number of organizations, such as schools and local governments.

National Energy Education Development Program (NEED): The NEED program provides K-12 energy education in a number of participating public school systems around the state. Excellent teacher training and high levels of student participation are hallmarks of the program. Programs in Currituck and Wake Counties, as well as the statewide program, have won national honors.

Alternative Fuels: The SEO is active in several projects designed to advance the use of alternative fuels and alternative-fueled vehicles in NC. In addition to funding and strongly supporting the Clean Cities programs in the Triangle and Metrolina regions, the SEO serves as the coordinator of the State of North Carolina's AFV roundtable of agencies engaged in AFV activities (NCDOT, Motor Fleet, DENR, etc.). In this role, it also gathers data on the purchase of AFVs in NC for submission to the federal government as part of the state's responsibility under the National Energy Policy Act of 1992. In the summer or fall of 2001, the SEO has been asked by the US Department of Energy to hold a state ethanol conference to advance knowledge and use of that fuel. The SEO also sponsors the Electric Vehicle Challenge, a statewide program that works with public high schools to develop electric vehicle training and promotion programs.

Energy Management Program and Related Industrial Services: The SEO is the principal sponsor of one of the nation's most comprehensive training and technical assistance programs for industrial energy efficiency. Operated through the Industrial Extension Service at NC State University, the Energy Management Program has recently expanded to include commercial, local government and hospital facilities. Plant and facility surveys are conducted for nominal fees, and training programs are provided for plant and facility personnel.

Landfill Gas: Many of the landfills in local areas are flaring off and wasting the methane contained in those landfills that could otherwise be converted to useful renewable energy. The SEO is sponsoring the capture of methane gas from abandoned landfills in Yancey/Mitchell and Avery Counties, where the methane is used to heat food-producing greenhouses operated by Mayland Community College and utilized by local area high schools for training programs. The program appears to be highly replicable in other areas of the state. Methane gas from landfills has clearly become a valuable renewable energy resource that can be tapped for heat and electricity uses at very reasonable costs.

FACILITY MANAGEMENT DIVISION

Summary

Facility Management Division (FMD) provides maintenance and repair services to the state government complex and other facilities in outlying areas, such as the Highway Patrol and SBI complexes on Garner Road and the Museum of Art complex on Blue Ridge Road. Also, FMD maintains the James K. Polk Building in Charlotte and provides support to the three aquariums on the coast. Services include minor new construction, renovation, carpentry, painting, housekeeping, steam plant operation, HVAC, electrical, plumbing, welding, elevator maintenance, lock shop operation, fire and pest services. Maintenance to the Capitol complex parking facilities, which includes snow and ice removal in the winter, is included in the function of FMD.

Accomplishments

FMD is continuing its preventative maintenance program that has been in place since July 1, 1996. This program involves the maintenance and repair of 146 buildings and over 1950 pieces of equipment. Over the last five years there have been fewer breakdowns of equipment resulting in significant savings. In the Program Statistics report to State Budget, maintenance costs have been reduced as follows:

1996-97 . 41 cents per square foot
1997-98 . 35 cents per square foot
1998-99 . 30 cents per square foot
1999-00 . 40 cents per square foot
(cost increase attributed to replacing two chillers)
2000-01 . 25 cents per square foot (projection of cost this fiscal year)

Energy costs have been reduced as follows:

1996-97 1.55 cents per square foot
1997-98 1.68 cents per square foot
1998-99 1.53 cents per square foot
1999-00 1.41 cents per square foot
2000-01 1.39 cents per square foot
(projection of cost this fiscal year)

Energy costs can be further reduced through the reduction of lighting costs in buildings in the state government complex as well as through the installation of more energy efficient equipment.

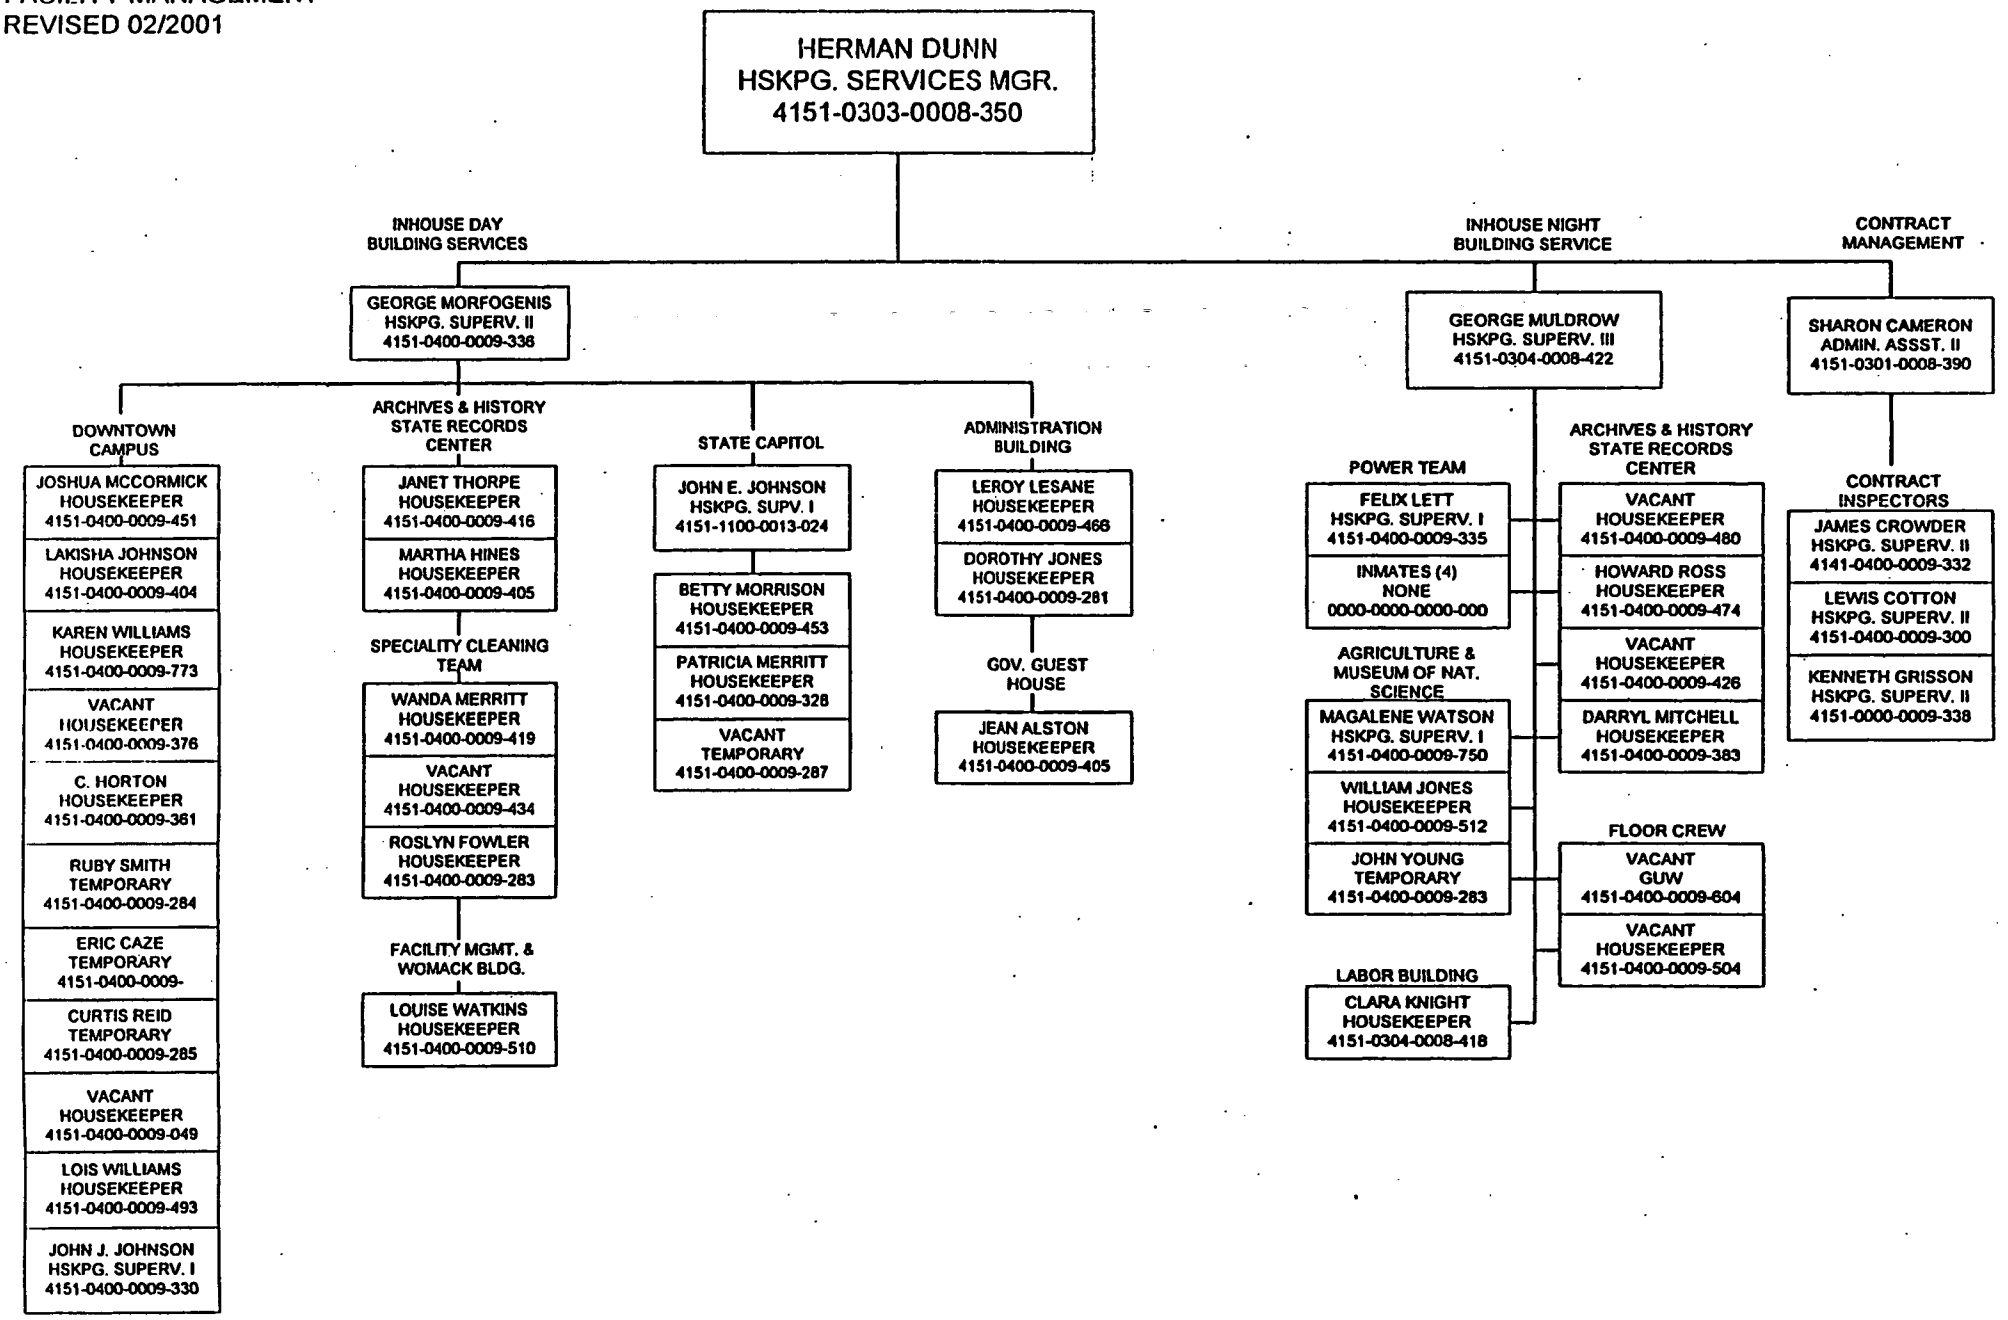
BUILDING SERVICES



MANAGEMENT INFORMATION SYSTEMS

Summary

The primary purpose of the Management Information Systems (MIS) Division is to support the 24 agencies within the Department of Administration in the use of mainframe and microcomputer applications, Local Area Networks (LAN) and microcomputers. MIS is responsible for devising creative solutions for the department's computing needs, developing or acquiring solutions, and implementing those solutions. Those solutions include the development and programming of client/server, PC and LAN based application when appropriate. MIS is responsible for training assessment, answering questions, trouble shooting, evaluating and recommending new/upgraded computer hardware and software. MIS is also charged with installing new/upgraded hardware and software, modifying current computer configurations to meet customer needs and coordinating the deployment of new technologies.

Token Ring to Ethernet Conversion

Management Information Systems converted the Administration building from token ring to switched Ethernet in the spring of 1998. DOA has experienced multiple problems with our token ring local area network (LAN) within the Administration building for multiple years. As more computer devices were added to the network, technical problems increased and reliability decreased. The LAN was one large segment that was over its rated capacity. There was a need to break the LAN into smaller segments to eliminate most of the local network traffic from other floors. MIS also completed a similar conversion for Facility Management, Council for Women, and State Surplus, agencies outside the Administration Building.

Year 2000 Projects

Management Information Systems has corrected several DOA LAN-based accounts receivable systems and inventory tracking systems that were not year 2000 compliant. MIS has also implemented an asset management system from the ITS Year 2000 committee and is in the process of upgrading the system to provide better reporting and management of DOA IT assets.

Interactive Purchasing System

MIS has re-designed the functionality of the Interactive Purchasing System (IPS) for Purchasing and Contracts. MIS Staff has completed the application development of the new design with assistance from contract staff. This new system allows agencies to electronically track the status of bids with more detail information. Vendor registration (Vendor Link) is also a part of the re-design allowing the IPS system to automatically notify qualified vendors via e-mail when new bids are electronically posted. Vendors may then choose to download the bid document from the IPS Web server, print the bid, fill it out and mail it back to Purchasing and Contracts. This eliminates mass paper mailings to vendors that may not be interested in bidding. IPS and Vendor Link may interface with a new e-procurement system being planned for the State by ITS, the Office of the State Controller and Purchase and Contract.

State Surplus Bids

MIS has added additional functionality to the State Surplus System that automatically updates its web page with surplus information for public bids. The public can access items for bidding by downloading the system-generated PDF document, printing it out, and mailing it back to State Surplus. After bid openings, the bids are then tabulated and displayed on the Web site for the public viewing.

MIS is in the process of re-designing and developing a replacement for the existing dBase IV system at State Surplus with new web-based technology. The new system will streamline business processes, reduce time to bid, provide additional functionality, allow for growth, and save paper and postal costs. This new system may interface with an e-Auction system in the future.

STATE CAPITOL POLICE

Summary

The State Capitol Police Division (SCP), a law enforcement agency with police powers throughout Raleigh and state property in Wake County, provides security and property protection for state government facilities in Raleigh and other areas of Wake County. The division protects employees and visitors; secures state-owned property; provides security for demonstrations, inaugurations, prison executions, personnel hearings; assists visitors to state facilities; investigates crimes committed on state property; and monitors burglar and fire alarm systems statewide.

Accomplishments

Safety Assistance

SCP places an emphasis on assisting persons and motorists with armed special details. It investigates suspected unauthorized entries and suspicious persons throughout the state government complex and outlying facilities. Since July 1999, 20,101 calls have been received and addressed by SCP. The division monitors fire, burglar and mechanical alarms for government facilities throughout the state at no charge. Today, there are over 500 alarm accounts being monitored by State Capitol Police.

New Facility

In January 2000, SCP moved to a new facility at 417 N. Salisbury Street. This move has allowed the expansion of operations and provides a secure area for the Communications Center. Also, this new facility has increased visibility to customers and has had a positive effect on the morale among SCP employees, resulting in higher productivity.

New Safety Programs

Certified child car seat inspectors are now available to state employees through State Capitol Police. Officers can advise the employee if a car seat is secured properly and if it is in the safest place in a vehicle. State employees are encouraged to call SCP for an inspection. Also, officers are now certified through the Automated External Defibrillator (AED) Program, with the goal that all state buildings will have AEDs in case of emergencies involving heart attacks.

Electric Truck

In December 2000, SCP acquired an electric Chevy S-0 pickup truck. A grant from Carolina Power and Light Company funded State Capitol Police's electric vehicle charging station that is also available for use by other state-owned vehicles. The new truck is an official police vehicle easily recognizable with the State Capitol Police decal as well as the N.C. Project Green's "environmental sustainability" logo. The truck is used on the night shift by an officer who monitors state offices several miles from the downtown state government complex. When the shift is over, the truck is returned to headquarters where it is recharged and is available for regular patrol or other duties during the day. The procurement of this vehicle is not only cost effective but also environmentally sound.

STATE PARKING SYSTEMS

Summary

In March 1999 the State Parking Systems was created to establish a professional office to standardize, administer and improve parking operations and facilities. All Parking System revenues are generated through assessment of user fees in the visitor lots and the leasing of all remaining spaces.

The Division is responsible for directing and administrating the state governmental parking system (8200 spaces) and coordinating the state employees transportation and commuting programs in the downtown state government complex. The division is active in researching and planning for expansion and/or modifications to operating systems; developing and implementing improvements to processes; and developing, establishing and administering policies and procedures, fees assessment, collections and facility maintenance and enhancement. State Parking Systems manages three pay lot facilities located within the state complex.

Accomplishments

Accessible Parking

The division addressed, clarified and/or resolved handicap accessibility parking issues within the complex. The accessibility issues involved employees being assigned into spaces with signage designating public availability and employees not being given accessibility as required by the ADA. Excess accessible spaces that were unusable by visitors were converted to employee spaces, and other inconsistencies in designation signage were corrected. Additional public accessible handicapped parking spaces were provided at locations where a need was assessed.

Visitor Parking Facilities

The division eliminated the practice of allowing state employees housed outside of the complex to park free in visitor lots; developed a process for following up on vehicles parking in the lot and leaving after operational hours without rendering payment; developed a program to allow state-sponsored groups to park at a 50% discount rate; instituted a system for identifying Natural Science Museum volunteers who are provided free parking by the Administrative Code; and addressed operational security issues in operations as noted in a study performed by State Capitol Police.

Alternative Transportation Subsidy Programs

The division centralized the Capital Area Transit pass program fee collection and distribution processes into its operation; worked with Triangle Transit Authority (TTA) officials to refine paper process for TTA participation; and linked TTA officials with parking coordinators to assist them in conducting a survey of downtown commuters' transportation habits. This information will be utilized to develop effective alternative transportation options.

Computerized Parking Database System

The division completed on site inventory of the parking lots, verifying field reality to the parking system database and corrected discrepancies; restored integrity to financial database records through reentering and correcting payroll error data and reconciling individual account receivables; standardized invoice and payment for spaces allocated; and leased to outside groups such as UNC-TV, UNC General Administration and other media.

Sign Study

The office completed a study of parking-related signage within the complex through use of an outside consulting company with intent to replace all existing signs to improve aesthetics and the ability of visitors to navigate the state complex.

Space Management

The office identified spaces not leased for a period of two months or more and reallocated to agencies with waitlists, unless space was tied to a managerial level position or higher and documented in writing.

Facility Maintenance/Enhancement

The office developed and financed construction of a loading/unloading zone for the new Archaeology operations site; resurfaced ten parking lots; restriped and/or renumbered seven lots; completed phase I of bus parking lot expansion; began integrating parking lot designations to simplify and reduce the number of separate designations; reconfigured parking next to State Capitol Police to allow for installation of electrical vehicle charging stations; assessed and graded condition of all surface lots developing a priority plan for paving and painting; strategically mounted space locator signs within all parking decks.

Collaboration

Provided participation on Downtown Raleigh Alliance visitors' team, a forum to discuss ongoing visitors' issues in downtown Raleigh; joined the Carolina Parking Association and attended two conferences/vendor shows; and instituted regular meetings with departmental parking coordinators providing a forum for ongoing dialogue and problem resolution. With coordinators' input, a comprehensive parking system procedures manual was developed and distributed.

Strategic Planning

The office developed mission and vision statements, identified broad divisional goals and developed a long-term strategic plan for improving parking policies and operations, using an integrated team approach to managing day-to-day affairs of the Division.

Safety

The division addressed a variety of safety issues in parking facilities including adding outdoor carpet at all elevator access areas in two decks due to slippery tiled surfaces installed during original construction.

NC OFFICE ON THE AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT

Summary

From January 1999 to November 2000, the NC Office on the ADA (ADA) responded to almost 1100 requests for information, referrals and/ or technical assistance and distributed over 700 pieces of literature in response to compliance issues. The office also served as a resource for federal, state, county and local government entities. The office provided technical assistance and consultation to the public university system, the Governor's Conference on Race Initiatives, the community college system, private colleges, businesses and local advocacy and special interest groups.

Accomplishments

ADA Training Sessions

The office obtained continued funding in September 1999 from the Southeastern Disability and Technical Assistance Center to expand outreach opportunities and to provide training on the ADA and related compliance issues. This grant allowed the office to increase training activities from 17 such activities in 1998 to over 50 between July 1999 and October 2000.

The training workshops were presented to more than 1000 participants including those in historically economically disadvantaged and isolated rural counties with large minority populations (the so called "double minorities" who are both disabled and members of a racial minority). Additional funding is anticipated for 2001-2002.

The list of entities to whom training was provided includes the following: the Raleigh Arts Council, NC Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, NCSU Department of Recreation, Human Relations offices in Wilson and Fayetteville, NC Assistive Technology Expo, NC Department of Public Instruction, the NC Association of Educators, NC Association of Museum Curators, NC Indian Unity Conference, Social Security offices, State Conference on Aging, and Mental Health Centers and consumers from a number of counties.

ADA Ninth and Tenth Anniversary Celebrations

The ADA Office promoted and assisted in 17 observances in 1999 and 20 ceremonies and observances across the state in 2000. The office distributed materials, gave interviews, presented speeches and provided publicity and assistance to the promoters of the National Torch Run in observance of the tenth anniversary of the ADA in July 2000.

Conferences

The ADA Office obtained funding, coordinated and staffed three very successful conferences (November 1999, May 2000 and October 2000) that brought together state and local officials, advocacy groups and consumers for compliance updates on the ADA. Interactive workshop topics included Emergency Preparedness, Electronic Access, Special Education Issues and current ADA Litigation issues. The attendance at the conferences rose from approximately 40 in 1998 to almost 170 in 2000, and the organizers were able to present the three conferences at no expense to the Department of Administration.

ADA Compliance

The ADA resumed compliance in September 2000 with Executive Order 15 that required an annual report to the Governor and a quarterly report to the Legislature on state agency efforts to accomplish or assure compliance with transition plan. The document has been completed and submitted for review.

NORTH CAROLINA COMMISSION OF INDIAN AFFAIRS

Summary

The mission of the North Carolina Commission of Indian Affairs (CIA) is to instill a positive vision for American Indians through preserving cultural identity by promoting and advocating the rights, beliefs and opportunities which impact quality of life. The Commission's goals for American Indians in North Carolina are as follows: to increase and maximize educational opportunities; to increase the economic self-sufficiency and maximize Indian economic development initiatives; to achieve parity in employment; to improve health status; to increase public awareness of American Indians; to provide for state and/or federal recognition of North Carolina Indian tribes; to promote recognition of and the right of Indians to pursue cultural and religious traditions considered by them to be sacred and meaningful; and to promote public understanding and appreciation of American Indian culture.

Accomplishments

Z. Smith Reynolds Grant

The commission received a $30,000 grant from the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation to develop capacity building of the commission membership, commission staff, and community Indian leaders for the N. C. Commission of Indian Affairs. The purpose of this project is to implement a strategic plan for the Year 2000. The plan requires the commission to establish a partnership with key non-Indian stakeholders in Indian communities, to bring additional resources and expertise to the commission in attempt to serve the future needs of North Carolina's American Indian communities.

American Indian License Plate

The legislature authorized the first American Indian Insignia license plate in 1999. In addition to generating new revenue, the plates bring a new sense of pride and recognition to American Indian citizens of North Carolina.

Culturally Responsive Care Initiative – American Indian Perspective on Key Issues

The Commission received $75,000 from the Division of Social Services (DSS) to implement a culturally responsive care initiative created and established by the Department of Health and Human Services. The Commission, in conjunction with Triangle Native American Society, was responsible for conducting a needs assessment of the American Indian communities statewide. The outcome of this initiative has been the production of a document which provides an overview and initial assessment of needs, accessibility and utilization of services, lack of accurate data, and identification of problems around public policies and practices that omit the state's American Indian community.

Legislation Requiring Consideration of Indian Child Welfare Act for American Indian Children

The Adoption and Safe Families Act was amended by the legislature requiring DSS to consider the Indian Child Welfare Act when placing Indian children into foster care or adoptive services.

NC Health Choice for Families

The Commission was instrumental in partnering with N. C. Health Choice for children in securing approximately $120,000 in outreach funds to encourage enrollment in the program by American Indian tribes and organizations.

Rural Development Initiative -- $1,000,000 in Funds

The Commission worked in partnership with the US Department of Agriculture and its Rural Development Program to develop a special set aside Home Loan Program for American Indian citizens in North Carolina. As a result of this effort, the Rural Development Program has set aside $1 million dollars in home loan funds for American Indian families living in rural North Carolina.

Strategic Plan

The Commission adopted a Strategic Plan. Priorities set forth include economic development, Indian education, Indian health and the establishment of an American Indian Scholarship Foundation.

Diabetes Project

The Commission received a contract in the amount of $20,000 from the Center for Disease Control for this Program. The project will fund diabetes screening efforts in Indian communities.

Indian Education Forum

The Commission staff participated in the National Indian Education Association's Regional Indian Education forum in cooperation with the US Department of Education to comply with President Clinton's Executive Order regarding Indian Education. The forum was held in Raleigh and was attended by about 40 representatives of tribes, Indian organizations and others associated with Indian Education. The NIEA will issue a final report that will include a summary of recommendations from the other Regional Forums held in the United States. The Forum held in North Carolina was the last of the regional forums to be held.

COUNCIL FOR WOMEN

Summary

The North Carolina Council for Women (CFW) is the only state agency that advocates exclusively on behalf of women. Its mission is to advise the governor, the North Carolina Legislature and the principal state departments on the special needs of women in North Carolina. CFW annually awards over $6,000,000 in grants to displaced homemaker programs, domestic violence and sexual assault agencies and rape prevention education programs.

Accomplishments

Displaced Homemakers

In July 2000, the thirtieth displaced homemaker program began, and the programs now serve over 30,000 men and women.

Domestic Violence

In 1999 and 2000, the General Assembly appropriated $1,000,000 in non-recurring funds for assisting domestic violence programs. Rape Prevention Education/Sexual Assault Programs

Since 1999, the council has been very active in establishing sexual assault protocols on college campuses and providing community rape prevention education. Currently 64 local sexual assault programs receive an annual grant ($14,000 for 2000-2001) to be used only for prevention and education in their areas of service.

Conference

The conference entitled "N.C. Women Coming Together for a Brighter Future" sponsored by the CFW was held in April 1999 with over 300 participants. The conference focused on women in business, councils and commissions, displaced homemakers, domestic violence, sexual assault and women's health issues.

Other Activities

The council has three annual activities that promote good will among the citizens of North Carolina and are primarily funded through corporate donations.

The Distinguished Women of North Carolina Awards banquet is held in March to coincide with National Women's History Month.

Leadership CONNECTIONS provides teenage girls from disadvantaged backgrounds mentoring assistance and an annual retreat on a college campus.

GOVERNOR'S ADVOCACY COUNCIL FOR PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES

Summary

The Governor's Advocacy Council for Persons with Disabilities (GACPD) is the state's Protection and Advocacy agency (P&A). It is a disability civil rights protection agency committed to serving North Carolina's citizens with disabilities and is part of a nationwide system of such agencies. It is guided by a Board of 21 volunteers appointed by the Governor, President Pro Tem of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives. GACPD is responsible for providing a statewide advocacy program in accordance with the Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act, the Protection and Advocacy for Individuals with Mental Illness Act and the Protection and Advocacy for Individual Rights Act and is independent of any agency which provides services to individuals with disabilities. In accordance with those Acts, GACPD investigates complaints of discrimination and rights violations made by or on behalf of North Carolina citizens with disabilities; and has the authority and pursues legal, administrative, and other appropriate remedies to ensure the protection of the rights of persons with disabilities with particular attention to members of underserved, ethnic and racial minority groups. Further, GACPD reviews and recommends changes in all laws, rules, regulations, programs and policies of the state or any agency or subdivision which impacts the lives of citizens with disabilities.

GACPD is guided by a federally mandated three-year priority plan, which is reviewed each year. Key projects include enforcing the rights of persons with disabilities to live in an integrated community setting of their choice with appropriate supports and services; protecting birth through grade 12 students with disabilities from disability related exclusion from a free appropriate public education in the least restrictive environment; enforcing the rights of individuals to live in a safe environment, free from abuse/neglect/exploitation/death in public and private community settings; advocating for the rights of persons with disabilities in accessing electronic and information technology; and, protecting the rights of individuals with disabilities whose needs do not fall within the scope of the other four priorities with emphasis on accessibility and employment.

Accomplishments

Enforcement of right to receive services and supports which are free from abuse and neglect, and which provides access to due process, informed consent, confidentiality and privacy in 24 hour facilities

Investigated 475 cases of abuse and 193 cases of neglect in 24-hour residential facilities including state facilities with significant results of change in areas of substantiation.

Investigated the death of 71 individuals in 24-hour private and public facilities with significant results of change in areas of substantiation of abuse or neglect. In one of the deaths, a GACPD advocate appeared in an interview with Ed Bradley in April 1999 on the nationally televised program, 60 Minutes II.

Investigated additional 153 cases of alleged client rights violations and initiated change in substantiated areas.

Investigated the death of a nine-year-old at Grandfather Academy in Avery County. After the investigation, provided training to staff on client rights and how to set up a client rights committee, working closely with the Division of Social Services and the Division of Facility Services. Grandfather Academy was granted a provisional license contingent upon the home not reinstating use of the "basket " hold as a physical restraint technique.

Led effort in the passage of HB1520 that provides containment of the responsible use of patient restraints and emphatically devises a system of patient death reporting. GACPD has access to receiving notification of all deaths reported in state facilities.

Elimination of disability-based discrimination in education, transportation and employment

Represented 434 clients in education cases to ensure that North Carolina's children with disabilities receive a free appropriate education in the least restrictive environment.

Provided assistance to 117 persons with disabilities in employment cases in negotiating and mediating with employers, referring to appropriate state and federal agencies and empowering the individual with foundations of law and rights protections to act.

In April 1999, the final group of curb cuts promised by DOT in a 1997 agreement was completed. Through GACPD's efforts, 2,016 curb cuts were completed for the benefit of the citizens of North Carolina and installation became automatic in all future DOT paving contracts.

GACPD has worked with municipal transit authorities regarding the revision of policies to ensure that people with disabilities have access to the fixed route and paratransit services, including the provision of printed information in alternate formats upon request and web page access.

Enforcement of the rights of people with disabilities to choose where they live, work and recreate

Provided training to 1,917 persons with disabilities, family members and service providers on the rights of persons with disabilities including the Americans with Disabilities Act, the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act and the Rehabilitation Act and particularly Section 504.

Mailed and otherwise distributed 144,250 brochures on rights of persons with disabilities and on the Governor's Advocacy Council for Persons with Disabilities. These posters and brochures were mailed to 1,658 adult care homes and 2,000 specialized foster care homes (supervised living facilities and therapeutic homes) throughout the State. Agency posters and brochures were also mailed to all 100 county health departments and all 440 public libraries throughout the state. In addition, literature and posters were sent to all 40 area mental health centers. The agency brochures were available in alternate formats and in Spanish. The agency posters were also available in Spanish. A method for contracting with a person fluent in Spanish was established to respond to inquiries.

Established an agency-staffed team dedicated to the implementation of rights established by the US Supreme Court case of Olmstead et.al. v. L.C. and E.W., a case brought under the community integration standards of Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act. The team has and continues to organize grassroots individuals and organizations for pro-active involvement in the establishment and monitoring of the State's compliance plan. It also is involved in the identification of and assistance to institutionalized persons as well as persons at risk of institutionalization who have the right to community services.

GACPD has taken the lead in electronic access for the state of North Carolina, playing a major role in bringing to the attention of state government the lack of and need for accessibility to technology for persons with disabilities. Following a presentation by GACPD in June 1999 before the state Information Resource Management Commission (IRMC), then Lt. Gov. Dennis Wicker appointed a task force. The task force, which included industry representatives, advocates for the disabled and state officials, developed standards for computers used both by state employees and the public to make sure the disabled can carry out their jobs or have access to government information. GACPD has requested introduction of legislation during the 2001-02 session in accordance with recommendations of the task force.

Wrote and actively pursued statutory changes to NCGS168-A, "Handicapped Persons Protection Act" – now "Persons with Disabilities Protection Act." It increases the statute of limitations on filing complaints of discrimination from 180 days to 2 years; adds "working" as example of major life activities; and replaces the term "handicapped" with "person(s) with a disability". GACPD has received a request from another state for a copy of this state legislation to be used as a guide when crafting rights protection legislation.

Actively pursued the passage of Health Care Personnel Registry legislation, which passed in October 1998 and May 1999. The registry is a listing of all hands-on health care workers in 24-hour facilities in the state who have had allegation of abuse, neglect or exploitation substantiated against them. This information is available to prospective employers through a 24-hour toll-free hotline. Changes advocated by GACPD strengthened the statute and will better protect the rights of clients in North Carolina. This legislation has also been requested by another state for assistance for writing legislation.

Provision of accurate and consistent intake, information and referral services and outreach services

Consolidated and centralized all intake, information and referral services. Toll free numbers are provided so any client or potential client can call and receive prompt and consistent service.

Provided information and referral services and technical assistance to 10,812 callers.

Conducted seven regional forums during this two-year period in Washington, Franklin, Lumberton, Reidsville, Manteo, Boone and Rockingham. Four of the public forums were held in small towns in isolated rural areas, one with a majority of Native American and African-American residents and two others with a high African-American population. The forums enabled the office to reach consumers who might not otherwise have contact.

HUMAN RELATIONS COMMISSION

Summary

The purpose of the North Carolina Human Relations Commission is to advocate, enforce, and promote equality of opportunity in the areas of housing, fair employment practices, public accommodations, education, justice and governmental services for all people in North Carolina. The division serves as a focal point for developing, maintaining and improving human relations by fostering communication and encouraging the establishment of local human relations councils. Since March 1999, the Commission received approximately 766 housing inquiries. One hundred fifty-nine cases alleging housing discrimination were dual-filed with the US Department of Housing and Urban Development, and the Commission closed 122 cases. The Commission also successfully conciliated four cases in which a reasonable grounds determination had been made following investigation, enabling these to be settled. Currently, the Commission has 14 cases in litigation and approximately 38 under investigation.

Fair Housing Outreach

In an effort to increase the attention to the program of fair housing, the Commission conducted approximately 43 outreach seminars and upon requests distributed approximately 7,159 pieces of fair housing literature in English and Spanish. The Commission, in an outreach effort, maintained a web page making available the State Fair Housing Act in English and Spanish and allowing access to the complaint forms for use by the public. The Commission has also printed for distribution the State Fair Housing Act booklets, brochures, and posters in English and Spanish.

Police-Community Relations

The Commission has trained 1077 law enforcement officers in 56 training sessions since March 1999. The purpose of this training is to improve law enforcement officers' community relation skills and help them sharpen their skills needed in interacting with the public. With this training, these officers also learn to develop an appreciation for the cultural diversity of the residents of their communities.

Cultural Diversity Training

Since March 1999, the Commission has conducted 16 diversity training sessions with 307 participants. The objectives for these sessions are to increase multicultural/ethnic understanding and appreciation, reduce prejudice and stereotyping, discuss cause/effect-stimulus/response, and address problem-solving techniques.

Crisis Response Teams

The Commission received a grant of $40,0000 from the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation to develop crisis response teams throughout the state. The purpose of these teams will be to involve themselves in community situations that have the potential for civil disorder in order for the trained team members to quickly respond to crisis in their communities and work together across county lines. These team members will also be able to serve as mediators and help to normalize events as needed. To date, 104 people have participated in the initial three training sessions.

Hate Violence Reporting/Investigation

The Human Relations Commission established and trained 40 Hate Violence Information Network affiliates across North Carolina. These affiliates signed a memorandum of understanding stating that they would contact the Commission when a "hate incident" occurs in their community. One hundred-nine hate/violence incidents were reported and investigated since March 1999. "Hate incidents" refer to crimes, harassment or intimidation committed out of hatred of the victim because of his or her race, religion, ethnic or cultural background, etc.

Local Human Relations Commissions

The Human Relations Commission seeks to help establish and/or revitalize local human relations councils/commissions within every county. The goal for local human relations councils/commissions is to resolve community problems at the local level. Since March 1999, the Commission has helped to establish six new local commissions. The Commission has also developed orientation training sessions for new commissions and provides continuous assistance, advice and training to all local commissions.

Employment/Public Accommodations

Since March 1999, the Human Relations Commission has answered approximately 1521 telephone and written inquiries concerning employment and public accommodations concerns. When the Commission does not provide directs assistance, referrals are made to other agencies.

Martin Luther King, Jr. Commission

The purpose of the Martin Luther King, Jr. Commission is to provide assistance and advice to local governments and private organizations across the state with respect to the observance of the Martin Luther King holiday and year-round activities regarding the philosophy of Dr. King. The Commission promotes an awareness and appreciation for the life and work of Martin Luther King, Jr. and awards mini-grants to organizations that promote the philosophies of Dr. King.

Annual Bell Ringing Ceremony

Martin Luther King Mini-Grants

In December 1999, the Martin Luther King, Jr. Commission awarded $46,050 in mini-grants to 29 non-profit organizations. In December 2000, the Commission awarded $46,050 in mini-grants to 26 non-profit organizations. These mini-grant proposals are geared to organizing, promoting and implementing programs that reflect the philosophy of Dr. King throughout the year.

YOUTH ADVOCACY AND INVOLVEMENT OFFICE

Summary

The Youth Advocacy and Involvement Office (YAIO), under the leadership of four advisory councils and in cooperation with public and private agencies, serves as an advocate for the 2 million people in the state under the age of 18. YAIO seeks to enhance the quality of lives of children and youth through individual and class advocacy intervention and by offering opportunities for leadership development and experiential education.

The advocacy staff handled 196 new cases (and referred 78 additional ones) involving 64 counties and 13 states in the last year and one half. Staff has been involved in working on and researching issues such as infant protection, home schooling, child drownings, foster care and emancipation. A funding resource library/database for youth programs and services has been developed to offer assistance to both public and private agencies and individuals seeking resources to operate their programs.

Accomplishments

Youth Survey and Summit

Last year the office received a grant from Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation and the Civic Education Consortium to examine the impact of the hurricanes on students in the eastern part of the state. Over 12,000 surveys were sent to middle and high school students in the 25 counties most impacted. The results of the surveys were used to develop a videoconference, which was held with students and elected officials in Columbus, Duplin, Edgecombe, and Pitt Counties. A final report entitled "Youth Survey and Summit on Hurricane Disaster Relief and Recovery" was published and presented to local officials, legislators, and emergency management personnel outlining recommendations from the students.

Students Against Destructive Decisions

Students Against Destructive Decisions (SADD) supports chapters in over 300 middle and high schools in the state. Recent accomplishments include securing underage alcohol prevention grants to offset the cost of participation in both the 1999 and 2000 SADD conferences. Student participation increased in the conferences from 240 to 371 attendees during the last year. College-to-high school and high school-to-middle school mentoring projects are currently being promoted.

Youth Legislative Assembly

The 30TH session of the Youth Legislative Assembly (YLA) convened in March 2000 with approximately 225 youth legislators from across the state. The weekend mock assembly, patterned after the NC General Assembly, debated numerous issues, including mandating school uniform policies in all North Carolina public schools and limiting the number of days the NC General Assembly is in session.

Mini-Grant Program for Youth Organizations

The Mini-Grant Program received a record number of grant applications this past year. Fifty-five youth organizations sought funds to conduct youth inspired and driven projects in local communities around the state. An average of $450 was awarded to each of twenty-five projects to help support programs such as after school youth tutorials and drug prevention workshops.

State Youth Council

The State Youth Council (SYC) of North Carolina, whose intent it is to promote youth involvement in community affairs, conducted quarterly conferences throughout the state in the recent program year. Local youth councils, which comprise SYC, reviewed grant applications, conducted and planned major community projects and served as an advisory group to State Superintendent Mike Ward.

Publications

Thanks to a grant from the Governor's Crime Commission, 20,000 copies of two publications, Youth Rights and Responsibilities and You and the Juvenile Justice System were updated and printed. They are being distributed to schools, training schools, court counselors and teen courts across the state. With additional grant monies, these publications will be printed in Spanish this year. An office newsletter and SADD newsletter are also published periodically.

AmeriCorps Serving North Carolina Youth

Effective November 2000, the AmeriCorps Serving North Carolina Youth project was transferred from the Governor's Office to YAIO. This project is designed to strengthen the partnerships between schools, volunteer centers, and other community youth-serving agencies to ensure that all children that need a mentor or tutor gets one. AmeriCorps members are serving in 12 NC counties and have recruited, trained, and matched more than 400 volunteer mentors with at-risk youth.

State Government Internship Program

YAIO administers the State Government Internship Program for college students. Summer interns work 40-hour weeks for 10 weeks and are paid $6.75/hour. Since March 1999, 196 interns have been placed in state government jobs across the state.

APPROPRIATIONS SUBCOMMITTEE

ON

GENERAL GOVERNMENT

Minutes

May 2, 2001

The Joint Appropriations Subcommittee on General Government met Wednesday May 2, 2001 at 8:30 a.m. in Room 425 of the Legislative Office Building. Four of the Senate members were present. Representatives present were: Co-Chair Maggie Jeffus, Co-Chair Wilma Sherrill; and Alma Adams, Daniel Barefoot, Gene Wilson, and Marvin Lucas. Michele Nelson and Marilyn Chism from the fiscal staff were also present.

Senator Ed Warren chaired the meeting. He recognized the Pages Allison Freuler from Greenville sponsored by Senator Warren, Brian DeLuca from Raleigh sponsored by Representative West, and Cindy Eubanks from Garner, sponsored by Representative Ellis.

The continuation of the Department of Administration Budge Review began with Gene Benfield, Director of the Mail Service Center. Mr. Benfield reviewed the portion of the report pertaining to his department beginning on page 49 of the report and including pages A8 and A34. (attachment 1). There were no questions.

The meeting continued with John Massey, Director of the Motor Fleet Management. Mr. Massey reviewed the portion of the report pertaining to his department beginning on page 53 and including A32 which are attached.

Senator Kinnaird commented on being "out-in-front" as a well run department.

Senator Warren asked, "how many miles before you trade vehicles"? 90,000 miles and certain categories of very heavy equipment are rebuilt after about 140,000.

Senator Harris asked, "how many pieces of equipment to you average buying a year"? Normally about a thousand, but this year 423 have been ordered. About four years ago when the 90,000 miles turn around was established was the last time for an independent study. Inflated gas prices will be managed because of the curtail in equipment purchases. Purchases have been delayed for one year to the extent possible.

Senator Kinnard commented that it seems like 90,000 is very low mileage. An explanation followed that vehicles are not pulled out of the fleet automatically at 90,000 miles. They are run until they start to give trouble.

Representative Sherrill asked for a breakdown on gas, insurance, repair maintenance, washing the cars and all other expenses. A report will be provided to members at a later time.

It was also noted that there has not been an increased cost to agencies since 1982. There was no more discussion.

The next agenda item is the Division of Purchase and Contract beginning on page 59 and including A13. Mr. John Leaston, Director reviewed the report.

Senator Warren asked Mr. Leaston to explain how the bids are awarded for goods and services of NC. Mr. Leaston responded that when there is a need for a good or service we put a bid on the street. We allow vendors to submit bids or proposals. We evaluate the proposals or bids and make recommendations to the Board of Awards of which Senator Warren is a member. The Board of Awards chooses the successful vendor. In answer to a question, Mr. Leaston stated that they also purchase for the Department of Transportation.

It was noted that in 1999 and 2000 that Department of Administration had $119,000 and then the budget through out $11,813. A large portion of the $119,000 was carry-over from previous years for IT projects. The $11,813 receipts are those that come from state and federal supplement and we provide and ship to them as well.

Next on the agenda is the Mr. Speros Fleggas, Director of State Construction. Mr. Fleggas reviewed that part of the report that begins on page 79 and includes A9.

In response to a question, Mr. Fleggas explained that they do a comprehensive check of buildings at the end of a job, which is called a final and comprehensive inspection, to be sure that all building systems work. They check such systems as the fire alarm systems, and heating and air conditioning systems to be sure they are in compliance with specifications. They also work with the Department of Insurance who also does inspections but are not redundant. The Department of Insurance has the statutory authority regarding fire protection. Under the statutes they are allowed to perform only an electrical inspection. The Construction Department performs a through inspection of all aspects of the building.

Representative Sherrill asked if the Department of Insurance fire inspection could be combined with the Construction Department and if Mr. Fleggas could recommend how that might be done. Mr. Fleggas will get back to the members within a week.

The meeting continued with Mr. Larry Shirley, Director of State Energy. Mr. Shirley reviewed the portion of the report beginning on page 85 and including A31. Mr. Shirley explained that they do not get in State funds. They operate on Federal Funds of two different kinds and annual appropriation from the department of energy and secondly petroleum violation escrow funds. These are funds that were court settlements in the 1970s and 1980s against major oil companies for over charging consumers at the pump. These funds were redistributed to the states for energy programs. These are the funds that have been operating state energy for the past two decades. The Federal funds are held in escrow until allocated by the legislature. Currently approximately $13,000,000 has been allocated to this agency, which will be used for operating over the next couple of years for programs and to operate the office. They are not currently asking for additional funds. There is an additional $11,000,000 still being held in the State Treasury for distribution in the future. They encourage the Legislature to have a moratorium on these funds and hold them because that is the future of our energy program and they may last another two years before they have to ask for state funds.

Senator Allrand asked why are all the lights left on in some state buildings? The response is that conserving energy is important and they are checking to identify where that has been happening. They think it is an important issue to address right away.

There are 18 members of the council. The council is essentially an advisory council. The agency would like to see them have more interaction and oversight with our agencies in the future. It is a good cross-section of membership and they would like to have more input from them than there has been in the past. The Legislative council members are appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate and Speaker of the House. The cabinet secretaries are designated in the statute. The department members are appointed by the Governor to represent the industrial, environmental community and the alternative energy community.

Estimated figure of state expense is about $200,000,000. A savings of 5% would be about $10,000,000. Senator Warren asked that they try to work it out.

The Federal money is an appropriation from Congress that is called the State Energy Program and it is a fixed formula.

The meeting continued with Mr. Joe Henderson, Director of State Property Office. Mr. Henderson reviewed the State Property section of the report that begins on page 91, and includes A10. The State Property Office is essentially the State's Real Estate Office. Mr. Henderson also reviewed the budget. (attachment 2)

Senator Harris asked what the implication would be if we did not have an independent controller's office. Mr. Henderson replied that he did not see any savings to be gained by changing the housing or the job. If there was not an independent controller there would be one less salary, but someone would have to do the work. Mr. Henderson does not see substantial savings in merging the controller's office.

The Span of Control data was reviewed and begins on page E1.

The meeting adjourned.

Respectfully submitted,

Senator Ed Warren, Chair

Delores Ledford Clerk

MAIL SERVICE CENTER

Summary

The Governor made the decision in October 1997 that cost savings could be realized by consolidating the various mailrooms in state government into one centralized operation, the Mail Service Center (MSC). As a result of the consolidation, 26 out of 39 state agency mailrooms were closed, and 35 of the 69 positions in those mailrooms were transferred to the MSC. Most of the employees not transferred remained in their respective agencies in other positions.

Savings were also realized in the number of postage meters being used, a reduction from 50 to 12. This decrease has resulted in savings of $30,000 annually in lease and maintenance costs. Also, a cost avoidance of $49,000 was established when the MSC began processing mail by automatic, not mechanical, postage meters.

A unique zip code established by the US Postal Service for MSC clients has further centralized mail service for state government and will remain permanent even in the event of a change in the agency's location. A well-designed Web site has established a successful communications link for MSC clients. This includes general information about the service and a list of the MSC addresses.

Accomplishments

Renovations for New Facility

In January 1999 renovation was started on a 28,000-sq. ft. section of the textbook warehouse at 3905 Reedy Creek Road to house the centralized facility. The State Courier Service was combined into this operation and became the Mail Service Center (MSC) Division. Renovations were completed in April 1999.

Postage Metering Machines

The postage metering machines mentioned above, as well as the employees, are utilized a full eight hours per day compared to a maximum of three hours a day before consolidation. The JetStar sorter, a high speed mail sorter, which has a specification rate of 36,000 pieces per hour, was being used by a single agency sorting approximately 30,000 pieces of mail per day. The Mail Service Center now utilizes this machine to sort an average of 1,500,000 pieces of mail monthly. The functions of this sorter is to sort properly addressed outgoing and incoming mail which saves man-hours and creates less manual sorting. The sorter is used to produce a $0.073 per piece savings on all outbound USPS mail when properly addressed.

Daily Processing

Daily, MSC processes and delivers three types of mail - USPS, interoffice mail within Wake County and courier mail daily between Raleigh and over 4,000 agencies in all counties. Drivers log over 140,000 miles monthly making mail deliveries. MSC reevaluated its fleet of vehicles and downsized five vehicles, realizing a cost saving of approximately $26,000 per year.

Currently most to the Governor's cabinet and one Council of State agency have taken advantage of the savings that can be realized through MSC.

In the first year of operation, July 1999 – June 2000, MSC processed and delivered over 27,000,000 pieces of mail. During the six-month period of July 2000 – December 2000 MSC has processed and delivered 16,000,000 pieces of mail. It is projected that by June 2001 MSC will have increased the processing and deliver by 20% over last year.

Savings

After the first year MSC has saved the taxpayers over $1 million, primarily through reduction in manpower. In addition, the State Courier Service of MSC continues to save taxpayers approximately $1.5 million annually by delivering mail to over 4,000 different addresses on 17 routes throughout all counties in North Carolina.

MOTOR FLEET MANAGEMENT

Summary

The Motor Fleet Management Division was created by the legislature in January 1982 as the central fleet agency for all of state government. The purpose of Motor Fleet Management is to serve North Carolina state employees by acquiring, maintaining, storing, repairing, replacing and supplying passenger vehicular transportation needed in the performance of official duties, in the most efficient and cost effective way. All state agencies, including universities -- except for the State Bureau of Investigation and the State Highway Patrol -- are required to utilize Motor Fleet Management for their passenger vehicle transportation needs.

As of June 30, 2000, Motor Fleet Management had 8,209 active vehicles in its fleet, an increase of 251 vehicles over the previous year. Over the past ten years, Motor Fleet Management has had an average vehicle increase of 310 units a year. Projecting at 310 vehicles per year, by the June 2001 there will be 8,519 active vehicles in the state fleet.

Motor Fleet Management charges agencies for the use of vehicles on a per mile basis. The largest group of vehicles (compact, sedan, four cylinders) are charged out at a 23 cents per mile rate. Mileage rates range as high as 38 cents per mile for a four-wheel drive Suburban. All rates include gas, oil, tires, repairs and insurance. Motor Fleet Management rates are very low when compared to the per mile driving costs, based on a composite national average of three domestically built cars: a subcompact, a mid-size and a full-size, issued by the American Automobile Association in for model year 2000 vehicles. According to the American Automobile Association, "motorists now spend an average of 61.7 cents per mile in vehicle related costs" (gasoline, oil maintenance, depreciation and insurance). When compared with Motor Fleet Management's average rate of 31.7 cents per mile for compact, mid-size and full-size vehicles, the Motor Fleet Management is providing passenger vehicles at approximately 49 per cent of the national average cost.

Accomplishments

Automobile Rebuild Program

Sixty 1993 to 1996 Chevrolet Caprices were rebuilt in a pilot project. The average cost of rebuilding each initial vehicle was $12,845. The rebuild is comprehensive and includes new engine, transmission, brakes, suspension, new seats, carpets, dash pads and other items. New vehicles (Ford Crown Victoria) would have cost $1,245,540 ($20,909 ea. for 60 vehicles). Savings of $474,860 in new vehicle purchase costs were realized.

Asheville Chevrolet is now under contract to rebuild vehicles. To date, 410 vehicles have been rebuilt by Asheville Chevrolet. For the first 410 vehicles rebuilt on the contract, the average cost of rebuilding has been $10,535. Under this contract, the average purchase cost savings per vehicle has been $10,374. The savings from not having to purchase new vehicles has been $4,319,350. The total cost saved by not having to purchase new vehicles has been $4,794,210 for the 470 rebuilt vehicles.

Alternative Fuel Vehicles

Motor Fleet Management (MFM) has 914 flexible-fuel vehicles that are capable of running on gasoline or E-85 (Ethanol at 85%) fuel. Additionally, we have another 15 vehicles that operate on other alternative fuels such as electricity, propane, or compressed natural gas (CNG). The 230 standard fleet sedans (Ford Taurus), located at the motor pool facilities on Peace Street, are E-85 flex-fueled vehicles. In addition, 8 mini-vans are E-85 mini-vans. There are also electric, propane and CNG vehicles available. MFM has ethanol dispensing facilities at the motor pool and uses E-85 fuel in motor pool vehicles. The Department of Transportation also has an ethanol fueling site on Beryl Road near the State Fairgrounds. To remind drivers to use E-85 fuel, MFM provides green electronic fueling keys for the E-85 powered vehicles instead of the more usual black keys. The current price for E-85 is $1.28 per gallon and gasoline is $0.96 per gallon.

For the 2000 vehicle model year, MFM purchased 130 Ford Explorers that were designated as low- emission vehicles. MFM has ordered an additional 230 2001 Ford Taurus sedans that are flex-fuel E-85 vehicles.

CNG, Electric, Propane, E-85 (Ethanol) Fueling Sites

The motor pool on Peace Street will soon have all the major alternative fuels available with plans underway to install a CNG fueling site in addition to propane, electric, E-85, and gasoline currently available. Electric power supply lines and gas lines are being installed, with the installed underground piping. Concrete pads have been put in place for the gas containers and the compressor. The Motor Fleet Management facility at 1915 Blue Ridge Road has E-85 and gasoline available.

Hybrid Vehicles

MFM has two Toyota and five Honda hybrid vehicles to dispatch from the motor pool, and one Honda Insight which is permanently assigned. The Toyota hybrid gasoline engine/electric motor vehicles are capable of achieving 52 mpg in the city and 45 mpg on the highway. The Honda hybrid gasoline engine/electric motor vehicles are capable of achieving 61 mpg in the city and 70 mpg on the highway

"Right Size" Vehicles

Motor Fleet Management has identified 256 permanently assigned vehicles that are being replaced by buying smaller cars. Whenever there is a possibility, the division replaces full-size cars with mid-size cars, full-size vans with mini-vans, and full-size, 4-wheel drives with compact, 4-wheel drives. Savings of $650,332 will be realized in decreased purchase costs and $102,768 will be saved in lifetime fuel costs.

DIVISION OF PURCHASE AND CONTRACT

Summary

The Division of Purchase and Contract (P&C) serves as the central purchasing authority for state government and certain other entities. Contracts are established for the purchase, lease, lease-purchase of the goods and services required by all state agencies, institutions, universities, community colleges, and city and county boards of education amounting to approximately $4.07 billion annually (7/1/2000). In addition, the Federal Surplus Property and State Surplus Property agencies manage the placement and disposition of surplus properties.

The primary mission of the agency is to provide effective and efficient acquisition and disposal services for the State of North Carolina. This mission equates to savings to taxpayers and good customer service relationships. Long-term strategies include improved accessibility to purchasing and materials management information, improved accountability, reduced costs, reduced processing time and enabling of employees. Short-term strategies include improved communications and increased use of technology to perform work.

Accomplishments

Hurricane Floyd Involvement

September 1999 and into 2000 – Provided dedicated purchasing support during the emergency created by Hurricane Floyd through critical purchases and contracts especially for securing mobile homes, travel trailers, equipment and supplies.

Year 2000 Project (Y2K)

Successfully led Supplier Chain Management through the Y2K project. At the Information Management Resource Commission (IRMC) meeting on February 1, 2000, Percy Richardson accepted a Resolution of Appreciation Certificate on behalf of the Division's outstanding contributions.

Vendor Link NC

Implemented Vendor Link NC on April 30, 1999. This web-based system works in conjunction with our Statewide Interactive Purchasing System (IPS). In twenty months, 15,000 vendors have registered and are receiving the benefits of this technology which includes on-line vendor registration, automatic e-mail notification of bidding opportunities, sophisticated search capabilities for location of vendors in many ways including small and HUB vendors for Agency quotes. Agencies can use the IPS Vendor Link NC system for electronically advertising their requirements for goods and services within their delegation.

Recycling and Sustainability

The Department of Administration expanded its efforts of promoting the purchase and use of reusable, refillable, repairable, more durable, and less toxic supplies and products to meet the State's 40 percent waste reduction goal by the year 2001.

Ninety-six (96) contracts were awarded that support environmental purchasing. These have included used equipment, packaging materials that contain post consumer recycled content, carpet, background on companies efforts to help protect the environment and others.

Laser printers with duplex capabilities were purchased, reinforcing the use of two-sided copying for items that are needed in hard copy. Reduced copies by 35%, or 11,000 sheets of paper.

The use of a web-based vendor registry and notification system allowed the elimination of a seven-page hard copy application form, registered 15,000 vendors and sent electronically over 1,000,000 messages to vendors.

Reusable items processed at State Surplus Property included plastic drums, oil and antifreeze, pallets and computer equipment. The computer recycling program at State Surplus refurbishes surplus computers for reuse by schools in North Carolina. Computers not refurbished are broken down into components that can be recycled.

P&C eliminated faxing and mailing fuel prices on a weekly basis to agencies and vendors.
The Carolina Recycling Association presented the Division a "Buy Recycled" award in 1999 for Excellence in Waste Reduction and Recycling.

P&C established a "new" Term Contracts team on April 1, 2000. The team was charged with researching agency needs, analyzing benefits and return on investment, and implementing appropriate new statewide term contracts. Five new contracts were established.

One purchasing position was redirected to a Staff Development & Training Specialist to lead our Statewide Training effort for public purchasing certification and enhancement of purchasing skills.

Computer recycling expanded in July 2000 to include a program at Harnett Correctional Facility where inmates receive hands-on job skills training in computer refurbishment.

A drug seizure program was transferred from the Dept. of Revenue to the State Surplus Property program to allow for a more centralized and consistent approach to auctioning surplus goods seized in drug raids and forfeited to the state.

The "Blue Bird Project" was successfully implemented in the summer of 2000 to build blue bird nesting boxes, involving 5th grade students in education, and providing focus to sustainability efforts in North Carolina.

QUALITY COORDINATOR

Summary

The Quality Coordinator is charged with providing technical assistance to leadership in leading, directing, and developing Continuous Improvement in the Department of Administration. Continuous Improvement is a structured effort designed to re-focus the Department's commitment to provide outstanding service to its customers through continually improving the way business is conducted. Under the Secretary's leadership, the Department is raising awareness of "customer service" throughout its ranks.

Accomplishments

Administered the second Workplace Assessment Survey and used the results for improvements within the divisions.

Developed a three hour Continuous Improvement Awareness Training class, provided 30 training sessions, and video taped presentation resulting in all DOA employees receiving the awareness training.

Developed a four-hour Strategic Continuous Improvement Planning Training class and provided the training to all division directors.

Trained 15 division directors to be team facilitators.

Compiled all improvements within the department in a Report of Improvements that was published in 1999 and 2000. This publication was shared with all divisions for benchmarking purposes.

Expanded the Quality Leadership Team from 10 to 13 thus including more senior leadership and division directors on the team.

Started shifting from a departmental emphasis on implementation to a division emphasis thus increasing the end user impact of the effort.

Increased the linkage between the Continuous Improvement and State Employee Incentive Bonus Program.

STATE-LOCAL RELATIONS

Summary

The State-Local Relations Section works with local governments, regional and multi-state organizations, the public, as well as state and federal agencies, in a variety of areas involving intergovernmental cooperation. The section manages the Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) grant program, coordinates interagency project reviews required by the North Carolina and National Environmental Policy Acts, assists the Governor and his staff in issues involving local governments, and operates a project notification, review, and comment system to provide state and local agencies and the public with information about projects supported with public funds. Environmental and project notification processes are coordinated through this unit's Intergovernmental Review clearinghouse.

Accomplishments

Secured 50 Appalachian Regional Commission grants for North Carolina's ARC counties, directly benefiting 25 of the 29 eligible counties. Total ARC investment of funds was $8.3 million. The ARC dollars were part of projects that invested $26.8 million in the region and leveraged an additional $26 million from private sources. As a result of the ARC projects, the region will gain 866 new jobs and retain 3,445. Other benefits include 1800 at risk children received fluoride tooth varnishing applications; 450 residences were surveyed for straight piping/failing septic systems and 275 remedial systems were designed and permitted; model information technology training programs were established at a high school and at a community college; laptop computers were acquired for the lowest performing elementary schools in a Tier 1 county; a downtown revitalization revolving loan fund was established; and pilot projects to implement recommendations of the Rural Prosperity Task Force were initiated in broadband access, sustainable community development, and developmental venture capital.

Coordinated review of 659 notices by state and local entities of their intention to apply for federal grants and loans. The documents supported requests in excess of $1 billion. To enhance the functioning of this review system authorized by federal executive order, staff converted the State Clearinghouse form (CH-1, the intake document for notices of intent to apply for federal funding) to a digital document and began disseminating the form electronically.

Coordinated the review by state and local entities of 739 environmental documents prepared in compliance with state and national environmental policy acts. Information about the documents is contained in The North Carolina Environmental Bulletin which now is posted on the DOA web site so a broader audience can access the information and the information available is up to date.

Developed a standard format for state environmental assessments/findings of no significant impact (EA/FONSI) and posted the guidelines for the assessments on the department's web site.

Worked with other state agencies to facilitate environmental reviews for water and sewer bond funds, flood relief projects, and significant economic development projects (such as Nucor).

Developed special rules for handling environmental reviews during emergencies (including natural disasters).

Established DOA employee recognition awards for environmental sustainability.

Conducted a process to change a multi-county planning district boundary (only the second time in 30 years the boundaries have changed).

Aided in the development of the Emergency Congressional Appropriation Package for Floyd Recovery.

Summary

The responsibilities of the State Construction Office can be summarized by the overall coordination and management for implementation of the state's capital improvement program. Under the historical formation of the office, two primary statutes G.S. 143-31.1, the Executive Budget Act, and G.S. 143-341, the Department of Administration Act, serve as the basis to define the duties and the responsibilities of the office. Under the Executive Budget Act, the Governor is required to have performed a study and review of plans and specifications to determine whether buildings, repairs, alterations, additions or improvements to physical properties for which appropriations of state funds are made have been designed for the specific purposes for which such appropriations are made; and that such projects have been designed giving proper consideration to economy in first cost, in maintenance cost, in materials and type of construction; and that architectural features are selected which give proper consideration to economy in design.

The authority for design review and overall management responsibility is further defined under the Department of Administration Act. In addition to having the responsibility of examining and approving all plans and specifications, the State Construction Office assists all agencies in the preparation of requests for appropriations for the construction or renovation of all state buildings, and must issue a certification that the project is sufficiently defined in overall scope, building program, site development, detailed design, construction and equipment budgets and comprehensive project scheduling so as to reasonably ensure that it may be completed with the amount of funds requested. Further, the State Construction Office supervises the letting of all contracts for the design, construction or renovation of all state buildings and supervises and inspects all work done and materials used in the construction or renovation of all state buildings. No such work may be accepted by the state or by any state agency until it has been approved by the department. N.C.G.S. § 143-341(3)(d). In addition, the Facility Condition Assessment Program (FCAP) is administered by the State Construction Office. This program is responsible for identifying deficiencies in all state facilities over 3000 gross square feet.

A capital facilities project usually starts with the identification of a need by a state agency or institution. The concept of the need is further defined by the agency through a study of the program requirements that establishes a general scope of work, the size of the facility, nature of the improvements, infrastructure requirements (parking, water, sewer, steam, utilities, etc), any special requirements and schedule. The agency or institution submits this information and budget estimate to the State Construction Office for review and certification. Chapter 45 of the 1998 Session Laws requires the Department of Administration to certify the feasibility of state construction projects and makes that certification a prerequisite to funding by the General Assembly.

After the General Assembly appropriates or authorizes funding, by law the agency or institution has sixty days to select a design firm to provide design services for the project. Designers are selected in accordance with qualifications-based procedures adopted by the State Building Commission that requires advertisement and screening before three firms are submitted to the Commission for a final decision. The State Construction Office serves as staff to the State Building Commission. For University system projects, the selection of design firms is by the Boards of Trustees. A fixed fee, lump sum design agreement for execution by the agency or institution is negotiated by the State Construction Office for the design and general supervision of the construction work.

For most projects, the design progresses through three phases of development -schematic design, design development, and construction documents. Each phase of design is reviewed and the design does not proceed into the next phase until appropriate approvals have been obtained for previously submitted work. There are some 40 possible state reviews, permits and approvals that may be required on a project and the review process may involve up to 17 different state agencies. Of course, most projects do not require nearly that number of review agency approvals. To many outside of the construction industry, this may seem like a cumbersome and overextended process to get a project from design to active construction. However, each review requirement is based on legislative authority granted to the individual review agencies involved and are complementary to each other. Agency reviews are often very specific following statutory responsibility and occur concurrently so as not to delay the progress of the project.

The State Construction Office is the only agency that conducts a broad-based comprehensive review of the entire project to ensure value for the public funds committed for the project and enhance the success of the project through compliance with statutory requirements. The office deals with contractual issues such as budget, design and construction contracts, statutory and procedural issues for public work and the sufficiency of bid and contract documents. The State Construction Office essentially serves as a clearinghouse for review comments generated by other agencies and checks to see that comments and concerns are resolved prior to approval for receipt of bids. As of December 2000, the State Construction Office currently oversees on a statewide basis a total of 1030 projects in various stages of design or construction valued at approximately $2.1 billion dollars.

Accomplishments

Summary of Y2K Efforts

Beginning in the fall of 1998, and continuing into the year 2000, the State Construction Office (SCO) was instrumental in a program to ensure that the State's many building systems in its facilities in all State agencies and institutions were year 2000 compliant. This program, known as the Year 2000 Facilities Readiness Program, was coordinated through the Department of Commerce and its Year 2000 Statewide Project Office. It involved a multi-step process performed by staff from each agency and institution, beginning with an inventory of all critical building systems throughout all State-owned buildings. This inventory was originally proposed to be performed by the staff of an outside consultant at a cost of approximately $1.5 million, but that proposal was rejected by the SCO. It was instead performed by State forces within each agency and institution at a cost of only $50,000, in which a separate consultant was authorized to manage the State's inventory and assessment efforts, and to determine the compliance status of all critical building systems.

The SCO assumed the role of contacting and informing the management and physical plant directors of each agency and institution of the compliance status of their critical building systems. It was then the responsibility of each agency and institution to ensure that each of their non-compliant systems was either upgraded or replaced in order to be compliant, or that the system controls could be manually overridden. By the end of 1999, all critical systems were ensured to be compliant, and there were no reports of malfunctions or problems following the date change into the year 2000.

Temporary Housing Assistance in Eastern N.C. Due to Flooding from Hurricane Floyd

Since September 22, 1999 several State Construction Office employees have worked many long hours assisting FEMA and the Division of Emergency Management with planning and administering contracts for the design, construction, and site monitoring of eleven temporary housing sites in four Eastern NC counties. This effort has involved attending numerous meetings, contacting designers, contractors, and inspectors, making site visits, administering contracts, and approving invoices. Through early February of 2001, three of the eleven sites have been vacated. Contracts for those three sites are being developed for restoration to their original condition. To date, the State Construction Office has administered invoices totaling nearly $11.8 million for the design, construction, inspection and restoration of all temporary housing sites.

Sir Walter Raleigh Awards Community Appearance

The Department of Administration received two awards from the City of Raleigh Appearance Commission for projects under the supervision of the State Construction Office. The awards were for outstanding contribution toward enhancing the beauty of the City of Raleigh. The Museum of Natural Sciences received the award under the Institutional category and the Heck-Andrews House Renovation received an award under the Historic Preservation category.

In making the award to the Museum of Natural Sciences, the awards jury commented, "This wonderfully exciting facility could have been just another state building downtown, but instead it contributes both a creative and dignified presence to Jones Street." Regarding the Heck-Andrews House, the jury stated, "Bravo! Thanks to an exquisite restoration, this grand structure can now reclaim its place as one of the city's most eye-catching buildings. The dedication to quality renovation work shows throughout."

Special Fund for Energy Conservation Projects

A special appropriation of $1 million was made available in the year 2000 to the State Energy Office for funding a sampling of energy conservation projects within State-owned facilities. In order to determine which projects should be selected for this fund, the State Construction Office, in cooperation with the State Energy Office, contacted the Capital Project Coordinators and Facility Managers within state agencies and institutions to ask for a list of prioritized projects recommended as resulting in the greatest benefit through energy savings, if chosen for this program. Upon receiving that information, combined with a database of previously identified energy projects from the State Construction Office FCAP Section, a final list of seven projects was identified and approved for participation in this fund. These projects, which are located on four university campuses and three state agency sites, involve lighting retrofits, HVAC system upgrades, and chilled water system improvements. Upon completion, each of these projects is estimated to result in immediate cost-savings in operation costs, which also will result in a relatively short payback period. The State Construction Office will be reviewing the design, and monitoring the construction until those projects are complete.

STATE ENERGY OFFICE

Summary

The North Carolina Energy Division was created in 1973 under the Department of Military and Veteran Affairs to handle emergency energy issues, including oversight of the allocations of petroleum that occurred during the Arab Oil Embargo. Thereafter, the agency was transferred to the Department of Commerce where it operated until September 30, 2000. As a result of legislative action during the 2000 session of the General Assembly, the Energy Division was transferred to the Department of Administration on October 1, 2000. At this time, it was renamed as the State Energy Office (SEO). In addition to this transfer, the low-income weatherization programs were also moved to the Department of Health and Human Services.

The State Energy Office is primarily funded using Petroleum Violation Escrow funds that arose out of a series of federal court settlements involving petroleum companies in the 1970's and 1980's. The funds are returned to consumers and other affected groups by dividing them among the states for distribution through energy efficiency and renewable energy programs. The U.S. Department of Energy provides additional funding. Currently, no state-appropriated funds are provided to the State Energy Office.

The mission of the State Energy Office centers on three key elements:

Coordinating the state's response to energy-related emergencies (e.g. the energy aspects of floods, hurricanes, supply shortages and other disasters)

Working to make all aspects of North Carolina as energy efficient as possible to bolster the state's economy, protect its environment and lower energy costs; and

Developing the state's indigenous renewable resources---solar, wind, biomass and water----to create jobs and develop the state's economy, sustain its environment, and protect citizens from the impacts of supply disruptions and escalating energy prices.

To accomplish its work, the SEO uses both its internal resources and external contractors, such as the state's public universities and many nonprofit organizations, to provide energy-related services for industry, transportation, agriculture, utilities, local and state government agencies, schools and general consumers. These services include a wide variety of training programs, energy surveys and audits, demonstration projects, research and development support for technologies nearing commercialization, public awareness efforts, and loans for energy efficiency measures in business and industry.

Since joining the Department of Administration in October 2000, some of the recent activities and accomplishments of the State Energy Office include the following items:

Administrative

NC Energy Policy Council (EPC): The EPC is charged with overseeing the state's energy policies and providing recommendations for policy changes to the Governor and General Assembly. The EPC is composed of representatives from the General Assembly appointed by the Speaker of the House and Senate President Pro Tem, as well as cabinet Secretaries and Gubernatorial appointments for specific slots (e.g. alternative energy, industrial, environmental, etc.). The 18-member body has recently been reorganized and is expected to take on a much greater role in developing a comprehensive energy policy for the state.

DOE Grant Award: The Department of Energy awarded the SEO a new umbrella grant through June 30, 2005, under which most of its programs are undertaken and its administrative costs covered.

Selected Programs

Energy Management Diploma Series: State employees were provided with the opportunity to earn an energy management diploma by attending 14 days of intensive training provided by the SEO and NC State University's Office of Continuing and Professional Education.

Clean Cities: In November 2000, the Triangle region received notification that it had officially received designation as a member of the Clean Cities program. This important designation will be recognized in a special ceremony on March 19, 2001 in Raleigh. A direct benefit will be the expansion that numerous avenues for the funding of alternative fueled vehicles, fueling stations and related infrastructure in the Triangle region.

NC Solar Center: Operated by the College of Engineering at NC State University, the NC Solar Center has become one of the premier solar energy institutes in the nation, providing a multitude of training, information, demonstration and research programs centered around solar technologies. The Center has placed great emphasis in 2000 on support and expansion of the Million Solar Roofs Initiative, a major national effort to install one million solar systems on rooftops by 2010. Active programs are underway in Guilford, Watauga, Durham and Orange Counties with further expansion slated for 2001.

Center for Energy Research and Technology (CERT): Operated by NC A&T State University, CERT has a Manufactured Housing Initiative that resulted in the construction of two manufactured homes on campus, one being super energy efficient and the other of traditional design, that will be compared, tested and evaluated during the coming year. A special ceremony and ribbon cutting ceremony was held and attended by Secretary Dorsett and Deputy Secretary Myrick.

Swine and Poultry Waste: The SEO is funding multiple efforts to better develop methods to use swine and poultry waste as an energy source while reducing the environmental impacts of this waste. Included among these are the gasification and burning of turkey litter, the production of ethanol from swine waste, and the production of methane from animal waste for use in making electricity or providing heat for agricultural facilities.

Emergency Preparedness: The SEO has begun to revamp its emergency procedures for responding to energy crises and natural disasters, beginning with development of a new energy emergency plan for the State of North Carolina. Most of the existing plans are outdated and recent disasters, high energy prices and tight supplies have highlighted the need for new procedures to be put in place.

Energy Codes: The SEO and US Department of Energy have been working diligently to provide training to local building inspectors and utility officials on the latest energy code elements that have been upgraded and updated. Final discretion on interpretation and enforcement rests with local officials. Therefore, their knowledge and comfort with administering these new energy code provisions is critical to their use and acceptance in the field.

Hurricane Floyd Recovery Effort: As part of the Hurricane Floyd recovery effort, the SEO coordinated the construction of a model energy home in Kinston to demonstrate the energy efficiency and resulting cost savings that can accrue from "building back better." Workshops for contractors, community organizations, housing organizations and industry have been held throughout the eastern region, highlighting the demonstration home in Kinston. Three developments currently are planned to be energy efficient and borrow many of the practices demonstrated in the Kinston home. Partners in this effort include: Advanced Energy Corporation, NC Division of Emergency Management, NC Solar Center, Eastern NC Sustainable Development Center, and the City of Kinston.

Business Energy Improvement Program: The SEO is currently revamping its low-interest loan program for commercial and industrial firms. Recommendations will be presented to the General Assembly in the spring of 2001 that are expected to make the loan fund more attractive to customers and available to an expanded number of organizations, such as schools and local governments.

National Energy Education Development Program (NEED): The NEED program provides K-12 energy education in a number of participating public school systems around the state. Excellent teacher training and high levels of student participation are hallmarks of the program. Programs in Currituck and Wake Counties, as well as the statewide program, have won national honors.

Alternative Fuels: The SEO is active in several projects designed to advance the use of alternative fuels and alternative-fueled vehicles in NC. In addition to funding and strongly supporting the Clean Cities programs in the Triangle and Metrolina regions, the SEO serves as the coordinator of the State of North Carolina's AFV roundtable of agencies engaged in AFV activities (NCDOT, Motor Fleet, DENR, etc.). In this role, it also gathers data on the purchase of AFVs in NC for submission to the federal government as part of the state's responsibility under the National Energy Policy Act of 1992. In the summer or fall of 2001, the SEO has been asked by the US Department of Energy to hold a state ethanol conference to advance knowledge and use of that fuel. The SEO also sponsors the Electric Vehicle Challenge, a statewide program that works with public high schools to develop electric vehicle training and promotion programs.

Energy Management Program and Related Industrial Services: The SEO is the principal sponsor of one of the nation's most comprehensive training and technical assistance programs for industrial energy efficiency. Operated through the Industrial Extension Service at NC State University, the Energy Management Program has recently expanded to include commercial, local government and hospital facilities. Plant and facility surveys are conducted for nominal fees, and training programs are provided for plant and facility personnel.

Landfill Gas: Many of the landfills in local areas are flaring off and wasting the methane contained in those landfills that could otherwise be converted to useful renewable energy. The SEO is sponsoring the capture of methane gas from abandoned landfills in Yancey/Mitchell and Avery Counties, where the methane is used to heat food-producing greenhouses operated by Mayland Community College and utilized by local area high schools for training programs. The program appears to be highly replicable in other areas of the state. Methane gas from landfills has clearly become a valuable renewable energy resource that can be tapped for heat and electricity uses at very reasonable costs.

Technology Improvements

Transitioned from complex UNIX workstations to personal computers to improve staff efficiency and reduce hardware costs. (1999)

Implemented a project tracking system that enables staff to easily input/update project records due to automatic data integration. The system also allows for quick retrieval of information by management and staff and assists with monitoring and managing the project load. (2000)

Developed feature in website that allows client agencies to update the facilities inventory and produce reports. (1999)

Interfaced facilities inventory database with DOI to provide electronic updating and improve accuracy of inventory. (2000)

Developed an AutoCAD repository for floor plans of buildings maintained by DOA that is accessible by State Construction and Facility Management. (2000)

Delegation of Authority to Handle Certain Property Transactions

Delegated authority to DENR to enter into conservation easement agreements for the Conservation Reserve Enhancement Program (CREP) and the Confined Animal Operations Program (CAOP) within certain guidelines. This streamlines the acquisition process for the thousands of easements anticipated under these programs. (2000)

Collaboration with Non-Profit Organizations

Held round table discussions with land trust organizations and historic/preservation groups on ways to promote their involvement in State land acquisition projects. (1999-2000)

Developed procedures for state land acquisitions to be negotiated by non-profits. These procedures provide guidance and insure compliance with applicable statutes and policies. (2000)

Efficiency Improvements/Sustainability Initiatives

Added Lease Advertisements and Specifications to the website. Forms and documents needed to submit a proposal to lease have been added to the website and can be downloaded. (2000)

Added language to the lease specifications which encourages proposers to submit proposals for lease space having energy, conservation efficient and "green building" components, to provide recyclable bins, and to establish a temperature range in office space of 68 – 78 degrees. (1999-2000)

Developed an informational brochure about the office functions for distribution, upon request, to the general public and other government entities. (2000)

Converted to a high-density file system to accommodate more files in the same amount of space and for better organization and preservation of files. (2000)

Created four (4) time-limited real property agent positions funded by specific acquisition programs to address the increased volume of transactions in those programs (Wildlife Resources Commission, State Parks and Wetlands Restoration Program). (1999-2000)

Initiated changes in legislation to (a) increase advertisement benchmark for advertising for lease proposal; (b) clarify when property can be transferred to non-profit organizations at less than fair market value; and (c) allow an exemption to advertising leases requiring unique locations. Bill chaptered under G.S.146. (1999)

Hub Outreach/Activity

Developed a database of HUB vendors available for property appraisals, surveys and environmental assessments. (2000)

Revised the Request for Lease Proposal form to explain the HUB program classifications and to encourage HUB's to respond to the proposal requests. (2000)

Participated in the HUB Advisory Council and the Accountability Sub-Committee. Both groups are charged with the responsibility of increasing and tracking HUB participation in the state's procurement process. (1999-2000)

Hurricane Relief Effort

Located and leased sites for temporary housing for the victims of Hurricane Floyd and leased offices for the Disaster Recovery Centers (where victims apply for FEMA assistance). (1999-2000)

Policy Issues

In conjunction with the State Construction Office and the Office of State Budget and Management, developed a Cost- Benefit Analysis model for comparing the cost of constructing new state-owned facilities versus leasing space. (2000)

FACILITY MANAGEMENT DIVISION

Summary

Facility Management Division (FMD) provides maintenance and repair services to the state government complex and other facilities in outlying areas, such as the Highway Patrol and SBI complexes on Garner Road and the Museum of Art complex on Blue Ridge Road. Also, FMD maintains the James K. Polk Building in Charlotte and provides support to the three aquariums on the coast. Services include minor new construction, renovation, carpentry, painting, housekeeping, steam plant operation, HVAC, electrical, plumbing, welding, elevator maintenance, lock shop operation, fire and pest services. Maintenance to the Capitol complex parking facilities, which includes snow and ice removal in the winter, is included in the function of FMD.

Accomplishments

FMD is continuing its preventative maintenance program that has been in place since July 1, 1996. This program involves the maintenance and repair of 146 buildings and over 1950 pieces of equipment. Over the last five years there have been fewer breakdowns of equipment resulting in significant savings. In the Program Statistics report to State Budget, maintenance costs have been reduced as follows:

1996-97 . 41 cents per square foot
1997-98 . 35 cents per square foot
1998-99 . 30 cents per square foot
1999-00 . 40 cents per square foot
(cost increase attributed to replacing two chillers)
2000-01 . 25 cents per square foot (projection of cost this fiscal year)

Energy costs have been reduced as follows:

1996-97 1.55 cents per square foot
1997-98 1.68 cents per square foot
1998-99 1.53 cents per square foot
1999-00 1.41 cents per square foot
2000-01 1.39 cents per square foot
(projection of cost this fiscal year)

Energy costs can be further reduced through the reduction of lighting costs in buildings in the state government complex as well as through the installation of more energy efficient equipment.

MANAGEMENT INFORMATION SYSTEMS

Summary

The primary purpose of the Management Information Systems (MIS) Division is to support the 24 agencies within the Department of Administration in the use of mainframe and microcomputer applications, Local Area Networks (LAN) and microcomputers. MIS is responsible for devising creative solutions for the department's computing needs, developing or acquiring solutions, and implementing those solutions. Those solutions include the development and programming of client/server, PC and LAN based application when appropriate. MIS is responsible for training assessment, answering questions, trouble shooting, evaluating and recommending new/upgraded computer hardware and software. MIS is also charged with installing new/upgraded hardware and software, modifying current computer configurations to meet customer needs and coordinating the deployment of new technologies.

Accomplishments

Token Ring to Ethernet Conversion

Management Information Systems converted the Administration building from token ring to switched Ethernet in the spring of 1998. DOA has experienced multiple problems with our token ring local area network (LAN) within the Administration building for multiple years. As more computer devices were added to the network, technical problems increased and reliability decreased. The LAN was one large segment that was over its rated capacity. There was a need to break the LAN into smaller segments to eliminate most of the local network traffic from other floors. MIS also completed a similar conversion for Facility Management, Council for Women, and State Surplus, agencies outside the Administration Building.

Year 2000 Projects

Management Information Systems has corrected several DOA LAN-based accounts receivable systems and inventory tracking systems that were not year 2000 compliant. MIS has also implemented an asset management system from the ITS Year 2000 committee and is in the process of upgrading the system to provide better reporting and management of DOA IT assets.

Interactive Purchasing System

MIS has re-designed the functionality of the Interactive Purchasing System (IPS) for Purchasing and Contracts. MIS Staff has completed the application development of the new design with assistance from contract staff. This new system allows agencies to electronically track the status of bids with more detail information. Vendor registration (Vendor Link) is also a part of the re-design allowing the IPS system to automatically notify qualified vendors via e-mail when new bids are electronically posted. Vendors may then choose to download the bid document from the IPS Web server, print the bid, fill it out and mail it back to Purchasing and Contracts. This eliminates mass paper mailings to vendors that may not be interested in bidding. IPS and Vendor Link may interface with a new e-procurement system being planned for the State by ITS, the Office of the State Controller and Purchase and Contract.

State Surplus Bids

MIS has added additional functionality to the State Surplus System that automatically updates its web page with surplus information for public bids. The public can access items for bidding by downloading the system-generated PDF document, printing it out, and mailing it back to State Surplus. After bid openings, the bids are then tabulated and displayed on the Web site for the public viewing.

MIS is in the process of re-designing and developing a replacement for the existing dBase IV system at State Surplus with new web-based technology. The new system will streamline business processes, reduce time to bid, provide additional functionality, allow for growth, and save paper and postal costs. This new system may interface with an e-Auction system in the future.

STATE CAPITOL POLICE

Summary

The State Capitol Police Division (SCP), a law enforcement agency with police powers throughout Raleigh and state property in Wake County, provides security and property protection for state government facilities in Raleigh and other areas of Wake County. The division protects employees and visitors; secures state-owned property; provides security for demonstrations, inaugurations, prison executions, personnel hearings; assists visitors to state facilities; investigates crimes committed on state property; and monitors burglar and fire alarm systems statewide.

Accomplishments

Safety Assistance

SCP places an emphasis on assisting persons and motorists with armed special details. It investigates suspected unauthorized entries and suspicious persons throughout the state government complex and outlying facilities. Since July 1999, 20,101 calls have been received and addressed by SCP. The division monitors fire, burglar and mechanical alarms for government facilities throughout the state at no charge. Today, there are over 500 alarm accounts being monitored by State Capitol Police.

New Facility

In January 2000, SCP moved to a new facility at 417 N. Salisbury Street. This move has allowed the expansion of operations and provides a secure area for the Communications Center. Also, this new facility has increased visibility to customers and has had a positive effect on the morale among SCP employees, resulting in higher productivity.

New Safety Programs

Certified child car seat inspectors are now available to state employees through State Capitol Police. Officers can advise the employee if a car seat is secured properly and if it is in the safest place in a vehicle. State employees are encouraged to call SCP for an inspection. Also, officers are now certified through the Automated External Defibrillator (AED) Program, with the goal that all state buildings will have AEDs in case of emergencies involving heart attacks.

Electric Truck

In December 2000, SCP acquired an electric Chevy S-0 pickup truck. A grant from Carolina Power and Light Company funded State Capitol Police's electric vehicle charging station that is also available for use by other state-owned vehicles. The new truck is an official police vehicle easily recognizable with the State Capitol Police decal as well as the N.C. Project Green's "environmental sustainability" logo. The truck is used on the night shift by an officer who monitors state offices several miles from the downtown state government complex. When the shift is over, the truck is returned to headquarters where it is recharged and is available for regular patrol or other duties during the day. The procurement of this vehicle is not only cost effective but also environmentally sound.

STATE PARKING SYSTEMS

Summary

In March 1999 the State Parking Systems was created to establish a professional office to standardize, administer and improve parking operations and facilities. All Parking System revenues are generated through assessment of user fees in the visitor lots and the leasing of all remaining spaces.

The Division is responsible for directing and administrating the state governmental parking system (8200 spaces) and coordinating the state employees transportation and commuting programs in the downtown state government complex. The division is active in researching and planning for expansion and/or modifications to operating systems; developing and implementing improvements to processes; and developing, establishing and administering policies and procedures, fees assessment, collections and facility maintenance and enhancement. State Parking Systems manages three pay lot facilities located within the state complex.

Accomplishments

Accessible Parking

The division addressed, clarified and/or resolved handicap accessibility parking issues within the complex. The accessibility issues involved employees being assigned into spaces with signage designating public availability and employees not being given accessibility as required by the ADA. Excess accessible spaces that were unusable by visitors were converted to employee spaces, and other inconsistencies in designation signage were corrected. Additional public accessible handicapped parking spaces were provided at locations where a need was assessed.

Visitor Parking Facilities

The division eliminated the practice of allowing state employees housed outside of the complex to park free in visitor lots; developed a process for following up on vehicles parking in the lot and leaving after operational hours without rendering payment; developed a program to allow state-sponsored groups to park at a 50% discount rate; instituted a system for identifying Natural Science Museum volunteers who are provided free parking by the Administrative Code; and addressed operational security issues in operations as noted in a study performed by State Capitol Police.

Alternative Transportation Subsidy Programs

The division centralized the Capital Area Transit pass program fee collection and distribution processes into its operation; worked with Triangle Transit Authority (TTA) officials to refine paper process for TTA participation; and linked TTA officials with parking coordinators to assist them in conducting a survey of downtown commuters' transportation habits. This information will be utilized to develop effective alternative transportation options.

Computerized Parking Database System

The division completed on site inventory of the parking lots, verifying field reality to the parking system database and corrected discrepancies; restored integrity to financial database records through reentering and correcting payroll error data and reconciling individual account receivables; standardized invoice and payment for spaces allocated; and leased to outside groups such as UNC-TV, UNC General Administration and other media.

Sign Study

The office completed a study of parking-related signage within the complex through use of an outside consulting company with intent to replace all existing signs to improve aesthetics and the ability of visitors to navigate the state complex.

Space Management

The office identified spaces not leased for a period of two months or more and reallocated to agencies with waitlists, unless space was tied to a managerial level position or higher and documented in writing.

Facility Maintenance/Enhancement

The office developed and financed construction of a loading/unloading zone for the new Archaeology operations site; resurfaced ten parking lots; restriped and/or renumbered seven lots; completed phase I of bus parking lot expansion; began integrating parking lot designations to simplify and reduce the number of separate designations; reconfigured parking next to State Capitol Police to allow for installation of electrical vehicle charging stations; assessed and graded condition of all surface lots developing a priority plan for paving and painting; strategically mounted space locator signs within all parking decks.

Collaboration

Provided participation on Downtown Raleigh Alliance visitors' team, a forum to discuss ongoing visitors' issues in downtown Raleigh; joined the Carolina Parking Association and attended two conferences/vendor shows; and instituted regular meetings with departmental parking coordinators providing a forum for ongoing dialogue and problem resolution. With coordinators' input, a comprehensive parking system procedures manual was developed and distributed.

Strategic Planning

The office developed mission and vision statements, identified broad divisional goals and developed a long-term strategic plan for improving parking policies and operations, using an integrated team approach to managing day-to-day affairs of the Division.

Safety

The division addressed a variety of safety issues in parking facilities including adding outdoor carpet at all elevator access areas in two decks due to slippery tiled surfaces installed during original construction.

NC OFFICE ON THE AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT

Summary

From January 1999 to November 2000, the NC Office on the ADA (ADA) responded to almost 1100 requests for information, referrals and/ or technical assistance and distributed over 700 pieces of literature in response to compliance issues. The office also served as a resource for federal, state, county and local government entities. The office provided technical assistance and consultation to the public university system, the Governor's Conference on Race Initiatives, the community college system, private colleges, businesses and local advocacy and special interest groups.

Accomplishments

ADA Training Sessions

The office obtained continued funding in September 1999 from the Southeastern Disability and Technical Assistance Center to expand outreach opportunities and to provide training on the ADA and related compliance issues. This grant allowed the office to increase training activities from 17 such activities in 1998 to over 50 between July 1999 and October 2000.

The training workshops were presented to more than 1000 participants including those in historically economically disadvantaged and isolated rural counties with large minority populations (the so called "double minorities" who are both disabled and members of a racial minority). Additional funding is anticipated for 2001-2002.

The list of entities to whom training was provided includes the following: the Raleigh Arts Council, NC Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, NCSU Department of Recreation, Human Relations offices in Wilson and Fayetteville, NC Assistive Technology Expo, NC Department of Public Instruction, the NC Association of Educators, NC Association of Museum Curators, NC Indian Unity Conference, Social Security offices, State Conference on Aging, and Mental Health Centers and consumers from a number of counties.

ADA Ninth and Tenth Anniversary Celebrations

The ADA Office promoted and assisted in 17 observances in 1999 and 20 ceremonies and observances across the state in 2000. The office distributed materials, gave interviews, presented speeches and provided publicity and assistance to the promoters of the National Torch Run in observance of the tenth anniversary of the ADA in July 2000.

Conferences

The ADA Office obtained funding, coordinated and staffed three very successful conferences (November 1999, May 2000 and October 2000) that brought together state and local officials, advocacy groups and consumers for compliance updates on the ADA. Interactive workshop topics included Emergency Preparedness, Electronic Access, Special Education Issues and current ADA Litigation issues. The attendance at the conferences rose from approximately 40 in 1998 to almost 170 in 2000, and the organizers were able to present the three conferences at no expense to the Department of Administration.

ADA Compliance

The ADA resumed compliance in September 2000 with Executive Order 15 that required an annual report to the Governor and a quarterly report to the Legislature on state agency efforts to accomplish or assure compliance with transition plan. The document has been completed and submitted for review.

The mission of the North Carolina Commission of Indian Affairs (CIA) is to instill a positive vision for American Indians through preserving cultural identity by promoting and advocating the rights, beliefs and opportunities which impact quality of life. The Commission's goals for American Indians in North Carolina are as follows: to increase and maximize educational opportunities; to increase the economic self-sufficiency and maximize Indian economic development initiatives; to achieve parity in employment; to improve health status; to increase public awareness of American Indians; to provide for state and/or federal recognition of North Carolina Indian tribes; to promote recognition of and the right of Indians to pursue cultural and religious traditions considered by them to be sacred and meaningful; and to promote public understanding and appreciation of American Indian culture.

Accomplishments

Z. Smith Reynolds Grant

The commission received a $30,000 grant from the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation to develop capacity building of the commission membership, commission staff, and community Indian leaders for the N. C. Commission of Indian Affairs. The purpose of this project is to implement a strategic plan for the Year 2000. The plan requires the commission to establish a partnership with key non-Indian stakeholders in Indian communities, to bring additional resources and expertise to the commission in attempt to serve the future needs of North Carolina's American Indian communities.

American Indian License Plate

The legislature authorized the first American Indian Insignia license plate in 1999. In addition to generating new revenue, the plates bring a new sense of pride and recognition to American Indian citizens of North Carolina.

Culturally Responsive Care Initiative – American Indian Perspective on Key Issues

The Commission received $75,000 from the Division of Social Services (DSS) to implement a culturally responsive care initiative created and established by the Department of Health and Human Services. The Commission, in conjunction with Triangle Native American Society, was responsible for conducting a needs assessment of the American Indian communities statewide. The outcome of this initiative has been the production of a document which provides an overview and initial assessment of needs, accessibility and utilization of services, lack of accurate data, and identification of problems around public policies and practices that omit the state's American Indian community.

Legislation Requiring Consideration of Indian Child Welfare Act for American Indian Children

The Adoption and Safe Families Act was amended by the legislature requiring DSS to consider the Indian Child Welfare Act when placing Indian children into foster care or adoptive services.

NC Health Choice for Families

The Commission was instrumental in partnering with N. C. Health Choice for children in securing approximately $120,000 in outreach funds to encourage enrollment in the program by American Indian tribes and organizations.

Rural Development Initiative – $1,000,000 in Funds

The Commission worked in partnership with the US Department of Agriculture and its Rural Development Program to develop a special set aside Home Loan Program for American Indian citizens in North Carolina. As a result of this effort, the Rural Development Program has set aside $1 million dollars in home loan funds for American Indian families living in rural North Carolina.

Strategic Plan

The Commission adopted a Strategic Plan. Priorities set forth include economic development, Indian education, Indian health and the establishment of an American Indian Scholarship Foundation.

Diabetes Project

The Commission received a contract in the amount of $20,000 from the Center for Disease Control for this Program. The project will fund diabetes screening efforts in Indian communities.

Indian Education Forum

The Commission staff participated in the National Indian Education Association's Regional Indian Education forum in cooperation with the US Department of Education to comply with President Clinton's Executive Order regarding Indian Education. The forum was held in Raleigh and was attended by about 40 representatives of tribes, Indian organizations and others associated with Indian Education. The NIEA will issue a final report that will include a summary of recommendations from the other Regional Forums held in the United States. The Forum held in North Carolina was the last of the regional forums to be held.

COUNCIL FOR WOMEN

Summary

The North Carolina Council for Women (CFW) is the only state agency that advocates exclusively on behalf of women. Its mission is to advise the governor, the North Carolina Legislature and the principal state departments on the special needs of women in North Carolina. CFW annually awards over $6,000,000 in grants to displaced homemaker programs, domestic violence and sexual assault agencies and rape prevention education programs.

Accomplishments

Displaced Homemakers

In July 2000, the thirtieth displaced homemaker program began, and the programs now serve over 30,000 men and women.

Domestic Violence

In 1999 and 2000, the General Assembly appropriated $1,000,000 in non-recurring funds for assisting domestic violence programs. These funds enabled the CFW (which administers state funds for these programs) to increase the amount of grants to each of 77 local programs and fund 16 additional counties with small grants to provide victim assistance.

Rape Prevention Education/Sexual Assault Programs

Since 1999, the council has been very active in establishing sexual assault protocols on college campuses and providing community rape prevention education. Currently 64 local sexual assault programs receive an annual grant ($14,000 for 2000-2001) to be used only for prevention and education in their areas of service.

Conference

The conference entitled "N.C. Women Coming Together for a Brighter Future" sponsored by the CFW was held in April 1999 with over 300 participants. The conference focused on women in business, councils and commissions, displaced homemakers, domestic violence, sexual assault and women's health issues.

Other Activities

The council has three annual activities that promote good will among the citizens of North Carolina and are primarily funded through corporate donations.

The Distinguished Women of North Carolina Awards banquet is held in March to coincide with National Women's History Month.

Leadership CONNECTIONS provides teenage girls from disadvantaged backgrounds mentoring assistance and an annual retreat on a college campus.

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE COMMISSION

Summary

The Domestic Violence Commission is an outgrowth of a temporary Task Force convened by Governor Hunt in October 1998. The Commission was created by Executive Order #145 in February of 1999 and placed into the Department of Administration. In July of 1999, the General Assembly made the Commission permanent and granted it an appropriation. The Commission is comprised of 39 members and is staffed by an Executive Director and Administrative Secretary. In addition, the Commission has a federal grant to support the costs of a Training Director.

Policy Initiatives

Proposed statutory changes to clarify Full Faith and Credit provisions under the federal Violence Against Women Act (legislation passed).

Proposed DOA be given temporary rule-making authority governing the operation of abuser treatment programs, and, expand applicability of these rules to referrals from District as well as Criminal Courts (legislation passed).

In collaboration with the Office of State Personnel, focused on improving the state's response to workplace violence by redrafting current personnel policy (adopted 8/17/00); developed a 2-hour training module for supervisors on recognizing and responding to workplace violence, including domestic violence; and sponsored a statewide conference for state human resource professionals.

Proposed making a number of changes to criminal and civil statutes, including making violation of an out-of-state protective order a crime; adding domestic violence crimes to crimes for which warrantless arrest is allowable. Current proposals include two additional changes to enhance victim safety.

Proposed changes to Domestic Violence Protective Form, via the Administrative Office of the Courts, to increase victim safety.

GOVERNOR'S ADVOCACY COUNCIL FOR PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES

Summary

The Governor's Advocacy Council for Persons with Disabilities (GACPD) is the state's Protection and Advocacy agency (P&A). It is a disability civil rights protection agency committed to serving North Carolina's citizens with disabilities and is part of a nationwide system of such agencies. It is guided by a Board of 21 volunteers appointed by the Governor, President Pro Tem of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives. GACPD is responsible for providing a statewide advocacy program in accordance with the Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act, the Protection and Advocacy for Individuals with Mental Illness Act and the Protection and Advocacy for Individual Rights Act and is independent of any agency which provides services to individuals with disabilities. In accordance with those Acts, GACPD investigates complaints of discrimination and rights violations made by or on behalf of North Carolina citizens with disabilities; and has the authority and pursues legal, administrative, and other appropriate remedies to ensure the protection of the rights of persons with disabilities with particular attention to members of underserved, ethnic and racial minority groups. Further, GACPD reviews and recommends changes in all laws, rules, regulations, programs and policies of the state or any agency or subdivision which impacts the lives of citizens with disabilities.

GACPD is guided by a federally mandated three-year priority plan, which is reviewed each year. Key projects include enforcing the rights of persons with disabilities to live in an integrated community setting of their choice with appropriate supports and services; protecting birth through grade 12 students with disabilities from disability related exclusion from a free appropriate public education in the least restrictive environment; enforcing the rights of individuals to live in a safe environment, free from abuse/neglect/exploitation/death in public and private community settings; advocating for the rights of persons with disabilities in accessing electronic and information technology; and, protecting the rights of individuals with disabilities whose needs do not fall within the scope of the other four priorities with emphasis on accessibility and employment.

Accomplishments

Enforcement of right to receive services and supports which are free from abuse and neglect, and which provides access to due process, informed consent, confidentiality and privacy in 24 hour facilities

Investigated 475 cases of abuse and 193 cases of neglect in 24-hour residential facilities including state facilities with significant results of change in areas of substantiation.

Investigated the death of 71 individuals in 24-hour private and public facilities with significant results of change in areas of substantiation of abuse or neglect. In one of the deaths, a GACPD advocate appeared in an interview with Ed Bradley in April 1999 on the nationally televised program, 60 Minutes II.

Investigated additional 153 cases of alleged client rights violations and initiated change in substantiated areas.

Investigated the death of a nine-year-old at Grandfather Academy in Avery County. After the investigation, provided training to staff on client rights and how to set up a client rights committee, working closely with the Division of Social Services and the Division of Facility Services. Grandfather Academy was granted a provisional license contingent upon the home not reinstating use of the "basket " hold as a physical restraint technique.

Led effort in the passage of HB1520 that provides containment of the responsible use of patient restraints and emphatically devises a system of patient death reporting. GACPD has access to receiving notification of all deaths reported in state facilities.

Elimination of disability-based discrimination in education, transportation and employment

Represented 434 clients in education cases to ensure that North Carolina's children with disabilities receive a free appropriate education in the least restrictive environment.

Provided assistance to 117 persons with disabilities in employment cases in negotiating and mediating with employers, referring to appropriate state and federal agencies and empowering the individual with foundations of law and rights protections to act.

In April 1999, the final group of curb cuts promised by DOT in a 1997 agreement was completed. Through GACPD's efforts, 2,016 curb cuts were completed for the benefit of the citizens of North Carolina and installation became automatic in all future DOT paving contracts.

GACPD has worked with municipal transit authorities regarding the revision of policies to ensure that people with disabilities have access to the fixed route and paratransit services, including the provision of printed information in alternate formats upon request and web page access.

Enforcement of the rights of people with disabilities to choose where they live, work and recreate

Provided training to 1,917 persons with disabilities, family members and service providers on the rights of persons with disabilities including the Americans with Disabilities Act, the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act and the Rehabilitation Act and particularly Section 504.

Mailed and otherwise distributed 144,250 brochures on rights of persons with disabilities and on the Governor's Advocacy Council for Persons with Disabilities. These posters and brochures were mailed to 1,658 adult care homes and 2,000 specialized foster care homes (supervised living facilities and therapeutic homes) throughout the State. Agency posters and brochures were also mailed to all 100 county health departments and all 440 public libraries throughout the state. In addition, literature and posters were sent to all 40 area mental health centers. The agency brochures were available in alternate formats and in Spanish. The agency posters were also available in Spanish. A method for contracting with a person fluent in Spanish was established to respond to inquiries.

Established an agency-staffed team dedicated to the implementation of rights established by the US Supreme Court case of Olmstead et.al. v. L.C. and E.W., a case brought under the community integration standards of Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act. The team has and continues to organize grassroots individuals and organizations for pro-active involvement in the establishment and monitoring of the State's compliance plan. It also is involved in the identification of and assistance to institutionalized persons as well as persons at risk of institutionalization who have the right to community services.

GACPD has taken the lead in electronic access for the state of North Carolina, playing a major role in bringing to the attention of state government the lack of and need for accessibility to technology for persons with disabilities. Following a presentation by GACPD in June 1999 before the state Information Resource Management Commission (IRMC), then Lt. Gov. Dennis Wicker appointed a task force. The task force, which included industry representatives, advocates for the disabled and state officials, developed standards for computers used both by state employees and the public to make sure the disabled can carry out their jobs or have access to government information. GACPD has requested introduction of legislation during the 2001-02 session in accordance with recommendations of the task force.

Wrote and actively pursued statutory changes to NCGS168-A, "Handicapped Persons Protection Act" – now "Persons with Disabilities Protection Act." It increases the statute of limitations on filing complaints of discrimination from 180 days to 2 years; adds "working" as example of major life activities; and replaces the term "handicapped" with "person(s) with a disability". GACPD has received a request from another state for a copy of this state legislation to be used as a guide when crafting rights protection legislation.

Actively pursued the passage of Health Care Personnel Registry legislation, which passed in October 1998 and May 1999. The registry is a listing of all hands-on health care workers in 24-hour facilities in the state who have had allegation of abuse, neglect or exploitation substantiated against them. This information is available to prospective employers through a 24-hour toll-free hotline. Changes advocated by GACPD strengthened the statute and will better protect the rights of clients in North Carolina. This legislation has also been requested by another state for assistance for writing legislation.

Provision of accurate and consistent intake, information and referral services and outreach services

Consolidated and centralized all intake, information and referral services. Toll free numbers are provided so any client or potential client can call and receive prompt and consistent service.

Provided information and referral services and technical assistance to 10,812 callers.

Conducted seven regional forums during this two-year period in Washington, Franklin, Lumberton, Reidsville, Manteo, Boone and Rockingham. Four of the public forums were held in small towns in isolated rural areas, one with a majority of Native American and African-American residents and two others with a high African-American population. The forums enabled the office to reach consumers who might not otherwise have contact.

HUMAN RELATIONS COMMISSION

Summary

The purpose of the North Carolina Human Relations Commission is to advocate, enforce, and promote equality of opportunity in the areas of housing, fair employment practices, public accommodations, education, justice and governmental services for all people in North Carolina. The division serves as a focal point for developing, maintaining and improving human relations by fostering communication and encouraging the establishment of local human relations councils. The division also provides crisis intervention in potentially disruptive situations and promotes the right of every person in the state to live and work in peace and to be free of violence and intimidation.

Accomplishments

Fair Housing Law Enforcement

The North Carolina Human Relations Commission is charged with the administration and enforcement of the fair housing law, including the investigation, mediation, and litigation of fair housing cases and the provision of fair housing education and training for the state. Since March 1999, the Commission received approximately 766 housing inquiries. One hundred fifty-nine cases alleging housing discrimination were dual-filed with the US Department of Housing and Urban Development, and the Commission closed 122 cases. The Commission also successfully conciliated four cases in which a reasonable grounds determination had been made following investigation, enabling these to be settled. Currently, the Commission has 14 cases in litigation and approximately 38 under investigation.

Fair Housing Outreach

In an effort to increase the attention to the program of fair housing, the Commission conducted approximately 43 outreach seminars and upon requests distributed approximately 7,159 pieces of fair housing literature in English and Spanish. The Commission, in an outreach effort, maintained a web page making available the State Fair Housing Act in English and Spanish and allowing access to the complaint forms for use by the public. The Commission has also printed for distribution the State Fair Housing Act booklets, brochures, and posters in English and Spanish.

Police-Community Relations

The Commission has trained 1077 law enforcement officers in 56 training sessions since March 1999. The purpose of this training is to improve law enforcement officers' community relation skills and help them sharpen their skills needed in interacting with the public. With this training, these officers also learn to develop an appreciation for the cultural diversity of the residents of their communities.

Cultural Diversity Training

Since March 1999, the Commission has conducted 16 diversity training sessions with 307 participants. The objectives for these sessions are to increase multicultural/ethnic understanding and appreciation, reduce prejudice and stereotyping, discuss cause/effect-stimulus/response, and address problem-solving techniques.

Crisis Response Teams

The Commission received a grant of $40,0000 from the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation to develop crisis response teams throughout the state. The purpose of these teams will be to involve themselves in community situations that have the potential for civil disorder in order for the trained team members to quickly respond to crisis in their communities and work together across county lines. These team members will also be able to serve as mediators and help to normalize events as needed. To date, 104 people have participated in the initial three training sessions.

Hate Violence Reporting/Investigation

The Human Relations Commission established and trained 40 Hate Violence Information Network affiliates across North Carolina. These affiliates signed a memorandum of understanding stating that they would contact the Commission when a "hate incident" occurs in their community. One hundred-nine hate/violence incidents were reported and investigated since March 1999. "Hate incidents" refer to crimes, harassment or intimidation committed out of hatred of the victim because of his or her race, religion, ethnic or cultural background, etc.

Local Human Relations Commissions

The Human Relations Commission seeks to help establish and/or revitalize local human relations councils/commissions within every county. The goal for local human relations councils/commissions is to resolve community problems at the local level. Since March 1999, the Commission has helped to establish six new local commissions. The Commission has also developed orientation training sessions for new commissions and provides continuous assistance, advice and training to all local commissions.

Employment/Public Accommodations

Since March 1999, the Human Relations Commission has answered approximately 1521 telephone and written inquiries concerning employment and public accommodations concerns. When the Commission does not provide directs assistance, referrals are made to other agencies.

Martin Luther King, Jr. Commission

The purpose of the Martin Luther King, Jr. Commission is to provide assistance and advice to local governments and private organizations across the state with respect to the observance of the Martin Luther King holiday and year-round activities regarding the philosophy of Dr. King. The Commission promotes an awareness and appreciation for the life and work of Martin Luther King, Jr. and awards mini-grants to organizations that promote the philosophies of Dr. King.

Annual Bell Ringing Ceremony

Martin Luther King Mini-Grants

In December 1999, the Martin Luther King, Jr. Commission awarded $46,050 in mini-grants to 29 non-profit organizations. In December 2000, the Commission awarded $46,050 in mini-grants to 26 non-profit organizations. These mini-grant proposals are geared to organizing, promoting and implementing programs that reflect the philosophy of Dr. King throughout the year.

YOUTH ADVOCACY AND INVOLVEMENT OFFICE

Summary

The Youth Advocacy and Involvement Office (YAIO), under the leadership of four advisory councils and in cooperation with public and private agencies, serves as an advocate for the 2 million people in the state under the age of 18. YAIO seeks to enhance the quality of lives of children and youth through individual and class advocacy intervention and by offering opportunities for leadership development and experiential education.

The advocacy staff handled 196 new cases (and referred 78 additional ones) involving 64 counties and 13 states in the last year and one half. Staff has been involved in working on and researching issues such as infant protection, home schooling, child drownings, foster care and emancipation. A funding resource library/database for youth programs and services has been developed to offer assistance to both public and private agencies and individuals seeking resources to operate their programs.

Accomplishments

Youth Survey and Summit

Last year the office received a grant from Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation and the Civic Education Consortium to examine the impact of the hurricanes on students in the eastern part of the state. Over 12,000 surveys were sent to middle and high school students in the 25 counties most impacted. The results of the surveys were used to develop a videoconference, which was held with students and elected officials in Columbus, Duplin, Edgecombe, and Pitt Counties. A final report entitled "Youth Survey and Summit on Hurricane Disaster Relief and Recovery" was published and presented to local officials, legislators, and emergency management personnel outlining recommendations from the students.

Students Against Destructive Decisions

Students Against Destructive Decisions (SADD) supports chapters in over 300 middle and high schools in the state. Recent accomplishments include securing underage alcohol prevention grants to offset the cost of participation in both the 1999 and 2000 SADD conferences. Student participation increased in the conferences from 240 to 371 attendees during the last year. College-to-high school and high school-to-middle school mentoring projects are currently being promoted.

Youth Legislative Assembly

The 30TH session of the Youth Legislative Assembly (YLA) convened in March 2000 with approximately 225 youth legislators from across the state. The weekend mock assembly, patterned after the NC General Assembly, debated numerous issues, including mandating school uniform policies in all North Carolina public schools and limiting the number of days the NC General Assembly is in session.

Mini-Grant Program for Youth Organizations

The Mini-Grant Program received a record number of grant applications this past year. Fifty-five youth organizations sought funds to conduct youth inspired and driven projects in local communities around the state. An average of $450 was awarded to each of twenty-five projects to help support programs such as after school youth tutorials and drug prevention workshops.

State Youth Council

The State Youth Council (SYC) of North Carolina, whose intent it is to promote youth involvement in community affairs, conducted quarterly conferences throughout the state in the recent program year. Local youth councils, which comprise SYC, reviewed grant applications, conducted and planned major community projects and served as an advisory group to State Superintendent Mike Ward.

Publications

Thanks to a grant from the Governor's Crime Commission, 20,000 copies of two publications, Youth Rights and Responsibilities and You and the Juvenile Justice System were updated and printed. They are being distributed to schools, training schools, court counselors and teen courts across the state. With additional grant monies, these publications will be printed in Spanish this year. An office newsletter and SADD newsletter are also published periodically.

AmeriCorps Serving North Carolina Youth

Effective November 2000, the AmeriCorps Serving North Carolina Youth project was transferred from the Governor's Office to YAIO. This project is designed to strengthen the partnerships between schools, volunteer centers, and other community youth-serving agencies to ensure that all children that need a mentor or tutor gets one. AmeriCorps members are serving in 12 NC counties and have recruited, trained, and matched more than 400 volunteer mentors with at-risk youth.

State Government Internship Program

YAIO administers the State Government Internship Program for college students. Summer interns work 40-hour weeks for 10 weeks and are paid $6.75/hour. Since March 1999, 196 interns have been placed in state government jobs across the state.

The Division of Non-Public Education was established in 1961 as a regulatory agency within the Dept. of Public Instruction. In 1979, the General Assembly enacted legislation requiring the Governor to designate a duly authorized representative of the State of NC to receive notice of intent to operate and to terminate certain private schools. It operated as a monitoring agency under the direct jurisdiction of the Office of the Governor from October 1979 until July 1, 1998, when Governor Hunt transferred it to the Dept. of Administration.

Travel and Other Employee Expenses - (5327XX) DNPE travel is confined entirely to in-state, non-public school visitation. GS115C-548 thru 562 requires that non-public schools meet certain requirements - including keeping and maintaining certain records which must be made available to a DNPE representative. The DNPE staff member must also check at the time of each visit to make certain that the facility's state and local fire safety and sanitation requirements are being satisfied.

Furniture and Equipment (534500-4550) - The perpetual growth, the maintaining of home school registration records and information is a constant challenge for our equipment and staff. The number of 99-00 home schools totaled 16,623 while the 90-91 total was 2,479. Computer equipment must be replaced on a three year average cycle to adhere to DOA's replacement schedule. Copiers and fax machines also need to be replaced on a less frequent replacement schedule.

The Agency for Public Telecommunications (APT) was founded in 1979 to serve as the media production facility for state government and to provide satellite-based teleconferencing and live, interactive public affairs programs via cable to increase citizen access to government and to improve government efficiency through telecommunications.

Miscellaneous Contractual Services - (532199) - Funding is requested at the current level for this line item to support miscellaneous contracts with producers and talent necessary for the production of video projects, for teleconferences and for client-sponsored call-in hours on the Open Public Events Network. Using contractors for these purposes and for hosts on appropriated supported OPEN programs makes it unnecessary to add permanent employees to the APT staff. Future need for these services will vary, based on the kind and complexity of our clients' projects. Note:Majority of this line item is supported by client receipts.

Rental/Lease of Equipment - (532525) - Funding for this line item is supported by receipts received from clients. As part of the cost of production, our public agency clients pay us for the special communication and production equipment we rent, as needed, for their projects. Future needs will vary based on the kind and complexity of client projects.

Travel and Other Employee Expenses - (5327XX) - Funding is requested at the current level for this line item due to travel being necessary as a part of production. Note: Majority of this line item is supported by receipts from clients. Clients pay APT for the travel required for their projects. The need for travel will vary, based on the requirements of each production. The small amount of funds budgeted in this line item not supported by receipts, covers the cost of employee travel to annual cable meetings, etc.

Cellular Phone Service - (532814) - Funding for this line item is supported by receipts received from our clients. As part of the cost of productions, our clients pay for our cell phone connections with field locations while we are videotaping, uplinking for satellite teleconferences, or shooting video for OPEN programs. Cell phone usage in the future will vary, based on the amount of on-location shooting required for clients' production.

Furniture and Equipment - (534500-534550) - Funding for this line item is supported by both appropriation and receipts. Continual funding is necessary in order to replace equipment when it can no longer be maintained in good working order and is no longer compatible with the rest of the video production industry. In order to produce high quality products equipment must be in good working order. Without adequate funding and a timely schedule of replacements, cameras, studio and field gear, and other critical production equipment will gradually become obsolete, beyond repair, and impossible to maintain and operate over the next few years, making it necessary to rent more gear or fail to provide services our mandate requires.

In accordance with S.B. 935, Ch. 693, this fund was created as the Domestic Violence Fund supported by receipts from the Marriage License Fees. There are no state dollars appropriated to this fund but rather supported by a fee attached to each marriage license. Elimination of these funds will result in an unfunded mandate. These funds along with domestic violence funds in (Fund 1781 budget) provide grants to ninety three (93) domestic violence programs across the state in order to serve victims of domestic violence by providing safe shelters, hospital accompaniment, court accompaniment, support groups and community education and awareness. The programs that serve multiple counties receive a portion of the marriage license fees for each county they serve. The N.C. APPROPRIATIONS SUBCOMMITTEE

GENERAL GOVERNMENT

Minutes

May 2, 2001

The Joint Appropriations Subcommittee on General Government met Wednesday May 2, 2001 at 1:00 p.m. in Room 425 of the Legislative Office Building. Four of the Senate members were present. Representatives present were: Co-Chair Maggie Jeffus, Co-Chair Wilma Sherrill; and Alma Adams, Daniel Barefoot, Gene Wilson, Marvin Lucas and Mitchell Setzer. Michele Nelson and Marilyn Chism from the fiscal staff were also present.

Senator Ed Warren chaired the meeting that is a continuation of today's morning meeting. The meeting continued with the State Controller, Mr. Ed Renfrow.

Mr. Renfrow reviewed the handout "Office of the State Controller" dated April 24, 2001 (attachment 1).

Senator Allrand asked about the implementation of a new computer system that cost fifty million dollars. Mr. Renfrow said that the system is the corporate transportation system and that it is immensely efficient and cost effective. He explained that the cost includes the software, hardware, staff and internal organization of installing and implementing the system. It was also noted that the work done in the Controller's office is extremely important and cost effective to North Carolina and the financial statements must be accurate. The new system picks up intricate pieces of information that could not be picked up by the old system.

It was pointed out that if the bond rate changed the slightest amount that the expense would be enormous.

The span of control was reviewed and is found on page 10.

The organization and structure were reviewed (pages 23 - 25). On page 23 shows today's organization and structure. The next page shows how it might be changed for future improvement.

Senator Allrand asked how electronic deposit saves money. Writing checks and paying postage for mailing is an additional expense. Direct deposit saves money because it eliminates the writing and dispersing of checks. Electronic deposit puts money in the individual's bank account and cuts out time and manpower spent in manual procedure.

The budget is found on pages 12- 16. These pages were reviewed and there was some general discussion.

Senator Harris asked what the implication would be if we didn't have an independent controllers office? There was discussion about what would be the implication if the independent controller's office was abolished and the duties were combined with another operation. Line items have been looked at with this regard. The manpower would have to be in place in order to get the job done, as well as, the other expenses incurred wherever the work takes place. Abolishing the controller's office would serve no purpose in savings.

The 1% and 2% Budget Reductions were reviewed and are found on page 29. There was general discussion.

Mr. Don Waugh, Assistant State Controller reviewed the Annual Report on Accounts Receivable. (attachment 2) This report gives a narrative and also shows the balance sheet. Mr. Waugh briefly commented on the contents of the report. The big figures can be seen in the pie chart on page 2, showing a total of $5.627 billion in accounts receivable. In another pie chart on page 4 are the write-offs. There is an explanation included. The debt setoff is on page 5 and is also explained.

Ms. Zeke Partin, assistant State Controller reviewed the February 28, 2001 Report of Overpayment Recover Program. She noted that at the end of this contract the State will not need to renew.

The meeting concluded at 2:35 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

STATEWIDE ACCOUNTS RECEIVABLE REPORT

For the Year Ended June 30, 2000

North Carolina Office of the State Controller

Edward Renfrow, State Controller

State of North Carolina
Office of the State Controller
Statewide Accounts Receivable Report
December 2000

The Office of the State Controller is responsible for the Statewide Accounts Receivable Program. The authority originates from North Carolina General Statute 147-86.20-.27. In fulfilling the reporting requirements, the Office of the State Controller provides you with the Statewide Accounts Receivable Report for fiscal year end June 30, 2000, displayed in a three-year analysis of receivables format.

The Statewide Accounts Receivable Report includes all receivables reflected in the State's Comprehensive Annual Financial Report (CAFR). These receivables are recorded in the financial statements based on generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) for governments. Included in this report are notes receivable, taxes receivable, intergovernmental receivables (due from federal, local or other state governments), accounts receivable, interfund receivables (due from other entities within the State's financial reporting entity), contributions receivable, premiums receivable, interest receivable and other miscellaneous receivables.

Total receivables increased $916 million, or 19.45%, to $5.63 billion, which equates to 14.78% of total revenues as compared to 13.27% in 1999. Total revenues increased 7.29% to $38.07 billion. In summary, for every $6.77 of revenues the State earns we carry $1.00 in receivables.

To explain the $916 million increase in total receivables for 2000 we need to look at several areas. The first involves notes receivable where there was a total increase of $349 million, most of which occurred in the component unit proprietary funds. The most significant portion of this increase occurred in the North Carolina Housing Finance Agency, which experienced an increase of $155 million through the issuance of additional mortgage loans. In addition, the notes receivable for the State Education Assistance Authority grew by $142 million due to the issuance of bonds which allowed the authority to fund more loans. There were also increases of $44 million in the notes of the Clean Water Revolving Loan and Grant Fund, a nonexpendable trust fund that provides loans to local governments, and $9.7 million in the 401(k) Supplemental Retirement Income Plan, a pension trust fund that provides loans to participants.

The second area in which major changes occurred is intergovernmental receivables, which increased by $236 million. Within this category, the amounts due from federal agencies increased by $110 million related primarily to Hurricane Floyd disaster reimbursements and medical assistance reimbursements. In addition, intergovernmental receivables increased in the component unit Community College Funds by $80 million, primarily due to county construction bonds, and in the component unit University Funds by $21 million.

The third area in which major changes occurred is taxes receivable, which increased by $103 million as a result of an increase in collections due through June 30 but received in July. Additionally, accounts receivable increased $96 million primarily due to the acquisition of Rex Hospital by UNC Healthcare.

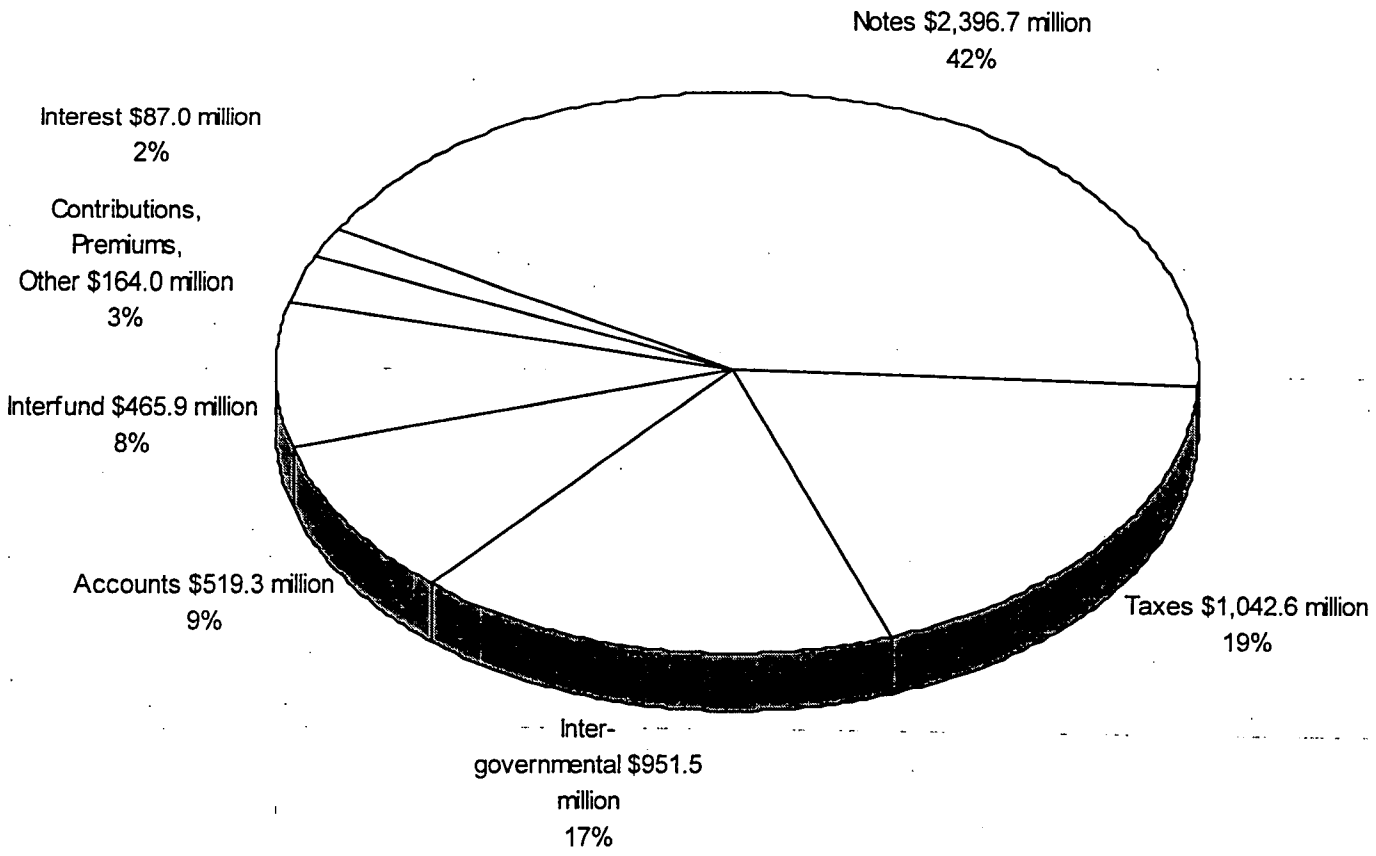
State of North Carolina Total Receivables for the Fiscal Year Ended June 30, 2000
$5.627 billion



Efforts continue to make improvements in agency reporting of write-off information. Definite progress has been made in this area and we will continue to educate and inform the State's entities on the importance of reporting accurate and complete write-off information. The leading type of State receivable written off during the fiscal year 1999-2000 was taxes receivable. There was a significant increase in this category due to the write-off of $2.015 billion in receivables by the Department of Revenue for taxes on unauthorized substances. The decision by the Department of Revenue to write off these receivables was made based on advice received from the Attorney General's office that the Unauthorized Substances Tax Division should cease collecting these accounts due to the decision rendered by the 4th Circuit U.S. Court of Appeals in Lynn v. West, et al. The decision to write off the receivables was delayed due to various pending court cases which could have reversed the Lynn decision thus enabling the Division to resume collection of pre-Lynn accounts. Many of these court cases have been resolved, but none in such a manner as to allow the Division to resume collection of these accounts. In addition, a significant amount of receivables associated with the healthcare business in the State were written off. This involves basically four agencies/institutions: UNC Hospitals; UNC Physicians & Associates of UNC-Chapel Hill; ECU's medical program and affiliation with Pitt County Hospital; and the Department of Health and Human Services via their hospital and patient treatment centers.

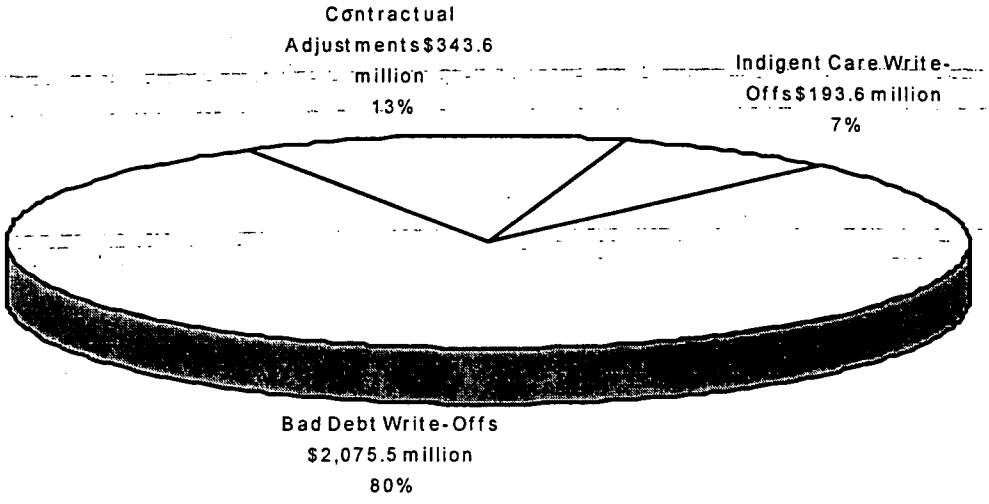
$2,612.7 million



Contractual Adjustments - The differences between revenue at established rates and the amounts realizable from third-party payors under contractual agreements. These adjustments are made to customer, patient, business, or taxpayer accounts as the result of a contractual agreement to provide certain services or products at a previously negotiated price. The contractual adjustment is the difference between the value assigned by the State provider/supplier of the product or service and the predetermined price as negotiated with a third-party payor (example: insurance company).

Indigent Care Write-Offs - The differences between revenue at established rates and the amounts realizable from the financially responsible party for those receiving the State product or service. In this instance, the write-off is the result of the financially responsible party being unable to meet the financial obligations due to poverty or a lack of subsistence.

Bad Debt Write-Offs - All write-offs of bad debts other than those for contractual or indigent care reasons.

Setoff Debt Collection Program Activity

G.S. 105A, the Setoff Debt Collection Act, requires all claimant agencies and the Department of Revenue to cooperate in identifying debtors who owe money to the State through its various agencies and who qualify for refunds from the Department of Revenue. It further requires that procedures be established for setting off against any refund the sum of any debt owed to the State.

Recent changes to G.S. 105A have expanded the list of claimant agencies to include all State agencies. This change was effective January 1, 2000. The Office of the State Controller requested that the Department of Revenue provide summary debt setoff information for the last four tax years to be included in the annual Statewide Accounts Receivable Report. Summary data for the prior four tax years is reflected below.

* Effective for the calendar year 2000, the cost of collecting child support debts is not charged against the taxpayer's refund. Instead, the gross amount of the refund is applied to the debt and the Department of Revenue receives a collection assistance fee for these debts from individual income tax collections. For the calendar year 2000, collection assistance fees for child support debts collected through setoff were $324,013, bringing the total collection assistance fees received by the Department of Revenue to $1,024,840.

Electronic Payment Acceptance Project

The Office of the State Controller continues to evaluate alternative business practices in order to improve the Statewide Accounts Receivable Program. Session Law 1999-434 amended G.S. 146-86.10,.11,&.22 by authorizing state government agencies to maximize acceptance of electronic payments including credit/debit card payments. As a result of this legislation, the Electronic Payment of Accounts Receivable, known as the Credit/Debit Card Acceptance Project, was begun in March 2000.

A joint project between the OSC, the Department of State Treasurer (DST), and Office of Information Technology Services (ITS) was initiated for the purpose of providing the citizens of North Carolina with additional and more convenient payment methods. As with the other major electronic commerce initiatives in State government, the Credit/Debit Card Project follows an enterprise approach that intends to maximize cost savings by aggregating demand and attaining the greatest volume discounts from a credit/debit card processing vendor selected through a formal bidding process.

The ability for state agencies to accept credit/debit card payments is now possible because the State Controller has negotiated two contracts. Through a request for proposal procedure the State reached an agreement with Wachovia Merchant Services (WMS) to provide credit and debit card processing for electronic payments. The State also signed a contract with PaylinX to provide the computer software that now provides a common payment software connection between agency Internet applications and WMS. The signing of these contracts established a major component of electronic commerce to move North Carolina to the forefront of electronic government. The State, through NC@Your Service located on the Internet at www.ncgov.com, is now positioned to conduct e-commerce on a scale that will have far-reaching impacts for improved citizen services. Policies and operational guidelines, developed in support of electronic payments, will result in more timely receipt of payments made by citizens and businesses. This should ultimately reduce agency accounts receivable.

Need for a Statewide Business Infrastructure

Previous reports to the General Assembly have stressed the importance of implementing new modern accounts receivable, billing and collection systems. To date, funding issues have prevented the implementation of such systems. The State of North Carolina is currently at a critical juncture with regard to many of its financial management systems. Several of the State's central management agencies are considering the replacement of their key financial systems. Never before has there been a time in which so many of the State's core business infrastructure systems been subject to replacement within a relatively short period of time. Most of the systems under consideration for replacement are old, utilize outdated technology, and are becoming increasingly expensive to maintain. With the State moving forward aggressively with electronic government initiatives it is imperative that our financial management systems are prepared to meet the challenges they bring.

The State now has a great opportunity to consider the replacement of the State's core business infrastructure systems from an enterprise perspective and to select one business platform that is fully integrated and totally interoperable. However, for an effort of this magnitude to be successful, there is a need for the key players responsible for making these far-reaching decisions to partner, collaborate, and leverage scarce resources to achieve the fullest economic benefit for the State. The OSC will continue to collaborate with the key players to develop a strategy on how the State should proceed to determine the best administrative platform for the future from a professional, technological and business perspective.

Need for Additional Legislative Language

Other states have enacted legislation that allows those states to pass the cost of collecting bad debts on to the debtor. The OSC plans to request statutory language to support this concept for North Carolina agencies. The ability to pass the cost of collecting bad debts on to the debtor would place the State in position to potentially out-source the collection of bad debts without incurring these costs.

Pilot Program On Collections of Bad Debts

SESSION LAW 2000-67, HOUSE BILL 1840 contained a special provision entitled PILOT PROGRAM ON REPORTING ON COLLECTION OF BAD DEBTS BY STATE AGENCIES EXTENDED. The OSC must report the results of the Bad Debt Collection Clearinghouse Pilot to the General Assembly no later than May 15, 2001, along with recommendations on changes in law or procedure to better collect the bad debts including the feasibility of implementing a centralized Bad Debt Collection Clearinghouse.

OSC with the assistance of PricewaterhouseCoopers (PwC), developed and operated a prototype debt collection clearinghouse that resulted in limited collections. While the prototype system was not an on-going operational system, it did allow OSC to test the concept and provide a solid basis to validate the reasonableness of this approach for collecting bad debts. OSC will present a report to the General Assembly that will:

- Provide background information on previous accounts receivable/debt collection studies performed in response to legislative request.
- Summarize the activities, results and issues related to the prototype debt collection clearinghouse that utilized Windham Professional collection agency.
- Provide information related to best business practices associated with the collection of bad debts. The information will include alternative collection techniques to include Internet based collection applications as well as the potential use of an out-sourced bad debt clearinghouse.
- Document proposed legislative language changes in support of the statewide accounts receivable program. Particular language is required to support the ability for the State to pass the cost of collecting a bad debt on to the debtor.
- Provide alternative solutions and suggested next steps.

Conclusion

The State Controller believes that by continuing to stress more consistent accounts receivable policies and procedures, monitoring agency activity closely, coordinating best business practices among agencies, and establishing and enforcing procedures for write-offs and setoff debt collection, the State can maximize the collection of past due accounts receivable.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations

FROM: Edward Renfrow
State Controller

SUBJECT: February 28, 2001 Report of Overpayment Recovery Program

Attached is a status report on the Overpayment Recovery Program as of February 28, 2001. This audit is being performed in accordance with 1998 Session Law 212, Section 26.1. A brief summary of the highlights of this report are outlined in this transmittal letter.

- The first phase of the Accounts Payable Audit which included a review of the accounts payable records from July 1, 1995 through June 30, 1998 is now complete with recovery of some claims still pending. The amount of recoveries is included and explained in the report and Exhibit A.
- On the status report dated September 30, 2000, it was reported that the Profit Recovery Group, Inc. (PRG) had excercised its option to audit the next period which includes accounts payable records from July 1, 1998 through June 30, 1999. Subsequent to this report, the scope of this audit phase has now been extended to include the 2000 fiscal year (July 1, 1999 through June 30, 2000). The proposed completion date of this phase of the audit is April, 2002.
- In the November legislative report, it was reported that the PRG had subsequently acquired a new telecommunications division and requested a re-audit of this area which was approved by OSC. The PRG telecommunications re-audit is now underway with the findings for this portion of the audit identified in the body of the report. The expected completion of this audit is September, 2001.
- The Utility Audit team has been unable to validate any identified claims and the OSC is expecting an exit strategy shortly from the PRG communicating their desire to cancel this portion of the audit.

The Office of the State Controller will be happy to respond to any questions or clarify any information contained in this report. Thank you for your interest in this program.

AUTHORIZATION

The Office of the State Controller (OSC) was charged with the responsibility of overseeing a statewide audit of inadvertent payments. This audit was authorized in accordance with Session Law 1998-212, Section 26.1. G.S. 147-86.22(c) and amended to include the following special provision:

"No later than January 1, 1999, the State Controller shall negotiate a contract with a third party to perform an audit and collection process of inadvertent overpayments by State agencies to vendors as a result of pricing errors, neglected rebates and discounts, miscalculated freight charges, unclaimed refunds, erroneously paid excise taxes, and related errors. The third party shall be compensated only from funds recovered as a result of the audit. Savings realized in excess of costs shall be transferred from the agency to the Office of State Budget and Management and placed in a special reserve account for future direction by the General Assembly. Any disputed savings shall be settled by the State Controller. This paragraph does not apply to the purchase of medical services by State agencies or payments used to reimburse or otherwise pay for health care services."

PURPOSE OF THE OVERPAYMENT RECOVERY PROGRAM

The OSC conducted a competitive bid process for this audit and selected the Profit Recovery Group International, Inc. ("PRG") as the auditing vendor. The PRG's responsibility is to perform an audit and collection process of inadvertent overpayments by state agencies to vendors as a result of pricing errors, neglected rebates and discounts, miscalculated freight charges, unclaimed refunds, erroneously paid excise taxes and related errors.

Under a separate competitive bid process, the PRG was also awarded a contract to conduct an audit as part of the Statewide Utilities Overpayment Project which includes a review of utility services, rate structures and billing records.

As part of the audit recovery services, the PRG is responsible for identifying and reporting on systemic root causes and sources of overpayment errors. The PRG has, and will continue to develop recommendations for the improvement of the internal control structure in an effort to reduce future overpayments and errors. Recommendations thus far have focused on components and specific portions of the control system that show particular weakness.

PRG's COMPENSATION STRUCTURE

The PRG receives compensation for this recovery effort only when funds are recovered as a result of the audit and is a percentage of actual collections. For the accounts payable audit this percentage has been established at 31% for all overpayment recoveries. The percentage share for the PRG related to the utility services audit (gas, electric and water) is 35%. The initial telecommunications recovery compensation was contracted at 35%. A re-audit of telecommunications has been contracted at 25% for the PRG's retroactive recoupment of claims based on issues the State has identified but not pursued and 30% for claims based on the PRG's findings.

SCOPE OF THE OVERPAYMENT RECOVERY PROGRAM

Accounts Payable Audit

The initial scope of service for the first phase of the Accounts Payable portion of the audit encompassed payments for goods and services made by state entities during fiscal years ending 1996, 1997 and 1998 (covering the period of July 1, 1995 to June 30, 1998). Specifically included were all state agencies, hospitals and universities.

The PRG has exercised its option in the contract to continue the relationship with the state and is now underway with the second phase of the Accounts Payable audit. This second phase Accounts Payable audit will include the audit of fiscal years 1999 and 2000 (July 1, 1998 through June 30, 2000). Data gathering for this audit is now underway.

Excluded from both phases of the accounts payable audit are the purchase of medical services and/or the payments used to reimburse or otherwise pay for health care services. Also excluded from the audit's scope are any invoices or payments already in dispute or settlement.

Utility/telecommunications audit

The scope of the utility/telecommunications audit included an initial identification and categorization of the full array of services utilized by the State including pricing, rate schedules and contract compliance. The Utility Audit period spans fiscal years ending 1996, 1997, 1998, and 1999 (covering the time period July 1, 1995 to June 30, 1999).

POTENTIAL FINDINGS FOR THE RECOVERY OF OVERPAYMENT AUDIT

- Duplicate Payments
- Erroneous Payments (invoice paid to the wrong vendor)
- Overpayments due to pricing errors
- Neglected rebates and discounts
- Inaccurate freight charges paid
- Unclaimed refunds
- Erroneously paid excise taxes
- Contract Compliance
- Utility rate efficiency maximization

CONTRACT PROCESS/NARRATIVE UPDATE

Upon award of the contract, the PRG established an on-location presence and began the audit planning process with members of the OSC. This process included the PRG examination of the state's accounting/payment methodology, which included an understanding of the state's accounting/payment processes, invoice payment matching and processing. Additionally, as related to the UNC-Hospital audit, the PRG needed to acquire an understanding of procedures surrounding receipt of goods, how purchase orders are initiated, the handling of returns, how adjustments are made and how stock balancing was performed. As a result of the audit planning process, the main focus of the audit was on duplicate payments, cash discounts and freight.

Concurrently, the PRG began gaining an understanding of the electronic accounts payable and tracking system within the North Carolina Accounting System ("NCAS"). For agencies not directly using NCAS, a separate assimilation of the electronic data was required. The PRG Information Services Department began to assemble a strategy for effectively downloading and converting the electronic data in order to incorporate this information into the PRG proprietary software. Once built, this software package became a powerful search tool for identifying overpayments.

A third component of the process was the establishment of an audit plan, presented to the OSC that outlined timelines, methodology, resources needed and other information pertinent to an effective audit of the records.

The initial or first phase of the Accounts Payable audit for the period of July 1, 1995 through June 30, 1998 has now been completed with all claims having been identified. However, collections for this phase, are still pending on some identified claims.

Summary of Results of the first phase Accounts Payable Audit

As of February 28, 2001, the PRG has identified $525,678.29 in possible recoveries from vendors. At this date $174,419.45 is in the process of vendor notification, which requires the vendor to respond to the claim with either approval of amount or a determination of why the claim would be void. Transfers or deposits of $280,070.30 have been made to the Special Reserve Fund with an additional $71,188.54 in the process of collection from the vendors through the various agencies. Below is a progress narrative on major component areas from the first phase of this audit.

UNC - Hospital System

The audit was effectively completed on October 8, 1999 with initial claims of $306,377.57. This audit reviewed the disbursement functions, purchasing, and returns for credit, statement credits, and accrual funds. The major finding in this agency was pricing inconsistencies, with initial gross findings of $261,161.42. However, based on further documentation and communication with the vendors, findings were reduced by $76,949.60, and now total $184,211.82.

Disbursement functions, duplicate payments, and cash discounts represented $30,042.23 of the claims. Miscellaneous items such as freight, accrual funds, and statement credits accounted for the remaining $15,173.92 of claims.

Department of Health and Human Services

The audit was completed on November 10, 1999. All $56,389.46 of claims at this agency stems from pricing. Different pricing structures were found between the Mental Health Facilities. A review of similar products purchased for the different institutions and the lowest price for each product was used as a base price for all of the institutions.

SUMMARY OF ACCOUNTS PAYABLE CLAIMS

First Phase Accounts Payable Audit

During the first phase of this audit, the PRG identified potential overpayments in the following departments and agencies. A summary of total claims identified and the status of these claims is reflected in Exhibit A on the following page.

Department of Administration
Department of Environment and Natural Resources
Wildlife Resources Commission
Department of Commerce - Information Technology Services
Department of Correction
Department of Commerce
Department of Public Instruction
Department of Justice Department of Transportation
Department of Revenue
Department of Crime and Public Safety
University of North Carolina at Asheville
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
North Carolina State University

Cash discounts of $58,707.50 not taken at the time of invoice payment were included in the findings. Cash discount terms are reflected within the NCAS system for each vendor, and these terms are normally updated when a new Vendor Registration Form is submitted. The PRG reviewed the payment records for discrepancies between terms found in the system, contract terms and invoice terms. Then applying the most advantageous terms for the state, a claim was initiated.

Duplicate payment of invoices was the largest recovery area at $187,696.14. Actual dollars of recovery are low when compared to overall disbursements made by the various agencies. Few statistics for state government recoveries exist for direct comparison, but a larger recovery was anticipated for this audit. This assumption was based on the complexity of the NCAS system and the decentralized payment process at the agency level. It appears the NCAS does have strong system controls to prevent erroneous payments. Additionally a review for duplicate payments was developed that looked across all agencies so this review would assure that invoices that may be billed to one agency were not being paid by another agency. This review revealed very few recoveries.

Statement review represented $29,739.71 in recovery. This review examined vendor statements for outstanding credits as well as other anomalies. This examination netted lower recovery activity than expected due in part to the de-centralized nature of the accounting processes. Vendor classifications/naming conventions at state agencies were difficult to correlate and identify with a vendor's accounts receivable system (for example: Department of Environment and Natural Resources (parent agency), Division of Parks and Recreation (sub-agency), North Carolina Zoo (sub-department) were not associated as a single government agency) as some vendors did not recognize a government affiliation in its vendor name. When follow-up inquiries were made of the vendors, they could not respond adequately with the information that was requested by the parent agency and there was not a sufficient paper trail to further pursue these matters.

Second Phase Accounts Payable Audit

No claims have been processed for this audit, which covers the period of July 1, 1998 through June 30, 2000. Only the data related to the fiscal year July 1, 1998 through June 30, 1999 has been acquired by the PRG. Data for the fiscal year July 1, 1999 through June 30, 2000 has been gathered from the audited entities. Preliminary review of records for the period of July 1, 1998 through June 30, 1999 has resulted in validated but unprocessed claims of $141,402.66.

Telecommunications Audit

CONTRACT PROCESS & NARRATIVE UPDATE

The initial phase of the telecommunications audit revealed no savings for the state. At the time the audit was being concluded, the PRG approached the OSC and offered a proposal to extend the time window for the telecommunications audit.

The PRG had recently acquired a telecommunications auditing company that had an extensive practice in state government and the PRG felt that in order to produce the best product for the state a second look at telecommunications within the state might be warranted. This proposal was accepted by the OSC in November, 2000 and the re-audit is now in process.

The re-audit will include a review of the long distance and local services, as well as all private lines and frame relay networks. The outline of PRG's audit process for the telecommunications re-audit is described below.

AUDIT PROCESS

The PRG has begun its re-audit by working on site in the collection and copying of information not previously acquired in the previous audit. This information will include electronic listings of all state telecommunications account numbers by vendor with dollar amounts paid.

Concurrent with this effort, the PRG will also begin examining Customer Services Records (CSRs) and invoices from the telecommunications vendors. Copies of all current vendor contracts and RFP due dates for new telecommunications services will be accessed as well as network overviews/diagrams, circuit inventories, old CSRs/CDs/Invoices and state building locations information would be gathered. Lastly, a download of claims submitted by the State to the telecommunications vendors will be electronically archived and evaluated as potential issues.

Once the raw data is assembled, the PRG will begin its review of each invoice/data set line item for compliance to state contracts and/or current tariffs in relation to usage rates, discounts, USOC charges, mileage rates and one-time charges.

During the review the PRG will also ensure the correct quantity of trunking and network charges and the lines/circuits within the billing are actually in service to the state (service level and location).

Upon closure of the examination of these records, overpayment claims will be prepared and submitted to the vendor as the PRG identifies errors within the billing units. Upon issuance of the claims to the state, the PRG will coordinate the issuance of the recovery claims to the affected vendors and manage the expense recovery process. The PRG will also consult appropriately with the State regarding service optimization issues.

CLAIM RESULTS

The PRG telecommunications audit team is currently gathering contract information to validate potential claims with telecommunications vendors.

Utilities Audit

The other component of this multiple award contract was the statewide utility overpayment project. This contract was awarded about 6 months after the initial contract.

Electronic data collection for this audit was initiated by a memorandum issued by the OSC, on February 18, 2000, to all Chief Financial Officers and Vice Chancellors, requesting current billing statements on all utilities for all state agencies, divisions, and departments. Utility billing records from the NCAS for Fiscal Years 1995-1998 were obtained through NCAS. Information was then sorted into three separate utility services: electric, natural gas, and water/sewer.

The PRG collected and organized hard copy and electronic data that relates to utility services including load profiles, contracts, tariff relationships and pricing. Subsequent to that, the PRG audited pricing, rate schedules and contract compliance.

AUDIT AND ANALYSIS PROCESS

Once data was collected from the automated financial records, the PRG reviewed each utility line item and tagged questionable accounts, billings, and/or billing periods. The criteria for tagging included higher than expected variances in cost or consumption, differences in gross invoice amounts compared to paid invoice amounts, time gaps in billing records and higher than expected variances in cost for cooling and heating periods. requested one (1) recent bill copy for each utility account from each State Agency. The account information on the bill copies received from the responding agencies was utilized to develop a facility database and to request detailed billing and account information directly from the respective utility suppliers.

AUDIT CLAIM RESULTS FOR THE UTILITY AUDIT

While some questionable billings were identified by the PRG during its data gathering process and have been reported in previous legislative reports, no claims could be validated by the PRG. Since the PRG has been unable to obtain any reliable data, they have cancelled the verification process. The PRG has indicated to OSC that since they are working under a contingency contract, they are unable to expend any additional business resources on this project and will be submitting an exit document to the OSC for this component of the audit.

INITIAL OBSERVATIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

A summary of findings and recommendations was included in the Legislative report dated June 30, 2000.

CONCLUSION

The PRG involvement in the audit process is continuing. Continued conversations and periodical updates with OSC have helped develop a working relationship that has contributed to this program resulting in additional dollars to the State without distressing relationships with its suppliers.

JOINT APPROPRIATIONS SUBC9OMMITTEE ON GENERAL GOVERNMENT

Monday, May 7, 2001

4:00 P.M.

The Joint APPROPRIATIONS Subcommittee on General Government met on Monday, May 7,2001 at 4:00 p.m. in Room 425 of the Legislative Office Building. House members present were: Representatives Wilma Sherrill, Chair; Jeffus, Chair; Adams, Lucas, Barefoot, Wilson and Gillespie. Committee Counsel present: Michele Nelson and Marilyn Chism. (Visitor Registration list is attached for the record.)

Representative Sherrill chaired the meeting. She called the meeting to order and welcomed those in attendance and advised that there were no pages for Monday meetings but the Sergeant at Arms was present to assist with the meeting. She also announced the schedule for Monday and Tuesday, meeting for 2 hours on Monday and 1 hour and 45 minutes on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Representative Sherrill introduced Mr. Norris Tolson, Secretary of the Department of Revenue. Mr. Tolson presented an overview of the Department of Revenue.

Senator Warren asked if we have any state money in the North Carolina banks. Mr. Tolson answered that the checks go immediately into the banks on which they were drawn. This gives the Treasurer the availability of the money that day.

Representative Jeffus asked if there were some checks lost recently? The answer was "no". It was said that some returns were lost when one agency failed to process these returns that day but that they were there all the time.

Mr. Tolson continued by saying that the mission of his department was to administer the tax laws of North Carolina and collect taxes due from the citizens and businesses in North Carolina.

Mr. Tolson then introduced Reggie Hinton, Deputy Secretary of the Department of Revenue. Mr. Hinton explained the Facts and Figures of the Department of Revenue comparing statistics for tax year 2000 through April 20, 2001.

Representative Barefoot asked if they checked the figures on the federal returns before processing the state returns? The answer was "no", that they go ahead with the paper work for state returns. If they receive word from the federal government that there are changes and or errors, they notify the taxpayer of this information and make adjustments as required by law.

Representative Sherrill asked if all the security positions were in Raleigh or were there some in other parts of the state. The answer was that they are all in Raleigh. She also asked if they were all certified personnel. The answer was "no" they are not. Representative Sherrill wanted to know if they a member of the Security Division with the local officers at all times when an investigation is taking place due to a break-in. The answer was "yes".
She then asked if all the criminal proceedings were held in Raleigh or in the county in which the incident occurs. The answer was that at one time they tried to have the proceedings in the county in which the incident occurred but the problems incurred were so numerous that they now have a Special Prosecutor who hold these proceedings in Wake County.

Senator Harris asked what kind of backlog do they have now of cases to be prosecuted. The answer was that they do have a large number of cases not heard yet but they are working on this and trying very hard to get these cases heard as quickly as possible.

Representative Sherrill then introduced Randy Barnes, Assistant Secretary for Planning, Development and Technology with the Department of Revenue. She explained the work of this department. There were no questions by the Committee.

Representative Sherrill introduced Jimmy Cooke, Assistant secretary for Taxpayer Services. He explained the performance of this division very briefly as time was running out. There were no questions. (See Attachment No. 1 – Pages 1-60)

Representative Sherrill announced that they would continue with the Department of Revenue on Tuesday morning, May 8, 2001 at 8:00 a.m. The meeting adjourned at 5:50 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Rosa S. Kelley, Committee Assistant

Representative Wilma Sherrill, Chair

NORTH CAROLINA DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE

– OVERVIEW –

The North Carolina Department of Revenue was established by the General Assembly in May 1921, which was the same year that a net income tax was created in North Carolina. The department began its operations in the old Revenue Building on Hillsborough Street with 16 persons on the payroll, operating expenses of $88,000 and collections of $3.1 million in income and inheritance taxes. Today the department has annual collections of over $17 billion, a budget of $80 million, 1,270.5 employees and is located in the new Revenue Building on Wilmington Street where it relocated to in 1992. The department serves as the state's revenue collector and administers such major tax schedules as individual income, sales and use, corporate income, franchise taxes, insurance and motor fuels taxes. The net General Fund tax collections of the department account for 92% of the state's General Fund Budget for Fiscal Year 2000-01.

The department has undergone a significant amount of change over the past several years; implementation of the Integrated Tax Administration System (ITAS), functional and process reorganizations, and implementation of an imaging operation for the department's data capture process. All of these changes position the department to fulfill its long-term strategic goals of providing enhanced customer services and increasing voluntary compliance with tax laws. Having an integrated tax administration system and operating in a process-driven organization allows the department to achieve many of the benefits first envisioned when consideration was given to reorganizing around core processes in 1997.

Some of the key policy/program activities that will enable the department to achieve its goals are enhanced revenue collection processes, regional customer service orientation, expanded use of technology and implementation of a major initiative called the Streamlined Sales Tax Project.

The Department of Revenue plans to significantly upgrade its collection capabilities as suggested by a study that was authorized by House Bill 1433 of the 1999 General Assembly. This study recommended several projects such as implementing a case management system, installing predictive dialers and other similar systems and processes that would enable the department to improve its collection program, many of which are technology related. The department has completed one of these initiatives of outsourcing out-of-state accounts receivables to a private contractor. The program was implemented in September 2000; as of March 2001 collections total $12.0 million and costs to-date total $487,854, a net return of 96% or $11.5 million to the State's General Fund in just seven months.

In the first quarter of the Fiscal Year 2001-02, the department plans to issue a request for proposal for a contractor to assist agency personnel in writing a performance-based contract to procure the technologies that will help the department upgrade its collection processes. This type of contract is self-funding and requires all fees charged to be based on project proceeds. While this type of funding mechanism is new to North Carolina, it has been used successfully by other states.

Major organizational changes to the department have occurred since the department's last comprehensive overview to the General Government Subcommittee in 1999. There has been the consolidation of our payments and returns processing functions into a single operating division and the merger of the department's budget, payroll administration and fiscal reporting function under an existing function. Additionally, there has been the creation of a Taxpayer Assistance Division, Examination Division and Collection Division. The purpose of this change was to consolidate these major core business processes under a single management structure yielding economies of scale, enhanced productivity and greater coordination and consistency of effort. By creating these three new divisions, the department eliminated seven existing divisions, thus streamlining the department's organization. The department's operating premise is that if the organization is built around key core business processes that add value for citizens, then we've created the best possible opportunity to serve them.

During 2000, for the 1999 tax year, the department began using a new state-of-the art electronic imaging system to process tax returns and payments. With the use of specially designed tax forms, the Data Capture system was developed to allow information from tax returns to be scanned and stored electronically. The storing of data electronically will eventually allow the department to become less dependent on the filing and storage of paper documents.

North Carolina is participating in the Streamlined Sales Tax Project, which began in March of 2000. The project is an effort created by state governments, with input from local governments and the private sector, to simplify and modernize sales and use tax administration. The project incorporates uniform definitions within tax bases, simplified audit and administrative procedures, and emerging technologies to substantially reduce the burdens of tax collection. The Streamlined Sales Tax System is focused on improving sales and use tax administration systems for all types of commerce. Thirty-nine states are currently involved in the project.

The department continues to be a leader in the electronic filing of state individual income tax returns. During 2000, the department received more than 831,000 electronically filed tax returns. Additionally, the department continues to expand its acceptance of payments by electronic funds transfer (EFT). Gross EFT collections totalled $9.9 billion in Fiscal Year 1999-00. The first year of EFT collections in Fiscal Year 1993-94 totalled $600 million.

The department is currently engaged in a project to provide taxpayers the ability to file semi-monthly sales and use tax returns on-line. Additionally the department anticipates allowing the acceptance of credit card payments when filing the sales tax return on-line.

In conclusion, the department is actively involved in many initiatives to either enhance customer service or to provide a quicker receipt of monies due the State. The department is committed to the use of technology and the many benefits technology can provide. The proper compliment of personnel resources along with technology will continue to make the North Carolina Department of Revenue a leader among other state revenue departments. The recently completed performance audit of the Department of Revenue by the Office of State Auditor (as mandated by the 1999 General Assembly, House Bill 1476) needs to be given serious consideration, particularly with respect to the serious personnel deficiencies noted in the report. Only with the proper allocation of resources can the Department of Revenue be expected to adequately carry out its mission "to administer the tax laws and collect the taxes due the State in an impartial, uniform, and efficient manner". [An attached chart identifies the additional personnel recommended by the State Auditor in the performance audit.]

Mission of the Department of Revenue

To administer the tax laws and collect the taxes due the State in an impartial, uniform, and efficient manner.

Goals and Objectives of the Department of Revenue

The department had identified seven primary goals as strategic directions for the agency.

1. Expand communication capability both internally and externally.
2. Provide comprehensive training and development.
3. Improve taxpayer services.
4. Improve compliance.
5. Analyze and prioritize resources.
6. Implement total quality management.
7. Develop a comprehensive business plan.

Organization of the Department of Revenue

The Department of Revenue is a cabinet agency under the leadership of the Secretary of Revenue who is appointed by the Governor. The Secretary provides executive leadership along with the Deputy Secretary and five Assistant Secretaries who have responsibilities for the day-to-day activities required of the 20 operating divisions in the department. Criminal Investigations - Center 1609 (Program Number 0540 - Revenue Collection)

Criminal Investigations (CID) elevates the level of voluntary compliance with all tax schedules administered by the department through the enforcement of the criminal provisions of the North Carolina Revenue Laws. The goal is to successfully identify, investigate and prosecute those individuals and businesses that intentionally violate the state's tax statutes. This involves interviewing subjects and witnesses; locating, securing and analyzing books, records and other evidence; compiling financial data; making prosecution recommendations; drafting and serving arrest warrants; and acting as the state's chief witness in all criminal proceedings.

APPROPRIATIONS SUBCOMMITTEE

ON

GENERAL GOVERNMENT

Minutes

May 8, 2001

The Joint Appropriations Subcommittee on General Government met Tuesday May 8, 2001 at 8:00 a.m. in Room 425 of the Legislative Office Building. Three of the Senate members were present. Representatives present were: Co-Chair Maggie Jeffus, Co-Chair Wilma Sherrill; and Alma Adams, Daniel Barefoot, Gene Wilson, Marvin Lucas and Mitchell Setzer. Michele Nelson from the fiscal staff was present.

Senator Ed Warren chaired the Department of Revenue continuation meeting. The meeting began on page 61 of the report. (attachment # 1).

Billie Daniel, Director of the Corporate Excise and Insurance Division filled in for Sabra Faires. Sabra Faires had to be away for a tax meeting in Wisconsin.

Ms. Daniel reviewed the report pages 61 – 74 that includes Tax Research, Corporate, Excise, and Insurance, Personal Taxes, Sales and Use Taxes and Property. Representative Sherrill asked why the budget had increased with a decrease in employees. The detail information was not readily available and will be brought back later today or tomorrow.

Fiscal Data beginning on page 72 was reviewed and there were no questions.

Mr. Keith McCombs, Chief Fiscal Officer reviewed the Maintenance Contracts on pages 75 - 82 of the report. Senator Kinnaird asked where the printing is done for the department. Mr. McCombs said the printing is done, as much as possible, in-house and the rest, such as coupon books, was contracted out.

The meeting continued with Mr. Norris Tolson, Secretary. He reviewed the Budget Reductions and Continuation Budget pages 87 – 91. He explained that the 1.5% reduction is the amount the Governor asked for the department to make. It is basically program money, systems, education and processing equipment. On page 88 shows the 1% & 2% budget cuts. It cuts the "muscle and bone" of the department. Mr. Tolson said that the department brings in revenue and if major cuts are taken it will have to be regenerated or they will not be able to meet funding for revenue of $150 million dollars.

Representative Sherrill asked, " how much expansion did the Governor have in his budget for the Revenue Department?" Mr. Tolson answered "zero."

There was some discussion concerning the vacant positions. Mr. McCombs said they can't cut those positions that generate revenue and also they can't cut the support for the generating revenue positions.

There was also some discussion regarding printing. One person noted that she had seen hundreds dumped at a post office. Another person noted that in his area they are have difficulty getting enough forms. Apparently there is a difficult situation that has been created by electronic filing. In areas where electronic filing is heavy the forms are not used. In the areas of low electronic filing the forms are still needed.

The report was concluded. Michele Nelson announced that tomorrow there will be two meetings to do flagged items.

There will be a short meeting today at 1:00 p.m.

Respectfully Submitted

Senator Ed Warren, Chair

Delores Ledford, Clerk

direct deposit options. (See discussion on page 62.) Use of electronic commerce options should increase DOR's efficiency and greatly reduce the volume of work that has to be manually handled within the February – June period each year.

INEXPERIENCE WITH NEW EQUIPMENT DELAYED RETURN PROCESSING.

As part of its efforts to modernize the State's tax function, DOR purchased new equipment to enhance the processing of tax information. During the 1999 filing season, DOR placed in operation mail sorters, data capture scanners, and desk-top personal computers. DOR provided initial training to staff under controlled conditions. However, under actual processing conditions, unforeseen difficulties arose that required on-the-job training to solve. Table 15 shows the equipment, its use, and problems that surfaced during processing to hinder the refund process.

New DOR Equipment And Problems That Resulted

Equipment	Use	Problems	Result
Sorter	Sort and open tax returns	• Documents received that were too thick to be processed by the sorter would cause the machine to stop	• Mail required re-routing • Mail was processed at a slower rate by hand • Delayed processing of tax information
Data capture scanner	Capture information from return by imaging	• Improper maintenance caused scanners to distort the return image • Determination of the causes for paper jams • Proper document set-up to prevent image duplication	• Information input slowed • Delayed the processing of tax information
Desk-top Personal Computers	Research tax return information	• Operational learning curve for staff assigned to review suspense items • Manipulation of appropriate research screens	• Suspense items were cleared at a slower rate • Delayed refunds process

RECOMMENDATION

DOR management should review the efficiency of the employees involved in all phases of the tax return process, especially in the areas in which there were bottlenecks. After this review, management should determine what further training would be beneficial in increasing the effectiveness of these employees. The training program should include both permanent and temporary employees as they join DOR.

REFUNDS WERE DELAYED DUE TO THE LACK OF DIRECT DEPOSIT.

DOR participates in the electronic-filing program with the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). Taxpayers, filing electronically, submit their returns to a tax program software vendor. The software vendor then transmits the return to the IRS. DOR downloads the data approximately 48 hours after the taxpayer files the return. The 48-hour delay results because the IRS has to strip off the North Carolina return and then forward this to DOR. Additionally, DOR does not offer the service of directly depositing refunds to taxpayers' bank accounts. DOR management estimates refunds are delayed 6 to 8 days without this service.

Based on our analysis, we estimate that the State could realize an annual savings from use of direct deposits for tax refunds, as shown in Table 16. The amount of savings would depend on the percent of refunds directly deposited, as shown in Table 17. Savings would result from reduced costs to prepare and distribute the refund checks. There would be some start-up costs associated with implementing a direct deposit option for taxpayers. Issues that would need to be considered include: additional technology costs, some staffing costs, telephone assistance costs (see page 50 for recommendation on taxpayer assistance call center), and costs associated with tax form changes to include taxpayer account information. We are unable at this time to estimate the total of the start-up costs.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR should develop a plan to implement direct deposit of tax refunds immediately. As part of the plan, DOR should develop a strategy to allocate the required resources to this project to increase taxpayer satisfaction and reduce the operational costs associated with the mail process.

"SUSPENDED" RETURNS CONTRIBUTED TO REFUND DELAYS.

When the Integrated Tax Administration System (ITAS) detects an error while processing a tax return, the system "suspends" processing. The suspended return is flagged for manual review and correction. By the first week of March 2000, the number of individual returns in suspense status was nearly double the number of suspended returns at that same time for the previous two years. See Exhibit 6. Many of the suspended items were for tax vouchers not in place in prior years. At mid-April 2000, the number of individual income items in suspense had already surpassed the two previous years' highest levels, while continuing to rise. This was before the majority of on-time returns had been opened and processed. The maximum number of individual income items in suspense for the 1999 tax year occurred later this year than in previous years and was more than triple the highest number of individual income items in suspense at any one time for the previous two years.

Source: Department of Revenue

The increase in the number of items in suspense can be attributed to several factors:

- Significant changes in the tax form for 1999, which resulted in taxpayer and other errors,
- Data capture imaging more data than previously entered manually, thereby increasing the chance of an error being detected,
- Data capture not able to scan some forms from specific vendor tax packages due to vendor changes,
- A shortage of employees to handle suspense items, and
- An increase in North Carolina's population resulting in more returns filed.

In order to help resolve the volume of suspense items, DOR shifted personnel from other divisions, where their duties were placed on hold, causing their work to also fall behind schedule.

RECOMMENDATION

To reduce the number of items that are placed in suspense status requiring manual handling, DOR should continue to promote electronic filing. This would reduce the number of taxpayer errors and allow the input of tax information directly into ITAS. Since all taxpayers will not file electronically, DOR should increase its efforts to educate the public concerning the proper methods and format for completing tax forms. Further, DOR should create a tracking system that notes the causes of suspended items and look for trends in order to quickly and efficiently solve repeat problems. Finally, DOR should have a plan in place to quickly resolve any build up of suspense items when the volume reaches a pre-defined level. This may require additional staffing. See finding on page 68.

Objective 3: Review the internal organization and management structure, and current and future staffing requirements.

To satisfy this objective, we examined organizational charts, personnel records, and internal reports on planned organizational changes and DOR management identified staffing needs. Additionally, we determined the number of positions requested from the General Assembly and the number of positions approved. We used this information to compare to the needs we noted in various areas throughout the department as we conducted the audit.

Conclusions: Lack of sufficient and trained staff inhibits DOR productivity. We documented various problem areas throughout the report. One area of specific concern is for information technology staff. DOR is competing for technical staff in an area of the State where the private industry salary ranges are significantly higher than those DOR can offer. Additionally, due to workloads, training needs of DOR staff are not being met. Lastly, we note that there is a potential to increase the tax revenues to the State by increasing the number of interstate audit positions. Overall, we have identified 74 positions that we believe are needed to adequately staff the functions and duties discussed in this report. (We should note that DOR management has identified additional positions that it feels are needed which we did not address in the report.)

Overview

The Department of Revenue has a limited number of staff to perform all duties assigned to it by the General Assembly. DOR management must balance the available staff with the various competing priorities of the department. The movement of employees to different tasks, depending on which area has the greatest need, is a standard practice for DOR. During this past tax season, employees were once again moved to various positions supporting functions in critical need of personnel. However, this year DOR management had to make decisions on where to concentrate resources to handle a number of non-standard situations, including implementation of new technology, refund returns in suspense, the Revenue Generation Project, hurricane impact, processing Federal retirees' refunds, and refunds due to the repeal of the Intangible Tax. Exhibit 7, page 66, shows the organizational structure in place during the audit. DOR was making some organizational changes as the audit progressed to try to address many of the resource issues identified in this report. Exhibit 8, page 67, shows the organizational structure in place as of September 1, 2000.

Since fiscal year 1987-88, the General Assembly has approved a number of new positions, both permanent and part-time, to allow DOR to better administer North Carolina's tax function. (See Table 18). DOR management has been able to shift positions away from many areas where technology has been implemented to reduce the number of new positions requested. However, the number of taxpayers continues to increase, thereby requiring even more people to handle the volume of returns.

THE DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE LACKS SUFFICIENT STAFF FOR A NUMBER OF CRITICAL FUNCTIONS.

As we conducted the audit, we noted a number of areas throughout the department where there were backlogs of work, as discussed in this report. We learned that a major factor in the backlogs was DOR management's practice of pulling employees from all sections within the department to process individual tax returns each year. Management has been forced to do this in order to process the tax returns in a more timely manner. As reported earlier, the number of individual tax returns has been increasing as North Carolina's population continues to grow. Additionally, DOR has not been able to find the needed number of temporary employees to handle many of the functions associated with the "tax season" such as opening, sorting, and preparing the returns for processing. (See discussion on page 56.) Thus, management has utilized the personnel resources it has available, balancing competing priorities. However, to adequately staff the functions as identified in this report, we believe DOR's staff should be increased by 74 positions as shown in Table 19. We should note that DOR management has identified a number of additional positions it feels are needed in various areas that we have not included in Table 19. In examining DOR's list of needed positions, we feel that there is validity to the request, but we did not develop the level of detail during the audit that would fully support the request. Therefore, we have not included an additional 28 positions identified by the department. (Beginning on page 70, we have noted areas where we believe DOR management should continue to evaluate the need for additional positions.)

RECOMMENDATION

To adequately staff the Department of Revenue, the General Assembly should approve 74 new positions. These positions should be assigned to the areas noted in Table 19. As previously recommended, the General Assembly should approve additional funding for temporary positions so that DOR no longer has to pull permanent employees to perform non-technical functions during the tax season. DOR management should continue to monitor staffing needs and the effects of increasing reliance on technology. In our opinion, the technology DOR is in the process of implementing should ultimately reduce the number of permanent and temporary positions needed if the volume of work remains at the current level.

DOR USES A NUMBER OF CONTRACTORS TO RUN AND SUPPORT ITAS.

The complexity and sophistication of information technology (IT) requires specialized skill sets and expertise for employees at all levels. The State's existing personnel practices do not support attracting and retaining the best talent to support this critical area. The State salary scales for these positions appear to be below the private market for skilled IT professionals. This hampers the State in competing with local employers for experienced IT professionals or recent college graduates. The classification system compounds the problem by limiting the grade and salary levels of top IT personnel. This prevents the type of career growth available in the private sector.

The PD&T support organization (DOR's IT staff) currently has shortages in a number of key skill areas. To obtain these key skills, PD&T either shifts the work to other areas or employs the use of contractors. This is a standard practice used by other states' revenue departments since many may experience the same type problems. Since DOR must request new positions from the General Assembly before increasing its staff, contractors are used to complete the work. Approximately 20% of the PD&T function is staffed by contractors.

RECOMMENDATION

The State should continue to explore more effective ways of attracting qualified IT professionals such as establishing a career track for technology professionals that would allow advancement. DOR management should determine if the number of positions supporting ITAS requirements should be increased for critical areas within PD&T.

TRAINING NEEDS OF DOR PERSONNEL ARE NOT BEING MET.

Based on the results of interviews and surveys, employees who use ITAS are concerned with the lack of ongoing, hands-on training in the proper use of all ITAS systems. Technical and user training has been minimal since the original ITAS implementation. Lack of proper training forces the user to ask for peer support from other users at DOR who may or may not be able to address the problem. Peer support provides limited effectiveness in increasing knowledge and providing help to ITAS users.

All users feel training is a necessary part of maturation of the system. Staff reported that the training material available on ITAS is poorly designed and documented, which makes it difficult for new staff to understand system set up and operation. Adequate training will help employees learn new skills, reduce time consuming questions made to co-workers, and generally improve productivity. Based on interviews, the last formal ITAS training occurred 4-5 years ago when the system was implemented.

As discussed throughout this report, DOR experienced considerable work backlogs in a number of key functional areas during this past year. Many of the backlogs can be attributed to the fact that employees were having to learn new duties and procedures on-the-job. In reviewing DOR's training efforts, we learned that DOR does not have a formal training process; most training has been conducted by either the Personnel division or the Planning, Development and Technology division. Cross-departmental coordination of training was minimal. As a result, some sections received more training than others, and some divisions resorted to providing specific training only to their staffs. A poorly trained staff leads to errors, inconsistent procedures, and contributes to inefficiencies.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR management recently established a formalized training function for the department. At the time of the audit, benefits of this function had not yet been realized. Training should be coordinated and flexible to allow supervisors to better coordinate training with the workflow. As a part of DOR's performance management process, supervisors should identify each employee's weaknesses and determine what training would address these and enhance the employee's strengths. Lastly, DOR should make the development of ITAS training courses and training materials for staff a priority.

INCREASING THE NUMBER OF INTERSTATE REVENUE AUDITORS COULD GENERATE SIGNIFICANT NEW REVENUE FOR NORTH CAROLINA.

Many of the corporations that file North Carolina taxes have corporate headquarters located in a state other than North Carolina. North Carolina's DOR has a specific division (Interstate Audit) to audit such companies. There are 38 auditors in this division who perform audits of corporate income taxes, sales taxes, and franchise taxes. Exhibit 9, page 72, shows the states where North Carolina currently has interstate auditors working. For the period under audit, assessments by the 38[13] interstate auditors were [13] Of the 38 interstate auditors, 27 live in the states where they conduct the majority of their audits; another 11 interstate auditors operate out of the Raleigh office, travelling an average of 18 weeks per year. Additionally, most Revenue Field Offices have limited out-of-state territories assigned to them.

$85,396,024, or approximately $2,247,264 per auditor[14]. Based on information received from DOR, there are 18,000 active registered merchants with out of state addresses eligible for audit. However, with limited staff, only the most lucrative companies are being audited. Realizing this, the General Assembly approved 8 new positions for interstate auditors during the 1999-00 session. DOR is currently in the process of determining where these new auditors will be located.

RECOMMENDATION

Based on the analysis above, DOR should request additional interstate audit positions from the General Assembly. Increasing this function could significantly benefit North Carolina.

[14] This is compared to $34,951,695 or $249,655 per auditor for the 140 in-state auditors. By this comparison, we do not mean to indicate that North Carolina should cease having in-state auditors. They perform a much needed function for the State.

Objective 4: Review budgeting and the fiscal management aspects of DOR.

To achieve this objective, we examined DOR's budgeting processes and the fiscal management of State funds by DOR's various divisions. Additionally, we reviewed DOR's Cash Management Plan.

Conclusion: DOR's accounts receivable balance has increased 28% during the last three fiscal years. Management has not had sufficient staff resources to be able to actively work the accounts receivable and is in the process of contracting with a private collection firm to address this problem. DOR's cash management plan has not been updated since 1987. Additionally, different areas within DOR are not in compliance with the State's Daily Deposit Act, resulting in lost interest to the State. Lastly, we noted that the Motor Fuels division is not properly computing interest on Motor Fuels taxes and refunds due.

Overview

Budgeting and fiscal management responsibilities are assigned to the Financial/Accounting division within DOR. This division is responsible for all of the financial reporting requirements of the department. This includes the accounting and reporting of all tax revenues and disbursements under the Revenue Laws and the Machinery Act of North Carolina and the accounting and reporting of all departmental budgetary functions: processing of payroll, maintaining time records for employees, payments to vendors, budgetary transfers, daily, monthly and annual financial reports, reconciliation of bank accounts, and processing manual tax refunds. Additionally, the division prepares all annual and biennial expansion and continuation budgetary requests for the department.

ACCOUNTS RECEIVABLE HAVE BEEN INCREASING OVER THE PAST THREE YEARS.

Accounts receivables are assessments due from taxpayers, in layman's terms, uncollected revenues. Currently, the Office Service division of DOR has responsibility for accounts receivable. Over the past three years, DOR's accounts receivable have been increasing, as shown in Table 20. At

Source NC DOR

June 30, 2000, accounts over 365 days past due had risen to 69% of the total accounts receivable balance, up from 57% at June 30, 1998. This increase is due to limited ITAS support, lack of staff, and lack of technology tools to effectively manage the receivables. Failure to collect these accounts results in lost revenue to the State, and increased work for staff in the form of correspondence and telephone calls, thereby increasing costs to the State. Additionally, the older the receivable, the less likelihood of collection. DOR is in the process of developing a request for proposals for a performance-based contract for collecting difficult tax assessments, which should begin to address some of these issues.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR should implement additional case management functionality to more effectively manage its accounts receivable. This functionality should allow debt scoring and performance measures which will automate payment agreements and wage garnishments, track debt activity, prioritize cases, reduce case cycle time, increase the collection rate, and move cases to the most efficient collection resource. DOR should also move the accounts receivable function from the Office Service division to the Financial/Accounting division to allow for more effective oversight. Lastly, DOR should continue its efforts to hire a private firm to collect past due tax assessments.

DOR'S CASH MANAGEMENT PLAN IS OUTDATED.

As part of the audit, we obtained a copy of DOR's Cash Management Plan on file with the Office of State Controller. The plan has not been updated since its original development in 1987. Much of the Cash Management Plan is out-dated and needs to be made current. GS §147-86.10 requires all state agencies to have a cash management plan and to file it with the Office of the State Controller.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR should update its Cash Management Plan to reflect current policies and procedures. The plan should be updated periodically and forwarded to the Office of the State Controller to be in compliance with statewide policy.

SECTIONS IN DOR ARE NOT IN COMPLIANCE WITH THE DAILY DEPOSIT ACT.

The State has established certain timeframes for agencies to meet regarding the deposit of State funds to maximize availability. In certain situations, the State Treasurer may grant an agency an exemption from strictly meeting these deadlines. Our examination showed that in 1987, DOR requested and received permission from the Treasurer to have leeway in making deposits from its field offices. However, this exemption did not specify the timeframe that DOR should meet, nor has it been reviewed and updated.

DOR has 37 field offices located throughout the State as shown in Exhibit 10. One of the responsibilities of the field revenue officers is to collect monies from taxpayers on delinquent accounts. Additionally, they accept payments for current non-delinquent accounts. Collections are recorded on a daily report and the following day the reports along with the collections are sent via state courier mail to Raleigh to be processed and deposited. Based on data supplied by DOR, this process results in receipts being deposited on average 4 to 6 days after the initial collection. For fiscal year 1999-00, the field offices collected in excess of $210,000,000 on delinquent accounts and current collections, an average of $843,373 daily. The State could earn as much as $693 daily (6% interest annually) on that money. Therefore, we estimate the current process used by DOR for field receipts is costing the State $172,500 in lost interest annually.

EXHIBIT 10

Source: NC Department of Revenue

The State Treasurer has the authority to set-up depositories at local banks to accept deposits from the field offices. These funds would be credited to the State's account as soon as the deposit is made. While there are costs[15] associated with using depositories, these are minimal.

[15] Costs are for maintenance fee, deposit fee, deposit slip cost, per check depositing fee, and encoding fee for foreign checks (not their check) deposited.

We also found that the Bankruptcy unit is not in compliance with the Daily Deposit Act. This unit receives checks from taxpayers, directly and through Bankruptcy Court trustees, to reduce their tax liability. As checks are received, the date is stamped on the check stub and the check is placed in the appropriate employee's bin to process. The unit's procedures state the check turnaround process should be completed within seven to ten days. On June 12, 2000, we reviewed the unprocessed checks in the Bankruptcy unit. Table 21 details our findings.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR should consult with the State Treasurer to determine the feasibility of opening depositories at local banks close to the Revenue Field Offices. This would allow daily deposits of all field office collections. If the depositories are set up, DOR would need to modify its field office procedures to allow daily deposits while having the offices continue to forward the daily reports and deposit slips to Raleigh. Additionally, management should review the procedures used by the Bankruptcy unit to require adherence with the Daily Deposit Act.

THE MOTOR FUELS DIVISION IS NOT CALCULATING INTEREST CORRECTLY ON PAYMENT PLANS FOR SOME TAXPAYERS.

The Motor Fuels division is responsible for collecting, assessing and distributing motor fuel taxes in accordance with the International Fuel Tax Agreement. Since 1991, the division has used an automated computer system to track audits and assessments for Motor Fuels. The system, VISTA (Vehicle Information System for Tax Apportionment), also calculates the distribution of motor fuels taxes to other taxing districts based on the International Fuel Tax Agreement audits completed and returns processed. If an assessment was made prior to 1992, or the division manually calculated the assessment, the information would not be in VISTA. For all manual assessments, the division uses a spreadsheet to track assessments, payments, and payment plans.

A review of a random sample of 30 accounts receivable revealed that the interest owed by motor fuel taxpayers was not being calculated correctly on manual assessments set up for payment plans. Payment plans should be updated in a timely manner with accurate information that results in the correct account balance being posted. Division management does not have adequate controls in place to check the interest calculation on manually updated accounts or to check for data entry errors on manually tracked accounts.

RECOMMENDATION

The division should establish procedures that require manually entered or calculated data be reviewed by a supervisor as a secondary review. In addition, the division should develop a spreadsheet that could accurately track and calculate all payment plan accounts not on VISTA. A spreadsheet that automatically calculates the interest accrued based on the payment amount and date would help prevent any miscalculation of the account balances.

MOTOR FUELS AUDIT SOFTWARE IS NOT CALCULATING INTEREST CORRECTLY.

The IFTA agreement requires the State to pay interest to the taxpayer at a rate of one percent per month on credit balances over ninety days old. During our review of motor fuels audits, we noted that the audit software used by the Motor Fuels division incorrectly calculated interest on accounts with credit balances. Specifically, when an auditee has a credit balance in a quarter when a report is due, the software does not calculate interest due to the auditee. This creates a State liability to affected taxpayers.

RECOMMENDATION

The Motor Fuels division should take immediate steps to have the audit software changed to accurately calculate taxes owed. Until such time that the software is corrected, the division should take alternate steps to manually calculate interest owed or due resulting from an audit. Additionally, the division should review past audits to identify taxpayers affected by the mis-calculation and re-calculate interest to properly credit those taxpayers in accordance with IFTA regulations.

Objective 5: Review any other issues as may be deemed necessary or desirable by the State Auditor.

To accomplish this objective, we examined a number of issues that arose during the audit that appeared to have a direct affect on employee productivity and/or issues of equity among the different employee classifications at DOR. These are issues that affect DOR employee morale and productivity and may be outside DOR's control.

Conclusion: DOR should request a review of the interstate audit positions by the Office of State Personnel, specifically to address issues surrounding "locality pay."

INTERSTATE AUDITORS WHO ARE RESIDENTS OF OTHER STATES ARE NOT RECEIVING RETIREMENT BENEFITS, DISABILITY, OR LONGEVITY PAY ON THEIR "LOCALITY PAY."

DOR employs 27 interstate auditors who are residents of the other states where they conduct audits. Twenty-one of the 27 interstate auditors receive a "differential pay," ranging from 2.5% to 45%, in addition to their base salaries based on the cost of living in those states. This differential or "locality pay" is intended to make the salaries comparable to the salaries of like positions in those locations. The differential is subject to income tax and social security withholding; however, North Carolina is not withholding State retirement on the differential portion of the interstate auditors' pay. Similarly, disability payments and longevity payments are not computed including the differential portion of these salaries.

GS §135-1 states that the average final compensation for retirement purposes "...shall not include any compensation, as determined by the Board of Trustees, for the reimbursement of expenses or payments for housing or any other allowances whether or not classified as salary or wages." Since the interstate auditors receive a separate reimbursement of expenses, the differential is not a reimbursement of expenses. We found no evidence that the Board of Trustees of the Teachers' and State Employees' Retirement System had ever issued a ruling on differential pay paid to North Carolina employees who are residents in other states.

We did find, however, that when the interstate audit positions were initially set up, DOR requested a ruling from the Attorney General in February 1988 as to whether the differential should be included for retirement and longevity purposes. That opinion states ". . . the Office of State Personnel did not consider the cost of living supplement to be part of the individual's salary and would not be considered in calculating longevity." The opinion was based, however, on the assumption that the interstate auditors were residents of North Carolina who would be moving back at some point. We learned that the majority of the current interstate auditors are recruited from the states in which they work and are residents of those states in which they perform their duties for North Carolina.

We surveyed other states to determine how they compensate their interstate auditors. Most states surveyed pay either a higher base salary than North Carolina does or do consider the locality differential as part of the employees' base pay. Every state reporting out-of-state resident auditors consider the differential subject to retirement withholding.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR management should request the Office of State Personnel and the Board of Trustees of the Teachers' and State Employees' Retirement System to re-visit this issue. If the Board determines that the differential should be included as regular salary for retirement withholding, the employees should be given the opportunity to purchase the amounts not previously withheld to add to their retirement accounts.

THE DIFFERENTIAL PAY FOR INTERSTATE AUDITORS IS NOT ADJUSTED ONCE ESTABLISHED.

The differential is sometimes referred to by DOR as the "COLA" (cost of living adjustment). We learned that once the differential is established for a location, there is no adjustment made for changing economic conditions. By not adjusting the differential, some auditors could be over compensated while others are penalized based on changes in the economic conditions over time.

We found that the federal government also pays additional compensation to its employees to adjust for differing economic conditions. This pay, called a "locality pay," is used to provide federal employees comparative salaries in high cost of living areas. These rates are changed periodically based on changes in economic conditions as shown in national labor statistics.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR management should request the Office of State Personnel to review the equity of DOR's current differential pay. State Personnel should give consideration to using the method of adjustments established by the federal government. Should State Personnel find that adjustments are required for some of the interstate audit locations, DOR should request pay adjustments for these individuals to bring their salaries up to the local market level.

BACKGROUND

Overview

The North Carolina Department of Revenue (DOR) was created in 1921 when the General Assembly instituted the State's first net income tax. The Department is authorized by GS §143B-217. At its creation, the department had 16 employees. At the beginning of the 21st century (fiscal year 2000-01), as a result of increases in North Carolina's population, industry, and the increased complexity of the modern taxation system, DOR now employs 1,290 full-time staff, as well as numerous temporary employees during the "tax season." DOR has staff located in the central office in Raleigh, 37 field offices throughout the State, and 38 interstate auditors who examine revenues of taxpayers who live or operate in states outside of North Carolina.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES: DOR has been authorized to collect property tax, inheritance and gift tax, beverage and cigarette taxes, corporate income and franchise tax, gasoline tax, individual income tax, sales and use tax, and to administer privilege licenses, in addition to other administrative duties. The statutes state that it is the duty of the department to ". . . collect and account for the State's tax funds, to insure uniformity of administration of the tax laws and regulations, to conduct research on revenue matters, and to exercise general and specific supervision over the valuation and taxation of property throughout the State."

MISSION AND GOALS: DOR's mission is to ". . . administer the tax laws and collect the taxes due the State in an impartial, uniform and efficient manner." In addition to this, DOR's larger goal is to ". . . create a seamless organization of highly motivated employees empowered by leadership and state-of-the-art technology to provide customer service and increase voluntary compliance." Through the course of its work, DOR staff is guided by 6 key values:

*Employee Involvement	*Productivity
*Customer Service	*Education
*Organizational Integrity	*Accountability

By working within these key values, DOR management hopes to successfully reach its primary strategic goals to:

- Expand communication capability both internally and externally;
- Provide comprehensive training and development;
- Improve taxpayer services;
- Improve compliance;
- Analyze and prioritize resources;
- Implement Total Quality Management; and
- Develop a comprehensive business plan.

ORGANIZATION: DOR is headed by a Secretary of Revenue who is appointed by the Governor. The Secretary is assisted by a Deputy Secretary and 5 Assistant Secretaries who are responsible for the functional areas of: 1) Tax Administration, 2) Planning, Development and Technology, 3) Administrative Tax Hearings, 4) Field Operations, and 5) Tax Compliance. DOR management is in the process of realigning functions to make the department more responsive to taxpayers and to improve overall operations. Exhibit 7, page 66 shows the organizational structure in place as of September 1, 2000.

DOR currently uses several computerized application systems to administer North Carolina's tax laws, including the Integrated Tax Administration System (ITAS). Plans are for ITAS to eventually contain all the information relevant to each tax schedule in one central database. DOR also uses automation and computerization for everything from opening and sorting mail to retrieving written data from tax forms and producing notices of amounts due and refunds for taxpayers. One of management's most important assignments is to meet the expectations of increased collection and audit activity and greater demands for taxpayer assistance with greater employee productivity, value-added services, and wise use of available technology. Table 22 contains a snapshot of DOR activity for fiscal year 1999-00.

BUDGETARY INFORMATION: The Department of Revenue is one of the largest departments in North Carolina state government. It collects and distributes more than $15 billion dollars annually for governmental operations. These functions are achieved with resources provided by its $80+ million budget. APPENDIX A

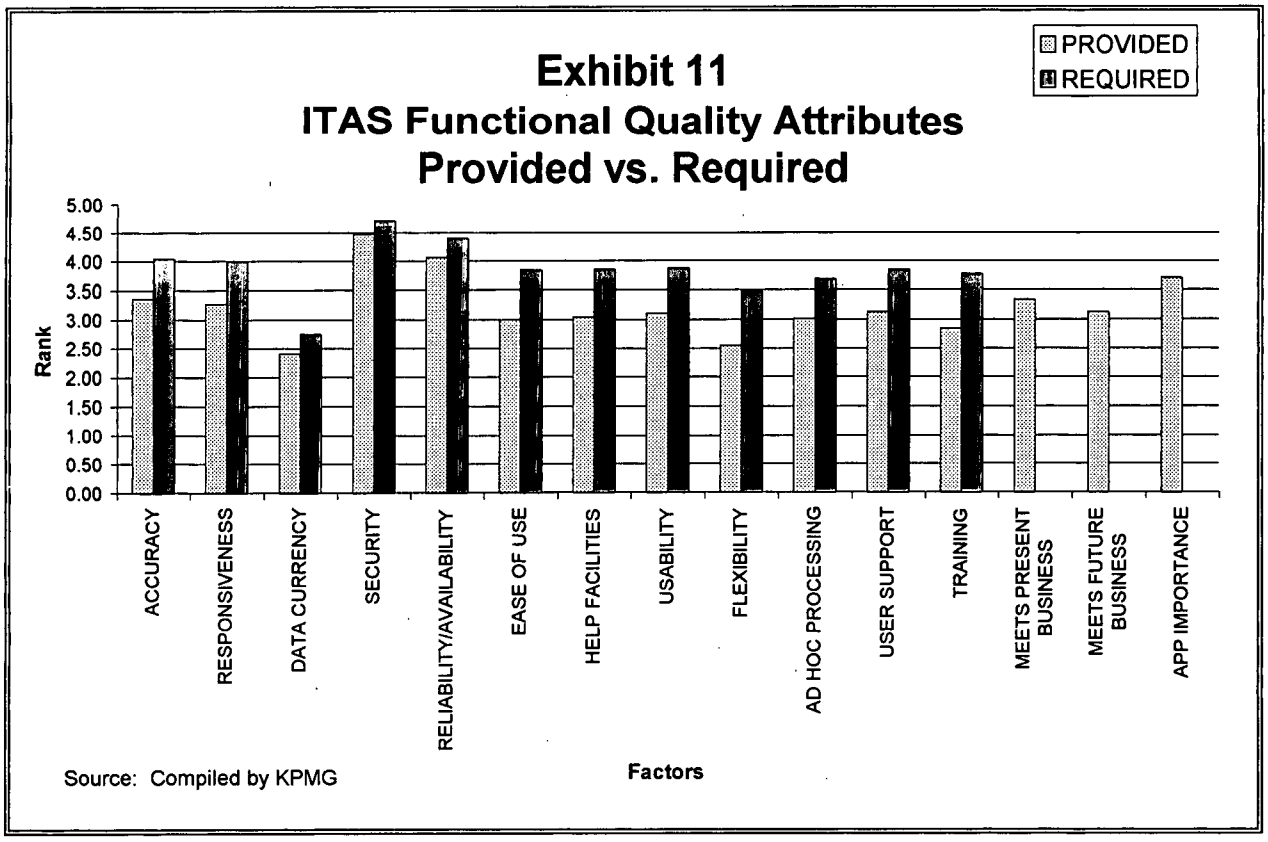
Functional Quality (FQ) Questionnaires

The FQ questionnaires were completed with the key internal users of the ITAS system. The responses provided significant insight on the strengths and weaknesses of the overall system. The FQ also allowed for the respondent to specify potential areas of improvement and assess how well the system meets current and future needs.

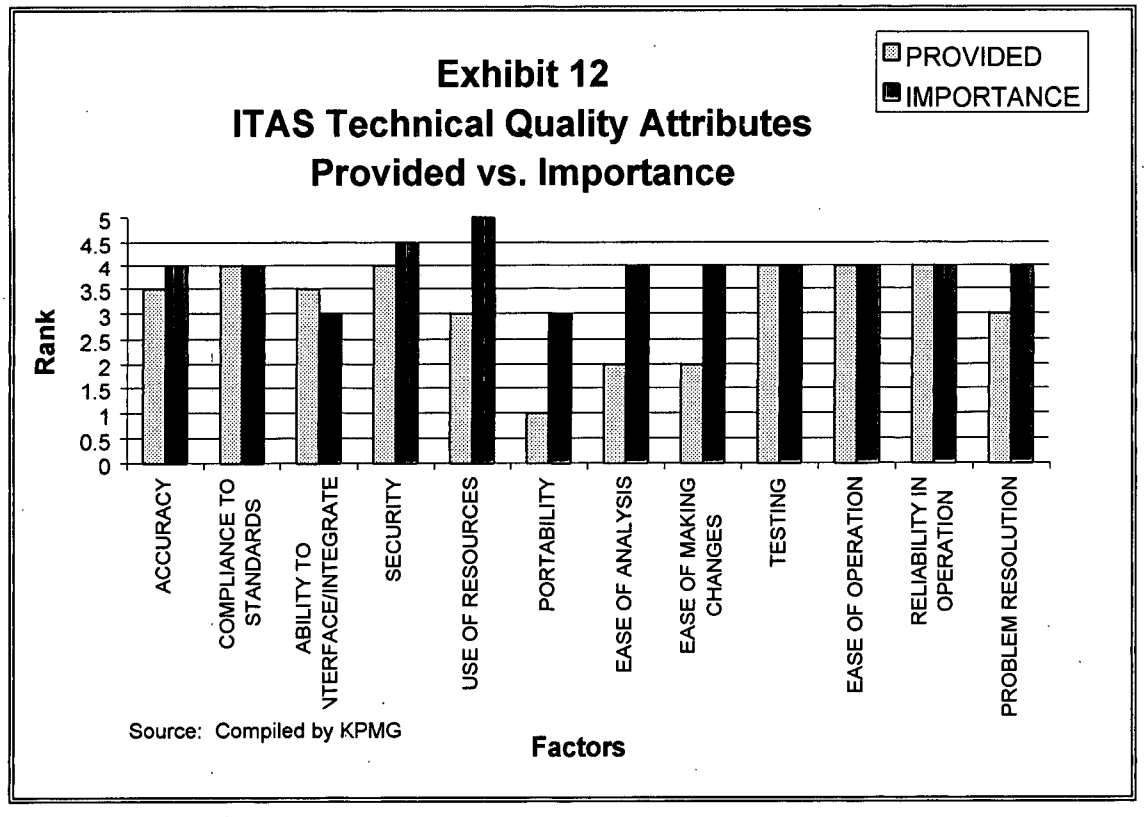
Upon completion of the interviews and questionnaires, the data was compiled through a set of KPMG proprietary algorithms to determine an application "score". These algorithms take into account the application's strengths and weaknesses compared with the department's requirements and relative importance of the various questions. The "Provided" column is the degree to which each attribute is currently provided by ITAS; the "Required" column is the degree to which the attribute is required by the internal users to perform their functions. There were varying descriptions for each attribute with "1" representing the worst/lowest response and "5" representing the best/highest response. The averaged results of the FQ surveys are displayed below.



APPENDIX B

Technical Quality (TQ) Tool

The TQ tool was utilized as a guideline for discussion during a workshop with key internal ITAS application managers and developers. The TQ allows KPMG to assess the soundness and quality of the application from a technical perspective. The "Provided" column is the degree to which each attribute is currently provided by ITAS; the "Importance" column is the degree to which this attribute is important. There were varying descriptions for each attribute with "1" representing the worst/lowest response and "5" representing the best/highest response. The averaged results of the TQ tool are displayed below.



APPENDIX C

System Requirements (SR) Survey

The system requirements survey was sent out to internal users who responded to the FQ survey and who utilize ITAS in their daily job responsibilities. This tool asked detailed, questions regarding ITAS to determine how each system function meets the requirements of the internal user, as well as the priority of this function to daily job responsibilities. The responses provided significant insight on some of the detailed strengths and weaknesses of the system as well as possible functionality gaps with ITAS. The "Meets Requirements" column is used to specify how well ITAS meets the requirement, with "1" being the system cannot perform this function and "5" being system does this function well. The "Priority" column indicates whether the requirement is considered to be (H) High, (M) Medium or (L) Low priority. The averaged results of the SR survey are displayed below.

North Carolina Department of Revenue

James B. Hunt, Jr.
Governor

October 25, 2000

Muriel K. Offerman
Secretary

Honorable Ralph Campbell
Office of the State Auditor
2 South Salisbury Street
Raleigh, North Carolina 27699-0601

Dear Mr. Campbell:

I have reviewed the report of the performance audit of the Department of Revenue conducted by your office pursuant to House Bill 1476 as enacted by the 1999 Session of the General Assembly.

The report clearly indicates that the Department of Revenue is understaffed in many areas. This is an issue we have struggled with for many years. Because we do not have adequate staffing, we have been unable to attain the level of service expected of us by the citizens of North Carolina and the General Assembly. We will ask the General Assembly for the funding needed to address these deficiencies.

Our responses to the recommendations directed to the Department of Revenue are contained in the attached document titled Response to the Performance Audit of the North Carolina Department of Revenue.

As you will note, we concur with most of the recommendations. We have responded to certain recommendations where we believe a response is appropriate to (1) clarify our understanding of the recommendation, (2) address implementation of the recommendation, particularly with respect to funding for personnel and other resources, or (3) qualify our plan to implement the recommendation. We have not commented on those recommendations with which we fully concur and we will implement them accordingly.

We take exception to two of the recommendations. Our reasons for doing so are also included in the above document on pages 15 and 16.

I wish to commend your staff for their objectivity, expertise and professionalism exhibited during the course of the audit.

Sincerely,

Muriel K. Offerman

APPENDIX D

Response to the Performance Audit of the North Carolina Department of Revenue

RECOMMENDATION

DOR management should devote more auditors to reviewing and processing RARs on a full-time basis to reduce the RAR inventory for individual income taxes. Management should also implement a tracking tool to indicate who the RAR was assigned to, when it was assigned, dollar amount assessed, date return was received, date of assessment, and length of time to it takes to process RARs to improve management control of this process.

DOR agrees that additional auditors should be dedicated to reviewing and processing RARs on a full-time basis in order to reduce the RAR inventory for individual income tax. The Examination Division currently has two auditors assigned to work RARs. DOR is taking immediate action to dedicate additional resources to process RARs.

In order to reduce the backlog of RARs and to maintain a current status of all RARs received, DOR will request six (6) income tax auditors and two (2) corporate tax auditors in its expansion budget.

DOR agrees that a tracking tool is needed for RARs. The Examination Division will develop and implement a tracking system to capture the items noted in the recommendation.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR should implement an automated case management tool to more effectively track and work accounts receivables. A computerized tracking spreadsheet/software should be used to track accounts, flagging them when they become overdue. A list of flagged accounts should be printed and distributed to the auditors assigned to collections. Division Management should more closely monitor collection efforts. Lastly, management should assign additional auditors to work the backlog of past due accounts.

DOR agrees that more should be done to collect motor fuels delinquent accounts receivables. Currently, collection of motor fuels delinquent accounts is the responsibility of the Motor Fuels Tax Division. As a part of the Departmental reorganization, this responsibility is being reassigned to the Collection Division. This move will incorporate the motor fuels accounts receivables into the normal collection processes established for all other tax schedules.

In addition, the 1999 General Assembly directed the Department to conduct a study of best collection practices in House Bill 1433. The Department employed PricewaterhouseCoopers to conduct the study and presented findings to the Revenue Laws Study Commission. The 2000 General Assembly authorized the Department to enter into a performance-based contract to implement the study findings as a part of House Bill 1624. New technologies, including enhanced case management systems were recommended as a part of this study.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR management should more closely monitor bankruptcy cases to assure the timely processing of Bankruptcy Proof of Claim Forms. DOR should implement a bankruptcy status report detailing the payment and closeout status of both individual and corporate cases. Lastly, all personnel should be cross-trained to assure timely processing of case files.

DOR concurs with the finding that all personnel in the Bankruptcy Unit should be cross-trained. Most of the support level employees have been cross-trained. The two administrative officers, however, need to be cross-trained and efforts have been implemented to begin this training.

DOR also has in place as one of its performance measures the tracking of cases to ensure that all claims are filed timely. While we believe this tracking system is adequate, we will more closely monitor these cases to ensure that the system is working properly. We believe the cases that were not filed timely were exceptions to the usual process employed in bankruptcy cases. The $7,579,179 in projected lost revenue was estimated from claims not timely filed. We believe a larger sampling would result in a much lower projected lost revenue.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR management should develop a comprehensive, standard set of procedures and guidelines for handling the offer and compromise function. Specific, step-by-step procedures should be included for each division, along with guidelines for handling situations where there may be differing details. Once the procedures are in place, management should monitor the adherence to and success of these guidelines in each of the tax areas, modifying them as needed.

The response from the Department of Revenue has been reformatted to conform with the style and format of the rest of the audit report. However, no data has been changed.

The administration of offers in compromise will be transferred to the Collection Division to facilitate implementation of these recommendations.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR management should formally document response time standards for responding to non-routine written correspondence. Management should review the types of correspondence being handled by the Taxpayer Assistance section to determine if using technology, such as voice mail or e-mail, could increase efficiency. Additional staff is needed to eliminate the backlog and to handle daily correspondence. See finding on page 68.

DOR concurs that the response time standard of 30 days should be documented in writing. In 1997, a business process reengineering team reviewed the processes of the Taxpayer Assistance Section with regard to correspondence and implemented several major actions that enabled the employees to concentrate on their correspondence. While DOR is very open to using additional technology to improve performance, we believe the current processes are close to maximizing employees' time. DOR management has conducted a personnel needs study and provided your staff with those findings.

RECOMMENTDATION

The Criminal Investigations Division should develop and maintain within each case file a checklist to determine what documentation should be included. A checklist would assure consistency among case files and provide assurance that all files contained adequate pertinent information.

DOR concurs that five declined case files did not contain case data sheets or final investigative reports. DOR takes exception to the statement that information was not readily available to justify or document the decision process or the final disposition of these cases. In four of the five cases identified, the files contained information on how the cases were resolved; however, the information was not on a case data sheet or final investigative report. The other case was resolved by the department's civil audit staff and a written explanation on the final resolution was not included in CID's case file. CID was able to quickly provide the examining auditor with an explanation of the relevant facts in each of the cases cited.

CID management recognizes the importance of maintaining consistent documentation on the resolution of criminal tax referrals and has taken the steps to insure more uniformity in division files. Case data sheets are now required for all numbered referrals and will include information on the final disposition of every case.

The response from the Department of Revenue has been reformatted to conform with the style and format of the rest of the audit report. However, no data has been changed.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR should immediately develop a formal, ongoing security awareness program for all employees. This program should be one of the primary responsibilities of the Security Division and should be continually monitored and updated as needed.

DOR concurs that a security awareness program should be implemented for all employees. The current level of staffing in the Security Division is not adequate to fulfill this recommendation. In order to implement and maintain the security awareness program, a Computer Training Specialist III position will be requested in the expansion budget.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR management should expedite the hiring of personnel to fill the three remaining positions identified during its recent organizational change in the Security function. The proposed organizational changes at DOR should provide the security staff with the infrastructure needed to perform daily security monitoring tasks, as well as participate in systems development/enhancement projects.

DOR concurs. To provide these remaining security positions DOR is required to identify and reclassify existing positions. DOR will continue to identify and reclassify positions to provide the Security Division with adequate staffing to perform the required security functions. In addition to the three positions listed in the recommendation, three additional security positions will be requested in the expansion budget.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR management should make immediate provisions for all system administrators to receive specific systems security administration training. It is critical that the systems administrators receive this training and keep updated on current information security issues and trends.

DOR system administrators are currently tasked with limited security responsibilities. DOR concurs with the prior recommendation to appropriately staff the security functions. At that time, all system security administration will be transferred from the system administrators to these positions and all security personnel will be trained in systems security administration.

The response from the Department of Revenue has been reformatted to conform with the style and format of the rest of the audit report. However, no data has been changed.

RECOMMENDATION

We commend DOR's decision to contract with the vendor for the development of a disaster recovery plan that encompasses the Data Capture System and related Local Area Network. DOR should implement and test business recovery plans for technology, people, and processes required to support key tax processing components.

DOR concurs, and has been developing a complete Business Continuity Plan that will provide a means for critical business functions to continue in case of a disaster. DOR will continue this effort as resources allow.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR should develop and implement an on-going communications plan for users of ITAS. Improvements to the existing infrastructure, which are already planned, will be required to provide additional communication tools. Additionally, PD&T should consider conducting annual user satisfaction surveys to gauge support of, and facilitate communication with end users.

DOR concurs. The recently approved Policy for Change to ITAS is now in effect and requires regular status reporting of ITAS releases. Also, PD&T plans to utilize a user satisfaction survey to enhance communications with users.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR management should work with the General Assembly to prioritize desired technology advancements. Management should continue to monitor the automation needs of DOR and communicate those needs to the General Assembly. The General Assembly should appropriate necessary funds to continue the modernization of DOR and maintain existing systems.

DOR concurs. Funding for E-commerce and technology initiatives, including positions to support development and maintenance of the E-commerce applications and hardware, will be requested in the expansion budget. DOR will continue to monitor technology advancements and state-wide E-commerce initiatives to ensure that the Agency can most effectively and efficiently meet the needs of taxpayers.

The response from the Department of Revenue has been reformatted to conform with the style and format of the rest of the audit report. However, no data has been changed.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR management should use the results of the surveys conducted by KPMG to focus development of ITAS' key components. Development of these components should serve to address the majority of functionality issues identified by ITAS users and improve the effectiveness of the system.

DOR concurs that specific components of ITAS are not as robust as originally promised and may require enhancements. In addition to modifications, some of the components may only require additional training for DOR personnel so that they can fully understand and implement all of the existing functionality.

DOR believes ITAS meets the basic processing requirements and it is worth investing time and resources into better understanding the system. To meet that objective, DOR has requested funding as recommended in this report for staff positions to provide training and documentation for ITAS. Until the current system functionality and capabilities can be fully reviewed, understood, and documented, DOR does not have adequate information to make a cost-effective decision regarding enhancing ITAS vs. implementing additional functionality outside ITAS.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR management should determine if functionality gaps identified by this review not included in the current software release schedule are appropriately prioritized and can be addressed.

DOR concurs. In February, 2000, the DOR Quality Council chartered the ITAS Design Review team to identify areas of ITAS where design modifications are required to enable ITAS to be used more effectively. The areas currently in review include Noticing, Amended Returns, Payment Processing, and Review Items. Once the team's review and analysis has been completed, recommendations for design changes will be submitted for prioritization. Implementation of the approved recommendations will be dependent upon programming resource availability and funding.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR management should determine alternatives to provide better management reporting. A support structure should be developed to facilitate users' reporting needs while limiting the impact to ITAS production processing.

The response from the Department of Revenue has been reformatted to conform with the style and format of the rest of the audit report. However, no data has been changed.

DOR concurs. The current staffing level is inadequate to support both ITAS Production and ongoing information reporting needs. As an alternative to requesting additional staff positions, funding for implementing a data warehouse and reporting tools to provide users with direct access to data for queries and reporting will be requested in the expansion budget.

RECOMMENDATION

Documentation of ITAS processing and user procedures should be improved. In order for documentation to be completed and consistently maintained, resources must be allocated to create, update, and maintain ITAS online help facilities, user manuals and documentation as changes occur.

DOR concurs. Funding for one training supervisor and three training specialists will be requested in the expansion budget. These positions would maintain the standard ITAS user documentation for use by all divisions in the agency and provide ITAS user training.

Operating divisions within DOR currently maintain ITAS user manuals that are specific to how that division uses ITAS, and parts of these manuals would continue to be needed.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR management should implement procedures for receiving user calls, documenting problems, and recording solutions for future reference. In our opinion, DOR should request additional positions to supplement existing help desk staff. (Note: Two positions were requested in the FY97-98 budget but not approved.)

This finding refers specifically to ITAS support and DOR concurs. Funding for these positions will be requested in the expansion budget.

RECOMMENDATION

PD&T should develop and implement additional performance measures. Additionally, PD&T should implement service level agreements with internal users to assure all parties understand what is expected of them.

PD&T is an active participant in the Department's business planning process. PD&T's first formal involvement in that process covered the biennium period 1999-2001. It is anticipated that as the process matures, the level of performance measurement throughout the agency will expand and develop. Meaningful performance measurement processes in organizations tend to evolve over time and require some level of experience and practice before the process reaches maturity. PD&T as well as all other divisions at DOR are fulfilling all of their responsibilities under the performance management system mandated by the Office of State Budget, Planning and Management.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR management should continue emphasis on identifying and refining the criteria used by ITAS to select potential audit candidates. Additional use of automated capabilities for selection of candidates and ongoing support for these efforts will be required to improve the effectiveness of DOR's overall audit function. As ITAS criteria for selecting candidates is refined, it is expected that the workload will be increased.

DOR concurs with this finding and is actively pursuing all opportunities to improve the effectiveness of the overall audit function. Using existing audit personnel, DOR has created a new section called Special Projects/Discovery. This section will actively pursue the refinement of criteria for selection of potential audit candidates by evaluating the success of each initiative. A case management process will separately identify ITAS audit selections and their assignment to field examination districts and track the progress of the case to final resolution. This section will continue to explore the use of automated capabilities and the full utilization of internal and external databases to identify potential audit candidates.

The Special Projects/Discovery Section will focus on the expanded identification of audit candidates using IRS tape extracts. This section will refine selection criteria to evaluate return discrepancies between federal returns and state return information on ITAS. Audit initiatives from tape extracts will impact examination personnel. Much of this audit process is being automated, however, the potential for expanded use of IRS tapes with ITAS return information will require additional audit resources.

As a result of this recommendation, DOR will request in its expansion budget 25 auditor positions and nine tax technician positions in the first year of the biennium and ten auditor positions in the second year.

RECOMMENDATION

We commend DOR for its exploration and implementation of electronic methods of providing services to North Carolina citizens. DOR should continue to build on the success of its electronic filing and electronic funds transfer programs by actively promoting their use. To do this, DOR should consider utilizing some of the promotional activities used successfully in other states. Additionally, DOR should continue developing electronic methods of tax filing, collection, and providing customer service to taxpayers. We fully support the recommendations made in the June 2000 Keane report that will position DOR as a leader in electronic processing of taxpayer data. Lastly, North Carolina's goal should be the processing of individual tax refunds for returns filed electronically and using direct deposit so that taxpayers' refunds are processed and deposited within 7 days of receipt.

DOR concurs. Funding for two positions to support the development of E-commerce applications will be requested in the expansion budget.

DOR also requested statewide E-Grant money for direct deposit, but the initiative was declined by the E-Government Steering Committee. DOR has requested funding for direct deposit in the expansion budget. DOR is launching an E-Commerce Strategy Implementation Team to determine an appropriate implementation plan that balances the business needs of the agency, our internal capacity to manage change, and available funding to maximize benefits for DOR and the State. We anticipate implementing direct deposit of refunds for the tax year 2001 (2002 filing season), contingent upon funding.

DOR also agrees that electronic methods of providing services to North Carolina citizens should be explored. By implementing e-commerce options, both paper returns and electronically filed returns would be captured in formats that improve the efficiency and effectiveness of our operations. Our E-Commerce Strategy Implementation Team will also ensure that DOR uses existing technology and processes in a manner that complements our e-commerce strategy. This way we can ensure that our plans are aligned with existing business strategy and that all resources are focused on pursuing the strategic goals of the agency. DOR concurs that a case management tool and automatic collection processes are critically important because such tools can have a very positive effect not only on collection efforts but also on examination and customer service activities. House bill 1624 from the 2000 session of the General Assembly promotes the development and implementation of technologies that will positively impact the areas cited in the recommendation and we strongly support its goals. We believe that such investments in technology would reap a multitude of benefits for the State of North Carolina and we will ask for support of these efforts through legislative funding.

As is customary in our agency, we welcome the opportunity to examine our internal processes for the purpose of continuously improving operations. We also realize that a customer-focused, mission driven organization uses its planning processes to identify goals, objectives and strategies that promote processes that add value for citizens. DOR believes that your thorough examination of the agency has revealed that there is a true commitment in the agency to such activity. DOR will endeavor to identify appropriate goals and measures for our business processes including those that relate to refund processing and direct deposits.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR should work with the State's Information Technology Services' (ITS) Telecommunications division to design and implement more effective telephone services. In our opinion, the system should include a taxpayer assistance call center, using a combination of telephone technology, interactive devises and live assistance. Additionally, the system should be designed to actively monitor the number of calls received by type to better tailor services to the needs of taxpayers. The establishment of a single telephone center with a toll-free number, appropriately staffed to receive and make outgoing collection calls and handle general taxpayer and customer inquiries, will enhance DOR's customer services and pay for itself in increased collections and reduced taxpayer burden through easier access to DOR. Other benefits include:

- Eliminate employee unproductive time associated with telephone use;
- Manage telephone traffic;
- Measure volume and type of calls;
- Match the number and types of calls with DOR employees;
- Reduce overall call volume; and
- Expand and allow 24-hour Voice Response Unit access from taxpayers.

DOR concurs that a taxpayer assistance call center should be implemented and has requested funding in the expansion budget to begin the project. DOR worked closely with ITS staff when the automated voice response unit (VRU) was replaced in December 1999 to ensure that DOR purchased a system that was expandable to a full service call center. DOR is measuring the volume and types of calls received, but call center technology would enable more data to be captured. DOR also concurs that funding should be made available to establish toll-free telephone numbers along with the technology to distribute calls to employees across the state based on volume of calls and available personnel. The recent reorganization establishing a Taxpayer Assistance Division will allow DOR to more effectively manage this function. One of the primary components of the Taxpayer Assistance Division will be 10 regional taxpayer assistance service centers across the state that will serve taxpayers locally, whether by personal contact at the center or by telephone. DOR believes the 10 service centers will allow more effective and convenient service to taxpayers who will not have to drive more than 50 to 75 miles for personal service rather than trying to communicate with the central office in Raleigh. The call center in Raleigh will be linked to these service centers to make effective use of the service center staff when they are not assisting taxpayers who come to the centers. DOR will request the personnel and technology in its expansion budget.

RECOMMENDATION

The Returned Mail unit should develop a better workload tracking system to avoid compromising assessment suppression. This data should be used to determine the resources required to meet the unit's workload demand. Additionally, DOR management should conduct a cost/benefit analysis of the effort and resources used to collect the outstanding assessments. If the analysis proves that the costs outweigh the benefits, then management should request a modification to GS 105-241.1 to allow DOR to proceed with the final assessment notice after a given number of tries to locate a more current taxpayer address.

DOR concurs that returned mail is a significant problem. If returned mail from the Post Office is not quickly entered into ITAS, additional assessment notices may be sent thereby increasing the backlog. In 1999, DOR established a team to review the returned mail processes and make recommendations. From that internal study came a better understanding of why returned mail is increasing and recommendations to improve the process. Based on those recommendations, DOR has taken several steps: forwarding certain returned mail to field office staff to assist in locating taxpayers; placing an identifier on notices to allow the Returned Mail unit to sort the mail more efficiently; and moving forward with defining changes to ITAS that will automate the resending of mail when a better address is identified. The Returned Mail unit does track the volume of mail on a weekly basis, but tracking individual pieces of mail outside of ITAS would be very time consuming, and given the backlog of returned mail, we do not see this as a good use of time. We do, however, concur that a cost/benefit analysis of the effort and resources needed for returned mail would be beneficial. DOR will conduct an internal analysis during 2001.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR should immediately devise a tracking system that logs the receipt of all amended tax returns, noting the amount of payments. To reduce the backlog of returns to no more than 1 week, DOR should add additional positions to the Amended Returns section. DOR should also continue to improve explanations on bills and assessments to reduce inquiries from taxpayers. This would free more personnel for processing.

DOR concurs with this recommendation and is implementing a system to track the receipt of amended returns.

The response from the Department of Revenue has been reformatted to conform with the style and format of the rest of the audit report. However, no data has been changed.

DOR also concurs that the backlog of amended returns should be reduced. Twelve (12) auditors and seven (7) tax technicians will be requested in the expansion budget in order to reduce the backlog and maintain an inventory of these returns on a current basis. The ITAS Design Review Team will also make recommendations to the Quality Council that will include procedures for automating the processing of all amended returns.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR should explore alternative methods of tax collection, including the use of private collection agencies and advanced telephone capabilities to collect past due taxes. Based on the experience of other states, we estimate that North Carolina could increase its collections by 20% or $47,093,031 of our past due taxes due more than 365 days.

DOR concurs with this recommendation and is currently in the process of identifying alternative methods of tax collection. In House Bill 1433, the 1999 General Assembly directed the Department to conduct a study of best collection practices. The study was conducted by PricewaterhouseCoopers and the 2000 General Assembly authorized the Department, in House Bill 1624, to enter into a performance-based contract to implement the study findings. New technologies, including new telephone based collection systems, were recommended as a part of this study.

The Department is proceeding with implementation of this initiative in several stages, the first of which is to refer the out-of-state account receivables to a private collection agency. Current plans are to begin outsourcing out-of-state account receivables on November 1, 2000.

A request for proposals for a performance based contract for a major technology enhancement will be issued during late spring, 2001. The technologies described in PwC's report will be the primary focus of this initiative.

DOR believes that additional personnel resources will be required in order to utilize the new technology and ten (10) telecollector positions will be requested in the expansion budget.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR should establish specific goals for refund processing, as well as a system to monitor progress, and communicate the importance of these measures to all affected personnel. Each year after the tax season has concluded, management should analyze the refund process to see where problems occurred and to identify changes needed.

DOR has goals for processing refunds each year as indicated in the performance measures established for the department. Attention will be given to ensuring that goals are clearly communicated to all employees. The total quality management philosophy that DOR embraces includes the review of work processes and the department will continue its review of the processing experience to refine the entire effort so that maximum efficiency may be realized.

RECOMMENDATION

We commend DOR's efforts in finding a way to handle the "tax season" volume by using available resources. Since the pool of entry level people is so small in the Triangle area, one option DOR should explore as a long-term solution is the feasibility of establishing a mail center for opening, sorting, and preparing returns in one of the low employment counties in the State. Table 12 shows unemployment rates for a number of counties within an hour's drive of Raleigh. The prepared returns could be transported back to the Raleigh center for scanning and input into ITAS. Another alternative would be to bus workers from a low employment county each day for "tax season." While both these alternatives have costs and security issues connected to them, both should be fully explored as long-term solutions to the problem. A more immediate solution would be to increase funding for temporaries to allow DOR to offer a competitive wage to entry level personnel in the Triangle area. Lastly, DOR should continue to promote electronic filing of returns as discussed on page 47 to reduce the number of paper returns that must be manually processed.

DOR believes this recommendation requires substantial study to determine the costs of implementation and the benefits to be derived. Issues regarding the establishment of an off-site mail center include security of the site and the mail, recruiting logistics, mail routing implications, length of the employment period for temporary employees and transportation. DOR has requested additional funding for temporary employees in its expansion budget in order to offer a more competitive wage.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR management should review the efficiency of the employees involved in all phases of the tax return process, especially in the areas in which there were bottlenecks. After this review, management should determine what further training would be beneficial in increasing the effectiveness of these employees. The training program should include both permanent and temporary employees as they join DOR.

The review of work processes is inherent to DOR's approach to its work. With the introduction of new technology, DOR has continued to refine procedures to eliminate non-value added activities as well as reducing or eliminating inefficient procedures. Baselines established during the processing season are important in modifying existing procedures and determining the level of training needed by employees. In addition to increasing the effectiveness of employees, DOR will request eleven additional employees in the expansion budget for document preparation and data capture.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR should develop a plan to implement direct deposit of tax refunds immediately. As part of the plan, DOR should develop a strategy to allocate the required resources to this project to increase taxpayer satisfaction and reduce the operational costs associated with the mail process.

DOR concurs with the recommendation. Funding was requested from the E-Government Steering Committee, but the application was declined. DOR has requested funding in its expansion budget to implement a direct deposit program.

RECOMMENDATION

To reduce the number of items that are placed in suspense status requiring manual handling, DOR should continue to promote electronic filing. This would reduce the number of taxpayer errors and allow the input of tax information directly into ITAS. Since all taxpayers will not file electronically, DOR should increase its efforts to educate the public concerning the proper methods and format for completing tax forms. Further, DOR should create a tracking system that notes the causes of suspended items and look for trends in order to quickly and efficiently solve repeat problems. Finally, DOR should have a plan in place to quickly resolve any build up of suspense items when the volumes reaches a pre-defined level. This may require additional staffing.

DOR concurs that there is a need to continue promoting electronic filing as the most advantageous method for filing returns. DOR personnel responsible for the development of forms and instructions solicit input from employees involved in taxpayer assistance and review of returns to secure suggestions for improving the format and instructions each year. The identification of possible errors in returns is the reason that returns suspend in ITAS. The suspense criteria are required to ensure data integrity. DOR does monitor the causes for suspense; however, the causes are not always easily resolved and often require revision of forms or instructions in future years. DOR is developing a formal contingency plan designed to address the build up of suspense items above a pre-defined level. In addition, DOR has requested five additional employees for resolving suspended returns in its expansion budget.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR management recently established a formalized training function for the department. At the time of the audit, benefits of this function had not yet been realized. Training should be coordinated and flexible to allow supervisors to better coordinate training with the workflow. As a part of DOR's performance management process, supervisors should identify each employee's weaknesses and determine what training would address these and enhance the employee's strengths. Lastly, DOR should make the development of ITAS training courses and training material for staff a priority.

The elements of this recommendation are already in place. In February, 1998, the DOR Quality Council established a team whose mission was to assess the training needs for the Department of Revenue. This included:

- Identifying training requirements (What training is needed to accomplish the Department's mission)
- Recommend training plan for employee classifications
- Identifying areas of training to be used in the training plan for employee classifications
- Recommending more effective use of Registrar System for tracking employee training
- Gathering information from public/private organizations on how they are structured for training

The team, which was composed of trainers and others who were affiliated with training processes, made recommendations to the Quality Council. The team had the authority to review and assess existing training processes within the agency and consider what future training should be. The recommendation report that the Training Team ultimately presented addressed all of the areas cited in the performance audit recommendation. The cornerstone of the team's recommendations was to establish a separate training organization in the department responsible for all training. That training organization was officially created in the Spring of 2000. The unit is currently staffed by five positions with plans to add additional support position as they can be identified within the agency.

The response from the Department of Revenue has been reformatted to conform with the style and format of the rest of the audit report. However, no data has been changed.

RECOMMENDATION

Based on the analysis above, DOR should request additional interstate audit positions from the General Assembly. Increasing this function could significantly benefit North Carolina.

DOR's Interstate Audit Section is currently expanding with the addition of 8 auditors to be employed by January 2001. A request for 2 auditors will be included in the expansion budget. The recruitment and training of new interstate auditors requires substantial planning and significant resources for the agency to successfully deploy these auditors.

DOR will continue to evaluate the need for additional interstate auditors and the placement of these auditors across the United States upon completion of the current expansion.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR should implement additional case management functionality to more effectively manage its accounts receivables. This functionality should allow debt scoring and performance measures which will automate payment agreements and wage garnishments, track debt activity, prioritize cases, reduce case cycle time, increase the collection rate, and move cases to the most efficient collection resource. DOR should also move the accounts receivables function from the Office Services division to the Financial/Accounting division to allow for more effective oversight. Lastly, DOR should continue its efforts to hire a private firm to collect past due tax assessments.

DOR concurs that an automated case management system should be implemented. Our current case management system resides within ITAS. As part of the project to determine case management needs, the current ITAS functionality will need to be fully documented and evaluated to determine the enhancements needed to meet the business requirement. Once that has been completed, DOR will perform a cost/benefit analysis comparing enhancements to ITAS with the implementation of a new case management tool and we will proceed according to the results of that analysis.

We do not concur with the recommendation that the account receivables function should be moved to the Financial/Accounting division. The collection of all delinquent accounts are, or will become, the responsibility of the Collection Division who will carry out the collection function and will exercise the appropriate oversight of the activity.

The response from the Department of Revenue has been reformatted to conform with the style and format of the rest of the audit report. However, no data has been changed.

Outsourcing of past due assessments to private firms was addressed in the response to the recommendation relating to "alternative methods of tax collection".

RECOMMENDATION

DOR should update its Cash Management Plan to reflect current policies and procedures. The plan should be updated periodically and forwarded to the Office of the State Controller to be in compliance with statewide policy.

DOR concurs that the Plan should be updated to reflect recent changes in receiving and depositing tax receipts resulting from the installation of new data capture and remittance processing equipment. There had been no substantive changes in these procedures since 1986 when an automated remittance processing system was first installed and the Plan was first written to describe those processes.

RECOMMENDATION

DOR should consult with the State Treasurer to determine the feasibility of opening depositories at local banks close to the Revenue Field Offices. This would allow daily deposits of all field office collections. If the depositories are set up, DOR would need to modify its field office procedures to allow daily deposits while having the offices continue to forward the daily reports and deposit slips to Raleigh. Additionally, management should review the procedures used by the Bankruptcy unit to require adherence with the Daily Deposit Act.

DOR does not concur with this recommendation. The issue of field personnel depositing tax receipts to local banks has been studied a number of times and we do not find it to be practical or feasible. Deposits by local offices would prevent DOR from utilizing the data capture and remittance processing equipment recently installed at the agency. In addition, there would be quality control issues in allowing 36 offices to process tax payments and deposits; the image of the check as the standard audit trail would be lost; reconciliation of deposits and processing of tax returns will still have to occur in the Revenue Building when the tax returns and payment documents are received from the local offices; the Department of the State Treasurer would incur the cost of time and personnel to perform bank reconciliation functions with deposits being made by local offices across the state; and deposit duties would be an additional responsibility to field collection personnel whose time is already being fully utilized to collect outstanding tax liabilities. As an observation to the recommendation, the calculations for interest earnings assumed the total $210,000,000 was available to earn interest for the entire year. The monies cited in the report were collected throughout the year.

The response from the Department of Revenue has been reformatted to conform with the style and format of the rest of the audit report. However, no data has been changed.

APPENDIX D

The Bankruptcy unit concurs with the finding and has now implemented a revised process for checks received in the Bankruptcy unit. The checks will be sent to the Financial Services Division for deposit within 24 hours of receipt of the check.

APPROPRIATIONS SUBCOMMITTEE

ON

GENERAL GOVERNMENT

Minutes

May 8, 2001

The Joint Appropriations Subcommittee on General Government met Tuesday May 8, 2001 at 1:00 p.m. in Room 425 of the Legislative Office Building. Two of the Senate members were present. Representatives present were: Co-Chair Maggie Jeffus, Co-Chair Wilma Sherrill; and Daniel Barefoot, Marvin Lucas and Mitchell Setzer. Michele Nelson from the fiscal staff was present.

Senator Ed Warren chaired the Department of Revenue continuation meeting with Ralph Campbell, State Auditor.

Mr. Campbell thanked the committee for the opportunity to review the performance audit report from October 2000 with the appropriations subcommittee on General Government. He said that this report was done at the request of the Legislature. The request was to report on the department's use of technology with a special emphasis on the integrated tax administration system. (ITEST). Mr. Campbell commented that while they found some areas where they feel that improvements can be made, the department is operating as efficiently as possible given the levels of automation and staff at the time. He noted that by using technology, the department has the opportunity to greatly reduce the turn around time for returns. All of the major recommendations are contained in the report. (attachment # 1).

Janet Hayes the performance audit manager for the state office, reviewed the one page summary of the performance audit. (attachment #2) Everything is interrelated and on the handout is connected by arrows.

Senator Kinnard brought up the issue of the interactive system and there was some general discussion. The system works very well and is efficient for those who know how to use it. One point is that there is a phone number for getting to a "real live person" for help.

Representative Sherrill brought up the issue of relocating the department out of the area and the costs that would be incurred. There would be additional costs, particularly for housing at an outside location. They are looking at possibilities to resolve the space problems, but it will not be a part of this budget. They are hopeful of space being found in Raleigh, because of the resources available and personnel that are already here.

Senator Kinnard asked about the banks handling the checks. The Commissioner responded that the Department of Revenue can do it more efficiently and have the data available for use as needed.

Here being no other business, the meeting was adjourned. The next meeting is scheduled for Wednesday May 9, 2001 at 8:00 a.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Senator Ed Warren, Chair

Delores Ledford, Clerk

JOINT
ON
GENERAL GOVERNMENT

May 9, 2001
8:00 a.m.

The Joint APPROPRIATIONS Subcommittee on General Government met on Wednesday, May 9, 2001 at 8:00 a.m. in Room 425 of the Legislative Office Building. The following House members were present: Chairs Jeffus and Sherrill, Representatives Adams, Barefoot, Lucas, Setzer, and Wilson. There were two Senate members present. Committee Staff present were: Michele Nelson and Marilyn Chism. A Visitor Registration list is attached and made part of the minutes.

Representative Jeffus called the meeting to order and introduced the pages: Jeremy Newton of Asheboro sponsored by Senator Eleanor Kinnaird, Chris Myers of Sanford sponsored by Senator Oscar Harris, and Larry Hollaway of Raleigh sponsored by Representative Rick Eddins.

Representative Jeffus announced that the committee is going through the continuation budget review of flagged items.

STATE BOARD OF ELECTIONS (See Attachment 1)

Mr. Gary O. Bartlett was present to answer any questions on the two flagged items. The first area flagged was the copy revenue report. On page 1 reflects revenue generated in the office and the General Statutes that supported the collected revenue. The second area that was flagged was the disbursement of special appropriation for additional one-stop absentee voting sites. The total of the grant was $250,000 and the total disbursed was $173,907. A list and the amount disbursed to designated counties are reflected on page 8 of Attachment 1. There is a balance of $76,093. However, House Bill 978 would make grants to seven additional counties who participated in the program in the amount $60,000. The remaining $16,000 could be applied to the targeted reversion.

Mr. Bartlett did not have the one and two percent reductions from his department but will deliver to the afternoon committee meeting.

OFFICE OF STATE AUDITOR (See Attachment 2)

Representative Jeffus recognized State Auditor Ralph Campbell. He stated that the flagged item is the printing and distribution of audit reports. They will move forward with the electronic distribution of the audit reports. The office produces hundreds of audit reports that are sent to each member of the General Assembly. They produce annually more than two hundred and sixteen audits. The letter dated May 8th addressed to the committee is about statutory changes within General Statute 147-64.6. This provision requires the distribution of audit reports that can be done either in a written or electronic format. By July 1, 2001, they plan to go to electronic distribution. The agencies that they audit will be provided with a limited number of audit reports in the future and copies can be downloaded as needed. They will tract the savings of not furnishing hardcopies and the postage cost. The agency has always had the practice of having double-sided copies. They have also contracted some of the audits of the smart start program that were not double sided. However, in the future they will be changed and will also be electronically distributed in the future. They need a statutory change concerning printed material since the statute is very limited.

THE GOVERNOR'S OFFICE (See Attachment 3)

Representative Jeffus recognized Ms. Susan Rabon, Senior Assistant for Administration with the Governor's Office. Ms. Rabon presented the potential additional reductions as requested. A request was made that she bring to the afternoon meeting the amount of money per position in the governor's office funded by other agencies. (See Page 3, Attachment 3) Ms. Rabon pointed out that Ms. Susan Murphy, Special Assistant to Boards and Commission funded though May 31, 2001, by the Office of State Personnel will not be filled. Also, Ms. Meredith Winebarger, Fellow, by the Division of Motor Vehicles, Department of Transportation, has resigned and the position will not be filled.

OFFICE OF STATE BUDGET, PLANNING AND MANAGEMENT
(See Attachment 4)

Mr. David McCoy, State Budget Officer, stated that they were asked to report to the committee regarding any potential cost savings gained by merging the North Carolina Geological Survey with the North Carolina Geodetic Survey. There is no cost saving from the consolidation but may be a coordination savings. His recommendation would be to preserve the status quo.

OFFICE OF STATE PERSONNEL (See Attachment 5)

Mr. Steve Davis, Assistant State Personnel Director, filled in for Mr. Tom Wright, Director, due to his father's illness. He covered their proposed budget reductions, which the committee had requested. Also, he covered their one and two percent reductions.

He stated that there are nine items that have been flagged.

I. Employee Demographics: (See Attachment 5, pages 1-93)

This is a breakdown by demographics of each agency and university that covers specific time periods (1997, 1998, and 1999) and broken down by gender and race. Mr. Davis stated that they have the 2000 record. Anytime someone is hired there is a record that will carry this demographic information. They could produce a record of December 2000 since they are into 2001 far enough to have a firm database. The reason for lag time is those agencies that are not on central payroll which include some state agencies and some universities give them personnel transactions but it takes about eight weeks to get the information into the main system. Mr. Davis said that he could provide the 2000 information that is presently in their database.

II. Governor's Public Management Program Retention Rate: (See Attachment 5, page 94)

This is a brief outline of the Governor's Public Management Fellows Program Retention rate. This is divided into three cycles and each cycle is called a Cohort. In 1998, this program was established by an executive order. This is a two-year commitment by the graduates. The retention rate has increased with each cohort. It is an effective program, highly successful and increased interest in the program. It has met its initial goal which is to insure that the state increases its competitive posture in the labor market for those with degree program that lend themselves well to public service. The state does not enter into contractual agreements with employees as a means of employment. The state application and the recruitment process is sufficient commitment to employment. They are not tracked following the program except as to which agency they enter. Mr. Davis stated that they dedicate one position to each fellow, that is about $32,000 and the next year it is raised to $34,000. Each agency does recruitment on campuses and could duplicate the program.

Representative Sherrill stated that she is not going to recommend that the person that handles the Fellows Program in the agency be removed but understands that there is a reorganization going on in the Department. Her motion is that the Governor's Public Management Fellows Program be abolished.

Representative Adams wanted to know, why abolish the program? Representative Sherrill stated that each agency is out on the campuses anyway. Representative Adams inquired about the downside. Mr. Davis stated that potentially one disadvantage is that there is duplicated efforts among agencies and universities that would participate in the program if they set up a program as an ongoing recruitment effort. They have the capacity but do not know if they have the staff. You would loose that central statewide coordinated effort that makes administratively the program easier to operate because they have one session for screening, and one session for assessing these candidates that come in from all over the state at their expense.

Senator Harris stated that the motion was to abolish and now the committee is discussing transfer and that is two different things. Personnel would not eliminate any positions and at the same time if transferred to other agencies we are probably creating additional duties and responsibilities for them and might be creating more positions than what is in place. Also, if one agency does not want a person, another agency might and in a central location, they would know that. It should be clarified if the motion is to transfer or to abolish. Representative Sherrill stated that she had additional information that she will bring to the next meeting before a vote is taken. Representative Jeffus stated that this motion would be placed on hold until further information is provided.

III. Temporary Employees: (See Attachment 5, Page 95)

Mr. Davis responded that the average hourly rate for temporary employees is $11.88. Also, the number of temporaries employed is impossible to answer as they can come to state government in many different ways. Mr. Davis called on Ms. Peggy Oliver to answer a question as to how much an employee receives when hired by Temporary Solutions. She stated that they set the rate on what the job is in relationship to their regular classification and then add one dollar per hour.

IV. Travel Expenditures: (See Attachment 5, Pages 96-97)

Mr. Davis continued that it was requested that they provide a breakdown of travel expenditures by Divisions. On page 96 is a chart of the travel by Division and on page 97 the purpose of travel expenditures.

V. Information and Technology: (See Attachment 5, Pages 98-100)

On page 98 is a summary of Personnel Management Information System Costs and on pages 99 and 100, is information on the System, which contains histories on employees and positions since 1975. Ms. Michele Nelson stated that in the last fiscal year, they have experienced a shortfall of about $200,000. When making budget adjustments, the committee should keep this in mind.

VI. Proposed Budget Cuts/Additional Budget Information: (See Attachment 5, Pages 100-105)

Beginning on page 101 is a breakdown by division that gives funding information for the agencies' line item in their budget. Continuing on page 102, the numbers of human resources Consultants by Division and at Grades 73, 75 and 77. Following on page 103 and 104, there is a more specific listing breakdown by division and identifies human resource consultants by their specific salary and where they are located, grade and salary. On page 105, there is information on the span of control by division. (1:02 means one supervisor with 2 employees)

VII. Model Cooperative Education Program: (See Attachment 5, Page 106)

Mr. Davis continued that on page 106 is detailed information of the background, purpose, benefits to the state and students, requirements of student, operation of program-equal opportunity services division and the operation of program-agency.

VIII. Turnover Information: (See Attachment 5, Page 107)

On page 107, the turnover information requested is provided. The average turnover rate is 15.35 percent and is broken down into voluntary and involuntary reasons and by occupational grouping.

IX. Proposed Budget Reductions: (See Attachment 5, Pages 108-109)

The equivalent amount for a one percent reduction proposal on page 108 is for the abolishment of position 4030, human resource manager. This manager has been on their management team but think they can absorb the responsibilities. They have reduced the line items listed by five percent that would generate $10,733. The next block is a summary that gives a total of $82,821.

On page 109 is an alternative proposal reflecting a two percent reduction and would achieve that by reducing the positions listed in the first block to the minimum and would abolish two positions. They would reduce the same line items by five percent. The last block gives a summary and the total for two percent is $165,642.

Representative Jeffus suggested that since they have information to be brought back to the committee that they wait on a vote on this particular agency.

OFFICE OF THE LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR (Attachment 6)

Ms. Michelle Nelson presented the one and two percent reductions. The figures before the committee has been revised in terms of the one and two percent reductions for this office. Previously, when the budget was presented there were some changes required. The one percent in addition to what the governor's package was a $10,000 reduction that would provide about $17,000 reduction each year. Also, the two percent is listed.

Voted on and was accepted.

OFFICE OF STATE CONTROLLER (Attachment 7)

Ms. Michelle Nelson presented the one percent and two percent budget reductions for the Office Of State Controller. They presented an alternative in others areas of their budget as opposed to what was presented previously. Ms. Gwen Canady of the Controller's office stated that when they presented their budget originally, they were taking their one and two percent cuts in data processing. At the request of the chairs, they looked to see if they could identify some line items that could be cut. They reduced travel, printing, office equipment budget, and cut a data base analyst position, for the one percent cut. To make the two percent, they are cutting an additional position. These are presently vacant positions.

Voted on and was accepted.

Representative Jeffus stated that the committee would have to finish the agenda today. Therefore, the committee will meet again at 1:00 p.m. If not finished by session time, 3:00 p.m., the committee will meet again following session.

The committee adjourned at 10:00 a.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Rep. Maggie Jeffus

[illegible]2-6.2. Provisions for copies of public records; fees.

(a) Persons requesting copies of public records may elect to obtain them in any and all media in which the public agency is capable of providing them. No request for copies of public records in a particular medium shall be denied on the grounds that the custodian has made or prefers to make the public records available in another medium. The public agency may assess different fees for different media as prescribed by law.

(b) Persons requesting copies of public records may request that the copies be certified or uncertified. The fees for certifying copies of public records shall be as provided by law. Except as otherwise provided by law, no public agency shall charge a fee for an uncertified copy of a public record that exceeds the actual cost to the public agency of making the copy. For purposes of this subsection, "actual cost" is limited to direct, chargeable costs related to the reproduction of a public record as determined by generally accepted accounting principles and does not include costs that would have been incurred by the public agency if a request to reproduce a public record had not been made. Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection, if the request is such as to require extensive use of information technology resources or extensive clerical or supervisory assistance by personnel of the agency involved, or if producing the record in the medium requested results in a greater use of information technology resources than that established by the agency for reproduction of the volume of information requested, then the agency may charge, in addition to the actual cost of duplication, a special service charge, which shall be reasonable and shall be based on the actual cost incurred for such extensive use of information technology resources or the labor costs of the personnel providing the services, or for a greater use of information technology resources that is actually incurred by the agency or attributable to the agency. If anyone requesting public information from any public agency is charged a fee that the requester believes to be unfair or unreasonable, the requester may ask the Information Resource Management Commission to mediate the dispute.

163-82.10. Official record of voter registration. (a)Application Form Becomes Official Record. – A completed and signed registration application form described in G.S. 163- 82.3, once approved by the county board of elections, becomes the official registration record of the voter. The county board of elections shall maintain custody of the official registration records of all voters in the county and shall keep them in a place where they are secure. (b) Access to Registration Records. – Upon request by that person, the county board of elections shall provide to any person a list of the registered voters of the county or of any precinct or precincts in the county. The county board may furnish selective lists according to party affiliation, gender, race, date of registration, precinct name, precinct identification code, congressional district, senate district, representative district, and, where applicable, county commissioner district, city governing board district, fire district, soil and water conservation district, and voter history including primary, general, and special districts, or any other reasonable category. The following shall apply if a county maintains or has its voter registration list maintained on a computer: (1) In addition to the typed, mimeographed, photocopied, computer printout or label lists, the county board of elections shall make the voter registration information available to the public on magnetic medium. Magnetic medium for the purpose of this section shall consist of nine track tape or 3.5 inch diskettes and 5.25 inch diskettes readily accessible using MS-DOS or Microsoft Windows operating systems or both such systems; and (2) Information requested on magnetic medium shall contain the following: voter name, county voter identification number, residential address, mailing address, sex, race, age or date of birth or both, party affiliation, precinct name, precinct identification code, congressional district, senate district, representative district, and, where applicable, county commissioner district, city governing board district, fire district, soil and water conservation district, and any other district information available, and voter history including primary, general, and special districts, or any other reasonable category, provided that this subsection shall not require a county to computerize its lists, but if a county does computerize it shall comply with subdivisions (1) and (2) of this subsection. The county board shall require each person to whom a list is furnished to reimburse the board for the actual cost incurred in preparing it, except as provided in subsection (c) of this section. Actual cost for the purpose of this section shall not include the cost of any equipment or any imputed overhead expenses. It may include the actual cost of paper, labels, and magnetic medium. The purchaser at its discretion may provide the magnetic medium. When furnishing information under this subsection to a purchaser on a magnetic medium provided by the county board or the purchaser, the county board may impose a service charge of up to twenty-five dollars ($25.00). (c) Free Lists. – Free lists of all registered voters in the county shall be provided in the following cases: (1) A county board that maintains voter records on computer shall provide, upon written request, one free list to: a. The State chair of each political party; and b. The county chair of each political party once in every odd-numbered year, once during the first six calendar months of every even- numbered year, and once during the latter six calendar months of every even-numbered year. (2) A county board that does not maintain voter records on computer shall provide one free paper list every two years to the county chair of each political party. STATE BOARD OF ELECTIONS
Campaign Reporting

The Campaign Reporting budget (18025-1200) includes a budgeted revenue item of $2,500.00 for printing, binding, and duplicating service charges. These receipts are anticipated from copying fees at the rate of $0.10 per page. As of 12/31/2000, $7,846.16 has been received. Of the amount received, $5,346.16 can be requested to be transferred to the Campaign Reporting budget.

The Agency was asked to prepare a written report on the copy policy for the Campaign Financial Disclosure Reports and to give consideration to increasing the copy per page cost from $0.10 per page to possibly $0.25 per page. The following narrative gives consideration to that request.

Public Records Copy Policy
Paper Copy Policy for Campaign Financial Disclosure Reports

Copying of the financial disclosure reports (paper) filed by candidates, political committees and pacs began with the first reports filed in 1974. Some viewers chose to sit down and thumb through reports and manually transcribe the entries they found interesting. Others wanted copies of certain reports. Some preferred to not be seen reviewing reports and so a clerk was sent to pick up the copies. Prepaid copy orders at $0.25 a page were filled as quickly as the workload permitted. In the early 1980s, Campaign Reporting had several permanent temporary clerk positions and the personnel filling these positions kept a log, handed out the reports from file cabinets, refiled the reports, and made copies. The temporary positions were eliminated in the mid to late 1980s.

Recently filed reports are the most popular – all interested individuals want the information immediately. Some have developed databases that include historical data even more complete than those Campaign Reporting maintains. Limited to two full-time employees after the loss of the temporary clerk positions, the Campaign Reporting office developed a "self-service" program much like a library. Viewers place an outcard on the shelf and remove the file folder. The folder is left on the table for staff to review and refile.

Viewers were allowed to make copies on office copier for $0.25 a page, which, at that time and according to the reviewed process, was the cost of reproducing and processing the cash receipts and staff members continued to fill prepaid copy orders at $0.25 a page. Of course, the reports could be viewed and information hand-copied at no cost.

A coin-operated public use copier was added in the early 1990s. After a review by the appropriate planning department in DOA, the attached Copy Policy was followed. This policy set $0.25 a page for copy orders, and $ 0.10 a page for self-service and coin-operated copies and was continued until after the Public Records revisions, "no public agency shall charge a fee for an uncertified copy of a public record that exceeds the actual cost to the public agency of making the copy" [§ 132-6.2(b)]. A procedure for copy accounts with monthly invoicing was developed. Otherwise, prepaid copy orders were to be accepted. Prepaid orders became a requirement in the 1980s because Campaign Reporting received large copy orders that were not picked up and/or paid for after being filled.

In 1996, the Executive Secretary-Director, on the advice of counsel, reduced the cost of all copies to $0.10 per page. The reasoning for that policy was to save the staff time required to pull and count the number of pages in a report and return a call and wait for the check. This process linked with the cash receipts expense of processing a payment, including the possibility of a returned check, are a sound cost policy for the Agency that pleases the public.

While this policy has not been reviewed by DOA, it is felt that an accounting would prove it sound based on the following reasons. The clerical staff is very small and the Agency does not have a cash fund. Even Cash Receipts procedures are difficult to assign because of the limited number of clerical employees.

Electronic Copy Policy for Campaign Financial Disclosure Reports

Beginning in 1989, Campaign Reporting developed a method of mechanically reviewing or auditing the reports. By entering the contributions and expenditures into a database, certain of the review requirements could be met and the audit process shortened considerably. In addition to quicker auditing, the database was a bonus for the public. Any viewer could bring in formatted diskettes and copy all or part of the database at no cost. It should be noted that the database was for the previous two-year election cycle. It covered information beginning 28 months before. While it reduced the number of paper copies, the process did not remove the interest in reviewing currently filed reports as soon as they are filed.

Campaign Reporting interest in filer software began in 1993 when the Agency started looking for specialized software and needed a companion to the government side. In 1996, two things happened. The Agency developed a homepage and Campaign Reporting databases in a delimited ASC II format were available for downloading online. The conversion for the new software was completed and the filer software could be offered to campaign, political party and pac treasurers on a voluntary basis. Between 35 and 50 committees filed using the software in 1997 and 1998.

The Campaign Reform Act of 1997 added the requirement for electronic filing by statewide candidates, political parties, and pacs filing a report that shows in excess of five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) in contributions, in expenditures, or in loans that affects contests for statewide office.
The State Board of Elections was required to provide the software necessary to file an electronic report at no cost to the committee. The changes, such as employment information and a new reporting schedule, required an update to the software used by Campaign Reporting, a rewrite of the remote user software, and a conversion for electronic filing. The changes could not be made in time for 1998 elections, which included only judicial statewide races. Thus, the electronic filings received for 2000 elections were the first under the mandatory filing requirement.

One of the driving forces for electronic filing is early public access of campaign finance disclosure over the Internet. Placing software on the Internet that will allow the public to search, view, and print individual committee reports over the Internet without downloading a large and complicated database.

Summary Remarks and Recommendations

As previously stated, viewers want access to information simultaneous with filing. When no more than 75 reports are filed electronically and approximately 1,400 are filed on paper, electronic filing is just beginning. Mandatory electronic filing of campaign disclosure reports on a quarterly or monthly basis with the reports placed immediately on the Internet in a usable manner may satisfy the public. It is doubtful that the public will pay to access public information on the Internet.

Several local printing businesses charge $0.05 or $0.06 each for copies when customers bring their items in and make their own copies. The $0.10 per copy charge at the Campaign Reporting Office is reasonable because it includes the upkeep of the records and a location to use the records. The public may not be receptive to more than doubling the cost, if it is not in violation of G.S. 132-6.2. There is no doubt the number of copies made will continue to decrease.

If directed, the Agency will seek a new study of the copy rate and charge accordingly for paper copies of Campaign Reports.3/8/01 1:00 PM

Suggested Statutory Changes for Electronic Distribution of Audit Reports

§ 147-64.6. Duties and responsibilities

(a) It is the policy of the General Assembly to provide for the auditing of State agencies by the impartial, independent State Auditor.
(b) The duties of the Auditor are independently to examine into and make findings of fact on whether State agencies:

(1) Have established adequate operating and administrative procedures and practices; systems of accounting, reporting and auditing; and other necessary elements of legislative or management control.
(2) Are providing financial and other reports which disclose fairly, consistently, fully, and promptly all information needed to show the nature and scope of programs and activities and have established bases for evaluating the results of such programs and operations.
(3) Are promptly collecting, depositing, and properly accounting for all revenues and receipts arising from their activities.
(4) Are conducting programs and activities and expending funds made available in a faithful, efficient, and economical manner in compliance with and in furtherance of applicable laws and regulations of the State, and, if applicable, federal law and regulation.
(5) Are determining that the authorized activities or programs effectively serve the intent and purpose of the General Assembly and, if applicable, federal law and regulation.

(c) The Auditor shall be responsible for the following acts and activities:

(1) Audits made or caused to be made by the Auditor shall be conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards as prescribed by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, the United States General Accounting Office, or other professionally recognized accounting standards-setting bodies.
(2) Financial and compliance audits may be made at the discretion of the Auditor without advance notice to the organization being audited. Audits of economy and efficiency and program results shall be discussed in advance with the prospective auditee unless an unannounced visit is essential to the audit.
(3) The Auditor, on his own initiative and as often as he deems necessary, or as requested by the Governor or the General Assembly, shall, to the extent deemed practicable and consistent with his overall responsibility as contained in this act, make or cause to be made audits of all or any part of the activities of the State agencies.
(4) The Auditor, at his own discretion, may, in selecting audit areas and in evaluating current audit activity, consider and utilize, in whole or in part, the relevant audit coverage and applicable reports of the audit staffs of the various State agencies, independent contractors, and federal agencies. He shall coordinate, to the extent deemed practicable, the auditing conducted within the State to meet the needs of all governmental bodies.
(5) The Auditor is authorized to contract with federal audit agencies, or any governmental agency, on a cost reimbursable basis, for the Auditor to perform audits of federal grants and programs administered by the State Departments and institutions in accordance with agreements negotiated between the Auditor and the contracting federal audit agencies or any governmental agency. In instances where the grantee State agency shall subgrant these federal funds to local governments, regional councils of government and other local groups or private or semiprivate institutions or agencies, the Auditor shall have the authority to examine the books and records of these subgrantees to the extent necessary to determine eligibility and proper use in accordance with State and federal laws and regulations.

The Auditor shall charge and collect from the contracting federal audit agencies, or any governmental agencies, the actual cost of all the audits of the grants and programs contracted by him to do. Amounts collected under these arrangements shall be deposited in the State Treasury and be budgeted in the Department of State Auditor and shall be available to hire sufficient personnel to perform these contracted audits and to pay for related travel, supplies and other necessary expenses.

(6) The Auditor is authorized and directed in his reports of audits or reports of special investigations to make any comments, suggestions, or recommendations he deems appropriate concerning any aspect of such agency's activities and operations.

(7) The Auditor shall charge and collect from each examining and licensing board the actual cost of each audit of such board. Costs collected under this subdivision shall be based on the actual expense incurred by the Auditor's office in making such audit and the affected agency shall be entitled to an itemized statement of such costs. Amounts collected under this subdivision shall be deposited into the general fund as nontax revenue.

(8) The Auditor shall examine as often as may be deemed necessary the accounts kept by the Treasurer, and if he discovers any irregularity or deficiency therein, unless the same be rectified or explained to his satisfaction, report the same forthwith ~~in writing~~ to the General Assembly, with copy of such report to the Governor and Attorney General. In addition to regular audits, the Auditor shall check the treasury records at the time a Treasurer assumes office (not to succeed himself), and therein charge him with the balance in the treasury, and shall check the Treasurer's records at the time he leaves office to determine that the accounts are in order.

(9) The Auditor may examine the accounts and records of any bank or financial institution relating to transactions with the State Treasurer, or with any State agency, or he may require banks doing business with the State to furnish him information relating to transactions with the State or State agencies.

(10) The Auditor may, as often as he deems advisable, conduct a detailed review of the bookkeeping and accounting systems in use in the various State agencies which are supported partially or entirely from State funds. Such examinations will be for the purpose of evaluating the adequacy of systems in use by these agencies and institutions. In instances where the Auditor determines that existing systems are outmoded, inefficient, or otherwise inadequate, he shall recommend changes to the State Controller. The State Controller shall prescribe and supervise the installation of such changes, as provided in G.S. 143B-426.39(2).

(11) The Auditor shall, through appropriate tests, satisfy himself concerning the propriety of the data presented in the Comprehensive Annual Financial Report and shall express the appropriate auditor's opinion in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards.

(12) The Auditor shall provide ~~in a written statement~~ a report to the Governor and Attorney General, and other appropriate officials, of such facts as are in his possession which pertain to the apparent violation of penal statutes or apparent instances of malfeasance, misfeasance, or nonfeasance by an officer or employee.

(13) At the conclusion of an audit, the Auditor or his designated representative shall discuss the audit with the official whose office is subject to audit and submit necessary underlying facts developed for all findings and recommendations which may be included in the audit report. On audits of economy and efficiency and program results, the auditee's ~~written~~ response shall be included in the final report if received within 30 days from receipt of the draft report.

(14) The Auditor shall provide copies, written or electronic as requested, of each audit report to the General Assembly, the Governor, the Chief Executive Officer of each agency audited, and other persons as the Auditor deems appropriate. He shall also file a copy of the audit report in the Auditor's office, which will be a permanent public record; Provided, nothing in this subsection shall be construed as authorizing or permitting the publication of information whose disclosure is otherwise prohibited by law.

(15) It is not the intent of the audit function, nor shall it be so construed, to infringe upon or deprive the General Assembly and the executive or judicial branches of State government of any rights, powers, or duties vested in or imposed upon them by statute or the Constitution.

(16) The Auditor shall be responsible for receiving reports of allegations of the improper governmental activities set forth in G.S. 126-84. The Auditor shall provide a telephone hotline to receive such allegations and informant may choose whether to remain anonymous. The Auditor shall implement the necessary policies and procedures to investigate hotline allegations and recommend appropriate action. When the allegation involves issues of substantial and specific danger to the public health and safety, the Auditor shall notify the appropriate agency immediately. In addition, the Auditor shall publicize the hotline number periodically and shall report findings to the agencies involved.

All records maintained by the State Auditor which involve unsubstantiated allegations of improper governmental activities set forth in G.S. 126-84 shall be destroyed within four years from the date such allegation was received.

(d) Reports and Work Papers. --The Auditor shall maintain for 10 years a complete file of all audit reports and reports of other examinations, investigations, surveys, and reviews issued under his authority. Audit work papers and other evidence and related supportive material directly pertaining to the work of his office shall be retained according to an agreement between the Auditor and State Archives. To promote intergovernmental cooperation and avoid unnecessary duplication of audit effort, and notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 126-24, pertinent work papers and other supportive material related to issued audit reports may be, at the discretion of the Auditor and unless otherwise prohibited by law, made available for inspection by duly authorized representatives of the State and federal government who desire access to and inspection of such records in connection with some matter officially before them, including criminal investigations.

Except as provided above, or upon subpoena issued by a duly authorized court or court official, audit work papers shall be kept confidential.

§ 147-64.5. Cooperation with Joint Legislative Commission on governmental operations and other governmental bodies

(a) Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations.--The Auditor shall furnish copies of any and all audits requested by the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations, in written or electronic form as requested. Accordingly, the Auditor shall, upon request by the chairmen, appear before the Commission to present findings and answer questions concerning the results of these audits. The Commission is hereby authorized to use these audit findings in its inquiries concerning the operations of State agencies and is empowered to require agency heads to advise the Commission of actions taken or to be taken on any recommendations made in the report or explain the reasons for not taking action.

(b) Requests for Auditor Assistance.--Committees of the General Assembly, the Governor, and other State officials may make written requests that the Auditor undertake, to the extent deemed practicable and within the resources provided, a specific audit or investigation; provide technical assistance and advice; and provide recommendations on management systems, finance, accounting, auditing, and other areas of management interest. The Auditor may request the advice of the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations in prioritizing these requests and in determining whether the requests are practicable and can be undertaken within the resources provided.

(c) Cooperation with Other Governmental Bodies.--The Auditor shall cooperate, act, and function with other audit or evaluation organizations in the State, with appropriate councils or committees of other states, with governing bodies of the political subdivisions of the State, and with federal agencies in an effort to maximize the extent of intergovernmental audit coordination and thereby avoid unnecessary duplication and expense of audit effort. Nothing in this Article is intended nor shall it be construed as giving the Auditor control over the internal auditors of any agency.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Members of the General Government Joint Appropriations Subcommittee
North Carolina General Assembly

FROM: David McCoy David McCoy

SUBJECT: Merging of Geological Survey and Geodetic Survey

The purpose for this memorandum is to respond to your question regarding any potential cost savings gained by merging the North Carolina Geological Survey with the North Carolina Geodetic Survey of the Office of State Budget, Planning and Management.

The North Carolina Geological Survey carries out its responsibilities outlined in North Carolina General Statute 113.8. "It shall make such examination, survey and mapping of the geology, mineralogy and topography of the State." The Geological Survey maps the geology and mineral resources of the state and publishes reports and maps. To accomplish these goals, they undertake programs to study the geology and evaluate the mineral resources of North Carolina in order to provide a data base for making geology related decisions by the public and state, local, and federal agencies. The Geological Survey administers cooperative geologic and topographic map agreements with the US Geological Survey and the Mineral Management Service. They also provide an educational outreach program that provides relevant and accurate earth science information for the state's high school students and earth/environmental science teachers.

The mission of the North Carolina Geodetic Survey (NCGS) is to apply state-of-the art methods of precise positioning and advanced geodetic techniques. It also is responsible for establishing and maintaining the official survey base (North Carolina General Statute 102) of the state of North Carolina and to support mapping, boundary determination, property delineation, infrastructure development, resource evaluation surveys and scientific applications.

NCGS is the lead agency to the rapidly expanding community of users of geodetic data including professionals working in the areas of geodesy, surveying, mapping, navigation, environmental and land-use applications, geographic and land information systems, earth orientation and earth and ocean dynamics. This leadership requires NCGS to develop and produce new geodetic products such as: absolute gravity station values, a high-accuracy multi-dimensional network of monumented control points, a network of continuous operating Global Positioning System base stations, improved data processing systems specifications for advanced surveying technologies and techniques. In conjunction with the National Geodetic Survey, NCGS is implementing the National Height Modernization System in North Carolina to underpin/support surveying and mapping applications statewide.

Prior to the transfer of the North Carolina Geodetic Survey to the Office of State Budget, Planning and Management (OSPBM) in July 1997, Geodetic Survey and Geological Survey were located in the Division of Land Resources in the Department of Environment and Natural Resources. The Center of Geographic Information and Analysis (CGIA) resided in this section prior to their transfer to OSBPM in 1991. Both agency transfers were made based on the fact that each agencies' primary function is to provide statewide data management and the setting of standards for mapping applications used for planning purposes.

Both agencies contribute to the development and maintenance of the state's topographical maps and the Floodplain Mapping Program. If housed in one agency, potential efficiencies in the development of these products might be realized.

Both agencies provide education outreach to the public. A study of each agencies' outreach program might determine if the agencies educational outreach functions could be merged.

Subject: internship program

Dear Representative Jeffus:

I understand that the budget currently under consideration eliminates the Governor's Public Management Fellowship Program. This program has allowed a small number of graduates from Master of Public Affairs and Administration programs to hold two-year internships in state agencies. The selection of the interns has been on a competitive basis, and the program has encouraged some of our brightest graduates to consider a career in state government. Prior to the creation of the program, there was little interest in state government by MPA graduates.

This program costs very little, but it greatly benefits the state by encouraging top candidates to work in state government. I think that it would be extremely shortsighted to eliminate the program. Moreover, I am greatly concerned that internship offers that were made this spring for the coming fiscal year will not be honored. Even though the state is facing fiscal difficulties, it does not seem necessary to reneg on job offers that have been accepted in good faith by individuals, who in some cases have turned down other opportunities to take the internship offer. Nor does it seem wise to eliminate a relatively inexpensive program that yields substantial dividends.

PERSONNEL MANAGEMENT INFORMATION SYSTEM

The Personnel Management Information System is a centralized computer system that contains histories on employees and positions since 1975. This is a core business system which serves most all of the human resource data needs of State government. Most all information is available in on-line, hard-copy, and/or electronic dataset form.

Currently, there are limited inquiries available on the web. We are in the process of expanding the web applications so that all managers will have access to various HR reports.

Below are some statistics, which demonstrate the enormity of the system.

MODEL COOPERATIVE EDUCATION PROGRAM (MCEP)

BACKGROUND

Recognizing the difficult task North Carolina State Government was experiencing in attracting a diverse pool of qualified applicants, the Equal Opportunity Services Division of the Office of State Personnel developed and implemented a special cooperative education program to address recruitment difficulties and underrepresentation problems. It is titled Model Cooperative Education Program (MCEP) and was funded by the General Assembly in 1984.

It is called cooperative education because it depends upon the cooperation of educators and employers in combining their resources to provide an enriching and rewarding education/training experience for students. Cooperative education has been hailed for its many advantages for the participating employer too. One in particular is that it constitutes a ready-made, effective training and recruitment program.

APPROPRIATIONS SUBCOMMITTEE
ON
GENERAL GOVERNMENT

May 9, 2001
1:00 p.m.

The Joint APPROPRIATIONS Subcommittee on General Government met on Wednesday, May 9, 2001 at 1:00 p.m. in Room 425 of the Legislative Office Building. The following House members were present: Chairs Jeffus and Sherrill, Representatives Adams, Barefoot, Lucas, Setzer, and Wilson. There were three Senate members present. Committee Staff present were: Michele Nelson and Marilyn Chism. A Visitor Registration list is attached and made part of the minutes.

Representative Jeffus, presiding chair, called the meeting to order and introduced the pages: Allison Miller and Allison Fowler of Fayetteville sponsored by Representative Bill Hurley, Ana Heberlein of Candler sponsored by Senator Charles Carter, Jr., and Keara Perry of Spring Hope sponsored by Senator A. B. Swindell, IV.

STATE BOARD OF ELECTIONS (Attachment 8)

Ms. Marilyn Chism explained the department's potential reductions. The governor's recommended budget is $3,218,453. The one percent reduction recommendation would come from the printing line item that would be $32,184. For the two percent reduction, the recommendation is that it comes from printing and campaign reporting reserve giving a total of $64,399.

Voted on and accepted.

DEPARTMENT OF CULTURAL RESOURCES (Attachment 9)

Senator Kinnaird spoke against any cuts in Cultural Resources. She stated that it is one of the few with actual hands on service day after day and they do not have a lot of positions that are not involved. She felt that the department should not cut it. Senator Allran agreed. Representative Barefoot spoke against cuts for Cultural Resources.

Representative Jeffus stated that she hears what they are saying but they still need to hear from the department.

Representative Jeffus recognized Ms. Renne Vance, Business Officer, to make the report for the Department of Cultural Resources. Ms. Vance stated that she understands the committee has some tough decisions to make budget wise and they want to contribute their fair share but no more. She continued with the flagged items and the proposed cuts.

1. Vacant Positions: (See Attachment 9, pages 1-2)

There are approximately fifty positions vacant out of about 750 positions in the department across the state at this time. Due to the freeze on hiring, this is the reason there are so many vacancies.

2. Survey of Fees: (See Attachment 9, pages 3-13)

It shows the fees charged in each location and the General Statute number that governs the fees.

3. Statement of Financial Position: (See Attachment 9, pages 14-15)

Ms. Vance stated that this reflects a summary of cuts in the Department since 1995.

4. Cut Summary: (See Attachment 9, page 16)

This indicates the six-year budget cuts summary (1995-01) for the department.

5. N. C. Arts Council: (See Attachment 9, pages 17-33)

Pages 18 through 20 of their current budget reflects the appropriation of $260,000 that was appropriated last year to allow the Arts Council to use all of its Federal money for grants. Pages 21-33 reflects those expenditures for grants and the application to the National Endowment for the Arts Council.

6. Proposed Budget Reductions: (See Attachment 9, pages 34-40)

Pages 34 through 40 reflect the one and two percent budget cuts for the department. Each Division was given a dollar figure to come up with as cuts.

Representative Jeffus stated that she is getting the consensus that the committee does not want cuts. She said that she did not know if the Appropriation chairs would allow this. Since the committee is unanimous on not making cuts, Senator Harris said that they could add a comment to let the chairs know how the committee feels.

Representative Jeffus stated that they would pass the cuts presented by Cultural Resources and add a comment as to how the committee feels about cutting the department.

The Appropriations chairs told the subcommittee chairs to take a one and two percent cut from all departments and that is what has to be done.

Representative Jeffus said that if you do not cut in one place then you would have to find somewhere else to cut that amount.

Michele Nelson stated that one percent of the Cultural Resources budget would be $600,000.

Senator Kinnaird made the motion to take the one percent of the Cultural Resources budget from Office of State Personnel and not take that amount from Cultural Resources. Motion carried.

Mr. Steve Davis, Assistant State Personnel Director, in a state of shock, was recognized to speak on the motion to ask the committee to please understand the impact of what this proposal would have on the office and its ability to deliver mandated services. If they come up with the figure that I understand that is on the table, we are likely going to see reductions of twenty or more employees. The budget would be cut almost ten percent.

Senator Kinnaird said that all the things that Mr. Davis talked about are essential but I think there are a lot of nonessential services that can be cut.

DEPARTMENT OF INSURANCE

Mr. Jack Cook, Director of the Risk Management Division, was recognized to discuss the Department of Insurance's role of inspecting state owned buildings. They inspect state owned buildings for fire and life safety. Their building inspections are done annually in accordance with the statute. They do not inspect the buildings while they are being built but only after the building has been built and accepted by the state. The electrical inspectors do inspections on all new construction.

OFFICE OF ADMINISTRATIVE HEARINGS (See Attachment 11 and 11A)

Judge Julian Mann III, Director, stated that he knew the committee is familiar with the operations of the office and the divisions. They are offering a one and two percent cut. One is a reduction of $28,641 by the elimination of one position. The material was not printed for the members so Judge Mann will come back later.

DEPARTMENT OF ADMINISTRATION (See Attachment 12)

Representative Jeffus recognized Ms. Gwynn T. Swinson, Secretary, to address several flagged items. As to the one and two percent cuts, she advised that their first item, of about $190,000, has to do with the Appalachian Regional Commission Assessment. Secretary Lyndo Tippett, Secretary of Department of Transportation, has agreed to pay that sum because those funds do go to the highway fund.

1. State Parking (See Attachment 12, Page 1)

The first flagged item deals with the increasing of parking fees for state employees. No consideration has been given to this issue. One reason is the equity issue and the other is that they only govern the employees that park in the downtown complex and they would have to study the effects of parking fees of employees outside the downtown complex.

2. State Capital Police: (Attachment 12, Page 1)

They are having discussions with the Raleigh Police Department, have provided them with data, and have requested a proposal as to the costs and what services can be expected. At this time, they are not prepared to provide the information due to transition of the city manager.

Representative Sherrill asked if the first two flagged items might be included in a special provision for study.

3. Human Relations Commission (Attachment 12, Page 1)

Mr. Eddie Lawrence was present to answer any questions. The question was the difference between the 1999-2000 actual and the 2000-2001 budget. The reason was a vacant position that was vacant for most of the year but since has been filled. In addition, funds for operating costs were withheld in order to meet its targeted reversion for the hurricane relief efforts.

4. Youth Advocacy and Involvement (Attachment 12, Page 1)

Is the Youth Advocacy and Involvement a duplicate of the Model Co-op Program in the Office of State Personnel? Their program is a summer internship program and the one in the Office of State Personnel is a year round program. They do not want to cut this very valuable program but if need be they are willing to try some creative management such as a voluntary program and awarding them academic credit from their school. They are located in twenty-three different agencies across the state. Representative Adams spoke for the program and hopes it can be kept in place. For a statistical breakdown by race/gender, type of college, county, and schools see attachment 12A and 12B.

5. Motor Fleet: (Attachment 12, Page 1)

Mr. John Massey was recognized to speak to the rising gas costs and the impact on the department. They are averaging about $1.04 per gallon and in the prior year it was only about $0.81 per gallon. Budget cuts for travel money and rising fuel prices will drive revenue down.

6. Office on The Americans With Disabilities Act to The Office of State Personnel: (Attachment 12, Page 1)

What department should the Office on the Americans with Disabilities Act be located? The Department of Administration cannot answer as to whether it should be moved to the Office of State Personnel. House Bill 1762 sponsored by Representative Roy Cooper did not pass but there was an Executive Order 15 entered which created a Council consisting of twenty-four officials. The ADA office coordinates agency compliance with regulations and rules. It is an unfunded mandate but a valuable mission and part of the program in the Department of Administration. Should you not reach the two percent cut, the ADA office will continue to be a part of the Department of Administration. There is a federal mandate that the state has something like this but does not indicate which department it is to be housed.

7. State Employees Incentive Bonus Program: (Attachment 12, Page 2)

How much money has the state employees incentive bonus program saved?

8. Energy Office: (Attachment 12, Page 2)

What is the balance in the Petroleum Violation Escrow fund, and how can it be used? Of the total amount available, $29,275,816, the North Carolina General Assembly has yet to allocate $11,278,776. The funds are in the State Treasury drawing interest. By court settlements and federal guidelines, the balance is earmarked for energy-conserving and energy-related programs.

9. State Construction Office: (Attachment 12, Page 2)

Mr. Speros J. Fleggas, P.E., Director, explained that the Department of Insurance's inspections are focused primarily in code compliance of the electrical wiring. The electrical contractor calls for an inspection to check the wiring before it is covered to make the code inspection and sign off so work can proceed. Their schedule is a little different as to when they are there as opposed to when the electrical inspectors make inspections. Many times they are there together and at other times their schedules are entirely different.

10. Public Information Programs: (Attachment 12, Pages 2-3)

The programs are listed and how they are funded in Attachment 12.

Senator Harris asked if the committee needed to flag or by special provision to study the operations of the motor fleet management system and the feasibility of privatizing the function? Rep. Jeffus answered that a special provision was needed.

Representative Sherrill stated that they flagged the Domestic Violence Commission. The Governor's proposal to consolidate the Domestic Violence Commission with the Council For Women could be a savings of as much as $110,000. Secretary Swinson stated that a deputy would serve as the director for the consolidated organization within the Department of Administration. The deputy would be a very strong person with a background in domestic violence and would report directly to the executive director in addition to providing staff for members for the Council For Women.

Representative Jeffus stated that the committee would meet again today thirty minutes after the last house adjourns.

The committee adjourned at 2:55 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Rep. Maggie Jeffus

§132-6.2. Provisions for copies of public records; fees.

(a) Persons requesting copies of public records may elect to obtain them in any and all media in which the public agency is capable of providing them. No request for copies of public records in a particular medium shall be denied on the grounds that the custodian has made or prefers to make the public records available in another medium. The public agency may assess different fees for different media as prescribed by law.

(b) Persons requesting copies of public records may request that the copies be certified or uncertified. The fees for certifying copies of public records shall be as provided by law. Except as otherwise provided by law, no public agency shall charge a fee for an uncertified copy of a public record that exceeds the actual cost to the public agency of making the copy. For purposes of this subsection, "actual cost" is limited to direct, chargeable costs related to the reproduction of a public record as determined by generally accepted accounting principles and does not include costs that would have been incurred by the public agency if a request to reproduce a public record had not been made. Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection, if the request is such as to require extensive use of information technology resources or extensive clerical or supervisory assistance by personnel of the agency involved, or if producing the record in the medium requested results in a greater use of information technology resources than that established by the agency for reproduction of the volume of information requested, then the agency may charge, in addition to the actual cost of duplication, a special service charge, which shall be reasonable and shall be based on the actual cost incurred for such extensive use of information technology resources or the labor costs of the personnel providing the services, or for a greater use of information technology resources that is actually incurred by the agency or attributable to the agency. If anyone requesting public information from any public agency is charged a fee that the requester believes to be unfair or unreasonable, the requester may ask the Information Resource Management Commission to mediate the dispute.

163-82.10. Official record of voter registration. (a)Application Form Becomes Official Record. – A completed and signed registration application form described in G.S. 163- 82.3, once approved by the county board of elections, becomes the official registration record of the voter. The county board of elections shall maintain custody of the official registration records of all voters in the county and shall keep them in a place where they are secure. (b) Access to Registration Records. – Upon request by that person, the county board of elections shall provide to any person a list of the registered voters of the county or of any precinct or precincts in the county. The county board may furnish selective lists according to party affiliation, gender, race, date of registration, precinct name, precinct identification code, congressional district, senate district, representative district, and, where applicable, county commissioner district, city governing board district, fire district, soil and water conservation district, and voter history including primary, general, and special districts, or any other reasonable category. The following shall apply if a county maintains or has its voter registration list maintained on a computer: (1) In addition to the typed, mimeographed, photocopied, computer printout or label lists, the county board of elections shall make the voter registration information available to the public on magnetic medium. Magnetic medium for the purpose of this section shall consist of nine track tape or 3.5 inch diskettes and 5.25 inch diskettes readily accessible using MS-DOS or Microsoft Windows operating systems or both such systems; and (2) Information requested on magnetic medium shall contain the following: voter name, county voter identification number, residential address, mailing address, sex, race, age or date of birth or both, party affiliation, precinct name, precinct identification code, congressional district, senate district, representative district, and, where applicable, county commissioner district, city governing board district, fire district, soil and water conservation district, and any other district information available, and voter history including primary, general, and special districts, or any other reasonable category, provided that this subsection shall not require a county to computerize its lists, but if a county does computerize it shall comply with subdivisions (1) and (2) of this subsection. The county board shall require each person to whom a list is furnished to reimburse the board for the actual cost incurred in preparing it, except as provided in subsection (c) of this section. Actual cost for the purpose of this section shall not include the cost of any equipment or any imputed overhead expenses. It may include the actual cost of paper, labels, and magnetic medium. The purchaser at its discretion may provide the magnetic medium. When furnishing information under this subsection to a purchaser on a magnetic medium provided by the county board or the purchaser, the county board may impose a service charge of up to twenty-five dollars ($25.00). (c) Free Lists. – Free lists of all registered voters in the county shall be provided in the following cases: (1) A county board that maintains voter records on computer shall provide, upon written request, one free list to: a. The State chair of each political party; and b. The county chair of each political party once in every odd-numbered year, once during the first six calendar months of every even- numbered year, and once during the latter six calendar months of every even-numbered year. (2) A county board that does not maintain voter records on computer shall provide one free paper list every two years to the county chair of each political party. Each free list shall include the name, address, gender, date of birth, race, political affiliation, voting history, precinct, precinct name, precinct identification code, congressional district, senate district, representative district, and, where applicable, county commissioner district, city governing board district, fire district, soil and water conservation district, and voter history including primary, general, and special districts of each registered voter. Each State party chair shall provide the discs or tapes received from the county boards to candidates of that party who request the discs or tapes in writing. Each State party chair shall return discs and tapes to the county boards within 30 days after receiving them. As used in this section, "political party" means a political party as defined in G.S. 163-96. STATE BOARD OF ELECTIONS

The Campaign Reporting budget (18025-1200) includes a budgeted revenue item of $2,500.00 for printing, binding, and duplicating service charges. These receipts are anticipated from copying fees at the rate of $0.10 per page. As of 12/31/2000, $7,846.16 has been received. Of the amount received, $5,346.16 can be requested to be transferred to the Campaign Reporting budget.

The Agency was asked to prepare a written report on the copy policy for the Campaign Financial Disclosure Reports and to give consideration to increasing the copy per page cost from $0.10 per page to possibly $0.25 per page. The following narrative gives consideration to that request.

Public Records Copy Policy
Paper Copy Policy for Campaign Financial Disclosure Reports

Copying of the financial disclosure reports (paper) filed by candidates, political committees and pacs began with the first reports filed in 1974. Some viewers chose to sit down and thumb through reports and manually transcribe the entries they found interesting. Others wanted copies of certain reports. Some preferred to not be seen reviewing reports and so a clerk was sent to pick up the copies. Prepaid copy orders at $0.25 a page were filled as quickly as the workload permitted. In the early 1980s, Campaign Reporting had several permanent temporary clerk positions and the personnel filling these positions kept a log, handed out the reports from file cabinets, refiled the reports, and made copies. The temporary positions were eliminated in the mid to late 1980s.

Recently filed reports are the most popular – all interested individuals want the information immediately. Some have developed databases that include historical data even more complete than those Campaign Reporting maintains. Limited to two full-time employees after the loss of the temporary clerk positions, the Campaign Reporting office developed a "self-service" program much like a library. Viewers place an outcard on the shelf and remove the file folder. The folder is left on the table for staff to review and refile.

Viewers were allowed to make copies on office copier for $0.25 a page, which, at that time and according to the reviewed process, was the cost of reproducing and processing the cash receipts and staff members continued to fill prepaid copy orders at $0.25 a page. Of course, the reports could be viewed and information hand-copied at no cost.

A coin-operated public use copier was added in the early 1990s. After a review by the appropriate planning department in DOA, the attached Copy Policy was followed. This policy set $0.25 a page for copy orders, and $ 0.10 a page for self-service and coin-operated copies and was continued until after the Public Records revisions, "no public agency shall charge a fee for an uncertified copy of a public record that exceeds the actual cost to the public agency of making the copy" [§ 132-6.2(b)]. A procedure for copy accounts with monthly invoicing was developed. Otherwise, prepaid copy orders were to be accepted. Prepaid orders became a requirement in the 1980s because Campaign Reporting received large copy orders that were not picked up and/or paid for after being filled.

In 1996, the Executive Secretary-Director, on the advice of counsel, reduced the cost of all copies to $0.10 per page. The reasoning for that policy was to save the staff time required to pull and count the number of pages in a report and return a call and wait for the check. This process linked with the cash receipts expense of processing a payment, including the possibility of a returned check, are a sound cost policy for the Agency that pleases the public.

While this policy has not been reviewed by DOA, it is felt that an accounting would prove it sound based on the following reasons. The clerical staff is very small and the Agency does not have a cash fund. Even Cash Receipts procedures are difficult to assign because of the limited number of clerical employees.

Electronic Copy Policy for Campaign Financial Disclosure Reports

Beginning in 1989, Campaign Reporting developed a method of mechanically reviewing or auditing the reports. By entering the contributions and expenditures into a database, certain of the review requirements could be met and the audit process shortened considerably. In addition to quicker auditing, the database was a bonus for the public. Any viewer could bring in formatted diskettes and copy all or part of the database at no cost. It should be noted that the database was for the previous two-year election cycle. It covered information beginning 28 months before. While it reduced the number of paper copies, the process did not remove the interest in reviewing currently filed reports as soon as they are filed.

Campaign Reporting interest in filer software began in 1993 when the Agency started looking for specialized software and needed a companion to the government side. In 1996, two things happened. The Agency developed a homepage and Campaign Reporting databases in a delimited ASC II format were available for downloading online. The conversion for the new software was completed and the filer software could be offered to campaign, political party and pac treasurers on a voluntary basis. Between 35 and 50 committees filed using the software in 1997 and 1998.

The Campaign Reform Act of 1997 added the requirement for electronic filing by statewide candidates, political parties, and pacs filing a report that shows in excess of five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) in contributions, in expenditures, or in loans that affects contests for statewide office.
The State Board of Elections was required to provide the software necessary to file an electronic report at no cost to the committee. The changes, such as employment information and a new reporting schedule, required an update to the software used by Campaign Reporting, a rewrite of the remote user software, and a conversion for electronic filing. The changes could not be made in time for 1998 elections, which included only judicial statewide races. Thus, the electronic filings received for 2000 elections were the first under the mandatory filing requirement.

One of the driving forces for electronic filing is early public access of campaign finance disclosure over the Internet. Placing software on the Internet that will allow the public to search, view, and print individual committee reports over the Internet without downloading a large and complicated database.

Summary Remarks and Recommendations

As previously stated, viewers want access to information simultaneous with filing. When no more than 75 reports are filed electronically and approximately 1,400 are filed on paper, electronic filing is just beginning. Mandatory electronic filing of campaign disclosure reports on a quarterly or monthly basis with the reports placed immediately on the Internet in a usable manner may satisfy the public. It is doubtful that the public will pay to access public information on the Internet.

Several local printing businesses charge $0.05 or $0.06 each for copies when customers bring their items in and make their own copies. The $0.10 per copy charge at the Campaign Reporting Office is reasonable because it includes the upkeep of the records and a location to use the records. The public may not be receptive to more than doubling the cost, if it is not in violation of G.S. 132-6.2. There is no doubt the number of copies made will continue to decrease.

If directed, the Agency will seek a new study of the copy rate and charge accordingly for paper copies of Campaign Reports.3/8/01 1:00 PM

(2) To make to the Governor a biennial report of its activities and needs, including recommendations for improving its services to the State, to be transmitted by the Governor to the General Assembly.

(3) To accept gifts, bequests and endowments for the purposes which fall within the general legal powers and duties of the Department of Cultural Resources. Unless otherwise specified by the donor or legator, the Department of Cultural Resources may either expend both the principal and interest of any gift or bequest or may invest such sums in whole or in part, by and with the consent of the State Treasurer, in securities in which sinking funds may be invested under the provisions of G.S. 142-34.

(5a) To provide for the establishment and maintenance of union catalogs.

(6) To fix reasonable penalties for damage to or failure to return any book, periodical or other material owned by the Department of Cultural Resources, or for violation of any rule or regulation concerning the use of books, periodicals, and other materials in the custody of the Department of Cultural Resources.

NORTH CAROLINA ARTS COUNCIL STRATEGIC PLAN 1999-2001

Approved by the Board, June 17, 1999

INTRODUCTION

Recognizing the state's rich cultural climate in 1964, Governor Terry Sanford established the North Carolina Arts Council to strengthen North Carolina's creativity, invention and prosperity. Today, 35 years later as we approach the end of the 20th century, North Carolina is known throughout the world for its pottery traditions, literary legacy, Southern Appalachian music traditions, jazz, blues and gospel heritage, and its abundance of outstanding artists and arts institutions.

While we have much to celebrate in the arts, we can't forget that this decade has been our most challenging yet as public arts funding has been attacked at every level of government. But with these trials and challenges have come many changes that have ultimately unified and strengthened North Carolina's arts community. We've banded together to get our message out—that the arts are vital to community life and that there is a large and growing industry devoted to producing arts programs for the public good. Our efforts have paid off, and more doors are opening on partnership opportunities in all segments of society. The demand for high quality arts programs has significantly increased, and many arts organizations have doubled or even tripled their operating budgets since 1990.

As we prepare for a new century, the arts in North Carolina have never been more essential to the state's efforts to achieve a strong economy, well-educated children, vital communities and a healthy environment. We are requesting a critically needed increase of $5 million from the state legislature to support and sustain our important arts resources and to meet the increased demands of the state's citizens and visitors for arts programs and services. Our strategic plan has been developed through a series of board, staff and public meetings to reflect the vision, aspirations and pressing needs of the arts in the state. The plan's three strategic goals emphasize our support of artists and arts organizations, our role in strengthening communities through the arts, and our responsibility to advance the state government agenda. And most importantly, our 1999-2001 strategic plan moves us closer to the fulfillment of Governor Sanford's founding dream, "to have the arts, in the broadest definition, become a part of the lives of all the people."

GOAL I. DEVELOP, PRESERVE AND SUSTAIN NORTH CAROLINA'S ARTS RESOURCES

Objective 1. Support the state's organizations which produce exemplary arts programs.

The significance of North Carolina's arts infrastructure is reflected in the diversity and vitality of more than 2,000 arts organizations. These include museums, symphonies, dance and opera companies, folk and craft schools, arts councils, theaters, galleries, literary publications, arts centers, summer music, dance and theater festivals, and outdoor dramas. Due to an almost flat budget during the nineties, our funding has decreased significantly for many of these institutions at a time when sustaining support is no longer available from other funding sources. Many new organizations are also emerging, some of them as full-fledged institutions.

1999-2001 Strategies:

- Increase funds to arts organizations to sustain their ongoing programs and administrative functions. Conduct an evaluation of the General Support grant program through a staff and constituent assessment process.
- Provide support for innovative literary, performing, and visual arts programs, including exhibitions, concerts, film festivals, reading series, and the creation of new work.
- Provide consulting services through the Peer Advisory Network, the New Realities Program, and the Management/Technical Assistance Program. Develop a mentoring program to pair administrators with more experienced peers.
- Provide resource information and professional development opportunities to arts administrators through peer roundtables, workshops, conferences, publications, data services, and staff consultations.
- Provide assistance to arts organizations to increase their computer capabilities and establish or upgrade web sites. Upgrade the Council's computer system so that constituents will have direct access to the central database and the ability to submit grants electronically.
- Train new arts administrators through our Community Arts Administration Internships and Folklife Summer Internship.

Objective 2. Preserve and promote the state's folk cultural heritage through documentary projects and public programs.

North Carolina's folk traditions are among the richest and most abundant of any in the nation. They reflect the diversity of the state's many cultures, and are expressed through the artistry of basket makers, gospel and blues musicians, potters, buck and flat foot dancers, wood carvers, string band and bluegrass musicians, storytellers and quilt makers. We document these important traditions through audio and videotape recordings, photographs and film. We provide public programs and publications to deepen understanding and appreciation of these valuable resources.

1999-2001 Strategies:

- Present North Carolina Folk Heritage Awards to folk artists who have made outstanding contributions to the state's cultural heritage.
- Develop and fund projects that document and encourage the continuation of the state's folk arts traditions.
- Increase distribution of documentary recordings and other materials through our web site and newsletter.
- Develop and fund folk arts programs including festivals, exhibitions, publications, recordings, concerts, workshops and radio programs.
- Provide assistance to communities that want to recognize, preserve and present their local traditions.

Objective 3. Improve financial support and professional opportunities for North Carolina's artists.

The state is home to a large and growing artist population which includes writers, choreographers, dancers, sculptors, composers, musicians, painters, filmmakers, craft artists, playwrights, screenwriters and actors. We support artists in the development and creation of art because it's essential to our cultural heritage and to the creative vitality of the state. We provide funding to artists through fellowships, residencies and project grants. We also publish an artist directory and produce a booking conference to increase work opportunities for artists.

1999-2001 Strategies:

- Provide $8,000 fellowships to 25 artists annually to recognize artistic achievement and support the development and creation of new work.
- Provide opportunities for visual artists and writers to be in residence at various centers outside the state.
- Provide scholarships for film/video artists to access the services and programs of South Carolina's media arts center. Provide career development opportunities through workshops and conferences.
- Increase funds for project grants to artists through the Regional Artists Project Grant Program, administered by local arts councils. Expand the number of counties served through this program.
- Publish and distribute the NC Touring Artist Directory, a resource guide with information on over 200 NC artists who work in performance, educational and community settings.
- Provide resource information and professional development opportunities to artists through workshops, conferences, publications, data services and staff consultations.

GOAL II. DEEPEN THE CONNECTION BETWEEN THE ARTS AND NORTH CAROLINA'S COMMUNITIES

Objective 1. Strengthen partnerships with local arts councils to provide arts programming in all 100 counties through the Grassroots Arts Program.

For more than 20 years the Grassroots Arts program has provided arts funds on a per capita basis to all 100 counties through one of the nation's most extensive and highly respected networks of local arts councils. Grassroots money is used to produce community arts festivals, provide art classes to community members of all ages, bring artists into schools, and support opportunities for citizens to perform and participate in community theaters, choruses, writers groups and art guilds. These funds also provide sustaining support to arts councils, which have become vital players in community planning and economic development over the last decade.

1999-2001 Strategies:

- Increase funding for the Grassroots Arts Program and modify the distribution formula to provide a base of $2,000 for every county.
- Conduct joint planning and evaluation sessions with local arts councils on a regular basis. Hold a roundtable meeting with the larger arts councils.
- Strengthen GAP ties to county government through notification of grant awards and increased communication.
- Provide mentors to Designated County Partners (DCPs) in need of assistance, and establish alternative distribution systems in counties without DCPs.
- Provide resource information and professional development opportunities to local arts councils through the annual Executive Director's Retreat and other workshops, conferences, publications and staff consultations.

Objective 2. Increase the availability of multicultural arts programs and programs inclusive of diverse populations.

Twenty-five percent of the state's people are African-American, Asian-American, Latino and Native American, reflecting a multicultural population which is almost twice the national average. We work to build appreciation for the artistic expression within these distinct and diverse communities. At the beginning of this decade, we created the Multicultural Organization Development Program, which has resulted in a strong base of multicultural arts programs. We plan to evaluate and restructure the program to better support these growing organizations and to provide assistance to emerging groups. More arts programs are needed that address the needs of people with disabilities and older adults who comprise 19% of the state's population. There is also a growing interest in arts in healthcare programs in hospitals and other facilities statewide.

1999-2001 Strategies:

- Provide financial support and technical assistance to multicultural organizations for their artistic and administrative development.
- Provide resource information and professional development opportunities to multicultural organizations and artists through workshops, conferences, peer roundtables and staff consultations.
- Develop and fund arts programs that build appreciation and understanding of the state's diverse cultures. Increase outreach efforts to Latino and Asian-American populations.
- Develop and fund arts programs for people with disabilities, in healthcare facilities and for older adults. Provide information and assistance to organizations to help make their facilities and arts programs more accessible to people with disabilities.
- Work with an advisory committee to improve the accessibility of the Council's facilities, programs and services.

Objective 3. Increase arts programming in rural communities.

While several of our arts institutions reside in rural regions of the state, many of our most rural counties need more infrastructure and resources to sustain ongoing arts programs in their communities. We provide arts councils and other organizations in rural areas with technical assistance and special incentives to increase grant funding for arts activities. A more targeted approach is needed to develop sustainable rural arts councils, comprehensive arts in education programs, and longer touring artist residencies.

1999-2001 Strategies:

- Develop and fund a Rural Arts Leadership Program to develop a stronger arts infrastructure in 5-10 low-wealth rural counties. Funding and resource teams would be provided to hire professional staff for local arts councils, develop comprehensive arts in education programs and support long-term artist residencies.
- Increase funding for arts programs in rural counties by providing staff assistance and funding incentives. Develop relationships with other agencies, including the Rural Center and the Cooperative Extension Service to increase support for and participation in rural arts programs.

Objective 4. Provide support for performances and artists residencies in communities across the state.

The Council has a long history of connecting artists with communities through our touring programs. Through support for performances, workshops and a range of activities in schools and community settings, we help artists provide valuable arts experiences and build community awareness about the role of the arts. We've created a program to provide poetry readings by the NC Poet Laureate and to support other poetry projects across the state. We've developed and funded tours of national, international and North Carolina artists to benefit people in all areas of the state.

1999-2001 Strategies:

- Provide support to organizations to present performances and residencies by performing, literary and visual artists.
- Develop and fund community-based artist residencies that place artists in residence in a community for up to a year. Encourage creative planning and collaboration between artists and community participants in designing and conducting residencies.
- Provide funds to support activities of the North Carolina Poet Laureate at public events throughout the state. Develop a web site and other materials to promote the importance of poetry and the work of the Poet Laureate.
- Produce Arts Market, a statewide artists showcase and booking conference designed to strengthen partnerships among presenters, schools, community organizations and artists.
- Provide resource information and professional development opportunities to presenters through workshops, conferences, publications and staff consultations.

Objective 5. Develop and support public art projects that enliven community buildings and spaces.

Since 1988, the Council has managed the commissioning of 61 public art projects funded through the state's Artworks for State Buildings Program. Artists who create the works respond to the community's needs at each project site, so the art reflects the site's unique history, character, relevance or use. As a result, this public art collection represents North Carolina's rich, broad range of people and experience, from rural to urban settings. We also present education programs about the value of public art to community life and provide assistance to communities interested in pursuing public art projects.

1999-2001 Strategies:

- Manage the state's Artworks for State Buildings Program collection, including the installation of 9 new art works. Publish educational materials for each site. Develop a conservation system for the artworks in the collection.
- Provide funding and staff assistance to organizations and communities for public art projects and community design master plans.
- Produce and distribute "A Guide to North Carolina's Artworks for State Buildings," which documents the 61 works in the collection.
- Develop public forums for artists and community members to talk about art in the public environment.
- Expand the public art network of planners interested in strengthening the role of public art in communities.
- Work with the regional transit authority and the state's high speed rail system personnel to encourage the inclusion of public art in new transit systems.

GOAL III. HEIGHTEN UNDERSTANDING OF THE ROLE AND VALUE OF THE ARTS TO THE STATE

Objective 1. Build public awareness about the benefit of the arts to the lives of North Carolinians.

The Council provides public funding to approximately 500 arts organizations, 300 school, community and civic groups, and 45 artists per year, and yet, the general public and the boards of arts organizations themselves sometimes do not understand the role of public funding in the arts and arts opportunities available to them. We work to increase awareness of the arts by strengthening relationships with the media statewide and by providing resources to local arts organizations to enable them to strengthen relationships with their local media. We provide information resources and marketing tools to artists and arts organizations in response to their increasing interest in promoting their work and increasing their visibility.

1999-2001 Strategies:

- Work with the Department of Commerce and other divisions within the Department of Cultural Resources to develop joint projects related to heritage tourism, cultural preservation and economic development. Continue planning and developing marketing strategies for cultural tourism in the eastern region.
- Coordinate the Interagency Heritage Tourism Task Force, which includes representatives from 5 state agencies.
- Develop a maps and trails web site to promote North Carolina arts sites and events to tourists and visitors. Develop visitor information packets for distribution at welcome centers and tourism offices.
- Hold planning meetings to develop strategies for increasing tourism to African-American cultural sites.
- Publish and distribute guidebooks that will promote Cherokee arts and cultural sites and traditional music sites as part of the Blue Ridge Heritage Initiative. Create a directory of Cherokee artists who provide programs about Cherokee arts and culture.
- Develop a joint program with the Community Colleges System to create partnerships between community colleges and their local arts resources to improve community cultural life.
- Provide funds and staff coordination to develop consortia initiatives related to cultural tourism, economic development and international exchange.

1999-2001 Strategies:

- Conduct a research project to document the impact of arts experiences on community life in North Carolina.
- Provide the media with information on Council-funded programs and statewide arts developments.
- Produce publications, including an annual report and newsletter, to inform constituents and the public of the scope and reach of the Council's activities. Provide greater public access to information in the Council's database.
- Provide tools to assist artists and arts organizations in media relations and marketing.
- Develop programs and materials for public presentations on the arts in the state.
- Distribute materials for grantees to use in publicizing the Council's and legislature's roles in the funding and development of their arts programs.
- Expand the Council's web site to provide more resource information to artists and arts organizations, and to promote North Carolina's arts resources to potential participants and tourists.

Objective 2. Further the role of the arts as an essential part of education.

Education is the top priority of the Governor, who has increased teacher pay and created Smart Start, an early childhood initiative. The state currently has the largest number of board-certified art teachers in the country. The Council works with education agencies, artists and arts organizations to develop arts in education programs that strengthen the connection between the arts and learning. We support initiatives, such as the Kenan Institute's A+ Schools Program, that demonstrate that integration of the arts into the basic curriculum improves overall student success. We work closely with the Arts Education Leadership Coalition (AELC) and the NC Alliance for Arts Education (NCAAE) to promote awareness about the benefits of arts education.

1999-2001 Strategies:

- Assist the AELC and the NCAAE in positioning the arts as integral to a quality education.
- Develop and fund projects that create and strengthen arts education opportunities for children and youth through partnerships between artists, arts organizations and educational organizations. Evaluate and strengthen our ability to fund after-school programs.
- Provide training opportunities including artist/teacher institutes and workshops on assessment and evaluation. Continue our partnership with the NC Teaching Fellows to provide an arts component of their training program.
- Coordinate the second phase of the North Carolina Arts Education Community Partnerships Project in collaboration with the Southern Arts Federation. Provide funding and resource teams to develop comprehensive arts in education programs, especially in rural areas.
- Collaborate with the UNC School of Education to develop a model for connecting the state's music traditions with the NC Standard Course of Study.
- Increase early childhood arts in education programs by providing grant funds and training for artists and child care workers.
- Provide resource information, publications and staff consultations on arts in education.

Objective 3. Develop initiatives to strengthen the role of the arts in economic and community development, tourism, international relations, and human services.

The Council is forging stronger relationships with other state agencies, especially the Department of Commerce. We're developing an African-American heritage publication and an eastern heritage project with the Division of Tourism, Film and Sports Development. We created the Blue Ridge Heritage Initiative with partners in North Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia to address issues of tourism, sustainable economic development, natural resource conservation and cultural preservation. We have developed international projects with Israel and Mexico. We see great potential for future partnerships that will create new opportunities for the arts.

Subject: Agency Reductions for 2001-03

Importance: High

Follow Up Flag: Follow up
Flag Status: Flagged

The additional 1% for OAH is $28,641, which combined with the Governor's cuts ($44,000) provides total reductions of $72,641.

The budgeted salary of the vacant Clerk-Typist position offered for the additional 1% is $23,793. Adding SS and retirement @ 15.66% ($3,726) and medical of $2,256, the total position reduction is $29,775. Since this amount is $1,134 over the additional 1%, is it possible to adjust one or more of the line items reduced in the Governor's package to achieve the same total reduction of $72,641? Thomas, would this be agreeable with your office?

Thanks.

OFFICE OF ADMINISTRATIVE HEARINGS

ADDITIONAL BUDGET CUTS FOR

2001-03 BIENNIUM

	1% Cut	2% Cut
Proposed Appropriation (after 1.5% Reduction	2,864,088.00	2,864,088.00
Proposed Budget Cut	~~28,641~~ 29,775	~~57,282~~

Due to the fact that over 90% of the total budget for the Office of Administrative Hearings is salary and salary related line items, it is most difficult for us to identify additional cuts to an already tight budget. Any additional budget cuts, above those identified in the Governor's budget, would have to come from the following areas:

note 1	Salaries and related expenses	29,775 ~~28,641~~	29,775 ~~28,641~~
note 2	Travel Expenses		28,641
	Total	~~28,641~~ 29,775	~~57,282~~ 58,416

note 1 OAH would have to cut one position to meet this reduction. The position identified is number 8210-1100-0000-061, which was originally established as a clerk typist in the Civil Rights Division.

note 2 OAH would have to cut more than one half of our total travel budget in order to meet this reduction. This would necessitate us to require all hearings to be conducted in a maximum of only four locations across the State. A great number would have to be moved to Raleigh in order to eliminate travel expenses being incurred by the ALJ's.

Consensus Base Line Adjustments:

	2001-02	2002-03
1. Nonrecurring Appropriations Removed The following nonrecurring appropriations are removed from the base line budget: Compensation Bonus	$ (18,704)	$ (18,704)
2. Nonrecurring Reductions Restored The following nonrecurring reductions are restored in the base line budget: Death Benefit Contribution Rate	$ 3,181	$ 3,181
Retiree Health Premium Reserve	14,315	14,315
Total Appropriation	$ 17,496	$ 17,496
Total Consensus Base Line Adjustments	$ (1,208)	$ (1,208)

Recommended Reductions:

1. Increase Budgeted Receipts The Office of Administrative Hearings can increase its budgeted receipts and reduce the amount of appropriations required to support current operations.	$ (13,866) ~~(15,000)~~	$ (13,866) ~~(15,000)~~
2. Increase Efficiency Savings The Office of Administrative Hearings can reduce its budget for support cost and contracted funds (maintenance agreement of equipment, membership and subscriptions, legal services and system implementation).	$ (29,000)	$ (29,000)
Total Recommended Reductions	$ (44,000)	$ (44,000)

OFFICE OF ADMINISTRATIVE HEARINGS

ADDITIONAL BUDGET CUTS FOR

2001-03 BIENNIUM

	1% Cut	2% Cut
Proposed Appropriation (after 1.5% Reduction	2,864,088.00	2,864,088.00
Proposed Budget Cut	28,641	57,282

Due to the fact that over 90% of the total budget for the Office of Administrative Hearings is salary and salary related line items, it is most difficult for us to identify additional cuts to an already tight budget. Any additional budget cuts, above those identified in the Governor's budget, would have to come from the following areas:

note 1	Salaries and related expenses	28,641	28,641
note 2	Travel Expenses		28,641

note 1 OAH would have to cut one position to meet this reduction. The position identified is number 8210-1100-0000-061, which was originally established as a clerk typist in the Civil Rights Division.

note 2 OAH would have to cut more than one half of our total travel budget in order to meet this reduction. This would necessitate us to require all hearings to be conducted in a maximum of only four locations across the State. A great number would have to be moved to Raleigh in order to eliminate travel expenses being incurred by the ALJ's.

CUT IDENTIFIED TO OSBM. 44000 - 1.5% of BUDGET (IN GOVERNORS Budget)

DEPARTMENT OF ADMINISTRATION
General Government Flagged Items
May 8, 2001

1. State Parking – Consideration for increasing parking fees for state employees
   There is no consideration being given to this issue.

2. State Capital Police – Consideration to privatizing force
   The Department recommends that a study be conducted to address this question, as preliminary information gathered is not complete. There is information from 1995, but it is dated.

3. Human Relations Commission – What is the difference between the 99/00 actual and the 00/01 budget?
   HRC's actual expenditures were less than budgeted by approximately $100,000 for fiscal year 1999-2000 for two reasons: 1) A position (Human Relations Specialist) was vacant for the majority of the year but has since been filled, and 2) Funds for operating costs were withheld in order for DOA to meet its targeted reversion in support of the hurricane relief efforts imposed on state agencies last fiscal year. (Operating costs were subsidized for this period by HUD funds which are not continuous funding.)

4. Youth Advocacy and Involvement – Is this duplicative of the Model Co-op Program in OSP?
   The OSP program provides managers with student applications for funded positions, and the agency managers select incoming junior or seniors for the typical co-op year which is a full-time job, i.e. fall-spring, spring-summer, etc. YAIO matches incoming sophomores, juniors and seniors with proposed agency projects. (A few graduating seniors apply for this program, but they have to be going to graduate school to be eligible.) See Attachment A, page 4

5. Motor Fleet – Is revenue likely to go down due to rising gas costs?
   Yes. Budget cuts of travel monies and escalating fuel costs will drive revenue down.

6. Office on the Americans with Disabilities Act to the Office of State Personnel - Should this office be in OSP?
   The Department of Administration cannot answer this question as it is more appropriate for the OSP to do so. This agency provides statewide program support for training on ADA, and is an unfunded mandate in the Office of the Secretary.

7. State Employees Incentive Bonus Program – How much money has been saved?

Overall Program Statistics
Quantified first year savings (1998 to date)	$2,637,142
Awards approved ($)	$ 428,501
Monetary winners approved	168
Quality awards (non-monetary)	9
Total days leave granted for quality awards	17
Fiscal Year 2000-2001 Program Statistics
Quantified first year savings	$1,214,877
Awards approved ($)	$189,428
(Includes $69,425 savings and $13,885 in awards pending certification)

8. Energy Office – What is the balance in the Petroleum Violation Escrow fund, and how can it be used?

   Of the total amount available, $29,275,816, the General Assembly has yet to allocate $11, 278, 776, and these funds sit in the State Treasury drawing interest. This balance, by court settlements and federal guidelines, is earmarked for energy-conserving and energy-related programs.

9. State Construction Office – Inspection of buildings; DOA's role vs. DOI's role; can there be better coordination?

   See Attachment B, letter from State Construction Office Director Speros Fleggas to Rep. Wilma Sherrill, dated May 2, 2001.

   In summary, a combined review by DOI and State Construction has been discussed in the past. Also, a legislative study committee considered such a consolidation in the mid-1980s, but did not act on the recommendations (last paragraph of Fleggas letter).

10. Public Information Programs

State Construction Office
Speros J. Fleggas, P.E., Director

Honorable Wilma M. Sherrill
North Carolina House of Representatives
403 Legislative Office Building
Raleigh, NC 27601-1096

Dear Representative Sherrill:

This is in response to your questions at General Government subcommittee this morning concerning the review responsibilities of the Department of Insurance (DOI) relative to the State Construction Office.

G.S. 58-31-40 prohibits the State Construction Office from approving plans and specifications until DOI has reviewed and approved as to fire protection. DOI usually limits their review comments to Volume I (General Construction) and I-C (Accessibility) of the N.C. Building Code. The emphasis even to this review is limited to egress requirements, UL ratings on assembly systems and occupancy requirements. DOI will also review the fire alarm system. Basically, the review is limited to anything that might involve life safety to the occupants and limit property losses in the event of a fire.

The State Construction Office under G.S. 143-31.1 and G.S. 143-341 is the only agency that performs a broad-based comprehensive review of the design and construction of the entire project. As part of our review, we will comment on budget, statutory and procedural issues involved with public work, the sufficiency of bid and contract documents, mechanical and electrical building systems and mechanical, plumbing, and electrical code violations when they are noted. In addition, we look closely at the architectural and structural aspects of the design. Fire alarm systems are reviewed beyond code compliance for the functional and practical aspects of the design.

From a technical standpoint, the entire review process could be handled from within the State Construction Office. Several of our staff are already code certified by DOI. However, additional staff and resources would needed to accomplish added review responsibilities.

Regarding the inspection process, G.S. 143-143.2 prohibits power companies from connecting to a new building until an electrical inspection and certification is issued by the appropriate building inspector. That would be DOI for State buildings. The DOI inspectors limit their inspections to code violations only. Under G.S. 143-341, the State Construction Office looks at constructability issues, quality of the installation, function, serviceability, and adherence to plans and specifications. DOI advised us in July 2000, that they are no longer performing functionality inspections of fire alarm systems. Their plan review section checks the layout and design of alarm and sprinkler systems and their field inspectors conduct a standard inspection of the electrical wiring. The inspection and certification of the alarm system is left to the alarm designer and contractor. It is our opinion that these systems are too critical to life safety without a system check out and verification by the State at final inspection that they are functional and working properly.

A combined review by DOI and the State Construction Office has been discussed in the past. The design community has expressed a desire to coordinate with only one agency and have one plan review as a way of simplifying the design review process. Out of respect for the fine job that DOI does and the close working relationship between the departments, the Department of Administration has not promoted such a concept. In the mid 1980's, the General Assembly considered such a consolidation through a study committee, but elected not to act on such recommendations.

If you need additional information, please let me know.

Very truly yours,

Speros J. Fleggas, PE

JOINT
ON
GENERAL GOVERNMENT

May 9, 2001
5:30 p.m.

The Joint APPROPRIATIONS Subcommittee on General Government met on Wednesday, May 9, 2001 at 5:30 p.m. in Room 425 of the Legislative Office Building. The following House members were present: Chairs Jeffus and Sherrill, Representatives Adams, Barefoot, Lucas, Setzer, and Wilson. There were three Senate members present. Committee Staff present were: Michele Nelson and Marilyn Chism. A Visitor Registration list is attached and made part of the minutes.

OFFICE OF ADMINISTRATIVE HEARINGS (See Attachments 11 and 11A)

Representative Jeffus, presiding chair, recognized Judge Julian Mann III, Director, to continue with his report from earlier today. For the one percent cut, they proposed the elimination of one position. They offered an alternative for the two percent, which they hope would not have to be taken and was a cut in the travel for the statewide one hundred county venues, which they have for the Hearing Division. The Administrative Procedures Act requires that all contested cases be heard in the counties where the petitioner resides. They have about seven major locations that are very close to most of the counties in the state and major cities and if they went to the two percent cut, they would need a statutory change in the venue required by petitioners where they could not insist on a home county venue. This is not a complete travel budget at the two percent cut but it is about half. They would be forced to retreat into cities that are more populated and also closer to Raleigh with the majority of the hearing being conducted in Raleigh.

Ms. Michele Nelson made a comment on a correction of the one percent cut. (See Attachment 11)

DEPARTMENT OF ADMINISTRATION (Attachment 12C)

Representative Jeffus recognized Secretary Gwynn T. Swinson to conclude her report on proposed reductions.

Ms. Swinson began on page one with an overview of the proposed reductions. In Human Resource Management there is pending legislation on the State Employee Incentive Bonus Program that would become receipt supported therefore eliminating appropriation support of two positions. This item needs to be flagged in case the legislation does not pass.

Mr. Charles F. Smith, Director, Veteran's Affairs, spoke on scholarships. The scholarship program was first originated in 1931 for the children of World War I veterans and further extended to the return of Veterans of World War II. This scholarship is for children of deceased, disabled, POWs, and MIAs war veterans. They must be residents of North Carolina when they entered that period of service in which the wartime service connected disability was incurred or the child was born in North Carolina and has lived in North Carolina continuously since birth. One exception is when a child is born outside the state in one of the border counties and the nearest medical facility would be outside the state. This would be an exception to the rule as long as they came back to the state immediately after discharge from the hospital. It is only for schools operating in the State of North Carolina, either state or private colleges, universities or technical schools. The private institutions are not for profit and must adhere to certain administrative procedures with the statute covering the awarding of the scholarship. There are four classes of scholarships. The current budget for this program is approximately $4.5 million and with approximately 1,100 students in school. They have ten years to use this scholarship after it is awarded. There are no Federal funds used in this program.

Representative Jeffus stated that they were going to work on a special provision for this.

Mr. Smith stated that the scholarship is for eight semesters. There are students that attend community colleges for the first two years and don't use the scholarship and might come back and use it for a school that cost more. There is the limit as to the number of semesters they can use of the scholarship. About forty percent of the graduates use the full amount within four years.

The program was completely revamped in 1945 because North Carolina has never paid a bonus to returning veterans. They thought it better to help the children than pay a wartime bonus as so many states have done.

The program is advertised twice a year through the county district veteran's service officers and advertised in veterans' publications.

The governor appoints the North Carolina Veterans Affairs Commission with one member from each congressional district. The Commission decides on the scholarships. Members of the Commission must be veterans. The applicants are checked to see if they have applied for or received any other type of aid.

Representative Adams requested a breakdown of the applicants for the past ten years. Mr. Smith stated that they break it down by district, county, ethnic background, and sex. They may not have it for the past ten years but will furnish the available figures.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE (Attachments 13, 13A, 13 B)

Mr. E. Norris Tolson, Secretary, was recognized to present the Department of Revenue. Mr. Tolson introduced Mr. Keith F. McCombs, Director, Accounting Division, to cover the flagged items.

1. Criminal Investigations: (Attachment 13A)

The first item is with regard to the question concerning the difference in fiscal year 1999-00 of the Criminal Investigations Budget compared to fiscal year 2000-01 Authorized and fiscal year 2001-02 and fiscal year 2002-03 Recommended Budgets.

2. Tax Research Division: (Attachment 13A)

The second item flagged was in the Tax Research Division and the question was why they had twenty people in 1999-00 and they had nineteen people in this current year but the budget increased. The department was allocated $150,000 in 1999-00 to establish four positions in the Tax Research Division. They were given $250,000 this year and actually could not fund all four positions until they received the $250,000 in the current year. The money was not spent that was allocated in 1999-00 because they did not have the money to fill all four positions. They are trying to fill the positions now.

3. Number of Auditors: (Attachment 13A)

They have 223 auditors that are in Raleigh and field offices throughout the state.

4. Consolidation of Field Offices: (Attachment 13, Pages 1-2)

The fourth item that was flagged had to do with the consolidation of a number of field offices in the state. Mr. McCombs stated that Secretary Tolson would address this flagged item. Previously they talked about the cost of consolidation of offices. The first of two, Asheville because of a reorganization that took place last year and approved by Governor Hunt they were adding some taxpayer assistance people to the field. The Asheville office could not accommodate the revenue and exam people plus taxpayer assistance people so they needed a new office location. They took the lowest bid that came in through the General Services and it came out as $87,000 for the new office location that will accommodate the people that are already in place. The Hendersonville office is about a fifteen-minute drive away. By combining it with Asheville, they could save about $21,000 and not jeopardize customer service. The same is true in Winston-Salem. By combining the Lexington office with Winston-Salem, they saved about $14,000. No employees will be lost in this process.

SECRETARY OF STATE (Attachment 14)

Representative Jeffus recognized Secretary Elaine Marshall. She introduced Mr. Michael Peeler, Deputy of Administration, to go over the flagged items from previous meetings.

1. Publications Status: (Attachment 14, Page 2)

Mr. Peeler stated that the first item is on the Secretary of State's recommendation on changes to publications statutes. The Session Laws and Journals required to be distributed to certain agencies. The statute states to whom it will be sent and how many copies. Not all of the persons listed want these publications. They suggest that the statute be amended. Secretary Marshall stated that their office did not print the publications but just distribute. Representative Sherrill suggested a special provision.

3. Travel and Other Employee Expenses: (Attachment 14, Page 3)

Mr. Peeler continued that the next item is a summary of travel and other employee expenses. The request was for an additional breakout by divisions and for the past five years. Of the travel total of $85,063, they have offered a one percent cut that equals about $31,000. The two percent cut would reduce it about $44,000. Secretary Marshall pointed out in the last three columns that the certified travel budget has been in the $70,000 to $80,000 range for the last five years but they have actually spent less than that amount on travel. They have found that they have been able to cover other administrative operating costs at the office. The Notary Public office depleted its operating funds as of this past December and that is only half way through the year. They are seeing an unprecedented increase in the number of people that want to be notaries. They have used budgeted money from travel. Also, they have leased space for storage because Archives no longer accepts items. They took money from the travel budget to cover the cost of the leased space.

4. Cost to Reprint North Carolina Government: (Attachment 14, Pages 4-5)

Mr. Peeler continued that the North Carolina Government publication has not been produced in more than twenty years. The estimated cost would be $150,000 to $200,000 for printing and that does not include the cost of one clerk typist and a qualified editorial assistant for a limited time. The 8"x10" book was last printed in 1981 and consist of 1,573 pages.

5. Span of Control: (Attachment 14, Page 6)

Mr. Peeler briefly covered the information on the span of control for 1995 and current.

6. Comparison of Secretary of State Publications To Institute of Government Publications: (Attachment 14, Page 7)

Mr. Peeler stated they did not find that the content was duplicated but found two with similar titles. Representative Sherrill stated that she receives many calls for the Directory of Boards and Commissions publication and wanted to know if it was updated every two years? Secretary Marshall stated that it has not been printed since 1996. It has not been funded. At that time, the Secretary of State had the revenue to go ahead and do it, but they have not had the funds since then. It is a highly popular and requested book.

They are the depositories of information that is kept current. Representative Sherrill wanted to know if they could expand the report and do an update? This is policy and we need to do both.

7. Request Fee Increase Including Comparative Data For Other States: (Attachment 14, Pages 8-15)

Mr. Peeler stated that this is one of three areas where the budget process, we believe this year, has some unintended consequences. One of the proposals they considered and offered was the fee increase. The committee members wanted to know how North Carolina's fees compared with other states. (See page 8) The Corporate Certificates of Existence is on page 9 for neighboring states. Those are the two fees that they proposed an increase. A copy of that legislation (House Bill 1396) begins on page 10.

8. Decrease In Receipts Due To Lack of Tape Sales: (Attachment 14, Page 16)

The next item is the decrease in receipts due to lack of tape sales as charted on page 16. Mr. Peeler stated that the name has been changed to sale of data. The chart shows the budgeted level and the actual receipts for the data sales. Secretary Marshall stated that the shortfall was due to a couple of things. This information was on the data base system at State Information Processing and when they moved off that server environment, which was the appropriate thing to do, that eliminated a part of their regular subscribers who had a standing order and received it once a month. Many have probably seen it in their local newspapers. The Raleigh News and Observer puts it in about once a week listing the number of incorporations in Wake County, Orange County, etc., who the registered person was,etc. That is a standing order they have purchased. Part of it is because of the merger of newspapers. Some have mergered so they just need it one time. Also, since they have moved to the client server, these people pay a subscription fee to the Secretary of State, and it is under the public information law so we can only charge them what the real cost is. It is free on the Net but newspapers do not want it that way because when they get it from them in the file form they can manipulate it and use it better for their purposes.

9. Printing Budget: (Attachment 14, Page 17)

Mr. Peeler stated that they have listed the publications they would like to print. The two publications listed are statutory, Directory of State and County Officials and Election Results, and were not offered up for the one or two percent cuts.

10. Rent For Leased Space For The Uniform Commercial Code Division: (Attachment 14, Pages 18-19)

The memorandum to the chairs dated April 24, 2001, details the rent situation and explains how they ended with a shortfall. Mr. Scott Templeton, Deputy Secretary, spoke on the issue. The space was needed for the consolidation of 101 filing offices in North Carolina under the Uniform Commerical Code into one central filing office in Raleigh. This was needed by July 1, 2001, as a result of legislation passed revising Article 9 of the Uniform Commercial Code. The provision is vital in the North Carolina economy. Any transaction where somebody is buying something and as a result of that purchase, having to borrow money, you have a collateral interest created and filing is made in their office. Revised Article 9 stated that subsequent creditors might do a form of credit checks on that debtor. As part of the process, they will centralize all into one office instead of one in every county. They worked with the State Property Office to develop a proposal of the amount of space needed and the budget.

Secretary Marshall stated that they are in the transition stages right now and as of July 1, the Registrar of Deeds will be closing their Uniform Commercial Code and those documents will be directed to the Secretary of State's office.

This issue was placed on hold to see where the money would come for the amount of the leased space.

11. Status on Implementation of Revised UCC Article 9: (Attachment 14, Pages 20-22)

Mr. Peeler introduced Mr. Scott Templeton to review the status. He referred the committee to the memorandum listing the questions by the committee and the answers. He presented a quick overview of the material.

Representative Jeffus announced that there would not be a committee meeting in the morning. The meeting adjourned at 7:00 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Rep. Maggie Jeffus

* Due to reorganization, Asheville was selected as a taxpayer services site. Additional space was required to house these employees (five to six) in addition to two Motor Fuels employees in Hendersonville. Space was not available at current site. Bids were solicited and State Property and the Council of State approved the most appropriate bid although higher than current lease. Space can also be provided in Asheville for three revenue officers currently in Hendersonville at a cost savings.

 As a result of consolidation, Winston-Salem was selected as a site for taxpayer services personnel (five to six employees). Space was not available at the current location and the existing location was in an undesirable location. Front windows of that office had been broken on two occasions and believed to have been caused by a discharge of firearms. In addition, the office did not meet several new code requirements. Bids were solicited and the most appropriate bid was approved by State Property and the Council of State. The new space can also accommodate the three revenue officers currently deployed in Lexington. Consolidating Lexington with Winston-Salem could result in savings currently committed to that location.

(1) Criminal Investigations

With regard to the question concerning the difference in FY 1999-00 Criminal Investigations Budget compared to FY 2000-01 Authorized and FY 2001-02 and FY 2002-03 Recommended Budgets, please see the following:

FY 2000-01 Authorized Budget	$645,452
FY 1999-2000 Actual	596,804
Difference	48,648

Approximately $21,430 of the difference represents the legislative increases for division employees for FY 2000-01. Also, a position was vacant from 4-16-99 until 1-10-00 that would have generated actual salary expenditures in the amount of $30,120.

As additional information, the Department has never received additional funding for the retirement benefits based on LEO status; an additional amount of $20,127 was requested in the Continuation Budget to cover the projected increases.

(2) Number of Auditors in the Department is 223.

Subject: Tax Research Appropriations

Michele....Please see the explanation below with regard to the question asked by Rep. Sherrill on the appropriations for Tax Research (Page DOR-61).

The Department was appropriated $150,000 in FY 1999-2000 and $250,000 in FY 2000-2001 to fund additional "tax analyst" positions in Tax Research. With an effective date of March 1, 2000, four positions (two Economist III and two Economist II) were established with the Office of State Personnel at a base salary of $48,500 each (position #'s 40250, 40255, 40260 and 40265). The Department did not receive the full funding of all four positions until FY 2000-01, although they were originally established in FY 1999-00. The four "new" positions were not filled in FY 1999-2000 so the expenditure for the salaries and benefits would not be reflected in the "Acutal" column on the "Fiscal Data" sheet (Page DOR-61). The number of positions allocated to the Tax Research Division did change from 16 to 20 in FY 1999-00 as a result of the four "new" positions.

Also, the change in the number of positions from 20 to 19 from FY 1999-00 to FY 2000-01 is because of, (1) the abolishment of position #40250 (Economist III) by the 2000 General Assembly, (2) the abolishment of position #40314 (Statistical Assistant V) by the Department, and (3) the establishment of position #40251 (Economist III) with receipts from the Bill Lee Tax Credits monies from the Department of Commerce.

If you should need further information please let me know.

Re: Session Laws and Journal Distribution

We have received requests in recent years from various agencies throughout the State concerning our distribution of Session Laws and Journals. This process is one mandated to us by law to follow. The law dictates, complete with specific numbers, which agencies we must send copies of the General Assembly's Session Laws and House and Senate Journals.

Invariably, the agencies contacting us ask us to reduce the number of copies we send them or to cease sending anything entirely. Since the state law is exceeding detailed about how we should mail out the books (GS 147-45), we have felt we could not honor these requests.

The Publications staff believes it could save the State money if the General Assembly would amend the statute to allow us discretion to determine to whom we provide these books to and in what amounts. Our concept would be to reduce the amounts of books sent to the agencies that wanted fewer books. We would not try to end or reduce circulation to any agency that did not want fewer books.

We already have this degree of latitude in distribution in some of our other books. If the statute is amended, we will formally canvass the list of current mandated recipients to determine whether they want to continue to receive the books and in what amounts. The results of the canvass will then be used to establish a permanent distribution list for each book that can be adjusted as necessary each year.

Please let me or Publications Director Sam Stowe know if you have any further questions.

North Carolina Government Publication

Note: This is a short summary of the out-of-print North Carolina Government book and what it would take to get it back into print. A one-time updated printing would probably be good for at least 10 years. Please keep in mind, this book has not been produced in more than 20 years, so this is strictly an estimate:

North Carolina Government, 1585-1979

This giant 1,573 page book with 8"X10" pages was last printed in 1981. It's a kind of "Super Manual" when compared to the regular North Carolina Manual we print every two years.

Arguably, it is the most complete history book of official North Carolina information ever printed. We receive requests for this book regularly, 20 years after its last printing. Topics covered in this book and in no other centralized source that we know of include:

- A history of the Lords Proprietor era.
- A history of Colonial North Carolina information.
- North Carolina in the Confederacy information.
- A complete list of State House and Senate members dating back to the early Colonial days.
- A comprehensive listing of North Carolinians holding Federal office in history.
- Detailed mappings of North Carolina past and present.
- Histories of each North Carolina county.

Such topics are covered in the book from a strictly factual listing-type basis—typically giving names and dates of persons holding office or records of Constitutional changes and so on.

This book is the true one-volume compendium of factual data about North Carolina.

Realistically, this is not a book that can be republished on a regular basis due to its size, scope and printing cost. However, it is certainly a book that should be restored for a new generation of readers, historians, researchers and everyone interested in preserving North Carolina's historical record. Surviving copies of the 1981 book are cherished by their owners.

Also, at present it only exists in bound printed form since it was published before the Computer Age and is not "stored" in any type of modern record keeping device.

The best thing we should do is have the book's information re-keyed into a modern computer system and then updated by a qualified researcher who can add the past 22 years' worth of data into the various tables and lists.

We believe there would be a minimum of one year of work involved by 2 staffers—one a clerk typist and the other a qualified editorial assistant. We do not have the in-house staff to take this on, since it would be a full-time job.

However, restoring the book through this process would save its information, and build upon it for another generation. It would also put the book on a computer system for the first time so we would no longer be dependent on the few remaining bound copies as the only records of this vital information.

We recommend that 5,000 copies of the book be hardbound and distributed much like the North Carolina Manual. This would give our state libraries and educational institutions their once-in-a-generation chance for the book. Given present day printing costs, it would take $150,000-$200,000 to make such a printing, not including the cost of hiring the two time-limited workers mentioned above.

If possible, work could be done to put the book on the Internet in electronic form as well. It should be noted though, that this book is an immense volume and perhaps publishing it on a CD or similar device might be more realistic as a form of electronic publication.

Comparison of SOS publications to IOG publications

We have not identified any duplicative publications by the Department of the Secretary of State and the Institute of Government.

There are two publications which share a similar name. However, the content is quite different.

These two publications are as follows:

Institute of Government Publication, A Guide for North Carolina State Boards, Commissions and Councils This publication provides information, statutes and rules regarding the function of boards, commissions and councils in general.

Department of the Secretary of State publication. Directory of North Carolina Boards and Commissions This publication provides individual contact names at the Board or Commission, addresses and telephone numbers. In addition a description of the purpose, the membership and terms of members is provided where applicable.

Re: Rent expense for leased space

Our legislative liaison Robert Wilson recently asked that I provide you with information regarding the development of the current $127,000 rent shortfall for FY 2001-02 for the space the department is now leasing in the old Raleigh Federal Building. I hope that this memo provides the desired information.

In early 2000, the department started consulting with the state property office regarding space needs and expense for additional personnel should the legislature pass Revised Article 9 of the Uniform Commercial Code ("UCC"), 2000 Senate Bill 1305. As you may recall, in 1997 when the Department of the Secretary of State was allocated its current space in the Old Revenue Building, the department employed approximately 117 employees. By April 2000, when the department (except for the Securities Division) had moved into the Old Revenue Building, the department had grown 29% to 151 employees. This growth resulted in our UCC Section requiring its employees to "double up" in cubicles designed for one employee. Senate Bill 1305 proposed, among other changes, to centralize the then-local filing of many UCC documents into one office at the Department of the Secretary of State. That centralization, plus other proposed changes in the law, caused the department to request 45 additional employees. If the legislation passed, it would be impossible to house the expanded UCC staff in the department's existing space.

In late May 2000, I provided legislative fiscal staff with a memo regarding the estimated resources required to implement Senate Bill 1305. In that memo, rent expense for FY 2001-02 was estimated to be $225,000, based upon information provided by the state property office. That rent expense was subsequently included in the June 28, 2000 fiscal note for the legislation, which was ultimately approved by the General Assembly. The legislation was written in such a way to generate revenue to cover expenditures needed for program expansion and operation.

The fiscal note projected revenues for FY 2000-01 of $3,926,055 (against expenditures of $2,759,668), and revenues in FY 2001-02 and following years of $8,804,529 (against expenditures of $1,804,557).

After the legislation was approved, department staff worked again with the state property office to put the required space out to bid. The space was bid twice, because no acceptable space was initially available. The currently leased space in the old Raleigh Federal Building on Fayetteville Street Mall was offered during the second round of bids, and was the most suitable space.

The Raleigh Federal space, however, was priced above the rent budget for FY 2001-02. Our staff entered into discussions with the state budget office, and obtained agreement that the actual rent amount ($352,143 for FY 2001-02; $369,134 for FY 2002-03) would be included in the recommended continuation budget for the department. These discussions and agreement occurred before the current budget crisis became evident. The Council of State then approved the lease on December 5, 2000.

Earlier this calendar year, however, after the budget crisis became evident, we were informed by state budget that continuation budget would be reset to the actual budget as of December 31, 2000. This meant that the previously negotiated budget for the FY 2001-02 and 2002-03 rents was no longer valid, and the recommended budget reverted back to the $225,000 initially requested and approved, thus the current $127,000 shortfall for FY 2001-02.

I hope that this information is helpful; please let Robert Wilson or me know if you have additional questions.

Re: Update to requested information regarding Uniform Commercial Code (UCC) program

This is in response to your recent request that we update the material provided to you on February 16, 2001 regarding the implementation status for Revised Article 9 of the Uniform Commercial Code. For your convenience I have restated your February questions in bold below (updated where appropriate), and interlineated our updated answers.

1. Question: What is the schedule for the move?
Answer: A few pieces of equipment are already in the new space. Furniture installation is scheduled for next week, and the personnel move will occur the week of May 21.

2. Question: How many of the authorized positions have been filled?
Answer: Forty-one positions were authorized for hiring in phases on October 1, 2000 (four positions), January 1, 2001 (nineteen positions) and April 1, 2001 (eighteen positions). Eleven positions are filled; six offers are being processed; the remaining twenty-four Processing Assistant V positions are posted. For more detail, see Attachment A.

3. Question: Where are the new employees physically located, if the move has not already occurred?
Answer: The new positions are currently working throughout the Department of the Secretary of State offices at Two South Salisbury Street. For example, the mail position is working with staff in the departmental mailroom. The technical position is sharing space with other technical personnel. The training position is now "doubling up" with another employee in an upstairs office.

4. Question: Is hiring on hold because of the statewide freeze?
Answer: Because of the importance of the UCC program to the business community and the state's economy, we do not consider these positions to be "frozen" with respect to the current budgetary situation.

5-6. What is your filing activity? Can you give me some sense of the numbers for the same quarter of the previous year?
Answer:

Month	2000 UCC Filings	2001 UCC Filings
January	10,450	11,351
February	11,960	10,150
March	12,297	11,067

7. Question: What is the status of the automation?
Answer: Our technical staff provides the following information: Overall application development is 75-80% complete. This means that many application sub-components are complete while other sub-components are still under development. Equipment procurement is complete. The application project will be completed and tested in time for implementation on July 1, 2001.

Please contact me if we can be of further assistance.

Proposed Budget Cut	28,641	57,282

Due to the fact that over 90% of the total budget for the Office of Administrative Hearings is salary and salary related line items, it is most difficult for us to identify additional cuts to an already tight budget. Any additional budget cuts, above those identified in the Governor's budget, would have to come from the following areas:

note 1	Salaries and related expenses	28,641	28,641
note 2	Travel Expenses		28,641

note 1 OAH would have to cut one position to meet this reduction. The position identified is number 8210-1100-0000-061, which was originally established as a clerk typist in the Civil Rights Division.

note 2 OAH would have to cut more than one half of our total travel budget in order to meet this reduction. This would necessitate us to require all hearings to be conducted in a maximum of only four locations across the State. A great number would have to be moved to Raleigh in order to eliminate travel expenses being incurred by the ALJ's.

JOINT APPROPRIATIONS SUBCOMMITTEE ON GENERAL GOVERNMENT

ON

GENERAL GOVERNMENT

Minutes

May 24, 2001

The Joint Appropriations Subcommittee on General Government met Thursday, May 24, 2001 at 1:00 a.m. in Room 425 of the Legislative Office Building. Two of the Senate members were present. Representatives present were: Co-Chair Maggie Jeffus, Co-Chair Wilma Sherrill: Mitchell Setzer, Marvin Lucas, and Alma Adams. Michele Nelson and Marilyn Chism from the fiscal staff were present.

Senator Ed Warren chaired the meeting. He recognized the Pages present: Shope Elaine Dawson, from LaGrange, Tyler Evans McLawhorn from Winterville. Both Pages are from Senator Warren's district. Senator Warren also recognized Rachel Harris, who is an Intern in Senator Harris's office.

The first item of agenda for this afternoon is "Budget Adjustments and Special Provisions/2001-03 Biennium. Senator Warren called on the Staff members Michele Nelson and Marilyn Chism to review the documents. He said that after the documents have been reviewed and there has been opportunity for discussion, and that the Senate members would vote. The House will at that time be excused if that desire.

Marilyn Chism and Michele Nelson began on page 1 of the Budget Adjustments (attachment # 1) and reviewed the document page by page. After the review was completed, Senator Warren asked for discussion or questions.

Senator Allrand asked for specifics regarding the disbanding of Crime Control and Public safety. Marilyn Chism stated that they were not privy to the details. The recommendation that they received was to eliminate crime control and disburse the responsibility.

Representative Sherrill stated that for the record that she didn't believe that the House members of this committee had agreed on this and that certainly as a Chairperson, she had not agreed. Senator Warren explained that the House would have an opportunity to review, discuss and vote on all of this material at a later time.

The meeting then moved on to the Special Provisions report. (attachment # 2). The report was reviewed page by page. On page 13 Marilyn Chism noted that it is support for the provisions in the memorandum to Judge Julian Mann, Chief Administrative Law Judge, Office of Administrative Hearings, dated January 30, 2001 and distributed to the committee. A copy is attached as attachment # 3.

Continuing on page 13 of the "Special Provisions" document, Michele Nelson explained that the report provides for reallocations downward for a number of positions and upward for some and some that will remain the same. Those positions that are allocated downward would not occur until the position was vacated. Senator Warren asked, "how many positions were downgraded?" Michele Nelson counted them and reported six downward and four upward, the balance would remain the same.

Michele Nelson continued to review the report as it is written. There was little general discussion and comment.

The meeting continued with a review of a report titled "Final Report on Pilot Program on Collection of Bad Debts by State Agencies (per S.L.2000-67, Section 22.1)." (Attachment # 4). Mr. Don Waugh, Assistant State Controller.

Representative Sherrill asked if there is a list of who owes money except for mental patients. Mr. Waugh said there was not such a list and to create one would be very expensive. There were few other comments about ways that money might be collected and no conclusions were made.

The meeting concluded. The next meeting is scheduled for Monday, June 4 at 3:00 p.m.

The House of Representative members were excused. The Senate voted to accept the Budget Adjustments and Special provisions/2001-03 Biennium as written.

Adjourned.

Respectfully Submitted,

Senator Ed Warren, Chair

Delores Ledford, Clerk

SECTION #.(c) G.S. 143-345.21 reads as rewritten:

"§ 143-345.21. State employee incentive bonus.

(a) A State employee or team of State employees may receive an incentive bonus or bonuses in reward for suggestions or innovations resulting in monetary savings to the State, increased revenues to the State, or improved quality of services delivered to the public.

~~(b) In addition to any bonuses paid directly to individual State employees, a portion of the cost savings associated with any savings realized from permanent efficiencies implemented pursuant to this Article may be contributed to a reserve fund for State employee performance bonuses. Funds for State employee incentive bonuses shall only come from savings including reversions above the baseline reversion of the employing State department, agency, or institution.~~

(b1) The amount of savings generated by suggestions and innovations shall be determined after a 12-month period of implementation. No incentive bonus shall be paid prior to the expiration of 12 months, and payment may be delayed further as reasonably required to ensure that a complete cost implementation cycle is evaluated fully.

(c) ~~Savings generated by suggestions and innovations shall be determined at the end of the fiscal year in which the suggestion or innovation is implemented or the determination may be carried over for one full fiscal year after implementation before making an award if the actual savings cannot be verified before the end of the fiscal year.~~Any savings are to be calculated using the actual expenditures for a program, activity, or service compared to the budgeted amount for the same, if an amount has been budgeted for the program, activity, or service. The savings calculation shall include the amount of any reversions in excess of the baseline reversion. ~~The savings or revenue increases realized from any suggestion or innovation implemented for less than one full fiscal year shall be annualized.~~Any savings realized through the State Employee Incentive Bonus Program shall be weighed against continued service to the ~~public.~~public and the assurance that there is not a negative impact on State programs.

(d) If a suggestion or innovation affects a program, activity, or service for which no separate budgeted amount has been made, the State Coordinator, in conjunction with the agency evaluator or agency fiscal officer, or both, for that suggestion or innovation, shall determine the budgetary impact of the suggestion or innovation.

(e) Federal and local government funds and corporate and foundation grant funds are excluded from the SEIBP.

(f) The Department of Administration shall establish a SEIBP reserve fund in which all savings for all suggestions shall be deposited as earned. Each participating agency shall be responsible for transferring savings to the SEIBP reserve fund. The funds may be encumbered as needed to ensure payment to the General Fund, to the suggester, and for distribution as required by G.S. 143-345.22. The Department of Administration shall provide a SEIBP reserve fund summary at the close of each fiscal year to the Office of State Budget, Planning, and Management and to the participating agencies. The Office of State Budget, Planning, and Management shall have oversight responsibility for ensuring that the required reversions and transfers are made to the General Fund and that all encumbered funds are accounted for and paid as required by law.

(g) No distribution of suggester awards shall occur until reversion requirements to the General Fund are met and distributions as required by G.S. 143-345.22 are satisfied and verified by the Office of State Budget, Planning, and Management. When all of the requirements of G.S. 143-345.22 are fulfilled, the Department of Administration shall transfer to the suggester's agency funds required to award the suggester. The suggester's agency shall make the suggestion award and ensure that all taxes and withholding requirements are met.

(h) Implementation costs may be prorated over a maximum of three years for suggestions or innovations that are capital intensive, involve leading-edge technology, or involve unconventional processes that require longer than 12 months for implementation. The amount of the average annual savings minus the average annual implementation cost shall be used as the basis for the agency to recommend a suggester award. The State Review Committee shall consult the Office of State Budget, Planning, and Management to make the final award determination in these cases.

(i) There is established in the Department of Administration a nonreverting fund to be administered by the Office of State Personnel for the training and education of permanent State employees to address specific mission critical needs and objectives. Funds shall be credited from the SEIBP to the fund as provided by this Article.

SECTION #.(d) G.S. 143-345.22 reads as rewritten:

"§ 143-345.22. Allocation of incentive bonus funds; nonmonetary recognition.

(a) If a State employee's suggestion or innovation results in a monetary savings or increased revenue to the State, the funds saved or increased shall be distributed according to the following scale or subject to guidelines as set forth by the funding source:

(1) Twenty percent (20%) of the annualized savings or increased revenues, up to a maximum of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) for any one State employee, to constitute gainsharing. If a team of State employees is the suggester, the bonus provided in this subdivision shall be divided equally among the team members, except that no team member ~~may~~ shall receive in excess of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000), nor ~~may~~ shall the team receive an aggregate amount in excess of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000). These funds shall not revert.

(2) Thirty percent (30%) ~~for all current employees in the work unit, as designated by the agency head, of the employing unit of the suggester.~~allocated as follows:

a. Ten percent (10%) to the implementing agency for nonrecurring budget items to be used (i) by the implementing agency to

b. Ten percent (10%) to the Department of Administration for augmenting funding for the management and administration of the SEIBP. These funds shall not revert.

c. Ten percent (10%) to the State employee education and training fund administered by the Office of State Personnel under G.S. 143-342.21(i). These funds shall not revert.

(3) The remainder to the General Fund for nonrecurring budget items.

(a1) Of the pool of funds identified in subsection (a) of this section, only the General Fund appropriations shall be subject to reversion, except during declared budget emergencies. Under nonemergency budget conditions, SEIBP funds arising from savings at The University of North Carolina, the Community Colleges System, the Highway Trust Fund, enterprise funds, and receipt-supported organizations shall be exempt from the General Fund reversion requirements.

(b) The budget of a State agency shall not be reduced in the following fiscal year by an amount similar to the monetary savings or increased revenues realized by the State Employee Incentive Bonus Program. The agency budget shall be reduced in subsequent years only if structural or organizational changes are made that warrant the reductions, including the transfer of responsibility for an activity or service to another agency or the elimination of some function of State government.

(c) If a suggestion or innovation results in improved quality of services to the public or to other State agencies, departments, and institutions, but not in monetary savings to the State, the suggester shall receive a nonmonetary award in the form of a certificate, leave with pay, or other similar recognition."

SECTION #.(e) G.S. 143-345.23 reads as rewritten:

RE: Review of Classification of Positions in the Office of Administrative Hearings Report of Findings

Historically, the North Carolina General Assembly has established the classifications and salary grades of positions in the Office of Administrative Hearings. The 1999-2000 session of the General Assembly, through the Appropriations Act, directed the Office of State Personnel to review the classifications of positions in the Office of Administrative Hearings and report its findings by January 31, 2001. Attached are the findings from the review.

This review did not include the Director (Chief Administrative Law Judge), the Senior Administrative Law Judge, and the Administrative Law Judges. The salaries of the incumbents of these positions are specifically addressed and established by the General Assembly based on the salaries of district court judges. Additionally, the Director of the Civil Rights Division was not included since the General Assembly revised the salary grade of this position during the last session.

The attached findings reflect a "snapshot" of the organization at this particular point in time. The findings result from a review of the positions' duties and responsibilities, not an evaluation of how well employees perform the work or whether employees' salaries are commensurate with their particular training and experience. Job descriptions for each position were reviewed and interviews were conducted with incumbents and/or supervisors.

Management and staff at the Office of Administrative Hearings were extremely cooperative and helpful during the review. We encourage discussion with the Chief Administrative Law Judge prior to a decision to implement any of the findings. Should there be questions, do not hesitate to contact me at this address or by telephone at (919) 733-7108.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Joint Appropriations Subcommittee on General Government

FROM: Edward Renfrow

SUBJECT: Pilot Program on Collection of Bad Debts Report

The report provided is in response to SESSION LAW 2000-67, HOUSE BILL 1840 that contained a special provision entitled PILOT PROGRAM ON REPORTING ON COLLECTION OF BAD DEBTS BY STATE AGENCIES EXTENDED. The General Assembly requested additional information to determine specific debt collection problems and if additional bad debt volume may support the implementation of a Bad Debt Collection Clearinghouse Program. As a result of the special provision, the Office of the State Controller (OSC) has focused limited resources on reviewing the State's current debt collection activity, documenting information on best business practices related to bad debt collection, and developing proposed legislative language changes to enable State agencies to pass the cost of collecting past due debts on to the debtor.

An attached Summary of Accounts Receivable and Collection of Bad Debts Report provided by PricewaterhouseCoopers summarizes findings to date, lessons learned and recommended next steps.

BACKGROUND

The State Controller remains committed to the redesign of accounts receivable, debt setoff processes and systems to standardize bad debt collections, as well as maximize automation and minimize manual processing. For the past several years OSC has succeeded in obtaining legislative authority to proceed with study efforts aimed at analyzing, and applying best practices to, NC's accounts receivable system. In 1998, OSC conducted a feasibility study on the implementation of a statewide accounts receivable system, including the creation of a clearinghouse for bad debt collection. Although tight fiscal constraints precluded North Carolina from investing in best practice technologies to improve its existing system, the General Assembly did approve a prototyping effort to demonstrate the feasibility of implementing a bad debt clearinghouse. The results of this pilot were reported to the legislature in May 2000. Subsequently, the legislature directed OSC to expand and extend the prototype for one year and report results by May 15, 2001, along with recommendations on changes in law or procedure to better collect bad debts.

Due to resource limitations, OSC did not extend the bad debt clearinghouse prototype beyond its initial 90-day period. The prototype was not an on-going operational system and had served its purpose in testing the clearinghouse concept and providing a solid basis for validating the reasonableness of this approach for collecting bad debts. However, in response to the special provision, the OSC focused resources on reviewing the State's current debt environment by engaging PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP (PwC) to summarize the State's debt current collection activity, provide information on best business practices related to bad debt collection, and document proposed legislative language changes. The objective of this effort was to follow-up on previous accounts receivable/debt collection studies to determine alternate solutions and recommended next steps for improving the State's accounts receivable system by incorporating best practices for debt collection.

RECOMMENDED NEXT STEPS

Strengthen Oversight and Improve Management Information on Accounts Receivable

Currently, OSC does not have the resources necessary to maintain an effective, centralized oversight of the State's accounts receivable system, including debt collection. The PwC report recommends the State invest the resources necessary for OSC to strengthen its management oversight by establishing a single point of contact with the responsibility and authority to:

- Establish statewide goals and performance measures;
- Revise and implement comprehensive policies and procedures;
- Monitor State agencies' and collection agencies' activities and results;
- Coordinate information sharing activities and share best practices among agencies; and,
- Provide technical assistance to agencies, including the coordination of legal assistance.

The OSC is currently evaluating staff reallocations in an attempt to adequately address these recommendations. However, reallocation of current limited resources may be impractical due to the current freeze on vacant positions.

Revise the Policy and Procedures for Collecting Debts

The PwC report suggest opportunities exist for the State to provide its employees with clear and concise guidelines by revising its policy and procedures for debt collection. Currently, State agencies do not have a single point of reference for State policy on accounts receivable and debt collection. As such, the employees may or may not have the best or most complete information to complete the task of case management and debt collection. The State can improve its accounts receivable and debt collection policy by making the language of the policy easier to understand, consolidating the guidance of OSC and the Attorney General's office, and providing more explicit examples and instructions.

The OSC has begun the process of updating current guidelines to provide more comprehensive policy and procedures for accounts receivable and debt collection.

Adopt an Aggressive Attitude Towards Collecting Debts

The PwC report suggests that opportunities exist for the State to increase revenues by adopting a more aggressive attitude towards collecting debt. Potential areas for quick results include decreasing the time period before bad debts are turned over to a collection agency (currently 90 days or more); passing the cost of debt collection to the debtor; and increasing the use of wage garnishment. For long-term results, the Department of Revenue is already looking to improve the automation of debt collection as well as increase its technological capabilities for electronic commerce.

The report recommends that the State consider multiple strategies to adopting a more aggressive attitude towards debt collection:

- Increase the use of debt collection tools available, i.e., collection agencies, debt set-off, and wage garnishments.
- Pass the cost of debt collection to the debtor. DOR has already initiated a legislative change permitting this cost transference. The OSC has attached suggested legislative language to expand the authority to include all State agencies.
- Decrease the time before debts are turned over to collection agencies. Consider sending only one notice to the debtor, with automatic turnover to a collection agency if no response.
- Enforce agencies' assessment of interest and penalties on delinquent debt.
- Provide staff training on a routine basis.
- Consider expanding the authority of the Department of Revenue to collect non-tax debt until other long-term automation and system changes are in place. By centralizing debt collection, the State has the opportunity to leverage existing technologies; lower overall cost, and allows other agencies to focus on their core mission.
- Continue to expand and enhance the acceptance of electronic payments. Electronic payments offer a convenience to citizens and may serve as a preventive measure for reducing bad debts.
- Continue to pursue a new accounts receivable billing and collections system through the implementation of a new administrative platform for the State.

Many of the recommendations contained in this report, and reported in previous studies, cannot be implemented without the introduction of best practice technologies that utilize modern accounts receivable, billing and collection systems. However, the OSC will take immediate action to the extent possible to; (1) Strengthen Oversight and Improve Management Information on Accounts Receivable, (2) Revise the Policy and Procedures for Collecting Debts and (3) Adopt an Aggressive Attitude Towards Collecting Debts.

The report attached provides further detailed information related to the aforementioned recommendations. The OSC is available to discuss the information provided to the committee. Thank you.

Proposed Changes to § 147-86.20–27 - Statewide Accounts Receivable Program

North Carolina General Statute Article 6B Statewide Accounts Receivable Program, § 147-86.20–27 defines the State Controller and applicable state agencies responsibilities related to collection and reporting of account receivables.

The Summary of Accounts Receivable and Collection of Bad Debts Report provided by PricewaterhouseCoopers recommends that the State consider multiple strategies to adopting a more aggressive attitude towards debt collection. A key recommendation is to pass the cost of debt collection to the debtor. Through Senate Bill 353 in the current legislative session, DOR has already initiated a legislative change permitting this cost transference for past due tax receivables. The OSC suggest the following legislative language to expand the authority to include all State agency debts when not prohibited by legal constraints.

§ 147-86.22. Statewide accounts receivable program.
(c) Collection Techniques. – The State Controller, in conjunction with the Office of the Attorney General, shall establish policies and procedures to govern techniques for collection of accounts receivable. These techniques may include use of collection agencies, credit reporting bureaus, judicial remedies authorized by law, and administrative setoff by a reduction of an individual's tax refund pursuant to the Setoff Debt Collection Act, Chapter 105A of the General Statutes, or a reduction of another payment, other than payroll, due from the State to a person to reduce or eliminate an account receivable that the person owes the State.

(d) Fee. – A collection assistance fee is imposed on an past due debt that remains unpaid 30 days or more after the fee notice required by this subsection is mailed to the debtor. In order to impose a collection assistance fee on a past due debt, the agency must notify the debtor that the fee will be imposed if the past due debt is not paid in full within 30 days after the date the fee notice was mailed to the debtor. The fee is collectible as part of the debt. The amount of the collection assistance fee is twenty percent (20%) of the amount of the past due debt. If the state agency collects only part of the overdue debt, the collection assistance fee has priority over debt. The fee is a receipt of the agency and must be applied to the costs of collecting past due debts. The proceeds of the fee must be credited to a special account within the agency and may be expended only as provided in this subsection. The agency may apply the proceeds of the fee to pay contractors for collecting past due debts under subsection

Summary of Accounts Receivable and Collection of Bad Debts Report

Executive Summary

For the past several years, the North Carolina (NC) Office of the State Controller (OSC) has succeeded in obtaining legislative authority to proceed with study efforts aimed at analyzing, and applying best practices to, NC's accounts receivable system. In 1998, OSC conducted a feasibility study on the implementation of a statewide accounts receivable system, including the creation of a clearinghouse for bad debt collection. Although tight fiscal constraints precluded North Carolina from investing in best practice technologies to improve its existing system, the General Assembly did approve a prototyping effort to demonstrate the feasibility of implementing a bad debt clearinghouse. The results of this pilot were reported to the legislature in May 2000.

Subsequently, the legislature directed OSC to expand and extend the prototype for one year and report results by May 15, 2001, along with recommendations on changes in law or procedure to better collect bad debts. To assist in this effort, OSC engaged PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP (PwC) to summarize the State's debt collection activity, provide information on best business practices related to bad debt collection, and document proposed legislative language changes. The objective of this effort was to follow-up on previous accounts receivable/debt collection studies to determine alternate solutions and recommended next steps for improving the State's accounts receivable system by incorporating best practices for debt collection.

Due to resource limitations, OSC did not extend the bad debt clearinghouse prototype beyond its initial 90-day period. The prototype was not an on-going operational system and had served its purpose in testing the clearinghouse concept and providing a solid basis for validating the reasonableness of this approach for collecting bad debts.

As noted in previous studies, North Carolina is not able to take full advantage of best practices because of system limitations. Accordingly, many of the recommendations we make in this paper are designed to take advantage of internal resources and leverage existing technologies.

Our review indicates that the State of North Carolina needs more comprehensive accounts receivable information, both to evaluate its progress in collecting accounts receivable and to target problem areas for improvements. More complete information would enable State leaders and agency managers to improve the administration of accounts receivable thereby enhancing revenues through improved cash management. Opportunities exist for the State to revise its internal policies and procedures on accounts receivable and debt collections. By providing more comprehensive policy on debt collection, the State can provide its employees with the resources they need to better execute their jobs. Finally, we also found that several opportunities exist for the State to adopt the best practices of industry leaders, including federal and state governments. By adopting a more centralized, aggressive stance towards debt collection, the State will realize increased revenues.

Strengthen Oversight and Improve Management Information on Accounts Receivable

Currently, OSC does not have the resources necessary to maintain an effective, centralized oversight of the State's accounts receivable system, including debt collection. We recommend the State invest the resources necessary for OSC to strengthen its management oversight by establishing a single point of contact with the responsibility and authority to:

- Establish statewide goals and performance measures;
- Revise and implement comprehensive policies and procedures;
- Monitor State agencies' and collection agencies' activities and results;
- Coordinate information sharing activities and share best practices among agencies; and,
- Provide technical assistance to agencies, including the coordination of legal assistance.

We learned in previous studies that, even within North Carolina, agencies that had staff dedicated to debt collection and access to technical assistance had significantly better debt collection results.

Opportunities exist to expand the requirements now used to capture financial reporting information about accounts receivable. Current reporting requirements are not detailed enough to allow analysis of collection tools. Additional information is needed to compare the performance of the various collection tools and their relative success in improving the collection of receivables. Currently, system limitations hamper OSC's ability to collect this management information from State agencies in a timely manner.

We recommend that OSC revise its reporting requirements by including management information on debt collection. Enhanced report formats and procedures would help State agencies identify opportunities to improve the management of accounts receivable. We also recommend that the Controller implement performance measures to assess agencies' progress toward meeting statewide goals of reducing account receivable balances. These performance measures should gauge whether an agency is equipped with the appropriate systems, guidelines and debt collection strategies; uses appropriate debt collection tools; keeps accurate records on debt; and if the agency tracks and reports debt collection to the Controller on an annual basis. The information reported should include age of debt referred, dollar and number of referrals, and collections on referred debts. We also recommend that each State agency designate a point of contact to oversee debt collection. This point of contact should be the same office that submits the account receivable reports to the Controller.

Revise the Policy and Procedures for Collecting Debts

Opportunities exist for the State to provide its employees with clear and concise guidelines by revising its policy and procedures for debt collection. Currently, State agencies do not have a single point of reference for State policy on accounts receivable and debt collection. As such, the employees may or may not have the best or most complete information to complete the task of case management and debt collection. The State can improve its accounts receivable and debt collection policy by making the language of the policy easier to understand, consolidating the guidance of OSC and the Attorney General's office, and providing more explicit examples and instructions.

We recommend that the State provide more comprehensive policy and procedures for accounts receivable and debt collection.

Adopt an Aggressive Attitude Towards Collecting Debts

Opportunities exist for the State to increase revenues by adopting a more aggressive attitude towards collecting debt. Potential areas for quick results include decreasing the time period before bad debts are turned over to a collection agency (currently 90 days or more); passing the cost of debt collection to the debtor; and increasing the use of wage garnishment. For long-term results, the Department of Revenue is already looking to improve the automation of debt collection as well as increase its technological capabilities for electronic commerce.

We recommend that the State consider multiple strategies to adopting a more aggressive attitude towards debt collection. For immediate results, we recommend the State increase the use of debt collection tools available to them, i.e., collection agencies, debt set-offs, and wage garnishments. We recommend the State also consider expanding the authority of the Department of Revenue to collect non-tax debt until other long-term automation and system changes are in place. By centralizing debt collection, the State has the opportunity to leverage existing technologies, lower overall cost, and allow other agencies to focus on their core mission.

This report identifies short and long-term opportunities, based on best practices, for the State to improve the collection of debts and to enhance the reporting of financial information on accounts receivable.

Background

Since early 1998, OSC has been actively studying opportunities to improve the State's accounts receivable system, including debt collection. In 1999, the legislature mandated OSC to investigate the feasibility of a bad debt clearinghouse. OSC contracted with PwC to create a prototype system that would allow a feasibility study of centralized outsourcing of bad debt collection activities. This study was conducted over a period of 90 days with marginal results. OSC did not extend the protoype beyond this initial period because of limited resources and the fact that substantial information had been gained about the feasibility of this approach during the 90-day period.

A number of factors affected the results of the prototype system. Agency participation was constrained by security and technical restrictions. The nature of the debt was "uncollectible" and considerably aged. Despite these factors, the prototype was successful in collecting some of this previously "uncollectible" debt. Full-scale implementation of a bad debt clearinghouse could not be implemented fully because technical restrictions do not allow electronic data interchange, information sensitivity restricts sharing of debtor information, and collection fees cannot be levied against certain debts. Lessons learned from this prototype study were that successful collection dramatically decreases over time and that the State should increase the outsourcing of its delinquent accounts to collection agencies.

The Attorney General's (AG) Office has established contracts with four collection agencies that all State agencies may use to outsource bad debts. Under this arrangement, the collection agency receives a predetermined percentage fee resulting from successful collections. The collection agencies report the results of their collection efforts directly to State agencies. Accordingly, no one person in State government is actively monitoring the performance of the collection agencies relative to each other or across State agencies. Although the AG's Office has a contract with four collection agencies, some State agencies have elected to use other collection agencies that are not listed on this contract. This election may be due to lack of knowledge of existing AG's contracts or the perception that these collection agencies are for education debts. To increase the usage of collection agencies, the State may want to identify all of the collection agencies with which it outsources its bad debt and make the listing available to all agencies.

In addition to the prototype study, PwC also examined the underlying policies and procedures for accounts receivable and debt collection for the State of North Carolina and the Department of Revenue (DOR). PwC identified best practices and evaluated more efficient processes for debt collection.

Current Debt Collection Activity

The State of North Carolina uses various tools to collect debt. The most widely used debt collection tools are collection agencies and the debt set-off program, whereby delinquent accounts are referred to DOR to be offset against State and federal income tax refund. Other debt collection methods such as wage garnishment and administering interest and penalties on delinquent accounts are used in limited circumstances due to statutory restrictions and system limitations.

State agencies differ in their applications of collection agencies. DOR uses collection agencies to pursue out-of-state debtors while most other agencies use them for all debtors. DOR has increased the amount of debt it outsources to collection agencies from approximately $18 million last year to $40 million this year. Agencies have thus far been pleased with the results of the efforts of the collection agencies.

All State agencies are required to refer delinquent accounts to DOR for the debt set-off program. For tax year 1999, State agencies filed 509,559 claims with the Department of Revenue. Of the claims filed, approximately 100,000 claims were completed resulting in the gross collection of $21,912,677. The application of wage garnishment is primarily limited to State employees and not widely applied to non-State employees partly due to agencies not having the authority to garnish their wages as well as not having the technical capability to do so. However, the State should consider expanding the use of wage garnishment, as it is a very effective means of collection. By setting minimum and maximum amounts to be collected, the garnishment does not have to be too detrimental to the debtor.

In its effort to make improvement in the State's accounts receivable program, OSC is currently in the process of evaluating its policy for revision. It is also making efforts to improve the agency reporting of write-off information. OSC has made progress in educating and informing the State's entities on the importance of reporting accurate and complete write-off information. Also, OSC is continuing to evaluate alternative business practices. A joint project involving OSC, the Department of State Treasurer, and the Office of Information Technology Services was initiated for the purpose of providing the citizens of North Carolina with additional and more convenient payment methods, such as credit/debit card payments. OSC has been instrumental in moving North Carolina to the forefront of electronic government. These actions should ultimately reduce agency accounts receivable.

The State's debt collection activity is prescribed by the Controller's policy on accounts receivables. It provides guidelines for developing procedures to properly account for, report, manage, and collect receivables. These guidelines suggest the minimum amount of information to be contained in the State agencies' procedures. As such, agencies are responsible for developing their own procedures without much input or oversight by OSC. By including more explicit instructions and examples, the Controller can encourage State agencies to adopt similar debt collection processes.

According to OSC policy, State agencies are to maintain an aging schedule, provide specific information and management reports on collection efforts, and provide for interest and penalties. Although the policy specifically states that agencies will provide the previously mentioned information, many agencies do not comply due to system limitations. The guidelines for collecting past-due accounts are very specific with regards to the age of the accounts, the dollar amounts, and the corresponding action. However, these labor-intensive actions require that agencies make phone calls to all debtors and request that the AG's office send demand letters every 45 days if the debtor does not respond. These debt referral actions can place undue burden on the limited staff of the AG's Office and may significantly delay turnover to a collection agency. The State should consider streamlining this process by using collection agencies to make phone calls to debtors, decreasing the number of demand letters, and shortening the time period by which debts are turned over to collection agencies.

In conjunction with the guidance of the Controller, the AG also has guidelines for debt collection. These guidelines for submitting accounts to the collection section outline the specific action to be taken to refer debt to the AG's office. Currently, the AG's office is responsible for recommending the disposition of debt (i.e., collection agency, wage garnishment, liens, etc.) However, these guidelines are not widely available. As such, State agencies may not be fully aware of the available collection tools or the correct procedures to apply them. Currently, the AG's Office is conducting seminars aimed at increasing State agencies' awareness of debt collection requirements, tools, and procedures. To enhance the dispersion of information further, the AG's guidelines should be linked with the Controller's policy on accounts receivables.

Another component of the administration of accounts receivables is the annual report. As a part of the annual report on receivables, State agencies submit their accounts receivable balances annually to OSC. The total receivable balance is reported in the Annual Financial Report at year-end. The reports are basically a high-level presentation of the total receivables and its components. These reports are not detailed enough to support the analysis of the relationship between different types of receivables and the tools used to collect them. Adding more performance-related data, such as an aging schedule, can enhance these reports and an examination of collection tools results.

We found that the State of North Carolina has adequate provisions in place to administer their accounts receivable program. With better enforcement of its policy and oversight of the program, OSC can realize improvements in its accounts receivable program in the short-term. As such, we make the following recommendations:

Recommendations:

We recommend that the State of North Carolina invest the resources necessary to increase the visibility and accountability for accounts receivable management at OSC and at the State agency level. By increasing the responsibility of State agencies for the accounting of debt and its collection, the agencies become more vested in the management of receivables. As their vestment increases, they are more likely to actively pursue more aggressive means of debt collection. Methods for achieving these goals of visibility and accountability are to set performance measures and to establish a point of contact responsible for overseeing debt collection within each

State agency. OSC and State leaders may want to consider elevating the level in State government at which the agencies should report their annual progress for reducing accounts receivable balances. For guidance on setting performance measures, OSC may look to the example of the Department of Treasury. The following measures address the method by which federal agencies collect debt and their ability to do so efficiently:

- Performance Measure 1: Agency has an effective debt collection strategy and successfully collects current and delinquent debt. This measure is determined to be satisfactory if the agency has satisfied the following criteria:
  - Written debt collection strategy detailing the collection process, including timeframes for use of debt collection tools.
  - Annual collection rates on all agency debts. The data should indicate an increase or consistency in collection rates.
  - Agency accurately and timely reports data.

- Performance Measure 2: Agency demonstrates the ability to collect debts of others using the appropriate debt collection tools. This measure is determined to be satisfactory if the agency has met the following criteria:
  - Agency is equipped with the appropriate systems, guidelines and debt collection strategies to use debt collection tools and keep accurate records on debt.
  - Agency can track and report to the Controller on an annual basis, by portfolio, age of debt referred, dollar and number of referrals, and collections on referred debts.

North Carolina may gain management insight from monitoring the following metrics, also: accounts receivable (A/R) days on hand, processing costs per remittance, full time equivalent staff per $ billion of A/R, and write-offs as a percent of A/R.

We recommend that OSC consider the following suggestions in its policy update:

- Display accounts receivable and bad debt balances prominently on the OSC web site.
- Make full use of Internet technology by including hyperlinks to referenced procedures and statutes.
- Provide an interest/penalty calculator on its web site for those agencies that do not have systematic capability to calculate those accruing charges. The calculator should provide quick and easy assistance to an employee to suggest how much interest and penalty should be accruing on a delinquent debt.
- Make OSC's web site a one-stop shop for information on accounts receivable by including the AG's guidelines and other accounts receivable and debt collection information.

We recommend that OSC refine its guidelines to give more explicit instructions to the agencies for submitting the receivables report. Adding debt management performance data can enhance the current report. The status of receivables is a high-level summary of the accounts receivables, whereas the debt management performance data will provide more specific information on debt and debt collection tools.

- The status of receivables section should show the current beginning fiscal year balance of all receivables; the cumulative activity during the fiscal year: accruals of interest and penalties, collections, adjustments, amounts written-off; and the ending balance at the end of the reporting period. An important section within the status of receivables is the aging schedule of debt. The aging of debt shows the delinquency of debt. The aging schedule may signal the collectibility of debt as the older the debt, the less likely it will be collected. This section would contain an aging schedule and would classify debt by commercial, consumer, and State agency. The aging schedule would show the dollar amounts of receivables that are delinquent for the respective time periods (1-90 days, 91-180 days, 181-365 days, 1-2 years, and 2-6 years).

- The debt management performance data section would contain management information on the status of delinquent debt by collection management tools and techniques, age, eligibility for referrals, collections, and debt disposition. It should be designed to provide specific information on the actions an agency is taking to collect its debts. It should also include information on all collections of delinquent accounts by management tool and technique. The number and dollar amounts should be recorded for each tool or technique that collected funds.

We recommend that OSC host regular meetings with State agencies to discuss the disposition of accounts receivables. These meetings should provide an excellent opportunity for agencies to share information and learn from the best practices of others.

Best Practices

In reviewing the best practices used by other states, we determined that the "leaders" in debt collection focused on customer service, preventive measures, and achieving efficiency. To improve collections rates, many states are turning to advanced technologies and processes such as centralized and online account management, predictive dialing, automated tracking and monitoring, decision analytics and data mining. States using such approaches (which include integrated tax systems, improved case management tools, informational web sites, and 24-hour interactive telephone hot line) have a substantial increase in voluntary filing compliance and collected revenue, decreased expenditures, improved productivity and morale among employees, and a much better relationship with taxpayers.

At the time, best practice technologies are rarely used in North Carolina. In the previous study, PwC performed a technological assessment of North Carolina's systems. PwC found that few agencies had electronic commerce or electronic data interchange capability. However, DOR is making great strides currently in pursuing some of these best practice technologies to improve its collections rates. According to a recent performance audit of DOR by State auditors, North Carolina is a national leader in the use of imaging to capture paper tax returns. It further states that DOR has made strides in the use of enabling technology for its various tax functions and compares well with other states in the use of electronic filing for individual income taxes.

Despite its strides, DOR recognizes the need to upgrade its system to achieve greater use of best practice technologies. Due to funding restraints, DOR is seeking legislative authority to pursue an alternate method of funding: a benefits-shared model with a private vendor. Under the concept of benefits funding, the vendor provides hardware, software, and consulting services to improve collections performance and aid in compliance. The new revenues are used to fund the project without the need for any appropriations from the legislature. Once the project is fully funded, these additional revenues will revert back to the State. This model has seen breakthroughs with the performance-based approach through its work with Kansas, California, and Virginia. These states quickly generated incremental tax revenues to cover project costs and pay the vendor. Although this performance-based model offers a full suite of e-Commerce and debt management tools, DOR is specifically looking to implement services to enhance its debt collection. An example of the functionality they hope to gain is debt scoring. It also involves risk assessment of a taxpayer based on their filing and payment history and then determining the right collection treatment. This application will ensure that DOR allows its employees to spend their time in the high-priority areas using the right resources for the debt collection. DOR has met great success in outsourcing and plans to expand the use of collection agencies. DOR has benefited both from collection agency's success in collecting on "uncollectible" debts as well as their own staff's ability to be more productive by focusing on high priority, high value accounts. Also, DOR saw improved results by separating the function of taxpayer assistance from tax collection. This separation of duties allowed each function to better focus on its core mission.

Initiatives that other states are undertaking are part-time outsourcing and expanding the use of the Department of Revenue. Kansas uses collection agencies to make phone calls during the hours debtors are most likely to be home. This effort frees up the time of State employees to handle incoming calls. State employees are used to administer the process, conduct problem resolution, and perform audits.

Other states are expanding the authority of their revenue departments to collect non-tax debt. Minnesota, California, Delaware, and Michigan use the Department of Revenue to collect non-tax debt (child support, court fines, motor vehicle registration, and student loans) for other agencies. Montana is looking to use its revenue department as a one-stop intake and licensing for new businesses.

A great example of a State expanding the use of the Department of Revenue is Minnesota. The Minnesota Collection Enterprise example is the exact opposite of the debt clearinghouse approach used in 1999 for North Carolina. Rather than outsource debt collection, Minnesota has centralized the collection function for all of its revenue-producing agencies within its Department of Revenue. With the implementation of the model, Minnesota was able to leverage existing technologies, lower overall governing costs, and allow its agencies to concentrate on a core mission. It is a self-funded enterprise that assesses the cost of collection against the debtor or retains a part of the receivable when collected. The Minnesota State legislature had to pass a law that gave the revenue department the authority it needed to take over the collection process. It allowed it to assess a collection penalty and gave it authority to begin judgement proceedings.

The full implementation of a centralized debt clearinghouse in North Carolina will require substantial investment to system infrastructure and is unlikely due to funding constraints. However, North Carolina may consider implementing this model on a smaller scale. DOR has the ability to garnish wages and has a high level of confidentiality; therefore, it is better equipped to collect debt quickly without the restrictions posed to other agencies. Under a smaller scale model, the State could leverage existing technology and choose which of its debts it is mostly likely to collect by referring them to DOR for wage garnishment. As the frequency of referrals increases, DOR would need additional resources to handle the increased workload. Also, after the implementation of an automated debt collection system, DOR will be in the best position by far to collect debt among the agencies.

States, such as Georgia, have taken more aggressive steps to collect debt. Georgia's General Assembly has authorized the suspension of professional licenses for Georgians who default on their federally guaranteed student loans. This passage expands the authority of the State's Professional Licensing Boards (nursing, chiropractors, engineers, etc.) to suspend the licenses of those professionals who have failed to pay their State-guaranteed student loans. The program has already resulted in the collection of over $1.6 million from 744 professionals who were in default on their loan obligations. The license suspension program also applies to those who fail to pay court-ordered child support.

We found that the Department of Revenue and the Office of the State Controller are both actively pursuing means to implement best practices. In addition to these efforts, we make the following recommendations:

Recommendations:

We recommend that the State consider multiple strategies to adopting a more aggressive attitude towards debt collection.

- Increase the use of the debt collection tools available to State agencies, i.e., collection agencies, debt set-offs, and wage garnishments. This action should produce near term results. To make the best use of its collection tools, the State of North Carolina should streamline the processes used to implement the tools and expand the authority required to allow greater use of wage garnishments.

- Consider expanding the authority of the Department of Revenue to collect non-tax debt. Although a previous study noted that North Carolina does not have the external infrastructure to support extensive in-house collection, it can be implemented with limited application. Referral of non-tax debt to DOR is mostly likely to benefit those agencies that cannot outsource due to privacy issues and cannot use wage garnishment. After DOR has fully implemented automated debt collection, it could then support more extensive collection.

- Adopt a more aggressive attitude towards debt collection:
  - Pass the cost of debt collection to the debtor. DOR has already initiated a legislative change permitting this cost transference. OSC should petition the General Assembly to expand the authority to include all State agencies.
  - Decrease the time before debts are turned over to collection agencies. Consider sending only one notice to the debtor, with automatic turnover to a collection agency if no response.
  - Enforce agencies' assessment of interest and penalties on delinquent debt.
  - Provide staff training on a routine basis.

- Continue to expand and enhance the acceptance of electronic payments. Electronic payments offer a convenience to citizens and may serve as a preventive measure for reducing bad debts.

- Continue to pursue a new monitoring and accounts receivable billing and collections system through the implementation of a new administrative platform for the State. Many of the recommendations contained in this report, and reported in previous studies, cannot be implemented without the introduction of best practice technologies.

APPROPRIATIONS SUBCOMMITTEE
ON
GENERAL GOVERNMENT

June 12, 2001
1:30 p.m.

The APPROPRIATIONS Subcommittee on General Government met on Tuesday, June 12, 2001 at 1:30 p.m. in Room 425 of the Legislative Office Building. The following House members were present: Chairs Jeffus and Sherrill, Representatives Adams, Barefoot, Lucas, Setzer, and Wilson. Committee Staff present were: Michele Nelson and Marilyn Chism. A Visitor Registration list is attached and made part of the minutes.

Representative Jeffus called the meeting to order and introduced the pages: Richard Haywood of Wake County sponsored by Representative Jennifer Weiss and Lauren Winkler of Caldwell County sponsored by Representative Edgar Starnes.

Representative Jeffus stated that they had not received the final figures but should be coming soon but for today they are hearing bills. There will not be any votes or rankings. They want to hear them for informational purposes.

HOUSE BILL 544, AN ACT TO APPROPRIATE FUNDS TO THE CRAVEN COUNTY COUNCIL ON WOMEN FOR OPERATING EXPENSES. Attachment 1

Representative Alice Underhill stated that Representative William Wainwright, co-sponsor, could not be present. She continued that the purpose of the request was to have appropriated $100,00 for the Craven County Council on Women who provide services to a rape crisis situation and also to combat domestic violence. In general, it is for them to continue the programs that they have in place. It is a non-profit organization. Representative Adams inquired if they received funds from other sources? She would contact Representative Wainwright and have those figures available for the next meeting.

HOUSE BILL 40, AN ACT TO APPROPRIATE FUNDS TO THE DEPARTMENT OF CULTURAL RESOURCES FOR A NEW BLACKBEARD HISTORICAL MUSEUM IN THE TOWN OF BATH. Attachment 2

Representative Zeno Edwards, Jr. was recognized to present an overview of the bill. He stated that Bath was the first colonial capitol in North Carolina and Bath is planning its 300th year celebration in 2005. There is a tourist center and they have plans for a Blackbeard's Museum. The museum is to be built by the state, and funds are needed for architectural design and planning. They have recently been given a number of rare books provided Bath could store them properly. Blackbeard's artifacts that have been recovered should be displayed in a museum. The museum has been in the works for a number of years and has the property.

Ms. Michelle Nelson stated that this funding would be for planning and design and should go to the Subcommittee on Capital. Upon a motion by Representative Sherrill the bill was re-referred to Subcommittee on Capital

HOUSE BILL 94, AN ACT TO SET UP A CUSTOMER SERVICE QUALITY ASSURANCE PROGRAM WITHIN THE STATE AUDITOR'S OFFICE, SO AS TO ENSURE THAT PERSONS RECEIVE QUALITY SERVICES FROM STATE AGENCIES. Attachment 3

Representative William C. Owens, Jr. was not able to make the meeting so the bill will be placed on the agenda for the next committee meeting.

Representative Sherrill suggested that staff have a fiscal note prepared for this bill.

HOUSE BILL 224, AN ACT TO APPROPRIATE FUNDS FOR THE RECOVERY AND CONSERVATION OF ARTIFACTS FROM THE QUEEN ANNE'S REVENGE. Attachment 4A

Representative Ronald L. Smith and Representative Jean Preston sponsored the same legislation. Representative Smith explained that this appropriation is needed to continue work on the recovery and conservation of the artifacts from the shipwreck that is believed to be Blackbeard's flagship, Queen Anne's Revenge. The project will stop unless the money is appropriated. Representative Preston stated that the project is in a very critical condition. It was discovered in 1996 in Carteret County in Beaufort Inlet. The recovery has gotten worldwide coverage. Representative Preston stated that there is interest, not only in North Carolina, but also all across the country and in other countries. The more they excavate the more evidence that they have that proves it is the flagship. The recovered artifact is at the North Carolina Maritime Museum located in Beaufort.

HOUSE BILL 240, AN ACT TO APPROPRIATE FUNDS FOR THE EDUCATION CENTER AT THE CONTEMPORARY ART MUSEUM IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH. Attachment 5

Representative Jennifer Weiss, sponsor of the legislation, stated that the bill is for an appropriation to be used for capital improvements to renovate and adapt approximately 10,000 square feet of interior space dedicated to the art education institute in the Contemporary Art Museum. The Art Institute for Educators would serve the art educators statewide for the state's public schools. There would be an after school program with a visual arts focus for children from Wake County. It would have educational programs for middle and high school students. It would have a resource library for educators.

Representative Weiss recognized Ms. Ruth Cook, Public Affairs Consultant, of the Museum. Ms. Cook stated that there is no other museum in North Carolina like the Contemporary Art Museum. They do outreach and training workshops for teachers to take the information back to their schools. The teachers receive credit for the workshops.

For more information on the museum, refer to Attachment 5A and 5B. Ms. Cook introduced Mr. Frank Thompson, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, Ms. Denise Dickens, Executive Director, and Sharon Kanter, Director of Development.

Upon motion made by Representative Sherrill, the bill was re-referred to the Appropriations Subcommittee on Capital.

HOUSE BILL 388, AN ACT TO APPROPRIATE FUNDS TO THE ROBESON COUNTY AFRICAN-AMERICAN CULTURAL CENTER FOR ARCHITECTURAL DESIGN AND EXPANSION OF ITS CENTER. Attachment 6

Representative Donald Bonner explained that the center located in Robeson County is in the process of trying to update. Over the past few years, the Carolina Historical Center that caters mostly to the Caucasian community has been developed and sustained. The Native American Cultural Center has been developed and sustained in Robeson County. One area that is missing is an African-American Cultural Center. About three years ago, several made a commitment to develop this type of center and raised and purchased land and building for $70,000. An open house was held this year to show off the $60,000 renovation. This building serves as an all purpose building but they plan to use this facility as a historical site to house historical material for African-Americans and then move the actual place for cultural events to a larger facility on the same property. The last phase of this calls for a development of a meeting space that will allow the African-American youth the same advantage as the other centers offer. The center would cost approximately $500,000. House Bill 388 is a request for $250,000 from the state.

Representative Barefoot asked what the racial diversity is in the county? Representative Bonner stated that it is about one-third of each group.

Upon a motion by Representative Sherrill, the bill was re-referred to the Appropriations Subcommittee on Capital.

HOUSE BILL 783, AN ACT TRANSFERRING THE CHINQUA-PENN PLANTATION TO THE DEPARTMENT OF CULTURAL RESOURCES AND APPROPRIATING FUNDS TO PROMOTE, MANAGE, AND MAINTAIN THE CHINQUA-PENN PLANTATION. Attachment 7

The sponsor of the bill, Representative Nelson Cole, was not present to explain the bill. The bill was displaced.

HOUSE BILL 981, AN ACT TO APPROPRIATE FUNDS TO THE NORTH CAROLINA HUMANITIES COUNCIL. Attachment 8

Representative Adams presented House Bill 981. She stated that the request is for $200,000 for 2001-2002. For twenty-nine years, non-profit foundations for programs in the community have impacted the entire state. All six regions of the state have been partially funded through the Council. She called the committees attention to the newsletter that outlines the different programs that have received support. Since 1997, the organization has received funding annually, which has been used to support its Grants Program.

Representative Adams introduced Ms. Alice Barkley, Executive Director. Others representing the Council were Ms. Janice Periquet, Director of Development, Ms. Lori Ann Harris, and Ms. Theresa Kostrzewa. Ms. Barkley stated that she couldn't emphasize enough what State funds have meant to the Council in securing their Grants Program. Their long-term goal is to have an equal amount of funds from the federal government, the state, and private resources.

Representative Sherrill spoke on behalf of the bill. She would like this item placed in the recurring budget so they will not have to return each year to request appropriations.

HOUSE BILL 165, AN ACT TO APPROPRIATE FUNDS FOR THE KIDS VOTING NORTH CAROLINA PROGRAM. Attachment 9

The sponsor of this legislation, Representative Sherrill stated that Kids Voting of North Carolina, Inc. exist in nine counties. It is a nonprofit, nonpartisan, and an educational program. It builds partnerships with the community to help achieve the common goal of citizens' participation in government. In her county, they had kids voting for the first time in 2000 and a thousand volunteers were documented as working on this program. There were 11,764 kids that voted which represented 62.7 percent of the kids enrolled in Buncombe County. That far exceeded the percentage of citizens that were registered to vote. Kids Voting is the development of future generations with regard to voting. $50,000 shall be used to implement new Kids Voting programs in nonparticipating counties across the State.

Representative Jeffus stated that the program is in Guilford County and it is a rewarding experience to serve as a volunteer.

Representative Jeffus announced that the two bills not heard today would be on the agenda for the committee meeting tomorrow at 8:30 a.m.

There being no further business, Representative Jeffus adjourned the meeting at 2:30 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Rep. Maggie Jeffus

CAM Education Institute
Activities/Programs

Art Institute for Educators
The Art Institute for Educators will provide training for educators from across North Carolina. Teachers will be able to attain Renewal Certification at CAM's Art Institute for Educators. Teacher's will gain valuable experience and training with visiting scholars and experts in the education field as well as first hand opportunities to work side by side with visiting international artists. CAM is qualified to train teachers and offer renewal credits from the NC Department of Public Instruction.

After-School Art Program
CAM will offer an after-school art instruction for students in middle and high school levels. A recent study conducted in Wake County identified the critical lack and need for after-school programs for teens between the hours of 3-6pm. This time period was noted as a critical time of day when unsupervised youth engaged in activities that were a detriment to the student. CAM has targeted our After-School Program to fill the need for high quality after-school activities with a visual arts and education focus for this age group.

Resource Library
CAM has already established a resource library collection with books, publications, audio-visual materials for art educators. The actual library space within CAM's Art Education Institute will permanently house this collection. The collection will be expanded to include donated education materials Wake County's art teachers have collected and want to share with other teachers locally and across the State.

Technology and Multi-media Lab
A Technology/Multi-media Lab will allow the Museum to offer art activities with distance learning and interactive capabilities. Students and educators will be able to use state-of-the-art computers and equipment for graphics and art making. Additionally the Museum will be able to offer distance learning programs to art educators and students across North Carolina.

Education Gallery
The Education Gallery will be a dedicated space for both student exhibitions and curated exhibitions with specific educational goals. In some cases this may be a hands-on activity gallery that will complement the regular exhibition program. CAM's School Mentoring Program will utilize this space for its final projects.

Black Box Theater
CAM's Black Box Theater will be utilized for lectures, live theatrical, dance, and musical performances and films Series. Additionally, this space will be available to other arts groups to stage their productions. A recent study conducted by the North Carolina Theater Conference determined that small theater spaces are in great demand by over 30

mid-sized to small theater companies in the Triangle region. Again, CAM will be filling a very important space need in the Triangle region.

Family Programs
With-in the flexible studio/classroom spaces CAM's Art Education Institute will offer Family Programs specifically targeting families from the Triangle Region. Parents with their children will be able to take classes together working with art teachers and artists.

College Intern Program
College students from area universities will have the opportunity gain valuable experience working side-by-side artists and museum professionals. This structured program will offer college credit through their university. Students will be able to gain working experience in Education, Curatorial, Development, and Administration Departments of the Museum. Particular emphasis will be on students earning degrees in Art Education and Museum Studies.

Pre-School Program
A Pre-School program meeting one day a week (first two years) will be offered at CAM's Art Education Institute. This program will have a visual arts focus and will give the pre-school participant and parent the opportunity to engage in hands-on-activities as well as building critical thinking skills for the young child.

Student Docents Program
Middle and High School students will receive training in art theory and critical analysis of contemporary art works. This training will enable them to become Teen Docents and Gallery Guides. These students will participate in an in-depth training program and will make a 2-4 year commitment to be in service at the Museum. This program will allow students to gain important Community Service experience.

School Mentoring Program
CAM partners with public and private middle and high schools in a nine county Region. The Mentoring Program takes place at CAM's Art Education Institute and at the participating schools. Teachers and students have a year-long opportunity to work with Museum educators and visiting artists. This program is structured to meet the individual schools visual arts needs. CAM has established strong partnerships with area schools through its Mentoring Program.

Museums Magnet Middle School
CAM will be the lead Visual Arts Education provider for the new Museums Magnet Middle School scheduled to open fall 2002 in downtown Raleigh.

On behalf of the North Carolina Humanities Council, we would like to thank you for giving us the opportunity to speak at your meeting this past Tuesday, June 12th.

We can't emphasize enough what State funds have meant to the Council in securing our Grants program---or what they have meant to so many North Carolina communities, big and small, as they develop programs that help enlighten and give meaning to their lives.

If we can be of any assistance to you as you make these hard budget decisions over the next few weeks, please let us know. We can be reached at 336.334.5383.

Thank you again for all your help. We really appreciate it.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO APPROPRIATE FUNDS TO THE DEPARTMENT OF CULTURAL RESOURCES TO SUPPORT THE NORTH CAROLINA ARTS COUNCIL.

Whereas, North Carolina is known throughout the world for its pottery traditions, literary legacy, Southern Appalachian music traditions, jazz, blues and gospel heritage, and an abundance of artists and arts institutions; and

Whereas, North Carolina's arts community is strong and vibrant and it contributes greatly to the rich quality of life and to the healthy economy that this State enjoys; and

Whereas, the North Carolina Arts Council has worked to build a community of artists and arts organizations so that all of our citizens and visitors to our State will have the opportunity to enjoy the arts; and

Whereas, in 2003, the national average for per capita spending by state arts councils will be $1.50; and

Whereas, an additional $6,000,000 appropriation added to the North Carolina Arts Council's recurring appropriation would allow North Carolina to reach the national average; and

Whereas, in each of the years during the 1999-2001 biennium, the North Carolina Arts Council received a nonrecurring appropriation of $2,000,000; and

Whereas, there is precedent in North Carolina's budgeting process for such an appropriation to become part of the recurring budget in the third year; Now, therefore,

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. There is appropriated from the General Fund to the Department of Cultural Resources, Division of Arts Council, the sum of two million dollars ($2,000,000) for the 2001-2002 fiscal year and the sum of four million dollars ($4,000,000) for the 2002-2003 fiscal year to support the programs of the North Carolina Arts Council. These funds shall be in addition to appropriations already in the base budget for the North Carolina Arts Council and shall become part of the North Carolina Arts Council's continuation budget.

SECTION 2. This act becomes effective July 1, 2001.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO APPROPRIATE FUNDS FOR THE AID TO PUBLIC LIBRARIES FUND.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. There is appropriated from the General Fund to the Department of Cultural Resources, Division of State Library, the sum of ten million one hundred thousand dollars ($10,100,000) for the 2001-2002 fiscal year to increase the amount allocated to libraries from the Aid to Public Libraries Fund.

SECTION 2. This act becomes effective July 1, 2001.

Fact Sheet: The Aid to Public Libraries Fund

North Carolina's Aid to Public Libraries program has been in effect since 1941--when the General Assembly articulated its policies regarding the role of the state in public library development--and appropriated the first $100,000 for the program.

Chapter 153 of the General Statutes of North Carolina (the chapter dealing with counties) contains the "Declaration of State policy" that says: The General Assembly recognizes that the availability of adequate, modern library services is in the general interest of the people of North Carolina and a proper concern of the State and of local governments. Therefore, it is the policy of the State of North Carolina to promote the establishment and development of public library services throughout the state. Chapter 125, which is the chapter dealing with the State Library, re-iterates that policy and established the state aid program: For promoting, aiding, and equalizing public library service in North Carolina a sum shall annually be appropriated out of moneys within the State treasury to be known as the Aid to Public Libraries fund.

From the time of that first appropriation of $100,000, the program has continued and evolved. Today 76 county, regional, and municipal library systems serving all 100 counties receive state aid--51 single-county libraries, 15 regional libraries serving 49 counties, and 10 municipal libraries that meet the minimum standards to qualify.

The current formula went into effect in 1983-84--and includes two components:

- ✓ A block grant: one-half of the appropriation is divided among the qualifying libraries. Each county receives one grant, and a regional library receives a block grant for each county plus an additional one for the region. Municipal libraries do not receive a block grant.

- ✓ Per Capita Equalization Grant: one-half of the appropriation is allocated under a weighted per capita grant inversely proportional to the average per capita income of people residing in the library's legal service area.

State aid is 20% or more of the operating budget for public libraries in 54 counties; and a total of 75 counties depend on the program for 15% or more of their public library operating funds. Statewide, state aid equals 10% of the total expenditures for public library service; however, that amount varies from a low of 2% in Charlotte/Mecklenburg to a high of 44%. For municipal libraries that do not receive a block grant, state aid represents an even lower percentage of operating expenditures.

Currently, state aid gives North Carolina public libraries considerably less buying power than they had in 1987, yet the number of people being served and the demand for services is greater than at any time in their history. During the past six years, the General Assembly has increased the Aid to Public Libraries Fund to $15.4 million, which represents $2.02 per capita. Even with these increases, the per capita Aid to Public Libraries appropriation this year is only $.34 more than the per capita appropriation in 1987. If the appropriation had kept pace with inflation, it would be $2.53 per capita, or $19.4 million. The $0.5 million appropriated for the current year is non-recurring, so the Fund will drop to $14.9 million (or $1.95 per capita) if additional funds are not appropriated.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO PROVIDE A PERMANENT MECHANISM FOR THE COLLECTION OF TAX DEBTS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Article 9 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 105-243.1. Collection of tax debts.

(a) Definitions. – The following definitions apply in this section:

(1) Overdue tax debt. – Any part of a tax debt that remains unpaid 90 days or more after the notice of final assessment was mailed to the taxpayer.

(2) Tax debt. – The total amount of tax, penalty, and interest due for which a notice of final assessment has been mailed to a taxpayer after the taxpayer no longer has the right to contest the debt.

(b) Outsourcing. – The Secretary may contract for the collection of tax debts. At least 30 days before the Department submits a tax debt to a contractor for collection, the Department must notify the taxpayer by mail that the debt may be submitted for collection if payment is not received within 30 days after the notice was mailed.

(c) Fee. – A collection assistance fee is imposed on an overdue tax debt that remains unpaid 30 days or more after the fee notice required by this subsection is mailed to the taxpayer. In order to impose a collection assistance fee on a tax debt, the Department must notify the taxpayer that the fee will be imposed if the tax debt is not paid in full within 30 days after the date the fee notice was mailed to the taxpayer. The Department may not mail the fee notice earlier than 60 days after the notice of final assessment for the tax debt was mailed to the taxpayer. The fee is collectible as part of the debt.

The amount of the collection assistance fee is twenty percent (20%) of the amount of the overdue tax debt. If the Department collects only part of the overdue tax debt, the amount collected is allocated proportionally between the collection assistance fee and the tax debt.

The fee is a receipt of the Department and must be applied to the costs of collecting overdue tax debts. The Department may use the fee receipts to establish positions for revenue officers, auditors, programmers, and other personnel that collect overdue tax debts or support the work of those who collect overdue tax debts. The number of positions established with the fee receipts may not exceed 100. The fee proceeds do not revert but remain available for expenditure for the costs of collecting overdue tax debts.

(d) Reports. – The Department must report to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations and to the Revenue Laws Study Committee on its efforts to collect tax debts. Reports must be submitted quarterly beginning November 1, 2001, through November 1, 2002, and semiannually thereafter. The report must include a breakdown of the amount and age of tax debts collected by collection agencies on contract, the amount and age of tax debts collected by the Department through warning letters, and the amount and age of tax debts otherwise collected by Department personnel."

SECTION 2. G.S. 105A-13 reads as rewritten:

"§ 105A-13. Collection assistance fees.

(a) State Setoff. – To recover the costs incurred by the Department in collecting debts under this Chapter, a collection assistance fee of no more than fifteen dollars ($15.00) is imposed on each debt collected through setoff. The Department must collect this fee as part of the debt and retain it. The Department must set the amount of the collection assistance fee based on its actual cost of collection under this Chapter for the immediately preceding year. If the Department is able to collect only part of a debt through setoff, the collection assistance fee has priority over the remainder of the debt. The collection assistance fee shall not be added to child support debts or collected as part of child support debts. Instead, the Department shall retain from collections under Division II of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes the cost of collecting child support debts under this Chapter.

~~(b) Federal Setoff. A collection assistance fee of fifteen dollars ($15.00) applies to a setoff made by the United States Department of the Treasury to recover tax owed to North Carolina. The Department of Revenue must add the fee to the amount of the tax liability submitted to the United States Department of the Treasury for setoff. The Department of Revenue must collect the fee as part of the debt and retain it. If a federal setoff covers only part of the tax due, the collection assistance fee has priority over the tax due.~~"

SECTION 3. G.S. 105-269 reads as rewritten:

"§ 105-269. Extraterritorial authority to enforce payment.

(a) The ~~Secretary of Revenue,~~ Secretary, with the assistance of the Attorney General, is ~~hereby empowered~~ authorized to bring suits in the courts of other states to collect taxes legally due this State. The officials of other states ~~which~~ that extend a like comity to this State are empowered to sue for the collection of ~~such~~ taxes in the courts of this State. A certificate by the Secretary of State, under the Great Seal of the State, that ~~such~~ these officers have authority to collect the tax ~~shall be~~ is conclusive evidence of ~~such~~ this authority. Whenever ~~it shall be deemed expedient by the Secretary of Revenue~~ the Secretary considers it expedient to employ local counsel to assist in bringing suit in an out-of-state court, the Secretary, with the concurrence of the Attorney General, may employ ~~such~~ local counsel on the basis of a negotiated retainer or in accordance with prevailing commercial law league rates.

~~(b) The Secretary of Revenue may, in accordance with the procedure prescribed in G.S. 143-49(3), contract for the collection of taxes legally due this State from taxpayers located in other states. The Secretary may furnish to a contractor hired pursuant to this subsection any information he considers necessary to identify and locate a taxpayer, establish the tax liability of a taxpayer, or effect collection of the amount due.~~"

SECTION 4. G.S. 105-259(b) is amended by adding a new subdivision to read:

"(b) Disclosure Prohibited. – An officer, an employee, or an agent of the State who has access to tax information in the course of service to or employment by the State may not disclose the information to any other person unless the disclosure is made for one of the following purposes:

SECTION 5. Section 5(a) of S.L. 1999-341, as amended by Section 16 of S.L. 2000-120, reads as rewritten:

"Section 5.(a) The Secretary of Revenue shall contract during the 1999-2001 fiscal biennium for the collection of delinquent tax debts owed by nonresidents and foreign entities. To implement this section, the Secretary may draw funds for the 1999-2000 fiscal year from net collections that would otherwise be credited to the General Fund under G.S. 105-269.14, enacted by Section 2 of this act. For the 2000-2001 ~~fiscal year,~~ and 2001-2002 fiscal years, the Secretary may retain the costs of implementing this section from the amounts collected pursuant to the contracts authorized by this section. The Secretary of Revenue shall report annually to the Revenue Laws Study Committee on its collections pursuant to this contract during the biennium."

SECTION 6. The Office of State Budget, Planning, and Management shall cooperate with the Department of Revenue to facilitate the implementation of collection efforts with respect to overdue tax debts pursuant to this act during the 2001-2002 fiscal year.

SECTION 7. Section 5 of this act is effective when it becomes law. The remainder of this act becomes effective July 1, 2001, and applies to tax debts that remain unpaid on or after that date.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. The General Assembly finds that the Department of Revenue has documented that the State's cost of collecting overdue tax debts exceeds twenty percent (20%) of the amount of the overdue tax debts. The General Assembly finds that the cost of collecting overdue tax debts is currently borne by taxpayers who pay their taxes on time. It is the intent of the General Assembly by this act to shift this cost to the delinquent taxpayers who owe overdue tax debts.

SECTION 2. Article 9 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 105-243.1. Collection of tax debts.

(a) Definitions. – The following definitions apply in this section:

(1) Overdue tax debt. – Any part of a tax debt that remains unpaid 90 days or more after the notice of final assessment was mailed to the taxpayer.

(2) Tax debt. – The total amount of tax, penalty, and interest due for which a notice of final assessment has been mailed to a taxpayer after the taxpayer no longer has the right to contest the debt.

(b) Outsourcing. – The Secretary may contract for the collection of tax debts. At least 30 days before the Department submits a tax debt to a contractor for collection, the Department must notify the taxpayer by mail that the debt may be submitted for collection if payment is not received within 30 days after the notice was mailed.

(c) Fee. – A collection assistance fee is imposed on an overdue tax debt that remains unpaid 30 days or more after the fee notice required by this subsection is mailed to the taxpayer. In order to impose a collection assistance fee on a tax debt, the Department must notify the taxpayer that the fee will be imposed if the tax debt is not paid in full within 30 days after the date the fee notice was mailed to the taxpayer. The Department may not mail the fee notice earlier than 60 days after the notice of final assessment for the tax debt was mailed to the taxpayer. The fee is collectible as part of the debt.

The amount of the collection assistance fee is twenty percent (20%) of the amount of the overdue tax debt. If the Department collects only part of the overdue tax debt, the amount collected is allocated proportionally between the collection assistance fee and the tax debt.

(d) Use. – The fee is a receipt of the Department and must be applied to the costs of collecting overdue tax debts. The proceeds of the fee must be credited to a special account within the Department and may be expended only as provided in this subsection. The Department may apply the proceeds of the fee to pay contractors for collecting tax debts under subsection (b) of this section and to pay the fee the United States Department of the Treasury charges for setoff to recover tax owed to North Carolina. The remaining proceeds of the fee may be spent only pursuant to appropriation by the General Assembly. The fee proceeds do not revert but remain in the special account until spent for the costs of collecting overdue tax debts.

(e) Reports. – The Department must report to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations and to the Revenue Laws Study Committee on its efforts to collect tax debts. Reports must be submitted quarterly beginning November 1, 2001, through November 1, 2002, and semiannually thereafter. The report must include a breakdown of the amount and age of tax debts collected by collection agencies on contract, the amount and age of tax debts collected by the Department through warning letters, and the amount and age of tax debts otherwise collected by Department personnel."

SECTION 3. G.S. 105A-13 reads as rewritten:

"§ 105A-13. Collection assistance fees.

(a) State Setoff. – To recover the costs incurred by the Department in collecting debts under this Chapter, a collection assistance fee of no more than fifteen dollars ($15.00) is imposed on each debt collected through setoff. The Department must collect this fee as part of the debt and retain it. The Department must set the amount of the collection assistance fee based on its actual cost of collection under this Chapter for the immediately preceding year. If the Department is able to collect only part of a debt through setoff, the collection assistance fee has priority over the remainder of the debt. The collection assistance fee shall not be added to child support debts or collected as part of child support debts. Instead, the Department shall retain from collections under Division II of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes the cost of collecting child support debts under this Chapter.

~~(b) Federal Setoff. – A collection assistance fee of fifteen dollars ($15.00) applies to a setoff made by the United States Department of the Treasury to recover tax owed to North Carolina. The Department of Revenue must add the fee to the amount of the tax~~

~~liability submitted to the United States Department of the Treasury for setoff. The Department of Revenue must collect the fee as part of the debt and retain it. If a federal setoff covers only part of the tax due, the collection assistance fee has priority over the tax due.~~"

SECTION 4. G.S. 105-269 reads as rewritten:

"§ 105-269. Extraterritorial authority to enforce payment.

(a) The ~~Secretary of Revenue,~~ Secretary, with the assistance of the Attorney General, is ~~hereby empowered~~ authorized to bring suits in the courts of other states to collect taxes legally due this State. The Secretary may furnish to a contractor hired pursuant to this subsection any information he considers necessary to identify and locate a taxpayer, establish the tax liability of a taxpayer, or effect collection of the amount due.~~"

SECTION 5. G.S. 105-259(b) is amended by adding a new subdivision to read:

"(b) Disclosure Prohibited. – An officer, an employee, or an agent of the State who has access to tax information in the course of service to or employment by the State may not disclose the information to any other person unless the disclosure is made for one of the following purposes:

(26) To contract for the collection of tax debts pursuant to G.S. 105-243.1."

11:00 a.m.

The APPROPRIATIONS Subcommittee on General Government met on Friday, June 22, 2001 at 11:00 a.m. in Room 425 of the Legislative Office Building. The following House members were present: Chairs Jeffus and Sherrill, Representatives Adams, Lucas, and Setzer. Committee Staff present were: Michele Nelson and Marilyn Chism. A Visitor Registration list is attached and made part of the minutes.

Representative Jeffus called the meeting to order. She stated that many have worked hard at putting this budget together and think they have a good budget. It is not everything that everybody wanted including those of us on the committee but often time you have to compromise. She presented the rules to the members that the committee will abide as they go through the budget. (See Attachment 1)

Staff was recognized to go through each section of the budget that is their responsibility.

QUESTIONS:

Representative Jeffus stated that they would receive the questions from the members of the committee.

Representative Adams asked if the N.C. MANUAL will it be reprinted? Representative Jeffus asked staff if money was in the budget or provisions for it? She requested staff to make a note to see if there was any money in the Continuation Budget. Representative Adams stated that this item was flagged and she has not had any input. Ms. Chism stated that in the past this item was funded every other year and included in the Continuation Budget. It was not included in the Continuation Budget year when it came from the Governor because of the application of the modified zero base budgeting. Representative Jeffus stated that they could make an amendment but would have to find the money within that department. Representative Adams asked if when this budget bill goes to the floor would amendments be accepted? Representative Jeffus stated that she thought that on Monday at the full Appropriations meeting amendments could be offered.

Representative Adams stated that she had requested information regarding a list of job positions by race and gender quotes for each area and still does not have the information. Representative Jeffus inquired who was to supply the information. Representative Adams did not recall. The committee staff will follow-up on this request.

Representative Adams has a question about the Council For Women on page 14, lines 5-6, "at a minimum", what does that mean? Representative Sherrill answered that they had cut out the executive director, had no money for a director, this special provision provides that the Secretary of the Department of Administration shall identify a person that is currently employed at the Council and assign that person as the contact person for the Commission. It is up to the Secretary to compensate if it is within her budget.

Representative Setzer made a motion for this document be approved and incorporated into the Appropriations bill. Motion carried. Representative Adams abstained.

Representative Jeffus announced that the full Appropriations meeting would be at 1:00 p.m., Monday, June 25, 2001.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned at 12:45 p.m.

Respectively submitted,

Rep. Maggie Jeffus

29 Transfer Operating Budget ($5,006,407) R ($5,006,407) R

Transfer the operating budget for the Investment and Banking Division from appropriation-support to receipt-support. Currently, the Division receives a General Fund appropriation for its operations and the General Fund is reimbursed from non-tax revenue -- the management fees assessed against the interest earnings on the investment pool. With the transfer of the operating budget to receipt-support, the management fee will be a direct receipt to the Investment and Banking Division.

The transfer is net of an operating budget reduction of $610,190. Thus, the General Fund appropriation will decrease by $5,006,407. Non-tax revenue to the General Fund will be reduced by a corresponding amount. Departmental receipts will increase by $4,396,217.

Funds for State employee incentive bonuses shall only come from savings including reversions above the baseline reversion of the employing State department, agency, or institution.~~

(b1) The amount of savings generated by suggestions and innovations shall be determined after a 12-month period of implementation. No incentive bonus shall be paid prior to the expiration of 12 months, and payment may be delayed further as reasonably required to ensure that a complete cost implementation cycle is evaluated fully.

(c) ~~Savings generated by suggestions and innovations shall be determined at the end of the fiscal year in which the suggestion or innovation is implemented or the determination may be carried over for one full fiscal year after implementation before making an award if the actual savings cannot be verified before the end of the fiscal year.~~Any savings are to be calculated using the actual expenditures for a program, activity, or service compared to the budgeted amount for the same, if an amount has been budgeted for the program, activity, or service. The savings calculation shall include the amount of any reversions in excess of the baseline reversion. ~~The savings or revenue increases realized from any suggestion or innovation implemented for less than one full fiscal year shall be annualized.~~Any savings realized through the State Employee Incentive Bonus Program shall be weighed against continued service to the ~~public.~~public and the assurance that there is not a negative impact on State programs.

(d) If a suggestion or innovation affects a program, activity, or service for which no separate budgeted amount has been made, the State Coordinator, in conjunction with the agency evaluator or agency fiscal officer, or both for that suggestion or innovation, shall determine the budgetary impact of the suggestion or innovation.

(e) Federal and local government funds and corporate and foundation grant funds are excluded from the SEIBP.

(f) The Department of Administration shall establish the SEIBP reserve fund in which all savings for all suggestions shall be deposited as earned. Each participating agency shall be responsible for transferring savings to the SEIBP reserve fund. The funds may be encumbered as needed to ensure payment to the General Fund, to the suggester, and for distribution as required by G.S. 143-345.22. The Department of Administration shall provide the SEIBP reserve fund summary at the close of each fiscal year to the Office of State Budget and Management and to the participating agencies. The Office of State Budget and Management shall have oversight responsibility for ensuring that the required reversions and transfers are made to the General Fund, and that all encumbered funds are accounted for and paid as required by law.

(g) No distribution of suggester awards shall occur until reversion requirements to the General Fund are met and distributions as required by G.S. 143-345.22 are satisfied and verified by the Office of State Budget and Management. When all of the requirements of G.S. 143-345.22 are fulfilled, the Department of Administration shall transfer to the suggester's agency funds required to award the suggester. The suggester's agency shall make the suggestion award and ensure that all taxes and withholding requirements are met.

(h) Implementation costs may be prorated over a maximum of three years for suggestions or innovations that are capital intensive, involve leading-edge technology, or involve unconventional processes that require longer than 12 months for implementation. The amount of the average annual savings minus the average annual implementation cost shall be used as the basis for the agency to recommend a suggester award. The State Review Committee shall consult the Office of State Budget and Management to make the final award determination in these cases.

(i) There is established in the Department of Administration a nonreverting fund to be administered by the Office of State Personnel for the training and education of permanent State employees to address specific mission critical needs and objectives. Funds shall be credited from the SEIBP to the fund as provided by this Article."

SECTION 7.2.(d) G.S. 143-345.22 reads as rewritten:

"§ 143-345.22. Allocation of incentive bonus funds; nonmonetary recognition.

(a) If a State employee's suggestion or innovation results in a monetary savings or increased revenue to the State, the funds saved or increased shall be distributed according to the following scale or subject to guidelines as set forth by the funding source:

(1) Twenty percent (20%) of the annualized savings or increased revenues, up to a maximum of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) for any one State employee, to constitute gainsharing. If a team of State employees is the suggester, the bonus provided in this subdivision shall be divided equally among the team members, except that no team member ~~may~~ shall receive in excess of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000), nor ~~may~~ shall the team receive an aggregate amount in excess of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000). These funds shall not revert.

(2) Thirty percent (30%) ~~for all current employees in the work unit, as designated by the agency head, of the employing unit of the suggester.~~allocated as follows:

(3) The remainder to the General Fund for nonrecurring budget items.

(a1) Of the pool of funds identified in subsection (a) of this section, only the General Fund appropriations shall be subject to reversion, except during declared budget emergencies. Under nonemergency budget conditions, SEIBP funds arising from savings at The University of North Carolina, the North Carolina Community Colleges System, the Highway Trust Fund, enterprise funds, and receipt-supported organizations shall be exempt from the General Fund reversion requirements.

(b) The budget of a State agency shall not be reduced in the following fiscal year by an amount similar to the monetary savings or increased revenues realized by the State Employee Incentive Bonus Program. The agency budget shall be reduced in subsequent years only if structural or organizational changes are made that warrant the reductions, including the transfer of responsibility for an activity or service to another agency or the elimination of some function of State government.

(c) If a suggestion or innovation results in improved quality of services to the public or to other State agencies, departments, and institutions, but not in monetary savings to the State, the suggester shall receive a nonmonetary award in the form of a certificate, leave with pay, or other similar recognition."

(c) A motion to reconsider the vote by which a person has been elected as Speaker or Speaker Pro Tempore shall not be in order. This subsection of this rule cannot be suspended.

RULE 19. Previous Question. – (a) The previous question may be called only by:

(1) The Chair of the Committee on Rules, Calendar, and Operations of the House;
(2) The majority leader;
(3) The Speaker Pro Tempore;
(4) The member submitting the report on the bill or other matter under consideration;
(5) The member introducing the bill or other matter under consideration; or
(6) The member in charge of the measure, who shall be designated by the chair of the standing committee or permanent subcommittee reporting the same to the House at the time the bill or other matter under consideration is reported to the House or taken up for consideration.

(7) The member designated by the Speaker under Rule 26(h) to serve as an ex officio member of every standing committee and permanent subcommittee.

(b) The previous question shall be as follows: "Call for the previous question having been made, is the call sustained?" When the call for the previous question has been decided in the affirmative by a majority vote of the House, the question is on the passage of the bill, resolution, or other matter under consideration.

(c) The call for the previous question shall preclude all motions, amendments, and debate, except the motion to adjourn or motion to table.

(d) If the previous question is decided in the negative, the question remains under debate.

IV. Voting

RULE 20. Use of Electronic Voting System. – (a) Votes on the following questions shall be taken on the electronic voting system, and the ayes and noes shall be recorded on the Journal:

(1) The passage as required by Article II, Section 23 of the North Carolina Constitution on second and third readings of any bill:
   a. Raising money on the credit of the State,
   b. Pledging the faith of the State for the payment of a debt,
   c. Imposing a State tax, or
   d. Authorizing a county, municipality, or other local governmental unit to
      1. Raise money on its credit,
      2. Pledge its faith for the payment of a debt, or
      3. Impose a local tax.

(2) All measures affecting a fee imposed by the State or any subdivision thereof.

(3) All questions on which a call for the ayes and noes under Rule 24(a) and Article II, Section 19 of the North Carolina Constitution has been sustained.

(4) Both second and third readings of bills proposing amendment of the North Carolina Constitution or ratifying resolutions amending the United States Constitution.

(5) The passage of a bill notwithstanding the Governor's veto thereof pursuant to Article II, Section 22 of the North Carolina Constitution.

(b) Votes on the following questions shall be taken on the electronic voting system:

(1) Second reading of all public bills, all amendments to public bills offered after second reading, third reading if a public bill was amended after second reading or if the reading occurs on a day or days following the second reading, all conference reports on public bills, all motions to lay public bills on the table, and all motions to postpone public bills indefinitely.

(2) Upon a call for division.

(3) Any other question upon direction of the Speaker or upon motion of any member supported by one-fifth of the members present.

(c) When the electronic voting system is used, 15 seconds shall be allowed for voting on the question before the House, unless the Chair shall direct otherwise. The system shall be set to close automatically when that time has expired. Once the system is locked, the vote shall be recorded and printed.

(d) The voting station at each member's desk in the Chamber shall be used only by the member to which the station is assigned. Under no circumstances shall any other person vote at a member's station. It is a breach of the ethical obligation of a member either to request that another person vote at the requesting member's station or to vote at another member's station. The Speaker shall enforce this rule without exception.

(e) When the electronic voting system is used, the Speaker shall state the question and shall then state substantially the following: "All in favor vote 'aye'; all opposed vote 'no'; the Clerk will open the vote." In order to have the vote recorded, the member must vote by the electronic voting system within the time allowed for that vote, unless the voting station assigned to a member is malfunctioning. The Speaker shall enforce this rule without exception. After the allotted time for voting has elapsed, the Speaker shall say: "The Clerk will now lock the machine and record the vote." After the machine is locked and the vote recorded, the Speaker shall announce the vote and declare the result.

(f) One copy of the machine printout of the vote record of all votes taken on the electronic voting system shall be filed in the office of the Principal Clerk, and two copies shall be filed in the Legislative Library where the copies shall be open to public inspection. A legible copy of the bill, amendment, or motion on which the vote was taken shall be filed with the printout of the vote in the Legislative Library.

(g) When the Speaker ascertains that the electronic voting system is inoperative before a vote is taken or while a vote is being taken on the electronic voting system, the Speaker shall announce that fact to the House, and any partial electronic voting system voting record shall be voided. In such a case, if the North Carolina Constitution or the Rules of the House require a call of the ayes and noes, the Clerk shall call the roll of the House, and the ayes and noes shall be taken manually and shall be recorded on the Journal. All roll call votes shall be taken alphabetically. If, after a vote is taken on the electronic voting system, it is discovered that a malfunction caused an error in the electronic voting system printout, the Speaker shall direct the Reading Clerk and the Principal Clerk to verify and correct the printout record and so advise the House.

(h) For the purpose of identifying motions on which the vote is taken on the electronic voting system, the motions are coded as follows:

(1) To adjourn.

(2) To lay on the table.

(3) Previous question.
(4) To postpone indefinitely.
(5) To reconsider.
(6) To postpone to a day certain.
(7) To re-refer.
(8) To amend an amendment.
(9) To amend.
(10) To concur or not concur.
(11) Miscellaneous.

RULE 21. Voice Votes; Stating Questions. – (a) All other votes except those required to be taken on the electronic voting system shall be taken by voice vote.

(b) When a voice vote is taken the Speaker shall put the question substantially as follows: "Those in favor (as the question may be) will say 'Aye'", and after the affirmative voice has been expressed, "Those opposed will say 'No'".

(c) No statement, explanation, debate, motion, parliamentary inquiry, or point of order shall be allowed once the voice vote has begun. Any point of order or parliamentary inquiry may be raised, however, after the completion of the vote.

RULE 22. Determining Questions. – (a) Unless otherwise provided by the Constitution of North Carolina or by these rules, all questions shall be determined by a simple majority of the members present and voting.

(b) No member may vote unless the member is in the Chamber when the question is put. This subsection of this rule cannot be suspended.

RULE 23. Voting by Division. – Any member may call for a division of the members upon the question before the result of the vote has been announced. Upon a call for a division, the Speaker shall cause the number voting in the affirmative and in the negative to be determined. Upon a division and count of the House on any question, no member away from the member's seat shall be counted.

RULE 24. Roll Call Vote. – (a) Before a question is put, any member may call for the ayes and noes. If the call is sustained by one-fifth of the members present, the question shall be decided by the ayes and noes upon a roll call vote.

(b) Every member who is in the Hall of the House when the question is put shall vote upon a call of the ayes and noes, unless excused pursuant to Rule 24.1A.

RULE 24.1A. Excuse From Deliberations and Voting on a Bill. – (a) Any member shall, upon request, be excused from the deliberations and voting on a particular bill, but to do so must make that request after the second reading of the bill and before any motion or vote on the bill or any amendment thereto. If the reason for the request arises at some point later in the proceedings, the request may be made at that time.

(b) The member may make a brief oral statement of the reasons for making the request. The member may send forward to the Principal Clerk, on a form provided by the Clerk, a concise written statement of the reason for the request, and the Clerk shall include this statement in the Journal.

(c) The member so excused shall not debate the bill or any amendment to the bill, vote on the bill, offer or vote on any amendment to the bill, or offer or vote on any motion concerning the bill at that reading, any subsequent reading, or any subsequent consideration of the bill.

(d) A member may request that his or her excuse from deliberations on a particular bill be withdrawn.

RULE 24.1B. Division of Amendments. – Any member may call for an amendment to be divided into two or more amendments to be voted on separately, and the Speaker shall determine whether the amendment admits of such a division.

RULE 25. Voting by Speaker. – In all elections the Speaker may vote. In all other instances the Speaker may vote or may reserve this right until there is a tie in which event the Speaker may vote; but in no instance may the Speaker vote twice on the same question.

V. Committees

RULE 26. Standing Committees and Permanent Subcommittees Generally. – (a) The Speaker shall appoint a chair, or cochairs, of every standing committee, permanent subcommittee, and select committee, if any. In the construction of these rules, the word "chair" as applied to a committee extends to and includes a cochair of the committee. The Speaker shall have the exclusive right and authority to establish select committees, but this does not exclude the right of the House by resolution to establish select committees.

(b) All permanent subcommittees of each standing committee shall be appointed by the Speaker, and the members appointed, along with the chair of the standing committee, shall constitute the standing committee of which the permanent subcommittee is a part. The Speaker shall appoint all members of permanent subcommittees at the beginning of the first regular session in a manner to reflect the partisan membership of the House.

(c) The Speaker shall appoint the members of all standing committees having no permanent subcommittees at the beginning of the first regular session in a manner to reflect the partisan membership of the House, except that the standing committees on Congressional Redistricting and Legislative Redistricting shall have an equal number of members of the two parties having the largest membership in the House.

(d) Each chair of a permanent subcommittee shall be a vice-chair of the standing committee of which it is a permanent subcommittee. The Speaker may name other members as vice-chairs of the standing committee. The Speaker may name one or more vice-chairs for any standing committee not having permanent subcommittees.

(e) The chair of the standing committee shall be a voting member of each permanent subcommittee of the standing committee.

(f) Either the chair or acting chair, designated by the chair or by the Speaker, and five other members of the standing committee or permanent subcommittee, or a majority of the standing committee or permanent subcommittee, whichever is fewer, shall constitute a quorum of that standing committee or permanent subcommittee. For purposes of determining a quorum, the Speaker Pro Tempore,

Majority Leader, Majority Whips, and the person designated by the Speaker when serving only as ex officio members under subsection (h) of this rule, shall be counted among the membership of the committee or subcommittee only when present.

(g) In any joint meeting of the Senate and House committees or subcommittees, the House standing committee or permanent subcommittee reserves the right to vote separately.

(h) The Speaker Pro Tempore, Majority Leader, two Majority Whips, and one member designated by the Speaker at the time of appointments of chairs of standing committees are ex officio members of every standing committee and permanent subcommittee, except the standing committees on Congressional Redistricting and Legislative Redistricting and any permanent subcommittees thereof, with the right to vote. No more than three of these persons may vote under the authority of this subsection at any committee meeting.

(b) If, after such preliminary investigation as it may make, the Committee determines to proceed with an inquiry into the conduct of any individual, the Committee shall notify the individual as to the fact of the inquiry and the charges against him and shall schedule one or more hearings on the matter. The individual shall have the right to present evidence, cross-examine witnesses, and be represented by counsel at any hearings.

Resolutions cannot amend, repeal, or modify a statute; nor do they have life beyond the term of the session during which they are adopted.

RULE 34. Introduction of Resolutions and Bills, Copies Required. – (a) Whenever any resolution or bill is introduced, a duplicate copy thereof shall be attached thereto, and the Principal Clerk shall cause said duplicate copy to be numbered as the original resolution or bill is numbered, and shall cause the same to be available at all times to the member introducing the same.

With the written approval of the chair of the standing committee and with the recommendation of the subcommittee pursuant to Rule 32(b)(4) through (6), the chair of the permanent subcommittee may report the bill directly to the floor with that recommendation. If a permanent subcommittee recommends reporting a bill to the floor and the chair of the standing committee fails to give approval, the bill shall be deemed to have been reported to the standing committee with the same recommendation as the subcommittee would have made to the House.

(b) Favorable Report. – When a standing committee or permanent subcommittee reports a bill with the recommendation that it be passed, the bill shall be placed on the favorable calendar on the day and in the order designated by the Chair of the Committee on Rules, Calendar, and Operations of the House, but no later than the fourth legislative day after submission of the report or Senate message under Rule 43.2 or Rule 43.3(a), unless:

(1) The bill is re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations or Committee on Finance under Rule 38 or was serially referred under Rule 32; or

(2) The bill has not yet been placed on the calendar, and the Speaker refers the bill to another committee.

In order to place a bill on the calendar for a legislative day, notice shall be given by the Chair of the Committee on Rules, Calendar, and Operations of the House orally in the House or in writing to the Principal Clerk. When a committee substitute is adopted and receives a favorable report by the committee or permanent subcommittee, the standing committee or permanent subcommittee chair shall submit to the standing committee or permanent subcommittee the question of an unfavorable report on the original bill. The standing committee's or permanent subcommittee's action, if any, on the original bill shall be reported at the same time the committee substitute is reported.

(c) Report Without Prejudice. – When a standing committee reports a bill without prejudice, the bill shall be placed on the favorable calendar in the same manner as provided in subsection (a) of this rule.

(d) Postponed Indefinitely. – When a standing committee reports a bill with the recommendation that it be postponed indefinitely and no minority report accompanies it, the bill shall be placed on the unfavorable calendar.

(e) Unfavorable Report. – When a standing committee reports a bill with the recommendation that it not be passed and no minority report accompanies it, the bill shall be placed on the unfavorable calendar.

(f) Minority Report. – When a bill is reported by a standing committee with a recommendation that it not be passed or that it be postponed indefinitely, but it is accompanied by a minority report signed by at least one-fourth of the members of the standing committee who were present and voting when the bill was considered in standing committee, the question before the House shall be: "The adoption of the minority report." If the minority report is adopted by majority vote, the bill shall be placed on the favorable calendar for consideration. If the minority report fails of adoption by a majority vote, the bill shall be placed on the unfavorable calendar.

RULE 36.1. Fiscal Notes. – (a) The Chair or Cochair of the Appropriations Committee, of the Finance Committee, or of the Rules, Calendar, and Operations of the House Committee, upon the floor of the House, may request that a fiscal analysis be made of a bill, resolution, or an amendment to a bill or resolution which is in the possession of the House and that a fiscal note be attached to the measure, when in the opinion of that Chair the fiscal effects of that measure are not apparent from the language of the measure.

(b) The fiscal note shall be filed and attached to the bill or amendment within two legislative days of the request. If it is impossible to prepare a fiscal note within two legislative days, the Director of Fiscal Research shall, in writing, so advise the Speaker, the Principal Clerk, and the member introducing or proposing the measure and shall indicate the time when the fiscal note will be ready.

(c) The fiscal note shall be prepared by the Fiscal Research Division on a form approved by the Rules, Calendar, and Operations of the House Committee as to content and form and signed by the staff member or members preparing it. If no estimate in dollars is possible, the fiscal note shall indicate the reasons that no estimate is provided. The fiscal note shall not comment on the merit but may identify technical problems. The Fiscal Research Division shall make the fiscal note available to the membership of the House.

(d) A sponsor of a bill or amendment may deliver a copy of the bill or amendment to the Fiscal Research Division for the preparation of a fiscal note. The sponsor shall attach the fiscal note to the bill when filed or to the amendment when its adoption is moved.

(e) The sponsor of a bill or amendment to which a fiscal note is attached who objects to the estimates and information provided may reduce to writing the objections. These objections shall be appended to the fiscal note attached to the bill or amendment and to the copies of the fiscal note available to the membership.

(f) Subsection (a) of this rule shall not apply to the Current Operations Appropriations Bill or the Capital Improvement Appropriations Bill. This rule shall not apply to a bill or amendment requiring an actuarial note under these rules.

RULE 36.2. Actuarial Notes. – (a) Every bill or resolution proposing any change in the law relative to any:

(1) State, municipal, or other retirement system funded in whole or in part out of public funds; or

(2) Program of hospital, medical, disability or related benefits provided for teachers and State employees, funded in whole or in part by State funds shall have attached to it at the time of its consideration by any standing committee or permanent subcommittee a brief explanatory statement or note which shall include a reliable estimate of the financial and actuarial effect of the proposed change to that retirement or pension system. The actuarial note shall be attached to the jacket of each proposed bill or resolution which is reported favorably by any standing committee or any permanent subcommittee, shall be separate there from, and shall be clearly designated as an actuarial note. A bill described in subdivision (a)(1) of this rule shall be referred to the Committee on Pensions and Retirement upon its introduction.

(b) The sponsor of the bill or resolution shall present a copy of the measure, with a request for an actuarial note, to the Fiscal Research Division which shall prepare the actuarial note as promptly as possible but not later than two weeks after the request is made unless an extension of time is agreed to by the sponsor as being necessary in the preparation of the note. Actuarial notes shall be prepared in the order of receipt of request and shall be transmitted to the sponsor of the measure. The actuarial note of the Fiscal Research Division shall be prepared and signed by an actuary.

(c) The sponsor of the bill or resolution shall also present a copy of the measure to the actuary employed by the system or program affected by the measure. Actuarial notes shall be prepared and transmitted to the sponsor of the measure not later than two weeks after the request is received, unless an extension of time is agreed to by the sponsor as being necessary in the preparation of the note. The actuarial note shall be attached to the jacket of the measure. The provisions of this subsection may be waived by the measure's sponsor for a measure affecting local government retirement or pension plans not administered by the State or any local government program of hospital, medical, disability, or related benefits for local government employees not administered by the State.

(d) The note shall be factual and shall, if possible, provide a reliable estimate of both the immediate effect and, if determinable, the long-range fiscal and actuarial effect of the measure. If, after careful investigation, it is determined that no dollar estimate is possible, the note shall contain a statement to that effect, setting forth the reasons why no dollar estimate can be given. No comment or opinion shall be included in the actuarial note with regard to the merits of the measure for which the note is prepared. Technical and mechanical defects in the measure may be noted.

(e) When any permanent subcommittee or standing committee reports a measure to which an actuarial note is attached at the time of permanent subcommittee or standing committee consideration, with any amendment of such nature as would substantially affect the cost to or the revenues of any retirement or pension system, or program of hospital, medical, disability, or related benefits for teachers or State employees, the chair of the permanent subcommittee or standing committee reporting the measure shall obtain from the Fiscal Research Division an actuarial note of the fiscal and actuarial effect of the proposed amendment. The actuarial note shall be attached to the jacket of the measure. An amendment to any bill or resolution shall not be in order if the amendment affects the costs to or the revenues of a State-administered retirement or pension system, or program of hospital, medical, disability, or related benefits for teachers or State employees, unless the amendment is accompanied by an actuarial note, prepared by the Fiscal Research Division, as to the actuarial effect of the amendment.

(f) The Fiscal Research Division shall make all relevant actuarial notes available to the membership of the House.

RULE 36.3. Local Legislation Affecting State Highway System. – A local bill affecting the State Highway System shall be referred to the Committee on Transportation.

RULE 37. Removing Bill From Unfavorable Calendar. – A bill may be removed from the unfavorable calendar upon motion carried by a two-thirds vote. A motion to remove a bill from the unfavorable calendar is debatable.

RULE 38. Reports on Appropriation and Revenue Bills. – (a) All standing committees, other than the Standing Committee on Appropriations, when favorably reporting any bill or resolution which:

(1) Carries an appropriation from the State; or

(2) Requires or will require in the future substantial additional State monies from the General Fund or Highway Fund to implement its provisions, shall indicate same in the report, and said bill or resolution shall be referred to the Standing Committee on Appropriations for a further report before being acted upon by the House.

(b) All standing committees, other than the Standing Committee on Finance, when favorably reporting any bill which in any way or manner raises revenue, reduces revenue, levies a tax, authorizes the levying of a tax, an assessment, or a fee, or authorizes the issue of bonds or notes, whether public, public-local, or private, shall indicate same in the report, and said bill shall be referred to the Standing Committee on Finance for a further report before being acted upon by the House.

(c) Action on Amendment Before Re-Referral. – If any standing committee recommends adoption of an amendment or committee substitute of a bill which, under the rules of the House must be referred to the Standing Committees on Appropriations or the Standing Committee on Finance, the amendment or committee substitute shall be considered and, if adopted, the amendment or substitute engrossed before the bill is re-referred.

RULE 39. Recall of Bill From Standing Committee. – (a) When a House bill has been introduced and referred to a standing committee, or when a Senate bill has been referred to a standing committee, if after 10 legislative days the standing committee has failed to act thereon, then the introducer of the House bill or some member designated by him, or some House member designated by the introducer of the Senate bill, may, after three legislative days' public notice given in the House and delivered in writing to the chair of the standing committee, on motion supported by a vote of three-fifths of the members of the House, recall the same from the standing committee to the floor of the House for consideration and such action thereon as a majority of the members present may direct.

(b) This rule shall not be temporarily suspended without one day's notice on the motion given in the House and delivered in writing to the chair of the standing committee, and to sustain that motion two-thirds of the members of the House shall be required.

RULE 39.1. Recall of Bill From Permanent Subcommittee. – When a House bill has been referred to a permanent subcommittee, if after 10 legislative days the subcommittee has failed to act thereon, or at any time, with the agreement of the subcommittee chair, the standing committee chair may re-refer the bill from that permanent subcommittee to another permanent subcommittee of the same standing committee provided the report of the re-referral shall be made pursuant to Rule 32.

RULE 39.2. Re-Referral of Bills From One Standing Committee to Another Standing Committee. – Upon consent of the sponsor of the bill, the Speaker, the chair of the standing committee from whom the bill is to be re-referred, and the chair of the standing committee to whom the bill is to be re-referred, the chair of the standing committee from whom the bill is to be re-referred or the chair of the Committee on Rules, Calendar, and Operations of the House may move for a re-referral to another standing committee and the bill shall be re-referred upon vote of the majority present during a regular session of the House.

RULE 40. Calendars and Schedules of Business. – The Clerk of the House shall prepare a daily schedule of business, including the Calendar of Bills and Resolutions for consideration and debate that day, in accordance with the Order of Business of the Day (Rule 5). The Clerk shall number all bills and resolutions in the order in which they are introduced. All bills and resolutions shall be taken up as they appear in each category (Rule 5(10)) in the order they were placed on the Calendar under Rule 36(b).

RULE 41. Reading of Bills. – (a) Every bill shall receive three readings in the House prior to its passage. The first reading and reference to standing committee of a House bill shall occur on the next legislative day following its introduction. The first reading and reference to standing committee of a Senate bill shall occur on the next legislative day following its receipt on messages from the Senate. The Speaker shall give notice at each subsequent reading whether it is the second or third reading.

(b) No bill shall be read more than once on the same day without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present and voting; provided, no bill governed by Article II, Section 23 of the North Carolina Constitution or described in Rule 20(a)(2) herein shall be read twice on one day under any circumstance.

RULE 42. Effect of a Defeated Bill. – (a) Subject to the provisions of subsection (b) of this rule, after a bill has:

(1) Been tabled,

(2) Been postponed indefinitely,

(3) Failed to pass on any of its readings, or

(4) Been placed on the unfavorable calendar,

the contents of that bill or the principal provisions of its subject matter shall not be considered in any other measure originating in the Senate or originating thereafter in the House. Upon the point of order being raised and sustained by the Chair, that measure shall be laid upon the table, and shall not be taken there from except by a two-thirds vote of the members present and voting.

(b) No local bill shall be held by the Chair to embody the contents of or the principal provisions of the subject matter of any statewide measure which has been laid on the table, has failed to pass on any of its readings, or has been placed on the unfavorable calendar.

RULE 43. Amendments. – No amendment to a measure before the House shall be in order unless the amendment is germane to the measure under consideration. A House amendment deleting a previously adopted House amendment shall not be in order, except that this sentence does not apply to amendments adopted under Rule 38(c).

If the Senate adopts an amendment or committee substitute to a House bill, the House may refuse to receive the bill on account of lack of germaneness if the Senate has a similar rule.

Only one principal (first degree) amendment shall be pending at any one time. If a subsequent or substitute principal amendment shall be offered, the Speaker shall rule it out of order. However, any member desiring to offer a subsequent or substitute principal amendment in opposition to the pending amendment may inform the House by way of argument against the pending amendment that if it is defeated the member proposes to offer another principal amendment, and the member may then read and explain such proposed amendment.

Perfecting (or second degree) amendments may be offered and considered without limitation as to number, and in the event of multiple perfecting amendments, they shall be voted upon in inverse order.

RULE 43.1. Engrossment. – Bills and resolutions, except those making appropriations, which originate in the House and which are amended, shall be engrossed before being sent to the Senate.

RULE 43.2. House Concurrence in Senate Amendments to House Bills. – When the House receives a Senate amendment to a bill originating in the House, it shall be placed on the calendar in accordance with Rule 36(b).

RULE 43.3. Committee Substitutes Adopted by the Senate to Bills Originating in the House; Procedure for Treatment of Material Amendments Thereto. – (a) Whenever the Senate has adopted a committee substitute for a bill originating in the House and has returned the bill to the House for concurrence in that committee substitute, it shall be placed on the calendar in accordance with Rule 36(b).

(b) The Speaker shall rule whether the committee substitute is a material amendment under Article II, Section 23 of the State's Constitution which reads:

"Revenue bills. – No law shall be enacted to raise money on the credit of the State, or to pledge the faith of the State directly or indirectly for the payment of any debt, or to impose any tax upon the people of the State, or to allow the counties, cities, or towns to do so, unless the bill for the purpose shall have been read three several times in each House of the General Assembly and passed three several readings, which readings shall have been on three different days, and shall have been agreed to by each House respectively, and unless the yeas and nays on the second and third readings of the bill shall have been entered on the journal."

If the committee substitute was referred to standing committee, the standing committee shall:

(1) Report the bill with the recommendation either that the House do concur or that the House do not concur; and

(2) Advise the Speaker as to whether or not that committee substitute is a material amendment under Article II, Section 23 of the North Carolina Constitution.

(c) If the committee substitute for a bill is not a material amendment, the question before the House shall be concurrence.

(d) If the committee substitute for a bill is a material amendment, the receiving of that bill on messages shall constitute first reading and the question before the House shall be concurrence on second reading. If the motion is passed, the question then shall be concurrence on third reading on the next legislative day.

(e) No committee substitute adopted by the Senate for a bill originating in the House may be amended by the House.

RULE 44. Conference Standing Committees. – (a) Whenever the House shall decline or refuse to concur in amendments put by the Senate to a bill originating in the House, or shall refuse to concur in a substitute adopted by the Senate for a bill originating in the House or whenever the Senate shall decline or refuse to concur in amendments put by the House to a bill originating in the Senate, or shall refuse to concur in a substitute adopted by the House for a bill originating in the Senate, a conference committee may be appointed by the Speaker upon the Speaker's own motion and shall be appointed upon request by the principal sponsor of the original bill, the chair of the House standing committee which reported the bill, or by the sponsor of the amendment in which the Senate refused to concur; and the bill under consideration shall thereupon go to and be considered by the joint conferees on the part of the House and Senate. In appointing members to conference committees, the Speaker shall appoint no less than a majority of members who generally supported the House position as determined by the Speaker.

(b) Only such matters as are in difference between the two houses shall be considered by the conferees, and the conference report shall deal only with such matters. The conference report may be made by a majority of the House members of such conference committee and shall not be amended.

(c) If the conferees fail to agree or if either House fails to adopt the report of its conferees, new conferees may be appointed.

(d) No vote shall be taken on adoption of a conference report until the next legislative day following the report.

RULE 43. Transmittal of Bills to Senate. – Unless ordered by the Speaker or two-thirds vote of the members present and voting, no bill shall be sent from the House on the day of its passage, except on the last day of the session.

JOINT APPROPRIATIONS SUBCOMMITTEE
ON
GENERAL GOVERNMENT

April 24, 2002
8:30 A.M.

MINUTES

The Joint Appropriations Subcommittee on General Government met Wednesday, April 24, 2002, at 8:30 A.M. in room 422 of the Legislative Office Building. Three out of four Senate members were present. The following Representatives were in attendance: Chairs Maggie Jeffus and Wilma Sherrill, Alma Adams, Daniel Barefoot, Marvin Lucas, Mitchell Setzer and Gene Wilson.

Representative Jeffus called the meeting to order; and this being the first meeting, she introduced the members and staff.

Representative Jeffus announced that hard decisions have to be made during this difficult year. The chairs have been meeting for the past few weeks but no decisions have been made. To expedite the process when session begins on May 28 and so we will be up and running, the committee will make the recommendations and the full chairs will make the final decisions. There is information on the agenda with a calendar and directions from the full appropriations chairs. Our approach has been to review the agencies for the past few weeks from a 7 to 11 percent reduction package. At this time, about half of the sixteen agencies have been reviewed. The review has generated a list of questions for each agency related to personnel, organizational structure, span of control and vacant and exempt positions. For the subcommittee's review, these agencies are going to present their 7 to 11 percent reduction packages plus other items listed on the agenda (Attachment 1).

Rep. Jeffus continued that their particular budget is one of the smaller budgets in State Government. Presently, the budget is about $340 million. The committee's target is to reduce that by $25 million. This is a very different year and we will do it a little bit differently. The committee may select cuts from the 7 to 11 percent reduction in other areas from the list. We may do a 7 per cent in one area and 11 percent in another area in a department. For example, they have 285.92 vacancies reported that total more than $10.1 million and the span of control in some agencies is less than adequate. So in terms of the vacancies, it is suggested that the committee take all of the vacancies unless agencies can justify retaining any positions on the April 22 vacant list.

The calendar and Rules are attached to the agenda and Rep. Jeffus reported that they hope to adhere to the time line and the rules.

The Committee will have to move quickly, and decisions will have to be made as each department is presented in order to meet the deadlines.

NORTH CAROLINA OFFICE OF THE STATE AUDITOR (Attachment 2)
Ralph Campbell, Jr., State Auditor

Chair Jeffus recognized Mr. Campbell for his presentation. Mr. Campbell presented a quick overview of the attachment. He pointed out (Page 7) that Research and Training have to have eighty hours of continual professional education every two years.

Mr. Campbell pointed out to the committee (Page 14) that if the funding were decreased there would be a need for legislation that removed "annual" from the General Statutes. The question is "what audit cycle" could be met. The minimum they would change the audit cycle is every two years. The reason he left the audit cycle out was to give the Office of the State Auditor the ability to end up looking at a different audit cycle on those programs that might need some additional audit oversight.

They have one retired employee currently under contract. He is hired on an engagement-by-engagement process. (Page 15)

The organizational chart (Page 17) has not changed since their last presentation to this committee.

He briefly covered the remainder of the attachment. He pointed out they were asked to study Internet use but in fact they have developed the Electronic Publication System (EPS) in house and have already put it in place and it has resulted in a savings. (Page 28)

Following Mr. Campbell's presentations, Representative Jeffus opened the floor for questions.

Senator Allran asked why do you have to update the computer equipment about every three years and how much does that cost. Mr. Campbell answered that it costs about $195,000 per year and the reason they have to do it is, most of these are laptop computers. The auditors use these in the field. The computers are used more and need more repairs. The technology in the computer field is constantly changing. Senator Allran made a statement about obsolete equipment. He would be interested to know if there is any possible way to know the net effect of computerization on State Government; whether it has cost more, equaled out, or saved money. He finds that it is hard to believe that since the installation of computers in state government that they have saved any money. Is there any type of audit to begin to know?

Mr. Campbell answered that employment within state government would have gone up drastically had there not been computerization. He thinks it could easily have increased employees four times the number in state government today.

Representative Jeffus feels that computers make her more accessible to her constituents and makes the constituents more accessible to her. She likes to work late at night and she would not think of returning phone calls late at night but she can e-mail them.

Mr. Campbell explained that the audit work they do in the major state agencies that have major dollars involved have to be done every year. The audit work that they do at the universities have to be done every year. They have no choice. First, because of the amount of dollars involved, secondly, because of the bonding requirements, and third is for accreditation. If they do not do the audit every year at the universities, they are not going to have the accreditation. The same thing exists for the community colleges. Their department has no choice but to conduct an annual audit of major state agencies such as the Department of Transportation, Corrections, Agriculture, etc. There are some agencies that do not have the audit risk factor and only conduct an audit of them every two years. When Smart Start was put in effect, an annual audit was conducted because it was a new initiate. Because such a large amount of dollars are in the program, they do an annual audit as directed by the Statute. Mr. Campbell does not recommend anything other than an annual audit of Smart Start. There is very limited administrative capacity at each agency. He is concerned about the risk if there is not an annual audit.

Mr. Campbell stated that when they do an investigative audit they couldn't estimate the length of time it will take because sometime they find other things while auditing one thing and sometimes they find other criminal acts.

Mr. Campbell stated that the only resource that they have for making cuts is on audits for Smart Start. Smart Start is where State dollars are put to the tune of $200 million. Do we really want to take away from the financial oversight?

Senator Harris stated that the Auditor Department is the eyes and ears of the state.

Representative Sherrill asked about using retirees? Mr. Campbell explained that using retirees was to their advantage as they had expertise in their respective fields and the cost is far less than to hire outside help. Representative Sherrill requested Mr. Campbell to go back and look at all his offices and travel budget. He might need to take a second look to find ways to reduce his budget. He said that he would.

Senator Warren asked, "What additional work has the department taken on since the last session?" Mr. Campbell stated that the additional audit that has been required has been for Exploris, which they are currently involved. As a result of September 11, 2001, and the General Assembly providing the authority of the Governor to use funds in the amount of $500,000 for the anti-terrorism, they are doing a comprehensive, vuluability and penetration testing of some agencies. This is being provided through a contractual relationship with expertise in that field.

Representative Jeffus stated that there was available space in his building. Is that space still vacant? Mr. Campbell answered that it is.

Senator Harris made the motion to accept the report from Mr. Campbell and it passed.

Representative Jeffus thanked Mr. Campbell for his excellent report.

Representative Jeffus called the committee's attention to the Rules For Joint Appropriations Subcommittees and requested that they read the rules and the Calendar. (Attachment 1 - Agenda)

The next meeting of the committee is scheduled for April 30, 2002 at 1:00 p.m.

The meeting adjourned at 11:45 a.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Joint Appropriations Subcommittees
Modified Zero-Based Budgeting Approach

During the 2001 Long Session, appropriations subcommittees were asked to implement a new approach to the routine continuation or base budget review.

The modified zero-based budget approach assumes the "zeroing out" of certain programs, line items and funds from the continuation/base budget to permit the subcommittees to hear information from state agencies and nonprofits justifying the continuation of expenditures for these purposes.

In approaching the modified zero-based budgeting concept, special emphasis should be given to items critical to public health and public safety. As a starting point, the following are subject to this modified zero-based budgeting approach for Fiscal Year 2002-03.

1. New programs or items added to the continuation budget since the 1996 session (including appropriations for the 1996-97 fiscal year)
2. Direct appropriations and grants to nonprofit organizations
3. Contracted personal services (expenditure account 531321)
4. Miscellaneous contractual services (expenditure account 532199)
5. Rental/lease of equipment (expenditure accounts 532521 to 532525)
6. Travel and other employee expense (expenditure accounts 5327xx)
7. Cellular phone services (expenditure accounts 532814)
8. Furniture and equipment replacement schedules (expenditure accounts 534500 to 534550)
9. Discretionary grants (expenditure accounts 5364AA)
10. Directed grants (expenditure accounts 5366AA)
11. Loans (expenditure accounts 5367AA)
12. Other aids and grants (expenditure accounts 5369AA)
13. Special fund cash balances (2xxxx budget codes)
14. Positions vacancies
15. Any other programs and expenditures identified by the subcommittees as appropriate for review using a zero-based budget approach.

Subcommittees should also review:

1. The elements of various allocation formulas to determine if changes can be implemented to improve the method and achieve cost savings
2. Agency fees to determine if any increases are appropriate and can be used to off-set operating appropriations
3. Recommendations from GPAC and other audits available

It should be noted that while the Office of the State Auditor was asked to "study" Internet use, we have in fact started using it to distribute thousands of reports each year. The Office of the State Auditor developed the Electronic Publication System (EPS) in-house, and it resulted in the annualized savings included on the form. To our knowledge, EPS is a unique distribution system among federal, state and local government agencies. The savings we list on the form are not estimates, they are real-dollar savings based on nearly half a year of experience with EPS. Under the Printing Volume section, for instance, the 2.5 million impressions we made in FY00-01 are the actual number made, while the "Proposed" figure of 850,327 is based on the average of the last five months using EPS.

JOINT APPROPRIATIONS SUBCOMMITTEE

ON

GENERAL GOVERNMENT

Minutes

April 30, 2002

The Senate Appropriations Subcommittee on General Government met Tuesday April 30,2002. The meeting was called to order at 1:00 p.m. in Room 422 of the Legislative Office Building. There were five Senate Subcommittee Members present.

Senator Ed Warren, Co-Chair, chaired the meeting. Michele Nelson and Marilyn Chism, fiscal staff was present.

Senator Warren opened the business of the meeting by recognizing Gwynn Swinson, Secretary Department of Administration.

Ms. Swinson opened her remarks by saying that this is a vital time for all of us. "We are doing our very best to make the business case for why our agency should function in a manner that will allow us to most efficiently and the most effectively realize our core mission. The Department of Administration manages approximately 5,000,000,000 square feet of office space, 144 buildings, on 600 acres of state land and we provide services thousands of employees as well as our sister agencies and tens of thousands of our citizens through the state. With proposed budget options ranging from 7% to 11% that you have before you today that I have been asked to address were provided to Governor Easley as a the result of a request that he made to provide him with our thoughts. This was to give him a base line and a starting point from which he could devise his budget recommendations to you. As you know, Governor Easley has not yet presented that budget. This is somewhat procedurally a different scenario. When I appeared before you last year, his document helped to set the parameters for the executive branch's p presentation." Noted that Ms. Swinson said she "understood these extraordinary times and is responding to the General Assembly request without the benefit of Governor Easley's input at this time."

"The options that I suggested, as did other cabinet heads and secretaries to the Governor, were provided to him with suggestions in the event that we had a worst-case budget scenario. What we were asked to do was to provide those options so that he had a an idea in the event that things got worse and worse, and I understand that they aren't getting any better. We were asked to do this keeping in mind the core mission for each of our respective departments.

That is what I did and it is what you have before you today. I am very pleased to say that in Administration our theme is: "when resources are scarce, we must maximize efficiency."

The long-term effects will be affected by personnel we have now. The long-term effect of personnel will affect the citizens as well as the employees.

What we do here in the next few weeks will effect the lives of hundreds of thousand human lives not only state employees but the citizens as well. " Our human capital remains our greatest asset."

Ms. Swinson began her presentation by giving the budgetary impact of the 7% to 11% on a division basis.

Referring to the handout entitled: " State of North Carolina Department of Administration, by Gwynn T. Swinson." (attachment #1). Ms. Swinson's remarks began with the span of control on page 41 highlighted in yellow.

Senator Kinnard asked what affect relocating the ADA training and technical assistance would have on the lack of eligibility to draw Federal Funds. Ms. Swinson recommended that Mr. Tom Wright in State Personnel or with Secretary Hooker-Odom be contacted to see if they have the expertise in house and if they don't perhaps they can be relocated or kept at DOA, but we must keep the key person at DOA in order to keep Federal Funds.

Senator Kinnard: How would transferring ADA and technical assistance save money? Ms. Swinson recommended: "the Program Development Coordinator position not be eliminated unless one of the other agencies already has that expertise in which case you would save money by eliminating duplication. If they do not have the expertise in a position or two it would cost the state more money in the lose of Federal Funds."

Representative Sherrill ask for the amount of funds in the line item. Funds code is 1111, $47,112 including benefits in savings. Ms. Swinson suggested "that in order to keep Federal Funds, one coordinator needs to be position kept." Representative Sherrill asked to flag this question for Ms. Swinson to get specific information to assure that we do not lose Federal Funds and to see where this particular function is best placed.

Ms. Swinson continued on page 42 with the Board of Ethics. There is not a 7% to 11% option because of previous cuts and the Board of Ethics provides a statewide function.

Indian Affairs found on page 43: there is a vacant position of Processing Assistant III that represents $29,779 in savings at the proposed reduction of 7%. It is recommended that this position not be filled. Flag: The numbers for total Indian population served and the total number of disabled people served.

What do the Chore Providers do? They currently are in-home aide providers. These are federally funded positions. What are the other vacant federally funded positions? Answer: 371, 376, 370, 369, 368, 372, and 367.

Flag: Representative Sherrill pointed out that the CAP program in this state does the same thing that the Chore Providers do. She asked why doesn't the CAP provide for the Indian population as well as the other Medicaid population? After some discussion it was decided that these programs possibly could be combined, and that it is a good time to look into the logistics of making this these programs more efficient and cost effective.

N.C. Council for Women and Domestic Violence page 44: In last year's budget from the Governor, the Council for Women and Domestic Violence was combined. At a 7% reduction the grand total adds up to $139,419 that includes the three vacant positions and $26,508 in operating expense cuts.

Facility Management pages 45- 49: We have not been able to reorganize because the R&R fund has been frozen since this administration took over. As a result Facility Management has done their best to do crisis management such needs as to patch a roof, o mend a compressor, etc. This has caused a rapidly deteriorating complex in serving the State Government. However, since we do not have the money to hire a consultant, Director Tom Wright at OSP has agreed to come in and do an Organizational Review and it is currently in process. Also the efficiency commission is currently reviewing the R&R organization. The results of the OSP study will be coming in to you by May 23, 2002.

The state of the fiscal plant is horrible condition and at the 7% level 10 positions have already been offered up, for a grand total of $299,000. Also operating expenses and equipment have been offered up. It is important that some utility cost have been backed out because of a mild winter. Though that is not sound fiscal policy, it is necessary to meet the target. A combination of expenses, utilities, repair and maintenance funds that will give $1,000,000,403. If we have a severe disaster, we will be severely hampered to respond. With regard to the bond rating, North Carolina is being looked at to determine the State's ability to respond to disaster. Offering up utility expenses is not sound policy when we don't know what the weather is going to be. Facilities Management is offering up 1.4 million dollars. At 8% additional $7,125 operating cost, at 9% $700 and at 10% will cut an Office Assistant position that $14,356 in additional operating cost for $96,300 for a total reduction of a $1,521,555,000.

Representative Jeffus asked for the ten positions to be identified that have been proposed to be cut. On Attachment # 1: marked in yellow on page 46: 486; page 47 ,428,462, 420, 056; page 48: 147; Page 49: 376, 405, 335, 418; and on page 47 marked in green: 043 proposed to be cut for a 10% reduction.

Senator Warren asked for the average House Keeper's salary. It will be brought back .

Senator Harris asked if 11 worker bees are eliminated what is the status of the supervisor's positions? Ms. Swinson answered that they are re-organizing and have to be finished by May 23, 2002 to meet the Governor's request.

In the Office of Fiscal Management the proposed cut is $77,857, and is found on page 50. The two positions that proposed to be cut are marked in yellow. Also, included in the proposed cut are operating expenses at $8,000.

In the Office of GACPD at 7% reduction an Attorney II position # 439 on page 51 is being offered at a cost of $62,379. The remainder of these positions are federally funded. The functions of this agency cannot be transferred to DHHS because of the federal requirement that GACPD stand independently as an agency that provides treatment services for rehabilitation.

Representative Sherrill asked if there was a way to get an idea of the number of clients served? Ms. Swinson responded that would be brought back. Also, Rep. Sherrill asked why there are so many vacancies? Ms. Swinson replied that GACPD has been a conversational agency and has been discussed in the Newspapers. They have mixed feelings about whether they should remain within any state agency, including the Department of Administration. The Department of Administration is evaluating the GACPD and may talk to Governor Easley about privatizing them rather than have them be a part of an agency. They feel that their independence and autonomy is infringed upon by being a part of a State Agency. The GACPD also feels that they should not be subject to any of the states policies and that they should have free reign to sue any State Agency they determine to be in violation of the Federal Laws that protect the disabled population. If they are privatized, it will take 12- 18 months. It is a complex process.

The Office of Historically Underutilized Businesses still exist a part of the Department of the Secretary. Currently this HUB is being reviewed to make it a division. On page 52 noted that there are a number of vacant positions. These positions were created last Session to carry out the mandates that are reported in the requirements of Senate Bill 914. One of these positions will be put back on the table at $52,377 including benefits. However, Senate Bill 914 requires incredible reporting on the HUB office as well as on the full Department of Administration, and the Department of Construction. That position has yet to be classified and as a result of were we are in that process we felt that at this time we would provide cutting this position as an option, although we would like to see it not cut because of the work load. We are ready to extend offers to the other positions but all vacancies were frozen just as we were ready to hire. Ms Swinson stated that the Department of Administration would like to seek an exception and be able to fill these position because they are badly need. Representative Adams asked for the justifications of these positions and the request will be brought back to the committee.

Human Relations is found on page 53 of the handout. Representative Sherrill asked for the position that are federally funded on the Organizational Chart to be identified. This information will have to be brought back to the committee.

The federally funded vacant positions were marked by Marilyn Chism (*-red) on page 53. This has been a trouble-shooting agency for hate related crimes. The positions have been needed to go out in the communities. For example after September 11, most of the entire staff when out to deal with documented hate crimes that happen in many instances around military installations. The September 11 caseload was added to the already heavy fair housing caseload. There are an average of 6700 inquires handled in this unit per year in regard to issues of discrimination and redlining.

Human Resources Management is found on page 54. Two positions are being offered: one for personnel analyst II and Staff Development Specialist III at 7% for a total of $108,037 including benefits.

The Mail Service Center is found on page 55. The offering at 7% is operating expenses at $18,368. There is not any staff changes proposed at this time. Positions are not being offered because the mail has become a security threat and the workload has increased to include scanning and screening for biological or other hazardous properties. MSC provides a variety of services that would be very expensive to farm out to contractors.

Information Resources is found on page 56. At 7% reduction, expenses of $2250.00 is being offered. This is the infrastructure for the computer operation that supports all of the divisions in the department of administration.

Motor Fleet Management is found on page 57 has recently been effected by a law that was passed last session which increased the vehicle mileage before replacement. There isn't any offering of reduction here. Senator Harris asked to see the income generated from the department and the expenditures.

Non-public education is on page 58 is a three person operation. There is nothing to offer at this time.

State Parking Division is on page 59 is a receipt supported operation that does not have vacancies and was therefore not included in the 7% - 11% reduction.

Public Information office is on page 60. There is position being offered at 7% level.

Purchase and contracts on page 61. There is restructuring to deal with vacant positions that is still in process. At 7% reduction there are four positions being offered, plus $50,000 in equipment, and an additional $38,735 in operating expenses. For a total offered reduction of $234,834. At 8% the Chief of Purchasing position at $89,000 would be added and an additional operating expenses of $32,201. At 10% the State procurement specialist II at $49,700 with total reduction $428,303.

Office of the Secretary is on page 62. Already covered the HUB, ADA, and PIO positions. State & Local Government is on pages 63. An Administrative Assistant I position is being offered to be cut. This position is proposed to be moved from state supported to federal receipt supported by shifting from Chief and Regional Affairs to Federal Fund and move the position to Department of Commerce. Total reduction offered is $253,176.

State Capitol Police is found on page 64. There are a number of vacancies that occurred last year when the older seasoned police thought their jobs were in jeopardy. They retired and/or found other jobs. The entry pay is so low that it is difficult to be competitive and hire qualified officers. After September 11 the extra security was farmed out to contractors. Through the changes being made in security by the terrorism fund: security gates, codes keys, etc., it isn't clear at this point if we need to maintain this level of personnel.

State Construction Office is on page 65. At 7% the marked positions are being offered for a total of $28,750. Representative Adams discussed Senate Bill 960 in regard to the construction offerings. Senator Kinnard discussed issues with the Bonds and asked that the construction be looked at very carefully.

State Property Office is on page 67. Total reduction is offered at $78,000. The key area in the reduction involves bonds.

Youth Advocacy & Involvement Office page 71. At 7% the marked positions are being offered. Scholarships were discussed and alternatives. Information to be brought back to Representative Sherrill regarding Scholarships.

Senator Kinnard is on the Board. She discussed three programs: Intern, Abuse Investigation and Youth Regulated Assembly. She asked for a cost benefit ratio regarding abuse investigation. Marilyn Chism will bring information back to Senator Kinnard.

Page 72 in the handout is replaced by page 40. Public Telecommunications. Discussion concerning the cost effectiveness of this area. The Telecommunications Agency provides videos for other agencies. It is perhaps under utilized but has great potential. This service could perhaps be done by contract to private Telecommunications Companies.

The committee was adjourned. The next General Government meeting is scheduled for May 1, 2002 at 9:00 in room 422.

Respectfully submitted

JOINT APPROPRIATIONS SUBCOMMITTEE ON GENERAL GOVERNMENT

Wednesday, May 1, 2002

9:00 A. M.

The JOINT APPROPRIATIONS SUBCOMMITTEE ON GENERAL GOVERNMENT met on Wednesday, May 1, 2002 at 9:00 a.m. in Room 422 of the Legislative Office Building, House members present were: Representatives Wilma Sherrill, Chair; Maggie Jeffus, Chair; Alma Adams; Daniel Barefoot; Marvin Lucas; Mitchell Setzer; and Gene Wilson. There were four Senators present. Committee Counsel present: Michele Nelson and Marilyn Chism. (Visitor Registration list is attached for the record.)

Representative Wilma Sherrill chaired the meeting. She called the meeting to order, and welcomed those in attendance.

Representative Sherrill introduced Joseph DeLuca, Jr., Staff Director of the Rules Review Commission. Mr. DeLuca stated that in their proposed reductions, they would be cutting their meetings from twelve to six meetings a year. He then explained the Commission's allocation of funds as follows: Personal Services – 84.56%; Purchased Services – 10.80%; Supplies – 0.77%; Property, Plant & Equipment – 3.5%; Intragovernmental Trans – 0.12% and Other Expenses & Adjustments – 0.23%. (See Attachment No. 1)

Representative Sherrill then introduced Susan Rabon, Senior Assistant for Administration in the Governor's Office. Representative Sherrill asked Ms. Rabon for the amount it costs to run the Governor's Western Office. This will be provided by the Department by the afternoon meeting.

Senator Warren asked if the cost was the same for the Eastern and Western office. The answer was "no". In the Eastern office at this time, the rent is much higher than for the Western office.

Representative Jeffus asked what the function of Andy Vanore was. Ms. Rabon answered that he was like an institution for the Governor's office and that the Governor had a world of faith and trust in his integrity. She also stated that Mr. Vanore had more knowledge of the workings of State Government and the law than anyone they knew. She also told the Committee that Mr. Vanore worked for only $75.00 per hour which is well below what most people with his knowledge and expertise would make. Ms. Rabon gave the Committee the 2002 Span of Control summary for the Office of the Governor as follows: Total # of Positions – 78; Total # of Supervisors – 12; Supervisory Levels – 3; Span of Control – 6.5. (See Attachment No. 2.)

Representative Sherrill then introduced David McCoy, Director of the Office of State Budget and Management. Representative Sherrill stated that the Committee had previously decided that they should cut all vacant positions unless there was a critical need for a vacant position to be filled. The Committee would listen to their explanation of the need. (See Attachment No. 3)

The Committee recessed until 1:00 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Representative Wilma Sherrill, Chair

(See Attachment No. 1)

Representative Sherrill then introduced Susan Rabon, Senior Assistant for Administration in the Governor's Office. Representative Sherrill asked Ms. Rabon for the amount it costs to run the Governor's Western Office. This will be provided by the Department by the afternoon meeting.

Senator Warren asked if the cost was the same for the Eastern and Western office. The answer was "no". In the Eastern office at this time, the rent is much higher than for the Western office.

Representative Jeffus asked what the function of Andy Vanore was. Ms. Rabon answered that he was like an institution for the Governor's office and that the Governor had a world of faith and trust in his integrity. She also stated that Mr. Vanore had more knowledge of the workings of State Government and the law than anyone they knew. She also told the Committee that Mr. Vanore worked for only $75.00 per hour which is well below what most people with his knowledge and expertise would make. Ms. Rabon gave the Committee the 2002 Span of Control summary for the Office of the Governor as follows: Total # of Positions – 78; Total # of Supervisors – 12; Supervisory Levels – 3; Span of Control – 6.5. (See Attachment No. 2.)

Representative Sherrill then introduced David McCoy, Director of the Office of State Budget and Management. Representative Sherrill stated that the Committee had previously decided that they should cut all vacant positions unless there was a critical need for a vacant position to be filled. The Committee would listen to their explanation of the need. (See Attachment No. 3)

Explanation

G.S. 150B-21.9(b) – The Commission is currently required to meet monthly based on this statute.
Rules Review Commission proposes to amend the statute to no longer require the Commission to meet monthly.

7% level $12000 in personal services is due to a proposed change from meeting monthly as required by the above referenced statute to meeting only 6 out of 12 times during the fiscal year.

Reduction in operating cost would leave the agency vulnerable and basically assume nothing could go wrong. This would result in an overall reduction of 22% of the operating budget. (Building rent alone is 32% of our current Authorized operating costs.)

8% level Reduction in operating costs increased to 28%

9% level Reduction in operating costs increased to 35%

10% level Reduction in personal services would require reduction of work hours for employee(s)

11% level Reduction in personal services would require reduction of work hours for employees(s)

Note: Printing Volume shows a yearly estimate of total number of pages being produced.

Note: Estimated Budget reduction shows the estimated amount to be saved per year in # 1 - 6 and the estimated expenses for # 7 - 9)

Brief description for #1 - 6: Our reduction plan proposes that we email rather than mail this information to as many as possible. When forced to mail we use the state courier service and only use US postal service when there is no other alternative.

Brief description for # 7 - 9: Inspite of the printing volume, the number of copies rather than the number of pages is far lower than items in 1 - 6. Hard copies of all these items are required and there is no practical means to reduce these to electronic copies.

OFFICE OF STATE BUDGET AND MANAGEMENT

Compliance with S.L. 2001-424, Section 14.1

Introduction	Staff in the Office of State Budget and Management were directed by the State Budget Officer in 1998 to begin placing the office publications, memorandums, and other documents on the OSBM Web page for electronic viewing both to reduce the cost of printing and publishing and to provide easy access. The office has adopted this practice as a way of doing business. Listed below are the documents that have been both added to the web page and transmitted electronically reducing our cost and allowing us to stay within a budget that has already been reduced. Paper copies are normally only provided upon request.
State Budget Manual User Manuals	The State Budget Manual and other user manuals for the OSBM on-line systems (Budget Revisions System Operator's Manual, Budget Preparation Operator's Manual, Salary Control Operator's Manual, Procedures Manual, and the Public School Building Capital Fund Manual) were published on-line for agency and public usage as manuals were due for revision and supplies of existing manuals were depleted. All manuals are available on-line and all updates to the manuals are provided on-line.
Management Section Reports	Management Section reports are now transmitted to the requestor electronically. Paper copies are supplied only upon request. The reports directed by legislation are also posted to the OSBM web site along with some that have different origins.
Statewide Memoranda	All memoranda distributed statewide to state departments, agencies and universities are now published through the OSBM web page beginning in January 2001.
Statewide Surveys	Electronic surveys/forms developed to collect information required by the office in lieu of paper forms surveys were developed and used in 2000, 2001, and 2002 instead of paper copies of the surveys. Reports are generated and distributed in Adobe format through e-mail to all state agencies.
Budget Systems Reports	OSBM makes its Budget systems reports available via the software tools of X/TND and X/NET. The reports can be printed remotely or downloaded into a spreadsheet format. OSBM has reduced its printing charges assessed by ITS by approximately $7,000 in the period between 1998 and 2001 utilizing this medium.
Internal Documentation	Policies and procedures including internal manuals are either transmitted electronically to all employees reducing the printing and publishing costs or are posted to the OSBM website.
Cost Reduction Plan	The attached spreadsheet provided by the Fiscal Research Division outlines our cost reduction plan for printing and publishing to comply with Session Law 2001-424, Section 14.1.

Joint Appropriations Subcommittees
Modified Zero-Based Budgeting Approach

During the 2001 Long Session, appropriations subcommittees were asked to implement a new approach to the routine continuation or base budget review.

The modified zero-based budget approach assumes the "zeroing out" of certain programs, line items and funds from the continuation/base budget to permit the subcommittees to hear information from state agencies and nonprofits justifying the continuation of expenditures for these purposes.

In approaching the modified zero-based budgeting concept, special emphasis should be given to items critical to public health and public safety. As a starting point, the following are subject to this modified zero-based budgeting approach for Fiscal Year 2002-03.

1. New programs or items added to the continuation budget since the 1996 session (including appropriations for the 1996-97 fiscal year)
2. Direct appropriations and grants to nonprofit organizations
3. Contracted personal services (expenditure account 531321)
4. Miscellaneous contractual services (expenditure account 532199)
5. Rental/lease of equipment (expenditure accounts 532521 to 532525)
6. Travel and other employee expense (expenditure accounts 5327xx)
7. Cellular phone services (expenditure accounts 532814)
8. Furniture and equipment replacement schedules (expenditure accounts 534500 to 534550)
9. Discretionary grants (expenditure accounts 5364AA)
10. Directed grants (expenditure accounts 5366AA)
11. Loans (expenditure accounts 5367AA)
12. Other aids and grants (expenditure accounts 5369AA)
13. Special fund cash balances (2xxxx budget codes)
14. Positions vacancies
15. Any other programs and expenditures identified by the subcommittees as appropriate for review using a zero-based budget approach.

Subcommittees should also review:

1. The elements of various allocation formulas to determine if changes can be implemented to improve the method and achieve cost savings
2. Agency fees to determine if any increases are appropriate and can be used to off-set operating appropriations
3. Recommendations from GPAC and other audits available

Explanatory Note to State Energy Office Internet Publishing Spreadsheet

Beginning February 2002, the State Energy Office (SEO) began publishing on online newsletter. There are no plans to publish this in hard copy. The "estimated budget reduction" amount is based on distribution of 500 printed copies distributed six times annually. This figure does not include the costs of mailing.

The SEO is printing a report describing the office and its programs and a one-page brochure. PDF versions of these will go up on our Web site and it may be some time before we print them again. These printed materials are used for marketing and promotion purposes, geared toward those who do not have ready access to the Internet.

As much as possible announcements and correspondence to our contractors are posted on our Web site or distributed via email, thus saving costs of photocopying and mailing. All public service announcements are distributed via fax or email.
