The proposed municipality held a public hearing on March 2, 2003, on the proposed incorporation. Fifty-one percent (51%) of the registered voters in the proposed municipality signed the petition for its incorporation.[2] The proposed Village submitted a sufficient plan for providing the following four services: fire protection, police protection, zoning, and solid waste collection. Misenheimer has proposed a $.15/$100 property tax rate with an estimated property tax revenue of $12,300.

The closest existing towns to the proposed Village of Misenheimer are the Towns of Richfield (within 1 mile) and New London (within 4 miles), but they do not exceed the neighboring municipal population thresholds. The Village has a permanent population of more than 150 residents and approximately 600 students in residence at Pfeiffer University. It has a population density of at least 250 persons per square mile. And it meets the development density threshold: 47.35% of the proposed area is developed.

The form of government would be a Mayor and Village Council. The voters would elect five people on a nonpartisan basis in the fall of 2004. The elected members of the Council would elect one of its members to serve as Mayor of the Village. At a public meeting held on March 2, 2003, the voters present elected five people to serve as the Interim Governing Board.

*Cindy Avrette, counsel to Senate Finance, contributed substantially to this summary.

[1] The members of the Commission are: Sen. Hartsell, chair; Sen. Malone, Rep. Jarrell, Rep. Hurley, Mr. Steven Raper, Mr. Jerry Ayscue.

[2] The Stanley County Board of Elections' records show 183 registered voters in the proposed Village and verified 154 registered voter signatures on the petition seeking incorporation.

1. Sales Tax Revenue Change:

Stanly County distributes sales tax revenues on a per capita basis. This analysis uses 2001-02 actual sales tax distribution to show how that distribution would have changed had Misenheimer been incorporated at that time.

2. Powell Bill Allocation Change

Annually state street aid or Powell Bill allocations are made to incorporated municipalities which establish their eligibility and qualify as provided by G.S. 136-41.1-.3. The amount allocated to each municipality is based on both population and qualifying street miles within the municipality.

FY 2001-02 population based allocations assumed a total, statewide municipal population of 4,153,921 and available funds of $97,675,598.26. This created a per capita distribution rate of $ 23.51.

Adding the new population of Misenheimer (784) to the statewide total creates a new population of 4,154,705. However, the change is so small it will not impact the per capita distribution rate of $23.51. Therefore, incorporation will have no impact on the Powell Fund distributions received by other Stanly municipalities.

3. Utility Excise Tax:

Of the 3.22% state excise tax rate on the in-state gross receipts of gas, power and light and telephone companies, 3.09 percentage points (or 96% of collections) are distributed to the respective municipalities within which these services took place. In 1998-99 the statewide total was $161.1 million.

Because Misenheimer only incorporates new areas (areas not currently a part of another municipalities) no revenue shift is expected. Any revenue received by Misenheimer from this tax would be new or drawn from the NC General Fund.

Note: Population numbers used for sales tax and Powell bill allocation vary due to the year used by the controlling agency.

Subject: Misenheimer Incorporation

Dear Mr.& Mrs. Kimrey,

Thank you for your letter of March 12 expressing your concern for our community.

Your letter requested a copy of the list of all registered voters who live within the proposed Village of Misenheimer, and also copies of the petitions containing the signatures of those residents of Misenheimer who have expressed their desire to have a new municipality formed.

Please be advised that no such list of Misenheimer-only registered voters exists. A list of all registered voters who reside within the Richfield District (which includes Misenheimer) is available at the Stanly County Courthouse. With respect to the petition signatures, we are still in the midst of the multi-stage process of gathering those signatures and certifying them on our own. After completing that, we must submit them for independent certification, and then forward them to the General Assembly in Raleigh for their review. Once this entire process is complete, we will be pleased to provide you with copies per your request.

I would be happy to sit down with both of you to discuss the above, or any aspect of the proposed incorporation of Misenheimer. Please know that any other member of the Misenheimer Interim Governing Board (Chuck Ambrose, Maria Fisher, Mike Herron, Beth Huber) would also be able to answer your questions.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Joe:

Sorry I have been out of town since receiving your call -- but I asked Peter to call and see if you were available to meet this week and discuss any concerns you may have concerning incorporation. I believe the first preference that was free was Friday afternoon at 4:00 p.m. or perhaps -- Saturday morning at 8:00 a.m. We also could arrange a time next Monday or Tuesday. Please call me at the office (704)463-1360 ext. 2050 if either of these times work.

Dear Mr. Murphy,

I have just received your message and, first of all, thank you for contacting me about Senate Bill 76 (not 86, as in your subject line above).

Though you are not a constituent of mine residing in the district, you have written me about a legislative bill affecting my constituents and I certainly feel obligated to respond to you as soon as possible given that this bill may be heard again this week.

In your email you stated that the proponents of Misenheimer's incorporation are "nothing more than a small group attempting to impose their will on others with whom they disagree." Sir, with all due respect to you, it seem quite the contrary: Those citizens - that is, eighty-four percent (84%!) of the registered voters in the community, as I understand it - actually support the incorporation bill. This seems to suggest that the small group allegedly attempting to impose its own will on others is actually those who oppose the bill, which could be anywhere between zero percent (0%) and sixteen percent (16%) of the community. Though overall the proponents' numbers may be small because it is a small community, a vast majority of that community's eligible population supports incorporation and that support appears in a formal petition certified by the Board of Elections. I believe in majority rule and that is how our legislative process works.

As I indicated to the House Finance Committee today, this incorporation matter has properly been before the Municipal Incorporation Commission, where it passed all measures and included input from opponents. Further, the bill has already passed a Senate committee and the full Senate. These actions are on top of meetings held in the district about this matter.

Of similar importance is the fact that the Stanly County Board of County Commissioners and each of the municipalities support this bill, as is evident in the record. All three legislators representing Stanly County also support the bill.

Noteworthy as well is that today was the first time any one contacted me personally in opposition to the bill. If opposition is as pronounced as some would say, then why has Misenheimer's only directly-elected State Representative not been contacted until now by opponents to the bill?

Before concluding, do realize I understand that every community in North Carolina has land owned by folks living somewhere else, whether across this State or somewhere else in the United States. And I certainly understand that for someone living elsewhere he or she may not feel they have as much opportunity to provide input on things like this. However, 84 percent is a significant majority of folks who actually live in the community. I've always been of the belief that what elected officials must give the most weight to are the folks who live in the communities and are most directly effected day in and day out by proposed legislation such as this. Otherwise, the principle of local self-government is truly subverted.

I want to thank you again for writing me and sharing your opinion on this very important matter. Based upon all that I have heard during the last year on this subject, this matter is ready for a full hearing in the House Finance Committee after having cleared every required step along the way. I must go with the majority, as a community's representative is obligated to do.

Sincerely,

Rep. Wayne Goodwin

Sir: This is to express oppposition to the above referenced legislation. There are many who are effected and many who oppose but who have not been given the opportunity to be heard. There are also those who are not able to "vote" because although they own land within the proposed "town", they reside outside the limits of incorporation. This effort is nothing more than a small group attempting to impose their will on others with whom they disagree. Please vote No or at least postpone until the next session so that everyboby effected can be heard.....

Dear Representative Goodwin:

I am writing on behalf of Pfeiffer University and as a member of the interim governing board of the Village of Misenheimer in support of the process and affirmation of the Incorporation Bill being considered by the House Finance Committee Wednesday morning.

In light of recent comments made in opposition to the Bill, I want to speak directly to the significant level of support by a majority of the residents within our community (as certified by our County Board of Elections and unanimous support of and by the Stanly County Commissioners). Eighty-four percent of the residents within Misenheimer have signed and been certified by a process that has been very positive and forward thinking for the future of Misenheimer. The entire university community along with our Board of Trustees are also unanimous in their support. Any last minute issues of concern and opposition are being raised in light of individual interests that did not represent the majority of our citizens.

Please know that I stand ready to speak directly to the broad level of support for the incorporation of the Village of Misenheimer and appreciate the efforts of you and other legislators in moving this process forward.

Sincerely,

Charles M. Ambrose

SUMMARY: The Proposed Committee Substitute for House Bill 806 creates the Alternative Fuel and Vehicle Rebate and Infrastructure Grant Program, funded by a $1.00 increase in vehicle registration fees for the first 3 years of the program, and by an additional $1.00 increase for the remaining 7 years of the program. The program would provide rebates to first-time purchasers of AFVs, rebates for State taxes paid on the incremental costs of alternative motor fuels, and grants for the construction of AFV infrastructure projects.

CURRENT LAW: An alternative fuel vehicle is a vehicle that operates using a source other than gasoline or diesel fuel, such as electricity, natural gas, hydrogen, ethanol, methanol, or fuels derived from biological materials. There are currently no benefits provided by the State, such as tax credits or rebates, for the purchase or use of alternative fuel vehicles or for the use of alternative fuels. North Carolina does offer a corporate tax credit for building an alternative fuel generating facility, such as an ethanol or biodiesel plant.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Purpose of Program

House Bill 806 creates the "Alternative Fuel and Vehicle Rebate and Infrastructure Grant Program" (Program). The State Energy Office, which is a division of the Department of Administration, would administer the Alternative Fuel Rebate and Infrastructure Grant Program. The bill authorizes the State Energy Office to issues rules that would govern the administration of the program. Among other things, the rules would establish the procedures for providing:

- Partial rebates to first owners for incremental cost differences for eligible alternative fueled and hybrid vehicles.
- Limited rebates for State taxes paid on the incremental costs of alternative motor fuels.
- Grants for alternative motor fuel infrastructure projects.

Funding of Program

For the first 3 years of the program, the grants and rebates would be funded from a $1.00 increase in the vehicle registration fee for motor vehicles registered in this State. For the remaining 7 years of the program, it would be funded from an additional $1.00 increase, for a total of a $2.00 increase during those 7 years. However, commitments to rebates and grants may never exceed available funds. The bill directs the State Energy Office to establish a cap on the number and amounts of rebates based on the availability of funds. Up to 5% of the funds collected would be shared by both the State Energy Office and DMV for administrative costs. Up to 10% of the funds collected may be used for education and awareness of the applications and advantages of alternative fuels and vehicles.

Reporting Requirements

The Division of Motor Vehicles would be required to provide to the State Energy Office quarterly reports of all registered motor vehicles identified by fuel type. The State Energy Office would be required to provide an annual report on the expenditure of funds associated with the program and the number of alternative fuel vehicles registered in North Carolina to the Joint Legislative Transportation Oversight Committee.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill becomes effective when it becomes law. The State Energy Office must issue rules to implement the program on or before January 1, 2004. The act would expire on January 1, 2014.

(2) Ticket. – A certificate or token showing that a fare or admission fee has been paid.

(3) Ticket broker. – A person, firm, or corporation who resells one or more tickets of admission to live athletic contests, concerts, theatre performances, or other entertainments, amusements, or exhibitions where the general public is admitted, and meets the requirements of registration and bonding pursuant to this Article.

(4) Ticket sales agent. – A person, firm, or corporation who sells one or more tickets of admission to live athletic contests, concerts, theatre performances, or other entertainments, amusements, or exhibitions where the general public is admitted.

"§ 66-259.2. Authority to resell tickets.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in G.S. 66-259.3, it shall be unlawful for any person other than a ticket broker to resell or offer for resale any ticket of admission or other evidence of the right of entry to any athletic contest, concert, theatre performance, amusement, exhibition, or other entertainment event where the general public is admitted for a price in excess of the face value of the ticket. Notwithstanding G.S. 14-344(a), a ticket broker may charge a service fee not to exceed three dollars ($3.00) when tickets or other evidences of the right of entry are sold by a ticket sales agent authorized to do business by the municipality or county where the ticket sales agent's place of business is located. The owner, operator, lessee, or tenant of the property where the athletic contest or entertainment event is to be held or is being held or the promoter of the contest or event may charge or may authorize, in writing, any person to charge a service fee for the sale of any ticket, privilege, or license of admission in addition to the face value of the ticket. The writing granting authority to another to charge a service fee shall specify the amount of the service fee to be charged for the sale of each ticket, privilege, or license of admission.

(b) For any athletic contest or entertainment event described in G.S. 66-259.6, a promoter of a contest or event may contractually restrict the resale of a ticket to that contest or event by giving notice of the restriction on the back of the ticket. An owner, operator, lessee, or tenant of the property where the contest or event is to be held or is being held may contractually restrict the resale of the right of occupancy of any specific suite, seat, or seating area by giving notice in writing of the restriction.

"§ 90-259.3. Exemptions.

(a) Nothing in this Article or any other provision of law shall criminally prohibit a person who is the original purchaser of one or more tickets to an athletic contest or entertainment event covered under this Article and who purchased the tickets for personal use from reselling or offering for resale the tickets for any price. However, the person shall not sell or offer to sell the ticket within 1,500 feet of a ticket office for the contest or event or a public entrance to the contest or event.

(b) Nothing in this Article or any other provision of law shall criminally prohibit a person who, for personal use, purchases one or more tickets to an athletic contest or entertainment event from reselling or offering for resale any of the tickets in any zone within the restricted areas, as provided in this subsection or in G.S. 66-259.6(b), where the activity is authorized by the promoter of the contest or event and the owner or operator of the venue where the contest or event is being held or to be held.

(c) Charitable organizations and their employees and volunteers shall not be subject to the provisions of this Article when offering for sale any tickets of admission in a raffle, auction, or similar fund-raising activity for the benefit of the organization's charitable purposes.

"§ 90-259.4. Requirements; issuance of registration; renewal; failure to comply.

The bond shall be executed in favor of this State for the benefit of any person damaged by the ticket broker's breach of contract or any obligation arising from the breach or by any violation of this Article. Any person claiming against the bond may maintain an action at law against the ticket broker and the surety. The aggregate liability of the surety shall be for actual damages and shall not exceed the amount of the bond.

(4) Pay a registration fee not to exceed two thousand dollars ($2,000).

Counties may not levy a license tax on a person taxed under subdivision (a)(1) or (a)(2) of this section. Counties may levy a license tax on a person taxed under subdivision (a)(3) to the same extent as a city.

Neither a county nor a city may levy a license tax on a person taxed under subsection (a1) of this section."

SECTION 4. Section 3 of this act becomes effective October 1, 2003, and applies to tickets sold on or after that date. The remainder of this act is effective when it becomes law.

HOUSE BILL 1072:
Regulate Ticket Brokers

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	House Finance	Sponsor:	Rep. Gibson and Miner
Date:	June 10, 2003	Analysis by:	Martha Walston
Version:	H1072-CSLU-4 [v.11]		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 1072 creates a new Article under the Commerce and Business Chapter of the General Statutes that would regulate ticket brokers. The bill is in House Finance because it imposes a registration fee on the ticket brokers and assesses a 3% privilege tax on the brokerage fee charged by the ticket broker.

The 3% privilege tax becomes effective October 1, 2003, and applies to tickets sold on or after that date. The remainder of the bill is effective when it becomes law.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 1072 creates a new Article 32A that regulates ticket brokers:

§66-259.1 defines the following terms: promoter, ticket, ticket broker, and ticket sales agent.

§66-252.2 makes it unlawful to resell any ticket of admission to any athletic contest, concert, theatre performance, amusement, exhibition, or other entertainment event where the general public is admitted for a price in excess of the face value of the ticket UNLESS THE TICKET IS SOLD BY A REGISTERED TICKET BROKER. (See Section 2 of the bill)

Exempts charitable or non-profit organizations from the new article when the organization is selling tickets to a raffle, auction, or other fund-raising activity for the benefit of the organization's purposes.

Authorizes a promoter to contractually restrict the resale of a ticket to a single athletic contest or entertainment event that occurs no more than once annually or to any series of athletic contest that occur no more than once annually and occur within a time period not exceeding 10 days. The owner, operator, lessee, or tenant of the property where the contest or event is held may contractually restrict the resale of the right of occupancy.

§66-259.3 sets out the following requirements for a person seeking to practice or engage in the business as a ticket broker:

- Maintain a permanent office or place of business in the State.
- File for registration as a ticket broker with the Secretary of Crime Control and Public Safety.
- Obtain a bond in the amount of $100,000.
- Pay a registration fee not to exceed $2,000. This fee must be paid to the Secretary. A renewal fee not to exceed $2,000 must be paid annually.

§66-259.4 requires the ticket broker to disclose the broker's refund policy, cancellation policy, the difference between the face value of the ticket and the amount the broker charges for the ticket.

§66-259.5 prohibits a ticket broker or the broker's employee from engaging in certain conduct.

§66-259.5 disqualifies a person from practicing as a ticket broker if the person has been convicted of a felony and has not been pardoned or had his or her civil rights restored.

§66-259.7 authorizes the Secretary of Crime Control and Public Safety to punish a person who willfully violates the Article. The Secretary may order the person to cease from violating the Article, suspend or revoke the certificate of registration, or impose a civil penalty of up to $1,000 for each violation. A willful violation of the Article constitutes a Class 2 misdemeanor.

§66-259.8 authorizes the Secretary of Crime Control and Public Safety to adopt rules.

SECTION 2 OF THE BILL clarifies that the new Article is not applicable to current law set out in G.S. 14-344. This statue authorizes a person, firm, or corporation to add a reasonable service fee to the face value of a ticket sold. This service fee may not exceed $3.00 for each ticket, except that a promoter or operator of the property where the event is to be held and a ticket sales agency may agree on a fee greater than $3.00 for the first sale of tickets by the ticket sales agent

SECTION 3 OF THE BILL imposes 3% privilege tax on the brokerage fee charged by a ticket broker. A brokerage fee is the difference between the amount charged by the ticket broker for the ticket and the face value of the ticket. A county or city may not levy a license tax on a ticket broker who is assessed the 3% privilege tax on the brokerage fee.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: North Carolina Department of Revenue, North Carolina Respiratory Care Board

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

BILL SUMMARY: The proposed bill amends various provisions under the Respiratory Care Practice Act, authorizing the North Carolina Respiratory Care Board (the Board) to establish fees for verification of licensure status and approval of continuing education programs. The bill also authorizes the Board to assess civil penalties for violations of Article 38 of Chapter 90.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: According to the information provided by the Board, there are 3,401 licensed respiratory care practitioners in North Carolina. Of these, 157 practitioners hold provisionary licenses. According to the Board, on average, they perform 790 license verifications every year. With a verification fee of $20, the total annual revenue from providing official verification of licensure status for a fee would constitute $15,800.

The bill proposes to set a maximum fee for approval of continuing education programs at $150. However, the Board plans to charge $35 for this service. Based on the data provided by the Board, on average, annually it approves 150 programs, which would generate annual revenue of $5,250.

With regard to civil penalties, the Board has indicated that there are about twenty major violations of Article 38, Chapter 90 of the General Statues, such as operating under somebody else's license, which would be considered for the maximum penalty of $1,000. There are also an identified number of less serious violations that would generate fewer penalties, for which no specific amounts are set. Overall, it is possible to assume that the total amount generated as the result of civil penalties collection would be in the range of $3,000. According to the proposed bill, this amount would be remitted to the General Fund of the State of North Carolina.

SOURCES OF DATA: North Carolina Respiratory Care Board

TECHNICAL CONSIDERATIONS: Given the recent court rulings on the use of revenue from fines and forfeitures, it does not appear to Fiscal Research that the proceeds of the Board's civil penalties can be credited to the General Fund.

House Committee on Finance

Minutes

June 12, 2003

The House Committee on Finance met on Thursday, June 12, 2003 at 8:30 am in Room 544 of the Legislative Office Building. A majority of the members were present for the official conduct of business. Also present were members of Staff as well as Sergeant-at-Arms: Bob Fowler, Bill Freeman, Dusty Rhodes, and Paul Rucho. The Agenda and Visitor Registration Sheet are attached and incorporated into these minutes as attachments 1 and 2.

Chairman Wainwright called the meeting to order at 8:35 am and immediately recognized the three (3) pages present: (1) Jacob Carr of Wake County, sponsored by Representative Capps; (2) Alicia Davis of Wake County, sponsored by Representative Ross; and (3) Garrett Matney of Buncombe County, sponsored by Representative Goforth.

As the first matter of business before the Committee, Chairman Wainwright recognized Representative Tolson to explain HB 1257 – AMEND RESPIRATORY PRACTICE ACT/FEES (see attachment 3). He noted that the bill had already been voted on at an earlier meeting, but Representative Ellis had an amendment to send forth, which Representative Tolson did not oppose. Representative Ellis explained the amendment in that it would allow the Respiratory Board to raise their own fees as necessary but limit them to the Consumer Price Index (CPI) system. He then moved the adoption of his amendment. The Chairman called the vote and the amendment was adopted by consent. Representative Ellis was again recognized and moved that the newly adopted amendment be incorporated into a new committee substitute bill, with an unfavorable report as to the original bill. Again, the motion carried by consent.

The Chair then recognized Representative Earle to explain HB 1316 – N.C. TRAVEL AND TOURISM INVESTMENT ACT (see attachment 4). Representative Earle explained that the purpose of the bill was to offer to support to the Travel and Tourism Industry, "one of the fastest growing industries in the state." The bill provides incentives for investment in travel and tourism. She informed the members of the bipartisan support of the bill and referred further explanation to staff. Staff then explained that the bill provides opportunities for grants to tourism investors in the state and applies to existing as well as new projects. The grants would be administered by a Travel and Tourism Board and could be of amounts up to $20 million; however, no more than 15 grants could be awarded in a given year. Fiscal staff person Linda Millsaps estimated a fiscal impact of about $60 million dollars to the General Fund over the next 10 years. She also explained that the amounts of grants awarded would be based upon sales tax impacts generated by projects in the state from the previous year. Martha Walston, from Research staff, explained that the conditions for these new or existing tourism projects was based upon the "tier system" in the state.

Following these explanations, Representative Womble was recognized by the Chair and asked the bill sponsor, Representative Earle, if there had been any questions or concerns brought to her attention over the bill. Representative Earle responded that while there were some concerns over this bill when it was introduced in the last session of the General Assembly, those issues to her knowledge had now been addressed and resolved. His question having been answered, Representative Womble then moved for a favorable report to HB 1316, stating that the bill had already been debated extensively during last year's session.

Representative Hackney, however, was then recognized by Chairman Wainwright and stated that all of the concerns on the bill had not been addressed. He specifically stated that as this bill is based upon the state's tier system, it is unfair and least helpful to the poorest (and rural) counties in North Carolina. Representative Earle was recognized to respond and offered her agreement with Representative Hackney that the tier system is flawed but then stated that it was the only system we currently had to use. She also stated that this was a poor excuse not to invest in North Carolina's growing travel and tourism industry. Representative Hackney was recognized once again and then asked the bill sponsor if the purpose of this bill was for the construction of sports arenas in the Charlotte area (her district). Representative Earle responded by stating her disappointment in Representative Hackney for his comments and then, upon request, cited a number of proposed travel and tourism projects that could be funded under the grants provided in this bill. Chairman Wainwright next recognized Representative Decker. He stated his contention that while the bill is genuinely proposed to support the travel and tourism industry, it requires large investments for the construction of large projects, which excludes most historic structures and any state-owned projects. Overall, he stated his belief that the bill only acted to provide incentives to those investors who could already afford to make investments in travel and tourism in the state.

Representative Rayfield was recognized next to speak on the bill and stated his belief that the requirements outlined for application for a grant would act to exclude those counties placed in the lower tiers of the system. Representative Earle was recognized to respond and stated simply that the bill was drafted to help as many counties as possible. Representative Rayfield then requested staff to draft an amendment reducing the restrictions stated in the bill for the lower tiered areas of the state. Representative Wilson was then recognized and acted to send forth an amendment to amend the bill on page 5, lines 32-39 (see attachment 4). In short, the amendment acted to delete the provision of the bill providing the Travel and Tourism Committee exemption from rulemaking policies of the APA. Representative Wilson was recognized and further explained that this bill should be subject to the normal rulemaking process, including required public notices and public input. As Representative Wilson then moved the adoption of her amendment, Chairman Wainwright called the vote and, after division among the members was requested, the motion failed 11 ayes to 12 nays.

Representative Rayfield was then recognized to send forth his amendment (as aforementioned) amending the bill on page 3, lines 8 and 9. He explained that the amendment acted to reduce the grant eligibility/investment requirements for counties in the first, second or third tiers of the state's tiered system. As there was no discussion, Chairman Wainwright called the amendment to a vote and it was adopted without objection.

Chairman Wainwright next recognized Representative Weiss who sent forth another amendment. She explained her amendment as an action to require that the jobs created by these travel and tourism grants be required to pay a wage at least equal to the "applicable wage standards," as outlined in the General Statutes, "based on the tier in which the project is located" (see attachment 4). Seeing no discussion on the amendment, the Chair called the vote and the amendment was adopted with no known objection.

Representative Blackwood was then recognized by the Chair to send forth a final amendment. He explained that the amendment acted to decrease the total project investment amount required based upon the State's five tier system for receipt of a grant under the bill (see attachment 4 for more detail). As there was no further discussion, Chairman Wainwright called the amendment to a vote and it was adopted by consent.

The Chair then recognized Representative Carney who noted her support of the bill and then assured Representative Hackney of the fact that this bill would not provide funding for Charlotte's new sports arena, as that funding had already been secured from other sources. Representative Ellis was recognized for a final comment. He noted his disapproval of the bill when stating that the General Assembly's time should be more focused on priority issues such as Education and not on travel and tourism. As there was no further discussion on the bill, Chairman Wainwright recognized Representative Womble who reasserted his earlier motion for a favorable to the bill, now incorporating the adopted amendments into a new PCS. The Chair then immediately called the vote and the motion carried with no known objection.

As the next matter of business before the Committee, the Chair recognized Representative Ross, on behalf of Senator Horton, for continued discussion of SB 119 – EXPAND HISTORIC PRESERVATION CREDIT (see attachment 5). The bill came before the Committee once again as it was displaced during the June 11, 2003 meeting. The Chair recognized Representative Weiss who moved for the adoption of the PCS for discussion purposes. The motion carried without objection. Representative Ross then informed the Committee that the outstanding concerns expressed at the last meeting by Representative Luebke on Section 2 of the bill had been resolved in the new PCS, which acts to sunset the credit in four years rather than making it permanent. Representative Ellis was recognized next by Chairman Wainwright to send forth an amendment (see attachment 5). He explained that the amendment acts to require the Department of Revenue to provide a line item accounting of deductions on the state income tax form so that the amounts being deducted for this and other credits could be clearly separated and (since, at present, this category is combined all into one amount). Representative Ross stated her approval of the Ellis amendment and, following this, Representative Ellis moved adoption of his amendment. The Chair then called the Committee's attention to the fact that the Ellis amendment authorizes the Department of Revenue (DOR) to assess a fee not to exceed $14,000 in FY 2003-2004 for this service; and, because it appropriates these funds, upon approval, it would be required to be re-referred to the House Appropriations Committee. Representative Ellis, however, stated that since the amendment allows DOR to assess these fees out of the amounts they have collected, they do not constituent an appropriation. The Chair then conferred with Staff person Martha Harris, who confirmed Representative Ellis' claim, stating, "Technically, it's a reduction of revenues rather than an appropriation, just as the rest of the bill is. So, technically, the rules wouldn't require it to go [to Appropriations]." Chairman Wainwright then accepted Ms. Harris statement and called the vote on the Ellis amendment, which was adopted by consent. Representative Weiss was then recognized and moved that SB 119 be given a favorable report as to a new PCS, incorporating the Ellis amendment, and an unfavorable report as to the Senate Committee Substitute bill. Seeing no other discussion, Chairman Wainwright then called the vote and the motion carried with no known objection.

As the final matter of business before the Committee, Chairman Wainwright recognized Representative McComas to speak on HB 1290 – CONFORM BANK EXPENSE DEDUCTION (see attachment 6) and HB 1291 – SUBSIDIARY DIVIDEND TAX CHANGES (see attachment 7). Chairman Wainwright then immediately announced that these bills were being brought jointly before the Committee for the purposes of discussion only and that no vote on either of the bills would be taken at the present meeting. Representative McComas then requested that the Chair recognize Mr. Wes Sturges, President of the North Carolina Banker's Association, who desired to speak on the bills. Chairman Wainwright accordingly welcomed Mr. Sturges and informed him that his remarks would have to be brief as there were only five minutes remaining in the meeting. Mr. Sturges then thanked the Committee for its time and proceeded to speak in grave opposition to the two bills. He stated that North Carolina is known as "the Banking State" yet the tax on banks in the state is the second highest in the southeast. He also noted that some 85,000 people in the state were employed in the banking industry and that these bills would only serve to weaken profits for the industry. Representative Luebke was then recognized by Chairman Wainwright to make a comment to Mr. Sturges. He expressed his contention that banks taking interest deductions off of tax free investments is wrong, yet it is ongoing everyday and these bills act to stop that from occurring. Representative Luebke also stated, contrary to Mr. Struges' comments that he was not in favor of treating banks differently in North Carolina. In fact, he stated that he feels that banks should not be treated any differently in this state than any other. The Chair then recognized Mr. Paul Stock, a lobbyist with the Banker's Association, who spoke only briefly in opposition to the bill.

As time had then expired, Chairman Wainwright acted to make one final announcement: the referral of SB 497 - REVISE AND CONSOLIDATE MT. AIRY CHARTER to the House Finance Subcommittee on Occupancy Taxes. He then immediately adjourned the meeting at 9:57 am.

Respectfully submitted,

Representative William Wainwright

- Authorizes the Respiratory Care Board to conduct background investigation of applicants for licensure.

- Amends requirements for licensure by requiring the applicant to submit written evidence to the Board that the applicant has completed the minimal requirements for Basic Cardiac Life Support as recognized by the Board (now as recognized by the American Heart Association).
- Provides that temporary licenses may be issued for up to 90 days from date of application. (now provides that a temporary license is valid until October 1, 2002.)
- Requires direct supervision of provisional licensees by respiratory care practitioners.
- Establishes the following new fees:
  A fee not to exceed $20 for official verification of licensure status
  A fee not to exceed $150 for approval of continuing education programs
- Authorizes Board to assess a civil penalty of up to $1,000 and charge costs, including reasonable attorneys' fees, to any licensee for violation of the Act and the promulgated rules. The PCS adds language that the proceeds of any civil penalty will be remitted to the Civil Penalty and Forfeiture Fund established by the General Assembly.[1] The earlier version of HB 1257 provided that civil penalties would be remitted to the General Fund.

BACKGROUND: The Respiratory Care Practice Act was enacted in 2000. Respiratory care, as defined by the written order of a licensed physician, is the treatment, management, diagnostic testing, and care of patients with deficiencies and abnormalities associated with the cardiopulmonary system. The Act sets up a 10-member Board, establishes licensure requirements, provides for the denial, suspension, and revocation of licenses, establishes fees, provides that a violation is a Class 1 misdemeanor, and exempts certain persons and practices from licensure.

[1] Article 31A of Chapter 115C of the General Statutes creates the Civil Penalty and Forfeiture Fund administered by the Office of State Budget and Management. This Fund consists of the proceeds of all civil penalties and civil forfeitures collected by a State agency. These proceeds are transferred to the State School Technology Fund and allocated to local school administrative units on the basis of average daily membership. Litigation is pending to determine several issues, including the issue of whether the N.C. Constitution requires that the proceeds go to the school fund of the county in which the violation occurred instead of the School Technology Fund. The parties are awaiting decision of the North Carolina Court of Appeals.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: North Carolina Department of Revenue, North Carolina Respiratory Care Board

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

BILL SUMMARY: The proposed bill amends various provisions under the Respiratory Care Practice Act, authorizing the North Carolina Respiratory Care Board (the Board) to establish fees for verification of licensure status and approval of continuing education programs. The bill also authorizes the Board to assess civil penalties for violations of Article 38 of Chapter 90.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: According to the information provided by the Board, there are 3,401 licensed respiratory care practitioners in North Carolina. Of these, 157 practitioners hold provisionary licenses. According to the Board, on average, they perform 790 license verifications every year. With a verification fee of $20, the total annual revenue from providing official verification of licensure status for a fee would constitute $15,800.

The bill proposes to set a maximum fee for approval of continuing education programs at $150. However, the Board plans to charge $35 for this service. Based on the data provided by the Board, on average, annually it approves 150 programs, which would generate annual revenue of $5,250.

With regard to civil penalties, the Board has indicated that there are about twenty major violations of Article 38, Chapter 90 of the General Statues, such as operating under somebody else's license, which would be considered for the maximum penalty of $1,000. There are also an identified number of less serious violations that would generate fewer penalties, for which no specific amounts are set. Overall, it is possible to assume that the total amount generated as the result of civil penalties collection would be in the range of $3,000. According to the proposed bill, this amount would be remitted to the General Fund of the State of North Carolina.

SOURCES OF DATA: North Carolina Respiratory Care Board

TECHNICAL CONSIDERATIONS: Given the recent court rulings on the use of revenue from fines and forfeitures, it does not appear to Fiscal Research that the proceeds of the Board's civil penalties can be credited to the General Fund.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO CREATE A TRAVEL AND TOURISM CAPITAL INVESTMENT PROGRAM.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Part 2 of Article 10 of Chapter 143B of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 143B-434.4. Travel and Tourism Capital Investment Program.

(a) Program Established. – The Travel and Tourism Capital Investment Program is established in the Department of Commerce. Under the program, the Travel and Tourism Grant Committee established in subsection (d) of this section may award grants to the owners of qualified projects for the purpose of inducing the creation of new or the expansion or renovation of existing travel and tourism projects. Grant proceeds may not be distributed to any private individual or entity. The Committee shall develop guidelines to be used in determining whether the conditions in this section are satisfied and whether the project described in the application is consistent with the program.

(b) Owner. – For the purpose of the Travel and Tourism Capital Investment Program, the owner of a qualified project is the unit of local government that will own the qualified project in whole or in partnership with a private individual or entity. If the qualified project is located in an enterprise tier one, two, or three area, then the local government must own at least twenty-five percent (25%) of the qualified project. If the qualified project is located in an enterprise tier four or five area, then the local government must own at least fifty percent (50%) of the qualified project.

(c) Unit of Local Government Defined. – For the purpose of the Travel and Tourism Capital Investment Program, a unit of local government means a county or municipality in the State.

(d) Committee. – The Travel and Tourism Grant Committee shall consist of the Secretary of Commerce, the Secretary of Revenue, the Director of the Office of State Budget and Management, the Chair of the North Carolina Travel and Tourism Board, and three elected local government officials. One elected local government official shall represent the Piedmont and shall be appointed by the General Assembly upon the recommendation of the Speaker of the House of Representatives. One elected local government official shall represent the Mountains and shall be appointed by the Governor. One elected local government official shall represent the Coastal Plain and shall be appointed by the General Assembly upon the recommendation of the President Pro Tempore of the Senate. The elected local government officials may not be associated with or employed by the travel and tourism industry or an entertainment enterprise or be in any contractual relationship regarding the qualified project. The appointed members shall serve two-year terms. The Committee may act only upon a majority vote of its members.

It is unlawful for a member of the Committee to provide, during or within two years after the end of service on the Committee, services for compensation, as an employee, consultant, or otherwise, to any project that was awarded a grant under this section while the former member was serving on the Committee or to provide services for compensation to any person or entity that contracts with the project. Violation of this subsection is a Class 1 misdemeanor.

Meetings of the Committee are subject to the open meetings requirements of Article 33C of Chapter 143 of the General Statutes. All documents of the Committee, including applications for grants, are public records governed by Chapter 132 of the General Statutes, including applicable provisions of the General Statutes protecting confidential information.

(e) Application and Fee. – The owner of a qualified project may apply for a grant no later than one year after the qualified project is opened to the public. When filing an application under this section, the applicant must pay the Committee a fee of five thousand dollars ($5,000). The fee is due at the time the application is filed. The Committee shall determine the allocation of the fee imposed by this subsection among the agencies whose heads are ex officio members of the Committee. The proceeds of the fee are receipts of the agency to which they are credited.

The application must contain all information required by the Committee, including a certification of the nature and cost of the tourism project, the estimated revenues to be generated by the project, the estimated economic benefit to the community, and the purposes for which the applicant will use the grant funds. If the tourism project is the result of a public-private partnership, the grant application must set forth in detail the respective rights and obligations of the parties and the specific terms of the agreement. The application must be signed by the finance officer and the chair of the governing body of the owner.

(f) Qualification. – A qualified project is a newly created travel and tourism project or expansion or renovation of a travel and tourism project that the Committee determines, pursuant to a feasibility study under this section, meets all of the following conditions:

(1) At least twenty-five percent (25%) of the project will be financed and owned by a unit of local government in which it is located if the project is located in an enterprise tier one, two, or three area. At least fifty percent (50%) of the project will be financed and owned by a unit of local government in which it is located if the project is located in an enterprise tier four or five area.

(2) A project located in an enterprise tier one, two, or three area will target at least fifteen percent (15%) of its visitors from among persons who reside outside the State or more than 25 miles from the project. A project located in an enterprise tier four or five area will target at least thirty-five percent (35%) of its visitors from among persons who reside outside the State or more than 50 miles from the project.

(3) The project has a business plan that demonstrates a positive economic impact on the community in which the project is located.

(4) The applicant has provided impact projections regarding estimated State and local tax revenues with respect to the project.

(5) The project will have a significant and positive economic impact on the community in which the project is located, considering among other factors the extent to which the tourism project will compete directly with existing tourism attractions in the area and the amount by which tax revenues from the tourism project will exceed the amount of the grant provided.

(6) The applicant has provided a cost-benefit analysis of the project.

(7) The applicant has provided an economic impact analysis, certified by a certified public accountant, which demonstrates the employment, gross State product, and personal income effects of the project over a 10-year period.

(8) The project will be available to the public for a minimum of 100 days per year.

(9) The project will generate at least 10 new jobs in the community in which the project is located.

(10) The project will have the following minimum cost based on the enterprise tier in which it is located:

Enterprise Tier	Minimum Cost
1 and 2	$ 500,000
3	$ 1,000,000
4	$ 3,000,000
5	$ 4,000,000

(11) The governing body of the unit of local government has passed a resolution stating the need for the project and the positive economic impact and enhancement of travel and tourism revenues from the project.

(12) The applicant has demonstrated by clear and convincing evidence the following:

a. The project will not result in unnecessary duplication of existing services.

b. The project will generate new visitors to the area rather than drawing visitors away from other existing tourism attractions.

(13) The jobs created by the project pay a wage at least equal to the applicable wage standard provided in G.S. 105-129.4(b) based on the tier in which the project is located.

(g) Feasibility Study. – The applicant must fund a feasibility study certified by a certified public accountant and coordinated solely by the Committee. The Committee shall develop a list of qualified firms to conduct the study. The Committee shall prescribe the scope of the study to cover all of the qualifications established in this section.

(h) Amount. – Subject to the maximums provided in this section, the amount of a grant with respect to a qualified project is calculated as a percentage of the total amount of the following taxes collected and retained by the State each year:

(1) The net State sales tax collected on sales by or within the qualified project, as determined by the Department of Revenue.

(2) The net privilege tax paid by the qualified project under G.S. 105-37.1, as determined by the Department of Revenue.

(i) Maximums. – The maximum term of a grant is 10 years. No project may receive any grant proceeds for a year that is more than 10 years beyond the date of the initial grant award.

The Committee shall set the grant percentage at the time it awards the grant. The percentage used to calculate a grant may not exceed the applicable percentage provided in the table below based on the enterprise tier, as defined in G.S. 105-129.3, in which the qualified project is located. In addition, the cumulative maximum amount of a grant may not exceed the applicable percentage of the total project cost provided in the table below based on the enterprise tier in which the qualified project is located.

Enterprise Tier	Percentage
1 and 2	40
3 and 4	30

(j) Use. – The proceeds of a grant may be used only for capital costs, including debt service, with respect to the qualified project for which the grant was awarded.

(k) Disbursement. – In order to receive grant disbursements under this section, the owner of the qualified project must provide the Department of Revenue with periodic, verified accountings of the tax collections provided in subsection (h) of this section. These reports must be made at the times and in the form prescribed by the Department of Revenue. Each report must include the name, address, and tax identification number of every taxpayer whose collections are included in the report and any other information required by the Department of Revenue.

The Department of Revenue must disburse grants awarded under this section in accordance with G.S. 105-269.16. Upon awarding a grant under this section, the Committee must provide the following information to the Department of Revenue:

(1) The name, address, and other identifying information of the owner to whom the grant was awarded.

(2) The name and address of any lessee or individual or entity who has entered into a contract with the owner of the qualified project.

(3) The address and other identifying information of each facility that is part of the qualified project for which the grant was awarded.

(5) Any other information included in the application, if required by the Department of Revenue.

(l) Reports. – The Committee must report annually to the Revenue Laws Study Committee concerning the applications made for grants, the grants awarded under this section, and the division and use of the fee collected by the Committee under this section.

(m) Cap. – The maximum number of projects that may be awarded grants each fiscal year is 15. No more than twenty million dollars ($20,000,000) in grants shall be awarded each fiscal year. For the purpose of this maximum, the amount awarded is calculated as the cumulative maximum amount of the grant divided by the number of years in its term."

SECTION 2. Article 9 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 105-269.16. Travel and tourism grants.

The Department must annually disburse the travel and tourism grants awarded under G.S. 143B-434.4. Each annual disbursement must be made by October 1 for the preceding fiscal year. The amount of each grant must be calculated in accordance with G.S. 143B-434.4 based on information provided to the Department by the owner of the qualified project. If information necessary to calculate a portion of a grant is not available, the Department must disburse only that portion for which information is available. To pay for this program, the Department must draw from State sales and use tax collections under Article 5 of this Chapter an amount equal to the grant funds disbursed and the Department's costs of administering the grants. The Department must provide the Committee an annual accounting of grant funds disbursed under this section."

SECTION 3. G.S. 150B-1(d) is amended by adding a new subdivision to read:

"(d) Exemptions from Rule Making. – Article 2A of this Chapter does not apply to the following:

(12) The Travel and Tourism Grant Committee in developing guidelines for the Travel and Tourism Capital Investment Program under G.S. 143B-434.4."

HOUSE BILL 1316:
Travel & Tourism Investment Act

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee: House Finance
Date: June 11, 2003
Version: 1st Edition

Sponsor: Rep. Earle
Analysis by: Martha H. Harris
Staff Attorney

SUMMARY: House Bill 1316 creates the Travel and Tourism Capital Investment Program. The bill becomes effective January 1, 2004, and expires for grant applications filed on or after July 1, 2006. House Bill 1316 is similar to proposals debated in the House and Senate during the 2001-2002 biennium.

The Travel and Tourism Capital Investment Program is established to award grants to the owners of qualified projects for the purpose of inducing the creation of new or the expansion or renovation of existing travel and tourism projects.

Grant recipient - Grants may be awarded to a unit of local government that owns a qualified project in whole or in partnership with a private individual or entity. Grant proceeds may not be distributed to any private individual or entity. If the project is located in tier one, two, or three, the local government must own at least 25%. In tiers four and five, the local government must own at least 50%. A "unit of local government" is defined in the bill as a county or municipality in the State.

Travel and Tourism Grant Committee - The Travel and Tourism Grant Committee would have seven members:

- The Secretary of Commerce
- The Secretary of Revenue
- The Director of the Office of State Budget and Management
- The Chair of the NC Travel and Tourism Board
- Three elected local government officials who will serve two-year terms. One will be appointed by the Speaker of the House to represent the Mountains, one will be appointed by the President Pro Tem of the Senate to represent the Coastal Plain, and one will by appointed by the Governor to represent the Piedmont.

The Committee acts on a majority vote of its members. The Committee is subject to the open meetings law and the public records law. There are conflict of interest restrictions on the members of the Committee.

Qualified project - A qualified project is a newly created travel and tourism project or an expansion or renovation of a travel and tourism project that the Travel and Tourism Grant Committee determines, pursuant to a feasibility study funded by the applicant, meets the following conditions:

1. A minimum percentage of the project will be financed and owned by a unit of local government in which it is located. The percentage is 25% in tier one, two, or three and 50% in tier four or five.
2. The project will target a minimum percentage of its visitors from among persons who reside outside the State or more than 50 miles from the project. The percentage is 25% in tier one, two, or three and 35% in tier four or five.
3. The project has a business plan that demonstrates a positive economic impact on the community in which the project is located.
4. The applicant has provided impact projections regarding estimated State and local tax revenues with respect to the project.
5. The project will have a significant and positive economic impact on the community in which it is located, considering among other factors, the extent to which the project will compete directly with existing tourism attractions in the area and the amount by which tax revenues from the tourism project will exceed the amount of the grant provided.
6. The applicant has provided a cost-benefit analysis of the project.
7. The applicant has provided an economic impact analysis, certified by a CPA, which demonstrates the employment, gross state product, and personal income effects of the project over a 10-year period.
8. The project will be available to the public for a minimum of 100 days per year.
9. The project will generate at least 10 new jobs in the community in which the project is located.
10. The project will have the following minimum cost based on the enterprise tier in which it is located:

Enterprise Tier	Minimum Cost
1 and 2	$ 500,000
3	$ 2,000,000
4	$ 5,000,000
5	$10,000,000

11. The governing body of the unit of local government has passed a resolution stating the need for and positive economic impact and enhancement of travel and tourism revenues from the project.
12. The applicant has demonstrated by clear and convincing evidence both of the following
    a. The project will not result in unnecessary duplication of existing services.
    b. The project will generate new visitors to the area rather than drawing visitors away from other existing tourism attractions.

Amount of the grant - The amount of the grant is determined by multiplying the sum of the total amount of sales taxes collected on sales by or within the qualified project and the net privilege taxes paid by the qualifying project times a percentage not to exceed a maximum based on the enterprise tier in which the project will be located, as follows:

Enterprise Tier	Percentage
1 and 2	40
3 and 4	30
5	25

These same percentages are used to calculate the cumulative maximum amount of a grant determined by the applicable percentage of the total project cost.

Maximum term. – The maximum term of the grant is ten years.

Use of grant proceeds. - The proceeds of the grant may be used only for capital costs, including debt service, with respect to the qualified project.

Cap on number of projects and amount of projects awarded each year - No more than 15 projects may be awarded grants each fiscal year. No more than $20 million in grants may be awarded each fiscal year. For purpose of the $20 million maximum, the amount awarded is calculated as the cumulative maximum amount of the grant divided by the number of years in its term.

Fees. - Each applicant must pay the Committee a $5,000 application fee.

Disbursement of grants by the Department of Revenue - The Department of Revenue must annually disburse the grants by October 1 for the preceding fiscal year, based on information provided to the Department by the owner of the qualified project. In order to pay for this program, the Department will draw from State sales and use tax collections an amount equal to the grant funds disbursed and the Department's costs of administering the grants.

Exemption from rule making. – The Travel and Tourism Grant Committee is exempt from the rule-making provisions under the Administrative Procedure Act when developing guidelines for the Program.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Travel and Tourism Grant Committee, NC Department of Revenue, and local governments.

EFFECTIVE DATE: January 1, 2004

BILL SUMMARY: The bill creates the Travel and Tourism Capital Incentive Grant program to be administered by the Travel and Tourism Grant Committee. The program offers grants to counties and municipalities who own "qualifying projects" that meet the following criteria: 1) the project is financed and owned (in whole or at least in 50% partnership in tiers 4 and 5, 25% ownership in the remaining tiers) by the unit of local government in which it is located, 2) the project will target 35% or more of its visitors from at least 50 miles away or out of state (25% in tiers 1–3), 3) the project has a business plan that indicates that project will be profitable, 4) the applicant provides tax impact projections, 5) the project will have a positive impact on the community, 6) the project will be open at least 100 days per year, 7) the project will generate at least ten new jobs in the local area, 8) the projects will meet a minimum cost criteria based on the North Carolina enterprise tier in which it is located, 9) the governing body of the local government passes a resolution stating the need for, positive economic impact of, and the enhanced travel and tourism opportunities created by the project, and 10) the applicant demonstrates that the project will not duplicate services and will draw new visitors to the area. Grant funds can be used to fund new projects or the renovation and expansion of existing facilities. The grant amount is determined by multiplying the total amount of sales taxes collected by or within the qualified program and the net privilege taxes paid by the qualifying project by an enterprise tier based percentage, with maximum percentages outlined in the bill. These same percentages apply to the maximum amounts of the total project cost that can be funded through this grant program. The Travel and Tourism Grant Committee is charged with determining if all project criteria are met and the percentages used to calculate the grant amount. Grant funds can only be used for capital costs, including debt service. To receive a grant disbursement, the project owner must provide the Department of Revenue with periodic, verified accounting of the tax collections. Annual disbursements based on this information must be made by the Department of Revenue by October 1 of each year and should reflect tax collections from that project for the previous fiscal year. The Department is only required to distribute funds based on data provided by the owner. If appropriate data is not provided to justify a complete payment, a partial payment can be made to reflect the information provided. Applicants must fund a feasibility study coordinated and directed by the Travel and Tourism Grant Committee and pay a $5,000 application fee. The funds to pay for the grants and the associated departmental costs are drawn from State sales and use tax revenues. The grant application period for the bill sunsets July 1, 2006, although payments for grants authorized before that date will continue to be made up to ten years after the initial award. Only fifteen (15) grants can be awarded per year. Annual awards are limited to $20 million.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

Impact on Revenue

The bill effectively earmarks a proportion of state tax revenue drawn from a particular qualifying project and returns that funding to the institution to fund capital costs and debt service. The proportion returned varies by location and other factors. The bill would allow funding for fifteen projects a year, with a maximum of forty-five grants awarded before the July 1, 2006 sunset. At present Fiscal Research is aware of several potential projects that have already reached the planning stages, primarily arenas, convention centers and athletic facilities, that could easily qualify for these grants, although local government officials indicate that many local units would likely be interested applying for these grants. Fiscal Research is also not aware of any other state that uses a similar funding mechanism, so no data is available from other states to suggest a fiscal cost. (Kentucky has a state sales tax incentive program for tourism development, which has funded seven (7) projects to date. However, because of substantial differences in the Kentucky plan and this bill, that state's experience cannot be used as a proxy for estimating purposes). Because there is no good data on the type, size and location of qualifying projects or potentially qualifying projects, the fiscal note assumes the committee awards the maximum annual amount of $20 million. Because the bill allows three grant cycle before the sunset, the maximum annual impact is reached in 2060-07 of $60 million ($20 million from each year of awards). Because all economic activity, in total, is considered in determining the state's baseline revenue projections, all grants awarded under this program would be shown as a loss of state revenue. However, none of that loss would appear in FY 2003-04, as the first payment would not be made for any project until October 2005.

Impact on Expenditures

Travel and Tourism Grant Committee: The bill charges the Travel and Tourism Grant Committee (the Committee) with carrying out the following activities in order to administer the grant program:

1. Adopt rules for the administration of the program.

2. Coordinate and direct feasibility studies funded by the applicants. This coordination function includes selection by the Department of qualified, independent consultants and prescription of the scope of each study.

3. Analyze applications to ensure they contain all necessary information regarding the nature and cost of the proposed tourism project, the estimated revenues to be generated by the project, the estimated economic benefit to the community, and the purposes for which the applicant will use grant funds.

Each of these activities will involve a cost to the Committee. The bill allows the Committee, itself, to determine how the fee revenue and associated responsibilities will be distributed. Since the bill does not specify the financial structure of the Committee, how the Committee will operate, or how the Committee will utilize the $5,000 fee per application, it is not possible to estimate the fiscal impact on the Committee.

Department of Revenue: According to the Department of Revenue, the anticipated responsibilities from the enactment of the bill will not justify any positions being assigned to handle the work and, therefore, no employee costs will be incurred. There will only be very minimal costs for printing and mailings of forms and possibly some other minor administrative costs. The Department's assumption is that there will be a relatively small number of projects that will qualify, at least initially. Therefore, on the basis of this assumption, taxes eligible for grants will not be generated until a project is completed and business performed in the project. The first fiscal year for which grants could be issued would most likely be FY 2004-05. This should provide the department with ample time to get procedures in place.

BILL ANALYSIS: Section 1 of Senate Bill 119 extends the January 1, 2004 sunset on the provision in the historic rehabilitation tax credit that permits a pass-through entity to allocate among its owners the tax credit for income-producing property. The sunset is extended to January 1, 2008. This section is effective when it becomes law.

Section 2 of Senate Bill 119 increases the amount of the credit for income-producing property that a pass-through entity may allocate among its owners. Current law requires that the credit can be allocated to an owner of the pass-through entity as long as the amount of credit allocated to the owner does not exceed the owner's adjusted basis in the pass-through entity, as determined under the Internal Revenue Code. Senate Bill 119 provides that the owner's adjusted basis must be at least 40% of the credit allocated to that owner. This section is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 105-129.35 allows an income tax credit of 20% of the expenses of rehabilitating an income-producing historic structure. G.S. 105-129.36 allows an income tax credit of 30% of the expenses of rehabilitating an historic structure that is not income-producing. The credit for income-producing structures is lower because federal law also allows a 20% credit for those expenses, yielding a combined credit of 40%. The 20% credit is allowed only if the taxpayer qualifies for the federal credit and the 30% credit is allowed only if the taxpayer does not qualify for the federal credit. The credit may not be taken for the tax year the property is placed in service but must be taken in installments over five years after the historic structure is placed in service. Any unused portion of a credit may be carried forward for a five-year period.

A pass-through entity may qualify for the rehabilitation credit and pass the credits on to its owners. A pass-through entity is an entity, such as a partnership, a limited liability company, or a Subchapter S corporation, that is treated as owned by individuals or other entities under federal tax law and whose income, losses, and credits are reported by the owners on their State income tax returns.

Under the Internal Revenue Code, tax credits are allocated among S corporation shareholders in accordance with their pro rata share of the corporation, which is determined on the basis of stock ownership, and tax credits are allocated among partners in a partnership in accordance with the partnership agreement. The allocation made by the partnership agreement must have a substantial economic effect, which means that the allocation agreement must reflect the economic interest of the partners in the partnership and cannot be based solely on tax consequences. Therefore, the allocation agreement of partners cannot give one partner 100% of the income, loss, or credits of the partnership. A pass-through entity may allocate the credit for rehabilitating an income-producing historic structure among any of its owners, as long as the amount of the allocated credit does not exceed the owner's adjusted basis in the entity, as determined under the Code. The adjusted basis is determined at the end of the taxable years in which the historic structure is placed in service. Each year an allocated credit is claimed, the pass-through entity and its owners must include a statement with their tax return that shows both the allocation made and the allocation that would otherwise have been required under G.S. 105-131.8 and G.S. 105-269.15. G.S. 105-131.8 provides that the tax credit allowed a shareholder in a Subchapter S corporation is based on the percentage of stock held by the shareholder in the corporation. G.S. 105-269.15 provides that the tax credit allowed a partner is based on the partnership agreement, which must have substantial economic effect.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Department of Cultural Resources – State Historic Preservation Office; Department of Revenue

EFFECTIVE DATE: Section 1 (removal of sunset) is effective when it becomes law. Section 2 (allocation) is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003. The remainder of the act becomes effective for taxable years on or after January 1, 2004.

BILL SUMMARY: The bill removes the January 1, 2004 sunset on a pass-through provision for the tax credit for rehabilitating income-producing historic structures. The bill allows a pass-through entity that qualifies for the historic rehab credit to allocate the credit among its owners in its discretion as long as an owner's adjusted basis is at least 40% of the amount of the credit allocated to that owner. The bill also allows the credit to be used against the franchise tax and the gross premiums tax.

BACKGROUND: The National Park Service of the U.S. Department of the Interior administers a federal income tax credit equal to 20% of qualified rehabilitation expenditures for certified historic structures that are used in connection with a trade or business or held for the production of income. This credit is available for both residential rental buildings and nonresidential buildings. In order to qualify, the property itself must be either listed in the National Register, or located in a registered historic district and be certified as being of historic significance. All rehabilitation work must meet The Secretary of the Interior's Standards for Rehabilitation and must be approved by the State Historic Preservation Office (SHPO).

From 1993 to 1997, North Carolina investors eligible for the Federal Rehabilitation Investment Tax Credit were allowed a state income tax credit equal to one-fourth of the federal amount (5%). The 1997 General Assembly expanded the State income tax credit from 5% to 20% for rehabilitating an income-producing historic structure, effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1998. (S.L. 1997-139) The credits may not be taken in one year, but must be spread out in installments over five years after the historic structure is placed in service. Any unused portion of a credit may be carried forward for a five-year period.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

No estimate can be made of the actual fiscal impact of this bill. In theory, the bill has been proposed to increase the likelihood that the historic rehab tax credits will be fully utilized by taxpayers. However, the General Assembly's Fiscal Research Division has assumed from 1997 (the year the credit increased to 20%), that 100% of the tax credits have been used and have built 100% utilization of the historic credit into the General Fund availability forecast. All efforts to determine the actual cost of the credit program failed for reasons explained below.

From 1989 to 1997, the Journal of Multistate Taxation and Incentives reported North Carolina had 268 federally certified historic rehab projects valued at $125.3 million. The average project size in this period was $468,000 and the average number of projects each year was 30. The increase in the state credit in 1998 saw a significant increase in projects and in the size of projects. From 1998 through March 2003, $178.7 million was spent on rehabbing 199 historic structures. On average in the 1998-2003 period, 38 projects were completed each year at cost of $900,000 per project.

Income Producing Projects - Completed

Tax Year	# Of Projects	Rehab Expenses	Avg. Proj. Cost
1998	27	$6,748,550	$249,946
1999	36	$25,187,152	$699,643
2000	44	$39,385,678	$895,129
2001	50	$74,117,018	$1,482,340
2002	30	$27,229,772	$907,659
J - M 2003	12	$6,035,293	$502,941
	199	$178,703,463	$898,007

As shown in the chart below, the General Fund impact of these credits is lessened by the requirement that the tax credit be taken over five years. In FY 02-03, the actual credit earned is $6,906,727, an amount slightly lower than the original projection of $7.2 million made in 1997.

I. Income Producing Projects - Completed

Tax Year	Credit Amount	FY 98-99	FY 99-00	FY 00-01	FY 01-02	FY 02-03
1998	$1,349,710	$269,942	$269,942	$269,942	$269,942	$269,942
1999	$5,037,430		$1,007,486	$1,007,486	$1,007,486	$1,007,486
2000	$7,877,136			$1,575,427	$1,575,427	$1,575,427
2001	$14,823,404				$2,964,681	$2,964,681
2002	$5,445,954					$1,089,191
J - M 2003	$1,207,059
General Fund Revenue Loss		$269,942	$1,277,428	$2,852,855	$5,817,536	$6,906,727
Original 1997 Estimate		$1,050,000	$2,250,000	$3,750,000	$5,400,000	$7,200,000

While the data above shows the amount of tax credits taxpayers are eligible for each year, it does not reveal the percentage of tax credits claimed each year. The Department of Revenue was asked to report on the amount of income-producing historic rehab credits taken in tax years 2000 and 2001. The Department's Tax Research Division responded that it could only determine the number of corporate taxpayers that claimed the historic rehab credit, because the agency's ITAS computer system does not contain information on the individuals that claim the credit. ITAS does not capture data on individual historic rehab tax credits, because the credit is one of a number of credits filed on Form D-400TC as a miscellaneous credit. The only way for the Department to determine the number of individual tax credits taken would be to manually search through 28,000 tax returns each year that claim a miscellaneous credit.

The Tax Research Division data on corporate historic rehab credits shows $893,265 was claimed in tax year 2000. Since these credits would probably have been claimed in the FY 2001-02 period, the reported $893,265 is only 15% of the $5.8 million in available credits that year. For the 2001 tax year, $725,703 in corporate credits were claimed out of $6.9 million credits available in FY 2002-03 (10.5%). Without the individual tax credit information, the corporate data is meaningless. No conclusion on credit utilization can be drawn from existing Department of Revenue or Department of Cultural Resources data.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO CONFORM STATE INCOME TAX ON BANKS TO FEDERAL INCOME TAX ON BANKS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 105-130.5(a) is amended by adding a new subdivision to read:

"(a) The following additions to federal taxable income shall be made in determining State net income:

(2a) The portion of a financial institution's interest expense that is allocable to interest income exempt from taxation under this Part. The allocable portion of the interest expense is the portion for which deduction would be disallowed pursuant to section 265(b) of the Code if the interest income exempt from taxation under this Part were earned on tax-exempt obligations as defined in section 265(b) of the Code."

SECTION 2. This act is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003. Notwithstanding G.S. 105-163.41, no addition to tax may be made under that statute for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2003, and before January 1, 2004, with respect to an underpayment of corporation tax to the extent the underpayment was created or increased by this act.

Conform Bank Expense Deduction

BILL ANALYSIS

SUMMARY: House Bill 1290 amends the corporate income tax law to provide that a bank is allowed to deduct interest expenses on tax-exempt income only to the extent it is allowable under federal tax law, effective beginning with the 2003 tax year.

House Bill 1290 would reverse a corporate income tax interpretation allowing corporations engaged in the banking business to deduct interest expenses incurred in producing tax-exempt interest income. Generally, other corporations are not allowed to deduct expenses incurred in producing tax-exempt income.

The North Carolina Corporation Income Tax Act provides in G.S. 105-130.5(a)(2) that interest paid in connection with tax-exempt income is not deductible. The statute makes no specific reference to financial institutions; however, in 1987, the Attorney General's Office issued an opinion interpreting the statute as not applying to corporations engaged in the banking business. Under this interpretation, banks and similar financial institutions are not required to include in taxable income interest expenses paid in connection with State tax-exempt income. One example of such expenses would be interest paid on deposits used to acquire federal obligations, the interest on which is exempt from State income tax.

Federal law formerly allowed the same special treatment to corporations engaged in the banking business but, since 1986, the deduction has been disallowed, with an exception for interest expenses in connection with tax-exempt obligations of qualified "small issuers."[1] This proposal would adopt the federal approach to deduction of interest expenses by corporations engaged in the banking business. Banking corporations would be required to allocate interest expenses between taxable and tax-exempt income based on a formula. Except as provided in the case of small issuers, those interest expenses allocable to exempt income would be includable in State net income; those interest expenses allocable to taxable income would be deductible.

The bill provides that no penalty for underpayment of estimated taxes would be imposed for 2003 tax years to the extent the underpayment was due to this bill.

[1] In general, an obligation is an obligation of a small issuer if, during the year the obligation is issued, the issuer is expected to issue no more than $10 million in obligations.

REVENUES	(See Methodology and Assumptions)

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT AFFECTED: The corporate income tax is administered by the Department of Revenue. The enactment of the bill is not expected to affect the budget requirements of the Department.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2003

BILL SUMMARY: Reverses a North Carolina corporate income tax interpretation allowing corporations engage in the banking business to deduct interest expenses incurred in producing tax-exempt interest income. An example would be the interest paid on deposits that are used to purchase federal obligations whose interest payments are exempt from the state income tax.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: In past years, the fiscal side of this issue had been reviewed by the Department of Revenue and a consultant used by the General Assembly. A January 15, 2002 memorandum from the Tax Research Division indicates that the annual revenue gain to the General Fund would amount to $12-15 million per year. This estimate was based on an analysis of two year of corporate tax returns of taxpayers subject to the banking privilege license tax.

TECHNICAL CONSIDERATIONS: The Revenue Department has indicated that most of the additional revenue would be paid by a small number of banks and that their investment portfolio decisions could have a major impact on the estimate. In addition, the estimate is subject to changes in the interest rate on federal obligations.

METHODOLOGY: The subsidiary dividend legislation is very complex and requires a review of confidential tax return data and discussions with major taxpayers. For these reasons this analysis has been carried out by the research staff of the Department of Revenue during the last few years.

During the 2002 session analysis, the Department examined 2000 tax returns from a group of selected large corporations and a sample of several hundred smaller corporations. In addition, Department personnel have had conversations with affected parties. Finally, Fiscal Research was involved in numerous meetings on the issue with the Department of Revenue and the affected parties.

Shown below is a comparison of the General Fund revenue anticipated under the original 2001 bill, the 2002 re-estimate that was discussed in the process of adjusting the 2002-03 General Fund budget, and the 2002 legislation:

Additional General Fund Revenue ($Mil.)
	01-02	02-03	03-04	04-05
2001 Legislation	30.8	32.3	33.6	34.5
2002 Re-Estimate*	30.8	82.3	83.6	84.5
2002 Legislation	30.8	82.7	61.8	64.9
*The actual impact per calendar year could be $120 million or more but is heavily dependent of the compliance of taxpayers affected by the 2001 change. The amount shown is the figure that was discussed during the 2002-03 budget deliberations.

The enactment of the bill would take the subsidiary dividend issue back to the status prior to the 2002 legislation. According to 2002 session discussions with the Department of Revenue, the 2001 changes, coupled with the Department's rules implementing the changes, could lead to additional annual revenue from the 2001 change of up to $120 million. This amount would be almost $60 million higher than the current law estimate. The actual revenue gain from this legislation depends on the ability of the Department to collect the tax from large taxpayers who in the past have protested the Department's expense attribution rules implementing the 2001 legislation. The experience prior to the 2002 change indicated that many of these affected taxpayers were not remitting the tax due under the Department's rules.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO MODIFY THE EXPENSE ATTRIBUTION LAW AS IT APPLIES TO DEDUCTIBLE DIVIDENDS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 105-130.6A reads as rewritten:

"§ 105-130.6A. Adjustment for expenses related to dividends.

(a) Definitions. – The provisions of G.S. 105-130.6 govern the determination of whether a corporation is a subsidiary or an affiliate of another corporation. In addition, the following definitions apply in this section:

(1) Affiliated group. – A group that includes a corporation, all other corporations that are affiliates or subsidiaries of that corporation, and all other corporations that are affiliates or subsidiaries of another corporation in the group.

(2) Bank holding company. – A holding company with an affiliate that is subject to the privilege tax on banks levied in G.S. 105-102.3.

(3) Dividends. – Dividends received that are not taxed under this Part.

(4) Electric power holding company. – A holding company with an affiliate or a subsidiary that is subject to the franchise tax on electric power companies levied in G.S. 105-116.

(5) Expense adjustment. – The adjustment required by G.S. 105-130.5(c)(3) for expenses related to dividends not taxed under this Part.

(6) Holding company. – Defined in G.S. 105-120.2.

(b) General Rule. – For corporations other than bank holding companies and electric power holding companies, the adjustment under G.S. 105-130.5(c)(3) for expenses related to dividends not taxed under this Part may not exceed an amount equal to fifteen percent (15%) of the dividends.

(c) Bank Holding Companies. – For bank holding companies the adjustment under G.S. 105-130.5(c)(3) for expenses related to dividends not taxed under this Part must be computed pursuant to guidelines adopted by the Department of Revenue. ~~may not exceed an amount equal to twenty percent (20%) of the dividends.~~

(d) Electric Power Holding Companies. – For electric power holding companies, the adjustment under G.S. 105-130.5(c)(3) for expenses related to dividends not taxed under this Part may not exceed an amount equal to fifteen percent (15%) of its total interest expenses.

~~(e) Cap for Bank Holding Companies. – After calculating the expense adjustment as provided in subsection (c) of this section, each bank holding company must calculate the amount of additional tax that results from the expense adjustments for the holding company and for every corporation in the holding company's affiliated group for the taxable year. If the expense adjustments result in additional tax exceeding eleven million dollars ($11,000,000) for a taxable year for the affiliated group, the affiliated group may reduce the amount of the expense adjustment so that the resulting additional tax does not exceed this maximum. This maximum applies once to each affiliated group each taxable year, whether or not the group includes more than one bank holding company.~~

~~The members of the affiliated group may allocate this reduction among themselves in their discretion. In order to take this reduction, each member of the affiliated group that is required to file a return under this Part and that has dividends for the taxable year must provide a schedule with its return that lists every member of the group that has dividends, the amount of the dividends, and whether the member is a bank holding company. In addition, the schedule must show the expense adjustments for those members whose additional tax as a result of the expense adjustment constitutes the maximum amount. In addition, each member must provide any other documentation required by the Secretary.~~

~~If the expense adjustment for an affiliated group is reduced under this subsection, and the return of a member of the group is later changed in a manner that reduces below the maximum the amount of additional tax for the group resulting from the expense adjustment, the Secretary may increase the expense adjustment for any member of the group in order to increase to the maximum the amount of additional tax for the group resulting from the expense adjustment. In this situation, the amount of the increase is considered a forfeited tax benefit with respect to the affiliated group for the purposes of G.S. 105-241.1(e). The date of the forfeiture is the date of the change that triggers the Secretary's authority to increase the expense adjustment. Any member whose expense adjustment the Secretary increases is liable for interest on the amount of the increase at the rate established under G.S. 105-241.1(i), computed from the date the taxes would have been due if the expense adjustment had been calculated correctly on the original return. The amount of the increase and the interest are due 60 days after the date of the forfeiture. A taxpayer that fails to pay the amount of the increase and interest by the due date is subject to the penalties provided in G.S. 105-236.~~

~~(f) Credits for Bank Holding Companies. – If the affiliated group of which a bank holding company is a member is eligible for the reduction provided in subsection~~

~~(e) of this section for a taxable year, the affiliated group is also eligible for a credit equal to two million dollars ($2,000,000). If the affiliated group of which a bank holding company is a member is not eligible for the reduction provided in subsection (e) of this section for a taxable year, the affiliated group is eligible for a credit equal to the amount of additional tax that results from its expense adjustments in excess of the amount of additional tax that would result from the expense adjustments if the expense adjustment of any bank holding company in the group were equal to fifteen percent (15%) of the holding company's dividends for that taxable year.~~

~~A credit allowed by this subsection may be taken in four equal, annual installments beginning with the later of the following taxable year or the taxpayer's taxable year beginning in 2003. The members of the affiliated group may allocate a credit allowed by this subsection among themselves in their discretion.~~

(g) Credit for Electric Power Holding Companies. – After calculating the adjustment for expenses related to dividends under G.S. 105-130.5(c)(3), each electric power holding company must calculate the amount of additional tax under this Part that results from the expense adjustment for the taxable year. The electric power holding company is allowed a credit for the following taxable year equal to one-half of this amount of additional tax.

As an alternative to taking this credit against its own tax liability, an electric power holding company may elect to allocate the credit among the members of its affiliated group. In this case, the credit must be taken in four equal installments beginning in the later of the following taxable year or the taxable year for which the taxpayer's final return is due in 2004.

(h) Limitation on ~~Credits. The credits~~Credit. – The credit provided in this section ~~are~~ is allowed against the tax levied in this Part and the franchise tax levied in Article 3 of this Chapter. A taxpayer may claim a credit against only one of the taxes against which it is allowed. Each taxpayer must elect the tax against which the credit will be taken when filing the return on which the first installment of the credit is claimed. This election is binding. All installments and carryforwards of the credit must be taken against the same tax.

In order for a member of an affiliated group to take a credit, each member of the affiliated group that is required to file a return under this Part or under Article 3 of this Chapter must attach a schedule to its return that shows for every member of the group the amount of the credit taken by it, the tax against which it is taken, and the amount of the resulting tax. In addition, each member must provide any other documentation required by the Secretary.

A credit allowed in this section may not exceed the amount of tax against which it is taken for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowable, except tax payments made by or on behalf of the taxpayer. Any unused portion of the credit may be carried forward to succeeding taxable years."

SECTION 2. This act is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003. Notwithstanding G.S. 105-163.41, no addition to tax may be made under that statute for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2003, and before

January 1, 2004, with respect to an underpayment of corporation tax to the extent the underpayment was created or increased by this act.

In addition, the schedule must show the expense adjustments for those members whose additional tax as a result of the expense adjustment constitutes the maximum amount. In addition, each member must provide any other documentation required by the Secretary.~~

~~If the expense adjustment for an affiliated group is reduced under this subsection, and the return of a member of the group is later changed in a manner that reduces below the maximum the amount of additional tax for the group resulting from the expense adjustment, the Secretary may increase the expense adjustment for any member of the group in order to increase to the maximum the amount of additional tax for the group resulting from the expense adjustment. In this situation, the amount of the increase is considered a forfeited tax benefit with respect to the affiliated group for the purposes of G.S. 105-241.1(e). The date of the forfeiture is the date of the change that triggers the Secretary's authority to increase the expense adjustment. Any member whose expense adjustment the Secretary increases is liable for interest on the amount of the increase at the rate established under G.S. 105-241.1(i), computed from the date the taxes would have been due if the expense adjustment had been calculated correctly on the original return. The amount of the increase and the interest are due 60 days after the date of the forfeiture. A taxpayer that fails to pay the amount of the increase and interest by the due date is subject to the penalties provided in G.S. 105-236.~~

~~(f) Credits for Bank Holding Companies. If the affiliated group of which a bank holding company is a member is eligible for the reduction provided in subsection (e) of this section for a taxable year, the affiliated group is also eligible for a credit equal to two million dollars ($2,000,000). If the affiliated group of which a bank holding company is a member is not eligible for the reduction provided in subsection (e) of this section for a taxable year, the affiliated group is eligible for a credit equal to the amount of additional tax that results from its expense adjustments in excess of the amount of additional tax that would result from the expense adjustments if the expense adjustment of any bank holding company in the group were equal to fifteen percent (15%) of the holding company's dividends for that taxable year.~~

~~A credit allowed by this subsection may be taken in four equal, annual installments beginning with the later of the following taxable year or the taxpayer's taxable year beginning in 2003. The members of the affiliated group may allocate a credit allowed by this subsection among themselves in their discretion.~~

~~(g) Credit for Electric Power Holding Companies. After calculating the adjustment for expenses related to dividends under G.S. 105-130.5(c)(3), each electric power holding company must calculate the amount of additional tax under this Part that results from the expense adjustment for the taxable year. The electric power holding company is allowed a credit for the following taxable year equal to one half of this amount of additional tax.~~

~~As an alternative to taking this credit against its own tax liability, an electric power holding company may elect to allocate the credit among the members of its affiliated group. In this case, the credit must be taken in four equal installments beginning in the later of the following taxable year or the taxable year for which the taxpayer's final return is due in 2004.~~

~~(h) Limitation on Credits. The credits provided in this section are allowed against the tax levied in this Part and the franchise tax levied in Article 3 of this Chapter. A taxpayer may claim a credit against only one of the taxes against which it is allowed. Each taxpayer must elect the tax against which the credit will be taken when filing the return on which the first installment of the credit is claimed. This election is binding. All installments and carryforwards of the credit must be taken against the same tax.~~

~~In order for a member of an affiliated group to take a credit, each member of the affiliated group that is required to file a return under this Part or under Article 3 of this Chapter must attach a schedule to its return that shows for every member of the group the amount of the credit taken by it, the tax against which it is taken, and the amount of the resulting tax. In addition, each member must provide any other documentation required by the Secretary.~~

~~A credit allowed in this section may not exceed the amount of tax against which it is taken for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowable, except tax payments made by or on behalf of the taxpayer. Any unused portion of the credit may be carried forward to succeeding taxable years.~~"

SECTION 2. This act is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003. Notwithstanding G.S. 105-163.41, no addition to tax may be made under that statute for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2003, and before January 1, 2004, with respect to an underpayment of corporation tax to the extent the underpayment was created or increased by this act.

HOUSE BILL 1291 (PCS): Subsidiary Dividend Tax Changes

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee: House Finance
Date: June 11, 2003
Version: Draft

Sponsor: Rep. McComas
Analysis by: Martha H. Harris
Staff Attorney

SUMMARY: Repeals the part of the 2002 legislation on dividend deductions that applies to bank holding companies, effective beginning with the 2003 tax year.

The proposed committee substitute for House Bill 1291 repeals part of legislation that was enacted in 2002 governing the corporate income tax treatment of deductible dividends. The 2002 law limited the amount of expenses that taxpayers must attribute to their deductible dividends, using caps and credits. The part of the 2002 law that this bill repeals is the part that applies to bank holding companies. As a result, bank holding companies will be governed by the 2001 law, which requires expense attribution without caps or credits. Other corporations will continue to be governed by the 2002 law.

This change becomes effective beginning with the 2003 tax year. The bill provides that no penalty for underpayment of estimated taxes would be imposed for 2003 tax years to the extent the underpayment was due to this bill.

Below is a summary of the 2001 and 2002 laws. The shaded portions of the 2002 law are the portions that this bill would repeal.

2001 Legislation: In 2001, the General Assembly enacted legislation conforming State law to the federal rules for the deduction of dividends received. This change eliminated the adjustments that had previously been required to reflect differences between the federal and State dividends deduction. Eliminating the adjustments also made the dividends subject to the general State law that expenses related to untaxed income cannot be deducted from taxable income. As a result, expenses related to deductible dividends must be netted from those dividends.[1] The law did not provide guidelines for calculating the amount of expenses that are related to deductible dividends.

2002 Legislation: In 2002, the General Assembly enacted legislation to provide limits on the additional tax liability that a corporation would experience as a result of the 2001 legislation. The act stated the intent of the General Assembly that it would be effective during 2001 and 2002 but would be studied and might be revised effective beginning with the 2003 tax year. The study did not take place, however.

[1] North Carolina has an exception to its general law when federal and State laws differ regarding the taxability of an income item. Prior to the 2001 changes, companies were able to use the exception to deduct expenses associated with deductible dividends earned from subsidiaries. The 2001 tax law change effectively eliminated the deduction of expenses associated with subsidiary dividends.

The 2002 legislation limited tax liability as follows:

- Placed the following caps on the amount of related expenses that must be netted from deductible dividends:
  - Most companies: 15% of dividends
  - Bank holding companies: 20% of dividends
  - Electric power holding companies: 15% of total interest expenses
- Limited the additional tax that a bank holding company and its related companies must pay as a result of the expense netting to a maximum of $11 million per corporate family.
- Provided a credit to bank holding company corporate families beginning in 2003. For bank corporate families that reach the $11 million maximum, the credit is $2 million. For other bank corporate families, the credit is equal to the amount of tax reduction that would result if bank holding companies were subject to a 15% cap rather than a 20% cap. These credits may be taken against income tax or franchise tax and are spread out over four tax years beginning in 2003.
- Provided a credit to electric power holding companies in an amount equal to one-half of the additional tax that each must pay as a result of the expense netting. The credit is taken in the following year. The credit may be taken against income tax or franchise tax. As an alternative, an electric power holding company may elect to allocate the credit among the members of its affiliated group. If the electric power company makes this election, then the credit is spread out over four tax years, beginning in 2003.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENTS AFFECTED: The corporate income tax is collected by the Department of Revenue. The enactment of the bill will not affect the department's budget requirements.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2003.

ISSUE HISTORY:

2001 Legislation. The 2001 General Assembly adopted legislation conforming state law to the federal rules for the deduction of dividends received. This would apply, for example, to dividends received by a holding company from its subsidiaries. The 2001 change eliminated the adjustments that had previously been required to reflect differences between the federal and State dividends deduction.

North Carolina has a general law that disallows the deduction of expenses incurred in earning income that is not taxable. However, there is an exception to the rule in cases where the federal and state laws differ regarding the taxability of an income item. Thus, prior to the 2001 changes, companies were able to use the exception to deduct expenses associated with income earned from subsidiaries.

The 2001 session adoption of federal rules governing the deductibility of dividends effectively eliminated the deduction of expenses associated with subsidiary dividends. This meant that related expenses would have to be netted against the dividends that are deducted.

After the 2001 act was adopted, the Department of Revenue developed rules that companies could use to determine which expenses were associated with the deductible income. Since that time there has been much discussion about whether the Department's rules accurately attribute expenses incurred.

2002 Legislation. During the last session a bill was adopted to clarify the expense attribution rules and limit the indirect impact of the 2001 change on expense deductibility. Under the 2002 legislation, the new rules will be in effect for the 2001 and 2002 tax years. For future years, the bill stated the intent that the issue be studied during the interim and might be revised for the 2003 tax year. However, the study did not take place.

The new expense attribution rules are as follows:

1. The amount of related expenses that must be netted from deductible dividends is capped as follows:
   - Most companies — 15% of dividends
   - Bank holding companies — 20% of dividends
   - Electric power holding companies — 15% of total interest expenses

2. The additional tax that a bank holding company and its related companies must pay as a result of the expense netting is subject to a maximum of $11 million per corporate family.

3. Bank holding company corporate families receive a tax credit beginning in 2003. For bank corporate families that reach the $11 million cap, the credit is $2 million. For other bank corporate families, the credit is equal to the amount of tax reduction that would result if bank holding companies were subject to a 15% cap rather than a 20% cap. These credits may be taken against income tax or franchise tax and are spread out over four tax years beginning in 2003.

Electric power holding companies receive a credit equal to one-half of the additional tax that each must pay as a result of the expense netting. The credit is taken in the following year. The credit may be taken against income tax or franchise tax. As an alternative, an electric power holding company may elect to allocate the credit among the members of its affiliated group. If this election is made, the credit is spread over four tax years, beginning in 2003.

BILL SUMMARY: Repeals the language in the 2002 legislation that limits the amount of additional tax liability for bank holding companies affected by the expense attribution change that resulted from the 2001 session legislation conforming State law to the federal rules for the deduction of dividends received.

WESLEY STURGES
CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD,
NORTH CAROLINA BANKERS ASSOCIATION

HOUSE FINANCE COMMITTEE
THURSDAY, JUNE 12, 2003

Statement Regarding
House Bills 1290 and 1291

Mr. Chairman and Members of the Committee:

My name is Wes Sturges. I am President and CEO of First Commerce Bank in Charlotte. It is also my honor this year to serve as Chairman of the Board of the North Carolina Bankers Association. It is in the latter capacity that I appear before you today. My comments will be brief. First I would like to address the position of North Carolina's banking industry in the overall economy of our state and the statutory structure in which our banks operate. Then, if it is appropriate, Mr. Chairman, I will turn to the two proposals before you for discussion today, House Bills 1290 and 1291. We hope you will reject these proposed tax increases.

The Banking Industry in North Carolina

Early this year, the Dixon Odom accounting firm completed a comparative study of the overall tax burden on a typical bank in each of the seven southeastern states as well as an evaluation of the economic impact of the banking industry on the economy of North Carolina. We have brought a copy today for each member of the Finance Committee. To oversimplify the results, the overall tax burden on a typical bank in North Carolina (including state and local taxes) is the second highest in the Southeast, trailing only Florida. To the extent that there is a perception that the banking industry in North Carolina enjoys a favorable tax position here that justifies a tax increase, that perception is inaccurate.

North Carolina is the second leading banking state in the nation. It is not an accident that it is so, nor is it a birthright which can never be lost. Much of the credit for the development of the banking industry rests with this body: the General Assembly. For decades, the legislature enacted laws that allowed banks to flourish, while carefully balancing them with meaningful consumer protections. Statewide and interstate branching and the authorization to sell insurance are but a few of the now commonplace matters with respect to which North Carolina banks were placed at the forefront of the evolution of the financial services industry by the General Assembly.

A strong banking industry has proven beneficial to the economy of our state. According to the Dixon Odom study, in 2001, the latest year for which figures were available, the banking industry accounted for 9.1% of our gross state product. That same year, the industry employed 85,000 persons with a payroll of more than $4.5 billion. The banks and their employees paid over one-half billion dollars in taxes. In these stressful economic times, banks represent one of the few growth industries in North Carolina and serve as engines of economic growth for other components of the economy. Additionally, in almost every community in the state, banks are leaders in charitable giving and civic volunteerism. In short, the healthy banking environment has been good for our banks and for our state.

House Bill 1290

House Bill 1290 seeks to conform the treatment of a bank's interest expense deduction to that which exists under federal law. If enacted, this change would require a bank to allocate a portion of its interest expense to tax-exempt income, thereby losing the deduction for that part of their interest expense. Those who have proposed this change argue that banks should be treated like other corporations. However, that analysis is faulty, because it ignores the very real differences between banks and other types of businesses.

First, a bank's inventory is money. In order to obtain this inventory from depositors, a bank must pay them interest. Other businesses pay the suppliers of their inventory a profit for providing those goods and are permitted to deduct from their income for tax purposes the entire cost of acquiring their inventory. No one has proposed that this deduction be eliminated, as it would increase costs prohibitively for businesses.

Second, banks take deposits from customers in order to make loans, not for the purpose of buying tax-exempt bonds. In fact, most banks are unable to fund their loans from their deposits and must buy funds elsewhere.. Finally, federal and state laws require banks to keep a substantial percentage of their assets in liquid investments—other companies do not have similar restrictions. Sound financial practice dictates using the safest possible investments for liquid funds, namely government bonds. Those investments also provide a stable market for government bonds.

In summary, enactment of House Bill 1290 would impose a punitive tax increase on banks in the mistaken belief that it would treat like companies in a like manner. Actually, current law treats banks and other businesses equitably by recognizing the real differences between banks and other types of companies.

House Bill 1291

Let me begin by saying that this bill, unlike House Bill 1290, applies to companies other than banks. This proposal, if enacted, would mark the third time in the last few years the state law regarding the treatment of dividends received from a subsidiary corporation has been changed substantially. First, the law was changed, ostensibly to conform to the federal treatment. When the business community identified ambiguity and unintended consequences last year, this body reached a compromise that clarified and set limits on the impact of the provision. Under the compromise, the banking industry alone paid new state income taxes of more than $25 million for each of the last two years. We have not been able to the extent to which other companies paid new taxes under this provision.

The banking industry helped reach the compromise entailed in last year's legislation in good faith. Within a couple of weeks after its enactment, our industry had paid more than $50 million for the two tax years to which the compromise was to apply. It was our hope and understanding that a permanent repeal of the provision would be enacted this year.

North Carolina's current treatment of dividends received from a subsidiary represents bad policy and enactment of House Bill 1291 would only make the situation worse. The essence of the tax policy is the premise that a dividend moving through a corporate structure is new income each time it is paid from one subsidiary to its parent corporation. This premise is out of touch with the real world. It is analogous to taxing money as income when an individual moves it from one pocket to another. The federal government does not have such a policy; neither do forty-six other states.

This proposed tax increase would not apply only to banks. It applies to any business that adopts a complex corporate structure, which may be done for any number of reasons. Banks are forced to do so for sound regulatory purposes. Finally, it makes no sense to adopt such a disincentive for corporate headquarters to locate or remain in North Carolina, while devoting great energy and substantial tax dollars to lure new companies to our state.

Conclusion

Mr. Chairman, members of the Finance Committee. Thank you for entertaining these comments. I do not pretend to be a tax expert, though we have some in attendance today who will be happy to try to answer any questions you may have. Some legislators have suggested that the banking industry come forward with recommendations for a different system of taxation for financial institutions, if a better one is to be found. Though substantial resources have been devoted to the undertaking, nothing approaching a consensus has been found within the banking industry in North Carolina for a new approach. It may well be that the current system of taxation of financial services companies is more in need of fine-tuning than of major renovation.

I'd like to end where I started. North Carolina has been very good for banking and I believe banking has been extremely beneficial to North Carolina. Tax laws aside, our banking laws have fallen far behind those in other states. Our Commissioner of Banks is determined recommend to you changes in the law that will make our banking laws once again as progressive as any in the nation. Legislating tax increases such as those proposed in House Bill 1290 and House Bill 1291 threaten to make such an undertaking a thankless effort. I urge you to vote against these two bills.

Taxation of the Banking Industry in Seven Atlantic Coast States and the Economic Impact of Banks on North Carolina

Taxation of the Banking Industry in Seven Atlantic Coast States and the Economic Impact of Banks on North Carolina

Executive Summary

Dixon Odom PLLC prepared this study for the North Carolina Bankers Association to compare the tax structure to which banks are subject in North Carolina with the analogous tax structures in Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Maryland, South Carolina, and Virginia. The total tax burden on a bank in each of these states is compared based upon a model bank and bank holding company. The study also examines the economic impact the banking industry has on the state of North Carolina.

The banking industry is subject to an intricate structure of state and local taxes and the North Carolina bank tax configuration is one of the most complex. Banks pay net income taxes, franchise taxes, excise taxes, privilege and license taxes, sales and use taxes, real and personal property taxes, unemployment taxes and other taxes. The tax burden North Carolina places on the model bank and bank holding company is the second highest of the seven states studied. Delaware would have the lowest tax burden on the same organization. Income taxes make up 41% of the state and local taxes paid by the model in North Carolina, followed by sales taxes, which make up 27% of the tax burden. In 2001 it is estimated that banks paid in excess of $275 million in taxes to North Carolina and its counties and municipalities. In addition, in 2001, it is estimated that North Carolina banks made contributions to North Carolina charitable organizations in excess of $32 million.

The number of banking employees in North Carolina has grown from 31,000 in 1985 to 85,000 in 2001. This represents a growth rate of 175% over the time period and outpaces the total state employment growth, which was 47% for the same time period. The average salary and benefits of a bank employee in 2001 was $54,000 and the average North Carolina state taxes paid per $1,000 of income in 2001 was $73. It is estimated that North Carolina banking sector employees paid total state taxes of $268 million in 2001. Finally, the banking sector has grown from 1.9% of the North Carolina Gross State Product in 1985 to 9.1% in 2001.

North Carolina has banks of all sizes located within the state. Banks headquartered within North Carolina provide for the availability of funds to finance construction, the purchases of homes and personal property, and for the working capital needs of the state's citizenry. Capital availability is necessary to the creation and sustenance of jobs in agriculture, manufacturing, service and other industries. In addition, banks are depositories for public funds for state and local government agencies and have traditionally been significant purchasers of North Carolina state and local bond offerings. The state has become a leading financial center on the Atlantic Coast. The strength in this sector of the economy has provided numerous economic benefits to the state.

Taxation of the Banking Industry in Seven Atlantic Coast States and the Economic Impact of Banks on North Carolina

Introduction

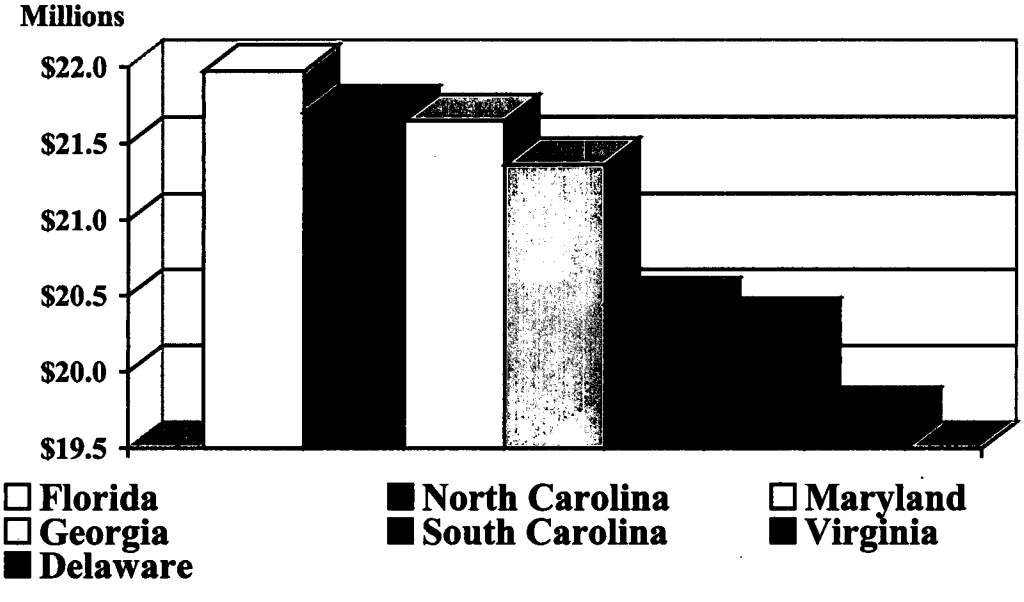
Dixon Odom PLLC has prepared this study for the North Carolina Bankers Association. The study compares the tax structure to which banks are subject in North Carolina with the analogous tax structures in Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Maryland, South Carolina, and Virginia. The total tax burden on a bank in each of these states is compared based upon a model bank and bank holding company. The study also examines the economic impact the banking industry has on the state of North Carolina.

Taxation of the Banking Industry in Seven Atlantic Coast States

The banking industry is subject to an intricate structure of state and local taxes. These taxes include net income taxes, franchise taxes, excise taxes, privilege and license taxes, sales and use taxes, real and personal property taxes, unemployment taxes and other taxes.

The tax burden North Carolina places on a model bank and its bank holding company is the second highest of the seven states studied. The North Carolina model bank pays total federal, state and local taxes of $21,700,000. (Federal income taxes are included in this calculation due to the fact that they are impacted by state and local taxes.) A model Florida bank organization has the highest tax burden at $22,000,000 and the Delaware model bank has the lowest total tax burden at $19,700,000.

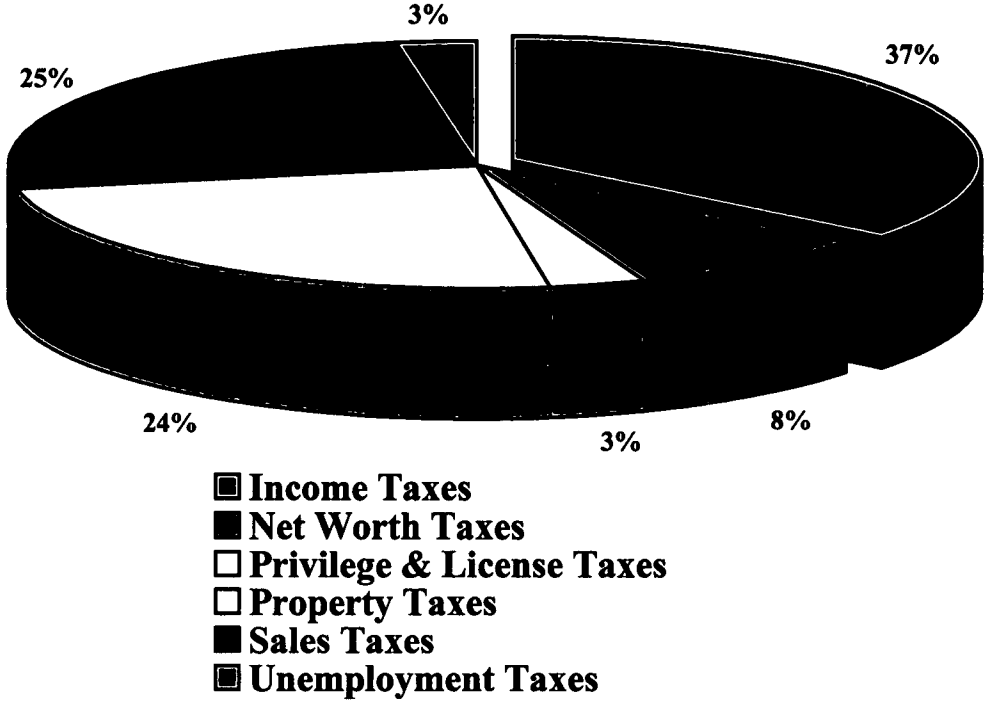
Federal and State Tax Burden



The model used in this study was based upon the average size bank in North Carolina, after excluding the state's two largest multi-state institutions. Our model bank is a "C" corporation, operating solely in one state and includes two entities. The first entity is the operating bank and the second entity is a holding company that owns 100% of the stock in the bank. Our model incorporates the tax burden of the bank as well as the holding company. The bank has total assets of $3.2 billion, interest income of $250 million, and net income before taxes of $50 million. Loans represent approximately $2 billion of the bank's total assets and its security portfolio is worth $1 billion. The security portfolio holdings are representative of a large single-state bank with 40% invested in US and state obligations and 60% invested in mortgage backed securities and other investments.

The largest state and local tax burden for the model bank in most of the seven states studied is a tax on income. At the high end of the scale, taxes on income represent 75% of the model Delaware bank's tax burden, since there is no sales tax. At the low end of the scale, Georgia's income tax on the model bank is only 18% of its total state and local taxes and Virginia does not have a bank tax on net income. The second largest tax burden is sales tax, followed closely by property taxes. Sales taxes represent 34% of a South Carolina bank's total state and local tax burden. However, sales tax makes up only 23% of the total state and local taxes for a Maryland bank. And, Delaware has no sales tax.

Average State Tax Breakdown



The North Carolina bank tax configuration is one of the most complex. North Carolina imposes more types of taxes than any other state included in this study. Banks in North Carolina are subject to the following taxes: corporate income tax, franchise tax on net worth, privilege taxes, real and personal property taxes, sales and use taxes and unemployment compensation taxes.

The income tax liability of the model North Carolina bank and bank holding company represents 41% of the total state and local tax burden. This tax has increased in the past year due to changes in the treatment of subsidiary dividends. The greatest impact of that change in the statute has been on the largest of the state's banks.

North Carolina sales taxes are also a higher percentage of the total state tax burden than the average of the seven states studied. This study uses the 4.5% state tax rate and an average 2.05% local rate. The North Carolina sales tax burden will become even higher as a result of recent rate changes at the state and local level.

Corporate Taxes Based on Net Income

Six of the seven states included in this study have a tax that is based on the net income of the corporation. However, Georgia allows a credit against state income taxes for license taxes paid in that state. This halved state income taxes in Georgia for the model bank. Virginia levies a franchise tax based on net capital in lieu of an income based tax.

Numerous factors contribute to the amount of taxes paid in each state based on net income. Each state differs on the inclusion of certain income and the deductibility of certain expenses. Florida does not exclude interest income from U.S. government obligations and as a result has the highest state taxes based upon income. South Carolina allows a deduction for Federal income taxes paid. Maryland has the highest tax rate at 7.0% and South Carolina has the lowest tax rate at 4.5%. Delaware has a declining tax rate which ranges from 8.7% to 1.7%. North Carolina's income tax rate is 6.9%.

The six states that tax income differ in their treatment of tax reporting for affiliated groups. Florida allows affiliated groups to elect to report income on a consolidated basis. Georgia corporations that do business exclusively in Georgia and report on a consolidated basis for federal tax purposes, must consolidate for state reporting. Delaware does not tax bank holding companies. North Carolina, Maryland and South Carolina do not allow consolidated reporting. Among all six states that tax income, only North Carolina treats the dividend payment from the subsidiary to the parent in a manner that creates taxation.

Franchise Tax

Five of the seven states in the study levy a franchise tax based on net worth at the bank level, the holding company level or both. North Carolina ranked second with total franchise tax of $600,000. Virginia ranked ahead of North Carolina with a franchise tax burden of $2,300,000. As noted earlier, Virginia uses a franchise tax on net worth, adjusted for U.S. Treasury obligations, in lieu of an income tax on the bank. Delaware, Georgia and South Carolina all had franchise tax burdens less than $25,000.

Privilege and License Taxes

North Carolina and Georgia each levy license taxes on banks doing business in their respective states. Georgia has a larger tax burden at $1,100,000. North Carolina's license tax was $100,000. However, as previously noted, Georgia license taxes are creditable against their corporate income taxes, in effect halving the state income tax on the model bank.

Property Taxes

Municipalities in each state included in the study assess real property taxes, personal property taxes, or both on the model bank. The model included average real property tax rates and personal property tax rates for each state. Florida and Maryland had the highest property tax burden at $1,900,000 and Virginia had the lowest tax burden at $440,000. The property tax burden for North Carolina was $1,000,000.

Sales and Use Tax

Six of the seven states studied levied a sales tax. Only Delaware does not have a sales tax. Municipalities in five of the other six states added on a local sales tax. North Carolina and Georgia have the highest average sales tax rate of 6.55%. The sales and use tax burden on the model bank ranged from $1,700,000 in North Carolina, Florida and Georgia to $1,100,000 in Virginia.

Unemployment Compensation

Unemployment compensation taxes range from 1% to 8% of the total state and local taxes paid by the model bank. Delaware had the highest amount of unemployment compensation taxes at $230,000. North Carolina, Maryland and South Carolina are second with unemployment tax for the model bank at $180,000.

Economic Impact of Banks on North Carolina

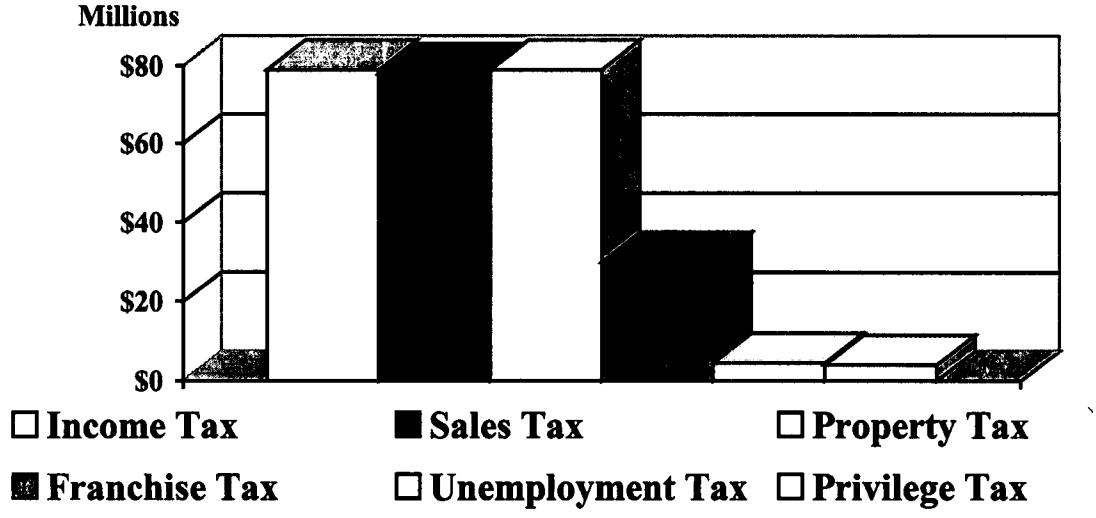
A second goal of this study is to analyze the significance of the banking industry on the North Carolina economy. The results will illustrate the importance of the banking industry on North Carolina's economy currently and in past years. The analysis will also include comparative economic data of Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Maryland, South Carolina, and Virginia.

North Carolina has banks of all sizes located within the state, including small one-branch banks, larger community banks and some of the largest banks in the country. North Carolina banks have shown longevity at the same time that the state is continually experiencing the creation of de novo banks. Banks headquartered within North Carolina have historically provided for the availability of funds to finance construction, the purchases of homes and personal property, and to provide for the working capital needs of the state's citizenry. Capital availability is necessary to the creation and sustenance of jobs in agriculture, manufacturing, service and other industries. In addition, banks have been depositories for public funds for state and local government agencies. This has required that banks provide collateral to insure these funds above and beyond Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation limits. And, banks have traditionally been significant purchasers of North Carolina state and local bond offerings.

In 1995 North Carolina had 126 commercial banks and savings institutions that were insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC). Largely as a result of significant merger activity, the number of insured banks in North Carolina for the period 1995-2001 declined 8.7%, from 126 to 115. The total number of FDIC insured institutions for all states included in the study decreased by 17.7% from 1,455 in 1995 to 1,197 to 2001. North Carolina, however, has been the benefactor of much merger activity. The state is now home to two banking corporations with total assets over $300 billion each. And three other banks have grown to have assets in excess of $10 billion each, through mergers as well as internal expansion. The fact that the total number of insured banking institutions within the state has declined by only eleven banks over the six-year period from 1995 to 2001 partially reflects the active de novo banking market within North Carolina.

North Carolina banks pay significant taxes to state and local taxing authorities. Based upon information from approximately fifty North Carolina banks, it is estimated that in 2001, state and local tax payments made by banking corporations and affiliates to North Carolina taxing authorities are as follows:

2001 State and Local Taxes Paid by NC Banks



The total of all six types of taxes is in excess of $275 million. This bar chart confirms the fact that the state's banks paid the largest percentage of their taxes to North Carolina and its municipalities in the form of income taxes, sales taxes and property taxes. Total franchise taxes are estimated to have been in excess of $30 million. The proportionate distribution of the types of state and local taxes paid varies from the model bank, due to the impact the state's largest banking corporations have on both the total amount of state and local taxes paid, and the types of state and local taxes paid.

North Carolina banks are also supporting the state's non-profit organizations through large donations of money and time. In 2001, it is estimated that North Carolina banks made contributions to North Carolina charitable organizations in excess of $32 million.

The banking industry continues to generate many jobs for North Carolina citizens. The number of banking employees in North Carolina has grown from 31,000 in 1985 to 85,000 in 2001. This represents an increase of 54,000 jobs, and a growth rate of 175% over the time period. Banking sector job growth in North Carolina over that period outpaced the total state employment growth, which was 47%, and has increased from 1.2% of total jobs in North Carolina in 1985 to 2.2% in 2001. The creation of new jobs in the banking industry has a multiplicative effect on the state when taking into account the ancillary jobs that are generated as a result of this growth.

The data in the following chart shows the number of employees for banking corporations headquartered within each of the seven study states. The North Carolina data has been adjusted to include only individuals employed within North Carolina. A comparable adjustment has not been made to the other states. Nonetheless, the growth rate of banking employees in North Carolina exceeds the growth rate in all other states included in the study except for Delaware.

In 2001 the average salary and benefits of a North Carolina bank employee was $54,000 and the average North Carolina state tax paid per $1,000 of income in 2001 was $73. It is estimated that the 85,000 North Carolina banking sector employees paid total state taxes of $268 million in 2001.

The data in the following chart shows state taxes paid by employees of banking corporations headquartered within each of the seven study states. The North Carolina data has been adjusted to include only individuals employed within North Carolina. A comparable adjustment has not been made to the other states. Still, North Carolina was second only to Delaware in total state taxes paid by banking sector employees. The amount of state taxes paid per $1,000 of income ranged from $90 in Delaware to $57 in Florida.

Another good indicator of the impact the banking sector has on the economy is a comparison of the depository institution gross product and the Gross State Product (GSP). The gross product measures the market value of the goods and services produced by an industry or by all industries within a state. The total gross product of North Carolina depository institutions increased from $1.9 billion in 1985 to an estimated $25.7 billion in 2001. During that same time period, North Carolina's GSP increased from $98.2 billion to $281.7 billion. As a percentage of the total GSP of North Carolina, depository institutions have increased from 1.9% in 1985 to 9.1% in 2001. The data in the following chart shows the gross product of depository institutions headquartered within each of the seven study states.

Summary

The banking industry is subject to an intricate structure of state and local taxes and, the North Carolina bank tax configuration is one of the most complex. Banks pay net income taxes, franchise taxes, excise taxes, privilege and license taxes, sales and use taxes, real and personal property taxes, unemployment taxes and other taxes. The tax burden North Carolina places on a model bank and bank holding company is the second highest of the seven states studied. Delaware would have the lowest tax burden on the same model. Income taxes make up 41% of the state and local taxes paid by the model banking organization in North Carolina, followed by sales taxes, which make up 27% of the tax burden. In 2001 it is estimated that banks paid in excess of $275 million in taxes to North Carolina and its counties and municipalities. In addition, in 2001, North Carolina banks made contributions of approximately $32 million to North Carolina charitable organizations.

The number of banking employees in North Carolina has grown from 31,000 in 1985 to 85,000 in 2001. This represents an increase of 54,000 jobs, and a growth rate of 175% over the time period. Banking sector job growth in North Carolina over that period outpaced the total state employment growth, which was 47%, and has increased from 1.2% of total jobs in North Carolina in 1985 to 2.2% in 2001. The creation of new jobs in the banking industry has a multiplicative effect on the state when taking into account the ancillary jobs that are generated as a result of this growth. The average salary and benefits of a bank employee was $54,000 in 2001 and the average North Carolina state taxes paid per $1,000 of income in 2001 was $73. It is estimated that North Carolina banking sector employees paid total state taxes of $268 million in 2001.

Finally, the total gross product of North Carolina depository institutions increased from $1.9 billion in 1985 to an estimated $27.5 billion in 2001. During that same time period, North Carolina's GSP increased from $98.2 billion to $281.7 billion. As a percentage of the total GSP of North Carolina, depository institutions have increased from 1.9% in 1985 to 9.1% in 2001.

North Carolina has banks of all sizes located within the state. Banks headquartered within North Carolina provide for the availability of funds to finance construction, the purchases of homes and personal property, and for the working capital needs of the state's citizenry. Capital availability is crucial to the creation and sustenance of jobs in agriculture, manufacturing, service and other industries. In addition, banks are depositories for public funds for state and local government agencies and have traditionally been significant purchasers of North Carolina state and local bond offerings. The state has become a leading financial center on the Atlantic Coast. The strength in this sector of the economy has provided numerous economic benefits to the state.

This service fee may not exceed three dollars ($3.00) for each ticket except that a promoter or operator of the property where the event is to be held and a ticket sales agency may agree in writing on a reasonable service fee greater than three dollars ($3.00) for the first sale of tickets by the ticket sales agent. Notwithstanding G.S. 14-344(a), a ticket broker may charge a service fee not to exceed three dollars ($3.00) when tickets or other evidences of the right of entry are sold by a ticket sales agent authorized to do business by the municipality or county where the ticket sales agent's place of business is located. The owner, operator, lessee, or tenant of the property where the athletic contest or entertainment event is to be held or is being held or the promoter of the contest or event may charge or may authorize, in writing, any person to charge a service fee for the sale of any ticket, privilege, or license of admission in addition to the face value of the ticket. The writing granting authority to another to charge a service fee shall specify the amount of the service fee to be charged for the sale of each ticket, privilege, or license of admission.

(b) For any athletic contest or entertainment event described in G.S. 66-259.6, a promoter of a contest or event may contractually restrict the resale of a ticket to that contest or event by giving notice of the restriction on the back of the ticket. (a) Nothing in this Article or any other provision of law shall criminally prohibit a person who is the original purchaser of one or more tickets to an athletic contest or entertainment event covered under this Article and who purchased the tickets for personal use from reselling or offering for resale the tickets for any price. However, the person shall not sell or offer to sell the ticket within 1,500 feet of a ticket office for the contest or event or a public entrance to the contest or event.

(b) Nothing in this Article or any other provision of law shall criminally prohibit a person who, for personal use, purchases one or more tickets to an athletic contest or entertainment event from reselling or offering for resale any of the tickets in any zone within the restricted areas, as provided in this subsection or in G.S. 66-259.6(b), where the activity is authorized by the promoter of the contest or event and the owner or operator of the venue where the contest or event is being held or to be held.

(c) Charitable organizations and their employees and volunteers shall not be subject to the provisions of this Article when offering for sale any tickets of admission in a raffle, auction, or similar fund-raising activity for the benefit of the organization's charitable purposes.

"§ 66-259.6. County and municipal ordinances.

(a) For any single athletic contest or entertainment event that occurs no more than once annually or any series of athletic contests that occur no more than once annually and occur within a time period not exceeding 10 days, the municipal corporation where the contest, event, or series of contests is to be held, or if the contest, event, or series of contests is to be held in an unincorporated area, the county of the unincorporated area is authorized to enact by ordinance regulations governing ticket brokers for the contest, event, or series of contests that are more restrictive than the provisions of this Article.

HOUSE BILL 1072:
Regulate Ticket Brokers

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	House Finance	Sponsor:	Rep. Gibson and Miner
Date:	June 11, 2003	Analysis by:	Martha Walston
Version:	H1072-CSLU-4 [v.12]		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 1072 creates a new Article under the Commerce and Business Chapter of the General Statutes that would regulate ticket brokers. The bill is in House Finance because it imposes a registration fee on the ticket brokers and assesses a 3% privilege tax on the brokerage fee charged by the ticket broker.

The 3% privilege tax becomes effective October 1, 2003, and applies to tickets sold on or after that date. The remainder of the bill is effective when it becomes law.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 1072 creates a new Article 32A that regulates ticket brokers:

§66-259.1 defines the following terms: promoter, ticket, ticket broker, and ticket sales agent.

§66-259.2 makes it unlawful to resell any ticket of admission to any athletic contest, concert, theatre performance, amusement, exhibition, or other entertainment event where the general public is admitted for a price in excess of the face value of the ticket UNLESS THE TICKET IS SOLD BY A REGISTERED TICKET BROKER. (See Section 2 of the bill)

Exempts charitable or non-profit organizations from the new article when the organization is selling tickets to a raffle, auction, or other fund-raising activity for the benefit of the organization's purposes.

Authorizes a promoter to contractually restrict the resale of a ticket to a single athletic contest or entertainment event that occurs no more than once annually or to any series of athletic contest that occur no more than once annually and occur within a time period not exceeding 10 days. The owner, operator, lessee, or tenant of the property where the contest or event is held may contractually restrict the resale of the right of occupancy.

§66-259.3 sets out the following requirements for a person seeking to practice or engage in the business as a ticket broker:

- Maintain a permanent office or place of business in the State.
- File for registration as a ticket broker with the Secretary of Crime Control and Public Safety.
- Obtain a bond in the amount of $100,000.
- Pay a registration fee not to exceed $2,000. This fee must be paid to the Secretary. A renewal fee not to exceed $2,000 must be paid annually.

§66-259.4 requires the ticket broker to disclose the broker's refund policy, cancellation policy, and the difference between the face value of the ticket and the amount the broker charges for the ticket. A broker may only sell tickets at the broker's office or place of business.

§66-259.5 disqualifies a person from practicing as a ticket broker if the person has been convicted of a felony and has not been pardoned or had his or her civil rights restored.

§66-259.7 authorizes the Secretary of Crime Control and Public Safety to punish a person who willfully violates the Article. The Secretary may order the person to cease from violating the Article, suspend or revoke the certificate of registration, or impose a civil penalty of up to $1,000 for each violation. A willful violation of the Article constitutes a Class 2 misdemeanor.

§66-259.8 authorizes the Secretary of Crime Control and Public Safety to adopt rules.

SECTION 2 OF THE BILL clarifies that the new Article is not applicable to current law set out in G.S. 14-344. This statue authorizes a person, firm, or corporation to add a reasonable service fee to the face value of a ticket sold. This service fee may not exceed $3.00 for each ticket, except that a promoter or operator of the property where the event is to be held and a ticket sales agency may agree on a fee greater than $3.00 for the first sale of tickets by the ticket sales agent

SECTION 3 OF THE BILL imposes 3% privilege tax on the brokerage fee charged by a ticket broker. A brokerage fee is the difference between the amount charged by the ticket broker for the ticket and the face value of the ticket. A county or city may not levy a license tax on a ticket broker who is assessed the 3% privilege tax on the brokerage fee.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: NC Department of Revenue, Crime Control and Public Safety.

EFFECTIVE DATE: October 1, 2003.

BILL SUMMARY: The legislation allows and regulates ticket brokering, and applies a 3% privilege tax on the service fees charged by these ticket brokers. As a part of the regulation, brokers are required to register with the Secretary of Crime Control and Public Safety and pay a $2,000 registration fee to offset the costs of the program. Bonds are also required.

Establishes a civil penalty of up to $1,000 and a Class 2 misdemeanor criminal penalty for violation of the act.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: There are two primary fiscal impacts related to the bill. The first relates to the tax while the second relates to the fee. In 2000-01, the Department of Revenue collected $27.6 million from the 3% privilege tax on amusements. Of this amount, approximately $6.67 million was drawn from amusements that could be impacted by the bill. The legislation does not jeopardize this revenue. Because this is a new tax, it will result in a revenue gain. Neither Tax Research nor Fiscal Research can estimate the exact amount. However, the increase is expected to be relatively small.

As far as the regulatory fee is concerned, according to the United States Ticket Brokers Association there are 788 bonded ticket brokers in the United States, 11 of which are currently in North Carolina. The National Association of Ticket Brokers boasts approximately 170 members nationwide, only one of which is in North Carolina. The registration of all current NC brokers would result in a revenue gain of approximately $24,000 (12 x $2,000). This creates the low end of the estimate. However, the actual amount of revenue increase will likely be higher as the number of ticket brokers is also likely to increase.

Department of Correction

The Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission prepares inmate population projections annually. The projections used for incarceration fiscal notes and fiscal memos are based on January 2003 projections. These projections are based on historical information on incarceration and release rates under Structured Sentencing, crime rate forecasts by a technical advisory board, probation and revocation rates, and the decline (parole and maxouts) of the stock prison population sentenced under previous sentencing acts. Based on the most recent population projections and estimated available prison bed capacity, there are no surplus prison beds available for the five year Fiscal Note horizon and beyond. The number of beds needed will always be equal to the projected number of inmates due to a bill.

Because the proposed bill creates a new offense, the Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission does not have any historical data from which to estimate the impact of this bill on the prison population. It is not known how many offenders might be sentenced under this bill. Only 12% (3,944) of total Class 2 misdemeanants convicted in 2002 (31,425) received active sentence. The average sentence is 23.4 days so time served will be in local jails and the Department of Correction (DOC) will not have to reimburse (only for misdemeanants with sentences over 30 days). (Active sentences between 1-90 days are served in local jails; the DOC reimburses counties for active sentences between 30-90 days). Because offenders serving active sentences of 90 days or less are housed in county jails, convictions under this bill would not be expected to have a significant impact on the prison population.

Judicial Branch

For most criminal penalty bills, the Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) provides Fiscal Research with an analysis of the fiscal impact of the specific bill. For these bills, fiscal impact is typically based on the assumption that court time will increase due to an expected increase in trials and a corresponding increase in the hours of work for judges, clerks and prosecutors. This increased court time is also expected to result in greater expenditures for jury fees and indigent defense. AOC does not expect a significant increase in the number of charges for as a result of this bill given the relatively small number of ticket brokers operating in the state.

Department of Crime Control and Public Safety

Because this is a new regulatory function, staff at the Department of Crime Control and Public Safety (CCPS) is unable to determine the full cost to implement this bill. Most likely, this function would be added to the responsibilities of the Alcohol Law Enforcement Division, which currently monitors bingo activities or to the duties of the Boxing Commission. If the number of ticket brokers remains at the level currently operating in the state, the Department should be able to accommodate the regulatory duties within the existing continuation budget. However, the Department indicates that they are unable to determine the resources required to fully monitor ticket broker sales or those needed for enforcement activities related to the prohibitions, violations, and disqualification provisions of the bill. The Department would have to promulgate rules. CCPS staff estimates that the rulemaking process will require 48 hours of work by a staff attorney, whose annual salary is $75,083, at a cost of $1,985, including salary and benefits.

SECTION 9. Article 1 of Chapter 74C of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

(3) The Board is authorized to charge each licensee and trainee an additional amount, not to exceed fifty dollars ($50.00), on July 1 of any year in which the balance of the Fund is less than ~~one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000),~~twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), provided that any amount so assessed will be only so much as is

(e) By a unanimous vote of the Board, funds in the Fund in excess of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) may be converted to offset the operating expenses of the Board. However, in converting the funds, the Board shall make findings of fact by a written order or resolution supporting the need to make the conversion."

SECTION 11. This act is effective when it becomes law.

Committee:	House Finance	Introduced by:	Rep. Hackney

Version:	PCS for 1st Edition H1289-CSSVf-28		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: The Proposed Committee Substitute for House Bill 1289 amends various provisions relating to the private protective services profession and to the Private Protective Services Board, which regulates the profession, including the following:

- Reducing from 14 to 9 the number of members on the Private Protective Services Board.
- Extending the term of a license from one year to two, three, or five years, at the election of the licensee.
- Requiring licensees to report within 30 days to the Board any arrests or convictions for certain misdemeanors and felonies.
- Authorizing the Board to establish continuing education requirements for licensees, registered employees, firearms permit holders, and firearms trainers.
- Decreases the required minimum balance in the Private Protective Services Recovery Fund.

The act would become effective when it becomes law.

CURRENT LAW: The Private Protective Services Board (Board) is an occupational licensing board within the Department of Justice. The purpose of the Board is to administer the licensing, education and training requirements to increase the level of integrity, competency and performance of the persons, firms, associations and corporations engaged in the private protective services profession within North Carolina in order to safeguard the public health, safety and welfare. The Board's responsibilities are generally divided into six categories:

1. Background investigation for licensing of 13 occupations
2. Registration of licensee employees
3. Conduct investigations of public complaints
4. Conduct compliance audits
5. Enforce law and rules through administrative disciplinary processes and criminal courts
6. Maintain required records

BILL ANALYSIS:

Sections 1 and 2 make definitional changes. Section 1 renames "counterintelligence service profession" as the "electronic countermeasures profession" to conform to a change in terminology made at the federal level. Section 2 amends the definition of "security guard and patrol profession" to include the protection of patrons and persons being escorted between premises of the entity that entered into the security services contract.

Section 3 reduces the membership of the Board from 14 to 9 members.

Section 4 expands the scope of the Board's powers by authorizing it to do the following:

- Approve training schools, instructors, and course materials for any person, firm, association, or corporation wishing to provide training.

- Approve a design for a badge or shield that indicates a person is licensed to engage in private protective services.

Section 5 allows the licensee to choose the term of the license from among two, three or five years. This section also authorizes the Board to require a licensee to complete continuing education courses approved by the Board before a license may be renewed.

Section 6 makes conforming changes with Section 5 by clarifying that the license fee would be in an amount equal to the current annual fee multiplied by the number of years of the license term, as chosen by the licensee.

Section 7 extends from 20 to 30 days the period by which a licensee must register its employees who will be engaged in providing private protective services after employment begins. Section 7 also authorizes the Board to require that a registered, unarmed security guard complete continuing education courses approved by the Board before renewing the guard's registration.

Section 8 does three things:

- It provides as an additional ground upon which the Board may deny, suspend, or revoke a license that a licensee possessed or displayed a badge or shield that was not designed or approved by the Board.
- It requires licensees to report to the Board, within 30 days, any charges, arrests for, or convictions of a misdemeanor or felony for any of the following:

  (1) Crimes that have as an essential element dishonesty, deceit, fraud, or misrepresentation.
  (2) Illegal use, possession, sale, manufacture, distribution, or transportation of a controlled substance, drug, narcotic, or alcoholic beverage.
  (3) Illegal use, carrying, or possession of a firearm.
  (4) Acts involving assault.
  (5) Acts involving unlawful breaking or entering, burglary, or larceny.
  (6) Any offense involving moral turpitude.

  A failure to report these arrests or convictions shall be grounds for revocation of the license.
- It makes clarifying changes to two other grounds for denial, suspension, or revocation of a license.

Section 9 does the following:

- It distinguishes private investigators from security guards for purposes of firearm registration permits. Under current law, "private detectives", who are defined to be synonymous with "private investigators" under this Chapter, are included within the definition of "armed security guards." Under the bill, the same permitting requirements would apply to both categories of private protective services professionals.
- It authorizes the Board to require a firearm registration permit holder and a certified firearms trainer to complete continuing education courses before renewing the holder's permit or the trainer's certification.
- It authorizes a private investigator to carry a concealed weapon during the performance of his duties upon doing all of the following:
  - Obtaining a concealed weapon's permit.
  - Successfully completing the firearms training course approved by the Board and the Attorney General.

- Having a notation affixed to the face of the firearms registration card designating that the armed private investigator is allowed to carry a concealed weapon.

Section 10 authorizes the Board to require completion of continuing education courses approved by the Board before the renewal of a license, registration, certificate, or permit issued by the Board. The Board would be required to establish, by rule, the number of hours of continuing education courses necessary for renewal and any other requirements for completion of continuing education courses. Under current law, licensees are not required to complete continuing education courses.

Section 11 reduces the minimum balance required to be maintained in the Private Protective Services Recovery Fund (Fund). This Fund is a special fund established within the Office of the State Treasurer that is used to satisfy claims by aggrieved persons who have suffered a direct monetary loss by reason of certain acts committed by a licensee. Under current law, if the balance in the Fund drops below a minimum of $100,000, then the Board is authorized to charge annually each licensee and trainee an additional amount, not to exceed $50.00. The amount assessed will only be so much as is needed to raise the level of the Fund to $100,000. Section 11 lowers the minimum fund balance from $100,000 to $25,000.

Under current law, the State Treasurer invests the monies in the Fund and the Board uses the proceeds of the investments to advance education and research in the private protective services field. Section 11 would authorize the Board to use any funds derived from investments or any funds in excess of the minimum Fund balance for those purposes. It also allows the Board to provide grant money to private individuals, associations, or corporations sponsoring educational courses to offset the actual cost of the courses. The Board would also be able to use funds in excess of $50,000 to offset the operating expenses of the Board, if there is a unanimous vote of the Board and the Board makes findings of fact supporting the need for the funds.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Private Protective Services Board (in the Department of Justice)

EFFECTIVE DATE: When it becomes law.

BILL SUMMARY: This legislation would make changes to the Private Protective Services Act. Section 3 reduces the number of Board members from 14 to 9. Section 4 permits the Board to approve training programs and badge or shield designs. Sections 5, 6 and 9 allow the Board to require continuing education for licensees and registration holders and to issue multi-year licenses. Section 7 narrows the prohibition on a badge or shield for private investigators to those that purport to indicate that the person is a law enforcement officer, places a 60-day restriction on appeals, and requires all licensees to report to the Board criminal arrests, charges, or convictions for specific offenses within 30 days of the date of occurrence. Section 8 broadens the firearm registration permit requirement from "armed security guards" to "armed private investigators" and allows the Board to require continuing education courses for this permit. Section 10 reduces the minimum balance of the Private Protective Services Recovery Fund from $100,000 to $25,000 and allows the Board to convert funds in the Fund in excess of $25,000 for education or research purposes, and funds in excess of $50,000 to offset operating expenses.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

The Private Protective Services Board is supported entirely by receipts. As a result, changes to revenues or expenditures will not impact the General Fund.

Section 3: Reduction in Board Members. The elimination of five members will reduce the Board's operating expenses by approximately $14,000 annually due to decreased travel and per diem costs for 6 meetings per year. (See technical considerations)

Section 4: Approval of Badge/Shield Design. Section 7 prohibits designs that purport to represent law enforcement officers. The Board could incur minimal costs to review designs.

Sections 4, 5, 6, 8 and 9: Continuing Education Requirements. The Board anticipates minimal costs associated with reviewing courses for approval. Costs for continuing education courses would be borne by the industry.

Section 5: Modification of License Terms. Licenses would be issued for two, three, or five years rather than one year, with no reduction in fees. Currently, a one-year license costs $200. According to the Board, the intent of this section is that the licensee could choose a two-year, three-year, or five-year license, at a cost of $400, $600, or $1,000 respectively. (See technical considerations) In the short term, this would accelerate revenue collections as licensees begin paying for multiple years up front. We cannot project the impact of this change in the fee structure on current and future licensees. In addition, Board staff estimate one-time expenditures of $5,000 to modify computer software, and potential workload reductions in later years due to less frequent renewals.

Section 7: Duty to Report Criminal Offenses. Licensees would be required to report to the Board within 30 days any criminal arrests, charges, or convictions for a range of offenses. Failure to do so would be grounds for license revocation. The Board has not identified any costs associated with this requirement.

Section 8: Firearm Registration Permits. The Board does not anticipate any fiscal impact due to including "armed private investigators" as firearm registration permitees.

Section 10: Private Protective Services Fund. The Fund is maintained for the purpose of paying claims against licensees. Claims are limited to $5,000 per obligation and $10,000 in aggregate against any one licensee within a year. The Board reports that, within the past five years, one claim – of less than $5,000 – was made against the Fund. Staff records indicate that this is the only claim paid since the Fund's inception in 1983.

Each new applicant for a license or training permit pays a fee of $50 into the Fund. For any year that the balance falls below the minimum, the Board is authorized to charge each licensee and trainee an additional fee (up to $50) in order to reach the minimum threshold. Under current law, the Fund balance must be at least $100,000. This bill would reduce the minimum balance to $25,000. Currently, the Fund balance is approximately $22,650. By reducing the minimum from $100,000 to $25,000, the Fund balance would be less than $3,000 below the minimum, and the Board would be able to charge a lower additional fee.

The funds are invested by the State Treasurer, and the Board may use the proceeds from its investments to fund education and research in the area of private protective services. This legislation would allow the Board to use all except $25,000 in the Fund for education and research purposes, and all except $50,000 to offset operating expenses. Currently, the balance is below $25,000, so no additional funds would be available for these purposes.

SOURCES OF DATA: Private Protective Services Board (within the Department of Justice)

TECHNICAL CONSIDERATIONS:

1. This legislation is effective when it becomes law, and would eliminate five board member positions. At present, there is only one vacancy on the Board. However, one of the Attorney General's appointees is serving a term that expired June 30, 2001, and several of the House and Senate appointees are serving terms that expire June 30, 2003. If this legislation is enacted prior to June 30, 2003, there will still be people serving in several of the positions to be eliminated.

2. Conversations with Private Protective Services Board staff indicate that the intent of Section 5 is to collect the same $200 annual fee, but to collect it in two, three, or five-year allotments, depending on the licensing option chosen by the licensee. However, it is not clear in the legislation that this is the intent of the phrase "without a fee discount." This fiscal analysis assumes the Board's interpretation is correct, and the equivalent of $200 per licensee per year will be collected – as $400 every two years, $600 every four years, or $1,000 every five years.

House Committee on Finance

Minutes

June 17, 2003

The House Committee on Finance met on Tuesday, June 17, 2003 at 8:30 am in Room 544 of the Legislative Office Building. The following members were present: Chairpersons G. Allen, Howard, Luebke, McComas, and Miner; Vice-Chairs Alexander, Decker, Gibson, and Hill; Representatives Blackwood, Bordsen, Capps, Carney, Creech, Ellis, Glazier, Hackney, Holliman, Jones, Lewis, McCombs, McGee, Munford, Rayfield, Ross, Setzer, Starnes, Weiss, C. Wilson, Womble, and Wood. Also present were Sergeant-at-Arms Bob Fowler, Bill Freeman, Dusty Rhodes, and Walter Spell. Staff persons present included Richard Bostic, Trina Griffin, Linda Millsaps, and Martha Walston. The Agenda and Visitor Registration Sheet are attached and incorporated into these minutes as attachments 1 and 2.

The meeting was called to order at 8:39 am. As the first matter of business, Chairman Allen recognized Representative Decker, who then moved that the Committee reconsider the vote on SB 119 – EXPAND HISTORIC PRESERVATION CREDIT (see attachment 3) taken at the June 12, 2003 meeting. Senator Horton, the bill sponsor, was present and was recognized to explain the rationale for the reconsideration. He noted that at the June 12, 2003 meeting, an amendment offered by Representative Ellis was passed and incorporated into the bill that allocated funds in the amount of $14,000 to the Department of Revenue to revise the state income tax forms to provide for line item accounting of individual deductions. Although Staff informed the Committee members at the June 12, 2003 meeting that these funds were not considered an appropriation, in retrospect they, in fact, were. The Senator continued by stating that in order for this bill to avoid being sent on to the House Appropriations Committee, it was necessary to request that Representative Ellis remove his amendment. The Chair then called the vote on Representative Decker's motion for reconsideration and the motion carried with no known opposition. Representative Ellis was then immediately recognized and acted to send forth a new Proposed House Committee Substitute (PCS) for SB 119. Representative Howard was recognized by the Chair and moved adoption of the new PCS for discussion purposes. The motion carried by consent. Representative Ellis then explained that the new PCS removed the aforementioned $14,000 appropriation and, thus, avoided the bill's re-referral to the Appropriations Committee. Representative Ellis also noted that, due to the circumstances surrounding this appropriation and after conferring with the Department of Revenue (DOR), it had been determined that the itemized listing of deductions he had requested could still be provided through general operating funds already appropriated to DOR. Following Representative Ellis' explanation, some general discussion of the PCS ensued among the members. Chairman Allen then recognized Representative Womble who moved for a favorable report as to the new House Committee Substitute for SB 119, and an unfavorable report as to the Senate Committee Substitute bill. Seeing no other discussion, Chairman Allen called the motion to a vote and it carried without objection.

The bill sponsor for HB 806 – REBATE AND GRANT PROGRAM FOR AFVs (see attachment 4), Representative Tolson, was recognized next to offer an explanation of his bill. First, however, the Chair recognized Representative Bordsen who moved that the PCS be adopted for discussion purposes. He noted that the bill acts to provide a rebate (or grant) to consumers in the state purchasing AFVs (Alternative Fuel Vehicles). He informed the members of the minimal costs involved in the program over a 10-year period and voiced his belief that this program would provide an incentive for North Carolina consumers to start moving away from their reliance upon fossil fuels and to consider viable alternatives, such as these AFVs. He further stated that the mechanism being considered to fund this rebate program was a one-dollar ($1.00) increase in vehicle registration fee for the first three years and a two-dollar ($2.00) increase in the fee for the remaining seven years of the ten-year program. Overall, he stated that the program would cost vehicle owners approximately $17.00 over the ten years or $1.70 per year. Representative Ellis was then recognized and stated his distaste for grants (as provided in this bill) and proceeded to ask Representative Tolson if he had considered offering tax credits instead. Representative Tolson welcomed any suggestions from Representative Ellis as a means to move the bill forward from the Committee, while at the same time providing adequate funding to the program. Representative Hackney was recognized next by Chairman Allen. He clearly voiced his support of the bill as a good push upon future public policy and made a motion for a favorable report to the PCS on HB 806. Representative Wilson was then recognized and offered her concern that this bill, while it helps those that buy AFVs, it also acts to increase fees on everyone, even those who do not. Following this discussion, Representative Hill was recognized to send forth an amendment to HB 806 that acted to exempt rental car companies from paying these fees and/or receiving these rebates. However, upon consulting with Representatives Tolson and Luebke, Representative Hill then acted to withdraw his amendment in deference to the large number of visitors from the public that were present for the discussion of other bills on the Committee's calendar. The Chair next recognized Representative Wilson to send forth two (2) amendments. Representative Wilson explained that the first amendment acted to sunset the program after three years to allow the General Assembly to revisit the issue to make certain that the program is working as it was intended. Representative Wilson then having moved adoption of her amendment, the Chair recognized Representative Tolson who agreed with the proposed amendment. Seeing no further discussion, the Chair called the vote and the amendment was adopted by consent. Representative Wilson was then recognized to explain her second amendment and stated that the amendment acted to make state and local government entities ineligible for AFV rebates. She noted that this amendment would ensure that more of these grants would be allotted to private citizens and not to local or state governments. Representative Tolson was then recognized by the Chair and stated that he neither supported nor opposed the amendment, asking the Committee members to vote their consciences. Seeing no further discussion on the amendment, Chairman Allen then called the vote. As the Committee was split on the discussion, division was then requested, and by a vote of 12 ayes and 9 nays, the amendment was adopted. Representative Gibson was recognized next and stated his general support of the bill. However, he expressed his serious concerns on the proposed fee increases of the bill and inquired to Representative Tolson if the program could be funded in some other fashion. Representative Tolson stated that he shared similar concerns and referred the Committee to Mr. Larry Shirley, Director of the North Carolina State Energy Office within the Department of Administration. He explained that, currently, the State was investing about $1 million annually, which was not nearly enough. Chairman Allen then acted to temporarily displace HB 806, as a long amendment being drafted for Representative Ellis was not yet ready to be sent forth.

Chairman Allen called HB 758 – BAN SHRIMP NETS/INCREASE RCGL FEES (see attachment 5) as the next order of business before the Committee and announced the bill would be heard for discussion only and that no vote on the issue would be taken at the meeting. He then recognized the bill sponsor, Representative Stiller, to explain the bill. He stated that the bill would make it unlawful for holders of Recreational Commercial Gear Licenses to take shrimp with a trawl net in certain inland waters in Brunswick and New Hanover Counties. He emphasized strongly that the bill has no effect on the licenses of "commercial shrimpers" and noted that very little shrimping was done at the present in the proposed areas of the bill. He also commented that one of the main purposes of the bill was to control erosion of the marine environments present in the waters (as determined and enforced by the Division of Marine Fisheries). Following this explanation, the Chair recognized Representative Hill who stated his representation of Brunswick County, the same area as Representative Stiller. He stated, however, that given the extremely large number of constituents from the area that were present and opposed to the bill, he would rather see the bill explained and discussed further before any formal action was taken. At Representative Hill's request, Chairman Allen then recognized Mr. Jerry Schill, President of the North Carolina Fishery Association, Inc., who spoke in opposition to the bill stating that it had not been handled "through due process" appropriately. He strongly advocated for further study and research on the issue prior to any action by the Committee. The Chair also recognized David Beresoff, a citizen of Brunswick County and a member of a number of area marine advisory committees, who voiced his opposition to the bill and questioned the bill sponsor as to why the bill had never been discussed within the community. Representative Stiller was recognized to respond and referred the members of the Committee to handouts various offices in the area had provided to him voicing their support for the bill. In concluding the discussion of the bill, Representative McCombs was recognized and asked that all those persons visiting who were opposed to the bill to please rise. Noting the extremely large number of those who arose in opposition, Chairman Allen thanked everyone present for their concerns and interests on the issue.

The Chairman then recognized Senator Rand to explain SB 919 – HOMICIDE PREVENTION ACT/DOMESTIC VIOLENCE (see attachment 6). Senator Rand began by noting that North Carolina was sixth in the nation for crimes committed by males against females. He explained that the bill directly involved domestic violence and cited statistics that by March of 2003, some 20 domestic violence homicides had been recorded in the state, and of those, at least 14 were killings that involved fire arms. In an attempt to address this problem, the Senator explained that the bill sets up a structure whereby firearms can be removed from domestic settings under certain circumstances when they are cause for significant threat. He noted that the bill had already been through a House Judicial Committee and was in the Finance Committee because, within the bill, when a firearm is removed, the Sheriff holds it. This bill authorizes the Sheriff to assess a reasonable fee for the handling of the firearm until it is sold or returned. He also stated that the Sheriff's Association supported the bill. Representative Ellis was then recognized and asked Senator Rand a question pertaining to whether he had considered a bill to remove the domestic violator rather than simply the firearm. Senator Rand responded that whatever was necessary to provide for the safety of those who reside within homes of domestic violence should be undertaken. Following this discussion, the Chairman recognized Representative Weiss who reviewed the Senator's comments that the bill had already received extensive debate in the Judiciary IV Committee, and, therefore, made a motion for a favorable report as to the existing House Committee Substitute bill (seconded by Representative Ross). Seeing no further discussion or debate, the Chairman then called the motion to a vote. The motion carried with no known opposition.

Chairman Allen then replaced HB 806 – REBATE AND GRANT PROGRAM FOR AFVs (see attachment 4) and recognized Representative Ellis to send forth the amendment, which was being prepared earlier and was the cause of the bill's earlier displacement. Representative Ellis explained that his amendment acts to set the proposed one-dollar ($1.00) fee increase as voluntary, where vehicle registrants would have the option of whether or not to participate in the AFV Rebate Program. (He noted that those who opted not to participate would be ineligible to receive a grant.) Representative Tolson was then recognized by Chairman Allen to speak on the Ellis amendment. He expressed his opposition of this amendment, stating that it acted to effectively "kill" the bill, as a voluntary program (not mandatory) would not provide the needed funds for the program to remain financially viable. Seeing no further discussion on the amendment, Chairman Allen called the vote. Division of the members having been called, by a vote of 12 ayes and 13 nays, the amendment was not adopted.

As the Committee's time had then expired, Chairman Allen acted to displace HB 806 once again and immediately adjourned the meeting at 9:58 am.

Respectfully submitted,

Representative Gordon Allen
Presiding Chair

Jason A. Cannon
Clerk

SENATE BILL 119:
Expand Historic Preservation Credit

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	House Finance	Sponsor:	Sen. Horton
Date:	June 11, 2003	Analysis by:	Martha Walston
Version:	CSLCx-74		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 119 amends the historic preservation tax credits as follows:

- Places a sunset on Article 3D (Historic Rehabilitation Tax Credits) so that the Article is repealed effective January 1, 2008 for property placed in service on or after that date. Removes the January 1, 2004 sunset on the provision in the Article that permits a pass-through entity to allocate among it owners the tax credit for income-producing property.
- Amends the provision, which permits a pass-through entity to allocate among its owners the tax credit for income-producing property, by permitting the pass-through entity to allocate the credit to an owner if the owner's adjusted basis in the pass-through entity is at least 40% of the amount of the credit allocated to that owner.

House Bill 1288, sponsored by Rep. Ross, is a companion bill.

BILL ANALYSIS: Section 1 of Senate Bill 119 places a sunset on the Article in the Revenue Laws providing for historic rehabilitation tax credits so that the Article is repealed effective January 1, 2008. Section 1 also removes the January 1, 2004 sunset on the provision in the Article that permits a pass-through entity to allocate among its owners the tax credit for income-producing property. Section 1 is effective when it becomes law.

Section 2 of Senate Bill 119 increases the amount of the credit for income-producing property that a pass-through entity may allocate among its owners. Current law requires that the credit can be allocated to an owner of the pass-through entity as long as the amount of credit allocated to the owner does not exceed the owner's adjusted basis in the pass-through entity, as determined under the Internal Revenue Code. Senate Bill 119 provides that the owner's adjusted basis must be at least 40% of the credit allocated to that owner. Section 2 is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 105-129.35 allows an income tax credit of 20% of the expenses of rehabilitating an income-producing historic structure. G.S. 105-129.36 allows an income tax credit of 30% of the expenses of rehabilitating an historic structure that is not income-producing. The credit for income-producing structures is lower because federal law also allows a 20% credit for those expenses, yielding a combined credit of 40%. The 20% credit is allowed only if the taxpayer qualifies for the federal credit and the 30% credit is allowed only if the taxpayer does not qualify for the federal credit. The credit may not be taken for the tax year the property is placed in service but must be taken in installments over five years after the historic structure is placed in service. Any unused portion of a credit may be carried forward for a five-year period.

A pass-through entity may qualify for the rehabilitation credit and pass the credits on to its owners. A pass-through entity is an entity, such as a partnership, a limited liability company, or a Subchapter S corporation, that is treated as owned by individuals or other entities under federal tax law and whose income, losses, and credits are reported by the owners on their State income tax returns.

Under the Internal Revenue Code, tax credits are allocated among S corporation shareholders in accordance with their pro rata share of the corporation, which is determined on the basis of stock ownership, and tax credits are allocated among partners in a partnership in accordance with the partnership agreement. The allocation made by the partnership agreement must have a substantial economic effect, which means that the allocation agreement must reflect the economic interest of the partners in the partnership and cannot be based solely on tax consequences. Therefore, the allocation agreement of partners cannot give one partner 100% of the income, loss, or credits of the partnership. A pass-through entity may allocate the credit for rehabilitating an income-producing historic structure among any of its owners, as long as the amount of the allocated credit does not exceed the owner's adjusted basis in the entity, as determined under the Code. The adjusted basis is determined at the end of the taxable years in which the historic structure is placed in service. Each year an allocated credit is claimed, the pass-through entity and its owners must include a statement with their tax return that shows both the allocation made and the allocation that would otherwise have been required under G.S. 105-131.8 and G.S. 105-269.15. G.S. 105-131.8 provides that the tax credit allowed a shareholder in a Subchapter S corporation is based on the percentage of stock held by the shareholder in the corporation. G.S. 105-269.15 provides that the tax credit allowed a partner is based on the partnership agreement, which must have substantial economic effect.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Department of Cultural Resources – State Historic Preservation Office; Department of Revenue

EFFECTIVE DATE: Section 1 (removal of sunset) is effective when it becomes law. Section 2 (allocation) is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003. The remainder of the act becomes effective for taxable years on or after January 1, 2004.

BILL SUMMARY: The bill removes the January 1, 2004 sunset on a pass-through provision for the tax credit for rehabilitating income-producing historic structures. The bill allows a pass-through entity that qualifies for the historic rehab credit to allocate the credit among its owners in its discretion as long as an owner's adjusted basis is at least 40% of the amount of the credit allocated to that owner. The bill also allows the credit to be used against the franchise tax and the gross premiums tax.

BACKGROUND: The National Park Service of the U.S. Department of the Interior administers a federal income tax credit equal to 20% of qualified rehabilitation expenditures for certified historic structures that are used in connection with a trade or business or held for the production of income. This credit is available for both residential rental buildings and nonresidential buildings. In order to qualify, the property itself must be either listed in the National Register, or located in a registered historic district and be certified as being of historic significance. All rehabilitation work must meet The Secretary of the Interior's Standards for Rehabilitation and must be approved by the State Historic Preservation Office (SHPO).

From 1993 to 1997, North Carolina investors eligible for the Federal Rehabilitation Investment Tax Credit were allowed a state income tax credit equal to one-fourth of the federal amount (5%). The 1997 General Assembly expanded the State income tax credit from 5% to 20% for rehabilitating an income-producing historic structure, effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1998. (S.L. 1997-139) The credits may not be taken in one year, but must be spread out in installments over five years after the historic structure is placed in service. Any unused portion of a credit may be carried forward for a five-year period.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

No estimate can be made of the actual fiscal impact of this bill. In theory, the bill has been proposed to increase the likelihood that the historic rehab tax credits will be fully utilized by taxpayers. However, the General Assembly's Fiscal Research Division has assumed from 1997 (the year the credit increased to 20%), that 100% of the tax credits have been used and have built 100% utilization of the historic credit into the General Fund availability forecast. All efforts to determine the actual cost of the credit program failed for reasons explained below.

From 1989 to 1997, the Journal of Multistate Taxation and Incentives reported North Carolina had 268 federally certified historic rehab projects valued at $125.3 million. The average project size in this period was $468,000 and the average number of projects each year was 30. The increase in the state credit in 1998 saw a significant increase in projects and in the size of projects. From 1998 through March 2003, $178.7 million was spent on rehabbing 199 historic structures. On average in the 1998-2003 period, 38 projects were completed each year at cost of $900,000 per project.

Income Producing Projects - Completed

Tax Year	# Of Projects	Rehab Expenses	Avg. Proj. Cost
1998	27	$6,748,550	$249,946
1999	36	$25,187,152	$699,643
2000	44	$39,385,678	$895,129
2001	50	$74,117,018	$1,482,340
2002	30	$27,229,772	$907,659
J - M 2003	12	$6,035,293	$502,941
	199	$178,703,463	$898,007

As shown in the chart below, the General Fund impact of these credits is lessened by the requirement that the tax credit be taken over five years. In FY 02-03, the actual credit earned is $6,906,727, an amount slightly lower than the original projection of $7.2 million made in 1997.

I. Income Producing Projects - Completed

Tax Year	Credit Amount	FY 98-99	FY 99-00	FY 00-01	FY 01-02	FY 02-03

While the data above shows the amount of tax credits taxpayers are eligible for each year, it does not reveal the percentage of tax credits claimed each year. The Department of Revenue was asked to report on the amount of income-producing historic rehab credits taken in tax years 2000 and 2001. The Department's Tax Research Division responded that it could only determine the number of corporate taxpayers that claimed the historic rehab credit, because the agency's ITAS computer system does not contain information on the individuals that claim the credit. ITAS does not capture data on individual historic rehab tax credits, because the credit is one of a number of credits filed on Form D-400TC as a miscellaneous credit. The only way for the Department to determine the number of individual tax credits taken would be to manually search through 28,000 tax returns each year that claim a miscellaneous credit.

The Tax Research Division data on corporate historic rehab credits shows $893,265 was claimed in tax year 2000. Since these credits would probably have been claimed in the FY 2001-02 period, the reported $893,265 is only 15% of the $5.8 million in available credits that year. For the 2001 tax year, $725,703 in corporate credits were claimed out of $6.9 million credits available in FY 2002-03 (10.5%). Without the individual tax credit information, the corporate data is meaningless. No conclusion on credit utilization can be drawn from existing Department of Revenue or Department of Cultural Resources data.

HOUSE BILL 806:
Rebate and Grant Program for AFVs.

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	House Finance	Introduced by:	Rep. Tolson
Date:	June 11, 2003	Summary by:	Trina Griffin
Version:	PCS for 1st Edition H806-CSSVf-26		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: The Proposed Committee Substitute for House Bill 806 creates the Alternative Fuel and Vehicle Rebate and Infrastructure Grant Program, funded by a $1.00 increase in vehicle registration fees for the first 3 years of the program, and by an additional $1.00 increase for the remaining 7 years of the program. The program would provide rebates to first-time purchasers of AFVs, rebates for State taxes paid on the incremental costs of alternative motor fuels, and grants for the construction of AFV infrastructure projects.

CURRENT LAW: An alternative fuel vehicle is a vehicle that operates using a source other than gasoline or diesel fuel, such as electricity, natural gas, hydrogen, ethanol, methanol, or fuels derived from biological materials. There are currently no benefits provided by the State, such as tax credits or rebates, for the purchase or use of alternative fuel vehicles or for the use of alternative fuels. North Carolina does offer a corporate tax credit for building an alternative fuel generating facility, such as an ethanol or biodiesel plant.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Purpose of Program

House Bill 806 creates the "Alternative Fuel and Vehicle Rebate and Infrastructure Grant Program" (Program). The State Energy Office, which is a division of the Department of Administration, would administer the Alternative Fuel Rebate and Infrastructure Grant Program. The bill authorizes the State Energy Office to issues rules that would govern the administration of the program. Among other things, the rules would establish the procedures for providing:

- Partial rebates to first owners for incremental cost differences for eligible alternative fueled and hybrid vehicles.
- Limited rebates for State taxes paid on the incremental costs of alternative motor fuels.
- Grants for alternative motor fuel infrastructure projects.

Funding of Program

For the first 3 years of the program, the grants and rebates would be funded from a $1.00 increase in the vehicle registration fee for motor vehicles registered in this State. For the remaining 7 years of the program, it would be funded from an additional $1.00 increase, for a total of a $2.00 increase during those 7 years. However, commitments to rebates and grants may never exceed available funds. The bill directs the State Energy Office to establish a cap on the number and amounts of rebates based on the availability of funds. Up to 5% of the funds collected would be shared by both the State Energy Office and DMV for administrative costs. Up to 10% of the funds collected may be used for education and awareness of the applications and advantages of alternative fuels and vehicles.

Reporting Requirements

The Division of Motor Vehicles would be required to provide to the State Energy Office quarterly reports of all registered motor vehicles identified by fuel type. The State Energy Office would be required to provide an annual report on the expenditure of funds associated with the program and the number of alternative fuel vehicles registered in North Carolina to the Joint Legislative Transportation Oversight Committee.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill becomes effective when it becomes law. The State Energy Office must issue rules to implement the program on or before January 1, 2004. The act would expire on January 1, 2014.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Division of Motor Vehicles (DMV); State Energy Office (SEO)

EFFECTIVE DATE: When the bill becomes law, but revenue collections for the program are to start July 1, 2004.

BILL SUMMARY: The bill establishes an alternative fuel and alternative fuel vehicle rebate program to be administered by the State Energy Office. The program will provide partial rebates to first owners for incremental cost differences for eligible alternative fueled and hybrid vehicles, limited rebates for State taxes paid on incremental costs of alternative motor fuels, and grants for alternative motor fuel infrastructure projects. The program would be funded by an additional $1 added to all registration fees for the first three years of the program and an additional $2 added to all registration fees for the remaining seven years of the program. A maximum of 5% of the funds collected can be used by the State Energy Office and DMV to administer the program.

The program is to include a cap on the number and amount of rebates and grants to limit them to the available funds.

The State Energy Office is to issue rules implementing the program on or before July 1, 2004, and upon final adoption of the rules the Division of Motor Vehicles is to begin collecting the additional fees mandated.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

Expenditures

During FY03-04, SEO will be coordinating with other agencies and the industry in establishing rules for the program and DMV will be doing the computer changes necessary for the program. SEO estimates its expenditures at a total of $228,732, as follows:

Program Manager	$50,000
Program Associate	40,000
Administrative Assistant	30,000
Accounting Technician	32,000
Public Info Officer (1/4 time)	11,000
Fringe Benefits	33,132
TOTAL PERSONNEL	$196,132
TRAVEL	7,600
PRINTING and WEBSITE	$25,000
GRAND TOTAL	$228,732

SEO indicates that these administrative costs will continue during the life of the program.

DMV's expenditures during FY03-04 to prepare for the program include modifying the STARS (State Titling and Registration System) for plate fee calculation, updating the fiscal and other reports it prepares to capture the information required, and creation of the quarterly report specified in the bill. DMV estimates the cost of these activities as 300 professional hours times $80 per hour, or $24,000, plus computer overhead charges of $2,400, for a total of $26,400. Starting in FY04-05, during the operation of the program itself, DMV's costs are expected to be nominal and no estimate is shown.

Revenues

DMV estimates that the fee of $1 per vehicle will bring in $8,068,734 during the program's first year and that the number of vehicles will increase by 2% per year. The fee will double in the fourth year of the program. In each year, based on the bill, $228,732 will be used to pay administrative expenses and the remainder will be used for the rebates and grants according to the rules that SEO will be preparing in FY03-04.

SOURCES OF DATA: Division of Motor Vehicles; State Energy Office

TECHNICAL CONSIDERATIONS: The bill provides that SEO and DMV may use up to 5% of the funds collected for administration. However, administrative expenses will begin in FY03-04, while funds will not be collected until FY04-05. The source of funds for administration in FY03-04 is not clear.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO MAKE IT UNLAWFUL TO TAKE SHRIMP WITH A TRAWL NET IN CERTAIN INLAND WATERS IN BRUNSWICK AND NEW HANOVER COUNTIES.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. It is hereby unlawful to take shrimp with a trawl net in the following described inland waters:

All inland waters (internal coastal fishing waters) in New Hanover and Brunswick Counties with the exception of those waters in the Cape Fear River south of a line beginning at a point on the west shore at 34° 04.6040'N - 77° 56.4780'W running easterly to a point on the east shore 34° 04.7920'N - 77° 53.3550'W. The following area in the Cape Fear River is also closed by this act. Those waters in the Cape Fear River bounded by a line beginning on the south side of the Spoil island at the intersection of the IWW and the Cape Fear River ship channel at a point 34° 01.5780'N - 77° 56.0010'W; running easterly to the east shore of the Cape Fear River at a point 34° 01.7230'N - 77° 55.1010'W; running southerly and bounded by the shoreline to the Ferry Slip at Federal Point at a point 33° 57.8080'N - 77° 56.4120'W; running northerly to Bird Island at a point 33° 58.3870'N - 77° 56.5780'W; running northerly along the west shoreline of Bird Island and the Cape Fear River Spoil islands back to point of origin.

SECTION 2. Violation of this act shall constitute a violation of G.S. 113-187, and shall be punishable pursuant to that section.

SECTION 3. This act becomes effective December 1, 2003, and applies to offenses committed on or after that date.

HOUSE BILL 758:
Ban Shrimp Nets/Certain Inland Waters.

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	House Finance	Introduced by:	Rep. Stiller
Date:	June 17, 2003	Summary by:	Trina Griffin
Version:	PCS for 1st Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 758 would make it unlawful for holders of a Recreational Commercial Gear License to take shrimp with a trawl net in certain inland waters in Brunswick and New Hanover Counties. Violation of this provision would be a Class A1 misdemeanor.

The Proposed Committee Substitute adds two provisions:

- It increases the cost of a Recreation Commercial Gear License from $35 to $40 for North Carolina residents and from $250 to $285 for non-residents.
- It requires RCGL holders to report monthly to the Division of Marine Fisheries on the type and amount of fish taken under the RCGL, including the type and amount of bycatch.

The act would become effective December 1, 2003.

CURRENT LAW: A person may catch fish, including shrimp, in the inland waters subject to certain limitations and requirements set forth by the Division of Marine Fisheries (Division). A person who catches fish using certain commercial gear, but who does not plan to sell the fish commercially, must obtain a Recreational Commercial Gear License (RCGL). The RCGL is an annual license that allows recreational fishermen to use limited amounts of commercial gear to harvest seafood for their personal consumption. Seafood harvested under this license cannot be sold. Fishermen using this license will be held to recreational size and possession limits.[1] The license expires one year from the date of purchase. The cost of the license is $35 for North Carolina residents and $250 for nonresidents. Holders of an RCGL are required to comply with the biological data sampling and survey programs of the Marine Fisheries Commission and the Division of Marine Fisheries.

The Division of Marine Fisheries also issues a Standard Commercial Fishing License (SCFL) and a Retired Standard Commercial Fishing License (RSCFL).

BILL ANALYSIS:

Sections 1 and 2: Ban Shrimp Nets

Section 1 of the bill makes it unlawful for holders of a Recreational Commercial Gear License to take shrimp with a trawl net in the inland waters in New Hanover and Brunswick Counties. Any violation of this section is a Class A1 misdemeanor, effective for offenses occurring on or after December 1, 2003. A Class A1 misdemeanor is punishable by a minimum of 1-60 days or by a maximum of 1-150 days, depending on the number of prior convictions, plus a possible fine in an amount determined in the judge's discretion.

[1] Recreational size and possession limits, set out in the rules of the Marine Fisheries Commission, vary from species to species and also vary based on the time of year and geographic area.

Section 3: RCGL Fee Increase

Section 3 increases the cost of a Recreation Commercial Gear License from $35 to $40 for North Carolina residents and from $250 to $285 for non-residents. These fees have not been increased since the license provisions were enacted by the General Assembly in 1997.

Section 4: RCGL Reporting Requirement

Section 4 requires the holder of an RCGL to report monthly to the Division of Marine Fisheries, on a form provided by the Division, regarding the type and amount of fish taken under the RCGL, including the type and amount of bycatch.

BILL SUMMARY: HB 758 makes it unlawful for the holder of a recreational commercial gear license (RCGL) to take shrimp with a trawl net in certain inland waters located in Brunswick and New Hanover Counties. Violation of this ban would be a Class A1 misdemeanor. In addition, the cost for a RCGL will increase from $35 to $40 for North Carolina residents and $250 to $285 for non-residents. ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

Department of Environment and Natural Resources – Division of Marine Fisheries

Enforcement Costs

The North Carolina Marine Patrol is responsible for enforcing rules, regulations and statutes including trawling regulations as they apply to North Carolina's coastal waters. The Marine Patrol monitors commercial and recreational fishing, patrols coastal waterways, piers and beaches and inspects seafood houses, vehicles transporting seafood and restaurants to ensure compliance with fishery rules.

The District Three office which covers the southern area from Cape Carteret, New River, Cape Fear River, Wilmington and all areas south of Wilmington to the South Carolina state line would be responsible for enforcing HB 758. This ban would apply to approximately 225 miles of inland waters in New Hanover and Brunswick Counties except for certain parts of the Cape Fear River. Currently, there are 4 administrative employees in the District Three office and 18 field enforcement officers. According to the Division of Marine Fisheries, an additional 4 enforcement officers, 2 stationed in each affected county for day and night coverage, would be needed to enforce a shrimp net ban. The estimated total salary and benefits per year for four new enforcement officers would be $175,248 ($43,812 per position) with adjustments for inflation in future years. Each DMF enforcement officer will require a boat and vehicle for enforcement purposes totaling $46,700 per year. With the added maintenance and fuel the total cost per year for one new position would be $93,512. There would also be additional fuel costs for existing boats, aircraft and helicopters totaling $7,000 per year.

Total	$87,908	$104,221	$105,859.41	$107,509.99	$109,218

 FY 2003-04 adjusted to reflect November 1, 2003 start date.*

The general fund fiscal impact for FY 2003-04 to enforce a shrimp trawling ban for RCGL holders would be $351,632. The FY 2003-04 salary and benefits figure has been adjusted assuming a November 1, 2003 start date to begin enforcing the ban by December 1, 2003.

Recreational Commercial Gear License Fee Increase

The fee to obtain a RCGL would increase from $35 to $40 for North Carolina residents and $250 to $285 for non-residents. The RCGL is an annual license that allows recreational fishermen to use limited amounts of commercial gear to harvest seafood for their personal consumption. Seafood harvested under this license cannot be sold and is subject to recreational size and possession limits. In 2001 there were 6,126 resident and 76 non-resident RCGLs sold and in 2002 there were 5,304 resident and 17 non-resident RCGLs sold. Factoring in a modest 2% decline for FY 2003-04 the total net revenue generated from a fee increase would be $13,275. For FY 2004-05 the total net revenue would be $26,035. Since the fee increase would not take effect until December 1, 2003, the revenue for FY 2003-04 would be approximately half what it would be in subsequent years. The RCGL fee has not been increased since its inception in 1997.

Revenue from the RCGL goes into the DMF Advance License Sale Special Fund. This money is subsequently transferred to DENR's general fund at sporadic intervals. It is still undetermined if there are any restrictions on how that money can be used once transferred.

Fiscal Research is also unable to estimate if there are additional administrative costs associated with the RCGL reporting requirement.

Department of Corrections

Since the proposed bill creates a new offense, the North Carolina Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission does not have any historical data from which to estimate the impact of this bill on the prison population. It is not known how many offenders might be sentenced under this bill. In FY 2001-02, 20% of Class A1 misdemeanor convictions resulted in active sentences. The average estimated time served was 55.1 days. Offenders serving active sentences of 90 days or less are housed in county jails. Therefore, convictions for this proposed offense would not be expected to have a significant impact on the prison population. The impact on local jail populations is not known.

Judicial Branch

For most criminal penalty bills, the Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) provides Fiscal Research with an analysis of the fiscal impact of the specific bill. For these bills, fiscal impact is typically based on the assumption that court time will increase due to an expected increase in trials and a corresponding increase in the hours of work for judges, clerks and prosecutors. This increased court time is also expected to result in greater expenditures for jury fees and indigent defense. For offenses that are brought to trial as Class 1 misdemeanors, the estimated court cost per trial is $3,144. For Class 1 misdemeanor offenses not brought to trial, and where a guilty plea is entered, AOC estimates the cost per guilty plea at $279.

Limiting the Impact of Net Fishing in Coastal Waters of North Carolina

The capture of fish and other aquatic animals has a long tradition in the U.S. and North Carolina. Nets allow a few fishermen to gather large numbers of commercial marine or freshwater animals in a short period of time. There are two general types of net fishing. In one case, nets are set and fish caught when they encounter and move into nets. In the other, nets are dragged or pulled, trapping fish in the process. Nets can be designed to fish any segment of the water column from top to bottom.

There are environmental and management problems that can result from net fishing. For fish stocks that have experienced stock decline, the loss of large numbers from a population promotes the continued decline or limits the recovery of a fish stock. Net fishing often targets a species during critical periods, such as when adults or juveniles are migrating or when a species is in a spawning aggregation. To some degree, this is a problem related to both increased exploitation, i.e. more fishermen, coupled with habitat loss or degradation. In parts of North Carolina with large numbers of fishermen (commercial and recreational), coupled with small areas of coastal waters, a high proportion of important stocks of marine animals are impacted by nets during the part of the life cycle when these animals are within the barrier islands or along area beaches.

The second major problem is the loss that results from the catch of non-target species. These other species can be endangered, such as sea turtles, or commercial species whose harvest is restricted by regulations. In terms of numbers, however, most "bycatch" typically consists of juveniles of both commercial and non-commercial species. Bottom trawling is the primary technique responsible for this type impact where non-target to target species average around 3:1 in pounds. When the price for target species is high, fishermen are willing to tolerate even higher bycatch ratios.

Stationary gill nets can accomplish the same thing. Non-target fish trapped in gill nets often die in the net or lose the protective material covering their scales and die later. Marine transient species important to North Carolina's fisheries spend their juvenile period inshore and have limited ability to escape bottom trawls. Most primary nursery areas are protected under current regulations, but other areas where juvenile fish spend time are not.

Habitat alteration can also occur, especially with bottom trawling. This type of fishing is prohibited where rooted, submerged vegetation is located, but is allowed on most muddy and sandy bottoms because this habitat is not noticeably altered. During summer's peak season activity, an area of bottom in the Pamlico River chosen at random during a national study was dragged over 20 times in 24 hours. Dragging nets over soft bottom also increases the turbidity of the water column. While most estuarine fish and crustaceans can tolerate high turbidity, there is an associated reduction in the production of algae in the water column and in nearby rooted, submerged vegetation. Trawling near areas of submerged aquatic vegetation has the potential to destroy nearby aquatic plants as it severely limits photosynthesis when turbid water moves over these rooted plant communities. There is no evidence to suggest that bottom trawling is in someway similar to plowing an agricultural field in that it increases the fertility of organisms found in the mud and sand bottoms.

Net fishing in sounds and bays of North Carolina has historically been an economically important aspect of commercial fishing. Marine species caught near shore require less transport time and can be caught using smaller vessels. The economic value from the production of these fish stocks is maintained close to the location where it was caught. As long as fish stocks exceeded the needs of North Carolina's citizens, net fishing was compatible with the mandate from Public Trust Common Law that requires the state to protect waters of the state, including fish stocks, for all citizens of the state. Several years ago, the NC's Marine Fisheries Commission recognized that this Public Trust obligation was not being met and revised the manner in which commercial fishing licenses were issued in an attempt to protect valuable fish stocks. There were 5893 valid commercial fishing permits issued in 2003 by the Division of Marine Fisheries for coastal water of North Carolina and the total number is limited. Commercial fishermen can use any legal means to harvest fish and shellfish as long as they obey state and federal regulations. Areas where net fishing is allowed can be limited by proclamation by the Director of the Division of Marine Fisheries. There are also 5866 Recreational Commercial licenses issued to individuals that allow them to use a single 100' gill net as well as other commercial gear including bottom trawls.

There is an inherent conflict that develops between commercial and recreational fishermen when fish stocks become fully utilized by humans. If economic value were the only criterion, recreational fishing would be chosen over the commercial industry because the total value to the state's economy from a pound of fish caught by a recreational fisherman brings 10 times more value to the local economy that does the same pound of fish caught by a commercial fisherman. Local economies benefit through the sale of boats and associated equipment, marina rentals, fishing gear, bait sales, motel rentals, restaurants, etc; an effect magnified in the local economy. Commercial fishermen's goal is to spend as little time and money as possible catching the wild stock and value accrues to the economy only when fishermen can satisfy the economic balance between cost and sale. Recreational fishermen do not relate success to profit, but to the ability to catch fish. The shift from commercial to recreational harvest is a boom for coastal economies, but will disappear when stocks of major fish species decline from over harvest and recreational fishermen spend their money in other states where fish are more plentiful.

While conflicts between net fishermen and recreational fishermen on the water are relatively common, most conflicts do not involve commercial fishermen, but those with Recreational Commercial licenses. There is no limit to the number of these licenses that can be issued and conflicts arise when recreational commercial fisherman set nets around anglers as they are catching fish. Seafood harvested with these recreational licenses cannot be sold, limiting the value of this resource to the local economy. The Recreational Commercial license also allow the use of a 25' bottom trawl, five crab pots, and other types of harvest not available to those without such a license. Much of the perceived conflict between net fishermen and sports fishermen is not between commercial interests and sport fishermen, but between recreational net fisherman and anglers. There is the potential for this conflict to increase as more recreational net fishermen use coastal water, especially in the limited areas inside the barrier islands from

Beaufort to Little River. This part of the state's coastal waters contain the most fishermen per square mile and the marine resources sought by both recreational and commercial fisherman is clearly limited.

A total ban on net fishing from coastal waters will be difficult because of the long history of this type of fishing in North Carolina and because most commercial fishermen will lose their livelihood if net fishing is banned. The elimination of he Recreational Commercial license, however, has benefits to both recreational fishermen that rely on line fishing and to commercial fishing interests. First, some restrictions will ultimately be necessary in the future anyway as the numbers of Recreational Commercial licenses grows. Second, the fish and shrimp stocks will increase if such a ban is enacted or at least not decrease to the same degree allowing more for both those citizens that depend on fishing for their livelihood and for recreational anglers as well. Finally, the removal of the large group of individuals that set nets near recreational anglers will eliminate much of the growing friction that exists today.

The limited number of true Commercial fishermen that can use any type of fishing gear will ultimately be affected by the increased catch of seafood by recreational anglers as North Carolina's population grows. One solution to this dilemma of more fishermen and a constant fish stock is for the state to purchase or reclaim any license not actively used for some set period of time. This would result is the gradual decline of Commercial Fishermen, at least within the barrier islands, but provide these fishermen with more fish per individual to catch.

Support mounts to better manage world's fisheries

By Rick Weiss
The Washington Post

Momentum is building in the United States and abroad for an overhaul in the global management of fisheries and other ocean resources.

Marine scientists hope the movement, to be highlighted soon in three major reports calling for reforms, will lead to the first significant revisions in U.S. fisheries policy in nearly 40 years and inspire other nations to follow suit. The problem is straightforward: Populations of fish and other marine creatures have suffered drastic reductions because of overfishing and environmental degradation.

The latest analysis, reported last month by Canadian scientists, found that populations of virtually all the world's major marine fish species had fallen to 10 percent of their natural levels.

Fortunately, marine scientists say, years of research into ocean ecosystems and fisheries management have begun to pay off with practical knowledge about how to reverse current trends. Marine biologists and oceanographers have learned a tremendous amount about the life cycles and habits not only of fish, but also of the smaller marine forms and microscopic plankton upon which fish depend.

If those scientific findings were translated into policies, experts say, fishermen could catch far more than they do today while causing less damage to marine ecosystems.

"What we're seeing is an emerging 'mutiny for the bounty,'" said Jane Lubchenco, a professor of zoology at Oregon State University in Corvallis. "It's an acknowledgment that we've lost the bounty and a willingness to try to do something about it."

Dr. Lubchenco is a member of the Pew Oceans Commission, a privately funded collection of scientists, commercial fishermen and others that has been studying the problem for almost three years and will release its recommendations on Wednesday.

A coalition of environmental groups will release its report today, and the congressionally chartered U.S. Commission on Ocean Policy is expected to finish its work later this year. Although their reports have not been released, the groups' collective advice has largely been foreshadowed in interim publications and presentations.

"What's going on out there is the last buffalo hunt with regard to our fisheries," said Leon Panetta, chairman of the Pew Commission and former White House chief of staff in the Clinton administration.

"There are some success stories where depleted fisheries are being restored," said Mr. Panetta, who, as the son of a Monterey Bay fisherman, grew up watching the local sardine industry collapse from overfishing. "But overall, we take a kind of boom-and-bust approach to fisheries."

The U.S. could double its current catches if populations were first rebuilt, he said.

Dear Editor,

I would like to comment on the bill, Rep. Bonner Stiller of the 17th district, introduced to the Legislator, concerning trawling in the Cape Fear River and it's tributaries.

I will soon be 72 years old, born in Oriental by the mouth of the Neuse River, to a family that were Commercial Fisherman for many generations. I started fishing with my dad when I was just a small boy. I've been engaged in the commercial fishing industry all of my life. I was engaged in fishing industry in the Pamlico Sound area until 1964 when we moved to Southport, where we established a crab processing plant and have remained in business now for 40 years. During this time I have seen the crab supply, which was very plentiful decimated to the point that we stopped processing crab in 1996, as did most of the plants in the state. We now purchase our meat from other sources.

The cause for this is two primary reasons, water quality and the destruction of primary and secondary nursing areas. Trawling is a detriment, not just because of juvenile fish, crab, and shrimp that are destroyed, but more over it's the damage that occurs to the bottom of our nursery areas. North Carolina has for decades been losing tens or thousands of acres of nursery areas. This has to stop!

I might add that I served on the N. C. Fisheries Commission for 12 years, eight of those years as Chairman and Vice Chairman. I am also a Charter Member of the N. C. Fisherics Association for more than 50 years. Not an expert by no means "but" it doesn't take a Rocket Scientist to figure out that you have to hatch them before you can catch them.

I thank God we now have a representative that is willing to take a stand, for the protection of our estuaries, even though it may not be politically correct.

Sincerely,

C.B. Caroon

(a) Required Surrender of Firearms. – Upon issuance of an emergency or ex parte order pursuant to this Chapter, the court shall order the defendant to surrender to the sheriff all firearms, machine guns, ammunition, permits to purchase firearms, and permits to carry concealed firearms that are in the care, custody, possession, ownership, or control of the defendant if the court finds any of the following factors:

(1) The use or threatened use of a deadly weapon by the defendant or a pattern of prior conduct involving the use or threatened use of violence with a firearm against persons.

(2) Threats to seriously injure or kill the aggrieved party or minor child by the defendant.

(3) Threats to commit suicide by the defendant.

(4) Serious injuries inflicted upon the aggrieved party or minor child by the defendant.

(b) Ex Parte or Emergency Hearing. – The court shall inquire of the plaintiff, at the ex parte or emergency hearing, the presence of, ownership of, or otherwise access to firearms by the defendant, as well as ammunition, permits to purchase firearms, and permits to carry concealed firearms, and include, whenever possible, identifying information regarding the description, number, and location of firearms, ammunition, and permits in the order.

(c) Ten-Day Hearing. – The court, at the 10-day hearing, shall inquire of the defendant the presence of, ownership of, or otherwise access to firearms by the defendant, as well as ammunition, permits to purchase firearms, and permits to carry concealed firearms, and include, whenever possible, identifying information regarding the description, number, and location of firearms, ammunition, and permits in the order.

(d) Surrender. – Upon service of the order, the defendant shall immediately surrender to the sheriff possession of all firearms, machine guns, ammunition, permits to purchase firearms, and permits to carry concealed firearms that are in the care, custody, possession, ownership, or control of the defendant. In the event that weapons cannot be surrendered at the time the order is served, the defendant shall surrender the firearms, ammunitions, and permits to the sheriff within 24 hours of service at a time and place specified by the sheriff. The sheriff shall store the firearms or contract with a licensed firearms dealer to provide storage.

(1) If the court orders the defendant to surrender firearms, ammunition, and permits, the court shall inform the plaintiff and the defendant of the terms of the protective order and include these terms on the face of the order, including that the defendant is prohibited from owning, possessing, purchasing, or receiving or attempting to own, possess, purchase, or receive a firearm for so long as the protective order or any successive protective order is in effect. The terms of the order shall include instructions as to how the defendant may request retrieval of any firearms, ammunition, and permits surrendered to the sheriff when the protective order is no longer in effect. The terms shall also include notice of the penalty for violation of G.S. 14-269.8.

The sheriff shall not release firearms, ammunition, or permits without a court order granting the release. The defendant must remit all fees owed prior to the authorized return of any firearms, ammunition, or permits. The sheriff shall not incur any civil or criminal liability for alleged damage or deterioration due to storage or transportation of any firearms or ammunition held pursuant to this section.

(e) Retrieval. – If the court does not enter a protective order when the ex parte or emergency order expires, the defendant may retrieve any weapons surrendered to the sheriff unless the court finds that the defendant is precluded from owning or possessing a firearm pursuant to State or federal law.

(f) Motion for Return. – The defendant may request the return of any firearms, ammunition, or permits surrendered by filing a motion with the court at the expiration of the current order and not later than 90 days after the expiration of the current order. Upon receipt of the motion, the court shall schedule a hearing and provide written notice to the plaintiff who shall have the right to appear and be heard and to the sheriff who has control of the firearms, ammunition, or permits. The court shall determine whether the defendant is subject to any State or federal law or court order that precludes the defendant from owning or possessing a firearm. The inquiry shall include:

(1) Whether the protective order has been renewed;

(2) Whether the defendant is subject to any other protective orders; or

(3) Whether the defendant is disqualified from owning or possessing a firearm pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 922 or any State law.

The court shall deny the return of firearms, ammunition, or permits if the court finds that the defendant is precluded from owning or possessing a firearm pursuant to State or federal law.

(g) Motion for Return by Third-Party Owner. – A third-party owner of firearms, ammunition, or permits who is otherwise eligible to possess such items may file a motion requesting the return to said third party of any such items in the possession of the sheriff seized as a result of the entry of a domestic violence protective order. The motion must be filed not later than 30 days after the seizure of the items by the sheriff. Upon receipt of the third party's motion, the court shall schedule a hearing and provide written notice to all parties and the sheriff. The court shall order return of the items to the third party unless the court determines that the third party is disqualified from owning or possessing said items pursuant to State or federal law. If the court denies the return of said items to the third party, the items shall be disposed of by the sheriff as provided in subsection (h) of this section.

(h) Disposal of Firearms. – If the defendant does not file a motion requesting the return of any firearms, ammunition, or permits surrendered within the time period prescribed by this section, if the court determines that the defendant is precluded from regaining possession of any firearms, ammunition, or permits surrendered, or if the defendant or third-party owner fails to remit all fees owed for the storage of the firearms or ammunition within 30 days of the entry of the order granting the return of the firearms, ammunition, or permits, the sheriff who has control of the firearms, ammunition, or permits shall give notice to the defendant, and the sheriff shall apply to the court for an order of disposition of the firearms, ammunition, or permits. The judge, after a hearing, may order the disposition of the firearms, ammunition, or permits in one or more of the ways authorized by subdivision (4), (4a), (5), or (6) of G.S. 14-269.1. If a sale by the sheriff does occur, any proceeds from the sale after deducting any costs associated with the sale, and in accordance with all applicable State and federal law, shall be provided to the defendant, if requested by the defendant by motion made before the hearing or at the hearing and if ordered by the judge.

(i) It is unlawful for any person subject to a protective order prohibiting the possession or purchase of firearms to:

(1) Fail to surrender all firearms, ammunition, permits to purchase firearms, and permits to carry concealed firearms to the sheriff as ordered by the court;

(2) Fail to disclose all information pertaining to the possession of firearms, ammunition, and permits to purchase and permits to carry concealed firearms as requested by the court; or

(3) Provide false information to the court pertaining to any of these items.

(j) Violations. – In accordance with G.S. 14-269.8, it is unlawful for any person to own, possess, purchase, or receive or attempt to own, possess, purchase, or receive a firearm, as defined in G.S. 14-409.39(2), machine gun, ammunition, or permits to purchase or carry concealed firearms if ordered by the court for so long as that protective order or any successive protective order entered against that person pursuant to this Chapter is in effect. Any defendant violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a Class H felony.

(k) Official Use Exemption. – This section shall not prohibit law enforcement officers and members of any branch of the United States armed forces, not otherwise prohibited under federal law, from possessing or using firearms for official use only.

(l) Nothing in this section is intended to limit the discretion of the court in granting additional relief as provided in other sections of this Chapter."

SECTION 2. G.S. 14-269.8 reads as rewritten:

"§ 14-269.8. Purchase or possession of firearms by person subject to domestic violence order prohibited.

(a) ~~It~~ In accordance with G.S. 50B-3.1, it is unlawful for any person to ~~purchase or attempt to purchase any gun, rifle, pistol, or other firearm while there remains in force and effect a domestic violence order issued pursuant to Chapter 50B of the General Statutes, prohibiting the person from purchasing a firearm.~~ own, possess, purchase, or receive or attempt to own, possess, purchase, or receive a firearm, as defined in G.S. 14-409.39(2), machine gun, ammunition, or permits to purchase or carry concealed firearms if ordered by the court for so long as that protective order or any successive protective order entered against that person pursuant to Chapter 50B of the General Statutes is in effect.

(b) Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a Class H felony."

SENATE BILL 919:
Homicide Prevention Act/Domestic Violence.

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	House Finance	Introduced by:	Sen. Rand
Date:	June 17, 2003	Summary by:	Trina Griffin
Version:	3rd Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 919 specifically provides that where a court has issued an order to bring about a cessation of acts of domestic violence, the court shall order the defendant to surrender all firearms under the defendant's possession or control, if the court finds any one of several listed factors.

This bill was given a favorable report by the House Judiciary IV Committee, and has been re-referred to House Finance because it authorizes the sheriff to charge a reasonable fee for the storage of firearms and ammunition taken pursuant to a protective order. The fees are to be used to pay for the cost of administering the provisions in the bill and for other law enforcement purposes.

CURRENT LAW: A court has the authority to prohibit a party from purchasing a firearm for a time fixed in the domestic violence order (G.S. 50B-3(a)(11)). Courts are also authorized to enter orders deemed necessary to protect a party or a minor child.

BILL ANALYSIS: The bill adds a new G.S. 50B-3.1 and makes conforming changes to G.S. 14-269.8. The new provisions are as follows:

- Upon the issuance of a domestic violence restraining order, the court is required to order the defendant to surrender to the sheriff all firearms, permits to purchase firearms, and permits to carry concealed firearms that are in the defendant's care, custody, possession, ownership or control, if the court finds any of the following factors:

  (1) The use or threatened use of a deadly weapon by the defendant, or a pattern of prior conduct by defendant involving violence with a firearm against persons.

  (2) Threats to seriously injure or kill the aggrieved party or minor child by the defendant.

  (3) Threats to commit suicide by the defendant.

  (4) Serious injuries inflicted upon the aggrieved party or minor child by the defendant.

- The court is required to question the defendant as to the defendant's ownership or access to firearms, permits, and ammunition, as well as the identifying information of the same.

- The defendant is required to surrender to the sheriff all items listed in the order. The sheriff may charge a reasonable storage fee and is not liable for any damage due to storage or deterioration. The terms of the order must include a notice of the penalty for a violation and notice of the procedure for the defendant to request return of the firearms.

- By motion, the defendant may request the return of the items at the expiration of the order. The court is required to determine whether any State or federal law would preclude the return of the items. If a motion for return is not filed, or if the defendant is precluded by law from re-obtaining the items, or fails to remit fees to the sheriff for storage, then an order for disposition may be sought.

- A third party owner of the firearms may file a motion for return of the seized firearms.
- It is a Class H felony to (1) violate the court order, (2) fail to surrender the firearms, ammunition or permits, or (3) provide false information to the court.

The act is effective December 1, 2003, and applies to offenses committed on or after that date.

This fiscal analysis is independent of the impact of other criminal penalty bills being considered by the General Assembly, which could also increase the projected prison population and thus the availability of prison beds in future years. The Fiscal Research Division is tracking the cumulative effect of all criminal penalty bills on the prison system as well as the Judicial Department.*

BILL SUMMARY:[1] This bill expands current G.S. 14-269.8, which prohibits a person subject to a Chapter 50B emergency or ex parte order from purchasing a firearm. It also expands Chapter 50B by creating a Class H felony for a defendant subject to a domestic violence order to possess or purchase a firearm. Under this bill, a court must order a defendant to surrender his firearms to the sheriff if he poses a threat to himself or others; under current law, this action is discretionary. This does not apply to law enforcement or military employees who possess or use firearms as part of their official duties.

Current G.S. 14-269.8 provides that it is a Class H felony for any person to purchase or attempt to purchase any gun, rifle, pistol, or other firearm while there remains in effect a Chapter 50B domestic violence order prohibiting the person from purchasing a firearm. This bill expands current G.S. 14-269.8 by (1) making it unlawful to also own, possess, receive, and attempt to own, possess, purchase, or receive a firearm; and (2) adding machine gun, ammunition, and permits to purchase or carry concealed firearms in place of "gun", "rifle" and "pistol."

The second edition of the bill requires the sheriff, instead of the defendant, to apply for an order of disposition of firearms. It also adds a provision pertaining to the sale of firearms if the sheriff conducts a sale of firearms surrendered by a defendant. In these circumstances, the sheriff must give any proceeds from the sale (after deducting costs associated with the sale) to the defendant. Under current law, the sheriff must, within 30 days after the sale, pay any proceeds to the treasurer of the county board of education in which the sale is made.

(NOTE: Third edition of the bill makes two minor clarifying changes and changes effective date to December 1, 2003)

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

General

The Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission prepares prison population projections for each criminal penalty bill. The Commission assumes for each bill that increasing criminal penalties does not have a deterrent or incapacitative effect on crime. Therefore, the Fiscal Research Division (FRD) does not assume savings due to deterrent effects for this bill or other criminal penalty bills.

Department of Correction

The Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission prepares inmate population projections annually. The projections used for incarceration fiscal notes and fiscal memos are based on January 2003 projections. These projections are based on historical information on incarceration and release rates under Structured Sentencing, crime rate forecasts by a technical advisory board, probation and revocation rates, and the decline (parole and maxouts) of the stock prison population sentenced under previous sentencing acts. Based on the most recent population projections and estimated available prison bed capacity, there are no surplus prison beds available for the five year Fiscal Note horizon and beyond. The number of beds needed will always be equal to the projected number of inmates due to a bill.

[1] AOC Research and Planning

The Sentencing Commission notes that in 2001-02 there were no convictions for violations of G.S. 14-269.8 for purchase or attempt to purchase any gun, rifle, pistol, or other firearm while a protective order is in place. However, it is not known how many additional Class H convictions will result from adding conduct to G.S. 50B-3.1(c) that is not currently illegal under G.S. 14-269.8.

It is also not known how many new felony charges would occur as a result of amending G.S. 14-269.8 to include "own, possess, receive or attempt to own, possess, or receive a machine gun, ammunition, or permits to purchase or carry concealed weapons if ordered by the court" and to include successive protective orders. If, for example, there were three additional Class H convictions per year due to the proposed broadening of the above statutes, the combination of active sentences and probation revocations would result in the need for one additional prison bed the first year and two additional prison beds the second year. In 2001-02, 34 percent of Class H felony offenders were sentenced to active sentences, 50 percent were sentenced to intermediate sanctions, and 16 percent were sentenced to community punishment. On average, offenders were sentenced to a minimum of ten and a maximum of twelve months.

Judicial Branch

For most criminal penalty bills, the Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) provides Fiscal Research with an analysis of the fiscal impact of the specific bill. For these bills, fiscal impact is typically based on the assumption that court time will increase due to an expected increase in trials and a corresponding increase in the hours of work for judges, clerks and prosecutors. This increased court time is also expected to result in greater expenditures for jury fees and indigent defense.

AOC data for calendar year 2002 indicate that there were approximately 27,680 Chapter 50B protective orders issued, and two defendants were charged under current G.S. 14-269.8 for purchasing a firearm in violation of a domestic violence order. Since this bill expands current G.S. 14-269.8 and therefore creates more opportunities for violations, the AOC anticipates an increase in the number of charges under this statute. However, the AOC has no data from which to estimate the number of new felony charges that would arise from this bill.

The AOC notes that SB 919 makes mandatory one form of relief under Chapter 50B that is currently issued at the court's discretion. Under current G.S. 50B-3.1(a)(11), the court or magistrate may specify in the protective order that the offender is prohibited from purchasing a firearm for a time fixed in the order. On the ex parte domestic violence protective order and domestic violence protective order forms, the judge can designate that the defendant is prohibited from possessing firearms, from purchasing firearms, and/or the defendant's concealed handgun permit is suspended for the effective period of the order.

The AOC does not anticipate this bill to increase the length or complexity of such hearings as judges currently make determinations in the hearings as to whether a defendant possesses a firearm and whether he poses a threat to himself or others. However, since this bill broadens the items that can be confiscated and broadens the circumstances under which firearms can be disposed, the AOC notes that the bill could potentially increase the number of motions and hearings. District court judges would be required to conduct hearings and issue orders with respect to these new proceedings; clerks would incur additional workload in processing orders and complying with notice requirements.

With respect to the new Class H felonies created under Chapter 50B, the AOC has no data from which to estimate the number of new felony charges that would occur as a result of this bill. For offenses that are brought to trial as Class H felonies, the estimated court cost is $6,066. For Class H felony offenses not brought to trial, and where a guilty plea is entered, AOC estimates the cost per guilty plea at $352.

Local Law Enforcement

Under this bill, surrendered firearms and ammunition would be stored by county sheriffs. Counties would be allowed to charge a "reasonable fee" for this storage, to be used to pay the costs of administration and other law enforcement purposes. The amount of this fee is not set, and would likely vary by county and case. The Sheriff's Association has noted that some individuals have surrendered large collections of guns. In these instances, the sheriff may not have space to store the gun collection onsite, and will contract with a federally licensed firearms dealer for storage. This legislation allows sheriffs to pass private storage costs on to the gun owners. It would also permit the sheriff to charge a gun owner for storing a gun or guns and ammunition onsite, in an undetermined amount. Fiscal Research cannot estimate the range of fees charged or the county revenue that would be generated.

SOURCES OF DATA: Department of Correction; Judicial Branch; North Carolina Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission; and, Office of State Construction.

TECHNICAL CONSIDERATIONS:

This legislation provides that, if a surrendered firearm is sold, the proceeds from the sale – minus expenses incurred by the sheriff – shall be distributed to the firearm's owner. Under current law, confiscated firearms may fall under a more general provision, G.S. 15-15, which states that, after paying for expenses, local law enforcement agencies shall pay the balance then remaining from the proceeds of such sales to the treasurer of the county board of education of the county in which such sale is made. In addition, G.S. 15-11.1 allows for the disposition of seized firearms to sheriffs only for destruction. It is not clear whether any firearms surrendered under domestic violence protective orders are currently sold, with the proceeds distributed to local education agencies (LEAs). If LEAs currently receive revenue from such sales, then this legislation would negatively impact LEA revenue. We cannot project the extent of the impact.

HOUSE BILL 1049:
Licensed Psych. Assoc./Insurance Payments

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	House Finance	Sponsor:	Rep. Holliman
Date:	June 17 2003	Analysis by:	Martha Walston
Version:	2nd Edition		Committee Counsel*

SUMMARY: House Bill 1049 was given a favorable report in House Insurance and does the following:

- Permits licensed psychological associates to receive fees directly from insurers.
- Allows the Psychology Practice Board to require applicants for licensure to pay the fee for the national written examination directly to the vendor. The cost of the examination shall be set by the vendor.
- Increases the fee for a temporary license from $25 to $35.

The act becomes effective January 1, 2004, and applies to services rendered by psychological associates on and after that date.

BILL ANALYSIS: Section 1 –Current Law - G.S. 58-50-30(a1) provides that if a health benefit plan or policy of insurance under a Health Maintenance Organization provides coverage or payment for any service that is within the practice of certain providers, then the insured persons are entitled to coverage and to choose their providers. The providers are entitled to third party reimbursements for the services rendered. Duly licensed psychologists are among the listed providers.

HB 1049 expands definition of a duly licensed psychologist to include licensed psychological associates.

Sections 2 and 3 – Current Law - G.S. 135-40.7B provides the types of benefits for the treatment of mental illness and chemical dependency that are covered under the State Health Plan. A licensed psychological associate may not provide necessary care and treatment for mental health unless under the direct employment and supervision of a licensed psychiatrist or licensed or certified doctor of psychology. A licensed psychological associate may not provide necessary care and treatment for chemical dependency unless the associate has received the appropriate substance abuse training and experience and is working under the direct supervision of physicians, psychologists, or psychiatrists at the facility.

HB 1049 would allow licensed psychological associates to receive payment for necessary care and treatment of mental health and chemical dependency treatment under the State Health Plan.

Section 4 –Current Law - G.S. 90-270.18 provides the fees the Psychology Practice Board may charge to carry out its functions. The Board may charge the cost of the national written exam plus $50, and $25 for a temporary license.

HB 1049 -- would allow the Board to have the fee for the national exam be set by the vendor and remitted directly to the vendor by the applicants. The PCS also allows a $10 increase in the fee for temporary licenses (from $25 to $35).

*Kory Goldsmith, counsel to House Insurance, contributed substantially to this summary.

BACKGROUND: Article 18A of Chapter 90 is the Psychology Practice Act. It governs the qualifications and licensure of persons who practice psychology in North Carolina.

The practice of psychology is defined as the observation, description, evaluation, interpretation, or modification of human behavior by the application of psychological principles, methods, and procedures for the purpose of preventing or eliminating symptomatic, maladaptive, or undesired behavior or of enhancing interpersonal relationships, work and life adjustment, personal effectiveness, behavioral health, or mental health. It includes: psychological testing and the evaluation or assessment of personal characteristics such as intelligence, personality, abilities, interests, aptitudes, and neuropsychological functioning; counseling, psychoanalysis, psychotherapy, hypnosis, biofeedback, and behavior analysis and therapy; diagnosis, including etiology and prognosis, and treatment of mental and emotional disorder or disability, alcoholism and substance abuse, disorders of habit or conduct, as well as of the psychological and neuropsychological aspects of physical illness, accident, injury, or disability; and psychoeducational evaluation, therapy, remediation, and consultation.

In order to obtain licensure as a psychologist, an individual must be at least 18 years old, have good moral character, have received a doctoral psychology degree, have at least two years of supervised experience, and pass a licensure exam.

In order to obtain licensure as a psychological associate, an individual must be at least 18 years old, have good moral character, have received a master's psychology degree and pass a licensure exam. Under rules adopted by the Psychology Board, psychological associates must receive at least one hour per month of supervision from a licensed psychologist or other qualified professional.

As a general rule, insurance companies will not directly reimburse psychological associates for services rendered unless the psychological associate is employed and directly supervised by a psychologist or other professional.

REVENUES
Psychological Board	* Less than $100 revenue increase annually *

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: NC Psychological Board.

EFFECTIVE DATE: January 1, 2004 and applies to services rendered by psychological associates on and after that date.

BILL SUMMARY: The bill makes three changes to the law governing the practice of psychology. First, it allows licenses psychological associates to receive fees directly from insurers. Second, it authorizes the Psychological Practice Board to require applicants for licensure to pay their national exam fee directly to the vendor. Finally, it increases the fee for a temporary license from $25 to $35.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: According to the Psychological Practice Board, there are currently 1291 Licensed Psychological Associates in North Carolina. Often these practitioners must be directly under the employment and supervision of a licensed psychiatrist or certified doctor of psychology to receive third party payments. All these individuals would now be able to receive payment from third party payers, including the state health plan. The impact this change will have on the state health plan is outlined in the associated actuarial note.

The second change in the bill relates to the fees assessed for the national exam. According to the Board, the actual cost of the examination is not anticipated to change. Currently, applicants pay "the cost of the examination to the Board" directly to the Board, and then the Board remits this amount to the national examination service. The proposed legislation would permit the Board to have the applicants pay the cost of the examination directly to the examination vendor. The current cost of each examination is $450.00, and approximately 110 applicants are sitting for the examination during a fiscal year.

The final change relates to the fee for a temporary license. The Board estimates that five (5) persons or less will be affected each fiscal year by the increase in the temporary license fee. If the maximum of five is reached, the Board would see a revenue increase from this portion of the bill of $50.00.

NORTH CAROLINA GENERAL ASSEMBLY
LEGISLATIVE ACTUARIAL NOTE

BILL NUMBER: House Bill 1049

SHORT TITLE: Licensed Psychological Associates/Independent Practice

SPONSOR(S): Rep. Holliman

SYSTEM OR PROGRAM AFFECTED: Teachers' and State Employees' Comprehensive Major Medical Plan.

FUNDS AFFECTED: State General Fund, State Highway Fund, other State employer receipts, premium payments for dependents by active and retired teachers and State employees, premium payments for coverages selected by eligible former teachers and State employees and premium payments for coverages selected by firefighters, rescue squad workers, and members of the National Guard.

BILL SUMMARY: The bill allows psychological associates to provide mental health and chemical dependency benefits under the Teachers' and State Employees' Comprehensive Major Medical Plan without supervision from a licensed psychologist under certain conditions. Psychological associates must be licensed as independent licensed psychological associates with at least five years of experience consisting of at least 7,500 hours of post-licensure supervised practice with average or above supervisory performance ratings, a supervisory recommendation for independent practice, hold a health services provider certification, and pass a licensing qualifying examination for independent practice if licensed on and after January 1, 2004. The Plan is subject to the bill's requirements by virtue of being subject to the provisions of G.S. 58-50-30.

EFFECTIVE DATE: When the bill becomes law.

ESTIMATED IMPACT ON STATE: Aon Consulting, consulting actuary for the Teachers' and State Employees' Comprehensive Major Medical Plan, projects that the bill will have a negligible cost impact upon the Plan. Hartman & Associates, consulting actuary for the General Assembly's Fiscal Research Division, estimates that the bill is not expected to have a significant financial impact on the Plan.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: The Comprehensive Major Medical Plan for Teachers and State Employees is divided into two programs. From October 1982, through June 1986, the Plan only had a self-funded indemnity type of program which covered all employees, retired employees, eligible dependents of employees and retired employees, and eligible former employees and their eligible dependents authorized to continue coverage past a termination of employment other than for retirement or disability purposes. A prepaid program of coverage by health maintenance organizations (HMOs) was offered in July 1986, as an alternative to the Plan's self-insured indemnity program. The benefits of the self-insured indemnity type of program are spelled out in Part 3 of Article 3 of Chapter 135 of the North Carolina General Statutes (i.e., $350 annual deductible, 20% coinsurance up to $1,500 annually, etc. paid by the program's members). HMOs are required to offer benefits that are comparable to those provided by the self-insured indemnity program. Beginning in July, 2000, firefighters, rescue squad workers, and members of the National Guard and their eligible dependents were allowed to voluntarily participate in the Plan on a fully contributory basis, provided they were ineligible for any other type of group health benefits and had been without such benefits for at least six months. Employer-paid non-contributory premiums are only authorized for the indemnity program's coverage for employees and retired employees. All other types of premium in the indemnity program are fully contributory, except for job-sharing public school teachers who are authorized partially contributory premiums at 50% of non-contributory rates. The Plan's Executive Administrator has set the premium rates for firefighters, rescue squad workers, and members of the National Guard and their families at 20% more than the comparable rates charged for employees, retired employees, and their families. Premiums paid by employers to HMOs are limited to like amounts paid to the indemnity program with employees and retired employees paying any HMO amounts above the indemnity program's non-contributory rates. Both types of coverage continue to be available in the Plan; however none of the HMOs with certificates of authority to transact business in North Carolina have offered to participate in the Plan since September 30, 2001. The Plan's employees and retired employees select the type of program that they wish for themselves and their dependents during the months of August and September of each year for coverage beginning in October. The demographics of the Plan as of December 31, 2002, include:

Assumptions for the Self-Insured Indemnity Program: For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2002, the self-insured program started its operations with a beginning cash balance of $91.6 million. Receipts for the year are estimated to be $1.371 billion from premium collections and $7 million from investment earnings for a total of $1.378 billion in receipts for the year. Disbursements from the self-insured program are expected to be $1.335 billion in claim payments and $38 million in administration and claims processing expenses for a total of $1.373 billion for the year beginning July 1, 2002. For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2002, the self-insured indemnity program is expected to have a net operating gain of approximately $5 million for the year. Without reserving an additional $15 million for implementation of the claims data and privacy requirements of the federal Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPPA) that take effect on and after April 14, 2003, the Plan's self-insured indemnity program is expected to have an available beginning cash balance of $96 million for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2003. The self-insured indemnity program is nonetheless assumed to be unable to carry out its operations for the 2003-2005 biennium without increases in its current premium rates or a reduction in existing benefits or payments to health care providers or both. This assumption is further predicated upon the fact that the program's cost containment strategies (hospital DRG reimbursements, discounts on hospital outpatient services, pre-admission hospital testing, pre-admission hospital inpatient certification with length-of-stay approval, hospital bill audits, case and disease management for selected medical conditions, mental health case management, coordination of benefits with other payers, Medicare benefit "carve-outs", cost reduction contracts with participating physicians and other providers, a prescription drug benefit manager with manufacturer rebates from formularies, and fraud detection) are maintained and improved where possible. Current non-contributory premium rates are $186.04 monthly for employees whose primary payer of health benefits is Medicare and $244.38 per month for employees whose primary payer of health benefits is not Medicare. Fully contributory premium amounts for employee and child(ren) contracts are $115.78 monthly for children whose primary payer of health benefits is Medicare and $152.32 monthly for other covered children, and $277.68 per month for family contracts whose dependents have Medicare as the primary payer of health benefits and $365.36 per month for other family contract dependents. Claim cost trends are expected to increase 12% annually. Total enrollment in the program is expected to increase less than 1% annually over the next two years. The number of enrolled active employees is expected to show no increase over the next two years, whereas the growth in the number of retired employees is assumed to be 5% per year. The program is expected to have a 2% decrease in the number of active employee dependents per year whereas the number of retiree dependents is expected to increase 2% per year. Investment earnings are based upon a 4.5% return on available cash balances. The self-insured indemnity program maintains a claim stabilization reserve for claim cost fluctuations equal to 7.5% of annual claim payments without reserving additional funds for incurred but unreported claims.

Assumptions for the Self-Insured Indemnity Program's Mental Health and Chemical Dependency Benefits: The Teachers' and State Employees' Comprehensive Major Medical Plan pays for the mental health and chemical services of psychological associates with a masters degree in psychology if they are under the direct employment and supervision of a licensed psychiatrist or licensed or certified doctor of psychology.

During the last five fiscal years, the Plan's self-insured indemnity program made the following expenditures for mental health care.

(2) Ticket. – A certificate or token showing that a fare or admission fee has been paid.

(3) Ticket broker. – A person, firm, or corporation who engages in the business of reselling one or more tickets of admission to live athletic contests, concerts, theatre performances, or other entertainments, amusements, or exhibitions where the general public is admitted, and meets the requirements of registration and bonding pursuant to this Article.

(b) Charitable or non-profit organizations and their employees or agents and volunteers shall not be subject to the provisions of this Article when offering for sale any tickets of admission in a raffle, auction, or other fund-raising activity for the benefit of the organization's purposes.

(c) For any single athletic contest or entertainment event that occurs no more than once annually or any series of athletic contests that occur no more than once annually and occur within a time period not exceeding 10 days, a promoter of a contest or event may contractually restrict the resale of a ticket to that contest or event by giving notice of the restriction on the back of the ticket. An owner, operator, lessee, or tenant of the property where the contest or event is to be held or is being held may contractually restrict the resale of the right of occupancy of any specific suite, seat, or seating area by giving notice in writing of the restriction.

"§ 66-259.3. Requirements for registration; issuance of registration; renewal; failure to comply; Ticker Brokers' Revenue Account.

(a) Before placing any advertisement or making any other representations to prospective buyers in this State, a person seeking to practice or engage in business as a ticket broker shall satisfy the following:

benefit of any person damaged by the ticket broker's breach of contract or any obligation arising from the breach or by any violation of this Article. Any person claiming against the bond may maintain an action at law against the ticket broker and the surety. The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Chapter 66 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new Article to read:

(2) Ticket. – A certificate or token showing that a fare or admission fee has been paid.

(3) Ticket broker. – A person, firm, or corporation who resells one or more tickets of admission to live athletic contests, concerts, theatre performances, or other entertainments, amusements, or exhibitions where the general public is admitted, and meets the requirements of registration and bonding pursuant to this Article.

(4) Ticket sales agent. – A person, firm, or corporation who sells one or more tickets of admission to live athletic contests, concerts, theatre performances, or other entertainments, amusements, or exhibitions where the general public is admitted.

"§ 66-259.2. Authority to resell tickets.

Notwithstanding G.S. 14-344(a), a ticket broker may charge a service fee not to exceed three dollars ($3.00) when tickets or other evidences of the right of entry are sold by a ticket sales agent authorized to do business by the municipality or county where the ticket sales agent's place of business is located. The owner, operator, lessee, or tenant of the property where the athletic contest or entertainment event is to be held or is being held or the promoter of the contest or event may charge or may authorize, in writing, any person to charge a service fee for the sale of any ticket, privilege, or license of admission in addition to the face value of the ticket. The writing granting authority to another to charge a service fee shall specify the amount of the service fee to be charged for the sale of each ticket, privilege, or license of admission.

(b) For any athletic contest or entertainment event described in G.S. 66-259.6, a promoter of a contest or event may contractually restrict the resale of a ticket to that contest or event by giving notice of the restriction on the back of the ticket. An owner, operator, lessee, or tenant of the property where the contest or event is to be held or is being held may contractually restrict the resale of the right of occupancy of any specific suite, seat, or seating area by giving notice in writing of the restriction.

(a) Nothing in this Article or any other provision of law shall criminally prohibit a person who is the original purchaser of one or more tickets to an athletic contest or entertainment event covered under this Article and who purchased the tickets for personal use from reselling or offering for resale the tickets for any price. However, the person shall not sell or offer to sell the ticket within 1,500 feet of a ticket office for the contest or event or a public entrance to the contest or event.

(b) Nothing in this Article or any other provision of law shall criminally prohibit a person who, for personal use, purchases one or more tickets to an athletic contest or entertainment event from reselling or offering for resale any of the tickets in any zone within the restricted areas, as provided in this subsection or in G.S. 66-259.6(b), where the activity is authorized by the promoter of the contest or event and the owner or operator of the venue where the contest or event is being held or to be held.

(c) Charitable organizations and their employees and volunteers shall not be subject to the provisions of this Article when offering for sale any tickets of admission in a raffle, auction, or similar fund-raising activity for the benefit of the organization's charitable purposes.

"§ 90-259.4. Requirements; issuance of registration; renewal; failure to comply.

(a) Before placing any advertisement or making any other representations to prospective buyers in this State, a person seeking to practice or engage in business as a ticket broker shall satisfy the following:

HOUSE BILL 1072:
Regulate Ticket Brokers

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	House Finance	Sponsor:	Rep. Gibson and Miner
Date:	June 11, 2003	Analysis by:	Martha Walston
Version:	H1072-CSLU-4 [v.12]		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 1072 creates a new Article under the Commerce and Business Chapter of the General Statutes that would regulate ticket brokers. The bill is in House Finance because it imposes a registration fee on the ticket brokers and assesses a 3% privilege tax on the brokerage fee charged by the ticket broker:

The 3% privilege tax becomes effective October 1, 2003, and applies to tickets sold on or after that date. The remainder of the bill is effective when it becomes law.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 1072 creates a new Article 32A that regulates ticket brokers:

§66-259.1 defines the following terms: promoter, ticket, ticket broker, and ticket sales agent.

§66-259.2 makes it unlawful to resell any ticket of admission to any athletic contest, concert, theatre performance, amusement, exhibition, or other entertainment event where the general public is admitted for a price in excess of the face value of the ticket UNLESS THE TICKET IS SOLD BY A REGISTERED TICKET BROKER. (See Section 2 of the bill)

Exempts charitable or non-profit organizations from the new article when the organization is selling tickets to a raffle, auction, or other fund-raising activity for the benefit of the organization's purposes.

Authorizes a promoter to contractually restrict the resale of a ticket to a single athletic contest or entertainment event that occurs no more than once annually or to any series of athletic contest that occur no more than once annually and occur within a time period not exceeding 10 days. The owner, operator, lessee, or tenant of the property where the contest or event is held may contractually restrict the resale of the right of occupancy.

§66-259.3 sets out the following requirements for a person seeking to practice or engage in the business as a ticket broker:

- Maintain a permanent office or place of business in the State.
- File for registration as a ticket broker with the Secretary of Crime Control and Public Safety.
- Obtain a bond in the amount of $100,000.
- Pay a registration fee not to exceed $2,000. This fee must be paid to the Secretary. A renewal fee not to exceed $2,000 must be paid annually.

§66-259.4 requires the ticket broker to disclose the broker's refund policy, cancellation policy, and the difference between the face value of the ticket and the amount the broker charges for the ticket. A broker may only sell tickets at the broker's office or place of business.

§66-259.5 disqualifies a person from practicing as a ticket broker if the person has been convicted of a felony and has not been pardoned or had his or her civil rights restored.

§66-259.7 authorizes the Secretary of Crime Control and Public Safety to punish a person who willfully violates the Article. The Secretary may order the person to cease from violating the Article, suspend or revoke the certificate of registration, or impose a civil penalty of up to $1,000 for each violation. A willful violation of the Article constitutes a Class 2 misdemeanor.

§66-259.8 authorizes the Secretary of Crime Control and Public Safety to adopt rules.

SECTION 2 OF THE BILL clarifies that the new Article is not applicable to current law set out in G.S. 14-344. This statue authorizes a person, firm, or corporation to add a reasonable service fee to the face value of a ticket sold. This service fee may not exceed $3.00 for each ticket, except that a promoter or operator of the property where the event is to be held and a ticket sales agency may agree on a fee greater than $3.00 for the first sale of tickets by the ticket sales agent

SECTION 3 OF THE BILL imposes 3% privilege tax on the brokerage fee charged by a ticket broker. A brokerage fee is the difference between the amount charged by the ticket broker for the ticket and the face value of the ticket. A county or city may not levy a license tax on a ticket broker who is assessed the 3% privilege tax on the brokerage fee.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: NC Department of Revenue, Crime Control and Public Safety.

EFFECTIVE DATE: October 1, 2003.

BILL SUMMARY: The legislation allows and regulates ticket brokering, and applies a 3% privilege tax on the service fees charged by these ticket brokers. As a part of the regulation, brokers are required to register with the Secretary of Crime Control and Public Safety and pay a $2,000 registration fee to offset the costs of the program. Bonds are also required.

Establishes a civil penalty of up to $1,000 and a Class 2 misdemeanor criminal penalty for violation of the act.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: There are two primary fiscal impacts related to the bill. The first relates to the tax while the second relates to the fee. In 2000-01, the Department of Revenue collected $27.6 million from the 3% privilege tax on amusements. Of this amount, approximately $6.67 million was drawn from amusements that could be impacted by the bill. The legislation does not jeopardize this revenue. Because this is a new tax, it will result in a revenue gain. Neither Tax Research nor Fiscal Research can estimate the exact amount. However, the increase is expected to be relatively small.

As far as the regulatory fee is concerned, according to the United States Ticket Brokers Association there are 788 bonded ticket brokers in the United States, 11 of which are currently in North Carolina. The National Association of Ticket Brokers boasts approximately 170 members nationwide, only one of which is in North Carolina. The registration of all current NC brokers would result in a revenue gain of approximately $24,000 (12 x $2,000). This creates the low end of the estimate. However, the actual amount of revenue increase will likely be higher as the number of ticket brokers is also likely to increase.

Department of Correction

The Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission prepares inmate population projections annually. The projections used for incarceration fiscal notes and fiscal memos are based on January 2003 projections. These projections are based on historical information on incarceration and release rates under Structured Sentencing, crime rate forecasts by a technical advisory board, probation and revocation rates, and the decline (parole and maxouts) of the stock prison population sentenced under previous sentencing acts. Based on the most recent population projections and estimated available prison bed capacity, there are no surplus prison beds available for the five year Fiscal Note horizon and beyond. The number of beds needed will always be equal to the projected number of inmates due to a bill.

Because the proposed bill creates a new offense, the Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission does not have any historical data from which to estimate the impact of this bill on the prison population. It is not known how many offenders might be sentenced under this bill. Only 12% (3,944) of total Class 2 misdemeanants convicted in 2002 (31,425) received active sentence. The average sentence is 23.4 days so time served will be in local jails and the Department of Correction (DOC) will not have to reimburse (only for misdemeanants with sentences over 30 days). (Active sentences between 1-90 days are served in local jails; the DOC reimburses counties for active sentences between 30-90 days). Because offenders serving active sentences of 90 days or less are housed in county jails, convictions under this bill would not be expected to have a significant impact on the prison population.

Judicial Branch

For most criminal penalty bills, the Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) provides Fiscal Research with an analysis of the fiscal impact of the specific bill. For these bills, fiscal impact is typically based on the assumption that court time will increase due to an expected increase in trials and a corresponding increase in the hours of work for judges, clerks and prosecutors. This increased court time is also expected to result in greater expenditures for jury fees and indigent defense. AOC does not expect a significant increase in the number of charges for as a result of this bill given the relatively small number of ticket brokers operating in the state.

Department of Crime Control and Public Safety

Staff at the Department of Crime Control and Public Safety (CCPS) indicated that most likely this new function would be added to the responsibilities of the Alcohol Law Enforcement Division, which currently monitors bingo activities or to the duties of the Boxing Commission. The Department would handle the regulatory function such as issuing rules, registration of brokers, issuing notices of violation, etc. However, criminal enforcement activities would be the responsibility of local law enforcement agencies.

CCPS staff estimates that the rulemaking process will require 48 hours of work by a staff attorney, whose annual salary is $75,083, at a cost of $1,985 NR, including salary and benefits. This is a one-time cost in the first year to develop and issue rules.

The Department would add a Grade 61 administrative support position which will be responsible for registering ticket brokers, receiving complaints, issuing notices of violations, assessing fines, and referring complaints to local law enforcement agencies. The annual salary cost is estimated using the midpoint salary of $27,391 for a grade 61 position. The cost of benefits includes the state's share for FICA (7.65%), retirement (3.03%), and health insurance ($2,933). The combined annual salary and benefits are estimated to be $33,249 in fiscal year 2003-04. In addition, an annual amount of $500 is included for the costs of forms, supplies, equipment, postage, travel, etc.

(3) "Proprietary security organization" means any person, firm, association, or corporation or department thereof which employs security guards, alarm responders, armored car personnel, or couriers who are employed regularly and exclusively as an employee by an employer in connection with the business affairs of such employer.

(b) It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, association, or corporation and its agents and employees to employ an armed security guard or a private investigator and knowingly authorize or permit him to carry a firearm during the course of performing his duties as an armed security guard or a private investigator if the Board has not issued him a firearm registration permit under this section or if the person, firm, association, or corporation permits an armed security guard or a private investigator to carry a firearm during the course of performing his duties whose firearm registration permit has been suspended, revoked, or has otherwise expired:

(1) An armed security guard firearm registration permit or private investigator firearm registration permit grants authority to the armed security ~~guard,~~guard or private investigator, while in the performance of his duties or traveling directly to and from work, to carry ~~a standard .38 caliber or .32 caliber revolver or~~ any ~~other~~ firearm approved by the Board and not otherwise prohibited by law. The use of any firearm not approved by the Board is prohibited.

(2) All firearms carried by authorized armed security guards in the performance of their duties shall be owned or leased by the employer. Personally owned firearms shall not be carried by an armed security guard in the performance of his duties.

(c) The applicant for ~~an armed security guard~~ a firearm registration permit shall submit an application to the Board on a form provided by the Board.

(d) Each ~~armed security guard~~ firearm registration permit issued under this section shall be in the form of a pocket card designed by the Board and shall identify the contract security company or proprietary security organization by whom the holder of the firearm registration permit is employed. An armed security guard firearm registration permit expires one year after the date of its issuance and must be renewed annually unless the permit holder's employment terminates before the expiration of the permit. Before renewing a permit, the Board may require a permit holder to complete continuing education courses approved by the Board.

(d1) Each private investigator firearm registration permit issued under this section shall be in the form of a pocket card designed by the Board and shall identify the name of the private investigator. A private investigator firearm registration permit expires one year from the date of issuance and must be renewed annually. Before renewing a permit, the Board may require a permit holder to complete continuing education courses approved by the Board.

(e) If the holder of an armed security guard firearm registration permit terminates his employment with the contract security company or proprietary security organization, the firearm registration permit expires and must be returned to the Board within 15 working days of the date of termination of the employee.

(f) A contract security company or proprietary security organization shall be allowed to employ an individual for 30 days as an armed security guard pending completion of the firearms training required by this Chapter, if the contract security company or proprietary security organization obtains prior approval from the Director. The Board and the Attorney General shall provide by rule the procedure by which a private investigator, a contract security ~~company~~ company, or a proprietary security organization applicant may be issued a temporary firearm registration permit by the Director of the Board pending a determination by the Board of whether to grant or deny an applicant a firearm registration permit.

(g) The Board may suspend, revoke, or deny ~~an armed security guard~~ a firearm registration permit if the holder or applicant has been convicted of any crime involving moral turpitude or any crime involving the illegal use, carrying, or possession of a deadly weapon or for violation of this section or rules promulgated by the Board to implement this section. The Director may summarily suspend ~~an armed security guard~~ a firearm registration permit pending resolution of charges involving the illegal use, carrying, or possession of a firearm lodged against the holder of the permit.

(h) The Board and the Attorney General shall establish a firearms training program for ~~armed security guards~~licensees and registered employees to be conducted by agencies and institutions approved by the Board and the Attorney General. The Board and the Attorney General may approve training programs conducted by a contract security company and the security department of a proprietary security organization, if the contract security company or security department of a proprietary security organization offers the courses listed in subdivision (1) of this subsection and if the instructors of the training program are certified trainers approved by the Board and the Attorney General:

(1) The basic training course approved by the Board and the Attorney General shall consist of a minimum of four hours of classroom training which shall include:
   a. Legal limitations on the use of hand guns and on the powers and authority of an armed security guard,
   b. Familiarity with this section,
   c. Range firing and procedure and hand gun safety and maintenance, and
   d. Any other topics of armed security guard training curriculum which the Board deems necessary.

(2) An applicant for ~~an armed security guard~~ a firearm registration permit must fire a minimum qualifying score to be determined by the Board and the Attorney General on any approved target course approved by the Board and the Attorney General.

(3) ~~An armed security guard~~A firearms registrant must complete a refresher course and shall requalify on the prescribed target course prior to the renewal of his firearm registration permit.

(4) The Board and the Attorney General shall have the authority to promulgate all rules necessary to administer the provisions of this section concerning the training requirements of this section.

(i) The Board may not issue ~~an armed security guard~~ a firearm registration permit to an applicant until the applicant's employer submits evidence satisfactory to the Board that the applicant:

(1) Has satisfactorily completed an approved training course.

(2) Meets all the qualifications established by this section and by the rules promulgated to implement this section.

(3) Is mentally and physically capable of handling a firearm within the guidelines set forth by the Board and the Attorney General.

(j) The Board and the Attorney General are authorized to prescribe reasonable rules to implement this section, including rules for periodic requalification with the firearm and for the maintenance of records relating to persons issued ~~an armed security guard~~ a firearm registration permit by the Board.

(k) All fees collected pursuant to G.S. 74C-9(e)(7) and (8) shall be expended, under the direction of the Board, for the purpose of defraying the expense of administering the firearms provisions of this Chapter.

(l) The Board and the Attorney General shall establish a training program for certified trainers to be conducted by agencies and institutions approved by the Board and the Attorney General. The Board or the Attorney General shall have the authority to promulgate all rules necessary to administer the provisions of this subsection.

(1) The Board and the Attorney General shall also establish renewal requirements for certified trainers. Before renewing a certification, the Board may require a certified trainer to complete continuing education courses approved by the Board.

(2) No certified firearms trainer shall certify ~~an armed security guard~~ a licensee or registrant unless the ~~armed security guard~~licensee or registrant has successfully completed the firearms training requirements set out above in subsection (h) of this section.

(m) The Board and the Attorney General shall establish a training program for unarmed security guards to be conducted by agencies and institutions approved by the Board and the Attorney General. The Board and the Attorney General shall have the authority to promulgate all rules necessary to administer the provisions of this subsection.

(n) A private investigator shall be permitted to carry a concealed weapon during the performance of his duties as a private investigator upon: (i) obtaining a concealed weapon's permit issued pursuant to G.S. 14-415.11; (ii) successfully completing the firearms training course approved by the Board and the Attorney General; and (iii) having a notation affixed to the face of the firearms registration card designating that the armed private investigator is allowed to carry a concealed weapon. A private investigator who does not carry a weapon during the course of his duties as a private investigator but who wishes to carry a concealed weapon while not engaged in private investigative duties shall be permitted to do so upon completion of the requirements set forth in Article 54B of Chapter 14 of the General Statutes."

SECTION 9. Article 1 of Chapter 74C of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 74C-22. Continuing education.

Before renewing a license, registration, certificate, or permit issued pursuant to this Chapter, the Board may, as it deems necessary, require a licensee or registration, certificate, or permit holder to complete continuing education courses approved by the Board. The Board shall establish, by rule, the number of hours of continuing education necessary for renewal and any other requirements for completion of continuing education courses. The Board shall have the authority to approve continuing education courses and shall consider the continuing education course criteria, including the course curriculum, the qualifications of the instructor, the potential benefit to the industry, and any other criteria the Board deems appropriate."

SECTION 10. G.S. 74C-30 reads as rewritten:

"§ 74C-30. Private Protective Services Recovery Fund created; payments to Fund; management; use of funds.

(a) There is hereby created and established a special fund to be known as the "Private Protective Services Recovery Fund" (hereinafter Fund) which shall be set aside and maintained in the Office of the State Treasurer. Said Fund shall be used in the manner provided in this Article for the payment of claims where the aggrieved person has suffered a direct monetary loss by reason of certain acts committed by any person licensed under this Chapter.

(b) Nothing contained in this Article shall limit the authority of the Board to take disciplinary action against any licensee or trainee under this Chapter, nor shall the repayment in full or all obligations to the Fund by any licensee or trainee nullify or modify the effect of any other disciplinary proceeding brought under this Chapter.

(c) In addition to the fees provided for elsewhere in this Chapter, the Board shall charge the following fees which shall be deposited into the Fund:

(1) On July 1, 1983, the Board shall charge every licensee and trainee possessing a license or trainee permit on that date a fee of fifty dollars ($50.00);

(2) The Board shall charge each new applicant for a licensee or trainee permit fifty dollars ($50.00), provided that for purposes of this Article a new applicant is hereby defined as an applicant who did not possess a license or trainee permit on July 1, 1983; and

(3) The Board is authorized to charge each licensee and trainee an additional amount, not to exceed fifty dollars ($50.00), on July 1 of any year in which the balance of the Fund is less than ~~one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000)~~twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), provided that any amount so assessed will be only so much as is needed to raise the level of the Fund to ~~one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000).~~twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000).

(d) The State Treasurer shall invest and reinvest the moneys in the Fund in a manner provided by law, provided that sufficient liquidity shall be maintained to satisfy claims authorized by the Board. The proceeds from ~~such~~ the investments shall be deposited to the credit of the Fund. The Board in its discretion, may use any and all of the proceeds from ~~such~~ the investments or funds that exceed twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) for any of the following purposes:

(1) To advance education and research in the private protective services field for the benefit of those licensed under the provisions of this Chapter and for the improvement of the industry;

(2) To underwrite educational seminars, training centers and other educational projects for the use and benefit generally of licensees and trainees; and

(3) To sponsor, contract for and to underwrite any and all additional educational training and research projects of a similar nature having to do with the advancement of the private protective services field in North Carolina. The Board shall have the authority to sponsor courses given by private individuals, associations, or corporations. However, the Board shall only grant funds as necessary to offset the actual cost of the educational course. Any individual, association, or corporation receiving grant money from the Board shall make the course available to the industry at large. Any individual, association, or corporation receiving grant money from the Board and advertising the course to the industry is required to include in its advertising the following statement: 'The course is being given in whole or in part by a grant from the Private Protective Services Board.'.

(e) By a unanimous vote of the Board, funds in the Fund in excess of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) may be converted to offset the operating expenses of the Board. However, in converting the funds, the Board shall make findings of fact by a written order or resolution supporting the need to make the conversion."

SECTION 11. This act is effective when it becomes law.

The act would become effective when it becomes law.

CURRENT LAW: The Private Protective Services Board (Board) is an occupational licensing board within the Department of Justice. The purpose of the Board is to administer the licensing, education and training requirements to increase the level of integrity, competency and performance of the persons, firms, associations and corporations engaged in the private protective services profession within North Carolina in order to safeguard the public health, safety and welfare. The Board's responsibilities are generally divided into six categories:

1. Background investigation for licensing of 13 occupations
2. Registration of licensee employees
3. Conduct investigations of public complaints
4. Conduct compliance audits
5. Enforce law and rules through administrative disciplinary processes and criminal courts
6. Maintain required records

BILL ANALYSIS:

Sections 1 and 2 make definitional changes. Section 1 renames "counterintelligence service profession" as the "electronic countermeasures profession" to conform to a change in terminology made at the federal level. Section 2 amends the definition of "security guard and patrol profession" to include the protection of patrons and persons being escorted between premises of the entity that entered into the security services contract.

Section 3 reduces the membership of the Board from 14 to 9 members.

Section 4 expands the scope of the Board's powers by authorizing it to do the following:

- Approve training schools, instructors, and course materials for any person, firm, association, or corporation wishing to provide training.

- Approve a design for a badge or shield that indicates a person is licensed to engage in private protective services.

Section 5 allows the licensee to choose the term of the license from among two, three or five years. This section also authorizes the Board to require a licensee to complete continuing education courses approved by the Board before a license may be renewed.

Section 6 makes conforming changes with Section 5 by clarifying that the license fee would be in an amount equal to the current annual fee multiplied by the number of years of the license term, as chosen by the licensee.

Section 7 extends from 20 to 30 days the period by which a licensee must register its employees who will be engaged in providing private protective services after employment begins. Section 7 also authorizes the Board to require that a registered, unarmed security guard complete continuing education courses approved by the Board before renewing the guard's registration.

Section 8 does four things:

- It provides as an additional ground upon which the Board may deny, suspend, or revoke a license that a licensee possessed or displayed a badge or shield that was not designed or approved by the Board.
- It requires licensees to report to the Board, within 30 days, any charges, arrests for, or convictions of a misdemeanor or felony for any of the following:

  (1) Crimes that have as an essential element dishonesty, deceit, fraud, or misrepresentation.
  (2) Illegal use, possession, sale, manufacture, distribution, or transportation of a controlled substance, drug, narcotic, or alcoholic beverage.
  (3) Illegal use, carrying, or possession of a firearm.
  (4) Acts involving assault.
  (5) Acts involving unlawful breaking or entering, burglary, or larceny.
  (6) Any offense involving moral turpitude.

  A failure to report these arrests or convictions shall be grounds for revocation of the license.
- It makes clarifying changes to two other grounds for denial, suspension, or revocation of a license.
- It gives aggrieved persons 60 days to bring an administrative appeal of a denial, revocation, or suspension decision by the Board.

Section 9 does the following:

- It distinguishes private investigators from security guards for purposes of firearm registration permits. Under current law, "private detectives", who are defined to be synonymous with "private investigators" under this Chapter, are included within the definition of "armed security guards." Under the bill, the same permitting requirements would apply to both categories of private protective services professionals.
- It authorizes the Board to require a firearm registration permit holder and a certified firearms trainer to complete continuing education courses before renewing the holder's permit or the trainer's certification.
- It authorizes a private investigator to carry a concealed weapon during the performance of his duties upon doing all of the following:
  - Obtaining a concealed weapon's permit.

- Successfully completing the firearms training course approved by the Board and the Attorney General.
- Having a notation affixed to the face of the firearms registration card designating that the armed private investigator is allowed to carry a concealed weapon.

Section 10 authorizes the Board to require completion of continuing education courses approved by the Board before the renewal of a license, registration, certificate, or permit issued by the Board. The Board would be required to establish, by rule, the number of hours of continuing education courses necessary for renewal and any other requirements for completion of continuing education courses. Under current law, licensees are not required to complete continuing education courses.

Section 11 reduces the minimum balance required to be maintained in the Private Protective Services Recovery Fund (Fund). This Fund is a special fund established within the Office of the State Treasurer that is used to satisfy claims by aggrieved persons who have suffered a direct monetary loss by reason of certain acts committed by a licensee. Under current law, if the balance in the Fund drops below a minimum of $100,000, then the Board is authorized to charge annually each licensee and trainee an additional amount, not to exceed $50.00. The amount assessed will only be so much as is needed to raise the level of the Fund to $100,000. Section 11 lowers the minimum fund balance from $100,000 to $25,000.

Under current law, the State Treasurer invests the monies in the Fund and the Board uses the proceeds of the investments to advance education and research in the private protective services field. Section 11 would authorize the Board to use any funds derived from investments or any funds in excess of the minimum Fund balance for those purposes. It also allows the Board to provide grant money to private individuals, associations, or corporations sponsoring educational courses to offset the actual cost of the courses. The Board would also be able to use funds in excess of $50,000 to offset the operating expenses of the Board, if there is a unanimous vote of the Board and the Board makes findings of fact supporting the need for the funds.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Private Protective Services Board (in the Department of Justice)

EFFECTIVE DATE: When it becomes law.

BILL SUMMARY: This legislation would make changes to the Private Protective Services Act, including:

- Reducing from 14 to 9 the number of members on the Private Protective Services Board.
- Extending the term of a license from one year to two, three, or five years, at the election of the licensee.
- Requiring licensees to report within 30 days to the Board any arrests or convictions for certain misdemeanors and felonies.
- Authorizing the board to establish continuing education requirements for licensees, registered employees, firearms permit holders, and firearms trainers.
- Decreasing the required minimum balance in the Private Protective Services Recovery Fund.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:
The Private Protective Services Board is supported entirely by receipts. As a result, changes to revenues or expenditures will not impact the General Fund.

Section 3: Reduction in Board Members. This section would reduce the number of public board members appointed by the Attorney General from two to one and the number appointed by the Senate President pro Tempore and the House Speaker from five each to three each. (See technical considerations) The elimination of five members will reduce the Board's annual operating expenses by approximately $14,000 due to decreased travel and per diem costs for six meetings per year.

Section 4: Approval of Badge/Shield Design. Section 8 prohibits designs that purport to represent law enforcement officers. The Board could incur minimal costs to review designs.

Sections 4, 5, 7, 8 and 9: Continuing Education Requirements. The Board anticipates minimal costs associated with reviewing courses for approval. Costs for continuing education courses would be borne by the industry.

Sections 5 and 6: Modification of License Terms. Licenses would be issued for two, three, or five years rather than one year, with no reduction in fees. Currently, a one-year basic license costs $200; the Board is authorized to charge up to $250 per year. Under this legislation, the licensee could choose a two-year, three-year, or five-year license. At the current rate, the cost would be $400, $600, or $1,000 respectively; at the maximum rate, the cost would be $500, $759, or $1,250. In the short term, this would accelerate revenue collections as licensees begin paying for multiple years up front. We cannot project the impact of this change in the fee structure on the number of current and future licensees. In addition, basic license holders may apply for additional licenses (i.e. counterintelligence) for $50 annually. It appears that the same multi-year licensing structure would apply to those licenses. Finally, Board staff estimate one-time expenditures of $5,000 to modify computer software, and potential workload reductions in later years due to less frequent renewals.

Section 7: Timeframe for New Employee Registration. Licensees would be required to register new employees within 30 days, rather than 20 days. The Board does not anticipate any fiscal impact from this change.

Section 8: Duty to Report Criminal Offenses. Licensees would be required to report to the Board within 30 days any criminal arrests, charges, or convictions for a range of offenses. Failure to do so would be grounds for license revocation. The Board has not identified any costs associated with this requirement.

Section 9: Firearm Registration Permits. The Board does not anticipate any fiscal impact due to including "armed private investigators" as firearm registration permitees.

Section 11: Private Protective Services Fund. The Fund is maintained for the purpose of paying claims against licensees. Claims are limited to $5,000 per obligation and $10,000 in aggregate against any one licensee within a year. The Board reports that, within the past five years, one claim – of less than $5,000 – was made against the Fund. Staff records indicate that this is the only claim paid since the Fund's inception in 1983.

Each new applicant for a license or training permit pays a fee of $50 into the Fund. For any year that the balance falls below the minimum, the Board is authorized to charge each licensee and trainee an additional fee (up to $50) in order to reach the minimum threshold. Under current law, the Fund balance must be at least $100,000. This bill would reduce the minimum balance to $25,000. Currently, the Fund balance is approximately $22,650. By reducing the minimum from $100,000 to $25,000, the Fund balance would be less than $3,000 below the minimum, and the Board would be able to charge a lower additional fee.

The funds are invested by the State Treasurer, and the Board may use the proceeds from its investments to fund education and research in the area of private protective services. This legislation would allow the Board to use all except $25,000 in the Fund for education and research purposes, and all except $50,000 to offset operating expenses. Currently, the balance is below $25,000, so no additional funds would be available for these purposes.

SOURCES OF DATA: Private Protective Services Board (within the Department of Justice)

TECHNICAL CONSIDERATIONS: This legislation is effective when it becomes law, and would eliminate five board member positions. At present, there is only one vacancy on the Board. However, one of the Attorney General's appointees is serving a term that expired June 30, 2001, and several of the House and Senate appointees are serving terms that expire June 30, 2003. If this legislation is enacted prior to June 30, 2003, there will still be people serving in several of the positions to be eliminated.

House Committee on Finance

Minutes

June 18, 2003

The House Committee on Finance met on Wednesday, June 18, 2003 at 8:30 am in Room 544 of the Legislative Office Building. The following members were present: Chairpersons G. Allen, Howard, Luebke, McComas, and Wainwright; Vice-Chairs Alexander, Gibson, and Hill; Representatives Blackwood, Bordsen, Capps, Carney, Ellis, Glazier, Hackney, Holliman, Jones, Lewis, McCombs, McGee, Munford, Rayfield, Ross, Setzer, Starnes, Weiss, C. Wilson, and Womble. Also present were Sergeant-at-Arms Bob Fowler, Bill Freeman, Dusty Rhodes, and Walter Spell. Staff persons present included Martha Harris, Jim Klingler, and Martha Walston. The Agenda and Visitor Registration Sheet are attached and incorporated into these minutes as attachments 1 and 2.

Chairwoman Howard called the meeting to order at 8:38 am and proceeded to recognize the five (5) pages present at the meeting: (1) Rebecca Badger of Craven County, sponsored by Representative Wainwright; (2) Jessica Barnes of Craven County, sponsored by Representative Wainwright; (3) Mollie Bowness of Moore County, sponsored by Speaker Morgan; (4) Annie McCollum of Wake County, sponsored by Representative G. Allen; and (5) Lindsay Weaver of Wake County, sponsored by Representative G. Allen.

As the first matter of business, Chairwoman Howard recognized Representative Luebke to explain his bill: HB 1318 – REPEAL BILL LEE ACT & MAKE INCENTIVES WORK (see attachment 3). Representative Allen was recognized by the Chair and moved adoption of the Proposed Committee Substitute (PCS) for HB 1318 for discussion purposes, which carried without objection. He explained that the bill acts to replace the Bill Lee jobs tax credit, investment tax credit, and worker training tax credit with a new Bill Lee program to target the Act's incentive dollars to the neediest areas of the State and to projects that would not otherwise occur (see bill analysis in attachment 3 for more specific details). Representative Luebke then requested that the Chairwoman recognize Mr. Bill Schweke, Research Director at the Center for Enterprise Development (CFED). Mr. Schweke then addressed the Committee members, stating that the focus of the Bill Lee Act was to create business opportunities in distressed/rural economic areas of the state. But, partly due to the fact that the receipt of Bill Lee incentives is based upon the State's "tier" system, the Act simply isn't working. Mr. Schweke, therefore, proposed a "modernized" Bill Lee Act that would restructure the tier system to better target the most economically needy areas. Following his presentation, Chairwoman Howard recognized Representative Holliman who expressed the terrible economic conditions in his district, that being the Davidson County area. He also spoke highly in favor of Representative Luebke's initiative to restructure the current Bill Lee Act. Representative Womble was recognized next by the Chair and asked Staff if the "modernized" version of the Act contained provisions to the economic problems that are located in only certain sectors of a city or community. He specifically cited an example within his district, within the inner city area of Winston-Salem where due to urban sprawl (among other factors) the economy has deteriorated drastically and remains in need of new economic options. Martha Harris from Staff responded that the new Act does, in fact, address these "pockets of poverty" in its provisions. Representative Luebke also noted to Representative Womble as well as the other members that the modernized Bill Lee Act includes provisions to require "first-source" hiring in order to receive the associated grants that are made available to participating industries. First-source hiring requires that participating industries must consider applicants from the direct area to fill positions prior to consideration of other applicants. Following this explanation, Chairwoman Howard ruled to temporarily displace HB 1318, given the other pending matters of business before the Committee.

The Chair then addressed the Committee concerning SB 934 – DWI PROVIDER AUTHORIZATION FEES (see attachment 4). She noted that the bill had already been voted favorably out of the Committee (see minutes from the June 11, 2003 meeting), but was being recalled in the interest of possible improvements upon it. (As the bill summary denotes, this bill involves DWI offenders' use of assessment centers as a means to reduce their time without driving privileges. The bill specifically acts to increase the fees paid by these assessment centers throughout the state so that an acceptable level of quality care can be maintained through monitoring, which would be conducted by the Department of Health and Human Services.) Representative Capps was then recognized by the Chair for a motion to reconsider the earlier vote cast on SB 934, which carried without objection. Representative Capps was again recognized to send forth an amendment to the bill. Representative Capps explained that the amendment increases the fee for DWI Assessments charged to participants by $25.00, from $50.00 to $75.00. He noted that since the major focus of the bill was to increase the fees paid by the providers of these assessments (in order to ensure some level of quality), his amendment then simply allows the providers to regain some of their monies lost to these increased fees from those receiving the assessment services. Senator Kerr, the bill sponsor, was also present and was recognized by Chairwoman Howard to speak on the amendment. He stated his opposition to the amendment, noting his contention that the increase in fees to those participating was not fiscally responsible. Representative Ellis disagreed however, and upon being recognized by the Chair, stated that given the time involved for a quality assessment, the current fee of $50.00 was insufficient to cover the costs. The Chairwoman then recognized Representative Alexander who requested to hear from Mr. Frank M. Jolly, a certified substance abuse assessor working for ARP Phoenix and a representative of the DWI Providers of North Carolina. Mr. Jolly addressed the Committee in support of both Representative Capps' amendment as well as the DHHS monitoring proposed in the bill. Chairwoman Howard once again recognized Representative Capps, who moved adoption of his amendment. The Chair then recognized Senator Kerr who again spoke on the amendment, stating that the increased fees proposed in the amendment would raise some $650,000 in additional funds per year. He viewed these amounts as a tax, not a fee. Seeing no further discussion, Chairwoman Howard called Representative Capps' amendment to a vote, and with a clear majority, the amendment was adopted. The Chair then recognized Representative Blackwood who moved that a new House Committee Substitute on SB 934 be drafted, incorporating the adopted Capps' amendment, and that this new House Committee Substitute receive a favorable report and an unfavorable report as to the original bill. Seeing no further discussion or debate on the motion, Chairwoman Howard then called the vote and the motion carried by consent.

Chairwoman Howard next recognized Representative Holliman for explanation of HB 1049 – LICENSED PSYCH. ASSOC./INSURANCE PAYMENTS (see attachment 5). He explained the bill as simple and non-controversial. Specifically, the bill acts to permit licensed psychological associates to receive fees directly from insurers. It also allows the Psychology Practice Board to require applicants for licensure to pay the fee for the national written examination directly to the vendor. (The vendor shall also set the cost of the examination.) Finally, the bill increases the fee for a temporary license from $25 to $35. Following this explanation, Representative Womble was recognized by the Chair to state a concern to the bill sponsor. He stated that he was aware that this bill had originally had some controversy. However, Representative Holliman assured him that all of the opposition to the bill had been addressed and that there was now full support on all sides of the issue. Chairwoman Howard then recognized Representative Womble once again for a motion of favorable report as to the existing Committee Substitute bill for HB 1049. Hearing no further discussion or debate, the Chair called the motion to a vote and it carried unanimously.

Chairwoman Howard then acted to replace HB 1318 – REPEAL BILL LEE ACT & MAKE INCENTIVES WORK (see attachment 3) before the Committee for continued debate. Chairwoman Howard recognized the bill sponsor, Representative Luebke, who then welcomed any questions on the bill from the Committee members. Representative Hill made a request that the Chair recognize Mr. Jim Fain, North Carolina Secretary of Commerce, for a question. The Chair then did recognize Mr. Fain and welcomed him to the House Committee on Finance. Representative Hill then inquired to the Secretary for his opinion on the current functioning of the Bill Lee Act in the state. Secretary Fain responded that it was difficult to "gauge" whether or not the tier system contained in the current Bill Lee Act was fair and that "obviously, it could be improved." Chairwoman Howard then immediately recognized Representative Wilson to send forth three (3) separate amendments. Representative Wilson explained that her first amendment increases the established cap under the new Bill Lee Act from $25 million to $29 million and provides that Tier 3 counties would be capped at $8 million rather than $3 million, Tier 4 counties would be capped at $6 million rather than $2 million, and Tier 5 counties would be capped at $5 million rather than $1 million. Having been assured by staff that these increases were very attainable, she then moved adoption of her amendment. Representative Luebke was then recognized to speak on the amendment and noted his support for the increased caps. Hearing no further discussion among the members, the Chair called the vote on Representative Wilson's first amendment and it was adopted by consent. Chairwoman Howard then again recognized Representative Wilson to send forth her second of three amendments. She explained that since the lower tiered counties receive the highest amount of incentives each year under the Bill Lee Act, this amendment would provide that any grant funds unused by the lower tiers in a given year, then the remaining monies would be dispersed among the other tiers levels. She further noted that this amendment gives priority to the lowest tiers (which, of course, need the most help), but also gives help to all areas of the state when possible. Representative Luebke was then briefly recognized and voiced his support of this amendment as well. Representative Hill was recognized and voiced his support of the bill for his district, specifically Columbus County. Hearing no further discussion or debate and Representative Wilson having then moved adoption of her second amendment, the Chair then called the vote. The second Wilson amendment was adopted with no known opposition. Once again, the Chair recognized Representative Wilson to send forth her third and final amendment. She explained briefly that this third amendment acts to delete a section from the bill that prohibits companies with contingency fee contracts from receiving grants under the Bill Lee Act. She noted that excluding these companies could result in the loss of a large number of jobs throughout the state. Chairwoman Howard, hearing no further discussion, then called Representative Wilson's third amendment to a vote and the amendment was adopted without objection. The Chair next recognized Representative Luebke who moved that the adopted amendments be incorporated into a new PCS for HB 1318 and that the new PCS receive a favorable report with recommendation that it be re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations. Representative Gibson, however, upon recognition from the Chair, then acted to offer a substitute motion that incorporated the newly adopted amendments into a new PCS and that the new PCS should be reported without prejudice with recommendation that it be re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations. Chairwoman Howard then acted to address

Representative Gibson's substitute motion first. Representative Luebke was recognized as the bill sponsor to speak on Representative Gibson's motion and voiced his opposition. The Chair then called the Gibson motion to a vote and the motion failed. Returning then to the motion made by Representative Luebke (for a favorable report), the Chairwoman Howard called the vote and the motion carried.

As the Committee's time had then expired, Chairwoman Howard adjourned the meeting at 9:54 am.

Respectfully submitted,

Representative Julia Howard

HOUSE BILL 1318
PROPOSED COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE H1318-CSLCxf-77 [v.10]

6/17/2003 1:55:47 PM

Short Title: Modernize Bill Lee Act. (Public)

Sponsors:

Referred to:

May 15, 2003

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO REPEAL THE BILL LEE ACT AND REPLACE IT WITH MORE EFFECTIVE INCENTIVES TO BRING PROSPERITY TO DISTRESSED AREAS OF THE STATE.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. The General Assembly finds as follows:

(1) One of the primary objectives of the William S. Lee Act when it was enacted in 1996 was to encourage relatively more private investment and job growth in poorer and struggling rural areas of the State. This intent was extended to disadvantaged urban centers with the inclusion of the development zone incentives.

(2) Over the years, the Act has been expanded and refined and has received increasing funding, but it has remained focused on this key objective.

(3) The evidence clearly indicates that the large majority of investment and job creation credits are taken by companies locating in prosperous urban areas. This suggests that most of the credits represent a State subsidy for location decisions that would have been made in the absence of the Bill Lee Act.

(4) The annual cost to the State of the Bill Lee Act and related incentives that have been adopted since 1996 amounts to $142 million. These funds have become more precious as the State faces the most severe fiscal crisis in over five decades.

(5) The shift of North Carolina jobs to other countries that has begun in the last few years continues to spread from traditional manufacturing sectors to other manufacturing and to information processing. This trend shows no signs of abating as companies continue to strive to reduce labor costs.

(6) The movement of jobs to other countries has had a severe impact on certain industrial counties in the Piedmont and some small communities in the rural areas of the State. The lack of replacement employment opportunities will limit the careers of displaced workers in these counties, even with retraining efforts. In many cases, the current Bill Lee Act economic distress determination does not take into account these situations on a timely basis.

(7) This act is designed to address these issues by making the following changes:

a. Retaining those parts of the William S. Lee Act that are beneficial and effective.

b. Replacing the remaining parts of the William S. Lee Act with a program designed to address the unique challenges raised by current economic trends.

c. Providing a superior method for identifying the areas of relative economic health versus distress.

d. Better targeting the State's economic development dollars to projects that would not otherwise locate or expand without an incentive.

e. Providing a performance management information system that will allow the State to continually assess and evaluate its economic development tools and adjust them to reflect ongoing changes in the economy.

(8) This act is necessary to stimulate the economy, facilitate economic recovery, and create new jobs in North Carolina. This act will promote the general welfare and confer, as its primary purpose and effect, benefits on citizens throughout the State through the creation of new jobs, an enlargement of the overall tax base, an expansion and diversification of the State's industrial base, and an increase in revenue to the State and its political subdivisions.

SECTION 2. G.S. 105-129.2A(a) reads as rewritten:

"(a) Sunset. – G.S. 105-129.9A is repealed effective for business activities that occur on or after January 1, 2006. Except as provided in subsection (a1) of this section, the remainder of this~~This~~ Article is repealed effective for business activities that occur on or after January 1, ~~2006.~~2004."

SECTION 3. Chapter 105 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new Article 3F entitled "Research and Development."

SECTION 4.(a) The following statutes in Article 3 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes are amended as follows:

(1) G.S. 105-129.3 is recodified as G.S. 143B-437.5.

(2) G.S. 105-129.3A is recodified as G.S. 143B-437.6.

(3) G.S. 105-129.10(a) is recodified as G.S. 105-129.55.

(4) G.S. 105-129.10(b) is recodified as G.S. 105-129.56.

(5) G.S. 105-129.10(c) is repealed.

SECTION 4.(b) The Revisor of Statutes is authorized to change cross-references to these provisions wherever they may be found in the General Statutes in order to reflect the recodification.

SECTION 5. Part 2B of Chapter 143B of the General Statutes, as amended by this act, reads as rewritten:

"Part 2B. Economic Development Definitions and Standards.

"§ 143B-437.4. Reserved.

"§ 143B-437.5 Enterprise tier designation.

(a) Tiers Defined. – An enterprise tier one area is a county whose enterprise factor is one of the 10 highest in the State. An enterprise tier two area is a county whose enterprise factor is one of the next 15 highest in the State. An enterprise tier three area is a county whose enterprise factor is one of the next 25 highest in the State. An enterprise tier four area is a county whose enterprise factor is one of the next 25 highest in the State. An enterprise tier five area is any area that is not in a lower-numbered enterprise tier.

(b) ~~Annual Designation.~~Ranking. – Each year, on or before December 31, the Secretary of Commerce shall assign to each county in the State an enterprise factor that is the sum of the following:

(2) The county's rank in a ranking of counties by average per capita income from highest to lowest, for the preceding three years.

(3) The county's rank in a ranking of counties by percentage growth in population from highest to lowest.

(c) Annual Designation. – The Secretary of Commerce shall then rank all the counties within the State according to their enterprise factor from highest to lowest, identify all the areas of the State by enterprise tier, and publish this information. An enterprise tier designation is effective only for the calendar year following the designation.

~~(b1)~~(d) Data. – In measuring rates of unemployment and per capita income, the Secretary shall use the latest available data published by a State or federal agency generally recognized as having expertise concerning the data. In measuring population and population growth, the Secretary shall use the most recent estimates of population certified by the State Planning Officer.

~~(c)~~(e) Exception for Enterprise Tier One and Two Areas. – Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, a county designated as an enterprise tier one area or an enterprise tier two area may not be redesignated as a higher-numbered enterprise tier area until it has been in its enterprise tier area for at least two consecutive years.

~~(d)~~(f) Exception for Two-County Industrial Park. – For the purpose of this ~~Article,~~Part, an eligible two-county industrial park has the lower enterprise tier designation of the designations of the two counties in which it is located if it meets all of the following conditions:

(2) At least one-third of the park is located in the county with the lower tier designation.
(3) It is owned by the two counties or a joint agency of the counties.
(4) The county with the lower tier designation contributed at least the lesser of one-half of the cost of developing the park or a proportion of the cost of developing the park equal to the proportion of land in the park located in the county with the lower tier designation.

~~(e)~~(g) Exceptions for Certain Small Counties. – The following exceptions to the provisions of this section apply to small counties:

(1) A county that meets both of the conditions set out below is designated an enterprise tier one area:
a. Its population is less than 12,000.
b. More than sixteen percent (16%) of its population is below the federal poverty level according to the most recent federal decennial census.

(2) A county that meets both of the conditions set out below has an enterprise tier designation one level below the designation it would otherwise have under subsection (a) of this section:
a. Its population is less than 50,000.
b. More than eighteen percent (18%) of its population is below the federal poverty level according to the most recent federal decennial census.

(3) A county that has a population of less than 35,000 and that would otherwise be designated an enterprise tier four or five area under this section must be designated an enterprise tier three area.

"§ 143B-437.6. Development zone designation.

(a) Development Zone Defined. – A development zone is an area comprised of one or more contiguous census tracts, census block groups, or both in the most recent federal decennial census that meets all of the following conditions:

(1) Every census tract and census block group in the zone is located in whole or in part within the primary corporate limits of a city with a population of more than 5,000 according to the most recent annual population estimates certified by the State Planning Officer.
(2) It has a population of 1,000 or more according to the most recent annual population estimates certified by the State Planning Officer.
(3) More than twenty percent (20%) of its population is below the poverty level according to the most recent federal decennial census.
(4) Every census tract and census block group in the zone meets at least one of the following conditions:
a. More than ten percent (10%) of its population is below the poverty level according to the most recent federal decennial census.

b. It is immediately adjacent to another census tract or census block group that is in the same zone and has more than twenty percent (20%) of its population below the poverty level according to the most recent federal decennial census.

(5) None of the census tracts or census block groups in the zone is located in another development zone designated by the Secretary of Commerce.

(b) Designation. – Upon request of a ~~taxpayer~~person or a local government, the Secretary of Commerce shall designate whether an area is a development zone that meets the conditions of subsection (a) of this section. If the applicant is a ~~taxpayer, it~~person, the applicant must notify each city in which part of the zone is located. A development zone designation is effective for 24 months following the designation. The Department of Commerce must publish annually a list of all development zones with a description of their boundaries.

(c) ~~Relationship With Enterprise Tiers.~~Effect of Designation. – For the purpose of the wage standard ~~requirement of G.S. 105-129.4, the credit for investing in machinery and equipment allowed in G.S. 105-129.9, and the credit for worker training allowed in G.S. 105-129.11, a development zone is considered an enterprise tier one area. For all other purposes, a development zone has the same enterprise tier designation as the county in which it is located.~~provided in this Part, a development zone is considered an enterprise tier one area.

(d) Parcel of Property Partially in a Development Zone. – For the purposes of this section, a parcel of property that is located partially within a development zone is considered entirely within the development zone if all of the following conditions are satisfied:

(1) At least fifty percent (50%) of the parcel is located within the development zone.

(2) The parcel was in existence and under common ownership prior to the most recent federal decennial census.

(3) The parcel is a portion of land made up of one or more tracts or tax parcels of land that is surrounded by a continuous perimeter boundary.

"§ 143B-437.7. Standards.

(a) Purpose. – This section establishes various standards to be applied in the State's economic development efforts to assure that incentives are used only for high-quality jobs that are beneficial to the citizens of the State.

(b) Wage Standard. – No wage standard applies to activities in an enterprise tier one or two area. Activities in an enterprise tier three, four, or five area must meet the wage standard provided in this subsection.

Jobs meet the wage standard if they pay an average weekly wage that is at least equal to one hundred ten percent (110%) of the applicable average weekly wage for the county in which the jobs will be located, as computed by the Secretary of Commerce from data compiled by the Employment Security Commission for the most recent period for which data are available. The applicable average weekly wage is the lowest of the following: (i) the average wage for all insured private employers in the county, (ii) the average wage for all insured private employers in the State, and (iii) the average wage for all insured private employers in the county multiplied by the county income/wage adjustment factor. The county income/wage adjustment factor is the county income/wage ratio divided by the State income/wage ratio. The county income/wage ratio is average per capita income in the county divided by the annualized average wage for all insured private employers in the county. The State income/wage ratio is the average per capita income in the State divided by the annualized average wage for all insured private employers in the State.

The Department of Commerce must annually publish the wage standard for each county.

(c) Health Insurance Standard. – A project meets the health insurance standard if the employer provides health insurance for all of the full-time positions at the project location at the time an incentive is granted and during every year the incentive continues. For the purposes of this subsection, an employer provides health insurance if it pays at least fifty percent (50%) of the premiums for health care coverage that equals or exceeds the minimum provisions of the basic health care plan of coverage recommended by the Small Employer Carrier Committee pursuant to G.S. 58-50-125.

(d) Environmental Impact Standard. – A project meets the environmental impact standard only if the applicant for an incentive certifies that, at the time of the application, the applicant has no pending administrative, civil, or criminal enforcement action based on alleged significant violations of any program implemented by an agency of the Department of Environment and Natural Resources, and has had no final determination of responsibility for any significant administrative, civil, or criminal violation of any program implemented by an agency of the Department of Environment and Natural Resources within the last five years. A significant violation is a violation or alleged violation that does not satisfy any of the conditions of G.S. 143-215.6B(d). The Secretary of Environment and Natural Resources must notify the Department of Revenue and the Department of Commerce annually of every person that currently has any of these pending actions and every person that has had any of these final determinations within the last five years.

(e) Safety and Health Programs Standard. – A project meets the safety and health programs standard only if the applicant for an incentive certifies that, at the time of the application, at the business location with respect to which the incentive is claimed, the applicant has no citations under the Occupational Safety and Health Act that have become a final order within the past three years for willful serious violations or for failing to abate serious violations. For the purposes of this subsection, 'serious violation' has the same meaning as in G.S. 95-127. The Secretary of Labor must notify the Department of Revenue and the Department of Commerce annually of all employers who have had these citations become final orders within the past three years.

(b6) Overdue Tax Debts. – An applicant is not eligible for an economic development incentive if, at the time of the applicant or at the applicant claims an installment of the incentive, the applicant has received a notice of an overdue tax debt and that overdue tax debt has not been satisfied or otherwise resolved."

SECTION 6. Article 10 of Chapter 143B of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new Part to read:

"Part 2G. William S. Lee Quality Jobs Investment Grants.

"§ 143B-437.70. Definitions.

Except as otherwise provided in this section, the definitions in Part 2B of this Article and in G.S. 143B-437.51 apply in this Part. The following definitions apply in this Part:

(1) Agreement. – A Bill Lee agreement entered into under this Part.

(2) Committee. – The Bill Lee Committee created in this Part.

"§ 143B-437.71. Legislative findings and purpose.

The General Assembly finds that:

(1) It is the policy of the State of North Carolina to stimulate economic activity and to create new jobs for the citizens of the State by encouraging and promoting the expansion of existing business and industry within the State and by recruiting and attracting new business and industry to the State.

(2) It is the purpose of this Part to carry out this policy by using State economic development resources to secure location and expansion of quality projects in the areas of the State in most need, whether due to chronic economic problems or sudden and severe dislocation.

(3) It is not the intent of the General Assembly that grants provided through this Part be used as venture capital funds, business incubator funds, or business start-up funds or to otherwise fund the initial capitalization needs of new businesses.

(4) Nothing in this Part constitutes a guarantee or an assumption by the State of any debt of any business or an authorization of a pledge of the taxing power or the full faith and credit of the State.

"§ 143B-437.72. Quality Jobs Investment Grant Program.

(a) Creation and Purpose. – There is established in the Department of Commerce the William S. Lee Quality Jobs Investment Grant Program to be administered by the Bill Lee Committee created in this Part. In order to foster job creation and investment in the economy of this State, the Committee may enter into negotiated agreements with businesses to provide grants in accordance with the provisions of this Part and may provide funding to local nonprofit or governmental economic development organizations for infrastructure and worker training projects. The purpose of this Part is to provide a more effective and efficient replacement for the tax credit incentives repealed effective January 1, 2004. The replacement must be targeted to the areas of the State most in need of incentives, as determined by the Committee.

(b) Evaluating Economic Distress. – This Part must be administered and interpreted in light of its purpose to bring healthy economic development to those areas of the State with the greatest economic needs. In determining the level of economic distress of an area, the Bill Lee Committee must initially evaluate the enterprise tier areas and development zones designated under Part 2B of this Article. For the purpose of applying the standards and requirements of this Part, a development zone is considered a tier one enterprise area.

The Committee may further determine the level of economic distress of an area by examining any relevant factors based on reliable data available for a census tract or larger geographic area, including the following: sudden or severe dislocation or job loss, workforce skills and educational attainment, infrastructure and other local resources, and ad valorem tax base.

(c) Criteria. – The Committee, in consultation with the Attorney General, must develop criteria to be used with respect to grants to businesses in determining whether the conditions of this Part are satisfied and whether the project described in the application is otherwise consistent with the purposes of this Part. Before entering into an agreement, the Committee must find that all the following conditions are met:

(1) The location or expansion the business will create net new jobs by the business and is expected to increase the size of the economic pie on a statewide basis.

(2) The proposed project will directly benefit and create opportunities in an area of the State that the Committee identifies as experiencing high unemployment, severe job losses, persistent blight, or other economic problems as compared to other areas of the State.

(3) The total benefits of the project to the State outweigh its costs and render the grant appropriate for the project.

(d) Ceilings. – The maximum amount of total annual liability for grants for agreements entered into in any single calendar year may not exceed twenty-five million dollars ($25,000,000). No agreement may be entered into that, when considered together with other existing agreements entered into during that calendar year, could cause the State's potential total annual liability for grants entered into in that calendar year to exceed this amount. Within this ceiling, a the following total annual maximums apply based on the location of the projects for which grants are made:

Tier	Maximum
1 & 2	none
3	$3,000,000
4	$2,000,000
5	$1,000,000

In addition, within the twenty-five million dollar ($25,000,000) ceiling, up to five million dollars ($5,000,000) may be used for projects that would otherwise not qualify based on the maximums provided in this subsection but that are located in areas of especially severe economic distress as determined by the Committee in accordance with subsection (b) of this section.

(e) Performance Management Information System. – Before entering into any agreements under this Part, the Committee must develop and implement a performance management information system that includes at least the following elements:

(1) Establishing goals of the program.

(2) Outlining each stage of the procedure for carrying out the goals of the program.

(3) Identifying all information necessary for decision making at each stage to achieve the program goals.

(4) Developing methods to collect and process comprehensive data to provide relevant, accurate information on a timely basis and in a useable form.

(5) Establishing performance measures for predictive assessment and post decision review.

(6) Setting a schedule for periodically measuring, analyzing, and reporting performance of the program.

"§ 143B-437.73. Eligible projects.

(a) Minimum Number of Eligible Positions. – A business may apply to the Committee for a grant for any project that creates the minimum number of eligible positions as set out in the table below. If the project will be located in more than one enterprise tier area, the location with the highest enterprise tier area designation determines the minimum number of eligible positions that must be created.

Enterprise Tier Area	Number of Eligible Positions
Tier One	10
Tier Two	10
Tier Three	10
Tier Four	20
Tier Five	20

(b) Ineligible Businesses. – A project that consists solely of retail facilities is not eligible for a grant under this Part. If a project consists of both retail facilities and nonretail facilities, only the portion of the project consisting of nonretail facilities is eligible for a grant, and only the withholdings from employees in eligible positions that are employed exclusively in the portion of the project that represents nonretail facilities may be used to determine the amount of the grant. If a warehouse facility is part of a retail facility and supplies only that retail facility, the warehouse facility is not eligible for a grant. For the purposes of this Part, catalog distribution centers are not retail facilities.

Short Title: Repeal Bill Lee Act & Make Incentives Work. (Public)

Sponsors: Representatives Luebke; Insko, Miller, and Weiss.

Referred to: Finance.

May 15, 2003

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO REPEAL THE BILL LEE ACT AND REPLACE IT WITH MORE EFFECTIVE INCENTIVES TO BRING PROSPERITY TO DISTRESSED AREAS OF THE STATE.

Whereas, the General Assembly finds that incentives should be used only when they meet three standards: (i) they create net new jobs and increase the size of the economic pie on a national basis, (ii) they create opportunity in economically distressed areas, and (iii) they are defensible on an absolute basis without regard to competition with other states; and

Whereas, the General Assembly finds that the Bill Lee Act does not meet these standards and can be defended only on the basis of competition with other states; and

Whereas, reform of the State's incentive programs can target limited State resources to the most efficient economic development in those areas most in need; Now, therefore,

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 105-129.2A(a) reads as rewritten:

"(a) Sunset. – G.S. 105-129.9A is repealed effective for business activities that occur on or after January 1, 2006. Except as provided in subsection (a1) of this section, the remainder of this~~This~~ Article is repealed effective for business activities that occur on or after January 1, ~~2006.~~2004."

SECTION 2. Article 10 of Chapter 143B of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new Part to read:

"Part 2G. William S. Lee Quality Jobs Investment Grants.

"§ 143B-437.70. Definitions.

The definitions in G.S. 105-129.2 and in G.S. 105-437.51 apply in this Part.

"§ 143B-437.71. Quality Jobs Investment Grants Program.

There is established in the Department of Commerce the William S. Lee Quality Jobs Investment Grant Program to be administered by the Economic Investment Committee created in Part 2F of this Article. In order to foster job creation and investment in the economy of this State, the Committee may enter into negotiated agreements with businesses to provide grants in accordance with the provisions of this Part. The Committee, in consultation with the Attorney General, must develop criteria to be used in determining whether the conditions of this Part are satisfied and whether the project described in the application is otherwise consistent with the purposes of this Part. The purpose of this Part is to provide a more effective and efficient replacement for the tax credit incentives repealed effective January 1, 2004. The replacement must be targeted to the areas of the State most in need of incentives, as determined by the Committee. Before entering into an agreement, the Committee must find that all the following conditions are met:

(1) The location or expansion the business will create net new jobs and increase the size of the economic pie on a national basis.

(2) The proposed project will directly benefit and create opportunities in an area of the State that the Committee identifies as experiencing high unemployment, severe job losses, persistent blight, or other economic problems as compared to other areas of the State.

(3) The grant under this Part is justifiable on an absolute basis and is not justified solely on the basis of competition with other states for the project.

(4) The total benefits of the project to the State outweigh its costs and render the grant appropriate for the project."

SECTION 3.(a) Grants from the One North Carolina - Industrial Recruitment Competitive Fund may be made only after the Department of Commerce has developed and implemented a performance management information system that includes at least the following elements:

(1) Establishing goals of the program.

(2) Outlining each stage of the procedure for carrying out the goals of the program.

(3) Identifying all information necessary for decision making at each stage to achieve the program goals.

(4) Developing methods to collect and process comprehensive data to provide relevant, accurate information on a timely basis and in a useable form.

(5) Establishing performance measures for predictive assessment and postdecision review.

(6) Setting a schedule for periodically measuring, analyzing, and reporting performance of the program.

SECTION 3.(b) The Department of Commerce must report the following information regarding the One North Carolina - Industrial Recruitment Competitive Fund by the 15th day of each month to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, and the chairs of the House and Senate Committees on Finance and on Appropriations:

(1) Each project under consideration during the preceding month for a grant, including name and address of the business, type and location of the project, projected new jobs and investment, and other factors qualifying the project for consideration.

(2) Each grant made during the preceding month, including name and address of the business, type and location of the project, projected new jobs and investment, other factors qualifying the project for a grant, the amount of the grant, and any conditions or clawbacks attached to the grant.

SECTION 4. G.S. 143B-437.52 is amended by adding a new subsection to read:

"(d) Performance Management Information System. – Before entering into an agreement under this Part, the Committee must develop and implement a performance management information system that includes at least the following elements:

(1) Establishing goals of the program.

(2) Outlining each stage of the procedure for carrying out the goals of the program.

(3) Identifying all information necessary for decision making at each stage to achieve the program goals.

(4) Developing methods to collect and process comprehensive data to provide relevant, accurate information on a timely basis and in a useable form.

(5) Establishing performance measures for predictive assessment and post decision review.

(6) Setting a schedule for periodically measuring, analyzing, and reporting performance of the program."

SECTION 5. G.S. 143B-437.55 is amended by adding a new subsection to read:

"(d1) Monthly Reports. – The Committee shall report the following information by the 15th day of each month to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, and the chairs of the House and Senate Committees on Finance and on Appropriations:

(1) Each project under consideration during the preceding month for a grant, including name and address of the business, type and location of the project, projected new jobs and investment, and other factors qualifying the project for consideration.

(2) Each grant offer made during the preceding month, including the information described in subsection (d) of this section.

(3) Detailed minutes of all meetings held in executive session during the preceding month."

SECTION 6. This act becomes effective October 1, 2003.

HOUSE BILL 1318 (PCS): Modernize Bill Lee Act

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee: House Finance
Date: June 17, 2003
Version: Draft

Sponsor: Rep. Luebke
Analysis by: Martha H. Harris
Staff Attorney

SUMMARY: Replaces the Bill Lee jobs tax credit, investment tax credit, and worker training credit with a new Bill Lee program to target incentive dollars to the neediest areas and to projects that would not otherwise occur. Modifies One North Carolina and JDIG grant programs as well.

Analysis: This bill would reform the Bill Lee Act with the intent of providing provide greater efficiency and effectiveness in State incentives. The bill retains the Research and Development Credit, moves it to anther section of the statutes, and delays its sunset until 2008 (Section 7, pages 18-19). The bill retains the Technology Commercialization Credit and the special provisions for Air Courier Hubs, with their existing sunset dates (Section 2, page 2). The bill retains the language for development zones, the wage standard, the health insurance standard, the environmental impact standard, the worker safety standard, and the overdue tax debt standard (Pages 4–6). The bill retains and modifies the formula for establishing enterprise tiers. The modification is that the formula will use unemployment data based on the most recent 12-month period rather than on the most recent three years. This will allow the formula to adjust promptly for sudden and severe dislocation. (Pages 3-4.)

The bill creates a new grant program called the William S. Lee Quality Jobs Investment Grant Program (Page 7). This program is similar the Job Development Investment Grant (JDIG) program enacted in 2002. It goes into effect July 1, 2005, and is sunset January 1, 2010 (Page 18).

The grant program is administered by a nine-member Bill Lee Committee, made up of the Secretary of Commerce, the Secretary of Revenue, the Director of OSBM, and six legislative appointees (Pages 10-11). Like JDIG, it provides grants measured as a percentage of the withholdings from new positions. The percentage may range from 10% to 75% and is reduced by one-fourth for projects in tier four or five (other than development zones). The amount of a grant cannot exceed $6,500 per position per year or $30,000 per position over the life of the grant agreement. The grants are administered pursuant to a Bill Lee Agreement and may be spread out for a period of up to twelve years. (Page 14.) There is also authorization for the Committee to provide funding to local nonprofit or governmental economic development organizations for infrastructure and worker training projects (Page 7).

Unlike under the current Bill Lee Act, the Bill Lee Grant program provides flexibility to target the incentives where they are most needed (Pages 7 – 8). The program starts with using the existing development zone definitions and the tier definitions modified as indicated above. Development zones are considered tier one for all purposes of the grant program. The program then gives the Bill Lee Committee the ability to further target areas of need by looking at smaller areas within a county that may be distressed, rather than just considering the entire county as a whole. The program also allows the Bill Lee Committee to evaluate distress with flexibility by considering objective factors in addition to those that make up the tier and development zone formulas. Those factors may include sudden or severe job loss, workforce factors, local resources, and others the Committee considers relevant.

The Bill Lee Grant program uses caps to steer most of the grant money to areas identified as being most in need of business development. There is a $25 million annual cap on the program. Of this, most must go to tiers one and two, including development zones, and to areas the Committee determines to be experiencing especially severe economic distress. Areas that do not meet these conditions are limited to $3 million a year for tier three, $2 million a year for tier four, and $1 million a year for tier five. (Page 8)

The new grant program provides that projects must pay a "living wage" to be eligible for a grant. A living wage is defined as 200% of the federal poverty level for a family of two. The Bill Lee Committee may waive the living wage standard in tiers one and two and in areas of especially severe economic distress. (Page 10.)

Before entering into grants, the Committee must develop a performance management information system to establish goals, procedures for carrying out goals, and methods of identifying and gathering information necessary to evaluate performance. The system would include periodic assessment of the program's success and re-evaluations of economic development goals. (Pages 8-9.) The bill places a similar requirement on the existing One North Carolina/Industrial Recruitment Competitive Fund and the JDIG program (Sections 8(a) and 9, Pages 19-20).

Subject to waiver by the Committee in tiers one and two and in areas of especially severe economic distress, applicants must agree to cooperate with the ESC and a local agency in a first source hiring agreement. Under such an agreement, the ESC and local agency are given three days to recruit and refer applicants for new and replacement employment. The business must interview and consider qualified applicants from this pool before interviewing other candidates, but is not required to hire individuals referred by the ESC or local agency. (Page 10). The bill also adds this requirement to the existing JDIG program (Pages 20-21).

Under the Bill Lee Grant program, grants would not be available to businesses that have entered a contingency fee contract to pay a percentage to a company that negotiates incentives on their behalf (Page 10). The bill also adds this requirement to the existing JDIG program (Page 20).

The application process and fee will be the same in the Bill Lee Grant program as in the existing JDIG program. However, the Bill Lee Committee is also authorized to establish a pre-screening process. The fee for pre-screening may not exceed $100. (Pages 11-12.) The Bill Lee Grant program has the same informational requirements, disbursement procedure, and recapture provisions as the JDIG program.

In addition to quarterly and annual reports, the Bill Lee Committee must provide monthly briefings to the House and Senate leadership on pending proposals. It will not be required to disclosed identifying details on the applicants. (Page 13.) The bill also adds this requirement to the existing One North Carolina/Industrial Recruitment Competitive Fund and the JDIG program (Sections 8(b) and 11, Pages 20-21).

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENTS AFFECTED: Department of Revenue, Department of Commerce

ISSUE HISTORY: The Bill Lee Act is the package of state tax incentives that was first adopted in 1996 and has been modified in each subsequent year. The incentives are primarily in the form of tax credits for investment in machinery and equipment, job creation, worker training, and research/development. The credits apply to activities undertaken by specifically named industrial classifications. For many of the credits, the counties of the State are divided into five economic distress tiers based on the unemployment rate, per capita income, and population growth. The lower the tier of a county, the more favorable the incentive.

BILL SUMMARY:

Bill Lee Act Repeal

(1) Repeals the William S. Lee Act for business activities that take place on or after January 1, 2004. (Current law has a January 1, 2006 sunset.)

(2) Maintains the research and development credit and extends the sunset on the credit from January 1, 2006 to January 1, 2008.

(3) Continues the technology commercialization tax credit and the special provisions for air courier hubs and keeps their existing sunset dates.

Bill Lee Grants

(4) Establishes the William S. Lee Quality Jobs Investment Grant Program. Under this program, a Bill Lee Committee ("Committee") would be created and comprised of the following members:

Secretary of Commerce
Secretary of Revenue
Director of the Office of State Budget and Management
Appointee of President of Senate
Appointee of President of Senate
Appointee of President of Senate
Appointee of Speaker of the House
Appointee of Speaker of the House
Appointee of Speaker of the House

The Committee may enter into negotiated agreements with businesses to provide grants under the guidelines outlined in the bill. The grants are measured as a percentage of withholdings, ranging from 10% to 75% and reduced by 25% for projects in Tiers 4 and 5 (with the exception of development zones).

The grants are limited to $25 million per calendar year, allocated as follows:

- Up to $5 million for project in a sub-county area of severe economic stress, regardless of the tier of the county
- Up to $3 million in Tier 3
- Up to $2 million in Tier 4
- Up to $1 million in Tier 5
- Remainder in Tiers 1 and 2 and in development zones

The amount of the grant may not exceed $6,500 per position per year or $30,000 per position over the life of the grant agreement. The grants may be awarded for up to 12 years.

The Committee must determine the economic distress level of areas of the State by first evaluating enterprise tier areas and development zones. The tier and development zone determination is made in the same fashion as under the current Bill Lee Act except that the unemployment rate measure is based on the most recent 12 months instead of 36 months.

The program gives the Committee the ability to look at smaller areas within a county that may be distressed, rather than only considering the entire county as a whole. In addition, the Committee may evaluate distress by considering objective factors in addition to those that make up the tier and development zone formulas. Those factors may include sudden or severe job loss, workforce factors, local resources, and others the Committee considers relevant.

A business formally applying for a grant must pay a $5,000 fee. The allocation of the proceeds among the affected agencies is determined by the three Executive Branch appointees to the Committee. The Committee may develop a pre-application process for a business contemplating an application for a grant and assess a fee of up to $100 when the business sends in the prescreening information.

Extensive annual and quarterly reporting is included in the bill and monthly progress reports must be sent to the legislative leadership.

The new grant program provides that projects must pay a "living wage" to be eligible for a grant. A living wage is defined as 200% of the federal poverty level for a family of two. The Bill Lee Committee may waive the living wage standard in tiers one and two and in areas of especially severe economic distress.

Subject to waiver by the Committee in tiers one and two and in areas of especially severe economic distress, applicants must agree to cooperate with the ESC and a local agency in a first source hiring agreement. Under such an agreement, the ESC and local agency are given three days to recruit and refer applicants for new and replacement employment. The business must interview and consider qualified applicants from this pool before interviewing other candidates, but is not required to hire individuals referred by the ESC or local agency.

The earliest grant under the new program may not occur until July 1, 2005 and the program sunsets on January 1, 2010.

Prior to entering into an agreement, the Committee must develop and implement a performance management information system.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: The January 1, 2004, effective date for the repeal of the Bill Lee Act credits for investments in machinery and equipment, as well as job creation, will not affect General Fund revenue until the 2005-06 fiscal year. The reason is that the credits are not taken until the year after the activity takes place.

The Committee is allowed to provide the grants that replace the Bill Lee Act credits until July 1, 2005. This means that the cost of the grants will not show up until the 2005-06 fiscal year.

The research and development credit will continue. The primary impact on General Fund revenues will be due to the moving of the credit sunset from January 1, 2006, to January 1, 2008. This credit is taken in the year in which the eligible expenditures occur. Thus, the shift in the sunset will lead to an $8.1 million revenue loss in 2006-07 and $8.4 million in 2007-08. These costs were based on applying 4% growth to the estimated 2003-04 cost of $7.1 million. The 2003-04 estimate is tied to a 2003 Department of Revenue tabulation of Bill Lee Act credits taken during the 2002 tax year. Due to the sluggish economic recovery, the 2002 tax year amount was used for 2003.

The revenue gain from repealing the worker training tax credit is based on the actual credit usage as reported by the Department of Revenue. Due to the recession and the sluggish economic recovery, the $2.6 million amount for the most recent tabulation was used for 2005-06. For 2006-07, a 4% growth rate was used.

The cost of the new Bill Lee Grant Program depends on the economic recovery, decisions on the grant size made by the Bill Lee Committee, and the location decisions of companies. Based on six years of experience under the Bill Lee Act, it is likely that the full capacity of the Tiers 3-5 grants will be used for Tiers 1-2 and the sub-county targeted pot. It is very possible that the full amount of the allowable credits will not be used due to insufficient project levels. For purposes of this analysis, it is assumed that the grants in Tiers 1-2 plus the sub-county pot will equal the $6 million for Tiers 3-5. Thus, the total grant cost for the first year would be $12.0 million.

In addition, it is assumed that the grant period will amount to at least three years. In this case, the 2006-07 fiscal year loss is equal to a combination of the $12.0 million cost of the 2005 tax year grants plus $12.0 million for 2006. This creates a "stacking" or "pyramiding" impact similar to the multi-year credits under the Bill Lee Act.

The estimated revenue loss from the new grant program is conservative in light of the actual experience under the Bill Lee Act.

Thomasville to cut 400 jobs, close plant in Winston-Salem

By Richard Craver and Fran Daniel
JOURNAL REPORTERS
Wednesday, June 18, 2003

Thomasville Furniture Industries Inc. said yesterday that it will close its Plant H manufacturing plant in Winston-Salem in October, cutting 400 jobs.

Thomas Tilley, the company's new chief executive, said that Thomasville Furniture is under pressure to remain competitive.

'Business conditions remain very challenging right now,' he said. 'We must align our capacity with the demand for our products and responsibly control the costs of running our business.'

The company regrets the hardship this change would cause the displaced employees, their families and the city, said Tilley, who recently replaced Chris Pfaff as the head of the company.

The plant at 1201 N. Patterson Ave. has made primarily wood bedroom and dining-room furniture since the early 1960s. Production will be moved to other Thomasville Furniture plants or to offshore sources, the company said.

The decision comes just 20 days after Hooker Furniture Corp. said that it would close its Kernersville plant and cut 270 jobs. Also this year, R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Holdings Inc. in Winston-Salem cut 635 jobs, or 8percent of the work force at the company and its main subsidiary, R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.

With the Thomasville Furniture plant closing, Forsyth County will be left with only one major furniture manufacturer - Grass America Inc., which employs 275 people at its furniture-component plant on N.C. 66 South in Kernersville.

The latest announcement didn't surprise Gayle Anderson, the president of the Greater Winston-Salem Chamber of Commerce.

'It's disappointing that the plant is closing, but not really unexpected given the massive closings we've seen in the textile and furniture industries,' she said.

'Unfortunately these unskilled jobs are going to places where the labor costs are significantly lower. This just adds urgency to our efforts to create more high-tech jobs and more jobs that are not candidates for being exported overseas, at least in the short run.'

Workers at the Thomasville Furniture plant were sent home before the closure was announced, but shock was evident on the face of Yanira Alvarenga, who works at a nearby grocery store that gets a lot of business from the plant's employees at lunchtime.

Alvarenga, who has five relatives working at the plant, including her father, said she had heard rumors that it was shutting down for just one week, but not for good.

'They didn't know,' she said.

Trouble, however, has been brewing at Thomasville Furniture and the rest of the industry for a long time. 'We've known we had too much capacity at our plants for more than a year,' Dave Masters, Thomasville's general manager, said.

'We evaluated our plants for flexibility and physical condition, and determined that the Winston-Salem plant was the one where we could most easily transfer production to other domestic plants or outsource production,' he said.

'This closing has absolutely nothing to do with the employees at that plant. They worked hard with us to find a way to keep the plant open, but it just couldn't be done.'

Masters said that Thomas-ville would begin phasing out production and jobs in early September, and expects that the plant will be closed in October.

Thomasville said it would pay bonuses to employees who agree to work until late October, conduct job fairs for the workers, provide medical-insurance coverage for up to 18 months and apply for extended unemployment benefits from the federal Trade Adjustment Assistance Act.

It is Thomasville's second plant-closing announcement since September. It shut down Plant B in its hometown of Thomasville, laying off 425 workers.

The proposed Winston-Salem closure would raise the number of furniture layoffs in the Triad to 2,030 since February 2002.

Davidson County has taken the brunt of those losses with 1,360, as prominent employers Lexington Home Brands, Stanley Furniture Co. Inc. and Thomasville Furniture closed plants because of imports, mainly from Asia.

North Carolina, meanwhile, has lost more than 5,700 furniture-manufacturing jobs since February 2002, according to the N.C. Employment Security Commission.

'This is certainly another sad day for the Triad's furniture-manufacturing base, although it certainly was not unexpected,' said Ken Smith, the director of furniture services for BDO Seidman LLP, a financial-services company.

Smith said that Furniture Brands International, the parent company of Thomasville, said recently that it plans to close more domestic plants within its six divisions as it becomes more of an international manufacturer.

'If furniture was doing better at retail, the industry might not be feeling the production pressures it is now,' Smith said. 'But you can afford to operate at low capacity and 32-hour workweeks for only so long before consolidation becomes inevitable.'

Masters said that Furniture Brands did not compel Thomas-ville to make the plant-closing decision.

'Furniture Brands doesn't tell us how to operate our business, but it does give us financial targets we have to hit,' Masters said. 'Right now, about 20 percent of our product is outsourced, but it's clear that trend will only increase more toward imports not only for Thomas-ville, but the industry as a whole.'

After the Winston-Salem closure, Thomasville will operate 25 other manufacturing plants in North Carolina and Virginia, employing about 5,400.

Curtis Mitchell, the manager of the Winston-Salem office of the N.C. Employment Security Commission, said that the office probably wouldn't see an increase in demand for job services and unemployment claims until the layoffs occur.

When that happens, he said: 'The office is going to be here. We'll have staff to handle this.'

Asked what the closing means to Winston-Salem, he said: 'It means we are still in a recession. We are seeing people being laid off every day in Forsyth County and in surrounding areas.'

Mitchell said that the layoffs should not have a marked effect on Forsyth County's unemployment rate, which fell to 4.9 percent in April from 5 percent in March.

'When it's put into the equation, you won't see it that greatly in the rate,' he said.

TESTIMONY ON H 1318 – REFORM OF WILIAM S. LEE ACT

By William Schweke, Corporation for Enterprise Development

June 18, 2003

I am the Research Director of the Corporation for Enterprise Development. CFED seeks to foster widely shared and sustainable economic well-being by promoting asset-building and economic opportunity strategies – primarily in low-income and distressed communities – that bring together community practice, public policy, and private markets in new and effective ways. Designing appropriate and well-delivered state and local economic development programs and more accountable, cost-effective, and transparent business incentives are two of our main areas of work.

What's Wrong With Business Incentives?

As a national nonprofit and given our mission, not surprisingly, we have a pretty negative view of what some call – "the economic war between the states."

The competition among states to recruit new companies or retain existing ones has never been more intense. Annually, states and localities across the country spend billions of public dollars on a variety of tax incentives and spending programs whose use has fueled a new incentives "arms race" among the states. This development strategy presents cities and states with a fundamental dilemma:

On the one hand, it appears that incentives can make a difference in the site selection process, particularly when the choice comes to two or three similar locations. Moreover, even if the economics are bad, political pressure makes it hard for governors and mayors to ignore the incentives sweepstakes. Indeed, how can any state or locality unilaterally disarm and miss the chance of landing a significant business prospect? Likewise, how can an elected official, such as a mayor or governor, avoid responding with public dollars and policy changes when a company, which has long operated in the state, threatens to leave and accept generous incentives from another jurisdiction?

On the other hand, most economists and policy analysts agree that incentives are not good development policy. In using them to attract businesses, cities and states: (1) waste scarce public dollars without creating net new jobs in the vast majority of cases; (2) subsidize the shareholders of these companies for the economic actions they would have taken anyway; (3) foster unfair competition by helping some firms and industries and not others; and (4) divert the attention of policymakers from other issues that could lead to additional job creation and a better business climate.

Neither business attraction nor incentive use should be seen as an utterly worthless exercise. Rather, the challenge for state and local governments is to find ways to make their jurisdictions attractive without giving away the tax base, and to use incentives selectively and responsibly.

Now let's look at the current William S. Lee Act. Is it working or not?

A Critique of the William S. Lee Act

The William S. Lee Act was created in 1996 primarily to drive more private investment into the poorer and struggling rural counties of North Carolina.

During its history, the program has been refined and reformed, but its rationale still focuses on this goal, along with the objective of promoting development in economically disadvantaged urban communities.

Sadly, the evidence suggests that this has not happened. The large majority of investment and other tax credits are used by firms operating in the more affluent areas of the state. This is despite the fact that the level of subsidy in Tiers 1 and 2 dwarf those provided in the other Tiers.

But there is another problem. When the Lee Act was enacted in 1996, the economy and its fiscal base were both strong. Now, North Carolina is suffering from the national recession and major restructuring, dislocation, and job loss in its manufacturing economy.

Furthermore, the Lee Act's criteria for targeting its subsidies are principally focused on those areas that are chronically poor and depressed. Although in many ways this makes sense, it also means that it provides little aid to areas that are going through sudden and severe downturns.

At the same time, the cost of the Lee Act and similar incentives are increasing significantly each year and now amount to about $142 million. And even if the Lee Act is terminated today, its liabilities and costs will continue to rise for some time.

North Carolina's Economic Policy Challenges

Given this changing context, it is important to frame any analysis of the Lee Act with the right set of questions:

1. Does it encourage investment in those communities that are being hardest hit by economic restructuring and dislocation?
2. Does it improve the reemployment prospects of displaced workers?
3. Does it help the state's firms and sectors compete successfully on the basis of innovation, productivity, timeliness, flexibility, and quality in the new global economy?

4. Do development strategies help to ensure an adequate revenue base for financing essential public services?

How Could The Lee Act Be Improved?

To start, I believe that the whole tax credit approach should be questioned. Setting aside the research and development tax credit, for which, a strong market imperfection argument could be advanced, the rest of the program should be converted into grant or loan programs.

What's Wrong With Tax Incentives?

The problem with tax incentives or expenditures are as follows:

- They are less transparent than straight subsidies. Indeed, they are rather hidden in the tax code and therefore receive less scrutiny than on-budget expenditures.
- They are easier to design to benefit those least in need.
- They often reward behavior that would have already happened.
- Typically, they are usually entitlements and not subject to annual budgeting.
- Eliminating them is often regarded as a "tax increase." (Jean Ross: "This is the roach motel of tax policy – they go in the tax code – and never come out.")
- Overall, they make a tax code less horizontally equitable and transparent, thereby reducing the legitimacy of the tax code.

Their only real advantage is their ease of administration. But this virtue also opens up rampant opportunities for fraud and honest mistakes by those firms taking advantage of them.

Pick The Right Incentives

Since not all incentives are the same and since policymakers should only help firms if there is a larger public benefit, they must choose the best tool -- those that have the greatest potential accountability and are likely to provide the broadest benefits beyond the company aided. For example, investments in training or physical infrastructure accrue to the broader community and remain in a community, whether a particular company stays or not. Whenever possible, provide money in this form.

In fact, legislators should consider reinvesting some of the savings from reforming the Lee Act to finance a number of the proposals from the Rural Prosperity Task Force. Very few of its items, beyond the creation of Dogwood Equity and the digital divide recommendations, received any monies. The Rural Redevelopment Authority, which was created, has no board or appropriations still. It could be catalyzed by financing its endowment and creating a low-interest loan program for site improvements, water and sewer, and so forth. Similarly, North Carolina's community colleges could stand additional injections of finance.

By doing so, the state would be doing what it should be doing: competing on its "fundamentals" -- its "bread and butter" government services such as K-12 schools, roads and needed physical infrastructure, research and development, police, and higher education. What companies fundamentally need are customer-friendly services that are worth the taxes, and professional, predictable regulation.

Loans have the following advantage: they have to be paid back.

Cash grants, even though they have some merits relative to tax incentives, they belong to the business alone. So, be sure they are designed with strong accountability and performance mechanisms.

And this is what H 1318 tries to accomplish.

The Strengths of H 1318

The proposed bill has many of these elements and constitutes a break with the unsuccessful tax incentive strategies of the past.

Its merits include:

- The bill makes the state more of an investor, trying to ensure that public benefits accrue from public investments.
- It converts the Lee tax credits into more transparent subsidies.
- It seeks to help policymakers to become more prudent stewards of public funds by setting a ceiling on the maximum of spending annually and by limiting the amount of state monies spent per job created.
- It rethinks the Tier criteria so that Tiers 1 and 2 counties benefit further, as well as creates opportunities to aid communities undergoing sudden and severe economic dislocation.
- It enhances accountability and transparency through requiring a sunset, a declaration of performance benchmarks for assessing progress or failure, and better reporting to the governor, legislature, and the public. (In addition, it imposes many of these requirements on other business attraction grant funds.)
- It establishes job quality standards on financed projects.
- It links economic development more closely with workforce preparation and retraining by its proposed First Source Hiring agreements.

Conclusions

In summary, H 1318 appears to be an important step forward in getting the state's business incentive programs to meet the highest standards of accountability, cost-effectiveness, and impact.

SENATE BILL 934:
DWI Provider Authorization Fees

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	House Finance	Introduced by:	Sen. Kerr
Date:	June 11, 2003	Summary by:	Martha Walston
Version:	S934-CSLA-25		Committee Counsel*

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 934 is an agency bill requested by the Department of Health and Human Services. It establishes an annual fee for private facilities that provide substance abuse services needed by a person to obtain a certificate of completion required under G.S. 20-17.6. The amount of the fee varies depending on the number of assessments completed by the facility during the prior fiscal year. The bill becomes effective July 1, 2003, and applies to private facilities providing substance abuse services on or after that date.

The proposed committee substitute adds language to clarify that the collected fees will be used by the Division of Mental Health, Developmental Disabilities, and Substance Abuse Services of the Department for program monitoring and quality assurance.

CURRENT LAW: A person whose license was revoked as a result of a conviction for driving while impaired must have a substance abuse assessment and obtain a certificate of completion of either an alcohol and drug education traffic school or a substance abuse treatment program before the person's license can be restored. The substance abuse treatment programs may be provided by an area facility or by a private facility authorized by the Department of Health and Human Services. To be authorized to provide this service, a private facility must notify the Department of its intent to provide the service and agree to comply with the laws and rules concerning the services. The Department must also monitor the facility to ensure that it complies with the laws and rules concerning the services it offers. The volume of applications and DWI certificate of completion forms the Department receives from private facilities continues to increase and, according to the Department, exceeds it capacity of present staffing. The Department is concerned that the facilities do not receive the level of monitoring required under the rules or the technical assistance and consultation necessary to ensure that the quality of services will serve to protect the public welfare.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 934 would establish an annual fee to be paid by private facilities that want to be authorized to provide substance abuse services needed by a person to obtain a certificate of completion required under G.S. 20-17.6 as a condition for the restoration of a drivers license. The amount of the fee would vary depending upon the number of assessments completed by the facility during the prior fiscal year:

Number of Assessments	Fee Amount
0-24	$250
25-99	$500
100 or more	$750

*Cindy Avrette, counsel to Senate Finance, contributed substantially to this summary.

The fee would be payable to the Department of Health and Human Services at the time the facility notifies the Department of its intent to provide the service and by July 1 of each year thereafter. The bill would become effective July 1, 2003, and would apply to private facilities providing substance abuse services on or after that date. The collected fees would be used by the Division of Mental health, Developmental Disabilities and Substance Abuse Services of the Department for program monitoring and quality assurance.

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 1, 2003

BILL SUMMARY:

Section 1 – Amends G.S. 122C-142.1 to require persons found guilty of Driving While Intoxicated (DWI) to seek treatment from an Area Mental Health Authority or a private facility authorized by the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) to provide DWI Certificate of Completions.

Under current statute, a DWI offender could seek service at any private DWI treatment provider who meets the standard of the statute. This bill would now require that the private provider be authorized by DHHS to provide the services.

This section of the bill also moves language regarding private facility requirements from subsection (a) of G.S. 122C-142.1 to a subsection (a1).

Section 2 – Establishes a new subsection (a1) in G.S. 122C-142.1. The proposed subsection will include language currently located in subsection (a) of the statute requiring private DWI service providers to notify their local area mental health programs before providing services and that the facilities adhere to all relevant rules and laws. These requirements are not changed from current statute.

The proposed bill also requires the private service facilities to pay a fee to DHHS to recover the cost associated with expanding the office that authorizes and monitors these facilities as required by 10 NCAC 14V .3806. The fee would be collected as a departmental receipt and would be retained by DHHS. This proposed annual fee is divided into three tiers based on the number of persons treated ("assessed") by the facility per year. This fee would only apply to facilities that serve DWI offenders seeking Certificates of Completion.

The bill identifies the following schedule:

	Assessments per Year:	Annual Fee:
Tier 1	1-24	$250.00
Tier 2	25-99	$500.00
Tier 3	100 or more	$750.00

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

Revenues – In calculating the fiscal impact, the following revenue assumptions were used:

- Currently, there are 210 Tier 1 providers, 110 Tier 2 providers, and 75 Tier 3 providers.
- Based on trend data from 1999-2002, the expected growth rate for private DWI service providers is 5%. This analysis assumes that facilities will continue to grow at 5%. This projection does not consider the impact of Mental Health Reform on the number of providers.
- For the upper bound of the annual revenue projections, current service providers in all three tiers were assumed to pay the fee.
- For the lower bound of the annual revenue projections, providers in Tier 1 were assumed to eliminate services to DWI offenders for the purpose providing Certificates of Completion. This fee represents 14% of the average income these facilities receive serving DWI offenders and DHHS has stated that some of the facilities are expected to cease providing these services.

Anticipated Revenues for FY 2003-04*
	Facilities	Fee	Total Revenue FY 2003-04 (Lower Bound)	Total Revenue FY 2003-04 (Upper Bound)
Tier 1	210	$250	None	$52,500
Tier 2	110	$500	$55,000	$55,000
Tier 3	75	$750	$56,250	$56,250
Total			$111,250	$163,750
 Service Providers are expected to grow by 5% in future years.*

Expenditures – In calculating the fiscal impact, the following expenditure assumptions were used:

- According to DHHS, two positions will be needed to carry out the authorization and monitoring activities for these private facilities as required in 10 NCAC 14v .3806. Combined, the salaries and benefits associated with these positions will cost $122,565.
- The costs of the two positions were inflated according to the following schedule; FY 2005 (3.9%); FY 2006 (3.6%); FY 2007 (3.5%); FY 2008 (3.5%).
- DHHS has stated that any revenue collected in addition to the amount necessary for the two positions would be used to offset the cost of equipment, supplies, and travel for the two positions.
- DHHS assumes that there will be no costs associated with collecting this fee.

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	House Finance	Sponsor:	Rep. Holliman
Date:	June 17 2003	Analysis by:	Martha Walston
Version:	2nd Edition		Committee Counsel*

SUMMARY: House Bill 1049 was given a favorable report in House Insurance and does the following:

- Permits licensed psychological associates to receive fees directly from insurers.
- Allows the Psychology Practice Board to require applicants for licensure to pay the fee for the national written examination directly to the vendor. The cost of the examination shall be set by the vendor.
- Increases the fee for a temporary license from $25 to $35.

The act becomes effective January 1, 2004, and applies to services rendered by psychological associates on and after that date.

BILL ANALYSIS: Section 1 –Current Law - G.S. 58-50-30(a1) provides that if a health benefit plan or policy of insurance under a Health Maintenance Organization provides coverage or payment for any service that is within the practice of certain providers, then the insured persons are entitled to coverage and to choose their providers. The providers are entitled to third party reimbursements for the services rendered. Duly licensed psychologists are among the listed providers.

HB 1049 expands definition of a duly licensed psychologist to include licensed psychological associates.

Sections 2 and 3 – Current Law - G.S. 135-40.7B provides the types of benefits for the treatment of mental illness and chemical dependency that are covered under the State Health Plan. A licensed psychological associate may not provide necessary care and treatment for mental health unless under the direct employment and supervision of a licensed psychiatrist or licensed or certified doctor of psychology. A licensed psychological associate may not provide necessary care and treatment for chemical dependency unless the associate has received the appropriate substance abuse training and experience and is working under the direct supervision of physicians, psychologists, or psychiatrists at the facility.

HB 1049 would allow licensed psychological associates to receive payment for necessary care and treatment of mental health and chemical dependency treatment under the State Health Plan.

Section 4 –Current Law - G.S. 90-270.18 provides the fees the Psychology Practice Board may charge to carry out its functions. The Board may charge the cost of the national written exam plus $50, and $25 for a temporary license.

HB 1049 – would allow the Board to have the fee for the national exam be set by the vendor and remitted directly to the vendor by the applicants. The PCS also allows a $10 increase in the fee for temporary licenses (from $25 to $35).

BACKGROUND: Article 18A of Chapter 90 is the Psychology Practice Act. It governs the qualifications and licensure of persons who practice psychology in North Carolina.

The practice of psychology is defined as the observation, description, evaluation, interpretation, or modification of human behavior by the application of psychological principles, methods, and procedures for the purpose of preventing or eliminating symptomatic, maladaptive, or undesired behavior or of enhancing interpersonal relationships, work and life adjustment, personal effectiveness, behavioral health, or mental health. It includes: psychological testing and the evaluation or assessment of personal characteristics such as intelligence, personality, abilities, interests, aptitudes, and neuropsychological functioning; counseling, psychoanalysis, psychotherapy, hypnosis, biofeedback, and behavior analysis and therapy; diagnosis, including etiology and prognosis, and treatment of mental and emotional disorder or disability, alcoholism and substance abuse, disorders of habit or conduct, as well as of the psychological and neuropsychological aspects of physical illness, accident, injury, or disability; and psychoeducational evaluation, therapy, remediation, and consultation.

In order to obtain licensure as a psychologist, an individual must be at least 18 years old, have good moral character, have received a doctoral psychology degree, have at least two years of supervised experience, and pass a licensure exam.

In order to obtain licensure as a psychological associate, an individual must be at least 18 years old, have good moral character, have received a master's psychology degree and pass a licensure exam. Under rules adopted by the Psychology Board, psychological associates must receive at least one hour per month of supervision from a licensed psychologist or other qualified professional.

As a general rule, insurance companies will not directly reimburse psychological associates for services rendered unless the psychological associate is employed and directly supervised by a psychologist or other professional.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: NC Psychological Board.

EFFECTIVE DATE: January 1, 2004 and applies to services rendered by psychological associates on and after that date.

BILL SUMMARY: The bill makes three changes to the law governing the practice of psychology. First, it allows licenses psychological associates to receive fees directly from insurers. Second, it authorizes the Psychological Practice Board to require applicants for licensure to pay their national exam fee directly to the vendor. Finally, it increases the fee for a temporary license from $25 to $35.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: According to the Psychological Practice Board, there are currently 1291 Licensed Psychological Associates in North Carolina. Often these practitioners must be directly under the employment and supervision of a licensed psychiatrist or certified doctor of psychology to receive third party payments. All these individuals would now be able to receive payment from third party payers, including the state health plan. The impact this change will have on the state health plan is outlined in the associated actuarial note.

The second change in the bill relates to the fees assessed for the national exam. According to the Board, the actual cost of the examination is not anticipated to change. Currently, applicants pay "the cost of the examination to the Board" directly to the Board, and then the Board remits this amount to the national examination service. The proposed legislation would permit the Board to have the applicants pay the cost of the examination directly to the examination vendor. The current cost of each examination is $450.00, and approximately 110 applicants are sitting for the examination during a fiscal year.

The final change relates to the fee for a temporary license. The Board estimates that five (5) persons or less will be affected each fiscal year by the increase in the temporary license fee. If the maximum of five is reached, the Board would see a revenue increase from this portion of the bill of $50.00.

NORTH CAROLINA GENERAL ASSEMBLY
LEGISLATIVE ACTUARIAL NOTE

BILL NUMBER: House Bill 1049, Second Edition, Sections 2, 3, and 5

SHORT TITLE: Licensed Psychological Associates/Insurance Payments

SPONSOR(S): Rep. Holliman

SYSTEM OR PROGRAM AFFECTED: Teachers' and State Employees' Comprehensive Major Medical Plan.

FUNDS AFFECTED: State General Fund, State Highway Fund, other State employer receipts, premium payments for dependents by active and retired teachers and State employees, premium payments for coverages selected by eligible former teachers and State employees and premium payments for coverages selected by firefighters, rescue squad workers, and members of the National Guard.

BILL SUMMARY: The bill allows licensed psychological associates to provide mental health and chemical dependency benefits under the Teachers' and State Employees' Comprehensive Major Medical Plan without being under the direct employment and supervision of a licensed psychiatrist or a licensed or certified doctor of psychology. Licensed psychological associates are masters level psychologists.

EFFECTIVE DATE: January 1, 2004.

ESTIMATED IMPACT ON STATE: Aon Consulting, consulting actuary for the Teachers' and State Employees' Comprehensive Major Medical Plan, projects that the bill will have a negligible cost impact upon the Plan. Hartman & Associates, consulting actuary for the General Assembly's Fiscal Research Division, estimates that the bill is not expected to have a significant financial impact on the Plan.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: The Comprehensive Major Medical Plan for Teachers and State Employees is divided into two programs. From October 1982, through June 1986, the Plan only had a self-funded indemnity type of program which covered all employees, retired employees, eligible dependents of employees and retired employees, and eligible former employees and their eligible dependents authorized to continue coverage past a termination of employment other than for retirement or disability purposes. A prepaid program of coverage by health maintenance organizations (HMOs) was offered in July 1986, as an alternative to the Plan's self-insured indemnity program. The benefits of the self-insured indemnity type of program are spelled out in Part 3 of Article 3 of Chapter 135 of the North Carolina General Statutes (i.e., $350 annual deductible, 20% coinsurance up to $1,500 annually, etc. paid by the program's members). HMOs are required to offer benefits that are comparable to those provided by the self-insured indemnity program. Beginning in July, 2000, firefighters, rescue squad workers, and members of the National Guard and their eligible dependents were allowed to voluntarily participate in the Plan on a fully contributory basis, provided they were ineligible for any other type of group health benefits and had been without such benefits for at least six months. Employer-paid non-contributory premiums are only authorized for the indemnity program's coverage for employees and retired employees. All other types of premium in the indemnity program are fully contributory, except for job-sharing public school teachers who are authorized partially contributory premiums at 50% of non-contributory rates. The Plan's Executive Administrator has set the premium rates for firefighters, rescue squad workers, and members of the National Guard and their families at 20% more than the comparable rates charged for employees, retired employees, and their families. Premiums paid by employers to HMOs are limited to like amounts paid to the indemnity program with employees and retired employees paying any HMO amounts above the indemnity program's non-contributory rates. Both types of coverage continue to be available in the Plan; however none of the HMOs with certificates of authority to transact business in North Carolina have offered to participate in the Plan since September 30, 2001. The Plan's employees and retired employees select the type of program that they wish for themselves and their dependents during the months of August and September of each year for coverage beginning in October. The demographics of the Plan as of December 31, 2002, include:

Assumptions for the Self-Insured Indemnity Program: For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2002, the self-insured program started its operations with a beginning cash balance of $91.6 million. Receipts for the year are estimated to be $1.371 billion from premium collections and $7 million from investment earnings for a total of $1.378 billion in receipts for the year. Disbursements from the self-insured program are expected to be $1.335 billion in claim payments and $38 million in administration and claims processing expenses for a total of $1.373 billion for the year beginning July 1, 2002. For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2002, the selfinsured indemnity program is expected to have a net operating gain of approximately $5 million for the year. Without reserving an additional $15 million for implementation of the claims data and privacy requirements of the federal Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPPA) that take effect on and after April 14, 2003, the Plan's self-insured indemnity program is expected to have an available beginning cash balance of $96 million for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2003. The self-insured indemnity program is nonetheless assumed to be unable to carry out its operations for the 2003-2005 biennium without increases in its current premium rates or a reduction in existing benefits or payments to health care providers or both. This assumption is further predicated upon the fact that the program's cost containment strategies (hospital DRG reimbursements, discounts on hospital outpatient services, pre-admission hospital testing, pre-admission hospital inpatient certification with length-of-stay approval, hospital bill audits, case and disease management for selected medical conditions, mental health case management, coordination of benefits with other payers, Medicare benefit "carve-outs", cost reduction contracts with participating physicians and other providers, a prescription drug benefit manager with manufacturer rebates from formularies, and fraud detection) are maintained and improved where possible. Current non-contributory premium rates are $186.04 monthly for employees whose primary payer of health benefits is Medicare and $244.38 per month for employees whose primary payer of health benefits is not Medicare. Fully contributory premium amounts for employee and child(ren) contracts are $115.78 monthly for children whose primary payer of health benefits is Medicare and $152.32 monthly for other covered children, and $277.68 per month for family contracts whose dependents have Medicare as the primary payer of health benefits and $365.36 per month for other family contract dependents. Claim cost trends are expected to increase 12% annually. Total enrollment in the program is expected to increase less than 1% annually over the next two years. The number of enrolled active employees is expected to show no increase over the next two years, whereas the growth in the number of retired employees is assumed to be 5% per year. The program is expected to have a 2% decrease in the number of active employee dependents per year whereas the number of retiree dependents is expected to increase 2% per year. Investment earnings are based upon a 4.5% return on available cash balances. The self-insured indemnity program maintains a claim stabilization reserve for claim cost fluctuations equal to 7.5% of annual claim payments without reserving additional funds for incurred but unreported claims.

Notwithstanding G.S. 14-344(a), a ticket broker may charge a service fee not to exceed three dollars ($3.00) when tickets or other evidences of the right of entry are sold by a ticket sales agent authorized to do business by the municipality or county where the ticket sales agent's place of business is located. The owner, operator, lessee, or tenant of the property where the athletic contest or entertainment event is to be held or is being held or the promoter of the contest or event may charge or may authorize, in writing, any person to charge a service fee for the sale of any ticket, privilege, or license of admission in addition to the face value of the ticket. The writing granting authority to another to charge a service fee shall specify the amount of the service fee to be charged for the sale of each ticket, privilege, or license of admission.

(b) For any athletic contest or entertainment event described in G.S. 66-259.6, a promoter of a contest or event may contractually restrict the resale of a ticket to that contest or event by giving notice of the restriction on the back of the ticket. An owner, operator, lessee, or tenant of the property where the contest or event is to be held or is being held may contractually restrict the resale of the right of occupancy of any specific suite, seat, or seating area by giving notice in writing of the restriction.

"§ 90-259.3. Exemptions.

(a) Nothing in this Article or any other provision of law shall criminally prohibit a person who is the original purchaser of one or more tickets to an athletic contest or entertainment event covered under this Article and who purchased the tickets for personal use from reselling or offering for resale the tickets for any price. However, the person shall not sell or offer to sell the ticket within 1,500 feet of a ticket office for the contest or event or a public entrance to the contest or event.

(b) Nothing in this Article or any other provision of law shall criminally prohibit a person who, for personal use, purchases one or more tickets to an athletic contest or entertainment event from reselling or offering for resale any of the tickets in any zone within the restricted areas, as provided in this subsection or in G.S. 66-259.6(b), where the activity is authorized by the promoter of the contest or event and the owner or operator of the venue where the contest or event is being held or to be held.

The bond shall be executed in favor of this State for the benefit of any person damaged by the ticket broker's breach of contract or any obligation arising from the breach or by any violation of this Article. The aggregate liability of the surety shall be for actual damages and shall not exceed the amount of the bond.

SECTION 2. G.S. 14-344 reads as rewritten:

"§ 14-344. Sale of admission tickets in excess of printed price.

(a) Any person, firm, or corporation shall be allowed to add a reasonable service fee to the face value of the tickets sold, and the person, firm, or corporation which sells or resells such tickets shall not be permitted to recoup funds greater than the combined face value of the ticket, tax, and the authorized service fee. This service fee may not exceed three dollars ($3.00) for each ticket except that a promoter or operator of the property where the event is to be held and a ticket sales agency may agree in writing on a reasonable service fee greater than three dollars ($3.00) for the first sale of tickets by the ticket sales agent. This service fee may be a pre-established amount per ticket or a percentage of each ticket. The existence of the service fee shall be made known to the public by printing or writing the amount of the fee on the tickets which are printed for the event. Any person, firm or corporation which sells or offers to sell a ticket for a price greater than the price permitted by this section shall be guilty of a Class 2 misdemeanor.

(b) This section shall not apply to sales pursuant to Article 32A of Chapter 66 of the General Statutes."

SECTION 3. G.S. 105-37.1 reads as rewritten:

"§ 105-37.1. Dances, athletic events, shows, exhibitions, and other entertainments.

(a) Scope. – A privilege tax is imposed on the gross receipts of a person who is engaged in any of the following:

(1) Giving, offering, or managing a dance or an athletic contest for which an admission fee in excess of fifty cents (50¢) is charged.

(2) Giving, offering, or managing a form of amusement or entertainment that is not taxed by another provision of this Article and for which an admission fee is charged.

(3) Exhibiting a performance, show, or exhibition, such as a circus or dog show, that is not taxed by another provision of this Article.

(a1) Ticket Brokers. – A privilege tax is imposed on the net receipts of a person who is engaged in the business of ticket brokering as defined under Article 32A of Chapter 66 of the General Statutes. For the purposes of this subsection, "net receipts" means the gross receipts less the face value of the tickets sold.

(b) Rate and Payment. – The rate of the privilege tax is three percent (3%) of the gross receipts from the activities described in subsection (a) of this ~~section.~~section and three percent (3%) of the net receipts from the activities described in subsection (a1) of this section. The tax is due when a return is due. A return is due by the 10th day after the end of each month and covers the gross receipts received during the previous month.

(c) Advance Report. – A person who owns or controls a performance, show, or exhibition subject to the tax imposed by this section and who plans to bring the performance to this State from outside the State must file a statement with the Secretary that lists the dates, times, and places of the performance, show, or exhibition. The statement must be filed no less than five days before the first performance, show, or exhibition in this State.

(d) Local Taxes. – Cities may levy a license tax on a person taxed under subdivision (a)(1) or (a)(2) of this section; however, the tax may not exceed twenty-five dollars ($25.00). Cities may levy a license tax on a person taxed under subdivision (a)(3) of this section; however, the tax may not exceed twenty-five dollars ($25.00) for each day or part of a day the performance, show, or exhibition is given at each location.

Counties may not levy a license tax on a person taxed under subdivision (a)(1) or (a)(2) of this section. Counties may levy a license tax on a person taxed under subdivision (a)(3) to the same extent as a city.

Neither a county nor a city may levy a license tax on a person taxed under subsection (a1) of this section."

SECTION 4. Section 3 of this act becomes effective July 1, 2003, and applies to tickets sold on or after that date. The remainder of this act is effective when it becomes law.

HOUSE BILL 1072:
Regulate Ticket Brokers

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	House Finance	Sponsor:	Rep. Gibson and Miner
Date:	June 11, 2003	Analysis by:	Martha Walston
Version:	H1072-CSLU-4 [v.12]		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 1072 creates a new Article under the Commerce and Business Chapter of the General Statutes that would regulate ticket brokers. The bill is in House Finance because it imposes a registration fee on the ticket brokers and assesses a 3% privilege tax on the brokerage fee charged by the ticket broker.

The 3% privilege tax becomes effective October 1, 2003, and applies to tickets sold on or after that date. The remainder of the bill is effective when it becomes law.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 1072 creates a new Article 32A that regulates ticket brokers:

§66-259.1 defines the following terms: promoter, ticket, ticket broker, and ticket sales agent.

§66-259.2 makes it unlawful to resell any ticket of admission to any athletic contest, concert, theatre performance, amusement, exhibition, or other entertainment event where the general public is admitted for a price in excess of the face value of the ticket UNLESS THE TICKET IS SOLD BY A REGISTERED TICKET BROKER. (See Section 2 of the bill)

Exempts charitable or non-profit organizations from the new article when the organization is selling tickets to a raffle, auction, or other fund-raising activity for the benefit of the organization's purposes.

Authorizes a promoter to contractually restrict the resale of a ticket to a single athletic contest or entertainment event that occurs no more than once annually or to any series of athletic contest that occur no more than once annually and occur within a time period not exceeding 10 days. The owner, operator, lessee, or tenant of the property where the contest or event is held may contractually restrict the resale of the right of occupancy.

§66-259.3 sets out the following requirements for a person seeking to practice or engage in the business as a ticket broker:

- Maintain a permanent office or place of business in the State.
- File for registration as a ticket broker with the Secretary of Crime Control and Public Safety.
- Obtain a bond in the amount of $100,000.
- Pay a registration fee not to exceed $2,000. This fee must be paid to the Secretary. A renewal fee not to exceed $2,000 must be paid annually.

§66-259.4 requires the ticket broker to disclose the broker's refund policy, cancellation policy, and the difference between the face value of the ticket and the amount the broker charges for the ticket. A broker may only sell tickets at the broker's office or place of business.

§66-259.5 disqualifies a person from practicing as a ticket broker if the person has been convicted of a felony and has not been pardoned or had his or her civil rights restored.

§66-259.7 authorizes the Secretary of Crime Control and Public Safety to punish a person who willfully violates the Article. The Secretary may order the person to cease from violating the Article, suspend or revoke the certificate of registration, or impose a civil penalty of up to $1,000 for each violation. A willful violation of the Article constitutes a Class 2 misdemeanor.

§66-259.8 authorizes the Secretary of Crime Control and Public Safety to adopt rules.

SECTION 2 OF THE BILL clarifies that the new Article is not applicable to current law set out in G.S. 14-344. This statue authorizes a person, firm, or corporation to add a reasonable service fee to the face value of a ticket sold. This service fee may not exceed $3.00 for each ticket, except that a promoter or operator of the property where the event is to be held and a ticket sales agency may agree on a fee greater than $3.00 for the first sale of tickets by the ticket sales agent

SECTION 3 OF THE BILL imposes 3% privilege tax on the brokerage fee charged by a ticket broker. A brokerage fee is the difference between the amount charged by the ticket broker for the ticket and the face value of the ticket. A county or city may not levy a license tax on a ticket broker who is assessed the 3% privilege tax on the brokerage fee.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: NC Department of Revenue, Crime Control and Public Safety.

EFFECTIVE DATE: October 1, 2003.

BILL SUMMARY: The legislation allows and regulates ticket brokering, and applies a 3% privilege tax on the service fees charged by these ticket brokers. As a part of the regulation, brokers are required to register with the Secretary of Crime Control and Public Safety and pay a $2,000 registration fee to offset the costs of the program. Bonds are also required.

Establishes a civil penalty of up to $1,000 and a Class 2 misdemeanor criminal penalty for violation of the act.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: There are two primary fiscal impacts related to the bill. The first relates to the tax while the second relates to the fee. In 2000-01, the Department of Revenue collected $27.6 million from the 3% privilege tax on amusements. Of this amount, approximately $6.67 million was drawn from amusements that could be impacted by the bill. The legislation does not jeopardize this revenue. Because this is a new tax, it will result in a revenue gain. Neither Tax Research nor Fiscal Research can estimate the exact amount. However, the increase is expected to be relatively small.

As far as the regulatory fee is concerned, according to the United States Ticket Brokers Association there are 788 bonded ticket brokers in the United States, 11 of which are currently in North Carolina. The National Association of Ticket Brokers boasts approximately 170 members nationwide, only one of which is in North Carolina. The registration of all current NC brokers would result in a revenue gain of approximately $24,000 (12 x $2,000). This creates the low end of the estimate. However, the actual amount of revenue increase will likely be higher as the number of ticket brokers is also likely to increase.

Department of Correction

The Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission prepares inmate population projections annually. The projections used for incarceration fiscal notes and fiscal memos are based on January 2003 projections. These projections are based on historical information on incarceration and release rates under Structured Sentencing, crime rate forecasts by a technical advisory board, probation and revocation rates, and the decline (parole and maxouts) of the stock prison population sentenced under previous sentencing acts. Based on the most recent population projections and estimated available prison bed capacity, there are no surplus prison beds available for the five year Fiscal Note horizon and beyond. The number of beds needed will always be equal to the projected number of inmates due to a bill.

Because the proposed bill creates a new offense, the Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission does not have any historical data from which to estimate the impact of this bill on the prison population. It is not known how many offenders might be sentenced under this bill. Only 12% (3,944) of total Class 2 misdemeanants convicted in 2002 (31,425) received active sentence. The average sentence is 23.4 days so time served will be in local jails and the Department of Correction (DOC) will not have to reimburse (only for misdemeanants with sentences over 30 days). (Active sentences between 1-90 days are served in local jails; the DOC reimburses counties for active sentences between 30-90 days). Because offenders serving active sentences of 90 days or less are housed in county jails, convictions under this bill would not be expected to have a significant impact on the prison population.

Judicial Branch

For most criminal penalty bills, the Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) provides Fiscal Research with an analysis of the fiscal impact of the specific bill. For these bills, fiscal impact is typically based on the assumption that court time will increase due to an expected increase in trials and a corresponding increase in the hours of work for judges, clerks and prosecutors. This increased court time is also expected to result in greater expenditures for jury fees and indigent defense. AOC does not expect a significant increase in the number of charges for as a result of this bill given the relatively small number of ticket brokers operating in the state.

Department of Crime Control and Public Safety

Staff at the Department of Crime Control and Public Safety (CCPS) indicated that most likely this new function would be added to the responsibilities of the Alcohol Law Enforcement Division, which currently monitors bingo activities or to the duties of the Boxing Commission. The Department would handle the regulatory function such as issuing rules, registration of brokers, issuing notices of violation, etc. However, criminal enforcement activities would be the responsibility of local law enforcement agencies.

CCPS staff estimates that the rulemaking process will require 48 hours of work by a staff attorney, whose annual salary is $75,083, at a cost of $1,985 NR, including salary and benefits. This is a one-time cost in the first year to develop and issue rules.

The Department would add a Grade 61 administrative support position which will be responsible for registering ticket brokers, receiving complaints, issuing notices of violations, assessing fines, and referring complaints to local law enforcement agencies. The annual salary cost is estimated using the midpoint salary of $27,391 for a grade 61 position. The cost of benefits includes the state's share for FICA (7.65%), retirement (3.03%), and health insurance ($2,933). The combined annual salary and benefits are estimated to be $33,249 in fiscal year 2003-04. In addition, an annual amount of $500 is included for the costs of forms, supplies, equipment, postage, travel, etc.

When it comes to ticket scalping, the Net's the Wild West

By Allan Drury, Gannett New Service

Scalping tickets for sporting events has spread from stadium parking lots to cyberspace.

A quick glance at eBay, the auction Web site, shows that sellers draw bids several times the face value of tickets. Law enforcement agencies say they monitor the sites to make sure prices are within legal limits, but admit online sales are difficult to police.

The NFL isn't amused by the burgeoning Internet market for tickets. Most teams print language on the back of their tickets warning buyers against unlawful resale, said Greg Aiello, a league spokesman.

"We view it as unethical and in some cases against the law," Aiello said. "It suggests a desire to profit personally and perhaps illegally on the coattails of either the NFL or the team."

State laws governing the resale of tickets are often murky. In New Jersey, it is illegal for a licensed broker or season ticket holder to sell a ticket to any event held in the state for more than 50% above the price the broker or season ticket holder paid.

Other sellers cannot charge a price more than 20% above face value, said Genene Morris, a spokeswoman for the New Jersey Division of Consumer Affairs.

The law applies even if the buyer and seller both live elsewhere, she said.

Some sellers on eBay post names that make it clear they are brokers. But it's difficult to tell whether others are brokers or season ticket holders and, thus, how much they can legally get for their tickets.

But of nine randomly chosen auctions to the Sept. 15 New York Jets- New England Patriots game, only one stopped before bidding topped 120% of the face value of the tickets.

The face value of the highest-priced Jets ticket, the mezzanine level, is $70.

The top bid in the nine auctions was $320 for a pair of lower level seats with a face value of $55 — meaning the winning bidder paid $160 per ticket.

An eBay education

EBay, based in San Jose, Calif., does its part to try to see that sellers follow the law by providing links to the rules in each state. EBay encourages sellers to include language on their postings explaining the rules that apply, said Kevin Pursglove, a spokesman.

But he conceded enforcement is nearly impossible and the company depends on sellers to abide by an honor system, he said.

"We don't make any pretense that we can be expert in every resale policy on a state-by-state basis," he said. "We feel our best role is to educate people."

Morris, the New Jersey consumer affairs spokesman, acknowledged the price caps, which were raised in April, are tough to enforce. Because most eBay sellers do not list their real name, phone number or address, it's difficult to identify them, though the site allows sellers to be reached by e-mail.

But Morris said the state has prosecuted several ticket agencies in recent years for violating the law.

The offenders paid fines and signed settlement agreements in which they agreed not to violate the caps again, she said.

"We generally don't comment on investigations, but as a matter of course we do monitor (Internet ticket sales)," she said.

Teams monitor sites

NFL teams are aware of the thriving online market and some are doing all they can to crush it.

Just ask John Reis of Warwick, R.I., a Patriots season ticket holder for 18 years who had his tickets taken away in June after his wife placed his three tickets to a game against the Green Bay Packers on eBay.

The team's cybersnoopers were able to tell the tickets belonged to Reis because the posting listed his name and address, he said.

Reis, a crime prevention officer in Rhode Island Attorney General Sheldon Whitehouse's office, said he knew he would be unable to attend the Packers game because it falls on his wedding anniversary.

He said the tickets, which had a face value of $99 each, drew a high bid of $851. But he said the high bidder never contacted him and the Patriots took his account before he even received his season tickets from the team.

"I've been a loyal season ticket holder," Reis said. "I've never been kicked out of a seat. I've never been late on a payment. If I had known I was jeopardizing my season ticket account, this wouldn't have happened."

A Patriots spokesperson would not comment on how much effort the team puts into monitoring online auctions.

The Jets monitor eBay and other online sites, said Robert Parente, the team's vice president of business operations. If they're able to identify a season ticket holder looking to sell, the Jets write the fan a letter, he said.

"We tell them they should cease and desist," he said. "When we talk to people, most people are reasonable and they take them off eBay."

Auction sales discouraged

The Jets do not want season ticket holders selling their tickets online at any price, even a price that complies with the law, he said.

The Jets have never yanked anyone's season tickets because they were reselling them, Parente said.

The team offers fans who can't use tickets they've purchased the chance to donate them to the United Way or to sell them at face value to a fan who's on a waiting list, he said.

But if the Web posting does not identify the seat or row, it can be difficult to tell who the seller is.

It's clear the Patriots and their new home, Gillette Stadium, are an irresistible draw. Of the 11 randomly chosen auctions for tickets to the home opener against the Pittsburgh Steelers, the lowest high bid for two tickets was $305.

A ticket broker paid the highest price for a pair of tickets to the rematch of last season's AFC championship game. He submitted the high bid of $610 for a pair of $75 end zone tickets about 25 rows off the field.

Massachusetts law seems particularly unclear. It allows licensed brokers to sell tickets at $2 more than face value plus the broker's cost of obtaining the ticket. The cost of obtaining the ticket can include expenses such as advertising, postage and payments to an employee who waited in line to buy the ticket, said Steven Osgood, general counsel for the Massachusetts Department of Public Safety.

He said his agency does "spot checks" of Web sites to enforce the law, but resources prevent the department from being more aggressive.

Compulsive behavior drives ticket buyers

The behavior of the buyers fascinates psychologists and marketing experts.

What is it about these sports fans anyway? Why are some otherwise rational people willing to click a mouse and tap a keyboard until they've spent the grocery money on a pair of tickets to a football game they could probably catch on television?

"My fiancee calls me OCD (for obsessive-compulsive disorder) because I'm always on the computer trying to get these tickets," said Seth Winkleman, a 30-year-old New Britain, Conn., man who regularly bids on Patriots tickets on eBay.

"When you get the tickets for a good price, it's a really good feeling," he said.

Dipankar Chakravarti, a professor of marketing at the University of Colorado, believes in the constructive processing theory. Bidders will continue raising their offers because they're competitive and abhor losing, not because they believe the tickets are worth what they're willing to spend.

Francis T. McAndrew, a psychology professor at Knox College in Galesburg, Ill., said a couple of other factors may inspire fans to keep bidding higher.

Even though bidders on eBay aren't identified until bidding is closed — and then only by the nicknames they choose — losing out in an online auction may feel like a public defeat, he said.

"To withdraw is an admission of defeat," he said. "People aren't going to want to do that publicly. It's self-perception. They'll think less of themselves if they do."

WHY CAN'T I GET TICKETS?

REPORT ON TICKET DISTRIBUTION PRACTICES

BUREAU OF INVESTOR PROTECTION AND SECURITIES

MAY 27, 1999

Full Text | News Release | Summary | TOC |

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This report is intended to shed light on the largely underground and unexamined ticket distribution system in New York, a system which diverts the most desirable sports, concert and theatre tickets away from the general public.

The process by which tickets wend their way from the original issuer to the ultimate consumer is complex and often illegal. In the general case, the consumer walks up to the box office or telephones a ticket agent such as Telecharge or Ticketmaster (or uses one of their outlets), pays the price on the face of the ticket (with perhaps a small additional service charge) and obtains the ticket that he or she wants. Too often, however, the consumer finds that the desired ticket (e.g., to "The Lion King" or the Yankee playoffs or the Spice Girls) is unavailable within minutes after it goes on sale, and if there are any tickets left, they are at the rear of the house, the highest tier of the stadium or, in the case of a hit show, the wait can be for over a year. However, while a "sold-out" sign confronts the consumer at the box office, the newspapers nonetheless are filled with advertisements for the most sought after seats -- at prices, depending on the popularity of the event, ranging into the thousands of dollars. The Attorney General's investigation demonstrates that ticket distribution practices are seriously skewed away from ordinary fans and towards wealthy businesses and consumers.

This problem is not simply the result of the law of supply and demand. Rather, the availability of tickets and the outrageously high -- and illegal -- prices that brokers charge, to a large extent, can be laid at the door of illicit practices in the ticket industry and other practices that, although possibly not unlawful, are deceptive, unfair to the ticket buying public and supportive of the corrupt ticket distribution system.

Thus, the average disappointed consumer walks away with the suspicion that the tickets could not have all been sold, through the normal means, quite that fast. He or she often believes that someone, somewhere, had an "in," and that dutifully waiting on line or telephoning repeatedly was, in reality, an exercise in futility. To a large extent, that frustrated consumer is correct. This report attempts to explain why and highlights the myths, half truths, and outright criminality that causes the scarcity of tickets.

The entertainment industry is one of the core sources of revenue for New York. Just as we demand integrity of New York's financial institutions and its securities marketplace, New Yorkers have a right to expect integrity in the system through which tickets are distributed. New York's citizens and the millions of tourists who come to New York to attend entertainment and sporting events deserve to obtain tickets through a distribution system free of fraud and corruption.

A system that provides access to quality seating on the basis of bribes and corruption at the expense of the fans, without whose continued support the theatre could not survive, should not be tolerated. Indeed, Billy Joel stated in a recent interview that he would in fact stop doing live concerts because the system did not permit the "real fans" access to tickets.

He announced that he was going to stop touring in part because:

> I am tired of being part of the rip-off.
> The brokers that drive the prices up are ripping me off because, I'm not getting the money... and they're ripping off the customer because the customer wants the ticket and they know that the market will bear a certain price.

The price that tickets to popular events command in the marketplace belongs to the performers, producers and investors who create the events, not the speculators who through illegality and deception take advantage of the excess demand in the system. Ticket scalping is sometimes referred to as a "victimless" crime. To the contrary, the victims of the current ticket distribution system are the fans, the producers and investors who create the events and the State of New York, which loses both tax revenues and credibility as the entertainment center of the world.

The facts and analysis set forth below have been collected through activities of the Attorney General's Office, including:

- The issuance of over 200 subpoenas for documents and testimony, 40% which were to New York ticket brokers (many asserted the privilege against self-incrimination; several failed to substantially comply with the subpoena), and concierges of nine major New York City hotels;
- The taking of testimony from or interviews of owners and management of major venues, representatives of ticketing agencies, concert promoters, group sales and theatre party agents, venue security personnel, clients of ticket brokers, business associates of ticket brokers, various state and city officials, and a number of confidential informants;
- The prosecution and conviction of the treasurer of the Jones Beach Marine Theatre on charges of larceny and computer tampering, and the trial of the owners of a ticket brokerage firm for ticket speculation;
- The execution of search warrants at two New York and two New Jersey ticket brokerage firms;
- The review of the records of six Broadway productions -- at least one in each of New York's three major theatre chains -- as well as those of a major not-for-profit theatre;
- The examination of computer print-outs of nine major concerts at Madison Square

Garden and the Nassau Coliseum, as well as the computer print-outs of all 37 concerts at the Jones Beach Marine Theatre in the summer of 1996;
- The review of subscription records for the Knicks and Rangers, and the United States Open ticket sales for 1997;
- Comparison of tickets purchased or seized from ticket brokers and scalpers against records of venues ;
- Surveys of ticket holders at the June 20-23, 1994 Barbra Streisand concerts at Madison Square Garden; the August 4, 1996 Hootie and the Blowfish concert, and the August 17, 1996 Alanis Morrisette concert at the Jones Beach Marine Theatre; and the July 1, 1998 Spice Girls concert at Madison Square Garden;
- Visits to over a dozen locations such as Ticketmaster outlets, entertainment venues, and ticket brokers.

In addition to addressing the endemic corruption in the ticket business through his criminal and civil enforcement powers, the Attorney General believes that nothing will change until the public knows how the system works and new legislation is enacted. Legislative and policy recommendations flow from this investigation, and are intended to improve the availability of entertainment tickets to consumers, as well as provide new powers to fight the illegal conduct. This report is intended to promote that process.

A. Corrupt Practices

Ticket brokers strive to monopolize the supply of tickets by paying illegal and substantial bribes (premiums over the face price of the ticket) to various persons who have control over tickets at the original point of sale. These persons with control over tickets include box office employees or their supervisors, managers of venues, ticketing agents (such as employees of Ticketmaster or Telecharge), concert promoters, security personnel, or a variety of house seat holders. The pay-offs made to a venue operator, agent or employee, (e.g., a box office employee), is historically known as "ice".

Ticket brokers must be licensed pursuant to New York's Arts and Cultural Affairs Law ("ACAL"). Under ACAL, the payment or receipt of ice is currently a crime, classified as a misdemeanor, and also subjects a ticket seller to revocation or suspension of his or her registration as a ticket distributor. Payments of premiums to individuals other than agents of the venue (such as promoters and house seat holders) are not specifically covered by ACAL, but can be covered by other provisions of the criminal law, such as commercial bribery. Such payments are hard to prove. They are almost always made in cash, not necessarily at the recipient's place of business, and generally occur between two people, without witnesses.

Brokers who pay ice must of course cover the cost of the bribe, which can range from 50 to 100 percent of the face price of the ticket. Therefore, they have to resell tickets substantially above the current legal maximum of an additional five dollars or ten percent of the face price (whichever is greater), and cannot operate within any reasonable cap. As such, these tickets are sold illegally, generally by out-of-state brokers to New York businesses -- such as securities firms that need tickets for clients. One major New York securities firm paid a New Jersey broker over $360,000 during 1994 to obtain for itself the finest seats at various venues, at clearly illegal prices, ranging from 150 to 600 percent above the face value of each ticket.

B. Unfair Practices

Aside from ice and bribery, huge numbers of tickets for popular events are diverted from sale to the public and are distributed through other channels. The extent to which tickets are channeled through this non-public system, and the persons and businesses that get their tickets through "connections," are subjects that have been shrouded in secrecy for many years. Whether in connection with illegal payments or not, the sheer number of seats withheld from public sale lends itself to manipulation and abuse. Such tickets are almost always the best seats in the house. Tickets set aside for theatre party or group sales agents wind up being resold by ticket brokers; house seats at theatres make up a great part of the ticket broker's stock in trade, as do tickets set aside by concert promoters.

Moreover, the failure of venues adequately to inform the public -- as to the number and location of seats available for public sale, the date on which a new batch of seats for a show or concert might go on sale, or when unpurchased house seats become available to the public -- goes hand-in-hand with the practices set forth above. For example, during the 1994 Barbra Streisand concerts at Madison Square Garden, approximately 50 percent of the seats never went on public sale, i.e., they were withheld for the "house" -- the producer, the promoter, the record company, the performer, or other such individuals. Had this been disclosed to the public in the advertising for the event, the public would have had more realistic expectations about their chances of obtaining a ticket through general sales. The Attorney General believes that most consumers would be surprised to learn that for most events, a very large percentage of all seats and most of the best seats for a particular event are in reality unavailable to the public.

C. The De Facto Framework

Ticket brokers converge just outside of New York's borders -- some, just minutes away -- to advertise and sell tickets to New Yorkers but generally claim -- incorrectly -- that they are not subject to New York laws. Box office employees and former box office employees either have special relationships with ticket brokers and scalpers or, eliminating the "middle man" entirely, are ticket brokers themselves. Concert promoters or their affiliates are also ticket brokers. And law enforcement is left to combat the problems of ticket diversion and commercial bribery with inadequate and outdated weapons.

Meanwhile, as more fully described in this report, insiders have little incentive to change the situation. The theatre and arena owners receive their flat fee rents and percentage of the gross no matter how or to whom the tickets are sold. Equally unaffected by ticket sales practices are the producers, promoters and star performers who receive a negotiated percentage of the gross. Group sales agents and licensed New York ticket brokers also do a substantial business with their respective share of the action. The latter group settles, by and large, for the hotel tourist trade and the less desirable seats. They work with unlicensed brokers, assisting them in "laying off" some of the risk of being left with unsold tickets. New York corporations and businesses have the ability to obtain the best seats on short notice for their clients and associates. The reason there are no good seats available at box office prices for the fans of New York sports teams or for the U.S. Open tennis matches is because, as the insiders say, they have all "gone corporate." The same is true for concerts. This has created a two-class system for access to sports and entertainment events.

Where, therefore, is the incentive for anyone in the business of sports and entertainment to change the system? Fans and theatre lovers -- those without special contacts or influence -- often turn to the Attorney General's Office for help.

D. How Illegal Brokers Get Tickets

How tickets wind up in the lucrative resale market rather than in the hands of fans is one of the subjects of this report. The following is a summary of the methods by which ticket brokers acquire tickets -- those they are willing to talk about, as well as the corrupt methods they are not willing to acknowledge.

1. The Acknowledged Methods

There are various methods by which ticket brokers claim to obtain their product legally.

- Brokers send "diggers" to stand on line at the box office.
- Brokers use high-speed dialing equipment and other methods to increase their chance of getting through by the telephone.
- Brokers buy tickets, for a legal premium, from fans who have been able to buy tickets.
- Brokers send in numerous mail orders for Broadway shows, generally in the individual names of employees or of surrogates, such as family and friends.

2. The Unacknowledged Methods

The Attorney General's investigation has uncovered illegal or corrupt methods by which ticket brokers consistently obtain the best seats to the most popular events in quantities that belie the "acknowledged" explanations as to their source.

- Brokers obtain seats from promoters, performers and representatives of venues (including box office treasurers and ticket sellers) by paying ice. In some instances, box office personnel have ownership interests in ticket brokers or have family members who are ticket brokers.
- Brokers obtain tickets from computer ticketing companies such as Ticketmaster, whose employees are skimming tickets for themselves and selling them to brokers (or from distant outlets less likely to have a great demand for a show in New York City). When additional dates are added for a performance for which there is a great demand, they may not be advertised, thus creating the opportunity for outlet operators to advise their "friends" when the additional tickets will go on sale. In one instance, a small video store with a Ticketmaster terminal is silently owned by a New Jersey ticket broker.
- Brokers obtain from the box office "house seats" that are not used by those persons entitled to use the house seats or that are held for performances at which such seats are released for theatre parties or large groups, or they obtain seats which were set aside for other promotional or marketing purposes (e.g., special agreements with credit card companies to hold a certain number of "best seats" for their gold or platinum card holders).

Brokers also buy from each other. One may have a "hook" (a contact) at one venue, others may have different "hooks." Thus, there is a constant stream of faxes flowing between them showing the tickets available. As a result of the variety of contacts or "hooks" among ticket brokers, different brokers tend to become known as specializing in certain events (e.g., Knicks and Rangers, Phantom of the Opera, etc.) Actually, this "specialization" is nothing more than having a "hook" with whom a broker can transact illegal business.

Members of the organized ticket broker industry basically have one answer to the question of how they get their tickets: the use of "diggers." While they resist discussing the issue of the source of their supply, if pressed they almost always say that they send "diggers" to stand on line at the box office or, less frequently, that they buy from original purchasers or have techniques for getting in on the telephone. This answer begs the question of how the brokers obtain the best seats in the house -- the seats commanding huge prices and demanded by the brokers' business clientele, who expect large volume service on short notice -- in such large quantities.

In addition, diggers always seem to get the scarce number of high quality tickets available at the box office while the real fans are left "in the cold." Many such fans have called the Attorney General's Office to complain about and describe the chaotic scene outside a venue when numbered wrist-bands (presumably instituted to assure fairness) are distributed a day before or hours before an "on-sale." Fans also complain about standing on line or camping-out for hours, if not days, to buy tickets for concerts, just to be told that all tickets are sold out or that the best seats are not available because they are reserved for the "fan club" or "VIPS." Diggers however, somehow manage to buy seats that are not available to the fans.

E. Policy and Law

This is a huge business. Hundreds of ticket resellers who work out of offices, not on the street, make a substantial living from it, indeed, become wealthy from it, as do many of their suppliers at the original point of sale. The statutes we have to deal with this system are holdovers from a bygone era. The Attorney General's investigation has highlighted several short-comings in the existing law that ought to be remedied, as well as policies and rules that should be adopted by the industry. Following is a summary of these:

- The payment and receipt of ice, currently a misdemeanor if prosecuted under Article 25 of ACAL, should be a felony to provide a greater deterrent against such activity.
- The diversion of tickets from public sale to ticket brokers by employees or agents of a venue, without the express authorization of the owner or operator of the venue or of the producer or promoter, should be illegal even without proof of bribery.
- Currently the resale of one ticket for over the "maximum premium price" (the face price on the ticket plus five dollars or ten percent of the face price, whichever is greater) is a violation under ACAL; the resale of five or more tickets is a misdemeanor, whether as an isolated event or as part of the business of reselling tickets. The sale of 20 or more tickets or tickets in an amount totaling more than $1,000 over the statutory limit should be a Class E felony, similar to a larceny when the value of stolen property exceeds $1,000.
- The statutory cap on the price of tickets should be raised to permit licensed ticket brokers who do not pay bribes to make a reasonable profit.
- The identity of the individual ticket seller should be ascertainable either by requiring an identifying code printed on the face of the ticket or by requiring such identification to be retained in the computer.

- The ticket broker business is no longer conducted in a particular county, on the street or in an office, as when the law was written, but by telephone, fax and computer on a state-wide and inter-state basis. Therefore, centralized, state-wide licensing and other provisions reflecting the current state of the ticket resale business should be enacted.
- The investigation and enforcement provisions of the ticket resale law are currently inadequate to deal with the systemic corruption that underpins the ticket resale business. Civil and criminal penalties must be increased so that they are no longer seen as just a potential cost of doing business.
- The secrecy surrounding current ticket distribution practices should be lifted. The law should provide for increased disclosure as to the availability of tickets to the ultimate consumer.
- Ticket resale and the related payment of bribes to insiders has become part of a large underground economy that is depriving New York of lawful income and sales tax. Undeclared taxable income received by box office employees and others is a matter requiring increased enforcement activity. Requiring the payment of sales tax on the amount of the resale ticket price above the face price of the ticket must be expressly enacted into law.
- Consideration should be given to prohibiting the purchase of 20 or more tickets over a specified period of time for over the maximum premium price.

This report focuses not just on ticket scalping, but also on how tickets get from their original point of distribution to the resale market where they command such unconscionable and illegal prices, and how to assure increased access to tickets at reasonable prices to the large majority of the public who support, by their continued interest and enthusiasm, New York sports and entertainment events. The Attorney General's investigation into the institutionalized system of fraud and corruption surrounding the ticket distribution system is continuing. It is the hope of the Attorney General that the findings and recommendations discussed below will trigger corrective actions that could be taken now.

THE FOLLY OF ANTI-SCALPING LAWS

Stephen K. Happel and Marianne M. Jennings

One of the basic principles in economics is that competititve markets generate price movements to bring quantities demanded into balance with quantities supplied so that queues will be quickly eliminated. Lines, therefore, are troubling to economists, especially when the lines appear repeatedly in what seem to be nonregulated markets. Why are price increases not more forthcoming?

Natural disasters create one such situation. Essentials like water are sold at ``below-market'' prices immediately after the disaster, as evidenced by long lines of consumers. A completely free-market solution would be to have many different firms supplying water at prices the market will bear. However, perceptions of fairness are so strong in natural disasters that price gouging is either illegal or heavily criticized by most consumers. Charging what the market will bear in the short run generates extremely adverse ``moral effects'' (Akerlof 1984) or ``reputation effects'' (Klein and Leffler 1981) in the long run. Because of consumer perceptions about fairness and moral treatment, below-market pricing continues--and queues remain for some time.

Another situation of persistent lines and strong feelings about equity is entertainment events such as major concerts or big-time sport championships. Well-known performers and certain games repeatedly have people lining up for tickets for the right to attend the live, one-time interactions. Again, why do promoters not raise prices at the time tickets first go on sale to prevent long lines? Are the lines rational in a market sense, helping to ration a scarce commodity? Further, why do many promoters and certain consumers become so outraged by the attempt to clear markets through ticket scalping? Currently 26 states, the District of Columbia, and most sports-league municipalities in the United States have some form of anti-scalping regulation, and three-quarters of the U.S. population resides in those locales. (See Table 1 for the states and cities involved.)

This paper examines the nature of major entertainment events, reviews the evolution of scalping statutes since 1918, describes various schemes for allocating tickets, considers the winners and losers in each scheme, and suggests some ideas about possible future scalping laws based on market principles.

The Nature of Entertainment Events

Entertainment events occur in specific locations at specific times. Such events include county fairs, open-air dances, and other situations in which the notion of capacity is relatively fluid. However, the focus in this paper is on events that take place in a concert hall, amphitheater, or stadium with a fixed seating capacity. Consequently, demand is the prime determinant of price. For such events, promoters or team owners must sell tickets in advance with a printed face value, much like firms issuing common stock with a par value or a contract being sold in a futures market. Most critically, the events have a quality of uniqueness, such as a one-time concert appearance or a once-per-year rival football game.

Consumer Behavior

Consumers enjoy those unique, limited-seating, live events in part because of the performance on stage or on the field. There is something intriguing about observing the action firsthand. Some consumers may not even care whether anyone else is present. For them the thrill of the live performance is enough.

Other consumers, however, want more. Along with the performance itself, they want the ambience that comes from being part of a group. They like shared experiences such as doing the wave, lighting candles, or yelling at players or performers. The idea that group actions affect individual consumption behavior can be traced to the notions of Thornstein Veblen, snob appeal, and bandwagon effects (Leibenstein 1950). Recently, Roger Faith and Stephen Happel (1989) coined the term ``mob goods'' to describe concerts and sporting events in which expected attendance strongly influences demand by consumers.

The mob effect, or perhaps more appropriately the crowd effect, as suggested by Lawrence Ritter in reading an early draft of this paper, is crucial to understanding ticket scalping and related pricing behavior.[1] The crowd effect makes each event unique. There can never be duplication of an event with the same crowd even if essentially the same performance occurs. The ambience exists at the moment. The uniqueness, in turn, means that special memories are created for consumers. The memories can be drawn on over and over again, for example as consumers think about their first Super Bowl, World Series, or NBA finals.

The uniqueness and related memories explain why some consumers feel so strongly about attending such events and having ``fair'' access to tickets. Certain consumers are willing to wait in line because they believe that selling seats first-come, first-served at the printed face value of a ticket represents the best way to ration scarce seats. They trade their time in line for the money saved from having to pay a higher price. Further, they even may derive utility from the queue itself. There can be a crowd effect from waiting with a certain group of people, and anticipation may be heightened through the time spent in line. Lines seem perfectly rational to such consumers, and they detest the thought of paying any amount above the printed face value.

Producer Behavior

Producers, team owners, and concert promoters are profit maximizers. They have a certain degree of monopoly power for an event because of its uniqueness. In addition, they may exercise considerable monopoly power over selected seat locations because some locations (front-row center, club seats, suites) are preferred to others. Given this monopoly power, producers want to charge what the market will bear and to engage in price discrimination whenever possible.

At the same time, producers typically want sellouts. One reason for the full capacity desire centers on the demand dynamics associated with the crowd effect. The perception that an event will be a sellout attracts consumers into the ticket market who would not attend otherwise, and the ambience from a sellout may intensify the demand by consumers for future events. A second reason for promoter desire for a sellout is to maximize complementary revenues from parking, refreshments, and souvenir sales at the stadium or concert hall. There is also an important cost element. Typically, the marginal costs associated with additional attendees, after basic maintenance and staffing expenses are covered, are low until capacity is reached.

Promoter desire for a sellout often is combined with a preference about the mix of consumers actually attending the event. Owners and promoters may want true fans in the seats, or they may want to create a particular atmosphere, for instance an event for the entire family (Nager 1985). Creating a situation where not only the rich and powerful receive all the tickets generates positive morale effects. So producers often may want to control who among the public is buying tickets.

While producers have a degree of monopoly power, market and regulatory constraints limit firm behavior with respect to ticket pricing. Market constraints exist because fans can quickly lose interest in teams or artists whose performances do not meet expectations or who create perceptions of price gouging. Groups and performers go quickly from being ``in'' to being ``out.'' Both event attendance and complementary sales suffer as a result. Legal constraints include a multitude of state and local statutes prohibiting resale of tickets above face value or at given locations. Major sports franchises are prohibited by league rules from charging above a stipulated price for various seat designations, raising or lowering the per-game printed price of the ticket once they are set for the season, and actively engaging in ticket scalping.

Faced with market and legal constraints, producers may purposely set the price of certain seats low (often general admission) to induce a line. The low price signals consumers that there will be likely significant demand for tickets and that the event will be well-attended or sold out. Producers recognize that sizable numbers of consumers are willing to trade time in line for money to acquire tickets and that many of those consumers are strong fans whose support is needed for ongoing profits.

At the same time, producers may try to increase returns in selected seats through the widespread phenomenon of ``holds.'' Holds are the better seats kept back by producers from the public when general admission seats go on sale. Lines for the general admission seats can be used to determine the market value of the holds as separate from their printed face value. If the line is lengthy, then producers may request special favors from radio stations, local politicians, or other influential individuals as they are ``given'' tickets. Or producers may decide to sell the holds directly to ticket brokers if the market price becomes significant.

From both the producers' and consumers' perspectives, then, lines are rational for reasons not present in traditional demand models. In the case of high-demand, limited capacity events, lines do not necessarily represent miscalculations or errors in judgment. Instead, they are a rational part of a market structured around the importance of a queue.

[a] Those cities listed in more than one category have anti-scalping ordinances with multiple components. For example, Atlanta prohibits sales in excess of the printed ticket price unless such resales are for charity or are authorized by the owner or promoter. Further, Atlanta prohibits all resales of tickets within 20 feet of the event.

Ticket Scalping and Legal Responses

A secondary market for high-demand, limited-seating-event tickets always exists and creates the opportunity for ticket scalping. Ticket scalping is most frequently defined as buying (tickets) for later sale at higher than normal prices. ``Buying for later sale'' points to a third set of agents in the market along with consumers and producers. ``Higher'' is based on the often-held perception that tickets are resold only for more than was paid, but scalping in the broadest sense also encompasses the resale of tickets for less than paid. ``Normal'' harkens back to the notion that printed face value is the norm.

The secondary market occurs because seats are sold in advance of events. When a line is expected, ticket scalpers are present because time may not be a readily available commodity for some purchasers. Those buyers would prefer to pay with more money. Typically, those consumers have a high opportunity cost of time and view scalping as a legitimate market exercise. Scalpers are simply time brokers who perform a useful service.

However, it is crucial to recognize that even when a line is not expected when tickets first go on sale, either because an event is not a sellout or because the printed face value clears the market perfectly and a sellout is achieved, scalping is inevitable. Some consumers with tickets will decide not to attend. They want to get rid of their tickets. Others are in the market for (good) seats up to the time of the event. Reallocation is the natural outcome.

Producers, while wary of the process, must accept reallocation in some form. If the consumers who initially purchased the tickets from producers had to occupy seats or let them go empty, the advance demand for seats would drop considerably. Accordingly, producers accept ``giving away'' tickets to relatives, friends, or business acquaintances, and they generally see resale at printed face value for sellouts as ``fair.'' But they dislike nonregulated scalpers for a number of reasons. When excess capacity exists and scalpers are outside the stadium selling tickets below face value, producers complain about the loss of revenue from the seats they are offering for sale at the box office that are going unsold because consumers are buying seats from scalpers. When tickets are sold by scalpers well above face value, producers complain about receiving none of the profit. And when scalpers are loud or aggressive, producers complain about nuisance effects.

Jerry Colangelo, president of the Phoenix Suns, spoke to a group of students at Arizona State University and indicated that he disliked scalpers because ``they made money off of him without his permission, and that was not right.'' He also did not want the problems associated with counterfeit seats sold by scalpers or fans being hassled coming to the game. Finally, he pointed to the fact that he paid taxes while scalpers did not.

The first legislative controls on unfair pricing practices were found in the Sherman and Clayton Acts (which in general terms controlled price fixing, tying contracts, etc.). The first legislation in the United States that focused specifically on ticket scalping appeared in 1918 in response to limited-access stage shows.[2] Then, with the rise in popularity of college football and major league baseball, large stadiums were built. Events like in-state rivalries and the World Series had fans lining up for blocks well before World War II.

The growth of population and per-capita income after World War II further intensified the demand for in-state rivalries, the World Series, and other such events. Accompanying this rise in popularity was an increase in season tickets. More season ticket holders means that fewer good seats are being sold on a per-game basis and that there are more event conflicts for consumers, resulting in a desire on their part to sell off tickets for certain games or shows. The impact is an increase in scalping along with more insider trading in which box-office employees take tickets (for good seats) and resell them at a substantial profit.

Regulation of ticket scalping has evolved and continues to be refined among the various states and municipalities. The first generation of anti-scalping statutes began by trying to curb the ``small-time'' activities of on-site scalpers. At both the state and local level, laws were passed to prohibit the resale of tickets above face value (with perhaps a nominal service fee), outlaw scalping on public property or within a certain distance of the event site, and require a license (see Table 1 for a listing of the types of anti-scalping regulations). A sizable number of statutes appear to have been passed to try to limit nuisance effects. But, in many cases, the effects went beyond on-site impacts, and in some instances, producers who were trying to protect profits played a prominent role in obtaining passage of regulations. All the early statutes made scalping a misdemeanor with fines, possible jail sentences, and confiscation.

The first generation of scalping laws continued as the primary form of regulation through the 1970s as legislative bodies tried to control price, location, and nuisance effects. Changes in regulations included increasing fines and jail sentences, and some localities turned scalping into a felony rather than a misdemeanor. Yet enforcement of all types of regulations remained sporadic and arbitrary. Large numbers of police officers were needed at major events to round up on-site scalpers. But it was difficult to prosecute scalpers because most people purchasing tickets from scalpers saw no reason to testify against them.

Over the past decade a second generation of scalping laws has emerged that carefully segments scalpers on the street from ticket brokers or agents operating on the behalf of producers (see Table 2). Some states and municipalities have modified first-generation prohibitions and now permit licensed brokers to operate and to charge a price that reflects their cost of acquiring tickets. Some statutes have legalized producers giving permission to their selected agents to sell seats above face value and on site. The second generation of scalping laws has brought the resale market closer to a purely competitive situation.

Nevertheless, unregulated freelance scalping at the event is still illegal in most population centers. While enforcement remains sporadic and results in few convictions, there is something quite troublesome from a free-market perspective about restricting resale activities just before an event. The essence of the market for those types of limited-seating, one-time events is their here-and-now nature. The time when the greatest fluctuation in price is often most necessary is immediately before an event so that those who most want to attend and are most willing to pay can indeed get access.

SECOND GENERATION REGULATION: STATES AND MUNICIPALITIES PERMITTING RESALE

Form of Regulation	States Adopting [a]	Municipalities Adopting
Owner permission	Arizona, California, Connecticut, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New Mexico, North Carolina	Ann Arbor, Atlanta, Detroit, Edmonton, Portland, Virginia Beach
Ticket brokers permitted	Florida, Illinois, Massachusetts, New Jersey	Baltimore, Calgary, Cincinnati, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, New York, Washington, D.C.

[a] The earliest of the second-generation regulations was that of Connecticut, passed in 1983. The remaining states passed their new forms of regulation after 1988, with the majority passing the changes in 1990 or later.

Ticket Allocation Schemes

The most simplistic allocation scheme for an event is to have reserved seats go on sale at one box office location at one price starting on a given date. For example, in their national tour in 1989, the Rolling Stones charged the same price for all seats at all their concerts, and those seats were reserved. (If seats are not reserved seating, when purchased, then another line will develop at the time of the event as ticket holders jostle for the best seats; and given the safety difficulties with stampeding and trampling, most big time events have reserved seating.) Refinements on that scheme include having more than one box-office location and permitting phone orders in addition to on-site purchases.

Such an allocation scheme creates queues for major events. Scalpers or brokers will hire ``diggers'' or ``droids'' to stand in line or to make repeated phone calls to acquire tickets (Goodman 1991). Consumers who are fanatics or who have a relatively low opportunity cost of time will also be in line. Some will complain about scalpers or brokers squeezing them out of good seats even when restrictions are placed on the number of seats that can be purchased at one time. Some will also complain about related nuisance effects.[3]

Another refinement is to have consumers stand in line to draw a place in another line to buy tickets. Apparently, some producers feel that this scheme will minimize the time people must wait by sending signals about the actual chances of getting tickets. But it often increases the time involved because some people line up very early for the draw line even if the allocation of places is random.

Faced with frequent long lines, producers may charge different prices for various seat locations. One approach is to have two sets of prices; for example, one for general admission and one for select seating. Scalping may be moderated if good seats are priced considerably more than general admission, but it will still occur, and those who can afford to pay the most will often end up with the very best seats.

That last outcome appears especially troublesome to some performers. For example, Bruce Springsteen felt that many of his true fans were not able to attend his concerts in New Jersey because scalpers were driving up prices by using diggers and box-office insider trading to acquire tickets (Bershad and Ensor 1985). Of course, many of his true fans who originally purchased tickets engaged in scalping as the market price went up. The only sure way to guarantee that fans willing to endure a long wait get good seats and actually occupy those seats is to make them go into the event immediately after acquiring a ticket with no chance for a resale. For big events the lines may form days in advance, but ardent consumers will get the best seats.

Recently, the phenomenon of ``scaling the house" has become more commonplace (Philips 1991). That pricing format is a method of price discrimination that charges a series of prices for different seat locations to increase profits and to fend off scalpers or brokers. One problem for the producer is to gather sufficient information about demand to charge the right prices. Another problem is that the better seats clearly will go to those with money.

A final scheme that avoids a precise knowledge of demand conditions for all seats at one time is a Dutch auction. That scheme begins by offering all seats at a very high price well in advance of the event and selling them first-come, first-served for a given time (say, a week). Prices then are lowered slightly, and this on-going price adjustment continues up to the time of the event. Scalpers will be present, but they will have to gauge the market more carefully than with one or two sets of prices. In such a setting scalpers may spend much of their time trading at prices below rather than above face value. The problem with the Dutch auction from the producer's perspective remains the public perception that only those who can afford to pay the most are getting into big events.

Future Generation of Scalping Laws

Several economic lessons are clear from our discussion of entertainment events and ticket sales. One is that continued trading of tickets is inevitable up to the time of the event, and so producers must live with the resale market. Another is that producers are often quite sensitive to certain consumers' perceptions of fair treatment in the marketplace. Finally, most producers and sizable numbers of consumers do not like scalpers. Even with the evolution toward legalized brokers and some on-site trading by permission of the producer, unrestricted scalping just prior to the event remains illegal in most locations.[4]

In this type of market, efficiency is sacrificed by regulation because information is being restricted at the very time it could be most beneficial. Consumers who have seats to sell are going to be reluctant to spend a great deal of time gathering price information for fear of legal reprisal. Thus they may sell to scalpers at below what the market is truly willing to bear. The scalpers then turn around and charge high prices to those seeking tickets.

Two points must be addressed before further suggestions are made. The first is whether the purchase of a ticket from a producer represents a licensed contract or a simple futures-like sale. Producers (like the Phoenix Suns) argue that the purchase of a season ticket is a license they have granted and can rescind any time the ticket is sold above face value. Their licensing interpretation serves to inhibit scalpers or brokers and keep them from buying tickets in large amounts for resale. The argument is rejected by market advocates and runs contrary to the notion that a ticket purchase is similar to going long in a futures market, where individuals are rewarded for buying low and selling high.

The second point focuses on the issue of just how much scalpers, through diggers and droids, drive up prices and squeeze true fans out of good seats. If there are some diggers and droids in line, then certain fans will not get the seats they would have preferred; and if the event is a sellout, the scalpers can command higher prices. However, if it is known that scalping activities are widespread and that diggers and droids will descend in mass, then consumers may simply wait to buy tickets. As long as one or few scalpers are not buying all the tickets, this postponement can actually lead to lower prices. Whether there are higher or lower prices depends on the scalpers' collective ability to read the market relative to the producer's ability.

With a desire for market clearing, we now turn to a third generation of scalping regulations. Instead of trying to restrict scalping activities, particularly at the time of an event, scalping activities should be encouraged by having vendors operate in designated areas in booths immediately next to the stadium or concert hall.

To understand the need for this form of market clearing, suppose there are no anti-scalping restrictions. What happens for a major event? Vendors on event day operate in the vicinity of the stadium or concert hall. In some cases the vendor locations may even develop a sense of permanence, and some vendors may try to build a loyal clientele by establishing a company name.

A significant problem with this approach is the fragmentation of market information. Consumers must shop for price and will not be aware of all vendors in the market without extensive search. Also, there are the specific nuisance effects of people being hassled by scalpers either directly or by the traffic congestion that they can cause. Counterfeiting in such a fragmented market can become a major difficulty if scalpers are elusive.

A similar market-clearing scheme is found at Australian race tracks with touts or bookies. A consumer can place bets either with the track (the on-course totalizator) or with bookies who operate on site. The bookmakers must acquire a government license by paying a fee and undergoing background checks and verification of assets. The number of bookmakers on site may be substantial (25 or more), and they all operate in nearly identical booths. They post prices (odds) continuously, and unlike the track that pays out of the betting pool after the race is computed, bookies take bets at stated odds. Thus a potential wagerer can shop among bookies for the best odds or bet through the house, meaning arbitrage is on-going. At times bookmakers enjoy relatively large returns relative to the house, whereas at other times they suffer significant losses.

Similarly, concentrating scalpers in a designated area means those consumers who wish either to buy or to sell tickets have fewer search costs. Like the bookies, licensed scalpers or brokers could operate in booths. Depending on the broker, bid and ask prices may be posted for general locations (lower level, upper level, end zone), and they may be updated frequently. Two questions remain. What should the licensing requirements be and how are the booths to be allocated?

In licensing, one possibility is to require something analogous to the Australian tracks. Scalpers would have to pay a significant fee and go through detailed background checks. Such an approach makes it relatively easy to have scalpers operate in the designated area, because anyone caught selling tickets on game day outside the designated area would be arrested and fined or jailed, or both, with just cause. Market fragmentation is now minimized, as are nuisance effects. In addition, strict licensing discourages counterfeiting.

But, at the same time, strict licensing creates effective barriers to entry and the possibility of monopolies or cartels. As a result, we reject strict licensing and instead suggest having relatively minor licensing requirements. For example, anyone interested in buying or selling tickets from a booth would simply show valid identification to an enforcement agent. The license would pledge that the person will not trade counterfeit tickets and will quickly settle buyer or seller disputes.

The booths themselves could be auctioned off the day of the event, and the proceeds could be used in a public manner. In the process, economic profits are extracted from scalpers, which seems to make many people happy. However, bidding for booths may cause problems because the number of booths has to be limited to generate profits, and the profits become highly visible. If the profits from bidding fall into the public domain, there are all the attendant problems of disclosure of committee decisions, proper accounting, and the actual creation of public welfare. If the bids fall into the promoters' domain, the public sees conspiracy and insider trading. Only by having free access to the booths in the designated areas is the public generally assured of high degrees of competition.

Therefore, we propose that the booths be randomly assigned on event day at a prearranged time. The designated area needs to be large enough to accommodate a significant number of booths, preferably as many as there are licensed agents who want to trade. When assigned to a booth, an agent could be given special envelopes with the printed booth number to give out to buyers and sellers of tickets as the trades occur. In that way counterfeiting and other shady trading activities could be monitored.

Our proposal of nonrestrictive licensing and open access to booths likely would result in some traders continuing to have a presence in the market while others would be afforded the opportunity to enter markets for a limited number of events. Naturally, there will still be scalpers who will try to trade on street corners away from the designated area. While the police could do periodic sweeps to arrest them, we believe that most consumers would be reluctant to buy from them without the knowledge of the centralized market or for fear of receiving counterfeit tickets.

Similarly, there will be some people at the designated area who will try to sell tickets without a license. We believe that they should be allowed to operate, but consumers buying from them will clearly have no guarantees about counterfeit tickets. Whether there is a large or small number of licensed traders in booths in a particular designated area will depend on the pricing practices of licensed traders and on consumers' preferences for convenience or avoidance of shady trading practices.

Insider Trading

A final issue that must be addressed is insider trading. Public tolerance of scalping at the time of an event stems from the notion that anyone can stand in line (or pay others to do so), acquire tickets, and then charge what the market will bear. However, if the public perceives that promoters are controlling or rigging not only initial sales but also the resale market, or if box-office employees are in league with scalpers to acquire choice seats, reaction is likely to be strong.

The public's concept of a free market traditionally does not cover those who obtain access or information by means not available to everyone. An analogy is the harsh sanctions against insider trading in securities. Anyone can spend the time and money to research a security and the offering company, but not everyone would have access to a lawyer at a firm that handles the company's security offerings. Insider access is the line of demarcation for public policy in free-market regulation. Anyone can spend the time to stand in line for tickets or pay the funds to hire others to do so or run ads seeking tickets, but not everyone can gain access to a promoter or a box-office employee. Regulators thus must respond in some way to the public policy concern of the level playing field perceived to be lost if insider control of the secondary market is permitted.

With strict licensing, a possible means of control would be to require scalpers to disclose all ticket sources. In scalping, competitors and consumer groups might scrutinize sources. With minimal licensing and a large number of booths, as we have suggested, acquiring accurate disclosure forms from all vendors can be difficult. Actual control will depend on the extent to which local authorities are pressured by complaints of insider trading by box-office employees or by promoters. For some jurisdictions, the problem of perceived unfairness with insider trading may not be sufficiently compelling to require legislation or regulation.

Conclusion

Scalping is inevitable as long as there are advance ticket sales for big-time events and fan pressure to keep prices affordable to the general public. Our suggested legislative reforms recognize those market realities and push for legalized scalping at the event site. In most cases, the result of the reforms will be smaller economic profits for scalpers as competitive pressures and greater open-market access reduce the range between bid and ask prices. Through licensing, on-site nuisance effects would be restricted to a given area. Over time, the number of scalpers will be a function of the producer's ability to read the market at the time tickets go on sale and anticipate subsequent changes in consumer desires up to the time of the event.

Of course, many producers and certain consumers will resist the suggested changes. Consumers unwilling to pay higher than face-value prices will continue to complain about the inequities of the secondary market. That is the very time, however, that advocates of price adjustments as the best approach to scarcity must once again point to the folly of anti-scalping laws.

Notes

[1] Stephen Happel and Marianne Jennings (1989) began with the notion of mob goods in providing reasons for low prices by promoters and in looking at general problems with the regulation of scalping. Gary Becker (1991) also assumed that demand is positively related to quantities demanded by other consumers to provide insights into pricing by successful restaurants, plays, and sporting events characterized by persistent excess demand. Roger Faith and Allan DeSerpa (forthcoming) focused on the idea of crowd reaction/noise in a further elaboration of mob goods, equilibrium queues, and welfare effects of ticket scalping.

[3] Diggers or droids are frequently homeless people or substance abusers who may actually try to drive other people out of line when the number of tickets is restricted per box-office visit.

Committee:	House Finance	Introduced by:	Rep. Hackney
Date:	June 17, 2003	Summary by:	Trina Griffin Committee Counsel
Version:	PCS for 1st Edition H1289-CSSVf-28

SUMMARY: The Proposed Committee Substitute for House Bill 1289 amends various provisions relating to the private protective services profession and to the Private Protective Services Board, which regulates the profession, including the following:

- Reducing from 14 to 9 the number of members on the Private Protective Services Board.
- Extending the term of a license from one year to two, three, or five years, at the election of the licensee.
- Requiring licensees to report within 30 days to the Board any arrests or convictions for certain misdemeanors and felonies.
- Authorizing the Board to establish continuing education requirements for licensees, registered employees, firearms permit holders, and firearms trainers.
- Decreases the required minimum balance in the Private Protective Services Recovery Fund.

The act would become effective when it becomes law.

CURRENT LAW: The Private Protective Services Board (Board) is an occupational licensing board within the Department of Justice. The purpose of the Board is to administer the licensing, education and training requirements to increase the level of integrity, competency and performance of the persons, firms, associations and corporations engaged in the private protective services profession within North Carolina in order to safeguard the public health, safety and welfare. The Board's responsibilities are generally divided into six categories:

1. Background investigation for licensing of 13 occupations
2. Registration of licensee employees
3. Conduct investigations of public complaints
4. Conduct compliance audits
5. Enforce law and rules through administrative disciplinary processes and criminal courts
6. Maintain required records

BILL ANALYSIS:

Sections 1 and 2 make definitional changes. Section 1 renames "counterintelligence service profession" as the "electronic countermeasures profession" to conform to a change in terminology made at the federal level. Section 2 amends the definition of "security guard and patrol profession" to include the protection of patrons and persons being escorted between premises of the entity that entered into the security services contract.

Section 3 reduces the membership of the Board from 14 to 9 members.

Section 4 expands the scope of the Board's powers by authorizing it to do the following:

- Approve training schools, instructors, and course materials for any person, firm, association, or corporation wishing to provide training.

- Approve a design for a badge or shield that indicates a person is licensed to engage in private protective services.

Section 5 allows the licensee to choose the term of the license from among two, three or five years. This section also authorizes the Board to require a licensee to complete continuing education courses approved by the Board before a license may be renewed.

Section 6 makes conforming changes with Section 5 by clarifying that the license fee would be in an amount equal to the current annual fee multiplied by the number of years of the license term, as chosen by the licensee.

Section 7 extends from 20 to 30 days the period by which a licensee must register its employees who will be engaged in providing private protective services after employment begins. Section 7 also authorizes the Board to require that a registered, unarmed security guard complete continuing education courses approved by the Board before renewing the guard's registration.

Section 8 does four things:

- It provides as an additional ground upon which the Board may deny, suspend, or revoke a license that a licensee possessed or displayed a badge or shield that was not designed or approved by the Board.
- It requires licensees to report to the Board, within 30 days, any charges, arrests for, or convictions of a misdemeanor or felony for any of the following:

  (1) Crimes that have as an essential element dishonesty, deceit, fraud, or misrepresentation.
  (2) Illegal use, possession, sale, manufacture, distribution, or transportation of a controlled substance, drug, narcotic, or alcoholic beverage.
  (3) Illegal use, carrying, or possession of a firearm.
  (4) Acts involving assault.
  (5) Acts involving unlawful breaking or entering, burglary, or larceny.
  (6) Any offense involving moral turpitude.

  A failure to report these arrests or convictions shall be grounds for revocation of the license.
- It makes clarifying changes to two other grounds for denial, suspension, or revocation of a license.
- It gives aggrieved persons 60 days to bring an administrative appeal of a denial, revocation, or suspension decision by the Board.

Section 9 does the following:

- It distinguishes private investigators from security guards for purposes of firearm registration permits. Under current law, "private detectives", who are defined to be synonymous with "private investigators" under this Chapter, are included within the definition of "armed security guards." Under the bill, the same permitting requirements would apply to both categories of private protective services professionals.
- It authorizes the Board to require a firearm registration permit holder and a certified firearms trainer to complete continuing education courses before renewing the holder's permit or the trainer's certification.
- It authorizes a private investigator to carry a concealed weapon during the performance of his duties upon doing all of the following:
  - Obtaining a concealed weapon's permit.

- Successfully completing the firearms training course approved by the Board and the Attorney General.
- Having a notation affixed to the face of the firearms registration card designating that the armed private investigator is allowed to carry a concealed weapon.

Section 10 authorizes the Board to require completion of continuing education courses approved by the Board before the renewal of a license, registration, certificate, or permit issued by the Board. The Board would be required to establish, by rule, the number of hours of continuing education courses necessary for renewal and any other requirements for completion of continuing education courses. Under current law, licensees are not required to complete continuing education courses.

Section 11 reduces the minimum balance required to be maintained in the Private Protective Services Recovery Fund (Fund). This Fund is a special fund established within the Office of the State Treasurer that is used to satisfy claims by aggrieved persons who have suffered a direct monetary loss by reason of certain acts committed by a licensee. Under current law, if the balance in the Fund drops below a minimum of $100,000, then the Board is authorized to charge annually each licensee and trainee an additional amount, not to exceed $50.00. The amount assessed will only be so much as is needed to raise the level of the Fund to $100,000. Section 11 lowers the minimum fund balance from $100,000 to $25,000.

Under current law, the State Treasurer invests the monies in the Fund and the Board uses the proceeds of the investments to advance education and research in the private protective services field. Section 11 would authorize the Board to use any funds derived from investments or any funds in excess of the minimum Fund balance for those purposes. It also allows the Board to provide grant money to private individuals, associations, or corporations sponsoring educational courses to offset the actual cost of the courses. The Board would also be able to use funds in excess of $50,000 to offset the operating expenses of the Board, if there is a unanimous vote of the Board and the Board makes findings of fact supporting the need for the funds.

BILL SUMMARY: This legislation would make changes to the Private Protective Services Act, including:

- Reducing from 14 to 9 the number of members on the Private Protective Services Board.
- Extending the term of a license from one year to two, three, or five years, at the election of the licensee.
- Requiring licensees to report within 30 days to the Board any arrests or convictions for certain misdemeanors and felonies.
- Authorizing the board to establish continuing education requirements for licensees, registered employees, firearms permit holders, and firearms trainers.
- Decreasing the required minimum balance in the Private Protective Services Recovery Fund.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:
The Private Protective Services Board is supported entirely by receipts. As a result, changes to revenues or expenditures will not impact the General Fund.

Section 3: Reduction in Board Members. This section would reduce the number of public board members appointed by the Attorney General from two to one and the number appointed by the Senate President pro Tempore and the House Speaker from five each to three each. (See technical considerations) The elimination of five members will reduce the Board's annual operating expenses by approximately $14,000 due to decreased travel and per diem costs for six meetings per year.

Section 4: Approval of Badge/Shield Design. Section 8 prohibits designs that purport to represent law enforcement officers. The Board could incur minimal costs to review designs.

Sections 4, 5, 7, 8 and 9: Continuing Education Requirements. The Board anticipates minimal costs associated with reviewing courses for approval. Costs for continuing education courses would be borne by the industry.

Sections 5 and 6: Modification of License Terms. Licenses would be issued for two, three, or five years rather than one year, with no reduction in fees. Currently, a one-year basic license costs $200; the Board is authorized to charge up to $250 per year. Under this legislation, the licensee could choose a two-year, three-year, or five-year license. At the current rate, the cost would be $400, $600, or $1,000 respectively; at the maximum rate, the cost would be $500, $759, or $1,250. In the short term, this would accelerate revenue collections as licensees begin paying for multiple years up front. We cannot project the impact of this change in the fee structure on the number of current and future licensees. In addition, basic license holders may apply for additional licenses (i.e. counterintelligence) for $50 annually. It appears that the same multi-year licensing structure would apply to those licenses. Finally, Board staff estimate one-time expenditures of $5,000 to modify computer software, and potential workload reductions in later years due to less frequent renewals.

Section 7: Timeframe for New Employee Registration. Licensees would be required to register new employees within 30 days, rather than 20 days. The Board does not anticipate any fiscal impact from this change.

Section 8: Duty to Report Criminal Offenses. Licensees would be required to report to the Board within 30 days any criminal arrests, charges, or convictions for a range of offenses. Failure to do so would be grounds for license revocation. The Board has not identified any costs associated with this requirement.

Section 9: Firearm Registration Permits. The Board does not anticipate any fiscal impact due to including "armed private investigators" as firearm registration permitees.

Section 11: Private Protective Services Fund. The Fund is maintained for the purpose of paying claims against licensees. Claims are limited to $5,000 per obligation and $10,000 in aggregate against any one licensee within a year. The Board reports that, within the past five years, one claim – of less than $5,000 – was made against the Fund. Staff records indicate that this is the only claim paid since the Fund's inception in 1983.

Each new applicant for a license or training permit pays a fee of $50 into the Fund. For any year that the balance falls below the minimum, the Board is authorized to charge each licensee and trainee an additional fee (up to $50) in order to reach the minimum threshold. Under current law, the Fund balance must be at least $100,000. This bill would reduce the minimum balance to $25,000. Currently, the Fund balance is approximately $22,650. By reducing the minimum from $100,000 to $25,000, the Fund balance would be less than $3,000 below the minimum, and the Board would be able to charge a lower additional fee.

The funds are invested by the State Treasurer, and the Board may use the proceeds from its investments to fund education and research in the area of private protective services. This legislation would allow the Board to use all except $25,000 in the Fund for education and research purposes, and all except $50,000 to offset operating expenses. Currently, the balance is below $25,000, so no additional funds would be available for these purposes.

SOURCES OF DATA: Private Protective Services Board (within the Department of Justice)

TECHNICAL CONSIDERATIONS: This legislation is effective when it becomes law, and would eliminate five board member positions. At present, there is only one vacancy on the Board. However, one of the Attorney General's appointees is serving a term that expired June 30, 2001, and several of the House and Senate appointees are serving terms that expire June 30, 2003. If this legislation is enacted prior to June 30, 2003, there will still be people serving in several of the positions to be eliminated.

~~(2)~~b. The assistance team assigned to that school makes the recommendation to revoke or refuse to renew the teacher's certificate for one or more reasons established by the State Board in its rules for certificate suspension or revocation.

SENATE BILL 993:
An Act to Safeguard Children

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	House Finance	Sponsor:	Sen. Garrou
Date:	June 17, 2003	Analysis by:	Martha Walston
Version:	2nd Edition		Committee Counsel*

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 993 would require the State Board of Education to automatically revoke the certificate of a teacher or school administrator upon receipt of proof that the person has been convicted of murder, rape or other serious felonies of sexual misconduct or child abuse.

Senate Bill 993 has been heard in Senate Judiciary 1 and House Education. House 1092 is a companion bill, sponsored by Rep. Linda Johnson.

CURRENT LAW: Current law does not specifically authorize the State Board of Election to revoke teacher or school administrator certification for conviction of certain crimes.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 993 would amend the law that governs teacher and school administrator certification by the State Board of Election, to add as an additional ground for the revocation of a certificate the conviction of certain serious felonies and misdemeanors, including murder, rape, assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill or inflict serious injury, kidnapping, abduction of children, crimes against nature, incest, sexual misconduct involving minors, sexual exploitation of a minor, indecent liberties with children and students, child abuse and misdemeanor assaults involving minors.

The bill requires before acting that the Board receive a certified copy of the criminal record showing the conviction, plea of guilty or nolo contendere, and verification that the record applies to the teacher or school administrator. Written notice to the teacher or school administrator that revocation action is being considered on the grounds set forth in the bill must be given, including notification that the person may challenge that the criminal record is for another person. If challenged, the Board may not revoke the certificate unless it can establish as a fact that the defendant and the teacher or school administrator are the same person.

The bill also authorizes the State Board to contract for any services necessary to comply with this subsection.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill becomes effective when it becomes law.

House Committee on Finance

Minutes

June 19, 2003

The House Committee on Finance met on Thursday, June 19, 2003 at 8:30 am in Room 544 of the Legislative Office Building. The following members were present: Chairpersons G. Allen, Howard, Luebke, McComas, and Wainwright; Vice-Chairs Alexander, Gibson, and Hill; Representatives Blackwood, Bordsen, Capps, Carney, Creech, Ellis, Hackney, Holliman, Jones, McCombs, McGee, Munford, Rayfield, Ross, Setzer, Starnes, Weiss, C. Wilson, and Wood. Also present were Sergeant-at-Arms Bob Fowler, Bill Freeman, Dusty Rhodes, and Walter Spell. Staff persons present included Richard Bostic, Gerry Cohen, Trina Griffin, Martha Harris, Linda Millsaps, Mary Shuping, and Martha Walston. The Agenda and Visitor Registration Sheet are attached and incorporated into these minutes as attachments 1 and 2.

Chairman Luebke called the meeting to order at 8:39 am and recognized the five (5) pages present at the meeting: (1) Rebecca Badger of Craven County, sponsored by Representative Wainwright; (2) Jessica Barnes of Craven County, sponsored by Representative Wainwright; (3) Mollie Bowness of Moore County, sponsored by Speaker Morgan; (4) Annie McCollum of Wake County, sponsored by Representative G. Allen; and (5) Lindsay Weaver of Wake County, sponsored by Representative G. Allen.

As the first matter of business, Chairman Luebke recognized Senator Garrou to explain her bill: SB 993 – AN ACT TO SAFEGUARD CHILDREN (see attachment 3). The Senator explained that within the last 10 years, the State Board of Education has experienced a nearly 4.000 percent increase in the number of educator's misconduct; from 7 allegations of misconduct in 1991 to 271 in 2002. She noted that many of these allegations involved "improper conduct" between teachers and children. SB 993 is an act that would require the State Board of Education to automatically revoke the certificate of a teacher or school administrator upon receipt of proof that the person has been convicted of murder, rape, or other serious felonies, such as sexual misconduct and child abuse. Following this explanation, Chairman Luebke recognized Representative Howard who then moved for a favorable report, after noting the excellent purpose of the bill. Following some brief discussion between the members and Senator Garrou, Representative Hackney inquired as to why this bill was in the House Finance Committee. Senator Garrou explained that an earlier version of the bill did have a fee, but was removed in an earlier committee. Seeing no further desire for discussion, Chairman Luebke then called Representative Howard's motion for a favorable report on SB 993 to a vote. The motion carried with no known opposition.

Chairman Luebke next recognized Representative Culpepper to explain HB 751 – KITTY HAWK LAND CONVEYANCE (see attachment 4). He explained the bill as a simple measure to require the State to convey a piece of property located adjacent to the Town of Kitty Hawk to the Town. He explained that the ocean had now come directly up against the beach road and the Town of Kitty Hawk is now working with the Department of Transportation to push the ocean back by pumping in sand to protect the road. Since the Town is paying for these efforts, it is also requesting ownership of the road, thus the need for this bill. Chairman Luebke then recognized Representative Holliman who moved for a favorable report to HB 751. Representative Creech, upon recognition of the Chair, asked Representative Culpepper how many private property owners were involved or going to have their property affected by this bill. Representative Culpepper responded that none were involved because the Town already owns all of the land around the areas addressed by the bill. Seeing no further discussion, the Chair then called Representative Holliman's motion of favorable report to a vote, and the motion carried my consent.

SB 655 – AMEND LOCKSMITH ACT/CRIMINAL CHECKS/FEES (see attachment 5), sponsored by Senator Metcalf, was the next bill heard by the Committee. Chairman Luebke recognized the Senator to explain the bill. Senator Metcalf briefly reminded the members that, last session, the General Assembly had passed the Locksmith Licensing Act into law. He explained that this bill simply tightens the provisions for enforcement of that Act (see bill analysis in attachment 5 for further details). Representative Hill was then recognized by the Chair and made a motion for a favorable report on SB 655. Seeing no further questions, the Chair then called the vote and the motion carried without objection.

Representative Hackney was recognized by the Chairman to explain the next bill under consideration: HB 1289 – AMEND PRIVATE PROTECTIVE SERVICES ACT/FEES (see attachment 6). The Chair recognized Representative Alexander who moved that the PCS for HB 1289 be adopted for purposes of discussion, and the motion carried without objection. Representative Hackney explained that the bill makes various changes to the existing Private Protective Services Act and amends a number of provisions related to the private protective services profession. Representative Decker was recognized and expressed particular concern with the language of the bill authorizing the Board to issue "badges," especially those in the shape of a shield. Representative Decker further stated that such badges or shields could possibly lead to instances of mistaken identity for "real" law enforcement officers. To address this concern, the Chair recognized Mr. Wayne Woodard, Director of the North Carolina Private Protective Services Board, who stated that the use of badges (or shields) added to the professionalism of the job. Mr. Charles McDarris, Attorney for the Board, was also recognized and spoke in support of the provisions of the bill allowing for the issuance of badges to private protective services workers. Representative Decker was once again recognized by Chairman Luebke and stated his desire to offer an amendment to the bill to restrict the Board from issuing badges in the shape of shields (due to his earlier concerns). However, Representative Hackney opposed such and an amendment to the bill. Representative Decker then stated his respect for Representative Hackney and agreed not to send forth his proposed amendment. Seeing no further debate, Chairman Luebke recognized Representative Alexander who moved that HB 1289 be given a favorable report as to the Proposed Committee Substitute (PCS) bill, and an unfavorable report as to the original bill. The motion carried with no known objection.

As the next matter of business before the Committee, Chairman Luebke recognized Representative McHenry, on behalf of Senator Hoyle, to explain SB 475 – DALLAS ANNEXATION (see attachment 7). Representative McHenry briefly explained that the bill is simple, non-controversial, and acts to annex certain described properties in to the Town of Dallas in Gaston County. (Please refer to the Bill Analysis in attachment 7 for further detail.) Representative Ellis was recognized following this explanation and moved for a favorable report on the bill. As Chair saw no further desire for discussion, the matter was called to a vote. The motion carried by consent and SB 475 will receive a favorable report.

Chairman Luebke then called upon Representative Frye to explain his bill, HB 96 – AVERY COUNTY OCCUPANCY TAX (see attachment 8). Representative Frye noted that the bill had been brought before the Committee at the May 22, 2003 House Finance meeting but was only discussed and not voted upon. He briefly reviewed the unanimous support of the Avery County community and requested that the Chair acknowledge Avery County Commissioners, Mr. Jake Owens and Ms. Phyllis Forbes, who both spoke very briefly in support of the bill. Representative McGee was then recognized and moved that HB 96 be given a favorable report. Hearing no further questions or concerns, Chairman Luebke called the vote and the motion carried without objection.

Chairman Luebke next recognized Representative Rayfield to explain HB 677 – REDUCE SALES TAX ON FUNERALS (see attachment 9). Representative Rayfield explained that the title of the bill speaks directly to its purpose. He also noted that while the bill would result in a revenue loss to the General Fund ($2.95 million in FY 2003-2004 alone), this bill offered a savings that all North Carolinians can benefit from. Representative McCombs was then recognized and stated that the only drawback he could see to the bill was the fact that you had to die to save money. He furthermore, after pausing for the Committee's laughter, moved that the bill receive a favorable report. Representative Howard, however, acted to send forth a simple amendment changing the effective date of the bill from July 1, 2003 to July 1, 2004. She explained that the purpose of the amendment was to allow ample time for and notice of the sales tax reduction throughout the state. Chairman Luebke then called the amendment to a vote and it was adopted by consent. Seeing no further discussion on the bill, Representative McCombs then moved that a new PCS for HB 677, incorporating the adopted amendment, be given a favorable report (with an unfavorable report as to the original bill). As there was no objection, the Chair called the vote and the motion carried without dissent.

Representative McComas was recognized next by the Chair to explain HB 1290 – CONFORM BANK EXPENSE DEDUCTION (see attachment 10) and HB 1291 – SUBSIDIARY DIVIDEND TAX CHANGES (see attachment 11). He explained that while a decision on these bills needed to be made as soon as possible, they were far too complex in nature and would require more discussion and debate than could be afforded by the Committee. As such, he further suggested that the Committee refer the two bills to the standing Revenue Laws Commission, which meets during the interim between sessions, so that they could receive the appropriate level of study. A great deal of discussion then ensued between staff and the members pertaining to the proper process by which to assign the bills to the Revenue Laws Commission. In the end, Representative McComas acted to withdraw the bills from the Committee's consideration and request that the Chairman of the Rules Committee, Representative Culpepper, refer the bills to the Revenue Laws Study Commission.

The final bill before the Committee at the meeting was HB 1303 – NONPROFITS EXEMPT FROM ADMISSIONS TAX (see attachment 12) sponsored by Representative Starnes. He explained that the bill acts to exempt youth athletic contests (where all participants are 19 years of age or less) with an admission price less than $5.00 (and that is sponsored by a person exempt from income tax) from the state's 3-percent privilege tax on gross receipts. He and fiscal staff person Linda Millsaps noted that the fiscal impact to the State Budget would be very small – at the extreme, $150,000. Representative Weiss was then recognized by the Chairman and requested to hear from a representative of the Department of Revenue (DOR). Mr. Greg Radford with DOR was then recognized and stated that the highly specific nature of the bill basically prohibited a large financial impact. Chairman Luebke again recognized Representative Weiss who stated that any tax exemption, regardless of its size, is a revenue loss to the State, which remains in a budget shortfall. The Chairman then recognized Representative McCombs who stated that the tax exemption in this bill would have no effect to the General Fund because no one is currently paying the tax anyway. He further moved that HB 1303 receive a favorable report. Hearing no further discussion, the Chair called the vote and the motion was adopted.

Having no further business before the Committee, Chairman Luebke adjourned the meeting at 9:50 am.

Respectfully submitted,

Paul Luebke

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO ENHANCE THE ABILITY OF THE STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION TO SAFEGUARD SCHOOLCHILDREN THROUGH AUTOMATIC REVOCATION OF TEACHER CERTIFICATES UPON CONVICTION OF CERTAIN CRIMES, AND THE USE OF INVESTIGATIVE SERVICES AS NEEDED.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 115C-296(d) reads as rewritten:

"(d) The State Board shall adopt rules to establish the reasons and procedures for the suspension and revocation of certificates.

(1) The State Board shall revoke the certificate of a teacher or school administrator if the State Board receives notification from a local board or the Secretary of Health and Human Services that a teacher or school administrator has received an unsatisfactory or below standard rating under G.S. 115C-333(d).

(2) The State Board shall automatically revoke the certificate of a teacher or school administrator without the right to a hearing upon receiving verification of the identity of the teacher or school administrator together with a certified copy of a criminal record showing that the teacher or school administrator has entered a plea of guilty or nolo contendere to or has been finally convicted of any of the following crimes: Murder in the first or second degree, G.S. 14-17; Conspiracy or solicitation to commit murder, G.S. 14-18.1; Rape or sexual offense as defined in Article 7A of Chapter 14 of the General Statutes. Felonious assault with deadly weapon with intent to kill or inflicting serious injury, G.S. 14-32; Kidnapping, G.S. 14-39; Abduction of children, G.S. 14-41; Crime against nature, G.S. 14-177; Incest, G.S. 14-178 or G.S. 14-179; Employing or permitting minor to assist in offense against public morality and decency, G.S. 14-190.6;

Dissemination to minors under the age of 16 years, G.S. 14-190.7; Dissemination to minors under the age of 13 years, G.S. 14-190.8; Displaying material harmful to minors, G.S. 14-190.14; Disseminating harmful material to minors, G.S. 14-190.15; First degree sexual exploitation of a minor, G.S. 14-190.16; Second degree sexual exploitation of a minor, G.S. 14-190.17; Third degree sexual exploitation of a minor, G.S. 14-190.17A; Promoting prostitution of a minor, G.S. 14-190.18; Participating in prostitution of a minor, G.S. 14-190.19; Taking indecent liberties with children, G.S. 14-202.1; Solicitation of child by computer to commit an unlawful sex act, G.S. 14-202.3; Taking indecent liberties with a student, G.S. 14-202.4; Prostitution, G.S. 14-204; and child abuse under either G.S. 14-318.2 or G.S. 14-318.4. The Board shall mail notice of its intent to act pursuant to this subdivision by certified mail, return receipt requested, directed to the teacher or school administrator at their last known address. The notice shall inform the teacher or school administrator that it will revoke the person's certificate unless the teacher or school administrator notifies the Board in writing within 10 days after receipt of the notice that the defendant identified in the criminal record is not the same person as the teacher or school administrator. If the teacher or school administrator provides this written notice to the Board, the Board shall not revoke the certificate unless it can establish as a fact that the defendant and the teacher or school administrator are the same person.

(3) In addition, the State Board may revoke or refuse to renew a teacher's certificate when:

~~(1)~~a. The Board identifies the school in which the teacher is employed as low-performing under G.S. 115C-105.37 or G.S. 143B-146.5; and

~~(2)~~b. The assistance team assigned to that school makes the recommendation to revoke or refuse to renew the teacher's certificate for one or more reasons established by the State Board in its rules for certificate suspension or revocation.

The State Board may issue subpoenas for the purpose of obtaining documents or the testimony of witnesses in connection with proceedings to suspend or revoke certificates. In addition, the Board shall have the authority to contract with individuals who are qualified to conduct investigations in order to obtain all information needed to assist the Board in the proper disposition of allegations of misconduct by certificated persons."

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 993 would require the State Board of Education to automatically revoke the certificate of a teacher or school administrator upon receipt of proof that the person has been convicted of murder, rape or other serious felonies of sexual misconduct or child abuse.

Senate Bill 993 has been heard in Senate Judiciary 1 and House Education. House 1092 is a companion bill, sponsored by Rep. Linda Johnson.

CURRENT LAW: Current law does not specifically authorize the State Board of Election to revoke teacher or school administrator certification for conviction of certain crimes.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 993 would amend the law that governs teacher and school administrator certification by the State Board of Election, to add as an additional ground for the revocation of a certificate the conviction of certain serious felonies and misdemeanors, including murder, rape, assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill or inflict serious injury, kidnapping, abduction of children, crimes against nature, incest, sexual misconduct involving minors, sexual exploitation of a minor, indecent liberties with children and students, child abuse and misdemeanor assaults involving minors.

The bill requires before acting that the Board receive a certified copy of the criminal record showing the conviction, plea of guilty or nolo contendere, and verification that the record applies to the teacher or school administrator. Written notice to the teacher or school administrator that revocation action is being considered on the grounds set forth in the bill must be given, including notification that the person may challenge that the criminal record is for another person. If challenged, the Board may not revoke the certificate unless it can establish as a fact that the defendant and the teacher or school administrator are the same person.

The bill also authorizes the State Board to contract for any services necessary to comply with this subsection.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill becomes effective when it becomes law.

(a) Definitions. – The following definitions shall apply in this section:

(2) Criminal history. – A history of conviction of a state or federal crime, whether a misdemeanor or felony, that bears on an applicant's fitness for licensure to practice locksmithing. In addition to the North Carolina crimes listed in this subdivision, such crimes also include similar crimes under federal law or under the laws of other states.

(b) All applicants for licensure or apprentice designation shall consent to a criminal history record check. Refusal to consent to a criminal history record check may constitute grounds for the Board to deny licensure or apprentice designation to an applicant. The Board shall be responsible for providing to the North Carolina Department of Justice the fingerprints of the applicant to be checked, a form signed by the applicant consenting to the criminal record check and the use of fingerprints and other identifying information required by the State or National Repositories of Criminal Histories, and any additional information required by the Department of Justice. (3) The age of the person at the time of the conviction.
(4) The circumstances surrounding the commission of the crime, if known.
(5) The nexus between the criminal conduct of the person and the job duties of the position to be filled.

(7) The subsequent commission by the person of a crime listed in subdivision (a)(2) of this section.

If, after reviewing these factors, the Board determines that the applicant's criminal history disqualifies the applicant for licensure, the Board may deny licensure or apprentice designation of the applicant. The Board may disclose to the applicant information contained in the criminal history record check that is relevant to the denial. The Board shall not provide a copy of the criminal history record check to the applicant. The applicant shall have the right to appear before the Board to appeal the Board's decision. However, an appearance before the full Board shall constitute an exhaustion of administrative remedies in accordance with Chapter 150B of the General Statutes.

(d) Limited Immunity. – The Board, its officers, and employees, acting in good faith and in compliance with this section, shall be immune from civil liability for denying licensure or apprentice designation to an applicant based on information provided in the applicant's criminal history record check."

The Board shall keep all information obtained pursuant to this section confidential. The Department of Justice may charge a fee to offset the cost incurred by it to conduct a criminal record check under this section. POSITIONS:

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Locksmith Licensing Board; Department of Justice – State Bureau of Investigation

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act becomes effective July 1, 2003.

BILL SUMMARY: The bill allows the Locksmith Licensing Board to do the following: 1) employ an attorney, 2) conduct criminal history record checks on applicants, 3) regulate apprentice locksmiths, 4) charge a fee to license apprentice locksmiths, and 5) exempt auto repair shop towing services from the act.

BACKGROUND: Governor Easley approved the bill creating the Locksmith Licensing Act on August 16, 2001. (HB 942 / SL 2001-ch.369) The Locksmith Licensing Board began operation in 2002.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:
Section 5 of the bill proposes a $100 apprentice fee and a $25 apprentice transfer fee. With only one year of operation, the Board has no record of the number of apprentice locksmiths working in the state. A spokesman for the Board estimates that 30 apprentice licenses will be issued each year. If it is assumed that the apprentice license has a one-time fee of $100, then the Board will receive $3,000 a year from this source. The Board has no estimate of apprentice transfer fees.

Sections 2, 7, and 8 deal with criminal record background checks. Since the applicant or licensee pays the State Bureau of Investigation (SBI) for the criminal record check, there is no fiscal impact on the Locksmith Licensing Board. The SBI is able to accommodate some increase in background checks within its existing staffing level. If the increase in workload due to new record checks is greater than the unit's capacity, the SBI could seek authorization from the Office of State Budget and Management for an additional position supported by the receipts collected from the applicants/ licensees.

As of May 23, 2002, there were 522 licensed locksmiths listed on the Locksmith Licensing Board website. In 2001, the North Carolina Locksmith Association estimated that the number of locksmiths would grow 5% a year. Given these factors, there would be background checks on approximately 26 new locksmiths each year. There will also be background checks on 30 apprentice locksmiths each year.

(b) Nothing contained in this Article shall limit the authority of the Board to take disciplinary action against any licensee or trainee under this Chapter, nor shall the repayment in full or all obligations to the Fund by any licensee or trainee nullify or modify the effect of any other disciplinary proceeding brought under this Chapter.

(c) In addition to the fees provided for elsewhere in this Chapter, the Board shall charge the following fees which shall be deposited into the Fund:

Version:	PCS for 1st Edition H1289-CSSVf-28		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: The Proposed Committee Substitute for House Bill 1289 amends various provisions relating to the private protective services profession and to the Private Protective Services Board, which regulates the profession, including the following:

- Reducing from 14 to 9 the number of members on the Private Protective Services Board.
- Extending the term of a license from one year to two, three, or five years, at the election of the licensee.
- Requiring licensees to report within 30 days to the Board any arrests or convictions for certain misdemeanors and felonies.
- Authorizing the Board to establish continuing education requirements for licensees, registered employees, firearms permit holders, and firearms trainers.
- Decreases the required minimum balance in the Private Protective Services Recovery Fund.

The act would become effective when it becomes law.

CURRENT LAW: The Private Protective Services Board (Board) is an occupational licensing board within the Department of Justice. The purpose of the Board is to administer the licensing, education and training requirements to increase the level of integrity, competency and performance of the persons, firms, associations and corporations engaged in the private protective services profession within North Carolina in order to safeguard the public health, safety and welfare. The Board's responsibilities are generally divided into six categories:

1. Background investigation for licensing of 13 occupations
2. Registration of licensee employees
3. Conduct investigations of public complaints
4. Conduct compliance audits
5. Enforce law and rules through administrative disciplinary processes and criminal courts
6. Maintain required records

BILL ANALYSIS:

Sections 1 and 2 make definitional changes. Section 1 renames "counterintelligence service profession" as the "electronic countermeasures profession" to conform to a change in terminology made at the federal level. Section 2 amends the definition of "security guard and patrol profession" to include the protection of patrons and persons being escorted between premises of the entity that entered into the security services contract.

Section 3 reduces the membership of the Board from 14 to 9 members.

Section 4 expands the scope of the Board's powers by authorizing it to do the following:

- Approve training schools, instructors, and course materials for any person, firm, association, or corporation wishing to provide training.

- Approve a design for a badge or shield that indicates a person is licensed to engage in private protective services.

Section 5 allows the licensee to choose the term of the license from among two, three or five years. This section also authorizes the Board to require a licensee to complete continuing education courses approved by the Board before a license may be renewed.

Section 6 makes conforming changes with Section 5 by clarifying that the license fee would be in an amount equal to the current annual fee multiplied by the number of years of the license term, as chosen by the licensee.

Section 7 extends from 20 to 30 days the period by which a licensee must register its employees who will be engaged in providing private protective services after employment begins. Section 7 also authorizes the Board to require that a registered, unarmed security guard complete continuing education courses approved by the Board before renewing the guard's registration.

Section 8 does four things:

- It provides as an additional ground upon which the Board may deny, suspend, or revoke a license that a licensee possessed or displayed a badge or shield that was not designed or approved by the Board.
- It requires licensees to report to the Board, within 30 days, any charges, arrests for, or convictions of a misdemeanor or felony for any of the following:

  (1) Crimes that have as an essential element dishonesty, deceit, fraud, or misrepresentation.
  (2) Illegal use, possession, sale, manufacture, distribution, or transportation of a controlled substance, drug, narcotic, or alcoholic beverage.
  (3) Illegal use, carrying, or possession of a firearm.
  (4) Acts involving assault.
  (5) Acts involving unlawful breaking or entering, burglary, or larceny.
  (6) Any offense involving moral turpitude.

  A failure to report these arrests or convictions shall be grounds for revocation of the license.
- It makes clarifying changes to two other grounds for denial, suspension, or revocation of a license.
- It gives aggrieved persons 60 days to bring an administrative appeal of a denial, revocation, or suspension decision by the Board.

Section 9 does the following:

- It distinguishes private investigators from security guards for purposes of firearm registration permits. Under current law, "private detectives", who are defined to be synonymous with "private investigators" under this Chapter, are included within the definition of "armed security guards." Under the bill, the same permitting requirements would apply to both categories of private protective services professionals.
- It authorizes the Board to require a firearm registration permit holder and a certified firearms trainer to complete continuing education courses before renewing the holder's permit or the trainer's certification.
- It authorizes a private investigator to carry a concealed weapon during the performance of his duties upon doing all of the following:
  - Obtaining a concealed weapon's permit.

- Successfully completing the firearms training course approved by the Board and the Attorney General.
- Having a notation affixed to the face of the firearms registration card designating that the armed private investigator is allowed to carry a concealed weapon.

Section 10 authorizes the Board to require completion of continuing education courses approved by the Board before the renewal of a license, registration, certificate, or permit issued by the Board. The Board would be required to establish, by rule, the number of hours of continuing education courses necessary for renewal and any other requirements for completion of continuing education courses. Under current law, licensees are not required to complete continuing education courses.

Section 11 reduces the minimum balance required to be maintained in the Private Protective Services Recovery Fund (Fund). This Fund is a special fund established within the Office of the State Treasurer that is used to satisfy claims by aggrieved persons who have suffered a direct monetary loss by reason of certain acts committed by a licensee. Under current law, if the balance in the Fund drops below a minimum of $100,000, then the Board is authorized to charge annually each licensee and trainee an additional amount, not to exceed $50.00. The amount assessed will only be so much as is needed to raise the level of the Fund to $100,000. Section 11 lowers the minimum fund balance from $100,000 to $25,000.

Under current law, the State Treasurer invests the monies in the Fund and the Board uses the proceeds of the investments to advance education and research in the private protective services field. Section 11 would authorize the Board to use any funds derived from investments or any funds in excess of the minimum Fund balance for those purposes. It also allows the Board to provide grant money to private individuals, associations, or corporations sponsoring educational courses to offset the actual cost of the courses. The Board would also be able to use funds in excess of $50,000 to offset the operating expenses of the Board, if there is a unanimous vote of the Board and the Board makes findings of fact supporting the need for the funds.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Private Protective Services Board (in the Department of Justice)

EFFECTIVE DATE: When it becomes law.

BILL SUMMARY: This legislation would make changes to the Private Protective Services Act, including:

- Reducing from 14 to 9 the number of members on the Private Protective Services Board.
- Extending the term of a license from one year to two, three, or five years, at the election of the licensee.
- Requiring licensees to report within 30 days to the Board any arrests or convictions for certain misdemeanors and felonies.
- Authorizing the board to establish continuing education requirements for licensees, registered employees, firearms permit holders, and firearms trainers.
- Decreasing the required minimum balance in the Private Protective Services Recovery Fund.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:
The Private Protective Services Board is supported entirely by receipts. As a result, changes to revenues or expenditures will not impact the General Fund.

Section 3: Reduction in Board Members. This section would reduce the number of public board members appointed by the Attorney General from two to one and the number appointed by the Senate President pro Tempore and the House Speaker from five each to three each. (See technical considerations) The elimination of five members will reduce the Board's annual operating expenses by approximately $14,000 due to decreased travel and per diem costs for six meetings per year.

Section 4: Approval of Badge/Shield Design. Section 8 prohibits designs that purport to represent law enforcement officers. The Board could incur minimal costs to review designs.

Sections 4, 5, 7, 8 and 9: Continuing Education Requirements. The Board anticipates minimal costs associated with reviewing courses for approval. Costs for continuing education courses would be borne by the industry.

Sections 5 and 6: Modification of License Terms. Licenses would be issued for two, three, or five years rather than one year, with no reduction in fees. Currently, a one-year basic license costs $200; the Board is authorized to charge up to $250 per year. Under this legislation, the licensee could choose a two-year, three-year, or five-year license. At the current rate, the cost would be $400, $600, or $1,000 respectively; at the maximum rate, the cost would be $500, $759, or $1,250. In the short term, this would accelerate revenue collections as licensees begin paying for multiple years up front. We cannot project the impact of this change in the fee structure on the number of current and future licensees. In addition, basic license holders may apply for additional licenses (i.e. counterintelligence) for $50 annually. It appears that the same multi-year licensing structure would apply to those licenses. Finally, Board staff estimate one-time expenditures of $5,000 to modify computer software, and potential workload reductions in later years due to less frequent renewals.

Section 7: Timeframe for New Employee Registration. Licensees would be required to register new employees within 30 days, rather than 20 days. The Board does not anticipate any fiscal impact from this change.

Section 8: Duty to Report Criminal Offenses. Licensees would be required to report to the Board within 30 days any criminal arrests, charges, or convictions for a range of offenses. Failure to do so would be grounds for license revocation. The Board has not identified any costs associated with this requirement.

Section 9: Firearm Registration Permits. The Board does not anticipate any fiscal impact due to including "armed private investigators" as firearm registration permitees.

Section 11: Private Protective Services Fund. The Fund is maintained for the purpose of paying claims against licensees. Claims are limited to $5,000 per obligation and $10,000 in aggregate against any one licensee within a year. The Board reports that, within the past five years, one claim – of less than $5,000 – was made against the Fund. Staff records indicate that this is the only claim paid since the Fund's inception in 1983.

Each new applicant for a license or training permit pays a fee of $50 into the Fund. For any year that the balance falls below the minimum, the Board is authorized to charge each licensee and trainee an additional fee (up to $50) in order to reach the minimum threshold. Under current law, the Fund balance must be at least $100,000. This bill would reduce the minimum balance to $25,000. Currently, the Fund balance is approximately $22,650. By reducing the minimum from $100,000 to $25,000, the Fund balance would be less than $3,000 below the minimum, and the Board would be able to charge a lower additional fee.

The funds are invested by the State Treasurer, and the Board may use the proceeds from its investments to fund education and research in the area of private protective services. This legislation would allow the Board to use all except $25,000 in the Fund for education and research purposes, and all except $50,000 to offset operating expenses. Currently, the balance is below $25,000, so no additional funds would be available for these purposes.

TECHNICAL CONSIDERATIONS: This legislation is effective when it becomes law, and would eliminate five board member positions. At present, there is only one vacancy on the Board. However, one of the Attorney General's appointees is serving a term that expired June 30, 2001, and several of the House and Senate appointees are serving terms that expire June 30, 2003. If this legislation is enacted prior to June 30, 2003, there will still be people serving in several of the positions to be eliminated.

SENATE BILL 475:
Dallas Annexation

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	House Finance	Introduced by:	Sen. Hoyle
Date:	June 19, 2003	Summary by:	Trina Griffin*
Version:	2nd Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 475 annexes certain described properties into the Town of Dallas in Gaston County.

CURRENT LAW: Under current law, a city may either annex contiguous property voluntary or involuntarily.

Voluntary Annexations: In order to annex contiguous property under a voluntary annexation, G.S. 160A-31 requires that the owners of all real property located within the proposed annexation area sign a petition requesting the annexation.

Involuntary Annexations: For involuntary annexations by cities with a population of less than 5,000, there are both area requirements and urban purposes requirements the city must meet prior to annexation:

Total Area Requirements

- Contiguity – the total area to be annexed must be contiguous to the municipality at the time annexation proceedings begin
- One-Eighth Requirement – at least 1/8 of the boundary must coincide with the existing city boundary.
- Not Part of Another Municipality – no part of the area to be annexed may be within the boundaries of another incorporated municipality.

Urban Use Requirements. The area to be annexed must be developed for "urban purposes" meaning that:

- Use Test: At least 60 percent of all lots and tracts be in urban uses, including residential, commercial, industrial, institutional or governmental uses; and
- Subdivision Test: At least 60 percent of the total acreage of land that is not being used for urban purposes as set out above be subdivided into lots or tracts of 3 acres or less.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 475 annexes certain property into the Town of Dallas. This bill was requested by the Town for an area that is experiencing substantial residential growth. Because every property owner would be required to sign the annexation petition, it would be difficult for the Town to coordinate a mass voluntary annexation of the area. The Town is already providing water and sewer services to the area and in some cases, has provided police and fire responses as well. Also, the proposed annexation area is being developed under the Gaston County Land Development Code; however, the Town has recently adopted a Land Development Code that addresses areas not addressed by the county's code, including road maintenance, water and sewer maintenance, and electrical services. Finally, the Town currently does not meet the urban use requirements for involuntary annexation because many of the parcels of land are not yet developed. Thus, even though the land is slated for development as a subdivision and possibly a charter school, the Town is unable to utilize the statutory procedures for an involuntary annexation.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill is effective June 30, 2003.

HOUSE BILL 96

Short Title:	Avery County Occupancy Tax.	(Local)
Sponsors:	Representative Frye.
Referred to:	Finance.

February 26, 2003

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO AUTHORIZE AVERY COUNTY TO LEVY AN OCCUPANCY TAX IN A TAX DISTRICT COMPRISING THE UNINCORPORATED AREAS OF THE COUNTY.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Avery County District U Created. – Avery County District U is created as a taxing district. Its jurisdiction consists of that part of Avery County that is located outside of incorporated areas within the county. Avery County District U is a body politic and corporate and has the power to carry out the provisions of this act. The Avery County Board of Commissioners shall serve ex officio as the governing body of the district, and the officers of the county shall serve as the officers of the governing body of the district. A simple majority of the governing body constitutes a quorum, and approval by a majority of those present is sufficient to determine any matter before the governing body, if a quorum is present.

SECTION 2. Authorization and Scope. – The governing body of Avery County District U may levy a room occupancy tax of up to six percent (6%) of the gross receipts derived from the rental of any room, lodging, or accommodation furnished by a hotel, motel, inn, tourist camp, or similar place within the district that is subject to sales tax imposed by the State under G.S. 105-164.4(a)(3). This tax is in addition to any State or local sales or room occupancy tax. This tax does not apply to accommodations furnished by charitable, educational, or religious institutions or nonprofit organizations when furnished in furtherance of their nonprofit purpose.

SECTION 3. Administration. – A tax levied under this act shall be levied, administered, collected, and repealed as provided in G.S. 153A-155 as if Avery County District U were a county. The penalties provided in G.S. 153A-155 apply to a tax levied under this act.

SECTION 4. Distribution and Use of Tax Revenue. – Avery County District U shall, on a quarterly basis, distribute the net proceeds of the occupancy tax to the Avery County District U Tourism Development Authority created pursuant to Section 5 of this act. The Authority shall use at least two-thirds of the proceeds distributed to it to promote travel and tourism in the district and shall use the remainder for tourism-related expenditures in the district. In accordance with the North Carolina Constitution and the United States Constitution, the tax proceeds may be used only for the direct benefit of the jurisdiction of Avery County District U. None of the proceeds may be used to promote travel or tourism in areas within Avery County that are outside of the district or for tourism-related expenditures in the county that are outside of the district.

The following definitions apply in this act:

(1) Net proceeds. – Gross proceeds less the cost to the district of administering and collecting the tax, as determined by the finance officer, not to exceed three percent (3%) of the first five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) of gross proceeds collected each year and one percent (1%) of the remaining gross receipts collected each year.

(2) Promote travel and tourism. – To advertise or market an area or activity, publish and distribute pamphlets and other materials, conduct market research, or engage in similar promotional activities that attract tourists or business travelers to the area; the term includes administrative expenses incurred in engaging in the listed activities.

(3) Tourism-related expenditures. – Expenditures that are designed to increase the use of lodging facilities in the district or to attract tourists or business travelers to the district. The term includes expenditures to construct, maintain, operate, or market a convention center and other expenditures that, in the judgment of the entity making the expenditure, will facilitate and support tourism.

SECTION 5.(a) Avery County District U Tourism Development Authority. – Appointment and membership. – The board of commissioners of Avery County shall adopt a resolution creating the Avery County District U Tourism Development Authority, which shall be a public authority under the Local Government Budget and Fiscal Control Act. The resolution shall provide for the membership of the Authority, including the members' terms of office, and for the filling of vacancies on the Authority. At least one-third of the members must be individuals who are affiliated with businesses that collect the tax in the district, and at least three-fourths of the members must be individuals who are currently active in the promotion of travel and tourism in the district. The board of commissioners shall designate one member of the Authority as chair and shall determine the compensation, if any, to be paid to members of the Authority.

The Authority shall meet at the call of the chair and shall adopt rules of procedure to govern its meetings. The Finance Officer for Avery County shall be the ex officio finance officer of the Authority.

SECTION 5.(b) Duties. – The Authority shall expend the net proceeds of the tax levied under this act for the purposes provided in Section 4 of this act. The Authority shall promote travel and tourism in the district and make tourism-related expenditures in the district.

SECTION 5.(c) Reports. – The Authority shall report quarterly and at the close of the fiscal year to the Avery County Board of Commissioners on its receipts and expenditures for the preceding quarter and for the year in such detail as the board may require.

SECTION 6. G.S. 153A-155(g) reads as rewritten:

"(g) This section applies only to Anson, Brunswick, Buncombe, Cabarrus, Carteret, Craven, Cumberland, Currituck, Dare, Davie, Durham, Granville, Madison, Montgomery, Nash, New Hanover, Pender, Person, Randolph, Richmond, Rowan, Scotland, Stanly, Transylvania, Tyrrell, Vance, and Washington Counties, to Avery County District U, and to the Township of Averasboro in Harnett County."

SECTION 7. This act is effective when it becomes law.

HOUSE BILL 96:
Avery County Occupancy Tax

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	House Finance	Introduced by:	Rep. Frye
Date:	June 5, 2003	Summary by:	Trina Griffin
Version:	1st Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 96 creates a taxing district in Avery County that consists of the unincorporated areas of the county and authorizes the district to levy a room occupancy tax of up to 6%. The bill was given a favorable report by the Occupancy Tax Subcommittee.

CURRENT LAW: In 1993, the General Assembly authorized Avery County to levy a 3% occupancy tax. In 2000, the county repealed its occupancy tax, but it still had the legislative authority to levy the tax. Then in 2001, the General Assembly repealed the county's authority to levy the tax. All of the towns in Avery County currently have the authority to levy a 6% room occupancy tax.

BILL ANALYSIS: The bill creates the Avery County District U taxing district, which consists of the unincorporated areas of the county. The Avery County Board of Commissioners shall serve ex officio as the governing body of the district, and the officers of the county shall serve as the officers of the governing body of the district. The bill authorizes the district to levy a room occupancy tax of up to 6%. The district must remit the net proceeds of the tax on a quarterly basis to a Tourism Development Authority, which is required to be established under the bill. The Authority must use two-thirds of the net proceeds to promote travel and tourism and the remainder must be used for tourism-related purposes.

The provisions regarding Avery County District U meet all of the uniform provisions for occupancy taxes adopted by the House Finance Committee and supported by the NC Travel and Tourism Coalition.

BACKGROUND: Since 1983, the General Assembly has authorized many units of local government to levy a room occupancy tax. In several instances, the General Assembly has authorized both a county and a city within that county to impose an occupancy tax. The rate of tax, the use of the tax proceeds, the administration of the tax, and the body with the authority to determine how the tax proceeds will be spent vary considerably. Over the past several years, there has been a greater effort to make the occupancy taxes uniform. In 1997, the General Assembly enacted uniform municipal and county administrative provisions for occupancy tax legislation – G.S. 153A-155 and G.S. 160A-215. These provisions provide uniformity in the areas of levy, administration, collection, repeal, and penalties.

The North Carolina Travel and Tourism Coalition has a policy statement for legislation authorizing local occupancy taxes. Many of the principles contained in its statement are similar to the ones established by the House Finance subcommittee in 1993.

EFFECTIVE DATE: When it becomes law.

BILL SUMMARY: The bill makes one change to current occupancy taxes. It creates a taxing district, "Avery County District U", and authorizes that district to levy a room occupancy tax of up to 6%.

BACKGROUND: In 1983 the General Assembly authorized Avery County to levy a room occupancy tax of up to 3%. That tax was levied through 1999. In 2000, the local county commission repealed the room tax, and in 2001, the General Assembly repealed that county's authority to levy an occupancy tax. Independent of these actions, all municipalities in Avery County are authorized to levy a room tax of up to 6%.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: The potential fiscal impact relates to Avery County. According to reports filed with the Tax Research Division of The NC Department of Revenue, Avery County municipalities levied and collected the following occupancy taxes in 2001-02:

Municipality	Rate	Revenue
Banner Elk	3%	54,338
Beech Mountain	3%
Sugar Mountain*	3%	53,896

* Sugar Mountain's occupancy tax became effective January 1, 2002.

In 1999-00 Avery County collected $156,512 in occupancy taxes, using a 3% rate. Growing this forward to a 2001-02 occupancy tax estimate suggests that if a countywide tax were levied in that year it would yield approximately $162,272. However, as the above municipal revenue figures indicate, the vast majority of the revenues were drawn from incorporated areas, suggesting limited revenues from what now would be the Avery County District U. However, no exact fiscal estimate is available at this time.

HOUSE BILL 677:
Reduce Sales Tax on Funerals

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee: House Finance
Date: June 18, 2003
Version: 1st Edition

Sponsor: Rep. Rayfield
Analysis by: Martha H. Harris
Staff Attorney

SUMMARY: House Bill 677 increases the amount of funeral expenses, including expenses for coffins and caskets, that are exempt from sales tax, effective July 1, 2003.

Under current law, funeral expenses, including coffins and caskets, receive a $1,500 sales tax exemption. This bill would increase the exempt amount from $1,500 to $2,500.

The General Assembly last increased the exemption from $150 to $1,500 in 1985. A sales tax exemption for coffins and caskets has been available since 1939. In 1957, the General Assembly began taxing funeral services and increased the exemption for "funeral expenses" from $100 to $150.

The current exemption for funeral services is directed to a class of goods and services, not to a particular class of retailers. Consequently, each retailer who provides taxable goods and services in respect to a decedent's funeral is entitled to the benefit of the exemption. For example, if a person purchases a vault or grave marker from a vendor as opposed to the funeral director, then the bill from the vendor as well as the bill from the funeral director will each reflect a $1,500 sales tax exemption.

The following charges may also be excluded from taxable receipts provided the charges are separately and accurately identified in the funeral director's records:

- Services that have been taxed under G.S. 105-164.4(a)(4) (laundry and dry-cleaning)
- Services performed by a beautician, cosmetologist, hairdresser or barber employed by or at the specific direction of the family of the deceased
- Burial permit fees for interment in church cemeteries
- Stone deposits advanced to city and church cemeteries to guarantee the erection of a grave stone within a given time
- Transportation charges by common carriers for transporting the deceased from the place of death to the place of interment
- Honorariums
- Ambulance service in cases of final illness where the bill was not paid prior to death and is subsequently added to the funeral bill
- Cemetery lots
- Cash advances
- Grave opening fees

- Charges for telephone calls to friends and relatives of the deceased for the convenience of and at the request of the family of the deceased when billed separately to the family
- Charges for death certificates procured by the family of the deceased person
- Amounts paid directly to the funeral director by agencies of the federal government except death benefit payments by the Social Security Administration which require authorization of the surviving spouse.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: North Carolina Department of Revenue and Local Governments.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act becomes effective July 1, 2003 and applies to sales made on or after that date.

BILL SUMMARY: The proposed bill changes the G.S. 105-164.13 (18) by increasing tax-exempt expenses on funeral to $2,500.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: Under current law the first $1,500 of funeral expenses are exempt, while the balance is taxed at the general rate of 7%. The National Funeral Directors Association (NFDA) reports that in 2000, the average cost for a burial was $2,832, which is a 3.19% increase from the year 1999. According to the NFDA, this reflects the general trend of annual estimated 3% increase of funeral costs.

The Board of Mortuary Science indicated that in 2001 there were 69,109 burials in North Carolina. At the same time, based on the North Carolina Center for Health Statistics, the absolute number of deaths in North Carolina from 1998 to 2001 had been increasing, on average, by 1.38% annually.

Assuming these rates remain the same, future state sales tax receipts for funerals are expected to be:

	2003-04	2004-05	2005-06	2006-07	2007-08

Because the bill does not become effective until July 1, 2003, there is no revenue impact until FY 2003-04. The first year estimates are adjusted to account for the July 1, 2003 effective date.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO CONFORM STATE INCOME TAX ON BANKS TO FEDERAL INCOME TAX ON BANKS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 105-130.5(a) is amended by adding a new subdivision to read:

"(a) The following additions to federal taxable income shall be made in determining State net income:

(2a) The portion of a financial institution's interest expense that is allocable to interest income exempt from taxation under this Part. The allocable portion of the interest expense is the portion for which deduction would be disallowed pursuant to section 265(b) of the Code if the interest income exempt from taxation under this Part were earned on tax-exempt obligations as defined in section 265(b) of the Code."

SECTION 2. This act is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003. Notwithstanding G.S. 105-163.41, no addition to tax may be made under that statute for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2003, and before January 1, 2004, with respect to an underpayment of corporation tax to the extent the underpayment was created or increased by this act.

HOUSE BILL 1290:
Conform Bank Expense Deduction

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee: House Finance
Date: June 18, 2003
Version: 1st Edition

Sponsor: Rep. McComas
Analysis by: Martha H. Harris

SUMMARY: House Bill 1290 amends the corporate income tax law to provide that a bank is allowed to deduct interest expenses on tax-exempt income only to the extent it is allowable under federal tax law, effective beginning with the 2003 tax year.

House Bill 1290 would reverse a corporate income tax interpretation allowing corporations engaged in the banking business to deduct interest expenses incurred in producing tax-exempt interest income. Generally, other corporations are not allowed to deduct expenses incurred in producing tax-exempt income.

The North Carolina Corporation Income Tax Act provides in G.S. 105-130.5(a)(2) that interest paid in connection with tax-exempt income is not deductible. The statute makes no specific reference to financial institutions; however, in 1987, the Attorney General's Office issued an opinion interpreting the statute as not applying to corporations engaged in the banking business. Under this interpretation, banks and similar financial institutions are not required to include in taxable income interest expenses paid in connection with State tax-exempt income. One example of such expenses would be interest paid on deposits used to acquire federal obligations, the interest on which is exempt from State income tax.

Federal law formerly allowed the same special treatment to corporations engaged in the banking business but, since 1986, the deduction has been disallowed, with an exception for interest expenses in connection with tax-exempt obligations of qualified "small issuers."[1] This proposal would adopt the federal approach to deduction of interest expenses by corporations engaged in the banking business. Banking corporations would be required to allocate interest expenses between taxable and tax-exempt income based on a formula. Except as provided in the case of small issuers, those interest expenses allocable to exempt income would be includable in State net income; those interest expenses allocable to taxable income would be deductible.

The bill provides that no penalty for underpayment of estimated taxes would be imposed for 2003 tax years to the extent the underpayment was due to this bill.

[1] In general, an obligation is an obligation of a small issuer if, during the year the obligation is issued, the issuer is expected to issue no more than $10 million in obligations.

REVENUES	(See Methodology and Assumptions)

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT AFFECTED: The corporate income tax is administered by the Department of Revenue. The enactment of the bill is not expected to affect the budget requirements of the Department.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2003

BILL SUMMARY: Reverses a North Carolina corporate income tax interpretation allowing corporations engage in the banking business to deduct interest expenses incurred in producing tax-exempt interest income. An example would be the interest paid on deposits that are used to purchase federal obligations whose interest payments are exempt from the state income tax.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: In past years, the fiscal side of this issue had been reviewed by the Department of Revenue and a consultant used by the General Assembly. A January 15, 2002 memorandum from the Tax Research Division indicates that the annual revenue gain to the General Fund would amount to $12-15 million per year. This estimate was based on an analysis of two year of corporate tax returns of taxpayers subject to the banking privilege license tax.

TECHNICAL CONSIDERATIONS: The Revenue Department has indicated that most of the additional revenue would be paid by a small number of banks and that their investment portfolio decisions could have a major impact on the estimate. In addition, the estimate is subject to changes in the interest rate on federal obligations.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO MODIFY THE EXPENSE ATTRIBUTION LAW AS IT APPLIES TO DEDUCTIBLE DIVIDENDS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 105-130.6A reads as rewritten:

"§ 105-130.6A. Adjustment for expenses related to dividends.

(a) Definitions. – The provisions of G.S. 105-130.6 govern the determination of whether a corporation is a subsidiary or an affiliate of another corporation. In addition, the following definitions apply in this section:

(1) Affiliated group. – A group that includes a corporation, all other corporations that are affiliates or subsidiaries of that corporation, and all other corporations that are affiliates or subsidiaries of another corporation in the group.

(2) Bank holding company. – A holding company with an affiliate that is subject to the privilege tax on banks levied in G.S. 105-102.3.

(3) Dividends. – Dividends received that are not taxed under this Part.

(4) Electric power holding company. – A holding company with an affiliate or a subsidiary that is subject to the franchise tax on electric power companies levied in G.S. 105-116.

(5) Expense adjustment. – The adjustment required by G.S. 105-130.5(c)(3) for expenses related to dividends not taxed under this Part.

(6) Holding company. – Defined in G.S. 105-120.2.

(b) General Rule. – For corporations other than bank holding companies and electric power holding companies, the adjustment under G.S. 105-130.5(c)(3) for expenses related to dividends not taxed under this Part may not exceed an amount equal to fifteen percent (15%) of the dividends.

(c) Bank Holding Companies. – For bank holding companies the adjustment under G.S. 105-130.5(c)(3) for expenses related to dividends not taxed under this Part must be computed pursuant to guidelines adopted by the Department of Revenue. ~~may not exceed an amount equal to twenty percent (20%) of the dividends.~~

(d) Electric Power Holding Companies. – For electric power holding companies, the adjustment under G.S. 105-130.5(c)(3) for expenses related to dividends not taxed under this Part may not exceed an amount equal to fifteen percent (15%) of its total interest expenses.

~~(e) Cap for Bank Holding Companies. – After calculating the expense adjustment as provided in subsection (c) of this section, each bank holding company must calculate the amount of additional tax that results from the expense adjustments for the holding company and for every corporation in the holding company's affiliated group for the taxable year. If the expense adjustments result in additional tax exceeding eleven million dollars ($11,000,000) for a taxable year for the affiliated group, the affiliated group may reduce the amount of the expense adjustment so that the resulting additional tax does not exceed this maximum. This maximum applies once to each affiliated group each taxable year, whether or not the group includes more than one bank holding company.~~

~~The members of the affiliated group may allocate this reduction among themselves in their discretion. In order to take this reduction, each member of the affiliated group that is required to file a return under this Part and that has dividends for the taxable year must provide a schedule with its return that lists every member of the group that has dividends, the amount of the dividends, and whether the member is a bank holding company. In addition, the schedule must show the expense adjustments for those members whose additional tax as a result of the expense adjustment constitutes the maximum amount. In addition, each member must provide any other documentation required by the Secretary.~~

~~If the expense adjustment for an affiliated group is reduced under this subsection, and the return of a member of the group is later changed in a manner that reduces below the maximum the amount of additional tax for the group resulting from the expense adjustment, the Secretary may increase the expense adjustment for any member of the group in order to increase to the maximum the amount of additional tax for the group resulting from the expense adjustment. In this situation, the amount of the increase is considered a forfeited tax benefit with respect to the affiliated group for the purposes of G.S. 105-241.1(e). The date of the forfeiture is the date of the change that triggers the Secretary's authority to increase the expense adjustment. Any member whose expense adjustment the Secretary increases is liable for interest on the amount of the increase at the rate established under G.S. 105-241.1(i), computed from the date the taxes would have been due if the expense adjustment had been calculated correctly on the original return. The amount of the increase and the interest are due 60 days after the date of the forfeiture. A taxpayer that fails to pay the amount of the increase and interest by the due date is subject to the penalties provided in G.S. 105-236.~~

~~(f) Credits for Bank Holding Companies. – If the affiliated group of which a bank holding company is a member is eligible for the reduction provided in subsection~~

~~(e) of this section for a taxable year, the affiliated group is also eligible for a credit equal to two million dollars ($2,000,000). If the affiliated group of which a bank holding company is a member is not eligible for the reduction provided in subsection (e) of this section for a taxable year, the affiliated group is eligible for a credit equal to the amount of additional tax that results from its expense adjustments in excess of the amount of additional tax that would result from the expense adjustments if the expense adjustment of any bank holding company in the group were equal to fifteen percent (15%) of the holding company's dividends for that taxable year.~~

~~A credit allowed by this subsection may be taken in four equal, annual installments beginning with the later of the following taxable year or the taxpayer's taxable year beginning in 2003. The members of the affiliated group may allocate a credit allowed by this subsection among themselves in their discretion.~~

(g) Credit for Electric Power Holding Companies. – After calculating the adjustment for expenses related to dividends under G.S. 105-130.5(c)(3), each electric power holding company must calculate the amount of additional tax under this Part that results from the expense adjustment for the taxable year. The electric power holding company is allowed a credit for the following taxable year equal to one-half of this amount of additional tax.

As an alternative to taking this credit against its own tax liability, an electric power holding company may elect to allocate the credit among the members of its affiliated group. In this case, the credit must be taken in four equal installments beginning in the later of the following taxable year or the taxable year for which the taxpayer's final return is due in 2004.

(h) Limitation on ~~Credits. The credits~~Credit. – The credit provided in this section ~~are~~ is allowed against the tax levied in this Part and the franchise tax levied in Article 3 of this Chapter. A taxpayer may claim a credit against only one of the taxes against which it is allowed. Each taxpayer must elect the tax against which the credit will be taken when filing the return on which the first installment of the credit is claimed. This election is binding. All installments and carryforwards of the credit must be taken against the same tax.

In order for a member of an affiliated group to take a credit, each member of the affiliated group that is required to file a return under this Part or under Article 3 of this Chapter must attach a schedule to its return that shows for every member of the group the amount of the credit taken by it, the tax against which it is taken, and the amount of the resulting tax. In addition, each member must provide any other documentation required by the Secretary.

A credit allowed in this section may not exceed the amount of tax against which it is taken for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowable, except tax payments made by or on behalf of the taxpayer. Any unused portion of the credit may be carried forward to succeeding taxable years."

SECTION 2. This act is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003. Notwithstanding G.S. 105-163.41, no addition to tax may be made under that statute for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2003, and before

January 1, 2004, with respect to an underpayment of corporation tax to the extent the underpayment was created or increased by this act.

(2) Bank holding company. – A holding company with an affiliate that is subject to the privilege tax on banks levied in G.S. 105-102.3.

(3) Dividends. – Dividends received that are not taxed under this Part.

(4) Electric power holding company. – A holding company with an affiliate or a subsidiary that is subject to the franchise tax on electric power companies levied in G.S. 105-116.

(5) Expense adjustment. – The adjustment required by G.S. 105-130.5(c)(3) for expenses related to dividends not taxed under this Part.

(6) Holding company. – Defined in G.S. 105-120.2.

(b) ~~General~~ Uniform Rule. – ~~For corporations other than bank holding companies and electric power holding companies, the~~The adjustment under G.S. 105-130.5(c)(3) for expenses related to dividends not taxed under this Part ~~may not exceed an amount equal to fifteen percent (15%) of the dividends.~~must be computed pursuant to guidelines adopted by the Department of Revenue. The guidelines adopted by the Department must apply equally to bank holding companies, electric power holding companies, and other corporations.

~~(c) Bank Holding Companies. For bank holding companies the adjustment under G.S. 105-130.5(c)(3) for expenses related to dividends not taxed under this Part may not exceed an amount equal to twenty percent (20%) of the dividends.~~

~~(d) Electric Power Holding Companies. For electric power holding companies, the adjustment under G.S. 105-130.5(c)(3) for expenses related to dividends not taxed under this Part may not exceed an amount equal to fifteen percent (15%) of its total interest expenses.~~

~~(e) Cap for Bank Holding Companies. After calculating the expense adjustment as provided in subsection (c) of this section, each bank holding company must calculate the amount of additional tax that results from the expense adjustments for the holding company and for every corporation in the holding company's affiliated group for the taxable year. If the expense adjustments result in additional tax exceeding eleven million dollars ($11,000,000) for a taxable year for the affiliated group, the affiliated group may reduce the amount of the expense adjustment so that the resulting additional tax does not exceed this maximum. This maximum applies once to each affiliated group each taxable year, whether or not the group includes more than one bank holding company.~~

~~The members of the affiliated group may allocate this reduction among themselves in their discretion. In order to take this reduction, each member of the affiliated group that is required to file a return under this Part and that has dividends for the taxable year must provide a schedule with its return that lists every member of the group that has dividends, the amount of the dividends, and whether the member is a bank holding company. In addition, the schedule must show the expense adjustments for those members whose additional tax as a result of the expense adjustment constitutes the maximum amount. In addition, each member must provide any other documentation required by the Secretary.~~

~~If the expense adjustment for an affiliated group is reduced under this subsection, and the return of a member of the group is later changed in a manner that reduces below the maximum the amount of additional tax for the group resulting from the expense adjustment, the Secretary may increase the expense adjustment for any member of the group in order to increase to the maximum the amount of additional tax for the group resulting from the expense adjustment. In this situation, the amount of the increase is considered a forfeited tax benefit with respect to the affiliated group for the purposes of G.S. 105-241.1(e). The date of the forfeiture is the date of the change that triggers the Secretary's authority to increase the expense adjustment. Any member whose expense adjustment the Secretary increases is liable for interest on the amount of the increase at the rate established under G.S. 105-241.1(i), computed from the date the taxes would have been due if the expense adjustment had been calculated correctly on the original return. The amount of the increase and the interest are due 60 days after the date of the forfeiture. A taxpayer that fails to pay the amount of the increase and interest by the due date is subject to the penalties provided in G.S. 105-236.~~

~~(f) Credits for Bank Holding Companies. If the affiliated group of which a bank holding company is a member is eligible for the reduction provided in subsection (e) of this section for a taxable year, the affiliated group is also eligible for a credit equal to two million dollars ($2,000,000). If the affiliated group of which a bank holding company is a member is not eligible for the reduction provided in subsection (e) of this section for a taxable year, the affiliated group is eligible for a credit equal to the amount of additional tax that results from its expense adjustments in excess of the amount of additional tax that would result from the expense adjustments if the expense adjustment of any bank holding company in the group were equal to fifteen percent (15%) of the holding company's dividends for that taxable year.~~

~~A credit allowed by this subsection may be taken in four equal, annual installments beginning with the later of the following taxable year or the taxpayer's taxable year beginning in 2003. The members of the affiliated group may allocate a credit allowed by this subsection among themselves in their discretion.~~

~~(g) Credit for Electric Power Holding Companies. After calculating the adjustment for expenses related to dividends under G.S. 105-130.5(c)(3), each electric power holding company must calculate the amount of additional tax under this Part that results from the expense adjustment for the taxable year. The electric power holding company is allowed a credit for the following taxable year equal to one-half of this amount of additional tax.~~

~~As an alternative to taking this credit against its own tax liability, an electric power holding company may elect to allocate the credit among the members of its affiliated group. In this case, the credit must be taken in four equal installments beginning in the later of the following taxable year or the taxable year for which the taxpayer's final return is due in 2004.~~

~~(h) Limitation on Credits. The credits provided in this section are allowed against the tax levied in this Part and the franchise tax levied in Article 3 of this Chapter. A taxpayer may claim a credit against only one of the taxes against which it is allowed. Each taxpayer must elect the tax against which the credit will be taken when filing the return on which the first installment of the credit is claimed. This election is binding. All installments and carryforwards of the credit must be taken against the same tax.~~

~~In order for a member of an affiliated group to take a credit, each member of the affiliated group that is required to file a return under this Part or under Article 3 of this Chapter must attach a schedule to its return that shows for every member of the group the amount of the credit taken by it, the tax against which it is taken, and the amount of the resulting tax. In addition, each member must provide any other documentation required by the Secretary.~~

~~A credit allowed in this section may not exceed the amount of tax against which it is taken for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowable, except tax payments made by or on behalf of the taxpayer. Any unused portion of the credit may be carried forward to succeeding taxable years.~~"

SECTION 2. This act is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003. Notwithstanding G.S. 105-163.41, no addition to tax may be made under that statute for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2003, and before January 1, 2004, with respect to an underpayment of corporation tax to the extent the underpayment was created or increased by this act.

HOUSE BILL 1291 (PCS): Subsidiary Dividend Tax Changes

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee: House Finance
Date: June 18, 2003
Version: Draft

Sponsor: Rep. McComas
Analysis by: Martha H. Harris
Staff Attorney

SUMMARY: Repeals the part of the 2002 legislation on dividend deductions that applies to bank holding companies, effective beginning with the 2003 tax year.

The proposed committee substitute for House Bill 1291 repeals part of legislation that was enacted in 2002 governing the corporate income tax treatment of deductible dividends. The 2002 law limited the amount of expenses that taxpayers must attribute to their deductible dividends, using caps and credits. The part of the 2002 law that this bill repeals is the part that applies to bank holding companies. As a result, bank holding companies will be governed by the 2001 law, which requires expense attribution without caps or credits. Other corporations will continue to be governed by the 2002 law.

This change becomes effective beginning with the 2003 tax year. The bill provides that no penalty for underpayment of estimated taxes would be imposed for 2003 tax years to the extent the underpayment was due to this bill.

Below is a summary of the 2001 and 2002 laws. The shaded portions of the 2002 law are the portions that this bill would repeal.

2001 Legislation: In 2001, the General Assembly enacted legislation conforming State law to the federal rules for the deduction of dividends received. This change eliminated the adjustments that had previously been required to reflect differences between the federal and State dividends deduction. Eliminating the adjustments also made the dividends subject to the general State law that expenses related to untaxed income cannot be deducted from taxable income. As a result, expenses related to deductible dividends must be netted from those dividends.[1] The law did not provide guidelines for calculating the amount of expenses that are related to deductible dividends.

2002 Legislation: In 2002, the General Assembly enacted legislation to provide limits on the additional tax liability that a corporation would experience as a result of the 2001 legislation. The act stated the intent of the General Assembly that it would be effective during 2001 and 2002 but would be studied and might be revised effective beginning with the 2003 tax year. The study did not take place, however.

[1] North Carolina has an exception to its general law when federal and State laws differ regarding the taxability of an income item. Prior to the 2001 changes, companies were able to use the exception to deduct expenses associated with deductible dividends earned from subsidiaries. The 2001 tax law change effectively eliminated the deduction of expenses associated with subsidiary dividends.

The 2002 legislation limited tax liability as follows:

- Placed the following caps on the amount of related expenses that must be netted from deductible dividends:
  - Most companies: 15% of dividends
  - Bank holding companies: 20% of dividends
  - Electric power holding companies: 15% of total interest expenses
- Limited the additional tax that a bank holding company and its related companies must pay as a result of the expense netting to a maximum of $11 million per corporate family.
- Provided a credit to bank holding company corporate families beginning in 2003. For bank corporate families that reach the $11 million maximum, the credit is $2 million. For other bank corporate families, the credit is equal to the amount of tax reduction that would result if bank holding companies were subject to a 15% cap rather than a 20% cap. These credits may be taken against income tax or franchise tax and are spread out over four tax years beginning in 2003.
- Provided a credit to electric power holding companies in an amount equal to one-half of the additional tax that each must pay as a result of the expense netting. The credit is taken in the following year. The credit may be taken against income tax or franchise tax. As an alternative, an electric power holding company may elect to allocate the credit among the members of its affiliated group. If the electric power company makes this election, then the credit is spread out over four tax years, beginning in 2003.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENTS AFFECTED: The corporate income tax is collected by the Department of Revenue. The enactment of the bill will not affect the department's budget requirements.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2003.

ISSUE HISTORY:

2001 Legislation. The 2001 General Assembly adopted legislation conforming state law to the federal rules for the deduction of dividends received. This would apply, for example, to dividends received by a holding company from its subsidiaries. The 2001 change eliminated the adjustments that had previously been required to reflect differences between the federal and State dividends deduction.

North Carolina has a general law that disallows the deduction of expenses incurred in earning income that is not taxable. However, there is an exception to the rule in cases where the federal and state laws differ regarding the taxability of an income item. Thus, prior to the 2001 changes, companies were able to use the exception to deduct expenses associated with income earned from subsidiaries.

The 2001 session adoption of federal rules governing the deductibility of dividends effectively eliminated the deduction of expenses associated with subsidiary dividends. This meant that related expenses would have to be netted against the dividends that are deducted.

After the 2001 act was adopted, the Department of Revenue developed rules that companies could use to determine which expenses were associated with the deductible income. Since that time there has been much discussion about whether the Department's rules accurately attribute expenses incurred.

2002 Legislation. During the last session a bill was adopted to clarify the expense attribution rules and limit the indirect impact of the 2001 change on expense deductibility. Under the 2002 legislation, the new rules will be in effect for the 2001 and 2002 tax years. For future years, the bill stated the intent that the issue be studied during the interim and might be revised for the 2003 tax year. However, the study did not take place.

The new expense attribution rules are as follows:

1. The amount of related expenses that must be netted from deductible dividends is capped as follows:
   - Most companies — 15% of dividends
   - Bank holding companies — 20% of dividends
   - Electric power holding companies — 15% of total interest expenses

2. The additional tax that a bank holding company and its related companies must pay as a result of the expense netting is subject to a maximum of $11 million per corporate family.

3. Bank holding company corporate families receive a tax credit beginning in 2003. For bank corporate families that reach the $11 million cap, the credit is $2 million. For other bank corporate families, the credit is equal to the amount of tax reduction that would result if bank holding companies were subject to a 15% cap rather than a 20% cap. These credits may be taken against income tax or franchise tax and are spread out over four tax years beginning in 2003.

Electric power holding companies receive a credit equal to one-half of the additional tax that each must pay as a result of the expense netting. The credit is taken in the following year. The credit may be taken against income tax or franchise tax. As an alternative, an electric power holding company may elect to allocate the credit among the members of its affiliated group. If this election is made, the credit is spread over four tax years, beginning in 2003.

BILL SUMMARY: Repeals the language in the 2002 legislation that limits the amount of additional tax liability for bank holding companies affected by the expense attribution change that resulted from the 2001 session legislation conforming State law to the federal rules for the deduction of dividends received.

METHODOLOGY: The subsidiary dividend legislation is very complex and requires a review of confidential tax return data and discussions with major taxpayers. For these reasons this analysis has been carried out by the research staff of the Department of Revenue during the last few years.

During the 2002 session analysis, the Department examined 2000 tax returns from a group of selected large corporations and a sample of several hundred smaller corporations. In addition, Department personnel have had conversations with affected parties. Finally, Fiscal Research was involved in numerous meetings on the issue with the Department of Revenue and the affected parties.

Shown below is a comparison of the General Fund revenue anticipated under the original 2001 bill, the 2002 re-estimate that was discussed in the process of adjusting the 2002-03 General Fund budget, and the 2002 legislation:

Additional General Fund Revenue ($Mil.)
	01-02	02-03	03-04	04-05
2001 Legislation	30.8	32.3	33.6	34.5
2002 Re-Estimate*	30.8	82.3	83.6	84.5
2002 Legislation	30.8	82.7	61.8	64.9
*The actual impact per calendar year could be $120 million or more but is heavily dependent of the compliance of taxpayers affected by the 2001 change. The amount shown is the figure that was discussed during the 2002-03 budget deliberations.

The enactment of the bill would take the subsidiary dividend issue back to the status prior to the 2002 legislation. According to 2002 session discussions with the Department of Revenue, the 2001 changes, coupled with the Department's rules implementing the changes, could lead to additional annual revenue from the 2001 change of up to $120 million. This amount would be almost $60 million higher than the current law estimate. The actual revenue gain from this legislation depends on the ability of the Department to collect the tax from large taxpayers who in the past have protested the Department's expense attribution rules implementing the 2001 legislation. The experience prior to the 2002 change indicated that many of these affected taxpayers were not remitting the tax due under the Department's rules.

SUMMARY: House Bill 1303 would exempt the following amusement from the 3% privilege tax on gross receipts: a youth athletic contest with an admission price that does not exceed $5.00 and that is sponsored by a person exempt from income tax.

The proposed committee substitute defines "youth athletic contest" as a contest in which each participating athlete is less than 19 years of age.

CURRENT LAW: Under the current revenue laws, certain amusements are exempt from the 3% privilege tax that is imposed on the gross receipts of the activity. Included among the exempt amusements are all elementary and secondary school athletic contests.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 1303 would also exempt from the privilege tax the gross receipts collected on an athletic contest when that contest meets the following conditions:

- The athletes participating in the contest are less than nineteen years of age.
- The admissions price does not exceed $5.00
- The sponsor of the contest is exempt from North Carolina income tax.

The act becomes effective July 1, 2003.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: NC Department of Revenue.

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 1, 2003.

BILL SUMMARY: The bill exempts from the 3% gross receipts tax on amusements the gross receipts from youth athletic contests that meet the following criteria: 1) the athletes participating are all less than 19 years old, 2) the admission price is $5.00 or less, and 3) the sponsor of the contest is exempt from North Carolina income tax.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: Currently state high school championships and the national high school track events are exempt pursuant to GS 105-40(5). The legislation does not affect these events. However, Fiscal Research and the Department of Revenue believe the following list of events would currently be taxable, and exempted under the legislation, if an admission fee in excess of 50 cents is charged (GS 105-37.1) unless they meet the exception in GS 105-40(6), which exempts the first $1,000 of gross receipts if the events are promoted and managed by a civic organization and the entire proceeds are used for civic and charitable purposes and not to defray the organization's expenses.

American Legion Baseball
PONY softball tournaments
Pop Warner football championships
Babe Ruth League championships
AAU events
Junior Olympics
Special Olympics
CASL special tournaments

The Department of Revenue indicates that in 2001-02 approximately $9.6 million was collected, in total, from the gross receipts tax on amusements. To date approximately $7.8 million has been collected in 2002-03, which excludes at least one month of ticket sales. The also indicate that in the most recent filing period approximately 450 different organization paid the gross receipts tax. However, the Department is unable to determine how many of those 450 organizations would indeed be exempt under the legislation, although the number is expected to be relatively small. In addition, the Department of Revenue is not certain that all the potentially impacted organizations are currently paying the tax owed. Therefore, no exact fiscal estimate is possible.

It should be noted if 1,000,000 tickets sold at the maximum rate were sold, the total revenue to the state would be $150,000 under current law. That same amount would be lost under the legislation.

House Committee on Finance

Minutes

June 24, 2003

The House Committee on Finance met on Tuesday, June 24, 2003 at 8:30 am in Room 544 of the Legislative Office Building. The following members were present: Chairpersons G. Allen, Howard, Luebke, McComas, and Wainwright; Vice-Chairs Alexander, Decker, Gibson, and Hill; Representatives Blackwood, Bordsen, Capps, Carney, Creech, Ellis, Glazier, Hackney, Holliman, Jones, Lewis, McCombs, McGee, Munford, Rayfield, Ross, Setzer, Starnes, Weiss, C. Wilson, and Womble. Also present were Sergeant-at-Arms Bob Fowler, Bill Freeman, Dusty Rhodes, and Walter Spell. Staff persons present included Cindy Avrette, Richard Bostic, Gerry Cohen, Linda Millsaps, Alexi Pavlichev, and Martha Walston. The Agenda and Visitor Registration Sheet are attached and incorporated into these minutes as attachments 1 and 2.

Chairman McComas called the meeting to order at 8:33 am and proceeded to recognize the five (5) pages present: (1) Justin Edelman of Cumberland County, sponsored by Representative Glazier; (2) Jake Hollifield of Haywood County, sponsored by Representative Rapp; (3) Robert Jansen of Gaston County, sponsored by Representative Clary; (4) Shannon Savage of Cleveland Country, sponsored by Representative Clary; and (5) Cameron Young of Lincoln County, sponsored by Representative Kiser.

As the first matter of business, Chairman McComas called upon Senator Kerr to explain SB 705 – UNC-NONAPPROPRIATED CAPITAL FUNDS (see attachment 3). The Senator explained that the bill allows for projects inside of the University System to be completed using funds that are donated (or through bonds, lease financing, etc.). These funds are not appropriated through the General Fund. Following this explanation, Chairman McComas recognized Representative Hill who moved for a favorable report. Hearing no further questions, the Chair then called the vote and the motion carried without objection.

The Chairman again recognized Senator Kerr to explain his next bill: SB 939 – EXTEND TRS SURCHARGE TO WIRELESS CONNECTIONS (see attachment 4). He explained that the bill would enact a surcharge on wireless phone lines that would provide further access to the statewide "telecommunications relay service" (TRS) used by those North Carolinians who are hearing and visually impaired. Deputy Secretary to the North Carolina Department of Health and Human Services, Lanier Cansler, was present to address the Committee. He was recognized by the Chair and explained that the charge enacted by this bill is needed because the number of people in the state requiring the use of the TRS service is increasing and, thus, so are the costs. Representative Ellis was then recognized and asked if since the current TRS surcharge on a phone line was only 11 cents but could be raised to 25 cents per line, then could that 11-cent fee also be lowered if the total fees collected were not being used. Following this, Chairman McComas ruled to temporarily displace the bill from the Committee's consideration.

SB 89 – LAKE LURE MARINE COMMISSION (see attachment 5), sponsored by Senator Dalton, was the next bill up for consideration by the Committee. Senator Dalton briefly explained that the bill authorized the Town of Lake Lure to create, by ordinance, the Lake Lure Marine Commission. Seeing questions from the members, Chairman McComas recognized Representative Carney who moved for a favorable report on SB 89. The Chair then called the motion to a vote and the motion carried without dissent.

Chairman McComas then replaced SB 939 – EXTEND TRS SURCHARGE TO WIRELESS CONNECTIONS (see attachment 4) before the Committee. Representative Ross was recognized and moved that the bill receive a favorable report (seconded by Alexander). Some discussion among the members then arose. Following this, the Chair called the motion for a favorable report and the motion carried by consent.

Senator Hartsell was present and was recognized by the Chair to explain the next bill before the Committee: SB 529 – WATER & SEWER AUTHORITY SETOFF (see attachment 6). The Senator explained that the bill would add Water and Sewer Authorities to the list of local governments allowed to submit debts to the Department of Revenue for collection under the Setoff Debt Collection Act. Chairman McComas then recognized Representative G. Allen who made a motion of favorable report. The motion carried by consent.

SB 497 – REVISE AND CONSOLIDATE MT. AIRY CHARTER (see attachment 7), sponsored by Senator Garwood, was then considered. As the bill had a Proposed Committee Substitute (PCS), Representative Alexander moved that the PCS be adopted for the purposes of discussion. The motion carried without objection. Senator Garwood was then recognized by Chairman McComas and explained that the bill had already been given a favorable report by the House Finance Subcommittee on Occupancy Taxes. Staff then provided a brief description of the bill's contents. Senator Garwood also noted that the proposed purpose for the increased occupancy tax was for the construction of additional public restrooms in the downtown area of Mt. Airy (a.k.a. Mayberry). Seeing no further questions, Chairman McComas recognized Representative Luebke who moved that the PCS for SB 497 receive a favorable report and that the original bill be reported unfavorably. The motion carried with no known objection.

Senator Berger was then recognized to explain SB 408 – EDEN ANNEXATION CONTRACTS (see attachment 8). The Senator explained that this bill was requested by the City of Eden to extend authority granted to it in 1993 to enter into contract in lieu of annexation. He noted that there were similar contracts in place with numerous other municipalities in the state and referred members to the Bill Analysis (see attachment 8) for further details. Representative Lewis was then recognized by the Chairman and moved for a favorable report on SB 408. Seeing no further discussion from the members, the Chair called the vote and the motion carried by consent.

Chairman McComas then recognized Representatives Stiller and Hill to explain HB 757 – OAK ISLAND/ST. JAMES ANNEXATIONS (see attachment 9). Representative Stiller explained that the bill simply allows the Town of Oak Island (in his district) and the Town of St. James (in Representative Hill's district) to obtain properties outside of their respective municipal boundaries that would be otherwise exempt. Representative Hill was then recognized and moved for a favorable report to the bill. As there were no comments or questions, the Chair called the vote and the motion carried without objection.

As the final matter of business before the Committee, Chairman McComas recognized Representative Tolson for the continued discussion of HB 806 – REBATE AND GRANT PROGRAM FOR AFVs (see attachment 10). Representative Luebke was recognized and moved the adoption of the most current PCS for the purposes of discussion. The motion carried without objection. Representative Tolson then reviewed the purpose of the bill, stating that it would allow the state to move forward in the arena of alternative fuels. Chairman McComas then recognized members of the public who desired to address the Committee. Ms. Anne Tazwell with the Triangle J Council on Governments' "Clean Cities Croup" spoke in support of the bill, noting that the use of alternative fuels would help to address the increasing air quality problems of the state. Mr. Tom Bean with North Carolina Environmental Defense also spoke in favor of the bill. The Chair then recognized Representative Hackney, who also voiced his support of the bill and moved for a favorable report as to the PCS for HB 806, unfavorable as to the original bill. Representative Starnes was then recognized and asked why the proposed rebate in the bill applied to new car purchases only. Representative Tolson explained that this provision was put in place as a starting point for an AFV program, and that if/when the program substantially grew, these rebate benefits could be extended to used cars as well. Chairman McComas then recognized Representative Wainwright who asked what the amount of the proposed AFV rebate would be. Representative Tolson explained that the rebate would be offered on a graduated scale: the more the AFV costs, the higher the rebate amount. Representative Wilson was recognized next to send forth and move the adoption of an amendment. She explained that her amendment would not allow rebates to be granted on certain AFV purchases, which would result in increased emissions of nitrous oxides or increased production of ozone. A great deal of discussion arose from this amendment and when the Chair called the issue to a vote, the amendment failed: 13 ayes to 14 nays. Representative Ellis was then recognized to send forth another amendment. He explained that the amendment acted to make the AFV fee and rebate voluntary and to raise that fee from $1.00 to $2.00. Saying that it would basically "kill the bill," Representative Tolson strongly opposed the amendment, as did Representative Hackney. Representative Rayfield was recognized next and inquired to Ms Tazwell as to the number of AFVs that had already been purchased in North Carolina. That information, however, was unavailable at the time. Representative Rayfield then further stated that if there were only a small number of AFVs in the state, everyone should not be forced to pay increased fees for only a few citizens benefiting from the rebates. He then offered his support to Representative Ellis' amendment.

As the Committee's time had then expired, Chairman McComas acted to displace HB 806 once again and immediately adjourned the meeting at 9:58 am.

Respectfully submitted,

Danny McComas

SENATE BILL 705:
UNC - Nonappropriated Capital Projects

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee: House Finance
Date: June 24, 2002
Version: 2nd Edition

Introduced by: Sen. Kerr
Summary by: Cindy Avrette
Staff Attorneys

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 705 authorizes the construction of numerous projects by The University of North Carolina. The projects will be financed through revenue bonds and special obligation bonds, not appropriations from the General Fund. It also authorizes the construction and financing of three capital projects at UNC-Chapel Hill through lease arrangements with nonprofit corporations.

CURRENT LAW: There are two types of self-liquidating bonds that may be issued by the Board of Governors of the University of North Carolina. Article 21 of Chapter 116 of the General Statutes authorizes the Board of Governors to issue revenue bonds for the types of projects enumerated in the article. The types of projects for which revenue bonds may be issued include educational buildings, dormitories, recreational facilities, dining facilities, student centers, health care buildings, parking decks, etc. The revenue bonds are payable from rentals, charges, fees, and other revenues generated by the facility. The bonds are not payable from tax revenues.

Article 3 of Chapter 116D of the General Statutes authorizes the Board of Governors to issue special obligation bonds payable with any sources of income or receipts of the Board of Governors or a constituent or affiliated institution, but not including tuition payments or appropriations from the General Fund from State revenues. The bond proceeds could be used for construction, improvement, and acquisition of any capital facilities located at UNC constituent and affiliated institutions. The bonds are not payable from tax revenues.

BILL ANALYSIS: Section 1 of the bill states the purpose of the act is to authorize the construction and financing of the capital improvements projects at various constituent institutions of The University of North Carolina. The projects authorized by the bill would not be financed with funds appropriated from the State's General Fund; but may be financed with gifts, grants, receipts, self-liquidating indebtedness, other funds available to the constituent institutions, or a combination of any of those financing methods.

Section 2 sets out the self-liquidating projects the Board of Governors plans to finance with revenue bonds. Although the UNC revenue bond act in Chapter 116 does not require the enactment of an appropriation bill, the customary practice for UNC system revenue bond issues has been legislation that lists the specific projects to be financed and their costs.

Section 3 sets out eight additional capital improvements projects and authorizes the financing of the costs of those projects with revenue and/or special obligation bonds. The eight projects set out in this section were previously authorized for construction in S.L. 2000-3 as part of the earlier general obligation bond program. This bill would allow the projects to also be financed with special obligation bond proceeds.

Section 4 authorizes the Director of the Budget, at the request of the Board of Governors, to authorize cost increases or decreases, or changes in the method of financing for the projects authorized by the bill. The Director of the Budget may consult with the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations, but consultation is not required.

The UNC special obligation bond act requires that the specific projects and their costs be set forth in legislation approved by the General Assembly and that the maximum amount of special obligation bonds to be issued to finance the specific projects listed be stated. Sections 2 and 3 set forth the specific projects and their costs. Section 5 expressly states that the maximum principal amount of special obligation bonds to be issued shall not exceed the amounts listed in Sections 2 and 3 plus $15 million for related additional costs for which bond proceeds are routinely used, such as issuance expenses, funding of reserve funds, and capitalized interest.

Section 6 authorizes the financing of three projects at UNC-Chapel Hill through lease arrangements with nonprofit corporations. Over the years, the University system has used lease arrangements with nonprofit corporations to construct facilities necessary to academic life, student support services, physical education and recreation, athletics, and other programs when the facilities are financed by major gifts. The process followed by the State is as follows:

- The State, following guidelines established by the Department of Administration and with Council of State approval, leases land to the nonprofit corporation for the period of time required for the construction of the facility.
- The nonprofit corporation, after review and approval of construction plans by the State Construction Office, builds the facility. All the projects are subject to the Department of Insurance review to ensure that they meet State Building Code requirements.
- When construction is completed and the facility has been deemed acceptable to the State, the lease expires and the land returns to the State's control, along with the newly constructed facility.

The difference between the three projects named in Section 6 of the bill and the other projects constructed in this manner is that the bill authorizes the University to issue long-term debt as a means of financing the indebtedness. The three projects named in this section are the Rizzo Center, the Ackland Art Museum, and Student Family Housing.

(a) Finding. – The General Assembly finds and declares that it is in the public interest to provide access to public telecommunications services for hearing impaired or speech impaired persons, including those who also have vision impairment, and that a statewide telecommunications relay service for telephone service should be established.

(a1) Definitions. – For purposes of this section:

(1) 'CMRS' is as defined in G.S. 62A-21.

(2) 'CMRS connection' is as defined in G.S. 62A-21.

(3) 'CMRS provider' is as defined in G.S. 62A-21.

~~(1)~~(4) "Exchange access facility" means the access from a particular telephone subscriber's premises to the telephone system of a local exchange telephone company, and includes local exchange company-provided access lines, private branch exchange trunks, and centrex network access registers, all as defined by tariffs of telephone companies as approved by the Commission.

~~(2)~~(5) "Local service provider" means a local exchange company, competing local provider, or telephone membership corporation.

(b) Authority to Require Surcharge. – The Commission shall require local service providers to impose a monthly surcharge on all residential and business local exchange access facilities to fund a statewide telecommunications relay service by which hearing impaired or speech impaired persons, including those who also have vision impairment, may communicate with others by telephone. This surcharge, however, may not be imposed on participants in the Subscriber Line Charge Waiver Program or the Link-up Carolina Program established by the Commission. This surcharge, and long distance revenues collected under subsection (f) of this section, are not includable in gross receipts subject to the franchise tax levied under G.S. 105-120 or the sales tax levied under G.S. 105-164.4.

(c) Specification of Surcharge. – The Department of Health and Human Services shall initiate a telecommunications relay service by filing a petition with the Commission requesting the service and detailing initial projected required funding. The Commission shall, after giving notice and an opportunity to be heard to other interested parties, set the initial monthly surcharge based upon the amount of funding necessary to implement and operate the service, including a reasonable margin for a reserve. The surcharge shall be identified on customer bills as a special surcharge for provision of a telecommunications relay service for hearing impaired and speech impaired persons. The Commission may, upon petition of any interested party, and after giving notice and an opportunity to be heard to other interested parties, revise the surcharge from time to time if the funding requirements change. In no event shall the surcharge exceed twenty-five cents (25¢) per month for each exchange access facility.

(d) Funds to Be Deposited in Special Account. – The local service providers shall collect the surcharge from their customers and deposit the moneys collected with the State Treasurer, who shall maintain the funds in an interest-bearing, nonreverting account. After consulting with the State Treasurer, the Commission shall direct how and when the local service providers shall deposit these moneys. Revenues from this fund shall be available only to the Department of Health and Human Services to administer the statewide telecommunications relay service program, including its establishment, operation, and promotion. The Commission may allow the Department of Health and Human Services to use up to four cents (4¢) per access line per month of the surcharge for the purpose of providing telecommunications devices for hearing impaired or speech impaired persons, including those who also have vision impairment, through a distribution program. The Commission shall prepare such guidelines for the distribution program as it deems appropriate and in the public interest. Both the Commission and the Public Staff may audit all aspects of the telecommunications relay service program, including the distribution programs, as ~~it does~~ they do with any public utility subject to the provisions of this Chapter. Equipment paid for with surcharge revenues, as allowed by the Commission, may be distributed only by the Department of Health and Human Services.

(e) Administration of Service. – The Department of Health and Human Services shall administer the statewide telecommunications relay service program, including its establishment, operation, and promotion. The Department may contract out the provision of this service for four-year periods to one or more service providers, using the provisions of G.S. 143-129.

(f) Charge to Users. – The users of the telecommunications relay service shall be charged their approved long distance and local rates for telephone services (including the surcharge required by this section), but no additional charges may be imposed for the use of the relay service. The local service providers shall collect revenues from the users of the relay service for long distance services provided through the relay service. These revenues shall be deposited in the special fund established in subsection (d) of this section in a manner determined by the Commission after consulting with the State Treasurer. Local service providers shall be compensated for collection, inquiry, and other administrative services provided by said companies, subject to the approval of the Commission.

(g) Reporting Requirement. – The Commission shall, after consulting with the Department of Health and Human Services, develop a format and filing schedule for a comprehensive financial and operational report on the telecommunications relay service program. The Department of Health and Human Services shall thereafter prepare and file these reports as required by the Commission with the Commission and the Public Staff. The Department shall also be required to report to the Revenue Laws Study Committee.

(h) Power to Regulate. – The Commission shall have the same power to regulate the operation of the telecommunications relay service program as it has to regulate any public utility subject to the provisions of this Chapter.

(i) Wireless Surcharge. – A CMRS provider, as part of its monthly billing process, must collect the same surcharge imposed on each exchange access facility under this section for each CMRS connection. A CMRS provider may deduct a one percent (1%) administrative fee from the total amount of surcharge collected. A CMRS provider shall remit the surcharge collected, less the administrative fee, to the Wireless 911 Board in the same manner and with the same frequency as the local service providers remit the surcharge to the State Treasurer. The Wireless 911 Board shall remit the funds collected from the surcharge to the special account created under subsection (d) of this section."

SECTION 2. This act becomes effective January 1, 2004, and applies to bills issued on or after that date.

SENATE BILL 939:
Extend TRS Surcharge to Wireless Connections

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	House Finance	Introduced by:	Senator Kerr
Date:	June 24, 2003	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith
Version:	2nd Edition		Cindy Avrette
			Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 939 would extend to wireless phone customers the imposition of the surcharge for the statewide telecommunications relay service (TRS) for the hearing and speech-impaired persons. Landline customers currently pay a surcharge of 11¢ per line for the TRS. The surcharge on wireless customers would be collected by the wireless providers and remitted to the Wireless 911 Board. The bill would become effective January 1, 2004, and apply to bills dated on or after that date.

CURRENT LAW: In 1989, the General Assembly of North Carolina established a statewide Telecommunications Relay System (TRS) to provide access to telecommunications services for deaf, hard of hearing, deaf-blind, and speech impaired individuals. The system is provided in compliance with 47 USC 225, which requires the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) to "ensure that interstate and intrastate telecommunications relay services are available to the extent possible and in the most efficient manner to hearing-impaired and speech-impaired individuals." The federal law requires all common carriers providing telephone service to comply with FCC regulations. A common carrier is considered in compliance if it complies with the State's certified program. A "State certified program" is one which makes available telecommunications relay services to hearing and speech impaired individuals in a manner that meets or exceeds FCC requirements. TRS is North Carolina's certified program.

Under the TRS program, the Utilities Commission is authorized to require local exchange companies and telephone membership corporations to impose a monthly surcharge on all residential and business local exchange access facilities ("land lines") to fund the program. The Commission sets the monthly surcharge based upon the amount of funding necessary to implement and operate the system, including a reasonable margin for a reserve. Although the Commission regulates the program, the Department of Health and Human Services, through the Division of Services for the Deaf and the Hard of Hearing, administers, operates, and promotes the program. The Division must give a comprehensive financial and operational report on the TRS program to both the Commission and the Revenue Laws Study Committee. Whenever the Division believes that its review of the funding requirements of the program exceeds the amount of revenue generated by the monthly surcharge, it may petition the Commission to change the amount of the monthly surcharge. The surcharge, which is currently 11¢, may not exceed 25¢ per access line per month.

In 1999, the NCGA amended G.S. 62-157 to allow DHHS to use up to four (4) cents per access line per month in the surcharge for distribution of telecommunications equipment to eligible North Carolinians. Wireless customers do not currently pay the surcharge, but they can access TRS services with their cell phones.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 939 extends the current TRS surcharge imposed on landline phones to wireless phones.[1] The bill provides that a CMRS[2] provider must, as part of its monthly billing process, collect the same surcharge imposed on each landline phone from each CMRS connection. A CMRS connection means each mobile handset telephone number assigned to a CMRS customer with a place of primary use in North Carolina. The CMRS provider may deduct a 1% administrative fee from the surcharge collected.[3] The remainder must be remitted to the Wireless 911 Board in the same manner and on the same schedule as the funds are handled by the local service providers. The Board must remit the surcharge revenues collected to the State Treasurer to be credited to the interest-bearing, nonreverting account established to fund the TRS program.

BACKGROUND: Deaf and Hard of Hearing people comprise 8.6% of North Carolina's population. The Department of Health and Human Services expects that figure to increase due to a projected increase in the elderly population. In order for these individuals to use telephone services, they use a relay service which involves a box-like device called TTY or TDD to communicate with a Hearing person with the assistance of a Relay operator.

The program for overseeing the relay service, video relay service, and distribution of telecommunications equipment is called Telecommunication Access of North Carolina (TANC). The program overseeing the distribution of equipment is called the Telecommunications Equipment Distribution Program (TEDP). TEDP was implemented in July, 2000. Up to four (4) cents per access line per month in the surcharge is used to purchase and distribute equipment to eligible North Carolinians. At this time, less than one (1) percent of all eligible North Carolinians have received equipment.

The surcharge supports the following:

1. $4.5 million contract with Sprint to operate relay services in North Carolina (contract to be re-bid in 2004)
2. Four (4) full-time positions (TANC Administrator, TEDP Administrator, Office Assistant, TEDP Program Assistant)
3. Miscellaneous expenses (sign language interpreters, outreach activities and basic operations), and TEDP vendor contracts ($200,000 per annum)

Currently, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Louisiana, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, Oregon, Texas and Vermont collect revenue from both land line and wireless service providers to provide relay and equipment services similar to those provided in North Carolina. Some of these states have been collecting from both types of phone customers since the beginning of their relay programs. The general trend in other states has been a decrease in the number of land lines and a corresponding increase in the number of wireless lines. Due to this trend, several states have enacted legislation mandating the inclusion of wireless service providers as a revenue source in order to maintain operation of telecommunications relay and equipment distribution services.

[1] There are approximately 3.5 million wireless connections and approximately 5 million landline phones.

[2] Commercial mobile radio service. The term is defined in federal law and includes service provided by any wireless two-way voice communication device. The same definition is used for the imposition of the 911 surcharge.

[3] The current law allows the local service providers to be compensated for their expenses of collecting and remitting the surcharge. The Utilities Commission sets the rate of compensation for the local service providers. It is my understanding that the current administrative fee allowed to local service providers is one cent per access line per month.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Department of Health and Human Services.

EFFECTIVE DATE: January 1, 2004.

BILL SUMMARY: The bill extends the telecommunications relay service (TRS) charge currently levied on landlines to wireless communication devises.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

REVENUES: Currently wired telephone customers pay a monthly surcharge on their telephone bill to fund a statewide telecommunications relay service (TRS) by which hearing-impaired persons, including those who also have vision impairment, may communicate with others by telephone. The statute caps this charge at 25 cents per month, although they are currently charging a rate of 11 cents per month.

According to the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS), the 11-cent charge on landlines generated $4,444,243.86 in 2001-02. During that same period, the program had cash disbursements of $4,662,235.94, drawing down their fund balance to $551,912.01.

Officials from the NC Wireless Board indicate a 2003-04 estimated number of wireless devises that would be subject to the surcharge at 3.5 million. Levying an 11cent per unit charge per month on these units, would yield approximately $4.62 million in new revenues from wireless customers. However, because the charge is not effective until January 1, 2004, actual 2003-04 revenues will be approximately $1.925 million. Using the 3% growth rate offered by staff of the NC Wireless Board suggests the following revenue stream:

Fiscal Year	Charge	Net to program after provider administrative fee
2003-04	1,925,000	1,905,750
2004-05	4,758,600	4,711,014
2005-06	4,901,358	4,852,344
2006-07	5,048,399	4,997,915
2007-08	5,199,851	5,147,852

As the estimate suggests, the wireless carriers can retain a 1% administrative fee. The estimate also assumes that the fee will remain at 11 cents per month over the course of five years, although the legislation allows a review of the rate after January 1, 2005.

EXPENDITURES: There are two classes of expenditures related to this bill. First is the cost of collecting the surcharge on wireless customers. According to both DHHS and the E-911 Wireless Board, it is their intention to have the surcharge collected by the state's 911 Wireless Board in conjunction with their current surcharge collection efforts. Representatives of the Wireless Board indicate that the Board will be able to collect the TRS surcharge at no additional cost, so there is no fiscal cost associated with the collection of the wireless TRS surcharge.

The second set of expenditure issues relates to how DHHS plans to use the revenues from the extended surcharge. The Department believes they will have a number of costs to consider. First, the primary TRS piece is provided under a multiyear contract with one of the major telecommunications companies at a cost of $4.5 million. That contract will expire in 2004 and will require renegotiation. As a result, there is a potential the cost of this portion of the program could increase. In addition, the Department plans to expand the service to a greater number of individuals who are eligible for the program, but are not yet covered due to cost constraints. The Department, in response to comments from both the state Emergency Management program and the Federal Emergency Management Administration (FEMA), plans to develop an emergency warning program for the deaf and hard of hearing. (Such a program does not currently exist). The Department believes there is a possibility that the federal government may no longer cover the cost of Internet based telecommunication equipment for the deaf and hard of hearing. It is their desire that if this federal funding were terminated the state would be able to help provide these services. Finally, the Department would like to be able to maintain a fund balance that is in line with the requirements of G.S. 62-157.

No regulations adopted under the provisions of this section may be adopted by the Commission except after public hearing, with publication of notice of the hearing in a newspaper of general circulation in Rutherford County at least 10 days before the hearing. In lieu of or in addition to passing regulations supplementary to State law and regulations concerning the operation of vessels on Lake Lure, the Commission may, after public notice, request that the Wildlife Resources Commission pass local regulations on this subject in accordance with the procedure established by appropriate State law.

(b) Violation of any regulation of the Commission commanding or prohibiting an act shall be a Class 3 misdemeanor.

(c) The regulations promulgated under this section take effect upon passage or upon such dates as may be stipulated in the regulations except that no regulation may be enforced unless adequate notice of the regulation has been posted in or on Lake Lure or its shoreline area. Ordinances providing regulations for specific areas shall clearly establish the boundaries of the affected area by including a map of the regulated area, with the boundaries clearly drawn, by setting out the boundaries in a written description, or by a combination of these techniques. Adequate notice as to a regulation affecting only a particular location shall be given in the following manner. When an ordinance providing regulations for a specific area is proposed, owners of the parcel of land involved as shown on the county tax listing, and the owners of land within 500 feet of the proposed area to be regulated, as shown on the county tax listing, shall be mailed a notice of the proposed classification by first-class mail at the last addresses listed for such owners on the county tax abstracts. This mailing requirement does not apply in regulations affecting the entire lake. Notice shall also be given by a sign, uniform waterway marker, posted notice, or other effective method of communicating the essential provisions of the regulation in the immediate vicinity of the location in question. Where a regulation applies generally as to the waters of Lake Lure or its shoreline area, or both, there must be a posting of notices, signs, or markers communicating the essential provisions in at least three different places throughout the area, and it shall be printed in a newspaper of general circulation in Rutherford County.

(d) A copy of each regulation promulgated under this section must be filed by the Commission with the following persons:

(1) The Secretary of State;

(2) The clerk of superior court of Rutherford County;

(3) The Executive Director of the Wildlife Resources Commission; and

(4) The federal Energy Regulatory Commission licensee for Lake Lure, if other than the Town of Lake Lure.

(e) Any official designated in subsection (d) of this section may issue certified copies of regulations filed with the official under the seal of the official's office. Such certified copies may be received in evidence in any proceeding.

(f) Publication and filing of regulations promulgated under this section as required above are for informational purposes and are a prerequisite to their validity if they in fact have been duly promulgated, the public has been notified as to the substance of the regulations, a copy of the text of all regulations is in fact available to any person who may be affected, and no party to any proceeding has been prejudiced by any defect that may exist with respect to publication and filing. Rules and regulations promulgated by the Commission under the provisions of other sections of this Article relating to internal governance of the Commission need not be filed or published. Where posting of any sign, notice, or marker, or the making of other communication is essential to the validity of a regulation duly promulgated, it is presumed in any proceeding that prior notice was given and maintained, and the burden lies upon the party asserting to the contrary to prove lack of adequate notice of any regulation.

"§ 77-88. Enforcement.

(a) Where a municipal ordinance so provides, all law enforcement officers, or those officers as may be designated in the municipal ordinance, with territorial jurisdiction as to any part of the waters of Lake Lure or its shoreline area within the limitations of their subject matter jurisdiction, have the authority of peace officers in enforcing the laws over all of the waters of Lake Lure and its shoreline area. A certificate of training issued by the North Carolina Criminal Justice Education and Training Standards Commission or the North Carolina Sheriffs' Education and Training Standards Commission will suffice for certification for the purposes of this Article.

(b) Where a law enforcement officer with jurisdiction over any part of the waters of Lake Lure or its shoreline area is performing duties relating to the enforcement of the laws on the waters of Lake Lure or in its shoreline area, the officer shall have such extraterritorial jurisdiction as may be necessary to perform the officer's duties. These duties include investigations of crimes an officer reasonably believes have been, or are about to be, committed within the area in question. This includes traversing by reasonable routes from one portion of this area to another although across territory not within the boundaries of the waters of Lake Lure and its shoreline area; conducting prisoners in custody to a court or to detention facilities as may be authorized by law, although this may involve going outside the area in question; execution of process connected with any criminal offense alleged to have been committed within the boundaries in question, except that this process may not be executed by virtue of this provision beyond the boundaries of Rutherford County. This also includes continuing pursuit of and arresting any violator or suspected violator as to which grounds for arrest arose within the area in question.

(d) Where law enforcement officers are given additional territorial jurisdiction under the provisions of this section, this shall be considered an extension of the duties of the office held, and no officer shall take any additional oath or title of office."

SECTION 2. This act is effective when it becomes law.

SENATE BILL 89:
Lake Lure Marine Commission.

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	House Finance	Introduced by:	Sen. Dalton
Date:	June 24, 2003	Summary by:	H. Alan Pell
Version:	3rd Edition		Staff Attorney

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 89 would create a new Article 7 to Chapter 77 of the General Statutes. The act would allow the Board of Commissioners of the Town of Lake Lure to create, by ordinance, the Lake Lure Marine Commission. The bill specifies the organization, powers, and enforcement authority of the Commission. The bill is in Finance because it authorizes the Board of Commissioner to levy taxes for the purpose of appropriating funds to the Commission.

BILL ANALYSIS: The bill creates a statutory scheme for the creation of a Lake Lure Marine Commission:

G.S. 77-80: Definitions. The "Lake Lure Reservoir" is defined, as well as the "shoreline area".

G.S. 77-81: Allows for the creation of the Commission after public hearing.

SENATE BILL 529:
Water & Sewer Authority Setoff

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	House Finance	Introduced by:	Sen. Hartsell
Date:	June 24, 2003	Summary by:	Cindy Avrette
Version:	1st Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 529 would add Water and Sewer Authorities to the list of local governments allowed to submit debts to the Department of Revenue for collection under the Setoff Debt Collection Act. It would become effective January 1, 2004.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 529 adds water and sewer authorities to the Setoff Debt Collection Act[1], under which the Department of Revenue diverts part or all of an individual's income tax refund to pay a debt the individual owes to a State or local agency. Thus, the debt the individual owes the agency is set off against the individual's income tax refund. Before January 1, 2001, the setoff program was open only to State agencies. Now, counties and municipalities participate through a clearinghouse[2] that submits debts on their behalf to the Department of Revenue. Because there are so many local agencies, funneling their claims through a clearinghouse avoids an undue administrative burden on the Department of Revenue.

This bill would allow water and sewer authorities to participate in the same manner as counties and cities. Like counties and cities, a water and sewer authority would be authorized to submit its debts for collection by setoff only after providing the debtor with notice, an opportunity to be heard before the authority, and an appeal process pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act.

There are less than a dozen water and sewer authorities in the State at this time. A water and sewer authority may discontinue services to a customer whose account is delinquent for 30 days or more. However, this remedy is not sufficient when the customer moves out of the authority's service district or when the amount due is large enough that discontinuing the service would not result in the payment of the amount due.

BACKGROUND: There are several different mechanisms a county and city can use to address water and sewer needs. One such mechanism is the creation of a water and sewer authority. One or more counties, cities, sanitary districts, and other political subdivisions[3] may create a water and sewer authority by adopting resolutions stating their intent to do so. Each resolution must be adopted after notice is published and a public hearing is held on the issue. A political subdivision can withdraw from an authority at any time before obligations of the authority have been created. A water and sewer authority may issue revenue bonds; enter into installment finance contracts; impose rates, fees, and charges; and levy special assessments. Water and sewer authorities may also apply for grants from the Clean Water Revolving Loan and Grant Fund.

[1] The Setoff Debt Collection Act applies only to a debt that is at least $50 and to a refund that is at least $50. Debts collected through the Setoff Debt Collection Act are subject to both a State collection assistance fee and a local collection assistance fee of $15. The amount of the State collection assistance fee is based on the Department's actual cost of collecting debts under the Act during the preceding year. The current amount of that fee is $4.32.

[2] The clearinghouse was established pursuant to an interlocal agreement adopted under Article 20 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes.

[3] In certain circumstances, a nonprofit water company may also be a part of a water and sewer authority.

The sale, exchange, or other transfer may be made pursuant to the provisions of this Charter, Article 12 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes, or any other applicable provision of law, and the consideration received by the City, if any, for the sale, exchange, or transfer may reflect the restricted use of the property resulting from the covenants, conditions and restrictions. The City may invite bids or written proposals, including detailed development plans and site plans, for the purchase of any property or property interest, whether by sale, exchange, or other transfer, pursuant to such specifications as may be approved by the City. (a) Interests in real property by private negotiation or sale with respect to parcels having a fair market value of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or less.

(b) Water or sewer easements, or similar interests in real property, as part of any exchange for other water and sewer easements or similar interests in property.

(c) Water or sewer easements, or similar interests in real property by private negotiation and sale, when the easement or similar interest in real property is no longer needed by the City.

"Section 8.5. Disposition of Personal Property. The City may sell any and all surplus personal property belonging to the City at private sale.

"Section 8.6. Lease or Rental of Property. Notwithstanding G.S. 160A-272, the Board may, in its discretion, lease City-owned property for such terms and upon such conditions as the Board may determine, including terms of more than 10 years without the necessity of following any procedures other than those required by G.S. 160A-272 for leases of 10 years or less.

"Section 8.7. Documents of Conveyance. Whenever a disposition of an interest in real property is authorized by the City pursuant to this Charter or otherwise, the instrument conveying such interest may be executed by the Mayor or the Mayor's designee and attested by the City Clerk or City Manager, with the official seal of the City affixed thereto. With respect to the sale of real property the City may execute deeds in the usual form and include therein full covenants of warranty.

(h) To assist in the financing of its share of the urban development project, the City may apply for, accept, and expend funds from the federal or state government or from any other lawful source.

(i) The authority granted by this section is in addition to and not in derogation of any other authority granted to the City by general law. The City may exercise any authority granted to it by any other section of this Charter or by local act or general law in furtherance of an urban development project.

SENATE BILL 497:
Revise & Consolidate Mt. Airy Charter

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	House Finance	Introduced by:	Senator Garwood
Date:	June 24, 2003	Summary by:	Trina Griffin
Version:	PCS for 2nd Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 497 revises and consolidates the Charter of the City of Mt. Airy and annexes certain described "donut hole" property into the City of Mount Airy. The bill also modifies the Mount Airy and Blowing Rock occupancy tax provisions. The occupancy tax provisions were given a favorable report by the Occupancy Tax Subcommittee.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Sections 1-10. Revise Mount Airy Charter. These sections revise and consolidate the Mount Airy Charter.

Section 11. "Donut" Annexation. This section annexes three unincorporated areas into the city, which were not included in prior annexations.

Section 12. Modify Mount Airy Occupancy Tax.

CURRENT LAW: In 1997, the General Assembly authorized the city of Mount Airy to levy an occupancy tax of up to 3%. The city is required to remit the net proceeds on a quarterly basis to the Mount Airy Tourism Development Authority. The Authority must spend the proceeds to promote travel and tourism in the Mount Airy area. The city of Mount Airy is located in Surry County, which does not have the authority to levy an occupancy tax.

BILL ANALYSIS: Section 13 does the following:

- Increases the city's maximum occupancy tax rate from 3% to 6%.
- Modifies the definitions of "net proceeds" and "promote travel and tourism", and adds the definition of "tourism-related expenditures" to conform to the uniform definitions under the occupancy tax guidelines followed by the House Finance Committee.

Currently, the City plans to use the additional proceeds from the occupancy tax to construct and maintain public restrooms in the downtown area.

Section 13. Modify Blowing Rock Occupancy Tax.

CURRENT LAW: In 1987, the General Assembly authorized the town of Blowing Rock to levy a 3% room occupancy tax. The legislation requires the town council to conduct a hearing at least once a year on the proposed use of the net proceeds of the tax. After the hearing, the town council may remit 20% of the net proceeds to the Blowing Rock Chamber of Commerce, which must use the funds to promote tourism within the town. The town may use the remainder of the proceeds to enhance the ability of the town to attract tourism. However, the town may not use any of the proceeds for general fund operating expenses that are not tourist-related. Currently, the town does not have a Tourism Development Authority.

BILL ANALYSIS: Section 13 of the bill authorizes the town of Blowing Rock to increase its room occupancy tax from 3% to 6%. It also conforms Blowing Rock's current legislation to both the uniform provisions concerning the levy, administration, collection, and repeal of the tax found in G.S. 160A-215 and the uniform provisions concerning the use and distribution of the proceeds.

SENATE BILL 408:
Eden Annexation Contracts

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	House Finance	Introduced by:	Sen. Berger
Date:	June 23, 2003	Summary by:	Cindy Avrette
Version:	2nd Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 408 extends the authority given by the General Assembly to the City of Eden in 1993 to enter into a contract with Parkdale, Inc., a textile manufacturer known as Unifi, Inc. in 1993, to accept annual payments in lieu of taxes and, as part of the contract, to agree not to annex the property described in the contract prior to December 31, 2013. The authority granted in 1993 expires on December 30, 2003. The bill is effective when it becomes law.

CURRENT LAW: Chapter 418 of the 1993 Session Laws authorized the City of Eden to accept payments in lieu of taxes on certain property and to agree not to annex the property before December 30, 2003. This legislation was the first legislation enacted by the General Assembly authorizing a municipality to negotiate a contract to provide services to an area and to receive payments from the beneficiary of those services in lieu of not annexing the area for a certain amount of time. The 1993 legislation for the City of Eden included several tracts of land for Duke Power, Fieldcrest Cannon, Inc., Miller Brewing Company, and Unifi, Inc. Since 1993, the General Assembly has granted similar authority to City of Washington (1993), the Town of Stanley (1993), the City of Belmont (1997), the City of Hendersonville and the Town of Laurel Park (1997), the Town of Huntersville (1997), the City of Mount Holly (2000), the Town of Weldon (2001), and additional authority to the City of Eden (2002).

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 408 extends for an additional 10 years the authority originally given to the City of Eden in 1993 as it applies to the property owned by Unifi, Inc., now known as Parkdale, Inc. Like the 1993 legislation, this legislation provides that the payments in lieu of taxes must be annually computed based upon the tax valuations of the properties subject to the contracts as determined by the Rockingham County Tax Department. The formula for making the computation must be stated in the contract.

The General Assembly enacted similar legislation for the City of Eden last session in S. L. 2002-74 as the authorization applied to the property owned by Duke Power and Miller Brewing Company. Neither this bill nor S.L. 2002-74 includes the property described in the 1993 legislation owned by Fieldcrest Cannon.

(4) If the area proposed for annexation, or any portion thereof, is a subdivision as defined in G.S. 160A-376, all of the subdivision must be included.

(5) The area within the proposed satellite corporate limits, when added to the area within all other satellite corporate limits, may not exceed ten percent (10%) of the area within the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.

SECTION 4. This act is effective when it becomes law.

HOUSE BILL 757:
Oak Island/St. James Annexations

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	House Finance	Sponsor:	Rep Stiller and Hill
Date:	June 22, 2003	Analysis by:	Martha Walston
Version:	1st Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House bill 757 is a local bill that does three things:

- It exempts the Town of Oak Island from meeting the requirements for annexation of noncontiguous areas when annexing municipal property.
- It exempts the Town of Oak Island and the Town of St. James from the 10% cap on satellite annexations.
- It exempts the Town of St. James from the three- mile limit on satellite annexations.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 160A-58.1 governs the voluntary annexation by a municipality of noncontiguous property. All property owners in the satellite area may petition a city for voluntary annexation of the noncontiguous property if the property meets the following five standards:

1. The nearest point on the proposed satellite corporate limits must be not more than three miles from the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.
2. No point on the proposed satellite corporate limits may be closer to the primary corporate limits of another city than to the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.
3. The area must be so situated that the annexing city will be able to provide the same services within the proposed satellite corporate limits that it provides within its primary corporate limits.
4. If the area proposed for annexation, or any portion thereof, is a subdivision as defined in G.S. 160A-376, all of the subdivision must be included.
5. The area within the proposed satellite corporate limits, when added to the area within all other satellite corporate limits, may not exceed 10% of the area within the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 757 would exempt the Town of Oak Island and St. James from the requirement in G.S. 160A-58.1(b)(5): that the area within the proposed satellite annexation, when added to the area within all other satellite corporate limits, may not exceed 10% of the area within the primary corporate limits of the annexing Town.

House Bill 757 would also exempt the Town of St. James from the requirement in G.S. 160A-58.1(b)(1): that the nearest point on the proposed satellite corporate limits must not be more than three miles from the primary corporate limits of the annexing Town.

Finally, House Bill 757 would exempt the Town of Oak Island from the statutory requirements for voluntary annexation of satellite areas when the Town is annexing municipal property under G.S. 160A-58.7. This statute provides:

> The city council may initiate annexation of property not contiguous to the primary corporate limits and owned by the city by adopting a resolution stating its intent to annex the property, in lieu of filing a petition. The property must satisfy the requirements of G.S. 160A-58.1. The resolution shall contain an adequate description of the property and fix a date for a public hearing on the question of annexation. Notice of the public hearing shall be published once at least 10 days before the date of the hearing. At the hearing, any resident of the city may appear and be heard on the question of the desirability of the annexation. If the council finds that annexation is in the public interest, it may adopt an ordinance annexing the property. The ordinance may be made effective immediately or on any specified date within six months from the date of passage.

Upon final adoption of the rules, the Division of Motor Vehicles shall begin collecting the additional fees mandated by this act. This act shall expire on June 30, 2014.

HOUSE BILL 806:
Rebate and Grant Program for AFVs.

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	House Finance	Introduced by:	Rep. Tolson
Date:	June 23, 2003	Summary by:	Trina Griffin and Martha Walston
Version:	PCS for 1st Edition H806-CSSVf-26		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: The Proposed Committee Substitute for House Bill 806 creates the Alternative Fuel and Vehicle Rebate and Infrastructure Grant Program, funded by a $1.00 increase in vehicle registration fees for the first 3 years of the program, and by an additional $1.00 increase for the remaining 7 years of the program. The program would provide rebates to first-time purchasers of AFVs, rebates for State taxes paid on the incremental costs of alternative motor fuels, and grants for the construction of AFV infrastructure projects.

The following amendments to the Proposed Committee Substitute were adopted in House Finance on June 17:

- A $1 fee will be paid to DMV upon initial registration or renewal of passenger vehicles and self-propelled property-hauling vehicles. This fee is in addition to the annual registration fees, and will be used to fund the alternative Fuel and Vehicle Rebate and Infrastructure Program. (The PCS provides that for the first 3 years of the Program, the additional fee would be $1; and for the remaining 7 years of the Program, the additional fee would be $2.)
- The rules of the Program shall provide that State and local government entities are not eligible for rebates or grants under the Program.
- The act shall expire on January 1, 2007. (The proposed committee substitute has a sunset of January 1, 2014.)

CURRENT LAW: An alternative fuel vehicle is a vehicle that operates using a source other than gasoline or diesel fuel, such as electricity, natural gas, hydrogen, ethanol, methanol, or fuels derived from biological materials. There are currently no benefits provided by the State, such as tax credits or rebates, for the purchase or use of alternative fuel vehicles or for the use of alternative fuels. North Carolina does offer a corporate tax credit for building an alternative fuel generating facility, such as an ethanol or biodiesel plant.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Purpose of Program

House Bill 806 creates the "Alternative Fuel and Vehicle Rebate and Infrastructure Grant Program" (Program). The State Energy Office, which is a division of the Department of Administration, would administer the Alternative Fuel Rebate and Infrastructure Grant Program. The bill authorizes the State Energy Office to issues rules that would govern the administration of the program. Among other things, the rules would establish the procedures for providing:

- Partial rebates to first owners for incremental cost differences for eligible alternative fueled and hybrid vehicles.
- Limited rebates for State taxes paid on the incremental costs of alternative motor fuels.

- Grants for alternative motor fuel infrastructure projects.

Funding of Program

For the first 3 years of the program, the grants and rebates would be funded from a $1.00 increase in the vehicle registration fee for motor vehicles registered in this State. For the remaining 7 years of the program, it would be funded from an additional $1.00 increase, for a total of a $2.00 increase during those 7 years. (See amendment which keeps the additional fee at $1.00). However, commitments to rebates and grants may never exceed available funds. The bill directs the State Energy Office to establish a cap on the number and amounts of rebates based on the availability of funds. Up to 5% of the funds collected would be shared by both the State Energy Office and DMV for administrative costs. Up to 10% of the funds collected may be used for education and awareness of the applications and advantages of alternative fuels and vehicles.

Reporting Requirements

The Division of Motor Vehicles would be required to provide to the State Energy Office quarterly reports of all registered motor vehicles identified by fuel type. The State Energy Office would be required to provide an annual report on the expenditure of funds associated with the program and the number of alternative fuel vehicles registered in North Carolina to the Joint Legislative Transportation Oversight Committee.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill becomes effective when it becomes law. The State Energy Office must issue rules to implement the program on or before January 1, 2004. The act would expire on January 1, 2014. (See amendment which changes the sunset to January 1, 2007).

BILL SUMMARY:
The bill establishes an alternative fuel and alternative fuel vehicle rebate program to be administered by the State Energy Office in the Department of Administration. The program will provide partial rebates to first owners for incremental cost differences for eligible alternative fueled and hybrid vehicles, limited rebates for State taxes paid on incremental costs of alternative motor fuels, and grants for alternative motor fuel infrastructure projects. The program would be funded by adding $1 to all vehicle registration fees for the three years of the program. A maximum of 5% of the funds collected can be used by the State Energy Office and DMV to administer the program. A maximum of 10% of the funds collected may be used by the State Energy Office for education and awareness about applications and advantages of alternative fuels and vehicles. The program is to include a cap on the number and amount of rebates and grants to limit them to the available funds. State and local governments are not eligible for grants or rebates from the program. The State Energy Office is to issue rules implementing the program on or before January 1, 2004.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:
Expenditures
DMV's expenditures during FY03-04 to prepare for the program include modifying the STARS (State Titling and Registration System) for plate fee calculation, updating the fiscal and other reports it prepares to capture the information required, and creation of the quarterly report specified in the bill. DMV estimates the cost of these activities as 300 professional hours times $80 per hour, or $24,000, plus computer overhead charges of $2,400, for a total of $26,400. During the actual operation of the program, DMV's costs are expected to be nominal and thus no estimate is shown.

During the first half of FY03-04, the State Energy Office (SEO) will be developing the rules for the program. SEO indicates that it can absorb the costs of the rule making process. Starting on January 1, 2004, when the rules have been adopted and the program is in operation, SEO estimates its expenditures as $228,732 per year for administration, as follows:

Program Manager	$50,000
Program Associate	40,000
Administrative Assistant	30,000
Accounting Technician	32,000
Public Info Officer (1/4 time)	11,000
Fringe Benefits	33,132
TOTAL PERSONNEL	$196,132
TRAVEL	$7,600
PRINTING and WEBSITE	$25,000
ADMINISTRATION GRAND TOTAL	$228,732

For FY 03-04, the total will be one half of this amount. The operating costs for DMV and SEO are within the 5% allotted by HB 806 for program administration. In addition, the bill provides that SEO may use up to 10% of the funds collected for education and awareness.

Revenues

DMV estimates that the $1 fee will affect 8,068,737 vehicles in the first full year and that the number of vehicles affected will increase by 2% per year. It will take DMV approximately two months to complete the programming on their STARS system to accommodate the $1 increase in registration fees. Assuming an August 1 enactment date, the collection of the additional dollar could begin on October 1, 2003. That would give the program nine months of revenue or $6,051,553 (75% X 8,068,737 vehicles X $1). Since the program ends on January 1, 2007, the FY 2006-07 revenue estimate is for the six months from July 1, 2006 to December 31, 2006.

House Committee on Finance

Minutes

June 25, 2003

The House Committee on Finance met on Wednesday, June 25, 2003 at 8:30 am in Room 544 of the Legislative Office Building. The following members were present: Chairpersons G. Allen, Howard, Luebke, Miner, and Wainwright; Vice-Chairs Alexander, Decker, Gibson, and Hill; Representatives Blackwood, Bordsen, Capps, Carney, Creech, Ellis, Glazier, Hackney, Holliman, Jones, McCombs, McGee, Munford, Rayfield, Ross, Starnes, Weiss, C. Wilson, and Womble; and Ex-officio member, Representative Culpepper. Also present were Sergeant-at-Arms James Brewer, Bob Fowler, Bill Freeman, and Dusty Rhodes. Staff persons present included Cindy Avrette, Richard Bostic, Linda Millsaps, Alexi Pavlichev, Mary Shuping, and Martha Walston. The Agenda and Visitor Registration Sheet are attached and incorporated into these minutes as attachments 1 and 2.

Chairman Miner called the meeting to order at 8:33 am and proceeded to recognize the three (3) pages present: (1) Katie Bethune of Wilson County, sponsored by Representative Daughtry; (2) Caitlin Cauley of Pender County, sponsored by Representative Justice; and (3) Angela Hinton of Wake County, sponsored by Speaker Black.

As the Committee's first matter of business, Chairman Miner welcomed Senator Metcalf to the Committee and recognized him to explain SB 668 – WINE SHIPPERS PERMITS (see attachment 3). Representative Holliman moved that the Proposed Committee Substitute (PCS) for SB 668 be adopted for discussion purposes and his motion carried without objection. The Senator then explained that, currently, the State does not allow wine to be shipped across its borders; only wine produced here in the state can be shipped. However, due to recent Federal mandate, the State must now either allow out-of-state shipments or prohibit the shipment of wine altogether. Senator Metcalf also noted support of the bill from Biltmore Estate Wineries, the largest in North Carolina. Representative Holliman was then recognized for a question to the Senator. He asked if the bill could make it easier for minors to get alcohol. Senator Metcalf explained that it would not, as first, most wine is far too expensive for underage drinkers to purchase, and second, all wine shipments under the bill would require that the person delivering the wine verify proper identification. Representative Holliman was then again recognized and moved that SB 668 be given a favorable report as to the House PCS and an unfavorable report as to the Senate Committee Substitute bill. Representatives Gibson and Bordsen then voiced their support of the bill as well. Chairman Miner next recognized the Reverend Mark Creech, who spoke with passionate opposition to the bill. He noted that while this bill may not seem very serious, it amounted to "alcohol via mail" and could have significant effects on underage drinking, as wine makes up nearly 20 percent of the state's alcohol sales. Reverend Creech also stated that through the use of "fake IDs," teens would use the shipping system created by this bill to order cheap wines. Representative Gibson was then recognized by the Chair and stated his agreement with Reverend Creech that underage drinking could not be permitted in the state. He stated his disagreement with the Reverend, however, in that this bill took the proper steps to ensure no one underage would be allowed to receive a wine shipment. Representative Gibson then made a final comment that the state could not afford the loss of agribusiness that could occur if the bill did not pass. Representative Ellis was next to be recognized by the Chair and stated that while he agreed with Reverend Creech's arguments, he believed they were more ideological than realistic. Representative Holliman then reiterated his earlier motion for a favorable report to the House PCS on SB 668 and the Chair called the vote. The motion carried with no known opposition.

SB 452 – UNION COUNTY LOCAL ACT-1 (see attachment 4), sponsored by Senator Schubert, was the next bill considered by the Committee. Representative Holliman moved that the House PCS for SB 452 be adopted for the purposes of discussion and his motion was adopted without objection. Senator Schubert then explained the bill as a local bill affecting only Union County involving several areas of satellite annexation. Representative Capps was then recognized and asked if all of the annexations contained in the bill were voluntary. The Senator responded that all of the proposed annexations were voluntary and by request. Chairman Miner then recognized Representative Blackwood who moved that SB 452 receive a favorable report as to the Proposed House Committee Substitute Bill, and an unfavorable report as to the Senate Committee Substitute bill. Seeing no further debate, the Chair then called the vote on the motion and it carried by consent.

On behalf Senator Hoyle, Chairman Miner next recognized Representative G. Allen to explain SB 800 – LICENSING BOARD CHANGES (see attachment 5). Representative Howard moved that the PCS for SB 800 be adopted for consideration by the Committee and her motion carried without dissent. Representative Allen, assisted by staff person Mary Shuping, then explained that the bill acts to raise the fees charged to dentists and dental hygienists for membership to the State's Dental Licensing Board. Chairman Wainwright was then recognized by Chairman Miner and, stating that there was no controversy on the bill to his knowledge, moved that SB 800 receive a favorable report as to the House Proposed Committee Substitute bill, and an unfavorable report as to the Senate Committee Substitute bill. Representative Hackney, however, was then immediately recognized by Chairman Miner to send forth a technical amendment to the PHCS, clarifying the effective date of the bill as August 1, 2003. He then moved adoption of his amendment. Upon the Chair's call, the amendment was adopted with no known opposition. A great deal of discussion among the members then arose concerning the level (seemingly high amounts) of the proposed fee increases. Dr. Gerry Oyster, Co-Chair of the North Carolina Dental Society, was present to discuss and explain the members' questions on the issue. Following this lengthy discussion, Chairman Miner once again recognized Representative Wainwright, who again moved that SB 800 be given a favorable report as to the House PCS, incorporating the new Hackney amendment, and an unfavorable report as to the Senate Committee Substitute. The Chair then called the vote and the motion carried without objection.

Chairman Miner then called upon Representative Fox to explain HB 1301 – LOCAL GOVERNMENT ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT TOOLS (see attachment 6). Representative Weiss then moved that the Committee adopt the PCS for HB 1301 for the purposes of discussion. Her motion carried without objection. Representative Fox then explained that the bill would allow local governments to enter into agreements cooperatively and jointly for the benefit of economic development. Representative Weiss was then again recognized and moved for a favorable report on HB 1301. Representative Wilson, however, first inquired with staff if the bill would allow local governments from separate states (i.e. a NC county and a SC county) to enter into these agreements. Martha Harris (Staff) was then recognized by the Chair to respond and stated that the bill did not provide for any inter-state agreements. Hearing no further questions, Chair Miner then called the motion for a favorable report (as above) and it carried without objection.

Chairman Miner next recognized Representative Nesbitt for explanation of HB 1149 – NO SALES TAX ON FREE PUBLICATIONS (see attachment 7). He explained that currently the large newspapers/publications in the state are exempt from paying sales tax, however, smaller, free publications are not. This bill, he explained, would provide an exemption for all free publications printed in the state. He also noted that the bill would cause an approximate $19 million loss to the General Fund but that a PCS was being prepared that would cut that loss to around $5 million. Following this explanation, the Chair recognized Representative Ellis who stated that the exemption provided to newspapers is justified because the return received on the exemption was far higher than the exemption itself. Mr. Rick Davis from the audience was present and Chairman Miner recognized him to speak on the bill. Mr. Davis, who stated he was from New Bern, noted that he personally published eight free community newspapers and shopping guides in the Carteret County vicinity. He spoke in high support of the bill, stating that the sales tax levied on free publications should be lifted. He noted finally that it was wrong that free publications such as his were taxed, while for-purchase newspapers were not. The Chair then recognized Representative Wainwright who stated his support of Mr. Davis' comments and the bill, and asked that the Committee vote on the bill. As there was a great deal of discussion remaining and as the completion of a PCS on the bill was awaiting completion, Chairman Miner then acted to temporarily displace the bill from the Committee's consideration.

The Chair then immediately recognized Senator Kerr to explain SB 100 – STATE GOVT. SALES TAX EXEMPT (see attachment 8). Representative Ellis was first recognized to move that the House Proposed Committee Substitute be adopted for discussion. The motion carried without dissent. Senator Kerr then explained that the bill would exempt purchases made by State Agencies from the State and Local sales taxes, as currently State agencies must apply for a refund of local sales taxes. Representative Howard was then recognized and pledging her support of the bill, moved that the House PCS for SB 100 be given a favorable report, with an unfavorable report as to the Senate Committee Substitute bill. Representative Ellis also noted his support of the bill, stating that it was ridiculous for the State to tax itself and then request a refund. The Chair then recognized Representative Hackney who requested to hear from the Department of Revenue (DOR) on the bill. Mr. Andy Sable with DOR's Sales and New Tax Division was present and stated that DOR supported the bill and could make the necessary changes with no significant costs being involved. Seeing no further discussion, Chairman Miner then called Representative Howard's motion (as above) to a vote, and the motion carried with no known opposition.

As the Committee's time had then expired, Chairman Miner promptly adjourned the meeting at 9:53 am.

Respectfully submitted,

Representative David Miner

(6) Through compact or reciprocity with another jurisdiction of the United States, that jurisdiction uses its taxing power and its jurisdiction over the retailer in support of this State's taxing ~~power; or~~power.

(7) The retailer consents, expressly or by implication, to the imposition of the tax imposed by this Article. Senate Bill 668:
Wine Shippers Permits

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	House Finance	Sponsor:	Sen. Metcalf
Date:	June 24, 2003	Analysis by:	Y. Canaan Huie
Version:	3rd Edition		Staff Attorney

SUMMARY: This bill would create a new permit under the ABC laws that would allow a winery to ship wine directly to individuals in North Carolina. The bill makes conforming changes to the ABC laws and provides a mechanism for the collection of excise and sales and use taxes on direct shipments of wine.

BACKGROUND: After the end of Prohibition in the 1930's, North Carolina adopted laws to prohibit the importation of wine and other alcoholic beverages except through a highly regulated system. The structure of the ABC system is a three-tiered system. Under this system, an out-of-state producer of wine may sell its products in North Carolina to licensed wholesalers only. Wholesalers may in turn sell the products to other wholesalers or licensed retailers. Only licensed retailers may sell the products to consumers. In 1981, the General Assembly enacted an exception to this three-tiered structure. Under that exception, North Carolina wineries were allowed to sell and ship wine directly to North Carolina consumers. This exception did not extend to out-of-state wineries. In 2002, a federal district court held in Beskind v. Easley, 197 F.Supp.2d 464 (W.D. NC, 2002) that this exemption violated the Commerce Clause of the United States Constitution because it clearly favored in-state economic interests over out-of-state interests. The court further held that North Carolina's regulatory interests protected under the Twenty-first Amendment did not outweigh the federal government's interest in regulating interstate commerce in this instance. That court ordered the State not to enforce the ban on out-of-state shipments and to collect the excise tax due on the wine shipped from out of state. North Carolina appealed this decision to the federal Court of Appeals. That court upheld the finding that the exemption violates the Commerce Clause, but allowed the General Assembly to fashion an appropriate remedy. Beskind v. Easley, 325 F.3d 506 (4th Cir., 2003) In essence, the General Assembly was left with the option of repealing the exemption for in-state wineries or allowing shipments from out-of-state wineries on the same basis as for in-state wineries.

ANALYSIS: This bill would establish a structure through which out-of-state wineries would be allowed to ship wine directly to consumers in North Carolina. Under this bill, any winery that holds a federal basic wine manufacturer permit would be able to apply for a wine shipper's permit for a fee of $100.00. The renewal fee would be $25.00. The permit would authorize the shipment of brands of wine identified in the application. The wine shipper permittee could amend the brands identified in the permit. The wine shipper permittee would be required to notify any wholesale permittee that had been authorized to distribute those brands in this State of its application to become a wine shipper permittee. If the wine shipper permittee shipped more than 1000 cases[1] of wine to addresses in the State during a calendar year, the permittee would be required to appoint a wholesaler in State if any wholesaler in State wished to sell the products. A winery would not be required to obtain a wine shippers permit to ship to addresses in North Carolina wine that was bought on the premises of the winery.

[1] A case is defined as any combination of packages that contains not more than nine liters of wine.

A wine shipper permittee would be allowed to ship up to 2 cases of wine per month to any person in North Carolina to whom alcoholic beverages may be sold. Shipment of wine could be made by common carrier only. The common carrier would be required to have the recipient demonstrate that he or she was over the age of 21 and to sign an acknowledgement of receipt. The common carrier would be required to refuse delivery when the recipient appeared to be below 21 years of age and failed to provide sufficient identification.

This bill also establishes a mechanism for collecting the excise and use taxes due on the wine. Under this bill, a wine shipper would be required to pay the excise tax due on the wine and to collect the use tax due on the wine. Under the Twenty-first Amendment to the United State Constitution, the State has more authority to regulate alcoholic beverages than it generally has to regulate interstate commerce. Because of the greater authority granted to states under the Twenty-first Amendment, it is not as difficult to establish nexus when the product to be taxed is an alcoholic beverage. Because the State would be requiring the out-of-state wineries to obtain a permit to ship to North Carolina addresses, the State would have sufficient nexus with the winery to force the collection of the taxes.

BILL SUMMARY: This bill establishes a method for out-of-state wineries to ship wine directly to consumers in North Carolina. Under this bill, any winery that holds a federal basic wine manufacturing permit would be able to apply for a wine shipper's permit for a one-time fee of $100.00. A wine shipper permittee would be allowed to ship up to two cases of wine per month to any person in North Carolina to whom alcoholic beverages may be sold. If the wine shipper permittee ships more than 1,000 cases of wine to addresses in the State during a calendar year, the permittee is required to appoint a wholesaler in the State to sell its products. A wine shipper permit is not required if a customer buys wine on the premises of the winery and ships it to their home address. The bill amends G.S. 105-113.73 to make it a Class 1 misdemeanor to violate a provision of Article 2C (Alcoholic Beverage License) of Chapter 105 (Taxation).

BACKGROUND: In 1981, the General Assembly allowed North Carolina wineries to sell and ship wine directly to North Carolina consumers. For out of state wineries, only North Carolina licensed retailers may sell their products to consumers. In 2002, a federal district court found this disparate treatment of wineries violated the Commerce Clause of the United States Constitution because it favored in-state economic interests over out-of-state interests. That federal court ordered the State not to enforce the ban on out-of-state shipments and to collect the excise tax due on the wine shipped from out of state. North Carolina appealed this decision to the federal Court of Appeals. The Court of Appeals upheld the finding that the exemption violates the Commerce Clause, but allowed the General Assembly to fashion an appropriate remedy. The General Assembly has the option of repealing the exemption for in-state wineries or allowing shipments from out-of-state wineries on the same basis as for in-state wineries.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

General Fund Revenue

No estimate can be made on the amount of General Fund revenue the state will receive from the $100 permit in section 1 of this bill. There are 2,286 bonded wineries according to the May 2000 issue of The Alcohol and Tobacco Newsletter (published by the U.S. Department of Treasury's former Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms). WineAmerica has a list of 3,189 wineries they received from the U.S. Department Treasury's Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau, but warns that this list might overstate the number of wineries. Based on these sources, there are between 2,000 and 3,000 wineries that could apply for the wine shipper permit in North Carolina. While the potential applicant pool is large, the number of wineries seeking a permit may be small. New Hampshire approved a $228 wine shipment permit on July 1, 1998, and had issued only 189 as of May 23, 2003 (Jim Barbutti, New Hampshire Liquor Commission).

No estimate can be made on the amount of General Fund revenue the state will earn from excise and sales taxes remitted by wineries with a wine shipper permit. The state and local governments should receive a revenue gain from the sales made by wineries that previously did not do business with the state. These wineries will collect the 21cents per liter excise tax on unfortified wine and the 24 cents per liter on fortified wine. Local governments receive 62% of the excise tax on unfortified wine and 22% of the excise tax on fortified wine. The wine shipper permittees will also collect and remit the state and local sales tax on the wine they sell. No estimate can be done on the volume of wine that will be sold directly to North Carolina customers.

Department of Revenue

The Director of the Department of Revenue's Corporate, Excise, & Insurance Tax Division estimates there will be little or no cost in establishing a registration process for out-of-state wineries. However, the Division Director anticipates significant cost will be incurred when adding the nonresident shippers to the excise tax payment system. The Director estimates his Division will need up to $75,000 to implement this change in FY 2003-04. The Department of Revenue would like to be granted the authority to withhold up to $75,000 from excise tax collections to implement the law.

Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission
The Director of the Administration Division of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission (ABC) estimates this bill will have both one-time and recurring costs. The one-time cost in FY 2003-04 is $3,200 for 40 hours of computer programming to add the wine shipper permit to the agency's system. The recurring cost is approximately $33,000 for a Program Assistant V position to process the wine shipper permits. This expense is for a grade 61 position hired at the midpoint of the range plus benefits. Another $2,000 in one-time expenditures would be needed to equip the position with a desk, chair, computer and supplies.

Given the uncertainty of the number of wine shipper permits that will be issued, the request for a recurring position does not seem warranted. The Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission should be allowed to spend lapsed salaries or other available funds to hire temporary employees to handle the wine shipper permits.

Alcohol Law Enforcement
An official with the Department of Crime Control and Public Safety has determined that this bill has no direct fiscal impact for its Alcohol Law Enforcement Division (ALE). Unlike enforcement with a permittee at a physical location, ALE would not know when or where a lawful transaction might take place to ensure compliance with the laws. However, if information about a non-compliant shipper is received, an undercover operation could be run. For example, to investigate the shipment of wine to underage customers, ALE would require a budget for purchases, private Internet accounts, permission to use residences, underage signers to receive goods, and the time of agents involved.

Judicial Branch
The bill amends G.S. 105-113.73 to make a violation of a provision of Article 2C (Alcoholic Beverage License) of Chapter 105 (Taxation) a Class 1 misdemeanor. Current G.S. 105-113.73 makes a violation of a provision of the ABC law a Class 1 misdemeanor. As such, this amendment does not create new offenses but clarifies that the offense under G.S. 105-113.73 applies only to violations of Article 2C of Chapter 105.

The Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) notes that data is unavailable concerning the number of charges that may result under this bill. For most criminal penalty bills, the AOC provides the General Assembly's Fiscal Research Division with an analysis of the fiscal impact of the specific bill. For these bills, fiscal impact is typically based on the assumption that court time will increase due to an expected increase in trials and a corresponding increase in the hours of work for judges, clerks and prosecutors. This increased court time is also expected to result in greater expenditures for jury fees and indigent defense. New Class 1 misdemeanor cases could result from violations of the new regulations associated with the wine shippers permit or if common carriers deliver or allow a person under 21 years old to sign for wine deliveries sent by wine shipper permittees. For offenses that are brought to trial as Class 1 misdemeanors, the estimated court cost per trial is $3,144. For Class 1 misdemeanor offenses not brought to trial, and where a guilty plea is entered, AOC estimates the cost per guilty plea at $279.

Department of Correction

The Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission prepares inmate population projections annually. The projections used for incarceration fiscal notes and fiscal memos are based on January 2003 projections. These projections are based on historical information on incarceration and release rates under Structured Sentencing, crime rate forecasts by a technical advisory board, probation and revocation rates, and the decline (parole and maxouts) of the stock prison population sentenced under previous sentencing acts. Based on the most recent population projections and estimated available prison bed capacity, there are no surplus prison beds available for the five year Fiscal Note horizon and beyond.

It is not known how many offenders might be sentenced under this bill. Since the proposed bill expands an existing offense, the Sentencing Commission does not have any historical data from which to estimate the impact of this bill on the prison population. The Sentencing Commission notes that in FY 2001-02, 15.8 percent of Class 1 misdemeanor convictions resulted in active sentences. The average estimated time served was 35.2 days. Active sentences between 1-90 days are served in local jails; the DOC reimburses counties for active sentences between 30-90 days at a cost to the state of $18/day. Most Class 1 misdemeanants receive community or intermediate sanctions. In 2001-02, costs for these non-active sentences ranged from $1.83 to $11.47 per offender per day.

Dear Representative Miner:

When we opened the winery at Biltmore Estate in the mid 1980s, the idea that viticulture and winemaking could be a viable agricultural endeavor in North Carolina seemed implausible to many observers. Today, I'm happy to report Biltmore Estate Winery is the most visited winery in the United States. Additionally, there will soon be over 35 wineries in North Carolina and some 300 members of the North Carolina Grape Growers Association.

Viticulturalists and wine producers in our state have worked diligently to establish grape growing as an alternative cash crop to tobacco, with some success. I write today to ask that you help us assure the future of our industry by supporting S668, legislation which would allow North Carolina wineries to continue to ship wine directly to consumers in the state and allowing out-of-state wineries to do the same.

Without this legislation, grape growers and wine producers in the state will be penalized. S668 will allow those of us trying to move agri-tourism forward in North Carolina to benefit from the ability to capture the full, added value of a retail transaction. This is critical, of course, in supporting a cash intensive, long-term farming investment.

North Carolina farmers deserve a chance to succeed. When the Finance Committee considers this issue, please support S668 and allow North Carolina wineries the opportunity to enhance our state's reputation as a wine-producing region and a leader in agri-tourism.

Sincerely,

Jerome B. Douglas

~~Subject: S 750~~ S668

I am writing in support of S 750, a bill to Increase Permit Limit for Breweries. If enacted, this bill will permit small North Carolina breweries to grow beyond the current artificial low ceiling of 10,000 barrels a year. I do not believe this legislation will harm the state's three-tier system.

Some of the small breweries currently use wholesalers, while others find it more efficient to self-distribute.

Most if not all small breweries are small accounts, making it difficult for a wholesaler to achieve the efficiency we need. To my knowledge none of the small breweries have a major advertising budget to help get their product out the front door of another retailer.

However, I believe as those small breweries grow they will need wholesalers and we wholesalers will be competing to move their product, but for small breweries today, the economies of scale do not exist and they do not threaten the existing system. If we as wholesalers continue to our job, they will choose us to represent their products at retail.

With the budget crisis we are in in North Carolina, it seems crazy to me that we are trying to stifle economic growth. These breweries could easily cross the state lines and hire Virginia people, pay Virginia taxes and improve their economy.

Sincerely,

John "Mac" Healy

Union County Local Act-1

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	House Finance	Introduced by:	Senator Shubert
Date:	June 24, 2003	Summary by:	Mary Shuping
Version:	Proposed House Committee Substitute		Legislative Analyst

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 452 modifies the requirements for satellite annexations for Union County.

CURRENT LAW & BILL ANALYSIS: G.S. 160A-58.1 governs the voluntary annexation by a municipality of noncontiguous property. The PCS for SB 452 makes several changes to the satellite annexation law for Union County which are detailed in the chart below. It also modifies the definition of "city" for satellite annexation purposes to provide that an annexing city does not have to be eligible for Powell Bill Funds in order to annex non-contiguous property. Currently, Hemby Bridge, Mineral Springs, Unionville, and Wesley Chapel do not qualify for Powell Bill Funds and therefore, under current law, are not able to annex non-contiguous property. It also would allow exemptions from the statutory requirements if the proposed annexation of property is contiguous to a pre-existing satellite of the municipality. In Union County, there are some pre-existing satellites where a neighboring municipality later annexed the property between the first municipality and its satellite, thus G.S. 160A-58.1(b)(2) prevents the municipality from annexing additional property contiguous to its satellite. The municipalities in Union County include: Hemby Bridge, Indian Trail, Lake Park, Marshville, Marvin, Mineral Springs, Monroe, Stallings, Unionville, Waxhaw, Weddington, Wesley Chapel, and Wingate.

Following is a chart comparing the existing statutory law and the proposed changes for Union County.

G.S 160A-58.1(b) Requirements for Satellite Annexations	SB 452
Defines a "city" for purposes of satellite annexations as "any city, town, or village without regard to population, except cities not qualified to receive gasoline tax allocations" under the Powell Bill.	Revises the definition of "city" for satellite annexation purposes to remove the requirement that in order to annex non-contiguous property, the city must be eligible to receive Powell Bill Funds. Note: this change only governs satellite annexations and does not change the eligibility of a city to receive Powell Bill Funds.
The nearest point on the proposed satellite annexation must not be more than 3 miles from the primary corporate limits of the annexing city	The nearest point on the proposed satellite corporate limits must be ❖ Not more than 2 miles from the primary corporate limits of the annexing city; or ❖ Be contiguous to the satellite corporate limits of the annexing city.
No point on the proposed satellite corporate limits may be closer to the primary corporate limits of another city than to the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.	This requirement would not apply if the area proposed for annexation is contiguous to the satellite corporate limits.

The annexing city must be able to provide the same services within the proposed satellite corporate limits that it provides within its primary corporate limits.	No change
If the area or any portion of the area proposed for annexation is a subdivision as defined in G.S. 160A-376, all of the subdivision must be included.	Deletes this language, thus only portions of a subdivision may be annexed.
The area within the proposed satellite corporate limits, when added to the area within all other satellite corporate limits, may not exceed 10% of the area within the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.	The area within the proposed satellite corporate limits, when added to the area within all other satellite corporate limits, may not exceed 20% of the area within the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act is effective when it becomes law.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Board of Dental Examiners; Board of Massage and Bodywork Therapy

EFFECTIVE DATE: Section 3 (Massage Board civil penalty) is effective August 1, 2003 and applies to violations occurring on or after that date. The remaining sections of this bill are effective when they become law.

BILL SUMMARY: Sections 1 and 2 of the bill increase the maximum fees that the Board of Dental Examiners may charge. Section 3 allows the Board of Massage and Bodywork Therapy to assess a civil penalty of up to $1,000 for violating rules adopted by the Board and allows the Board to assess the costs of disciplinary actions against a person violating Board rules.

BACKGROUND: Dentistry fees (1) through (12) in section 1 of the bill were last increased in 1995 (1995 SL, ch. 584). Dentistry fees (13) through (15) were added in 2002 (SL 2002, ch. 37, s 5). Dental hygienist fees (1) through (5) in section 2 of the bill were last increased in 1987 (SL 1987, ch. 555). Dental hygienist fee (6) was added in 1999 (SL 1999, ch. 382) and hygienist fee (7) was added in 2002 (SL 2002, ch. 37, s 6).

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

Sections 1 & 2

The Board of Dental Examiners request an increase in the maximum amount they may charge in fees. The Board is charging the maximum in 15 of their 23 fees. In 2001, the Board's expenditures exceeded revenues by $133,940. Their fund balance in 2001 was $427,741, with $200,000 reserved for legal expenses. The Board wishes to raise its fees, but only seeks the maximum amounts so that it does not have to return to the General Assembly for a fee increase for a number of years. The Board's proposed fee schedule for 2004, shown in the chart below, raises only 4 of their 23 fees.

	Current Statutory Maximum	Actual Fee Charged 2002/2003	Proposed Statutory Maximum	Fees Proposed 2004
90-39 Fees
Application for general dentistry examination	$500	$500	$1,200	$675

Annual fee to impaired dental hygiene program	$40	$15	$80	$15
Each license by credentials	$1,000	$750	$1,500	$750

The Board's proposed 2004 fee schedule will raise $1.7 million, an increase of approximately $450,000 over 2002. If the Board chose to raise fees to the maximum, its revenue would equal $3.8 million (see chart below).

Section 3

Sections 3 allows the Board of Massage and Bodywork Therapy to assess a penalty of up to $1,000 on those who violate Board rules. The proceeds of this penalty will be deposited into the Civil Penalty and Forfeiture Fund for the benefit of the state's public schools. The Board has no estimate of how many penalties it might assess in a given year.

Section 3 (d) allows the Board of Massage and Bodywork Therapy to assess the costs of disciplinary actions against a person violating Board rules. The Board's attorney estimates this section will allow the recoupment of $300 per hearing for 40 hearings a year. The Board would realize $12,000 in reimbursed expenditures.

BILL ANALYSIS

Version: CSLC-73

SUMMARY: Authorize local governments that are jointly undertaking a development project to enter into agreements to fund the project.

Section 1 of the bill would amend the law on interlocal agreements to provide that if two or more local governments enter into a joint undertaking, they may adopt interlocal agreements authorizing the transfer of the units' revenues to other units of local government for expenditure on the joint undertaking pursuant to the agreement. The agreement may address other issues regarding expenditures and revenues related to the joint undertaking. The maximum length of such an agreement would be 99 years.

Section 2 of the bill would amend the law on local economic development to provide that local governments may enter into binding interlocal agreements under which they agree to provide resources to jointly develop industrial or commercial property for public purposes. In exchange for these resources, the unit of local government in which the property is located may agree to share among the participating local governments the proceeds from the property taxes on the developed property. The maximum term of the agreement would be 40 years.

Current law does not clearly authorize a unit of local government to share its revenues with other units of local government in this manner for regional economic development.

The bill does not authorize a unit of local government to pledge its tax revenues for the repayment of debt. Under the North Carolina Constitution, such a pledge can be made only after approval by the voters.

The bill would become effective when it becomes law.

No Sales Tax on Free Publications

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee: House Finance
Date: June 24, 2003
Version: 1st Edition

Analysis by: Martha Harris
Staff Attorney

SUMMARY: HB 975 exempts from the sales and use tax the sales of paper, ink, and other tangible personal property to commercial printers and publishers for use in free circulation publications and the sales by printers of the free circulation publications to the publishers.

CURRENT LAW: Under current law, supplies (paper, ink, and other tangible personal property) sold for free publications are subject to sales and use tax. Before October 1, 1999, there was a sales tax exemption for sales of paper, ink, and other tangible personal property to commercial printers and publishers for use as component parts in free circulation publications that contained advertising of a general nature. The exemption applied to general shoppers guides, but not to more specialized guides, such as real estate guides. (The statute specifically required that the free circulation publication contain advertising of a general nature.) The exemption was repealed because it was believed to be unconstitutional. The first amendment of the U.S. Constitution generally does not allow a state to discriminate between publications based on content. A 1987 U.S. Supreme Court decision confirmed that the constitution does not permit a tax break limited to certain publications based on their content.[1] To be constitutional, the exemption needed to be expanded to include all free circulation publications or it needed to be repealed. The 1999 General Assembly chose to repeal the sales tax exemption, effective October 1, 1999. The result was that supplies sold for all free publications became subject to sales tax on a uniform basis.

HOUSE BILL 1149: House Bill 1149 bill would reinstate the sales tax exemption on the supplies sold for free circulation publications and expand the exemption to include all free circulation periodical publications regardless of their content. The bill would define a free circulation publication as a publication that meets the following conditions:

- Is published on a periodic basis at recurring intervals.
- Is mailed or is distributed house-to-house, by street distributors, in racks, or in any other manner at other locations without the charge to the recipient.

[1] In Arkansas Writer's Project, Inc. v. Ragland, 481 US 221 (1987), the U.S. Supreme Court invalidated an Arkansas sales tax scheme that taxed general interest magazines but exempted single topic printed material. The N.C. tax exemption operated just the opposite: it taxed component parts used in single topic advertising publications but exempted component parts used in advertising publications that contained advertising of a general nature. Constitutionally, these distinctions appear meaningless.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: North Carolina Department of Revenue, Local Governments.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act becomes effective July 1, 2003, and applies to sales made on or after that date.

* Assumes 4% state sales and use tax rate as of July 1, 2003.
 Assumes 2.5% local sales and use tax rate as of July 1, 2003.

BILL SUMMARY: This bill exempts from the state and local sales and use tax the paper, ink, and other ingredients used to produce free circulation publications published on a periodic basis at recurring intervals.

BACKGROUND: Prior law granted a sales tax exemption for sales of paper, ink, and other tangible personal property to commercial printers and publishers for use as component parts in free circulation publications that contained advertising of a general nature. The exemption applied to general shoppers guides but not to more specialized publications such as real estate guides. The First Amendment of the United States Constitution does not allow a state to discriminate between publications based on their content. The prior law exemption clearly violated this rule by exempting guides with general content but not those with narrower content. Section 10 of Senate Bill 1112 (S.L. 1999-438) repealed the exemption, effective October 1, 1999, so that supplies sold for all free publications are subject to tax on a uniform basis.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

Prior to the 2000 Session of the General Assembly, Department of Revenue field auditors were asked to collect free publications from their regions and forward them by courier mail to the central office in Raleigh. These documents were used to estimate the annual statewide sales volumes of free publications. The Tax Research Division of the Department of Revenue used the estimated sales data for free publications, as well as sales and use tax collections data and information from the North Carolina Press Association to estimate the fiscal impact of this proposed tax exemption. Since the 2000 Legislative Session, the Department has studied a free publication court case in Florida and determined that periodic free publications also includes telephone books and items distributed by mail such as packages of coupons, business newsletters, manuals, catalogues, and other advertising. In an October 3, 2001, memo to the General Assembly's Fiscal Research Division, the Tax Research Division estimated the following General Fund revenue loss from exempting free circulation publications based on the 4.5% state sales tax:

	State Sales Tax (millions)
Items not distributed by mail	$ 5.6
Items distributed by mail	12.8
Telephone books	1.0
Total	$19.4

The Department of Revenue's Sales Tax Division was contacted on June 20, 2003, to learn whether its estimate on free publications had changed. An email from the Director of the Sales Tax Division on June 23, 2003, confirmed that the Department stands behind its original estimate. The Department offered that the revenue loss would be $12 million (at 4.5%) if a publication had to be published at least twice a month.

Given that the state sales tax will be 4% as of July 1, 2003, and no budget action has yet been taken to extend the 4.5% tax rate, this fiscal analysis will assume a 4% state sales tax rate. By July 1, 2003, all 100 counties will have adopted an additional half-cent sales tax, thus, a 2.5% local sales tax rate is used. No growth rate was assumed for future years due to the lack of market information for free publications. The revised cost of this bill is shown below using a 4% state sales tax rate and a 2.5% local rate.

	State Sales Tax (4%) (millions)	Local Sales Tax (2.5%) (millions)
Items not distributed by mail	$ 4.98	$3.11
Items distributed by mail	11.38	7.11
Telephone books	.89	.56
Total	$17.25	$10.78

SENATE BILL 100 (PCS):
State Govt Sales Tax Exempt/Sch Coop Refund

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	House Finance	Introduced by:	Sen. Kerr
Date:	June 25, 2003	Summary by:	Cindy Avrette
Version:	PCS for 2nd Edition S100-CSRB-30		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 100 would exempt purchases by State agencies from the State and local sales tax. State agencies must currently apply for a refund of local sales taxes. The exemption, versus the refund, would become effective July 1, 2004. The Proposed House Committee Substitute would allow a refund of State and local sales and use taxes by a joint agency created by interlocal agreement among local school administrative units to jointly purchase food service-related materials, supplies, and equipment on their behalf. The refund would become effective for taxes paid on or after July 1, 2003.

STATE GOVERNMENT EXEMPTION: Currently, all major State agencies except the Department of Transportation[1], is subject to State and local sales taxes. However, the State receives a quarterly refund of the local sales taxes paid by its agencies[2], with the proceeds of the refund going to the General Fund. Refunds for purchases by the constituent institutions of the University of North Carolina paid for with contract and grant funds and the University of North Carolina Hospitals at Chapel Hill are made on an annual basis and refunded directly to the state agency.[3] The proposed House committee substitute does not change the refund status of these purchases at the suggestion of the Office of State Budget and Management.

The current refund process is time-consuming for both the Office of the State Controller, the agencies, and the Department of Revenue. To relieve the agencies of this burden, the Office of the State Controller recommends that the refund process be changed to a sales and use tax exemption for State agencies. The term "State agency" is currently defined for sales and use tax purposes as a unit of the executive, legislative, or judicial branch of State government, such as a department, commission, board, council, or The University of North Carolina. The term does not include local boards of education[4] or local boards of trustees for the community college system.

Senate Bill 100 would change the current refund process to an exemption for State agencies. To qualify for the exemption, the items must be purchased by a State agency and the purchase must meet one of the following conditions:

- The items are purchased pursuant to a purchase order of the State agency that contains the exemption number of the agency and a description of the items purchased.
- The items purchased are paid for by a State-issued check, electronic deposit, credit card, procurement care, or credit account of a State agency and the agency provides to or has on file with the retailer the agency's exemption number.

[1] The Department of Transportation is exempt from State and local sales and use tax.

[2] Each State agency is suppose to file with the Secretary of Revenue a written application for a refund of the local sales taxes paid by it. The application is due within 15 days after the end of each calendar quarter. GS 105-164.14(e).

[3] GS 105-164.14(c)(20) and (21).

[4] Local school administrative units are allowed an annual refund of State and local sales taxes paid.

The bill incorporates all of the various payment and purchase mechanisms where accounting system controls are in place to verify purchases and prevent possible misuse of the agency's sales tax exemption by its employees. The only type of direct purchases not included within this exemption is employee expense reimbursements.

The sales tax exemption would apply only to direct purchases of tangible personal property. State agencies would continue to apply for refunds of local taxes paid on indirect purchases of building materials, supplies, fixtures, and equipment that become a part of a structure owned or leased by the State.

A state agency would be liable for items purchased with its exemption number that it does not use. The liability would include not only the tax that should have been paid on the items purchased, but also interest calculated from the date the tax would otherwise have been paid.

Section 4 of the bill would become effective January 1, 2004, so that State government agencies could begin the process of obtaining their exemption certificates from the Department of Revenue. Section 1 of the bill, granting the exemption, would become effective July 1, 2004, and apply to sales made on or after that date. Section 3 makes a conforming change and Section 5 provides that the Office of State Budget and Management must reduce each State agency's certified budget for fiscal years 2003-04 and 2004-05 by an appropriate amount to reflect the tax savings generated by the sales and use tax exemption allowed under this bill.

SALES TAX REFUND FOR SCHOOL BOARD COOPERATIVES: Under Chapter 160A of the General Statutes, units of local governments[5] may enter into contracts or agreements with each other in order to execute any undertaking. Since 1996, several boards of education in the eastern part of the State have participated in an agreement under the authority of Part 1 of Chapter 160A in order to operate a cooperative program known as the Southeast Cooperative Utilizing Resources Efficiently (SECURE). The purpose of SECURE is to coordinate the acquisition of food service related materials, supplies, equipment, and services. The school districts in SECURE now are Wayne, Pitt, Greene, Lenoir, Onslow, Sampson, New Hanover, Guilford, and Cumberland Counties and it is my understanding two or three more counties may join the agreement.

SECURE acts as a conduit that allows several districts to save money by allowing them greater purchasing power from vendors. SECURE does not make a profit or loss because food is passed on to the districts at cost and all the administrative expenses, interest income, rebates, and purchases of any kind are passed on to the districts. SECURE does not own any assets and it does not have any employees.[6] SECURE applied for a sales tax refund but the Department of Revenue found that it was not included in the list of entities entitled to a refund: SECURE is not a local board of education and it is not a charitable nonprofit organization.

The proposed House committee substitute adds a new Section 2 to the bill that would allow SECURE and any other joint agency created by interlocal agreement among local school administrative units to jointly purchase food service-related materials, supplies, and equipment on their behalf to qualify for an annual refund of State and local sales and use taxes paid by it. The refund request must be made in writing and must include any information and documentation required by the Secretary. This section would become effective for taxes paid on and after July 1, 2003.

[5] G.S. 160A-460 includes a local board of education within its definition of "unit of local government".

[6] The manager and the administrative assistant of SECURE are paid by Greene County schools. SECURE reimburses Green County for all of the administrative person's salary and part of the manager's salary.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: State agencies, Office of State Budget, and the selected educational cooperatives.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Sales tax provisions become effective July 1, 2004. Associated administrative changes become effective January 1, 2004. The balance becomes effective when law.

BILL SUMMARY: Under current law purchases by all major state agencies but one are subject to state and local sales taxes, unless the item purchased is exempt from tax for all purchasers. (The Department of Transportation is exempt from all local and state tax). However, the State receives a refund of the local sales taxes paid by its agencies, with the proceeds of this refund going to the general fund. Most state agencies file on a quarterly basis. Refunds of state and local taxes on purchases by the North Carolina Low Level Radioactive Waste Management Authority, the North Carolina Hazardous Waste Management Commission, constituent institutions of the University of North Carolina, and the University of North Carolina Hospitals at Chapel Hill are made on an annual basis and are refunded directly to the state agency. This bill exempts all state agencies from state and local sales tax. In order to qualify for the exemption a state agency must obtain a sales tax exemption number from the Department of Revenue. If the state agency does not use the items purchased with its number it is liable for the tax on that item. State agencies will continue to file quarterly for a refund of local sales taxes on indirect purchases. The Office of Management and Budget is charged with reducing 2004-05 agency allocations to reflect this change.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: This legislation will affect both revenues and expenditures.

REVENUES: According to the Department of Revenue, for FY 1999-00 state agency refunds of local taxes (excluding the UNC Hospitals) to the General Fund totaled $14.2 million. Based that refund data, Tax Research estimates that state agencies paid $42.6 million in state and local sales taxes in 1999-00. Due to continuing budget and agency allocation reductions, actual refunds for local sales taxes paid on agency direct purchases in 2001-02 dropped to approximately $8.5 million, suggesting that state agencies (excluding UNC Hospitals) paid a total of approximately $27.3 million in state and local sales taxes on direct purchases ($8.5 million in local taxes, $18.6 million in state taxes, $0.2 million in Mecklenburg additional ½ cent taxes). Given the current budget situation, it is assumed that agency purchases decline again in 2002-03 and 2003-04 and then slowly increase in the out years. Estimated potential state agency refunds for sales that occur in a given fiscal year are as follows:

	State	Local	Mecklenburg	TOTAL
2001-02	18,607,329	8,546,907	181,346	27,335,581
2002-03	18,269,013	9,134,507	172,279	27,575,799
2003-04	15,427,167	9,641,979	163,665	25,232,811
2004-05	15,735,710	9,834,819	166,938	25,737,467
2005-06	16,050,424	10,031,515	170,277	26,252,216
2006-07	16,371,433	10,232,146	173,682	26,777,261
2007-08	16,698,862	10,436,789	177,156	27,312,806

The amount for 2004-05 is the amount anticipated to be backed out of individual agencies by the Office of State Budget and Management in their budget certification process.

NOTE: Indirect purchases are not included in these estimates, as they are not affected by the legislation.

The second revenue impact associated with the bill relates to educational cooperatives. The legislation allows cooperatives formed by a group of public school systems to receive a sales tax refund. At this point Fiscal Research is only aware of one educational cooperative that would likely qualify for the new tax treatment. "SECURE", which stands for Southeast Cooperative Utilizing Resources Efficiently purchases food service related materials, supplies, equipment and services for nine Southeastern North Carolina county school systems. The exact annual revenue loss associated with this provision is unknown but is expected to be less than $20,000 per year. Because the organization would receive their first refund in November 2004 for purchases made in 2003-04, no 2003-04 impact is expected.

EXPENDITURES:

The primary impact of the legislation on expenditures is the reduction in agency budgets to reflect the sales tax exemption. Under the bill the Office of Management and Budget is directed to determine the amount of sales tax each agency would have spent and reduce their funding allocation by the amount. After the first year, this process will become unnecessary. This fiscal note assumes that the Office of Management and Budget will be able to back out the sales tax numbers and that 2003-04 and 2004-05 allocations will be reduced to reflect the reduced cost of doing business. Therefore, the net impact of the bill is no change to the General Fund.

Construction contract agreements entered into under this section shall provide that the Department of Correction and the Office of State Construction shall inspect and review each facility during construction to ensure and determine jointly that the facility is suitable for use as a correctional facility and for future acquisition by the State. The Department of Correction may contract with a design consortium for construction administration services.

(d) Approval of Lease-Purchase Agreement. – A lease-purchase agreement may not be entered into pursuant to this section unless the following conditions are met before the lease-purchase agreement is entered into: (i) the Council of State, by resolution, approves the execution and delivery of the lease-purchase agreement, and (ii) the State Treasurer approves the lease-purchase agreement and all other documentation related to it, including any leasehold deed of trust or trust agreement in connection with it. The resolution of the Council of State may include any matters the Council of State determines. In determining whether to approve the lease-purchase agreement, the State Treasurer may consider any factors as the State Treasurer considers relevant in order to find and determine that all of the following conditions are met:

(1) The principal amount to be financed under the lease-purchase agreement is adequate and not excessive for the purpose of paying the cost of the Projects.

(2) The increase, if any, in State revenues necessary to pay the sums to become due under the lease-purchase agreement is not excessive.

(3) The lease-purchase agreement can be entered into on terms desirable to the State.

(4) The sale of certificates of participation will not have an adverse effect on any scheduled or proposed sale of obligations of the State or any State agency or of any unit of local government in the State.

(e) Terms and Conditions. – The following provisions apply to a lease-purchase agreement entered into under this section:

(1) In order to secure the performance by the State of its obligations under the lease-purchase agreement, the lease-purchase agreement may require the eviction of the State from the occupancy of one or more of the Projects in the event that the State breaches its obligations and agreements under the lease-purchase agreement.

(2) No deficiency judgment may be rendered against the State or any agency, department, or commission of the State in any action for breach of any obligation contained in the lease-purchase agreement or any other related documentation, and the taxing power of the State or any agency, department, or commission of the State is not and may not be pledged to secure any moneys due under the lease-purchase agreement.

(3) The lease-purchase agreement shall not contain a nonsubstitution clause that restricts the right of the State to replace or provide a substitute for the Projects.

(4) The lease-purchase agreement may include provisions requesting the Governor to submit in the Governor's budget proposal, or any amendments or supplements to it, appropriations necessary to make the payments required under the lease-purchase agreement.

(5) The lease-purchase agreement may contain any provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights and remedies of the special nonprofit corporation that are reasonable and proper and not in violation of law, including covenants setting forth the duties of the State with respect to the Projects, which may include provisions relating to insuring, operating, and maintaining the Projects and the custody, safeguarding, investment, and application of moneys.

(6) The lease-purchase agreement may designate the lease payments to be paid by the State under it to be "principal components" and "interest components." Any interest component of the lease payments may be calculated based upon a fixed or variable interest rate or rates as determined by the State Treasurer.

(7) The lease-purchase agreement may be entered into by the State, and certificates of participation may be delivered by the special nonprofit corporation, at any time, including at times prior to the delivery of the completed Projects to the special nonprofit ~~corporation for purchase,~~corporation, and the related delivery of occupancy of the Projects to the State by the special nonprofit corporation. The lease-purchase agreement may require the State to make prepayments of lease payments at a time prior to when the State accepts occupancy of the Projects. The lease-purchase agreement and related financing arrangements may provide for the funding of interest during construction from the proceeds of certificates of participation. The costs incurred in connection with the preparation of the lease-purchase agreement and related documents and the delivery of the certificates of participation may be paid from the proceeds of the certificates of participation.

(8) The State is authorized to agree in the lease-purchase agreement to indemnify the special corporation and its directors and agents for any liabilities that arise to the special corporation or directors or agents on account of their participation in the activities contemplated by this act.

(f) Faith and Credit Not Pledged. – The payment of amounts payable by the State under the lease-purchase agreement and other related documentation during any fiscal biennium or fiscal year is limited to funds appropriated for that purpose by the General Assembly in its discretion. No provision of this section and no lease-purchase agreement creates any pledge of the faith and credit of the State or any agency, department, or commission of the State within the meaning of any constitutional debt limitation.

(g) Certificates of Participation. – The State may cooperate as necessary to effectuate the delivery by the special nonprofit corporation of tax-exempt certificates of participation, including participating in the preparation of offering documents, the filing of required tax forms and agreeing to comply with restrictions on the use of the Projects as required in order for the interest component of the lease payments to be tax-exempt. Disclosures and compliance with other federal law requirements by the special nonprofit corporation shall be under the direction of the State Treasurer. Certificates of participation may be sold at the direction of the State Treasurer in the manner, either at public or private sale, and for any price or prices that the State Treasurer determines to be in the best interest of the State and to effect the purposes of this section. Interest payable with respect to certificates of participation shall accrue at the rate or rates determined by the State Treasurer with the approval of the special nonprofit corporation.

Certificates of participation may be delivered pursuant to a trust agreement with a corporate trustee approved by the State Treasurer. The corporate trustee may be any trust company or bank having the powers of a trust company within or without the State. A trust agreement may (i) provide for security and pledges and assignments with respect to the security as may be permitted under this section and further provide for the enforcement of any lien or security interest created pursuant to this section, and (ii) contain any provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights and remedies of the owners of any certificates of participation that are reasonable and proper and not in violation of law as determined by the State Treasurer. The State Treasurer shall designate the professionals providing legal or financial services relating to the lease-purchase agreement and the delivery of certificates of participation, including the provider of any credit facility and the underwriter or placement agent for any certificates of participation.

(h) Tax Exemption. – The lease purchase agreement and any certificates of participation relating to it shall at all times be free from taxation by the State or any political subdivision or any of their agencies, excepting estate, inheritance, or gift taxes, income taxes on the gain from the transfer of the lease-purchase agreement and certificates of participation, and franchise taxes. The interest component of the lease payments made by the State under the lease-purchase agreement, including the interest payable with respect to any certificates of participation, is not subject to taxation as income.

(e1) Maximum Sentences Specified for Class B1 through Class E Felonies for Minimum Terms of 340 Months or More. – Unless provided otherwise in a statute establishing a punishment for a specific crime, when the minimum sentence is 340 months or more, the corresponding maximum term of imprisonment shall be equal to the sum of the minimum term of imprisonment and twenty percent (20%) of the minimum term of imprisonment, rounded to the next highest month, plus ~~nine~~ twelve additional months."

SECTION 3. G.S. 15A-1368(a)(5) reads as rewritten:

"(5) Maximum imposed term. – The maximum term of imprisonment imposed on an individual prisoner by a court judgment, as described in G.S. 15A-1340.13(c). When a prisoner is serving consecutive prison terms, the maximum imposed term, for purposes of this Article, is the sum of all maximum terms imposed in the court judgment or judgments, less ~~nine~~ 12 months for each of the second and subsequent sentences imposed for Class B through Class E felonies."

SECTION 4. G.S. 15A-1368.2 reads as rewritten:

"§ 15A-1368.2. Post-release supervision eligibility and procedure.

(a) A prisoner to whom this Article applies shall be released from prison for post-release supervision on the date equivalent to his maximum imposed prison term less ~~nine~~ 12 months, less any earned time awarded by the Department of Correction or the custodian of a local confinement facility under G.S. 15A-1340.13(d). If a prisoner has not been awarded any earned time, the prisoner shall be released for post-release supervision on the date equivalent to his maximum prison term less ~~nine~~ 12 months.

(b) A prisoner shall not refuse post-release supervision.

(c) A supervisee's period of post-release supervision shall be for a period of ~~nine~~ 12 months, unless the offense is an offense for which registration is required pursuant to Article 27A of Chapter 14 of the General Statutes. For offenses subject to the registration requirement of Article 27A of Chapter 14 of the General Statutes, the period of post-release supervision is five years. The conditions of post-release supervision are as authorized in G.S. 15A-1368.5.

(d) A supervisee's period of post-release supervision may be reduced while the supervisee is under supervision by earned time awarded by the Department of Correction, pursuant to rules adopted in accordance with law. A supervisee is eligible to receive earned time credit toward the period of supervision for compliance with reintegrative conditions described in G.S. 15A-1368.5.

(e) Repealed by Session Laws 1997-237, s. 7.

(f) When a supervisee completes the period of post-release supervision, the sentence or sentences from which the supervisee was placed on post-release supervision are terminated."

SECTION 5. G.S. 15A-1340.14(c) reads as rewritten:

"(c) Prior Record Levels for Felony Sentencing. – The prior record levels for felony sentencing are:

(1) Level I – ~~0 points.~~Not more than 2 points.

(2) Level II – At least ~~1,~~3, but not more than ~~4 points.~~ 6 points.

(3) Level III – At least ~~5,~~7, but not more than ~~8~~10 points.

(4) Level IV – At least ~~9,~~11, but not more than 14 points.

(5) Level V – At least 15, but not more than 18 points.

(6) Level VI – At least 19 points.

In determining the prior record level, the classification of a prior offense is the classification assigned to that offense at the time the offense for which the offender is being sentenced is committed."

SECTION 6. G.S. 15A-1340.17(c) reads as rewritten:

"(c) Punishments for Each Class of Offense and Prior Record Level; Punishment Chart Described. – The authorized punishment for each class of offense and prior record level is as specified in the chart below. Prior record levels are indicated by the Roman numerals placed horizontally on the top of the chart. Classes of offense are indicated by the letters placed vertically on the left side of the chart. Each cell on the chart contains the following components:

(1) A sentence disposition or dispositions: "C" indicates that a community punishment is authorized; "I" indicates that an intermediate punishment is authorized; "A" indicates that an active punishment is authorized; and "Life Imprisonment Without Parole" indicates that the defendant shall be imprisoned for the remainder of the prisoner's natural life.

(2) A presumptive range of minimum durations, if the sentence of imprisonment is neither aggravated or mitigated; any minimum term of imprisonment in that range is permitted unless the court finds pursuant to G.S. 15A-1340.16 that an aggravated or mitigated sentence is appropriate. The presumptive range is the middle of the three ranges in the cell.

(3) A mitigated range of minimum durations if the court finds pursuant to G.S. 15A-1340.16 that a mitigated sentence of imprisonment is justified; in such a case, any minimum term of imprisonment in the mitigated range is permitted. The mitigated range is the lower of the three ranges in the cell.

(4) An aggravated range of minimum durations if the court finds pursuant to G.S. 15A-1340.16 that an aggravated sentence of imprisonment is justified; in such a case, any minimum term of imprisonment in the aggravated range is permitted. The aggravated range is the higher of the three ranges in the cell.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO AMEND THE FINANCE LAWS OF THE STATE.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. This act affects the borrowing and taxing power of the State.

SECTION 2. This act is effective when it becomes law.

HOUSE BILL 1281 (PCS): New Prisons/Structured Sentencing

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	House Finance	Sponsor:	Rep. Luebke
Date:	June 24, 2003	Analysis by:	Martha H. Harris
Version:	Draft		Staff Attorney

SUMMARY: Would authorize the State to enter into lease-purchase contracts to build two new prisons (Section 1) and would make the following changes to the Structured Sentencing Act effective December 1, 2003, as recommended by the North Carolina Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission:

1. Calculate increases between record levels using a set percentage in order to provide proportionality to the increases in sentence lengths based on prior record levels, as provided in the Felony Punishment Chart (Section 2).
2. Reallocate 3 months from the minimum sentence to the maximum sentence in felony classes B1 through E and builds those 3 months into the post-release supervision period by increasing that period from 9 to 12 months (Sections 2, 3, and 4).
3. Restructure the prior record level point ranges by increasing the number of points required to move up to Level II, III, or IV (Sections 5 and 6).

New Prisons: In 2001, the General Assembly authorized lease-purchase financing of three new 1000-cell close security prisons. Section 1(a) of this bill would authorize two more substantially identical prisons. Section 1(b) provides that if construction begins before January 1, 2004, and the plans have been approved by the Department of Insurance, the 1996-1999 version of the Building Code applies.

The State may first try to negotiate a contract for these new prisons with the same company that is building the 2001 prisons. If the Secretary of Administration and the Council of State find that the negotiations have failed to produce a reasonable price, the State would solicit the projects using a similar procedure as for the 2001 prisons.

Unlike with the 2001 prisons, the initial construction loan will not be obtained by the vendor on a private, taxable basis. The entire cost, including construction, will be financed by the State with tax-exempt obligations. The prisons are exempt from property taxes both during and after construction.

The bill provides that a nonprofit corporation controlled by the State will work with the Department of Correction to contract directly with the construction contractor for construction of the prisons and will lease the prisons to the State under a lease-purchase agreement. The nonprofit corporation would finance the costs by selling tax-exempt obligations known as certificates of participation (COPs). The COPs would represent interests in the nonprofit corporation's rights to receive the lease payments under the lease-purchase agreement with the State. The COPs would be secured by a lien on the property, not by a pledge of the State's full faith and credit. The COPs would be paid from the State's lease-purchase payments over the course of 20 years.

Because the construction contract is technically between a private, nonprofit corporation and the construction contractor, the Attorney General's Office has determined that requirements for public bidding of construction would not apply. The new prisons are to be substantially identical to the 2001 prisons, so the State and the nonprofit corporation will first try to negotiate a contract with the existing construction contractor to build the two new prisons. If, in the opinion of the Secretary of Administration and the Council of State, the terms of the proposed negotiated contract are not favorable to the State, the Department of Correction will solicit for the construction of the two new prisons. In this situation, the Department of Correction would be required to consult with the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations before making a final award decision. The final award decision would also be subject to the approval of the Council of State.

The prisons would be required to be built in accordance with plans and specifications developed by the Department of Correction, and the Department of Correction and the State Construction Office would inspect and review the facilities during construction to ensure that they are suitable for use and acquisition by the State. The minority participation requirements of G.S. 143-128.2 apply to these projects.

The lease-purchase agreement would be between the nonprofit corporation and the State. Under the agreement, which must be approved by the Council of State and the State Treasurer, the State would make lease-purchase payments to the nonprofit corporation, which would use the funds to retire the COPs. The COPs would be secured by a lien on the property and the State's failure to make payments could result in its eviction from the property. The State Treasurer would determine the price to be paid for the COPs and the rate of interest to be paid on them. The State would retain the option of refinancing the debt if interest rates fall. The State would also retain the option of paying off its obligations and purchasing the property before the end of the lease-purchase period. Under the lease-purchase agreement, the State will own the facilities at the end of the lease term. The nonprofit corporation that issues the COPs would be subject to the Public Records Act and the Open Meetings Law.

Modify Sentence Lengths:

Part of the changes to G.S. 15A-1340.17(c) made by Section 2 of the bill restore proportionality to the increases in sentence lengths based on prior record levels, as provided in the Felony Punishment Chart. This is accomplished by using a set percentage increase across prior record levels. Level I minimum range sentence lengths would remain unchanged; the minimum range sentence lengths between each subsequent prior record level would be increased by 15% in all felony classes except Classes H and I. These changes should reduce sentences for a small percentage of offenders but for most offenders the sentences should remain the same or increase.

Extend Post-Release Supervision Period:

Under current law, post-release supervision is a 9-month mandatory period for felony classes B1 through E. If supervision is revoked, the offender is returned to custody for the supervision period. Sections 2 through 4 of this bill would increase the post-release supervision period for these felonies to 12 months. This is done within the structured sentencing grid by reallocating 3 months from the minimum sentence to the maximum sentence and allowing those 3 months to be deducted from the maximum sentence, along with the existing 9 months, for release.

Restructure Prior Criminal Record Points: Under current law, the sentencing judge uses the offender's prior record level in the process of determining a sentence. The prior record level is based upon the number of "points" the offender has for prior convictions. The more points, the higher the level, and the longer the sentence. Sections 5 and 6 of this bill increase the number of points it takes to get to Levels II, III, and IV. Under current law, only offenders with no points qualify for Level I. Under the bill, an offender with up to 2 points stays in Level I rather than moving to Level II. Likewise, under the bill, an offender stays at Level II with up to 6 points, rather than moving to Level III with more than 4 points as under current law. Finally, under the bill, an offender with up to 10 points stays at Level III, rather than moving to Level IV with more than 8 points as under current law. The effect of these changes would be that some offenders could receive less active time due to being in a lower level than under current law.

Points for prior convictions are assigned according to the degree of the offense, as follows:

(1) For each prior felony Class A conviction, 10 points.
(1a) For each prior felony Class B1 conviction, 9 points.
(2) For each prior felony Class B2, C, or D conviction, 6 points.
(3) For each prior felony Class E, F, or G conviction, 4 points.
(4) For each prior felony Class H or I conviction, 2 points.
(5) For each prior misdemeanor conviction, 1 point.

A misdemeanor is defined as any Class A1 and Class 1 nontraffic misdemeanor offense, impaired driving (G.S. 20-138.1), impaired driving in a commercial vehicle (G.S. 20-138.2), and misdemeanor death by vehicle (G.S. 20-141.4(a2)), but not any other misdemeanor traffic offense under Chapter 20 of the General Statutes.

NOTE: L/P cost over 20 years of $363.87 is approximately $27 million dollars below estimate of $391 M for vendor financed construction based solely on interest rate differences for long-term financing if COPS are issued this summer. Savings of up to a $50 million total are possible due to anticipated savings for the State in construction financing rates and issuance costs compared to a private vendor. HOUSE FINANCE COMMITTEE
June 2, 2003

Presentation to the House Finance Committee by Staff of the North Carolina Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission

1. Introducing the NC Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission:

   Established in 1990 to be an expert body on sentencing;
   Represents the broad spectrum of criminal justice practitioners, courts, defense and prosecution, corrections, victims, citizens.

   As directed by the General Assembly, it developed the blueprint for Structured Sentencing, which was enacted by the General Assembly in 1993 and implemented in 1994.

   Structured Sentencing, with a rational and structured approach, restored consistency, certainty and truth in sentencing, and prioritized the use of resources to incarcerate violent and repeat offenders.

2. The Sentencing Commission was created not only to recommend sentencing policy, but to monitor the resources needed to match these policies. It is mandated to produce (and update annually) long-range projections for correctional resource needs and report them annually to the General Assembly. (Accuracy: within 1/3-1/2 of one percent each year.)

   For several years, these forecasts were pointing to a looming shortage of prison beds needed within the next ten years. (On May 26, 2003 there were 33,514 offenders in prison + 939 backlogged in jail = 34,453, only 127 away from the 34,570 projected by the Sentencing Commission for June 30, 2003.) The projected bed need for 2012 is 42,413, approximately 7,700 beds short of the 34,729 bed capacity, which includes the three new prisons authorized and expected to come on line in 2004.

   The rational structure of Structured Sentencing and the ability to project resource needs are a mechanism that enables legislators and other policy makers to balance sentencing policy with financial resources.

3. In recognition of the availability of this planning tool, the General Assembly directed the Sentencing Commission in Section 25.8 of Session Law 2001-424 to review Structured Sentencing for inconsistencies in the law and its application, specifically "in view of the projected growth in the prison population by 2010." The Commission was further directed to "develop sentencing alternatives for consideration by the General Assembly."

4. The Sentencing Commission studied and deliberated the issues for over a year, taking into account public safety and the principles of fair and proportionate punishment, and voted to present, in a May 2002 report, six options for consideration by the General Assembly. These six options, were they all passed into law, would reduce—but still not eliminate—the future need for additional beds. The projected savings by 2012 would be approximately 4,600 beds.

5. Following is a broad-brush description of the four options that would impact future prison resources:

- Restructure the way prior convictions impact an offender's current penalty — projected bed saving within 10 yrs.: 1,916.
- Make the punishment for current convictions increase more proportionately to prior convictions — projected bed saving within 10 yrs.: 1,306.
- Shift three months from the minimum sentence for violent offenders to extend their post-release supervision from nine months to a year, in order to facilitate their successful reentry into society — projected bed saving within 10 yrs.: 613.
- Preserve the habitual felon law and continue to require prison for all habitual felons. Punish habitual felons with a current violent offense at the existing level; punish habitual felons with a current non-violent offense at three offense levels higher than the underlying current offense — projected bed saving within 10 yrs.: 1,763.

6. These four options, as noted, would have sizeable impact on prison populations. While they would reduce the length of incarceration for some offenders, they would leave the vast majority of felons in cells providing either a mandatory or discretionary prison sentence. Based on estimates, of all violent felons currently sentenced to prison only four percent would become eligible for a discretionary community sentence (and only one percent of non-violent felons). The long-term bed savings would come from a change in the average time to be served by violent felons from 115 months to 98 months (from 14 months to 13 months for non-violent felons.)

Structured Sentencing is a rational system of sentencing North Carolina's offenders, and provides a powerful tool for you to weigh your options in allocating scarce resources — including additional prison construction and possible changes to sentencing policies as outlines in the Commission alternatives.

House Committee on Finance

Minutes

June 26, 2003

The House Committee on Finance met on Thursday, June 26, 2003 at 8:30 am in Room 544 of the Legislative Office Building. The following members were present: Chairpersons G. Allen, Howard, Luebke, Miner, and Wainwright; Vice-Chairs Alexander, Decker, Gibson, and Hill; Representatives Blackwood, Bordsen, Capps, Carney, Creech, Ellis, Glazier, Hackney, Holliman, Jones, Lewis, McCombs, McGee, Munford, Rayfield, Ross, Starnes, Weiss, C. Wilson, Womble, and Wood. Also present were Sergeant-at-Arms Bob Fowler, Bill Freeman, Dusty Rhodes, and Walter Spell. Staff persons present included Richard Bostic, Martha Harris, Linda Millsaps, Alexi Pavlichev, Mary Shuping, and Martha Walston. The Agenda and Visitor Registration Sheet are attached and incorporated into these minutes as attachments 1 and 2.

Chairman Wainwright called the meeting to order at 8:34 am and proceeded to recognize the six (6) pages present: (1) Caitlin Cauley of Pender County, sponsored by Representative Justice; (2) Justin Edelman of Cumberland County, sponsored by Representative Glazier; (3) Forrest Gilliam of Madison County, sponsored by Representative Rapp; (4) Robert Jansen of Gaston County, sponsored by Representative Clary; (5) Shannon Savage of Cleveland Country, sponsored by Representative Clary; and (6) Cameron Young of Lincoln County, sponsored by Representative Kiser.

As the first matter of business, Chairman Wainwright called upon Representative Tolson for the Committee's further discussion of HB 806 – REBATE AND GRANT PROGRAM FOR AFVs (see attachment 3). Representative Howard moved that the Committee adopt the Proposed Committee Substitute (PCS) for HB 806 for consideration and her motion carried without objection. As the bill was displaced intermittently during the June 24, 2003 meeting, Chairman Wainwright recognized Representative Ellis who had a pending amendment before the Committee. Upon being recognized, however, Representative Ellis acted to withdraw his pending amendment and send forth a new 5-page amendment. He then explained that the amendment acted to change the increased registration fee required by the bill to voluntary (similar to his earlier withdrawn amendment) and to create an incentive (tax credit) program for industries in the state that could produce alternative fuels. After this explanation, Representative Ellis then moved adoption of this amendment. Chairman Wainwright then called the matter to a vote. With a call for division among the members, the amendment failed 8 ayes to 10 nays. The Chair next recognized Representative Hill who sent forth a new amendment that acted to restrict rental car companies from receiving the AFV grants provided in the bill. Following some brief discussion on this amendment, Chairman Wainwright called this amendment to a vote. With division being requested once again, Representative Hill's amendment failed 11 ayes to 12 nays. Some discussion between the members and Ms. Sharon Stroud with the State Energy Office then arose. Following this, Chairman Wainwright then recognized Representative Miner, who moved that the PCS for HB 806, incorporating any adopted amendments at earlier meetings, be given a favorable report, and that the original bill be given an unfavorable report. The motion carried with no known dissent.

HB 1149 – NO SALES TAX ON FREE PUBLICATIONS (see attachment 4), sponsored by Representative Nesbitt, was the next bill considered by the Committee. Representative Luebke was recognized and moved that the new PCS for HB 1149 be adopted for the purposes of discussion and the motion carried without dissent. As this bill, too, was temporarily displaced at the June 25, 2003 meeting, the Chair recognized the bill sponsor to explain the new PCS. Representative Nesbitt explained that the new PCS makes provisions to exclude only certain free publications from sales tax, but does relieve the tax burden upon the smaller papers that are most burdened by the tax. He further explained that the need to revise the bill was to lessen the fiscal impact to the General Fund from some $19 million to roughly $5 million. Discussion among the members then ensued. Representative Luebke clearly voiced his support of the bill as currently the large papers are operating tax-free and the smaller papers are not. Representative Holliman was then recognized. He moved that HB 1149 be given a favorable report as to the PCS, an unfavorable report as to the original bill. Upon the Chair's call, the motion carried by consent.

Chairman Wainwright next recognized Senator Jenkins for explanation of SB 592 – ENGINEERS/ACQUIRE PROPERTY/RAISE CIV. PENALTY (see attachment 5). The Senator briefly noted that the bill was requested by the Board of Engineers, was non-controversial, and allowed the Board to acquire property as any other entity and raised the penalties associated with a breach of civil procedure. He also stated that the bill, once passed by the Legislature, required approval from both the Governor and the Council of State. Representative Gibson was recognized following the Senator's explanation and moved for a favorable report on SB 592. Representative Womble, however, was first recognized by Chairman Wainwright and expressed his concern over the doubling of the civil penalties and fees. Mr. Andy Ritter, Executive Director of the North Carolina Engineer's Examining Board, was present and addressed Representative Womble's concern, explaining that the penalties are set at an amount to make sure that the problem which occurred does not occur again. Representative Decker was also recognized and stated that high civil penalties additionally act as a deterrent from problems in the first place. Representative Gibson then reiterated his earlier motion and Chairman Wainwright called the motion to a vote. The motion carried.

The Chairman called upon Representative G. Allen, on behalf of Senator Hoyle, to explain SB 679 – MODIFY STATE FINANCING LAWS (see attachment 6). Representative Howard was first recognized and moved that the House PCS for SB 679 be adopted for discussion purposes. The motion carried without objection. As the bill was then properly before the Committee, Chairman Wainwright recognized Representative G. Allen to explain the bill. Representative G. Allen then deferred to Martha Harris (from Staff) who reviewed the Bill Analysis for the Committee members (see attachment 6). The Chair then once again recognized Representative G. Allen who acted to send forth a technical amendment and move its adoption. Without discussion, the Chair called the matter to a vote and the amendment was adopted by consent. Ms. Janice Burke, Deputy State Treasurer and Secretary of the Local Government Commission, was also recognized by the Chairman and spoke in high support of the bill. Following some other brief discussion, Representative Ross was recognized and moved that SB 679 be given a favorable report as to the House PCS and an unfavorable report as to the Senate Committee Substitute Bill. Chairman Wainwright then called the vote, and the motion carried by consent.

The Committee considered HB 1072 – REGULATE TICKET BROKERS (see attachment 7), sponsored by Representatives Miner and Gibson, next on its calendar. Chairman Wainwright recognized the sponsors for explanation of the bill. Representative Miner noted that a great deal of work had gone into making this bill work well for as many parties as possible. Representative Gibson explained that the bill acts to provide regulation over ticket brokers (a.k.a. "scalpers") who participate in selling tickets for events throughout North Carolina. He further noted that the bill would require an official registration of brokers and charge a standard tax, to be collected for the State, on brokers for each ticket sold. Representative Gibson also confirmed the support of those involved in the industry, stating that they "want to do what's right." Chairman Wainwright recognized Representative Womble who proceeded to express his concern that this bill was doing nothing more than legalizing ticket scalping. He stated that he hoped the bill contained ample provisions to truly regulate those participating in ticket brokering/scalping. He also stated his concern, however, that despite this bill, even people who are not registered with the state could just continue to buy and then sell tickets anyway. Representative Hackney was then recognized and expressed similar concerns that large companies would be allowed to buy up large numbers of tickets and then sell them for whatever they wished. He was then recognized to send forth his first of three amendments. This amendment acted to exclude "college athletic events" from the provisions of the bill. Representatives Gibson and Creech were both recognized to speak against this amendment, noting that there were large amounts of money that the State could collect from the sale of tickets (and the taxes collected on those sold tickets). Chairman Wainwright then called Representative Hackney's first amendment to a vote and the amendment was adopted. The Chair once again recognized Representative Hackney to send forth his second amendment. He explained that this amendment acted to limit the brokerage fee that could be collected from the sale of tickets to a standard $5.00 fee, noting that his amendment's intent was to place a tight cap on the amount registered brokers could profit on the sale of a ticket. The current fee assessed on the sale of each ticket is only $3.00. The Chair then recognized Representative Ross who expressed her concern that the second Hackney amendment would end up costing everyone, even those persons purchasing tickets through "normal" channels such as Ticket master, more for each ticket. Acknowledging this point, the Chair again recognized Representative Hackney who moved then to delete the last four lines from his second amendment (striking the section from Page 9). He then moved adoption of this newly altered amendment. Without further discussion, Chairman Wainwright called the vote and the amendment was adopted. Representative Hackney was then recognized to send forth his third amendment, which acted to allow a "promoter" to restrict the presence of ticket brokers at their events. The Chair recognized Representative Munford who vehemently opposed the amendment, stating that ticket brokers are often the only means by which individuals can receive the better tickets; otherwise, those tickets would be exclusively reserved to the elite of society. Representative Hackney, however, stated that the promoters should have this right, as they have incurred the costs of arranging and hosting the event. Representative Creech was then recognized and spoke against the amendment, noting that should it pass, there would be no business available for brokers at many events. Chairman Wainwright then called the third Hackney amendment to a vote and the amendment was adopted. Representative Ross was recognized next to send forth yet another amendment, which would limit the amount a broker could charge for a ticket to 200 percent of the ticket's value. Representative Hackney was then recognized and stated his opposition to Representative Ross' amendment but offered a perfecting amendment to limit the amount that brokers could charge to 100 percent of the face value of a ticket. Upon the Chair's call, Representative Hackney's perfecting amendment was adopted. Chairman Wainwright then called Representative Ross' amendment to a vote, and the amendment was adopted as perfected. Final Debate on the bill was then called by the Chair. Representative Hackney was then recognized for his final comments on the bill. He stated his contention that the system was fine just as it is and that this bill acts only to interfere with event promoters' ticket distribution policies. The Chair also recognized Representative Starnes who stated his belief that this bill did nothing more than make ticket scalping legal. Representative Gibson was recognized last and explained to the Committee that the only issue that should be under debate is whether or not ticket brokering should be regulated. He assured the members that indeed ticket scalping was a problem and regulation was needed. Representative Gibson then acted to move that HB 1072 receive a favorable report as to a new PCS, incorporating all adopted amendments, and an unfavorable report as to the existing Committee Substitute bill. Chairman Wainwright then called the motion to a vote and by 10 ayes to 13 nays, the motion failed. Thus, no report will be issued on HB 1072.

As the final matter of business on the Committee's agenda, Chairman Wainwright recognized Representative Luebke to speak on HB 1281 – AMEND FINANCE LAWS-4 (LEASE-PURCHASE THREE NEW PRISONS) (see attachment 8). This bill was pulled as a section from the Senate budget into a separate bill (SB 227) and has been rewritten into a House PCS at the request of Representative Luebke. (The issue has also already been discussed at length by the Committee during the May 29, 2003 and June 2, 2003 meetings.) Chairman Wainwright then explained that the debate of this bill would be for discussion only and recognized Representative Alexander who moved that the PCS for HB 1281 be adopted for consideration. Her motion carried without objection. Representative Luebke then explained that his version of the bill was a "tough on crime bill" and a "wise on tax dollars" bill. He explained that through sentence restructuring, as recommended by the North Carolina Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission (NCSPAC), the State could afford to build only two prisons instead of three. Representative Luebke then requested that the Chair recognize Staff as well as Ms. Susan Katzenelson, Executive Director of the NCSPAC, to further discuss the details of the bill.

In the midst of this discussion, Chairman Wainwright interjected to inform members of the Committee that a mandatory Caucus meeting had been called at 12:00 noon. As a result of this meeting and the convening of the House for session at 1:00 pm, Chairman Wainwright announced that the continued discussion of this matter would have to be rescheduled. Without delay, the Chair then adjourned the meeting at 11:41 am.

Respectfully submitted,

HOUSE BILL 806:
Rebate and Grant Program for AFVs.

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	House Finance	Introduced by:	Rep. Tolson
Date:	June 23, 2003	Summary by:	Trina Griffin and Martha Walston
Version:	PCS for 1st Edition H806-CSSVf-26		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: The Proposed Committee Substitute for House Bill 806 creates the Alternative Fuel and Vehicle Rebate and Infrastructure Grant Program, funded by a $1.00 increase in vehicle registration fees for the first 3 years of the program, and by an additional $1.00 increase for the remaining 7 years of the program. The program would provide rebates to first-time purchasers of AFVs, rebates for State taxes paid on the incremental costs of alternative motor fuels, and grants for the construction of AFV infrastructure projects.

The following amendments to the Proposed Committee Substitute were adopted in House Finance on June 17:

- A $1 fee will be paid to DMV upon initial registration or renewal of passenger vehicles and self-propelled property-hauling vehicles. This fee is in addition to the annual registration fees, and will be used to fund the alternative Fuel and Vehicle Rebate and Infrastructure Program. (The PCS provides that for the first 3 years of the Program, the additional fee would be $1; and for the remaining 7 years of the Program, the additional fee would be $2.)
- The rules of the Program shall provide that State and local government entities are not eligible for rebates or grants under the Program.
- The act shall expire on January 1, 2007. (The proposed committee substitute has a sunset of January 1, 2014.)

CURRENT LAW: An alternative fuel vehicle is a vehicle that operates using a source other than gasoline or diesel fuel, such as electricity, natural gas, hydrogen, ethanol, methanol, or fuels derived from biological materials. There are currently no benefits provided by the State, such as tax credits or rebates, for the purchase or use of alternative fuel vehicles or for the use of alternative fuels. North Carolina does offer a corporate tax credit for building an alternative fuel generating facility, such as an ethanol or biodiesel plant.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Purpose of Program

House Bill 806 creates the "Alternative Fuel and Vehicle Rebate and Infrastructure Grant Program" (Program). The State Energy Office, which is a division of the Department of Administration, would administer the Alternative Fuel Rebate and Infrastructure Grant Program. The bill authorizes the State Energy Office to issues rules that would govern the administration of the program. Among other things, the rules would establish the procedures for providing:

- Partial rebates to first owners for incremental cost differences for eligible alternative fueled and hybrid vehicles.
- Limited rebates for State taxes paid on the incremental costs of alternative motor fuels.

- Grants for alternative motor fuel infrastructure projects.

Funding of Program

For the first 3 years of the program, the grants and rebates would be funded from a $1.00 increase in the vehicle registration fee for motor vehicles registered in this State. For the remaining 7 years of the program, it would be funded from an additional $1.00 increase, for a total of a $2.00 increase during those 7 years. (See amendment which keeps the additional fee at $1.00). However, commitments to rebates and grants may never exceed available funds. The bill directs the State Energy Office to establish a cap on the number and amounts of rebates based on the availability of funds. Up to 5% of the funds collected would be shared by both the State Energy Office and DMV for administrative costs. Up to 10% of the funds collected may be used for education and awareness of the applications and advantages of alternative fuels and vehicles.

Reporting Requirements

The Division of Motor Vehicles would be required to provide to the State Energy Office quarterly reports of all registered motor vehicles identified by fuel type. The State Energy Office would be required to provide an annual report on the expenditure of funds associated with the program and the number of alternative fuel vehicles registered in North Carolina to the Joint Legislative Transportation Oversight Committee.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill becomes effective when it becomes law. The State Energy Office must issue rules to implement the program on or before January 1, 2004. The act would expire on January 1, 2014. (See amendment which changes the sunset to January 1, 2007).

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act is effective when it becomes law. Rules are to be adopted by SEO on or before January 1, 2004. The act expires January 1, 2007.

BILL SUMMARY:
The bill establishes an alternative fuel and alternative fuel vehicle rebate program to be administered by the State Energy Office in the Department of Administration. The program will provide partial rebates to first owners for incremental cost differences for eligible alternative fueled and hybrid vehicles, limited rebates for State taxes paid on incremental costs of alternative motor fuels, and grants for alternative motor fuel infrastructure projects. The program would be funded by adding $1 to all vehicle registration fees for the three years of the program. A maximum of 5% of the funds collected can be used by the State Energy Office and DMV to administer the program. A maximum of 10% of the funds collected may be used by the State Energy Office for education and awareness about applications and advantages of alternative fuels and vehicles. The program is to include a cap on the number and amount of rebates and grants to limit them to the available funds. State and local governments are not eligible for grants or rebates from the program. The State Energy Office is to issue rules implementing the program on or before January 1, 2004.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:
Expenditures
DMV's expenditures during FY03-04 to prepare for the program include modifying the STARS (State Titling and Registration System) for plate fee calculation, updating the fiscal and other reports it prepares to capture the information required, and creation of the quarterly report specified in the bill. DMV estimates the cost of these activities as 300 professional hours times $80 per hour, or $24,000, plus computer overhead charges of $2,400, for a total of $26,400. During the actual operation of the program, DMV's costs are expected to be nominal and thus no estimate is shown.

During the first half of FY03-04, the State Energy Office (SEO) will be developing the rules for the program. SEO indicates that it can absorb the costs of the rule making process. Starting on January 1, 2004, when the rules have been adopted and the program is in operation, SEO estimates its expenditures as $228,732 per year for administration, as follows:

Program Manager	$50,000
Program Associate	40,000
Administrative Assistant	30,000
Accounting Technician	32,000
Public Info Officer (1/4 time)	11,000

For FY 03-04, the total will be one half of this amount. The operating costs for DMV and SEO are within the 5% allotted by HB 806 for program administration. In addition, the bill provides that SEO may use up to 10% of the funds collected for education and awareness.

Revenues

DMV estimates that the $1 fee will affect 8,068,737 vehicles in the first full year and that the number of vehicles affected will increase by 2% per year. It will take DMV approximately two months to complete the programming on their STARS system to accommodate the $1 increase in registration fees. Assuming an August 1 enactment date, the collection of the additional dollar could begin on October 1, 2003. That would give the program nine months of revenue or $6,051,553 (75% X 8,068,737 vehicles X $1). Since the program ends on January 1, 2007, the FY 2006-07 revenue estimate is for the six months from July 1, 2006 to December 31, 2006.

Rental Car Companies and Taxation

Rental car companies already pay $40.00 for tags versus $20.00 for personal vehicles.

Rental car customers pay 8% gross receipts tax for the Highway Trust Fund.

Rental car companies pay 3% gross receipts tax in lieu of property taxes for municipalities and counties.

Rental car customers pay additional taxes of 5% for mass transit in several urban counties, such as Wake, Orange, Durham, Guilford and Forsyth.

Rental car companies pay taxes to support airport operations if they are on site. It varies from airport to airport but an example is 11% at RDU.

Some counties already impose an additional tag fee on all vehicles, including rental vehicles.

The industry and our customers are subjected to many levels of taxation, which, all totaled, have negatively affected rental car businesses. Several major rental car companies have merged, been bought out, or have filed for bankruptcy due to reduced business activity.

HOUSE BILL 1149 (PCS):
No Sales Tax on Certain Free Publications

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee: House Finance
Date: June 25, 2003
Version: Draft

Sponsor: Rep. Nesbitt
Analysis by: Martha H. Harris
Staff Attorney

SUMMARY: The proposed committee substitute for HB 1149 would exempt from the sales and use tax paper, ink, and other tangible personal property used by commercial printers and publishers to print free distribution periodicals and the sales by printers of these free distribution periodicals to the publishers. It would become effective July 1, 2004.

CURRENT LAW: Under current law, supplies (paper, ink, and other tangible personal property) purchased to print free publications are subject to sales and use tax. Before October 1, 1999, there was a sales tax exemption for paper, ink, and other tangible personal property purchased by commercial printers and publishers for use as component parts in free circulation publications that contained advertising of a general nature. The exemption applied to general shoppers guides, but not to more specialized guides, such as real estate guides. (The statute specifically required that the free circulation publication contain advertising of a general nature.) The exemption was repealed because it was believed to be unconstitutional. The First Amendment of the federal Constitution generally does not allow a state to discriminate between publications based on content. A 1987 United States Supreme Court decision confirmed that the Constitution does not permit a tax break limited to certain publications based on their content.[1] To be constitutional, the exemption needed to be expanded to include all free circulation publications or it needed to be repealed. The 1999 General Assembly chose to repeal the sales tax exemption, effective October 1, 1999. The result was that supplies used to print all free publications became subject to sales tax on a uniform basis.

HOUSE BILL 1149: The proposed committee substitute for House Bill 1149 would reinstate the sales tax exemption on the supplies used to print free circulation publications and modify the exemption to include any free publication regardless of its content if it meets the following conditions:

- It is published on a periodic basis at monthly or more frequent intervals.
- It is distributed to the recipient in any manner other than by mail.

[1] In Arkansas Writer's Project, Inc. v. Ragland, 481 US 221 (1987), the U.S. Supreme Court invalidated an Arkansas sales tax scheme that taxed general interest magazines but exempted single topic printed material. The N.C. tax exemption operated just the opposite: it taxed component parts used in single topic advertising publications but exempted component parts used in advertising publications that contained advertising of a general nature. Thus, the N.C. exemption was apparently equally unconstitutional.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act becomes effective July 1, 2003, and applies to sales made on or after that date.

* Assumes 4% state sales and use tax rate as of July 1, 2003.
 Assumes 2.5% local sales and use tax rate as of July 1, 2003.

BILL SUMMARY: This bill exempts from the state and local sales and use tax the paper, ink, and other ingredients used to produce free circulation publications published on a periodic basis monthly or more frequently and is distributed in a manner other than mail.

BACKGROUND: Prior law granted a sales tax exemption for sales of paper, ink, and other tangible personal property to commercial printers and publishers for use as component parts in free circulation publications that contained advertising of a general nature. The exemption applied to general shoppers guides but not to more specialized publications such as real estate guides. The First Amendment of the United States Constitution does not allow a state to discriminate between publications based on their content. The prior law exemption clearly violated this rule by exempting guides with general content but not those with narrower content. Section 10 of Senate Bill 1112 (S.L. 1999-438) repealed the exemption, effective October 1, 1999, so that supplies sold for all free publications are subject to tax on a uniform basis.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:
Prior to the 2000 Session of the General Assembly, Department of Revenue field auditors were asked to collect free publications from their regions and forward them by courier mail to the central office in Raleigh. These documents were used to estimate the annual statewide sales volumes of free publications. The Tax Research Division of the Department of Revenue used the estimated sales data for free publications, as well as sales and use tax collections data and information from the North Carolina Press Association to estimate the fiscal impact of a proposed tax exemption. The Department has studied a free publication court case in Florida and determined that periodic free publications also includes telephone books and items distributed by mail such as packages of coupons, business newsletters, manuals, catalogues, and other advertising. In an October 3, 2001, memo to the General Assembly's Fiscal Research Division, the Tax Research Division estimated the following General Fund revenue loss from exempting all free circulation publications based on the 4.5% state sales tax:

	State Sales Tax (millions)
Items not distributed by mail	$ 5.6
Items distributed by mail	12.8
Telephone books	1.0
Total	$19.4

Since this bill does not include items distributed by mail or items published less frequently than monthly, like phone books, then the fiscal impact is reduced to $5.6 million General Fund loss at a 4.5% tax rate. Given that the state sales tax will be 4% as of July 1, 2003, and no budget action has yet been taken to extend the 4.5% tax rate, this fiscal analysis will assume a 4% state sales tax rate. The bill also has a local government impact. By July 1, 2003, all 100 counties will have adopted an additional half-cent sales tax, thus, a 2.5% local sales tax rate is used. No growth rate was assumed for future years due to the lack of market information for free publications. The revised cost of this bill is shown below using a 4% state sales tax rate and a 2.5% local rate.

	State Sales Tax (4%) (millions)	Local Sales Tax (2.5%) (millions)
Exempt items not distributed by mail	$ 4.98	$3.11

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE NORTH CAROLINA STATE BOARD OF EXAMINERS FOR ENGINEERS AND SURVEYORS TO ACQUIRE REAL PROPERTY, AND TO INCREASE THE CIVIL PENALTY ON ENGINEERS FROM TWO THOUSAND DOLLARS TO FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS FOR VIOLATIONS OF THE NORTH CAROLINA ENGINEERING AND LAND SURVEYING ACT AND CLARIFYING THE REINSTATEMENT REQUIREMENTS UNDER THE ACT.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 89C-10 is amended by adding the following new subsection to read:

"(i) The Board shall have the power to acquire, hold, rent, encumber, alienate, and otherwise deal with real property in the same manner as a private person or corporation, subject only to approval of the Governor and the Council of State. Collateral pledged by the Board for an encumbrance is limited to the assets, income, and revenues of the Board."

SECTION 2. G.S. 89C-21(c) reads as rewritten:

"(c) The Board may levy a civil penalty not in excess of ~~two thousand dollars ($2,000)~~five thousand dollars ($5,000) for any engineer or not in excess of two thousand dollars ($2,000) for any land surveyor who violates any of the provisions of subdivisions (1) through (4) of subsection (a) of this section. The clear proceeds of all civil penalties collected by the Board, including civil penalties collected pursuant to G.S. 89C-22(c), shall be remitted to the Civil Penalty and Forfeiture Fund in accordance with G.S. 115C-457.2."

SECTION 3. G.S. 89C-17 reads as rewritten:

"§ 89C-17. Expirations and renewals of certificates.

Certificates for licensure of corporations and business firms that engage in the practice of engineering or land surveying shall expire on the last day of the month of June following their issuance or renewal and shall become invalid on that date unless renewed. All other certificates for licensure shall expire on the last day of the month of December next following their issuance or renewal, and shall become invalid on that date unless renewed. When necessary to protect the public health, safety, or welfare, the Board shall require any evidence necessary to establish the continuing competency of engineers and land surveyors as a condition of renewal of licenses. When the Board is satisfied as to the continuing competency of an applicant, it shall issue a renewal of the certificate upon payment by the applicant of a fee fixed by the Board but not to exceed seventy-five dollars ($75.00). The secretary of the Board shall notify by mail every person licensed under this Chapter of the date of expiration of the certificate, the amount of the fee required for its renewal for one year, and any requirement as to evidence of continued competency. The notice shall be mailed at least one month in advance of the expiration date of the certificate. Renewal shall be effected at any time during the month immediately following the month of expiration, by payment to the secretary of the Board of a renewal fee, as determined by the Board, which shall not exceed seventy-five dollars ($75.00). Failure on the part of any ~~registrant~~ licensee to renew the certificate annually in the month immediately following the month of expiration, as required above, shall deprive the ~~registrant~~ licensee of the right to practice until ~~renewal has been effected. Renewal may be effected at any time during the first 12 months immediately following its invalidation by payment of the established renewal fee and a late penalty of one hundred dollars ($100.00).~~ reinstatement of the license. The license may be reinstated at anytime during the first 12 months immediately following the date the license became invalid by payment of a reinstatement fee of one hundred dollars ($100.00) in addition to the established renewal fee. Failure of a licensee to ~~renew~~ reinstate the license ~~for a period of 12 months~~ during the first 12 months immediately following the date the license became invalid shall require the individual, prior to resuming practice in North Carolina, to submit an application on the prescribed form, and to meet all other requirements for licensure as set forth in Chapter 89C. The secretary of the Board is instructed to remove from the official roster of engineers and land surveyors the names of all licensees who have not effected their renewal by the first day of the month immediately following the renewal period. The Board may adopt rules to provide for renewals in distress or hardship cases due to military service, prolonged illness, or prolonged absence from the State, where the applicant for renewal demonstrates to the Board that the applicant has maintained active knowledge and professional status as an engineer or land surveyor, as the case may be. It shall be the responsibility of each licensee to inform the Board promptly concerning change in address. A licensee may request and be granted inactive status. No inactive licensee may practice in this State unless otherwise exempted in this Chapter. A licensee granted inactive status shall pay annual renewal fees but shall not be subject to annual continuing professional competency requirements. A licensee granted inactive status may return to active status by meeting all requirements of the Board, including demonstration of continuing professional competency as a condition of reinstatement."

SENATE BILL 592:
Engineers/Acquire Property/Raise Civil Penalty

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	House Finance	Introduced by:	Senator Jenkins
Date:	June 25, 2003	Summary by:	Mary Shuping
Version:	3rd edition		Legislative Analyst

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 592 authorizes the Board of Examiners for Engineers and Surveyors to acquire real property, raises the civil penalty for engineers, and clarifies the late fee for reinstatement.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Section 1. Acquisition of Real Property: Senate Bill 592 authorizes the Board to acquire, hold, rent, encumber, alienate and otherwise deal with real property in the same manner as a private person or corporation. However, prior to entering into any real property transactions, the Board is required to obtain approval from the Governor and the Council of State. Collateral pledged by the Board for encumbrance is limited to the assets, income, and revenues of the Board. This authority is identical to that given to several other occupational licensing Boards.

Section 2. Civil Penalty Increase: The bill increases the amount of civil penalty the Board may levy for engineers from $2,000 to $5,000. The bill maintains the current $2,000 cap for land surveyors. Civil penalties levied by occupational licensing boards vary in amount; however, several other boards have the authority to levy a $5,000 civil penalty, including the Geologists Licensing Board and the Board of Veterinary Medicine. Civil penalties levied by the Board are required to be remitted to the Civil Penalty and Forfeiture Fund.

Section 3. Reinstatement Late Fee: Currently, the Board requires licensees to renew their licensees annually by January 1st; however, the Board also grants a 30-day grace period. Renewal after the grace period requires the payment of an additional $100 "penalty" in addition to the renewal fee. The bill clarifies that the $100 payment is a reinstatement fee, rather than a penalty. The bill does not increase the current fee.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act would become effective when it becomes law.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: N. C. State Board of Examiners for Engineers and Surveyors

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

BILL SUMMARY: Allows the North Carolina State Board of Examiners for Engineers and Surveyors to (1) purchase its own building, (2) raise the civil penalty from $2,000 to $5,000; and (3) change the name of the fee for a delinquent license renewal from penalty to reinstatement fee.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: Section 1 of the bill allows the North Carolina State Board of Examiners for Engineers and Surveyors (Board) to purchase or lease real property, subject to the approval of the Governor and the Council of State. In recent years, this authority to acquire property has been given to other professional boards such as the Licensing Board for General Contractors (1999) and the Board of Examiners of Plumbing, Heating and Fire Sprinkler Contractors (2001). The Board has one and a half years left on its office lease and wants flexibility in obtaining new office space. While this provision will have no fiscal impact on Board revenues, it could allow the Board to reduce its future costs for office space.

Section 2 increases the maximum civil penalty that the Board may impose from $2,000 to $5,000. This penalty was last increased in 1989 (from $500 to $2,000). Civil Penalty proceeds do not benefit the Board, but are deposited into the Civil Penalty and Forfeiture Fund for use by North Carolina public schools. In 2002, the Board deposited $17,000 into the Fund as a result of 14 disciplinary actions. The Board's executive director described 2002 as a typical year for infractions. In any given year, 100 to 125 cases are filed against licensees, 20 to 30 of these cases result in disciplinary actions and approximately 14 of those cases are assessed a civil penalty. No estimate of additional penalty revenue is possible since section 2 only increases the maximum penalty to $5,000 but does not require the Board to assess the higher penalty.

Section 3 renames the $100 fee for delinquent license renewal. Instead of a $100 late penalty, licensees will pay a $100 reinstatement fee. This section has no fiscal impact.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO MODIFY THE PUBLIC FINANCING LAWS OF THE STATE.

Whereas, the State Treasurer's Office formed a Public Finance Advisory Committee comprised of representative city and county governments, as well as the public finance bar and financial services sectors, to review and propose changes to the General Statutes dealing with public finance in an effort to strengthen, modernize, and provide for the most efficient method of issuing of public debt by local governments and other political subdivisions of the State; and,

Whereas, the Public Finance Advisory Committee has developed, and the State Treasurer's Office has reviewed, a set of recommendations to the General Assembly for specific changes to relevant General Statutes around which there is consensus that the proposed changes are beneficial to local governments in their issuance of public debt; and

Whereas, the Local Government Commission remains the statutorily designated entity to which all proposed issuances must be submitted for approval, and these recommendations in no way lower or lessen the level of due diligence performed in determining the appropriateness of a specific issuance; and

Whereas, for these reasons, this legislation is submitted for consideration by the General Assembly on behalf of the State Treasurer, the staff of the Local Government Commission, and the Public Finance Advisory Committee; Now, therefore, The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

(c) Accounts. – ~~Units of local government, as defined in subsection (h),~~ A unit of local government may use escrow accounts in connection with the advance funding of transactions authorized by this section, whereby the proceeds of ~~such~~ the advance funding are invested pending disbursement. (a) Subject to the provisions of this Article, a governmental unit may from time to time purchase, enter into, modify, amend, or terminate one or more swap agreements that it determines are necessary or desirable in connection with the issuance, incurrence, carrying, or securing of obligations. This authorization also includes the authority to enter into modifications or reversals of a swap agreement previously entered into by the governmental unit and the authority to enter into a swap agreement that modifies the interest rate payment calculation method under a swap agreement previously entered into to another interest rate calculation method or that reverses, in whole or in part, the effect of a prior swap agreement on the governmental unit's interest rate cost or risk. A swap agreement entered into by a governmental unit may contain any provisions, including provisions regarding payments, term, termination payments, security, default, and remedies, and may be with any parties, that the governmental unit determines are necessary or desirable.

(b) No governmental unit shall enter into a swap agreement pursuant to this Article other than for the primary purpose of managing interest rate risk on or interest rate costs of its obligations. A swap agreement may provide that the payments thereunder are based upon a fixed or variable interest rate calculation method. A governmental unit shall not engage in the business of acting as a dealer in swap agreements. A swap agreement may be entered into in connection with specific obligations of the governmental unit, which may consist of multiple series or issues of obligations as specified by the governmental unit. The swap agreement may be entered into at a time before, at the same time as, or after, the obligations are issued or incurred by the governmental unit. Each swap agreement may be entered for a notional amount up to, but not exceeding, the principal amount of the obligations with respect to which the swap agreement is entered. A swap agreement may have a term as long as, or less than, the term of the obligations with respect to which the swap agreement is entered.

(c) In connection with entering into a swap agreement, a governmental unit may enter into credit enhancement agreements to secure the obligations of the governmental unit under the swap agreement, with any payment, security, default, remedy, and other terms and conditions that the governmental unit determines, including entering into binding agreements to deliver collateral, either at the time the swap agreement is entered into or at future times under conditions set forth in the swap agreement.

"§ 159-195. Nature of duties of a governmental unit under a swap agreement.

The duty of a governmental unit to make the payments required and to perform the other duties of the governmental unit under a swap agreement shall constitute a continuing contractual obligation of the governmental unit, enforceable in accordance with applicable law for the enforcement of contractual obligations of that governmental unit. A governmental unit may limit its duties under a swap agreement to designated property or a designated source of revenues or receipts of the governmental unit, such as the revenues of a specified utility or other public service enterprise system of the governmental unit. If a governmental unit enters into a swap agreement in connection with obligations that are secured by a designated form of security, then, subject to the terms of the bond order or resolution, trust indenture or trust agreement, installment contract or lease purchase agreement, or similar instrument pursuant to which the obligations are issued or incurred, the governmental unit may pledge, mortgage, or grant a security interest in the revenues of the utility or other public service enterprise system, program, receipts, property, or similar arrangement securing the obligations to secure the payment and performance of its duties under the swap agreement. Any pledge of revenues or receipts to secure the duties of a governmental unit under a swap agreement shall become effective in the same manner and to the same extent as a pledge of those revenues or receipts to secure the obligations with respect to which the swap agreement is entered.

"§ 159-196. Approval by Commission.

(a) Approval Required. – A governmental unit shall not enter into a swap agreement that meets either of the following conditions, unless the Commission first approves the governmental unit's entering into the swap agreement:

(1) The obligations with respect to which the swap agreement is entered into are lease-purchase or installment finance agreements under G.S. 160A-20.

(2) The sale, issuance, or incurrence of the obligations with respect to which the swap agreement is entered into is subject to the approval of the Commission.

(b) Factors. – The Commission may consider all of the following factors in determining whether to approve the swap agreement:

(1) The nature and amount of the outstanding debt of the governmental unit proposing to enter the swap agreement.

(2) The governmental unit's debt management procedures and policies.

(3) To the extent applicable, the governmental unit's compliance with the Local Government Budget and Fiscal Control Act.

(4) Whether the governmental unit is in default in any of its debt service obligations.

(c) Amendments. – If a swap agreement is subject to approval by the Commission pursuant to this section and is approved, then the governmental unit shall not enter into any amendment to the swap agreement that terminates or changes the time period covered by the swap agreement, changes the interest rate calculation method under the swap agreement, or changes the notional amounts covered by the swap agreement without the prior approval of the Secretary of the Commission.

(d) Approval Not Required. – A swap agreement is not subject to approval by the Commission except as provided in this section. This section does not require the approval of the Commission of a swap agreement entered into by a private entity receiving the benefit of financing through the issuance of obligations by a governmental unit.

§ 159-197. Additional method.

This Article provides an additional and alternative method for the doing of the things authorized by it and is supplemental to powers conferred by other laws. This Article does not derogate any existing powers.

"§ 159-198. Severability.

If any provision of this Article or its application is held invalid, the invalidity does not affect other provisions or applications of this Article that can be given effect without the invalid provisions or application, and to this end the provisions of this Article are severable.

"§ 159-199. Validation of preexisting swap agreements.

All proceedings taken by the governing bodies of governmental units in connection with the authorization of swap agreements and all swap agreements entered into by governmental units before the effective date of this Article are ratified.

"§ 159-200. Liberal construction.

This Article, being necessary for the prosperity and welfare of the State and its inhabitants, shall be liberally construed to effect its purposes."

SENATE BILL 679 (PCS): Modify State Financing Laws

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee: House Finance
Date: June 25, 2003
Version: Draft

Sponsor: Sen. Hoyle
Analysis by: Martha H. Harris
Staff Attorney

SUMMARY: The House Committee Substitute for SB 679 makes the following five changes to the State public financing laws, effective when the bill becomes law. All but the first change are being added in the House Committee Substitute. All of the changes were requested by the State Treasurer's Office.

- Authorizes the use of out-of-state banks as well as in-state banks as trustee under a revenue bond order or a trust agreement securing revenue bonds
- Allows term bonds with sinking fund redemptions to satisfy the statutory requirements for maturities
- Exempts refunding bonds from the "four times" rule
- Allows local governments to use installment purchase debt to refinance debt for purposes for which installment debt is currently authorized
- Clarifies and regulates the authority of a local government to enter into an interest rate swap agreement in connection with bond issuance

Out-of-State Trustees: Section 1 of the bill is in response to the recent decline in the number of North Carolina financial institutions offering trustee services as a result of mergers and financial institutions selling their trust businesses. Allowing financial institutions outside of North Carolina to serve as trustee under a revenue bond order or a trust agreement securing revenue bonds gives issuers more choices and also would allow issuers to continue doing business with the same trustee staff person who becomes employed by an out-of-state trustee as a result of a merger or sale of a North Carolina financial institution's trust business.

Revenue bonds are bonds that are secured by and repaid from revenues generated by the facility being financed. For example, parking lots generate parking fees, dorms generate dorm fees, water and sewer infrastructure generates water and sewer fees, etc.

Term Bonds: Under current law, the Local Government Bond Act requires each issue of bonds to mature in annual installments with the first installment being paid no more than three years after the date of the bonds. This means that the only type of bonds that can be issued are serial bonds, in which some mature each year. Section 2 of the bill would change the requirement so that the bonds themselves do not have to mature in annual installments as long as the principal is paid in annual installments beginning within three years of the date of the bonds. Thus, the purpose of the requirement, to provide for regular payments on the debt, is still met. This will allow a choice between serial bonds as under current law and term bonds with "sinking fund" redemptions. Underwriters have indicated that allowing term bonds in addition to serials would expand the investor base by attracting more institutional investors, thereby possibly resulting in lower rates to the issuer.

Four Times Rule: The four times rule provides that no principal installment may be more than four times as great as the smallest prior principal installment. The application of this rule to advance refundings where the refunded bonds are scheduled to mature several years from the issue date means that issuers are often forced to start the maturity of the refunding bonds sooner than would otherwise be required and also may be required to refund some non-callable bonds. This results in increased and unnecessary costs to issuers. Section 2 exempts refunding bonds from the four-times rule and also clarifies the language of the statute.

Installment Purchase Refinancings: Section 3 of the bill would amend the language of the installment purchase ("COPs") statute to clarify that local governments may use installment contracts to refinance debt originally incurred for purposes for which installment contracts are currently authorized.

Installment purchase financing is a type of local government debt in which the local unit enters into an installment contract secured by a security interest in the building constructed or renovated. Unlike the issuance of general obligation bonds, installment purchase financing is not subject to a vote of the people. Certificates of participation may be issued as part of the installment purchase financing. A certificate of participation is a document setting out the share of the local government's debt that is owed to the holder of the certificate. In practice, the holder receives interest and principal payments in a manner similar to interest and principal payments on a bond issued by the borrowing unit.

Interest Rate Swap Agreements: According to the State Treasurer's Office, some North Carolina local governmental units have entered into interest rate swap agreements in connection with the issuance of bonds. While there is no express statutory authority, most, if not all, law firms with a North Carolina bond counsel practice have concluded that local governmental units are authorized to enter into these agreements, based on their general power to contract. Several questions have remained, however, with respect to certain terms of the swap documentation required by financial institutions. Section 4 of the bill addresses those questions in two ways:

1. By specifically authorizing governmental units to enter into swap agreements in connection with the issuance of obligations.
2. By authorizing local governmental units to pledge collateral (concurrently with the entry into the swap transaction or in the future) to secure the local governmental unit's obligations under the swap agreement.

A swap agreement is subject to Local Government Commission approval if the related obligations are subject to its approval or if the related obligations are installment contract debt under G.S. 160A-20. Approval is not required for swap agreements relating to conduit financing, where a local government incurs debt on behalf of a private entity.

(c) Charitable or nonprofit organizations and their employees or agents and volunteers shall not be subject to the provisions of this Part when offering for sale any tickets of admission in a raffle, auction, or other fund-raising activity for the benefit of the organization's purposes.

(d) For any single athletic contest or entertainment event that occurs no more than once annually or any series of athletic contests that occur no more than once annually and occur within a time period not exceeding 10 days, a promoter of a contest or event may contractually restrict the resale of a ticket to that contest or event by giving notice of the restriction on the back of the ticket. An owner, operator, lessee, or tenant of the property where the contest or event is to be held or is being held may contractually restrict the resale of the right of occupancy of any specific suite, seat, or seating area by giving notice in writing of the restriction.

(4) Sell tickets only at the ticket broker's permanent office or place of business. However, delivery of one or more tickets after the transaction is completed to a place other than the ticket broker's office or place of business shall not violate this subdivision.

(b) Unless otherwise provided in a written agreement between a ticket broker and a purchaser, a ticket broker shall refund any payment received for the purchase of a ticket under this Part if:

(2) The return is made more than 72 hours preceding the athletic contest or entertainment event.

(c) A ticket broker shall refund, within 15 days from the date of purchase, any payment received for the purchase of a ticket under this Part if the athletic contest or entertainment event is canceled or not rescheduled.

(d) If a ticket broker guarantees, in writing, the delivery of a ticket or tickets to an athletic contest or entertainment event to a purchaser and fails to complete the delivery, the ticket broker shall, within 15 days from the date of purchase, provide a full refund of any amount paid by the purchaser and pay the purchaser a refund fee of three times the amount paid by the purchaser for each ticket.

(2) Acquiring or reselling in excess of one percent (1%) of the total tickets allocated for any contest or event. For purposes of this subdivision, a firm or corporation engaging in business as a ticket broker is limited to one percent (1%) of the total tickets allocated for any contest or event regardless of the number of ticket brokers employed by the firm or corporation. No more than five percent (5%) of the total tickets allocated for any contest or event shall be purchased by ticket brokers.

(3) Reselling or offering for resale any ticket within 1,500 feet from the venue where an event or contest is to be held or is being held.

(4) Paying any consideration, directly or indirectly, to any promoter, operator, or ticket sales agent to acquire or assist in the acquisition of a ticket, except for the actual face value of the ticket and any service fee authorized by G.S. 14-344(a).

(b) A promoter, operator, or ticket sales agent shall not receive any consideration, directly or indirectly, from any person, firm, or corporation to acquire or assist in the acquisition of a ticket, except for the actual face value of the ticket and any service fee authorized by G.S. 14-344(a).

"§ 143-659.8. Disqualification for felony conviction.

Proceeds of civil penalties imposed pursuant to this subsection shall be remitted to the Civil Penalty and Forfeiture Fund in accordance with G.S. 115C-457.2.

SECTION 8. Chapter 14 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 14-16.1. Altering, forging, restoring, or counterfeiting certain tickets.

(a) It shall be unlawful for a person to:

(1) Alter, restore, or otherwise prepare in any manner any ticket, token, or paper designed to entitle the holder to admission to any sports, amusement, concert, or other facility offering services to the general public, with the intent to use or cause it to be used after it has already been used;

(2) Counterfeit, forge, or alter any ticket, token, or paper designed to entitle the holder to admission to any sports, amusement, concert, or other facility offering services to the general public, with the intent to sell, utter, put off or pass the same, or cause or procure the same to be sold, uttered, or passed with the intent to defraud any person;

(3) Buy, sell, offer for sale, or possess any counterfeit, forged, or altered ticket, token, or paper designed to entitle the holder to admission to any sports, amusement, concert, or other facility offering services to the general public, with the intent to defraud any person, knowing the same to be counterfeit, forged, or altered.

(b) As used in this section, the term "counterfeit" means to manufacture, copy, reproduce, or forge a ticket, token, or paper that purports to be genuine, but is not, because it has been falsely copied, reproduced, forged, manufactured, embossed, encoded, duplicated, or altered.

(c) Any person who violates this section shall be guilty of a Class 2 misdemeanor."

SECTION 9. G.S. 14-344 reads as rewritten:

"§ 14-344. Sale of admission tickets in excess of printed price.

(a) Any person, firm, or corporation shall be allowed to add a reasonable service fee to the face value of the tickets sold, and the person, firm, or corporation which sells or resells such tickets shall not be permitted to recoup funds greater than the combined face value of the ticket, tax, and the authorized service fee. This service fee may not exceed three dollars ($3.00) for each ticket except that a promoter or operator of the property where the event is to be held and a ticket sales agency may agree in writing on a reasonable service fee greater than three dollars ($3.00) for the first sale of tickets by the ticket sales agent. This service fee may be a pre-established amount per ticket or a percentage of each ticket. The existence of the service fee shall be made known to the public by printing or writing the amount of the fee on the tickets which are printed for the event. Any person, firm or corporation which sells or offers to sell a ticket for a price greater than the price permitted by this section shall be guilty of a Class 2 misdemeanor.

(b) This section shall not apply to the resale of tickets pursuant to Part 2 of Article 68 of Chapter 143 of the General Statutes."

SECTION 10. G.S. 105-37.1 reads as rewritten:

"§ 105-37.1. Dances, athletic events, shows, exhibitions, and other entertainments.

(a) Scope. – A privilege tax is imposed on the gross receipts of a person who is engaged in any of the following:

(2) Giving, offering, or managing a form of amusement or entertainment that is not taxed by another provision of this Article and for which an admission fee is charged.

(3) Exhibiting a performance, show, or exhibition, such as a circus or dog show, that is not taxed by another provision of this Article.

(a1) Ticket Brokers. – A privilege tax is imposed on the brokerage fee charged by a ticket broker registered under Part 2 of Article 68 of Chapter 143 of the General Statutes. For the purposes of this section, 'brokerage fee' means the difference between the amount charged by the ticket broker for resale of the ticket and the face value of the ticket.

(b) Rate and Payment. – The rate of the privilege tax is three percent (3%) of the gross receipts from the activities described in subsection (a) of this ~~section.~~section and three percent (3%) of the brokerage fees described in subsection (a1) of this section. The tax is due when a return is due. A return is due by the 10th day after the end of each month and covers the ~~gross~~ receipts or fees received during the previous month.

(c) Advance Report. – A person who owns or controls a performance, show, or exhibition subject to the tax imposed by this section and who plans to bring the performance to this State from outside the State must file a statement with the Secretary that lists the dates, times, and places of the performance, show, or exhibition. The statement must be filed no less than five days before the first performance, show, or exhibition in this State.

(d) Local Taxes. – Cities may levy a license tax on a person taxed under subdivision (a)(1) or (a)(2) of this section; however, the tax may not exceed twenty-five dollars ($25.00). Cities may levy a license tax on a person taxed under subdivision (a)(3) of this section; however, the tax may not exceed twenty-five dollars ($25.00) for each day or part of a day the performance, show, or exhibition is given at each location.

Counties may not levy a license tax on a person taxed under subdivision (a)(1) or (a)(2) of this section. Counties may levy a license tax on a person taxed under subdivision (a)(3) to the same extent as a city.

Neither a county nor a city may levy a license tax on a person taxed under subsection (a1) of this section."

SECTION 11. The North Carolina State Boxing and Entertainment Commission, as renamed and enacted in Section 2 of this act, shall conduct a study to determine the effectiveness of its regulation of ticket brokers and address any issues that relate to the registration of ticket brokers, enforcement of the provisions of Part 2 of Article 68 of Chapter 143 of the General Statutes, enacted in Section 7 of this act, and any other issues the Commission considers necessary. The Commission shall make an interim report of its findings and recommendations to the 2004 Regular Session of the 2003 General Assembly and a final report to the 2005 General Assembly.

SECTION 12. This act becomes effective December 1, 2003, and applies to offenses committed and tickets sold on or after that date.

Date:	June 25, 2003	Summary by:	Martha Walston
Version:	PCS for 2nd Edition H1072-CSSLAxf-38		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: The Proposed Committee Substitute for House Bill 1072 would do the following:

- Amend Article 68 of Chapter 143 of the General Statutes to rename the North Carolina State Boxing Commission the "North Carolina State Boxing and Entertainment Commission."
- Create a new Part 2 in Article 68 regarding the regulation of ticket brokers by the Commission.

- Direct a Commission study on the effectiveness of regulating ticket brokers.
- Create a Class 2 misdemeanor for any person to alter, restore or counterfeit admission tickets or to use or possess an altered, restored, or counterfeit ticket.

House bill 1072 is in House Finance because of the 3% privilege tax on the brokerage fee and the $2,000 registration fee. The 2nd Edition of the bill was given a favorable report in House J IV.

BILL ANALYSIS: The Proposed Committee Substitute for House Bill 1072 would amend Article 68 of Chapter 143 of the General Statutes as follows:

SECTIONS 1 THROUGH 6 would rename the North Carolina State Boxing Commission the North Carolina State Boxing and Entertainment Commission and make conforming changes to Article 68.

SECTION 7 would add a new Part to Article 68. This new Part would provide for the regulation of ticket brokers by the Commission.

§143-659.2 would define the following terms: commission, promoter, ticket, ticket broker, and ticket sales agent.

§143-659.3 would set out the powers and duties of the Commission when regulating ticket brokers.

§143-659.4 would make it unlawful to resell any ticket of admission to any athletic contest, concert, theatre performance, amusement, exhibition, or other entertainment event where the general public is admitted for a price in excess of the face value of the ticket UNLESS THE TICKET IS SOLD BY A REGISTERED TICKET BROKER OR UNLESS THE SALES PRICE DOES NOT EXCEED THE FACE VALUE OF THE TICKET, PLUS TAX AND A SERVICE CHARGE OF $3.00.

Charitable or non-profit organizations would be exempt from the new Part when the organization is selling tickets to a raffle, auction, or other fund-raising activity for the benefit of the organization's purposes.

A promoter could contractually restrict the resale of a ticket to a single athletic contest or entertainment event that occurs no more than once annually or to any series of athletic contest that occur no more than once annually and occur within a time period not exceeding 10 days. The owner, operator, lessee, or tenant of the property where the contest or event is held could contractually restrict the resale of the right of occupancy.

All ticket brokers must perform an audit quarterly and report the audit to the Commission.

§143-659.5 would set out the following requirements for a person seeking to practice or engage in the business as a ticket broker:

- Maintain a permanent office or place of business in the State.
- File for registration as a ticket broker with Commission.
- Obtain a bond in the amount of $25,000.
- Pay a registration fee not to exceed $2,000. This fee would have to be renewed annually, and the renewal fee may not exceed $2,000.

§143-659.6 would require the ticket broker to satisfy certain disclosure requirements. The ticket broker would have to post at the broker's place of business the purchaser's right to cancel the purchase. The broker would also have to disclose on the ticket the broker's refund policy and the difference between the face value of the ticket and the amount the broker charges for the ticket. A broker could only sell tickets at the broker's office or place of business (though delivery of the tickets could occur elsewhere).

§143-659.7 would prohibit a ticket broker or the broker's employee from engaging in certain conduct.

§143-659.8 would disqualify a person from practicing as a ticket broker if the person has been convicted of a felony and has not been pardoned or had the person's civil rights restored.

§143-659.9 would authorize the Commission to issue an order against a person who willfully violates the Part. The Commission could order the person to cease from violating the Part, suspend or revoke the certificate of registration, or impose a civil penalty of up to $25,000 for each violation. A willful violation of the Part would constitute a Class 2 misdemeanor. Before an order is entered, the registrant would have to be given 15 days' prior notice and an opportunity for a contested case hearing. The Commission could also seek an injunction.

SECTION 8 would create a new Class 2 misdemeanor offense by making it unlawful for any person to alter, restore, or otherwise prepare in any manner an admission ticket with the intent that it be used or to sell, use, or possess an altered, restored, or counterfeit ticket. A Class 2 misdemeanor is punishable by 1-60 days and a maximum $1,000 fine, depending on prior convictions.

SECTION 9 would clarify that the new Part is not applicable to current law set out in G.S. 14-344. This statute authorizes a person, firm, or corporation to add a reasonable service fee to the face value of a ticket sold. This service fee may not exceed $3.00 for each ticket, except that a promoter or operator of the property where the event is to be held and a ticket sales agency may agree on a fee greater than $3.00 for the first sale of tickets by the ticket sales agent

SECTION 10 would impose 3% privilege tax on the brokerage fee charged by a ticket broker whether or not the broker is registered. A brokerage fee is the difference between the amount charged by the ticket broker for the ticket and the face value of the ticket. A county or city may not levy a license tax on a ticket broker who is assessed the 3% privilege tax on the brokerage fee.

SECTION 11 would direct the Commission to conduct a study to determine the effectiveness of its regulation of ticket brokers and to make an interim report to the 2004 Regular Session and a final report to the 2005 General Assembly.

SECTION 12 contains a severability clause.

SECTION 13 would make the act effective December 1, 2003 and apply to offenses committed and tickets sold on or after that date.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: NC Department of Revenue; Crime Control and Public Safety; Correction; and Administrative Office of the Court

EFFECTIVE DATE: December 1, 2003.

BILL SUMMARY: The legislation allows and regulates ticket brokering, and applies a 3% privilege tax on the service fees charged by these ticket brokers. Requires that no more than 5 percent of tickets to an event may be sold to ticket brokers. Adds regulatory function to the responsibilities of the State Boxing Commission. Renames the State Boxing Commission as the "North Carolina State Boxing and Entertainment Commission." As a part of the regulation, brokers are required to register with the Secretary of Crime Control and Public Safety and pay an annual $2,000 registration fee. Bonds are also required. Makes it unlawful to resell tickets for a price in excess of the face value unless the ticket is sold by a registered ticket broker. Prohibits the use of altered or counterfeit admission tickets or re-use of admission tickets. Establishes a civil penalty of up to $25,000 and a Class 2 misdemeanor criminal penalty for violation of the act. Requires the Commission to conduct a study to determine the effectiveness of its regulation of ticket brokers and address any related issues. An interim study report is due during the 2004 Regular Session with a final report to be submitted to the 2005 General Assembly.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

Tax Revenue

In 2000-01, the Department of Revenue collected $27.6 million from the 3% privilege tax on amusements. Of this amount, approximately $6.67 million was drawn from amusements that could be impacted by the bill. The legislation does not jeopardize this revenue. Because this is a new tax, it will result in a revenue gain. Neither Tax Research nor Fiscal Research can estimate the exact amount. However, the increase is expected to be relatively small.

Fee Receipts

According to the United States Ticket Brokers Association, there are 788 bonded ticket brokers in the United States, 11 of which are currently in North Carolina. The National Association of Ticket Brokers boasts approximately 170 members nationwide, only one of which is in North Carolina. Information provided by ticket brokers currently operating in North Carolina indicates that seven of the existing brokers would register under the new law with an average of three employees at each broker agency subject to the registration fee. The registration of existing North Carolina brokers would result in a revenue gain of approximately $42,000 (21 x $2,000).

Department of Crime Control and Public Safety Costs

The new regulatory function would be added to the duties of the NC State Boxing Commission within the Department of Crime Control and Public Safety (CCPS). The Commission would handle regulatory activities such as issuing rules, registration of brokers, issuing notices of violation, etc. However, criminal enforcement activities would be the responsibility of local law enforcement agencies.

CCPS staff estimates that the rulemaking process will require 48 hours of work by a staff attorney, whose annual salary is $75,083, at a cost of $1,985 NR, including salary and benefits. This is a one-time cost in the first year to develop and issue rules.

The Department would add a Grade 61 administrative support position which will be responsible for registering ticket brokers, receiving complaints, issuing notices of violations, assessing fines, and referring complaints to local law enforcement agencies. The annual salary cost is estimated using the midpoint salary of $27,391 for a grade 61 position. The cost of benefits includes the state's share for FICA (7.65%), retirement (3.03%), and health insurance ($2,933). The combined annual salary and benefits are estimated to be $33,249 in fiscal year 2003-04. In addition, an annual amount of $1,500 is included for the costs of forms, supplies, equipment, postage, travel, etc.

Department of Correction Costs

The Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission prepares inmate population projections annually. The projections used for incarceration fiscal notes and fiscal memos are based on January 2003 projections. These projections are based on historical information on incarceration and release rates under Structured Sentencing, crime rate forecasts by a technical advisory board, probation and revocation rates, and the decline (parole and maxouts) of the stock prison population sentenced under previous sentencing acts. Based on the most recent population projections and estimated available prison bed capacity, there are no surplus prison beds available for the five-year fiscal note horizon and beyond. The number of beds needed will always be equal to the projected number of inmates due to a bill.

Because the proposed bill creates new Class 2 misdemeanor criminal offenses, the Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission does not have any historical data from which to estimate the impact of this bill on the prison population. It is not known how many offenders might be sentenced under this bill. Only 12% (3,944) of total Class 2 misdemeanants convicted in 2002 (31,425) received active sentence. The average sentence is 23.4 days, so time served will be in local jails for which the Department of Correction (DOC) will not have to reimburse counties (DOC reimburses counties only for the cost of misdemeanants with sentences over 30 days. Active sentences between 1-90 days are served in local jails; the DOC reimburses counties for active sentences between 30-90 days). Because offenders serving active sentences of 90 days or less are housed in county jails, convictions under this bill would not be expected to have a significant impact on the prison population.

Judicial Branch Costs

For most criminal penalty bills, the Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) provides Fiscal Research with an analysis of the fiscal impact of the specific bill. For these bills, fiscal impact is typically based on the assumption that court time will increase due to an expected increase in trials and a corresponding increase in the hours of work for judges, clerks and prosecutors. This increased court time is also expected to result in greater expenditures for jury fees and indigent defense. AOC does not expect a significant increase in the number of charges for as a result of this bill given the relatively small number of ticket brokers operating in the state.

Re: H1072
Rep. Hackney

June 26, 2003

Dear Representative:

It is our goal as the operators of the RBC Center to provide the citizens of North Carolina with excellent entertainment value through Carolina Hurricanes games and other events at the arena that their tax dollars helped to build, as it is your goal to best serve their interests. House Bill 1072 is counterproductive to each of our goals. I strongly encourage you to reject this proposed legislation to legalize ticket scalping.

Ticket brokers would not assist the process of supply and demand, they would disrupt it. By purchasing and selling tickets to events that are not sold out, they would inhibit our ability to sell available inventory. As a result, we would be forced to increase ticket prices to events at the RBC Center to compensate for that lost revenue. Not only would lost revenue affect the direct patrons of the building, it could alter our rent payments to the Centennial Authority, which are predicated on gross revenues. Any change in those payments affects the city, county and state which receive a portion of that money from the Centennial Authority.

In addition, any attempts by officials to enforce ticket brokerage violations would be extremely difficult. Some lawmakers have argued that ticket scalping is a common practice anyway, and that consumers would be protected by legalizing the practice. That is faulty logic, because if the law advocates the ability of people to re-sell tickets at a profit, it is going to be that much more difficult to prosecute smaller individual scalpers and companies operating illegally. In addition, legalizing the practice would more than double the number of people purchasing tickets with the intention of re-selling them at a profit. That takes even more of the most desirable tickets out of the hands of direct consumers and places them in the hands of scalpers.

Beyond the direct economic and supply effects of legalizing ticket scalping, there are several operational and consumer protection issues that will arise. By legalizing their practice, ticket scalpers will increase in this area and more of them will be standing on the roads around the RBC Center and on the property. To gain admission to the building, everyday patrons will have to battle through more scalpers than ever before. Also, there will be enticement for ticket brokers to create favoritism or kick-back deals with promoters to ensure that their companies are able to acquire the best seats to events. Perhaps most importantly, citizens may view the ticket brokerages as an extension of the RBC Center and Centennial Authority, blaming those entities when an issue arises concerning any type of dispute with the broker, particularly refunds for cancelled events.

We hope that you will take time to think about the undesirable effects this bill will have on the people of North Carolina. While we do understand the benefit in terms of taxing the ticket brokers, the negative results will far outweigh any money gained from the brokers. This would have a serious effect on our ability to successfully conduct our business and our patrons' ability to take advantage of all that the RBC Center has to offer in a way that is affordable and enjoyable to them. Please reject House Bill 1072 to reject the legalization of an unfair and regressive business practice.

Sincerely,

Jim Rutherford
President and General Manager

FACT SHEET ON HOUSE BILL 1072

REGULATE TICKET BROKERS

Currently, the practice of ticket brokering occurs either in the form of persons who stand outside the entrance to sporting events and attempt to buy and sell tickets at a profit; or companies who sell packages to events which include the ticket and other services which many times are not needed or desired, but which are necessary for the ticket to be made available legally by the ticket broker. A person should have the ability to purchase a ticket at a price which he or she determines is fair for the type of event desired.

1. Did you know that it is illegal in North Carolina to re-sell a ticket to an athletic event for a price that exceeds $3.00 above the face value of the ticket?

Answer: Yes, this is true; and, you would be aiding and abetting the commission of a Class 2 Misdemeanor by merely purchasing such a ticket.

2. Did you know that the practice of re-selling tickets to popular sporting events at prices exceeding the face value goes on almost without interruption and that the amount being paid that exceeds the face value escapes taxation?

Answer: There is currently no tax that applies to that portion of the purchase price of such tickets that exceeds the face value, because most of such sales are illegal.

3. What amount of revenue is being lost by the State of North Carolina from the re-sales of tickets at prices exceeding the face value?

Answer: It is estimated that $300,000 would be generated by a 3% privilege tax on the price of the tickets above the face value (known as the brokerage fee). Two companies in Georgia paid a total of $250,000 last year. In addition, each registered ticket broker would pay an annual registration fee of $2,000.

4. Would the legalization of ticket brokering result in a reduction in the number of tickets that would otherwise be available?

Answer: They key word here is "available". Presently, tickets to many popular events aren't available to the average person at any price. But, House Bill 1072 would limit the number of tickets that could be purchased by a ticket broker and affiliates to 1% of the total tickets allocated, and to no more than 5% in total could be sold to ticket brokers.

5. Under the proposed law, would it be legal to re-sell tickets while standing next to the entrance of the event?

Answer: A registered ticket broker could stand no closer than 1,500 feet from the entrance. Persons could still re-sell tickets at the door for no more than face value plus $3.00. In addition, ticket brokers in North Carolina would be required to maintain an office in the State. Sales would occur over the internet, telephone or counter in advance of the event.

6. What are the penalties for violating the proposed registration laws or the regulatory provisions?

Answer: A civil penalty of up to $25,000or Cease and Desist Order; or conviction of a Class 2 Misdemeanor.

7. Has this ticket broker registration system been tried in any other state?

Answer: Yes, in the State of Georgia (home of the Atlanta Braves, Atlanta Falcons, Atlanta Hawks, The Masters and Atlanta Motor Speedway), a law is in effect which is practically identical to the proposal, and is working quiet well.

8. May the promoter of a contest or event restrict the resale of tickets?

Answer: Yes, for certain annual events by giving notice on the back of the ticket.

9. What are the other requirements for registration?

Answer: A registrant must post a $25,000 bond, pay an annual registration fee of $2,000 and have no serious criminal record.

10. What are some other consumer protection provisions in the bill?

Answer: (a) Exemption for charitable or non-profit organizations; (b) Disclosure of right to cancel, refund policy and markup amount; (c) Certain refund requirements; Quarterly audit requirement.

11. What is wrong with the reselling of a ticket at a price exceeding the face value?

Answer: Nothing. A willing buyer and a willing seller should be able to negotiate the price of a ticket to an entertainment event. For some popular events, unless a person or the corporation for which he works or does business, is a financial contributor of the event sponsor, tickets aren't available at any price.

House Bill 1072 provides for the registration of ticket brokers and a system of regulation through the Secretary of Crime Control and Public Safety. Criminal Enforcement would continue to be handled by local law enforcement. Unless there is some other written agreement, the broker must refund the full price upon request within 36 hours of purchase and at least 72 hours before the time of the event, or when events are cancelled. Failure to fulfill a guaranteed delivery time would result in a full refund and refund fee of three times the amount paid for the ticket.

This is a pro-consumer bill. Under House Bill 1072, the consumer will be protected while being afforded the opportunity to purchase tickets where they might not otherwise be available. We would appreciate your support for this legislation.
