SENATE BILL 1058:
Amend Assault Assistance Animal

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	May 4, 2005
Introduced by:	Sen. Dalton	Summary by:	Ben Popkin
Version:	First Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 1058 would expand an existing offense "Assaulting a law enforcement agency animal or an assistance animal"[1] to apply to instances where psychological harm has been inflicted upon the animal. The bill would also require individuals convicted of this offense to make restitution to the owner or agency caring for the animal.

CURRENT LAW: The offense of "Assaulting a law enforcement agency animal or an assistance animal" is a criminal offense that provides for three levels of punishment based on the specific action committed by the person. The punishments range from a Class I felony for incidents involving serious physical harm to the animal, to a Class 1 misdemeanor for incidents involving physical harm, and to a Class 2 misdemeanor for incidents involving a person who, "taunts, teases, harasses, delays, obstructs, or attempts to delay or obstruct the animal in the performance of its duty..."[2]

These offenses are committed when a person's actions satisfy the essential elements below:

1. A person knows or has reason to know that an animal is a law enforcement animal or an assistance animal; and
2. Willfully causes or attempts to cause (serious physical harm – Class I felony/physical harm – Class 1 misdemeanor) to the animal; or
3. Willfully taunts, teases, harasses, delays, obstructs, or attempts to do so while in the performance of its duty (Class 2 misdemeanor).

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 1058 would expand the existing offenses to apply to instances where psychological harm has been inflicted upon the animal. The bill would add definitions for 'psychological harm' (Class 1 misdemeanor, involving mental or behavioral impairment that impedes or interferes with its duties) and 'serious psychological harm' (Class I felony, involving harm that requires retraining or retirement from duty) to section 14-163.1(a) of the statute. The bill would insert 'psychological' into the appropriate corresponding subsections of the statute.

The bill would also require individuals convicted of this offense to make restitution to the owner or agency caring for the animal. The bill would include a list of seven specific categories of expenses to be included when determining the amount of restitution. The bill would clearly state that restitution ordered pursuant to this section of the statutes would in no way affect the availability of civil remedies for violations of this section. The bill would also make changes in terminology to reflect more current usage regarding references to persons with disabilities[3].

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act would become effective December 1, 2005 and would apply to offenses committed on or after that date.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO AUTHORIZE THE CLERK OF SUPERIOR COURT TO ORDER MEDIATION IN MATTERS WITHIN THE CLERK'S JURISDICTION.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Article 5 of Chapter 7A of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 7A-38.3B. Mediation in matters within the jurisdiction of the clerk of superior court.

(a) Purpose. – The General Assembly finds that the clerk of superior court in the General Court of Justice should have the discretion and authority to order that mediation be conducted in matters within the clerk's jurisdiction in order to facilitate a more economical, efficient, and satisfactory resolution of those matters.

(b) Enabling Authority. – The clerk of superior court may order that mediation be conducted in any matter in which the clerk has exclusive or original jurisdiction, except for matters under Chapters 45 and 48 of the General Statutes and except in matters in which the jurisdiction of the clerk is ancillary. The Supreme Court may adopt rules to implement this section. Such mediations shall be conducted pursuant to this section and the Supreme Court rules as adopted.

(c) Attendance. – In those matters ordered to mediation pursuant to this section, the following persons or entities, along with their attorneys, may be ordered by the clerk to attend the mediation:

(1) Named parties.

(2) Interested persons, meaning persons or entities who have a right, interest, or claim in the matter; heirs or devisees in matters under Chapter 28A of the General Statutes, next of kin under Chapter 35A of the General Statutes, and other persons or entities as the clerk deems necessary for the adjudication of the matter. The meaning of "interested person" may vary according to the issues involved in the matter.

(3) Nonparty participants, meaning any other person or entity identified by the clerk as possessing useful information about the matter and whose attendance would be beneficial to the mediation.

(4) Fiduciaries, meaning persons or entities who serve as fiduciaries, as that term is defined by G.S. 36A-22.1, of named parties, interested persons, or nonparty participants.

Any person or entity ordered to attend a mediation shall be notified of its date, time, and location and shall attend unless excused by rules of the Supreme Court or by order of the clerk. No one attending the mediation shall be required to make a settlement offer or demand that it deems contrary to its best interests.

(d) Selection of Mediator. – Persons ordered to mediation pursuant to this section have the right to designate a mediator in accordance with rules promulgated by the Supreme Court implementing this section. Upon failure of those persons to agree upon a designation within the time established by rules of the Supreme Court, a mediator certified by the Dispute Resolution Commission pursuant to those rules shall be appointed by the clerk.

(e) Immunity. – Mediators acting pursuant to this section shall have judicial immunity in the same manner and to the same extent as a judge of the General Court of Justice, except that mediators may be disciplined in accordance with procedures adopted by the Supreme Court pursuant to G.S. 7A-38.2.

(f) Costs of Mediation. – Costs of mediation under this section shall be borne by the named parties, interested persons, and fiduciaries ordered to attend the mediation. The rules adopted by the Supreme Court implementing this section shall set out the manner in which costs shall be paid and a method by which an opportunity to participate without cost shall be afforded to persons found by the clerk to be unable to pay their share of the costs of mediation. Costs may only be assessed against the estate of a decedent, the estate of an adjudicated or alleged incompetent, a trust corpus, or against a fiduciary upon the entry of a written order making specific findings of fact justifying the taxing of costs.

(g) Inadmissibility of Negotiations. – Evidence of statements made or conduct occurring during a mediation conducted pursuant to this section, whether attributable to any participant, mediator, expert, or neutral observer, shall not be subject to discovery and shall be inadmissible in any proceeding in the matter or other civil actions on the same claim, except in:

(1) Proceedings for sanctions pursuant to this section;

(2) Proceedings to enforce or rescind a written and signed settlement agreement;

(3) Incompetency, guardianship, or estate proceedings in which a mediated agreement is presented to the clerk;

(4) Disciplinary proceedings before the North Carolina State Bar or any agency established to enforce standards of conduct for mediators or other neutrals; or

(5) Proceedings for abuse, neglect, or dependency of a juvenile, or for abuse, neglect, or exploitation of an adult, for which there is a duty to report under G.S. 7B-301 and Article 6 of Chapter 108A of the General Statutes, respectively.

No evidence otherwise discoverable shall be inadmissible merely because it is presented or discussed in mediation.

As used in this section, the term "neutral observer" includes persons seeking mediator certification, persons studying dispute resolution processes, and persons acting as interpreters.

(h) Testimony. – No mediator or neutral observer shall be compelled to testify or produce evidence concerning statements made and conduct occurring in anticipation of, during, or as a follow-up to the mediation in any civil proceeding for any purpose, including proceedings to enforce or rescind a settlement of the matter except to attest to the signing of any agreements reached in mediation, and except in:

(1) Proceedings for sanctions pursuant to this section;

(2) Disciplinary proceedings before the North Carolina State Bar or any agency established to enforce standards of conduct for mediators or other neutrals; or

(3) Proceedings for abuse, neglect, or dependency of a juvenile, or for abuse, neglect, or exploitation of an adult, for which there is a duty to report under G.S. 7B-301 and Article 6 of Chapter 108A of the General Statutes, respectively.

(i) Agreements. – In matters before the clerk in which agreements are reached in a mediation conducted pursuant to this section, or during one of its recesses, those agreements shall be treated as follows:

(1) Where as a matter of law, a matter may be resolved by agreement of the parties, a settlement is enforceable only if it has been reduced to writing and signed by the parties.

(2) In all other matters before the clerk, including guardianship and estate matters, all agreements shall be delivered to the clerk for consideration in deciding the matter.

(j) Sanctions. – The clerk may sanction any person ordered to attend a mediation conducted pursuant to this section and rules of the Supreme Court who, without good cause, fails to attend the mediation, by imposing an appropriate monetary sanction, including the payment of attorneys' fees, mediator fees, and expenses incurred in attending the conference. If the clerk imposes sanctions, the clerk shall do so, after notice and a hearing, in a written order, making findings of fact and conclusions of law. An order imposing sanctions is reviewable by the superior court in accordance with G.S. 1-301.2 and G.S. 1-301.3, as applicable, and thereafter by the appellate courts in accordance with G.S. 7A-38.1(g).

(k) Authority to Supplement Procedural Details. – The clerk of superior court shall make all those orders just and necessary to safeguard the interests of all persons and may supplement all necessary procedural details not inconsistent with rules adopted by the Supreme Court implementing this section."

SECTION 2. G.S. 35A-1108 reads as rewritten:

"§ 35A-1108. Issuance of notice.

(a) Within five days after filing of the petition, the clerk shall issue a written notice of the date, time, and place for a hearing on the petition, which shall be held not less than 10 days nor more than 30 days after service of the notice and petition on the respondent, unless the clerk extends the time for good ~~cause or~~ cause, for preparation of a multidisciplinary evaluation as provided in ~~G.S. 35A-1111.~~ G.S. 35A-1111, or for the completion of a mediation.

(b) If a multidisciplinary evaluation or mediation is ordered after a notice of hearing has been issued, the clerk may extend the time for hearing and issue a notice to the parties that the hearing has been continued, the reason therefor, and the date, time, and place of the new hearing, which shall not be less than 10 days nor more than 30 days after service of such notice on the respondent.

(c) Subsequent notices to the parties shall be served as provided by G.S. 1A-1, Rule 5, Rules of Civil Procedure, unless the clerk orders otherwise."

SECTION 3. G.S. 35A-1116 is amended by adding a new subsection to read:

"(c1) Mediator fees and other costs associated with mediation shall be assessed in accordance with G.S. 7A-38.3B."

SECTION 4. G.S. 46-27 reads as rewritten:

"§ 46-27. Sale of land required for public use on cotenant's petition.

When the lands of joint tenants or tenants in common are required for public purposes, one or more of such tenants, or their guardian for them, may file a petition verified by oath, in the superior court of the county where the lands or any part of them lie, setting forth therein that the lands are required for public purposes, and that their interests would be promoted by a sale thereof. Whereupon the court, all proper parties being before it, and the facts alleged in the petition being ascertained to be true, shall order a sale of such lands, or so much thereof as may be necessary. The expenses, fees and costs of this proceeding shall be paid in the discretion of the court. Mediator fees and costs of mediation shall be assessed in accordance with G.S. 7A-38.3B."

SECTION 5. This act is effective when it becomes law and applies to all matters pending before a clerk of superior court on, or filed with the clerk after, the date the Supreme Court adopts rules implementing this act.

SENATE BILL 1058:
Amend Assault Assistance Animal

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	May 9, 2005
Introduced by:	Sen. Dalton	Summary by:	Ben Popkin
Version:	PCS to First Edition S1058-CSSS		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 1058 would expand an existing offense "Assaulting a law enforcement agency animal or an assistance animal"[1] to apply to instances where mental or behavioral harm has been inflicted upon the animal. The bill would also require individuals convicted of this offense to make restitution to the owner or agency caring for the animal.

CURRENT LAW: The offense of "Assaulting a law enforcement agency animal or an assistance animal" is a criminal offense that provides for three levels of punishment based on the specific action committed by the person. The punishments range from a Class I felony (with a presumptive minimum sentence of 4-6 months of community punishment) for incidents involving serious physical harm to the animal, to a Class 1 misdemeanor (with a presumptive minimum sentence of 1-45 days of community punishment) for incidents involving physical harm, and to a Class 2 misdemeanor (with a presumptive minimum sentence of 1-30 days of community punishment) for incidents involving a person who, "taunts, teases, harasses, delays, obstructs, or attempts to delay or obstruct the animal in the performance of its duty..."[2]

The first two offenses (which involve harm to the animal) are committed when a person's actions satisfy the essential elements below:

1. A person knows or has reason to know that an animal is a law enforcement animal or an assistance animal; and
2. Willfully causes or attempts to cause (serious physical harm – Class I felony; or physical harm – Class 1 misdemeanor) to the animal.

The remaining offense is committed when a person's actions satisfy the essential elements below:

1. A person knows or has reason to know that an animal is a law enforcement animal or an assistance animal; and
2. Willfully taunts, teases, harasses, delays, obstructs, or attempts to do so to a law enforcement animal or an assistance animal while in the performance of its duty (Class 2 misdemeanor).

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 1058 would expand the existing offenses to apply to any instance where any kind of harm has been inflicted upon the animal, whether it is physical, mental or behavioral harm. The bill would expand the current law from being limited to only 'physical harm' or 'serious physical harm' to the broader 'harm' or 'serious harm'. The term 'harm' would be defined in the statute to include incidents involving mental or behavioral impairment of the animal that impedes or interferes with its duties (Class 1 misdemeanor); and 'serious harm' would be defined to include incidents involving harm that requires and animal to be retrained or retired from duty (Class I felony). The bill would insert 'psychological' into the appropriate corresponding subsections of the statute.

[2] G. S. 14-163.1(b), (c) and (d).

The bill would also require individuals convicted of this offense to make restitution to the owner or agency caring for the animal. The bill would include a list of seven specific categories of expenses to be included when determining the amount of restitution. The bill would clearly state that restitution ordered pursuant to this section of the statutes would in no way affect the availability of civil remedies for violations of this section. The bill would also make changes in terminology to reflect more current usage regarding references to persons with disabilities[3].

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act would become effective December 1, 2005 and would apply to offenses committed on or after that date.

Authorize Judge/Concealed Weapon in Cths

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	May 10, 2005
Introduced by:	Sen. Apodaca	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith Committee Counsel
Version:	PCS to First Edition S991-CSRC-39

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 991 would authorize superior court and district court judges to carry or possess a concealed handgun in a court of the General Court of Justice if the judge is in the building to discharge the judge's official duties and if the judge has a concealed handgun permit.

The Committee Substitute corrects an incomplete citation and makes other technical changes.

This act would be effective when it became law.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 14-269.4 prohibits any person to possess or carry any deadly weapon in the State Capital Building, the Executive Manson, the Western Residence of the Governor, on the grounds of these buildings, in any building housing any court of the General Court of Justice, or in the portion of a building that is being used for court purposes if the building where the court is housed also contains nonpublic uses. Case law has defined a deadly weapon as any instrument that under the circumstances of its use is likely to cause death or serious bodily injury.[1] Some weapons, such as guns, are deadly by their very nature.[2]

This prohibition does not apply to a the following individuals:

(1) Officers and enlisted personnel of the armed forces of the United States when in discharge of their official duties as such and acting under orders requiring them to carry arms and weapons;

(2) Civil and law enforcement officers of the United States while in the discharge of their official duties;

(3) Officers and soldiers of the militia and the national guard when called into actual service;

(4) Officers of the State, or of any county, city, or town, charged with the execution of the laws of the State, when acting in the discharge of their official duties;

(5) Sworn law-enforcement officers, when off-duty, if:

a. Written regulations authorizing the carrying of concealed weapons have been filed with the clerk of superior court in the county where the law-enforcement unit is located by the sheriff or chief of police or other superior officer in charge; and

b. Such regulations specifically prohibit the carrying of concealed weapons while the officer is consuming or under the influence of alcoholic beverages.[3]

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 991 would authorize superior court and district court judges to carry or possess a concealed handgun in a court of the General Court of Justice if the judge is in the building to discharge the judge's official duties and if the judge has a concealed handgun permit, or a permit from another state that is recognized by North Carolina under the reciprocity provisions of G.S. 14-415.24. Although judges are officers of the State, the current exemption in G.S. 14-269.4(1a) probably does not give judges this authority because carrying a deadly weapon would not fall within acts that are necessary for the discharge of their official duties.

The exemption in this bill probably applies to special superior court and district court judges and to emergency special superior court and district court judges. It would not apply to appellate division justices and judges.

Any judge who carried a concealed handgun into a court would have to also carry the permit together with valid identification. The judge would be required to disclose to any law enforcement officer that the judge holds a valid permit and is carrying a concealed handgun when approached or addressed by the officer, and display both the permit and the proper identification upon the request of a law enforcement officer.[4]

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill would become effective when it becomes law.

SENATE BILL 887: NC Lien Law Revised

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	May 12, 2005
Introduced by:	Sen. Hartsell	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith Committee Counsel
Version:	PCS to First Edition S887-CSRC

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 887 makes changes to Article 2 of Chapter 44A to clarify the names of the different forms used to enforce mechanics and materialmen liens. It also creates a procedure for "bonding-off" claims of lien upon funds, and clarifies what documents need to be filed and in what order when filing either a subrogation of claim of lien on real property under G.S. 44A-23 or a direct obligation lien (claim of lien upon funds) under G.S. 44A-20.

The PCS reflects compromise language negotiated between the Bar Association and the Land Title Association regarding the enforcement of a claim of lien on real property is situations where the real property is subject to the control of the bankruptcy court. It also removes language from the original bill regarding the interest on a claim of lien on real property.

The act would become effective October 1, 2005 and would apply to claims of lien on real property filed or claims of lien upon funds served on or after that date.

CURRENT LAW: Under Part 1 of Article 2 of Chapter 44A, a person who provides labor or materials to the owner of real property for improvements made to that property has a statutory lien against the real property for payments not made under the contract between the property. There are two types of liens recognized under Article 2, those that attach to the real property of the owner and those that are upon the funds owed to the person who provided the labor or materials. As a general rule, only those persons who contracted directly with the owner are entitled to a lien upon the real property.[1] Subcontractors are entitled to liens against funds owed to them by the person or company (obligor) who owes the subcontractor money. The claim of lien on real property "relates back" to the date when the first materials or labor was supplied, and is "perfected" when the person who supplied the labor or material files a claim of lien. The claim of lien must be filed with the clerk of superior court in every county where the real property is located. The lien can be enforced by the lien holder bringing an action no later than 180 days from the last day that materials are provided or services rendered. A judgment enforcing a claim of lien can be enforced by a judicial sale of the real property.

The claim of lien upon funds secures the amounts earned by the lien claimant. The claim of lien is perfected upon giving notice to the obligor of the claim of lien. These claims lien upon funds generally do not affect title to real property, and are served upon the obligor.

BILL ANALYSIS: The bill makes changes through-out Article 2 of Chapter 44A to specify when the statutes are dealing with claims of lien on real property (generally only applicable to the party that contracted directly with the owner of the real property) and when the statutes are dealing with claims of lien upon funds (applicable to the various tiers of subcontractors).

It amends G.S. 44A-12.1 by creating a new subsection (d) that if a claim of lien on real property is filed by an attorney licensed in the State of North Carolina, and the document is being filed under the provisions of Article 2 of Chapter 44A or other State law, and if the document appears on its face to meet the requirements of the statutory form, the clerk of court may not reject the document for indexing, docketing, recording, or filing. This provision would not apply to an out-of-state attorney or any non-attorney filing the claim on lien on real property.

The bill clarifies that it is not necessary to file a Notice of Lis Pendens in a count where the lien claim and lien enforcement lawsuit are filed.

Changes to G.S. 44A-19(d) would allow for personal delivery of a claim of lien upon funds on the obligor or any other method of service allowed under Rule 4 of the Rules of Civil Procedure.

A new subsection G.S. 44A-20(f) provides that the deposit of a bond to discharge a filed notice of claim of lien upon funds is also effective to discharge any claim of lien on real property that is filed by the same lien claimant. It will also be effective to discharge claims of lien on funds by lower tier subcontractors up to the amount of the bond.

G.S. 44A-21 is amended to provide that where the funds in the hands of the obligor are less than the total amount of the valid liens upon those funds, the parties entitled to liens upon the funds share the funds on a pro rata basis.

BACKGROUND: These changes come at the request of the State Bar Association's Construction Law Section.

SENATE BILL 805

Short Title:	Clerks May Order Mediation.	(Public)
Sponsors:	Senators Hartsell; and Bingham.
Referred to:	Judiciary II.

March 23, 2005

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO AUTHORIZE THE CLERK OF SUPERIOR COURT TO ORDER MEDIATION IN MATTERS WITHIN THE CLERK'S JURISDICTION.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Article 5 of Chapter 7A of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 7A-38.3B. Mediation in matters within the jurisdiction of the clerk of superior court.

(a) Purpose. – The General Assembly finds that the clerk of superior court in the General Court of Justice should have the discretion and authority to order that mediation be conducted in matters within the clerk's jurisdiction in order to facilitate a more economical, efficient, and satisfactory resolution of those matters.

(b) Enabling Authority. – The clerk of superior court may order that mediation be conducted in any matter in which the clerk has exclusive or original jurisdiction, except for matters under Chapters 45 and 48 of the General Statutes and except in matters in which the jurisdiction of the clerk is ancillary. The Supreme Court may adopt rules to implement this section. Such mediations shall be conducted pursuant to this section and the Supreme Court rules as adopted.

(c) Attendance. – In those matters ordered to mediation pursuant to this section, the following persons or entities, along with their attorneys, may be ordered by the clerk to attend the mediation:

(1) Named parties.

(2) Interested persons, meaning persons or entities who have a right, interest, or claim in the matter; heirs or devisees in matters under Chapter 28A of the General Statutes, next of kin under Chapter 35A of the General Statutes, and other persons or entities as the clerk deems necessary for the adjudication of the matter. The meaning of "interested person" may vary according to the issues involved in the matter.

(3) Nonparty participants, meaning any other person or entity identified by the clerk as possessing useful information about the matter and whose attendance would be beneficial to the mediation.

(4) Fiduciaries, meaning persons or entities who serve as fiduciaries, as that term is defined by G.S. 36A-22.1, of named parties, interested persons, or nonparty participants.

Any person or entity ordered to attend a mediation shall be notified of its date, time, and location and shall attend unless excused by rules of the Supreme Court or by order of the clerk. No one attending the mediation shall be required to make a settlement offer or demand that it deems contrary to its best interests.

(d) Selection of Mediator. – Persons ordered to mediation pursuant to this section have the right to designate a mediator in accordance with rules promulgated by the Supreme Court implementing this section. Upon failure of those persons to agree upon a designation within the time established by rules of the Supreme Court, a mediator certified by the Dispute Resolution Commission pursuant to those rules shall be appointed by the clerk.

(e) Immunity. – Mediators acting pursuant to this section shall have judicial immunity in the same manner and to the same extent as a judge of the General Court of Justice, except that mediators may be disciplined in accordance with procedures adopted by the Supreme Court pursuant to G.S. 7A-38.2.

(f) Costs of Mediation. – Costs of mediation under this section shall be borne by the named parties, interested persons, and fiduciaries ordered to attend the mediation. The rules adopted by the Supreme Court implementing this section shall set out the manner in which costs shall be paid and a method by which an opportunity to participate without cost shall be afforded to persons found by the clerk to be unable to pay their share of the costs of mediation. Costs may only be assessed against the estate of a decedent, the estate of an adjudicated or alleged incompetent, a trust corpus, or against a fiduciary upon the entry of a written order making specific findings of fact justifying the taxing of costs.

(g) Inadmissibility of Negotiations. – Evidence of statements made or conduct occurring during a mediation conducted pursuant to this section, whether attributable to any participant, mediator, expert, or neutral observer, shall not be subject to discovery and shall be inadmissible in any proceeding in the matter or other civil actions on the same claim, except in:

(1) Proceedings for sanctions pursuant to this section;

(2) Proceedings to enforce or rescind a written and signed settlement agreement;

(3) Incompetency, guardianship, or estate proceedings in which a mediated agreement is presented to the clerk;

(4) Disciplinary proceedings before the North Carolina State Bar or any agency established to enforce standards of conduct for mediators or other neutrals; or

(5) Proceedings for abuse, neglect, or dependency of a juvenile, or for abuse, neglect, or exploitation of an adult, for which there is a duty to report under G.S. 7B-301 and Article 6 of Chapter 108A of the General Statutes, respectively.

No evidence otherwise discoverable shall be inadmissible merely because it is presented or discussed in mediation.

As used in this section, the term "neutral observer" includes persons seeking mediator certification, persons studying dispute resolution processes, and persons acting as interpreters.

(h) Testimony. – No mediator or neutral observer shall be compelled to testify or produce evidence concerning statements made and conduct occurring in anticipation of, during, or as a follow-up to the mediation in any civil proceeding for any purpose, including proceedings to enforce or rescind a settlement of the matter except to attest to the signing of any agreements reached in mediation, and except in:

(1) Proceedings for sanctions pursuant to this section;

(2) Disciplinary proceedings before the North Carolina State Bar or any agency established to enforce standards of conduct for mediators or other neutrals; or

(3) Proceedings for abuse, neglect, or dependency of a juvenile, or for abuse, neglect, or exploitation of an adult, for which there is a duty to report under G.S. 7B-301 and Article 6 of Chapter 108A of the General Statutes, respectively.

(i) Agreements. – In matters before the clerk in which agreements are reached in a mediation conducted pursuant to this section, or during one of its recesses, those agreements shall be treated as follows:

(1) Where as a matter of law, a matter may be resolved by agreement of the parties, a settlement is enforceable only if it has been reduced to writing and signed by the parties.

(2) In all other matters before the clerk, including guardianship and estate matters, all agreements shall be delivered to the clerk for consideration in deciding the matter.

(j) Sanctions. – The clerk may sanction any person ordered to attend a mediation conducted pursuant to this section and rules of the Supreme Court who, without good cause, fails to attend the mediation, by imposing an appropriate monetary sanction, including the payment of attorneys' fees, mediator fees, and expenses incurred in attending the conference. If the clerk imposes sanctions, the clerk shall do so, after notice and a hearing, in a written order, making findings of fact and conclusions of law. An order imposing sanctions is reviewable by the superior court in accordance with G.S. 1-301.2 and G.S. 1-301.3, as applicable, and thereafter by the appellate courts in accordance with G.S. 7A-38.1(g).

(k) Authority to Supplement Procedural Details. – The clerk of superior court shall make all those orders just and necessary to safeguard the interests of all persons and may supplement all necessary procedural details not inconsistent with rules adopted by the Supreme Court implementing this section."

"§ 35A-1108. Issuance of notice.

(a) Within five days after filing of the petition, the clerk shall issue a written notice of the date, time, and place for a hearing on the petition, which shall be held not less than 10 days nor more than 30 days after service of the notice and petition on the respondent, unless the clerk extends the time for good ~~cause or~~ cause, for preparation of a multidisciplinary evaluation as provided in ~~G.S. 35A-1111.~~ G.S. 35A-1111, or for the completion of a mediation.

(b) If a multidisciplinary evaluation or mediation is ordered after a notice of hearing has been issued, the clerk may extend the time for hearing and issue a notice to the parties that the hearing has been continued, the reason therefor, and the date, time, and place of the new hearing, which shall not be less than 10 days nor more than 30 days after service of such notice on the respondent.

(c) Subsequent notices to the parties shall be served as provided by G.S. 1A-1, Rule 5, Rules of Civil Procedure, unless the clerk orders otherwise."

SECTION 3. G.S. 35A-1116 is amended by adding a new subsection to read:

"(d) Mediator fees and other costs associated with mediation shall be assessed in accordance with G.S. 7A-38.B."

SECTION 4. G.S. 46-27 reads as rewritten:

"§ 46-27. Sale of land required for public use on cotenant's petition.

When the lands of joint tenants or tenants in common are required for public purposes, one or more of such tenants, or their guardian for them, may file a petition verified by oath, in the superior court of the county where the lands or any part of them lie, setting forth therein that the lands are required for public purposes, and that their interests would be promoted by a sale thereof. Whereupon the court, all proper parties being before it, and the facts alleged in the petition being ascertained to be true, shall order a sale of such lands, or so much thereof as may be necessary. The expenses, fees and costs of this proceeding shall be paid in the discretion of the court. Mediator fees and costs of mediation shall be assessed in accordance with G.S. 7A-38.3B."

SECTION 5. This act is effective when it becomes law and applies to all matters pending before a clerk of superior court on, or filed with the clerk after, the date the Supreme Court adopts rules implementing this act.

SENATE BILL 991:
Authorize Judge/Concealed Weapon in Cths

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	May 10, 2005
Introduced by:	Sen. Apodaca	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith Committee Counsel
Version:	PCS to First Edition S991-CSRC-39

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 991 would authorize superior court and district court judges to carry or possess a handgun in a court of the General Court of Justice if the judge is in the building to discharge the judge's official duties and if the judge has a concealed handgun permit.

The Committee Substitute requires that a judge who displays or does not conceal the handgun must take reasonable precautions to prevent other persons from obtaining unauthorized possession of the handgun.

This act would be effective when it becomes law.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 14-269.4 prohibits any person to possess or carry any deadly weapon in the State Capital Building, the Executive Manson, the Western Residence of the Governor, on the grounds of these buildings, in any building housing any court of the General Court of Justice, or in the portion of a building that is being used for court purposes if the building where the court is housed also contains nonpublic uses. Case law has defined a deadly weapon as any instrument that under the circumstances of its use is likely to cause death or serious bodily injury.[1] Some weapons, such as guns, are deadly by their very nature.[2]

This prohibition does not apply to a the following individuals:

(1) Officers and enlisted personnel of the armed forces of the United States when in discharge of their official duties as such and acting under orders requiring them to carry arms and weapons;
(2) Civil and law enforcement officers of the United States while in the discharge of their official duties;
(3) Officers and soldiers of the militia and the national guard when called into actual service;
(4) Officers of the State, or of any county, city, or town, charged with the execution of the laws of the State, when acting in the discharge of their official duties;
(5) Sworn law-enforcement officers, when off-duty, if:
    a. Written regulations authorizing the carrying of concealed weapons have been filed with the clerk of superior court in the county where the law-enforcement unit is located by the sheriff or chief of police or other superior officer in charge; and
    b. Such regulations specifically prohibit the carrying of concealed weapons while the officer is consuming or under the influence of alcoholic beverages.[3]

[1] State v. Lane, 1 N.C. App. 539.
[2] State v. Torain, 316 N.C. 111.
[3] G.S. 14-269.4(1a) and G.S. 14-269(b).

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 991 would authorize superior court and district court judges to carry or possess a handgun in a court of the General Court of Justice if the judge is in the building to discharge the judge's official duties and if the judge has a concealed handgun permit, or a permit from another state that is recognized by North Carolina under the reciprocity provisions of G.S. 14-415.24. It also provides that a judge who openly displays or possesses the handgun must take reasonable precautions to prevent other persons from obtaining unauthorized possession of the handgun.

Although judges are officers of the State, the current exemption in G.S. 14-269.4(1a) probably does not give judges this authority because carrying a deadly weapon would not fall within acts that are necessary for the discharge of their official duties.

The exemption in this bill probably applies to special superior court and district court judges and to emergency special superior court and district court judges. It would not apply to appellate division justices and judges.

Any judge who carried a concealed handgun into a court would have to also carry the permit together with valid identification. The judge would be required to disclose to any law enforcement officer that the judge holds a valid permit and is carrying a concealed handgun when approached or addressed by the officer, and display both the permit and the proper identification upon the request of a law enforcement officer.[4]

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill would become effective when it becomes law.

To: Members of Senate J-II Committee
Subject: REMARKS, S 991 Authorize Judge/Concealed Weapon in Courthouses, Committee Substitute 991CSRC-39[v.2]
From: Lisa Price, Executive Director
Date: May 17, 2005

Apparently, this legislation may have been introduced in part because some judges with CCW permits are already carrying handguns in their courtrooms, thereby breaking the present law that prohibits citizens except law enforcement and military personnel from carrying or possessing guns in courtrooms. The legislation may also have been influenced by the recent terrible breakdown of law enforcement in a Georgia courtroom in which a judge and several others were killed by a prisoner who grabbed a handgun from a guard.

But is there a problem in NC with judges or other courtroom personnel being threatened by deadly weapons by suspects, prisoners, or others in the judicial system? NCGV believes this is a fearful, over-reaction to a possibly non-existent problem.

If there is problem, the solution lies with law enforcement, not with allowing judges to have a CCW in their courtroom. It is the job of law enforcement to protect the public safety. They can be right there, in the courthouse. It is different when a judge is in his car or home, or somewhere else where law enforcement cannot be present; then it is appropriate for a judge to carry a concealed handgun. If courthouse protection is inadequate in certain areas of the state -- and what is the evidence for this belief? -- then law enforcement can be improved, depending on the nature of the problem. Perhaps we need more or better-trained personnel, better equipment, more metal detectors, etc.

The solution is not arming judges in their crowded courtrooms. Imagine the threat to public safety if there were shoot-outs in courtrooms between judges and suspected or actual antagonists. Are judges well-trained in law enforcement and shooting? Arming individuals rather than calling on law enforcement do its job could lead to arming other court individuals, such as lawyers, who might also be frightened by the irresponsible, law-breaking types of people one may encounter in court. Some Americans would extend this vigilante philosophy and call for changing laws so that citizens will be able to carry weapons in other public places where guns may currently be carried only by law enforcement.

What happened in the Georgia courthouse was very sad -- and very unusual. But to our knowledge, law enforcement offers good protection in North Carolina courthouses. If there is a problem, law enforcement can fix it. We do not need a law to arm judges in their courtrooms. I urge Senate J-II to vote against S 991.

SENATE BILL 1032

Short Title:	Protection of Inherently Dangerous Animals.	(Public)
Sponsors:	Senator Garwood.
Referred to:	Judiciary II.

March 24, 2005

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT PROVIDING FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE PUBLIC AGAINST THE HEALTH AND SAFETY RISKS THAT INHERENTLY DANGEROUS ANIMALS POSE AND TO PROTECT THE WELFARE OF INHERENTLY DANGEROUS ANIMALS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Chapter 19A of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new Article to read:

"Article 6.

"Protection of Inherently Dangerous Animals.

"§ 19A-70. Intent.

(a) It is the intent of the General Assembly to protect the public against health and safety risks that inherently dangerous animals pose to the community and to protect the welfare of the individual animals held in private possession and at roadside zoos. The General Assembly finds that by their very nature these animals are wild and inherently dangerous and do not adjust well in captivity without sufficient provisions for animal welfare and professional animal care expertise.

(b) The General Assembly finds that inherently dangerous animals are extremely unpredictable and dangerous creatures; the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service of United States Department of Agriculture (USDA/APHIS), the American Zoo and Aquarium Association (AZA), the American Veterinary Medical Association, and numerous animal welfare and public safety organizations believe that only properly trained professionals and certified institutions should keep these animals.

(c) The General Assembly finds that care and handling of these inherently dangerous animals should be left to those qualified individuals who have the knowledge and means to maintain them properly; the average owner of an inherently dangerous animal lacks the specialized equipment and expertise necessary to provide properly for the containment, medical care, husbandry, and nutrition of a wild animal, and it is virtually impossible for an inherently dangerous animal to adapt to traditional household settings or inadequate living spaces and conditions.

"§ 19A-71. Definitions.

(a) "Animal control authority" means the municipal or county animal control agency or a county sheriff in an area that does not have an animal control office.

(b) "Department" means the Department of Environment and Natural Resources.

(c) "Inherently dangerous animal" means an animal that is capable of inflicting serious or fatal injuries, or which has the potential to become a menace to the public health or indigenous wildlife populations, whether the animal is bred in the wild or in captivity, and includes all hybrids of that animal. The term does not include indigenous wild animals, the taking or possessing of which are regulated by the Wildlife Resources Commission under Article 22 of Chapter 113 of the General Statutes. The following are examples of inherently dangerous animals, but indigenous varieties of the listed classifications are not included within the definition, regardless of whether specifically exempted here:

(1.) Class Mammalia

a. Order Carnivora

1. Family Felidae (lions, tigers, leopards, ocelots, servals, etc.) – all species except domestic cats.
2. Family Canidae (wolves, foxes, jackals, etc.) – all species except domestic dogs and indigenous foxes.
3. Family Ursidae (bears) – all species except black bears.
4. Family Viverridae (only binturongs).
5. Family Procyonidae (only kinkajous and coatis).
6. Family Hyaenidae (hyenas, etc.) – all species.

b. Order Marsupialia – only kangaroos.

c. Order Perissodactyla – only rhinoceroses.

d. Order Primates (lemurs, monkeys, chimpanzees, gorillas) – all species.

e. Order Proboscidae (elephants, etc.) – all species.

f. Order Rodentia – only prairie dogs and Gambian rats.

(2) Class Reptilia

a. Order Squamata

1. Family Varanidae – only water monitors and crocodile monitors.
2. Family Boidae – all species whose adult length has the potential to exceed eight feet in length.
3. Family Colubridae – only boomslangs and African twig snakes.
4. Family Elapidae (cobras, mambas, etc.) – all species.
5. Family Nactricidae – only keelback snakes.
6. Family Viperidae (vipers) – only nonindigenous species.
7. Family Helodermatidae (beaded lizards, Gila monsters, etc.) – all species.

8. Family Hydrophiidae (sea snakes, etc.) – all species.
9. Family Atractaspidae (mole vipers, etc.) – all species.

b. Order Crocodilia (crocodiles, alligators, caimans, gavials, etc.) – all species.

The Department may declare any additional species, families, or classes of wild animals not specifically listed in G.S. 19A-71(c) to be an inherently dangerous animal for the purposes of this Article if the animal meets the definition set forth in this subsection.

(d) "Person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, organization, trade or professional association, firm, limited liability company, joint venture, association, trust, estate, or any other legal entity, and any officer, member, shareholder, director, employee, agent or representative of the entity.

(e) "Possessor" means any person who owns, possesses, keeps, harbors, brings into the State, acts as a custodian of, or has custody or control of, an inherently dangerous animal.

(f) "Wildlife sanctuary" means a nonprofit organization described in section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, and its subsequent amendments, that operates a place of refuge where abused, neglected, unwanted, impounded, abandoned, orphaned, or displaced inherently dangerous animals are provided care for their lifetimes or are released back to their natural habitat and, with respect to any animal owned by the organization, does not:

(1) Conduct any activity that is not inherent to the animal's nature;
(2) Use the animal for any type of entertainment;
(3) Sell, trade, or barter the animal or the animal's body parts; or
(4) Breed the animal for any purpose.

"§ 19A-72. Exemptions.

(a) The provisions of this Article do not apply to:

(1) Institutions accredited by the American Zoo and Aquarium Association (AZA) or under mentorship through the AZA.
(2) Duly incorporated nonprofit animal protection organizations housing an inherently dangerous animal at the written request of the animal control authority.
(3) Wildlife enforcement officers acting under the authority of this act.
(4) Animal control or law enforcement agencies or officers acting under the authority of this act.
(5) Licensed veterinary hospitals or clinics.
(6) Any wildlife sanctuary as defined in G.S. 19A-71(f).
(7) Any licensed or accredited research or medical institution.
(8) Any licensed or accredited educational institution.
(9) Any lawfully operated circus or rodeo.
(10) A person temporarily transporting an inherently dangerous animal through the State if the transit time is not more than 96 hours and the animal is at all times maintained within a confinement sufficient to prevent the inherently dangerous animal from escaping.

"§ 19A-73. Keeping of inherently dangerous animals prohibited.

(a) A person shall not own, possess, keep, harbor, bring into the State, act as a custodian of, or have custody or control of, an inherently dangerous animal, except in compliance with this Article.

(b) A person shall not breed an inherently dangerous animal.

"§ 19A-74. Personal possession permit required for possessor.

(a) A person may not own, possess, keep, harbor, bring into the State, act as a custodian of, or have custody or control of, an inherently dangerous animal unless that person holds a personal possession permit for that animal issued by the Department. A person may obtain a personal possession permit for an inherently dangerous animal only if the following requirements are met:

(1) The person was in legal possession of the inherently dangerous animal prior to January 1, 2006, and is the legal possessor of the inherently dangerous animal.

(2) The person applies for and is granted a personal possession permit for each inherently dangerous animal in the person's possession by March 31, 2006.

(b) Persons who meet the requirements of subsection (a) of this section shall annually obtain a personal possession permit. From and after January 1, 2006, no new inherently dangerous animal shall be brought into possession under authority of a personal possession permit.

(c) A possessor shall file an application to receive a personal possession permit with the Department on forms provided by the Department. The application shall include the following:

(1) A written statement that sets forth at least the following information:

a. The name, address, telephone number, and date of birth of the possessor;

b. A description of the inherently dangerous animal possessed, including the scientific name, name, sex, age, color, weight, and any distinguishing marks or coloration that would aid in the identification of the animal;

c. A photograph of the inherently dangerous animal;

d. The address of the location where the inherently dangerous animal is to be kept, including directions to the location if no address exists;

e. The name, address, and telephone number of the person from whom the possessor obtained the inherently dangerous animal, if known;

f. The microchip number of the inherently dangerous animal, excluding inherently dangerous animals exempted under G.S. 19A-75; and

g. The name, address, and telephone number of the veterinarian providing veterinary care to the inherently dangerous animal and a certificate of good health from the possessor's veterinarian.

(2) The possessor's certification in writing and notarized, that:

a. The applicant is 18 years of age or older;

b. The applicant has not been convicted of, or found responsible for, violating a State or local law prohibiting cruelty, neglect, or mistreatment of an animal, and has not within the past 10 years been convicted of a felony or convicted for possession, sale, or use of illegal narcotics;

c. The requirements set forth in subsection (a) of this section and of G.S. 19A-75 have been met;

d. The facility and the conditions in which the inherently dangerous animal will be kept are in compliance with this Article;

e. The applicant has regularly provided veterinary care to the inherently dangerous animal when needed and will provide such care in the future; and

f. Proof that a licensed veterinarian has spayed or neutered the inherently dangerous animal, as required by G.S. 19A-76.

(3) The possessor's plan for the quick and safe recapture of the inherently dangerous animal if the inherently dangerous animal escapes at the time of filing of the application.

(4) A copy of the possessor's policy for liability insurance at the time of filing of the application, as required by G.S. 19A-79.

(5) Any additional information the Department may deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this Article.

(6) Payment of a fee to be established by the Department for application, issuance, and renewal of a personal possession permit in order to recover the costs associated with the administration and enforcement of this Article. The fee collected under this section may be used only to administer and enforce the provisions of this Article.

(d) A permit shall not be granted unless the Department finds that all of the requirements in subsection (c) of this section have been met.

(e) The personal possession permit shall set forth all of the following information:

(1) The name, address, phone number, and date of birth of the permit holder;

(2) The address where the inherently dangerous animal or animals will be kept;

(3) The name, number, sex, species, age of the inherently dangerous animal or animals, and any distinguishing marks or coloration that would aid in the identification of the animals;

(4) The identification number required under G.S. 19A-75, if applicable;

(5) The name, address, and phone number of the veterinarian who provides veterinary care to the inherently dangerous animal or animals named on the permit; and

(6) Any other relevant information the Department may deem necessary.

(f) If a person can no longer care for an inherently dangerous animal, that person may only transfer the animal to another person currently holding a valid personal possession permit.

(g) The Department shall keep records of persons carrying a valid permit. A permit holder shall notify the Department of any changes in the stated information on the permit, including the death of an inherently dangerous animal.

"§ 19A-75. Identification number.

Every inherently dangerous animal shall be implanted with a microchip, at the expense of the possessor, by or under the supervision of a veterinarian. This provision does not apply if a veterinarian determines that the implant of a microchip would endanger the well-being of the animal.

"§ 19A-76. Spaying or neutering.

Every inherently dangerous animal must be spayed or neutered, at the expense of the possessor, by or under the supervision of a veterinarian. This provision does not apply if a veterinarian determines that the spay or neuter procedure would endanger the well-being of the animal.

"§ 19A-77. Caging requirements and standards for inherently dangerous animals.

For each inherently dangerous animal, the possessor shall comply with the American Zoo and Aquarium Association's (AZA's) Minimum Husbandry Guidelines for animal care and maintenance of that animal.

"§ 19A-78. Care and treatment of inherently dangerous animals.

(a) An inherently dangerous animal shall not be tethered, leashed, chained outdoors, or allowed to run at large.

(b) An inherently dangerous animal shall not be mistreated, neglected, abandoned, deprived of necessary food, water, and sustenance, or otherwise treated in a manner that violates Article 47 of Chapter 14 of the General Statutes.

(c) A possessor transporting an inherently dangerous animal in a vehicle shall keep the animal securely caged in the vehicle at all times.

(d) Each possessor shall have a plan for the quick and safe recapture of the inherently dangerous animal if the animal escapes, and a plan for the destruction of the animal if recapture is impossible.

(e) The possessor shall contact the Department, a wildlife sanctuary, or an American Zoo and Aquarium Association (AZA) accredited facility if the possessor can no longer care for the inherently dangerous animal prior to euthanasia of the inherently dangerous animal, and shall do so before resorting to euthanasia.

"§ 19A-79. Insurance; signs; notification.

(a) The possessor of an inherently dangerous animal shall maintain liability insurance coverage in an amount of not less than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) for each occurrence for liability damages for destruction of or damage to property, and for death or bodily injury to a person caused by the inherently dangerous animal. The possessor of an inherently dangerous animal shall provide a copy of the policy for liability insurance to the Department on an annual basis.

(b) The possessor of an inherently dangerous animal shall have continuously posted and displayed, at each possible entrance onto the premises where an inherently dangerous animal is kept, a conspicuous sign, clearly legible, and easily readable by the public, warning that there is an inherently dangerous animal on the premises. The Department may prescribe the exact content and size of the sign.

(c) No person may intentionally release an inherently dangerous animal.

(d) If any inherently dangerous animal escapes, either intentionally or unintentionally, the possessor of the animal shall immediately contact the Department and the animal control authority or a law enforcement officer of the city or county in which the possessor resides to report the escape or release.

(e) If an inherently dangerous animal escapes or is intentionally released, the possessor is liable for all reasonable expenses associated with efforts to recapture the animal, unless the escape is due to the criminal act of another person. If the inherently dangerous animal cannot be recaptured safely by the Department, animal control authority, or law enforcement officer, or if proper and safe housing cannot be found, the Department may immediately euthanize the animal.

"§ 19A-80. Public contact.

Unless prior approval has been received from the Department, a person shall not bring an inherently dangerous animal to any public property or commercial or retail establishment unless the person is bringing the animal to a licensed veterinarian or a veterinarian clinic.

"§ 19A-81. Enforcement of Article.

The provisions of this Article are enforceable by the Department, its staff, its agents, animal control authorities, local law enforcement agents, and county sheriffs.

"§ 19A-82. Inspection.

The possessor of an inherently dangerous animal shall, at all reasonable times, allow the Department, its staff, and its agents to enter the premises where the animal is kept to ensure compliance with this Article.

"§ 19A-83. Denial of personal possession permit; appeal.

(a) If the Department finds that an applicant for an original or renewal of a personal possession permit does not meet the requirements set forth in G.S. 19A-74, the Department shall deny the applicant a personal possession permit and give the applicant written notice of the denial and the reasons for the denial.

(b) If the Department finds that a person has not complied with this Article, the Department may suspend or revoke the personal possession permit and give the possessor written notice of the suspension or revocation and the reasons for the suspension or revocation.

(c) A person who is denied a personal possession permit, who is denied a renewal of a personal possession permit, or who has had a permit suspended or revoked, may appeal the decision to the district court for the district in which the animal is located no later than 15 days after the permit is denied, suspended, or revoked. The decision of the court may not be appealed.

"§ 19A-84. Confiscation and disposition of inherently dangerous animals.

(a) The Department may immediately confiscate any inherently dangerous animal if the animal is kept in violation of this Article. The possessor is liable for the costs of placement and care for the inherently dangerous animal from the time of confiscation until the time of return to the possessor, or until the time the animal has been relocated to an approved facility, such as a wildlife sanctuary or an institution accredited by the American Zoo and Aquarium Association (AZA).

(b) If an inherently dangerous animal is confiscated as a result of the animal being kept in violation of this Article, the possessor shall post a security bond or cash with the Department in an amount sufficient to guarantee payment of all reasonable expenses expected to be incurred in capturing, caring for, providing for, and placing the animal, including the estimated cost of feeding, medical care, and housing for at least 30 days, plus the cost of relocating the animal. The security bond or cash shall not prevent the Department from disposing of the animal at the end of the 30 days unless the person claiming the animal posts an additional security bond or cash with the Department to secure payment of all reasonable expenses expected to be incurred in caring and providing for the animal for an additional 30 days, and does so prior to the expiration of the first 30-day period. The amount of the security bond or cash shall be determined by the Department and based on the current rate to feed, provide medical care, and house the animal, plus the cost of relocating the animal and costs already incurred for capturing and relocating the animal.

(c) If the possessor of a confiscated animal cannot be located, or if a confiscated animal remains unclaimed, the Department may, in its discretion, contact an approved facility, such as a wildlife sanctuary or an institution accredited by the American Zoo and Aquarium Association (AZA), allow the animal to be adopted by a person who currently possesses a personal possession permit, or euthanize the animal.

(d) If the inherently dangerous animal cannot be taken up or recaptured safely by the Department, or if proper and safe housing cannot be found, the Department may immediately euthanize the animal.

(e) An inherently dangerous animal may be returned to the possessor only if, to the satisfaction of the Department, the possessor has a personal possession permit, has corrected the conditions resulting in the confiscation, and has paid the cost of placement and care of the animal while under the care and control of the Department.

"§ 19A-85. Penalties.

(a) Any possessor who fails to obtain a personal possession permit under G.S. 19A-74 for an inherently dangerous animal or renew a personal possession permit for each inherently dangerous animal shall be liable for a civil penalty of not less than two hundred dollars ($200.00) and not more than two thousand dollars ($2,000) for each animal with respect to which there is a violation and for each day the violation continues. A civil penalty collected pursuant to this subsection may be retained by the Department.

(b) A person who violates the provisions of G.S. 19A-74(f), 19A-75, 19A-77, 19A-79(b), 19A-79(d), 19A-80, or 19A-82 is guilty of a Class 3 misdemeanor.

(c) A person who violates G.S. 19A-73(b), 19A-76, 19A-78, 19A-79(a), 19A-79(c), or 19A-84(b) is guilty of a Class 2 misdemeanor.

"§ 19A-86. Local governing bodies.

Pursuant to its authority under G.S. 153A-131 and G.S. 160A-187, a city or county may adopt an ordinance governing inherently dangerous animals that is more restrictive than this Article. Such an ordinance may apply to animals not covered by this Article, provide additional caging standards, provide stricter care and treatment standards, or otherwise restrict or prohibit the possession of inherently dangerous animals.

"§ 19A-87. Severability.

If any part of this act is found to be unconstitutional or unenforceable, it shall not affect the constitutionality or enforceability of any other part."

SECTION 2. This act becomes effective January 1, 2006, and applies to inherently dangerous animals existing in this State on or after that date. A person who meets the legal requirements for possessing an inherently dangerous animal set forth in Article 6 of Chapter 19A of the General Statutes, as enacted in this act, is not required to obtain a personal possession permit by that date, but shall obtain that permit by March 31, 2006. The Department of Environment and Natural Resources shall implement and administer the provisions of Article 6 of Chapter 19A of the General Statutes, and shall establish the fee authorized by that Article and the personal possession permit program necessary to implement the provisions of that Article no later than January 1, 2006.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT DIRECTING THE DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENT AND NATURAL RESOURCES TO DETERMINE THE BEST MEANS OF PROTECTING THE PUBLIC AGAINST THE HEALTH AND SAFETY RISKS POSED BY INHERENTLY DANGEROUS ANIMALS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. The Department of Environment and Natural Resources, in consultation with the North Carolina Zoological Park and the Wildlife Resources Commission, shall study the need to protect the public against the health and safety risks posed by inherently dangerous animals and propose a means of best providing that protection to the public while protecting the welfare of inherently dangerous animals as well. In developing recommendations, the Department shall consult with the following entities or groups, or appropriate representatives of those entities or groups:

(1) The North Carolina Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services;
(2) The North Carolina School of Veterinary Medicine;
(3) The State Animal Response Team;
(4) Local law enforcement officials;
(5) Local animal control officials;
(6) Wild animal breeders;
(7) Exotic pet hobbyists;
(8) Commercial pet retailers;
(9) Small zoo owners;
(10) Humane organizations; and
(11) Any other entities or groups whose interests may be affected by proposed regulations.

The Department shall report its findings to the General Assembly no later than the convening of the 2006 Regular Session of the 2005 General Assembly. Any legislation recommended in the report may be considered during the 2006 Regular Session of the 2005 General Assembly.

SECTION 2. The report made by the Department of Environment and Natural Resources pursuant to this act shall include:

(1) A list of the types of animals that possess such inherently dangerous characteristics that they should not be owned or possessed by persons who do not have special expertise or training, and a determination as to whether these animals should be grouped into classes for differential treatment based upon the nature and extent of the threat they pose to the public. This list should also include information about the nature of the dangers posed by each type of animal.

(2) A suggested means for regulating ownership of certain animals, including a means of enforcing any proposed restrictions on the ownership or possession of those animals. This portion of the report may include an evaluation of regulations in place in other jurisdictions that have proven to be effective in protecting the public from inherently dangerous animals.

(3) A plan for addressing inherently dangerous animals that are indigenous species within the jurisdiction of the Wildlife Resources Commission under Article 22 of Chapter 113 and a consideration as to whether any potential legislation should broadly address the keeping of any wildlife as pets, whether indigenous or not and whether inherently dangerous or not. This portion of the report should result from extensive consultation with the Wildlife Resources Commission.

(4) A recommendation as to whether persons owning or possessing animals covered by any proposed restrictions should be grandfathered in under a regulatory scheme and the appropriate means of grandfathering those persons in, including consideration of whether certain animals are so threatening to the public safety that the grandfathering of untrained owners or possessors should not be allowed under any circumstances.

(5) A recommended list, as comprehensive as possible, of persons and entities that should be exempted from the proposed restrictions on ownership or possession of the animals covered by any proposed restrictions, such as zoos, veterinary hospitals, wildlife sanctuaries, research institutions, and the like.

SECTION 3. This act is effective when it becomes law.

SENATE BILL 1032:
Protection of Inherently Dangerous Animals

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	May 17, 2005
Introduced by:	Sen. Garwood	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith Committee Counsel
Version:	PCS to First Edition S1032-CSRC-46

SUMMARY: The Proposed Committee Substitute to SB1032 completely re-writes the 1st Edition of the bill. It directs the Department of Environment and Natural Resources (DENR) to study the need to protect the public against the health and safety risks posed by inherently dangerous animals and propose a means of protecting both the public and the animals. DENR would be required to report its findings and recommendations to the 2006 Regular Session of the 2005 General Assembly.

The act would be effective when the bill becomes law.

CURRENT LAW: North Carolina does not have a comprehensive regulatory program regulating the possession or control of dangerous animals. Cities and counties are specifically authorized to adopt ordinances regulating the possession of dangerous animals.[1] The Animal Welfare Act, Article 3, Chapter 19A of the General Statutes regulates kennels, dealers, and shelters, etc., however, the act applies only to dogs and cats. Article 2 of Chapter 19A prohibits the possession of black bears unless they are kept as part of a bona fide zoo operated by the federal, State or local government agency, or as part of an educational institution, or without caging in conditions simulating natural habitat in accordance with plans approved by the Wildlife Resources Commission. The Wildlife Resources Commission regulates the possession of wildlife through captivity licenses and other permits[2], but they do not regulate the possession of exotics such as lions and tigers. Finally, the United State Department of Agriculture licenses private zoos, including caging and management requirements.

BILL ANALYSIS: The Proposed Committee Substitute for S1032 directs DENR, in consultation with the Wildlife Resources Commission and the North Carolina Zoological Park to study the need to protect the public against the health and safety risks posed by inherently dangerous animals and propose a means of protecting both the public and the animals. As part of the study, DENR would consult with the North Carolina Department of Agriculture, the North Carolina School of Veterinary Medicine, the State Animal Response Team, local law enforcement and animal control officers, wild animal breeders, exotic pet hobbyists, commercial pet retailers, small zoo owners, humane organizations, and any other groups or entities that may be affected by the proposed regulations.

DENR would be required to report its findings and recommendations to the 2006 Regular Session of the 2005 General Assembly. The report must include the following:

- A list of the types of animals that possess such inherently dangerous characteristics that only persons with special training should be allowed to own them.
- A suggested means of regulating the ownership of certain animals, include a means of enforcing the regulations.
- A review of other states' laws on this matter.

[1] G.S. 153A-131 and G.S, 160A-187, respectively.
[2] Article 21 of Chapter 113 of the General Statues.

- A recommendation regarding whether to grandfather current owners under any proposed regulatory scheme.
- A recommended list of any persons who should be exempted from the proposed restrictions.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act would be effective when it becomes law.

SENATE BILL 574

Short Title:	Amend Post-Release Supervision Laws.	(Public)
Sponsors:	Senator Hartsell.
Referred to:	Judiciary II.

March 16, 2005

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO AMEND THE STRUCTURED SENTENCING LAWS WITH REGARD TO POST-RELEASE SUPERVISION.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 15A-1340.11 is amended by adding a new subdivision to read:

"(6a) Post-release supervision. – The time for which a sentenced prisoner is supervised in the community following the termination of the prisoner's maximum prison term, controlled by the rules and conditions of Article 84A of this Chapter."

SECTION 2. G.S. 15A-1340.13(b) reads as rewritten:

"(b) Procedure Generally; Requirements of Judgment; Kinds of Sentences. – Before imposing a sentence, the court shall determine the prior record level for the offender pursuant to G.S. 15A-1340.14. The sentence shall contain a sentence disposition specified for the class of offense and prior record level, and its minimum term of imprisonment shall be within the range specified for the class of offense and prior record level, unless applicable statutes require or authorize another minimum sentence of imprisonment. For Class B1, B2, C, D, and E felony offenses, the sentence shall include a period of post-release supervision pursuant to G.S. 15A-1340.18. The kinds of sentence dispositions are active punishment, intermediate punishment, and community punishment."

"§ 15A-1340.17. Punishment limits for each class of offense and prior record level.

(a) Offense Classification; Default Classifications. – The offense classification is as specified in the offense for which the sentence is being imposed. If the offense is a felony for which there is no classification, it is a Class I felony.

(b) Fines. – Any judgment that includes a sentence of imprisonment may also include a fine. If a community punishment is authorized, the judgment may consist of a fine only. Additionally, when the defendant is other than an individual, the judgment may consist of a fine only. Unless otherwise provided, the amount of the fine is in the discretion of the court.

(c) Punishments for Each Class of Offense and Prior Record Level; Punishment Chart Described. – The authorized punishment for each class of offense and prior record level is as specified in the chart ~~below.~~ below and under G.S. 15A-1340.18. Prior record levels are indicated by the Roman numerals placed horizontally on the top of the chart. Classes of offense are indicated by the letters placed vertically on the left side of the chart. Each cell on the chart contains the following components:

(1) A sentence disposition or dispositions: "C" indicates that a community punishment is authorized; "I" indicates that an intermediate punishment is authorized; "A" indicates that an active punishment is authorized; and "Life Imprisonment Without Parole" indicates that the defendant shall be imprisoned for the remainder of the prisoner's natural life.

(2) A presumptive range of minimum durations, if the sentence of imprisonment is neither aggravated or mitigated; any minimum term of imprisonment in that range is permitted unless the court finds pursuant to G.S. 15A-1340.16 that an aggravated or mitigated sentence is appropriate. The presumptive range is the middle of the three ranges in the cell.

(3) A mitigated range of minimum durations if the court finds pursuant to G.S. 15A-1340.16 that a mitigated sentence of imprisonment is justified; in such a case, any minimum term of imprisonment in the mitigated range is permitted. The mitigated range is the lower of the three ranges in the cell.

(4) An aggravated range of minimum durations if the court finds pursuant to G.S. 15A-1340.16 that an aggravated sentence of imprisonment is justified; in such a case, any minimum term of imprisonment in the aggravated range is permitted. The aggravated range is the higher of the three ranges in the cell.

(e1) Maximum Sentences Specified for Class B1 ~~through~~ through Class ~~E~~ I Felonies for Minimum Terms of ~~340~~347 Months or More. – Unless provided otherwise in a statute establishing a punishment for a specific crime, when the minimum sentence is ~~340~~347 months or more, the corresponding maximum term of imprisonment shall be equal to the sum of the minimum term of imprisonment and twenty percent (20%) of the minimum term of imprisonment, rounded to the next highest ~~month, plus nine additional months.~~ month."

SECTION 4. Article 81B of Chapter 15A of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 15A-1340.18. Post-release supervision.

(a) Except as provided in subsection (b) of this section, the court must also impose a period of post-release supervision to follow the term of imprisonment and an additional term of imprisonment to be served upon revocation of the period of post-release supervision on all offenders convicted of a Class B1, B2, C, D, or E felony offense. The period of supervision and the term of imprisonment are as follows:

(1) Period of supervision. – The period of post-release supervision shall be nine months, unless the offense is a Class B1 through E offense for which registration is required pursuant to Article 27A of Chapter 14 of the General Statutes. For offenses subject to the registration requirement of Article 27A of Chapter 14 of the General Statutes, the period of post-release supervision is five years.

(2) Term of imprisonment. – The term of imprisonment upon revocation of post-release supervision shall be for a minimum term of seven months and a maximum term of nine months.

(b) If an offender is convicted of a Class B1, B2, C, D, or E felony offense and receives a sentence of imprisonment, then the court may decline to impose post-release supervision if it makes a finding of facts which indicates post-release supervision would not be necessary in that case. If an offender is convicted of a Class B1 felony offense and receives a sentence of life imprisonment without parole, then post-release supervision shall not be imposed.

(c) If the court imposes an intermediate punishment on an offender who is required to receive post-release supervision under subsection (a) of this section, then the period of post-release supervision is suspended.

(d) Provisions of Article 84A of this Chapter apply to judgments entered pursuant to this section."

SECTION 5. G.S. 15A-1342(c) reads as rewritten:

"(c) Conditions; Suspended Sentence. – When the court places a convicted offender on probation, it must determine conditions of probation as provided in G.S. 15A-1343. In addition, it must impose a suspended sentence of imprisonment, determined as provided in Article 83, Imprisonment, which may be activated upon violation of conditions of probation. Suspension of a term of imprisonment also suspends any period of post-release supervision that may be imposed for that offense."

SECTION 6. G.S. 15A-1344(d) reads as rewritten:

"(d) Extension and Modification; Response to Violations. – At any time prior to the expiration or termination of the probation period, the court may after notice and hearing and for good cause shown extend the period of probation up to the maximum allowed under G.S. 15A-1342(a) and may modify the conditions of probation. The probation period shall be tolled if the probationer shall have pending against him criminal charges in any court of competent jurisdiction, which, upon conviction, could result in revocation proceedings against him for violation of the terms of this probation. The hearing may be held in the absence of the defendant, if he fails to appear for the hearing after a reasonable effort to notify him. If a convicted defendant violates a condition of probation at any time prior to the expiration or termination of the period of probation, the court, in accordance with the provisions of G.S. 15A-1345, may continue him on probation, with or without modifying the conditions, may place the defendant on special probation as provided in subsection (e), or, if continuation, modification, or special probation is not appropriate, may revoke the probation and activate the suspended sentence and any period of post-release supervision imposed at the time of initial sentencing, if any, or may order that charges as to which prosecution has been deferred be brought to trial; provided that probation may not be revoked solely for conviction of a Class 3 misdemeanor. The court, before activating a sentence to imprisonment established when the defendant was placed on probation, may reduce the sentence, but the reduction shall be consistent with subsection (d1) of this section. A sentence activated upon revocation of probation commences on the day probation is revoked and runs concurrently with any other period of probation, parole, or imprisonment to which the defendant is subject during that period unless the revoking judge specifies that it is to run consecutively with the other period."

"§ 15A-1354. Concurrent and consecutive terms of imprisonment.

(a) Authority of Court. – When multiple sentences of imprisonment are imposed on a person at the same time or when a term of imprisonment is imposed on a person who is already subject to an undischarged term of imprisonment, including a term of imprisonment in another jurisdiction, the sentences may run either concurrently or consecutively, as determined by the court. If not specified or not required by statute to run consecutively, sentences shall run concurrently.

(b) Effect of Consecutive Terms. – In determining the effect of consecutive sentences imposed under authority of this Article and the manner in which they will be served, the Department of Correction must treat the defendant as though he has been committed for a single term with the following incidents:

(1) The maximum prison sentence consists of the total of the maximum terms of the consecutive ~~sentences, less nine months for each of the second and subsequent sentences imposed for Class B through Class E felonies; and~~ sentences; and

(2) The minimum term consists of the total of the minimum terms of the consecutive sentences.

(c) Post-Release Supervision. – When multiple periods of post-release supervision are imposed on a person, either at the same time or in addition to existing periods of supervision, the periods of post-release supervision are consolidated to run as a single period and begin at the conclusion of all terms of imprisonment."

SECTION 8. G.S. 15A-1368(a) reads as rewritten:

The conditions of post-release supervision are as authorized in G.S. ~~15A-1368.5.~~15A-1368.4.

~~(d) A supervisee's period of post-release supervision may be reduced while the supervisee is under supervision by earned time awarded by the Department of Correction, pursuant to rules adopted in accordance with law. (e) Repealed by Session Laws 1997-237, s. 7.

(f) When a supervisee completes the period of post-release supervision, the sentence or sentences from which the supervisee was placed on post-release supervision are terminated."

(b) Modification. – The Commission may for good cause shown modify the conditions of post-release supervision at any time before the termination of the supervision period.

(c) Effect of Violation. – If the supervisee violates a condition, described in G.S. 15A-1368.4, at any time before the termination of the supervision period, the Commission may continue the supervisee on the existing supervision, with or without modifying the ~~conditions, or~~ conditions. If the supervisee violates a controlling condition described in G.S. 15A-1368.4(b), (b1), (e), or (e2), and if continuation or modification is not appropriate, the Commission may revoke post-release supervision as provided in G.S. 15A-1368.6 and reimprison the supervisee for a term consistent with the following requirements:

(1) The supervisee will be returned to prison ~~up to the time remaining on his maximum imposed term.~~ for a minimum term of seven months and a maximum term of nine months.

(2) The supervisee shall not receive any credit for days on post-release supervision against the maximum term of imprisonment imposed by the court under G.S. 15A-1340.13.

(3) Pursuant to Article 19A of Chapter 15, the Department of Correction shall award a prisoner credit against any term of reimprisonment for all time spent in custody as a result of revocation proceedings under G.S. 15A-1368.6.

(e) Timing of Revocation. – The Commission may revoke post-release supervision for violation of a controlling condition during the period of supervision. The Commission may also revoke post-release supervision following a period of supervision if:

(2) The Commission finds that every reasonable effort has been made to notify the supervisee and conduct the hearing earlier. Prima facie evidence of reasonable effort to notify is the issuance of a temporary or conditional revocation order, as provided in G.S. 15A-1376, that goes unserved."

SECTION 12. G.S. 15A-1368.4 reads as rewritten:

"§ 15A-1368.4. Conditions of post-release supervision.

(a) In General. – Conditions of post-release supervision may be reintegrative in nature or designed to control the supervisee's behavior and to enforce compliance with law or judicial order. A supervisee may have his supervision period revoked for any violation of a controlling ~~condition or for repeated violation of a reintegrative condition. Compliance with reintegrative conditions may entitle a supervisee to earned time credits as described in G.S. 15A-1368.2(d).~~condition.

(b) Required Condition. – The Commission shall provide as an express condition of every release that the supervisee not commit another crime during the period for which the supervisee remains subject to revocation. (5) Not reside in a household with any minor child if the offense is one in which there is evidence of physical or mental abuse of a minor, unless ~~a court of competent jurisdiction~~ the Post-Release Supervision and Parole Commission expressly finds that it is unlikely that the defendant's harmful or abusive conduct will recur and that it would be in the child's best interest to allow the supervisee to reside in the same household with a minor child.

(c) Discretionary Conditions. – The Commission, in consultation with the Division of Community Corrections, may impose reintegrative or controlling conditions on a supervisee it believes reasonably necessary to ensure that the supervisee will lead a law-abiding life or to assist the supervisee to do so.

(e) Controlling Conditions. – Appropriate controlling conditions, violation of which may result in revocation of post-release supervision, are:

(1) Not use, possess, or control any illegal drug or controlled substance unless it has been prescribed for the supervisee by a licensed physician and is in the original container with the prescription number affixed on it; not knowingly associate with any known or previously convicted users, possessors, or sellers of any such illegal drugs or controlled substances; and not knowingly be present at or frequent any place where such illegal drugs or controlled substances are sold, kept, or used.

(11) Make restitution or reparation to an aggrieved party as provided in G.S. 148-57.1.

(12) Comply with an order from a court of competent jurisdiction regarding the payment of an obligation of the supervisee in connection with any judgment rendered by the court.

(14) Submit to supervision by officers assigned to the Intensive Post-Release Supervision Program established pursuant to G.S. 143B-262(c), and abide by the rules adopted for that Program.

"(6a) Post-release supervision. – The time for which a sentenced prisoner is supervised in the community following the termination of the prisoner's maximum prison term, controlled by the rules and conditions of Article 84A of this Chapter."

SECTION 3. G.S. 15A-1340.13(b) reads as rewritten:

"(b) Procedure Generally; Requirements of Judgment; Kinds of Sentences. – Before imposing a sentence, the court shall determine the prior record level for the offender pursuant to G.S. 15A-1340.14. For Class B1, B2, C, D, and E felony offenses, the sentence shall include a term of post-release supervision under G.S. 15A-1340.18. The kinds of sentence dispositions are active punishment, intermediate punishment, and community punishment."

SECTION 4. G.S. 15A-1340.17 reads as rewritten:

"§ 15A-1340.17. Punishment limits for each class of offense and prior record level.

(a) Offense Classification; Default Classifications. – The offense classification is as specified in the offense for which the sentence is being imposed. If the offense is a felony for which there is no classification, it is a Class I felony.

(2) A presumptive range of minimum durations, if the sentence of imprisonment is neither aggravated or mitigated; any minimum term of imprisonment in that range is permitted unless the court finds pursuant to G.S. 15A-1340.16 that an aggravated or mitigated sentence is appropriate. The presumptive range is the middle of the three ranges in the cell.

(3) A mitigated range of minimum durations if the court finds pursuant to G.S. 15A-1340.16 that a mitigated sentence of imprisonment is justified; in such a case, any minimum term of imprisonment in the mitigated range is permitted. The mitigated range is the lower of the three ranges in the cell.

(4) An aggravated range of minimum durations if the court finds pursuant to G.S. 15A-1340.16 that an aggravated sentence of imprisonment is justified; in such a case, any minimum term of imprisonment in the aggravated range is permitted. The aggravated range is the higher of the three ranges in the cell.

The term of supervision and the term of imprisonment are as follows:

(1) Term of supervision. – The term of post-release supervision is nine months, unless the offense is a Class B1 through E offense for which registration is required under Article 27A of Chapter 14 of the General Statutes. For offenses subject to the registration requirement of Article 27A of Chapter 14 of the General Statutes, the term of post-release supervision is five years.

(2) Term of imprisonment. –The term of imprisonment upon an initial revocation of post-release supervision is for a minimum term of seven months and a maximum term of nine months.

(b) If an offender is convicted of a Class B1, B2, C, D, or E felony offense and receives a sentence of imprisonment, then the court may decline to impose post-release supervision if it makes a finding of facts that indicates post-release supervision would not be necessary in that case. If an offender is convicted of a Class B1 felony offense and receives a sentence of life imprisonment without parole, then post-release supervision shall not be imposed.

(c) If the court imposes an intermediate punishment on an offender who is required to receive post-release supervision under subsection (a) of this section, then the term of post-release supervision is suspended.

(d) Article 84A of this Chapter applies to judgments entered under this section."

"(c) Conditions; Suspended Sentence. – When the court places a convicted offender on probation, it must determine conditions of probation as provided in G.S. 15A-1343. In addition, it must impose a suspended sentence of imprisonment, determined as provided in Article ~~83, Imprisonment,~~ 83 of this Chapter, which may be activated upon violation of conditions of probation. Suspension of a term of imprisonment also suspends any term of post-release supervision that may be imposed for that offense."

SECTION 7. G.S. 15A-1344(d) reads as rewritten:

"(d) Extension and Modification; Response to Violations. – At any time ~~prior to~~ before the expiration or termination of the probation period, the court may after notice and hearing and for good cause shown extend the period of probation up to the maximum allowed under G.S. 15A-1342(a) and may modify the conditions of probation. The probation period shall be tolled if there is pending against the probationer ~~shall have pending against him~~ criminal charges in any court of competent jurisdiction, which, upon conviction, could result in revocation proceedings against ~~him~~ the probationer for violation of the terms of this probation. The hearing may be held in the absence of the defendant, if ~~he~~ the defendant fails to appear for the hearing after a reasonable effort to notify ~~him.~~ the defendant. If a convicted defendant violates a condition of probation at any time ~~prior to~~ before the expiration or termination of the period of probation, the court, in accordance with ~~the provisions of~~ G.S. 15A-1345, may continue ~~him~~ the defendant on probation, with or without modifying the conditions, may place the defendant on special probation as provided in subsection ~~(e),~~ (e) of this section, or, if continuation, modification, or special probation is not appropriate, may revoke the probation and activate the suspended sentence and any term of post-release supervision imposed at the time of initial sentencing, if any, or may order that charges as to which prosecution has been deferred be brought to trial; provided that probation may not be revoked solely for conviction of a Class 3 misdemeanor. The court, before activating a sentence to imprisonment established when the defendant was placed on probation, may reduce the sentence, but the reduction shall be consistent with subsection (d1) of this section. A sentence activated upon revocation of probation commences on the day probation is revoked and runs concurrently with any other period of probation, parole, or imprisonment to which the defendant is subject during that period unless the revoking judge specifies that it is to run consecutively with the other period."

supervision by the Commission subject to subsection (d1) of this section and the provisions that govern initial release.

(d1) Re-Release After Second or Subsequent Revocation of Post-Release Supervision. – A supervisee who is re-imprisoned following the first revocation of a five-year ~~period~~ term of post-release supervision before completing that ~~period~~ term of five years shall again be released on post-release supervision for the remainder of that ~~period.~~term. If a supervisee who is re-released willfully violates a condition of post-release supervision for a second or subsequent time, the superior court in the county where the supervisee resides may hold the supervisee in criminal contempt as provided in Article 1 of Chapter 5A of the General Statutes. A finding of criminal contempt by the court shall suspend the unserved ~~period~~ term of post-release supervision during any period of confinement resulting from the finding of criminal contempt. If the supervisee serves a sentence for contempt in a local confinement facility, the Department of Correction shall pay for the confinement at the standard rate set by the General Assembly under G.S. 148-32.1(a) regardless of whether the supervisee would be eligible under the terms of G.S. 148-32.1(a)."

(e) Timing of Revocation. – The Commission may revoke post-release supervision for violation of a controlling condition during the ~~period~~ term of supervision. The Commission may also revoke post-release supervision following a ~~period~~ term of supervision if:

(1) Before the expiration of the ~~period~~ term of post-release supervision, the Commission has recorded its intent to conduct a revocation hearing; and

(2) The Commission finds that every reasonable effort has been made to notify the supervisee and conduct the hearing earlier. Prima facie evidence of reasonable effort to notify is the issuance of a temporary or conditional revocation order, as provided in G.S. 15A-1376, that goes unserved."

SECTION 14. G.S. 15A-1368.4 reads as rewritten:

"§ 15A-1368.4. Conditions of post-release supervision.

(a) In General. – Conditions of post-release supervision may be reintegrative in nature or designed to control the supervisee's behavior and to enforce compliance with law or judicial order. A supervisee may have his supervision ~~period~~ term revoked for any violation of a controlling ~~condition or for repeated violation of a reintegrative condition. (b) Required Condition. – The Commission shall provide as an express condition of every release that the supervisee not commit another crime during the period for which the supervisee remains subject to revocation. (4) Not reside in a household with any minor child if the offense is one in which there is evidence of sexual abuse of a minor.

(5) Not reside in a household with any minor child if the offense is one in which there is evidence of physical or mental abuse of a minor, unless ~~a court of competent jurisdiction~~ the Post-Release Supervision and Parole Commission expressly finds that it is unlikely that the defendant's harmful or abusive conduct will recur and that it would be in the child's best interest to allow the supervisee to reside in the same household with a minor child.

(c) Discretionary Conditions. – The Commission, in consultation with the Division of Community Corrections, may impose reintegrative or controlling conditions on a supervisee it believes reasonably necessary to ensure that the supervisee will lead a law-abiding life or to assist the supervisee to do so.

(1) Not use, possess, or control any illegal drug or controlled substance unless it has been prescribed for the supervisee by a licensed physician and is in the original container with the prescription number affixed on it; not knowingly associate with any known or previously convicted users, possessors, or sellers of any such illegal drugs or controlled substances; and not knowingly be present at or frequent any place where such illegal drugs or controlled substances are sold, kept, or used.

(2) Comply with a court order to pay the costs of reintegrative treatment for a minor and a minor's parents or custodians where the offense involved evidence of physical, mental, or sexual abuse of a minor.

(3) Comply with a court order to pay court costs and costs for appointed counsel or public defender in the case for which the supervisee was convicted.

(4) Not possess a firearm, destructive device, or other dangerous weapon unless granted written permission by the Commission or a post-release supervision officer.

(14) Submit to supervision by officers assigned to the Intensive Post-Release Supervision Program established pursuant to G.S. 143B-262(c), and abide by the rules adopted for that Program.

(e1) Prohibited Conditions. – The Commission shall not impose community service as a condition of post-release supervision.

(e2) Additional Discretionary Controlling Conditions for Sex Offenders and Persons Convicted of Offenses Involving Physical, Mental, or Sexual Abuse of a Minor. – In addition to the discretionary conditions set forth in subsections (d) and (e) of this section, for a supervisee who has been convicted of an offense which is a reportable conviction as defined in G.S. 14-208.6(4), or which involves the physical, mental, or sexual abuse of a minor, appropriate discretionary controlling conditions, violations of which may result in revocation of post-release supervision, are that the offender:

(1) Reside at a residence to be approved by the supervising officer.

(11) Not work or volunteer for any business or organization that provides services to or employs persons under 18 years of age. (17) Abide by a curfew at the discretion of the supervising officer.

(f) Required Supervision Fee. – The Commission shall require as a condition of post-release supervision that the supervisee pay a supervision fee of thirty dollars ($30.00) per month. The Commission may exempt a supervisee from this condition only if it finds that requiring payment of the fee is an undue economic burden. The fee shall be paid to the clerk of superior court of the county in which the supervisee was convicted. The clerk shall transmit any money collected pursuant to this subsection to the State to be deposited in the State's General Fund. In no event shall a supervisee be required to pay more than one supervision fee per month."

SENATE BILL 574:
Amend Post-Release Supervision Laws

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	May 16, 2005
Introduced by:	Sen. Hartsell	Summary by:	Robin Johnson
Version:	PCS to First Edition S574-CSRH-13[v.6]		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 574 would amend the laws related to Post-Release Supervision (PRS). The bill would delete from the Structured Sentencing charts the nine months of PRS included within the maximum sentences and would create PRS as a sanction that may be imposed at the judge's discretion and that is separate from the prison term.

The Proposed Committee Substitute makes technical changes and would add provisions to clarify that registered sex offenders can be returned to post-release supervision following re-imprisonment resulting from revocation of their PRS. For subsequent violations of PRS, these offenders may be found in contempt of court.

CURRENT LAW:

Structured Sentencing – The maximum sentences for Class B1 through Class E felonies include nine months of PRS. The purpose of PRS is to monitor and control the offender in the community, to assist the offender's reintegration into society, to collect restitution and indebtedness owed by the offender, and to continue the offender's treatment and education.

Post-Release Supervision - Individuals convicted of a Class B1 through Class E felony are released from prison nine months prior to the maximum sentence imposed, less any earned time awarded. PRS lasts for nine months. It is possible for the period of PRS to be reduced by earned time during the period of supervision, but generally this does not happen.

PRS is conditional and subject to revocation. Violation of any condition may result in the modification or revocation of PRS. Upon a revocation of PRS, no matter when it occurs during the nine months, the supervisee is returned to prison to serve the remainder of the maximum sentence (nine months). This period may be reduced by earned time.

Certain Drug Trafficking Offenses – The maximum sentences for the following drug trafficking offenses include nine months of PRS: Marijuana (10,000 or more pounds); Methaqualone (10,000 or more dosage units); Cocaine (400 grams or more); Methamphetamine (200 grams or more); Opium or heroin (14 grams or more); LSD (1,000 or more dosage units); and MDA/MDMA (1,000 or more tablets).

Felony Sex Offenders – The maximum sentences for Class B1 through Class E felonies for sex offenders also includes nine months of PRS. These individuals also are released from prison nine months before the maximum sentence imposed, less any earned time awarded. However, if the individual is convicted of a sex offense that requires registration under the Sex Offender Registration Act, the actual period of PRS is five years. If PRS is revoked, then the offender is returned to prison to serve the remainder of the maximum sentence (i.e., nine months), at which time the offender is released and is no longer on PRS. (The law provides for a return to PRS, but is unclear how to address a subsequent violation of PRS.)

Criminal Contempt. – G.S. 5A-11 sets out the grounds for criminal contempt. Generally, a person who commits criminal contempt is subject to censure, imprisonment up to 30 days, a maximum fine of $500, or any combination of these.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Section 1 would amend G.S. 5-11(a)(9a) to add a willful violation of PRS as a grounds for criminal contempt.

Section 2 would amend the definitions of Article 81B of Chapter 15A (Structured Sentencing) to include "Post-release supervision". It would be defined as the time a prisoner is supervised in the community following the termination of the prisoner's maximum prison term.

Section 3 would amend G.S. 15A-1340.13(b) to require that when a judge is imposing a sentence under structured sentencing, the judge shall also include a period of post-release supervision if the offense is a Class B1 through Class E felony.

Section 4 would amend G.S. 15A-1340.17 (the structured sentencing chart) to make PRS a separate punishment, and to create a single table for calculating the maximum sentences for Class B1 through Class I felonies where the minimum term is less than 347 months.

Section 5 would create a new section (G.S. 15A-1340.18) relating to PRS under structured sentencing. Any person convicted of a Class B1, B2, C, D, or E felony could be required to participate in PRS. The minimum period of PRS would be seven months and the maximum period would be nine months, unless the offense is subject to the registration requirements of Article 27A of Chapter 14 (Sex Offenders Registration Program). If the period of PRS is revoked, the term of re-imprisonment would be a minimum term of seven months and a maximum of nine months. A court may decline to impose PRS if it makes a finding of facts that indicate that PRS would not be necessary in that case. PRS would not be imposed for an offender convicted of a Class B1 felony offense who receives a life sentence.

Section 6 would amend G.S. 15A-1342(c) to provide that if a court places an offender on probation, the period of PRS is also suspended.

Section 7 would amend G.S. 15A-1344(d) to provide that if an offender violates a condition of probation under a suspended sentence, the Post-Release Supervision and Parole Commission ("Commission") may activate the offender's prison sentence and any period of PRS.

Section 8 would amend G.S. 15A-1354 to provide that where a court imposes consecutive terms, the periods of PRS are consolidated to run as a single period and run at the conclusion of the term of imprisonment.

Section 9 would amend the definitions in Article 84A (Post-Release Supervision) to reflect that PRS is the time an offender is supervised in the community after the termination of the maximum prison term.

Section 10 would amend G.S. 15A-1368.1 to reflect that it applies to certain drug trafficking offenses under G.S. 90-95.

Section 11 would amend G.S. 15A-1368.2 to provide that earned time is inapplicable to the period of PRS.

Section 12 would amend G.S. 15A-1368.3(d) to clarify that supervisee whose PRS is revoked and who is re-imprisoned for the remainder of the maximum sentence, must be released again on PRS if the supervisee was a registered sex offender who had not completed his or her five-year period of PRS. A subsequent violation of PRS for that supervisee would be grounds for criminal contempt.

Section 13 would amend G.S. 15A-1368.3, as amended by Section 12 of the act, to provide that PRS would be revoked if a supervisee violates a controlling condition of PRS and the supervisee would return to prison for a minimum of seven months and a maximum of nine months.

Section 14 would amend G.S. 15A-1368.4 to (i) remove the authority to revoke PRS for a repeated violation of a reintegrative condition (see page 12, lines 25-42); (ii) clarify that a supervisee may not receive earned time credit during PRS; and (iii) codify certain discretionary controlling conditions for sex offenders that currently are imposed under the Commission's general authority.

Section 15 would amend G.S. 90-95(h) regarding the sentences for certain drug trafficking offenses to remove the period of PRS from the maximum sentence and require that it be imposed as a separate sanction.

BACKGROUND: Post-Release Supervision was not developed as part of the original structured sentencing proposals of 1993. It was added to the structured sentencing legislation during the legislative process. The five-year period of post-release supervision for registered sex offenders was added in 1996.

The Structured Sentencing Commission has repeatedly recommended changes to PRS to make it more consistent with the way structured sentencing functions and to also clarify certain details regarding how PRS functions.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Sections 1 and 12, which clarify that subsequent PRS revocations for registered sex offenders are grounds for criminal contempt, would take effect July 1, 2005, and apply to violations of post-release supervision occurring on or after that date and to sentences imposed on or after that date. The remainder of the act would become effective December 1, 2005 and apply to offenses committed on or after that date.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO PROVIDE THAT FORFEITURE OF A BAIL BOND SHALL BE SET ASIDE IF THE DEFENDANT FOR WHOM THE BOND WAS POSTED WAS INCARCERATED ANYWHERE AT THE TIME OF THE FAILURE TO APPEAR, TO PROVIDE THAT BOND SHALL NOT BE FORFEITED UNLESS THE SURETY OR BAIL AGENT HAD ACTUAL KNOWLEDGE THAT THE DEFENDANT HAD FAILED TO APPEAR ON TWO OR MORE OCCASIONS ON THE SAME CHARGE, AND TO PROVIDE THAT BOND SHALL BE REMITTED IF THE DEFENDANT RECEIVES A PRAYER FOR JUDGMENT CONTINUED OR DEFERRED PROSECUTION.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 15A-544.5 reads as rewritten:

"§ 15A-544.5. Setting aside forfeiture.

(a) Relief Exclusive. – There shall be no relief from a forfeiture except as provided in this section. The reasons for relief are those specified in subsection (b) of this section. The procedures for obtaining relief are those specified in subsections (c) and (d) of this section. Subsections (f), (g), (h), and (i) of this section apply regardless of the reason for relief given or the procedure followed.

(b) Reasons for Set Aside. – A forfeiture shall be set aside for any one of the following reasons, and none other:

(1) The defendant's failure to appear has been set aside by the court and any order for arrest issued for that failure to appear has been recalled, as evidenced by a copy of an official court record, including an electronic record.

(2) All charges for which the defendant was bonded to appear have been finally disposed by the court other than by the State's taking dismissal with leave, as evidenced by a copy of an official court record, including an electronic record.

(3) The defendant has been surrendered by a surety on the bail bond as provided by G.S. 15A-540, as evidenced by the sheriff's receipt provided for in that section.

(4) The defendant has been served with an Order for Arrest for the Failure to Appear on the criminal charge in the case in question.

(5) The defendant died before or within the period between the forfeiture and the final judgment as demonstrated by the presentation of a death certificate.

(6) The defendant was incarcerated ~~in a unit of the Department of Correction and is serving a sentence or in a unit of the Federal Bureau of Prisons located within the borders of the State~~anywhere at the time of the failure to appear.

(c) Procedure When Failure to Appear Is Stricken. – If the court before which a defendant's appearance was secured by a bail bond enters an order striking the defendant's failure to appear and recalling any order for arrest issued for that failure to appear, that court may simultaneously enter an order setting aside any forfeiture of that bail bond. When an order setting aside a forfeiture is entered, the defendant's further appearances shall continue to be secured by that bail bond unless the court orders otherwise.

(d) Motion Procedure. – If a forfeiture is not set aside under subsection (c) of this section, the only procedure for setting it aside is as follows:

(1) At any time before the expiration of 150 days after the date on which notice was given under G.S. 15A-544.4, the defendant or any surety on a bail bond may make a written motion that the forfeiture be set aside, stating the reason and attaching the evidence specified in subsection (a) of this section.

(2) The motion is filed in the office of the clerk of superior court of the county in which the forfeiture was entered, and a copy is served, under G.S. 1A-1, Rule 5, on the district attorney for that county and the county board of education.

(3) Either the district attorney or the county board of education may object to the motion by filing a written objection in the office of the clerk and serving a copy on the moving party.

(4) If neither the district attorney nor the board of education has filed a written objection to the motion by the tenth day after the motion is served, the clerk shall enter an order setting aside the forfeiture.

(5) If either the district attorney or the county board of education files a written objection to the motion, then not more than 30 days after the objection is filed a hearing on the motion and objection shall be held in the county, in the trial division in which the defendant was bonded to appear.

(6) If at the hearing the court allows the motion, the court shall enter an order setting aside the forfeiture.

(7) If at the hearing the court does not enter an order setting aside the forfeiture, the forfeiture shall become a final judgment of forfeiture on the later of:

a. The date of the hearing.

b. The date of final judgment specified in G.S. 15A-544.6.

(e) Only One Motion Per Forfeiture. – No more than one motion to set aside a specific forfeiture may be considered by the court.

(f) No More Than Two Forfeitures May Be Set Aside Per Case. – In any case in which the State proves that the surety or the bail agent had ~~notice or~~ actual knowledge, before executing a bail bond, that the defendant had already failed to appear on two or more prior ~~occasions,~~ occasions on the same charge, no forfeiture of that bond may be set aside for any reason. Actual knowledge exists only when the State indicates on both the release order and the bond form provided by the State that the defendant has failed to appear on two or more occasions on the same charge.

(g) No Final Judgment After Forfeiture Is Set Aside. – If a forfeiture is set aside under this section, the forfeiture shall not thereafter ever become a final judgment of forfeiture or be enforced or reported to the Department of Insurance.

(h) Appeal. – An order on a motion to set aside a forfeiture is a final order or judgment of the trial court for purposes of appeal. Appeal is the same as provided for appeals in civil actions. When notice of appeal is properly filed, the court may stay the effectiveness of the order on any conditions the court considers appropriate."

SECTION 2. G.S. 15A-547.1 reads as rewritten:

"§ 15A-547.1. Remit bail bond ~~if defendant sentenced to community or intermediate punishment.~~in certain circumstances.

~~If a defendant is convicted and sentenced to community punishment or intermediate punishment and no appeal is pending, then the~~ The court shall remit the bail bond to the obligor in accordance with the provisions of this Article and shall not require that the bail bond continue to be posted while the defendant serves his or her ~~sentence.~~sentence if any of the following circumstances exist:

(1) The defendant is convicted and sentenced to community punishment or intermediate punishment, and no appeal is pending.

(2) The defendant receives a prayer for judgment continued.

(3) The disposition of the defendant's case is by deferred prosecution."

SECTION 3. This act becomes effective December 1, 2005, and applies to bail bonds posted for offenses committed on or after that date.

(7) No final judgment shall be rendered on a forfeiture of any appearance bond if it is shown to the court that the principal on the bond was prevented from attending because the principal was detained by reason of arrest, sentence, or confinement in a penal institution or jail in this State, or in another jurisdiction, or because the principal was confined or detained under a court order in a medical or mental institution in this State or in another jurisdiction. An official written notice of the holding institution in which the principal is being detained or confined shall be considered proof of the principal's detention or confinement and the notice may be sent from the holding institution by mail, delivered by hand, or sent by facsimile machine. The surety shall present the written notice and a letter of intent to transport the defendant to the clerk of the proper court, the district attorney having jurisdiction over the case, and the county board of education, and the notice and letter of intent shall serve as the surety's request for a detainer or hold to be placed on the principal. Should there be a failure to place a detainer or hold on the detainee within 15 days and after the presentation of the notice, the surety shall then be relieved of the liability for the appearance bond without further order of the court. In no event shall the letter of intent to transport the defendant be construed to require the surety to pay transportation costs that exceed the face amount of the bond. The surety shall not be liable for transportation costs if the defendant is in custody due to the actions of any district attorney, judge, clerk or magistrate in that judicial district. A final judgment may be rendered if the State has exhausted all remedies available to the State in regards to the extradition of the defendant, but has not been able to effectuate the extradition.

(8) No final judgment shall be rendered on a forfeiture of any appearance bond if it is shown to the court that prior to the entry of final judgment on the forfeiture the principal on the bond is in the custody of any law enforcement agency. An official written notice of the holding institution in which the principal is being detained or confined shall be considered proof of the principal's detention or confinement and the notice may be sent from the holding institution by mail, delivered by hand, or sent by facsimile machine. The surety shall present the written notice and a letter of intent to transport the defendant to the clerk of the proper court, the district attorney having jurisdiction over the case and the county board of education and the notice and letter of intent shall serve as the surety's request for a detainer or hold to be placed on the principal. A final judgment may be rendered if the State has exhausted all remedies available to the State in regards to the extradition of the defendant, but has not been able to effectuate the extradition.

(c) Procedure When Failure to Appear Is Stricken. – If the court before which a defendant's appearance was secured by a bail bond enters an order striking the defendant's failure to appear and recalling any order for arrest issued for that failure to appear, that court may simultaneously enter an order setting aside any forfeiture of that bail bond. (1) At any time before the expiration of 150 days after the date on which notice was given under G.S. 15A-544.4, the defendant or any surety on a bail bond may make a written motion that the forfeiture be set aside, stating the reason and attaching the evidence specified in subsection (a) of this section.

(2) The motion is filed in the office of the clerk of superior court of the county in which the forfeiture was entered, and a copy is served, under G.S. 1A-1, Rule 5, on the district attorney for that county and the county board of education.

(3) Either the district attorney or the county board of education may object to the motion by filing a written objection in the office of the clerk and serving a copy on the moving party.

SENATE BILL 797:
Bail Bonds/Forfeitures & Remittances

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	May 19, 2005
Introduced by:	Sen. Thomas	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith Committee Counsel
Version:	PCS to First Edition S797-CSRC-38

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 797 would provide two additional circumstances the forfeiture of a bail bond would be set aside even though the defendant failed to appear before the court when required to do so. It also narrows the situations where forfeiture may not be set aside to those where the surety had actual knowledge that the defendant had failed to appear on two previous occasions on for the same offense. Finally, it would prohibit a court from keeping a defendant's bond in place while a defendant serves certain intermediate punishments, obtains a PJC or there is a deferred prosecution.

The act would become effective December 1, 2005 and apply to bail bonds posted for offenses committed on or after that date.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 15A-544.5 sets out 6grounds for setting aside the forfeiture of a bail bond. These include situations where the defendant's failure to appear has been set aside by the court, the charges have been finally disposed by the court, the defendant was surrendered to the court by the surety, the defendant died within the period of the forfeiture, or the defendant was incarcerated by the State or the federal government. In cases where the State proves that the surety had notice or actual knowledge before executing the bond that the defendant had already failed to appear on two or more occasions for the same offense, the forfeiture of the bond may not be set aside for any reason.

G.S. 15A-547.1 requires the court to remit the bond if a defendant is convicted and sentenced to community punishment or intermediate punishment and no appeal is pending.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Section 1 of the bill amends G.S. 15a-544.5 to add two new additional grounds for setting aside forfeiture. The first is a situation where the defendant was prevented from appearing before the court because the defendant was detained by reason of arrest, sentence, or confinement in a penal institution or jail in North Carolina or another jurisdiction, or because the defendant was confined or detained under a court order in a medical or mental health institution. An official written notice by the institution that the defendant is being detained shall be considered proof of the detention. The surety may submit that notice and a letter of intent to pay for the cost of transporting the defendant to the court. The notice and the letter will constitute a request for a detainer to be placed on the defendant. If the detainer is not placed on the defendant within 15 days, the surety would be relieved of the liability for the appearance bond. In no event would the surety be liable for transportation costs in excess of the face amount of the bond, and the surety would not be liable for transportation costs if the defendant is detained as a result of actions by any district attorney, judge, clerk or magistrate in that judicial district. If the State cannot obtain an extradition after pursuing all remedies, a final judgment may be rendered. A similar exception with similar procedures would apply in situations where the principal is shown to be in the custody of law enforcement officials.

The bill also expands the existing law to include situations where a defendant does not appear because the defendant has been arrested, sentenced, or confined in a detention facility.

The changes would also narrow the circumstances where forfeiture could not be set aside where the defendant has failed to appear on two or more occasions. It would require that the surety have actual knowledge of the defendant's multiple failures to appear. Actual knowledge would only apply if the State indicates on the release order that the defendant has failed to appear on two or more occasions on the same charge and the surety subsequently signs the release order.

Section 2 amends G.S. 15A-547.1 to provide additional specificity to situations where the court is prohibited from requiring that a surety continue to post bond. It would provide that the court must remit the bail bond while the defendant serves his or her sentence if the defendant is sentenced to community punishment or intermediate punishment, the defendant has received a prayer for judgment continued or deferred prosecution.

SENATE BILL 846:
Modernize Bail Bondsman Registration

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:		Date:	May 18, 2005
Introduced by:		Summary by:	Ben Popkin
Version:	PCS to First Edition S846-CSRD		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 846 would require that the Commissioner of Insurance and the Administrative Office of the Courts establish a statewide Electronic Bondsmen Registry for all licenses, powers of appointment, and powers of attorney as required by this section[1] and would require that all licensed professional bail bondsmen, surety bondsmen and runners register with the Registry. Registration with the statewide registry would replace the current county-level registration with the clerks of court and would allow all licensed professional bail bondsmen, surety bondsmen and runners to operate statewide rather than only in the counties in which they are registered.

The PCS calls for the Registry to be established on or before July 1, 2006. The PCS also removes Section 2 of the original bill, proposing changes to existing bond forfeiture practices[2] (which would have enabled a statewide bar against the writing of bonds by anyone against whom a final judgment of forfeiture of a bond has been docketed).

CURRENT LAW: General Statutes require that the following individuals writing bail bonds register with the clerk of superior court in the county in which they reside and with the clerk of superior court in the county in which they would like to write bail bonds: licensed professional bail bondsmen, surety bondsmen, and runners[3]. Surety bondsmen and runners must also register certified copies of their power of appointment or power of attorney with both counties' clerks of superior court as well. Licensed professional bail bondsmen, surety bondsmen, and runners may not write bonds in any county in which they have not filed the appropriate paperwork with the clerk of court.

BILL ANALYSIS: Registration with the statewide registry would replace the current county-level registration with the clerks of court and would allow all licensed professional bail bondsmen, surety bondsmen and runners to operate statewide rather than only in the counties in which they are registered.

Senate Bill 846 would add a subsection to the existing statute, requiring that the Commissioner of Insurance and the Administrative Office of the Courts establish a statewide Electronic Bondsmen Registry for all licenses, powers of appointment, and powers of attorney as required by G.S. 58-71-140. The bill would require that the Registry be established on or before July 1, 2006 and would direct the Commissioner to notify all licensed professional bail bondsmen, surety bondsmen, runners, and qualified insurance companies of the Registry. The bill includes an additional subsection that would require all licensed professional bail bondsmen, surety bondsmen, or runners to register with the Registry on or after the date of notice by the Commissioner.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act would be effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: Currently, licensed professional bail bondsmen, surety bondsmen, and runners are limited to operate only in counties in which they have filed the required paperwork. Verification of their registration with the clerk of superior court is often evidenced only by a printed list kept in either the county jail or the local magistrate's office, which may or may not be accurate and updated. No centralized readily accessible, verifiable list of validly registered individuals is presently available.

SENATE BILL 217:
Drivers License Revocation for ABC Violation.

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	May 25, 2005
Introduced by:	Sen. Dalton	Summary by:	Ben Popkin
Version:	PCS to First Edition S217-CSRD		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 217 would expand the application of current law calling for the revocation of the driver's license of any person convicted of violating certain subsections of General Statute 18B-302 – "Sale to or purchase by underage persons". The bill would expand the revocation of driver's licenses to apply to those of legal age who aid or abet in the violation of this section.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 18B-302 makes the following range of activities relating to the sale of alcohol to underage persons criminal offenses:

1. Selling or giving alcoholic beverages to anyone under 21 years of age[1];
2. Purchase or possession of alcoholic beverages by anyone under 21 years of age[2];
3. Aiding or abetting an underage person in violating one of the above two offenses[3];
4. Fraudulent use of identification to enter a place where alcoholic beverages are sold or consumed, or to obtain or attempt to obtain alcoholic beverages[4]; or
5. Allowing the use of any form of identification to by any person who violates or attempts to violate G.S. 18B-302(2) (point number two, above).

The court is directed to send a conviction report to the Division of Motor Vehicles, which is then directed to revoke the convicted person's driver's license for a period of one year, when the person is convicted of violating points 4 or 5, above, or an underage person aiding or abetting another underage person (point 3), or purchasing or attempting to purchase alcohol by an underage person (point 2).

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 217 would expand the breadth of current law by applying the revocation procedure to G.S. 18B-302(c)(2). This would direct the Division to revoke the driver's licenses of persons "over lawful age" aiding or abetting an underage person in violation of points 1 or 2, above. The bill would also add giving alcohol to underage persons[5] (point 1, above) to subsection (g) of G.S. 18B-302, ordering the court to send conviction reports for persons convicted of this offense to the Division and in turn ordering the Division to revoke the person's driver's license.

The bill would amend G.S. 20-17.3, which orders the Division to revoke the driver's license of any person convicted of violating certain subsections of G.S. 18B-302, to conform with the changes described above.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act would be effective December 1, 2205 and would apply to offenses committed on or after that date.

(5) The defendant died before or within the period between the forfeiture and the final judgment as demonstrated by the presentation of a death certificate.

(6) The defendant was incarcerated ~~in a unit of the Department of Correction and is serving a sentence or in a unit of the Federal Bureau of Prisons located within the borders of the State~~anywhere at the time of the failure to appear.

(c) Procedure When Failure to Appear Is Stricken. – If the court before which a defendant's appearance was secured by a bail bond enters an order striking the defendant's failure to appear and recalling any order for arrest issued for that failure to appear, that court may simultaneously enter an order setting aside any forfeiture of that bail bond. When an order setting aside a forfeiture is entered, the defendant's further appearances shall continue to be secured by that bail bond unless the court orders otherwise.

(d) Motion Procedure. – If a forfeiture is not set aside under subsection (c) of this section, the only procedure for setting it aside is as follows:

(1) At any time before the expiration of 150 days after the date on which notice was given under G.S. 15A-544.4, the defendant or any surety on a bail bond may make a written motion that the forfeiture be set aside, stating the reason and attaching the evidence specified in subsection (a) of this section.

(2) The motion is filed in the office of the clerk of superior court of the county in which the forfeiture was entered, and a copy is served, under G.S. 1A-1, Rule 5, on the district attorney for that county and the county board of education.

(3) Either the district attorney or the county board of education may object to the motion by filing a written objection in the office of the clerk and serving a copy on the moving party.

(4) If neither the district attorney nor the board of education has filed a written objection to the motion by the tenth day after the motion is served, the clerk shall enter an order setting aside the forfeiture.

(5) If either the district attorney or the county board of education files a written objection to the motion, then not more than 30 days after the objection is filed a hearing on the motion and objection shall be held in the county, in the trial division in which the defendant was bonded to appear.

(6) If at the hearing the court allows the motion, the court shall enter an order setting aside the forfeiture.

(7) If at the hearing the court does not enter an order setting aside the forfeiture, the forfeiture shall become a final judgment of forfeiture on the later of:

a. The date of the hearing.

b. The date of final judgment specified in G.S. 15A-544.6.

(e) Only One Motion Per Forfeiture. – No more than one motion to set aside a specific forfeiture may be considered by the court.

(f) No More Than Two Forfeitures May Be Set Aside Per Case. – In any case in which the State proves that the surety or the bail agent had ~~notice or~~ actual knowledge, before executing a bail bond, that the defendant had already failed to appear on two or more prior ~~occasions,~~ occasions on the same charge, no forfeiture of that bond may be set aside for any reason. Actual knowledge exists only when the State indicates on both the release order and the bond form provided by the State that the defendant has failed to appear on two or more occasions on the same charge.

(g) No Final Judgment After Forfeiture Is Set Aside. – If a forfeiture is set aside under this section, the forfeiture shall not thereafter ever become a final judgment of forfeiture or be enforced or reported to the Department of Insurance.

(h) Appeal. – An order on a motion to set aside a forfeiture is a final order or judgment of the trial court for purposes of appeal. Appeal is the same as provided for appeals in civil actions. When notice of appeal is properly filed, the court may stay the effectiveness of the order on any conditions the court considers appropriate."

SECTION 2. G.S. 15A-547.1 reads as rewritten:

"§ 15A-547.1. Remit bail bond ~~if defendant sentenced to community or intermediate punishment.~~in certain circumstances.

~~If a defendant is convicted and sentenced to community punishment or intermediate punishment and no appeal is pending, then the~~ The court shall remit the bail bond to the obligor in accordance with the provisions of this Article and shall not require that the bail bond continue to be posted while the defendant serves his or her ~~sentence.~~sentence if any of the following circumstances exist:

(1) The defendant is convicted and sentenced to community punishment or intermediate punishment, and no appeal is pending.

(2) The defendant receives a prayer for judgment continued.

(3) The disposition of the defendant's case is by deferred prosecution."

SECTION 3. This act becomes effective December 1, 2005, and applies to bail bonds posted for offenses committed on or after that date.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO PROVIDE THAT FORFEITURE OF A BAIL BOND SHALL BE SET ASIDE IF THE DEFENDANT FOR WHOM THE BOND WAS POSTED WAS INCARCERATED ANYWHERE AT THE TIME OF THE FAILURE TO APPEAR, TO PROVIDE THAT BOND SHALL NOT BE FORFEITED UNLESS THE SURETY OR BAIL AGENT HAD ACTUAL KNOWLEDGE THAT THE DEFENDANT HAD FAIL~~ED~~ TO APPEAR ON TWO OR MORE OCCASIONS ON THE SAME CHARGE, AND TO PROVIDE THAT BOND SHALL BE REMITTED IF THE DEFENDANT RECEIVES A PRAYER FOR JUDGMENT CONTINUED OR DEFERRED PROSECUTION.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 15A-544.5 reads as rewritten:

"§ 15A-544.5. Setting aside forfeiture.

(a) Relief Exclusive. – There shall be no relief from a forfeiture except as provided in this section. The reasons for relief are those specified in subsection (b) of this section. The procedures for obtaining relief are those specified in subsections (c) and (d) of this section. Subsections (f), (g), (h), and (i) of this section apply regardless of the reason for relief given or the procedure followed.

(b) Reasons for Set Aside. – A forfeiture shall be set aside for any one of the following reasons, and none other:

(1) The defendant's failure to appear has been set aside by the court and any order for arrest issued for that failure to appear has been recalled, as evidenced by a copy of an official court record, including an electronic record.

(2) All charges for which the defendant was bonded to appear have been finally disposed by the court other than by the State's taking dismissal with leave, as evidenced by a copy of an official court record, including an electronic record.

(3) The defendant has been surrendered by a surety on the bail bond as provided by G.S. 15A-540, as evidenced by the sheriff's receipt provided for in that section.

(4) The defendant has been served with an Order for Arrest for the Failure to Appear on the criminal charge in the case in question.

(5) The defendant died before or within the period between the forfeiture and the final judgment as demonstrated by the presentation of a death certificate.

(6) The defendant was ~~incarcerated~~ incarcerated, arrested, sentenced or confined in a unit of the Department of Correction or a detention facility and is serving a sentence or confinement or was incarcerated, arrested, sentenced or confined in a unit of the Federal Bureau of Prisons located within the borders of the State at the time of the failure to appear.

(7) No final judgment shall be rendered on a forfeiture of any appearance bond if it is shown to the court that the principal on the bond was prevented from attending because the principal was detained by reason of arrest, sentence, or confinement in a penal institution or jail in this State, or in another jurisdiction, or because the principal was confined or detained under a court order in a medical or mental institution in this State or in another jurisdiction. An official written notice of the holding institution in which the principal is being detained or confined shall be considered proof of the principal's detention or confinement and the notice may be sent from the holding institution by mail, delivered by hand, or sent by facsimile machine. The surety shall present the written notice and a letter of intent to transport the defendant to the clerk of the proper court, the district attorney having jurisdiction over the case, and the county board of education, and the notice and letter of intent shall serve as the surety's request for a detainer or hold to be placed on the principal. Should there be a failure to place a detainer or hold on the detainee within 15 days and after the presentation of the notice, the surety shall then be relieved of the liability for the appearance bond without further order of the court. In no event shall the letter of intent to transport the defendant be construed to require the surety to pay transportation costs that exceed the face amount of the bond. The surety shall not be liable for transportation costs if the defendant is in custody due to the actions of any district attorney, judge, clerk or magistrate in that judicial district. A final judgment may be rendered if the State has exhausted all remedies available to the State in regards to the extradition of the defendant, but has not been able to effectuate the extradition.

(8) No final judgment shall be rendered on a forfeiture of any appearance bond if it is shown to the court that prior to the entry of final judgment on the forfeiture the principal on the bond is in the custody of any law enforcement agency. An official written notice of the holding institution in which the principal is being detained or confined shall be considered proof of the principal's detention or confinement and the notice may be sent from the holding institution by mail, delivered by hand, or sent by facsimile machine. The surety shall present the written notice and a letter of intent to transport the defendant to the clerk of the proper court, the district attorney having jurisdiction over the case and the county board of education and the notice and letter of intent shall serve as the surety's request for a detainer or hold to be placed on the principal. Should there be a failure to place a detainer or hold on the detainee within 15 days and after the presentation of the notice, the surety shall then be relieved of the liability for the appearance bond without further order of the court. In no event shall the letter of intent to transport the defendant be construed to require the surety to pay transportation costs that exceed the face amount of the bond. The surety shall not be liable for transportation costs if the defendant is in custody due to the actions of any district attorney, judge, clerk or magistrate in that judicial district. A final judgment may be rendered if the State has exhausted all remedies available to the State in regards to the extradition of the defendant, but has not been able to effectuate the extradition.

(c) Procedure When Failure to Appear Is Stricken. – If the court before which a defendant's appearance was secured by a bail bond enters an order striking the defendant's failure to appear and recalling any order for arrest issued for that failure to appear, that court may simultaneously enter an order setting aside any forfeiture of that bail bond. When an order setting aside a forfeiture is entered, the defendant's further appearances shall continue to be secured by that bail bond unless the court orders otherwise.

(d) Motion Procedure. – If a forfeiture is not set aside under subsection (c) of this section, the only procedure for setting it aside is as follows:

(1) At any time before the expiration of 150 days after the date on which notice was given under G.S. 15A-544.4, the defendant or any surety on a bail bond may make a written motion that the forfeiture be set aside, stating the reason and attaching the evidence specified in subsection (a) of this section.

(2) The motion is filed in the office of the clerk of superior court of the county in which the forfeiture was entered, and a copy is served, under G.S. 1A-1, Rule 5, on the district attorney for that county and the county board of education.

(3) Either the district attorney or the county board of education may object to the motion by filing a written objection in the office of the clerk and serving a copy on the moving party.

(4) If neither the district attorney nor the board of education has filed a written objection to the motion by the tenth day after the motion is served, the clerk shall enter an order setting aside the forfeiture.

(5) If either the district attorney or the county board of education files a written objection to the motion, then not more than 30 days after the objection is filed a hearing on the motion and objection shall be held in the county, in the trial division in which the defendant was bonded to appear.

(6) If at the hearing the court allows the motion, the court shall enter an order setting aside the forfeiture.

(7) If at the hearing the court does not enter an order setting aside the forfeiture, the forfeiture shall become a final judgment of forfeiture on the later of:

a. The date of the hearing.

b. The date of final judgment specified in G.S. 15A-544.6.

(e) Only One Motion Per Forfeiture. – No more than one motion to set aside a specific forfeiture may be considered by the court.

(f) No More Than Two Forfeitures May Be Set Aside Per Case. – In any case in which the State proves that the surety or the bail agent had ~~notice or~~ actual knowledge, before executing a bail bond, that the defendant had already failed to appear on two or more prior ~~occasions,~~ occasions on the same charge, no forfeiture of that bond may be set aside for any reason. Actual knowledge exists only when the State indicates on the release order provided by the State that the defendant has failed to appear on two or more occasions on the same charge and the release order is subsequently signed by the surety.

(g) No Final Judgment After Forfeiture Is Set Aside. – If a forfeiture is set aside under this section, the forfeiture shall not thereafter ever become a final judgment of forfeiture or be enforced or reported to the Department of Insurance.

(h) Appeal. – An order on a motion to set aside a forfeiture is a final order or judgment of the trial court for purposes of appeal. Appeal is the same as provided for appeals in civil actions. When notice of appeal is properly filed, the court may stay the effectiveness of the order on any conditions the court considers appropriate."

SECTION 2. G.S. 15A-547.1 reads as rewritten:

"§ 15A-547.1. Remit bail bond ~~if defendant sentenced to community or intermediate punishment.~~in certain circumstances.

SENATE BILL 797:
Bail Bonds/Forfeitures & Remittances

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	May 19, 2005
Introduced by:	Sen. Thomas	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith Committee Counsel
Version:	PCS to First Edition S797-CSRC-38

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 797 would provide two additional circumstances the forfeiture of a bail bond would be set aside even though the defendant failed to appear before the court when required to do so. It also narrows the situations where forfeiture may not be set aside to those where the surety had actual knowledge that the defendant had failed to appear on two previous occasions on for the same offense. Finally, it would prohibit a court from keeping a defendant's bond in place while a defendant serves certain intermediate punishments, obtains a PJC or there is a deferred prosecution.

The act would become effective December 1, 2005 and apply to bail bonds posted for offenses committed on or after that date.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 15A-544.5 sets out 6grounds for setting aside the forfeiture of a bail bond. These include situations where the defendant's failure to appear has been set aside by the court, the charges have been finally disposed by the court, the defendant was surrendered to the court by the surety, the defendant died within the period of the forfeiture, or the defendant was incarcerated by the State or the federal government. In cases where the State proves that the surety had notice or actual knowledge before executing the bond that the defendant had already failed to appear on two or more occasions for the same offense, the forfeiture of the bond may not be set aside for any reason.

G.S. 15A-547.1 requires the court to remit the bond if a defendant is convicted and sentenced to community punishment or intermediate punishment and no appeal is pending.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Section 1 of the bill amends G.S. 15a-544.5 to add two new additional grounds for setting aside forfeiture. The first is a situation where the defendant was prevented from appearing before the court because the defendant was detained by reason of arrest, sentence, or confinement in a penal institution or jail in North Carolina or another jurisdiction, or because the defendant was confined or detained under a court order in a medical or mental health institution. An official written notice by the institution that the defendant is being detained shall be considered proof of the detention. The surety may submit that notice and a letter of intent to pay for the cost of transporting the defendant to the court. The notice and the letter will constitute a request for a detainer to be placed on the defendant. If the detainer is not placed on the defendant within 15 days, the surety would be relieved of the liability for the appearance bond. In no event would the surety be liable for transportation costs in excess of the face amount of the bond, and the surety would not be liable for transportation costs if the defendant is detained as a result of actions by any district attorney, judge, clerk or magistrate in that judicial district. If the State cannot obtain an extradition after pursuing all remedies, a final judgment may be rendered. A similar exception with similar procedures would apply in situations where the principal is shown to be in the custody of law enforcement officials.

The bill also expands the existing law to include situations where a defendant does not appear because the defendant has been arrested, sentenced, or confined in a detention facility.

The changes would also narrow the circumstances where forfeiture could not be set aside where the defendant has failed to appear on two or more occasions. It would require that the surety have actual knowledge of the defendant's multiple failures to appear. Actual knowledge would only apply if the State indicates on the release order that the defendant has failed to appear on two or more occasions on the same charge and the surety subsequently signs the release order.

Section 2 amends G.S. 15A-547.1 to provide additional specificity to situations where the court is prohibited from requiring that a surety continue to post bond. It would provide that the court must remit the bail bond while the defendant serves his or her sentence if the defendant is sentenced to community punishment or intermediate punishment, the defendant has received a prayer for judgment continued or deferred prosecution.

SENATE BILL 629*

Short Title:	DuPont State Forest Capital Funds.	(Public)
Sponsors:	Senators Snow; and Apodaca.
Referred to:	Appropriations/Base Budget.

March 17, 2005

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO APPROPRIATE FUNDS TO BE USED TOWARD THE CAPITAL COSTS OF CONVERTING AN EXISTING LOG BUILDING LOCATED IN DUPONT STATE FOREST INTO A VISITORS' CENTER FOR DUPONT STATE FOREST.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. There is appropriated from the General Fund to the Division of Forest Resources, Department of Environment and Natural Resources, the sum of one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000) for the 2005-2006 fiscal year and the sum of one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000) for the 2006-2007 fiscal year to be used toward the capital costs of converting an existing log building located in DuPont State Forest into a visitors' center for DuPont State Forest.

SECTION 2. This act becomes effective July 1, 2005.

RESPONSE TO ISSUES RAISED IN BILL ANALYSIS
SB 629 ("Manufacturing Redevelopment Districts")

(1) Is the bill an unconstitutional local act abating a nuisance or regulating manufacturing or trade? If so, what would be the consequences of the act being held void?

No. First, this bill is not a local act as it applies statewide. The project that DuPont and Ilford are contemplating fits within the parameters of the legislation. However, the legislation is not limited to this project.

Second, the purpose of the bill is to create economic development in distressed counties, not to abate a nuisance. The Ilford project entails some environmental remediation that in no way would be considered to be the abatement of a nuisance. Likewise, the general requirements in the legislation do not require a nuisance in order for any other projects to go forward.

Finally, the bill does not regulate manufacturing. It merely provides a vehicle for restarting production in facilities that meet the general requirements in the legislation. It is clear from the language and intent of the proposed bill that if passed the legislature will be creating a special privilege for former owners of manufacturing redevelopment districts. However, under the court's current analysis, the proposed legislation would survive constitutional scrutiny. The text and purpose of the legislation clearly satisfy the public purpose requirement of the court's two-part test. Similarly, the state's belief that limiting liability encourages redevelopment satisfies the reasonable basis aspect of the court's two-part test.

(2) Is there any State oversight regarding whether the joint certification filed by the former owners and the new operator is accurate at the time of filing?

Yes, there is oversight in the sense that the certification is simply prima facie evidence. The certification can be challenged by the State of North Carolina.

(3) Is the new operator's liability for assessment and remediation limited to $5 million?

No. Liability is not limited to $5 million. The legislation requires the new operator to accept liability for all environmental claims at the facility to the same extent as the prior owner, and also specifically requires the new owner to accept responsibility for assessment and remediation as part of the preconditions to the designation of the district.

(4) Could the State be held liable by third parties for the environmental conditions on the property? Who would have standing in such an action?

No. The State of North Carolina would not be held liable for environmental claims for any number of reasons. First, the State has sovereign immunity for third-party claims in general.

The few instances where the State does not have immunity impose liability for clean up. On this topic, the guaranteed remediation product outlined in the legislation will perform the cleanup, leaving absolutely no liability for the State.

Finally, under applicable law, former owners are liable for cleanup only to the extent that disposal took place during their ownership. Here, the State will only hold a full interest for a few minutes and thus, there will be no basis for liability.

However, this is really a moot point because the bill requires the cleanup will be performed and be guaranteed, leaving nothing for the state. The remediation product also includes insurance that will benefit the state, if all else fails (which it won't).

(5) Does federal law allow the State to waive immunity from State environmental laws for former owners?

Legislative grants of immunity are not without precedent. One example of such legislative limits on liability is statutes of repose. See G.S. 1-50(5) & 1-50(6). Statutes of repose shield specific parties from "open-ended" liability by limiting the number of years those parties are liable for their actions. For example, G.S. 1-50(6) provides a six year window of liability on durable goods sold by manufacturers. The courts have repeatedly upheld statutes of repose as constitutional in the face of an art. I § 32 challenge. See Lamb 308 N.C. at 438, 302 S.E. 2d at 879 (holding that the state had a reasonable basis for limiting the liability of architects and contractors under G.S. 1-50(5)); Tetterton v. Long 314 N.C. 44, 53, 332 S.E. 2d 67, 72 (1985) (upholding court's rational in Lamb).

Statutes of repose differ slightly from the proposed act in that our legislation ends liability for the former owner at the moment the property is donated to the State. However, unlike a statute of repose, this legislation does not extinguish liability for any claims. Instead, it transfers all liability for third party claims to the new operator of the facility.

(6) Notwithstanding the last sentence of Section 4, could the waiver of immunity cause the federal government to remove the State's authority to enforce environmental laws, and/or could the State loose federal funds?

No. Governmental entities, including states, routinely settle out liability for environmental matters for appropriate consideration. Here, the consideration could not be more appropriate. Instead of some cut deal, the immunity is offered only if ALL of the former owner's liability is covered. This is the same issue that DENR addressed and decided was not an impediment to the covenant not to sue, and it is handled the exact same way here, even employing DENR's own language. This issue is a red herring.

(7) What will be the cost to the State if/when the property becomes part of the State forest? Will the State be liable for additional remediation and clean-up based upon the property's new use as part of a State forest?

This hypothetical type of issue should not be an impediment to the current and very real economic opportunity that the bill presents. The cleanup will be complete now, and may well result in conditions that allow virtually unrestricted use. With the remediation product, the engineers will have to work with the State to reach the appropriate cleanup goals.

Dear Mr. Miller,

Friends of DuPont Forest is a volunteer, non-profit corporation whose mission is to enhance the use and enjoyment of the DuPont State Forest while protecting its natural resources. We regularly work to assist the NC Forest Service staff to maintain the environment in the forest to allow present and future generations to enjoy its spectacular beauty.

We understand that efforts are ongoing to allow Ilford to purchase a portion of the existing Agfa property and operate a coated paper operation. This project would bring approximately 90 needed skilled jobs to Transylvania County.

This letter is to affirm that Friends of DuPont Forest supports Transylvania County in this effort to improve the community by attracting these jobs.

While there are undoubtedly many complex legal and technical issues involved, we trust that the Division of Environment and Natural Resources will work to assure the thorough clean-up of hazardous wastes and groundwater contamination, regardless of the owner.

Assuming that these complex issues can be properly addressed to DENR's satisfaction, we do feel that such a facility can be compatible with the mission of the neighboring State Forest. We also support the proposals that would transition portions of the remaining Agfa acres into the State Forest at the appropriate time.

Sincerely,

Chuck McGrady

PROPOSED COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE S629-PCS35230-RT-26

Short Title: Manufacturing Redevelopment Districts. (Public)

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO PROVIDE FOR THE REDEVELOPMENT OF CERTAIN MANUFACTURING DISTRICTS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Manufacturing redevelopment districts: legislative findings.

The General Assembly of North Carolina makes the following findings regarding the need for manufacturing redevelopment districts:

(1) Economic development in the State will be served by providing an opportunity to restart production in manufacturing facilities designed for targeted industries such as photographic materials, digital inkjet products, digital photographic applications, and other photographic printing technology, thereby providing employment opportunities for the residents of North Carolina.

(2) When an existing facility can be modified to meet the needs of the new industry and thereby preserve and create jobs, it is in the public interest to provide a mechanism for these modifications to occur.

(3) Economically distressed counties continue to lose manufacturing jobs, and the General Assembly must act to create new jobs for citizens residing in those counties.

(4) The health and safety of the citizens of North Carolina will be served through the assessment and remediation of known and unknown environmental conditions at manufacturing facilities.

(5) The public interest of the State will be served by securing a property interest in real property located within significant State property holdings to the State and by providing a property interest in the real property to a new operator that is sufficient to enable the new operator to restart manufacturing at existing facilities on the real property in consideration for the preservation and creation by the new operator of jobs and economic opportunities.

(6) The public interest of the State will be served by encouraging owners of manufacturing facilities to transfer ownership in property in order to make it possible for new operators to restart production at these facilities.

SECTION 2. Manufacturing redevelopment districts: purpose.

A manufacturing redevelopment district shall exist to provide manufacturing, research and development, and related service and support jobs to citizens of the State while ensuring the remediation of known and unknown environmental conditions at manufacturing facilities.

SECTION 3. Manufacturing redevelopment districts: establishment.

A manufacturing redevelopment district may be established on any parcel or tract of land or on any combination of contiguous parcels or tracts of land as provided in this section. To establish a manufacturing redevelopment district, the new operator of the manufacturing facilities located within the boundaries of the district shall certify to the Secretary of State that the district meets all of the criteria set out in this section. The certification shall describe the boundaries of the district by metes and bounds and shall set out the specific financial mechanism that guarantees completion of the assessment and remediation program as required under subdivision (8) of this section. This certification shall constitute prima facie evidence that these criteria have been met. The district shall be considered to be established as a manufacturing redevelopment district on the date the certification is filed. Once established, a manufacturing development district shall continue to exist unless the real property comprising the district reverts to the State pursuant to Section 6 of this act. A manufacturing redevelopment district may be established only if all of the following criteria are met at the time the district is established:

(1) The real property is located in a county that is economically distressed. For purposes of this section, a county shall be considered economically distressed if all of the following apply:

a. The average weekly wage in the county is less than five hundred twenty-five dollars ($525.00) per person.

b. The percentage of unemployed workers is greater than six percent (6%).

c. The percentage of citizens who are at or below the federal poverty level, as determined by the most recent federal decennial census, is greater than nine percent (9%).

(2) All of the real property comprising the district is a privately owned in-holding of 50 acres or more within a State forest of 10,000 acres or more.

(3) The district contains a manufacturing facility that has been out of production for two years or more.

(4) Failure to restart the manufacturing facility would result in a permanent lost opportunity to create 50 or more jobs.

(5) The manufacturing facility has a total square footage of 500 square feet or more.

(6) The new operator of the manufacturing facility intends to employ more than 50 employees. For purposes of this act, a new operator is an entity that restarts operations at a manufacturing facility located within a manufacturing redevelopment district.

(7) The new operator of the facility has accepted responsibility for the assessment and remediation of known and unknown environmental conditions in accordance with applicable State law and rules.

(8) The new operator of the facility has prefunded an assessment and remediation program in an amount of at least five million dollars ($5,000,000) to assess and remediate known environmental conditions in accordance with applicable environmental laws and in light of the intended use of the facility by that new operator. In order to guarantee completion of the assessment and remediation program, the new operator shall prefund the program by means of an escrow account or other financing mechanism that runs in favor of the State in the event of a default.

(9) The owner donates the real property comprising the manufacturing redevelopment district to the State of North Carolina.

SECTION 4. Manufacturing redevelopment districts: immunity.

No person who owned or had an interest in any real property within a manufacturing redevelopment district at any time prior to the establishment of the district in accordance with this act shall be liable to the State, to any governmental unit or subdivision of the State, or to any private or third party, for the cleanup of environmental damage or restoration of natural resources on any of the real property comprising the district, or for any other claims arising out of the presence of oil, hazardous substances, or hazardous waste, as defined under any applicable State statute or rule, in any media at the real property. The immunity provided by this section shall attach at the time that the real property comprising the manufacturing redevelopment district is donated to the State. The immunity provided by this section is with respect to any theory of legal liability, including, but not limited to, any claim of negligence, nuisance, or trespass, or arising under other common law principles, or arising under any State statute or rule, including, but not limited to, Article 9 of Chapter 130A of the General Statutes, Articles 21 and 21A of Chapter 143 of the General Statutes, and rules adopted pursuant to those Articles. Notwithstanding the foregoing, this act shall not be construed to prevent the State from enforcing remediation standards, monitoring, or compliance requirements specifically required by the United States Environmental Protection Agency to be enforced by the State as a condition to receiving and retaining federal funds or program approval, authorization, or delegation.

SECTION 5. Manufacturing redevelopment districts: claims.

The new operator of the manufacturing redevelopment district shall be liable for all claims subject to the immunity provided by Section 4 of this act to the same extent as any prior owner of the property that comprises the manufacturing redevelopment district. The new operator shall have all rights, claims, and defenses that are or would have been available to any prior owner with respect to those immunized claims.

SECTION 6. Manufacturing redevelopment districts: donation and transfer of the district; reversionary interest.

Notwithstanding any other provision of Chapter 146 of the General Statutes, the State Property Office shall accept the donation by the owner of the real property comprising the manufacturing redevelopment district on behalf of the State of North Carolina. The State Property Office shall then, in the name of the State of North Carolina, immediately transfer to the new operator a fee simple determinable interest in the real property. The event that will terminate the fee simple determinable interest in the real property is the permanent cessation of manufacturing operations at the real property. The consideration for the transfer by the State of the property interest to the new operator shall be the creation of jobs and economic opportunities that will result from restarting manufacturing operations on the real property. If the fee simple determinable interest is terminated and the real property reverts to the State, the State Property Office shall allocate the property to the contiguous State forest.

SECTION 7. Effective date. This act is effective when it becomes law.

SUMMARY: The Proposed Committee Substitute for SB629 completely rewrites the 1st Edition. The PCS:

- Establishes a process for the creation of manufacturing redevelopment districts (redevelopment districts);
- Grants immunity from State environmental laws for any person who held an interest in the land and facilities contained within a redevelopment district prior to the creation of the district;
- Provides for the donation of the land that contains the redevelopment district to the State and for the State to re-convey the land to a new operator of the manufacturing facility subject to a reversionary interest;
- Provides for the new operator to open a manufacturing facility that will employ more than 50 employees;
- Provides for the new operator to provide at least $5 million to fund an assessment and remediation program for environmental conditions at the district; and
- Provides that upon the permanent cessation of the new operator's manufacturing operations, the land shall revert to the State and shall be allocated to the contiguous State forest.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Section 1 contains legislative findings regarding the need for manufacturing redevelopment districts (redevelopment districts). These include that the economic development of the State will be served by providing an opportunity to restart production in manufacturing facilities to meet the needs of a new industry thereby creating and preserving jobs, that economically distressed counties continue to lose jobs and the General Assembly must act to create new jobs for citizens in those counties, that the health and safety of North Carolina citizens will be served through the assessment and remediation of known and unknown environmental conditions at manufacturing factilities, that the public interest will be served by the State securing an interest in property located within significant State property and by providing an interest sufficient to allow the new operator to restart a manufacturing facility and provide new jobs, and that the public interest will be served by encouraging a former owner to transfer ownership in order to make it possible for new operators to restart production at the facilities.

Section 2 provides that a redevelopment district shall exist to provide manufacturing, research and development, and related service and support jobs to citizens of the State while ensuring the remediation of known and unknown environmental conditions at manufacturing facilities.

Section 3 set-outs the process for establishing a redevelopment district. The district is created when the new operator certifies to the Secretary of State that the district meets all of the criteria specified in this section. The criteria includes:

- The real property is located in a county that is economically distressed, meaning the average weekly wage in the county is less than$525/week, the unemployment rate is greater than 6%, and more than 9% of the citizens are at or below the federal poverty level.
- All of the real property of the district is privately owned in-holding of 50 acres or more within a State forest of 10,000 acres or more.
- The district contains a manufacturing facility that has been out of production for two years or more.
- Failure to restart the facility would result in a permanent lost opportunity to create 50 or more jobs.
- The manufacturing facility has a total of 500 square feet or more.
- The new operator intends to employ 50 or more workers.
- The new operator accepts responsibility for the assessment of known and unknown environmental conditions under applicable State laws and rules.
- The new operator has pre-funded an assessment and remediation program in an amount of at least $5 million by means of an esrow account or other financing mechanism that runs in favor of the State in the event of a default.
- The former owner donates the real property comprising the redevelopment district to the State of North Carolina.

The redevelopment district is created on the date the certification is filed. Once established, the district will exist until the real property reverts to the State.

Section 4 grants immunity to any person who owned or had an interest in any real property within a redevelopment district at any time prior to the establishment of the district. The immunity is for liability to the State, any political subdivision of the State, or to any private or third party for the cleanup of environmental damage or restoration of natural resources on any of the real property comprising the district or for other claims arising out of the presence of oil or any other hazardous substance arising under any State statute or rule. The immunity would be with regard to any theory of liability including negligence, nuisance or trespass arising under any common law theory or State statutes such as Article 9 of Chapter 130A (Solid Waste Management), or Articles 21 (Clean Air and Water) and 21A (Oil and Hazardous Substances) of Chapter 143. The act would not be construed to prevent the State from enforcing remediation standards, monitoring, or compliance requirements required by the EPA to be enforced by the State as a condition to receiving or retaining federal funds or program approval.

Section 5 makes the new operator liable for all claims that the former owner would have been liable for and to the same extent as the former owner of the redevelopment district.

Section 6 directs the State Property Office to accept the donation by the former owner of the real property comprising the redevelopment district on behalf of the State. It also directs the State Property Office to immediately transfer the property to the new operator in fee simple determinable. The permanent cessation of the new operator's manufacturing operations shall be the event that will terminate the new operator's ownership of the property. The property would then revert to the State, which in turn would allocate the property to the contiguous State forest.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act would be effective when it becomes law.

ISSUES: Is the bill an unconstitutional local act abating a nuisance or regulating manufacturing or trade? If so, what would be the consequences of the act being held void?

Is there any State oversight regarding whether the joint certification filed by the former owners and the new operator is accurate at the time of filing?

Is the new operator's liability for assessment and remediation limited to $5 million?

Could the State be held liable by third parties for the environmental conditions on the property? Who would have standing in such an action?

Does federal law allow the State to waive immunity from State environmental laws for former owners?

Notwithstanding the last sentence of Section 4, could the waiver of immunity cause the federal government to remove the State's authority to enforce environmental laws, and/or could the State loose federal funds?

What will be the cost to the State if/when the property becomes part of the State forest? Will the State be liable for additional remediation and clean-up based upon the property's new use as part of a State forest?

SENATE BILL 1143:
Immunity for Building Inspectors

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	May 31, 2005
Introduced by:	Sen. Hartsell	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith Committee Counsel
Version:	PCS to First Edition S1143-PCS65330-RC-55

SUMMARY: SB1143 would create civil immunity for cities and counties, and the employees of cities and counties for activities related to the performance of building inspections. The immunity would not apply for acts of gross negligence, intentional wrongdoing, or actions arising out of the operation of a motor vehicle.

The Propose Committee Substitute removes broader language that would have provided immunity for cities and counties, and their employees charged with performing duties related to public safety.

The act would be effective when it becomes law.

CURRENT LAW: Chapter 160A (Cities and Towns) and Chapter 153A (Counties) both require the creation of a building inspection department to enforce the State and local laws regarding the construction of buildings, the instillation of mechanical systems like plumbing and HVAC, and the maintenance of already constructed buildings. Persons who wish to undertake the construction, additional or renovation of a building must obtain a building permit and the property is periodically inspected to be sure the work complies with the applicable codes and laws. When the project is finished, the property is subject to a final inspection, and if it complies with all applicable law and with the terms of the building permit, it is issued a certificate of compliance. A city or county building inspector or member of the building inspection department who fails to perform their duties, who willfully or improperly issues a permit, or who give a certificate of compliance without first making an inspection is guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor.[1]

The "public duty doctrine" is a common law rule that generally provides that governmental entities and the agents or employees of governmental entities owe duties only to the general public, not to individual members of the public, unless there is a special relationship or special duty between the parties. Based upon this general duty, a member of the public cannot hold the entity or the employee liable for damages or injuries that arise by the negligent failure of the entity or employee to take certain actions. However, the North Carolina Supreme Court has held that the public duty doctrine only applies to law enforcement officers, and does not bar a claim against a county for negligent inspection of a private residence.[2] The North Carolina Court of Appeals has held that county building inspectors are not law enforcement officers.[3]

BILL ANALYSIS: The PCS provides that no city or county, or officer or employee of a city or county may be held civilly liable for any acts or omissions in performing or failing to perform a building inspection. The immunity would not extend to acts amounting to gross negligence or intentional wrongdoing. The immunity would not apply to actions arising out of the operation of a motor vehicle.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act would be effective when the bill becomes law.

SENATE BILL 782

Short Title:	Fair Housing Act Amendment.	(Public)
Sponsors:	Senator Kinnaird.
Referred to:	Judiciary II.

March 22, 2005

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT AMENDING THE STATE FAIR HOUSING ACT TO PROHIBIT DISCRIMINATION ON THE BASIS OF LAWFUL SOURCE OF INCOME.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 41A-3 is amended by adding a new subdivision to read:

"(4a) "Lawful source of income" means income derived from social security, supplemental security income, housing assistance, child support, alimony, or public or general assistance."

SECTION 2. G.S. 41A-4 reads as rewritten:

"§ 41A-4. Unlawful discriminatory housing practices.

(a) It is an unlawful discriminatory housing practice for any person in a real estate transaction, because of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, handicapping condition, lawful source of income, or familial status to:

(1) Refuse to engage in a real estate transaction;

(2) Discriminate against a person in the terms, conditions, or privileges of a real estate transaction or in the furnishing of facilities or services in connection therewith;

(2a) Refuse to permit, at the expense of a handicapped person, reasonable modifications of existing premises occupied or to be occupied by the person if the modifications are necessary to the handicapped person's full enjoyment of the premises; except that, in the case of a rental unit, the landlord may, where it is reasonable to do so, condition permission for modifications on agreement by the renter to restore the interior of the premises to the condition that existed before the modifications, reasonable wear and tear excepted;

(2b) Refuse to make reasonable accommodations in rules, policies, practices, or services, when these accommodations may be necessary to a handicapped person's equal use and enjoyment of a dwelling;

(2c) Fail to design and construct covered multifamily dwellings available for first occupancy after March 13, 1991, so that:
a. The dwellings have at least one building entrance on an accessible route, unless it is impractical to do so because of terrain or unusual site characteristics; or

1. The public and common use portions are readily accessible to and usable by handicapped persons;
2. There is an accessible route into and through all dwellings and units;
3. All doors designed to allow passage into, within, and through these dwellings and individual units are wide enough for wheelchairs;
4. Light switches, electrical switches, electrical outlets, thermostats, and other environmental controls are in accessible locations;
5. Bathroom walls are reinforced to allow later installation of grab bars; and

(3) Refuse to receive or fail to transmit a bona fide offer to engage in a real estate transaction;
(4) Refuse to negotiate for a real estate transaction;
(5) Represent to a person that real property is not available for inspection, sale, rental, or lease when in fact it is so available, or fail to bring a property listing to his attention, or refuse to permit him to inspect real property;
(6) Make, print, circulate, post, or mail or cause to be so published a statement, advertisement, or sign, or use a form or application for a real estate transaction, or make a record or inquiry in connection with a prospective real estate transaction, which indicates directly or indirectly, an intent to make a limitation, specification, or discrimination with respect thereto;
(7) Offer, solicit, accept, use, or retain a listing of real property with the understanding that any person may be discriminated against in a real estate transaction or in the furnishing of facilities or services in connection therewith; or
(8) Otherwise make unavailable or deny housing.

(b) Repealed by Session Laws 1989, c. 507, s. 2.

(b1) It is an unlawful discriminatory housing practice for any person or other entity whose business includes engaging in residential real estate related transactions to discriminate against any person in making available such a transaction, or in the terms and conditions of such a transaction, because of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, handicapping condition, lawful source of income, or familial status. As used in this subsection, "residential real estate related transaction" means:

(1) The making or purchasing of loans or providing financial assistance (i) for purchasing, constructing, improving, repairing, or maintaining a dwelling, or (ii) where the security is residential real estate; or

(d) It is an unlawful discriminatory housing practice to deny any person who is otherwise qualified by State law access to or membership or participation in any real estate brokers' organization, multiple listing service, or other service, organization, or facility relating to the business of engaging in real estate transactions, or to discriminate in the terms or conditions of such access, membership, or participation because of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, handicapping condition, lawful source of income, or familial status.

(e) It is an unlawful discriminatory housing practice to coerce, intimidate, threaten, or interfere with any person in the exercise or enjoyment of, on account of having exercised or enjoyed, or on account of having aided or encouraged any other person in the exercise or enjoyment of any right granted or protected by this Chapter."

SECTION 3. G.S. 41A-5 reads as rewritten:

"§ 41A-5. Proof of violation.

(a) It is a violation of this Chapter if:

(1) A person by his act or failure to act intends to discriminate against a person. A person intends to discriminate if, in committing an unlawful discriminatory housing practice described in G.S. 41A-4 he was motivated in full, or in any part at all, by race, color, religion, sex, national origin, handicapping condition, lawful source of income, or familial status. An intent to discriminate may be established by direct or circumstantial evidence; or

(2) A person's act or failure to act has the effect, regardless of intent, of discriminating, as set forth in G.S. 41A-4, against a person of a particular race, color, religion, sex, national origin, handicapping condition, lawful source of income, or familial status. However, it is not a violation of this Chapter if a person whose action or inaction has an unintended discriminatory effect, proves that his action or inaction was motivated and justified by business necessity.

(b) It shall be no defense to a violation of this Chapter that the violation was requested, sought, or otherwise procured by another person."

SECTION 4. G.S. 41A-6(a) reads as rewritten:

(a) The provisions of G.S. 41A-4, except for subdivision (a)(6), do not apply to the following:

(1) The rental of a housing accommodation in a building which contains housing accommodations for not more than four families living independently of each other, if the lessor or a member of his family resides in one of the housing accommodations;

(2) The rental of a room or rooms in a private house, not a boarding house, if the lessor or a member of his family resides in the house;

(3) Religious institutions or organizations or charitable or educational organizations operated, supervised, or controlled by religious institutions or organizations which give preference to members of the same religion in a real estate transaction, as long as membership in such religion is not restricted by race, color, sex, national origin, handicapping condition, lawful source of income, or familial status;

(4) Private clubs, not in fact open to the public, which incident to their primary purpose or purposes provide lodging, which they own or operate for other than a commercial purpose, to their members or give preference to their members;

(5) With respect to discrimination based on sex, the rental or leasing of housing accommodations in single-sex dormitory property; and

(6) Repealed by Session Laws 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 979, s. 4.

(7) The sale, rental, exchange, or lease of commercial real estate. For the purposes of this Chapter, commercial real estate means real property which is not intended for residential use."

Whereas, the North Carolina Fair Housing Act makes it unlawful to discriminate against a person in a real estate transaction based upon the person's race, color, religion, sex, national origin, handicapping condition, or familial status; and

Whereas, the North Carolina Human Relations Commission is charged with the investigation of complaints alleging violations of the Fair Housing Act; and

In studying this issue, the Commission shall review the laws of other states related to housing discrimination and determine the extent to which certain forms of public assistance are protected under those laws. While conducting the study, the Commission shall consult with representatives from the residential real estate and residential rental community. The Commission shall report its findings and any recommendations to the 2006 Regular Session of the 2005 General Assembly.

b. A disagreement between the parties or litigation brought to enforce, modify, or terminate this agreement shall not affect the validity of the adoption or serve as a basis for orders affecting the custody of the adoptee.

c. A court will not act on a petition to modify, enforce, or terminate this agreement unless the petitioner has participated or attempted to participate in good faith in mediation or other appropriate dispute resolution proceedings to resolve any dispute.

(c) The court may approve a post-adoption privileges agreement only if all of the following conditions are satisfied:

(1) The court finds that there is a significant emotional attachment between the adoptee and the birth relative to whom the agreement gives post-adoption privileges.

(2) The adoptee, if the adoptee is 12 years of age or older, consents to the post-adoption privileges agreement. However, the court may waive the requirement for the adoptee's consent if the court finds that the adoptee is not capable of consenting or that the adoptee should not be required to consent because consenting would not be in the adoptee's best interest.

(3) The county department of social services or the licensed agency placing the adoptee for adoption, or in the case of a direct placement adoption, the agency making the report to the court under G.S. 48-2-501 recommends the granting of post-adoption privileges.

(4) The adoptee is represented by a court-appointed guardian ad litem and the guardian recommends the granting of post-adoption privileges unless the court finds that the appointment of a guardian ad litem is not necessary to protect the adoptee's best interest.

(5) Each adoptive parent consents to the granting of post-adoption privileges.

(6) The adoptive parent and the birth relative execute a post-adoption privileges agreement and file the agreement with the court.

(7) The post-adoption privileges agreement includes an acknowledgment by the birth relative that the adoption is irrevocable regardless of whether the adoptive parent fails to abide by the post-adoption privileges agreement.

(8) The post-adoption privileges agreement includes an acknowledgment by the adoptive parent that the agreement, when approved by the court, grants the birth relative the right to seek enforcement in court of the post-adoption privileges specified in the agreement.

(9) Any other factors the court deems appropriate in determining whether the adoptee's best interests would be served by granting post-adoption privileges.

(d) A post-adoption privileges agreement is enforceable only if it is approved by the court and signed by a district court judge.

"§ 48-11-102. Modification, enforcement, and termination.

(a) A birth relative or an adoptive parent may file a new civil action in district court for the purpose of modifying, enforcing, or terminating a post-adoption privileges agreement.

(b) In an action under this section, the court may modify, enforce, or terminate a post-adoption privileges agreement if the court finds that the party seeking relief has participated or attempted to participate in good faith in mediating the dispute giving rise to the action, or the court determines that the modification or termination is necessary to serve the best interests of the adoptee.

(c) The court shall not award monetary damages.

"§ 48-11-103. Effect of failure to comply.

The court shall not set aside a decree of adoption, revoke a written consent to an adoption, rescind a relinquishment, or modify an order to terminate parental rights or any other prior court order for failure of a birth relative, an adoptive parent, or an adoptee to comply with any or all of the original terms of or subsequent modifications to the post-adoption privileges agreement."

SECTION 2. G.S. 48-1-100 reads as rewritten:

"§ 48-1-100. Legislative findings and intent; construction of Chapter.

(a) The General Assembly finds that it is in the public interest to establish a clear judicial process for adoptions, to promote the integrity and finality of adoptions, to encourage prompt, conclusive disposition of adoption proceedings, and to structure services to adopted children, biological parents, and adoptive parents that will provide for the needs and protect the interests of all parties to an adoption, particularly adopted minors.

(b) With special regard for the adoption of minors, the General Assembly declares as a matter of legislative policy that:

(1) The primary purpose of this Chapter is to advance the welfare of minors by (i) protecting minors from unnecessary separation from their original parents, (ii) facilitating the adoption of minors in need of adoptive placement by persons who can give them love, care, security, and support, (iii) protecting minors from placement with adoptive parents unfit to have responsibility for their care and rearing, and (iv) assuring the finality of the adoption; and

(2) Secondary purposes of this Chapter are (i) to protect biological parents from ill-advised decisions to relinquish a child or consent to the child's adoption, (ii) to protect adoptive parents from assuming responsibility for a child about whose heredity or mental or physical condition they know nothing, (iii) to protect the privacy of the parties to the adoption, and (iv) to discourage unlawful trafficking in minors and other unlawful placement activities.

(c) In construing this Chapter, the needs, interests, and rights of minor adoptees are primary. Any conflict between the interests of a minor adoptee and those of an adult shall be resolved in favor of the minor.

(d) This Chapter shall be liberally construed and applied to promote its underlying purposes and policies.

(e) Nothing in this Chapter shall be construed to prevent an adoptive parent and a birth relative from entering into a post-adoption privileges agreement as provided in Article 11 of this Chapter."

SECTION 3. G.S. 7B-1100 reads as rewritten:

"§ 7B-1100. Legislative intent; construction of Article.

(a) The General Assembly hereby declares as a matter of legislative policy with respect to termination of parental rights:

(1) The general purpose of this Article is to provide judicial procedures for terminating the legal relationship between a juvenile and the juvenile's biological or legal parents when the parents have demonstrated that they will not provide the degree of care which promotes the healthy and orderly physical and emotional well-being of the juvenile.

(2) It is the further purpose of this Article to recognize the necessity for any juvenile to have a permanent plan of care at the earliest possible age, while at the same time recognizing the need to protect all juveniles from the unnecessary severance of a relationship with biological or legal parents.

(3) Action which is in the best interests of the juvenile should be taken in all cases where the interests of the juvenile and those of the juvenile's parents or other persons are in conflict.

(4) This Article shall not be used to circumvent the provisions of Chapter 50A of the General Statutes, the Uniform Child-Custody Jurisdiction and Enforcement Act.

(b) Nothing in this Article shall be construed to prevent the court in a proceeding under this Article for termination of parental rights from approving a post-adoption privileges agreement as provided in Article 11 of Chapter 48 of the General Statutes."

SENATE BILL 209:
Post-Adoption Contacts.

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	May 30, 2005
Introduced by:	Sen. Kinnaird	Summary by:	Robin Johnson
Version:	PCS to First Edition S209-CSLU-8[v.2]		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: The PCS for Senate Bill 209 would allow adoptive parents and members of an adoptee's biological family to enter into an enforceable written agreement that allows specifically authorized post-adoption contacts, including visitation, communication, or other contact regarding the adoptee. The parties must enter into the agreement before or at the time the decree of adoption is granted, and the agreement must satisfy enumerated conditions and be approved by the court.

The PCS would change "post-adoption privileges" to "post-adoption contacts", would change where this provision would appear in Chapter 48 (Adoptions) of the General Statutes ("Chapter 48"), would apply only to adoptions where the child is at least two years old at the time of the adoption and has been in the custody of the department of social services before the adoption, and would authorize the birth relative to file a new action only to enforce the agreement.

CURRENT LAW: Currently, identifying information may be shared between birth parents and adopting parents only if the parties agree to do so before the adoption. There is nothing that authorizes or prohibits an agreement between adoptive parents and members of the adoptee's birth family. However, it is questionable as to whether an agreement would be enforceable.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 209 would add a new Part 8 to Article 3 (Adoption of Minors) to Chapter 48. The bill would allow an adoptive parent and a birth relative to enter into a written post-adoption contacts agreement before or at the time the adoption decree is granted. This would apply only to adoptees who are at least two years old and who have been in the custody of the department of social services immediately before the adoption. The agreement would be enforceable if it is approved by the court and signed by a district court judge.

A birth relative would include the adoptee's biological parent, grandparent, sibling, or other member of the adoptee's birth family related by blood or marriage. The agreement may include provisions for visitation, other forms of contact, and the sharing of information about the adoptee. It also must meet all of the following conditions:

- The court must find a significant emotional attachment between the adoptee and the birth relative.
- Both adoptive parents must consent.
- If the adoptee is at least 12, the adoptee must consent – unless the court waives this requirement.
- The county department of social services must recommend the granting of post-adoption contacts.
- If a guardian ad litem is appointed, the guardian must recommend the granting of post-adoption contacts.
- The adoptive parent and birth relative must execute the agreement and file it with the court.

- The agreement must include the birth relative's acknowledgment that the adoption is irrevocable regardless of whether the adoptive parent abides by the agreement.
- The agreement also must include the adoptive parent's acknowledgement that the agreement grants the birth relative the right to seek enforcement in court.
- Any other factors the court considers to be in the adoptee's best interests.

If a dispute arises subsequent to entering into the agreement, the parties must participate or attempt to participate in good faith in mediation or other appropriate dispute resolution proceedings. The adoptive parent may file an action in district court for the purpose of modifying, enforcing, or terminating the agreement. The birth relative may file an action in district court to enforce the agreement. The court may modify, enforce, or terminate the agreement if the court finds (i) the petitioning party had participated or attempted to participate in good faith in mediating the dispute or (ii) it would be in the adoptee's best interests.

The court shall not award monetary damages. Nor shall the court set aside an adoption decree, revoke a written consent to adoption, rescind a relinquishment, or modify an order to terminate parental rights for any party's failure to comply with the agreement.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act is effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: The Senate passed similar legislation in 2003.

Fletcher Hartsell, Jr., Chair and Members of Judiciary Committee

Dear Senator Hartsell:

I am an attorney who has had a general practice in Orange and Chatham Counties for nearly 27 years. I tried my first Termination of Parental Rights case in the early 1980's. In the last four to five years, I have represented more than 160 parents who have been accused of abuse, neglect or dependency or whose rights have been petitioned to be terminated. I also serve as a civil guardian ad litem for children in custody cases, I am a parent coordinator helping parents in civil custody cases to reduce the effects of anger on their children, and I am a mediator in Civil Superior Court cases.

Cases involving the termination of parental rights are very emotional, painful and difficult, for biological parents, their children and potential adoptive parents, Parents, no mater how neglectful their actions, deeply love their children, and almost never want to relinquish their rights. Children, while wanting stability in a home, feel ambivalence toward not being able to see not only their parents but also their siblings, grandparents and other relatives who were never involved in the parent's negligence. Adoptive parents are worried about the future.

This bill being considered by you today addresses a need that has exited for many years, the need to legally allow biological and adoptive parents to reach an agreement to allow contact between biological parents and their children. This bill allows this arrangement to be an option that is only possible with the approval of the Court.

My understanding is that adopted children can spend their entire lives wondering about their biological parents and at some point, usually try to find them. They experience unnecessary feelings of abandonment and thinking they are unwanted and unworthy. They want to see their brothers and sisters but can't because once a termination is entered, the adoptive parent has every legal right to prevent any such contract. This bill can reduce these feelings by allowing ongoing contact.

Currently it is my understanding that a significant number of Termination of Parental Rights cases are being appealed. Several of mine have been appealed in the last two years. Parents rarely give up their rights voluntarily and if there is a chance that the trial court was wrong, they will appeal. These appeals keep the lives of children and the adoptive parents on hold for years, tie up the district and appellate court system and end up costing the State significantly in terms of time and m monies.

This bill allows parents to give their rights in return for the contact they so desperately desire to have. It eliminates the painful and wrenching trials in these matters and reduces the anger that biological parents can carry with them and which can affect their own lives adversely.

Post-adoption contacts are an option - they are not mandatory. There is a fair and effective mechanism within the bill that protects the biological and adoptive parents and the children, and no agreement can be approved by the Court without the consent of the Department of Social Services, the adoptive parents and the Court. The original adoption consented to by the biological parents cannot be undone.

Several states, including Indiana, Minnesota, Nebraska, New Mexico, Ohio, Oregon, Florida, California, New York, Rhode Island, and Washington. have approved similar legislation. A study of national post-adoption contact legislation conducted for the State of Nevada in 2002 revealed no litigation surrounding such legislation, general support for its value to families, and a lack of foundation for the concerns of opponents.

It is time for North Carolina to have this option for these children and families. I appreciate your support.

Sincerely yours,

James T. Bryan III

AN ACT TO PROVIDE FOR CRIMINAL RECORD CHECKS OF APPLICANTS FOR PERMITS AND LICENSES TO CONDUCT ARCHAEOLOGICAL OPERATIONS AND INVESTIGATIONS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Part 2 of Article 4 of Chapter 114 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 114-19.16. Criminal record checks of applicants for permit or licensure to conduct exploration, recovery, or salvage operations and archaeological investigations.

(a) The Department of Justice may provide to the Department of Cultural Resources from the State and National Repositories of Criminal Histories the criminal history of any applicant for a permit or license under Article 3 of Chapter 121 of the General Statutes or Article 2 of Chapter 70 of the General Statutes, upon the request of the Department of Cultural Resources. Along with the request, the Department of Cultural Resources shall provide to the Department of Justice the fingerprints of the applicant, a form signed by the applicant consenting to the criminal history record check and use of fingerprints and other identifying information required by the State and National Repositories, and any additional information required by the Department of Justice. The applicant's fingerprints shall be forwarded to the State Bureau of Investigation for a search of the State's criminal history record file, and the State Bureau of Investigation shall forward a set of fingerprints to the Federal Bureau of Investigation for a national criminal history record check. The Department of Cultural Resources shall keep all information obtained pursuant to this section confidential, and the information shall be maintained in compliance with rules governing the dissemination of criminal history record checks adopted by the North Carolina Division of Criminal Information. The information obtained pursuant to this section is privileged and shall be for the exclusive use of the Department of Cultural Resources. The Department of Justice may charge a reasonable fee to offset the cost incurred by it to conduct a criminal record check under this section. The fee shall not exceed the actual cost of locating, editing, researching, and retrieving the information.

(b) As used in this section, the term "criminal history" means a State or federal history of conviction of a crime, whether a misdemeanor or felony, that bears upon an applicant's fitness for surveillance, protection, preservation, survey, and archaeological recovery of property subject to the exclusive dominion and control of the State pursuant to G.S. 121-22 and an applicant's fitness for archaeological investigations pursuant to G.S. 70-13."

SECTION 2. G.S. 121-25 reads as rewritten:

"§ 121-25. License to conduct exploration, recovery or salvage operations.

(a) Any qualified person, firm or corporation desiring to conduct any type of exploration, recovery or salvage operations, in the course of which any part of a derelict vessel or its contents or other archaeological site may be removed, displaced or destroyed, shall first make application to the Department of Cultural Resources ~~for~~ and obtain a permit or license to conduct such operations.

(b) If the Department requires a criminal history record check of the applicant for a permit or license, the applicant shall furnish the Department a complete set of fingerprints and a recent photograph in a form prescribed by the Department. In the case of an applicant who is not an individual, fingerprints shall be provided for the principals, officers, directors, and controlling persons of the entities. Each set of fingerprints shall be certified by an authorized law enforcement officer.

Applicants for whom criminal history record checks are conducted shall consent to a criminal history record check pursuant to G.S. 114-19.16. If the verified criminal history record check reveals one or more convictions, then the conviction or convictions shall constitute just cause for not approving the permit or license. The conviction shall not automatically prohibit approval of the application, but the following factors shall be considered by the Department of Cultural Resources in determining whether the permit or license shall be denied:

(1) The level and seriousness of the crime.
(2) The date of the crime.
(3) The age of the person at the time of conviction.
(4) The circumstances surrounding the commission of the crime, if known.
(5) The nexus between the criminal conduct of the person and the person's responsibilities pursuant to the application.
(6) The incarceration, probation, parole, rehabilitation, and employment records of the person since the date the crime was committed.
(7) The subsequent commission by the person of a crime.

(c) The Department of Cultural Resources may deny the application for permit or license of any applicant for refusal to consent to a criminal history record check or to the use of fingerprints or other identifying information required by either the State or National Repositories of Criminal Histories. The refusal shall constitute just cause for the denial of the permit or license.

(d) If the Department of Cultural Resources shall find that the granting of such permit or license is in the best interest of the State, it may grant such applicant a permit or license for such a period of time and under such conditions as the Department may deem to be in the best interest of the State. Such permit or license may include but need not be limited to the following:

(1) Payment of monetary fee to be set by the Department;
(2) That a portion or all of the historic material or artifacts be delivered to custody and possession of the Department;
(3) That a portion of all of such relics or artifacts may be sold or retained by the licensee;
(4) That a portion or all of such relics or artifacts may be sold or traded by the Department.

Permits or licenses may be renewed upon or prior to expiration upon such terms as the applicant and the Department may mutually agree. Holders of permits or licenses shall be responsible for obtaining permission of any federal agencies having jurisdiction, including the United States Coast Guard, the United States Department of the Navy and the United States Army Corps of Engineers prior to conducting any salvaging operations."

SECTION 3. G.S. 70-13 is amended by adding the following new subsections to read:

"(a1) If the Department requires a criminal history record check of the applicant for a permit or license, the applicant shall furnish the Department a complete set of fingerprints and a recent photograph in a form prescribed by the Department. In the case of an applicant who is not an individual, fingerprints shall be provided for the principals, officers, directors, and controlling persons of the entities. Each set of fingerprints shall be certified by an authorized law enforcement officer.

Applicants for whom criminal history record checks are conducted shall consent to a criminal history record check pursuant to G.S. 114-19.16. If the verified criminal history record check reveals one or more convictions, then the conviction or convictions shall constitute just cause for not approving the permit or license. The conviction shall not automatically prohibit approval of the application, but the following factors shall be considered by the Department of Cultural Resources in determining whether the permit or license shall be denied:

(1) The level and seriousness of the crime.
(2) The date of the crime.
(3) The age of the person at the time of conviction.
(4) The circumstances surrounding the commission of the crime, if known.
(5) The nexus between the criminal conduct of the person and the person's responsibilities pursuant to the application.
(6) The incarceration, probation, parole, rehabilitation, and employment records of the person since the date the crime was committed.
(7) The subsequent commission by the person of a crime.

(a2) The Department of Cultural Resources may deny the application for permit or license of any applicant for refusal to consent to a criminal history record check or to the use of fingerprints or other identifying information required by either the State or National Repositories of Criminal Histories. The refusal shall constitute just cause for the denial of the permit or license."

SECTION 4. This act becomes effective October 1, 2005, and applies to applications for permits or licenses submitted to the Department of Cultural Resources on or after that date.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO PROVIDE FOR CRIMINAL RECORD CHECKS OF APPLICANTS FOR PERMITS AND LICENSES TO CONDUCT ARCHAEOLOGICAL OPERATIONS AND INVESTIGATIONS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Part 2 of Article 4 of Chapter 114 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 114-19.16. Criminal record checks of applicants for permit or licensure to conduct exploration, recovery, or salvage operations and archaeological investigations.

(a) The Department of Justice may provide to the Department of Cultural Resources from the State and National Repositories of Criminal Histories the criminal history of any applicant for a permit or license under Article 3 of Chapter 121 of the General Statutes or Article 2 of Chapter 70 of the General Statutes, upon the request of the Department of Cultural Resources. Along with the request, the Department of Cultural Resources shall provide to the Department of Justice the fingerprints of the applicant, a form signed by the applicant consenting to the criminal history record check and use of fingerprints and other identifying information required by the State and National Repositories, and any additional information required by the Department of Justice. The applicant's fingerprints shall be forwarded to the State Bureau of Investigation for a search of the State's criminal history record file, and the State Bureau of Investigation shall forward a set of fingerprints to the Federal Bureau of Investigation for a national criminal history record check. The Department of Cultural Resources shall keep all information obtained pursuant to this section confidential, and the information shall be maintained in compliance with rules governing the dissemination of criminal history record checks adopted by the North Carolina Division of Criminal Information. The information obtained pursuant to this section is privileged and shall be for the exclusive use of the Department of Cultural Resources. The Department of Justice may charge a reasonable fee to offset the cost incurred by it to conduct a criminal record check under this section. The fee shall not exceed the actual cost of locating, editing, researching, and retrieving the information.

(b) As used in this section, the term "criminal history" means a State or federal history of conviction of a crime, whether a misdemeanor or felony, that bears upon an applicant's fitness for surveillance, protection, preservation, survey, and archaeological recovery of property subject to the exclusive dominion and control of the State pursuant to G.S. 121-22 and an applicant's fitness for archaeological investigations pursuant to G.S. 70-13."

SECTION 2. G.S. 121-25 reads as rewritten:

"§ 121-25. License to conduct exploration, recovery or salvage operations.

(a) Any qualified person, firm or corporation desiring to conduct any type of exploration, recovery or salvage operations, in the course of which any part of a derelict vessel or its contents or other archaeological site may be removed, displaced or destroyed, shall first make application to the Department of Cultural Resources ~~for~~ and obtain a permit or license to conduct such operations.

(b) If the Department requires a criminal history record check of the applicant for a permit or license, the applicant shall furnish the Department a complete set of fingerprints and a recent photograph in a form prescribed by the Department. In the case of an applicant who is not an individual, fingerprints shall be provided for the principals, officers, directors, and controlling persons of the entities. Each set of fingerprints shall be certified by an authorized law enforcement officer.

Applicants for whom criminal history record checks are conducted shall consent to a criminal history record check pursuant to G.S. 114-19.16. If the verified criminal history record check reveals one or more convictions, then the conviction or convictions shall constitute just cause for not approving the permit or license. The conviction shall not automatically prohibit approval of the application, but the following factors shall be considered by the Department of Cultural Resources in determining whether the permit or license shall be denied:

(1) The level and seriousness of the crime.
(2) The date of the crime.
(3) The age of the person at the time of conviction.
(4) The circumstances surrounding the commission of the crime, if known.

(6) The incarceration, probation, parole, rehabilitation, and employment records of the person since the date the crime was committed.
(7) The subsequent commission by the person of a crime.

(c) The Department of Cultural Resources may deny the application for permit or license of any applicant for refusal to consent to a criminal history record check or to the use of fingerprints or other identifying information required by either the State or National Repositories of Criminal Histories. The refusal shall constitute just cause for the denial of the permit or license.

(d) If the Department of Cultural Resources shall find that the granting of such permit or license is in the best interest of the State, it may grant such applicant a permit or license for such a period of time and under such conditions as the Department may deem to be in the best interest of the State. Such permit or license may include but need not be limited to the following:

(1) Payment of monetary fee to be set by the Department;
(2) That a portion or all of the historic material or artifacts be delivered to custody and possession of the Department;
(3) That a portion of all of such relics or artifacts may be sold or retained by the licensee;
(4) That a portion or all of such relics or artifacts may be sold or traded by the Department.

Permits or licenses may be renewed upon or prior to expiration upon such terms as the applicant and the Department may mutually agree. Holders of permits or licenses shall be responsible for obtaining permission of any federal agencies having jurisdiction, including the United States Coast Guard, the United States Department of the Navy and the United States Army Corps of Engineers prior to conducting any salvaging operations."

SECTION 3. G.S. 70-13 is amended by adding the following new subsections to read:

SENATE BILL 796:
Crim Record Checks/Archaeological Ops/DHHS

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	June 9, 2005
Introduced by:	Sen. Thomas	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith Committee Counsel
Version:	PCS to First Edition S796-CSRC-63

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 796 would require all persons who apply to the Department of Cultural Resources for a permit to conduct underwater archeological activities and archeological activities on State land to submit to a criminal background check. It would also allow the Department of Justice to conduct those State and National checks upon the request of the Department of Cultural Resources.

The Proposed Committee Substitute also expand the authority of the Department of Health and Human Services to conduct criminal background checks for all applicants for positions of employment, current employees, independent contractors and volunteers.

The bill must be re-referred to Senate Finance because it authorizes the Department of Justice to charge a fee for the criminal background checks.

CURRENT LAW:

Salvage and recovery of shipwrecks. G.S. 121-25 requires any person who wants to engage in salvage operations to obtain a permit from the Department of Cultural Resources. The Department may grant the permit or license if it finds it is in the best interest of the State. The permit may be for a period of time and under conditions specified by the Department. The permit may require the payment of a fee to the Department, that a portion of the artifacts are delivered to the Department, that a portion of the artifacts are sold or retained by the licensee, or that a portion of the artifacts may be sold or traded by the Department.

Archaeological investigations on State land. G.S. 70-13 requires that persons who want to conduct archaeological investigations on State lands must first obtain a permit from the Department of Cultural Resources. An "archaeological investigation" means any surface collection, subsurface test, excavation, or other activity that results in the disturbance or removal of archaeological resources. The term "archaeological resource" means any material remains of past human life or activities which are at least 50 years old and which are of archaeological interest. These include pieces of pottery, basketry, bottles, weapons, weapon projectiles, tools, structures or portions of structures, rock paintings, rock carvings, graves or human skeletal materials. The term does not include fossils unless found in an archaeological context.

The Department shall issue a permit if it finds that the applicant is qualified to under take the activity, the activity is undertaken to further archaeological knowledge, the applicant has the funds and technology to retrieve the archaeological resource, the resources will remain the property of the State and attendant data will be preserved by a university or museum, the permit is not inconsistent with a management plan for the State land, and the applicant will bear the cost of reinterment of any human remains. The Department must also notify and consult with the appropriate local religious or cultural group prior to issuing the permit.

Criminal record checks by DHHS and DJJDP of certain applicants and employees. G.S. 114-19.6 authorizes the Department of Justice to conduct criminal background checks for the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) and the Department of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (DJJDP). The background checks are for applicants for employment and current employees who provide direct care for a client, patient, student, resident or ward of the Department, and also for persons who supervise individuals who provide that care. If the person has resided in North Carolina for the past 5 years, the check is only regarding North Carolina convictions and the person is not required to submit their fingerprints. If the person has not lived in North Carolina for the past 5 years, the Department is authorized to conduct a national search and to require fingerprints. Information obtained from the search is confidential. Evidence of a conviction does not automatically make a person ineligible for employment. DHHS and DJJDP must take into consideration a number of factors, such as the seriousness of the crime, the age of the person at the time of conviction, the nexus between the nature of the crime and the job duties, the period of punishment, and whether the person has committed any subsequent offenses.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Section 1 authorizes the North Carolina Department of Justice (DOJ) to conduct State and national criminal background checks on applicants for permits or licenses from the Department of Cultural Resources to conduct salvage operations or archeological investigations. DOJ may charge a fee to cover the actual cost of locating, editing, researching and retrieving the information.

Sections 2 and 3 are identical, but apply to different permitting processes (Article 3 of Chapter 121 and Article 2 of Chapter 70 respectively). They both require an applicant for a permit or license to conduct salvage operations or archaeological investigations to submit to a criminal background check. The applicant must provide a written consent to the background check, a set of fingerprints, and any other identifying information required by the State or National Repositories of Criminal Histories. The Department of Cultural Resources must keep the information confidential. Evidence of a conviction will not necessarily disqualify an applicant from receiving a permit or license. The Department must consider a number of factors, such as the seriousness of the crime, the age of the person at the time of conviction, the nexus between the nature of the crime and the purpose of the permit, the period of punishment, and whether the person has committed any subsequent offenses.

Section 4 amends G.S. 114-19.6 to allow DHHS to conduct criminal background checks on all applicants for employment, all current employees, all independent contractors and their employees who contract with the Department, and all persons who provide volunteer services for the Department. All the provisions of existing law would apply regarding when the check would only apply to State records and when it would involve a national check.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act becomes effective October 1, 2005. Sections 1, 2 and 3 would apply to applications for permits submitted to the Department of Cultural Resources on or after that date.

BACKGROUND: The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) has certain criteria that must be met before it will comply with a statute authorizing criminal background checks for employment or licensure. Those criteria include that the statute must: specify who is subject to the statute, require the applicant to provide a fingerprint card, specify the agency responsible for the licensure/employment decision, and clearly indicate that the criminal history access is authorized and identify the criteria by which a person would be denied employment or licensure. In addition, the FBI has a process for providing preliminary approval of proposed legislation and final approval for enacted legislation.

EFFECTIVE DATE: December 1, 2005

This fiscal analysis is independent of the impact of other criminal penalty bills being considered by the General Assembly, which could also increase the projected prison population and thus the availability of prison beds in future years. The Fiscal Research Division is tracking the cumulative effect of all criminal penalty bills on the prison system as well as the Judicial Department.*

BILL SUMMARY: Current G.S. 14-401.17 prohibits the removal of electronic collars from dogs in 38 counties. This bill would amend G.S. 14-401.17 to make the offense applicable statewide. A first conviction for this offense is a Class 3 misdemeanor; the second, and any subsequent conviction, is a Class 2 misdemeanor.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

General

Because this bill would extend the offense under G.S. 14-401.17 for removing an electronic collar from a dog to the entire state, additional charges and convictions would be expected to result from this legislation. However, the Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) does not maintain a specific offense code for current violations of G.S. 14-401.17, which is some indication that the existing offense is infrequently charged and rarely result in convictions. As such, few additional charges and convictions are anticipated to result from this bill, and the associated fiscal impact is not expected to be substantial.

The Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission prepares prison population projections for each criminal penalty bill. The Commission assumes for each bill that increasing criminal penalties does not have a deterrent or incapacitative effect on crime. Therefore, the Fiscal Research Division does not assume savings due to deterrent effects for this bill or any criminal penalty bill.

Department of Correction

The Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission prepares inmate population projections annually. The projections used for incarceration fiscal notes are based on January 2005 projections. These projections are based on historical information on incarceration and release rates under Structured Sentencing, crime rate forecasts by a technical advisory group, probation and revocation rates, and the decline (parole and maxouts) of the stock prison population sentenced under previous sentencing acts. Based on the most recent population projections and estimated available prison bed capacity, there are no surplus prison beds available for the five-year fiscal note horizon and beyond.

Due to the lack of an offense code for current violations of G.S. 14-401.17 (some indication that convictions are presently infrequent), the Sentencing Commission has no historical data from which to estimate the number of additional convictions that might result from applying the offense statewide.

- In FY 2003-04, 15 percent of Class 2 and 23 percent of Class 3 misdemeanors resulted in active sentences and the average active sentence lengths were 23 and 8 days, respectively.
- Offenders with active sentences of less than thirty days are housed in county jails at county expense.
- The remaining 85 and 77 percent of Class 2 and 3 misdemeanants, respectively, received non-active sentences. For those offenders sentenced to supervised probation, the Division of Community Correction (DCC) would incur costs of $1.87 per offender per day. Offenders sentenced to community service would cost $0.67 per offender per day, and offenders given unsupervised probation would not impact DCC.

Because Class 2 and 3 misdemeanants serving active time as a result of this bill would be housed in county jails, this legislation would not impact prison population.

Judicial Branch

For most criminal penalty bills, the Administrative Office of the Courts provides Fiscal Research with an analysis of the fiscal impact of the specific bill. For these bills, fiscal impact is typically based on the assumption that court time will increase due to an expected increase in trials and a corresponding increase in the hours of work for judges, clerks and prosecutors. This increased court time is also expected to result in greater expenditures for jury fees and indigent defense.

Data regarding the number of charges for unlawfully removing an electronic collar from a dog is unavailable because AOC does not maintain a specific offense code for this violation. As a result, we cannot estimate the number of additional charges that the Court system would handle due to this bill. Based on the costs of time in court, attorney preparation time, and indigent defense, the average estimated cost to process one Class 2 or Class 3 misdemeanor via trial is $2,322. This cost includes an estimated $1,373 in jury fees, costs of time in court, and attorney costs and an additional $949 in indigent defense. However, based on prior-year data, the majority of any new Class 2 or 3 misdemeanor charges that are not dismissed are likely to be settled by guilty plea at an estimated cost of $272 or $268, respectively.

HOUSE BILL 862:
Prohibit Removal of Electronic Collars

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	June 8, 2005
Introduced by:	Rep. Wilson	Summary by:	Robin Johnson
Version:	First Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 862 would extend statewide the applicability of the law prohibiting the removal of electronic collars from dogs.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 14-401.17[1] makes it unlawful to intentionally remove or destroy an electronic collar or other electronic device placed on a dog by its owner to maintain control of the dog. A first conviction for a violation of this section is a Class 3 misdemeanor, punishable by 1-10 days of community punishment. A second or subsequent conviction for a violation of this section is a Class 2 misdemeanor. The minimum punishment for subsequent convictions is 1-45 days of intermediate or community punishment.

The law is enforceable by officers of the Wildlife Resources Commission, by sheriffs and deputy sheriffs, and by peace officers with general subject matter jurisdiction. The law currently applies in only 38 of the State's 100 counties: Alamance, Anson, Avery, Beaufort, Brunswick, Buncombe, Burke, Caldwell, Camden, Caswell, Cherokee, Chowan, Clay, Columbus, Craven, Cumberland, Davidson, Graham, Haywood, Henderson, Hyde, Jackson, Macon, Madison, McDowell, Mecklenburg, Mitchell, New Hanover, Orange, Pasquotank, Pitt, Robeson, Rockingham, Swain, Transylvania, Union, Wilkes, and Yancey.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 862, if enacted, would repeal G.S. 14-401.17(d), which would have the effect of making the statute applicable statewide.

Note: There is an incarceration note.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill would become effective December 1, 2005, and apply to offenses committed on or after that date.

Brenda Carter, counsel to House Judiciary III, substantially prepared this summary.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO PROVIDE THAT A PHYSICIAN OR ELIGIBLE PSYCHOLOGIST MAY FILE AN AFFIDAVIT FOR INVOLUNTARY COMMITMENT WITH THE CLERK OR MAGISTRATE EITHER BY HAND DELIVERY OF THE ORIGINAL AFFIDAVIT OR BY FACSIMILE TRANSMISSION OF A PAPER COPY OF THE AFFIDAVIT.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 122C-261(d) reads as rewritten:

"§ 122C-261. Affidavit and petition before clerk or magistrate when immediate hospitalization is not necessary; custody order.

(d) If the affiant is a physician or eligible psychologist, the affiant may execute the affidavit before any official authorized to administer oaths. This affiant is not required to appear before the clerk or magistrate for this purpose. This affiant shall file the affidavit with the clerk or magistrate by delivering to the clerk or magistrate the original affidavit or a copy in paper form that is printed through the facsimile transmission of the affidavit. If the affidavit is filed through facsimile transmission, the affiant shall mail the original affidavit to the clerk or magistrate to be filed by the clerk or magistrate with the facsimile copy of the affidavit. This affiant's examination shall comply with the requirements of the initial examination as provided in G.S. 122C-263(c). If the physician or eligible psychologist recommends outpatient commitment and the clerk or magistrate finds probable cause to believe that the respondent meets the criteria for outpatient commitment, the clerk or magistrate shall issue an order that a hearing before a district court judge be held to determine whether the respondent will be involuntarily committed. The physician or eligible psychologist shall provide the respondent with written notice of any scheduled appointment and the name, address, and telephone number of the proposed outpatient treatment physician or center. If the physician or eligible psychologist recommends inpatient commitment and the clerk or magistrate finds probable cause to believe that the respondent meets the criteria for inpatient commitment, the clerk or magistrate shall issue an order for transportation to or custody at a 24-hour facility described in G.S. 122C-252. However, if the clerk or magistrate finds probable cause to believe that the respondent, in addition to being mentally ill, is also mentally retarded, the clerk or magistrate shall contact the area authority before issuing the order and the area authority shall designate the facility to which the respondent is to be transported. If a physician or eligible psychologist executes an affidavit for inpatient commitment of a respondent, a second physician shall be required to perform the examination required by G.S. 122C-266."

SECTION 2. This act is effective when it becomes law.

HOUSE BILL 1199:
Involuntary Commitment Affidavit

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	June 9, 2005
Introduced by:	Rep. Holliman	Summary by:	Ben Popkin
Version:	Second Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 1199 would allow physicians or eligible psychologists who execute an affidavit in support of a petition for issuance of a transportation and custody order for involuntary commitment of an individual to file the affidavit with the clerk or magistrate by either of the following methods:

- Delivering the affidavit to the clerk or magistrate; or
- Delivering a copy in paper form by facsimile transmission bearing the physician or psychologist's original signature.

The Proposed Committee Substitute added the stipulation that affidavits submitted by facsimile transmission be filed with the original copy of the affidavit. To accomplish this, the affiant would be required to mail the original affidavit to the clerk or magistrate to be filed with the received facsimile copy.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 122C-261 governs the procedure and requirements for involuntary commitment of the mentally ill. Specifically, anyone who has knowledge of an individual who is mentally ill and either dangerous to self, dangerous to others, or in need of treatment to prevent further deterioration that would result in dangerousness may appear before a clerk or magistrate and execute an affidavit to this effect. The affiant may then petition the clerk or magistrate for a custody order authorizing law enforcement officials to to taking the respondent into custody. If the clerk or magistrate finds reasonable grounds to believe the facts as stated in the affidavit, the clerk may then issue the appropriate order taking the individual into custody.

This statute includes a special provision allowing a physician or eligible psychologist to execute an affidavit before any official authorized to administer oaths. The physician or psychologist is not required to appear before the clerk or magistrate to execute the affidavit. The relevant statute is appended to the bottom of this document.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 1199 would amend G.S. 122C-261(d) to authorize physicians or eligible psychologists to be able to file affidavits in support of petitions for issuance of custody orders for examination and possible involuntary commitment by either delivering the original affidavit to the clerk or magistrate or by sending the affidavit by facsimile transmission. The Proposed Committee Substitute would require that the original affidavit corresponding to the facsimile transmission to the clerk or magistrate be mailed to the clerk or magistrate for filing with the facsimile copy.

EFFECTIVE DATE: House Bill 1199 would be effective when it becomes law.

§ 122C-261. Affidavit and petition before clerk or magistrate when immediate hospitalization is not necessary; custody order.

(a) Anyone who has knowledge of an individual who is mentally ill and either (i) dangerous to self, as defined in G.S. 122C-3(11)a., or dangerous to others, as defined in G.S. 122C-3(11)b., or (ii) in need of treatment in order to prevent further disability or deterioration that would predictably result in dangerousness, may appear before a clerk or assistant or deputy clerk of superior court or a magistrate and execute an affidavit to this effect, and petition the clerk or magistrate for issuance of an order to take the respondent into custody for examination by a physician or eligible psychologist. The affidavit shall include the facts on which the affiant's opinion is based. If the affiant has knowledge or reasonably believes that the respondent, in addition to being mentally ill, is also mentally retarded, this fact shall be stated in the affidavit. Jurisdiction under this subsection is in the clerk or magistrate in the county where the respondent resides or is found.

(b) If the clerk or magistrate finds reasonable grounds to believe that the facts alleged in the affidavit are true and that the respondent is probably mentally ill and either (i) dangerous to self, as defined in G.S. 122C-3(11)a., or dangerous to others, as defined in G.S. 122C-3(11)b., or (ii) in need of treatment in order to prevent further disability or deterioration that would predictably result in dangerousness, the clerk or magistrate shall issue an order to a law enforcement officer or any other person authorized under G.S. 122C-251 to take the respondent into custody for examination by a physician or eligible psychologist. If the clerk or magistrate finds that, in addition to probably being mentally ill, the respondent is also probably mentally retarded, the clerk or magistrate shall contact the area authority before issuing a custody order and the area authority shall designate the facility to which the respondent is to be taken for examination by a physician or eligible psychologist. The clerk or magistrate shall provide the petitioner and the respondent, if present, with specific information regarding the next steps that will occur for the respondent.

(c) If the clerk or magistrate issues a custody order, the clerk or magistrate shall also make inquiry in any reliable way as to whether the respondent is indigent within the meaning of G.S. 7A-450. A magistrate shall report the result of this inquiry to the clerk.

(d) If the affiant is a physician or eligible psychologist, the affiant may execute the affidavit before any official authorized to administer oaths. This affiant is not required to appear before the clerk or magistrate for this purpose. This affiant's examination shall comply with the requirements of the initial examination as provided in G.S. 122C-263(c). If the physician or eligible psychologist recommends outpatient commitment and the clerk or magistrate finds probable cause to believe that the respondent meets the criteria for outpatient commitment, the clerk or magistrate shall issue an order that a hearing before a district court judge be held to determine whether the respondent will be involuntarily committed. The physician or eligible psychologist shall provide the respondent with written notice of any scheduled appointment and the name, address, and telephone number of the proposed outpatient treatment physician or center. If the physician or eligible psychologist recommends inpatient commitment and the clerk or magistrate finds probable cause to believe that the respondent meets the criteria for inpatient commitment, the clerk or magistrate shall issue an order for transportation to or custody at a 24-hour facility described in G.S. 122C-252. However, if the clerk or magistrate finds probable cause to believe that the respondent, in addition to being mentally ill, is also mentally retarded, the clerk or magistrate shall contact the area authority before issuing the order and the area authority shall designate the facility to which the respondent is to be transported. If a physician or eligible psychologist executes an affidavit for inpatient commitment of a respondent, a second physician shall be required to perform the examination required by G.S. 122C-266.

(e) Upon receipt of the custody order of the clerk or magistrate or a custody order issued by the court pursuant to G.S. 15A-1003, a law enforcement officer or other person designated in the order shall take the respondent into custody within 24 hours after the order is signed, and proceed according to G.S. 122C-263. The custody order is valid throughout the State.

(f) When a petition is filed for an individual who is a resident of a single portal area, the procedures for examination by a physician or eligible psychologist as set forth in G.S. 122C-263 shall be carried out in accordance with the area plan. Prior to issuance of a custody order for a respondent who resides in an area authority with a single portal plan, the clerk or magistrate shall communicate with the area authority to determine the appropriate 24-hour facility to which the respondent should be admitted according to the area plan or to determine if there are more appropriate resources available through the area authority to assist the petitioner or the respondent. When an individual from a single portal area is presented for commitment at a 24-hour area or State facility directly, the individual may not be accepted for admission until the facility notifies the area authority and the area authority agrees to the admission. If the area authority does not agree to the admission, it shall determine the appropriate 24-hour facility to which the individual should be admitted according to the area plan or determine if there are more appropriate resources available through the area authority to assist the individual. If the area authority agrees to the admission, further planning of treatment for the client is the joint responsibility of the area authority and the facility as prescribed in the area plan.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, in no event shall an individual known or reasonably believed to be mentally retarded be admitted to a State psychiatric hospital, except as follows:

(1) Persons described in G.S. 122C-266(b);
(2) Persons admitted pursuant to G.S. 15A-1321;
(3) Respondents who are so extremely dangerous as to pose a serious threat to the community and to other patients committed to non-State hospital psychiatric inpatient units, as determined by the Director of the Division of Mental Health, Developmental Disabilities, and Substance Abuse Services or his designee; and
(4) Respondents who are so gravely disabled by both multiple disorders and medical fragility or multiple disorders and deafness that alternative care is inappropriate, as determined by the Director of the Division of Mental Health, Developmental Disabilities, and Substance Abuse Services or his designee.

Individuals transported to a State facility for the mentally ill who are not admitted by the facility may be transported by law enforcement officers or designated staff of the State facility in State-owned vehicles to an appropriate 24-hour facility that provides psychiatric inpatient care.

No later than 24 hours after the transfer, the responsible professional at the original facility shall notify the petitioner, the clerk of court, and, if consent is granted by the respondent, the next of kin, that the transfer has been completed.

However, the driver and the passengers must return with the vehicle to the accident scene within a reasonable period of time. A willful violation of this subsection shall be punished as a Class H felony.

(b) In addition to complying with the requirement of (a), the driver as set forth in (a) shall give his name, address, driver's license number and the license plate number of

(1) Only in damage to property; or

(2) In injury or death to any person, but only if the operator of the vehicle did not know and did not have reason to know of the death or injury;

shall immediately stop his vehicle at the scene of the accident or collision. If the damaged property is a guardrail, utility pole, or other fixed object owned by the Department of Transportation, a public utility, or other public service corporation to which report cannot readily be made at the scene, it shall be sufficient if the responsible driver shall furnish the information required to the nearest peace officer or make written report thereof containing said information by U.S. certified mail, return receipt requested, to the North Carolina Division of Motor Vehicles within five days following said collision. A violation of this subsection is a Class 1 misdemeanor.

(c2) Notwithstanding subsections (a) and (c) of this section, if ~~If~~ an accident or collision occurs on a main lane, ramp, shoulder, median, or adjacent area of a highway, each vehicle shall be moved as soon as possible out of the travel lane and onto the shoulder or to a designated accident investigation site to complete the requirements of this section and minimize interference with traffic if all of the following apply:

(1) The accident or collision has not resulted in injury or death to any person or the drivers did not know or have reason to know of any injury or death.

(2) Each vehicle can be normally and safely driven. For purposes of this subsection, a vehicle can be normally and safely driven if it does not require towing and can be operated under its own power and in its usual manner, without additional damage or hazard to the vehicle, other traffic, or the roadway.

(d) Any person who renders first aid or emergency assistance at the scene of a motor vehicle accident on any street or highway to any person injured as a result of such accident, shall not be liable in civil damages for any acts or omissions relating to such services rendered, unless such acts or omissions amount to wanton conduct or intentional wrongdoing.

(e) The Division of Motor Vehicles shall revoke the drivers license of a person convicted of violating subsection (a) of this section for a period of one year, unless the court makes a finding that a longer period of revocation is appropriate under the circumstances of the case. If the court makes this finding, the Division of Motor Vehicles shall revoke that person's drivers license for two years. Upon a first conviction only for a violation of subsection (a) of this section, a trial judge may allow limited driving privileges in the manner set forth in G.S. 20-179.3(b)(2) during any period of time during which the drivers license is revoked."

SECTION 2. This act becomes effective December 1, 2005, and applies to offenses committed on or after that date.

HOUSE BILL 217:
Driving From/Leaving Scene of Accident

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	June 14, 2005
Introduced by:	Reps. Harrison, Bordsen, Insko, Luebke	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith
Version:	Second Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 217 would require that passengers in a vehicle that has been involved in an accident remain at the scene of the accident with the vehicle until a law enforcement officer authorizes the vehicle to be removed and the passengers to leave. It also prohibits the driver from authorizing another to remove the vehicle, and prohibits the passenger from removing the vehicle.

The act would become effective December 1, 2005, and apply to offenses committed on or after that date.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 20-166(a) requires a driver whose vehicle has been involved in an accident that causes injury or death to stop his or her car and remain at the scene of the accident until a law enforcement officer completes the investigation or authorizes the driver to leave the scene. Violation of this provision is a Class H felony[1] and also results in the mandatory revocation of the person's drivers license for 1 to 2 years.[2] The driver may leave the scene or remove the vehicle in order to call law enforcement or obtain medical assistance. The driver must return to the scene within a reasonable period of time.

G.S. 20-166(c) requires a driver whose vehicle is involved in an accident to stop at the scene if the accident causes only property damage or results in injury or death that is not apparent. Violation of this provision is a Class 1 misdemeanor.[3]

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 217 would expand the duties of both drivers and passengers who are in vehicles that are involved in an accident as follows:

- Make it a Class H felony for the driver to facilitate, allow or agree to the removal of the vehicle from the scene of an accident that results in injury or death prior to law enforcement completing the investigation or consenting to the removal. A person convicted of this crime would lose their drivers license for 1 to 2 years. A judge may order a limited driving privilege during this period.
- Make it a Class H felony for a passenger of a vehicle that has been involved in an accident that results in injury or death to leave the scene or remove the vehicle from the scene prior to law enforcement completing the investigation or consenting to the removal. The passenger would also have their drivers license revoked for 1 to 2 years. A judge may order a limited driving privilege during this period.
- Require that both the driver and any passenger of a vehicle must remain at the scene of a "reportable" accident[4] where only property damage occurs and the injury or death is not apparent. It would be a Class 1 misdemeanor for either the driver or the passenger to leave the scene or otherwise remove the vehicle prior to law enforcement completing the investigation or consenting to the removal. The driver or passenger could leave the scene or remove the vehicle in order to call law enforcement or obtain medical assistance. They would have to return to the scene within a reasonable period of time.

[1] The presumptive minimum sentence for a Class H felony for a person with no prior convictions is 5-6 months of community, intermediate or active punishment.

[2] G.S. 20-166(e). The judge may grant a limited driving privilege.

[3] The presumptive minimum sentence for a Class 1 misdemeanor for a person with no prior convictions is 1-45 days of community punishment.

[4] A reportable accident is an accident that results death or injury to a human being, $1000 or more worth of property damage, or seizure of a vehicle because of a DWI violation.

EFFECTIVE DATE: December 1, 2005

This fiscal analysis is independent of the impact of other criminal penalty bills being considered by the General Assembly, which could also increase the projected prison population and thus the availability of prison beds in future years. The Fiscal Research Division is tracking the cumulative effect of all criminal penalty bills on the prison system as well as the Judicial Department.*

BILL SUMMARY:

Current G.S. 20-166 subsection (a) requires a driver of any vehicle involved in a collision, when the driver knows or reasonably should know that the vehicle has been involved in an accident that has resulted in death or injury, to remain at the scene of that accident, except for the purpose of calling a law enforcement officer or seeking medical attention, until law enforcement completes the investigation or authorizes the driver to leave. A willful violation of this subsection currently constitutes a Class H felony. Current G.S. 20-166 subsection (c) provides that a driver involved in an accident that has caused only property damage immediately stop his vehicle at the scene of the accident. A violation of G.S. 20-166 (c) is a Class 1 misdemeanor.

This bill would amend G.S. 20-166 subsection (a), and subsection (c) for a reportable accident, to require that any passengers (in addition to the driver) remain at the scene of an accident with the vehicle until law enforcement authorizes the vehicle to be removed and the driver and any passengers to leave. Subsections (a) and (c) are furthermore amended to prohibit the driver from facilitating, allowing, or agreeing to the removal of the vehicle from the scene and any passenger from removing or facilitating the removal of the vehicle from the scene. The penalties for violating subsections (a) and (c) would remain a Class H felony and Class 1 misdemeanor, respectively.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

General

This bill would have a fiscal impact through two means:

1) Expanding the requirements of drivers to prohibit facilitating, allowing, or agreeing to the removal of the vehicle involved in the accident from the scene.

2) Extending the current duty to remain at the scene of an accident to passengers and prohibiting passengers from removing or facilitating in the removal of the vehicle involved in the accident from the scene.

Because these amendments expand the scope of existing offenses, there may be a greater number of charges and convictions for Class H felonies under subsection (a) of this bill and Class 1 misdemeanors under subsection (c). However, because this bill only refines present law and neither elevates existing penalties nor greatly expands the scope of behavior encompassed by existing offenses, the numbers of additional charges and convictions resulting from the bill are not expected to be significant. As such, any cost associated with this legislation is not expected to be substantial.

The Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission prepares prison population projections for each criminal penalty bill. The Commission assumes for each bill that increasing criminal penalties does not have a deterrent or incapacitative effect on crime. Therefore, the Fiscal Research Division does not assume savings due to deterrent effects for this bill or any criminal penalty bill.

Department of Correction

The Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission prepares inmate population projections annually. The projections used for incarceration fiscal notes are based on January 2005 projections. These projections are based on historical information on incarceration and release rates under Structured Sentencing, crime rate forecasts by a technical advisory group, probation and revocation rates, and the decline (parole and maxouts) of the stock prison population sentenced under previous sentencing acts. Based on the most recent population projections and estimated available prison bed capacity, there are no surplus prison beds available for the five-year fiscal note horizon and beyond.

Because this bill expands the scope of existing offenses, the Sentencing Commission has no data from which to project the number of convictions that might result from this legislation. The following number of convictions occurred in fiscal year 2003-04 under current G.S. 20-166:

- 44 convictions under subsection (a), which prohibits drivers from leaving the scene of an accident that caused injury or death of which they are aware or should be aware.
- 791 convictions under subsection (c), which requires that drivers stop at the scene of an accident that causes only property damage.
- 288 convictions under subsection (c1), which requires that drivers provide identifying information to the Division of Motor Vehicles or to the occupants of any other vehicles involved in the accident.

Under this bill, any driver involved in such accidents would, additionally, be prohibited from facilitating, allowing, or agreeing to the removal of the vehicle from the scene. Any passenger involved in such accidents would be prohibited from removing or facilitating in the removal of the vehicle from the scene and be required to remain at the scene until law enforcement completes an investigation. Because no data exists regarding how often this conduct occurs at present, it is not possible to project the number of convictions that would result from these new provisions.

Class H Felonies: If, for example, there were three additional convictions for Class H felonies per year, the combination of active sentences and probation revocations would result in the need for one additional prison bed the first year and two additional prison beds the second year. The average annual operating cost for one prison bed in FY 2006-07 will be an estimated $24,740.

Class 1 Misdemeanors: In FY 2003-04, 19 percent of Class 1 misdemeanants received active sentences, and the average estimated sentence length was 43 days. DOC reimburses the county for housing offenders sentenced to between thirty and ninety days at a rate of $18 per offender per day. Because active sentences of less than ninety days are served in county jails, Class 1 misdemeanor convictions resulting from this legislation are not expected to significantly impact prison population.

Non-Active Sentences: In FY 2003-04, 50 percent of Class H convictions resulted in intermediate sanctions and 13 percent in community sanctions; two percent of Class 1 misdemeanants received intermediate sanctions and 79 percent received community punishment. Probation officers in the Division of Community Correction (DCC) supervise offenders with intermediate sanctions at an estimated cost of $10.94 per day for the first six months and $1.87 per day thereafter. (This cost estimate is based on the average cost and duration of intensive probation, the most common intermediate sanction.) The estimated cost for a supervised community offender is $1.87 per day.

Judicial Branch

For most criminal penalty bills, the Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) provides Fiscal Research with an analysis of the fiscal impact of the specific bill. For these bills, fiscal impact is typically based on the assumption that court time will increase due to an expected increase in trials and a corresponding increase in the hours of work for judges, clerks, and prosecutors. This increased court time is also expected to result in greater expenditures for jury fees and indigent defense.

For calendar year 2004, AOC data indicates the following number of charges under G.S. 20-166:

- 608 charges for felony hit-and-run under G.S. 20-166 (a).
- 8,085 charges for misdemeanor hit-and-run under G.S. 20-166 (c).

AOC cannot estimate the number of new charges that would result from this legislation because data regarding the prevalence of the conduct that would be criminalized by this bill is not available. The cost to the Courts to process one felony or misdemeanor charge varies depending upon the method of settlement and the severity of the charge. AOC estimates the following costs to process one Class H felony and one Class 1 misdemeanor:

Table 1: Per Charge Settlement Costs

	Settled via Trial			Settled via Guilty Plea
Offense Class	Court/Attorney Costs	Indigent Defense	Total
Class H Felony	$4,511	$2,620	$7,131	$294
Class 1 Misdemeanor	$1,891	$1,333	$3,224	$284

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	June 14, 2005
Introduced by:	Rep. Faison	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith
Version:	First Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 514 would allow motions in civil actions to be heard in any superior court within a multicounty superior court district.

CURRENT LAW: Most superior court districts in North Carolina are made up of more than one county. See attached map. Each county has a court where actions may be filed. This court is where the file for each case is housed. Motions are heard in the court where the action has been filed.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Section 1 of House Bill 514 would amend the Rules of Civil Procedure to allow motions in civil actions to be heard in any of the superior courts within a superior court district, even if the action is pending in another county within that district. Motions could be heard in civil or criminal court. A party would not be able to object because the hearing is out of county.

Section 2 makes a conforming change to Rule 58.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act would become effective October 1, 2005, and apply to motions filed on or after that date.

Fact Sheet

- There are 45 Judicial Districts in the State of North Carolina
- 20 are single-county districts
- 25 are multi-county districts
- 72% of the multi-county districts are made up of 3 or less counties
- A judge is assigned to a judicial district for six months. More than one judge can be assigned to a district for the six-month term. Regardless of whether it is a single county district or a multi-county district, for six months the same judge (or judges) hear the cases in the district.
- Currently motions filed in a civil case in multi-county districts must be heard in the county where filed absent agreement by all of the lawyers in the cases and the judges to do otherwise.

- Cases filed in multi-county districts generally proceed slower because there are fewer opportunities to resolve disputed matters.

- People whose cases are pending in multi-county districts should have similar timely access to the judges serving in the district as people whose cases are filed in a single county district.

- H514, which is attached, is sponsored by the North Carolina Bar Association and is recommended by a panel of lawyers from both multi-county and single-county districts. H514 will give the people in multi-county districts equal access to the judges as people in single county districts.

HOUSE BILL 878:
Conference of Clerks of Superior Court

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	June 13, 2005

Version:	Second Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 878 would create the Conference of Clerks of Superior Court for the purpose of improving the administration of justice by coordinating the efforts of the various clerks, by assisting them in the administration of their offices, and by providing education and training programs for clerks and their staff. The bill is identical to a provision in Senate Bill 622, "2005 Appropriations Act"[1].

CURRENT LAW: Clerks of superior court may elect to become members of the North Carolina Association of Clerks of Superior Court, which is a voluntary organization that offers educational and training opportunities for clerks.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TERMINATING THE PARENTAL RIGHTS OF A PARENT WHO MURDERS THE OTHER PARENT OF THE CHILD.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 7B-1111(a)(8) reads as rewritten:

"(a) The court may terminate the parental rights upon a finding of one or more of the following:

...

(8) The parent has committed murder or voluntary manslaughter of another child of the parent or other child residing in the home; has aided, abetted, attempted, conspired, or solicited to commit murder or voluntary manslaughter of the child, another child of the parent, or other child residing in the home; ~~or~~ has committed a felony assault that results in serious bodily injury to the child, another child of the parent, or other child residing in the ~~home.~~home; or has committed murder or voluntary manslaughter of the other parent of the child. The petitioner has the burden of proving any of these offenses in the termination of parental rights hearing by (i) proving the elements of the offense or (ii) offering proof that a court of competent jurisdiction has convicted the parent of the offense, whether or not the conviction was by way of a jury verdict or any kind of ~~plea.~~ plea. If the parent has committed the murder or voluntary manslaughter of the other parent of the child, the court shall consider whether the murder or voluntary manslaughter was committed in self-defense or in the defense of others, or whether there was substantial evidence of other justification.

HOUSE BILL 97:
Term. Par. Rights/Murder of Parent by Parent

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	June 15, 2005
Introduced by:	Rep. Moore	Summary by:	Ben Popkin
Version:	Second Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 97 would allow a court to terminate the parental rights of a parent if the court finds that the parent has committed the murder or voluntary manslaughter of the other parent of the child. The bill would require the court to take into consideration during adjudication whether the murder or manslaughter of one parent by the other was committed in self-defense or in the defense of others or if there was substantial evidence of other justification.

CURRENT LAW: A termination of parental rights proceeding consists of two steps: adjudication and disposition. A court may terminate the parental rights upon a finding of one or more of the grounds set forth in G.S. 7B-1111(a), which governs the adjudication process. One of the grounds for termination includes a finding that the parent has committed murder or voluntary manslaughter of another child of the parent or other child living in the home; aided or attempted to commit murder or manslaughter of the child or of another child of the parent, or other child living in the home; or has committed a felony assault that resulted in a serious bodily injury to the child, another child of the parent, or other child living in the home. G.S. 7B-1110 provides that during the disposition stage of a termination of parental rights proceeding, a court shall issue an order terminating parental rights if it determines that any one or more of the grounds in G.S.7B-1111 exists unless the court further determines that the best interests of the child require that the parental rights not be terminated.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 97 would provide an additional ground upon which the court may terminate parental rights. The court could terminate parental rights if it finds that a parent has committed the murder or voluntary manslaughter of the other parent of the child and the petitioner proves the elements of the offense or offers proof that a court of competent jurisdiction has convicted the parent of the offense either by a jury verdict or some type of plea. However, the court would be required to consider whether the murder or manslaughter was committed in self-defense, defense of others or if there was substantial evidence of other justification.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill would become effective when it becomes law and would apply to termination of parental rights proceedings filed on or after that date.

Drupti Chauhan, counsel to House Judiciary II, substantially contributed to this summary.

HOUSE BILL 451:
Adoptive Families/DHHS/Crim. Checks.

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	June 16, 2005
Introduced by:	Reps. Glazier, Barnhart, Weiss	Summary by:	Robin Johnson
Version:	PCS to Second Edition H451-CSRH-43[v.1]		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 451 would amend the law that requires criminal history background checks for prospective adoptive parents to also require checks for any individual eighteen years of age or older who resides in the household of a prospective adoptive parent. The changes proposed in the bill are required in order for the State to continue to be eligible to receive federal funds to support child welfare.

The PCS would add a new Section 4 in order to expand the employees of the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) and other persons who may be required to undergo a criminal history background check checks.

CURRENT LAW: Current law requires that DHHS ensure that prospective adoptive parents are checked for county, State, and federal criminal histories prior to placement of a child in the prospective adoptive home in order to determine the person's fitness to have responsibility for the safety and well-being of a child. A copy of the relevant offenses used to determine a person's fitness to have responsibility for the safety and well-being of a child is attached.

Since 1996 State law has required that DHHS ensure all foster parents, individuals applying for licensure as foster parents, and individuals 18 years of age or older who reside in a family foster home, are checked for county, State, and federal criminal histories.

Current law allows for criminal history record checks for DHHS employees and applicants for employment with DHHS if the positions provide direct care for a DHHS client, patient, student, resident or ward. Criminal history record checks also may be required for supervisors of these positions.

BILL ANALYSIS: The bill would modify the existing law to also require a criminal history check for any individual eighteen years of age or older who resides in the household of a prospective adoptive parent. The bill also would allow DHHS to require criminal history checks for DHHS employees, applicants for employment with DHHS, independent contractors of DHHS and employees of these contractors, and persons approved to provide volunteer services for DHHS.

BACKGROUND: The changes proposed in the first three sections of the bill are required in order for the State to continue to be eligible to receive federal funds under Title IV-B of the Social Security Act to support child welfare services. The federal Keeping Children and Families Safe Act enacted in 2003 amended the Child Abuse Prevention and Treatment Act of 1974 (CAPTA) to require that in order to continue to be eligible for federal funds, that a state must certify that no later than June 25, 2005, it has implemented provisions and procedures for requiring criminal background checks for prospective foster and adoptive parents and other adult relatives and non-relatives residing in the household. Department staff reported that the following funds were allocated to the State in fiscal year 2003-2004 under Title IV-B and CAPTA: $8,577,519 under IV-B-1 (25% match required); $10,193,782 under IV-B-2 (25% match required); and $559,540 under CAPTA (no match required).

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act would become effective June 25, 2005.

Relevant Criminal Offenses as included in G.S. 48-3-309:

"Criminal history" means a county, state, or federal criminal history of conviction or a pending indictment of a crime, whether a misdemeanor or a felony, that bears upon an individual's fitness to have responsibility for the safety and well-being of children, including the following North Carolina crimes contained in any of the following Articles of Chapter 14 of the General Statutes: Article 6, Homicide; Article 7A, Rape and Kindred Offenses; Article 8, Assaults; Article 10, Kidnapping and Abduction; Article 13, Malicious Injury or Damage by Use of Explosive or Incendiary Device or Material; Article 26, Offenses Against Public Morality and Decency; Article 27, Prostitution; Article 39, Protection of Minors; Article 40, Protection of the Family; and Article 59, Public Intoxication; violation of the North Carolina Controlled Substances Act, Article 5 of Chapter 90 of the General Statutes, and alcohol-related offenses such as sale to underage persons in violation of G.S. 18B-302 or driving while impaired in violation of G.S. 20-138.1 through G.S. 20-138.5; or similar crimes under federal law or under the laws of other states. Your fingerprints will be used to check the criminal history records of the State Bureau of Investigation (SBI) and the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI).

BILL SUMMARY: This bill would amend G.S. 48-3-309 and G.S. 48-3-303 (Chapter 48 Adoptions) and G.S. 114-19.7 (Chapter 114 Department of Justice) to require mandatory pre-placement criminal checks and related forms and fingerprinting for individuals eighteen years of age or older who reside in prospective adoptive homes. The bill would also make it a Class 2 misdemeanor for any person (previously, just prospective adoptive parents) to intentionally falsify information that must be furnished to conduct criminal histories. (Source: Adapted from Administrative Office of the Courts, Research and Planning, 3/28/2005)

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

General

Data regarding the number of offenders convicted of intentionally falsifying information furnished in relation to a criminal history check prior to adoption is unavailable because the Administrative Office of the Courts does not maintain a specific offense code for violations under G.S. 48-3-309. The lack of an offense code is some indication that the offense is infrequently charged and rarely results in convictions. Consequently, expanding the criminal penalty for falsifying information to new individuals is not expected to result in a substantial fiscal impact.

The Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission prepares prison population projections for each criminal penalty bill. The Commission assumes for each bill that increasing criminal penalties does not have a deterrent or incapacitative effect on crime. Therefore, the Fiscal Research Division does not assume savings due to deterrent effects for this bill or any criminal penalty bill.

Department of Health and Human Services

The Department of Health and Human Services requires fingerprinting of adoptive parents for children adopted out of county Departments of Social Services custody. The fingerprints are used to conduct background checks on the prospective parents. During State fiscal year 2002-2003, 1,233 adoption applicants were fingerprinted. The Division of Social Services, Department of Health and Human Services, estimates that the prospective applicants made up 733 households (500 couples and 233 individuals) and that potentially half of these households included one adult relative or non-relative. This would require fingerprinting for an additional 367 people. Based on an established contract, the Department of Justice charges the Division of Social Services $24 each time an adoptive parent is fingerprinted for a background check. The requirement for 367 additional background checks with fingerprinting creates an additional cost for the Division of Social Services of $8,808.

Department of Justice

The Department of Justice (DOJ) provides state and national criminal background checks to non-criminal justice agencies and charges a fee to cover its costs. For a state and national check, DOJ charges $38, of which $22 is remitted to the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). For adoptive and foster parents, the fee for the state background check ($14) is waived, and the General Fund supports these background checks.

This bill would increase the number of background checks conducted by DOJ for which it is not fully reimbursed. For each background check conducted, DOJ would incur costs, on average, of $16.33.[1] In FY 2003-04, there were 1,233 background checks conducted on prospective adoptive parents. If, for example, 367 additional background checks were required (see DHHS section for methodology), the internal cost to DOJ would be $5,993, and payments from DHHS would total $734. In addition, DOJ would collect $8,074 to remit to the FBI.

Each employee can process an average of nearly 10,000 background checks (criminal justice and non-criminal justice) per year. DOJ currently has the capacity to perform some additional background checks without increasing the number of positions. However, DOJ has stated that increased workload may affect turnaround time.

Department of Correction

The Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission prepares inmate population projections annually. The projections used for incarceration fiscal notes are based on January 2005 projections. These projections are based on historical information on incarceration and release rates under Structured Sentencing, crime rate forecasts by a technical advisory group, probation and revocation rates, and the decline (parole and maxouts) of the stock prison population sentenced under previous sentencing acts. Based on the most recent population projections and estimated available prison bed capacity, there are no surplus prison beds available for the five-year fiscal note horizon and beyond.

Because AOC does not maintain a specific offense code for violations under G.S. 48-3-309, no data is available on the number of convictions in the past for intentionally falsifying information necessary to conduct a criminal history check prior to adoption. Due also to lack of historical data, the number of additional convictions that might occur as a result of the new background checks required by this bill cannot be estimated.

- In FY 2003-04, 15 percent of Class 2 misdemeanors resulted in active sentences and the average active sentence length was 23 days. Offenders with active sentences of less than thirty days are housed in county jails at county expense.
- The remaining 85 percent of Class 2 misdemeanants received non-active sentences. For those offenders sentenced to supervised probation, the Division of Community Correction (DCC) would incur costs of $1.87 per offender per day. Offenders sentenced to community service would cost $0.67 per offender per day, and offenders given unsupervised probation would not impact DCC.

Because Class 2 misdemeanants serving active time as a result of this bill would be housed in county jails, this legislation would not impact prison population.

Judicial Branch

For most criminal penalty bills, the Administrative Office of the Courts provides Fiscal Research with an analysis of the fiscal impact of the specific bill. For these bills, fiscal impact is typically based on the assumption that court time will increase due to an expected increase in trials and a corresponding increase in the hours of work for judges, clerks and prosecutors. This increased court time is also expected to result in greater expenditures for jury fees and indigent defense.

Because AOC does not maintain a specific offense code for violations under G.S. 38-3-309, no data is available regarding the number of charges currently processed by the Courts for falsifying information furnished in relation to a criminal history check prior to adoption. Of the additional background checks that would occur under this bill, it is not possible to estimate the number that would result in charges for intentionally falsifying information provided to conduct the criminal history check.

Based on the costs of time in court, attorney preparation time, and indigent defense, the average estimated cost to process one Class 2 misdemeanor is $2,314 per trial and $271 per guilty plea. The trial cost includes an estimated $1,365 in jury fees, costs of time in court, and attorney costs and an additional $949 in indigent defense. Based on prior-year data, the majority of any new Class 2 misdemeanor charges that are not dismissed are likely to be settled by plea.

TECHNICAL CONSIDERATIONS: This bill would become effective June 24, 2005. Traditionally, most bills with criminal penalties become effective on December 1. This date has been used to give the criminal justice system time to change their operating systems to accommodate criminal penalty changes and to inform and train attorneys and judges of those changes. There is typically a delay of six months between charging and sentencing an offender. The NC Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission population projections assume a December 1 effective date, and thus are based on changes in population starting the second year. The expenditures and savings calculated by Fiscal Research use these projections and, thus, assume that the legislation will not impact the prison system until the beginning of 2006-07. If the bill becomes effective prior to December 1, there could be an impact on local jails or the prison system in the 2004-05 fiscal year.

HOUSE BILL 1319

Committee Substitute Favorable 5/4/05

Short Title: Amend Family Law Arbitration Act. (Public)

Referred to:

April 20, 2005

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO AMEND VARIOUS PROVISIONS UNDER THE FAMILY LAW ARBITRATION ACT.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 50-41 reads as rewritten:

"§ 50-41. Purpose; short ~~title.~~title; rules on waivers.

(a) It is the policy of this State to allow, by agreement of all parties, the arbitration of all issues arising from a marital separation or divorce, except for the divorce itself, while preserving a right of modification based on substantial change of circumstances related to alimony, child custody, and child support. Pursuant to this policy, the purpose of this Article is to provide for arbitration as an efficient and speedy means of resolving these disputes, consistent with Chapters 50, 50A, 50B, 51, 52, 52B, and 52C of the General Statutes and similar legislation, to provide default rules for the conduct of arbitration proceedings, and to assure access to the courts of this State for proceedings ancillary to this arbitration.

(b) This Article may be cited as the North Carolina Family Law Arbitration Act.

(c) Except as otherwise provided in subsections (d) and (e) of this section or in this Article, a party to an agreement to arbitrate or an arbitration proceeding may waive, or the parties may vary the effect of, the requirements of this Article, in writing, to the extent provided by law.

(d) Before a controversy arises that is subject to an agreement to arbitrate, a party to the agreement may not:

(1) Waive or agree to vary the effect of the requirements of G.S. 50-42(a) or (b), 50-49(a), (b), or (c), 50-58, or 50-59.

(2) Agree to unreasonably restrict the right to notice of the initiation of an arbitration proceeding under G.S. 50-42(c) or (d).

(3) Agree to unreasonably restrict the right to disclosure of any facts by a neutral arbitrator under G.S. 50-45(h) through (m).

(e) Except as otherwise provided in this Article, a party to an agreement to arbitrate or an arbitration proceeding may not waive, or the parties shall not vary the effect of, the requirements of this section or G.S. 50-43, 50-45(f), 50-52 through 50-57, or 50-60 through 50-62.

(f) Any waiver contrary to this section shall not be effective but shall not have the effect of voiding the agreement to arbitrate."

SECTION 2. G.S. 50-42 reads as rewritten:

"§ 50-42. Arbitration agreements made valid, irrevocable, and ~~enforceable.~~enforceable; notice standards.

(a) During, or after marriage, parties may agree in writing to submit to arbitration any controversy, except for the divorce itself, arising out of the marital relationship. Before marriage, parties may agree in writing to submit to arbitration any controversy, except for child support, child custody, or the divorce itself, arising out of the marital relationship. This agreement is valid, enforceable, and irrevocable except with both parties' consent, without regard to the justiciable character of the controversy and without regard to whether litigation is pending as to the controversy.

(b) This Article does not apply to an agreement to arbitrate in which a provision stipulates that this Article does not apply or to any arbitration or award under an agreement in which a provision stipulates that this Article does not apply.

(c) A person initiates an arbitration proceeding by giving written notice to the other parties to the agreement to arbitrate in the manner in which the parties have agreed or, in the absence of agreement, by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested, or by service as authorized for the commencement of a civil action pursuant to the North Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure.

(d) Unless a person objects for lack of sufficiency of notice in accordance with G.S. 50-47(1) no later than the beginning of the arbitration hearing, the person, by appearing at the hearing, waives any objection to lack or insufficiency of notice.

(e) Except as otherwise provided in this Article, a person gives notice to another person by taking action that is reasonably necessary to inform the other person in the ordinary course of business, regardless of whether the person acquires knowledge of the notice.

(f) A person is given notice if the person has knowledge of the notice or has received notice.

(g) A person gives actual notice when it comes to the person's attention or the notice is delivered at the person's place of residence or place of business or at another location held out by the person as a place of delivery of communications."

SECTION 3. G.S. 50-43(b) reads as rewritten:

"(b) Upon the application of a party, the court may stay an arbitration proceeding commenced or threatened on a showing that there is no agreement to arbitrate. This issue, when in substantial and bona fide dispute, shall be immediately and summarily tried and the court shall order a stay if it finds for the moving party. If the court finds for the opposing party, the court shall order the parties to go to arbitration. An arbitrator shall decide whether a condition precedent to arbitrability has been fulfilled and whether a contract containing a valid agreement to arbitrate is enforceable. If a party to a judicial proceeding challenges the existence of, or claims that a controversy is not subject to, an agreement to arbitrate, the arbitration proceeding may continue pending final resolution of the issue by the court unless the court otherwise orders."

SECTION 4. G.S. 50-44 is amended by adding the following new subsection to read:

"(j) A party does not waive the right to arbitrate by proceeding under this section."

SECTION 5. G.S. 50-45 reads as rewritten:

"§ 50-45. Appointment of arbitrators; rules for conducting the ~~arbitration.~~arbitration; disclosure.

(a) Unless the parties ~~agree otherwise,~~otherwise agree in writing, a single arbitrator shall be chosen by the parties to arbitrate all matters in dispute.

(b) If the arbitration agreement provides a method of appointment of arbitrators, this method shall be followed. The agreement may provide for appointing one or more arbitrators. Upon the application of a party, the court shall appoint arbitrators in any of the following situations:

(1) The method agreed upon by the parties in the arbitration agreement fails or for any reason cannot be followed.

(2) An arbitrator who has already been appointed fails or is unable to act, and a successor has not been chosen by the parties.

(3) The parties cannot agree on an arbitrator.

(c) Arbitrators appointed by the court have all the powers of those arbitrators specifically named in the agreement. In appointing arbitrators, a court shall consult with prospective arbitrators as to their availability and shall refer to each of the following:

(1) The positions and desires of the parties.

(2) The issues in dispute.

(3) The skill, substantive training, and experience of prospective arbitrators in those issues, including their skill, substantive training, and experience in family law issues.

(4) The availability of prospective arbitrators.

(d) The parties may agree in writing to employ an established arbitration institution to conduct the arbitration. If the agreement does not provide a method for appointment of arbitrators and the parties cannot agree on an arbitrator, the court may appoint an established arbitration institution the court considers qualified in family law arbitration to conduct the arbitration.

(e) The parties may agree in writing on rules for conducting the arbitration. If the parties cannot agree on rules for conducting the arbitration, the arbitrators shall select the rules for conducting the arbitration after hearing all parties and taking particular reference to model rules developed by arbitration institutions or similar sources. If the arbitrators cannot decide on rules for conducting the arbitration, upon application by a party, the court may order use of rules for conducting the arbitration, taking particular reference to model rules developed by arbitration institutions or similar sources.

(f) Arbitrators and established arbitration institutions, whether chosen by the parties or appointed by the court, have the same immunity as judges from civil liability for their conduct in the arbitration.

(g) "Arbitration institution" means any neutral, independent organization, association, agency, board, or commission that initiates, sponsors, or administers arbitration proceedings, including involvement in appointment of arbitrators.

(g1) Before accepting appointment, an individual who is requested to serve as an arbitrator, after making a reasonable inquiry, shall disclose to all parties to the agreement to arbitrate and to the arbitration proceeding and to any other arbitrators any known facts that a reasonable person would consider likely to affect the impartiality of the arbitrator in the arbitration proceeding, including:

(1) A financial or personal interest in the outcome of the arbitration proceeding.

(2) An existing or past relationship with any of the parties to the agreement to arbitrate or to the arbitration proceeding, their counsel or representatives, a witness, or other arbitrators.

(g2) An arbitrator has a continuing obligation to disclose to all parties to the agreement to arbitrate and to the arbitration proceeding and to any other arbitrators any facts that the arbitrator learns after accepting appointment that a reasonable person would consider likely to affect the impartiality of the arbitrator.

(g3) If an arbitrator discloses a fact required by subsection (g1) or (g2) of this section to be disclosed and a party timely objects to the appointment or continued service of the arbitrator based upon the fact disclosed, the objection may be grounds for vacating an award made by the arbitrator under G.S. 50-54(a)(2).

(g4) If the arbitrator did not disclose a fact as required by subsection (g1) or (g2) of this section, upon timely objection by a party, the court may vacate an award pursuant to G.S. 50-54(a)(2).

(g5) An arbitrator appointed as a neutral arbitrator who does not disclose a known, direct, and material interest in the outcome of the arbitration proceeding or a known, existing, and substantial relationship with a party is presumed to act with evident partiality under G.S. 50-54(a)(2).

(g6) If the parties to an arbitration proceeding agree to the procedures of an arbitration institution or any other procedures for challenges to arbitrators before an award is made, substantial compliance with those procedures is a condition precedent to a motion to vacate an award on those grounds pursuant to G.S. 50-54(a)(2).

(h) The court may award costs, as provided in G.S. 50-51(f), in connection with applications and other proceedings under this section."

SECTION 6. G.S. 50-46 reads as rewritten:

"§ 50-46. Majority action by arbitrators.

The arbitrators' powers shall be exercised by a majority unless otherwise provided by the parties' written arbitration agreement or this Article."

SECTION 7. G.S. 50-47 reads as rewritten:

"§ 50-47. Hearing.

Unless otherwise provided by the parties' written agreement:

(1) The arbitrators shall appoint a time and place for the hearing and notify the parties or their counsel by personal service or by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, not less than five days before the hearing. Appearance at the hearing waives any claim of deficiency of notice. The arbitrators may adjourn the hearing from time to time as necessary and, on request of a party and for good cause shown, or upon their own motion, may postpone the hearing to a time not later than the date fixed by the written agreement for making the award unless the parties consent to a later date. The arbitrators may hear and determine the controversy upon the evidence produced notwithstanding the failure of a party duly notified to appear. Upon application of a party, the court may direct the arbitrators to proceed promptly with the hearing and determination of the controversy.

(2) The parties are entitled to be heard, to present evidence material to the controversy, and to cross-examine witnesses appearing at the hearing.

(3) All the arbitrators shall conduct the hearing, but a majority may determine any question and may render a final award. If, during the course of the hearing, an arbitrator for any reason ceases to act, the remaining arbitrators appointed to act as neutrals may continue with the hearing and determination of the controversy.

(4) Upon request of any party or at the election of any arbitrator, the arbitrators shall cause to be made a record of testimony and evidence introduced at the hearing. The arbitrators shall decide how the cost of the record will be apportioned."

SECTION 8. G.S. 50-50 is repealed.

SECTION 9. Article 3 of Chapter 50 of the General Statutes is amended by adding the following new section to read:

"§ 50-50.1. Consolidation.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (c) of this section, upon motion of a party to an agreement or arbitration proceeding, the court may order consolidation of separate arbitration proceedings as to all or some of the claims if all of the following apply:

(1) There are separate agreements to arbitrate or separate arbitration proceedings between the same parties or one of them is a party to a separate agreement to arbitrate or a separate arbitration with a third party.

(2) The claims subject to the agreements to arbitrate arise in substantial part from the same transaction or series of related transactions.

(3) The existence of a common issue of law or fact creates the possibility of conflicting decisions in the separate arbitration proceedings.

(4) Prejudice resulting from a failure to consolidate is not outweighed by the risk of undue delay or prejudice to the rights of or hardship to parties opposing consolidation.

(b) The court may order consolidation of separate arbitration proceedings as to some claims and allow other claims to be resolved in separate arbitration proceedings.

(c) The court shall not order consolidation of the claims of a party to an agreement to arbitrate if the agreement prohibits consolidation."

SECTION 10. G.S. 50-51 reads as rewritten:

"§ 50-51. Award; costs.

(a) The award shall be in writing, dated and signed by the arbitrators joining in the award, with a statement of the place where the arbitration was conducted and the place where the award was made. Where there is more than one arbitrator, the signatures of a majority of the arbitrators suffice, but the reason for any omitted signature shall be stated. The arbitrators shall deliver a copy of the award to each party personally or by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, or as provided in the parties' written agreement. Time of delivery shall be computed from the date of personal delivery or date of mailing.

(b) Unless the parties ~~agree otherwise,~~otherwise agree in writing, the award shall state the reasons upon which it is based.

(c) Unless the parties ~~agree otherwise,~~otherwise agree in writing, the arbitrators may award interest as provided by law.

(d) The arbitrators in their discretion may award specific performance to a party requesting an award of specific performance when that would be an appropriate remedy.

(e) Unless the parties ~~agree otherwise,~~otherwise agree in writing, the arbitrators may not award punitive damages. If arbitrators award punitive damages, they shall state the award in a record and shall specify facts justifying the award and the amount of the award attributable to punitive damages.

(f) Costs:

(1) Unless the parties ~~otherwise agree,~~otherwise agree in writing, awarding of costs of an arbitration shall be in the arbitrators' discretion.

(2) In making an award of costs, the arbitrators may include any or all of the following as costs:

a. Fees and expenses of the arbitrators, expert witnesses, and translators;

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Article 3 of Chapter 50 of the General Statutes is amended by adding two new sections to read:

"§ 50-42.1 Nonwaivable provisions.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in subsections (b) and (c) of this section or in this Article, a party to an agreement to arbitrate or an arbitration proceeding may waive, or the parties may vary the effect of, the requirements of this Article to the extent provided by law. Any waiver or agreement must be in writing.

(b) Before a controversy arises that is subject to an agreement to arbitrate, a party to the agreement may not:

(1) Waive or agree to vary the effect of the requirements of G.S. 50-42, 50-49(a), (b), or (c), 50-58, or 50-59.

(2) Agree to unreasonably restrict the right to notice of the initiation of an arbitration proceeding under G.S. 50-42.2(a) or (b).

(3) Agree to unreasonably restrict the right to disclosure of any facts by a neutral arbitrator under G.S. 50-45.1.

(c) Except as otherwise provided in this Article, a party to an agreement to arbitrate or an arbitration proceeding may not waive, or the parties shall not vary the effect of, the requirements of this section or G.S. 50-43, 50-45(f), 50-52 through 50-57, or 50-60 through 50-62.

(d) Any waiver contrary to this section shall not be effective but shall not have the effect of voiding the agreement to arbitrate.

"§ 50-42.2 Notice.

(a) A person initiates an arbitration proceeding by giving written notice to the other parties to the agreement to arbitrate in the manner in which the parties have agreed or, in the absence of agreement, by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested, or by service as authorized for the commencement of a civil action under the North Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure.

(b) A person waives any objection to lack or insufficiency of notice if the person appears at the arbitration hearing, unless the person objects no later than the beginning of the arbitration hearing.

(c) Except as otherwise provided in this Article, a person gives notice to another person by taking action that is reasonably necessary to inform the other person in the ordinary course of business, regardless of whether the person acquires knowledge of the notice.

(d) A person is given notice if the person has knowledge of the notice or has received notice.

(e) A person gives actual notice when it comes to the person's attention or the notice is delivered at the person's place of residence or place of business or at another location held out by the person as a place of delivery of communications."

SECTION 2. G.S. 50-43(b) reads as rewritten:

"(b) Upon the application of a party, the court may stay an arbitration proceeding commenced or threatened on a showing that there is no agreement to arbitrate. This issue, when in substantial and bona fide dispute, shall be immediately and summarily tried and the court shall order a stay if it finds for the moving party. If the court finds for the opposing party, the court shall order the parties to go to arbitration. An arbitrator shall decide whether a condition precedent to arbitrability has been fulfilled and whether a contract containing a valid agreement to arbitrate is enforceable. If a party to a judicial proceeding challenges the existence of, or claims that a controversy is not subject to, an agreement to arbitrate, the arbitration proceeding may continue pending final resolution of the issue by the court unless the court otherwise orders."

SECTION 3. G.S. 50-44 is amended by adding the following new subsection to read:

"(j) A party does not waive the right to arbitrate by proceeding under this section."

SECTION 4. G.S. 50-45 reads as rewritten:

"§ 50-45. Appointment of arbitrators; rules for conducting the arbitration.

(a) Unless the parties ~~agree otherwise,~~otherwise agree in writing, a single arbitrator shall be chosen by the parties to arbitrate all matters in dispute.

(b) If the arbitration agreement provides a method of appointment of arbitrators, this method shall be followed. The agreement may provide for appointing one or more arbitrators. Upon the application of a party, the court shall appoint arbitrators in any of the following situations:

(1) The method agreed upon by the parties in the arbitration agreement fails or for any reason cannot be followed.

(2) An arbitrator who has already been appointed fails or is unable to act, and a successor has not been chosen by the parties.

(3) The parties cannot agree on an arbitrator.

(c) Arbitrators appointed by the court have all the powers of those arbitrators specifically named in the agreement. In appointing arbitrators, a court shall consult with prospective arbitrators as to their availability and shall refer to each of the following:

(1) The positions and desires of the parties.

(2) The issues in dispute.

(3) The skill, substantive training, and experience of prospective arbitrators in those issues, including their skill, substantive training, and experience in family law issues.

(4) The availability of prospective arbitrators.

(d) The parties may agree in writing to employ an established arbitration institution to conduct the arbitration. If the agreement does not provide a method for appointment of arbitrators and the parties cannot agree on an arbitrator, the court may appoint an established arbitration institution the court considers qualified in family law arbitration to conduct the arbitration.

(e) The parties may agree in writing on rules for conducting the arbitration. If the parties cannot agree on rules for conducting the arbitration, the arbitrators shall select the rules for conducting the arbitration after hearing all parties and taking particular reference to model rules developed by arbitration institutions or similar sources. If the arbitrators cannot decide on rules for conducting the arbitration, upon application by a party, the court may order use of rules for conducting the arbitration, taking particular reference to model rules developed by arbitration institutions or similar sources.

(f) Arbitrators and established arbitration institutions, whether chosen by the parties or appointed by the court, have the same immunity as judges from civil liability for their conduct in the arbitration.

(g) "Arbitration institution" means any neutral, independent organization, association, agency, board, or commission that initiates, sponsors, or administers arbitration proceedings, including involvement in appointment of arbitrators.

(a) Before accepting appointment, an individual who is requested to serve as an arbitrator, after making a reasonable inquiry, shall disclose to all parties to the agreement to arbitrate and to the arbitration proceeding and to any other arbitrators any known facts that a reasonable person would consider likely to affect the impartiality of the arbitrator in the arbitration proceeding, including:

(1) A financial or personal interest in the outcome of the arbitration proceeding.

(2) An existing or past relationship with any of the parties to the agreement to arbitrate or to the arbitration proceeding, their counsel or representatives, a witness, or other arbitrators.

(b) An arbitrator has a continuing obligation to disclose to all parties to the agreement to arbitrate and to the arbitration proceeding and to any other arbitrators any facts that the arbitrator learns after accepting appointment that a reasonable person would consider likely to affect the impartiality of the arbitrator.

(c) If an arbitrator discloses a fact required by subsection (a) or (b) of this section to be disclosed and a party timely objects to the appointment or continued service of the arbitrator based upon the fact disclosed, the objection may be grounds for vacating an award made by the arbitrator under G.S. 50-54(a)(2).

(d) If the arbitrator did not disclose a fact as required by subsection (a) or (b) of this section, upon timely objection by a party, the court may vacate an award pursuant to G.S. 50-54(a)(2).

(e) An arbitrator appointed as a neutral arbitrator who does not disclose a known, direct, and material interest in the outcome of the arbitration proceeding or a known, existing, and substantial relationship with a party is presumed to act with evident partiality under G.S. 50-54(a)(2).

(f) If the parties to an arbitration proceeding agree to the procedures of an arbitration institution or any other procedures for challenges to arbitrators before an award is made, substantial compliance with those procedures is a condition precedent to a motion to vacate an award on those grounds pursuant to G.S. 50-54(a)(2)."

SECTION 6. G.S. 50-46 reads as rewritten:

"§ 50-46. Majority action by arbitrators.

The arbitrators may adjourn the hearing from time to time as necessary and, on request of a party and for good cause shown, or upon their own motion, may postpone the hearing to a time not later than the date fixed by the written agreement for making the award unless the parties consent to a later date. The arbitrators may hear and determine the controversy upon the evidence produced notwithstanding the failure of a party duly notified to appear. Upon application of a party, the court may direct the arbitrators to proceed promptly with the hearing and determination of the controversy.

(2) The parties are entitled to be heard, to present evidence material to the controversy, and to cross-examine witnesses appearing at the hearing.

(3) All the arbitrators shall conduct the hearing, but a majority may determine any question and may render a final award. If, during the

(2) The claims subject to the agreements to arbitrate arise in substantial part from the same transaction or series of related transactions.

(3) The existence of a common issue of law or fact creates the possibility of conflicting decisions in the separate arbitration proceedings.

(4) Prejudice resulting from a failure to consolidate is not outweighed by the risk of undue delay or prejudice to the rights of or hardship to parties opposing consolidation.

(b) The court may order consolidation of separate arbitration proceedings as to some claims and allow other claims to be resolved in separate arbitration proceedings.

(c) The court shall not order consolidation of the claims of a party to an agreement to arbitrate if the agreement prohibits consolidation."

HOUSE BILL 1319:
Amend Family Law Arbitration Act

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	June 16, 2005
Introduced by:	Reps. Hackney, Goodwin	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith
Version:	PCS to Second Edition H1319-CSRC-64		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 1319 amends various provisions of the Family Law Arbitration Act. The changes are intended to make the Family Law Arbitration Act conform to the Revised Uniform Arbitration Act, which the General Assembly enacted in 2003.

BILL ANALYSIS: Throughout the bill, several phrases are made to provide that variations from the terms of the Act must be in writing. Those sections are not summarized below.

Section 1 creates two new sections.

G.S. 50-42.1 governs which provisions of the Act may not be waived by the parties, or may only be waived at certain points in life of the agreement. Prior to a controversy, parties are not permitted to (i) waive the types of matters that may be the subject of an agreement to arbitrate, (ii) unreasonably restrict the right to notice of the initiation of an arbitration, or (iii) unreasonable restrict the right to a disclosure by the arbitrator of any material facts that could affect the arbitrator's impartiality. Parties are prohibited from waiving the following, regardless of when the waiver would occur: (i) the ability of a party to request certain relief from a court, (ii) judicial immunity for arbitrators, (iii) an arbitrator's authority to change an award under certain circumstances, (iv) the ability of a party to have an award confirmed, vacated, modified, corrected and docketed, and (v) the ability of a party to appeal certain aspects of the arbitration. This section also provides that any waiver contrary to the provisions shall not be effective and shall have the effect of voiding the agreement to arbitrate.

G.S. 50-42.1 creates the standards for notice for initiating an arbitration proceeding. Notice must be given as provided in the agreement, or in the absence of agreement, by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested, or by service under the rules of civil procedure. A person's appearance at the hearing waives any objection to lack of or insufficiency of notice unless they object no later than the beginning of the hearing.

Section 2 Section 3 allows an arbitration proceeding to continue pending a courts determination of whether an arbitration agreement exists, or whether an issue is subject to arbitration, unless the court orders otherwise.

Section 3 provides that a person does not waive the right to arbitrate by seeking preliminary relief from the court.

Section 5 creates a new section, G.S. 50-45.1 regarding the interests or relationships that a person requested to serve as an arbitrator, or serving as an arbitrator, must disclose, including any known facts that a reasonable person would consider likely to affect the impartiality of the arbitrator in the proceeding. Failure by the arbitrator to make the disclosure may be grounds for vacating an award.

Section 8 repeals G.S. 50-50. This statute governs consolidation or arbitrations.

Section 9 creates a new G.S. 50-50A which permits the court to order consolidation of separate arbitration agreements under certain circumstances.

Section 10 requires the arbitrator's award to state the place where the arbitration was conducted and also allows the parties to agree that fees and expenses of counsel will not be included in the award.

Section 11 provides that the arbitrator may modify or correct the award on certain grounds if the arbitrators had not made a final and definite award upon a claim submitted by the parties to the arbitration proceeding, or to clarify the award.

Section 15 allows a court to seal all or part of an arbitration award, or court order relating to the arbitration, upon good cause shown.

Section 17 defines "person" as an individual, corporation, business trust, estate, trust, partnership, limited liability company, association, joint venture, government, governmental subdivision, agency or instrumentality, public corporation, or any other legal or commercial entity.

Section 19 provides that the Family Law Arbitration Act conforms to the Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act becomes effective October 1, 2005, and applies to agreements made on or after that date. It also applies to agreements to arbitrate made before October 1, 2005 if all parties to the agreement or to the arbitration proceeding agree the act applies.

BACKGROUND: This bill is a recommendation of the Family Law section of the North Carolina Bar Association.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT REQUIRING COMPANY POLICE AGENCIES TO NOTIFY THE CITY OF WINSTON-SALEM POLICE DEPARTMENT WHEN THEY ARE PROVIDING ON-SITE POLICE SECURITY PERSONNEL SERVICES WITHIN THE DEPARTMENT'S JURISDICTION AND TO PROVIDE THE DEPARTMENT WITH CERTAIN INFORMATION ON ARRESTS MADE BY THE AGENCIES.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 74E-13 is amended by adding the following new subsection to read:

"(d) Prior to the provision of services, a company police agency certified under this Chapter shall notify the Winston-Salem Police Department that it is providing on-site police security personnel services for persons or property within the Police Department's territorial jurisdiction. The notification shall be in writing and shall include the names of the companies or individuals receiving services, the physical locations where services will be provided, and the beginning and ending dates for the contracts for each location.

Within 48 hours of any arrest made by a company police officer within the Winston-Salem Police Department's territorial jurisdiction, the agency shall provide to the Police Department the following information:

(1) The name and address of the individual arrested;

(2) The offense for which the individual was arrested; and

(3) The date and location of the offense.

As used in this act, the term 'territorial jurisdiction' includes the Winston-Salem Police Department's jurisdiction as defined in G.S. 160A-286."

SECTION 2. This act applies only to the City of Winston-Salem and company police agencies providing on-site police security personnel services for persons or property within the territorial jurisdiction of the Winston-Salem Police Department.

SECTION 3. This act becomes effective July 1, 2005. It applies to all contracts for services existing on or commencing after the effective date and to arrests made on or after the effective date.

HOUSE BILL 345:
Winston-Salem Police

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Introduced by:	Rep. Womble
Date:	June 21, 2005	Summary by:	Kory J. Goldsmith
Version:	2nd Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 345 is a local act that would require company police agencies providing on-site personnel services in Winston-Salem and within the 1-mile area surrounding the city's corporate limits to notify the Winston-Salem Police Department prior to providing those services. The notification would include the name of the company or individual receiving services, the location where services will be provided, and the length of each service contract. The company police agency would also be required to provide certain information to the Police Department within 48 hours of any arrest made by the agency. That information would include: the name and address of the person arrested, the offense, and the date and location of the offense.

The act would only apply to the City of Winston-Salem and company police agencies providing on-site personnel services within one mile of the city's corporate limits.

The act would become effective July 1, 2005, and apply to existing contracts and new contracts, and to offenses occurring on or after the effective date.

CURRENT LAW: Company police agencies are licensed and regulated by the Attorney General under Chapter 74E of the General Statutes. The companies must maintain liability insurance. Company police officers are sworn law enforcement officers. During the performance of their duties of employment, they have the same powers as municipal and county police officers to make arrests for both felonies and misdemeanors and may charge for infractions occurring in the following locations:

- Real property owned or in the possession and control of their employer;
- Real property owned or in the possession and control of a person who has contracted with their employer for on-site company police security personnel services; and
- Any other real property while in continuous and immediate pursuit of a person for an offense committed on the property described above.

If authorized by a superior officer, company police officers may carry concealed weapons. A violation of any of the provisions of Chapter 74E by any person, firm, association, or corporation, or their agents and employees is a Class 1 misdemeanor. The presumptive minimum sentence for a Class 1 misdemeanor for a person with no prior convictions is 1-45 days of community punishment.

City police departments have jurisdiction to arrest and have all the other powers invested in law enforcement officers both within the city's corporate limits and for up to one mile beyond the corporate limits of the city. G.S. 15A-402 and G.S. 160A-286.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 345 would require a company police agency to notify the Winston-Salem Police Department (Police Department) prior to providing on-site police security personnel services within the Police Department's jurisdiction. The notification would include the names of the companies or persons receiving services, the physical locations where services are being provided, and the start and end dates of the contracts for those services. The company police agency would also be required to provide the Police Department within 48 hours of making an arrest the following information: the name and address of the individual arrested, the offense, and the date and location of the offense.

Failure to comply with the provisions of this act would be a Class 1 misdemeanor. Class 1 misdemeanors are punishable by 1-45 days of community punishment if the defendant has no prior convictions.

This fiscal analysis is independent of the impact of other criminal penalty bills being considered by the General Assembly, which could also increase the projected prison population and thus the availability of prison beds in future years. The Fiscal Research Division is tracking the cumulative effect of all criminal penalty bills on the prison system as well as the Judicial Department.*

BILL SUMMARY: HB 345 would require company police agencies providing on-site personnel services in Winston-Salem and within the 1-mile area surrounding the city's corporate limits to notify the Winston-Salem Police Department prior to providing those services. The notification must include the name of the company or individual receiving services, the location where services will be provided, and the length of each service contract. The company police agency must also provide the following information to the Police Department within 48 hours of any arrest made by the agency: the name and address of the person arrested, the offense, and the date and location of the offense.[1]

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

General

Assuming that at least one charge would result from this legislation, there would be a fiscal impact associated with the bill. However, a violation under this bill would arise only if a company police agency certified under existing Chapter 74E failed to adhere to the new notification requirements outlined in this legislation. To the extent that the police agencies regulated by this bill are already complying with Chapter 74E and would be expected to also abide by the requirements of this bill, few charges and convictions under this legislation would be expected. As such, any fiscal impact associated with the bill is not expected to be substantial.

The Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission prepares prison population projections for each criminal penalty bill. The Commission assumes for each bill that increasing criminal penalties does not have a deterrent or incapacitative effect on crime. Therefore, the Fiscal Research Division does not assume savings due to deterrent effects for this bill or any criminal penalty bill.

Department of Correction

The Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission prepares inmate population projections annually. The projections used for incarceration fiscal notes are based on January 2005 projections. These projections are based on historical information on incarceration and release rates under Structured Sentencing, crime rate forecasts by a technical advisory group, probation and revocation rates, and the decline (parole and maxouts) of the stock prison population sentenced under previous sentencing acts. Based on the most recent population projections and estimated available prison bed capacity, there are no surplus prison beds available for the five-year fiscal note horizon and beyond.

- In FY 2003-04, 19 percent of Class 1 misdemeanors resulted in active sentences and the average estimated time served was 31 days.
- DOC reimburses counties for housing offenders between thirty and ninety days at a rate of $18 per day per offender. If, for example, one offender were sentenced to 31 days active time as a result of this bill, costs to DOC to reimburse the county would be $558.

The remaining 81 percent of Class 1 misdemeanants received non-active sentences. For those offenders sentenced to supervised probation, the Division of Community Correction (DCC) would incur costs of $1.87 per offender per day. Offenders sentenced to community service would cost $0.67 per offender per day, and offenders given unsupervised probation would not impact DCC.

Because most Class 1 misdemeanants serving active time as a result of this bill would be housed in county jails, this legislation is not expected to significantly impact prison population.

Judicial Branch

For most criminal penalty bills, the Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) provides Fiscal Research with an analysis of the fiscal impact of the specific bill. For these bills, fiscal impact is typically based on the assumption that court time will increase due to an expected increase in trials and a corresponding increase in the hours of work for judges, clerks and prosecutors. This increased court time is also expected to result in greater expenditures for jury fees and indigent defense.

AOC anticipates that certified company police agencies in Winston-Salem would comply with the new requirements, and that few, if any, new criminal or civil cases would arise as a result of this bill. Based upon the costs of time in court, attorney preparation time, and indigent defense, the average estimated total cost to process one Class 1 misdemeanor is $3,224 per trial and $284 per guilty plea. The total cost per trial consists of an estimated $1,333 in indigent defense costs and $1,891 in jury fees, costs of time in court, and costs of attorney preparation. Assuming that the majority of any new charges resulting from this bill are likely to be settled via guilty plea, costs to AOC are not anticipated to be substantial.

SOURCES OF DATA: Department of Correction; Judicial Branch; North Carolina Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission

TECHNICAL CONSIDERATIONS: This bill would become effective July 1, 2005. Traditionally, most bills with criminal penalties become effective on December 1. This date has been used to give the criminal justice system time to change their operating systems to accommodate criminal penalty changes and to inform and train attorneys and judges of those changes. There is typically a delay of six months between charging and sentencing an offender. The NC Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission population projections assume a December 1 effective date, and thus are based on changes in population starting the second year. The expenditures and savings calculated by Fiscal Research use these projections and, thus, assume that the legislation will not impact the prison system until the beginning of 2006-07. If the bill becomes effective prior to December 1, there could be an impact on local jails or the prison system in the 2004-05 fiscal year.

HOUSE BILL 821: Evidence/Speed-Measuring Instruments

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	June 20, 2005
Introduced by:	Reps. Glazier, Kiser	Summary by:	Ben Popkin
Version:	First Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 821 would update and clarify language in the General Statute governing the testing of speed-measuring and speed enforcement instruments and the required qualifications of the technicians testing those instruments. The act would become effective October 1, 2005.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 8-50.2. addresses the admissibility of results of speed-measuring instruments as evidence in civil or criminal proceedings. G.S. 8-50.2.(c) specifically addresses the testing for accuracy of the instruments and sets forth the required qualifications of technicians that may test and verify the accuracy of the instruments.

Certification of Technicians – A technician must have either of the following to be properly certified:

- At least a second class or general radiotelephone license from the FCC; or
- Certification issued by organizations or committees endorsed by the FCC.

Testing for Accuracy of Speed-Measuring and Speed Enforcement Instruments – In order for the results of a radio microwave or other electronic speed-measuring instrument to be admissible into evidence, the instrument must have been calibrated within 12 months of the alleged violation by a technician possessing the qualifications listed above. A laser speed enforcement instrument must be tested in accordance with standards established by the NC Criminal Justice Education and Training Standards Commission.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 821 would clarify the language of G.S. 8-50.2.(c), broaden the categories of instruments covered by the statute and specify the licensure or certification required of technicians testing the accuracy of the speed-measuring instruments. Instruments addressed would now include "All radio microwave, laser, or other...instruments" rather than the current "radio microwave speed-measuring" or "laser speed enforcement" instrument specification.

Certification of Technicians. – A technician would be required to have either of the following:

- A General Radiotelephone Operator License from the FCC; or
- A Certified Electronics Technician certificate issued by a FCC Commercial Operators License Examination Manager or by a laboratory established by the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

Testing for Accuracy of Speed-Measuring and Speed Enforcement Instruments – The requirements would remain as currently set forth by statute, however, the language would be clarified.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act would become effective October 1, 2005.

Trina Griffin, counsel to House Judiciary IV, substantially contributed to this summary.

(a) To prevent unsuspecting members of the public from being subject to harsh criminal penalties for offenses created by rules of the Wildlife Resources Commission, the penalty for an offense which is solely a violation of rules of the Wildlife Resources Commission is limited to a fine of ten dollars ($10.00) except that offenses set out in ~~Section~~subsection (b) of this section are punished as set forth in G.S. 113-135 or other ~~sections.~~sections, and except that a person who parks a vehicle in violation of a rule regulating the parking of vehicles at boating access or boating launch areas is responsible for an infraction and shall pay a fine of fifty dollars ($50.00).

(b) The limitation upon penalty does not apply to any rule violation:

(1) Punishable under G.S. 113-294 or otherwise involving aggravating elements which result in a greater punishment than provided by G.S. 113-135;

(2) Which involves a defendant subject to the collection-license provisions of G.S. 113-272.4 or who is a dealer as defined in G.S. 113-273; or

(3) Relating to seasons, bag limits, creel limits, taking fish other than with hook and line, buying or selling wildlife, possessing or transporting live wildlife, taking wildlife at night or with the aid of a conveyance, or falconry."

SECTION 2. G.S. 113-264 is amended by adding a new subsection to read:

"(e) Any wildlife protector or law enforcement officer of this State and its subdivisions may have a vehicle parked at any Commission-owned or operated public boating access area towed if such vehicle:

(1) Is parked in any area other than one designated for parking; or
(2) Is left by an individual for any purpose other than the launching or retrieval of a vessel or while operating that vessel."

SECTION 3. This act becomes effective December 1, 2005.

HOUSE BILL 1430:
Obstructing Use of Boat Ramp

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	June 20, 2005
Introduced by:	Rep. Stiller	Summary by:	Robin Johnson
Version:	PCS to Second Edition H1430-CSRH-45[v.2]		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: HB 1430 changes the penalty for illegal parking at a boat access or boat launch area from a misdemeanor to an infraction, raises the fine from $10 to $50, and provides the Wildlife Resources Commission with authority to tow illegally parked vehicles.

The PCS makes technical changes.

CURRENT LAW:

The Wildlife Resources Commission (WRC) rules prohibit leaving vehicles, boat trailers and equipment at a boat access area in such a way as to impede or inconvenience access to the ramps or facilities by others, or parking a vehicle, boat, boat trailer or other object on an access area other than at a place designated as an authorized parking zone. [See attached 15A NCAC 10E .0104(a).] As provided in G.S. 113-135, a violation of this rule is a misdemeanor, punishable by a $10 fine.

BILL ANALYSIS:

House Bill 1430 would change the level of offense for violating the WRC rules regarding parking at boat access and boat launch areas from a misdemeanor to an infraction and would raise the amount of the fine from $10 to $50. The bill also would allow the WRC employees with law enforcement powers and other law enforcement officers to have towed a vehicle that is improperly parked or left at the access or launch area. A vehicle would not be towed if it were in the location for the purpose of launching, operating, or retrieving watercraft.

EFFECTIVE DATE:

The act would become effective December 1, 2005, and apply to offenses committed on or after that date.

Barbara Riley, counsel to the House Committee on Wildlife Resources, substantially contributed to this summary.

§ 113-135. General penalties for violating Subchapter or rules; increased penalty for prior convictions; interpretive provisions.

(a) Any person who violates any provision of this Subchapter or any rule adopted by the Marine Fisheries Commission or the Wildlife Resources Commission, as appropriate, pursuant to the authority of this Subchapter, is guilty of a misdemeanor except that punishment for violation of the rules of the Wildlife Resources Commission is limited as set forth in G.S. 113-135.1. Unless a different level of punishment is elsewhere set out, anyone convicted of a misdemeanor under this section is punishable as follows:

(1) For a first conviction, as a Class 3 misdemeanor.

(2) For a second or subsequent conviction within three years, as a Class 2 misdemeanor.

(b) In interpreting this section, provisions elsewhere in this Subchapter making an offense a misdemeanor "punishable in the discretion of the court" must be considered to set a different level of punishment, to be interpreted in the light of G.S. 14-3 or any equivalent or successor statute. Noncriminal sanctions, however, such as license revocation or suspension, and exercise of powers auxiliary to criminal prosecution, such as seizure of property involved in the commission of an offense, do not constitute different levels of punishment so as to oust criminal liability. Any previous conviction of an offense under this Subchapter, or under rules authorized by it, serves to increase the punishment under subsection (a) even though for a different offense than the second or subsequent one.

(c) For the purposes of this Subchapter, violations of laws or rules administered by the Wildlife Resources Commission under any former general or local law replaced by the present provisions of this Subchapter are deemed to be violations of laws or rules under this Subchapter.

15A NCAC 10E .0104 USE OF AREAS REGULATED

(a) No person shall leave any vehicle, boat trailer or other obstruction on any access area in such a location, position or condition that it will prevent, impede, or inconvenience the use by other persons of any ramp or other facility constructed for the purpose of launching or landing boats. No person shall leave parked any vehicle, boat, boat trailer or other object at any place on any access area other than on such place or zone as is designated as an authorized parking zone and posted or marked as such.

(b) No person shall possess a loaded firearm on any boat access area. No person shall operate a vehicle on any boat access area in a manner so as to endanger life or property.

(c) No person, when using any access area, shall deposit any debris or refuse anywhere on the grounds of the area. No person, when using any access area, shall do any act which is prohibited or neglect to do any act which is required by signs or markings placed on such area under authority of this Regulation for the purpose of regulating the use of the area. At any time when all designated parking zones on any access area are fully occupied, any person may enter and use such facilities, provided such person makes other arrangements for parking and violates none of the provisions of this Regulation or the signs or markings made or posted pursuant hereto.

(d) No person shall operate a motorboat in the public waters of North Carolina within 50 yards of a Commission-owned or managed boat launching ramp at greater than "no wake" speed. For the purpose of this Regulation, "no wake" speed shall mean idling speed or a slow speed creating no appreciable wake.

(e) Except where facilities are provided, it is unlawful to use any boating access area for purposes other than the launching of boats and parking vehicles and boat trailers. All other uses--including swimming, skiing, camping, building fires, operating concessions or other activities not directly involved with launching of boats--are expressly prohibited, except that those activities including fish weigh-ins which have been approved by the Commission and for which a permit has been issued may be conducted, provided that the permit authorizing such activity is available for inspection by wildlife enforcement officers at the time the activity is taking place.

(f) Except where facilities are provided and approved uses are posted, it is unlawful to use any public fishing area for purposes other than fishing. All prohibited uses and activities shall be posted including possession of loaded firearms, swimming, launching or mooring jet skis or boats, skiing, building fires, operating concessions, or other activities not directly associated with fishing.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO AMEND THE LAW CONCERNING WHAT THE DRIVER OF A MOTOR VEHICLE SHALL DO UPON APPROACH OF AN EMERGENCY VEHICLE.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 20-157 reads as rewritten:

"§ 20-157. Approach of police, fire department or rescue squad vehicles or ambulances; driving over fire hose or blocking fire-fighting equipment; parking, etc., near police, fire department, or rescue squad vehicle or ambulance.

(a) Upon the approach of any police or fire department vehicle or public or private ambulance or rescue squad emergency service vehicle giving warning signal by appropriate light and by audible bell, siren or exhaust whistle, audible under normal conditions from a distance not less than 1000 feet, the driver of every other vehicle shall immediately drive the same to a position as near as possible and parallel to the right-hand edge or curb, clear of any intersection of streets or highways, and shall stop and remain in such position unless otherwise directed by a police or traffic officer until police or fire department vehicle or public or private ambulance or rescue squad emergency service vehicle shall have passed. Provided, however, this subsection shall not apply to vehicles traveling in the opposite direction of the vehicles herein enumerated when traveling on a four-lane limited access highway with a median divider dividing the highway for vehicles traveling in opposite directions, and provided further that the violation of this subsection shall ~~not~~ be negligence per se. Violation of this subsection is a Class 2 misdemeanor.

(b) It shall be unlawful for the driver of any vehicle other than one on official business to follow any fire apparatus traveling in response to a fire alarm closer than one block or to drive into or park such vehicle within one block where fire apparatus has stopped in answer to a fire alarm.

(c) Outside of the corporate limits of any city or town it shall be unlawful for the driver of any vehicle other than one on official business to follow any fire apparatus traveling in response to a fire alarm closer than 400 feet or to drive into or park such vehicle within a space of 400 feet from where fire apparatus has stopped in answer to a fire alarm.

(d) It shall be unlawful to drive a motor vehicle over a fire hose or any other equipment that is being used at a fire at any time, or to block a fire-fighting apparatus or any other equipment from its source of supply regardless of its distance from the fire.

(e) It shall be unlawful for the driver of a vehicle, other than one on official business, to park and leave standing such vehicle within 100 feet of police or fire department vehicles, public or private ambulances, or rescue squad emergency vehicles which are engaged in the investigation of an accident or engaged in rendering assistance to victims of such accident.

(f) When an authorized emergency vehicle as described in subsection (a) of this section or any public service vehicle is parked or standing within 12 feet of a roadway and is giving a warning signal by appropriate light, the driver of every other approaching vehicle shall, as soon as it is safe and when not otherwise directed by an individual lawfully directing traffic, do one of the following:

(1) Move the vehicle into a lane that is not the lane nearest the parked or standing authorized emergency vehicle and continue traveling in that lane until safely clear of the authorized emergency vehicle. This paragraph applies only if the roadway has at least two lanes for traffic proceeding in the direction of the approaching vehicle and if the approaching vehicle may change lanes safely and without interfering with any vehicular traffic.

(2) Slow the vehicle, maintaining a safe speed for traffic conditions, and operate the vehicle at a reduced speed and be prepared to stop until completely past the authorized emergency vehicle. This paragraph applies only if the roadway has only one lane for traffic proceeding in the direction of the approaching vehicle or if the approaching vehicle may not change lanes safely and without interfering with any vehicular traffic.

For purposes of this section, "public service vehicle" means a vehicle that has been called to the scene by a motorist or a law enforcement officer, is being used to assist motorists or law enforcement officers with wrecked or disabled vehicles, and is operating an amber-colored flashing light authorized by G.S. 20-130.2. Violation of this subsection shall ~~not~~ be negligence per se.

(g) Except as provided in subsections (a), (h), and (i) of this section, violation of this section shall be an infraction punishable by a fine of two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00).

(h) A person who violates this section and causes damage to property in the immediate area of the authorized emergency vehicle or public service vehicle in excess of five hundred dollars ($500.00), or causes injury to a police officer, a firefighter, an emergency vehicle operator, an Incident Management Assistance Patrol member, a public service vehicle operator, or any other emergency response person in the immediate area of the authorized emergency vehicle or public service vehicle is guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor.

(i) A person who violates this section and causes serious injury or death to a police officer, a firefighter, an emergency vehicle operator, an Incident Management Assistance Patrol member, a public service vehicle operator, or any other emergency response person in the immediate area of the authorized emergency vehicle or public service vehicle is guilty of a Class I felony. The Division may suspend, for up to six months, the drivers license of any person convicted under this subsection. If the Division suspends a person's license under this subsection, a judge may allow the licensee a limited driving privilege for a period not to exceed the period of suspension, provided the person's license has not also been revoked or suspended under any other provision of law. The limited driving privilege shall be issued in the same manner and under the terms and conditions prescribed in G.S. 20-16.1(b)."

SECTION 2. This act becomes effective July 1, 2006, and applies to offenses committed on or after that date.

HOUSE BILL 288:
MV Move-Over Law Changes

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	June 22, 2005
Introduced by:	Reps. Rapp, McGee	Summary by:	Ben Popkin
Version:	PCS to Fourth Edition H288-CSRD		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 288 would amend the law concerning what a driver of a motor vehicle must do when approaching an emergency vehicle, require that drivers also move over for public service vehicles, and increase the penalties for violating that law when property damage, injury or death occur as a result. The Proposed Committee Substitute would update the language of G.S. 20-157 by replacing the term "police" with "law enforcement" throughout the body of the bill.

CURRENT LAW: Currently, under G.S. 20-157, the driver of a motor vehicle must do the following with regard to authorized emergency vehicles:

When an emergency vehicle approaches. Subsection (a) requires a driver to pull over to the right hand edge or curb, clear of any intersections, when approached by an emergency vehicle and stop until the emergency vehicle passes.

Following, parking near, or blocking fire apparatus. Subsections (b), (c), and (d) make it unlawful to follow any fire apparatus too closely when it is traveling in response to a fire alarm, to park too close to where a fire apparatus has stopped to answer an alarm, or to drive a motor vehicle over or block a fire hose or any other equipment being used at a fire.

Parking near emergency vehicles at an accident scene. Subsection (e) makes it unlawful to park and leave a vehicle within 100 feet of an emergency vehicle that is engaged in the investigation of an accident or is rendering assistance to victims of an accident.

When approaching a stationary emergency vehicle. Subsection (f) requires a driver to pull over into the far lane when passing an authorized emergency vehicle that is stopped within 12 feet of the roadway. If there is only one lane for traffic traveling in the direction of the approaching vehicle, or if the vehicle cannot move over safely, then the vehicle is required to slow down until it is clear of the emergency vehicle.

BILL ANALYSIS: House bill 288 would amend G.S. 20-157(f) by adding "public service vehicles" to the list of vehicles for which drivers would have to move into a far lane, or slow down while passing, when they are stopped on the side of a roadway. "Public service vehicle" is defined as a vehicle that has been called to the scene by a motorist or law enforcement officer, is being used to assist motorists or law enforcement officers with wrecked or disabled vehicles, and is equipped with an amber-colored flashing light.

When a motor ~~vehicle~~ is required to slow down because it cannot ~~move~~ into a far lane, the bill would also add that the vehicle must ~~slow to a speed of~~ at least 20 mph less than the posted speed limit if the posted speed limit is 25 ~~mph~~ or greater, or slow to 5 ~~mph if the~~ speed limit is 20 mph or less. The driver would also ~~have~~ to be prepared to stop.

In addition, the bill would increase the fines applicable to violations of subsections (b) through (f) of G.S. 20-157 and would provide for enhanced penalties when any provision in G.S. 20-157 is violated and it results in damage to property or injury or death. (See chart below for comparison of penalties under current law and under this bill.)

Subsection	Current G.S. 20-157	G.S. 20-157 under H 288
(a) Requires vehicles to pull over when emergency vehicle approaches.	Class 2 Misdemeanor – up to 60 days, fine not more than $1,000	No change
(b) Prohibits following fire apparatus too closely.	Infraction – fine not more than $100	Infraction – fine of $250
(c) Prohibits following fire apparatus too closely outside corporate limits.	Infraction – fine not more than $100	Infraction – fine of $250
(d) Prohibits driving over or blocking fire hose or equipment.	Infraction – fine not more than $100	Infraction – fine of $250
(e) Prohibits parking too close to emergency vehicles at the scene of an accident.	Infraction – fine not more than $100	Infraction – fine of $250
(f) Requires vehicles to move over or slow down when passing standing emergency vehicle.	Infraction – fine not more than $100	Infraction – fine of $250
(h) Enhances penalty for violating subsections (a) through (f) when there is damage to property in excess of $500 or injury.	N/A	Class 1 Misdemeanor – up to 120 days, fine in discretion of court
(i) Enhances penalty for violating subsections (a) through (f) when there is serious injury or death.	N/A	Class I Felony – 3-12 months minimum, fine in discretion of court, license suspended for up to 6 months

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill would be effective July 1, 2006, and would apply to offenses committed on or after that date.

(c) It is unlawful for any person to possess a blue light or to install, activate, or operate a blue light in or on any vehicle in this State, except for a publicly owned vehicle used for law enforcement purposes or any other vehicle when used by law enforcement officers in the performance of their official duties. As used in this subsection, unless the context requires otherwise, "blue light" means any forward facing blue light installed on a vehicle after initial manufacture of the vehicle; or an operable blue light which:

(1) Is not (i) being installed on, held in inventory for the purpose of being installed on, or held in inventory for the purpose of sale for installation on a vehicle on which it may be lawfully operated or (ii) installed on a vehicle which is used solely for the purpose of demonstrating the blue light for sale to law enforcement personnel;

(1a) Is designed for use by an emergency vehicle, or is similar in appearance to a blue light designed for use by an emergency vehicle; and

(2) Can be operated by use of the vehicle's battery, the vehicle's electrical system, or a dry cell battery.

(d) Repealed by Session Laws 1999-249, s. 1.

(e) Violation of subsection (a) or (c) of this section is a Class 1 misdemeanor."

HOUSE BILL 355:
Restrict Use of Blue and Red Vehicle Lights

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	June 22, 2005
Introduced by:	Reps. McGee, Rapp	Summary by:	Robin Johnson
Version:	Second Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 355 would prohibit the installation and use of red or blue forward-facing vehicle lights, including windshield washer lights and lights placed on vehicle dashes that are similar in appearance to law enforcement blue lights.

CURRENT LAW: Under current law it is a Class 1 misdemeanor for a person to install, activate, or use an operable red light in or on any vehicle, other than those listed in G.S. 20-130.1(b). It also is a Class 1 misdemeanor for a person to possess, activate, install or use an operable blue light in or on any vehicle other than a publicly owned vehicle used for law enforcement or a vehicle when used by law enforcement officers in the performance of their official duties. Red and blue lights are defined as those that are designed for use in an emergency vehicle or are similar in appearance to a red or blue light designed for use in an emergency vehicle.

Also, under G.S. 14-277 (Impersonation of a law-enforcement or other public officer), it is a Class 1 misdemeanor for a person to unlawfully operate a vehicle on a public street, highway or public vehicular area with an operating red light. It is a Class I felony to unlawfully operate a vehicle on a public street, highway, or public vehicular area with an operating blue light.

Punishment for a Class 1 misdemeanor ranges from 1-45 days of community punishment (for someone with no prior convictions) to 1-120 days of community punishment, intermediate punishment or active punishment (for someone with five or more prior convictions). Fines may be imposed with any disposition. For a Class 1 misdemeanor, the amount of the fine is in the discretion of the court. The presumptive punishment range for a Class I felony is 4-6 months of community punishment to 8-10 months of intermediate or active punishment.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 355 would extend the current restriction on the use of red and blue lights to prohibit the installation, activation, and use of forward facing red or blue lights, installed on a vehicle after initial manufacture, including red or blue windshield washer lights, or the placement of a light on a dash that is similar in appearance to a blue light used by law enforcement.

Punishment levels for violations would not change.

EFFECTIVE DATE: House Bill 355 would become effective December 1, 2005, and apply to offenses committed on or after that date.

This fiscal analysis is independent of the impact of other criminal penalty bills being considered by the General Assembly, which could also increase the projected prison population and thus the availability of prison beds in future years. The Fiscal Research Division is tracking the cumulative effect of all criminal penalty bills on the prison system as well as the Judicial Department.*

BILL SUMMARY: This bill amends G.S. 20-130.1 to specify that forward-facing red and blue vehicle lights installed on a vehicle after initial manufacture are included in the current prohibition of red and blue vehicle lights. The second edition eliminates specific references to windshield washer lights and blue lights placed on a vehicle dash similar in appearance to those used by law enforcement. Possession or use of these lights in violation of this statute would be a Class 1 misdemeanor.

[1] Changes to the second edition of the bill do not affect the fiscal impact assessment from the first edition.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

General

The Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) notes that offenders could arguably be charged under current G.S. 20-130.1 for possession of the types of lights prohibited by this bill. However, there is no evidence to indicate that offenders are presently being charged for possession of these lights. As such, additional charges and convictions would be expected to result from this bill.

Due to lack of data regarding the number of vehicles in operation with these lights, it is not possible to estimate the number of offenders eligible to be charged under this legislation. Likewise, because this legislation expands the scope of an existing offense, there is no historical data from which to estimate the number of additional charges and convictions that might occur due to this bill. However, because of the small number of charges and convictions for similar offenses under existing law, the fiscal impact associated with this bill is not expected to be substantial.

The Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission prepares prison population projections for each criminal penalty bill. The Commission assumes for each bill that increasing criminal penalties does not have a deterrent or incapacitative effect on crime. Therefore, the Fiscal Research Division does not assume savings due to deterrent effects for this bill or any criminal penalty bill.

Department of Correction

The Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission prepares inmate population projections annually. The projections used for incarceration fiscal notes are based on January 2005 projections. These projections are based on historical information on incarceration and release rates under Structured Sentencing, crime rate forecasts by a technical advisory group, probation and revocation rates, and the decline (parole and maxouts) of the stock prison population sentenced under previous sentencing acts. Based on the most recent population projections and estimated available prison bed capacity, there are no surplus prison beds available for the five-year fiscal note horizon and beyond.

Because this bill would expand the scope of an existing offense, the Sentencing Commission has no historical data from which to project the impact that this legislation would have on prison population. In FY 2003-04, there were 179 convictions under existing G.S. 20-131.1. No data is available regarding how many, if any, of these convictions were for possession of the types of lights specifically prohibited by this bill. Also, due to lack of data regarding the number of vehicles in operation with forward-facing red and blue lights, it is not possible to estimate the volume of offenses that might be committed under this bill.

- In FY 2003-04, 19 percent of Class 1 misdemeanors resulted in active sentences and the average active sentence length was 43 days.
- Offenders with active sentences of less than ninety days are housed in county jails.
- DOC reimburses counties for housing offenders between thirty and ninety days at a rate of $18 per day per offender. If, for example, one offender were sentenced to 43 days active time as a result of this bill, costs to DOC to reimburse the county would be $774.
- The remaining 81 percent of Class 1 misdemeanants received non-active sentences. For those offenders sentenced to supervised probation, the Division of Community Correction

(DCC) would incur costs of $1.87 per offender per day. Offenders sentenced to community service would cost $0.67 per offender per day, and offenders given unsupervised probation would not impact DCC.

Because most Class 1 misdemeanants serving active time as a result of this bill would be housed in county jails, this legislation is not expected to significantly impact prison population.

Judicial Branch

For most criminal penalty bills, the Administrative Office of the Courts provides Fiscal Research with an analysis of the fiscal impact of the specific bill. For these bills, fiscal impact is typically based on the assumption that court time will increase due to an expected increase in trials and a corresponding increase in the hours of work for judges, clerks and prosecutors. This increased court time is also expected to result in greater expenditures for jury fees and indigent defense.

In calendar year 2004, AOC data indicates that 1,032 defendants were charged under current G.S. 20-130.1 for unlawful use of red and blue vehicle lights. No data exists regarding how many, if any, of these charges were for possession of the lights prohibited by this bill. Because we cannot estimate the number of offenses that would be committed under this legislation, we are unable to quantify the number of new charges that the Court system would handle.

Based on the costs of time in court, attorney preparation time, and indigent defense, the average estimated cost to process one Class 1 misdemeanor is $5,000 per trial and $219 per guilty plea. The trial cost includes an estimated $2,627 in jury fees, costs of time in court, and attorney costs and an additional $2,373 in indigent defense. Based on prior-year data, the majority of any new Class 1 misdemeanor charges are likely to be settled by plea.

HOUSE BILL 1400:
School Bus Safety Act

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	June 22, 2005
Introduced by:	Rep. Folwell	Summary by:	Robin Johnson
Version:	PCS to Second Edition H1400-CSRH-49[v.3]		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 1400 would amend the statute concerning when a motor vehicle must stop for school buses, increases the penalty for violations of the section and creates a new penalty.

The PCS makes grammatical and other clarifying changes.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 20-217 provides that a motorist approaching a school bus from any direction on the same street as the school bus while the school bus is displaying its mechanical stop sign or flashing red stoplights must bring the vehicle to a full stop before passing or attempting to pass the bus and must remain stopped until the stop signal has been withdrawn, the flashing red stoplights turned off and the bus has moved on. In order for there to be a violation, the bus must have "school bus" written on it in letters that are not less than eight inches in height.

A violation of the section results in a Class 2 misdemeanor. Punishment for a Class 2 misdemeanor ranges from 1-30 days of community punishment (for someone with no prior convictions) to 1-60 days of community punishment, intermediate punishment or active punishment (for someone with five or more prior convictions).

Passing a stopped school bus results in five driver's license points and four insurance points.

BILL ANALYSIS:

House Bill 1400 would clarify that a driver must bring a vehicle to a full stop and must remain stopped until the mechanical stop signal has been withdrawn, the flashing red stoplights have been turned off and the bus has started to move. The bill also would eliminate the height restriction for the words "school bus" and would simply require that the words are plainly visible on the front and rear of the bus.

The penalty for violation of the G.S. 20-217 would be increased to a Class 1 misdemeanor. Punishment for a Class 1 misdemeanor ranges from 1-45 days of community punishment (for someone with no prior convictions) to 1-120 days of community punishment, intermediate punishment or active punishment (for someone with five or more prior convictions). Fines may be imposed with any disposition. For a Class 1 misdemeanor, the amount of the fine is in the discretion of the court. (This increase in penalty would apply to any violation of the statute, including subsection (b), which prohibits school bus drivers from receiving or discharging a student on a divided highway where the student must cross the highway to reach his or her destination.)

The bill also would add a new penalty of a Class I felony if a person violates the statute and willfully strikes and causes serious bodily injury to a person. The presumptive punishment range for a Class I felony is 4-6 months of community punishment to 8-10 months of intermediate or active punishment.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill would become effective December 1, 2005 and apply to offenses committed on or after that date.

This fiscal analysis is independent of the impact of other criminal penalty bills being considered by the General Assembly, which could also increase the projected prison population and thus the availability of prison beds in future years. The Fiscal Research Division is tracking the cumulative effect of all criminal penalty bills on the prison system as well as the Judicial Department.*

BILL SUMMARY: Current G.S. 20-217(a) prohibits passing or attempting to pass a stopped school bus which is loading or unloading passengers. This bill would reclassify a violation of this provision from a Class 2 to a Class 1 misdemeanor. Additionally, the bill enacts G.S. 20-217(g), providing for a new Class I felony to pass or attempt to pass a stopped school bus and willfully strike a person causing serious bodily injury.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

Summary

Class 2 → Class 1 Misdemeanor

Elevating the penalty from a Class 2 to a Class 1 misdemeanor under G.S. 20-217(e) for passing a stopped school bus that is loading or unloading passengers would be expected to lead to longer sentences for convicted offenders and an increase in payments by the Department of Correction (DOC) to local jails for housing offenders with active sentences. Additionally, costs in district court would be expected to increase due to more vigorous defense and prosecution as a result of the increased penalty for the offense. Cost estimates for the Courts due to this provision are shown in the table on the first page. Due to lack of data on the number of convictions for this offense in the past, the cost to DOC to reimburse local jails for offenders with active sentences cannot be determined.

New Class I Felony

Class I felony convictions for willfully striking a person and causing severe injury while unlawfully passing a stopped school bus would be expected to result in the need for additional prison beds and would have an associated impact on the Department of Correction. To dispose of new Class I felony charges, workload and costs in superior court would also be expected to increase. Because the offense is new, no historical data is available on the number of charges and convictions that would occur for this offense.

Division of Motor Vehicles data from FY 2003-04 indicates that 4 pedestrians were struck by other vehicles in school bus related accidents. It is unknown how many of these incidents involved a pedestrian being struck willfully, resulted in severe injury and involved vehicles unlawfully passing a stopped school bus and could thus result in a Class I felony charge or conviction. However, given the relatively small number of incidents that could potentially result in a new charge or conviction, the impact on the Courts and Department of Correction due to this provision is not expected to be substantial.

General

The Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission prepares prison population projections for each criminal penalty bill. The Commission assumes for each bill that increasing criminal penalties does not have a deterrent or incapacitative effect on crime. Therefore, the Fiscal Research Division does not assume savings due to deterrent effects for this bill or any criminal penalty bill.

Department of Correction

The Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission prepares inmate population projections annually. The projections used for incarceration fiscal notes are based on January 2005 projections. These projections are based on historical information on incarceration and release rates under Structured Sentencing, crime rate forecasts by a technical advisory group, probation and revocation rates, and the decline (parole and maxouts) of the stock prison population sentenced under previous sentencing acts. Based on the most recent population projections and estimated available prison bed capacity, there are no surplus prison beds available for the five-year fiscal note horizon and beyond.

Because the Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission does not maintain data on Class 2 and Class 3 misdemeanor traffic offenses, the number of convictions for current violations of G.S. 20-217(a) is unknown. As such, the cost associated with convictions elevated from Class 2 to Class 1 misdemeanors due to this bill cannot be determined. Given the relatively small number of school bus related accidents in which a pedestrian was struck by another vehicle (see "General"), the number of new Class I felony convictions, and the associated cost, is not expected to be substantial.

Class 2 → Class 1 Misdemeanor: In FY 2003-04, 19 percent of Class 1 misdemeanants, as opposed to 15 percent of Class 2 misdemeanants, received active sentences, and the average estimated sentence length was 43 days, as opposed to 23 days for Class 2. Because active sentences of less than ninety days are served in county jails, Class 1 misdemeanor convictions resulting from this legislation are not expected to significantly impact prison population. However, convictions elevated from Class 2 to Class 1 misdemeanors would be expected to impact local jail populations, as Class 1 misdemeanors carry a longer sentence and are slightly more likely to be active, on average. DOC reimburses counties for housing offenders sentenced to between thirty and ninety days at a rate of $18 per offender per day. Thus, elevating this offense from a Class 2 to Class 1 misdemeanor would be likely to increase payments by DOC to counties for housing offenders sentenced to active time under this bill.

New Class I Felony: In FY 2003-04, 11 percent of Class I felony convictions resulted in active sentences and the average minimum active sentence length was seven months with a corresponding maximum of nine months. If, for example, there were ten additional Class I convictions for this offense per year, the combination of active sentences and probation revocations would result in the need for one additional prison bed the first year and two additional prison beds the second year. The average annual operating cost for one prison bed in FY 2006-07 will be an estimated $24,740.

Non-Active Sentences: As Class 1 misdemeanants are slightly less likely to receive non-active sentences, convictions elevated from Class 2 to Class 1 misdemeanors due to this bill would be expected to result in some cost savings to the Division of Community Corrections (DCC). Of Class I felony offenders given a non-active sentence, 45 percent received intermediate and 55 percent received a community sanction. Probation officers in DCC supervise offenders with intermediate sanctions at an estimated cost of $10.94 per day for the first six months and $1.87 per day thereafter. (This cost estimate is based on the average cost and duration of intensive probation, the most common intermediate sanction.) The estimated cost for a supervised community offender is $1.87 per day.

Judicial Branch

For most criminal penalty bills, the Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) provides Fiscal Research with an analysis of the fiscal impact of the specific bill. For these bills, fiscal impact is typically based on the assumption that court time will increase due to an expected increase in trials and a corresponding increase in the hours of work for judges, clerks, and prosecutors. This increased court time is also expected to result in greater expenditures for jury fees and indigent defense.

AOC data for calendar year 2004 show 1,054 defendants charged with Class 2 misdemeanors under G.S. 20-217 for unlawfully passing a stopped school bus. If reclassified as Class 1 misdemeanors, AOC anticipates that additional court time and attorney preparation time would be needed to dispose of the charges as a result of more vigorous defense and prosecution. For any new Class I felony charges for willfully striking and severely injuring a person while passing a stopped school bus, superior court workload and costs would increase. The costs associated with this new Class I felony cannot be determined due to lack of historical data. However, DMV data (see "General") suggests that the number of new charges may not be substantial.

AOC estimates that the increase in cost of processing these 1,054 charges as Class 1 rather than Class 2 misdemeanors would be $48,147 in the first full year. This cost reflects presumed increases in trial rates, trial length, attorney preparation time, and time to handle pleas. Based on the costs of attorney preparation, and court time, the cost to dispose of these cases as Class 2 misdemeanors would be an estimated $57,937, with an additional $29,094 for indigent defense. As Class 1 misdemeanors, the cost would be an estimated $91,882 for attorney and court costs and an additional $43,296 for indigent defense. The figures in the box on the front page reflect the difference in total cost ($48,147), inflated at a rate of five percent annually, and adjusted in FY 2005-06 to reflect only the seven months for which the bill would be effective.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO AMEND THE ORDER OF PAYMENT OF A CLAIM FOR EQUITABLE DISTRIBUTION UNDER THE LAWS RELATING TO THE ADMINISTRATION OF DECEDENTS' ESTATES.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 28A-19-6 reads as rewritten:

"§ 28A-19-6. Order of payment of claims.

After payment of costs and expenses of administration, the claims against the estate of a decedent must be paid in the following order:

First class. Claims which by law have a specific lien on property to an amount not exceeding the value of such property.

Second class. Funeral expenses to the extent of two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500). This limitation shall not include cemetery lot or gravestone. The preferential limitation herein granted shall be construed to be only a limit with respect to preference of payment and shall not be construed to be a limitation on reasonable funeral expenses which may be incurred; nor shall the preferential limitation of payment in the amount of two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) be diminished by any Veterans Administration, social security or other federal governmental benefits awarded to the estate of the decedent or to his or her beneficiaries.

Third class. All dues, taxes, and other claims with preference under the laws of the United States.

Fourth class. All dues, taxes, and other claims with preference under the laws of the State of North Carolina and its subdivisions.

Fifth class. Judgments of any court of competent jurisdiction within the State, docketed and in force, to the extent to which they are a lien on the property of the decedent at his death.

Sixth class. Wages due to any employee employed by the decedent, which claim for wages shall not extend to a period of more than 12 months next preceding the death; or if such employee was employed for the year current at the decease, then from the time of such employment; for medical services within the 12 months preceding the decease; for drugs and all other medical supplies necessary for the treatment of such decedent during the last illness of such decedent, said period of last illness not to exceed 12 months.

Seventh class. A claim for equitable distribution.

~~Seventh~~ Eighth class. All other claims."

SECTION 2. This act is effective when it becomes law and applies to the estates of persons who died on or after June 12, 2003, provided that an agreement entered into or performed pursuant to G.S. 28A-19-19(b) before the effective date is not affected by this act.

HOUSE BILL 804:
Order of Payment/Equitable Distribution

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	June 28, 2005
Introduced by:	Reps. Hackney, Goodwin	Summary by:	Robin Johnson
Version:	Second Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 804 would amend G.S. 28A-19-6, which governs the order of payment of claims against a decedent's estate, by placing a claim for equitable distribution in a separate, seventh class of eight classes. "All other claims", which currently comprise the seventh class, would be placed in a newly created eighth class.

CURRENT LAW: Chapter 28A of the General Statutes provides the structure for administering decedents' estates. G.S. 28A-19-6 creates the order for paying claims against the estate by establishing seven classes in which claims fall. Claims in the first class must be paid first, claims in the second class are paid next, and so on.

BACKGROUND: Equitable distribution is the process by which a court determines what is marital property and divisible property in a divorce. The court then provides for an "equitable distribution" of the property in accordance with G.S. 50-20 (see attached).

In 2003, G.S. 50-20 was amended by adding a new subsection (l) to provide that Article 19 of Chapter 28A (Claims Against the Estate) would apply to a claim for equitable distribution against the estate of a deceased spouse. However, it is unclear whether the 2003 amendment adequately delineated that the priority system for payment of claims applies to a claim for equitable distribution. Also, assuming a court would find that the priority system does apply to a claim for equitable distribution, it would place an equitable distribution claim in the final class of claims with "all other claims."

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 804 would clarify that the priority system for payment of claims against a decedent's estate, as set out in G.S. 28A-19-6, applies to a claim for equitable distribution and would place an equitable distribution claim in a separate, seventh class above the final class of "all other claims."

EFFECTIVE DATE: House Bill 804 would be effective when it becomes law and apply to the estates of persons who died on or after June 12, 2003. (June 12, 2003 is the effective date of the previous change to G.S. 50-20 discussed above.) However, House Bill 804 would not affect an agreement between an estate's personal representative and a claimant for equitable distribution entered into or performed before this bill's effective date.

Tim Hovis, co-counsel to the House Committee on Judiciary I, substantially contributed to this summary.

§ 50-20. Distribution by court of marital and divisible property.

(a) Upon application of a party, the court shall determine what is the marital property and divisible property and shall provide for an equitable distribution of the marital property and divisible property between the parties in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(b) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Marital property" means all real and personal property acquired by either spouse or both spouses during the course of the marriage and before the date of the separation of the parties, and presently owned, except property determined to be separate property or divisible property in accordance with subdivision (2) or (4) of this subsection. Marital property includes all vested and nonvested pension, retirement, and other deferred compensation rights, and vested and nonvested military pensions eligible under the federal Uniformed Services Former Spouses' Protection Act. It is presumed that all property acquired after the date of marriage and before the date of separation is marital property except property which is separate property under subdivision (2) of this subsection. This presumption may be rebutted by the greater weight of the evidence.

(2) "Separate property" means all real and personal property acquired by a spouse before marriage or acquired by a spouse by bequest, devise, descent, or gift during the course of the marriage. However, property acquired by gift from the other spouse during the course of the marriage shall be considered separate property only if such an intention is stated in the conveyance. Property acquired in exchange for separate property shall remain separate property regardless of whether the title is in the name of the husband or wife or both and shall not be considered to be marital property unless a contrary intention is expressly stated in the conveyance. The increase in value of separate property and the income derived from separate property shall be considered separate property. All professional licenses and business licenses which would terminate on transfer shall be considered separate property.

(3) "Distributive award" means payments that are payable either in a lump sum or over a period of time in fixed amounts, but shall not include alimony payments or other similar payments for support and maintenance which are treated as ordinary income to the recipient under the Internal Revenue Code.

(4) "Divisible property" means all real and personal property as set forth below:

a. All appreciation and diminution in value of marital property and divisible property of the parties occurring after the date of separation and prior to the date of distribution, except that appreciation or diminution in value which is the result of postseparation actions or activities of a spouse shall not be treated as divisible property.

b. All property, property rights, or any portion thereof received after the date of separation but before the date of distribution that was acquired as a result of the efforts of either spouse during the marriage and before the date of separation, including, but not limited to, commissions, bonuses, and contractual rights.

c. Passive income from marital property received after the date of separation, including, but not limited to, interest and dividends.

d. Increases and decreases in marital debt and financing charges and interest related to marital debt.

(c) There shall be an equal division by using net value of marital property and net value of divisible property unless the court determines that an equal division is not equitable. If the court determines that an equal division is not equitable, the court shall divide the marital property and divisible property equitably. The court shall consider all of the following factors under this subsection:

(1) The income, property, and liabilities of each party at the time the division of property is to become effective.

(2) Any obligation for support arising out of a prior marriage.

(3) The duration of the marriage and the age and physical and mental health of both parties.

(4) The need of a parent with custody of a child or children of the marriage to occupy or own the marital residence and to use or own its household effects.

(5) The expectation of pension, retirement, or other deferred compensation rights that are not marital property.

(6) Any equitable claim to, interest in, or direct or indirect contribution made to the acquisition of such marital property by the party not having title, including joint efforts or expenditures and contributions and services, or lack thereof, as a spouse, parent, wage earner or homemaker.

(7) Any direct or indirect contribution made by one spouse to help educate or develop the career potential of the other spouse.

(8) Any direct contribution to an increase in value of separate property which occurs during the course of the marriage.

(9) The liquid or nonliquid character of all marital property and divisible property.

(10) The difficulty of evaluating any component asset or any interest in a business, corporation or profession, and the economic desirability of retaining such asset or interest, intact and free from any claim or interference by the other party.

(11) The tax consequences to each party.

(11a) Acts of either party to maintain, preserve, develop, or expand; or to waste, neglect, devalue or convert the marital property or divisible property, or both, during the period after separation of the parties and before the time of distribution.

(11b) In the event of the death of either party prior to the entry of any order for the distribution of property made pursuant to this subsection:

a. Property passing to the surviving spouse by will or through intestacy due to the death of a spouse.

b. Property held as tenants by the entirety or as joint tenants with rights of survivorship passing to the surviving spouse due to the death of a spouse.

c. Property passing to the surviving spouse from life insurance, individual retirement accounts, pension or profit-sharing plans, any private or governmental retirement plan or annuity of which the decedent controlled the designation of beneficiary (excluding any benefits under the federal social security system), or any other retirement accounts or contracts, due to the death of a spouse.

d. The surviving spouse's right to claim an "elective share" pursuant to G.S. 30-3.1 through G.S. 30-33, unless otherwise waived.

(12) Any other factor which the court finds to be just and proper.

(c1) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a second or subsequent spouse acquires no interest in the marital property and divisible property of his or her spouse from a former marriage until a final determination of equitable distribution is made in the marital property and divisible property of the spouse's former marriage.

(d) Before, during or after marriage the parties may by written agreement, duly executed and acknowledged in accordance with the provisions of G.S. 52-10 and 52-10.1, or by a written agreement valid in the jurisdiction where executed, provide for distribution of the marital property or divisible property, or both, in a manner deemed by the parties to be equitable and the agreement shall be binding on the parties.

(e) Subject to the presumption of subsection (c) of this section that an equal division is equitable, it shall be presumed in every action that an in-kind distribution of marital or divisible property is equitable. This presumption may be rebutted by the greater weight of the evidence, or by evidence that the property is a closely held business entity or is otherwise not susceptible of division in-kind. In any action in which the presumption is rebutted, the court in lieu of in-kind distribution shall provide for a distributive award in order to achieve equity between the parties. The court may provide for a distributive award to facilitate, effectuate or supplement a distribution of marital or divisible property. The court may provide that any distributive award payable over a period of time be secured by a lien on specific property.

(f) The court shall provide for an equitable distribution without regard to alimony for either party or support of the children of both parties. After the determination of an equitable distribution, the court, upon request of either party, shall consider whether an order for alimony or child support should be modified or vacated pursuant to G.S. 50-16.9 or 50-13.7.

(g) If the court orders the transfer of real or personal property or an interest therein, the court may also enter an order which shall transfer title, as provided in G.S. 1A-1, Rule 70 and G.S. 1-228.

(h) If either party claims that any real property is marital property or divisible property, that party may cause a notice of lis pendens to be recorded pursuant to Article 11 of Chapter 1 of the General Statutes. Any person whose conveyance or encumbrance is recorded or whose interest is obtained by descent, prior to the filing of the lis pendens, shall take the real property free of any claim resulting from the equitable distribution proceeding. The court may cancel the notice of lis pendens upon substitution of a bond with surety in an amount determined by the court to be sufficient provided the court finds that the claim of the spouse against property subject to the notice of lis pendens can be satisfied by money damages.

(i) Upon filing an action or motion in the cause requesting an equitable distribution or alleging that an equitable distribution will be requested when it is timely to do so, a party may seek injunctive relief pursuant to G.S. 1A-1, Rule 65 and Chapter 1, Article 37, to prevent the disappearance, waste or conversion of property alleged to be marital property, divisible property, or separate property of the party seeking relief. The court, in lieu of granting an injunction, may require a bond or other assurance of sufficient amount to protect the interest of the other spouse in the property. Upon application by the owner of separate property which was removed from the marital home or possession of its owner by the other spouse, the court may enter an order for reasonable counsel fees and costs of court incurred to regain its possession, but such fees shall not exceed the fair market value of the separate property at the time it was removed.

(i1) Unless good cause is shown that there should not be an interim distribution, the court may, at any time after an action for equitable distribution has been filed and prior to the final judgment of equitable distribution, enter orders declaring what is separate property and may also enter orders dividing part of the marital property, divisible property or debt, or marital debt between the parties. The partial distribution may provide for a distributive award and may also provide for a distribution of marital property, marital debt, divisible property, or divisible debt. Any such orders entered shall be taken into consideration at trial and proper credit given.

Hearings held pursuant to this subsection may be held at sessions arranged by the chief district court judge pursuant to G.S. 7A-146 and, if held at such sessions, shall not be subject to the reporting requirements of G.S. 7A-198.

(j) In any order for the distribution of property made pursuant to this section, the court shall make written findings of fact that support the determination that the marital property and divisible property has been equitably divided.

(k) The rights of the parties to an equitable distribution of marital property and divisible property are a species of common ownership, the rights of the respective parties vesting at the time of the parties' separation.

(l) (1) A claim for equitable distribution, whether an action is filed or not, survives the death of a spouse so long as the parties are living separate and apart at the time of death.

(2) The provisions of Article 19 of Chapter 28A of the General Statutes shall be applicable to a claim for equitable distribution against the estate of the deceased spouse.

(3) Any claim for equitable distribution against the surviving spouse made by the estate of the deceased spouse must be filed with the district court within one year of the date of death of the deceased spouse or be forever barred.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT AMENDING THE LAWS REGULATING POSTSEPARATION SUPPORT.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 50-16.1A(4) reads as rewritten:

"As used in this Chapter, unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the following definitions apply:

...

(4) "Postseparation support" means spousal support to be paid until the earlier of ~~either the date specified in the order of postseparation support, or an order awarding or denying alimony.~~ any of the following:

a. The date specified in the order for postseparation support.

b. The entry of an order awarding or denying alimony.

c. The dismissal of the alimony claim.

d. The entry of a judgment of absolute divorce if no claim of alimony is pending at the time of entry of the judgment of absolute divorce.

e. Termination of postseparation support as provided in G.S. 50-16.9(b).

Postseparation support may be ordered in an action for divorce, whether absolute or from bed and board, for annulment, or for alimony without divorce. However, if postseparation support is ordered at the time of the entry of a judgment of absolute divorce, a claim for alimony must be pending at the time of the entry of the judgment of divorce."

SECTION 2. This act becomes effective October 1, 2005, and applies to all postseparation support orders issued on or after that date.

HOUSE BILL 923:
Amend Postseparation Support Laws

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	June 28, 2005
Introduced by:	Reps. Hackney, Goodwin	Summary by:	Robin Johnson
Version:	Second Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 923 would amend the definition of "postseparation support" as used in Chapter 50 of the General Statutes (Divorce and Alimony) to add the following new "triggers" for the termination of postseparation support:

- Dismissal of a claim for alimony; or
- Entry of a judgment of absolute divorce, if no claim for alimony is pending at that time.

In addition, as a condition for ordering postseparation support at the time of entry of a judgment for absolute divorce, the bill would require that there be a pending alimony claim.

CURRENT LAW: Under existing law, postseparation support, if ordered, is paid until the earlier of the following:

- The date specified in the order of postseparation support;
- An order awarding or denying alimony is entered;

Postseparation support also is terminated:

- If the dependent spouse remarries or engages in cohabitation; or
- Upon the death of either the supporting or dependent or spouse.

EFFECTIVE DATE: House Bill 923 would be effective October 1, 2005, and apply to postseparation support orders issued on or after that date.

BACKGROUND: Postseparation support may be requested in an action for divorce, annulment, or alimony without divorce. The court may order spousal support for a spouse substantially dependent upon the other spouse based on the financial needs of the parties, considering their accustomed standard of living, income-earning abilities, debt service obligations, expenses reasonably necessary to support each of them, and each party's legal obligations to support any other persons. Assuming there is no marital misconduct, the dependent spouse is entitled to postseparation support if the court finds the resources of the dependent spouse are not adequate to meet his or her reasonable needs and the supporting spouse has the ability to pay.

Tim Hovis, co-counsel to the House Committee on Judiciary I, substantially contributed to this summary.

H0923e2-SMRH

§ 50-16.1A. Definitions.

As used in this Chapter, unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Alimony" means an order for payment for the support and maintenance of a spouse or former spouse, periodically or in a lump sum, for a specified or for an indefinite term, ordered in an action for divorce, whether absolute or from bed and board, or in an action for alimony without divorce.

(2) "Dependent spouse" means a spouse, whether husband or wife, who is actually substantially dependent upon the other spouse for his or her maintenance and support or is substantially in need of maintenance and support from the other spouse.

(3) "Marital misconduct" means any of the following acts that occur during the marriage and prior to or on the date of separation:

a. Illicit sexual behavior. For the purpose of this section, illicit sexual behavior means acts of sexual or deviate sexual intercourse, deviate sexual acts, or sexual acts defined in G.S. 14-27.1(4), voluntarily engaged in by a spouse with someone other than the other spouse;

b. Involuntary separation of the spouses in consequence of a criminal act committed prior to the proceeding in which alimony is sought;

c. Abandonment of the other spouse;

d. Malicious turning out-of-doors of the other spouse;

e. Cruel or barbarous treatment endangering the life of the other spouse;

f. Indignities rendering the condition of the other spouse intolerable and life burdensome;

g. Reckless spending of the income of either party, or the destruction, waste, diversion, or concealment of assets;

h. Excessive use of alcohol or drugs so as to render the condition of the other spouse intolerable and life burdensome;

i. Willful failure to provide necessary subsistence according to one's means and condition so as to render the condition of the other spouse intolerable and life burdensome.

(3a) through (3d) Reserved for future codification purposes.

(3e) "Payor" means any payor, including any federal, State, or local governmental unit, of disposable income to an obligor. When the payor is an employer, payor means employer as defined under 20 U.S.C. § 203(d) of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

(4) "Postseparation support" means spousal support to be paid until the earlier of either the date specified in the order of postseparation support, or an order awarding or denying alimony. Postseparation support may be ordered in an action for divorce, whether absolute or from bed and board, for annulment, or for alimony without divorce.

(5) "Supporting spouse" means a spouse, whether husband or wife, upon whom the other spouse is actually substantially dependent for maintenance and support or from whom such spouse is substantially in need of maintenance and support.

§ 50-16.9. Modification of order.

(a) An order of a court of this State for alimony or postseparation support, whether contested or entered by consent, may be modified or vacated at any time, upon motion in the cause and a showing of changed circumstances by either party or anyone interested. This section shall not apply to orders entered by consent before October 1, 1967.

Any motion to modify or terminate alimony or postseparation support based on a resumption of marital relations between parties who remain married to each other shall be determined pursuant to G.S. 52-10.2.

(b) If a dependent spouse who is receiving postseparation support or alimony from a supporting spouse under a judgment or order of a court of this State remarries or engages in cohabitation, the postseparation support or alimony shall terminate. Postseparation support or alimony shall terminate upon the death of either the supporting or the dependent spouse.

As used in this subsection, cohabitation means the act of two adults dwelling together continuously and habitually in a private heterosexual relationship, even if this relationship is not solemnized by marriage, or a private homosexual relationship. Cohabitation is evidenced by the voluntary mutual assumption of those marital rights, duties, and obligations which are usually manifested by married people, and which include, but are not necessarily dependent on, sexual relations. Nothing in this section shall be construed to make lawful conduct which is made unlawful by other statutes.

(c) When an order for alimony has been entered by a court of another jurisdiction, a court of this State may, upon gaining jurisdiction over the person of both parties in a civil action instituted for that purpose, and upon a showing of changed circumstances, enter a new order for alimony which modifies or supersedes such order for alimony to the extent that it could have been so modified in the jurisdiction where granted.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: This bill creates the role of Parenting Coordinator in cases in District Court involving child custody matters. This coordinator would work with parents on a fee-for-service basis to develop plans to maintain custody of their children; the parties must pay the fee, rather than the state. Cases of this type are often very contentious in the courtroom setting. Since the role of the coordinator removes some of the most contentious components of developing custody agreements from the courtroom, cost savings can be projected from this bill, but the Administrative Office of the Courts cannot predict how often judges will make use of these coordinators.

HOUSE BILL 1221:
Parenting Coordinator Established

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	June 27, 2005
Introduced by:	Rep. Hackney	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith Committee Counsel
Version:	PCS to Third Edition H1221-CSRC-70

SUMMARY: House Bill 1221 establishes a procedure for the appointment of a parenting coordinator in domestic child custody actions.

The Proposed Committee Substitute makes technical changes. It includes a definition of "minor child", uses language from an Oklahoma statute regarding the authority of a parenting coordinator, limits the use of parenting coordinators to "high-conflict cases" in situations where both parties don't agree to the appointment, and requires that the court order appointing the parent coordinator specify the coordinator's authority.

The act would become effective October 1, 2005.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 1221 creates a new Article 5, entitled "Parenting Coordinator", in Chapter 50 of the General Statutes. A parenting coordinator would be an impartial person appointed by the court in child custody actions. The parties may agree to the appointment of a parenting coordinator at any time during the proceeding. If the parties do not agree, the court may appoint a parenting coordinator in high-conflict cases if it is in the best interest of the minor child and the parties are able to pay for the costs. A "high-conflict case" is a child custody action involving minor children where the parties demonstrate an ongoing patter of excessive litigation, anger and distrust, verbal abuse, physical aggression or threats of physical aggression, difficulty in communicating about and cooperating in the care of the minor children, or other conditions that the court determines warrant the appointment of a parenting coordinator. The order appointing the parenting coordinator must specify the coordinator's authority, which is limited to matters that will assist the parties:

- Identify disputed issues
- Reduce misunderstandings.
- Clarify priorities.
- Explore possibilities for compromise.
- Develop methods of collaboration in parenting.
- Comply with the court's order of custody, visitation, or guardianship.

However, the parenting coordinator would have the authority to decide issues that are not covered by a parenting plan and which the parties cannot agree on. The parenting coordinator's decision would be binding on the parties until the court reviews the decision. The parenting coordinator may not provide professional services or counseling to the parties, and must refer financial issues to the parties' attorneys. The court retains jurisdiction over the case and all final decisions.

The parties pay the parenting coordinator's fees. The court may terminate the appointment of the parenting coordinator for good cause.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO REVISE AND UPDATE THE PROCEDURES AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE JUDICIAL STANDARDS COMMISSION AND TO AUTHORIZE SIX ADDITIONAL MEMBERS OF THE COMMISSION.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Article 30 of Chapter 7A of the General Statutes reads as rewritten:

"Article 30.

"Judicial Standards Commission.

"§ 7A-374.1. Purpose.

The purpose of this Article is to provide for the investigation and resolution of inquiries concerning the qualification or conduct of any judge or justice of the General Court of Justice. The procedure for discipline of any judge or justice of the General Court of Justice shall be in accordance with this Article. Nothing in this Article shall affect the impeachment of judges under the North Carolina Constitution, Article IV, Sections 4 and 17.

"§ 7A-374.2. Definitions.

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section shall apply throughout this Article:

(1) "Censure" means a finding by the Supreme Court, based upon a written recommendation by the Commission, that a judge has willfully engaged in misconduct prejudicial to the administration of justice that brings the judicial office into disrepute, but which does not warrant the suspension of the judge from the judge's judicial duties or the removal of the judge from judicial office. A censure may require that the judge follow a corrective course of action. Unless otherwise ordered by the Supreme Court, the judge shall personally appear in the Supreme Court to receive a censure.

(2) "Commission" means the North Carolina Judicial Standards Commission.

(3) "Incapacity" means any physical, mental, or emotional condition that seriously interferes with the ability of a judge to perform the duties of judicial office.

(4) "Investigation" means the gathering of information with respect to alleged misconduct or disability.

(5) "Judge" means any justice or judge of the General Court of Justice of North Carolina, including any retired justice or judge who is recalled for service as an emergency judge of any division of the General Court of Justice.

(6) "Letter of caution" means a written action of the Commission that cautions a judge not to engage in certain conduct that violates the Code of Judicial Conduct as adopted by the Supreme Court.

(7) "Public reprimand" means a written action of the Commission issued upon a finding by the Commission that a judge has violated the Code of Judicial Conduct and has engaged in conduct prejudicial to the administration of justice, but that misconduct is minor and does not warrant a recommendation by the Commission that the judge be disciplined by the Supreme Court. A public reprimand may require that the judge follow a corrective course of action.

(8) "Remove" or "removal" means a finding by the Supreme Court, based upon a written recommendation by the Commission, that a judge should be relieved of all duties of the judge's office and disqualified from holding further judicial office.

(9) "Suspend" or "suspension" means a finding by the Supreme Court, based upon a written recommendation by the Commission, that a judge should be relieved of the duties of the judge's office for a period of time, and upon conditions, including those regarding treatment and compensation, as may be specified by the Supreme Court.

"§ 7A-375. Judicial Standards Commission.

(a) The Judicial Standards Commission shall consist ~~of:~~ of the following residents of North Carolina: one Court of Appeals judge, ~~one~~ two superior court ~~judge,~~ judges, and ~~one~~ two district court ~~judge,~~ judges, each appointed by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court; ~~two~~ four members of the State Bar who have actively practiced in the courts of the State for at least 10 years, elected by the State Bar Council; and ~~two~~ four citizens who are not judges, active or retired, nor members of the State Bar, ~~appointed by the Governor.~~ two appointed by the Governor, and two appointed by the General Assembly in accordance with G.S. 120-121, one upon recommendation of the President Pro Tempore of the Senate and one upon recommendation of the Speaker of the House of Representatives. The Court of Appeals judge shall act as chair of the Commission.

(b) The Court of Appeals judge shall serve at the pleasure of the Chief Justice. Terms of other Commission members shall be for six ~~years, except that, to achieve overlapping of terms, one of the judges, one of the practicing members of the State Bar, and one of the citizens shall be appointed initially for a term of only three years.~~ years. No member who has served a full six-year term is eligible for reappointment. If a member ceases to have the qualifications required for ~~his~~ the member's appointment, ~~he~~ that person ceases to be a member. Vacancies of members, other than those appointed by the General Assembly, are filled in the same manner as the original appointment, for the remainder of the term. Vacancies of members appointed by the General Assembly are filled as provided under G.S. 120-122. Members who are not judges are entitled to per diem and all members are entitled to reimbursement for travel and subsistence expenses at the rate applicable to members of State boards and commissions generally, for each day engaged in official business.

(c) If a member of the Commission who is a judge becomes disabled, or becomes a respondent before the Commission, the Chief Justice shall appoint an alternate member to serve during the period of disability or disqualification. The alternate member shall be from the same division of the General Court of Justice as the judge whose place ~~he~~ the alternate member takes. If a member of the Commission who is not a judge becomes disabled, the Governor, if he appointed the disabled member, shall appoint, or the State Bar Council, if it elected the disabled member, shall elect, an alternate member to serve during the period of disability. If a member of the Commission who is not a judge and who was appointed by the General Assembly becomes disabled, an alternate member shall be appointed to serve during the period of disability in the same manner as if there were a vacancy to be filled under G.S. 120-122. In a particular case, if a member ~~disqualifies himself,~~ becomes disqualified, or is successfully challenged for cause, ~~his~~ the member's seat for that case shall be filled by an alternate member selected as provided in this subsection.

(d) A member may serve after expiration of ~~his~~ the member's term only to participate until the conclusion of a ~~formal~~ disciplinary proceeding begun before expiration of ~~his~~ the member's term. This subsection shall apply also to any judicial member whose membership on the Commission is automatically terminated by retirement or resignation from judicial office, or expiration of the term of judicial office.

"§ 7A-376. ~~Grounds for censure or removal.~~ Grounds for discipline by Commission; censure, suspension, or removal by the Supreme Court.

(a) The Commission upon a determination that any judge has engaged in conduct that violates the North Carolina Code of Judicial Conduct as adopted by the Supreme Court but that is not of such a nature as would warrant a recommendation of censure, suspension, or removal, may issue to the judge a private letter of caution or may issue to the judge a public reprimand.

(b) Upon recommendation of the Commission, the Supreme Court may ~~censure or remove~~ censure, suspend, or remove any judge for willful misconduct in office, willful and persistent failure to perform ~~his~~ the judge's duties, habitual intemperance, conviction of a crime involving moral turpitude, or conduct prejudicial to the administration of justice that brings the judicial office into disrepute. ~~Upon recommendation of the Commission, the Supreme Court may remove any judge for mental or physical incapacity interfering with the performance of his duties, which is, or is likely to become, permanent.~~ A judge who is suspended for any of the foregoing reasons shall receive no compensation during the period of that suspension. A judge who is removed for any of the foregoing reasons shall receive no retirement compensation and is disqualified from holding further judicial office.

(c) Upon recommendation of the Commission, the Supreme Court may suspend, for a period of time the Supreme Court deems necessary, any judge for temporary physical or mental incapacity interfering with the performance of the judge's duties, and may remove any judge for physical or mental incapacity interfering with the performance of the judge's duties which is, or is likely to become, permanent. A judge who is suspended for temporary incapacity shall continue to receive compensation during the period of the suspension. A judge removed for mental or physical incapacity is entitled to retirement compensation if ~~he~~ the judge has accumulated the years of creditable service required for incapacity or disability retirement under any provision of State law, but he shall not sit as an emergency justice or judge. ~~A judge removed for other than mental or physical incapacity receives no retirement compensation, and is disqualified from holding further judicial office.~~

Introduced by:	Rep. Haire	Summary by:	Robin Johnson
Version:	PCS to Third Edition H1417-CSRH-44[v.2]		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 1417 amends the current statutes governing the Judicial Standards Commission by expanding the Commission, expanding disciplinary action to include suspension, private letters of caution, and public reprimands, and making other changes.

Current G.S. 7A-375 establishes the seven member Judicial Standards Commission. Current G.S. 7A-376 sets out grounds for censure and removal of a judge by the Supreme Court, upon recommendation of the Commission. Current G.S. 7A-377 sets out the procedures of the Commission. Current G.S. 7A-378 sets out the grounds and procedure for removal of a justice of the Supreme Court.

In addition, with the approval of the Chief Justice, for specific cases, the chair may employ special counsel and ask the SBI to furnish an investigator. Also allows executive director, counsel or investigator to serve subpoenas and other process.

§ 120-122. Vacancies in legislative appointments.

When a vacancy occurs in any office subject to appointment by the General Assembly upon the recommendation of the Speaker of the House of Representatives, upon the recommendation of the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, or upon the recommendation of the President of the Senate, and the vacancy occurs either: (i) after election of the General Assembly but before convening of the regular session; (ii) when the General Assembly has adjourned to a date certain, which date is more than 20 days after the date of adjournment; (iii) after sine die adjournment of the regular session; or (iv) when the term of office expires and a successor has not been appointed, then the Governor may appoint a person to serve until the expiration of the term or until the General Assembly fills the vacancy, whichever occurs first. The General Assembly may fill the vacancy in accordance with G.S. 120-121 during a regular or extra session. When a person is holding over in office after the expiration of the term, for the purpose of this section that office may be filled as if it were vacant. Before making an appointment, the Governor shall consult the officer who recommended the original appointment to the General Assembly (the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, or the President of the Senate), and ask for a written recommendation. After receiving the written recommendation, the Governor must within 30 days either appoint the person recommended or inform the officer who made the recommendation that he is rejecting the recommendation. Failure to act within 30 days as required under the provisions of the preceding sentence shall be deemed to be approval of the candidate, and the candidate shall be eligible to enter the office in as full and ample extent as if the Governor had executed the appointment. The Governor shall not appoint a person other than the person so recommended. Any position subject to initial appointment by the General Assembly but not filled prior to sine die adjournment of the Session at which the position was created or adjournment to a date certain which date is more than 20 days after the date of adjournment of the session at which the position was created may be filled by the Governor under this section as if it were a vacancy occurring after the General Assembly had made an appointment.

Sec. 17. Removal of Judges, Magistrates and Clerks.

(1) Removal of Judges by the General Assembly. Any Justice or Judge of the General Court of Justice may be removed from office for mental or physical incapacity by joint resolution of two-thirds of all the members of each house of the General Assembly. Any Justice or Judge against whom the General Assembly may be about to proceed shall receive notice thereof, accompanied by a copy of the causes alleged for his removal, at least 20 days before the day on which either house of the General Assembly shall act thereon. Removal from office by the General Assembly for any other cause shall be by impeachment.

(2) Additional method of removal of Judges. The General Assembly shall prescribe a procedure, in addition to impeachment and address set forth in this Section, for the removal of a Justice or Judge of the General Court of Justice for mental or physical incapacity interfering with the performance of his duties which is, or is likely to become, permanent, and for the censure and removal of a Justice or Judge of the General Court of Justice for wilful misconduct in office, wilful and persistent failure to perform his duties, habitual intemperance, conviction of a crime involving moral turpitude, or conduct prejudicial to the administration of justice that brings the judicial office into disrepute.

(3) Removal of Magistrates. The General Assembly shall provide by general law for the removal of Magistrates for misconduct or mental or physical incapacity.

(4) Removal of Clerks. Any Clerk of the Superior Court may be removed from office for misconduct or mental or physical incapacity by the senior regular resident Superior Court Judge serving the county. Any Clerk against whom proceedings are instituted shall receive written notice of the charges against him at least 10 days before the hearing upon the charges. Any Clerk so removed from office shall be entitled to an appeal as provided by law.

Judicial Standards Commission

Formed in1973, the North Carolina Judicial Standards Commission was established to consider complaints against judges and, where appropriate, to make recommendations for censure or removal.

The commission is authorized to receive written complaints from citizens concerned with qualifications or conduct of any judge and to investigate those complaints. After a complaint has been investigated and the judge has been given a due process hearing, the commission may recommend to the Supreme Court that the judge be censured and removed.

In addition, upon the commission's recommendation, the Supreme Court may remove any judge for mental or physical incapacity interfering with the performance of duties when the incapacity is, or is likely to become, permanent.

The seven-member commission is composed of three judges appointed by the chief justice: a Court of Appeals judge, a Superior Court judge and a District Court judge. The State Bar Council appoints two attorneys and the governor appoints two citizens who are not judges or lawyers. Members serve a six-year term.

"§ 14-401.22. Concealment of death.

(a) Any person who, with the intent to conceal the death of a person, fails to notify a law enforcement authority of the death or secretly buries or otherwise secretly disposes of a dead human body is guilty of a Class I felony.

(b) Any person who aids, counsels, or abets any other person in concealing the death of a person is guilty of a Class A1 misdemeanor."

SECTION 2. This act becomes effective December 1, 2005, and applies to offenses committed on or after that date.

HOUSE BILL 926:
Concealing a Death/Crim. Offense

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	August 9, 2005
Introduced by:	Rep. Preston	Summary by:	Robin Johnson*
Version:	Third Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 926 would make it a Class I felony for any person, with the intent to conceal a death, to fail to notify a law enforcement authority of a death, or to secretly bury or dispose of a dead human body. Aiding or abetting the offense would be a Class A1 misdemeanor. This act becomes effective December 1, 2005, and applies to offenses committed on or after that date.

CURRENT LAW:

- In the event of death without medical attendance, it is the duty of the funeral director or other person having knowledge of the death to notify the local medical examiner of the death. It is a Class 1 misdemeanor for any person to fail to notify the medical examiner or to remove or permit the removal of a dead human body without authorization of the medical examiner. (G.S. 130A-26A(a)(2) &(4))
- Any person who, in an attempt to conceal a birth, secretly disposes the dead body of a newborn child is guilty of a Class I felony. Aiding or abetting the offense is a Class 1 misdemeanor. (G.S. 14-46)
- Under the common law, aiding or abetting a felony is punishable at the same level as the felony itself.

BILL ANALYSIS:

This bill would make it a Class I felony for any person, with intent to conceal the death of a person, to do the following:

- Fail to notify a law enforcement authority of the death
- Secretly bury or dispose of a dead human body

Aiding or abetting the offense would be a Class A1 misdemeanor.

The presumptive punishment, assuming no prior convictions, for a Class I felony is community service, with a 4-6 month minimum sentence. A Class A1 misdemeanant, with no prior convictions, may be sentenced from 1 – 60 days of community service, intermediate, or active punishment.

EFFECTIVE DATE:

This act would become effective December 1, 2005, and would apply to offenses committed on or after that date.

This fiscal analysis is independent of the impact of other criminal penalty bills being considered by the General Assembly, which could also increase the projected prison population and thus the availability of prison beds in future years. The Fiscal Research Division is tracking the cumulative effect of all criminal penalty bills on the prison system as well as the Judicial Department.*

BILL SUMMARY: This bill would enact new G.S. 14-401.22 to provide that, with the intent to conceal an individual's death, failure to notify a law enforcement authority of the death and secretly burying or otherwise disposing of the body would be a Class I felony. Additionally, any person aiding, counseling, or abetting the concealment of an individual's death would be guilty of a Class A1 misdemeanor.

The third edition specifies that the offense would apply to failure to notify a law enforcement authority or secretly disposing of the body, rather than stipulating that a person both fail to notify law enforcement and secretly dispose of the body.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

General

Current G.S. 130A-115(e) prohibits the disposal or removal of a dead human body without the authorization of the medical examiner. Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) data indicates that, in calendar year 2004, 15 defendants were charged with Class 1 misdemeanor public health violations under G.S. 130A-25, which would include violations of G.S. 130A-115(e). No data exists with respect to how many, if any, of these 15 charges were for violations of G.S. 130A-115(e) for unlawfully disposing of a dead human body.

As the bill creates 1) a new Class I felony for failing to notify law enforcement in the event of a death or secretly disposing of the body with intent to conceal the death; and, 2) a Class A1 misdemeanor for aiding, counseling, or abetting such behavior, it would be expected to result in additional charges and convictions and would consequently incur a fiscal impact. Changes in the third edition specifying that the offense would apply to either failing to notify law enforcement or secretly disposing of the body, rather than requiring both, would expand the scope of the offense slightly and could result in some additional charges and convictions.

Because the offense is new, it is not known how many offenders might be charged and convicted as a result of this bill. However, as the small number of charges for violations of G.S. 130A-115(e) is some indication that disposing of a dead body without proper authorization occurs infrequently, the numbers of new charges and convictions resulting from this bill is not expected to be significant and the fiscal impact is not expected be substantial.

The Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission prepares prison population projections for each criminal penalty bill. The Commission assumes for each bill that increasing criminal penalties does not have a deterrent or incapacitative effect on crime. Therefore, the Fiscal Research Division does not assume savings due to deterrent effects for this bill or any criminal penalty bill.

Department of Correction

The Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission prepares inmate population projections annually. The projections used for incarceration fiscal notes are based on January 2005 projections. These projections are based on historical information on incarceration and release rates under Structured Sentencing, crime rate forecasts by a technical advisory group, probation and revocation rates, and the decline (parole and maxouts) of the stock prison population sentenced under previous sentencing acts. Based on the most recent population projections and estimated available prison bed capacity, there are no surplus prison beds available for the five-year fiscal note horizon and beyond.

Because this bill creates new criminal offenses, the Sentencing Commission has no historical data from which to estimate the impact on prison population. As no data is available regarding the frequency with which individuals secretly bury or otherwise dispose of a dead human body to intentionally conceal the death, it is not known how many offenders might be sentenced under this bill. However, due to indications that convictions for a similar offense under G.S. 130A-115(e) are rare (see "General"), the number of convictions under this bill is not expected to be substantial.

Class I Felonies: In FY 2003-04, eleven percent of Class I felony convictions resulted in active sentences. If, for example, there were ten Class I convictions for this proposed offense per year, the combination of active sentences and probation revocations would result in the need for one additional prison bed the first year and three additional prison beds the second year. The average annual operating cost for one prison bed in FY 2006-07 will be an estimated $24,740.

Class A1 Misdemeanors: In FY 2003-04, 24 percent of Class A1 misdemeanors resulted in active sentences and the average active sentence length was 73 days. Offenders with active sentences of less than ninety days are housed in county jails and DOC reimburses counties for housing offenders between thirty and ninety days at a rate of $18 per day per offender. Because most Class A1 misdemeanants serving active time as a result of this bill would be housed in county jails, Class A1 convictions due to this bill would not be expected to substantially impact prison population.

Non-Active Sentences: In FY 2003-04, 40 percent of Class I convictions resulted in intermediate sanctions and 49 percent in community sanctions; 4 percent of Class A1 misdemeanants received intermediate sanctions and 72 percent received community punishment. Probation officers in the Division of Community Corrections (DCC) supervise offenders with intermediate sanctions at an estimated cost of $10.94 per day for the first six months and $1.87 per day thereafter. (This cost estimate is based on the average cost and duration of intensive probation, the most common intermediate sanction.) The estimated cost for a supervised community offender is $1.87 per day.

Judicial Branch

For most criminal penalty bills, the Administrative Office of the Courts provides Fiscal Research with an analysis of the fiscal impact of the specific bill. For these bills, fiscal impact is typically based on the assumption that court time will increase due to an expected increase in trials and a corresponding increase in the hours of work for judges, clerks and prosecutors. This increased court time is also expected to result in greater expenditures for jury fees and indigent defense.

Although AOC has no historical data from which to project the specific number of charges that might result from this bill, based on the small number of charges for a similar offense under G.S. 130A-115(e), we do not expect the number of charges under this bill to be substantial. For any new Class A1 misdemeanor or Class I felony charges due to this bill, there would be additional court and preparation time needed to process the charge, thus increasing district and superior court workload, respectively. AOC estimates the cost to dispose of one charge as shown in the table below.

Offense Class	Settled via Trial			Settled via Guilty Plea
	Court/Attorney Costs	Indigent Defense	Total	-
Class A1 Misdemeanor	$2,087	$1,502	$3,589	$286
Class I Felony	$3,877	$1,931	$5,808	$329

Manufactured Homes/Longer Termination Notice

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	August 10, 2005
Introduced by:	Reps. Fisher, Bordsen	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith
Version:	Third Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 1243 would lengthen the notice period required for the termination of a tenancy for the rental space for a manufactured home.

The bill would become effective January 1, 2006, and apply to all notices to quit given on or after that date.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 42-14 provides the statutory minimum amount of time a landlord must give notice to quit to a tenant.

- A tenancy from year to year - one month notice to quit
- A tenancy from month to month - seven days notice to quit
- A tenancy from week to week: - two days notice to quit
- For the rental of a space for a manufactured home – at least 30 days before the end of the current rental period regardless of the term of the tenancy

The owner of a manufactured housing community must give notice of 180 days before the owner intends to convert the community to another use that will require the homes to be moved. The owner of the community must give the notice to the owner of the manufactured home. If the closure is due to a valid order of a state or local government, then notice must be given of the closure within 3 days of the date of the order.

A tenant who holds over without the permission of the landlord can be ejected from the premises in any of the following situations:

- When the tenancy has expired
- When the tenant has committed any act that the lease stipulates would terminate the lease
- When the tenant who is in arrears for rent or has agreed to cultivate the land and pay a part of the crop or has given the landlord a lien on the crop does not cultivate the land

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT AMENDING THE LAWS RELATING TO CHILD SUPPORT ENFORCEMENT IN ORDER TO CLARIFY AND ENHANCE THOSE LAWS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 50-13.9 reads as rewritten:

"§ 50-13.9. Procedure to insure payment of child support.

(a) Upon its own motion or upon motion of either party, the court may order at any time that support payments be made to the State Child Support Collection and Disbursement Unit for remittance to the party entitled to receive the payments. For child support orders initially entered on or after January 1, 1994, the immediate income withholding provisions of G.S. 110-136.5(c1) apply.

(b) After entry of an order by the court under subsection (a) of this section, the State Child Support Collection and Disbursement Unit shall transmit child support payments that are made to it to the custodial parent or other party entitled to receive them, unless a court order requires otherwise.

(b1) In a IV-D case:

(1) The designated child support enforcement agency shall have the sole responsibility and authority for monitoring the obligor's compliance with all child support orders in the case and for initiating any enforcement procedures that it considers appropriate.

(2) The clerk of court shall maintain all official records in the case.

(3) The designated child support enforcement agency shall maintain any other records needed to monitor the obligor's compliance with or to enforce the child support orders in the case, including records showing the amount of each payment of child support received from or on behalf of the obligor, along with the dates on which each payment was received. In any action establishing, enforcing, or modifying a child support order, the payment records maintained by the designated child support agency shall be admissible evidence, and the court shall permit the designated representative to authenticate those records.

(b2) In a non-IV-D case:

~~(1) The clerk of court shall have the responsibility and authority for monitoring the obligor's compliance with all child support orders in the case and for initiating any enforcement procedures that it considers appropriate. The State Child Support Collection and Disbursement Unit shall notify the clerk of court of all payments made in non-IV-D cases so that the clerk of court can initiate enforcement proceedings as provided in subsection (d) of this section.~~

(2) The clerk of court shall maintain all official records in the case.

~~(3) The clerk of court shall maintain any other records needed to monitor the obligor's compliance with or to enforce the child support orders in the case, including records showing the amount of each payment of child support received from or on behalf of the obligor, along with the dates on which each payment was received.~~

(c) ~~In a non-IV-D case, the parties affected by the order shall inform the clerk of court of any change of address or of other condition that may affect the administration of the order.~~ In a IV-D case, the parties affected by the order shall inform the designated child support enforcement agency of any change of address or other condition that may affect the administration of the order. The court may provide in the order that a party failing to inform the court or, as appropriate, the designated child support enforcement agency, of a change of address within a reasonable period of time may be held in civil contempt.

(d) ~~In a non-IV-D case, when the clerk of superior court is notified by the State Child Support Collection and Disbursement Unit that an obligor has failed to make a required payment of child support and is in arrears, the clerk of superior court shall mail by regular mail to the last known address of the obligor a notice of delinquency. The notice shall set out the amount of child support currently due and shall demand immediate payment of that amount. The notice shall also state that failure to make immediate payment will result in the issuance by the court of an enforcement order requiring the obligor to appear before a district court judge and show cause why the support obligation should not be enforced by income withholding, contempt of court, revocation of licensing privileges, or other appropriate means. Failure to receive the delinquency notice is not a defense in any subsequent proceeding. Sending the notice of delinquency is in the discretion of the clerk if the clerk has, during the previous 12 months, sent a notice or notices of delinquency to the obligor for nonpayment, or if income withholding has been implemented against the obligor or the obligor has been previously found in contempt for nonpayment under the same child support order.~~

~~If the arrearage is not paid in full within 21 days after the mailing of the delinquency notice, or without waiting the 21 days if the clerk has elected not to mail a delinquency notice for any of the reasons provided in this subsection, the clerk shall cause an enforcement order to be issued and shall issue a notice of hearing before a district court judge.~~ Upon request of an obligee, the clerk or a district court judge may order the obligor to appear and show cause why the obligor should not be subjected to income withholding or adjudged in contempt of court, or both. The ~~enforcement~~ order shall ~~order~~ require the obligor to appear and show cause why the obligor should not be subjected to income withholding or adjudged in contempt of court, or both, and shall order the obligor to bring to the hearing records and information relating to the obligor's employment, the obligor's licensing privileges, and the amount and sources of the obligor's disposable income. The ~~enforcement~~ order shall state:

(1) That the obligor is under a court order to provide child support, the name of each child for whose benefit support is due, and information sufficient to identify the order;

(2) That the obligor is delinquent and the amount of overdue support;

(2a) That the court may order the revocation of some or all of the obligor's licensing privileges if the obligor is delinquent in an amount equal to the support due for one month;

(3) That the court may order income withholding if the obligor is delinquent in an amount equal to the support due for one month;

(4) That income withholding, if implemented, will apply to the obligor's current payors and all subsequent payors and will be continued until terminated pursuant to G.S. 110-136.10;

(5) That failure to bring to the hearing records and information relating to his employment and the amount and sources of his disposable income will be grounds for contempt;

(6) That if income withholding is not an available or appropriate remedy, the court may determine whether the obligor is in contempt or whether any other enforcement remedy is appropriate.

The ~~enforcement~~ order may be signed by the clerk or a district court judge, and shall be served on the obligor pursuant to G.S. 1A-1, Rule 4, Rules of Civil Procedure. ~~The clerk shall also notify the party to whom support is owed of the pending hearing. The clerk may withdraw the order to the supporting party upon receipt of the delinquent payment.~~ On motion of the person to whom support is ~~owed,~~ owed in a non-IV-D case, with the approval of the district court judge, if the district court judge finds it is in the best interest of the child, no ~~enforcement~~ order shall be issued.

~~When the matter comes before the court, the court shall proceed as in the case of a motion for income withholding under G.S. 110-136.5. If income withholding is not an available or adequate remedy, the court may proceed with contempt, imposition of a lien, or other available, appropriate enforcement remedies.~~

~~This subsection shall apply only to non-IV-D cases, except that the clerk shall issue an enforcement order in a IV-D case when requested to do so by an IV-D obligee.~~

~~(e) The clerk of court shall maintain and make available to the district court judge a list of attorneys who are willing to undertake representation, pursuant to this section, of persons to whom child support is owed. No attorney shall be placed on such list without his permission.~~

~~(f) At least seven days prior to an enforcement hearing as set forth in subsection (d), the clerk must notify the district court judge of all cases to be heard for enforcement~~

~~at the next term, and the judge shall appoint an attorney from the list described in subsection (e) to represent each party to whom support payments are owed if the judge deems it to be in the best interest of the child for whom support is being paid, unless:~~

~~(1) The attorney of record for the party to whom support payments are owed has notified the clerk of court that he will appear for said party; or~~

~~(2) The party to whom support payments are owed requests the judge not to appoint an attorney; or~~

~~(3) An attorney for the enforcement of child support obligations pursuant to Title IV, Part D, of the Social Security Act as amended is available.~~

~~The judge may order payment of reasonable attorney's fees as provided in G.S. 50-13.6.~~

(g) Nothing in this section shall preclude the independent initiation by a party of proceedings for civil contempt or for income withholding."

SECTION 2. G.S. 110-135 reads as rewritten:

"§ 110-135. Debt to State created.

Acceptance of public assistance by or on behalf of a dependent child creates a debt, in the amount of public assistance paid, due and owing the State by the responsible parent or parents of the child. Provided, however, that in those cases in which child support was required to be paid incident to a court order during the time of receipt of public assistance, the debt shall be limited to the amount specified in such court order. This liability shall attach only to public assistance granted subsequent to June 30, 1975, and only with respect to the period of time during which public assistance is granted, and only if the responsible parent or parents were financially able to furnish support during this period.

The United States, the State of North Carolina, and any county within the State which has provided public assistance to or on behalf of a dependent child shall be entitled to share in any sum collected under this section, and their proportionate parts of such sum shall be determined in accordance with the matching formulas in use during the period for which assistance was paid.

No action to collect such debt shall be commenced after the expiration of five years subsequent to the receipt of the last grant of public assistance. The county attorney or an attorney retained by the county and/or State shall represent the State in all proceedings brought under this section.

A past-due public assistance debt as described in this section may be deemed negotiable and subject to reduction if the public assistance debt is not less than fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) and the responsible parent continues to be obligated to pay current child support. Upon agreement between the State and the responsible parent, the responsible parent shall pay all child support payments, including payments due on child support arrears, entered by a valid court order for a 24-month period of time. Upon the timely payment of each court-ordered child support obligation during the full 24-month period, including payments due on child support arrears, the State shall reduce the responsible parent's public assistance debt by two-thirds. If the responsible parent is late or defaults on any single payment during the 24-month period, no portion of the public assistance debt shall be reduced. The responsible parent may attempt to achieve 24 consecutive months of child support payments as often as possible in order to reduce his or her public assistance debt. However, once the responsible parent's public assistance debt has been reduced by two-thirds because of the successful completion of this agreement, the responsible parent shall no longer be eligible for this program. The reduction of public assistance debt as set forth in this section shall be in addition to all other remedies available to the State for the retirement of the debt. This program shall not prevent the State from taking any and all other measures available by law.

Upon the termination of a child support obligation due to the death of the obligor, the Department shall determine whether the obligor's estate contains sufficient assets to satisfy any child support arrearages. If sufficient assets are available, the Department shall attempt to collect the arrearage."

SECTION 3. G.S. 49-14(a) reads as rewritten:

"(a) The paternity of a child born out of wedlock may be established by civil action at any time prior to such child's eighteenth birthday. A ~~certified~~ copy of a certificate of birth of the child shall be attached to the complaint. The establishment of paternity shall not have the effect of legitimation. The social security numbers, if known, of the minor child's parents shall be placed in the record of the proceeding."

SECTION 4. G.S. 130A-101(f) reads as rewritten:

"(f) If the mother was unmarried at all times from date of conception through date of birth, the name of the father shall not be entered on the certificate unless the child's mother and father complete an affidavit acknowledging paternity which contains the following:

(2) A sworn statement by the father declaring that he believes he is the natural father of the child;

(3) Information explaining in plain language the effect of signing the affidavit, including a statement of parental rights and responsibilities and an acknowledgment of the receipt of this information; and

(4) The social security numbers of both parents.

The State Registrar, in consultation with the Child Support Enforcement Section of the Division of Social Services, shall develop and disseminate a form affidavit for use in compliance with this section, together with an information sheet that contains all the information required to be disclosed by subdivision (3) of this subsection.

Upon the execution of the affidavit, the declaring father shall be listed as the father on the birth ~~certificate and shall be presumed to be the natural father of the child,~~certificate, subject to the declaring father's right to rescind under G.S. 110-132. The executed affidavit shall be filed with the registrar along with the birth certificate. ~~A~~ In the event paternity is properly placed at issue, a certified copy of the affidavit shall be admissible in any action to establish paternity. The surname of the child shall be determined by the mother, except if the father's name is entered on the certificate, the mother and father shall agree upon the child's surname. If there is no agreement, the child's surname shall be the same as that of the mother.

The execution and filing of this affidavit with the registrar does not affect rights of inheritance unless the affidavit is also filed with the clerk of court in accordance with G.S. 29-19(b)(2)."

SECTION 5. G.S. 110-139.2(b1) reads as rewritten:

"(b1) The Department of Health and Human Services Child Support Enforcement Agency may notify any financial institution doing business in this State that an obligor who maintains an identified account with the financial institution has a ~~delinquent~~ child support obligation that may be eligible for levy on the account in an amount that satisfies some or all of the ~~delinquency.~~amount of unpaid support owed. In order to be able to attach a lien on and levy an obligor's account, the ~~obligor's child support obligation~~amount of unpaid support owed shall be ~~in arrears in~~ an amount not less than the amount of support owed for six months or one thousand dollars ($1,000), whichever is less.

Upon certification of the ~~arrears amount~~amount of unpaid support owed in accordance with G.S. 44-86(c), the Child Support Agency shall serve or cause to be served upon the ~~obligor~~ obligor, and when the matched account is owned jointly, any other nonliable owner of the account, and the financial institution a notice as provided by this subsection. ~~The notice shall be served in any manner provided in Rule 4 of the North Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure, except that a notice may be served on a financial institution in any other manner that the financial institution has agreed to in writing at any time prior to the time the notice is sent.~~ The notice shall include the name of the obligor, the financial institution where the account is located, the account number of the account to be levied to satisfy the lien, the certified ~~arrears amount,~~amount of unpaid support, information for the obligor or account owner on how to remove the lien or contest the lien in order to avoid the levy, and a copy of the applicable law, G.S. 110-139.2. The notice shall be served on the obligor, and any nonliable account owner, in any manner provided in Rule 4 of the North Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure. Upon service of the notice, the financial institution shall proceed in the following manner:

(1) Immediately attach a lien to the identified account.

(2) Notify the Child Support Agency of the balance of the account and date of the lien or that the account does not meet the requirement for levy under this subsection.

In order for an obligor or account owner to contest the lien, within 10 days after the obligor or account owner is served with the notice, the obligor or account owner shall send written notice of the basis of the ~~obligor's~~ contest to the Child Support Agency and shall request a hearing before the district court in the county where the support order was entered. The ~~lien may be contested~~obligor account holder may contest the lien only on the basis that the ~~arrearage~~ amount owed is an amount less than the amount of support owed for six months, or is less than one thousand dollars ($1,000), whichever is less, or the ~~obligor~~ contesting party is not the person subject to the court order of

AN ACT AMENDING THE LAWS RELATING TO CHILD SUPPORT ENFORCEMENT IN ORDER TO CLARIFY AND ENHANCE THOSE LAWS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 50-13.9 reads as rewritten:

"§ 50-13.9. Procedure to insure payment of child support.

(a) Upon its own motion or upon motion of either party, the court may order at any time that support payments be made to the State Child Support Collection and Disbursement Unit for remittance to the party entitled to receive the payments. For child support orders initially entered on or after January 1, 1994, the immediate income withholding provisions of G.S. 110-136.5(c1) apply.

(b) After entry of an order by the court under subsection (a) of this section, the State Child Support Collection and Disbursement Unit shall transmit child support payments that are made to it to the custodial parent or other party entitled to receive them, unless a court order requires otherwise.

(b1) In a IV-D case:

(1) The designated child support enforcement agency shall have the sole responsibility and authority for monitoring the obligor's compliance with all child support orders in the case and for initiating any enforcement procedures that it considers appropriate.

(2) The clerk of court shall maintain all official records in the case.

(3) The designated child support enforcement agency shall maintain any other records needed to monitor the obligor's compliance with or to enforce the child support orders in the case, including records showing the amount of each payment of child support received from or on behalf of the obligor, along with the dates on which each payment was received. In any action establishing, enforcing, or modifying a child support order, the payment records maintained by the designated child support agency shall be admissible evidence, and the court shall permit the designated representative to authenticate those records.

(b2) In a non-IV-D case:

~~(1) The clerk of court shall have the responsibility and authority for monitoring the obligor's compliance with all child support orders in the case and for initiating any enforcement procedures that it considers appropriate. The State Child Support Collection and Disbursement Unit shall notify the clerk of court of all payments made in non-IV-D cases so that the clerk of court can initiate enforcement proceedings as provided in subsection (d) of this section.~~

(2) The clerk of court shall maintain all official records ~~in the case.~~ and all case data concerning child support matters previously enforced by the clerk of court.

~~(3) The clerk of court shall maintain any other records needed to monitor the obligor's compliance with or to enforce the child support orders in the case, including records showing the amount of each payment of child support received from or on behalf of the obligor, along with the dates on which each payment was received.~~

(c) ~~In a non-IV-D case, the parties affected by the order shall inform the clerk of court of any change of address or of other condition that may affect the administration of the order.~~ In a IV-D case, the parties affected by the order shall inform the designated child support enforcement agency of any change of address or other condition that may affect the administration of the order. The court may provide in the order that a party failing to inform the court or, as appropriate, the designated child support enforcement agency, of a change of address within a reasonable period of time may be held in civil contempt.

(d) ~~In a non-IV-D case, when the clerk of superior court is notified by the State Child Support Collection and Disbursement Unit that an obligor has failed to make a required payment of child support and is in arrears, the clerk of superior court shall mail by regular mail to the last known address of the obligor a notice of delinquency. The notice shall set out the amount of child support currently due and shall demand immediate payment of that amount. The notice shall also state that failure to make immediate payment will result in the issuance by the court of an enforcement order requiring the obligor to appear before a district court judge and show cause why the support obligation should not be enforced by income withholding, contempt of court, revocation of licensing privileges, or other appropriate means. Failure to receive the delinquency notice is not a defense in any subsequent proceeding. Sending the notice of delinquency is in the discretion of the clerk if the clerk has, during the previous 12 months, sent a notice or notices of delinquency to the obligor for nonpayment, or if income withholding has been implemented against the obligor or the obligor has been previously found in contempt for nonpayment under the same child support order.~~

~~If the arrearage is not paid in full within 21 days after the mailing of the delinquency notice, or without waiting the 21 days if the clerk has elected not to mail a delinquency~~

~~notice for any of the reasons provided in this subsection, the clerk shall cause an enforcement order to be issued and shall issue a notice of hearing before a district court judge.~~ Upon affidavit of an obligee, the clerk or a district court judge may order the obligor to appear and show cause why the obligor should not be subjected to income withholding or adjudged in contempt of court, or both. The ~~enforcement~~ order shall ~~order~~ require the obligor to appear and show cause why the obligor should not be subjected to income withholding or adjudged in contempt of court, or both, and shall order the obligor to bring to the hearing records and information relating to the obligor's employment, the obligor's licensing privileges, and the amount and sources of the obligor's disposable income. The ~~enforcement~~ order shall state:

(1) That the obligor is under a court order to provide child support, the name of each child for whose benefit support is due, and information sufficient to identify the order;

(2) That the obligor is delinquent and the amount of overdue support;

(2a) That the court may order the revocation of some or all of the obligor's licensing privileges if the obligor is delinquent in an amount equal to the support due for one month;

(3) That the court may order income withholding if the obligor is delinquent in an amount equal to the support due for one month;

(4) That income withholding, if implemented, will apply to the obligor's current payors and all subsequent payors and will be continued until terminated pursuant to G.S. 110-136.10;

(5) That failure to bring to the hearing records and information relating to his employment and the amount and sources of his disposable income will be grounds for contempt;

(6) That if income withholding is not an available or appropriate remedy, the court may determine whether the obligor is in contempt or whether any other enforcement remedy is appropriate.

The ~~enforcement~~ order may be signed by the clerk or a district court judge, and shall be served on the obligor pursuant to G.S. 1A-1, Rule 4, Rules of Civil Procedure. ~~The clerk shall also notify the party to whom support is owed of the pending hearing. The clerk may withdraw the order to the supporting party upon receipt of the delinquent payment.~~ On motion of the person to whom support is ~~owed,~~ owed in a non-IV-D case, with the approval of the district court judge, if the district court judge finds it is in the best interest of the child, no ~~enforcement~~ order shall be issued.

~~When the matter comes before the court, the court shall proceed as in the case of a motion for income withholding under G.S. 110-136.5. If income withholding is not an available or adequate remedy, the court may proceed with contempt, imposition of a lien, or other available, appropriate enforcement remedies.~~

~~This subsection shall apply only to non-IV-D cases, except that the clerk shall issue an enforcement order in a IV-D case when requested to do so by an IV-D obligee.~~

~~(e) The clerk of court shall maintain and make available to the district court judge a list of attorneys who are willing to undertake representation, pursuant to this~~

~~section, of persons to whom child support is owed. No attorney shall be placed on such list without his permission.~~

~~(f) At least seven days prior to an enforcement hearing as set forth in subsection (d), the clerk must notify the district court judge of all cases to be heard for enforcement at the next term, and the judge shall appoint an attorney from the list described in subsection (e) to represent each party to whom support payments are owed if the judge deems it to be in the best interest of the child for whom support is being paid, unless:~~

~~(1) The attorney of record for the party to whom support payments are owed has notified the clerk of court that he will appear for said party; or~~

~~(2) The party to whom support payments are owed requests the judge not to appoint an attorney; or~~

~~(3) An attorney for the enforcement of child support obligations pursuant to Title IV, Part D, of the Social Security Act as amended is available.~~

~~The judge may order payment of reasonable attorney's fees as provided in G.S. 50-13.6.~~

(g) Nothing in this section shall preclude the independent initiation by a party of proceedings for civil contempt or for income withholding."

SECTION 2. G.S. 110-135 reads as rewritten:

"§ 110-135. Debt to State created.

Acceptance of public assistance by or on behalf of a dependent child creates a debt, in the amount of public assistance paid, due and owing the State by the responsible parent or parents of the child. Provided, however, that in those cases in which child support was required to be paid incident to a court order during the time of receipt of public assistance, the debt shall be limited to the amount specified in such court order. This liability shall attach only to public assistance granted subsequent to June 30, 1975, and only with respect to the period of time during which public assistance is granted, and only if the responsible parent or parents were financially able to furnish support during this period.

The United States, the State of North Carolina, and any county within the State which has provided public assistance to or on behalf of a dependent child shall be entitled to share in any sum collected under this section, and their proportionate parts of such sum shall be determined in accordance with the matching formulas in use during the period for which assistance was paid.

No action to collect such debt shall be commenced after the expiration of five years subsequent to the receipt of the last grant of public assistance. The county attorney or an attorney retained by the county and/or State shall represent the State in all proceedings brought under this section.

A past-due public assistance debt as described in this section may be deemed negotiable and subject to reduction if the public assistance debt is not less than fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) and the responsible parent continues to be obligated to pay current child support. Upon agreement between the State and the responsible parent, the responsible parent shall pay all child support payments, including payments due on child support arrears, entered by a valid court order for a 24-month period of time.

Upon the timely payment of each court-ordered child support obligation during the full 24-month period, including payments due on child support arrears, the State shall reduce the responsible parent's public assistance debt by two-thirds. If the responsible parent is late or defaults on any single payment during the 24-month period, no portion of the public assistance debt shall be reduced. The responsible parent may attempt to achieve 24 consecutive months of child support payments as often as possible in order to reduce his or her public assistance debt. However, once the responsible parent's public assistance debt has been reduced by two-thirds because of the successful completion of this agreement, the responsible parent shall no longer be eligible for this program. The reduction of public assistance debt as set forth in this section shall be in addition to all other remedies available to the State for the retirement of the debt. This program shall not prevent the State from taking any and all other measures available by law.

Upon the termination of a child support obligation due to the death of the obligor, the Department shall determine whether the obligor's estate contains sufficient assets to satisfy any child support arrearages. If sufficient assets are available, the Department shall attempt to collect the arrearage."

SECTION 3. G.S. 49-14(a) reads as rewritten:

"(a) The paternity of a child born out of wedlock may be established by civil action at any time prior to such child's eighteenth birthday. A ~~certified~~ copy of a certificate of birth of the child shall be attached to the complaint. The establishment of paternity shall not have the effect of legitimation. The social security numbers, if known, of the minor child's parents shall be placed in the record of the proceeding."

SECTION 4. G.S. 130A-101(f) reads as rewritten:

"(f) If the mother was unmarried at all times from date of conception through date of birth, the name of the father shall not be entered on the certificate unless the child's mother and father complete an affidavit acknowledging paternity which contains the following:

(1) A sworn statement by the mother consenting to the assertion of paternity by the father and declaring that the father is the child's natural father;

(2) A sworn statement by the father declaring that he believes he is the natural father of the child;

(3) Information explaining in plain language the effect of signing the affidavit, including a statement of parental rights and responsibilities and an acknowledgment of the receipt of this information; and

(4) The social security numbers of both parents.

The State Registrar, in consultation with the Child Support Enforcement Section of the Division of Social Services, shall develop and disseminate a form affidavit for use in compliance with this section, together with an information sheet that contains all the information required to be disclosed by subdivision (3) of this subsection.

Upon the execution of the affidavit, the declaring father shall be listed as the father on the birth ~~certificate and shall be presumed to be the natural father of the child,~~certificate, subject to the declaring father's right to rescind under G.S. 110-132.

The executed affidavit shall be filed with the registrar along with the birth certificate. ~~A~~ In the event paternity is properly placed at issue, a certified copy of the affidavit shall be admissible in any action to establish paternity. The surname of the child shall be determined by the mother, except if the father's name is entered on the certificate, the mother and father shall agree upon the child's surname. If there is no agreement, the child's surname shall be the same as that of the mother.

The execution and filing of this affidavit with the registrar does not affect rights of inheritance unless the affidavit is also filed with the clerk of court in accordance with G.S. 29-19(b)(2)."

SECTION 5. G.S. 110-139.2(b1) reads as rewritten:

"(b1) The Department of Health and Human Services Child Support Enforcement Agency may notify any financial institution doing business in this State that an obligor who maintains an identified account with the financial institution has a ~~delinquent~~ child support obligation that may be eligible for levy on the account in an amount that satisfies some or all of the ~~delinquency.~~amount of unpaid support owed. In order to be able to attach a lien on and levy an obligor's account, the ~~obligor's child support obligation~~amount of unpaid support owed shall be ~~in arrears in~~ an amount not less than the amount of support owed for six months or one thousand dollars ($1,000), whichever is less.

Upon certification of the ~~arrears amount~~amount of unpaid support owed in accordance with G.S. 44-86(c), the Child Support Agency shall serve or cause to be served upon the ~~obligor~~ obligor, and when the matched account is owned jointly, any other nonliable owner of the account, and the financial institution a notice as provided by this subsection. ~~The notice shall be served in any manner provided in Rule 4 of the North Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure, except that a notice may be served on a financial institution in any other manner that the financial institution has agreed to in writing at any time prior to the time the notice is sent.~~ The notice shall include the name of the obligor, the financial institution where the account is located, the account number of the account to be levied to satisfy the lien, the certified ~~arrears amount,~~amount of unpaid support, information for the obligor or account owner on how to remove the lien or contest the lien in order to avoid the levy, and a copy of the applicable law, G.S. 110-139.2. The notice shall be served on the obligor, and any nonliable account owner, in any manner provided in Rule 4 of the North Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure. The financial institution shall be served notice in accordance with Rule 5 of the North Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure. Upon service of the notice, the financial institution shall proceed in the following manner:

(1) Immediately attach a lien to the identified account.

(2) Notify the Child Support Agency of the balance of the account and date of the lien or that the account does not meet the requirement for levy under this subsection.

In order for an obligor or account owner to contest the lien, within 10 days after the obligor or account owner is served with the notice, the obligor or account owner shall send written notice of the basis of the ~~obligor's~~ contest to the Child Support Agency and shall request a hearing before the district court in the county where the support order was entered. The ~~lien may be contested~~obligor account holder may contest the lien only on the basis that the ~~arrearage~~ amount owed is an amount less than the amount of support owed for six months, or is less than one thousand dollars ($1,000), whichever is less, or the ~~obligor~~ contesting party is not the person subject to the court order of support. The district court may assess court costs against the nonprevailing party. If no response is received from the obligor or account owner within 10 days of the service of the notice, the Child Support Agency shall notify the financial institution to submit payment, up to the total amount of the child support arrears, if available. This amount is to be applied to the debt of the ~~delinquent~~ obligor.

A financial institution shall not be liable to any person for complying in good faith with this subsection. The remedy set forth in this section shall be in addition to all other remedies available to the State for the reduction of the obligor's child support arrears. This remedy shall not prevent the State from taking any and all other concurrent measures available by law.

This levy procedure is to be available for direct use by all states' child support programs to financial institutions in this ~~State.~~State without involvement of the Department."

SECTION 6. Section 1 becomes effective July 1, 2007. The remainder of the act is effective 90 days after it becomes law.

HOUSE BILL 1375:
Child Support Reforms

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	August 10, 2005
Introduced by:	Rep. Culpepper	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith
Version:	PCS to Second Edition H1375-CSRC-80		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 1375 makes several changes to the child support enforcement laws, including the following:

- Removing the clerk of court's authority to monitor child support payment compliance.
- Authorizing DSS to reduce by two-thirds an obligor's past-due public assistance debt where the debt is at least $15,000 and the obligor timely makes all child support payments, including arrearages, for a 24-month period.
- Eliminating the requirement that birth certificates be certified when submitted as part of a paternity action.
- Changing the method of service on financial institutions regarding liens on accounts of child support obligors from Rule 4 to Rule 5 of the North Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure.

The primary change in the Proposed Committee Substitute is that it postpones the removal of the clerk of court's authority to enforce child support payment compliance until January 1, 2007.

CURRENT LAW: Like all states, North Carolina has enacted a number of statutes to increase collections of child support. Many of these statutes are the results of federal initiatives in the area of child support. When an order for child support directs the obligor to pay the amount into the court, the obligor sends the payment to a centralized collection agency, the State Child Support Collection and Disbursement Unit (SCSCDU). If the custodial parent is a recipient of welfare assistance under Title IV-D of the Social Security Act, all payments for child support must be paid to the SCSCDU. The child support enforcement agency monitors payments to the SCSCDU and seeks various enforcement remedies if the obligor becomes delinquent.

In non-IV-D cases, the parties may agree that payments be made to the SCSCDU or the court may make such an order in its discretion. However, in these cases, the clerk of court has the responsibility and authority for monitoring the obligor's compliance with all child support orders in the case and for initiating enforcement procedures that it considers appropriate. The SCSCDU must notify the clerk of court of all payments made in non IV-D cases so that the clerk can initiate enforcement proceedings. The clerk sends by regular mail a notice of delinquency to the obligor. If the arrearage is not paid within 21 days, the clerk calendars a hearing to seek an enforcement remedy, such as entry of an income withholding order, contempt of court, or revocation of licensing privileges.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Section 1. Removal of clerk's authority to process child support payments

Under current law, a person has four options in seeking assistance with child support enforcement: (1) self-representation; (2) representation by a private attorney; (3) the child support enforcement, or IV-D, agency; or (4) the clerk of court. DSS, or child support enforcement, handles the vast majority of the overall child support enforcement cases and has more resources and enforcement tools at its disposal than the clerks of court.[1]

Effective January 1, 2007, Section 1 of the bill would eliminate the authority of the clerk of court to monitor enforcement of payment under child support orders, further centralizing this function within DSS. The clerk would still be required to maintain all official records and all case data concerning child support matters previously enforced by the clerk of court in the case. The clerk or a district court judge would also have the authority, upon affidavit of the oblige, to issue an order ordering an obligor to appear and show cause why the obligor should not be the subject of one of the available enforcement remedies.

Section 2. Authorization for reduction of past-due public assistance debt in certain circumstances

A noncustodial parent ordered to pay child support would owe a debt to the custodial parent for failure to pay support. In addition, acceptance of public assistance on behalf of a dependent child creates a debt due and owing to the State. The State may bring an action against the responsible parent to recover amounts owed within 5 years of receipt of the last grant of public assistance.

Section 2 of the bill would authorize the State, through DSS, to negotiate and reduce by two-thirds the amount of past-due public assistance debt owed by a responsible parent on the condition that the parent timely pay all child support payments, including arrearages, for a 24-month period of time. The parent's public assistance debt would have to be at least $15,000 before the parent would be eligible to participate in the program. If the parent is late or defaults on any payment during the 24-month period, no portion of the public assistance debt would be reduced. Once a parent has obtained a reduction as the result of timely payments for a 24-month period, the parent is not eligible for a subsequent reduction. Of the 450,000 child support cases in North Carolina, less than 3,000 are cases involving arrearages of public assistance debt in excess of $15,000.

Section 3. Removal of certification requirement for birth certificates.

G.S. 49-14 sets out the procedure for establishing paternity. The purpose of this Article is to enable an illegitimate child to receive support from its biological father. Paternity may be established by filing a civil action with a certified copy of the child's birth certificate attached.

Section 3 of the bill would remove the requirement that the birth certificate be a "certified" copy.

Section 4. Clarification of "presumed natural father" reference.

G.S. 110-132 sets out the procedure by which parentage is determined for purposes of establishing a child support obligation. It states that a written affidavit executed by the putative father and mother of the child constitutes an admission of paternity and has the same legal effect as a judgment of paternity. G.S. 130A-101(f), which is the Vital Statistics Article, indicates that where the mother and father have signed affidavits acknowledging paternity, the father "shall be presumed to be the natural father of the child." This "presumed" language has created some confusion in light of G.S. 110-132.

Section 4 of the bill deletes the "presumed" language in order to clarify that G.S. 110-132 is the substantive law that governs paternity determinations, and that G.S. 130A-101(f) merely directs Vital Statistics to list the father on the birth certificate where an affidavit acknowledging paternity has been executed.

Section 5. Modifications to notice requirements related to liens on bank accounts.

[1]DHHS currently has about 412,000 cases compared to the clerks of court, which have a total of about 47,000.

Under current law, one enforcement mechanism available to DSS is levying an obligor's bank account. If a noncustodial parent has arrearages equal to six (6) months of their child support obligation or $1000 (whichever is less), the child support enforcement agency can request that a lien be placed on the parent's financial institution accounts. The child support agency is required to notify both the obligor and the financial institution of the relevant lien information in accordance with Rule 4 of the North Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure.

Section 5 of the bill does two things regarding the notice requirement:

- It would require the child support agency to notify any nonliable joint account holders, in addition to the responsible parent.
- It would require notice on the financial institution to be served in accordance with Rule 5 rather than Rule 4 of the North Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure. Rule 5 does not require a summons from the clerk, service by the sheriff, or use of certified mail (except where it refers to Rule 4). Service is made by either hand-delivery or regular mail.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Section 1 of the bill will become effective January 1, 2007. The remainder of the act is effective 90 days after it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: None of the changes in this bill are federal mandates. They are, however, recommendations of the Child Support Enforcement agency for improving the amount and efficiency with which child support payments are collected.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO DIRECT THE SENTENCING COMMISSION TO STUDY AND MAKE RECOMMENDATIONS REGARDING EVIDENCE THAT A MURDER WAS COMMITTED IN VIOLATION OF A VALID DOMESTIC VIOLENCE PROTECTIVE ORDER AS AN AGGRAVATING FACTOR IN CAPITAL SENTENCING.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. The North Carolina Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission, pursuant to its statutory responsibilities under Article 4 of Chapter 164 of the General Statutes, shall study aggravating factors which may be considered in capital felony sentencing pursuant to G.S. 15A-2000(e). In particular, the Commission shall examine the question of whether the State's capital sentencing law should include as an aggravating factor that the capital felony was committed at a time when the defendant knew the behavior was prohibited by a valid protective order entered pursuant to Chapter 50B of the General Statutes of North Carolina, or by a valid protective order entered by the courts of another state or the courts of an Indian tribe. The Commission shall report its findings and recommendations to the 2005 General Assembly not later than May 1, 2006. The report shall describe the Commission's deliberations and shall include any policy recommendations and proposed legislation.

SECTION 2. This act is effective when it becomes law.

HOUSE BILL 1436:
Death Penalty/Add Aggravating Factor

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	August 9, 2005
Introduced by:	Rep. Johnson	Summary by:	Robin Johnson
Version:	Second Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 1436 would direct the NC Sentencing Commission to study the list of aggravating factors for a capital offense to determine whether an aggravating factor should be added for when the murder was committed in violation of a valid domestic violence protective order. The Commission would be required to report to the General Assembly by May 1, 2006. The report must describe the Commission's deliberations and must include any policy recommendations and proposed legislation.

CURRENT LAW: When a person is convicted of first-degree murder in a case in which the State has given notice of its intent to seek the death penalty, the court conducts a separate sentencing proceeding to determine whether the defendant should be sentenced to death or life imprisonment. Evidence may be presented as to any matter that the court deems relevant to the sentence, and may include matters relating to the aggravating or mitigating circumstances enumerated in G.S. 15A-2000. After hearing the evidence, the jury renders a sentence recommendation based on whether sufficient aggravating circumstances exist, whether sufficient mitigating circumstances exist which outweigh the aggravating circumstances, and based on those considerations whether the defendant should be sentenced to death or to life imprisonment. The aggravating circumstances that may be considered are currently limited to the following:

- The murder was committed by an incarcerated defendant
- The defendant was previously convicted of a capital felony
- The defendant was previously convicted of a felony involving the use or threat of violence
- The murder was committed to avoiding arrest or to effect an escape from custody
- The murder was committed before, during, or after the commission of any homicide, robbery, rape or a sex offense, arson, burglary, kidnapping, or aircraft piracy or the unlawful throwing, placing, or discharging of a destructive device or bomb
- The murder was committed for pecuniary gain
- The murder was committed to disrupt or hinder a governmental function or the enforcement of laws
- The murder was committed against a law-enforcement officer, employee of the Department of Correction, jailer, fireman, judge or justice, former judge or justice, prosecutor or former prosecutor, juror or former juror, or witness or former witness against the defendant, while engaged in the performance of their official duties or because of the exercise of their official duty
- The murder was especially heinous, atrocious, or cruel
- The defendant created a great risk of death to more than one person by a hazardous weapon or device
- The murder was part of the defendant's course of violent conduct against another person or persons

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

HOUSE BILL 561

Committee Substitute Favorable 5/2/05

Short Title: Commissions for Personal Representatives. (Public)

Referred to:

March 10, 2005

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT RELATING TO COMMISSIONS ALLOWED TO PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVES.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 28A-23-3 reads as rewritten:

"§ 28A-23-3. Commissions allowed personal representatives; representatives guilty of misconduct or default.

(a) Personal representatives, collectors or public administrators shall be entitled to commissions to be fixed in the discretion of the clerk of superior court not to exceed five percent (5%) upon the amounts of receipts, including the value of all personal property when received, and upon the expenditures made in accordance with law, which commissions shall be charged as a part of the costs of administration and, upon allowance, may be retained out of the assets of the estate against creditors and all other persons claiming an interest in the estate. Provided, however, when the gross value of an estate is two thousand dollars ($2,000) or less, the clerk of superior court is authorized and empowered to fix the commission to be received by the personal representative, collector or public administrator in an amount as ~~he,~~ the clerk of superior court, in ~~his~~ the clerk's discretion, deems just and adequate.

(b) In determining the amount of such commissions, both upon personal property received and upon expenditures made, the clerk of superior court shall consider the time, responsibility, trouble and skill involved in the management of the estate. Where real property is sold to pay debts or legacies, the commission shall be computed only on the proceeds actually applied in the payment of debts or legacies.

(c) The clerk of superior court may allow commissions from time to time during the course of the administration, but the total commissions allowed shall be determined on final settlement of the estate and shall not exceed the limit fixed in this section.

(d) Nothing in this section shall be construed:

(1) To prevent the clerk of the superior court from allowing reasonable sums for necessary charges and disbursements incurred in the management of the estate; or

(2) To allow commissions on distribution of the shares of heirs or on distribution of shares of devisees; or

(3) To abridge the right of any party interested in the administration of a decedent's estate to appeal an order of the clerk of superior court to a judge of superior court.

(d1) In determining the maximum commissions allowable pursuant to subsection (a) of this section, the clerk of superior court may take into account the fees paid by the estate for professional services performed that were a part of the ordinary routine of administration, including services performed by attorneys and accountants. The discretion authorized by this subsection does not require the clerk to reduce the maximum commissions allowed by the aggregate fees paid to professionals on a dollar-for-dollar basis.

(e) No personal representative, collector or public administrator, who has been guilty of ~~such~~ default or misconduct in the due execution of his or her office resulting in the revocation of his or her appointment of the personal representative, collector, or public administrator under the provisions of G.S. 28A-9-1, shall be entitled to any commission under the provisions of this section.

(f) For the purpose of computing commissions whenever any portion of the dividends, interest, rents or other amounts payable to a personal representative, collector or public administrator is required by any law of the United States or other governmental unit to be withheld for income tax purposes by the person, corporation, organization or governmental unit paying the same, the amount so withheld shall be deemed to have been received and expended.

(g) The provisions of subsection (a) of this section do not apply when the testator's will specifies a stipulated amount or method or standard for determining the compensation for the services rendered by the personal representative, including:

(1) A provision in the will that the compensation of the personal representative is to be determined by applying its regularly adopted schedule of compensation in effect at the time of performance of those services.

(2) A provision in the will that the personal representative is to receive "reasonable compensation" for those services or similar language to that effect.

(h) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision (g)(2) of this section:

(1) When the will provides that the personal representative is to receive "reasonable compensation" or similar language to that effect, the personal representative shall receive commissions as determined under subsection (a) of this section unless the personal representative and the beneficiaries whose shares would be charged with the payment of the personal representative's compensation consent in writing to the specific amount that constitutes reasonable compensation.

(2) When the will provides that compensation of the personal representative shall be the amount "as provided by law," the "maximum amount provided by law," or other similar language, that language shall be construed as the intention that the personal representative shall receive commissions as determined under subsection (a) of this section."

SECTION 2. G.S. 28A-19-6 reads as rewritten:

"§ 28A-19-6. Order of payment of claims.

After payment of costs and expenses of administration, the claims against the estate of a decedent must be paid in the following order:

First class. Claims which by law have a specific lien on property to an amount not exceeding the value of such property.

Second class. Funeral expenses to the extent of two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500). This limitation shall not include cemetery lot or gravestone. The preferential limitation herein granted shall be construed to be only a limit with respect to preference of payment and shall not be construed to be a limitation on reasonable funeral expenses which may be incurred; nor shall the preferential limitation of payment in the amount of two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) be diminished by any Veterans Administration, social security or other federal governmental benefits awarded to the estate of the decedent or to his or her beneficiaries.

Third class. All dues, taxes, and other claims with preference under the laws of the United States.

Fourth class. All dues, taxes, and other claims with preference under the laws of the State of North Carolina and its subdivisions.

Fifth class. Judgments of any court of competent jurisdiction within the State, docketed and in force, to the extent to which they are a lien on the property of the decedent at his death.

Sixth class. Wages due to any employee employed by the decedent, which claim for wages shall not extend to a period of more than 12 months next preceding the death; or if such employee was employed for the year current at the decease, then from the time of such employment; for medical services within the 12 months preceding the decease; for drugs and all other medical supplies necessary for the treatment of such decedent during the last illness of such decedent, said period of last illness not to exceed 12 months.

Seventh class. All other claims.

Notwithstanding the above provisions, if payment of the commissions of the personal representative under G.S. 28A-23-3(g) would cause the estate to be unable to pay all claims against the estate of a decedent, then the commissions shall be limited to the amount allowed under G.S. 28A-23-3(a)."

SECTION 3. This act becomes effective January 1, 2006, and applies to commissions paid on or after that date.

Subsection (a) of this section also shall not apply if the testator's will provides that the personal representative is to receive "reasonable compensation" for those services or similar language to that effect if the personal representative and the beneficiaries whose shares would be charged with the payment of the personal representative's compensation consent in writing to the specific amount that constitutes reasonable compensation.

(h) Subsection (a) of this section shall apply if the testator's will provides that compensation of the personal representative shall be the amount "as provided by law," the "maximum amount provided by law," or other similar language."

SECTION 2. G.S. 28A-19-6, as amended by S.L. 2005-180, reads as rewritten:

"§ 28A-19-6. Order of payment of claims.

(a) After payment of costs and expenses of administration, the claims against the estate of a decedent must be paid in the following order:

First class. Claims which by law have a specific lien on property to an amount not exceeding the value of such property.

Second class. Funeral expenses to the extent of two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500). This limitation shall not include cemetery lot or gravestone. The preferential limitation herein granted shall be construed to be only a limit with respect to preference of payment and shall not be construed to be a limitation on reasonable funeral expenses which may be incurred; nor shall the preferential limitation of payment in the amount of two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) be diminished by any Veterans Administration, social security or other federal governmental benefits awarded to the estate of the decedent or to his or her beneficiaries.

Third class. All dues, taxes, and other claims with preference under the laws of the United States.

Fourth class. All dues, taxes, and other claims with preference under the laws of the State of North Carolina and its subdivisions.

Fifth class. Judgments of any court of competent jurisdiction within the State, docketed and in force, to the extent to which they are a lien on the property of the decedent at his death.

Sixth class. Wages due to any employee employed by the decedent, which claim for wages shall not extend to a period of more than 12 months next preceding the death; or if such employee was employed for the year current at the decease, then from the time of such employment; for medical services within the 12 months preceding the decease; for drugs and all other medical supplies necessary for the treatment of such decedent during the last illness of such decedent, said period of last illness not to exceed 12 months.

Seventh class. A claim for equitable distributions.

Eighth class. All other claims.

(b) Notwithstanding subsection (a) of this section, if payment of the commissions of the personal representative under G.S. 28A-23-3(g) would cause the estate to be unable to pay all claims against the estate of a decedent, then the commissions shall be limited to the amount allowed under G.S. 28A-23-3(a)."

SECTION 3. This act becomes effective January 1, 2006, and applies to commissions paid on or after that date.

HOUSE BILL 561:
Commissions for Personal Representatives

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	August 10, 2005
Introduced by:	Rep. Haire	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith
Version:	PCS to Second Edition H561-CSRC-87		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 561 amends the law regarding the calculation of commissions for persons who administer estates. It would give the clerk of superior court the discretion to not reduce the commission by amounts paid for professional services such as attorney's fees, accountant's fees, and tax advisory fees. It would also provide that the maximum statutory commission of 5% would not apply to when the testator's will or a contract specifies a stipulated amount or method for determining compensation of the personal representative. However, the statutory maximum would apply if the provisions of the will would have the effect of increasing the commission so that the estate would be unable to pay all the claims against the decedant.

The PCS makes technical changes to the 2nd Edition.

The bill would become effective January 1, 2006 and apply to commissions paid on or after that date.

CURRENT LAW: Current law provides that personal representatives of estates are entitled to commissions to be fixed in the discretion of the clerk of superior court, not to exceed 5% for receipts and 5% for expenditures. If the gross value of the estate is $2,000 or less, the clerk may fix the commission in an amount the clerk deems just and adequate. Commissions are charged as a part of the costs of administration. Under G.S. 28a-19-6, the costs of administration are paid from the assets of an estate before any other claims against the estate are made.

HOUSE BILL 723:
UNC/Criminal Record Checks/Fee.-AB

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Ref to Judiciary II. If fav, re-ref to Finance	Date:	August 10, 2005
Introduced by:	Reps. Glazier, Dickson	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith Committee Counsel
Version:	PCS to Third Edition H723-CSRC-83

SUMMARY: House Bill 723 authorizes the Department of Justice (DoJ) to provide criminal record checks to the University of North Carolina (UNC) for applicants for employment and promotion. The bill becomes effective December 1, 2005, and applies to offenses committed on or after that date.

The proposed committee substitute authorizes University law enforcement personnel who are DCI certified to conduct the criminal checks. It also adds an immunity provision and makes other technical and clarifying changes.

The bill has a serial re-referred to Senate Finance Committee.

CURRENT LAW: Under current State law, criminal record check provisions exist for residential school personnel, employees of local boards of education, and employees of charter schools. The provisions of House Bill 723 are substantially similar to these existing statutes.

BILL ANALYSIS: Section 1.: The bill adds a new section to Chapter 114 of the General Statutes (Department of Justice) that:

- Authorizes DOJ to provide a criminal record check to UNC administrators for a person who has applied for employment or promotion in the UNC System, with the applicant's consent.
- Authorizes DOJ and/or University law enforcement personnel who are certified DCI operators to provide a criminal record check to UNC by fingerprint card from National Repositories of Criminal Histories.
- Provides that the information obtained must be kept confidential.
- Provides that DOJ may charge the University a reasonable fee for conducting the criminal record check, not to exceed the actual cost of locating, editing, researching, and retrieving the information.
- Directs DOJ to adopt rules to implement the provisions.

Section 2.: The bill adds a new section to Chapter 116 of the General Statutes (Higher Education) that:

- Provides that "criminal history" means a conviction of a crime, whether misdemeanor or felony, that indicates the applicant (i) poses a threat to the physical safety of students or personnel, or (ii) has demonstrated that he or she does not have the integrity or honesty to fulfill the his or her duties, and lists crimes included within definition.
- Defines the term "University personnel" as applicants for employment or promotion, and independent contractors (and their employees) who carry out duties customarily performed by university personnel.
- Requires the UNC Board of Governors to adopt a uniform policy for the constituent institutions and General Administration regarding when criminal record checks will be required before an unconditional offer of employment or promotion. Requires the board of directors of the UNC Health Care System to adopt a similar uniform policy for the Health Care System.
- Includes requirements regarding fingerprinting and obtaining consent forms

- Requires the University to consider refusal to consent to a check when making employment decisions.
- Directs the University to determine whether the results of the check indicate that a person (i) poses a threat to the physical safety of students or personnel, or (ii) has demonstrated that the person does not have the integrity or honesty to fulfill his or her duties. This information must be used when making employment decisions or when making decisions regarding independent contractors. The University must make written findings as to how it used the information when making these decisions. These duties may be delegated to one or more administrators.
- Provides that the results of the check are confidential and allows the University to destroy the information after one calendar year.
- Provide limitations on liability for the University and its employees.
- Makes it a Class A1 misdemeanor to willfully furnish, supply, or give false information on an employment application that is the basis for a criminal record check. A Class A1 misdemeanor is punishable by 1 to 60 days of active, intermediate, or community punishment, assuming no prior convictions. This provision applies to offenses committed on or after the effective date.

BACKGROUND: The UNC Board of Governors requested this bill. Currently, some campuses in the UNC System conduct pre-employment criminal conviction checks on prospective employees. Those that perform checks are using the Administrative Office of the Courts database, which contains only North Carolina convictions or are using automated databases in certain states that are available through commercial vendors.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill becomes effective December 1, 2005.

Jennifer McGinnis, Ashley Huffstetler, and Robin Johnson, Staff Attorneys, substantially contributed to this summary.

This fiscal analysis is independent of the impact of other criminal penalty bills being considered by the General Assembly, which could also increase the projected prison population and thus the availability of prison beds in future years. The Fiscal Research Division is tracking the cumulative effect of all criminal penalty bills on the prison system as well as the Judicial Department.*

BILL SUMMARY: This bill would add new G.S. 114-19.2A providing that the Department of Justice (DOJ) may provide a criminal record check to University of North Carolina (UNC) administrators concerning a person who has applied for employment or promotion in the UNC System, with the consent of the applicant. DOJ also may provide a criminal record check to UNC by fingerprint card from National Repositories of Criminal Histories, in accordance with G.S. 116-40.5A. The UNC Board of Governors would be required to adopt policies with respect to when criminal record checks will be required. It would be a Class A1 misdemeanor under this bill to willfully furnish, supply or give false information on an employment application that is the basis for a criminal record check.

The second and third editions require that the Board of Governors adopt a policy to be applied uniformly to all constituent institutions of the University and the General Administration regarding when criminal record checks will be required and permit UNC to charge applicants for the cost of the criminal history and associated fingerprints. The third edition deletes the subsection providing that there is no liability for negligence on the part of the University, or its employees, arising from any act taken or omission by any of them in carrying out the provisions of this bill. The third edition also deletes the language permitting certain University law enforcement personnel to conduct criminal record checks to the extent permitted by law.
Source: Adapted from Bill Digest H.B. 723 (03/17/0200).

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

Department of Justice and University of North Carolina
The UNC System estimates that it could request as many as 5,266 criminal histories per year. This is the number of new employees hired in 2004. While the Department of Justice is authorized to conduct state and national background checks for the UNC System under this bill, it is unclear whether the UNC System could also request background checks from other sources (see Technical Considerations). UNC personnel have indicated that they will probably request state and national fingerprint background checks from DOJ only if the applicant has lived out of state. Otherwise, they anticipate requesting name checks through commercial vendors; some campuses already use commercial vendors for some background checks.

Costs of commercial background checks vary, and may not be permitted under this bill. If new G.S. 116-40.5A(c) in fact requires that all background checks on UNC employees be state and national fingerprint checks conducted through the Department of Justice, with the exception of those checks that UNC police can perform themselves, the following fees would apply:

NC Fingerprint Check:	$14
National Fingerprint Check:	$24 ($2 to DOJ, $22 remitted to the FBI)
Total:	$38

The State Bureau of Investigation (SBI) in the Department of Justice conducts background checks for criminal justice and non-criminal justice agencies. For the latter group, the Department charges fees that are used to support the positions required to conduct the checks. In addition to the $22 remitted to the Federal Bureau of Investigation for national checks, costs to the SBI per state and national check average $16.33,[1] not including overhead or equipment. Each person in the fingerprint identification section can perform, on average, 10,000 checks per year. The number of checks anticipated by UNC would be the equivalent of one half-time position. The Department believes that this workload can be absorbed by existing personnel.

The UNC Police can access criminal history information on applicants for employment with the police department through a national name check, but they cannot share that information outside of the police department. As a law enforcement agency, UNC Police can also request state and national fingerprint criminal history checks on their employees from the SBI free of charge. The annual number of UNC Police applicants is unknown at this time.

[1] In 2003, average cost was $11.45 per electronic fingerprint check and $17.95 per paper fingerprint check; approximately 25% of non-criminal justice fingerprint submissions were electronic.

In addition to the fees for criminal histories, local law enforcement agencies may charge for fingerprinting. Charges range from $0 to $15. The second edition of this bill permits UNC to pass the costs of criminal record checks and fingerprinting on to the applicants. In practice, UNC has indicated that it does not plan to charge applicants for either cost.

Alternative Background Check Costs: If this bill permits UNC to request other types of criminal histories or use other sources, options include (see Technical Considerations):

DOJ Fingerprint Checks: NC Only	$14.00
DOJ Fingerprint Checks: NC and National ($22 remitted to the FBI)	$38.00
DOJ Fingerprint Checks: NC and National - UNC Police applicants	no charge
DOJ Name Checks	$10.00
Clerks of Court Name Checks: single NC county	$10.00
Private Vendor Name Checks: NC or Multi-State	varies
UNC Police Name Checks: UNC Police applicants only	internal cost

General – Criminal Penalties

The Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission prepares prison population projections for each criminal penalty bill. The Commission assumes for each bill that increasing criminal penalties does not have a deterrent or incapacitative effect on crime. Therefore, the Fiscal Research Division does not assume savings due to deterrent effects for this bill or any criminal penalty bill.

Department of Correction

The Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission prepares inmate population projections annually. The projections used for incarceration fiscal notes are based on January 2005 projections. These projections are based on historical information on incarceration and release rates under Structured Sentencing, crime rate forecasts by a technical advisory group, probation and revocation rates, and the decline (parole and maxouts) of the stock prison population sentenced under previous sentencing acts. Based on the most recent population projections and estimated available prison bed capacity, there are no surplus prison beds available for the five-year fiscal note horizon and beyond.

As this bill would create a new Class A1 misdemeanor offense for intentionally falsifying information furnished in relation to a criminal history check performed prior to employment or promotion for selected positions within the North Carolina University System, no historical data is available to estimate the number of additional convictions that would result.

- In FY 2003-04, 24 percent of Class A1 misdemeanors resulted in active sentences and the average active sentence length was 73 days. Active sentences of less than ninety days are served in county jail, and DOC reimburses counties at a rate of $18 per day for any sentence between thirty and ninety days in length.
- The remaining 76 percent of Class A1 misdemeanants received non-active sentences. For those offenders sentenced to supervised probation, the Division of Community Corrections (DCC) would incur costs of $1.87 per offender per day. Offenders sentenced to community service would cost $0.67 per offender per day, and offenders given unsupervised probation would not impact DCC.

Because most Class A1 misdemeanants serving active time as a result of this bill would be housed in county jails, this legislation is not expected to significantly impact prison population.

Judicial Branch

For most criminal penalty bills, the Administrative Office of the Courts provides Fiscal Research with an analysis of the fiscal impact of the specific bill. For these bills, fiscal impact is typically based on the assumption that court time will increase due to an expected increase in trials and a corresponding increase in the hours of work for judges, clerks and prosecutors. This increased court time is also expected to result in greater expenditures for jury fees and indigent defense.

As this bill would create a new Class A1 misdemeanor offense for intentionally falsifying information furnished in relation to a criminal history check concerning employment or promotion in the North Carolina University system, no historical data is available to estimate the number of additional convictions that would result. Of the additional background checks that would occur under this bill, it is not possible to estimate the number that would result in charges for intentionally falsifying information provided to conduct the criminal history check.

Based on the costs of time in court, attorney preparation time, and indigent defense, the average estimated cost to process one Class A1 misdemeanor is $3,589 per trial and $286 per guilty plea. The trial cost includes an estimated $2,087 in jury fees, costs of time in court, and attorney costs and an additional $1,502 in indigent defense. Based on prior-year data, the majority of any new Class A1 misdemeanor charges that are not dismissed are likely to be settled by plea.

SOURCES OF DATA: Department of Correction, Judicial Branch, North Carolina Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission, Office of State Budget and Management, Department of Justice, University of North Carolina

TECHNICAL CONSIDERATIONS: New G.S. 114-19.2A(a) states that DOJ may provide a criminal record check to UNC, and new 116-40.5A(c) states that DOJ shall provide a state and national criminal history of any applicant for any position that UNC has determined requires a criminal history check. It is unclear whether UNC is required under this bill to request all criminal history checks through the Department of Justice, and whether UNC must request a state and national fingerprint check on each applicant for whom a criminal history check is required. Maximum costs on the front page box assume that all checks will be state and national fingerprint checks conducted through the Department of Justice.

SECTION 2. G.S. 32A-20(b) reads as rewritten:

"§ 32A-20. Effectiveness and duration; revocation.

(b) ~~A~~ Except for purposes of exercising authority granted by a health care power of attorney with respect to anatomical gifts, autopsy, or disposition of remains as provided in G.S. 32A-19(b), a health care power of attorney is revoked by the death of the principal. A health care power of attorney may be revoked by the principal at any time, so long as the principal is capable of making and communicating health care decisions. The principal may exercise this right of revocation by executing and acknowledging an instrument of revocation, by executing and acknowledging a subsequent health care power of attorney, or in any other manner by which the principal is able to communicate an intent to revoke. This revocation becomes effective only upon communication by the principal to each health care agent named in the revoked health care power of attorney and to the principal's attending physician or eligible psychologist.

SECTION 3. G.S. 32A-25 reads as rewritten:

"§ 32A-25. Statutory form health care power of attorney.

The use of the following form in the creation of a health care power of attorney is lawful and, when used, it shall meet the requirements of and be construed in accordance with the provisions of this Article:

(Notice: This document gives the person you designate your health care agent broad powers to make health care decisions, including mental health treatment decisions, for you. Except to the extent that you express specific limitations or restrictions on the authority of your health care agent, this power includes the power to consent to your doctor not giving treatment or stopping treatment necessary to keep you alive, admit you to a facility, and administer certain treatments and medications. This power exists only as to those health care decisions for which you are unable to give informed consent.

This form does not impose a duty on your health care agent to exercise granted powers, but when a power is exercised, your health care agent will have to use due care to act in your best interests and in accordance with this document. For mental health treatment decisions, your health care agent will act according to how the health care agent believes you would act if you were making the decision. Because the powers granted by this document are broad and sweeping, you should discuss your wishes concerning life-sustaining procedures, mental health treatment, and other health care decisions with your health care agent.

Use of this form in the creation of a health care power of attorney is lawful and is authorized pursuant to North Carolina law. However, use of this form is an optional and nonexclusive method for creating a health care power of attorney and North Carolina law does not bar the use of any other or different form of power of attorney for health care that meets the statutory requirements.)

If the person named as my health care agent is not reasonably available or is unable or unwilling to act as my agent, then I appoint the following persons (each to act alone and successively, in the order named), to serve in that capacity: (Optional)

2. Effectiveness of appointment.

(Notice: This health care power of attorney may be revoked by you at any time in any manner by which you are able to communicate your intent to revoke to your health care agent and your attending physician.)

Absent revocation, the authority granted in this document shall become effective when and if the physician or physicians designated below determine that I lack sufficient understanding or capacity to make or communicate decisions relating to my health care and will continue in effect during my incapacity, until my ~~death.~~death, except if I authorize my health care agent to exercise my rights with respect to anatomical gifts, autopsy, or disposition of my remains, this authority will continue after my death to the extent necessary to exercise the authority granted in this document for these purposes.

This determination shall be made by the following physician or physicians. For decisions related to mental health treatment, this determination shall be made by the following physician or eligible psychologist. 3. General statement of authority granted.

Except as indicated in section 4 below, I hereby grant to my health care agent named above full power and authority to make health care decisions, including mental health treatment decisions, on my behalf, including, but not limited to, the following:

A. To request, review, and receive any information, verbal or written, regarding my physical or mental health, including, but not limited to, medical and hospital records, and to consent to the disclosure of this information.

B. To employ or discharge my health care providers.

C. To consent to and authorize my admission to and discharge from a hospital, nursing or convalescent home, or other institution.

D. To consent to and authorize my admission to and retention in a facility for the care or treatment of mental illness.

E. To consent to and authorize the administration of medications for mental health treatment and electroconvulsive treatment (ECT) commonly referred to as "shock treatment".

F. To give consent for, to withdraw consent for, or to withhold consent for, X ray, anesthesia, medication, surgery, and all other diagnostic and treatment procedures ordered by or under the authorization of a licensed physician, dentist, or podiatrist. This authorization specifically includes the power to consent to measures for relief of pain.

G. To authorize the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures when and if my physician determines that I am terminally ill, permanently in a coma, suffer severe dementia, or am in a persistent vegetative state. Life-sustaining procedures are those forms of medical care that only serve to artificially prolong the dying process and may include mechanical ventilation, dialysis, antibiotics, artificial nutrition and hydration, and other forms of medical treatment which sustain, restore or supplant vital bodily functions. Life-sustaining procedures do not include care necessary to provide comfort or alleviate pain.

I DESIRE THAT MY LIFE NOT BE PROLONGED BY LIFE-SUSTAINING PROCEDURES IF I AM TERMINALLY ILL, PERMANENTLY IN A COMA, SUFFER SEVERE DEMENTIA, OR AM IN A PERSISTENT VEGETATIVE STATE.

H. To exercise any right I may have to make a disposition of any part or all of my body for medical ~~purposes,~~purposes; ~~to donate my organs,~~ to authorize an ~~autopsy,~~autopsy; to make an anatomical gift of my organs or body, or part thereof, and to direct the disposition of my remains.

I. To take any lawful actions that may be necessary to carry out these decisions, including the granting of releases of liability to medical providers.

4. Special provisions and limitations.

(Notice: The above grant of power is intended to be as broad as possible so that your health care agent will have authority to make any decisions you could make to obtain or terminate any type of health care. If you wish to limit the scope of your health care agent's powers, you may do so in this section.)

A. In exercising the authority to make health care decisions on my behalf, the authority of my health care agent is subject to the following special provisions and limitations (Here you may include any specific limitations you deem appropriate such as: your own definition of when life-sustaining treatment should be withheld or discontinued, or instructions to refuse any specific types of treatment that are inconsistent with your religious beliefs, or unacceptable to you for any other reason.):

B. In exercising the authority to make mental health decisions on my behalf, the authority of my health care agent is subject to the following special provisions and limitations. (Here you may include any specific limitations you deem appropriate such as: limiting the grant of authority to make only mental health treatment decisions, your own instructions regarding the administration or withholding of psychotropic medications and electroconvulsive treatment (ECT), instructions regarding your admission to and retention in a health care facility for mental health treatment, or instructions to refuse any specific types of treatment that are unacceptable to you):

C. (Notice: This health care power of attorney may incorporate or be combined with an advance instruction for mental health treatment, executed in accordance with Part 2 of Article 3 of Chapter 122C of the General Statutes, which you may use to state your instructions regarding mental health treatment in the event you lack sufficient understanding or capacity to make or communicate mental health treatment decisions. Because your health care agent's decisions about decisions must be consistent with any statements you have expressed in an advance instruction, you should indicate here whether you have executed an advance instruction for mental health treatment.):

D. In exercising the authority to make decisions regarding autopsy, anatomical gifts and disposition of remains on my behalf, the authority of my health care agent is subject to the following special provisions and limitations. (Here you may include any specific limitations you deem appropriate such as: limiting the grant of authority and the scope of authority, instructions regarding gifts of the body or body part, or instructions regarding burial or cremation):

5. Guardianship provision.

If it becomes necessary for a court to appoint a guardian of my person, I nominate my health care agent acting under this document to be the guardian of my person, to serve without bond or security. The guardian shall act consistently with G.S. 35A-1201(a)(5).

6. Reliance of third parties on health care agent.

A. No person who relies in good faith upon the authority of or any representations by my health care agent shall be liable to me, my estate, my heirs, successors, assigns, or personal representatives, for actions or omissions by my health care agent.

B. The powers conferred on my health care agent by this document may be exercised by my health care agent alone, and my health care agent's signature or act under the authority granted in this document may be accepted by persons as fully authorized by me and with the same force and effect as if I were personally present, competent, and acting on my own behalf. All acts performed in good faith by my health care agent pursuant to this power of attorney are done with my consent and shall have the same validity and effect as if I were present and exercised the powers myself, and shall inure to the benefit of and bind me, my estate, my heirs, successors, assigns, and personal representatives. The authority of my health care agent pursuant to this power of attorney shall be superior to and binding upon my family, relatives, friends, and others.

7. Miscellaneous provisions.

A. I revoke any prior health care power of attorney.

B. My health care agent shall be entitled to sign, execute, deliver, and acknowledge any contract or other document that may be necessary, desirable, convenient, or proper in order to exercise and carry out any of the powers described in this document and to incur reasonable costs on my behalf incident to the exercise of these powers; provided, however, that except as shall be necessary in order to exercise the powers described in this document relating to my health care, my health care agent shall not have any authority over my property or financial affairs.

C. My health care agent and my health care agent's estate, heirs, successors, and assigns are hereby released and forever discharged by me, my estate, my heirs, successors, and assigns and personal representatives from all liability and from all claims or demands of all kinds arising out of the acts or omissions of my health care agent pursuant to this document, except for willful misconduct or gross negligence.

D. No act or omission of my health care agent, or of any other person, institution, or facility acting in good faith in reliance on the authority of my health care agent pursuant to this health care power of attorney shall be considered suicide, nor the cause of my death for any civil or criminal purposes, nor shall it be considered unprofessional conduct or as lack of professional competence. Any person, institution, or facility against whom criminal or civil liability is asserted because of conduct authorized by this health care power of attorney may interpose this document as a defense.

8. Signature of principal.

By signing here, I indicate that I am mentally alert and competent, fully informed as to the contents of this document, and understand the full import of this grant of powers to my health care agent.

HOUSE BILL 967:
Health Care Power of Atty/Dispos. of Remains

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	August 11, 2005
Introduced by:	Rep. Tucker	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith
Version:	PCS to Second Edition H967-CSRC-85		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 967 would extend a health care power of attorney past death of the principal for purposes of exercising explicitly granted rights with respect to decisions of anatomical gifts, autopsy and disposition of remains. The PCS makes technical and clarifying changes.

The bill would become effective October 1, 2005, and apply to all powers of attorney whenever created.

CURRENT LAW:

Health Care Powers of Attorney. A health care power of attorney may authorize the health care agent to exercise rights the principal may have with respect to anatomical gifts, autopsies, and disposition of the remains of the principal. However, the health care power of attorney is revoked by the death of the principal.

Autopsies. Medical Examiner investigations are authorized by statute for deaths resulting from any of the following circumstances: 1) violence, poisoning, accident, suicide or homicide; 2) occurring suddenly when the deceased has been in apparent good health or when unattended by a physician; 3) occurring in jail, prison, correctional institution or in police custody; 4) occurring as a result of execution by the State; or 5) occurring under any suspicious, unusual or unnatural circumstance. The Medical Examiner may conduct an autopsy or other study if the Medical Examiner deems it advisable and in the public interest. Other autopsies may be requested by the next-of-kin of the deceased. G.S. 130-398 provides that the right to perform an autopsy shall be limited to those cases in which:

1. The Chief Medical Examiner or a county medical examiner, acting pursuant to G.S. 130A-389, directs that an autopsy be performed.
2. The Commission of Anatomy, acting pursuant to G.S. 130A-415, has given written consent for an autopsy to be performed on an unclaimed body.
3. A prosecuting officer or district attorney, acting pursuant to G.S. 15-7 in case of homicide, directs that an autopsy be performed.
4. The decedent directs in writing prior to death that an autopsy be performed upon the occurrence of the decedent's death.
5. The personal representative of the estate of the decedent requests that an autopsy be performed upon the decedent. OR
6. Any of the following persons, in order of priority, when persons in prior classes are not available at the time of death, and in the absence of actual notice of contrary indications by the decedent or actual opposition by a member of the same or prior class, authorizes an autopsy to be performed:
   a. The spouse.
   b. Any adult child or stepchild.
   c. Any parent or stepparents.
   d. Any adult sibling.
   e. A guardian of the person of the decedent at the time of the decedent's death.

f. Any relative or person who accepts responsibility for final disposition of the body by other customary and lawful procedures.
g. Any person under obligation to dispose of the body.

Anatomical Gifts. A person of sound mind and at least 18 years old may give all or part of that individual's body upon death as an anatomical gift. If no gift has been made, then any of the following persons, in order of priority, may make the anatomical gift at the time of death (either immediately before or after):

1. The spouse.
2. An adult child.
3. Either parent.
4. An adult sibling.
5. A guardian of the person of the decedent at the time of decedent's death.
6. Any other person authorized or under obligation to dispose of the body.

Disposition of Remains. A person at 18 years of age may authorize the disposition of that person's remains in a will, in a health care power of attorney, a pre-need funeral contract, cremation authorization form, or in a written statement signed by the person and witnessed by 2 others at least 18 years old. If there is no such authorization, the following persons, in order, may authorize the disposition of the remains:

1. The surviving spouse.
2. A majority of the surviving children.
3. The surviving parents.
4. A majority of the surviving siblings.
5. A majority of the persons in the classes of the next degrees of kinship, in descending order, who, under State law, would inherit the decedent's estate if the decedent died intestate.
6. A person who has exhibited special care and concern for the decedent and is willing and able to make decisions about the disposition.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Section 1 amends the definitions applicable to the craeations of health care powers of attorney to define "disposition of remains" to mean the decision to bury or cremate human remains.

Sections 2 and 3 would allow the health care power of attorney to extend past death of the principal when the health care power of attorney authorizes the health care agent to exercise rights of the principal with respect to anatomical gifts, autopsy, or disposition of the remains so that the health care agent may exercise the rights granted. The bill would also make a conforming change in the statutory short form health care power of attorney.

Sections 4, 5, and 6 would make conforming changes to the statutes governing autopsy, anatomical gifts and disposition of remains to allow for the health care agent to make decisions with regard to those actions.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act would become effective October 1, 2005 and apply to powers of attorney created before or after that date.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO REQUIRE A DEFENDANT ARRESTED FOR USING DOGS FOR FIGHTING TO POST A DEPOSIT TO THE ANIMAL SHELTER TO PAY FOR THE DOGS' KEEP DURING THE PERIOD PRIOR TO ADJUDICATION OF THE CHARGES.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Chapter 19A of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new Article to read:

"Article 6.

"Care of Dogs Illegally Used for Fighting.

"§ 19A-70. Care of dogs illegally used for fighting.

(a) In every arrest under G.S. 14-362.2, if an animal shelter takes custody of dogs illegally used for fighting, the animal shelter may file a petition with the court requesting that the defendant be ordered to deposit funds in an amount sufficient to secure payment of all the reasonable expenses expected to be incurred by the animal shelter in caring for and providing for the dogs pending the disposition of the charges. For purposes of this section, 'reasonable expenses' includes the cost of providing food, water, shelter, and care, including medical care, for at least 30 days.

(b) Upon receipt of a petition, the court shall set a hearing on the petition. The hearing shall be conducted no less than 10 and no more than 15 business days after the petition is filed. The animal shelter shall mail written notice of the hearing and a copy of the petition to the defendant at the address contained in the criminal charges. If the defendant is in a local detention facility at the time the petition is filed, the animal shelter shall also provide notice to the custodian of the detention facility.

(c) The court shall set the amount of funds necessary for 30 days' care after taking into consideration all of the facts and circumstances of the case, including the recommendation of the animal shelter and the estimated cost of caring for the dogs as well as the defendant's ability to pay. If the court determines that the defendant is unable to deposit funds, the court may consider issuing an order under subsection (f) of this section.

Any order for funds to be deposited pursuant to this section shall state that if the animal shelter files an affidavit with the clerk of superior court, at least two business days prior to the expiration of a 30-day period, stating that, to the best of the shelter's knowledge, the criminal case against the defendant has not yet been resolved, the order shall be automatically renewed every 30 days until the criminal case is resolved.

(d) If the court orders that funds be deposited, the amount of funds necessary for 30 days shall be posted with the clerk of superior court. The defendant shall also deposit the same amount with the clerk of superior court every 30 days thereafter until the criminal charges are resolved, unless the defendant requests a hearing no less than five business days prior to the expiration of a 30-day period. If the defendant fails to deposit the funds within five business days of the initial hearing, or five business days of the expiration of a 30-day period, the dogs are forfeited by operation of law. If funds have been deposited in accordance with this section, the animal shelter may draw from the funds the actual costs incurred in caring for the dogs.

In the event of forfeiture, the animal shelter may determine whether any of the dogs are suitable for adoption and whether adoption can be arranged for any of the dogs. The dogs may not be adopted by the defendant or by any person residing in the defendant's household, and the animal shelter shall notify any persons adopting the dogs of the liability provisions for owners of dangerous dogs under Article 1A of Chapter 67 of the General Statutes. If no adoption can be arranged after the forfeiture, or the dogs are unsuitable for adoption, the shelter shall humanely euthanize the dogs.

(e) The deposit of funds shall not prevent the animal shelter from disposing of the dogs prior to the expiration of the 30-day period covered by the deposit if the court makes a final determination of the charges against the defendant. Upon the adjudication of the charges, the defendant is entitled to a refund for any portion of the deposit not incurred as expenses by the animal shelter.

(f) Pursuant to subsection (c) of this section, the court may order a defendant to provide necessary food, water, shelter, and care, including any necessary medical care, for any dogs that are the basis of the charges against the defendant without the removal of the dogs from the existing location and until the charges against the defendant are adjudicated. If the court issues such an order, the court shall provide for an animal control officer or other law enforcement officer to make regular visits to the location to ensure that the dogs are receiving necessary food, water, shelter, and care, including any necessary medical care, and to impound the animals if they are not receiving those necessities."

SECTION 2. This act becomes effective December 1, 2005, and applies to offenses committed on or after that date.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO PROVIDE THAT PROBATION IS STAYED DURING AN APPEAL FOR A TRIAL DE NOVO FROM A JUDGMENT ENTERED BY A MAGISTRATE OR DISTRICT COURT JUDGE.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 15A-1431 reads as rewritten:

"§ 15A-1431. Appeals by defendants from magistrate and district court judge; trial de novo.

(a) A defendant convicted before a magistrate may appeal for trial de novo before a district court judge without a jury.

(b) A defendant convicted in the district court before the judge may appeal to the superior court for trial de novo with a jury as provided by law. Upon the docketing in the superior court of an appeal from a judgment imposed pursuant to a plea arrangement between the State and the defendant, the jurisdiction of the superior court over any misdemeanor dismissed, reduced, or modified pursuant to that plea arrangement shall be the same as was had by the district court prior to the plea arrangement.

(c) Within 10 days of entry of judgment, notice of appeal may be given orally in open court or in writing to the clerk. Within 10 days of entry of judgment, the defendant may withdraw his appeal and comply with the judgment. Upon expiration of the 10-day period, if an appeal has been entered and not withdrawn, the clerk must transfer the case to the appropriate court.

(d) A defendant convicted by a magistrate or district court judge is not barred from appeal because of compliance with the judgment, but notice of appeal after compliance must be given by the defendant in person to the magistrate or judge who heard the case or, if he is not available, notice must be given:

(1) Before a magistrate in the county, in the case of appeals from the magistrate; or

(2) During an open session of district court in the district court district as defined in G.S. 7A-133, in the case of appeals from district court.

The magistrate or district court judge must review the case and fix conditions of pretrial release as appropriate. If a defendant has paid a fine or costs and then appeals, the amount paid must be remitted to the defendant, but the judge, clerk or magistrate to whom notice of appeal is given may order the remission delayed pending the determination of the appeal.

(e) Any order of pretrial release remains in effect pending appeal by the defendant unless the judge modifies the order.

~~(f) Appeal pursuant to this section stays the execution of portions of the judgment relating to fine and costs. Appeal stays portions of the judgment relating to confinement when the defendant has complied with conditions of pretrial release. If the defendant cannot comply with conditions of pretrial release, the judge may order confinement in a local confinement facility pending the trial de novo in superior court.~~

(f1) Appeal pursuant to this section stays the execution of all portions of the judgment, including all of the following:

(1) Payment of costs.

(2) Payment of a fine.

(3) Probation or special probation.

(4) Active punishment.

Pursuant to subsection (e) of this section, however, the judge may order any appropriate condition of pretrial release, including confinement in a local confinement facility, pending the trial de novo in superior court.

(g) The defendant may withdraw his appeal at any time prior to calendaring of the case for trial de novo. The case is then automatically remanded to the court from which the appeal was taken, for execution of the judgment.

(h) The defendant may withdraw his appeal after the calendaring of the case for trial de novo only by consent of the court, and with the attachment of costs of that court, unless the costs or any part of the costs are remitted by the court. The case may then be remanded by order of the court to the court from which the appeal was taken for execution of the judgment with any additional court costs that attached and that have not been remitted."

SECTION 2. This act is effective when it becomes law and applies to appeals noticed on or after that date.

HOUSE BILL 1085:
Care of Dogs Illegally Used for Fighting

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	August 11, 2005
Introduced by:	Reps. Insko, Parmon	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith
Version:	Second Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 1085 requires a defendant arrested for using dogs for fighting to post a security deposit to pay the animal shelter for the dog's keep during the period prior to adjudication of the charges.

BILL ANALYSIS: H1085-CSSA-9 creates a new statute, G.S. 19A-70.

Subsection (a) of the section allows an animal shelter that takes custody of dogs illegally used for fighting to petition the court asking that the criminal defendant be required to post security to pay for the reasonable expenses for the care of the dogs.

Subsection (b) of the section requires the court, upon receipt of the petition, to set a hearing date no less than ten and no more than fifteen business days later. The shelter must then mail written notice of the hearing and a copy of the petition to the defendant, and if the defendant is in jail, provide a copy to the jail.

Subsection (c) requires the court to consider all the facts, the estimated expenses and the defendant's ability to pay, and set a security amount. If the court determines that the defendant is unable to pay, the court may consider issuing an order under subsection (f). Any order issued for a security amount shall automatically renew every 30 days if the animal shelter files a notarized statement that the criminal charges are still pending.

Subsection (d) requires the defendant to pay the security amount within 5 business days of the hearing and every 30 days thereafter until the criminal charges are resolved. If the defendant fails to post the security the dogs are forfeited. If the dogs are forfeited, the shelter may allow the dogs to be adopted or euthanize them. If the shelter allows any of the dogs to be adopted, they must notify the person adopting the dog of the liability under the dangerous dog provisions of Chapter 67.

Subsection (e) allows the shelter to dispose of the dogs within a 30 day period if the criminal charges are resolved. Any amount of security not used for the dogs actual care shall be refunded to the defendant.

Subsection (f) allows the court, if it finds the defendant is unable to pay a security, to allow the defendant to care for the dogs. An animal control officer or law enforcement officer shall be assigned to ensure that the dogs are being cared for, and impound them if they are not.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act becomes effective December 1, 2005, and applies to offenses committed on or after that date.

The magistrate or district court judge must review the case and fix conditions of pretrial release as appropriate. If a defendant has paid a fine or costs and then appeals, the amount paid must be remitted to the defendant, but the judge, clerk or magistrate to whom notice of appeal is given may order the remission delayed pending the determination of the appeal.

(e) Any order of pretrial release remains in effect pending appeal by the defendant unless the judge modifies the order.

~~(f) Appeal pursuant to this section stays the execution of portions of the judgment relating to fine and costs. Appeal stays portions of the judgment relating to confinement when the defendant has complied with conditions of pretrial release. If the defendant cannot comply with conditions of pretrial release, the judge may order confinement in a local confinement facility pending the trial de novo in superior court.~~

(f1) Appeal pursuant to this section stays the execution of all portions of the judgment, including all of the following:

(1) Payment of costs.

(2) Payment of a fine.

(3) Probation or special probation.

(4) Active punishment.

Pursuant to subsection (e) of this section, however, the judge may order any appropriate condition of pretrial release, including confinement in a local confinement facility, pending the trial de novo in superior court.

(g) The defendant may withdraw his appeal at any time prior to calendaring of the case for trial de novo. The case is then automatically remanded to the court from which the appeal was taken, for execution of the judgment.

(h) The defendant may withdraw his appeal after the calendaring of the case for trial de novo only by consent of the court, and with the attachment of costs of that court, unless the costs or any part of the costs are remitted by the court. The case may then be remanded by order of the court to the court from which the appeal was taken for execution of the judgment with any additional court costs that attached and that have not been remitted."

SECTION 2. This act is effective when it becomes law and applies to appeals noticed on or after that date.

HOUSE BILL 1145:
Probation Stayed/Appeal for Trial de Novo

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	August 11, 2005
Introduced by:	Rep. Michaux	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith Committee Counsel
Version:	Second Edition

SUMMARY: House Bill 145 would stay probation during a trial de novo from a judgment entered by a magistrate or district court judge.

The bill would be effective when it becomes law and would apply to appeals noticed on or after that date.

CURRENT LAW:

Under current law, a defendant convicted before a magistrate may appeal for a trial de novo before a district court judge and a defendant convicted before a district court judge may appeal for a trial de novo with a jury. A trial de novo is a new trial or retrial in an appellate court that is conducted as if no trial had occurred in the lower court.

During the appeal for a trial de novo, the portion of the judgment relating to fines and penalties is stayed. The portion of the judgment relating to confinement will also be stayed if the defendant has complied with conditions of pretrial release.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 1145 would expand the portion of the judgment that would be stayed during a trial de novo to include probation or special probation.

Jeff Hudson, counsel to House Judiciary III, substantially contributed to this summary.

HOUSE BILL 1176:
Property Exempt From Enforcement Actions

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	August 10, 2005
Introduced by:	Reps. Weiss, Glazier, Goodwin, Harrison	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith
Version:	PCS to Fourth Edition H1176-PCS10389-RC-81		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 1176 would increase the limit on property a judgment debtor can exempt from claims of a creditor and would add new exemptions.

The PCS makes technical corrections by removing a section that is no longer applicable to the bill and correcting the effective date. It also deletes language that has been held to be unconstitutional by the North Carolina Court of Appeals[1].

CURRENT LAW: When a creditor obtains a judgment in an action against a debtor, the creditor can execute the judgment and force a sale of the debtor's property to satisfy the judgment. Debtors are entitled to "exempt", or keep free from the creditor, a certain amount of interest in specified property, including real or personal property, motor vehicles, tools of the trade, life insurance, individual retirement plans, health aids, and compensation for personal injury. According to the NC Bar Association, the amounts of the exemptions have not been updated since 1991. In order to claim these exemptions, a debtor must file a Schedule of Debtor's Property and Request to Set Aside Exempt Property with the court.

BILL ANALYSIS: The bill would make the following changes to the amount of exemptions, and would add the exemptions noted in the table below.

Exemption	Current Law	House Bill 1176
Real or personal property used as a residence, or in a burial plot	$10,000	$18,500; for an unmarried debtor 65 and older, $37,000 if previously owned as entireties or JTROS and the former co-owner is deceased
"Wildcard" or unused exemption	$3,500	$5,000
One motor vehicle	$1,500	$3,500
Household furnishings and goods	$3,500 for debtor $750 for each dependent (total $3,000 dependents)	$5,000 for debtor $1,000 for each dependent (total $4,000 dependents)
Tools of the trade	$750	$2,000
Wedding and engagements rings	Could be included as a household good	$4,000

[1] In Household Finance Corporation v. William Ellis, 419 S.E. 2d 592 (N.C. App. 1992), aff'd per curiam, 429 S.E.2d 716 (N.C. 1993), the Court of Appeals held that a provision in G.S. 1C-1601(c) that allows a debtor to waive exemptions provided in Sections 1 and 2 of Article X of the N.C. Constitutional is unconstitutional. See page 3, lines 17 and 18 of PCS.

Compensation for personal injury	100%	Includes compensation from private disability policies or annuities
Individual retirement plans	100%	Adds Roth IRAs, individual retirement annuities and certain accounts established as part of a trust (did not exist in 1991)
College savings plans (CSPs)	No exemption	$25,000 except funds placed in the account during the last 12 months, unless made in the ordinary course of the debtor's investments and that will actually be used for the college education of the debtor's child. (CSPs did not exist in 1991)
Retirement benefits from other states	No exemption (NC state retirement plan benefits exempt under G.S. 135-9 and 135-5)	100%
Alimony, support, separate maintenance, and child support	No exemption	100% to the extent reasonably necessary for the support of the debtor or any dependent of the debtor

The bill would also make the following substantive changes:

- Codify the "replacement property" exception found in case law that permits debtors to exempt recent purchases if the purchase is directly traceable to the liquidation or conversion of property that may be exempt and no additional property was transferred into or used to acquire the replacement property.
- Specify that the exemptions form must be served on the debtor at the time the debtor is advised of his exemption rights.
- Amend the Notice form and the Schedule form to notify debtors that other exemptions may be available and that there is a prompt procedure for challenging an attachment or levy.

BACKGROUND: The Bankruptcy Section Council of the North Carolina Bar Association formed an Exemption Revision Committee in 2002 out of a concern by the council that "the real and practical values of North Carolina's exemptions have diminished greatly since they were last revised in 1991." The Committee was comprised of debtor and creditor attorneys, a Chapter 7 Trustee, and a staff attorney for the Bankruptcy Court. The Committee analyzed available data and sought to determine what statutory revisions would be appropriate to recommend for endorsement by the Bankruptcy Section Council. The Committee concluded that the dollar amounts of the current exemptions were too low. The changes recommended by the Committee are reflected in House Bill 1176 and were approved by both the Bankruptcy Section Council and the Board of Governors of the North Carolina Bar Association. According to the Bar's report, all of the recommended dollar amounts are within 20% of any corresponding federal bankruptcy exemption.

HOUSE BILL 1311

Committee Substitute Favorable 5/10/05
Third Edition Engrossed 5/26/05

Short Title: Domestic Violence Victims Empowerment Act. (Public)

April 20, 2005

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT ALLOWING DOMESTIC VIOLENCE VICTIMS TO APPLY FOR A TEMPORARY CONCEALED HANDGUN PERMIT UPON SHOWING PROOF OF A PROTECTIVE ORDER ISSUED UNDER CHAPTER 50B OF THE GENERAL STATUTES AS EVIDENCE OF AN EMERGENCY SITUATION IN ORDER TO EMPOWER DOMESTIC VIOLENCE VICTIMS TO PROTECT THEMSELVES AND THEIR FAMILIES.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 14-415.15(b) reads as rewritten:

"(b) Upon presentment to the sheriff of the items required under G.S. 14-415.13(a)(1), (2), and (3), the sheriff may issue a temporary permit for a period not to exceed 90 days to a person who the sheriff reasonably believes is in an emergency situation that may constitute a risk of safety to the person, the person's family or property. The applicant may submit proof of a protective order issued under G.S. 50B-3 for the protection of the applicant as evidence of an emergency situation. The temporary permit may not be renewed and may be revoked by the sheriff without a hearing."

SECTION 2. G.S. 50B-3 is amended by adding the following new subsection to read:

"(c1) When a protective order issued under this Chapter is filed with the Clerk of Superior Court, the clerk shall provide to the applicant an informational sheet developed by the Administrative Office of the Courts that explains the plaintiff's right to apply for a permit under G.S. 14-415.15."

SECTION 3. The Administrative Office of the Courts shall develop a standard informational sheet for plaintiffs issued protective orders under Chapter 50B of the General Statutes that explains the plaintiffs' right to apply for a permit under G.S. 14-415.15.

SECTION 4. This act becomes effective October 1, 2005, and applies to protective orders issued on or after that date.

HOUSE BILL 1311:
Domestic Violence Victims Empowerment Act

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	House	Date:	August 11, 2005
Introduced by:	Reps. Hilton, Johnson	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith Committee Counsel
Version:	Third Edition

SUMMARY: House Bill 1311 would allow domestic violence victims to submit proof of a protective order as evidence of an emergency situation to obtain a temporary permit to carry a concealed handgun.

CURRENT LAW: Under the current law, a person may apply for a permit to carry a concealed handgun in North Carolina, and a sheriff must issue a permit to an applicant who meets all of the criteria set out in Article 54B of Chapter 14 of the General Statutes. G.S. 14-415.13 requires that an applicant submit to the sheriff of the county in which the applicant resides all of the following:

- An application.
- A nonrefundable permit fee ($80).
- A full set of fingerprints.
- A certificate of completion from a handgun instruction course.
- A release authorizing disclosure of mental health records to the sheriff.

Once the sheriff has received all of the items required from the applicant, the sheriff must either issue or deny a permit within 90 days.

However, G.S. 14-415.15(b) authorizes the sheriff to issue a temporary permit to a person that may last up to 90 days if the sheriff reasonably believes that the applicant is in an emergency situation that may constitute a risk of safety to the person, the person's family or property. In order to be eligible to receive a temporary permit, the applicant must have submitted the application, the permit fee, and a set of fingerprints. It is entirely within the discretion of the sheriff whether to issue the temporary permit.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Section 1 would amend G.S. 14-415.15(b) to specify that, when a victim of domestic violence applies for a temporary concealed handgun permit, the applicant may submit proof of a domestic violence protective order issued under Chapter 50B of the General Statutes as evidence that he or she is in an emergency situation. It would still be within the discretion of the sheriff whether to issue the temporary permit.

Section 2 would amend G.S. 50B-3 to require that when a protective order is filed with the clerk of superior court, the clerk must provide the applicant with an informational sheet developed by AOC that explains the plaintiff's right to apply for a concealed carry permit.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill would become effective October 1, 2005, and would apply to domestic violence protective orders issued on or after that date.

Police: Rocky Mount Mother Had Two Protective Orders Against Murder Suspect

POSTED: 10:23 am EDT August 1, 2005
UPDATED: 7:34 pm EDT August 1, 2005

ROCKY MOUNT, N.C. -- Rocky Mount police say a woman who was killed Sunday by her ex-boyfriend did everything she could have done to protect herself.

Police say Anthony Wright, 42, slammed into 38-year-old Belinda Davis' vehicle at 30 mph near Brandon Lane early Monday morning. Investigators say Wright then got out of his vehicle and stabbed Davis numerous times. She later died at Nash General Hospital.

Authorities say Belinda Davis, right, was stabbed numerous times by her estranged boyfriend, Anthony Wright.

• Related Article: Domestic Violence Resources

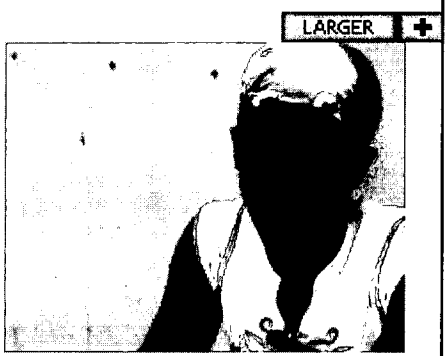
At about 3:30 p.m. Monday, police arrested Wright, who was found hiding in his current girlfriend's house, according to authorities.

Davis, a teacher's aide at a local elementary school, leaves behind four children, ages 13 to 20.



"She never did nothing to hurt nobody," Alicia Davis said of her mother, Belinda Davis.

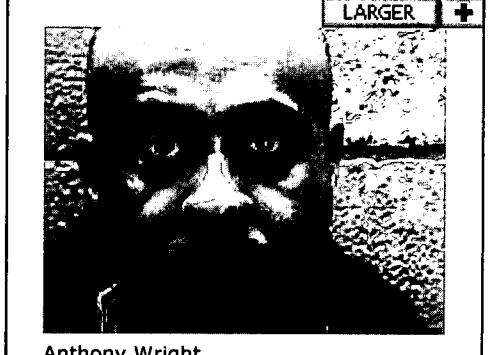
One of Davis' children, 17-year-old Alicia, said Monday that she and her mother were very close -- and that is what she wants to remember.

"She has the craziest laugh -- and her smile," Alicia said.

There had not been a lot of laughing for the family this year. In January, police charged Wright with assault after they say he beat Davis so bad that she spent almost two months in the hospital and more time at a shelter.

Wright was released on a $15,000 bond.

Since that time, Davis took out two restraining orders against Wright and had not seen him in months until Sunday. Davis had left a local bingo parlor that evening. Police said Wright waited for her outside her neighborhood.



Anthony Wright

"It just tell us with all with the precautionary measures you can take, there are no certainties -- as far as what those court papers will protect us from."

State lawmakers are considering a domestic violence bill that could help women in situations like Davis'. The measure would allow victims to quickly obtain a concealed weapons permit as long as they have proof of a protective order.

Through it all, Alicia said her mother always put up a strong front.

"She had to be there for us to make us feel better in order for her to feel better," Alicia said.

Detectives said Wright has two prior assault convictions involving a former girlfriend. He is now charged with murder.

As for Davis' four children, Alicia said her mother is gone, but all of them vow to make her proud.

HB 1311: "Domestic Violence Victims' Empowerment Act

GRNC Urges You to Support a Strong HB 1311

HB 1311 is a limited bill intended to empower qualified domestic violence victims being protected by restraining orders to protect themselves against violent abusers by obtaining expedited concealed handgun permits. Despite its limited scope, it has been opposed by some organizations with self-serving agendas. Following are some of the objections against the bill, together with realities.

MYTH: HB 1311 requires sheriffs to issue permits to unqualified applicants

- GRNC has never objected to either training or background requirements for permit applicants.
- In present form, the sheriff has discretion over whether to issue permits.

MYTH: HB 1311 increases the risk to victims

- Although opponents claim that victims' guns will be "used against" them:
  - Abusers don't need guns: Abusers use guns against domestic victims less often than in other types of homicide (57% vs. 75%), presumably because 91% of abusers are physically stronger males. Preferred methods of homicide include knives, blunt objects or strangulation.
- Opponents' objections border upon the absurd:
  - One self-proclaimed "British forensic psychologist" claims: "Women who are subject to serious physical assaults from their partners are generally living in a situation where their every movement is monitored, their phone calls checked, their expenditure controlled. The possibility of such women obtaining a gun legally without their partner knowing is therefore very unlikely."
  - What does this "expert" ignore? That HB 1311 applies only to victims being protected by restraining orders. Translation: The abuser is already out of the house, meaning that victims are not having their "every movement...monitored" as this "expert" proclaims.

IRRELEVANCE: Opponents claim most victims won't take advantage of the law

- Whether "most" victims take advantage of the ability to protect themselves is less important than if ONE victim does so. In December, Joy Burgess protected herself against her ex-husband, who broke down her door with a shovel after first cutting her phone lines. Who in the legislature would deny a woman of such strength the ability defend herself and her daughter against a homicidal abuser? Joy's mother, Angela Burgess, wouldn't: She supports the bill.

FACT: Police aren't responsible for protecting domestic violence victims

- As reaffirmed yet again by the U.S. Supreme Court, police cannot be held accountable for criminal acts, even when the order has been issued for the protection of the complainant (Castle Rock v. Gonzales).

FACT: HB 1311 is long overdue

- No less than 35 domestic homicides have marred this year, including at least 6 in which abusers ignored restraining orders. Previous efforts are clearly failing. How many murders will it take before the General Assembly acts?

What GRNC wants from HB 1311 changes little in law beyond advising victims of their rights and holding sheriffs accountable for their actions.

Who could reasonably object to that?

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO ENACT THE NORTH CAROLINA STREET GANG PREVENTION ACT AS RECOMMENDED BY THE HOUSE SELECT COMMITTEE ON STREET GANG PREVENTION.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Chapter 14 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new Article to read:

"Article 13A.

"North Carolina Street Gang Prevention Act.

"§ 14-50.15. Short title.

This Article shall be known and may be cited as the "North Carolina Street Gang Prevention Act".

"§ 14-50.16. Legislative findings and intent.

(a) The General Assembly finds and declares that it is the right of every person to be secure and protected from fear, intimidation, and physical harm caused by the activities of violent groups and individuals. It is not the intent of this Article to interfere with the exercise of the constitutionally protected rights of freedom of expression and association. The General Assembly recognizes the constitutional right of every citizen to harbor and express beliefs on any lawful subject whatsoever, to associate lawfully with others who share similar beliefs, to petition lawfully constituted authority for a redress of perceived grievances, and to participate in the electoral process.

(b) The General Assembly, however, further finds that the State of North Carolina is in a state of crisis that has been caused by violent street gangs whose members threaten, terrorize, and commit a multitude of crimes against the peaceful citizens of their neighborhoods. These activities, both individually and collectively, present a clear and present danger to public order and safety and are not constitutionally protected.

(c) The General Assembly finds that there are criminal street gangs operating in North Carolina and that the number of gang-related murders is increasing. It is the intent of the General Assembly in enacting this Article to seek the eradication of criminal activity by street gangs by focusing upon patterns of criminal gang activity and upon the organized nature of street gangs which together are the chief source of terror created by street gangs.

(d) The General Assembly further finds that an effective means of punishing and deterring the criminal activities of street gangs is through forfeiture of the profits, proceeds, and instrumentalities acquired, accumulated, or used by street gangs.

"§ 14-50.17. Definitions.

The following definitions apply in this Article:

(1) "Criminal street gang" or "street gang" means any ongoing organization, association, or group of three or more persons, whether formal or informal, which engages in a pattern of criminal gang activity as defined in subdivision (2) of this section. The existence of the organization, association, or group of individuals associated in fact may be established by evidence of a common name or common identifying signs, symbols, tattoos, graffiti, or attire or other distinguishing characteristics.

(2) "Pattern of criminal gang activity" means the commission, attempted commission, conspiracy to commit, or solicitation, coercion, or intimidation of another person to commit at least two of the following offenses, provided that at least one of these offenses occurred after December 1, 2005, and the last of the offenses occurred within three years, excluding any periods of imprisonment, of prior criminal gang activity:

a. Any offense under Article 5 of Chapter 90 of the General Statutes (Controlled Substances Act).

b. Any offense under Chapter 14 of the General Statutes except Articles 9, 22A, 38, 40, 43, 46, 47, 59 thereof; and further excepting G.S. 14-78.1, 14-82, 14-86, 14-145, 14-179, 14-183, 14-184, 14-186, 14-190.9, 14-195, 14-197, 14-201, 14-247, 14-248, 14-313 thereof.

"§ 14-50.18. Participation in criminal street gang activity prohibited.

(a) It is unlawful for any person employed by or associated with a criminal street gang to conduct or participate in the criminal street gang through a pattern of criminal gang activity.

(b) It is unlawful for any person to acquire or maintain, directly or indirectly, through a pattern of criminal gang activity or proceeds derived therefrom, any interest in or control of any real or personal property of any nature, including money.

(c) It is unlawful for any person who occupies a position of organizer, supervisory position, or any other position of management with regard to a criminal street gang to engage in, directly or indirectly, or conspire to engage in, a pattern of criminal gang activity.

(d) It is unlawful for any person to cause, encourage, solicit, or coerce another to participate in a criminal street gang.

(e) It is unlawful for any person to communicate, directly or indirectly, with another any threat of injury or damage to the person or property of the other person or to any associate or relative of the other person with the intent to deter the person from assisting a member or associate of a criminal street gang to withdraw from such criminal street gang.

(f) It is unlawful for any person to communicate, directly or indirectly, with another any threat of injury or damage to the person or property of the other person or to any associate or relative of the other person with the intent to punish or retaliate against the person for having withdrawn from a criminal street gang.

(g) Any person who violates this section shall be punished as follows:

(1) A person who violates subsection (a) or (b) of this section shall, in addition to any other penalty imposed by law, be punished as a Class E felon.

(2) A person who violates subsection (a), (b), (d), (e), or (f) of this section may, if the person also violates subsection (c) of this section in the same course of conduct, in addition to any other penalty provided by law, be punished by imprisonment for an additional 10 years which shall be served consecutively to any other sentence imposed on the person by law.

(3) A person who violates subsection (d), (e), or (f) of this section shall, in addition to any other penalty provided by law, be punished as a Class G felon.

(h) Any crime committed in violation of this section shall be considered a separate offense.

"§ 14-50.19. Enhanced offense for criminal gang activity.

Unless a different classification is expressly stated, a person who is convicted of an offense that is committed for the benefit of, at the direction of, or in association with, any criminal street gang, is guilty of an offense that is one class higher than the offense committed. A Class A1 misdemeanor shall be enhanced to a Class I felony under this section.

This section does not apply to the offenses set forth in G.S. 14-50.18.

"§ 14-50.20. Reports of disposition; criminal street gang activity.

When a defendant is found guilty of an offense, the presiding judge shall determine whether the offense was committed for the benefit of, at the direction of, or in association with, any criminal street gang. If the judge determines that the offense so qualifies, then the judge shall indicate on the form reflecting the judgment that the offense involved criminal street gang activity. The clerk of court shall ensure that the official record of the defendant's conviction includes the court's determination.

"§ 14-50.21. Contraband, seizure, and forfeiture.

(a) All of the following are declared to be contraband, and no person shall have a property interest in them:

(1) All property that is directly or indirectly used or intended for use in any manner to facilitate a violation of this Article.

(2) Any property constituting or derived from gross profits or other proceeds obtained from a violation of this Article.

(b) In any action under this section, the court may enter a restraining order in connection with any interest that is subject to forfeiture.

(c) Within 60 days of the date of the seizure of contraband pursuant to this section, the district attorney or the Attorney General shall initiate a forfeiture proceeding as provided in G.S. 14-2.3.

"§ 14-50.22. Local ordinances not preempted by State law.

Nothing in this Article shall prevent a local governing body from adopting and enforcing ordinances relating to gangs and gang violence that are consistent with this Article. Where local laws duplicate or supplement the provisions of this Article, this Article shall be construed as providing alternative remedies and not as preempting the field.

"§ 14-50.23. Real property used by criminal street gangs declared a public nuisance; abatement; persons injured by gangs entitled to treble damages.

Any real property that is erected, established, maintained, owned, leased, or used by any criminal street gang for the purpose of conducting criminal gang activity shall constitute a public nuisance and may be abated as provided by Article 1 of Chapter 19 of the General Statutes. If the property is owned by a person who is not a member of the criminal street gang, this section shall apply only if the person has knowledge of the criminal gang activity.

"§ 14-50.24. Matters proved in criminal trial court.

A conviction of an offense defined as criminal gang activity shall preclude the defendant from contesting any factual matters determined in the criminal proceeding in any subsequent civil action or proceeding based on the same conduct."

SECTION 2. Chapter 14 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 14-34.9. Discharging a firearm from within an enclosure.

Unless covered under some other provision of law providing greater punishment, any person who willfully or wantonly discharges or attempts to discharge a firearm from within any building, structure, motor vehicle, aircraft, watercraft, or other conveyance, device, equipment, erection, or enclosure toward a person or persons not within that enclosure shall be punished as a Class E felon."

SECTION 3. G.S. 15A-533 reads as rewritten:

"§ 15A-533. Right to pretrial release in capital and noncapital cases.

(a) A defendant charged with any crime, whether capital or noncapital, who is alleged to have committed this crime while still residing in or subsequent to his escape or during an unauthorized absence from involuntary commitment in a mental health facility designated or licensed by the Department of Health and Human Services, and whose commitment is determined to be still valid by the judge or judicial officer authorized to determine pretrial release to be valid, has no right to pretrial release. In lieu of pretrial release, however, the individual shall be returned to the treatment facility in which he was residing at the time of the alleged crime or from which he escaped or absented himself for continuation of his treatment pending the additional proceedings on the criminal offense.

(b) A defendant charged with a noncapital offense must have conditions of pretrial release determined, in accordance with G.S. 15A-534.

(c) A judge may determine in his discretion whether a defendant charged with a capital offense may be released before trial. If he determines release is warranted, the judge must authorize release of the defendant in accordance with G.S. 15A-534.

(d) ~~Subject to rebuttal by the person, it shall be presumed~~ There shall be a rebuttable presumption that no condition of release will reasonably assure the appearance of the person as required and the safety of the community if a judicial official finds the following:

(1) There is reasonable cause to believe that the person committed an offense involving trafficking in a controlled substance;

(2) The drug trafficking offense was committed while the person was on pretrial release for another offense; and

(3) The person has been previously convicted of a Class A through E felony or an offense involving trafficking in a controlled substance and not more than five years has elapsed since the date of conviction or the person's release from prison for the offense, whichever is later.

(e) There shall be a rebuttable presumption that no condition of release will reasonably assure the appearance of the person as required and the safety of the community, if a judicial official finds the following:

(1) There is reasonable cause to believe that the person committed an offense for the benefit of, at the direction of, or in association with, any criminal street gang, as defined in G.S. 14-50.17;

(2) The offense described in subdivision (1) of this subsection was committed while the person was on pretrial release for another offense; and

(3) The person has been previously convicted of an offense described in G.S. 14-50.17, and not more than five years has elapsed since the date of conviction or the person's release for the offense, whichever is later.

~~Such person~~ Persons who are considered for bond under the provisions of subsections (d) and (e) of this section may only be released by a district or superior court judge upon a finding that there is a reasonable assurance that the person will appear and release does not pose an unreasonable risk of harm to the community."

SECTION 4. G.S. 15A-1340.16(d) reads as rewritten:

"(d) Aggravating Factors. – The following are aggravating factors:

(1) The defendant induced others to participate in the commission of the offense or occupied a position of leadership or dominance of other participants.

(2) The defendant joined with more than one other person in committing the offense and was not charged with committing a conspiracy.

(2a) The offense was committed for the benefit of, or at the direction of, any criminal street gang, with the specific intent to promote, further, or assist in any criminal conduct by gang members, and the defendant was not charged with committing a conspiracy. A "criminal street gang" means any ongoing organization, association, or group of three or more persons, whether formal or informal, having as one of its primary activities the commission of felony or violent misdemeanor offenses, or delinquent acts that would be felonies or violent misdemeanors if committed by an adult, and having a common name or common identifying sign, colors, or symbols.

(3) The offense was committed for the purpose of avoiding or preventing a lawful arrest or effecting an escape from custody.

(4) The defendant was hired or paid to commit the offense.

(5) The offense was committed to disrupt or hinder the lawful exercise of any governmental function or the enforcement of laws.

(6) The offense was committed against or proximately caused serious injury to a present or former law enforcement officer, employee of the Department of Correction, jailer, fireman, emergency medical technician, ambulance attendant, justice or judge, clerk or assistant or deputy clerk of court, magistrate, prosecutor, juror, or witness against the defendant, while engaged in the performance of that person's official duties or because of the exercise of that person's official duties.

(7) The offense was especially heinous, atrocious, or cruel.

(8) The defendant knowingly created a great risk of death to more than one person by means of a weapon or device which would normally be hazardous to the lives of more than one person.

(9) The defendant held public office at the time of the offense and the offense related to the conduct of the office.

(10) The defendant was armed with or used a deadly weapon at the time of the crime.

(11) The victim was very young, or very old, or mentally or physically infirm, or handicapped.

(12) The defendant committed the offense while on pretrial release on another charge.

(13) The defendant involved a person under the age of 16 in the commission of the crime.

(14) The offense involved an attempted or actual taking of property of great monetary value or damage causing great monetary loss, or the offense involved an unusually large quantity of contraband.

(15) The defendant took advantage of a position of trust or confidence, including a domestic relationship, to commit the offense.

(16) The offense involved the sale or delivery of a controlled substance to a minor.

(16a) The offense is the manufacture of methamphetamine and was committed where a person under the age of 18 lives, was present, or was otherwise endangered by exposure to the drug, its ingredients, its by-products, or its waste.

(17) The offense for which the defendant stands convicted was committed against a victim because of the victim's race, color, religion, nationality, or country of origin.

(18) The defendant does not support the defendant's family.

(18a) The defendant has previously been adjudicated delinquent for an offense that would be a Class A, B1, B2, C, D, or E felony if committed by an adult.

(19) The serious injury inflicted upon the victim is permanent and debilitating.

(20) Any other aggravating factor reasonably related to the purposes of sentencing.

Evidence necessary to prove an element of the offense shall not be used to prove any factor in aggravation, and the same item of evidence shall not be used to prove more than one factor in aggravation. Evidence necessary to establish that an enhanced sentence is required under ~~G.S. 15A-1340.16A~~G.S. 15A-1340.16A, G.S. 15A-1340.16B, or G.S. 14-50.19 may not be used to prove any factor in aggravation.

The judge shall not consider as an aggravating factor the fact that the defendant exercised the right to a jury trial."

SECTION 5. Chapter 15A of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 15A-1340.16B. Enhanced sentence if defendant is convicted of a Class A, B1, B2, C, D, or E felony that was committed for the benefit of, at the direction of, or in association with, any criminal street gang, and the defendant possessed, displayed, or discharged a firearm during the commission of the felony.

(a) Notwithstanding G.S. 15A-1340.16A, a person who is convicted of a Class A, B1, B2, C, D, or E felony that was committed for the benefit of, at the direction of, or in association with, any criminal street gang as defined in G.S. 14-50.17, and who possessed, displayed, or discharged a firearm during the commission of the felony shall be punished pursuant to one of the following subdivisions:

(1) If the person possessed a firearm during the commission of the felony, the person shall, in addition to the punishment for the underlying felony, be sentenced to a minimum term of imprisonment for 60 months.

(2) If the person displayed a firearm during the commission of the felony, the person shall, in addition to the punishment for the underlying felony, be sentenced to a minimum term of imprisonment for 84 months.

(3) If the person discharged a firearm during the commission of the felony, the person shall, in addition to the punishment for the underlying felony, be sentenced to a minimum term of imprisonment for 120 months.

(b) An indictment or information for the Class A, B1, B2, C, D, or E felony shall allege in that indictment or information or in a separate indictment or information the facts set out in subsection (a) of this section. The pleading is sufficient if it alleges that the defendant committed the felony by possessing, displaying, or discharging the firearm. One pleading is sufficient for all Class A, B1, B2, C, D, or E felonies that are tried at a single trial.

(c) The State shall prove the issues set out in subsection (a) of this section beyond a reasonable doubt during the same trial in which the defendant is tried for the felony unless the defendant pleads guilty or no contest to the issues. If the defendant pleads guilty or no contest to the felony but pleads not guilty to the issues set out in subsection (a) of this section, then a jury shall be impaneled to determine the issues.

(d) The enhanced punishment provided by this section for the acts of possessing or displaying a firearm applies even if the firearm is incapable of firing.

(e) The court shall not suspend any sentence imposed under this section and shall not place a person sentenced under this section on probation for the sentence imposed under this section. Sentences imposed pursuant to this section shall be consecutive to all other sentences imposed and shall begin at the expiration of any other sentence being served by the defendant."

SECTION 6. The Revisor of Statutes shall recodify the existing G.S. 15A-1340.16B and subsequent statutes accordingly.

SECTION 7. G.S. 15A-1340.16A(c) reads as rewritten:

"(c) ~~If~~ Except as provided in G.S. 15A-1340.16B, if a person is convicted of a Class A, B1, B2, C, D, or E felony and it is found as provided in this section that: (i) the person committed the felony by using, displaying, or threatening the use or display of a firearm and (ii) the person actually possessed the firearm about his or her person, then the person shall have the minimum term of imprisonment to which the person is sentenced for that felony increased by 60 months. The maximum term of imprisonment shall be the maximum term that corresponds to the minimum term after it is increased by 60 months, as specified in G.S. 15A-1340.17(e) and (e1)."

SECTION 8. There is appropriated to the State Bureau of Investigation the amount of one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000) to obtain an enterprise license for purchase of software that will create a statewide criminal street gang member database. The database software shall be substantially similar to the Gang Net Program that is currently being used in Durham County.

SECTION 9. There is appropriated to the Governor's Crime Commission, the sum of twenty million dollars ($20,000,000) for the 2005-2006 fiscal year to be used to provide grants for street gang violence prevention and intervention programs.

The Governor's Crime Commission shall develop the criteria for eligibility for these funds. The criteria shall include a matching requirement of twenty-five percent (25%), one-half of which may be in in-kind contributions, and presentation of a written plan for the services to be provided by the funds. Funds shall be available to public and private entities or agencies for juvenile or adult programs that meet the criteria established by the Governor's Crime Commission.

The Governor's Crime Commission shall report on the uses of these funds no later than April 1, 2006, to the House of Representatives Appropriations Subcommittee on Justice and Public Safety, the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee on Justice and Public Safety, and the Fiscal Research Division.

SECTION 10. Sections 8 and 9 of this act become effective July 1, 2005. The remainder of this act becomes effective December 1, 2005, and applies to offenses committed on or after that date.

HOUSE BILL 1213

Short Title:	Expunge Multiple Charges/Occur Within 1 yr.	(Public)
Sponsors:	Representatives Moore, Sutton (Primary Sponsors); Parmon and Womble.
Referred to:	Judiciary II.

April 13, 2005

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO PROVIDE THAT A PERSON CHARGED WITH MULTIPLE OFFENSES MAY HAVE THOSE CHARGES EXPUNGED IF THE ALLEGED OFFENSES OCCURRED WITHIN THE SAME TWELVE-MONTH PERIOD OF TIME AND THE CHARGES ARE SUBSEQUENTLY DISMISSED OR FINDINGS OF NOT GUILTY OR NOT RESPONSIBLE ARE ENTERED AT THE SAME TERM OF COURT.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 15A-146 reads as rewritten:

"§ 15A-146. Expunction of records when charges are dismissed or there are findings of not ~~guilty.~~guilty; expunction of records in certain circumstances for charges of multiple offenses when charges are subsequently dismissed or there are findings of not guilty at the same term of court.

(a) If any person is charged with a crime, either a misdemeanor or a felony, or was charged with an infraction under G.S. 18B-302(i) prior to December 1, 1999, and the charge is dismissed, or a finding of not guilty or not responsible is entered, that person may apply to the court of the county where the charge was brought for an order to expunge from all official records any entries relating to his apprehension or trial. The court shall hold a hearing on the application and, upon finding that the person had not previously received an expungement under this section, G.S. 15A-145, or G.S. 90-96, and that the person had not previously been convicted of any felony under the laws of the United States, this State, or any other state, the court shall order the expunction. No person as to whom such an order has been entered shall be held thereafter under any provision of any law to be guilty of perjury, or to be guilty of otherwise giving a false statement or response to any inquiry made for any purpose, by reason of his failure to recite or acknowledge any expunged entries concerning apprehension or trial.

(a1) Notwithstanding subsection (a) of this section, if a person is charged with multiple offenses that occurred within the same 12-month period of time and the charges are dismissed, or findings of not guilty or not responsible are entered at the same term of court, then a person may apply to have each of those charges expunged. There is no requirement that the multiple offenses arise out of the same transaction or occurrence or that the multiple offenses were consolidated for judgment provided the offenses all occurred within the same 12-month period of time. The court shall hold a hearing on the application. If the court finds that the person had not previously received an expungement under this section except as allowed for multiple offenses under this subsection, that the person had not previously received an expungement under G.S. 15A-145 or G.S. 90-96, and that the person had not previously been convicted of any felony under the laws of the United States, this State, or any other state, the court shall order the expunction. No person as to whom such an order has been entered shall be held thereafter under any provision of any law to be guilty of perjury, or to be guilty of otherwise giving a false statement or response to any inquiry made for any purpose, by reason of his failure to recite or acknowledge any expunged entries concerning apprehension or trial.

(b) The court may also order that the said entries shall be expunged from the records of the court, and direct all law-enforcement agencies bearing record of the same to expunge their records of the entries. The clerk shall forward a certified copy of the order to the sheriff, chief of police, or other arresting agency. The sheriff, chief or head of such other arresting agency shall then transmit the copy of the order with the form supplied by the State Bureau of Investigation to the State Bureau of Investigation, and the State Bureau of Investigation shall forward the order to the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The costs of expunging these records shall not be taxed against the petitioner.

(b1) Any person entitled to expungement under this section may also apply to the court for an order expunging DNA records when the person's case has been dismissed by the trial court and the person's DNA record or profile has been included in the State DNA Database and the person's DNA sample is stored in the State DNA Databank. A copy of the application for expungement of the DNA record or DNA sample shall be served on the district attorney for the judicial district in which the felony charges were brought not less than 20 days prior to the date of the hearing on the application. If the application for expungement is granted, a certified copy of the trial court's order dismissing the charges shall be attached to an order of expungement. The order of expungement shall include the name and address of the defendant and the defendant's attorney and shall direct the SBI to send a letter documenting expungement as required by subsection (b2) of this section.

(b2) Upon receiving an order of expungement entered pursuant to subsection (b1) of this section, the SBI shall purge the DNA record and all other identifying information from the State DNA Database and the DNA sample stored in the State DNA Databank covered by the order, except that the order shall not apply to other offenses committed by the individual that qualify for inclusion in the State DNA Database and the State DNA Databank. A letter documenting expungement of the DNA record and destruction of the DNA sample shall be sent by the SBI to the defendant and the defendant's attorney at the address specified by the court in the order of expungement.

(c) The Clerk of Superior Court in each county in North Carolina shall, as soon as practicable after each term of court in his county, file with the Administrative Office of the Courts, the names of those persons granted an expungement under the provisions of this section and the Administrative Office of the Courts shall maintain a confidential file containing the names of persons granted such expungement. The information contained in such files shall be disclosed only to judges of the General Court of Justice of North Carolina for the purpose of ascertaining whether any person charged with an offense has been previously granted an expungement."

SECTION 2. This act is effective when it becomes law.

HOUSE BILL 1213:
Expunge Multiple Charges/Occur Within 1 yr

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	House Judiciary II	Date:	May 5, 2005
Introduced by:	Reps. Moore, Sutton	Summary by:	Drupti Chauhan
Version:	First Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 1213 would allow a person charged with multiple offenses to have those charges expunged if the alleged offenses occurred within the same 12 month period of time and the charges are subsequently dismissed or findings of not guilty or not responsible are entered in the same term of court.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 15A-146 provides for the expunction of records when charges are dismissed or there is finding of not guilty. A person charged with any crime, whether a misdemeanor or a felony, who is not convicted of that offense, can apply to have the charge expunged. In order to have the records expunged, the court must find that the person has not previously received an expunction under:

- this section (G.S.15A-146);
- G.S. 15A-145 (expunction of records for first offenders under the age of 18 for misdemeanor convictions); or
- G.S. 90-96 (expunction for certain drug-related offenses).

In addition, the court must also find that the person had not previously been convicted of any felony under the laws of the United States, this State or any other state before ordering the expunction.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 1213 would allow a person who is charged with multiple offenses that occurred within the same 12 month time period to apply to have each of those charges expunged if those charges are dismissed or findings of not guilty or not responsible are entered in the same term of court. The multiple offenses do not have to arise out of the same transaction or occurrence nor do the multiple offenses have to have been consolidated for judgment as long as all of the offenses occurred within the same 12 month time period.

The court is required to hold a hearing on the application. The court shall order the expunction if the court finds that the person had not previously:

- Received an expunction under this section except as allowed for multiple offenses under this new provision;
- Received expunctions under G.S. 15A-145 or G.S. 90-96; nor
- Been convicted of any felony under the laws of the United States, this State or any other state.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill would become effective when it becomes law.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO PROVIDE FOR THE EXPUNCTION OF OFFICIAL RECORDS WHEN A PERSON IS GRANTED A PARDON OF INNOCENCE.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Article 5 of Chapter 15A of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 15A-149. Expunction of records when pardon of innocence is granted.

(a) If any person is convicted of a crime and receives a pardon of innocence, the person may apply by petition or written motion to the court in which the person was convicted on a form approved by the Administrative Office of the Courts supplied by the clerk of court for an order to expunge from all official records any entries relating to the person's apprehension, charge, or trial. Upon receipt of the petition or written motion, the clerk of court shall verify that an attested copy of the warrant and return granting a pardon of innocence has been filed with the court in accordance with G.S. 147-25. Upon verification by the clerk that the warrant and return have been filed, the court shall issue an order of expunction.

(b) The order of expunction shall include an instruction that any entries relating to the person's apprehension, charge, or trial shall be expunged from the records of the court and direct all law enforcement agencies, the Division of Motor Vehicles, or any other State or local government agencies bearing record of the same to expunge their records of the entries. The clerk shall forward a certified copy of the order to the sheriff, chief of police, or other charging agency; and, when applicable, to the Division of Motor Vehicles and any other State or local agency. The sheriff, chief, or head of such other charging agency shall then transmit the copy of the order with the form supplied by the State Bureau of Investigation to the State Bureau of Investigation, and the State Bureau of Investigation shall forward the order to the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Upon receipt of a certified copy of the order, the agency must purge its records as required by this section. The costs of expunging these records shall not be taxed against the petitioner.

(c) No person as to whom such an order has been entered under this section shall be held thereafter under any provision of any law to be guilty of perjury, or to be guilty of otherwise giving a false statement or response to any inquiry made for any purpose, by reason of the person's failure to recite or acknowledge any expunged entries concerning apprehension, charge, or trial."

HOUSE BILL 1328: Pardon/Expunction of Record

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	August 11, 2005
Introduced by:	Reps. Harrison, Coleman, Parmon, Womble	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith Committee Counsel
Version:	First Edition

SUMMARY: House Bill 1328 provides for the expunction of criminal records when a person is granted a pardon of innocence.

CURRENT LAW: The North Carolina Constitution grants the Governor the power to issue pardons. A pardon of innocence is an unconditional pardon that releases the person from any further confinement or supervision.

Current law allows for expunction of criminal records in several instances.

- When charges are dismissed or a person is found not guilty – allowed one time(G.S. 15A-146)
- When charges are dismissed or a person is found not guilty as a result of identity fraud – allowed multiple times (G.S. 15A-147)
- When charges are dismissed or a person is found not guilty of certain drug-related offenses committed while under the age of 21 (G.S. 90-96(d))
- Juvenile records except for any A-E felonies (G.S. 7B-3200)
- Convictions of a misdemeanor while under the age of 18 for first offenders (G.S. 15A-145)
- Conviction of misdemeanor possession of alcohol while under the age of 21 for first offenders (G.S. 15A-145)
- Convictions for certain drug-related offenses for first offenders (G.S. 90-96 and G.S. 90-113.14)

When records are expunged, all entries related to that charge are removed from the records and the person is restored to the status they occupied before the arrest, indictment or conviction. Many of the current statutes only allow one expunction and require that the Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) keep a registry of persons who have received prior expungements. That registry is only available to judges to determine if a person has received a prior expungement when they apply for expungement under a statute that only allows one.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill1328 provides for the expunction of records for anyone who receives a pardon of innocence from the Governor. The bill does not limit the number of expungements possible and does not require any information to be retained at AOC.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

Committee Substitute Favorable 5/25/05

Short Title: Testamentary Recommendation of Guardian. (Public)

Referred to:

April 21, 2005

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO ALLOW THE PARENTS OF AN INCOMPETENT ADULT WHO IS NOT MARRIED TO RECOMMEND A GUARDIAN FOR THAT ADULT BY WILL OR OTHER DOCUMENT.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Article 5 of Chapter 35A is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 35A-1212.1. Recommendation of appointment of guardian by will or other writing.

Any parent may by will recommend appointment of a guardian for an unmarried child who has been adjudicated an incompetent person and specify desired limitations on the powers to be given to the guardian. If both parents make such recommendations, the will with the latest date shall, in the absence of other relevant factors, prevail. Such recommendation shall be a strong guide for the clerk in appointing a guardian, but the clerk is not bound by the recommendation if the clerk finds that a different appointment is in the incompetent adult's best interest. If the will specifically so directs, a guardian appointed pursuant to such recommendation may be permitted to qualify and serve without giving bond, unless the clerk finds as a fact that the interest of the incompetent adult would be best served by requiring the guardian to give bond."

SECTION 2. G.S. 35A-1214 reads as rewritten:

"§ 35A-1214. Priorities for appointment.

The clerk shall consider appointing a guardian according to the following order of priority: an individual recommended under G.S. 35A-1212.1; an individual; a corporation; or a disinterested public agent. No public agent shall be appointed guardian until diligent efforts have been made to find an appropriate individual or corporation to serve as guardian, but in every instance the clerk shall base the appointment of a guardian or guardians on the best interest of the ward."

SECTION 3. G.S. 35A-1230 reads as rewritten:

"§ 35A-1230. Bond required before receiving property.

Except as otherwise provided by G.S. 35A-1212.1 and G.S. 35A-1225(a), no general guardian or guardian of the estate shall be permitted to receive the ward's property until he has given sufficient surety, approved by the clerk, to account for and apply the same under the direction of the court, provided that if the guardian is a nonresident of this State and the value of the property received exceeds one thousand dollars ($1,000) the surety shall be a bond under G.S. 35A-1231(a) executed by a duly authorized surety company, or secured by cash in an amount equal to the amount of the bond or by a mortgage executed under Chapter 109 of the General Statutes on real estate located in the county, the value of which, excluding all prior liens and encumbrances, shall be at least one and one-fourth times the amount of the bond; and further provided that the nonresident shall appoint a resident agent to accept service of process in all actions and proceedings with respect to the guardianship. The clerk shall not require a guardian of the person who is a resident of North Carolina to post a bond; the clerk may require a nonresident guardian of the person to post a bond or other security for the faithful performance of the guardian's duties."

SECTION 4. This act is effective when it becomes law.

HOUSE BILL 1394:
Testamentary Recommendation of Guardian

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	August 11, 2005
Introduced by:	Rep. Moore	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith
Version:	Second Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 1394 would allow the parents of an unmarried incompetent adult to recommend a guardian for that adult by a will or other written document.

CURRENT LAW: Any individual may file an application for the appointment of a guardian for an incompetent person. The clerk of court is to make the needed inquiry and receive evidence to determine the nature and the extent of the needed guardianship, the assets, liabilities, and needs of the incompetent person and who can be the best guardian.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 1394 would allow the parent of an unmarried adult who has been adjudicated as incompetent to recommend a guardian for the incompetent adult by will or other writing. The parent may specify any limitations on the powers to be given to the guardian. If both parents make recommendations, the will with the latest date prevails in the absence of other relevant factors.

The clerk shall use the recommendation as a guide in selecting a guardian, but the clerk is not bound by the recommendation if the clerk determines that a different appointment is in the incompetent adult's best interest. The guardian designated in the will shall be the first in the priority list considered by the clerk. The will can direct that the guardian not be required to post a bond, however, the clerk can find it as a fact that the interest of the incompetent adult would best be served by requiring a bond of the guardian.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill would become effective when it becomes law.

HOUSE BILL 1401:
Concealed Carry By Law Enforcement Officers

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	August 11, 2005
Introduced by:	Rep. Folwell	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith
Version:	Second Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 1401 would change the circumstances under which federal law enforcement officers and State and local law enforcement officers could carry concealed weapons.

The bill would be effective when it becomes law.

CURRENT LAW:

Federal Law

In 2004, Congress enacted the "Law Enforcement Officers Safety Act", which provides that notwithstanding any other provision of state or local law, an individual who is a qualified law enforcement officer carrying proper identification may carry a concealed firearm that has been shipped or transported in interstate or foreign commerce. The act further provides that it shall not be construed to supersede or limit state laws that allow private persons to restrict the possession of concealed firearms on their property or that restrict the possession of firearms on any state or local government property.

State Law

It is unlawful for a person to willfully and intentionally carry a concealed weapon except when the person is on the person's own premises. It is unlawful for a person to willfully and intentionally carry a concealed pistol or gun except when the person is on the person's premises or the weapon is a handgun and the person has a concealed handgun permit. This prohibition doesn't apply to a number of classes of military and law enforcement personnel, including:

- Civil and law enforcement officers of the United States while in the discharge of their official duties.
- Sworn law-enforcement officers, when off duty, if the sheriff or chief of police has filed written regulations authorizing the carrying of weapons with the clerk of superior court in the county where the law-enforcement unit is located and the regulations specifically prohibit the carrying of concealed weapons while the officer is consuming or under the influence of alcoholic beverages.

Violation of the general prohibition on carrying concealed weapons is a Class 2 misdemeanor. Violation of the prohibition on carrying concealed handguns is a Class 2 misdemeanor for a first offense and a Class I felony for a second or subsequent offense.

Relationship between federal and State law; constitutionality of federal law

It is unclear how the federal "Law Enforcement Officers Safety Act of 2004" interacts with our State laws that regulate the carrying of concealed handguns by law enforcement officers. An expansive reading of the federal law would have it largely superseding state laws that regulate the carrying of concealed handguns by law enforcement officers.

The constitutionality of the "Law Enforcement Officers Safety Act of 2004" is also unclear. In United States v. Lopez (1995), the United States Supreme Court examined the constitutionality of the federal "Gun Free School Zones Act of 1990". Congress enacted this act based on its constitutional power to regulate interstate commerce. The Supreme Court found that the "Gun Free School Zones Act of 1990" did not regulate interstate commerce and held the act unconstitutional because it exceeded the authority of Congress to regulate interstate commerce. Congress appears to have based its authority to enact the "Law Enforcement Officers Safety Act of 2004" on its constitutional power to regulate interstate commerce. Because it is questionable whether the "Law Enforcement Officers Safety Act of 2004" regulates interstate commerce, the act may exceed the authority of Congress to regulate interstate commerce and thus be unconstitutional.

BILL ANALYSIS:

House Bill 1401 would authorize civil and law enforcement officers of the United States to carry concealed weapons even when not discharging their official duties.

House Bill 1401 would also authorize sworn law enforcement officers to carry concealed weapons off duty provided the officer does not at the same time consume any alcoholic beverages or illegal controlled substances, or have any alcohol or illegal controlled substance in the officer's body..

Jeff Hudson, counsel to House Judiciary II, substantially contributed to this summary.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO AMEND THE LAW WITH REGARD TO MAKING A FALSE REPORT CONCERNING A DESTRUCTIVE DEVICE.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 14-69.1 reads as rewritten:

"§ 14-69.1. Making a false report concerning destructive device.

(a) Except as provided in subsection (c) of this section, any person who, by any means of communication to any person or group of persons, makes a report, knowing or having reason to know the report is false, that there is located in or in sufficient proximity to cause damage to any building, house or other structure whatsoever or any vehicle, aircraft, vessel or boat any device designed to destroy or damage the building, house or structure or vehicle, aircraft, vessel or boat by explosion, blasting or burning, is guilty of a Class H felony.

(b) Repealed by S.L. 1997-443, s. 19.25(cc).

(c) Any person who, by any means of communication to any person or groups of persons, makes a report, knowing or having reason to know the report is false, that there is located in or in sufficient proximity to cause damage to any public building any device designed to destroy or damage the public building by explosion, blasting, or burning, is guilty of a Class H felony. Any person who receives a second conviction for a violation of this subsection within five years of the first conviction for violation of this subsection is guilty of a Class G felony. For purposes of this subsection, "public building" means educational property as defined in G.S. 14-269.2(a)(1), a hospital as defined in G.S. 131E-76(3), a building housing only State, federal, or local government offices, or the offices of State, federal, or local government located in a building that is not exclusively occupied by the State, federal, or local government.

(d) The court may order a person convicted under this section to pay restitution, including costs and consequential damages resulting from the disruption of the normal activity that would have otherwise occurred on the premises but for the false report, pursuant to Article 81C of Chapter 15A of the General Statutes.

(e) For purposes of this section, the term "report" shall include making accessible to another person by computer."

SECTION 2. This act becomes effective December 1, 2005, and applies to offenses committed on or after that date.

This fiscal analysis is independent of the impact of other criminal penalty bills being considered by the General Assembly, which could also increase the projected prison population and thus the availability of prison beds in future years. The Fiscal Research Division is tracking the cumulative effect of all criminal penalty bills on the prison system as well as the Judicial Department.*

BILL SUMMARY:

Current G.S. 14-69.1 subsection (a) specifies that it is a Class H felony to falsely report that a destructive device is located in any building, house, other structure, vehicle, aircraft, vessel, or boat. G.S. 14-69.1 subsection (c) specifies that a second conviction within five years of the first conviction for such a report made in relation to any public building is a Class G felony. H.B. 490 would amend this statute to criminalize a false report of a destructive device in sufficient proximity to any of the specified structures that it could damage or destroy those structures.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

General

This bill would be expected to result in additional charges and convictions for Class H felonies and would consequently incur a fiscal impact. Due to the small number of charges and convictions under current G.S. 14-69.1, the fiscal impact associated with this bill is not expected to be substantial.

The Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission prepares prison population projections for each criminal penalty bill. The Commission assumes for each bill that increasing criminal penalties does not have a deterrent or incapacitative effect on crime. Therefore, the Fiscal Research Division does not assume savings due to deterrent effects for this bill or any criminal penalty bill.

Department of Correction

The Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission prepares inmate population projections annually. The projections used for incarceration fiscal notes are based on January 2005 projections. These projections are based on historical information on incarceration and release rates under Structured Sentencing, crime rate forecasts by a technical advisory group, probation and revocation rates, and the decline (parole and maxouts) of the stock prison population sentenced under previous sentencing acts. Based on the most recent population projections and estimated available prison bed capacity, there are no surplus prison beds available for the five-year fiscal note horizon and beyond.

Because this bill would broaden the scope of existing offenses, the Sentencing Commission has no data from which to project the number of convictions that might result from this legislation. The following number of convictions occurred in fiscal year 2003-04 under current G.S. 14-69.1 for false reports of destructive devices:

Table 1: Fiscal Year 2003-04 Felony Convictions Under G.S. 14-69.1

Class H Felony		Class G Felony
G.S. 14-69.1 (a) Non-Public Structure	G.S. 14-69.1 (c) Public Structure	G.S. 14-69.1 (c) Second Conviction in Five Years

Under this bill, any false report of a destructive device located in sufficient proximity to a structure to cause damage to that structure would also be punishable as a Class H felony (Class G, if the report is in relation to a public building and is a second conviction within five years). Because no data exists regarding how often such reports are made, it is not possible to project the number of convictions that would result from these new provisions.

Class H Felonies: If, for example, there were three additional convictions for Class H felonies per year, the combination of active sentences and probation revocations would result in the need for one additional prison bed the first year and two additional prison beds the second year.

Class G Felonies: If, for example, there were two additional Class G felony convictions per year, one additional prison bed would be needed in the first year and two additional beds in the second year.

The average annual operating cost for one prison bed in FY 2006-07 will be an estimated $24,740.

Non-Active Sentences: In FY 2003-04, 50 percent of Class H felony convictions resulted in intermediate sanctions and 13 percent in community sanctions; 56 percent of Class G convictions resulted in intermediate sanctions (the remainder were active). Probation officers in the Division of Community Correction (DCC) supervise offenders with intermediate sanctions at an estimated cost of $10.94 per day for the first six months and $1.87 per day thereafter. This cost estimate is based on the average cost and duration of intensive probation, the most common intermediate sanction.

Judicial Branch

For most criminal penalty bills, the Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) provides Fiscal Research with an analysis of the fiscal impact of the specific bill. For these bills, fiscal impact is typically based on the assumption that court time will increase due to an expected increase in trials and a corresponding increase in the hours of work for judges, clerks, and prosecutors. This increased court time is also expected to result in greater expenditures for jury fees and indigent defense.

For calendar year 2004, AOC data indicates that 25 individuals were charged with a Class H felony for a false report of a destructive device in a non-public structure, and 51 individuals were charged with a Class H or Class G felony for a false report of a destructive device relating to a public structure. No data is available regarding how many of the 51 charges relating to public structures were for Class G felonies (i.e. a second offense within five years of the first conviction). AOC cannot estimate the number of new charges that would result from this legislation because data regarding the number of false reports that would be criminalized by this bill is not available.

The cost to the Courts to process a felony or misdemeanor charge varies depending upon the method of settlement and the severity of the charge. AOC estimates the following costs to process a single Class H or Class G felony charge. Based on prior-year data, the majority of new charges resulting from this bill that are not dismissed are likely to be settled by guilty plea.

Table 2: Per Charge Settlement Costs

	Settled via Trial			Settled via Guilty Plea
Offense Class	Court/Attorney Costs	Indigent Defense	Total
Class H Felony	$4,096	$2,100	$6,196
Class G Felony	$5,092	$2,529	$7,621

HOUSE BILL 490:
False Report/Destructive Device

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	August 12, 2005
Introduced by:	Reps. Hilton, Setzer	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith Committee Counsel
Version:	First Edition

SUMMARY: House Bill 490 would make it a Class H felony to make report that a bomb is near a building if the person making the threat knows the threat is false. It would be a Class G felony to make a similar false report for a bomb near a public building.

The bill would become effective December 1, 2005 and apply to offenses committed on or after that date.

[As introduced, this bill was identical to S591, as introduced by Sen. Allran, which is currently in Senate Judiciary II.]

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 14-69.1 makes it a Class H felony to make a report that a bomb is in a building or structure if the person making the report knows the report is false. It is a Class G felony to make a similar false report regarding a bomb in a public building. The term "public building" is defined as educational property, or a building housing State, federal or local government offices.

The minimum presumptive sentences for a person with no prior convictions for a an H and a G felony are 5-6 months of community, intermediate or active punishment, and 10-13 months of intermediate or active punishment (respectively).

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 490 would amend the existing law to provide that it is a felony to knowingly make a false report that a bomb is "in sufficient proximity to [a building to] cause damage".

There may be a logical problem with the language in the current form of the bill. It is not clear how a fictitious bomb can ever be considered to cause any damage, regardless of how close it is located to the building.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO ESTABLISH A PROCEDURE TO RESOLVE THE ISSUE OF CONFLICTING CHILD CUSTODY ORDERS; TO CLARIFY THE EFFECT OF TERMINATING JURISDICTION IN CERTAIN JUVENILE CASES; TO GIVE THE COURT AUTHORITY TO CONVERT A JUVENILE COURT CUSTODY ORDER INTO A PERMANENT CUSTODY ORDER UNDER CHAPTER 50 OF THE GENERAL STATUTES; AND TO MAKE TECHNICAL AND CONFORMING CHANGES TO THE LAW.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 7B-200 is amended by adding the following new subsections to read:

"(c) When the court obtains jurisdiction over a juvenile as the result of a petition alleging that the juvenile is abused, neglected, or dependent:

(1) Any other civil action in this State in which the custody of the juvenile is an issue is automatically stayed as to that issue, unless the juvenile proceeding and the civil custody action or claim are consolidated pursuant to subsection (d) of this section or the court in the juvenile proceeding enters an order dissolving the stay.

(2) If an order entered in the juvenile proceeding and an order entered in another civil custody action conflict, the order in the juvenile proceeding controls as long as the court continues to exercise jurisdiction in the juvenile proceeding.

(d) Notwithstanding G.S. 50-13.5(f), the court in a juvenile proceeding may order that any civil action or claim for custody filed in the district be consolidated with the juvenile proceeding. If a civil action or claim for custody of the juvenile is filed in another district, the court in the juvenile proceeding, for good cause and after consulting with the court in the other district, may: (i) order that the civil action or claim for custody be transferred to the county in which the juvenile proceeding is filed; or (ii) order a change of venue in the juvenile proceeding and transfer the juvenile proceeding to the county in which the civil action or claim is filed. The court in the juvenile proceeding may also proceed in the juvenile proceeding while the civil action or claim remains stayed or dissolve the stay of the civil action or claim and stay the juvenile proceeding pending a resolution of the civil action or claim."

SECTION 2. G.S. 7B-201 reads as rewritten:

"§ 7B-201. Retention and termination of jurisdiction.

(a) When the court obtains jurisdiction over a juvenile, jurisdiction shall continue until terminated by order of the court or until the juvenile reaches the age of 18 years or is otherwise emancipated, whichever occurs first.

(b) When the court's jurisdiction terminates, whether automatically or by court order, the court thereafter shall not modify or enforce any order previously entered in the case, including any juvenile court order relating to the custody, placement, or guardianship of the juvenile. The legal status of the juvenile and the custodial rights of the parties shall revert to the status they were before the juvenile petition was filed, unless applicable law or a valid court order in another civil action provides otherwise. Termination of the court's jurisdiction in an abuse, neglect, or dependency proceeding, however, shall not affect any of the following:

(1) A civil custody order entered pursuant to G.S. 7B-911.

(2) An order terminating parental rights.

(3) A pending action to terminate parental rights, unless the court orders otherwise.

(4) Any proceeding in which the juvenile is alleged to be or has been adjudicated undisciplined or delinquent.

(5) The court's jurisdiction in relation to any new abuse, neglect, or dependency petition that is filed."

SECTION 3. G.S. 7B-402 reads as rewritten:

"§ 7B-402. Petition.

(a) The petition shall contain the name, date of birth, address of the juvenile, the name and last known address of the juvenile's parent, guardian, or ~~custodian~~ custodian, and ~~shall allege the facts which~~allegations of facts sufficient to invoke jurisdiction over the juvenile. A person whose actions resulted in a conviction under G.S. 14-27.2 or G.S. 14-27.3 and the conception of the juvenile need not be named in the petition. The petition may contain information on more than one juvenile when the juveniles are from the same home and are before the court for the same reason.

(b) The petition, or an affidavit attached to the petition, shall contain the information required by G.S. 50A-209.

(c) Sufficient copies of the petition shall be prepared so that copies will be available for each parent if living separate and apart, the guardian, custodian, or caretaker, the guardian ad litem, the social worker, and any person determined by the court to be a necessary party."

SECTION 4. Article 9 of Chapter 7B of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 7B-911. Civil child-custody order.

(a) After making proper findings at a dispositional hearing or any subsequent hearing, the court on its own motion or the motion of a party may award custody of the juvenile to a parent or other appropriate person pursuant to G.S. 50-13.1, 50-13.2, 50-13.5, and 50-13.7, as provided in this section, and terminate the court's jurisdiction in the juvenile proceeding.

(b) When the court enters a custody order under this section, the court shall either cause the order to be filed in an existing civil action relating to the custody of the juvenile or, if there is no other civil action, instruct the clerk to treat the order as the initiation of a civil action for custody.

If the order is filed in an existing civil action and the person to whom the court is awarding custody is not a party to that action, the court shall order that the person be joined as a party and that the caption of the case be changed accordingly. The order shall resolve any pending claim for custody and shall constitute a modification of any custody order previously entered in the action.

If the court's order initiates a civil action, the court shall designate the parties to the action and determine the most appropriate caption for the case. The civil filing fee is waived unless the court orders one or more of the parties to pay the filing fee for a civil action into the office of the clerk of superior court. The order shall constitute a custody determination, and any motion to enforce or modify the custody order shall be filed in the newly created civil action in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 50 of the General Statutes. The Administrative Office of the Courts may adopt rules and shall develop and make available appropriate forms for establishing a civil file to implement this section.

(c) The court may enter a civil custody order under this section and terminate the court's jurisdiction in the juvenile proceeding only if:

(1) In the civil custody order the court makes findings and conclusions that support the entry of a custody order in an action under Chapter 50 of the General Statutes or, if the juvenile is already the subject of a custody order entered pursuant to Chapter 50, makes findings and conclusions that support modification of that order pursuant to G.S. 50-13.7; and

(2) In a separate order terminating the juvenile court's jurisdiction in the juvenile proceeding, the court finds:

a. That there is not a need for continued State intervention on behalf of the juvenile through a juvenile court proceeding; and

b. That at least six months have passed since the court made a determination that the juvenile's placement with the person to whom the court is awarding custody is the permanent plan for the juvenile, though this finding is not required if the court is awarding custody to a parent or to a person with whom the child was living when the juvenile petition was filed."

SECTION 5. G.S. 50-13.1 is amended by adding a new subsection to read:

"(i) If the child whose custody is the subject of an action under this Chapter also is the subject of a juvenile abuse, neglect, or dependency proceeding pursuant to Subchapter 1 of Chapter 7B of the General Statutes, then the custody action under this Chapter is stayed as provided in G.S. 7B-200."

SECTION 6. This act becomes effective October 1, 2005, and applies to juvenile proceedings and civil actions pending or filed on or after that date.

HOUSE BILL 801:
Child Custody/Guardianship Jurisdiction

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Introduced by:	Reps. Glazier, Alexander, Dickson
Date:	August 12, 2005
Version:	2nd Edition	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: The bill would make various amendments to the juvenile code and Chapter 50 to allow the courts to address the issue of conflicting jurisdiction in cases involving juveniles.

CURRENT LAW: Persons seeking custody of a juvenile may initiate a civil action under Chapter 50 of the General Statutes. The department of social services in each county is responsible for investigating allegations of abuse, neglect, and dependency involving juveniles and has the authority to initiate an action in court to protect the juvenile if necessary under Subpart I of Chapter 7B of the General Statutes. The two legal cases are separate and apart, even though one child may be the subject of both actions. The statutes are silent on which court takes precedence if a child is a subject of both types of cases, or what options are available when the juvenile court terminates its jurisdiction.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Section 1.: The bill would add two new subsections to G.S. 7B-200, Jurisdiction, to provide the following:

- When a juvenile petition is filed, any other civil custody action in the State is automatically stayed, unless the actions are consolidated, or the court in the juvenile proceeding lifts the stay.
- If an order entered by the court in a juvenile proceeding and an order in a civil custody action conflict, the order in the juvenile proceeding controls so long as the juvenile court continues to exercise jurisdiction in the juvenile proceeding.
- If the two actions are in the same judicial district the court in the juvenile proceeding may order that the civil action for custody be consolidated with the juvenile proceeding.
- If the two actions are in different judicial districts, the court in the juvenile proceeding, for good cause and after consulting with the court in the other district, may do any of the following:
    - Transfer the civil action to the county in which the juvenile proceeding is filed.
    - Change the venue of the juvenile proceeding to that of the civil action.
    - Proceed in the juvenile action while the civil action remains stayed.
    - Stay the juvenile proceeding and allow the civil action to proceed.

Section 2.: The bill would add a new subsection to G.S. 7B-201, Retention of Jurisdiction, to provide the following:

- The court in a juvenile proceeding may not modify or enforce any order previously entered in the proceeding after the court's jurisdiction terminates.

- That the legal status of the juvenile and the custodial rights of the parties return to pre-petition status when the court's jurisdiction terminates, unless an order if filed in a separate civil action. This termination does not affect any of the following:
    - A civil custody order entered pursuant to G.S. 7B-911.
    - An order terminating parental rights (TPR).
    - A pending action for TPR, unless the court orders otherwise.
    - An action in which the juvenile is alleged to be or has been adjudicated undisciplined or delinquent.
    - Any new petition regarding the juvenile that is filed alleging abuse/neglect/dependency.

Section 3.: The bill would clarify that the petitioner, the local department of social services, is to attach the affidavit regarding the status of the juvenile that is the subject of the petition, to any petition that is filed. This requirement is already current law under G.S. 50A. The bill would place the same requirement in the statute governing petitions. The bill also makes a drafting change to update the language.

Section 4.: The bill would add a new section to Article 9, Dispositions, of the Juvenile Code, for abuse/neglect/dependency. The new section would allow the court to enter and order that awards civil custody of the juvenile to a parent or other appropriate person, and terminates the court's jurisdiction in the juvenile proceeding. When entering such an order, the Court shall cause the order to be filed in an existing civil action relating the custody of the juvenile, or instruct the clerk to treat the order as the initiation of a civil action for custody. The court may enter the civil custody order and terminate its jurisdiction only if:

- The court makes findings and conclusions that support the entry of the custody order under Chapter 50.
- In a separate order terminating the juvenile court's jurisdiction, the court finds:
    - The juvenile's status and the issues are in the nature of a private custody agreement and there is no need for continued State involvement on behalf of the juvenile.
    - At least 6 months have passed since the court determined that the custody placement is the permanent plan for the juvenile.

Section 5.: The bill would make a conforming change to the civil custody action statutes to provide that the civil action is stayed when the juvenile that is the subject of the civil action is also the subject of an abuse/neglect/dependency proceeding.

BACKGROUND:

In 2003, the General Assembly enacted S.L. 2003-81, which directed the Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC), in consultation with the Department of Health and Human Services, to establish a pilot program in the Twelfth Judicial District to address the issue of conflicting child custody orders. The act provided that under the pilot program, when a court obtained jurisdiction over a juvenile as the result of a petition alleging that the juvenile was abused, neglected, or dependent:

- The court in the juvenile proceeding could stay any other civil action in the State in which the custody of the juvenile was an issue.
- If an order entered in the juvenile proceeding and an order entered in another civil custody action conflicted, the order in the juvenile proceeding would control as long as the court continued to retain jurisdiction in the juvenile proceeding.

- The court in the juvenile proceeding could order that any civil action or claim for custody filed in the pilot judicial district be consolidated with the juvenile proceeding.
- If a civil action or claim for custody was filed in a district other than the pilot judicial district, then the court in the juvenile proceeding could, after consulting with the court in the other district, order that the civil action or claim for custody be transferred to the pilot judicial district or could order a change of venue in the juvenile proceeding and transfer the juvenile proceeding to the other district.
- The court could establish a mechanism for determining the legal status of a juvenile after jurisdiction of the juvenile court terminated, including a determination as to who would have custody of the juvenile and under what circumstances custody could subsequently be changed.

The Act also directed the AOC to evaluate the pilot program and report its findings and recommendations to the 2005 General Assembly prior to its convening. The report dated January 27, 2005, recommended that the provisions of the S.L. 2003-381 be enacted statewide.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act is effective October 1, 2005 and applies to juvenile proceedings and civil actions filed on or after that date.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO OFFICIALLY ACKNOWLEDGE THE IMPORTANCE OF NEIGHBORHOOD CRIME WATCH PROGRAMS AND TO ESTABLISH A CRIMINAL PENALTY FOR HARASSMENT OF A MEMBER OF A NEIGHBORHOOD CRIME WATCH PROGRAM.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Article 10 of Chapter 153A of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 153A-212.2. Neighborhood crime watch programs.

A county may establish neighborhood crime watch programs within the county to encourage residents and business owners to promote citizen involvement in securing homes, businesses, and personal property against criminal activity and to report suspicious activities to law enforcement officials."

SECTION 2. Article 13 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 160A-289.2. Neighborhood crime watch programs.

A city may establish neighborhood crime watch programs within the city to encourage residents and business owners to promote citizen involvement in securing homes, businesses, and personal property against criminal activity and to report suspicious activities to law enforcement officials."

SECTION 3. Article 30 of Chapter 14 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 14-226.2. Harassment of participant in neighborhood crime watch program.

Any person who willfully threatens or intimidates an identifiable member or a resident in the same household as the member of a neighborhood crime watch program for the purpose of intimidating or retaliating against that person for the person's participation in a neighborhood crime watch program is guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor including a fine of at least three hundred dollars ($300.00). It is a violation of this section for a person to threaten or intimidate an identifiable member or a resident in the same household as the member of a neighborhood crime watch program while that member is traveling to or from a neighborhood crime watch meeting, actively participating in a neighborhood crime watch program activity, or actively participating in an ongoing criminal investigation."

SECTION 4. Section 3 of this act becomes effective December 1, 2005. The remainder of this act is effective when it becomes law.

HOUSE BILL 1120:
Strengthen Neighborhood Watch Programs

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	August 12, 2005
Introduced by:	Rep. Frye	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith
Version:	Third Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 1120 authorizes counties and cities to establish crime watch programs. It also creates a new crime of "harassment of participant in neighborhood crime watch program".

The act would become effective December 1, 2005 and apply to offenses committed on or after that date.

CURRENT LAW: Cities and counties have authority under their general police powers to adopt programs to promote the health, safety and welfare of their residents. This authority probably already includes the authority to assist citizens with establishing neighborhood watch programs.

G.S. 14-227.1 (Communicating Threats) makes it a Class 1 misdemeanor for a person to willfully threaten to physically injure another person, or that other person's child, sibling, spouse, or dependents, or to willfully threaten to damage the property of another. The threat may be made orally, in writing or by any other means, and must be made in a manner and under circumstances that would and does cause a reasonable person to believe that the threat is likely to be carried.

Common law obstruction of justice is also a Class 1 misdemeanor. A person is guilty of this offense of the person (1) unlawfully and willfully (2) obstructs justice.

The presumptive minimum sentence for a Class 1 misdemeanor for a person who has no prior convictions is 1-45 days of community punishment.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Section 1 and 2 of the bill authorizes counties and cities (respectively) establish neighborhood crime watch programs. The statute does not define what constitutes a neighborhood watch program.

Section 3 of the bill creates a new Class 1 misdemeanor, "harassment of a participant in neighborhood watch program." A person could be charged with this crime for:

- willfully threatening or intimidating an identifiable member of a neighborhood crime watch program (or a resident of the same household) for the purpose of intimidating or retaliating against that person for the person's participation in the program.
- threatening or intimidating an identifiable member of a neighborhood crime watch program (or a resident of the same household) while the person is traveling to or from a crime watch program meeting, activity, or investigation.

The bill does not define the terms "neighborhood watch program" or "identifiable member".

In addition to the punishments described above for Class 1 misdemeanors, a person convicted of this crime would be fined at least $300.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 15A-146 reads as rewritten:

"§ 15A-146. Expunction of records when charges are dismissed or there are findings of not ~~guilty.~~guilty; expunction of records in certain circumstances for charges of multiple offenses when charges are subsequently dismissed or there are findings of not guilty at the same term of court.

(a) If any person is charged with a crime, either a misdemeanor or a felony, or was charged with an infraction under G.S. 18B-302(i) prior to December 1, 1999, and the charge is dismissed, or a finding of not guilty or not responsible is entered, that person may apply to the court of the county where the charge was brought for an order to expunge from all official records any entries relating to his apprehension or trial. The court shall hold a hearing on the application and, upon finding that the person had not previously received an expungement under this section, G.S. 15A-145, or G.S. 90-96, and that the person had not previously been convicted of any felony under the laws of the United States, this State, or any other state, the court shall order the expunction. No person as to whom such an order has been entered shall be held thereafter under any provision of any law to be guilty of perjury, or to be guilty of otherwise giving a false statement or response to any inquiry made for any purpose, by reason of his failure to recite or acknowledge any expunged entries concerning apprehension or trial.

(a1) Notwithstanding subsection (a) of this section, if a person is charged with multiple offenses that occurred within the same 12-month period of time and the charges are dismissed, or findings of not guilty or not responsible are entered at the same term of court, then a person may apply to have each of those charges expunged. (b) The court may also order that the said entries shall be expunged from the records of the court, and direct all law-enforcement agencies bearing record of the same to expunge their records of the entries. The clerk shall forward a certified copy of the order to the sheriff, chief of police, or other arresting agency. The sheriff, chief or head of such other arresting agency shall then transmit the copy of the order with the form supplied by the State Bureau of Investigation to the State Bureau of Investigation, and the State Bureau of Investigation shall forward the order to the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The costs of expunging these records shall not be taxed against the petitioner.

(b1) Any person entitled to expungement under this section may also apply to the court for an order expunging DNA records when the person's case has been dismissed by the trial court and the person's DNA record or profile has been included in the State DNA Database and the person's DNA sample is stored in the State DNA Databank. A copy of the application for expungement of the DNA record or DNA sample shall be served on the district attorney for the judicial district in which the felony charges were brought not less than 20 days prior to the date of the hearing on the application. If the application for expungement is granted, a certified copy of the trial court's order dismissing the charges shall be attached to an order of expungement. The order of expungement shall include the name and address of the defendant and the defendant's attorney and shall direct the SBI to send a letter documenting expungement as required by subsection (b2) of this section.

(b2) Upon receiving an order of expungement entered pursuant to subsection (b1) of this section, the SBI shall purge the DNA record and all other identifying information from the State DNA Database and the DNA sample stored in the State DNA Databank covered by the order, except that the order shall not apply to other offenses committed by the individual that qualify for inclusion in the State DNA Database and the State DNA Databank. A letter documenting expungement of the DNA record and destruction of the DNA sample shall be sent by the SBI to the defendant and the defendant's attorney at the address specified by the court in the order of expungement.

(c) The Clerk of Superior Court in each county in North Carolina shall, as soon as practicable after each term of court in his county, file with the Administrative Office of the Courts, the names of those persons granted an expungement under the provisions of this section and the Administrative Office of the Courts shall maintain a confidential file containing the names of persons granted such expungement. The information contained in such files shall be disclosed only to judges of the General Court of Justice of North Carolina for the purpose of ascertaining whether any person charged with an offense has been previously granted an expungement."

SECTION 2. This act is effective when it becomes law.

HOUSE BILL 1213:
Expunge Multiple Charges/Occur Within 1 yr

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	August 12, 2005
Introduced by:	Reps. Moore, Sutton	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith
Version:	PCS to First Edition H1213-CSRC-91		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 1213 would allow a person charged with multiple offenses to have those charges expunged if the alleged offenses occurred within the same 12 month period of time or the charges are subsequently dismissed or findings of not guilty or not responsible are entered in the same term of court. The PCS corrects several ambiguities in the original bill, including:

- the offenses must have occurred within 12 months or been disposed of at the same term of court (prior version required that both conditions be satisfied),
- a person could only get one expunction under this provision in a life-time (prior version put no limit on the number of expunctions that could be obtained over time)
- provides a default definition for "term of court".

The bill would become effective October 1, 2005.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 15A-146 provides for the expunction of records when charges are dismissed or there is finding of not guilty. A person charged with any crime, whether a misdemeanor or a felony, who is not convicted of that offense, can apply to have the charge expunged. In order to have the records expunged, the court must find that the person has not previously received an expunction under:

- this section (G.S.15A-146);
- G.S. 15A-145 (expunction of records for first offenders under the age of 18 for misdemeanor convictions); or
- G.S. 90-96 (expunction for certain drug-related offenses).

In addition, the court must also find that the person had not previously been convicted of any felony under the laws of the United States, this State or any other state before ordering the expunction.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 1213 would allow a person who is charged with multiple offenses that are dismissed or findings of not guilty or not responsible to apply to have each of those charges expunged if the offenses occurred within the same 12 month time period or if the charges are dismissed or findings entered in the same term of court. The multiple offenses do not have to arise out of the same transaction or occurrence nor do the multiple offenses have to have been consolidated for judgment.

The court is required to hold a hearing on the application. The court shall order the expunction if the court finds that the person had not previously obtained any of the following:

- Received an expunction under this subsection for multiple offenses.
- Received expunctions under G.S. 15A-145 or G.S. 90-96.
- Been convicted of any felony under the laws of the United States, this State or any other state.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO ENACT THE NORTH CAROLINA STREET GANG PREVENTION ACT AS RECOMMENDED BY THE HOUSE SELECT COMMITTEE ON STREET GANG PREVENTION.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Chapter 14 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new Article to read:

"Article 13A.

"North Carolina Street Gang Prevention Act.

"§ 14-50.15. Short title.

This Article shall be known and may be cited as the "North Carolina Street Gang Prevention Act".

"§ 14-50.16. Legislative findings and intent.

(a) The General Assembly finds and declares that it is the right of every person to be secure and protected from fear, intimidation, and physical harm caused by the activities of violent groups and individuals. It is not the intent of this Article to interfere with the exercise of the constitutionally protected rights of freedom of expression and association. The General Assembly recognizes the constitutional right of every citizen to harbor and express beliefs on any lawful subject whatsoever, to associate lawfully with others who share similar beliefs, to petition lawfully constituted authority for a redress of perceived grievances, and to participate in the electoral process.

(b) The General Assembly, however, further finds that the State of North Carolina is in a state of crisis that has been caused by violent street gangs whose members threaten, terrorize, and commit a multitude of crimes against the peaceful citizens of their neighborhoods. These activities, both individually and collectively, present a clear and present danger to public order and safety and are not constitutionally protected.

(c) The General Assembly finds that there are criminal street gangs operating in North Carolina and that the number of gang-related murders is increasing. It is the intent of the General Assembly in enacting this Article to seek the eradication of criminal activity by street gangs by focusing upon patterns of criminal gang activity and upon the organized nature of street gangs which together are the chief source of terror created by street gangs.

(d) The General Assembly further finds that an effective means of punishing and deterring the criminal activities of street gangs is through forfeiture of the profits, proceeds, and instrumentalities acquired, accumulated, or used by street gangs.

"§ 14-50.17. Definitions.

The following definitions apply in this Article:

(1) "Criminal street gang" or "street gang" means any ongoing organization, association, or group of three or more persons, whether formal or informal, which engages in a pattern of criminal gang activity as defined in subdivision (2) of this section. The existence of the organization, association, or group of individuals associated in fact may be established by evidence of a common name or common identifying signs, symbols, tattoos, graffiti, or attire or other distinguishing characteristics.

(2) "Pattern of criminal gang activity" means the commission, attempted commission, conspiracy to commit, or solicitation, coercion, or intimidation of another person to commit at least two of the following offenses, provided that at least one of these offenses occurred after December 1, 2005, and the last of the offenses occurred within three years, excluding any periods of imprisonment, of prior criminal gang activity:

a. Any offense under Article 5 of Chapter 90 of the General Statutes (Controlled Substances Act).

b. Any offense under Chapter 14 of the General Statutes except Articles 9, 22A, 38, 40, 43, 46, 47, 59 thereof; and further excepting G.S. 14-78.1, 14-82, 14-86, 14-145, 14-179, 14-183, 14-184, 14-186, 14-190.9, 14-195, 14-197, 14-201, 14-247, 14-248, 14-313 thereof.

"§ 14-50.18. Participation in criminal street gang activity prohibited.

(a) It is unlawful for any person employed by or associated with a criminal street gang to conduct or participate in the criminal street gang through a pattern of criminal gang activity.

(b) It is unlawful for any person to acquire or maintain, directly or indirectly, through a pattern of criminal gang activity or proceeds derived therefrom, any interest in or control of any real or personal property of any nature, including money.

(c) It is unlawful for any person who occupies a position of organizer, supervisory position, or any other position of management with regard to a criminal street gang to engage in, directly or indirectly, or conspire to engage in, a pattern of criminal gang activity.

(d) It is unlawful for any person to cause, encourage, solicit, or coerce another to participate in a criminal street gang.

(e) It is unlawful for any person to communicate, directly or indirectly, with another any threat of injury or damage to the person or property of the other person or to any associate or relative of the other person with the intent to deter the person from assisting a member or associate of a criminal street gang to withdraw from such criminal street gang.

(f) It is unlawful for any person to communicate, directly or indirectly, with another any threat of injury or damage to the person or property of the other person or to any associate or relative of the other person with the intent to punish or retaliate against the person for having withdrawn from a criminal street gang.

(g) Any person who violates this section shall be punished as follows:

(1) A person who violates subsection (a) or (b) of this section shall, in addition to any other penalty imposed by law, be punished as a Class E felon.

(2) A person who violates subsection (a), (b), (d), (e), or (f) of this section may, if the person also violates subsection (c) of this section in the same course of conduct, in addition to any other penalty provided by law, be punished by imprisonment for an additional 10 years which shall be served consecutively to any other sentence imposed on the person by law.

(3) A person who violates subsection (d), (e), or (f) of this section shall, in addition to any other penalty provided by law, be punished as a Class G felon.

(h) Any crime committed in violation of this section shall be considered a separate offense.

"§ 14-50.19. Enhanced offense for criminal gang activity.

Unless a different classification is expressly stated, a person who is convicted of an offense that is committed for the benefit of, at the direction of, or in association with, any criminal street gang, is guilty of an offense that is one class higher than the offense committed. A Class A1 misdemeanor shall be enhanced to a Class I felony under this section.

This section does not apply to the offenses set forth in G.S. 14-50.18.

"§ 14-50.20. Reports of disposition; criminal street gang activity.

When a defendant is found guilty of an offense, the presiding judge shall determine whether the offense was committed for the benefit of, at the direction of, or in association with, any criminal street gang. If the judge determines that the offense so qualifies, then the judge shall indicate on the form reflecting the judgment that the offense involved criminal street gang activity. The clerk of court shall ensure that the official record of the defendant's conviction includes the court's determination.

"§ 14-50.21. Contraband, seizure, and forfeiture.

(a) All of the following are declared to be contraband, and no person shall have a property interest in them:

(1) All property that is directly or indirectly used or intended for use in any manner to facilitate a violation of this Article.

(2) Any property constituting or derived from gross profits or other proceeds obtained from a violation of this Article.

(b) In any action under this section, the court may enter a restraining order in connection with any interest that is subject to forfeiture.

(c) Within 60 days of the date of the seizure of contraband pursuant to this section, the district attorney or the Attorney General shall initiate a forfeiture proceeding as provided in G.S. 14-2.3.

"§ 14-50.22. Local ordinances not preempted by State law.

Nothing in this Article shall prevent a local governing body from adopting and enforcing ordinances relating to gangs and gang violence that are consistent with this Article. Where local laws duplicate or supplement the provisions of this Article, this Article shall be construed as providing alternative remedies and not as preempting the field.

"§ 14-50.23. Real property used by criminal street gangs declared a public nuisance; abatement; persons injured by gangs entitled to treble damages.

Any real property that is erected, established, maintained, owned, leased, or used by any criminal street gang for the purpose of conducting criminal gang activity shall constitute a public nuisance and may be abated as provided by Article 1 of Chapter 19 of the General Statutes. If the property is owned by a person who is not a member of the criminal street gang, this section shall apply only if the person has knowledge of the criminal gang activity.

"§ 14-50.24. Matters proved in criminal trial court.

A conviction of an offense defined as criminal gang activity shall preclude the defendant from contesting any factual matters determined in the criminal proceeding in any subsequent civil action or proceeding based on the same conduct."

SECTION 2. Chapter 14 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 14-34.9. Discharging a firearm from within an enclosure.

Unless covered under some other provision of law providing greater punishment, any person who willfully or wantonly discharges or attempts to discharge a firearm from within any building, structure, motor vehicle, aircraft, watercraft, or other conveyance, device, equipment, erection, or enclosure toward a person or persons not within that enclosure shall be punished as a Class E felon."

SECTION 3. G.S. 15A-533 reads as rewritten:

"§ 15A-533. Right to pretrial release in capital and noncapital cases.

(a) A defendant charged with any crime, whether capital or noncapital, who is alleged to have committed this crime while still residing in or subsequent to his escape or during an unauthorized absence from involuntary commitment in a mental health facility designated or licensed by the Department of Health and Human Services, and whose commitment is determined to be still valid by the judge or judicial officer authorized to determine pretrial release to be valid, has no right to pretrial release. In lieu of pretrial release, however, the individual shall be returned to the treatment facility in which he was residing at the time of the alleged crime or from which he escaped or absented himself for continuation of his treatment pending the additional proceedings on the criminal offense.

(b) A defendant charged with a noncapital offense must have conditions of pretrial release determined, in accordance with G.S. 15A-534.

(c) A judge may determine in his discretion whether a defendant charged with a capital offense may be released before trial. If he determines release is warranted, the judge must authorize release of the defendant in accordance with G.S. 15A-534.

(d) ~~Subject to rebuttal by the person, it shall be presumed~~ There shall be a rebuttable presumption that no condition of release will reasonably assure the appearance of the person as required and the safety of the community if a judicial official finds the following:

(1) There is reasonable cause to believe that the person committed an offense involving trafficking in a controlled substance;

(2) The drug trafficking offense was committed while the person was on pretrial release for another offense; and

(3) The person has been previously convicted of a Class A through E felony or an offense involving trafficking in a controlled substance and not more than five years has elapsed since the date of conviction or the person's release from prison for the offense, whichever is later.

(e) There shall be a rebuttable presumption that no condition of release will reasonably assure the appearance of the person as required and the safety of the community, if a judicial official finds the following:

(1) There is reasonable cause to believe that the person committed an offense for the benefit of, at the direction of, or in association with, any criminal street gang, as defined in G.S. 14-50.17;

(2) The offense described in subdivision (1) of this subsection was committed while the person was on pretrial release for another offense; and

(3) The person has been previously convicted of an offense described in G.S. 14-50.17, and not more than five years has elapsed since the date of conviction or the person's release for the offense, whichever is later.

~~Such person~~ Persons who are considered for bond under the provisions of subsections (d) and (e) of this section may only be released by a district or superior court judge upon a finding that there is a reasonable assurance that the person will appear and release does not pose an unreasonable risk of harm to the community."

SECTION 4. G.S. 15A-1340.16(d) reads as rewritten:

"(d) Aggravating Factors. – The following are aggravating factors:

(1) The defendant induced others to participate in the commission of the offense or occupied a position of leadership or dominance of other participants.

(2) The defendant joined with more than one other person in committing the offense and was not charged with committing a conspiracy.

(2a) The offense was committed for the benefit of, or at the direction of, any criminal street gang, with the specific intent to promote, further, or assist in any criminal conduct by gang members, and the defendant was not charged with committing a conspiracy. A "criminal street gang" means any ongoing organization, association, or group of three or more persons, whether formal or informal, having as one of its primary activities the commission of felony or violent misdemeanor offenses, or delinquent acts that would be felonies or violent misdemeanors if committed by an adult, and having a common name or common identifying sign, colors, or symbols.

(20) Any other aggravating factor reasonably related to the purposes of sentencing.

Evidence necessary to prove an element of the offense shall not be used to prove any factor in aggravation, and the same item of evidence shall not be used to prove more than one factor in aggravation. Evidence necessary to establish that an enhanced sentence is required under ~~G.S. 15A-1340.16A~~G.S. 15A-1340.16A, G.S. 15A-1340.16B, or G.S. 14-50.19 may not be used to prove any factor in aggravation.

The judge shall not consider as an aggravating factor the fact that the defendant exercised the right to a jury trial."

SECTION 5. Chapter 15A of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 15A-1340.16B. Enhanced sentence if defendant is convicted of a Class A, B1, B2, C, D, or E felony that was committed for the benefit of, at the direction of, or in association with, any criminal street gang, and the defendant possessed, displayed, or discharged a firearm during the commission of the felony.

(a) Notwithstanding G.S. 15A-1340.16A, a person who is convicted of a Class A, B1, B2, C, D, or E felony that was committed for the benefit of, at the direction of, or in association with, any criminal street gang as defined in G.S. 14-50.17, and who possessed, displayed, or discharged a firearm during the commission of the felony shall be punished pursuant to one of the following subdivisions:

(1) If the person possessed a firearm during the commission of the felony, the person shall, in addition to the punishment for the underlying felony, be sentenced to a minimum term of imprisonment for 60 months.

(b) An indictment or information for the Class A, B1, B2, C, D, or E felony shall allege in that indictment or information or in a separate indictment or information the facts set out in subsection (a) of this section. The pleading is sufficient if it alleges that the defendant committed the felony by possessing, displaying, or discharging the firearm. One pleading is sufficient for all Class A, B1, B2, C, D, or E felonies that are tried at a single trial.

(c) The State shall prove the issues set out in subsection (a) of this section beyond a reasonable doubt during the same trial in which the defendant is tried for the felony unless the defendant pleads guilty or no contest to the issues. If the defendant pleads guilty or no contest to the felony but pleads not guilty to the issues set out in subsection (a) of this section, then a jury shall be impaneled to determine the issues.

(d) The enhanced punishment provided by this section for the acts of possessing or displaying a firearm applies even if the firearm is incapable of firing.

(e) The court shall not suspend any sentence imposed under this section and shall not place a person sentenced under this section on probation for the sentence imposed under this section. Sentences imposed pursuant to this section shall be consecutive to all other sentences imposed and shall begin at the expiration of any other sentence being served by the defendant."

SECTION 6. The Revisor of Statutes shall recodify the existing G.S. 15A-1340.16B and subsequent statutes accordingly.

SECTION 7. G.S. 15A-1340.16A(c) reads as rewritten:

The maximum term of imprisonment shall be the maximum term that corresponds to the minimum term after it is increased by 60 months, as specified in G.S. 15A-1340.17(e) and (e1)."

SECTION 8. There is appropriated to the State Bureau of Investigation the amount of one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000) to obtain an enterprise license for purchase of software that will create a statewide criminal street gang member database. The database software shall be substantially similar to the Gang Net Program that is currently being used in Durham County.

SECTION 9. There is appropriated to the Governor's Crime Commission, the sum of twenty million dollars ($20,000,000) for the 2005-2006 fiscal year to be used to provide grants for street gang violence prevention and intervention programs.

(4) "Life-sustaining procedures" are those forms of care or treatment which only serve to artificially prolong the dying process and may include mechanical ventilation, dialysis, antibiotics, artificial nutrition and hydration, and other forms of treatment which sustain, restore or supplant vital bodily functions, but do not include care necessary to provide comfort or to alleviate pain.

(5) "Principal" means the person making the health care power of attorney.

(6) "Qualified witness" means a witness in whose presence the principal has executed the health care power of attorney, who believes the principal to be of sound mind, and who states that he (i) is not related within the third degree to the principal nor to the principal's spouse, (ii) does not know nor have a reasonable expectation that he would be entitled to any portion of the estate of the principal upon the principal's death under any existing will or codicil of the principal or under the Intestate Succession Act as it then provides, (iii) is not the attending physician or mental health treatment provider of the principal, nor an employee of the attending physician or mental health treatment provider, nor an employee of a health facility in which the principal is a patient, nor an employee of a nursing home or any group-care home in which the principal resides, and (iv) does not have a claim against any portion of the estate of the principal at the time of the principal's execution of the health care power of attorney.

(7) "Advance instruction for mental health treatment" or "advance instruction" means a written instrument as defined in G.S. 122C-72(1) pursuant to which the principal makes a declaration of instructions, information, and preferences regarding mental health treatment.

(8) "Mental health treatment" means the process of providing for the physical, emotional, psychological, and social needs of the principal for the principal's mental illness. "Mental health treatment" includes, but is not limited to, electroconvulsive treatment, treatment of mental illness with psychotropic medication, and admission to and retention in a facility for care or treatment of mental illness."

SECTION 2. G.S. 32A-20(b) reads as rewritten:

"§ 32A-20. Effectiveness and duration; revocation.

(b) ~~A~~ Except for purposes of exercising authority granted by a health care power of attorney with respect to anatomical gifts, autopsy, or disposition of remains as provided in G.S. 32A-19(b), a health care power of attorney is revoked by the death of the principal. A health care power of attorney may be revoked by the principal at any time, so long as the principal is capable of making and communicating health care decisions. The principal may exercise this right of revocation by executing and acknowledging an instrument of revocation, by executing and acknowledging a subsequent health care power of attorney, or in any other manner by which the principal is able to communicate an intent to revoke. This revocation becomes effective only upon communication by the principal to each health care agent named in the revoked health care power of attorney and to the principal's attending physician or eligible psychologist.

SECTION 3. G.S. 32A-25 reads as rewritten:

"§ 32A-25. Statutory form health care power of attorney.

The use of the following form in the creation of a health care power of attorney is lawful and, when used, it shall meet the requirements of and be construed in accordance with the provisions of this Article:

(Notice: This document gives the person you designate your health care agent broad powers to make health care decisions, including mental health treatment decisions, for you. Except to the extent that you express specific limitations or restrictions on the authority of your health care agent, this power includes the power to consent to your doctor not giving treatment or stopping treatment necessary to keep you alive, admit you to a facility, and administer certain treatments and medications. This power exists only as to those health care decisions for which you are unable to give informed consent.

This form does not impose a duty on your health care agent to exercise granted powers, but when a power is exercised, your health care agent will have to use due care to act in your best interests and in accordance with this document. For mental health treatment decisions, your health care agent will act according to how the health care agent believes you would act if you were making the decision. Because the powers granted by this document are broad and sweeping, you should discuss your wishes concerning life-sustaining procedures, mental health treatment, and other health care decisions with your health care agent.

Use of this form in the creation of a health care power of attorney is lawful and is authorized pursuant to North Carolina law. However, use of this form is an optional and nonexclusive method for creating a health care power of attorney and North Carolina law does not bar the use of any other or different form of power of attorney for health care that meets the statutory requirements.)

1. Designation of health care agent.

I, _____, being of sound mind, hereby appoint

as my health care attorney-in-fact (herein referred to as my "health care agent") to act for me and in my name (in any way I could act in person) to make health care decisions for me as authorized in this document.

If the person named as my health care agent is not reasonably available or is unable or unwilling to act as my agent, then I appoint the following persons (each to act alone and successively, in the order named), to serve in that capacity: (Optional)

A. Name: _____

Home Address: _____

Home Telephone Number _____ Work Telephone Number_____

B. Name: _____

Home Address: _____

Each successor health care agent designated shall be vested with the same power and duties as if originally named as my health care agent.

2. Effectiveness of appointment.

(Notice: This health care power of attorney may be revoked by you at any time in any manner by which you are able to communicate your intent to revoke to your health care agent and your attending physician.)

Absent revocation, the authority granted in this document shall become effective when and if the physician or physicians designated below determine that I lack sufficient understanding or capacity to make or communicate decisions relating to my health care and will continue in effect during my incapacity, until my ~~death.~~death, except if I authorize my health care agent to exercise my rights with respect to anatomical gifts, autopsy, or disposition of my remains, this authority will continue after my death to the extent necessary to exercise the authority granted in this document for these purposes.

This determination shall be made by the following physician or physicians. For decisions related to mental health treatment, this determination shall be made by the following physician or eligible psychologist. (You may include here a designation of your choice, including your attending physician or eligible psychologist, or any other physician or eligible psychologist. You may also name two or more physicians or eligible psychologists, if desired, both of whom must make this determination before the authority granted to the health care agent becomes effective.):

3. General statement of authority granted.

Except as indicated in section 4 below, I hereby grant to my health care agent named above full power and authority to make health care decisions, including mental health treatment decisions, on my behalf, including, but not limited to, the following:

A. To request, review, and receive any information, verbal or written, regarding my physical or mental health, including, but not limited to, medical and hospital records, and to consent to the disclosure of this information.

B. To employ or discharge my health care providers.

C. To consent to and authorize my admission to and discharge from a hospital, nursing or convalescent home, or other institution.

D. To consent to and authorize my admission to and retention in a facility for the care or treatment of mental illness.

E. To consent to and authorize the administration of medications for mental health treatment and electroconvulsive treatment (ECT) commonly referred to as "shock treatment".

F. To give consent for, to withdraw consent for, or to withhold consent for, X ray, anesthesia, medication, surgery, and all other diagnostic and treatment procedures ordered by or under the authorization of a licensed physician, dentist, or podiatrist. This authorization specifically includes the power to consent to measures for relief of pain.

G. To authorize the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures when and if my physician determines that I am terminally ill, permanently in a coma, suffer severe dementia, or am in a persistent vegetative state. Life-sustaining procedures are those forms of medical care that only serve to artificially prolong the dying process and may include mechanical ventilation, dialysis, antibiotics, artificial nutrition and hydration, and other forms of medical treatment which sustain, restore or supplant vital bodily functions. Life-sustaining procedures do not include care necessary to provide comfort or alleviate pain.

I DESIRE THAT MY LIFE NOT BE PROLONGED BY LIFE-SUSTAINING PROCEDURES IF I AM TERMINALLY ILL, PERMANENTLY IN A COMA, SUFFER SEVERE DEMENTIA, OR AM IN A PERSISTENT VEGETATIVE STATE.

H. To exercise any right I may have to make a disposition of any part or all of my body for medical ~~purposes,~~purposes; ~~to donate my organs,~~ to authorize an ~~autopsy,~~autopsy; to make an anatomical gift of my organs or body, or part thereof, and to direct the disposition of my remains.

I. To take any lawful actions that may be necessary to carry out these decisions, including the granting of releases of liability to medical providers.

4. Special provisions and limitations.

(Notice: The above grant of power is intended to be as broad as possible so that your health care agent will have authority to make any decisions you could make to obtain or terminate any type of health care. If you wish to limit the scope of your health care agent's powers, you may do so in this section.)

A. In exercising the authority to make health care decisions on my behalf, the authority of my health care agent is subject to the following special provisions and limitations (Here you may include any specific limitations you deem appropriate such as: your own definition of when life-sustaining treatment should be withheld or discontinued, or instructions to refuse any specific types of treatment that are inconsistent with your religious beliefs, or unacceptable to you for any other reason.):

B. In exercising the authority to make mental health decisions on my behalf, the authority of my health care agent is subject to the following special provisions and limitations. (Here you may include any specific limitations you deem appropriate such as: limiting the grant of authority to make only mental health treatment decisions, your own instructions regarding the administration or withholding of psychotropic medications and electroconvulsive treatment (ECT), instructions regarding your admission to and retention in a health care facility for mental health treatment, or instructions to refuse any specific types of treatment that are unacceptable to you):

C. (Notice: This health care power of attorney may incorporate or be combined with an advance instruction for mental health treatment, executed in accordance with Part 2 of Article 3 of Chapter 122C of the General Statutes, which you may use to state your instructions regarding mental health treatment in the event you lack sufficient understanding or capacity to make or communicate mental health treatment decisions. Because your health care agent's decisions about decisions must be consistent with any statements you have expressed in an advance instruction, you should indicate here whether you have executed an advance instruction for mental health treatment.):

D. In exercising the authority to make decisions regarding autopsy, anatomical gifts and disposition of remains on my behalf, the authority of my health care agent is subject to the following special provisions and limitations. (Here you may include any specific limitations you deem appropriate such as: limiting the grant of authority and the scope of authority, instructions regarding gifts of the body or body part, or instructions regarding burial or cremation):

5. Guardianship provision.

If it becomes necessary for a court to appoint a guardian of my person, I nominate my health care agent acting under this document to be the guardian of my person, to serve without bond or security. The guardian shall act consistently with G.S. 35A-1201(a)(5).

6. Reliance of third parties on health care agent.

A. No person who relies in good faith upon the authority of or any representations by my health care agent shall be liable to me, my estate, my heirs, successors, assigns, or personal representatives, for actions or omissions by my health care agent.

B. The powers conferred on my health care agent by this document may be exercised by my health care agent alone, and my health care agent's signature or act under the authority granted in this document may be accepted by persons as fully authorized by me and with the same force and effect as if I were personally present, competent, and acting on my own behalf. All acts performed in good faith by my health care agent pursuant to this power of attorney are done with my consent and shall have the same validity and effect as if I were present and exercised the powers myself, and shall inure to the benefit of and bind me, my estate, my heirs, successors, assigns, and personal representatives. The authority of my health care agent pursuant to this power of attorney shall be superior to and binding upon my family, relatives, friends, and others.

7. Miscellaneous provisions.

A. I revoke any prior health care power of attorney.

B. My health care agent shall be entitled to sign, execute, deliver, and acknowledge any contract or other document that may be necessary, desirable, convenient, or proper in order to exercise and carry out any of the powers described in this document and to incur reasonable costs on my behalf incident to the exercise of these powers; provided, however, that except as shall be necessary in order to exercise the powers described in this document relating to my health care, my health care agent shall not have any authority over my property or financial affairs.

C. My health care agent and my health care agent's estate, heirs, successors, and assigns are hereby released and forever discharged by me, my estate, my heirs, successors, and assigns and personal representatives from all liability and from all claims or demands of all kinds arising out of the acts or omissions of my health care agent pursuant to this document, except for willful misconduct or gross negligence.

D. No act or omission of my health care agent, or of any other person, institution, or facility acting in good faith in reliance on the authority of my health care agent pursuant to this health care power of attorney shall be considered suicide, nor the cause of my death for any civil or criminal purposes, nor shall it be considered unprofessional conduct or as lack of professional competence. Any person, institution, or facility against whom criminal or civil liability is asserted because of conduct authorized by this health care power of attorney may interpose this document as a defense.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO PROVIDE THAT A PERSON CHARGED WITH MULTIPLE OFFENSES MAY HAVE THOSE CHARGES EXPUNGED IF THE ALLEGED OFFENSES OCCURRED WITHIN THE SAME TWELVE-MONTH PERIOD OF TIME AND THE CHARGES ARE SUBSEQUENTLY DISMISSED OR FINDINGS OF NOT GUILTY OR NOT RESPONSIBLE ARE ENTERED AT THE SAME TERM OF COURT.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 15A-146 reads as rewritten:

"§ 15A-146. Expunction of records when charges are dismissed or there are findings of not ~~guilty.~~guilty; expunction of records in certain circumstances for charges of multiple offenses when charges are subsequently dismissed or there are findings of not guilty at the same term of court.

(a) If any person is charged with a crime, either a misdemeanor or a felony, or was charged with an infraction under G.S. 18B-302(i) prior to December 1, 1999, and the charge is dismissed, or a finding of not guilty or not responsible is entered, that person may apply to the court of the county where the charge was brought for an order to expunge from all official records any entries relating to his apprehension or trial. The court shall hold a hearing on the application and, upon finding that the person had not previously received an expungement under this section, G.S. 15A-145, or G.S. 90-96, and that the person had not previously been convicted of any felony under the laws of the United States, this State, or any other state, the court shall order the expunction. No person as to whom such an order has been entered shall be held thereafter under any provision of any law to be guilty of perjury, or to be guilty of otherwise giving a false statement or response to any inquiry made for any purpose, by reason of his failure to recite or acknowledge any expunged entries concerning apprehension or trial.

(a1) Notwithstanding subsection (a) of this section, if a person is charged with multiple offenses that occurred within the same 12-month period of time and the charges are dismissed, or findings of not guilty or not responsible are entered at the same term of court, then a person may apply to have each of those charges expunged. There is no requirement that the multiple offenses arise out of the same transaction or occurrence or that the multiple offenses were consolidated for judgment provided the offenses all occurred within the same 12-month period of time. The court shall hold a hearing on the application. If the court finds that the person had not previously received an expungement under this section except as allowed for multiple offenses under this subsection, that the person had not previously received an expungement under G.S. 15A-145 or G.S. 90-96, and that the person had not previously been convicted of any felony under the laws of the United States, this State, or any other state, the court shall order the expunction. No person as to whom such an order has been entered shall be held thereafter under any provision of any law to be guilty of perjury, or to be guilty of otherwise giving a false statement or response to any inquiry made for any purpose, by reason of his failure to recite or acknowledge any expunged entries concerning apprehension or trial.

(b) The court may also order that the said entries shall be expunged from the records of the court, and direct all law-enforcement agencies bearing record of the same to expunge their records of the entries. The clerk shall forward a certified copy of the order to the sheriff, chief of police, or other arresting agency. The sheriff, chief or head of such other arresting agency shall then transmit the copy of the order with the form supplied by the State Bureau of Investigation to the State Bureau of Investigation, and the State Bureau of Investigation shall forward the order to the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The costs of expunging these records shall not be taxed against the petitioner.

(b1) Any person entitled to expungement under this section may also apply to the court for an order expunging DNA records when the person's case has been dismissed by the trial court and the person's DNA record or profile has been included in the State DNA Database and the person's DNA sample is stored in the State DNA Databank. A copy of the application for expungement of the DNA record or DNA sample shall be served on the district attorney for the judicial district in which the felony charges were brought not less than 20 days prior to the date of the hearing on the application. If the application for expungement is granted, a certified copy of the trial court's order dismissing the charges shall be attached to an order of expungement. The order of expungement shall include the name and address of the defendant and the defendant's attorney and shall direct the SBI to send a letter documenting expungement as required by subsection (b2) of this section.

(b2) Upon receiving an order of expungement entered pursuant to subsection (b1) of this section, the SBI shall purge the DNA record and all other identifying information from the State DNA Database and the DNA sample stored in the State DNA Databank covered by the order, except that the order shall not apply to other offenses committed by the individual that qualify for inclusion in the State DNA Database and the State DNA Databank. A letter documenting expungement of the DNA record and destruction of the DNA sample shall be sent by the SBI to the defendant and the defendant's attorney at the address specified by the court in the order of expungement.

HOUSE BILL 967: Health Care Power of Atty/Dispos. of Remains

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	August 11, 2005
Introduced by:	Rep. Tucker	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith
Version:	PCS to Second Edition H967-CSRC-85		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 967 would extend a health care power of attorney past death of the principal for purposes of exercising explicitly granted rights with respect to decisions of anatomical gifts, autopsy and disposition of remains. The PCS makes technical and clarifying changes.

The bill would become effective October 1, 2005, and apply to all powers of attorney whenever created.

CURRENT LAW:

Health Care Powers of Attorney. A health care power of attorney may authorize the health care agent to exercise rights the principal may have with respect to anatomical gifts, autopsies, and disposition of the remains of the principal. However, the health care power of attorney is revoked by the death of the principal.

Autopsies. Medical Examiner investigations are authorized by statute for deaths resulting from any of the following circumstances: 1) violence, poisoning, accident, suicide or homicide; 2) occurring suddenly when the deceased has been in apparent good health or when unattended by a physician; 3) occurring in jail, prison, correctional institution or in police custody; 4) occurring as a result of execution by the State; or 5) occurring under any suspicious, unusual or unnatural circumstance. The Medical Examiner may conduct an autopsy or other study if the Medical Examiner deems it advisable and in the public interest. Other autopsies may be requested by the next-of-kin of the deceased. G.S. 130-398 provides that the right to perform an autopsy shall be limited to those cases in which:

1. The Chief Medical Examiner or a county medical examiner, acting pursuant to G.S. 130A-389, directs that an autopsy be performed.
2. The Commission of Anatomy, acting pursuant to G.S. 130A-415, has given written consent for an autopsy to be performed on an unclaimed body.
3. A prosecuting officer or district attorney, acting pursuant to G.S. 15-7 in case of homicide, directs that an autopsy be performed.
4. The decedent directs in writing prior to death that an autopsy be performed upon the occurrence of the decedent's death.
5. The personal representative of the estate of the decedent requests that an autopsy be performed upon the decedent. OR
6. Any of the following persons, in order of priority, when persons in prior classes are not available at the time of death, and in the absence of actual notice of contrary indications by the decedent or actual opposition by a member of the same or prior class, authorizes an autopsy to be performed:
    a. The spouse.
    b. Any adult child or stepchild.
    c. Any parent or stepparents.
    d. Any adult sibling.
    e. A guardian of the person of the decedent at the time of the decedent's death.

f. Any relative or person who accepts responsibility for final disposition of the body by other customary and lawful procedures.
g. Any person under obligation to dispose of the body.

Anatomical Gifts. A person of sound mind and at least 18 years old may give all or part of that individual's body upon death as an anatomical gift. If no gift has been made, then any of the following persons, in order of priority, may make the anatomical gift at the time of death (either immediately before or after):

1. The spouse.
2. An adult child.
3. Either parent.
4. An adult sibling.
5. A guardian of the person of the decedent at the time of decedent's death.
6. Any other person authorized or under obligation to dispose of the body.

Disposition of Remains. A person at 18 years of age may authorize the disposition of that person's remains in a will, in a health care power of attorney, a pre-need funeral contract, cremation authorization form, or in a written statement signed by the person and witnessed by 2 others at least 18 years old. If there is no such authorization, the following persons, in order, may authorize the disposition of the remains:

1. The surviving spouse.
2. A majority of the surviving children.
3. The surviving parents.
4. A majority of the surviving siblings.
5. A majority of the persons in the classes of the next degrees of kinship, in descending order, who, under State law, would inherit the decedent's estate if the decedent died intestate.
6. A person who has exhibited special care and concern for the decedent and is willing and able to make decisions about the disposition.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Section 1 amends the definitions applicable to the craeations of health care powers of attorney to define "disposition of remains" to mean the decision to bury or cremate human remains.

Sections 2 and 3 would allow the health care power of attorney to extend past death of the principal when the health care power of attorney authorizes the health care agent to exercise rights of the principal with respect to anatomical gifts, autopsy, or disposition of the remains so that the health care agent may exercise the rights granted. The bill would also make a conforming change in the statutory short form health care power of attorney.

Sections 4, 5, and 6 would make conforming changes to the statutes governing autopsy, anatomical gifts and disposition of remains to allow for the health care agent to make decisions with regard to those actions.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act would become effective October 1, 2005 and apply to powers of attorney created before or after that date.

Erika Churchill, counsel to House Judiciary I, substantially contributed to this summary.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO REDUCE FATALITIES AMONG NEW TEEN DRIVERS BY MAKING THE USE OF A MOBILE PHONE UNLAWFUL FOR A PERSON LESS THAN EIGHTEEN YEARS OF AGE AND WHO HOLDS A PROVISIONAL LICENSE WHILE DRIVING A MOTOR VEHICLE ON A PUBLIC STREET OR HIGHWAY, AS RECOMMENDED BY THE NC CHILD FATALITY TASK FORCE.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Chapter 20 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 20-140.6. Unlawful use of a mobile phone.

(a) Definitions. – For purposes of this section, the following terms shall mean:

(1) Mobile telephone. – A device used by subscribers and other users of wireless telephone service to access such service.

(2) Wireless telephone service. – A service that is a two-way real-time voice telecommunications service that is interconnected to a public switched telephone network and is provided by a commercial mobile radio service, as such term is defined by 47 C.F.R. § 20.3.

(3) Using. – Holding a mobile telephone to, or in the immediate proximity of, the user's ear.

(4) Handheld mobile telephone. – A mobile telephone with which a user engages in a call using at least one hand.

(5) Hands-free mobile telephone. – A mobile telephone that has an internal feature or function, or that is equipped with an attachment or addition, whether or not permanently part of such mobile telephone, by which a user engages in a call without the use of either hand, whether or not the use of either hand is necessary to activate, deactivate, or initiate a function of such telephone.

(6) Engage in a call. – Talking into or listening on a mobile, or handheld mobile telephone, but shall not include holding a mobile telephone to activate, deactivate, or initiate a function of such telephone.

(7) Immediate proximity. – That distance as permits the operator of a mobile telephone to hear telecommunications transmitted over such mobile telephone but shall not require physical contact with such operator's ear.

(8) Additional technology. – Any technology that provides access to digital media such as a camera, electronic mails, music, the Internet, or games.

(b) Offense. – Except as otherwise provided in this section, no person under the age of 18 years shall operate a motor vehicle on a public street or highway while using a mobile telephone, hands-free mobile telephone technology, or any other additional technology associated with a mobile phone that would distract the driver while the vehicle is in motion. A provisional licensee who operates a motor vehicle and who holds a mobile telephone to, or in the immediate proximity of, his or her ear while the motor vehicle is in motion is presumed to be engaging in a call within the meaning of this section. The presumption established by this subsection is rebuttable by evidence tending to show that the operator was not engaged in a call.

(c) Seizure. – The provisions of this section shall not be construed as authorizing the seizure or forfeiture of a mobile telephone, unless otherwise provided by law.

(d) Exceptions. – The provisions of subsection (b) of this section shall not apply if the use of a mobile telephone is for the sole purpose of communicating with any of the following regarding an emergency situation: an emergency response operator; a hospital, physician's office, or health clinic; a public or privately owned ambulance company or service; a fire department; or a law enforcement agency.

(e) Local Ordinances. – No local government may pass any ordinance regulating the use of mobile telephones while operating motor vehicles on public streets, highways, or public vehicular areas.

(f) Violation. – A violation of this section shall be a waivable infraction and requires payment of court costs. There shall be no fines, insurance points, or drivers license points assessed for a violation of this section. Upon waiver of responsibility, or being found responsible by a court of competent jurisdiction, the Division of Motor Vehicles shall be notified and provided with any information the Division requires to impose the penalty.

(g) Penalty. – The penalty for a violation of this section shall require a provisional licensee to remain at the licensee's current level of graduated licensing for an additional six months, or until the licensee turns 18 years of age, if that occurs before the date of the completion of the six-month penalty period."

SECTION 2. G.S. 20-11(c) reads as rewritten:

"(c) Level 1 Restrictions. – A limited learner's permit authorizes the permit holder to drive a specified type or class of motor vehicle only under the following conditions:

(1) The permit holder must be in possession of the permit.

(2) A supervising driver must be seated beside the permit holder in the front seat of the vehicle when it is in motion. No person other than the supervising driver can be in the front seat.

(3) For the first six months after issuance, the permit holder may drive only between the hours of 5:00 a.m. and 9:00 p.m.

(4) After the first six months after issuance, the permit holder may drive at any time.

(5) Every person occupying the vehicle being driven by the permit holder must have a safety belt properly fastened about his or her body, or be restrained by a child passenger restraint system as provided in G.S. 20-137.1(a), when the vehicle is in motion.

(6) The permit holder shall not use a mobile telephone or handheld mobile telephone while operating a motor vehicle except in compliance with G.S. 20-140.6."

SECTION 3. G.S. 20-11(e) reads as rewritten:

"(e) Level 2 Restrictions. – A limited provisional license authorizes the license holder to drive a specified type or class of motor vehicle only under the following conditions:

(1) The license holder shall be in possession of the license.

(2) The license holder may drive without supervision in any of the following circumstances:

a. From 5:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m.

b. When driving to or from work.

c. When driving to or from an activity of a volunteer fire department, volunteer rescue squad, or volunteer emergency medical service, if the driver is a member of the organization.

(3) The license holder may drive with supervision at any time. When the license holder is driving with supervision, the supervising driver shall be seated beside the license holder in the front seat of the vehicle when it is in motion. The supervising driver need not be the only other occupant of the front seat, but shall be the person seated next to the license holder.

(4) When the license holder is driving the vehicle and is not accompanied by the supervising driver, there may be no more than one passenger under 21 years of age in the vehicle. This limit does not apply to passengers who are members of the license holder's immediate family or whose primary residence is the same household as the license holder. However, if a family member or member of the same household as the license holder who is younger than 21 years of age is a passenger in the vehicle, no other passengers under 21 years of age, who are not members of the license holder's immediate family or members of the license holder's household, may be in the vehicle.

(5) Every person occupying the vehicle being driven by the license holder shall have a safety belt properly fastened about his or her body, or be restrained by a child passenger restraint system as provided in G.S. 20-137.1(a), when the vehicle is in motion.

(6) The permit holder shall not use a mobile telephone or handheld mobile telephone while operating a motor vehicle except in compliance with G.S. 20-140.6."

SECTION 4. G.S. 20-11(g) reads as rewritten:

"(g) Level 3 Restrictions. – The restrictions on Level 1 and Level 2 drivers concerning time of driving, supervision, and passenger limitations do not apply to a full provisional ~~license.~~ license; however, the restriction on the use of a mobile telephone or handheld mobile telephone while operating a motor vehicle except in compliance with G.S. 20-140.6 still applies."

SECTION 5. This act becomes effective October 1, 2006.

SENATE BILL 1289:
Cell Phone Use by Drivers Under 18 Prohibited

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	May 31, 2006
Introduced by:	Sen. Bingham	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith
Version:	PCS to First Edition S1289-CSRC-97		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 1289 would prohibit persons under 18 years of age from using a mobile telephone while operating a motor vehicle on a public street or highway. A person who violates this law would be fined $25 and have his or her learner's permit or Level 2 provisional license extended for an additional 6 months or until the person turned 18. No insurance points, drivers license points or court costs would be assessed.

The Proposed Committee Substitute imposes the $25 fine and removes the court costs. It also removes a provision in the original bill that would have prohibited units of local government from adopting ordinances regulating the use of mobile telephones while operating a vehicle.

The act would become effective December 1, 2006, and apply to offenses committed on or after that date.

CURRENT LAW: There are no statutory restrictions in North Carolina regarding the use of a mobile telephone while operating a motor vehicle.

In 1997, North Carolina adopted a graduated drivers license law. G.S. 20-11. It requires that if a person is under the age of 18, driving privileges are granted first on a limited basis and then expanded over time. The process involves 3 levels:

- Level 1 – Driving with a limited learner's permit.
- Level 2 – Driving with a limited provisional license.
- Level 3 – Driving with a full provisional license.

Persons who are at least 15 years of age, but not yet 18 years old must obtain a limited learner's permit. The permit allows the person to operate a motor vehicle if there is a supervising driver in the front seat of the car, the driver has the permit on his or her person while driving, and every person in the auto is wearing a safety belt. For the first 6 months of the permit, the driver may only operate an automobile between 5 a.m. and 9 p.m. The person must hold the permit for at least 12 months before being eligible to obtain a limited provisional (Level 2) license.

A person may obtain a limited provisional license if he or she has not been convicted of a moving violation or seat belt infraction during the preceding six months, passes a road test, and maintains passing grades in school or has a diploma or its equivalent. A person holding a limited provisional license may operate a motor vehicle between the hours of 5 a.m. and 9 p.m., or while driving to and from work or to and from certain volunteer EMS activities. There may be no more than one passenger under the age of 21 in the vehicle if there is no supervising driver present, although there is no limit on the number of siblings under the age of 21 who may be in the car. Finally, everyone in the vehicle must be wearing a seat belt.

If a person holds a Level 2 license for 6 months, has not been convicted of a motor vehicle moving violation or seat belt infraction during the preceding six months, and has passing grades or obtained a high school diploma, the person may obtain a full provisional (Level 3) license. There are no restrictions on a Level 3 license except that all persons in the vehicle must wear a seat belt. A person as young as 16 years and 6 months of age may obtain a Level 3 license.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 1289 would prohibit a person under the age of 18 from using a mobile telephone while operating a motor vehicle on a public street or highway. The prohibition would not apply to a stationary vehicle. The prohibition would extend to both handheld and hands-free phones, as well as other technology associated with a mobile telephone such as emails, games, or digital cameras associated with the phone. The prohibition would not extend to the use of a mobile telephone in an emergency situation to call a 911 operator, a hospital or doctor's office, an ambulance service, a fire department or a law enforcement agency.

A violation would be an infraction and the driver would be assessed a fine of $25. The driver would not have to pay court costs, and would not be assessed insurance or drivers license points. The person would have to remain for an additional 6 months at their current level of graduated license. As a practical matter, there are no restrictions on Level 3, full provisional licenses, so a person with a Level 3 drivers license who is found responsible of violating the prohibition against using a mobile telephone would have to pay court costs, but would not experience any change in their driving privileges.

BACKGROUND: The bill is a recommendation of the North Carolina Child Fatality Task Force.

According to information provided by the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety, as of July of 2005, 10 states restrict the use of mobile telephones by teens in the states' graduated licensing system. These states include: Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Maine, Maryland, Minnesota, New Jersey, Tennessee, and Texas.

(30) "Purchaser" means a person that takes by purchase.

(31) "Record" means information that is inscribed on a tangible medium or that is stored in an electronic or other medium and is retrievable in perceivable form.

(32) "Remedy" means any remedial right to which an aggrieved party is entitled with or without resort to a tribunal.

(33) "Representative" means a person empowered to act for another, including an agent, an officer of a corporation or association, and a trustee, executor, or administrator of an estate.

(34) "Right" includes remedy.

(35) "Security interest" means an interest in personal property or fixtures which secures payment or performance of an obligation. "Security interest" includes any interest of a consignor and a buyer of accounts, chattel paper, a payment intangible, or a promissory note in a transaction that is subject to Article 9 of this Chapter. "Security interest" does not include the special property interest of a buyer of goods on identification of those goods to a contract for sale under G.S. 25-2-401, but a buyer may also acquire a "security interest" by complying with Article 9 of this Chapter. Except as otherwise provided in G.S. 25-2-505, the right of a seller or lessor of goods under Article 2 or 2A of this Chapter to retain or acquire possession of the goods is not a "security interest," but a seller or lessor may also acquire a "security interest" by complying with Article 9 of this Chapter. The retention or reservation of title by a seller of goods notwithstanding shipment or delivery to the buyer under G.S. 25-2-401 is limited in effect to a reservation of a "security interest." Whether a transaction in the form of a lease creates a "security interest" is determined pursuant to G.S. 25-1-203.

(36) "Send" in connection with a writing, record, or notice means:

a. To deposit in the mail or deliver for transmission by any other usual means of communication with postage or cost of transmission provided for and properly addressed and, in the case of an instrument, to an address specified thereon or otherwise agreed, or if there be none to any address reasonable under the circumstances; or

b. In any other way to cause to be received any record or notice within the time it would have arrived if properly sent.

(37) "Signed" includes using any symbol executed or adopted with present intention to adopt or accept a writing.

(38) "State" means a State of the United States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the United States Virgin Islands, or any territory or insular possession subject to the jurisdiction of the United States.

(39) "Surety" includes a guarantor or other secondary obligor.

(40) "Term" means a portion of an agreement that relates to a particular matter.

(41) "Unauthorized signature" means a signature made without actual, implied, or apparent authority. The term includes a forgery.

(42) "Warehouse receipt" means a receipt issued by a person engaged in the business of storing goods for hire.

(43) "Writing" includes printing, typewriting, or any other intentional reduction to tangible form. "Written" has a corresponding meaning.

"§ 25-1-202. Notice; knowledge.

(a) Subject to subsection (f) of this section, a person has "notice" of a fact if the person:

(1) Has actual knowledge of it;

(2) Has received a notice or notification of it; or

(3) From all the facts and circumstances known to the person at the time in question, has reason to know that it exists.

(b) "Knowledge" means actual knowledge. "Knows" has a corresponding meaning.

(c) "Discover," "learn," or words of similar import refer to knowledge rather than to reason to know.

(d) A person "notifies" or "gives" a notice or notification to another person by taking such steps as may be reasonably required to inform the other person in ordinary course, whether or not the other person actually comes to know of it.

(e) Subject to subsection (f) of this section, a person "receives" a notice or notification when:

(1) It comes to that person's attention; or

(2) It is duly delivered in a form reasonable under the circumstances at the place of business through which the contract was made or at another location held out by that person as the place for receipt of such communications.

(f) Notice, knowledge, or a notice or notification received by an organization is effective for a particular transaction from the time it is brought to the attention of the individual conducting that transaction and, in any event, from the time it would have been brought to the individual's attention if the organization had exercised due diligence. An organization exercises due diligence if it maintains reasonable routines for communicating significant information to the person conducting the transaction and there is reasonable compliance with the routines. Due diligence does not require an individual acting for the organization to communicate information unless the communication is part of the individual's regular duties or the individual has reason to know of the transaction and that the transaction would be materially affected by the information.

"§ 25-1-203. Lease distinguished from security interest.

(a) Whether a transaction in the form of a lease creates a lease or security interest is determined by the facts of each case.

(b) A transaction in the form of a lease creates a security interest if the consideration that the lessee is to pay the lessor for the right to possession and use of the goods is an obligation for the term of the lease and is not subject to termination by the lessee, and:

(1) The original term of the lease is equal to or greater than the remaining economic life of the goods;

(2) The lessee is bound to renew the lease for the remaining economic life of the goods or is bound to become the owner of the goods;

(3) The lessee has an option to renew the lease for the remaining economic life of the goods for no additional consideration or for nominal additional consideration upon compliance with the lease agreement; or

(4) The lessee has an option to become the owner of the goods for no additional consideration or for nominal additional consideration upon compliance with the lease agreement.

(c) A transaction in the form of a lease does not create a security interest merely because:

(1) The present value of the consideration the lessee is obligated to pay the lessor for the right to possession and use of the goods is substantially equal to or is greater than the fair market value of the goods at the time the lease is entered into;

(2) The lessee assumes risk of loss of the goods;

(3) The lessee agrees to pay, with respect to the goods, taxes, insurance, filing, recording, or registration fees, or service or maintenance costs;

(4) The lessee has an option to renew the lease or to become the owner of the goods;

(5) The lessee has an option to renew the lease for a fixed rent that is equal to or greater than the reasonably predictable fair market rent for the use of the goods for the term of the renewal at the time the option is to be performed; or

(6) The lessee has an option to become the owner of the goods for a fixed price that is equal to or greater than the reasonably predictable fair market value of the goods at the time the option is to be performed.

(d) Additional consideration is nominal if it is less than the lessee's reasonably predictable cost of performing under the lease agreement if the option is not exercised. Additional consideration is not nominal if:

(1) When the option to renew the lease is granted to the lessee, the rent is stated to be the fair market rent for the use of the goods for the term of the renewal determined at the time the option is to be performed; or

(2) When the option to become the owner of the goods is granted to the lessee, the price is stated to be the fair market value of the goods determined at the time the option is to be performed.

(e) The "remaining economic life of the goods" and "reasonably predictable" fair market rent, fair market value, or cost of performing under the lease agreement must be determined with reference to the facts and circumstances at the time the transaction is entered into.

"§ 25-1-204. Value.

Except as otherwise provided in Articles 3, 4, and 5 of this Chapter, a person gives value for rights if the person acquires them:

(1) In return for a binding commitment to extend credit or for the extension of immediately available credit, whether or not drawn upon and whether or not a charge-back is provided for in the event of difficulties in collection;
(2) As security for, or in total or partial satisfaction of, a preexisting claim;
(3) By accepting delivery under a preexisting contract for purchase; or
(4) In return for any consideration sufficient to support a simple contract.

"§ 25-1-205. Reasonable time; seasonableness.

(a) Whether a time for taking an action required by this Chapter is reasonable depends on the nature, purpose, and circumstances of the action.

(b) An action is taken seasonably if it is taken at or within the time agreed or, if no time is agreed, at or within a reasonable time.

"§ 25-1-206. Presumptions.

Whenever this Chapter creates a "presumption" with respect to a fact, or provides that a fact is "presumed," the trier of fact must find the existence of the fact unless and until evidence is introduced that supports a finding of its nonexistence.

"PART 3.

"TERRITORIAL APPLICABILITY AND GENERAL RULES.

"§ 25-1-301. Territorial applicability; parties' power to choose applicable law.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, when a transaction bears a reasonable relation to this State and also to another state or nation the parties may agree that the law either of this State or of such other state or nation shall govern their rights and duties.

(b) In the absence of an agreement effective under subsection (a) of this section, and except as provided in subsection (c) of this section, this Chapter applies to transactions bearing an appropriate relation to this State.

(c) If one of the following provisions of this Chapter specifies the applicable law, that provision governs and a contrary agreement is effective only to the extent permitted by the law so specified:

(1) G.S. 25-2-402;
(2) G.S. 25-2A-105 and G.S. 25-2A-106;
(3) G.S. 25-4-102;
(4) G.S. 25-4A-507;
(5) G.S. 25-5-116;
(6) G.S. 25-8-110;
(7) G.S. 25-9-301 through G.S. 25-9-307.

"§ 25-1-302. Variation by agreement.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (b) of this section or elsewhere in this Chapter, the effect of provisions of this Chapter may be varied by agreement.

(b) The obligations of good faith, diligence, reasonableness, and care prescribed by this Chapter may not be disclaimed by agreement. The parties, by agreement, may determine the standards by which the performance of those obligations is to be measured if those standards are not manifestly unreasonable. Whenever this Chapter requires an action to be taken within a reasonable time, a time that is not manifestly unreasonable may be fixed by agreement.

(c) The presence in certain provisions of this Chapter of the phrase "unless otherwise agreed," or words of similar import, does not imply that the effect of other provisions may not be varied by agreement under this section.

"§ 25-1-303. Course of performance, course of dealing, and usage of trade.

(a) A "course of performance" is a sequence of conduct between the parties to a particular transaction that exists if:

(1) The agreement of the parties with respect to the transaction involves repeated occasions for performance by a party; and

(2) The other party, with knowledge of the nature of the performance and opportunity for objection to it, accepts the performance or acquiesces in it without objection.

(b) A "course of dealing" is a sequence of conduct concerning previous transactions between the parties to a particular transaction that is fairly to be regarded as establishing a common basis of understanding for interpreting their expressions and other conduct.

(c) A "usage of trade" is any practice or method of dealing having such regularity of observance in a place, vocation, or trade as to justify an expectation that it will be observed with respect to the transaction in question. The existence and scope of such a usage must be proved as facts. If it is established that such a usage is embodied in a trade code or similar record, the interpretation of the record is a question of law.

(d) A course of performance or course of dealing between the parties or usage of trade in the vocation or trade in which they are engaged or of which they are or should be aware is relevant in ascertaining the meaning of the parties' agreement, may give particular meaning to specific terms of the agreement, and may supplement or qualify the terms of the agreement. A usage of trade applicable in the place in which part of the performance under the agreement is to occur may be so utilized as to that part of the performance.

(e) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (f) of this section, the express terms of an agreement and any applicable course of performance, course of dealing, or usage of trade must be construed whenever reasonable as consistent with each other. If such a construction is unreasonable:

(1) Express terms prevail over course of performance, course of dealing, and usage of trade;

(2) Course of performance prevails over course of dealing and usage of trade; and

(3) Course of dealing prevails over usage of trade.

(f) Subject to G.S. 25-2-209, a course of performance is relevant to show a waiver or modification of any term inconsistent with the course of performance.

(g) Evidence of a relevant usage of trade offered by one party is not admissible unless that party has given the other party notice that the court finds sufficient to prevent unfair surprise to the other party.

"§ 25-1-304. Obligation of good faith.

Every contract or duty within this Chapter imposes an obligation of good faith in its performance and enforcement.

"§ 25-1-305. Remedies to be liberally administered.

(a) The remedies provided by this Chapter must be liberally administered to the end that the aggrieved party may be put in as good a position as if the other party had fully performed, but neither consequential or special damages nor penal damages may be had except as specifically provided in this Chapter or by other rule of law.

(b) Any right or obligation declared by this Chapter is enforceable by action unless the provision declaring it specifies a different and limited effect.

"§ 25-1-306. Waiver or renunciation of claim or right after breach.

A claim or right arising out of an alleged breach may be discharged in whole or in part without consideration by agreement of the aggrieved party in an authenticated record.

"§ 25-1-307. Prima facie evidence by third-party documents.

A document in due form purporting to be a bill of lading, policy or certificate of insurance, official weigher's or inspector's certificate, consular invoice, or any other document authorized or required by the contract to be issued by a third party is prima facie evidence of its own authenticity and genuineness and of the facts stated in the document by the third party.

"§ 25-1-308. Performance or acceptance under reservation of rights.

(a) A party that with explicit reservation of rights performs or promises performance or assents to performance in a manner demanded or offered by the other party does not thereby prejudice the rights reserved. Such words as "without prejudice," "under protest," or the like are sufficient.

(b) Subsection (a) of this section does not apply to an accord and satisfaction.

"§ 25-1-309. Option to accelerate at will.

A term providing that one party or that party's successor in interest may accelerate payment or performance or require collateral or additional collateral "at will" or when the party "deems itself insecure," or words of similar import, means that the party has power to do so only if that party in good faith believes that the prospect of payment or performance is impaired. The burden of establishing lack of good faith is on the party against which the power has been exercised.

"§ 25-1-310. Subordinated obligations.

An obligation may be issued as subordinated to performance of another obligation of the person obligated, or a creditor may subordinate its right to performance of an obligation by agreement with either the person obligated or another creditor of the person obligated. Subordination does not create a security interest as against either the common debtor or a subordinated creditor."

(2) "Carrier" means a person that issues a bill of lading.

(3) "Consignee" means a person named in a bill of lading to whom or to whose order the bill promises delivery.

(4) "Consignor" means a person named in a bill of lading as the person from whom the goods have been received for shipment.

(6) Reserved for future codification purposes.

(7) "Goods" means all things that are treated as movable for the purposes of a contract for storage or transportation.

(8) "Issuer" means a bailee that issues a document of title or, in the case of an unaccepted delivery order, the person that orders the possessor of goods to deliver. The term includes a person for whom an agent or employee purports to act in issuing a document if the agent or employee has real or apparent authority to issue documents, even if the issuer did not receive any goods, the goods were misdescribed, or in any other respect the agent or employee violated the issuer's instructions.

(9) "Person entitled under the document" means the holder, in the case of a negotiable document of title, or the person to whom delivery of the goods is to be made by the terms of, or pursuant to instructions in a record under, a nonnegotiable document of title.

(10) Reserved for future codification purposes.

(11) "Sign" means, with present intent to authenticate or adopt a record:

a. To execute or adopt a tangible symbol; or

b. To attach to or logically associate with the record an electronic sound, symbol, or process.

(b) Definitions in other Articles applying to this Article and the sections in which they appear are:

(1) "Contract for sale," G.S. 25-2-106.

(2) "Lessee in the ordinary course of business," G.S. 25-2A-103.

(3) "Receipt" of goods, G.S. 25-2-103.

(c) In addition, Article 1 of this Chapter contains general definitions and principles of construction and interpretation applicable throughout this Article.

"§ 25-7-103. Relation of Article to treaty or statute.

(a) This Article is subject to any treaty or statute of the United States or regulatory statute of this State to the extent the treaty, statute, or regulatory statute is applicable.

(b) This Article does not modify or repeal any law prescribing the form or content of a document of title or the services or facilities to be afforded by a bailee or otherwise regulating a bailee's business in respects not specifically treated in this Article. However, violation of such a law does not affect the status of a document of title that otherwise is within the definition of a document of title.

(c) This Article modifies, limits, and supersedes the federal Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act (15 U.S.C. § 7001, et seq.) but does not modify, limit, or supersede 101(c) of that Act (15 U.S.C. § 7001(c)) or authorize electronic delivery of any of the notices described in Section 103(b) of that Act (15 U.S.C. § 7003(b)).

(d) To the extent there is a conflict between Article 40 of Chapter 66 of the General Statutes (the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act) and this Article, this Article governs.

"§ 25-7-104. Negotiable and nonnegotiable document of title.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (c) of this section, a document of title is negotiable if by its terms the goods are to be delivered to bearer or to the order of a named person.

(b) A document of title other than one described in subsection (a) of this section is nonnegotiable. A bill of lading that states that the goods are consigned to a named person is not made negotiable by a provision that the goods are to be delivered only against an order in a record signed by the same or another named person.

(c) A document of title is nonnegotiable if, at the time it is issued, the document has a conspicuous legend, however expressed, that it is nonnegotiable.

"§ 25-7-105. Reissuance in alternative medium.

(a) Upon request of a person entitled under an electronic document of title, the issuer of the electronic document may issue a tangible document of title as a substitute for the electronic document if:

(1) The person entitled under the electronic document surrenders control of the document to the issuer; and

(2) The tangible document when issued contains a statement that it is issued in substitution for the electronic document.

(b) Upon issuance of a tangible document of title in substitution for an electronic document of title in accordance with subsection (a) of this section:

(1) The electronic document ceases to have any effect or validity; and

(2) The person that procured issuance of the tangible document warrants to all subsequent persons entitled under the tangible document that the warrantor was a person entitled under the electronic document when the warrantor surrendered control of the electronic document to the issuer.

(c) Upon request of a person entitled under a tangible document of title, the issuer of the tangible document may issue an electronic document of title as a substitute for the tangible document if:

(1) The person entitled under the tangible document surrenders possession of the document to the issuer; and

(2) The electronic document when issued contains a statement that it is issued in substitution for the tangible document.

(d) Upon issuance of an electronic document of title in substitution for a tangible document of title in accordance with subsection (c) of this section:

(1) The tangible document ceases to have any effect or validity; and

(2) The person that procured issuance of the electronic document warrants to all subsequent persons entitled under the electronic document that the warrantor was a person entitled under the tangible document when the warrantor surrendered possession of the tangible document to the issuer.

"§ 25-7-106. Control of electronic document of title.

(a) A person has control of an electronic document of title if a system employed for evidencing the transfer of interests in the electronic document reliably establishes that person as the person to which the electronic document was issued or transferred.

(b) A system satisfies subsection (a) of this section, and a person is deemed to have control of an electronic document of title, if the document is created, stored, and assigned in such a manner that:

(1) A single authoritative copy of the document exists which is unique, identifiable, and, except as otherwise provided in subdivisions (4), (5), and (6) of this subsection, unalterable;

(2) The authoritative copy identifies the person asserting control as:

a. The person to whom the document was issued; or

b. If the authoritative copy indicates that the document has been transferred, the person to whom the document was most recently transferred;

(3) The authoritative copy is communicated to and maintained by the person asserting control or its designated custodian;

(4) Copies or amendments that add or change an identified assignee of the authoritative copy can be made only with the consent of the person asserting control;

(5) Each copy of the authoritative copy and any copy of a copy is readily identifiable as a copy that is not the authoritative copy; and

(6) Any amendment of the authoritative copy is readily identifiable as authorized or unauthorized.

"PART 2.

"WAREHOUSE RECEIPTS: SPECIAL PROVISIONS.

"§ 25-7-201. Person that may issue a warehouse receipt; storage under bond.

(a) A warehouse receipt may be issued by any warehouse.

(b) If goods, including distilled spirits and agricultural commodities, are stored under a statute requiring a bond against withdrawal or a license for the issuance of receipts in the nature of warehouse receipts, a receipt issued for the goods is deemed to be a warehouse receipt even if issued by a person that is the owner of the goods and is not a warehouse.

"§ 25-7-202. Form of warehouse receipt; effect of omission.

(a) A warehouse receipt need not be in any particular form.

(b) Unless a warehouse receipt provides for each of the following, the warehouse is liable for damages caused to a person injured by its omission:

(1) A statement of the location of the warehouse facility where the goods are stored;

(2) The date of issue of the receipt;

(3) The unique identification code of the receipt;

(4) A statement whether the goods received will be delivered to the bearer, to a named person, or to a named person or its order;

(5) The rate of storage and handling charges, unless goods are stored under a field warehousing arrangement, in which case a statement of that fact is sufficient on a nonnegotiable receipt;

(6) A description of the goods or the packages containing them;

(7) The signature of the warehouse or its agent;

(8) If the receipt is issued for goods that the warehouse owns, either solely, jointly, or in common with others, a statement of the fact of that ownership; and

(9) A statement of the amount of advances made and of liabilities incurred for which the warehouse claims a lien or security interest, unless the precise amount of advances made or liabilities incurred, at the time of the issue of the receipt, is unknown to the warehouse or to its agent that issued the receipt, in which case a statement of the fact that advances have been made or liabilities incurred and the purpose of the advances or liabilities is sufficient.

(c) A warehouse may insert in its receipt any terms that are not contrary to this Chapter and do not impair its obligation of delivery under G.S. 25-7-403 or its duty of care under G.S. 25-7-204. Any contrary provision is ineffective.

"§ 25-7-203. Liability for nonreceipt or misdescription.

A party to or purchaser for value in good faith of a document of title, other than a bill of lading, that relies upon the description of the goods in the document may recover from the issuer damages caused by the nonreceipt or misdescription of the goods, except to the extent that:

(1) The document conspicuously indicates that the issuer does not know whether all or part of the goods in fact were received or conform to the description, such as a case in which the description is in terms of marks or labels or kind, quantity, or condition, or the receipt or description is qualified by "contents, condition, and quality unknown," "said to contain," or words of similar import, if the indication is true; or

(2) The party or purchaser otherwise has notice of the nonreceipt or misdescription.

"§ 25-7-204. Duty of care; contractual limitation of warehouse's liability.

(a) A warehouse is liable for damages for loss of or injury to the goods caused by its failure to exercise care with regard to the goods that a reasonably careful person would exercise under similar circumstances. Unless otherwise agreed, the warehouse is not liable for damages that could not have been avoided by the exercise of that care.

(b) Damages may be limited by a term in the warehouse receipt or storage agreement limiting the amount of liability in case of loss or damage beyond which the warehouse is not liable. Such a limitation is not effective with respect to the warehouse's liability for conversion to its own use. On request of the bailor in a record at the time of signing the storage agreement or within a reasonable time after receipt of the warehouse receipt, the warehouse's liability may be increased on part or all of the goods covered by the storage agreement or the warehouse receipt. In this event, increased rates may be charged based on an increased valuation of the goods.

(c) Reasonable provisions as to the time and manner of presenting claims and commencing actions based on the bailment may be included in the warehouse receipt or storage agreement.

(d) This section does not modify or repeal any statute that imposes a higher responsibility upon the warehouse or invalidates a contractual limitation that would be permissible under this Article.

"§ 25-7-205. Title under warehouse receipt defeated in certain cases.

A buyer in ordinary course of business of fungible goods sold and delivered by a warehouse that is also in the business of buying and selling such goods takes the goods free of any claim under a warehouse receipt even if the receipt is negotiable and has been duly negotiated.

"§ 25-7-206. Termination of storage at warehouse's option.

(a) A warehouse, by giving notice to the person on whose account the goods are held and any other person known to claim an interest in the goods, may require payment of any charges and removal of the goods from the warehouse at the termination of the period of storage fixed by the document of title or, if a period is not fixed, within a stated period not less than 30 days after the warehouse gives notice. If the goods are not removed before the date specified in the notice, the warehouse may sell them pursuant to G.S. 25-7-210.

(b) If a warehouse in good faith believes that goods are about to deteriorate or decline in value to less than the amount of its lien within the time provided in subsection (a) of this section and G.S. 25-7-210, the warehouse may specify in the notice given under subsection (a) of this section any reasonable shorter time for removal of the goods and, if the goods are not removed, may sell them at public sale held not less than one week after a single advertisement or posting.

(c) If, as a result of a quality or condition of the goods of which the warehouse did not have notice at the time of deposit, the goods are a hazard to other property, the warehouse facilities, or other persons, the warehouse may sell the goods at public or private sale without advertisement or posting on reasonable notification to all persons known to claim an interest in the goods. If the warehouse, after a reasonable effort, is unable to sell the goods, it may dispose of them in any lawful manner and does not incur liability by reason of that disposition.

(d) A warehouse shall deliver the goods to any person entitled to them under this Article upon due demand made at any time before sale or other disposition under this section.

(e) A warehouse may satisfy its lien from the proceeds of any sale or disposition under this section but shall hold the balance for delivery on the demand of any person to whom the warehouse would have been bound to deliver the goods.

"§ 25-7-207. Goods must be kept separate; fungible goods.

(a) Unless the warehouse receipt provides otherwise, a warehouse shall keep separate the goods covered by each receipt so as to permit at all times identification and delivery of those goods. However, different lots of fungible goods may be commingled.

(b) If different lots of fungible goods are commingled, the goods are owned in common by the persons entitled thereto and the warehouse is severally liable to each owner for that owner's share. If, because of overissue, a mass of fungible goods is insufficient to meet all the receipts the warehouse has issued against it, the persons entitled include all holders to whom overissued receipts have been duly negotiated.

"§ 25-7-208. Altered warehouse receipts.

If a blank in a negotiable tangible warehouse receipt has been filled in without authority, a good-faith purchaser for value and without notice of the lack of authority may treat the insertion as authorized. Any other unauthorized alteration leaves any tangible or electronic warehouse receipt enforceable against the issuer according to its original tenor.

"§ 25-7-209. Lien of warehouse.

(a) A warehouse has a lien against the bailor on the goods covered by a warehouse receipt or storage agreement or on the proceeds thereof in its possession for charges for storage or transportation, including demurrage and terminal charges, insurance, labor, or other charges, present or future, in relation to the goods, and for expenses necessary for preservation of the goods or reasonably incurred in their sale pursuant to law. If the person on whose account the goods are held is liable for similar charges or expenses in relation to other goods whenever deposited and it is stated in the warehouse receipt or storage agreement that a lien is claimed for charges and expenses in relation to other goods, the warehouse also has a lien against the goods covered by the warehouse receipt or storage agreement or on the proceeds thereof in its possession for those charges and expenses, whether or not the other goods have been delivered by the warehouse. However, as against a person to which a negotiable warehouse receipt is duly negotiated, a warehouse's lien is limited to charges in an amount or at a rate specified in the warehouse receipt or, if no charges are so specified, to a reasonable charge for storage of the specific goods covered by the receipt subsequent to the date of the receipt.

(b) A warehouse may also reserve a security interest against the bailor for the maximum amount specified on the receipt for charges other than those specified in subsection (a) of this section, such as for money advanced and interest. The security interest is governed by Article 9 of this Chapter.

(c) A warehouse's lien for charges and expenses under subsection (a) of this section or a security interest under subsection (b) of this section is also effective against any person that so entrusted the bailor with possession of the goods that a pledge of them by the bailor to a good-faith purchaser for value would have been valid. However, the lien or security interest is not effective against a person that before issuance of a document of title had a legal interest or a perfected security interest in the goods and that did not:

(1) Deliver or entrust the goods or any document of title covering the goods to the bailor or the bailor's nominee with:
   a. Actual or apparent authority to ship, store, or sell;
   b. Power to obtain delivery under G.S. 25-7-403; or
   c. Power of disposition under G.S. 25-2-403, 25-2A-304(2), 25-2A-305(2), 25-9-320, or 25-9-321(c) or other statute or rule of law; or

(2) Acquiesce in the procurement by the bailor or its nominee of any document.

(d) A warehouse's lien on household goods for charges and expenses in relation to the goods under subsection (a) of this section is also effective against all persons if the depositor was the legal possessor of the goods at the time of deposit. In this subsection, "household goods" means furniture, furnishings, or personal effects used by the depositor in a dwelling.

(e) A warehouse loses its lien on any goods that it voluntarily delivers or unjustifiably refuses to deliver.

"§ 25-7-210. Enforcement of warehouse's lien.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (b) of this section, a warehouse's lien may be enforced by public or private sale of the goods, in bulk or in packages, at any time or place and on any terms that are commercially reasonable, after notifying all persons known to claim an interest in the goods. The notification must include a statement of the amount due, the nature of the proposed sale, and the time and place of any public sale. The fact that a better price could have been obtained by a sale at a different time or in a method different from that selected by the warehouse is not of itself sufficient to establish that the sale was not made in a commercially reasonable manner. The warehouse sells in a commercially reasonable manner if the warehouse sells the goods in the usual manner in any recognized market therefore, sells at the price current in that market at the time of the sale, or otherwise sells in conformity with commercially reasonable practices among dealers in the type of goods sold. A sale of more goods than apparently necessary to be offered to ensure satisfaction of the obligation is not commercially reasonable, except in cases covered by the preceding sentence.

(b) A warehouse may enforce its lien on goods, other than goods stored by a merchant in the course of its business, only if the following requirements are satisfied:

(1) All persons known to claim an interest in the goods must be notified.

(2) The notification must include an itemized statement of the claim, a description of the goods subject to the lien, a demand for payment within a specified time not less than 10 days after receipt of the notification, and a conspicuous statement that unless the claim is paid within that time the goods will be advertised for sale and sold by auction at a specified time and place.

(3) The sale must conform to the terms of the notification.

(4) The sale must be held at the nearest suitable place to where the goods are held or stored.

(5) After the expiration of the time given in the notification, an advertisement of the sale must be published once a week for two weeks consecutively in a newspaper of general circulation where the sale is to be held. The advertisement must include a description of the goods, the name of the person on whose account the goods are being held, and the time and place of the sale. The sale must take place at least 15 days after the first publication. If there is no newspaper of general circulation where the sale is to be held, the advertisement must be posted at least 10 days before the sale in not fewer than six conspicuous places in the neighborhood of the proposed sale.

(c) Before any sale pursuant to this section, any person claiming a right in the goods may pay the amount necessary to satisfy the lien and the reasonable expenses incurred in complying with this section. In that event, the goods may not be sold but must be retained by the warehouse subject to the terms of the receipt and this Article.

(d) A warehouse may buy at any public sale held pursuant to this section.

(e) A purchaser in good faith of goods sold to enforce a warehouse's lien takes the goods free of any rights of persons against whom the lien was valid, despite the warehouse's noncompliance with this section.

(f) A warehouse may satisfy its lien from the proceeds of any sale pursuant to this section but shall hold the balance, if any, for delivery on demand to any person to whom the warehouse would have been bound to deliver the goods.

(g) The rights provided by this section are in addition to all other rights allowed by law to a creditor against a debtor.

(h) If a lien is on goods stored by a merchant in the course of its business, the lien may be enforced in accordance with subsection (a) or (b) of this section.

(i) A warehouse is liable for damages caused by failure to comply with the requirements for sale under this section and, in case of willful violation, is liable for conversion.

"PART 3.

"BILLS OF LADING: SPECIAL PROVISIONS.

"§ 25-7-301. Liability for nonreceipt or misdescription; "said to contain"; "shipper's weight, load, and count"; improper handling.

(a) A consignee of a nonnegotiable bill of lading which has given value in good faith, or a holder to which a negotiable bill has been duly negotiated, relying upon the description of the goods in the bill or upon the date shown in the bill, may recover from the issuer damages caused by the misdating of the bill or the nonreceipt or misdescription of the goods, except to the extent that the bill indicates that the issuer does not know whether any part or all of the goods in fact were received or conform to the description, such as in a case in which the description is in terms of marks or labels or kind, quantity, or condition or the receipt or description is qualified by "contents or condition of contents of packages unknown," "said to contain," "shipper's weight, load, and count," or words of similar import, if that indication is true.

(b) If goods are loaded by the issuer of a bill of lading;

(1) The issuer shall count the packages of goods if shipped in packages and ascertain the kind and quantity if shipped in bulk; and

(2) Words such as "shipper's weight, load, and count," or words of similar import indicating that the description was made by the shipper are ineffective except as to goods concealed in packages.

(c) If bulk goods are loaded by a shipper that makes available to the issuer of a bill of lading adequate facilities for weighing those goods, the issuer shall ascertain the kind and quantity within a reasonable time after receiving the shipper's request in a record to do so. In that case, "shipper's weight" or words of similar import are ineffective.

(d) The issuer of a bill of lading, by including in the bill the words "shipper's weight, load, and count," or words of similar import, may indicate that the goods were loaded by the shipper, and, if that statement is true, the issuer is not liable for damages caused by the improper loading. However, omission of such words does not imply liability for damages caused by improper loading.

(e) A shipper guarantees to an issuer the accuracy at the time of shipment of the description, marks, labels, number, kind, quantity, condition, and weight, as furnished by the shipper, and the shipper shall indemnify the issuer against damage caused by inaccuracies in those particulars. This right of indemnity does not limit the issuer's responsibility or liability under the contract of carriage to any person other than the shipper.

"§ 25-7-302. Through bills of lading and similar documents of title.

(a) The issuer of a through bill of lading, or other document of title embodying an undertaking to be performed in part by a person acting as its agent or by a performing carrier, is liable to any person entitled to recover on the bill or other document for any breach by the other person or the performing carrier of its obligation under the bill or other document. However, to the extent that the bill or other document covers an undertaking to be performed overseas or in territory not contiguous to the continental United States or an undertaking including matters other than transportation, this liability for breach by the other person or the performing carrier may be varied by agreement of the parties.

(b) If goods covered by a through bill of lading or other document of title embodying an undertaking to be performed in part by a person other than the issuer are received by that person, the person is subject, with respect to its own performance while the goods are in its possession, to the obligation of the issuer. The person's obligation is discharged by delivery of the goods to another person pursuant to the bill or other document and does not include liability for breach by any other person or by the issuer.

(c) The issuer of a through bill of lading or other document of title described in subsection (a) of this section is entitled to recover from the performing carrier, or other person in possession of the goods when the breach of the obligation under the bill or other document occurred:

(1) The amount it may be required to pay to any person entitled to recover on the bill or other document for the breach, as may be evidenced by any receipt, judgment, or transcript of judgment; and

(2) The amount of any expense reasonably incurred by the issuer in defending any action commenced by any person entitled to recover on the bill or other document for the breach.

"§ 25-7-303. Diversion; reconsignment; change of instructions.

(a) Unless the bill of lading otherwise provides, a carrier may deliver the goods to a person or destination other than that stated in the bill or may otherwise dispose of the goods, without liability for misdelivery, on instructions from:

(1) The holder of a negotiable bill;

(2) The consignor on a nonnegotiable bill, even if the consignee has given contrary instructions;

(3) The consignee on a nonnegotiable bill in the absence of contrary instructions from the consignor, if the goods have arrived at the billed destination or if the consignee is in possession of the tangible bill or in control of the electronic bill; or

(4) The consignee on a nonnegotiable bill, if the consignee is entitled as against the consignor to dispose of the goods.

(b) Unless instructions described in subsection (a) of this section are included in a negotiable bill of lading, a person to whom the bill is duly negotiated may hold the bailee according to the original terms.

"§ 25-7-304. Tangible bills of lading in a set.

(a) Except as customary in international transportation, a tangible bill of lading may not be issued in a set of parts. The issuer is liable for damages caused by violation of this subsection.

(b) If a tangible bill of lading is lawfully issued in a set of parts, each of which contains an identification code and is expressed to be valid only if the goods have not been delivered against any other part, the whole of the parts constitutes one bill.

(c) If a tangible negotiable bill of lading is lawfully issued in a set of parts and different parts are negotiated to different persons, the title of the holder to which the first due negotiation is made prevails as to both the document of title and the goods even if any later holder may have received the goods from the carrier in good faith and discharged the carrier's obligation by surrendering its part.

(d) A person that negotiates or transfers a single part of a tangible bill of lading issued in a set is liable to holders of that part as if it were the whole set.

(e) The bailee shall deliver in accordance with Part 4 of this Article against the first presented part of a tangible bill of lading lawfully issued in a set. Delivery in this manner discharges the bailee's obligation on the whole bill.

"§ 25-7-305. Destination bills.

(a) Instead of issuing a bill of lading to the consignor at the place of shipment, a carrier, at the request of the consignor, may procure the bill to be issued at destination or at any other place designated in the request.

(b) Upon request of any person entitled as against a carrier to control the goods while in transit and on surrender of possession or control of any outstanding bill of lading or other receipt covering the goods, the issuer, subject to G.S. 25-7-105, may procure a substitute bill to be issued at any place designated in the request.

"§ 25-7-306. Altered bills of lading.

An unauthorized alteration or filling in of a blank in a bill of lading leaves the bill enforceable according to its original tenor.

"§ 25-7-307. Lien of carrier.

(a) A carrier has a lien on the goods covered by a bill of lading or on the proceeds thereof in its possession for charges after the date of the carrier's receipt of the goods for storage or transportation, including demurrage and terminal charges, and for expenses necessary for preservation of the goods incident to their transportation or reasonably incurred in their sale pursuant to law. However, against a purchaser for value of a negotiable bill of lading, a carrier's lien is limited to charges stated in the bill or the applicable tariffs or, if no charges are stated, a reasonable charge.

(b) A lien for charges and expenses under subsection (a) of this section on goods that the carrier was required by law to receive for transportation is effective against the consignor or any person entitled to the goods unless the carrier had notice that the consignor lacked authority to subject the goods to those charges and expenses. Any other lien under subsection (a) of this section is effective against the consignor and any person that permitted the bailor to have control or possession of the goods unless the carrier had notice that the bailor lacked authority.

(c) A carrier loses its lien on any goods that it voluntarily delivers or unjustifiably refuses to deliver.

"§ 25-7-308. Enforcement of carrier's lien.

(a) A carrier's lien on goods may be enforced by public or private sale of the goods, in bulk or in packages, at any time or place and on any terms that are commercially reasonable, after notifying all persons known to claim an interest in the goods. The notification must include a statement of the amount due, the nature of the proposed sale, and the time and place of any public sale. The fact that a better price could have been obtained by a sale at a different time or in a method different from that selected by the carrier is not of itself sufficient to establish that the sale was not made in a commercially reasonable manner. The carrier sells goods in a commercially reasonable manner if the carrier sells the goods in the usual manner in any recognized market therefor, sells at the price current in that market at the time of the sale, or otherwise sells in conformity with commercially reasonable practices among dealers in the type of goods sold. A sale of more goods than apparently necessary to be offered to ensure satisfaction of the obligation is not commercially reasonable, except in cases covered by the preceding sentence.

(b) Before any sale pursuant to this section, any person claiming a right in the goods may pay the amount necessary to satisfy the lien and the reasonable expenses incurred in complying with this section. In that event, the goods may not be sold but must be retained by the carrier, subject to the terms of the bill of lading and this Article.

(c) A carrier may buy at any public sale pursuant to this section.

(d) A purchaser in good faith of goods sold to enforce a carrier's lien takes the goods free of any rights of persons against which the lien was valid, despite the carrier's noncompliance with this section.

(e) A carrier may satisfy its lien from the proceeds of any sale pursuant to this section but shall hold the balance, if any, for delivery on demand to any person to whom the carrier would have been bound to deliver the goods.

(f) The rights provided by this section are in addition to all other rights allowed by law to a creditor against a debtor.

(g) A carrier's lien may be enforced pursuant to either subsection (a) of this section or the procedure set forth in G.S. 25-7-210(b).

(h) A carrier is liable for damages caused by failure to comply with the requirements for sale under this section and, in case of willful violation, is liable for conversion.

"§ 25-7-309. Duty of care; contractual limitation of carrier's liability.

(a) A carrier that issues a bill of lading, whether negotiable or nonnegotiable, shall exercise the degree of care in relation to the goods which a reasonably careful person would exercise under similar circumstances. This subsection does not affect any statute, regulation, or rule of law that imposes liability upon a common carrier for damages not caused by its negligence.

(b) Damages may be limited by a term in the bill of lading or in a transportation agreement that the carrier's liability may not exceed a value stated in the bill or transportation agreement if the carrier's rates are dependent upon value and the consignor is afforded an opportunity to declare a higher value and the consignor is advised of the opportunity. However, such a limitation is not effective with respect to the carrier's liability for conversion to its own use.

(c) Reasonable provisions as to the time and manner of presenting claims and commencing actions based on the shipment may be included in a bill of lading or a transportation agreement.

"PART 4.

"WAREHOUSE RECEIPTS AND BILLS OF LADING: GENERAL OBLIGATIONS.

"§ 25-7-401. Irregularities in issue of receipt or bill or conduct of issuer.

The obligations imposed by this Article on an issuer apply to a document of title even if:

(1) The document does not comply with the requirements of this Article or of any other statute, rule, or regulation regarding its issuance, form, or content;

(2) The issuer violated laws regulating the conduct of its business;

(3) The goods covered by the document were owned by the bailee when the document was issued; or

(4) The person issuing the document is not a warehouse but the document purports to be a warehouse receipt.

"§ 25-7-402. Duplicate document of title; overissue.

A duplicate or any other document of title purporting to cover goods already represented by an outstanding document of the same issuer does not confer any right in the goods, except as provided in the case of tangible bills of lading in a set of parts, overissue of documents for fungible goods, substitutes for lost, stolen, or destroyed documents, or substitute documents issued pursuant to G.S. 25-7-105. The issuer is liable for damages caused by its overissue or failure to identify a duplicate document by a conspicuous notation.

"§ 25-7-403. Obligation of bailee to deliver; excuse.

(a) A bailee shall deliver the goods to a person entitled under a document of title if the person complies with subsections (b) and (c) of this section, unless and to the extent that the bailee establishes any of the following:

(1) Delivery of the goods to a person whose receipt was rightful as against the claimant;
(2) Damage to or delay, loss, or destruction of the goods for which the bailee is not liable;
(3) Previous sale or other disposition of the goods in lawful enforcement of a lien or on a warehouse's lawful termination of storage;
(4) The exercise by a seller of its right to stop delivery pursuant to G.S. 25-2-705 or by a lessor of its right to stop delivery pursuant to G.S. 25-2A-526;
(5) A diversion, reconsignment, or other disposition pursuant to G.S. 25-7-303;
(6) Release, satisfaction, or any other personal defense against the claimant; or
(7) Any other lawful excuse.

(b) A person claiming goods covered by a document of title shall satisfy the bailee's lien if the bailee so requests or if the bailee is prohibited by law from delivering the goods until the charges are paid.

(c) Unless a person claiming the goods is a person against whom the document of title does not confer a right under G.S. 25-7-503(a):

(1) The person claiming under a document shall surrender possession or control of any outstanding negotiable document covering the goods for cancellation or indication of partial deliveries; and
(2) The bailee shall cancel the document or conspicuously indicate in the document the partial delivery or the bailee is liable to any person to whom the document is duly negotiated.

"§ 25-7-404. No liability for good-faith delivery pursuant to document of title.

A bailee that in good faith has received goods and delivered or otherwise disposed of the goods according to the terms of a document of title or pursuant to this Article is not liable for the goods even if:

(1) The person from whom the bailee received the goods did not have authority to procure the document or to dispose of the goods; or
(2) The person to whom the bailee delivered the goods did not have authority to receive the goods.

"PART 5.

"WAREHOUSE RECEIPTS AND BILLS OF LADING: NEGOTIATION AND TRANSFER.

"§ 25-7-501. Form of negotiation and requirements of due negotiation.

(a) The following rules apply to a negotiable tangible document of title:

(1) If the document's original terms run to the order of a named person, the document is negotiated by the named person's indorsement and delivery. After the named person's indorsement in blank or to bearer, any person may negotiate the document by delivery alone.
(2) If the document's original terms run to bearer, it is negotiated by delivery alone.

(3) If the document's original terms run to the order of a named person and it is delivered to the named person, the effect is the same as if the document had been negotiated.

(4) Negotiation of the document after it has been indorsed to a named person requires indorsement by the named person and delivery.

(5) A document is duly negotiated if it is negotiated in the manner stated in this subsection to a holder that purchases it in good faith, without notice of any defense against or claim to it on the part of any person, and for value, unless it is established that the negotiation is not in the regular course of business or financing or involves receiving the document in settlement or payment of a monetary obligation.

(b) The following rules apply to a negotiable electronic document of title:

(1) If the document's original terms run to the order of a named person or to bearer, the document is negotiated by delivery of the document to another person. Indorsement by the named person is not required to negotiate the document.

(2) If the document's original terms run to the order of a named person and the named person has control of the document, the effect is the same as if the document had been negotiated.

(3) A document is duly negotiated if it is negotiated in the manner stated in this subsection to a holder that purchases it in good faith, without notice of any defense against or claim to it on the part of any person, and for value, unless it is established that the negotiation is not in the regular course of business or financing or involves taking delivery of the document in settlement or payment of a monetary obligation.

(c) Indorsement of a nonnegotiable document of title neither makes it negotiable nor adds to the transferee's rights.

(d) The naming in a negotiable bill of lading of a person to be notified of the arrival of the goods does not limit the negotiability of the bill or constitute notice to a purchaser of the bill of any interest of that person in the goods.

"§ 25-7-502. Rights acquired by due negotiation.

(a) Subject to G.S. 25-7-205 and G.S. 25-7-503, a holder to which a negotiable document of title has been duly negotiated acquires thereby:

(1) Title to the document;

(2) Title to the goods;

(3) All rights accruing under the law of agency or estoppel, including rights to goods delivered to the bailee after the document was issued; and

(4) The direct obligation of the issuer to hold or deliver the goods according to the terms of the document free of any defense or claim by the issuer except those arising under the terms of the document or under this Article, but in the case of a delivery order, the bailee's obligation accrues only upon the bailee's acceptance of the delivery order, and the obligation acquired by the holder is that the issuer and any indorser will procure the acceptance of the bailee.

(b) Subject to G.S. 25-7-503, title and rights acquired by due negotiation are not defeated by any stoppage of the goods represented by the document of title or by surrender of the goods by the bailee and are not impaired even if:

(1) The due negotiation or any prior due negotiation constituted a breach of duty;

(2) Any person has been deprived of possession of a negotiable tangible document or control of a negotiable electronic document by misrepresentation, fraud, accident, mistake, duress, loss, theft, or conversion; or

(3) A previous sale or other transfer of the goods or document has been made to a third person.

"§ 25-7-503. Document of title to goods defeated in certain cases.

(a) A document of title confers no right in goods against a person that before issuance of the document had a legal interest or a perfected security interest in the goods and that did not:

(1) Deliver or entrust the goods or any document of title covering the goods to the bailor or the bailor's nominee with:

a. Actual or apparent authority to ship, store, or sell;

b. Power to obtain delivery under G.S. 25-7-403; or

c. Power of disposition under G.S. 25-2-403, 25-2A-304(2), 25-2A-305(2), 25-9-320, or 25-9-321(c) or other statute or rule of law; or

(2) Acquiesce in the procurement by the bailor or its nominee of any document.

(b) Title to goods based upon an unaccepted delivery order is subject to the rights of any person to whom a negotiable warehouse receipt or bill of lading covering the goods has been duly negotiated. That title may be defeated under G.S. 25-7-504 to the same extent as the rights of the issuer or a transferee from the issuer.

(c) Title to goods based upon a bill of lading issued to a freight forwarder is subject to the rights of any person to which a bill issued by the freight forwarder is duly negotiated. However, delivery by the carrier in accordance with Part 4 of this Article pursuant to its own bill of lading discharges the carrier's obligation to deliver.

"§ 25-7-504. Rights acquired in absence of due negotiation; effect of diversion; stoppage of delivery.

(a) A transferee of a document of title, whether negotiable or nonnegotiable, to which the document has been delivered but not duly negotiated, acquires the title and rights that its transferor had or had actual authority to convey.

(b) In the case of a transfer of a nonnegotiable document of title, until but not after the bailee receives notice of the transfer, the rights of the transferee may be defeated:

(1) By those creditors of the transferor which could treat the transfer as void under G.S. 25-2-402 or G.S. 25-2A-308;

(2) By a buyer from the transferor in ordinary course of business if the bailee has delivered the goods to the buyer or received notification of the buyer's rights;

(3) By a lessee from the transferor in ordinary course of business if the bailee has delivered the goods to the lessee or received notification of the lessee's rights; or

(4) As against the bailee, by good-faith dealings of the bailee with the transferor.

(c) A diversion or other change of shipping instructions by the consignor in a nonnegotiable bill of lading which causes the bailee not to deliver the goods to the consignee defeats the consignee's title to the goods if the goods have been delivered to a buyer in ordinary course of business or a lessee in ordinary course of business and, in any event, defeats the consignee's rights against the bailee.

(d) Delivery of the goods pursuant to a nonnegotiable document of title may be stopped by a seller under G.S. 25-2-705 or a lessor under G.S. 25-2A-526, subject to the requirements of due notification in those sections. A bailee that honors the seller's or lessor's instructions is entitled to be indemnified by the seller or lessor against any resulting loss or expense.

"§ 25-7-505. Indorser not guarantor for other parties.

The indorsement of a tangible document of title issued by a bailee does not make the indorser liable for any default by the bailee or previous indorsers.

"§ 25-7-506. Delivery without indorsement; right to compel indorsement.

The transferee of a negotiable tangible document of title has a specifically enforceable right to have its transferor supply any necessary indorsement, but the transfer becomes a negotiation only as of the time the indorsement is supplied.

"§ 25-7-507. Warranties on negotiation or delivery of document of title.

If a person negotiates or delivers a document of title for value, otherwise than as a mere intermediary under G.S. 25-7-508, unless otherwise agreed, the transferor, in addition to any warranty made in selling or leasing the goods, warrants to its immediate purchaser only that:

(1) The document is genuine;

(2) The transferor does not have knowledge of any fact that would impair the document's validity or worth; and

(3) The negotiation or delivery is rightful and fully effective with respect to the title to the document and the goods it represents.

"§ 25-7-508. Warranties of collecting bank as to documents of title.

A collecting bank or other intermediary known to be entrusted with documents of title on behalf of another or with collection of a draft or other claim against delivery of documents warrants by the delivery of the documents only its own good faith and authority even if the collecting bank or other intermediary has purchased or made advances against the claim or draft to be collected.

"§ 25-7-509. Adequate compliance with commercial contract.

Whether a document of title is adequate to fulfill the obligations of a contract for sale, a contract for lease, or the conditions of a letter of credit is determined by Article 2, 2A, or 5 of this Chapter.

"PART 6.
"WAREHOUSE RECEIPTS AND BILLS OF LADING: MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.

"§ 25-7-601. Lost, stolen, or destroyed documents of title.

(a) If a document of title is lost, stolen, or destroyed, a court may order delivery of the goods or issuance of a substitute document, and the bailee may without liability to any person comply with the order. If the document was negotiable, a court may not order delivery of the goods or issuance of a substitute document without the claimant's posting security unless it finds that any person that may suffer loss as a result of nonsurrender of possession or control of the document is adequately protected against the loss. If the document was nonnegotiable, the court may require security. The court may also order payment of the bailee's reasonable costs and attorneys' fees in any action under this subsection.

(b) A bailee that, without a court order, delivers goods to a person claiming under a missing negotiable document of title is liable to any person injured thereby. If the delivery is not in good faith, the bailee is liable for conversion. Delivery in good faith is not conversion if the claimant posts security with the bailee in an amount at least double the value of the goods at the time of posting to indemnify any person injured by the delivery that files a notice of claim within one year after the delivery.

"§ 25-7-602. Judicial process against goods covered by negotiable document of title.

Unless a document of title was originally issued upon delivery of the goods by a person that did not have power to dispose of them, a lien does not attach by virtue of any judicial process to goods in the possession of a bailee for which a negotiable document of title is outstanding unless possession or control of the document is first surrendered to the bailee or the document's negotiation is enjoined. The bailee may not be compelled to deliver the goods pursuant to process until possession or control of the document is surrendered to the bailee or to the court. A purchaser of the document for value without notice of the process or injunction takes free of the lien imposed by judicial process.

"§ 25-7-603. Conflicting claims; interpleader.

If more than one person claims title to or possession of the goods, the bailee is excused from delivery until the bailee has a reasonable time to ascertain the validity of the adverse claims or to commence an action for interpleader. The bailee may assert an interpleader either in defending an action for nondelivery of the goods or by original action."

SUBPART B. CONFORMING AMENDMENTS TO OTHER ARTICLES OF THE UNIFORM COMMERCIAL CODE.

SECTION 27. G.S. 25-2-103(3) reads as rewritten:

"(3) "Control" as provided in G.S. 25-7-106 and the ~~The~~ following definitions in other articles apply to this article:

"Check." G.S. 25-3-104.

"Consignee." G.S. 25-7-102.

"Consignor." G.S. 25-7-102.

"Consumer Goods." G.S. 25-9-102.

"Dishonor." G.S. 25-3-502.

"Draft." G.S. 25-3-104."

SECTION 28. G.S. 25-2-104(2) reads as rewritten:

"(2) "Financing agency" means a bank, finance company or other person who in the ordinary course of business makes advances against goods or documents of title or who by arrangement with either the seller or the buyer intervenes in ordinary course to make or collect payment due or claimed under the contract for sale, as by purchasing or paying the seller's draft or making advances against it or by merely taking it for collection whether or not documents of title accompany or are associated with the draft. "Financing agency" includes also a bank or other person who similarly intervenes between persons who are in the position of seller and buyer in respect to the goods (G.S. 25-2-707)."

SECTION 29. G.S. 25-2-310 reads as rewritten:

"§ 25-2-310. Open time for payment or running of credit; authority to ship under reservation.

Unless otherwise agreed

(a) payment is due at the time and place at which the buyer is to receive the goods even though the place of shipment is the place of delivery; and

(b) if the seller is authorized to send the goods he may ship them under reservation, and may tender the documents of title, but the buyer may inspect the goods after their arrival before payment is due unless such inspection is inconsistent with the terms of the contract (G.S. 25-2-513); and

(c) if delivery is authorized and made by way of documents of title otherwise than by subsection (b) then payment is due regardless of where the goods are to be received (i) at the time and place at which the buyer is to receive delivery of the tangible documents or (ii) at the time the buyer is to receive delivery of the electronic documents and at the seller's place of business or if none, the seller's residence; ~~regardless of where the goods are to be received;~~ and

(d) where the seller is required or authorized to ship the goods on credit the credit period runs from the time of shipment but postdating the invoice or delaying its dispatch will correspondingly delay the starting of the credit period."

SECTION 30. G.S. 25-2-323(2) reads as rewritten:

"(2) Where in a case within subsection (1) a tangible bill of lading has been issued in a set of parts, unless otherwise agreed if the documents are not to be sent from abroad the buyer may demand tender of the full set; otherwise only one part of the bill of lading need be tendered. Even if the agreement expressly requires a full set

(a) due tender of a single part is acceptable within the provisions of this article on cure of improper delivery (subsection (1) of G.S.25-2-508); and

(b) even though the full set is demanded, if the documents are sent from abroad the person tendering an incomplete set may nevertheless require payment upon furnishing an indemnity which the buyer in good faith deems adequate."

SECTION 31. G.S. 25-2-401(3) reads as rewritten:

"(3) Unless otherwise explicitly agreed where delivery is to be made without moving the goods,

(a) if the seller is to deliver a tangible document of title, title passes at the time when and the place where he delivers such ~~documents;~~ documents and if the seller is to deliver an electronic document of title, title passes when the seller delivers the document; or

(b) if the goods are at the time of contracting already identified and no documents of title are to be delivered, title passes at the time and place of contracting."

SECTION 32. G.S. 25-2-503(4) and (5) read as rewritten:

"(4) Where goods are in the possession of a bailee and are to be delivered without being moved

(a) tender requires that the seller either tender a negotiable document of title covering such goods or procure acknowledgment by the bailee of the buyer's right to possession of the goods; but

(b) tender to the buyer of a non-negotiable document of title or of a ~~written direction to~~ record directing the bailee to deliver is sufficient tender unless the buyer seasonably objects, ~~and~~ and, except as otherwise provided in Article 9 of this Chapter, receipt by the bailee of notification of the buyer's rights fixes those rights as against the bailee and all third persons; but risk of loss of the goods and of any failure by the bailee to honor the nonnegotiable document of title or to obey the direction remains on the seller until the buyer has had a reasonable time to present the document or direction, and a refusal by the bailee to honor the document or to obey the direction defeats the tender.

(5) Where the contract requires the seller to deliver documents

(a) he must tender all such documents in correct form, except as provided in this article with respect to bills of lading in a set (subsection (2) of G.S. 25-2-323); and

(b) tender through customary banking channels is sufficient and dishonor of a draft accompanying or associated with the documents constitutes non-acceptance or rejection."

SECTION 33. G.S. 25-2-505 reads as rewritten:

"§ 25-2-505. Seller's shipment under reservation.

(1) Where the seller has identified goods to the contract by or before shipment:

(a) his procurement of a negotiable bill of lading to his own order or otherwise reserves in him a security interest in the goods. His procurement of the bill to the order of a financing agency or of the buyer indicates in addition only the seller's expectation of transferring that interest to the person named.

(b) a nonnegotiable bill of lading to himself or his nominee reserves possession of the goods as security but except in a case of conditional delivery (subsection (2) of G.S. 25-2-507) a nonnegotiable bill of lading naming the buyer as consignee reserves no security interest even though the seller retains possession or control of the bill of lading.

(2) When shipment by the seller with reservation of a security interest is in violation of the contract for sale it constitutes an improper contract for transportation within ~~the preceding section~~ G.S. 25-2-504 but impairs neither the rights given to the buyer by shipment and identification of the goods to the contract nor the seller's powers as a holder of a negotiable ~~document.~~ document of title."

SECTION 34. G.S. 25-2-506(2) reads as rewritten:

"(2) The right to reimbursement of a financing agency which has in good faith honored or purchased the draft under commitment to or authority from the buyer is not impaired by subsequent discovery of defects with reference to any relevant document which was apparently ~~regular on its face.~~ regular."

SECTION 35. G.S. 25-2-509(2) reads as rewritten:

"(2) Where the goods are held by a bailee to be delivered without being moved, the risk of loss passes to the buyer

(a) on his receipt of possession or control of a negotiable document of title covering the goods; or

(b) on acknowledgment by the bailee of the buyer's right to possession of the goods; or

(c) after his receipt of possession or control of a nonnegotiable document of title or other ~~written~~ direction to ~~deliver,~~ deliver in a record, as provided in subsection (4)(b) of G.S. 25-2-503."

SECTION 36. G.S. 25-2-605(2) reads as rewritten:

"(2) Payment against documents made without reservation of rights precludes recovery of the payment for defects apparent ~~on the face of~~ in the documents."

SECTION 37. G.S. 25-2-705(2) and (3) read as rewritten:

"(2) As against such buyer the seller may stop delivery until

(a) receipt of the goods by the buyer; or

(b) acknowledgment to the buyer by any bailee of the goods except a carrier that the bailee holds the goods for the buyer; or

(c) such acknowledgment to the buyer by a carrier by reshipment or as ~~warehouseman;~~ a warehouse; or

(d) negotiation to the buyer of any negotiable document of title covering the goods.

(3) (a) To stop delivery the seller must so notify as to enable the bailee by reasonable diligence to prevent delivery of the goods.

(b) After such notification the bailee must hold and deliver the goods according to the directions of the seller but the seller is liable to the bailee for any ensuing charges or damages.

(c) If a negotiable document of title has been issued for goods the bailee is not obliged to obey a notification to stop until surrender of possession or control of the document.

(d) A carrier who has issued a nonnegotiable bill of lading is not obliged to obey a notification to stop received from a person other than the consignor."

SECTION 38. G.S. 25-2A-103 reads as rewritten:

MEMORANDUM
May 24, 2006

TO: Senate Judiciary II Committee
FROM: General Statutes Commission
RE: Senate Bill 1555 (Revise Articles 1 and 7 of the UCC)

General Comments

This bill:

(1) Replaces current Article 1 of Chapter 25 of the General Statutes (Uniform Commercial Code) with Revised Article 1 of the Uniform Commercial Code. Article 1 contains provisions (for example, definitions) that apply throughout the UCC. The revised article reflects the substantial revisions made to other UCC articles over the last 20 years; updates the style; eliminates obsolete provisions; reorganizes in part; and makes clarifying and substantive changes as described below.

(2) Replaces current Article 7 of Chapter 25 with Revised Article 7 of the UCC. Article 7 covers bills of lading and warehouse receipts. The revision primarily reflects changes necessary to accommodate electronic documents.

(3) Makes conforming amendments to other articles in Chapter 25 and to other sections in the General Statutes.

(4) Repeals the obsolete criminal provisions in Article 5 of Chapter 27 of the General Statutes, the former Uniform Warehouse Receipts Act.

Specific Comments

Part I of this bill contains the provisions relating to Revised Article 1.

Subpart A contains Revised Article 1. In addition to the modernizing and stylistic changes noted above, Revised Article 1 contains the following:

Proposed § 25-1-102 expressly limits the scope of Revised Article 1 to transactions that are governed by Chapter 25. This section is intended to prevent the substantive provisions in Article 1 from being improperly applied to a transaction outside the scope of the UCC. The General Statutes Commission added the introductory phrase ("Except as provided in G.S. 25-1-301") to make proposed § 25-1-301's choice of law rules clearly applicable to a transaction that is not subject to Chapter 25 but is governed by the Uniform Commercial Code as enacted in one or more other states with contacts to the transaction, as to which North Carolina law would not apply.

Proposed § 25-1-201(b)(20), the definition of "good faith," has been changed to include the observance of reasonable commercial standards of fair dealing. This definition of "good faith," originally found only in Article 2 (Sales), now already applies in every other article of Chapter 25 except Article 5, which is expressly excluded from the definition in Revised Article 1.

Current G.S. 25-1-206 is not included in Revised Article 1. This section provides a statute of frauds (requirement of a writing) for contracts for the sale of personal property for more than $5,000. Effectively, it only applies to transactions that are outside the scope of Chapter 25.

Proposed § 25-1-303, which is derived from current G.S. 25-1-205, has been expanded to allow evidence of "course of performance" to be used to interpret a contract along with course of dealing and usage of trade. The course of performance provisions are derived from those in Articles 2 and 2A.

Proposed § 25-1-306 is derived from current G.S. 25-1-107, which allows a right or claim arising out of a breach of contract to be discharged without consideration if the aggrieved party agrees in writing. In addition to changes to allow for electronic documents, the revisions to this section clarify the distinction between the act of agreeing and the document or record that memorializes the act.

In addition to the change in proposed § 25-1-102 already noted, the General Statutes Commission made two changes to Revised Article 1:

First, in proposed § 25-1-107, which is equivalent to current G.S. 25-1-109, the Commission brought forward the second sentence of the current section, which provides that subsection catchlines in Article 9 are not part of the law. This sentence was added to current G.S. 25-1-109 in 2000, when Revised Article 9 was enacted in this State. This State's version of Revised Article 9 includes optional subsection catchlines that the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws (NCCUSL) provided but did not include in its "official" Revised Article 9. The inclusion of the optional subsection catchlines necessitated the 2000 amendment to G.S. 25-1-109, and bringing the sentence forward preserves this amendment.

Second, in proposed § 25-1-301, the General Statutes Commission decided to recommend retention of current Article 1's choice of law provision (current G.S. 25-1-105) rather than enactment of Revised Article 1's choice of law provision. The new choice of law provision has been widely opposed nationally. In this State, the North Carolina Bankers Association has expressed opposition. No state that has enacted Revised Article 1 has included the new choice of law provision; rather, states are retaining the former provision. Because of (i) the desirability of uniformity with other states and (ii) expressed opposition to the new provision, the Commission concluded that retaining the current law was the better choice at this time.

Subparts B and C contain conforming amendments to other articles of Chapter 25 and to other sections in the General Statutes, respectively, needed as a result of Revised Article 1.

Part II of this bill contains the provisions relating to Revised Article 7.

Subpart A contains Revised Article 7. The revision includes updating style, organization, and terminology and eliminating obsolete provisions, for example, those relating to certain tariffs and classifications that date back to the time the transportation industry was heavily regulated and no longer apply. Changes made by Revised Article 7 also include:

Proposed § 25-7-102, the definitions section, includes some new definitions ("carrier," "record," "sign," and "shipper") and revises other definitions to take electronic documents into account (for example, in the definition of "delivery order," the reference to "written order" is changed to "record") and to update the style (for example, "warehouseman" is changed to the more gender neutral "warehouse").

Proposed § 25-7-103 contains an express provision in subsection (d) that Revised Article 7 governs if there is a conflict between it and Article 40 of Chapter 66 of the General Statutes (Uniform Electronic Transactions Act).

Proposed § 25-7-104 has been revised to make it clearer when a bill of lading or warehouse receipt is negotiable and when it is nonnegotiable.

Current G.S. 25-7-105, on interpreting Article 7, was omitted as no longer needed, because the revision of Article 7 has clarified when provisions apply to warehouse receipts but not bills of lading and vice versa. Proposed § 25-7-105 contains provisions allowing a bill of lading or a warehouse receipt to be issued in one medium and reissued in another, for example, initially issued as a paper document and reissued as an electronic document.

Proposed § 25-7-106 is new. For electronic bills of lading and warehouse receipts, Revised Article 7 substitutes the concept of control of an electronic document in place of the concept of indorsement and possession that applies with respect to a written document of title. Where a person with a written document of title delivers the document by voluntarily transferring possession, a person with an electronic document of title delivers the document by voluntarily transferring control. This section defines "control" in a way that is derived from the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act's provisions on transferrable records. A person has control of an electronic document if the system used to transfer the electronic document establishes that person as the only person who has the interests referenced in the document, for example, the system identifies this person as the person to whom the document was issued, permits only one authoritative copy to exist at a time, will permit only proper changes to be made to the document, (e.g., an assignment), and will not allow anyone else to make these changes.

Proposed § 25-7-204 deals with a warehouse's statutory duty of care and its ability to limit its damages. In Revised Article 7, this section is changed so that a limit on damages in a warehouse receipt no longer has to be set out per item. Subsection (d) brings forward current G.S. 25-7-204(4) specifying that the section does not invalidate any statute that places a greater responsibility on a warehouse than this section.

Proposed § 25-7-209 is expanded to allow a warehouse to claim a lien under a storage agreement as well as under a warehouse receipt.

Proposed § 25-7-307 expands a carrier's lien to apply to proceeds of goods when the proceeds are in the carrier's possession.

Subpart B contains conforming amendments to other articles of Chapter 25 that are needed as a result of Revised Article 7.

Subpart C contains amendments to other parts of the General Statutes recommended as a result of Revised Article 7:

Section 57 amends G.S. 106-451.19 (contents of cotton warehouse receipts) to update the language of that section by requiring that the contents of such a receipt conform to the United States Warehouse Act, 7 U.S.C. § 214 et seq.

Section 58 repeals Article 5 of Chapter 27 as obsolete. Chapter 27 is the former Uniform Warehouse Receipts Act, a predecessor to Article 7 of the UCC. Article 5 of Chapter 27 contains various criminal provisions relating to fraud and deceptive practices in connection with warehouse receipts. The former Uniform Warehouse Receipts Act was enacted in this State before the creation of the General Statutes in 1943, and the criminal provisions in Article 5 have not been amended since that time. Except for Article 5, Chapter 27 was repealed when the UCC was first enacted in this State in 1965. At that time, Article 5 was left intact, contrary to NCCUSL's recommendation either to repeal it as duplicating the general criminal law on frauds or to recodify it into the general criminal law. It appears that no one has been charged under any of the sections in Article 5 for decades. The offenses contained in Article 5 have never been classified for sentencing purposes. The General Statutes Commission is informed by the North Carolina Conference of District Attorneys that the Article is no longer needed and can be repealed.

Part III contains applicability provisions for Revised Article 7 and sets the effective date as October 1, 2006. Generally speaking, the revision of Article 7 applies to bills of lading and warehouse receipts issued after the effective date. It also authorizes the Revisor of Statutes to print official and drafters' comments.

SENATE BILL 1479*

Short Title:	Uniform Unincorporated Nonprofit Assoc. Act.	(Public)
Sponsors:	Senators Hagan and Hartsell.
Referred to:	Judiciary II.

May 18, 2006

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO ENACT THE UNIFORM UNINCORPORATED NONPROFIT ASSOCIATION ACT, AS RECOMMENDED BY THE GENERAL STATUTES COMMISSION.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. The General Statutes are amended by adding a new Chapter to read:

"Chapter 59B.

"Uniform Unincorporated Nonprofit Association Act.

"§ 59B-1. Short title.

This Chapter may be cited as the Uniform Unincorporated Nonprofit Association Act.

"§ 59B-2. Definitions.

In this Chapter:

(1) "Member" means a person who, under the rules or practices of a nonprofit association, may participate in the selection of persons authorized to manage the affairs of the nonprofit association or in the development of policy of the nonprofit association.

(2) "Nonprofit association" means an unincorporated organization, other than one created by a trust and other than a limited liability company, consisting of two or more members joined by mutual consent for a common, nonprofit purpose. However, joint tenancy, tenancy in common, or tenancy by the entireties does not by itself establish a nonprofit association, even if the co-owners share use of the property for a nonprofit purpose.

(3) "Person" means an individual, corporation, limited liability company, business trust, estate, trust, partnership, association, joint venture, government, governmental subdivision, agency, or instrumentality, or any other legal or commercial entity.

(4) "State" means a state of the United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, or any territory or insular possession subject to the jurisdiction of the United States.

"§ 59B-3. Supplementary general principles of law and equity.

Principles of law and equity supplement this Chapter unless displaced by a particular provision of it.

"§ 59B-4. Title to property; choice of law.

Real and personal property in this State may be acquired, held, encumbered, and transferred by a nonprofit association, whether or not the nonprofit association or a member has any other relationship to this State.

"§ 59B-5. Real and personal property; nonprofit association as legatee, devisee, or beneficiary.

(a) A nonprofit association is a legal entity separate from its members for the purposes of acquiring, holding, encumbering, and transferring real and personal property.

(b) A nonprofit association, in its name, may acquire, hold, encumber, or transfer an estate or interest in real or personal property.

(c) A nonprofit association may be a beneficiary of a trust or contract, a legatee, or a devisee.

(d) Any judgments and executions against a nonprofit association bind its real and personal property in like manner as if it were incorporated.

"§ 59B-6. Statement of authority as to real property.

(a) A nonprofit association may execute and record a statement of authority to transfer an estate or interest in real property in the name of the nonprofit association.

(b) An estate or interest in real property in the name of a nonprofit association may be transferred by a person so authorized in a statement of authority recorded in the office of the register of deeds in the county in which a transfer of the property would be recorded.

(c) A statement of authority must be set forth in a document styled "affidavit" that contains all of the following:

(1) The name of the nonprofit association.

(2) Reserved for future codification purposes.

(3) The street address, and the mailing address if different from the street address, of the nonprofit association, and the county in which it is located, or, if the nonprofit association does not have an address in this State, its address out-of-state.

(4) That the association is an unincorporated nonprofit association.

(5) The name or office of a person authorized to transfer an estate or interest in real property held in the name of the nonprofit association.

(6) That the association has duly authorized the member or agent executing the statement to do so.

(d) A statement of authority must be sworn to and subscribed in the same manner as an affidavit by a member or agent who is not the person authorized to transfer the estate or interest.

(e) The register of deeds shall collect a fee for recording a statement of authority in the amount authorized by G.S. 161-10(a)(1). The register of deeds shall index the name of the nonprofit association and the member or agent signing the statement of authority or any subsequent document relating thereto as Grantor and the name of the appointee as Grantee.

(f) An amendment, including a termination, of a statement of authority must meet the requirements for execution and recording of an original statement. Unless terminated earlier, a recorded statement of authority or its most recent amendment expires by operation of law five years after the date of the most recent recording.

(g) If the record title to real property is in the name of a nonprofit association and the statement of authority is recorded in the office of the register of deeds in the county in which a transfer of real property would be recorded, the authority of the person or officer named in a statement of authority is conclusive in favor of a person who gives value without notice that the person or officer lacks authority.

"§ 59B-7. Liability of members or other persons.

(a) A nonprofit association is a legal entity separate from its members for the purposes of determining and enforcing rights, duties, and liabilities.

(b) A person is not liable for the contract, tort, or other obligations of a nonprofit association merely because the person is a member, is authorized to participate in the management of the affairs of the nonprofit association, or is referred to as a "member" by the nonprofit association.

(c) Reserved for future codification purposes.

(d) A tortious act or omission of a member or other person for which a nonprofit association is liable is not imputed to a person merely because the person is a member of the nonprofit association, is authorized to participate in the management of the affairs of the nonprofit association, or is referred to as a "member" by the nonprofit association.

(e) A member of, or a person referred to as a "member" by, a nonprofit association may assert a claim against or on behalf of the nonprofit association. A nonprofit association may assert a claim against a member or a person referred to as a "member" by the nonprofit association.

"§ 59B-8. Capacity to assert and defend; standing.

(a) A nonprofit association, in its name, may institute, defend, intervene, or participate in a judicial, administrative, or other governmental proceeding or in an arbitration, mediation, or any other form of alternative dispute resolution.

(b) A nonprofit association may assert a claim in its name on behalf of its members or persons referred to as "members" by the nonprofit association if one or more of them have standing to assert a claim in their own right, the interests the nonprofit association seeks to protect are germane to its purposes, and neither the claim asserted nor the relief requested requires the participation of a member or a person referred to as a "member" by the nonprofit association.

"§ 59B-9. Effect of judgment or order.

A judgment or order against a nonprofit association is not by itself a judgment or order against a member, a person referred to as a "member" by the nonprofit association, or a person authorized to participate in the management of the affairs of the nonprofit association.

"§ 59B-10. Disposition of personal property of inactive nonprofit association.

If a nonprofit association has been inactive for three years or longer, or a different period specified in a document of the nonprofit association, a person in possession or control of personal property of the nonprofit association may transfer custody of the property:

(1) If a document of the nonprofit association or document of gift specifies a person to whom transfer is to be made under these circumstances, to that person; or

(2) If no person is so specified, to a nonprofit association, nonprofit corporation, or other nonprofit entity pursuing broadly similar purposes, or to a government or governmental subdivision, agency, or instrumentality.

"§ 59B-11. Appointment of agent to receive service of process.

(a) A nonprofit association may file in the office of the Secretary of State a statement appointing an agent authorized to receive service of process, notice, or demand required or permitted by law to be served on a nonprofit association.

(b) A statement appointing an agent must set forth all of the following:

(1) The name of the nonprofit association.

(2) Reserved for future codification purposes.

(3) The street address, and the mailing address if different from the street address, of the nonprofit association, and the county in which it is located, or, if the nonprofit association does not have an address in this State, its address out-of-state.

(4) The name of the person in this State authorized to receive service of process and the person's address, including the street address, in this State.

(c) A statement appointing an agent must be signed and acknowledged by a person authorized to manage the affairs of a nonprofit association. The statement must also be signed and acknowledged by the person appointed agent, who thereby accepts the appointment. The appointed agent may resign by filing a resignation in the office of the Secretary of State and giving written notice to the nonprofit association at its last known address.

(d) The sole duty of the appointed agent to the nonprofit association is to forward to the nonprofit association at its last known address any notice, process, or demand that is served on the appointed agent.

(e) The Secretary of State is not an agent for service of any process, notice, or demand on any nonprofit association.

(f) The Secretary of State shall collect the following fees when the documents described in this subsection are delivered to the Secretary of State for filing:

	Document	Fee
(1)	Statement appointing an agent to receive service of process	$5.00
(2)	Amendment of statement appointing an agent	5.00

(3) Cancellation of statement appointing an agent 5.00
(4) Agent's statement of resignation No fee

(g) An amendment to or cancellation of a statement appointing an agent to receive service of process must meet the requirements for execution of an original statement.

"§ 59B-12. Claim not abated by change.

A claim for relief against a nonprofit association does not abate merely because of a change in its members or persons authorized to manage the affairs of the nonprofit association.

"§ 59B-13. Venue.

For purposes of venue, a nonprofit association is a resident of a county in which it has an office or maintains a place of operation or, if on due inquiry no office or place of operation can be found, in which any officer resides.

"§ 59B-14. Uniformity of application and construction.

This Chapter shall be applied and construed to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law with respect to the subject of this Chapter among states enacting it."

SECTION 2.(a) G.S. 39-24 and G.S. 39-25 are repealed.

SECTION 2.(b) G.S. 39-26 and G.S. 39-27 are recodified as G.S. 59B-15(a) and (b), respectively. As recodified by this act, G.S. 59B-15 reads as rewritten:

"§ 59B-15. Effect as to conveyances by ~~trustees.~~ trustees; prior deeds validated.

(a) Nothing in this ~~Article shall be deemed in any manner to change~~ Chapter changes the law with reference to the holding and conveyance of land by the trustees of churches ~~or other voluntary organizations~~ under Chapter 61 of the General Statutes where ~~such~~ the land is conveyed to and held by ~~such~~ the trustees.

(b) All deeds ~~heretofore~~ executed ~~in conformity with this Article~~ before the effective date of this Chapter in conformity with former G.S. 39-24 and former G.S. 39-25 are declared to be sufficient to pass title to real ~~estate held by such organizations.~~ estate."

SECTION 3. G.S. 1-69.1 reads as rewritten:

"§ 1-69.1. Unincorporated associations and partnerships; suit by or against.

(a) Except as provided in subsection (b) of this section:

(1) All unincorporated associations, organizations or societies, or general or limited partnerships, foreign or domestic, whether organized for profit or not, may hereafter sue or be sued under the name by which they are commonly known and called, or under which they are doing business, to the same extent as any other legal entity established by law and without naming any of the individual members composing it.

(2) Any judgments and executions against any such association, organization or society shall bind its real and personal property in like manner as if it were incorporated.

(3) Any unincorporated association, organization, society, or general partnership bringing a suit in the name by which it is commonly known and called must allege the specific location of the recordation required by G.S. 66-68.

(b) Unincorporated nonprofit associations are subject to Chapter 59B of the General Statutes and not this section."

SECTION 4. G.S. 47C-3-101 reads as rewritten:

"§ 47C-3-101. Organization of unit owners' association.

A unit owners' association shall be organized no later than the date the first unit in the condominium is conveyed. The membership of the association at all times shall consist exclusively of all the unit owners, or following termination of the condominium, of all persons entitled to distributions of proceeds under G.S. 47C-2-118. The association shall be organized as a profit or nonprofit corporation or as an unincorporated nonprofit association."

SECTION 5. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the invalidity does not affect any other provisions or applications of this act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are severable.

SECTION 6. This act does not affect an action or proceeding commenced or right accrued before this act takes effect.

SECTION 7. The Revisor of Statutes shall cause to be printed along with this act all relevant portions of the official comments to the Uniform Unincorporated Nonprofit Association Act and all explanatory comments of the drafters of this act as the Revisor deems appropriate.

SECTION 8. This act becomes effective January 1, 2007.

MEMORANDUM
May 25, 2006

TO: Senate Judiciary II Committee
FROM: General Statutes Commission
RE: Senate Bill 1479 (Uniform Unincorporated Nonprofit Assoc. Act)

General Comments

This bill enacts a North Carolina version of the Uniform Unincorporated Nonprofit Associations Act (UUNAA) as a new Chapter 59B of the General Statutes and makes conforming amendments to other parts of the General Statutes. In brief summary, UUNAA:

- Incorporates in one act statutory law dealing with unincorporated nonprofit associations with respect to holding property and legal obligations.
- Treats unincorporated nonprofit associations as legal entities with respect to legal obligations, including provision for limitations on liability, holding property, and standing to sue and be sued.
- Provides a procedure for disposing of the property of a defunct association.
- Permits the designation of an agent for service of process.

UUNAA does not contain provisions concerning the governance of unincorporated nonprofit associations.

Specific Comments

Section 1 enacts a version of UUNAA as a new Chapter 59B of the General Statutes.

Proposed § 59B-1 has the title ("Uniform Unincorporated Nonprofit Association Act").

Proposed § 59B-2 is a definitions section. Key terms include "member" (person who may participate in the selection of managers or in policy development) and "nonprofit association" (unincorporated organization of two or more members joined by mutual consent for a common, nonprofit purpose; excludes trusts and limited liability companies).

Proposed § 59B-3 provides for supplementation of UUNAA by principles of law and equity.

Proposed § 59B-4 expressly authorizes a nonprofit association to hold real or personal property in this State, regardless of whether it or its members have any relationship to this State.

Subsection (a) of proposed § 59B-5 is new; it provides for a nonprofit association to be treated as a legal entity separate from its members for purposes of holding and dealing with its property. Subsections (b) and (c), consistent with current law, allows a nonprofit association to hold property in its association name and to be the beneficiary of a trust, will, or contract. Subsection (d) (judgment binds property as if association were incorporated) is not in the Uniform Act. It effectively brings forward the last sentence of current G.S. 1-69.1.

Proposed § 59B-6 is new. It permits a nonprofit association to record a statement of authority setting out who may transfer real property in the nonprofit association's name. The section describes the content, form (affidavit), and execution required for a statement of authority and provides for amendments and termination. A statement of authority expires by operation of law five years after the most recent recording. Proposed § 59B-6 also requires a statement of authority to be recorded in the county in which the real property is located and requires the register of deeds to collect the fees authorized by G.S. 161-10(a)(1) (instruments in general). Finally, subsection (g) protects a good faith purchaser for value who purchases a nonprofit association's real property from the person or officer named in a statement of authority.

Proposed § 59B-7 is new. Subsection (a) treats a nonprofit association as a legal entity separate from its members for the purposes of determining and enforcing rights, duties, and liabilities. The next two subsections provide that a person is not liable for the contract, tort or other obligations of a nonprofit association, and that a tortious act or omission is not imputed from one person to another, merely because the person is a member, is authorized to participate in the management of the affairs of the nonprofit association, or is referred to as a "member" by the nonprofit association. Subsection (e) allows a member or a person referred to as a "member" to assert a claim against a nonprofit association, and vice versa.

Subsection (a) of proposed § 59B-8 continues the current law allowing nonprofit associations to sue and be sued in their association name. Subsection (b) codifies U.S. Supreme Court case law standing requirements for a nonprofit association to bring a suit on behalf of its members and persons it refers to as members.

Proposed § 59B-9 provides that a judgment or order against a nonprofit association is not by itself a judgment or order against a member or person referred to as "member" by the nonprofit association, consistent with proposed § 59B-7.

Proposed § 59B-10 is new. It provides a statutory procedure for disposing of a defunct nonprofit association's personal property. If the nonprofit association has been inactive for three years or more, the provision authorizes a person who has possession of personal property belonging to the association to give the property to another nonprofit entity or to a government. This is a default provision; the nonprofit association may include a different minimum inactive period, name a taker for its property, or both, in appropriate documents.

Proposed § 59B-11 is new. It permits a nonprofit association to appoint an agent for service of process. A statement appointing a process agent must be filed in the office of the Secretary of State. The requirements for the statement's contents and for filing are similar to those in Chapter 55D for nonprofit corporate and business entities, except that a statement under this section is required to be acknowledged by a manager of the nonprofit association and by the process agent. The filing fees are the same as those for similar documents filed by nonprofit corporations and business entities. Subsection (e) expressly provides that the Secretary of State is not a default process agent for nonprofit associations.

Proposed § 59B-12 provides that a claim for relief against a nonprofit association does not abate (go away) because its members or the persons authorized to manage its affairs change.

Proposed § 59B-13 provides that, for venue purposes, a nonprofit association is a resident of a county in which it has an office or place of operation, or if none, where an officer resides.

Proposed § 59B-14 is the standard provision on uniformity in interpretation and application.

Section 2 deals with the current statutory law on ownership of real property by nonprofit unincorporated associations, found in Article 4 of Chapter 39. Subsection 2(a) repeals G.S. 39-24 and G.S. 39-25 as no longer necessary. Subsection 2(b) recodifies G.S. 39-26 and G.S. 39-27 as new § 59B-15(a) and (b), respectively. Subsection 2(b) then amends new § 59B-15 to make conforming amendments and to update the style. New § 59B-15(b) is a validating provision; subsection 2(b) expands this provision to validate any deeds executed in conformity with G.S. 39-24 and G.S. 39-25 before their repeal.

Sections 3 and 4 make conforming amendments to G.S. 1-69.1 and G.S. 47C-3-101, respectively.

Section 5 is a severability clause.

Section 6 is a savings clause for rights accrued and actions or proceedings begun before the effective date.

Section 7 authorizes the Revisor of Statutes to print official and drafters' comments.

Section 8 provides an effective date of January 1, 2007.

HOUSE BILL 1432:
Notary Public Corrections.

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	June 8, 2006
Introduced by:	Reps. Stam, Ross	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith Committee Co-Counsel O. Walker Reagan, Staff Attorney
Version:	PCS to Second Edition H1432-CSRC-101

SUMMARY: The Proposed Senate Committee Substitute for House Bill 1432 makes technical, conforming, and other changes to the new Notary Public Act, and conforming changes to other related laws.

CURRENT LAW: The current law was enacted in 2005, effective December 1, 2005, as part of Senate Bill 671. The 2005 act recodified the existing notary law and made extensive changes governing notary commissioning, notarial acts, powers and limitations, fees, signatures and seals, and certification forms.

BACKGROUND: As a result of difficulties and questions that arose regarding the implementation and compliance with the new law from the legal community representing various affected parties including real estate closing attorneys, lending institutions, title insurance companies, registers of deeds, clerks of court, the Division of Motor Vehicles, wills and estate administrators and other people who deal with and rely on a reliable, dependable notary system, the General Assembly was encouraged to reexamine the new law to provide additional clarity.

One of the goals of the new law was to add additional details to the notary statutes to improve the integrity of the notary system and to give the Secretary of State's Office, as the administrator of the law, the necessary tools to insure compliance. But a result of strengthening the notarization requirements, questions arose concerning the validity of the execution and recording of documents where notarizations did not technically comply with all the requirements of the new law.

As a result of our analysis of the various issues and concerns raised by all the parties, fundamental goals were identified that lead to the changes proposed in the proposed committee substitute. One goal was to clarify and protect the integrity of the notary system and strengthen the authority of the Secretary of State in insure compliance by notaries. The other goal was to protect the rights of parties who relied on documents which on their face appeared to be properly notarized.

As a result of these two goals, the proposed committee substitute was drafted to separate out these two purposes so that the Secretary of State could enforce strict compliance with notary standards designed to prevent fraud and insure the integrity of notarized documents, while not causing the underlying documents that were signed by the person whose name appeared on the document to be declared invalid because of a technical notary defect.

The primary effect of the bill is to uncouple the technical notary requirements from the validity and enforceability of documents on which it appears that the person who executed the document actually appeared before the notary, established his or her identity, and voluntarily executed the document in the notary's presence.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Section 1 makes technical and clarifying changes and corrections to the definitions used throughout the act.

Section 2 is a technical change to the notary qualifications statute.

Section 3 clarifies the exemption from the public records of certain personal identity information on the statement of personal qualification including the applicant's date of birth, residence address and telephone number, last four digits of the social security number, and personal and business email address.

Section 4 clarifies that the notary's commission is recorded by the register of deeds only after the oath of office is administered.

Section 5 clarifies the notary recommission requirements to eliminate the requirement that the notary retake the notary course and obtain another recommendation from a public official.

Sections 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12 amend the notary's power and limitation statute in the following ways:

- Expands the ways the notary's name can be legibly shown in a notarial certificate and permits the statement of the expiration of the commission to be in the notary stamp or seal.
- Prohibits the notary from acting when the credible witness is not personally known to the notary and clarifies when a notary named on the document being notarized is not disqualified.
- Permits both commissioned and non-commissioned members of the Armed Forces to notarize documents as permitted under federal law.
- Makes other technical and conforming changes.

Section 13 allows the notary to administer an oath or affirmation without completing a certification.

Section 14 makes a conforming change to the permissible notary fee statute.

Section 15 repeals a redundant section and substitutes language originally intended to be included last year to specify the requirements for the notary's official signature, including the requirement to only sign after the principal signs and prohibiting notary signatures other than by hand.

Section 16 relaxes the requirements for storing a notary's seal to only be a secured location and limits the circumstances when law enforcement and/or the Secretary of State need to be notified about the condition of a seal to when the seal is lost or stolen.

Section 17 allows a notary to continue to use his or her old notary seal obtained prior to October 1, 2006, that does not comply with the new law, until the notary is recommissioned. This section also prohibits the notary from altering the appearance of the notary seal once the seal is placed on the record. This section clarifies that the failure of a notary seal to comply with the technical requirements for a seal does not invalidate a notarial certificate.

Section 18 creates a legal presumption that by executing a notary certificate the notary certifies that all the requirements for the type of notarial act performed have been complied with, that at the time the notary was lawfully commissioned, the notary's commission had not expired, the notarial act was performed within the State and performed in compliance with the law. The notary also is deemed to certify that the person whose signature is notarized did not appear to be incompetent, lacking in understanding of the nature and consequences of the transaction, or acting involuntarily, under duress or undue influence. This section also clarifies that a person who purports to be acting in a representative capacity when signing has the authority to do so.

Sections 19, 20 and 21 make technical changes to the statutory forms of notary certificates for acknowledgements, verifications or proofs, and oaths or affirmations.

Section 22 restores in the law a Class 1 misdemeanor offense for a notary who performs a notarial act without verification or proof of the identity of the person signing.

Section 23 adds the following new sections to the Notary Public Act:

- G.S. 10B-67 cures erroneous commission expiration dates when the notary was lawfully commissioned at that time of the notarial act.
- G.S. 10B-68 cures technical defects in notarial certificates including use of a noncompliant notary seal, an erroneous commission expiration date, a notary's name inconsistent with the name shown of the notary commission, and defects in the notary's commissioning or recommissioning.
- G.S. 10B-68 cures the use of an outdated notarial certificate form on a State issued document, such as a DMV title, when the execution of the certificate conformed to the law at the time the document was issued.
- G.S. 10B-99 preserves the common law doctrine of substantial compliance for notarial acts and validates notarial acts performed prior to October 1, 2006 that conformed to either the law as it existed prior to the 2005 changes or after the 2005 changes.

Section 24 makes a conforming change to the electronic notarization statute restricting the disclosure of the registrant's email address.

Sections 25 and 33 make conforming changes to no longer require the register of deeds to require proof of acknowledgement on an out-of-state notarization without a seal.

Section 26 creates a legal presumption under the registration statutes that at the time a document was accepted by the register of deeds for recording, the notary seal was clear and legible.

Section 27 clarifies and cures forms for proofs and acknowledgements on recorded documents.

Section 28 cures and clarifies that the acknowledgement for a grantor can be used generically for multiple persons or persons acting in a representative capacity, including for any form of business entity.

Sections 29 and 31 cure and clarify that the statutory corporate conveyance notary forms can also be modified and adopted for use by other business entities.

Section 32 adds a conforming change to the probate and registration law curing technical defects in notarial certifications.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill becomes effective October 1, 2006, and except as otherwise set out in the act, applies to notarial acts performed on or after that date.

HOUSE BILL 1432:
Notary Public Corrections.

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	June 12, 2006
Introduced by:	Reps. Stam, Ross	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith Committee Co-Counsel O. Walker Reagan, Staff Attorney
Version:	PCS to Second Edition H1432-CSRC-101

SUMMARY: The Proposed Senate Committee Substitute for House Bill 1432 makes technical, conforming, and other changes to the new Notary Public Act, and conforming changes to other related laws.

This PCS differs from the one previously presented to the committee as follows:

1. Exempts notaries who are being recommissioned from the requirement that they have a high school diploma or the equivalent.

2. Includes the minimum requirements and a statutory certificate for a proof or verification taken by a notary of a non-subscribing witness.

3. Clarifies that the failure of a notary to include his or her signature, the date the notary's commission expires and a seal is not considered a technical defect under Chapter 47 and that a register of deeds shall not register an instrument that must be notarized if those elements are required but missing from the certificate.

4. Directs the General Statutes Commission to study issues related to notary laws and the registration of notarized instruments and to make recommendations for any changes to the 2007 or 2009 General Assembly.

CURRENT LAW: The current law was enacted in 2005, effective December 1, 2005, as part of Senate Bill 671. The 2005 act recodified the existing notary law and made extensive changes governing notary commissioning, notarial acts, powers and limitations, fees, signatures and seals, and certification forms.

BACKGROUND: As a result of difficulties and questions that arose regarding the implementation and compliance with the new law from the legal community representing various affected parties including real estate closing attorneys, lending institutions, title insurance companies, registers of deeds, clerks of court, the Division of Motor Vehicles, wills and estate administrators and other people who deal with and rely on a reliable, dependable notary system, the General Assembly was encouraged to reexamine the new law to provide additional clarity.

One of the goals of the new law was to add additional details to the notary statutes to improve the integrity of the notary system and to give the Secretary of State's Office, as the administrator of the law, the necessary tools to insure compliance. But a result of strengthening the notarization requirements, questions arose concerning the validity of the execution and recording of documents where notarizations did not technically comply with all the requirements of the new law.

As a result of our analysis of the various issues and concerns raised by all the parties, fundamental goals were identified that lead to the changes proposed in the proposed committee substitute. One goal was to clarify and protect the integrity of the notary system and strengthen the authority of the Secretary of State in insure compliance by notaries. The other goal was to protect the rights of parties who relied on documents which on their face appeared to be properly notarized.

As a result of these two goals, the proposed committee substitute was drafted to separate out these two purposes so that the Secretary of State could enforce strict compliance with notary standards designed to prevent fraud and insure the integrity of notarized documents, while not causing the underlying documents that were signed by the person whose name appeared on the document to be declared invalid because of a technical notary defect.

The primary effect of the bill is to uncouple the technical notary requirements from the validity and enforceability of documents on which it appears that the person who executed the document actually appeared before the notary, established his or her identity, and voluntarily executed the document in the notary's presence.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Section 1 makes technical and clarifying changes and corrections to the definitions used throughout the act.

Section 2 is a technical change to the notary qualifications statute.

Section 3 clarifies the exemption from the public records of certain personal identity information on the statement of personal qualification including the applicant's date of birth, residence address and telephone number, last four digits of the social security number, and personal and business email address.

Section 4 clarifies that the notary's commission is recorded by the register of deeds only after the oath of office is administered.

Section 5 clarifies the notary recommission requirements to eliminate the requirement that the notary retake the notary course, have a high school diploma, or obtain another recommendation from a public official.

Sections 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12 amend the notary's power and limitation statute in the following ways:

- Expands the ways the notary's name can be legibly shown in a notarial certificate and permits the statement of the expiration of the commission to be in the notary stamp or seal.
- Prohibits the notary from acting when the credible witness is not personally known to the notary and clarifies when a notary named on the document being notarized is not disqualified.
- Permits both commissioned and non-commissioned members of the Armed Forces to notarize documents as permitted under federal law.
- Makes other technical and conforming changes.

Section 13 allows the notary to administer an oath or affirmation without completing a certification.

Section 14 makes a conforming change to the permissible notary fee statute.

Section 15 repeals a redundant section and substitutes language originally intended to be included last year to specify the requirements for the notary's official signature, including the requirement to only sign after the principal signs and prohibiting notary signatures other than by hand.

Section 16 relaxes the requirements for storing a notary's seal to only be a secured location and limits the circumstances when law enforcement and/or the Secretary of State need to be notified about the condition of a seal to when the seal is lost or stolen.

Section 17 allows a notary to continue to use his or her old notary seal obtained prior to October 1, 2006, that does not comply with the new law, until the notary is recommissioned. This section also prohibits the notary from altering the appearance of the notary seal once the seal is placed on the record. This section clarifies that the failure of a notary seal to comply with the technical requirements for a seal does not invalidate a notarial certificate.

Section 18 creates a legal presumption that by executing a notary certificate the notary certifies that all the requirements for the type of notarial act performed have been complied with, that at the time the notary was lawfully commissioned, the notary's commission had not expired, the notarial act was performed within the State and performed in compliance with the law. The notary also is deemed to certify that the person whose signature is notarized did not appear to be incompetent, lacking in understanding of the nature and consequences of the transaction, or acting involuntarily, under duress or undue influence. This section also clarifies that a person who purports to be acting in a representative capacity when signing has the authority to do so.

Sections 19, 20 and 22 make technical changes to the statutory forms of notary certificates for acknowledgements, verifications or proofs, and oaths or affirmations. Section 21 creates a statutory certificate form for the verification or proof of a non-subscribing witness.

Section 23 restores in the law a Class 1 misdemeanor offense for a notary who performs a notarial act without verification or proof of the identity of the person signing.

Section 24 adds the following new sections to the Notary Public Act:

- G.S. 10B-67 cures erroneous commission expiration dates when the notary was lawfully commissioned at that time of the notarial act.
- G.S. 10B-68 cures technical defects in notarial certificates including use of a noncompliant notary seal, an erroneous commission expiration date, a notary's name inconsistent with the name shown of the notary commission, and defects in the notary's commissioning or recommissioning.
- G.S. 10B-68 cures the use of an outdated notarial certificate form on a State issued document, such as a DMV title, when the execution of the certificate conformed to the law at the time the document was issued.
- G.S. 10B-99 preserves the common law doctrine of substantial compliance for notarial acts and validates notarial acts performed prior to October 1, 2006 that conformed to either the law as it existed prior to the 2005 changes or after the 2005 changes.

Section 25 makes a conforming change to the electronic notarization statute restricting the disclosure of the registrant's email address.

Sections 26 and 33 make conforming changes to no longer require the register of deeds to require proof of acknowledgement on an out-of-state notarization without a seal.

Section 27 creates a legal presumption under the registration statutes that at the time a document was accepted by the register of deeds for recording, the notary seal was clear and legible.

Section 28 clarifies and cures forms for proofs and acknowledgements on recorded documents.

Section 29 cures and clarifies that the acknowledgement for a grantor can be used generically for multiple persons or persons acting in a representative capacity, including for any form of business entity.

Sections 30 and 31 cure and clarify that the statutory corporate conveyance notary forms can also be modified and adopted for use by other business entities.

Section 32 adds a conforming change to the probate and registration law curing technical defects in notarial certifications.

Section 34 directs the General Statutes Commission to study the need for additional changes to laws relating to notaries public, the notarization of documents, and the registration of documents notarized in other jurisdictions. The Commission shall report its findings and recommendations to the 2007 or the 2009 General Assembly.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill becomes effective October 1, 2006, and except as otherwise provided, applies to notarial acts performed on or after that date.

MEMORANDUM
June 2, 2006

TO: Senate Judiciary II Committee
FROM: General Statutes Commission
RE: Senate Bill 1378 (Amend the Forfeiture of Property Rights Law)

This bill amends Article 3 of Chapter 31A of the General Statutes, the "slayer" statute, which bars a person from taking property by reason of the death of the decedent if that person is adjudicated to have willfully and unlawfully killed or procured the killing of the decedent. A "slayer" is treated as having predeceased the decedent for purposes of property disposition.

Section 1 amends the definition of "slayer" in G.S. 31A-3(3):

(1) To include a person who is found by a preponderance of the evidence in a civil action brought within two years after the death of the decedent to have willfully and unlawfully killed the decedent or procured the killing. The two-year period is tolled by any criminal action. Currently, the civil action must be brought within one year of the death of the decedent and may only be brought if the alleged slayer dies before being tried for the killing and before settlement of the decedent's estate. The amendment also clarifies that the burden of proof is on the party seeking to establish that the killing was willful and unlawful.

(2) To include a juvenile who is adjudicated delinquent by reason of committing an act that, if committed by an adult, would make the adult a principal or accessory before the fact of the willful and unlawful killing of another person.

(3) To clarify that the term "slayer" excludes a person who is found not guilty by reason of insanity of being a principal or accessory before the fact of the willful and unlawful killing of another person.

(4) To make minor stylistic changes.

Section 2 adds a new § 31A-12.1 to expressly provide that Article 3 wholly replaces the common law rule preventing a person whose culpable negligence causes the death of a decedent from succeeding to any property passing by reason of the death of the decedent (as a result of the holding in Quick v. United Benefit Life Ins. Co., 287 N.C. 47, 213 S.E.2d 563 (1975), which is inconsistent with decisions in other states). Accordingly, a conviction for involuntary manslaughter would not result in a forfeiture of property rights.

Section 3 provides that the act is effective when it becomes law and applies to property passing from decedents dying on or after that date.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO AMEND THE LAW RELATING TO THE PROTECTION OF ANIMALS, AS RECOMMENDED BY THE GENERAL STATUTES COMMISSION.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

PART I. CIVIL REMEDY FOR CRUELTY AMENDMENTS.

SECTION 1.1. G.S. 19A-3 reads as rewritten:

"§ 19A-3. Preliminary ~~injunction.~~injunction; care of animal pending hearing on the merits.

(a) Upon the filing of a verified complaint in the district court in the county in which cruelty to an animal has allegedly occurred, the judge may, as a matter of discretion, issue a preliminary injunction in accordance with the procedures set forth in G.S. 1A-1, Rule 65. Every such preliminary injunction, if the ~~complainant~~ plaintiff so requests, may give the ~~complainant~~ plaintiff the right to provide suitable care for the animal. If it appears on the face of the complaint that the condition giving rise to the cruel treatment of an animal requires the animal to be removed from its owner or other person who possesses it, then it shall be proper for the court in the preliminary injunction to allow the ~~complainant~~ plaintiff to take possession of the ~~animal.~~ animal as custodian.

(b) The plaintiff as custodian may employ a veterinarian or other health provider to provide necessary medical care for the animal without any additional court order. Prior to taking such action, the plaintiff as custodian shall consult with, or attempt to consult with, the defendant in the action, but the plaintiff as custodian may authorize such care without the defendant's consent. Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection, the plaintiff as custodian may not have an animal euthanized without written consent of the defendant or a court order that authorizes euthanasia upon the court's finding that the animal is suffering due to terminal illness or terminal injury.

(c) The plaintiff as custodian may place an animal with a foster care provider. The foster care provider shall return the animal to the plaintiff as custodian on demand."

SECTION 1.2. G.S. 19A-4 reads as rewritten:

"§ 19A-4. Permanent injunction.

(a) In accordance with G.S. 1A-1, Rule 65, a district court judge in the county in which the original action was brought shall determine the merits of the action by trial without a jury, and upon hearing such evidence as may be presented, shall enter orders as the court deems appropriate, including a permanent injunction and dismissal of the action along with dissolution of any preliminary injunction that had been issued.

(b) If the plaintiff prevails, the court in its discretion may include the costs of food, water, shelter, and care, including medical care, provided to the animal, less any amounts deposited by the defendant under G.S. 19A-70, as part of the costs allowed to the plaintiff under G.S. 6-18. In addition, if the court finds by a preponderance of the evidence that even if a permanent injunction were issued there would exist a substantial risk that the animal would be subjected to further cruelty if returned to the possession of the defendant, the court may terminate the defendant's ownership and right of possession of the animal and transfer ownership and right of possession to the plaintiff or other appropriate successor owner. For good cause shown, the court may also enjoin the defendant from acquiring new animals for a specified period of time or limit the number of animals the defendant may own or possess during a specified period of time.

(c) If the final judgment entitles the defendant to regain possession of the animal, the custodian shall return the animal, including taking any necessary steps to retrieve the animal from a foster care provider.

(d) The court shall consider and may provide for custody and care of the animal until the time to appeal expires or all appeals have been exhausted."

PART II. DEPOSIT REQUIREMENT WHEN COUNTY OR MUNICIPAL ANIMAL SHELTER TAKES CUSTODY OF ANIMAL PENDING LITIGATION.

SECTION 2.1. Article 6 of Chapter 19A of the General Statutes reads as rewritten:

"Article 6.

"Care of ~~Dogs Illegally Used for Fighting.~~ Animal Subjected to Illegal Treatment.

"§ 19A-70. Care of ~~dogs illegally used for fighting.~~ animal subjected to illegal treatment.

(a) In every arrest under ~~G.S. 14-362.2,~~ any provision of Article 47 of Chapter 14 of the General Statutes or under G.S. 67-4.3 or upon the commencement of an action under Article 1 of this Chapter by a county or municipality, by a county-approved animal cruelty investigator, by other county or municipal official, or by an organization operating a county or municipal shelter under contract, if an animal shelter takes custody of ~~dogs illegally used for fighting,~~ an animal, the ~~animal~~ operator of the shelter may file a petition with the court requesting that the defendant be ordered to deposit funds in an amount sufficient to secure payment of all the reasonable expenses expected to be incurred by the animal shelter in caring for and providing for the ~~dogs~~ animal pending the disposition of the ~~charges.~~ litigation. For purposes of this section, "reasonable expenses" includes the cost of providing food, water, shelter, and care, including medical care, for at least 30 days.

(b) Upon receipt of a petition, the court shall set a hearing on the ~~petition.~~ petition to determine the need to care for and provide for the animal pending the disposition of the litigation. The hearing shall be conducted no less than 10 and no more than 15 business days after the petition is filed. The operator of the animal shelter shall mail written notice of the hearing and a copy of the petition to the defendant at the address contained in the criminal ~~charges.~~ charges or the complaint or summons by which a civil action was initiated. If the defendant is in a local detention facility at the time the petition is filed, the operator of the animal shelter shall also provide notice to the custodian of the detention facility.

(c) The court shall set the amount of funds necessary for 30 days' care after taking into consideration all of the facts and circumstances of the case, including the need to care for and provide for the animal pending the disposition of the litigation, the recommendation of the operator of the animal ~~shelter and~~shelter, the estimated cost of caring for and providing for the ~~dogs~~ animal, ~~as well as~~and the defendant's ability to pay. Any order for funds to be deposited pursuant to this section shall state that if the operator of the animal shelter files an affidavit with the clerk of superior court, at least two business days prior to the expiration of a 30-day period, stating that, to the best of the ~~shelter's~~ affiant's knowledge, the ~~criminal~~ case against the defendant has not yet been resolved, the order shall be automatically renewed every 30 days until the ~~criminal~~ case is resolved.

(d) If the court orders that funds be deposited, the amount of funds necessary for 30 days shall be posted with the clerk of superior court. The defendant shall also deposit the same amount with the clerk of superior court every 30 days thereafter until the ~~criminal charges are~~ litigation is resolved, unless the defendant requests a hearing no less than five business days prior to the expiration of a 30-day period. If the defendant fails to deposit the funds within five business days of the initial hearing, or five business days of the expiration of a 30-day period, the ~~dogs are~~ animal is forfeited by operation of law. If funds have been deposited in accordance with this section, the operator of the animal shelter may draw from the funds the actual costs incurred in caring for the ~~dogs.~~ animal.

In the event of forfeiture, the animal shelter may determine whether ~~any of the dogs are~~ the animal is suitable for adoption and whether adoption can be arranged for ~~any of the dogs.~~ the animal. The ~~dogs~~ animal may not be adopted by the defendant or by any person residing in the defendant's ~~household, and~~ household. If the adopted animal is a dog used for fighting, the animal shelter shall notify any persons adopting the ~~dogs~~ dog of the liability provisions for owners of dangerous dogs under Article 1A of Chapter 67 of the General Statutes. If no adoption can be arranged after the forfeiture, or ~~the dogs are~~ animal is unsuitable for adoption, the shelter shall humanely euthanize the ~~dogs.~~ animal.

(e) The deposit of funds shall not prevent the animal shelter from disposing of the ~~dogs~~ animal prior to the expiration of the 30-day period covered by the deposit if the court makes a final determination of the charges or claims against the defendant. Upon

~~the adjudication of the charges,~~ determination, the defendant is entitled to a refund for any portion of the deposit not incurred as expenses by the animal shelter. ~~A person who is adjudicated not guilty of the charges under G.S. 14-362.2 shall be entitled to a full refund of the deposit.~~ A person who is acquitted of all criminal charges or not found to have committed animal cruelty in a civil action under Article 1 of this Chapter is entitled to a refund of the deposit remaining after any draws from the deposit in accordance with subsection (d) of this section.

(f) Pursuant to subsection (c) of this section, the court may order a defendant to provide necessary food, water, shelter, and care, including any necessary medical care, for any ~~dogs that are~~ animal that is the basis of the charges or claims against the defendant without the removal of the ~~dogs~~ animal from the existing location and until the charges or claims against the defendant are adjudicated. If the court issues such an order, the court shall provide for an animal control officer or other law enforcement officer to make regular visits to the location to ensure that the ~~dogs are~~ animal is receiving necessary food, water, shelter, and care, including any necessary medical care, and to impound the ~~animals if they are~~ animal if it is not receiving those necessities."

PART III. CLARIFY THAT THE PROHIBITION AGAINST DOGFIGHTING INCLUDES FIGHTS BETWEEN DOGS AND OTHER ANIMALS.

MEMORANDUM
June 21, 2006

TO: Senate Judiciary II Committee
FROM: General Statutes Commission
RE: House Bill 2098 (Protection of Animals)

Part I of this bill amends two statutes in Article 1 of Chapter 19A of the General Statutes, which provides a civil remedy for animal cruelty.

Section 1.1 amends G.S. 19A-3 ("Preliminary injunction") to clarify several potential questions. It clarifies that a plaintiff in a civil action under Article 1 who obtains a preliminary injunction giving the plaintiff possession of an animal takes possession as custodian, not as an owner. It clarifies that a grant of temporary custody under this section includes authority for the custodian to provide medical care for the animal without the need for an additional court order and without the defendant's permission, although the amendment requires the custodian to consult or try to consult with the defendant beforehand. The "medical care" authorized by this section does not include euthanasia. The amendments specify that before having an animal euthanized, a custodian must obtain either the defendant's written consent or a court order that (i) finds that the animal is suffering due to a terminal illness or injury and (ii) authorizes euthanasia. The amendments also expressly permit the custodian to place the animal with a foster care provider, who is required to return the animal to the custodian on demand.

Section 1.2 amends G.S. 19A-4 ("Permanent injunction") to allow a court to include reimbursement for the costs of caring for an animal during the litigation as part of the costs awarded to a plaintiff who prevails. It also clarifies that (i) a court can enjoin a defendant from acquiring new animals or having more than a certain number of animals for a specified time period, and (ii) if the defendant prevails, the plaintiff must return the animal. The amendment also expressly allows a court to provide for custody and care of an animal pending any appeals.

Part II of this bill amends Article 6 of Chapter 19A, which requires the owner of dogs seized in connection with an arrest for dog fighting to deposit funds for the dogs' care if a county or municipal animal shelter takes custody of them pending litigation. The amendment expands the deposit requirement so that it also applies to any animal that is in the custody of a county or municipal animal shelter as the result of the owner's arrest under Article 47 of Chapter 14 of the General Statutes (animal cruelty) or G.S. 67-4.3 (owning a dangerous dog that attacked someone and caused more than $100 in damage) or the commencement of a civil action for animal cruelty brought by a county or municipality or its agent.

The House Committee on Agriculture amended the first sentence of G.S. 19A-70(b) to clarify that the hearing required in that subsection is to determine the need to provide for the animal during the litigation. The Committee made a similar amendment to G.S. 19A-70(c). The Committee also amended the last sentence of G.S. 19A-70(e) to provide that the refund to a defendant who prevails is net of any draws from it pursuant to G.S. 19A-70(d).

Part III amends the dog fighting criminal statute, G.S. 14-362.2, to clarify that it applies to fights between dogs and other animals as well as fights between two or more dogs.

Part IV provides an effective date of December 1, 2006.

SECTION 1. Subchapter VI of Chapter 1 of the General Statutes is amended by adding the following new Article to read:

"Article 12A.

"Certificate of Merit for Civil Actions Against Design Professionals.

"§ 1-123.1. Definitions.

The following definitions shall apply in this Article:

(1) Certificate of merit. – A certification from a third-party licensed professional engineer or licensed architect that a civil action filed against a design professional has merit.

(2) Design professional. – A professional engineer licensed pursuant to Chapter 89C of the General Statutes, an architect licensed pursuant to Chapter 83A of the General Statutes, or any firm in which the licensed engineer or architect practices, including a corporation, professional corporation, limited liability corporation, partnership, limited liability partnership, sole proprietorship, joint venture, or any other business entity.

(3) Practice of architecture. – The same as defined by G.S. 83A-1(7).

(4) Practice of engineering. – The same as defined by G.S. 89C-3(6).

"§ 1-123.2. Certificate of merit for civil actions against design professionals.

(a) In any civil action or arbitration proceeding for damages arising out of the provision of professional services performed by a design professional, the plaintiff shall be required to file with the complaint an affidavit of a third-party licensed professional engineer or licensed architect. The third-party licensed professional engineer or licensed architect shall be competent to testify and hold the same professional license and practice in the same area of practice as the defendant design professional. The affidavit shall specifically state at least one negligent act, error, or omission claimed to exist and the factual basis for that claim. The third-party licensed professional engineer or licensed architect shall be licensed in this State and actively engaged in the practice of engineering or architecture respectively.

(b) The contemporaneous filing requirement of subsection (a) of this section shall not apply to any case in which the period of limitation will expire within 10 days of the date of filing the action, and because of these time constraints, the plaintiff has alleged that an affidavit of a third-party licensed professional engineer or licensed architect could not be prepared. In these instances, the plaintiff shall have 30 days after the filing of the complaint to supplement the pleadings with the affidavit. The court may, on motion, after hearing and for good cause, extend the time within which the affidavit is to be filed, as justice requires.

(c) The defendant shall not be required to file an answer to the complaint and affidavit until 30 days after the filing of the affidavit.

(d) The plaintiff's failure to file the affidavit in accordance with subsection (a) or (b) of this section shall result in a dismissal of the complaint against the defendant. In the court's discretion, the dismissal may be with prejudice.

(e) An order granting or denying a motion for dismissal is immediately appealable as an interlocutory order.

(f) This section shall not be construed to extend any applicable period of limitation or repose.

(g) This section does not apply to any suit or action for the payment of fees arising out of the provision of professional services performed by a design professional."

SECTION 2. G.S. 1A-1, Rule 9, is amended by adding the following new subsection to read:

SECTION 3. G.S. 89C-10 is amended by adding the following new subsection to read:

"(j) The Board shall have the power to adopt rules to discipline professional engineers licensed under this Chapter who certify a civil action that is without merit in violation of Article 12A of Chapter 1 of the General Statutes."

SECTION 4. G.S. 83A-6(a) is amended by adding the following new subdivision to read:

"(a) The Board shall have the power to adopt bylaws, rules, and standards of professional conduct to carry out the purposes of this Chapter, including, but not limited to:

...

(6) The disciplining of architects licensed under this Chapter who certify a civil action that is without merit in violation of Article 12A of Chapter 1 of the General Statutes."

SECTION 5. G.S. 89C-14(c) reads as rewritten:

"(c) The certification fee for a corporation is the amount set by the Board but shall not exceed one hundred dollars ($100.00). The fee shall accompany the application. The certification fee for a business firm is the same as the fee for a corporation. The fee for renewal of a certificate of licensure of a corporation is the amount set by the Board but shall not exceed ~~seventy-five dollars ($75.00).~~ninety-five dollars ($95.00). The fee for renewal of a certificate of licensure for a business firm is the same as the renewal fee for a corporation."

SECTION 6. G.S. 89C-17 reads as rewritten:

"§ 89C-17. Expirations and renewals of certificates.

Certificates for licensure of corporations and business firms that engage in the practice of engineering or land surveying shall expire on the last day of the month of June following their issuance or renewal and shall become invalid on that date unless renewed. All other certificates for licensure shall expire on the last day of the month of December next following their issuance or renewal, and shall become invalid on that date unless renewed. When necessary to protect the public health, safety, or welfare, the Board shall require any evidence necessary to establish the continuing competency of engineers and land surveyors as a condition of renewal of licenses. When the Board is satisfied as to the continuing competency of an applicant, it shall issue a renewal of the certificate upon payment by the applicant of a fee fixed by the Board but not to exceed ~~seventy-five dollars ($75.00).~~ninety-five dollars ($95.00). The secretary of the Board shall notify by mail every person licensed under this Chapter of the date of expiration of the certificate, the amount of the fee required for its renewal for one year, and any requirement as to evidence of continued competency. The notice shall be mailed at least one month in advance of the expiration date of the certificate. Renewal shall be effected at any time during the month immediately following the month of expiration, by payment to the secretary of the Board of a renewal fee, as determined by the Board, which shall not exceed ~~seventy-five dollars ($75.00).~~ninety-five dollars ($95.00). Failure on the part of any licensee to renew the certificate annually in the month immediately following the month of expiration, as required above, shall deprive the licensee of the right to practice until reinstatement of the license. The license may be reinstated at anytime during the first 12 months immediately following the date the license became invalid by payment of a reinstatement fee of one hundred dollars ($100.00) in addition to the established renewal fee. Failure of a licensee to reinstate the license during the first 12 months immediately following the date the license became invalid shall require the individual, prior to resuming practice in North Carolina, to submit an application on the prescribed form, and to meet all other requirements for licensure as set forth in Chapter 89C. The secretary of the Board is instructed to remove from the official roster of engineers and land surveyors the names of all licensees who have not effected their renewal by the first day of the month immediately following the renewal period. The Board may adopt rules to provide for renewals in distress or hardship cases due to military service, prolonged illness, or prolonged absence from the State, where the applicant for renewal demonstrates to the Board that the applicant has maintained active knowledge and professional status as an engineer or land surveyor, as the case may be. It shall be the responsibility of each licensee to inform the Board promptly concerning change in address. A licensee may request and be granted inactive status. No inactive licensee may practice in this State unless otherwise exempted in this Chapter. A licensee granted inactive status shall pay annual renewal fees but shall not be subject to annual continuing professional competency requirements. A licensee granted inactive status may return to active status by meeting all requirements of the Board, including demonstration of continuing professional competency as a condition of reinstatement."

SECTION 7. This act is effective when it becomes law.

SENATE BILL 2000:
Cert. of Merit/Civil Act./Engineer/Architect

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	June 26, 2006
Introduced by:	Sen. Hartsell	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith
Version:	First Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: SB2000 would require that a person who files a civil lawsuit for negligence against a professional engineer or an architect must also file with the complaint an affidavit stating that the civil action has merit and stating at least one negligent act, error or omission by the defendant and the factual basis for the claim. Failure to file the affidavit would be grounds for dismissal of the action.

The bill also increases the maximum amount the boards that license professional engineers and architects may charge for renewal fees.

The act is effective when it becomes law.

CURRENT LAW: Currently, there are no special rules regarding the procedural requirements for filing a malpractice action against either professional engineers or architects. However, in 1995, the General Assembly did adopt laws that protect architects and professional engineers from liability if they voluntarily provide professional services at the scene of a declared disaster or emergency at the request of public officials. G.S. 89C-19.1 and G.S. 83C-13.1. This legislation, as it relates to professional engineers, came as a recommendation of the Legislative Research Commission, Immunity from Negligence study committee.

Rule 9(j) of the North Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure do require that any complaint alleging medical malpractice by a health care provider will be dismissed unless the pleading specifically asserts that the medical care has been reviewed by a person who will qualify as an expert witness and that person is willing to testify that the medical care did not comply with the applicable standard of care. This requirement does not apply if the pleading alleges negligence under the doctrine of res ipsa loquitar, i.e., the facts speak for themselves.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Section 1 creates a new Article 12A in Chapter 1 of the General Statutes. It would require that a plaintiff who files a civil action for negligence against an architect or professional engineer licensed under North Carolina law ("design professional")[1] must also file an affidavit by a third-party licensed design professional. The affidavit would be known as a certificate of merit. The third-party licensed design professional must be competent to testify, must hold the same professional license in the same are of practice as the defendant design professional, must be licensed in this State and actively engaged in the practice of engineering or architecture, respectively. The certificate of merit must specifically state at least one negligent act, error, or omission claimed to exist and the factual basis for that claim.

The requirement to file the affidavit with the complaint does not apply if the statute of limitations will expire within 10 days of the date of filing the complaint and the plaintiff alleges that because of the time constraints, the affidavit of the third-party licensed design professional could not be prepared. In these situations, the plaintiff has 30 days after filing the complaint to supplement the pleadings. The defendant does not have to answer the complaint until 30 days after the filing of the certificate of merit. The failure of a plaintiff to file the certificate of merit shall result in the dismissal of the complaint. Any order granting or denying a motion for dismissal would be immediately appealable as an interlocutory order.

Section 2 amends Rule 9 of the Rules of Civil Procedure to provide that any complaint alleging damages arising out of the provision of professional services performed by a design professional must be filed according to the requirements of Article 12A of Chapter 1 of the General Statutes.

Sections 3 and 4 authorize the licensing boards for architects and professional engineers to discipline individuals who certify a civil action that is without merit in violation of Article 12A of Chapter 1 of the General Statutes.

Sections 5 and 6 increases, from $75 to $95, the maximum renewal fee the licensure boards for architects and professional engineers.

Certificate of Merit Legislation
Clearing the Judicial System of Meritless Claims

An analysis of claims for the past 5 years against construction-related professional firms insured by two leading carriers in North Carolina illustrates the cost and effort spent by firms in defending themselves against meritless claims. (Figure 1). These findings indicate that the inefficiencies of the judicial system diminish the ability of firms to effectively provide design services to protect public heath, safety, and welfare.

Time Period 2001-2005
Total Claims Cost in North Carolina - $50 Million

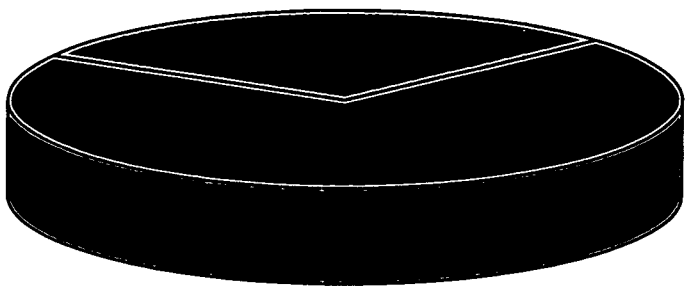

Figure 1

Most claims are meritless leaving design professionals to defend their professional practice against unfounded allegations of negligence. These claims appear to result in:

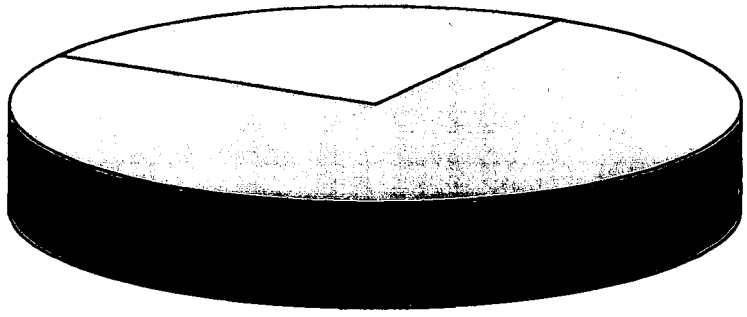
- Unnecessary judicial administrative costs;
- Defense costs to those design professionals alleged to be negligent – costs that must be covered by increasing fees to all public and private clients;
- A loss of productivity because of the time that such claims consume;
- Groundless damage to the reputation of the firm and its profession; and
- Wasted effort by attorneys representing plaintiffs.

A Certificate of Merit system would obligate the person initiating a civil claim for negligence or a violation of the Standard of Care to file a "Certificate of Merit" by a North Carolina registered expert qualified in that specific field of practice. This would help prevent parities that were not negligent from being named as a defendant. *

The economic implications for businesses in North Carolina are significant. Without realistic reforms, the cost of Errors and Omissions insurance, including larger deductibles, will increase tremendously over the next several years. Most of these costs will be passed along to the design professional's client base.

Conversely, with a Certificate of Merit (COM) law in place, North Carolina design professionals would likely see a reduction in their premiums, assuming only a 50% success rate in eliminating meritless claims (see Figure 2).

Time Period 2006-2010 - Next 5 Years
E & O Premium Costs



- With 50% Success in the Reduction of Meritless Claims, Premium Reduction - $25 Million
- Total Premiums for North Carolina Design Professionals - $50 Million with COM

Figure 2

North Carolina needs to be a good place to do business, and Certificate of Merit is needed to achieve this goal.

 This legislation would not limit the ability to file a claim for negligence or limit the Standard of Care.*

Certificate of Merit and Other Liability Reform Initiatives

American Council of Engineering Companies of North Carolina (ACEC-NC)
Spring 2006

The cost of defense and the possibility of large dollar awards for frivolous civil actions are spiraling out of control. In order to keep North Carolina businesses viable and to create an environment conducive to innovation in the engineering profession, ACEC of North Carolina supports legislative initiatives that help control the economic impact of civil actions.

ACEC of North Carolina strongly supports the measures put forward by Senate Bill 2000, sponsored by Senator Fletcher Hartsell. SB 2000, if enacted, would obligate the person initiating a civil claim against and engineer or architect in North Carolina to file a "Certificate of Merit" signed by a design professional registered in North Carolina to perform work in the same area of expertise as the defendant. Further, the Bill would allow the respective licensure boards governing design professionals in North Carolina to adopt rules to penalize any design professional who signs off on a claim that is then deemed by the Court to lack merit. The end result, we believe, would be fewer frivolous claims being filed, and those claims that are filed, complete with a Certificate of Merit, would likely proceed faster to settlement due to the weight of another professional staking their license on the merits of the case. To-date, 12 states have enacted similar Certificate of Merit laws.

This initiative is good for the residents of North Carolina, since it will help maintain the well being and sustainability of the design community that results in the following for their clients:

1. Professional fees at reasonable level not inflated by insurance premiums
2. Continued insurability of the design community, which is a safeguard to clients & citizens
3. An environment that fosters innovation, which all clients should be able to expect from a design professional

ACEC of North Carolina also supports efforts to reform North Carolina's current system of Joint and Several Liability. Sometimes referred to as the "deep pocket" approach, this system allows that anyone involved with a large project can be named in a civil suit in order to obtaining the largest dollar award possible. Since engineering firms are often the best insured or financially strong, even when an engineering firm has only been responsible for a small portion of the work, it can end up paying the lion's share of the award. ACEC of North Carolina would welcome the opportunity to participate in future discussions on this subject in order to encourage the adoption of a system that would make each defendant in a claim "severally" liable, or only required to pay its proportionate share of the plaintiff's loss.

Senator Fletcher Hartsell, Chairman, called the Senate Judiciary II Committee to order on July 7, 2006, with sixteen members present. Senator Hartsell introduced pages Meredith Potter, Annsley Stroup, Caroline Fraley, Caitlin Phillips and Lindsay Fulcher and thanked them for their service.

HB 2060 (Victims' Compensation Changes.) Senator Hartsell asked for a motion to accept the Proposed Committee Substitute for purposes of discussion. Senator Bingham so moved, all voted and the motion carried. As the House was not in Session and Senator Kinnaird sponsored the Senate companion bill, she was recognized to explain the bill. Ms. Kory Goldsmith, Staff Attorney, added additional explanation. Ms. Janice Carmichael, representing Victims' Compensation, spoke in favor of the bill. Questions from Senators Bingham, Goodall, Allran, Snow and Swindell, were answered by Senator Kinnaird, Ms. Carmichael, Ms. Goldsmith, Senator Hartsell, Senator Snow and Denise Thomas from Fiscal Research. Senator Bingham moved for a favorable report, unfavorable to the original bill but favorable to the committee substitute. All voted and the motion carried.

SB 1833 (Military Funeral/Unlawful Protest.) Senator Hartsell recognized Senator Jacumin to explain the bill. Questions from Senators Bingham, Goodall, Kinnaird and Dalton were answered by Senator Jacumin and Ms. Kory Goldsmith, Staff Attorney. Paula Wolfe, representing the ACLU, spoke in opposition to the bill. Senator Bland moved for a favorable report. All voted and the motion passed. As the bill needed a fiscal report, Senator Hartsell noted that the Committee would hear the bill again at the next meeting.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned.

SECTION 4. G.S. 15B-11(c) reads as rewritten:

"(c) A claim may be denied, an award of compensation may be reduced, and a claim that has already been decided may be reconsidered upon finding that the claimant or victim, without good cause, has not fully cooperated with appropriate law enforcement agencies or in the prosecution of criminal cases with regard to the criminally injurious conduct that is the basis for the award."

SECTION 5. G.S. 15B-11(d) reads as rewritten:

"(d) After reaching a decision to approve an award of compensation, but before notifying the claimant, the Director shall require the claimant to submit current information as to collateral sources on forms prescribed by the Commission.

An award that has been approved shall nevertheless be denied or reduced to the extent that the economic loss upon which the claim is based is or will be recouped from a collateral source. If an award is reduced or a claim is denied because of the expected recoupment of all or part of the economic loss of the claimant from a collateral source, the amount of the award or the denial of the claim shall be conditioned upon the claimant's economic loss being recouped by the collateral source. If it is thereafter determined that the claimant will not receive all or part of the expected recoupment, the claim shall be reopened and an award shall be approved in an amount equal to the amount of expected recoupment that it is determined the claimant will not receive from the collateral source, subject to the limitations set forth in subsections (f) and (g). ~~The existence of a collateral source that would pay expenses directly related to a funeral, cremation, and burial, including transportation of a body, shall not constitute grounds for the denial or reduction of an award of compensation.~~"

SECTION 6. This act becomes effective July 1, 2006, and applies to claims filed on or after that date.

HOUSE BILL 2060:
Victims' Compensation Changes

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	July 6, 2006
Introduced by:	Reps. Haire, Kiser	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith
Version:	PCS to First Edition H2060-CSRC-115		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 2060 would make several changes to the laws governing the State's Victims' Compensation program. The changes were recommended by the Joint Legislative Corrections, Crime Control, and Juvenile Justice Oversight Committee.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Section 1. – Amends G.S.15B-2 to increase from $3,500 to $5,000 the total allowable expenses related to funerals.

Section 2. – Amends the definition of "collateral source" to include a contract or insurance that will pay for funeral expenses, including transportation of the body.

Section 3. - Amends G.S. 15B-4 to add language clarifying that compensation under the victims' compensation program will not be paid for "noneconomic detriment". The term, which is defined in G.S. 15B-2(11), includes pain, suffering, inconvenience, physical impairment, and other non-pecuniary damage.

Section 4. – Amends G.S. 15B-11, to add language giving the victims' compensation program the discretion to deny, reduce, or reconsider an award where the victim, without good cause, fails to cooperate with the prosecution of a criminal case arising out of the criminally injurious conduct that is the basis of the award.

Section 5: – Amends G.S. 15B-11(d) regarding adjustments to awards to claimants. Under current law, the Director must reduce or deny an award to the extent the loss is recouped from a collateral source. However, this requirement does not apply to a collateral source that would pay expenses directly related to a funeral, cremation, and burial, including transportation of the body. The PCS to HB2080 deletes this language. This will result in awards being reduced or denied to the extent the claimant is able to recoup the costs of a funeral from insurance or a contract.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill would become effective July 1, 2006, and apply to victims' compensation claims filed on or after that date.

Jennifer McGinnis, counsel to House Judiciary VI, substantially contributed to this summary.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Applies to all claims filed on or after July 1, 2006.

BILL SUMMARY: Makes changes to the victims' compensation statutes as recommended by the Joint Legislative Corrections, Crime Control, and Juvenile Justice Oversight Committee. The changes include increasing the maximum allowable funeral expense from $3,500 to $5,000. Amends definition of "collateral source" to include insurance coverage that pays for burial, funerals, cremation, and transportation of a body. Amends statute to allow the consideration of burial policies, life insurance, or other collateral sources when determining the amount of compensation to be awarded for funeral claims. Adds clarifying language to limit compensation payments to economic loss only. Adds clarifying language to indicate that the Victims' Compensation Section has discretion to deny, reduce, or reconsider an award where the victim fails to cooperate with the prosecution of a criminal case arising out of the criminally injurious conduct that is the subject of the award.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: The Crime Victims' Compensation Program is administered by the Victims' Compensation Services (VCS) Division within the Department of Crime Control and Public Safety. The program pays innocent persons up to $30,000 to cover medical costs, lost income, and other costs incurred as a result of being a victim of a crime. If the victim dies as a result of the crime, an additional amount up to $3,500 may be paid to survivors for funeral expenses. Victims' compensation payments are granted only after all other resources available to the victim (insurance, Medicaid, Worker's Compensation, court-ordered restitution) have been exhausted. Funding for victims' compensation comes from three sources: a recurring general fund appropriation of $4.5 million, federal block grant funds, and receipts from the Department of Correction's Prison Enterprise Fund. In FY 2005-06, the amount budgeted from these three sources to pay victims' compensation claims is $6,606,492. For the past five years, increases in both the number of claims and the amounts requested have resulted in a large backlog of approved but unpaid claims at the end of each year. The backlogged claims are then carried forward and paid from the next year's budget. As a result, the amount available to pay new claims in the following year is insufficient. For example, from the $6.6 million budgeted for FY05-06, $1.7 million was used to pay approved, outstanding claims from the prior fiscal year.

Section 1 increases the maximum compensation for funeral expenses from $3,500 to $5,000. The table below shows the number of claims and the amount of funeral compensation payments for the past five years. Note that according to VCS staff, the annual number of funeral claims reported in the table is less than the actual number of funeral compensation payments. When a claim is first submitted, the victim may be alive and VCS will classify the case as a medical claim. However, subsequent to establishing the case in the VCS system, the victim may die as a result of the injuries received during the crime. In such cases, VCS does not reclassify the original claim as a homicide nor will it enter the case into the system a second time as a funeral claim. However, VCS would provide funeral compensation to the victim's survivors. For example, the table shows that there were 519 funeral claims in FY 2004-05. However, in addition to that number, VCS paid funeral compensation for 45 DUI and 15 domestic violence victims who later died from their injuries, for a total of 579 payments. While these 60 cases are not included in the 519 figure, the payments are included in the $2,203,117 total.

FISCAL YEAR	# FUNERAL CLAIMS	$ PAID FOR FUNERAL COMPENSATION
2000-01	298	$1,217,722
2001-02	336	$1,448,989
2002-03	328	$1,559,757
2003-04	388	$1,758,946
2004-05	519	$2,023,117

At a minimum, assuming no change in the annual number of funeral compensation payments, the proposal would increase victims' compensation funeral costs by $868,500 (579 x $1,500) in FY 2006-07 and future years. However, as the table indicates, there have been significant annual increases in the number of funeral payments. If this trend continues, the fiscal impact would be much higher. Because the victims' compensation program is not fully funded, the impact of the proposed bill would be to increase the backlog of approved unpaid claims that must be carried forward to be paid from the following year's budget.

Section 2 amends the definition of "collateral source" to include contracts or insurance that pays for the cost of the funeral, burial or cremation.

Section 3 adds statutory language clarifying that compensation shall not be paid for "non-economic detriment" as is defined in G.S. 15B-2(11).

Section 4 adds language to give VCS the discretion to deny, reduce or reconsider an award where the victim fails to cooperate with the prosecution of a criminal case arising out of the criminally injurious conduct that is the subject of the award.

The fiscal impact of the Sections 3 and 4 is indeterminate; however, they would appear to have minimal impact on the number of future claims submitted or the amount of compensation to be paid.

Under the existing statute, for funeral claims only, the existence of a collateral source cannot constitute grounds for reducing or denying an award for funeral compensation. Section 5 requires that collateral funding sources be considered when determining the amount of compensation to award for funeral claims. If the victim had life insurance, burial policies, or similar types of coverage for funeral expenses, the program can reduce or deny a compensation payment. There is no available data to determine the number of claims that would be affected by this change. Therefore, Fiscal Research is unable to estimate the impact of Sections 2 and 5. However, VCS staff report that such collateral sources existed in only a small percentage of claims for which funeral compensation payments were made in the past.

SENATE BILL 1833:
Military Funeral/Unlawful Protest

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	July 6, 2006
Introduced by:	Sen. Jacumin	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith Committee Counsel
Version:	First Edition

SUMMARY: SB 1833 would make it unlawful to engage in certain conduct within 300 feet of a military funeral, military memorial service, military funeral procession or military burial. The conduct is prohibited during, one hour preceding and one hour following the funeral, memorial service, funeral procession, or burial. The first violation would be a Class 2 misdemeanor, a second offense would be a Class 1 misdemeanor, and a third or subsequent offense would be a Class I felony.

The act would become effective December 1, 2006, and apply to offenses committed on or after that date.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 14-288.4 prohibits disorderly conduct under any of the following circumstances: by fighting; by abusive language provoking retaliation; by seizing or blocking a school building; by disrupting students; or by disrupting a religious service or assembly. A person who willfully engages in disorderly conduct is guilty of a Class 2 misdemeanor.[1]

The U.S. Congress recently passed legislation (the "Respect for America's Fallen Heroes Act") that prohibits the following:

- A demonstration on the property of a cemetery under the control of the Nation Cemetery Administration or on the property of Arlington National Cemetery unless the demonstration has been approved the cemetery director; or
- With respect to the same cemetery, a demonstration during the period beginning 60 minutes before and ending 60 minutes after a funeral, memorial service, or ceremony, any part of which demonstration:

  1. takes place within 150 feet of a road, pathway or other route of ingress to or egress from the cemetery; and includes any individual willfully making any noise or diversion that disturbs or tends to disturb the peace or good order of the service or ceremony; or

  2. Is within 300 feet of the cemetery and impedes the access to or egress from the cemetery.

The Act defines a demonstration as any of the following:

- Picketing or similar conduct.
- Oration, speech, use of sound amplification equipment, or similar conduct that is not part of a funeral service.
- The display of any placard, banner, flag, or similar devise, unless the display is part of a funeral service.

[1] The presumptive sentence for a Class 2 misdemeanor for a person with no prior convictions is 1-30 days of community punishment.

- The distribution of any handbill, pamphlet, leaflet, or other written or printed matter other than a program distributed as part of a funeral service.

The penalty for violating the Act is a fine, imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

There are four cemeteries in North Carolina under the control of the Nation Cemetery Administration.

BILL ANALYSIS: SB 1833 amends Chapter 14 of the General Statutes by creating a new offense to prohibit disorderly conduct at military funerals or memorial services. It would make it unlawful for a person to engage in certain conduct within 300 feet of the building or other location where a military funeral or memorial service is being conducted, or within 300 feet of a military funeral procession or burial.

The type of conduct that would be prohibited includes:

- Making loud and raucous noise that causes unreasonable distress to the persons attending the funeral or memorial services or participating in the funeral procession.
- Directing abusive epithets or making any threatening gesture that the person knows or reasonably should know is likely to provoke a violent reaction by another.
- Disturbing or disrupting the funeral, memorial service, funeral process or burial by conduct intended to disturb or disrupt the funeral service.

The prohibition extends to conduct engaged in 1 hour before, during, and up to 1 hour following the service, procession, or burial. The first violation would be a Class 2 misdemeanor.[2] A second violation would be Class 1 misdemeanor.[3] A third violation would be a Class I felony.[4]

BACKGROUND: According to information provided by NCSL, as of May 16, 2006, 31 states have introduced legislation regarding military funeral protests. Of those, Georgia, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Tennessee, Virginia, and Wisconsin have enacted laws related to this issue. SB1833 is modeled after the Iowa law. The laws are in response to demonstrations led by Fred Phelps, the pastor of Westboro Baptist Church in Topeka, Kansas. Mr. Phelps and members of his family have picketed and heckled military families at funerals. They say the soldiers are fighting for an army that represents a country that accepts homosexuality.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONSIDERATIONS: At least two constitutional issues are raised by the legislation; restrictions on speech and whether the statute may be void for vagueness.[5]

First Amendment considerations: Communication of political, economic, social, and other views is not accomplished solely by face-to-face speech or communications through various media. There is also "expressive conduct," which includes picketing, patrolling, and marching, distribution of leaflets and pamphlets and addresses to publicly assembled audiences, door-to-door solicitation and many forms of "sit-ins." Because all these ways of expressing oneself involve conduct--action--rather than mere speech, they are more subject to regulation and restriction than is simple speech. However, the degree that these actions are intended to communicate a point of view the First Amendment is relevant and protects some of them to a great extent.

- The Public Forum - Public streets and parks, including those adjacent to courthouses and foreign embassies, as well as public libraries and the grounds of legislative bodies, are open to public demonstrations, although the uses to which public areas are dedicated may shape the range of permissible expression and conduct that may occur there.[6] Moreover, not all public properties are thereby public forums. "[T]he First Amendment does not guarantee access to property simply because it is owned or controlled by the government."[7] "The crucial question is whether the manner of expression is basically compatible with the normal activity of a particular place at a particular time."[8] Thus, by the nature of the use to which the property is put or by tradition, some sites are simply not as open for expression as streets and parks are.[9]

- Public Issue Picketing and Parading – The U.S. Supreme Court has declined to extent the same kind of freedom to those "who would communicate ideas by conduct such as patrolling, marching, and picketing on streets and highways, as those amendments afford to those who communicate ideas by pure speech."[10] The conduct which is the subject to this statute--picketing and parading--is subject to regulation even though intertwined with expression and association.

Procedural Due Process considerations: Statutes which lack the requisite definiteness or specificity are commonly held "void for vagueness. "Legislation may run afoul of the Due Process Clause because it fails to give adequate guidance to those who would be law-abiding, to advise defendants of the nature of the offense with which they are charged, or to guide courts in trying those who are accused."[11] Acts which are made criminal "must be defined with appropriate definiteness."[12] Generally, a vague statute that regulates in the area of First Amendment guarantees will be pronounced wholly void,[13] while one

AN ACT TO PROHIBIT DISORDERLY CONDUCT AT A MILITARY FUNERAL OR MEMORIAL SERVICE.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Article 35 of Chapter 14 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 14-277.5. Prohibit disorderly conduct at military funeral or memorial service.

(a) It is unlawful for a person to do any of the following within 300 feet of the building or other location where a military funeral or memorial service is being conducted, or within 300 hundred feet of a military funeral procession or burial:

(1) Make a loud and raucous noise that causes unreasonable distress to the persons attending the funeral or memorial service, or participating in the funeral procession.

(2) Direct abusive epithets or make any threatening gesture that the person knows or reasonably should know is likely to provoke a violent reaction by another.

(3) Disturb or disrupt the funeral, memorial service, funeral procession, or burial by conduct intended to disturb or disrupt the funeral, memorial service, funeral procession, or burial.

(1) A Class 2 misdemeanor for a first offense.

SENATE BILL 1833:
Disorderly Conduct/Funeral/Military Services

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	July 10, 2006
Introduced by:	Sen. Jacumin	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith Committee Counsel
Version:	PCS to First Edition S1833-CSRC-116

SUMMARY: The PCS to SB 1833 amends the law of disorderly conduct to make it unlawful to engage in certain conduct within 300 feet of a funeral, memorial service, a family's funeral procession. The conduct is prohibited during, one hour preceding and one hour following the funeral, memorial service, funeral procession, or burial. The first violation would be a Class 2 misdemeanor, a second offense would be a Class 1 misdemeanor, and a third or subsequent offense would be a Class I felony.

The act would become effective December 1, 2006, and apply to offenses committed on or after that date.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 14-288.4 prohibits disorderly conduct under any of the following circumstances: by fighting; by abusive language provoking retaliation[1]; by seizing or blocking a school building; by disrupting students; or by disrupting a religious service or assembly. A person who willfully engages in disorderly conduct is guilty of a Class 2 misdemeanor.[2]

The U.S. Congress recently passed legislation (the "Respect for America's Fallen Heroes Act") that prohibits the following:

- A demonstration on the property of a cemetery under the control of the Nation Cemetery Administration or on the property of Arlington National Cemetery unless the demonstration has been approved the cemetery director; or
- With respect to the same cemetery, a demonstration during the period beginning 60 minutes before and ending 60 minutes after a funeral, memorial service, or ceremony, any part of which demonstration:

  1. takes place within 150 feet of a road, pathway or other route of ingress to or egress from the cemetery; and includes any individual willfully making any noise or diversion that disturbs or tends to disturb the peace or good order of the service or ceremony; or

  2. Is within 300 feet of the cemetery and impedes the access to or egress from the cemetery.

The Act defines a demonstration as any of the following:

- Picketing or similar conduct.

---

[1] The North Carolina Supreme Court has held that the 1st Amendment protection of free speech does not bar punishment for use of insulting or fighting words that are likely to cause an immediate breach of the peace. State v. Summell, 282 N.C. 157 (1972), overruled on other grounds, 324 N.C. 539.

[2] The presumptive sentence for a Class 2 misdemeanor for a person with no prior convictions is 1-30 days of community punishment.

- Oration, speech, use of sound amplification equipment, or similar conduct that is not part of a funeral service.
- The display of any placard, banner, flag, or similar devise, unless the display is part of a funeral service.
- The distribution of any handbill, pamphlet, leaflet, or other written or printed matter other than a program distributed as part of a funeral service.

The penalty for violating the Act is a fine, imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

There are four cemeteries in North Carolina under the control of the Nation Cemetery Administration.

BILL ANALYSIS: SB 1833 amends G.S. 14-288.4 (Disorderly Conduct) to prohibit disorderly conduct within 300 feet of a funeral, memorial service, or the family's processional route to the funeral or memorial service. It would make it unlawful for a person to engage in certain conduct within 300 feet of the building or other location where a military funeral or memorial service. The prohibition extends to conduct engaged in 1 hour before, during, and up to 1 hour following the service, procession, or burial.

The type of conduct that would be prohibited includes:

- Displaying any visual image that conveys fighting words or actual or imminent treats of harm directed to any person or property associated with the funeral, memorial service, or family's processional to the funeral or memorial service.
- Uttering loud, threatening or abusive language, or singing, chanting or yelling in a manner that would tend to impede, disrupt, disturb, or interfere with a funeral, memorial service, or the family's processional to the funeral or memorial service
- Attempting to block or blocking access to the ceremonial site or location where the funeral or memorial service is being held.

The first violation would be a Class 2 misdemeanor.[3] A second violation would be Class 1 misdemeanor.[4] A third violation would be a Class I felony.[5]

BACKGROUND: According to information provided by NCSL, as of May 16, 2006, 31 states have introduced legislation regarding military funeral protests. Of those, Georgia, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Tennessee, Virginia, and Wisconsin have enacted laws related to this issue. SB1833 is modeled after the Iowa law. The laws are in response to demonstrations led by Fred Phelps, the pastor of Westboro Baptist Church in Topeka, Kansas. Mr. Phelps and members of his family have picketed and heckled military families at funerals. They say the soldiers are fighting for an army that represents a country that accepts homosexuality.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONSIDERATIONS: At least two constitutional issues are raised by the legislation; restrictions on speech and whether the statute may be void for vagueness.[6]

---

[3] The presumptive sentence for a Class 2 misdemeanor for a person with no prior convictions is 1-30 days of community punishment.

[4] The presumptive sentence for a Class 1 misdemeanor for a person with no prior convictions is 1-45 days of community punishment.

[5] The presumptive sentence for a Class I felony for a person with no prior convictions is 4-6 months of community punishment.

First Amendment considerations: Communication of political, economic, social, and other views is not accomplished solely by face-to-face speech or communications through various media. There is also "expressive conduct," which includes picketing, patrolling, and marching, distribution of leaflets and pamphlets and addresses to publicly assembled audiences, door-to-door solicitation and many forms of "sit-ins." Because all these ways of expressing oneself involve conduct--action--rather than mere speech, they are more subject to regulation and restriction than is simple speech. However, the degree that these actions are intended to communicate a point of view the First Amendment is relevant and protects some of them to a great extent.

- The Public Forum - Public streets and parks, including those adjacent to courthouses and foreign embassies, as well as public libraries and the grounds of legislative bodies, are open to public demonstrations, although the uses to which public areas are dedicated may shape the range of permissible expression and conduct that may occur there.[7] Moreover, not all public properties are thereby public forums. "[T]he First Amendment does not guarantee access to property simply because it is owned or controlled by the government."[8] "The crucial question is whether the manner of expression is basically compatible with the normal activity of a particular place at a particular time."[9] Thus, by the nature of the use to which the property is put or by tradition, some sites are simply not as open for expression as streets and parks are.[10]

- Public Issue Picketing and Parading – The U.S. Supreme Court has declined to extent the same kind of freedom to those "who would communicate ideas by conduct such as patrolling, marching, and picketing on streets and highways, as those amendments afford to those who communicate ideas by pure speech."[11] The conduct which is the subject to this statute—picketing and demonstrating -- is subject to some regulation even though intertwined with expression and association.

Procedural Due Process considerations: Statutes which lack the requisite definiteness or specificity are commonly held "void for vagueness. "Legislation may run afoul of the Due Process Clause because it fails to give adequate guidance to those who would be law-abiding, to advise defendants of the nature of the offense with which they are charged, or to guide courts in trying those who are accused."[12] Acts

First, because we assume that man is free to steer between lawful and unlawful conduct, we insist that laws give the person of ordinary intelligence a reasonable opportunity to know what is prohibited, so that he may act accordingly. Vague laws may trap the innocent by not providing fair warnings. Second, if arbitrary and discriminatory enforcement is to be prevented, laws must provide explicit standards for those who apply them. A vague law impermissibly delegates basic policy matters to policemen, judges, and juries for resolution on an ad hoc and subjective basis, with the attendant dangers of arbitrary and discriminatory applications." Statement Regarding Senate Bill 1833: Military Funeral/Unlawful Protest

The ACLU-NC is a nonprofit, nonpartisan organization with approx. 9,000 members in North Carolina, dedicated to preserving the guarantees of individual liberty found in the Bill of Rights, the Post-Civil War (Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth) Amendments, and the Nineteenth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution and corresponding provisions of the North Carolina Constitution. We appreciate the opportunity to comment on S. 1833. While we are opposed in principle to any restrictions on activity protected by the First Amendment, we are particularly troubled by the vagueness and overbreadth problems in the language of subsections (a)(1) and (a)(2), and we respectfully urge that these two subsections be deleted from the bill.

Subsections (a)(1) and (a)(2) of S. 1833 are both unconstitutionally vague and overbroad. To be constitutional, a penal statute must "define the criminal offense with sufficient definiteness that ordinary people can understand what conduct is prohibited and in a manner that does not encourage arbitrary and discriminatory enforcement." Kolender v. Lawson, 461 U.S. 352, 357 (1983). Under subsections (a)(1) and (a)(2), an individual who is mowing his lawn, unaware of a nearby funeral, could be charged with a misdemeanor or felony if such noise "causes unreasonable distress to the persons attending the funeral or memorial service, or participating in the funeral procession." Someone driving by, unaware that a funeral is taking place, who honks her horn at another driver could be charged under this legislation.

Furthermore, subsections (a)(1) and (a)(2) are unnecessary because the conduct that legislators intend to prevent is fully covered by subsection (a)(3). If one was to intentionally "disturb or disrupt the funeral," be it via loud and raucous noises, threatening gestures, or other conduct aimed at the service taking place, such behavior would be included in the scope of subsection (a)(3). Subsections (a)(1) and (a)(2) are unnecessary, unfair and unconstitutional.

For the above reasons, the ACLU-NC encourages Senators to oppose the bill in its entirety or, in the alternative, to remove subsections (a)(1) and (a)(2) from S. 1833. Please feel free to contact us at (919) 834-3466 if you wish to discuss this matter further. Thank you for your consideration of our concerns.

(b) This section shall not apply to a facsimile sent by or on behalf of a professional or trade association that is a tax-exempt nonprofit organization and in furtherance of the association's tax-exempt purpose to a member of the association if all of the following conditions are met:

(2) The facsimile is not primarily for the purpose of advertising the commercial availability or quality of any property, goods, or services of one or more third parties.

(3) The member who is sent the facsimile has not requested that the association stop sending facsimiles for the purpose of advertising the commercial availability or quality of any property, goods, or services of one or more third parties.

"§ 75-118. Enforcement.

(a) A person or entity who receives an unsolicited advertisement in violation of this Article may bring any of the following actions in civil court:

(1) An action to enjoin further violations of this Article by the person or entity who sent the unsolicited advertisement.

(2) An action to recover five hundred dollars ($500.00) for the first violation, one thousand dollars ($1,000) for the second violation, and five thousand dollars ($5,000) for the third and any other violation that occurs within two years of the first violation.

(b) In an action brought pursuant to this Article, the court may award a prevailing plaintiff reasonable attorneys' fees if the court finds the defendant willfully engaged in the act or practice, and the court may award reasonable attorneys' fees to a prevailing defendant if the court finds that the plaintiff knew, or should have known, that the action was frivolous and malicious.

SENATE BILL 1295: Junk Faxes

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	July 10, 2006
Introduced by:	Sen. Dorsett	Summary by:	Ben Popkin
Version:	First Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 1295 would enact a new Article in Chapter 75 of the General Statutes. The bill would prohibit the sending of unsolicited transmissions to telephone facsimile machines in certain situations. Violation of the provisions of the act would provide the basis for civil actions to enjoin the sending of further unsolicited transmissions and to allow for recovery of awards in increasing dollar amounts, based on the number of offenses committed.

CURRENT LAW: Unsolicited facsimile transmissions are not directly addressed under current North Carolina General Statute.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Prohibition of unsolicited facsimiles - Senate Bill 1295 would create a new Article that would prohibit the sending of unsolicited facsimile transmissions to a person with whom the sender did not already have an 'established business relationship'. The act would define what would constitute an 'established business relationship'.

The act would not prohibit unsolicited transmissions when the sender and the recipient of the facsimile already have an 'established business relationship' but the transmission would still be required to include the following: clear and conspicuous notice of the advertisement on the first page, along with directions for the recipient to place a request not to be sent similar advertisements and a toll-free telephone or facsimile number to voice their "do not send" request.

Requirement for identifying information - The act would require that the following identifying information be contained in the margin of all transmissions: the date and time sent, an identification of the sender of the message, and a telephone number of the sending business or person.

The act would exempt certain non-profit professional or trade association transmissions from these identifying information requirements.

Enforcement – Any person or entity receiving an unsolicited advertisement in violation of this Article would be provided with the following actions in civil court:

1) An action to enjoin further violations by the sender; and

2) An action to recover the following amounts from the sender - $500 for the first violation, $1,000 for the second violation, and $5,000 for the third and subsequent violations, within a two year period.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act would be effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: Three states currently address the sending of unsolicited facsimile transmissions as sections of their "Do Not Call" laws – Oregon, Massachusetts, and Colorado.

On July 9, 2005, Congress enacted The Junk Fax Prevention Act of 2005 to amend the unsolicited fax advertisement provisions of the Telephone Consumer Protection Act of 1991 (TCPA) and directed the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) to issue rules to implement the act. The new rules are scheduled to take effect on August 1, 2006.

Fax Advertising: What You Need to Know

FCC Consumer Facts

Background

In April 2006, the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) implemented changes to the facsimile (fax) advertising rules of the Telephone Consumer Protection Act of 1991 (TCPA). The new rules: (1) codify an established business relationship (EBR) exemption to the prohibition on sending unsolicited fax advertisements; (2) define EBR as used in the context of unsolicited fax advertisements; (3) require the sender of fax advertisements to provide specified notice and contact information on the fax that allows recipients to "opt-out" of any future transmissions from the sender; and (4) specify the circumstances under which a request to "opt-out" complies with the Act. The new rules are scheduled to take effect on August 1, 2006.

Definitions

An "unsolicited advertisement" is defined as "any material advertising the commercial availability or quality of any property, goods, or services which is transmitted to any person without that person's prior express invitation or permission, in writing or otherwise."

An "established business relationship" (EBR) means a prior or existing relationship formed by a voluntary two-way communication between a person or entity and a business or residential subscriber with or without an exchange of consideration (payment), on the basis of an inquiry, application, purchase or transaction by the business or residential subscriber regarding products or services offered by such person or entity, which relationship has not been previously terminated by either party.

Junk Fax Prevention Act of 2005

On July 9, 2005, Congress enacted the Junk Fax Prevention Act to amend the unsolicited fax advertisement provisions of the TCPA and directed the FCC to issue regulations to implement the statute.

Amended Fax Rules and Established Business Relationship Exemption

The rules provide that it is unlawful to send unsolicited advertisements to any fax machine, including those at both businesses and residences, without the recipient's prior express invitation or permission. However, under the amended rules, fax advertisements may be sent to recipients with whom the sender has an EBR, as long as the fax number was provided voluntarily by the recipient. Specifically, a fax advertisement may be sent to an EBR customer if the sender also:

- Obtains the fax number directly from the recipient, through, for example, an application, contact information form, or membership renewal form; or
- Obtains the fax number from the recipient's own directory, advertisement, or site on the Internet, unless the recipient has noted on such materials that it does not accept unsolicited advertisements at the fax number in question; or
- For directories and other sources of information compiled by third parties, the sender must take reasonable steps to verify that the recipient consented to have the number listed.

Amended Fax Rules and Established Business Relationship Exemption (cont'd.)

- If the EBR existed before July 9, 2005, and the sender also possessed the fax number before July 9, 2005, the sender may send the fax advertisements without demonstrating how the number was obtained.

Fax advertisements sent with the recipient's prior express permission must include an opt-out notice as described below.

Opt-out Notice Requirements

The rules require senders of permissible fax advertisements (those sent under an EBR or with the recipient's prior express permission) to provide specified notice and contact information on the fax that allow recipients to "opt-out" of future faxes from the sender. The notice must:

- Be clear and conspicuous and on the first page of the advertisement;
- State that the recipient may make a request to the sender not to send any future faxes and that failure to comply with the request within 30 days is unlawful; and
- Include a telephone number, fax number, and cost-free mechanism (including a toll-free telephone number, local number for local recipients, toll-free fax number, Web site address, or e-mail address) to opt-out of faxes. These numbers and cost-free mechanism must permit consumers to make opt-out requests 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Senders that receive a request not to send further faxes that meets the requirements listed in the next section must honor that request within the shortest reasonable time from the date of such request, not to exceed 30 days. They are also prohibited from sending future fax advertisements to the consumer unless the consumer subsequently provides prior express permission to the sender.

(More)

Opt-out Requests By Consumers

To stop unwanted fax advertisements, consumers' "opt-out" requests must:

- Identify the fax number or numbers to which the request relates; and
- Be sent to the telephone number, fax number, Web site address or e-mail address identified on the fax advertisement.

The consumer can subsequently grant express permission to receive faxes from a particular sender, in writing or orally.

Fax Broadcasters

The person or business on whose behalf a fax is sent or whose goods or services are advertised is liable for a violation of these rules even if they did not physically send the fax themselves. A fax broadcaster (the person or entity transmitting messages to a fax machine on another person's behalf) may also be liable for violations of the rules if it has a "high degree of involvement" in the sender's fax messages, such as supplying the fax numbers to which a message is sent; providing a source of fax numbers; making representations about the legality of faxing to those numbers; or advising a client about how to comply with the fax advertising rules.

If a fax broadcaster is "highly involved" in the sender's fax messages, the fax broadcaster must provide its name on the fax.

Fax Numbers and the National Do-Not-Call Registry

The National Do-Not-Call Registry applies only to telephone solicitations, not to faxes. Nevertheless, the FCC's fax rules prohibit fax advertisements unless the sender has an EBR with you or your permission to send the fax.

This fiscal analysis is independent of the impact of other criminal penalty bills being considered by the General Assembly, which could also increase the projected prison population and thus the availability of prison beds in future years. The Fiscal Research Division is tracking the cumulative effect of all criminal penalty bills on the prison system as well as the Judicial Department.*

BILL SUMMARY: Amends G.S. 20-217(e) to prohibit a person convicted of passing a stopped school bus from receiving a prayer for judgment continued under any circumstances, thereby subjecting each violator to the existing Class 1 misdemeanor penalty.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

General

Under current G.S. 20-4.01(4a), a "conviction" is defined as a third or subsequent Prayer for Judgment Continued (PJC) within any five-year period, or any PJC if the offender holds a commercial drivers license or if the offense occurs in a commercial motor vehicle. A driver of a non-commercial motor vehicle who is granted a PJC for violating G.S. 20-217 would be convicted of a Class 1 misdemeanor upon accruing at least three such PJCs within a five-year period.

Judicial Branch

For most criminal penalty bills, the Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) provides Fiscal Research with an analysis of the fiscal impact of a specific bill. For such bills, fiscal impact is typically based on the assumption that court time will increase due to an expected increase in trials and a corresponding increase in the hours of work for judges, clerks, and prosecutors. This increased court time is also expected to result in greater expenditures for jury fees and indigent defense.

H.B. 2880 would restrict current sentencing practice, and subject a defendant to a Class 1 misdemeanor sentence for each and every violation of G.S. 20-217. This is also possible under current law when a defendant's request for a PJC is denied. Calendar year 2005 data indicate that there were approximately 1,160 charges and 520 convictions for failing to stop for a stopped school bus – 330 of these 520 convictions resulted in a PJC verdict.

In response to the proposed sentencing enhancement, the AOC anticipates more rigorous defense and prosecution for each case, thereby increasing court time and the costs of disposal. For example, if 28% of the 1,160 cases (330 cases) that resulted in PJCs in 2005 were to require an additional half hour of in-court time, this increase could result in an additional $32,500 in court costs.[1] However, the number of additional charges and the methods of disposition (trial, plea, dismissal, other) that would result under this bill are unknown. Presently, the AOC estimates total court costs of $3,153 and $224 per single Class 1 misdemeanor trial and plea, respectively.

Department of Correction – Division of Prisons

The Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission prepares prison population projections for each criminal penalty bill. The Commission assumes for each bill that increasing criminal penalties does not have a deterrent or incapacitative effect on crime. Therefore, the Fiscal Research Division does not assume savings due to deterrent effects for this bill or any criminal penalty bill.

In FY 2004/05, 19% of Class 1 misdemeanor convictions resulted in active sentences, with an average estimated term served of 30.7 days; 79% of convictions resulted in community sentences and 2% resulted in intermediate sentences. The number of additional convictions for this offense cannot be determined, but could potentially increase relative to prior year totals due to this sentencing restriction. FY 2004/05 data suggests that most new convictions (approximately 79%) would result in community sentences; however, the number of active sentences imposed for this offense could also increase. Any additional active sentences are not expected to impact the prison population, since offenders serving active sentences of 90 days or less are housed in local jails.

Local Government

Assuming some additional active sentences as a result of this bill, local jail populations could increase. For example, if 19% of the 330 PJCs granted in 2005 were to result in active jail sentences under H.B. 2880, local jails would experience a net increase in population of 63 persons statewide. However, without reliable estimates of additional convictions and cost per bed data from local jails, the impact on jail populations and the associated fiscal impacts for local units cannot be determined.

Department of Correction – Division of Community Corrections

If additional convictions and community sentences occur for this offense, additional costs for probation supervision could also be incurred, though unlikely. Division of Community Corrections data indicates that there are currently no offenders under supervision for this offense. In addition, DCC anticipates that any new sentences are likely to only require unsupervised probation with community service, and would not have a significant fiscal impact.

(a) When a school bus is displaying its mechanical stop signal or flashing red lights and the bus is stopped for the purpose of receiving or discharging passengers, the driver of any other vehicle that approaches the school bus from any direction on the same street, highway, or public vehicular area shall bring that other vehicle to a full stop and shall remain stopped. The driver of the other vehicle shall not proceed to move, pass, or attempt to pass the school bus until after the mechanical stop signal has been withdrawn, the flashing red stoplights have been turned off, and the bus has started to move.

(b) For the purpose of this section, a school bus includes a public school bus transporting children or school personnel, a public school bus transporting senior citizens under G.S. 115C-243, or a privately owned bus transporting children. This section applies only in the event the school bus bears upon the front and rear a plainly visible sign containing the words "school bus."

(c) Notwithstanding subsection (a) of this section, the driver of a vehicle traveling in the opposite direction from the school bus, upon any road, highway or city street that has been divided into two roadways, so constructed as to separate vehicular traffic between the two roadways by an intervening space (including a center lane for left turns if the roadway consists of at least four more lanes) or by a physical barrier, need not stop upon meeting and passing any school bus that has stopped in the roadway across the dividing space or physical barrier.

(d) It shall be unlawful for any school bus driver to stop and receive or discharge passengers or for any principal or superintendent of any school, routing a school bus, to authorize the driver of any school bus to stop and receive or discharge passengers upon any roadway described by subsection (c) of this section where passengers would be required to cross the roadway to reach their destination or to board the bus; provided, that passengers may be discharged or received at points where pedestrians and vehicular traffic are controlled by adequate stop-and-go traffic signals.

(e) Except as provided in subsection (g) of this section, any person violating this section shall be guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor.

(f) Expired.

(g) Any person who violates subsection (a) of this section and willfully strikes any person causing serious bodily injury to that person shall be guilty of a Class I felony. Full Stop

School buses are pretty hard to miss.

They're big, ugly and yellow. They're also noisy and fully of even noisier kids. And when they are either taking on, or dropping off, school children, they have big red lights flashing and an extended stop arm.

Drivers who don't see school buses simply don't want to see them. They don't stop and exercise adequate caution because they are in a hurry, or they can't be bothered, or they simply aren't paying attention.

These people should not be tolerated.

School buses carry our most precious loved ones, our children. On today's city streets and rural roads, traffic is so heavy and moves so fast that the laws requiring all vehicles to stop for school buses are more necessary than ever. Yet motorists continue to speed by school buses, both as they slow down and when they are stopped.

Society isn't ready to use on-site firing squads on drivers who pass school buses, of course — although a few roadside executions might be one way to get the attention of the self-absorbed drivers who are too focused on getting where they must get to stop and keep our children safe.

Legislation before the General Assembly this week stops well short of summary execution, but it will lead to better compliance with the school-bus safety laws. A bill sponsored by Rep. Dale Folwell of Forsyth County has already passed the House and is before a Senate committee. It would significantly increase the penalties for those convicted of passing a stopped school bus.

Motorists may not pay attention to the school-bus law because the state doesn't do a great job of enforcing it, prosecuting it or of punishing those few people who are convicted of violating it. Though the N.C. Department of Public Instruction estimates that there are 440,000 violations of the law each year, there were only 1,139 convictions in 2005.

If Folwell's bill passes, courts will no longer be able to issue prayers for judgment continued — "PJCs" — for those charged with passing a school bus. That will mean more prosecutions. Those convicted could get up to 45 days of community service. And, if anyone is injured because of the illegal passing, the driver could face a felony prosecution with the possibility of a four-month jail sentence. That's the kind of punishment that will get motorists' attention.

This is a good bill, one that will force the system to come down harder on those who endanger children with their reckless lack of interest in state law and human lives. It is our best hope that the law won't get much use.

But it probably will, and when employed it should certainly get the attention of all motorists and eventually reduce the passing of stopped school buses.

The legislature, which is near the end of its 2006 session, should not adjourn until it passes Folwell's bill.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO CLARIFY THE APPLICATION OF THE NORTH CAROLINA CONSUMER FINANCE ACT TO VARIOUS LENDING SUBTERFUGES.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. The General Assembly makes the following findings:

(1) Consumer loans in North Carolina are regulated by the North Carolina Consumer Finance Act, Article 15 of Chapter 53 of the General Statutes. The North Carolina Consumer Finance Act requires consumer finance lenders to be licensed and, under G.S. 53-173, authorizes interest rates of up to thirty-six percent (36%) on loans of three thousand dollars ($3,000) or less.

(2) Some lenders have attempted to evade the restrictions of the North Carolina Consumer Finance Act by offering cash advances in the form of instant cash rebates or other guises. These cash advance transactions are typically offered in conjunction with the sale of Internet access, telephone time units, catalog certificates, or the use of office equipment, when in fact the sale of the goods or services is a pretext for the making of a loan.

(3) North Carolina courts have declared some of these transactions to be unlawful, but new schemes continue to be devised in order to circumvent the lending laws of North Carolina and to avoid regulation by the Commissioner of Banks.

(4) It is the intent of the General Assembly that G.S. 53-166(a) should be construed broadly to prohibit illicit lending schemes and to clarify the devices, subterfuges, and pretenses that are prohibited under G.S. 53-166(b), as amended by Section 2 of this act.

SECTION 2. G.S. 53-166 reads as rewritten:

"§ 53-166. Scope of Article; evasions; penalties; loans in violation of Article void.

(a) Scope. – No person shall engage in the business of lending in amounts of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or less and contract for, exact, or receive, directly or indirectly, on or in connection with any such loan, any charges whether for interest, compensation, consideration, or expense, or any other purpose whatsoever, which in the aggregate are greater than permitted by Chapter ~~24,~~24 of the General Statutes, except as provided in and authorized by this Article, and without first having obtained a license from the Commissioner. The word "lending" as used in this section, shall include, but shall not be limited to, endorsing or otherwise securing loans or contracts for the repayment of loans.

(b) Evasions. – The provisions of subsection (a) of this section ~~shall apply~~apply to any person who seeks to avoid its application by any device, ~~subterfuge~~ subterfuge, or pretense whatsoever. Such devices, subterfuges, and pretenses include, but are not limited to, any transaction in which a cash rebate or other advance of funds is offered and all of the following apply:

(1) The cash advance is made contemporaneously with the transaction.

(2) The amount of the cash advance is required to be repaid at a later date.

(3) The selling or providing of any item, service, or commodity with the transaction is incidental to, or a pretext for, the advance of funds.

(4) The transaction requires the consumer to present a check or electronic debit authorization for the purpose of making future repayment.

(c) Penalties; Commissioner to Provide and Testify as to Facts in His Possession. – Any person not exempt from this Article, or any officer, agent, ~~employee~~ employee, or representative thereof, who fails to comply with or who otherwise violates any of the provisions of this Article, or any regulation of the Banking Commission adopted pursuant to this Article, shall be guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor. Each ~~such~~ violation shall be considered a separate offense. It ~~shall be~~is the duty of the Commissioner of Banks to provide the district attorney of the court having jurisdiction of any ~~such~~ offense under this subsection with all facts and evidence in ~~his~~ the Commissioner's actual or constructive possession, and to testify as to ~~such~~ these facts upon the trial of any person for ~~any such~~the offense.

(d) Additional Penalties. – Any contract of loan, the making or collecting of which violates any provision of this Article, or regulation thereunder, except as a result of accidental or bona fide error of computation ~~shall be void~~ is void, and the licensee or any other party in violation shall ~~have no right to~~ not collect, ~~receive~~ receive, or retain any principal or charges whatsoever with respect to ~~such~~ the loan. If an affiliate operating in the same office or subsidiary operating in the same office of a licensee makes a loan in violation of ~~G.S. 53-180(i) such~~ G.S. 53-180(i), the affiliate or subsidiary may recover only its principal on ~~such~~ the loan."

SECTION 3. This act becomes effective October 1, 2006, and applies to transactions that are investigated on or after that date under the North Carolina Consumer Finance Act, Article 15 of Chapter 53 of the General Statutes, as amended by this act, and applies to transactions that are subject to enforcement actions under the North Carolina Consumer Finance Act that are filed on or after that date.

HOUSE BILL 2894:
Prohibit Various Lending Subterfuges

BILL ANALYSIS

Committee:	Senate Judiciary II	Date:	July 17, 2006
Introduced by:	Rep. Howard	Summary by:	Kory Goldsmith Committee Counsel
Version:	PCS to First Edition H2894-PCS60866-RC-121

SUMMARY: The North Carolina Consumer Finance Act limits the interest rate on small consumer loans to 36%, and prohibits "any device, subterfuge or pretense" used by lenders to evade the maximum interest rate. HB 2894 clarifies that certain cash rebate transactions are subterfuges for unlawful loans and are prohibited. The bill language is consistent with a recent Court of Appeals decision which held that the Consumer Finance Act does apply to cash advances offered in the form of rebates.

The act clarifies that a subterfuges includes any transaction in which a cash rebate or other advance of funds is offered and all of the following apply:

- The cash advance is made contemporaneously with the transaction or soon thereafter.
- The amount of the cash advance is required to be repaid at a later date.
- The selling or providing of any item, service, or commodity with the transaction is incidental to, or a pretext for, the advance of funds.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act becomes effective October 1, 2006, and applies to transactions that are investigated on or after that date under the North Carolina Consumer Finance Act, Article 15 of Chapter 53 of the General Statutes, as amended by this act, and applies to transactions that are subject to enforcement actions under the North Carolina Consumer Finance Act that are filed on or after that date.
