HOUSE BILL 1508:
Two-Thirds Bonds Act of 2008

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 20, 2009
Introduced by:	Reps. Owens, Goforth, Womble	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition H1508-CSRBx-26

SUMMARY: House Bill 1508 modifies the Two-Thirds Bonds Act of 2008, which authorized the issuance of $107 million in non-voted general obligation bond indebtedness for the Green Square Project, by changing the way the term 'biennium' is used for purposes of calculating the two-thirds bonds availability. The effect of this change would extend the authorization for the sale of those bonds into the 2009-2011 biennium.

The proposed committee substitute adds another project to be financed through non-voted general obligation indebtedness: the Biomedical Research Imaging Center at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. The Senate included this capital project in the budget it sent to the House, SB 202, third edition, Section 27.10.

CURRENT LAW: Last year, the General Assembly, in its continuation budget, authorized the issuance of $107,000,000 of non-voted general obligation bond indebtedness to finance the Green Square Project. General obligation bond indebtedness is secured by the faith and credit and taxing power of the State. As a general rule, general obligation bond indebtedness must be approved by the voters. However, under Article V, Sec. 3(f)[1] of the North Carolina Constitution, the State may issue non-voted general obligation bonds in an amount not to exceed 2/3 of the amount by which it reduced its outstanding general obligation debt in the preceding biennium. The term 'biennium' is not specifically defined in the Constitution. The Two-Thirds Bonds Act of 2008 used the term 'biennium' to refer to the preceding two-year period ending on June 30, 2008. Based upon this formula, the State could have issued up to $125,000,000 of non-voted general obligation bonds for fiscal year 2008-2009. No bonds have been issued under this authorization yet.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 1508 changes the way the term 'biennium' is used for purposes of calculating the two-thirds bond availability based upon a recommendation of the State's bond counsel. The current language uses the term 'biennium' to refer to any consecutive two-year period. Specifically, it refers to the two-year period ending June 30, 2008.

The current bond counsel interprets Article V, Section 3 of the North Carolina Constitution to refer to the traditional State biennium beginning on July 1 of odd-numbered years and ending on June 30 of the second following year. Thus, two-thirds bonds may be issued during the biennium ending June 30, 2011 based up on the amount of net debt reductions for the biennium ending June 30, 2009. This interpretation is consistent with the way the State applied the two-thirds provision for bonds authorized by legislation enacted in 1988 (S.L. 1987-1048) and in 1991 (S.L. 1991-760). With this change, the [1] "Sec. 3. Limitations upon the increase of State debt.

(1) Authorized purposes; two-thirds limitation. The General Assembly shall have no power to contract debts secured by a pledge of the faith and credit of the State, unless approved by a majority of the qualified voters of the State who vote thereon, except for the following purposes:

(f) for any other lawful purpose, to the extent of two-thirds of the amount by which the State's outstanding indebtedness shall have been reduced during the next preceding biennium."

issuance of the two-thirds bonds authorized last session for the Green Square Project would be moved to the 2009-2011 biennium.

The proposed committee substitute adds a project to the Two-Thirds Bonds Act of 2008: the Biomedical Research Imaging Center at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. The PCS authorizes the issuance of $240,000,000 of non-voted general obligation bond indebtedness to finance the capital costs of this facility.

Under the "two-thirds limitation" authority of Article V, Sec. 3(f) of the Constitution, the State may issue up to $486.8 million of non-voted general obligation bonds this coming biennium. Under the Debt Affordability Study, dated February 2009, the State's recommended debt affordability capacity for each of the next five years is $50.2 million. In conducting is analysis, the Treasurer's Office included anticipated debt of the Green Square Project. The addition of the BRIC project to the bill would cause the State to exceed the recommended debt capacity. Therefore, Section 2 of the bill adjusts the indebtedness for several projects financed through special indebtedness to provide enough debt capacity, under the Debt Affordability Study, to add BRIC to the Two-Thirds Bonds Act of 2008.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: The Green Square Project consists of an office building for the Department of Environment and Natural Resources, the construction of a Nature Research Center for the NC Museum of Natural Science, and an underground parking deck with 426 spaces. The project also consists of another parking deck, authorized in S.L. 2006-231, which will house up to 900 spaces. The total cost of the project, excluding the parking deck authorized in 2006, is $150,000,000. The General Assembly appropriated $25,000,000 for the project last year. Parking receipts will service the debt for parking construction and the Friends of the Museum of Natural Science have committed $27,500,000 towards the cost of the Nature Research Center and $15,500,000 towards the cost of the exhibits.

SUMMARY: The proposed committee substitute for Senate Bill 304[1] would make the following changes to guaranteed energy savings contracts[2]:

- Increase the cap on financing contracts to $500 million of outstanding debt. The existing cap is $100 million on the aggregate principal amount of the contracts. (The original bill would have removed the cap.)
- Require a life-cycle cost analysis of each energy conservation measure in the proposal.
- Require a local governmental unit that enters into energy savings contracts to report to the State Energy Office.

CURRENT LAW: An energy conservation measure is an alteration, training, or service that will provide anticipated energy savings with respect to a facility. The financing contracts are known as guaranteed energy savings contracts. Under the contract to implement energy conservation measures, all payments, except obligations on early termination, are to be made over time and energy cost savings are guaranteed to exceed the cost of the contract.

Local governments have had the authority to enter into guaranteed energy savings contract to finance the cost of energy conservation measures since 1994.[3] The General Assembly extended this ability to State agencies in 2002; the law limits the aggregate principal amount payable by the State under these contracts to $100 million.[4] The term of a State guaranteed energy savings contract may not exceed 20 years.

The law provides that a guaranteed energy savings contract is not a pledge of the government's taxing power. The debt is secured by a lien on or a security interest in any part of the property with respect to which an energy conservation measure is undertaken and/or the land upon which the property is or will be located. It is anticipated that the energy savings will generate enough money to pay the debt service on the contract. Also, the State requires the contractor to guarantee the projected energy savings and repay any contractually guaranteed savings not realized. The guaranteed energy savings contracts provide a means to fund energy conservations related repair and renovation projects without impacting the State's debt capacity.

State agencies that enter into guaranteed energy savings contracts are required to report to the State Energy Office which in turn reports annually to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations. State energy conservation measures are subject to inspection and compliance by the State

[1] As introduced, this bill was identical to H349, as introduced by Reps. Harrison, Samuelson, Bryant, Cotham, which is currently in House Energy and Energy Efficiency, if favorable, Judiciary III.

[2] The PCS also removes the provisions from the original bill that would have imposed a fee on the contractors equal to 1.5% of the cost of the project. The fee revenue was to be used by the State Energy Office to administer the program, including the costs of additional staff support.

[4] GS 143-64.17J and Article 8 of Chapter 142.

Construction Office or the local building inspector. The cost of the evaluation of the project and the costs of the necessary building inspections are included in the cost of the contract, and therefore covered as part of the financing costs.

Before a guaranteed energy savings contract can be entered into, the Office of State Budget and Management must certify that resources are expected to be available to pay the amounts due under the contract. Next, the Council of State must approve the contract by resolution that sets out the maximum maturity, and the maximum interest rates. The State Treasurer also must approve the financing, finding that the amount to be borrowed is adequate and not excessive and will not require an excessive increase in any State revenues to provide for repayment, and that the special indebtedness can be incurred or issued on terms favorable to the State.

BILL ANALYSIS: The proposed committee substitute to Senate Bill 304 makes the following changes to energy savings contracts:

Increase in cap: The cap is increased to $500 million on the amount of the aggregate amount of contracts outstanding. Currently the cap is $100 million on the aggregate amount of total contracts.

Life-cycle analysis: Requires providers to conduct a life-cycle costs analysis of each conservation measure in the proposal. A life-cycle cost analysis considers certain costs of owning and using property over its economic life, including the initial costs, system repair and replacement costs, maintenance costs, operating costs, and salvage value.

Reports: Requires local governments that enter into energy savings contracts to report the term of the contracts to the Energy Office. Currently local governments that enter into energy savings contracts must report the terms of the contract to the Local Government Commission.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

SENATE BILL 80:
Jacksonville Occupancy Tax

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 19, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Brown	Prepared by:	Judy Collier
Analysis of:	First Edition		Research Assistant

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 80 authorizes the city of Jacksonville to levy a 3% room occupancy tax. At least two-thirds of the proceeds would be used to promote travel and tourism and the remainder would be used for tourism-related expenditures. The bill conforms to the uniform occupancy tax provisions followed by the House Finance Committee.

[As introduced, this bill was identical to H30, as introduced by Rep. Grady, which is currently in House Finance.]

CURRENT LAW: Currently, the city of Jacksonville does not have authority to levy a room occupancy tax. Jacksonville is located in Onslow County, which also has authority to levy a 3% occupancy tax. The proceeds of the county tax are deposited in the county's general fund and may only be used to further the development of travel, tourism and conventions in the county.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 80 authorizes the City of Jacksonville to levy a room occupancy tax of up to 3%. The proceeds must be remitted to a town Tourism Development Authority (TDA), which must use at least two-thirds of the proceeds to promote travel and tourism and the remainder for tourism-related expenditures. These administrative and use provisions conform to the uniform guidelines followed by the House Finance Committee.

UNIFORM OCCUPANCY TAX PROVISIONS	SB 80
Rate – The county tax rate cannot exceed 6% and the city tax rate, when combined with the county rate, cannot exceed 6%.	Conforms
Use – Two-thirds of the proceeds must be used to promote travel and tourism and the remainder must be used for tourism related expenditures.	Conforms
Definitions The term "net proceeds", "promote travel and tourism", and "tourism related expenditures" are defined terms.	Conforms
Administration – The net revenues must be administered by a local tourism development authority that has the authority to determine how the tax proceeds will be used, is created by a local ordinance, and at least 1/2 of the members must be currently active in the promotion of travel and tourism in the county and 1/3 of the members must be affiliated with organizations that collect the tax.	Conforms
Costs of Collection – The taxing authority may retain from the revenues its actual costs of collection, not to exceed 3% of the first $500,000 collected each year plus 1% of the remainder collected each year.	Conforms

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act is effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: Since 1983, the General Assembly has authorized many units of local government to levy a room occupancy tax. In several instances, the General Assembly has authorized both a county and a city within that county to impose an occupancy tax. The rate of tax, the use of the tax proceeds, the administration of the tax, and the body with the authority to determine how the tax proceeds will be spent vary considerably. Over the past several years, there has been a greater effort to make the occupancy taxes uniform. In 1997, the General Assembly enacted uniform municipal and county administrative provisions for occupancy tax legislation – G.S. 153A-155 and G.S. 160A-215. These provisions provide uniformity in the areas of levy, administration, collection, repeal, and penalties.

The Town of Robbins shall not seek to repeal this act upon its approval by the General Assembly. Nothing in this act impairs the right of the General Assembly to annex the property by special local act. That agreement may include, among others, these provisions: that the Town of Robbins provide utility services to the Property at nonresident out-of-town rates; that so long as the Property is not annexed to the Town of Robbins the owner of the Property will pay to the Town an amount equivalent to the property tax that would be paid if the Property were in the city limits of the Town, including any other taxes

(3) Any agreement entered into as provided in subdivision (1) of this section is a continuing agreement and is binding on and enforceable against the current and future members of the Board of Commissioners of the Town of Robbins during the full term of such agreement and any extension thereof.

(4) The parties to any agreement entered into as provided in subdivision (1) of this section are authorized by this section to modify, amend, and extend such agreement on mutual written consent, without the approval of the General Assembly, provided that any such modification or amendment does not materially alter the concept of the agreement.

SECTION 4. The Town of Robbins may accept, as consideration for such agreement, "payments in lieu of taxes" and may agree to provide to the Property ongoing response and protection by the Robbins Police Department. The jurisdiction of the Robbins Police Department shall extend to the Property.

SECTION 5. The agreement under subdivision (1) of Section 3 of this act shall apply to the Property described in Section 1 of this act.

SECTION 6. No portion of the Property shall be subject to involuntary annexation or designation as an urban tax district or otherwise subjected to the power of a municipal taxing authority by the Town of Robbins or any other town or municipality or consolidated government during the term of the agreement referred to in Section 1 of this act, but payments in lieu of taxes do not constitute being subject to the power of municipal taxing authority.

SECTION 7. This act is effective when it becomes law.

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 19, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Blake	Prepared by:	Judy Collier
Analysis of:	Second Edition		Research Assistant

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 215 would deannex two parcels of land from the town limits of Robbins as described in the bill and enter into an agreement for payments in lieu of re-annexation.

CURRENT LAW: North Carolina law provides for involuntary annexation in some circumstances.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Section 1 of the bill would deannex two tracts of territory, described in the bill, from the town limits of Robbins. Together they consist of about 1.8 acres.

Section 2 of the bill would specify that the deannexation would not affect past tax bills.

Section 3 would empower the Town of Robbins to enter into agreements limiting its power to re-annex involuntarily the deannexed tracts. The bill specifies some of the things the agreement may provide. They could include:

- The town's providing utility services to the people in the tracts at non-resident out-of-town rates.
- Payment of the equivalent of in-town property tax, including other taxes usually collected with it.
- A provision that the agreement is perpetual and binding on the parties.

Section 4 would provide that the town could accept "payments in lieu of taxes" in consideration for the agreement, and may agree to provide ongoing protection by the Robbins Police.

Section 5 would provide that the agreement would apply to the specified two deannexed tracts.

Section 6 would prohibit re-annexation of the tracts during the term of the agreement.

EFFECTIVE DATE: When it becomes law.

The initial annual notice shall be served by registered or certified mail. A chronic violator is a person who owns property whereupon, in the previous calendar year, the Town of Fremont gave notice of violation at least two times under any provision of the public nuisance ordinance. A property owner shall remain a chronic violator until one calendar year after the date of the property owner's last violation.

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 479[1] would enact a complete rewrite of the Town Charter of Fremont.

[As introduced, this bill was identical to H403[2], as introduced by Rep. Sager, which is currently in House Finance.]

CURRENT LAW: The Charter of the Town of Fremont was last enacted as a whole in 1913. Since that time a string of local acts have been passed to amend the Charter, but none has done a complete rewrite.

BILL ANALYSIS: The bill would rewrite the entire charter. It would provide for a Mayor and 6 Aldermen. The town would be divided into six aldermanic districts, and each Alderman would be elected by the voters of a district. The rewritten charter would not effect the terms of the current Mayor and Aldermen. The Mayor and Aldermen under the new Charter would be elected for the first time in 2011. They would all be elected to 4-year terms.

The Charter also gives the Town the authority to make street improvements it considers to be in the public interest and assess the cost to the abutting property owners. They Town may do that without the property owners having petitioned for the improvements.

EFFECTIVE DATE: When it becomes law. Since the Charter involves town elections, it may not be implemented until the session law has received "preclearance" approval under Section 5 of the Voting Rights of 1965 by the U.S. Department of Justice. Fremont is in Wayne County, which is one of the 40 NC counties covered by Section 5.

BACKGROUND: Fremont is a town in northern Wayne County, near Goldsboro. In the 2000 Census the town's population was 1,463.

SENATE BILL 786:
University Nonappropriated Capital Projects

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 19, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Stevens	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette
Analysis of:	First Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 786 would authorize the construction of numerous projects by The University of North Carolina. The projects will be financed through revenue bonds and special obligation bonds, not appropriations from the General Fund.

CURRENT LAW: There are two types of self-liquidating bonds that may be issued by the Board of Governors of the University of North Carolina. Article 21 of Chapter 116 of the General Statutes authorizes the Board of Governors to issue revenue bonds for the types of projects enumerated in the article. The types of projects for which revenue bonds may be issued include educational buildings, dormitories, recreational facilities, dining facilities, student centers, health care buildings, parking decks, etc. The revenue bonds are payable from rentals, charges, fees, and other revenues generated by the facility. The bonds are not payable from tax revenues.

Article 3 of Chapter 116D of the General Statutes authorizes the Board of Governors to issue special obligation bonds payable with any sources of income or receipts of the Board of Governors or a constituent or affiliated institution, but not including tuition payments or appropriations from the General Fund from State revenues. The bond proceeds could be used for construction, improvement, and acquisition of any capital facilities located at UNC constituent and affiliated institutions. The bonds are not payable from tax revenues.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 786 would authorize the construction and financing of the capital improvements projects at various constituent institutions of The University of North Carolina. The projects authorized by the bill would not be financed with funds appropriated from the State's General Fund; but may be financed with gifts, grants, receipts, self-liquidating indebtedness, Medicare reimbursements for education costs, other funds available to the constituent institutions, or a combination of any of those financing methods. The projects include academic, research, clinical and administrative space and improvements to student services, residential living, dining, recreation, and athletics facilities. Once approved, a detailed financial plan will be developed in consultation with financial advisors and bond counsel for each project. The plans must be approved by the Chancellor, the Boards of Trustees, the President, and the Board of Governors before construction contracts may be awarded and bonds issued.

The self-liquidating projects the Board of Governors plans to finance with revenue and/or special obligation bonds are listed in Section 2 of the bill. The UNC special obligation bond act requires that the specific projects and their costs be set forth in legislation approved by the General Assembly and that the maximum amount of special obligation bonds to be issued to finance the specific projects listed be stated. Section 4 of the bill expressly states that the maximum principal amount of special obligation bonds to be issued shall not exceed the amounts listed in Section 2 of the act plus 5%. The additional 5% may be used for related additional costs for which bond proceeds are routinely used, such as issuance expenses, funding of reserve funds, and capitalized interest.

This year's bill includes 21 capital projects on eleven campuses. The Chancellors and Boards of Trustees for the listed campuses, as well as the President and the Board, have approved these projects. If authorized, construction on the projects is expected to begin before June 30, 2010.

Section 5 authorizes Appalachian State University to construct and finance the expansion and renovation of its multipurpose stadium through lease arrangements to, from, and with ASU Foundation, Inc. Once constructed and approved by state reviewing agencies, the improvements would transfer to the State.

Section 6 authorizes the University of North Carolina at Pembroke to construct and finance its West Hall housing project through lease arrangements to, from, and with The UNCP Foundation, Inc. Once constructed and approved by state reviewing agencies, the improvements would transfer to the State.

Otherwise, Section 1 of this act shall have no force and effect.

SECTION 5. Until Section 1 of this act becomes effective and a Village Attorney is appointed, the members of the Sneads Ferry Incorporation Committee, being Robert D. Bryant, Angela B. Edens, Scotty J. Everett, Jerry L. Hinnant, Jr., Donald H. Howell, Carolyn P. Lankas, and Brian K. Shepard shall be responsible for submitting any information required by G.S. 120-30.9F to the Attorney General of the United States. The committee shall simultaneously submit both the issue of the incorporation referendum and the Charter itself.

SECTION 6. This act is effective when it becomes law.

SENATE BILL 359:
Incorporate Sneads Ferry

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 19, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Brown	Prepared by:	Judy Collier
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S359-CSLMx-2		Research Assistant

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 359 would incorporate the Village of Sneads Ferry[1]. SB 359 would become effective when it becomes law, subject to a voter referendum and pre-clearance by the U.S. Department of Justice prior to implementation.

The ad valorem tax rate for the Village is set at $0.10/$100.00 valuation until June 30, 2012. After June 30, 2012, the ad valorem tax rate cannot be increased without consent of the qualified voters of the Village. The Proposed Committee Substitute (PCS) for SB 359 lowers the ad valorem tax rate increases by the Village Council after June 30, 2012 to not more than $0.05/$100.00 valuation. The first edition of the bill allowed $0.10/$100.00 valuation.

CURRENT LAW: Municipalities may be created by the General Assembly and may give such powers and duties to those cities and towns as it may deem advisable. The General Assembly cannot incorporate, as a city or town, any territory meeting any of the following criteria:

- Lying within 1 mile of the corporate limits of any other city or town having a population of 5,000 or more according to the most recent decennial census.
- Lying within 3miles of the corporate limits of any other city or town having a population of 10,000 or more according to the most recent decennial census.
- Lying within 4 miles of the corporate limits of any other city or town having a population of 25,000 or more according to the most recent decennial census.
- Lying within 5 miles of the corporate limits of any other city or town having a population of 50,000 or more according to the most recent decennial census.

Notwithstanding the foregoing limitations, the General Assembly may incorporate a city or town by an act adopted by a 3/5 vote of all the members of each chamber. Article VII, Section 1, North Carolina Constitution.

Rule 35.1(b) of the House Rules requires that a legislative proposal proposing incorporation must have attached to its bill jacket a report of the Joint Municipal Incorporations Commission prior to a favorable report by a committee of the House. Article 20 of Chapter 120 creates the Joint Municipal Incorporation Commission and sets forth the constitutional and statutory criteria for review of a proposed incorporation.

BILL ANALYSIS: SB 359 would incorporate the Village of Sneads Ferry, to be governed by a six-member town council and a mayor.

EFFECTIVE DATE: SB 359 would become effective when it becomes law, and is subject to voter referendum and pre-clearance by the U.S. Department of Justice prior to implementation.

S359-SMRE-29(CSLMx-2) v3

[1] In its Report to the General Assembly dated February 9, 2009, the Joint Legislative Commission on Municipal Corporations found that the proposed Village of Sneads Ferry meets the standards required by Article 20 of Chapter 120 of the General Statutes and recommended incorporation of the area as the Village of Sneads Ferry.

March 3, 2009

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO AUTHORIZE THE STATE BAR TO BORROW FUNDS, SUBJECT TO THE APPROVAL OF THE GOVERNOR AND THE COUNCIL OF STATE.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 84-17 reads as rewritten:

"§ 84-17. Government.

The government of the North Carolina State Bar is vested in a council of the North Carolina State Bar referred to in this Chapter as the "Council." The Council shall be composed of a variable number of councilors equal to the number of judicial districts plus 16, the officers of the North Carolina State Bar, who shall be councilors during their respective terms of office, and each retiring president of the North Carolina State Bar who shall be a councilor for one year from the date of expiration of his term as president. Notwithstanding any other provisions of the law, the North Carolina State Bar may borrow money and may acquire, hold, rent, encumber, alienate, lease, and otherwise deal with real or personal property in the same manner as any private person or corporation, subject only to the approval of the Governor and the Council of State as to the borrowing of money and the acquisition, rental, encumbering, leasing and sale of real property. The Council shall be competent to exercise the entire powers of the North Carolina State Bar in respect of the interpretation and administration of this Article, the borrowing of money, the acquisition, lease, sale, or mortgage of property, real or personal, the seeking of amendments to this Chapter, and all other matters. There shall be one councilor from each judicial district and 16 additional councilors. The additional councilors shall be allocated and reallocated by the North Carolina State Bar every six years based on the number of active members of each judicial district bar according to the records of the North Carolina State Bar and in accordance with a formula to be adopted by the North Carolina State Bar, to insure an allocation based on lawyer population of each judicial district bar as it relates to the total number of active members of the State Bar.

A councilor whose seat has been eliminated due to a reallocation shall continue to serve on the Council until expiration of the remainder of the current term. A councilor whose judicial district is altered by the General Assembly during the councilor's term shall continue to serve on the Council until the expiration of the term and shall represent the district wherein the councilor resides or with which the councilor has elected to be affiliated. If before the alteration of the judicial district of the councilor the judicial district included both the place of residence and the place of practice of the councilor, and if after the alteration of the judicial district the councilor's place of residence and place of practice are located in different districts, the councilor must, not later than 10 days from the effective date of the alteration of the district, notify the Secretary of the North Carolina State Bar of an election to affiliate with and represent either the councilor's district of residence or district of practice.

In addition to the councilors, there shall be three public members not licensed to practice law in this or any other state who shall be appointed by the Governor. The public members may vote and participate in all matters before the Council to the same extent as councilors elected or appointed from the various judicial districts."

SECTION 2. G.S. 84-23(d) reads as rewritten:

"(d) The Council may acquire, hold, rent, encumber, alienate, lease, and otherwise deal with real or personal property in the same manner as any private person or corporation, subject only to the approval of the Governor and the Council of State as to the acquisition, rental, encumbering, leasing and sale of real property. The Council may borrow money upon its bonds, notes, debentures, or other evidences of indebtedness sold through public or private sale pursuant to a loan agreement or a trust agreement or indenture with a trustee, with such borrowing either unsecured or secured by a mortgage on the Council's interest in real or personal property, and engage and contract with attorneys, underwriters, financial advisors, and other parties as necessary for such borrowing, with such borrowing and security subject to the approval of the Governor and the Council of State. The Council may utilize the services of the Purchase and Contract Division of the Department of Administration to procure personal property, in accordance with the provisions of Article 3 of Chapter 143 of the General Statutes."

SECTION 3. This act is effective when it becomes law.

HOUSE BILL 360:
Authorize State Bar to Borrow Funds

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 27, 2009
Introduced by:	Reps. Haire, Blue, Daughtry, Stam	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	Second Edition

SUMMARY: HB 360 authorizes the North Carolina State Bar to borrow money with the approval of the Governor and the Council of State. Borrowing may be secured or unsecured.

[As introduced, this bill was identical to S286, as introduced by Sen. Rand, which is currently in Senate Finance.]

CURRENT LAW: Article 4 of Chapter 84 of the General Statutes governs the creation and operation of the North Carolina State Bar, an agency of the State. The Bar is responsible for the licensing of attorneys and the regulation of their professional conduct. It has similar authority over certified paralegals. Current powers include the power to acquire and dispose of real and personal property, subject to approval of the Governor and Council of State where real property is concerned. The statute also empowers the Bar to encumber or mortgage real property, but there is no explicit authority to borrow money. Other entities such as counties, cities, airport authorities, hospital authorities, and ABC boards currently have authority to borrow money.

BILL ANALYSIS: The bill amends G.S. 84-17 and 84-23(d) to authorize the borrowing of money by the Bar with the approval of the Governor and Council of State. Borrowing may be secured or unsecured. The employment of necessary professional assistance for borrowing is also authorized.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: The Bar has outgrown its current facility and is in the process of leasing property from the State on which it plans to construct a new building. The Bar has, on two previous occasions, borrowed money with the approval of the Governor and the Council of State for renovations. Arguably, the authority to borrow money is an extension of its current authority to "mortgage property." However, given the current economic climate, the availability of more sophisticated financing arrangements, and the possibility that the Bar may want to borrow money in some manner other than a traditional mortgage, the Bar would like to have the authority explicitly stated in the statute.

Steven Rose, counsel to House judiciary III, and Trina Griffin, counsel to House Finance, substantially contributed to this summary.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO REMOVE BILLINGS IN EXCESS OF COSTS FROM THE FRANCHISE TAX CAPITAL BASE FOR TAXPAYERS USING THE PERCENTAGE OF COMPLETION METHOD OF REVENUE RECOGNITION.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 105-122(b) is amended by adding a new subdivision in the list of exclusions from surplus and undivided profits to read:

"(b) Determination of Capital Base. – A corporation taxed under this section shall determine the total amount of its issued and outstanding capital stock, surplus, and undivided profits. No reservation or allocation from surplus or undivided profits is allowed except as provided below:

(1a) Billings in excess of costs that are considered a deferred liability under the percentage of completion method of revenue recognition."

SECTION 2. This act is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2010.

SENATE BILL 367:
Franchise Tax-Overbilling Out of Capital Base

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 26, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Jenkins	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S367-CSRB-28		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 367[1] would exclude from a corporation's franchise tax base billings in excess of costs. The Proposed Committee Substitute changes the effective date so the bill applies to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2010. Unlike the income tax, the franchise tax applies to the year in which it is due. Leaving the effective date January 1, 2009, would require the Department to issue refunds for franchise taxes paid in April 2009. The Proposed Committee Substitute also clarifies that the change applies to all billings in excess of costs, as indicated by the title.

CURRENT LAW: The State imposes a franchise tax on C-corporations and S-corporations. The tax rate is $1.50 per $1,000[2] and is applied to a company's capital stock, surplus, and undivided profits.[3] The term 'surplus' for franchise tax purposes has a broader and more inclusive meaning than the generally accepted accounting definition. G.S. 105-122(b) provides that surplus and undivided profits includes all liabilities, reserves, and deferred credits unless those items are specifically exempt. One of the exemptions from surplus and undivided profits is 'definite and accrued legal liabilities'. The Department of Revenue defines a definite and accrued legal liability as one that meets both of the following conditions:

- The liability is definite in amount, meaning it is exactly determined and not merely accurately estimated.
- The liability will be incurred before the end of the taxable year.

The revenue principle of generally accepted accounting principles requires revenue to be recorded in the period it is earned regardless of when it is billed or when cash is received. In long-term construction contracts, there is often a mismatch between actual billed revenue and earned revenue. Sometimes elements of a contract are billed in advance and sometimes they are delayed. The accounting solution to this problem is the percentage of completion method of revenue recognition. Under this method of accounting, where the costs can be reasonably estimated, revenue is recognized as production takes place. This method of accounting may result in 'billings in excess of costs' or 'cost in excess of billings'. Billings in excess of cost is a balance sheet liability because it represents unearned income. Cost in excess of billings is a balance sheet asset. For purposes of the State's franchise tax, the balance sheet liability of 'billings in excess of cost' is not considered a definite and accrued legal liability because it is based on estimates; therefore, it is included in a corporation's capital base.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 367 would exempt billings in excess of costs from surplus and undivided profits, thus excluding them from the franchise tax capital base. Although inherently based upon estimates, billings in excess of costs are exactly determined under the percentage of completion method of revenue recognition.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill would become effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2010.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Department of Revenue

EFFECTIVE DATE: January 1, 2010

BILL SUMMARY: Senate Bill 367v1 would exclude from a corporation's franchise tax base billings in excess of costs. The Proposed Committee Substitute changes the effective date so the bill applies to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2010. Unlike the income tax, the franchise tax applies to the year in which it is due. Leaving the effective date January 1, 2009, could potentially require the Department to issue refunds for franchise taxes paid in April 2009. The Proposed Committee Substitute also clarifies that the change applies to all billings in excess of cost, as indicated by the title.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: Senate Bill 367 has the potential to impact general fund revenues. However, according to the Department of Revenue a specific determination was not possible. Currently, the account is either incorrectly included in the liabilities total as definite and accrued, or properly excluded from this amount. Because the exclusion is not specifically reported on the return, it is not possible to quantify the number of taxpayers in compliance with current law or not in compliance. The Proposed Committee Substitute, while changing the effective date and clarifying that the change applies to all billings in excess of cost, does not alter the ability of the Department of Revenue or Fiscal Research to assess the fiscal impact. Therefore, the fiscal impact of the bill remains indeterminable.

The proposed committee substitute makes a conforming change to the bill to remove a reference to licensed digital forensic examiners. The bill was amended in Judiciary II to remove the requirement for licensure of digital forensic examiners.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Amend proprietary exemption. Under the current law, there is an exemption from licensure for a person who works regularly and exclusively for an employer in connection with the employer's business affairs. The bill excludes from this exemption an armed security guard who carries a firearm, or an armed or unarmed guard at an establishment that serves alcohol. This will require armed security guards and armed or unarmed guards at establishments that serve alcohol to obtain a license.

Confidential investigations. The Attorney General has the authority to investigate violations of Chapter 74C and report to the Board. Records of investigations are public records under G.S. 132-1 since there is no specific exemption. The bill would make these investigations confidential and not subject to the public records law until the investigation is complete and a report is presented to the Board.

Time within which a substitute qualifying agent must be named. A business entity that is licensed by the Board is required to employ a qualifying agent (a person in a management position who is licensed by the Board). If the qualifying agent ceases to serve, the business must obtain a substitute agent within 30 days, but the Board may extend that time to 3 months for good cause. The bill would extend the time within which a substitute qualifying agent must be named to 6 months. A petition by the applicant and a hearing by the Board would be required before the additional 3 month extension would be given.

Background check based on fingerprints. Currently, the Board is required to provide fingerprints to the Department of Justice for background checks of new and renewal license applicants. The bill would require the fingerprint check for new applicants only, and it would be optional for renewals.

License period/fee changes. In 2007, the term for licenses issues by the Board was changed from one year to two years. Because the provision applying to licenses for branch offices is set out in a separate subsection, it was overlooked. The bill amends that provision to make the term of the branch office license two years instead of one. The bill also amends the fee provision to clarify that license fees are per year, and sets a specific time period within which a late renewal fee must be paid (90 days from the date of expiration).

Correctable error fee. The bill creates a new reduced fee for applications that are resubmitted for correctable errors. The Board currently has the authority to charge up to $250 (the regular application fee) for any application that is resubmitted. The bill would provide a reduced fee of up to $100 for an application that is resubmitted for correctable errors.

Grounds for denying, suspending, revoking a license. The bill would add the following new grounds for denying, suspending, or revoking a license:

- Failure to cooperate with the Board during an investigation.
- Failure to make disclosures or provide documents to the Board as required.
- Dereliction of duty or otherwise deceiving, defrauding, or harming the public in the course of professional activities or services.
- Demonstrated lack of financial responsibility.

Persons prohibited from license, registration, permit. Current law prohibits sworn court officials and holders of a company police commission from being licensed, registered, or permitted under Chapter 74C. The bill would allow them to be registered or permitted, but not licensed.

Firearms training and registration requirements. In addition to being licensed, a person who performs private protective services and carries a firearm in the performance of those duties must also be issued a firearm registration permit by the Board. In order to get a firearm registration permit, an applicant must complete training, which includes classroom training and a minimum qualifying score on an approved target course. The bill would require registration of an individual carrying a firearm within 30 days of employment. It would also require that an individual receive training prior to engaging in private protective services activity.

Repeal provision allowing mace. The bill would repeal the provision that authorizes security guards to possess and use mace, as mace is no longer used.

Change of ownership of a licensed business. Chapter 74C does not currently provide requirements for licensed businesses that have a change of ownership or control. The bill adds a new statutory section to Chapter 74C setting out specific requirements for when a licensed business transfers ownership, control, or a majority of assets to another person, firm, association, or corporation. The person or entity acquiring control must:

- Notify the Director of the Board of the change within five business days of the transaction.
- Describe the transaction, including the name and address of the acquiring party and its registered agent, any change in location of a branch office, and any change in insurance or bonding limits.
- Return all licenses within five business days of the transaction if the acquiring party does not continue to operate the business under its previous name and license.
- Within 60 days of the transaction, provide a list of registrants or licensees affected and written confirmation of completion of any required changes.

Convert Private Protective Services Recovery Fund to Education Fund. Under current law, there is a Private Protective Services Recovery Fund, which is intended to be used for the payment of claims of aggrieved parties that have suffered a monetary loss because of acts committed by a licensee under Chapter 74C. New applicants and licensees are charged additional fees to be contributed to the Fund. Money in the Fund is to be invested by the State Treasurer, and the proceeds from the investments or fund in excess of $25,000 may be used for education, training, and research projects to benefit licensees and the industry. The bill would amend the law to make the Fund an education fund only, allowing all of the funds to be used for education, training, and research projects.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act becomes effective October 1, 2009.

SENATE BILL 674:
Amend Rabies Laws

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 26, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Purcell	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette
Analysis of:	PCS to Second Edition S674-CSRBf-27		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 674 makes the following changes to the public health laws related to rabies:

- It requires the vaccination of domestic ferrets.
- It allows a registered veterinary technician to administer a rabies vaccine.
- It increases the cap for the administrative fee imposed by local health departments for rabies vaccines.
- It directs the Commission for Public Health to adopt rules establishing what information must be included on a rabies vaccination certificate.
- It authorizes euthanization of a stray or feral dog, cat, or ferret that has bitten a person.

The Proposed Committee Substitute increases the cap for the administrative fee, rather than eliminates it, and it lists the animals that must be vaccinated in one place, rather than repeal the list multiple times throughout the Part.

CURRENT LAW: The owner of a dog and cat over four months of age must have the animal vaccinated against rabies.[1] Each county must offer at least one vaccination clinic per year for the purpose of vaccinating dogs and cats.[2] The Administer of the rabies vaccine issues a rabies vaccination tag to the owner of the vaccinated animal. Absent a local ordinance to the contrary, the animal shall wear the tag at all times.[3] Animal Control Officers are directed to canvass their county to determine if there are any dogs or cats not wearing the required rabies vaccination tag.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 674 implements the following recommendation of the Centers for Disease Control and the National Association of State Public Health Veterinarians:

- It adds domestic ferret to the animals required to be vaccinated against rabies.
- It defines stray and feral animals and it gives the local health department the authority to euthanize a stray or feral animal that bites someone if an owner cannot be identified within 72 hours. A feral animal is one that is not socialized. A stray animal is one that is beyond the limits of confinement and is not wearing any method of identification.

The bill also does the following:

- It adds registered veterinary technicians to the list of people who may administer a rabies vaccine. The technician may only administer the vaccine under the direct supervision of a licensed veterinarian.
- It increases the cap on the fee a county may impose for a rabies vaccine at a county clinic from $4 to $10. The current cap has been in place since 1983. A private veterinarian typically charges at least $18 for a rabies vaccine.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

March 25, 2009

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT CONCERNING THE CAP ON SATELLITE ANNEXATIONS FOR THE TOWN OF APEX.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 160A-58.1(b)(5) reads as rewritten:

"(b) A noncontiguous area proposed for annexation must meet all of the following standards:

(5) The area within the proposed satellite corporate limits, when added to the area within all other satellite corporate limits, may not exceed ten percent (10%) of the area within the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.

This subdivision does not apply to the Cities of Claremont, Concord, Conover, Durham, Elizabeth City, Gastonia, Greenville, Hickory, Kannapolis, Locust, Marion, Mount Airy, Mount Holly, New Bern, Newton, Oxford, Randleman, Roanoke Rapids, Rockingham, Sanford, Salisbury, Southport, Statesville, and Washington and the Towns of Ahoskie, Angier, Apex, Ayden, Benson, Bladenboro, Burgaw, Calabash, Catawba, Clayton, Columbia, Columbus, Cramerton, Creswell, Dallas, Dobson, Four Oaks, Fuquay-Varina, Garner, Godwin, Granite Quarry, Green Level, Grimesland, Holly Ridge, Holly Springs, Kenansville, Kenly, Knightdale, Landis, Leland, Lillington, Louisburg, Maggie Valley, Maiden, Mayodan, Middlesex, Midland, Mocksville, Morrisville, Mount Pleasant, Nashville, Oak Island, Pembroke, Pine Level, Princeton, Ranlo, Rolesville, Rutherfordton, Shallotte, Smithfield, Spencer, Stem, Stovall, Surf City, Swansboro, Taylorsville, Troutman, Troy, Wallace, Warsaw, Watha, Waynesville, Weldon, Wendell, Windsor, Yadkinville, and Zebulon."

SECTION 2. This act is effective when it becomes law.

HOUSE BILL 758:
Apex/Satellite Annexations

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 26, 2009
Introduced by:	Rep. Dollar	Prepared by:	Judy Collier
Analysis of:	First Edition		Research Assistant

SUMMARY: House Bill 758 is a local bill that would exempt the Town of Apex from the requirement for satellite annexation that the area to be annexed, when added to the area within all other satellite corporate limits, may not exceed 10% of the area within the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 160A-58.1 governs the voluntary annexation by a municipality of noncontiguous property. All property owners in the satellite area[1] may petition a city for voluntary annexation of the noncontiguous property if the property meets the following five standards in G.S. 160A-58.1(b):

1. The nearest point on the proposed satellite corporate limits must be not more than three miles from the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.
2. No point on the proposed satellite corporate limits may be closer to the primary corporate limits of another city than to the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.
3. The area must be so situated that the annexing city will be able to provide the same services within the proposed satellite corporate limits that it provides within its primary corporate limits.
4. If the area proposed for annexation, or any portion thereof, is a subdivision as defined in G.S. 160A-376, all of the subdivision must be included.
5. The area within the proposed satellite corporate limits, when added to the area within all other satellite corporate limits, may not exceed ten percent (10%) of the area within the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 758 would add the Town of Apex to the list of municipalities for which the fifth requirement stated above has been eliminated. The other municipalities include the following:

Cities of Claremont, Concord, Conover, Durham, Elizabeth City, Gastonia, Greenville, Hickory, Kannapolis, Locust, Marion, Mount Airy, Mount Holly, New Bern, Newton, Oxford, Randleman, Roanoke Rapids, Rockingham, Sanford, Salisbury, Southport, Statesville, and Washington and the Towns of Ahoskie, Angier, Ayden, Benson, Bladenboro, Burgaw, Calabash, Catawba, Clayton, Columbia, Columbus, Cramerton, Creswell, Dallas, Dobson, Four Oaks, Fuquay-Varina, Garner, Godwin, Granite Quarry, Green Level, Grimesland, Holly Ridge, Holly Springs, Kenansville, Kenly, Knightdale, Landis, Leland, Lillington, Louisburg, Maggie Valley, Maiden, Mayodan, Middlesex, Midland, Mocksville, Morrisville, Mount Pleasant, Nashville, Oak Island, Pembroke, Pine Level, Princeton, Ranlo, Rolesville, Rutherfordton, Shallotte, Smithfield, Spencer, Stem, Stovall, Surf City, Swansboro, Taylorsville, Troutman, Troy, Wallace, Warsaw, Watha, Waynesville, Weldon, Wendell, Windsor, Yadkinville, and Zebulon.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: House Bill 758 would allow the Town of Apex to pursue economic development goals that currently exceed the Town's ability to annex and provide municipal services.

H758-SMRE-33(e1) v1

[1] G.S. 160A-58.4 provides that satellite corporate limits cannot be considered a part of a municipality's corporate limits for purposes of its ETJ. Therefore, satellite annexations have no effect upon a municipality's ETJ.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT PROVIDING THAT THE TOWNS OF COLUMBIA AND EDENTON MAY PROHIBIT THE ISSUANCE OF A BUILDING PERMIT TO A DELINQUENT TAXPAYER.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. This act applies only to the Towns of Columbia and Edenton.

SECTION 2. G.S. 160A-417 is amended by adding a new subsection to read:

"(d) A city may by ordinance provide that a permit may not be issued under subsection (a) of this section to a person who owes delinquent property taxes, determined under G.S. 105-360, on property owned by the person. The ordinance may provide that a building permit may be issued to a person protesting the assessment or collection of property taxes."

SECTION 3. This act is effective when it becomes law.

HOUSE BILL 563:
Delinquent Tax - Deny Building Permit

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 28, 2009
Introduced by:	Rep. Spear	Prepared by:	Judy Collier
Analysis of:	Second Edition		Research Assistant

SUMMARY: House Bill 563[1] is a local bill that would authorize the Towns of Columbia and Edenton to prohibit the issuance of a building permit to a delinquent taxpayer.

CURRENT LAW: Both the counties and municipalities have statutory authority governing the issuance of permits within their jurisdiction.[2] In 2005, local legislation was enacted amending the county statute to authorize certain counties to prohibit the issuance of a building permit to a person who owes delinquent property taxes on property owned by the person. The 2005 legislation applied only to Greene, Lenoir, Iredell, Wayne, and Yadkin Counties. In 2006, Davie and Lincoln Counties were given authority. During the 2009 Session, House Bill 103 (= SB 79[3]), giving Alexander, Anson, Catawba, Chowan, and Tyrell Counties this authority, has passed the House and is in Senate Finance. House Bill 1000, adding Alleghany and Surry Counties, has also passed the House and is in Senate Finance.

The current statutory authority reads as follows:

> G.S. 153A-357(c) – A county may by ordinance provide that a permit may not be issued under subsection (a) of this section to a person who owes delinquent property taxes, determined under G.S. 105-360, on property owned by the person. Such ordinance may provide that a building permit may be issued to a person protesting the assessment or collection of property taxes.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 563 would amend G.S. 160A-417, governing a municipality's authority to issue a permit, by adding language to authorize the Towns of Columbia and Edenton to enact an ordinance to prohibit the issuance of a building permit to a delinquent taxpayer. The ordinance may provide that a building permit may be issued to a person protesting the assessment or collection of property taxes. The Town of Columbia is in Tyrrell County and the Town of Edenton is in Chowan County.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

[1] HB 563 received a favorable report to committee substitute from House Local Government II Committee on 04/13/2009 and a favorable report from House Finance Committee on 04/29/2009.

[2] G.S. 153A-357(Counties) and G.S. 160A-417(Municipalities) set out almost identical language governing the issuance of permits within the jurisdiction of counties and municipalities.

[3] SB 79 is in House Finance.

§ 160A-417. Permits.

(a) No person shall commence or proceed with:

(1) The construction, reconstruction, alteration, repair, movement to another site, removal, or demolition of any building or structure,

(2) The installation, extension, or general repair of any plumbing system,

(3) The installation, extension, alteration, or general repair of any heating or cooling equipment system, or

(4) The installation, extension, alteration, or general repair of any electrical wiring, devices, appliances, or equipment, without first securing from the inspection department with jurisdiction over the site of the work any and all permits required by the State Building Code and any other State or local laws applicable to the work. A permit shall be in writing and shall contain a provision that the work done shall comply with the State Building Code and all other applicable State and local laws. Nothing in this section shall require a city to review and approve residential building plans submitted to the city pursuant to Section R-110 of Volume VII of the North Carolina State Building Code; provided that the city may review and approve such residential building plans as it deems necessary. No permits shall be issued unless the plans and specifications are identified by the name and address of the author thereof, and if the General Statutes of North Carolina require that plans for certain types of work be prepared only by a registered architect or registered engineer, no permit shall be issued unless the plans and specifications bear the North Carolina seal of a registered architect or of a registered engineer. When any provision of the General Statutes of North Carolina or of any ordinance requires that work be done by a licensed specialty contractor of any kind, no permit for the work shall be issued unless the work is to be performed by such a duly licensed contractor. No permit issued under Articles 9 or 9C of Chapter 143 shall be required for any construction, installation, repair, replacement, or alteration costing five thousand dollars ($5,000) or less in any single family residence or farm building unless the work involves: the addition, repair or replacement of load bearing structures; the addition (excluding replacement of same size and capacity) or change in the design of plumbing; the addition, replacement or change in the design of heating, air conditioning, or electrical wiring, devices, appliances, or equipment; the use of materials not permitted by the North Carolina Uniform Residential Building Code; or the addition (excluding replacement of like grade of fire resistance) of roofing. Violation of this section shall constitute a Class 1 misdemeanor.

An Evaluation of North Carolina's Economic Development Incentive Programs

UNC Economic Incentives Analysis Findings

June 3 2009

Brent Lane, Director

UNC Center for Competitive Economies (C^3E)

Background

Joint Select Committee
On Economic Development Incentives

- Created mid 2007 in wake of prominent incentive deals: Google, Goodyear/Firestone
- Hired C^3E in January 2008 to examine incentives outcomes and recommend changes
- Multi-institutional approach utilizing colleagues from other UNC, NCSU and ECU

Incentive Portfolio Adjustment Recommendations

- Expand JDIG and One NC programs with increased amounts targeted to distressed counties
- Eliminate Article 3J statutory credits effective 2010
- Retain Research and Development Tax Credit
- Reduce corporate tax rate to competitive neutral rate
- Increase economic development research and marketing budgets for proactive targeting of growth firms
- Institute legislative oversight function for economic development programs

Key Legislative Questions

How have incentives been used?

Which incentives achieve the greatest return?

- Quality Job Creation
- Distressed Areas Benefit
- NC Competitiveness

Are there changes and/or alternatives that better achieve economic priorities?

NC Economic Incentive Types

Statutory Incentives

- Tax credits to qualifying businesses for job creation, training and investment

Lee Act and Article 3J

Discretionary Incentives

- Cash grants to new and expanding businesses for job creation and/or retention
- Job Development Investment Grant (JDIG)
- One North Carolina Fund

NC Incentives Portfolio

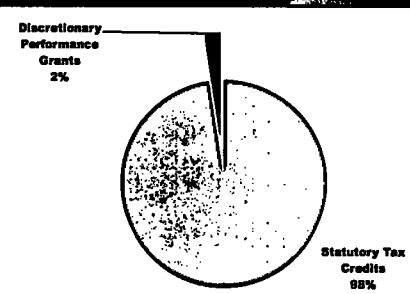
1996 - 2006: $2 billion in economic incentives

5,000+ incented companies form a "portfolio" of investment strategies

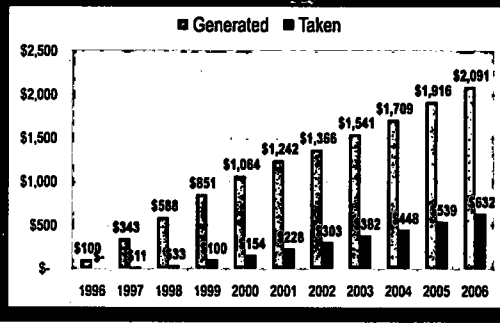
- Pre/post incentive quarterly employment and wage history for each incented firm (250,000 data points)
- Surveys/Case studies of incented firms

Which incentives /companies best achieve NC's economic development priorities?

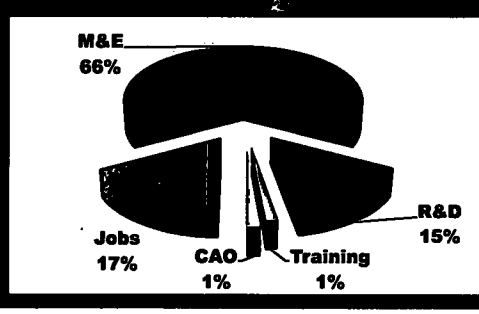
Incentive Portfolio Allocation



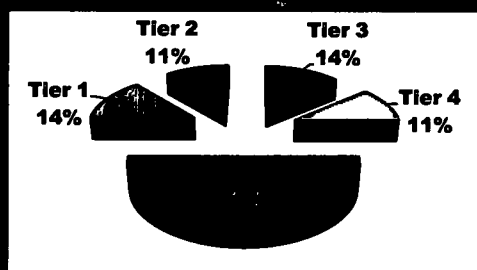
Lee Act "Costs" Have Exceeded $2 Billion



Lee Credits 1996-06 = $2.1 Billion



All Lee Credits - 2002-06 $875 Million



Incentives Have Limited Effect on Corporate Locations

- National surveys indicate incentives are relatively low in importance in location decisions
- Site Selection magazine (2008) survey of corporate executives ranked incentives eighth
- UNC survey of NC incented and non-incented ranked incentives 12th and 13th respectively
- Incentives do not compensate for inadequate workforce or infrastructure

Incentives are Most Persuasive When ...

- Other location factors are relatively equal
- Prospects are highly mobile (and more are)
- Tailored to companies' specific priorities
- Benefits are front-loaded (cash > credits)
- Combined with other assistance
- Before the auction starts – "proactivity reward"

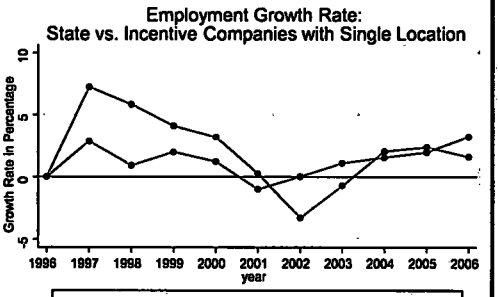
Incentives Have The Greatest Economic Benefit When...

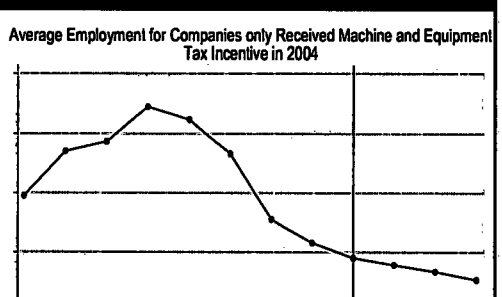
- Company employs local residents, minimizing new public service cost
- Company has high catalytic effect on local economy – "cluster fit"
- Company in growth mode – "new job upside"
- Company is a headquarters in an export industry – "wealth creation"
- Factors describe "targets of opportunity"

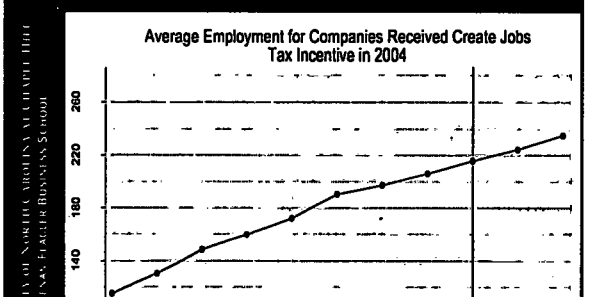
Updating NC's Incentive Portfolio

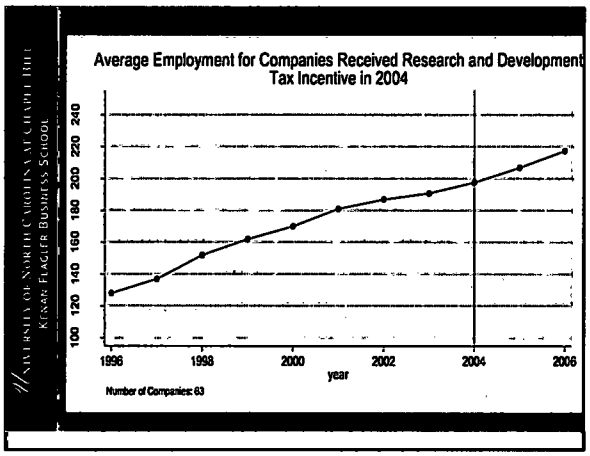
- Current incentive portfolio relies too much on tax credits that are less effective than in 1990s
- Few tax credit incented firms show job growth – most have same or fewer jobs after tax credits
- Most tax credits are for investment - strongly associated with job loss
- Even job creation tax credits show weak effect
- R&D credits best correlated with later job growth

The Carolina Center for Competitive Economies (C3E) Kenan Institute for Private Enterprise









Current Economy Favors Discretionary Incentives

Discretionary incentive programs have flexibility to address more current market priorities

- Tax credits require profits to use
- Discretionary incentives reduce capital/credit requirements
- Performance based incentives offer better accountability and enforcement
- Greater utility for strategic, proactive targeting

The Carolina Center for Competitive Economies (C3E) Kenan Institute for Private Enterprise

Incentive Portfolio Adjustment Recommendations

- Retain Research and Development Tax Credit
- Eliminate Article 3J statutory credits (scheduled to "sunset" in 2011) effective 2010
- Expand JDIG and One NC programs with increased amounts targeted to distressed counties
- Increase economic development research and marketing budgets for proactive targeting
- Institute legislative oversight function for economic development programs

Incentive Portfolio Adjustment Recommendations

- Expand JDIG/One NC with increased amounts targeted to distressed counties
- Eliminate Article 3J tax credits effective 2010
- Retain Research and Development Tax Credit
- Reduce corporate taxes to competitive neutral rate

Incentive "Targets of Opportunity"

Growth stage HQs fitting regional industry clusters

- Est'd firms with upside employment potential
- Proven rural location and workforce affinities
- Identify and exploit owners' "idiosyncratic externalities"
- Capture synergies in tourism/development marketing

NC Corporate Tax Rate

- UNC survey found executives preferred lower tax rate to selective tax incentives
- Rate reduction positive effect on more firms
- Reallocating incentives portfolio can support corporate tax rate reduction
- Reducing current 6.9% rate to competitive neutral rate of 6.5%

NC Corporate Tax Rate

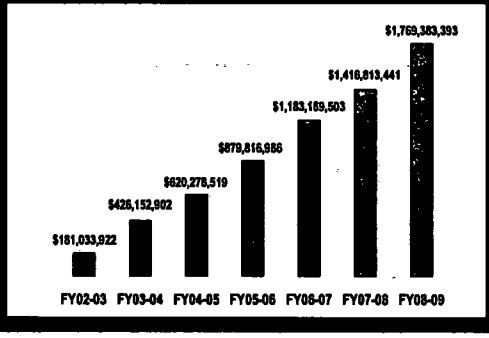
North Carolina	6.9%
Alabama	6.5%
Tennessee	6.5%
Georgia	6.0%
Virginia	6.0%
Florida	5.5%
South Carolina	5.0%

Legislative Oversight Needed

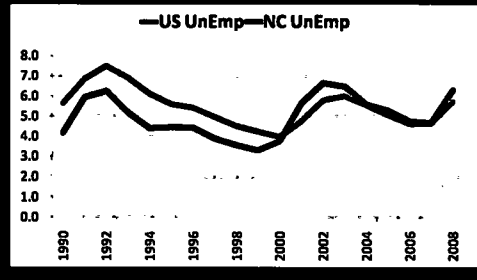
Institute legislative oversight for economic development

- Legislature funds economic development through many programs
- $1.77 Billion between FY02-03 and FY08-09
- Only $177,000 spent on oversight through Economic Development Board
- Program success may not equal NC success

NC Economic Development Spending (cumulative)

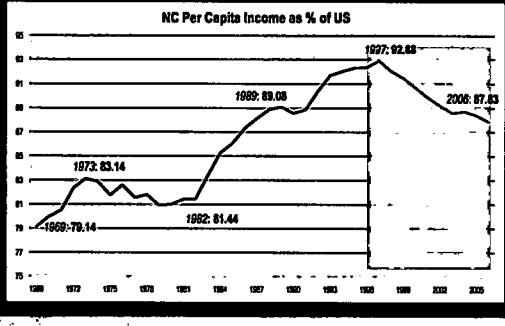


NC Unemployment 1990-2008



Declining Relative Per Capita Income

From 93% of US in 1997 to 87% in 2007



Legislative Oversight Function

Regular and informed assessment of NC economic goals achievement

- Updated state and regional economic data
- Defined NC economic goals and measures
- Alignment of program missions and state policies with strategic economic objectives
- Assessment of economic goals progress
- Direct legislative leadership and commitment

Economic Developers Feedback on Recommendations

- Five regional meetings with economic developers
- Meeting with presidents of regional partnerships
- 27 counties and 7 regions represented
- Presented study findings and recommendations
- Solicited feedback on incentive changes

Discretionary Incentive Feedback

JDIG

- Supported expansion to serve distressed counties
- Revise criteria to allow JDIG to be used for smaller projects in distressed counties
- Sought earlier and clearer incentive amount commitments

Discretionary Incentive Feedback

One NC Fund

- Viewed as most applicable of incentives
- Enthusiasm for program increase
- Favored reduction/elimination of the local match due to local vs. NC revenue mismatch
- Dissatisfaction with communications between local and Commerce developers

Tax Credit Elimination

Support for retention not uniform

- While often ineffective, credits can be influential in developer-led deals
- Economic value clearest in relocations
- Politically valuable for existing firms
- "Bait and switch" backlash
- Statutory nature has marketing "check list"
- Formal application process would enhance performance measurement

SENATE BILL 1073:
Amend Alarm Systems Licensing Act

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 3, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Snow	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to Second Edition S1073-CSTDf-49

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 1073 makes various amendments to the Alarm Systems Licensing Act, including authorizing a late registration fee and changing the Alarm Systems Recovery Fund to the Alarm Systems Education Fund.

The PCS to Senate Bill 1073 makes a technical change to conform language in this bill to a similar provision in SB 584: Amend Private Protective Services Act. SB 584 was given a favorable report by the Senate Finance Committee on May 27, 2009.

CURRENT LAW:

The Alarm Systems Licensing Act governs the licensing and registration of all persons engaged in the alarm systems business. The Board examines applicants, issues and renews licenses and registrations, disciplines licensees and registrants and is endowed with such other powers as are necessary to implement the Act. The Board is housed within the Department of Justice and staffed by Department employees. The Attorney General is an ex officio member of the Board and is authorized to appoint the Director. Any person who knowingly violates the Act or a rule of the Board is guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor. In addition, the Board is authorized to assess a civil penalty of up to $2,000.00 against a licensee or registrant for violation of the Act, in lieu of revoking or suspending the license or registration.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 1073 makes several changes to the Alarm Systems Licensing Act, including:

Section 1: Amends the section of the Act relating to who is required to be licensed under the Act by making the following changes:

- Amends the definition of the term "alarm system business" by removing the provision that a person selling alarm system devices must make a personal inspection of the interior of the residence or business to advise, design, or consult with the customer.
- Extends from 30 to 90 days the time within which the business must identify a new qualifying agent when the original qualifying agent ceases to serve.
- Clarifies that the Board may request a criminal record check from the Department of Justice for a renewal applicant based on the applicant's fingerprints in accordance with policy adopted by the Board.

Section 2: Amends the section of the Act relating to exemptions. This section authorizes a licensee to hire an unlicensed consultant to troubleshoot in a specific location for a period of up to 48 hours within a one-month period. The licensee must submit a report on this activity to the Board within 30 days of the consultation.

Section 3: Clarifies that an investigation of a complaint under this Act is deemed confidential and not subject to the Public Records Law until released to the Board upon its completion. However, the report can be released to the licensee before being presented to the Board.

Section 4: Provides that a licensee must notify the Board before making changes to a branch office.

This section also authorizes the Board to charge a late registration fee of up to $20.00 for an application submitted no more than 30 days after the expiration of the registration. After 30 days, the applicant must be registered as a new applicant.

Section 5: Extends from 20 to 30 days the time within which a licensee must register a new employee. In order to register the employee, the licensee must submit (i) the applicant's fingerprints, (ii) a recent color photograph of the applicant, (iii) and statements of any criminal records deemed appropriate by the Board.

Section 6: Expands the list of activities for which the Board may take disciplinary action to include:

- Having previously been denied or had revoked a license or registration under the Act.
- Engaging in the alarm system business under a different name than appears on the license.
- Advertising or soliciting business under a different name than appears on the license.
- Failing or refusing to cooperate with the Board during an investigation of a complaint.
- Failing to disclose information or provide documents required by the Act or the Board.
- Engaging in conduct that constitutes a dereliction of duty or deceives, defrauds, or harms the public in the course of providing professional services.
- Demonstrating a lack of financial responsibility.

Section 7: Amends the provision relating to enforcement of the Act by adding a provision that a contract for sale, installation, or service of an alarm system entered into by an unlicensed or unregistered person is a threat to public safety, and the contract shall be deemed void and unenforceable.

Section 8: Adds a new section to the law requiring that a licensee must be able to prove that the business' license is valid and that the employee or agent is properly registered in order to commence or maintain an action to collect compensation. This provision also makes it an unfair and deceptive trade practice to engage in the alarm systems business without a license or registration.

Section 9: Amends the title of Article 2A to the "Alarm Systems Education Fund".

Section 10: Amends Article 2 of the Act to change the Alarm Systems Recovery Fund to the Alarm Systems Education Fund. Since 1985, the Board has administered a fund for the payment of claims by a person who has suffered monetary loss as a result of the actions of a licensee. The Board was authorized to charge licensees a $50 fee to maintain the fund at the level of at least $100,000. This section changes the purpose of the fund to provide exclusively for the education of licensees and registrants and lowers the maintenance level from $100,000 to $25,000.

Section 11: Repeals sections of Article 2 which define the procedure for the Board to determine claims on the fund and to make payments where appropriate.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act becomes effective October 1, 2009, and applies to licenses or registrations issued or renewed on or after that date.

In order to register the employee, the licensee must submit (i) the applicant's fingerprints, (ii) a recent color photograph of the applicant, (iii) and statements of any criminal records deemed appropriate by the Board.

Section 6. - Expands the list of activities for which the Board may take disciplinary action to include:

- Having previously been denied or had revoked a license or registration under the Act.
- Engaging in the alarm system business under a different name than appears on the license.
- Advertising or soliciting business under a different name than appears on the license.
- Failing or refusing to cooperate with the Board during an investigation of a complaint.
- Failing to disclose information or provide documents required by the Act or the Board.
- Engaging in conduct that constitutes a dereliction of duty or deceives, defrauds, or harms the public in the course of providing professional services.
- Demonstrating a lack of financial responsibility.

Section 7. - Amends the provision relating to enforcement of the Act by adding a provision that a contract for sale, installation, or service of an alarm system entered into by an unlicensed or unregistered person is a threat to public safety, and the contract shall be deemed void and unenforceable.

Section 8. - Adds a new section to the law requiring that a licensee must be able to prove that the business' license is valid and that the employee or agent is properly registered in order to commence or maintain an action to collect compensation. This provision also makes it an unfair and deceptive trade practice to engage in the alarm systems business without a license or registration.

Section 9. - Amends the title of Article 2A to the "Alarm Systems Education Fund".

Section 10. - Amends Article 2 of the Act to change the Alarm Systems Recovery Fund to the Alarm Systems Education Fund. Since 1985, the Board has administered a fund for the payment of claims by a person who has suffered monetary loss as a result of the actions of a licensee. The Board was authorized to charge licensees a $50.00 fee to maintain the fund at the level of at least $100,000. This section changes the purpose of the fund to provide exclusively for the education of licensees and registrants and lowers the maintenance level from $100,000.00 to $25,000.

Section 11. - Repeals sections of Article 2 which define the procedure for the Board to determine claims on the fund and to make payments where appropriate.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:
Senate Bill 1073 makes various amendments to the Alarm Systems Licensing Act, including allowing the NC Alarm Systems Licensing Board to levy a $20.00 late registration fee. According to the Board, they typically receive around 30 late applications each year. The number of late applications multiplied by the $20 late fee results in the expected revenue increase. This results in a $600.00 revenue increase in FY 2009-10. Aside from the new fee, Senate Bill 1073 is not expected to have any additional fiscal impact.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: North Carolina Home Inspector Licensure Board

EFFECTIVE DATE: Sections 1, 2, 3, 6, 6.1, and 7 of this act become effective October 1, 2009. Except as otherwise provided, the remainder of this act is effective when it becomes law.

BILL SUMMARY:

Senate Bill 1007 amends GS 143-151.51(a) to add new requirements for becoming licensed as a home inspector. Enacts GS 143-151.51(c) providing that all home inspectors licensed on or before September 30, 2011 must complete an abbreviated licensing education program prescribed by the Board, but certain home inspectors may apply for a waiver. Effective September 30, 2011, it repeals GS 143-151.49(b), which requires the North Carolina Code Official Qualification Board (Board), in developing licensing examination, to emphasize knowledge gained through experience.

The bill enacts GS 143-151.51(b) requiring applicants to submit evidence of certain general liability insurance and either minimum net assets, a bond, or certain errors and omissions insurance. It also repeals, effective September 30, 2011, GS 143-151.51(a)(3), which requires an applicant for a license as a home inspector to have minimum net assets or a bond in an amount to be determined by the Board. Instead, effective September 30, 2011, the bill amends GS 143-151.51 to add subsection (a1), requiring an applicant who has satisfactorily completed the licensing requirements in subsection (a), to submit evidence to the Board that the applicant has general liability insurance in the amount of $250,000 and one of the following: (1) minimum net assets in an amount determined by the Board, (2) a bond in an amount determined by the Board, and (3) error or omissions insurance in the amount of $250,000. Senate Bill 1007 provides additional guidelines as to minimum and maximum amounts for net assets and the bond.

The bill enacts GS 143-151.51(d), requiring all associate licensed home inspectors with an active license on October 1, 2011, to complete specified steps to receive a home inspector license. Effective on September 1, 2009, it amends GS 143-151.54 to require reporting by license holders who are convicted of felonies or misdemeanors or are disciplined by any governmental agency in connection with an occupational or professional license, and the bill amends GS 143-151.55 pertaining to license renewals, inactive licenses, and lapsed licenses. It directs all licensed associate home inspectors with an active license to complete one of two options for licensure and pass the licensing exam prescribed by the Board (was, complete either of the two options) prior to the issuance of a home inspector license by the Board. The bill provides that if an associate home inspector fails to complete the requirements of proposed GS 143-151.51(c) before October 1, 2013, the Board will cancel the associate home inspector's license. Beginning September 30, 2011, prohibits the Board from issuing new associate home inspector licenses, but permits the Board to renew existing associate home licenses on September 30, 2012. Makes conforming changes, effective September 30, 2013, to GS 143-151.50, 143-151.55(d), 143-151.57(a), 143-151.58(a), and 143-151.58(a1) and (a2) to delete references to the licensing of associate home inspector. Also makes conforming changes to delete references to an associate home inspector or an associate home inspector license by repealing the following, effective September 30, 2013: GS 143-151.45(1), 143-151.52, 143-158(c), and 143-151.61.

Effective October 1, 2011, Senate Bill 1007 amends GS 143-151.56, authorizing the Board to take action including denying or refusing to issue or renew a license when a person has failed to comply with the requirements in GS 143-151.51. It amends GS 143-151.57 to provide that applicants may take the examination only once every 180 days. Also effective on October 1, 2011, the bill amends GS 143-151.58 to require (1) inspectors to provide a summary page with each written report of the home inspection for each pre-purchase home inspection of three or more systems; (2) that if an inspector includes a deficiency in the written report that is stated as a violation of the State Residential Building Code, the inspector must determine the construction dates of the home State and municipal building codes in effect at the time of construction and must conduct the home inspection using the building codes in effect at the time of the construction; and (3) licensed home inspectors must maintain general liability insurance as required by G.S. 143-151.

Effective September 1, 2009, the bill amends GS 143-151.64(a) pertaining to continuing education requirements. The bill repeals GS 143-151.51(a)(3) and (5) effective September 30, 2011, and G.S. 143-151.52 effective September 30, 2013. It makes additional clarifying, organizational, and technical changes to the Home Inspector Licensure. And it amends GS 143-151.58 to modify the content required for the summary page of the home inspection report.

The proposed committee substitute to Senate Bill 1007 increases the total number of continuing education requirements of licensed home inspectors, requires licensed home inspectors to compete an education program focused on inspection technique and reporting requirements, authorizes the Home Inspector Licensure Board to establish an education program to replace the associate home inspector license, requires licensed home inspectors to maintain certain insurance requirements, and requires licensed home inspectors in include certain information in home inspection reports.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

According to the North Carolina Home Inspector Licensure Board, there are currently 1,425 licensed home inspectors and 99 licensed associate home inspectors in the state. Effective September 20, 2013, there will no longer be an associate home inspector license. Assuming that all 99 current associate home inspectors fulfill the requirements of becoming a licensed home inspector, the amount of fees collected would increase by less than $5,000 for FY2013-14.

Co-Chairs and Senators:

My name is Ted Triebel and I was appointed by Speaker Hackney, in July 2008, as the "Public Member" of the NC Home Inspector Licensure Board (NCHILB).

The Board's position, and qualified opposition, to this proposed Bill was formally adopted at our May 8 meeting. The position is posted on our NCHILB web site, and it was also emailed to your offices. I would happy to provide copies if you desire.

This bill is an extensive re-write of exisitng statues with numerous implications, many we have yet to determine. The proposed legislation was essentially developed by lobbyists for the North Carolina Association of Realtors, the North Carolina Home Builders Association, and two Home Inspector Associations in North Carolina [NC-ASHI; NCLHIA] Among other provisions the Home Inspector Licensure Board is legally charged with determining the qualifications of home inspector applicants and implementing new legislation. Our Board was not consulted on this proposed legislation. You can see several of our serious concerns by reading the Board's formal position of May 8.

This legislation (S1007), as crafted by special interests, does not in our view represent the best interests of the citizens of North Carolina. Nor does it represent the opinion of the great majority of home inspectors in this state.

It is the Board's primary responsibility to represent the interests of the public. We trust that you will carefully consider our opposition to aspects of this proposed legislation and make appropriate changes, or delay it for further study. Our Board is fully ready to help with such a process.

I'm pleased to try to answer any questions you may have, or find out the answers.

Thank you.
Ted Triebel

(d) Duties of Transporter. – A person to whom a shipping document was issued must do all of the following:

(1) Carry the shipping document in the conveyance for which it was issued when transporting the motor fuel described in it.

(2) Show the shipping document to a law enforcement officer upon request when transporting the motor fuel described in it.

(3) Deliver motor fuel described in the shipping document to the destination state printed on it unless the person does all of the following:

a. Notifies the Secretary before transporting the motor fuel into a state other than the printed destination state that the person has received instructions since the shipping document was issued to deliver the motor fuel to a different destination state.

b. Receives from the Secretary a confirmation number authorizing the diversion.

c. Writes on the shipping document the change in destination state and the confirmation number for the diversion.

(4) Give a copy of the shipping document to the distributor or other person to whom the motor fuel is delivered.

(e) Duties of Person Receiving Shipment. – A person to whom motor fuel is delivered by railroad tank car or transport truck may not accept delivery of the motor fuel if the destination state shown on the shipping document for the motor fuel is a state other than North Carolina. To determine if the shipping document shows North Carolina as the destination state, the person to whom the fuel is delivered must examine the shipping document and must keep a copy of the shipping document. The person must keep a copy at the place of business where the motor fuel was delivered for 90 days from the date of delivery and must keep it at that place or another place for at least three years from the date of delivery. A person who accepts delivery of motor fuel in violation of this subsection is jointly and severally liable for any tax due on the fuel.

(f) Sanctions Against Transporter. – The ~~following~~ acts listed in this subsection are grounds for a civil ~~penalty:~~penalty. The penalty is payable to the agency that assessed the penalty and is payable by the person in whose name the conveyance is registered, if the conveyance is a transport truck, and is payable by the person responsible for the movement of motor fuel in the conveyance, if the conveyance is a railroad tank car. The amount of the penalty is five thousand dollars ($5,000). A penalty imposed under this subsection is in addition to any motor fuel tax assessed. The grounds for a civil penalty are:

(1) Transporting motor fuel in a railroad tank car or transport truck without a shipping document or with a false or an incomplete shipping document.

(2) Delivering motor fuel to a destination state other than that shown on the shipping document.

~~The penalty is payable to the agency that assessed the penalty and is payable by the person in whose name the conveyance is registered, if the conveyance is a transport truck, and is payable by the person responsible for the movement of motor fuel in the conveyance, if the conveyance is a railroad tank car. The amount of the penalty is five thousand dollars ($5,000). A penalty imposed under this subsection is in addition to any motor fuel tax assessed.~~

(g) Penalty Defense. – Compliance with the conditions set out in this subsection is a defense to a civil penalty imposed under subsection (f) of this section as a result of the delivery of fuel to a state other than the destination state printed on the shipping document for the fuel. The Secretary must waive a penalty imposed against a person under that subsection if the person establishes a defense under this subsection. The conditions for the defense are:

(1) The person notified the Secretary of the diversion and received a confirmation number for the diversion before the imposition of the penalty.

(2) Tax was timely paid on the diverted fuel, unless the person is a motor fuel transporter.

(h) ~~Sanctions Against Terminal Operator.~~ Sanctions. – The Secretary may assess a civil penalty of five thousand dollars ($5,000) against a ~~terminal operator~~ person who intentionally issues a shipping document that does not satisfy the requirements of subsection (b) of this section."

SECTION 34.(b) This section becomes effective January 1, 2010.

SECTION 35. G.S. 105-449.121(b)(2) reads as rewritten:

A tax at the equivalent of the motor fuel rate is imposed on all other alternative fuel used to operate a highway vehicle. The Secretary must determine the equivalent rate. The exemptions from the tax on motor fuel in ~~G.S. 105-449.88(2), (3), and (4)~~ G.S. 105-449.88 apply to the tax imposed by this section. The refunds for motor fuel tax allowed by Part 5 of Article 36C of this Chapter apply to the tax imposed by this section, except that the refund allowed by G.S. 105-449.107(b) for certain vehicles that use power takeoffs does not apply to a vehicle whose use of alternative fuel is taxed on the basis of miles driven. The proceeds of the tax imposed by this section must be allocated in accordance with G.S. 105-449.125."

SENATE BILL 509:
Rev Laws Tech, Clarifying, & Admin. Changes

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 2, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Hartsell	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S509-CSRBx-33

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 509[1] makes several technical, clarifying, and administrative changes to the revenue laws and related statutes. The proposed committee substitute adds the provisions highlighted in the chart.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 509 makes the following technical, clarifying, and administrative changes:

Section	Explanation
Privilege License, Income, Excise, and Insurance Tax Changes
1	Clarifies the privilege license tax on home inspectors applies to an individual licensed under the Home Inspector Licensure Act so that associate home inspectors will be taxed similarly. S.L. 2008-206 imposed an annual State privilege license tax of $50 on a licensed home inspector but it failed to mention associate home inspectors. Without this change, an associate home inspector would be subject to local privilege license tax in each city that levies the tax.
2	Moves the definitions from subsection (b) to a newly created subsection (b1). The current subsection (b) contains two different subdivision lists within the same subsection. This change puts the defined terms, listed by subdivisions, into a new subsection.
3	Clarifies that a recycling facility[2] that is eligible for the tax credit for investing in large or major recycling facility is not also eligible for the Article 3J tax credit for investing in business property. This section becomes for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2007, the year the Article 3J tax credits became effective.
4	Changes the term 'nonbusiness activities' to 'activities producing nonapportionable income', which is a defined term in the statute that sets out the manner in which corporations must allocate and apportion their income to North Carolina for income tax purposes. In 2002, the terms 'business income' and 'nonbusiness income' were replaced by apportionable and nonapportionable. This subsection was missed when those changes were made.
5	Clarifies that a corporate taxpayer may not use an alternative apportionment method unless it receives a written decision from the Secretary authorizing it to do so.
6	Corrects an effective date relating to changes made to the statute designating who may sign an income tax return. These changes were originally part of the major rewrite of the tax appeals procedure in 2007 (SB 242).
7	Repeals an unnecessary statute in the corporate and personal income tax laws. The

[1] H553, as introduced by Rep. Wainwright, is the House companion bill. H553 is currently in House Finance

[2] The General Assembly enacted the credit as a tax incentive for Nucor in 1985.

	Department of Revenue does not ask taxpayers to file a 'supplemental' return. A taxpayer files either an original return or an amended return. If the Department determines additional tax is due, it proposes an assessment.
8	Clarifies the reporting requirements for the film industry credit. The term 'claimed' may have several different meanings. The Department of Revenue requested clarity as to the meaning of the term.
9	Changes the date by which the State Treasurer must make a transfer from the General Fund to the North Carolina Health Insurance Risk Pool Fund. The current statute provides that within 75 days after the end of each fiscal year, the Treasurer must transfer to the Fund an amount equal to the growth in net revenue from the gross premiums tax on insurance companies. Insurance tax returns are due by March 15. Insurance companies are also required to prepay their tax in installments. The first installment of the fiscal year is due by October 15. Therefore, until those installments are remitted, little or no funds are available for transfer. This section changes the date from within 75 days after the end of the fiscal year, or September 14, to November 1, as recommended by the Department of Revenue.
Sales and Use Tax and Highway Use Tax Changes
10	Updates the reference to the Streamlined Agreement from June 23, 2007 to May 12, 2009. North Carolina does not need to amend its sales and use tax laws to conform to the changes made in the Agreement since June 23, 2007. A copy of the Agreement, as well as a document summarizing the changes made to the Agreement since June 23, 2007, may be found on the Streamlined Sales Tax Project's website: www.streamlinedsalestax.org
11	Makes two conforming changes to the general sales tax sourcing principles. It provides that direct mail is sourced to the location where the property is delivered, and if that is unknown, it is sourced to the location from which the direct mail was shipped. This change ensures compliance with the Streamlined Agreement. This section also codifies the long-standing sourcing method used for florist wire sales: the sale is sourced to the business location of the florist that takes the order for the sale.
12	Repeals an unnecessary sales tax exemption. GS 105-164.13(40) exempts sales to the Department of Transportation from sales tax; however, subdivision (52) exempts all sales to State agencies from sales tax. S.L. 2003-431 allowed a sale and use tax exemption, instead of a sales and use tax refund, for purchases by State agencies. The exemption for DOT predated this exemption. It is no longer necessary.
13	Replaces the word 'energy' with the word 'electricity' for consistency. This term appears in the statute enacted last year authorizing a sales tax refund for materials used to build a facility that manufactures solar electricity generating materials. This section is effective July 1, 2008, the effective date of the original provision.
14	Provides a new distribution methodology for the allocation of sales tax collected o modular homes to local governments. The methodology currently references the distribution under the third ½ cent local sales and use tax; but this tax is repealed effective October 1, 2009. A 2.5% State sales tax applies to the sale of a modular home. Twenty percent of the tax collected is distributed to the counties. This amounts to approximately $1 million annually. This section provides that 20% of the sales tax collected on modular homes will be allocated to the counties on a per capita basis, and distributed to the county and its municipalities as provided in the first ½ cent local sales tax.

15	Repeals an unnecessary highway use tax exemption. A transfer of a motor vehicle to a handicapped person from the Department of Health and Human Services after the vehicle is equipped by the Department for use by the handicapped is exempt from highway use tax. The exemption is not needed because the Department never takes title to the vehicle.
16	Corrects two incorrect statutory references.
17	Clarifies how a bundled transaction that includes food is taxed under the local option ¼ cent county sales tax article. See GS 105-164.4D.
Property Tax Changes
18	Reinserts the word 'shares', which was inadvertently deleted when changes were made in 2008 to the circuit breaker statute.
19	Modernizes language..
20(a)	Clarifies that the homestead exclusion applies uniformly to a husband and wife, regardless of how they hold title to the property. This subsection becomes effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2009.
20(b)	Makes the following clarifying and technical changes to the homestead circuit breaker: • Clarifies that the property owned by a qualifying owner must have been the owner's permanent residence for at least five consecutive years but that the owner's five-year occupancy does not have to be consecutive. • Clarifies that the occupancy and ownership requirement refers to "length" of occupancy and ownership. • Clarifies that law applies uniformly to a husband and wife, regardless of how they hold title to the property. • Removes an unnecessary word. • Clarifies that only the deferred taxes for the last three years prior to the disqualifying event become due and payable. • Clarifies that notice of the sum of deferred taxes and interest that are due and payable must be sent annually to the mailing address of the residence subject to the circuit breaker benefit as opposed to mailing notice to each owner of the property. This subsection becomes effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2009.
20(c)	Makes the following clarifying changes to the disabled veteran homestead exclusion: • Adds a definition for "qualifying owner" • Provides that a disabled veteran must have "separated" instead of "been discharged" from a branch of the Armed Forces. This change more clearly reflects the language used by the Armed Forces. • Provides that the term 'disabled veteran' includes a veteran whose separation was under honorable conditions. The Division of Veterans Affairs would like to expand the definition to include both veterans honorably discharged and discharged under honorable conditions. The Department of Revenue would like clarification. An honorable characterization is appropriate when the quality of the member's service generally has met the standards of acceptable conduct and performance of duty for military personnel, or is otherwise so meritorious that any other characterization would be clearly inappropriate. Separation under honorable conditions is warranted when the positive aspects of the service member's conduct or performance of duty outweigh negative aspects of the service member's conduct or performance of duty as documented in the member's service record. • Clarifies that the surviving spouse of a disabled veteran is eligible for the exclusion as long as the spouse does not remarry and the disabled veteran had the service connected, permanent, and total disability prior to the date of death. • Expands eligibility to a surviving spouse of a disabled veteran when the veteran's death was the result of a service-connected condition. • Clarifies that the exclusion is available to a disabled veteran who "received" instead of "receives" federal benefits to adapt his or her housing, since these benefits are generally a one-time payment. • Clarifies that the exclusion applies uniformly to a husband and wife, regardless of how they hold title to the property. This subsection becomes effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2009.

21	Makes the following conforming changes to the statute that sets out the application procedure for property tax exemptions: • Adds drug samples to the list of exempt property not requiring an application, effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2008. (subsections b and c) • Adds solar energy electric systems to the list of property excluded from taxation that must file a single application, effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2008. (subsection c) • Adds working waterfront property to the list of property classified for taxation at reduced valuation that must file a single application, effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2009. (subsection d) • Adds wildlife conservation to the list of property classified for taxation at reduced valuation that must file a single application, effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2010. (subsection e)

under the combined system: motor vehicles issued permanent registration plates and self-propelled property-carrying vehicles issued three-month registration plates at the farmer rate.

- G.S. 105-330.2 – Subsection (a) adds language clarifying the period in which the value of a classified motor vehicle is determined so that the date of valuation will continue to be January 1. Adds language that if the value cannot be determined on January 1, then the value will be the most currently available January 1 retail value of the vehicle. Subsection (b) adds language that the initial appraised value of a vehicle purchased from a dealer is the sales price, including all accessories attached to the vehicle. Subsection (c) clarifies the right to appeal the appraised value or taxability of a vehicle by requiring that this right must be set out in the combined tax and registration notice or the tax receipt and by giving the lessee of a motor vehicle the right to appeal the value if the lessee is required to pay the tax on the vehicle under the terms of the lease. Clarifies that situs of a vehicle is determined on the date registration is applied for or renewed and may not be changed until the next registration date.
- G.S. 105-330.3 - Add subdivision headings, and adds subsection (d) setting out penalty for willfully attempting or to aid or abet any person to evade or defeat the taxes imposed under Article 22A.
- G.S. 105-330.4 – Subsection (a) adds language clarifying that taxes on a classified motor vehicle and registered under the annual system are due on the date a new registration is applied for or 45 days after the registration expires and removes unnecessary language. Subsection (b) deletes unnecessary language. Subsection (c) amends the law regarding enforcement remedies for unpaid taxes.
- G.S. 105-330.5 – Subsection (a) gives the Department the authority to select a third party contractor to prepare and mail combined tax and registration notice; clarifies that if there is a pre-payment of taxes, the tax rate used will be the rate in effect on the date the taxes are computed; and adds clarifying language to the combined tax and registration notice regarding the time to appeal and instructions for payment. It provides that the combined tax and registration notice will serve as the registration certificate for a vehicle issued a limited registration plate. Subsection (b) clarifies that the definition of "owner" is the same definition of "owner" in Chapter 20, which include the lessee of the vehicle, so the lessee will receive the combined notice; clarifies that the fee for sending the combined notice also includes the actual cost of preparing the notice; clarifies that the collecting authority "receives" not "retains" a fee for collecting the taxes and fees; and deletes unnecessary language. Subsection (d) clarifies that that taxes on motor vehicles be included in the tax levy for the fiscal year in which the taxes are collected, since owners are able to renew their tags six months early or late; and adds a new subsection (e) stating how small underpayments and overpayments will be handled.
- G.S. 105-330.6 no changes.
- G.S. 105-330.7 no change
- G.S. 105-330.8 clarifies that G.S. 105-321(f) (Minimal Taxes) and G.S. 105-360 (Due date; interest for nonpayment of taxes; discounts for prepayment) do not apply to Article 22A when the integrated computer system is in operation
- G.S. 105-330.9 – Adds subdivision headings.

	• G.S. 105-330.10 no change • G.S. 105-330.11 adds clarifying language. Subsection (b) amends G.S 20-79.1A to add clarifying language that a limited registration plate may be used only on the vehicle for which issued, and that if lost or stolen, a replacement limited registration plate or regular plate must be received and attached to the vehicle before it can be driven. This is identical to language governing temporary registration plates.
23	This section corrects effective date errors and provides that the changes made by the section become effective July 1, 2011. It removes the provision that would hasten the effective date upon certification by the Division of Motor Vehicles of the Department of Transportation and the Department of Revenue that the integrated computer system for registration renewal and property tax collection for motor vehicles is in operation. This contingency is not likely to happen before July 1, 2011. The provision specifically provides that nothing in this section will require the General Assembly to appropriate funds to implement it for the biennium ending June 30, 2011.
24	Clarifies that the amount of taxes that a tax collector must report on a tax certificate includes any deferred taxes that would become due if a disqualifying event occurs.
25	Changes the word 'resolution' to 'ordinance' to reflect that cities adopt ordinances; counties adopt resolutions. The section provides that a tax levied prior to the effective date of this legislation remains valid and in effect until amended or repealed, regardless of what the city called the action: either a resolution or an ordinance. This section also removes the reference to the 'city finance officer' because in some instances, the city contracts with the county to collect this tax.
Occupancy Tax Changes
26	Adds a Session Law reference that was inadvertently omitted when the Cherokee County local occupancy tax act was amended last year. In 2007, a number of local occupancy tax local acts were amended to change the due date for remitting occupancy tax proceeds and filing returns from the 15th to the 20th of the month to conform to current sales tax statutes. The Cherokee County local occupancy tax act was one of the acts so amended. However, when the rest of the local act was amended in 2008, the 2007 change was not incorporated. To make this technical change, the entire local act must be set out under drafting convention. However, no substantive change is being made.
27	Corrects an incorrect Session Law reference.
28	Adds to S.L. 2005-68, a Session Law reference to the 2007 act referenced above that made changes to a number of local occupancy tax acts related to the due date of the tax and return. S.L. 2005-68 is the act that authorized the additional occupancy tax to finance the NASCAR Hall of Fame Museum.
Motor Fuel Tax Changes
29	Provides the Secretary with the ability to mandate electronic filing of motor carrier tax returns. The Secretary may currently mandate electronic filing of motor fuel tax returns.

	The Department developed an online filing system for motor carrier returns six years ago. To date, voluntary compliance is around 19%. This section becomes effective January 1, 2010.
30	Inserts a missing word.
31	Provides an exception to the requirement that a distributor, importer, or motor fuel transporter must obtain a bond or irrevocable letter of credit when the person is supplying motor fuel into the State because the market for motor fuel has been disrupted and emergency supplies are needed, as identified by an executive order of the Governor. The bonding requirement became an issue during the recent motor fuel supply shortages in the western part of the State.
32	Specifies that the tax on fuel grade ethanol is payable by the refiner or fuel alcohol provider. The difference between a refiner and a fuel alcohol provider is the amount of fuel the person produces. A refiner is a person who produces an average of more than 500,000 gallons a month; a person who produces less than this amount is a fuel alcohol provider. This section changes the law enacted last year in S.L. 2008-134 that specified when fuel grade ethanol was subject to tax. Effective January 1, 2009, the fuel is taxable when it was removed from a terminal or when it is produced in the State or imported to the State and not delivered to a terminal. However, the Department has had difficulty administering this provision. Ethanol is primarily shipped by railroad tank car and once imported into the State the ethanol may not be off-loaded for weeks. Since the tax is imposed upon importation, this delay in off-loading creates a loop-hole for filers. This section provides that the ethanol produced in this State is taxable when it is removed from the storage facility at the production location; ethanol produced outside the State is taxable when it is imported to the State. Prior to 2009, fuel grade ethanol was first subject to tax when it was blended. This section becomes effective January 1, 2010.
33	Changes the hold harmless refund from a quarterly one the Department calculates and administers to a monthly one the taxpayer requests. This section becomes effective January 1, 2010, and applies to motor fuel purchased on or after that date.
34	Requires a shipping document to transport fuel grade ethanol since the ethanol is now subject to tax before it is blended. This section accomplishes this change by expanding the statute to include refiners and fuel alcohol providers. This section also recognizes that the content of a shipping document issued for motor fuel transported by railroad tank car differs from a one issued for fuel transported by transport trucks. This section becomes effective January 1, 2010.
35	Corrects a misspelled word.
36	Conforms the tax exemptions for alternative fuel to the tax exemptions for motor fuel.
Other Changes
37	Corrects an incorrect statutory reference. The statute cited was repealed in 2006.
38	Repeals the session law that created the Economic Development Reserve and its exemption from rule-making. The Reserve had a one-time appropriation. The money in the fund has been drawn down. The Reserve has served its intended purpose and is no longer necessary.
39	Corrects the prefatory language of Section 28.19.(a) of S.L. 2008-107.

40	Corrects the prefatory language of Section 28.25.(c) of S.L. 2008-107.
41	Corrects an incorrect statutory reference.
42	Corrects the effective date sections in S.L. 2008-146 to refer to 'Parts' rather than 'sections'.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO VALIDATE THE SCHEDULE OF VALUES USED TO APPRAISE REAL PROPERTY FOR THE TAXABLE YEAR BEGINNING JULY 1, 2009, BY A COUNTY THAT ADOPTED A RESOLUTION TO POSTPONE A 2009 REAPPRAISAL BETWEEN JANUARY 1, 2009, AND MARCH 31, 2009.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Notwithstanding G.S. 105-285 and G.S. 105-317, a county may change the value of real property after January 1, 2009, effective for the taxable year beginning July 1, 2009, based upon the schedule of values used to appraise real property in the county for its last reappraisal if the county adopted a resolution to postpone a 2009 reappraisal between January 1, 2009, and March 31, 2009. This authorization does not affect the requirement in G.S. 105-286 to reappraise property at least once every eight years. If a county changes its values of real property pursuant to this section, the schedule of values adopted by the board of county commissioners and used to appraise real property in the county for its last reappraisal will remain the schedule of values to be used to appraise real property until the county reappraises all real property in accordance with G.S. 105-286.

SECTION 2. This act is effective when it becomes law.

HOUSE BILL 1530:
Rescind Advanced Property Tax Appraisal

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 9, 2009
Introduced by:	Reps. Cole, Holloway, Burr, Starnes	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to Second Edition H1530-CSRB-35

SUMMARY: The proposed committee substitute for House Bill 1530 validates a resolution adopted by a county between January 1, 2009, and March 31, 2009, to change the schedule of values used to appraise real property in the county for the taxable year beginning July 1, 2009. The bill is effective when it becomes law.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 105-285(d) requires the value of real property to be determined as of January 1of the year of a reappraisal of property. G.S. 105-317(c) requires the schedule of values used to appraise real property to be approved by the board of county commissioners before January 1 of the year they are applied. The statutes do not provide a means to change the schedule of values used to appraise real property once the schedule becomes effective on January 1.

BILL ANALYSIS: At least three counties, Caldwell, Rockingham, and Stanly Counties, adopted a resolution between January 1, 2009, and March 31, 2009, to rescind the 2009 tax appraisal. The counties reinstated the schedule of values used to appraise real property adopted for its last reappraisal and changed the property tax values accordingly. An advisory opinion from the Attorney General's office found that the resolutions purporting to postpone the 2009 reappraisal were void and of no effect. County and municipal budgets must be submitted by June 1 of each year and the budgets must be adopted by July 1 of each year. In formulating their budgets and tax rates for the taxable year beginning July 1, 2009, these three counties and the municipalities in them have used the reinstated schedule of values. The PCS for House Bill 1530 validates the resolutions adopted by these three counties so that those counties, and the municipalities in them, can proceed with their budgets and tax levies for the taxable year beginning July 1, 2009.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This bill is effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: Real property reappraisals must be conducted at least once every eight years. The purpose of a reappraisal is to help a county fairly and equitably distribute the tax burden between the different classes of property. To accomplish this purpose, a county may voluntarily advance its reappraisal schedule to a shorter cycle by passing a resolution setting a different reappraisal cycle. A county that has an advanced it reappraisal cycle may also pass a resolution to go back to a longer cycle, so long as the octennial requirement continues to be met.

Caldwell, Rockingham, and Stanly Counties had an advanced reappraisal schedule. All three counties approved a schedule of values prior to January 1, 2009, and conducted reappraisals for the 2009 taxable year based upon that schedule. For various reasons, the counties adopted resolutions to postpone the 2009 reappraisal. Had the actions been taken prior to January 1, there would not have been an issue. However, because the actions were taken after January 1[1], the validity of the resolutions is questionable.

[1] Caldwell County passed its resolution on January 5, 2009; Stanly County passed its resolution on January 20, 2009; and Rockingham County passed its resolution on March 9, 2009.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO REMOVE THE CAP ON SATELLITE ANNEXATIONS FOR THE CITY OF BELMONT.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 160A-58.1(b)(5) reads as rewritten:

"(b) A noncontiguous area proposed for annexation must meet all of the following standards:

(5) The area within the proposed satellite corporate limits, when added to the area within all other satellite corporate limits, may not exceed ten percent (10%) of the area within the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.

This subdivision does not apply to the Cities of Belmont, Claremont, Concord, Conover, Durham, Elizabeth City, Gastonia, Greenville, Hickory, Kannapolis, Locust, Marion, Mount Airy, Mount Holly, New Bern, Newton, Oxford, Randleman, Roanoke Rapids, Rockingham, Sanford, Salisbury, Southport, Statesville, and Washington and the Towns of Ahoskie, Angier, Ayden, Benson, Bladenboro, Burgaw, Calabash, Catawba, Clayton, Columbia, Columbus, Cramerton, Creswell, Dallas, Dobson, Four Oaks, Fuquay-Varina, Garner, Godwin, Granite Quarry, Green Level, Grimesland, Holly Ridge, Holly Springs, Kenansville, Kenly, Knightdale, Landis, Leland, Lillington, Louisburg, Maggie Valley, Maiden, Mayodan, Middlesex, Midland, Mocksville, Morrisville, Mount Pleasant, Nashville, Oak Island, Pembroke, Pine Level, Princeton, Ranlo, Rolesville, Rutherfordton, Shallotte, Smithfield, Spencer, Stem, Stovall, Surf City, Swansboro, Taylorsville, Troutman, Troy, Wallace, Warsaw, Watha, Waynesville, Weldon, Wendell, Windsor, Yadkinville, and Zebulon."

SECTION 2. This act is effective when it becomes law.

HOUSE BILL 280:
Belmont/Satellite Annexations

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 8, 2009
Introduced by:	Rep. Neumann	Prepared by:	Judy Collier
Analysis of:	Second Edition		Research Assistant

SUMMARY: House Bill 280[1] is a local bill that would exempt the City of Belmont from the requirement for satellite annexation that the area to be annexed, when added to the area within all other satellite corporate limits, may not exceed 10% of the area within the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 160A-58.1 governs the voluntary annexation by a municipality of noncontiguous property. All property owners in the satellite area[2] may petition for voluntary annexation of the noncontiguous property if the property meets the following five standards in G.S. 160A-58.1(b):

1. The nearest point on the proposed satellite corporate limits must be not more than three miles from the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.
2. No point on the proposed satellite corporate limits may be closer to the primary corporate limits of another city than to the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.
3. The area must be so situated that the annexing city will be able to provide the same services within the proposed satellite corporate limits that it provides within its primary corporate limits.
4. If the area proposed for annexation, or any portion thereof, is a subdivision as defined in G.S. 160A-376, all of the subdivision must be included.
5. The area within the proposed satellite corporate limits, when added to the area within all other satellite corporate limits, may not exceed 10% of the area within the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.

If the property does not meet the statutory requirements for annexation, the municipality does not have the authority to annex the area. However, the General Assembly can extend the corporate limits of a municipality to encompass areas that the municipality would not statutorily have the authority to annex.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 280 would permanently exempt the City of Belmont from the 5th requirement, which requires that the proposed area for satellite annexation, when added to the area within all other satellite corporate limits, not exceed 10% of the area within the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.

The purpose of the 5th requirement is designed to further the legislative goal of not allowing annexations to undermine the notion of a city as a single, contiguous, and compact entity. In practice, however, the standard has proved to be a problem for many smaller cities, because one large development by itself may easily exceed the 10% limit. Because of this, the General Assembly has excepted a significant number of cities and towns (92) from this 10% rule by local act.

[1] House Bill 280 received a favorable report from House Local Government I Committee on April 8, 2009. House Bill 280 also received a favorable report from House Finance Committee on April 22, 2009.

[2] G.S. 160A-58.4 provides that satellite corporate limits cannot be considered a part of a municipality's corporate limits for purposes of its ETJ. Therefore, satellite annexations have no effect upon a municipality's ETJ.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act would become effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: The City of Belmont is seeking to join other municipalities in Gaston County that have obtained exemption from the 5th requirement of G.S.160A-58.1(b) as follows:

1. Town of Cramerton S.L. 2007-62
2. Town of Dallas S.L. 2001-37
   S.L. 2004-203
3. City of Gastonia S.L. 2003-30

HOUSE BILL 395:
Surry County Occupancy Tax

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 8, 2009
Introduced by:	Reps. Stevens, McCormick	Prepared by:	Judy Collier
Analysis of:	Second Edition		Research Assistant

SUMMARY: House Bill 395 creates Surry County District S and authorizes the district to levy a 6% room occupancy and tourism development tax. The district consists of all areas in the county that are not within an incorporated area. At least two-thirds of the proceeds would be used to promote travel and tourism and the remainder would be used for tourism-related expenditures. The bill conforms to the occupancy tax guidelines adopted by the North Carolina Travel & Tourism Coalition and the House Finance Committee.

The Occupancy Tax Subcommittee gave this bill a favorable report on May 7, 2009.

CURRENT LAW: Surry County does not have authority to levy a room occupancy tax. The four municipalities in Surry County (Dobson, Elkin, Mount Airy, and Pilot Mountain) have authority to levy up to a 6% room occupancy tax. The county tax authorized by this bill would not increase the total room occupancy tax rate in these municipalities.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 395 creates Surry County District S and authorizes the district to levy a 6% room occupancy tax. The district consists of all areas in the county not within an incorporated area. The proceeds must be remitted to a District S Tourism Development Authority (TDA), which must use at least two-thirds of the proceeds to promote travel and tourism and the remainder for tourism-related expenditures, all within District S. These administrative and use provisions conform to the uniform guidelines followed by the House Finance Committee.

UNIFORM OCCUPANCY TAX PROVISIONS	HB 395
Rate – The county tax rate cannot exceed 6% and the city tax rate, when combined with the county rate, cannot exceed 6%.	Conforms
Use – Two-thirds of the proceeds must be used to promote travel and tourism and the remainder must be used for tourism related expenditures.	Conforms
Definitions The term "net proceeds", "promote travel and tourism", and "tourism related expenditures" are defined terms.	Conforms
Administration – The net revenues must be administered by a local tourism development authority that has the authority to determine how the tax proceeds will be used, is created by a local ordinance, and at least 1/2 of the members must be currently active in the promotion of travel and tourism in the county and 1/3 of the members must be affiliated with organizations that collect the tax.	Conforms
Costs of Collection – The taxing authority may retain from the revenues its actual costs of collection, not to exceed 3% of the first $500,000 collected each year plus 1% of the remainder collected each year.	Conforms

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act is effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: Since 1983, the General Assembly has authorized many units of local government to levy a room occupancy tax. In several instances, the General Assembly has authorized both a county and a city within that county to impose an occupancy tax. The rate of tax, the use of the tax proceeds, the administration of the tax, and the body with the authority to determine how the tax proceeds will be spent vary considerably. Over the past several years, there has been a greater effort to make the occupancy taxes uniform. In 1997, the General Assembly enacted uniform municipal and county administrative provisions for occupancy tax legislation – G.S. 153A-155 and G.S. 160A-215. These provisions provide uniformity in the areas of levy, administration, collection, repeal, and penalties.

HOUSE BILL 422:
Kannapolis Annexation

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 8, 2009
Introduced by:	Reps. Steen, Coates	Prepared by:	Judy Collier
Analysis of:	Second Edition		Research Assistant

SUMMARY: House Bill 422[1] is a local bill that would annex approximately 327 acres adjacent to I-85 in southern Rowan County into the corporate limits of the City of Kannapolis.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 160A-58.1 governs the voluntary annexation by a municipality of noncontiguous property. All property owners in the satellite area may petition a city for voluntary annexation of the noncontiguous property if the property meets the following five standards:

1. The nearest point on the proposed satellite corporate limits must be not more than three miles from the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.
2. No point on the proposed satellite corporate limits may be closer to the primary corporate limits of another city than to the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.
3. The area must be so situated that the annexing city will be able to provide the same services within the proposed satellite corporate limits that it provides within its primary corporate limits.
4. If the area proposed for annexation, or any portion thereof, is a subdivision as defined in G.S. 160A-376, all of the subdivision must be included.
5. The area within the proposed satellite corporate limits, when added to the area within all other satellite corporate limits, may not exceed ten percent (10%) of the area within the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 422 would annex approximately 327 acres adjacent to I-85 in southern Rowan County into the City of Kannapolis as described in the bill:

1. First Tract East side Interstate 85, containing 296.86 acres more or less.
2. Second Tract West side Interstate 85, containing 30.10 acres more or less.
3. That section of Interstate 85 right-of-way located between the Third Tract and Sixth Tract as shown on the map entitled "Composite Map of GDRM Gateway, LLC."

EFFECTIVE DATE: House Bill 422 would become effective September 30, 2011.

BACKGROUND: The City of Kannapolis and GDRM, LLC, the owners of approximately 327 acres in southern Rowan County have explored the possibility of a partnership among local governments in southern Rowan County to facilitate the development of this property for a corporate business park, Southland Development. The property owners have determined that Kannapolis is the logical long-term provider of services to the Southland Development property and the property owners have formally requested that the approximately 327 acres comprising the Southland Development property be voluntarily annexed into the City of Kannapolis. The City and the Property Owners have agreed that the action requested should not become effective until a formal Development Agreement is adopted by both parties to define responsibilities for the successful development of the Southland Development properties.

[1] House Bill 422 was given a favorable report in House Local Government I Committee on April 1, 2009, and in House Finance Committee on April 8, 2009.

The majority of the Southland development property is closer to either China Grove or Landis than to Kannapolis and, as a result, Kannapolis is limited in its ability to unilaterally act on this annexation request by NCGS 160A-58.1(b)(2) which provides that a municipality's satellite corporate limits may not be closer to the primary corporate limits of another municipality.

On February 23, 2009, the City Council of the City of Kannapolis adopted a Resolution requesting special local legislation to annex into the City of Kannapolis approximately 327 acres adjacent to I-85 known as the Southland Development properties in southern Rowan County, with an effective date of September 30, 2011.

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 8, 2009

Analysis of:	First Edition		Research Assistant

SUMMARY: House Bill 225 would authorize the board of county commissioners to delegate to the county manager the authority to conduct an initial review of a taxpayer's request for a refund on the overpayment of an excise stamp tax. This act applies to Mecklenburg County only.

Companion Bill, Senate Bill 269, as introduced by Senator Clodfelter, was given a favorable report in Senate Finance on April 1, 2009.

CURRENT LAW: Excise stamp taxes apply to conveyances in real estate located in North Carolina other than governmental units or instrumentalities of governmental units. G.S. 105-228.28. A taxpayer who pays more than he or she owes may request a refund of the overpayment by filing a written request with the board of county commissioners of the county where the tax was paid. The request must be filed within six months after the date the tax was paid and must explain why the taxpayer believes a refund is due. G.S. 105-228.37(a).

A board of county commissioners must conduct a hearing on a request for refund in accordance with the procedures that apply to a hearing held by a board of equalization and review on an appeal concerning the listing or appraisal of property. If the board decides that a refund is due, it must refund the county's portion of the overpayment, together with any applicable interest, to the taxpayer. If the board finds that no refund is due, the written decision of the board must inform the taxpayer that the taxpayer may appeal the decision to the Property Tax Commission. A decision of the Property Tax Commission is also subject to judicial review. G.S. 105-228.37(b)-(d).

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 225 would permit the board of county commissioners of Mecklenburg County to delegate to a county manager the authority to consider written requests for refunds of the overpayment of an excise stamp tax. If the county manager finds that the refund requested is not due, the board of county commissioners must conduct a de novo hearing on a request for refund.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law. The procedures for review of disputed tax matters enacted by this act apply to claims for refund pending on or filed on or after the effective date of this act. This act does not affect matters for which a taxpayer may appeal or has appealed to the Property Tax Commission.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT ESTABLISHING THE CONSUMER CHOICE AND INVESTMENT ACT OF 2009.

Whereas, the technology used to provide communications services has evolved and continues to evolve at an ever-increasing pace; and

Whereas, the resulting competition between traditional telephone service providers, cable companies offering communications services, Voice-over Internet Protocol (VoIP) providers, wireless communications service providers, and other communications service providers promotes and continues to promote additional consumer choices for these services; and

Whereas, traditional telephone service providers remain subject to certain antiquated statutory and regulatory restrictions that do not apply to other communications service providers; and

Whereas, this disparity may deprive consumers of traditional telephone companies of the full range of timely and competitive options and offerings that otherwise would be available to them; and

Whereas, the General Assembly finds that relaxing certain restrictions for traditional telephone companies will relieve consumers of unnecessary costs and burdens, encourage investment, and promote timely deployment of more innovative offerings at more competitive prices for customers; and

Whereas, in order to make the full range of competitive options and offerings available to consumers of communications services while maintaining inflation-based price controls for those existing customers who currently receive and wish to continue receiving only stand-alone basic residential lines from traditional telephone companies, the General Assembly hereby enacts the "Consumer Choice and Investment Act of 2009"; Now, therefore,

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 62-133.5 is amended by adding a new subsection to read:

"(h) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Chapter, a local exchange company that is subject to rate of return regulation or subject to another form of regulation authorized under this section and whose territory is open to competition from competing local providers may elect to have its rates, terms, and conditions for its services determined pursuant to the plan described in this subsection by filing notice of its intent to do so with the Commission. The election is effective immediately upon filing. A local exchange company shall not be permitted to make the election under this section unless it commits to provide stand-alone basic residential lines to rural customers at rates comparable to those rates charged to urban customers for the same service.

(1) Definitions. – The following definitions apply in this subsection:

a. Local exchange company. – The same meaning as provided in G.S. 62-3(16a).

b. Single-line basic residential service. – Single-line residential flat rate basic voice grade local service with touch tone within a traditional local calling area that provides access to available emergency services and directory assistance, the capability to access interconnecting carriers, relay services, access to operator services, and one annual local directory listing (white pages or the equivalent).

c. Stand-alone basic residential line. – Single-line basic residential service that is billed on a billing account that does not also contain another service, feature, or product that is sold by the local exchange company or an affiliate of the local exchange company and is billed on a recurring basis on the local exchange company's bill.

d. Open to competition from competing local providers. – Both of the following apply:

1. G.S. 62-110(f1) applies to the franchised area and to local exchange and exchange access services offered by the local exchange company.

2. The local exchange company is open to interconnection with competing local providers that possess a certificate of public convenience and necessity issued by the Commission. The Commission is authorized to resolve any disputes concerning whether a local exchange company is open to interconnection under this section.

(2) Beginning on the date that the local exchange company's election under this subsection becomes effective, the local exchange company shall continue to offer stand-alone basic residential lines to all customers who choose to subscribe to that service, and the local exchange company may increase rates for those lines annually by a percentage that does not exceed the percentage increase over the prior year in the Gross Domestic Product Price Index as reported by the United States Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics, unless otherwise authorized by the Commission. With the sole exception of ensuring the local exchange company's compliance with the preceding sentence, the Commission shall not:

a. Impose any requirements related to the terms, conditions, rates, or availability of any of the local exchange company's stand-alone basic residential lines.

b. Otherwise regulate any of the local exchange company's stand-alone basic residential lines.

(3) Except to the extent provided in subdivision (2) of this subsection, beginning on the date the local exchange company's election under this subsection becomes effective, the Commission shall not do either of the following:

a. Impose any requirements related to the terms, conditions, rates, or availability of any of the local exchange company's retail services.

b. Otherwise regulate any of the local exchange company's retail services.

HOUSE BILL 1180:
Consumer Choice and Investment Act of 2009

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 10, 2009
Introduced by:	Reps. Holliman, Brubaker, Tillis, Tolson	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to Fourth Edition H1180-CSTD-51

SUMMARY: House Bill 1180 would provide an alternative plan of regulation for telephone providers. The proposed committee substitute makes technical changes and provides a definition for "open to competition from competing local providers."

CURRENT LAW: Prior to 1996, all regulated incumbent local telephone providers (ILECs) operated under rate-of-return regulation. S.L. 1995-27 allowed incumbent local exchange providers to elect for regulation under different methods including price regulation.[1] In price regulation plans, the price of services is related to the value of specific services, and the competition to offer those services. ILECs must apply to the Utility Commission to elect price regulation, and provide notice to interested parties. In order to approve price regulation the Commission must find that the plan:

1. Protects the affordability of basic local exchange service.
2. Reasonably assures the continuation of basic local exchange service that meets the service standards adopted by the Commission.
3. Will not unreasonably prejudice any class of telephone customers, including telecommunication companies.
4. Is otherwise consistent with the public interest.

S.L. 1995-27 also allowed competitive offerings of local exchange telephone service. In order to offer this service, prospective competing local providers (CLPs) must make certain showings to the Commission including that it is capable, and financially able to render such service, the service to be provided will reasonably meet the service standards that the Commission may adopt, and the provision of the service will not adversely impact the availability of reasonably affordable local exchange service.

BILL ANALYSIS: The proposed committee substitute allows an incumbent local exchange provider (ILEC) open to competition from competing local providers, and to the extent applicable a competing local provider (CLP), to elect to have its rates, terms and conditions of service determined pursuant to a new plan. An ILEC may only choose this new plan if the ILEC commits to provide stand-alone basic service to rural customers at rates comparable to those rates charged to urban customers for the same service.

Rates for basic service: After entering into this plan, the ILEC may not increase the amount charged for basic residential service more than the percentage increase of the GDP each year, unless otherwise authorized by the Commission. Other than to enforce this rate increase standard, the Commission cannot regulate rates or service standards for basic service.

[1] S.L. 1995-27 also permitted the Utilities Commission to deregulate a particular telecommunications service, or an entire telecommunications public utility.

Authority retained by the Utilities Commission: The Utilities Commission retains authority over the following:

1. Obligations of ILECs under sections 251 and 252 of the Federal Telecommunications Act of 1996.
2. Federal requirements of ILECSs marketing requirements.
3. Telecommunications relay service.
4. Lifeline or Link Up programs.
5. Universal Service Programs.
6. Carrier of last resort obligations.
7. The ability to hear consumer complaints regarding ILECs.
8. Intercarrier compensation rates of ILECs.
9. The authority delegated to the Commission by the FCC to manage numbering resources.

Report: Each ILEC or CLP offering basic local residential exchange service that chooses this new plan must report to the General Assembly annually on its operations. The report must include the following from the enactment of this Act:

1. Analysis of competition including lines lost and lines gained.
2. Analysis of consumer satisfaction studies.
3. Analysis of rates.

Consumer complaints: ILECs and CLPs must inform any customer complainants that the customer may contact the Public Staff of the Utilities Commission, and provide contact information for the Public Staff. The Public Staff must keep a record of all complaints. If the Public Staff cannot dispose of the complaint, the matter may be referred to the Commission. The standard of review by both the Public Staff and the Commission shall be whether the action or inaction of the provider is reasonable and appropriate.

Utility Regulatory Fee: The utility regulatory fee was imposed in 1989. Its purpose is to defray the State's cost in regulating public utilities. The regulatory fee is imposed on all utilities that are subject to regulation by the North Carolina Utilities Commission. The fee is a percentage of the utility's North Carolina jurisdictional revenues. In general, jurisdictional revenue is revenue derived from providing regulated utility service in North Carolina. House bill 1180 amends the definition of jurisdictional revenues to include revenue derived from retail services but no longer subject regulation due to the election of a company to this new plan,

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

Persons defined in G.S. 53-244.030(8) or G.S. 53-244.030(29) are not subject to this subsection.

(b) The license of a mortgage loan originator is not effective during any period when that person is not employed by a mortgage lender, mortgage broker, or mortgage servicer licensed under this Article. When a mortgage loan originator ceases to be employed by a mortgage lender, mortgage broker, or mortgage servicer licensed under this Article, the mortgage loan originator, and the mortgage lender, mortgage broker, or mortgage servicer licensed under this Article by whom that person is employed shall promptly notify the Commissioner in writing. The mortgage lender, mortgage broker, or mortgage servicer shall include a statement of the specific reason for the termination of the mortgage loan originator's employment. A mortgage loan originator shall not be employed simultaneously by more than one mortgage lender, mortgage broker, or mortgage servicer licensed under this Article.

(c) Each mortgage lender, mortgage broker, and mortgage servicer licensed under this Article shall maintain on file with the Commissioner a list of all mortgage loan originators who are employed with the mortgage lender, mortgage broker, or mortgage servicer.

(d) No person, other than an exempt person, shall hold himself or herself out as a mortgage lender, a mortgage broker, a mortgage servicer, or a mortgage loan originator unless the person is licensed in accordance with this Article.

(e) Licenses issued under this Article are not assignable. Control of a licensee shall not be acquired through a stock purchase, merger, or other device without the prior written consent of the Commissioner. The Commissioner shall not give written consent if the Commissioner finds that any of the grounds for denial, revocation, or suspension of a license are applicable to the acquiring person.

"§ 53-244.101. License renewal.

(a) All licenses issued by the Commissioner under the provisions of this Article shall expire annually on the 31st day of December following issuance or on any other date that the Commissioner may determine. The license is invalid after that date and shall remain invalid unless renewed under subsection (b) of this section.

(b) A license may be renewed on or after November 1 of each year by complying with the requirements of subsection (c) of this section and by paying to the Commissioner, in addition to the actual cost of obtaining credit reports and State and national criminal history record checks and of processing fees of the nationwide system as the Commissioner shall require, nonrefundable renewal fees as follows:

(1) Licensed mortgage lenders, licensed mortgage brokers, and licensed mortgage servicers shall pay an annual renewal fee of six hundred twenty-five dollars ($625.00), licensed exclusive mortgage brokers shall pay an annual renewal fee of three hundred dollars ($300.00), and licensed mortgage lenders and mortgage brokers shall pay one hundred twenty-five dollars ($125.00) for each licensed branch office.

(2) Licensed mortgage loan originators shall pay an annual renewal fee of sixty-seven dollars and fifty cents ($67.50).

(c) Licensees may apply to renew a mortgage loan originator, mortgage lender, mortgage broker, and mortgage servicer license. The application for renewal shall demonstrate that:

(2) The mortgage loan originator has satisfied the annual continuing education requirements described in G.S. 53-244.102; and

(3) The licensee has paid all required fees for renewal of the license.

(d) If a mortgage lender, mortgage broker, or mortgage servicer's license is not renewed prior to the expiration date, then the licensee shall pay two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00) as a nonrefundable late fee in addition to the renewal fee set forth in subsection (b) of this section. If a mortgage loan originator's license is not renewed prior to the expiration date, then the licensee shall pay a nonrefundable late fee of one hundred dollars ($100.00) in addition to the renewal fee set forth in subsection (b) of this section. In the event a licensee fails to obtain a reinstatement of the license prior to March 1, the Commissioner shall require the licensee to comply with the requirements for the initial issuance of a license under the provisions of this Article.

(e) When required by the Commissioner, each person shall furnish to the Commissioner the person's consent to a criminal history record check and a set of the person's fingerprints in a form acceptable to the Commissioner or to the Nationwide Mortgage Licensing System and Registry. Refusal to consent to a criminal history record check shall constitute grounds for the Commissioner to deny renewal of the license of the person as well as the license of any other person by whom the person is employed, over which the person has control, or as to which the person is the current or proposed qualifying individual or current or proposed branch manager.

"§ 53-244.102. Continuing education for mortgage loan originators.

(a) A licensed mortgage loan originator shall annually complete at least eight hours of continuing education approved in accordance with subsection (b) of this section, including:

(1) Three hours of federal law and regulations;

(2) Two hours of ethics, including instruction on fraud, consumer protection, and fair lending issues;

(3) Two hours of training related to lending standards for nontraditional mortgage products; and

(4) One hour of North Carolina law and regulations.

(b) Continuing education courses shall be reviewed and approved by the Nationwide Mortgage Licensing System and Registry based upon reasonable standards. Approval of a continuing education course shall include approval of the course provider.

(c) Nothing in this section shall preclude any continuing education course, approved by the Nationwide Mortgage Licensing System and Registry, that is provided by the employer of the mortgage loan originator or an entity affiliated with the mortgage loan originator by an agency contract, or any subsidiary or affiliate of such employer or entity. Continuing education may be offered either in a classroom, online, or by any other means approved by the Nationwide Mortgage Licensing System and Registry.

(d) A licensed mortgage loan originator:

(1) Except for G.S. 53-244.070(a) and subsection (e) of this section, may only receive credit for a continuing education course in the year in which the course is taken; and

(2) May not take the same approved course in the same or successive years to meet the annual requirements for continuing education.

(e) A licensed mortgage loan originator who is an approved instructor of an approved continuing education course may receive credit for the licensed mortgage loan originator's own annual continuing education requirement at the rate of two hours credit for every one hour taught.

(f) A licensee having successfully completed the education requirements approved by the Nationwide Mortgage Licensing System and Registry in subdivisions (a)(1), (a)(2), and (a)(3) of this section for any state shall be accepted as credit toward completion of continuing education requirements in North Carolina.

"§ 53-244.103. Surety bond requirements.

(a) Each mortgage loan originator shall be covered by a surety bond through employment with a licensee in accordance with this section. The surety bond shall provide coverage for each mortgage loan originator employed by the licensee in an amount as prescribed by subsection (b) of this section and shall be in a form prescribed by the Commissioner. The Commissioner may adopt rules with respect to the requirements for the surety bonds as needed to accomplish the purposes of the Article.

(b) Licensees shall be required to post a surety bond with the Commissioner at application to be subsequently adjusted as follows:

(1) A mortgage broker shall post a minimum surety bond of seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000). Provided, however, if a mortgage broker has originated mortgage loans in North Carolina in a 12-month period ending December 31 in excess of ten million dollars ($10,000,000) but less than fifty million dollars ($50,000,000), then the mortgage broker's minimum bond amount shall be one hundred twenty-five thousand dollars ($125,000), and if a mortgage broker has originated mortgage loans in North Carolina in a 12-month period ending December 31 of fifty million dollars ($50,000,000) or more, the mortgage broker's minimum bond shall be two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000).

(2) A mortgage lender or mortgage servicer shall post a minimum surety bond of one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000). Provided, however, if a mortgage lender has originated mortgage loans in North Carolina in a 12-month period ending December 31 in excess of ten million dollars ($10,000,000) but less than fifty million dollars ($50,000,000), then the mortgage lender's minimum bond amount shall be two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000), and if a mortgage lender has originated mortgage loans in North Carolina in a 12-month period ending December 31 of fifty million dollars ($50,000,000) or more, then the mortgage lender's minimum bond shall be five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000).

(3) Any increased surety bond required under subdivision (1) or (2) of this subsection shall be filed with the Commissioner on or before May 31 immediately following the end of the 12-month December 31 period.

(c) The surety bond shall be in a form satisfactory to the Commissioner and shall run to the State for the benefit of any claimants against the licensee to secure the faithful performance of the obligations of the licensee under this Article. The aggregate liability of the surety shall not exceed the principal sum of the bond. A party having a claim against the licensee may bring suit directly on the surety bond, or the Commissioner may bring suit on behalf of any claimants, either in one action or in successive actions. Consumer claims shall be given priority in recovering from the bond. When an action is commenced on a licensee's bond, the Commissioner may require the filing of a new bond. In this case, the licensee shall file a replacement bond in the required amount within 30 days. Immediately upon recovery upon any action on the bond the licensee shall file a new bond.

(d) In the Commissioner's discretion and upon written request of the licensee, the Commissioner may waive the requirement of the bond for any licensee, if:

(1) The licensee has been licensed by the Commissioner for at least three years;

(2) The licensee can demonstrate a net worth, according to the most recent audited financial statement, at least four times the required bond amount, and the licensee certifies that its net worth will be maintained at or above this level at all times and agrees to notify the Commissioner and to secure an appropriate bond in the event the net worth falls below this level;

(3) The Commissioner believes the licensee has a satisfactory history of resolving complaints from consumers and responding to findings of investigations or examinations by the Commissioner; and

(4) The Commissioner has no reason to believe the licensee will be unable to resolve complaints, respond to examination or investigative findings, or fulfill financial obligations under this Article.

(e) If the Commissioner has waived the bond requirement of a licensee based on subsection (d) of this section, the Commissioner may summarily reinstate the bond requirement on any licensee if the Commissioner has reason to believe the licensee no longer meets the standards in subsection (d) of this section. In this event, the licensee shall submit a bond, as required in subsection (b) of this section, within 30 days. Failure to submit a bond as directed by the Commissioner shall be grounds for summary suspension.

"§ 53-244.104. Minimum net worth requirements.

(a) A minimum net worth shall be continuously maintained for licensees in accordance with this section. In the event that the mortgage loan originator is an employee or exclusive agent of a person subject to this Article, the net worth of the person subject to this Article can be used in lieu of the mortgage loan originator's minimum net worth requirement. The minimum net worth to be maintained for each license is as follows:

(1) If the licensee is a mortgage lender, it shall maintain a net worth of at least one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), including evidence of liquidity of one million dollars ($1,000,000), which may include a warehouse line of credit of one million dollars ($1,000,000) or other evidence of funding capacity to conduct mortgage originations as documented by an unqualified audited statement of financial condition.

(2) If the licensee is a mortgage servicer, it shall maintain a net worth of at least one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), not including monies in any escrow accounts held for others.

(3) If the licensee is a mortgage broker, it shall maintain a net worth of at least twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), including evidence of liquidity of ten thousand dollars ($10,000), as certified by the licensee in a certified statement of financial condition.

(b) The Commissioner may adopt rules to require additional minimum net worth or otherwise amend net worth requirements as are necessary to ensure licensees maintain adequate financial responsibility and accomplish the purposes of this Article.

"§ 53-244.105. Records, addresses, escrow funds, or trust accounts.

(a) Every licensee shall make and keep the accounts, correspondence, memoranda, papers, books, and other records as prescribed in rules adopted by the Commissioner. All records shall be preserved for three years unless the Commissioner, by rule, prescribes otherwise for particular types of records.

(b) No person shall make any false statement or knowingly and willfully make any omission of a material fact in connection with any information or reports filed with the Commissioner, a governmental agency, or the Nationwide Mortgage Licensing System and Registry or in connection with any oral or written communication with the Commissioner or another governmental agency. If the information contained in any document filed with the Commissioner or the Nationwide Mortgage Licensing System and Registry is or becomes inaccurate or incomplete in any material respect, the licensee or exempt entity shall within 30 days file a correcting amendment to the information contained in the document.

(c) Each mortgage broker licensee shall maintain and transact business from a principal place of business in this State. The Commissioner may, by rule, impose terms and conditions under which the records and files of a mortgage lender or mortgage servicer may be maintained outside of this State. A principal place of business shall not be located at an individual's home or residence. A mortgage lender, mortgage broker, or mortgage servicer licensee shall maintain a record of the principal place of business with the Commissioner and report any change of address of the principal place of business or any branch office within 15 days after the change.

(d) A licensee shall maintain in a segregated escrow fund or trust account any funds which come into the licensee's possession but which are not the licensee's property and which the licensee is not entitled to retain under the circumstances. The escrow fund or trust account shall be held on deposit in a federally insured financial institution. Individual loan applicants' or borrowers' accounts may be aggregated into a common trust fund so long as (i) interests in the common fund can be individually tracked and accounted for and (ii) the common fund is kept separate from and is not commingled with the licensee's own funds.

"§ 53-244.106. Display of license.

Each mortgage broker or mortgage lender licensed under this Article shall display, in plain public view, the certificate of licensure issued by the Commissioner in its principal office and in each branch office. Each mortgage loan originator licensed under this Article shall display, in plain public view, in each branch office in which the individual acts as a mortgage loan originator the certificate of licensure issued by the Commissioner.

"§ 53-244.107. Unique identifier shown.

The unique identifier of any mortgage loan originator or other person engaged in the mortgage business as defined in G.S. 53-244.030(10) shall be clearly shown on all residential mortgage loan application forms, solicitations, advertisements, including business cards or Web sites, and any other documents as established by rule or order of the Commissioner.

"§ 53-244.108. Reports.

Each mortgage lender, mortgage broker, or mortgage servicer licensee shall submit to the Commissioner and to the Nationwide Mortgage Licensing System and Registry reports of condition and any other reports requested by the Commissioner pursuant to G.S. 53-244.115(d). The reports shall be in the form and shall contain any information that the Commissioner or Nationwide Mortgage Licensing System and Registry may require.

"§ 53-244.109. Mortgage broker duties.

(9) Ensure that advertising materials are designed to make customers and potential customers aware that the mortgage broker does not discriminate on any prohibited basis.

(10) Represent the borrower's best interest in the course of brokering a mortgage loan.

(11) Have a duty of loyalty to the borrower, which shall include a duty not to compromise a borrower's right or interest in favor of another's right or interest, including a right or interest of the mortgage broker.

"§ 53-244.110. Mortgage servicer duties.

Any mortgage servicer engaged in the mortgage business as defined by G.S. 53-244.030(10)c., in addition to duties imposed by other statutes or at common law, shall do all of the following:

During the period of control, no individual or person shall remove or attempt to remove any of the documents and records except pursuant to a court order or with the consent of the Commissioner. a. By whom or by which the applicant is employed,

b. Over which the applicant has control, or

c. As to which the applicant is the current or proposed qualifying individual or a current or proposed branch manager.

(h) The authority of this section shall remain in effect, whether a licensee, individual, or person subject to this Article acts or claims to act under any licensing law of the State, or claims to act without such authority.

(1) Take any action authorized under G.S. 53-244.113.

(2) Impose a civil penalty upon a licensee, individual, or person subject to this Article, or upon any partner, officer, director, or other person occupying a similar status or performing similar functions on behalf of a licensee or other person subject to this Article for any violation of or failure to comply with this Article. (5) Prohibit licensees under this Article from engaging in acts and practices in connection with residential mortgage loans that the Commissioner finds to be unfair, deceptive, designed to evade the laws of this State, or that are not in the best interest of the borrowing public.

(b) When a licensee is accused of any act, omission, or misconduct that would subject the licensee to disciplinary action, the licensee, with the consent and approval of the Commissioner, may surrender the license and all the rights and privileges pertaining to it. A person who surrenders a license shall not be eligible for or submit any application for licensure under this Article.

(c) The requirements of this Article apply to any person who seeks to avoid its application by any device, subterfuge, or pretense whatsoever, including structuring a loan in a manner to avoid classification of the loan as a residential mortgage loan.

"§ 53-244.117. Foreclosure suspension.

In the event the Commissioner shall have evidence that a material violation of law has occurred in the origination or servicing of a loan then being foreclosed or then delinquent and in threat of foreclosure, and that the putative violation would be sufficient in law or equity to base a claim or affirmative defense that would affect the validity or enforceability of the underlying contract or the right to foreclose, then the Commissioner may notify the clerk of superior court, and the clerk shall suspend foreclosure proceedings on the mortgage for 60 days from the date of the notice. In the event that the Commissioner notifies the clerk, the Commissioner shall also notify the servicer, if known, and provide an opportunity to cure the violation or provide information to the Commissioner to rebut the evidence of the suspected violation. If the violation is cured or the information satisfies the Commissioner that no material violation has occurred, the Commissioner shall notify the clerk so that the foreclosure proceeding may be resumed. The authority granted to the Commissioner in this section is in addition to any powers or authority granted to the Commissioner under Chapter 45 of the General Statutes.

"§ 53-244.118. Rule-making authority; records.

"§ 53-244.121. Review by Banking Commission.

The Banking Commission may review any rule, regulation, order, or act of the Commissioner made pursuant to or with respect to the provisions of this Article, and any person aggrieved by any rule, regulation, order, or act may, pursuant to G.S. 53-92(d), appeal to the Banking Commission for review upon giving 20 days' written notice after the rule, regulation, order, or act is adopted or issued. HOUSE BILL 1523:
S.A.F.E. Mortgage Licensing Act

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 9, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Blue	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	Third Edition

SUMMARY: House Bill 1523 repeals the North Carolina Mortgage Lending Act and replaces it with the Secure and Fair Enforcement Mortgage Licensing (S.A.F.E.) Act in order to conform to the requirements of Title V, of the federal Housing and Economic Recovery Act of 2008.

There is an amendment to be offered on the bill that would do the following:

- Exempt manufactured housing retailers from the licensure requirements under the SAFE Act so long as they are performing administrative and clerical tasks and not acting as a mortgage loan originator.
- Clarify that a limited loan officer may not originate loans with pre-payment penalties.

CURRENT LAW: The Mortgage Lending Act, which was enacted in 2001, is a licensing and regulatory statute for the mortgage lending industry. Under the current law, mortgage bankers, mortgage brokers, and loan officers are required to be licensed by the Commissioner of Banks before engaging in the business of mortgage lending or mortgage brokering, unless exempt. The law exempts from licensing depository institutions (banks, wholly owned subsidiaries of banks, savings and loans, credit unions), life insurance companies, governmental lenders, nonprofits that make mortgage loans, persons that make no more than five loans a year, and real estate brokers who do not receive compensation for making loans.

The Commissioner of Banks has broad enforcement powers, including the power to revoke licenses and impose civil fines for violations of the law. Engaging in the mortgage banking or brokering business without a license is a Class 3 misdemeanor.

The federal Safe and Fair Enforcement for Mortgage Licensing Act of 2008 requires that any residential mortgage loan originator must be either State licensed or federally registered. States have until August 1, 2009, to conform their statutes to the federal standards. After that date, loan originators in states that do not have conforming licensing statute will be subject to the federal registration system.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 1523 establishes a new Article 19B of Chapter 53 of the General Statutes, to be cited as the North Carolina S.A.F.E. Mortgage Licensing Act. The bill includes the following provisions as required by the federal law:

- Provides for licensing of loan originators, as well as mortgage brokers, mortgage lenders and mortgage servicers through registration with the Nationwide Mortgage Licensing System and Registry. (G.S. 53-244.040)
- Provides effective supervision and enforcement of the law, including the suspension, termination, or nonrenewal of a license for a violation of the State or federal law. (G.S. 53-244.114)
- Provides for the regular reporting of violations as well as enforcement actions and other relevant information to the Nationwide Mortgage Licensing System and Registry. (G.S. 53-244.108)
- Provides a process for challenging information contained in the Nationwide Mortgage Licensing System and Registry. (G.S. 53-244.113)

- Provides a mechanism to assess civil penalties for individuals acting as mortgage originators without a valid license or registration. (G.S. 53-244.116)
- Provides for minimum net worth or surety bonding requirements that reflect the dollar amount of loans originated by a residential mortgage loan originator. (G.S. 53-244.103, 104)

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:
House Bill 1523 repeals the North Carolina Mortgage Lending Act and replaces it with the Secure and Fair Enforcement Mortgage Licensing Act in order to conform to the requirements of Title V of the federal Housing and Economic Recovery Act of 2008. The Act requires that any residential mortgage loan originator must be either State or federally registered. States have until August 1, 2009 to conform their statutes to the federal standards. If they do not conform by that deadline, the loan originators in the states not conforming will be subject to the federal registration system.

House Bill 1523 establishes several licensing fees for different classes of lenders in the state. Many of these fees are established at the same level as previously under the North Carolina Mortgage Lending Act. The bill does, however, create a subcategory of mortgage brokers known as "exclusive mortgage brokers." Under current law, these individuals pay a $1250 new license fee and a $625 license renewal fee. The bill would only require them to pay $300 both for new licensure and license renewal. In addition, however, they would have to perform the continuing education and the pay new license fee and renewal fees for the mortgage loan originators license.

According to the NC Commissioner of Banks Office, there are approximately 400 individuals in North Carolina who qualify as exclusive mortgage brokers. This number is not expected to change significantly in the next five years. These individuals are currently licensed with the Commissioner of Banks Office, and, therefore, under current law, would only be required to pay the $625 mortgage broker license renewal fee. The bill would lower the license renewal fee for these 400 individuals by $325. It would also require them to pay an additional $125 new license fee for mortgage loan originators in FY 2009-10 and a $67.50 annual fee to renew this license starting in FY 2010-11. Altogether, this would be a $200 decrease in fees in FY 2009-10 and a $257.50 decrease in fees starting in FY 2010-11. The fee decrease multiplied by the 400 exclusive mortgage brokers results in the revenue loss generated by this bill. This results in an $80,000 revenue loss in FY 2009-10 and a $103,000 revenue loss starting in FY 2010-11. While the bill makes many conforming changes, the fee changes are the only ones expected to have a fiscal impact.

The psychologist or physician shall be designated by the court. The expenses of the evaluations shall be borne by the Board. Where the applicant or licensee raises the issue of mental or physical competence or appeals a decision regarding mental or physical competence, the applicant or licensee shall be permitted to obtain an evaluation at the applicant or licensee's expense. If the applicant or licensee waives the opportunity for a hearing, the Board's denial, revocation, suspension, or other proposed action becomes final without a hearing having been conducted. Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection, no applicant or licensee is entitled to a hearing for failure to pass an examination. In any proceeding before the Board, in any record of any hearing before the Board, in any complaint or notice of charges against any licensee or applicant for licensure, and in any decision rendered by the Board, the Board may withhold from public disclosure the identity of any clients who have not consented to the public disclosure of services provided by the licensee or applicant. The Board may close a hearing to the public and receive in closed session evidence involving or concerning the treatment of or delivery of services to a client who has not consented to the public disclosure of the treatment or services as may be necessary for the protection and rights of the client of the accused applicant or licensee and the full presentation of relevant evidence.

SECTION 17. Article 18C of Chapter 90 of the General Statutes is amended by adding the following new section to read:

"§ 90-270.63. Criminal history record checks of applicants for licensure as a marriage and family therapist and a marriage and family therapy associate.

(a) Definitions. – The following definitions shall apply in this section:

(1) Applicant. – A person applying for licensure as a licensed marriage and family therapy associate pursuant to G.S. 90-270.54A or licensed marriage and family therapist pursuant to G.S. 90-270.54.

(2) Criminal history. – A history of conviction of a State or federal crime, whether a misdemeanor or felony, that bears on an applicant's fitness for licensure to practice marriage and family therapy. The crimes include the criminal offenses set forth in any of the following Articles of Chapter 14 of the General Statutes: Article 5, Counterfeiting and Issuing Monetary Substitutes; Article 5A, Endangering Executive and Legislative Officers; Article 6, Homicide; Article 7A, Rape and Other Sex Offenses; Article 8, Assaults; Article 10, Kidnapping and Abduction; Article 13, Malicious Injury or Damage by Use of Explosive or Incendiary Device or Material; Article 14, Burglary and Other Housebreakings; Article 15, Arson and Other Burnings; Article 16, Larceny; Article 17, Robbery; Article 18, Embezzlement; Article 19, False Pretenses and Cheats; Article 19A, Obtaining Property or Services by False or Fraudulent Use of Credit Device or Other Means; Article 19B, Financial Transaction Card Crime Act; Article 20, Frauds; Article 21, Forgery; Article 26, Offenses Against Public Morality and Decency; Article 26A, Adult Establishments; Article 27, Prostitution; Article 28, Perjury; Article 29, Bribery; Article 31, Misconduct in Public Office; Article 35, Offenses Against the Public Peace; Article 36A, Riots and Civil Disorders; Article 39, Protection of Minors; Article 40, Protection of the Family; Article 59, Public Intoxication; and Article 60, Computer-Related Crime. The crimes also include possession or sale of drugs in violation of the North Carolina Controlled Substances Act in Article 5 of Chapter 90 of the General Statutes and alcohol-related offenses including sale to underage persons in violation of G.S. 18B-302 or driving while impaired in violation of G.S. 20-138.1 through G.S. 20-138.5. In addition to the North Carolina crimes listed in this subdivision, such crimes also include similar crimes under federal law or under the laws of other states.

(b) The Board may request that an applicant for licensure, an applicant seeking reinstatement of a license, or a licensee under investigation by the Board for alleged criminal offenses in violation of this Article consent to a criminal history record check. Refusal to consent to a criminal history record check may constitute grounds for the Board to deny licensure to an applicant, deny reinstatement of a license to an applicant, or revoke the license of a licensee. The Board shall ensure that the State and national criminal history of an applicant is checked. The Board shall be responsible for providing to the North Carolina Department of Justice the fingerprints of the applicant or licensee to be checked, a form signed by the applicant or licensee consenting to the criminal record check and the use of fingerprints and other identifying information required by the State or National Repositories of Criminal Histories, and any additional information required by the Department of Justice in accordance with G.S. 114-19.26. The Board shall keep all information obtained pursuant to this section confidential. The Board shall collect any fees required by the Department of Justice and shall remit the fees to the Department of Justice for expenses associated with conducting the criminal history record check.

(c) If an applicant or licensee's criminal history record check reveals one or more convictions listed under subdivision (a)(2) of this section, the conviction shall not automatically bar licensure. The Board shall consider all of the following factors regarding the conviction:

(1) The level of seriousness of the crime.
(2) The date of the crime.
(3) The age of the person at the time of the conviction.
(4) The circumstances surrounding the commission of the crime, if known.
(5) The nexus between the criminal conduct of the person and the duties and responsibilities of a licensee.
(6) The person's prison, jail, probation, parole, rehabilitation, and employment records since the date the crime was committed.
(7) The subsequent commission by the person of a crime listed in subdivision (a)(2) of this section.

If, after reviewing these factors, the Board determines that the applicant or licensee's criminal history disqualifies the applicant or licensee for licensure, the Board may deny licensure or reinstatement of the license of the applicant or revoke the license of the licensee. The Board may disclose to the applicant or licensee information contained in the criminal history record check that is relevant to the denial. The Board shall not provide a copy of the criminal history record check to the applicant or licensee. The applicant or licensee shall have the right to appear before the Board to appeal the Board's decision. However, an appearance before the full Board shall constitute an exhaustion of administrative remedies in accordance with Chapter 150B of the General Statutes.

(d) The Board, its officers, and employees, acting in good faith and in compliance with this section, shall be immune from civil liability for denying licensure or reinstatement of a license to an applicant or revoking a licensee's license based on information provided in the applicant or licensee's criminal history record check."

SECTION 18. Article 4 of Chapter 114 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 114-26. Criminal history record checks of applicants for licensure as marriage and family therapists and marriage and family therapy associates.

The Department of Justice may provide to the North Carolina Marriage and Family Therapy Licensure Board from the State and National Repositories of Criminal Histories the criminal history of any applicant for licensure or reinstatement of a license or licensee under Article 18C of Chapter 90 of the General Statutes. Along with the request, the Board shall provide to the Department of Justice the fingerprints of the applicant or licensee, a form signed by the applicant or licensee consenting to the criminal record check and use of fingerprints and other identifying information required by the State and National Repositories, and any additional information required by the Department of Justice. The applicant or licensee's fingerprints shall be forwarded to the State Bureau of Investigation for a search of the State's criminal history record file, and the State Bureau of Investigation shall forward a set of fingerprints to the Federal Bureau of Investigation for a national criminal history record check. The Board shall keep all information obtained pursuant to this section confidential. The Department of Justice may charge a fee to offset the cost incurred by the Department to conduct a criminal record check under this section. The fee shall not exceed the actual cost of locating, editing, researching, and retrieving the information."

SENATE BILL 935:
Amend Marriage & Family Licensure Laws/Fees

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 10, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Goss	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to Second Edition S935-CSTDf-52

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 935 makes various amendments to the Marriage and Family Therapy Licensure Act, including authorizing the licensure of marriage and family therapy associates and increasing fees. The proposed committee substitute to Senate Bill 935 clarifies that all fees charged by the Board are nonrefundable.

[As introduced, this bill was identical to H938, as introduced by Rep. England, which is currently in House Health, if favorable, Finance.]

BILL ANALYSIS:

Section 1. Amends the definitions section of the act to include several new definitions such as 'licensed marriage and family therapy associate'. A licensed marriage and family therapy associate is an individual whose license permits them to engage in practice under the supervision of an approved supervisor. It also amends the definitions of the terms 'related degree' and 'recognized educational institution'.

Section 2. Amends the section that prohibits practice without a license to include a licensed marriage and family therapy associate.

Section 3. Amends the section on exemptions from the act. The amendments clarify that a marriage and family therapy intern must be enrolled in a master's level program or higher in a recognized educational institution and under the supervision of a Board approved training institution in order to be exempt from the act. It also eliminates the exemption for people practicing as an employee of a nonprofit organization. Finally, this section clarifies that no exempt person may hold himself out as being licensed.

Section 4. Amends the section that establishes the Board. Currently, the Governor appoints the chairperson of the Board. This is changed to allow the Board to elect a chair and vice-chair from its membership for a four year term.

Section 5. Provides that Board expenditures may not exceed the reserves, as well as the revenues of the Board in any fiscal year.

Section 5.1. Adds to the Board's powers and duties the authority to order records relating to a licensee's practice in the course of investigating a complaint. Any such records are not subject to the public records law. This section also requires a licensee or an employer of a licensee to retain records for at least 5 years from the termination of client services for an adult client. In the case of a minor client, the records must be retained until the later of the date the client is 22 or 5 years from the termination of services.

Section 6. Amends the section relating to requirements for licensure as a marriage and family therapist to clarify the educational and experience requirements. It also changes the examination requirement from an exam administered by the Board to one approved by the Board.

Section 7. Adds a new section which sets out the requirements for licensure as a marriage and family therapy associate. An applicant must submit the same application information, have the same educational and experience qualifications, and have passed the same examination as are required of marriage and family therapist applicants. In addition the associate applicant must show evidence of appropriate coursework and have an agreement by an approved supervisor to provide supervision to the applicant. An associate license is only valid for three years from the date of issuance and cannot be renewed. However, under certain circumstances, the Board can grant a one-year extension of the license.

Section 8. Amends the section relating to the examination to give the Board more flexibility. In addition, the section adds a requirement that an applicant must request reasonable accommodations to take the exam in writing.

Section 9. Repeals the section that authorizes the Board to grant temporary licenses.

Section 10. Amends the provision relating to reciprocal licenses to add more specific requirements for issuing a license to a therapist or associate who is licensed in another state and seeks to be licensed in this State.

Section 11. Amends the fees which the Board is authorized to charge by increasing all of the fees except the examination fee. This section also adds new fees for a duplicate license, annual maintenance of inactive status, and an application to extend an associate license. The Board is also given authority to establish fees for the actual cost of duplication services, materials, and returned bank items, and makes all fees charged by the Board nonrefundable. The current and new fees:

Fee	Current Amount	New Amount
License Exam	$50	Same
License Application – Marriage and Family Therapist	$150	$200
License Application - Marriage and Family Therapist Associate	New	$200
Renewal of License	$100	$200
Reciprocal License Application	$150	$200
Reinstatement of Expired License	$125	$200
Application to Return to Active Status	$125	$200
Duplicate License	New	$50
Annual Maintenance of Inactive Status	New	$50
Application to Extend Associate License	New	$50

Section 12. Makes a clarifying change to the section relating to renewal of therapists' licenses.

Section 13. Adds a requirement that a licensee who requests to be placed on inactive status must pay an annual inactive status maintenance fee. Section 11 establishes the amount of the fee at $50.00. A person on inactive status is not required to complete continuing education requirements.

Section 14. Authorizes the Board to waive continuing education requirements for licensees on active military duty who are serving overseas.

Section 15. Corrects a spelling error.

Section 16. Clarifies and expands the Boards authority to take disciplinary or remedial actions. The section adds a number of new grounds for discipline including:

- Having been disciplined in another jurisdiction.
- Violating the act or a rule adopted by the Board.
- Aiding and abetting an unlicensed person.
- Being guilty of immoral, dishonorable, unprofessional, or unethical conduct.
- Endangering the welfare of a client.
- Practicing while under the influence of drugs, narcotics, alcohol, chemicals, or other controlled substances.
- Demonstrated incompetence.
- Exploiting a client, student, supervisee, or trainee for financial or personal gain.
- Harassing or abusing, sexually or otherwise, a client, student, supervisee, or trainee.
- Failing to cooperate with the Board or other appropriate entities.
- Refusing to appear before the Board upon an order by the chair.

The Board is also authorized to take additional disciplinary actions, including requiring examination, remediation, or rehabilitation of an applicant or licensee; requiring additional supervision at the licensee's expense; limiting or circumscribing the licensee's practice; or using a combination of disciplinary actions. The Board may assess costs against the applicant or licensee for the disciplinary action. The Board may petition the court to order the applicant or licensee to submit to psychological or physical evaluations. The Board must provide a hearing to any applicant or licensee who is subject to discipline. The records and other documents used by the Board in the course of an investigation are not subject to the Public Records law. However, if the record is admitted in evidence in a hearing, it becomes a public record. A person whose license has been denied or revoked may reapply after one calendar year.

Section 17. Adds a new section authorizing the Board to request that the applicant or licensee undergo a criminal history record check to reveal a conviction of a State or federal crime. The applicant or licensee must consent to the criminal history check and must provide fingerprints. Refusal to consent to the check may constitute grounds for denial or revocation of a license. If the criminal history check reveals a conviction, the Board is not required to bar licensure, but may consider a number of mitigating factors to determine whether the applicant should be disqualified.

Section 18. Adds a corresponding provision to the law allowing the Department of Justice to conduct criminal history record checks for applicants for licensure as a marriage and family therapist or associate.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act becomes effective October 1, 2009.

Section 2. Amends the section that prohibits practice without a license to include a licensed marriage and family therapy associate.

Section 3. Amends the section on exemptions from the act. The amendments clarify that a marriage and family therapy intern must be enrolled in a master's level program or higher in a recognized educational institution and under the supervision of a Board approved training institution in order to be exempt from the act. It also eliminates the exemption for people practicing as an employee of a nonprofit organization. Finally, this section clarifies that no exempt person may hold himself out as being licensed.

Section 4. Amends the section that establishes the Board. Currently, the Governor appoints the chairperson of the Board. This is changed to allow the Board to elect a chair and vice-chair from its membership for a four year term.

Section 5. Provides that Board expenditures may not exceed the reserves, as well as the revenues of the Board in any fiscal year.

Section 5.1. Adds to the Board's powers and duties the authority to order records relating to a licensee's practice in the course of investigating a complaint. Any such records are not subject to the public records law. This section also requires a licensee or an employer of a licensee to retain records for at least 5 years from the termination of client services for an adult client. In the case of a minor client, the records must be retained until the later of the date the client is 22 or 5 years from the termination of services.

Section 6. Amends the section relating to requirements for licensure as a marriage and family therapist to clarify the educational and experience requirements. It also changes the examination requirement from an exam administered by the Board to one approved by the Board.

Section 7. Adds a new section which sets out the requirements for licensure as a marriage and family therapy associate. An applicant must submit the same application information, have the same educational and experience qualifications, and have passed the same examination as are required of marriage and family therapist applicants. In addition the associate applicant must show evidence of appropriate coursework and have an agreement by an approved supervisor to provide supervision to the applicant. An associate license is only valid for three years from the date of issuance and cannot be renewed. However, under certain circumstances, the Board can grant a one-year extension of the license.

Section 8. Amends the section relating to the examination to give the Board more flexibility. In addition, the section adds a requirement that an applicant must request reasonable accommodations to take the exam in writing.

Section 9. Repeals the section that authorizes the Board to grant temporary licenses.

Section 10. Amends the provision relating to reciprocal licenses to add more specific requirements for issuing a license to a therapist or associate who is licensed in another state and seeks to be licensed in this State.

Section 11. Amends the fees which the Board is authorized to charge by increasing all of the fees except the examination fee. This section also adds new fees for a duplicate license, annual maintenance of inactive status, and an application to extend an associate license. The Board is also given authority to establish fees for the actual cost of duplication services, materials, and returned bank items, and makes all fees charged by the Board nonrefundable.

Section 12. Makes a clarifying change to the section relating to renewal of therapists' licenses.

Section 13. Adds a requirement that a licensee who requests to be placed on inactive status must pay an annual inactive status maintenance fee. Section 11 establishes the amount of the fee at $50.00. A person on inactive status is not required to complete continuing education requirements.

Section 14. Authorizes the Board to waive continuing education requirements for licensees on active military duty who are serving overseas.

Section 15. Corrects a spelling error.

Section 16. Clarifies and expands the Boards authority to take disciplinary or remedial actions. The section adds a number of new grounds for discipline including:

- Having been disciplined in another jurisdiction.
- Violating the act or a rule adopted by the Board.
- Aiding and abetting an unlicensed person.
- Being guilty of immoral, dishonorable, unprofessional, or unethical conduct.
- Endangering the welfare of a client.
- Practicing while under the influence of drugs, narcotics, alcohol, chemicals, or other controlled substances.
- Demonstrated incompetence.
- Exploiting a client, student, supervisee, or trainee for financial or personal gain.
- Harassing or abusing, sexually or otherwise, a client, student, supervisee, or trainee.
- Failing to cooperate with the Board or other appropriate entities.
- Refusing to appear before the Board upon an order by the chair.

The Board is also authorized to take additional disciplinary actions, including requiring examination, remediation, or rehabilitation of an applicant or licensee; requiring additional supervision at the licensee's expense; limiting or circumscribing the licensee's practice; or using a combination of disciplinary actions. The Board may assess costs against the applicant or licensee for the disciplinary action. The Board may petition the court to order the applicant or licensee to submit to psychological or physical evaluations. The Board must provide a hearing to any applicant or licensee who is subject to discipline. The records and other documents used by the Board in the course of an investigation are not subject to the Public Records law. However, if the record is admitted in evidence in a hearing, it becomes a public record. A person whose license has been denied or revoked may reapply after one calendar year.

Section 17. Adds a new section authorizing the Board to request that the applicant or licensee undergo a criminal history record check to reveal a conviction of a State or federal crime. The applicant or licensee must consent to the criminal history check and must provide fingerprints. Refusal to consent to the check may constitute grounds for denial or revocation of a license. If the criminal history check reveals a conviction, the Board is not required to bar licensure, but may consider a number of mitigating factors to determine whether the applicant should be disqualified.

Section 18. Adds a corresponding provision to the law allowing the Department of Justice to conduct criminal history record checks for applicants for licensure as a marriage and family therapist or associate.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

The PCS to Senate Bill 935 authorizes the Marriage and Family Therapy Licensure Board to raise certain application and licensing fees as well as to institute new fees. The PCS increases the caps for all fees with the exception of the license examination fee. It also adds fees for duplicate license, annual maintenance of inactive status, and an application to extend an associate license. The Board is also given authority to establish fees for the actual cost of duplication services, materials, and returned bank items. The PCS makes all fees charged by the Board nonrefundable. In practice, the Board does not currently refund fees, so this change will have no fiscal impact. The chart below summarizes the expected fee changes.

Senate Bill 935: Fee Change Summary

Fee	Current Amount	Proposed Amount	Projected Board Fee	Fee Change
License Examination	$ 50	$ 50	$ 50	$ -
Application as Marriage and Family Therapist (LMFT)	$ 150	$ 200	$ 200	$ 50
Application as Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist Associate (LMFTA)	$ -	$ 200	$ 200	$ 200
License Renewal	$ 100	$ 200	$ 100	$ -
Reciprocal License Application	$ 150	$ 200	$ 200	$ 50

Maintenance of Inactive Status	$ -	$ 50	$ 50	$ 50
Application to Extend Associate License	$ -	$ 50	$ 50	$ 50

The fee changes will each have a fiscal impact equal to the change in the fee multiplied by the number of individuals who pay the fee. The Board of Marriage and Family Therapy Licensure has provided estimates of the number of individuals the fee changes will impact each year. The following chart summarizes these estimates.

Department of Justice

The Department of Justice (DOJ) charges a fee of $38 to perform each criminal background check. Of this fee, $22 is forward to the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) for a check of federal databases, and the remaining $16 is retained by DOJ. Of this $16, $14 goes to a check of NC databases and $2 is used for the processing cost associated with the request. All individuals applying for a new license or for reinstatement of a license would be subject to this background check. The following table shows the information provided by the NC Marriage and Family Therapy Licensure Board on the projected number of applications for which this background check requirement would apply and the amount retained by DOJ as receipts for each year covered by this fiscal note:

Types of Applicability:	Individuals Projected FY 2009-10	Individuals Projected FY 2010-11	Individuals Projected FY 2011-12	Individuals Projected FY 2012-13	Individuals Projected FY 2013-14
Application as Marriage and Family Therapist (LMFT)	30	35	38	42	45
Application as Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist Associate (LMFTA)	66	70	70	75	75
Reinstatement of an Expired License	62	63	65	67	70
Total number of projected applicable background checks:	158	168	173	184	193
Total amount retained by DOJ as receipts ($16 each background check):	$2,528	$2,688	$2,768	$2,944	$3,088

The proposed bill gives the NC Marriage and Family Therapy Licensure Board the authorization to request background checks on licensees under investigation by the Board. The number of requests cannot be determined with the information provided, however, these additional background checks will result in an increase in receipts for DOJ. It is unclear if applicants seeking reciprocal licenses will be required to submit to background checks; any background check requested for this purpose will also result in an increase in DOJ receipts.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO: (1) EXTEND SUNSET DATES APPLICABLE TO THE DRY-CLEANING SOLVENT CLEANUP ACT, THE DRY-CLEANING SOLVENT CLEANUP FUND, AND THE DRY-CLEANING SOLVENT TAX; (2) ALLOW THE USE OF STATE AND LOCAL LAND-USE CONTROLS AND DEED NOTICES IN LIEU OF LAND-USE RESTRICTIONS FOR PROPERTIES IN THE AREA OF CONTAMINATED DRY-CLEANING SITES, NOT INCLUDING PROPERTIES ON WHICH A DRY-CLEANING FACILITY IS OR WAS LOCATED WHICH IS THE SOURCE OF A SITE'S CONTAMINATION; (3) MODIFY NOTICE AND COMMENT REQUIREMENTS ASSOCIATED WITH A NOTICE OF INTENT TO REMEDIATE; AND (4) REMOVE THE LIMITATION ON DISBURSEMENT OF MONIES FROM THE DRY-CLEANING SOLVENT CLEANUP FUND FOR COSTS INCURRED TO ADDRESS DRY-CLEANING SOLVENT CONTAMINATION ON STATE-OWNED PROPERTY.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 143-215.104I reads as rewritten:

"§ 143-215.104I. Dry-Cleaning solvent remediation agreements.

(a) Upon the completion of assessment activities required by a dry-cleaning solvent assessment agreement, one or more potentially responsible parties may petition the Commission to enter into a dry-cleaning solvent remediation agreement for any contamination requiring remediation. The Commission may, in its discretion, enter into a remediation agreement with any petitioner who satisfies the requirements of this section and the applicable requirements of G.S. 143-215.104F. If more than one potentially responsible party petitions the Commission, the Commission may enter into a single remediation agreement with one or more of the petitioners. The Commission shall not unreasonably refuse to enter into a remediation agreement pursuant to this section. The Commission may, in its discretion, enter into a remediation agreement that includes the assessment described in G.S. 143-215.104H. Petitioners shall provide the Commission with any information necessary to demonstrate:

(1) Repealed by Session Laws 2000, c. 19, s. 10, effective June 26, 2000.

(2) As a result of the remediation agreement, the contamination site will be suitable for the uses specified in the remediation agreement while fully protecting public health and the environment from dry-cleaning solvent contamination and any other contaminants included in the remediation agreement.

(3) There is a public benefit commensurate with the liability protection provided under this Part.

(4) Repealed by Session Laws 2007-530, s. 6, effective August 31, 2007.

(5) The petitioner has complied with or will comply with all applicable procedural requirements.

(6) The remediation agreement will not cause the Department to violate the terms and conditions under which the Department operates and administers remedial programs, including the programs established or operated pursuant to Article 9 of Chapter 130A of the General Statutes, by delegation or similar authorization from the United States or its departments or agencies, including the United States Environmental Protection Agency.

(7) The priority ranking assigned to the facility or site is consistent with the rules adopted by the Commission or the priority ranking that the petitioner agrees to accept is consistent with the rules adopted by the Commission.

(8) Repealed by Session Laws 2007-530, s. 6, effective August 31, 2007.

(9) The petitioner will continue to have available the financial resources necessary to satisfy the share of response costs imposed on the petitioner by G.S. 143-215.104F.

(10) Repealed by Session Laws 2007-530, s. 6, effective August 31, 2007.

(11) The consent of other property owners to enter into their property for purposes of conducting remediation activities specified in the remediation agreement.

(b) In negotiating a remediation agreement, parties may rely on land-use restrictions that will be included in a Notice of Dry-Cleaning Solvent Remediation required under G.S. 143-215.104M. A remediation agreement may provide for remediation in accordance with standards that are based on those land-use restrictions.

(b1) For properties in the area of a contamination site, other State or local land-use controls and notifications may be used in lieu of land-use restrictions. Any land-use controls used shall adequately protect human health and the environment, both currently and in the future, from exposure to dry-cleaning solvent contamination. If controls are used in lieu of land-use restrictions, then a Notice of Dry-Cleaning Solvent Remediation shall be prepared in accordance with the provision set forth in subdivisions (1) through (4) of G.S. 143-215.104M(b) and filed in accordance with subsections (c) through (g) of G.S. 143-215.104M. In the event that the owner of the property fails to submit and file the required Notice within the time specified, the Commission may prepare and file the Notice. This subsection shall not apply to properties on which a dry-cleaning facility is or was located which is the source of the contamination.

(c) A dry-cleaning solvent remediation agreement shall contain a description of the contamination site that would be sufficient as a description of the property in an instrument of conveyance and, as applicable, a statement of:

(1) Any remediation, including remediation of contaminants other than dry-cleaning solvents, to be conducted on the property, including:

a. A description of specific areas where remediation is to be conducted.

b. The remediation method or methods to be employed.

c. Repealed by Session Laws 2007-530, s. 6, effective August 31, 2007.

d. A schedule of remediation activities.

e. Applicable remediation standards. Applicable remediation standards for dry-cleaning solvent contamination shall not exceed the requirements adopted by the Commission pursuant to G.S. 143-104D(b)(3).

f. A schedule and the method or methods for evaluating the remediation.

(2) Any land-use ~~restrictions~~ restrictions and State and local land-use controls and notifications that will apply to the contamination site or other property.

(3) The desired results of any ~~remediation or~~ remediation, land-use ~~restrictions~~ restrictions, or State or local land-use controls or notifications with respect to the contamination site.

(4) The guidelines, including parameters, principles, and policies within which the desired results are to be accomplished.

(5) The consequences of achieving or not achieving the desired results.

(6) The priority ranking of the facility or abandoned site.

(7) Repealed by Session Laws 2007-530, s. 6, effective August 31, 2007.

(d) The Commission may refuse to enter into a dry-cleaning solvent assessment agreement or dry-cleaning solvent remediation agreement with any petitioner if the petitioner fails to provide any information that is necessary to demonstrate the facts required to be shown by subsection (a) of this section.

(e) In addition to the basis set forth in subsection (d) of this section, the Commission may refuse to enter into a dry-cleaning solvent remediation agreement with an owner of the property on which a contamination site is located if the owner refuses to accept limitations on the future use of the property and to give notice of these limitations pursuant to G.S. 143-215.104M.

(f) The refusal of the Commission to enter into a dry-cleaning remediation agreement with any petitioner shall not affect the rights of any other petitioner, other than any parent, subsidiary, or other affiliate of the petitioner, under this Part. The refusal of the Commission to enter into a remediation agreement may be the basis for rejection of a petition by any parent, subsidiary, or other affiliate of the petitioner for the facility or abandoned site.

(g) The terms and conditions of a dry-cleaning solvent remediation agreement concerned with dry-cleaning solvent contamination shall be guided by and consistent with the rules adopted by the Commission pursuant to G.S. 143-215.104D and the disbursement authorities and limitations set out in this Part. A remediation agreement shall provide that the Commission's private contractor conduct assessment and remediation activities at the facility or abandoned site.

(h) Any failure of a petitioner or the petitioner's agents or employees to comply with the dry-cleaning solvent remediation agreement constitutes a violation of this Part by the petitioner."

SECTION 2. G.S. 143-215.104K reads as rewritten:

"§ 143-215.104K. Liability protection.

(a) A potentially responsible party who enters into an assessment agreement or remediation agreement with the Commission and who is complying with the agreement shall not be held liable for assessment or remediation of areas of contamination identified in the agreement except as specified in the assessment agreement or remediation agreement, so long as any activities conducted at the contamination site by or under the control or direction of the petitioner do not increase the risk of harm to public health or the environment and the petitioner is not required to undertake additional remediation to unrestricted use standards pursuant to subsection (c) of this section. The liability protection provided under this Part applies to all of the following persons to the same extent as the petitioner, so long as these persons are not otherwise potentially responsible parties or parents, subsidiaries, or affiliates of potentially responsible parties and the person is not required to undertake additional remediation to unrestricted use standards pursuant to subsection (c) of this section:

(1) Repealed by Session Laws 2007-503, s. 8, effective August 31, 2007.
(2) Any future owner of the contamination site.
(3) A person who occupies the contamination site.
(4) A successor or assign of any person to whom the liability protection provided under this Part applies.
(5) Any lender or fiduciary that provides financing to the petitioner to pay the petitioner's financial obligations under G.S. 143-215.104F.

(b) A person who conducts an environmental assessment or transaction screen on contamination resulting from a release at a certified facility or certified abandoned site consistent with a dry-cleaning solvent assessment agreement, if any was required under this Part, and who is not otherwise a potentially responsible party is not a potentially responsible party as a result of conducting the environmental assessment or transaction screen unless that person increases the risk of harm to public health or the environment by failing to exercise due diligence and reasonable care in performing the environmental assessment or transaction screen.

(c) If a land-use restriction set out in a Notice of Dry-Cleaning Solvent Remediation required under G.S. 143-215.104M is violated, the owner of the contamination site at the time the land-use restriction is violated, the owner's successors and assigns, and the owner's agents who direct or contract for alteration of the contamination site in violation of a land-use restriction shall be liable for remediation of all contaminants to unrestricted use standards. A petitioner who completes the remediation ~~or redevelopment~~ required under a dry-cleaning solvent remediation agreement or other person who receives liability protection under this Part shall not be required to undertake additional remediation unless:

(1) The petitioner knowingly or recklessly provides false information that forms a basis for the remediation agreement or that is offered to demonstrate compliance with the remediation agreement or fails to disclose relevant information about contamination related to a facility or abandoned site.
(2) New information indicates the existence of previously unreported dry-cleaning solvent contaminants or any other contaminants to be remediated under the remediation agreement, or an area of previously unreported contamination by contaminants addressed in the remediation agreement is discovered to be associated with the facility or abandoned site and has not been remediated to unrestricted use standards, unless the remediation agreement is amended to include any previously unreported contaminants and any additional area of contamination. If the remediation agreement sets maximum concentrations for contaminants and new information indicates the existence of previously unreported areas of these contaminants, further remediation shall be required only if the areas of previously unreported contaminants raise the risk of the contamination to public health or the environment to a level less protective of public health and the environment than that required by the remediation agreement.
(3) The level of risk to public health and the environment from contaminants is unacceptable at or in the vicinity of the contamination site due to changes in exposure conditions, including (i) a change in land use that increases the probability of exposure to contaminants at or in the vicinity of the contamination ~~site or~~ site; (ii) the failure of remediation to mitigate risks to the extent required to make the contamination site fully protective of public health and the environment as planned in the remediation ~~agreement.~~agreement; or (iii) removal of a State or local land-use control.
(4) The Commission obtains new information about a contaminant to be remediated under the remediation agreement and associated with the facility or abandoned site or exposures at or around the contamination site that raises the risk to public health or the environment associated with the contamination site beyond an acceptable range and in a manner or to a degree not anticipated in the remediation agreement. Any person whose use, including any change in use, of the contamination site causes an unacceptable risk to public health or the environment may be required by the Commission to undertake additional remediation measures under the provisions of this Part.

(5) A petitioner fails to file a timely and proper Notice of Dry-Cleaning Solvent Remediation under this Part.

(6) A facility or abandoned site loses its certification before the assessment and any remediation required under the provisions of this Part and the dry-cleaning solvent remediation agreement are completed to the satisfaction of the Department.

(7) The remediation required in the remediation agreement has resulted in notification from the United States or its departments and agencies, including the Environmental Protection Agency, that the Department will violate the terms and conditions under which it operates and administers remedial programs by delegation or similar authorization."

SECTION 3. G.S. 143-215.104L reads as rewritten:

"§ 143-215.104L. Public notice and community involvement.

(a) If a petitioner desires to enter into a dry-cleaning solvent remediation agreement based on remediation standards that rely on the creation of land-use restrictions, or on the use of State or local land-use controls and notifications, the Commission or the Commission's private contractor on behalf of the petitioner shall notify the public and the community in which the facility or abandoned site is located of the planned remediation ~~and redevelopment~~ activities. On behalf of the petitioner, the Commission or the Commission's private contractor shall prepare a Notice of Intent to Remediate a Dry-Cleaning Solvent Facility or Abandoned Site and a summary of the Notice of Intent. The Notice of Intent shall provide, to the extent known, a legal description of the location of the contamination site, a map showing the location of the contamination site, a description of the contaminants involved and their concentrations in the media of the contamination site, a description of the future use of the contamination site, any proposed investigation and remediation, and a ~~proposed Notice of Dry-Cleaning Solvent Remediation prepared in accordance with G.S. 143-215.104M.~~description of any land-use restrictions and State and local land-use controls and notifications that will be used. Both the Notice of Intent and the summary of the Notice of Intent shall state the time period and means for submitting written comment and for requesting a public meeting on the proposed dry-cleaning solvent remediation agreement. The summary of the Notice of Intent shall include a statement as to the public availability of the full Notice of Intent. After approval of the Notice of Intent and summary of the Notice of Intent by the Commission, the Commission or the Commission's private contractor shall provide a copy of the Notice of Intent to all local governments having jurisdiction over the contamination site. The Commission or Commission's private contractor shall publish the summary of the Notice of Intent in a newspaper of general circulation serving the area in which the contamination is located and shall mail a copy of the summary to each owner of property located within the contamination site and to each owner of property that is contiguous to the contamination site. ~~shall file a copy of the summary of the Notice of Intent with the Codifier of Rules, who shall publish the summary of the Notice of Intent in the North Carolina Register.~~ The Commission or the Commission's private contractor shall also conspicuously post a copy of the summary of the Notice of Intent at the contamination site.

(b) Publication of the approved summary of the Notice of Intent ~~in the North Carolina Register and publication~~ in a newspaper of general circulation shall begin a public comment period of at least ~~60~~ 30 days from the ~~later~~ date of publication. During the public comment period, members of the public, residents of the community in which the contamination site is located, and local governments having jurisdiction over the contamination site may submit comment on the proposed dry-cleaning solvent remediation agreement, including methods and degree of remediation, future land uses, and impact on local employment.

(c) Any person who desires a public meeting on a proposed dry-cleaning solvent remediation agreement shall submit a written request for a public meeting to the Commission within ~~30~~ 21 days after the public comment period begins. The Commission shall consider all requests for a public meeting and shall hold a public meeting if the Commission determines that there is significant public interest in the proposed remediation agreement. If the Commission decides to hold a public meeting, the Commission shall, at least ~~30~~ 15 days prior to the public meeting, mail written notice of the public meeting to all persons who requested the public meeting and to any other person who had previously requested notice. The Commission shall also publish, at least ~~30~~ 15 days prior to the date of the public meeting, a notice of the public meeting at least one time in a newspaper having general circulation in the county where the contamination site is located. In any county in which there is more than one newspaper having general circulation, the Commission shall publish a copy of the notice in as many newspapers having general circulation in the county as the Commission in its discretion determines to be necessary to assure that the notice is generally available throughout the county. The Commission shall prescribe the form and content of the notice to be published. The Commission shall prescribe the procedures to be followed in the public meeting. The Commission shall take detailed minutes of the meeting. The minutes shall include any written ~~dry-cleaning solvent remediation agreement.~~comments received during the public meeting. The Commission shall take into account the comment received during the comment period and at the public meeting if the Commission holds a public meeting. The Commission shall incorporate into the remediation agreement provisions that reflect comment received during the comment period and at the public meeting to the extent practical. The Commission shall give particular consideration to written comment that is supported by valid scientific and technical information and analysis."

SECTION 4. G.S. 143-215.104N(b) reads as rewritten:

"(b) Limitations. – Notwithstanding subsection (a) of this section, the Commission shall not make any disbursement from the Fund:

...

~~(9) For any costs incurred in connection with dry-cleaning solvent contamination from a facility or abandoned site owned by the State or a department or agency of the State.~~"

SECTION 5. Section 8 of S.L. 1997-392 reads as rewritten:

"Section 8. Section 7 of this act is repealed effective 1 January 2000. Any reimbursement authorized pursuant to Section 7 prior to 1 January 2000 shall be paid in accordance with the provisions of that section.~~Section 4 of this act is repealed effective 1 January 2010. Sections 1 and 4.1 of this act are repealed effective 1 January 2012. However:~~

~~(1) G.S. 143-215.104K is not repealed to the extent that it applies to liability arising from dry-cleaning solvent contamination described in a Dry-Cleaning Solvent Assessment Agreement or Dry-Cleaning Solvent Remediation Agreement entered into by the Environmental Management Commission pursuant to G.S. 143-215.104H and G.S. 143-215.104I.~~

~~(2) Any Dry-Cleaning Solvent Assessment Agreement or Dry-Cleaning Solvent Remediation Agreement in force as of 1 January 2012 shall continue to be~~

~~governed by the provisions of Part 6 of Article 21A of Chapter 143 of the General Statutes as though those provisions had not been repealed.~~

SENATE BILL 700:
Dry-Cleaning Solvent Act Amends

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 9, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Rand	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to Second Edition S700-CSRBx-36

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 700 would: (i) extend sunset dates applicable to the Dry-Cleaning Solvent Cleanup Act (DSCA); (ii) allow the use of State and local land-use controls and deed notices in lieu of land-use restrictions for properties in the area of contaminated dry-cleaning sites; (iii) modify notice and comment requirements associated with a notice of intent to remediate a dry-cleaning site; and (iv) remove the limitation on disbursement of monies from the Fund for costs incurred to address dry-cleaning solvent contamination on State-owned property.

The PCS places the sunsets contained in the Session Laws into the statutes.

[As introduced, this bill was identical to H761, as introduced by Rep. Gibson, which is currently in House Environment and Natural Resources, if favorable, Judiciary III, if favorable, Finance.]

CURRENT LAW and BACKGROUND: In 1997, the General Assembly enacted the DSCA to provide a fund, administered by the Department of Environment and Natural Resources, to assess and cleanup contaminated dry-cleaning sites using state-lead contractors. The source for the cleanup fund is a tax on dry-cleaning and dry-cleaning solvents (both perchloroethylene and petroleum-based solvents). The programmatic elements of the DSCA are currently slated to be repealed on January 1, 2012. The transfer of a portion of the sales and use taxes collected from dry-cleaning services to the Dry-Cleaning Solvent Cleanup Act Fund (Fund) is scheduled to end on June 30, 2010. Collection of the Dry-Cleaning Solvent Tax (Solvent Tax) which is deposited into the Fund is scheduled to be repealed on January 1, 2010.

To date, 202 contaminated dry-cleaning sites have been accepted into the DSCA Program for cleanup. As of the end of calendar year 2008, three sites will be closed. At least eight more sites are on schedule to be closed by June of 2009. The future cost to complete clean up and close the remaining 199 sites is estimated to be approximately $34 million. The Division of Waste Management (DWM) in the Department of Environment and Natural Resources estimates there are approximately 1,300 additional contaminated sites across the State with 550 of those predicted to be brought into the DSCA Program. The cost to clean up these additional 550 sites is projected to be approximately $138 million. As of the end of 2008, the program will be spending more ($10.5 million) than it is receiving in revenues ($10.1 million). This trend of expenditures exceeding revenues is expected to increase as more sites enter the remedial phase of the program bringing the current balance to a level that will require addressing sites in order of priority. [1]

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 700 would do the following:

- Extend the sunset dates applicable to: (1) implementation of DSCA from January 1, 2012 to January 1, 2022; (2) collection of the Solvent Taxes from January 1, 2010 to January 1, 2020; and (3) transfer of the dry-cleaning sales and use tax to the Fund from June 30, 2010 to June 30, 2020.

[1] Information provided by DWM.

- Allow the use of State and local land-use controls (e.g., groundwater use restrictions, ordinances) and deed notices in lieu of land-use restrictions on property in the area of a contaminated dry-cleaning site (land use controls would not be available for properties on which a dry-cleaning facility is or was located). Land-use controls must adequately protect human health and the environment, be included in a Notice of Dry-Cleaning Solvent Remediation, and filed in the office of the register of deeds of the county or counties in which the property in question is located.
- Amend public notice requirements applicable to a proposed cleanup of a contaminated dry-cleaning site by: 1) adding a requirement that a summary of the Notice of Intent to Remediate a Dry-Cleaning Solvent Facility or Abandoned Site be mailed to each owner of property within the contamination site or contiguous to it; (2) removing the requirement to publish the summary of the Notice of Intent in the North Carolina Register; (3) reducing the minimum public comment period from 60 days to 30 days; and (4) requiring minutes of any public meeting held on a proposed dry-cleaning solvent remediation agreement to include written comments received during the meeting.
- Allow DSCA to pay for cleanups of dry-cleaning contamination discovered on properties owned by the State. Current law prohibits disbursement of monies from the Fund for this purpose.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The PCS would become effective July 1, 2009.

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 1, 2009

BILL SUMMARY:

S.B. 700 amends GS 143-215.104I to add a new subsection (b1) that (1) provides that other state and local land-use controls and notifications may be used in lieu of land use restrictions for properties in the area of a dry-cleaning solvent contamination site; (2) requires that, if such controls are used, a Notice of Dry-Cleaning Solvent Remediation must be prepared and filed in accordance with GS 143-215.104M by the owner or the North Carolina Environmental Management Commission (Commission); and (3) provides that state and land-use controls and notifications may not be used on properties on which a dry-cleaning facility is or was located which was the source of the contamination. The bill amends GS 143-215.104L to (1) require the Commission or its private contractor to mail a copy of the summary of a Notice of Intent to enter into a dry-cleaning solvent remediation agreement to each owner of property located within the contamination site and to each owner of property that is contiguous to the site (rather than filing a copy of the summary with the Codifier of Rules, as is currently required), (2) require publication of the summary of Notice of Intent in a newspaper of general circulation only (rather than the newspaper and in the North Carolina Register), (3) reduce from 60 days to 30 days the public comment period that begins from the date of publication of the summary of the Notice of Intent, (4) reduce from 30 days to 21 days the deadline (after the public comment period begins) for a request for a public meeting on a proposed dry-cleaning solvent remediation agreement, (5) reduce from 30 days to 15 days before the date of the meeting the time in which the Commission must mail notice of the meeting and in which the Commission shall publish notice of the meeting in the newspaper; and (6) requiring the minutes from the meeting to include any written comments received during the meeting.

Section 4 of the bill amends GS 143-215.104N(b) by deleting subsection (9), removing the limitation on disbursement of monies from the Dry-Cleaning Solvent Cleanup Fund for costs incurred in connection with dry-cleaning solvent contamination from a facility or site owned by the state or a state agency.

Section 5 of the bill amends section 8 of SL 1997-392 by extending the sunset dates of Sections 1 (Part 6 to Article 21A of Chapter 143) and 4.1 [GS 105-259(b)(20)] of that law from January 1, 2012, to January 1, 2022, and extending the sunset date of Section 4 (Article 5D of Chapter 143) of that law from January 1, 2010, to January 1, 2020. Section 6 mends Section 23 of SL 2000-19 by extending the sunset dates of Sections 1.1 (GS 105-164.44E) and 1.2 (amending GS 105-187.31) of that law from January 1, 2010, to January 1, 2020. These amendments effectively extend the sunset for the dry-cleaning solvent tax and the transfer of 15% of the sales tax on dry cleaning to the Dry Cleaning Solvent Cleanup Fund.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

Revenues

Sales Tax Transfer

S.B. 700 extends the sunset on the transfer of 15% of the next sales and use tax collected on dry cleaning. In the absence of GS 105-164.44E, this revenue would be credited to the General Fund. The 15% dry-cleaning sales tax transfer was originally set to sunset on June 30, 2010 and would sunset June 30, 2020 under S.B. 700. Using a growth trend projection, an estimate of revenue from the 15% sales tax transfer for the next five years is as follows:

2009-10	2010-11	2011-12	2012-13	2013-14
$7,643,854	$7,495,510	$7,350,044	$7,207,402	$7,067,527

Under current law, the transfer will not expire until the end of the FY 2009-10 fiscal year, on June 30, 2010. Thus, this note does not reflect revenue for FY 2009-10 on the first page.

Dry Cleaning Solvent Tax
S.B. 700 extends the sunset on the dry cleaning solvent taxes. These taxes were originally set to expire January 1, 2010 and under S.B. 700 would sunset January 1, 2020. Using a growth trend projection, an estimate of revenue from the dry cleaning solvent tax transfer for the next five years is as follows:

2009-10	2010-11	2011-12	2012-13	2013-14
$614,419	$565,035	$519,620	$477,855	$532,894

Under current law, the tax expires mid-way through FY 2009-10. Thus, new revenue for FY 2009-10 from this bill will be half the amount shown, or $307,209.

Expenditures

Administrative Expenses
GS 105-187.34 allows the Department of Revenue to retain up to $125,000 to cover its costs of collection of the tax. S.B. 700 extends the sunset from January 1, 2010 to January 1, 2020 for this statute.

GS 143-215.104C allows the Department of Environment and Natural Resources and the Attorney General's Office to use up to 20% of the revenue credited to the fund each year for administrative costs. S.B. 700 extends the sunset for this statute from January 1, 2012 to January 1, 2022. The only revenue into the fund after 2020 will come from interest earned on the fund balance and any gifts or donations; it is estimated that revenue after 2020 will be minimal.

Additional Uses of Fund
Section 4 of the bill removes the limitation that the Fund cannot be used for State-owned sites. DENR currently knows of two State-owned sites with dry cleaning solvent contamination – one in Charlotte at UNC-Charlotte and one owned by DOT in Winston-Salem. However, DENR estimates there are over 900 abandoned dry cleaning sites in the State and some of these may potentially be on State property. The average estimate to clean up each abandoned dry cleaning site is $330,000.

SENATE BILL 359:
Incorporate Sneads Ferry

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 6, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Brown	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S359-CSRBx-34		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 359 would incorporate the Village of Sneads Ferry[1]. SB 359 would become effective when it becomes law, subject to a voter referendum and pre-clearance by the U.S. Department of Justice prior to implementation. The Proposed Committee Substitute removes the property tax rate restrictions. The original bill set the property tax rate for the Village at $0.10/$100.00 valuation until June 30, 2012, and prohibited the Village Council from increasing the tax rate above $0.20/$100.00 valuation without a vote of the Village.

CURRENT LAW: Article VII of the North Carolina Constitution provides that the General Assembly may create cities and towns. The General Assembly created the Joint Legislative Commission on Municipal Incorporations in 1986 to conduct an independent review and evaluation of proposed municipal incorporations. The evaluation is conducted in accordance with a statutory set of objective criteria found in Article 20 of Chapter 120 of the General Statutes. The statutory criteria include a review of community support, population, land development, nearness to other urban areas, and ability to provide municipal services at a reasonable rate. Chapter 160A of the General Statutes provides the general laws applicable to the administration, powers, and duties of municipalities. Municipalities may share in the following revenue sources: local sales tax distributions, Powell Bill allocations, franchise tax revenues on electricity, beer and wine excise taxes, piped natural gas excise tax revenues, and telecommunications sales tax revenues.[2]

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 359 would incorporate the Village of Sneads Ferry, to be governed by a six-member town council and a mayor. The Joint Legislative Commission on Municipal Incorporations found that the proposed incorporation met the standards required for incorporation under Article 20 of Chapter 120 of the General Statutes.

- The Village of Sneads Ferry would be located in Onslow County. The municipalities of Holly Ridge and North Topsail Beach are within a distance of one mile of the proposed Village boundaries; the population of these two municipalities does not exceed 5,000. Camp Lejeune also borders this area.
- The estimated permanent population of the Village would be 5,799 residents. The estimated seasonal population density for the Village would be 276 people per square mile. The estimated assessed property tax valuation would be $1,060,000,000.
- The Village plans to offer the following services: fire protection provided by the Sneads Ferry and Turkey Creek Volunteer Fire Departments; planning and zoning service provided

[1] In its Report to the General Assembly dated February 9, 2009, the Joint Legislative Commission on Municipal Corporations found that the proposed Village of Sneads Ferry meets the standards required by Article 20 of Chapter 120 of the General Statutes and recommended incorporation of the area as the Village of Sneads Ferry.

[2] A municipality must have a property tax rate greater than $0.05/$100 valuation and provide at least four services to receive the following shared revenues: local sales and use tax, beer and wine excise taxes, sales tax on telecommunications, and Powell Bill allocations.

by Onslow County; solid waste collection provided by a private contractor; and street lighting.

SENATE BILL 509:
Rev Laws Tech, Clarifying, & Admin. Changes

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 2, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Hartsell	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S509-CSRBx-33		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 509[1] makes several technical, clarifying, and administrative changes to the revenue laws and related statutes. The proposed committee substitute adds the provisions highlighted in the chart.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 509 makes the following technical, clarifying, and administrative changes:

Section	Explanation
Privilege License, Income, Excise, and Insurance Tax Changes
1	Clarifies the privilege license tax on home inspectors applies to an individual licensed under the Home Inspector Licensure Act so that associate home inspectors will be taxed similarly. S.L. 2008-206 imposed an annual State privilege license tax of $50 on a licensed home inspector but it failed to mention associate home inspectors. Without this change, an associate home inspector would be subject to local privilege license tax in each city that levies the tax.
2	Moves the definitions from subsection (b) to a newly created subsection (b1). The current subsection (b) contains two different subdivision lists within the same subsection. This change puts the defined terms, listed by subdivisions, into a new subsection.
3	Clarifies that a recycling facility[2] that is eligible for the tax credit for investing in large or major recycling facility is not also eligible for the Article 3J tax credit for investing in business property. This section becomes for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2007, the year the Article 3J tax credits became effective.
4	Changes the term 'nonbusiness activities' to 'activities producing nonapportionable income', which is a defined term in the statute that sets out the manner in which corporations must allocate and apportion their income to North Carolina for income tax purposes. In 2002, the terms 'business income' and 'nonbusiness income' were replaced by apportionable and nonapportionable. This subsection was missed when those changes were made.
5	Clarifies that a corporate taxpayer may not use an alternative apportionment method unless it receives a written decision from the Secretary authorizing it to do so.
6	Corrects an effective date relating to changes made to the statute designating who may sign an income tax return. These changes were originally part of the major rewrite of the tax appeals procedure in 2007 (SB 242).
7	Repeals an unnecessary statute in the corporate and personal income tax laws. The

[1] H553, as introduced by Rep. Wainwright, is the House companion bill. H553 is currently in House Finance

[2] The General Assembly enacted the credit as a tax incentive for Nucor in 1985.

	Department of Revenue does not ask taxpayers to file a 'supplemental' return. A taxpayer files either an original return or an amended return. If the Department determines additional tax is due, it proposes an assessment.
8	Clarifies the reporting requirements for the film industry credit. The term 'claimed' may have several different meanings. The Department of Revenue requested clarity as to the meaning of the term.
9	Changes the date by which the State Treasurer must make a transfer from the General Fund to the North Carolina Health Insurance Risk Pool Fund. The current statute provides that within 75 days after the end of each fiscal year, the Treasurer must transfer to the Fund an amount equal to the growth in net revenue from the gross premiums tax on insurance companies. Insurance tax returns are due by March 15. Insurance companies are also required to prepay their tax in installments. The first installment of the fiscal year is due by October 15. Therefore, until those installments are remitted, little or no funds are available for transfer. This section changes the date from within 75 days after the end of the fiscal year, or September 14, to November 1, as recommended by the Department of Revenue.
Sales and Use Tax and Highway Use Tax Changes
10	Updates the reference to the Streamlined Agreement from June 23, 2007 to May 12, 2009. North Carolina does not need to amend its sales and use tax laws to conform to the changes made in the Agreement since June 23, 2007. A copy of the Agreement, as well as a document summarizing the changes made to the Agreement since June 23, 2007, may be found on the Streamlined Sales Tax Project's website: www.streamlinedsalestax.org
11	Makes two conforming changes to the general sales tax sourcing principles. It provides that direct mail is sourced to the location where the property is delivered, and if that is unknown, it is sourced to the location from which the direct mail was shipped. This change ensures compliance with the Streamlined Agreement. This section also codifies the long-standing sourcing method used for florist wire sales: the sale is sourced to the business location of the florist that takes the order for the sale.
12	Repeals an unnecessary sales tax exemption. GS 105-164.13(40) exempts sales to the Department of Transportation from sales tax; however, subdivision (52) exempts all sales to State agencies from sales tax. S.L. 2003-431 allowed a sale and use tax exemption, instead of a sales and use tax refund, for purchases by State agencies. The exemption for DOT predated this exemption. It is no longer necessary.
13	Replaces the word 'energy' with the word 'electricity' for consistency. This term appears in the statute enacted last year authorizing a sales tax refund for materials used to build a facility that manufactures solar electricity generating materials. This section is effective July 1, 2008, the effective date of the original provision.
14	Provides a new distribution methodology for the allocation of sales tax collected o modular homes to local governments. The methodology currently references the distribution under the third ½ cent local sales and use tax; but this tax is repealed effective October 1, 2009. A 2.5% State sales tax applies to the sale of a modular home. Twenty percent of the tax collected is distributed to the counties. This amounts to approximately $1 million annually. This section provides that 20% of the sales tax collected on modular homes will be allocated to the counties on a per capita basis, and distributed to the county and its municipalities as provided in the first ½ cent local sales tax.

15	Repeals an unnecessary highway use tax exemption. A transfer of a motor vehicle to a handicapped person from the Department of Health and Human Services after the vehicle is equipped by the Department for use by the handicapped is exempt from highway use tax. The exemption is not needed because the Department never takes title to the vehicle.
16	Corrects two incorrect statutory references.
17	Clarifies how a bundled transaction that includes food is taxed under the local option ¼ cent county sales tax article. See GS 105-164.4D.
Property Tax Changes
18	Reinserts the word 'shares', which was inadvertently deleted when changes were made in 2008 to the circuit breaker statute.
19	Modernizes language..
20(a)	Clarifies that the homestead exclusion applies uniformly to a husband and wife, regardless of how they hold title to the property. This subsection becomes effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2009.
20(b)	Makes the following clarifying and technical changes to the homestead circuit breaker: • Clarifies that the property owned by a qualifying owner must have been the owner's permanent residence for at least five consecutive years but that the owner's five-year occupancy does not have to be consecutive. • Clarifies that the occupancy and ownership requirement refers to "length" of occupancy and ownership. • Clarifies that law applies uniformly to a husband and wife, regardless of how they hold title to the property. • Removes an unnecessary word. • Clarifies that only the deferred taxes for the last three years prior to the disqualifying event become due and payable. • Clarifies that notice of the sum of deferred taxes and interest that are due and payable must be sent annually to the mailing address of the residence subject to the circuit breaker benefit as opposed to mailing notice to each owner of the property. This subsection becomes effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2009.
20(c)	Makes the following clarifying changes to the disabled veteran homestead exclusion: • Adds a definition for "qualifying owner" • Provides that a disabled veteran must have "separated" instead of "been discharged" from a branch of the Armed Forces. This change more clearly reflects the language used by the Armed Forces. • Provides that the term 'disabled veteran' includes a veteran whose separation was under honorable conditions. The Division of Veterans Affairs would like to expand the definition to include both veterans honorably discharged and discharged under honorable conditions. The Department of Revenue would like clarification. An honorable characterization is appropriate when the quality of the member's service generally has met the standards of acceptable conduct and performance of duty for military personnel, or is otherwise so meritorious that any other characterization would be clearly inappropriate. Separation under honorable conditions is warranted when the positive aspects of the service member's conduct or performance of duty outweigh negative aspects of the service member's conduct or performance of duty as documented in the member's service record. • Clarifies that the surviving spouse of a disabled veteran is eligible for the exclusion as long as the spouse does not remarry and the disabled veteran had the service connected, permanent, and total disability prior to the date of death. • Expands eligibility to a surviving spouse of a disabled veteran when the veteran's death was the result of a service-connected condition. • Clarifies that the exclusion is available to a disabled veteran who "received" instead of "receives" federal benefits to adapt his or her housing, since these benefits are generally a one-time payment. • Clarifies that the exclusion applies uniformly to a husband and wife, regardless of how they hold title to the property. This subsection becomes effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2009.

21	Makes the following conforming changes to the statute that sets out the application procedure for property tax exemptions: • Adds drug samples to the list of exempt property not requiring an application, effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2008. (subsections b and c) • Adds solar energy electric systems to the list of property excluded from taxation that must file a single application, effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2008. (subsection c) • Adds working waterfront property to the list of property classified for taxation at reduced valuation that must file a single application, effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2009. (subsection d) • Adds wildlife conservation to the list of property classified for taxation at reduced valuation that must file a single application, effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2010. (subsection e)

under the combined system: motor vehicles issued permanent registration plates and self-propelled property-carrying vehicles issued three-month registration plates at the farmer rate.

- G.S. 105-330.2 – Subsection (a) adds language clarifying the period in which the value of a classified motor vehicle is determined so that the date of valuation will continue to be January 1. Adds language that if the value cannot be determined on January 1, then the value will be the most currently available January 1 retail value of the vehicle. Subsection (b) adds language that the initial appraised value of a vehicle purchased from a dealer is the sales price, including all accessories attached to the vehicle. Subsection (c) clarifies the right to appeal the appraised value or taxability of a vehicle by requiring that this right must be set out in the combined tax and registration notice or the tax receipt and by giving the lessee of a motor vehicle the right to appeal the value if the lessee is required to pay the tax on the vehicle under the terms of the lease. Clarifies that situs of a vehicle is determined on the date registration is applied for or renewed and may not be changed until the next registration date.
- G.S. 105-330.3 - Add subdivision headings, and adds subsection (d) setting out penalty for willfully attempting or to aid or abet any person to evade or defeat the taxes imposed under Article 22A.
- G.S. 105-330.4 – Subsection (a) adds language clarifying that taxes on a classified motor vehicle and registered under the annual system are due on the date a new registration is applied for or 45 days after the registration expires and removes unnecessary language. Subsection (b) deletes unnecessary language. Subsection (c) amends the law regarding enforcement remedies for unpaid taxes.
- G.S. 105-330.5 – Subsection (a) gives the Department the authority to select a third party contractor to prepare and mail combined tax and registration notice; clarifies that if there is a pre-payment of taxes, the tax rate used will be the rate in effect on the date the taxes are computed; and adds clarifying language to the combined tax and registration notice regarding the time to appeal and instructions for payment. It provides that the combined tax and registration notice will serve as the registration certificate for a vehicle issued a limited registration plate. Subsection (b) clarifies that the definition of "owner" is the same definition of "owner" in Chapter 20, which include the lessee of the vehicle, so the lessee will receive the combined notice; clarifies that the fee for sending the combined notice also includes the actual cost of preparing the notice; clarifies that the collecting authority "receives" not "retains" a fee for collecting the taxes and fees; and deletes unnecessary language. Subsection (d) clarifies that that taxes on motor vehicles be included in the tax levy for the fiscal year in which the taxes are collected, since owners are able to renew their tags six months early or late; and adds a new subsection (e) stating how small underpayments and overpayments will be handled.
- G.S. 105-330.6 no changes.
- G.S. 105-330.7 no change
- G.S. 105-330.8 clarifies that G.S. 105-321(f) (Minimal Taxes) and G.S. 105-360 (Due date; interest for nonpayment of taxes; discounts for prepayment) do not apply to Article 22A when the integrated computer system is in operation
- G.S. 105-330.9 – Adds subdivision headings.

	• G.S. 105-330.10 no change • G.S. 105-330.11 adds clarifying language. Subsection (b) amends G.S 20-79.1A to add clarifying language that a limited registration plate may be used only on the vehicle for which issued, and that if lost or stolen, a replacement limited registration plate or regular plate must be received and attached to the vehicle before it can be driven. This is identical to language governing temporary registration plates.
23	This section corrects effective date errors and provides that the changes made by the section become effective July 1, 2011. It removes the provision that would hasten the effective date upon certification by the Division of Motor Vehicles of the Department of Transportation and the Department of Revenue that the integrated computer system for registration renewal and property tax collection for motor vehicles is in operation. This contingency is not likely to happen before July 1, 2011. The provision specifically provides that nothing in this section will require the General Assembly to appropriate funds to implement it for the biennium ending June 30, 2011.
24	Clarifies that the amount of taxes that a tax collector must report on a tax certificate includes any deferred taxes that would become due if a disqualifying event occurs.
25	Changes the word 'resolution' to 'ordinance' to reflect that cities adopt ordinances; counties adopt resolutions. The section provides that a tax levied prior to the effective date of this legislation remains valid and in effect until amended or repealed, regardless of what the city called the action: either a resolution or an ordinance. This section also removes the reference to the 'city finance officer' because in some instances, the city contracts with the county to collect this tax.
Occupancy Tax Changes
26	Adds a Session Law reference that was inadvertently omitted when the Cherokee County local occupancy tax act was amended last year. In 2007, a number of local occupancy tax local acts were amended to change the due date for remitting occupancy tax proceeds and filing returns from the 15th to the 20th of the month to conform to current sales tax statutes. The Cherokee County local occupancy tax act was one of the acts so amended. However, when the rest of the local act was amended in 2008, the 2007 change was not incorporated. To make this technical change, the entire local act must be set out under drafting convention. However, no substantive change is being made.
27	Corrects an incorrect Session Law reference.
28	Adds to S.L. 2005-68, a Session Law reference to the 2007 act referenced above that made changes to a number of local occupancy tax acts related to the due date of the tax and return. S.L. 2005-68 is the act that authorized the additional occupancy tax to finance the NASCAR Hall of Fame Museum.
Motor Fuel Tax Changes
29	Provides the Secretary with the ability to mandate electronic filing of motor carrier tax returns. The Secretary may currently mandate electronic filing of motor fuel tax returns.

	The Department developed an online filing system for motor carrier returns six years ago. To date, voluntary compliance is around 19%. This section becomes effective January 1, 2010.
30	Inserts a missing word.
31	Provides an exception to the requirement that a distributor, importer, or motor fuel transporter must obtain a bond or irrevocable letter of credit when the person is supplying motor fuel into the State because the market for motor fuel has been disrupted and emergency supplies are needed, as identified by an executive order of the Governor. The bonding requirement became an issue during the recent motor fuel supply shortages in the western part of the State.
32	Specifies that the tax on fuel grade ethanol is payable by the refiner or fuel alcohol provider. The difference between a refiner and a fuel alcohol provider is the amount of fuel the person produces. A refiner is a person who produces an average of more than 500,000 gallons a month; a person who produces less than this amount is a fuel alcohol provider. This section changes the law enacted last year in S.L. 2008-134 that specified when fuel grade ethanol was subject to tax. Effective January 1, 2009, the fuel is taxable when it was removed from a terminal or when it is produced in the State or imported to the State and not delivered to a terminal. However, the Department has had difficulty administering this provision. Ethanol is primarily shipped by railroad tank car and once imported into the State the ethanol may not be off-loaded for weeks. Since the tax is imposed upon importation, this delay in off-loading creates a loop-hole for filers. This section provides that the ethanol produced in this State is taxable when it is removed from the storage facility at the production location; ethanol produced outside the State is taxable when it is imported to the State. Prior to 2009, fuel grade ethanol was first subject to tax when it was blended. This section becomes effective January 1, 2010.
33	Changes the hold harmless refund from a quarterly one the Department calculates and administers to a monthly one the taxpayer requests. This section becomes effective January 1, 2010, and applies to motor fuel purchased on or after that date.
34	Requires a shipping document to transport fuel grade ethanol since the ethanol is now subject to tax before it is blended. This section accomplishes this change by expanding the statute to include refiners and fuel alcohol providers. This section also recognizes that the content of a shipping document issued for motor fuel transported by railroad tank car differs from a one issued for fuel transported by transport trucks. This section becomes effective January 1, 2010.
35	Corrects a misspelled word.
36	Conforms the tax exemptions for alternative fuel to the tax exemptions for motor fuel.
Other Changes
37	Corrects an incorrect statutory reference. The statute cited was repealed in 2006.
38	Repeals the session law that created the Economic Development Reserve and its exemption from rule-making. The Reserve had a one-time appropriation. The money in the fund has been drawn down. The Reserve has served its intended purpose and is no longer necessary.
39	Corrects the prefatory language of Section 28.19.(a) of S.L. 2008-107.

40	Corrects the prefatory language of Section 28.25.(c) of S.L. 2008-107.
41	Corrects an incorrect statutory reference.
42	Corrects the effective date sections in S.L. 2008-146 to refer to 'Parts' rather than 'sections'.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO AUTHORIZE THE CITY OF BREVARD, THE TOWN OF ROSMAN, TRANSYLVANIA COUNTY, AND THE TRANSYLVANIA COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION TO CONSTRUCT AND PROVIDE AFFORDABLE HOUSING FOR CITY AND COUNTY EMPLOYEES AND FOR PUBLIC SCHOOLTEACHERS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1.(a) Notwithstanding G.S. 66-58, G.S. 115C-518, Article 12 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes, or any other provision of law, and subject to the restrictions set out in this section, the City of Brevard, the Town of Rosman, Transylvania County, and the Transylvania County Board of Education may enter into a joint venture, land trust, or similar arrangement to construct and provide affordable housing on property owned by the City of Brevard, the Town of Rosman, Transylvania County, or the Transylvania County Board of Education.

SECTION 1.(b) Notwithstanding G.S. 66-58, G.S. 115C-518, Article 12 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes, or any other provision of law, this section authorizes the City of Brevard, the Town of Rosman, Transylvania County, and the Transylvania County Board of Education to convey property they own to such partnership, joint venture, land trust, or similar entity for the purposes of constructing, providing, and maintaining affordable housing for employees of the City of Brevard, the Town of Rosman, Transylvania County, and Transylvania County schoolteachers, and, if units remain available, to Transylvania County Schools' professional staff. The City of Brevard, the Town of Rosman, Transylvania County, and the Transylvania County Board of Education shall not transfer to the partnership, joint venture, land trust, or other entity created pursuant to this act, property acquired on or after the effective date of this act through the exercise of eminent domain.

SECTION 1.(c) Notwithstanding G.S. 66-58, G.S. 115C-518, Article 12 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes, or any other provision of law, the City of Brevard, the Town of Rosman, Transylvania County, and the Transylvania County Board of Education, or the partnership, joint venture, land trust, or similar entity referenced above may contract with any person, partnership, corporation, or other business entity to finance, construct, or maintain such affordable housing.

SECTION 1.(d) Notwithstanding G.S. 66-58, G.S. 115C-518, Article 12 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes, or any other provision of law, the City of Brevard, the Town of Rosman, Transylvania County, and the Transylvania County Board of Education, or the partnership, joint venture, land trust, or similar entity referenced above may rent or sell such housing units for residential use; provided that the rental or sale of such units is exclusively restricted to employees of the City of Brevard, the Town of Rosman, and Transylvania County, and to Transylvania County schoolteachers, and, if units remain not leased or sold, to Transylvania County Schools' professional staff; provided further that, while the housing units may be rented or sold, the land may only be leased and not sold. The City of Brevard, the Town of Rosman, Transylvania County, and the Transylvania County Board of Education, or the partnership, joint venture, land trust, or similar entity referenced above shall have the authority to establish reasonable rents or sales prices for any such housing units and may in their discretion charge below-market rates and offer below-market financing. The City of Brevard, the Town of Rosman, Transylvania County, and the Transylvania County Board of Education, or the partnership, joint venture, land trust, or similar entity referenced above may also place reasonable restrictions and buyback provisions on the resale of the housing units to maintain the purposes set forth in this section.

SECTION 1.(e) This section shall not exempt any affordable housing units constructed pursuant to this act from compliance with applicable building codes, zoning ordinances, or any other health and safety statutes, rules, or regulations.

SECTION 2. A unit of local government that has implemented its authority under this act must report annually to the Local Government Commission and to the Revenue Laws Study Committee of the General Assembly on the number of housing unit sales and on the median income of the purchasers of the housing units. A unit of local government may designate a local land trust or other nonprofit entity with whom the unit of local government has contracted to manage its affordable housing program under the provisions of this act to fulfill this reporting requirement.

SECTION 3. This act is effective when it becomes law.

HOUSE BILL 206:
Affordable Housing for Local Employees

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 16, 2009
Introduced by:	Rep. Guice	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette
Analysis of:	Second Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 206 would authorize the City of Brevard, the Town of Rosman, Transylvania County, and the Transylvania County Board of Education to construct and provide affordable housing for city and county employees and for Transylvania County school teachers and other school professional staff.

[As introduced, this bill was identical to S271, as introduced by Sen. Snow, which is currently in Senate Finance.]

CURRENT LAW: Under G.S. 66-58, which is popularly known as the Umstead Act, governmental units are generally prohibited from engaging in the sale of goods and services in competition with citizens of the State. G.S.115C-518 provides for the disposition of school property when a local board of education determines that a building site or other real or personal property is unnecessary or undesirable for public school purposes. Such property is usually offered to the board of county commissioners at a fair market price or sold by advertisement for sealed bids or at public auction under Article 12 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 206 would authorize the City of Brevard, the Town of Rosman, Transylvania County, and the Transylvania County Board of Education to (i) enter into a joint venture, land trust, or similar arrangement to construct and provide affordable housing on property they own, (ii) convey property they own to this partnership, joint venture, land trust, or similar entity to construct, provide, and maintain affordable housing for their city and county employees and Transylvania County school teachers, and if units are available, to Transylvania County Schools' professional staff, and (iii) contract with any person, partnership, corporation, or other business entity to finance, construct, or maintain this affordable housing.

The City of Brevard, the Town of Rosman, Transylvania County, and the Transylvania County Board of Education would be authorized to (i) rent or sell the housing units exclusively to city and county employees and Transylvania County school teachers for residential use, and (ii) place reasonable restrictions and buyback provisions on the resale of the housing units to maintain the purpose of providing affordable housing. They would have the authority to establish reasonable rents or sales prices for any of the housing units and would have the authority to charge below-market rates and offer below-market financing.

The bill would provide that any affordable housing units constructed under this act would not be exempt from compliance with applicable building codes, zoning ordinances, or other health and safety statutes, rules, or regulations.

Transylvania plans to take a different approach than other local governments with similar authority. First, the Board of Education plans to sell the land to a Community Land Trust, which will manage the project. In Hertford County, the Board of Education currently owns the land and the housing units.[1] In [1] Initially, the Hertford County Board of Education conveyed the property to a nonprofit organization, but once it was determined that the nonprofit was not eligible for a property tax exemption, the nonprofit deeded the property back to the Board of Education.

Dare County, the Board of Education owns the land but has conveyed a leasehold interest in the rental units to a nonprofit foundation that manages the property. In both of these instances, the property is exempt from property tax. In Transylvania, since the land would no longer be owned by a unit of local government, it would be subject to property tax. Second, the Transylvania Board of Education does not intend, at this time, to seek financing from the SECU Foundation for the purpose of constructing rental units. Rather, the Board of Education has funds that can be used for this purpose. Third, the Board plans to use students in workforce development classes to construct the housing under the supervision of a contractor. Lastly, while school employees may initially rent the property until they qualify for financing, they would be able to purchase a 99-year leasehold interest in the property. There would also be restrictions on reselling the property. Currently, the other affordable housing programs are only offering rental of property.[2] The bill requires a report be given to the Local Government Commission and the Revenue Laws Study Committee on the number of housing unit sales and on the median income of the purchasers of the housing units.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill would be effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: Similar legislation has been passed in recent years for the City of Asheville and the Asheville Board of Education, the Hertford County Board of Education, the Bertie County Board of Education, and the Dare County Board of Education. These programs are intended to assist with the recruitment and retention of quality teachers in rural areas or areas that suffer from a lack of affordable housing.

In Dare and Hertford Counties, the housing projects have been financed by an interest-free loan from the North Carolina State Employees Credit Union Foundation, a non-profit financial cooperative funded by collecting a $1.00 maintenance fee on member checking accounts. As the funds are repaid through rental income, the Foundation will recycle the funds to build additional units in other counties throughout North Carolina.

Representative Tolson and Representative Farmer-Butterfield introduced House Bill 531 this year. It would provide similar authority to the Edgecombe County Board of Education. House Bill 531 is in the Senate Education Committee.

Trina Griffin, counsel to the House Finance Committee, and Shirley Iorio, counsel to the House Education Subcommittee on Pre-School, Elementary and Secondary Education, substantially contributed to this summary.

H206-SMRB-35(e2) v1

[2] The City of Asheville's legislation authorizes the rental or sale of affordable housing units, but the City has not implemented its authority and, at the present time, has indicated that it does not intend to move forward with the sales of housing units.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO EXPAND THE CREDIT FOR QUALIFYING EXPENSES OF A PRODUCTION COMPANY.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 105-130.47(b) reads as rewritten:

"(b) Credit. – A taxpayer that is a production company and has qualifying expenses of at least two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) with respect to a production is allowed a credit against the taxes imposed by this Part equal to ~~fifteen percent (15%)~~twenty-five percent (25%) of the production company's qualifying expenses. For the purposes of this section, in the case of an episodic television series, an entire season of episodes is one production. The credit is computed based on all of the taxpayer's qualifying expenses incurred with respect to the production, not just the qualifying expenses incurred during the taxable year."

SECTION 2. G.S. 105-151.29(b) reads as rewritten:

"(b) Credit. – A taxpayer that is a production company and has qualifying expenses of at least two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) with respect to a production is allowed a credit against the taxes imposed by this Part equal to ~~fifteen percent (15%)~~twenty-five percent (25%) of the production company's qualifying expenses. For the purposes of this section, in the case of an episodic television series, an entire season of episodes is one production. The credit is computed based on all of the taxpayer's qualifying expenses incurred with respect to the production, not just the qualifying expenses incurred during the taxable year."

SECTION 3. This act is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2009.

SENATE BILL 943: Expand Film Credit

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 16, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Garrou	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette
Analysis of:	First Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 943[1] would increase the income tax credit for a production company from 15% to 25% of the company's qualifying expenditures. The bill would become effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2009.

CURRENT LAW: North Carolina's film credit is a refundable income tax credit equal to 15% of the qualifying expenses spent by a production company in connection with a production. The amount of the credit with respect to a feature film production is capped at $7.5 million. In order to obtain the credit, the taxpayer must have qualifying expenses in excess of $250,000. Qualifying expenses are the total amount spent in North Carolina for the following:

- Goods and services leased or purchased[2] by a production company in connection with a production.
- Compensation and wages paid by a production company on which it remitted withholding payments to the Department of Revenue. An amount paid in excess of $1 million to an individual for compensation may not be included as a qualifying expense.
- Cost of production-related insurance coverage obtained on the production. Expenses for insurance and coverage purchased from a related member may not be included as a qualifying expense.

The credit may be claimed for the taxable year in which the production activities are completed. The credit is computed based on all of the taxpayer's qualifying expense incurred with respect to the production, not just the qualifying expenses incurred during the taxable year. If the credit exceeds the amount of tax imposed for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowable, the Secretary must refund the excess to the taxpayer. A pass-through entity is considered a taxpayer for purposes of claiming this credit; therefore, it does not distribution the credit among its owners.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 943 would increase the amount of the refundable credit from 15% of the qualifying expenditures to 25% of the qualifying expenditures. The credit percentage has not changed since the General Assembly enacted the credit in 2005. The refundable tax credit replaced the film industry development grant program. The incentive is targeted at feature films, episodic television series, and commercial advertising.[3]

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill would become effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2009.

[1] Senate Bill 943 is substantially the same as Senate Bill 349, introduced by Sen. Boseman, and to House Bill 977, introduced by Representative McComas and Representative Gibson. Senate Bill 349 is in Senate Finance; House Bill 977 is in House Commerce.

[3] The credit does not apply to the following: political advertising, television production of a news program or live sporting event, material that is obscene, as defined in G.S. 14-190.1, or a radio production.

BACKGROUND: The North Carolina Film Office commissioned two studies funded in partnership with EUE Screen Gems Studios, IATSE Local 491, Premiere Entertainment Services, Charlotte Regional Film Commission, Piedmont Triad Film Commission, Wilmington Regional Film Commission, Cinelease, and Illumination Dynamics:

- "Economic and Fiscal Impacts of the North Carolina Film Credit Program", June 2009, prepared by Ernest & Young. This study presents estimates of the economic and tax impact of three components: film production activities; tourism related to NC films; and capital expenditures in NC film facilities.
- "Economic Impact Study of the Production of a 'Mid-Major' Motion Picture on the Economy of Southeastern North Carolina", Summer 2009, prepared by Dr. William Hall of the Cameron School of Business at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington. This study is a case study that identifies the spending impacts of a film on Brunswick, New Hanover, and Pender Counties.

The studies are available upon request. Both studies recognize the number of jobs generated by film production in the State, the direct and indirect spending stimulus on the region's economy, the capital investments made by production companies, the resulting film generated tourism, and the contribution of these activities to the State and local government's tax collections.

The Ernest & Young study estimates the State's return on investment (ROI) from the refundable income tax credit. In forming the ROI estimate, the study analyzed the impact of the credit at the rate of 15% in 2007 and, using projections from the NC Film Office, estimates the impact of the credit at the rate of 25% for 2010 and 2011.

The study found that film productions qualifying for the credit in 2007 accrued an estimated net present value of $22 million of refundable tax credit cost to the State and $29 million of State and local tax revenue. In considering State tax ROI, the study estimated the State's ROI was $0.98 for each dollar of tax credit expenditure. This estimate assumes that the film productions qualifying for the credit would not have been produced in the State in absence of the credit.

The study estimates that the total State and local tax impacts from film productions, tourism, and capital expenditures related to film production would be $48 million in 2010 and $57 million in 2011 under a 25% tax credit. Under this scenario, the State tax ROI from each dollar of tax credit expenditure would be $0.69 in 2010 and $0.67 in 2011.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: NC Department of Commerce; NC Department of Revenue

EFFECTIVE DATE: January 1, 2009

BILL SUMMARY:
Senate Bill 943 would increase the income tax credit for a production company from 15% to 25% of the company's qualifying expenditures. The bill would become effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2009.

BACKGROUND:
The 2005 General Assembly enacted legislation that allows an income tax credit for 15% of the qualifying production expenses of film and television production companies that spend at least $250,000 on a production in North Carolina. The credit is limited to $7.5 million per feature film and is refundable in cases where the credit exceeds tax liability. Finally, the bill disallowed the credit for expenses incurred for compensation of $1 million or more paid to an individual. In 2008, the General Assembly made changes to the definition of eligible expenses to include amounts paid to a highly compensated individual only to the extent that amount exceeds $1 million, and the cost of production-related insurance.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

To calculate the impact of the bill, Fiscal Research obtained data from the North Carolina Film Office on projected eligible film expenses assuming a 25% credit. The estimates factor in the increased film activity expected to be spurred by the higher credit. The impact to the General Fund is calculated by applying the 25% rate to eligible expenses for each year. The cost of the current 15% credit is subtracted to obtain the net impact of the bill. The estimates assume that three films each year (beginning in 2010) would have eligible expenses that would cause them to exceed the credit cap. The three films are assumed to have eligible expenses of $40 million each year. Since the credit cap is $7.5 million, the credit would apply to only $30 million of expenses ($30 million * 25% = $7.5 million).

Estimated Cost of Film Credit at 25%
	FY 09-10	FY 10-11	FY 11-12	FY 12-13	FY 13-14
Eligible Expenses at 25%	$85.0	$250.0	$300.0	$350.0	$350.0
Cost of 25% Credit	-19.8	-51.2	-62.8	-74.5	-74.5
Eligible Expenses at 15%	80.0	80.0	80.0	80.0	80.0
Cost of 15% Credit	-11.2	-11.2	-11.2	-11.2	-11.2
Net Impact of S943	-$8.6	-$40.0	-$51.7	-$63.3	-$63.3

For purposes of this analysis, it is assumed that the tax year impact of the proposed change matches up with the fiscal year ending six months after the end of the tax year. Thus, the full impact of new activity in the 2010 tax year would be in the 2010-11 fiscal year. This rationale assumes that taxpayers take the credit in the form of lower final tax payments rather than reduced estimated payments sent in during the tax year.

In a report studying the economic impact of a 25% credit, Ernst and Young estimated a return on investment (ROI) of 69 cents for each dollar of credit cost. The return represents additional tax revenue related to film activity and its indirect impact on the economy. The current economic recession adds uncertainty to the ROI estimates, particularly as they relate to tourism and other indirect expenditures. Other states have recently estimated lower returns on investment. For example, Louisiana and Connecticut estimated ROIs of 18% and 20% respectively for their film credits. To the extent that additional tax revenues are realized, they will occur beginning in the year of production and, in the case of tourism-related revenues, extend several years beyond completion of the film.

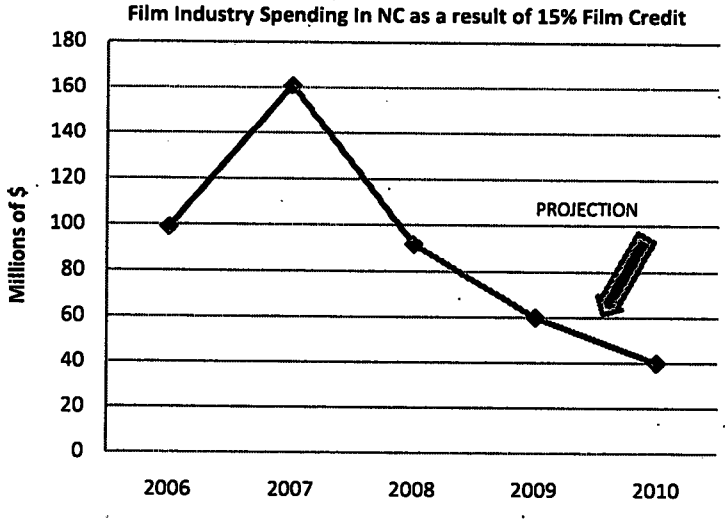
NORTH CAROLINA HAS A VIBRANT FILM INDUSTRY

- Over 2500 people are employed in the industry in North Carolina
- Private infrastructure investment: Studios, Lighting Facilities, Equipment Rental, Lumber, Hotels, Restaurants, etc.
- In 2007, students obtained a total of 5,711 degrees from the 41 film-related degree programs at North Carolina's universities and community colleges statewide.
- To date, North Carolina's 15% film production tax credits have been used by companies in 34 film projects in 28 counties. These productions have spent $162.8 million in North Carolina and have employed 16,271 people. These credits have cost the state $24.4 million; the return on investment to the state and local governments has been $1.30 for every $1 spent.
- North Carolina's existing 15% film credit is a post performance rebate Incentive. North Carolina doesn't give any incentive until the film company spends money in North Carolina.

TO REMAIN COMPETITIVE, NORTH CAROLINA NEEDS AN INCREASE IN THE CREDIT TO 25%

- 42 states have passed incentives to recruit and retain film productions. 28 state have greater incentives than NC, including:
  - Georgia 30%
  - Illinois 30%
  - Louisiana 25%
  - Michigan 42%
  - South Carolina 20% - 30%
  - Massachusetts 25%
- NC has a competitive advantage within the US because of our extensive infrastructure and highly-skilled crew base. However, the state is losing productions to other states because of their increased credits. North Carolina needs an increased incentive to prevent the loss of our highly-skilled workforce to other states.
- An increase to a 25% credit would likely result in $300 million in spending annually in the state by the film industry.
- The industry has begun to migrate to new film economy states. The migration of these creative class jobs could have much more significant and negative long-term effects including the loss of industry specific small business and other small businesses that survive in this challenging economy only because of the motion picture industry.
- North Carolina has the ability to immediately begin to create and retain thousands of knowledge-based, creative class jobs in the film industry if North Carolina increases the film industry tax incentive from 15% to 25%. These creative class jobs support and enhance other industries like commercial advertising production, theater and the fine arts, trade shows, gaming and education.



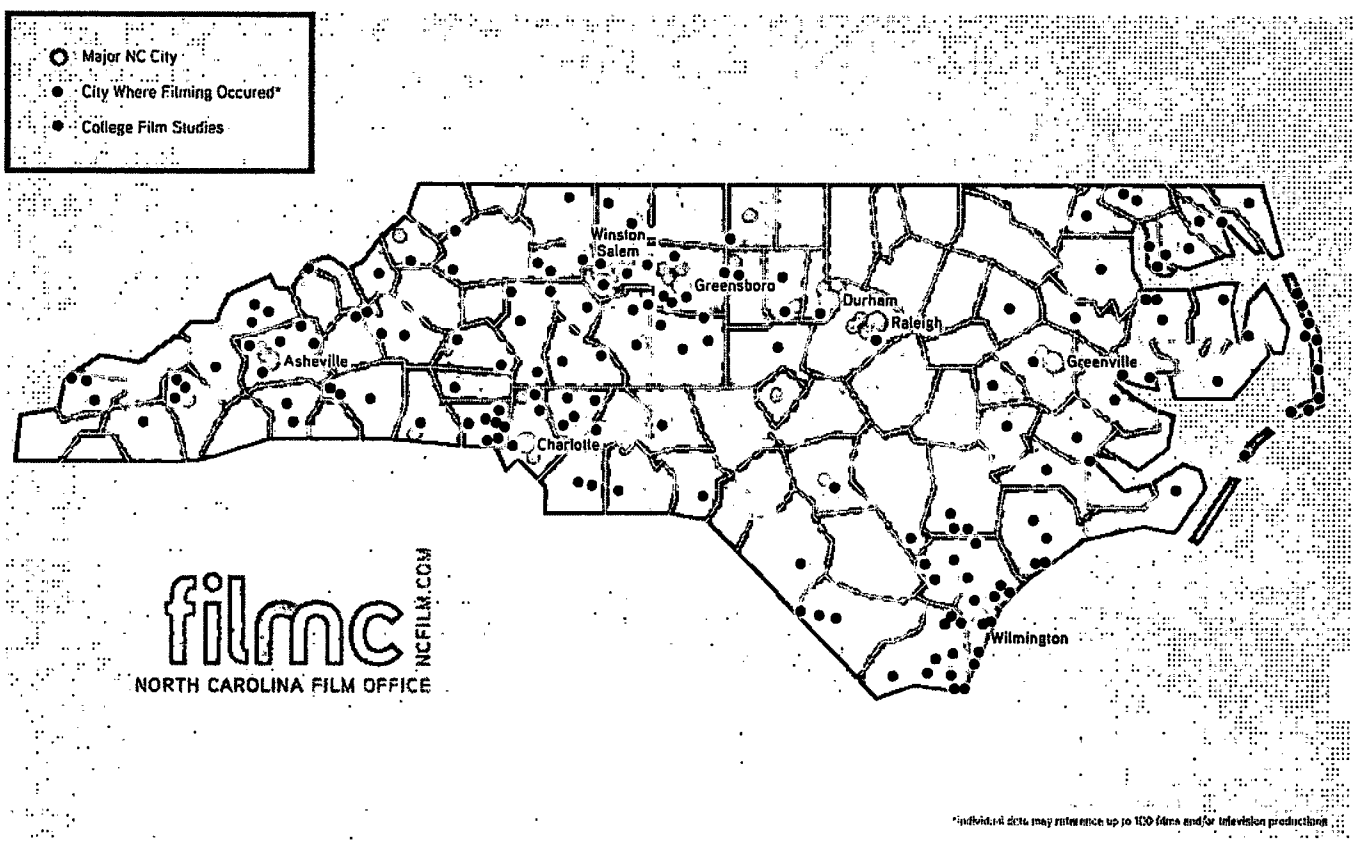
TWO STUDIES DEMONSTRATE IMPORTANCE OF FILM INDUSTRY TO NORTH CAROLINA

The studies taken together paint a picture of a significant industry whose economic activities turn over many times in a community. Unlike other industries, the film industry provides a constant stream of new projects that require certain baseline skills. It is difficult for economic models to fully capture what the industry means to the State and the implications of losing the industry. The econon contributions in the reports are conservatively understated.

- The Ernst and Young study focuses on the economic and fiscal impacts of the North Carolina film credit program for the year 2007
- The University of North Carolina at Wilmington study focuses on the expenditures of a single production in a local North Carolina community.
- The studies offer a conservative methodology in its projections relating to the impact of increasing our incentive to 25%.
- The study is focused on the impact if the tax credit is increased to 25%.
- Projections indicate 4,254 jobs will be created in 2010 and 5,053 in 2011.
- The total economic impact in North Carolina is estimated in excess of $700 million in 2010 and $858 million in 2011.
- The return on investment (ROI) for the state at 25% is $.69 and the combined state and local ROI would increase to $.92. That's ninety-two cents returned to state and local governments for every dollar spent on the tax incentive.
- The bottom line is that the 15% tax credit worked very well and the 25% tax policy has an excellent chance of working if the past is any guide.
- The alternative to remaining competitive is the dissolution of large portions of the industry and the loss of tax revenue based on the out-migration of highly skilled, highly compensated individuals to other "film" states.

CONCLUSION

Other states have 'everything to gain.' North Carolina has 'everything to lose.'



MEMORANDUM

FROM: AARON SYRETT – DIRECTOR; NORTH CAROLINA FILM OFFICE

DATE: JUNE 15TH, 2009

SUBJECT: FILM STUDY

North Carolina has the ability to create and retain thousands of knowledge-based, creative class jobs in the film industry between now and December 2010 if SB 943 becomes law. North Carolina is uniquely positioned to recruit an abundant share of the motion picture industry from other states because of its significant workforce depth and highly developed infrastructure.

These creative class jobs support and enhance other industries in North Carolina that utilize the same disciplines but do not file for film credits. Commercial advertising production, trade shows, theater, gaming, education, and life sciences computer software are poised for growth. These jobs also provide a job market for our college and university graduates preparing for the challenges of our 21st century economy.

Over 2,000 North Carolina residents make their living in the motion picture industry. If North Carolina chooses not to significantly recruit this industry, North Carolina will continue to lose our well paid and highly skilled workforce to other states where the industry has begun to migrate. The migration of these creative class jobs could have much more significant and negative long-term effects including the loss of industry specific small business and other small businesses that survive in this challenging economy only because of the motion picture industry.

Attached to this memo you will find 2 studies that were commissioned by and funded in partnership with the North Carolina Film Office. EUE Screen Gems Studios, IATSE Local 491, Premiere Entertainment Services, Charlotte Regional Film Commission, Piedmont Triad Film Commission, Wilmington Regional Film Commission, Cinelease, and Illumination Dynamics, were our financial partners. They represent a state wide commitment to creating and retaining highly valued motion picture industry jobs.

Also included is a copy of the Motion Picture Association of America (MPAA) Economic Impact Study which provides an excellent analysis of the magnitude of this industry. The MPAA study makes several references to North Carolina and those passages are flagged.

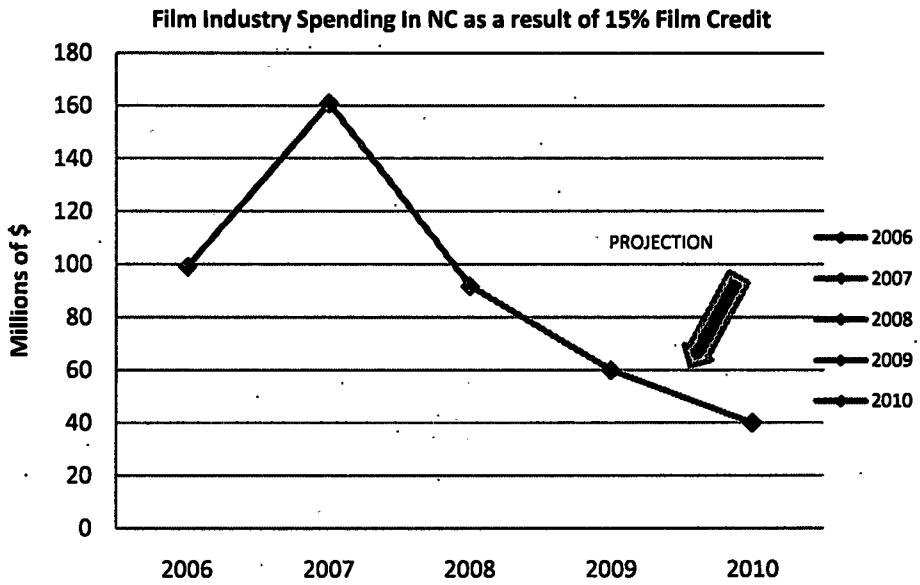
Our primary study prepared by Ernst and Young studies the economic and fiscal impacts of the North Carolina film credit program for the year 2007. This study offers a conservative methodology in its projections relating to the impact of increasing our incentive to 25%.

The second study, prepared by Dr. Woody Hall of the Cameron School of Business at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington, is a case study that identifies the spending impacts losses of one film not shooting in southeastern North Carolina in the summer of 2009.

Both the Ernst & Young and UNCW studies were designed to take a distinctively conservative methodology regarding the effect of the credit and spending impacts.

The 15% film credit passed by the General Assembly in 2006 has had a $.98 return on investment (ROI.) With a combined state and local ROI of $1.30, the film industry has proven to be a solid investment for the entire state.

In 2007, film production spending in North Carolina declined by 44% to $90 million with declining projections of 55% over next two years because other states' incentives have lured a majority of all projects that considered North Carolina.



The second part of the Ernst & Young study is focused on the impact if the tax credit is increased to 25%. Projections indicate 4,254 jobs will be created in 2010 and 5,053 in 2011 with total economic impact in North Carolina in excess of $700 million in 2010 and $858 million in 2011. The ROI for the state and local tax at 25% is $.92 and state tax ROI would increase to $.69. Like the 15% incentive, full realization of the tax credit impact is not apparent until after year 3 of the increase.

Calendar year 2009 is likely to produce a very limited number of new projects, if any, as a result of the new credit, limiting any immediate obligations to North Carolina. The new projects resulting from the 25% credit and the economic stimulus resulting from the increased filming will primarily be realized in calendar year 2010. The majority of films will not file or receive the post performance audit credits until Fiscal Year 2011. There will be very little cost to North Carolina until the second full year of the program or 2011.

Conclusion

Unfortunately these types of economic studies do not cover the overwhelming implications of a policy decision to ignore current industry trends.

Over 2,000 North Carolina residents are motion picture technicians who depend on the film industry for jobs. Competing states are now employing North Carolina's motion picture industry workforce. Competing states with higher tax incentives are able to entice decision makers to shoot in states with incentives of 25% or better, even if there is no existing crew base or infrastructure, allowing those states to create an infrastructure where one had previously not existed. Other states have 'everything to gain.' North Carolina has 'everything to lose.' less than competitive tax incentive, North Carolina's motion picture industry, film technician community and industry small businesses simply cannot survive. The benefits of this lucrative industry will most certainly disappear and many North Carolina families will be forced to leave a state they call home.

Films will not be made in North Carolina and local economies will not reap the substantial economic stimulus of motion picture production if North Carolina does not take immediate action.

Executive summary

In August 2006, legislation was enacted in North Carolina that provides for a refundable, 15% film tax credit. Since then, the program has attracted several feature film productions, television series productions, various commercials, music videos, and documentaries. In 2007, 16 feature film and television programs plus many smaller television commercials qualified for the North Carolina credit and spent an estimated $228 million, including $154 million of spending that qualified for the film tax credit.

This analysis presents two estimates of the impact of the North Carolina film tax credit program: the impact of the current credit at a rate of 15% and the potential impact of an enhanced credit, with a rate of 25%.

Key findings of the analysis of the current 15% film tax credit include:

- Film productions in North Carolina spent an estimated $228 million of spending in 2007, of which $154 million qualified for the film tax credit. This direct spending generated additional spending of $162 million in the North Carolina economy, resulting in a total impact on statewide economic activity of $390 million.

- North Carolina film productions generated 801 jobs in 2007. This direct employment created an estimated 1,244 additional, indirect jobs in other industries in North Carolina, resulting in a total employment impact of 2,045 jobs.

- Including the salaries and fringe benefits paid to these employees and capital income earned by North Carolina businesses, the direct statewide income impact from films receiving the credit in 2007 was $120 million. Additional North Carolina economic activity related to film production activities generated an additional $83 million in indirect statewide income, resulting in a total statewide personal income impact of $203 million.

- Total economic impacts resulting from capital investments and film tourism resulted in 427 additional jobs and $17 million in additional personal income.

- The total impact of the film tax credit including film productions, capital investments, and tourism was 2,472 total jobs and $220 million of total statewide personal income.

- State and local tax collections resulting from North Carolina film productions in 2007 totaled an estimated $25 million, including an estimated $19 million in state tax revenue and $6 million in local tax revenue. An additional $4 million in tax revenue attributable to tourism and capital expenditures resulted in a total tax state and local impact of $29 million.

- Film productions qualifying for the credit in North Carolina in 2007 accrued an estimated $23 million of refundable credit cost to the state. Given the time value of money and the average length of time (12 months) before the credit is claimed by production companies and paid by the state, the net present value of this amount is $22 million.

- The present value of $22 million of film tax credit costs accrued during 2007 resulted in total state and local tax revenue of $29 million, equivalent to a combined state and local return on investment of 1.30. In other words, for each $1.00 of credit cost incurred by the state, state and local governments in North Carolina received $1.30 in additional tax revenue. Considering only state taxes, the state return on investment was $0.98 for each dollar of tax credit expenditure.

The analysis also examined the potential impact of increasing the credit rate to 25%:

- At a 25% film tax credit rate, the North Carolina Film Office projects that an estimated $250 million of qualified spending would occur in 2010, increasing to $300 million in 2011. This level of qualified spending is equivalent to more than $370 million in total spending in 2010 and $445 million in 2011.

- This level of film spending in North Carolina would create an estimated 1,301 direct film production jobs in 2010 and 1,561 jobs in 2011. These direct jobs in the film industry are estimated to support an additional 2,019 indirect jobs in 2010, growing to 2,423 in 2011. Combining the impacts of the direct jobs in the film industry with the indirect jobs in other industries that support films, the total employment impact from film production activity is estimated to be 3,320 in 2010 growing to 3,984 jobs in 2011.

- The total direct and indirect state and local tax impacts from film productions occurring under a 25% film tax credit equals an estimated $40 million in 2010 and $48 million in 2011.

- In addition to the economic benefits of films locating in North Carolina, films that depict North Carolina's landscape, attractions, and culture advertise the state to potential visitors. This phenomenon is known as film tourism. As the number of films produced in North Carolina grows, film tourism is expected to increase. Films produced in North Carolina in 2010 are expected to generate $37 million of direct tourism spending while films produced in 2011 are projected to create $45 million of direct tourism spending. The spending impacts for these years are equal to the discounted spending from film-related tourist visits in North Carolina over the 10 years following the actual production and release of the films.

- If the film tax credit rate is increased to 25%, film studios and other film related businesses are expected to make significant capital expenditures in North Carolina to create four new stages, management and production offices, warehouses, and construction shops for future film productions. These capital expenditures are projected to total $44 million over 2010 and 2011 and create 520 total one-year jobs in North Carolina.

- The total number of jobs created from film productions, tourism, and capital expenditures is projected to total an estimated 4,254 in 2010 and 5,053 in 2011. These jobs will create an estimated $370 million of personal income from 2010 productions and capital expenditures and $441 million of personal income from 2011 productions and capital expenditures.

- The total state and local tax impacts from film productions, tourism, and capital expenditures in 2010 will be an estimated $48 million and will increase to $57 million in 2011 under a 25% film tax credit. This tax impact is equivalent to a combined state and local return on investment of 0.92 in 2010 and 0.89 in 2011. Considering only state tax impacts, the return on investment is equivalent to 0.69 in 2010 and 0.67 in 2011. In other words, for each dollar of state credit cost, the state is projected to collect an estimated $0.69 of additional tax revenue.

1. Introduction

In August 2006, legislation was enacted in North Carolina that provides for a refundable, 15% tax credit. Since then, the program has attracted several feature film productions, television series productions, various commercials, music videos, and documentaries. In 2007, 16 feature film and television programs plus many smaller television commercials qualified for the North Carolina credit and spent an estimated $228 million, including $154 million of spending that qualified for the film tax credit.

In addition to the economic impact of film production activity that qualifies for the credit program, there are also ancillary benefits from increased tourism and capital investments in film studios and related businesses in North Carolina.

This study presents estimates of the economic and tax impact of these three components: 1) film production activities, 2) tourism related to North Carolina films receiving the credit, 3) and capital expenditures in North Carolina film facilities. The cost of credit expenditures is compared to the incremental state and local tax generated by the credit program in 2007 to calculate a public return on investment in the credit program. Finally, the return on investment is projected for a hypothetical increase in the credit rate from 15% to 25%.

2. North Carolina's film industry and tax credit program

North Carolina's film industry has grown significantly due to the film tax credit. As described below, the credit provides a significant incentive for films to locate in North Carolina and has arrested the decline of the industry that has been occurring since 2001.

Description of the North Carolina film tax credit program

The current tax credit program in North Carolina was adopted in 2006 at a rate of 15% of qualifying production expenses incurred during the production and post-production of qualifying films, television series, and commercials produced in North Carolina. Spending qualified for the credit includes goods or services leased or purchased from a North Carolina business; expenditures related to goods or services imported from outside the state are excluded from the amount of qualified expenditures. Employee compensation on which withholding payments are remitted to the North Carolina Department of Revenue qualifies for the film tax credit, while fringe benefits and other non-taxable compensation are excluded from qualified expenditures. Additionally, compensation received by actors in excess of $1 million is excluded from costs qualifying for the credit.

The tax credit is equal to 15% of the qualifying costs described above, although the maximum credit for a feature film is $7.5 million.

Decline of the North Carolina film industry prior to the adoption of the tax credit

North Carolina has historically had a thriving film industry, including the largest production facility in the United States outside of California and a large, well-trained crew base. However, since 2001, many states have adopted film credits and North Carolina's employment in the film industry has declined.

Figure 1 illustrates the downward trend in North Carolina film industry employment, using data from the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS), which publishes an estimate of the employment in the North Carolina film and video production industry based on the number of employees and wages covered by the unemployment insurance program. While data published by the BLS does not fully capture the contribution of film production activities on the North Carolina labor force due to the industry's large number of contract employees (not included in the BLS figures), classification of film industry employees in the industry in which payroll companies are classified, and other factors, it provides a useful starting point from which to evaluate trends in the economic contribution of film and video productions in North Carolina. As Figure 1 shows, one year after the tax credit was enacted, employment in North Carolina's film production industry began growing after a five-year decline in the number of film industry jobs. The figure shows a 620 job decline from 2001 to 2006 and a slight increase of 61 jobs in the year after the 15% tax credit was enacted.

3. Data, assumptions, and estimation approach

The estimates presented in this study incorporate several key assumptions and sources of information. These data and assumptions are summarized below. (For a detailed discussion of the estimation methodology, see the appendix to this report.)

Data used in the analysis

Film spending data for productions with qualifying expenditures over $250,000 in 2007 were provided by the North Carolina Film Office. For films that had filed a credit claim with the North Carolina Department of Revenue, total qualified expenditures were disaggregated into spending on goods, services, and compensation.

Because qualifying expenditures for goods and services include only purchases for goods and services from North Carolina businesses, total spending by North Carolina productions was estimated from qualified spending amounts based on the portion of goods and services supplied by the North Carolina economy indicated in the IMPLAN economic model. (See the appendix for an additional description of this adjustment.)

Aggregated payroll data for a sample of productions was supplied by the North Carolina Film Office. This data was used to estimate the number of jobs and average wages for North Carolina film employees in 2007. The data provided included aggregate wages (excluding non-taxable benefits) and the number of hours worked for above-the-line and below-the-line employees.[1] From this data, the average annual compensation was calculated assuming each employee works an average of 3,120 hours per year, equivalent to a full-time employee working an average of 12-hours per day.[2]

The payroll data provided by the North Carolina Film Office also included the state of residence for each employee. Based on this information, 39% of wages were earned by employees residing outside North Carolina. The economic impact estimates assume that only 50% of these employees spending would result in North Carolina economic impacts, although all of their wages are assumed to be taxable in North Carolina.

Based on the data described above, Figure 1 illustrates the total qualified and non-qualified spending on each category of expenditure. As shown in the figure, total compensation expenses of $117 million include $88 million of qualifying wage and salary payments, $4 million of unqualified wages paid to extras and an estimated $25 million of fringe benefit payments that do not qualify for the credit. Similarly, only a portion of total expenditures for goods and services qualify for the credit. For goods and services, an estimated 74% of goods and 50% of services are purchases made from North Carolina businesses and qualify for the tax credit. The non-qualifying goods and services expenditures reflect purchases from out-of-state businesses. In total, 67% total spending qualified for the film credit.

[1] Above-the-line employees are generally creative positions, such as writers, actors, directors, and producers. Below the line employees are generally technical positions, such as camera operators, editors, gaffers and other crew.

[2] Average number of hours worker per day was obtained through the North Carolina Film Office based on actual production reports showing the number of production hours per day. These production reports showed a typical morning crew call time of 8:00 am and a typical crew wrap after 8:30 pm.

Economic impact estimation approach

The economic impact of feature films, television series, and other productions participating in the tax credit program are described here as direct, indirect, and induced impacts. Film tourism and capital investments in film related infrastructure (described later) also create these direct, indirect, and induced impacts throughout the North Carolina economy. The indirect and induced impacts described below were estimated using an IMPLAN economic model of the North Carolina economy. Additional details describing the estimation approach can be found in the appendix to this report.

- Direct impacts: The direct impact is the employment, income, and spending associated with the activity being modeled. Direct spending impacts include the spending on productions in North Carolina in 2007. Direct income impacts include the income earned by employees and income derived from ownership of property associated with film production in North Carolina. Direct employment impacts include the employees who are employed by film productions in North Carolina receiving the film credit.

- Indirect impacts: Indirect impacts arise from the purchase of goods and services from North Carolina businesses that support the film industry in North Carolina. These impacts are part of the multiplier effects as direct spending spreads throughout the North Carolina economy as businesses buy from other businesses in an ongoing supply chain of products and services.

- Induced impacts: Consumer spending resulting from an increase in employees' personal income creates 'induced impacts'. This spending by crew members, make-up artists, actors, and employees in supplier firms generates additional economic activity as North Carolina's retailers and service providers expand to meet this additional demand for goods and services. To simplify the presentation of results, indirect and induced impacts are combined and presented together as 'indirect impacts'.

4. Economic and tax impacts of the 15% North Carolina film tax credit

Table 1 presents the impact of North Carolina film production activity in 2007. The direct, indirect, and total economic impacts are described using three measures of economic impact:

- Economic Output: Direct economic output, which is equivalent to spending, was $228 million and created another $162 million of indirect output, resulting in a total impact on economic output of $390 million. As described above, direct output includes $154 million of qualified spending and another $74 million of other, non-qualifying spending.

- Personal Income: The direct personal income impact from film productions in 2007 was $120 million, including $92 million of wages, $25 million of non-wage benefits, plus proprietor's income and payments to capital. The indirect economic activity in other sectors of the North Carolina economy generates an additional $83 million of personal income impact, resulting in a total personal income impact of $203 million.

- Employment: An estimated 801 direct employees in the film industry create an additional 1,244 indirect jobs in other sectors of the North Carolina economy, resulting in a total employment impact from film productions of 2,045 employees.[3]

Film productions that do not qualify for the film tax credit also benefit from the presence of a well-established crew base in North Carolina and film infrastructure that supports smaller productions. There are also other companies unrelated to film productions that share the same equipment or facilities (e.g. sound stages, digital technology, etc.) that benefit from and are able to expand in North Carolina due to the availability of equipment and trained workers. The impact of these productions and businesses is not included in the estimates.

Tax impacts of North Carolina film productions

The increased level of statewide economic activity due to the film tax credit generates additional North Carolina state and local tax collections. Table 3 shows the tax impacts at the state and local level that were generated by film activity in North Carolina in 2007. These impacts were estimated based on the estimated increase in personal income and historical ratios of tax collections to personal income in North Carolina. (For a more detailed discussion of the tax estimation approach, see the appendix.)

As shown in Table 2 below, the direct state tax impact of film productions in 2007 was $11.9 million. Combined with indirect state tax impacts of $6.8 million, an estimated $18.8 million of state taxes resulted from film production activity in 2007.

The total local tax impact from film production activities in 2007 was $6.0 million, including $3.6 million of direct local taxes and $2.4 million of indirect local taxes. This total local tax impact accounts for nearly one-quarter of the $24.8 million total state and local tax impact from film production activity in 2007.

Economic and tax impacts of North Carolina film tourism

The film Nights in Rodanthe illustrates the impacts a single film can have on a state's tourism industry. Nights in Rodanthe was produced in the Outer Banks of North Carolina in 2007 and released in September 2008. Because the film was recently released and is just now available on DVD, there has not been sufficient visitor data collected to measure the total impact of this film on tourism in North Carolina. However, over a nine-month period from August 2008 through April 2009, an Outer Banks website devoted to promoting this film's actual location in North Carolina has been visited by 72,595 unique visitors (96,793 annualized) who have reached the site with queries such as, "Where was Nights in Rodanthe filmed?", "Nights in Rodanthe location", "Nights in Rodanthe beach house", "Nights in Rodanthe tour", etc. Although no data is available on the actual number of visitors to the Outer Banks induced to visit by the film, assuming 25% of these unique visitors to the website travel with an average family or group of four to the Outer Banks and spend one day visiting the site where this film was produced, $6.1 million in direct spending resulting in $9.9 million of total economic output could be attributed to this particular film in the year after its release. This estimate is based on information provided by the Outer Banks Visitors Bureau indicating that average spending per visitor in the Outer Banks is $63 per day. In the subsequent years, additional spending would be expected to occur as tourists continue to visit North Carolina or extend their stay as a result of seeing this film.

Table 3 below shows the potential multiple-year direct economic impact of Nights in Rodanthe on North Carolina tourism based on the information and assumptions discussed above. These impacts are the discounted spending and corresponding personal income impacts that occur in the years following the film's release but are impacts that result from a film produced in 2007. The direct employment impact is the actual jobs that accrue in the tourism industry over time as the industry grows incrementally due to film tourism. Additional films produced in North Carolina that featured a North Carolina location could be expected to have similar tourism impacts, increasing the impact of film tourism each year.

Table 3. Economic impacts of film tourism

Economic Output ($mil)	$19.9	$12.3	$32.2
Personal Income ($mil)	$10.0	$6.3	$16.3
Employment	311	104	415

The additional tax impact of tourist visitor spending is generated as taxes are collected from hotels, restaurants, car rental services, gasoline stations and gift shops that benefit from tourist activity in North Carolina. Table 4 shows these tax impacts, which are equivalent to $3.8 million of state and local tax, based on the discounted tourism spending presented in Table 3.

Economic and tax impacts of film-related capital expenditures

In 2007, EUE Screen Gem Studios made a $1 million capital investment in its Wilmington, North Carolina studio in addition to a $250,000 investment made by Cinema Catering. These investments created an estimated $111,000 in total state and local taxes in 2007. As the state attracts additional film activity and capital investments, this impact is expected to grow. The total impact estimates presented in the next section assume that this investment is attributable to the expansion of the industry due to the adoption of the film credit in 2006.

Total economic and tax impacts of the 15% North Carolina film tax credit

The total economic impacts of film productions, film tourism, and capital expenditures resulting from the tax credit in 2007 are shown in Table 5. Total annual output generated from 2007 film productions and ancillary activities is $424 million. The total personal income is an estimated $220 million and an estimated 2,472 jobs were created.

The total tax impacts of the three components, film productions, film tourism, and capital expenditures are shown below in Table 6. At the state level, $22 million of taxes were generated while $7 million of local taxes resulted from the 2007 film activity. The total amount of state and local taxes collected was $29 million.

Return on investment at the 15% film tax credit rate

Table 7 presents the estimated state and local return on investment in North Carolina film tax credit expenditures. Qualified spending of $154 million in 2007 resulted in $23 million of accrued state credit cost. The net present value (NPV) of the credit cost is equal to $22 million.[4] Film productions and ancillary activities during 2007 generated just under $22 million of additional state tax revenue, offsetting 98% of the state credit cost. In other words, for each dollar of state credit expenditure, state tax revenues increased by an estimated $0.98.

[4] The net present value of the state's credit cost is equal to the credit cost ($23.1 million) discounted at a rate of 5% over an average 12 month payout period.

When both state and local taxes are considered, the total estimated tax impact exceeds the state credit cost. As shown in Table 7, the estimated state and local tax impact attributable to 2007 productions and ancillary activities was $29 million compared to net present value of the credit of $22 million, resulting in a combined state and local return on investment of 1.30. In other words, for each dollar of credit cost, $1.30 was generated in additional state and local tax revenue.

Table 7. Return on investment in film tax credit ($millions)

Qualified spending	$153.9
Credit rate	15%
Credit cost	$23.1
Present value of credit cost	$22.0
State taxes	$21.5
State return on investment	0.98
State and local taxes	$28.6
State and local return on investment	1.30

It is important to note that the numerator in the return on investment is measured as the change in state and local government taxes generated by the stronger state economy due to the film credit. It is limited to the public-sector benefits only. As shown in this analysis, the private-sector benefits total $220 million in income and 2,472 additional jobs. These benefits are not included in the return on investment figures.

5. Potential economic and tax impacts of a 25% North Carolina film tax credit

Many states compete to attract film productions and the associated jobs. Tax incentives have been an integral component of what competitive states offer production companies seeking to lower costs of production. North Carolina's 15% film credit attracted a significant number of productions in 2007, but has grown increasingly less effective as other states have adopted more competitive film credit rates ranging from 25% to 42%.

Comparison of projected levels of film production activity at 15% and 25% credit rates

Figure 3 below shows actual and projected film production spending from 2006 through 2010. The figure highlights the actual and projected decrease in film production spending in North Carolina since 2007 with estimates for 2009 and 2010 under a 15% credit.[5] The decline is comparable with the decline in employment shown in Figure 1, which shows that North Carolina's film industry declined over the 2001-2006 period, during which other states began to offer credits but North Carolina did not. A similar trend is projected to occur as other states adopt more competitive credits than North Carolina's 15% credit.

Given the significant size of the past investment that created North Carolina's film industry infrastructure, the costs to the state of retaining the film industry by offering a higher film tax credit rate could be less than the costs of re-building the industry's infrastructure if the decline in the size of the film industry is not reversed. If the projected decrease in film production activity occurs, it is likely that North Carolina's film industry infrastructure will decline.

[5] Projected film production spending in 2009 and 2010 was provided by the North Carolina film office.

States that have increased their credit rates to 25% or higher have experienced significant increases in the level of film production activity. As shown in Figure 4, the North Carolina Film Office projects that qualified expenditures would increase from $154 million in 2007 to $350 million by 2013 if a 25% credit rate is adopted. This increase in film spending in North Carolina would increase the total employment impact from productions to an estimated 4,649 jobs and would also increase the total personal income impact to an estimated $461 million in 2010.

Table 8 presents the potential economic impact of the film credit at a 25% credit rate. Film industry spending with a 25% film tax credit rate would create an estimated 1,301 film production jobs in 2010 and 1,561 direct jobs in 2011. The personal income impacts associated with these jobs are $195 million in 2010 and $234 million in 2011.

The estimated production spending in 2010 ($371 million) and 2011 ($445 million) includes three films with average North Carolina spending of $40 million, based on projections by the North Carolina Film Office.[6] Given this assumption, $10 million of spending by each $40 million film would not generate credit costs due to the $7.5 million maximum credit allowed under the film tax credit program. This $7.5 million cap lowers the effective credit rate on a $40 million film to 18.8% of qualified expenditures. In other words, for three films with a total of $120 million in qualified expenditures, $30 million of their qualified spending will not generate additional credit costs but would generate additional economic activity and state and local tax revenues. It is important to note that when production companies are considering a location for a film, the effective credit rate is the determining factor when considering tax incentives. A credit cap lowers the effective credit rate for films that have expenditures that would otherwise qualify but do not generate credit cost because a credit cap has been reached. Generally speaking, larger budget films would likely locate where no credit cap is in place.

The direct economic output impacts from film tourism are estimated to be $32 million from 2010

[6] The North Carolina Film Office projects that three $40 million films will be attracted to the state each year as a result of increasing the credit from 15% to 25%.

productions and $39 million from 2011 productions. These amounts reflect the tourism spending that is projected to occur in future years due to films that were produced in North Carolina during the year indicated. For example, the amount of tourism spending shown for 2010 reflects the projected tourism spending that results in years after 2010 as potential tourists view films produced in North Carolina during that year. Film tourism is projected to create an estimated 505 jobs from 2010 productions and 606 jobs from 2011 productions.

The estimates of tourism spending assume that each dollar of direct film production spending will generate more than two cents of additional film tourism activity, based on the estimated ratio of film tourism spending to film production spending in 2007. The estimates assume that films have the most impact on film tourism in the year of their release. In each subsequent year, the analysis assumes that a film has 75% of the impact it had in its first year. That is, in any year, a film has 25% less impact than in the prior year.

Capital expenditures of $44 million are projected to occur over the two-year period, 2010-2011. These projects are currently planned for the Charlotte area and will include four new stages, management and production offices, warehouses, and construction shops. The impact of these expenditures includes 165 direct jobs and $7.3 million of personal income each year.

The total estimated economic impacts of North Carolina's film credit at a 25% rate are shown below in Table 8. The total combined economic output impact for the three components analyzed, film productions, film tourism, and capital expenditures, is an estimated $722 million for 2010 and $858 million for 2011. This level of economic activity will create an estimated 4,254 jobs in 2010 and 5,053 jobs in 2011. These jobs will create $369 million of personal income in 2010 and $441 million of personal income in 2011.

Projected tax impacts of a 25% film credit (2010-2011)

The estimated tax impacts of a 25% film tax credit are presented in Table 10. State and local direct tax collections will total approximately $30 million in 2010 and $36 million in 2011. In 2010, direct state and local taxes from film productions are estimated to equal $25 million in 2010 and $30 million in 2011. Direct state and local taxes resulting from film tourism associated with films produced in 2010 are estimated to be $3 million, which increases to $4 million for films produced in 2011. More than an estimated $1 million of direct state and local taxes attributable to capital expenditures will be collected in 2010 and another $1 million in 2011.

Table 10 also shows the total tax impact of the 25% tax credit, including both the direct and indirect tax impacts. As shown in the table, the total state tax impact is estimated to be $36 million in 2010 and $43 million in 2011 while the local tax impact is estimated to be $12 million in 2010 and $14 million in 2011, resulting in a combined state and local tax impact of $48 million in 2010 and $57 million in 2011.

Return on Investment at 25% Tax Credit Rate

Based on projected qualified spending that will grow to $250 million in 2010 after the adoption of the 25% credit rate, the credit cost accrued in 2010 would increase to $55.0 million.[7] Table 12 shows that the net present value of the $55.0 million credit cost is $52.4, assuming that credits are not claimed for an average of one year after a film production. This higher level of spending would also increase state tax revenue to an estimated $36 million and combined state and local taxes to an estimated $48 million. This level of credit cost and the estimated state and local tax impact results in a combined state and local return on investment of 0.92 in 2010 and 0.91 in 2011. In other words, for each dollar of state credit cost, state and local taxes would increase by $0.92 in 2010 or $0.91 in 2011. Ignoring the local tax impact that results from the 25% credit rate, the state return on investment is projected to be 0.69 in 2010 and 2011.

The estimated return on investment reflects the additional state and local taxes that would be collected for each additional dollar of state credit cost. As shown in Table 12, if the credit rate is increased to 25%, state credit costs increase by a larger percentage than state and local tax collections, reducing the combined state and local ROI to 0.92 in 2010 from 1.30 in 2007.

Table 12. Projected Return in Investment in Film Tax Credit at a 25% Credit Rate ($Millions)

State return on investment	0.69	0.67
State and local taxes	$48.3	$57.1
State and local return on investment	0.92	0.89

[7] The accrued credit cost on $250 million of qualified expenditure is $62.5 million, but due to the credit cap per film, and the assumption that there will be three films with a combined total of $30 million of qualified expenditures that do not generate credit costs, the expected credit cost is reduced to $55 million.

Appendix: Description of methodology

Economic impacts

The sections below describe the economic impact estimation approach, including the calculation of the direct impacts and the derivation of the economic multipliers. Unless otherwise noted, 2007 data production data and estimates are described below.

Direct economic impacts

Direct production spending, personal income, and employment impacts are based on data provided by the North Carolina Film Office or imputed based on a sample of films produced in North Carolina in 2007.

Direct Economic Output (Production Spending). The direct output impact of film productions is equal to the amount of spending that occurred in 2007 by production companies applying for the North Carolina film credit. Data provided by the North Carolina Film Office indicated only the amount of qualified spending, which excludes expenditures related to imported goods and services and non-taxable fringe benefits. This qualified spending amount is shown in Table A.1, in the column labeled "Qualified Spending."

To reflect the total amount of spending by North Carolina film productions, an adjustment for spending on goods and services imported to North Carolina was made by increasing amounts for qualified goods and qualified services by the estimated amount of non-qualified goods and services purchased outside North Carolina. The IMPLAN economic model of North Carolina assumes that 74% of goods and 50% of services used by North Carolina productions are purchased from in-state companies while the remainder is imported. Therefore, the qualified spending amounts must be increased to reflect total spending (supplied by North Carolina firms and imported). Table A.1 shows spending on goods and services before and after this adjustment. The table also shows the amount of spending by commercial productions that did not qualify for the 15% film credit but were attracted to North Carolina because of infrastructure and cast and crew that are located in North Carolina largely due to the existence of the 15% credit.[8]

Table A.1 – Qualified & total spending, 2007

	Qualified Spending	% Spending Qualifying	Total Spending
Goods	$38.3	74%	$51.6
Services	$27.6	50%	$55.7
Compensation	$88.0	75%	$116.7
Non-Qualifying Commercials	$0.0	0%	$4.4
Total Spending	$153.9	67%	$228.3

[8] North Carolina retained an estimated 50% of its non-qualifying commercial production spending ($8.8 million) due to the 15% film tax credit in 2007.

Direct Personal Income. The direct personal income impact is equal to total wages, fringe benefits, proprietor's income, and other property income generated from productions in 2007. Film budget data received from the North Carolina Film Office indicates that qualified compensation averages 57% of total qualified expenses for the sample of 2007 film productions that applied for the credit and submitted this expense data to the North Carolina Department of Revenue. Non-qualifying fringe benefits are assumed to be equal to 18% of qualifying compensation plus payroll taxes and other employer costs equal to 10% of qualifying compensation. Finally, $4 million of non-qualifying wages paid to extras was included.

Direct Employment. Employment was derived by dividing the total qualified wage payments by the estimated average annual salary of $115,000. The average wage amount is based on data received from the North Carolina Film Office describing the number of hours worked and wages earned for employees working on films produced in North Carolina from 2006 to 2008, assuming that employees work 3,120 hours per year. The number of hours worked per year was derived from production reports summarized by the North Carolina Film Office that showed typical production days exceeded 12 hours in length, with typical crew calls at 7 am and crew wraps after 8:30 pm.

Economic multipliers

Output. The North Carolina IMPLAN model was adjusted to reflect the film budget and payroll data received from the North Carolina Film Office. These adjustments resulted in an increase in the output per worker for the motion picture industry. The output (production spending) per worker for the motion picture industry was increased from $110,000 in the stock 2007 North Carolina IMPLAN model to $285,000 in the adjusted model. The model adjustments increase the output multiplier from 1.74 in the initial IMPLAN model to 1.71 in the adjusted model.

Personal Income. To reflect the data received from the North Carolina Film Office, average compensation per worker was increased from $17,700 in the stock IMPLAN model to $135,000 in the adjusted model. Additionally, aggregated payroll data provided by the North Carolina Film Office indicates that 39% of compensation is paid to employees residing outside of North Carolina. Therefore, an adjustment was made to the induced spending estimates derived using the IMPLAN model. One-half of the induced impact resulting from income earned by non-residents was excluded from the impact. This adjustment reduces the overall induced economic impact from $44.3 million to $35.9 million.

The model adjustments reduce the combined personal income (labor income and other property type income) multiplier from 2.69 in the initial IMPLAN model to 1.69 in the adjusted model.

Table A.2 – Induced personal income impact adjustment

	Direct	Indirect	Induced	Total
Personal Income w/o adjustment ($mil)	$120.2	$46.8	$44.3	$211.3
Personal Income w/adjustment ($mil)	$120.2	$46.8	$35.9	$202.8

Employment. The model adjustments described above increase the employment multiplier from 1.67 in the stock IMPLAN model to 2.55 in the adjusted model.

Table A.3 – IMPLAN model multipliers

Multiplier	Initial Model	Adjusted Model
Output	1.74	1.71
Personal Income	2.69	1.69
Employment	1.67	2.55

Film tourism impacts

The estimates of tourism spending assume that each dollar of direct film production spending will generate almost 3 cents of additional film tourism activity, based on the estimated ratio of film tourism spending in the year following a production to the cost of the production. For 2007, productions totaling $228.3 million generated $6.1 million in film tourism spending the following year, 2008. The estimates assume that films have the most impact on film tourism in the year of their release, which is assumed to be the year after production. In each subsequent year after release, the analysis assumes that a film has 75% of the impact it had in its first year. That is, in any year, a film has 25% less impact than in the prior year. Table A.4 shows this 'spending decay' that occurs in the first year through the tenth year after popular films are produced in North Carolina. The total spending amount and the net present value of that amount are shown on the bottom two rows of the table. The net present value assumes a 5% discount rate.

Table A.4 – Film tourism spending

Tax Impacts

North Carolina Tax Revenues

Tax impacts on state and local governments were estimated by multiplying the ratio of historical tax collections to state wide personal income by the total personal income impacts estimated using the IMPLAN economic model. There were two exceptions to this methodology used in the study, the direct individual income tax and direct corporate income tax adjustment, described below.

Individual Income Tax. The direct individual income tax impact was estimated using an average tax rate for above-the-line and below-the-line taxable wages. Average taxable income for above-the-line labor was equal to $350,000 while below-the-line labor earned an estimated average salary of $91,000. Roughly 72% of total wages paid in 2007 productions were below-the-line while above-the-line wages accounted for the remaining 28%. Based on the average annual earnings for both groups of employees, the average individual income tax rate was estimated based on North Carolina 2007 tax rate schedules for married taxpayers who do not file joint returns. Taxable compensation paid to above-the-line employees was multiplied by the 7.79% average income tax rate shown in Table A.4, while compensation paid to below-the-line employees was multiplied by the 7.22% average income tax rate.

Table A.5 – Average Individual Income Tax Rates

Income Tax Rates (2007): Married who do not file joint returns
$100,000 and above	8.00%
$50,000 - $100,000	7.75%
$10,625 -$50,000	7.00%
Over 0 - $10,625	6.00%
Above-the-line taxable income	$350,187
Below-the-line taxable income	$91,186
Average rate for above-the-line	7.79%
Average rate for below-the-line	7.22%

Corporate Income Tax Withheld on Film Credit. A 6.9% corporate income tax credit adjustment is made for C-corporations who claim a film tax credit in North Carolina. In 2007, an estimated 21% of total credits ($5.2 million) were generated by C-corporations. Approximately $360,000 in corporate income tax liability resulted from these credit payments to C-corporations, reducing the effective tax credit for C-corporations to 14%.

Sales Tax: In North Carolina, a 1% privilege tax is imposed on sales of specific transactions in lieu of sales and use tax. Because detailed information on the amount of goods and services purchased by production companies in 2007 that would be subject to this reduced rate was not available, this sales tax adjustment was not incorporated into the estimates. Had sufficient data been available to incorporate this adjustment, the direct sales tax impact for production activity would be reduced.

North Carolina Film Credit Expenditures

Total qualifying film expenditures for 2007 were provided by the North Carolina Film Office. North Carolina's current film tax credit rate of 15% was applied to the total qualifying expenditures to estimate the total film credit expenditures accrued in 2007. Based on information from the Film Office, credit payments are paid to qualifying productions 12 months following the end of production. The credit costs were discounted to the present value of the future payments by a 5% rate of over 12 months. Based on these assumptions, an estimated $23 million of credit costs has a net present value of $22 million.

Under a 25% tax credit program, three films per year are estimated to have qualified expenditures of $40 million. Of this $40 million per film, only $30 million would generate credit costs due to the credit cap of $7.5 million. The additional $10 million of qualified spending per film will generate economic activity and tax revenue for the state and local governments at no cost to the state.

Economic Impact Study of the Production of a 'Mid-Major' Motion Picture on the Economy of Southeastern North Carolina

Executive Summary

The motion picture industry has been an active component of the local economy since the early 1980s. To date, the Wilmington area has hosted over 300 features, mini-series, movies of the week, and eight television series along with numerous commercials and music videos.[1]

The production of a "mid-major" motion picture has sizeable economic effects on Southeastern North Carolina, viz., Brunswick, New Hanover, and Pender Counties. A "mid-major" production is defined as a production with a budget of approximately $25 million.

A typical production supports almost $18.7 million in total economic activity, 650 jobs (including part-time and full-time), almost $6.5 million in wages and salaries, almost $2.1 million in self-employment income, almost $1.2 million in property income (rents, interest payments, corporate profits/dividends, and royalties), and $265,000 in state sales and excise tax revenues. The local government share of these sales and excise tax collections is $88,000. These local governments receive $530,000 in county property tax collections. Given current tax rates, the implied size of the three-county property tax base necessary to support these property tax collections is approximately $124.8 million.

Based on a possible average of three such productions being completed during a 12-month period, the impacts rise three-fold. The impact on total economic activity of $56 million represents approximately 0.5 percent of estimated 2009 gross regional product. The job impact does not change as it is assumed that the same employees can be utilized in more than one production. The impacts on labor income are follows: $19.4 million in wages and salaries, almost $6.2 million in self-employment income, and almost $3.6 million in property income. On an annualized basis, the average salary of a job supported by the motion picture production is close to $45,000, almost 30 percent above the current average salary across local employment sectors. The motion-picture-production-supported salary is almost one-third above the current per capita income estimate. Sales and excise tax collections total $796,000, with a local government share of $265,000. County property tax collections total almost $1.6 million. The implied size of the associated property tax base is $374.4 million, approximately 0.5 percent of the 2008-09 value of the three-county property tax base.

Economic Impact Study of the Production of a 'Mid-Major' Motion Picture on the Economy of Southeastern North Carolina

I. Introduction

In the summer of 2009, the Wilmington Regional Film Commission, Inc., contracted with the University of North Carolina Wilmington Center for Business and Economic Services for a faculty research team to conduct a study of the economic impact that the production of a "mid-major" motion picture would have on the economy of Southeastern North Carolina, defined as Brunswick, New Hanover, and Pender Counties. For the purposes of this study, a "mid-major" motion picture production has a budget of approximately $25 million.

II. The Nature of an Economic Impact Study

An economic impact study is conducted to estimate the impacts of specific economic activities (e.g., the "production") on the overall economy of a geographic region. The impacts take several forms. The most obvious is the direct impact of the initial, specified economic activities on employment, employee salaries, payments to suppliers, and taxes paid by employees and suppliers. Beyond the direct impact, there are the additional indirect and induced impacts[2] that reflect the "economic ripple effects," or "multiplier effects," of the initial direct impact. These ripple effects are generated because a portion of every direct-impact dollar received by employees and suppliers is re-spent in the local economy (viz., that portion that is not saved, spent on imports or lost to federal, state, and local taxes). In turn, this re-spending generates additional employment, salary and supplier payments, and tax revenue.

The input-output model used to estimate these economic impacts was developed using the IMPLAN Professional™ for Windows™ (Version 2.2) software. This software is commonly used by business, government, and academic institutions to provide assistance in developing economic impact analyses.

Simulated input-output models are far from perfect as they are approximations of area or regional spending patterns or transactions. However, they are widely used in economic impact studies. IMPLAN is a leading input-output modeling software package used in this work.

III. The Study

This study estimates the total economic impact – the sum of direct, indirect, and induced impacts – that the movie production would have on the three-county economy of Brunswick, New Hanover, and Pender bordering the Atlantic Ocean in Southeastern North Carolina. All dollar figures are in first quarter 2009 dollars. The impacts are based on the 2007 structure of the three-county economy.

Estimated total (direct, indirect, and induced) impacts include those on gross output or sales, employment (full-time and part-time), payrolls (wages and salaries), self-employment income, property income, and selected state and local government taxes. Self-employment income is income earned by those self-employed in the three-county area. Property income is income from such sources as rents, interest payments, corporate profits/dividends, and royalties.

The Wilmington Regional Film Commission provided detailed budget data for a "mid-major" film which was recently considering production in the local area. The total budget for the film production was approximately $25 million. The name of the production company and the associated film were not provided for reasons of confidentiality. The budgeted items are shown in Table 1.

During filming, the production would support almost $18.7 million in total output or economic activity in the three-county area. Other impacts include 650 jobs (full-time and part-time), almost $6.5 million in wages and salaries, almost $2.1 million in self-employment income, and almost $1.2 million in property income. A total of $265,000 in state sales and excise taxes would be collected. The local government share of these sales and excise tax collections would be $88,000. County property tax collections would total $530,000. The associated tax base which would generate these property tax collections at FY 2008-09 property tax rates is $124.8 million.

Table 3 shows the distribution of the output impacts[3] during movie production. Only those six sectors that experience an increase of at least $650,000 in output or gross income are shown in the table. Combined, these six sectors account for more than one-half (57.4 percent) of the total impact.

Only those seven sectors that experience an increase of at least $135,000 in wage and salary income payments are shown in the tables. Combined, these seven sectors account for more than two-thirds (71.1) percent of the total wage and salary income payment impact. The private household sector alone accounts for almost one-half (48.6 percent) of the impact.

V. Annualized Impacts

The economic impacts presented above are based on the changes in selected measures of economic activity while movie production takes place. Given the Wilmington area's history of motions picture production and the availability of infrastructure, it is likely that more than one "mid-major" movie production could occur during a 12-month time span.

The following analysis assumes that three such productions occur within a calendar year. It also assumes that there are no overlapping production schedules. That is, only one movie production occurs at a time.

Table 8 shows the total impacts of the three movie productions. As before, all dollar figures are in first quarter 2009 dollars. The impacts can be viewed as "annualized" figures.

Table 8
Annualized Economic Impacts of a Mid-Major Motion Picture Production[1]

Type of Impact	Direct	Indirect	Induced	Total
Output	$37,752,000	$4,758,000	$13,494,000	$56,004,000
Employment[2]	570	30	50	650
Wages and Salaries	$14,508,000	$1,248,000	$3,666,000	$19,422,000
Self-Employment Income	$5,460,000	$226,000	$476,000	$6,162,000
Property Income	$2,434,000	$304,000	$850,000	$3,588,000
State Sales and Excise Taxes	N.A.	N.A.	N.A.	$796,000
Local Government Share[3]	N.A.	N.A.	N.A.	$265,000
County Property Tax Collections	N.A.	N.A.	N.A.	$1,591,000
(Equivalent) Property Tax Base[4]	N.A.	N.A.	N.A.	$374,400,000

1 Figures in the table are based on the production of three "mid-major" motion pictures during a 12-month period, e.g., a calendar year.

2 The annualized motion picture employment impacts are the same as the per production figures as the same employees can be utilized in more than one production if there are no overlapping production schedules.

3 Each of the three county governments levies a 2.25% sales tax. After debiting a collection fee, state government remits the residual to the county government.

4 The estimate of the size of the property tax base that would support $1,591,000 in property tax collections is calculated by dividing the collections by a weighted average county tax rate using the FY 2008-09 value of county taxable property as weights.

Source: IMPLAN model and authors' calculations

Measures of the relative importance of the motion picture industry in the area economy can be obtained by comparing the annualized measures of the industry's impact to averages for the three-county area as a whole. Three such comparisons are made.

V.A. Total Economic Activity

The IMPLAN model produces estimates of gross regional product (GRP), in this case an estimate of the total amount of economic activity produced by all sectors in the thee-county economy. This figure is analogous to gross domestic product (GDP) calculated for the nation as a whole. The IMPLAN GRP estimate of $11.4 billion is in 2006 dollars. Using the implicit GDP deflator to account for inflation between the 2006 and early 2009, the comparable 2009 estimate is $12.2 billion. Given that three motion picture productions support $56 million in economic activity, these productions support approximately 0.5 percent of total economic activity in the three-county area.

V.B. Labor Income

The average annualized salary of the jobs supported by the production of three "mid-major" motion pictures can be calculated by dividing total labor income by employment. Total labor income is the sum of wage and salary payments, self-employment income payments, and property income payments. These three total $29.2 million. In turn, the average annualized salary of the 650 jobs that are supported during the movie production is $44,880. Based on third quarter 2008 North Carolina Employment Security Commission data, the average annual salary across all employment sectors in the three-county region was $34,400. Using the implicit GDP deflator to account for inflation between the third quarter of 2008 and early 2009, the annualized salary would be approximately $34,700. Consequently, the average annualized salary supported by the motion picture production of $44,880 is almost 30 percent above the all-sector estimate.

The Bureau of Economic Analysis in the U. S. Department of Commerce generates estimates of county per capita income. The most recent figures available are for 2007. Using 2007 county population estimates as weights, the 2007 weighted average per capita income for the three-county area is $32,394. Using the implicit GDP deflator to account for inflation between 2007 and early 2009, the 2009 estimate is $33,799. Consequently, the average annualized salary supported by the motion picture production of $44,880 is almost one-third above the per capita income estimate.

V.C. Property Taxes

The North Carolina Department of Revenue reports that the total value of all real and personal property in the three-county region during FY 2008-09 was $68.6 billion. Given that the movie productions supported a property tax base of $374.4 million, the movie productions supported 0.5 percent of the tax base.

V. Summary

This study has analyzed the economic impact of a "mid-major" motion picture production on the economies of Brunswick, New Hanover, and Pender Counties located along the coast of Southeastern North Carolina. For research purposes, a "mid-major" motion picture production has a budget of approximately $25 million.

The study analyzed the impacts of both a single film production and multiple film productions. Although not addressed in the study, other qualitative impacts such as the "visibility" impact of being known as a location with infrastructure to accommodate productions are equally important.

Based on the production of three such films during a calendar year, the study found that motion picture production supported approximately 0.5 percent of total economic activity in the three-county area. Its contribution to state sales and excise tax collections and the local government share of the same were $796,000 and $265,000, respectively. Its contribution to county property tax collections was almost $1.6 million. The size of the associated property tax base required to support these property tax collections was $374.4 billion, 0.5 percent of the FY 2008-09 value of the three-county property tax base.

2 Indirect effects are the changes in inter-industry purchases as these industries respond to new demands of the directly affected industries. In the present case, the indirect effects are a measure of the re-spending of the receipts by vendors supplying the motion picture industry. Induced effects reflect changes in spending by households as income changes due to changes in production, in the case changes in movie production.

The Economic Impact of the Motion Picture & Television Industry on the United States

April 2009

A Message from Dan Glickman

On behalf of the Motion Picture Association of America and our six member studios, I am pleased to present the industry's second biennial nationwide economic impact report.

The magic of the big screen is something we all have experienced. We can all recount the unforgettable moments from our favorite movies - scenes that make us laugh, cry, cheer, wonder, and believe. We associate these moments with Hollywood and big stars and big studios. And while these are important and visible pieces of the industry, they don't represent the entire picture.

Even as you read this report, workers in businesses both large and small across America are lending their talents behind the camera, on construction sites and in computer labs, revealing an industry that is:

A diverse job creator: 2.5 million Americans jobs are supported by the motion picture and television industry – costume designers, truck drivers, architects and accountants are but a few examples of the complex combination of workers who collectively make movies.

A community of small businesses and entrepreneurs: Over 115,000 businesses in all 50 states – 81 percent of which employ fewer than 10 people – comprise the motion picture and television industry.

A nationwide enterprise: On-location production, infrastructure development and movie and television-related tourism are contributing to the economies of all 50 states.

A successful exporter of American products: The American motion picture industry carries a positive balance of trade around the world and a $13.6 billion trade surplus.

For decades, the motion picture and television production industry has been a cornerstone in America's creative economy. Throughout that time, we have pushed the boundaries of technology to improve our product – from silent pictures to surround sound, from black and white film to digital computer animation. Today, we are pushing boundaries again, with purchasing options that give consumers better and more cost-effective choices.

We are committed to keeping our industry at the forefront of the worldwide entertainment market and to ensuring that our contribution to the U.S. economy continues to grow.

Now I invite you to take a peek behind the big screen by reading this report. I believe you will find it is an interesting, informative and entertaining look at an important American enterprise – the motion picture and television industry.

See you at the movies.

Hollywood: The Movie
By Edward Jay Epstein

Hollywood has spent the better part of the last century making movies out of the great inspirational sagas of human history. Ironically, the one epic it has yet to make is one about a uniquely American achievement that has and continues to mesmerize the world: The Rise Of Hollywood. Here is a true Sturm and Drang melodrama chock full of fascinating characters from the edges who overcome seemingly impossible obstacles to build a new industry that today defines the world of mass entertainment. The scenario would follow the classic Hollywood three-act formula.

ACT ONE
Fade in on the men who founded the studios of Hollywood. These are self-made and self-educated Jewish immigrants from impoverished backgrounds, who, prior to becoming movie exhibitors, had been ragpickers, furriers, errand boys, butchers and junk peddlers. They are true outliers: Louis B. Mayer, Samuel Goldwyn, Jack Warner, Adolph Zucker, William Fox, Carl Laemmle, and Harry Cohn, who first scraped together money to build arcades and nickelodeons to show movies, then resourcefully expanded them into theater chains, distribution networks, and, finally, studios. In the second decade of the 1900s, they moved their studios to a near desert in California - the tiny incorporated village of Hollywood - a place they could control and build. By the mid-1920s, 57 million people – over half the population - was going to their movies every week.

Yet, the saga is just beginning. In 1927, sound, now married to the picture, is introduced to the world with Al Jolson in The Jazz Singer. Even though huge capital is required to add this new dimension to movies, Hollywood - in one of the great technological feats of modern history - converts most of the 21,000 theaters in America to sound, rebuilds its studios to put sound on film, and casts new stars for talkie movies. Despite even the Great Depression of the 1930s, the weekly audience grows to 75 million who go to the movies to see not just feature movies, but newsreels, comedy shorts, action-packed serials and cartoons. A new generation of talent, including such brilliant innovators as Walt Disney, expands its realm to children's entertainment, and color adds to its ability to entertain the public even in the bleak years of the Depression and the grim war years of the early 1940s.

ACT TWO
The second world war has ended; the troops have come home. By 1948, the studio system is at its zenith. Over 90 million Americans go to the movies on a weekly basis, roughly two-thirds of the population. The studios produce over 500 feature movies a year, have all the major stars under iron-clad contract, and employ over 320,000 Americans. In little more than a generation, its founders have literally gone from rags to riches.

But there was an ever-darkening cloud forming: television. Even with its fuzzy black and white pictures, it offers free stay-at-home entertainment, which gradually eats away at its habitual audience. Even with new innovations, such as drive-ins, Cinemascope, 3-D, and surround sound, the entertainment landscape had irreversibly changed. After color TV is introduced in the 1950s, the weekly movie audience drops by 1958 to 40 million. Prophets of doom predict the end of Hollywood is near.

ACT THREE
But the prophets have underestimated the resourcefulness of Hollywood. Its genius had always been adaptation to new circumstances. It is, after all, in the business of entertainment– a medium which thrives on transformation. So Hollywood re-invents itself. The old studio system, with its contractual control of theaters and stars, is dead; long live the new studio system. Unable to depend on a habitual weekly audience, it turns television to its advantage, using national TV advertising to create tailor-made audiences for each and every movie. And, while remaining an American business, it greatly expanded its reach overseas, creating a second stream of revenue from theaters and television abroad.

The audience of the new Hollywood is not limited to theaters. It finds new sources of revenue in licensing its movies to television, originating prime-time series, renting its movies on home video, putting it on planes via in-flight entertainment and in hotels, turning its characters into toys, and then, with the digital revolution, putting its movies on DVD, Blu-ray, video-on-demand, cell phones, and the Internet. In doing so, it not only kept alive the movie business, but made it central to the world's entertainment economy. With states and municipalities competing with one another for film production, it also continued to create jobs across the nation, supporting employment for 2.5 million people.

But beyond the movies, the money, and the job creation, Hollywood produces another form of wealth: the pictures in our head by which both we, and the world at large, define the phenomenon of American culture. What a movie that achievement would make. FADE OUT

The production and distribution of motion pictures and television programs is one of the nation's most valuable cultural and economic resources.

In 2007, the motion picture and television industry was responsible for:

- 2.5 million American jobs;
- an average salary of $74,700 for production employees;
- $41.1 billion in wages to workers in America;
- $38.2 billion in payments to U.S. vendors and suppliers, small businesses and entrepreneurs;
- $13 billion in income and sales taxes; and
- $13.6 billion in trade surplus.

2.5 Million Diverse Jobs in 50 States

With a payroll of over $41 billion, the motion picture and television industry is a major private-sector employer. In total, the motion picture and television industry supports 2.5 million American jobs:

- Over 285,000 people are employed in the core business of producing, marketing, manufacturing and distributing motion pictures and television shows, including full, part time and free-lance workers at major studios, independent production companies, and core industry suppliers like film labs, special effects and digital studios, location services, and prop and wardrobe houses dedicated to the production industry, among others. The industry employs workers in every major occupational group, including actors, accountants, agents, animators, camera operators, casting directors, computer specialists, directors, editors, engineers, graphic designers, marketers, producers, special effects, technicians, writers, and many, many more.

- Over 478,000 people are employed in the related businesses that distribute motion pictures and television shows to consumers. This includes workers at movie theaters, video rental operations, television broadcasters, cable companies, and new dedicated online ventures like Hulu and TV.com.

- The motion picture and television industry supports an additional 1.7 million indirect jobs at the thousands of companies doing business with the industry, such as apparel and accessory retailers, car rental and sales dealers, caterers, dry cleaners, florists, hardware and lumber suppliers, and transportation companies, as well as at a wide cross-section of companies doing business with consumers, such as retailers, themed restaurants and tourist attractions.

The average salary of those employed in the core production-related industry was just under $75,000 in 2007 – nearly 76 percent higher than the average salary nationwide. Including employees on the consumer-facing film and TV distribution side, the average salary of all workers in the motion picture and television industry is 26 percent higher than the average salary nationwide.[1]

A Nationwide Community of Small Businesses and Entrepreneurs

One of the most unique characteristics of the motion picture and television industry is its decentralized nature. As of 2008, the motion picture and television industry comprises more than 115,000 businesses around the country – in production to distribution – and 81 percent of these businesses employ fewer than 10 people.[2] One-quarter of the businesses are sole proprietorships. In essence, the motion picture and television production industry is largely entrepreneurial and dominated by small businesses and individuals. Thjs total includes only those businesses directly involved in making or distributing motion pictures and television shows, and does not include business that do not work with our industry on a full time basis, like lumberyards and florists.

Few industries in the world are as large and yet depend so heavily on an economically diverse work force based on regional networks collaborating on projects. The graphic on the following page illustrates the vast array of individuals vital to bringing a motion picture or television program to fruition.

In addition, the core production industry made $38.2 billion in direct payments for goods and services to vendors large and small in 2007. The vendors receiving these payments are not only specialized businesses that comprise and exclusively serve the entertainment industry, such as wardrobe companies and camera equipment firms, including the 115,000 businesses noted above, but also innumerable general suppliers serving many other industries, such as caterers, lumberyards, apparel retailers and florists.

A Contributor to State and Federal Coffers

Communities zealously promote entertainment development because the motion picture and television industry attracts capital, creates a local production-related workforce, and generates tax revenues critical for public needs.

In 2007, just two types of taxes – taxes paid by industry workers and sales taxes on goods and services - generated approximately $13 billion in public revenues in the United States. This included $4.1 billion in income taxes at the federal level and $1.9 billion in income taxes at the state level, along with $6.4 billion in additional unemployment, Medicare and Social Security taxes, in addition to sales taxes on goods.

Other taxes paid, but that could not be quantified for this study, include corporate income taxes, property taxes and business license taxes. Also not included are tax revenues generated by indirect employment.

A Successful Exporter of American Products

The American motion picture and television production industry remains one of the most highly competitive around the world. In 2007, the enduring value and appeal of U.S. entertainment around the world earned $15 billion in audiovisual services exports, a 23 percent increase over 2006 and over 50 percent more than in 2003. The 2007 total is the highest since tracking began in 1992.

Moreover, this industry is one of the few that consistently generates a positive balance of trade. In 2007, that surplus was $13.6 billion, or 10 percent of the total U.S. private-sector trade surplus in services. The motion picture and television surplus was larger than the combined surplus of the telecommunications, management and consulting, legal, and medical services sectors, and larger than sectors like computer and information services and insurance services.[3]

The international market is vital for American motion picture and television product. MPAA member companies' international revenue has more than doubled in the last dozen years and nearly half of revenue is now derived from outside the U.S., making these international markets vital to American jobs.

International audiences continue to appreciate American products, but this industry also continues to innovate and increase its success internationally by co-producing films and television shows with foreign companies, acquiring and distributing foreign-made films and television shows in the U.S. and around the world, and making strategic investments overseas.

Understanding film and television credits

The reason film credits can be so long is that film-making draws on the efforts of numerous people over an extended period of time. The process of taking a film or television show from idea to audiences involves several key phases and a wide assortment of skills. Production around the country

All of the 50 states and the District of Columbia have film and television production activity. Throughout this report there are several spotlights highlighting the positive economic impact of on-location production on communities around the nation. California and New York, the historical centers of film and television production activity, are still the bellwether states. However, production activities are increasing in many key states. Following are the top production states outside of California and New York based on several factors: amount of productions industry-wide; production employees and wages; and the total number of vendors and vendor payments made by MPAA studios during 2007:

Top 10 Production States outside CA & NY[4]

- Texas
- Florida
- Georgia
- Pennsylvania
- New Jersey
- North Carolina
- Louisiana
- Tennessee
- Massachusetts

States to Watch

- Michigan
- Arizona

States to watch are based on the above factors, as well as 2008 production levels, tax incentives, and economic impact of the industry.

Making an impact in states

In 2007 and 2008, film and television production and distribution contributed to the economies of all 50 states and the District of Columbia. In fact, 40 states and DC have found production activity to be so beneficial that they have enacted specific incentives to increase production in their states (denoted with an asterisk below). Following is information from state film commissions and industry sources on local production activity in 2007 and 2008, examples of recent productions in each state, and state-by-state details on wages paid by the motion picture and television production and distribution industry in 2007, the most current data available at the time of printing.

Leatherheads in the Carolinas

The film Leatherheads was filmed in North and South Carolina during the winter and spring of 2007, covering communities in and around Greenville, South Carolina, as well as Charlotte, Winston-Salem and Statesville, North Carolina. Over two months of shooting, and several more of preparations and wrap-up, the Leatherheads production paid more than $1.7 million in total wages to local cast, extras, crew and other employees in South Carolina, and $2.3 million in North Carolina. The film employed 4,720 local residents in South Carolina and 6,745 in North Carolina. Local businesses, including hotels, car rental outlets, hardware stores, dry cleaners and caterers, received payments of nearly $3 million in South Carolina, and just under $2.5 million in North Carolina.

Behind the numbers are countless stories of collaboration, from the generous support from the small town of Greer, South Carolina, with its period-perfect storefronts; to the historic Vance Hotel in Statesville, North Carolina; to local real estate agents in South Carolina, who delayed construction at the Calhoun Hotel in South Carolina so filming could occur prior to its conversion into condominiums; and to the North Carolina train museum, which provided the picture-perfect trains in the film.

On-Location Production is Good for America: Messages from Key Policymakers

"Virginia has always recognized the positive economic impact that film production has on the state and local economies--that's why the Commonwealth has made it a priority to recruit and attract film and television production. Virginia will continue to look at conventional and innovative ways to attract additional film and television production--and the associated benefits in terms of jobs and economic growth.

The Emmy Award winning John Adams miniseries was filmed in Virginia in 2007 and added $80 million in economic impact and 2,000 jobs to the state while stimulating the local economies where it was filmed."
- Commonwealth of Virginia Governor Timothy M. Kaine

"Georgia's excellent talent base and outstanding locations make our state a very desirable place to film. Our new legislation puts in place the economic cornerstone that will encourage producers to convert that desire into action."
-Georgia Governor Sonny Perdue

"Chicago is one of the best cities in the world to film television and movie productions because of our city's incredibly picturesque settings, talented actors, directors and crew combined with the commitment from our city and state governments.

Increased production creates jobs for the hard-working people of our city – not only actors and crew members, but also caterers, electricians, truck drivers and all the others who devote their talents and skills to the project.

For example, when Warner Bros. filmed The Dark Knight in Chicago, it generated a record $40 million in revenue, employed more than 4,000 people and purchased goods and services from over 300 vendors.

I'm proud that Chicago is able to meet the creative needs of the productions while providing people with jobs in this dynamic and growing industry."
-Chicago, Illinois Mayor Richard M. Daley

"We recognize the enormous positive impact motion picture and television production can have on creating jobs and revenue to small businesses across the United States. That's why I am interested in continuing to work with the legislature on how to make Kentucky an even more attractive venue for the film industry. In these challenging and uncertain times for the economy, the creation of movies and television programs can potentially be a bright star on the horizon for the Commonwealth."
-Kentucky Governor Steve Beshear

"By enacting one of the most competitive film incentive packages in the nation we are growing a new job-creating industry in Michigan. As we continue to work to diversify Michigan's economy, we are proud to be at the heart of the film renaissance and we look forward to continued robust growth in Michigan's film industry."
-Michigan Governor Jennifer M. Granholm

"The film and TV industries are crucial to New York State's economy, contributing an estimated $7 billion annually. In 2008 we raised the New York State Film Production Credit to 30% of qualified costs, three times larger than the credit it replaced. As a result more than 60 feature films took advantage of our new incentives, 20 television pilots and 30 television show productions. These new projects will spend more than $2 billion in our great state. The industry as a whole is a vital economic engine for our state, luring tourists and employing more than 100,000 people. From Montauk to Niagara Falls and all points in between, New York State is home to some of the most desired and diverse filming locations across the country."
-New York Governor David A. Paterson

"Texas, more so than most states, has enjoyed a long history of on-location filming. For more than 50 years, we have seen economic benefits flow to our workforce and especially to the small businesses serving the industry, in all parts of the state. Now, with more than 40 states offering incentive programs, we are working to become more competitive, to bring these proven benefits back to Texas. I am proud of our production industry, and will do everything I can to preserve this essential part of Texas' economy."
-Texas Governor Rick Perry

"More than 100,000 local New Yorkers rely on the behind-the-scenes jobs that are created when film and television productions shoot in our City. This past season alone, we hosted 17 primetime television shows, with each show employing 1,000 to 2,800 people per season. In addition, 4,000 local businesses reap the benefits of this production business, and that includes lumberyards, hardware stores, dry cleaners, and restaurants. Films and television shows also help attract millions of tourists to our City, and all of them spend money in our local businesses. All told, the film and television industry generates about $5 billion each year in local economic activity, making it one of our most important – and exciting – industries."
-New York City Mayor Michael R. Bloomberg

"Oregon has been able to attract more production to the state through the Oregon Production Investment Fund and Greenlight Oregon. In 2003, we created the Oregon Production Investment Fund, which offers a financial incentive to qualified productions. In 2005, Greenlight Oregon was created, giving the state's film office a package of incentives that has been instrumental in making Oregon a serious player in the competition for major film and television productions. These productions create jobs and generate millions of dollars in economic activity."
-Oregon Governor Ted Kulongowski

"The motion picture and television industry helps drive California's diverse economy, employing over 200,000 Californians and generating more than $35 billion in economic activity. And the reach of production goes beyond the people directly employed by the industry, affecting businesses large and small throughout our economy. We value the production industry not only for its contribution to our economy in these challenging economic times, but also for its creative and entrepreneurial spirit – for which California is known throughout the world."
-California Governor Arnold Schwarzenegger

"Los Angeles is proud to be America's creative capital and the undisputed home to the motion picture and television industry. The stories of Hollywood reflect the best talents and contributions of our nation's most inventive and innovative minds. And there is no doubt that the entertainment industry will remain a strong and thriving engine for our local economy. From the mega-stars of the silver screen to the makeup artists, costume designers, stage hands, and sound engineers behind-the-scenes, LA will continue to offer an open, accessible, and welcoming set for this iconic industry."
-Los Angeles, California Mayor Antonio Villaraigosa

Surrogates in Massachusetts

The film Surrogates, based on the comic book series of the same name, was filmed in Massachusetts during a 24-week period. The production spent $21 million in Massachusetts with hundreds of local vendors, including dry cleaners, lumber suppliers, hotels, restaurants, rental car services, furniture rental services and retailers, crane companies, and local labor. Surrogates hired hundreds of local crew including office staff, drivers, electricians, grips, and carpenters, and over 2,000 background locals as extras. In the many cities around the state where Surrogates filmed, upgrades were often made to locations used. For example, the production spent thousands of dollars to upgrade offices, a phone system and a warehouse in Woburn that are currently being used by local businesses.

Shutter Island in Maine and Massachusetts

Shutter Island, based on the novel of the same name by Dennis Lehane, was filmed in locations in and around Bar Harbor, Maine and Boston, Massachusetts during 2008. During 18 total days on location in Maine, including three days of shooting, the Shutter Island production spent nearly $170,000 with various local vendors. The production encompassed over five months on location in Massachusetts, including 89 shooting days. During that time, over $22 million was spent in the local economy, including $8.3 million on payroll – employing 460 crew members, 15 actors and 478 extras -- and $11.4 million on local vendors. These included crane and scaffolding vendors like Marr Equipment, NES Rentals and United Rentals, which provided the scaffolding and cranes that were required on almost every day of production; and building supplies vendors like Burnett & Moynihan and Lynn Lumber, which provided materials for extensive construction projects, like the renovation and outfitting of a large medical facility.

Shutter Island mobilized a strong source of production specific services from Massachusetts, including production equipment such as cameras from Boston Camera and generators from All State Power & Control Inc.; production facilities, including tent and warehouse rental; transportation like crew car rental and local boating; and of course, significant local employment of crew, actors and extras. For members of the production that came from out of state, $2.6 million was spent on local hotels, including The Intercontinental Boston, Hilton Dedham and Residence Inn Dedham. These visitors also impact local business in the proximity, patronizing local health clubs and restaurants, including Benjamin's Restaurant in Taunton, which became a frequent dining choice for Martin Scorsese and friends, and That's Amore Brick Oven Pizza, which fed the production crew.[5]

Investing in infrastructure and community development

In addition to direct entertainment production payrolls and expenditures, the motion picture and television industry actively invests in infrastructure and facilities that have a positive effect on community development and local real estate markets. Following are a few samples of such capital projects.

- The multi-million dollar film and TV studio, Tyler Perry Studios, opened in Atlanta, Georgia in October 2008. The 30-acre studio features over 200,000 square feet of studio and office space, including five soundstages.[6]

- The $45 million Celtic Media Centre, being constructed on a 20-acre lot in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, includes 11,000 square feet of stage space, 6,000 square feet of office space, and 4,000 square feet of post-production space. Raleigh Studios Baton Rouge, housed in the Celtic Media Centre, is also constructing a new studio.[7]

- Construction on Norristown Studios at Logan Square in Norristown, Pennsylvania is expected to be completed in 2009. The 280,000 square-foot production facility will have eight sound stages, post-production facilities, and 180,000 square feet of support space, including a vocational school to be used by local universities.[8]

- Twentieth Century Fox opened a five-story office building on its Century City, California lot in 2006 and the studio is nearing completion on another office building and parking facility.[9]

- Spiderwood Studios, being constructed on 200 acres in Bastrop, Texas, to include facilities for set and prop design and construction, sound stage, production offices, and back lot, was close to finishing the first phase of construction in December 2008.[10]

- Nu Image/Millennium Films broke ground on a new studio in Shreveport, Louisiana in April 2008. The Millennium-Ledbetter Film Studio, which will be built on 6.7 acres and will eventually expand to 20 acres, will accommodate up to six productions and employ up to 500 production personnel.[12]

- Plymouth Rock Studios is building a $488 million, 240-acre film and television studio complex in Plymouth, Massachusetts. The studio complex will include 14 sound stages, a 10-acre back lot, production offices, post-production facilities, a theater, offices, an amenity village, and a 300-room hotel. Plymouth Rock Studios, which is expected to create over 2,000 jobs, will also house M.I.T. Media Laboratory's new Center for Future Storytelling.[13]

- The G-Star School of the Arts for Motion Pictures and Broadcasting in West Palm Beach, Florida, which has a motion picture studio on campus where over 20 feature films have been produced, is building an $8 million sound stage to be completed in Fall 2009.[14]

Albuquerque Studios
By Jeremy Hariton, Albuquerque Studios

The Albuquerque Studios opened on June 1, 2007. At a cost of $91.5 million, the entire facility was privately financed and none of the investment was subject to the rebate incentive offered by the state of New Mexico. The studio includes eight sound stages of 18,000 and 24,000 square feet, which can be paired into spaces that double in size, 95,000 square feet of production office space, and 70,000 square feet of mill space. The overall project consists of over 400,000 square feet on 28.1 acres.

Over the initial 20 months of operation the studio has played host to two television series, In Plain Sight and Breaking Bad as well as four feature films, The Spirit, Game, Terminator Salvation: The Future Begins and The Book of Eli. These productions have created over 2,600 high paying production jobs and over $221.5 million in direct spending in the state. Along with the infrastructure cost The Albuquerque Studios has generated over $313.0 million in its short 20-month existence. The Albuquerque Studios has paid over $7 million in gross receipts tax to the state over its first 20 months of operations and pays an estimated $600,000 in property taxes annually.

- Capital Studios (formerly Sunset Gower) recently completed a $40 million six-story, 96,000 square-foot building to house post-production operations of Technicolor Inc on the 15-acre Sunset Gower Studios lot in Los Angeles, California.[15]

- SHM Partners is pursuing plans to build Kapolei Studios on a 22-acre site on the island of Oahu in Hawaii. The studios will include four 18,000 square-foot sound stages; 60,000 square feet of office, dressing room, set construction and production office space; a student film annex for University of Hawaii's Academy of Creative Media; a commissary/screening room facility; and a backlot with workable sets and retail venues.[16]

- Sony Pictures Entertainment is constructing two four-floor buildings on its Culver City, California lot of 125,000 and 96,000 square feet, to be completed by the summer of 2009.[17]

- Groundbreaking is expected to occur in 2009 for Santa Fe Studios located in Santa Fe, New Mexico. The studio will consist of 10 sound stages on 500,000 square feet.[18]

- In March 2009, Evergreen Films opened a $10 million production and post-production facility in Anchorage, Alaska. They are looking for partners to build a high-end sound stage and studio facility in Anchorage.[19]

- The $125 million Commonwealth Studios, set to break ground in Moorpark, California in April 2009, will offer 14 soundstages on a 37-acre lot, including an exterior backlot featuring city streets plumbed for rain and fire effects.[20]

- The Museum of the Moving Image, dedicated to the art, history, technique, and technology of film, television, and digital media, in Astoria, New York broke ground in February 2008 on a $65 million expansion to the Museum that will double its size and is expected to be completed in late 2009.[21]

- The Jacob Burns Film Center in Pleasantville, New York opened a new 27,000 square-foot Media Arts Lab in December 2008, containing 16 editing suites, five film studios, an animation studio, a recording studio, a sound stage, a library, and a 60-seat screening room.[22]

Building in Michigan

Michigan's aggressive film production attraction efforts are expected to create 5,993 new jobs in Michigan, including 4,066 new film, animation and programming jobs. The new efforts include two major motion picture infrastructure projects, leading to investment of more than $156 million in Detroit and Pontiac. Wonderstruck Studios' $85.9 million venture, to be known as Detroit Center Studios, will produce computer-generated (CG) visual effects and animated content, while Motown Motion Pictures' $70 million venture in Pontiac will be both a film studio and a production services company in a 600,000-square-foot development with nine sound stages.[23] Both projects will result in permanent production-related jobs in Michigan, and are among numerous infrastructure projects in Michigan, like the City Center Studios project in Lansing, Michigan, which will include two 24,000 square-foot sound stages, production offices, and post-production and screening facilities.[24]

The Industry's Eco-Friendly Building Practices

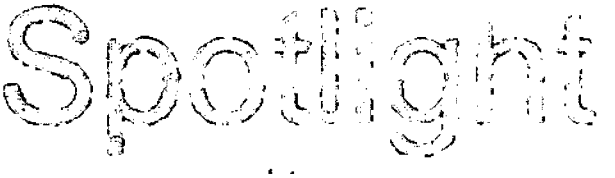
The motion picture and television production industry has developed and adopted best practices for reducing waste and carbon emissions, and encouraging recycling and energy conservation, in all areas of film and television production. For over a decade, the industry has annually diverted more than 50 percent of studio sets and other solid waste from landfills to reuse and recycling. In 2008, the amount diverted was over 20,000 tons, which prevented the emission of nearly 34,000 metric tons of greenhouse gasses - the annual equivalent of removing over 7,000 cars from the road.

The eco-friendly efforts extend beyond recycling movie and TV sets, to the studios' major building projects, where they are constructing new buildings according to Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) guidelines; installing water-conservation measures, and receiving energy from alternative sources such as several major solar energy installations generating major kilowatts of power for the facilities.

The Dark Knight in Chicago

The Dark Knight, which was filmed in Chicago during the summer of 2007, spent over $35 million in the local economy. The 65-day shoot directly employed 900 crew members, 88 actors and 7,500 man/days of extras, who were paid $18 million in wages. It also generated $17 million in payments to 793 local vendors, including more than $3 million in spending on hotels, $1 million on catering, $1 million on office rental and equipment, and $980,000 on lumber and other set materials.

Although there were many film-industry specific vendors, like lighting equipment or film processing, the vast majority of local Chicago vendors that provided service for The Dark Knight production were from outside the industry, illustrating the widespread effect. NAPCO Steel provided more than 60 tons of steel for sets and special effects stunts – including building a steel cylinder that was embedded in the street that popped out and flipped over a semi tractor-trailer. Service Glass removed existing glass walls and doors in both the IBM Building and Illinois Plaza and replaced them with breakaway glass for stunt sequences. Gatwood Crane provided the industrial-sized cranes for a key scene. North Suburban Asphalt completed road work for the production and a local lumber supplier provided much of the production's needs for set construction. These are a few examples of the vital service provided by local Chicago vendors, and the far-reaching effects of one two-month film shoot.



Promoting Tourism

An increasing amount of film and television production is taking place throughout the United States, leading to a positive impact on tourism as fans are eager to visit locations featured in movies and television shows. Filming locations are highlighted in DVD Special Features and online sites with behind-the-scenes information, making it easier for film fans to identify destinations that they want to visit. A study published in the Journal of Travel Research analyzed the effects of film tourism on a variety of different locations throughout the United States, and found that a location featured in a successful film can see an increase of up to 75 percent in tourism the year after the film is released.[25]

The effect from individual films can vary and research has shown that collaborative campaigns between the tourism and film industries are the most powerful way to induce film tourism.[26] Tourism organizations can use films as springboards for marketing campaigns in order to promote their city or attraction. The Santa Barbara Conference and Visitors Bureau effectively promoted Santa Barbara wine country by offering visitors a detailed map of locations from the film Sideways. As a result, certain Santa Barbara County wineries saw a 300-percent increase in visitors a year after the film was released.[27]

Companies are also offering professional tours of film locations in cities like Boston, Washington D.C. and New York City so visitors can visit the sites where scenes from movies like Good Will Hunting, Wedding Crashers, and The Sopranos were filmed.[28] According to On Location Tours, Inc., the largest such TV and movie locations tour company, the Sex and the City tour in New York City was already drawing 1,200 visitors per week even prior to the release of the film in 2008.

Certain destinations can see increases in tourism long after the film is released. Twenty years after the release of Field of Dreams, the town of Dyersville, Iowa still gets 65,000 tourists a year to visit the cornfield in the film.[29] The town of Preston, Idaho, featured in Napoleon Dynamite, hosts an annual Napoleon Dynamite Festival for tourists visiting because of the film.[30] A survey completed by the New Mexico Tourism Department indicates that film-related tourism accounted for an estimated 5.5 percent of total New Mexico tourism expenditures in 2008, due to visitors' interest in seeing where movies like No Country for Old Men and 3:10 to Yuma were filmed, even though those films did not specifically identify New Mexico locations.[31] Certain locations in Alaska saw a 100-percent increase in tourism as a result of the film Into the Wild.[32]

Sex and the City and New York City

The television show Sex and the City, based on the novel by Candace Bushnell, was on location in and around Manhattan for six seasons from 1998 to 2004. In the last few months of 2007, a feature film based on Sex and the City went on to film in New York City. Both the show, which aired on television and was released on DVD all over the world, and the film, which opened in theaters around the world during 2008 and was recently released on DVD, were unparalleled advertising for the city of New York and its attractions. Locations featured in the show, such as hotels, shops, bakeries and restaurants, see traffic from fans and have made special movie-related packages, as have local tour companies.[33] NYC & Company - New York City's official tourism marketing organization - used the film as a cost-free way to promote the city, highlighting the film and its locations on its website, and launching international promotions to amplify the impact of the film. George Fertitta, CEO of NYC & Company, says, "Sex and the City has been one of the all-time great commercials for the city of New York. There's all of the fabric and the texture and the vibrancy of New York. ... It shows everything: from a great shopping component to a nightlife component, to a restaurant component."[34]

Nights in Rodanthe and the Outer Banks of North Carolina

By Carolyn McCormick
Managing Director, Outer Banks Visitors Bureau

The motion picture Nights in Rodanthe, based on the bestselling novel by author Nicholas Sparks, was shot on location in the Hatteras Island village of Rodanthe, in the Outer Banks of North Carolina. Pictured here is the real oceanfront cottage that is portrayed as the fictional Inn at Rodanthe. The filming of Nights in Rodanthe employed 160 local crew member and 248 local talent and extras, and generated in-state production spending of over $10 million, with $3 million on Hatteras Island and the village of Rodanthe.

But the movie's impact goes far beyond filming. With its release in theaters, on video and on television, the world gets to see the beauty of the Outer Banks on an epic scale. The Outer Banks Visitors Bureau is promoting tourism based on movie scenes and nearby locations through a special Nights in Rodanthe tour, and ads featuring a specific location and a caption referring to its presence in the motion picture. Since the movie's release in theaters and the publicity around the movie, traffic to Hatteras Island and inquiries to visit the locations of the movie have increased by 20 percent. The Visitors Bureau's movie-related websites have received tens of thousands of new visitors. We anticipate visitors from around the world in 2009 and have already seen many taking the trip this last fall of 2008.

The economic climate has made the competition for the tourism dollar even more challenging. Having a major motion picture filmed on location has enabled the Outer Banks and the people of the Outer Banks to be introduced to the world. As the COO of the public authority responsible for the core of our economy, which is tourism, this opportunity to have Hollywood spend time here and feature our destinations could not have come at a better time. The experience and challenges that we all faced during filming will forever be a highlight of my 22-year career. And for that I thank the world of motion pictures.

Marley & Me in Florida and Pennsylvania

The film Marley & Me, based on the memoir of the same name by John Grogan, was filmed on location in two states: Florida, where John and his wife began married life; and in Pennsylvania, where the Grogan family later resided, and where they live to this day. These settings are critical to Grogan's book and to the film.[35] The production spent 113 days on location in Florida, injecting $10.1 million into the local economy, including $1.1 million at seven different hotels including The Mutiny Hotel and The Sonesta Hotel & Suites and $5.1 million in wages to 2,020 local personnel hires. Local vendors included C.F.R. Coastal Enterprises, which provided soundproofing for the set, and Foliage Express, Inc. and Shell Lumber & Hardware, which provided set construction materials. In Pennsylvania, $2.2 million was spent over 36 days in production, and 480 people were hired locally. Two local residents making an appearance in the film were the Grogans themselves, who appeared in the film as participants in the obedience school sequence.

In addition to the 2,500 additional cast, extras, crew, security, off-duty government personnel, and office personnel hired locally by the production, the film features 22 even more remarkable employees – the 22 dogs used to portray Marley, who ages thirteen years in the story. Since films shoot scenes out of sequence, eleven Marley puppies were needed, while the other eleven Marleys ranged in age from six months to fourteen years. The complexity of coordinating these 22 employees and their on-screen appearances kept the animal trainers and handlers extremely busy. They spent weeks training the dogs, acclimating to the shooting locations, and polishing their "skills," all of which was observed by American Humane animal safety representatives, who noted that the best part of the experience was seeing some of the shelter dogs used in the film adopted following production.[36] One of the Marleys was adopted by the author[37], but the Marley puppy who seemingly took his "training" most to heart belongs to a woman in West Kendall, Florida, who has her hands extremely full with a Marley just like the original.[38] The film may have a positive effect on the dog training industry – the Association of Pet Dog Trainers used the film as an opportunity to promote effective dog training and qualified trainers around the country.[39]

Online Production and Distribution

Most people are familiar with watching trailers, finding movie tickets and buying DVDs online, but the Internet is an even more exciting space for distributing motion picture and television, on-demand, wherever and whenever the viewer wants it. Motion picture and television producers are providing full-length television shows and films at countless websites – over 50 in the U.S. alone – for people to view, to rent, or download to own. The sites are not only from telecom and online players like Apple, but television networks like ABC, pay television operators like HBO, social networking sites like MySpace, retailers and rentailers like Amazon and Netflix, gaming systems like PlayStation and Xbox and new ventures devoted entirely to this space like Hulu and TV.com.

Such websites are growing in popularity. More than 75 percent of people online view videos. A few examples of popular sites for films and TV shows are:

In the first year of the broadband player launched on ABC.com (September 2006-2007), users watched over 140 million episodes of ABC primetime series.[40] As of January 2009, that number is now over 500 million episodes.[41]

Apple - iTunes
As of October 2008, the iTunes store has sold over 200 million television episodes since inception three years earlier, including more than 1 million high definition episodes in the one-month since launch.[42] iTunes customers are also renting and purchasing over 50,000 movies online every day.[43]

Hulu
Hulu, which just launched to the public in March 2008, was the 6th ranked website in the U.S. in videos viewed by December, with 241 million videos viewed, and 25 million unique viewers[44] and reached the number two position by February 2009.[45]

Nickelodeon – Nick.com
Nick.com delivered 69 million streams and 2.5 million unique video viewers in February 2009. Users viewed an average of 39 minutes of videos on the site.[46]

Xbox & Netflix
Xbox movie and television sales online increased 174% between December 2008 and January 2009, compared to December-January of last year.[47]
Xbox Live users watched 25 million hours of movies and TV shows from Netflix on their Xbox in the three months following launch in November 2008.[48]

Marketing and distributing movies and television shows online not only meets consumer demand, but creates new jobs and demand for technology innovation in the areas of engineering, software development, web design, advertising and marketing, legal and more. It even creates new opportunities for professional production specifically for the Internet, such as "webisodes" produced by major networks from their shows, or new content provided by online-only production companies.

Pioneering technological advancement in storytelling and distribution

The American motion picture and television industry is a world leader in developing and deploying new technologies, providing highly-sought after jobs at the cutting-edge intersection of entertainment and technology. Whether it is pioneering and expanding the field of computer animation and computer-generated imagery (CGI) for film, pursuing advanced 3-D display, or utilizing the highest quality audio technology, the industry has continued to further the use of technology used in film and technology production at every stage. Beyond production, the industry is aggressively involved in the development of new technologies to provide enhanced filmed entertainment to consumers in theaters, at home and on the go. The efforts of many hard-working and inventive people mean that consumers can now enjoy digital and 3-D cinema in theaters and highest quality entertainment formats in the home (Blu-Ray, high definition televisions, network connected set-top boxes and personal video recorders), while also having countless options for watching content on the go (websites offering streaming, rental and downloaded entertainment, SD cards with movies, mobile phones that can receive broadcast or streaming content, etc). The motion picture industry's engineers and other employees are also collaborating with other industries to enable "buy once, play anywhere" downloading, provide consumers with digital copies of films with their packaged discs, enable rich digital and online features on Blu-Ray discs, and permit DVD-burning of legally downloaded content, while still protecting the investment of the creator.

The industry's demand for new methods of storytelling, advanced special effects, and improved sound and visual quality, has resulted in innovations that not only enrich the viewing experience, but advance the progress of science and the public good. Examples of such innovations have come in areas such as:

- Building design and operation that reduce lifetime energy and resource consumption;
- Research and development of environmentally friendly fireworks;
- Facial recognition and biometric scanning;
- Crash barriers to secure facilities from unauthorized vehicle intrusions;
- Fasteners useful in high stress mechanical structures such as planes, bridges as well as roller coasters;
- Passenger restraint systems;
- Train car coupling systems;
- Improvements in wheelchair accessibility; and
- Handheld information devices to improve communication in multiple languages.

The Creators Behind Visual Effects

The inventive filmmaking of the American motion picture industry is made possible through the development of innovative technology and the creation of jobs on the cutting edge of visual effects. These jobs already number over 10,000, and are expected to grow over 25% in the next five to seven years.[49]

Highly skilled artists combine their efforts with computer engineers to produce photorealistic characters and imagery in the field of computer-generated animation. Pixar, which unveiled groundbreaking computer-generated (CG) animation technology in November 1995 with the release of Toy Story, integrated CG animation with live action for their first time on WALL-E in order to produce a new look and feel.[50] The visual effects team at Blue Sky Studios must often write custom software tools in order to create the desired animated effect, such as exploding lava geysers or falling snow in the Ice Age films.[51] In order to create the elaborate martial arts scenes in Kung Fu Panda, DreamWorks' team of artists and technical leaders used the largest number of moving cameras in a DreamWorks Animation picture to date.[52]

Visual effects employees must constantly adapt existing technology to meet increasingly more complex and sophisticated filmmaking demands. When production started on the film Spider-Man 3, computer programs were not available that could achieve the effects needed. Sony Pictures Imageworks artists and engineers wrote code in order to manipulate millions of grains of sand as they formed a character made entirely of sand, resulting in one of the most visually complex characters in film history.[53]

Similarly, technology did not exist that could make a faithful visual depiction of a character who is born old and ages in reverse, as in the film The Curious Case of Benjamin Button. Special effects company Digital Domain solved this problem by combining motion picture capture technology, high definition cameras and image analysis in new and unique ways in order to realistically portray this reverse life journey and overcome yet another storytelling challenge previously thought unconquerable.[54]

These technological challenges are met by teams of hard-working individuals. To give you an idea of the scope, the creative team working on the 3D animated film adaptation of the book, Cloudy with a Chance of Meatballs, numbers 250 people. One full week's work by this team turns out two and a half minutes of footage.[55]

Angels & Demons in Los Angeles

The movie Angels & Demons, based on the bestselling novel by Dan Brown, was filmed extensively in Los Angeles, both on studio sets carefully constructed to recreate Vatican City locations, as well as local venues like UCLA's Royce Hall. During its more than two years of production starting in December 2006, Angels & Demons employed over 1,400 U.S. workers, including over 1,000 union technicians like the 272 construction workers who did extensive set building; 73 actors; and 9,066 man-days of extras. Filming in Los Angeles took place during 103 days, including 87 days on the various stages constructed, as well as 26 days of post production.

Angels & Demons relied on small businesses and vendors to help create the settings and effects. Sprung Instant Structures provided massive tent structures used to reproduce famous Italian sculptures to scale. Wallpaper vendors carefully matched the walls of Vatican and church locations. And a team of over 450 visual effects illustrators and technicians worked on the multi-million dollar recreation of St. Peter's and other Italian landmarks for the big screen.

A project of this size, scope and duration requires the tremendous efforts from numerous people and businesses, and its economic impact is felt far and wide.

Spotlight

Methodology

The creative output of the American motion picture and television industry is widely recognized around the world, yet its contribution to the nation's economy is less well known. This purpose of this report is to shed light on the industry as a significant job creator and economic engine. The report is prepared by the Motion Picture Association of America (MPAA) using data from a number of sources, including studios, networks, key government agencies such as the Bureau of Labor Statistics and International Trade Administration, and various other proprietary and publicly-available data. Where 2008 data was available, it was used; however, at the time of printing 2008 data was not available for many of the sources.

All attempts have been made to calculate the full impact of the industry. However, we have been intentionally conservative with the appropriate Bureau of Economic Analysis' Regional Input-Output Multiplier (RIMS II) to calculate indirect jobs, and have not calculated further downstream dollar impact or "induced" effects from spending resulting from those jobs. Thus, the total economic impact is even greater, and more far-reaching, than revealed in this report.

Studios and Networks

Participants in a periodic survey supply employment, payroll, vendor expenditure and tax information covering all motion picture and television production functions to enable the Association to build a comprehensive picture of the size, scope, and impact of the industry.

The core survey data covered the following studios and networks: ABC, Dreamworks, Fox, NBC Universal, Paramount Pictures, Sony Pictures Entertainment, 20th Century Fox Film Corp. The Walt Disney Company, and Warner Bros., along with their subsidiaries and affiliates.

Bureau of Labor Statistics

The Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) provides additional information on employment in the industry. The BLS no longer publishes key employment data based on the U.S. Standard Industry Classification (SIC) codes. Since the SIC category 7819 of "Allied Services to the Motion Picture Production" was reallocated under the North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) into a number of different industry classifications, correspondence tables (census bridges) were used in an effort to capture more accurate employment figures. The same correspondence tables were used as in earlier reports. Note that according to Economic Research Associates, BLS captures the 85-95% of U.S. employees that are eligible for unemployment insurance.

HOUSE BILL 203:
Increase Small Estate Amount

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 17, 2009
Introduced by:	Reps. Randleman, Hurley, Spear, Faison	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	Third Edition

SUMMARY: The Proposed Committee Substitute for House Bill 203 would increase the cap on the size of estates that may be administered under the Small Estates provisions of the General Statutes (Article 25 of Chapter 28A). The total value of an estate that could be administered under this Article would increase from $10,000 to $20,000, and surviving spouses would be eligible to collect property valued between $20,000 and $30,000 (was $10,000 to $20,000).

CURRENT LAW: Article 25 (Small Estates) of Chapter 28A of the General Statutes (Administration of Decedents' Estates) sets forth provisions governing the administration of small estates for persons dying testate or intestate. Current law establishes a cap of $10,000 on the size of a small estate and allows surviving spouses to collect from estates valued between $10,000 and $20,000. The $10,000 amount has been in place since 1983. In 1995, the General Assembly established the $20,000 threshold for situations in which the sole heir is the surviving spouse.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 203 would amend G.S. 28A-25-1 to raise the value of estates of persons dying intestate that may be administered under the Small Estate provisions of the General Statutes by $10,000. Under the proposed provisions, small estates would include those valued up to $20,000 and surviving spouses would be allowed to collect estates valued between $20,000 and $30,000.

House Bill 203 would also amend G.S. 28A-25-1.1 to make identical changes to the Small Estate provisions applying to persons dying testate.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act would become effective October 1, 2009 and would apply to estates of persons dying on or after that date.

Ben Popkin, counsel to House Judiciary III, substantially contributed to this summary.

EFFECTIVE DATE: October 1, 2009

BILL SUMMARY: House Bill 203 would amend G.S. 28A-25-1 to raise the value of estates of persons dying intestate that may be administered under the Small Estate provisions of the General Statutes by $10,000. Under the proposed provisions, small estates would include those valued up to $20,000. The bills also increase the size of estates that surviving spouses would be entitled to collect from $20,000 to $30,000. House Bill 203 would also amend G.S. 28A-25-1.1 to make identical changes to the Small Estate provisions applying to persons dying testate.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:
House Bill 203 increases the value of estates that may qualify as a small estate from $10,000 to $20,000 and allows surviving spouses to collect estates valued up to $30,000. This increases the number of estates that may qualify under the small estate provisions and expedites the collection of properties and debts after the death of the decedent by enabling a greater number of estate executors to file affidavits to collect the property and debts of an estate. This bill will not impact the amount of estate tax collected and therefore has a negligible fiscal impact.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE TOWN OF FUQUAY-VARINA TO USE THE PROCEDURE AND AUTHORITY OF CHAPTER 136 OF THE GENERAL STATUTES IN CONDEMNATION PROCEEDINGS CONCERNING PUBLIC STREETS AND ROADS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 40A-1, in the exercise of its authority of eminent domain for the acquisition of property interests (including, without limitation, fee simple title, rights-of-way, and easements) to be used for waterlines and treatment facilities, and sewer lines and treatment facilities, and opening, widening, extending, or improving public streets and roads, a town may use the authority and procedure prescribed in Article 9 of Chapter 136 of the General Statutes of North Carolina, as now or hereafter amended; provided further, that whenever the words 'Secretary' or 'Secretary of Transportation' appear, they shall be deemed to be 'Town Manager,' and whenever the word 'highway' appears, it is deemed to include 'public works' in accordance with this section, providing further that nothing herein shall be construed to enlarge the power of the town to condemn property already committed to public use; provided further, just compensation for the acquisition of fee simple title or a perpetual easement pursuant to this section to be used for street or road right-of-way shall be no less than (i) one dollar ($1.00) per square foot of real property taken or (ii) the prorated ad valorem tax value of the parent tract, whichever is less. The powers granted by this act are in addition to and supplementary to those powers granted by any local or general law.

SECTION 2. This act applies to the Town of Fuquay-Varina only.

SECTION 3. This act is effective when it becomes law.

HOUSE BILL 384:
Fuquay-Varina Quick Take

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 17, 2009
Introduced by:	Rep. Stam	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	First Edition

SUMMARY: House Bill 384 would authorize the Town of Fuquay-Varina to use the condemnation procedures of Article 9 of Chapter 136 when taking property for water lines and treatment facilities, sewer lines and treatment facilities, or for opening, widening, extending or improving public streets and roads. Where property is taken for street or road right-of-way, the bill also would require that the owner be paid no less than either $1.00 per square foot of property taken or the prorated ad valorem tax value of the parent tract, whichever is less.

CURRENT LAW: Chapter 40A sets forth the procedure that must be followed when a municipality such as the Town of Fuquay-Varina, takes private property for a public purpose. When the Department of Transportation exercises it power of eminent domain, it does so according to the provisions of Article 9 of Chapter 136 of the General Statutes. The differences between the two procedures are:

- Under Chapter 40A, the condemnor must give the owner of the property to be acquired 30 days notice of its intent to institute an action to condemn the property.[1] Under Article 9 of Chapter 136, the condemnor does not have to give this 30 day notice.
- Under Chapter 40A, just compensation, where there is a partial taking of a tract, is the greater of either (i) the amount by which the fair market value of the entire tract immediately before the taking exceeds the fair market value of the remainder immediately after the taking or (ii) the fair market value of the property taken. Under Article 9 of Chapter 136, consideration is also given to any benefit created by the proposed improvement or project for which the property is taken.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 384 would allow the Town of Fuquay-Varina to use the condemnation procedures under Article 9 of Chapter 136 when the property is being taken for the specified water, sewer, and streets and roads projects. Under the procedures authorized by the bill, the Town would not be required to give the owner 30 days advance notice before it commences a condemnation proceeding, as now required under Chapter 40A. In addition, when the Town acquires property for street or road right-of-way, the bill would require that the owner be compensated in an amount not less than either $1.00 per square foot of property taken, or the prorated ad valorem tax value of the parent tract, whichever is less.

Other local governments have been authorized to use the "quick take" procedures set forth in Article 9 of Chapter 136,[2] and in at least two instances, the General Assembly has placed minimum limits on the amount of compensation to be paid when property is taken for street or road right-of-way.[3]

EFFECTIVE DATE: This bill would become effective when it becomes law.

Bill Patterson, and Judy Collier substantially contributed to this summary.

H384-SMTD-90(e1) v2

[1] For purposes of road construction and improvement, the title to the property and the right to immediate possession vests automatically with the city subject to the filing of the condemnation complaint and deposit of the estimated just compensation. Chapter 40A and Article 9 of Chapter 136 do not differ in this point.

The proceeds of the tax up to fifteen dollars ($15.00) may be used for any lawful purpose. The proceeds of these taxes derived from any levy above fifteen dollars ($15.00) and up to ~~twenty dollars ($20.00)~~ twenty-five dollars ($25.00) shall be used exclusively for transportation-related purposes, including sidewalks."

SECTION 2. This act is effective when it becomes law.

HOUSE BILL 394:
Raleigh Motor Vehicles

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 16, 2009
Introduced by:	Reps. Ross, Weiss	Prepared by:	Judy Collier
Analysis of:	Second Edition		Research Assistant

SUMMARY: House Bill 394 increases the amount of general municipal vehicle tax the City of Raleigh may impose from $20 to $25. The proceeds of the additional tax may be used only for transportation-related purposes, including sidewalks.

CURRENT LAW: The City of Raleigh is authorized to levy a general motor vehicle tax of not more than $20. The first $15 may be used for any lawful purpose. Any amount above $15 and up to $20 must be used for transportation-related purposes, including sidewalks.

Under general law, counties may not impose a license or privilege tax on motor vehicles[1] and municipalities are limited in the taxes they may impose on motor vehicles to the taxes listed below:

- General Municipal Vehicle Tax. – A tax not to exceed $5 a year on a motor vehicle resident in the municipality. The revenue generated by this tax may be used for any lawful purpose. By local acts, the amount of the tax has been increased for several cities and towns. The cities of Durham, Henderson, and Oxford and the towns of Ahoskie, Cary, Creedmoor, and Hillsborough may levy a tax of up to $10. The cities of Gastonia and Kinston and the towns of Apex, Garner, Holly Springs, Knightdale, Morrisville, and Rolesville may levy a tax up to $15. The cities of Charlotte, Greenville, Raleigh, and Winston-Salem; the towns of Cornelius, Davidson, Huntersville, Matthews, Mint Hill, Murfreesboro, and Pineville; and the municipalities located wholly or partially in Cabarrus County may levy a tax up to $20. The towns of Carrboro and Chapel Hill may levy a tax of up to $25. The town of Matthews may levy a tax up to $30. This vehicle tax is shown on the bill for vehicle taxes sent by the county.
- Local Public Transportation. – A tax not to exceed $5 a year on a motor vehicle resident in the municipality. Only municipalities that operate a public transportation system may impose this tax and the proceeds from the tax may be used only for local public transportation systems.[2]
- Tax on Taxicabs. – A tax not to exceed $15 a year on each vehicle operated in the municipality as a taxicab. The proceeds of this tax may be used for any lawful purpose.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 394 would authorize the City of Raleigh to increase its motor vehicle tax from $20 to $25. The proceeds of the additional taxes must be used exclusively for transportation-related purposes, including sidewalks.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: Attached is a chart showing local modifications to motor vehicle taxes.

[1] By local acts modifying G.S. 20-97, Alleghany, Caswell, and Pamlico Counties may impose an annual motor vehicle tax. The amounts vary from $5 to $15.

[2] This tax may not be imposed by the city of Durham or by any cities and towns in Gaston County.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Effective when bill becomes law

BILL SUMMARY:
House Bill 394 enables The City of Raleigh to increase its vehicle tax from $20 to $25. As under existing law, the bill requires that the proceeds of any levy above $15 shall be used exclusively for transportation-related purposes.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:
In order to calculate the impact of House Bill 394, it is necessary to know how many resident vehicles there are in the City of Raleigh. This will be the number of vehicles on which a tax may be levied. According to the Department of Transportation Driver and Vehicle Services, there are currently 313,671 resident vehicles in Raleigh. Assuming that Raleigh chooses to increase its motor vehicle tax to the maximum amount, multiplying the number of vehicles by the $5 increase in the tax results in a $1.57 million increase in revenues for FY 2009-2010. Assuming that the number of resident vehicles stays roughly the same over time, $1.57 million will also be the increase in revenues for the following four fiscal years.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO REENACT THE SALES TAX REFUND FOR CERTAIN VOLUNTEER EMERGENCY RESPONSE PERSONNEL.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 105-164.14(b) is amended by adding a new subdivision to read:

"(b) Nonprofit Entities and Hospital Drugs. – A nonprofit entity included in the following list is allowed a semiannual refund of sales and use taxes paid by it under this Article on direct purchases of tangible personal property and services, other than electricity, telecommunications service, and ancillary service, for use in carrying on the work of the nonprofit entity:

...

(2a) An organization that is exempt from income tax under the Code and is one of the following:

a. A volunteer fire department.

b. A volunteer emergency medical services squad."

SECTION 2. This act is effective July 1, 2008, and applies to purchases made on or after that date.

HOUSE BILL 511:
EMS/Fire Dept. Sales Tax Refund

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 15, 2009
Introduced by:	Reps. Williams, Goforth, Lucas, E. Warren	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	First Edition

SUMMARY: House Bill 511 would allow semi-annual refunds of sales and use taxes paid by a volunteer fire department or an emergency medical services (EMS) squad that is exempt from income tax under the Internal Revenue Code. This act would be effective retroactively to July 1, 2008, and apply to purchases made on or after that date.

[HB 511 is identical to SB 980, as introduced by Sen. Jenkins, which is currently in Senate Finance.]

CURRENT LAW: During the 2008 Session, the General Assembly clarified the types of nonprofits that may receive a semiannual refund of State and local sales and use taxes paid by the nonprofit on direct purchases of tangible personal property and services[1] for use in carrying on the work of the nonprofit entity. Prior to the clarification, the Department of Revenue had to determine whether an entity requesting a refund was a 'charitable institution.' To make its determination, the Department relied upon past determinations and court decisions. In May 2008, the North Carolina Court of Appeals appeared to expand what could be considered a 'charitable institution'.[2] The intent of the 2008 legislation was to neither expand nor limit the prior law's application but to clarify it.

The clarification provided a bright line test that used as its starting point nonprofits exempt from income tax under section 501(c)(3) of the Code. The clarification became effective July 1, 2008. After the passage of the legislation, some volunteer fire departments learned they no longer qualified for the sales and use tax refund because they were not organized as a section 501(c)(3) organization. Many of the volunteer fire departments organized prior to the mid-1970s organized as a section 501(c)(4) organization[3] because that is how, at the time, the IRS recommended they organized.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 511 would allow a volunteer fire department and a volunteer EMS squad that is exempt from income tax under the Code a sales and use tax refund, regardless of how the nonprofit is organized. A request for a refund for the first six months of a calendar year is due the following October 15; a request for a refund for the second six months of a calendar year is due the following April 15. However, under G.S. 105-164.14(d), a refund is not barred unless it is applied for more than three years after its due date.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act is effective July 1, 2008, and applies to purchases made on or after that date. The retroactive effective date refers back to the date the clarification in the 2008 legislation became effective. The change made by this bill effectively reinstates the semiannual sales and use tax refund for volunteer fire departments and voluntary EMS squads.

Martha Walston, counsel to House finance, substantially contributed to this summary.

[1] The refund does not apply direct purchases of electricity, telecommunications service, and ancillary service.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Effective for purchases made on or after July 1, 2008.

BILL SUMMARY: HB 511 amends GS 105-164.14(b) adding (1) volunteer fire departments and (2) volunteer emergency medical services squads, which are also exempt from income tax under the Internal Revenue Code, to the list of nonprofit entities allowed a semiannual refund of sales and use taxes on direct purchases of tangible personal property and services, other than electricity, telecommunications service, and ancillary service, for use in carrying on the work of the nonprofit entity. Effective for purchases made on or after July 1, 2008.

Under current law, GS 105-164.14(b), non-profit hospitals, certain qualified retirement facilities, and certain 501 c (3) organizations receive a semi-annual refund of sales and use taxes. The refund applies to direct purchases of tangible personal property and services used in carrying on the work of the nonprofit entity. The indirect purchases of materials used in carrying on the work of the nonprofit such as, building materials, supplies, fixtures, and equipment that become a part of a building or structure are also considered purchases eligible for the sales and use tax refund.

Refund requests must be in writing and requests for purchases made in the first six months of a calendar year are due by the following October 15th; requests for purchases made in the second six months of a calendar year are due the following April 15th.

By extending the nonprofit sales and use tax refund to (1) volunteer fire departments and (2) volunteer emergency medical services squads, HB 511 expands the definition of organizations eligible for state and local sales and use tax refunds to certain 501c (4)s as defined by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: Based on the methodology described below, Fiscal Research expects that HB 511 will reduce General Fund availability by $2.4 million in FY 09-10 and $2.5 million in FY 10-11. Expanding the sales and use tax refund will also lower county and municipal sales and use tax revenue by $1.0 million in FY 09-10 and FY 10-11. This amount represents the refund that volunteer fire departments and emergency medical services squads will receive on non-salary, -facility, or -utility related operating expenditures.

Operating expenditures represent 48% of a 501 c (4)'s annual expenses according to 2004 Statistics of Income data from the IRS. Tax information on North Carolina's emergency and disaster preparedness 501 c (4)s suggests that these organizations will expend $107 million annually, during the 2008-09 and 2009-10 fiscal years, $51 million of which will be subject to sales tax. Under HB 511, these organizations will be eligible for refunds of approximately $3.4 million in state and local taxes each fiscal year.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

HICKORY OCCUPANCY TAX

SECTION 1.(a) Occupancy tax. – Authorization and Scope. – The City of Hickory may, by joint resolution with the City of Conover, levy a room occupancy and tourism development tax of not less than three percent (3%) nor more than five percent (5%) of the gross receipts derived from the rental of any room, lodging, or accommodation furnished by a hotel, motel, inn, tourist camp, or similar place within the city that is subject to sales tax imposed by the State under G.S. 105-164.4(a)(3). A repeal of a tax levied under this section must be made by joint resolution with the City of Conover.

SECTION 1.(d) Distribution and Use of Tax Revenue. – The City of Hickory shall, on a quarterly basis, remit the net proceeds of the occupancy tax to the Hickory-Conover Tourism Development Authority. The funds remitted under this subsection must be used as follows:

HOUSE BILL 533:
Modify Hickory and Conover Occupancy Tax

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 17, 2009
Introduced by:	Reps. R. Warren, Setzer	Prepared by:	Trina Griffin Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to Third Edition H533-CSSVx-39

SUMMARY: House Bill 533 would authorize the cities of Hickory and Conover to levy an additional 1% room occupancy tax. Through 2019, the distribution of the proceeds from the additional 1% and the existing 5% would be reversed from the formula under the guidelines. Two-thirds would be permitted to be used for convention center expenditures, including parking facilities, and the remainder would be used tourism promotion. After 2019, the distribution would revert to the standard formula under the guidelines. The bill does, however, conform the existing legislation to the uniform administrative provisions related to the levy, collection, administration, repeal, and applicable penalties for occupancy tax.

This bill was given a favorable report by the Occupancy Tax Subcommittee of the House Finance Committee. The PCS makes technical drafting changes only.

CURRENT LAW: In 1986, the General Assembly authorized the Cities of Hickory and Conover to levy a room occupancy tax of not less than 3% and not more than 5%, with 100% of the proceeds to be remitted to the Hickory-Conover Tourism Development Authority ("TDA"), for its use in funding tourism-related projects, events, and activities, with priority to be given to providing a civic center facility. Both the Cities of Hickory and Conover are currently levying a 5% room occupancy tax. The TDA is currently obligated through the City of Hickory for annual payments of approximately $800,000 per year for outstanding debt on the convention center.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 533 repeals the existing occupancy tax legislation for Hickory and Conover and creates revised authority that is clearer and conforms to the uniform administrative provisions. The provisions for Hickory and Conover are identical.

The bill also authorizes each city to levy an additional 1% room occupancy tax, for a total rate of up to 6%, with net proceeds remitted to the TDA. Through December 31, 2019, the TDA would be able to use up to two-thirds of the remitted funds for the convention center facility, including parking facilities, with the remainder being used to promote travel and tourism. The Town is seeking the additional 1% to be able to construct a parking deck adjacent to the convention center.

After December 31, 2019, the distribution of the tax proceeds would return to the standard formula set out in the guidelines: at least two-thirds for promote travel and tourism and the remainder for tourism-related expenditures.

The bill does not make any changes to the composition of the TDA. Under current law, the Hickory-Conover is a nine-member board consisting of three owners or operators of taxable accommodations, three members who have a demonstrated interest in convention and tourism development who are not hotel owners, and three ex officio members.

The bill also requires that any debt service entered into to finance improvements to the convention center, including parking facilities, mature on or before December 31, 2019, to coincide with the return of the distribution of proceeds to the required formula under the guidelines.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This bill would become effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: Since 1983, the General Assembly has authorized many local government units to levy a room occupancy tax, with wide variation in the rate of tax, administration of the tax, use of the tax proceeds, and the body responsible for deciding how the tax proceeds will be spent. The North Carolina Travel and Tourism Coalition has issued a policy statement for legislation authorizing local occupancy taxes, which contains many principles similar to those established by the House Finance Subcommittee on Occupancy Taxes in 1993. In 1997, the General Assembly enacted uniform municipal and county administrative provisions for occupancy tax legislation – G.S. 153A-155 (counties) and G.S. 160A-215 (municipalities) – to provide uniformity in the areas of levy, administration, collection, repeal, and penalties.

Bill Patterson, counsel to House Local Government II, substantially contributed to this summary.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

BILL SUMMARY:

House Bill 533 revises and consolidates SL 1985-929, as amended, to authorize the cities of Hickory and Conover, by joint resolution, to levy a room occupancy and tourism development tax between 3% and 5%. The cities may also, by joint resolution, levy an additional 1% room occupancy tax. It provides that the tax must be levied, administered, collected, and repealed as provided in GS 160A-215 (Uniform provisions for room occupancy taxes).

The bill requires the Hickory-Conover Tourism Development Authority (TDA) to (1) prior to and through December 31, 2019, use two-thirds of the occupancy tax proceeds for improving, leasing, constructing, financing, operating, or acquiring facilities and properties as needed to provide for a convention center facility, including parking facilities, and the remainder used to promote travel and tourism and (2) after December 31, 2019, use at least two-thirds of the proceeds to promote travel and tourism and the remainder for tourism-related expenditures. It mandates that the TDA membership consists of (1) three owners or operators of hotels, motels, or other taxable accommodations in the cities of Hickory and Conover, two of whom are to be appointed by the Hickory City Council and one appointed by the Conover City Council; (2) three individuals who have demonstrated an interest in convention and tourism development and do not own or operate taxable accommodations, one appointed by the Catawba County Chamber of Commerce, one appointed by the Hickory City Council, and one by the Conover City Council; and (3) the three following ex officio members: the city managers of Hickory and Conover and the Executive Vice President of the Catawba County Chamber of Commerce. Either city may create the TDA, by resolution, when adopting its resolution to levy its occupancy tax, unless the other city has already established it.

House Bill 533 makes a conforming change to GS 160A-215(g). It repeals (1) SL 1985-929 (multicity occupancy tax) as it relates to the cities of Hickory and Conover only, (2) SL 1987-319 (modifying the Hickory-Conover occupancy tax law), and (3) Section 21(j) of SL 2007-527 (amending SL 1985-929). And the bill specifies that all existing resolutions of the cities of Hickory and Conover adopted that are not inconsistent with the provisions of this act will continue in full force and effect until repealed, modified, or amended.

It requires that the net proceeds of the occupancy tax remitted to the Hickory-Conover Tourism Development Authority (TDA) by the cities of Hickory and Conover must be used as specified in the act. The bill requires that debt secured by occupancy tax proceeds that is entered into for the purpose of providing for the convention center facility, including the construction of parking facilities, must mature on or before December 31, 2019

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

The cities of Hickory and Conover currently have a maximum room occupancy tax rate of 5%. House Bill 533 would authorize the cities, by joint resolution, to levy an additional 1% tax, for a combined 6% local room occupancy tax.

According to the North Carolina Department of the State Treasurer, FY07-08 local occupancy tax collections for the cities of Hickory and Conover were $1,119,312 at the current 5% rate. Assuming a base of $22,386,430, an additional 1% room occupancy tax would have raised $223,864 in FY07-08. Those collections were then grown using North Carolina's leisure and hospitality growth rates as projected by Moody's Economy.com.

The Hickory-Conover TDA is currently obligated through the City of Hickory for annual payments of approximately $800,000 per year for outstanding debt on their convention center. At the new 6% rate, the two-thirds of occupancy tax collections allowed to be used towards convention center expenditures would equal $895,450.

SUMMARY: House Bill 646 is a local bill that would exempt the Town of Bridgeton from the requirement for satellite annexation that the area to be annexed, when added to the area within all other satellite corporate limits, may not exceed 10% of the area within the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 160A-58.1 governs the voluntary annexation by a municipality of noncontiguous property. All property owners in the satellite area[1] may petition for voluntary annexation of the noncontiguous property if the property meets the following five standards in G.S. 160A-58.1(b):

1. The nearest point on the proposed satellite corporate limits must be not more than three miles from the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.
2. No point on the proposed satellite corporate limits may be closer to the primary corporate limits of another city than to the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act would become effective when it becomes law.

H646-SMRE-44(e1) v1

[1] G.S. 160A-58.4 provides that satellite corporate limits cannot be considered a part of a municipality's corporate limits for purposes of its ETJ. Therefore, satellite annexations have no effect upon a municipality's ETJ.

HOUSE BILL 854:
Forsyth County Occupancy Tax Modifications

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 16, 2009
Introduced by:	Rep. McGee	Prepared by:	Judy Collier
Analysis of:	First Edition		Research Assistant

SUMMARY: House Bill 854 modifies the Forsyth County occupancy tax by conforming the act to the uniform administrative provisions on occupancy tax and by modifying certain provisions related to the Forsyth County Tourism Development Authority.

The Occupancy Tax Subcommittee gave this bill a favorable report on May 7, 2009.

CURRENT LAW: Forsyth County currently has the authority to levy a 6% room occupancy and tourism development tax. Originally enacted in 1983 and most recently amended in 1997, the local act does not conform to the guidelines adopted by the House Finance Committee.

The first three percent (3%) is distributed as follows:

- 5% is divided among the municipalities in Forsyth County, other than Winston-Salem, on a pro rata basis, to be used for economic development and cultural and recreational purposes.
- The remainder is remitted to the TDA to further the development of travel, tourism, and conventions within Forsyth County.

The second three percent (3%) is distributed as follows:

- 5% is divided among the municipalities in Forsyth County, other than Winston-Salem, on a pro rata basis, and is to be used for economic development and cultural and recreational purposes.
- One-third of the remaining net proceeds are remitted to the TDA to be used to further the development of travel, tourism, and conventions within Forsyth County.
- 10% of the remaining net proceeds is divided among the municipalities in Forsyth, other than Winston-Salem, in which taxable establishments are located, in proportion to the amount of tax proceeds collected in each municipality. Of these proceeds, at least two-thirds must be used for tourism promotion and the remainder for tourism-related expenditures.
- The remaining net proceeds are divided between Forsyth County and the City of Winston-Salem on a pro rata basis, and are to be used for economic development and cultural and recreational purposes.

Forsyth County has a 13-member TDA Board consisting of two ex officio members, four owners or operators of accommodations, three individuals involved in the tourist business but who do not own taxable accommodations, and four individuals appointed by the TDA who do not own taxable accommodations and (1) who are local citizens with a demonstrated interest in the tourism industry, or (2) have expertise in fields such as the transportation industry, visitor attractions, the convention center, or marketing and advertising.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 854 does not change the rate of tax or the manner in which the funds are distributed. However, the bill does make the following changes:

- Applies the uniform statutory administration provisions to the administration of the occupancy tax.

- Reduces the membership of the TDA from 13 to 9 members by eliminating the 4 individuals appointed by the TDA.
- Currently, the TDA may not use more than 10% of the funds distributed to it for administrative expenses. The bill eliminates the 10% cap.
- Authorizes ex officio members of the TDA (a county commissioner and a member of the Winston-Salem Board of Alderman) to serve more than two terms on the Authority.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: Since 1983, the General Assembly has authorized many local government units to levy a room occupancy tax, with wide variation in the rate of tax, administration of the tax, use of the tax proceeds, and the body responsible for deciding how the tax proceeds will be spent. The North Carolina Travel and Tourism Coalition has issued a policy statement for legislation authorizing local occupancy taxes, which contains many principles similar to those established by the House Finance Subcommittee on Occupancy Taxes in 1993. In 1997, the General Assembly enacted uniform municipal and county administrative provisions for occupancy tax legislation – G.S. 153A-155 (counties) and G.S. 160A-215 (municipalities) – to provide uniformity in the areas of levy, administration, collection, repeal, and penalties

Source: adapted from bill analysis done by the Committee Counsel of House Local Government I on 04/17/2009

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:
House Bill 854 makes structural modifications to the existing occupancy tax in Forsyth County. It does not alter the amount of occupancy tax that will be collected. Although the bill reduces membership of the Tourism Development Authority from 13 to 9 members, these positions are voluntary. Therefore, no fiscal impact is expected.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT AMENDING THE DESCRIPTION OF A RIGHT-OF-WAY THAT THE TOWN OF SPENCER WAS PREVIOUSLY AUTHORIZED TO ANNEX BY ORDINANCE.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Section 3 of S.L. 2008-112 reads as rewritten:

"SECTION 3. The Town of Spencer may annex by ordinance ~~an area of Department of Transportation right-of-way~~ a parcel of land owned by the Department of Transportation bordered by the town, more particularly described as follows: That portion of State of North Carolina land beginning at a point abutting the corporate limits of the Town of Spencer and specifically located between Tax Map 046, Parcel ~~012~~ 015 and Tax Map 047, Parcel 011 along US Highway 29N. The ordinance may also include that portion of the Department of Transportation's right-of-way along US Highway 29N that is abutting the parcel."

SECTION 2. This act is effective when it becomes law.

SUMMARY: House Bill 986 makes two corrections to a bill enacted last session that allowed the Town of Spencer to annex a right-of-way owned by the Department of Transportation (DOT).

CURRENT LAW: S. L. 2008-112, section 3 authorizes the Town of Spencer to annex by ordinance an area of Department of Transportation right-of-way bordered by the town and described as follows:

> That portion of State of North Carolina land beginning at a appoint abutting the corporate limits of the Town of Spencer and specifically located between Tax Map 046, Parcel 012 and Tax Map 047, Parcel 011 along US Highway 29N.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 986 does two things:

1) It corrects an incorrect parcel number; and
2) It amends the property description in House Bill 986 to include that portion of the DOT right-of-way along US Highway 29N that is abutting the parcel of land owned by the DOT.

Both DOT and the Town of Spencer thought this right-of-way along US Highway 29N was included by language in last year's legislation. House Bill 986 rectifies the error of omission from prior legislation.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT RELATING TO THE AUTHORITY OF MONTGOMERY COUNTY TO COLLECT MONEY OWED TO THE COUNTY FOR WATER SYSTEM FEES.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. The board of commissioners of a county may, by resolution, require the register of deeds of the county not to accept any deed transferring real property for registration unless the county water system has certified that no delinquent debt is owed to the county for water system fees on the property. The county commissioners, by resolution, may describe the form the certification must take in its resolution.

SECTION 2. This act applies to Montgomery County only.

SECTION 3. This act is effective when it becomes law.

HOUSE BILL 991:
Montgomery County Debt Collection/Water

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 16, 2009
Introduced by:	Reps. Goodwin, Burr	Prepared by:	Judy Collier
Analysis of:	First Edition		Research Assistant

SUMMARY: House Bill 991 is a local bill that would authorize the Montgomery County Board of Commissioners to require the Register of Deeds to refuse to accept any deed transferring real property if there are delinquent water system fees owing on the property.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 161-31 authorizes a number of counties to adopt a resolution to require the register of deeds in the county to refuse to register a deed unless the county tax collector has certified that no delinquent taxes are due on the property. This provision applies to 65 counties, and HB 215, in Senate Finance, would add Catawba and Alexander Counties.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 991 would give similar authority to Montgomery County when there are delinquent water system fees due on property in a deed transfer. House Bill 991 does the following:

- Authorizes the Montgomery County Board of Commissioners to adopt a resolution to require the Register of Deed not to accept any deed transferring real property for registration unless the County's water system has certified that no delinquent debt is owed to the County for water system fees on the property.
- In the resolution, the Board of County Commissioners may describe the form the certification must take.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act is effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: As indicated, similar legislation has been enacted authorizing registers of deeds in a number of counties[1] to refuse to register a deed if delinquent taxes are due on the property described in the deed.

Also, the following local legislation regarding delinquent water and sewer fees has been enacted:

- Authorizes City of Durham to collect delinquent water and sewer fees resulting from leaking or broken pipes of the real property owner in the same manner as property taxes S.L. 1993 – 768.
- Authorizes Columbus, Davie, Duplin, and Lenoir Counties, the municipalities in these counties, and water and wastewater authorities in these counties to collect delinquent water and sewer fees in the same manner as delinquent property taxes. (S.L. 2003-270)

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: NC Department of Commerce; NC Department of Revenue

EFFECTIVE DATE: January 1, 2009

BILL SUMMARY:
Senate Bill 943 would increase the income tax credit for a production company from 15% to 25% of the company's qualifying expenditures. The bill would become effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2009.

BACKGROUND:
The 2005 General Assembly enacted legislation that allows an income tax credit for 15% of the qualifying production expenses of film and television production companies that spend at least $250,000 on a production in North Carolina. The credit is limited to $7.5 million per feature film and is refundable in cases where the credit exceeds tax liability. Finally, the bill disallowed the credit for expenses incurred for compensation of $1 million or more paid to an individual. In 2008, the General Assembly made changes to the definition of eligible expenses to include amounts paid to a highly compensated individual only to the extent that amount exceeds $1 million, and the cost of production-related insurance.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

To calculate the impact of the bill, Fiscal Research obtained data from the North Carolina Film Office on projected eligible film expenses assuming a 25% credit. The estimates factor in the increased film activity expected to be spurred by the higher credit. The impact to the General Fund is calculated by applying the 25% rate to eligible expenses for each year. The cost of the current 15% credit is subtracted to obtain the net impact of the bill. The estimates assume that three films each year (beginning in 2010) would have eligible expenses that would cause them to exceed the credit cap. The three films are assumed to have eligible expenses of $40 million each year. Since the credit cap is $7.5 million, the credit would apply to only $30 million of expenses ($30 million * 25% = $7.5 million).

	FY 09-10	FY 10-11	FY 11-12	FY 12-13	FY 13-14
Eligible Expenses at 25%	$85.0	$250.0	$300.0	$350.0	$350.0
Cost of 25% Credit	-19.8	-51.2	-62.8	-74.5	-74.5
Eligible Expenses at 15%	80.0	80.0	80.0	80.0	80.0
Cost of 15% Credit	-11.2	-11.2	-11.2	-11.2	-11.2
Net Impact of S943	-$8.6	-$40.0	-$51.7	-$63.3	-$63.3

For purposes of this analysis, it is assumed that the tax year impact of the proposed change matches up with the fiscal year ending six months after the end of the tax year. Thus, the full impact of new activity in the 2010 tax year would be in the 2010-11 fiscal year. This rationale assumes that taxpayers take the credit in the form of lower final tax payments rather than reduced estimated payments sent in during the tax year.

In a report studying the economic impact of a 25% credit, Ernst and Young estimated a return on investment (ROI) of 69 cents for each dollar of credit cost. The return represents additional tax revenue related to film activity and its indirect impact on the economy. The current economic recession adds uncertainty to the ROI estimates, particularly as they relate to tourism and other indirect expenditures. Other states have recently estimated lower returns on investment. For example, Louisiana and Connecticut estimated ROIs of 18% and 20% respectively for their film credits. To the extent that additional tax revenues are realized, they will occur beginning in the year of production and, in the case of tourism-related revenues, extend several years beyond completion of the film.

HOUSE BILL 23:
Strengthen Child Labor Violation Penalties

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 30, 2009
Introduced by:	Reps. Weiss, Luebke, Bryant, Goodwin	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	Second Edition

SUMMARY: House Bill 23 would increase the penalties for violations of child labor laws.

[As introduced, this bill was identical to S277, as introduced by Sen. Berger of Franklin, which is currently in Senate Judiciary II.]

CURRENT LAW:

Article 2A of Chapter 95 of the General Statutes is the Wage and Hour Act. The Act is enforced by the Commissioner of Labor and governs wage levels, hours of labor, and the well being of minors. The Act contains a number of restrictions regarding when and how a youth may be employed. It provides a civil penalty not to exceed $250 for each violation of the youth employment provisions. It also requires employers to make and keep records of wages, hours, and other conditions and practices of employment. Violations of these requirements result in civil penalties of up to $250 per employee with a maximum of $1,000 per investigation.

Article 16 of Chapter 95 of the General Statutes is the Occupational Safety and Health Act of North Carolina (OSHA). OSHA is administered by the Commissioner of Labor and is designed to ensure safe conditions for workers. OSHA contains the following civil and criminal penalties:

- Willfully violating a standard promulgated under OSHA and causing the death of any employee is a Class 2 misdemeanor, which may include a fine of not more than $10,000. A subsequent violation would be a Class 1 misdemeanor, which could include a fine of not more than $20,000.
- Making a false statement in a document is a Class 2 misdemeanor which may include a fine of not more than $10,000.

The penalties set out above for the Wage and Hour Act and OSHA do not take into consideration the age of the worker.

BILL ANALYSIS:

House Bill 23 would make the following changes to the Wage and Hour Act:

Violations Regarding Youth Employment:

- Increases the civil penalty for violations regarding youth employment to $500 for the first violation (was $250).
- Provides that fines for each subsequent violation cannot exceed $1,000.

Maintaining Records:

- Requires employers to maintain records of the ages of employees.
- Increases the maximum civil penalty per investigation for violations regarding employer's records of employees to $2,000 (was $1,000).
- Clarifies that in determining the amount of the penalty, the Commissioner of Labor must consider whether the violation involves an employee less than 18 years of age.

House Bill 23 would make the following changes to OSHA:

Civil Penalties:

- Provides that when determining whether a penalty is appropriate, the Commissioner of Labor must consider, in addition to other factors, whether the violation involves injury to an employee less than 18 years of age.

Criminal Penalties: The bill would not change the offense class, but would create differences regarding the amount of fines that may be imposed as follows:

- First violation – Willfully violating a standard promulgated under OSHA and causing the death of an employee:
  - If the employee is 18 years of age or older – Class 2 misdemeanor which may include a fine of up to $10,000.
  - If the employee is less than 18 years of age – Class 2 misdemeanor which may include a fine of up to $20,000.
- Subsequent violations – If an employer is convicted of a willful violation that results in the death of any person, the subsequent violation is penalized as follows:
  - If the subsequent violation leads to the death of someone 18 years of age or older- Class 1 misdemeanor which may include a fine of up to $20,000.
  - If the subsequent violation results in the death of an employee less than 18 years of age- Class 1 misdemeanor which may include a fine of up to $40,000.
- False statements in documents –
  - Falsifications pertaining to employees 18 years of age or older-Class 2 misdemeanor, which may include a fine of up to $10,000.
  - Falsifications pertaining to employees less than 18 years of age-Class 2 misdemeanor, which may include a fine of up to $20,000.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act becomes effective December 1, 2009, and applies to violations occurring or offenses committed on or after that date.

Brad Krehely, counsel to House Judiciary II, and Jeff Hudson counsel to Senate Judiciary II, substantially contributed to this summary.

BILL SUMMARY:

H.B. 23 provides for a doubling of several penalties related to child labor laws. The bill increases the penalty for violation of the youth employment statute from $250 to $500 for the first violation and increases the maximum to $1,000 for subsequent violations. Section 3 revises G.S. 95-25.23A, which deals with record keeping, to include consideration of whether the violation involved an employee under the age of 18; the maximum penalty is increased to $2,000 from $1,000. Section 4 rewrites G.S. 95-138(b) to add that when assessing a penalty, the Commissioner should consider whether the violations involved injury to an employee under 18. Section 5 changes the criminal penalty related to violations involving death of a worker such that the associated fine is increased from $10,000 to $20,000 for any death involving a worker under 18 and up to $40,000 for any subsequent violations. Likewise any person who makes false statements about such violations can be assessed a fine of up to $20,000 if the violation involved the death of a worker under 18.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

Revenues

Historical data on violations and penalties assessed was obtained from the North Carolina Department of Labor (DOL). Currently DOL uses a sliding scale to assess penalties for wage and hour violations. Fiscal Research, based on conversations with DOL, has made the assumption that if this legislation were enacted, DOL would double the penalties on this sliding scale. Thus, it is estimated that DOL will collect twice the amount they currently do for wage and hour violations involving youth. A breakdown of estimated revenue by each section of the bill is included below.

Section 1 – Violations and Penalties under G.S. 95-25.23(a) - Youth Employment

The Wage and Hour Bureau at DOL tracks youth employment violations. Fiscal Research used historical data from the past five years to estimate the number of future violations as well as the amount collected. As there were no discernible trends in the number of violations, Fiscal Research used an average figure to estimate the number of violations and the amount collected in future years. The amount collected was then doubled to reflect the new fees. For FY 2009-10 the amount is prorated to reflect the December 1, 2009 effective date of the bill.

	FY 2009-10	FY 2010-11	FY 2011-12	FY 2012-13	FY 2013-14
Violations	210	210	210	210	210
Total Penalties Collected	$25,491	$29,133	$29,133	$29,133	$29,133
Amount of New Penalty Money	$12,746	$14,566	$14,566	$14,566	$14,566
Collection Costs	$905	$1,034	$1,034	$1,034	$1,034
Total New Penalty Money (less cost of collection)	$11,841	$13,533	$13,533	$13,533	$13,533

Section 3 – Violations and Penalties under G.S. 95-25.23A(a) – Recordkeeping

The Wage and Hour Bureau at DOL tracks recordkeeping violations. As with youth employment violations, Fiscal Research used historical data to calculate the average number of violations as well as the amount collected. The amount collected was then doubled to reflect the new fees. For FY 2009-10 the amount is prorated to reflect the December 1, 2009 effective date of the bill.

	FY 2009-10	FY 2010-11	FY 2011-12	FY 2012-13	FY 2013-14
Violations	398	398	398	398	398
Total Penalties Collected	$71,219	$81,393	$81,393	$81,393	$81,393
Amount of New Penalty Money	$35,609	$40,696	$40,696	$40,696	$40,696
Collection Costs	$2,527	$2,888	$2,888	$2,888	$2,888
Total New Penalty Money (less cost of collection)	$33,082	$37,808	$37,808	$37,808	$37,808

Section 4 – Violations and Penalties under G.S. 95-138(b) – OSH Serious Violations
The DOL Occupational Safety and Health Division (OSH) does not currently collect data on employee age. Estimates are not available as to how many OSH violations occurred at facilities where an employee under the age of 18 was injured or endangered. On average, OSH assesses approximately 5,200 violations and collects $2.44 million in penalties each year. It is not known how many of these violations involve employees under the age of 18 and how the Commissioner might change the penalty assessed based on youth involvement in the violation; thus, it is not possible to calculate the potential increase in penalties collected.

Section 5 – Violations and Penalties under G.S. 95-139 – OSH Criminal Penalties
In the past five years, OSH investigated only one fatality involving an employee under the age of 18; penalties associated with that fatality totaled $12,000. Fiscal Research estimates that over the next five years, there may be one fatality, and that penalties, if this legislation is enacted, might total $24,000.

Expenditures
This bill should have no appreciable increase in costs for DOL. Most of the data required to assess these penalties is already collected under current practices.

Administrative Office of the Courts

Fiscal Research requested information on the potential fiscal impact to the court system that may result from the passage of this proposed bill. The Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) provided the following analysis. The table below compares current law to the proposed legislation.

	Current Law		Proposed Law
	Maximum Fine*	Criminal Penalty (misdemeanor)	Maximum Fine*	Criminal Penalty (misdemeanor)

Source: NC Administrative Office of the Courts

- Note: the fines for violations of G.S. 95-25.5 and 95-25.15(b) are civil penalties; no criminal penalties are assessed.

Section 1 of this proposed bill would increase the fine for violations of G.S. 95-25.5 (Youth Employment); Section 2 would expand employer record-keeping requirements in G.S. 95-25.15(b) to include the age of employees, thus expanding potential violations. Section 3 would increase the maximum fine for violating the (now expanded) record-keeping provisions in G.S. 95-25.15(b). These violations are subject to civil penalties, as determined by the Commissioner of Labor. Impact on the courts would come from any appeals made by employers regarding the Commissioner's decisions. AOC cannot project whether increasing the maximum fine would increase the number of appeals. Any additional appeals generated by this proposed bill would impact the court system.

The violations of the NC OSH Act outlined in G.S. 95-139 in Section 5 of the bill are punishable as Class 1 and Class 3 misdemeanors. The criminal penalties would not change under this bill, but the maximum fine included in the penalties would increase for violations involving employees under age 18. It is possible that the potential for higher fines will lead to a more vigorous defense in these cases.

In FY 2008, the NC Department of Labor investigated 47 workplace fatalities, one of which involved the death of an employee under age 18. In FY 2002 through 2007, the other years with data available, none of the workplace fatalities investigated involved deaths of employees under age 18. Therefore, it is unlikely that many cases will be impacted by this legislation.

AOC cannot project the number of cases involving the provisions of this bill that will be filed or the impact of the increased fines on the time required to dispose of these cases. In FY 2007-08, a typical misdemeanor case took approximately 87 days to dispose in District Court. Any increase in judicial caseload without accompanying resources could be expected to further delay the disposition of cases.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Chapter 170 of the 1987 Session Laws, as amended by S.L. 1998-35 and Section 21(o) of S.L. 2007-527, reads as rewritten:

The tax shall be stated and charged separately from the sales records, and shall be paid by the purchaser to the operator of the business as trustee for and on account of the town. The tax shall be added to the sales price and shall be passed on to the purchaser instead of being borne by the operator of the business. The town shall design, print, and furnish to all appropriate businesses and persons in the town the necessary forms for filing returns and instructions to ensure the full collection of the tax. An operator of a business who collects the occupancy tax levied under this section may deduct from the amount remitted to the town a discount of three percent (3%) of the amount collected.~~

(b1) Definitions. – The following definitions apply in this section:

(1) Net proceeds. – Gross proceeds less the cost to the town of administering and collecting the tax, as determined by the finance officer, not to exceed three percent (3%) of the gross proceeds.

The return shall state the total gross receipts derived in the preceding month from rentals upon which the tax is levied.~~

~~A return filed with the town finance officer under this section is not a public record as defined by G.S. 132-1 and may not be disclosed except as required by law.~~

~~(d) Penalties. A person, firm, corporation, or association who fails or refuses to file the return required by this section shall pay a penalty of ten dollars ($10.00) for each day's omission. ~~(f) Effective date of levy. A tax levied under this section shall become effective on the date specified in the resolution levying the tax. That date must be the first day of a calendar month, however, and may not be earlier than the first day of the second month after the date the resolution is adopted.~~

~~(g) Repeal. A tax levied under this section may be repealed by a resolution adopted by the Boone Town Council. Repeal of a tax levied under this section shall become effective on the~~ ~~first day of a month and may not become effective until the end of the fiscal year in which the repeal resolution was adopted. Sec. 2. Tourism Development Authority. (a) Appointment and membership. – When the town council adopts a resolution levying a room occupancy tax under this act, it shall also adopt a resolution creating the Boone Tourism Development Authority, which shall be a public authority under the Local Government Budget and Fiscal Control Act. HOUSE BILL 401:

Boone Occupancy Tax

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 30, 2009
Introduced by:	Rep. Tarleton	Prepared by:	Judy Collier
Analysis of:	Second Edition		Research Assistant

SUMMARY: House Bill 401 authorizes the Town of Boone to levy an additional 3% room occupancy and tourism development tax and makes other changes to its original legislation so that it conforms to the uniform administrative provisions for occupancy tax and the guidelines adopted by the North Carolina Travel & Tourism Coalition and the House Finance Committee. At least two-thirds of the total proceeds would be used to promote travel and tourism and the remainder would be used for tourism-related expenditures that are recommended by the Boone Town Council and approved by the Tourism Development Authority (TDA).

CURRENT LAW: In 1987, the General Assembly authorized the Town of Boone to levy a 3% room occupancy tax, with 60% of the tax going to the town TDA to be used to promote travel, tourism and conventions and the remainder going to the town's general fund to be used for any lawful purpose.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 401 authorizes the Town of Boone to levy an additional room occupancy tax of up to 3%, for a total rate of 6%. Under the bill, the proceeds of the additional tax and the existing 3% tax must be remitted to the town (TDA), which must use at least two-thirds of the proceeds to promote travel and tourism and the remainder for tourism-related expenditures. The tourism-related expenditures must be recommended by the Boone Town Council prior to approval by the TDA. This language is not standard language within the guidelines, but was requested by the Town. If enacted, no portion of the proceeds would be remitted to the town's general fund.

Except for the deviation mentioned above, the administrative and use provisions are rewritten to contemporary standards and conform to the uniform guidelines followed by the House Finance Committee.

UNIFORM OCCUPANCY TAX PROVISIONS	HB 401

Use – Two-thirds of the proceeds must be used to promote travel and tourism and the remainder must be used for tourism related expenditures.	Conforms[1]
Definitions The term "net proceeds", "promote travel and tourism", and "tourism related expenditures" are defined terms.	Conforms
Administration – The net revenues must be administered by a local tourism development authority that has the authority to determine how the tax proceeds will be used, is created by a local ordinance, and at least 1/2 of the members must be currently active in the promotion of travel and tourism in the county and 1/3 of the members must be affiliated with organizations that collect the tax.	Conforms
Costs of Collection – The taxing authority may retain from the revenues its actual costs of collection, not to exceed 3% of the first $500,000 collected each year plus 1% of the remainder collected each year.	Conforms

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act is effective when it becomes law.

[1] The language requiring the Boone Town Council to recommend tourism-related expenditures prior to approval by the TDA is not required by the guidelines.

BACKGROUND: Since 1983, the General Assembly has authorized many units of local government to levy a room occupancy tax. In several instances, the General Assembly has authorized both a county and a city within that county to impose an occupancy tax. The rate of tax, the use of the tax proceeds, the administration of the tax, and the body with the authority to determine how the tax proceeds will be spent vary considerably. Over the past several years, there has been a greater effort to make the occupancy taxes uniform. In 1997, the General Assembly enacted uniform municipal and county administrative provisions for occupancy tax legislation – G.S. 153A-155 and G.S. 160A-215. These provisions provide uniformity in the areas of levy, administration, collection, repeal, and penalties.

(1) That the street improvement project does not exceed 2,000 linear feet; and

(2) That such street or part thereof is unsafe for vehicular traffic, and it is in the public interest to make such improvements; or

(3) That it is in the public interest to connect two streets, or portions of a street already improved; or

(4) That it is in the public interest to widen a street, or part thereof, which is already improved, provided that assessments for widening any street or portion of street without a petition shall be limited to the cost of widening and otherwise improving such streets in accordance with the street classification and improvement standards established by the Town's thoroughfare or major street plan for the particular street or part thereof to be widened and improved under the authority granted by this Article.

(c) For the purpose of this Article, the term "street improvement" shall include grading, regrading, surfacing, resurfacing, widening, paving, repaving, the acquisition of right-of-way, and the construction or reconstruction of curbs, gutters, and street drainage facilities.

(d) In addition to any authority which is now or may hereafter be granted by general law to the Town for making sidewalk improvements, the Board is hereby authorized without the necessity of a petition, to make or to order to be made sidewalk improvements or repairs according to standards and specifications of the Town, and to assess the total cost thereof against abutting property owners, according to one or more of the assessment bases set forth in G.S. 160A-216 et seq.; provided however, that regardless of the assessment basis or bases employed, the Town may order the cost of sidewalk improvements made only on one side of a street to be assessed against property owners abutting both sides of such street.

(e) In ordering street and sidewalk improvements without a petition and assessing the cost thereof under authority of this Article, the Board shall comply with the procedure provided by G.S. 160A-216 et seq., except those provisions relating to the petition of property owners and the sufficiency thereof.

(f) The effect of the act of levying assessments under the authority of this Article shall for all purposes be the same as if the assessments were levied under authority of G.S. 160A-216 et seq.

"Sec. 5.2. Power of Eminent Domain. The procedures provided in G.S. 136-103 et seq., as specifically authorized by G.S. 136-66.3(c), shall be applicable to the Town in the case of acquisition of lands, easements, privileges, rights-of-way and other interests in real property for streets, sewer lines, storm drains, waterlines, electric power lines, and other utility lines in the exercise of the power of eminent domain. The Town, when seeking to acquire such property or rights or easements therein or thereto, shall have the right and authority, at its option and election, to use the provisions and procedures as authorized and provided in G.S. 136-66(c) and G.S. 136-103 et seq., for any of such purposes without being limited to streets constituting a part of the State highway system; provided, however, that the provisions of this section shall not apply with regard to properties owned by a private condemnor except as permitted by G.S. 40A-5(b).

"ARTICLE VI. NUISANCES.

"Sec. 6.1. Abatement of Public Health Nuisances. The Town shall have authority to summarily remove, abate, or remedy everything in the Town limits, or within one mile thereof, that is dangerous or prejudicial to the public health or public safety pursuant to G.S. 160A-193.

"Sec. 6.2. Chronic Nuisance Violators. The Town may notify a chronic violator of the Town's public nuisance ordinance that, if the violator's property is found to be in violation of the ordinance, the Town shall, without further notice in the calendar year in which notice is given, take action to remedy the violation and the expense of the action shall become a lien upon the property and shall be collected as unpaid taxes. The initial annual notice shall be served by registered or certified mail. A chronic violator is a person who owns property whereupon, in the previous calendar year, the Town of Fremont gave notice of violation at least two times under any provision of the public nuisance ordinance. A property owner shall remain a chronic violator until one calendar year after the date of the property owner's last violation.

SECTION 11. This act is effective when it becomes law.

HOUSE BILL 403:
Fremont Charter Rewrite

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 30, 2009
Introduced by:	Rep. Sager	Prepared by:	Judy Collier
Analysis of:	First Edition		Research Assistant

SUMMARY: House Bill 403[1] would enact a complete rewrite of the Town Charter of Fremont.

CURRENT LAW: The Charter of the Town of Fremont was last enacted as a whole in 1913. Since that time a string of local acts have been passed to amend the Charter, but none have done a complete rewrite.

BILL ANALYSIS: The bill would rewrite the entire charter. It would provide for a Mayor and 6 Aldermen. The town would be divided into six aldermanic districts, and each Alderman would be elected by the voters of a district. The rewritten charter would not effect the terms of the current Mayor and Aldermen. The Mayor and Aldermen under the new Charter would be elected for the first time in 2011. They would all be elected to 4-year terms.

The Charter also gives the Town the authority to make street improvements it considers to be in the public interest and assess the cost to the abutting property owners. They Town may do that without the property owners having petitioned for the improvements.

EFFECTIVE DATE: When it becomes law. Since the Charter involves town elections, it may not be implemented until the session law has received "preclearance" approval under Section 5 of the Voting Rights of 1965 by the U.S. Department of Justice. Fremont is in Wayne County, which is one of the 40 NC counties covered by Section 5.

BACKGROUND: Fremont is a town in northern Wayne County, near Goldsboro. In the 2000 Census the town's population was 1,463.

HOUSE BILL 566:
Charlotte-Monroe Executive Airport Quicktake

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 30, 2009
Introduced by:	Rep. Gibson	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	First Edition

SUMMARY: HB 566 Authorizes the City of Monroe to use the "quicktake" procedure when using eminent domain powers to acquire property for the Charlotte-Monroe Executive Airport.

CURRENT LAW: Municipalities using eminent domain powers to acquire property for any purpose begin the action by filing a complaint together with a deposit estimated to be just compensation for the taking. If the condemnation is for airport purposes, the municipality is required to use the procedures set out in G.S. 40A-42(b). Using those procedures, title vests in the municipality and it is entitled to possession, when one of three actions occurs:

- The owner files an answer requesting only a determination of just compensation.
- The owner fails to file an answer within 120 days of service.
- Upon disbursement of the deposit, which can be disbursed as a deposit toward further claimed compensation.

BILL ANALYSIS: The bill allows the City of Monroe to use an alternate procedure of condemnation in which, unless an action for injunctive relief has been filed by the property owner, title vests in the municipality and it is entitled to possession immediately upon filing the complaint and making the deposit estimated to be just compensation for the taking.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND:

The following similar acts have been enacted:

- S.L. 1986-941 – Authorized Holly Springs to acquire property for its airport by the quick take procedure.
- S.L. 1993-608 – Authorized Duplin County to acquire property for its airport by the quick take procedure.
- S.L. 2001-73 – Authorized Halifax Regional Airport Authority to acquire property for its airport by the quick take procedure.

Municipalities have authority to operate certain public enterprises pursuant to G.S. 160A-311 (set out below). "Quicktake" is permitted for the enterprises listed in subdivisions (1), (2), (3), (4), (6), and (7). The other enterprises use the longer procedure set out in G.S. 40A-42(b) (set out below).

§ 160A-311. Public enterprise defined.

As used in this Article, the term "public enterprise" includes:

(1) Electric power generation, transmission, and distribution systems.
(2) Water supply and distribution systems.
(3) Wastewater collection, treatment, and disposal systems of all types, including septic tank systems or other on-site collection or disposal facilities or systems.

(4) Gas production, storage, transmission, and distribution systems, where systems shall also include the purchase or lease of natural gas fields and natural gas reserves, the purchase of natural gas supplies, and the surveying, drilling and any other activities related to the exploration for natural gas, whether within the State or without.
(5) Public transportation systems.
(6) Solid waste collection and disposal systems and facilities.
(7) Cable television systems.
(8) Off-street parking facilities and systems.
(9) Airports.
(10) Stormwater management programs designed to protect water quality by controlling the level of pollutants in, and the quantity and flow of, stormwater and structural and natural stormwater and drainage systems of all types.

§ 40A-42. Vesting of title and right of possession; injunction not precluded.

(b) When a local public condemnor is acquiring property by condemnation for purposes other than for the purposes listed in subsection (a) above, title to the property taken and the right to possession shall vest in the condemnor pursuant to this subsection. Unless an action for injunctive relief has been initiated, title to the property specified in the complaint, together with the right to immediate possession thereof, shall vest in the condemnor:

(1) Upon the filing of an answer by the owner who requests only that there be a determination of just compensation and who does not challenge the authority of the condemnor to condemn the property; or
(2) Upon the failure of the owner to file an answer within the 120-day time period established by G.S. 40A-46; or
(3) Upon the disbursement of the deposit in accordance with the provisions of G.S. 40A-44.

SUMMARY: House Bill 743 authorizes the Town of Wendell to extend its extraterritorial planning and zoning jurisdiction (ETJ) to a described area, if approved by the Wake County Board of Commissioners.

House Bill 886 enacts new GS 90-370 as the title indicates. Allows the Board to assess the cost of a disciplinary action against a licensee or person found to be in violation of Article 25 of GS Chapter 90 or of rules adopted by the Board. ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

House Bill 886 allows the North Carolina Board of Dietetics/Nutrition to recover the costs of disciplinary action against a licensee. This will result in an increase in revenues for all fiscal years. According to the Board, the number and nature of disciplinary issues it will process each year cannot be predicted. Because the amount the Board is able to recover depends on the number and nature of the disciplinary issues it processes, the size of this revenue increase cannot be determined.

SENATE BILL 308:
Low-Profit Limited Liability Company

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 29, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Jacumin	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to Second Edition S308-CSRBf-39

SUMMARY: The proposed committee substitute for Senate Bill 308 would recognize a new type of corporate designation known as a low-profit limited liability company (L3C). The PCS removes the provisions from the bill that would have provided enhanced tax incentives to an endangered manufacturer.

BILL ANALYSIS: Chapter 57C provides for the formation of a limited liability company. A low-profit limited liability company is a limited liability company that is formed for both a business purpose and a charitable purpose that requires operation of the company in accordance with these three requirements:

- To accomplish one or more charitable or educational purposes within the meaning of section 170(c)(2)(B) of the Code.
- To operate so that no significant purpose of the company is the production of income or the appreciation of property.
- To operate so that no purpose of the company is to accomplish one or more political or legislative purposes within the meaning of section 170(c)(2)(D) of the Code.

Under current law, a limited liability company could choose to put these conditions on its operations by including them in its articles of organization and by operating in accordance with them. However, current North Carolina law does not provide a designation specific to a company that does so. Senate Bill 308 would recognize the formation of a low-profit limited liability company and allow that company to use the designation "L3C". Like a limited liability company, a L3C is subject to federal and State tax and investments in a L3C are not tax deductible.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill would become effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: Vermont became the first state to recognize the L3C as an official legal structure in April 2008 and Michigan become the second state in January 2009. The formation of a L3C is designed to facilitate program-related investments (PRI) by private foundations. Private foundations must distribute at least 5% of their capital for charitable purposes to maintain their nonprofit status. Although foundations often expend these funds through grants, they may also meet the expenditure requirement with IRS-sanctioned PRIs. A PRI is an investment that supports charitable activities but may involve the potential return of capital. An example of a PRI is a loan, a loan guarantee, and an equity investment in a charitable organization.

Foundations do not usually make PRIs without an IRS private letter ruling that the investment meets the IRS requirements as an acceptable PRI. The expense of obtaining a private letter ruling deters foundations from this form of investment. The founders of the L3C designation hope that the IRS or Congress will choose to treat an investment in a L3C as a PRI without the need for a private letter ruling because the three requirements to form as a L3C mirror the IRS requirements for a PRI. Neither the IRS nor Congress has evidenced any movement on this issue.

Notes

The legislation for the L^3C (Low Profit Limited Liability Company) was developed by Washington attorney Mark Owens. Mr. Owens worked for the IRS for 25 years in the Exempt Organizations section. Mr. Owens headed up this section the last 10 years of his IRS career.

The L^3C legislation has been passed in the following states: Vermont, Michigan, The Crow Indian Nation, Illinois, Maine, Wyoming and Utah. It has been introduced in North Dakota, Oregon, Tennessee, Arkansas, Missouri and Montana.

Some of the projects in process include: 1. Re-equipping and renting manufacturing plants in Michigan to new companies, 2. Montana Food Bank Network Processing Plant, 3. An Infrastructure Company with a program to build wooden bridges using technology from Jay Rubino and others, 4. Broadband in the rural areas of several states, 5. A large church-based information and entertainment center to serve inner-city poor in Dallas, 6. Low income housing projects, 7. Elderly housing projects, 8. Newspapers including the Peoria Journal Star, 9. Hearing aid manufacturing for the poor in Africa, 10. PACE (aging in place) centers for the Volunteers of America. There are dozens and dozens of projects in process in addition to those listed above.

Foundations have more than $500 billion in assets. They have to give away 5% each year—that's $25 billion. Treating North Carolina as an average state, that would equate to approximately $500,000,000, part of which could be available to new and struggling businesses through the L^3C structure.

Low-Profit Limited Liability Company (L^3C)

The Act would recognize a new form of legal entity, the low-profit limited liability company or L^3C. The legislation creating the L^3C tracks exactly the federal tax law requirements for program-related investments. Set forth below is a summary of the key aspects of the L^3C.

1. What is it?

Generally: A limited liability company that generates modest profit while carrying on a business that has a charitable purpose.

North Carolina: Proposed state legislation would recognize the L^3C as a new legal entity. Under North Carolina law, an L^3C would be a business entity that:

- significantly furthers the accomplishment of a charitable or educational purpose,
- would not have been formed but for its relationship to the accomplishment of the charitable or educational purpose,
- does not have a significant purpose of income production or property appreciation, and
- does not seek to accomplish a political or legislative purpose.

2. Who can invest in it?

- Individuals, governments, and for-profit corporations can invest in L^3C s.
- Private foundations may also invest in L^3C s because the North Carolina statute under which they will be formed incorporates exactly the federal tax law requirements for program-related investments ("PRI").

3. How will a private foundation's L^3C investment be treated?

Because they satisfy the PRI requirements, investments in L^3C s are:

- qualifying distributions for purposes of the 5% payout requirement;
- not included in a foundation's asset base for purposes of calculating minimum investment return;
- not business holdings for purposes of the excess business holdings prohibition; and
- not considered jeopardizing investments.

4. Why was the L^3C created?

- The L^3C was born from a desire to save endangered jobs by saving endangered industries.
- It is intended to encourage investment in struggling industries such as the U.S. furniture and textile industries.
- The theory is that such businesses will be more likely to attract investors if they are structured as L^3C s because they will appeal to nonprofits, which will be willing to accept a lower rate of return than for-profit investors and can treat their investments as charitable distributions.
- The goal is to help struggling enterprises stay in business, thereby providing jobs and community benefits, by reducing the pressure to produce market-rate profit levels.

	FY 2009-10	FY 2010-11	FY 2011-12	FY 2012-13	FY 2013-14

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Secretary of State's Office

EFFECTIVE DATE: Becomes effective when law.

BILL SUMMARY: The proposed committee substitute for Senate Bill 308 would recognize a new type of corporate designation known as a low-profit limited liability company (L3C). The PCS removes the provisions from the bill that would have provided enhanced tax incentives to an endangered manufacturer.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:
The proposed committee substitute provides that a low-profit limited liability (L3C) company is a limited liability company (LLC) under North Carolina law. Low-profit limited liability companies (L3Cs) have been proposed as a means for encouraging investment in struggling business enterprises. Under this theory, non-profit organizations that are required to spend a certain percentage of their assets each year to maintain their non-profit status would invest in L3Cs that have some social purpose. If structured correctly, it is possible that the IRS could treat this investment as a program-related investment that would count towards the percentage that must be spent in order to maintain non-profit status. Because non-profits do not face the same pressures as for-profit investors, the theory states that non-profits would be willing to accept a lower rate of return than would be required for a for-profit investor. Struggling businesses might then be able to stay in business, providing jobs to employees and other community benefits, because the pressure to produce market-rate profit levels had been removed. One of the benefits of L3Cs is that no special legal structure, other than the LLC structure, is needed to establish an L3C.

Assumptions and Methodology

The Department of the Secretary of State estimates that they will incur $40,000 in one-time startup costs, including information technology, forms creation, training, and publicity, as a result of this bill. They also estimate that the new legislation would require a one-quarter time Accounting Technician. The position cost is $15,825 in FY 2009-10, increased for each year by standard Fiscal Research inflationary increases. Revenues from filing fees, Annual Report fees, and Articles of Amendment fees would total $375. These receipts have been subtracted from the estimated expenditures each year.

(1) On or before January 1, 2010, the possessor of a characteristically wild animal shall register with the animal control authority for the city or county in which the animal is located. The registration shall include the person's name, address, telephone number, a complete inventory of each characteristically wild animal that the person possesses, a photograph or microchip number for each animal, the address for the site at which each animal is located, and the payment to the animal control authority of a one-time fee of one hundred dollars ($100.00) per site at which a characteristically wild animal is to be located and ten dollars ($10.00) per characteristically wild animal located at that site to cover the costs of enforcement of this Chapter. (9) The possessor shall comply with any and all applicable federal, State, or local law, rule, regulation, ordinance, permit, or other permission. Failure to comply with any such law, rule, regulation, ordinance, permit, or other permission constitutes a violation of this Chapter.

(c) A person in legal possession of a characteristically wild animal prior to January 1, 2010, pursuant to this section, and who complies with the provisions of this Chapter during the animal's life, may replace the animal upon its death with an animal of the same species, so long as the animal's death was not the result of neglect or cruelty. A person replacing an animal pursuant to this subsection shall: (i) register the animal in the manner set forth in subdivision (1) of subsection (a) of this section; (ii) maintain veterinary records, acquisition papers for the animal, if available, or other documents or records that establish the person is in legal possession of the animal, and present the paperwork to an animal control or law enforcement authority upon request; and (iii) otherwise comply with the requirements of this section.

(2) The animal poses a public safety or health risk.

(3) The animal is in poor health and condition as a result of the action or inaction of the possessor.

(b) A characteristically wild animal that is confiscated under this section may be returned to the possessor only if the animal control authority or law enforcement officer establishes that the possessor had legal possession of the animal pursuant to G.S. 19B-2 or G.S. 19B-3, the return does not pose a public safety or health risk, or the animal is determined not to be in poor health and condition as a result of the action or inaction of the possessor.

(c) The animal control authority or other persons authorized to enforce this Chapter under G.S. 19B-6 shall serve notice upon the possessor in person or by regular and certified mail, return receipt requested, notifying the possessor of the confiscation, that the possessor is responsible for payment of reasonable costs for caring and providing for the animal during the confiscation and that the possessor must meet the requirements of subsection (b) of this section in order for the animal to be returned to the possessor.

(d) If a characteristically wild animal that is confiscated under this section is not returned to the possessor, the animal control authority or other persons designated under this Chapter may release the animal to a facility such as a wildlife sanctuary or a facility exempted pursuant to G.S. 19B-2.

(e) If a characteristically wild animal escapes or is released and poses an immediate threat to public safety, the animal control authority or other persons designated under this Chapter may exercise judgment in attempting to recapture the animal or in killing the animal.

"§ 19B-5. City or county ordinances.

A city or county may adopt an ordinance governing characteristically wild animals that is more restrictive than this Chapter. However, nothing in this Chapter requires a city or county to adopt an ordinance to be in compliance with this Chapter.

"§ 19B-6. Enforcement of Chapter.

(a) The animal control authority and its staff and agents, local law enforcement agents, and county sheriffs are authorized and empowered to enforce the provisions of this Chapter.

(b) The possessor of a characteristically wild animal shall, at all reasonable times, allow the animal control authority or other persons designated by this Chapter to enter the premises where the animal is being kept to ensure compliance with this Chapter.

"§ 19B-7. Penalties.

A person who violates this Chapter is liable for a civil penalty to be determined by the court.

"§ 19B-8. Severability.

If any part of this Chapter is determined to be unconstitutional or unenforceable, it shall not affect the constitutionality or enforceability of any other part."

SECTION 2. This act becomes effective January 1, 2010, and applies to acts committed on or after that date.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 807 creates a new Chapter 19B of the General Statutes that does all of the following:

  - Exemptions to the prohibition include: Institutions accredited by the American Zoo and Aquarium Association; certain nonprofit animal protection organizations housing a regulated animal at the written request of the animal control authority; federal or State wildlife enforcement officers; animal control or law enforcement agencies or officers; licensed veterinary hospitals or clinics; wildlife sanctuaries; universities, colleges, laboratories, or other research facilities licensed under federal law; circuses licensed under federal law that are temporarily in the State, a non-resident of the State in the State with a regulated animal for not more than 72 hours; and indigenous species regulated by the Wildlife Resources Commission. United States Department of Agriculture Class A, B, or C licensees would also be exempt provided that they: (i) register regulated animals with the appropriate animal control authority, (ii) maintain a liability insurance policy of not less that $250,000; and (iii) prohibit direct contact between regulated animals and the public and family members with animals over the age of six months.

that the animal has escaped; (6) the animal must not be traded or replaced; (7) notification to local law enforcement and fire departments of the types and numbers of regulated animals kept; and (8) compliance with any applicable federal, State, or local laws, rules, regulations, ordinances, permits, or other permissions. A person in legal possession of a regulated animal and who is in compliance with these provisions during the animal's life may replace the animal upon its death, provided that the animal's death was not the result of neglect or cruelty.

- Confiscation of characteristically wild animals by authorities: An animal control or law enforcement authority may confiscate an animal if: (1) it has probable cause to believe that the animal was acquired or held in contravention of Chapter 19B; (2) the animal poses a public safety or health risk; or (3) the animal is in poor health and condition as a result of the owner's actions or inaction.

  This section includes procedures for notice of the confiscation; return of the animal based on certain findings, and if not returned then procedures for placement or euthanasia; and discretion of authorities to act in response to release or escape of a regulated animal.
- Penalties: A person violating the provisions of the PCS would be liable for a civil penalty to be determined by a court.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO REGULATE PUPPY MILLS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 19A-21 reads as rewritten:

"§ 19A-21. Purposes.

The purposes of this Article are (i) to protect the owners of dogs and cats from the theft of such pets; (ii) to prevent the sale or use of stolen pets; (iii) to insure that animals, as items of commerce, are provided humane care and treatment by regulating the transportation, commercial breeding, sale, purchase, housing, care, handling and treatment of such animals by persons or organizations engaged in transporting, breeding, buying, or selling them for such use; (iv) to insure that animals confined in commercial breeding operations, pet shops, kennels, animal shelters and auction markets are provided humane care and treatment; (v) to prohibit the sale, trade or adoption of those animals which show physical signs of infection, communicable disease, or congenital abnormalities, unless veterinary care is assured subsequent to sale, trade or adoption."

SECTION 2. G.S. 19A-23 reads as rewritten:

(5c) "Commercial breeding operation" means the physical location or facility at which a commercial breeder breeds or maintains intact female dogs of breeding age and puppies."

SECTION 3. G.S. 19A-24(a) reads as rewritten:

"(a) The Board of Agriculture shall:

(1) Establish standards for the care of animals at animal shelters, boarding kennels, pet shops, and public auctions. A boarding kennel that offers dog day care services and has a ratio of dogs to employees or supervisors, or both employees and supervisors, of not more than 10 to one, shall not as to such services be subject to any regulations that restrict the number of dogs that are permitted within any primary enclosure.

(1a) Establish standards for the care of animals at commercial breeding operations. The standards adopted shall include provisions for adequate daily exercise, adequate veterinary care, appropriate housing for intact female dogs of breeding age, females with litters and weaned puppies, and record keeping. The standards applicable to animal shelters shall apply to commercial breeding facilities unless otherwise established.

(2) Prescribe the manner in which animals may be transported to and from registered or licensed premises.

(3) Require licensees and holders of certificates to keep records of the purchase and sale of animals and to identify animals at their establishments.

The rules shall address the equipment, the process, and the separation of animals, in addition to the animals' age and condition. If the gas method of euthanasia is approved, rules shall require (i) that only commercially compressed carbon monoxide gas is approved for use, and (ii) that the gas must be delivered in a commercially manufactured chamber that allows for the individual separation of animals. Rules shall also mandate training for any person who participates in the euthanasia process."

SECTION 4. G.S. 19A-30 reads as rewritten:

"§ 19A-30. Refusal, suspension or revocation of certificate or license.

The Director may refuse to issue or renew or may suspend or revoke a certificate of registration for any animal shelter or a license for any commercial breeder, public auction, kennel, pet shop, or dealer, if after an impartial investigation as provided in this Article he determines that any one or more of the following grounds apply:

(1) Material misstatement in the application for the original certificate of registration or license or in the application for any renewal under this Article;

(2) Willful disregard or violation of this Article or any rules issued pursuant thereto;

(3) Failure to provide adequate housing facilities and/or primary enclosures for the purposes of this Article, or if the feeding, watering, sanitizing and housing practices at the animal shelter, public auction, pet shop, or kennel are not consistent with the intent of this Article or the rules adopted under this Article;

The Director shall, before refusing to issue or renew and before- suspension or revocation of a certificate of registration or a license, give to the applicant or holder thereof a written notice containing a statement indicating in what respects the applicant or holder has failed to satisfy the requirements for the holding of a certificate of registration or a license. If a certificate of registration or a license is suspended or revoked under the provisions hereof, the holder shall have five days from such suspension or revocation to surrender all certificates of registration or licenses issued thereunder to the Director or his authorized representative.

A person to whom a certificate of registration or a license is denied, suspended, or revoked by the Director may contest the action by filing a petition under G.S. 150B-23 within five days after the denial, suspension, or revocation.

SECTION 5. Article 1A of Chapter 19A of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 19A-29.1. License required for commercial breeder; penalty.

(a) No commercial breeder shall operate in the State without first obtaining a commercial breeders license. Application for a license shall be in the manner provided by the Director. The license period shall be the fiscal year and the license fee shall be fifty dollars ($50.00) for each license period or part thereof, beginning with the first day of the fiscal year.

(b) Acting as a commercial breeder without first obtaining a license as set forth in subsection (a) of this section shall constitute a Class 2 misdemeanor. A second or subsequent offense shall constitute a Class 1 misdemeanor. Animals found in the possession or custody of an unlicensed commercial breeder who has been convicted of acting as an unlicensed commercial breeder within the past 5 years, shall be subject to immediate seizure and impoundment and shall be subject to sale or euthanasia in the discretion of the Director."

SECTION 6. Article 1A of Chapter 19A of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 19A-29.2. Additional standards of care for commercial breeders; inspections.

(a) Commercial breeders shall provide adequate veterinary care to the intact female dogs of breeding age and any puppies in their care and custody. An intact female dog of breeding age shall not be bred without an examination from a licensed veterinarian that the dog is in suitable health for breeding.

(b) Commercial breeding operations shall be subject to inspection by duly appointed employees of the Department unless otherwise requested by a local animal control officer and authorized by the Department. In conducting such inspections, the Department employee or local animal control officer may inspect the records of the commercial breeder, the premises where animals are bred and maintained, and any animal used in the breeding program or any puppies in their care and custody. Denial of access to the commercial breeding operation shall be grounds for revocation of the commercial breeders license."

SECTION 7. Article 1A of Chapter 19A of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 19A-29.3. Penalties for commercial breeder failing to provide adequate care for animals; disposition of animals.

The failure of a commercial breeder to adequately house, exercise, feed, water, provide adequate veterinary care, or otherwise meet the standards of care for the animals in the commercial breeder's custody or possession shall constitute a Class 3 misdemeanor, and the commercial breeder shall be subject to a fine of not less than fifty dollars ($50.00) per animal or more than a total of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00). The failure to meet the standards of care for the animals in the commercial breeder's custody or possession shall also constitute grounds for revocation of the commercial breeder's license. The animals in the possession or custody of the commercial breeder may be subject to seizure and impoundment and upon conviction may be sold or euthanized at the discretion of the Director. Prior to seizure, the Director shall consult with the county in which the animals are located. At the discretion of the Director, a county may accept custody of the animals."

SENATE BILL 460: Puppy Mill Bill.

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 30, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Davis	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to Second Edition S460-CSTD-59

SUMMARY: The proposed committee substitute to Senate Bill 460 would require persons who are engaged in the commercial breeding of dogs to obtain a license from the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services (DACS) and to operate in compliance with standards of care to be adopted by the Department.

[As introduced, this bill was identical to H460, as introduced by Reps. Jeffus, Dickson, Harrison, which is currently in Rules, Calendar, and Operations of the House.]

CURRENT LAW:

Article 3 of Chapter 19A of the General Statutes is the Animal Welfare Act. The act requires persons who operate boarding kennels, public auctions, and pet shops or who act as an animal dealer, to obtain a license from the DACS. Persons operating animal shelters are required to obtain a certificate of registration. In addition, those persons operating kennels, public auctions, pet shops, and animal shelters must comply with rules adopted by the Board of Agriculture which provide standards of care, including recordkeeping and transportation, for the animals kept at these facilities. Failure to obtain a license for the operation of a pet shop, kennel, or public auction is a Class 3 misdemeanor with a penalty of no less than $5 and no more than $25. Failure to obtain a license to act as a dealer is a Class 2 misdemeanor. Failure to adequately house, feed, and water animals is a Class 3 misdemeanor and the person shall be subject to a fine of not less than $5 per animal with a total cap of $1,000. In addition, the Department may assess a civil penalty of not more than $5,000 for a violation of the provisions of the article. The Department must consider the degree and extent of harm caused by the violation in assessing the penalty.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Senate Bill 460 adds commercial dog breeders to those operations which are required to obtain a license from DACS and provides that they must operate consistent with standards of care adopted by the Department.

1. G.S. 19A-23 is amended to add definitions of commercial breeder and commercial breeding operation. A commercial breeder is a person, who during any 12 month period, maintains more than 15 intact female dogs of breeding age and more than 30 puppies for the primary purpose of the sale of their offspring as companion animals. A commercial breeding operation is the physical location or facility at which a commercial breeder breeds or maintains intact female dogs and their offspring.

2. G.S. 19A-24 is amended to require the Board of Agriculture to establish standards of care for animals at a commercial breeding operation. The standards are to take into consideration the particular needs of the dogs used in such an operation and include provisions for adequate daily exercise, veterinary care, housing for intact females, females with litters, and housing for weaned puppies. The standards that apply to animal shelters will apply to commercial breeding facilities unless other rules are established.

3. New G.S. 19A-29.1 sets the fee for a commercial breeder's license at $50. Failure to obtain a license is a Class 2 misdemeanor. Animals found in the custody of an unlicensed commercial breeder shall be subject to immediate seizure and impoundment, and on conviction, shall become subject to sale or euthanasia in the discretion of the Director of the Animal Welfare Division.

4. In addition to the standards of care adopted pursuant to G.S. 19A-24, new G.S. 19A-29.2 provides that intact female dogs of breeding age shall not be bred without a certification from a veterinarian that the dog is in suitable health for breeding. Commercial breeding operations will be subject to inspections by employees of the Department or by local animal control officers. Denial of access to the operation is grounds for the revocation of the license.

5. Failure to comply with the statutes and rules governing commercial breeders may result in the refusal to issue, suspension, or revocation of a commercial breeder's license. Failure to obtain a license is a Class 2 misdemeanor and animals in the possession of an unlicensed commercial breeder may be seized and impounded, and if the commercial breeder is convicted, sold or euthanized in the discretion of the Director. Failure to meet the standards of care is a Class 3 misdemeanor and the commercial breeder shall be subject to a fine of not less than $50 per animal or more than a total of $1,000. Failure to meet standards of care also constitutes grounds for revocation of the breeder's license. The animals may also be seized and impounded, and, if the commercial breeder is convicted, may be sold or euthanized in the discretion of the Director. The Director must consult with the County where the animals are located. At the discretion of the Director, a county may take custody of the animals.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act becomes effective May 1, 2010 and applies to the commercial breeding of dogs on or after that date.

BILL SUMMARY:
S.B. 460 amends G.S. 19A. The bill requires the Board of Agriculture to establish standards for the care of animals at commercial breeding operations, including provisions for adequate daily exercise, adequate veterinary care, appropriate housing and record keeping. It also requires commercial dog breeders to obtain a commercial breeders license before commencing operations; failure to obtain a license is a Class 2 misdemeanor. The bill gives the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services (DACS), or local animal control, the right to inspect commercial breeding operations.

S.B. 460 prohibits commercial breeders from breeding females less than 18 months or more than 8 years old, requires an annual certification that a female dog is healthy enough for breeding; and requires that veterinary care be provided to all dogs and their offspring. The bill establishes penalties (fines of at least $50 per animal up to a total of $1,000, Class 3 misdemeanor) for failure of a commercial breeder to adequately house, exercise, feed, water, provide adequate veterinary care or otherwise meet the standards of care for their animals.

BACKGROUND
In 1966, the U.S. Congress passed the Animal Welfare Act (USAWA), which outlines specific minimum standards of care for dogs (and other animals) bred for commercial resale. Under the USAWA, certain large-scale commercial breeders are required to be licensed and regularly inspected by the United States Department of Agriculture. Only "wholesale" facilities that breed animals for resale – for example, to pet stores – are subject to the USAWA; operations that sell directly to the public are not required to adhere to USAWA or any federal humane care standards.

S.B. 460 requires the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services (DACS) to develop standards of care, license, and inspect all commercial dog breeders who maintain 15 or more adult female dogs, in a 12-month period, for the primary purpose of the sale of their puppies. DACS already has standards of care in place for animal shelters, boarding kennels, pet shops, and public auctions. In addition, DACS licenses, or issues certificates of registration, and inspects these facilities.

DACS' Animal Welfare Section (AWS) estimates that there are at least 200 commercial breeders operating in North Carolina; of these, 79 are known to have more than 15 female dogs. AWS stresses the fact that this is most likely a very conservative estimate of the actual number of commercial dog breeders; because the industry is unregulated, it is essentially a hidden industry, making an accurate estimate of the number of breeders, at best, an educated guess.

While regulation may cause some commercial breeders to shut down, AWS expects the number of known breeders to grow to 240 within five years. This growth is due to three main factors:

- Increased attention to the industry by DACS will uncover additional breeders;
- Inspected facilities will inform on their non-regulated competitors; and
- Increased public awareness of commercial dog breeding standards will increase the number of public complaints about commercial breeding facilities.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

Developing Standards

Housing situations (long-term & short-term) at commercial dog breeding operations are sufficiently different from those in currently regulated facilities that new rules would have to be developed to accommodate the different goals of operation. Many other states, and the federal government have rules that could serve as a model for North Carolina. Because S.B. 460 only includes dogs, developing the rules should be less involved than if other species were included.

It is anticipated that the development of these rules will be controversial. The American Kennel Club and other organizations that promote ethical breeding are expected to object. Assuming little to no controversy, new regulation could be implemented in approximately six months. However, because of the expected controversy, it could take a year or more to pass the rules. As an example, development of the euthanasia rules began in June, 2006, but the rules have yet to be adopted.

Expected Revenue

There are two sources of revenue under S.B. 460 – license revenue and fines. All commercial breeding facilities would be required to purchase a license to operate. Failure to obtain a license is a Class 2 misdemeanor, and continuing to operate without a license can result in the immediate seizure and impoundment of the animals upon conviction. The license fee is $50. Assuming all commercial breeders purchase a license, DACS would receive $3,950 in revenue in the first year. This revenue is expected to increase to $12,000 per year by FY 2013-14 due to the expected increase in the number of regulated facilities.

Fines & Forfeitures

S.B. 460 allows AWS to assess penalties on breeders who fail to provide adequate care for their animals. The failure to properly care for the animals (house, exercise, feed, water, provide veterinary care, etc) is a Class 3 misdemeanor; for this offense, the breeder could also be subject to a fine of not less than $50 per animal, up to $1,000. Pursuant to Article IX, Section 7(b) of the Constitution, the proceeds of all civil penalties that are collected due to S.B. 460 will deposited in the Civil Penalty and Forfeiture Fund. The proceeds may be diminished only by the actual costs of collection. The DACS' administrative withholding rate is 17.25%.

AWS does not expect significant revenue from fines. Their policy is to work with non-compliant facilities to bring them into compliance with the regulation. AWS can escalate their requests for cooperation by issuing a "Cease and Desist" order and, ultimately, taking over the facility. Businesses recognize that failure to comply with the regulations puts their livelihood at risk and that there are substantial legal costs associated with a challenge to AWS regulation. Thus, AWS has found that their cooperative approach has been effective in bringing organizations into compliance and keeping businesses open.

AWS provided historical information on fines collected from 1996 until 2004. Over this period, AWS collected eight fines, for revenue of $4,100, or less than $500 per year. For the purpose of this fiscal note, annual fine revenue of $1,000 has been assumed, reflecting AWS' expectation that at least one commercial breeding facility will be taken over. Takeovers will typically result in fines to the operators of no less than $50 per animal up to $1,000 per breeder.

Per G.S. 115C-457.2, the clear proceeds of the $1,000 fine revenue will go to the Civil Penalty and Forfeiture Fund; DACS will retain its cost of collection based on its 17.5% administrative withholding rate. Table 2 shows the breakdown of the fine by recipient.

Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services

S.B. 460 will require AWS to inspect commercial dog breeders. It is expected that the number of inspections needed for each commercial breeding facility will exceed the number needed at currently licensed facilities. Currently, facilities that are required to be licensed under North Carolina's Animal Welfare Act (NCAWA) have a 30% failure rate, despite being subject to inspection for several years. Historically, when taken under NCAWA regulations, facilities have a near 100% inspection failure rate for the first several years. For instance, in 2005, public animal shelters were required to meet the standards of the NCAWA; few passed initial inspection and, as a result, were inspected up to five times per year.

AWS currently employs five Animal Health Technicians who inspect over 640 facilities across the State. Given the 30% failure rate, these five inspectors performed more than 1,000 inspections and travelled over 120,000 miles in 2008. Thus, facilities are inspected, on average, 1.6 times per year and each inspector is responsible for over 200 inspections every year. Regulating the commercial dog breeding industry will require three additional inspectors for at least the first five years. At first glance, if each facility only required one inspection, it appears that these new inspectors will only be inspecting 29 facilities each in the first year, increasing to 80 each in the fifth year. However, AWS assumes that each facility will be inspected at least three times and need additional support from inspectors to understand and comply with the new regulations.

Inspectors will also be needed to identify "hidden" commercial dog breeding facilities and investigate the large number of calls that are expected following the implementation of the new regulations. Finally, AWS expects to takeover at least one facility per year for the first several years. Takeovers are staff intensive; one recent takeover required over 750 hours of a field inspectors time. AWS anticipates that the number of additional inspectors could be reduced as facilities come into compliance or close.

AWS will also require an administrative assistant, an attorney, and a paralegal to handle the increased administrative and legal work associated with the new regulations. AWS expects a number of legal challenges from the newly regulated operations; the current attorney is at capacity and will not be able to handle the additional work. Table 3 provides a breakdown of staff duties.

Operating expenses associated with the new inspection duties would total $27,313 in the six months of FY 2009-10 that the new regulation would be in place. This figure includes on-going operating expenses of $23,213 as well as $7,100 in start-up expenses for computers and inspection equipment. The FY 2010-11 operating expenses are expected to be $41,022. The increase is due to several factors including the increase in known commercial breeders and vehicle expenses, which are based on 2,000 miles driven per month at a vehicle rental rate of $0.52 per mile. Table 4 provides a summary of all expected expenses.

During the initial years of regulation, it is possible that involuntary facility closure will be required. Costs associated with closure can be significant. It is important to consider the possible costs arising from a "takeover" of a facility. An AWS "takeover" of a small private animal shelter in Hendersonville cost the State over $50,000 in staff time. This figure was for only one week of on-site care for approximately 150 animals, which is considerably smaller than recent actions against puppy mills by county officials working with the Humane Society of the United States.

In the Hendersonville case, the owners agreed to sign over the animals and allow AWS to use their facility to provide care; this is uncommon. If an owner decides to contest the takeover, the animals must be held until the appeal is concluded. A recent case in Lee County took three years before the courts declared the breeder was no longer the legal owner of the animals. The standard cost to board and feed one dog is eight dollars per day. In the Lee County case, 40 animals were held for three years, at a cost exceeding $345,000, not including veterinary care.

AWS estimates that a takeover will occur twice per year for the first three years until breeders are convinced that action can, and will, be taken. For the purpose of this analysis, Fiscal Research has assumed that, for the first three years, AWS will takeover two 50 dog facilities per year, and that AWS must board the dogs for three months (90 days). Beginning in FY 2012-13, it was assumed that one facility per year will require takeover. This results in an expected takeover cost, exclusive of staff time, of $72,000 per year for the first three years and $36,000 per year after that. Based on the examples provided by AWS, this is a very conservative estimate of the possible cost of takeover.

Section 5 enacts G.S. 19A-29.1 subsection (b) which makes it a Class 2 misdemeanor to operate as a commercial dog breeder in North Carolina without first obtaining a commercial breeders license. Subsection (b) provides that continued illegal operation after conviction is a separate offense.

Because the proposed Section 5 creates a new offense, the NC Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission does not have any historical data from which to estimate the impact of this section on the prison population. It is not known how many offenders might be convicted and sentenced under the proposed section. In FY 2007-08, 20% of Class 2 misdemeanors convictions resulted in active sentences. The average estimated time served for Class 2 misdemeanor convictions was 10 days. Offenders serving active sentences of 90 days or less are housed in county jails. Therefore, convictions for this proposed offense would not be expected to have significant impact on the prison population. The impact on local jail populations is not known.

Proposed G.S. 19A-23(5b) defines "Commercial breeder" as an individual who, during any 12 month period, maintains at least 15 adult female dogs for the primary purpose of the sale of their offspring as companion animals. A subset of the individuals who would qualify as commercial breeders under G.S. 19A-23(5b) are already subject to licensure as dealers. Subsection 7 of G.S. 19A-23 defines a "Dealer" as any person who sells, exchanges, or donates, or offers to sell, exchange, or donate animals to another dealer, pet shop, or research facility. A "Dealer" who maintains at least 15 adult female dogs primarily for selling their offspring as companion animals falls within the proposed definition of "commercial breeder." It is currently a Class 2 misdemeanor under G.S. 19A-34 to act as a "dealer" without a license. The Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) currently does not have a specific offense code for violations of G.S. 19A-34. The lack of an AOC offense code is some indication that this offense is infrequently charged and/or infrequently results in convictions.

Section 7:

Section 7 enacts G.S. 19A-29.3, making it a Class 3 misdemeanor for a commercial dog breeder to fail to adequately house, exercise, feed, water, provide adequate veterinary care, or otherwise meet the standards of care for the animals in the commercial breeder's custody or possession.

Because the proposed Section 7 creates a new offense, the NC Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission does not have any historical data from which to estimate the impact of this section on the prison population. It is not known how many offenders might be convicted and sentenced under the proposed section. In FY 2007-08, 24% of Class 3 misdemeanors convictions resulted in active sentences. The average estimated time served for Class 2 misdemeanor convictions was 3 days. Offenders serving active sentences of 90 days or less are housed in county jails. Therefore, convictions for this proposed offense would not be expected to have significant impact on the prison population. The impact on local jail populations is not known.

As noted above, some portion of "commercial breeders" under the proposed law are already subject to licensure as "dealers." Under G.S. 19A-35, it is currently a Class 3 misdemeanor for any person subject to licensure to fail to adequately house, feed, and water animals in his possession or custody. Therefore, a portion of the potential offender pool for the new offense is already subject to prosecution for a Class 3 misdemeanor under G.S. 19A-35. AOC currently does not have a specific offense code for violations of G.S. 19A-35. The lack of AOC offense code is some indication that this offense is infrequently charged and/or infrequently results in convictions.

The new offense would also cover certain acts by "commercial breeders" which are currently covered by general animal cruelty laws. Animal cruelty offenses typically require a showing of intentional conduct. They are also classified more highly than the proposed Class 3 misdemeanor. (For example, under subsection (a) of G.S. 14-360, it is a Class 1 misdemeanor to intentionally, inter alia, deprive any animal of necessary sustenance.) The proposed offense would not appear to result in any prison impact vis-à-vis the acts that are covered by these more serious offenses.

The Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission prepares prison population projections for each bill containing a criminal penalty. The Commission assumes for such bills that expanding existing, or creating new criminal offenses produces no deterrent or incapacitative effect on crime. Therefore, Fiscal Research does not assume deterrent effects for any criminal penalty bill.

Judicial Branch

The Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) has no data from which to determine the number of new Class 2 and Class 3 misdemeanor charges under this bill. Some individuals who would be considered "commercial breeders" under this bill already qualify as "dealers" under G.S. 19A-23. It is currently a Class 2 misdemeanor to operate as a dealer without a license (G.S. 19A-34) and a Class 3 misdemeanor for any person subject to licensure to fail to adequately care for animals in his possession or custody. AOC does not know the number of defendants charged with these misdemeanors in the past, nor the additional number of people who would come under the new licensing requirements of this bill.

To the extent that this legislation broadens the number of people charged with Class 2 and Class 3 misdemeanors, there will be an impact on the court system. Because commercial breeders by definition are responsible for multiple dogs, it is possible that offenders charged under this bill would face multiple charges, which could add to the complexity of the cases and increase costs. In FY 2007-08, a typical misdemeanor case took approximately 87 days to dispose in District Court. Any increase in judicial caseload without accompanying resources could be expected to further delay the disposition of cases.

The new Class 3 misdemeanor offense would also cover some acts by commercial breeders that are already covered as higher-level misdemeanors under animal cruelty statutes. In 2008, there were 502 defendants charged with misdemeanor cruelty to animals (Class 1 misdemeanor), which includes intentionally depriving an animal of necessary sustenance, and 33 defendants were charged with abandonment of an animal (Class 2 misdemeanor). To the extent that commercial breeders are already charged at a higher offense level under existing statutes, the Class 3 misdemeanor in this bill would have no impact.

AOC provides Fiscal Research with a fiscal impact analysis for most criminal penalty bills. For such bills, fiscal impact is typically based on the assumption that court time will increase due to anticipated increases in trials and corresponding increases in workload for judges, clerks, and prosecutors. This increased court time is also expected to result in greater expenditures for jury fees and indigent defense.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO PROHIBIT THE COVERING OF THE STATE NAME, YEAR STICKER, OR MONTH STICKER ON A STATE LICENSE PLATE BY A LICENSE PLATE FRAME AND TO DIRECT THE JOINT LEGISLATIVE TRANSPORTATION OVERSIGHT COMMITTEE AND THE REVENUE LAWS STUDY COMMITTEE TO STUDY THE AUTHORIZATION OF SPECIAL REGISTRATION PLATES.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 20-63(g) reads as rewritten:

"(g) Alteration, Disguise, or Concealment of Numbers. – Any operator of a motor vehicle who shall willfully mutilate, bend, twist, cover or cause to be covered or partially covered by any bumper, light, spare tire, tire rack, strap, or other device, or who shall paint, enamel, emboss, stamp, print, perforate, or alter or add to or cut off any part or portion of a registration plate or the figures or letters thereon, or who shall place or deposit or cause to be placed or deposited any oil, grease, or other substance upon such registration plates for the purpose of making dust adhere thereto, or who shall deface, disfigure, change, or attempt to change any letter or figure thereon, or who shall display a number plate in other than a horizontal upright position, shall be guilty of a Class 2 misdemeanor. Any operator of a motor vehicle who shall willfully cover or cause to be covered any part or portion of a registration plate or the figures or letters thereon by any device designed or intended to prevent or interfere with the taking of a clear photograph of a registration plate by a traffic control or toll collection system using cameras commits an infraction and shall be fined under G.S. 14-3.1. Any operator of a motor vehicle who shall otherwise intentionally cover any number or registration renewal sticker on a registration plate with any material that makes the number or registration renewal sticker illegible commits an infraction and shall be fined under G.S. 14-3.1. Any operator of a motor vehicle who covers the State name, year sticker, or month sticker on a registration plate with a license plate frame commits an infraction and shall be fined under G.S. 14-3.1. Nothing in this subsection shall prohibit the use of transparent covers that are not designed or intended to prevent or interfere with the taking of a clear photograph of a registration plate by a traffic control or toll collection system using cameras."

SECTION 2. The Joint Legislative Transportation Oversight Committee, in consultation with the Revenue Laws Study Committee, must study the authorization of special registration plates under Part 5 of Article 3 of Chapter 20 of the General Statutes and the issuance of special registration plates with a design that is not a "First in Flight" design. As part of its study, the Division of Motor Vehicles must report to the Committee the special registration plates that have been authorized but for which the Division has not received the minimum 300 applications. It is the intent of the General Assembly to repeal the authorization for a special plate that has not received at least 300 applications within two years of its authorization.

SECTION 3. Section 1 of this act becomes effective December 1, 2009, and applies to offenses committed on or after that date. During the period from December 1, 2009, to November 30, 2010, an operator of a motor vehicle who violates this act shall be given a warning of violation only. The remainder of this act is effective when it becomes law.

HOUSE BILL 67:
License Plate Frame/State Name Visible

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	July 1, 2009
Introduced by:	Rep. Cole	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette
Analysis of:	Third Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 67 would prohibit the use of a license plate frame that covers the State name, year sticker, or month sticker on a license plate. The proposed Senate committee substitute adds a study provision to the bill.

CURRENT LAW: Under current law, it is a Class 2 misdemeanor or an infraction to cover or obscure a license plate, depending on the circumstances as specified in G.S. 20-63(g) (see text below). Assuming no prior convictions, the penalty for a Class 2 misdemeanor is a maximum of 30 days of community punishment and/or a fine up to $1,000. The penalty for an infraction is a fine up to $100.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 67 would make covering the State name, year sticker, or month sticker on a license plate with a license plate frame an infraction punishable by a penalty not to exceed $100.

The proposed Senate committee substitute directs the Joint Legislative Transportation Oversight Committee, in consultation with the Revenue Laws Study Committee, to study the authorization for special registration plates and the issuance of special registration plates with a design that is not a "First in Flight" design. The provision directs the Division of Motor Vehicles to report to the Committees on the special registration plates that have been authorized but for the Division has not received the minimum 300 applications, with the stated intent to repeal the authorization for a special plate that has not received the requisite applications within two years of its authorization.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Section 1 of the act would become effective December 1, 2009, and would apply to offenses committed on or after that date. However, a person violating this act would only receive a warning of violation from December 1, 2009, to November 30, 2010.

HOUSE BILL 205:
Lottery Act Changes

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 30, 2009
Introduced by:	Rep. Owens	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell
Analysis of:	Fourth Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 205 would make various changes to the statutes that govern the Lottery in North Carolina. The current version of the bill was given a favorable report in House Judiciary III.

CURRENT LAW: Chapter 18C of the General Statutes (the North Carolina State Lottery Act) establishes the North Carolina Lottery Commission and regulates the operation of the Lottery in North Carolina. The Act was passed by the General Assembly in 2005.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 205 makes the following changes to the North Carolina Lottery Act:

- Change the term "vendor" to "potential contractor" – The term "vendor" currently appears throughout Chapter 18C and is defined as a person other than a lottery retailer who submits a bid, proposal, or offer to procure a contract for goods or services for the Commission. Although it is a defined term, some confuse vendors with retailers or contractors. House Bill 205 would change the term "vendor" to "potential contractor" throughout the Chapter to eliminate confusion. The definition would remain the same.

- Add new definition for "lottery supplier" – The law currently sets out contracting requirements for the Commission in procuring goods and services, which include extensive background checks of potential contractors. House Bill 205 would add a definition for "lottery supplier" in order to differentiate between a contractor who provides goods and services on an ongoing basis and a person from whom the Commission makes an individual purchase with no long term contractual obligations. Background checks would not be required for lottery suppliers.

- Clarify what information about a lottery winner is public record – House Bill 205 would specify that the only information about a lottery winner that is considered a public record is the person's name, city and state of residence, game played, amount won, and date won.

- Clarify how prizes are paid after death of a prize winner – Current law states that a prize may be paid to the estate of a deceased prize winner. House Bill 205 clarifies that the prize remaining unpaid at the time of the prize winner's death could be paid to the estate or the trustee of a trust established by the prize winner or as designated by the prize winner in a prepared legal instrument. The trust document or instrument should be filed with the Director prior to the death of the winner.

- Conform statutory provisions pertaining to debt set-off program to current practice – Current law requires the Commission to establish a debt set-off program by which lottery prize payments may be used to satisfy a debt owed to a claimant agency.[1] The Commission currently uses the Department of Revenue debt set-off program[2] in order to avoid requiring agencies to register with both the Department and the Commission. House Bill 205 clarifies this process in the statutes and authorizes

[1] A claimant agency includes a State agency and the following local agencies: county, municipality, water and sewer authority, regional joint agency created by interlocal agreement, public health authority, metropolitan sewerage district, sanitary district

[2] The Setoff Debt Collection Act under Chapter 105A of the General Statutes authorizes State and local agencies to collect debts by diverting part or all of an individual's income tax refund to pay a debt the individual owes to a particular agency. Thus, the debt the individual owes the agency is set off against the individual's income tax refund.

the Commission and the Department to share information to the extent necessary to implement the debt set-off program.

- Clarify that commissions paid to retailers are based on face value of tickets – The law allows for compensation of lottery retailers for sales of lottery tickets at 7% of the price of the tickets. House Bill 205 amends the language used in two statutory sections dealing with the 7% to make clear that it is 7% of the face value of the tickets sold.
- Require retailers to hold lottery proceeds in trust – By contract, lottery retailers are required to place lottery proceeds into a bank account held in trust for the Lottery. House Bill 205 would add a statutory provision to require retailers to hold the proceeds, minus any applicable commissions, in trust until they are received by the Commission.
- Allow drawings where prize is less than $5,000 to be conducted without an independent accountant/auditor present – Currently, a game that involves a drawing must meet the following conditions: (i) must be open to the public, (ii) must be witnessed by an independent certified public accountant, (iii) equipment must be inspected before and after by the accountant and a Commission employee, and (iv) audio and visual recordings must be made of the drawings and inspections. House Bill 205 would differentiate between drawings involving prizes of $5,000 or more and those where the prize is less than $5,000. If the prize is less than $5,000, the drawing would not have to be independently witnessed, and the equipment would not have to be inspected. If the prize is $5,000 or more, all of the conditions would apply, but House Bill 205 would also allow an auditor employed by a certified public accounting firm to witness the drawing and do the inspections.
- Alter the schedule for security and performance audits – Currently, the Commission is required to undergo security audits every year and performance audits every two years. House Bill 205 would amend the law to require security audits every two years and performance audits beginning in 2010. The bill also clarifies that the performance audits are in addition to the security audits conducted every year.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act would be effective when it becomes law.

HOUSE BILL 215:
Tax Certification - Add Catawba & Alexander

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 30, 2009
Introduced by:	Reps. Setzer, R. Warren, Hilton	Prepared by:	Judy Collier Research Assistant
Analysis of:	Second Edition

SUMMARY: House Bill 215 is a local bill that adds Catawba County and Alexander County to the list of counties that have authority to require tax certification of a deed prior to registration.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 161-31 provides that in certain counties, the board of county commissioners may adopt a resolution to require the register of deeds to refuse to register a deed unless the county tax collector has certified that no delinquent taxes are due on the property. However, G.S. 161-31 also provides that if a board of county commissioners adopts a resolution to require the register of deeds to refuse to register a deed without the certification of the county tax collector, the register of deeds must still accept an uncertified deed that is submitted for registration under the supervision of a closing attorney and containing the statement, "This instrument prepared by: _____, a licensed North Carolina attorney. Delinquent taxes, if any, to be paid by the closing attorney to the county tax collector upon disbursement of closing proceeds."

This provision applies to the following 65 counties: Anson, Beaufort, Bertie, Burke, Cabarrus, Camden, Carteret, Caswell, Cherokee, Chowan, Clay, Cleveland, Currituck, Davidson, Davie, Duplin, Durham, Edgecombe, Forsyth, Gaston, Gates, Graham, Granville, Greene, Halifax, Harnett, Haywood, Henderson, Hertford, Hyde, Iredell, Jackson, Johnston, Jones, Lee, Lenoir, Lincoln, Macon, Madison, Martin, Montgomery, Nash, Northampton, Onslow, Pasquotank, Pender, Perquimans, Person, Pitt, Polk, Robeson, Rockingham, Rowan, Rutherford, Stanly, Surry, Swain, Transylvania, Tyrrell, Vance, Warren, Washington, Wayne, Wilson, and Yadkin Counties.

In addition to G.S. 161-31, the General Assembly has enacted similar laws that prohibit a register of deeds from registering deeds unless the tax collector has certified that no delinquent taxes are due. These provisions apply to the following local governments: Avery County (1963); Mitchell County (1987); Ashe County (1993); the Towns of Newland and Spruce Pine (1997); the Town of Banner Elk (1998); the Town of Bakersville (1999); and the towns in Ashe County and Alleghany County (2005).

In a county or local government where G.S. 161-31 and other similar State laws do not apply, the register of deeds registers deeds submitted for registration regardless of whether delinquent taxes are due on the property.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 215 would add Catawba County and Alexander County to the list of counties that have the authority to require tax certification of a deed prior to registration.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill is effective when it becomes law

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO EXTEND THE EXEMPTION FROM STATUTORY COPY COSTS TO PRISONER LEGAL SERVICES AND OTHER ATTORNEYS WORKING UNDER CONTRACT WITH THE OFFICE OF INDIGENT DEFENSE SERVICES.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 7A-308(b1) reads as rewritten:

"(b1) The fees set forth in subdivision (12) of subsection (a) of this section are not chargeable when copies are requested by an attorney who has been appointed or who is under contract with the Office of Indigent Defense Services to represent an indigent person at State expense, if the request is made in connection with the appointed case or the contract and during the duration of the ~~appointment.~~ appointment or the contract."

SECTION 2. This act becomes effective July 1, 2009.

HOUSE BILL 447:
Extend IDS Copy Exemption

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	July 1, 2009
Introduced by:	Reps. Goodwin, Jackson	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell
Analysis of:	First Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 447 would extend the exemption from payment of court copying fees for attorneys appointed to represent indigent persons to attorneys under contract with the Office of Indigent Services.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 7A-308 sets various fees to be collected by the clerk of superior court. The fees go to support the General Court of Justice. The fee for preparation of copies is set at $2 for the first page of each document copied, and 25¢ for each additional page or fraction thereof. The statute exempts from the copying fees any "attorney who has been appointed to represent an indigent person at State expense, if the request is made in connection with the appointed case and during the duration of the appointment."

The Office of Indigent Defense Services (IDS) was established in 2000 to oversee the provision of legal representation to indigent defendants and others entitled to counsel under North Carolina law. There are numerous instances where NC statutes give people the right to legal services, both criminal and civil. IDS seeks to meet its duties through contracting with attorneys.

Officials at IDS believe that, in most instances, the attorneys they contract with to provide those services would be court appointed, and would therefore be entitled to the copy fee exemption under the current version of GS 7A-308. The one instance they think is not covered is Prisoner Legal Services (PLS). PLS is a nonprofit that provides legal services to inmates. G.S. 7A-498.3 requires IDS to oversee the provision of legal services in cases "in which the State is legally obligated to provide legal assistance and access to the courts to inmates . . ." That obligation is derived from court decisions dating back to the 1970s. IDS contracts with PLS to provide those services, and it thinks the PLS attorneys under contract do not fit the "attorney who has been appointed to represent an indigent persion" profile necessary under current law to qualify for the copy fee exemption.

BILL ANALYSIS: HB 447 would extend the copying fee exemption from court-appointed attorneys to attorneys under contract with the Office of Indigent Defense Services.

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 1, 2009.

Any identifying information concerning the treatment of or delivery of services to a client who has not consented to the public disclosure of the treatment or services may be deleted. SECTION 9. Article 24 of Chapter 90 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

(2) Criminal history. – A history of conviction of a State or federal crime, whether a misdemeanor or felony, that bears on an applicant's fitness for licensure to practice professional counseling. The crimes include the criminal offenses set forth in any of the following Articles of Chapter 14 of the General Statutes: Article 5, Counterfeiting and Issuing Monetary Substitutes; Article 5A, Endangering Executive and Legislative Officers; Article 6, Homicide; Article 7A, Rape and Other Sex Offenses; Article 8, Assaults; Article 10, Kidnapping and Abduction; Article 13, Malicious Injury or Damage by Use of Explosive or Incendiary Device or Material; Article 14, Burglary and Other Housebreakings; Article 15, Arson and Other Burnings; Article 16, Larceny; Article 17, Robbery; Article 18, Embezzlement; Article 19, False Pretenses and Cheats; Article 19A, Obtaining Property or Services by False or Fraudulent Use of Credit Device or Other Means; Article 19B, Financial Transaction Card Crime Act; Article 20, Frauds; Article 21, Forgery; Article 26, Offenses Against Public Morality and Decency; Article 26A, Adult Establishments; Article 27, Prostitution; Article 28, Perjury; Article 29, Bribery; Article 31, Misconduct in Public Office; Article 35, Offenses Against the Public Peace; Article 36A, Riots and Civil Disorders; Article 39, Protection of Minors; Article 40, Protection of the Family; Article 59, Public Intoxication; and Article 60, Computer-Related Crime. The crimes also include possession or sale of drugs in violation of the North Carolina Controlled Substances Act in Article 5 of Chapter 90 of the General Statutes and alcohol-related offenses including sale to underage persons in violation of G.S. 18B-302 or driving while impaired in violation of G.S. 20-138.1 through G.S. 20-138.5. In addition to the North Carolina crimes listed in this subdivision, such crimes also include similar crimes under federal law or under the laws of other states.

(b) The Board may request that an applicant for licensure, an applicant seeking reinstatement of a license, or a licensee under investigation by the Board for alleged criminal offenses in violation of this Article consent to a criminal history record check. Refusal to consent to a criminal history record check may constitute grounds for the Board to deny licensure to an applicant, deny reinstatement of a license to an applicant, or revoke the license of a licensee. The Board shall ensure that the State and national criminal history of an applicant is checked. The Board shall be responsible for providing to the North Carolina Department of Justice the fingerprints of the applicant or licensee to be checked, a form signed by the applicant or licensee consenting to the criminal record check and the use of fingerprints and other identifying information required by the State or National Repositories of Criminal Histories, and any additional information required by the Department of Justice in accordance with G.S. 114-19.26. The Board shall collect any fees required by the Department of Justice and shall remit the fees to the Department of Justice for expenses associated with conducting the criminal history record check.

(c) If an applicant or licensee's criminal history record check reveals one or more convictions listed under subdivision (a)(2) of this section, the conviction shall not automatically bar licensure. The Board shall consider all of the following factors regarding the conviction:

(1) The level of seriousness of the crime.
(2) The date of the crime.
(3) The age of the person at the time of the conviction.
(4) The circumstances surrounding the commission of the crime, if known.
(5) The nexus between the criminal conduct of the person and the job duties of the position to be filled.
(6) The person's prison, jail, probation, parole, rehabilitation, and employment records since the date the crime was committed.
(7) The subsequent commission by the person of a crime listed in subdivision (a)(2) of this section.

If, after reviewing these factors, the Board determines that the applicant or licensee's criminal history disqualifies the applicant or licensee for licensure, the Board may deny licensure or reinstatement of the license of the applicant or revoke the license of the licensee. The Board may disclose to the applicant or licensee information contained in the criminal history record check that is relevant to the denial. The Board shall not provide a copy of the criminal history record check to the applicant or licensee. The applicant or licensee shall have the right to appear before the Board to appeal the Board's decision. However, an appearance before the full Board shall constitute an exhaustion of administrative remedies in accordance with Chapter 150B of the General Statutes.

(d) Limited Immunity. – The Board, its officers, and employees, acting in good faith and in compliance with this section, shall be immune from civil liability for denying licensure or reinstatement of a license to an applicant or revoking a licensee's license based on information provided in the applicant or licensee's criminal history record check."

SECTION 10. Article 4 of Chapter 114 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 114-19.26. Criminal record checks of applicants for licensure as professional counselors.

The Department of Justice may provide to the North Carolina Board of Licensed Professional Counselors from the State and National Repositories of Criminal Histories the criminal history of any applicant for licensure or reinstatement of a license or licensee under Article 24 of Chapter 90 of the General Statutes. Along with the request, the Board shall provide to the Department of Justice the fingerprints of the applicant or licensee, a form signed by the applicant or licensee consenting to the criminal record check and use of fingerprints and other identifying information required by the State and National Repositories, and any additional information required by the Department of Justice. The applicant or licensee's fingerprints shall be forwarded to the State Bureau of Investigation for a search of the State's criminal history record file, and the State Bureau of Investigation shall forward a set of fingerprints to the Federal Bureau of Investigation for a national criminal history record check. The Board shall keep all information obtained pursuant to this section confidential. The Department of Justice may charge a fee to offset the cost incurred by it to conduct a criminal record check under this section. The fee shall not exceed the actual cost of locating, editing, researching, and retrieving the information."

SECTION 11. Licensed professional counselors who are approved by the North Carolina Board of Licensed Professional Counselors as qualified clinical supervisors before July 1, 2012, shall have until July 1, 2014, to meet the licensed professional counselor supervisor requirements of G.S. 90-336(d), as enacted in Section 6 of this act.

However, any notice or statement of charges against any applicant or licensee or any notice to a licensee or applicant of a hearing in any proceeding or any decision made in connection with a hearing in any proceeding is a public record.

Section 3 would amend the section of the Licensed Professional Counselors Act pertaining to exemptions from licensure by:

- Clarifying that any person counseling within the scope of employment at a private institution of higher education in addition to a public institution of higher education or a community college would be exempt; and
- Removing from the list of exemptions any person (i) counseling as a supervised counselor in a supervised professional practice for a specified period of time, (ii) performing counseling solely as an employee of an area facility that is operated by or under contract with mental health, developmental disabilities, and substance abuse authority if certain conditions apply, (iii) performing counseling as an employee of a licensed hospital or other health care facility who is performing this counseling under the supervision of a qualified professional, and (iv) any employee assistance professional providing core specific employee assistance program activities.

Section 4 would clarify that (i) any State or nationally recognized professional association representing professional counselors may make recommendations to the Governor for membership on the North Carolina Board of Licensed Professional Counselors (Board), and (ii) appointees to the Board would continue to serve until a successor is appointed and qualified.

Section 6 would amend G.S. 90-336 by adding the qualifications for licensure for licensed professional counselor associate and licensed professional counselor supervisor and modifying licensure and qualifications for licensed professional counselor in terms of education requirements, exam requirements, hours of supervised professional practice, and hours of professional experience.

Section 7 provides for exemptions for applicants who are Registered Practicing Counselors and in good standing with the Board, and exemptions from the new academic qualifications for licensed professional counselor associates or licensed professional counselors for certain individuals who meet specified experience requirements.

Section 8 would rewrite G.S. 90-340 to do all of the following:

Make substantial changes to the Board's authority to deny, suspend, or revoke licensure, discipline, place on probation, limit practice, or require examination, remediation, or rehabilitation of any person licensed under this Act, and would provide detailed acts or omissions that would constitute grounds for the board to take action against a person licensed under this Act such as:

- Being convicted of a felony or entering a plea of guilty or nolo contender to any felony charge under federal law or any state law;
- Being convicted of or entering a plea of guilty or nolo contender to any misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, misrepresentation, or fraud in dealing with the public, or conduct otherwise relevant to fitness to practice professional counseling;
- Having engaged in fraud or deceit in securing or attempting to secure or renew a license;
- Having practiced professional counseling in such a manner as to endanger the welfare of clients;
- Having harassed or abused, sexually or otherwise, a client, patient, student, supervisee, or trainee.
- Refusing to appear before the Board after having been ordered to do so in writing by the chair; and
- Having violated any provision of this Act or any rules adopted by the Board.

Provide additional disciplinary action that the Board may take in lieu of denial, suspension, or revocation including issuing a formal reprimand, placing an applicant on probation, and requiring supervision of the professional counseling services provided by the applicant or licensee;

Authorize the Board to assess the costs of disciplinary action against an applicant or licensee and to petition a court of competent jurisdiction to order an applicant or licensee whose physical or mental competence is in question to submit to a psychological or physical evaluation or both;

Require the Board to provide the opportunity for a hearing under specified circumstances;

Provide guidelines regarding a hearing;

Provide that information collected and compiled by or on behalf of the Board, as a result of investigations, inquiries, or interviews conducted in connection with licensing or disciplinary matters shall not be considered public records. However, any notice or statement of charges against any applicant or licensee or any notice to a licensee or applicant of a hearing in any proceeding or any decision made in connection with a hearing in any proceeding is a public record;

Allow a person whose license has been denied or revoked to reapply to the Board for licensure after one calendar year from the date of the denial or revocation;

Allow a licensee to voluntarily relinquish his or her license at any time; and Authorizes the Board to adopt rules deemed necessary to interpret and implement this section.

Section 9: Sets out the definitions and procedure providing for criminal history record checks for applicants for licensure as professional counselors. The Board would have limited immunity from civil liability provided the Board acted in good faith and in compliance with this section.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

House Bill 746 amends the Professional Counselors Act to increase the maximum fee that may be charged for new licensure or renewal as a counselor from $100 to $200 and increases the fee for late applications from $25 to $75. According to the North Carolina Board of Licensed Professional Counselors, there are typically 2,000 applications for renewal and 400 applications for a new license each year. Of these applications, 100 are late. The Board does not plan to increase its fees within the foreseeable future. Therefore, the fee changes will have no fiscal impact. Should the Board, however, choose to impose a higher fee up to the $200 maximum allowed by this bill, it will result in an increase in revenues as high as $205,000 annually.

House Bill 746 alters and clarifies the positions regulated by the North Carolina Board of Licensed Professional Counselors. The qualifications of certain positions are altered; however, the bill provides exemptions from the new academic qualifications for licensed professional counselor associates or licensed professional counselors for individuals who meet certain experience requirements and are in good standing with the Board. These individuals are encouraged to apply for relicensing within the next two years and will be exempted from renewal fees. This situation applies to board professionals who seek to become relicensed as professional counselor associates under the new standards. These individuals were previously exempted from fees. There are currently 335 board professional applicants who seek relicensing as counselor associates. The Board emphasizes that this number is variable and that it is uncertain how this number will change in the future. This analysis assumes that in 2010 there will also be 335 applicants for relicensing and that most people will relicense within the first two years of the qualification changes. Since the Board does not plan on increasing application fees to their statutory maximum, the fiscal impact from relicensing will be the number of board professional applicants multiplied by the current application fee. This results in a $33,500 increase in revenues for Fiscal Year 2009-10. Should the Board, however, impose a higher fee up to the $200 maximum allowed by this bill, the increase could be as high as $67,000. These changes are not expected have an additional impact.

Finally, House Bill 746 grants the Board of License Professional Counselors increased authority in disciplining and investigating the individuals they license. While these powers were not explicitly listed before, they were already practiced by the Board. The bill, however, gives the Board new authority to levy penalties against applicants or licensees to recoup the costs of disciplinary action. This will result an increase in revenues. Because the Board has not yet determined what the penalties will be, the size of this increase cannot be determined.

Department of Justice

The Department of Justice (DOJ) reports that a fee of $38 is charged to perform each criminal background check. Of this fee, $22 is forward to the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) for a check of federal databases, and the remaining $16 is retained by DOJ. Of this $16, $14 goes to a check of NC databases and $2 is used for the processing cost associated with the request. All individuals applying for a new license or for reinstatement of a license would be subject to this background check. Using the information provided by the NC Board of Licensed Professional Counselors, there are 400 applications for a new license each year. These 400 background checks are expected to provide a total annual receipt of $6,400 for DOJ.

The proposed bill gives the NC Board of Licensed Professional Counselors the authorization to request background checks on licensees under investigation by the Board. The number of requests cannot be determined with the information provided, however, these additional background checks will result in an increase in receipts for DOJ. In addition, the number of requests for background checks for individuals seeking to reinstate a license cannot be determined, but any background check requested for this purpose will also result in an increase in DOJ receipts.

HOUSE BILL 1105:
Amend Laws/Refrigeration Contractors

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	July 1, 2009
Introduced by:	Rep. Martin	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell
Analysis of:	Third Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 1105 would amend the laws regulating refrigeration contractors.

CURRENT LAW: Article 5 of Chapter 87 of the General Statutes deals with refrigeration contractors. It creates the State Board of Refrigeration Examiners and requires that persons and corporations apply to the Board and get a license before engaging in refrigeration business or contracting. The Article also provides for revocation or suspension of licenses for cause. A violation of the Article is currently a Class 2 misdemeanor, and the Board may also seek injunctive relief when appropriate.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 1105 would amend Article 5 of Chapter 87 in the following ways:

Section 1 would provide that the definition of "refrigeration trade business" does not include either of the following:

- The installation of self-contained commercial refrigeration units equipped with an Original Equipment Manufacturer (OEM) molded plug that does not require the opening of service valves or the replacement of lamps, fuses, and door gaskets.
- The installation and servicing of domestic household self-contained refrigeration appliances equipped with an OEM molded plug connected to suitable receptacles which have been permanently installed and do not require the opening of service valves.

Section 2 would provide that regular examinations for licensing in refrigeration are to be given in the office of the Board by appointment (currently, exams are given in the months of April and October annually and additionally as the Board deems necessary).

Section 3 would require the Board to adopt and publish rules and regulations consistent with the provisions of Article 5 and Chapter 150B (currently, the Board must adopt guidelines consistent with Article 5). This section would become effective October 1, 2009.

Section 4 would provide that when the Board accepts an offer to compromise a charge against a licensee where the accused pays a penalty to the Board, the penalty funds are to be remitted to the Civil Penalty and Forfeiture Fund (was the General Fund).

Section 5 would change the penalty for violations of Article 5 from a Class 2 misdemeanor to a Class 3 misdemeanor. This section would become effective December 1, 2009, and would apply to offenses occurring on or after that date.

Section 6 would authorize the Board to employ or retain legal counsel for matters and purposes the Board deems fit and proper, subject to G.S. 114-2.3, which requires agencies of the State to obtain written permission from the Attorney General prior to employing private counsel.

Section 7 would authorize the Board to own or otherwise deal with real property in the same manner as a private person or a corporation, subject only to the approval of the Governor and the Council of State. Collateral pledged by the Board for an encumbrance would be limited to the assets, income, and revenues of the Board. This section would also provide that the Board may rent or purchase equipment and supplies, and purchase insurance to cover its activities, operations, or employees.

ection 8 would allow the Board to require, as part of the renewal of a license, that licensees complete continuing education in subjects related to refrigeration contracting. This section would become effective January 1, 2012.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Except as otherwise indicated, this act would be effective when it becomes law.

Short Title: Defer Tax on Builders' Inventory. (Public)

Referred to:

March 30, 2009

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO DEFER A PORTION OF THE PROPERTY TAX DUE ON REAL PROPERTY HELD FOR SALE BY A BUILDER.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 105-273 is amended by adding a new subdivision to read:

"(3a) "Builder" means a taxpayer licensed as a general contractor under G.S. 87-1 and engaged in the business of buying real property, making improvements to it, and then reselling it."

SECTION 2. Article 12 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 105-277.1D. Inventory property tax deferral.

(a) Classification. – A residence owned and constructed by a builder is designated a special class of property under Section 2(2) of Article V of the North Carolina Constitution and is taxable in accordance with this section. For purposes of this section, a "residence" is an improvement, other than remodeling, renovating, rehabilitating, or refinishing, by a builder to real property that is intended to be sold and used as an individual's residence, that is unoccupied, and for which a certificate of occupancy authorized by law has been issued.

(b) Deferred Taxes. – A builder may defer the portion of tax imposed on real property that represents the increase in value of the property attributable solely to improvements resulting from the construction by the builder of a residence on the property. The difference between the taxes due under this section and the taxes that would have been payable in the absence of this section are a lien on the real property of the taxpayer as provided in G.S. 105-355(a). The difference in taxes for the fiscal years preceding the current tax year shall be carried forward in the records of the taxing unit or units as deferred taxes. The deferred taxes are due and payable in accordance with G.S. 105-277.1F when the property loses its eligibility for deferral because of the occurrence of a disqualifying event. A disqualifying event occurs at the earliest of (i) when the builder transfers the residence, (ii) when the residence is occupied by the builder or by someone other than the builder with the builder's consent, (iii) five years from the time the improved property was first subject to being listed for taxation by the builder, or (iv) three years from the time the improved property first received the property tax benefit provided by this section. On or before September 1 of each year, the collector shall notify each builder to whom a tax deferral has previously been granted of the accumulated sum of deferred taxes and interest.

(c) Creditor Limitations. – A mortgagee or trustee that elects to pay any tax deferred by the builder subject to a mortgage or deed of trust does not acquire a right to foreclose as a result of the election. Except for requirements dictated by federal law or regulation, any provision in a mortgage, deed of trust, or other agreement that prohibits the builder from deferring taxes on property under this section is void.

(d) Construction. – This section does not affect the attachment of a lien for personal property taxes against a tax-deferred residence.

(e) Application. – An application for property tax relief provided by this section should be filed during the regular listing period but may be filed after the regular listing period upon a showing of good cause by the applicant for failure to make a timely application, as determined and approved by the board of equalization and review or, if that board is not in session, by the board of county commissioners. An untimely application approved under this subsection applies only to property taxes levied by the county or municipality in the calendar year in which the untimely application is filed. Decisions of the county board may be appealed to the Property Tax Commission. Persons may apply for this property tax relief by entering the appropriate information on a form made available by the assessor under G.S. 105-282.1."

SECTION 3. G.S. 105-277.1F(a) is amended by adding a new subdivision to read:

"(2a) G.S. 105-277.1D, the inventory property tax deferral."

SECTION 4. This act is effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2010. This act is repealed effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2013. Residences receiving the property tax benefit provided by this act are not affected by the repeal of this act until the occurrence of a disqualifying event.

HOUSE BILL 852:
Defer Tax on Builders' Inventory

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 30, 2009
Introduced by:	Reps. Dickson, Brubaker, Holliman, Wainwright	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	Third Edition

SUMMARY: House Bill 852 creates a property tax deferral program to defer for a maximum of three years the portion of taxes on an unoccupied, unsold residence attributable to the construction of the residence by a builder.

CURRENT LAW: North Carolina currently has six property tax deferral programs: (i) historic district property held as future site of historic structures[1], (ii) the circuit breaker tax deferral program[2], (iii) nonprofit property held as future site of low- or moderate-income housing[3], (iv) present-use value (PUV) property[4], (v) working waterfront property[5], and (vi) historic property.[6] Uniform tax provisions for all deferral programs include the following:

- Taxes that are deferred under one of these programs become a lien on the property, which is extinguished when the taxes are paid.
- The deferred taxes are due and payable on the day the property loses its eligibility for deferral as a result of a disqualifying event.
- Interest accrues during the deferral period as of the date the taxes would have originally become due without the deferral program.
- Upon disqualification, the tax for a year in which a disqualifying event occurs is computed without the benefit of the deferral program.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 852 adds an additional property tax deferral program for an occupant-ready residence constructed[7] and owned by a general contractor for resale on a parcel of real property. The amount of property tax liability that could be deferred is the portion of tax that represents the increase in the property value resulting from the construction of the residence on the property. For example, if the land value of unimproved real estate was $100,000, and the value of the property, as improved by the construction of a residence, was $400,000, the builder would be required to pay the property tax on the land value ($100,000) but could defer the property tax liability for the value of the improvement ($300,000).

The deferred taxes would be carried forward in the records of the county and, if applicable, city in which the property is located until the occurrence of one of the following disqualifying events: (1) the builder transfers the residence; (2) the residence is occupied by the builder or another with the builder's consent; (3) five years from the time the improved property was first subject to being listed for taxation by the builder, or (4) three years from the date the improved property first received the property tax benefit provided by this deferral program. The uniform provisions for deferral programs would apply to this inventory tax deferral program. Applications should be filed within the regular listing period and may be filed later if the board of equalization and review determines there is good cause for the lack of timely filing.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO ESTABLISH A STUDENT PROTECTION FUND FOR PROPRIETARY SCHOOL STUDENTS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION . G.S. 115-93(c) is amended by adding two subdivisions to read:

"(10) That the applicant for or a holder of a license has failed to provide a required bond or bond alternative.

(11) That the applicant for or holder of a license has failed to pay assessments into the Student Protection Fund."

SECTION 1. G.S. 115D-95 reads as rewritten:

"§ 115D-95. Bonds required.

(a) Requirement. – An applicant for a license must comply with the bond requirements in this section. The bond covers the potential loss by students of the school of prepaid tuition and other payments made by them that could occur if the school fails, for any reason, to fulfill its obligations to them to provide instruction, services, or goods for which the students have paid tuition and other charges. Reasons for failure include the suspension, revocation, or nonrenewal of the school's license, bankruptcy, foreclosure, or termination of operations. ~~A guaranty bond is required for each school that is licensed to operate: Provided, however, a school that is unable to secure a bond may, with the consent of the State Board of Community Colleges, provide an alternative to a guaranty bond, as provided in subsection (c) of this section.~~

(b) Amount. – An applicant for a license must file a bond with the North Carolina State Board of Community Colleges executed by the applicant as a principal and by a bonding company authorized to do business in this State. The bond must be payable to the State Board of Community Colleges, must be conditioned on fulfillment of the school's obligations, and must remain in effect until cancelled by the bonding company. The bonding company may cancel the bond upon 30 days notice to the State Board of Community Colleges.

The application must set out calculations made by the applicant to determine the amount of bond required with the application. The required amount is determined as follows:

(1) Initial licensure. – For an applicant for initial licensure of a school, the bond amount is the amount determined by the Board that is adequate to provide indemnification to any student, or the student's parent or guardian who has suffered a loss of tuition, fees, or any other instructional-related expenses paid to the school. A bond amount shall be at least twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000).

(2) First four renewals. – For a school that has been licensed for one year but less than six years, the bond shall be in an amount equal to the greatest amount of unearned paid tuition in the school's possession at anytime during the prior fiscal year. The bond amount shall be evaluated by the school quarterly and reported to the State Board or its representative. A quarterly evaluation requiring an increase of five percent (5%) or more in the amount of the bond held by the school shall require an immediate increase in the bond amount. Bond amounts shall also be evaluated pursuant to this subdivision and the rules of the State Board at the time of the school's annual license renewal and increased if necessary regardless of the amount of the change.

(2) Schools in operation more than five years. – A guaranty bond shall be required for license renewal for a school that has been continuously licensed to operate for more than five years in the State, as follows:

a. If the balance of the Student Protection Fund in G.S. 115D-95.1 is below the catastrophic loss amount, the school shall file a guaranty bond in an amount equal to the maximum amount of prepaid tuition held by the school during the prior fiscal multiplied by the percentage amount the fund is deficient.

b. If the school held prepaid tuition in excess of the Student Protection Fund catastrophic loss amount during the prior fiscal year, in addition to any bond amount required by sub-subdivision a. of this subdivision, the school shall file a guaranty bond for the difference between the prepaid tuition amount held in the previous fiscal year and the Fund catastrophic loss amount.

~~(1) When application is made for a license or license renewal, the applicant shall file a guaranty bond with the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the school will be located. The bond shall be in favor of the students. The bond shall be executed by the applicant as principal and by a bonding company authorized to do business in this State. The bond shall be conditioned to provide indemnification to any student, or his parent or guardian, who has suffered a loss of tuition or any fees by reason of the failure of the school to offer or complete student instruction, academic services, or other goods and services related to course enrollment for any reason, including the suspension, revocation, or nonrenewal of a school's license, bankruptcy, foreclosure, or the school ceasing to operate.~~

~~(2) The bond shall be in an amount determined by the State Board of Community Colleges to be adequate to provide indemnification to any student, or his parent or guardian, under the terms of the bond. The bond amount for a school shall be at least equal to the maximum amount of prepaid tuition held at any time during the last fiscal year by the school. The bond amount shall also be at least ten thousand dollars ($10,000).~~

~~Each application for a license shall include a letter signed by an authorized representative of the school showing in detail the calculations made and the method of computing the amount of the bond, pursuant to this subdivision and the rules of the State Board. If the State Board finds that the calculations made and the method of computing the amount of the bond are inaccurate or that the amount of the bond is otherwise inadequate to provide indemnification under the terms of the bond, the State Board may require the applicant to provide an additional bond.~~

~~(3) The bond shall remain in force and effect until cancelled by the guarantor. The guarantor may cancel the bond upon 30 days notice to the State Board of Community Colleges. Cancellation of the bond shall not affect any liability incurred or accrued prior to the termination of the notice period.~~

(c) An applicant that is unable to secure a bond may seek a waiver of the guaranty bond from the State Board of Community Colleges and approval of one of the guaranty bond alternatives set forth in this subsection. With the approval of the State Board, an applicant may ~~file with the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the school will be located,~~obtain in lieu of a bond:

(1) An assignment of a savings account in an amount equal to the bond required (i) which is in a form acceptable to the State Board of Community Colleges; (ii) which is executed by the applicant; and (iii) which is executed by a state or federal savings and loan association, state bank, or national bank, that is doing business in North Carolina and whose accounts are insured by a federal depositors corporation; and (iv) for which access to the account in favor of the State of North Carolina is subject to the same conditions as for a bond in subsection (b) of this section.

(2) A certificate of deposit (i) which is executed by a state or federal savings and loan association, state bank, or national bank, which is doing business in North Carolina and whose accounts are insured by a federal depositors corporation; and (ii) which is either payable to the State of North Carolina, unrestrictively endorsed to the State Board of Community Colleges; in the case of a negotiable certificate of deposit, is unrestrictively endorsed to the State Board of Community Colleges; or in the case of a nonnegotiable certificate of deposit, is assigned to the State Board of Community Colleges in a form satisfactory to the State Board; and (iii) for which access to the certificate of deposit in favor of the State of North Carolina is subject to the same conditions as for a bond in subsection (b) of this section."

SECTION 2. G.S. 115D-96 reads as rewritten:

"§ 115D-96. Operating school without license or bond made misdemeanor.

Any person, or each member of any association of persons or each officer of any corporation who opens and conducts a proprietary business school, a proprietary technical school, a proprietary trade school, or a correspondence school, without first having obtained the license herein required, and without first having executed the ~~bond required,~~bond, paid the assessments into the Student Protection Fund, or both, as required by law, shall be guilty of a Class 3 misdemeanor, and each day ~~said~~ the school continues to be open and operated shall constitute a separate offense."

SECTION 3. Chapter 115D of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 115D-95.1. Student Protection Fund.

(a) Definitions. – As used in this section:

(2) "Fund cap amount" means the catastrophic loss amount plus a reserve amount. The amount is one million five hundred thousand dollars ($1,500,000).

(b) Student Protection Fund. – The Student Protection Fund is established in the Department of State Treasurer as a statewide fee-supported fund. Interest accruing to the Fund is credited to the Fund. The State Board of Community Colleges administers the Fund. The purpose of the Fund is to compensate students enrolled in a proprietary school licensed under this Article who have suffered a loss of tuition, fees, or any other instructional-related expenses paid to the school by reason of the failure of the school to offer or complete student instruction, academic services, or other goods and services related to course enrollment for any reason, including the suspension, revocation, or nonrenewal of a school's license, bankruptcy, foreclosure, or the school ceasing to operate.

(c) Student Protection Fund Advisory Committee. – The President of the North Carolina Community College System shall appoint a Student Protection Fund Advisory Committee. Members of the Committee shall be appointed for terms of three years. The Committee shall advise the State Board of Community Colleges on matters related to the Fund, including, but not limited to, the adjustment of the catastrophic loss amount and fund cap amount.

The State Board shall require schools to resume payments into the Fund if the balance of the Fund is less than the catastrophic loss amount.

(g) Catastrophic Assessments. – If claims against the Student Protection Fund exceed the catastrophic loss amount, the State Board of Community Colleges may assess additional fees to the extent necessary to compensate students qualified for repayment under the Fund.

The amount of the catastrophic assessment shall not exceed one-half of the amount of the annual revenue payment required by subsection (e) of this section. If the amount of the catastrophic assessment will be insufficient to cover qualified claims, the State Board shall develop a method of allocating funds among claims.

(h) Payment Required for Proprietary School Licensure. – The full and timely payment into the Fund pursuant to this section is a condition of licensure.

(i) Payments Nonrefundable. – No payment to the Student Protection Fund shall be refunded in the event that a school's license application is rejected or a school's license is suspended or revoked.

(j) Student Repayment. – A student, or the student's parent or guardian, who has suffered a loss of tuition, fees, or any other instructional-related expenses paid to a proprietary school licensed under this Article by reason of the failure of the school to offer or complete student instruction, academic services, or other goods and services related to course enrollment for any reason, including the suspension, revocation, or nonrenewal of a school's license, bankruptcy, foreclosure, or the school ceasing to operate, may qualify for repayments under the Student Protection Fund. The Board must first issue repayment from the bonds issued under G.S. 115D-95.1. If the Student Protection Fund is insufficient to cover the qualified claims, the State Board must develop a method of allocating funds among claims."

SECTION 4. In addition to the payments required under G.S. 115D-95.1, as a condition of license renewal for the 2010-2011 fiscal year, each proprietary school shall pay into the Student Protection Fund an amount based on its total enrollment for the previous calendar year as follows:

SECTION 5. This act becomes effective July 1, 2010.

SENATE BILL 860:
Student Protection Fund/Proprietary Schools

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	June 30, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Clodfelter	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to Second Edition S860-CSTD-60

SUMMARY: The proposed committee substitute to Senate Bill 860 would modify the bonding requirements for proprietary schools and create the Student Protection Fund to compensate students enrolled in a proprietary school that terminates a program or ceases operation before the students have completed their course of study.

[As introduced, this bill was identical to H980, as introduced by Rep. Gibson, which is currently in House Education, if favorable, Finance.]

CURRENT LAW: Article 8 of Chapter 115D regulates private schools operated for profit, known as proprietary schools. These include proprietary business schools, proprietary trade schools, proprietary technical schools, and correspondence schools. G.S. 115D-89 directs the State Board of Community Colleges (State Board) to administer and enforce the Article and to grant and issue licenses to proprietary schools.

G.S. 115D-95 requires a guaranty bond for each proprietary school licensed to operate. If a proprietary school cannot secure a bond, it may, with the State Board's consent, provide an alternative to a guaranty bond. Failure to maintain the bond or bond alternative if grounds for license revocation by the State Board.

Bond requirements: Bonds must be filed with the clerk of superior court in the county where the school will be located when the license application is made. The bond must be in favor of the students, and must be executed by the applicant as principal and by a bonding company authorized to do business in the State.

Purpose: The bond should provide indemnification to any student, parent, or guardian who has suffered a loss of tuition and fees due to failure of the school to offer or complete student instruction, academic services, or other items related to course enrollment for any reason, including suspension, revocation, or nonrenewal of a school's license, bankruptcy, foreclosure, or cessation of the school to operate.

Amount: The bond amount is determined by the State Board in an amount adequate to provide indemnification to any student, or parent or guardian, under the terms of the bond. The amount of the bond must be at least $10,000 and cover the maximum amount of prepaid tuition held at any time during the last fiscal year by the school. The school must include detailed calculations as to the computation of the bond amount under State Board rules in its license application and the State Board may require an additional bond if such terms are inadequate.

Cancellation: The bond remains in force until cancelled by the guarantor, who may cancel the bond upon 30 days notice to the State Board. Cancellation does not affect liability incurred prior to the termination of the notice period.

G.S. 115D-96 provide that operation of a proprietary school without obtaining the required license and executing the required bond is a Class 3 misdemeanor, with each day of operation constituting a separate offense.

BILL ANALYSIS: The PCS for SB 860 would do the following:

Modified Bond Requirements (G.S. 115D-95)

Bond required – Clarifies that all schools must obtain a bond or a bond alternative approved by the Board. The Bonds will be issued in the name of the State Board of Community Colleges and shall be used to reimburse students of proprietary schools that have failed to offer or complete student instruction.

Amount of bonds required:

1. Initial Licensure: For the first year of licensure the amount of the bond shall be determined by the Board. The bond shall be at least $25,000 and in an amount sufficient to provide indemnification for the students.
2. First four renewals: During the first four years of renewal, a school must file a bond equal to the greatest amount of unearned paid tuition in the school's possession during the prior fiscal year. The bond amount must be evaluated quarterly and reported to the State Board. An increase of 5% or more in the amount of tuition held by the school would require an immediate increase in the bond amount. The State Board may also increase the amount of the bond at the time of the school's annual license renewal.
3. More than 5 Years of Operation: Schools continuously licensed to operate for more than 5 years would be required to file a bond under 2 circumstances:

   1) If the Fund balance is below the catastrophic loss amount, the school must file a bond in an amount equal to the maximum amount of prepaid tuition held by the school during the prior fiscal year, multiplied by the percentage amount the fund is deficient.

   2) If the school holds prepaid tuition in excess of the Fund catastrophic loss amount during the prior fiscal year, the school must file a bond equal to the amount of excess tuition held above the catastrophic loss amount.

Establishment of the Student Protection Fund (G.S. 115D-95.1)

Purpose: The Student Protection Fund (the Fund) is created to compensate students enrolled in proprietary schools licensed under Article 8 who suffer a loss of tuition, fees, or other instructional related expenses by failure of the school to offer or complete student instruction. The Fund is established in the Department of State Treasurer and administered by the State Board of Community Colleges (State Board).

Advisory Committee: An Advisory Committee of seven members appointed by the President of the Community Colleges System and representing the System Office and proprietary schools would advise the State Board on adjustments to fund amounts.

Defined Fund Amounts:

Catastrophic loss amount – Set at $1 million.

Fund cap amount – Set at $1.5 million.

Fund Payments: Payment into the Fund is a condition of licensure for proprietary schools.

Initial Payments: New proprietary schools would be required to pay a fee of $1,250 prior to the first year of operation in the State. Section 4 of the bill provides that existing proprietary schools would be required to pay a one-time assessment in 2010-2011 as a condition of license renewal.

The assessment amount would be based on the number of enrolled students in the school, and would range from $500 to $5,000.

Annual Payments: All proprietary schools would be required to annually pay into the fund an assessment based on the school's annual gross tuition revenue, ranging from $200.00 to $2,000 plus 0.0005% of annual gross revenue over $2,000,000.

Suspension of Payments: If the Fund balance is equal to or exceeds the Fund cap amount, the State Board must suspend payments into the Fund for all schools continuously licensed for more than 8 years. Payments must be resumed when the balance of the Fund is less than the catastrophic loss amount.

Catastrophic Assessments: If claims against the Fund exceed the catastrophic loss amount, the State Board may assess additional fees to the extent necessary to cover qualified student claims. The catastrophic assessment cannot exceed one-half of the annual payment required of schools. If the Fund amount is still insufficient to cover claims, the State Board must develop a method of allocating the funds among claims.

Payments Nonrefundable: Payments into the Fund would not be refundable in the event of a rejection, suspension, or revocation of a license.

Student Repayment: The Board must first issue repayment to students from the required bonds, or bond alternatives. If the Fund is insufficient to cover claims, the Board must develop a method of allocating funds among claims.

Class 3 Misdemeanor: G.S. 115D-96 is amended to make failure to pay the assessments required under the Student Protection Fund a Class 3 misdemeanor.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The PCS for SB 860 would become effective July 1, 2010.

Kara McCraw, counsel to Senate Education, substantially contributed to this summary.

SENATE BILL 116:
Stowe Botanical Gardens Special Plate

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	July 1, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Hoyle	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S116-CSRBf-43

SUMMARY: The proposed committee substitute for Senate Bill 116 authorizes the Division of Motor Vehicles to issue various new special license plates. All of the plates authorized by this bill require at least 300 applications for the plate before it may be designed and issued and all of the plates must be designed on a "First in Flight" background.

CURRENT LAW: The Division of Motor Vehicles is authorized to issue more than 165 special license plates. As a general rule, the fee for a special registration plate is the regular vehicle registration fee plus a $10 special registration plate fee.[1] The Division may issue one free registration plate to a recipient of the Legion of Valor[2] award, a 100% disabled veteran, or an ex-prisoner of war. All other special registration plates, including additional Legion of Valor, 100% Disabled Veteran, and Ex-Prisoner of War plates, are subject to the regular motor vehicle registration fee of $28[3] and the additional special registration plate fee of $10.

The $10 special registration plate fee is credited to the Special Registration Plate Account. After educting the cost of the plates from this account, $1,000,000 is annually appropriated to provide perating assistance for ten Visitor Centers.[4] The Centers are located in Brunswick, Camden, Carteret, Caswell, Columbus, Macon, McDowell, Transylvania, Tyrell, and Watauga Counties.[5] The remaining revenue in the account is transferred quarterly to the Department of Commerce for advertising (33%), the Department of Transportation for highway beautification (50%), and the Department of Human Resources to promote travel accessibility for disabled persons (17%).

The cost of some special plates includes a fee in addition to the $10 special registration plate fee. In those instances, the first $10 goes to the special registration plate fund and the remainder is transferred quarterly to designated beneficiaries of the additional fee amount.

BILL ANALYSIS: The PCS for Senate Bill 116 would authorize the following special plates, effective when it becomes law:

[1] Aside from the three plates available free of charge, four special registration plates are exempt from the $10 special plate ee: active member of the National Guard, Purple Heart Recipient, Silver Star Recipient, and a Gold Star lapel pin recipient. The Legion of Valor plate is issuable to a recipient of one of the following: Congressional Medal of Honor, Distinguished Service Cross, Navy Cross, or Air Force Cross.

[3] G.S. 20-87.

[4] There are 12 Visitors' Centers. The two centers that do not receive State funding are located in Dare County.

[5] Each Visitor's Center receives $100,000.

"Life Science Development Tax Credits.

"§ 105-129.100. Tax credit.

The credit is allowed against the franchise tax levied in Article 3 of this Chapter, the premium tax levied in Article 8B of this Chapter, and the income taxes levied in Article 4 of this Chapter.

(b) Credit Refundable. – If the credit allowed by this section exceeds the amount of tax imposed by this Part for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowable, the Secretary must refund the excess to the taxpayer. The refundable excess is governed by the provisions governing a refund of an overpayment by the taxpayer of the tax imposed. In computing the amount of tax against which multiple credits are allowed, nonrefundable credits are subtracted before refundable credits.

(c) Pass-Through Entity. – Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-131.8 and G.S. 105-269.15, a pass-through entity that qualifies for the credit provided in this Article does not distribute the credit among any of its owners. The pass-through entity is considered the taxpayer for purposes of claiming the credit allowed by this Article. If a return filed by a pass-through entity indicates that the entity is paying tax on behalf of the owners of the entity, the credit allowed under this Article does not affect the entity's payment of tax on behalf of its owners.

(d) Substantiation. – A taxpayer allowed a credit under this Article must maintain and make available for inspection any information or records required by the Secretary. The burden of proving eligibility for a credit and the amount of the credit rests upon the taxpayer

"§ 105-129.101. Reports.

The Department of Revenue must publish by May 1 of each year the following information, itemized by taxpayer, for the 12-month period ending the preceding December 31:

(3) The total cost to the General Fund of the credits claimed."

SECTION 3. Section 2 of this act is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2010. The remainder of this act is effective when it becomes law.

diagnostic services; and (6) service laboratories or facilities providing support services to the foregoing companies.

Requires the Corporation to organize the Fund as a private, for-profit, limited liability company having the Corporation as its sole managing member. Provides that the Fund makes loans to life science companies for (1) the acquisition or expansion of capital facilities and the acquisition of capital equipment located in the state and (2) regulatory, documentation, and other costs required to make the facilities or equipment to be located in the state operational. Authorizes the Fund to accept nonmanaging member investments from designated investors that pay a designated rate of return and scheduled redemption. Enumerates a list of factors in determining to what extent and when the Fund loans funds to qualified life science companies or other companies engaged in high-tech manufacturing. Prohibits the Fund from making a loan or loans to any borrower in excess of $30 million. Requires an annual audit of the Fund by the Corporation. Sets forth procedures for each designated investor to receive an equity certificate from the Fund, and when applicable, receive (1) payments from the Fund or (2) a tax credit certificate issued by the Secretary of Revenue (Secretary).

Enacts new Article 3L of GS Chapter 105, entitled Life Science Development Tax Credits, to provide for a refundable tax credit equal to 100% of the amount specified on the tax credit certificate issued by the Secretary to the Corporation for distribution to designated investors. Provides that this credit is allowed against a franchise tax levied in Article 3, the premium tax levied in Article 8B, or income taxes levied in Article 4 of GS Chapter 105. Requires that the taxpayer maintain and make available to the Secretary records substantiating the credit claimed. Requires that the Department of Revenue publish by May 1 of each year, for the 12-month period ending the preceding December 31, (1) the number of taxpayers claiming the credit, (2) the amount each credit claimed and the taxes against which it was applied, and (3) the total cost to the General Fund of the credits claimed.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:
Upon passage of the bill, the NC Life Science Development Fund would begin the process of recruiting investment and accepting applications for loans and determining which projects are eligible. It is estimated that $70 million in loans would be made within five years. The financial model for the Fund calls for interest-only payments to be made to investors for the first ten years. Because a reserve fund will be established from investments, the Fund is expected to be able to make all scheduled payments for at least ten years.

The Fund will begin to repay principal obligations to investors after ten years. If any of the tax credit certificates are used, it would most likely occur in 10-15 years when the principal repayments become due. A model developed for the NC Biotechnology Center projected a "worst-case scenario" loss of 25% of principal, or $17.5 million. In the event that this scenario occurred, the credits would be taken over the 5-year period with an average annual amount of $3.5 million.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO MODIFY THE AUTHORIZATION FOR WILSON COUNTY TO LEVY AN OCCUPANCY TAX.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Chapter 484 of the 1987 Session Laws, as amended by Chapter 901 of the 1987 Session Laws, Chapter 912 of the 1988 Session Laws, and Section 21(t) of S.L. 2007-527, reads as rewritten:

"Section 1. Occupancy Tax. (a) Authorization and scope. The Wilson County Board of Commissioners may ~~by resolution, after not less than ten (10) days' public notice and after a public hearing held pursuant thereto,~~ levy a room occupancy tax of up to three percent (3%) of the gross receipts derived from the rental of any room, lodging, or ~~similar~~ accommodation furnished by a hotel, motel, inn, tourist camp, or similar place within the county that is subject to sales tax imposed by the State under ~~G.S. 105-164.4(3).~~G.S. 105-164.4(a)(3). This tax is in addition to any State or local sales tax. This tax does not apply to accommodations furnished by nonprofit charitable, educational, or religious ~~organizations, by summer camps, or by businesses that offer to rent no more than five units.~~organizations when furnished in furtherance of their nonprofit purpose.

~~(b) Collection. Every operator of a business subject to the tax levied under this section shall, on and after the effective date of the levy of the tax, collect the tax. This tax shall be collected as part of the charge for furnishing a taxable accommodation. The tax shall be stated and charged separately from the sales records, and shall be paid by the purchaser to the operator of the business as trustee for and on account of the county. The tax shall be added to the sales price and shall be passed on to the purchaser instead of being borne by the operator of the business. The county shall design, print, and furnish to all appropriate businesses and persons in the county the necessary forms for filing returns and instructions to ensure the full collection of the tax.~~

(c) Administration. ~~The county shall administer a tax levied under this section.~~ A tax levied under this section ~~is due and payable to the county finance officer in monthly installments on or before the 20th day of the month following the month in which the tax accrues. Every person, firm, corporation, or association liable for the tax shall, on or before the 20th day of each month, prepare and render a return on a form prescribed by the county. The return shall state the total gross receipts derived in the preceding month from rentals upon which the tax is levied.~~shall be levied, administered, collected, and repealed, as provided in G.S. 153A-155. The penalties provided in G.S. 153A-155 apply to a tax levied under this section.

~~A return filed with the county finance officer under this section is not a public record as defined by G.S. 132-1 and may not be disclosed except as required by law.~~

~~(d) Penalties. A person, firm, corporation, or association who fails or refuses to file the return required by this section shall be subject to and pay a penalty of ten dollars ($10.00) for each day's omission. In case of failure or refusal to file the return or pay the tax for a period of thirty (30) days after the time required for filing the return or for paying the tax, there shall be an additional tax, as a penalty, of five percent (5%) of the tax due in addition to any other penalty, with an additional tax of five percent (5%) for each additional month or fraction thereof until the tax is paid.~~

~~Any person who willfully attempts in any manner to evade a tax imposed under this section or who willfully fails to pay the tax or make and file a return shall, in addition to all other penalties provided by law, be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punishable by a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000), imprisonment not to exceed six months, or both.~~

(c1) Definitions. – The following definitions apply in this act:

(1) Net proceeds. – Gross proceeds less the cost to the county of administering and collecting the tax, as determined by the finance officer, not to exceed three percent (3%) of the first five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) of gross proceeds collected each year and one percent (1%) of the remaining gross proceeds collected each year.

(2) Promote travel and tourism. – To advertise or market an area or activity, publish and distribute pamphlets and other materials, conduct market research, or engage in similar promotional activities that attract tourists or business travelers to the area. The term includes administrative expenses incurred in engaging in the listed activities.

(3) Tourism-related expenditures. – Expenditures that, in the judgment of the Tourism Development Authority, are designed to increase the use of lodging facilities, meeting facilities, or convention facilities in the county or to attract tourists or business travelers to the county. The term includes tourism-related capital expenditures.

(e) Distribution and use of tax revenue. Wilson County shall, on a ~~monthly~~ quarterly basis, remit the net proceeds of the occupancy tax to the Wilson County Tourism Development Authority. The Authority ~~may spend funds remitted to it under this subsection only to further the development of travel, tourism, and conventions in Wilson County through advertising and promotion, to sponsor tourist-oriented events and activities in Wilson County, and to finance tourist-related capital projects in Wilson County. As used in this subsection, "net proceeds" means gross proceeds less the cost to the county of administering and collecting the tax, which may not exceed five percent (5%) of the gross proceeds.~~shall use at least two-thirds of the funds remitted to it under this subsection to promote travel and tourism in Wilson County and shall use the remainder for tourism-related expenditures.

~~(f) Effective date of levy. A tax levied under this section shall become effective on the date specified in the resolution levying the tax. That date must be the first day of a calendar month, however, and may not be earlier than the first day of the second month after the date the resolution is adopted.~~

~~(g) Repeal. A tax levied under this section may be repealed by a resolution adopted by the Wilson County Board of Commissioners. Repeal of a tax levied under this section shall become effective on the first day of a month and may not become effective until the end of the fiscal year in which the repeal resolution was adopted. Repeal of a tax levied under this section does not affect a liability for a tax that was attached before the effective date of the repeal, nor does it affect a right to a refund of a tax that accrued before the effective date of the repeal.~~

"Sec. 2. Tourism Development Authority. (a) Appointment and membership. When the board of commissioners adopts a resolution levying a room occupancy tax under this act, it

HOUSE BILL 564:
Wilson County Occupancy Tax Modification

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	July 13, 2009
Introduced by:	Reps. Tolson, Farmer-Butterfield	Prepared by:	Judy Collier
Analysis of:	Third Edition		Research Assistant

SUMMARY: House Bill 564 makes changes to the Wilson County Occupancy Tax by authorizing it to levy less than 3% and by modifying the composition of its Tourism Development Authority. It also conforms the legislation to the uniform administrative provisions in G.S. 153A-155 and to the guidelines adopted by the North Carolina Travel and Tourism Coalition and the House Finance Committee.

The Occupancy Tax Subcommittee gave the PCS a favorable report on May 7, 2009.

CURRENT LAW: In 1987, the General Assembly authorized Wilson County to levy a 3% room occupancy tax, the proceeds of which are to be used to further the development of travel, tourism, and conventions through advertising and promotion, to sponsor tourist-oriented events and activities, and to finance tourist-related capital projects in the county. The county currently has a seven-member TDA board consisting of one county commissioner, one Wilson City Council member, three owners or operators of taxable accommodations that have at least five units, and two individuals involved in the tourist business who are not hotel owners or operators.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 564 makes the following changes to the existing Wilson County Occupancy Tax:

- Changes the authorization to levy the tax from "3%" to "up to* 3%."
- Expands the membership of the Wilson County Tourism Development Authority by two members who have an interest in the tourism business, one of whom is appointed by the Wilson County Commissioners and one of whom is appointed by the Wilson City Council.
- Makes other changes to conform the legislation to the uniform administrative provisions relating to the levy, collection, administration, repeal, and applicable penalties for occupancy tax.
- Rewrites the existing legislation to conform to the uniform guidelines adopted by the House Finance Committee, which are set out as follows:

UNIFORM OCCUPANCY TAX PROVISIONS	HB 564
Rate – The county tax rate cannot exceed 6% and the city tax rate, when combined with the county rate, cannot exceed 6%.	Conforms
Use – Two-thirds of the proceeds must be used to promote travel and tourism and the remainder must be used for tourism related expenditures.	Conforms
Definitions The term "net proceeds", "promote travel and tourism", and "tourism related expenditures" are defined terms.	Conforms
Administration – The net revenues must be administered by a local tourism development authority that has the authority to determine how the tax proceeds will be used, is created by a local ordinance, and at least 1/2 of the members must be currently active in the promotion of travel and tourism in the county and 1/3 of the members must be affiliated with organizations that collect the tax.	Conforms
Costs of Collection – The taxing authority may retain from the revenues its actual costs of collection, not to exceed 3% of the first $500,000 collected each year plus 1% of the remainder collected each year.	Conforms

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: Since 1983, the General Assembly has authorized many local government units to levy a room occupancy tax, with wide variation in the rate of tax, administration of the tax, use of the tax proceeds, and the body responsible for deciding how the tax proceeds will be spent. The North Carolina Travel and Tourism Coalition has issued a policy statement for legislation authorizing local occupancy taxes, which contains many principles similar to those established by the House Finance Subcommittee on Occupancy Taxes in 1993. In 1997, the General Assembly enacted uniform municipal and county administrative provisions for occupancy tax legislation – G.S. 153A-155 (counties) and G.S. 160A-215 (municipalities) – to provide uniformity in the areas of levy, administration, collection, repeal, and penalties.

HOUSE BILL 121:
Regulation of Golf Carts by Local Governments

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	July 14, 2009
Introduced by:	Reps. Underhill, Wainwright	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell
Analysis of:	Third Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: HB 121 authorizes all city and county governments to regulate the operation of golf carts on public streets, roads, and highways within a city's municipal limits, within a county's unincorporated areas, or on any property owned or leased by a city or county. The bill also permits golf carts to be operated only where the speed limit is 35 mph or less and only by persons who are at least 16 years old.

CURRENT LAW: Vehicles intended to be operated on State highways must be registered with the Division of Motor Vehicles (G.S. 20-50). Golf carts may not be registered (G.S. 20-54) and, therefore, may not be operated on highways. A "golf cart" is defined as a vehicle designed and manufactured for operation on a golf course for sporting or recreational purposes and that is not capable of exceeding speeds of 20 miles per hour. (G.S. 20-4.01(12a)).

G.S.160A-300.5 authorizes one county and several municipalities to regulate by ordinance the operation of golf carts on any public street or highway within their jurisdictional limits or on any property that they own or lease. This statute authorizes the listed jurisdictions to require the registration of golf carts, charge a fee for the registration, specify who is authorized to operate golf carts, and specify the required equipment, load limits, and the hours and methods of operation of golf carts.

In addition, under current local laws, several other local jurisdictions are authorized to regulate the operation of golf carts.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 121 is a statewide bill that authorizes all cities and counties to regulate golf carts within their corporate limits.

Section 1 authorizes all counties to regulate by ordinance the operation of golf carts on public streets, roads, and highways that are located in any unincorporated areas within the county or on any property owned or leased by the county, where the speed limit is 35 miles per hour or less. No person less than 16 years old would be permitted to operate a golf cart on a public street, road, or highway.

Section 3 authorizes all cities to regulate by ordinance the operation of golf carts on public streets, roads, and highways that are located within their municipal limits or on any property owned or leased by the city, where the speed limit is 35 mph or less. No person less than 16 years old would be permitted to operate a golf cart on a public street, road, or highway.

Under Sections 1 and 3 of the bill, cities and counties may require the registration of golf carts, charge a fee for the registration, specify who is authorized to operate golf carts, and specify the required equipment, load limits, and the hours and methods of operation of golf carts.

Remaining sections of the bill repeal or rewrite local acts to conform to the changes made in this bill.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act becomes effective October 1, 2009. Under the bill's savings clause, local governments would not be required to re-enact existing golf cart ordinances authorized by a local act as long as the ordinance meets the requirements of the new sections, including the maximum speed limit and minimum operator age restriction.

BACKGROUND: G.S. 160A-300.5 authorizes the following jurisdictions to regulate the operation of golf carts: New Hanover County; Cities of Locust, Saluda, and Wilmington; Towns of Badin, Beulaville, Butner, Carolina Beach, Emerald Isle, Erwin, Faison, Fremont, Hobgood, Indian Beach, Kings Mountain, Kure Beach, Mayodan, Morrisville, Mount Olive, Oakboro, Oriental, Pineville, Shelby, Wrightsville Beach; Village of Pinehurst.

In addition to the municipalities and the county listed in G.S. 160A-300.5, the following jurisdictions have authority granted by local act to regulate golf carts:

- Bald Head Island S.L. 2002-129
- Beech Mountain S.L. 2003-124
- Benson S.L. 2006-149
- Bladenboro S.L. 2005-11
- Cary S.L. 2005-117
- Caswell Beach S.L. 2006-149
- Chadbourn S.L. 2006-149, S.L. 2007-18
- Clarkton S.L. 2006-152, S.L. 2007-18
- Conover S.L. 2007-259
- Elizabethtown S.L. 2005-11, S.L. 2007-18

- Tabor City S.L. 2006-149, S.L. 2007-18
- Whispering Pines S.L. 2008-105

The following local bills to allow regulating golf carts have been introduced this session:

- Grover (HB 11)
- Holly Ridge (HB 31)
- Marvin (HB 73, SB 63)
- Camden County (HB 77)
- Swansboro (HB 113)
- Morganton (HB 117)
- River Bend (HB 121)
- Pikeville (HB 127, SB 480)
- Winterville (HB 152, SB 197)
- Bethel (HB 165, SB 145)
- Troutman (HB 234)
- Marshville (HB 244)
- Hendersonville (HB 276, SB 288)
- Denton (HB 474)
- Currituck County (HB 662)
- Deep Run (HB 973)
- Rutherford County (HB 1008)
- Stanfield (SB 28)
- Stallings (SB 103)
- Swansboro/Holly Ridge (SB 176)

As introduced, HB 121 was a local bill to allow the Town of River Bend in Craven County to regulate golf carts. In the House, it was converted into a bill to let all municipalities and counties regulate golf carts, but it did not contain the 35 mph and 16-year-old limitations. Three other bills this session would let all local governments regulate golf carts; to date, none has been enacted. One of them, SB 650, was approved by this committee in May with the 35 mph and 16-year-old provisions this PCS for HB 121 now contains.

HOUSE BILL 688:
Jamestown/Satellite Annexations

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	July 14, 2009
Introduced by:	Rep. Wiley	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	First Edition

SUMMARY: House Bill 688 is a local bill that would allow the Town of Jamestown to annex satellite areas without meeting one of the five (5) standards required for voluntary satellite annexation. The Town would not have to meet the standard that limits the size of the area within the satellite corporate limits.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 160A-58.1 governs the voluntary annexation by a municipality of noncontiguous property. All property owners in the satellite area[1] may petition a city for voluntary annexation of the noncontiguous property if the property meets the following five standards in G.S. 160A-58.1(b):

1. The nearest point on the proposed satellite corporate limits must be not more than three miles from the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.
2. No point on the proposed satellite corporate limits may be closer to the primary corporate limits of another city than to the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.
3. The area must be so situated that the annexing city will be able to provide the same services within the proposed satellite corporate limits that it provides within its primary corporate limits.
4. If the area proposed for annexation, or any portion thereof, is a subdivision as defined in G.S. 160A-376, all of the subdivision must be included.
5. The area within the proposed satellite corporate limits, when added to the area within all other satellite corporate limits, may not exceed ten percent (10%) of the area within the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 688 would add the Town of Jamestown to the list of municipalities for which the fifth requirement stated above has been eliminated. The other municipalities include the following:

Cities of Claremont, Concord, Conover, Durham, Elizabeth City, Gastonia, Greenville, Hickory, Kannapolis, Locust, Marion, Mount Airy, Mount Holly, New Bern, Newton, Oxford, Randleman, Roanoke Rapids, Rockingham, Sanford, Salisbury, Southport, Statesville, and Washington and the Towns of Ahoskie, Angier, Ayden, Benson, Bladenboro, Burgaw, Calabash, Catawba, Clayton, Columbia, Columbus, Cramerton, Creswell, Dallas, Dobson, Four Oaks, Fuquay-Varina, Garner, Godwin, Granite Quarry, Green Level, Grimesland, Holly Ridge, Holly Springs, Kenansville, Kenly, Knightdale, Landis, Leland, Lillington, Louisburg, Maggie Valley, Maiden, Mayodan, Middlesex, Midland, Mocksville, Morrisville, Mount Pleasant, Nashville, Oak Island, Pembroke, Pine Level, Princeton, Ranlo, Rolesville, Rutherfordton, Shallotte, Smithfield, Spencer, Stem, Stovall, Surf City, Swansboro, Taylorsville, Troutman, Troy, Wallace, Warsaw, Watha, Waynesville, Weldon, Wendell, Windsor, Yadkinville, and Zebulon.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

H688-SMTD-113(e1) v3

Kara McGraw, counsel to House Judiciary II Committee substantially contributed to this summary.

[1] G.S. 160A-58.4 provides that satellite corporate limits cannot be considered a part of a municipality's corporate limits for purposes of its ETJ. Therefore, satellite annexations have no effect upon a municipality's ETJ.

Town of Jamestown

Town of Jamestown

Currently, contiguous town limits include 1630 acres. 10% of that total (163 acres) is allowed to be "satellite" annexed parcels. At this time, our golf course (185 acres) puts us over this limit. The proposed satellite annexation (voluntary- in blue) is approximately 4 acres in size.

A county may adopt an ordinance providing that a fee charged by the county for water or sewer services and remaining unpaid for a period of 90 days may be collected in any manner by which delinquent personal or real property taxes can be collected. If the ordinance states that delinquent fees may be collected in the same manner as delinquent real property taxes, the delinquent fees are a lien on the real property owned by the person contracting with the county for the service, and the ordinance shall provide for an appeals process. If a lien is placed on real property, the lien shall be valid from the time of filing in the office of the clerk of superior court of the county in which the service was provided a statement containing the name and address of the person against whom the lien is claimed, the name of the county claiming the lien, the specific service that was provided, the amount of the unpaid charge for that service, and the date and place of furnishing that service. The lien may be discharged as provided in G.S. 44-48.

SECTION 2. This act shall not apply to fees collectable under Articles 9A and 9B of Chapter 44 of the General Statutes, and G.S. 153A-293.

HOUSE BILL 991:
Montgomery County Debt Collection/Water

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	July 14, 2009
Introduced by:	Reps. Goodwin, Burr	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition H991-CSTDf-64

SUMMARY: The proposed committee substitute to House Bill 991authorizes Montgomery County to collect delinquent fees for water and sewer services in the same manner property taxes are collected.

CURRENT LAW: Local governments are authorized to charge fees for the provisions of various services, including solid waste systems, water and waste water systems, transportation systems, mental health services, animal control, etc. Several fees have statutory provision for the collection of the fees, including:

- Public Enterprises: G.S. 153A-277(b) authorizes a county to disconnect services after an account is delinquent for 10 days.
- Ambulance Services: G.S. 44-51.4 allows a local government to collect an account 90 days delinquent through the use of attachment and garnishment proceedings set forth for the collection of property taxes. G.S. 44-55.1 also allows the placement of a lien on real property for unpaid ambulance fees.
- Solid Waste Fees: G.S. 153A-293 authorizes a county to enact an ordinance providing that a solid waste fee may be billed and collected as a property tax.

Property taxes may be collected in the following ways:

- Placement of a lien on real and personal property that is superior to all other liens.
- Sale of personal property.
- Attachment and garnishment of wages and bank accounts.
- Sale of real property.

BILL ANALYSIS: The proposed committee substitute to House Bill 991 authorizes Montgomery County to adopt an ordinance providing that the county may collect any fee for water and sewer service that is 90 days past due as if it were a property tax. For liens placed on real property, the lien is valid from the time of filing. The lien must be filed with the clerk of superior court in the county in which the service was provided and must provide a statement of the name and address of the person against whom the lien is served, the specific service provided for which the fee is delinquent, the amount of the unpaid charge, and the date and place of the service provided. The lien must be filed after the charge is 90 days past due and within 180 days of the failure to pay the charge.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: The following local legislation regarding delinquent water and sewer fees has been enacted:

- S.L. 1993-768: Authorizes City of Durham to collect delinquent water and sewer fees resulting from leaking or broken pipes of the real property owner in the same manner as property taxes.

- S.L. 2003-270: Authorizes Columbus[1], Davie, Duplin, and Lenoir Counties, the municipalities in these counties, and water and wastewater authorities in these counties to collect delinquent water and sewer fees in the same manner as delinquent property taxes.

The Board may appoint one or more assistant town attorneys to assist the Town Attorney. The Board may further authorize the Town Manager to engage the services of other duly qualified attorneys on individual legal matters and projects.

"ARTICLE V. TOWN MANAGER.

"Sec. 5.1. Board-Manager Relationship. The Board shall hold the Town Manager responsible for the proper management and affairs of the Town, and the Town Manager shall keep the Board informed of conditions and needs of the Town and shall make such reports and recommendations as may be requested by the Board or as the Town Manager may deem necessary. "Sec. 5.2. Assistant Town Manager. The Town Manager may appoint an Assistant Town Manager to exercise such duties as the Town Manager may direct, and who shall serve as the acting Town Manager to exercise the powers and perform the duties of the Town Manager during the temporary absence or disability of the Town Manager. "Sec. 5.3. Execution of Instruments. The Town Manager may execute in the name and on behalf of the Town, contracts, bonds, and other legal instruments, except for deeds, deeds of trust, and mortgages, when such instruments are authorized by the Board, this Charter, or general law.

"Sec. 5.4. Settlement of Claims. The Town Manager may, when authorized by the Board by a specific or a continuing resolution, settle claims against the Town for:

(a) Personal injuries or damages to property when the amount involved does not exceed the sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000) and does not exceed the actual loss sustained, including loss of time, medical expenses, and any other expenses, actually incurred; and

(b) The taking of small portions of private property needed for road and street purposes when the amount involved does not exceed the actual loss sustained and the taking has been authorized by the Board. Settlement of a claim by the Town Manager pursuant to this provision shall constitute a complete release of the Town for any and all other damages sustained by the person involved in the settlement in any manner arising out of the incident, the occasion, or taking or complained of.

"ARTICLE VI. PUBLIC CONTRACTS.

"Sec. 6.1. Design-Build. The Town of Huntersville may contract for the design, construction, and operation of buildings, parking decks or facilities, roads and streets, bridges, sidewalks and other transportation-related facilities, and other public projects, notwithstanding any provisions and requirements of Chapter 143 of the General Statutes. The authorization includes, if deemed appropriate by the Board, the use of the single-prime contractor method of design and construction, the design-build or the design-build-operate method of construction, or a request for proposals and negotiation as an alternative design and construction method. The Town shall request proposals from and interview at least three design-build teams, or design-build-operate teams as appropriate, that have submitted proposals for the project. If three proposals are not received and the project has been publicly advertised for a minimum of 30 days, then the Town may proceed with the proposals received. The Town shall award the contract to the best qualified contractor, taking into account the time of completion of the project, the capital and operation and maintenance costs of the project, the technical merits of the proposal including, but not limited to, reliability and protection of the environment, and such other factors and information set forth in the request for proposals that the Town determines to have a material bearing on the ability to evaluate any proposal.

"ARTICLE VII. SALE, LEASE, AND DISPOSITION OF PROPERTY.

"Sec. 7.1. Disposition of Certain Real Property. The Board may authorize the Town Manager to dispose of interest in real property without obtaining Board approval for each disposition by private negotiation and sale when the fair market value of the Town's interest in the real property is ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or less.

"Sec. 7.2. Disposition of Personal Property. The Town may sell any and all surplus property belonging to the Town at private sale, including by use of electronic auction.

"Sec. 7.3. Lease or Rental of Property. Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 160A-272, the Board may, in its discretion, lease Town-owned property for such terms and upon such conditions as the Board may determine, including terms for more than 10 years without the necessity of following any procedures other than those required by G.S. 160A-272 for leases of 10 years or less. The Town is specifically authorized to lease such property to any person or entity and for any purposes the Town deems appropriate, so long as the Board has reasonably determined that such leased property shall not be needed for public purposes for the term of the lease, and if the leased property is not to be used for public purpose, that the lease shall be at a fair market rate.

"Sec. 7.4. Conditions and Restrictions Authorized. The Board may sell, exchange, or otherwise transfer the fee or any lesser interest in real property to any purchaser subject to covenants, conditions, and restrictions as the Board may deem to be in the public interest. The sale, exchange, or other transfer may be made pursuant to the provisions of this Charter, Article 7 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes, or any other applicable provisions of law, and the consideration received by the Town, if any, for the sale, exchange, or transfer may reflect the restricted use of the property resulting from the covenants, conditions, and restrictions. The Town may invite bids or written proposals, including detailed development plans and site plans, for the purchase of any property or property interest, whether by sale, exchange, or other transfer, pursuant to such specifications as may be approved by the Town. The sale, exchange, or other transfer of real property, or interest therein, pursuant to this section may be made contingent upon the necessary rezoning of the property.

"ARTICLE VIII. REGULATORY AND PLANNING FUNCTIONS.

"Sec. 8.1. Adequate Level of Service. In order to ensure that growth and development will not adversely affect the public health, safety, and general welfare of the Town, its residents, and those subject to its jurisdiction, the Board may adopt ordinances to ensure that proposed development will not adversely impact traffic and transportation conditions and the level of services for parks, fire and police protection, and other governmental services below a level of service as may be determined by the Board from time to time. Any such ordinance must contain provisions permitting the applicant for such development to mitigate impact of development if such development would cause the level of service to fall below the predetermined level.

"ARTICLE IX. EXTENSION OF LIMITS.

"Sec. 9.1. Annexation of Noncontiguous Areas. G.S. 160A-58.1(b)(5) shall not apply to the Town."

AN ACT TO AUTHORIZE THE NORTH CAROLINA ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE CONTROL COMMISSION TO ISSUE MALT BEVERAGE SPECIAL EVENT PERMITS AND MALT BEVERAGE TASTING PERMITS IN THE SAME OR SIMILAR MANNER AS WINE.

Whereas, North Carolina's craft brewers also are a growing industry in North Carolina with more than 20 craft breweries located in North Carolina; and

Whereas, the creation of a malt beverage special event permit and a malt beverage tasting permit will help grow this industry in a similar fashion as similar actions taken by the North Carolina General Assembly have helped grow North Carolina's wine industry; and

HOUSE BILL 1595:
Malt Beverage Special Permit

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	July 14, 2009
Introduced by:	Reps. Tillis, Ross	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	Fourth Edition

SUMMARY: House Bill 1595 would authorize the ABC Commission to issue two new permits: a malt beverage tasting permit that would allow malt beverage tastings at grocery stores and other food businesses, and a malt beverage special event permit that would authorize the permittee to give free samples and to sell its products at trade shows, conventions, shopping malls, various festivals & other similar events approved by the ABC Commission.

CURRENT LAW: For the sale and on premises consumption of malt beverages, an establishment must have an on-premises malt beverages permit. The permit may be issued to restaurants, hotels, eating establishments, food businesses, retail businesses, private clubs, community theatres, convention centers, and certain breweries in areas where the sale of the beverage is lawful. The holder of a brewery permit may give its products to its employees and guests for consumption on the premises of the brewery. There are no provisions for retail permittees to hold malt beverage tastings. However, with the proper permit wine tastings are allowed at food businesses and wine shops. Wine tastings may also be held at special events for which a winery special event permit has been issued.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 1595 would authorize the ABC Commission to issue two new permits:

- A malt beverage tasting permit that would allow malt beverage tastings at grocery stores and other food businesses
- A malt beverage special event permit that would authorize a brewery to give free samples and to sell its products at trade shows, conventions, shopping malls, various festivals & other similar events approved by the ABC Commission

Malt Beverage Tasting Permit

Section 1 of the bill provides that the application fee for the malt beverage tasting permit would be $100.00.

Section 2 of the bill would create a malt beverage tasting permit that would be issuable to any food business holding an ABC permit for the retail sale of malt beverages. The relevant statutory definition of a food business is "an establishment engaged in the business of regularly and customarily selling food, primarily to be eaten off the premises." Food businesses include grocery stores, convenience stores, and other establishments such as variety stores or drugstores, where food is regularly sold. A malt beverage tasting permit would authorize tastings on the premises, conducted and supervised by the holder of the permit. The bill would require that a representative of the brewery whose beverages are featured at the tasting be present, unless the wholesaler or a wholesaler's employee determined that no brewery representative is necessary. Wholesalers and representatives of the brewery that produced the malt beverage would be authorized to assist with the tastings by pouring samples and by checking identification. A malt beverage tasting is defined as the offering of a sample of one or more malt beverage products, without charge and in amounts of no more than two ounces for each sample, to customers of the business.

The bill specifies other conditions for malt beverage tastings, including the following:

- Retail permit holder would be required to designate an employee to actively supervise the tasting, and the employee would not be allowed to supervise more that three tasting areas
- No more than 4 malt beverages could be tasted at any one tasting area
- The tasting could not last longer than 4 hours from the designate starting time

The holder of the retail permit would be liable for any violations of ABC law in connection with the tasting.

Malt Beverage Special Event Permit

Section 1 of the bill provides that the application fee for the malt beverage special event permit would be $200.00.

Section 3 of the bill would authorize the ABC Commission to issue a malt beverage special event permit; Section 4 would authorize the holder of a brewery permit, malt beverage importer permit, or nonresident malt beverage vendor permit to obtain a special event permit allowing the permit holder to give free tastings of its malt beverages and to sell its malt beverages by the glass or in closed containers at trade shows, conventions, shopping malls, and various festivals, local fundraisers and other similar events approved by the ABC Commission. Except for a brewery, all malt beverages sampled or sold under this permit must be purchased from a licensed malt beverage wholesaler. The permit would only be valid in jurisdictions that have approved the sale of malt beverages.

Under G.S. 18B-903, the permits would be valid for one year; the renewal application fee would be 25% of the original application fee.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill would become effective October 1, 2009.

BILL SUMMARY:

H.B. 1595 amends G.S. 18B-902(d) to establish an application fee for a new malt beverage special event permit ($200) and a malt beverage tasting permit ($100). The bill adds a new section G.S. 18B-1001(18) defining the conditions for a malt beverage tasting permit, which involve providing samples of beverages in amounts of no more than two ounces each, without charge. It establishes further guidelines for the tasting and includes liability provisions. H.B. 1595 also amends G.S. 18B-1100 to authorize the Alcoholic Beverage Control (ABC) Commission to issue a malt beverage special event permit and adds a new section G.S. 18B-1114.5 defining the conditions for such an event, which involves providing free tastings and selling beverages at trade shows, conventions, festivals, and other similar events approved by the Commission. Finally, the bill provides that such permits are valid only in jurisdictions that have approved the establishment of ABC stores or have approved the sale of malt beverages. The Second Edition of H.B. 1595 adds nonresident malt beverage vendors and malt beverage importers to the permit holders eligible to receive a malt beverage special event permit.

Background
The Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission issues over 62 different types of permits, all established in statute. There are two main types of permits – retail permits for establishments selling alcohol to the general public (this would include restaurants and bars, as well as grocery stores and corner markets) and commercial permits for establishments either making alcohol products (wineries, breweries, or distilleries) or selling those products to retail outlets for resale to the general public (liquor importers, malt beverage wholesalers, etc.). Commercial permits require a one-time initial license fee and remain valid indefinitely. Retail permits require an initial license fee, and in most cases require an annual renewal or registration fee. Proceeds from the sale of permits go to the General Fund.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:
This bill creates two new retail permits in G.S. 18B-902(d), a malt beverage special event permit and a malt beverage tasting permit.

Malt Beverage Special Event Permit
The malt beverage special event permit would be available to brewery, malt beverage importer, and nonresident malt beverage vendor permit holders. The malt beverage special event permit is identical to the permit available for wine special events. Winery special events permits are available to holders of unfortified and limited winery permits, wine producer permits, and viticulture or enology course permits. In order to estimate the number of breweries that would apply for special events permits, the ratio of unfortified and limited winery permit holders, wine producers permit holders, and viticulture/enology course permit holders to winery special event permits was calculated. In 2009, there are 88 unfortified winery permits, no limited winery permits, 17 wine producer permits, and one viticulture/enology course permit, for a total of 106 permit holders eligible for the special event permit. However, only 86 winery special event permits have been issued in 2009. Therefore, based on current permit holders, 81% of those eligible for a wine special event permit applied for one.

In 2009, the ABC Commission has issued 40 brewery permits, five malt beverage importer permits, and 40 nonresident malt beverage vendor permits. If 81% of those permit holders applied for a special event permit, 62 permits might be issued. The bill establishes a permit fee of $200 for the malt beverage special event permit. Therefore, the new permit will generate $12,400 in permit fees. ($200 multiplied by 62 permits equals $12,400.) To the extent that the number of special event permit holders estimated is incorrect, this figure may be over- or underestimated. Since the malt beverage special event permit is a commercial permit, there is no renewal or registration fee associated with it. Therefore, no permit fees will be generated in addition to the initial permit fee.

To determine the rate at which the number of permit holders might increase over the next five years, a history of winery special event permits was examined. The table below provides the number of winery special event permits held each year, along with the percent increase in number of permit holders over the prior year. The average percent increase over this five year period was 19%.

Winery Special Event Permits Since FY 2004-05

Winery Special Event Permits	43	54	67	80	86
Increase Over Prior Year		26%	24%	19%	8%

The following table shows the number of new permits that would be issued each year if the malt beverage special event permits increased at the same average rate as the winery special event permits. This table also provides the estimated revenue that would be generated from those new permits assuming the fee remained $200.

Malt Beverage Tasting Permits

The tasting permit would be available to holders of malt beverage off-premise permits. In order to estimate the number of malt beverage off-premise permit holders that would apply for tasting permits, the ratio of off-premise unfortified wine permit holders to wine tasting permits was calculated. (Both unfortified and fortified wine permit holders are eligible to obtain a wine tasting permit. However, in many cases, establishments hold both types of permits. In order to avoid double counting, for the purposes of this note, only unfortified wine permits were used to determine the rate of wine tasting permits issued.) In 2009, there are 6,074 establishments with off-premise unfortified wine permits, and 747 with wine tasting permits. Therefore, based on current permit holders, 12% of those eligible for a wine tasting permit applied for one.

There are currently 7,449 off-premise malt beverage permit holders in the State. If 12% of those establishments applied for a malt beverage tasting permit, 893 permits might be issued. The bill establishes a permit fee of $100 for the malt beverage tasting permit. Therefore, the new permit will generate $89,300 in initial permit fees. ($100 multiplied by 893 permits equals $89,300.) To the extent that the number of tasting permit holders estimated is incorrect, this figure may be over- or underestimated. Since the malt beverage tasting permit is a retail permit, the renewal fee each year will be 25% of the initial permit fee, or $25.

To determine the rate at which the number of permit holders might increase over the next five years, a history of wine tasting permits was examined. The table below provides the number of wine tasting permits held each year, along with the percent increase in number of permit holders over the prior year. The average percent increase over this five year period was 22%.

Wine Tasting Permits Since FY 2004-05
Fiscal Year	2004-05	2005-06	2006-07	2007-08	2008-09
Wine Tasting Permits	344	411	460	566	747
Increase Over Prior Year		19%	12%	23%	32%

The following table shows the number of new permits that would be issued each year if the malt beverage tasting permits increased at the same average rate as the wine tasting permits. This table also provides the estimated revenue that would be generated from those new permits assuming the fee remained $100, and the amount generated by permit renewals, assuming a 100% renewal rate.

Fiscal Year	2009-10	2010-11	2011-12	2012-13	2013-14

New Permit Revenue Generated	$89,300	$19,600	$23,900	$29,200	$35,600
Permit Renewal Revenue Generated	$0	$22,325	$27,225	$33,200	$40,500

The following table shows the total estimated revenue that will be generated by the two new permits authorized by H.B. 1595. The total estimated revue in the first year will be $95,700. This estimate assumes the permit fees will remain the same for the next five years and that all tasting permit holders will renew their permits. To the extent that these assumptions are incorrect, this revenue estimate may be over- or underestimated.

All ABC permits are issued by the Alcoholic Beverage Control (ABC) Commission. The Commission has indicated that there will be no additional operating expenses resulting from this bill. Therefore, no expenditures are anticipated.

Short Title: Permitting of Wind Energy Facilities. (Public)

Sponsors:

Referred to:

March 31, 2009

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO ESTABLISH A SYSTEM OF PERMITS FOR THE SITING AND OPERATION OF WIND ENERGY FACILITIES.

Whereas, S.L. 2007-398 established a Renewable Energy and Energy Efficiency Portfolio Standard (REPS) to diversify the resources used to reliably meet the energy needs of consumers in the State; and

Whereas, wind energy generation is a critical component for the State to meet the requirements established by the REPS; and

Whereas, North Carolina has abundant wind resources in the coastal and mountain regions; and

Whereas, it is the policy of the State to promote the development of wind energy in a manner compatible with environmental protection, sustainable development, and the efficient use of resources; Now, therefore,

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 113A-103 is amended by adding a new subdivision to read:

"(12) "Wind energy facility" means the turbines, accessory buildings, transmission facilities, and any other equipment necessary for the operation of the facility that cumulatively, with any other wind energy facility whose turbines are located within one-half mile of one another, have a rated capacity of three megawatts or more of energy."

SECTION 2. Part 4 of Article 7 of Chapter 113A of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 113A-118.3. Permits for wind energy facilities.

(a) No person shall undertake development associated with a wind energy facility anywhere in the coastal area without first obtaining a permit from the Commission.

(b) A person applying for a permit for a wind energy facility shall include all of the following in an application for the permit:

(1) A narrative description of the proposed facility.

(2) A map showing the location of the proposed facility.

(3) The capacity of proposed energy generation.

(4) A copy of a deed, purchase agreement, lease agreement, or other legal instrument demonstrating the right to develop the property.

(5) Certification of adjacent property owner notification to the maximum extent practicable.

(6) A study of the noise impacts of the turbines to be associated with the proposed facility, unless the turbines will be located in a sound or in offshore waters at least 0.60 miles from a shoreline.

(7) A study on shadow flicker impacts of the turbines to be associated with the proposed facility, unless the turbines will be located in a sound or in offshore waters at least 1.6 miles from a shoreline.

(8) A study on avian and bat impacts of the proposed facility.

(9) A study on viewshed impacts of the proposed facility.

(10) An explanation of how the proposed facility would be consistent with the requirements in subsection (c) of this section.

(11) The application fee required by subsection (e) of this section.

(12) Other data or information the Commission may reasonably require.

(c) The Commission shall deny an application for a permit for a wind energy facility if the Commission finds any one or more of the following:

(1) Construction or operation of the facility would be inconsistent with or violate rules adopted by the Commission.

(2) Construction or operation of the facility would result in significant adverse impacts to ecological systems, natural resources, cultural sites, recreation areas, or historic sites of more than local significance, including national or State parks or forests; wilderness areas; historic sites; recreation areas; segments of the natural and scenic rivers system; wildlife refuges; preserves and management areas; areas that provide habitat for threatened or endangered species; primary nursery areas designated by the Marine Fisheries Commission and the Wildlife Resources Commission; and critical fisheries habitat identified pursuant to the Coastal Habitat Protection Plan.

(3) Construction or operation of the facility would obstruct major navigation channels or create a significant obstacle to navigation in coastal waters. For purposes of this section, a wind energy facility in the coastal area is a water dependent use.

(4) Construction or operation of the facility would have a significant adverse impact on fish or wildlife.

(5) Construction or operation of the facility would have a significant adverse impact on views from any State or national park, wilderness area, significant natural heritage area as compiled by the North Carolina Natural Heritage Program, or other public lands or private conservation lands designated or dedicated due to their high recreational values.

(6) Construction or operation of the facility would interfere with air navigation routes, air traffic control areas, military training routes, or special use airspace.

(7) A permit for the facility would be denied under any other criteria set out in G.S. 113A-120.

(8) The cumulative impact of the proposed facility with other existing or proposed wind energy facilities would result in significant adverse impacts to ecological systems, natural resources, cultural sites, recreation areas, or historic sites of more than local significance.

(d) The Commission may include, as a condition of a permit for a wind energy facility, a requirement that the permit holder mitigate any adverse impacts.

(e) An applicant for a permit for a wind energy facility under this section shall submit with the application under subsection (b) of this section an application fee of two thousand dollars ($2,000).

(f) The Commission shall require an applicant for a permit for a wind energy facility to provide a plan regarding the action to be taken upon the decommissioning and removal of the wind energy facility. The plan shall include an estimate of the cost to decommission and remove the wind energy facility. The plan shall also include a proposed description of the condition of the site once the wind energy facility has been decommissioned and removed. The Commission may require a bond, guarantee, insurance, or other financial instrument to provide for the decommissioning and the removal of structures that comprise the wind energy facility. The Commission shall consider the size of the wind energy facility, the location of the facility, and the financial qualifications of the applicant in making its determination to grant or deny the permit.

(g) The Commission shall hold a public hearing in the county in which the proposed wind energy facility is to be located within 75 days of receipt of a completed application for a wind energy facility. The Commission shall give a minimum of 30 days' notice of the public hearing. The Commission shall make a final decision on a permit application within 150 days following receipt of a completed application. If the Commission determines that an application for a wind energy facility fails to meet the requirements for a permit under this section, the Commission shall deny the application, and the application shall be returned to the applicant accompanied by a written statement of the reasons for the denial. If the Commission fails to act within any time period set forth in this subsection, the applicant may treat the failure to act as a denial of the permit and may challenge the denial as provided under Chapter 150B of the General Statutes.

(h) The issuance of a permit under this section shall not obviate the need for the applicant to obtain any and all other applicable local, State, or federal permits, licenses, or approvals.

(i) Nothing in this section shall be interpreted to limit: (i) the application of Article 7 of Chapter 113A of the General Statutes to facilities permitted under this section, including the permitting requirements of G.S. 113A-118 or (ii) the ability of a city or county to plan for and regulate the siting of a wind energy facility in accordance with land-use regulations authorized under Chapter 160A and Chapter 153A of the General Statutes. In developing a plan for regulation of the siting of a wind energy facility, a city or county shall consider the information, factors, and criteria set out in subsections (b) and (c) of this section.

(j) Any person who proposes to construct or operate a wind energy facility within the planning jurisdiction of a city or county must demonstrate compliance with any local ordinances concerning land use and any applicable permitting processes.

(k) The Commission may adopt rules implementing this section. The Commission shall consult with the Department to ensure consistent statewide permitting requirements within and outside of the coastal area to the extent practicable.

(l) The Secretary of Environment and Natural Resources may impose an administrative penalty on a person who constructs a wind energy facility without obtaining a permit under this section or who constructs or operates a wind energy facility in violation of its permit terms and conditions. Each day of a continuing violation shall constitute a separate violation. The penalty shall not exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000) per day. The Secretary of Environment and Natural Resources, irrespective of all other remedies at law, may institute an action for injunctive relief against a person who constructs a wind energy facility without obtaining a permit under this section or who constructs or operates a wind energy facility in violation of its permit terms and conditions."

SECTION 3. Article 21 of Chapter 143 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new Part to read:

(11) The application fee required by subsection (e) of this section.

(12) Other data or information the Department may reasonably require.

(c) The Department shall deny an application for a permit for a wind energy facility if the Department finds any one or more of the following:

(1) Construction or operation of the facility would be inconsistent with or violate rules adopted by the Commission.

(2) Construction or operation of the facility would result in significant adverse impacts to ecological systems, natural resources, cultural sites, recreation areas, or historic sites of more than local significance, including national or State parks or forests; wilderness areas; historic sites; recreation areas; segments of the natural and scenic rivers system; wildlife refuges; preserves and management areas; areas that provide habitat for threatened or endangered species; and primary nursery areas designated by the Wildlife Resources Commission.

(e) An applicant for a permit for a wind energy facility under this section shall submit with the application under subsection (b) of this section an application fee of two thousand dollars ($2,000).

(f) The Department shall require an applicant for a permit for a wind energy facility to provide a plan regarding the action to be taken upon the decommissioning and removal of the wind energy facility. The plan shall include estimates of monetary costs and the proposed site condition after decommissioning. The Department may require a bond, guarantee, insurance, or other financial instrument to provide for decommissioning and removal of any structures that comprise the facility. The Department shall consider the size of the wind energy facility, the location of the facility, and the financial qualifications of the applicant in making its determination to grant or deny the permit.

SENATE BILL 1068:
Permitting of Wind Energy Facilities

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	July 14, 2009
Introduced by:	Senator Albertson	Prepared by:	Jennifer Mundt
Analysis of:	PCS to Second Edition S1068-CSSBf-61		Legislative Analyst

SUMMARY: The 2nd Edition of Senate Bill 1068 would establish a system of permits for the siting of wind energy facilities in the coastal area of the State. The Proposed Committee Substitute (PCS) for Senate Bill 1068 would establish a parallel system of permits for the siting of wind energy facilities in locations outside the coastal area of the State and would make clarifying changes regarding windmills in the Mountain Ridge Protection Act.

[As introduced, this bill was identical to H809, as introduced by Reps. Harrison, Fisher, Owens, which is currently in House Energy and Energy Efficiency, if favorable, Environment and Natural Resources, if favorable, Finance.]

BILL ANALYSIS: The PCS for Senate Bill 1068 would establish a system of permits for the siting of wind energy facilities in North Carolina. "Wind energy facility" is defined in Section 1 of the bill to mean:

> The turbines, accessory buildings, transmission facilities, and any other equipment necessary for the operation of the facility that cumulatively with any other wind energy facility whose turbines are located within one-half mile of one another have a rated capacity of three megawatts or more of energy.

Sections 2 and 3 of the bill would establish a parallel permitting process for wind energy facilities based on the proposed location of the facility, either in the coastal area (as defined in G.S. 113A-103), or in areas of the State located outside the coastal area. Permits for wind energy facilities in the coastal area of the State would be reviewed and acted upon by the Coastal Resources Commission (CRC), while permits for wind energy facilities in areas of the State located outside the coastal area would be reviewed and acted upon by the Department of Environment and Natural Resources (Department). The following permitting processes and criteria would be the same for proposed wind energy facilities located within or outside the coastal area of North Carolina:

A wind energy facility permit application must include:

1) A narrative description of the proposed facility.
2) A map showing the location of the proposed facility.
3) The capacity of proposed energy generation.
4) A copy of a deed, purchase agreement, lease agreement, or other legal instrument demonstrating the right to develop the property.
5) Certification of adjacent property owner notification to the maximum extent practicable.
6) A study of the noise impacts of the proposed facility.

7) A study on shadow flicker[1] impacts of the proposed facility.

8) A study on avian and bat impacts of the proposed facility.

9) A study on viewshed impacts of the proposed facility.

10) An explanation of how the proposed facility (considering the cumulative impact of the proposed facility with other existing or proposed wind energy facilities) would not result in significant adverse impacts to ecological systems, natural resources, cultural sites, recreation areas, or historic sites of more than local significance, fish and wildlife, views from any State or national park, wilderness area, significant natural heritage area, or interference with air navigation routes, air traffic control areas, military training routes, or special use airspace.

11) Other data or information the CRC or the Department may reasonably require.

12) An application fee of $2,000.

Additional criteria specific to permits for proposed wind energy facilities located in the coastal area of the State

- The applicant must explain how the construction and operation of the proposed facility will be consistent with rules adopted by the CRC.
- A study of noise impacts is required unless the proposed turbines will be located in a sound or in offshore waters at least 0.60 miles from a shoreline.
- A study of shadow flicker impacts is required unless the proposed turbines will be located in a sound or in offshore waters at least 1.6 miles from a shoreline.
- The applicant must explain how the construction and operation of the proposed facility will not obstruct major navigation channels or create a significant obstacle to navigation in coastal waters.

Additional criteria specific to permits for proposed wind energy facilities located outside the coastal area of the State

- The applicant must explain how the construction and operation of the proposed facility will be consistent with rules adopted by the Environmental Management Commission.
- Among other factors, the Department must deny a permit application if the proposed facility would be located in an area designated with a slide hazard ranking of "moderate" or "high" on a Stability Map Index prepared by the North Carolina Geological Survey.

Wind energy facility permitting conditions

- The CRC or the Department may include, as a condition of the permit for a wind energy facility, a requirement that the permit holder mitigate any adverse impacts.
- Permit applicants must supply the CRC or the Department with a plan to decommission and remove the wind energy facility that includes an estimate of the cost to decommission and remove the facility. The plan must also include a proposed description of the condition of the site once the facility has been decommissioned and removed.

[1] Shadow flicker from wind turbines is the effect resulting from the shadows cast by the rotating blades of the turbine on sunny days. The effect may be more or less pronounced depending on the intensity of the sun/shadow contrast and the distance from the turbines to a receptor. From: Maine Department of Environmental Protection.

- The CRC or the Department may require a bond, guarantee, insurance, or other financial instrument to provide for decommissioning and the removal of wind energy facility structures.
- Obtaining a wind energy facility permit would not obviate the need for the applicant to obtain any and all other applicable local, State, or federal permits, licenses, or approvals.
- This act must not be interpreted to limit the ability of a city or county to plan for and regulate the siting of a wind energy facility in accordance with land use regulations authorized under Chapter 160A and Chapter 153A of the General Statutes. In developing a plan for regulation of the siting of a wind energy facility, a city or county must consider the information, factors, and criteria set out above.

CRC/Department actions on wind energy facility permit applications

- The CRC or the Department must hold a public hearing in the county in which the proposed wind energy facility is to be located within 75 days of receipt of a completed permit application and provide a minimum of 30 days notice of the public hearing.
- The CRC or the Department must make a final determination on a permit application within 150 days of receipt of a complete application.
- Permit denials must be accompanied by a written explanation for the denial to the applicant.
- If the CRC or the Department does not act within the time periods prescribed above, the applicant may treat the failure to act as a denial of the permit and may challenge the denial as provided under the Administrative Procedure Act.

In its determination to grant or deny the permit for a wind energy facility, the CRC or the Department must consider the size and location of the facility and financial qualifications of the applicant.

The CRC or the Department must deny a permit application for a wind energy facility that would result in a significant adverse impact or interference to those areas described in item 10) and the additional criteria listed above.

Both the CRC and the Department may adopt rules governing the siting of wind energy facilities that would be subject to the permitting requirements under this act. The CRC and the Department must consult with one another to ensure consistent statewide permitting requirements within and outside the coastal area to the extent practicable.

Section 4 of the bill would amend the Mountain Ridge Protection Act of 1983 (Ridge Law) to clarify that windmills, when associated with a residence, employed for the primary purpose of generating electricity for use within the residence, and no more than 100 feet from the base to the turbine hub, are not considered to be "tall buildings or structures" for the purposes of the Ridge Law.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Except as noted above, this act would become effective January 1, 2010 and applies to wind energy facilities that are constructed on or after that date.

Coastal Resources Commission, Department of Environment and Natural Resources

EFFECTIVE DATE: January 1, 2010

BILL SUMMARY:
S.B. 1068 creates a permitting process for wind energy facilities to be managed by the Coastal Resources Commission (CRC). The bill modifies the definition of wind energy facility in GS 113A-103 to mean the turbines, accessory buildings, transmission facilities, and any other equipment necessary for the operation of the facility that cumulatively, with any other wind energy facility whose turbines are located within one-half mile of one another, have a rated capacity of three megawatts or more (was, in excess of two megawatts) of energy. The bill states that an application for a wind energy facility permit shall include all of the following:

- a narrative description of the facility;
- a map showing the location of the facility;
- the capacity of the energy to be generated;
- a copy of the deed, purchase agreement, lease agreement, or other legal document showing the right to develop the property;

- certification that adjacent property owners were notified to the maximum extent practicable;
- a study of noise impacts of the turbines, unless the turbines will be located in waters at least 0.6 miles from a shoreline;
- a study of shadow flicker impacts, unless the turbines will be located in waters at least 1.6 miles from a shoreline;
- a study of avian and bat impacts;
- a study on viewshed impacts;
- an explanation of how the proposed facility would be in compliance with proposed GS 113A-118.3(c);
- the application fee; and
- any other information CRC may reasonably acquire.

As proposed GS 113A-118.3(c), the bill outlines several conditions under which CRC can deny a permit. The bill requires an application fee of $2,000. The bill also allows CRC to attach conditions to a permit that the applicant mitigate adverse impacts and also that the applicant provide a plan for decommissioning and removal of the facility, as well as requiring the applicant to provide a bond, insurance or other guarantee to provide for the decommissioning and removal of the facility. S.B. 1068 requires that the Commission hold a public hearing in the county where the facility will be located.

The bill specifies that nothing in the statute is to be interpreted to limit the application of Article 7 of GS Chapter 113A to facilities, including the permitting requirements under GS 113A-118 or the ability of a city or county to plan for or regulate the siting of facilities in accordance with land use regulations. The bill further requires that any person who proposes to construct or operate a wind energy facility within the planning jurisdiction of a city or county must demonstrate compliance with any local ordinances concerning land use and any applicable permitting processes. Finally, the bill gives CRC rule-making authority to implement the bill.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

Expenditures

As this is a new program with no historical data to draw from, estimates were obtained from the Department of Environment and Natural Resources (DENR) as to what resources would be needed to manage the program. The Division of Coastal Management (DCM) within DENR reported that they would not need additional staff and that the new program could be managed by reallocating 25% of the time of a current employee. For the purposes of this note, no new staff costs are anticipated.

DCM anticipates $500 in costs to conduct the public hearings. These costs include travel for one CRC hearing officer and two DCM staff, as well as publishing public notices, and meeting room rental costs (although efforts will be made to obtain local meeting rooms with no costs).

Revenues

DCM anticipates receiving one application in the first year and two more applications over the next four years. The bill establishes an application fee of $2,000; thus revenues are anticipated to be $2,000 in the first year and $2,000 every other year thereafter. These application fees will be credited to a General Fund account, as no new special fund is created in the bill.

MIT Group Increases Global Warming Projections

Report: High odds of warming over 5°C (9°F) if no action

Warming Possibilities in 2100 Under No Policy Scenario

New research from MIT scientists shows that in the absence of stringent reductions in greenhouse gas emissions, 21st century climate change may be far more significant than some previous climate assessments had indicated.

The new findings, released this month by MIT's Joint Program on the Science and Policy of Global Change, showed significantly increased odds that by the end of the century warming would be on the high end of the scale for a so-called "no policy scenario" as compared with similar studies completed just six years ago. The main culprits: the cycling of heat and carbon dioxide in the climate system are now better understood and projections of future greenhouse gas emissions have increased.

The results also showed that even if nations were to act quickly to reduce emissions, it is more likely that warming would be greater than previous studies had shown. However, the increase in projected temperatures under the "policy scenario" was not as large as for the no policy scenario.

Keep reading for more information about MIT's revised projections...

The modeling experiments are not meant to provide precise forecasts of future temperature changes, but rather to serve as what one related MIT study calls "thought experiments" to help policymakers and the public understand how decisions regarding emissions reductions may affect the magnitude of climate change. They show how human activities are loading the dice in favor of a warming climate, and cast doubt on the feasibility of limiting temperature increases to the lower range of what the influential U.N. Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change projected in its most recent assessment report in 2007.

To update their findings that were first unveiled in 2002, the MIT researchers used an in-house computer model known as the MIT Integrated Global System Model that incorporated new insight into how the climate system functions.

A main conclusion is that feedbacks within the climate system, which MIT says can be more accurately simulated in the updated version of its model, may act to increase the magnitude of climate change in response to increasing atmospheric concentrations of greenhouse gases. The more greenhouse gases in the atmosphere, MIT researchers reported, the more significant the feedbacks may be.

Results of the studies are depicted online in MIT's "Greenhouse Gamble" exercise that conveys the "range of probability of potential global warming" via roulette wheel graphics (shown above). The modeling output showed that under both a "no policy" scenario and one in which nations took action beginning in the next few years to reduce greenhouse gas emissions, the odds have shifted in favor of larger temperature increases.

For the no policy scenario, the researchers concluded that there is now a nine percent chance (about one in 11 odds) that the global average surface temperature would increase by more than 7°C (12.6°F) by the end of this century, compared with only a less than one percent chance (one in 100 odds) that warming would be limited to below 3°C (5.4°F) .

The median warming value, with even odds of the temperature increase being above or below that value, was 5.1°C (9.2°F). For comparison, the same research group's no policy scenario yielded a median value of just 2.4°C (4.3°F) in 2002.

"The take home message from the new greenhouse gamble wheels is that if we do little or nothing about lowering greenhouse gas emissions that the dangers are much greater than we thought three or four years ago," said Ronald G. Prinn, professor of atmospheric chemistry at MIT. "It is making the impetus for serious policy much more urgent than we previously thought."

According to the research group, there was no single factor that caused the new computer modeling to project a greater amount of warming compared with their 2002 simulations.

"In our more recent global model simulations, the ocean heat-uptake is slower than previously estimated, the ocean uptake of carbon is weaker, feedbacks from the land system as temperature rises are stronger, cumulative emissions of greenhouse gases over the century are higher, and offsetting cooling from aerosol emissions is lower," the group's web site states. "Rather than interacting additively, these different affects appear to interact multiplicatively, with feedbacks among the contributing factors, leading to the surprisingly large increase in the chance of much higher temperatures."

Under the policy scenario, in which global carbon dioxide concentrations would reach about 550 parts per million by 2100 (the current level is about 385 ppm), the projected magnitude of climate change is significantly less than under the no policy scenario, but it still would warm more significantly than the 2002 projections. Under the policy scenario, there is a 90 percent chance that climate change could be limited to below 3°C (5.4°F), compared to just a one percent chance of that occurring in the no policy case.

"If greenhouse gas emissions are controlled to relatively low levels then the Earth systems feedbacks are much lower and the slight difference in Earth system properties is not as important -- again a result of the way in which these different factors interact multiplicatively," the researchers stated.

As with any computer modeling work, there are uncertainties involved in the projections, and MIT researchers went to great lengths to quantify them in their estimates of temperature increases and future greenhouse gas emissions. Prinn said that rather than obscuring the uncertainties, the roulette wheels "give our best shot of showing what the uncertainties are and at the same time showing the value of a policy."

The MIT research is sponsored by a consortium of government agencies, including the Department of Energy and U.S. EPA, as well as companies that include several major oil companies such as ExxonMobil and Chevron.

SENATE BILL 553:
Incorporate Swannanoa

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	July 14, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Nesbitt	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S553-CSLMx-16		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 553 incorporates the Town of Swannanoa[1]. The proposed committee substitute provides the description of the Town boundaries, prohibits the Town from annexing any area beyond the southern boundary of the corporate limits that run along a ridge line and borders the Fairview Township, and corrects the temporary officers of the Town.

CURRENT LAW: Article VII of the North Carolina Constitution provides that the General Assembly may create cities and towns. The General Assembly created the Joint Legislative Commission on Municipal Incorporations in 1986 to conduct an independent review and evaluation of proposed municipal incorporations. The evaluation is conducted in accordance with a statutory set of objective criteria found in Article 20 of Chapter 120 of the General Statutes. The statutory criteria include a review of community support, population, land development, nearness to other urban areas, and ability to provide municipal services at a reasonable rate. Chapter 160A of the General Statutes provides the general laws applicable to the administration, powers, and duties of municipalities. Municipalities may share in the following revenue sources: local sales tax distributions, Powell Bill allocations, franchise tax revenues on electricity, beer and wine excise taxes, piped natural gas excise tax revenues, and telecommunications sales tax revenues.[2]

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 553 incorporates the Town of Swannanoa, to be governed by a five-member town council and a mayor. The Joint Legislative Commission on Municipal Incorporations found that the proposed incorporation met the standards required for incorporation under Article 20 of Chapter 120 of the General Statutes.

- The Town of Swannanoa would be located in Buncombe County. The Town of Black Mountain, population 7,511 is within a distance of one mile of the proposed Town boundaries and the City of Asheville, population 68,889 is located within a distance of five miles of the proposed Town boundaries. Both the Town of Black Mountain and the City of Asheville have submitted resolutions expressing approval of the incorporation of the Town.
- The estimated permanent population of the Town of Swannanoa would be 8,667 residents. The estimated population density for the Town would be 448 people per square mile. The estimated assessed property tax valuation would be $819,151,374.
- The Town plans to offer the following services: police protection provided by the Buncombe County Sheriff's Department, fire protection provided by the Swannanoa Volunteer Fire Departments; street maintenance provided through a contract with the Department of Transportation, and street lighting provided by contract with Progress Energy.

[1] In its Report to the General Assembly dated June 17, 2009, the Joint Legislative Commission on Municipal Corporations found that the proposed Town of Swannanoa meets the standards required by Article 20 of Chapter 120 of the General Statutes and recommended incorporation of the area as the Town of Swannanoa.

[2] A municipality must have a property tax rate greater than $0.05/$100 valuation and provide at least four services to receive the following shared revenues: local sales and use tax, beer and wine excise taxes, sales tax on telecommunications, and Powell Bill allocations.

- The Town would be entitled to the following estimated amounts of revenue from shared tax revenue sources: $512,422 of local sales tax; $312,000 of franchise tax; $39,000 of beer and wine excise taxes if the Town holds a referendum in which the sales of beer and wines are approved; $123,000 of sales tax on telecommunications; and $250,000 of Powell Bill allocations. The Town is proposing a property tax rate of $0.17/$100 valuation for estimated property tax revenue of a little more than $1 million.

EFFECTIVE DATE: SB 553 would become effective when it becomes law.

At least 30 days before the Department sends a notice of an ABC permit suspension to the Commission, the Department must notify the taxpayer by mail that the taxpayer's ABC permit will be suspended if payment is not received within 30 days after the notice is mailed.

(c) Clearance Certificate. – Upon payment of the overdue tax debt or entry into an installment agreement with the taxpayer under G.S. 105-237 for payment of the tax debt, the Department must send the Commission written notice of a clearance certificate instructing the Commission to reinstate the taxpayer's ABC permit."

SECTION 2. G.S. 18B-904(e) reads as rewritten:

"(e) ~~Business or Location No Longer Suitable.~~ Permit Suspension or Revocation. – An ABC permit is subject to suspension or revocation in the circumstances described in one of the following subdivisions:

(1) The Commission may suspend or revoke a permit issued by it if, after compliance with the provisions of Chapter 150B of the General Statutes, it finds that the location occupied by the permittee is no longer a suitable place to hold ABC permits or that the operation of the business with an ABC permit at that location is detrimental to the neighborhood.

(2) The Commission shall suspend or revoke a permit issued by it if a permittee is in violation of G.S. 18B-309. Notwithstanding subdivision (e)(1) of this section, the Commission shall, by order and without prior hearing, summarily suspend or revoke a permit issued by it if a permittee is in violation of G.S. 18B-309(c) when, prior to the period of time for which the audit is to be conducted, the city council has filed information designating the location of the Urban Redevelopment Area as required under G.S. 18B-309(a) and has provided actual notice to permittees located in the Urban Redevelopment Area that they are located in such an area and must abide by G.S. 18B-309(c). Upon entry of a summary order under this subdivision, the Commission shall promptly notify all interested parties that the order has been entered and of the reasons therefore. The order will remain in effect until it is modified or vacated by the Commission. The permittee may, within 30 days after receipt of notice of the order, make written request to the Commission for a hearing on the matter. If a hearing is requested, after compliance with the provisions of Chapter 150B of the General Statutes, the Commission shall issue an order to affirm, reverse, or modify its previous action.

(3) Notwithstanding G.S. 18B-906, the Commission shall revoke a permit issued by it if, after complying with the provisions of Chapter 150B of the General Statutes and without a finding of mitigating evidence or circumstances, it finds evidence that the permittee or the permittee's employee has been found responsible by a court of competent jurisdiction or the Commission for two or more violations on separate dates of knowingly allowing a violation of the gambling, disorderly conduct, prostitution, controlled substance, or felony criminal counterfeit trademark laws as those offenses are prohibited pursuant to G.S. 18B-1005(a)(2), (a)(3), or (b), G.S. 18B-1005.1, or G.S. 80-11.1(b)(2) or (3), at a single ABC-licensed premises within a 12-month period. The permittee and the owner of the property have the responsibility to monitor the conduct on the licensed premises pursuant to G.S. 18B-1005(b) and G.S. 19-1. Revocation of permits pursuant to this subdivision shall only apply to the permits issued to the location where the violations occurred.

(4) The Commission must suspend a permit authorizing the retail sale of mixed beverages, fortified or unfortified wine, or malt beverages issued under G.S. 18B-1001 when it receives a notice of permit suspension from the Department of Revenue under G.S. 105-243.2 for failure of the permit holder to pay an overdue tax debt. Upon receipt of a notice of a permit suspension, the Commission must notify the permit holder named in the notice of the suspension in writing. The suspension is effective 10 days after the date of the written notice. The suspension remains in effect until the Commission receives a clearance certificate issued by the Department of Revenue stating the permit holder's retail permit may be reinstated. Upon receipt of the certificate, the Commission must reinstate the permit at no additional cost to the permit holder and notify the permit holder of the reinstatement and the effective date of the reinstatement.

SECTION 3. G.S. 18B-906(a) reads as rewritten:

"(a) Act Applies. – An ABC permit is a "license" within the meaning of ~~G.S. 150B-2,~~ G.S. 150B-2. ~~and, except for revocation pursuant to G.S. 18B-904(e)(3), a Commission action on~~ Except as provided in this section, the issuance, suspension, or revocation of an ABC ~~permit, other than a temporary permit issued under G.S. 18B-905, is a "contested case"~~ permit

SENATE BILL 867:
Tax Law Compliance Condition of ABC Permit

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	July 13, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Hoyle	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S867-CSRB-52		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: The proposed committee substitute for Senate Bill 867 would give the Department of Revenue an additional tool to use in its collection of overdue tax debts. The bill would allow the Department to direct the North Carolina Alcohol Beverage Control Commission to suspend the ABC permit of a permittee who has an overdue tax debt. The bill becomes effective January 1, 2010, and applies to overdue tax debts on or after that date.

CURRENT LAW: The Department of Revenue may collect a tax when a return is filed showing tax is due, when a taxpayer does not request a review of a proposed assessment, when a settlement concerning the amount of tax due is reached, when a taxpayer does not file a petition for a contested case hearing upon a notice of final determination, or when a final determination is reached after a contested case hearing. The Department may collect a tax debt through the levy and sale of a taxpayer's real or personal property, through the attachment and garnishment of the taxpayer's intangible property such as rents, bank deposits, and wages, and through the outsourcing of the tax debt to a private collection agency.

A tax debt that remains unpaid 90 days or more after it becomes collectible is considered an overdue tax debt. The Department may impose a 20% collection assistance fee on an overdue tax debt that remains unpaid 30 days or more after the fee notice is mailed to the taxpayer.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 867 would allow the Department to suspend an ABC permit authorizing the retail sale of mixed beverages, wine, or beer if the holder of the permit fails to pay an overdue tax debt within 30 days after the Department gives the taxpayer written notification of the possible suspension. If the taxpayer fails to pay the overdue tax debt in a timely manner, the Department may instruct the ABC Commission to suspend the taxpayer's ABC permit. Upon receiving the instruction, the Commission must send the permittee written notice that the permit will be suspended 10 days from the date of the notice. The suspension remains in effect until the Commission receives a clearance certificate issued by the Department stating the overdue tax debt has been addressed and the permit may be reinstated. The Commission must reinstate the permit at no additional cost to the permittee and it must notify the permit holder of the reinstatement and the effective date of the reinstatement.

Typically, when a person makes retail sales of alcoholic beverages with a suspended permit, the Commission revokes the person's permit. A revoked permit may not be reissued for at least three years. A distributor may not deliver alcoholic beverages to a person who does not hold an active permit. Whenever a retailer places an order, the distributor is suppose to check the Commission's website to verify that the retailer holds an active permit. A distributor who delivers alcoholic beverages to a retailer whose permit has been suspended may have its own permit suspended for up to five days or be fined up to $500.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill becomes effective January 1, 2010, and applies to overdue tax debts on or after that date.

BACKGROUND: About a decade ago, the General Assembly authorized the Department of Revenue and the Office of the State Controller to conduct a study of the Department's delinquent collection ɔractices. Based on the results of the study conducted by Pricewaterhouse Coopers, the Department centralized its collection process, made technology upgrades, and implemented an automated case management tool with debt scoring and performance measures.

The Department initiated Project Collect in 2001 with a goal to produce an additional $150 million in revenue collections. In conjunction with that Project, the General Assembly authorized the Department to outsource the collection of tax debts owed by both in-state and out-of-state residents. It also provided the Department with a funding mechanism for some of its collection activities through the imposition of a collection assistance fee[1] of 20% on all tax debts that remain unpaid for 90 days after they become final.

The Department initiated Project Compliance in 2003 with a goal to produce an additional $40 million in revenue collections for fiscal year 2003-2004. In conjunction with that Project, the General Assembly provided funding for 39 new positions in the Examination Division in 2003 and funding for an additional 47 new positions in the Examinations Division in 2004.

This year, the Governor's budget included an amount of revenue for "Department of Revenue Improved Enforcement". Both the Senate budget and the House budget include a line item in its General Fund Availability Statement attributable to "Improved Enforcement." The amount in the Senate budget attributable to this source is $50,000,000 for FY 2009-2010 and $75,000,000 for FY 2010-2011. The amount in the House budget attributable to this source is $60,000,000 for FY 2009-2010 and $90,000,000 for FY 2010-2011. There are no specific legislative changes contained in any of the three budgets related to the Department's improved enforcement practices.

'he Department makes semiannual reports to the General Assembly on its collection of tax debt.[2] In its .eport dated August 1, 2008, the Department lists its existing initiatives and its long-term collection plan. Although the initiative in this bill is not included in that report, it was mentioned by Secretary Lay in his remarks to the Senate Finance Committee earlier this session. He also mentioned an initiative that focuses on unreported income by individuals using Individual Taxpayer Identification Numbers. Senate Bill 1006, sponsored by Sen. Hoyle and currently in the House Finance Committee, would require a person who pays compensation other than wages to someone whose taxpayer identification number is an ITIN as opposed to a social security number to withhold 4% of the compensation.

S867-SMRB-42(CSRB-52) v2

The proceeds of the fee may be used to pay contractors for collecting overdue tax debts, to pay the fee the US Department of Treasury charges for debt setoff, to pay for taxpayer locater services, to pay for postage or other delivery charges associated with the collection of an overdue tax debt, to pay for operating expenses for Project Collection Tax and the Taxpayer Assistance Call Center, and to pay for expenses of the Examination and Collection Division.

NC Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission, NC Department of Revenue

EFFECTIVE DATE: January 1, 2010

BILL SUMMARY: Senate Bill 867 amends G.S. 18B-903 requiring that compliance with the State's tax law is a condition of holding an Alcoholic Beverage Control (ABC) Permit. The legislation also allows for the revocation of an ABC permit for failure to file a timely tax return or pay an overdue tax debt. Effective January 1, 2010, the bill also modifies G.S. 105-259 (b) allowing the Department of Revenue to release taxpayer information to the ABC Commission for the purposes of granting or revoking alcohol permits.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: The changes set forth in SB 867 aid the North Carolina Department of Revenue (DOR) in collecting unpaid sales and use taxes from ABC license holders. With the ability to revoke permits, DOR expects that tax increased will generate between $2.5 million and $17.2 million in General Fund availability.

Revenue estimates that retailers with the potential of being ABC permit holders owe a total of $43.3 million in delinquent collections. Potential ABC permit holders include grocery and convenience stores with the authority to sell beer and wine for off-premise consumption in addition to hotels, bars and restaurants possessing the licensure to sell mixed drinks as well as beer and wine for on premise consumption. Revenue officials expect the conditions set forth in SB 867 to be most effective in collecting delinquent taxes from two groups of taxpayers, those that have not remitted taxes at all and those that are 30 days overdue in the remittance process. Table 1 lists length of delinquency and total tax liability by business class for these two types of businesses.

Table 1. Tax Delinquency By Business Class, April 2009

Business Class	Balance		Total Tax Liability
	Estimated Non-Filer	0-30 days
Grocery Stores, Meat Mkts, Fruit/Vegetable Stands, Seafood Mkts, etc.	$1,873,942	$470,724	$2,344,667
Restaurants, Cafeterias, Grills, Snack Bars, Lunchrooms, etc.	$8,797,808	$2,206,098	$11,003,906
Other - Food & Beverage Group (Canners, Meat Processors)	$401,562	$40,297	$441,859
Taverns, Beer Parlors, Night Clubs, Billiard Rooms, Lounges, Bars, etc	$790,377	$178,978	$969,355
Drug Stores, Drug & Medical Supply Houses (Pharmacies, Vet Supply)	$1,027,192	$9,583	$1,036,775
Hotels, Motels, etc. Resorts	$1,319,348	$52,005	$1,371,353
Total	$14,210,230	$2,957,685	$17,167,915

There are several unknown variables in estimating the Department's ability to collect delinquent taxes under SB 867 most notably, the exact number of businesses with ABC permits and those businesses with past due tax debts ability to pay. The ABC Commission and Department of Revenue currently lack a method to match or merge ABC permittee data with DOR tax payer identification information. Implementation of SB 867 requires the ABC Commission to gather additional permittee information for data matching purposes.

Table 2. Estimated Collections from Increased Enforcement under SB 867
Business Class	Unpaid/Overdue Trust Taxes	25% increased compliance	15% increased compliance
Grocery Stores, Meat Mkts, Fruit/Vegetable Stands, Seafood Mkts, etc.	$2,344,667	$586,167	$351,700
Restaurants, Cafeterias, Grills, Snack Bars, Lunchrooms, etc.	$11,003,906	$2,750,977	$1,650,586
Other - Food & Beverage Group (Canners, Meat Processors)	$441,859	$110,465	$66,279
Taverns, Beer Parlors, Night Clubs, Billiard Rooms, Lounges, Bars, etc	$969,355	$242,339	$145,403
Drug Stores, Drug & Medical Supply Houses (Pharmacies, Vet Supply)	$1,036,775	$259,194	$155,516
Hotels, Motels, etc. Resorts	$1,371,353	$342,838	$205,703
Total	$17,167,915	$4,291,979	$2,575,187

In addition to the lack of identifying information, the businesses' ability to pay is also difficult to estimate. DOR, in cases of tax delinquency, has the authority to seize all taxpayer assets within four weeks of notification. DOR collections protocol allows for the confiscation and auction of all assets within a relatively short period of time. Given the Department's current ability to collect past due taxes, the additional leverage that SB 867 provides in increasing compliance is unknown. Table 2 provides several collection scenarios. Should 100% of past due tax payers both hold ABC permits and have the ability to pay delinquent taxes, General Fund availability would increase by $17.2 million annually. If tax compliance increases by 25% General Fund availability would increase by $4.2 million annually.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO PROVIDE THAT COMPLIANCE WITH THE STATE'S TAX LAWS IS A CONDITION OF HOLDING AN ABC PERMIT AND THAT AN ABC PERMIT MAY BE REVOKED FOR FAILURE TO TIMELY FILE A TAX RETURN OR PAY AN OVERDUE TAX DEBT.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 18B-903 is amended by adding a new subsection to read:

"(b3) Tax Compliance. – Compliance with Chapter 105 of the General Statutes is a condition of holding an ABC permit issued under this Chapter. A person required to renew a mixed beverages permit under subsection (a) of this section and a person required to register under subsection (b1) of this section must submit, along with the renewal application or annual registration, a certification that the person has timely filed all tax returns that are due and has no overdue tax debts. Failure to file a timely tax return and failure to pay an overdue tax debt are grounds for revoking a permit issued under this Chapter. The term 'overdue tax debt' has the same meaning as defined in G.S. 105-243.1."

SECTION 2. G.S. 105-259(b) is amended by adding a new subdivision to read:

"(b) Disclosure Prohibited. – An officer, an employee, or an agent of the State who has access to tax information in the course of service to or employment by the State may not disclose the information to any other person unless the disclosure is made for one of the following purposes:

...

(39) To provide to the North Carolina Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission the information needed to determine if a person holding an ABC permit under Chapter 18B of the General Statutes is in compliance with this Chapter."

SECTION 3. This act is effective when it becomes law.

"§ 131D-2.1. Definitions.

As used in this Article:

(1) Abuse. – The willful or grossly negligent infliction of physical pain, injury, or mental anguish, unreasonable confinement, or the willful or grossly negligent deprivation by the administrator or staff of an adult care home of services which are necessary to maintain mental and physical health.

(2) Administrator. – A person approved by the Department of Health and Human Services who has the responsibility for the total operation of a licensed adult care home.

(3) Adult care home. – An assisted living residence in which the housing management provides 24-hour scheduled and unscheduled personal care services to two or more residents, either directly or for scheduled needs, through formal written agreement with licensed home care or hospice agencies. Some licensed adult care homes provide supervision to persons with cognitive impairments whose decisions, if made independently, may jeopardize the safety or well-being of themselves or others and therefore require supervision. Medication in an adult care home may be administered by designated trained staff. Adult care homes that provide care to two to six unrelated residents are commonly called family care homes.

(4) Amenities. – Services such as meals, housekeeping, transportation, and grocery shopping that do not involve hands-on personal care.

(5) Assisted living residence. – Any group housing and services program for two or more unrelated adults, by whatever name it is called, that makes available, at a minimum, one meal a day and housekeeping services and provides personal care services directly or through a formal written agreement with one or more licensed home care or hospice agencies. The Department may allow nursing service exceptions on a case-by-case basis. Settings in which services are delivered may include self-contained apartment units or single or shared room units with private or area baths. Assisted living residences are to be distinguished from nursing homes subject to provisions of G.S. 131E-102. There are three types of assisted living residences: adult care homes, adult care homes that serve only elderly persons, and multiunit assisted housing with services. As used in this section, "elderly person" means:

a. Any person who has attained the age of 55 years or older and requires assistance with activities of daily living, housing, and services, or

b. Any adult who has a primary diagnosis of Alzheimer's disease or other form of dementia who requires assistance with activities of daily living, housing, and services provided by a licensed Alzheimer's and dementia care unit.

(6) Compensatory agent. – A spouse, relative, or other caretaker who lives with a resident and provides care to a resident.

(7) Department. – The Department of Health and Human Services unless some other meaning is clearly indicated from the context.

(8) Exploitation. – The illegal or improper use of an aged or disabled resident or the aged or disabled resident's resources for another's profit or advantage.

(9) Family care home. – An adult care home having two to six residents. The structure of a family care home may be no more than two stories high, and none of the aged or physically disabled persons being served there may be housed in the upper story without provision for two direct exterior ground-level accesses to the upper story.

(10) Multiunit assisted housing with services. – An assisted living residence in which hands-on personal care services and nursing services which are arranged by housing management are provided by a licensed home care or hospice agency through an individualized written care plan. The housing management has a financial interest or financial affiliation or formal written agreement which makes personal care services accessible and available through at least one licensed home care or hospice agency. The resident has a choice of any provider, and the housing management may not combine charges for housing and personal care services. All residents, or their compensatory agents, must be capable, through informed consent, of entering into a contract and must not be in need of 24-hour supervision. Assistance with self-administration of medications may be provided by appropriately trained staff when delegated by a licensed nurse according to the home care agency's established plan of care. Multiunit assisted housing with services programs are required to register with the Division of Health Service Regulation and to provide a disclosure statement. The disclosure statement is required to be a part of the annual rental contract that includes a description of the following requirements:

a. Emergency response system;
b. Charges for services offered;
c. Limitations of tenancy;
d. Limitations of services;
e. Resident responsibilities;
f. Financial/legal relationship between housing management and home care or hospice agencies;
g. A listing of all home care or hospice agencies and other community services in the area;
h. An appeals process; and
i. Procedures for required initial and annual resident screening and referrals for services.

Continuing care retirement communities, subject to regulation by the Department of Insurance under Chapter 58 of the General Statutes, are exempt from the regulatory requirements for multiunit assisted housing with services programs.

(11) Neglect. – The failure to provide the services necessary to maintain a resident's physical or mental health.

(12) Personal care services. – Any hands-on services allowed to be performed by In-Home Aides II or III as outlined in Department rules.

(13) Registration. – The submission by a multiunit assisted housing with services provider of a disclosure statement containing all the information as outlined in subdivision (10) of this section.

(14) Resident. – A person living in an assisted living residence for the purpose of obtaining access to housing and services provided or made available by housing management.

(15) Secretary. – The Secretary of Health and Human Services unless some other meaning is clearly indicated from the context.

"§ 131D-2.2. Persons not to be cared for in adult care homes and multiunit assisted housing with services; hospice care; obtaining services.

(a) Adult Care Homes. – Except when a physician certifies that appropriate care can be provided on a temporary basis to meet the resident's needs and prevent unnecessary relocation, adult care homes shall not care for individuals with any of the following conditions or care needs:

(1) Ventilator dependency;
(2) Individuals requiring continuous licensed nursing care;
(3) Individuals whose physician certifies that placement is no longer appropriate;
(4) Individuals whose health needs cannot be met in the specific adult care home as determined by the residence; and
(5) Such other medical and functional care needs as the Medical Care Commission determines cannot be properly met in an adult care home.

(b) Multiunit Assisted Housing With Services. – Except when a physician certifies that appropriate care can be provided on a temporary basis to meet the resident's needs and prevent unnecessary relocation, multiunit assisted housing with services shall not care for individuals with any of the following conditions or care needs:

(1) Ventilator dependency;
(2) Dermal ulcers III and IV, except those stage III ulcers which are determined by an independent physician to be healing;

(3) Intravenous therapy or injections directly into the vein, except for intermittent intravenous therapy managed by a home care or hospice agency licensed in this State;
(4) Airborne infectious disease in a communicable state that requires isolation of the individual or requires special precautions by the caretaker to prevent transmission of the disease, including diseases such as tuberculosis and excluding infections such as the common cold;
(5) Psychotropic medications without appropriate diagnosis and treatment plans;
(6) Nasogastric tubes;
(7) Gastric tubes, except when the individual is capable of independently feeding himself or herself and caring for the tube, or as managed by a home care or hospice agency licensed in this State;
(8) Individuals requiring continuous licensed nursing care;
(9) Individuals whose physician certifies that placement is no longer appropriate;
(10) Unless the individual's independent physician determines otherwise, individuals who require maximum physical assistance as documented by a uniform assessment instrument and who meet Medicaid nursing facility level-of-care criteria as defined in the State Plan for Medical Assistance. Maximum physical assistance means that an individual has a rating of total dependence in four or more of the seven activities of daily living as documented on a uniform assessment instrument;
(11) Individuals whose health needs cannot be met in the specific multiunit assisted housing with services as determined by the residence; and
(12) Such other medical and functional care needs as the Medical Care Commission determines cannot be properly met in multiunit assisted housing with services.

(c) Hospice Care. – At the request of the resident, hospice care may be provided in an assisted living residence under the same requirements for hospice programs as described in Article 10 of Chapter 131E of the General Statutes.

(d) Obtaining Services. – The resident of an assisted living facility has the right to obtain services at the resident's own expense from providers other than the housing management. This subsection shall not be construed to relieve the resident of the resident's contractual obligation to pay the housing management for any services covered by the contract between the resident and housing management.

"§ 131D-2.3. Exemptions from licensure.

(a) The following are excluded from this Article and are not required to be registered or obtain licensure under this Article:

"§ 131D-2.4. Licensure of adult care homes for aged and disabled individuals; impact of prior violations on licensure; compliance history review; license renewal.

(a) Licensure. – Except for those facilities exempt under G.S. 131D-2.3, the Department of Health and Human Services shall inspect and license all adult care homes. The Department shall issue a license for a facility not currently licensed as an adult care home for a period of six months. If the licensee demonstrates substantial compliance with Articles 1 and 3 of this Chapter and rules adopted thereunder, the Department shall issue a license for the balance of the calendar year.

(b) Compliance History Review. – Prior to issuing a new license or renewing an existing license, the Department shall conduct a compliance history review of the facility and its principals and affiliates. The Department may refuse to license a facility when the compliance history review shows a pattern of noncompliance with State law by the facility or its principals or affiliates, or otherwise demonstrates disregard for the health, safety, and welfare of residents in current or past facilities. The Department shall require compliance history information and make its determination according to rules adopted by the Medical Care Commission.

(c) Prior Violations. – No new license shall be issued for any adult care home to an applicant for licensure who:

(1) Was the owner, principal, or affiliate of a licensable facility under this Chapter, Chapter 122C, or Article 7 of Chapter 110 of the General Statutes that had its license revoked until one full year after the date of revocation;

(2) Is the owner, principal, or affiliate of an adult care home that was assessed a penalty for a Type A or Type B violation until the earlier of one year from the date the penalty was assessed or until the home has substantially complied with the correction plan established pursuant to G.S. 131D-34 and substantial compliance has been certified by the Department;

(3) Is the owner, principal, or affiliate of an adult care home that had its license summarily suspended or downgraded to provisional status as a result of Type A or Type B violations until six months from the date of reinstatement of the license, restoration from provisional to full licensure, or termination of the provisional license, as applicable; or

(4) Is the owner, principal, or affiliate of a licensable facility that had its license summarily suspended or downgraded to provisional status as a result of violations under this Article or Chapter 122C of the General Statutes or had its license summarily suspended or denied under Article 7 of Chapter 110 of the General Statutes until six months from the date of the reinstatement of the license, restoration from provisional to full licensure, or termination of the provisional license, as applicable.

An applicant for new licensure may appeal a denial of certification of substantial compliance under subdivision (2) of this subsection by filing with the Department a request for review by the Secretary within 10 days of the date of denial of the certification. Within 10 days of receipt of the request for review, the Secretary shall issue to the applicant a written determination that either denies certification of substantial compliance or certifies substantial compliance. The decision of the Secretary is final.

(d) License Renewals. – License renewals shall be valid for one year from the date of renewal unless revoked earlier by the Secretary for failure to comply with any part of this section or any rules adopted hereunder. Licenses shall be renewed annually upon filing and the Department's approval of the renewal application. The Department shall not renew a license if outstanding fees, fines, and penalties imposed by the State against the home have not been paid. Fines and penalties for which an appeal is pending are exempt from consideration. The renewal application shall contain all necessary and reasonable information that the Department may require.

(e) In order for an adult care home to maintain its license, it shall not hinder or interfere with the proper performance of duty of a lawfully appointed community advisory committee, as defined by G.S. 131D-31 and G.S. 131D-32.

(f) The Department shall not issue a new license for a change of ownership of an adult care home if outstanding fees, fines, and penalties imposed by the State against the home have not been paid. Fines and penalties for which an appeal is pending are exempt from consideration.

"§ 131D-2.5. License fees.

The Department shall charge each adult care home with six or fewer beds a nonrefundable annual license fee in the amount of two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00). The Department shall charge each adult care home with more than six beds a nonrefundable annual license fee in the amount of three hundred fifty dollars ($350.00) plus a nonrefundable annual per-bed fee of twelve dollars and fifty cents ($12.50).

"§ 131D-2.6. Legal action by Department.

(a) Notwithstanding the existence or pursuit of any other remedy, the Department may, in the manner provided by law, maintain an action in the name of the State for injunction or other process against any person to restrain or prevent the establishment, conduct, management, or operation of an adult care home without a license. Such action shall be instituted in the superior court of the county in which any unlicensed activity has occurred or is occurring.

(b) Any individual or corporation that establishes, conducts, manages, or operates a facility subject to licensure under this section without a license is guilty of a Class 3 misdemeanor and, upon conviction, shall be punishable only by a fine of not more than fifty dollars ($50.00) for the first offense and not more than five hundred dollars ($500.00) for each subsequent offense. Each day of a continuing violation after conviction shall be considered a separate offense.

(c) If any person shall hinder the proper performance of duty of the Secretary or the Secretary's representative in carrying out this section, the Secretary may institute an action in the superior court of the county in which the hindrance has occurred for injunctive relief against the continued hindrance, irrespective of all other remedies at law.

(d) Actions under this section shall be in accordance with Article 37 of Chapter 1 of the General Statutes and Rule 65 of the Rules of Civil Procedure.

"§ 131D-2.7. Provisional license; license revocation; summary suspension of license; suspension of admission.

(a) Provisional License. – Except as otherwise provided in this section, the Department may amend a license by reducing it from a full license to a provisional license for a period of not more than 90 days whenever the Department finds that:

(1) The licensee has substantially failed to comply with the provisions of Articles 1 and 3 of this Chapter and the rules adopted pursuant to these Articles;

(2) There is a reasonable probability that the licensee can remedy the licensure deficiencies within a reasonable length of time; and

(3) There is a reasonable probability that the licensee will be able thereafter to remain in compliance with the licensure rules for the foreseeable future.

The Department may extend a provisional license for not more than one additional 90-day period upon finding that the licensee has made substantial progress toward remedying the licensure deficiencies that caused the license to be reduced to provisional status.

The Department also may issue a provisional license to a facility, pursuant to rules adopted by the Medical Care Commission, for substantial failure to comply with the provisions of this section or rules adopted pursuant to this section. Any facility wishing to contest the issuance of a provisional license shall be entitled to an administrative hearing as provided in the Administrative Procedure Act, Chapter 150B of the General Statutes. A petition for a contested case shall be filed within 30 days after the Department mails written notice of the issuance of the provisional license.

(b) License Revocation. – The Department may revoke a license whenever:

(1) The Department finds that:

a. The licensee has substantially failed to comply with the provisions of Articles 1 and 3 of this Chapter and the rules adopted pursuant to these Articles; and

b. It is not reasonably probable that the licensee can remedy the licensure deficiencies within a reasonable length of time; or

(2) The Department finds that:

a. The licensee has substantially failed to comply with the provisions of Articles 1 and 3 of this Chapter and the rules adopted pursuant to these Articles; and

b. Although the licensee may be able to remedy the deficiencies within a reasonable time, it is not reasonably probable that the licensee will be able to remain in compliance with licensure rules for the foreseeable future; or

c. The licensee has failed to comply with the provisions of Articles 1 and 3 of this Chapter and the rules adopted pursuant to these Articles, and the failure to comply endangered the health, safety, or welfare of the patients in the facility.

(c) Summary Suspension. – The Department may summarily suspend a license pursuant to G.S. 150B-3(c) whenever it finds substantial evidence of abuse, neglect, exploitation, or any condition which presents an imminent danger to the health and safety of any resident of the home. Any facility wishing to contest summary suspension of a license shall be entitled to an administrative hearing as provided in the Administrative Procedure Act, Chapter 150B of the General Statutes. A petition for a contested case shall be filed within 20 days after the Department mails a notice of summary suspension to the licensee.

(d) Suspension of Admissions.

(1) In addition to the administrative penalties described in this Article, the Secretary may suspend the admission of any new residents to an adult care home where the conditions of the adult care home are detrimental to the health or safety of the residents. This suspension shall be for the period determined by the Secretary and shall remain in effect until the Secretary is satisfied that conditions or circumstances merit removing the suspension.

(2) In imposing a suspension under this section, the Secretary shall consider the following factors:

a. The degree of sanctions necessary to ensure compliance with this section and rules adopted hereunder; and

b. The character and degree of impact of the conditions at the home on the health or safety of its residents.

(3) The Secretary of Health and Human Services shall adopt rules to implement this section.

(4) Any facility wishing to contest a suspension of admissions shall be entitled to an administrative hearing as provided in the Administrative Procedure Act, Chapter 150B of the General Statutes. A petition for a contested case shall be filed within 20 days after the Department mails a notice of suspension of admissions to the licensee.

(a) State Inspection and Monitoring. – The Department shall ensure that adult care homes required to be licensed by this Article are monitored for licensure compliance on a regular basis. All facilities licensed under this Article and adult care units in nursing homes are subject to inspections at all times by the Secretary. The Division of Health Service Regulation shall inspect all adult care homes and adult care units in nursing homes on an annual basis. In addition, the Department shall ensure that adult care homes are inspected every two years to determine compliance with physical plant and life-safety requirements.

(b) Monitoring by County. – The Department shall work with county departments of social services to do the routine monitoring in adult care homes to ensure compliance with State and federal laws, rules, and regulations in accordance with policy and procedures established by the Division of Health Service Regulation and to have the Division of Health Service Regulation oversee this monitoring and perform any required follow-up inspection. The county departments of social services shall document in a written report all on-site visits, including monitoring visits, revisits, and complaint investigations. The county departments of social services shall submit to the Division of Health Service Regulation written reports of each facility visit within 20 working days of the visit.

(c) State Review of County Compliance. – The Division of Health Service Regulation shall conduct and document annual reviews of the county departments of social services' performance. "§ 131D-2.13. Departmental duties.

(a) Enforcement of Room Ventilation and Temperature. – The Department shall monitor regularly the enforcement of rules pertaining to air circulation, ventilation, and room temperature in resident living quarters. These rules shall include the requirement that air conditioning or at least one fan per resident bedroom and living and dining areas be provided when the temperature in the main center corridor exceeds 80 degrees Fahrenheit.

"§ 131D-2.14. Confidentiality.

Notwithstanding G.S. 8-53 or any other law relating to confidentiality of communications between physician and patient, in the course of an inspection conducted under G.S. 131D-2.11:

(1) Department representatives may review any writing or other record concerning the admission, discharge, medication, care, medical condition, or history of any person who is or has been a resident of the facility being inspected.

(2) Any person involved in giving care or treatment at or through the facility may disclose information to Department representatives unless the resident objects in writing to review of the resident's records or disclosure of such information.

(3) The facility, its employees, and any other person interviewed in the course of an inspection shall be immune from liability for damages resulting from disclosure of any information to the Department. The Department shall not disclose:

a. Any confidential or privileged information obtained under this section unless the resident or the resident's legal representative authorizes disclosure in writing or unless a court of competent jurisdiction orders disclosure, or

b. The name of anyone who has furnished information concerning a facility without that person's consent.

In conducting the assessment, the facility shall use an assessment instrument approved by the Secretary upon the advice of the Director of the Division of Aging and Adult Services. The Department shall provide ongoing training for facility personnel in the use of the approved assessment instrument.

The facility shall use the assessment to develop appropriate and comprehensive service plans and care plans and to determine the level and type of facility staff that is needed to meet the needs of residents. The assessment shall determine a resident's level of functioning and shall include, but not be limited to, cognitive status and physical functioning in activities of daily living. Activities of daily living are personal functions essential for the health and well-being of the resident. The assessment shall not serve as the basis for medical care. The assessment shall indicate if the resident requires referral to the resident's physician or other appropriate licensed health care professional or community resource.

(b) The Department, as part of its inspection and licensing of adult care homes, shall review assessments and related service plans and care plans for a selected number of residents. In conducting this review, the Department shall determine:

(1) Whether the appropriate assessment instrument was administered and interpreted correctly;

(2) Whether the facility is capable of providing the necessary services;

(3) Whether the service plan or care plan conforms to the results of an appropriately administered and interpreted assessment; and

(4) Whether the service plans or care plans are being implemented fully and in accordance with an appropriately administered and interpreted assessment.

(c) If the Department finds that the facility is not carrying out its assessment responsibilities in accordance with this section, the Department shall notify the facility and require the facility to implement a corrective action plan. The Department shall also notify the resident of the results of its review of the assessment, service plans, and care plans developed for the resident. In addition to administrative penalties, the Secretary may suspend the admission of any new residents to the facility. The suspension shall be for the period determined by the Secretary and shall remain in effect until the Secretary is satisfied that conditions or circumstances merit removing the suspension.

"§ 131D-2.16. Rules.

Except as otherwise provided in this Article, the Medical Care Commission shall adopt rules necessary to carry out this Article. The Commission has the authority, in adopting rules, to specify the limitation of nursing services provided by assisted living residences. In developing rules, the Commission shall consider the need to ensure comparable quality of services provided to residents, whether these services are provided directly by a licensed assisted living provider, licensed home care agency, or hospice. In adult care homes, living arrangements where residents require supervision due to cognitive impairments, rules shall be adopted to ensure that supervision is appropriate and adequate to meet the special needs of these residents. Rule-making authority under this section is in addition to that conferred under G.S. 131D-4.3 and G.S. 131D-4.5.

"§ 131D-2.17. Impact on other laws; severability.

(a) Nothing in this section shall be construed to supersede any federal or State antitrust, antikickback, or safe harbor laws or regulations.

(b) If any provisions of this section or the application of it to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the invalidity does not affect other provisions or applications of the section which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this section are severable.

"§ 131D-2.18. Application of other laws.

(a) Certification of assisted living administrators shall be as provided under Article 20A of Chapter 90 of the General Statutes.

(b) Compliance with the Health Care Personnel Registry shall be as provided under G.S. 131E-256.

HOUSE BILL 1196:
State Nat. & Hist. Pres. Addns. & Del

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	July 15, 2009
Introduced by:	Rep. England	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell
Analysis of:	PCS to Third Edition H1196-CSRIx-42		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: The Proposed Committee Substitute (PCS) for House Bill 1196 would dedicate and accept certain properties as part of the State Nature and Historic Preserve (Preserve), and remove certain lands from the Preserve.

CHANGE MADE BY PCS: The PCS deletes a reference to Grandfather Mountain State Park. The bill dedicates all lands and waters within the boundaries of units of the State Parks System as of May 5, 2009 (the date of the Council of State's petition to the General Assembly, see more information below). As the State did not finalize acquisition of the Grandfather Mountain property until June 4, 2009, there were no lands or waters in the unit to be included in the Preserve as of May 5th. Grandfather Mountain State Park will be included in a future bill to be introduced to dedicate and accept properties as part of the Preserve.

The PCS also corrects a figure concerning the acres added to the State Parks System since the last dedication and acceptance of properties as part of the Preserve dated May 1, 2007, from more than 15,000 to more than 18,000.

CURRENT LAW: Section 5 of Article XIV of the Constitution of North Carolina provides for addition of properties to and removal of properties from the State Nature and Historic Preserve by a law enacted by a three-fifths vote of the members of each house of the General Assembly. The Preserve is intended to insure that lands and waters acquired and preserved for public park, recreation, conservation, and historic preservation purposes continue to be used for these purposes. Upon inclusion in the Preserve, these lands may not be used for other purposes except as authorized by a law enacted by a vote of three-fifths of the members of each house. G.S. 113-44.14 provides conditions and procedures for additions to, and deletions from, the State Parks System that must be authorized by the General Assembly. G.S. 143-260.10 lists the current components of the Preserve.

BACKGROUND: Properties were last accepted into the Preserve in 2007. Since that time over 18,000 acres have been added to the North Carolina Park System. The Council of State met on May 5, 2009 to petition the General Assembly to accept into the Preserve various State parklands and historic sites. In its petition, the Council of State also requested that certain small parcels be deleted for various reasons in order to improve the management of units, allow for existing road relocations, or allow for utility easements.

BILL ANALYSIS: The PCS would:

- Add Bear Paw State Natural Area and Deep River State Trail, to the Preserve (each is a new unit of the State Parks System authorized since the last dedication of State property in 2007).
- Change the designation of Mountain Bog State Natural Area to Pineola Bog State Natural Area and Sugar Mountain State Natural Area.

- Excepts from dedication and/or deletes from the State Parks System several parcels of land proposed for disposition. These are small parcels and their disposition is to improve the management of the units, to allow for existing road relocations, or to allow for utility easements.

  (6)(c) – Concerning Crowders Mountain State Park: Adds language to the statute to except a parcel of land containing 14,964 square feet, which was found to be an encroachment on the property when the State acquired the property. The parcel would be sold to the adjacent landowner and the encroachment resolved.

  (17)(b) – Concerning Eno River State Park: Adds language to the statute to except a parcel of land containing 5,313 square feet, which is needed for a bridge replacement project on Saint Mary's Road over Stroud's Creek in Hillsborough (allowing permanent drainage easements for the new bridge).

  (21) – Concerning Chimney Rock State Park: Adds language to the statute to except a parcel of land containing 346 square feet, which is needed for a bridge replacement project on US 64 over the Broad River (allowing the Department of Transportation to replace a substandard bridge).

  (22) – Concerning Mountains-to-Sea Trail: Adds language to allow the State to issue an easement to Piedmont Natural Gas Company for a gas transmission line across a recently acquired parcel for the Mountains-to-Sea State Trail. The tract must be removed from the Preserve as property in the Preserve may not be used for such a purpose under Section 5 of Article XIV of the Constitution of North Carolina. The underlying fee simple property will remain in the State Parks System. Disturbance to the surface will be minimized with directional boring for the gas pipeline. This is a gas line that will serve eastern Wake County and Johnston County and will be a permanent exception.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The PCS would be effective when it becomes law.

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	July 15, 2009
Introduced by:	Reps. Wray, Goforth	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell
Analysis of:	Third Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: HB 1159 is an agency bill that clarifies when business entity licenses expire, provides for electronic filings with the Department of Insurance via the National Insurance Producer Registry and authorizes a fee for the electronic filing, and specifies that there must be a separate appointment by an insurer for each kind of insurance for which an agent is licensed in this state.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Section 1 clarifies that business entity licenses expire on March 31st (instead of April 1st) of each year unless renewed.

Section 2 creates a new section, G.S. 58-2-250 which allows electronic filing of licensing documents either with the Commissioner of Insurance or the Commissioner's designee. The designee may include the National Insurance Producer Registry of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners ("National Registry"). The bill allows the National Registry to charge an administrative fee for processing the electronic filing that is in addition to any other fee imposed for the filing. The fee for an electronic filing is limited to the actual cost of the electronic transaction.

Section 3 amends G.S. 58-33-40(b) to clarify that when an insurer appoints a licensed individual to be its agent, the individual is authorized to act as an agent for each type of insurance for which the individual holds a license and which the insurer is authorized to sell. There is one appointment for each type of insurance for which the appointed agent is licensed.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act becomes effective October 1, 2009.

(a) An individual who applies for a public adjuster license in this State who was previously licensed as a public adjuster in another state based on a public adjuster examination shall not be required to complete any prelicensing examination. This exemption is only available if the person is currently licensed in that state or if the application is received within 12 months of the cancellation of the applicant's previous license and if the prior state issues a certification that, at the time of cancellation, the applicant was in good standing in that state or the state's producer database records or records maintained by the NAIC, its affiliates, or subsidiaries indicate that the public adjuster is or was licensed in good standing.

(d) A licensed public adjuster shall be subject to Article 63 of this Chapter.

(e) A public adjuster who allows his or her license to lapse may, within 12 months from the due date of the renewal, be issued a new public adjuster license upon the Commissioner's receipt of the request for renewal. However, an administrative fee in the amount of double the unpaid renewal fee shall be required for the issuance of the new public adjuster license. The new public adjuster license shall be effective the date the Commissioner receives the request for renewal and the late payment penalty.

(f) Any public adjuster licensee that fails to apply for renewal of a license before expiration of the current license shall pay a lapsed license fee of twice the license fee and be subject to other penalties as provided by law before the license will be renewed. If the Department receives the request for reinstatement and the required lapsed license fee within 60 days after the date the license lapsed, the Department shall reinstate the license retroactively to the date the license lapsed. If the Department receives the request for reinstatement and the required lapsed license fee after 60 days but within one year of the date the license lapsed, the Department shall reinstate the license prospectively with the date the license is reinstated. If the person applies for reinstatement more than one year from the date of lapse, the person shall reapply for the license under this Article.

(g) A licensed public adjuster who is unable to comply with license renewal procedures because of military service, a long-term medical disability, or some other extenuating circumstance may request a waiver of those procedures. The public adjuster may also request a waiver of any examination requirement, fine, or other sanction imposed for failure to comply with renewal procedures.

(h) The license shall contain the licensee's name, city and state of business address, personal identification number, the date of issuance, the expiration date, and any other information the Commissioner deems necessary.

(i) In order to assist in the performance of the Commissioner's duties, the Commissioner may contract with nongovernmental entities, including the NAIC or any affiliates or subsidiaries that the NAIC oversees, to perform any ministerial functions related to licensing, including the collection of fees and data, that the Commissioner may deem appropriate.

"§ 58-33A-45. License denial, nonrenewal, or revocation.

The applicant or licensee may make written demand upon the Commissioner in accordance with Article 3A of Chapter 150B of the General Statutes for a hearing before the Commissioner to determine the reasonableness of the Commissioner's action. The hearing shall be held pursuant to Article 3A of Chapter 150B of the General Statutes.

(c) The license of a business entity may be suspended, revoked, or refused if the Commissioner finds, after hearing, that an individual licensee's violation was known or should have been known by one or more of the partners, officers, or managers acting on behalf of the business entity and the violation was neither reported to the Commissioner nor corrective action taken.

a. It shall be in the minimum amount of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000).

b. "§ 58-33A-60. Public adjuster fees.

(10) Attestation language stating that the public adjuster is fully bonded pursuant to state law.

(11) Full salary, fee, commission, compensation, or other considerations the public adjuster is to receive for services.

(b) The contract may specify that the public adjuster shall be named as a co-payee on an insurer's payment of a claim.

(1) If the compensation is based on a share of the insurance settlement, the exact percentage shall be specified.

(2) Initial expenses to be reimbursed to the public adjuster from the proceeds of the claim payment shall be specified by type, with dollar estimates set forth in the contract and with any additional expenses first approved by the insured.

(3) Compensation provisions in a public adjusting contract shall not be redacted in any copy of the contract provided to the Commissioner. Such a redaction shall constitute an omission of material fact in violation of Article 63 of this Chapter.

(c) If the insurer, not later than 72 hours after the date on which the loss is reported to the insurer, either pays or commits in writing to pay to the insured the policy limit of the insurance policy, the public adjuster shall comply with all of the following:

(1) Not receive a commission consisting of a percentage of the total amount paid by an insurer to resolve a claim.

(2) Inform the insured that loss recovery amount might not be increased by insurer.

(3) Be entitled only to reasonable compensation from the insured for services provided by the public adjuster on behalf of the insured, based on the time spent on a claim and expenses incurred by the public adjuster, until the claim is paid or the insured receives a written commitment to pay from the insurer.

(d) A public adjuster shall provide the insured a written disclosure concerning any direct or indirect financial interest that the public adjuster has with any other party who is involved in any aspect of the claim, other than the salary, fee, commission, or other consideration established in the written contract with the insured, including, but not limited to, any ownership of, other than as a minority stockholder, or any compensation expected to be received from any construction firm, salvage firm, building appraisal firm, motor vehicle repair shop, or any other firm that provides estimates for work, or that performs any work, in conjunction with damages caused by the insured loss on which the public adjuster is engaged. The word "firm" shall include any corporation, partnership, association, joint-stock company, or person.

(e) A public adjuster contract may not contain any contract term that includes any of the following terms:

(1) Allows the public adjuster's percentage fee to be collected when money is due from an insurance company but not paid, or that allows a public adjuster to collect the entire fee from the first check issued by an insurance company rather than as a percentage of each check issued by an insurance company.

(2) Requires the insured to authorize an insurance company to issue a check only in the name of the public adjuster.

(3) Imposes collection costs or late fees.

(4) Precludes a public adjuster from pursuing civil remedies.

(f) Before the signing of the contract, the public adjuster shall provide the insured with a separate disclosure document regarding the claim process that states:

(1) Property insurance policies obligate the insured to present a claim to his or her insurance company for consideration. There are three types of adjusters that could be involved in that process. The definitions of the three types are as follows:

a. "Company adjuster" means the insurance adjusters who are employees of an insurance company. They represent the interest of the insurance company and are paid by the insurance company. They will not charge you a fee.

b. "Independent adjuster" means the insurance adjusters who are hired on a contract basis by an insurance company to represent the insurance company's interest in the settlement of the claim. They are paid by your insurance company. They will not charge you a fee.

c. "Public adjuster" means the insurance adjusters who do not work for any insurance company. They work for the insured to assist in the preparation, presentation, and settlement of the claim. The insured hires them by signing a contract agreeing to pay them a fee or commission based on a percentage of the settlement or other method of compensation.

(2) The insured is not required to hire a public adjuster to help the insured meet his or her obligations under the policy but has the right to do so.

(3) The insured has the right to initiate direct communications with the insured's attorney, the insurer, the insurer's adjuster, and the insurer's attorney, or any other person regarding the settlement of the insured's claim. Once a public adjuster has been retained, the company adjuster or other insurance representative may not communicate directly with the insured without the permission or consent of the public adjuster or the insured's legal counsel.

(4) The public adjuster is not a representative or employee of the insurer.

(5) The salary, fee, commission, or other consideration is the obligation of the insured, not the insurer.

(g) The contracts shall be executed in duplicate to provide an original contract to the public adjuster and an original contract to the insured. The public adjuster's original contract shall be available at all times for inspection without notice by the Commissioner.

(h) The public adjuster shall provide the insurer a notification letter, which has been signed by the insured, authorizing the public adjuster to represent the insured's interest.

(i) The insured has the right to rescind the contract within three business days after the date the contract was signed. The rescission shall be in writing and mailed or delivered to the public adjuster at the address in the contract within the three-business-day period.

(j) If the insured exercises the right to rescind the contract, anything of value given by the insured under the contract will be returned to the insured within 15 business days after the receipt by the public adjuster of the cancellation notice.

"§ 58-33A-70. Escrow or trust accounts.

A public adjuster who receives, accepts, or holds any funds on behalf of an insured, toward the settlement of a claim for loss or damage, shall deposit the funds in a noninterest-bearing escrow or trust account in a financial institution that is insured by an agency of the federal government in the public adjuster's home state or where the loss occurred.

"§ 58-33A-75. Record retention.

(a) A public adjuster shall maintain a complete record of each transaction as a public adjuster. The records required by this section shall include all of the following:

(1) Name of the insured.
(2) Date, location, and amount of the loss.
(3) Copy of the contract between the public adjuster and insured.
(4) Name of the insurer, amount, expiration date and number of each policy carried with respect to the loss.

(6) Itemized statement of all compensation received by the public adjuster, from any source whatsoever, in connection with the loss.
(7) A register of all monies received, deposited, disbursed, or withdrawn in connection with a transaction with an insured, including fees, transfers, and disbursements from a trust account and all transactions concerning all interest-bearing accounts.
(8) Name of public adjuster who executed the contract.
(9) Name of the attorney representing the insured, if applicable, and the name of the claims representatives of the insurance company.
(10) Evidence of financial responsibility in a format prescribed by the Commissioner.

(b) Records shall be maintained for at least five years after the termination of the transaction with an insured and shall be open to examination by the Commissioner at all times.

(c) Records submitted to the Commissioner in accordance with this section that contain information identified in writing as proprietary by the public adjuster shall be treated as confidential by the Commissioner and shall not be subject to Chapter 132 of the General Statutes or G.S. 58-2-100.

"§ 58-33A-80. Standards of conduct of public adjusters.

(a) A public adjuster shall, under his or her license, serve with objectivity and complete loyalty the interest of his or her client alone and render to the insured such information, counsel, and service, as within the knowledge, understanding, and opinion in good faith of the licensee, as will best serve the insured's insurance claim needs and interest.

(b) A public adjuster shall not solicit, or attempt to solicit, an insured during the progress of a loss-producing occurrence, as defined in the insured's insurance contract.

(c) A public adjuster shall not permit an unlicensed employee or representative of the public adjuster to conduct business for which a license is required under this Article.

(d) A public adjuster shall not have a direct or indirect financial interest in any aspect of the claim, other than the salary, fee, commission, or other consideration established in the written contract with the insured, unless full written disclosure has been made to the insured as set forth in G.S. 58-33A-65.

(e) A public adjuster shall not acquire any interest in salvage of property subject to the contract with the insured unless the public adjuster obtains written permission from the insured after settlement of the claim with the insurer as set forth in G.S. 58-33A-65.

(f) The public adjuster shall abstain from referring or directing the insured to get needed repairs or services in connection with a loss from any person described by any of the following criteria, unless disclosed to the insured:

(1) The public adjuster has a financial interest in the person.

(2) The public adjuster may receive direct or indirect compensation for the referral from the person.

(g) The public adjuster shall disclose to an insured if the public adjuster has any interest or will be compensated by any construction firm, salvage firm, building appraisal firm, motor vehicle repair shop, or any other firm that performs any work in conjunction with damages caused by the insured loss. The word "firm" includes any corporation, partnership, association, joint-stock company, or person.

(h) Any compensation or anything of value in connection with an insured's specific loss that will be received by a public adjuster shall be disclosed by the public adjuster to the insured in writing, including the source and amount of any such compensation.

(i) Public adjusters shall adhere to all of the following general ethical requirements:

(1) A public adjuster shall not undertake the adjustment of any claim if the public adjuster is not competent and knowledgeable as to the terms and conditions of the insurance coverage, or which otherwise exceeds the public adjuster's current expertise.

(2) A public adjuster shall not knowingly make any oral or written material misrepresentations or statements that are false or maliciously critical and intended to injure any person engaged in the business of insurance to any insured client or potential insured client.

(3) No public adjuster, while so licensed by the Department, may represent or act as a company adjuster or independent adjuster on the same claim.

(4) The contract shall not be construed to prevent an insured from pursuing any civil remedy after the three-business-day revocation or cancellation period.

(5) A public adjuster shall not enter into a contract or accept a power of attorney that vests in the public adjuster the effective authority to choose the persons who shall perform repair work.

(6) A public adjuster shall ensure that all contracts for the public adjuster's services are in writing and set forth all terms and conditions of the engagement.

(j) A public adjuster may not agree to any loss settlement without the insured's knowledge and consent.

(k) Public adjusters shall not solicit a client for employment between the hours of 9:00 P.M. and 9:00 A.M.

"§ 58-33A-90. Reporting of actions.

(a) A public adjuster shall report to the Commissioner any administrative action taken against the public adjuster in another jurisdiction or by another governmental agency in this State within 30 days after the final disposition of the matter. This report shall include a copy of the order, consent order, or other relevant legal documents.

(b) Within 30 days after the initial pretrial hearing date, the public adjuster shall report to the Commissioner any criminal prosecution of the public adjuster taken in any jurisdiction.

The report shall include a copy of the initial complaint filed, the order resulting from the hearing, and any other relevant legal documents.

"§ 58-33A-95. Rules.

The Commissioner may, in accordance with Chapter 150B of the General Statutes, adopt rules that are necessary or proper to carry out the purposes of this Article."

SECTION 2. This act becomes effective July 1, 2010.

SENATE BILL 553:
Incorporate Swannanoa

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	July 14, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Nesbitt	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S553-CSLMx-16		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 553 incorporates the Town of Swannanoa[1]. The proposed committee substitute provides the description of the Town boundaries, prohibits the Town from annexing any area beyond the southern boundary of the corporate limits that run along a ridge line and borders the Fairview Township, and corrects the temporary officers of the Town.

CURRENT LAW: Article VII of the North Carolina Constitution provides that the General Assembly may create cities and towns. The General Assembly created the Joint Legislative Commission on Municipal Incorporations in 1986 to conduct an independent review and evaluation of proposed municipal incorporations. The evaluation is conducted in accordance with a statutory set of objective criteria found in Article 20 of Chapter 120 of the General Statutes. The statutory criteria include a review of community support, population, land development, nearness to other urban areas, and ability to provide municipal services at a reasonable rate. Chapter 160A of the General Statutes provides the general laws applicable to the administration, powers, and duties of municipalities. Municipalities may share in the following revenue sources: local sales tax distributions, Powell Bill allocations, franchise tax revenues on electricity, beer and wine excise taxes, piped natural gas excise tax revenues, and telecommunications sales tax revenues.[2]

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 553 incorporates the Town of Swannanoa, to be governed by a five-member town council and a mayor. The Joint Legislative Commission on Municipal Incorporations found that the proposed incorporation met the standards required for incorporation under Article 20 of Chapter 120 of the General Statutes.

- The Town of Swannanoa would be located in Buncombe County. The Town of Black Mountain, population 7,511 is within a distance of one mile of the proposed Town boundaries and the City of Asheville, population 68,889 is located within a distance of five miles of the proposed Town boundaries. Both the Town of Black Mountain and the City of Asheville have submitted resolutions expressing approval of the incorporation of the Town.
- The estimated permanent population of the Town of Swannanoa would be 8,667 residents. The estimated population density for the Town would be 448 people per square mile. The estimated assessed property tax valuation would be $819,151,374.
- The Town plans to offer the following services: police protection provided by the Buncombe County Sheriff's Department, fire protection provided by the Swannanoa Volunteer Fire Departments; street maintenance provided through a contract with the Department of Transportation, and street lighting provided by contract with Progress Energy.

[1] In its Report to the General Assembly dated June 17, 2009, the Joint Legislative Commission on Municipal Corporations found that the proposed Town of Swannanoa meets the standards required by Article 20 of Chapter 120 of the General Statutes and recommended incorporation of the area as the Town of Swannanoa.

[2] A municipality must have a property tax rate greater than $0.05/$100 valuation and provide at least four services to receive the following shared revenues: local sales and use tax, beer and wine excise taxes, sales tax on telecommunications, and Powell Bill allocations.

- The Town would be entitled to the following estimated amounts of revenue from shared tax revenue sources: $512,422 of local sales tax; $312,000 of franchise tax; $39,000 of beer and wine excise taxes if the Town holds a referendum in which the sales of beer and wines are approved; $123,000 of sales tax on telecommunications; and $250,000 of Powell Bill allocations. The Town is proposing a property tax rate of $0.17/$100 valuation for estimated property tax revenue of a little more than $1 million.

EFFECTIVE DATE: SB 553 would become effective when it becomes law.

Upon receipt of a notice of a permit suspension, the Commission must notify the permit holder named in the notice of the suspension in writing. The suspension is effective 10 days after the date of the written notice. The suspension remains in effect until the Commission receives a clearance certificate issued by the Department of Revenue stating the permit holder's retail permit may be reinstated. SENATE BILL 867:
Tax Law Compliance Condition of ABC Permit

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	July 13, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Hoyle	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S867-CSRB-52		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: The proposed committee substitute for Senate Bill 867 would give the Department of Revenue an additional tool to use in its collection of overdue tax debts. The bill would allow the Department to direct the North Carolina Alcohol Beverage Control Commission to suspend the ABC permit of a permittee who has an overdue tax debt. The bill becomes effective January 1, 2010, and applies to overdue tax debts on or after that date.

CURRENT LAW: The Department of Revenue may collect a tax when a return is filed showing tax is due, when a taxpayer does not request a review of a proposed assessment, when a settlement concerning the amount of tax due is reached, when a taxpayer does not file a petition for a contested case hearing upon a notice of final determination, or when a final determination is reached after a contested case hearing. The Department may collect a tax debt through the levy and sale of a taxpayer's real or personal property, through the attachment and garnishment of the taxpayer's intangible property such as rents, bank deposits, and wages, and through the outsourcing of the tax debt to a private collection agency.

A tax debt that remains unpaid 90 days or more after it becomes collectible is considered an overdue tax debt. The Department may impose a 20% collection assistance fee on an overdue tax debt that remains unpaid 30 days or more after the fee notice is mailed to the taxpayer.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 867 would allow the Department to suspend an ABC permit authorizing the retail sale of mixed beverages, wine, or beer if the holder of the permit fails to pay an overdue tax debt within 30 days after the Department gives the taxpayer written notification of the possible suspension. If the taxpayer fails to pay the overdue tax debt in a timely manner, the Department may instruct the ABC Commission to suspend the taxpayer's ABC permit. Upon receiving the instruction, the Commission must send the permittee written notice that the permit will be suspended 10 days from the date of the notice. The suspension remains in effect until the Commission receives a clearance certificate issued by the Department stating the overdue tax debt has been addressed and the permit may be reinstated. The Commission must reinstate the permit at no additional cost to the permittee and it must notify the permit holder of the reinstatement and the effective date of the reinstatement.

Typically, when a person makes retail sales of alcoholic beverages with a suspended permit, the Commission revokes the person's permit. A revoked permit may not be reissued for at least three years. A distributor may not deliver alcoholic beverages to a person who does not hold an active permit. Whenever a retailer places an order, the distributor is suppose to check the Commission's website to verify that the retailer holds an active permit. A distributor who delivers alcoholic beverages to a retailer whose permit has been suspended may have its own permit suspended for up to five days or be fined up to $500.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill becomes effective January 1, 2010, and applies to overdue tax debts on or after that date.

BACKGROUND: About a decade ago, the General Assembly authorized the Department of Revenue and the Office of the State Controller to conduct a study of the Department's delinquent collection practices. Based on the results of the study conducted by Pricewaterhouse Coopers, the Department centralized its collection process, made technology upgrades, and implemented an automated case management tool with debt scoring and performance measures.

The Department initiated Project Collect in 2001 with a goal to produce an additional $150 million in revenue collections. In conjunction with that Project, the General Assembly authorized the Department to outsource the collection of tax debts owed by both in-state and out-of-state residents. It also provided the Department with a funding mechanism for some of its collection activities through the imposition of a collection assistance fee[1] of 20% on all tax debts that remain unpaid for 90 days after they become final.

The Department initiated Project Compliance in 2003 with a goal to produce an additional $40 million in revenue collections for fiscal year 2003-2004. In conjunction with that Project, the General Assembly provided funding for 39 new positions in the Examination Division in 2003 and funding for an additional 47 new positions in the Examinations Division in 2004.

This year, the Governor's budget included an amount of revenue for "Department of Revenue Improved Enforcement". Both the Senate budget and the House budget include a line item in its General Fund Availability Statement attributable to "Improved Enforcement." The amount in the Senate budget attributable to this source is $50,000,000 for FY 2009-2010 and $75,000,000 for FY 2010-2011. The amount in the House budget attributable to this source is $60,000,000 for FY 2009-2010 and $90,000,000 for FY 2010-2011. There are no specific legislative changes contained in any of the three budgets related to the Department's improved enforcement practices.

The Department makes semiannual reports to the General Assembly on its collection of tax debt.[2] In its report dated August 1, 2008, the Department lists its existing initiatives and its long-term collection plan. Although the initiative in this bill is not included in that report, it was mentioned by Secretary Lay in his remarks to the Senate Finance Committee earlier this session. He also mentioned an initiative that focuses on unreported income by individuals using Individual Taxpayer Identification Numbers. Senate Bill 1006, sponsored by Sen. Hoyle and currently in the House Finance Committee, would require a person who pays compensation other than wages to someone whose taxpayer identification number is an ITIN as opposed to a social security number to withhold 4% of the compensation.

BILL SUMMARY: Senate Bill 867 amends G.S. 18B-903 requiring that compliance with the State's tax law is a condition of holding an Alcoholic Beverage Control (ABC) Permit. The legislation also allows for the revocation of an ABC permit for failure to file a timely tax return or pay an overdue tax debt. Effective January 1, 2010, the bill also modifies G.S. 105-259 (b) allowing the Department of Revenue to release taxpayer information to the ABC Commission for the purposes of granting or revoking alcohol permits.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: The changes set forth in SB 867 aid the North Carolina Department of Revenue (DOR) in collecting unpaid sales and use taxes from ABC license holders. With the ability to revoke permits, DOR expects that tax increased will generate between $2.5 million and $17.2 million in General Fund availability.

Revenue estimates that retailers with the potential of being ABC permit holders owe a total of $43.3 million in delinquent collections. Potential ABC permit holders include grocery and convenience stores with the authority to sell beer and wine for off-premise consumption in addition to hotels, bars and restaurants possessing the licensure to sell mixed drinks as well as beer and wine for on premise consumption. Revenue officials expect the conditions set forth in SB 867 to be most effective in collecting delinquent taxes from two groups of taxpayers, those that have not remitted taxes at all and those that are 30 days overdue in the remittance process. Table 1 lists length of delinquency and total tax liability by business class for these two types of businesses.

Table 1. Tax Delinquency By Business Class, April 2009

Business Class	Balance		Total Tax Liability
	Estimated Non-Filer	0-30 days
Grocery Stores, Meat Mkts, Fruit/Vegetable Stands, Seafood Mkts, etc.	$1,873,942	$470,724	$2,344,667
Restaurants, Cafeterias, Grills, Snack Bars, Lunchrooms, etc.	$8,797,808	$2,206,098	$11,003,906
Other - Food & Beverage Group (Canners, Meat Processors)	$401,562	$40,297	$441,859
Taverns, Beer Parlors, Night Clubs, Billiard Rooms, Lounges, Bars, etc	$790,377	$178,978	$969,355
Drug Stores, Drug & Medical Supply Houses (Pharmacies, Vet Supply)	$1,027,192	$9,583	$1,036,775
Hotels, Motels, etc. Resorts	$1,319,348	$52,005	$1,371,353
Total	$14,210,230	$2,957,685	$17,167,915

There are several unknown variables in estimating the Department's ability to collect delinquent taxes under SB 867 most notably, the exact number of businesses with ABC permits and those businesses with past due tax debts ability to pay. The ABC Commission and Department of Revenue currently lack a method to match or merge ABC permittee data with DOR tax payer identification information. Implementation of SB 867 requires the ABC Commission to gather additional permittee information for data matching purposes.

Table 2. Estimated Collections from Increased Enforcement under SB 867
Business Class	Unpaid/Overdue Trust Taxes	25% increased compliance	15% increased compliance
Grocery Stores, Meat Mkts, Fruit/Vegetable Stands, Seafood Mkts, etc.	$2,344,667	$586,167	$351,700
Restaurants, Cafeterias, Grills, Snack Bars, Lunchrooms, etc.	$11,003,906	$2,750,977	$1,650,586
Other - Food & Beverage Group (Canners, Meat Processors)	$441,859	$110,465	$66,279
Taverns, Beer Parlors, Night Clubs, Billiard Rooms, Lounges, Bars, etc	$969,355	$242,339	$145,403
Drug Stores, Drug & Medical Supply Houses (Pharmacies, Vet Supply)	$1,036,775	$259,194	$155,516
Hotels, Motels, etc. Resorts	$1,371,353	$342,838	$205,703
Total	$17,167,915	$4,291,979	$2,575,187

In addition to the lack of identifying information, the businesses' ability to pay is also difficult to estimate. DOR, in cases of tax delinquency, has the authority to seize all taxpayer assets within four weeks of notification. DOR collections protocol allows for the confiscation and auction of all assets within a relatively short period of time. Given the Department's current ability to collect past due taxes, the additional leverage that SB 867 provides in increasing compliance is unknown. Table 2 provides several collection scenarios. Should 100% of past due tax payers both hold ABC permits and have the ability to pay delinquent taxes, General Fund availability would increase by $17.2 million annually. If tax compliance increases by 25% General Fund availability would increase by $4.2 million annually.
