North Carolina's Economy: Past & Current Market Trends

February 18 2009

Finance Committee

Brent Lane, Center Director
Jason Jolley, Senior Research Director
UNC Center for Competitive Economies (C^3E)

Background

- Joint Select Committee on Economic Development Incentives hired UNC to examine incentive performance
- Analyzed outcomes of 5,000 companies incented 1996-2006
- Work with legislature through 2009 session to optimize incentives in current economy

NC Economic History

- 20th century NC was both the most rural and the most industrialized state
- Disaggregated economy allowed NC to remain a "state of small towns"
- "Balance Growth" has been an implicit...and sometimes explicit...state policy
- "More and better jobs where people live"

NC's Economy is Big

- Population of 9,061,032 (10th)
- GSP of $400 Billion (9th) passing GA, VA, MI, MA since 2003
- NC would be 23rd largest national economy
- Workforce of 4,600,000
- 60,000 new jobs/year needed to "break even"

Relevant Trends

- Historic high job growth rate slowing
- Shift to service economy is reducing wages
- Economic shift to metro areas is concentrating income and jobs
- Economic development targets changing

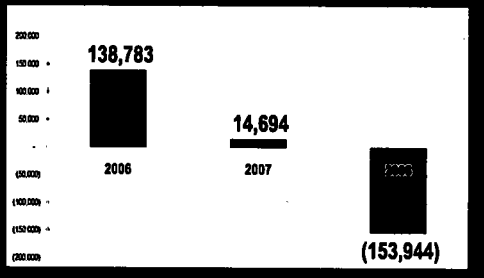
Historic high job growth rate slowing

Until recently NC's challenge hasn't been job creation....

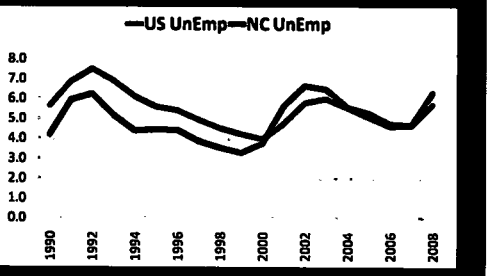
- 1990-2006 NC employment growth rate (1.8%) exceeded US (1.5%)
- Average 61,000 net new jobs annually

But the growth rate slowed from 2.1% (90-96) to 1.4% (97-06).....and is now crashing

Current Employment Trend



NC Unemployment 1990-2008



Shifting to Services

NC is losing goods-producing jobs and gaining service jobs

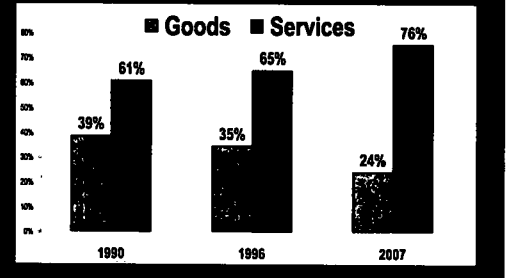
1990 to 2007:

- Lost 187,000 goods-producing jobs
- Gained 975,000 service jobs

Goods producing jobs pay better than service jobs

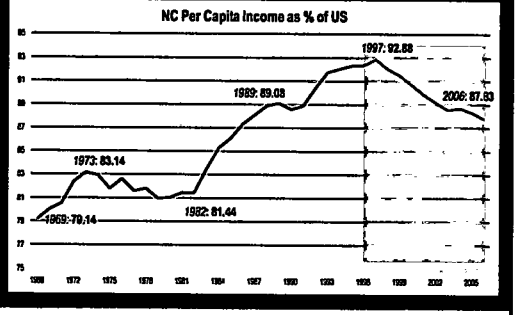
- Goods = $44,006
- Service = $36,888

Shifting to Services



Declining Relative Per Capita Income

From 93% of US in 1997 to 87% in 2007



Shifting to Metros

More and better jobs are moving to NC metros… even faster than people are moving in

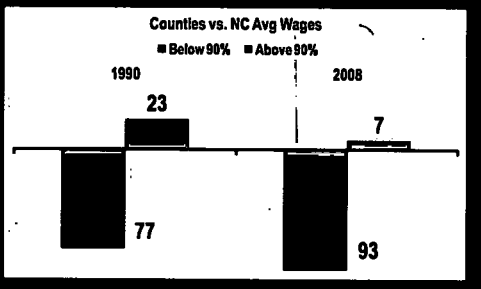
Metro jobs paying higher wages than non-metro

- $41,087 compared to $30,675 in 2008
- Gap of 24% in 1990 grew to 34% in 2008

Buncombe, Durham, Forsyth, Guilford, Mecklenburg, New Hanover, Wake

- 35% of NC's population
- 50% of NC's jobs

Shifting to Metros



Shifting to Metros

Implications for economic development

- Higher public service costs to "bedroom" rural counties without tax base growth
- Increased commute times & costs with questionable sustainability
- Non-incumbent employment benefit

Job Growth in Metro Areas

North Carolina job growth is a people magnet

- 1995 and 2000 - 919,000 people moved to NC
- 75-80% of new job creation in metro areas goes to non-residents
- Much of the benefit of economic development accrues to new residents
- New residents impose higher public service costs given capacity limits

Shifting Economic Development Targets

- Firms are smaller and more workforce-specific
  - "Less scale/more skill"
- Match to incumbent employment maximizes attraction and economic benefit
- Industry cluster strategy has catalytic effect on regional suppliers
- Prime target: growth mode headquarters in "traded" industry

North Carolina Ranked "Best Business Climate" 7 of last 8 years by Site Selection magazine

Site Selection's 2008 Top State Business Climate Rankings

1 North Carolina	2	4	4	8	5	30
2 Tennessee	6	3	6	2	2	37
T3 Alabama	5	13	13	7	15	53
T3 Texas	1	5	1	25	30	53
5 Indiana	8	11	14	10	6	73

Next: Economic Incentives

Our capacity to effect NC economy is limited

- NC has 500,000+ businesses
- Direct assistance possible to only a few thousand companies
- Targeted incentives affect a few dozen firms
- Incentives and development strategies must adapt to changing economic conditions to create maximum benefit

HOUSE AND SENATE JOINT FINANCE COMMITTEE MEETING
Wednesday, February 25, 2009 at 1:00 PM
Room 643, Legislative Office Building

MINUTES

The House and Senate Finance Committees met jointly at 1:00 PM on February 25, 2009, in Room 643 of the Legislative Office Building. Twenty-six member of the House Finance Committee attended the meeting and twenty-six members of the Senate Finance Committee were present. Senator Dan Clodfelter presided.

The Stimulus Package and North Carolina's Future

Roland Stephen, Assistant Director for Research and Policy, Institute for Emerging Issues, was recognized for a broad overview of the State's economic challenges. He stated that the federal stimulus was a small economic help. Overwhelming infrastructure needs will require the modernization of the State's current revenue laws in order for the State to have a positive fiscal future. A copy of his power point is attached.

Summary of the Fiscal Impact of the Tax Provisions in the Stimulus Package

Barry Boardman, a fiscal analyst with the Fiscal Research Division, was recognized. He said that even with the expected $6.1 billion of federal stimulus, the State will still have to overcome a deficit. This is in part due to federal mandates on how and where the stimulus money can be used versus the variety of areas where the State needs to spend the money. Senator Clodfelter requested an outline of Mr. Boardman's remarks which should include funding allocations and highlighted deficits.

Office of Economic Recovery and Investment Remarks

Dempsey Benton, Director of the Governor's Office of Economic Recovery and Investment, was recognized. He provided a handout with a timeline for the next 180 days for overseeing North Carolina's dispersal of the federal stimulus funds. He will have oversight of the funds and will provide efficiency, transparency and fiscal responsibility in accounting for the expenditure of the funds. His handout also laid out the funding categories and funding sources by department. A copy of Mr. Benton's handout is attached.

The meeting adjourned at 2:20 PM.

State and Local Finance

- 08-09 Revenue shortfall between $1.8 - $2.2 billion below May 2008 projections.
- State health plan, non-recurring items from 08-09 budget and other one-time costs could add $1 billion to the shortfall.

- Stimulus bill includes tax relief that could cost the state $300 million.

NC STATE UNIVERSITY

iei Institute for Emerging Issues

State Revenues

Goal: Stable, Sufficient, Fair

- Improve the balance among sources of revenue: Reduce dependence on the income tax.

- Broaden the tax base: Combined reporting, AIG and taxation of services, elimination of exemptions and differential rates.

NC STATE UNIVERSITY

Institute for Emerging Issues

Local Revenues and Responsibilities

Goal: Clear and appropriate division of revenues and responsibilities

- Match revenues to responsibilities.
- Ensure adequate state funding for state responsibilities (schools)
- Provide local revenues for new local responsibilities (roads).

NC STATE UNIVERSITY

Institute for Emerging Issues

NC's Infrastructure Needs

- $9.8 billion in school construction & maintenance needs.
- $65 billion in transportation needs
- $16.6 billion water/sewer needs
- Additional 2,550 MW of renewable energy technology needed by 2021 to meet requirements of SB 3

NC STATE UNIVERSITY

- Vision and strategic plan for drinking water, wastewater and stormwater infrastructure
- Coordinated, single portal for grant distribution and community loan profile

NC STATE UNIVERSITY

i e i Institute for Emerging Issues

NC Transportation Systems

NC's transportation component of the stimulus bill will be approx. $854 million and should address:

- Implementation of a statewide logistics strategy integrated into an overall transportation plan
- Additional local and regional options for financing transportation improvements (such as local cost-share of any light rail system through a half cent sales tax)

NC STATE UNIVERSITY

Institute for Emerging Issues

NC Housing and School Construction

- NC's housing component of the stimulus bill will be approx. $124 million and must incorporate energy efficiency practices
- NC's school construction bonds included in the finance provisions of stimulus bill

NC STATE UNIVERSITY

Institute for Emerging Issues

Conclusion

- Federal stimulus package is a small drop in the bucket in terms of NC needs

North Carolina DOR Plays Hide the Ball With Forced Combination Guidance

by Jennifer Carr

Jennifer Carr is State Tax Notes legal editor.

In North Carolina a contentious corporate income tax case is winding its way through the trial court. The substantive issue is whether a corporation, known primarily for operating grocery stores, will have its corporate tax returns forcibly combined. Although the substantive matter is perhaps more important in the long run, an interesting side issue has arisen in the litigation. During discovery the taxpayer received information based on which it alleges that Department of Revenue officials intentionally operated without any established legal standards or procedures so they could arbitrarily impose combined filing on taxpayers. Although the secondary claims will probably not affect the taxpayer's ultimate tax liability, the discovery raises troubling questions about the North Carolina DOR's procedures, or lack thereof.

Complaint

In December 2007 Delhaize America Inc. (DZA) filed suit in the Wake County Superior Court seeking a refund of income taxes, interest, and negligence penalties for tax year 2000.[1] In the complaint, DZA says it filed a multistate corporation income tax return and that as the result of an audit, the secretary of revenue combined the corporate group's returns and issued an assessment for additional tax. According to the complaint, the source of the assessment was the treatment of fees and royalties charged to DZA by its affiliate, FL Food Lion Inc., for product development and design and the right to use some intangibles.

> The court will also have to address DZA's allegations that the department intentionally declines to publish taxpayer guidance on what standards will be used to force combined reporting.

DZA argues that the two provisions cited by the secretary of revenue as grounds for combining the returns — G.S. section 105-130.6 and G.S. section 105-130.16 — provide an insufficient basis for the secretary's actions.[2] DZA contends that G.S. section 105-130.6 allows combination only after a specific finding of facts, which the secretary failed to make. According to DZA, G.S. section 105-130.16 authorizes consolidation only when a corporation's activities "distort its true net income and the net income properly attributable to the State." DZA claims the significant corporate restructuring it underwent between 1996 and November 2004 was designed to "divide the company's assets into separate functional and operational entities in order to more efficiently run [DZA's] businesses." DZA also claims that it had "sound business and competitive reasons" for its corporate restructuring but the auditor's report ignored the overall plan and instead focused on the fact that the restructuring resulted in a lower aggregate North Carolina tax liability.

[1] Delhaize America Inc. v. Hinton, 07CVS 020801, Wake County Superior Court (complaint filed Dec. 28, 2007). The case was designated as a complex business case and transferred to the business court.

[2] G.S. section 105-130.6 says, "If the Secretary finds as a fact that a report by a corporation does not disclose the true earnings of the corporation on its business carried on in this State, the Secretary may require the corporation to file a consolidated return of the entire operations of the parent corporation and of its subsidiaries and affiliates."

On the whole, the DZA complaint is a fairly straightforward corporate income tax dispute. The secretary's answer offers no insight into how the state plans to fight DZA's claims except that it generally disputes DZA's statutory interpretation and repeatedly refers to the audit report to support its actions. In addition to the substantive issues raised in DZA's complaint, the court will also have to address DZA's allegations that the department intentionally declines to publish taxpayer guidance on what standards will be used to force combined reporting. DZA makes its allegations in the form of an amended complaint.

Amended Complaint

Last month DZA filed a memo in support of its motion to amend its complaint. DZA seeks to add as defendants North Carolina's former secretary of revenue, its assistant secretary of tax administration, and its director of corporate, excise, and income tax. DZA also seeks to add unknown department officials and add claims for violations of North Carolina's Administrative Procedures Act (APA).[3] As the basis for the amended complaint, DZA cites information obtained in discovery that it believes shows the DOR and its officials made a "conscious decision to maintain a veil of secrecy around whatever criteria they use to force combinations of affiliated corporations."[4]

In support of that claim, DZA submits several statements, primarily from e-mails, in which DOR officials appear to say they will not create combination criteria and will keep secret any internal standards they may use.[5] DZA further alleges that the DOR is not only keeping taxpayers in the dark regarding combination standards, but it is also declining to properly train its own auditors as to what factors they should look for in considering combination. DZA argues that that information creates good cause for amending the company's complaint because it affects DZA's due process rights and suggests violations of the state APA. DZA further argues that none of the defendants would be prejudiced by the new claims because there is still time for discovery and the defendants are being sued only in their official capacities.

Analysis

On the whole the allegations raised in DZA's motion to amend create a troubling picture. Exhibits submitted by DZA indicate a culture in which auditors were operating without proper guidance and upper-level officials failed to understand their mission. For example, in one e-mail, a DOR official contends that issuing combination guidance "would be like handing a gun to the guy who is about to rob you."[6] In another instance, a DOR employee, e-mailing a person outside the department, offers to share some guidelines auditors had received on combination so long as the recipient promises to "not EVER divulge the source from whence it came" and to not share the information with others.[7] Finally, an unsigned document that appears to be from department officials to auditors says emphatically that it is "NOT GUIDELINES" for requiring combined reports. Instead, the information should be considered "factors that go into our decision" that "in absolutely no circumstance should be . . . communicated to a taxpayer, in any way, for any reason."[8] The document goes on to list some potential questions to ask, including whether there has been an intercompany transfer of assets and how the transfer affected tax liability in North Carolina and other states.

> Exhibits submitted by DZA indicate a culture in which auditors were operating without proper guidance and upper-level officials failed to understand their mission.

Obviously the exhibits DZA submitted with the motion to amend its complaint represent only one party's take on the issue and likely denote the more egregious statements found in the discovery documents. Even taking that into account, the exhibits are still troubling. If the DOR has made a conscious decision to keep taxpayers in the dark regarding the audit methods and combination criteria, that is a poor decision. First, taxpayers have a fundamental [3]The amended complaint also argues potential claims under 42 U.S.C. section 1983.

[5]A sample statement is: "But part of [not creating audit guidelines] is a legit fear that if we communicate 'guidelines' to our audit staff, that these will eventually fall into the hands of the dreaded Jung Hoard (also known as t/ps and their representatives) and will be used against us." E-mail from David Simmons to four DOR employees, Mar. 21, 2006. The phrase "Jung Hoard" appears to be a reference to the evil marauders, the Jun Horde, in the 1982 science fiction/fantasy film The Beastmaster.

right to know the law, not only as written in the statutes but also as applied by the DOR. Second, an ill-defined system in which taxpayers are left to guess the DOR's position likely results in an inconsistent application of tax law. When auditors lack a set of clear operating standards, similarly situated taxpayers could have different outcomes. A lack of standards would also likely generate more litigation, increased enforcement costs, and inefficiency generally. None of those are positive outcomes; they are indications of poor tax compliance procedures.

> In one e-mail a DOR official contends that issuing combination guidance 'would be like handing a gun to the guy who is about to rob you.'

Also, the statements of DOR officials seem to demonstrate a fundamental misunderstanding of their role in the revenue system. Their role is to ensure maximum compliance with the tax laws. Yet the e-mails create the impression that the officials perceive their role as ensuring maximum revenue collection. The two roles are not identical. Obviously the audit and collections process is adversarial, but unlike a dispute between two private parties, the DOR is part of both the rulemaking and enforcement mechanisms. Therefore, it is vital to the health of the tax system that the department publish the standards under which it makes decisions. Without published standards, the adversarial process dissolves into a guessing game for taxpayers at best. At worst, it can be a lawless, arbitrary revenue collection regime with potentially significant interest and penalties for noncompliance.

In one e-mail a DOR official contends that issuing combination guidance 'would be like handing a gun to the guy who is about to rob you.'

The DOR's desire to keep its procedures from the public is particularly irksome in light of its position on DZA's motion for a protective order, which the company filed in May 2008. DZA filed a motion to protect information that allegedly detailed its business strategies or that was otherwise confidential. A protective order was ultimately granted. Before the court's decision, the DOR submitted a brief strenuously opposing DZA's motion. In its brief, the DOR said that the case was "extremely important to the citizens of [North Carolina] — both fiscally and as a matter of tax policy."[9] The DOR also objected to DZA's "desire to conduct its tax litigation in secret . . . especially in light of the inherently public nature of this lawsuit and its vital significance to North Carolina."[10]

Clearly there are grounds for distinguishing the DOR's apparently contradictory positions on confidentiality. For instance, in the protective order dispute the parties were interpreting specific statutes and case law regarding protective orders. The debate over the DOR's failure to issue guidance lacks a similarly specific legal context. However, the idea that the citizens of North Carolina need to know every detail of DZA's business practices while the DOR can decline to disclose the standards under which it will assess DZA's liability is highly questionable. It is clearly more important for purposes of good governance that North Carolina's citizens and taxpayers have access to the DOR's decision-making criteria than to specific information about DZA's business practices. And even though the case is proceeding under a protective order, it is not difficult for an interested party to understand the litigation, including DZA's legal argument and the basis for its position. The DOR, however, appears to desire to keep the basis for its decision-making from public view.

> Taxpayers have a fundamental right to know the law, not only as written in the statutes but also as applied by the DOR.

It's not as if the department has published nothing on the application of the combination statute, TG.S. 105-130.6. However, what it has published lacks specifics and mostly just restates the statutory language without further explanation.[11] Compared with the Combination! What Do I Ask? document given to auditors, the public guidance on audit procedures and standards is deficient.[12] That's not to say that the information given to auditors would be sufficient were it the basis for taxpayer guidance. That document is also lacking specificity, but at least it provides some information as to what auditors should look for, potential follow-up inquiries, and other explanations of processes and standards. That material, despite its incompleteness, should be made available to taxpayers. The DOR should not be required to publish its litigation strategy for each individual taxpayer, but it must at least release the guidelines under which it operates.

Effect

In its motion to amend its complaint, DZA claims a violation of the state's APA. Despite the troubling information revealed in discovery, it will be difficult to make a case under that provision. The North Carolina APA governs all agency rule adoptions and requires substantial compliance with its provisions.[13] A rule for APA purposes is defined generally as a "regulation, standard, or statement of general applicability that implements or interprets an enactment of the General Assembly . . . or that describes the procedure or practice requirements of an agency."[14] Although the general definition appears to be applicable, the APA also contains a series of exceptions to the rule definition, including "statements that set forth criteria or guidelines to be used by the staff of an agency in performing audits, investigations or inspections."[15]

Although the department should create and publish all its audit and forced combination guidelines as a matter of public policy, its failure to do so is probably not a violation of the law.

Although North Carolina courts appear not to have interpreted the exception in the context of a tax dispute, case law suggests it would be given a fairly robust meaning. For instance, the North Carolina Court of Appeals has held that that exception and one other applied to a memo issued by an Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission official stating the commission's opinion that video gambling machines violated state law.[16] In reaching that decision, the court concluded that the memo at issue was nothing more than a setting forth of guidelines to be followed when investigating potential violations and was a "nonbinding interpretive statement" that fell within the exceptions. Therefore, the memo was not a rule-making necessitating prior notice — as required by the APA.

Although the department should create and publish all its audit and forced combination guidelines as a matter of public policy, its failure to do so is probably not an APA violation. A court would likely determine the information to be criteria or guidelines to be used by the staff of an agency in performing audits. That would put it within the rule exception, especially given the fairly robust interpretation the exceptions have been given by North Carolina courts. Although the guidelines need not follow the APA rulemaking requirements, that does not mean they should not be created and published as a matter of tax policy. It means only that the APA notice and comment requirements are inapplicable.

Given that the DOR's operation under ill-defined, unpublished guidelines is unlikely to be deemed an APA violation, it is also unlikely that the claims raised in DZA's amended complaint will affect the outcome regarding its tax liability. However ill-advised the DOR's failure to publish taxpayer guidance on the combined reporting requirements, it is arguably lawful. Therefore, it's difficult to imagine a court using the new information as a basis for undoing the DOR's audit decisions and its assessment. Should that occur, DZA would have to proceed with a more traditional forced combined reporting defense. The Legal Front will have updates as the case develops. ☆

An Evaluation of North Carolina's Economic Development Incentive Programs

UNC Economic Incentives Analysis
March 4, 2009

Brent Lane, Director
Jason Jolley, Senior Research Director
UNC Center for Competitive Economies (C^3E)

Background

Joint Select Committee On Economic Development Incentives

- Created in wake of Google project
- Activated after Goodyear/Firestone deals
- Hired C^3E in January 2008 for 18 months to examine which incentives work best
- C^3E engaged in multi-institutional approach utilizing colleagues from other UNC System institutions.

Incentive Portfolio Adjustment Recommendations

- Retain Research and Development Tax Credit
- Eliminate Article 3J statutory credits (scheduled to "sunset" in 2011) effective 2010
- Expand JDIG and One NC programs with increased amounts targeted to distressed counties
- Phased reduction of corporate tax rate to competitive neutral rate of 6.5%
- Increase economic development research and marketing budgets for proactive targeting
- Institute legislative oversight function for economic development programs

Key Legislative Questions

- How have incentives been used?
- Which incentives achieve the greatest return?
  - Quality Job Creation
  - Distressed Areas Benefit
  - NC Competitiveness
- Are there changes and/or alternatives that better achieve economic priorities?

NC Economic Incentive Types

Statutory Incentives

- Tax credits to qualifying businesses for job creation, training and investment
- Lee Act (Article 3J)

Discretionary Incentives

- Cash grants to new and expanding businesses for job creation and/or retention
- Job Development Investment Grant (JDIG)
- One North Carolina Fund

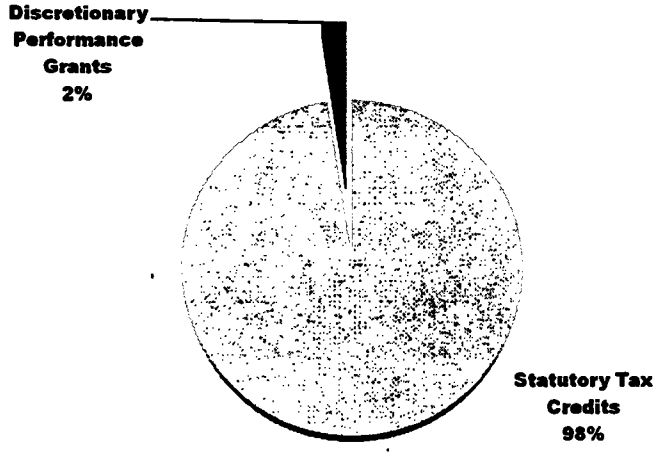
NC Incentives Portfolio

1996 - 2006: $2 billion in economic incentives

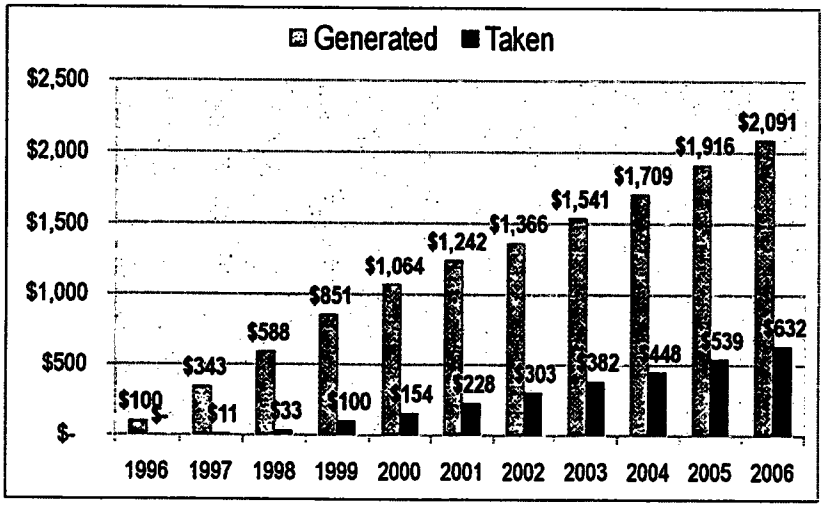
- 5,000+ incented companies
- Constitute "portfolio" of investment strategies
  - Pre and post incentive quarterly employment and wage history for each incented firm. 250,000 data points
  - Surveys/Case studies of incented firms
- Which incentives /companies best achieve NC's economic development priorities?

Findings

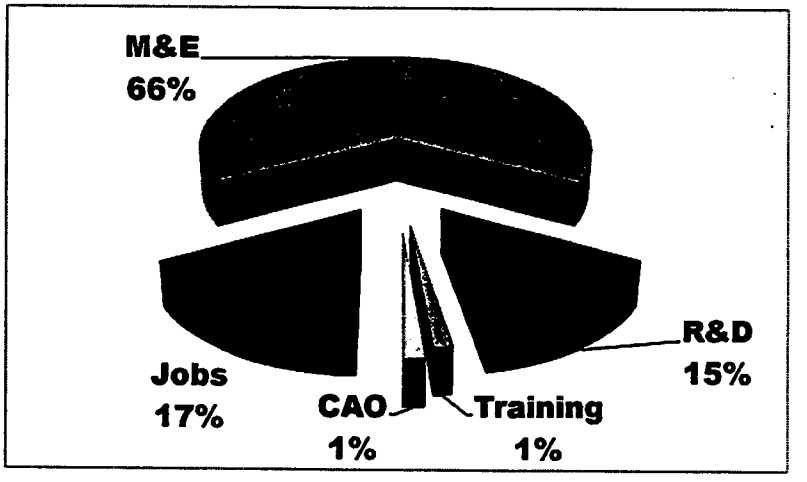
Incentive Portfolio Allocation



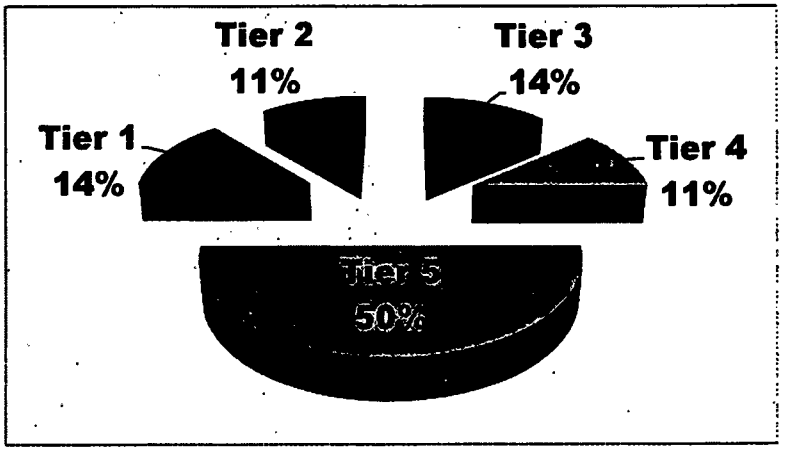
Lee Act "Costs" Have Exceeded $2 Billion



Lee Credits 1996-06 = $2.1 Billion



All Lee Credits - 2002-06
$875 Million



Incentives Have Limited Effect on Corporate Locations

- National surveys indicate incentives are relatively low in importance in location decisions
- Site Selection magazine (2008) survey of corporate executives ranked incentives eighth
- UNC survey of NC incented and non-incented ranked incentives 12th and 13th respectively
- Incentives do not compensate for inadequate workforce or infrastructure

Incentives are Most Persuasive When ...

- Other location factors are relatively equal
- Prospects are highly mobile (and more are)
- Tailored to companies' specific priorities
- Benefits are front-loaded
- Combined with other assistance
- Before the auction starts

Incentives Have The Greatest Economic Benefit When...

- Company employs local residents, minimizing public service outlays
- Company has catalytic effect on local suppliers
- Company is in growth mode with job creation upside
- Company is a headquarters in an export industry, creating local wealth

Updating NC's Incentive Portfolio

- Current portfolio relies too much on statutory tax credits that are less effective than in 1990s
- Majority of tax credit incented firms showing little job growth
- Investment tax credits strongly associated with job loss
- R&D credits show best correlation with job growth
- Job creation tax credits show weak effect

Current Economy Favors Discretionary Incentives

- Discretionary incentive programs have flexibility to address more current market priorities
- Tax credits require profits to use
- Discretionary incentives reduce capital/credit requirements
- Performance based incentives offer better accountability and enforcement
- Greater utility for strategic, proactive targeting

Incentive Portfolio Adjustment Recommendations

- Retain Research and Development Tax Credit
- Eliminate Article 3J statutory credits (scheduled to "sunset" in 2011) effective 2010
- Expand JDIG and One NC programs with increased amounts targeted to distressed counties
- Increase economic development research and marketing budgets for proactive targeting
- Institute legislative oversight function for economic development programs

Targeting Opportunities

Growth stage HQs fitting regional industry clusters

- Est'd firms with upside employment potential
- Proven rural location and workforce affinities
- Identify and exploit owners' "idiosyncratic externalities"
- Capture synergies in tourism/development marketing

NC Corporate Tax Rate

- UNC survey found executives preferred lower tax rate to selective tax incentives

Welcome and Introduction of Secretary Lay, Department of Revenue

Secretary Lay was recognized. He gave a brief resume of his career and then outlined his first six weeks at the Department of Revenue. He has discovered that the Department's software makes it difficult to process returns and flag questionable returns. He is balancing State tax refunds with incoming revenue which has lead to an approximate six week delay in citizens receiving their refunds. He is increasing and improving communication pathways between the Department and people who have questions.

SENATE BILL 91:
Pine Knoll Shores Corporate Limits

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	March 9, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Preston	Prepared by:	Judy Collier
Analysis of:	First Edition		Research Assistant

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 91 would extend the corporate limits of the Town of Pine Knoll Shores a distance of 2500 feet into the Atlantic Ocean and Bogue Sound at the extreme western end of the Town, as specifically described in the bill as Tract 1 and Tract 2.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act would become effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: The General Assembly included an area which extended 2500 feet into both the Atlantic Ocean and Bogue Sound in the Town's original boundaries when the Town was incorporated in 1973.[1] In 1983, the Board of Commissioners of the Town annexed additional land into the corporate limits; however because the areas adjacent to these properties in the Atlantic Ocean and in Bogue Sound did not meet the urban standards required for annexation under §160A-48, these water areas were not annexed.

The Town is seeking jurisdiction over these areas of Bogue Sound and the Atlantic Ocean in order to have zoning and general ordinance jurisdiction. There are some concerns over unregulated wind turbines being built in Bogue Sound. Additionally, the Town wants to control the discharge of firearms in these areas.

On November 12, 2008, the Town of Pine Knoll Shores Board of Commissioners by unanimous vote enacted a Resolution petitioning the North Carolina General Assembly to include in the corporate boundaries of the Town the areas extending 2500 feet both into the Atlantic Ocean and into Bogue Sound adjacent to the 1983 Annexation Properties.

AN ACT AUTHORIZING PENDER AND BRUNSWICK COUNTIES AND THE CITY OF RALEIGH TO PROVIDE DEVELOPMENT INCENTIVES IN EXCHANGE FOR REDUCTIONS IN ENERGY CONSUMPTION.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Section 2 of S.L. 2007-241, as amended by S.L. 2008-22, reads as rewritten:

"SECTION 2. This act applies only to ~~Cabarrus County,~~ the Counties of Brunswick, Cabarrus, and Pender, to the Cities of Asheville, Charlotte, Concord, Durham, Kannapolis, Locust, Raleigh, and Wilmington, and to the Towns of Carrboro, Cary, Chapel Hill, Harrisburg, Midland, Mount Pleasant, and Stanfield."

SENATE BILL 52:
Pender/Energy-Related Development Incentives

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	March 10, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Soles	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S52-CSTD-4

SUMMARY: The PCS to Senate Bill 52 authorizes Pender and Brunswick Counties and the City of Raleigh to provide development incentives in exchange for reductions in energy consumption.

CURRENT LAW: In 2007 the Cities of Asheville, Charlotte, and Wilmington, and the Towns of Carrboro and Chapel Hill were authorized to adopt ordinances to provide incentives to developers within the municipality or its extraterritorial jurisdiction (ETJ) who agree to construct new development or reconstruct existing development in a manner that the municipality determines makes a significant contribution to the reduction of energy consumption. Incentives include density bonuses, adjustments to otherwise applicable development requirements, and other incentives. Density bonus ordinances permit developers to increase the number of units allowed on a piece of property.

In 2008 Cabarrus County, the Cities of Concord, Durham, and Kannapolis, and the Towns of Harrisburg, Midland, Mount Pleasant, and Stanfield were also granted this authority.

BILL ANALYSIS: The PCS to Senate Bill 52 authorizes Pender and Brunswick Counties and the City of Raleigh to provide development incentives in exchange for reductions in energy consumption. The PCS added Brunswick County to the authorization.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act becomes effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: The Pender County Board of Commissioners is currently in the process of updating its development ordinances, land use regulations, and comprehensive plans. The County may incorporate development incentives in exchange for reductions in energy consumption after study and public input.

February 4, 2009

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT ALLOWING THE TOWN OF BURGAW TO EXERCISE EXTRATERRITORIAL JURISDICTION OVER AN AREA EXTENDING TWO MILES FROM ITS LIMITS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Notwithstanding the population provisions in G.S. 160A-360(a), the Town of Burgaw may exercise the extraterritorial jurisdiction powers granted in Article 19 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes within a defined area extending not more than two miles beyond its corporate limits. Except as otherwise provided by this act, the extension of extraterritorial jurisdiction by the Town of Burgaw is subject to the provisions of G.S. 160A-360.

SECTION 2. This act is effective when it becomes law.

SENATE BILL 53: Extend Burgaw ETJ

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	March 9, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Soles	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell
Analysis of:	First Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 53 would authorize the Town of Burgaw to exercise extraterritorial jurisdiction over an area extending two miles from its limits.

CURRENT LAW: Municipalities have the statutory authority to regulate land-use within their corporate limits and within an area one-mile beyond their municipal boundaries, commonly referred to as extraterritorial jurisdiction (ETJ). Land use regulation may take the form of zoning, subdivision regulation, minimum housing codes, and regulations governing open spaces and community appearance.

Counties have authority to regulate land-use only over the parts of the county not subject to city planning. However, if a city does not adopt an ordinance specifying the boundaries of its ETJ, then the county may exercise its planning jurisdiction over an area even if the area is within one mile of a municipality's corporate boundaries. If the county is already enforcing planning regulations, zoning regulations, and the State building code in that one-mile area, then a municipality may only exercise its ETJ authority in the one-mile area with the county's permission.

With the approval of the county commissioners, a city with a population between 10,000 and 25,000 may extend its extraterritorial land-use planning jurisdiction to two miles beyond its corporate limits; a city with a population of 25,000 or more may extend its extraterritorial land-use planning jurisdiction to three miles beyond its corporate limits.

BILL ANALYSIS: In 2000, the population of Burgaw was approximately 3,300. Under current law, the size of the town prohibits the county commissioners from extending the town ETJ beyond the one-mile radius. Senate Bill 53 would authorize the Town of Burgaw to exercise extraterritorial jurisdiction over an area extending two miles from its limits.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: The population of the Town of Burgaw has increased by 30% since 2005. In an effort to insure consistency among the development, the Town of Burgaw Board of Commissioners voted in April 2008 to request an expansion of the ETJ. Prior to the vote, the Town informed all effected property owners in the proposed ETJ area, and held a public hearing to discuss the ETJ expansion.

In August of 2008, the Pender County Board of Commissioners approved the Town's request to expand the ETJ up to 2 miles outside the current corporate limits.

The additional ETJ would include strategic growth areas of the Town including Exit 398 of Interstate 40, the NC 53 East corridor, and the US 117 North corridor.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO AUTHORIZE THE CITY OF DURHAM TO COLLECT A MUNICIPAL TAX FOR PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION OF TEN DOLLARS ON VEHICLES RESIDENT IN THE CITY.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Section 1 of S.L. 2003-329, Section 1 of S.L. 2004-103, and S.L. 2008-31 are repealed. That act authorized the City of Durham to levy up to ten dollars ($10.00) per year for general purposes. The repeal of this act shall not affect the authority of the City of Durham to levy the General Municipal Vehicle Tax in G.S. 20-97(b) of five dollars ($5.00).

SECTION 2.(a) Article 3 of the Charter of the City of Durham, being Chapter 671 of the Session Laws of 1975 is repealed, and a new Article is added to read:

"Article 3A. Other Taxes.

"Sec. 46.1. Municipal Vehicle Tax for Public Transportation. The City of Durham may levy a tax of not more than five dollars ($5.00) upon any vehicle resident in the city. The tax authorized in this section is in addition to the general municipal vehicle tax authorized by G.S. 20-97. The proceeds of the tax may be used only for financing, constructing, operating, and maintaining local public transportation systems. The City of Durham shall use the proceeds of the tax to supplement and not to supplant or replace existing funds or other resources for public transportation systems."

SECTION 2.(b) G.S. 20-97(c) reads as rewritten:

"(c) Municipal Vehicle Tax for Public Transportation. – A city or town that operates a public transportation system as defined in G.S. 105-550 may levy a tax of not more than five dollars ($5.00) per year upon any vehicle resident in the city or town. The tax authorized by this subsection is in addition to the tax authorized by subsection (b) of this section. A city or town may not levy a tax under this section, however, to the extent the rate of tax, when added to the general motor vehicle taxes levied by the city or town under subsection (b) of this section and under any local legislation, would exceed thirty dollars ($30.00) per year. The proceeds of the tax may be used only for financing, constructing, operating, and maintaining local public transportation systems. Cities and towns shall use the proceeds of the tax to supplement and not to supplant or replace existing funds or other resources for public transportation systems. This subsection does not apply ~~to the City of Durham or~~ to the cities and towns in Gaston County."

SECTION 3. This act only applies to the City of Durham.

SECTION 4. Section 1 of this act is effective when the City of Durham levies a tax under Section 2 of this act. The remainder of this act is effective when it becomes law. This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

SENATE BILL 543:
Durham Motor Vehicle Levy

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	April 1, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. McKissick	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S543-CSTDx-6

SUMMARY: The PCS to Senate Bill 543 would authorize the City of Durham to levy a $10 motor vehicle tax for public transportation purposes in addition to the authorization to levy a $5 motor vehicle tax for any lawful purpose currently allowed under the statutes.

[As introduced, this bill was identical to H790, as introduced by Reps. Hall, Wilkins, Michaux, Luebke, which is currently in House Local Government II, if favorable, Finance.]

CURRENT LAW: Under general law, counties may not impose a license or privilege tax on motor vehicles[1] and municipalities are limited in the taxes they may impose on motor vehicles to the taxes listed below:

- General Municipal Vehicle Tax, G.S. 20-97(b) – A tax not to exceed $5 a year on a motor vehicle resident in the municipality. The revenue generated by this tax may be used for any lawful purpose. By local acts, the amount of the tax has been increased for several cities and towns. The cities of Henderson, and Oxford and the towns of Ahoskie, Cary, Chapel Hill, Creedmoor, and Hillsborough may levy a tax of up to $10. The cities of Gastonia, Kinston, and Raleigh may levy a tax up to $15. The cities of Greenville and Winston-Salem; the towns of Cornelius, Davidson, Huntersville, Matthews, Mint Hill, Murfreesboro, and Pineville; and the municipalities located wholly or partially in Cabarrus County may levy a tax up to $20. The town of Carrboro may levy a tax of up to $25. The City of Charlotte and the Town of Matthews may levy a tax up to $30[2]. The vehicle tax is shown on the bill for vehicle taxes sent by the county.[3]
- Local Public Transportation, G.S. 20-97(c). – A tax not to exceed $5 a year on a motor vehicle resident in the municipality. Only municipalities that operate a public transportation system may impose this tax and the proceeds from the tax may be used only for local public transportation systems. This tax may not be imposed by the City of Durham.[4]
- Tax on Taxicabs. – A tax not to exceed $15 a year on each vehicle operated in the municipality as a taxicab. The proceeds of this tax may be used for any lawful purpose.

The City of Durham currently has a local modification to G.S. 20-97(b) that authroizes the City to levy a tax of $10 which may be used for any lawful purpose. This authority will expire June 30, 2009.

[1] By local acts modifying G.S. 20-97, Alleghany, Caswell, and Pamlico Counties may impose an annual motor vehicle tax. The amounts vary from $5 to $15.

[2] S.L. 2007-109 authorizes the Town of Matthews to use proceeds from the tax for road construction, maintenance, and repair, including sidewalks, or for public mass transit systems and mass transit-related activities.

[3] S.L. 2007-73 authorizes the Towns of Garner, Holly Springs, Rolesville, and Knightdale to increase the maximum tax from $5 to $15 and provides that the proceeds of the taxes above $5 and up are to $15 are to be used exclusively for transportation-related purposes, including sidewalks. S.L. 2007-108 gives the same authority to the Towns of Morrisville and Apex.

[4] This tax may not be imposed by any cities and towns in Gaston County.

BILL ANALYSIS: The PCS to Senate Bill 543 authorizes the City of Durham to raise its motor vehicle tax from $10 to $15. This bill repeals the current local modification allowing a levy of $10 upon the enactment of the new tax. Of the new $15 motor vehicle tax, $5 may be used for any lawful purpose and $10 must be used for public transportation.

The new tax is authorized in the following way:

- Town Charter: The Town Charter is amended to allow the City to levy of tax of $5 for any vehicle resident in the City. The proceeds must be used for public transportation.
- G.S. 20-97(b): The Town is authorized by this subsection to levy a tax of $5 for any vehicle resident in the City. The proceeds may be used for any lawful purpose.
- Local modification of G.S. 20-97(c): This subsection is amended to allow the City of Durham to levy a tax of $5 for any vehicle resident in the City. The proceeds must be used for public transportation.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law. The repeal of the current tax is effective when the new tax is imposed by the City. This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: City of Durham

EFFECTIVE DATE: Municipal Vehicle Tax for Public Transportation effective when the City of Durham chooses to levy it. The rest is effective when bill becomes law.

BILL SUMMARY:

The PCS to Senate Bill 543 repeals Section 1 of S.L. 2003-229, Section 1 of S.L. 2004-103, and S.L. 2008-31, which allows the City of Durham to levy a vehicle tax of up to ten dollars ($10.00) per year for general purpose. This act was set to expire June 30, 2009. It repeals Article 3 of the Charter of the City of Durham and adds a new article allowing a tax of up to five dollars ($5.00) per year upon any vehicle resident in the city. The proceeds of this tax may only be used to maintain public transportation. This is in addition to the general municipal vehicle tax authorized by GS 20-97. Finally, it amends G.S. 20-97(c) to allow the City of Durham to levy an additional five dollars ($5.00) per year upon any vehicle resident in the city. The proceeds of this tax may only be used to maintain public transportation.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:
The PCS to Senate Bill 543 repeals Section 1 of S.L. 2003-229, Section 1 of S.L. 2004-103, and S.L. 2008-31, which authorized the City of Durham to levy a vehicle tax of up to ten dollars ($10.00) per year for any general purpose. This act was set to expire June 30, 2009. Under its expiration, City of Durham would have the authority under the unmodified G.S. 20-97(b) to levy a tax of $5 on vehicles in the City. The proceeds of this tax can also be used for any lawful purpose. Its repeal will have the same effect as its expiration. Durham will have the authority to levy the $5 tax in G.S. 20-97(b) and, therefore, this has no impact on future revenues.

The PCS adds an article to the Charter of the City of Durham allowing Durham to levy a tax of up to $5 on any vehicle resident in the city. This is a new revenue source the proceeds of which must be used to maintain local public transportation systems. According to the Department of Transportation Driver and Vehicle Services there are currently 155,879 resident vehicles in the City of Durham. Multiplying this number by the $5 levy results in a $779,395 increase in revenues for FY 2009-10.

The PCS also amends GS 20-97(c) to include Durham in the cities allowed to levy an additional $5 per year upon any vehicle resident. The proceeds of this tax must be used to maintain local public transportation systems. This will generate an additional $779,395 in revenues for FY 2009-10.

Overall, the PCS to Senate Bill 543 will increase revenues by a total of $1,558,790 for FY 2009-10. Assuming that the number of vehicles stays roughly the same over time, the increase in revenues for FY 2010-11, FY 2011-12, FY 2012-13, and FY 2013-14 will also be $1,558,790. Whereas, under current law, the City of Durham is authorized to spend the proceeds of its $10 motor vehicle tax on any general purpose, Senate Bill 543 would structure the tax so that proceeds up to $5 would be authorized for any general purpose and the remaining proceeds would be authorized only for maintaining local public transportation.

SENATE BILL 40:
Murfreesboro Occupancy Tax

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	April 1, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Jones	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S40-CSTDx-7

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 40 authorizes the Town of Murfreesboro to levy a 3% room occupancy tax. At least two-thirds of the proceeds would be used to promote travel and tourism and the remainder would be used for tourism-related expenditures. The PCS to Senate Bill 4 adds a provision that allows the Town of Banner Elk to maintain the current distribution model for the room occupancy tax imposed by the Town of Banner Elk.

CURRENT LAW: Currently, Murfreesboro does not have authority to levy a room occupancy tax. Murfreesboro is located in Hertford County, which does have authority to levy a 3% occupancy tax. The proceeds of the current tax may be used by the County for any lawful purpose.

The Town of Banner Elk is authorized to impose a room occupancy tax of 6%. The proceeds are remitted to the town Tourism and Development Authority, which must use at least one-third to promote travel and tourism and two-thirds for tourism-related expenditures, which includes capital expenditures and expenditures required to make the downtown tourist area and nearby green areas more accessible, attractive, and usable to pedestrian tourists. Effective October 1, 2010, the distribution will to change to two-thirds to promote travel and tourism, and one-third for tourism related expenditures

BILL ANALYSIS:

Sections 1 and 2 of Senate Bill 40 authorizes the Town of Murfreesboro to levy a room occupancy tax of up to 3%. The proceeds must be remitted to a town Tourism Development Authority (TDA), which must use at least two-thirds of the proceeds to promote travel and tourism and the remainder for tourism-related expenditures. These administrative and use provisions conform to the uniform guidelines referenced above and detailed in the chart below:

UNIFORM OCCUPANCY TAX PROVISIONS
Rate – The county tax rate cannot exceed 6% and the city tax rate, when combined with the county rate, cannot exceed 6%.
Use – Two-thirds of the proceeds must be used to promote travel and tourism and the remainder must be used for tourism related expenditures.
Definitions The term "net proceeds", "promote travel and tourism", and "tourism related expenditures" are defined terms.
Administration – The net revenues must be administered by a local tourism development authority that has the authority to determine how the tax proceeds will be used, is created by a local ordinance, and at least ½ of the members must be currently active in the promotion of travel and tourism in the county and 1/3 of the members must be affiliated with organizations that collect the tax.
Costs of Collection – The taxing authority may retain from the revenues its actual costs of collection, not to exceed 3% of the first $500,000 collected each year plus 1% of the remainder collected each year.

Section 3 of Senate Bill 40 repeals the change in distribution for the room occupancy tax levied by the Town of Banner Elk. This will allow the Town to maintain the current distribution of at least one-third to promote travel and tourism and two-thirds for tourism-related expenditures, which includes capital expenditures and expenditures required to make the downtown tourist area and nearby green areas more accessible, attractive, and usable to pedestrian tourists.

BACKGROUND: Since 1983, the General Assembly has authorized many units of local government to levy a room occupancy tax. In several instances, the General Assembly has authorized both a county and a city within that county to impose an occupancy tax. The rate of tax, the use of the tax proceeds, the administration of the tax, and the body with the authority to determine how the tax proceeds will be spent vary considerably. Over the past several years, there has been a greater effort to make the occupancy taxes uniform. In 1997, the General Assembly enacted uniform municipal and county administrative provisions for occupancy tax legislation – G.S. 153A-155 and G.S. 160A-215. These provisions provide uniformity in the areas of levy, administration, collection, repeal, and penalties.

The North Carolina Travel and Tourism Coalition has a policy statement for legislation authorizing local occupancy taxes. Many of the principles contained in its statement are similar to the ones established by a House Finance subcommittee on Occupancy Taxes in 1993.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Senate Bill 40 would become effective when it becomes law.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Town of Murfreesboro

BILL SUMMARY:

Senate Bill 40 authorizes the Town of Murfreesboro to levy a room occupancy tax up to 3%. It provides that the tax must be levied, administered, collected, and repealed as provided in GS 160A-215 (Uniform provisions for room occupancy taxes for cities and towns). The bill requires the Murfreesboro Tourism Development Authority (TDA) to expend the occupancy tax proceeds to promote travel, tourism, and conventions in town; sponsor tourist-related events and activities; and finance tourist-related capital projects, with two-thirds of the funds being used to promote travel and tourism in Murfreesboro and the remainder for tourism-related expenditures. It also mandates that at least one-third of the members of the TDA must be affiliated with businesses that collect taxes in the town and at least one-half must be currently active in the town's travel and tourism promotion.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

The Town of Murfreesboro currently has 16 rooms that would be subject to the proposed 3% local room occupancy tax. There is also a 60 room hotel slated to open in the middle of 2010. According to the North Carolina Division of Tourism, Film and Sports Development, the region Murfreesboro is located in has a 60.2% hotel occupancy rate and an average daily room rate of $105.70.

Using these assumptions, the 3% room occupancy tax would generate $11,148 (16 rooms * .602 occupancy rate * 365 days/year * $105.70 average daily rate * .03 occupancy tax) in FY2009-10. With the additional 60 rooms beginning in FY2010-11, the estimated revenue would increase to $52,954. This amount was then grown using the leisure and hospitality portion of North Carolina's gross state product as projected by Moody's Economy.com.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

BILL SUMMARY:

Senate Bill 339 creates the Stallings District U taxing district, consisting of the part of the Town of Stallings located within Union County, an authorizes the governing body of Stallings District U to levy a room occupancy tax of up to 5%. The bill provides that the tax must be levied, administered, collected, and repealed as provided in GS 160A-215 (uniform provisions for municipality room occupancy taxes). Also, it makes a conforming change to GS 160A-215(g).

The bill requires the Stallings District U Tourism Development Authority (District U Authority) to use at least two-thirds of the occupancy tax proceeds to promote travel and tourism in the district and the remainder for tourism related expenditures. Senate Bill 339 also restricts the use of the proceeds to only for the direct benefit of the jurisdiction of Stallings District U, and prohibits the use of the proceeds to promote travel or tourism in areas within the Town of Stallings that lie outside of District U or for tourism-related expenditures in the town that are outside of District U. It mandates that at least one-third of District U Authority members must be affiliated with businesses that collect the tax in the district and at least one-half must be currently active in the district's travel and tourism promotion.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

The Town of Stallings currently has two hotels with a total of 254 rooms located in the proposed Stalling District U area. These rooms would be subject to a 5% room occupancy tax. According to the North Carolina Division of Tourism, Film and Sports Development, Union County has a 59.2% hotel occupancy rate and an average daily room rate of $83.78.

Using these assumptions, the 5% room occupancy tax would generate $229,910 (254 rooms * 59.2% hotel occupancy rate * 365 days/year * $83.78 average daily room rate * 5% occupancy tax) in FY2009-10 revenue. This amount was then grown using the leisure and hospitality portion of North Carolina's gross state product as projected by Moody's Economy.com.

(2) That it is in the public interest to connect two streets, or portions of a street already improved, or

(3) That it is in the public interest to widen a street, or part thereof, that is already improved, provided that assessments for widening any street or portions of a street without petition shall be limited to the cost of widening and otherwise improving such street in accordance with the street classification and improvement standards established by the Town's thoroughfare or major street plan for the particular street, or part thereof, to be widened and improved under the authority granted by this Article.

SENATE BILL 570:
Indian Trail Charter Revised

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	March 31, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Goodall	Prepared by:	Judy Collier
Analysis of:	First Edition		Research Assistant

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 570 would revise and consolidate the Charter of the Town of Indian Trail. The act would become effective when it becomes law.

CURRENT LAW: Cities may be administered in one of two ways: as a Council-Manager form of government or a Mayor-Council form of government. The Town of Indian Trail currently operates under the Mayor-Council form of government, in accordance with Part 3 of Article 7 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes. Under a mayor-council form of government, the council is responsible for the personnel decisions related to a city's government. The council is the body that appoints, suspends, and removes the heads of all city departments as well as other city employees. The council may delegate this authority to its department heads for employees working in that department.

Under the Council-Manager form of government, the manager is responsible for the personnel decisions. The council appoints a manager to serve at its pleasure. The manager has the authority to appoint, suspend, and remove all city employees not elected by the people, except for the city attorney. A manager must also direct and supervise the administration of all departments, offices, and agencies of the city, subject to the general direction and control of the council. A manager must attend all council meetings, prepare and submit annual budgets, annually submit to the council a complete report of the finances and administrative activities of the city, and make any reports the council may require concerning the administration and operation of the city's departments, offices, and agencies.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 570 would revise and consolidate the Charter of the Town of Indian Trail.

BACKGROUND: The present Charter authorized by the Legislature in 1969 [S.L. 1969-825], was amended in 2004 [S.L. 2004-9]. This proposed Charter revision incorporates language the Legislature has approved since a rewrite of municipal laws in 1971 in various Statutes, including 160A.

This submission to the Legislature for consideration is the end-result of the following efforts:

- Detailed discussion at two Council Meetings in February, 2009;
- Participation by the Town attorney in all phases of this effort.

The proposed Charter revision represents the broad consensus of the Town and received the unanimous approval of the Town Council. The Town does not believe the proposed Charter revision has any controversial provisions.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Senate Bill 570 would become effective when it becomes law.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO INCREASE THE FORCE ACCOUNT LIMIT FOR MECKLENBURG COUNTY.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 143-135 reads as rewritten:

"§ 143-135. Limitation of application of Article.

Except for the provisions of G.S. 143-129 requiring bids for the purchase of apparatus, supplies, materials or equipment, this Article shall not apply to construction or repair work undertaken by the State or by subdivisions of the State of North Carolina (i) when the work is performed by duly elected officers or agents using force account qualified labor on the permanent payroll of the agency concerned and (ii) when either the total cost of the project, including without limitation all direct and indirect costs of labor, services, materials, supplies and equipment, does not exceed ~~one hundred twenty-five thousand dollars ($125,000) or the total cost of labor on the project does not exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000);~~ three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000); provided that, for The University of North Carolina and its constituent institutions, force account qualified labor may be used (i) when the work is performed by duly elected officers or agents using force account qualified labor on the permanent payroll of the university and (ii) when either the total cost of the project, including, without limitation, all direct and indirect costs of labor, services, materials, supplies, and equipment, does not exceed two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) or the total cost of labor on the project does not exceed one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000). This force account work shall be subject to the approval of the Director of the Budget in the case of State agencies, of the responsible commission, council, or board in the case of subdivisions of the State. Complete and accurate records of the entire cost of such work, including without limitation, all direct and indirect costs of labor, services, materials, supplies and equipment performed and furnished in the prosecution and completion thereof, shall be maintained by such agency, commission, council or board for the inspection by the general public. Construction or repair work undertaken pursuant to this section shall not be divided for the purposes of evading the provisions of this Article."

SECTION 2. This act only applies to non-utility construction or repair work for park and greenway projects in Mecklenburg County.

SECTION 3. This act is effective when it becomes law, and expires June 30, 2012.

SENATE BILL 437:
Increase Mecklenburg Force Account Limit

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	April 1, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Goodall	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S437-CSTD-9

SUMMARY: The PCS Senate Bill 437 would increase the force account limit for Mecklenburg County to $300,000 and eliminate the alternative qualifying limit of $50,000 in total labor cost for non-utility construction or repair work for park and greenway projects in the County.

[As introduced, this bill was identical to H507, as introduced by Rep. Samuelson, which is currently in House Local Government II, if favorable, Judiciary II.]

CURRENT LAW: The main competitive bidding requirements for local governments are found in Article 8 of Chapter 143. These statutes apply to the expenditure of public money within established dollar limits and for two categories of contracts: (1) contracts for the purchase of apparatus, supplies, materials, or equipment, and (2) contracts for construction or repair work. The second category (contracts for construction or repair work) includes construction of roads, utilities, buildings, and other infrastructure.

"Force account labor" is the direct use of agency employees, materials, and equipment to do construction or repair work (i.e. using your own forces). There are generally three types of force account expenses: employee labor, including fringe benefits; equipment use or time; and the use of materials from the agency's inventory. Formal bidding for construction or repair work does not apply to work undertaken by the local government when (1) the work is performed by force account qualified labor on the permanent payroll, and (2) either the cost of the project does not exceed $125,000 or the total cost of labor does not exceed $50,000.

BILL ANALYSIS: The PCS to Senate Bill 437 would permit Mecklenburg County to enter into a construction or repair contract to be performed by county employees without meeting otherwise applicable statutory requirements for non-utility construction or repair work for park and greenway projects if the total cost of the project will not exceed $300,000.00. The bill would also eliminate the alternative qualifying limit of $50,000.00 in total labor cost for exempt projects. The PCS adds the restriction on the type of project allowed under the increase in the force account limit, and provides that the authority expires on June 30, 2012.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law and expires June 30, 2012.

BACKGROUND: Since the statute's enactment, there have been several local modifications to it increasing the force account limit. The majority of the modifications has been for certain projects and has expired on a date certain. As originally enacted, the competitive bidding requirements did not apply when force account labor was used and the total cost of the project did not exceed $75,000. In 1995, the limit was increased to$125,000 for the total cost of the project or $50,000 for the total cost of the labor. To date, the highest local modification has been for a total project amount of $2,152,500 for the Town of Wilkesboro on a project to construct a water pump station, to replace five sewer interceptor lines, and to extend a waterline to serve a Department of Transportation rest center to be built outside the corporate limits of the town. The General Assembly made this modification last session, S.L. 2007-44. Wilkesboro's authorization expires December 30, 2009. However, there have been two local acts with no limit: one for Alleghany County and the Town of Sparta (for the construction of an electrical power substation and water and sewer line extensions related to the construction and operation of a manufacturing plant) and one for Fayetteville (for the construction of water and sewer utility projects). Both authorizations have since expired.

SENATE BILL 214:
Eastover Annexation

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	April 1, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Rand	Prepared by:	Judy Collier
Analysis of:	First Edition		Research Assistant

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 214 is a local bill that annexes certain described property to the corporate limits of the Town of Eastover, thereby redefining a portion of the Town Boundary.

[As introduced, this bill was identical to H222, as introduced by Reps. Glazier, Dickson, which is currently in House Judiciary II, if favorable, Finance.]

CURRENT LAW: North Carolina law sets forth four (4) basic ways in which a town or city may annex an area.

1. Voluntary Annexation. The owners of all real property in the area desiring to be annexed sign a petition requesting annexation.[1]
2. Legislative Act. The General Assembly has the authority to extend the boundaries of any town or city. This method is most helpful to a town or city trying to annex an area that they could not otherwise.
3. Satellite Annexation. This method allows a town or city to annex certain non-contiguous areas meeting the statutory standards into the town or city limits.[2]
4. Nonvoluntary Annexation. The town or city brings into the corporate limits an area that has not voluntarily agreed to be annexed.[3]

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 214 would annex 5.94 acres north of the current Town of Eastover boundary as specifically described in the bill.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act would become effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: This proposed legislation is before the General Assembly due to the annexation restrictions in the Charter of the Town of Eastover [S.L. 2007-267, s. 2.2 (a) and (b)].

The 5.94 acres under consideration for annexation is known locally as Lexington Subdivision (Formerly St. James Park), Phase I. The Town of Eastover desires to assist developer John Koenig to correct in his proposed subdivision the Eastover Town Boundary from dissecting several lots affected by his site plan.

The Fayetteville City Council entertained the request for a minor adjustment in the Eastover boundary at its meeting on June 2, 2008. The City Council is supportive of the request to incorporate the small portion of the proposed Koenig subdivision north of the current Eastover boundary into the Town of Eastover. This minor change will prevent lots from being split and as the property develops, it will also allow more rational municipal delivery service.

SECTION 2.(a) G.S. 20-97(b) reads as rewritten:

This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

SENATE BILL 539:
Greensboro Motor Vehicle Levy

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	March 31, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Dorsett	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S539-CSTDx-12

SUMMARY: The PCS to Senate Bill 539 is a local bill authorizing the City of Greensboro to increase the amount of the general municipal vehicle tax the City may impose from a maximum of $10 to a maximum of $16. The proceeds of the additional tax must be used exclusively for local public transportation purposes.

[As introduced, this bill was identical to H541, as introduced by Rep. Harrison, which is currently in House Finance.]

CURRENT LAW: The City of Greensboro is authorized to levy a general motor vehicle tax of not more than $10. Five dollars of the tax may be used for any lawful purpose, and $5 must be used for local transportation purposes.

Under general law, counties may not impose a license or privilege tax on motor vehicles[1] and municipalities are limited in the taxes they may impose on motor vehicles to the taxes listed below:

- General Municipal Vehicle Tax. – A tax not to exceed $5 a year on a motor vehicle resident in the municipality. The revenue generated by this tax may be used for any lawful purpose. By local acts, the amount of the tax has been increased for several cities and towns. The cities of Durham, Henderson, and Oxford and the towns of Ahoskie, Cary, Creedmoor, and Hillsborough may levy a tax of up to $10. The cities of Gastonia and Kinston and the towns of Apex, Garner, Holly Springs, Knightdale, Morrisville, and Rolesville may levy a tax up to $15. The cities of Charlotte, Greenville, Raleigh, and Winston-Salem; the towns of Cornelius, Davidson, Huntersville, Matthews, Mint Hill, Murfreesboro, and Pineville; and the municipalities located wholly or partially in Cabarrus County may levy a tax up to $20. The towns of Carrboro and Chapel Hill may levy a tax of up to $25. The town of Matthews may levy a tax up to $30. This vehicle tax is shown on the bill for vehicle taxes sent by the county.
- Local Public Transportation. – A tax not to exceed $5 a year on a motor vehicle resident in the municipality. Only municipalities that operate a public transportation system may impose this tax and the proceeds from the tax may be used only for local public transportation systems.[2]
- Tax on Taxicabs. – A tax not to exceed $15 a year on each vehicle operated in the municipality as a taxicab. The proceeds of this tax may be used for any lawful purpose.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 539 would authorize the City of Greensboro to increase its motor vehicle tax from $10 to $16. The proceeds of the additional tax must be used exclusively for local public transportation purposes. This means that not more than $5 may be used for any lawful purpose

[1] By local acts modifying G.S. 20-97, Alleghany, Caswell, and Pamlico Counties may impose an annual motor vehicle tax. The amounts vary from $5 to $15.

[2] This tax may not be imposed by the city of Durham or by any cities and towns in Gaston County.

and that for any levy above $5 and up to $16 shall be used exclusively for local public transportation purposes. The PCS adds a savings clause to the bill

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law. The repeal of the current tax is effective when the new tax is imposed by the City. This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

BILL SUMMARY:
Senate Bill 539 amends GS 20-97(b) to allow Greensboro to levy a tax of up to $16 per year on any vehicle resident in the city. Provides that the proceeds of the tax up to $5 may be used for any lawful purpose and the proceeds of the tax derived from any levy above $5 and up to $16 must be used for local public transportation purposes. Effective on the date that Greensboro levies a tax under the statute, repeals SL 1991-31 authorizing Greensboro to levy an annual $5 additional motor vehicle tax for local public transportation purposes, in addition to up to $5 per year for general purposes.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:
Senate Bill 539 increases the tax the City of Greensboro may levy on any vehicle resident from $10 to $16 per year. It provides that the proceeds of the tax up to $5 may be used for any lawful purpose and that any proceeds of the tax above $5 must be used for local transportation purposes.

In order to estimate the impact of Senate Bill 539, it is necessary to know the number of resident vehicles in the City of Greensboro. This is the number of vehicles on which a tax may be levied. According to the Department of Transportation Driver and Vehicle Services, there are currently 195,794 resident vehicles in Greensboro. Assuming that Greensboro chooses to levy the maximum vehicle tax, multiplying the number of vehicles by the $6 increase in the tax results in a $1.17 million increase in revenues for FY 2009-10. Assuming that the number of resident vehicles stays roughly the same over time, $1.17 million will also be the increase in revenues for the following four fiscal years.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. The corporate limits of the City of Kannapolis are reduced by removing the following described area:

BEGINNING at a point in the Rocky River on the municipal boundary for the City of Kannapolis as described in N.C. House Bill 224, said point being a corner of Christopher Davis, now or formerly (Book 8035, page 100 Mecklenburg County Registry); thence leaving Rocky River and entering Mecklenburg County with the line of Davis, S. 78-01-45 W. 1,288.86 feet to an existing iron pin on the east side of Shearer Road; thence within the right-of-way of Shearer Road the following two lines: 1) N. 04-55-47 E. 15.68 feet to an existing iron pin; and 2) N. 04-56-41 E. 31.39 feet to a set iron pin a corner of Hubert M. Howard, now or formerly (Book 4567, page 166 Mecklenburg County Registry); thence with the line of Howard, N. 78-02-01 E. 1,287.33 feet to a point in Rocky River on the County line, (passing an existing 1" iron pin at 1,235.17 feet); thence continuing with the Cabarrus County line South 03-10-25 West 46.55 feet to the point of BEGINNING.

SECTION 2.(a) The Board of Commissioners of Cabarrus County and the Cabarrus County Board of Education may jointly select and negotiate with a contractor to build school facilities using the repetitive design approach without being subject to the requirements of G.S. 143-128, 143-129, 143-131, 143-132, 143-64.31, and 143-64.32. The Board of Commissioners of Cabarrus County and the Cabarrus County Board of Education must jointly determine that using the selection and negotiations processes instead of competitive bidding will expedite the project, create an effective construction team, and control costs, quality, and schedule.

SECTION 2.(b) This section expires on June 30, 2014.

SECTION 3. This act is effective when it becomes law.

SENATE BILL 346:
Kannapolis Deannexation/Expedite Schools

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	April 1, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Hartsell	Prepared by:	Judy Collier
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S346-CSRB-3		Cindy Avrette

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 346 is a local bill that would remove a described area from the corporate limits of the City of Kannapolis. The proposed committee substitute adds a provision to the bill to enable Cabarrus County to expedite the construction of public school facilities.

[As introduced, this bill was identical to H450, as introduced by Reps. Johnson, Barnhart, which is currently in House Local Government I, if favorable, Finance.]

CURRENT LAW: While a city or town has statutory authority to annex property, either voluntarily or involuntarily depending upon certain circumstances, there is no statutory authority to de-annex property. Deannexation requires an act of the General Assembly.

BILL ANALYSIS: Section 1 of Senate Bill 346 would remove a described tract that encompasses 1.330 acres more or less and is intended to describe that entire portion of the City of Kannapolis within Mecklenburg County as described in [Section 1] of House Bill 224, chaptered as S.L. 2004-39.

Section 2 of the bill, added by the proposed committee substitute, would allow the Board of Commissioners of Cabarrus County and the Cabarrus County Board of Education to jointly select and negotiate with a contractor to build school facilities using the repetitive design approach without being subject to the competitive bidding processes of Article 8 of Chapter 143. The Boards must jointly determine that using the selection and negotiations processes instead of competitive bidding will expedite the project, create an effective construction team, and control costs, quality, and schedule. The exemption from the competitive bid requirements provided by this act for the construction of public school facilities would expire on June 30, 2014.

The Board of Commissioners of Cabarrus County and the Cabarrus County Board of Education would like the opportunity to negotiate with the low bidder of a public school facility currently under construction to build additional schools using the same design of the school for which they have the low bid. The Boards believe they can negotiate a cost for the construction of the additional school facilities that will not exceed the low bid on the current project. The General Assembly granted Cabarrus County similar authorization in 2000 to construct up to five schools.[1] That authority expired June 30, 2005. The General Assembly has also granted similar authority to Forsyth, Stanly, and Johnston Counties.[2]

EFFECTIVE DATE: Senate Bill 346 would become effective when it becomes law. Section 2 would expire on June 30, 2014.

SENATE BILL 393:
Kannapolis Annexation

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	March 30, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Brock	Prepared by:	Judy Collier
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S393-CSREx-2		Research Assistant

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 393[1] is a local bill that would annex approximately 327 acres adjacent to I-85 in southern Rowan County into the corporate limits of the City of Kannapolis. The Proposed Committee Substitute corrects a drafting error in the effective date of the bill.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 160A-58.1 governs the voluntary annexation by a municipality of noncontiguous property. All property owners in the satellite area may petition a city for voluntary annexation of the noncontiguous property if the property meets the following five standards:

1. The nearest point on the proposed satellite corporate limits must be not more than three miles from the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.
2. No point on the proposed satellite corporate limits may be closer to the primary corporate limits of another city than to the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.
3. The area must be so situated that the annexing city will be able to provide the same services within the proposed satellite corporate limits that it provides within its primary corporate limits.
4. If the area proposed for annexation, or any portion thereof, is a subdivision as defined in G.S. 160A-376, all of the subdivision must be included.
5. The area within the proposed satellite corporate limits, when added to the area within all other satellite corporate limits, may not exceed ten percent (10%) of the area within the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 393 would annex approximately 327 acres adjacent to I-85 in southern Rowan County into the City of Kannapolis as described in the bill:

1. First Tract East side Interstate 85, containing 296.86 acres more or less.
2. Second Tract West side Interstate 85, containing 30.10 acres more or less.
3. That section of Interstate 85 right-of-way located between the Third Tract and Sixth Tract as shown on the map entitled "Composite Map of GDRM Gateway, LLC."

EFFECTIVE DATE: Senate Bill 393 would become effective September 30, 2011.

BACKGROUND: The City of Kannapolis and GDRM, LLC, the owners of approximately 327 acres in southern Rowan County have explored the possibility of a partnership among local governments in southern Rowan County to facilitate the development of this property for a corporate business park, Southland Development. The property owners have determined that Kannapolis is the logical long-term provider of services to the Southland Development property and the property owners have formally requested that the approximately 327 acres comprising the Southland Development property be voluntarily annexed into the City of Kannapolis. The City and the Property Owners have agreed that the action requested should not become effective until a formal Development Agreement is adopted by both parties to define responsibilities for the successful development of the Southland Development properties.

[1] As introduced, this bill was identical to HB 422, introduced by Representatives Steen and Coates, which is currently in House Local Government I Committee.

The majority of the Southland development property is closer to either China Grove or Landis than to Kannapolis and, as a result, Kannapolis is limited in its ability to unilaterally act on this annexation request by NCGS 160A-58.1(b)(2) which provides that a municipality's satellite corporate limits may not be closer to the primary corporate limits of another municipality.

On February 23, 2009, the City Council of the City of Kannapolis adopted a Resolution requesting special local legislation to annex into the City of Kannapolis approximately 327 acres adjacent to I-85 known as the Southland Development properties in southern Rowan County, with an effective date of September 30, 2011.

SENATE BILL 432:
Midway Community (Aberdeen) Annexation

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	March 31, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Blake	Prepared by:	Judy Collier Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S432-CSREx-1

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 432 is a local bill that would annex certain described property known as the Midway Community into the Town of Aberdeen. The Proposed Committee Substitute (PCS) for Senate Bill 432 does two things:

- It corrects an erroneous reference in Section 1 of the bill to the corporate limits of the Town of Midway to correctly read as the corporate limits of the Town of Aberdeen.
- It excludes four (4) parcels from the annexation as specifically described in the bill.

CURRENT LAW: North Carolina law sets forth four (4) basic ways in which a town or city may annex an area.

1. Voluntary Annexation. The owners of all real property in the area desiring to be annexed sign a petition requesting annexation.[1]
2. Legislative Act. The General Assembly has the authority to extend the boundaries of any town or city. This method is most helpful to a town or city trying to annex an area that they could not otherwise annex.
3. Satellite Annexation. This method allows a town or city to annex certain non-contiguous areas meeting the statutory standards into the town or city limits.[2]
4. Nonvoluntary Annexation. The town or city brings into the corporate limits an area that has not voluntarily agreed to be annexed.[3]

BILL ANALYSIS: The PCS for Senate Bill 432 would annex into the corporate limits of the Town of Aberdeen land specifically described in the bill that comprises all or some of the area known as the Midway Community, which is located within Moore County and within the extraterritorial jurisdiction of the Town of Aberdeen, with the exception of four (4) parcels specifically described in the bill.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act would become effective June 30, 2009.

BACKGROUND: The Town of Aberdeen has been working for some time to involuntarily annex three areas on the edge of town, including Midway. While the Town is proceeding with involuntary annexation for two of the areas, consultants for the Town have advised that the Midway Community does not meet the statutory requirements for involuntary annexation because there were too many large parcels of undeveloped land.

The Town of Aberdeen has provided water to the Midway Community for 20 years, and through a Community Development Block Grant has recently completed a sewer system servicing Midway.

[1] Part 1 of Article 4 of Chapter 160A.
[2] Part 4 of Article 4 of Chapter 160A.
[3] Parts 2 and 3 of Article 4 of Chapter 160A.

The Aberdeen Board of Commissioners and the Town staff have indicated that the Town will only support a legislative annexation if there is continued support for the process in the community. Although absentee ownership of property has been a significant factor in surveying the Midway Community, the Town has heard from many Midway residents, who for the most part, want to be annexed into the Town of Aberdeen so they can have a greater voice in Town affairs.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO ALLOW THE CITY OF RALEIGH TO ALLOW ACTIVATION OF PARKING METERS BY CREDIT CARD OR OTHER ELECTRONIC MEANS AND TO USE PROCEEDS COLLECTED FROM PARKING METERS FOR PARKING PROGRAMS AND PROVIDING PARKING FACILITIES.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 160A-301(a) reads as rewritten:

"(a) On-Street Parking. – A city may by ordinance regulate, restrict, and prohibit the parking of vehicles on the public streets, alleys, and bridges within the city. When parking is permitted for a specified period of time at a particular location, a city may install a parking meter at that location and require any person parking a vehicle therein to place the meter in operation for the entire time that the vehicle remains in that location, up to the maximum time allowed for parking there. Parking meters may be activated by ~~coins or tokens.~~coins, tokens, credit cards, or electronic means. A city may establish parking zones within the city and may require a different monetary amount to activate the meter for different time periods based upon the zone in which the meter is located. Proceeds from the use of parking meters on public streets must be used to defray the cost of ~~enforcing and administering traffic and parking ordinances and regulations.~~operating the parking program or providing parking facilities."

SECTION 2. This act applies to the City of Raleigh only.

SECTION 3. This act is effective when it becomes law.

SENATE BILL 453:
Use of Funds Received From Parking Meters

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	March 30, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Stein	Prepared by:	Judy Collier
Analysis of:	First Edition		Research Assistant

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 453[1] is a local bill that would authorize the City of Raleigh to utilize parking meters capable of being activated by credit cards or electronic means, and to use meter proceeds to defray the cost of operating the parking program or providing parking facilities. The bill would also authorize the City of Raleigh to designate parking zones within the city and to require different monetary amounts for parking meter activation at different time periods based upon the zone in which the meter is located.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 160A-301(a) authorizes a city to regulate parking on public streets, alleys and bridges by the use of parking meters, permits activation of parking meters by coins or tokens only, and permits the use of parking meter proceeds to defray the cost of "enforcing and administering traffic and parking ordinances and regulations." There is no express authorization in the current statute for charging different monetary amounts at different times of day to activate a parking meter, based upon the location of the meter.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 453 would authorize the City of Raleigh to operate parking meters that can be activated by credit cards and electronic means. The bill would also authorize Raleigh to establish parking zones in the city and to vary the payment required to activate a parking meter for different time periods based upon the zone in which the meter is located. The bill would eliminate the authority under current law to use parking meter proceeds to defray the cost of enforcing and administering traffic ordinances and regulations, and would limit the use of such funds to defraying the cost of operating the parking program or providing parking facilities.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act would be effective when it becomes law.

SECTION 1. G.S. 105-562(a) reads as rewritten:

"(a) Collection. – A tax or a tax increase levied under this Article becomes effective on the date set by the board of trustees in the resolution levying the tax or the tax increase. The effective date must be the first day of a month and may not be earlier than the first day of the ~~third~~ sixth calendar month after the board of trustees adopts the resolution. To the extent the tax applies to vehicles whose tax situs is in a county the entire area of which is within the jurisdiction of the Authority, the Division of Motor Vehicles shall collect and administer the tax. To the extent the tax applies to vehicles whose tax situs is in a county that is only partially within the jurisdiction of the county, the Authority shall collect and administer the tax. The Authority may contract with one or more local governments in its jurisdiction to collect the tax on its behalf.

Upon receipt of the resolutions under G.S. 105-561, the Division of Motor Vehicles shall proceed to collect and administer the tax as provided in this Article. The tax is due at the same time and subject to the same restrictions as in G.S. 20-87(1), (2), (4), (5), (6), and (7) and G.S. 20-88. The Division of Motor Vehicles may adopt rules to carry out its responsibilities under this Article."

SENATE BILL 631:
Conform Deadline to Registration/Inspection

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	March 31, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Stevens	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	First Edition

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 631 conforms the deadlines for changes to regional transit authority registration taxes with the Division of Motor Vehicles registration renewal system by increasing the amount of notice the DMV receives before a change would go into effect.

CURRENT LAW: Article 51 of Chapter 105 authorizes regional public transportation authorities to levy a $5 vehicle registration tax. The authority must pass a resolution, hold a public hearing, and obtain the approval of each county within its jurisdiction before levying the tax. After adopting the resolution, the authority must immediately deliver a copy of the resolution to the Division of Motor Vehicles. The tax cannot go into effect until 3 months after the date of the resolution. The Division of Motor Vehicles will collect the tax for counties that are located entirely within the jurisdiction of an authority. If the authority's jurisdiction includes part of a county, the authority must collect the tax and may contract with local governments to collect the tax.

S.L. 2007-503 conformed the date of vehicle inspections to the date of registration. S.L. 2005-294 created a combined system of vehicle registration and property tax collection. Under the combined system, which goes into effect July 1, 2010, or when the integrated computer system is in place, property taxes on a motor vehicle are due at the time of registration or renewal of registration.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 631 would change the effective date for changes regional transit authority registration taxes. Any levy, repeal, increase or decrease of the tax cannot go into effect until 6 months after the date of the resolution.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Senate Bill 631 is effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: There are currently three regional transit authorities:

- The Triangle Transit Authority operating in Raleigh, Durham, and Chapel Hill.
- The Piedmont Authority for Regional Transportation operating in Greensboro, Winston-Salem, Highpoint, and providing medical transportation to UNC Hospitals and Duke University Medical Center.
- Western Piedmont Regional Transit Authority operating in Alexander, Burke, Caldwell, and Catawba counties.

The DMV is currently only collecting a vehicle registration tax for the Triangle Transit Authority.

SENATE BILL 269:
Delegate Authority Re: Stamp Tax Overpayment

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	March 10, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Clodfelter	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette
Analysis of:	First Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 269 would authorize the board of county commissioners to delegate to the county manager the authority to conduct an initial review of a taxpayer's request for a refund on the overpayment of an excise stamp tax. This act applies to Mecklenburg County only.[1]

CURRENT LAW: North Carolina imposes an excise tax on conveyances in real estate located in North Carolina. The tax rate is $1.00 on each $500 value of the interest conveyed. One-half of the proceeds remain with the county; the county finance officer transfers the other half, less a 2% administrative allowance for the county, to the State. Of the amount transferred to the State, the Secretary of Revenue credits 75% to the Parks and Recreation Trust Fund and 25% to the Natural Heritage Trust Fund.

A taxpayer who pays more tax than is due may request a refund of the overpayment by filing a written request with the board of county commissioners of the county where the tax was paid. The request must be filed within six months after the date the tax was paid and must explain why the taxpayer believes a refund is due. A board of county commissioners must conduct a hearing on a request for refund in accordance with the procedures that apply to a hearing held by a board of equalization and review on an appeal concerning the listing or appraisal of property. If the board decides that a refund is due, it must refund the county's portion of the overpayment, together with any applicable interest, to the taxpayer. If the board finds that no refund is due, the written decision of the board must inform the taxpayer that the taxpayer may appeal the decision to the Property Tax Commission. A decision of the Property Tax Commission is binding on a board of county commissioners; it is also subject to judicial review.

Before a refund may be given, the taxpayer must record a corrected instrument reflecting the correct amount of tax due. If no tax is due because the taxpayer recorded the instrument in the wrong county, then the taxpayer must record a document in that county stating the reason that no tax is due.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 269 would permit the board of county commissioners of Mecklenburg County to delegate to a county manager the authority to consider written requests for refunds of the overpayment of an excise stamp tax. If the county manager decides that the refund requested is due, the county must refund to the taxpayer the county's portion of the overpayment with any applicable interest. If the county manager finds that the refund requested is not due, the board of county commissioners must conduct a de novo hearing on a request for refund. As provided under current law, a decision of the board of county commissioners may be appealed to the Property Tax Commission and a decision of the Property Tax Commission is subject to judicial review.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law. The procedures for review of disputed tax matters enacted by this act apply to claims for refund pending on or filed on or after the effective date of this act.

SPECIAL INDEBTEDNESS: Senate Bill 202 does not authorize any new special indebtedness. It does modify some projects authorized in past sessions, financed through special indebtedness, to reflect reductions in the projected costs. (SEE Section 27.9, page 191)

Senate Bill 202 authorizes two-thirds bonds over the course of four years. Two hundred forty million dollars of the bond proceeds would be allocated to finance the capital facility costs of the Biomedical Research Imaging Center at UNC-CH. The remaining $66,610,000 would be used for the repair and renovation of State facilities and infrastructure. (SEE Section 27.10, page 200)

For the fiscal year 2009-2010, 54% the moneys in the Reserve for Repairs and Renovations would be allocated to the Board of Governors of The University of North Carolina and the remaining 46% would be allocated to OSBM. (SEE Section 27.5, page 188)

FEE PROVISIONS: As the General Assembly begins to rely more heavily on fees as a means to support the cost of a program, the difference between a tax and a fee becomes increasingly difficult to determine. A tax is a pecuniary charge imposed equally on everyone in the same class to provide revenue for the support of government in general. It is imposed at regularly recurring periods or upon the occurrence of an event and must be paid regardless of whether the taxpayer receives a benefit in return for payment. A fee is a charge imposed for the use of property, the provision of a service, or the regulation or protection of an item or an activity. Though more difficult to distinguish from a tax, a charge imposed on an item or activity as a means of, or to cover the cost of, regulating or protecting the use of the item is also a fee. This principle applies even if some of the revenue raised by the fee is used for purposes other than the regulation or protection of the item or activity on which the fee is imposed as long as the expenditure of the revenue bears a direct and reasonable relationship to the primary purpose of enforcing the laws governing the item and is not imposed for the support of government in general.

The Office of State Budget and Management shall work with the recipient State agencies to budget grant awards according to the annual program needs and within the parameters of the respective granting entities. The Office of State Budget and Management shall consult with the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations prior to expending any funds received from grant awards. Funds received from such grants are hereby appropriated and shall be incorporated into the certified budget of the recipient State agency.

PART VI. GENERAL PROVISIONS

EXPENDITURES OF FUNDS IN RESERVES LIMITED

SECTION 6.1. All funds appropriated by this act into reserves may be expended only for the purposes for which the reserves were established.

BUDGET CODE CONSOLIDATIONS

SECTION 6.2. Notwithstanding G.S. 143C-6-4, the Office of State Budget and Management may adjust the enacted budget by making transfers among purposes or programs for the purpose of consolidating budget and fund codes or eliminating inactive budget and fund codes. The Office of State Budget and Management shall change the authorized budget to reflect these adjustments.

BUDGET REALIGNMENT

SECTION 6.3. Notwithstanding G.S. 143C-6-4(b), the Office of State Budget and Management, in consultation with the Office of the State Controller and the Fiscal Research Division, may adjust the enacted budget by making transfers among purposes or programs for the sole purpose of correctly aligning authorized positions and associated operating costs with the appropriate purposes or programs as defined in G.S. 143C-1-1(d)(23). The Office of State Budget and Management shall change the certified budget to reflect these adjustments only after reporting the proposed adjustments to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations and the Fiscal Research Division. Pending adoption and review of the temporary rule, the agency may adopt an emergency rule under G.S. 150B-21.1A based solely on the need to raise revenue to fund services.

AUTHORIZATION TO ESTABLISH RECEIPT SUPPORTED POSITIONS

SECTION 6.5. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a department, institution, or other agency of State government may establish receipt-supported positions authorized in this act upon approval by the Director of the Budget. The Director, if necessary, may establish a receipt-supported position pursuant to this section at an annual salary amount different from the salary amount set out in this act if (i) funds are available from the proposed funding source and (ii) the alternative salary amount remains within the established salary range grade identified for the job classification of the affected receipt-supported position established in this act. The Director shall not change the job classifications or increase the number of receipt-supported positions specified in this act without prior consultation with the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations.

FISCAL CRISIS/FURLOUGH FLEXIBILITY

SECTION 6.6.(a) Findings. – The General Assembly finds that:

(1) The extreme fiscal crisis affecting North Carolina's economy, the national economy, and global economic markets has substantially reduced the State's revenue projections for the 2009-2011 biennium.

(2) Economies in State expenditures and maximized efficiencies in State operations must be effected immediately and systematically in order to meet the compelling State interest of enacting a balanced budget in accordance with the State Constitution and to protect the interests of the people of North Carolina.

(3) Given the broad scope and depth of other budget reduction and efficiency measures required by this act, allowing voluntary furloughs and requiring mandatory furloughs of public employees, when necessary, is a reasonable measure to avoid disruptive mass layoffs and the elimination of positions in public employment, to preserve the public health, safety, and welfare and to continue the effective administration of important governmental functions in the interest of the people of North Carolina.

SECTION 6.6.(b) To achieve savings identified in the management flexibility reserves established in this act, State agencies may:

(1) Reduce salary-related expenditures by (i) reductions in purchased services and contractual services, (ii) reductions in force, and (iii) with the approval of the Director of the Budget, implementation of furloughs in accordance with subsections (c) through (g) of this section; and

(2) Reduce non-salary expenditures such as purchases of supplies and equipment, maintenance expenses, rental and lease expenses, and any other allowable reductions in non-salary expenditures.

SECTION 6.6.(c) Definitions. – The following definitions apply in this section:

(1) Compensation. – Base rate of compensation, not including pay for shift premiums, overtime, or other types of extraordinary pay.

(2) Essential positions. – Any position deemed by the head of an agency to be necessary to perform the critical functions of that agency to protect the health or safety of the agency's employees, students, clients, or patients of the public agency or to protect the general public.

(3) Furlough. – A temporary period of leave from employment without pay.

(4) Nonessential positions. – Any position in a public agency that is not designated as essential positions by the head of that agency.

(5) Public employee. – Any person employed (i) in the executive, legislative, or judicial branch of State government, (ii) by The University of North Carolina, (iii) by the North Carolina Community College System, or (iv) by a local school administrative unit. The term includes public officers.

(6) Public agency. – Any State agency, department, or institution; and the executive, legislative, and judicial branches of State government; The University of North Carolina; the North Carolina Community College System; and local school administrative units.

SECTION 6.6.(d) Furlough Flexibility. – For the 2009-2010 and 2010-2011 fiscal years, public agencies have management flexibility to allow voluntary furloughs and to require mandatory furloughs of public employees to generate necessary economies and efficiencies in budgeting.

SECTION 6.6.(e) Compensation and Benefits. – A period of furlough shall only affect or reduce a public employee's base salary or compensation. A period of furlough shall not affect or diminish a public employee's continuous service, length of aggregate service, retirement service credits, anniversary date, eligibility for authorized holiday leave, longevity pay, or the accrual of vacation and sick leave. Periods of furlough shall be applied equitably to all essential and nonessential positions regardless of the funding source of the position. A furloughed public employee who is a member of:

(1) Any of the State-supported retirement plans administered by the Retirement Systems Division of the Department of the State Treasurer shall be considered in active service during any period of furlough and shall be entitled to all of the same benefits to which the employee was entitled on the workday immediately preceding the furlough. During a furlough period, the public agency shall pay both the employee and employer contributions to the Retirement Systems Division on behalf of the furloughed public employee as though that employee were in active service.

(2) The State Health Plan for Teachers and State Employees shall be considered eligible for coverage under the Plan on the same basis as on the workday immediately preceding the furlough. The employing public agency shall pay contributions on behalf of the furloughed employee as though the employee were in active service.

SECTION 6.6.(f) Policies. – The Office of State Budget and Management (OSBM) and the State Board of Education (SBE) shall each adopt policies necessary for the implementation of this section. The policies shall govern (i) the scheduling of furloughs, (ii) the amount of notice that must be given to a public employee prior to the effective date of a period of furlough, (iii) whether furloughs may be taken in increments of full days, (iv) the continued accrual of annual and sick leave, (v) treatment of part-time employees, and (vi) any other matter related to the implementation of this section. The OSBM and SBE shall provide maximum flexibility to public agencies and public employees in the scheduling of furlough days to provide public agencies the ability to effectively manage furloughs of employees employed in essential positions so as not to affect critical functions. The policies shall provide that a public employee whose normal workday exceeds eight hours per day will sustain the same proportionate reduction as a public employee who works eight hours per day. The Office of State Personnel shall provide technical assistance to OSBM, as requested, in developing a plan for the implementation of furloughs.

If property has been revalued the year of the most recent sales assessment ratio study, the sales assessment ratio for the year of revaluation shall be used.

SECTION 7.3.(c) Eligibility for Funds. – Except as provided in subsection (g) of this section, the State Board of Education shall allocate these funds to local school administrative units located in whole or in part in counties in which the county wealth as a percentage of the State average wealth is less than one hundred percent (100%).

SECTION 7.3.(d) Allocation of Funds. – Except as provided in subsection (f) of this section, the amount received per average daily membership for a county shall be the difference between the State average current expense appropriations per student and the current expense appropriations per student that the county could provide given the county's wealth and an average effort to fund public schools. (To derive the current expense appropriations per student that the county could be able to provide given the county's wealth and an average effort to fund public schools, multiply the county's wealth as a percentage of State average wealth by the State average current expense appropriations per student.) The funds for the local school administrative units located in whole or in part in the county shall be allocated to each local school administrative unit located in whole or in part in the county based on the average daily membership of the county's students in the school units. SECTION 7.3.(e) Formula for Distribution of Supplemental Funding Pursuant to This Section Only. – The formula in this section is solely a basis for distribution of supplemental funding for low-wealth counties and is not intended to reflect any measure of the adequacy of the educational program or funding for public schools. The formula is also not intended to reflect any commitment by the General Assembly to appropriate any additional supplemental funds for low-wealth counties.

SECTION 7.3.(f) Minimum Effort Required. – Counties that had effective tax rates in the 1996-1997 fiscal year that were above the State average effective tax rate but that had effective rates below the State average in the 1997-1998 fiscal year or thereafter shall receive reduced funding under this section. This reduction in funding shall be determined by subtracting the amount that the county would have received pursuant to Section 17.1(g) of Chapter 507 of the 1995 Session Laws from the amount that the county would have received if qualified for full funding and multiplying the difference by ten percent (10%). This method of calculating reduced funding shall apply one time only. This method of calculating reduced funding shall not apply in cases in which the effective tax rate fell below the statewide average effective tax rate as a result of a reduction in the actual property tax rate. In these cases, the minimum effort required shall be calculated in accordance with Section 17.1(g) of Chapter 507 of the 1995 Session Laws. If the county documents that it has increased the per student appropriation to the school current expense fund in the current fiscal year, the State Board of Education shall include this additional per pupil appropriation when calculating minimum effort pursuant to Section 17.1(g) of Chapter 507 of the 1995 Session Laws.

SECTION 7.3.(g) Nonsupplant Requirement. – A county in which a local school administrative unit receives funds under this section shall use the funds to supplement local current expense funds and shall not supplant local current expense funds. For the 2009-2011 fiscal biennium, the State Board of Education shall not allocate funds under this section to a county found to have used these funds to supplant local per student current expense funds. The State Board of Education shall make a finding that a county has used these funds to supplant local current expense funds in the prior year, or the year for which the most recent data are available, if:

(1) The current expense appropriation per student of the county for the current year is less than ninety-five percent (95%) of the average of the local current expense appropriations per student for the three prior fiscal years; and

(2) The county cannot show: (i) that it has remedied the deficiency in funding or (ii) that extraordinary circumstances caused the county to supplant local current expense funds with funds allocated under this section. The State Board of Education shall adopt rules to implement this section.

SECTION 7.3.(h) Reports. – The State Board of Education shall report to the Joint Legislative Education Oversight Committee prior to May 1, 2010, if it determines that counties have supplanted funds.

SECTION 7.3.(i) Department of Revenue Reports. – The Department of Revenue shall provide to the Department of Public Instruction a preliminary report for the current fiscal year of the assessed value of the property tax base for each county prior to March 1 of each year and a final report prior to May 1 of each year. The reports shall include for each county the annual sales assessment ratio and the taxable values of (i) total real property, (ii) the portion of total real property represented by the present-use value of agricultural land, horticultural land, and forestland as defined in G.S. 105-277.2, (iii) property of public service companies determined in accordance with Article 23 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes, and (iv) personal property.

SECTION 7.4.(a) Funds for Small School Systems. – Except as provided in subsection (b) of this section, the State Board of Education shall allocate funds appropriated for small school system supplemental funding (i) to each county school administrative unit with an average daily membership of fewer than 3,175 students and (ii) to each county school administrative unit with an average daily membership from 3,175 to 4,000 students if the county in which the local school administrative unit is located has a county-adjusted property tax base per student that is below the State-adjusted property tax base per student and if the total average daily membership of all local school administrative units located within the county is from 3,175 to 4,000 students. The allocation formula shall:

(1) Round all fractions of positions to the next whole position.
(2) Provide five and one-half additional regular classroom teachers in counties in which the average daily membership per square mile is greater than four, and seven additional regular classroom teachers in counties in which the average daily membership per square mile is four or fewer.
(3) Provide additional program enhancement teachers adequate to offer the standard course of study.
(4) Change the duty-free period allocation to one teacher assistant per 400 average daily membership.
(5) Provide a base for the consolidated funds allotment of at least seven hundred eighty-eight thousand seven hundred eighty-nine dollars ($788,789), excluding textbooks, for the 2009-2010 fiscal year and a base of seven hundred eighty-eight thousand seven hundred eighty-nine dollars ($788,789) for the 2010-2011 fiscal year.
(6) Allot vocational education funds for grade 6 as well as for grades 7-12. If funds appropriated for each fiscal year for small school system supplemental funding are not adequate to fully fund the program, the State Board of Education shall reduce the amount allocated to each county school administrative unit on a pro rata basis. This formula is solely a basis for distribution of supplemental funding for certain county school administrative units and is not intended to reflect any measure of the adequacy of the educational program or funding for public schools. The formula is also not intended to reflect any commitment by the General Assembly to appropriate any additional supplemental funds for such county administrative units.

SECTION 7.4.(b) Nonsupplant Requirement. – A county in which a local school administrative unit receives funds under this section shall use the funds to supplement local current expense funds and shall not supplant local current expense funds. For the 2009-2011 fiscal biennium, the State Board of Education shall not allocate funds under this section to a county found to have used these funds to supplant local per student current expense funds. The State Board of Education shall make a finding that a county has used these funds to supplant local current expense funds in the prior year, or the year for which the most recent data are available, if:

(1) The current expense appropriation per student of the county for the current year is less than ninety-five percent (95%) of the average of the local current expense appropriations per student for the three prior fiscal years; and
(2) The county cannot show: (i) that it has remedied the deficiency in funding or (ii) that extraordinary circumstances caused the county to supplant local current expense funds with funds allocated under this section. The State Board of Education shall adopt rules to implement this section.

SECTION 7.4.(c) Phase-Out Provisions. – If a local school administrative unit becomes ineligible for funding under this formula because of (i) an increase in the population of the county in which the local school administrative unit is located or (ii) an increase in the county-adjusted property tax base per student of the county in which the local school administrative unit is located, funding for that unit shall be continued for nine years after the unit becomes ineligible.

SECTION 7.4.(d) Definitions. – As used in this section:

(1) "Average daily membership" means within two percent (2%) of the average daily membership as defined in the North Carolina Public Schools Allotment Policy Manual adopted by the State Board of Education.
(2) "County-adjusted property tax base per student" means the total assessed property valuation for each county, adjusted using a weighted average of the three most recent annual sales assessment ratio studies, divided by the total number of students in average daily membership who reside within the county.

(3) "Local current expense funds" means the most recent county current expense appropriations to public schools, as reported by local boards of education in the audit report filed with the Secretary of the Local Government Commission pursuant to G.S. 115C-447.

(4) "Sales assessment ratio studies" means sales assessment ratio studies performed by the Department of Revenue under G.S. 105-289(h).

(5) "State-adjusted property tax base per student" means the sum of all county-adjusted property tax bases divided by the total number of students in average daily membership who reside within the State.

(6) "Supplant" means to decrease local per student current expense appropriations from one fiscal year to the next fiscal year.

(7) "Weighted average of the three most recent annual sales assessment ratio studies" means the weighted average of the three most recent annual sales assessment ratio studies in the most recent years for which county current expense appropriations and adjusted property tax valuations are available. If real property in a county has been revalued one year prior to the most recent sales assessment ratio study, a weighted average of the two most recent sales assessment ratios shall be used. If property has been revalued during the year of the most recent sales assessment ratio study, the sales assessment ratio for the year of revaluation shall be used.

SECTION 7.4.(e) Reports. – The State Board of Education shall report to the Joint Legislative Education Oversight Committee prior to May 1, 2010, if it determines that counties have supplanted funds.

SECTION 7.4.(f) Use of Funds. – Local boards of education are encouraged to use at least twenty percent (20%) of the funds they receive pursuant to this section to improve the academic performance of children who are performing at Level I or II on either reading or mathematics end-of-grade tests in grades 3-8 and children who are performing at Level I or II on the writing tests in grades 4 and 7.

SECTION 7.6.(b) If the higher of the first or second month average daily membership in a local school administrative unit is at least two percent (2%) or 100 students lower than the anticipated average daily membership used for allotments for the unit, the State Board of Education shall reduce allotments for the unit. The reduced allotments shall be based on the higher of the first or second month average daily membership plus one-half of the number of students overestimated in the anticipated average daily membership.

These payment rates shall be based upon information collected by market rate surveys.

(2) If it can be demonstrated that the application of the statewide or regional market rate to a county with fewer than 50 children in each age group is lower than the county market rate and would inhibit the ability of the county to purchase child care for low-income children, then the county market rate may be applied.

SECTION 10.1.(e) A market rate shall be calculated for child care centers and homes at each rated license level for each county and for each age group or age category of enrollees and shall be representative of fees charged to parents for each age group of enrollees within the county. The Division of Child Development shall also calculate a statewide rate and regional market rates for each rated license level for each age category.

The mandatory thirty percent (30%) Smart Start subsidy allocation under G.S. 143B-168.15(g) shall constitute the base amount for each county's child care subsidy allocation. The Department of Health and Human Services shall use the following method when allocating federal and State child care funds, not including the aggregate mandatory thirty percent (30%) Smart Start subsidy allocation:

SECTION 10.3. No local matching funds may be required by the Department of Health and Human Services as a condition of any locality's receiving its initial allocation of child care funds appropriated by this act unless federal law requires a match. Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, funds budgeted for the Child Care Revolving Loan Fund may be transferred to and invested by the financial institution contracted to operate the Fund. The principal and any income to the Fund may be used to make loans, reduce loan interest to borrowers, serve as collateral for borrowers, pay the contractor's cost of operating the Fund, or pay the Department's cost of administering the program.

Failure to obtain a twenty percent (20%) match by June 30 of each fiscal year shall result in a dollar-for-dollar reduction in the appropriation for the Program for a subsequent fiscal year. The North Carolina Partnership for Children, Inc., shall be responsible for compiling information on the private cash and in-kind contributions into a report that is submitted to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations in a format that allows verification by the Department of Revenue. The same match requirements shall apply to any expansion funds appropriated by the General Assembly.

MENTAL HEALTH CHANGES

SECTION 10.12.(a) For the purpose of mitigating cash flow problems that many non-single-stream local management entities (LMEs) experience at the beginning of each fiscal year, the Department of Health and Human Services, Division of Mental Health, Developmental Disabilities, and Substance Abuse Services, shall adjust the timing and method by which allocations of service dollars are distributed to each non-single-stream LME. To this end, the allocations shall be adjusted such that at the beginning of the fiscal year the Department shall distribute not less than one-twelfth of the LME's continuation allocation and subtract the amount of the adjusted distribution from the LME's total reimbursements for the fiscal year.

SECTION 10.12.(b) Onetime funds appropriated for the Dorothea Dix Hospital overflow unit shall be used to support the temporary operation of the hospital unit on the Dorothea Dix campus.

SECTION 10.12.(c) The Department shall evaluate the need to continue the temporary operation of the hospital unit for one additional year and provide a recommendation to the Governor no later than February 15, 2010. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, the Office of State Budget and Management shall establish the positions for the hospital unit on the Dorothea Dix campus as time-limited positions.

SECTION 10.12.(d) Of the funds appropriated in this act to the Department of Health and Human Services, Division of Mental Health, Developmental Disabilities, and Substance Abuse Services, the sum of twenty million one hundred twenty-one thousand six hundred forty-four dollars ($20,121,644) for the 2009-2010 fiscal year and the sum of twenty million one hundred twenty-one thousand six hundred forty-four dollars ($20,121,644) for the

The Department shall develop reporting requirements for LMEs regarding the utilization of the beds or bed days. Funds appropriated in this section for the purchase of local inpatient psychiatric beds or bed days shall be used to purchase additional beds or bed days not currently funded by or through LMEs and shall not be used to supplant other funds available or otherwise appropriated for the purchase of psychiatric inpatient services under contract with community hospitals, including beds or bed days being purchased through Hospital Utilization Pilot funds appropriated in S.L. 2007-323. SECTION 10.15.(d) In providing treatment and services for adult offenders and increasing the number of Treatment Accountability for Safer Communities (TASC) case managers, local management entities shall consult with TASC to improve offender access to substance abuse treatment and match evidence-based interventions to individual needs at each stage of substance abuse treatment. Special emphasis should be placed on intermediate punishment offenders, community punishment offenders at risk for revocation, and Department of Correction (DOC) releasees who have completed substance abuse treatment while in custody.

Under the Plan, all priorities and health status indicators must incorporate as an essential activity the disparity of diseases amongst populations and locales.

SECTION 10.26.(b) In order for measurable benefits to be realized through the implementation of the Plan, the Plan shall include the adoption of levels of performance necessary to promote:

(1) Uniformity across local health departments,

(2) Best evidence-based services,

(3) National standards of performance,

(4) Innovations in public health practice, and

(5) Reduction of geographic and racial health disparities.

LHDs shall have the flexibility and opportunity to use the resources available to achieve the required performance measures in a manner that best suits the LHD.

(2) The Task Force shall identify a reliable and consistent source of State revenue to fund the flexible spending formula.

(3) If sufficient additional revenue is available to implement the Plan, a separate set-aside of available funds would be created. This set-aside would be available to contiguous LHDs that seek to address a specific women's health, child health, or adult health disease or chronic condition, and in doing so, choose to merge into a single Local Health District, thus saving administrative dollars to be focused on public health issues.

SECTION 10.26.(g) Funds appropriated to the Department for flexible spending shall be distributed to county health departments as follows:

(1) Each of the county health departments will receive a base amount to be determined by the DHHS.

SECTION 10.26.(h) To ensure compliance with Department directives, the Task Force shall consider requiring each county health department to submit to the Secretary such data as the Secretary determines is necessary to allow the Secretary to assess whether the county health department has used the funds in a manner consistent with achieving the performance measures associated with this Plan.

SECTION 10.26.(i) Beginning November 15, 2011, and biannually thereafter, the Secretary shall report to the Governor and the General Assembly on:

STATE-COUNTY SPECIAL ASSISTANCE

SECTION 10.57.(a) The eligibility of Special Assistance recipients residing in adult care homes on August 1, 1995, shall not be affected by an income reduction in the Special Assistance eligibility criteria resulting from adoption of the Rate Setting Methodology Report and Related Services, providing these recipients are otherwise eligible. The maximum monthly rate for these residents in adult care home facilities shall be one thousand two hundred thirty-one dollars ($1,231) per month per resident.

SECTION 10.57.(b) Effective January 1, 2009, the maximum monthly rate for residents in adult care home facilities shall be one thousand two hundred seven dollars ($1,207) per month per resident unless adjusted by the Department in accordance with subsection (d) of this section.

SECTION 10.57.(c) The maximum monthly rate for residents in Alzheimer/Dementia special care units shall be one thousand five hundred fifteen dollars ($1,515) per month per resident unless adjusted by the Department in accordance with subsection (d) of this section.

SECTION 10.57.(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the Department of Health and Human Services shall review activities and costs related to the provision of care in adult care homes and shall determine what costs may be considered to properly maximize allowable reimbursement available through Medicaid personal care services for adult care homes (ACH-PCS) under federal law. As determined, and with any necessary approval from the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS), and the approval of the Office of State Budget and Management, the Department may transfer necessary funds from the State-County Special Assistance program within the Division of Social Services to the Division of Medical Assistance and may use those funds as State match to draw down federal matching funds to pay for such activities and costs under Medicaid's personal care services for adult care homes (ACH-PCS), thus maximizing available federal funds. The established rate for State-County Special Assistance set forth in subsections (b) and (c) of this section shall be adjusted by the Department to reflect any transfer of funds from the Division of Social Services to the Division of Medical Assistance and related transfer costs and responsibilities from State-County Special Assistance to the Medicaid personal care services for adult care homes (ACH-PCS). Subject to approval by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) and prior to implementing this section, the Department may disregard a limited amount of income for individuals whose countable income exceeds the adjusted State-County Special Assistance rate. The amount of the disregard shall not exceed the difference between the Special Assistance rate prior to the adjustment and the Special Assistance rate after the adjustment and shall be used to pay a portion of the cost of the ACH-PCS and reduce the Medicaid payment for the individual's personal care services provided in an adult care home. In no event shall the reimbursement for services through the ACH-PCS exceed the average cost of the services as determined by the Department from review of cost reports as required and submitted by adult care homes. The Department shall report any transfers of funds and modifications of rates to the House of Representatives Appropriations Subcommittee on Health and Human Services, the Senate Appropriations Committee on Health and Human Services, and the Fiscal Research Division.

SECTION 10.57.(e) The Department of Health and Human Services shall recommend rates for State-County Special Assistance and for Adult Care Home Personal Care Services. If the fiscal impact indicated by the fiscal analysis for any proposed medical policy change exceeds three million dollars ($3,000,000) in total requirements for a given fiscal year, then the Department shall submit the proposed medical policy change with the fiscal analysis to the Office of State Budget and Management and the Fiscal Research Division. The Department shall not implement any proposed medical policy change exceeding three million dollars ($3,000,000) in total requirements for a given fiscal year unless the source of State funding is identified and approved by the Office of State Budget and Management. a. The provider fails to demonstrate financial viability,

b. The Department determines there is significant potential for fraud and abuse,

c. The Department otherwise finds it is in the best interest of the Medicaid program to do so.

The Department shall specify the circumstances under which a performance bond or executed letter of credit will be required.

(1a) The Department may waive or limit the requirements of this paragraph for individual Medicaid-enrolled providers or for one or more classes of Medicaid-enrolled providers based on the following:

a. The provider's or provider class's dollar amount of monthly billings to Medicaid.

b. The length of time an individual provider has been licensed, endorsed, certified, or accredited in this State to provide services.

c. The length of time an individual provider has been enrolled to provide Medicaid services in this State.

The Department shall ensure that primary care providers or the appropriate CCNC network are notified when a patient is nearing the established threshold to facilitate care coordination and intervention as needed.

Prenatal services, all EPSDT children, emergency room visits, and mental health visits subject to independent utilization review are exempt from the visit limitations contained in this subdivision. Subject to appropriate medical review, the Department may authorize exceptions when additional care is medically necessary. (1) Exceptions to service limitations, eligibility requirements, and payments. – Service limitations, eligibility requirements, and payment bases in this section may be waived by the Department of Health and Human Services, with the approval of the Director of the Budget, to allow the Department to carry out pilot programs for prepaid health plans, contracting for services, managed care plans, or community-based services programs in accordance with plans approved by the United States Department of Health and Human Services or when the Department determines that such a waiver will result in a reduction in the total Medicaid costs for the recipient.

(2) Co-payment for Medicaid services. – The Department of Health and Human Services may establish co-payments up to the maximum permitted by federal law and regulation.

SECTION 10.58.(g) Rules, Reports, and Other Matters. –

(1) Rules. – The Department of Health and Human Services may adopt temporary or emergency rules according to the procedures established in G.S. 150B-21.1 and G.S. 150B-21.1A when it finds that these rules are necessary to maximize receipt of federal funds within existing State appropriations, to reduce Medicaid expenditures, and to reduce fraud and abuse. The Department of Health and Human Services shall adopt rules requiring providers to attend training as a condition of enrollment and may adopt temporary or emergency rules to implement the training requirement.

Prior to the filing of the temporary or emergency rules authorized under this subsection with the Rules Review Commission and the Office of Administrative Hearings, the Department shall consult with the Office of State Budget and Management on the possible fiscal impact of the temporary or emergency rule and its effect on State appropriations and local governments.

(2) Changes to Medicaid program; reports. – The Department shall report on any change it anticipates making in the Medicaid program that impacts the type or level of service, reimbursement methods, or waivers, any of which require a change in the State Plan or other approval by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS). Medicaid cost containment activities may include prospective reimbursement methods, incentive-based reimbursement methods, service limits, prior authorization of services, periodic medical necessity reviews, revised medical necessity criteria, service provision in the least costly settings, plastic magnetic stripped Medicaid identification cards for issuance to Medicaid enrollees, fraud detection software or other fraud detection activities, technology that improves clinical decision making, credit balance recovery and data mining services, and other cost containment activities. These funds shall be allocated as prescribed by G.S. 143C-9-1(b) for Medicaid programs. Notwithstanding the prescription in G.S. 143C-9-1(b) that these funds not reduce State general revenue funding, these funds shall replace the reduction in general revenue funding effected in this act. The Department may also use funds in the Medicaid Special Fund to fund the settlement of the Disproportionate Share Hospital payment audit issues between the Department of Health and Human Services and the federal government related to fiscal years 1997-2002, and funds are appropriated from the Fund for the 2009-2010 fiscal year for this purpose.

The cost-sharing amounts shall be based on a sliding scale of family income and shall take into account the impact on families with more than one child in the CAP programs. In developing the schedule, the Department shall also take into consideration how other states have implemented cost-sharing in their CAP programs. The Division of Medical Assistance may establish monthly deductibles as a means of implementing this cost-sharing. The Department shall provide for at least one public hearing and other opportunities for individuals to comment on the imposition of cost-sharing under the CAP program schedule.

The Department may negotiate supplemental rebates from manufacturers that are in addition to those required by Title XIX of the federal Social Security Act. The committee shall consider a product for inclusion on the preferred drug list if the manufacturer provides a supplemental rebate. The Department may procure a sole source contract with an outside entity or contractor to conduct negotiations for supplemental rebates.

SECTION 10.66.(d) This section becomes effective if the Department cannot demonstrate by June 1, 2010, that twenty million seven hundred ninety-one thousand two hundred sixty-four dollars ($20,791,264) in prescription drug savings have been realized by employing the methods outlined in subsection (a) of this section.

SECTION 10.70.(d) Article 2 of Chapter 108A of the General Statutes is amended by adding the following new Part to read:

"Part 7A. Civil Action by Private Persons for Provider False Claims.

"§ 108A-70.17. Civil action filed by private persons.

(a) A person may initiate a civil action for a violation of G.S. 108A-70.12 on behalf of the person and the State. The action shall be brought in the name of the State. The action may be dismissed prior to service of the complaint upon the defendant under subsection (c) of this section only if the court and the Attorney General have given written consent to the dismissal and their reasons for consenting.

(b) A copy of the complaint and written disclosure of substantially all material evidence and information the person possesses shall be served on the State. The complaint shall be filed in camera, shall remain under seal for at least 120 days, and shall not be served on the defendant until the court so orders. The State may elect to intervene and proceed with the action within 120 days after it receives both the complaint and the material evidence and information. The State may, for good cause shown, move the court for a partial lifting of the seal to facilitate the investigative process or settlement.

(c) The State may, for good cause shown, move the court for extensions of the time during which the complaint remains under seal. Any of these motions may be supported by affidavits or other submission in camera. The time period to respond to any complaint filed under this section shall commence 21 days after the complaint is unsealed and served upon the defendant.

(d) Before the expiration of the 120-day period or any extensions obtained under subsection (c) of this section, the State shall either proceed with the action, in which case the action shall be conducted by the State, or notify the court that it declines to take over the action, in which case the person initiating the action shall have the right to prosecute the action.

(e) When a person initiates an action under this section, no person other than the State may intervene or bring a related action based on the facts underlying the pending action. If another action is filed based on the facts underlying the pending action while the complaint is sealed under subsections (b) and (c) of this section, the court may consolidate the actions or dismiss the subsequent action.

"§ 108A-70.17A. Rights of private plaintiff and State.

(a) If the State proceeds with the action, it shall have the primary responsibility for prosecuting the action and shall not be bound by any act of the person initiating the action. The person bringing the action shall have the right to continue as a party to the action, subject to the limitations of this section.

(b) The State may dismiss the action notwithstanding the objections of the person initiating the action if the person has been notified by the State of the filing of the motion, and the court has provided the person with an opportunity for a hearing on the motion.

(c) The State may settle the action with the defendant notwithstanding the objections of the person initiating the action if the court determines, after a hearing, that the proposed settlement is fair, adequate, and reasonable under all the circumstances. Upon a showing of good cause, such hearing may be held in camera.

(d) If the State proceeds with the action, the court may, in its discretion, impose limitations on the person's participation in the litigation as set forth in subsection (e) of this section. Such limitations must be imposed after any of the following:

(1) A showing by the State that unrestricted participation during the course of the litigation by the person initiating the action would interfere with or unduly delay the State's prosecution of the case, or would be repetitious, irrelevant, or for purposes of harassment.

(2) A showing by the defendant that unrestricted participation during the course of the litigation by the person initiating the action would be for purposes of harassment or would cause the defendant undue burden or unnecessary expense.

(e) Limitations on participation of the person initiating the action shall include all of the following:

(1) Limiting the number of witnesses the person may call.

(2) Limiting the length of the testimony of such witnesses.

(3) Limiting the person's cross-examination of witnesses.

(4) Other limits on the participation by the person initiating the action in the litigation as the court deems appropriate.

(f) If the State elects not to proceed with the action, the person who initiated the action shall have the right to conduct the action. If the State so requests, it shall be served with copies of all pleadings filed in the action and shall be supplied with copies of all deposition transcripts at the State's expense. When a person initiating the action proceeds with the action, the court, without limiting the status and rights of the person initiating the action, may nevertheless permit the State to intervene at a later date upon a showing of good cause.

(g) Whether or not the State proceeds with the action, upon a showing by the State that certain actions of discovery by the person initiating the action would interfere with the State's investigation or prosecution of a criminal or civil matter arising out of the same facts, the court may stay the discovery for a period of not more than 60 days. The showing by the State shall be conducted in camera. The court may extend the 60-day period upon a further showing in camera that the State has pursued the criminal or civil investigation or proceedings with reasonable diligence and any proposed discovery in the civil action will interfere with the ongoing criminal or civil investigation or prosecution of the criminal or civil matter.

(h) Notwithstanding G.S. 108A-70.17(b), the State may elect to pursue its claim through any alternate remedy available to the State, including any administrative proceeding to determine a civil money penalty. Any finding of fact or conclusion of law made in the alternate proceeding that has become final shall be conclusive on all parties to an action under this Part. For purposes of this subsection, a finding or conclusion is final if it has been finally determined on appeal by a court of competent jurisdiction of the State, if the time for filing an appeal with respect to the finding or conclusion has expired, or if the finding or conclusions are not subject to judicial review.

"§ 108A-70.17B. Award to qui tam plaintiff.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, if the State proceeds with an action brought by a person under G.S. 108A-70.17, the person shall receive at least fifteen percent (15%) but not more than twenty-five percent (25%) of the proceeds of the action or settlement of the claim, if any, depending upon the extent to which the person substantially contributed to the prosecution of the action. The plaintiff's share in the proceeds of the action or settlement is administrative costs of the action. A share of the proceeds of an action or settlement of the claim shall not be awarded to the person initiating the action in State court under this Part if the person has received or may receive a share of the proceeds or settlement of an action or claim on the same facts brought in federal court. Where the action is one that the court finds to be based primarily on disclosures of specific information, other than information proved by the person initiating the action, relating to allegations or transactions in a criminal, civil, or administrative hearing, in a legislative, administrative, or State Auditor's report, hearing, audit, or investigation, or from the news media, the court may reduce the award under this subsection to such sums as it considers appropriate, but in no case more than ten percent (10%) of the proceeds of the action, taking into account the significance of the information and the role of the person initiating the action in advancing the case to litigation.

(b) If the State does not proceed with an action, the person initiating the action or settling the claim shall receive an amount that the court decides is reasonable for collecting the civil penalty and damages, if awarded. The amount shall be not less than twenty-five percent (25%) and not more than thirty percent (30%) of the proceeds of the action or settlement and shall be paid out of the proceeds.

(c) Notwithstanding subsections (a) and (b) of this section, if the person initiating the action is a person who primarily planned and initiated the violation of G.S. 108A-70.12 upon which the action was brought, that person shall be dismissed as a qui tam plaintiff and shall not receive any share of the proceeds of the action. If the person initiating the action is convicted of criminal conduct arising from the person's role in the violation of G.S. 108A-70.12, that person shall be dismissed from the civil action and shall not receive any share of the proceeds of the action. The dismissal shall not prejudice the right of the State to continue the action.

(d) If the State does not proceed with the action and the person initiating the action conducts the action, the court may award to the defendant its reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses if the defendant prevails in the action and if the court finds that the claim of the person bringing the action was clearly frivolous, clearly vexatious, or brought primarily for purposes of harassment.

"§ 108A-70.17C. Certain actions barred.

(a) No court shall have jurisdiction over an action brought under this Part based on information discovered by a present or former employee of the State or a political subdivision of the State during the course of the present or former employee's employment unless that employee first, in good faith, exhausted existing internal procedures for reporting and seeking recovery of the falsely claimed sums through official channels, and unless the State or political subdivision failed to act on the information provided within a reasonable period of time.

(b) In no event may a person bring an action under this Part that is based upon allegations or transactions that are the subject of a criminal action, civil action, or an administrative proceeding in which the State is already a party.

(c) No court shall have jurisdiction over an action under this Part based upon the public disclosure of allegations or transactions in a criminal, civil, or administrative hearing, in a legislative, administrative, or State Auditor's report, hearing, audit, or investigation, or from the news media, unless the action is brought by the Attorney General, or the person initiating the action is an original source of the information. For purposes of this section, "original source" means an individual who has direct and independent knowledge of the information on which the allegations are based and has voluntarily provided the information to the State before filing an action under this Part that is based on the information.

(d) The State is not liable for expenses a person incurs in bringing an action under this Part.

(e) G.S. 108A-70.14 and G.S. 108A-70.15 apply to this Part.

"§ 108A-70.17D. Procedure; statute of limitations.

(a) A civil action under this Part may not be brought after the later of either of the following:

(1) More than six years after the date on which the violation is committed.

SECTION 10.70.(f) Provided that the Medicaid False Claims State legislation is adopted, and the State legislation meets federal Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services criteria to receive ten percent (10%) bonuses subject to the False Claims Act, the Department of Health and Human Services, Division of Medical Assistance, shall transfer three hundred fifty-two thousand one hundred thirty-six dollars ($352,136) in fiscal year 2010-2011, and each year thereafter, to fund five permanent staff positions at the Attorney General's Office necessary to implement the Medicaid False Claims Act.

PROVIDER RATES

SECTION 10.71. The Department of Health and Human Services shall freeze rates for fiscal year 2009-2010 for most Medicaid providers at the level authorized in fiscal year 2008-2009. The rate freeze applies to all Medicaid private and public providers with the following exceptions: federally qualified health clinics, rural health centers, State institutions, outpatient hospital, pharmacy, and the noninflationary components of the case-mix reimbursement system for nursing facilities. Medicaid rates predicated upon Medicare fee schedules shall follow Medicare reductions but not Medicare increases unless federally required. Inflationary increases for Medicaid providers paying provider fees (private ICF-MRs and nursing facilities) can occur if the State share of the increases can be funded with provider fees.

MEDICAID WAIVER FOR LOW-INCOME PERSONS WITH HIV

SECTION 10.72. The Department of Health and Human Services, Division of Medical Assistance, shall study whether to apply to the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) for a 1115 waiver to permit individuals who test positive for HIV and have incomes at or below two hundred percent (200%) of the federal poverty level to access Medicaid services. The study shall determine the number of people who may be eligible, and the financial, programmatic, and technical impact of the waiver. The Department shall report on the results of its study of the waiver to the Senate Appropriations Committee on Health and Human Services, the House of Representatives Appropriations Subcommittee on Health and Human Services, and the Fiscal Research Division not later than December 31, 2009.

MAINTAIN MEDICAID ELIGIBILITY

SECTION 10.73. The Department of Health and Human Services, Division of Medical Assistance, shall study policies that will prevent a Medicaid recipient from losing Medicaid eligibility when the annual Social Security and Railroad Retirement Cost of Living Adjustments (COLAs) and the annual Federal Poverty Level adjustment cause a Medicaid recipient to become income-ineligible for Medicaid. The policies shall apply only in cases where Medicaid income eligibility is affected only by Social Security and Railroad Retirement COLAs and Federal Poverty Level adjustments and shall not render a Medicaid recipient eligible if all other eligibility requirements are not met. The Department shall report the results of the study to the Senate Appropriations Committee on Health and Human Services, the House of Representatives Appropriations Subcommittee on Health and Human Services, and the Fiscal Research Division on or before December 31, 2009. The Department shall also study policies that allow individuals who are at or marginally above Medicaid income limits to buy-in to Medicaid coverage on a sliding fee scale.

REDUCE INFANT MORTALITY AND PRETERM BIRTHS

SECTION 10.74.(a) The Department of Health and Human Services, Division of Medical Assistance, shall seek a Medicaid 1115 waiver or implement other available Medicaid options to provide interconceptional coverage to low-income women with incomes below one hundred eighty-five percent (185%) of the federal poverty guidelines who have given birth to a high-risk infant. A high-risk infant is defined as weighing less than 1500 grams, is born less than 34 weeks gestation, is born with a congenital anomaly, or who has died within the first 28 days of life.

SECTION 10.74.(b) Interconceptional care shall be limited to two years following the birth of a high-risk infant, or until a subsequent birth, whichever comes first.

SECTION 10.74.(c) The Division is authorized to develop a benefit package to improve interconceptional care to decrease poor birth outcomes in subsequent pregnancies.

SECTION 10.74.(d) The Division shall provide estimates of the cost savings from improved birth outcomes that will offset the cost of providing Medicaid coverage to this targeted population. The Division shall report the status of the waiver to the Senate Appropriations Committee on Health and Human Services, the House of Representatives Appropriations Subcommittee on Health and Human Services, and the Fiscal Research Division on or before October 1, 2009. The Division shall not implement the waiver unless authorized by an act of the General Assembly.

(3) If a person is serving sentences for two or more offenses that are concurrent in any respect, then the offense with the greater classification shall be used to determine a single maximum sentence for the concurrent offenses. The information should be based on the previous calendar year.

SECTION 19.8.(e) The Department of Correction and the Post-Release Supervision and Parole Commission shall report by March 1 of each year to the Chairs of the House of Representatives and Senate Appropriations Subcommittees on Justice and Public Safety and to the Joint Legislative Corrections, Crime Control, and Juvenile Justice Oversight Committee on the number of inmates proposed for release, considered for release, and granted release under Chapter 84B of Chapter 15A of the General Statutes, providing for the medical release of inmates who are either permanently and totally disabled, terminally ill, or geriatric.

SECTION 27.10.(g) Issuance of Bonds and Notes. –

(1) Terms and conditions. – Bonds or notes may bear a date or dates, may be serial or term bonds or notes, or any combination thereof, may mature in such amounts and at such time or times, not exceeding 40 years from their date or dates, may be payable at such place or places, either within or without the United States of America, in such coin or currency of the United States of America as at the time of payment is legal tender for payment of public and private debts, may bear interest at such rate or rates, which may vary from time to time, and may be made redeemable before maturity, at the option of the State or otherwise as may be provided by the State, at such price or prices, including a price less than or greater than the face amount of the bonds or notes, and under such terms and conditions, all as may be determined by the State Treasurer, by and with the consent of the Council of State.

(2) Signatures; form and denomination; registration. – Bonds or notes may be issued in certificated or uncertificated form. If issued in certificated form, bonds or notes shall be signed on behalf of the State by the Governor or shall bear the Governor's facsimile signature, shall be signed by the State Treasurer or shall bear the State Treasurer's facsimile signature, and shall bear the great seal of the State, or a facsimile of the seal shall be impressed or imprinted thereon. If bonds or notes bear the facsimile signatures of the Governor and the State Treasurer, the bonds or notes shall also bear a manual signature which may be that of a bond registrar, trustee, paying agent, or designated assistant of the State Treasurer. Should any officer whose signature or facsimile signature appears on bonds or notes cease to be such officer before the delivery of the bonds or notes, the signature or facsimile signature shall nevertheless have the same validity for all purposes as if the officer had remained in office until delivery. Bonds or notes may bear the facsimile signatures of persons who at the actual time of the execution of the bonds or notes shall be the proper officers to sign any bond or note, although at the date of the bond or note such persons may not have been such officers. The form and denomination of bonds or notes, including the provisions with respect to registration of the bonds or notes and any system for their registration, shall be as the State Treasurer may determine in conformity with this section.

(3) Manner of sale; expenses. – Subject to the approval by the Council of State as to the manner in which bonds or notes shall be offered for sale, whether at public or private sale, whether within or without the United States, and whether by publishing notices in certain newspapers and financial journals, mailing notices, inviting bids by correspondence, negotiating contracts of purchase, or otherwise, the State Treasurer is authorized to sell bonds or notes at one time or from time to time at any rates of interest, which may vary from time to time, and at any prices, including a price less than or greater than the face amount of the bonds or notes, as the State Treasurer may determine. All expenses incurred in the preparation, sale, and issuance of bonds or notes shall be paid by the State Treasurer from the proceeds of bonds or notes or other available moneys.

(4) Notes; repayment. –

a. By and with the consent of the Council of State, the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to borrow money and to execute and issue notes of the State for the same, but only in the following circumstances and under the following conditions:

1. For anticipating the sale of bonds, the issuance of which the Council of State has approved, if the State Treasurer considers it advisable to postpone the issuance of the bonds;
2. For the payment of interest on or any installment of principal of any bonds then outstanding, if there are not sufficient funds in the State treasury with which to pay the interest or installment of principal as they respectively become due;
3. For the renewal of any loan evidenced by notes authorized in this section;
4. For the purposes authorized in this section; and
5. For refunding bonds or notes as authorized in this section.

b. Funds derived from the sale of bonds or notes may be used in the payment of any bond anticipation notes issued under this section. Funds provided by the General Assembly for the payment of interest on or principal of bonds shall be used in paying the interest on or principal of any notes and any renewals thereof, the proceeds of which shall have been used in paying interest on or principal of the bonds.

(5) Refunding bonds and notes. – By and with the consent of the Council of State, the State Treasurer is authorized to issue and sell refunding bonds and notes pursuant to the provisions of the State Refunding Bond Act for the purpose of refunding bonds or notes issued pursuant to this section. The refunding bonds and notes may be combined with any other issues of State bonds and notes similarly secured. Refunding bonds or notes may be issued at any time prior to the final maturity of the debt obligation to be refunded. The proceeds from the sale of any refunding bonds or notes shall be applied to the immediate payment and retirement of the bonds or notes being refunded or, if not required for the immediate payment of the bonds or notes being refunded, the proceeds shall be deposited in trust to provide for the payment and retirement of the bonds or notes being refunded and to pay any expenses incurred in connection with the refunding. Money in a trust fund may be invested in (i) direct obligations of the United States government, (ii) obligations the principal of and interest on which are guaranteed by the United States government, (iii) obligations of any agency or instrumentality of the United States government if the timely payment of principal and interest on the obligations is unconditionally guaranteed by the United States government, or (iv) certificates of deposit issued by a bank or trust company located in the State if the certificates are secured by a pledge of any of the obligations described in (i), (ii), or (iii) above having an aggregate market value, exclusive of accrued interest, equal at least to the principal amount of the certificates so secured. This section does not limit the duration of any deposit in trust for the retirement of bonds or notes being refunded but that have not matured and are not presently redeemable, or if presently redeemable, have not been called for redemption.

(6) Tax exemption. – Bonds and notes shall at all times be free from taxation by the State or any political subdivision or any of their agencies, excepting estate, inheritance or gift taxes, income taxes on the gain from the transfer of bonds or notes, and franchise taxes. The interest on bonds or notes is not subject to taxation as income.

(7) Investment eligibility. – Bonds and notes are securities in which all of the following may invest, including capital in their control or belonging to them: public officers, agencies, and public bodies of the State and its political subdivisions, all insurance companies, trust companies, investment companies, banks, savings banks, savings and loan associations, credit unions, pension or retirement funds, other financial institutions engaged in business in the State, executors, administrators, trustees, and other fiduciaries. Bonds and notes are hereby made securities which may properly and legally be deposited with and received by any officer or agency of the State or political subdivision of the State for any purpose for which the deposit of bonds, notes, or obligations of the State or any political subdivision is now or may hereafter be authorized by law.

(8) Faith and credit. – The faith and credit and taxing power of the State are hereby pledged for the payment of the principal of and the interest on bonds and notes. The State expressly reserves the right to amend any provision of this section to the extent it does not impair any contractual right of a bond owner.

(9) Other agreements. – The State Treasurer may authorize, execute, obtain, or otherwise provide for bond insurance, investment contracts, credit and liquidity facilities, interest-rate swap agreements and other derivative products, and any other related instruments and matters the State Treasurer determines are desirable in connection with issuance, incurrence, carrying, or securing of bonds or notes. The State Treasurer is authorized to employ and designate any financial consultants, underwriters, and bond attorneys to be associated with any bond or note issue under this section as the State Treasurer considers necessary.

SECTION 27.10.(h) Variable Rate Demand Bonds and Notes. – In fixing the details of bonds and notes, the State Treasurer may provide that any of the bonds or notes may:

(1) Be made payable from time to time on demand or tender for purchase by the owner, if a credit facility supports the bonds or notes, unless the State Treasurer specifically determines that a credit facility is not required upon a finding and determination by the State Treasurer that the absence of a credit facility will not materially and adversely affect the financial position of the State and the marketing of the bonds or notes at a reasonable interest cost to the State;

(2) Be additionally supported by a credit facility;

(3) Be made subject to redemption or a mandatory tender for purchase prior to maturity;

(4) Bear interest at a rate or rates that may vary for any period of time, as may be provided in the proceedings providing for the issuance of the bonds or notes, including, without limitation, such variations as may be permitted pursuant to a par formula; and

(5) Be made the subject of a remarketing agreement whereby an attempt is made to remarket bonds or notes to new purchasers prior to their presentment for payment to the provider of the credit facility or to the State.

If the aggregate principal amount payable by the State under a credit facility is in excess of the aggregate principal amount of bonds or notes secured by the credit facility, whether as a result of the inclusion in the credit facility of a provision for the payment of interest for a limited period of time or the payment of a redemption premium or for any other reason, then the amount of authorized but unissued bonds or notes during the term of such credit facility shall not be less than the amount of such excess, unless the payment of such excess is otherwise provided for by agreement of the State executed by the State Treasurer.

SECTION 27.10.(i) Interpretation of Section. –

(1) Additional method. – The foregoing sections of this section shall be deemed to provide an additional and alternative method for the doing of the things authorized under it and shall be regarded as supplemental and additional to powers conferred by other laws and shall not be regarded as in derogation of any powers now existing.

(2) Statutory references. – References in this section to specific sections or Chapters of the General Statutes or to specific acts are intended to be references to such sections, Chapters, or acts as they may be amended from time to time by the General Assembly.

(3) Broad construction. – This section, being necessary for the health and welfare of the people of the State, shall be broadly construed to effect the purposes thereof.

(4) Inconsistent provisions. – Insofar as the provisions of this section are inconsistent with the provisions of any general, special, or local laws, or parts thereof, the provisions of this section shall be controlling.

(5) Severability. – If any provision of this section or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the section which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this section are declared to be severable.

McCain Correctional Hospital is closed effective September 1, 2009. McCain is a former tuberculosis hospital originally built in 1908 and transferred in 1983 to the Department of Correction to provide space for chronically ill and disabled inmates. The facility has capacity for over 400 inmates, of whom around 66% are chronically ill, geriatric, or disabled. The other third are minimum custody population assigned to unit support jobs, such as maintenance, landscaping, and food service. The prison employs 234 positions.	-343.00		-343.00
This facility operates at 25% above the average daily cost per inmate for a minimum custody facility. As more modern facilities have been built, it will be possible to serve this population more efficiently.
In order to maintain community-standard health care for chronically ill inmates and remain population-neutral, Hoke and Odom Correctional Institutions will be converted from medium to minimum custody, and those units as well as Nash Correctional Institution will be partially double-celled.
The annualized savings for the closure of McCain is $11,625,952, but due to one-time costs to convert the other three facilities, the reduction is lower in the first year. In addition to the positions eliminated at McCain, Hoke and Odom together will lose 155 positions, and Nash will gain 46, for a net reduction in State positions of 343.

Provides funds for the State's share of Water Resources Development Projects. Projects are specified in a special provision.

C. General Obligation Bonds

2 UNC Chapel Hill - Biomedical Research Imaging Center (BRIC)

Authorizes the issuance of general obligation bonds under Article V, Section 3(1) of the NC Constitution for construction of the Biomedical Research Imaging Center (BRIC). The facility will house research on the use of imaging to detect, diagnose, and treat cancer. The facility will also house lab and drug research space. BRIC will facilitate the collaboration of cross disiciplinary researchers. The facility will contribute to the UNC Tomorrow committee's goal of improving health and wellness. The building size will be no more than 343,000 square feet. The total project cost is $260 million.

The General Assembly appropriated $8 million in FY 2007-08. In FY 08-09, the General Assembly appropriated $35 million for planning, site development, and material prepurchase, of which only $12.5 million was allocated. The remaining $22.5 million sequestered by the Governor to manage budget shortfall. The total debt authorized is $240 million.

A special provision revises the statutory appropriation for BRIC in G.S. 116-29.5. This statute would now appropriate $74 million to a reserve for expendure on constructing BRIC, if the Council of State does not authorize the issuance of debt for the project. In the event that the Council of State authorizes the issuance of an amount less than $74 million, then the unauthorized balance would be offset by this BRIC Reserve.

The provision further revises G.S. 116-29.5 to appropriate $100 million in FY 2010-11, $50 million in FY 2012-13, and $16 million in FY 2013-14 towards the project.

SENATE BILL 202:
Appropriations Act of 2009

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Appropriations/Base Budget	Date:	April 7, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Garrou	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S202-CSLExf-15, as amended by Appropriations

SPECIAL INDEBTEDNESS: Senate Bill 202 does not authorize any new special indebtedness. It does modify some projects authorized in past sessions, financed through special indebtedness, to reflect reductions in the projected costs. (SEE Section 27.9, page 191)

Senate Bill 202 authorizes two-thirds bonds over the course of four years. Two hundred forty million dollars of the bond proceeds would be allocated to finance the capital facility costs of the Biomedical Research Imaging Center at UNC-CH. The remaining $66,610,000 would be used for the repair and renovation of State facilities and infrastructure. (SEE Section 27.10, page 200)

For the fiscal year 2009-2010, 54% the moneys in the Reserve for Repairs and Renovations would be allocated to the Board of Governors of The University of North Carolina and the remaining 46% would be allocated to OSBM. (SEE Section 27.5, page 188)

FEE PROVISIONS: As the General Assembly begins to rely more heavily on fees as a means to support the cost of a program, the difference between a tax and a fee becomes increasingly difficult to determine. A tax is a pecuniary charge imposed equally on everyone in the same class to provide revenue for the support of government in general. It is imposed at regularly recurring periods or upon the occurrence of an event and must be paid regardless of whether the taxpayer receives a benefit in return for payment. A fee is a charge imposed for the use of property, the provision of a service, or the regulation or protection of an item or an activity. Though more difficult to distinguish from a tax, a charge imposed on an item or activity as a means of, or to cover the cost of, regulating or protecting the use of the item is also a fee. This principle applies even if some of the revenue raised by the fee is used for purposes other than the regulation or protection of the item or activity on which the fee is imposed as long as the expenditure of the revenue bears a direct and reasonable relationship to the primary purpose of enforcing the laws governing the item and is not imposed for the support of government in general.

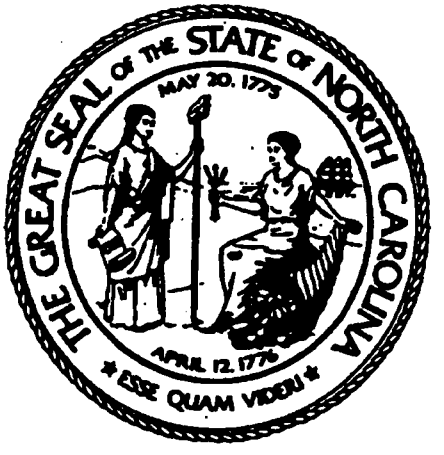
STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA

FINAL REPORT

GOVERNOR'S COMMISSION TO MODERNIZE STATE FINANCES



December 2002

OVERVIEW

In February 2002, Gov. Mike Easley issued an executive order creating the Commission to Modernize State Finances and named Thomas Ross, the executive director of the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation, as its Chair. The Governor named 15 other North Carolinians with broad expertise to the Commission, which has met monthly since its appointment. The Commission members are listed in one of the appendices.

Governor Easley created the Commission out of a recognition that the state's fiscal system faces long-term challenges. Reform is crucial in order for the state and local governments to be successful at meeting the needs of their citizens. The Commission was charged with the task of modernizing state finances to ensure that the state's revenue system was more stable, fair and sufficient over the long term. Unlike the 2001 Efficiency and Loophole-Closing Commission, the Modernizing State Finances Commission did not have a specific revenue target to achieve. Rather, the Governor sought recommendations and insight as to crucial improvements for the long-term fiscal health of North Carolina.

THE GOALS OF THE COMMISSION

In order to guide its work, the Commission discussed and approved several principles as the goals of the Commission. These goals included:

1. Equity. A revenue system that ensures that all taxpayers pay a fair and equitable share of their income and wealth in state and local taxes. Those who benefit from services appropriate for user fees should pay the true cost.

2. Competitiveness. A revenue system that ensures that North Carolina remains competitive with other states in tax and revenue policy and promotes long-term, sustainable economic development, job creation and growth.

3. Sufficiency. A revenue system that provides enough resources over time to provide essential government services without wide variances from year to year.

4. Simplicity. A revenue system that is easier for taxpayers to understand and comply with and for administrators to administer.

5. Efficiency. A revenue system that does not interfere unduly with good economic decisionmaking.

6. Appropriate Federalism. A revenue system that provides both state and local government with appropriate tools for raising revenue to meet the growing needs of each level of government. The system should include consideration of federal tax policy for simplicity, uniformity and deductibility.

Various members of the Commission noted the tension among these goals.

CURRENT SITUATION

The State-Local Partnership

Due to the wisdom and foresight of Governors and legislators of an earlier generation, North Carolina in 1921-33 committed itself to the state financing of the essential services that all citizens need wherever they live and should not vary substantially in availability and quality from county to county. One consequence of that policy decision is that North Carolina relies more heavily than does almost any other state on state taxpayers to finance roads, schools, corrections, and courts. Because the state does not levy a property tax, income taxes (individual and corporate), franchise taxes, sales taxes, and motor vehicle fuel taxes and fees are relatively higher in North Carolina than they are in many states. Property taxes are correspondingly lower here than in most states, because less reliance is placed on that source than in most states. Therefore, in any comparison of tax burdens from state to state, it is essential that both state and local taxes be combined in order to gain a valid understanding of the subject.

In 1998-99 (the latest year available), North Carolina's state and local tax burden combined ranked 29th in the nation on a per-capita basis and 33rd as a percent of personal income. The state ranks 17th in per capita state taxes and 38th in per capita local taxes. In that year, North Carolina state government levied 71 percent of state-local taxes. Nationally, state governments levy 61 percent of the total. All of our neighboring states require local governments to fund a greater share of the state-local tax burden than our state.

The table below shows the source of major taxes as a percent of total state and local taxes for North Carolina, the Mid Southeast (which includes the four bordering states and Kentucky), and the nation. It shows that North Carolina is more reliant on the income tax, and less reliant on sales and property taxes, than states in the region and the nation as a whole. Nationally, the property tax is the largest major source of state and local taxes and is the most stable tax.

Certain Taxes as a Percent of Total State and Local Taxes,
North Carolina, the Mid-Southeast, and United States, 1998-99 Fiscal Year

	North Carolina	Mid Southeast	United States
Individual Income	32.5%	26.2%	23.2%
Sales and Use	21.7%	26.8%	24.6%
Property	21.5%	24.3%	29.4%
Other	24.3%	22.7%	22.8%
Total	100%	100%	100%

The Current Budget Situation

This report comes in the wake of two successive years of substantial revenue shortfalls. General Fund revenues fell short of projections by almost four percent (or over $500 million) in 2000-01 and an unprecedented $1.55 billion (or almost 11 percent) in 2001-02. This instability provides one reason for the need for reform.

The Necessity of Change

The state's tax code was updated in the 1920's and 1930's, when agriculture and traditional manufacturing dominated the state's economy. Record numbers of local governments had defaulted on their bonds. Property taxes were the primary revenue source for state and local government, and the state faced massive budgetary shortfalls.

Much has changed in the decades since Governors Gardner and Ehringhaus confronted these tough issues. The state's economy has become increasingly service-based, with fully half of consumption from the service sector today. People shop over the Internet, not always at the local store. The manufacturing and agriculture sectors continue to shrink as a share of the state's employment. Once-dominant industries such as apparel manufacturing barely exist in the state any more.

The tax policy changes of the 1920s and 1930s have largely been beneficial. Today, more North Carolina local governments have AAA bond ratings, the highest possible, than in any other state. The state's per-capita income rose from 47 percent of the national average in 1929 to 90 percent of the national average in 2001, and the state has reversed decades of population decline and stagnation as more people choose to live and work in the Tar Heel state.

The expectations of government have changed as well over time. Medicaid, the fastest-growing and second-largest item in the state budget, was not even created until the 1960s. For the first time, North Carolina has eclipsed the national average in terms of the rate of college attendance, as new generations find that postsecondary education is crucial for success in the global economy and older generations find that their workplaces are disappearing and their skills need upgrading. The environment and urban growth management are relatively new concerns for North Carolina.

The late 1990s were an unprecedented good time for state governments across the country, and North Carolina was no exception. The combination of a soaring stock market and the increase in consumption over saving spurred rapid growth in income and sales tax yields. But now the subsequent decline and ongoing volatility of financial markets and the growth in personal debt raise questions about whether that pace of revenue growth will ever be seen again. Many believe that it will not.

North Carolina needs a finance system that reflects all of these new realities. The state must make changes to ensure that our economic growth can continue, that adequate services can be provided, that the burden for government spending is spread fairly, and that emergencies – both natural and economic – can be withstood.

Tax Reform Efforts

The Commission to Modernize State Finances is the latest in a long line of efforts to address tax reform issues. North Carolina's leaders of both parties have recognized the need to make changes, although these changes have been slow in coming. In the late 1980s, the state moved to conform its income tax more closely to that of the federal government, eliminating thousands of North Carolinians from the income tax rolls. In the early 1990s, the Economic Futures Study Commission noted:

> Modernization also requires that the state tax system be made more responsive to the future growth of income and consumption in North Carolina. If this goal is not achieved, then the General Assembly will be forced to result time and again to ad hoc measures to increase revenues or control spending. By their nature, ad hoc revenue and expenditure adjustments under severe budget pressure are unlikely to contribute to tax equity or tax modernization, except by accident (p. 17).

This quote is equally valid today. The 1991 Commission recommended taxation of services and a reduction in the use of corporate incentives, two items discussed by this Commission. Within the past few years, both the General Assembly and Governor Easley have appointed commissions to make recommendations about the improvement of the tax code. The 2001 Governor's Efficiency and Loophole-Closing Commission made several recommendations to end tax preferences, the vast majority of which were ultimately adopted by the General Assembly. The 2001 Commission, which met for two months, urged further study of many of the issues that this Commission examined in its work. Certainly this Commission's work will not be the final word on tax reform. But it continues the discussion on this important matter.

THE PROCESSES OF THE COMMISSION

The Commission has been organized into three subcommittees: the New Economy subcommittee, the Tax Simplification subcommittee, and the Intergovernmental Relations subcommittee. Due to staff and member time conflicts, most of the work in recent months has been done in full Commission meetings.

Subcommittees received input from state agencies, including the Departments of Revenue and Commerce; local government associations and officials; nongovernmental tax experts; and taxpayer representatives.

At its October meeting, the Commission authorized Chairman Ross, the three subcommittee chairs, and Commission staff to delineate a series of recommendations that meet the Commission goals and reflect the Commission's deliberations. Those recommendations have largely been amended or accepted, and some other recommendations are included in this report.

THE PROPOSED RECOMMENDATIONS – MOVE TO BROADER BASES AND LOWER RATES

The overall recommendation of the Commission is that state and local taxes have broader bases and, in some instances, lower rates. This general recommendation is the best way to ensure simplicity, fairness, sufficiency and stability.

Taxes

1. Sales Taxation

The sales and use tax generated the most discussion by the Commission, perhaps because it has been widely recognized as one of the major taxes most impacted by structural changes in the economy and by economic downturns. Last year, the state sales tax generated over $3.7 billion in revenue, although sales tax revenues fell short of projections by over six percent. Most economists agree that sales tax revenues in recent years have been greatly aided by the increase in Americans' consumption patterns, a trend that many believe cannot continue.

Today, most North Carolina consumers pay six and one-half or seven percent on most tangible goods and a limited number of services. Currently, the state sales tax rate is four and one-half percent on most tangible goods and a very limited amount of services. Local governments receive two or two and one-half percent, distributed partially on a point-of-collection basis and partially on a per-capita basis. (Mecklenburg County levies an additional one-half cent sales tax). Effective December 1, 2002, counties were permitted to levy an additional one-half cent sales tax by action of their boards of county commissioners. A large majority of counties have done so.

The sales tax is levied at different rates on different items. Manufactured homes, utilities, satellite television, airplanes, boats, manufacturing machinery – all of these items are taxed at rates between one and six percent at the state level. These differential rates increase the complexity of the tax code.

The sales and use tax faces two major challenges. First, the economy is growing substantially more dependent on services, thereby diminishing the current sales tax base, which is primarily goods-based. Second, the growth in the use of the Internet and mail-order merchants to purchase taxable items makes compliance with sales and use tax more difficult, because many of these merchants do not have sufficient presence in North Carolina to be required to collect and remit the tax. Many taxpayers do not understand, or do not comply with, the longstanding law that they pay use tax on purchases consumed in North Carolina for which sales tax was not charged by the out-of-state merchant and it is virtually impossible to enforce this provision.

The original intent of the sales tax was to levy a tax on transactions. Because the economy has changed so much in the past seven decades, many transactions are not taxed or taxed at a partial rate. The Commission recommendations in this area are an attempt to comply with the original intent of the sales tax. The Commission does so with the recognition that many states have not accomplished such a restoration at this time.

The Commission makes the following recommendations regarding the sales and use tax:

- Eliminate the differential rates of taxation of goods and services and remove caps on the sales and use taxes. As explained above, there are eight different state sales tax rates. Caps, such as $80 on an "item" of machinery and equipment, are difficult to use in a fair and efficient manner. The Department of Revenue has noted that the existing system of rate and cap preferences is administratively burdensome. The Commission concludes that items should either be taxed fully or not at all, including sales-like taxes on amusements and entertainment.
- Eliminate sales tax exemptions. The sales tax specifically exempts numerous items in G.S. 105-164.13 and G.S. 105-164.14. The Commission recommends that each of these exemptions should be considered for elimination if appropriate, especially because many of these exemptions have not been reviewed in many years.

  The exemption of the state sales tax on food is an example of these exemptions. Currently, the North Carolina consumer pays two percent sales tax on food purchased for home consumption. The revenues from this two percent tax benefit only local governments, as it was only the state sales tax on food that was eliminated in the late 1990s. No change was made in the local effective sales tax rate of two percent on food to consumers. The additional one-half cent sales tax that most local governments have authorized (and others may authorize) after December 1, 2002 does not include food in the base. The Commission notes that the difference in base at the local government level over the tax of food must be changed in order to comply with the Streamlined Sales Tax agreement to which North Carolina is committed. The Commission also notes that the General Assembly recently acted to exempt food from the sales tax base.

- Consider the expansion of the sales tax base to include more services. The Department of Revenue's Tax Research Division has found that the possible tax base of services would nearly double the existing sales tax base of goods and utilities. As such, the estimated state sales tax rate could be reduced markedly if all goods and services were taxed at that rate. Because so few states tax services, the data used to perform these calculations may not be sufficiently reliable to use for revenue projections. The Tax Research Division has used gross receipts as a proxy for sales to customers, although such receipts may include some things not related to sales to consumers, such as earnings on investments or the sale of some asset.

  The Commission notes that the failure to tax services contributes to the discrepancies and inconsistencies in the sales tax code. The Commission cites the fact that a lawn mower is taxed, but lawn service is not, to support this observation.

  However, the taxation of services is very complicated and changes should not be made without further analysis. The Commission notes several issues that merit closer consideration than our time has allowed. These include:

  Appropriate exemptions. Some observers have noted that some services, such as medical care, are so important and basic that an exemption may be merited. Moreover, the Commission is wary of taxing business inputs, which are goods and services used in the production of a final good or service, as this results in a cascading effect and reduces efficiency. Many services that could be taxed, such as legal and accounting services, are used by businesses, and thereby complicate the efficiency problem. However, this issue is not new in North Carolina tax policy. An Office of State Budget and Management study showed that businesses paid almost 25 percent of the general sales tax (excluding food bought for home consumption) in 1990-91.

  Competitiveness. The taxation of services varies across states. Many states tax the repair of tangible personal property, while very few tax professional services. Any future analysis should benefit from experiences of other states in approaching service taxation.

  Representatives of service industries testified that such taxation would be burdensome and add to the regressivity of the system as a whole.

Services have become such an important part of the economy that any examination of a tax on consumption – the goal of the sales tax – should consider the inclusion of services in the tax base. Further, the services sector of our economy is expected to continue to grow at a much greater rate than that of goods.

- Adopt changes required to comply with the Streamlined Sales Tax Agreement. Representatives from 35 states, including North Carolina, recently completed a historic agreement to simplify state and local sales tax systems across the nation. Charles Collins, the former director of the Sales and Use Tax Division, was one of the co-chairs of the commission that negotiated this agreement after several years of work. The General Assembly has approved several interim steps to ensure our participation in the agreement. This Commission recommends the adoption of further measures to ensure equity among competitors and ease administrative burden on merchants and their customers.

- Simplify the administration of local sales taxes. The Department of Revenue has noted that it is difficult for taxpayers and the Department to determine the source county for local sales taxes. A state formula for distributing sales tax revenues to counties and municipalities would be the easiest way to ensure fairness and compliance.

2. Individual Income Tax

The individual income tax is the workhorse of the state tax system. It generates over one-half of all General Fund revenue. However, its actual yield has fallen short of projections in recent years. In 2001-02, it fell almost 13 percent – over $1 billion – short of its projection. This volatility is largely due to the drop in income from capital gains, bonuses and other such nonwage income. Currently, the state ranks 11th nationally in individual income tax burden, primarily because the state pays for a greater share of education, court, and correctional expenses than most other states. Local governments pay a smaller share of these expenses, leading to lower-than-average property tax burden described earlier.

The Commission has identified several major issues surrounding the income tax. First, North Carolina's income tax marginal rates are significantly higher than those in other states, especially for higher-income taxpayers. However, most of these taxpayers can deduct state income taxes paid from federal taxable income, thus reducing the real burden of their state income tax paid by nearly 40 percent. Second, the income tax has grown increasingly complex in recent years, due to a proliferation of tax credits and the growing gap between federal exemptions and deductions and state exemptions and deductions. Third, North Carolina's state and local tax system is regressive, and a strong individual income tax helps offset that regressivity. Fourth, the state has higher marginal income tax rates than most Southeastern states, giving rise to a concern that the state has difficulty competing for crucial economic development and job creation opportunities. . The Commission also noted that a significant number of taxpayers have very little taxable income and pay a very small share of the income tax. In 2000, taxpayers with less than $10,000 in taxable income represented one-third (almost one million) of the taxpayers, but less than four percent of income taxes paid.

The Commission recommends the following:

- The state income tax should tie more closely to the federal tax code. The federal income tax code is progressive. The state could simplify the state income tax by eliminating most adjustments to federal definitions of income. Some adjustments, such as those required by the Bailey decision, would have to remain. The Commission notes that the simplest solution would be to use the federal definition of taxable income. However, that use would result in a substantial increase in the value of standard deductions and personal exemptions, and therefore would reduce state income tax receipts. An alternative would be to use a broader version of income, such as federal adjusted gross income or total income. The state could also use its own values for standard deductions and personal exemption. These changes would broaden the base and allow the tax rates to be lowered to levels similar to those in other states. There are 16 tax credits (outside of business tax credits) in the individual income tax code, many of which have very high error rates.

- Adopt strategies to help low-income taxpayers. Several Commission members believe an earned income tax credit, such as proposed by Gov. Easley last year, would provide targeted relief that offsets regressivity elsewhere in the system. The earned income tax credit is part of the federal tax system. Families with children and earnings below $30,000 are the primary recipients of the credit. However, the creation of a new credit when others are repealed adds some new administrative difficulty, although the tie to the federal credit may mitigate substantial enforcement issues. The Commission also discussed other alternatives to achieve the goal of relief for low-income income taxpayers. These include: a "no-tax" threshold for those with taxable incomes below $10,000 or a reduction in the beginning marginal income tax rate from six percent to a lower number.

3. Corporate Income/Franchise Taxes

The corporate income tax is one of the most volatile of all revenue sources. Its General Fund yield fell 30 percent below expectations last year, and was about half of its 2000 high. There are a number of reasons for the decrease in liability, such as declining corporate profits, the increased use of tax planning schemes by multistate corporations and the use of tax credits.

The state's corporate income tax rate of 6.9 percent is higher than rates in most of our competitor states. Because economic growth and job creation are so crucial to the ability of a state to meet its financial needs, changes to business taxation must be thoroughly analyzed so as to maintain a good business climate.

The Commission recommends the following:

- Elimination or simplification in the use of tax credits. Since 1996, the state has enacted a series of tax law changes geared to promote economic development (the William S. Lee Act). In 2002, the General Assembly enacted legislation to tighten eligibility for these tax credits, especially in urban counties. Gov. Easley has argued for reduced use of tax subsidies, replacing these subsidies with performance-based grants designed to increase efficiency. The Commission finds these efforts should be continued in order to help maintain our competitiveness.

  The Commission finds that a research and development tax credit should remain, due to its substantial economic benefits. The Department of Commerce and some taxpayers contend that North Carolina's tax incentives are less generous than those provided in other states.

- Simplify taxation by moving to combined reporting by related entities, as required at the federal level. In the past two years, the General Assembly has acted to limit the ability of related corporations to reduce their North Carolina tax liability. The move to a combined reporting system, required in many other states, may clarify the rules for both taxpayers and tax administrators. Combined reporting is required at the federal level and may help simplify the administrative burden for business taxpayers. The Commission recommends that this move be done carefully, as the effects on state revenues are not easily determined. Department of Revenue staff would have to be trained to handle this shift.
- Modernize the franchise tax. The Commission finds that the evolution of new forms of business organization has led to inequities in the imposition of franchise taxes. The Commission recommends that the state impose the franchise tax on all types of business organizations, not just on traditional corporations. The Commission recommends that the revenues generated from this base broadening could be used to establish a minimum net worth threshold for payment of the tax. The franchise tax rate could also be reduced in the process.

- Consider the effect of establishing a throwout provision. held that all income of a multistate corporation should be taxed, and taxed only once, among states where the corporation conducts business. The majority of the states with corporate income taxes have a "throwback" or "throwout" provision to ensure that all of a corporation's income is taxed. A "throwout" rule provides that the corporation's sales to customers in states where it has no nexus, and therefore is not taxed, are not included in the calculation of state tax liability. However, the Commission recognizes that North Carolina's border states do not have a throwback or throwout rule, and that the General Assembly did not adopt the throwout provision that was approved by the House of Representatives as part of their original 2002-03 budget proposal.

- Conform more closely to the federal definition of corporate income. This simplifies tax administration and computation. There are now several dozen adjustments to the federal income in determining state income, and each should be evaluated on its merits. The interest expense deduction for financial institutions is the best-known example of these types of adjustments. The Commission also finds that North Carolina is one of the few states to use net economic loss rather than net operating loss in the calculation of state corporate income tax, and that the effects of using federal net operating loss instead of net economic loss be considered.

- Consider the effects of a move back to the equal weighting of payroll, property and sales in determining the share of income taxed by North Carolina. Currently, multistate corporations calculate their North Carolina income tax liability by determining their shares of property, payroll, and sales in North Carolina. In the late 1980s, the formula was changed from equal weighting of these three factors to a double-weighting of the sales factor. This change was made in order to provide relief to companies that own significant property and employ a significant portion of their total workforce in North Carolina. This weighting formula results in a net loss of approximately $60 million to the state coffers when compared to the previous formula. Other corporations, especially those that conduct all of their business within North Carolina, have to pay higher corporate income taxes in order to compensate for this loss. For this reason, the Commission recommends consideration of the effects of returning to the previous formula. Most states, however, have moved to North Carolina's current system of "double-weighting" the sales factor in order to maintain competitiveness.

4. Other Tax Issues

The Commission notes that the state receives substantial revenue from taxes on specific products, such as alcohol, cigarettes, and gasoline. Some Commission members noted that these types of taxes may result in economic inefficiencies, as the singling out of certain products and industries violates the principle of broad bases and low rates. North Carolina alcohol taxes are generally higher than those in other states, while its cigarette taxes are far below the national average. The state has a higher than average gasoline tax, resulting from the fact that the state pays a higher than average share of the costs of road and highway construction than do other states.

The Intergovernmental Relations Subcommittee spent substantial time on local government finance issues. Because state-local roles were generally set in the 1930s, it is time for some updated changes. For this reason, the Commission recommends the following:

- Shift Medicaid program costs from counties to the state government. Medicaid expenditures are highest in the poorest counties in the state, because the program provides health care to low-income families, the aged, and the disabled. Because counties have no policy authority over Medicaid and many do not have the tax base to continue to fund a substantial share of this rapidly growing program, the state should pay all of the nonfederal costs of the program, as do over 40 other states. The Commission notes that the state half-cent sales tax levied in 2001 and due to expire on June 30, 2003 could be extended to pay for most of the current county share of Medicaid costs.
- Establish a new State-Local Relations Commission. In May, the Commission approved a recommendation to the Governor that he request that the General Assembly establish a Commission on State-Local Relations. This Commission should re-examine the ability of counties to provide crucial public facilities such as courthouses and public schools, the status of current functions of state and local governments, the ability of local governments to levy certain taxes from a menu authorized by the General Assembly, the content of such a menu, and other issues that this Commission felt important, but beyond its scope and time. This Commission should have a definite sunset date and report back to the Governor and General Assembly as soon as possible.

- Review the state unemployment insurance tax laws. Although not part of the General Fund, unemployment insurance taxes should be examined as well in any comprehensive examination of the tax code. The Commission recommends that N.C. unemployment tax laws be reviewed and changed as needed to avoid the possibility that some entities may adopt techniques that artificially and unfairly reduce state unemployment insurance tax collections.

Other Nontax Finance Issues

1. Fees

The Commission believes that fees should be routinely evaluated to determine if they are covering the appropriate share of the cost of government services to which they apply. The Office of State Budget has produced a 359-page report on the various fees assessed by state government agencies and boards. The Commission recommends that the State Budget Office recommend an increase in fees to cover the cost of selected services, especially for those that have not been increased in several decades. This analysis should include consideration of the cost of collecting fees and perhaps recommend some fees to be eliminated.

For instance, some Commission members argued that some fees – or fee-like revenues such as privilege license taxes and installment paper taxes – are administratively burdensome for both state officials and taxpayers. The average privilege license tax is $185, with the average professional privilege license tax of $45. Repeal of some such fees that are not directly related to services, serving as de facto taxes, may also be appropriate.

2. Rainy Day Fund

North Carolina's Executive Budget Act requires that the state deposit 25 percent of the General Fund money remaining unspent at the end of the fiscal year into the state's Savings Reserve Account (the "rainy day" fund), until the fund reaches five percent of the prior year's general fund spending. While the state was able to reach this five percent target for some time, lawmakers decided to use rainy day funds for Hurricane Floyd relief and recovery and for payment of court judgments and have not maintained the fund at an appropriate level.

Recent research on economic downturns in North Carolina history showed that the recessions in recent years have resulted in increased severity of the revenue gap. The research concluded that a five percent rainy day fund would fall far short of the likely need, if the goal were to maintain the same level of expenditures in times of shortfall, while making no change in revenue laws.

The Commission recommends that the rainy day fund cap be raised substantially above the level of five percent. The Local Government Commission requires that local governments maintain a fund balance of at least eight percent in order to issue debt, far above the state's present cap of five percent. The Commission believes that the state should replenish the fund as quickly as possible after its expenditure. Rather than relying exclusively on monies left over at the end of the year to replenish the fund, as is the current case, the General Assembly should appropriate monies to ensure that the fund remains healthy. Moreover, the state should more strictly limit the uses of the rainy day proceeds; specifically, to stabilize the general fund in an economic downturn.

3. Future Tax Changes

A number of observers have attributed the state's current budget problems to the $1.5 billion in permanent annual tax cuts enacted by the General Assembly in the late 1990s. These tax cuts were not accompanied by commensurate reductions in state spending, which have contributed to a structural deficit.

The state tax cuts were permanent in nature. This permanent loss of taxes through elimination of entire tax schedules makes a future increase in taxes even more difficult.

The Commission recommends that future tax relief be provided through one-time rebates or temporary rate reductions. Minnesota, Oregon and Colorado are among the states that provided rebate checks to their taxpayers when times were good and have ceased to do so during these challenging times, thus mitigating the need for tax increases.

4. Tax Procedure Reforms

Any discussion of the tax code should include discussion of tax procedures. The complexity of the economy and the tax code make tax administration more difficult for tax administrators and taxpayers. The Commission finds that it is important to reduce the possibility of conflicts over interpretation of state tax laws.

- Clarify the Secretary of Revenue's authority to address inappropriate tax planning strategies by taxpayers. The Commission recommends clarification of the Secretary of Revenue's power to ensure that it is clear that the Secretary can void intercompany and other accounting transactions that are distortive, do not properly reflect state taxable income, or serve no legitimate business purpose.

- Review tax hearing and appeal processes. The Commission recommends a review of the administrative tax hearing process within the Department of Revenue, the appeal process to the Tax Review Board, and the Property Tax Commission for opportunities to streamline and otherwise improve the process, including the possibility of a new tax court.

5. Other Tax Policy Ideas

The Commission also heard testimony on, but did not have time to consider fully, some other tax policy proposals. The Commission makes no recommendations in regard to these ideas, other than to identify them as worthy of mention.

- Increase the cigarette tax in order to reduce the burden of other taxes. North Carolina's cigarette tax is third-lowest in the nation and the revenues from an increase could be used to replace revenues lost from a reduction in burden of other taxes.
- Adoption of "green taxes and fees." Testimony from environmental advocates found that "green taxes and fees" could result in increased revenue, better environmental outcomes, and improved adherence to the Commission's goal that those who benefit from a service pay for its cost.

CONCLUSION

The budget crisis may provide the motivation for necessary changes in how our state and local governments obtain the revenues to provide an appropriate level of public services. The last wholesale revision of North Carolina's government finances took place during the Great Depression. Perhaps these important recommendations will be accomplished in a similar manner. The Commission is one of a long line of groups to recommend crucial changes to the tax code. This long recognition that long-term systemic changes are required will help ensure that North Carolina emerges with a more stable, fairer and simpler system of raising revenue for important public services.

Statewide Committee Announces Recommendations to Create Stable Financial System for North Carolina

Raleigh, N.C., April 14, 2009 – Today the Institute for Emerging Issues' (IEI) Business Committee on Financing the Future (BCFTF) released its Statement of Principles on tax modernization for North Carolina. The Principles provide a roadmap for North Carolina to address the current financial crisis and jump-start new businesses and job creation in the months and years ahead. By acting now North Carolina will take the lead as a state with a business friendly environment.

The BCFTF, co-chaired by three of the state's eminent business leaders, Jack Cecil, John McNairy, and Richard Vinroot, identified principles that can lower tax rates, decrease the state's dependence on the income tax, and preserve many state and local programs that come from volatile state revenues.

"North Carolina needs a 21st century financial system if it is going to remain competitive in the years ahead," said BCFTF co-chair Richard Vinroot. "We need comprehensive change that works well for all North Carolinians."

Recommendations include:

- Corporate and personal income tax rates should be reduced to levels that make North Carolina competitive with other states, and many exemptions and loopholes should be eliminated.
- The sales tax rate should be lowered, and the tax base should extend to many services and previously exempted tangible items.

For more information on the recommendations, other background materials, and a helpful, online tax calculator, go to www.emergingissues.org.

The BCFTF made its recommendations based on the view that a modern tax system should be characterized by three basic principles: simplicity, fairness and a minimal number of exemptions. Specifically, the committee recommends extending the sales tax base to some services and previously exempt goods, enabling North Carolina to lower sales tax rates and reduce revenue volatility. Similarly, the BCFTF also suggests expanding the income tax base – both corporate and personal – through the elimination of exemptions so that the state may lower overall income tax rates.

The committee, comprised of high-level business leaders representing the state's varied regions and industries, paid particular attention to the state's current economic crisis and believes that with comprehensive reform, North Carolina can limit the impact of future economic uncertainty. Currently, the state depends heavily on the income tax and a severely eroded sales tax base, both of which decline dramatically during periods of high unemployment and low consumer spending.

IEI's multi-year program of work on tax and finance, Financing the Future, has engaged leaders and citizens across the state in a multi-year program of work aimed at preparing our state for success in the years ahead. The work of this committee represents the culmination of these efforts, and should give courage to the state's leaders as they wrestle with a very uncertain future.

About IEI

IEI is a think-and-do tank focused on tackling big issues that affect North Carolina's future growth and prosperity. From energy, to fiscal modernization, to improving our infrastructure systems, IEI takes the lead in convening state leaders in business, higher education and government to prepare for future challenges and opportunities. Business Committee on Financing the Future

Statement of Principles: Tax Modernization in North Carolina

North Carolina's existing tax system needs to be overhauled. Our state's economy and population have changed dramatically over the past century, yet our financial systems have not kept pace. As a result, while the overall tax burden is relatively low, revenues are extremely volatile due to an overdependence on the income tax and a severely eroded sales tax base. The sales tax rate is higher than it could be because the tax applies to an increasingly limited range of goods. Personal and corporate income tax rates are above those in surrounding states.

The current financial crisis makes all these problems even worse. If we act now, a comprehensive overhaul will place our state in a much better situation for the future. Other states with similar problems have made, or have proposed, reforms to meet the demands of the future. North Carolina cannot be left behind. We must create a tax system that is competitive, stable, adequate and fair if we are to prosper in the 21st Century economy.

The Business Committee on Financing the Future (BCFTF) believes that a modernized system should be characterized by three basic principles: simplicity, fairness, and a minimal number of exemptions. The goal should be comprehensive change that is revenue neutral, fundamentally pro-growth, and yet offers a variety of improvements when all elements are considered together.

Sales Tax

To decrease the volatility of revenues and to allow a substantial reduction of the tax rate, the BCFTF believes that the sales tax should extend to many services and previously exempted tangible items but not medical services and prescription drugs. The committee supports a compensation mechanism for low-income taxpayers if the sales tax is broadened to include food.

The committee believes that an important purpose of extending the sales tax to include previously exempt goods and services is a reduction in income tax rates.

Income Tax

The BCFTF supports using Federal Adjusted Gross Income as the base for calculating personal state income taxes, with minimal deductions and exemptions. At the same time, the committee also supports reducing marginal individual income tax rates to a level that is competitive with other southeastern states, while maintaining a progressive rate structure.

The committee recognizes that there may be alternative ways to tax corporations in the place of an income tax, noting that there are other states attempting this. The Committee suggests further study of "best practices" by the appropriate public bodies.

Local Revenues and Responsibilities

The BCFTF believes that all local responsibilities, new and old, should be consistent and should have adequate and appropriate sources of funding. Funding should be provided through a suitable balance of local revenue options and state assistance designed to compensate for variations in the local tax base.

The Committee believes that local government will inevitably benefit from comprehensive tax reform.

Conclusion

The overall purpose of the changes outlined above is to prepare North Carolina for success in a 21st. century economy by providing it with a system of tax and finance that is stable, fair and adequate to needs of future generations.

Sampling of Prior Study Committee Recommendations

- 1951 Report from the Commissioner of Revenue to the Governor, the Advisory Budget Commission, and the Budget Bureau
    - In the report, Commissioner Eugene Shaw proposed that the State's need for substantially large revenue could be met by a sweeping revision of the sales tax law and the elimination of many sales tax exemptions. While recognizing that "[E] ach of the existing exemptions has a compelling reason for its place in the law." and "There is no doubt that those seeking further exemptions could present clear, cogent, convincing, and compelling reasons why other items or transactions should not be added to the list.", he stated that "Practically speaking, an exemption in a taxing statute is the opening wedge which destroys the efficiency of enforcement. It is like a small hole in a dam and begins first with a drip, then with a trickle, then a stream, then a flow, then a gush, and finally a break which destroys the dam."
    - He proposed imposition of the sales tax on all forms of amusement and entertainment, on auto service and repairs, on all services and repairs to tangible personal property, and on all repair services to plumbing, electrical, heating, and air conditioning equipment. He reasoned that all those service and repair organizations collect tax on materials, but not on labor. It would be a logical extension to levy the sales tax on the entire invoice.

- 1967-68 Tax Study Commission
    - Privilege license taxes should not be levied as a revenue measure. The reasons include the multiplicity of taxes; the 'hodge podge' of bases, rates, and measures; and the high cost of collection compared to the revenue yield.

- 1991 Economic Future Study Commission
    - State's revenue structure should be modernized to reflect changes in the economic environment and to insure that sufficient revenues are generated without having to repeatedly resort to ad hoc revenue adjustments.
        - Sales tax should apply to goods and services purchased by individuals for personal use; service purchased primarily by businesses should not be included in the base.
        - Eliminate sales tax on tangible personal property purchased by business for use in providing good or service.
    - State corporate tax incentives are largely ineffective and undermine tax fairness and simplicity objectives.
        - Eliminate all special exemptions, deductions, and credits under the corporate income tax.

- Governor's Commission on Tax Loopholes and Government Efficiencies, 2001
    - Equalize tax rates on amusements and entertainments.
    - Include limited liability companies in the franchise tax base.
    - Conform to federal law on the taxation of social security benefits.
    - Expansion of the sales tax base to include repair and installation of tangible personal property and personal services.
    - Establish a corporate income tax throwback rule.

- Study whether the insurance guaranty association tax credit should be continued, capped, or eliminated.
- Evaluate elimination of the 1%/$80 sales tax on manufacturing machinery.
- Study the impact of tax policy regarding tobacco and alcoholic beverages on the low-income population in NC.

- Governor's Commission to Modernize State Finances, 2002
  "Move to Broader Bases and Lower Rates"
  - Eliminate sales tax exemptions.
  - Expand sales tax base to include more services.
  - Use a broader version of individual income, such as AGI.
  - Adopt strategies to help low-income taxpayers, such as an Earned Income Tax Credit.
  - Adopt a 'no-tax' threshold for those with taxable incomes below $10,000 or a reduction in the beginning marginal income tax rate from six percent to a lower number.
  - Eliminate use of corporate tax credits.
  - Retain research & development tax credit.
  - Move to combined reporting by related entities.
  - Impose the franchise tax on all types of business organizations.
  - Establish a minimum net worth threshold for payment of the franchise tax.
  - Consider the establishment of a throwout provision.
  - Consider moving back to the equal weighting of payroll, property, and sales in determining the share of income taxed by NC.
  - Recommends future tax relief be provided through one-time rebates or temporary rate reductions.
  - Clarify the Secretary of Revenue's authority to address inappropriate tax planning strategies by taxpayers.

- State and Local Fiscal Modernization Study Commission, 2008
  - The individual income tax base should be broadened to federal AGI with minimal exclusions and deductions.
  - The corporate income tax base should be broadened by requiring some method of combined reporting, with revenue gains used to reduce the rate.
  - The sales tax base should be broadened.
  - Tax rates should be reduced.
  - The number of low-income taxpayers should be reduced.

- IEI Business Committee on Financing the Future, 2009
  "Modern tax system should be characterized by three basic principles: simplicity, fairness, and a minimal number of exemptions."
  - Reduce corporate and individual income tax rates to levels that make NC competitive with other states.
  - Use federal AGI as the base for calculating personal state income taxes.
  - Eliminate many income tax exemptions and deductions.
  - Extend sales tax base to services and lower sales tax rate. Medical services and prescription drugs should continue to be exempt.

The General Assembly gave the State and Local Fiscal Modernization Study Commission a broad charge:

- To review and recommend changes in State and local fiscal responsibilities and sources of revenue.
- To study and recommend ways to modernize the State's tax system.

The 2007 General Assembly extended the life of the Commission until May 1, 2008, for further deliberations and final recommendations. This document summarizes the Commission's findings and general recommendations to date.

North Carolina's tax system is out of date and needs fixing. It was thoroughly reformed back in the 1920s and 1930s, but the State's economy has changed completely since then as it has grown more diverse, more urban and older. The State's system of revenue must be changed accordingly in order to grow with the new economy and to meet the operating and infrastructure needs of the future.

The Commission finds that:

- North Carolina's state and local tax system will be insufficient to keep pace with the operating and infrastructure needs of an effective and efficient public sector.
- The system has relatively high individual and corporate income tax rates, which negatively impact our competitive position.
- The tax system is complicated and would benefit from simplification.
- Local governments have only the property tax under their direct control as a source of revenue and growing Medicaid costs burden both state and county governments, especially low-wealth counties.

The Commission recommends the following guidelines:

- The income and sales tax bases should be broadened.
- Additional revenue from base broadening should be used to lower tax rates so that the overall changes to the state tax system are revenue-neutral.
- The number of low-income taxpayers should be reduced.
- The corporate income tax base should be broadened by requiring some method of combined reporting, with revenue gains from this change used to reduce the tax rate in a revenue-neutral fashion.
- The Medicaid challenge facing counties should be addressed with a long-term solution that is sustainable and fair for both the state and counties.
- The State should provide greater flexibility to city and county governments with respect to how they raise revenue by allowing a menu of revenue options.

As the General Assembly considers options to modernize the State and local system of taxation, the Commission respectfully encourages the members to avoid making changes that are inconsistent with the guidelines listed above. Furthermore, the Commission believes that in order to be effective, tax reform must be comprehensive.

The Commission makes the following preliminary recommendations:

- The State should assume responsibility for the nonfederal share of Medicaid Assistance Program costs, excluding administrative costs. The shift in responsibility from the counties to the State should be accompanied by a shift in funding sources or by the State identifying new sources of revenue.
- The State should broaden the sales tax base. To the extent the sales tax base is broadened, tax rates should be reduced in a revenue neutral fashion. In addition, to the extent that base broadening results in increased tax burdens for low-income taxpayers, the State should provide a mechanism to offset this increase.
- The State should reduce individual income tax rates and broaden the individual income tax base to federal adjusted gross income with minimal exclusions and deductions as required by law or equity considerations. Increases in revenue as a result of the base broadening should be used to reduce tax rates in a revenue neutral fashion.
- The State should provide greater flexibility to city and county governments with respect to how they raise revenue by allowing a menu of options including real estate transfer fees or deed stamp taxes, impact fees, motor vehicle license fees and other vehicle use fees, taxes on prepared food and drink, general sales taxes and occupancy taxes.
- The State should broaden the corporate income tax base by requiring some method of combined reporting for affiliated groups of corporations engaged in a unitary business. Increases in revenue as a result of combined reporting should be used to reduce the corporate income tax rate in a revenue neutral fashion.
- The State should provide a mechanism to remove low-income taxpayers from tax filing and payment responsibility.
- The State should issue bonds, the proceeds of which should be used to provide funding for water and sewer infrastructure.
- The State should allow counties to reappraise real property more frequently, reappraise real property on an annual basis using annual indexing and provide local governments the option of providing property tax relief for low-income elderly and fixed income residents.
- The State should eliminate differential rates and caps in the sales tax and tax sales of motor vehicles at the combined general sales tax rate.

Financing the Future: Fiscal Modernization in North Carolina

Roby B. Sawyers, CPA, Ph.D.
College of Management

NC STATE UNIVERSITY

Fiscal Modernization

- In August 2006, Governor Easley and the General Assembly created the State and Local Fiscal Modernization Study Commission.

NC STATE UNIVERSITY

Fiscal Modernization

- The Commission's charge was broad and included:
  - recommending ways to modernize and restructure North Carolina's tax code;
  - examining and making recommendations with respect to state and local government revenue sharing and taxing authority; and
  - examining and making recommendations with respect to the division of responsibilities between state and local governments.

General Findings

- North Carolina's state and local tax system will be insufficient to keep pace with the needs of the state.
- The system has relatively high individual and corporate income tax rates which hurt our competitive position.
- The tax system is complicated and would benefit from simplification.
- Local governments face significant challenges and must have direct access to sources of revenue other than the property tax.

General Tax Recommendations

1. Tax reform must be comprehensive in order to be successful.
2. Income and sales tax bases should be broadened and tax rates should be reduced so that overall changes at the state level are revenue neutral.
3. To the extent that base broadening results in increased burdens for low-income taxpayers, the State should provide a mechanism to offset this increase.

NC STATE UNIVERSITY

Recommendations: Income Tax

- Reduce North Carolina's reliance on the individual income tax.
- Broaden the individual income tax base, reduce individual rates and eliminate tax filing and payment responsibilities for low income taxpayers.
- Reduce the corporate income tax rate and adopt combined (unitary) reporting.
- Review the corporate franchise tax.
- Eliminate the estate and gift tax.

Broaden the Income Tax Base

- Move to federal adjusted gross income as the tax base and allow minimal deductions and exemptions.
- Adjusted gross income at the federal level is income before the standard deduction or itemized deductions, and before any exemptions.
- Federal adjusted gross income may include up to 85 percent of social security benefits which North Carolina currently does not tax.

NC STATE UNIVERSITY

Recommendations: Sales Tax

- Broaden sales tax base to include services.
- Lower the sales tax rate in a revenue neutral manner.
- Eliminate special rates and exemptions.
- Convert excise taxes to a tax based on dollar value rather than quantity.
- Eliminate privilege taxes.

Sales Tax on Services

- The FTA catalogs 168 separate services that states could tax.
- According to the FTA, North Carolina taxes 30 services.
- The average number of services taxed is 56.
- 18 states tax fewer services than North Carolina.
- Four states tax over 140 services.

Sales Tax on Services

- Common services taxed by many other states that North Carolina does not tax include pet grooming, landscaping, construction trade services (painting, plumbing, etc.), storage services, cleaning services, personal services (shoe repair, tanning parlors, health clubs), maintenance and janitorial services, pest extermination services, sign construction and installation, security services, automotive services and other repair services and many entertainment services.

NC STATE UNIVERSITY

Recommendations: Local Revenues and Responsibilities

- Medicaid should be assumed entirely by the state and paid for in a manner that is fair for both the state and the counties.
- The State should take over funding responsibilities for local election personnel.
- The State should provide greater flexibility to local governments by allowing a menu of revenue options consistent across the state. Options should include vehicle license taxes, land transfer taxes and local sales tax options.

NC STATE UNIVERSITY

Recommendations: Local Revenues and Responsibilities

- The State should allow counties to reappraise real property more frequently, use annual indexing and provide targeted property tax relief.
- State and local governments must work together to solve the looming infrastructure needs of the state.

Recommendations: Infrastructure and Responsibilities

- Toll roads and public private partnerships should be considered to finance transportation projects and speed completion of projects.
- The State should consider reducing reliance on the gas tax and consider using alternative proxies for road use.

SENATE FINANCE COMMITTEE
Wednesday, April 22, 2009 at 1:00 PM

MINUTES

The Senate Finance Committee met at 1:00 PM on April 22, 2009, in Room 544 of the Legislative Office Building. Thirty-two members of the committee were present. Senator David Hoyle presided. Radhika Kshatriya of Orange County, Max Cullen of Forsyth County, and Kimberly Barnes, Kayla Brooks, and Brittny Barnes of Wake County served as pages.

H.B. 63 – Modify Onslow County Sales Tax Distribution.

Representative Cleveland was recognized to explain the bill. The bill modifies the options for distribution of the local sales tax in Onslow County. Senator Apodaca moved for a favorable report and the motion carried. A copy of the bill, the fiscal note, and the summary is attached.

S.B. 750 – Turnpike GAP Funding and Debt.

Senator Clodfelter was recognized to explain the bill and moved to adopt the proposed committee substitute (PCS) for discussion. The motion carried. The PCS exempts transfers of funds from the Highway Trust Fund to the North Carolina Turnpike Authority to be used for debt service on bonds issued to build Turnpike Projects from the equity formula and would enable the Turnpike Authority to issue refunding bonds that enable the restructuring and extension of bonded indebtedness. David Joyner, the Executive Director of the NC Turnpike Authority, was recognized to answer questions. Senator Goss moved for a favorable report and the motion carried. A copy of the PCS, the bill, and the summary is attached.

21st Century Tax Rate Reduction and Modernization Plan

Senator Clodfelter was recognized to outline the plan and explain the objectives of the changes to the State's revenue system. It primarily broadens the tax bases while lowering every major tax rate, stabilizes the State's tax base, provides future reliable revenue, adopts major recommendations from prior tax reform studies and commissions, and provides tax adjustments necessary to balance the Senate's 2009-2011 budget. Senator Clodfelter recognized and thanked the staff that had worked on the plan: Barry Boardman, Brian Slivka, Sandra Johnson, and Marjorie Rutherford of the Fiscal Research Division; Cindy Avrette of the Research Division; and Sabra Faires, the Senate Tax Counsel. Then Senator Clodfelter explained some of the tax details. A copy of the bulleted summary, the 21st Century Tax Rate Reduction and Modernization Plan, and the Personal Income Tax Distribution Plan is attached.

The meeting adjourned at 1:58 PM.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO MODIFY THE OPTIONS FOR DISTRIBUTION OF THE LOCAL SALES TAXES IN ONSLOW COUNTY.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. This act applies to Onslow County only.

SECTION 2. G.S. 105-472(b) reads as rewritten:

"(b) Distribution Between Counties and Cities. – The Secretary shall divide the amount allocated to each taxing county among the county and its municipalities in accordance with the method determined by the county. The board of county commissioners shall, by resolution, choose one of the following methods of distribution:

(1) Per Capita Method. – The net proceeds of the tax collected in a taxing county shall be distributed to that county and to the municipalities in the county on a per capita basis according to the total population of the taxing county, plus the total population of the municipalities in the county. In the case of a municipality located in more than one county, only that part of its population living in the taxing county is considered its "total population". In order to make the distribution, the Secretary shall determine a per capita figure by dividing the amount allocated to each taxing county by the total population of that county plus the total population of all municipalities in the county. The Secretary shall then multiply this per capita figure by the population of the taxing county and by the population of each municipality in the county; each respective product shall be the amount to be distributed to the county and to each municipality in the county. To determine the population of each county and each municipality, the Secretary shall use the most recent annual estimate of population certified by the State Budget Officer.

(2) Ad Valorem Method. – The net proceeds of the tax collected in a taxing county shall be distributed to that county and the municipalities in the county in proportion to the total amount of ad valorem taxes levied by each on property having a tax situs in the taxing county during the fiscal year next preceding the distribution. For purposes of this section, the amount of the ad valorem taxes levied by a county or municipality includes ad valorem taxes levied by the county or municipality in behalf of a taxing district and collected by the county or municipality. In addition, the amount of taxes levied by a county includes ad valorem taxes levied by a merged school administrative unit described in G.S. 115C-513 in the part of the unit located in the county. In computing the amount of tax proceeds to be distributed to each county and municipality, the amount of any ad valorem taxes levied but not substantially collected shall be ignored. Each county and municipality receiving a distribution of the proceeds of the tax levied under this Article shall in turn immediately share the proceeds with each district in behalf of which the county or municipality levied ad valorem taxes in the proportion that the district levy bears to the total levy of the county or municipality. Any county or municipality that fails to provide the Department of Revenue with information concerning ad valorem taxes levied by it adequate to permit a timely determination of its appropriate share of tax proceeds collected under this Article may be excluded by the Secretary from each monthly distribution with respect to which the information was not provided in a timely manner, and those tax proceeds shall then be distributed only to the remaining counties or municipalities, as appropriate. For the purpose of computing the distribution of the tax under this subsection to any county and the municipalities located in the county for any month with respect to which the property valuation of a public service company is the subject of an appeal and the Department of Revenue is restrained by law from certifying the valuation to the county and the municipalities in the county, the Department shall use the last property valuation of the public service company that has been certified.

(3) Combined Method. – The net proceeds of the tax collected in a taxing county shall be distributed to that county and to the municipalities in the county by using both the per capita and the ad valorem methods with neither method being used to distribute less than forty percent (40%) of the net proceeds of the tax.

The board of county commissioners in each taxing county shall, by resolution adopted during the month of April of each year, determine which of the ~~two~~ foregoing methods of distribution shall be in effect in the county during the next succeeding fiscal ~~year.~~year, including the percentage of each method to be used to distribute the net proceeds of the tax if the combined method is chosen. In order for the resolution to be effective, a certified copy of it must be delivered to the Secretary in Raleigh within 15 calendar days after its adoption. If the board fails to adopt a resolution choosing a method of distribution not then in effect in the county, or if a certified copy of the resolution is not timely delivered to the Secretary, the method of distribution then in effect in the county shall continue in effect for the following fiscal year. The method of distribution in effect on the first of July of each fiscal ~~year~~ year, and the percentage of each method if the combined method is chosen, shall apply to every distribution made during that fiscal year."

SECTION 3. This act is effective when it becomes law.

HOUSE BILL 63:
Modify Onslow County Sales Tax Distribution

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	April 21, 2009
Introduced by:	Reps. Cleveland, Grady, Tucker	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	Third Edition

SUMMARY: House Bill 63 authorizes Onslow County to elect to distribute the local portion of the sales and use tax collected in that County by a combined per capita and ad valorem distribution method. In order for this change be effective for the next fiscal year, the County must adopt a resolution during the month of April.

[As introduced, this bill was identical to S81, as introduced by Sen. Brown, which is currently in Senate Finance.]

CURRENT LAW: Under current G.S. 105-472(b), counties can elect to distribute between a county and its municipalities the local portion of the sales and use tax collected under Chapter 105 of the General Statutes by one of two methods: the per capita method or the ad valorem method.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 63, applicable to Onslow County only, authorizes the County to use a combination of the two statutory methods for distribution of the local portion of the sales and use tax collected in that County. If Onslow County adopts the combined method of distribution, then at least 40% of the net proceeds of the tax would have to be distributed by either the per capita or the ad valorem method, and the rest distributed by the other method. Once the percentage of each method is determined, the percentage remains the same throughout the fiscal year.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: The total sales and use tax rate is 6.75% in Onslow County, of which 2.25% is the local portion.

Giles Perry, counsel to House Local Government I, substantially contributed to this summary.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Onslow County and its Municipalities

EFFECTIVE DATE: Becomes effective when bill becomes law.

BILL SUMMARY:

House Bill 63 adds a combined method for distribution of local sales tax revenue between Onslow County and its municipalities. It also allows the board of county commissioners to choose between the existing two methods of distribution, the per capita method and the ad valorem method, or use the combination of the two. The bill specifies that if this combined method is used, per capita and ad valorem must be used to distribute at least 40% of the net proceeds of the sales tax and that the same percentage split between ad valorem and per capita must be used throughout the year.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

The fiscal impact of this bill is unknown because it is uncertain which methodology the Onslow County Board of County Commissioners will choose after the passage of this bill. Assuming the Onslow County Board of County Commissioners chooses the combined option, this option will allocate one portion of the net proceeds to be distributed to municipalities on an ad valorem basis and the other portion on a per capita basis. An ad valorem basis distributes money to a locality based on its tax revenues. A per capita basis distributes money to a locality based on its population. In order to estimate the fiscal impact of this change, the first step is to assume what percentage split between the ad valorem and per capita methods the board will choose to distribute the net proceeds of the local sales tax.

This analysis demonstrates the potential distribution changes from the following combined options: 50% ad valorem, 50% per capita; 40% ad valorem, 60% per capita; 60% ad valorem, 40% per capita. The populations of each municipality as a percentage of the total population in Onslow County indicates how the per capita portion will be distributed each year. These populations are assumed to grow according to the average growth rate reported by the Office of State Budget and Management for the past 7 years.

According to the Department of Revenue, Onslow County collected $45 million in local sales tax revenue in FY 2006-7. Based on the first month of distribution for 2009, which were around $4 million, this analysis assumes the total net distributions for 2009 will be $48 million. This amount is assumed to grow each year by inflation estimates. This analysis also assumes that current shares each locality receives from ad valorem distributions will remain unchanged.

Assuming that Onslow County chooses to distribute its net proceeds based on 50% Ad Valorem and 50% per capita distributions, the first step in calculating the receipts of each municipality is to divide the total net proceeds into two equal shares. This means $24 million will be distributed using an ad valorem basis, and $24 million will be distributed using a per capita basis in FY 2009-10. Adding the receipts that each municipality receives under the two bases results in their total receipts for FY 2009-10. The chart below summarizes this result.

Assuming that Onslow County chooses to distribute its net proceeds based on 40% Ad Valorem and 60% per capita distributions, the first step in calculating the receipts of each municipality is to divide the total net proceeds into one 40% share and one 60% share. This means $19.2 million will be distributed using an ad valorem basis, and $28.8 million will be distributed using a per capita basis in FY 2009-10. A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO EXEMPT TRANSFERS OF FUNDS FROM THE HIGHWAY TRUST FUND TO THE NORTH CAROLINA TURNPIKE AUTHORITY TO BE USED FOR DEBT SERVICE ON BONDS ISSUED TO BUILD TURNPIKE PROJECTS FROM THE EQUITY FORMULA AND TO ENABLE THE TURNPIKE AUTHORITY TO ISSUE REFUNDING BONDS THAT ENABLE THE RESTRUCTURING AND EXTENSION OF BONDED INDEBTEDNESS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 136-176(b2) reads as rewritten:

"(b2) There is annually appropriated to the North Carolina Turnpike Authority from the Highway Trust Fund the sum of twenty-five million dollars ($25,000,000) to be used to service debt on bonds issued for the construction of the Triangle Expressway. The amounts appropriated to the Authority pursuant to this subsection shall be used by the Authority to pay debt service or related financing costs and expenses on revenue bonds or notes issued by the Authority to finance the costs of one or more Turnpike Projects, to refund such bonds or notes, or to fund debt service reserves, operating reserves, and similar reserves in connection therewith. The appropriations established by this subsection constitute an agreement by the State to pay the funds appropriated hereby to the Authority within the meaning of G.S. 159-81(4). Notwithstanding the foregoing, it is the intention of the General Assembly that the enactment of this provision and the issuance of bonds or notes by the Authority in reliance thereon shall not in any manner constitute a pledge of the faith and credit and taxing power of the State, and nothing contained herein shall prohibit the General Assembly from amending the appropriations ~~set forth in this act~~ made in this subsection at any time to decrease or eliminate the amount annually appropriated to the Authority. Funds transferred from the Highway Trust Fund to the Authority pursuant to this subsection are not subject to the equity formula in G.S. 136-17.2A.

SECTION 2. G.S. 136-89.189 reads as rewritten:

"§ 136-89.189. Turnpike Authority revenue bonds.

The Authority shall be a municipality for purposes of Article 5 of Chapter 159 of the General Statutes, the State and Local Government Revenue Bond Act, and may issue revenue bonds pursuant to that Act to pay all or a portion of the cost of a Turnpike Project or to refund any previously issued bonds. In connection with the issuance of revenue bonds, the Authority shall have all powers of a municipality under the State and Local Government Revenue Bond Act, and revenue bonds issued by the Authority shall be entitled to the protection of all provisions of the State and Local Government Revenue Bond Act.

Except as provided in this section, the provisions of Chapter 159 of the General Statutes, the Local Government Finance Act, apply to revenue bonds issued by the Turnpike Authority.

(1) The term of a lease between the Turnpike Authority and the Department for all or any part of a Turnpike Project may exceed 40 years, as agreed by the Authority and the Department.

(2) The maturity date of a refunding bond may extend to the earlier of the following:

a. Forty years from the date of issuance of the refunding bond.

b. The date the Turnpike Authority determines is the maturity date required for the Turnpike Project funded with the refunding bonds to generate sufficient revenues to retire the refunding bonds and any other outstanding indebtedness issued for that Project. The Authority's determination of the appropriate maturity date is conclusive and binding. In making its determination, the Authority may take into account appropriate financing terms and conventions."

SECTION 3. This act is effective when it becomes law.

SENATE BILL 750:
Turnpike GAP Funding and Debt.

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	April 21, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Clodfelter	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S750-CSTDx-17

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 750 would exempt gap funding from the equity distribution formula for Highway Trust Fund revenues expended on Intrastate System and TIP projects. The proposed committee substitute would allow the Turnpike Authority to issue refunding bonds that mature beyond the initial 40-year life of the project. This authority is needed to secure a financial guaranty policy on the bonds. A longer refinancing term may be needed if the toll road project revenues underperform their projections. The bill would become effective when it becomes law.

CURRENT LAW: In 2002, the General Assembly decided to utilize toll funding to help finance critical transportation needs of the State. It established the North Carolina Turnpike Authority as in independent agency responsible for toll roads and designated the toll road projects. The current Turnpike Projects include: Triangle Expressway[1], Monroe Connector/Bypass[2], Mid-Currituck Bridge[3], and the Garden Parkway[4]. The legislation authorized the Turnpike Authority to issue revenue bonds, payable from tolls imposed by the Authority, under the State and Local Revenue Bond Act.

Every toll project begins with a gap – the difference between the private financing that projected toll revenue can support and the total cost of the project. Once private financing has been secured, the revenue generated from tolls, coupled with the gap funds, allows the Turnpike Authority to repay its debt to the bond holders. In 2008, the General Assembly provided the funding necessary to enable the Turnpike Authority to issue additional bonds to cover the funding gap. S.L. 2008-107 annually appropriated funds from the Highway Trust Fund to the Authority to be used to service debt on bonds issued for specified Turnpike Projects:

- $25,000,000 for the Triangle Expressway, effective July 1, 2008.
- $15,000,000 for the Mid-Currituck Bridge, effective July 1, 2009.
- $35,000,000 for the Garden Parkway, effective July 1, 2010.

Funds expended in the Highway Trust Fund for the Intrastate System and TIP projects are distributed throughout the State using the "equity distribution formula." This formula divides the State into 7 distribution regions and limits the allocation of funds to each region based on factors including the population of the area (50%), unfinished miles in Intrastate System projects (25%), and equal share (25%). G.S. 136-89.192 specifies that revenue from the sale of the Turnpike Authority's bonds or notes, project loans, or toll collections are not included in the equity distribution formula. But funds applied to a Turnpike Project from the Highway Trust Fund are included in the formula.

[1] Located in Wake and Durham counties. It is a new-location roadway from the NC 55 Bypass near Holly Springs to I-40 at NC 147. It is comprised of three projects and is approximately 18.8 miles in length.

[2] Located in Mecklenburg and Union counties. It combines two projects and encompasses a 21.1 mile corridor from US 74 near I-485 Mecklenburg County to US 74 west of Marshville in Union County.

[3] Located in Currituck County. It is a new facility project, approximately 7 miles in length, from US 158 on the Currituck county mainland to NC 12 on the Currituck County Outer Banks.

[4] Located in Gaston and Mecklenburg counties. It is also known as the Gaston East-West Connector. It is a new roadway from I-85 west of Gastonia to I-485/NC 160 in Mecklenburg County. The project is approximately 21.5 miles long.

GAP FUNDING: Section 1 of the bill specifies that the funds appropriated from the Highway Trust Fund to the Turnpike Authority to service the debt on bonds issued for specified Turnpike Projects are not subject to the equity distribution formula. Under the current law, it is unclear how the gap funds should be treated since they are appropriated to service Turnpike Authority bonded indebtedness, and revenue from bonds is excluded from the equity distribution formula. This language clarifies how the revenue should be treated and insures that a region's share of funds distributed under the equity formula is not diminished. Currently, funds allocated from the Trust Fund for the outer loop projects listed in G.S. 135-180 are not subject to the equity formula.[5] This section provides similar treatment for gap funding.

REFUNDING BONDS: Under the Local Government Bond Act, refunding bonds may be issued to provide funds to retire the obligations being refunded. The Act limits the refunding of debt beyond the initial 40-year life of the project. It also limits the lease of any revenue bond project to a period of 40 years. The proposed committee substitute adds Section 2 to the bill. Section 2 would allow a refunding bond issued by the Turnpike Authority to have a longer maturity date if one is necessary to generate sufficient revenues to retire the refunding bonds and any other outstanding indebtedness issued for the financed Turnpike Project. It also makes a corresponding change to allow a lease of the Project property to DOT for a period longer than 40 years.

The September 2008 plan of finance for the Triangle Expressway project anticipated selling a single series of BBB investment grade bonds backed by a combination of State appropriations (the gap funding) and toll revenues. After the collapse of the municipal markets, there is no market for BBB investment grade bonds. The Turnpike Authority restructured the original single series bond offering into two bond offerings: an Appropriation Bond and a Toll Revenue Bond. The Turnpike Authority plans to purchase bond insurance on the Toll Revenue Bond portion of the offering, which would allow both of the bonds to sell in the AA range. The ability to obtain bond insurance is key to being able to market the bonds.

Assured Guaranty advised the Authority that it could not insure the Toll Revenue Bonds because NC statutes limit refinancing to the original maturity date of the project bonds.[6] To be insurable, the financing structure needs to allow the Authority to refinance the bonds in the event that the toll road is performing significantly below the projections on which the financing structure has been based. In other similar instances, toll road projects that have underperformed their projections have been corrected through debt restructuring and extensions. Section 2 of the bill removes the current statutory limitation to enable the Turnpike Authority to restructure its Toll Revenue Bond indebtedness in the event an extension of time is necessary to generate sufficient revenues to retire the indebtedness. It also permits a longer lease term to go with the longer bond life if the refunding provision is utilized.

S750-SMTD-29(CSTDx-17) v3

[5] G.S. 136-17.2A.

[6] The Turnpike Authority considered other alternatives such as offering the Toll Revenue Bonds at a higher return or insuring only the Capital Appreciation portion of the Toll Road Bonds, but it concluded that bond insurance on the Toll Revenue Bonds offered the best financial opportunity. The cost of the bond insurance would allow a substantial interest cost savings.

SENATE BILL 405*
Commerce Committee Substitute Adopted 4/1/09
PROPOSED COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE S405-CSLAf-11 [v.2]

4/24/2009 9:24:14 AM

Short Title: Real Property Sales Information. (Public)

Referred to:

March 5, 2009

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO ASSIST COUNTIES AND THE DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE IN OBTAINING ACCURATE REAL PROPERTY SALES INFORMATION NEEDED FOR PROPERTY TAX APPRAISALS BY REQUIRING A REPORT OF SALES INFORMATION WHEN REAL PROPERTY IS TRANSFERRED.

Whereas, the Constitution of North Carolina requires that property must be taxed by uniform rule and that every classification must be made by general law uniformly applicable in every county, city and town, and other unit of local government; and

Whereas, the North Carolina General Statutes require that all property, real and personal, must so far as practicable be appraised or valued at its true value which is interpreted as meaning market value; and

Whereas, taxes levied by all counties and municipalities must be levied uniformly on assessments determined by the true value of most property; and

Whereas, to help ensure that tax values of real property reflect fair market value when the counties value their property for property tax purposes, the North Carolina Department of Revenue must conduct annual studies of the ratio of the appraised value of real property to its true value and establish for each county the median ratio as determined by the study for each calendar year; and

Whereas, one of the most accurate and cost-efficient methods of producing a fair revaluation of property based on the true value of the property is to require that sales information reports be filed with the county whenever property changes hands; Now, therefore, The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Article 19 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 105-317.2. Report on transfers of real property.

To facilitate the accurate appraisal of real property for taxation, the information listed in this section must be reported on a form developed by the Department of Revenue. G.S. 161-32 requires that the report be recorded with the deed transferring the real property. The following information is required:

(1) The name of each grantor and grantee and the address of each grantee.

(2) A brief description of the property.

(3) The total sales price.

(4) Whether the transaction involves relatives or related businesses.

(5) Whether personal property was conveyed with the transaction.

(6) Whether the transaction is the result of an auction or foreclosure sale."

SECTION 2. Article 2 of Chapter 161 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 161-32. Report on transfer of real property.

The register of deeds may not accept for registration a deed transferring real property unless a sales information report required by G.S. 105-317.2 is recorded with the deed. Failure to comply with this section does not affect the validity of a duly recorded deed."

SECTION 3. This act becomes effective January 1, 2010.

SENATE BILL 405:
Real Property Sales Information

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	April 27, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Hartsell	Prepared by:	Martha Walston Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	Second Edition S405-CSLAf-11

SUMMARY: SB 405, a recommendation of the Revenue Laws Study Committee, would prohibit a register of deeds from accepting for registration a deed transferring real property unless certain sales information is also recorded with the deed. The purpose of filing the sales information would be to facilitate the accurate appraisal of real property for taxation. The 2nd Edition of SB 405 was given a favorable report in Senate Commerce.

The Proposed Committee Substitute would further simplify and clarify the sales information form as follows:

- It would require a yes/no answer to whether the transaction involves relatives or related businesses (instead of requiring a yes/no answer to whether the transaction involves family members or affiliated businesses).
- It would require a yes/no answer to whether personal property was conveyed as a part of the transaction (instead of requiring a listing of personal property conveyed as a part of the transaction).
- It requires a yes/no answer to whether the transaction is the result of an auction or foreclosure sale (instead of whether the transaction is the result of a forced sale).

CURRENT LAW: Real property must be appraised for property tax purposes at least every eight years. The appraisal value must be its market or true value as of January 1 of the year of the general reappraisal.[1] Market or true value is the price at which property would change hands between a willing and financially able buyer and willing seller, neither being under any compulsion to buy or sell and both having reasonable knowledge of all the uses to which property is adapted and for which it is capable of being used. To assist the counties in determining the true value, the Department of Revenue conducts yearly sales assessment ratio studies for each county. These studies compare the appraised value of parcels with the sales price. The closer the comparison is to 100%, the closer the property's appraised value is to the fair market value. Consequently, more frequent reappraisal schedules lessen the discrepancy between the appraised value of the property and the true value of the property.

Prior to the 2008 Session, the Revenue Laws Study Committee adopted a proposal to change the eight year appraisal cycle to a four year cycle. The version of this proposal ratified in S.L. 2008-146 requires advancement of the eight year schedule only for a county with a population of 75,000 or greater and when the sales assessment ratio for that county drops below .85 or becomes greater than 1.15.[2] For these counties, new values must be implemented by January 1 of the third year following notice by the Department of the sales assessment ratio study. All other counties retain the eight-year schedule.

[1] The following types of property are appraised at their use value: farmland, working waterfront property, and wildlife conservation property.

[2] Based upon the 2007 population estimates and 2008 sales ratios, only ten counties are affected by the 2008 legislation.

BILL ANALYSIS: This bill would require that the following sales information be provided in a report before a deed transferring property may be accepted by the county's register of deeds:

1. The name of each grantor and grantee.
2. A brief description of the property.
3. The total sales price.
4. Whether the transaction involves relatives or related businesses.
5. Whether personal property was conveyed with the transaction.
6. Whether the transaction is the result of an auction or foreclosure sale.

The above information would be reported on a form developed by the Department of Revenue and would be recorded with the deed.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This proposal would become effective January 1, 2010.

BACKGROUND: The proposal is similar to a recommendation of the 2007-2008 Revenue Laws Study Commission Report to the 2009 General Assembly. This proposed statewide sales information report was supported by comments made during meetings with tax assessors from large urban counties and smaller rural counties. Based upon information compiled by the Department of Revenue, 50 counties are already sending out letters requesting information to confirm a property transfer and six counties are requiring a transfer affidavit.

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 632 is an agency bill that would increase the membership of the State Treasurer's Investment Advisory Committee from five to seven members, by adding two public members. The bill also changes the experience requirements of the public members.

The Proposed Committee Substitute adds a new section to the bill which describes the duties and the standards to be applied to the State Treasurer with regard to the discharge of her duties in connection with the Retirement Systems administered by the Treasurer's office.

[As introduced, this bill was identical to H556, as introduced by Reps. Folwell, McGee, Owens, Randleman, which is currently in House Pensions and Retirement, if favorable, Finance.]

CURRENT LAW: Under current law, The State Treasurer is authorized to invest the assets of the all of the State administered retirement systems. The law includes several limitations on the amount and types of investments that can be made with these funds.

The law also authorizes the State Treasurer to appoint an Investment Advisory Committee. The Committee consists of five members: The State Treasurer, two members from the board of trustees of the Retirement System, and two public members. The public members must have experience in one or more of the following areas: investment management, real estate investment trusts, real estate development, venture capital investment, or absolute return strategies. The committee has only advisory powers.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 632 amends the law to increase the membership of the Investment Advisory Committee from five to seven members, with the two additional members to be appointed by the Treasurer as public members. The bill also changes the experience requirements for the public members by removing the requirement for experience in real estate investment trusts and venture capital investments, and substituting experience in securities law.

The new section added by the PCS is entitled "Discharge of duties to Retirement Systems." The section provides that with respect to the Retirement Systems administered by the Treasurer, the Treasurer shall discharge his or her duties as follows:

- Solely in the interest of participants and beneficiaries.
- For the exclusive purpose of providing benefits and paying reasonable administrative expenses.
- With the care, skill, and caution under the circumstances that a prudent person who was familiar with the matters would use in a like situation.
- Impartially, taking into account the differing interests of participants and beneficiaries.
- Incurring only appropriate and reasonable costs.
- In accordance with a good-faith interpretation of the law governing the Retirement Systems.

The new section also sets standards to be used by the Treasurer in investing and managing the assets of the Retirement Systems, including that the Treasurer:

- Shall consider the following circumstances:
  - General economic conditions.
  - The possible effects of inflation or deflation.
  - The role of each investment in the overall portfolio.
  - The expected total return and the appreciation of capital.
  - Needs for liquidity, regular income, and preservation or appreciation of capital.
  - The adequacy of funding based on reasonable actuarial factors.
- Shall diversify the investments unless the Treasurer determines it is clearly not prudent to do so.
- Shall make reasonable efforts to verify relevant facts.
- May invest in any kind of real property which the State is authorized to acquire under Article 6 of Chapter 146.
- May consider other benefits created by an investment in addition to return on the investment, only if the investment would be prudent even without the collateral benefit.

The Treasurer's compliance with this standard must be determined based on the facts and circumstances at the time the decision was made, not using hindsight. In addition, the Treasurer's investment and management decisions must be evaluated in light of the portfolio as a whole and as part of an overall investment strategy.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

Removes certain requirements related to Retirement Systems assets being invested directly in common or preferred stock.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO AMEND THE NORTH CAROLINA GENERAL STATUTES TO ALLOW THE STATE TO TAKE FULL ADVANTAGE OF THE EXPANSION OF EXISTING BOND PROGRAMS AND THE CREATION OF NEW BOND PROGRAMS UNDER THE AMERICAN RECOVERY AND REINVESTMENT TAX ACT OF 2009 (ARRTA).

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Article 34B of Chapter 115C of the General Statutes reads as rewritten:

"Article 34B.

"Qualified Zone Academy ~~Bonds.~~Bonds and Qualified School Construction Bonds.

"§ 115C-489.5. Qualified zone academy ~~bonds;~~ bonds and qualified school construction bonds; findings.

The General Assembly finds:

(1) Section 226 of the Taxpayer Relief Act of 1997, as codified at ~~26 U.S.C. § 1397E,~~26 U.S.C. § 54E, provides funds for school improvements through taxable qualified zone academy bonds. Ninety-five percent (95%) or more of the proceeds of a qualified zone academy bond issue must be used for a qualified purpose with respect to a qualified zone academy established by an eligible local education agency.

(2) Partnerships between private entities and local schools are promoted through the use of qualified zone academy bonds. Issuers must certify that they have received written commitments from one or more private entities to make qualified contributions valued at ten percent (10%) of the proceeds of the issue.

(2a) Section 1521 et seq., of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Tax Act of 2009 (ARRTA), enacted as 26 U.S.C. § 54F, provides a new source of funds for construction, rehabilitation, or repair of public school facilities or for acquisition of land for public school facilities through the issuance of qualified school construction bonds.

(3) Eligible taxpayers may receive federal tax credits for holding the qualified zone academy ~~bonds.~~bonds or qualified school construction bonds. It is intended that the qualified zone academy bonds and qualified school construction bonds be sold at ~~par value~~ a price so that the tax credits received ~~are instead~~ produce the economic equivalent of interest that otherwise would have been paid on the bonds. Therefore, issuers of qualified zone academy bonds or qualified school construction bonds are obligated to repay the principal amount of the qualified zone academy bonds or qualified school construction bonds but need not make interest payments.

(4) Applicable federal law limits the amount of qualified zone academy bonds and qualified school construction bonds that may be issued in North Carolina in a calendar year. The amount of qualified school construction bonds that may be issued in the State is divided between amounts specifically designated for identified local school districts pursuant to ARRTA ("local allocation") and amounts allocated to the entire State for use throughout the State ("statewide allocation").

"§ 115C-489.6. Administration; consultation; issuance of bonds.

(a) ~~State Board of Education to Administer~~ QZAB Program. – The State Board of Education is designated the State education agency responsible for administering the qualified zone academy bond program in North Carolina for the purposes of ~~26 U.S.C. § 1397E.~~26 U.S.C. § 54E. The State Board of Education shall perform all activities required to implement and carry out the qualified zone activity bond program in North Carolina. Those activities include:

(a1) Qualified School Construction Bond Program. – The State Board of Education is designated the State education agency responsible for administering the statewide allocation of authority to issue qualified school construction bonds under 26 U.S.C. § 54F. The State Board of Education shall perform all activities required to implement and carry out the statewide allocation for the qualified school construction bond program in North Carolina. Those activities include:

(1) Designing an application process under which proposals may be solicited from issuers wishing to issue qualified school construction bonds pursuant to the statewide allocation.

(2) Awarding the State's allocation of total funds among selected applicants and establishing conditions upon the usage of the allocation. These conditions may include:

a. Requiring that the bond proceeds be used for purposes permitted under 26 U.S.C. § 54F.

b. Conditions designed to assure that the allocation is used in a timely manner and that the allocations are made in accordance with the requirements of federal statutes, regulations, and rulings.

(3) Confirming that the terms of any qualified school construction bonds issued in accordance with this program are consistent with the terms of the federal program.

(4) Acting as the State entity designated to receive notice from any local school district that it will not utilize its local allocation so that the unused resource will become part of the statewide allocation. Local school districts receiving a local allocation are hereby directed to coordinate the use of such allocation with the State Board of Education so that any local allocation that will not be used by the local school district becomes eligible for use as part of the statewide allocation.

(b) Assistance. – The Department of Public Instruction shall provide the State Board of Education any support it requires in carrying out this section.

(c) Consultation. – In reviewing applications and awarding allocations, the State Board of Education shall consult with the Local Government Commission to determine whether a prospective issuer of qualified zone academy bonds or qualified school construction bonds is able to issue or incur marketable obligations.

(d) Issuance of Bonds. – Any ~~bonds designated as~~ qualified zone academy bonds or qualified school construction bonds may be issued pursuant to the applicable provisions of and in compliance with the Local Government Bond Act, Article 4 of Chapter 159 of the General Statutes, or pursuant to the applicable provisions of and in compliance with G.S. 160A-20, to the extent authorized by G.S. 153A-158.1. As provided in G.S. 159-123(b), ~~bonds designated as~~ qualified zone academy bonds or qualified school construction bonds to be issued pursuant to the Local Government Bond Act may be sold by the Local Government Commission at private sale."

SECTION 2. G.S. 143-433.6 is amended by adding two new subsections to read:

"(c) The General Assembly further finds and determines that section 1400U-3 of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Tax Act of 2009 (ARRTA) added a new type of exempt facility bond called "recovery zone facility bonds" to be used to finance construction, renovation, and equipping of recovery zone property for use in any trade or business in a recovery zone, all as defined in AARTA, and a new type of governmental bond called "recovery zone economic development bonds." The AARTA provides a formula for allocation of authority to issue recovery zone facility bonds and recovery zone economic development bonds to the states, and by which the authority is to be reallocated by the State to counties and large municipalities within the State.

(d) The General Assembly further finds and determines that section 54D of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, permits the issuance of tax credit bonds called "qualified energy conservation bonds" (QECBs), the proceeds of which must be used for certain energy conservation purposes enumerated in section 54D. Section 54D and ARRTA provide a national bond limitation for the issuance of QECBs, and the Treasury Department has allocated that authority among the states. Under section 54D, the United States is required to reallocate the authority to issue QECBs to the counties and large local governments within the states based on population, in accordance with the guidelines provided by the Treasury Department, and to assure that not more than 30% of the QECBs issued in a state are used for private activity bonds, as defined in section 54D."

SECTION 3. G.S. 143-433.8 reads as rewritten:

"§ 143-433.8. Duties.

The Committee shall perform the following duties:

(1) Manage the allocation of private activity bonds, low-income housing credits, ~~and~~ qualified public educational facility ~~bonds~~ bonds, recovery zone facility bonds, recovery zone economic development bonds, and qualified energy conservation bonds, and receive advice from bond issuers, elected officials, and the General Assembly.

(2) Continue to monitor bond markets, economic development financing trends, school financing trends, housing markets, and tax incentives available to induce events and programs favorable to North Carolina, its cities and counties, and individual citizens.

(3) Continue to study the ways in which North Carolina can best and most fairly manage and utilize the allocation of private activity bonds, low-income housing credits, ~~and~~ qualified public educational facility ~~bonds~~ bonds, recovery zone facility bonds, recovery zone economic development bonds, and qualified energy conservation bonds.

(4) Report to the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, and the Revenue Laws Study Committee as requested and on not less than an annual basis. The annual report is due by November 1 of each year."

SECTION 4. G.S. 143-433.9(a) reads as rewritten:

"(a) To provide for the orderly and prompt issuance of ~~private activity bonds and qualified public educational facility bonds, there are hereby proclaimed~~ bonds the allocation of which is managed under this Article, the Committee must follow formulas for allocating the following: (i) the unified volume limitation, (ii) the state housing credit ceiling, ~~and~~ (iii) the annual aggregate limitation on the face amount of qualified public educational facility ~~bonds.~~bonds, (iv) the limitation on issuance of recovery zone facility bonds, (v) the limitation on issuance of recovery zone economic development bonds, and (vi) the limitation on issuance of qualified energy conservation bonds. The unified volume limitation for all issues of private activity bonds, other than qualified public educational facility ~~bonds,~~bonds and recovery zone facility bonds, in North Carolina shall be considered as a single resource to be allocated under this Article. The annual aggregate limitation on the face amount of qualified public educational facility bonds for all issues in North Carolina shall be considered as a single resource to be allocated under this Article. The Committee shall issue the following: (i) allocations of the unified volume limitation, (ii) allocations of the state housing credit ceiling, ~~and~~ (iii) allocations and reallocations of the aggregate limitation on the face amount of qualified public educational facility ~~bonds.~~bonds, (iv) allocation and reallocation of the authority for issuance of recovery zone facility bonds allocated to the State, (v) allocation and reallocation of the authority for issuance of recovery zone economic development bonds allocated to the State, (vi) allocation and reallocation of authority for issuance of qualified energy conservation bonds allocated to the State, and (vii) allocation of other limitations on authority to issue bonds as may be directed by the Governor. The Committee shall set forth procedures for making such allocations and in the making of such allocations shall take into consideration the best interest of the State of North Carolina with regard to the economic development, school facility needs, energy conservation, green initiatives, and general prosperity of the people of North Carolina. In making the initial allocations for recovery zone facility bonds and recovery zone economic development bonds, the Committee shall follow the formula provided in section 1400U-1(a)(3) of ARRTA. In making the initial allocation for qualified energy conservation bonds, the Committee shall follow the guidelines provided in Section 54D. The Committee shall make all elective carryforwards of the unused unified volume ~~limitation and~~ limitation, the annual aggregate limitation on the face amount of qualified public educational facility ~~bonds on behalf of the State.~~ bonds, recovery zone facility bonds, qualified energy conservation bonds, and any other bonds or tax credits over which it has allocation authority on behalf of the State. The Committee shall monitor the issuance of qualified energy conservation bonds to ensure that not more than 30% of such bonds are used for purposes that would be treated as private activity bonds under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended. The Committee is authorized to establish a procedure to monitor whether the initial allocations of recovery zone facility bonds or recovery zone economic development bonds to counties and large municipalities pursuant to ARRTA will be utilized, for an allocation that will not be utilized to be waived by notice to the Committee and for the reallocation of the waived allocation to other projects that qualify pursuant to ARRTA."

SECTION 5. G.S. 159-123(b) reads as rewritten:

"(b) The following classes of bonds may be sold at private sale:

(1) Bonds that a State or federal agency has previously agreed to purchase.

(2) Any bonds for which no legal bid is received within the time allowed for submission of bids.

(3) Revenue bonds, including any refunding bonds issued pursuant to G.S. 159-84, and special obligation bonds issued pursuant to Chapter 159I of the General Statutes.

(4) Refunding bonds issued pursuant to G.S. 159-78.

(5) Refunding bonds issued pursuant to G.S. 159-72 if the Local Government Commission determines that a private sale is in the best interest of the issuing unit.

(6) Bonds ~~designated as qualified zone academy bonds pursuant to G.S. 115C-489.6,~~ the ownership of which results in a tax credit to the owners thereof pursuant to the provisions of the federal income tax laws if the Local Government Commission determines that a private sale is in the best interest of the issuing unit.

(7) Project development financing debt instruments.

(8) General obligation bonds issued pursuant to the Local Government Bond Act and not described in subdivisions (1) through (7) of this subsection that are sold prior to December 31, 2010."

SECTION 6. G.S. 159C-3 reads as rewritten:

SENATE BILL 754:
Statutory Changes for ARRTA Funds

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	April 28, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Clodfelter	Prepared by:	Trina Griffin Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S754-CSSVx-11

SUMMARY: The Proposed Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 754 authorizes local governments to issue several types of government bonds established under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Tax Act of 2009 (ARRTA) and authorizes the private sale of general obligation bonds issued prior to December 31, 2010. The new bond programs under the ARRTA are:

- Qualified school construction bonds
- Recovery zone facility bonds
- Recovery zone economic development bonds
- Qualified energy conservation bonds

[As introduced, this bill was identical to H841, as introduced by Rep. Owens, which is currently in House Finance, if favorable, Appropriations.]

CURRENT LAW: State and local bonds are classified generally as either governmental bonds or private activity bonds. Governmental bonds are primarily used to finance governmental functions and are repaid with governmental funds. Interest on these bonds is generally exempt from federal and State income tax. Private activity bonds are bonds that allow the state or local government to serve as a conduit for providing financing to nongovernmental entities. Interest on private activity bonds is not excluded from gross income for federal income tax purposes unless the bonds fall within certain defined categories.

Federal law limits the amount of certain types of tax-exempt bonds that may be issued each year in the State. North Carolina has established the North Carolina Federal Tax Reform Allocation Committee (Committee) to manage the federal allocation and to decide which of the local bonds may be issued if the demand exceeds the supply. The Committee consists of the Secretary of the Department of Commerce, the Executive Assistant to the Governor for Budget Management, and the Treasurer.

A recent alternative to traditional tax-exempt bonds are tax credit bonds. Tax credit bonds are not interest-bearing obligations. Instead, a taxpayer holding a tax credit bond is allowed a credit against federal income tax equivalent to the interest that the bond would otherwise pay. The bondholder must include the amount of the credit in gross income and treat it as interest income. The credit effectively replaces the interest that would be paid on an exempt bond, allowing the issuer to borrow interest-free.

The ARRTA provides bond authority to states and local governments for school infrastructure through two primary tax credit bond programs: a new Qualified School Construction Bonds program and the extension of the Qualified Zone Academy Bonds (QZABs) program. North Carolina's QZAB program is administered by the State Board of Education. There is an annual cap allocated among the states based on their respective populations of individual's below the poverty line. North Carolina's QZAB allocation for 2009 is $44.1 million.

The Industrial and Pollution Control Facilities Financing Act authorizes the issuance of tax-exempt industrial development and pollution control bonds. Under this Act, a local political subdivision issues bonds, the proceeds of which are used to finance the acquisition and construction of industrial, pollution control, or other capital facilities to be used by a private company. The bonds are secured by and are sold exclusively on the basis of the company's obligation to make payments under a financing agreement entered into between the company and the political subdivision. Because the interest on the bonds is exempt from North Carolina and federal income taxes, the interest payments (made indirectly by the private company) are considerably lower than would be required in an ordinary taxable financing. The type and size of facilities that may be financed by industrial development and pollution control bonds are limited by both federal and state law.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Section 1: Authorize Qualified School Construction Bonds

The ARRTA authorized a new category of tax credit bonds for issue in 2009 and 2010. The national volume cap for these bonds is $11 billion for 2009 and another $11 billion for 2010. The bond proceeds must be used to fund the construction, rehabilitation, or repair of a public school, or for the purchase of land on which a funded school will be built. A bond is a qualified school construction bond if all of the following conditions are met:

- 100% of the available project proceeds of the issue of which it is a part are to be used for the construction, rehabilitation, or repair of a public school facility or to acquire land on which a facility funded by the same issue is to be built.
- The bond is issued by a state or local government within the jurisdiction of which the school is located.
- The issuer designates the bond as a qualified school construction bond under Code section 54F.

Section 1 of the bill amends Article 34B of Chapter 115C, which currently authorizes the issuance of QZABs, by adding authority for the issuance of qualified school construction bonds. The State Board of Education will administer the statewide allocation of bonds, which are to be issued in the same manner and under the same guidelines as the QZABs. The statewide allocation to North Carolina under ARRTA for these bonds is approximately $187.2 million and the local allocations[1] are as follows:

- Mecklenburg - $25.96 million
- Cumberland - $15.95 million
- Forsyth - $12.24 million
- Guilford - $17.15 million
- Wake - $17.30 million

Sections 2-4: Expand Authority of Federal Tax Reform Allocation Committee

Sections 2 through 4 of the bill amend the Article governing the Allocation Committee to reflect the addition of recovery zone facility bonds, recovery zone economic development bonds, and qualified energy conservation bonds (QCEBs) under ARRTA. Under this section, the Committee would be authorized to manage the allocation of these new bonds and continue to study the ways in which these bonds can be utilized.

Recovery zone facility bonds are a type of qualified private activity bond, the interest income of which is tax-exempt. The national limitation on the amount of these bonds that may be issued before January 1, 2011 is $15 billion. The IRS will allocate the national amount to the States based on an amount that bears the same ratio to the total limitation that its employment decline for 2008 bears to the aggregate of the 2008 employment declines for all of the States.

[1] The ARRTA provided that the 100 largest school districts in the United States are to receive a percentage of the total amount of bonds authorized. The above-mentioned North Carolina counties will receive a part of this special allocation.

A recovery zone facility bond is any bond issued before January 1, 2011, designated as such, and where 95% or more of the net proceeds of the issue are to be used for recovery zone property. Recovery zone property is depreciable property constructed, reconstructed, renovated, or acquired by purchase by the taxpayer after the date on which the recovery zone designation took effect where substantially all of the use of the property is in a recovery zone and is in the active conduct of a qualified business by the taxpayer in the zone. A recovery zone is (1) any area designated as having significant poverty, unemployment, rate of home foreclosures, or general distress; (2) any area designated by the issuer as economically distressed by reason of the closure or realignment of a military installation; and (3) any area for which a designation as an empowerment zone or renewal community is in effect.

Recovery zone economic development bonds are a type of qualified bond, which entitles the county or municipal issuer to elect to receive a 45% tax credit for the interest paid on the bond. Up to $10 billion in these bonds may be issued nationally before January 1, 2011. It is estimated that $351.7 million will be allocated to North Carolina. The proceeds of the bonds are to be used for qualified economic development purposes defined as expenditures for promoting development or other economic activity in a recovery zone.

Qualified energy conservation bonds are a new type of tax credit bond authorized under the Emergency Economic Stabilization Act of 2008. These bonds provide a federal subsidy to assist state and local governments in financing energy conservation projects with respect to capital expenditures, research expenditures, expenses for mass commuting facilities, demonstration projects that promote green building technology and other technologies that promote energy efficiency. The ARRTA expands the program by increasing the national cap from $800 million to $3.2 billion. North Carolina's allocation is $95.7 million.

Section 5: Authorize Certain General Obligation Bonds to be Sold at Private Sale

Bonds issued by units of local government must be sold by the Local Government Commission after advertisement and upon sealed bids, unless it meets one of the statutory exceptions. Under current law, the following types of bonds may be sold at private sale:

- Bonds that a State or federal agency has previously agreed to purchase.
- Any bonds for which no legal bid is received within the time allowed for submission of bids.
- Revenue bonds and special obligation bonds issued pursuant to Chapter 159I of the General Statutes.
- Refunding bonds issued pursuant to G.S. 159-78.
- Refunding bonds issued pursuant to G.S. 159-72 if the Local Government Commission determines that a private sale is in the best interest of the issuing unit.
- Bonds designated as qualified zone academy bonds pursuant to G.S. 115C-489.6, if the Local Government Commission determines that a private sale is in the best interest of the issuing unit.
- Project development financing debt instruments.

Section 5 would add general obligation bonds issued pursuant to the Local Government Bond Act that are sold prior to December 31, 2010. It also makes a conforming change so that all tax credit bonds are covered under this provision.

Sections 6 & 7: Conform Industrial and Pollution Control Facilities Financing Act

These sections make conforming changes to the Industrial and Pollution Control Facilities Financing Act to take into account the recovery zone facility bonds authorized under ARRTA. It authorizes a county or city to designate an Industrial Facilities and Pollution Control Financing Authority as a governmental entity authorized to issue recovery zone facility bonds. It would allow facilities that qualify as recovery zone property in connection with the issuance of recovery zone facility bonds to qualify as "special purpose projects" under the Act. Finally, it would allow facilities used in the production of tangible or intangible personal property to qualify as "industrial projects" under the Act.

Sections 8 & 9: Conform North Carolina Capital Facilities Financing Act

These sections make changes similar to those made in Sections 6 and 7, but to the North Carolina Capital Facilities Financing Act. It would allow facilities used in the production of tangible or intangible personal property to qualify as "projects" under the North Carolina Capital Facilities Financing Act.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO CLARIFY THE CALCULATION OF THE MEDICAID SWAP HOLD HARMLESS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 105-523(b)(2) reads as rewritten:

"(b) Definitions. – The following definitions apply in this section:

(2) Hold harmless threshold. – The amount of a county's Medicaid service costs and Medicare Part D clawback payments assumed by the State under G.S. 108A-54 for the fiscal year, less five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000). A county's Medicaid service costs for fiscal years 2008-2009, 2009-2010, and 2010-2011 are determined without regard to the changes made to the Federal Medical Assistance Percentage by Section 5001 of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009."

SECTION 2. This act is effective when it becomes law and applies to distributions for months beginning on or after October 1, 2008.

SENATE BILL 871:
Use Pre-Stimulus FMAP for MC Hold Harmless

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	April 21, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Clodfelter	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell
Analysis of:	First Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 871 would disregard the changes in the FMAP made in the ARRA in determining the hold harmless payment made to counties as a result of the Medicaid swap.

CURRENT LAW: Prior to 2007, counties were responsible for 15% of the nonfederal share of Medicaid costs. In 2007, the State began to assume the counties' share of these costs over a three year period. To provide the financial resources to assume these costs, a portion of local sales taxes were phased out and the State sales tax was correspondingly increased. Changes were also made to the distribution of a portion of the local sales tax. The distribution of the second one-half cent local sales tax, authorized by Article 40 of Chapter 105, was changed from per capita to point of origin. The State's assumption of the counties' share of Medicaid costs and the phase out of the third one-half cent local sales tax will be complete on July 1, 2009.

The act authorizing the State assumption of the Medicaid costs contained two separate hold harmless provisions. The first required counties to hold cities harmless with respect to the reduction in sales tax revenue. The second required the State to make hold harmless payments to the counties to ensure that each county would benefit by at least $500,000 as a result of the loss of the sales tax revenue and the State assuming the county's share of Medicaid costs. The amount of the hold harmless payment is based on both the counties' lost sales tax revenue and the counties' share of Medicaid payments assumed by the State.

The federal share of Medicaid is determined using a formula. The formula compares each states' per capita income relative to U.S. per capita income and provides federal funding based on income. The result of the formula, the "Federal Medicaid Assistance Percentage" (FMAP), provides states with lower incomes higher federal reimbursement, while providing states with higher incomes a lower federal reimbursement.

The America Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (ARRA) authorized additional federal funding for states in the form of temporary increases in the funds the Federal government contributes toward Medicaid. The ARRA provides this money to the States through an increase in the FMAP.[1]

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 871 would disregard the changes in the FMAP made in the ARRA in determining the hold harmless payment made to counties as a result of the Medicaid swap. The counties' hold harmless amount would be artificially inflated if the higher FMAP was used in determining the hold harmless payment amount.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law and applies to distributions beginning on or after October 1, 2008.

SENATE BILL 97:
Critical Infrastructure Assm't Parks & Rec

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	April 20, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Hartsell	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S97-CSTDx-14		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: The proposed committee substitute to Senate Bill 97 aligns the purposes for which cities and counties may issue bonds payable from special assessments with the purposes for which project development financing may be used, clarifies what financing my be used to pay the costs of these projects, provides that assessments may be used to secure other financing, and exempts private entities that implement projects financed in this manner from the local government competitive bidding requirements.

CURRENT LAW: S.L. 2008-165 gave cites and counties the authority to use assessments as a financing tool for long-term capital projects related to water and sewer infrastructure, stormwater infrastructure, schools, and roads.

For both counties and cities, the governing body may not impose assessments under this authority unless it receives a petition for the project to be financed through assessments signed by at least a majority of the owners of property to be assessed, who represent 66% of the assessed value of the property to be assessed.

The board of commissioners or city council must establish an assessment method that will most accurately assess property according to the benefits conferred upon it by the project for which the assessment is made. Unlike assessments imposed under Article 9 of Chapter 153A and Article 10 of Chapter 160A, the costs of assessments imposed for these infrastructure projects may include any expenses allowed under the State and Local Government Revenue Bond Act. The primary expense allowed under the Revenue Bond Act that is not considered under the assessments law is interest on the bonds or notes issued in anticipation of the revenue bond issuance during construction and an establishment of debt service reserves.

Unlike assessments the county or city may impose under Article 9 of Chapter 153A and Article 10 of Chapter 160A, assessments issued for long-term infrastructure projects must be paid in annual installments, in which the number of years may not exceed 30. And the annual payments are due on the date when property taxes are due.

Unlike assessments the county or city may impose under Article 9 of Chapter 153A and Article 10 of Chapter 160A, the governing body may not adopt a final assessment resolution immediately after the public hearing on the preliminary assessment resolution. The governing body must wait at least 10 days after the public hearing on the preliminary assessment resolution before adopting the final one. A final resolution may not be adopted if the petition is withdrawn within 10 days after the public hearing. A petition may be withdrawn if a notice of petition withdrawal is submitted to the governing body. The notice of petition withdrawal must be signed by at least 50% of the landowners who signed the original petition representing at least 50% of the property to be assessed.

In addition to the other financing tools available for infrastructure projects, an infrastructure project for which an assessment may be imposed under this authority may be considered a 'revenue bond project' for purposes of the State and Local Government Revenue Bond Act, and that the assessments imposed under this new Article may be considered 'revenues' for purposes of the Act.

BILL ANALYSIS: The proposed committee substitute to Senate Bill 97 aligns the purposes for which cities and counties may issue bonds payable from special assessments with the purposes for which project development financing may be used, clarifies what financing my be used to pay the costs of these projects, provides that assessments may be used to secure other financing, and exempts private entities that implement projects financed in this manner from the local government competitive bidding requirements.

Sections 1.(a) and 2.(a): Aligns the purposes for which this financing may be used to include the current purposes for which project development financing may be used. These purposes are:

- Airport facilities.
- Auditoriums, coliseums, arenas, stadiums, civic centers, and convention centers.
- Hospital facilities.
- Art galleries, museums, and art centers.
- Parking facilities.
- Redevelopment through the acquisition of land.
- Sanitary sewer systems.
- Storm sewers and flood control facilities.
- Water systems.
- Public transportation facilities.
- Industrial parks.
- Preservation of railroad corridors.
- Community college facilities.
- Improvements to streets.
- Providing school facilities.
- Providing improvements to subdivision and residential streets.
- Low and moderate income housing.
- Electric systems.
- Providing streets and sidewalks.
- Gas systems
- Improving existing telephone systems.
- Park and recreation facilities excluding stadiums, arenas, golf courses, swimming pools, wading pools, or marinas.

Section 1.(b) and 2.(b): Clarifies the language concerning financing of projects for which an assessment may be imposed. The costs of these projects may covered by using any combination of the following financing sources:

- Revenue bonds issued under G.S. 153A-210.6.
- Project development financing debt instruments issued under the North Carolina Project Development Financing Act, Article 6 of Chapter 159 of the General Statutes.
- General obligation bonds issued under the Local Government Bond Act, Article 4 of Chapter 159 of the General Statutes.
- General revenues.

Assessments may be pledged as additional security for project development financing. If the assessment is pledged, the entity must covenant to enforce the payment of assessments.

Section 1.(c) and 2.(c): Clarifies that these projects can be implemented using public or private entities. Private entities that undertake these projects are not subject to the competitive bidding requirements of Article 8 of Chapter 143.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

SENATE BILL 97:
Critical Infrastructure Assm't Parks & Rec

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	April 20, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Hartsell	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S97-CSTDx-14		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: The proposed committee substitute to Senate Bill 97 aligns the purposes for which cities and counties may issue bonds payable from special assessments with the purposes for which project development financing may be used, clarifies what financing my be used to pay the costs of these projects, provides that assessments may be used to secure other financing, and exempts private entities that implement projects financed in this manner from the local government competitive bidding requirements.

CURRENT LAW: S.L. 2008-165 gave cites and counties the authority to use assessments as a financing tool for long-term capital projects related to water and sewer infrastructure, stormwater infrastructure, schools, and roads.

For both counties and cities, the governing body may not impose assessments under this authority unless it receives a petition for the project to be financed through assessments signed by at least a majority of the owners of property to be assessed, who represent 66% of the assessed value of the property to be assessed.

The board of commissioners or city council must establish an assessment method that will most accurately assess property according to the benefits conferred upon it by the project for which the assessment is made. Unlike assessments imposed under Article 9 of Chapter 153A and Article 10 of Chapter 160A, the costs of assessments imposed for these infrastructure projects may include any expenses allowed under the State and Local Government Revenue Bond Act. The primary expense allowed under the Revenue Bond Act that is not considered under the assessments law is interest on the bonds or notes issued in anticipation of the revenue bond issuance during construction and an establishment of debt service reserves.

And the annual payments are due on the date when property taxes are due.

Unlike assessments the county or city may impose under Article 9 of Chapter 153A and Article 10 of Chapter 160A, the governing body may not adopt a final assessment resolution immediately after the public hearing on the preliminary assessment resolution. The governing body must wait at least 10 days after the public hearing on the preliminary assessment resolution before adopting the final one. A final resolution may not be adopted if the petition is withdrawn within 10 days after the public hearing. A petition may be withdrawn if a notice of petition withdrawal is submitted to the governing body. The notice of petition withdrawal must be signed by at least 50% of the landowners who signed the original petition representing at least 50% of the property to be assessed.

In addition to the other financing tools available for infrastructure projects, an infrastructure project for which an assessment may be imposed under this authority may be considered a 'revenue bond project' for purposes of the State and Local Government Revenue Bond Act, and that the assessments imposed under this new Article may be considered 'revenues' for purposes of the Act.

BILL ANALYSIS: The proposed committee substitute to Senate Bill 97 aligns the purposes for which cities and counties may issue bonds payable from special assessments with the purposes for which project development financing may be used, clarifies what financing my be used to pay the costs of these projects, provides that assessments may be used to secure other financing, and exempts private entities that implement projects financed in this manner from the local government competitive bidding requirements.

Sections 1.(a) and 2.(a): Aligns the purposes for which this financing may be used to include the current purposes for which project development financing may be used. These purposes are:

- Airport facilities.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO EXTEND AND AMEND AN ACT TO PROTECT CUSTOMERS PURCHASING TICKETS VIA THE INTERNET, AND TO IMPOSE A PRIVILEGE LICENSE TAX ON GROSS RECEIPTS RECEIVED TO THE EXTENT THEY EXCEED FACE VALUE OF THE TICKET.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Section 4 of S.L. 2008-158 reads as rewritten:

"SECTION 4. This act becomes effective August 1, 2008, and expires ~~June 30, 2009.~~ June 30, 2011. ~~The expiration of this act does not relieve a person's liability to file the report required under G.S. 14-344.1(e) for gross receipts received in June 2009.~~ Liability for acts or omissions before the expiration date of this act are not abated or affected by the expiration. Section 3 of this act applies to offenses committed on or after that date."

SECTION 2. G.S. 14-344.1(e) is repealed effective June 30, 2009, but the repeal does not relieve a person's liability to file the report required by that subsection for gross receipts received in June 2009.

SECTION 3. G.S. 14-344.1(a) reads as rewritten:

"(a) Internet Resale. – A person may resell an admission ticket under this section on the Internet at a price greater than the price on the face of the ticket unless the venue where the event will occur prohibits the Internet ticket resale as provided under subsection (b) of this section. To resell an admission ticket under this section, the person reselling the ticket must offer the ticket for resale on a Web site with a ticket guarantee that meets the requirements of subsection (c) of this section. A prospective purchaser must be directed to the guarantee before completion of the resale transaction. A person who resells an admission ticket under this section acknowledges liability for the ~~informational report required under subsection (e) of this section.~~tax under G.S. 105-37.1."

SECTION 4. G.S. 105-37.1(a) and (b) read as rewritten:

"(a) Scope. – A privilege tax is imposed on the gross receipts of a person who is engaged in any of the following:

(1) Giving, offering, or managing a dance or an athletic contest for which an admission fee in excess of fifty cents (50¢) is charged.

(3) Exhibiting a performance, show, or exhibition, such as a circus or dog show, that is not taxed by another provision of this Article.

(4) Reselling or offering to resell admission tickets on the Internet under G.S. 14-344.1.

(b) Rate and Payment. – The rate of the privilege tax is three percent (3%) of the gross receipts from the activities described in subsection (a) of this section. For taxes imposed under subdivision (a)(4) of this section, gross receipts exclude the price printed on the face of the ticket. The tax is due when a return is due. A return is due by the 10th day after the end of each month and covers the gross receipts received during the previous month."

SECTION 5. Sections 1, 2, and 5 of this act are effective when they become law. Sections 3 and 4 of this act becomes effective July 1, 2009.

SENATE BILL 99:
Internet Ticket Resale Amendments

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	April 28, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Hartsell	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S99-CSRBx-5

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 99 does two things:

- It would extend the sunset on S.L. 2008-158 for two years, from June 30, 2009, to June 30, 2011.
- It would replace the current informational reporting requirement for the Internet sale of admission tickets in excess of face value with a 3% gross receipts privilege tax. The gross receipts tax would be imposed on the difference between the price sold and the face price on the ticket. The Senate passed this provision last session, but the House removed it. (SB 1407, 4th Edition, 2007 Session)

The proposed committee substitute makes a conforming change to G.S. 14-344.1. (Section 3)

CURRENT LAW: Reselling tickets online is a new and growing business. Last session, the General Assembly enacted S.L. 2008-158 to provide an exception to the prohibition against admission tickets being resold on the Internet at a price greater than the price printed on the face of the ticket. The law provided protections for both the consumer and the venue:

- The act required a person who resells admission tickets online to provide a ticket guarantee and to provide a purchaser with a full refund of the amount paid for the ticket if the event is cancelled, the purchaser is denied admission through no fault of the purchaser, or the ticket is not delivered to the purchaser and the failure to receive the ticket results in the purchaser's inability to attend the event.
- The act made it an unfair and deceptive trade practice for a person to knowingly sell or possess software that is primarily designed or produced for the purpose of interfering with the operation of a ticket seller who, pursuant to a written agreement with the venue, sells admission tickets over the Internet.[1]

These changes will sunset June 30, 2009. If the changes sunset, it will become a Class 2 misdemeanor for a seller or reseller of an admission ticket to charge more than the face price of the ticket, plus an authorized service fee.[2] And there will not be a prohibition on ticket purchasing software.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 99 would delay the sunset by two years and it would expand the privilege license tax to include the reselling of admission tickets on the Internet in excess of face value. G.S. 105-37.1 currently imposes a gross receipts tax on a person who sells the initial ticket to an entertainment event. The rate of tax is 3% of the admission price. The 3% gross receipts privilege tax on ticket resellers would be imposed on the difference between the price of the ticket sold and the face price on the ticket.

The 4th Edition of Senate Bill 1407, introduced by Sen. Hartsell in the 2007 Session, provided for the imposition of a 3% gross receipts privilege tax on the difference between the price of the ticket sold and

[1] If a person is found to have violated the Unfair and Deceptive Trade Practice Act, the aggrieved person is entitled to treble the amount of damages fixed by the verdict.

[2] The service fee is limited to no more than $3.00 unless the promoter of the event and the ticket sales agency, in writing, agree to and make known to the public a different amount.

the face price on the ticket. This provision was deleted from the bill when the bill was in the House Finance Committee. The conference report, as enacted last session, removed the tax provision and replaced it with a reporting requirement. A person who resells admission tickets via the Internet in excess of the face value of the ticket must report to the Department of Revenue by the 10th day after the end of each month on the gross receipts received during the previous month from reselling admission tickets for events in the State. The report must include the total amount of gross receipts derived from resell activity (minus the face value on the tickets), the event and venue for which each ticket was sold, the entity from which the reseller purchased each ticket, the amount the reseller paid for each ticket, the price received by the reseller for each ticket, the name and address of reseller-purchasers of each ticket, and any other information required by the Department. As of April 28, 2009, only 16 monthly reports had been filed by eight ticket resellers.[3]

EFFECTIVE DATE: The expansion of the gross receipts tax to ticket resellers would become effective July 1, 2009. The remainder of the act would become effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: House Bill 309, introduced by Representatives Glazier, Gibson, Tillis, and Harrell, would remove the sunset on S.L. 2008-158. It would not impose a tax on the transaction. House Bill 309 is in the Senate Commerce Committee.

S99-SMRB-4(CSRBx-5) v1

[3] Those 16 reports showed the original cost of the tickets resold was $429,198. The ticket resellers received $722,613, for a net proceeds total of $293,415.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The expansion of the gross receipts tax to ticket resellers would become effective July 1, 2009. The remainder of the act would become effective when it becomes law.

BILL SUMMARY:

Senate Bill 99 extends the expiration date for SL 2008-158, which enacted GS 14-344.1 (Internet sale of admission tickets in excess of printed price) and GS 14-344.2 (Prohibition on ticket purchasing software), from June 30, 2009, to June 30, 2011.

Effective on June 30, 2009, the bill repeals GS 14-344.1(e), which required a person who resells or offers to resell admission tickets to report each month to the Department of Revenue on gross receipts received in the previous month. It also specifies that liability remains for filing a report for gross receipts received in June 2009.

Effective on July 1, 2009, Senate Bill 99 amends GS 105-37.1 (dances, athletic events, shows, exhibitions, and other entertainments) to include reselling or offering to resell admission tickets on the Internet, under GS 14-344.1, to the list of activities for which a 3% privilege tax is imposed on the gross receipts. And it provides that gross receipts exclude the price printed on the face of the ticket.

The proposed committee substitute makes a conforming change to G.S. 14-344.1. (Section 3).

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

The 3% gross receipts privilege tax on ticket resellers would be imposed on the difference between the price of the ticket sold and the face price on the ticket. From August 1, 2008 through April 28, 2009, the North Carolina Department of Revenue received 16 reports from 8 ticket resellers. They reported the original cost of the resold tickets as $429,198, with a resold price of $722,613, and net proceeds of $293,415.

Assuming the same rate of filings, grown by the Moody's Economy.com leisure and hospitality portion of North Carolina's gross state product, a 3% privilege tax would yield $11,700 in FY2009-10.

(1) Board. – The Board of Directors of the Yadkin River Trust.
(2) Trust. – The Yadkin River Trust as established by this Article.
(3) Yadkin Project. – Project No. 2197 as described in a license issued by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission as of May 1, 1958, and as thereafter amended and otherwise subject to the regulation of the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.

"§ 77-122. Board of Directors.

(a) Appointment. – The Board of Directors of the Yadkin River Trust shall consist of seven directors who shall be appointed by the Governor upon the advice of the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate and subject to confirmation by the General Assembly by joint resolution. Two of the directors shall have substantial work experience within the operations of electric cooperatives or investor-owned utilities or substantial experience on an electric cooperative board or investor-owned utility board but must not serve as an employee or board member of an electric cooperative or investor-owned utility during their term as a director of the Yadkin River Trust. The names of directors to be appointed by the Governor shall be submitted by the Governor to the General Assembly for confirmation by the General Assembly on or before June 1 of the year in which the terms for which the appointments are to be made are to expire. Upon failure of the Governor to submit names by that date, the President Pro Tempore of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives jointly shall submit the names of a like number of directors to the General Assembly on or before June 15 of the same year for confirmation by the General Assembly. Regardless of the way in which the names of directors are submitted, confirmation of directors must be accomplished prior to adjournment of the then current session of the General Assembly. The Governor may remove any director of the Board for misfeasance, malfeasance, or nonfeasance.

(b) Terms. – The term of office of directors of the Board is four years. A director may be reappointed to any number of successive four-year terms. A director in office continues to serve until the director's successor is duly confirmed and qualified, but the holdover does not affect the expiration date of the succeeding term.

(c) Chair; Vice-Chair. – Upon confirmation of the directors by the General Assembly as provided in subsection (a) of this section, the Governor shall designate one of the directors to serve as chair of the Board for the succeeding four years and until the director's successor is duly confirmed and qualified. The Governor shall convene the first meeting of the Board, at which time the members of the Board shall elect from their membership a vice-chair of the Board.

(d) Vacancies. – In case of death, incapacity, resignation, or vacancy for any other reason in the office of any director prior to the expiration of the director's term of office, the name of the director's successor shall be submitted by the Governor within four weeks after the vacancy arises to the General Assembly for confirmation by the General Assembly. Upon failure of the Governor to submit the name of the successor, the President Pro Tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives jointly shall submit the name of a successor to the General Assembly within six weeks after the vacancy arises. Regardless of the way in which the names of directors are submitted, confirmation of directors must be accomplished prior to the adjournment of the then current session of the General Assembly. If a vacancy arises in the office of director when the General Assembly is not in session, and the appointment is deemed urgent by the Governor, the Governor may appoint a director to serve on an interim basis pending confirmation by the General Assembly.

(e) Organization of the Board. – The Board shall adopt bylaws with respect to the calling of meetings, quorums, voting procedures, the keeping of records, and other organizational and administrative matters as the Board may determine. A quorum consists of a majority of the members of the Board. (f) Compensation of the Board. – No part of the revenues or assets of the Trust shall inure to the benefit of or be distributable to the members of the Board or officers or other private persons. Any terms of acquisition must be approved by the Board prior to completion of the acquisition. If acquired, the Trust cannot agree to voluntarily surrender, terminate, transfer, or sell the Yadkin River License or the Yadkin Project unless an act of the General Assembly approves the action.

"§ 77-124. Operation of the Trust.

(a) Management. – The Board shall determine the policies of the Trust by majority vote of the members of the Board present and voting, a quorum having been established. Once a policy is determined, the Board must communicate it to the executive director who shall have the sole and exclusive authority to execute the policy of the Trust. No member of the Board has the responsibility or authority to give operational directives to any employee of the Trust other than the executive director.

(b) Employees. – The Board shall appoint an executive director, whose salary is fixed by the Board, to serve at its pleasure. The executive director or a person designated by the executive director shall appoint, employ, dismiss, and, within the limits of available funding, fix the compensation of other employees as considered necessary. During any fiscal year, the Trust may not expend funds for merit and performance-based salary increases in excess of the funds that would have been expended had the employees of the Trust received the same across-the-board salary increases granted by the General Assembly to State employees subject to the State Personnel Act. These merit and performance-based salary increase may be awarded on an aggregated average basis according to rules adopted by the Trust. Except as to the provisions of Articles 6 and 7 of Chapter 126 of the General Statutes, the employees of the Trust are exempt from the State Personnel Act.

"§ 77-127. Revenue bonds.

The Trust is a municipality under Article 5 of Chapter 159 of the General Statutes, the State and Local Revenue Bond Act. SENATE BILL 967:
Creation of Yadkin River Trust

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	April 29, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Hartsell	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to Second Edition S967-CSRBx-6

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 967 would authorize the creation of the Yadkin River Trust as an entity that could hold the federal hydro license in trust for the benefit of the people of North Carolina. The license is currently held by Alcoa Power Generating, Inc. The bill would authorize the Trust to produce, distribute, and sale power from the Yadkin River Project should the Trust acquire the Yadkin Project license.

The proposed committee substitute removes the independent revenue bond provisions from the bill. It substitutes the revenue bond provisions of the State and Local Government Revenue Bond Act. It also makes other changes to conform the administration of the Trust to similar entities, such as the North Carolina Turnpike Authority: it exempts the Yadkin River Trust from rule-making and it exempts its employees from the State Personnel Act (with the exception of Articles 6 and 7). It also reorganizes some provisions and removes others that are unnecessary.

CURRENT LAW: Under the authority of the Federal Power Act, the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) has the exclusive authority to license most nonfederal hydropower projects located on navigable waterways or federal lands, or connected to the interstate electric grid. FERC may issue an original license for up to 50 years for constructing, operating, and maintaining jurisdictional projects. At the end of a stated term of an original license, a licensee must undertake the relicensing process. In response, FERC can issue a new license (relicense) to either the existing licensee or a new licensee for a period of 30 to 50 years, the federal government can take over a project, or a project may be decommissioned.[1]

With regard to federal takeover of a project, 16 USC § 807 provides that the United States, upon or after the expiration of any license may take over, maintain, and operate any project, or may take over upon mutual agreement with the licensee all property owned and held by the licensee. The section further provides that the United States shall pay the net investment of the licensee in the project taken, not to exceed its fair value, plus such reasonable damages, if any, to property of the licensee – such value to be determined by FERC. Under the section, the right of the United States or any State or municipality to take over, maintain, and operate any project licensed under the chapter at any time by condemnation proceedings upon payment of just compensation is expressly reserved.

BACKGROUND[2]: In 1958, the Federal Power Commission, predecessor to FERC, issued a 50 year license to Carolina Aluminum Company (a wholly-owned subsidiary of Alcoa, Inc.) to operate and maintain the Yadkin Project. The Yadkin Project is comprised of four hydroelectric stations, dams, and reservoirs located along a 38-mile stretch of the Yadkin River in Davidson, Davie, Montgomery, Rowan, and Stanly counties. The Project has an installed capacity of 210 megawatts. Alcoa Power Generating Inc (APGI, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Alcoa) filed a license application with FERC for the Yadkin Project on April 25, 2006, and filed a Relicensing Settlement Agreement with FERC on May 7, 2007.

In 2008, the General Assembly directed the Environmental Review Commission (ERC) to study the impacts on the State of the potential issuance by FERC of a new fifty-year license to APGI for the Yadkin Project (S.L. 2008-137). The study authorized the ERC to consider and develop proposals regarding all of the following issues:

- The socioeconomic impacts of APGI's decision to discontinue its job-producing manufacturing activities at its Badin facility that relied on the use of low-cost power from the Yadkin Hydroelectric Project.
- Assurance of an adequate, clean future water supply for the region.
- The allocation of water for non-power uses from the Yadkin Hydroelectric Project.

To facilitate the study, representatives of APGI and Stanly County submitted various materials to the ERC for consideration, and several meetings were held between the parties and staff to the ERC. No formal report or proposals on the matter were issued.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 967 would authorize creation of the Yadkin River Trust. The Trust would have a Board of Directors consisting of seven members to be appointed by the Governor upon the advice of the House Utilities Committee and the Senate Commerce Committee. Created as a body politic and corporate, completely owned by and to be operated for the benefit of the people of the State, the Trust would have all powers necessary and convenient to: (i) develop the Yadkin River in Stanly, Davidson, Montgomery, and Rowan Counties as an instrumentality of intrastate, interstate, and foreign commerce and navigation; (ii) acquire the Yadkin Project and the associated license issued by FERC; (iii) produce, distribute, and sell hydroelectric power from existing or new hydroelectric facilities; and (iv) issue bonds or notes to finance acquisition and operation of the Project. In addition to other powers and duties, the bill provides that the Trust would honor aspects of the Relicensing Settlement Agreement negotiated by local government and environmental groups with Alcoa. The bill accomplishes this objective by specifically requiring the Trust to provide the services listed in G.S. 77-126, as enacted by this bill, for the local governmental units in the Yadkin River area.

The bill provides that revenues derived from the Yadkin River Project through the distribution and sale of hydroelectric power must be used as follows:

- To operate the Yadkin Project.
- To pay debt service on any revenue bonds, notes, or other indebtedness. The bill authorizes the Yadkin River Trust to issue revenue bonds under the State and Local Government Revenue Bond Act based on the guaranteed income stream from the hydro dams.[3] Other obligations may include one arising under a finance agreement with the United States. If FERC recaptures the project license from Alcoa, federal law requires payment of net investment and severance damages to the prior license holder. If FERC grants the license to the Yadkin River Trust, the Trust would assume this payment.

[3] Dr. Steve Scroggin, an Assistant Professor of Economics at Virginia Tech, estimates that the net annual cash from the Project could be $35 million or more.

- To fulfill the financial commitments made to local government and environmental groups under GS 77-126 of the bill.
- To make payments in lieu of taxes to the taxing units in which the Trust owns property. The amount of the payment would be the amount of property taxes payable on the property in the year preceding the date the Trust acquired the property.

Any revenues remaining after the payment of these obligations must be remitted to the State Treasurer and credited to the General Fund. The bill specifies that the State may use all or a portion of the revenues remitted to it by the Trust to provide funds for the replacement of the Yadkin River Bridge on Interstate 85.

The bill would require the Yadkin River Trust to submit a financial report regarding its operation and transactions for the preceding fiscal year to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations, the Joint Legislative Utility Review Committee, and the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations on or before July 1 each year. It would also be subject to oversight by the State Auditor.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill would become effective when it becomes law.

BILL SUMMARY:

The proposed committee substitute for SB 967 would authorize the creation of the Yadkin River Trust. The Trust would have a Board of Directors consisting of seven members to be appointed by the Governor upon the advice of the House Utilities Committee and the Senate Commerce Committee. Created as a body politic and corporate, completely owned by and to be operated for the benefit of the people of the State, the Trust would have all powers necessary to:

- develop the Yadkin River in Stanly, Davidson, Montgomery, and Rowan Counties as an instrumentality of intrastate, interstate, and foreign commerce and navigation;
- acquire the Yadkin Project and the associated license issued by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC);
- produce, distribute, and sell hydroelectric power from existing or new hydroelectric facilities; and
- issue bonds or notes to finance acquisition and operation of the Project.

In addition to other powers and duties, the PCS provides that the Trust would be required to:

- conduct environmental testing on properties owned, or formerly owned by Alcoa or its subsidiaries;
- pursue remediation of contamination at the Badin Works site in Stanly County to levels over and above minimum levels that Alcoa and its subsidiaries would be required to perform under current law to restore contaminated land and water to multiple use purposes;
- install aeration technology to improve water quality in the Yadkin River;
- institute operational changes to retain more water in several lakes, extend recreational seasons at those lakes, and develop new or expanded public recreation facilities across the Yadkin River;
- implement a "Low Inflow Protocol" (comprehensive drought management plan);
- allow the City of Albemarle to increase water withdrawals from the Yadkin River;
- use a portion of the proceeds of power generation to fund a Yadkin River Basin Clean Water Trust Fund, and to acquire and donate land for various conservation purposes;
- apportion a percentage of electrical output from the Project for use by a regional economic development entity; and
- submit a budget for the upcoming fiscal year and a report regarding its operation and transactions for the preceding fiscal year to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations, the Joint Legislative Utility Review Committee, and the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations on or before July 1 each year.

The PCS provides that the property of the Trust would be exempt from taxation. The Trust would be required to make payments in lieu of taxes to affected counties, municipalities, and school districts after payments for necessary operating expenses, annual debt requirements, and discharge annual obligations from finance agreements.

BACKGROUND[1]:

The Yadkin Project is comprised of four hydroelectric stations, dams, and reservoirs located along a 38-mile stretch of the Yadkin River in Davidson, Davie, Montgomery, Rowan, and Stanly counties. ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

Expenditures

Section 1 of the PCS creates the Yadkin River Trust as a "body politic and corporate" "to benefit the people of the State." Further, the PCS is permissive as to the Yadkin Trust acquiring the Yadkin Project; new G.S. 77-123 states that "The Yadkin River Trust may acquire the Yadkin Project." If the Trust were to not acquire the Project, then there would be no potential costs nor revenue. Revenues, after all other obligations are fulfilled, are directed to the State General Fund. As the PCS is written, it is not clear that the State would incur any costs related to this PCS. However, in recognition of the potential for the Trust to acquire the Project, Fiscal Research offers the following estimates. It should be noted that these estimates are provided with the qualification that Fiscal Research does not have the staff resources to conduct a thorough, independent analysis of the costs at this time. Thus, Fiscal Research has relied on data from the various parties involved in these proceedings (mainly Alcoa/APGI and Stanly County) to form a range of estimates.

Cost of Acquiring the Yadkin Project

There is some dispute as to what basis should be used to determine the value of the Yadkin Project were the Yadkin Trust to attempt to acquire it. The FERC relicensing guidelines allow for federal takeover of a project and stipulate that the value of such a takeover would be determined as "net investment...not to exceed the fair value of the property taken, plus such reasonable damages, if any."[3] Fiscal Research notes that this section also states that FERC would ultimately determine this value. Per Alcoa's 2006 License Application, the "net investment" amount is $24,158,903 (2005 dollars).[4] Lobbyists for Stanly County contend that $24.2 million is thus the fair value and further contend that reasonable severance damages would be minimal, if any.

Lobbyists for Alcoa contend that severance damages would be "hundreds of millions of dollars" including the costs of replacing the assets in Alcoa's energy portfolio as well as compensation to shareholders for loss of assets and associated revenue stream. However, Stanly County contends that future potential revenues beyond the original 1958 license term should not be included in the calculation of severance damages.

Additionally, Alcoa states that it has invested approximately $67 million in the Yadkin Project since the license application was submitted in 2006. Alcoa contends that its "net investment" is now closer to $91.2 million. A breakout and/or supporting documentation for the $67 million in additional investments was not provided to Fiscal Research.

Setting aside the issue of "net investment," Alcoa contends that Federal recapture of the license is no longer possible, and thus the only way for the Yadkin Trust to acquire the project would be through direct purchase from Alcoa or condemnation. Under either of these scenarios (although it should be noted that Alcoa has stated that it does not wish to sell the Yadkin Project), "fair market value" could be used to determine the purchase price. Alcoa acknowledges that it has not had an independent appraisal conducted, but it estimates the fair market value to be in excess of $500 million. Proponents of the Yadkin River Trust refute the notion that recapture is not possible.

Based on the assessed values reported by the five counties in which the Yadkin River Project is located, the total tax value is $140.5 million. The assessed value is divided by the sales assessment ratio for each county to determine the estimated market value. The sales assessment ratio is an estimate of how close assessed values are to market values. The estimated market value for the Yadkin River Project based on these calculations is $176 million.

Compiling all of these data, Fiscal Research anticipates that the cost of acquiring the Yadkin Project would fall somewhere within the range of $24.2 million to over $500 million, with the most likely estimate being something closer to the estimated market value of $176 million which is based on the tax values provided below.

County	Tax Value of Alcoa Property	Sales Assessment Ratio	Estimated Market Value
Stanly	$49,122,910	0.82	$59,905,988
Montgomery	$62,929,298	0.72	$87,401,803
Davidson	$26,567,135	0.99	$26,835,490
Davie	$1,472,349	0.91	$1,617,966
Rowan	$495,697	0.97	$511,028
Total	$140,587,389		$176,272,274
Note: Tax values are based on all property owned by Alcoa in each county, some of which may not be included in the Yadkin Project.

Cost of Assuming the FERC License

The PCS stipulates that if the Yadkin Trust acquires the Yadkin Project, it shall pursue transfer of the license. It is not clear if transfer of the license would require a completely new application for the license or if materials prepared by Alcoa could simply be modified. Alcoa spent five years working on the license application and the relicensing settlement agreement. They had 23 environmental technical studies conducted and held meetings with various stakeholder groups. In its 2006 License Application, Alcoa stated that preparation of the license application cost approximately $20 million.

Cost of Capital and Other Improvements to the Yadkin Project

Alcoa contends that extensive capital improvements are needed at the Yadkin Project to insure compliance with the Relicensing Settlement Agreement. As of April 24, 2009, Alcoa estimates that such improvements will cost $194.5 million and asserts that these costs would need to be assumed by whomever operates the Project. In the original License Application, Alcoa stated that $130.5 million (2005 dollars) and $1.5 million in annual costs were needed for capital investments.

Lobbyists for Stanly County agree that "major maintenance" may be necessary. They cite an estimate by Dr. Steve Scroggin, a visiting assistant professor of economics at Virginia Tech, that new enhancements may cost $1.5 million annually with $4 million in one-time costs.

New G.S. 77-124(c) requires that the Yadkin River Trust conduct a variety of activities if it acquires the Yadkin Project. These activities include

- conducting environmental testing and assessments,
- remediating contamination,
- establishing a remediation fund,
- installing aeration technology to increase dissolved oxygen levels,

- instituting operational changes that will retain more water in High Rock Lake and Badin Lake,
- extending the recreation season at High Rock Lake and Badin Lake,
- implementing a comprehensive drought management plan,
- developing and maintaining public recreation facilities,
- allowing the city of Albemarle to increase water withdrawals,
- creating a Yadkin River Basin Clean Water Trust fund to acquire land and other activities,
- apportioning a percentage of electricity to a regional economic development entity, and
- using proceeds from power generation to
    - acquire and donate land to Badin for a public park,
    - acquire and donate land to Rowan County for the Eagle Point Nature Preserve,
    - acquire other land for conservation purposes, and
    - make a $40,000 donation to the Yadkin-Pee Dee River Trail Fund.

Some of the listed powers and duties overlap with costs Alcoa has described under its capital improvements estimate, including $2.6 million one-time and $480,000 annually to meet dissolved oxygen requirements. However, Fiscal Research does not have an estimate for the cost of all of these activities. Expenditures are likely to be substantial. For example, the first two items of conducting environmental testing and remediating contamination could cost millions of dollars depending on the extent of remediation needed.

The range for capital improvement costs provided by the two parties is quite broad - $4 million in one-time costs and $1.5 million in annual costs compared to $194.5 million one-time and $1.5 million annually – and is most likely not an apples-to-apples comparison. Moreover, it is not clear how much these estimates correspond to the requirements specified in the PCS. Further study and independent analysis would be needed for Fiscal Research to be able to provide an estimate of these costs.

Cost of Operating the Yadkin Project

New G.S. 77-124(a) describes the powers and duties of the Yadkin River Trust including producing, distributing, and selling hydroelectric power.

Alcoa asserts that annual expenses, including salaries and benefits for 32 employees, and depreciation costs are approximately $28.3 million. A breakdown of these expenses is provided by Alcoa as Table D.4-1 in its License Application and is as follows:

Cost of Capital (equity and debt)	$8,615,579
Property Taxes	$849,043
Depreciation	$9,083,141
Operation & Maintenance	$9,296,093
FERC Administrative Fee	$466,241

The Yadkin Trust, as an entity operated by and for the people of the State would most likely be exempt from taxes, and thus would not incur the tax expenses that Alcoa currently pays of $5.3 million (State and Federal combined). The PCS provides a specific exemption and payment-in-lieu for property taxes. See the "Tax Analysis" section of this memo for additional information.

Stanly County in its brief to ERC estimated operating expenses to be $2.5 million annually with an additional $1.5 million annually for enhancements and capital improvements.

Cost of Issuing Debt
The Trust is authorized to incur debt to purchase, construct, renovate, and equip facilities for the purpose of generating hydroelectric power, as well as, acquire land. The Trust may issue revenue bonds, as a municipality, under Article 5 and other provisions of Chapter 159 of the General Statutes. All authorized debt would require approval by the Local Government Commission.

Any revenue bonds issued by the Trust would not carry a pledge of the full faith and credit of the State. Revenue bonds would not be secured by any other sources of revenue besides revenue generated by project financed or by the revenue-generating entity, the hydroelectric operation.

To the extent that revenues fall short of the debt service payments and the Trust is in risk of defaulting on any revenue bonds, the bond holders can seek remedies through rate setting and other operational changes as determined by special covenants of the bonds. The bond holders would have no expectation that other State revenues would be obligated to repay debt.

Aside from revenues generated by the Trust, no impact is anticipated to State debt or the State's debt service requirement.

Revenues
On the revenue side, the PCS stipulates that the Trust shall first use revenues to:

(1) Operate the Yadkin Project;
(2) Pay the debt service on any revenue bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness or obligation;
(3) Fulfill the local responsibilities under G.S. 77-126; and
(4) Make payments to taxing units under G.S. 77-129.

After these obligations are paid remaining revenue is to be remitted to the State General Fund, any or all of which can be used for the replacement of the Yadkin River Bridge.

According to Alcoa, the Yadkin Project has a total generating capacity of 215 megawatts of electricity.[5] Alcoa claims that average annual revenue is approximately $43.6 million. Alcoa asserts that annual expenses and depreciation costs are approximately $28.3 million. Additionally, the annual costs associated with the new license would be $1.6 million. Thus, profits before taxes would be approximately $13.7 million.

Lobbyists for Stanly County contend that profits could be $35 million, or more, annually. In its brief to ERC, Stanly County stated that they estimated the Yadkin Project gross annual revenues to be at least $40 million with annual costs of about $2.5 million and new enhancements of $1.5 million annually.

Thus, Fiscal Research estimates that annual revenues for the Trust would be between $13.7 million and $35 million. As to revenues being remitted to the State General Fund, Fiscal Research estimates that such disbursements would most likely be minimal in the first five years of the project. The Trust would first need to pay all operating expenses, all debt service, all obligations under G.S. 77-124(b), and all payments-in-lieu as specified under G.S. 77-129. Many of the duties under G.S. 77-124(b) could be quite costly, and the PCS does not stipulate the amounts (neither absolute dollars nor percentages) that should go towards these activities. For example, the remediation fund described under G.S. 77-124(b)(3) and the Yadkin River Clean Water Trust Fund described under G.S. 77-124(b)(10) could require extensive revenues.

Tax Analysis

Property Tax Exemption (77-129)
The PCS provides that the Yadkin River Trust will be exempt from property taxes as a governmental entity. In lieu of taxes, the Trust will make payments to the local government districts in which it owns property. The amount of the payments will be based on the amount paid annually at the time of the acquisition. These payments will be made after other debts to pay operating expenses, debt service and other obligations resulting from federal financing agreements have been paid. Because the payments in lieu will be based on the amount of tax paid at the time of acquisition, local governments will experience a fiscal impact to the extent that this amount differs from the actual amount of tax that would have been owed in any particular year. The amount of property taxes paid for the Yadkin River Project in 2008 was $1,307,885.

SENATE BILL 1008

Short Title:	Antlerless Deer Tag Fee.	(Public)
Sponsors:	Senator Swindell.

AN ACT TO PROVIDE FOR A FEE FOR BONUS ANTLERLESS DEER TAGS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 113-270.3(b) is amended by adding a new subdivision to read:

"(2a) Bonus Antlerless Deer License – $10.00. This license shall be issued to an individual resident or nonresident of the State who holds a valid North Carolina big game hunting license or an individual resident who is exempt from the hunting license requirement in accordance with G.S. 113-276(c) and G.S. 113-276(d) and entitles the holder to take two antlerless deer during seasons and by methods authorized by the Wildlife Resources Commission. This license expires June 30."

SECTION 2. This act becomes effective July 1, 2009.

SENATE BILL 1008:
Antlerless Deer Tag Fee

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 4, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Swindell	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	First Edition

SUMMARY: Senate bill 1008 would authorize a Bonus Antlerless Deer license.

CURRENT LAW: In addition to a hunting license, deer hunters must obtain a big game hunting license, and comply with reporting requirements when any species of big game is killed. Individuals hunting on their own land and individuals under 16 accompanied by a licensed adult are exempt from the hunting and fishing license requirements.

Individuals are limited to taking 6 deer per season. In the area in and east of Vance County, Franklin County, Wake County, Harnett County, Moore County south of NC 211 and west of US 1, and Richmond County of the 6 total deer, individuals may take no more than 4 antlered deer per season. In the area west of Vance County, Franklin County, Wake County, Harnett County, Moore County south of NC 211 and west of US 1, and Richmond County of the 6 total deer, individuals may take no more than 2 antlered deer per season.

Hunters may take more than the per season limit by obtaining a Bonus Antlerless Harvest Report Card, however, hunters do not need to obtain an additional license.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 1008 would authorize a "Bonus Anterless Deer License." This license may be issued to valid holders of big game hunting licenses and individuals exempt from the licensing requirements including landholders and individuals under 16 accompanied by a licensed adult. Individuals would be able to take two additional antlerless deer, increasing the total deer per season to the following:

- In the area in and east of Vance County, Franklin County, Wake County, Harnett County, Moore County south of NC 211 and west of US 1, and Richmond County of the 8 total deer, individuals may take no more than 4 antlered deer per season.
- In the area west of Vance County, Franklin County, Wake County, Harnett County, Moore County south of NC 211 and west of US 1, and Richmond County of the 8 total deer, individuals may take no more than 2 antlered deer per season.

The fee for obtaining this license will be $10.00.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act becomes effective July 1, 2009.

BACKGROUND: This bill will allow hunters to increase the take of antlerless deer. Implementing the license and associated fee will allow the Commission to recover the expenses of administering this program.

Approximately 289,399 license holders had valid big game privileges in fiscal year 2007-2008. This included big game privilege license, sportsman and comprehensive licenses, and lifetime license holders.

BILL SUMMARY:
S.B. 1008 amends G.S. 113-270.3(b), creating a fee for bonus antlerless deer licenses. The antlerless deer license allows hunters to take two antlerless deer during hunting season by methods authorized by the Wildlife Resources Commission (WRC). In order to purchase this $10 license, the licensee must already hold a North Carolina big game hunting license (unless exempt under other statutory provisions). Both residents and non-residents could purchase this license for $10.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

In FY 2007-08, WRC sold 289,399 short-term, annual, and lifetime hunting licenses that had valid big game hunting privileges. This number is comprised of the following:

- 38,525 stand alone annual big game privilege licenses;
- 4,536 stand alone short-term big game privilege licenses;
- 166,338 annual sportsman and comprehensive hunting licenses, which include big game privileges; and
- 80,000 lifetime holders who received their big game report card (which is required in order to hunt big game).

Big game includes wild turkey, boar, bear, and deer. More people hunt white-tailed deer than any other game species in North Carolina. Each year approximately 250,000 sportsmen/women take more than 2.9 million trips afield in pursuit of deer. A standard big game hunting license allows for the taking of six deer. In eastern North Carolina (i.e. in and east of Vance, Franklin, Wake, Harnett, and Moore counties), the six deer limit includes four antlered deer; in the piedmont and western regions, the limit includes only two antlered deer. Approximately 3.6% of big game hunters take their full allotment of deer each year.

When a big game animal is harvested it must be reported to a Wildlife Cooperator Agent or to WRC. In an effort to control the deer population, WRC instituted antlerless deer report cards (formerly "tag") in 2007; WRC currently provides this bonus tag free of charge. WRC was given the authority to set up a bonus tag system – or to extend deer hunting season – but the session law did not stipulate the fee to be charged for this tag.

In FY 2007-08, WRC provided 23,430 bonus antlerless harvest report cards. However, only 1,326 hunters reported harvests that exceeded the six deer season bag limit allowed by the standard big game license. WRC believes that this is an underestimate of the number of hunters that harvested deer with the bonus tag because many hunters may have saved traditional big game harvest report cards in order to retain the opportunity to harvest an antlered deer.

WRC estimates that the demand for bonus antlerless deer tags will be approximately 20,000 despite the $10 fee. This should bring in additional revenue of $200,000 annually. The $10 fee for the privilege of taking two additional deer is not excessive relative to other states. The table below provides a comparison of the cost of North Carolina's bonus license to four other states.

	Fee per Bonus Taking
State	Resident	Non-resident
North Carolina	$5.00	$5.00
Wisconsin	$15.00	$24.00
Maine	$12.00	$12.00
Maryland	$10.00	$25.00
Virginia	$9.00	$15.50

Since WRC already has a bonus antlerless tag in place, the costs associated with developing and distributing these licenses, as well as enforcing them, are already included in WRC's budget. There should be no increase in operating costs due to implementing a fee for this bonus tag.

SENATE BILL 1009:
Hunting License Exemption for Special Events

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 4, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Swindell	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	First Edition

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 1009 is an agency bill that would authorize the Wildlife Resources Commission to exempt individuals from hunting and fishing license requirements when participating in special events.

CURRENT LAW: Article 21 of Chapter 113 outlines the requirements for hunting and fishing licenses and permits in North Carolina. The licenses and permits are issued by the Wildlife Resources Commission.

S.L. 2005-455 authorized the Wildlife Resources Commission adopt rules to exempt individuals who are participating in an organized fishing event from recreational fishing license requirements.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 1009 authorizes the Commission to adopt rules to exempt individuals from certain hunting and fishing license requirements when participating in organized events. The rules may exempt individuals from the following requirements:

G.S. 113-270.1B – License for hunting, fishing, or trapping.

G.S. 113-270.3 – Special activity license, including big game hunting (b)(1), and hunting or trapping on game lands managed by the Commission (b)(3).

G.S. 113-271 – Inland hook-and-line fishing license, does not include fishing in coastal waters

G.S. 113-272 – Special trout license for fishing in designated mountain heritage trout waters.

G.S. 113-272.2 – Fishing with a special devise license, including (c)(1) resident noncommercial special devise license.

Exempted individuals must comply with reporting requirements of the Commission, federal requirements for waterfowl hunting, and all other requirements of license holders. Exempt individuals must also comply with hunting safety requirements or be accompanied by a licensed adult that supervises the individual.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective October 1, 2009.

BACKGROUND: The Commission has requested the bill to provide opportunities for hunters and to meet Commission goals in hunter recruitment and retention. The following are examples of events the Commission may adopt rules to allow exempt individuals to participate in:

- Youth mentor days.
- Special events supported by the Commission but organized by nonprofits.
- Special hunts endorsed by the Commission for which specific details regarding individuals participating and unknown until the event commences.
- Apprentice hunter events.

BILL SUMMARY:
S.B. 1009 amends GS 113-276(n) to expand the authority of the Wildlife Resources Commission (WRC) to grant exemptions to licensing requirements. Under current law, WRC is authorized to grant exemptions from fishing license requirements for certain fishing events. S.B. 1009 adds language that authorizes WRC to grant exemptions to a variety of hunting and fishing license requirements for organized events when the event is consistent with the conservation objectives of WRC. The bill requires that exempt individuals comply with any requirements applicable to a license holder, including reporting requirements and purchasing waterfowl stamps if appropriate, and requires compliance with statutory safety requirements or be accompanied by a licensed adult
Source: Bill Digest S.B. 1009 (03/26/0200).

Consequently, the fiscal impact of this bill cannot be accurately estimated. The exemptions are designed to attract new hunters and angler by introducing them to these sports. The one time, short-term licenses exemption will result in forgone license revenue for WRC. However, WRC expects that forgone revenue to be exceeded by revenue from new license purchases made by new hunters and fishermen recruited through these special events.

Violation of this section shall not constitute negligence per se."

SECTION 6. G.S. 20-118(e)(3) reads as rewritten:

"(3) If an axle-group weight of a vehicle exceeds the weight limit set in subdivision (b)(3)of this section plus any tolerance allowed in subsection (h) of this section or axle-group weights or gross weights authorized by special permit under G.S. 20-119(a), the Department of Crime Control and Public Safety shall assess a civil penalty against the owner or registrant of the motor vehicle. Tolerance pounds in excess of the limit set in subdivision (b)(3) are subject to the penalty if the vehicle exceeds the tolerance allowed in subsection (h) of this section. These penalties apply separately to each axle-group weight limit violated. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary, a vehicle with a special permit that is subject to additional penalties under this subsection based on a violation of any of the permit restrictions set out in G.S. 20-119(d1) shall be assessed a civil penalty, not to exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000), based on the number of pounds by which the axle-group weight exceeds the limit set in subdivision (b)(3) of this section."

SECTION 7. G.S. 20-119(d) reads as rewritten:

Fees assessed for permit violations under this subsection shall not exceed a maximum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000).~~"

The PCS to Senate Bill 368 clarifies that trucks may travel over posted bridges as long as the truck does not exceed the posted weight limit.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 368 makes the following changes to the law, as requested by the State Highway Patrol:

Section 1: Retired State Highway Patrol special license plate. Currently, the surviving spouse of a person who is deceased and retired from the State Highway Patrol would have to apply for a plate within 90 days of the qualifying spouse's death. The PCS eliminates the time requirement, and requires an applicant for the plate to present a copy of the retiree's identification card or letter of retirement.

Section 2: Informal review process to protest civil penalties. The bill reinstates a mandatory informal review process for civil penalties assessed by the Department of Crime Control and Public Safety. The Department used an informal process prior to 2008, when the provision in Chapter 20 authorizing the process was repealed. The informal process requires that payment of the penalty be made within 30 days of it being assessed, unless the person denies liability for the penalty. If the penalty is upheld by the Secretary, the penalty must be paid within 30 days of notice of the decision.

Section 3: All vehicles over 10,000 lbs. in intrastate commerce to be marked. Current law requires a motor vehicle weighing between 10,000 lbs. and 26,001 lbs. that is used in intrastate commerce to be marked on the side with the name of the owner. The bill requires that vehicles 26,001 lbs. and greater be marked as well.

Section 4: Flags at the end of a load. When a load on a vehicle extends more than 4 feet beyond the rear of the bed or body of the vehicle, the law requires that a red or orange flag not less than 12 inches in length and width be displayed at the end of the load during daylight hours. The bill increases the flag size required from 12 inches to 18 inches in length and width.

Section 5: Safe tires. The bill amends safe tire specifications for vehicles with a gross vehicle weight rating of 10,001 lbs. or more in order to comply with federal requirements.

Section 6, 7, and 8: Oversize/overweight penalties. The bill authorizes overweight penalties only to the extent the actual weight exceeds what is allowed in the permit (currently, the penalty would be applied as if the operator did not have a permit). It also requires the Department to assess penalties for violating special permit conditions, decreases the maximum penalty from $25,000 to $10,000, and makes it a flat $1500 penalty for operating without the proper number of escorts.

Section 9: "Out-of-Service"vehicles. The Department of Crime Control and Public Safety has the authority to prohibit a motor carrier from operating a vehicle that is unsafe for use. Under the current law, it is the duty of an agent to guide the vehicle to a location to correct the defect if the vehicle is in operative condition and movement is not dangerous. The bill would require the agent to declare the vehicle "Out-of-Service" if its condition is likely to cause a crash or breakdown and prohibits anyone from operating the vehicle until all required repairs have been completed.

Section 10 and 11: Brake exemptions. G.S. 20-124 generally requires all motor vehicles operated on the highways to be equipped with brakes adequate to control the movement of the vehicle. The bill eliminates or narrows exemptions from brake requirements as follows:

- Truck-tractors with semitrailers attached and three or more axles – brakes not required on front wheels only if manufactured prior to July 2, 1980.
- Eliminates exemption for semitrailers when used by farmers.
- Trailers used by farmers – brakes not required only if not equipped with brakes from manufacturer prior to October 1, 2009.

Section 12: Directional signals on motorcycles. Currently, motorcycles are exempt from the requirement that vehicles be equipped with directional signals. The bill would continue to exempt them only if they are not equipped with directional signals by the manufacturer.

Section 13: Seat belt exemption for garbage trucks. G.S. 20-135.2A generally requires occupants in motor vehicles to have a seatbelt properly fastened when the vehicle is in forward motion on a street or highway. There is currently an exemption from the requirement for drivers or passengers in residential garbage or recycling trucks while on collection rounds and going to and from loading and unloading locations. The bill would eliminate the exemption for the driver and for trips to and from loading and unloading locations, so the exemption would apply only to passengers during rounds.

Section14: Prohibit computer or DVD players in front seat of vehicles. Current law prohibits television viewers or screens in the front seat of motor vehicles. The bill amends the provision to prohibit operating, using, or viewing a computer or video disc player while driving on a highway or public vehicular area.

Section 15: Increase cap on supervisory personnel in the State Highway Patrol. Current law caps the maximum number of supervisory personnel in the State Highway Patrol at 21% of the personnel serving as uniformed highway patrolmen. The bill would increase the cap to 23%.

Section 17: Proceeds from lease to support VIPER project. G.S. 146-30 requires that, when land owned by the State is sold or leased, a service charge must be paid into the State Land Fund. The bill would amend that provision to allow the Highway Patrol to lease space on a tower owned as part of the Voice Interoperability Plan for Emergency Responders (VIPER) project and have all of the proceeds deposited into an account to be used to support the VIPER network and not pay the service charge to the State Land Fund.

Section 18: Clarify weight limits on posted bridges. The Department of Transportation has the authority to determine the load-carrying capacity for bridges in the State. The bill clarifies that vehicles traveling over a bridge and exceeding the maximum load-carry weight posted are subject to a penalty.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Sections 1, 6, 15, 16, and 17 of the bill are effective when they become law. The remainder of the bill becomes effective October 1, 2009, and applies to offenses committed on or after that date.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

This proposed bill addresses numerous changes to several statutes; however, these changes are not anticipated to have a substantial fiscal impact. A few of these changes are discussed below.

Department of Crime Control and Public Safety

The Department of Crime Control and Public Safety (CCPS) staff reported that they do not anticipate any fiscal impact as a result of Section 15 of the proposed bill becoming law. Section 15 changes the proportion of supervisory personnel of the State Highway Patrol actually serving as uniformed highway patrolmen from twenty-one percent (21%) to twenty-three percent (23%). This Section does not commit the State to any new expenses, it simply allows the State Highway Patrol to move monies within their existing budget.

Department of Transportation - Division of Motor Vehicles

The Division of Motor Vehicles does not anticipate any fiscal impact from this bill. This analysis is based on the Division's assessment that it 1) will not retain a copy or image of the identification/documentation presented for the issuance of the Retired State Highway Patrol plate; 2) will not revoke any Retired State Highway Patrol plate that was issued prior to this change, and 3) will not require identification/documentation for the renewal of an existing Retired State Highway Patrol plate.

Senate Bill 368

Various Changes in Motor Vehicle Law

Bill Primary Sponsor(s):	Senator Jenkins	S368-CSTD-25
Relevant Federal Law:	49 C.F.R. § 392.16, 49 C.F.R. § 393.75
☒ Required by or Necessary for Compliance with Federal Law		☐ Exceeds Federal Law
☒ Federal Funds Conditioned upon Passage of Law		☐ Implements Federal Law

SUMMARY OF BILL PROVISIONS ALLEGEDLY REQUIRED BY FEDERAL LEGISLATION

The Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Act, 49 C.F.R. § 392.16, requires that every commercial vehicle that has a seat belt assembly installed at the driver's seat shall not be driven unless the driver is properly restrained by the seat belt. G.S. 20-136.1 currently exempts drivers or passengers in residential garbage or recycling trucks while on collection rounds and going to and from loading and unloading locations from the requirement for wearing a seat belt. The proposed committee substitute to Senate Bill 368 would eliminate the exemption for the driver and for trips to and from loading and unloading locations, so the exemption would only apply to passengers during rounds.

The Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Act, 49 C.F.R. § 393.75 provides that no motor vehicle may be operated on any tire that:

1. Has body ply or belt material exposed through the tread or sidewall.
2. Has any tread or sidewall separation.
3. Is flat or has an audible leak.
4. Has a cut to the extent the ply or belt material is exposed.

In addition, the front tires on any bus, truck or tractor trailer must have a tread groove pattern depth of at least 4/32 of an inch. All other tires must have a tread grove pattern of 2/32 of an inch. The proposed committee substitute to Senate Bill 368 amends G.S. 20-122.1 to conform the tire safety requirements to the federal requirements. G.S. 20-122.1 is amended to provide that tires shall be considered unsafe if any of the following apply:

1. If cut so as to expose tire cord, cracked so as to expose tire cord, or worn so as to expose tire cord.
2. There is a visible tread separation or chunking.
3. The steering axle tire has less than four thirty-seconds inch tread depth at any location around the circumference of the tire on any major tread groove.
4. Any nonsteering axle tire has less than two thirty-seconds inch tread depth around the circumference of the tire in any major tread groove.
5. The tread wear indicators are in contact with the roadway at any location around the circumference of the tire on any major tread groove.

COMPLIANCE CONSIDERATIONS

The Motor Carrier Safety Assistance Program (MCSAP) is a Federal grant program that provides financial assistance to States to reduce the number and severity of accidents involving commercial motor vehicles. Failure to comply with Federal rules on commercial motor vehicle safety would result in the loss of up to 50% of funds awarded to the State. Sections 5 and 13 of the proposed committee substitute would amend the North Carolina motor vehicle laws to comply with the Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Act, bringing the State in compliance for funding purposes.

TECHNICAL OR MECHANICAL CONSIDERATIONS

The proposed committee substitute to Senate Bill 368 has no apparent technical or mechanical considerations.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 20-4.01 is amended by adding a new subdivision to read:

"(33c) Reserve components of the Armed Forces of the United States. – The organizations listed in Title 10 United States Code, section 10101, which specifically includes the Army and Air National Guard."

SECTION 2. G.S. 20-7(f) reads as rewritten:

b. A person who is a member of the Armed Forces or of a reserve component of the Armed Forces of the United States whose license bears an expiration date that occurred while the person was on active duty outside of the United States shall be considered to have a valid license until 60 days after the date of release from active duty outside of the United States upon showing proof of the release date, unless the license was rescinded, revoked, or otherwise invalidated under some other provision of law.

(4) Renewal by mail. – The Division may renew by mail a drivers license issued by the Division to a person who meets any of the following descriptions:

b. Is a resident of this State and has been residing outside the State for at least 30 continuous days.

When renewing a license by mail, the Division may waive the examination that would otherwise be required for the renewal and may impose any conditions it finds advisable. A license renewed by mail is a temporary license that expires 60 days after the person to whom it is issued returns to this State.

SECTION 3. G.S. 20-7(r) reads as rewritten:

"(r) Waiver of Vision Test. – The following license holders shall be exempt from any required eye exam when renewing a drivers license by mail under either subsection (f) of this section or subsection (q) of this section if, at the time of renewal, the license holder is serving in a combat zone or a qualified hazardous duty zone:

(1) A member of the ~~armed forces~~ Armed Forces of the United States.

(2) A member of ~~the national guard or of~~ a reserve component of the ~~armed forces~~ Armed Forces of the United States."

SECTION 4. The Revisor of Statutes shall change the term "armed forces" to "Armed Forces" wherever that term appears in Chapter 20 of the General Statutes.

SECTION 5. This act is effective when it becomes law and applies to all licenses expiring on or after the effective date of this act.

SENATE BILL 809:
License Renewal/Active Military Duty

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 4, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Jones	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell
Analysis of:	Second Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 809 would modify drivers license renewal provisions for members of the Armed Forces and reserve components of the Armed Forces who are on active duty in the following three ways:

- Allow those members to renew a license upon receipt of deployment orders, even if it is outside of the generally applicable renewal period of 180 days before expiration.
- Extend the validity of a drivers license that expired while the member was on active duty outside of the United States.
- Allow an active duty reserve member stationed outside the State to renew a drivers license by mail. (Currently allowed for members of Armed Forces on active duty.)

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 20-7(f)(3a) allows a person to apply to the Division of Motor Vehicles to renew a drivers license during the 180-day period before the license expires and prohibits the Division from accepting renewal applications before that period.

G.S. 20-7(f)(4) permits a person serving active duty and is stationed outside to the State to renew a drivers license by mail. A license renewed by mail is a temporary license that expires 60 days after the individual returns to the State. G.S. 20-97(q) permits the Division to develop a military designation for drivers licenses issued to residents on active duty, their spouses and dependent children. Licenses with a military designation may be twice renewed by mail and do not expire when the individual returns to the State.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 809 would amend existing motor vehicle law as follows:

Section 1 – Would add a new definition in Chapter 20 (Motor Vehicles) of the General Statutes, defining "Reserve components of the Armed Forces of the United States" and specifying that the definition includes the Army and Air National Guard.

Section 2 – Would add a new subdivision to G.S. 20-7(f) (Duration and Renewal of Licenses) to:

- Allow the Division of Motor Vehicles to renew the drivers license of a member of the Armed Forces or of a reserve component of the Armed Forces with orders placing the member on active duty outside of the State, regardless of the date of expiration of the license.
- Classify as valid a drivers license that expired while a member of the Armed Forces or of a reserve component of the Armed Forces was on active duty outside of the United States. The license would continue to be valid until 60 days after the date of release from active duty outside of the United States. Licenses that were revoked, rescinded or invalidated under some other provision of law would not be declared valid under this provision.

Amends G.S. 20-7(f)(4) to allow reservists on active duty stationed outside of the State to renew their drivers license by mail, as is currently the case for active duty armed forces.

Sections 3 and 4 – Would capitalize the term Armed Forces wherever it occurs throughout Chapter 20 of the General Statutes.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act would be effective when it becomes law and would apply to all licenses expiring on or after its effective date.

BILL SUMMARY:
This bill amends G.S. 20-7 to permit a service member to renew a driver's license without limitation on the period of time before it expires if the service member is deployed on active duty outside of the state, to provide for a 30-day grace period for driver's license renewals upon a service member's release from active duty, and to provide for renewal by mail to service members on active duty. This bill amends G.S. 20-7(r) to waive the required eye exam for service members serving in combat or hazardous duty zones who renew their driver's licenses by mail. The bill makes corresponding change to the definitional provisions of G.S. 20-4.01 and requires the Revisor of Statutes to replace "armed forces" with "Armed Forces" in G.S. Chapter 20.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: Based on Division of Motor Vehicles (DMV) estimates, the total development cost to complete programming required to implement this bill is $62,560 in the first year. This includes planning, development, and implementation costs for DMV and the Office of Information Technology Services (ITS). For cost estimating purposes, DMV is using an hourly rate of $85. Total planning and design phase costs are $2,720, or 32 hours of an information technology professional's time. Most of the projected cost is for 396 hours of testing during the execution and build phase, and includes ITS's costs, for a total of $42,075. The implementation phase is estimated to cost a total of $2,210, and DMV has allowed $680 for project management. A change budget of 20% is also included.

Annual maintenance and operations costs following completion of the project are estimated at $11,628, with $8,500 required for maintenance and $3,128 for operations. Any programming requires maintenance, and DMV has allowed 6.6 hours a month at $85 an hour to maintain this application, covering their costs and ITS's. The estimated operations cost is based on five percent of the overall development cost.

TECHNICAL CONSIDERATIONS: Because of programming requirements, the DMV has proposed delaying the implementation until March 1, 2010.

SENATE BILL 777:
Tobacco Products Tax Revisions

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 5, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Garrou	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S777-CSRB-8

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 777 amends the definition of an 'integrated wholesale dealer' for purposes of the excise tax on other tobacco products (OTP) so that an affiliate of a manufacturer of OTP may be treated the same as the manufacturer for purposes of allowing relief from paying the excise tax. The tax would become payable by the wholesale or retail dealer to whom the integrated wholesale dealer sold the product.

The proposed committee substitute redrafts the language to more effectively accomplish the purpose of the legislation.

CURRENT LAW: The excise tax on OTP is paid by the wholesale dealer or retail dealer who first acquires or otherwise handles OTP. The excise tax rate on OTP is 10% of the cost price of the product.

By definition, all manufacturers are wholesale dealers. A manufacturer who is not a retail dealer and who ships OTP to either a wholesale dealer or a retail dealer may apply to the Secretary of Revenue to be relieved of paying the tax. Once granted permission, a manufacturer may choose not to pay the tax, which would result in the tax being paid by the wholesale or retail dealer to whom the manufacturer sells the product.

In 2007, the General Assembly defined the term 'integrated wholesale dealer' and allowed an integrated wholesale dealer to be treated as the same entity as the manufacturer with whom it is an affiliate for purposes of allowing relief from paying the excise tax on OTP. The change in 2007, for example, enabled Conwood Sales, an affiliate of Conwood Company, to be relieved of paying the tax on the OTP it received from Conwood Company since Conwood Company could be relieved of paying the tax.

BILL ANALYSIS: An integrated wholesale dealer is defined as a wholesale dealer who is an affiliate of a manufacturer of other tobacco products and is the only person to whom the manufacturer sells its products. Senate Bill 777 would eliminate the requirement in the definition of 'integrated wholesale dealer' that the manufacturer sells its entire product to its affiliate and it would modify the definition of manufacturer to include a contract manufacturer. Currently contract manufacturers are not explicitly included in that definition and, instead, are included in the definition of cigarette distributor.

The change to the definition of integrated wholesale dealer allows an affiliate of a manufacturer of OTP to be treated the same as the manufacturer with respect to payment of the OTP excise tax. G.S. 105-113.25 establishes the procedure by which a manufacturer can be relieved of payment of the OTP excise tax. Under the revised definition, that procedure would apply to all affiliates of a manufacturer.

The change to the definition of manufacturer makes its clear that the process in G.S. 105-113.25 applies to a person who contracts for the manufacture of OTP as well as a person who manufactures OTP directly.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill becomes effective July 1, 2009.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED:
North Carolina Department of Revenue

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 1, 2009

BILL SUMMARY: Effective July 1, 2009, SB 777 clarifies when the excise taxes on other tobacco products are payable. Under current law, the wholesale dealer or retail dealer who first acquires or otherwise handles other tobacco products (OTP) pays the excise tax. The law defines wholesale dealers under G.S. 105-113.4(a) as persons who make OTP or who acquire OTP for sale to a wholesale dealer or a retailer. A manufacturer who is not a retail dealer and who ships other tobacco products to either a wholesale or a retail dealer may apply to the Secretary to be relieved of paying the tax. Once granted permission, a manufacturer may choose to not pay the tax, which would result in the tax being paid by the receiving wholesale or retail dealer.

The bill changes the law so that the sale between affiliates who are not retail dealers does not trigger payment of the OTP excise tax. It does this by:

- Eliminating the requirement in the definition of integrated wholesale dealer that the affiliate sell all of its product to its affiliate.
- Changes the definition of manufacturer to include a contract manufacturer. This is how the law is currently administered.
- Changes the definition of distributor (for cigarettes) and wholesale dealer (for OTP) to make it clear that a manufacturer who sells to a retail dealer is considered a distributor or a wholesale dealer but not a manufacturer who does not sell to retailers.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: The Department of Revenue estimates that there is $2.5 million in uncollected assessments, penalties, and interest associated with the legislative changes in SB 777. In future years, this legislation allows for manufacturers to transfer OTP among subsidiaries and affiliate companies without incurring the excise tax. However, the tax will still be paid when the products are distributed for retail causing no net impact to the General Fund.

Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S99-CSRBx-5

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 99 does two things:

- It would extend the sunset on S.L. 2008-158 for two years, from June 30, 2009, to June 30, 2011.
- It would replace the current informational reporting requirement for the Internet sale of admission tickets in excess of face value with a 3% gross receipts privilege tax. The gross receipts tax would be imposed on the difference between the price sold and the face price on the ticket. The Senate passed this provision last session, but the House removed it. (SB 1407, 4th Edition, 2007 Session)

The proposed committee substitute makes a conforming change to G.S. 14-344.1. (Section 3)

CURRENT LAW: Reselling tickets online is a new and growing business. Last session, the General Assembly enacted S.L. 2008-158 to provide an exception to the prohibition against admission tickets being resold on the Internet at a price greater than the price printed on the face of the ticket. The law provided protections for both the consumer and the venue:

- The act required a person who resells admission tickets online to provide a ticket guarantee and to provide a purchaser with a full refund of the amount paid for the ticket if the event is cancelled, the purchaser is denied admission through no fault of the purchaser, or the ticket is not delivered to the purchaser and the failure to receive the ticket results in the purchaser's inability to attend the event.
- The act made it an unfair and deceptive trade practice for a person to knowingly sell or possess software that is primarily designed or produced for the purpose of interfering with the operation of a ticket seller who, pursuant to a written agreement with the venue, sells admission tickets over the Internet.[1]

These changes will sunset June 30, 2009. If the changes sunset, it will become a Class 2 misdemeanor for a seller or reseller of an admission ticket to charge more than the face price of the ticket, plus an authorized service fee.[2] And there will not be a prohibition on ticket purchasing software.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 99 would delay the sunset by two years and it would expand the privilege license tax to include the reselling of admission tickets on the Internet in excess of face value. G.S. 105-37.1 currently imposes a gross receipts tax on a person who sells the initial ticket to an entertainment event. The rate of tax is 3% of the admission price. The 3% gross receipts privilege tax on ticket resellers would be imposed on the difference between the price of the ticket sold and the face price on the ticket.

The 4th Edition of Senate Bill 1407, introduced by Sen. Hartsell in the 2007 Session, provided for the imposition of a 3% gross receipts privilege tax on the difference between the price of the ticket sold and

[1] If a person is found to have violated the Unfair and Deceptive Trade Practice Act, the aggrieved person is entitled to treble the amount of damages fixed by the verdict.

[2] The service fee is limited to no more than $3.00 unless the promoter of the event and the ticket sales agency, in writing, agree to and make known to the public a different amount.

the face price on the ticket. This provision was deleted from the bill when the bill was in the House Finance Committee. The conference report, as enacted last session, removed the tax provision and replaced it with a reporting requirement. A person who resells admission tickets via the Internet in excess of the face value of the ticket must report to the Department of Revenue by the 10th day after the end of each month on the gross receipts received during the previous month from reselling admission tickets for events in the State. The report must include the total amount of gross receipts derived from resell activity (minus the face value on the tickets), the event and venue for which each ticket was sold, the entity from which the reseller purchased each ticket, the amount the reseller paid for each ticket, the price received by the reseller for each ticket, the name and address of reseller-purchasers of each ticket, and any other information required by the Department. As of April 28, 2009, only 16 monthly reports had been filed by eight ticket resellers.[3]

EFFECTIVE DATE: The expansion of the gross receipts tax to ticket resellers would become effective July 1, 2009. The remainder of the act would become effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: House Bill 309, introduced by Representatives Glazier, Gibson, Tillis, and Harrell, would remove the sunset on S.L. 2008-158. It would not impose a tax on the transaction. House Bill 309 is in the Senate Commerce Committee.

S99-SMRB-4(CSRBx-5) v1

[3] Those 16 reports showed the original cost of the tickets resold was $429,198. The ticket resellers received $722,613, for a net proceeds total of $293,415.

SENATE BILL 922:
Modify SBIR/STTR Grant Requirements

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 5, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Rand	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S922-CSRB-10

SUMMARY: The proposed committee substitute for SB 922 modifies the North Carolina Small Business Program so that a business may be eligible for a grant from the program even though part of its research is conducted outside of North Carolina.[1]

CURRENT LAW: The North Carolina Board of Science and Technology administers two programs in the North Carolina Small Business Program.

- North Carolina SBIR/STTR Incentive Program. – Under this program, the Board may award grants to offset costs associated with applying for a Phase I grant from either the United States Small Business Administration for Small Business Innovative Research (SBIR) or Small Business Technology Transfer Research (STTR). The maximum grant under this program is $3,000.
- North Carolina SBIR/STTR Matching Funds Program. – Under this program, the Board may award grants to match funds received by a business as a SBIR or STTR Phase I award. The grant may not exceed $100,000.

To be eligible for the grants, a business must be a for-profit, North Carolina-based business and at least 51% of the research described in its grant proposal must be conducted in North Carolina.

BILL ANALYSIS: The PCS for Senate Bill 922 would allow a business to be eligible for a grant even though less than 51% of the research would be conducted in this State if the research requires special laboratory facilities that are not located in North Carolina.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This bill would become effective when it becomes law.

"(c) The Fund shall be used to offset the incremental fuel cost of biodiesel and biodiesel blend fuel with a minimum biodiesel concentration of B-20 for use in State vehicles, for the purchase of ethanol fuel with a minimum ethanol concentration of E-85 for use in State vehicles, the incremental vehicle cost of purchasing AFVs, for the development of related refueling infrastructure, for the costs of administering the Fund, and for projects approved by the Energy Policy Council."

SECTION 3. This act becomes effective July 1, 2009.

SENATE BILL 457:
Add Definition of Biodiesel

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 5, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Snow	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S457-CSTD-28		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 457 would add the definition of biodiesel to the energy credit banking and selling program and makes technical corrections. The proposed committee substitute to Senate Bill 457 creates separate definitions for "biodiesel" and "biodiesel blends."

[As introduced, this bill was identical to H606, as introduced by Rep. Harrison, which is currently in House Energy and Energy Efficiency, if favorable, Finance.]

CURRENT LAW: The State Energy Office (SEO) has established a banking and selling program that will use monies generated by the sale of federal Energy Policy Act (EPAct) credits to purchase alternative fuel, develop related refueling infrastructure, and purchase alternative fuel vehicles (AFV). An Alternative Fuel Revolving Fund generated from the sale of EPAct credits has been established by the Department of Administration (Department). The Motor Fleet Management Division in the Department and the Department of Transportation are the principal agencies that participate in the credit program.

State fleets can earn Biodiesel Fuel Use Credits to meet 50% of their annual AFV acquisition requirements by purchasing and using biodiesel. Biodiesel Fuel Use Credits are defined in 01 NCAC 41D .0102 to mean an EPAct credit given by the U.S. Department of Energy for each 450 gallons of pure biodiesel purchased for use in blends of 20% or higher. No credit is given for the petroleum portion of the biodiesel fuel blends.

There is currently no definition for the term biodiesel in G.S. 143-58.4 however; the term is used numerous times in that section of the General Statutes.

BILL ANALYSIS: The proposed committee substitute to Senate Bill 457 would define the term "biodiesel" to mean:

> A fuel comprised of mono-alkyl esters of long fatty acids derived from vegetable oils or animal fats, designated B100 and meeting the requirements of the American Society of Testing and Materials (ASTM) D-6751.

The proposed committee substitute to Senate Bill 457 would define the term "biodiesel blend" to mean:

> A blend of biodiesel fuel with petroleum-based diesel fuel, designated BXX where XX represents the percentage of volume of fuel in the blend meeting the requirements of ASTM D-6751.

The proposed committee substitute also makes a conforming change to G.S. 143-58.5.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Senate Bill 457 would become effective July 1, 2009.

Jennifer Mundt, substantially contributed to this summary.

AN ACT TO AUTHORIZE THE EXTENSION OF THE EXTRATERRITORIAL JURISDICTION OF THE TOWN OF OAK RIDGE.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Chapter 1 of the Charter of the Town of Oak Ridge, being S.L. 1998-113, is amended by adding a new section to read:

"Section 1.2. In accordance with G.S. 160A-360, and in the territory described below, the Town of Oak Ridge shall exercise extraterritorial jurisdiction and may exercise any other power in accordance with Article 19 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes except that G.S. 160A-360(a) and (e) do not apply:

(1) Being that area in Guilford County, beginning at the intersection of County Line Road and the corporate limits of the Town of Oak Ridge, thence along County Line Road in a generally westerly direction to the Forsyth County line, thence north along the county line to the corporate limits of the Town of Stokesdale, then following the corporate limits of the Town of Stokesdale to the point where the corporate limits of the Town of Stokesdale and the Town of Oak Ridge intersect, thence along the corporate limits of the Town of Oak Ridge beginning in a southeasterly direction and following the western side of the corporate limits of the Town of Oak Ridge.

(2) Being that area in Guilford County west of North Carolina Highway 68 that on March 1, 2009, was entirely surrounded by the corporate limits of the Town of Stokesdale and the Town of Oak Ridge.

(3) Being those areas in Guilford County west of North Carolina Highway 68 that on March 1, 2009, were entirely surrounded by the corporate limits of the Town of Oak Ridge.

SECTION 2. This act is effective when it becomes law.

SENATE BILL 495: Oak Ridge ETJ

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 5, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Berger of Rockingham	Prepared by:	Judy Collier
Analysis of:	First Edition		Research Assistant

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 495 would authorize the extension of the extraterritorial jurisdiction of the Town of Oak Ridge in certain described areas in the bill.

CURRENT LAW: Municipalities have the statutory authority to regulate land-use within their corporate limits and within an area one-mile beyond their municipal boundaries. The area outside the municipal limits, but under the municipality's planning authority, is called the extraterritorial land-use planning jurisdiction (ETJ). Land use regulation may take the form of zoning, subdivision, regulation, minimum housing codes, and regulations governing open spaces and community appearance.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 495 amends the Oak Ridge Town Charter, Chapter 1 of S.L. 1998-113, as amended, by adding a new Section 1.3, authorizing Oak Ridge to exercise extraterritorial jurisdiction over three (3) described areas in the bill.

The bill allows the Town to exercise any other power in accordance with Article 19 of G.S. 160A, except that the following statutory restrictions do not apply:

1) G.S. 160A-360(a) pertaining to the exercise of powers by a municipality within a defined area, extending not more than one mile beyond its corporate limits; not more than two miles beyond its corporate limits for a city with a population between 10,000 and 25,000, and not more than three miles beyond its corporate limits for a city with a population of 25,000 or more, all subject to approval by the county commissioners.
2) G.S. 160A-360(e) which prohibits a municipality from extending its ETJ into any area where the county is already enforcing planning regulations, zoning regulations, and the State Building Code.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Senate Bill 495 would become effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: The incorporation of Oak Ridge in 1998 (S.L. 1998-113) did not include certain territory located to the south and southwest of its boundaries with the Town of Stokesdale and bordering the Guilford County line. The area of unincorporated Guilford County north of County Line Road has historically been considered part of Oak Ridge and is part of the Oak Ridge Fire District. The Oak Ridge Town Council will provide the citizens of the unincorporated area north of County Line Road with representation in future land use recommendations. Extension of the ETJ will provide the Town of Oak Ridge the ability to ensure that the unincorporated area of Guilford County north of County Line Road develops in a manner consistent with the Town's comprehensive plan and development ordinance.

The Town of Oak Ridge adopted a Resolution in support of Senate Bill 495 on March 12, 2009. The Town of Stokesdale adopted a Resolution in support of Senate Bill 495 on March 19, 2009.

AMENDMENT: The Amendment makes a technical correction by renumbering from 1.2 to 1.3 the new Section added by Senate Bill 495 to Chapter 1 of the Oak Ridge Town Charter, to prevent duplicate section numbers in the Charter, as Section 1.2 already exists in the Charter.

Short Title: Temporary Floor for Motor Fuels Tax Rate. (Public)

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO ESTABLISH A MINIMUM MOTOR FUELS TAX RATE FOR TWO YEARS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Notwithstanding G.S. 105-449.80(a), for the period July 1, 2009, through June 30, 2011, the variable wholesale component of the motor fuel excise tax rate is twelve and four-tenths cents (12.4¢) a gallon or seven percent (7%) of the average wholesale price of motor fuel for the applicable base period, whichever is greater.

SECTION 2. This act is effective when it becomes law.

SENATE BILL 200:
Temporary Floor for Motor Fuels Tax Rate

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 5, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Jenkins	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S200-CSRBx-12

SUMMARY: The proposed committee substitute for Senate Bill 200 would provide that the motor fuels tax rate would not fall below 29.9¢ a gallon for the next two fiscal years. The bill would become effective when it becomes law.

CURRENT LAW: A motor fuel excise tax is imposed on all motor fuels sold, distributed, or used in the State. The rate of tax consists of a flat rate of 17.5¢ per gallon plus a variable wholesale component equal to the greater of 7% of the average wholesale price of motor fuel during a base six-month base period or 3.5¢ per gallon. In 2006, the General Assembly capped the variable wholesale component of the motor fuels tax at 12.4¢ per gallon, the wholesale rate for the period of January 1, 2006, through June 30, 2006.[1] The General Assembly extended the cap in 2007 from July 1, 2007, through June 30, 2009.[2] With the cap, the variable rate may be less than 12.4¢ per gallon, but it cannot be greater. With the variable component capped, the maximum possible motor fuel tax rate is 29.9¢ per gallon.

BILL ANALYSIS: The proposed committee substitute for Senate Bill 200 would provide that variable wholesale component of the motor fuels tax could not fall below 12.4¢ a gallon for the next two fiscal years. Under current law, the motor fuel tax rate would decrease from 29.9¢ a gallon to 27.9¢ a gallon on July 1, 2009, to reflect the reduction in the average wholesale price of motor fuel. The change made in this PCS ensures that the motor fuel excise tax rate would not fall below its current rate of 29.9¢ a gallon for the next two fiscal years, 2009-2010 and 2010-2011.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This section would become effective when it becomes law.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Highway Fund (HF) and Highway Trust Fund (HTF)

EFFECTIVE DATE: When the bill becomes law.

BILL SUMMARY: Notwithstanding G.S. 105-449.80(a), provides that for the two year period from July 1, 2009 through June 30, 2011 the variable wholesale rate component of the motor fuel excise tax rate is 12.4 cents per gallon (equivalent to a total motor fuels tax of 29.9 cents per gallon) or 7% of the average wholesale price of motor fuel for the applicable base period, whichever is greater.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:
Under current law the motor fuels tax rate will be adjusted on July 1, 2009 from the current rate of 29.9 cents per gallon. The expected calculated tax rate for the FY2009-10 fiscal year as a whole is forecast to be 29.16 cents per gallon, an average of 27.9 cents per gallon from July through December and 30.4 cents per gallon from January through July. (Source: Calculated from Office of State Budget and Management forecast, April 23, 2009) The PCS would set the rate for the first six month period at 29.9 cents per gallon, an increase of 2.0 cents per gallon. One penny of motor fuel tax yields approximately $50 million of revenue per year so the increase in revenue would be 2.0 times $50 million times one half year, or approximately $50 million. These revenues go to the Highway Fund (three quarters) and the Highway Trust Fund (one quarter). In the second six month period the forecast is for a calculated rate of 30.4 cents per gallon, which would be the actual rate under the PCS so there would be no change in revenues.
Forecasts for six month periods are not reliable for FY2010-2011. However, the calculated tax rate under current law is forecast to be 29.55 for the full fiscal year. The PCS would set the rate at 29.9 cents per gallon, an increase of 0.35 cents per gallon, equivalent to additional revenues of about $17.5 million.

SUMMARY: The PCS to Senate Bill 368 makes the following changes to the bill:

- The review process for penalties imposed by the Department is revised. A person who denies liability for penalties imposed under Article 3 of Chapter 120, may pay the protest under penalty and apply to the Department for a review and hearing. The procedure for the review and hearing process is the same as the existing process found in G.S. 20-382.2, the review process for penalties imposed for failure to comply with registration and insurance verification requirements.
- Removes the increase in the cap on the maximum percentage of supervisory personnel in the State Highway Patrol from 21% to 23%.

Senate Bill 368 makes the following changes to North Carolina motor vehicle laws:

- Amends eligibility requirements for issuance of a Retired Highway Patrol special plate.
- Reinstates a mandatory informal review process for those who deny liability for civil penalties assesses by the Department of Crime Control and Public Safety.
- Requires all vehicles used in intrastate commerce that are over 10,000 lbs to be marked with the name of the owner (currently applies only to vehicles between 10,000 – 26,001 lbs)
- Requires a larger flag on the end of a load that extends more than 4 ft beyond the rear of a vehicle.
- Amends safe tire provisions to comply with federal requirements.
- Amends penalties for oversize/overweight vehicles.
- Requires the Department of Crime Control and Public Safety to declare unsafe vehicles "Out-of-Service" until required repairs have been completed.
- Eliminates/narrows exemptions from brake requirements.
- Requires motorcycles to have directional signals if equipped with them by the manufacturer.
- Amends seat belt exemption for drivers and passengers in garbage and recycling trucks.
- Prohibits drivers from operating or viewing computers or DVD players in the front of the vehicle.
- Increases the cap on the maximum percentage of supervisory personnel in the State Highway Patrol from 21% to 23%.
- Requires all proceeds from the lease of property owned by the State Highway Patrol as part of the VIPER project to be used to support the project.
- Clarifies that trucks may travel over posted bridges as long as the truck does not exceed the posted weight limit.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 368 makes the following changes to the law, as requested by the State Highway Patrol:

Section 1: Retired State Highway Patrol special license plate. Currently, the surviving spouse of a person who is deceased and retired from the State Highway Patrol would have to apply for a plate within 90 days of the qualifying spouse's death. The PCS eliminates the time requirement, and requires an applicant for the plate to present a copy of the retiree's identification card or letter of retirement.

Section 2: Informal review process to protest civil penalties. The proposed committee substitute allows individuals who deny liability for a penalty imposed under Article 3 of Chapter 120, to request a review and hearing from the Department. The procedure for the review and hearing process is the same as the existing process found in G.S. 20-382.2, the review process for penalties imposed for failure to comply with registration and insurance verification requirements. Individuals may pay the penalty under protest, and then request a review and hearing. The Department must first conduct an informal review of its records to determine if the penalty was properly assessed. If so, the Department must schedule a hearing within 30 days of concluding the informal review. After the hearing, individuals may bring an action in the Superior Court of Wake County for refund of the penalty.

Section 3: All vehicles over 10,000 lbs. in intrastate commerce to be marked. Current law requires a motor vehicle weighing between 10,000 lbs. and 26,001 lbs. that is used in intrastate commerce to be marked on the side with the name of the owner. The bill requires that vehicles 26,001 lbs. and greater be marked as well.

Section 4: Flags at the end of a load. When a load on a vehicle extends more than 4 feet beyond the rear of the bed or body of the vehicle, the law requires that a red or orange flag not less than 12 inches in length and width be displayed at the end of the load during daylight hours. The bill increases the flag size required from 12 inches to 18 inches in length and width.

Section 5: Safe tires. The bill amends safe tire specifications for vehicles with a gross vehicle weight rating of 10,001 lbs. or more in order to comply with federal requirements.

Section 6, 7, and 8: Oversize/overweight penalties. The bill authorizes overweight penalties only to the extent the actual weight exceeds what is allowed in the permit (currently, the penalty would be applied as if the operator did not have a permit). It also requires the Department to assess penalties for violating special permit conditions, decreases the maximum penalty from $25,000 to $10,000, and makes it a flat $1500 penalty for operating without the proper number of escorts.

Section 9: "Out-of-Service"vehicles. The Department of Crime Control and Public Safety has the authority to prohibit a motor carrier from operating a vehicle that is unsafe for use. Under the current law, it is the duty of an agent to guide the vehicle to a location to correct the defect if the vehicle is in operative condition and movement is not dangerous. The bill would require the agent to declare the vehicle "Out-of-Service" if its condition is likely to cause a crash or breakdown and prohibits anyone from operating the vehicle until all required repairs have been completed.

Section 10 and 11: Brake exemptions. G.S. 20-124 generally requires all motor vehicles operated on the highways to be equipped with brakes adequate to control the movement of the vehicle. The bill eliminates or narrows exemptions from brake requirements as follows:

- Truck-tractors with semitrailers attached and three or more axles – brakes not required on front wheels only if manufactured prior to July 2, 1980.
- Eliminates exemption for semitrailers when used by farmers.

- Trailers used by farmers – brakes not required only if not equipped with brakes from manufacturer prior to October 1, 2009.

Section 12: Directional signals on motorcycles. Currently, motorcycles are exempt from the requirement that vehicles be equipped with directional signals. The bill would continue to exempt them only if they are not equipped with directional signals by the manufacturer.

Section 13: Seat belt exemption for garbage trucks. G.S. 20-135.2A generally requires occupants in motor vehicles to have a seatbelt properly fastened when the vehicle is in forward motion on a street or highway. There is currently an exemption from the requirement for drivers or passengers in residential garbage or recycling trucks while on collection rounds and going to and from loading and unloading locations. The bill would eliminate the exemption for the driver and for trips to and from loading and unloading locations, so the exemption would apply only to passengers during rounds.

Section 14: Prohibit computer or DVD players in front seat of vehicles. Current law prohibits television viewers or screens in the front seat of motor vehicles. The bill amends the provision to prohibit operating, using, or viewing a computer or video disc player while driving on a highway or public vehicular area.

Section 16: Proceeds from lease to support VIPER project. G.S. 146-30 requires that, when land owned by the State is sold or leased, a service charge must be paid into the State Land Fund. The bill would amend that provision to allow the Highway Patrol to lease space on a tower owned as part of the Voice Interoperability Plan for Emergency Responders (VIPER) project and have all of the proceeds deposited into an account to be used to support the VIPER network and not pay the service charge to the State Land Fund.

Section 17: Clarify weight limits on posted bridges. The Department of Transportation has the authority to determine the load-carrying capacity for bridges in the State. The bill clarifies that vehicles traveling over a bridge and exceeding the maximum load-carry weight posted are subject to a penalty.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Sections 1, 6, 15, and 16 of the bill are effective when they become law. The remainder of the bill becomes effective October 1, 2009, and applies to offenses committed on or after that date.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

This proposed bill addresses numerous changes to several statutes; however, these changes are not anticipated to have a substantial fiscal impact. A few of these changes are discussed below.

Department of Crime Control and Public Safety

The Department of Crime Control and Public Safety (CCPS) staff reported that they do not anticipate any fiscal impact as a result of Section 15 of the proposed bill becoming law. Section 15 changes the proportion of supervisory personnel of the State Highway Patrol actually serving as uniformed highway patrolmen from twenty-one percent (21%) to twenty-three percent (23%). This Section does not commit the State to any new expenses, it simply allows the State Highway Patrol to move monies within their existing budget.

Department of Transportation - Division of Motor Vehicles

The Division of Motor Vehicles does not anticipate any fiscal impact from this bill. This analysis is based on the Division's assessment that it 1) will not retain a copy or image of the identification/documentation presented for the issuance of the Retired State Highway Patrol plate; 2) will not revoke any Retired State Highway Patrol plate that was issued prior to this change, and 3) will not require identification/documentation for the renewal of an existing Retired State Highway Patrol plate.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO ENCOURAGE THE LOCATION AND EXPANSION OF CAPITAL INTENSIVE COMPANIES IN THIS STATE.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 105-130.4 is amended by adding a new subsection to read:

"(s1) All apportionable income of a capital intensive corporation shall be apportioned by multiplying the income by the sales factor as determined under subsection (l) of this section. A 'capital intensive corporation' is a corporation whose property factor as a percentage of the sum of the factors in the formula set out in subsection (i) of this section, including the doubling of the sales factor, exceeds seventy-five percent (75%). A corporation that is subject to this subsection must list on its return the property, payroll, and sales factors it used in determining whether it is a capital intensive corporation."

SECTION 2. G.S. 105-130.4(i) reads as rewritten:

"(i) All apportionable income of corporations other than public ~~utilities and excluded corporations~~ utilities, excluded corporations, and capital intensive corporations, shall be apportioned to this State by multiplying the income by a fraction, the numerator of which is the property factor plus the payroll factor plus twice the sales factor, and the denominator of which is four. ~~Provided, that where~~ If the sales factor does not exist, the denominator of the fraction ~~shall be~~ is the number of existing factors and ~~where~~ if the sales factor exists but the payroll factor or the property factor does not exist, the denominator of the fraction ~~shall be~~ is the number of existing factors plus one."

SECTION 3. This act is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2010.

SENATE BILL 575:
Modify Corporate Apportionment Formula

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 5, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Hoyle	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S575-CSRBx-13

SUMMARY: The proposed committee substitute for Senate Bill 575[1] encourages the location and expansion of capital intensive corporations in North Carolina by changing the corporate apportionment formula from a three-factor formula based on property, payroll and double-weighted sales to a single sales factor formula. A single sales factor formula would lower the corporate income tax liability of a corporation with relatively large shares of its nationwide property in the State but a relatively small share of its nationwide sales in the State.

The bill would become effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2010.

CURRENT LAW: A corporation that does business in more than one state must pay income tax to each of the states in which it has nexus. The U.S. Supreme Court cases have upheld the right of states to tax the income of multistate corporations so long as the income is fairly sourced to the taxing state. The conventional method used by states to source income has been the apportionment formula. Ideally, each state's law for determining the portion of income taxable by it would be such that, if adopted by all states, every corporation would be taxable on 100% of its income and none of its income would be taxed by more than one state.[2]

Most states use an apportionment formula based on or substantially similar to the Uniform Division of Income for Tax Purposes Act (UDITPA). UDITPA dates back to 1957 and utilizes an apportionment formula to derive an 'apportionment percentage'. Generally speaking, a taxpayer multiplies its taxable income by its apportionment percentage to determine the amount of its income sourced to a state. The state's corporate income tax rate is applied to the corporation's income apportionable to that state.

The UDITPA formula is a composite of three factors: a property factor, a payroll factor, and a sales factor. The property factor represents the ratio of the taxpayer's real and tangible personal property in the taxing state to its real and tangible personal property everywhere. Likewise, the payroll factor and the sales factor represent a ratio of the taxpayer's payroll and sales in the taxing state to its payroll and sales everywhere. Under UDITPA, the sum of the three factors is divided by three, resulting in a taxpayer's apportionment percentage.

North Carolina shifted to a double-weighted sales factor apportionment formula in 1988 at the request of RJR Nabisco.[3] A double-weighted sales factor tends to favor home-state industries that have a concentration of their total facilities in a state but sell their products all over the country. Under North Carolina's current apportionment formula, the payroll and property factors are each weighted 25% and the sales factor is weighted at 50%; the sum of the four factors is divided by four.

[1] The original contents of SB 575, which extended the sunset for JDIG, have been removed from the bill.

[2] Although there is a risk of double taxation when a corporation is taxable by states using different apportionment formulas, the U.S. Supreme Court has found that the constitution does not require a uniform apportionment formula for all states. A state's apportionment formula will be upheld unless it is found to be arbitrary or produces a result that is out of proportion to the amount of business transactions in the state.

[3] RJR Nabisco had plans for a large automated bakery in the Garner area. After the change was adopted, RJR Nabisco was bought out and forced to cut back on capital expenditures. The company never build the plant.

BILL ANALYSIS: The PCS for Senate Bill 575 would apportion the income of a capital intensive corporation with a single sales factor apportionment formula. Under the single sales factor formula, the total allocation of the corporation's nationwide profits to North Carolina would be solely based on where the corporation's sales occur. This method of apportionment would provide a tax reduction to a corporation with relatively large shares of its nationwide property and payroll in North Carolina but a relatively small share of its nationwide sales in North Carolina.

The bill defines a capital intensive corporation as one whose property factor as a percentage of the sum of the factors in North Carolina's three factor apportionment formula exceeds 75%.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The PCS for Senate Bill 575 would become effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2010.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: NC Department of Revenue; NC Department of Commerce

EFFECTIVE DATE: Effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2010.

BILL SUMMARY:
The proposed committee substitute for Senate Bill 575 encourages the location and expansion of capital intensive corporations in North Carolina by changing the corporate apportionment formula from a three-factor formula based on property, payroll and double-weighted sales to a single sales factor formula. A single sales factor formula would lower the corporate income tax liability of a corporation with relatively large shares of its nationwide property in the State but a relatively small share of its nationwide sales in the State.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:
Under current law, corporate income tax liability for multi-state taxpayers is apportioned using a three-factor apportionment formula. The formula is a composite of three factors: a property factor, a payroll factor, and a sales factor. The property factor represents the ratio of the taxpayer's real and tangible personal property in North Carolina to its real and tangible personal property everywhere. Likewise, the payroll factor and the sales factor represent a ratio of the taxpayer's payroll and sales in North Carolina to its payroll and sales everywhere. Under North Carolina's current apportionment formula, the payroll and property factors are each weighted 25% and the sales factor is weighted at 50%.

The PCS to S575 would change the apportionment formula for eligible taxpayers so that only the sales factor would be considered in apportioning income. Under this method, income is apportioned by applying a fraction, the numerator of which is the total sales of the corporation in the State and the denominator is the total sales of the corporation everywhere. This method of apportionment would provide a tax reduction to a corporation with relatively large shares of its nationwide property and payroll in North Carolina but a relatively small share of its nationwide sales in North Carolina.

The Department of Revenue provided data for the top 100 companies based on investment in tangible personal property and appraised property value for purposes of franchise tax base. The information provided included the companies' property, sales and payroll factors. Three companies were identified that would meet the eligibility requirement for a capital intensive company, that is, each has a property factor that is at least 75% of the total of the three factors. By changing to a single factor apportionment formula, these companies would have reduced income tax liability of approximately $1.5 million annually.

If additional companies locate in North Carolina and qualify as capital intensive corporations, the revenue loss would increase by an amount depending on the amount of income apportionable to the State under current law versus the single factor formula.

SENATE BILL 1006:
Withholding on Contractors Identified by ITIN

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 6, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Hoyle	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S1006-CSRBx-14

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 1006 would require a person who pays compensation other than wages to someone whose taxpayer identification number is an ITIN as opposed to a social security number to withhold 4% of the compensation. The bill would become effective January 1, 2010.

The proposed committee substitute better integrates the new provisions into the current statutes, it modifies the definition of 'contractor' to conform to the new provisions, and it conforms the due date of the withholding returns and remittances to the general due date for income tax withholdings.

CURRENT LAW: North Carolina taxes income derived from businesses, trades, and occupations carried on in this State. An employer is required to deduct and withhold from an employee's wages the State income taxes payable by the employee on those wages and deposit the withheld taxes with the Department of Revenue. A person who pays more than $1,500 during a calendar year as compensation other than wages for personal services performed in this State by a nonresident individual or entity must withhold 4% of the payment and remit the withheld taxes to the Department. The withheld taxes are credited to the employee or to the nonresident individual or entity from whom they were withheld. People from whom taxes have been withheld receive credit for the withheld taxes by filing a North Carolina income tax return; any excess is refunded to the taxpayer.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 1006 would require a person who, in the regular course of a trade or business, pays compensation other than wages to an ITIN holder to withhold 4% of the payment and remit the withheld taxes to the Department. An ITIN holder is defined as a person whose taxpayer identification number is an Individual Taxpayer Identification Number (ITIN). An ITIN is issued to a person who is required to have a taxpayer identification number but is not eligible to obtain a social security number. A person may obtain a social security if the person has been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence or under other immigration categories that authorize employment in the United States.

A payer required to withhold taxes from compensation paid to an ITIN holder must file a return and pay the withheld taxes to the Department. The withheld taxes are payable quarterly, monthly, or semiweekly depending upon the average amount withheld by a payer each month. If the amounts withheld average less than $250 a month, the payments are due quarterly. If the amounts withheld average at least $250 but less than $2,000, the payments are due monthly. All other payments are due by the date set under the Internal Revenue Code for payment of federal employment taxes attributable to the same wages. A payer who withholds taxes from compensation paid to an ITIN holder must give the person a written statement by January 31 following the end of the calendar year that sets out the total amount of compensation paid during the calendar year to the person and the total amount deducted and withheld.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill becomes effective January 1, 2010.

BACKGROUND: The Department of Revenue requested this change in the law to better enable it to collect State income taxes on amounts paid to ITIN holders who are not employees.[1] The Department reviewed 1099 Forms available through the Federal Data Exchange Program with the Internal Revenue Service. A review of the data indicated a number of North Carolina ITIN holders as the recipients of 1099 miscellaneous payments. Often, the ITIN holders receiving the compensation identified on the 1099 forms were illegal immigrants. Attempted collections of these amounts by the Department resulted in less than 10% of the amount of tax due. The Department believes that a withholding requirement on non-employee compensation paid to ITIN holders will insure the tax is properly paid on income earned in the State. The withholding requirement could apply to an array of businesses but one of the predominant ones would be the construction trades.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2010.

BILL SUMMARY:
Senate Bill 1006 would require a person who pays compensation other than wages to someone whose taxpayer identification number is an ITIN as opposed to a social security number to withhold 4% of the compensation. The bill would become effective January 1, 2010.
The proposed committee substitute better integrates the new provisions into the current statutes, it modifies the definition of 'contractor' to conform to the new provisions, and it conforms the due date of the withholding returns and remittances to the general due date for income tax withholdings.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:
Compensation paid to ITIN holders, along with other non-employee compensation payments, is reported to the Internal Revenue Service on the Form 1099 Misc. return. The Department of Revenue receives extract tapes containing Form 1099 data through the Federal Data Exchange Program. Based on 2006 tax year data, the most recent year for which data is available, the Department estimates that non-taxed income received by individuals with ITIN numbers and tax liability in excess of $300 amounted to $452 million.

SB 1006 would require withholding of 4% of compensation paid to contractors with ITINs. Applying the 4% rate to the non-taxed income figure of $452 million results in an annual revenue increase of $18.1 million. The bill would be in effect for half of FY 2009-10, which would result in a first-year increase of about $9 million.

(a2) Compensatory Mitigation Options Available to Applicants Other than the North Carolina Department of Transportation. – An applicant other than the North Carolina Department of Transportation may satisfy compensatory mitigation requirements by any of the following actions:

(1) Participation in a compensatory mitigation bank if the Department approves the use of the bank for the required compensatory mitigation. The compensatory mitigation fee schedule shall be based on the area of the riparian buffer that is permitted to be lost and the cost to provide equivalent or greater protection of water quality in the same river basin as that provided by the riparian buffer this is lost by:

(1) Restoration or enhancement of existing riparian buffers.

(2) Acquisition of land for and creation of new riparian buffers.

(3) Maintenance and monitoring of restored, enhanced, or created riparian buffers over time.

SENATE BILL 755:
Promote Mitigation Banks

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 6, 2009
Introduced by:	Senator Clodfelter	Prepared by:	Jeff Hudson
Analysis of:	Second Edition		Staff Attorney

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 755 would provide that, under certain circumstances, persons required to perform environmental mitigation must seek the mitigation from a mitigation bank before seeking mitigation from the Environmental Enhancement Program.

CURRENT LAW AND BACKGROUND:

Federal and State law require developers, which includes the North Carolina Department of Transportation as well as private developers, to avoid, minimize, or mitigate damage to wetlands, damage to riparian buffers, and excess nutrient loading. One of the measures available to developers is the payment of fees into public or private programs that offset the actions of the developers with projects that restore, create, enhance, or preserve natural resources similar to those that were lost. A developer may generally do this in one of two ways.

- The developer may buy credits from a compensatory mitigation or nutrient offset bank that has already restored, created, enhanced, or preserved natural resources. There are a number of such approved banks operating in North Carolina.
- The developer may pay compensatory mitigation or nutrient offset fees to public entities or private nonprofit conservation organizations. Under this type of arrangement, the fees are typically accumulated to establish consolidated mitigation or nutrient offset projects. It is under this system that the Environmental Enhancement Program works.

During the 2008 Regular Session of the 2007 General Assembly, the General Assembly enacted Senate Bill 1885 (Promote Private Compensatory Mitigation). This legislation provided that, under certain circumstances, certain applicants for compensatory wetlands mitigation must seek the compensatory wetlands mitigation from a private wetlands mitigation bank before seeking wetlands mitigation from the Environmental Enhancement Program.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Senate Bill 755 would do several things relating to compensatory mitigation and nutrients offsets:

- The bill would make technical and clarifying changes related to last Session's Senate Bill 1885 (Promote Private Compensatory Mitigation).
- The bill would provide that under certain circumstances, applicants for compensatory riparian buffer mitigation, other than the North Carolina Department of Transportation, must seek the compensatory riparian buffer mitigation from a compensatory mitigation bank before seeking mitigation from the Environmental Enhancement Program.

Specifically, an applicant must first seek compensatory riparian buffer mitigation from a compensatory mitigation bank if:

  - The Department of Environment and Natural Resources, (DENR) has approved the use of the bank for the required compensatory mitigation.

- There is at least one compensatory mitigation bank in the hydrologic area that has been approved by DENR.

If there is no mitigation bank that meets these requirements, the applicant may seek mitigation from the Ecosystem Enhancement Program. The applicant always has the option to implement its own riparian buffer restoration plan or to donate land to a public entity or conservation organization approved by DENR.

- The bill would provide that under certain circumstances, applicants for nutrient offset credits, other than the North Carolina Department of Transportation, must seek the nutrient offset credits from a nutrient offset bank before seeking nutrient offset credits from the Environmental Enhancement Program. Specifically, an applicant must first seek nutrient offset credits from a nutrient offset bank if:
  - DENR has approved the use of the bank for the required nutrient offsets.
  - There is at least one nutrient offset bank in the hydrologic area that has been approved by DENR.

If there is no nutrient offset bank that meets these requirements, the applicant may seek nutrient offsets from the Ecosystem Enhancement Program. The applicant always has the option to implement its own nutrient offset plan or to donate land to a public entity or conservation organization approved by DENR.

SENATE BILL 262:
Expunctions/Purge Online Databases

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 12, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Berger of Franklin	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to Second Edition S262-CSRB-19

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 262 amends the laws pertaining to the expunction of criminal records to require that the court send a certified copy of the expunction order to the Department of Correction, DMV, and any other State & local agencies identified by the petitioner, and direct those agencies to expunge their records of the petitioner's charge or conviction. The bill also requires that a State agency receiving an order of expunction notify any private entity with which it has a licensing agreement for data from the agency's criminal record database, and imposes a duty on the private entity to expunge its records and not disseminate any information for which it has received notice of expunction. The bill creates liability for a private entity that violates the expunction requirement and authorizes court costs and attorneys' fees for a prevailing party

The proposed committee substitute makes the following changes to the bill:

- It moves the substantive provisions to Section 1 of the bill. The remaining sections amend existing statutes to conform to the changes made in Section 1 of the bill.
- It consolidates into one statute, GS 15A-150, all of the notification requirements contained in the various expunction statutes. It consolidates into one statute, GS 15A-151, the responsibility of AOC to maintain a confidential file.
- The civil liability imposed on a private entity that violates the expunction requirements is placed in GS 15A-152. The PCS provides that an application to AOC for a certificate of verification that expunction notice requirements were met must be accompanied by a sworn affidavit. The sworn affidavit is not a public record unless it becomes part of a court proceeding.
- It removes the civil penalty from the bill.

CURRENT LAW: The terms 'expunction' and 'expungement' are used interchangeably, and both appear in the statutes. Expunction is a judicial process for removing records pertaining to a criminal case. The purpose of expunction is to clear the public record of entries so that a person who is entitled to expunction may omit reference to the charges to potential employers and others, and so that a records check for prior arrests and convictions will not disclose the expunged entries. In North Carolina, expunction is limited to specifically defined situations, and a person can generally be granted only one expungement in his or her lifetime. Each expunction statute specifically prescribes who may apply for an expungement and then specifies the conditions under which a court can order an expungement. The statutes that allow a person to petition for an expunction of a record are provided in the "Background" section of the summary.

BILL ANALYSIS: The bill imposes the following duties on a private entity that compiles and disseminates for compensation criminal history record information:

- It may only disseminate information it receives within 90 days of the date of dissemination.
- It must notify the State agency from which it receives information of any other entity to which it sells any compilation of the information.

- It must delete records from its data base when it receives notice from the State agency to do so and it must notify any entity to which it sells the information to delete the record from its database. The bill requires a State agency to notify any private entity with which it has a licensing agreement for bulk extracts of data from the agency's criminal record database of any deletions the agency made from its records and that the entity must make from its records.

The bill provides a cause of action against a private entity that disseminates information for which it has received notice to delete. The entity would be liable for any damages sustained by the person who is the subject of the information. A person who prevails in such an action is entitled to recover court costs and reasonable attorney fees.

The bill also makes various clarifying and conforming changes to the expunction statutes:

- It provides that the clerk must notify the arresting agency and, when applicable, the Division of Motor Vehicles and the Department of Correction. DMV and DOC also keep records that need to be expunged. Some expunction statutes listed them and others did not. The PCS consolidates all of the notification provisions into one statute to make them consistent.
- It provides that the clerk must notify any State or local agency identified by the petitioner as bearing record of the offense that has been expunged.
- It consolidates into one statute AOC's responsibility to maintain a confidential file of the expunction and expands the purposes for which it may disclose the expunction to include a person requesting confirmation of the person's own discharge or expunction and a court when subpoenaed to do so pursuant to a civil action filed in accordance with the provisions of this bill.
- It amends existing statutes to conform to the changes made by the bill.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill would become effective. October 1, 2009.

BACKGROUND: The following statutes provide for an expunction of records:

G.S. 14-50.30 provides for the expunction of records for a person who is convicted of an offense under the Street Gang Suppression Act if the person has not been previously convicted of any criminal offense, and the person was under the age of 18 at the time of the conviction. Expunction is not available if the person acted as an organizer, supervisor, or in any position of management with regard to a criminal street gang in engaging in a pattern of street gang activity, or if the person recruited minors under age 16 to participate in criminal street gang activity.

G.S. 15A-145 provides for the expunction of records for first offenders under the age of 18 at the time of conviction of a misdemeanor. A person who is convicted of a misdemeanor before reaching the age of 18 may petition to have that conviction expunged after 2 years, if there have been no other convictions. G.S. 15A-145 also provides for the expunction of records for first offenders under the age of 21 at the time of conviction of misdemeanor possession of alcohol. A person who is convicted of misdemeanor possession of alcohol while under the age of 21 may petition to have that conviction expunged after 2 years, if there have been no other convictions.

G.S. 15A-146 provides for the expunction of records when charges are dismissed or there is a finding of not guilty. A person charged with, but not convicted of, any misdemeanor or felony offense can apply to have the charge expunged. Persons who have previously received an expunction, or persons who have previously been convicted of a felony, would not qualify under this provision.

G.S. 15A-147 provides for the expunction of records when a charge is dismissed or there is a finding of not guilty in a case where a person is charged with a crime as a result of someone else using the person's identifying information to commit an infraction or crime. The person can apply to have the charge expunged when: (1) the charge against the person is dismissed, (2) a finding of not guilty is made, or (3) the conviction is set aside. There is no limit to the number of times a person who is the victim of identity fraud can qualify for expunction under this provision.

G.S. 15A-149 provides for the expunction of records for a person who is convicted of a crime and receives a pardon of innocence from the Governor.

G.S. 90-96 and G.S. 90-113.14 provide for the conditional discharge and dismissal of proceedings for certain first-time offenders under the N.C. Controlled Substances Act, the Toxic Vapors Act, and the Drug Paraphernalia Act. Upon discharge and dismissal, an offender age 21 or under may apply for expunction of the record.

- G.S. 90-96 provides for the expunction of records when a person age 21 or under is charged with misdemeanor possession of a controlled substance or possession of less than 1 gram of cocaine, and the charges are subsequently dismissed or there is a finding of not guilty. The person may apply to the court for an order to expunge official records relating to the person's arrest, indictment or information, or trial. An order of expunction will be granted if the court determines that the person was not over 21 at the time of any of the proceedings.
- G.S. 113.14 contains similar provisions for the misdemeanor possession of controlled substances in violation of the Toxic Vapors Act and to possession of drug paraphernalia.

Brenda Carter, counsel to the Senate JII Committee, substantially contributed to this summary.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Judicial Branch, Department of Motor Vehicles, Department of Correcton

BILL SUMMARY:
Current statutes direct the court to inform law enforcement agencies of an expunction order. This PCS would also require the court to direct the Department of Correction (DOC), the Division of Motor Vehicles (DMV), and any other State or local government agencies identified by the petitioner to expunge their records of the petitioner's criminal conviction.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

Judicial Branch

This bill would result in both savings and costs to the Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC). The net impact cannot be determined.

Savings/Reduction in Court Workload:
Currently, the clerks of superior court notify only the arresting agency regarding an expunction. As a result, the Department of Corrections' (DOC) records may contain expunged convictions, which are included by third-party vendors in criminal records searches. AOC personnel have received phone calls and other communications from individuals whose records have been expunged but whose convictions still appear in online criminal records searches. If DOC were directed to expunge those records, AOC would anticipate a reduction in future call volume. Similarly, AOC would anticipate some reduction – although not as significant – due to directives to expunge the Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) and other government records.

Costs/Increases in Court Workload:
Clerks already notify the arresting agency, but they will incur some costs to notify other governmental agencies of an expunction. AOC has the capability to inform DOC electronically, and AOC already informs DMV of expunctions for civil drivers' license revocations. However, this PCS would require that those two agencies be notified with a certified copy of the order by the clerks of superior court. This requirement would impact the court system in the form of court personnel time, supplies, and postage.

New 15A-150 requires AOC to notify any private entity with which it has a licensing agreement for bulk extracts of criminal record data to delete the expunged record. AOC already does this electronically; therefore there would be no impact from this provision. Currently, AOC is only required to keep records of some types of expunctions. New 15A-151 would require AOC to maintain confidential records of all expunctions. There would be information technology and storage costs associated with this requirement. At this time, AOC cannot determine the exact cost of this requirement.

Falsely swearing an affidavit is punishable as perjury, a Class F felony. AOC cannot project the number of charges that would result from this bill. For every new charge, costs to AOC would range from $1,135 (plea) to $10,995 (trial). Indigent defense costs would average $885 per indigent defendant. In FY 2007-08, a typical felony case took approximately 220 days to dispose in Superior Court. Any increase in judicial caseload without accompanying resources could be expected to further delay the disposition of cases.

BILL SUMMARY:
Current statutes direct the court to inform law enforcement agencies of an expunction order. This PCS would also require the court to direct the Department of Correction (DOC), the Division of Motor Vehicles (DMV), and any other State or local government agencies identified by the petitioner to expunge their records of the petitioner's criminal conviction.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

Judicial Branch

This bill would result in both savings and costs to the Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC). The net impact cannot be determined.

Savings/Reduction in Court Workload:
Currently, the clerks of superior court notify only the arresting agency regarding an expunction. As a result, the Department of Corrections' (DOC) records may contain expunged convictions, which are included by third-party vendors in criminal records searches. AOC personnel have received phone calls and other communications from individuals whose records have been expunged but whose convictions still appear in online criminal records searches. If DOC were directed to expunge those records, AOC would anticipate a reduction in future call volume. Similarly, AOC would anticipate some reduction – although not as significant – due to directives to expunge the Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) and other government records.

Costs/Increases in Court Workload:
Clerks already notify the arresting agency, but they will incur some costs to notify other governmental agencies of an expunction. AOC has the capability to inform DOC electronically, and AOC already informs DMV of expunctions for civil drivers' license revocations. However, this PCS would require that those two agencies be notified with a certified copy of the order by the clerks of superior court. This requirement would impact the court system in the form of court personnel time, supplies, and postage.

New 15A-150 requires AOC to notify any private entity with which it has a licensing agreement for bulk extracts of criminal record data to delete the expunged record. AOC already does this electronically; therefore there would be no impact from this provision. Currently, AOC is only required to keep records of some types of expunctions. New 15A-151 would require AOC to maintain confidential records of all expunctions. There would be information technology and storage costs associated with this requirement. At this time, AOC cannot determine the exact cost of this requirement.

SENATE BILL 388:
Collection of Offender Fines and Fees

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 12, 2009
Introduced by:	Sen. Clodfelter	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S388-CSRB-20		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: The proposed committee substitute for Senate Bill 388 clarifies the assessment of the collection assistance fee the General Assembly authorized the Judicial Department to impose in 2007. It specifically provides that the Department may contract with a county to collect past due amounts and to assess a fee equal to the costs incurred. The bill becomes effective when it becomes law.

CURRENT LAW: In 2007, the Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2007 contained a provision authoring the Judicial Department to collect fines, fees and costs that remained unpaid 30 days after the time period allotted by the court through the assessment of a collection assistance fee, through contracts with a collection agency, and through the Setoff Debt Collection Act. The 2007 provision applies to 'offenders not sentenced to supervised probation', meaning it may apply to offenders sentenced to unsupervised probation and offenders sanctioned with only a fine or community service as well as to offenders given active sentences.

The Department is not aware of any instances in which the fee has been assessed.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 388 would allow a county to retain the collection assistance fee and would provide that the Judicial Department could pursue civil liens and judgments against offenders, report delinquencies to credit agencies, and make referrals to credit counseling agencies and debt restructuring agencies.

The proposed committee substitute for Senate Bill 388 addresses concerns raised by the Department and technical considerations listed in the fiscal note. It also seeks to address the issue raised by Mecklenburg County as to whether and when a county may retain the collection assistance fee.

The PCS does the following:

- It clarifies that the Department may contract with a county or with a collection agency to collect amounts unpaid 30 days after the time allotted by the court. The Department may assess a collection assistance fee equal to the amount charged by the county or collection agency to collect the amounts due. The collection assistance fee may not exceed 20% of the amounts past due.
- It provides that the amounts that may be collected include not only fines, fees, and costs but also restitution.
- It removes the reference to the Setoff Debt Collection Act from G.S. 7A-321 because it is unnecessary. Chapter 105A, the Setoff Debt Collection Act, governs the interception of tax refund checks.
- It removes the provision from the bill that would allow the Department to pursue civil liens and judgments because it is unnecessary. G.S. 15A-1365 provides for a civil judgment remedy.
- It removes the provision from the bill that would allow the Department to report delinquencies to credit agencies because it is not needed. Credit agencies currently gather data for credit reports from the public records in the civil judgment indexes. To require the Department to report delinquencies to the credit agencies may subject it to the Fair Credit Reporting Act. The Fiscal Note indicates that significant additional resources would be needed by the Department to meet the requirements of the Act.

- It removes the provision from the bill that would allow the Department to make referrals to credit counseling agencies and debt restructuring services because any collections received through this remedy do not appear to justify the costs associated with it. The Department does not currently maintain lists of such services. If the Department implemented this remedy, it would need to not only compile and maintain a list of these services but also monitor and review the list to ensure the service providers on it are reputable.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill would become effective when it becomes law.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Judicial Branch

BILL SUMMARY:
Current law allows the Judicial Department (Department) in its efforts to collect the fines, fees, and costs owed by offenders who are not sentenced to supervised probation to assess a collection assistance fee if the amount owed by an offender remains unpaid for 30 days after the time allotted by the court for payment to be made. This bill amends GS 7A-321(b) to permit the county in which the collection assistance fee is collected to retain that fee. Also authorizes the following additional methods for the Department to collect fines and fees from offenders: (1) pursue civil liens and judgments against offenders; (2) report delinquencies to credit agencies; and (3) make referrals to credit counseling agencies and debt restructuring services.
Effective July 1, 2009, and applies to cases adjudicated on or after that date
Source: Bill Digest S.B. 388 (03/03/0200).

Administrative Office of the Courts

In attempting to collect fines, fees, and costs owed by offenders not sentenced to supervised probation, current G.S. 7A-321(b) allows the courts to assess a collection assistance fee as specified, enter into contracts with collection agencies, and intercept tax refund checks. Current G.S. 15A-1365 also provides for a civil judgment remedy.

This proposed bill would expand the avenues available to the court system to collect fines, fees, and costs from offenders not sentenced to supervised probation. Specifically, the courts would be able to pursue civil liens and judgments, report delinquencies to credit agencies, and make referrals to credit counseling agencies and debt restructuring services. The bill would also permit the county in which the collection assistance fee is collected to retain the fee. Because this bill would apply to offenders not sentenced to supervised probation, it would cover unsupervised probationers, offenders sanctioned with only a fine or other such punishment, and offenders given active sentences.

The language in proposed 7A-321(b) is permissive – that is, the courts would not be required to engage in any of these activities to collect monies owed. However, if the courts as a whole – or one or more local court officials – were to engage in some of these activities, there would be a cost to the AOC. If these activities were to result in increased collections, there would be an increase in funds for the schools (through collection of fines), counties (through collection of facility fees), the State General Fund, other State funds, and other monies such as attorneys' fees. AOC cannot determine whether such an increase would in fact occur, or whether the increase would outweigh the costs of implementing the provisions of this bill.

Collection assistance fee retained by county:
Although the bill language states that a county may retain the current collection assistance fee of 7A-321(b)(1), AOC is unaware of any instances in which the fee has been charged since its enactment in 2007. Thus, AOC cannot determine what the precise impact of the proposed change in language would be. As the statute is currently written, a collection assistance fee could be retained by a third party collection agency that has contracted to collect monies due from offenders. This contractor could be a county government and therefore receive the fee under current law. The proposed language appears to permit the county to retain the fee even if the work was carried out by a third party vendor, which could negatively impact the AOC's future ability to contract with vendors for collection assistance. In addition, funds retained by the counties would reduce the amount of funds that would normally be remitted to the General Fund, schools, or the county court facilities.

Pursue civil liens and judgments against offenders:
G.S. 15A-1365 already provides for a civil judgment remedy for fines and costs after a failure to pay. Docketing of civil judgments for attorney fees and restitution to Victim's Rights Act victims are already provided for in other statutes; it is unclear whether the authority granted by SB 388 would be in lieu of or in addition to the docketing permissions of those statutes. Therefore, AOC cannot determine the impact, if any, from new 7A-321(b)(4). (See Technical Consideration #3)

Report delinquencies to credit agencies:
This bill allows, but does not require, AOC to report delinquencies to credit agencies. Should AOC decide to do so, the Clerks and AOC could be subject to the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) and all its requirements. Currently the clerks do not "report" credit information (e.g. judgments); this information is a matter of public record that credit bureaus gather to create credit reports. Therefore, if the courts were to engage in these actions and thus become a "reporting agency", significant additional resources including a debtor/creditor attorney position would be required to ensure compliance with FRCA and related regulations.

If the act of reporting delinquencies were to increase collections, there would be an increase in fines, fees, and other costs collected. AOC cannot determine whether such an increase would in fact occur, or whether the increase would outweigh the costs of becoming a reporting agency under the FRCA.

Make referrals to credit agencies and debt restructuring services:
The courts do not currently maintain lists of such services. There would be costs associated with reviewing the agencies and compiling and maintaining lists. If such referrals result in increased collections, there would be an increase in fines, fees and other costs collected.

SOURCES OF DATA: Administrative Office of the Courts

TECHNICAL CONSIDERATIONS:

1. Amends G.S. 7A-321(b)(1): The basis on which the county would retain the fee is unclear. It is also unclear what is intended by the use of the term "county" – the county government, the Clerk of Courts, the school system, etc. Also, this proposed change appears to be unnecessary, as a county could enter into a contract with the AOC to provide collection assistance and thus receive the collection assistance free under current law.

2. It is unclear from an operational standpoint how the provisions in this bill would work – is it the AOC that would be expected to take these measures to local court officials?

3. Pursuit of civil judgments by "the Department" is unclear given that the current statutes provide for docketing via the criminal judgment imposing sentence (attorney fees and restitution) or by order of the court pursuant to failure to pay (fines and costs).

4. It is unclear whether the provisions of this bill would apply to restitution.

5. Given that the provisions of the bill would apply to defendants "not sentenced to supervised probation," it would apply not only to unsupervised probationers, but also to defendants receiving active time.

HOUSE BILL 336:
Richlands/Satellite Annexations

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 20, 2009
Introduced by:	Rep. Tucker	Prepared by:	Judy Collier

SUMMARY: House Bill 336 adds the Town of Richlands to the cities and towns that may exceed the ten percent area limitation for a voluntary annexation of a noncontiguous area. The bill also repeals a provision of S.L. 2008-30 relating to the Town of Richlands which if HB 336 is enacted as currently drafted would no longer be applicable.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 160A-58.1 governs the voluntary annexation by a municipality of noncontiguous property. A city may annex an area not contiguous to its primary corporate limits upon the receipt of a valid petition signed by all owners of real property in the area to be annexed and if the area meets the following five standards:

1. The nearest point on the proposed satellite corporate limits must be not more than three miles from the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.
2. No point on the proposed satellite corporate limits may be closer to the primary corporate limits of another city than to the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.
3. The area must be so situated that the annexing city will be able to provide the same services within the proposed satellite corporate limits that it provides within its primary corporate limits.
4. If the area proposed for annexation, or any portion thereof, is a subdivision as defined in G.S. 160A-376, all of the subdivision must be included.
5. The area within the proposed satellite corporate limits, when added to the area within all other satellite corporate limits, may not exceed ten percent (10%) of the area within the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Section 1 repeals Section 2 of S.L. 2008-30 which excluded a certain tract of property from the Town of Richlands for the purpose of calculating noncontiguous area.

Section 2 adds the Town of Richland to a list of cities and towns that may exceed the ten percent area limitation provided in subdivision 5 of G.S. 160A-58.1(b).

EFFECTIVE DATE: Effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: The following Cities and Towns are currently authorized to disregard the 5th standard: Cities of Claremont, Concord, Conover, Durham, Elizabeth City, Gastonia, Greenville, Hickory, Kannapolis, Locust, Marion, Mount Airy, Mount Holly, New Bern, Newton, Oxford, Randleman, Roanoke Rapids, Rockingham, Sanford, Salisbury, Southport, Statesville, and Washington and the Towns of Ahoskie, Angier, Ayden, Benson, Bladenboro, Burgaw, Calabash, Catawba, Clayton, Columbia, Columbus, Cramerton, Creswell, Dallas, Dobson, Four Oaks, Fuquay-Varina, Garner, Godwin, Granite Quarry, Green Level, Grimesland, Holly Ridge, Holly Springs, Kenansville, Kenly, Knightdale, Landis, Leland, Lillington, Louisburg, Maggie Valley, Maiden, Mayodan, Middlesex, Midland, Mocksville, Morrisville, Mount Pleasant, Nashville, Oak Island, Pembroke, Pine Level, Princeton, Ranlo, Rolesville, Rutherfordton, Shallotte, Smithfield, Spencer, Stem, Stovall, Surf City, Swansboro, Taylorsville, Troutman, Troy, Wallace, Warsaw, Watha, Waynesville, Weldon, Wendell, Windsor, Yadkinville, and Zebulon.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO FACILITATE THE TRANSFER OF MOTOR VEHICLES FROM THE UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE TO LOCAL GOVERNMENT UNITS, VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPARTMENTS, AND VOLUNTEER RESCUE SQUADS AND TO CLARIFY THAT THE DIVISION OF LAW ENFORCEMENT SUPPORT SERVICES IS A DIVISION OF THE DEPARTMENT OF CRIME CONTROL AND PUBLIC SAFETY.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 20-73(b)

"§ 20-73. New owner must get new certificate of title.

(a) Time Limit. – A person to whom a vehicle is transferred, whether by purchase or otherwise, must apply to the Division for a new certificate of title. An application for a certificate of title must be submitted within 28 days after the vehicle is transferred. A person who must follow the procedure in G.S. 20-76 to get a certificate of title and who applies for a title within the required 20-day time limit is considered to have complied with this section even when the Division issues a certificate of title to the person after the time limit has elapsed.

A person may apply directly for a certificate of title or may allow another person, such as the person from whom the vehicle is transferred or a person who has a lien on the vehicle, to apply for a certificate of title on that person's behalf. A person to whom a vehicle is transferred is responsible for getting a certificate of title within the time limit regardless of whether the person allowed another to apply for a certificate of title on the person's behalf.

(b) Exceptions. – This section does not apply to any of the following:

(1) ~~a~~ A dealer or an insurance company to whom a vehicle is transferred when the transfer meets the requirements of G.S. 20-75. ~~A person who must follow the procedure in G.S. 20-76 to get a certificate of title and who applies for a title within the required 20-day time limit is considered to have complied with this section even when the Division issues a certificate of title to the person after the time limit has elapsed.~~

(2) A State agency that assists the United States Department of Defense in purchasing or transferring a vehicle to a unit of local government, a volunteer fire department, or a volunteer rescue squad.

(c) Penalties. – A person to whom a vehicle is transferred who fails to apply for a certificate of title within the required time is subject to a civil penalty of fifteen dollars ($15.00) and is guilty of a Class 2 misdemeanor. A person who undertakes to apply for a certificate of title on behalf of another person and who fails to apply for a title within the required time is subject to a civil penalty of fifteen dollars ($15.00). When a person to whom a vehicle is transferred fails to obtain a title within the required time because a person who undertook to apply for the certificate of title did not do so within the required time, the Division may impose a civil penalty only on the person who undertook to apply for the title. Civil penalties collected under this subsection shall be credited to the Highway Fund."

SECTION 2. G.S. 105-187.6(a) reads as rewritten:

"(a) Full Exemptions. – The tax imposed by this Article does not apply when a certificate of title is issued as the result of a transfer of a motor vehicle:

(1) To the insurer of the motor vehicle under G.S. 20-109.1 because the vehicle is a salvage vehicle.

(2) To either a manufacturer, as defined in G.S. 20-286, or a motor vehicle retailer for the purpose of resale.

(3) To the same owner to reflect a change or correction in the owner's name.

(3a) To one or more of the same co-owners to reflect the removal of one or more other co-owners, when there is no consideration for the transfer.

(4) By will or intestacy.

(5) By a gift between a husband and wife, a parent and child, or a stepparent and a stepchild.

(6) By a distribution of marital or divisible property incident to a marital separation or divorce.

(7) To a handicapped person from the Department of Health and Human Services after the vehicle has been equipped by the Department for use by the handicapped.

(8) To a local board of education for use in the driver education program of a public school when the motor vehicle is transferred:

a. By a retailer and is to be transferred back to the retailer within 300 days after the transfer to the local board.

b. By a local board of education.

(9) To a volunteer fire department or volunteer rescue squad that is not part of a unit of local government, has no more than two paid employees, and is exempt from State income tax under G.S. 105-130.11, when the motor vehicle is one of the following:

a. A fire truck, a pump truck, a tanker truck, or a ladder truck used to suppress fire.

b. A four-wheel drive vehicle intended to be mounted with a water tank and hose and used for forest fire fighting.

c. An emergency services vehicle.

(10) To a State agency from a unit of local government, volunteer fire department, or volunteer rescue squad to enable the State agency to transfer the vehicle to another unit of local government, volunteer fire department, or volunteer rescue squad. "

SECTION 3. Article 11 of Chapter 143B of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new Part to read:

"Part 7. Law Enforcement Support Services Division.

"§ 143B-508. Law Enforcement Support Services Division established.

The Law Enforcement Support Services Division is established within the Department of Crime Control and Public Safety. The Division is authorized to perform the following functions:

(1) Manage State, local, and federal programs that facilitate or enable the transfer of technology, goods, and services through programs for excess property, property acquisition, and equipment loans.

(2) Provide central storage and management of evidence according to the provisions of Article 13 of Chapter 15A of the General Statutes and creation and maintenance of a data bank of statewide storage location of postconviction evidence or other similar programs.

(4) Acquire, maintain, and control equipment to be loaned to law enforcement agencies for use in undercover investigations and to other agencies for other purposes.

(5) Develop, test, and promulgate innovative and technological solutions for the first responder community.

(6) Provide other assistance as may be necessary or appropriate to carry out assigned duties and responsibilities."

SECTION 4. This act is effective when it becomes law.

HOUSE BILL 201:
Add Division of LESS to CCPS

2009-2010 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 20, 2009
Introduced by:	Reps. Spear, R. Warren	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to Fourth Edition H201-CSRB-24

SUMMARY: House Bill 201 statutorily establishes the Division of Law Enforcement Support Services within the Department of Crime Control and Public Safety. It also provides exemptions from the titling requirement and the highway use tax for State agencies acting as a pass-through for vehicles received through a United States Department of Defense program that are subsequently transferred to an emergency response unit, a law enforcement agency, or fire department.

The proposed committee substitute removes an unnecessary provision from the bill[1] and makes technical and stylistic changes.

[As introduced, this bill was identical to S139, as introduced by Sen. Snow, which is currently in Senate Finance.]

CURRENT LAW: Federal law provides programs through which vehicles are disbursed from the Department of Defense to emergency response units, local law enforcement, and fire departments.[2] The Federal programs require a State agency to facilitate the transfer of these vehicles. The Department of Crime Control and Public Safety (DCCPS) has been operating one of these programs for over 15 years. Last year, the DCCPS facilitated the transfer of over $1 million in vehicles to local law enforcement through this program. A similar program facilitated by the Department of Environment and Natural Resources (DENR) has been in operation for the past 2 years and has facilitated the transfer for of approximately 90 vehicles.

When vehicles under this program are initially transferred, the Department facilitating the program does not take title to the vehicle. The ultimate recipient, which is either an emergency response unit, local law enforcement, or a fire department, takes title to the vehicle and pays the highway use tax. If the recipient decides the vehicle is no longer needed, the vehicle is transferred to the Department facilitating the program for transfer to another emergency response unit, local law enforcement, or fire department in the State. During this subsequent transfer, the Department may take title, at which point the Department would be required to pay highway use tax.

The program operated by DCCPS was momentarily halted this year after the Division of Motor Vehicles raised the following concerns:

- Titling: G.S. 20-73 requires a person to whom a vehicle is transferred to apply to DMV for a new certificate of title within 28 days after the vehicle is transferred. A person who fails to apply for a certificate of title within the required time frame is subject to a $15 civil penalty and is

[1] Section 3 of House Bill 201, 4th Edition, amended the Motor Vehicle Dealers and Manufacturers Licensing Law. However, the State agencies are not included with the definition of the entities to which the law is applicable. Therefore, the amendment to this law is unnecessary.

[2] 10 U.S.C. § 381 establishes procedures under which States and units of local government may purchase law enforcement equipment for counter-drug activities through the Department of Defense. 10 U.S.C. § 2576b establishes procedures under which States may purchase personal property to assist firefighting agencies.

guilty of a Class 2 misdemeanor. DMV questioned whether the facilitating Department must obtain title when the vehicles are initially transferred.

- Highway Use Tax: Article 5A of Chapter 105 imposes a highway use tax at the rate of 3% upon the transfer of a motor vehicle for which a certificate of title is issued. When the Department facilitating the transfers takes title to a vehicle for a subsequent transfer to a second emergency response unit, local law enforcement, or fire department, the Department would be required to pay the highway use tax.

BILL ANALYSIS: The proposed committee substitute for House Bill 201 does three things:

Section 1 addresses the titling issue by exempting the Department of Crime Control and Public Safety and the Department of Environment and Natural Resources from the requirement to apply for a certificate of title within 28 days of the transfer of the vehicle. This exemption will allow both DCCPS and DENR to transfer vehicles under the Federal programs without first obtaining title to the vehicle.

Section 2 addresses the highway use tax issue by exempting the transfer of a motor vehicle by a unit of local government, volunteer fire department, or volunteer rescue squad to a State agency to enable the agency to transfer the vehicle to another unit of local government, volunteer fire department, or volunteer rescue squad.

Section 3 amends Article 11 of Chapter 143B, which creates the Department of Crime Control and Public Safety, to statutorily establish the Law Enforcement Support Services Division. The statutory establishment of a Division within an agency is unnecessary because G.S. 143B-10 provides that each Department head may establish or abolish divisions within a department as needed to achieve economies and efficiencies in accordance with sound administrative practice. Although not required many Departments, such as the Department of Crime Control and Public Safety, choose to seek legislation to codify divisions within their Departments.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act becomes effective when it becomes law.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: Department of Crime Control and Public Safety – Division of Law Enforcement Support Services; Department of Environmental and Natural Resources – Division of Forest Resources

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

BILL SUMMARY:

This bill is intended to clarify that the Division of Law Enforcement Support Services is a division of the Department of Crime Control and Public Safety, to assign duties to the division, and to make corresponding changes to Chapters 20 and 105 of the General Statues to allow Law Enforcement Support Services to transfer motor vehicles to law enforcement agencies without having to become a motor vehicle dealer to pay highway use taxes.

Amends proposed G.S. 143B-508 to authorize the Law Enforcement Support Services Division to provide assistance as may be necessary or appropriate to carry out assigned duties and responsibilities.

Amends G.S. 20-73(b) to create an exemption from requirements to obtain a new certificate of title for the Department of Crime Control and Public Safety, Division of Law Enforcement Support Services, or the Department of Environment and Natural Resources, Division of Forest Resources, when receiving, titling, or transferring any vehicle acquired under 10 U.S.C. Section 381 or any similar acquisition and transfer program administered by the Division of Law Enforcement Support Services or the Division of Forest Resources.

Makes organizational changes to proposed G.S. 105-187.6(a)(10).

Amends G.S. 10-287 to exempt the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources, Division of Forest Resources, when receiving, titling, or transferring any vehicle acquired under provisions of Title 10, Section 285, of the US Code, or any similar acquisition and transfer program administered by the Division of Law Enforcement Support Services, from licensing requirements for any new or used motor vehicle dealer, motor vehicle sales representative, manufacturer, factory branch, factory representative, distributor, distributor branch, distributor representative, or wholesaler engaging in business in the state.

Clarifies in proposed G.S. 105-187.6(a)(10) that a "qualified recipient" includes a fire department (was, volunteer fire department).

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:
Since 1994, the Law Enforcement Support Services (LESS) program has been operating as part of the Department of Crime Control and Public Safety (CCPS). If ratified, H 201 will amend G.S.143B-508 to establish LESS as a division within CCPS.

This bill would also amend G.S. 20-287 and G.S. 105-187 to allow for LESS and the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources (DENR), Division of Forest Resources, to be exempt from the requirements to become a motor vehicle dealer and to pay highway use taxes when transferring motor vehicles from the ownership of the Department of Defense to local law enforcement agencies. Currently, the highway use tax associated with these transactions is paid by the entity receiving the motor vehicle from LESS or the Division of Forest Resources. Overall, the changes proposed in this bill are technical changes that will not yield any loss of tax revenue or require any additional budget appropriations to support the program.

LESS and the Division of Forest Resources have been transferring excess Department of Defense vehicles to state and local law enforcement agencies since 1994 using a form developed by DMV. Last year the DMV determined that they had no formal basis to allow this transfer for LESS or the North Carolina Division of Forest Resources. The proposed new subsection under G.S. 105-187.6(a) will allow LESS and the Division of Forest Resources to continue transferring excess vehicles to state and local law enforcement groups. This is a technical change and will be revenue neutral. An authorizing statute for Law Enforcement Support Services will establish formal authority for LESS to provide its services.

LESS has also been facilitating the purchase of new vehicles for law enforcement agencies under Title 10 USC, Section 381 since 1996. Last year, the Division of Motor Vehicles (DMV) determined that G.S. 20-287 precludes this activity and suggested a change to the statute to exempt LESS from the requirement of registering as a motor vehicle dealer. There is no cost that would be incurred or funds lost by adding the proposed language to G.S. 20-287.
