Room 544 LOB, 1:00 p.m.

Minutes

The Senate Committee on Finance met on Wednesday, February 6, 2013, at 1:00 p.m. in room 544 of the Legislative Office Building. Ross Strickland of Salemburg, Mark Moser of Wilmington and Alex Brown of Cary served as pages. Senator Rucho served as Chair to the meeting.

H.B. 4 – UI Fund Solvency & Program Changes

Representative Howard was recognized to explain the bill, which makes several changes to the State unemployment insurance program to accelerate the repayment of the $2.5 billion advance the State borrowed from the federal government to pay unemployment insurance benefits. Ms. Cindy Avrette, an attorney with the Research Division, was recognized to explain the trust fund balances through the years. Senator Woodward was recognized to offer an amendment which formulates an increased benefit amount. He moved to adopt the amendment. Representative Howard asked the Committee to oppose the amendment. The motion failed. David Clegg, Assistant Secretary to the Division of Employment Security, was recognized to answer questions. Senator Nesbitt was recognized to offer an amendment which would increase the weekly benefit amount, move the effective date in order to pay the debt off six months later, and prevent the federal benefit to the State from disappearing. Representative Howard pointed out that the amendment would cost the State additional monies and requested that the Committee vote down the amendment. Senator Nesbitt moved to adopt the amendment and the motion failed. Senator Rabon moved for a favorable report for the bill and the motion carried. A copy of the bill, the summary, the fiscal note and the amendments is attached.

S.B. 6 – UI Fund Changes

The bill was removed from the agenda due to time constraints.

Expenditures of such moneys in the benefit account and refunds from the clearing account shall not be subject to approval of the Budget Bureau or any provisions of law requiring specific appropriations or other formal release by State officers of money in their custody. All warrants issued upon the treasurer for the payment of benefits and refunds shall be issued as provided in G.S. 143B-426.40G as requisitioned by the Secretary, the Assistant Secretary, or a duly authorized agent of the Division for that purpose. Any balance of moneys requisitioned from the unemployment trust fund which remains unclaimed or unpaid in the benefit account after the expiration of the period for which such sums were requisitioned shall either be deducted from estimates for, and may be utilized for the payment of, benefits during succeeding periods, or, in the discretion of the Division, shall be redeposited with the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States of America, to the credit of this State's account in the unemployment trust fund, as provided in subsection (b) of this section.~~

(d) ~~Management of Funds upon~~ Discontinuance of Unemployment Trust Fund. – ~~The provisions of subsections (a), (b), and (c), to the extent that they relate to the unemployment trust fund, shall be operative only so long as such unemployment trust fund continues to exist, and so long as the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States of America continues to maintain for this State a separate book account of all funds deposited therein by this State for benefit purposes, together with this State's proportionate share of the earnings of such unemployment trust fund, from which no other state is permitted to make withdrawals. If and when such unemployment trust fund ceases to exist, or such separate book account is no longer maintained, all moneys, properties, or securities therein belonging to the Unemployment Insurance Fund of this State shall be transferred to the treasurer of the Unemployment Insurance Fund, who shall hold, invest, transfer, sell, deposit, and release such moneys, properties, or securities in a manner approved by the Secretary of the Department of Commerce, in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter: Provided, that such moneys shall be invested in the following readily marketable classes of securities: Bonds or other interest-bearing obligations of the United States of America or such investments as are now permitted by law for sinking funds of the State of North Carolina; and provided further, that such investment shall at all times be so made that all the assets of the fund shall always be readily convertible into cash when needed for the payment of benefits. The treasurer shall dispose of securities or other properties belonging to the Unemployment Insurance Fund only under the direction of the Secretary of the Department of Commerce.~~If the Unemployment Trust Fund or the State's account within the federal Fund ceases to exist, the credit balance of the State's account in that Fund must be transferred to the Unemployment Insurance Fund and credited to the benefit account.

~~(e) Benefits shall be deemed to be due and payable under this Chapter only to the extent provided in this Chapter and to the extent that moneys are available therefor to the credit of the Unemployment Insurance Fund, and neither the State nor the Division shall be liable for any amount in excess of such sums.~~

~~(f) Any interest required to be paid on advances under Title XII of the Social Security Actshall be paidin a timely manner and shall not be paid, directly or indirectly, from amounts in the Unemployment Insurance Fund.~~

"§ 96-6.1. Unemployment Insurance Reserve Fund.

(a) Establishment and Use. – The Unemployment Insurance Reserve Fund is established as a special revenue fund. The Fund consists of the revenues derived from the surtax imposed under G.S. 96-9.7. Moneys in the Fund may be used only for the following purposes:

(1) Interest payments required on advances under Title XII of the Social Security Act.
(2) Principal payments on advances under Title XII of the Social Security Act.
(3) Transfers to the Unemployment Insurance Fund for payment of benefits.
(4) Administrative costs for the collection of the surtax.
(5) Refunds of the surtax.

(b) Fund Capped. – The balance in the Unemployment Insurance Reserve Fund on January 1 of any year may not exceed the greater of fifty million dollars ($50,000,000) or the amount of interest paid the previous September on advances under Title XII of the Social Security Act. Any amount in the fund that exceeds the cap must be transferred to the Unemployment Insurance Fund.

SECTION 2.(a) The following statutes are repealed: G.S. 96-8, 96-9, 96-11, 96-12, 96-12.1, 96-13, and 96-14.

SECTION 2.(b) Article 2 of Chapter 96 of the General Statutes, as amended by subsection (a) of this section, reads as rewritten:

"Article 2.

"~~Unemployment Insurance Division.~~Contributions and Payments by Employers.

"§ 96-9.1. Purpose.

The purpose of this Article is to provide revenue to finance the unemployment benefits allowed under this Chapter and to do so in as simple a manner as possible by imposing a State unemployment tax that is similar to the federal unemployment tax imposed under FUTA. All employers that are liable for the federal unemployment tax on wages paid for services performed in this State and all employers that are required by FUTA to be given a state reimbursement option are liable for a State unemployment tax on wages. Revenue from this tax, referred to as a contribution, is credited to the Unemployment Insurance Fund established in G.S. 96-6.

"§ 96-9.2. Required contributions to the Unemployment Insurance Fund.

(a) Required Contribution. – An employer is required to make a contribution in each calendar year to the Unemployment Insurance Fund in an amount equal to the applicable percentage of the taxable wages the employer pays its employees during the year for services performed in this State. An employer may not deduct the contributions due in whole or in part from the remuneration of the individuals employed.

The applicable percentage for an employer is considered the employer's contribution rate and is determined by the employer's base rate and the balance in the Unemployment Insurance Fund as of the computation date. Taxable wages are determined in accordance with G.S. 96-9.3. An employer's base rate is either the standard beginning rate or an experience rating. An employer's experience rating is computed as a reserve ratio in accordance with G.S. 96-9.4. An employer's reserve ratio percentage (ERRP) is the employer's reserve ratio multiplied by sixty-eight hundredths. A positive ERRP produces a lower contribution rate, and a negative ERRP produces a higher contribution rate.

(b) Standard Beginning Rate. – The standard beginning rate applies to an employer until the employer's account has been chargeable with benefits for at least 12 calendar months ending July 31 immediately preceding the computation date. An employer's account has been chargeable with benefits for at least 12 calendar months if the employer has reported wages paid in four completed calendar quarters and these quarters are in two consecutive calendar years.

(c) Contribution Rate. – The contribution rate for an employer is determined in accordance with the table set out below and then rounded to the nearest one-hundredth percent (0.01%), subject to the minimum and maximum contribution rates. The minimum contribution rate is six-hundredths of one percent (0.06%). The maximum contribution rate is five and seventy-six hundredths percent (5.76%). "Total insured wages" are the total wages reported by all insured employers for the 12-month period ending on July 31 preceding the computation date.

Employer's Base Rate	UI Trust Fund Balance as Percentage of Total Insured Wages	Contribution Rate
Standard Beginning Rate	All balances	1%
Experience Rating	Less than or equal to 1%	2.9% minus ERRP
	Greater than 1% but less than or equal to 1.25%	2.4% minus ERRP
	Greater than 1.25%	1.9% minus ERRP

(d) Notification of Contribution Rate. – The Division must notify an employer of the employer's contribution rate for a calendar year by January 1 of that year. The contribution rate becomes final unless the employer files an application for review and redetermination prior to May 1 following the effective date of the contribution rate. The Division may redetermine the contribution rate on its own motion within the same time period.

(e) Voluntary Contribution. – An employer that is subject to this section may make a voluntary contribution to the Unemployment Insurance Fund in addition to its required contribution. A voluntary contribution is credited to the employer's account. A voluntary contribution made by an employer within 30 days after the date on an annual notice of its contribution rate is considered to have been made as of the previous July 31.

"§ 96-9.3. Determination of taxable wages.

(a) Determination. – The Division must determine the taxable wages for each calendar year. An employer is not liable for contributions on wages paid to an employee in excess of taxable wages. The taxable wages of an employee is an amount equal to the greater of the following:

(1) The federal taxable wages set in section 3306 of the Code.

(2) Fifty percent (50%) of the average yearly insured wage, rounded to the nearest multiple of one hundred dollars ($100.00). The average yearly insured wage is the average weekly wage on the computation date multiplied by 52.

(b) Wages Included. – The following wages are included in determining whether the amount of wages paid to an individual in a single calendar year exceeds taxable wages:

(1) Wages paid to an individual in this State by an employer that made contributions in another state upon the wages paid to the individual because the work was performed in the other state.

(2) Wages paid by a successor employer to an individual when all of the following apply:

a. The individual was an employee of the predecessor and was taken over as an employee by the successor as a part of the organization acquired.

b. The predecessor employer paid contributions on the wages paid to the individual while in the predecessor's employ during the year of acquisition.

c. The account of the predecessor is transferred to the successor.

"§ 96-9.4. Determination of employer's reserve ratio.

(a) Account Balance. – The Division must determine the balance of an employer's account on the computation date by subtracting the total amount of all benefits charged to the employer's account for all past periods from the total of all contributions and other amounts credited to the employer for those periods. If the Division finds that an employer failed to file a report or finds that a report filed by an employer is incorrect or insufficient, the Division must determine the employer's account balance based upon the best information available to it and must notify the employer that it will use this balance to determine the employer's reserve ratio unless the employer provides additional information within 15 days of the date of the notice.

(b) Reserve Ratio. – The Division must determine an employer's reserve ratio, which is used to determine the employer's contribution rate. The employer's reserve ratio is the quotient obtained by dividing the employer's account balance on the computation date by the total taxable payroll of the employer for the 36 calendar month period ending June 30 preceding the computation date, expressed as a percentage.

"§ 96-9.5. Performance of services in this State.

A service is performed in this State if it meets one or more of the following descriptions:

(1) The service is localized in this State. Service is localized in this State if it meets one of the following conditions:
   a. It is performed entirely within the State.
   b. It is performed both within and without the State, but the service performed without the State is incidental to the individual's service within the State. For example, the individual's service without the State is temporary or transitory in nature or consists of isolated transactions.

(2) The service is not localized in any state but some of the service is performed in this State, and one or more of the following applies:
   a. The base of operations is in this State.
   b. There is no base of operations and the place from which the service is directed or controlled is in this State.
   c. The service is not performed in any state that has a base of operations or a place from which the service is directed or controlled and the individual who performs the service is a resident of this State.

(3) The service, wherever performed, is within the United States or Canada and both of the following apply:
   a. The service is not covered under the employment security law of any other state or Canada.
   b. The place from which the service is directed or controlled is in this State.

(4) The service is performed outside the United States or Canada by a citizen of the United States in the employ of an American employer and at least one of the following applies. For purposes of this subdivision, the term "American employer" has the same meaning as defined in section 3306 of the Code.
   a. The employer's principal place of business in the United States is located in this State.
   b. The employer has no place of business in the United States, but the employer is one of the following:
      1. An individual who is a resident of this State.
      2. A corporation that is organized under the laws of this State.
      3. A partnership or a trust and more of its partners or trustees are residents of this State than of any other state.
      4. A limited liability company and more of its members are residents of this State than of any other state.
   c. The employer has elected coverage in this State in accordance with G.S. 96-9.9.

d. The employer has not elected coverage in any state and the employee has filed a claim for benefits under the law of this State based on the service provided to the employer.

"§ 96-9.6. Election to reimburse Unemployment Insurance Fund in lieu of contributions.

(a) Applicability. – This section applies to a governmental entity, a nonprofit organization, and an Indian tribe that is required by section 3309 of the Code to have a reimbursement option. Each of these employers must finance benefits under the contributions method imposed under G.S. 96-9.2 unless the employer elects to finance benefits by making reimbursable payments to the Division for the Unemployment Insurance Fund.

(b) Election. – An employer may make an election under this section by filing a written notice of its election with the Division at least 30 days before the January 1 effective date of the election. An Indian tribe may make separate elections for itself and each subdivision, subsidiary, or business enterprise wholly owned by the tribe. A new employer may make an election under this section by filing a written notice of its election within 30 days after the employer receives notification from the Division that it is eligible to make an election under this section.

An election is valid for a minimum of four years and is binding until the employer files a notice terminating its election. An employer must file a written notice of termination with the Division at least 30 days before the January 1 effective date of the termination. The Division must notify an employer of a determination of the effective date of an election the employer makes and of any termination of the election. These determinations are subject to reconsideration, appeal, and review. An employer that makes the election allowed by this section may not deduct any amount due under this section from the remuneration of the individuals it employs.

(c) Reimbursable Amount. – An employer must reimburse the Unemployment Insurance Fund for the amount of benefits that are paid to an individual for weeks of unemployment that begin within a benefit year established during the effective period of the employer's election and are attributable to service that is covered by section 3309 of the Code and was performed in the employ of the employer. For regular benefits, the reimbursable amount is the amount of regular benefits paid. For extended benefits, the reimbursable amount is the amount not reimbursed by the federal government.

(d) Account. – The Division must establish a separate account for each reimbursing employer. The Division must credit payments made by the employer to the account. The Division must charge to the account benefits that are paid by the Unemployment Insurance Fund to individuals for weeks of unemployment that begin within a benefit year established during the effective period of the election and are attributable to service in the employ of the employer. All benefits paid must be charged to the employer's account except benefits paid through error.

The Division must furnish an employer with a statement of all credits and charges made to its account as of the computation date prior to January 1 of the succeeding year. The Division may, in its sole discretion, provide a reimbursing employer with informational bills or lists of charges on a basis more frequent than yearly if the Division finds it is in the best interest of the Division and the affected employer to do so.

(e) Annual Reconciliation. – A reimbursing employer must maintain an account balance equal to one percent (1%) of its taxable wages. The Division must determine the balance of each employer's account on the computation date. If there is a deficit in the account, the Division must bill the employer for the amount necessary to bring its account to one percent (1%) of its taxable wages for the preceding calendar year. The Division must send a bill as soon as practical. Payment is due within 30 days from the date a bill is mailed. Amounts unpaid by the due date accrue interest and penalties in the same manner as past-due contributions and are subject to the same collection remedies provided under G.S. 96-10 for past-due contributions.

(f) Quarterly Wage Reports. – A reimbursing employer must submit quarterly wage reports to the Division on or before the last day of the month following the close of the calendar quarter in which the wages are paid. During the first four quarters following an election to be a reimbursing employer, the employer must submit an advance payment with its quarterly report. The amount of the advance payment is equal to one percent (1%) of the taxable wages reported on the quarterly wage report. The Division must remit the payments to the Unemployment Insurance Fund and credit the payments to the employer's account.

(g) Change in Election. – The Division must close the account of an employer that has been paying contributions under G.S. 96-9.2 and that elects to change to a reimbursement basis under this section. A closed account may not be used in any future computation of a contribution rate. The Division must close the account of an employer that terminates its election to reimburse the Unemployment Insurance Fund in lieu of making contributions. An employer that terminates its election under this section is subject to the standard beginning rate.

(h) Noncompliance by Indian Tribes. – An Indian tribe that makes an election under this section and then fails to comply with this section is subject to the following consequences:

(1) An employer that fails to pay an amount due within 90 days after receiving a bill and has not paid this liability as of the computation date loses the option to make reimbursable payments in lieu of contributions for the following calendar year. An employer that loses the option to make reimbursable payments in lieu of contributions for a calendar year regains that option for the following calendar year if it pays its outstanding liability and makes all contributions during the year for which the option was lost.

(2) Services performed for an employer that fails to make payments, including interest and penalties, required under this section after all collection activities considered necessary by the Division have been exhausted, are no longer treated as "employment" for the purpose of coverage under this Chapter. An employer that has lost coverage regains coverage under this Chapter for services performed if the Division determines that all contributions, payments in lieu of contributions, penalties, and interest have been paid. The Division must notify the Internal Revenue Service and the United States Department of Labor of any termination or reinstatement of coverage pursuant to this subsection.

(i) Transition. – This subsection provides a transitional adjustment period for an employer that elected to be a reimbursing employer prior to January 1, 2013, and was not required to submit an advance payment with its first four quarterly reports equal to one percent (1%) of its reported taxable wages. This subsection expires January 1, 2016.

(1) Governmental entities. – An employer that is a State or local governmental unit must reimburse the Division in the amount required by subsection (c) of this section for benefits paid on its behalf, as determined on the computation date in 2013, but it does not have to reconcile its account balance, as required under subsection (e) of this section, until 2014. If the employer's account balance on the computation date in 2014 does not equal one percent (1%) of its taxable wages reported for the 2013 calendar year, the Division will bill the employer for the deficiency.

(2) Nonprofit organization. – An employer that is a nonprofit organization may not secure its election to reimburse in lieu of paying contributions by posting a surety bond or a line of credit after July 1, 2013. An employer whose election is secured by a surety bond or line of credit is not required to begin making quarterly advance payments until the quarter following the quarter that its surety bond or line of credit expires and is not required to meet the annual reconciliation requirement until the employer has made at least four quarterly payments.

"§ 96-9.7. Surtax for the Unemployment Insurance Reserve Fund.

(a) Surtax Imposed. – A surtax is imposed on an employer who is required to make a contribution to the Unemployment Insurance Fund equal to twenty percent (20%) of the contribution due under G.S. 96-9.2. Except as provided in this section, the surtax is collected and administered in the same manner as contributions. Surtaxes collected under this section must be credited to the Unemployment Insurance Reserve Fund established under G.S. 96-6. Interest collected on unpaid surtaxes imposed by this section must be credited to the Supplemental Employment Security Administration Fund. Penalties collected on unpaid surtaxes imposed by this section must be credited to the Civil Penalty and Forfeiture Fund established in G.S. 115C-457.1.

(b) Suspension of Tax. – The tax does not apply in a calendar year if, as of the preceding August 1 computation date, the amount in the State's account in the Unemployment Trust Fund equals or exceeds one billion dollars ($1,000,000,000).

"§ 96-9.8. Voluntary election to pay contributions.

(a) When Allowed. – An employer may elect to be subject to the contribution requirement imposed by G.S. 96-9.2 and thereby provide benefit coverage for its employees as follows:

(1) An employer that is not otherwise liable for contributions under G.S. 96-9.2 may elect to pay contributions to the same extent as an employer that is liable for those contributions.

(2) An employer that pays for services that are not otherwise subject to the contribution requirement may elect to pay contributions on those services performed by individuals in its employ in one or more distinct establishments or places of business.

(3) An employer that employs the services of an individual who resides within this State but performs the services entirely without the State may elect to have the individual's service constitute employment subject to contributions if no contributions are required or paid with respect to the services under an employment security law of any other state or of the federal government.

(b) Election. – To make an election under this section, an employer must file an application with the Division. An election is effective on the date stated by the Division in a letter approving the election. An election is irrevocable for the two-year period beginning on the effective date.

(c) Termination. – The Division may, on its own motion, terminate coverage of an employer who has become subject to this Chapter solely by electing coverage under this section. This termination may occur within the two-year minimum election period. The Division must give the employer 30 days written notice of a decision to terminate an election. The notice must be mailed to the employer's last known address. An employer that elects coverage under this section may, subsequent to the two-year minimum election period, terminate the election by filing a notice of termination with the Division. The notice must be given prior to the first day of March following the first day of January of the calendar year for which the employer wishes to cease coverage under this section."

SECTION 3.(a) Chapter 96 of the General Statutes is amended by inserting a new Article 2A immediately before G.S. 96-10 to read:

"Article 2A.

Administration and Collection of Contributions."

SECTION 3.(b) Article 2A of Chapter 96 of the General Statutes, as created in subsection (a) of this section, is amended by adding the following new sections to read:

"Article 2A.

"Administration and Collection of Contributions.

"§ 96-9.15. Report and payment.

(a) Report and Payment. – Contributions are payable to the Division when a report is due. A report is due on or before the last day of the month following the close of the calendar quarter in which the wages are paid. The Division must remit the contributions to the Unemployment Insurance Fund. If the amount of the contributions shown to be due after all credits is less than five dollars ($5.00), no payment need be made.

(b) Overpayment. – If an employer remits an amount in excess of the amount of contributions due, including any applicable penalty and interest, the excess amount remitted is considered an overpayment. The Division must refund an overpayment unless the amount of the overpayment is less than five dollars ($5.00). Overpayments of less than five dollars ($5.00) may be refunded only upon receipt of a written demand for the refund from the employer within the time allowed under G.S. 96-10(e).

(c) Method of Payment. – An employer may pay contributions by electronic funds transfer. When an electronic funds transfer cannot be completed due to insufficient funds or the nonexistence of an account of the transferor, the Division may assess a penalty equal to ten percent (10%) of the amount of the transfer, subject to a minimum of one dollar ($1.00) and a maximum of one thousand dollars ($1,000). The Division may waive this penalty for good cause shown.

The Division may allow an employer to pay contributions by credit card. An employer that pays by credit card must include an amount equal to any fee charged by the Division for the use of the card. A payment of taxes that is made by credit card and is not honored by the card issuer does not relieve the employer of the obligation to pay the taxes.

An employer that does not pay by electronic funds transfer or by credit card must pay by check or cash. A check must be drawn on a United States bank and cash must be in currency of the United States.

(d) Form of Report. – An employer must complete the tax form prescribed by the Division. An employer or an agent of an employer that reports wages for at least 25 employees must file the portion of the "Employer's Quarterly Tax and Wage Report" that contains the name, social security number, and gross wages of each employee in a format prescribed by the Division. For failure of an employer to comply with this subsection, the Division must assess a penalty of twenty-five dollars ($25.00). For failure of an agent of an employer to comply with this subsection, the Division may deny the agent the right to report wages and file reports for that employer for a period of one year following the calendar quarter in which the agent filed the improper report. The Division may reduce or waive a penalty for good cause shown.

(e) Jeopardy Assessment. – The Secretary may immediately assess and collect a contribution the Secretary finds is due from an employer if the Secretary determines that collection of the tax is in jeopardy and immediate assessment and collection are necessary in order to protect the interest of the State and the Unemployment Insurance Fund.

(f) Domestic Employer Exception. – The Division may authorize an employer of domestic service employees to file an annual report and to file that report by telephone. An annual report allowed under this subsection is due on or before the last day of the month following the close of the calendar year in which the wages are paid. A domestic service employer that files a report by telephone must contact either the tax auditor assigned to the employer's account or the Employment Insurance Section in Raleigh and report the required information to that auditor or to that section by the date the report is due.

"§ 96-10.1. Compromise of liability.

(a) Authority. – The Secretary may compromise an employer's liability under this Article when the Secretary determines that the compromise is in the best interest of the State and makes one or more of the following findings:

(1) There is a reasonable doubt as to the amount of the liability of the employer under the law and the facts.

(2) The employer is insolvent and the Secretary probably could not otherwise collect an amount equal to, or in excess of, the amount offered in compromise. An employer is considered insolvent only in one of the following circumstances:

a. It is plain and indisputable that the employer is clearly insolvent and will remain so in the reasonable future.

b. The employer has been determined to be insolvent in a judicial proceeding.

(3) Collection of a greater amount than that offered in compromise is improbable, and the funds or a substantial portion of the funds offered in the settlement come from sources from which the Secretary could not otherwise collect.

(b) Written Statement. – When the Secretary compromises an employer's liability under this section and the amount of the liability is at least one thousand dollars ($1,000), the Secretary must make a written statement that sets out the amount of the liability, the amount accepted under the compromise, a summary of the facts concerning the liability, and the findings on which the compromise is based. The Secretary must sign the statement and keep a record of the statement."

SECTION 4. Chapter 96 of the General Statutes is amended by inserting a new Article 2B to read:

"Article 2B.

"Administration of Employer Accounts.

"§ 96-11.1. Employer accounts.

The Division must maintain a separate account for each employer. The Division must credit the employer's account with all contributions paid by the employer or on the employer's behalf and must charge the employer's account for benefits as provided in this Chapter. The Division must prepare an annual statement of all charges and credits made to the employer's account during the 12 months preceding the computation date. The Division must send the statement to the employer when the Division notifies the employer of the employer's contribution rate for the succeeding calendar year. The Division may provide a statement of charges and credits more frequently upon a request by the employer.

"§ 96-11.2. Allocation of charges to base period employers.

Benefits paid to an individual are charged to an employer's account when the individual's benefit year has expired. Benefits paid to an individual must be allocated to the account of each base period employer in the proportion that the base period wages paid to the individual in a calendar quarter by each base period employer bears to the total wages paid to the individual in that quarter by all base period employers. The amount allocated to an employer that pays contributions is multiplied by one hundred twenty percent (120%) and charged to that employer's account. The amount allocated to an employer that elects to reimburse the Unemployment Insurance Fund in lieu of paying contributions is the amount of benefits charged to that employer's account.

"§ 96-11.3. Noncharging of benefits.

(a) To Specific Employer. – Benefits paid to an individual under a claim filed for a period occurring after the date of the individual's separation from employment may not be charged to the account of the employer by whom the individual was employed at the time of the separation if the separation is due to one of the reasons listed below and the employer promptly notifies the Division, in accordance with rules adopted by the Division, of the reason:

(1) The individual left work without good cause attributable to the employer.

(2) The employer discharged the individual for misconduct in connection with the work.

(3) The employer discharged the individual solely for a bona fide inability to do the work for which the individual was hired and the individual's period of employment was 100 days or less.

(4) The separation is a disqualifying separation under G.S. 96-14.7.

(b) To Any Base Period Employer. – Benefits paid to an individual may not be charged to the account of an employer of the individual if the benefits paid meet any of the following descriptions:

(1) They were paid to an individual who is attending a vocational school or training program approved by the Division.

(2) They were paid to an individual for unemployment due directly to a major natural disaster declared by the President pursuant to the Disaster Relief Act of 1970, and the individual receiving the benefits would have been eligible for disaster unemployment assistance under this federal act if the individual had not received benefits under this Chapter.

(3) They were paid to an individual who left work for good cause under G.S. 96-14.8.

(4) They were paid as a result of a decision by the Division and the decision is ultimately reversed upon final adjudication.

(c) Current Employer. – At the request of the employer, no benefit charges may be made to the account of an employer that has furnished work to an individual who, because of the loss of employment with one or more other employers, is eligible for partial benefits while still being furnished work by the employer on substantially the same basis and substantially the same wages as had been made available to the individual during the individual's base period. This prohibition applies regardless of whether the employments were simultaneous or successive. A request made under this subsection must be filed in accordance with rules adopted by the Division.

"§ 96-11.4. No relief for errors resulting from noncompliance.

(a) Charges for Errors. – An employer's account may not be relieved of charges relating to benefits paid erroneously from the Unemployment Insurance Fund if the Division determines that both of the following apply:

(1) The erroneous payment was made because the employer, or the agent of the employer, was at fault for failing to respond timely or adequately to a written request from the Division for information relating to the claim for unemployment compensation. An erroneous payment is one that would not have been made but for the failure of the employer or the employer's agent to respond to the Division's request for information related to that claim.

(2) The employer or agent has a pattern of failing to respond timely or adequately to requests from the Division for information relating to claims for unemployment compensation. In determining whether the employer or agent has a pattern of failing to respond timely or adequately, the Division must consider the number of documented instances of that employer's or agent's failures to respond in relation to the total requests made to that employer or agent. An employer or agent may not be determined to have a pattern of failing to respond if the number of failures during the year prior to the request is less than two percent (2%) of the total requests made to that employer or agent.

(b) Appeals. – An employer may appeal a determination by the Division prohibiting the relief of charges under this section in the same manner as other determinations by the Division with respect to the charging of employer accounts.

(c) Applicability. – This section applies to erroneous payments established on or after October 21, 2013.

"§ 96-11.5. Contributions credited to wrong account.

(a) Refund of Contributions Credited to Wrong Account. – When contributions are credited to the wrong account, the erroneous credit may be adjusted only by refunding the employer who made the payment that was credited in error. This applies regardless of whether the employer to whom the payment was credited in error is a related entity of the employer to whom the payment should have been credited. An employer whose payment is credited to the wrong account may request a refund of the amount erroneously credited by filing a request for refund within five years of the last day of the calendar year in which the erroneous credit occurred.

(b) Effect on Contribution Rate. – Failure of the Division to credit the correct account for contributions does not affect the contribution rate determined under G.S. 96-9.2 for either the employer whose account should have been credited for the contributions or the employer whose account was credited, and it does not affect the liability of an employer for contributions determined under those rates. No prior contribution rate for either of the employers may be adjusted even though the contribution rates were based on incorrect amounts in their account. An employer is liable for contributions determined under those rates for the five calendar years preceding the year in which the error is determined. This applies regardless of whether the employer acted in good faith.

"§ 96-11.6. Interest on Unemployment Insurance Fund allocated among employers' accounts.

The Division must determine the ratio of the credit balance in each employer's account to the total of the credit balances in all employers' accounts as of the computation date. The Division must allocate an amount equal to the interest credited to this State's account in the Unemployment Trust Fund for the four completed calendar quarters preceding the computation date on a pro rata basis to these accounts. The amount must be prorated to an employer's account in the same ratio that the credit balance in the employer's account bears to the total of the credit balances in all the accounts. Voluntary contributions made by an employer after July 31 of a year are not considered a part of the employer's account balance used in determining the allocation under this section until the computation date in the following year.

"§ 96-11.7. Acquisition of employer and transfer of account to another employer.

(a) Mandatory Transfer. – When an employer acquires all of the organization, trade, or business of another employer, the account of the predecessor must be transferred as of the date of the acquisition to the successor employer for use in the determination of the successor's contribution rate. This mandatory transfer does not apply when there is no common ownership between the predecessor and the successor and the successor acquired the assets of the predecessor in a sale in bankruptcy. In this circumstance, the successor's contribution rate is determined without regard to the predecessor's contribution rate.

(b) Consent. – When a distinct and severable portion of an employer's organization, trade, or business is transferred to a successor employer and the successor employer continues to operate the acquired organization, trade, or business, the portion of the account of the transferring employer that related to the transferred business may, with the approval of the Division, be transferred by mutual consent from the transferring employer to the successor employer. A successor employer that is a related entity of the transferring employer is eligible for a transfer from the transferring employer's account only to the extent permitted by rules adopted by the Division. No transfer may be made to the account of an employer that has ceased to be an employer under G.S. 96-11.9.

If a transfer of part or all of an account is allowed but is not mandatory, the successor employer requesting the transfer may make a request for transfer by filing an application for transfer with the Division within two years after the date the business was transferred or the date of notification by the Division of the right to request an account transfer, whichever is later. If the application is approved and the application was filed within 60 days after notification from the Division of the right to request a transfer, the transfer is effective as of the date the business was transferred. If the application is approved and the application was filed later than 60 days after notification from the Division, the effective date of the transfer is the first day of the calendar quarter in which the application was filed.

If the effective date of a transfer of an account under this subsection is after the computation date in a calendar year, the Division must recalculate the contribution rate for the transferring employer and the successor employer based on their account balances on the effective date of the account transfer. The recalculated contribution rate applies for the calendar year beginning after the computation date.

(c) Employer Number. – A new employer shall not be assigned a discrete employer number when there is an acquisition or change in the form or organization of an existing business enterprise, or severable portion thereof, and there is a continuity of control of the business enterprise. That new employer shall continue to be the same employer for the purposes of this Chapter as before the acquisition or change in form. The following assumptions apply in this subsection:

(1) "Control of the business enterprise" may occur by means of ownership of the organization conducting the business enterprise, ownership of assets necessary to conduct the business enterprise, security arrangements or lease arrangements covering assets necessary to conduct the business enterprise, or a contract when the ownership, stated arrangements, or contract provide for or allow direction of the internal affairs or conduct of the business enterprise.

(2) A "continuity of control" will exist if one or more persons, entities, or other organizations controlling the business enterprise remain in control of the business enterprise after an acquisition or change in form. Evidence of continuity of control includes changes of an individual proprietorship to a corporation, partnership, limited liability company, association, or estate; a partnership to an individual proprietorship, corporation, limited liability company, association, estate, or the addition, deletion, or change of partners; a limited liability company to an individual proprietorship, partnership, corporation, association, estate, or to another limited liability company; a corporation to an individual proprietorship partnership, limited liability company, association, estate, or to another corporation or from any form to another form.

(d) Contribution Rate. – Notwithstanding the other provisions in this section, when an account is transferred in its entirety to a successor employer, the transferring employer's contribution rate is the standard beginning rate.

Notwithstanding the other provisions in this section, if a successor employer to whom an account is transferred was an employer as of the date of the business transfer, the account transfer does not affect the successor employer's contribution rate for the calendar year in which the business was transferred. If the successor employer was not an employer as of the date of the business transfer, the successor employer's contribution rate for the year in which the business transfer occurs is the standard beginning rate unless one of the following applies:

(1) The account transfer is a mandatory transfer, in which case the contribution rate of the successor employer is the contribution rate of the transferring employer.

(2) The account transfer is by consent and the successor employer filed an application within 60 days of the business transfer, in which case the contribution rate of the successor employer is the contribution rate of the transferring employer. If the business was transferred from more than one employer and the transferring employers had different contribution rates, the contribution rate of the successor employer is the rate calculated as of the effective date of the account transfers.

(e) Liability for Contributions. – An employer that, by operation of law, purchase, or otherwise is the successor to an employer liable for contributions becomes liable for contributions on the day of the succession. This provision does not affect the successor's liability as otherwise prescribed by law for unpaid contributions due from the predecessor.

(f) Deceased or Insolvent Employer. – When the organization, trade, or business of a deceased person or of an insolvent debtor is taken over and operated by an administrator, executor, receiver, or trustee in bankruptcy, the new employer automatically succeeds to the account and contribution rate of the deceased person or insolvent debtor without the necessity of filing an application for the transfer of the account.

"§ 96-11.8. Closure of account.

(a) Account Closed. – When an employer ceases to be an employer under G.S. 96-11.9, the employer's account must be closed and may not be used in any future computation of the employer's contribution rate. An employer has no right or claim to any amounts paid by the employer into the Unemployment Insurance Fund.

(b) Exception for Active Duty. – If the Division finds that an employer's business is closed solely because one or more of its owners, officers, or partners or its majority stockholder enters into the Armed Forces of the United States, an ally, or the United Nations, the employer's account may not be terminated. If the business resumes within two years after the discharge or release of the affected individual from active duty in the Armed Forces of the United States, the employer's account is considered to have been chargeable with benefits throughout more than 13 consecutive calendar months ending July 31 immediately preceding the computation date. This subsection applies only to an employer that makes contributions under G.S. 96-9.2. This subsection does not apply to an employer that makes payments in lieu of contributions under G.S. 96-9.6.

"§ 96-11.9. Termination of coverage.

(a) By Law. – An employer that has not paid wages for two consecutive calendar years ceases to be an employer liable for contributions under this Chapter.

(b) By Application. – An employer may file an application with the Division to terminate coverage. An application for termination must be filed prior to March 1 of the calendar year for which the employer wishes to cease coverage. The Division may terminate coverage if it finds that the employer was not liable for contributions during the preceding calendar year. Termination of coverage under this subsection is effective as of January 1 of the calendar year in which the application is granted.

(c) After Reactivation. – If the Division reactivates the account of an employer that has been closed, the employer may file an application with the Division to terminate coverage. The application must be filed within 120 days after the Division notifies the employer of the reactivation of the employer's account. The Division may terminate coverage if it finds that the employer was not liable for contributions during the preceding calendar year. Termination of coverage under this subsection is effective as of January 1 of the calendar year in which the application is granted. An employer's protest of liability upon reactivation is considered an application for termination.

(d) After Discovery. – When the Division discovers that an employer is liable for contributions for a period of more than two years, the employer may file an application with the Division to terminate coverage. The application must be filed within 90 days after the Division notifies the employer of the discovered liability. The Division may terminate coverage if it finds that the employer was not liable for contributions during the preceding calendar year. An employer's protest of liability upon discovery is considered an application for termination. An employer is not eligible for termination of liability under this subsection if the employer willfully attempted to defeat or evade the payment of contributions."

SECTION 5. Article 9 of Chapter 96 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new Article to read:

"Article 2C.

"Benefits Payable for Unemployment Compensation.

"§ 96-14.1. Unemployment benefits.

(a) Purpose. – The purpose of this Article is to provide temporary unemployment benefits as required by federal law to an individual who is unemployed through no fault on the part of the individual and who is able, available, and actively seeking work.

(b) Valid Claim. – To obtain benefits, an individual must file a valid claim for unemployment benefits and register for work. An individual must serve a one-week waiting period for each claim filed. A valid claim is one that meets the employment and wage standards in this subsection for the individual's base period. A valid claim for a second benefit year is one that meets the employment and wage standards in this subsection since the beginning date of the prior benefit year and before the date the new benefit claim is filed.

(1) Employment. – The individual has been paid wages in at least two quarters of the individual's base period.

(2) Wages. – The individual has been paid wages totaling at least six times the average weekly insured wage during the individual's base period. If an individual lacks sufficient base period wages, then the wage standard for that individual is determined using the last four completed calendar quarters immediately preceding the first day of the individual's benefit year. This alternative base period may not be used by an individual in making a claim for benefits in the next benefit year.

(c) Qualification Determination. – An individual's qualification for benefits is determined based on the reason for separation from employment from the individual's bona fide employer. The individual's bona fide employer is the most recent employer for whom the individual began employment for an indefinite duration or a duration of more than 30 consecutive calendar days, regardless of whether work was performed on all of those days. An individual who is disqualified has no right to benefits.

(d) Eligibility for Benefits. – The Division must calculate a weekly benefit amount and determine the duration of benefits for an individual who files a valid claim and qualifies for benefits. To receive the weekly benefit amount, the Division must find that the individual meets the work search eligibility requirements for each week of the benefit period. An individual who fails to meet the work search requirements for a given week is ineligible to receive a benefit until the condition causing the ineligibility ceases to exist.

(c) Federal Restrictions. – Benefits are not payable for services performed by the following individuals, to the extent prohibited by section 3304 of the Code:

(1) Instructional, research, or principal administrative employees of educational institutions.

(2) Professional athletes.

(3) Aliens.

"§ 96-14.2. Weekly benefit amount.

(a) Weekly Benefit Amount. – The weekly benefit amount for an individual who is totally unemployed is an amount equal to the wages paid to the individual in the last two completed quarters of the individual's base period divided by 52 and rounded to the next lower whole dollar. If this amount is less than fifteen dollars ($15.00), the individual is not eligible for benefits. The weekly benefit amount may not exceed three hundred fifty dollars ($350.00).

(b) Partial Weekly Benefit Amount. – The weekly benefit amount for an individual who is partially unemployed or part-totally employed is the amount the individual would receive under subsection (a) of this section if the individual were totally unemployed, reduced by the amount of any wages the individual receives in the benefit week in excess of twenty percent (20%) of the benefit amount applicable to total unemployment. If the amount so calculated is not a whole dollar, the amount must be rounded to the next lower whole dollar. Payments received by an individual under a supplemental benefit plan do not affect the computation of the individual's partial weekly benefit.

(c) Retirement Reduction. – The amount of benefits payable to an individual must be reduced as provided in section 3304(a)(15) of the Code.

(d) Income Tax Withholding. – An individual may elect to have federal income tax deducted and withheld from the individual's unemployment benefits in the amount specified in section 3402 of the Code. An individual may elect to have State income tax deducted and withheld from the individual's unemployment benefits in an amount determined by the individual. The individual may change a previously elected withholding status. The amounts deducted and withheld from unemployment benefits remain in the Unemployment Insurance Fund until transferred to the appropriate taxing authority as a payment of income tax. The Division must advise an individual in writing at the time the individual files a claim for unemployment benefits that the benefits paid are subject to federal and State income tax, that requirements exist pertaining to estimated tax payments, and that the individual may elect to have the amounts withheld.

"§ 96-14.3. Minimum and maximum duration of benefits.

The minimum and maximum number of weeks an individual is allowed to receive unemployment benefits depends on the seasonal adjusted statewide unemployment rate that applies to the six-month base period in which the claim is filed. One six-month base period begins on January 1 and one six-month base period begins on July 1. For the base period that begins January 1, the seasonal adjusted unemployment rate for the State for the preceding month of October applies. For the base period that begins July 1, the seasonal adjusted unemployment rate for the State for the preceding month of April applies. The Division must use the most recent seasonal adjusted unemployment rate determined by the U.S. Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics, and not the rate as revised in the annual benchmark. The number of weeks allowed for an individual is determined in accordance with G.S. 96-14.4.

Seasonal Adjusted Unemployment Rate	Minimum Number of Weeks	Maximum Number of Weeks
Less than or equal to 5.5%	5	12
Greater than 5.5% up to 6%	6	13
Greater than 6% up to 6.5%	7	14
Greater than 6.5% up to 7%	8	15
Greater than 7% up to 7.5%	9	16
Greater than 7.5% up to 8%	10	17
Greater than 8% up to 8.5%	11	18
Greater than 8.5% up to 9%	12	19
Greater than 9%	13	20

"§ 96-14.4. Duration of benefits for individual claimant.

(a) Total Benefit Amount. – The total amount of benefits paid to an individual may not exceed the individual's total benefit amount. The total benefit amount for an individual is determined as follows:

(1) Divide the individual's base-period wages by the average of the wages paid to the individual in the last two completed quarters of the base period.

(2) Multiply the quotient by eight and two-thirds.

(3) Round the product to the nearest whole number.

(4) Multiply the resulting amount by the individual's weekly benefit amount as determined under G.S. 96-14.2.

(b) Duration. – The number of weeks an individual may receive benefits varies depending on the seasonal adjusted statewide unemployment rate that applies at the time the regular unemployment claim is filed. The total benefits paid to an individual may not be less than the individual's average weekly benefit amount multiplied by the minimum number of weeks allowed in accordance with G.S. 96-14.3. The total benefits paid to an individual may not exceed the lesser of the following:

(1) The individual's average weekly benefit amount multiplied by the maximum number of weeks allowed in accordance with G.S. 96-14.3.

(2) The individual's total benefit amount, as calculated under subsection (a) of this section.

"§ 96-14.5. Disqualification for good cause not attributable to the employer.

(a) Determination. – The Division must determine the reason for an individual's separation from work. An individual does not have a right to benefits and is disqualified from receiving benefits if the Division determines that the individual left work for a reason other than good cause attributable to the employer. When an individual leaves work, the burden of showing good cause attributable to the employer rests on the individual and the burden may not be shifted to the employer.

(b) Reduced Work Hours. – When an individual leaves work due solely to a unilateral and permanent reduction in work hours of more than fifty percent (50%) of the customary scheduled full-time work hours in the establishment, plant, or industry in which the individual was employed, the leaving is presumed to be good cause attributable to the employer. The employer may rebut the presumption if the reduction is temporary or was occasioned by malfeasance, misfeasance, or nonfeasance on the part of the individual.

(c) Reduced Rate of Pay. – When an individual leaves work due solely to a unilateral and permanent reduction in the individual's rate of pay of more than fifteen percent (15%), the leaving is presumed to be good cause attributable to the employer. The employer may rebut the presumption if the reduction is temporary or was occasioned by malfeasance, misfeasance, or nonfeasance on the part of the individual.

"§ 96-14.6. Disqualification for misconduct.

(a) Disqualification. – An individual who the Division determines is unemployed for misconduct connected with the work is disqualified for benefits. The period of disqualification begins with the first day of the first week the individual files a claim for benefits after the misconduct occurs.

(b) Misconduct. – Misconduct connected with the work is either of the following:

(1) Conduct evincing a willful or wanton disregard of the employer's interest as is found in deliberate violation or disregard of standards of behavior that the employer has the right to expect of an employee or has explained orally or in writing to an employee.

(2) Conduct evincing carelessness or negligence of such degree or recurrence as to manifest an intentional and substantial disregard of the employer's interests or of the employee's duties and obligations to the employer.

(c) Examples. – The following examples are prima facie evidence of misconduct that may be rebutted by the individual making a claim for benefits:

(1) Violation of the employer's written alcohol or illegal drug policy.

(2) Reporting to work significantly impaired by alcohol or illegal drugs.

(3) Consumption of alcohol or illegal drugs on the employer's premises.

(4) Conviction by a court of competent jurisdiction for manufacturing, selling, or distributing a controlled substance punishable under G.S. 90-95(a)(1) or G.S. 90-95(a)(2) if the offense is related to or connected with an employee's work for the employer or is in violation of a reasonable work rule or policy.

(5) Termination or suspension from employment after arrest or conviction for an offense involving violence, sex crimes, or illegal drugs if the offense is related to or connected with the employee's work for an employer or is in violation of a reasonable work rule or policy.

(6) Any physical violence whatsoever related to the employee's work for an employer, including physical violence directed at supervisors, subordinates, coworkers, vendors, customers, or the general public.

(7) Inappropriate comments or behavior toward supervisors, subordinates, coworkers, vendors, customers, or to the general public relating to any federally protected characteristic that creates a hostile work environment.

(8) Theft in connection with the employment.

(9) Forging or falsifying any document or data related to employment, including a previously submitted application for employment.

(10) Violation of an employer's written absenteeism policy.

(11) Refusal to perform reasonably assigned work tasks or failure to adequately perform employment duties as evidenced by no fewer than three written reprimands in the 12 months immediately preceding the employee's termination.

"§ 96-14.7. Other reasons to be disqualified from receiving benefits.

(a) Failure to Supply Necessary License. – An individual is disqualified for benefits if the Division determines that the individual is unemployed for failure to possess a license, certificate, permit, bond, or surety that is necessary for the performance of the individual's employment if it was the individual's responsibility to supply the necessary documents and the individual's inability to do so was within the individual's control. The period of disqualification begins with the first day of the first week the individual files a claim for benefits after the individual's failure occurs.

(b) Labor Dispute. – An individual is disqualified for benefits if the Division determines the individual's total or partial unemployment is caused by a labor dispute in active progress at the factory, establishment, or other premises at which the individual is or was last employed or by a labor dispute at another place within this State that is owned or operated by the employer that owns or operates the factory, establishment, or other premises at which the individual is or was last employed and that supplies materials or services necessary to the continued and usual operation of the premises at which the individual is or was last employed. An individual disqualified under the provisions of this subsection continues to be disqualified after the labor dispute has ceased to be in active progress for the period of time that is reasonably necessary and required to physically resume operations in the method of operating in use at the plant, factory, or establishment.

"§ 96-14.8. Military spouse relocation and domestic violence are good causes for leaving.

An individual is not disqualified for benefits for leaving work for one of the reasons listed in this section. Benefits paid on the basis of this section are not chargeable to the employer's account.

(1) Military spouse relocation. – Leaving work to accompany the individual's spouse to a new place of residence because the spouse has been reassigned from one military assignment to another.

(2) Domestic violence. – Leaving work for reasons of domestic violence if the individual reasonably believes that the individual's continued employment would jeopardize the safety of the individual or of any member of the individual's immediate family. For purposes of this subdivision, an individual is a victim of domestic violence if one or more of the following applies:

a. The individual has been adjudged an aggrieved party as set forth by Chapter 50B of the General Statutes.

b. There is evidence of domestic violence, sexual offense, or stalking. Evidence of domestic violence, sexual offense, or stalking may include any one or more of the following:

1. Law enforcement, court, or federal agency records or files.

2. Documentation from a domestic violence or sexual assault program if the individual is alleged to be a victim of domestic violence or sexual assault.

3. Documentation from a religious, medical, or other professional from whom the individual has sought assistance in dealing with the alleged domestic violence, sexual abuse, or stalking.

c. The individual has been granted program participant status pursuant to G.S. 15C-4 as the result of domestic violence committed upon the individual or upon a minor child with or in the custody of the individual by another individual who has or has had a familial relationship with the individual or minor child.

"§ 96-14.9. Weekly certification.

(a) Requirements. – An individual's eligibility for a weekly benefit amount is determined on a week-to-week basis. An individual must meet all of the requirements of this section for each weekly benefit period. An individual who fails to meet one or more of the requirements is ineligible to receive benefits until the condition causing the ineligibility ceases to exist.

(1) File a claim for benefits.

(2) Report at an employment office as requested by the Division.

(3) Meet the work search requirements of subsection (b) of this section.

(b) Work Search Requirements. – The Division must find that the individual meets all of the following work search requirements:

(1) The individual is able to work.

(2) The individual is available to work.

(3) The individual is actively seeking work.

(4) The individual accepts suitable work when offered.

(c) Able to Work. – An individual is not able to work during any week that the individual is receiving or is applying for benefits under any other state or federal law based on the individual's temporary total or permanent total disability.

(d) Available to Work. – An individual is not available to work during any week that one or more of the following applies:

(1) The individual tests positive for a controlled substance. An individual tests positive for a controlled substance if all of the conditions of this subdivision apply. An employer must report an individual's positive test for a controlled substance to the Division.

a. The test is a controlled substance examination administered under Article 20 of Chapter 95 of the General Statutes.

b. The test is required as a condition of hire for a job.

c. The job would be suitable work for the individual.

(2) The individual is incarcerated or has received notice to report to or is otherwise detained in a state or federal jail or penal institution. This subdivision does not apply to an individual who is incarcerated solely on a weekend in a county jail and who is otherwise available for work.

(3) The individual is an alien and is not in satisfactory immigration status under the laws administered by the United States Department of Justice, Immigration and Naturalization Service.

(4) The individual is on disciplinary suspension for more than 30 days based on acts or omissions that constitute fault on the part of the employee and are connected with the work.

(e) Actively Seeking Work. – The Division's determination of whether an individual is actively seeking work is based upon the following:

(1) The individual is registered for employment services, as required by the Division.

(2) The individual has engaged in an active search for employment that is appropriate in light of the employment available in the labor market and the individual's skills and capabilities.

(3) The individual has sought work on at least two different days during the week and made at least two job contacts with potential employers.

(4) The individual has maintained a record of the individual's work search efforts. The record must include the potential employers contacted, the method of contact, and the date contacted. The individual must provide the record to the Division upon request.

(f) Suitable Work. – The Division's determination of whether an employment offer is suitable must vary based upon the individual's length of unemployment as follows:

(1) During the first 10 weeks of a benefit period, the Division may consider all of the following:

a. The degree of risk involved to the individual's health, safety, and morals.

b. The individual's physical fitness and prior training and experience.

c. The individual's prospects for securing local work in the individual's customary occupation.

d. The distance of the available work from the individual's residence.

e. The individual's prior earnings.

(2) During the remaining weeks of a benefit period, the Division must consider any employment offer paying one hundred twenty percent (120%) of the individual's weekly benefit amount to be suitable work.

(g) Job Attachment. – An individual who is partially unemployed and for whom the employer has filed an attached claim for benefits has satisfied the work search requirements for any given week in the benefit period associated with the attached claim if the Division determines the individual is available for work with the employer that filed the attached claim.

(h) Job Training. – An individual has satisfied the work search requirements for any given week if the Division determines for that week that one or more of the following applies:

(1) Trade Jobs for Success. – The individual is participating in the Trade Jobs for Success initiative under G.S. 143B-438.16.

(2) Reemployment services. – The individual is participating in the reemployment services as directed by the Division and is actively seeking work in a manner consistent with the planned reemployment services. The Division must refer an individual to reemployment services if the Division finds that the individual would likely exhaust regular benefits and need reemployment services to make a successful transition to new employment.

(3) Vocational school or training program. – The individual is attending a vocational school or training program approved by the Division.

(i) Federal Labor Standards. – An otherwise eligible individual may not be denied benefits for a given week if the Division determines the individual refused to accept new work for one or more of the following reasons:

(1) The position offered is vacant due directly to a strike, lockout, or other labor dispute.

(2) The remuneration, hours, or other conditions of the work offered are substantially less favorable to the individual than those prevailing for similar work in the locality.

(3) The individual would be required to join a company union or to resign from or refrain from joining any bona fide labor organization as a condition of employment.

(j) Trade Act of 1974. – An otherwise eligible individual may not be denied benefits for any week because the individual is in training approved under section 236(a)(1) of the Trade Act of 1974, nor may the individual be denied benefits by reason of leaving work to enter such training, provided the work left is not suitable employment, or because of the application to any such week in training of provisions in this law or of any applicable federal unemployment compensation law, relating to availability for work, active search for work, or refusal to accept work. For purposes of this subsection, the term "suitable employment" means with respect to an individual, work of a substantially equal or higher skill level than the individual's past adversely affected employment, as defined for purposes of the Trade Act of 1974, and wages for such work at not less than eighty percent (80%) of the individual's average weekly wage as determined for the purposes of the Trade Act of 1974.

"§ 96-14.10. Disciplinary suspension.

The disciplinary suspension of an employee for 30 or fewer consecutive calendar days does not constitute good cause for leaving work. An individual who is on suspension is not available for work and is not eligible for benefits for any week during any part of the disciplinary suspension. If the disciplinary suspension exceeds 30 days, the individual is considered to have been discharged from work because of the acts or omissions that caused the suspension and the issue is whether the discharge was for disqualifying reasons. During the period of suspension up to 30 days, the individual is considered to be attached to the employer's payroll, and the issue of separation from work is held in abeyance until a claim is filed for a week to which this section does not apply.

"§ 96-14.11. Disqualification for the remaining weeks of the benefit period.

(a) Duration. – An individual may be disqualified from receiving benefits for the remaining weeks of the claim's duration if one or more subsections of this section apply. The period of disqualification under this section begins with the first day of the first week after the disqualifying act occurs.

(b) Suitable Work. – An individual is disqualified for any remaining benefits if the Division determines that the individual has failed, without good cause, to do one or more of the following:

(1) Apply for available suitable work when so directed by the employment office of the Division.

(2) Accept suitable work when offered.

(3) Return to the individual's customary self-employment when so directed by the Division.

(c) Recall After Layoff. – An individual is disqualified for any remaining benefits if it is determined by the Division that the individual is, at the time a claim is filed, unemployed because the individual, without good cause attributable to the employer and after receiving notice from the employer, refused to return to work for an employer under one or more of the following circumstances:

(1) The individual was recalled within four weeks after a layoff. As used in this subdivision, the term "layoff" means a temporary separation from work due to no work available for the individual at the time of separation from work and the individual is retained on the employer's payroll and is a continuing employee subject to recall by the employer.

(2) The individual was recalled in a week in which the work search requirements were satisfied under G.S. 96-14.7(g) due to job attachment.

"§ 96-14.12. Limitations on company officers and spouses.

(a) Disqualification for Benefits. – An individual is disqualified for benefits if the Division determines either of the following:

(1) The individual is customarily self-employed and can reasonably return to self-employment.

(2) The individual or the individual's spouse is unemployed because the individual's ownership share of the employer was voluntarily sold and, at the time of the sale, one or more of the following applied:

a. The employer was a corporation and the individual held five percent (5%) or more of the outstanding shares of the voting stock of the corporation.

b. The employer was a partnership, limited or general, and the individual was a limited or general partner.

c. The employer was a limited liability company and the individual was a member.

d. The employer was a proprietorship, and the individual was the proprietor.

(b) Duration of Benefits. – This subsection applies to an individual and the spouse of an individual who is unemployed based on services performed for a corporation in which the individual held five percent (5%) or more of the outstanding shares of the voting stock of the corporation. The maximum number of weeks an individual or an individual's spouse may receive benefits is limited to the lesser of six weeks or the applicable weeks determined under G.S. 96-14.4.

"§ 96-14.13. Limitation on benefits due to lump sum payments.

An individual is disqualified from receiving benefits for any week for which the individual receives any sum from the employer pursuant to an order of a court, the National Labor Relations Board, or another adjudicative agency or by private agreement, consent, or arbitration for loss of pay by reason of discharge. When the employer pays a lump sum that covers a period of more than one week, the amount paid is allocated to the weeks in the period on a pro rata basis as determined by the Division. If the amount prorated to a week would, if it had been earned by the individual during that week of unemployment, have resulted in a reduced benefit payment as provided in G.S. 96-14.2, the individual is entitled to receive the reduced payment if the individual is otherwise eligible for benefits.

Benefits paid for weeks of unemployment for which back pay awards or other similar compensation are made constitutes an overpayment of benefits. The employer must deduct the overpayment from the award prior to payment to the employee and must send the overpayment to the Division within five days of the payment for application against the overpayment. Overpayments not remitted to the Division are subject to the same collection procedures as contributions. The removal of charges made against the employer's account as a result of the previously paid benefits applies to the calendar year in which the Division receives the overpayment."

"§ 96-18.1. Attachment and garnishment of fraudulent overpayment.

(a) Applicability. – This section applies to an individual who has been provided notice of a determination or an appeals decision finding that the individual, or another individual acting in the individual's behalf and with the individual's knowledge, has knowingly done one or more of the following to obtain or increase a benefit or other payment under this Chapter:

Intangible personal property includes bank deposits, rent, salaries, wages, property held in the Escheat Fund, and any other property incapable of manual levy or delivery.

The Secretary may submit to a financial institution, as defined in G.S. 53B-2, information that identifies an individual who owes a fraudulent overpayment that is collectible under this section and the amount of the overpayment. The Secretary may submit the information on a quarterly basis or, with the agreement of the financial institution, on a more frequent basis. A financial institution that receives the information must determine the amount, if any, of intangible property it holds that belongs to the individual and must inform the Secretary of its determination. The Secretary must reimburse a financial institution for its costs in providing the information, not to exceed the amount payable to the financial institution under G.S. 110-139 for providing information for use in locating a noncustodial parent.

No more than ten percent (10%) of an individual's wages or salary is subject to attachment and garnishment. The wages or salary of an employee of the United States, the State, or a political subdivision of the State are subject to attachment and garnishment.

(c) Notice. – Before the Secretary attaches and garnishes intangible property in payment of a fraudulent overpayment, the Secretary must send the garnishee a notice of garnishment. The notice must be sent either in person, by certified mail with a return receipt requested, or with the agreement of the garnishee, by electronic means. The notice must contain all of the following information:

(1) The individual's name.
(2) The individual's social security number or federal identification number.
(3) The amount of fraudulent overpaid benefits the individual owes.
(4) An explanation of the liability of a garnishee for fraudulent overpayment of unemployment insurance benefits owed by an overpaid individual.
(5) An explanation of the garnishee's responsibility concerning the notice.

A garnishee that is a financial institution must comply or file a response within 20 days after receiving a notice of garnishment. All other garnishees must comply or file a response within 30 days after receiving a notice of garnishment. A written response must explain why the garnishee is not subject to garnishment and attachment.

Upon receipt of a written response, the Department must contact the garnishee and schedule a conference to discuss the response or inform the garnishee of the Department's position concerning the response. If the Department does not agree with the garnishee on the garnishee's liability, the Department may proceed to enforce the garnishee's liability for the fraudulent overpayment of unemployment benefits by civil action."

HOUSE BILL 4:
UI Fund Solvency & Program Changes

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	February 5, 2013
Introduced by:	Reps. Howard, Warren, Starnes, Setzer	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette
Analysis of:	Third Edition		Committee Counsel

[As introduced, this bill was identical to Senate Bill 6, as introduced by Sens. Rucho, Rabon, Brock, which is currently in Senate Finance. The bill is a recommendation of the Revenue Laws Study Committee. House Bill 4 does not contain the appropriation provisions from the original bill. These provisions are in the PCS for Senate Bill 6.]

SUMMARY: House Bill 4 would make the following changes to the State unemployment insurance program (UI) to accelerate[1] the repayment of the $2.5 billion advance the State borrowed from the federal government to pay UI benefits:

- Effective January 1, 2014, the bill would make the following tax rate changes: increase the minimum State unemployment tax (SUTA) rates from 0% to .06%, increase maximum SUTA tax rate from 5.7% to 5.76%; and compute SUTA tax rates based on a formula.
- Effective July 1, 2013, the bill would establish a new trigger for the collection and suspension of the surtax, which is equal to 20% of an employer's SUTA liability.
- Effective July 1, 2013, the bill would require a 1% reserve from all governmental entity and nonprofit employers that elect to finance benefits through reimbursement, and disallow refunds.
- Effective, July 1, 2013, the bill would restrict the use of revenues in the Employment Security Commission Reserve Fund and the Special Employment Security Administration Fund.
- Effective July 1, 2013, the bill would make the following benefit changes: reduce the maximum duration of regular benefits from 26 weeks to 20 weeks and tie the duration of benefits to the seasonal adjusted unemployment rate; reduce the maximum weekly benefit amount (WBA) from $535 to $350; and change the calculation of the WBA from a formula based on the high quarter wage in the claimant's base period to the average of the last two quarters of that period.
- Effective July 1, 2013, the bill would restrict the optional triggers for the availability of extended benefits to those times when the benefits would be 100% federally funded. It does not change the mandatory trigger for extended benefits.
- Effective July 1, 2013, the bill would make the following programmatic changes: require a waiting week for each new benefit claim; repeal substantial fault; eliminate most good cause provisions for leaving work; and redefine suitable work as any work paying 120% of weekly benefit amount after 10 weeks of benefits.
- The bill would establish a Joint Legislative Oversight Committee on Unemployment Insurance.

[1] Simulations prepared by the Upjohn Institute suggest the UI Fund would have a positive credit balance in 2018 if the State did not change its laws and relied solely on federal tax increases for the payment of the debt. A simulation based on the changes proposed in the bill suggests the UI Fund would have a positive credit balance in 2015.

BACKGROUND: The Unemployment Compensation Program is a Federal-state partnership created by the federal Social Security Act of 1935 and the Federal Unemployment Tax Act (FUTA). The purpose of the UI program is to provide economic stability to both the unemployed individual and the surrounding community. Federal law requires states to offer temporary unemployment compensation benefits to individuals who lose a job through no fault of their own and are able, available, and actively seeking work. States may design their own UI program so long as the program meets minimal federal coverage and benefit requirements. Employers pay both a federal and state unemployment tax to fund the program. No part of either tax may be deducted from an employee's wages.

The FUTA tax rate is 6% and is applied to a $7,000 taxable wage base. Employers are allowed a credit of up to 5.4% if a state's UI program complies with federal law and regulations, for an effective FUTA tax rate of 0.6% or $42 per employee. This amount is credited to the federal treasury and used to offset the costs of administering the states' UI programs.

If a state does not have sufficient revenues in its Unemployment Trust Fund to pay benefits, the federal unemployment account provides an automatic advance or loan to the state.[2] North Carolina received its first advance in February 2009. The State currently owes the federal unemployment account $2.5 billion.[3] To ensure repayment of the advance, the FUTA tax credit is reduced by 0.3% each year[4] until the debt is repaid; all of the revenue generated by the credit reduction is applied to the principal of the outstanding loan balance. The revenue cannot be used to pay the interest on the debt.[5]

The FUTA tax rate in North Carolina is currently $84 per employee.[6] Under this repayment method, the State is expected to have a positive balance in its Trust Fund account in 2018. Under the current repayment schedule, the FUTA tax rate is anticipated to be $105 per employee in 2014, $126 in 2015, $147 in 2016, $168 in 2017, and $189 in 2018 before returning to $42 in 2019.

CURRENT LAW: Chapter 96 of the General Statutes creates North Carolina's current UI program. The UI program provides coverage and benefits to the employees of private employers, State and local governments, Indian tribes, and nonprofit organizations.

Article 2 of Chapter 96 contains the financing system for UI. Under that system, private employers must pay a SUTA tax, or contribution, on the taxable wages of each of their employees. The taxable wage base in North Carolina is equal to 50% of the average yearly insured wage[7]. The taxable wage base for 2013 is $20,900.[8] Employers that are governmental or nonprofit organizations must be given the election to finance benefits by making reimbursement payments to the Division in lieu of paying a contribution.

The SUTA contribution rates vary from 0% to 5.7%. The revenue from the contribution is credited to the Unemployment Insurance Fund and used only to fund benefits. An employer's SUTA contribution rate is based on an experience-rated system. The Division of Employment Security, Department of Commerce (Division) annually computes an employer's experience rating based on the contribution credits made to and benefits charges made against the employer's account. A positive experience rating

[2] As of January 3, 2013, 20 states have an outstanding state loan from the Federal Unemployment Account.
[3] NC's debt is the 3rd largest behind California at $10.3 billion and New York at $3.5 billion.
[4] The credit reduction begins when a state has an outstanding federal loan balance 2 consecutive Januarys. The indebtedness must be eliminated by November 10th to restore the full credit for the succeeding calendar year.
[5] North Carolina has used revenue in the Employment Security Commission Reserve Fund to pay the interest payments. Interest payments are due on September 30th of each year. The interest rate is determined annually. The interest rate for 2012 was 2.9%. The interest rate for 2013 is 2.6%.
[6] The FUTA tax credit was reduced from 5.4% to 5.1% in 2012 and to 4.8% in 2013.
[7] The average yearly insured wage = average weekly wage on August 1st divided by 52.
[8] Compared to the surrounding states of AL, FL, GA, KY, MS, SC, TN, and VA, North Carolina has the highest taxable wage base. The taxable wage base in most states is in the range of $8,000-$9,000. Data from Upjohn Institute.

produces a lower SUTA contribution rate and a negative experience rating produces a higher SUTA contribution rate.

An employer who has a SUTA tax liability must also pay surtax equal to 20% of the SUTA contribution liability. The revenue from the surtax is credited to the Employment Security Commission Reserve Fund. The revenue from the surtax may be used for various purposes. It has been used to pay the interest on the outstanding advance and to supplement federal grants from US Department of Labor (US DOL) for local Employment Security Commission offices.

Article 2 of Chapter 96 also contains the benefit system for UI. An employee with an attachment to the workforce, as evidenced by sufficient earnings and duration of employment in a 15-month base period, is entitled to some UI benefits if the employee loses a job through no fault on the part of the employee. The UI system imposes a two-year disqualification for UI benefits if the Division determines an individual lost a job for reasons of misconduct[9] and it imposes lesser periods of disqualification for an individual who lost a job for reasons of substantial fault.[10] The current UI program also allows benefits to employees who leave a job for certain causes unrelated to the job such as relocation of a spouse or health of a relative.

An individual who qualifies for UI benefits is eligible for a weekly benefit amount (WBA). The individual's eligibility is determined on a week-by-week basis. To receive a weekly benefit, an individual must be able to work, available to work, and actively seeking work. An individual who is determined to be ineligible for failure to meet one or more of these work search requirements does not receive a benefit for that week. However, the individual remains eligible for benefits in the remaining weeks if the individual meets the requirements.

In addition to UI benefits for an employee who lost a job, an employee may collect UI benefits while remaining on an employer's payroll. An individual who is payroll attached is considered unemployed when the individual works less than the equivalent of three customary scheduled full-time days in the job in which the individual has payroll attachment as a regular employee. An individual who is payroll attached does not have to meet the work search requirements to be eligible to receive benefits. The individual must be able and available to return to work when recalled by the employer. Historically, attached claims account for approximately half of UI claims, although the percentage declined to 40-45% during the recent recession.

An individual's WBA is 50% of the high-quarter wages paid to the individual in the base period, not to exceed the maximum WBA. The maximum WBA is 66 2/3% of the average weekly insured wages. The Division calculates the maximum WBA on August 1st of each year. The maximum WBA for the period August 1, 2012, through July 31, 2013, is $535.

The number of weeks an individual may receive UI benefits is derived from a fraction of the individual's base period wages, with a minimum number of 13 weeks and a maximum number of 26 weeks. In addition to the regular benefit period, which is fully funded by SUTA revenue, the State may be entitled to 13 weeks of extended benefits if the unemployment rate in the State is higher than its two-year average. In some instances of very high unemployment the number of weeks of extended benefits may be as great as 20 weeks. Generally, the federal government pays 50% of the costs of providing extended benefits. During the Great Recession, the federal government fully funded the State's extended benefits.

[9] The two-year period may be reduced if the individual returns to work for at least five weeks, is paid cumulative wages of at least 10 times the individual's WBA, subsequently becomes unemployed through no fault, and meets the work search requirements.

[10] An individual found to be in substantial fault is disqualified for a period of nine weeks. The Division may increase or decrease this number of weeks based on aggravating or mitigating circumstances. An employer's account is not charged for benefits paid due to substantial fault.

The federal funding for these benefits comes from direct appropriations, not from FUTA revenues. North Carolina triggered "off" extended benefits in May of 2012.

At times, including the recent Great Recession, Congress enacts temporary legislation providing additional weeks of Emergency Unemployment Compensation (EUC). At one point, EUC provided up to 53 weeks of additional benefits. Today, the number of weeks provided through EUC is up to 47. Congress recently extended the time for providing EUC from January 2, 2013, to January 1, 2014. A state does not have to participate in the EUC. To participate in the EUC, a state signs an agreement with the US DOL. A state may terminate the agreement with 30 days' written notice to US DOL. To participate in the current agreement, a state must not reduce the way it calculates benefits in such a way that the average weekly benefit would be less than the average weekly benefit provided by the state in June of 2010. In North Carolina today, an individual may be eligible for up to 73 weeks of benefits.[11]

SECTION-BY-SECTION BILL ANALYSIS: The policy changes to the UI program in House Bill 4 would accelerate the repayment of the State's $2.5 billion to the federal unemployment account by approximately three years. The accelerated repayment means the FUTA tax rate borne by NC employers would return to 0.6% in 2016 as opposed to 2019.

SECTION 1: FUND CHANGES

Substantively, section 1 restricts the use of revenue in the Employment Security Administration Reserve Fund (renamed the Unemployment Insurance Reserve Fund) to the payment of benefits, interest payment on federal advances used to pay benefits, and principal payment on federal advances used to pay benefits. Under current law, revenues in the fund may be used to fund local offices. Section 1 also caps the balance in the Fund on January 1 of any year to the greater of $50 million or the amount of interest paid the previous September on federal advances. Any amount in the Fund that exceeds this cap is transferred to the Unemployment Insurance Fund. The amount of interest paid in September 2012 on federal advances was $83.9 million.

Section 1 restricts the use of revenue in the Special Employment Security Administration Fund (renamed the Supplemental Employment Security Administration Fund). Under current law, revenues in the fund may be used for improvements to buildings, the enhancement of the work environment in buildings used by the Division of Employment Security, the acquisition of real estate, buildings, and equipment required for the expeditious handling of Division business, and the temporary stabilization of federal funds cash flow. The bill limits the use of money to the temporary stabilization of federal funds and to payment of costs determined by US DOL to be ineligible for payment from the Employment Security Administration Fund. The restrictions imposed by the bill on the use of money in this fund effectively limits the funds available to administer the State's UI program to the grant monies allocated to the State by US DOL.

Administratively, section 1 moves the definitions from Article 2 of Chapter 96 to Article 1 because the definitions apply throughout the Chapter. The bill puts the definitions in alphabetical order, it cross-references many definitions to their meaning under FUTA, and it removes definitions that are not needed. It renames the four funds used to administer the UI program to more clearly reflect their purpose and it removes antiquated and redundant language:

- Unemployment Insurance Fund. – The revenue for this fund consists of SUTA contributions and it is used to pay benefits. Contributions credited to the Unemployment Insurance Fund are transferred daily to the State's account in the Unemployment Trust Fund. The Trust Fund is held in the federal treasury. Money in the State's account is requisitioned by the State as needed to pay benefits. As the money is requisitioned, it is transferred to the State's Unemployment Insurance Fund to pay benefits. If the State's account in the Unemployment Trust Fund is not sufficient to meet the requisitioned amount needed to pay benefits, then the State receives an advance from the federal unemployment account.

- Unemployment Insurance Reserve Fund. – The revenue for this fund consists of surtax revenue and its use is limited by this bill to the payment of benefits and to payment of interest and principal on federal advances.
- Employment Security Administration Fund. – The revenue for this fund consists primarily of grant money allocated to the State from US DOL for the administration of the State's UI program.
- Supplemental Employment Security Administration Fund. – The revenue for this fund consists primarily of interest paid by employers on past due contributions and its use is limited by this bill to payment of costs determined by US DOL to be ineligible for payment from the Employment Security Administration Fund, temporary stabilization of federal funds cash flow, security for advances, and the repayment of an overpayment of interest previously credited to this fund.

SECTION 2: SUTA CONTRIBUTION AND SURTAX CHANGES RESERVE REQUIREMENTS FOR REIMBURSABLE EMPLOYERS

Substantively, Section 2 does the following:

- Replaces the current tax schedules with a formula.
- Increases the minimum and maximum SUTA contribution rates.
- Changes the trigger that suspends the collection of the surtax.
- Simplifies the reimbursement option for employers that are governmental and nonprofit organization by treating them uniformly. Uniformity means that all of them are required to maintain a reserve account equal to 1% of the taxable wages paid by them to their employees.

Section 2 repeals the current set of stepped tax schedules that determine an employer's SUTA contribution rate and replaces the schedules with an equation based on a reserve ratio. The change results in smoother movement between experience ratings and improves the responsiveness of the system. The contribution rate may change under the equation depending on the balance in the State's account in the federal Unemployment Trust Fund on August 1st. If the amount in the Trust Fund is less than or equal to 1% of the total wages reported by all insured employers in the State for the 12-month period ending on July 31st, then the contribution rate is 2.9% minus the employer's reserve ratio percentage (ERRP). The amount in the Trust Fund is currently less than 1% of total wages.

If the amount in the Trust Fund is greater than 1% of total insured wages but less than or equal to 1.25%, then the contribution rate is reduced to 2.4% minus the ERRP. If the amount in the Trust Fund is greater than 1.25% of total insured wages, then the contribution rate may decline to 1.9% minus the ERRP. The ERRP is the employer's reserve ratio based on the employer's experience rating. The bill does not change how an employer's experience rating is determined. The move from the stepped tax schedules to an equation may result in minor contribution changes for employers between the minimum and maximum contribution rates. The increase in contributions required from employers currently at the minimum and maximum contribution rates is attributable to the increase in the minimum and maximum rates.

Section 2 increases the minimum and maximum contribution rates; it does not change the standard beginning rate of 1%. It increases the minimum contribution rate from 0% to .06%. North Carolina is the only state with a 0% minimum tax rate. Approximately 20% of North Carolina's employers have no

SUTA tax liability. Since the surtax is a percentage of SUTA liability, these employers do not have a surtax liability. Under the bill, these employers will pay some SUTA tax and consequently the surtax.[12] The bill increases the maximum contribution rate from 5.7% to 5.76%. Approximately 10% of North Carolina employers pay SUTA at the maximum rate.

Section 2 changes the trigger for determining when the surtax must be collected. Under current law, the trigger is based upon how much is in the Employment Security Commission Reserve Fund (Reserve Fund). If the amount in the Reserve Fund equals or exceeds $163,349,000 on August 1st, the collection of the surtax is suspended for the succeeding calendar year. This dollar amount represented 1% of taxable wages in 1984.[13] The bill changes the trigger from an amount in the Reserve Fund to an amount in the State's account in the Unemployment Trust Fund: the surtax would be suspended when the amount in the Trust Fund equals or exceeds $1 billion.

Section 2 simplifies the provisions applicable to employers that must be given the option to reimburse the Unemployment Insurance Fund for benefits paid on their behalf as opposed to paying contributions.[14] Under current law, most nonprofit organizations and all Indian tribes and subsidiaries of an Indian tribe that make this election must maintain a reserve account equal to 1% of the taxable wages paid to its employees. The bill imposes this same 1% reserve requirement on governmental entities, as well as all nonprofit organizations.

For governmental entities, the change essentially ensures that the funds are available in the employer's account to pay unemployment benefits when the benefits are paid. The change represents a one-time cash flow expenditure for governmental entities because not only will these entities have to pay the full reimbursement cost of benefits paid to claimants in 2012 in January of 2014, they will also have to make advance payments for the four calendar quarters beginning with the quarter that begins July 1, 2013, to build the 1% reserve. The largest quarterly advance will likely be the one made for the first quarter of the calendar year, payable in April 2014. Thereafter, governmental entities will have an annual reconciliation to maintain the 1% balance in their reserve account. The Division will determine the amount necessary to maintain the appropriate reserve balance on August 1st of each year.

Most nonprofit organizations currently maintain a 1% balance in their reserve accounts. However, some are allowed to post a surety bond or have a line of credit in lieu of the 1% reserve. This change may represent a similar cash flow issue for these nonprofits. Currently, the bonds and lines of credit are allowed for two-year periods. Effective July 1, 2013, the bill prevents a nonprofit organization from submitting a line of credit or a surety bond to secure its reimbursing election. The bill does allow current lines of credit or surety bond contracts to expire in their normal course.

Administratively, Section 2 simplifies the statutes by adopting the relevant provisions of federal law. The bill does not change coverage of employers subject to the UI program.

SECTION 3: ADMINISTRATION AND COLLECTION OF CONTRIBUTIONS

Substantively, Section 3 allows the Secretary of Commerce to compromise an employer's liability under the same limited circumstances that the Secretary of Revenue has to compromise a tax liability. When the Secretary compromises an employer's liability and the liability is at least $1,000, the Secretary must make a written statement that sets out the amount of the liability, the amount accepted under the compromise, a summary of the facts concerning the liability, and the findings on which the compromise is based.

[12] With a taxable wage base of $20,900, an employer's SUTA tax liability with a .06% rate would be $12.54 per employee and the surtax liability would be $2.51.

[13] The surtax last triggered on in 2005 and has been collected since then.

[14] FUTA requires states to give governmental and nonprofit employers a reimbursement option.

Administratively, Section 3 consolidates the provisions concerning the administration and collection of contributions in one Article. It does not change the current law.

SECTION 4: ADMINISTRATION OF EMPLOYER ACCOUNTS

Substantively, Section 4 greatly reduces the number of reasons for which an employer may be relieved from having benefits charged against the employer's account. This change conforms to the benefit changes made in Section 5, and more fully explained in that section of the summary.

Section 4 also amends the penalty enacted last session that prohibits the release of charges when an overpayment is made to a claimant because the employer failed to respond timely to a request for information concerning the claim. To comply with federal law, a state must impose this penalty as part of its UI program, effective on or before October 21, 2013. The penalty applies to employers that have exhibited a pattern of failing to respond. Section 4 defines a "pattern of failing" by providing that a pattern cannot be found unless the employer failures during the year prior to the request is less than 2% of the total requests made to that employer. It also moves the effective date of this provision from October 1, 2013, to October 21, 2013, the date required by federal law.

Administratively, Section 4 consolidates the provisions concerning how and when contributions are credited to an employer's account and how and when benefit charges are credited against an employer's account. It also requires an employer with 25 or more employees to file the Quarterly Tax and Wage Report electronically. Under current law, the electronic filing requirement applies to an employer with 100 or more employees.

SECTION 5: PAYMENT OF BENEFITS

Substantively, Section 5 does the following:

- Requires a waiting week for each claim filed.
- Eliminates and modifies many of the reasons for which a claimant may qualify for benefits and changes the terms of the disqualification.
- Changes the calculation for how an individual's WBA is determined; reduces the maximum WBA to a statutorily set amount of $350; and changes the calculation for an individual's partial WBA.
- Reduces the maximum duration of regular UI benefits and limits the applicability of optional extended benefits.
- Redefines "suitable work".
- Places additional benefit limitations on company officers and spouses of company officers.

Waiting week.

To obtain benefits, an individual must file a valid claim for unemployment benefits and register for work. The bill requires an individual to wait a week for each claim filed before receiving a benefit. Under current law, the waiting week is limited to one per benefit year. A valid claim is one that meets certain employment and wage standards. The bill does not change those standards:

- An individual must have been paid wages in at least two quarters of the base period.
- An individual must have been wages totaling at least six times the average weekly insured wage during the base period, which is the first four of the last five completed calendar quarters. If the individual does not have sufficient base period wages, the alternative base period is the last four completed quarters.

Qualification changes.

For an individual that files a valid claim, the Division must determine whether the individual qualifies for benefits. Qualification for benefits is determined based on the reason for separation from employment. The bill makes the following qualification changes:

- Reduced work hours. – An individual may qualify for benefits if the individual's work hours have been reduced by more than 50% as part of a unilateral and permanent reduction of work hours. Under current law the reduction in work hours need only be 20%.[15]
- Disciplinary suspension. – An individual may qualify for benefits if the individual has been placed on disciplinary suspension for more than 30 consecutive days. Under current law the suspension need only be for 10 consecutive days. The issue becomes whether the reason for suspension is a disqualifying reason for benefits.
- Good cause.[16] – The bill eliminates all but two of the reasons for which an individual could voluntarily quit work and still qualify for UI benefits. Those two reasons are domestic violence and military spousal relocation.[17] The reasons eliminated include: bankruptcy; impending closure; spousal relocation; disability or other health concern, whether or not it is related to work; disability or health concern of minor child, aged or disabled parent, or disabled immediate family member; inability to accept work during a particular shift because of concerns related to child care, elder care, or care of a disabled family member.
- Substantial fault.[18] – The bill eliminates substantial fault. Under substantial fault, an individual may qualify for a reduced number of weeks of UI benefits if the reason for separation included fault on the part of the individual, but the fault did not rise to the level of misconduct. Under the bill, an individual would either qualify for benefits, or not qualify; there would be no qualifying for a reduced number of weeks of benefits.

In addition to the reasons given above for disqualification of benefits, an individual may be disqualified for leaving work without good cause attributable to the employer, for misconduct, or for failing to secure the necessary licenses, permit, bond, or surety required for the job. The length of the disqualification period may be two years, or it may be less. The current law gives the Division a lot of discretion in defining the length of the disqualification. The bill would remove this discretion. An individual would either qualify for the full duration of benefits, or not qualify for the benefits at all. And if an individual is disqualified for benefits, the disqualification only applies to that claim.

Weekly benefit amount.

The Division must determine the WBA and the duration of benefits a qualifying individual is entitled to receive. The bill makes the following changes in the calculation of the WBA:

- Changes the calculation of the WBA from 50% of the individual's high-quarter wages in the base period, not to exceed the maximum WBA, to 50% of the individual's average weekly wage in the last two quarters of the base period. [19] North Carolina's average weekly benefit (AWB) for 2011

[15] The bill does not change the 15% reduction of work pay as a reason for qualifying for benefits if the reduction is part of a unilateral and permanent reduction of work pay.
[16] Benefits not charged to employer's account.
[17] An individual that qualifies for benefits under this section would still need to meet the work search requirements to be eligible for a benefit.
[18] Benefits not charged to employer's account.

was $291.[20] The Upjohn Institute report noted that wages for the two quarters immediately preceding unemployment were typically 66.4% of the high-quarter wages. Based on that assumption, this change is expected to reduce aggregate UI benefits by 33.6%. The actual number of claimants impacted is indeterminable; it would impact any individual whose quarterly wages are reduced in the two quarters preceding an unemployment claim.

- Sets the maximum WBA in statute at $350.[21] Currently, the Division calculates the maximum WBA annually based on 66 2/3% of the average weekly insured wages on August 1; the maximum WBA in the State today is $535.[22] An estimated 21.7% of weekly claims checks exceed $350; of those, approximately 17% are at the maximum amount. North Carolina's maximum WBA is 70% higher than the average of the following eight states compared in the Upjohn Institute report for 2011: AL ($265), FL ($275), GA ($330), KY ($415), MS ($235), SC ($326), TN ($275), and VA ($378).
- Changes the base for determination of the disregard for partial earnings from 10% of the individual's AWW in the high-quarter to 20% of the individual's WBA.

Duration of regular benefits.

The duration of regular benefits in North Carolina ranges from 13 weeks to 26 weeks[23], depending upon the total benefit amount the individual is entitled to receive. The bill ties the duration of regular benefits to the seasonal adjusted statewide unemployment rate, as determined by the US DOL. The duration could change twice a year: January 1 and July 1. The bill also reduces the maximum number of weeks from 26 to 20.[24] Based on these two changes, the duration of benefits would vary as follows:

Seasonal adjusted UI rate	Minimum number of weeks	Maximum number of weeks
Less than or equal to 5.5%	5	12
Greater than 5.5% up to 6%	6	13
Greater than 6% up to 6.5%	7	14
Greater than 6.5% up to 7%	8	15
Greater than 7% up to 7.5%	9	16
Greater than 7.5% up to 8%	10	17
Greater than 8% up to 8.5%	11	18
Greater than 8.5% up to 9%	12	19
Greater than 9%	13	20

[20] That amount was slightly higher than the AWB in the surrounding states of AL ($204), FL ($232), GA ($268), KY ($287), MS ($191), SC ($238), TN ($238), and VA.
[21] An individual annual wages would need to be $36,400 to qualify for a maximum benefit of $350.
[22] An individual's annual salary would need to be $55,640 to receive the maximum benefit of $535.
[23] The average duration of regular UI benefits in December 2012 was 16.3 weeks. The exhaustion rate for North Carolina for the 3rd quarter of 2012 was 54.2%. The highest exhaustion rate was 63.9% in the 2nd quarter of 2010 and the lowest was 12.5% in the 1st quarter of 1989.
[24] Upjohn Institute reports that from 2006-2011, 43% of claimants exhausted their maximum eligibility of 26 weeks. During that time period, 43% of claimants would have been affected by a reduction in the number of weeks.

Weekly certification.

Once an individual qualifies for UI benefits, the individual must meet weekly work search eligibility requirements to receive the benefit. The individual must submit a certification each week attesting that the individual meets the work search requirements. If an individual does not meet the eligibility requirements, the individual is ineligible to receive a benefit until the reason for the ineligibility ceases to exist. The work search requirements are that the individual must be able to work, available to work, actively seeking work, and accepting suitable work. The Department of Commerce has made some administrative changes in this area, and the bill makes some statutory changes in it.

Last biennium[25], the General Assembly enacted legislation to place the Employment Security Commission as a division under the Department of Commerce. Through the merger process, the Division of Employment Security and the Division of Workforce Solutions have agreed in a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) executed in November 2012 as to how each division will support the common goal of serving UI claimants who are in need of financial and job-seeking assistance. As part of that MOU, claimants will be encouraged to file UI claims remotely. The Division of Workforce Solutions will be the lead division that assists UI claimants with job search, retraining, and other support. As part of the re-employment goals, new UI claimants will be required to have an in-individual interview with someone from the Division of Workforce Solutions within the first four weeks of receiving an initial UI benefit. The purpose of the individual visit is to verify the claimant's work search, schedule claimants to participate in an employability assistance process, and identify those claimants that need subsequent on site employability interviews. If an individual fails to come, the individual's UI benefit may be stopped.

The bill makes the following statutory changes in the work search requirements:

- It defines "suitable work" as any job paying 120% of the individual's WBA after the first 10 weeks of benefits.
- It eliminates the part-time suitable work exception. Under current law, if an individual is unemployed from a part-time job, the individual is not required to accept full-time employment.
- Under current law, an individual is considered to meet the work search requirements if the individual is in school. The bill restricts this provision by limiting it to enrollment in a training program approved by the Division, as required under FUTA.

Lastly, the bill places additional benefit restrictions on company officers and spouses of company officers. Under current law, an individual is disqualified from receiving benefits if the individual is self-employed and can reasonably return to work. Also, an individual or the individual's spouse is disqualified from receiving benefits if the individual is unemployed because the individual's ownership share of the employer was voluntarily sold and the individual held 5% or more of the outstanding shares of voting stock, or was a partner, or was the sole proprietor. Under the bill, a corporate officer that qualifies for benefits would be limited in the duration of benefits to six weeks.

Administratively, Section 5 consolidates the provisions concerning benefits in one Article. Except as otherwise noted in the summary, it does not intend to change the other provisions of current law.

SECTION 6: EXTENDED BENEFITS

Under federal law, a state must offer extended benefits during times of high unemployment in the state.[26] Extended benefits are typically funded 50% by the State and 50% by the federal government.

[25] SL 2011-145 and SL 2011-401.

[26] North Carolina "triggered off" extended benefits in May 2012.

Federal law sets one definition of high unemployment that a State must follow. It also provides optional definitions that may trigger extended benefits earlier than the mandatory definition. North Carolina's current law includes both the required trigger and the optional triggers.

The duration of extended benefits is typically equal to 50% of the total amount of regular benefits. By limiting the number of weeks of regular benefits, the bill indirectly reduces the number of extended benefits an individual may receive. Section 7 of the bill would also make one other change to the applicability of extended benefits in North Carolina by providing that the optional triggers would not "trigger on" unless the federal government has agreed to pay 100% of those extended benefits.

SECTION 7: ADMINISTRATION OF BENEFITS

Substantively, Section 7 does two things:

- It changes the administration of UI benefits by limiting the ability of employers to file attached claims on behalf of their employees.
- It authorizes the Division to collect fraudulent overpayments through attachment and garnishment.

Under current law, an employer may file a claim for an employee that it intends to keep on its payroll. That employee must be able to work for the employer and available to return to work for that employer whenever that employer calls the individual back to work. Otherwise, the employee does not have to meet the weekly certification requirements of engaging in work search efforts.

Historically, attached claims account for approximately half of UI claims, although the percentage declined to 40-45% during the recent recession. Although it is difficult to determine what employers file attached claims, it appears that those most likely to do are the employers engaged in manufacturing and construction. It also appears that a large amount of the current indebtedness can be attributed to employers who have reached the maximum contribution rate and that those employers may be largely related to manufacturing and construction. With the current limitations on the computer capabilities at the Division, a more accurate analysis is not available.

Some attached claims are filed for one or more weeks of unemployment. Under the regulations previously issued by the Employment Security Commission[27], an employer that files attached claims for one or more weeks must furnish the Division with a definite date when work will become available for the claimant. This period may not extend for more than six weeks unless the time period is extended by the local office.

Other attached claims are filed for days within a week. For example, an individual employed by a company that builds roads may file attached claims for employees when the weather outside prohibits work for less than three customary scheduled full-time days during the work week. This unemployment is known as partially unemployed. Under current law, an individual who is partially unemployed must serve one waiting week per benefit year. Under the bill, a claimant must serve a waiting week for each claim. That change effectively eliminates partially unemployed claims.

Under the bill, only certain employers will be allowed to file attached claims, and there are restrictions on how those claims are processed:

- Only employers that have a positive account balance would be allowed to file attached claims. If an employer that wished to file an attached claim had a negative account balance, the employer would have to make a voluntary contribution to the Unemployment Insurance Fund in an amount sufficient to bring its account balance to zero or better.

- An employer would have to immediately reimburse the Unemployment Insurance Fund for the full cost of UI benefits paid to the employee through the attached claim.
- An employer could only file an attached claim once a year for each employee, and the duration of the attached claim could not extend beyond six weeks.

Section 7 adds attachment and garnishment to the collection tools available to the Division to recover fraudulent overpayments. The Division requested this ability. A fraudulent overpayment is one that is made based on a finding that the claimant, or another individual acting in the claimant's behalf and with the claimant's knowledge, has knowingly made a false statement or representation or failed to disclose a material fact for the purpose of obtaining or increasing an unemployment benefit.

Administratively, Section 7 consolidates the provisions governing the administration of UI benefits in one Article.

SECTION 8: LOCAL OFFICES

The US DOL allocates grant money to the State to administer the UI program. Some of this grant money may be used to operate local offices. The State has historically appropriated money from the Employment Security Administration Reserve Fund to finance additional local offices. The amount appropriated in the past to fund local offices has been $19.5 million. North Carolina currently operates 90 local offices. By comparison, South Carolina operates 56 and Virginia operates 39. Section 1 of the bill restricts the use of the money in the Unemployment Insurance Reserve Fund so that continued appropriations may not be made from that fund to finance local offices. The restriction may result in the consolidation of local offices. Section 8 of the bill sets general parameters the Department of Commerce must consider as it determines the appropriate number and location of local offices.

SECTION 9: CONFORMING CHANGES

Section 9 makes conforming changes to other statutes.

SECTION 10: JOINT LEGISLATIVE OVERSIGHT COMMITTEE ON UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

Section 10 establishes a Joint Legislative Oversight Committee on Unemployment Insurance. The Committee consists of eight members, four appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives and four appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate. The Committee expires in 10 years. The Committee is authorized to do the following:

- Study the unemployment insurance laws and the administration of those laws.
- Review the State's unemployment insurance laws to determine which laws need clarification, technical amendment, repeal or other change to make the laws concise, intelligible, and easy to administer.
- Monitor the payment of the debt owed by the Unemployment Insurance Trust Fund to the federal unemployment account.
- Review and determine the adequacy of the balances in the Unemployment Trust Fund and the Unemployment Insurance Reserve Fund.
- Study the workforce development programs and reemployment assistance efforts of the Department of Commerce.

SECTION 12: EFFECTIVE DATE[28]

The bill would become effective July 1, 2013. Changes made by the act to unemployment benefits apply to claims for benefits filed on or after July 1, 2013.[29] Changes made by the act to require an account balance by an employer that is a governmental entity or a nonprofit organization and that elects to finance benefits by making reimbursement payments in lieu of contributions apply to advance payments payable for calendar quarters beginning on or after July 1, 2013. Changes made by the act to the determination and application of the contribution rate apply to contributions payable for calendar quarters beginning on or after January 1, 2014.

[29] Congress extended the Emergency Unemployment Compensation program (EUC) from January 2, 2013, to January 1, 2014, in the American Taxpayer Relief Act of 2012. The program provides claimants up to 47 additional weeks of benefits, financed by an appropriation from the federal government. A state's participation in the program is optional. North Carolina is currently a party to the agreement. The State can terminate the agreement with 30 days' notice. To participate in the agreement, a state cannot change the mathematical formula used to determine weekly benefit amounts in a manner that will result in the average WBA being less than the average WBA was in June 2010. The bill would violate this "non-reduction" rule, effective July 1, 2013.

BILL SUMMARY: See Research Division Outline Chart

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

Unemployment Insurance (UI) Trust Fund

The UI Trust Fund is the source of funds used to pay unemployment benefits. Revenues for the Fund come from employer taxes and interest earned on balances. During economic downturns, the Fund is forced to borrow from the Federal Treasury to pay benefits if the balance in the Fund is not sufficient to pay unemployment benefits. Because of the high levels of unemployment experienced during the Great Recession, the Fund was forced to borrow, resulting in a current debt of $2.5 billion.

Simulation Model

The US Department of Labor maintains a model for states to use to simulate changes to UI programs and determine the impact on the UI Trust Fund through 2021. This model was used by the W.E. Upjohn Institute to estimate the impact of the proposed legislation on the State's UI Trust Fund. The model is not designed to simulate all of the changes in the proposal. Therefore, the results do not represent the total impact of the proposal; however, the major changes in the proposal are included in the simulation and are listed below. The impact of other changes in the proposal are discussed later in the memo.

- Reduction in maximum weekly benefit from two-thirds of average weekly wage to $350
- Reduction in maximum duration of benefits from 26 weeks to a sliding scale ranging from 12 to 20 weeks based on the seasonally adjusted total unemployment rate.
- Weekly benefit amount based on most recent two quarters as opposed to high quarter wages.
- State Unemployment Tax (SUTA) rate tables changed to linear formula with triggered reductions based on UI Trust Fund balance as percentage of total insured wages.

Federal UI Tax (FUTA) Credit Reductions

The simulation incorporates the FUTA credit reductions that occur annually until the debt is paid. The credit reductions are decreases in the credit amount that the federal government allows against the federal unemployment taxes (FUTA) paid by employers. When states are in full compliance with USDOL guidelines, a credit of 5.4% is allowed against the 6.0% percent FUTA tax, resulting in an effective FUTA rate of 0.6% on a $7,000 taxable wage base, or $42 per employee. When a state has an outstanding UI debt for two consecutive Januaries, USDOL reduces the credit each year by 0.3%, or $21 per employee with wages of $7,000 or more. For tax year 2013, the FUTA credit reduction will be 0.6%, resulting in a total effective tax rate of 1.2%, and will increase by 0.3% for each year in which the State UI Trust Fund carries a negative balance.

Economic Variables
The simulation incorporates several economic assumptions used to determine the amount of benefits paid and taxes collected each year. Economic variables for labor force growth, wage growth, total unemployment rate and insured unemployment rate were obtained from Global Insight. The variables project a slowly improving economy with total unemployment improving from 9.32% in 2013 to 6.14 % in 2021.

Simulation Results
The simulation provides outputs for the UI Trust Fund balance for each year. Results indicate that the UI Trust Fund would have a positive balance beginning in 2015 and that a balance of $2.2 billion would be achieved by the year 2021 if the proposal is implemented.

State and Local Government Reserve Requirements
Part 3 of the proposed legislation requires that state and local governments maintain a 1% reserve fund in addition to reimbursing the State for benefits charged to the entities. The governmental units would begin paying into a reserve fund on a quarterly basis effective July 1, 2013. A quarterly assessment of 1% of taxable payroll would be assessed, with a final reconciliation payment due in January 2015. Benefits charged on behalf of governmental units would be charged against the 1% reserve, requiring additional payments to maintain the 1% reserve. As payments are made into the reserve, they would be swept to the Federal Treasury and credited to the UI Trust Fund.

FRD estimated the impact on the UI Trust fund of the reserve requirements by obtaining taxable payroll data from the NC Division of Employment Security. The total amount of taxable wages for State and local governments is approximately $13.5 billion. The reserve requirements represent 1% of this amount, or $135 million. This amount would be paid over a 1.5-year period beginning in July 2013 and ending in January 2015. It is expected that the majority of this amount would be received during fiscal year 2013-14. The first quarter calendar year payments are highest because taxable wages ($20,900 for 2013) begin to be exhausted in subsequent quarters. For purposes of this fiscal memo, it is assumed that 75% of reserve requirements will be achieved in FY 2013-14, with the remainder in FY 2014-15.

The State portion of taxable wages was estimated by Fiscal Research as $67.5 million. Of this amount, $11.5 million is related to receipt-supported positions and $1.6 million is assigned to the Highway Fund, resulting in a net General Fund cost of $54.4 million. This amount includes the cost associated with State-funded teacher positions.

Because this estimate is based on budgeted FTE's (full-time equivalents), it does not fully account for part-time positions, but does include vacancies. For example, two half-time positions would be counted as one FTE; therefore the taxable wage would be calculated as if it is one employee.

The remainder of the $135.3 million in estimated reserve requirements, or $67.8 million, is attributable to local governments. 75% of this amount is assumed to be paid in FY 2013-14, with the remainder paid in FY 2014-15.

Table 1 below includes the impact of the changes included in the Upjohn simulation, the State and local reserve requirement, the FUTA contributions and the total impact on the UI Trust Fund for each year.

Other Changes

Several additional changes in the proposal are described here. While the USDOL model does not allow for simulation of these changes, the nature of the changes and potential impacts are discussed below.

Nonprofits

Currently, nonprofits are required to maintain a 1% reserve or provide a surety bond ensure payment of 1% of taxable payroll if the nonprofit is unable to pay benefits. While most nonprofits elect to use the 1% reserve, a small number of nonprofits post a surety bond. The change from surety bond to a reserve fund for these entities will result in a small increase in the UI Trust Fund.

Attached Claims

Under current law, employers may file UI claims for employees if the employees remain attached to the employer and there is an expectation that the employee will return to work within 6 weeks. There is no requirement that the employee search for work during this period. The proposal would only allow for attached claims if the employer has a positive UI balance; that is, benefits charged to the employer do not exceed UI taxes paid by the employer. Positive balance employers may elect to use attached claims only if they reimburse the UI Trust fund for the cost of benefits paid to employees.

It is expected that very few employers would utilize the attached claims process under the proposal. Employees laid off by employers, even if for a temporary period, would be able to file a UI claim and receive benefits; however, the requirements for receiving benefits would apply, including searching for work. It is not known how the elimination of attached claims would affect the number of workers filing for benefits. Unemployed workers who would have previously received benefits under the attached claims process may elect to file for benefits on their own. Because of the administrative burden on the employee, and the desire in many cases to return to work with the current employer, it is expected that this change would result in fewer UI claims and a reduction in benefits paid.

Other UI System Modifications
This proposal modifies additional components of the UI system, which were not modeled by the Upjohn Institute, but which are considered to likely have a positive impact on the Trust Fund. Such modifications include narrowing qualifications for benefit eligibility, suitable work, and good cause (see Research Outline for additional context).

Reserve Fund Limitations
The Reserve Fund is funded by a 20% surtax on State UI Taxes (SUTA). Under current law, the surtax is triggered when the balance in the Reserve Fund falls below $163 million. Under the proposal, the surtax would be charged until the UI Trust Fund has a balance of $1 billion. In addition, the Reserve will only be used for the following activities: principal payment of federal UI advances, interest payment on federal UI debt, UI benefit payments, administrative costs for surtax collection, and tax refunds. The fund would be capped at $50 million, or the amount used to pay interest in the previous year, whichever is greater.

moves to amend the bill on page 39, line 10, by rewriting the line to read:

"SECTION 12.(a) G.S. 96-14.2(a), as enacted by this act, reads as rewritten;

'(a) Weekly Benefit Amount. – The weekly benefit amount for an individual who is totally unemployed is an amount equal to the wages paid to the individual in the last two completed quarters of the individual's base period divided by 52 and rounded to the next lower whole dollar. A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. The Office of State Budget and Management, in conjunction with the Office of the State Controller and the Department of Commerce, shall transfer and allocate to the Unemployment Insurance Fund any unencumbered cash balance as of June 30, 2013, of each of the following special funds within the Department and then close each of these special funds:

(1) Worker Training Trust Fund (Special Fund Code 64654-6400).

(2) Training and Employment Account (Special Fund Code 64655-6601).

SECTION 2. There is appropriated from the Special Employment Security Administration Fund to the Unemployment Insurance Fund the sum of ten million dollars ($10,000,000) for the 2013-2014 fiscal year to be used to make principal payments on advances made by the federal government under Title XII of the Social Security Act to the Unemployment Insurance Fund to pay unemployment compensation benefits.

SECTION 3. This act becomes effective July 1, 2013.

SENATE BILL 6:
UI Fund Changes

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	February 6, 2013
Introduced by:	Sens. Rucho, Rabon, Brock	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S6-CSRB-2

[As introduced, this bill was identical to H4, as introduced by Reps. Howard, Warren, Starnes, Setzer, which is currently in Senate Finance. The bill is a recommendation of the Revenue Laws Study Committee. House Bill 4, 3rd Edition, contains the substantive provisions of the Revenue Laws Study Committee recommendation; it does not contain the appropriation provisions. The PCS for Senate Bill 6 contains the appropriation provisions from the original study committee recommendation. The appropriation provisions must be re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations.]

SUMMARY: The proposed committee substitute for Senate Bill 6 would transfer more than $17 million from three funds and accounts to the Unemployment Insurance Fund to make principal payments on the $2.5 billion advance made by the federal government to the Unemployment Insurance Fund to pay unemployment compensation benefits. The programmatic changes in the original bill are in House Bill 4, 3rd edition.

BILL ANALYSIS: The proposed committee substitute for Senate Bill 6 would close two accounts that have not been utilized and transfer the balance of those accounts to the Unemployment Insurance Fund. All monies in that fund are swept daily into the State's account in the federal Unemployment Trust Fund and used to make principal payments on the advance made by the federal government to the account to pay unemployment compensation benefits. Senate Bill 6 would also transfer $10 million from the Special Employment Security Administration Fund to the Unemployment Insurance Fund for the same purpose.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill would become effective July 1, 2013.

BACKGROUND: If a state does not have sufficient revenues in its Unemployment Trust Fund to pay benefits, the federal unemployment account provides an automatic advance or loan to the state.[1] North Carolina received its first advance in February 2009. The State currently owes the federal unemployment account $2.5 billion.[2]

The General Assembly created the Worker Training Trust Fund in 1987. It is funded from interest earned on the Employment Security Reserve Fund and monies in the Fund have historically been used for Worker Training Programs at the community colleges. House Bill 4 removes this funding source by providing that all interest earned on the Reserve Fund accrues to it. The money in the Reserve Fund, as amended by House Bill 4, may be used only to fund unemployment compensation benefits and principal and interest payments on advances made by the federal government to the Unemployment Insurance Fund. There is approximately $6 million in this account. Senate Bill 6 would close this fund and remit the unencumbered balance to the Unemployment Insurance Fund.

[1] As of January 3, 2013, 20 states have an outstanding state loan from the Federal Unemployment Account.
[2] NC's debt is the 3rd largest behind California at $10.3 billion and New York at $3.5 billion.

O. Walker Reagan

Research Division

The General Assembly created the Training and Employment Account in 1991 to capture a mandatory training and reemployment contribution that was levied on employers. Eighty percent of the contributions were allocated to community college training programs and the remaining 20% were allocated to the Employment Security Commission for employment services and administrative expenses. The contributions that funded the account have not been collected since 2005.[3] There is approximately $688,000 in this account. Senate Bill 6 would close this fund and remit the unencumbered balance to the Unemployment Insurance Fund.

The Special Employment Security Administration Fund is funded primarily by interest and penalty[4] payments employers make on past due contributions. Under current law the monies in the Fund may be used to finance improvements to buildings, acquisition of property, and the temporary stabilization of federal funds cash flow. House Bill 4 restricts the use of the fund to the administration of the unemployment insurance program, the temporary stabilization of federal funds cash flow, and security for loans from the Unemployment Trust Fund. There is approximately $16 million[5] in the Fund. Senate Bill 6 would transfer $10 million of this amount to the Unemployment Insurance Fund.

[3] S.L. 1999-321 created the contribution rate and account with a sunset of January 1, 2002. S.L. 2001-424 extended the sunset until January 1, 2006.

[4] Since 2006, the Division of Employment Security has transferred the funds it receives attributable to penalties to the Fines and Forfeitures Account.

[5] Some portion of this amount may be attributed to penalties paid to the Fund prior to 2006.

BILL SUMMARY:

Proposed Committee Substitute (PCS) to Senate Bill (SB) 6 requires the Office of State Budget and Management, in conjunction with the Office of the State Controller and the Department of Commerce to transfer cash balances to the Unemployment Insurance Fund from the Worker Training Trust Fund and the Training and Employment Account and then close these funds. The Special Employment Security Administration Fund will also transfer $10 million to the Unemployment Insurance Fund.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

PCS to SB 6 requires unencumbered cash balances from three special funds to be put toward repayment of the $2.5 billion advance the State borrowed from the federal government to pay unemployment insurance benefits. Effective July 1, 2013, the amount generated by transferring the following funds within Commerce's Division of Employment Security is estimated to be $17.1 M:

- Worker Training Trust Fund –These funds have historically been used for Worker Training Programs. This fund was created in 1987 from interest earned by the Employment Security Reserve Fund. As of June 30, 2013, the unencumbered cash balance is estimated to be $6.4 M and will be available for transfer to the Unemployment Insurance Fund.
- Training & Employment Account – Historically, these funds have been used for Community College training programs and Employment Security employment services. The contribution that supported these programs sunset on January 1, 2011, and no further appropriations were made. As of June 30, 2013, the unencumbered cash balance is estimated to be $0.7 M and is available for transfer to the Unemployment Insurance Fund.
- Special Employment Security Administration Fund – These funds come from the collection of penalties & interest. PCS to SB 6 transfers $10 M of the fund's cash balance to the Unemployment Insurance Fund. The cash balance as of December 31, 2012 is $16.1 M. It is assumed that these funds will remain unencumbered through the end of Fiscal Year 2012-2013.

The Senate Committee on Finance met on Tuesday, February 13, 2013, at 1:00 p.m. in room 544 of the Legislative Office Building. Josiah Nazzaro of Oak Island, Ian West of Wilson and Razi Lane of Edenton served as pages. Senator Rabon served as Chair to the meeting.

S.B. 76 – Domestic Energy Jobs Act

Senator Newton was recognized to explain the bill and moved to adopt the proposed committee substitute (PCS) for discussion. The motion carried. The PCS would modify provisions related to oil and gas exploration and development activities in the State, including the use of horizontal drilling and hydraulic fracturing treatments for that purpose; impose a tax for the severance of energy minerals from the soil or water of the State and make associated changes. It also appropriates monies to the Department of Environment and Natural Resources to operate the Mining and Energy Commission and for related expenditures; assign future revenue from offshore energy production; encourage the Governor to develop a regional compact for offshore energy exploration; amend the Energy policy Act (renamed as the Energy Policy and Jobs Act) and the Energy Policy Council (reconstituted as the Energy Jobs Council); and direct the Medical Care Commission to adopt rules authorizing facilities licensed by the Department of Health and Human Services to use compressed natural gas as an emergency fuel. Heather Fennell, an attorney with the Research Division, was recognized to explain Section 5, the tax portion of the bill (severance tax rates, caps and penalties; and limiting local governments to only imposing property tax, but not privilege, license, income or franchise). Senator Rucho was recognized to offer a clarifying tax amendment which Ms. Fennell explained. Jennifer McGuiness, an attorney with the Research Division, was recognized to discuss impact fees. Senator Tillman moved to adopt the amendment and the motion carried. Senator Brock moved to adopt the PCS as amended with a referral to the Senate Commerce Committee. The motion carried. A copy of the PCS, the summary, the fiscal note and the amendment is attached.

The meeting adjourned at 1:37 p.m.

PART III. MISCELLANEOUS MODIFICATIONS TO THE OIL AND GAS CONSERVATION ACT: ALLOWABLES AND REPEAL OF LANDMEN REGISTRY.

SECTION 3.(a) G.S. 113-394 reads as rewritten:

"§ 113-394. Limitations on production; allocating and prorating "allowables."

(a) ~~Whenever the total amount of oil, including condensate, which all the pools in the State can produce, exceeds the amount reasonably required to meet the reasonable market demand for oil, including condensate, produced in this State, then the~~The Commission ~~shall~~ may limit the total amount of oil, including condensate, which may be produced in the State by fixing an amount which shall be designated "allowable" for ~~this State, which will not exceed the reasonable market demand for oil, including condensate, produced in this~~ the State. The Commission ~~shall~~ may then allocate or distribute the "allowable" for the State among the pools on a reasonable basis and in such manner as to avoid undue discrimination, and so that waste will be prevented. In allocating the "allowable" for the State, and in fixing "allowables" for pools producing oil or hydrocarbons forming condensate, or both oil and such hydrocarbons, the Commission ~~shall~~ may take into account the producing conditions and other relevant facts with respect to such pools, including the separate needs for oil, gas and condensate, and ~~shall~~ may formulate rules setting forth standards or a program for the distribution of the "allowable" for the State, and ~~shall~~ distribute the "allowable" for the State in accordance with such standards or program, and where conditions in one pool or area are substantially similar to those in another pool or area, then the same standards or programs shall be applied to such pools and areas so that as far as practicable a uniform program will be followed; provided, however, the Commission shall allow the production of a sufficient amount of natural gas from any pool to supply adequately the reasonable market demand for such gas for light and fuel purposes if such production can be obtained without waste, and the condensate "allowable" for such pool shall not be less than the total amount of condensate produced or obtained in connection with the production of the gas "allowable" for light and fuel purposes, and provided further that, if the amount allocated to pool as its share of the "allowable" for the State is in excess of the amount which the pool should produce to prevent waste, then the Commission shall fix the "allowable" for the pool so that waste will be prevented.

~~(b) The Commission shall not be required to determine the reasonable market demand applicable to any single pool except in relation to all pools producing oil of similar kind and quality and in relation to the demand applicable to the State, and in relation to the effect of limiting the production of pools in the State.~~ In allocating "allowables" to pools, the Commission shall not be bound by nominations or desires of purchasers to purchase oil from particular fields or areas, and the Commission shall allocate the "allowable" for the State in such manner as will prevent undue discrimination against any pool or area in favor of another or others which would result from selective buying or nominating by purchasers of oil, as such term "selective buying or nominating" is understood in the oil business.

(c) Whenever the Commission limits the total amount of oil or gas which may be produced in any pool in this State to an amount less than that which the pool could produce if no restrictions were imposed (which limitation may be imposed either incidental to, or without, a limitation of the total amount of oil or gas which may be produced in the State), the Commission shall prorate or distribute the "allowable" production among the producers in the pool on a reasonable basis, and so that each producer will have the opportunity to produce or receive his just and equitable share, as such share is set forth in subsection G.S. 113-392(d), subject to the reasonable necessities for the prevention of waste.

(d) Whenever ~~the total amount of gas which can be produced from any pool in this State exceeds the amount of gas reasonably required to meet the reasonable market demand therefrom,~~ the Commission ~~shall limit~~ limits the total amount of gas which may be produced from ~~such pool. The~~ a pool, the Commission shall then allocate or distribute the allowable production among the developed areas in the pool on a reasonable basis, so that each producer will have the opportunity to produce his just and equitable share, as such share is set forth in subsection G.S. 113-392(d), whether the restriction for the pool as a whole is accomplished by order or by the automatic operation of the prohibitory provisions of this law. As far as applicable, the provisions of subsection (a) of this section shall be followed in allocating any "allowable" of gas for the State.

(e) After the effective date of any rule or order of the Commission fixing the "allowable" production of oil or gas, or both, or condensate, no person shall produce from any well, lease, or property more than the "allowable" production which is fixed, nor shall such amount be produced in a different manner than that which may be authorized."

SECTION 3.(b) G.S. 113-425 is repealed.

PART IV. AMEND STATUTE GOVERNING SUBSURFACE FLUID INJECTION

SECTION 4. G.S. 143-214.2 reads as rewritten:

"§ 143-214.2. Prohibited discharges.

(a) The discharge of any radiological, chemical or biological warfare agent or high-level radioactive waste to the waters of the State is prohibited.

(b) The discharge of any wastes to the subsurface or groundwaters of the State by means of wells is prohibited. This section shall not be construed to prohibit (i) the operation of closed-loop groundwater remediation systems in accordance with G.S. 143-215.1A or (ii) injection of ~~hydraulic fracturing~~ fluid ~~for~~ associated with the ~~exploration~~ exploration, production, or development of natural gas resources.

(c) Unless permitted by a rule of the Commission, the discharge of wastes, including thermal discharges, to the open waters of the Atlantic Ocean over which the State has jurisdiction are prohibited."

PART V. SEVERANCE TAXES

"§ 105-187.72. Tax on severance of energy minerals.

(a) Purpose. – An excise tax, to be termed a "severance tax," is levied on the privilege of engaging in the severance of energy minerals from the soil or water of this State. The purpose of the tax is to provide revenue to administer and enforce the provisions of this Article, to administer the State's natural gas and oil reclamation regulatory program, to meet the environmental and resource management needs of this State, and to reclaim land affected by exploration for, drilling for, and production of natural gas and oil. The severance tax is imposed upon all energy minerals severed when sold or consumed, whichever occurs first.

(b) Calculation of Tax. – The amount of the severance tax shall be determined as follows:

(1) Condensates. – The applicable percentage rate of tax multiplied by the market value per each barrel of oil equivalents (BOE) of the condensates sold.

(2) Gas. – The applicable percentage rate of tax multiplied by the market value per each MCF of the gas sold.

(3) Oil. – The applicable percentage rate of tax multiplied by the market value per each standard barrel of the oil sold.

(c) Rate of Tax, Condensates. – The applicable percentage rate of the severance tax on condensates shall be determined in accordance with the following schedule:

(1) For condensates sold from a well in calendar year 2015, 2016, or 2017, the rate of tax shall be one percent (1%).

(2) For condensates sold from a well in calendar year 2018 or 2019, the rate of tax shall be two and one-half percent (2.5%).

(3) For condensates sold from a well in calendar year 2020 and thereafter, the rate of tax shall be six percent (6%).

(d) Rate of Tax, Gas. – The applicable percentage rate of the severance tax on gas shall be calculated for each sale of gas. The rate will be the sales price of each MCF divided by 100 stated as a percentage, within the following limitations:

(1) For gas sold from a well in calendar year 2015, 2016, or 2017, the rate of tax shall not exceed one percent (1%).

(2) For gas sold from a well in calendar year 2018 or 2019, the rate of tax shall not exceed two and one-half percent (2.5%).

(3) For gas sold from a well in calendar year 2020 and thereafter, the rate of tax shall be at least two and one-half percent (2.5%) and shall not exceed six percent (6%).

(e) Rate of Tax, Oil. – The applicable percentage rate of the severance tax on condensates shall be determined in accordance with the following schedule:

(1) For oil sold from a well in calendar year 2015, 2016, or 2017, the rate of tax shall be one percent (1%).

(2) For oil sold from a well in calendar year 2018 or 2019, the rate of tax shall be two and one-half percent (2.5%).

(3) For oil sold from a well in calendar year 2020 and thereafter, the rate of tax shall be six percent (6%).

(f) Exemption. – The severance of energy minerals from land or water in this State owned legally or beneficially by the producer, which energy minerals are used on the land from which they are taken by the producer as part of the improvement of or use in the producer's homestead is exempt from the severance tax. To claim the exemption allowed by this subsection, the taxpayer shall provide any information required by the Secretary. Every taxpayer claiming the exemption under this subsection shall maintain and make available for inspection by the Secretary any records the Secretary considers necessary to determine and verify the amount of the exemption or special rate of tax to which the taxpayer is entitled. The burden of proving eligibility for the exemption and the amount of the exemption shall rest upon the taxpayer, and no exemption shall be allowed to a taxpayer that fails to maintain adequate records or to make them available for inspection.

"§ 105-187.73. Market value.

(a) Market Value. – For the calculation of the severance tax, market value is the following:

(1) Condensates. – The market value of condensates is the total actual gross price in U.S. dollars paid by the first purchaser of condensates at the mouth of the well from which it was produced.

(2) Gas. – The market value of gas is the total actual gross price in U.S. dollars paid by the first purchaser at the mouth of the well from which the gas is produced as adjusted in this section. The market value of gas at the mouth of the well shall be determined by subtracting the producer's actual marketing costs from the producer's total gross cash receipts from the sale of the gas.

(3) Oil. – The market value of oil is the total actual gross price in U.S. dollars paid by the first purchaser of the oil at the mouth of the well from which it was produced.

(b) Marketing Costs. – Marketing costs are the costs incurred by the producer to get the gas from the mouth of the well to the market. Marketing costs do not include costs for which a producer receives a cost reimbursement from the gas purchaser. Marketing costs do not include costs incurred in producing the gas, costs incurred in normal lease separation of the oil or condensate from the gas, or insurance premiums on the marketing facility. Marketing costs include all of the following:

(1) Costs for compressing the gas sold.

(2) Costs for dehydrating the gas sold.

(3) Costs for sweetening the gas sold.

(4) Costs for delivering the gas to the purchaser.

(5) Costs for gathering the gas sold.

(c) Records. – In order to be eligible to subtract the marketing costs from the producer's gross receipts for purposes of calculating the market value of gas, the producer shall provide any information required by the Secretary. Every producer subtracting the marketing costs as permitted under this section shall maintain and make available for inspection by the Secretary of Revenue any records the Secretary considers necessary to determine and verify the amount of the marketing costs the producer is eligible to subtract. The burden of proving eligibility for subtracting the marketing costs and the amount of the marketing costs to be subtracted shall rest upon the producer, and no subtraction of marketing costs shall be allowed to a producer that fails to maintain adequate records or to make them available for inspection.

"§ 105-187.74. Returns and payment of tax.

(a) General. – Severance taxes are payable when a return is due. A return is due quarterly or monthly as specified in this section. A return must be filed by the producer of the energy mineral with the Secretary on a form prescribed by the Secretary and in the manner required by the Secretary. A return must be signed by the taxpayer or the taxpayer's agent.

(b) Payment. – A producer of energy minerals shall pay the tax for all owners of the energy minerals. The producer shall withhold from any payment due owners the proportionate tax due for remittance to the Secretary.

(c) Quarterly. – A taxpayer who is consistently liable for less than one thousand dollars ($1,000) a month in severance taxes must file a return and pay the taxes due on a quarterly basis. A quarterly return covers a calendar quarter and is due by the last day of the month following the end of the quarter.

(d) Monthly. – A taxpayer who is consistently liable for at least one thousand dollars ($1,000) a month in severances taxes must file a return and pay the taxes due on a monthly basis. A monthly return is due by the 20th day of the month following the calendar month covered by the return.

(e) Category. – The Secretary must monitor the amount of severance taxes paid by a taxpayer or estimate the amount of taxes to be paid by a new taxpayer and must direct each taxpayer to pay tax and file returns as required by this section. In determining the amount of taxes due from a taxpayer, the Secretary must consider the total amount due from all places of business owned or operated by the same person as the amount due from that person. A taxpayer must file a return and pay tax in accordance with the Secretary's direction.

(f) Information on Return. – The amount of tax due and any other information required by the Secretary must be included on the return. Returns that do not contain the required information will not be accepted. When an unacceptable return is submitted, the Secretary will require a corrected return to be filed. The return must contain the following information concerning energy minerals produced during the month being reported:

(1) The gross amount of energy minerals produced that are subject to the tax imposed by this Article.

(2) The leases from which the energy minerals were produced.

(3) The names and addresses of the first purchasers of the energy minerals.

"§ 105-187.75. Bond or letter of credit required.

A producer must file with the Secretary a bond or an irrevocable letter of credit if the producer fails to file a return required under this Article. A bond or an irrevocable letter of credit must be conditioned upon compliance with the requirements of this Article, be payable to the State, and be in the form required by the Secretary. The amount of the bond or irrevocable letter of credit is two times the applicant's average expected monthly tax liability under this Article, as determined by the Secretary. When notified to do so by the Secretary, a person that is required to file a bond or an irrevocable letter of credit must file the bond or irrevocable letter of credit in the amount required by the Secretary within 30 days after receiving the notice from the Secretary.

"§ 105-187.76. Allocation of revenue.

The Secretary shall allocate the tax levied in this Article as follows:

(1) Twenty-five percent (25%), not to exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000) per year, to the Department of Environment and Natural Resources for purposes of administering its duties and responsibilities under Article 27 of Chapter 113 of the General Statutes.

(2) After allocation pursuant to subsection (a) of this section, the Secretary shall allocate:

a. Fifty percent (50%) to the General Fund.

b. Fifty percent (50%) to the Onshore Energy Management Fund until the Fund reaches ten million dollars ($10,000,000). The Onshore Energy Management Fund is an interest-bearing special revenue fund to be established within the State treasury. This fund shall be used only for emergency preparation, emergency response, emergency environmental protection, or mitigation associated with a release of liquid hydrocarbons or associated fluids directly related to onshore energy exploration, development, production, or transmission. Once the fund balance reaches the amount of ten million dollars ($10,000,000), funds over that amount shall be allocated to the General Fund. If monies are withdrawn from the Onshore Energy Emergency Fund to carry out the provisions in this sub-subdivision, revenues generated by the tax levied in this Article shall be deposited in the Onshore Energy Emergency Fund until a total of ten million dollars ($10,000,000) is reestablished.

"§ 105-187.77. Liability of producer for tax.

The tax imposed by this Article is the primary liability of the producer except as provided in this section. A first purchaser may not take delivery of energy minerals from a producer unless the producer furnishes the purchaser with a taxpayer identification number assigned by the Secretary. A first purchaser failing to secure the producer's taxpayer number, either from the producer or the Secretary, will be liable for any tax, penalty, and interest due on the energy minerals purchased from the producer.

"§ 105-187.78. Royalty owner's records.

The owner of a royalty interest shall keep both of the following:

(1) A record of all money received as royalty from each producing leasehold in the State.

(2) A copy of all settlement sheets furnished by a purchaser or operator or other statement showing the amount of energy minerals for which a royalty was received and the amount of severance tax deducted.

"§ 105-187.79. Permits suspended for failure to report.

If an entity fails to file any report or return or to pay any tax or fee required by this Article for 90 days after it is due, the Secretary shall inform the Secretary of Environment and Natural Resources of this failure. The Secretary of Environment and Natural Resources shall suspend permits for oil and gas exploration using horizontal drilling and hydraulic fracturing under G.S. 113-395 of any entity that fails to file a return under this Article. The Secretary of Environment and Natural Resources shall immediately notify by mail an entity of a suspension under this section.

"§ 105-187.80. No local taxation.

A county, city, town, or municipality of the State of North Carolina shall not establish, levy, impose, or collect, as a condition of doing business or otherwise, any tax, fee, license, or charge whatsoever, directly or indirectly, on or with respect to the severing, production, treating, processing, ownership, sale, storage, purchase, marketing, or transportation on any energy minerals produced in the State of North Carolina and on which severance taxes are due or have been paid to the State of North Carolina, or upon the business of severing, producing, treating, processing, owning, selling, buying, storing, marketing, or transporting such energy minerals, or upon the ownership, operation, or maintenance of plants, facilities, machinery, pipelines, gathering lines, or any equipment whatsoever, which are, or may be, necessary or convenient to the severing, production, treating, processing, ownership, storage, sale, purchase, marketing, or transportation of such energy minerals."

SECTION 5.(b) G.S. 105-259(b) is amended by adding a new subdivision to read:

"(44) To furnish to the Department of Environment and Natural Resources the name, address, tax year end, and account and identification numbers of an entity liable for severance tax to enable the Secretary of Environment and Natural Resources to notify the entity that the Department of Environment and Natural Resources shall suspend permits of the entity for oil and gas exploration using horizontal drilling and hydraulic fracturing under G.S. 113-395."

SECTION 5.(c) G.S. 113-387 and G.S. 113-388 are repealed.

PART VI. APPROPRIATION FROM MINERAL INTEREST FUND FOR OPERATION OF MEC

SECTION 6. There is appropriated from the Mineral Interest Fund to the Department of Environment and Natural Resources the sum of twenty-two thousand nine hundred dollars ($22,900) for the 2012-2013 fiscal year to be used to operate the Mining and Energy Commission and for payment of expenditures related to the Commission's implementation of legislative mandates to the Commission, including the hiring of temporary or contract employees to assist with policy development and rule making.

PART VII. REVENUE FROM OFFSHORE ENERGY PRODUCTION

SECTION 7. Chapter 113B of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new Article to read:

The Offshore Energy Management Fund is an interest-bearing special revenue fund to be established within the State treasury. This fund shall be used only for emergency preparation, emergency response, emergency environmental protection, or mitigation associated with a release of liquid hydrocarbons or associated fluids directly related to offshore energy exploration, development, production, or transmission. Once the fund balance reaches the amount of fifty million dollars ($50,000,000), the funds shall be used as provided in subsection (b) of this section. If monies are withdrawn from this fund to carry out the provisions in this section, all revenues and royalties paid to the State as a result of offshore leasing, exploration, development, and production of all energy resources shall be deposited in the fund until a total of fifty million dollars ($50,000,000) is reestablished. Once the fund balance reaches the amount of fifty million dollars ($50,000,000), the funds shall be used as provided in subsection (b) of this section.

(b) Any revenues and royalties paid to the State as a result of offshore leasing, exploration, development, and production of all energy resources in excess of the amount needed to establish the fund created in subsection (a) of this section are annually appropriated and shall be used for the following purposes:

(1) Thirty percent (30%) of such revenues and royalties shall be credited to the General Fund.

(2) Ten percent (10%) of such revenues and royalties shall be credited to the North Carolina Highway Trust Fund established under G.S. 136-176.

(3) Ten percent (10%) of such revenues and royalties shall be transferred to the Community Colleges System Office to establish and manage a fund for curriculum development and implementation as well as financial assistance for students attending community college to receive vocational training through this curriculum in fields directly related to energy exploration and development and related energy infrastructure.

The compact negotiations and recommendations shall address at least all of the following:

(1) Ensure a timely review and consideration of permits and proposals at both the state and federal level for both state and federal waters adjacent to each state in the three-state region for seismic and other marine geophysical exploration to identify and quantify natural gas and related hydrocarbon resources along the continental margin.

(2) Amend the 2012 to 2017 Five Year Leasing Plan of the United States Department of the Interior to include leasing federal waters adjacent to the State and the three-state region for the exploration, quantification, and development of natural gas and related hydrocarbon energy resources.

(3) Advocate proactively with each state's Congressional delegation and appropriate federal agencies to ensure direct sharing of royalties and revenues related to energy leasing, exploration, development, and production of all offshore energy resources in federal waters adjacent to the State and the three-state region.

(4) Request the United States Department of the Interior to reinstate the federal Offshore Policy Committee with new members and new alternate members to be nominated by the governor of the state represented on the Offshore Policy Committee and appointed by the Secretary of the Interior, six of whom are to be one member and one alternate member each from North Carolina, Virginia, and South Carolina.

(5) Request the United States Department of the Interior to immediately move forward with permitting geological and geophysical data acquisition activities associated with oil and gas exploration in the Mid- and South Atlantic Planning Areas of the Atlantic Outer Continental Shelf immediately as outlined in Alternative A of the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management's

SENATE BILL 76:
Domestic Energy Jobs Act

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Ref to Finance. If fav, re-ref to Commerce	Date:	February 12, 2013
Introduced by:	Sens. Newton, Rucho, Brock	Prepared by:	Jennifer McGinnis Staff Attorney and Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S76-CSRIf-1

SUMMARY: The Proposed Committee Substitute (PCS) for Senate Bill 76 would modify provisions related to oil and gas exploration and development activities in the State, including the use of horizontal drilling and hydraulic fracturing treatments for that purpose; impose a tax for the severance of energy minerals from the soil or water of the State and make associated changes; appropriate monies to the Department of Environment and Natural Resources to operate the Mining and Energy Commission and for related expenditures; assign future revenue from offshore energy production; encourage the Governor to develop a regional compact for offshore energy exploration; amend the Energy Policy Act (renamed as the Energy Policy and Jobs Act) and the Energy Policy Council (reconstituted as the Energy Jobs Council); and direct the Medical Care Commission to adopt rules authorizing facilities licensed by the Department of Health and Human Services to use compressed natural gas as an emergency fuel.

CHANGES MADE BY PCS TO 1ST ED.: The PCS would (1) modify the two appointments to the Mining and Energy Commission involving elected local officials (see Sec. 2.(a)), and (2) modify a statute that governs subsurface injection of fluids (see new Sec. 4).

CURRENT LAW AND BACKGROUND: In 2012, the General Assembly enacted legislation that directed various State agencies to develop a modern regulatory program for the management of oil and gas exploration and development activities in the State, including the use of horizontal drilling and hydraulic fracturing for that purpose (S.L. 2012-143 (S820, "Clean Energy and Economic Security Act")). Specifically, the act gave the Mining and Energy Commission (MEC) the authority to adopt rules necessary to administer the State's Oil and Gas Conservation Act and to make determinations and issue orders accordingly. MEC and other entities were specifically directed to adopt rules no later than October 1, 2014.

The act also amended several statutes that had historically prohibited the processes of horizontal drilling and hydraulic fracturing in order to authorize these processes, but prohibited issuance of permits for these activities until such time as the General Assembly took subsequent legislative action to allow issuance of permits.

BILL ANALYSIS:

PART I. Issuance of Permits

Section 1.(a) of the PCS would authorize issuance of permits for oil and gas exploration and development activities using horizontal drilling and hydraulic fracturing treatments in the State by the the Department of Environment and Natural Resources (DENR) and MEC, effective March 1, 2015.

Section 1.(b) of the PCS, which would become effective March 1, 2015, would repeal Section 3.(d) of the Clean Energy and Economic Security Act, which provides:

> "The issuance of permits for oil and gas exploration and development activities using horizontal drilling and hydraulic fracturing treatments in the State... shall be prohibited in order to allow the Mining and Energy Commission sufficient time for development of a modern regulatory program for the management of oil and gas exploration and development in the State and the use of horizontal drilling and hydraulic fracturing treatments for that purpose, and for adoption of appropriate environmental standards applicable to these activities. No agency of the State, including the Department of Environment and Natural Resources, the Environmental Management Commission, the Commission on Public Health, or the Mining and Energy Commission, shall issue a permit for oil or gas exploration or development activities using horizontal drilling and hydraulic fracturing treatments until the General Assembly takes legislative action to allow the issuance of such permits."

Section 1.(b) of the PCS would require MEC to study development of a coordinated permitting program for oil and gas exploration and development activities using horizontal drilling and hydraulic fracturing treatments in order that a single comprehensive environmental permit could be issued that would govern all of an applicant's exploration and development activities. MEC must report its findings and recommendations to the Environmental Review Commission and the Joint Legislative Commission on Energy Policy on or before October 1, 2013.

PART II. Mining and Energy Commission Appointment Modifications

Section 2.(a) of the PCS would eliminate two ex officio members of MEC, the State Geologist and the Assistant Secretary of Energy for the Department of Commerce. In addition, the provision modifies: (1) two positions designated for elected officials of local governments, to provide that they may continue to serve as a member of MEC even if they are no longer serving as a local elected official; and (2) the positions designated for the Environmental Management Commission and the Commission for Public Health to eliminate specific knowledge requirements as to principles of water and air resources management, and principles of waste management, respectively.

Section 2.(b) of the PCS would provide that the membership of persons serving in the positions designated for the Environmental Management Commission or the Commission for Public Health terminate immediately should those persons' membership in their respective commission terminate.

PART III. Miscellaneous Modifications to the Oil and Gas Conservation Act: "Allowables" and Repeal of Landmen Registry

Section 3.(a) of the PCS would eliminate language under existing law that would require MEC to limit the total amount of oil and gas produced in the State if the total amount of oil and gas that can be produced from all pools in the State exceeds the amount reasonably required to meet the reasonable market demand in the State. Instead, the PCS would allow MEC to fix an amount that may be produced (an "allowable"), and would allow MEC to formulate rules accordingly.

Section 3.(b) of the PCS would repeal the landmen registry enacted in 2012 as part of the Clean Energy and Economic Security Act. The 2012 provision required DENR to establish and maintain a registry of landmen operating in this State. Under the statute "landman" is defined as a person that, in the course and scope of the person's business, does any of the following: (1) acquires or manages oil or gas interests; (2) performs title or contract functions related to the exploration, exploitation, or disposition of oil, gas; (3) negotiates for the acquisition or divestiture of oil, gas, including the acquisition or divestiture of land or oil, gas, for a pipeline; or (4) negotiates business agreements that provide for the exploration for or development of oil, gas. The statute also authorizes DENR to deny registration to an applicant, reprimand a registrant, suspend or revoke a registration, or impose a civil penalty on a registrant if the Department determines that the applicant or registrant does any of the following: (1) fraudulently or deceptively obtains, or attempts to obtain, a registration; (2) uses or attempts to use an expired, suspended, or revoked registration; (3) falsely represents oneself as a registered landman; (4) engages in any other fraud, deception, misrepresentation, or knowing omission of material facts related to oil or gas interests; or (5) had a similar registration or license denied, suspended, or revoked in another state or jurisdiction. The PCS would repeal the provision retroactively to the date it originally became effective, October 1, 2012.

PART IV. Amend Statute Governing Subsurface Fluid Injection

Section 3.(b) of the PCS would amend a statute that prohibits the discharge of any wastes to the subsurface or groundwaters of the State by means of wells. In 2012, as part of the Clean Energy and Economic Security Act, the statute was modified to exempt injections of hydraulic fracturing fluid associated with exploration or development of natural gas resources. That language would be modified under the PCS to exempt "fluid associated with exploration, production, or development of natural gas resources."

PART V. Severance Taxes

Section 5 of the PCS would repeal North Carolina's current severance tax and levies a new severance tax on the removal of energy minerals from the soil and water of the State. The current State severance tax was enacted in 1945 and has not been modified since 1973. No tax is currently collected. The current tax is five mills on each barrel of oil (the equivalent of .5¢ per barrel of oil) and one-half mill on each 1000 cubic feet of gas (the equivalent of .05¢ per 1000 cubic feet of gas). The new severance tax would add condensates to the tax base, raise the tax rate on oil, and create a floating tax rate for gas.

Energy minerals are defined in the PCS to include all forms of natural gas, oil, and related condensates. Thirty one states, including North Carolina, currently impose some form of severance taxes on the extraction of oil and gas. Of the 31 states, 23 states impose a tax as a percentage of the value of the resource extracted, 3 states impose a tax per standard unit of the resource extracted, and 5 states impose a tax that is a combination of the two methods.

Rate of Tax – The rate of the severance tax varies by type of mineral extracted.

Type	Year	Amount
Condensates	2015, 2016, 2017	1% of market value
	2018, 2019	2.5% of market value
	2020 and thereafter	6% of market value
Gas		Rate floats with market price. Tax rate calculated on each transaction. Rate is sales price per 1,000 cubic feet of gas, divided by 100, stated as a percentage.[1] The tax rate is subject to the following limits:
	2015, 2016, 2017	Not to exceed 1%
	2018, 2019	Not to exceed 2.5%
	2020 and thereafter	At least 2.5% but not to exceed 6%
Oil	2015, 2016, 2017	1% of market value
	2018, 2019	2.5% of market value
	2020 and thereafter	6% of market value

[1] For example, the price of natural gas was $3.35 in Nov 2012. 3.35/100 stated as a percentage is 3.35%. According to the US Energy Information Administration (an agency within the US Department of Energy), the price of natural gas over the past 5 years has ranged from $1.89 per MCF to $10.79 per MCF, which would result in a tax rate ranging from 1.89% to 10.79%, subject to the statutory rate limits.

Tax Base, Market value – The tax rate would be applied to the market value of the mineral sold. For condensates and oil, the market rate is the total actual gross price paid by the first purchaser of the condensate or oil.

For gas, the market value is the actual gross price paid minus marketing costs. As defined in the PCS, marketing costs do not include costs for which a producer receives a reimbursement, production costs, or insurance premiums. Marketing costs include:

- Costs for compressing the gas sold.
- Costs for dehydrating the gas sold.
- Costs for sweetening the gas sold.
- Costs for delivering the gas to the purchaser.
- Costs for gathering the gas sold.

Administration – The tax would be the liability of the producer of the gas. The producer is the entity that extracts the mineral from the soil or the water of the State. Returns and taxes are due on either a monthly or quarterly basis, depending on the tax liability of the producer. A bond or letter of credit would be required for producers that fail to file a return or make a payment of tax due.

Allocation of Revenue – The revenue received from severance taxes would be allocated in the following manner:

- First 25%, up to $1 million each year to DENR to administer its duties under Article 27 of Chapter 113, the Oil and Gas Conservation Act.
- Of the remaining revenue:
    - 50% to General Fund.
    - 50% to Onshore Emergency Management Fund to reach and maintain a balance of $10 million. Once the Fund balance is reached, revenues would be directed to General Fund. The Onshore Emergency Management Fund must be used for emergency preparation, emergency response, emergency environmental protection, or mitigation associated with onshore energy.

Permit Suspension – Permits for oil and gas exploration using horizontal drilling or hydraulic fracturing would be suspended for any producer that fails to file a return or make a payment for severance taxes.

No Local Taxes – Local governments would not be authorized to impose any additional taxes on the severance of energy minerals in the State.

The provisions concerning the severance tax would be effective for energy minerals sold on or after March 1, 2015, except that the provision concerning the allocation of revenue becomes effective only if authorized by the General Assembly in the Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2013.

PART VI. Appropriation from Mineral Interest Fund for Operation of MEC

Section 6 of the PCS would appropriate $22,900 from the Mineral Interest Fund to DENR for the 2012-2013 fiscal year to be used to operate MEC and for payment of expenditures related to the MEC's implementation of legislative mandates, including the hiring of temporary or contract employees to assist with policy development and rule making.

PART VII. Revenue from Offshore Energy Production

Section 7 of the PCS would require that any revenues or royalties paid to the State from offshore leasing, exploration, development, and production of energy would be deposited in an interest-bearing special revenue fund to be established within the State treasury until the fund reaches $50 million. The fund could be used only for emergency preparation, emergency response, emergency environmental protection, or mitigation associated with a release of liquid hydrocarbons or associated fluids directly related to offshore energy exploration, development, production, or transmission. At any point the fund exceeds $50 million (allowing use and replenishment up to that amount for the specified purposes) the revenues or royalties paid to the State from offshore leasing, exploration, development, and production of energy would be directed to the General Fund, the Highway Trust Fund, the Community Colleges System Office and the Board of Governors of The University of North Carolina System for certain programs, DENR, the State Ports Authority, and the Department of Commerce for certain purposes).

This provision becomes effective only if authorized by the General Assembly in the Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2013.

PART VIII. Regional Interstate Offshore Energy Policy Compact

Section 8 of the PCS would strongly encourage the Governor to develop a compact with the governors of South Carolina and Virginia to develop a regional strategy for exploration of offshore energy resources. The PCS provides that the compact negotiations and recommendations should address at least all of the following:

- Timely review and consideration of state and federal permits and proposals for seismic and other marine geophysical exploration to identify and quantify natural gas and related hydrocarbon resources along the continental margin.
- Amendment of the 2012 to 2017 Five Year Leasing Plan of the United States Department of the Interior (DOI) to include leasing federal waters adjacent to the State and the three-state region for the exploration, quantification, and development of natural gas and related hydrocarbon energy resources.
- Proactive advocacy with federal officials to ensure direct sharing of royalties and revenues related to energy leasing, exploration, development, and production of all offshore energy resources in federal waters adjacent to the State and the three-state region.
- Request that DOI: (1) reinstate and reappoint the federal Offshore Policy Committee; and (2) immediately move forward with permitting geological and geophysical data acquisition activities associated with oil and gas exploration in the Mid- and South Atlantic Planning Areas of the Atlantic Outer Continental Shelf as outlined in Alternative A of the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management's Draft Programmatic Environmental Impact Statement entitled "Atlantic OCS Proposed Geological and Geophysical Activities" published in 2012.

The Governor would also be encouraged to work with the states' Congressional delegations and applicable federal agencies to develop strategies for increasing domestic energy supply. The Governor is directed to develop recommendations for the General Assembly's consideration in enacting a regional compact, and report to the General Assembly periodically on the progress of the matter.

In addition, the PCS would encourage the Governor to join the Governors of Alaska, Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, South Carolina, and Virginia and any others who may sign on to the Outer Continental Shelf Governors Coalition announced on May 3, 2011, to promote a constructive dialogue among the coastal state governors and the federal government concerning offshore energy issues. The Governor would be authorized to expend funds related to membership in the Coalition.

PART IX. Energy Policy Act and Energy Policy Council Amendments

Section 9 of the PCS would retitle the Energy Policy Act as the Energy Policy and Jobs Act (Act), and rename the Energy Policy Council as the Energy Jobs Council (Council). The PCS would transfer the Energy Jobs Council from the Department of Commerce to DENR, and designate that staff support would be supplied by the Division of Energy, Mineral, and Land Resources of DENR.

The Council would be reconstituted with new membership requirements, and the number of appointments would be reduced from 16 to 13. Under the PCS the terms of the current members of the Energy Policy Council would terminate when the bill became law or on June 30, 2013, whichever comes first, and new appointments would be made no later than July 1, 2013.

The purpose of the reconstituted council would be to advise and make recommendations to increase domestic energy exploration, development, and production within the State and region in order to promote economic growth and jobs. The goal of the Energy Jobs Council would be to identify and utilize domestic energy sources to ensure a secure, stable, and predictable energy supply, and for other purposes. The duties of the Council would be amended to include the following:

- Develop and recommend a comprehensive State energy policy that addresses requirements in the short term (10 years), in the midterm (25 years), and in the long term (50 years) to achieve maximum effective management and use of present and future sources of domestic energy resources, including smart grid and domestic energy resources such as natural gas, coal, hydroelectric power, solar, wind, nuclear energy, and biomass.
- Conduct ongoing assessments of opportunities and constraints presented by uses of all forms of energy to facilitate the expansion of the domestic energy supply.
- Actively engage in discussions with the federal government, its agencies, and its leaders to identify opportunities to increase domestic energy supply within North Carolina and its adjacent offshore waters.

PART X. Modify Electrical Requirements Rule to Allow Hospitals to Use Compressed Natural Gas as Emergency Fuel

Section 10 of the PCS would direct the Medical Care Commission to adopt a rule to replace the "Electrical Requirements Rule" (10A NCAC 13B .6227(f)(2), "Licensing of Hospitals: Electrical Requirements"), which currently provides that facilities licensed by the Department of Health and Human Services must provide emergency electrical to the facilities with fuel that is stored on site in sufficient quantity to provide for not less than 24 hours of operation. The PCS would require replacement of this rule to allow such facilities to use bi-fuel generators that operate with both liquid fuel and natural gas (methane) that is not stored on the site, provided that the natural gas is delivered via pipe or pipeline by a natural gas utility. These bi-fuel generators would be exempt from liquid fuel capacity standards established by the Medical Care Commission. Bi-fuel generators that operate on both liquid and other gaseous fuels, including propane and butane, that are stored on the site would also be authorized, provided that the combined capacity of both liquid and gaseous fuels meet minimum on-site fuel requirements established by the Commission. Further, the Medical Care Commission would be authorized to adopt rules to require a licensed facility with a bi-fuel generator to develop a contingency plan for liquid fuel delivery onto the site in the event of a natural gas (methane) supply disruption.

PART XI. Effective Date

Except as otherwise noted, the provisions of the PCS would become effective when the bill becomes law.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM(S) AFFECTED: The Departments of Environment and Natural Resources, Commerce and Revenue. Also affected are the Community Colleges System Office, the University of North Carolina, the Department of Transportation and the State Ports.

EFFECTIVE DATE March 1, 2015

TECHNICAL CONSIDERATIONS: None

BILL SUMMARY: The Proposed Committee Substitute (PCS) for Senate Bill 76 would modify provisions related to oil and gas exploration and development activities in the State, including the use of horizontal drilling and hydraulic fracturing treatments for that purpose; impose a tax for the severance of energy minerals from the soil or water of the State and make associated changes; appropriate monies to the Department of Environment and Natural Resources to operate the Mining and Energy Commission and for related expenditures; assign future revenue from offshore energy production; encourage the Governor to develop a regional compact for offshore energy exploration; amend the Energy Policy Act (renamed as the Energy Policy and Jobs Act) and the Energy Policy Council (reconstituted as the Energy Jobs Council); and direct the Medical Care Commission to adopt rules authorizing facilities licensed by the Department of Health and Human Services to use compressed natural gas as an emergency fuel.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

Section 1(a) and (b): Repeals the prohibition of the issuance of permits for oil and gas exploration using horizontal drilling and hydraulic fracturing treatments in the State that was imposed in Section 3.(d) of S.L. 2012-143, and authorizes the Department of Environment and Natural Resources (DENR) to issue such permits effective March 1, 2015.

> No Fiscal Estimate Available: The North Carolina Mining and Energy Commission (MEC) has been charged with developing a modern regulatory program for the management of oil and gas exploration and development activities in North Carolina, including the use of horizontal drilling and hydraulic fracturing. The MEC has been meeting since September 2012 to develop the rules necessary for issuance of permits for horizontal drilling and hydraulic fracturing. According to DENR, until these rules are formalized, they cannot estimate the amount of time necessary to review and approve such permits and conduct the compliance and enforcement activities associated with the permits. Further, because North Carolina is a relative newcomer to this field, DENR does not know the number of entities that may be seeking these permits. Without knowing what the rules will say or the number of entities interested in seeking permits for oil and gas exploration, DENR was unable to provide a fiscal estimate.

Section 1.(c): Requires the Mining and Energy Commission, with assistance from DENR, to study the development of a coordinated permitting program for oil and gas exploration and development activities using horizontal drilling and hydraulic fracturing to develop a single comprehensive environmental permit to govern well construction, siting, and closure requirements; hydraulic fracturing treatments; water quality and management of water resources; management of waste and regulation of air emissions.

> No Fiscal impact: The study places additional responsibilities on the MEC to explore the development of a comprehensive environmental permit. DENR received a recurring appropriation of $250,000 and 3 staff positions in FY 2012-13 to provide staff to the Commission. According to DENR, the MEC is already intending to create such a permitting program to the extent allowable by federal law and as a result no additional staff will be necessary to complete the study.

Section 2.(a): Amends the composition of the Energy Mining Commission by reducing the number of members from 15 to 13.

No Fiscal impact: There is no fiscal impact of reducing the Commission membership by two. The Commission has met five times since it was established in August 2012. Fourteen members attended the first three meetings, 12 attended the fourth meeting and 11 attended the fifth meeting. There are currently two vacancies on the Commission.

Section 3.(a): Amends existing law that requires the MEC to limit the total amount of oil and gas produced in the State if the total amount produced exceeds the amount reasonably required to meet market demand and instead authorizes the Commission to determine the amount (an "allowable") of oil that may be produced in the state.

No Fiscal Impact. Under existing law, the Mining and Energy Commission is already tasked when determining the "allowable."

Section 3.(b): Repeals the requirement for the Department of Environment and Natural Resources, in consultation with the Consumer Protection Division of North Carolina Department of Justice, to establish and maintain a registry of landmen operating in the State.

No fiscal impact.

Section 4: Amends existing law to exempt "fluid associated with exploration, production, or development of natural gas resources" from the prohibition of discharging any wastes to subsurface or groundwater of the State by means of wells.

No fiscal impact.

Section 5: Repeals North Carolina's current severance tax and levies a new severance tax on the removal of energy minerals from the soil and water of the State. The new severance tax would add condensates to the tax base, raise the tax rate on oil, and create a floating tax rate for gas.

The revenue generated by the severance tax would be allocated in the following manner:

- First 25%, up to $1 million each year allocated to DENR to administer its duties under Article 27 of Chapter 113 of the Oil and Gas Conservation Act
- Remaining revenue would be allocated in the following manner:
    - 50% to the General Fund
    - 50% to Onshore Emergency Management Fund to reach and maintain a balance of $10 million. Once the Fund balance is reached, revenues would be directed to the General Fund.

Section 5 also prohibits local governments from imposing any additional taxes on the severance of energy minerals in the State.

No fiscal estimate available: It is not possible to reasonably estimate the fiscal impact of the severance tax to be created by this provision for the following reasons:

- Absence of historical data from North Carolina: While there is potential for natural gas exploration and extraction in North Carolina, there is no historical data on natural gas extraction that could serve as the foundation for a rigorous projection of future activity.
- Uncertain volume of recoverable natural gas in North Carolina: At the current time, substantial uncertainty remains as to the amount of recoverable natural gas in North Carolina. In the absence of proven reserve levels, it is not possible to project the volume of gas that will be extracted in each of the next five years.
- Uncertainty in future price of natural gas driving uncertainty in levels of new exploration: Levels of future exploration is largely determined by the price of natural gas. The price of natural gas has been extremely volatile in recent years. As new extraction technologies have provided access to previously unrecoverable reservoirs, the price of natural gas has declined sharply in last several years. Since hitting a high above $11 per 1000 cubic feet in mid-2008, natural gas prices have fallen precipitously and stayed below $5 per 1000 cubic feet since early 2010.[1] Mirroring this decline in prices, the number of natural drilling rigs in operation in the United States has fallen as well. For the week ending on February 1st, 2013 there were 428 natural gas drilling rigs in operation in the United States, down from a high of 1606 in September of 2008.[2] Given recent volatility in the price of natural gas, and the level of natural gas exploration, it is not possible to project the pace at which natural gas exploration and development would proceed in North Carolina over the next five years.

Section 6: Appropriates $22,900 from the Mineral Interest Fund, a special revenue fund in the Department of Environment and Natural Resources, to the Department for the 2012-13 fiscal year to be used to offset expenses of the Mining and Energy Commission related to implementing the legislative mandates of the Commission.

Fiscal impact: Reduces the Mining Interest Fund by $22,900 and increases the Department's General Fund in a like amount.

Section 7: Requires that any revenues or royalties paid to the State from offshore leasing, exploration, development, and production of energy would be deposited in an account to be used for emergency preparation, emergency response, and environmental mitigation associated with the release of liquid hydrocarbons or associated fluids directly related to energy exploration or production. Once this fund reaches $50 million, any additional revenues or royalties will be directed to the General Fund.

No fiscal estimate available: The licensing of offshore energy production, and the sharing of attendant revenues between the states, is determined by the Federal Government. As there is currently no revenue sharing agreement in place, and it is unclear whether any such agreement will be enacted in the next five years, it is not possible to reasonably project the revenues that North Carolina could realize from offshore energy exploration and production.

Section 8: Encourages the Governor to develop a compact with the governors of Virginia and South Carolina to develop a regional strategy for the exploration of offshore energy resources.

No fiscal impact.

Section 9: Amends the "North Carolina Energy Policy Act of 1975" by renaming the Act to the North Carolina Energy Policy and Jobs Act" and by expanding the findings and purpose. Also renames the "Energy Policy Council" to the "Energy Jobs Council," expands its purposes to include advising on domestic energy exploration, development and production within the State, reduces membership from 16 members to 13, resets of the memberships qualification and terms and transfers the Council from the Department of Commerce to DENR as a Type II transfer. Clarifies that utilities regulated under Chapter 62 of the General Statutes may satisfy the required emergency curtailment plan by submitting the General Load Reduction and System Restoration Plan that is prepared annually for the Utilities Commission. This section makes numerous other changes such as expanding on the types of energy policy on which reports are required as well as reducing the frequency of certain reporting requirements.

Fiscal impact: The Department of Commerce reports that transferring the Energy Policy Council (EPC) to DENR will have no fiscal impact on Commerce's budget or staff because the EPC has been dormant for at least two years and therefore no time or resources have been devoted to staffing the Council. Any reports required of the EPC have been produced through an Energy Conservation Think Tank outside of state government.

By reconstituting and expanding the duties and responsibilities of Council it is anticipated that the Council will become an active advisory council which will rely upon the Division of Energy, Mineral and Land Resources (DEMLR) to which the Council can delegate its duties when appropriate. Expanded responsibilities include 1) developing a comprehensive State energy policy that addresses effective management and use of present and future sources of energy to include among other things natural gas, coal, hydroelectric power, solar, wind, nuclear energy and biomass; 2) facilitating the expansion of domestic energy supply, 3) actively engaging in discussions with the federal government, its agencies, and its leaders to identify opportunities to increase domestic energy supply with NC and its adjacent offshore waters, and 4) recommending needed energy rule making.

As a result additional staff support is anticipated to staff the Council. DENR suggested that as many as six staff members would be needed to support the work of the Council, the same number the Department requested to staff the MEC. This fiscal note agrees that additional staff expertise will be necessary; however, the department has not submitted sufficient justification to support the need for six new positions. This fiscal note recommends a recurring appropriation of $200,000 to be provided to DENR so that the DEMLR can provide the necessary expertise to the Council either through permanent positions or a contract for outside expertise. These funds would also support the operating costs of the Council and any necessary research and/or studies.

Section 10: Directs the Medical Care Commission adopt a rule to replace the "Electoral Requirement Rule" (10A NCAC 13B .6227(f)(2), "Licensing of Hospitals: Electoral Requirements"), which currently provides that facilities listed by the Department of Health and Human Services must provide emergency electrical to the facilities with fuel that is stored on site in sufficient quantity to provide for not less than 24 hours of operation. This section directs that a rule be created whereby the requirement for emergency electrical would be satisfied by bi-fuel generators that are connected via pipeline to a natural gas utility.

No fiscal impact.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO DELETE A PROVISION FOR A FIFTY-DOLLAR PAYMENT TO MEMBERS OF THE BOARD OF LAW EXAMINERS THAT HAS NOT BEEN PAID SINCE THE 1970S AND TO CLARIFY A PROVISION RELATING TO EXPENSES OF THAT BOARD, AS RECOMMENDED BY THE GENERAL STATUTES COMMISSION.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 84-26 reads as rewritten:

"§ 84-26. ~~Pay~~ Expenses of Board of Law Examiners.

~~Each~~ Notwithstanding G.S. 93B-5(b), each member of the Board of Law Examiners shall receive ~~the sum of fifty dollars ($50.00) for his services in connection with each examination and shall receive his~~ the member's actual expenses of travel and subsistence while engaged in duties assigned to ~~him, provided~~ the member; provided, however, that for transportation by the use of private automobile the expense of ~~travel~~that transportation shall be the same as paid other boards and commissions by the State."

HOUSE BILL 77:
Board of Law Examiners/Update Expense Law

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	February 27, 2013
Introduced by:	Rep. Blust	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	First Edition

SUMMARY: House Bill 77 would delete an obsolete provision for a $50 payment to members of the Board of Law Examiners and clarifies the payment of expenses for travel and subsistence while engaged in duties assigned to the member. House Bill 77 is a recommendation by the General Statutes Commission.

[As introduced, this bill was identical to S74, as introduced by Sen. Hartsell, which is currently in Senate Finance.]

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 84-26 allows a $50 payment to members of the Board of Law Examiners for services in connection with each examination and allows actual expenses of travel and subsistence, other than transportation by private car, while engaged in duties assigned to the member. Transportation by use of private car is the same as paid other boards. The transportation by private car for other boards is the business standard rate set by the Internal Revenue Service. As of January 1, 2013, the standard rate is 56.5¢ per mile.

G.S. § 93B-5(b) provides for the reimbursement of travel expenses incurred by board members of occupational licensing boards. Board members are reimbursed for travel expenses subject to statutory maximums, unless approved by the Director of the Budget. The Director of the Budget establishes uniform standards and criteria under which actual expenses in excess of the travel allowance may be authorized.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 77 updates G.S. 84-26 by deleting an obsolete provision for a $50 payment to members of the Board of Law Examiners, clarifying that G.S. 93B-5(b) does not apply to the members, and making other conforming changes.

EFFECTIVE DATE: House Bill 77 would become effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: The $50 payment to members of the Board of Law Examiners has not been paid since before 1973 and is obsolete. The General Statutes Commission recommends deleting the provision for a $50 payment and clarifying that G.S. 93B-5(b) does not apply to the actual expenses of travel and subsistence of members of the Board of Law Examiners.

Greg Roney, counsel to House Finance, substantially contributed to this summary.

MEMORANDUM
February 26, 2013

TO: Senate Committee on Finance
FROM: General Statutes Commission
RE: HB 77 (Board of Law Examiners/Update Expense Law)

This bill deletes a provision in G.S. 84-26 for a fifty dollar ($50.00) payment to members of the Board of Law Examiners "for ... services in connection with each examination" that the General Statutes Commission is informed has not been paid since before 1973. The Board of Law Examiners asked the General Statutes Commission to recommend legislation removing the provision for the fifty dollar payment.

In addition, the bill clarifies the relationship between G.S. 84-26 and G.S. 93B-5(b) (which deals generically with occupational licensing boards) with respect to payment of expenses and updates the catchline.

SENATE BILL 56:
Wallace/Satellite Annexations

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	February 27, 2013
Introduced by:	Sen. Jackson	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	First Edition

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 56 expands an exemption from certain standards for voluntary satellite annexations applicable to the Town of Wallace. Previously, the exemption applied only to the property on which the Vidant Family Medicine facility is located, but Senate Bill 56 would make it applicable to other properties.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 160A-58.1 governs voluntary municipal annexation of noncontiguous property (known as voluntary satellite annexation). If all property owners in a satellite area petition a municipality for voluntary annexation of the noncontiguous property, the municipality may annex the property, if it meets all of the following five standards:

1. The nearest point on the proposed satellite corporate limits must be not more than three miles from the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.
2. No point on the proposed satellite corporate limits may be closer to the primary corporate limits of another city than to the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.
3. The area must be so situated that the annexing city will be able to provide the same services within the proposed satellite corporate limits that it provides within its primary corporate limits.
4. If the area proposed for annexation, or any portion thereof, is a subdivision as defined in G.S. 160A-376, all of the subdivision must be included.
5. The area within the proposed satellite corporate limits, when added to the area within all other satellite corporate limits, may not exceed ten percent (10%) of the area within the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.[1]

Session Law 2012-118 exempts the Town of Wallace from the fourth standard for voluntary satellite annexation for certain described property.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 56 expands the Town of Wallace's exemption from the fourth standard from voluntary satellite annexation by repealing the restriction applying the authority to only certain described property.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: The General Assembly has exempted at least 16 other municipalities from the fourth standard.

Giles Perry, counsel to House Government, substantially contributed to this summary.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO REQUIRE THE CANCELLATION OF AN AIRCRAFT LABOR AND STORAGE LIEN WHEN A SURETY BOND IN AN AMOUNT EQUAL TO ONE AND ONE-FOURTH TIMES THE AMOUNT OF THE LIEN CLAIMED IS DEPOSITED WITH THE CLERK OF COURT.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 44A-75 reads as rewritten:

"§ 44A-75. Termination of a lien on an aircraft.

(a) Termination by Payment of Amount Owed. – Any lien under this Article shall be terminated upon receipt by the lienor of the full amount owed for the labor, skill, or materials on the aircraft, and for storage of the aircraft, which amount shall not be limited to any amount shown on the notice of lien filed under G.S. 44A-60, if a notice of lien has been filed by the lienor. Upon receipt of the amount owed, the lienor or the lienor's agent shall release the aircraft to the owner, if the aircraft is in the possession of the lienor, and shall, within 20 days following a request in writing by the aircraft owner, file with the clerk of court a notice of satisfaction of lien, if a notice of lien has been filed by the lienor. A notice of satisfaction of lien shall state that the amount owed for the lienor's expenditure of labor, skill, or materials on the aircraft, and for the storage of the aircraft, has been paid and the lien against the aircraft has been terminated. The notice of satisfaction of lien shall be sworn to or affirmed, and subscribed by the lienor or by someone on the lienor's behalf having personal knowledge of the facts. Upon the filing of a notice of satisfaction of lien, the clerk of court shall make an entry of acknowledgment of satisfaction in the index.

(b) Termination by Deposit of Surety Bond. – Any lien under this Article shall be terminated by the clerk of court whenever a surety bond in a sum equal to one and one-fourth times the amount of the lien claimed against the aircraft and conditioned upon the payment of the amount finally determined to be due in satisfaction of the lien is deposited with the clerk of court. When a deposit that satisfies this subsection is made, the lienor or the lienor's agent shall release the aircraft to the owner, if the aircraft is in the possession of the lienor."

SECTION 2. This act is effective when it becomes law and applies to liens perfected under this Article on or after that date.

SENATE BILL 84:
Cancel Aircraft Lien W/Surety Bond Deposit

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	February 27, 2013
Introduced by:	Sen. Clodfelter	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell
Analysis of:	First Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 84 provides for the cancellation of an aircraft labor or storage lien upon payment of a bond.

CURRENT LAW: Chapter 44A of the General Statutes provides for statutory liens and charges. Article 1 of the Chapter provides for possessory liens on personal property other than aircraft.

Federal law, through the Federal Aviation Authority (FAA) governs how title to aircraft are registered and transferred. To comply with requirements in federal law regarding the perfection of security interests in aircraft, Article 5 of Chapter 44A of the General Statutes was enacted in 2006 to create a process for filing and enforcing statutory liens for unpaid labor, skill, or materials on an aircraft.

Under Article 1 of Chapter 44A, the owner of personal property subject to a lien may file a bond to recover possession of the property. The owner may then dispute the amount owed in a subsequent proceeding and recover the bond if the full amount is not found to be owed. Under Article 5 of Chapter 44A, there is not a similar provision to recover possession of aircraft upon payment of a bond.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 84 provides for the cancellation of an aircraft labor or storage lien upon payment of a bond. The surety bond must be equal to 125% of the amount of the lien claimed on the aircraft. Once a surety bond is filed, the lienor must release the aircraft to the owner.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law and applies to liens perfected on or after that date.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO REQUIRE RELEASE OF PROPERTY TAXES IN ANY AREA THAT WAS PART OF A MUNICIPALITY FOR SIX MONTHS OR LESS AND THEN DEANNEXED.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 105-380 is amended by adding a new subsection to read:

"(e) The governing body of a municipality shall release any tax levied under this Subchapter, without application from the taxpayer being required, on property that was within the corporate limits of the municipality for six months or less prior to deannexation from the municipality, and for which no notice of the tax has yet been sent to the taxpayer. The release shall be made in accordance with the provisions of this Article."

SECTION 2. This act is effective when it becomes law and expires July 1, 2016.

SENATE BILL 97:
Property Tax/Deannexation

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	February 27, 2013
Introduced by:	Sen. Goolsby	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S97-CSTD-1		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: The proposed committee substitute for Senate Bill 97 would authorize the governing body of any municipality to release any property tax for property that was within the corporate limits of the municipality for less than six months, and for which no notice has been sent to the taxpayer.

The PCS makes technical changes and provides a sunset for this provision.

CURRENT LAW: Property taxes are levied on a fiscal year basis with each fiscal year beginning on July 1 and ending the following June 30. Property added through annexation is subject to prorated property taxes as provided in G.S. 160A-58.10. Only full calendar months are considered for the purposes of prorating the property taxes. Therefore, for property annexed as of January 1 of a given year would be subject to 5 months of property taxes.

G.S. 105-380 prohibits the governing body of any taxing unit from releasing, refunding, or compromising any property taxes within its jurisdiction.

BILL ANALYSIS: The proposed committee substitute for Senate Bill 97 would authorize the governing body of any municipality to release any property tax for property that was within the corporate limits of the municipality for less than six months, and for which no notice has been sent to the taxpayer.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law, and expires July 1, 2016.

BACKGROUND: In May 2009, Wilmington voted to annex an area commonly known as "Monkey Junction." Originally scheduled to be annexed in June 2010, the effective date of the annexation was delayed due to litigation and did not become effective until July 1, 2012. S.L. 2012-3, effective July 1, 2012, deannexed the Monkey Junction area.

Under current law, the area annexed on January 1, 2012, and deannexed July 1, 2012, would be subject to 5 months of taxes for the tax year that began on July 1, 2011.

The City of Wilmington has indicated tax bills for property in the Monkey Junction area that was deannexed have not been sent, and no taxes have been collected from the area.

These adjustments do not result in a difference in basis of the affected assets for State and federal income tax purposes."

SECTION 2.(b) G.S. 105-130.5(b)(21b) reads as rewritten:

[As introduced, this bill was identical to S64, as introduced by Sens. Rucho, Rabin, Rabon, which is currently in Senate Finance.]

CURRENT LAW: North Carolina's tax law tracks many provisions of the federal Internal Revenue Code by reference to the Code.[2] The General Assembly determines each year whether to update its reference to the Code.[3] Updating the reference makes recent amendments to the Code applicable to the

[1]The legislation made many other changes that are not discussed in this Analysis because they either had no or minimal impact on North Carolina taxable income.

[2]North Carolina first began referencing the Internal Revenue Code in 1967, the year it changed its taxation of corporate income to a percentage of federal taxable income.

[3]The North Carolina Constitution imposes an obstacle to a statute that automatically adopts any changes in federal tax law. Article V, Section 2(1) of the Constitution provides in pertinent part that the "power of taxation ... shall never be surrendered, suspended, or contracted away." Relying on this provision, the North Carolina court decisions on delegation of State to the extent that State law previously tracked federal law. The General Assembly's decision whether to conform to federal changes is based on the fiscal, practical, and policy implications of the federal changes and is normally enacted in the following year, rather than in the same year the federal changes are made. Maintaining conformity with federal tax law simplifies tax reporting because a taxpayer will not need to account for differing federal and State treatment of the same asset. The current reference to the Code is January 1, 2012.

BACKGROUND: On January 2, 2013, the American Taxpayer Relief Act of 2012 (ATRA) was signed into law[4] and made substantial changes to the tax code. ATRA was intended to avert the anticipated "fiscal cliff" due to the sunset provisions scheduled to take effect in 2013 that would have ended the Bush-era tax cuts contained in the Economic Growth and Tax Relief Reconciliation Act of 2001 (EGTRRA) and the Jobs and Growth Tax Relief Reconciliation Act of 2003 (JGTRRA), which were temporarily extended by the Tax Relief, Unemployment Insurance Reauthorization, and Job Creation Act of 2010 (2010 Tax Relief Act).

BILL ANALYSIS:

Update IRC Reference Date

Section 1 of the bill would update the reference to the Code from January 1, 2012 to January 2, 2013, the date that ATRA became law. In doing so, North Carolina would conform to the following provisions:

- 2-year extension of the 15-year depreciation schedule for leasehold, restaurant, and retail property.[5]
- Permanent repeal of the limitation on itemized deductions for filers with incomes below $300,000 (MFJ) and application of the limitation for filers with incomes over $300,000.[6]
- Permanent increased phaseout ranges and elimination of the 60-month rule for the student loan interest deduction.[7]
- Permanent income exclusion for employer-provided educational assistance programs.[8] legislative power to administrative agencies, and an analysis of the few federal cases on this issue, the Attorney General's Office concluded in a memorandum issued in 1977 to the Director of the Tax Research Division of the Department of Revenue that a "statute which adopts by reference future amendments to the Internal Revenue Code would ... be invalidated as an unconstitutional delegation of legislative power."

[4] P.L. 112-240.

[5] If the provision had not been extended, this property would have been subject to a 39-year recovery period.

[6] Generally, taxpayers itemize deductions if their total deductions are more than the standard deduction amount. Since 1991, the amount of itemized deductions a taxpayer may claim has been reduced by 3% of the amount by which the taxpayer's AGI is above a certain amount. This limitation is known as the Pease limitation. EGTRRA repealed the Pease limitation on itemized deductions for 2010. The 2010 Tax Relief Act extended the repeal through 2012. ATRA permanently repeals the Pease limitation on incomes at or below $250,000 for individual filers and $300,000 for MFJ for tax years beginning after December 31, 2012. ATRA reinstates the limitations for individual filers over $250,000 and for MFJ with AGI over $300,000 beginning in 2013. The deduction phaseout will equal 3% of the taxpayer's AGI over that threshold, although the total phaseout is capped at 80% of the total deductions claimed. If ATRA had not been enacted, the applicable threshold for 2013, as adjusted for inflation, would have been $178,150 for MFJ filers.

[7] Certain individuals who have paid interest on qualified education loans may claim an above-the-line deduction for interest expenses up to $2,500. Prior to 2001, this benefit was only allowed for 60 months and phased-out for taxpayers with income between $40,000 and $55,000 ($60,000 and $75,000 for joint filers). EGTRRA eliminated the 60-month rule and increased the income phase-out range from $40,000-$55,000 to $50,000-$65,000 ($100,000 and $130,000 for joint filers), with adjustments for inflation. ATRA permanently extends these changes for taxable years beginning after December 31, 2012.

[8] An employee may exclude from gross income up to $5,250 for income and employment tax purposes of employer-provided education assistance. Prior to 2001, this incentive was temporary and only applied to undergraduate courses. EGTRRA

Bonus Depreciation

Section 2 of the bill would not conform to the one-year extension of the 50% bonus depreciation provision for property placed in service before January 1, 2014. The bill would "decouple" in the same manner that has been done in the past. A taxpayer would be required to add back 85% of the accelerated depreciation amount in the year it is claimed for federal purposes with a corresponding 20% deduction over the next five years. The taxpayer would be deducting the same amount of an asset's basis under State law as under federal law, it is just that the timing of the deduction differs. If North Carolina were to conform to this provision, the cost would be approximately $140 million in FY 12-13 and $141 in FY 13-14.

Explained. – Businesses may depreciate the cost of a new asset[9] over a period of time, usually five to 15 years. Bonus depreciation allows a business to claim more of a deduction up front and spread the remainder out over the normal depreciation schedule.

Federal Background. – Since 2002, businesses have been authorized to take an additional depreciation deduction on depreciable property ranging from 30% to 100%, known as "bonus depreciation." Most recently, the 2010 Tax Relief Act authorized 100% bonus depreciation for investments placed in service after September 8, 2010, and before January 1, 2012. It also provided 50% bonus depreciation for qualified property placed in service after December 31, 2012, and before January 1, 2013. ATRA extends the 50% bonus depreciation provision for one year.

North Carolina Background. – Since 2002 and through 2012, North Carolina has decoupled from the federal bonus depreciation provisions in the same manner as under this bill.

Section 179 Expensing

Section 3 of the bill would not conform to the enhanced section 179 expensing provision for 2012 and 2013. Therefore, for North Carolina purposes, a taxpayer would be subject to the deduction and investment limits that would have been in place at the federal level if ATRA had not been enacted: $125,000 and $500,000 for 2012; $25,000 and $200,000 for 2013.

The bill further provides that the property's basis will be the same for federal and State purposes and treats the difference in the same manner as State tax law has historically treated the bonus depreciation: A taxpayer would add back 85% of the additional expensing taken under federal law in 2012 and 2013 and would deduct 20% of this amount over the succeeding five years. Full conformity to the section 179 expense deduction would be $38 million in FY 12-13 and $22 million in FY 13-14.

Explained. – Section 179 of the Code allows the expensing of the purchase price of some business assets[10] in the year of purchase rather than taking depreciation[11] throughout the life of the asset. In other words, expensing trades a smaller yearly deduction over time for a larger deduction in year one. Use of the allowance has two components: a deduction limit and a phaseout threshold. The deduction limit is the maximum amount of the deduction that the taxpayer may elect to take. The phaseout threshold is the maximum amount that can be spent on equipment before the deduction begins to be reduced. The deduction is reduced, dollar for dollar, by the amount that exceeds the threshold. Prior to 2010, section 179 was commonly thought to apply to small businesses because of expanded this provision to graduate education. ATRA makes these changes permanent for taxable years beginning after December 31, 2012.

[9] One important difference between bonus depreciation and section 179 expensing is that bonus depreciation applies only to new equipment, while section 179 expensing may apply to new and used equipment.

[10] The business asset must be newly purchased tangible personal property that is used more than 50% for business purposes and is eligible to be depreciated under the Code. The newly purchased property may be new or used equipment.

[11] Generally, taxpayers take the Section 179 expensing deduction first and claim bonus depreciation on any remaining basis.

its maximum deduction and investment limits.[12] However, the enhancements made by the Small Business Jobs Act of 2010 (2010 Jobs Act) were the most expansive ever enacted and those limits have been extended under ATRA.

Federal Background. – The 2010 Jobs Act increased the deduction limit for tax years 2010 and 2011 from $250,000 to $500,000 and increased the phaseout from $800,000 to $2 million. The 2010 Jobs Act also broadened the definition of qualified property to include qualified leasehold improvement property, qualified restaurant property, and qualified retail improvement property, and computer software. These enhancements were set to expire for the 2012 taxable year with the limits reverting to prior levels of $25,000 and $200,000.

The 2010 Tax Relief Act did not extend the types of property that qualify for the deduction beyond the 2011 taxable year, but it increased the limits for taxable year 2012 to $125,000, adjusted for inflation ($139,000) and $500,000. Under the 2010 Tax Relief Act, the deduction limits were set to revert to their prior levels of $25,000 and $200,000 in 2013.

ATRA increases the section 179 limitations for tax years 2012 and 2013 to the same limitations that applied to 2010 and 2011 and extends the qualified real property allowance through 2013. Qualified property generally consists of qualified leasehold property, restaurant property, and retail improvement property. Taxpayers can deduct up to $500,000 of section 179 property for tax years beginning in 2012 and 2013 with a $2 million phaseout. If ATRA had not been enacted, the federal limits under section 179 would have been $125,000 and $500,000 for 2012 and $25,000 and $200,000 for 2013.

The special rule allowing off-the-shelf computer software to be subject to section 179 expensing was scheduled to expire for software placed in service after 2012. ATRA extended the expensing of such software for another year. Thus, off-the-shelf software placed in service in 2013 is subject to the section 179 expensing election.

North Carolina Background. – Prior to 2010, North Carolina typically conformed to the enhanced section 179 expense deduction provisions. However, given the expansive nature of the enhancements made by the 2010 Jobs Act, North Carolina decoupled by maintaining the limits of $250,000 and $800,000 for taxable years 2010 and 2011. North Carolina conformed to the expanded definition of qualified property in 2011. North Carolina conformed to the $125,000/$500,000 limits for 2012 as originally scheduled under the 2010 Tax Relief Act.

Work Opportunity Tax Credit

Section 4 of the bill would conform to the extension of the work opportunity tax credit under ATRA, but it would adjust the North Carolina credit amount from 6% to 3% for the 2013 tax year to achieve revenue neutrality.

Explained. – The federal work opportunity tax credit is available to employers that hire individuals from the targeted groups listed below. The amount of the credit is generally 40% of the qualified worker's first-year wages up to $6,000.[13] The targeted groups are:

- Qualified individuals in families receiving certain government benefits, including Title IV-A social security benefits (aid for dependent children) or food stamps

[12] Prior to the Emergency Economic Stabilization Act of 2008 (EESA), deduction limit was $125,000 with a phase-out beginning at $500,000.

[13] $3,000 for summer youths and $12,000, $14,000, or $24,000 for qualified veterans, providing certain requirements are met. For long-term family aid recipients, the credit is equal to 40% of the first $10,000 in qualified first year wages and 50% of the first $10,000 of qualified second-year wages.

- Qualified individuals who receive supplemental social security income or long-term family assistance
- Veterans who are members of families receiving food stamps, who have service-connected disabilities, or who are unemployed
- Designated community residents
- Vocational rehabilitation referrals certified to have physical or mental disabilities
- Qualified summer youth employees who live in empowerment zones, enterprise communities, or renewal communities
- Ex-felons hired no more than one year after the later of their conviction or release from prison

Federal Background. – The credit was scheduled to terminate in 2012 for wages paid to all targeted individuals, except for qualified veterans. The credit as it applies to wages paid for qualified veterans was scheduled to terminate in 2013. ATRA extended the credit for all groups for two-years through 2013.

North Carolina Background. – North Carolina provides a State income tax credit to a taxpayer who is allowed a work opportunity tax credit under the Internal Revenue Code. The amount of the credit is equal to 6% of the amount of credit allowed under the Code.[14] The credit is set to expire January 1, 2014.

Deduction for Qualified Tuition and Related Expenses

Section 5 of the bill would not conform to the federal enhancements of the qualified tuition and expenses deduction. A taxpayer would be required to add back the amount of the deduction taken at the federal level for purposes of determining North Carolina taxable income. If North Carolina were to conform to this provision, the cost would be approximately $6 million in FY 13-14.

Explained. – Subject to income limitations, a taxpayer may take an above-the-line deduction for qualified education expenses paid during the year for the taxpayer or the taxpayer's spouse or dependents. Generally, any accredited public, nonprofit, or proprietary post-secondary institution is an eligible educational institution. The maximum deduction is $4,000 for an individual whose adjusted gross income for the tax year does not exceed $65,000 ($130,000 for MFJ filers), or $2,000 for other individuals whose adjusted gross income does not exceed $80,000 ($160,000 for MFJ filers).

Federal Background. – This deduction was established under EGTRRA and scheduled to expire in 2006. It was subsequently extended through 2011. ATRA extends the deduction for two more years through 2013.

North Carolina Background. – North Carolina has previously conformed to this provision.

Section 5(b) disallows, for tax year 2013, the State deduction for taxpayers who opted to claim the Hope scholarship credit, the Lifetime Learning credit, or the American Opportunity tax credit in lieu of the federal deduction for tuition and fees.

At the federal level, a taxpayer may opt to claim one of the three above-named credits in lieu of the deduction for tuition and fees. A taxpayer who does so is eligible to claim a deduction on the North Carolina tax return for the tuition and fees deduction they forfeited on the federal return that they would have otherwise been entitled to claim had they not chosen to take one of the federal credits. By disallowing the State deduction, taxpayers are treated similarly regardless of whether they elected the federal credit or the federal deduction. Otherwise, a taxpayer who claims the federal deduction would get no State tax benefit (to the extent this bill requires an addback for that deduction) while those who claim the federal credit would be entitled to the State tax deduction.

[14] The credit may be claimed against the franchise tax or the income tax. The taxpayer must elect the tax against which a credit will be claimed when filing the return; the election is binding. The credit allowed may not exceed 50% of the tax against which it is claimed. Any unused portion of the credit may be carried forward for five years.

Income Exclusion for Distributions from IRAs to Charity

Section 6 of the bill would not conform to the extension of the income exclusion for a qualified charitable distribution from an individual retirement plan by a person who has attained the age of 70½. It would require a taxpayer to add back the amount excluded at the federal level for purposes of determining North Carolina taxable income. If North Carolina were to conform to this provision, the cost would be approximately $3 million in FY 13-14.

Explained. – Generally, a taxpayer must include in gross income distributions made from a traditional or Roth IRA account except to the extent they represent a return of nondeductible contributions or are rolled over into another qualified retirement plan.

Federal Background. – Since 2006,[15] taxpayers age 70½ or older may contribute up to $100,000 from their IRA account to a charity tax-free. This income exclusion was set to expire for distributions made in tax years beginning after December 31, 2011. ATRA extends the availability of this exclusion for two years for distributions made in tax years beginning in 2012 and 2013.

North Carolina Background. – North Carolina has previously conformed to this provision.

Section 6(b) would allow a taxpayer age 70½ or older to take a charitable deduction for the donation of an IRA distribution to charity to the extent the taxpayer was required to add back the amount excluded from gross income at the federal level.

At the federal level, a taxpayer may not get a double benefit for donating an IRA distribution to charity by both excluding it from income and taking the charitable deduction. A taxpayer may elect one but not both. If a taxpayer elects to take the 170 charitable deduction at the federal level, the deduction would flow through for North Carolina purposes.[16] However, if a taxpayer elects the income exclusion, there would be no benefit at the State level because, under this act, a taxpayer would be required to add that amount back. Therefore, this section would allow the taxpayer to take a charitable deduction for that contribution.

Income Exclusion for Discharge of Qualified Principal Residence Indebtedness

Section 7 of the bill would not conform to the extension of the income exclusion for the discharge of qualified principal residence indebtedness. It would require a taxpayer to add back the amount excluded at the federal level for purposes of determining North Carolina taxable income. If North Carolina were to conform to this provision, the cost would be approximately $8 million in FY 13-14.

Explained. – Taxpayers are generally required to recognize income from the discharge of indebtedness. An exception from this rule is for the discharge of qualified principal residence indebtedness, which has been excludible from gross income on a temporary basis since 2007.[17] The exclusion is limited to $2 million, and applies to indebtedness incurred in the acquisition, construction, or substantial improvement of a principal residence and secured by the residence.

Federal Background. – This exclusion was scheduled to expire for debt discharged after December 31, 2012, but was extended for one year under ATRA.

[15] This exclusion was originally authorized by the Pension Protection Act of 2006. The law was extended through 2009 by the Emergency Economic Stabilization Act of 2008, and through 2011, by the 2010 Tax Relief Act.
[16] Nonitemizers may take the credit under G.S. 105-151.26.
[17] This exclusion was originally authorized in the Mortgage Debt Relief Act of 2007.

North Carolina Background. – North Carolina has previously conformed to this provision.

Deduction for Mortgage Insurance Premiums as Interest

Section 8 of the bill would not conform to the extension of the deduction for mortgage insurance premiums as interest. It would require taxpayers to add back the amount they took as a deduction at the federal level for purposes of determining North Carolina taxable income. If North Carolina were to conform to this provision, the cost would be approximately $6 million in FY 13-14.

Explained. – Generally, taxpayers may not deduct any interest paid or accrued during the tax year that is considered personal interest. This restriction does not apply to certain types of interest, including qualified residence interest. Qualified residence interest includes interest on home acquisition indebtedness of up to $1 million and interest on home equity indebtedness of up to $100,000. In the case of a home acquisition loan, an individual who cannot pay the entire down payment amount may be required to purchase mortgage insurance.

Federal Background. –Since 2006, premiums paid for qualified mortgage insurance in connection with acquisition indebtedness for a qualified residence are treated as qualified residence interest and are deductible.[18] The treatment of qualified mortgage insurance as qualified residence interest was set to expire for amounts paid or accrued after December 31, 2011. ATRA extends the availability of the deduction for two years through 2013.

North Carolina Background. – North Carolina has previously conformed to this provision.

Earned Income Tax Credit

Section 9 of the bill would conform to changes made under ATRA to the earned income tax credit, but it would adjust the North Carolina credit amount from 5% to 4.5% for the 2013 tax year to achieve revenue neutrality.

Explained. – The EITC is a refundable tax credit for working low to moderate income families that varies depending on the number of the taxpayer's qualifying children.

Federal Background. –EGTRRA made a number of changes to simplify the credit and to reduce the marriage penalty experienced by married taxpayers claiming the credit. The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (ARRA) increased the credit amount from 40% to 45% of a family's first $12,570 of earned income for families with three or more children and the beginning point of the phase-out range for married coupled filing a joint return by $1,880. The enhancements were set to expire for the 2011 taxable year. The 2010 Tax Relief Act extended the enhancements through the 2011 and 2012 taxable years. ATRA extends for five additional years, through 2017, the expansions that increased the EITC for families with three or more children and increased the phase-out range for all married couples filing a joint return.

North Carolina Background. – North Carolina provides a State income tax credit to a taxpayer who is eligible for the federal EITC. The amount of the credit is equal to 5% of the amount of credit allowed under the Code. The credit is set to expire January 1, 2014. North Carolina conformed to the EGTRRA enhancements to the federal credit in 2001 and to the extension of those enhancements under the 2010 Tax Relief Act.

[18] The deduction is subject to a phaseout. For every $1,000, or fraction thereof, by which the taxpayer's AGI exceeds $100,000, the amount of mortgage insurance premiums treated as interest is reduced by 10%.

Adoption Credit

Section 10 of the bill would conform to changes made under ATRA to the adoption credit, but it would adjust the North Carolina credit amount from 50% to 30% for the 2013 tax year to achieve revenue neutrality.

Explained. – Taxpayers who adopt children can receive a tax credit for adoption expenses. Qualified adoption expenses include adoption fees, court costs, attorney fees, and other expenses related directly to the legal adoption of an eligible child. A taxpayer may also exclude from income adoption expenses paid by an employer.

Federal Background. –EGTRRA increased the credit from $5,000[19] to $10,000, and provided a $10,000 income exclusion for employer-assistance programs. The Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act of 2010 extended these benefits to 2011 and made the credit refundable. The 2010 Tax Relief Act extended the enhancements made by EGTRRA for one year. ATRA made permanent the increased adoption credit amount and the exclusion for employer-assistance programs as enacted in EGTRRA. Therefore, the adoption credit and income exclusion maximum amounts are $10,000, adjusted for inflation, with an income phase-out range between $150,000 and $190,000, adjusted for inflation

North Carolina Background. – North Carolina provides a State income tax credit to a taxpayer who is eligible for the federal adoption credit. The amount of the credit is equal to 50% of the amount of credit allowed under the Code. The credit is set to expire January 1, 2014. North Carolina conformed to the EGTRRA enhancements to the federal credit in 2001 and to the extension of those enhancements under the 2010 Tax Relief Act.

BILL SUMMARY:

House Bill 82 would do the following:

- Update from January 1, 2012, to January 2, 2013, the reference to the Internal Revenue Code used in determining certain State tax provisions, thereby incorporating and conforming to many of the provisions contained in the American Taxpayer Relief Act of 2012 (ATRA) to the extent North Carolina law tracks those provisions, including[1]:
    - 15-year depreciation schedule for leasehold, restaurant, and retail property
    - Modified limitations on itemized deductions
    - Student loan interest deduction
    - Income exclusion for employer-provided educational assistance programs
- "Decouple" from ATRA enhancements or extensions to the following provisions for the 2013 tax year:
    - Bonus depreciation
    - Section 179 expensing
    - Qualified tuition and expenses deduction
    - Mortgage insurance premium as interest deduction
    - Income exclusion for discharge of residence indebtedness
    - Income exclusion for IRA distributions to charity by a person who has attained age 70.5.
- Adjust the following three tax credits that were enhanced by ATRA to achieve revenue neutrality:
    - Work Opportunity credit
    - Earned Income credit
    - Adoption credit

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

The fiscal impact to the General Fund from conformity with the Internal Revenue Code is based on the US Joint Committee on Taxation (JCT) estimates on changes to federal taxes. The methodology used begins with these JCT estimates, which are calculated by federal fiscal year. Since the federal fiscal year ends 9/30 and the state's fiscal year ends 6/30, Fiscal Research adjusts these numbers to an approximate state fiscal year tax impact. Then, the next step is to prorate the national numbers to the state impact. This adjustment involved two steps: accounting for the relative size of the state based on federal tax collections and then adjusting for the difference in federal and state marginal tax rates. Once North Carolina's share of the JCT estimates were determined, state tax liability changes were estimated and allocated to the appropriate fiscal year.

[1]The legislation made many other changes that are not discussed in this Analysis because they either had no or minimal impact on North Carolina taxable income.

The bill decouples from bonus depreciation and enhanced Section 179 expensing and consequently, there is no fiscal impact. Specifically, the bill provides that for North Carolina purposes, the taxpayer must add back 85% of the bonus depreciation and enhanced Section 179 expense deduction in the year claimed for federal tax purposes, and then deduct 20% of this amount, plus the normal depreciation amount, over the next five years. Fiscal Research ran depreciation simulations to establish that the deduction allowed net of the add-back adjustment combined with normal depreciation results in approximately the same amount of deduction the taxpayer would otherwise be entitled to in the absence of bonus depreciation and an enhanced Section 179 deduction.

Although the bill conforms to federal enhancements of the earned income tax credit, the adoption tax credit, and the work opportunity tax credit for 2013, there is no fiscal impact associated with this conformity. Each of these North Carolina credits is a percentage of the corresponding federal credit. The bill lowers the credit percentage by an amount that offsets the fiscal impact associated with conforming to the enhancements enacted by the federal legislation. To determine that the provision would not have an impact, Fiscal Research identified the fiscal year cost associated with each tax credit under current law from the Tax Expenditure Report published by the Department of Revenue. The cost under current law was divided by the estimated total cost of the credit as enhanced by the federal legislation. Last, the ratio derived was multiplied by the credit percentage under current law and the product was compared to the credit percentage in the proposed bill.

The bill decouples from four other provisions for the 2013 tax year, but conforms to these provisions for the 2012 tax year. The bill requires taxpayers to include 100% of the deduction or income exclusion taken for federal tax purposes in calculating North Carolina taxable income. Therefore, there is no fiscal impact associated with the decoupling from these provisions.

- Education expense deduction for tuition
- Income exclusion for discharge of residence indebtedness
- Premiums for mortgage insurance deductible as mortgage interest
- Tax free distribution from IRAs to charity for individuals age 70.5 or older

The chart on the following page summarizes the effective dates for decoupling or conformity to specific federal provisions grouped by business-related provisions and individual-related provisions, and shows the two-year combined fiscal impact.

This transfer includes all property, real or personal, tangible or intangible, and includes all liabilities.

SECTION 7.(c) Property needed by the Authority for any airport, landing field, or facility may be acquired by the Authority by gift, devise, or purchase. Aviation easements needed by the Authority for any airport, landing field, or facility may likewise be acquired by gift, devise, or purchase. The power of eminent domain may be used by the Authority, pursuant to Article 3 of Chapter 40A of the General Statutes, but only for public use for an airport purpose, and any eminent domain proceeding must be authorized by a majority of the local government appointee members of the Authority, as provided in Section 4(a)(1) through (8) of this act. In no case, however, may the power of eminent domain be used for purposes not necessary for the operation of the airport, and more specifically no property may be acquired by eminent domain for such uses as hotels, motels, restaurants, or industrial parks. For purpose of Chapter 40A of the General Statutes, the authority is a public condemnor under G.S. 40A-3(c).

SECTION 7.(d) Any lands acquired, owned, controlled, or occupied by the Authority shall and/or are hereby declared to be acquired, owned, controlled, and occupied for a public purpose.

SECTION 7.(e) The Authority is not authorized to levy any tax.

SECTION 7.(f) Any claim by the City of Charlotte on account of acquisition of property by the Authority is extinguished.

SECTION 8. The Authority shall make annual reports to the Cabarrus, Gaston, Iredell, Lincoln, Mecklenburg, and Union County Boards of Commissioners and the Charlotte City Council setting forth a summary of its general operations and transactions conducted by it pursuant to this act. The Authority shall be regarded as the corporate instrumentality and agent for Cabarrus, Gaston, Iredell, Lincoln, Mecklenburg, and Union Counties and the City of Charlotte for the purpose of developing aviation facilities in the Counties of Cabarrus, Gaston, Iredell, Lincoln, Mecklenburg, and Union, but it shall have no power to pledge the credit of the Counties of Cabarrus, Gaston, Iredell, Lincoln, Mecklenburg, and Union or the City of Charlotte, or to impose any obligation upon those counties, or the City of Charlotte, except and when such power is expressly granted by statute.

SECTION 9. All rights, powers, and authority given to the counties and/or municipalities by the statutes of North Carolina, which may now be in effect or which may be enacted in the future, relating to the development, operation, maintenance, regulation, and/or control of municipal or other governmental airports, and the regulations of aircraft are hereby vested in the Authority.

SECTION 10. The Authority is hereby expressly authorized to make and enter into contracts, leases, subleases, conveyances, and other agreements with any political subdivision, agency, department, or instrumentality of this State; any agency, department, or subdivision of the United States; or any other legal entity or person for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act.

SECTION 11. The powers of the Authority created by this act shall be construed liberally in favor of the Authority. No listing of powers included in this act is intended to be exclusive or restrictive, and the specific mention of, or failure to mention, particular powers in this act shall not be construed as limiting in any way the general powers of the Authority as stated in Section 6(a) of this act. It is the intent of this act to grant the Authority full power and right to exercise all authority necessary for the effective operation and conduct of the Authority. It is further intended that the Authority should have all implied powers necessary or incidental to carrying out the expressed powers and the expressed purposes for which the Authority is created. The fact that this act specifically states that the Authority possesses a certain power does not mean that the Authority must exercise such power unless this act specifically so requires.

SECTION 12. G.S. 66-58(a) shall not apply to the Charlotte Regional Airport Authority or a lessee or sublessee of the Charlotte Regional Airport Authority.

SECTION 13. If any provision of this act or its application is held invalid, the invalidity does not affect other provisions or applications of this act that can be given effect without the invalid provisions or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are severable.

SECTION 14. This act is effective when it becomes law.

SENATE BILL 81:
Charlotte Regional Airport Authority

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	February 27, 2013
Introduced by:	Sen. Rucho	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to Third Edition S81-CSRBx-3

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 81[1] creates the Charlotte Regional Airport Authority and transfers the ownership and management of the Charlotte Douglas International Airport from the City of Charlotte to the Authority.

The proposed committee substitute rewrites Section 7.(c) to provide that the Authority may use the powers of eminent domain if agreed upon by a majority of the locally appointed members of the Authority. The restrictions that the powers of eminent domain may only be used for purposes necessary for the operation of the airport and not for such uses as hotels, motels, restaurants, or industrial parks remains in the bill.

CURRENT LAW: The Charlotte Douglas International Airport (CLT) has been owned and operated by the City of Charlotte since 1935. It ranks as the world's sixth busiest airport in operations. US Airways operates its largest hub at CLT. The City of Charlotte has outstanding more than $800 million of Airport Revenue Bonds.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 81 creates the Charlotte Regional Airport Authority and a 13-member Board to manage the airport. Eight of the 13 Board members are appointed locally: two by the City of Charlotte and one by Mecklenburg, Cabarrus, Gaston, Iredell, Lincoln, and Union counties. Three members are appointed at the State level: one by the Governor and two by the General Assembly.[2] The remaining two members are appointed by the other 11 members of the Authority. The Authority has the power and authority to own and manage the airport, including the power to charge fees and issue bonds. The Authority does not have the power to tax. The Authority has the same exemptions with respect to payment of taxes and license fees as provided for a municipal corporation. The Authority has the powers of eminent domain, as provided under Article 3 of Chapter 40A of the General Statutes.[3] The power of eminent domain may only be used for purposes necessary to the operation of the airport and may only be exercised upon a majority vote of the eight locally appointed Board members.

The bill requires the City of Charlotte to transfer to the Authority, within 90 days after enactment of the bill, all its right, title, and interest to the Charlotte Douglas International Airport, except if approval of a federal agency or a current bondholder is required, then within 90 days of that approval. This transfer includes all property, real or personal, tangible or intangible, and includes all liabilities.

[1] As introduced, this bill was identical to H104, as introduced by Reps. W. Brawley, Moffitt, Torbett, Samuelson, which is currently in House Transportation, if favorable, Finance.

[2] The General Assembly has created many airport authorities, including the Piedmont Triad and RDU. To my knowledge, there is not another airport authority in the State with gubernatorial or legislative appointments. The Centennial Authority, created to operate the PNC Arena in Raleigh, has legislative appointments.

[3] In the 3rd edition of the bill, the powers of eminent domain could only be used if required by federal law.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: An airport authority is often the preferred method of ownership for public airports in this country because its leadership may focus on airport issues and the airport staff may be less subject to political interference. The Piedmont Triad International Airport and Raleigh Durham International Airport are both owned and managed by an Authority. The Fayetteville Regional Airport is owned and operated by the City of Fayetteville. Nationally, the airports in Chicago and Atlanta are city-owned and managed.

One of the issues in transferring the ownership and operation of CLT from the City of Charlotte to a newly created airport authority is the existence of $800 million in Airport Revenue Bonds issued by the city. In reviewing the Bond Order, there does not appear to be a provision allowing for the transfer or assigning of airport assets. Without such a provision, the bondholders would need to consent to the assignment of the assets and liabilities, as proposed in the legislation. Gaining bondholder consent is practically impossible given the amount of the bonds outstanding. It would require substantial cost and effort to identify the bondholders; and once identified, it is unknown whether the bondholders would consent to such a change.

"then within 90 days of that approval. This transfer includes all property, real or personal, tangible or intangible, and includes all liabilities, leases, license, options to purchase, and other encumbrances on the airport property, whether or not those encumbrances are recorded. Testimony of Dana Fenton, Legislative Liaison for City of Charlotte
SB 81 - Charlotte Regional Airport Authority

Mr Chairman, Senator Rucho, Committee members, my name is Dana Fenton. I am the legislative liaison for the City of Charlotte. I am here today on behalf of Mayor and Council of the City of Charlotte who unanimously agree that a comprehensive study of SB 81 should be undertaken to ensure that no unintended consequences flow from the legislation.

The City of Charlotte has operated Charlotte Douglas International Airport (CLT) since 1936. CLT has a $12 billion annual economic impact upon our region and is the sixth busiest airport in the world in operations. The cost per enplanement is the lowest among large hub airports in this country. By all measures City stewardship of CLT has been very successful.

The City is positioning CLT for an even larger impact upon our region. A new intermodal rail facility is under construction and is projected to have an economic impact of $7.6 billion over the next 20 years. The City has been working with the FAA to obtain approval of an alternative financing option to construct and commission a new airport control tower three years earlier than currently programmed by the FAA. Last June, our City Council approved a five year capital improvements plan for the airport that calls for more than $1 billion to improve airfield, terminal complex, general aviation and cargo facilities.

Our Mayor and Council understand that they are stewards of a tremendous asset, and that the success of CLT is due in large part to effective management at the airport and visionary leadership of previous Mayors and Councils. The City takes its responsibilities as the airport sponsor seriously by taking proactive steps to improve safety and security and financial record keeping at the airport, and rigorously following all other federal standards as a condition for the grant of federal funds for the airport.

While our Mayor and Council see no compelling reason to even consider transferring CLT to an independent authority, they are willing to commission a study to determine the best course of governance for the airport going forward. On Monday evening Council directed the City Manager to develop the framework for such a study and report back to Council next Monday evening for approval to move forward. The City Manager has already reached out to critical airport stakeholders including the new US Airways/American Airlines, Norfolk Southern Railways, our business community, and the Mecklenburg Delegation to the General Assembly to get such a study rolling to that it can be complete before the General Assembly adjourns in June.

In addition this study will look at the financial ramifications of the contemplated transfer of CLT from city control to an independent authority. The airport has benefitted from the synergies of being a part of city government by utilizing central services to keep their costs low such as risk management, information technology, and employee health insurance programs. The study will also take a look at issues concerning outstanding airport improvement bonds issued by the City and how any such transfer can be accomplished without without impacting the City's financial standing, bond holders, and the contemplated airport authority.

In summary, Mayor and Council understand that everybody has an interest in seeing this asset grow. Contemplating a change in governance of an asset of this magnitude is a very serious matter. If there is to be a change in governance, then it is incumbent upon all stakeholders including the General Assembly to understand the direct and indirect impacts before undertaking such a change. Accordingly a comprehensive study that includes input from airport and community stakeholders is needed.

- Adds provisions to allow licensing of business entities, nonresident individuals, and foreign entities.
- Provides for suspension, rather than forfeiture, of license for failure to obtain continuing education units. Licensee has 60 days to complete continuing education, request reinstatement, and pay a reinstatement fee.
- Authorizes business entity or foreign entity license fee of $100 and reinstatement fee of $250.
- Authorizes the Board to assess costs in a proceeding against an applicant or licensee found to be in violation of the Chapter.

The PCS also removes a provision that would allow certain entities with 10 years of experience to be licensed without an examination.

SECTION 2. This act is effective when it becomes law.

SENATE BILL 152:
Correct Tech. Error in Burgaw Occupancy Tax

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	March 18, 2013
Introduced by:	Sen. Rabon	Prepared by:	Kelly Quick
Analysis of:	First Edition		Research Assistant

SUMMARY: House Bill 205 modifies the composition of the Tourism Development Authority for the Town of Burgaw.

[As introduced, this bill was identical to H205, as introduced by Rep. Millis, which is currently in House Finance.]

CURRENT LAW: Session Law 2006-167 authorized the Town of Burgaw to levy a room occupancy tax at a rate of 3% and established a Tourism Development Authority to promote travel and tourism in Burgaw using the proceeds from the occupancy tax. The law requires one-third of the Tourism Development Authority members to be individuals who are affiliated with businesses that collect the tax in the town and at least three-fourths of the members to be individuals who are currently active in the promotion of travel and tourism in the town. Prior to 2005, this composition of members was required by the House Finance Occupancy Tax Guidelines. In 2005, the House Finance chairs changed the percentage of members that must be currently active in the promotion of travel and tourism from three-fourths to one-half.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 205 modifies the composition of the Tourism Development Authority for the Town of Burgaw by reducing from three-fourths to one-half the number of members who must be active in the promotion of travel and tourism in the town. This change conforms to the House Finance Guidelines for Occupancy Tax.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: Since 1983, the General Assembly has authorized many units of local government to levy a room occupancy tax. In 1997, the General Assembly enacted uniform municipal and county administrative provisions for occupancy tax legislation – G.S. 153A-155 and G.S. 160A-215. These provisions provide uniformity in the areas of levy, administration, collection, repeal, and penalties.

UNIFORM OCCUPANCY TAX PROVISIONS
Rate – The county tax rate cannot exceed 6% and the city tax rate, when combined with the county rate, cannot exceed 6%.
Use – Two-thirds of the proceeds must be used to promote travel and tourism and the remainder must be used for tourism related expenditures.
Definitions The term "net proceeds", "promote travel and tourism", and "tourism related expenditures" are defined terms.
Administration – The net revenues must be administered by a local tourism development authority that has the authority to determine how the tax proceeds will be used, is created by a local ordinance, and at least ½ of the members must be currently active in the promotion of travel and tourism in the county and 1/3 of the members must be affiliated with organizations that collect the tax.
Costs of Collection – The taxing authority may retain from the revenues its actual costs of collection, not to exceed 3% of the first $500,000 collected each year plus 1% of the remainder collected each year.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO MODIFY THE USE OF OCCUPANCY TAX PROCEEDS FOR THE CITY OF JACKSONVILLE.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Section 1.1(d) of S.L. 2009-429 reads as rewritten:

"SECTION 1.1.(d) Distribution and Use of Tax Revenue. – The City of Jacksonville shall, on a quarterly basis, remit the net proceeds of the occupancy tax to the Jacksonville Tourism Development Authority. SECTION 2. This act becomes effective July 1, 2013, and expires July 1, 2023.

SENATE BILL 172:
Modify Jacksonville Occupancy Tax

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	March 19, 2013
Introduced by:	Sen. Brown	Prepared by:	Kelly Quick
Analysis of:	First Edition		Research Assistant

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 172 changes the occupancy tax distribution formula so that the City of Jacksonville can use two-thirds of the proceeds for tourism-related expenditures for ten years.

CURRENT LAW: Session Law 2009-429 authorized the City of Jacksonville to levy a room occupancy tax of up to 3%. The proceeds must be remitted to a city Tourism Development Authority (TDA), which must use at least two-thirds of the proceeds to promote travel and tourism and the remainder for tourism-related expenditures. In addition, Jacksonville is located in Onslow County, which has authority to levy a 3% occupancy tax. The proceeds of the county tax are deposited in the county's general fund and may only be used to further the development of travel, tourism, and conventions in the county.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 172 changes the occupancy tax distribution formula so that the City of Jacksonville can use two-thirds of the proceeds for tourism-related expenditures for ten years. Normally the distribution formula allows for two-thirds of the proceeds to be used for the promotion of travel and tourism.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective July 1, 2013, and expires July 1, 2023.

BACKGROUND: Since 1983, the General Assembly has authorized many units of local government to levy a room occupancy tax. In several instances, the General Assembly has authorized both a county and a city within that county to impose an occupancy tax. The rate of tax, the use of the tax proceeds, the administration of the tax, and the body with the authority to determine how the tax proceeds will be spent vary considerably. Over the past several years, there has been a greater effort to make the occupancy taxes uniform. In 1997, the General Assembly enacted uniform municipal and county administrative provisions for occupancy tax legislation – G.S. 153A-155 and G.S. 160A-215. These provisions provide uniformity in the areas of levy, administration, collection, repeal, and penalties.

SENATE BILL 177:
Hookerton/Maysville Satellite Annexations

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	March 19, 2013
Introduced by:	Sens. D. Davis, Brown	Prepared by:	Judy Collier

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 177 exempts the Towns of Hookerton and Maysville from the 10% area cap on voluntary satellite annexations. SB 177 received a favorable report from Senate State and Local Government Committee on March 12, 2013.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 160A-58.1 governs the voluntary annexation by a municipality of noncontiguous property. All property owners in the satellite area[1] may petition a municipality for voluntary annexation of the noncontiguous property if it meets all of the following five standards:

1. The nearest point on the proposed satellite corporate limits must be not more than three miles from the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.
2. No point on the proposed satellite corporate limits may be closer to the primary corporate limits of another city than to the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.
3. The area must be so situated that the annexing city will be able to provide the same services within the proposed satellite corporate limits that it provides within its primary corporate limits.
4. If the area proposed for annexation, or any portion thereof, is a subdivision as defined in G.S. 160A-376, all of the subdivision must be included.
5. The area within the proposed satellite corporate limits, when added to the area within all other satellite corporate limits, may not exceed ten percent (10%) of the area within the primary corporate limits of the annexing city.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 177 adds the Towns of Hookerton and Maysville to the following list of municipalities for which the fifth requirement stated above has been eliminated:

Cities of Belmont, Claremont, Concord, Conover, Durham, Elizabeth City, Gastonia, Greenville, Hickory, Kannapolis, Locust, Marion, Mount Airy, Mount Holly, New Bern, Newton, Oxford, Randleman, Roanoke Rapids, Rockingham, Sanford, Salisbury, Southport, Statesville, and Washington and the Towns of Ahoskie, Angier, Apex, Ayden, Benson, Bladenboro, Bridgeton, Burgaw, Calabash, Catawba, Clayton, Columbia, Columbus, Cramerton, Creswell, Dallas, Dobson, Four Oaks, Fuquay-Varina, Garner, Godwin, Granite Quarry, Green Level, Grimesland, Holly Ridge, Holly Springs, Huntersville, Jamestown, Kenansville, Kenly, Knightdale, Landis, Leland, Lillington, Louisburg, Maggie Valley, Maiden, Mayodan, Middlesex, Midland, Mocksville, Morrisville, Mount Pleasant, Nashville, Oak Island, Ocean Isle Beach, Pembroke, Pine Level, Princeton, Ranlo, Richlands, Rolesville, Rutherfordton, Shallotte, Smithfield, Spencer, Stem, Stovall, Surf City, Swansboro, Taylorsville, Troutman, Troy, Wallace, Warsaw, Watha, Waynesville, Weldon, Wendell, Windsor, Yadkinville, and Zebulon.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

[1] G.S. 160A-58.4 provides that satellite corporate limits cannot be considered a part of a municipality's corporate limits for purposes of its ETJ. Therefore, satellite annexations have no effect upon a municipality's ETJ.

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 8 would increase the fine for removal of vehicles from private lots to $150 from $100.

CURRENT LAW: G.S. 20-219.2 only applies to the Counties of Craven, Cumberland, Dare, Forsyth, Gaston, Guilford, Mecklenburg, New Hanover, Orange, Richmond, Robeson, Wake, Wilson, and municipalities in those counties, and to the Cities of Durham, Jacksonville, Charlotte and Fayetteville. G.S. 20-219.2 provides it is unlawful for any person, other than the owner or lessee of a privately owned or leased parking space, to park a vehicle in the space without the express permission of the owner or lessee of the space. Towing from private lots is permitted within the following limitations:

The owner of the vehicle is liable for removal and storage charges.
- Persons who tow or store vehicles must inform the owner in writing at the time of retrieval that the owner has the right to pay the amount of the lien asserted, request immediate possession, and contest the lien for towing charges. Persons who tow or store vehicles are prohibited from requiring vehicle owners to sign waivers of rights when retrieving vehicles, other than a form acknowledging the release and receipt of the vehicle.
- Any person who removes a vehicle is not liable for damages for the removal of the vehicle. However, any person who intentionally or negligently damages a vehicle when removing it or intentionally or negligently inflicts injury upon a person in the removal of a vehicle may be liable for damages.

A person who violates this section shall be guilty of an infraction and upon conviction, shall be fined not more than $100 in the discretion of the court.[1] In addition to G.S. 20-219.2, cities and counties may regulate towing by ordinance under their general police power.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 8 would increase the fine for removal of vehicles from private lots to $150 from $100.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act becomes effective December 1, 2013, and applies to offenses on or after that date.

[1] The fine for removal of unauthorized vehicles was increased to $100 from $10 in S.L. 2010-134. At that time a violation of G.S. 20-219.2 was reduced to an infraction from a Class 3 misdemeanor.

SENATE BILL 71:
Amend Irrigation Contractors Licensing Laws

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	March 20, 2013
Introduced by:	Sen. Tucker	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell
Analysis of:	PCS to Second Edition S71-CSTDf-3		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: The Proposed Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 71 makes the following changes to the statutes that regulate irrigation contractors:

- Makes clarifying changes to exemptions from regulation and adds an exemption for persons entering into subcontracts with licensed irrigation contractors, as long as the licensee does the actual irrigation work.
- Adds provisions to allow licensing of business entities, nonresident individuals, and foreign entities.
- Provides for suspension, rather than forfeiture, of license for failure to obtain continuing education units. Licensee has 60 days to complete continuing education, request reinstatement, and pay a reinstatement fee.
- Authorizes business entity or foreign entity license fee of $100 and reinstatement fee of $250.
- Authorizes the Board to assess costs in a proceeding against an applicant or licensee found to be in violation of the Chapter.

The PCS removes a provision that would allow certain entities with 10 years of experience to be licensed without an examination. This provision was enacted in S.L. 2012-194 and can be found in G.S. 89G-3(17) on page 3, lines 5-12 of the PCS.

CURRENT LAW: Chapter 89G of the General Statutes provides for licensing and regulation of persons practicing irrigation contracting in North Carolina. The provisions were originally enacted in 2008 (S.L. 2008-177) and went into effect January 1, 2009. The North Carolina Irrigation Contractors' Licensing Board has the authority to administer and enforce the provisions of the Chapter.

BILL ANALYSIS: The PCS for Senate Bill 71 makes the following changes to Chapter 89G:

Exemptions. G.S. 89G-3 lists persons/entities that are exempt from regulation as irrigation contractors. The PCS makes clarifying changes to some of the existing exemptions and adds a new exemption for any unlicensed person or entity who enters into a subcontract with a licensed irrigation contractor, as long as the irrigation work is performed entirely by the licensed irrigation contractor.

Licensing of business entities, nonresident individuals, and foreign entities. The PCS adds a new section G.S. 89G-6.1 to Chapter 89G, which provides for licensing of:

- Nonresident individuals – individuals who are not residents of this State. These individuals may be licensed as long as they meet all requirements for licensure.

- Business entities – corporations, limited liability companies, partnerships, or business entities using an assumed name or designated trade name.
- Foreign entities – foreign corporations or foreign limited liability companies that have obtained a certificate of authority from the Secretary of State or foreign partnerships.

For business and foreign entities, one or more individuals empowered to act for the entity must be licensed under Chapter 89G, and only the licensed individual is authorized to execute contracts for irrigation contracting. The individual licensee is required to exercise direct supervision over a contract until it is completed. If the individual licensee ceases to be an officer, employee, manager, executive, partner, or owner, the entity must provide written notice to the Board and replace that individual within 90 days. If the entity fails to do so within 90 days, the Board is required to suspend the license.

Suspension for failure to obtain continuing education. Currently, when a licensee fails to obtain required continuing education units, the license is forfeited. The PCS provides for a 60-day suspension following failure to obtain continuing education units. The licensee then has 60 days to obtain the continuing education units, request reinstatement, and pay a reinstatement fee of $250. If the licensee fails to do so within the 60-day period, the license is revoked.

Fees. The PCS authorizes a business entity or foreign entity license and renewal fee of $100. It also authorizes a $250 reinstatement fee.

Cost assessment for violations. The PCS authorizes the Board to assess costs, including reasonable attorney fees and investigatory costs, against an applicant or licensee that is found to be in violation of the provisions of Chapter 89G.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act becomes effective October 1, 2013.

BILL SUMMARY:

Senate Bill 71 (Second Edition) amends GS 89G-1 by adding definitions to the Irrigation Contractors statute for the following terms: business entity, foreign corporation, foreign entity, foreign limited liability company, foreign partnership, and nonresident individual.

It amends GS 89G-3 (providing exemptions from the provisions of GS Chapter 89G, Irrigation Contractors) to clarify that the licensure exemption for any federal, state, or local government performing irrigation construction or contracting work on public property only applies if the work is done by employees of those entities. The bill further amends GS 89G-3 to clarify that the exemption applies to a general contractor classified under GS 87-10(b) as a building contractor, a residential contractor, or a public utilities contractor when the contractor uses the contractor's own employees to perform work. It limits exempted public utilities contractors to performing only the activities described in GS 87-10(b)(3)a.

The bill clarifies that the exemption applies to a full-time employee of a homeowners' association who maintains or repairs an irrigation system owned by the association and located within the planned community's common elements as defined in GS 47F-1-103.

Senate Bill 71 (Second Edition) adds an exemption for any unlicensed person or entity who subcontracts with a North Carolina licensed irrigation contractor where the work is entirely performed by the licensed contractor in accordance with the provisions of GS Chapter 89G.

It amends GS 89G-5(11) to clarify that the NC Irrigation Contractors' Licensing Board (Board) has the power to require licensees to file and maintain an adequate surety bond or letter of credit (was, surety bond).

The bill enacts new GS 89G-6.1 to allow the Board to issue a license in the name of a corporation, limited liability company, partnership, or for a business entity using an assumed or designated trade name if the respective conditions are met. And it sets forth additional details and requirements for licensing of nonresident individuals and foreign entities.

The bill amends GS 89G-9 to require the Board to suspend a licensee's license for 60 days for failure to obtain the required ten continuing education units per year (penalty was forfeiture of the license). It also provides for reinstatement of the license upon completion of the required continuing education and payment of the reinstatement fee. Specifies that failure to (1) meet the education requirements, (2) request reinstatement, or (3) pay the fee will result in license forfeiture.

The bill clarifies the fees schedule in GS 89G-10(a) and deletes the fee for corporate license and adds a fee of $250 as a reinstatement fee.

It enacts new GS 89G-11(b), allowing the Board to assess costs for disciplinary proceedings, including investigatory costs, against an applicant or licensee.

Senate Bill 71 (Second Edition) makes other conforming changes. It clarifies the term irrigation construction or irrigation contracting throughout, and directs the Revisor of Statutes to make conforming statutory changes as necessary. It adds a section to allow certain irrigation contractors who meet specified conditions related to years of experience and who submit an application for licensure before October 1, 2013, to receive a license without taking the examination. The bill directs the Board to notify the North Carolina Cooperative Extension of the exemption from the exam requirement for experienced irrigation contractors as quickly as is practical upon the effective date of this section.

Except as otherwise indicated, this act is effective October 1, 2013.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

G.S. 89G-9(b) currently states that failure to obtain continuing education units shall result in the forfeiture of a license. Senate Bill 71 would eliminate that language and allow for the Board to suspend a license for 60 days for failure to obtain continuing education units. Then, upon completion of the required continuing education and payment of the reinstatement fee, the Board shall reinstate the license. Failure to meet the education requirements, to request a reinstatement of the license, or to pay the reinstatement fee would result in forfeiture of the license.

The North Carolina Irrigation Contractors' Licensing Board estimates approximately five licensees per year might fall under the conditions set above. Rather than paying a $100.00 Application Fee and a $200.00 Examination Fee to regain their license, licensees would be able to pay the $250.00 reinstatement fee. This would eliminate needing to retake the examination, but would still require the licensee to complete the required continuing education units.

Also, the bill would allow the Board to issue a license in the name of a corporation, limited liability company, partnership, or in an assumed or designated trade name if specific conditions are met. While there was a Corporate License Fee set in G.S. 89G-10(a), nowhere in the statutes was the Board given the ability to license a business entity. The North Carolina Irrigation Contractors' Licensing Board estimates approximately 500 business entities, which would be eligible to be licensed under Senate Bill 71, would opt to have their business entity licensed. Those 500 business entities would pay a $100.00 licensure fee, yielding a $50,000 yearly increase in fee collections.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO PROTECT THE FISCAL HEALTH OF NORTH CAROLINA'S WATER AND SEWER SYSTEMS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 159-181 is amended by adding a new subsection to read as follows:

"(d) The Local Government Commission shall have authority to impound the books and records associated with the water and/or sewer enterprise system of any unit of local government or public authority, assume full control of all its affairs, or take any lesser actions deemed necessary by the Commission when, for three consecutive fiscal years, the audited financial statements of the unit or public authority demonstrate that the unit or public authority meets any one of the following three criteria: (i) the enterprise system experienced negative working capital; (ii) the enterprise system experienced a quick ratio of less than 1.0; or (iii) the unit or public authority experienced a net loss of revenue in the enterprise system using the modified accrual budgetary basis of accounting. Before the Commission assumes full control of an enterprise system as described in this subsection, it must find that the impact of items (i) through (iii) threatens the financial stability of the unit or public authority, and that the unit or public authority has failed to make corrective changes in its operation of the enterprise system after having received notice and warning from the Commission. The notice and warning may occur prior to the expiration of the three-year period. When the Commission takes action under this section, the Commission is vested with the powers of the governing board as the Commission shall deem necessary, which may include all powers of the governing board as to the operation of the enterprise system, including, but not limited to, setting rates, negotiating contracts, collecting payments that are due, suspending service to nonpaying customers, resolving disputes with third parties, and transferring the ownership of the enterprise system. For purposes of this subsection, the term "working capital" means current assets, such as cash, inventory, and accounts receivable, less current liabilities, determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and the phrase "quick ratio of less than 1.0" means that the ratio of liquid assets, cash and receivables, to current liabilities is less than 1.0."

SECTION 2. This act becomes effective July 1, 2013.

SENATE BILL 207:
Maintaining Water & Sewer Fiscal Health

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	March 15, 2013
Introduced by:	Sen. Tucker	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette
Analysis of:	First Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 207[1] authorizes the Local Government Commission to intervene and assume financial control of water or sewer enterprise systems that are not financially self-sustaining and are a financial burden to the unit of local government. The bill is a recommendation of the Local Government Commission.

CURRENT LAW: The Local Government Commission (LGC) has the authority to assume full control of the financial affairs of a unit of local government[2] or a public authority[3] in the following two circumstances:

- The entity has defaulted on a debt obligation or will default if its financial policies and practices are not improved.
- The entity persists, after notice and warning from the LGC, in willfully or negligently failing or refusing to comply with provisions of the Local Government Finance Act.

In assuming control over the financial affairs, the LGC is vested with the powers of the governing board as to the levying of taxes, the expenditure of money, the adoption of budgets, and all other financial powers conferred by law. The LGC has needed to use this authority five times, four of which were related in part or totally to problems with water and sewer operations. The General Assembly created the LGC in 1931 to provide assistance to local governments and public authorities in North Carolina. It is staffed by the Department of State Treasurer and approves the issuance of debt for all units of local government and assists those units with fiscal management.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 207 would authorize the LGC to intervene in the financial affairs of a water or sewer enterprise system when warranted. Under current law, the LGC may not intervene until the financial situation of the enterprise has adversely affected the financial well-being of the local unit or public authority itself to the point that the unit has or will default on its debt or has repeatedly violated General Statutes Chapter 159.

The LCG could impound the books and records associated with a water or sewer enterprise system and take remedial financial actions when, for three consecutive years, the audited financial statements associated with the enterprise system demonstrate one or more of the following:

[1] This bill is identical to S259, as introduced by Sen. Bingham, which is currently in Senate Finance, and to H238, as introduced by Reps. Cleveland, Dockham, which is currently in House Government.

[2] A unit of local government is a municipal corporation that is not subject to the State Budget Act and that has the power to levy taxes. It includes a county, city, town, sanitary district and water and sewer district.

[3] A public authority is a municipal corporation who's budgeting and accounting system is not fully a part of the budgeting and accounting system of a unit of local government. Examples of a public authority include housing authorities, water and sewer authorities and multi county public health and mental health authorities.

- The enterprise system experienced negative working capital. The term "working capital" means current assets less current liabilities determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.
- The enterprise system experienced a quick ratio of less than 1.0. The phrase "quick ratio of less than 1.0" means that the ratio of liquid assets to current liabilities is less than 1.0. Liquid assets include cash and accounts receivable, not inventory.
- The unit or public authority experienced a net loss of revenue in the enterprise system using the modified accrual budgetary basis of accounting.

The LGC could assume full control of the financial affairs of a water or sewer enterprise system if it finds that the impact of the three conditions outlined above threaten the financial stability of the local governmental unit or public authority and the unit or public authority has failed to make corrective changes in its operation of the enterprise system after having received notice and warning from the LGC. When the LGC intervenes, it is vested with the powers of the governing body as to the operation of the enterprise system. Those powers include the ability to set rates, negotiate contracts, collect payments due, suspend service to nonpaying customers, resolve disputes with third parties, and transfer ownership of the system.

There are currently fewer than 20 water or sewer enterprises that may meet the three conditions in the bill that would allow the LGC to intervene.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill would become effective July 1, 2013.

BACKGROUND: Cities, counties, and special purpose districts[4] are the primary providers of water and sewer service in this State. Local governments provide water to 86% of residents who are served by piped water. Fifty percent of residents receive centralized sewer service and local governments are the primary provider of this service.[5] Local governments provide this service as a public enterprise for which a fee or charge is imposed to cover the cost of providing the service, including capital costs. The challenge of financing water and sewer services, especially the capital costs associated with those services, has increased in recent years as grants and low interest loans from the federal[6] and State governments have decreased and the need for additional water and sewer facilities and the costs of maintaining and replacing old infrastructure increases.

[4] Namely water and/or sewer authorities and sanitary districts.

[6] In 1977, federal grants accounted for 60% of the annual capital expenditures for water and sewer. In 2000, they accounted for 15%. Based on reports to Congress cited in the County & Municipal Government in North Carolina Article 38, Local Government Water & Wastewater Enterprises, by Jeffrey A. Hughes and David M. A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO CORRECT GENERAL REAPPRAISALS RESULTING IN PROPERTY VALUES THAT DO NOT COMPLY WITH THE REQUIREMENTS OF NORTH CAROLINA LAW BY SETTING FORTH THE STEPS REQUIRED TO BRING THE GENERAL REAPPRAISAL INTO COMPLIANCE WITH THE APPLICABLE PROPERTY TAX MANDATES.

Whereas, the Great Recession has had deleterious effects on the economy and, especially, on the housing market; and

Whereas, valuation data for a calendar year is used to determine market value for a general reappraisal as of January 1 of the following year; and

Whereas, there were a total of 3,825,637 foreclosure filings during the 2010 calendar year and 2.23% of all households were in some stage of foreclosure during 2010; and

Whereas, annual analysis of the housing market in North Carolina in 2011 shows tax assessments in nearly half of the counties in the State were higher, on average, than actual market values; and

Whereas, the General Assembly has previously required accelerated general reappraisals when sales values deviated too much from assessed values, but such countywide analyses can fail to properly account for pockets of improperly valued properties or where properties have values that offset improperly valued properties located elsewhere within the county; and

Whereas, these unique and extraordinary conditions have increased the difficulty of accurately appraising real property for tax purposes and increased the number of actual errors in conducting reappraisals; and

Whereas, independent, corroborating evidence shows instances of high degrees of inequity in valuations among like properties of a type that is not acceptable by widely accepted mass appraisal standards; and

Whereas, independent, corroborating evidence shows, among other things, that there exist concrete examples of erroneous valuations, for example, that resulted both from the values accepted as initial values and from other inequities produced during the property tax appeals process; and

Whereas, these examples prove the existence of errors that give rise to significant issues that must be addressed to resolve inequities among like and similar properties; and

Whereas, the General Assembly recognizes that the confluence of these issues arising during the time when general reappraisals of real property were occurring has resulted not only in a higher risk but in a higher incidence of assessed values failing to accurately and fairly reflect true market values; Now, therefore,

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Notwithstanding G.S. 105-287, G.S. 105-325, or any other provision of law restricting the time for which a change in appraisal or valuation may be made, a board of county commissioners shall undertake the measures required by this act if all of the following conditions are met:

(1) The county has independent, corroborating evidence that the majority of commercial neighborhoods in the county possess significant issues of inequity.

(2) The county has independent, corroborating evidence that, for residential neighborhoods, instances of inequity or erroneous data had a significant impact on the valuation of the neighborhood as a whole.

(3) The county's last general reappraisal was performed for the 2008 tax year, 2009 tax year, 2010 tax year, 2011 tax year, or 2012 tax year.

(4) The independent, corroborating evidence resulted from a review performed by a qualified appraisal company selected and retained by the county and registered with the Department of Revenue and had a sample size of no less than 375 properties, the relevant characteristics of which were reviewed on location at the property.

SECTION 2. If all of the conditions of Section 1 of this act are met, a board of county commissioners shall either (i) conduct a reappraisal, using no less than one person certified by the Department of Revenue for mass valuations per 4,250 parcels, pursuant to G.S. 105-286 within 18 months, applicable to all tax years from and including the tax year when the last general reappraisal was performed pursuant to G.S. 105-286 or (ii) have a qualified appraisal company conduct a total review of all the values in the county by neighborhoods and make recommendations as to the true value of the properties as of January 1 of the year of the last general reappraisal performed pursuant to G.S. 105-286. After the reappraisal or review required by this section is complete, the board of county commissioners shall make any change on the abstracts and tax records to ensure that the assessed values of incorrectly appraised properties in the county reflect the true values of those properties effective for the year of the last general reappraisal performed pursuant to G.S. 105-286 and shall apply the adjusted values for those properties for each tax year until the next general reappraisal for real property is performed by the county pursuant to G.S. 105-286, unless those adjusted values are changed in accordance with G.S. 105-287. In making changes to the abstracts and tax records mandated by this act, the board of county commissioners shall make adjustments for previous errors, prioritized as follows:

(1) Adjustments to parcels with errors that resulted in the parcels having a significantly overstated value.

(2) Adjustments to parcels with errors that resulted in the parcels having a significantly understated value.

(3) Adjustments to parcels with errors that resulted in the parcels having an overstated value.

(4) Adjustments to parcels with errors that resulted in the parcels having an understated value.

In instances of parcels with errors that resulted in an overpayment of taxes, the governing board shall require that notice of refund and the refund amount be sent to the owner of record as of the date the payment was made.

SECTION 3. Interest on taxes paid on parcels with errors that resulted in the parcels having an overstated value shall be calculated as if there was an order of the county board of equalization and review reducing the valuation of property pursuant to G.S. 105-360(e). Additional taxes levied on parcels as a result of errors causing the parcels to have an understated value shall be treated as taxes on discovered property pursuant to G.S. 105-312.

SECTION 4. This act is effective when it becomes law. If any provision of this act or its application is held invalid, the invalidity does not affect other provisions or applications of this act that can be given effect without the invalid provisions or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are severable.

SENATE BILL 159:
Require Certain General Reappraisals

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	March 25, 2013
Introduced by:	Sens. Tarte, Rucho	Prepared by:	Dan Ettefagh Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	First Edition

SUMMARY: This bill would require counties to retroactively change appraisals valued during the county's last general reappraisal if certain conditions are met.

[As introduced, this bill was identical to H200, as introduced by Reps. W. Brawley, Cotham, which is currently in House Government, if favorable, Regulatory Reform, if favorable, Finance.]

CURRENT LAW: Under current law, the value of real property must be appraised as of January 1 by the county at least once every 8 years. Unless another standard applies for limited circumstances, the value to be determined is the true value of the property, or the price at which the property would change hands between a willing and financially able buyer and a willing seller, neither being under any compulsion to buy or sell and both having reasonable knowledge of all the uses to which the property is adapted and capable of being used. With limited exceptions, this value must be used by the county until the county conducts its next general reappraisal, and property tax appraisals may not be changed for tax years other than the current tax year (retroactive changes), regardless of whether such changes are sought by the taxpayer from the assessor, the board of equalization and review, or the board of county commissioners.[1] While G.S. 105-381 permits refunds or releases (which could result from lowered appraisals) if the tax in question was levied illegally or due to clerical error and while G.S. 105-394 permits retroactive changes to property tax records to correct "immaterial irregularities" in the listing, appraisal, levy, or collection process, neither provision likely authorizes retroactive changes to appraisals based on the alleged misjudgments of market value by the county.[2]

BILL ANALYSIS: This bill would supersede the time limitations disallowing retroactive changes where the following conditions are met:

- The county has evidence that the majority of commercial neighborhoods possess significant issues of inequity.
- The county has evidence that instances of inequity or erroneous data had significant impact on the valuation of residential neighborhoods in the county.

[1] (See G.S. 105-287(c) (any change in appraisals made in non-general-revaluation years may take effect in the current tax year only and not retroactively; G.S. 105-296(i) (changes made informally by the assessor prior to the first meeting of the Bd of E&R may affect only current-year appraisals); G.S. 105-322 (authorizes board of E&R to make changes as permitted by G.S. 105-287 and as needed to resolve timely filed appeals of current year's appraisals); G.S. 105-325 (authorizes board of county commissioners to make changes only to current-year appraisals).

[2] Neither provision has been the subject of much litigation. The leading cases are Ammons v. Wake County, 127 N.C. App. 426 (1997), which makes clear that a misjudgment of market value under G.S. 105-381 cannot justify a refund under the "clerical error" standard but does not address the "levied illegally" standard, and In re: Morgan, 362 N.C. 339 (2008), which deals with immaterial irregularities. An argument that a misjudgment of market value was either an illegal tax or an immaterial irregularity would render the appeal deadline created by G.S. 105-322 unnecessary, and courts strive to avoid interpreting a statute in a manner that eliminates the relevance of another statute.

- The county's last general reappraisal was performed in one of the years when the economic downturn most severely affected home prices (2008-2012).
- The county's evidence (i) resulted from a review performed by an appraisal service retained and selected by the county and registered with the Department of Revenue and (ii) resulted from a sample size of not less than 375 properties that were examined on site.

If all of the conditions are met, the county must undertake one of the two following options:

- The county must conduct a general reappraisal pursuant to G.S. 105-286 within 18 months with at least 1 appraiser certified by the Department for mass valuations per 4,250 parcels.
- The county must have a qualified appraisal service expand the county's evidence of inequity to cover the entire county.

Once one of the two options has been completed, the county must change the abstracts and tax records so that the assessed value reflects the true value for each tax year until the next general reappraisal required by G.S. 105-286. In making these changes, the county must prioritize significantly overvalued parcels first, significantly undervalued parcels second, other overvalued parcels third, and other undervalued parcels last, and, in making refunds, the governing board of the county (and city, where applicable), must direct that a notice of refund and the refund amount be sent to the owner of record as of the date the payment was made. For overvalued parcels, the county would be required to repay the overpayment with interest in the same manner as if the Board of Equalization and Review reduced a valuation on property resulting in an overpayment under G.S. 105-360. The interest rate for overpayments is 2% for the period 1/6 to 2/1 and is .75% for the period 2/1 until paid. For undervalued parcels, the additional taxes would be treated as taxes on discovered properties pursuant to G.S. 105-312, on which interest does not begin to accrue until the next calendar date of delinquency, which would be January 6th.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This bill would be effective when it becomes law and the provisions of the bill are severable.

BACKGROUND: In 2011, Mecklenburg County conducted a general reappraisal, which has been a source of controversy and debate. In response to a significantly higher rate of appeal and public criticism, the county commissioned a review of the reappraisal data. The resulting report indicated that many of the neighborhoods throughout the county had valuations that had either major or minor issues affecting the calculation.[3]

The report is available online at the following website:

http://charmeck.org/mecklenburg/county/AssessorsOffice/Pages/RevaluationReview.aspx

The bill seeks to provide a remedy by conforming the previously established valuations to true or market values as of the date for which the reappraisal was to be effective coupled with a retroactive adjustment to tax liabilities. Laws amending property tax statutes must adhere to two North Carolina Constitutional provisions:

- Art. II, Sec. 24 of the NC Constitution prohibits local bills that "extend the time for the levy or collection of taxes or otherwise relieving any collector of tax from the due performance of his official duties."

[3] For example, in the neighborhood review, the report indicated major or minor issues in 49 of 150 neighborhoods, and in the land increase neighborhood review, the report indicated major or minor issues in 38 of 52 neighborhoods.

- Art. V, Sec. 2 of the NC Constitution requires that any "classification" of property for tax purposes "be made by general law uniformly applicable in every county, city, and town."

North Carolina courts have not addressed the question of whether a bill permitting or ordering the retroactive changing of property tax assessments in some (but not all) counties would violate either of these constitutional provisions. Although the bill addresses primarily a local issue and Mecklenburg County is the only county known to meet all of the conditions set forth in the bill, any county that conducted a revaluation between 2008 and 2012 can meet the bill conditions. A taxpayer or a county in the State may have standing to challenge a law that violated a Constitutional provision. It is unknown whether a court would find the bill to be local in nature or non-uniform.

SENATE BILL 268:
Sunset Beach/Canal Dredging/Maintenance Fee

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	March 25, 2013
Introduced by:	Sen. Rabon	Prepared by:	Judy Collier
Analysis of:	Second Edition		Research Assistant

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 268 would allow the Town of Sunset Beach to impose a canal dredging and maintenance fee.

The Proposed Committee Substitute (PCS) to the first edition of the bill received a favorable report from Senate State and Local Government Committee on March 20, 2013. The PCS was technical, adding Sunset Beach to the towns affected by changes made in Section 2 of SL 2011-108.

CURRENT LAW: The General Assembly authorized the Town of Ocean Isle Beach to create a fee-supported canal dredging district in 2004.[1] The General Assembly granted similar authority to the Towns of Emerald Isle and Holden Beach in 2005.[2] Finally, the General Assembly gave the Town of Southern Shores the authority to impose a canal dredging and maintenance fee in 2011.[3]

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 268 would allow the Town of Sunset Beach to do all of the following:

- Create a fee-supported canal dredging and maintenance district for all properties that are contiguous to a canal within its corporate limits.
- Impose annual fees for the dredging and maintenance of canals, both natural and concrete, on or before July 1 of each year. The fees may not exceed the cost of providing for the dredging and maintenance of the canals. The fees must be imposed on owners that could or do benefit from water access through the canal system within the municipality's corporate limits. The fees may be imposed on the property tax bill and collected in the same manner as ad valorem taxes.
- Abolish the district when there is no longer the need for it.
- Establish a capital reserve fund. If a capital reserve fund is established to build up funds to provide the service, the Town may delay providing the service until sufficient funds have accumulated (but not for longer than five years).

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act is effective when it becomes law.

Giles Perry and Brad Krehely, counsel to Senate State and Local Government Committee; and Cindy Avrette and Greg Roney, counsel to House and Senate Finance Committees, contributed to this summary.

Jonathan Tart, an analyst with the Fiscal Research Division, was recognized to answer questions. Cindy Avrette, a staff attorney with the Research Division, was recognized to further explain the bill and answer questions. Mark Prak, a local attorney, was recognized to speak in favor of the bill, stating that it would eliminate confusing licensure rules. Karl Knapp, a lobbyist with the League of Municipalities was recognized to speak in opposition to the bill since it is a local revenue source. Andy Ellen, a lobbyist with the Retail Merchants Association, was recognized to speak in favor of the bill. Sam Taylor, a lobbyist for NC Life Sciences, was recognized. He appreciates the proposed reforms but had reservations about the ability of global companies being limited in fund raising prior to creating products. A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO REDUCE AND SIMPLIFY BUSINESS TAXES AND TO TAX ALL BUSINESS ENTITIES WITH LIMITED LIABILITY PROTECTION THE SAME.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

PART I. GENERAL FINDINGS AND INTENT

SECTION 1.(a) The General Assembly of North Carolina finds the following:

(1) North Carolina's franchise tax is imposed on corporations for the privilege of engaging in business in this State in a form of ownership that limits the liability of individual owners of the business.

(2) North Carolina's franchise tax was enacted in the early years of the 20th century when the corporate form of ownership was the form of ownership that conferred the privilege of limited liability for its owners.

(3) Today many forms of business entities enjoy the privilege of limited liability, but they are not subject to the corporate franchise tax.

(4) Businesses in North Carolina are subject to a myriad of different State, county, and municipal privilege taxes.

(5) North Carolina relies increasingly on volatile income taxes for its General Fund revenues.

(6) Franchise taxes and sales tax are more stable forms of revenue.

(7) North Carolina's personal income tax rates and corporate income tax rates are among the highest in our surrounding states.

SECTION 1.(b) It is the intent of this legislation to do the following:

(1) Eliminate the myriad of different State, county, and municipal privilege taxes imposed on businesses.

(2) Simplify the process of tax preparation and tax administration.

(3) Replace the current franchise tax on corporations with a business privilege tax on all forms of limited liability business entities.

SECTION 1.(c) It is the intent of the North Carolina General Assembly to do the following:

(1) Implement comprehensive tax reform.

(2) Restructure North Carolina's General Fund tax revenues to rely more heavily on stable sources of revenue.

(3) Phase out the State's reliance on income taxes.

(4) Increase the State's reliance on consumption taxes by expanding the sales tax base to include services.

(5) Exempt businesses that pay the franchise tax from the sales tax base expansion to business services.

PART II. SIMPLIFY BUSINESS TAXES BY REPEALING ARCHAIC STATE AND LOCAL PRIVILEGE TAXES

"§ 105-114.3. Nature of tax.

This Article imposes a privilege tax on a business entity for the privilege of doing business in this State in an organizational form that confers limited liability on one or more owners of the entity. The tax is an accrued tax and is imposed for the exercise of this privilege during the period covered by a tax return. Payment of the tax imposed by this Article is a condition precedent to the right to do business in this State and, for a business entity that is organized or formed in this State, to the right to continue in the entity's organizational form. When a noncorporate business entity is doing business in this State, each owner of the noncorporate business entity is doing business in this State.

"§ 105-114.4. Business privilege tax imposed.

An annual privilege tax is imposed on a business entity doing business in this State at the rate of one dollar and thirty-five cents ($1.35) per one thousand dollars ($1,000) of the business entity's adjusted net worth tax base, determined in accordance with G.S. 105-114.5. The tax payable by a business entity may not be less than five hundred dollars ($500.00). The tax payable by a business entity other than a corporation may not be more than five thousand dollars ($5,000). The tax payable by a holding company may not be more than seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000). The tax imposed by this section does not apply to a company that is subject to tax under G.S. 105-116 unless the tax imposed under G.S. 105-116 is less than the tax imposed under this section.

After the end of the taxable year in which a business entity is dissolved, the entity is no longer subject to the tax levied in this Article unless the Secretary finds that the entity has engaged in business activities in this State not appropriate to winding up and liquidating its business.

"§ 105-114.5. Adjusted net worth tax base.

The net worth of a business entity is the entity's total assets less its total liabilities, computed in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles as of the end of the entity's taxable year. If the entity does not maintain its books and records in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, then its net worth is computed in accordance with the accounting method used by the entity for federal tax purposes so long as the method fairly reflects the entity's net worth for purposes of the tax levied by this section. A business entity's net worth is subject to the following adjustments:

(1) A deduction for accumulated depreciation and amortization is determined in accordance with the method used for federal tax purposes.

(2) An addition for indebtedness the business entity owes to a parent, a subsidiary, or an affiliate. The amount added back to the business entity's net worth may be further adjusted as follows:

a. If part of the capital of the creditor business entity is capital borrowed from a source other than a parent, a subsidiary, or an affiliate, the debtor business entity may deduct a proportionate part of the indebtedness based on the ratio of the borrowed capital of the creditor business entity to the total assets of the creditor business entity.

b. If part of the capital of the creditor business entity consists of indebtedness owed to a parent, a subsidiary, or an affiliate that is directly traceable to capital borrowed from a source other than a parent, a subsidiary, or an affiliate, the debtor business entity may deduct a proportionate part of the indebtedness based on the ratio of the borrowed capital of the creditor business entity to the total assets of the creditor business entity.

c. If the creditor business entity is taxable under this Article, the creditor business entity may deduct the indebtedness from its net worth to the extent the debtor business entity was not allowed to deduct the indebtedness.

(3) A corporation may deduct the cost of treasury stock.

"§ 105-114.6. Exclusions in calculating tax.

(a) Disregarded LLC. – A single member limited liability company whose single member is a corporation is disregarded under this Article if it is disregarded for federal income tax purposes. The corporation that is the single member of the disregarded limited liability company must include the net worth and property of the disregarded limited liability company in the corporation's tax base.

(b) No Tax Tiering. – A noncorporate business entity's ownership interest in another noncorporate business entity that is taxable under this Article is excluded in determining the owner's net worth under G.S. 105-114.5.

(c) Investment Companies. – The following exclusions apply to investment companies in determining their tax liability under this Article:

(1) A regulated investment company may deduct the value of its investments in stocks, bonds, debentures, or other securities or evidences of debt. A regulated investment company is an entity that qualifies as a regulated investment company under section 851 of the Code.

(2) A REIT may deduct the value of its investments in real property, unless the REIT is a captive REIT. The terms "REIT" and "captive REIT" have the same meanings as defined in G.S. 105-130.12.

(3) A venture capital company may deduct the value of its capital under management. A venture capital company is an entity whose purpose is to provide financing for start-up businesses and that obtains the capital it uses to provide financing only from investors who are accredited investors under 17 C.F.R. § 230.215 or are institutional investors.

(d) Short Year Adjustment. – A business entity that changes its taxable year and files a "short period" income tax return may deduct from its tax liability computed on an annual basis the amount of tax previously paid that is applicable to the period subsequent to the beginning of the new taxable year.

"§ 105-114.7. Determination of ownership after certain transfers.

(a) Transfers by Corporations. – Ownership of the capital interests in a noncorporate business entity is determined as of the last day of the business entity's taxable year. If a noncorporate business entity and a corporation or an affiliated group have engaged in a pattern of transferring assets between them with the result that each did not own the capital interest on the last day of its taxable year, the ownership of the capital interests in the noncorporate business entity must be determined as of the last day of the corporation's or group of corporations' taxable year.

(b) Tax-Free Distribution. – If a noncorporate business entity receives from a person a tax-free contribution of assets under section 721 of the Code within 120 days after making a tax-free distribution of assets to that person under section 732 of the Code with the result that the business entity did not own the capital interests on the last day of its taxable year, the assets that were distributed tax-free are considered owned by the business entity as of the last day of its taxable year.

"§ 105-114.8. Apportionment by multistate business entities.

A business entity that is doing business in this State and in one or more other states must apportion its net worth to this State. A corporation that is subject to income tax under Article 4 of this Chapter must use the fraction it applies in apportioning its income under that Article. A business entity that is not subject to income tax under Article 4 of this Chapter must apportion its net worth by using the fraction it would be required to apply in apportioning its income if it were subject to that Article. A business entity that believes this apportionment method subjects a greater portion of its net worth to tax under this section than is attributable to its business in this State may make a written request to the Secretary for permission to use an alternative method of apportionment, in the same manner as provided in G.S. 105-130.4(t1).

"§ 105-114.9. Return and payment.

The tax imposed by G.S. 105-114.4 is due when a return is due. A return is due on or before the fifteenth day of the fourth month following the end of the business entity's income year. A taxpayer may ask the Secretary for an extension of time to file a return under G.S. 105-263. A business entity must file a return under affirmation with the Secretary at the place and in the manner prescribed by the Secretary. The return must be signed by the president, vice president, treasurer, or chief financial officer of the business entity.

"§ 105-125.1. Exempt business entities.

A business entity listed in this section is exempt from the privilege tax imposed by this Article unless it has unrelated business income. A business entity that is listed in this section and has unrelated business income is subject to the tax imposed by this Article on its adjusted net worth or property attributable to its unrelated business income. Upon request of the Secretary, an exempt business entity must establish its claim for exemption in writing. The exempt entities are:

(1) A business entity exempt from federal income tax under the Code.

(2) An insurance company subject to tax under Article 8B of this Chapter.

SENATE BILL 363:
Business Tax Reduction and Reforms

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	March 22, 2013
Introduced by:	Sen. Brock	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette
Analysis of:	First Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 363 simplifies the privilege tax laws applicable to businesses by eliminating the myriad of current local and State privilege license taxes and treating all business entities with limited liability the same.

CURRENT LAW: Senate Bill 363 makes significant changes in three general areas of taxation:

Local privilege taxes

Counties have no general authority to impose these taxes but are authorized by Article 2 to levy some specific taxes. Cities have general authority to impose privilege license taxes unless limited by Article 2.[1] In recent years, some cities have used the general authority under G.S. 160A-211 to impose a gross receipts privilege tax on businesses and professions for which it is not restricted by general law.[2] The result is a taxing system with arbitrary distinctions between businesses, inconsistent application across the State, and in some instances double taxation because there is no statutory obligation to apportion gross receipts. In 2008, licensed home inspectors requested legislation to be taxed under the $50 State privilege license tax so that cities would be prohibited from imposing local privilege license taxes on them.

State privilege taxes

The General Assembly repealed about 30 State privilege license taxes in 1996. The tax on 11 named professionals was retained because of the fiscal impact of its repeal.[3] The other privilege taxes were retained because they have a gross receipts or other variable element (amusements, circuses, installment paper dealers, banks), were related to a tax that is retained (loan agencies), or were enacted for a regulatory purpose (newsprint publications).

State franchise tax

The franchise tax is one of the State's oldest taxes. In 1849 it was calculated as a tax on the capital stock of a corporation. In 1933, the rate was set at $1.50 per $1,000 and the rate remains the same today. The rate is applied to the highest of three tax bases: net worth apportioned to the State; 55% of the appraised value of property in the State subject to local taxation; and the book value of real and tangible personal property.

The general franchise tax[4] applies only to C-corporations, S-corporations, electric membership corporations, and limited liability companies that elect to be taxed as a corporation under the Internal Revenue Code. The tax does not apply to other limited liability companies, limited liability partnerships, limited partnerships,

[1] When the General Assembly repealed 30 privilege license statutes in 1996, it retained the local restrictions in those statutes. Today, counties and cities must abide by the restrictions of "Schedule B", even though the text is not available in the statutes.
[2] Approximately 300 cities levy privilege taxes; the taxes are a significant revenue source for about seven cities (Charlotte, Raleigh, Greensboro, Durham, High Point, Lumberton, and Hickory).
[3] In 1996, there fiscal impact would have been a reduction in General Fund revenues of $3 million.
[4] There is a utility franchise tax applicable to electric power companies, water utility companies, and sewer utility companies. The bill does not address the utility franchise tax.

partnerships, sole proprietors, or insurance companies[5]. North Carolina first authorized limited liability companies in 1989. In return for not being subject to the franchise tax, limited liability companies pay an annual report fee of $200.[6] Corporations pay an annual report fee of $25 for a paper report and $18 for an electronic report.

BILL ANALYSIS: Part II of the bill repeals the remaining State privilege license taxes except those imposed on live entertainment activities, movies, and amusements. It also repeals the general authority that allows cities and counties to impose local privilege license taxes.

Part III of the bill replaces the current franchise tax with a privilege license tax applicable to all business entities that enjoy limited liability protections. The key differences between the current franchise tax and the proposed privilege tax are as follows:

Current Franchise Tax	Proposed Privilege Tax
Applies to C-corporations, S-corporations, electric membership corporations	Applies to C-corporations, S-corporations, electric membership corporations, limited liability companies, limited partnerships, limited liability partnerships, limited liability limited partnerships, and any other business whose form of organization confers limited liability
Tax base is the highest of net worth, 55% of appraised value, or book value	Tax base is adjusted net worth. Adjusted net worth is defined as total assets less total liabilities, computed in accordance with GAAP, or in accordance with an accounting method used by the entity for federal tax purposes.
Multiple tax base adjustments, including adjustments for definite and accrued liabilities and reserves for various types of equipment (air-cleaning, sewage, and recycling)	Limits adjustments to accumulated depreciation and amortization, intercompany indebtedness, and cost of treasury stock. Expands the adjustment allowed for intercompany indebtedness to include intercompany debt that is traceable to an unrelated entity; current law restricts adjustment for intercompany indebtedness to debt between parent, subsidiary, and affiliate.
Tax rate of $1.50 per $1,000	Tax rate of $1.35 per $1,000
Minimum tax of $35	Minimum tax of $500
Maximum tax for holding companies of $75,000	Maximum tax for holding companies unchanged. Maximum tax for LLCs is $5,000.

Part IV of the bill reduces the annual report filing fee for limited liability companies to the same fees applicable to C-corporations and S-corporations: $25 for paper reports and $18 for electronic reports. Parts V and VI of the bill make statutory conforming changes.

[5] Insurance companies pay a gross premiums tax under Article 8B in lieu of franchise and income taxes. This bill does not change the taxes applicable to insurance companies.

[6] G.S. 105-122.1 provides a credit against the franchise tax liability for additional annual report fees paid by a LLC that pays franchise tax because it elects to be treated as a C-corporation for income tax purposes.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The franchise tax and State privilege license tax changes in the bill become effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2015, and for which taxes are due on or after that date. The repeal of local governments to impose privilege taxes is effective for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2015.

BACKGROUND: Privilege taxes levied under Article 2 of Chapter 105 are imposed for the privilege of carrying on the business, exercising the privilege, or doing the act named. In 1995, the Revenue Laws Study Committee found that the privilege license tax structure was outmoded, inefficient, and not designed on proper principles of taxation such as tax fairness, ability to pay, responsiveness to growth, or administrative cost. Chapter 14 of the 1996 Session Laws, Second Extra Session, repealed most of the State privilege license taxes imposed under Article 2 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes. The Revenue Laws Study Committee has studied the elimination of the remaining State privilege license taxes and reform of the provisions governing local privilege license taxes, but no statutory changes have been enacted since that time. The result is a system of taxation that applies only to a limited portion of businesses or the work force and that has a different and inconsistent tax rate for each different class of business. Consequently, the tax has become more of a nuisance tax than a properly designed source of revenue.

Likewise, the franchise taxes levied under Article 3 are levied for the privilege of engaging in the business or doing the act named. It was imposed on corporations for the privilege of limited liability long before alternative business organization models were created that conferred limited liability. Several tax reform studies in North Carolina over the past 20 years have recommended expanding the franchise tax to include all forms of business entities that enjoy limited liability.

BILL SUMMARY:

Repeal State and Local Privilege Taxes:

Under current law, North Carolina levies privilege taxes on attorneys and other professionals, banks, loan agencies, and installment paper dealers. Additionally, local governments are authorized to levy certain local privilege license taxes. The bill would eliminate State privilege taxes on those businesses, and eliminate the general authority of local governments to levy privilege license taxes.

Repeal Franchise Tax and Replace It with a Business Privilege Tax Applicable to All Businesses with Limited Liability:

Under current law, a business franchise tax is levied on C and S corporations at the rate of $1.50 per $1,000 of the largest value of three alternate bases, with a minimum tax of $35. The three bases are:

1. The amount of the capital stock, surplus, and undivided profits (net worth base) apportionable to the State
2. The book value of real and tangible personal property
3. 55% of the appraised value of property in the State subject to local taxation

The bill would replace the present business franchise tax with a new business privilege tax. The business privilege tax is a simplified version of the business franchise tax that eliminates bases 2 and 3 from the calculation of the tax, and makes adjustments to base 1 to better align with accounting records maintained by businesses based on Generally Accepted Accounting Principles. Additionally, all businesses with limited liability are subject to the tax instead of just corporations. The tax rate for the business privilege tax is $1.35 per $1,000. However, the tax liability for businesses other than corporations cannot be greater than $5,000. The minimum business privilege tax is $500.

Reduce Annual Report Filing Fees for Unincorporated Businesses with Limited Liability to Equal Report Filing Fees for Corporations

Under current law, businesses with limited liability protection are required to file an annual report with the Secretary of State and pay a filing fee. For corporations, the filing fee is $25 if a paper report is filed or $18 if an electronic return is filed. For Limited Liability Companies (LLCs) and business types other than corporations, the fee is $200. The fee is in lieu of the business franchise tax. The bill would make the annual report fee for these businesses the same as it is for corporations.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

Eliminate State and Local Privilege Taxes:

The fiscal impact is based on the amount collected from these taxes compiled by the Department of Revenue.

Repeal Franchise Tax And Replace It With A Business Privilege Tax Applicable to All Businesses With Limited Liability:

The fiscal impact is based on tax return data from the current business franchise tax on corporations. First, Fiscal Research analyzed the differences between the calculation of the business franchise tax and the calculation of the proposed business privilege tax. Next, Fiscal Research used the franchise tax data to estimate what corporations would have paid under the business privilege tax by making adjustments to the franchise tax data based on the differences in the calculation of the two taxes. To estimate the impact of the business privilege tax on unincorporated entities such as LLCs and Limited Liability Partnerships (LLPs) that are not subject to the franchise tax, Fiscal Research estimated the number of new taxpayers based on data obtained from the Secretary of State. Next, Fiscal Research reviewed IRS Statistics on Income to calculate a ratio comparing the size of LLCs and other unincorporated entity types to S corporations based on total assets. This factor was applied to the business privilege tax liability per S corporation and multiplied by the estimated number of new taxpayers.

Reduce Annual Report Filing Fees for Unincorporated Businesses

The fiscal impact is based on data obtained from the Secretary of State regarding current annual report fees collected from unincorporated businesses. These collections were adjusted proportionally based on the proposed reduction in the annual report filing fee to calculate the fiscal impact.

Minutes

The Senate Committee on Finance met on Tuesday, April 2, 2013, at 1:00 p.m. in room 544 of the Legislative Office Building. Courtney Baptiste of Chapel Hill, Sam Jones of Winston-Salem, Alec Harbin of Gastonia, Haley Ashley and Caroline Kerns of Burlington served as pages. Senator Rabon served as Chair to the meeting.

S.B. 58 – Increase Funding for Dredging

Senator Brown was recognized to explain the bill which was on the agenda for discussion only. Senator Wade moved to adopt the proposed committee substitute (PCS) for discussion. The motion carried. The PCS would increase vessel numbering and titling fees to provide additional funding for the dredging of the State's shallow draft inlets. Tom Reeder, Direct of the NC Division of Water Resources, was recognized to support the bill warning that if inlets shoal in, the federal government pulls the navigational buoys. Jeff Hudson, a staff attorney with the Research Division, was recognized to answer questions. Jim Hardin, Grady-White Boats, was recognized. He agreed that the State needs safe inlets, but was worried that the increase will put North Carolina's fees at the top of other Southern states. Connie Wilson, a lobbyist with the Topsoil Shoreline Protection Committee, was recognized to speak in favor of the bill. A copy of the bill, the summary and the fiscal note is attached.

The meeting adjourned at 1:46 p.m.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO PROVIDE ADDITIONAL FUNDING FOR DREDGING OF THE STATE'S SHALLOW DRAFT NAVIGATION CHANNELS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 75A-3 reads as rewritten:

"§ 75A-3. Wildlife Resources Commission to administer Chapter; Vessel Committee; funds for administration.

(a) The Commission shall enforce and administer the provisions of this Chapter.

(b) The chair of the Commission shall designate from among the members of the Commission three members who shall serve as the Vessel Committee of the Commission, and who shall, in their activities with the Commission, place special emphasis on the administration and enforcement of this Chapter.

(c) The Boating Account is established within the Wildlife Resources Fund created under G.S. 143-250. Interest and other investment income earned by the Account accrues to the Account. All moneys collected pursuant to the numbering and titling provisions of this Chapter shall be credited to this Account. Motor fuel excise tax revenue is credited to the Account under G.S. 105-449.126. The Commission shall use revenue in the Account, subject to the Executive Budget Act and the Personnel Act, for the administration and enforcement of this Chapter; for activities relating to boating and water safety including education and waterway marking and improvement; and for boating access area acquisition, development, and maintenance. The Commission shall use at least three dollars ($3.00) of each one-year certificate of number fee and at least nine dollars ($9.00) of each three-year certificate of number fee collected under the numbering provisions of G.S. 75A-5 for boating access area acquisition, development, and maintenance. The Commission shall transfer on a quarterly basis at least fifty percent (50%) of each one-year certificate of number fee and at least fifty percent (50%) of each three-year certificate of number fee collected under the numbering provisions of G.S. 75A-5 to the Shallow Draft Navigation Channel Dredging Fund established by G.S. 143-215.73F."

SECTION 2. G.S. 75A-5 reads as rewritten:

"§ 75A-5. Application for certificate of ~~number and fees;~~number; fees; reciprocity; change of ownership; conformity with federal regulations; records; award of certificates; renewal of certificates; transfer of partial interest; destroyed or junked vessels; abandonment; change of address; duplicate certificates; display.

(a) Application for Certificate of ~~Number and Fees.~~Number. – The owner of each vessel requiring numbering by this State shall file an application for a certificate of number with the Commission. The Commission shall furnish application forms and shall prescribe the information contained in the application form. The application shall be signed by the owner of the vessel or the owner's agent and shall be accompanied by a ~~fee. The fee is fifteen dollars ($15.00) for a one-year period or forty dollars ($40.00) for a three-year period.~~fee, as set out in subsection (a1) of this section. The fee does not apply to vessels owned and operated by nonprofit rescue squads if they are operated exclusively for rescue purposes, including rescue training. The owner shall have the option of selecting a one-year numbering period or a three-year numbering period. Upon receipt of the application in approved form, the Commission shall enter the application in its records and issue the owner a certificate of number stating the identification number awarded to the vessel and the name and address of the owner, and a validation decal indicating the expiration date of the certificate of number. The owner shall paint on or attach to each side of the bow of the vessel the identification number in such manner as may be prescribed by rules of the Commission in order that it may be clearly visible. The identification number shall be maintained in legible condition. The validation decal shall be displayed on the starboard bow of the vessel immediately following the number. The certificate of number shall be pocket size and shall be available for inspection on the vessel for which the certificate is issued at all times the vessel is in operation. Any person charged with failing to so carry a certificate of number shall not be convicted if the person produces in court a certificate of number previously issued to the owner that was valid at the time of the alleged violation.

(a1) Fees. – The fees for certificates of number are as set out in this subsection:

(1) The fee for a certificate of number for a one-year period is:

a. Fifteen dollars ($15.00) for a vessel that is less than 14 feet in length.

b. Twenty-five dollars ($25.00) for a vessel that is 14 feet or more in length but less than 20 feet in length.

c. Fifty dollars ($50.00) for a vessel that is 20 feet or more in length but less than 26 feet in length.

d. One hundred dollars ($100.00) for a vessel that is 26 feet or more in length but less than 40 feet in length.

e. One hundred fifty dollars ($150.00) for a vessel that is more than 40 feet in length.

(2) The fee for a certificate of number for a three-year period is:

a. Forty-five dollars ($45.00) for a vessel that is less than 14 feet in length.

b. Seventy-five dollars ($75.00) for a vessel that is 14 feet or more in length but less than 20 feet in length.

c. One hundred fifty dollars ($150.00) for a vessel that is 20 feet or more in length but less than 26 feet in length.

d. Three hundred dollars ($300.00) for a vessel that is 26 feet or more in length but less than 40 feet in length.

e. Four hundred fifty dollars ($450.00) for a vessel that is more than 40 feet in length.

(b) Reciprocity. – The owner of any vessel already covered by a number in full force and effect pursuant to federal law or a federally approved numbering system of another state shall record the identification number prior to operating the vessel on the waters of this State in excess of the 90-day reciprocity period provided for in G.S. 75A-7(a)(1). The recordation shall be made pursuant to subsection (a) of this section, except that no additional or substitute identification number shall be issued.

(c) Change of Ownership. – Should the ownership of a vessel change, a new application form with a fee in the amount set in subsection ~~(a)~~(a1) of this section shall be filed with the Commission and a new certificate bearing the same identification number shall be awarded to the new owner in the same manner as an original certificate of number. Possession of the certificate shall in cases involving prosecution for violation of any provision of this Chapter be prima facie evidence that the person whose name appears on the certificate is the owner of the vessel referred to on the certificate.

(d) Conformity With Federal Regulations. – In the event that an agency of the federal government shall have in force an over-all system of identification numbering for vessels within the United States, the numbering system employed pursuant to this Chapter by the Commission shall be in conformity therewith.

(e) Repealed by Session Laws 2006-185, s. 1.

(f) Records. – All records of the Commission made or kept pursuant to this section shall be public records.

(g) Award of Certificates. – Each certificate of number awarded pursuant to this Chapter, unless sooner terminated or discontinued in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter, shall continue in full force and effect to and including the last day of the month during which the certificate was awarded after the lapse of one year in the case of a one-year certificate or three years in the case of a three-year certificate. No person shall willfully remove a validation decal from any vessel during the continuance of its validity or alter, counterfeit, or otherwise tamper with a validation decal attached to any vessel for the purpose of changing or obscuring the indicated date of expiration of the certificate of number of the vessel.

(h) Renewal of Certificates. – An owner of a vessel awarded a certificate of number pursuant to this Chapter shall renew the certificate on or before the first day of the month after which the certificate expires; otherwise, the certificate shall lapse and be void until such time as it may thereafter be renewed. Application for renewal shall be submitted on a form approved by the Commission and shall be accompanied by a fee in the amount set in subsection ~~(a)~~(a1) of this section. ~~No fee is required for a period of one year for renewal of certificates of number that have been previously issued to commercial fishing vessels as defined in G.S. 75A-5.1, upon compliance with all of the requirements of that section.~~

(i) Transfer of Partial Interest. – The owner shall furnish the Commission notice of the transfer of any part of the owner's interest other than the creation of a security interest in a vessel numbered in this State pursuant to subsections (a) and (b) of this section within 15 days of the transfer. A transfer of partial interest in a vessel shall not affect the owner's right to operate the vessel, nor shall a transfer of partial interest in a vessel terminate the certificate of number.

(i1) Destroyed or Junked Vessels. – The owner of any destroyed or junked vessel shall furnish the Commission notice of the destruction or junking of that vessel within 15 days of its occurrence. Destruction or junking terminates the certificate of number and renders the hull identification number invalid for that vessel.

(i2) Abandonment. – A person may acquire ownership of an abandoned vessel by providing proof to the Commission that the lawful owner has actually abandoned the vessel. The Commission shall adopt rules by which a person seeking to acquire ownership may demonstrate that the vessel is actually abandoned. At a minimum, the rules shall provide for a reasonable attempt to locate the lawful owner and, if the owner is located, notice by the claimant of an intention to claim ownership of the vessel.

(j) Change of Address. – Whenever any person, after applying for or obtaining the certificate of number of a vessel, moves from the address shown in the application or upon the certificate of number, that person shall notify the Commission of the change of address within 30 days of moving in a form acceptable to the Commission.

(j1) Duplicate Certificates. – The Commission shall issue a duplicate certificate of number for a vessel upon application by the person entitled to hold the certificate, if the Commission is satisfied that the original certificate of number has been lost, stolen, mutilated, or destroyed, or has become illegible. The Commission shall charge a fee of five dollars ($5.00) for issuance of each duplicate certificate.

(k) Display. – No number other than the identification number set forth in the certificate of number or granted reciprocity pursuant to this Chapter shall be painted, attached, or otherwise displayed on either side of the bow of a vessel, except the validation decal required by subsection (a) of this section.

(l) Repealed by Session Laws 2006-185, s. 1."

SECTION 3. G.S. 75A-5.1 is repealed.

SECTION 4. G.S. 75A-7 reads as rewritten:

"§ 75A-7. Exemption from numbering requirements.

(a) A vessel shall not be required to be numbered under this Chapter if it is:

(1) A vessel that is required to be awarded an identification number pursuant to federal law or a federally approved numbering system of another state, and for which an identification number has been so awarded: Provided, that any such vessel shall not have been within this State for a period in excess of 90 consecutive days.

(2) A vessel from a country other than the United States temporarily using the waters of this State.

(3) A vessel whose owner is the United States, a state or a subdivision thereof.

(4) A ship's lifeboat.

~~(5) A vessel that has a valid marine document issued by the federal Bureau of Customs or any federal agency successor thereto.~~

(6) A sailboat of not more than 14 feet on the load water line (LWL).

(7) A vessel with no means of propulsion other than drifting or manual paddling, poling, or rowing.

(b) The Commission is hereby empowered to permit the voluntary numbering of vessels owned by the United States, a state or a subdivision thereof.

(c) Those vessels owned by the United States, a state or a subdivision thereof and those owned by nonprofit rescue squads may be assigned a certificate of number bearing no expiration date but which shall be stamped with the word "permanent" and shall not be renewable so long as the vessel remains the property of the governmental entity or nonprofit rescue squad. If the ownership of any such vessel is transferred from one governmental entity to another or to a nonprofit rescue squad or if a vessel owned by a nonprofit rescue squad is transferred to another nonprofit rescue squad or governmental entity, the Commission shall issue a new permanent certificate of number, displaying the same identification number, without charge to the successor entity. When any such vessel is sold to a private owner or is otherwise transferred to private ownership, the applicable certificate of number shall be deemed to have expired immediately prior to the transfer. Prior to further use on the waters of this State, the new owner shall obtain a certificate of number pursuant to the provisions of this Chapter. The provisions of this subsection applicable to a vessel owned by a nonprofit rescue squad apply only to a vessel operated exclusively for rescue purposes, including rescue training."

SECTION 5. G.S. 75A-34 reads as rewritten:

"§ 75A-34. Who may apply for certificate of title; authority of employees of Commission.

(a) Any owner of a motorized vessel or sailboat 14 feet or longer or any personal watercraft, as defined in G.S. 75A-13.3(a), that is applying for a certificate of number for the first time in this State pursuant to G.S. 75A-5(a), and any new owner of a motorized vessel or sailboat 14 feet or longer or any personal watercraft to whom ownership is being transferred under G.S. 75A-5(c) shall apply to the Commission for a certificate of title for that vessel. Any other vessel may be titled in this State at the owner's option. A vessel may not be titled in this State if it is titled in another state, unless the current title is surrendered along with the application for a certificate of title in this State. The Commission shall issue a certificate of title upon reasonable evidence of ownership, which may be established by affidavit, bill of sale, manufacturer's statement of origin, certificate of title in this State, certificate of number or title from another state, or other document satisfactory to the Commission. Only one certificate of title may be issued for any vessel in this State. A vessel may not be titled in this State if it is documented with the United States Coast ~~Guard.~~Guard, unless the documentation has expired or been deleted by the United States Coast Guard. The Commission shall issue a certificate of title upon receipt of a completed application, along with the appropriate fee and reasonable evidence of ownership. The Commission shall require a manufacturer's statement of origin for all new vessels being issued a certificate of number and a certificate of title for the first time. The Commission may request a pencil tracing of the hull identification number (serial number) for vessels being transferred, in order to positively identify the vessel before issuance of a certificate of title for that vessel.

(b) Employees of the Commission are vested with the power to administer oaths and to take acknowledgements and affidavits incidental to the administration and enforcement of this section. They shall receive no compensation for these services."

SECTION 6. G.S. 75A-38 reads as rewritten:

"§ 75A-38. Commission's records; fees.

(a) The Commission shall maintain a record of any title it issues.

(b) The Commission shall charge a fee of ~~twenty dollars ($20.00)~~thirty dollars ($30.00) to issue a new or transfer certificate of title. The Commission shall transfer on a quarterly basis at least ten dollars ($10.00) of each new or transfer certificate of title to the Shallow Draft Navigation Channel Dredging Fund established by G.S. 143-215.73F. The Commission shall charge a fee of ten dollars ($10.00) for each duplicate title it issues and for the recording of a supplemental lien."

SECTION 7. Article 21 of Chapter 143 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new Part to read:

"Part 8B. Shallow Draft Navigation Channel Dredging Fund.

"§ 143-215.73F. Shallow Draft Navigation Channel Dredging Fund.

The Shallow Draft Navigation Channel Dredging Fund is established as a special revenue fund. The Fund consists of fees credited to it under G.S. 75A-3 and G.S. 75A-38. Revenue in the Fund may only be used to provide the State's share of the costs associated with any dredging project designed to keep a shallow draft navigation channel located in State waters navigable and safe. Any project funded by revenue from the Fund must be cost-shared with non-State dollars on a one-to-one basis. For purposes of this section, "shallow draft navigation channel" means (i) a waterway connection, with a maximum depth of 14 feet, between the Atlantic Ocean and a bay or the Atlantic Intracoastal Waterway; (ii) a river entrance to the Atlantic Ocean through which tidal and other currents flow; or (iii) other interior coastal waterways."

SECTION 8. Nothing in this act shall affect the validity, term, or cost of any certificate of number or certificate of title issued prior to July 1, 2013.

SECTION 9. This act becomes effective July 1, 2013.

SENATE BILL 58:
Increase Funding for Dredging

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	April 2, 2013
Introduced by:	Senator Brown	Prepared by:	Jeff Hudson
Analysis of:	Second Edition		Staff Attorney

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 58 would increase vessel numbering and titling fees to provide additional funding for the dredging of the State's shallow draft inlets.

CURRENT LAW:

Under G.S. 75A-4, every watercraft or vessel used on the waters of the State must obtain and display identification numbers provided by the Wildlife Resources Commission (WRC). There are several types of vessels that are exempt from this requirement, including sailboats of 14 feet in length or less; vessels with no means of propulsion other than drifting or manual paddling, poling, or rowing; and vessels that are covered by documentation issued by the federal government. The fees for vessel numbering are $15.00 for a one-year period and $40.00 for a three-year period.

Under G.S. 75A-34, the owner of a motorized vessel or sailboat 14 feet or longer or any personal watercraft that is applying for a certificate of number for the first time, or any new owner of such vessel to whom ownership is being transferred, must obtain a certificate of title for the vessel from the WRC. The fee for vessel titling is $20.00.

G.S. 75A-3 establishes the Boating Account within the Wildlife Resources Fund. All funds collected for the numbering and titling of vessels are credited to the Account, as is a portion of the motor fuel excise tax. Funds in the Account are used by the WRC to administer and enforce the boating laws of the State; for activities relating to boating and water safety, including education and waterway marking and improvement; and for boating access area acquisition, development, and maintenance. The WRC must use at least $3.00 of each one-year certificate of number fee and at least $9.00 of each three-year certificate of number fee for boating access area acquisition, development, and maintenance.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Senate Bill 58 would change vessel numbering and titling fees and requirements as follows:

Vessel Numbering Fee for a One-Year Period

Current Law	Senate Bill 58
$15.00	• $15.00 for a vessel that is less than 14 feet in length. • $25.00 for a vessel that is 14 feet or more in length but less than 20 feet in length. • $50.00 for a vessel that is 20 feet or more in length but less than 26 feet in length. • $100.00 for a vessel that is 26 feet or more in length but less than 40 feet in length. • $150.00 for a vessel that is more than 40 feet in length.

Senate Bill 58 would also direct the WRC to transfer at least 50% of each one-year certificate of number fee to the Shallow Draft Inlet Dredging Fund.

Vessel Numbering Fee for a Three-Year Period

Current Law	Senate Bill 58
$40.00	• $45.00 for a vessel that is less than 14 feet in length. • $75.00 for a vessel that is 14 feet or more in length but less than 20 feet in length. • $150.00 for a vessel that is 20 feet or more in length but less than 26 feet in length. • $300.00 for a vessel that is 26 feet or more in length but less than 40 feet in length. • $450.00 for a vessel that is more than 40 feet in length.

Senate Bill 58 would also direct the WRC to transfer at least 50% of each three-year certificate of number fee to the Shallow Draft Inlet Dredging Fund.

Exemption from Numbering Requirements

Senate Bill 58 would repeal the exemption from numbering requirements for vessels that are covered by documentation issued by the federal government.

Note: The Proposed Committee Substitute for S58 would also repeal the exemption from payment of numbering fees by commercial fishing vessels.

Vessel Titling

Senate Bill 58 would increase the vessel titling fee from $20.00 to $30.00. It would also direct the WRC to transfer at least $10.00 of each new or transfer certificate of title to the Shallow Draft Inlet Dredging Fund.

Shallow Draft Inlet Dredging Fund

Senate Bill 58 would establish the Shallow Draft Inlet Dredging Fund, which would consist of fees credited to it from the numbering and titling of vessels. Revenue from the Fund may only be used to provide the State's share of the costs associated with any dredging project designed to keep a shallow draft inlet located in State waters navigable and safe. Any project funded by revenue from the Fund must be cost shared with non-State dollars on a one-to-one basis.

Note: The Proposed Committee Substitute for S58 would change the term "shallow draft inlet" to "shallow draft navigation channel" throughout the bill and add further clarifying language to the definition of the term.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act would become effective July 1, 2013.

PRINCIPAL DEPARTMENT(S) & PROGRAM AFFECTED: Wildlife Resources Commission and Department of Environment and Natural Resources

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 1, 2013

TECHNICAL CONSIDERATIONS: None

BILL SUMMARY: Senate Bill 58 increases vessel registration and titling fees to provide additional funding for the dredging of the State's shallow draft inlets. It also repeals the North Carolina exemption from registration requirements for vessels that are covered by documentation issued by the federal government. The PCS for SB58 also repeals the exemption from payment of the registration fees by commercial fishing vessels.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:
For purpose of estimating the amount of the revenue generated by the increase in registration and titling fees, the following assumptions were used:

1. The total number of active vessel registrations and title transactions does not change. This is supported by the stable number of registrations (and funds generated) over the past several years.

2. The increase in registration fees will cause 50% of boat owners each year to change their current behavior of purchasing three-year licenses to purchasing one-year licenses. The only exception to this assumption is for the owners of vessels under 14 feet whose behavior is assumed not to change due to the small increase in the three-year registration fee associated with the smallest boats. The staff of the Wildlife Resources Commission believes the increase will cause 100% of boat owners to switch to one-year licenses. The last time registration fees were increased in 2007[1] the Commission reported that sales of one-year registrations increased by 127%. The vast majority (92%) of boat owners however, still purchase three-year registrations. The graduated fee increases in this bill are more significant than the previous increase so it is anticipated that a larger number of boat owners will switch. However, this note assumes 50% of the three-year purchasers will continue with the three-year registration each year due to its convenience.

REVENUES:
SB 58 changes the vessel registration fees by moving from a flat fee of $15 per vessel per year (or $40 for a three-year registration) to a graduated fee structure based on vessel length (see Table 1). The bill retains the option to purchase a three-year registration, but it removes the $5 discount for the multi-year registration. The cost of three-year registration is now three times the amount of a one-year registration.

Table 1:

Current Fee	Senate Bill 58 Proposed Registration Fees
$15.00	• $15.00 for a vessel that is less than 14 ft in length
	• $25.00 for a vessel that is 14 ft or more in length but less than 20 ft in length
	• $50.00 for a vessel that is 20 ft or more in length but less that n 26 ft in length
	• $100.00 for a vessel that is 26 ft or more in length but less than 40 ft in length
	• $150.00 for a vessel that is more than 40 ft in length

In calendar year 2012, the Wildlife Resources Commission reported a total of 25,735 vessel title transactions and a total of 358,790 active boat registrations. The number of one-year and three-year registrations by vessel length can be found below in Table 2.

[1] S.L. 2007-485 increased one-year registrations from $10 to $15 and three-year registrations from $25 to $40.

*Active registrations includes each year of three-year registrations. The number of three-year registrations shown on the table is the actual number of three-year registrations issued in 2012. This fiscal note assumes that number of three-year registrations issued each year remains constant. The actual number of active registrations varies from year to year.

Due to the anticipated switch from three-year registrations to one-year, the full effect of the fee increase will not be realized until the third year of implementation. In year three, the estimated total amount of revenue generated is approximately $12.1 million (see Table 3), which the bill proposes to be split evenly between the Boating Account administered by the Wildlife Resources Commission and the Shallow Draft Navigation Channel Dredging Fund administered by the Division of Water Resources. Table 4 illustrates the impact of the change in boat owner purchasing behavior on revenues generated. In year one the total amount of revenue generated is $9.3 million and the total amount in year two is $11 million.

* Assumes that owners of boats less than 14 feet won't change behavior because one-year registration fee does not change and the $5 increase in three-year registration fee is not significant enough to cause owners to switch to one-year

SB 58 also repeals the exemption from registration requirements for vessels that are covered by documentation issued by the federal government, and the PCS repeals the exemption from payment of the registration fees by commercial fishing vessels.

Documented vessels[2]: Currently, vessels that are required to be documented with the federal government are exempt from North Carolina's registration requirement. Vessels requiring documentation are those of five net tons or more used in fishing activities on navigable waters of the U.S. This roughly equates to a vessel 26 feet in length or longer. Because NC does not register these vessels it is difficult to know how many additional vessels could be subject to the registration requirement. Of the 355,434 documented vessels contained in the US Coast Guard database, a total of 5,200 vessels had NC listed both as a home port as well as the address of the vessel owner. This note assumes that these vessels would be subject to the proposed registration fees. It also assumes that half of these vessels fall between 26 feet and 40 feet in length, and that remaining half are larger than 40 feet. Based on these assumptions, a total of $650,000 in additional revenue is estimated to be generated on annual basis from repealing the documentation exemption. [2,600 vessels between 26'- 40' x $100 = $260,000; 2,600 vessels greater than 40' x $150 = 390,000; $260,000 + $390,000=$650,000]

[2] The following states require documented vessels to be registered: Maryland, Georgia, Florida, Louisiana (except for commercial fishing vessels), Texas (except for commercial fishing vessels), Tennessee and Missouri.

Commercial fishing vessels: Currently, commercial fishermen are required to obtain a commercial fishing vessel registration from the Division of Marine Fisheries (DMF) and to pay annual registration fees to the Division based on vessel length (see Table 5). Commercial fishermen are also required to register their vessels with the Wildlife Resources Commission. They are, however, exempt from paying the WRC registration fee if they hold a valid commercial fishing vessel registration through the DMF.

Table 5:

Commercial Fishing Vessel Registration Fees (G.S. 113-168.6)
• $1 per foot for a vessel up to 18 Ft
• $1.50 per foot for a vessel that is over 18 feet but not over 38 feet in length
• $3.00 per foot for a vessel over 38 feet but not over 50 feet in length.
• $6.00 per foot for a vessel that is over 50 feet in length

WRC reports that a total of 2,173 commercial fishing vessels were given 1 year free registration renewals in FY 2011-12. Making these vessels subject to the new graduated fee structure would generate a total of $90,305 on an annual basis.

TOTAL REVENUE:

Table 6 shows the total estimated revenue to be generated from the fee increases and removal of certain exemptions in SB58. All revenue will initially be deposited into the Wildlife Resources Commission's Boating Account. On a quarterly basis, 50% of all funds deposited in the Account will be transferred to the Shallow Draft Navigation Channel Fund created by SB 58, which will be administered by the Division of Water Resources (DWR) in the Department of Environment and Natural Resources.

Fifty percent of the funds that remain in the Boating Account will be used by WRC for the following purposes: 1) administration of the registration and titling system, 2) enforcement of boating laws, 3) activities related to boating and water safety including education and waterway marking and improvement, and 4) boating access area acquisition, development and maintenance.

Funds transferred to the Shallow Draft Navigation Dredging Channel Fund will used to provide the State's share of the costs associated with any dredging project designed to keep a shallow draft inlet located in State waters navigable and safe. Any project funded by revenue from the Fund must be cost shared with non-State dollars on a one-to-one basis.

EXPENDITURES: The changes proposed in SB58 combined with the estimated increase in the number of one-year registrations issued will require additional resources starting in the second year of implementation for the Customer Support Unit which is charged with administering the vessel registration and titling program. There is no increase in administrative costs in the first year because the number of boats owners who need to renew their registrations does not change, only the type of registration purchased changes.

Based on an increase in postage/labor, forms/envelopes, and phone calls, the WRC estimates that its fulfillment costs will increase by $157,550 and three temporary employees in 2015, and an additional increase of $157,550 and one more temporary employee in 2016 (see Table 7 below). These estimates are based on WRC's assumption that 100% of all boat owners will switch to one-year registrations.

Table 7

Customer Service Unit's Administrative Costs Difference
Year	Number of Registrations	Number of Phone Calls	Total Fulfillment Cost	Current Full-Time Salary Costs	Additional Fulfillment Costs	Additional Temporary Salary Cost	FTE	Additional Revenue Needed

2014-15	260,000	129,600	$356,200	$622,077	$157,550	$77,376	3	$234,929
2015-16	375,000	169,776	$513,750	$622,077	$157,550	$103,168	4	$260,722

Costs are projected using current market prices for forms and envelopes/postal rates.

Based on hiring temporary employees at an estimated rate of $13.00 (includes salary, FICA, and Temp. Solutions Fee).

Because this Fiscal Memo assumes that 50% of boat owners who currently purchase three-year registrations will continue to purchase three-year registrations, the annual number of registrations processed by the Customer Service Unit's is less than WRC's estimate by 27% in FY 2014-15 and 38% in FY 2015-16, which results in a smaller increase in administrative costs (see Table 8 below).

The Senate Committee on Finance met on Wednesday, April 3, 2013, at 1:00 p.m. in room 544 of the Legislative Office Building. Griffin Matsno of Cary, Sam Jones of Winston Salem, Elizabeth Fischer of Charlotte, Ciaira Metz of Mooresville, Gina Higgins of Wendell and Prokash Kadiri of Concord served as pages. Senator Rucho served as Chair to the meeting.

S.B. 394 – Lower Tax Rates for a Stronger NC Economy

Senator Hartsell and Senator Clodfelter were recognized to explain the bill which was on the agenda for discussion only. Senator Tucker moved to adopt the proposed committee substitute (PCS) for discussion. The motion carried. The bill makes substantial changes to the tax code by lowering all of the major rates and by broadening the base. The PCS's primary changes include addressing the local distribution of revenues and moving to a single sales factor apportionment formula for corporate income and franchise tax. Alexandra Sirota, Director of the Budget & Tax Center, was recognized. She appreciated the comprehensive approach to updating the tax code, but had concerns about increased taxing of the poor. A copy of her remarks is attached. Gary Salamido, NC Chamber, and Andy Ellen, lobbyist for the Retail Merchants Association, were recognized to speak in favor of the bill. A copy of the PCS, the summary, the fiscal information and power point presentation is attached.

The meeting adjourned at 2:01 p.m.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO ADOPT A BIPARTISAN TAX REFORM PLAN TO PROMOTE ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT IN NORTH CAROLINA BY ESTABLISHING A SOUND STATE TAX STRUCTURE THAT REVISES THE EXISTING STRUCTURE ON A REVENUE-NEUTRAL BASIS, LOWERS ALL MAJOR TAX RATES, TAXES ALL INCOME AT THE SAME RATE, AND MAKES THE STRUCTURE SIMPLER, FAIRER, AND CONSISTENT WITH THE MODERN ECONOMY, AS RECOMMENDED BY PAST TAX STUDIES.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

PART I. GENERAL FINDINGS AND PURPOSE

SECTION 1.(a) The General Assembly of North Carolina finds the following:

(1) North Carolina's current tax structure has not been comprehensively revised since the Great Depression. The tax structure adopted then, while amended extensively over the years in a piecemeal fashion, no longer reflects North Carolina's 21st Century economy.

(2) Over the years, the multiplication of credits, allowances, special rates, and exemptions has progressively narrowed the base of the State's individual and corporate income taxes, with the result that the rates for those income taxes are now among the highest in our region and among our peer states.

(3) North Carolina's current tax structure undermines the State's competitive position and acts as a deterrent to new business investment and the creation of new jobs.

(4) The State's reliance on temporary and expedient tax changes to meet budget shortfalls has created a tax structure that is unpredictable for taxpayers and a revenue stream that is unstable for the State.

SECTION 1.(b) It is the intent of this legislation to promote economic development by establishing broader tax bases and lowering tax rates in a comprehensive manner, as recommended by numerous study committees charged with developing a 21st Century tax policy for the State. Adoption of a modern tax structure will accomplish the following objectives:

(1) Make North Carolina's tax system more competitive relative to our peer states.

(2) Conform North Carolina's tax system to the current economy and not that of the 1933 economy.

(3) Stabilize North Carolina's tax base and provide a reliable revenue stream for the future.

(4) Make North Carolina's tax system fairer so that individual taxpayers and business taxpayers who are in very similar circumstances to one another are treated in roughly the same way by the tax system.

(5) Balance North Carolina's tax revenues among the different types of taxes and the different groups of taxpayers on a revenue-neutral basis. The consensus forecasted amounts for fiscal year 2014-2015 are used to establish the revenue-neutrality of the tax changes in this legislation.

SECTION 1.(c) This section is effective when it becomes law.

"§ 105-153.4. North Carolina taxable income defined.

(a) Residents. – For an individual who is a resident of this State, the term "North Carolina taxable income" means the taxpayer's adjusted gross income as modified in ~~G.S. 105-134.6.~~G.S. 105-153.5.

(b) Nonresidents. – For a nonresident individual, the term "North Carolina taxable income" means the taxpayer's adjusted gross income as modified in ~~G.S. 105-134.6,~~

G.S. 105-153.5, multiplied by a fraction the denominator of which is the taxpayer's gross income as modified in ~~G.S. 105-134.6,~~ G.S. 105-153.5, and the numerator of which is the amount of that gross income, as modified, that is derived from North Carolina sources and is attributable to the ownership of any interest in real or tangible personal property in this State, is derived from a business, trade, profession, or occupation carried on in this State, or is derived from gambling activities in this State.

(c) Part-year Residents. – If an individual was a resident of this State for only part of the taxable year, having moved into or removed from the State during the year, the term "North Carolina taxable income" has the same meaning as in subsection (b) of this section except that the numerator includes adjusted gross income, as modified under ~~G.S. 105-134.6,~~ G.S. 105-153.5, derived from all sources during the period the individual was a resident.

(d) S Corporations and Partnerships. – In order to calculate the numerator of the fraction provided in subsection (b) of this section, the amount of a shareholder's pro rata share of S Corporation income that is includable in the numerator is the shareholder's pro rata share of the S Corporation's income attributable to the State, as defined in G.S. 105-131(b)(4). In order to calculate the numerator of the fraction provided in subsection (b) of this section for a member of a partnership or other unincorporated business that has one or more nonresident members and operates in one or more other states, the amount of the member's distributive share of income of the business that is includable in the numerator is determined by multiplying the total net income of the business by the ratio ascertained under the provisions of G.S. 105-130.4. As used in this subsection, total net income means the entire gross income of the business less all expenses, taxes, interest, and other deductions allowable under the Code that were incurred in the operation of the business.

(e) Tax Year. – A taxpayer must compute North Carolina taxable income on the basis of the taxable year used in computing the taxpayer's income tax liability under the Code."

SECTION 2.(e) Part 2 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes is amended by adding the following new sections to read:

(4) The amount excluded from gross income under section 199 of the Code.

(5) The amount required to be added under G.S. 105-153.6 when the State decouples from federal accelerated depreciation and expensing.

"§ 105-153.6. Adjustments when State decouples from federal accelerated depreciation and expensing.

(a) Special Accelerated Depreciation. – A taxpayer who places property in service during a taxable year listed in the table below and who takes a special accelerated depreciation deduction for that property under section 168(k) or 168(n) of the Code must add to the taxpayer's federal taxable income or adjusted gross income, as appropriate, eighty-five percent (85%) of the amount taken for that year under those Code provisions. For taxable years before 2013, the taxpayer must add the amount to the taxpayer's federal taxable income. For taxable year 2013 and after, the taxpayer must add the amount to the taxpayer's adjusted gross income.

A taxpayer is allowed to deduct twenty percent (20%) of the add-back in each of the first five taxable years following the year the taxpayer is required to include the add-back in income. The table below indicates the applicable five-year period.

Taxable Year of 85% Add-Back	Five Taxable Years of 20% Deduction
2010	2011 through 2015
2011	2012 through 2016
2012	2013 through 2017
2013	2014 through 2018

(b) 2009 Depreciation Exception. – A taxpayer who placed property in service during the 2009 taxable year and whose North Carolina taxable income for the 2009 taxable year reflected a special accelerated depreciation deduction allowed for the property under section 168(k) of the Code must add eighty-five percent (85%) of the amount of the special accelerated depreciation deduction to its federal taxable income for the 2010 taxable year. A taxpayer is allowed to deduct this add-back under subsection (a) of this section as if it were for property placed in service in 2010.

(c) Section 179 Expense. – For purposes of this subdivision, the definition of section 179 property has the same meaning as under section 179 of the Code as of January 1, 2011. A taxpayer who places section 179 property in service during a taxable year listed in the table below must add to the taxpayer's federal taxable income or adjusted gross income as appropriate, eighty-five percent (85%) of the amount by which the taxpayer's expense deduction under section 179 of the Code exceeds the amount that would have been allowed for that taxable year under section 179 of the Code as of May 1, 2010. For taxable years before 2013, the taxpayer must add the amount to the taxpayer's federal taxable income. For taxable year 2013 and after, the taxpayer must add the amount to the taxpayer's adjusted gross income.

A taxpayer is allowed to deduct twenty percent (20%) of the add-back in each of the first five taxable years following the year the taxpayer is required to include the add-back in income. The table in subsection (a) of this section indicates the applicable five-year period.

(d) Asset Basis. – The adjustments made in this section do not result in a difference in basis of the affected assets for State and federal income tax purposes.

"§ 105-153.7. Individual income tax imposed.

(a) Tax. – A tax is imposed for each taxable year on the North Carolina taxable income of an individual. The tax is six percent (6%) of the taxpayer's North Carolina taxable income that exceeds the zero tax bracket for the taxpayer's filing status. For purposes of Section 2 of Article V of the North Carolina Constitution, the zero tax bracket provides an exemption so that only net incomes are taxed.

The zero tax brackets are as follows:

(1) For married individuals who file a joint return under G.S. 105-153.8 and for surviving spouses, as defined in section 2(a) of the Code:

Over	Up To	Rate

0	$5,500	0.0%

(b) Indexed Brackets. – For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2016, the "Up To" zero tax bracket maximums that are set out in subsection (a) of this section are indexed for the taxable year in accordance with the cost-of-living adjustment used under section 1 of the Code to index the federal rate brackets for that taxable year. The indexed zero tax brackets determined under this subsection apply in lieu of the zero tax brackets set out in subsection (a) of this section. The Secretary must publish the zero tax brackets set under this subsection.

(c) Withholding Tables. – The Secretary may provide tables that compute the amount of tax due for a taxable year under this Part. The tables do not apply to an individual who files a return under section 443(a)(1) of the Code for a period of less than 12 months due to a change in the individual's annual accounting period, or to an estate or trust."

SECTION 2.(f) G.S. 105-152 and G.S. 105-151, recodified by this act as G.S. 105-153.8 and G.S. 105-153.9, read as rewritten:

"§ 105-153.8. Income tax returns.

(a) Who Must File. – The following individuals ~~shall~~ must file with the Secretary an income tax return under affirmation:

(b) Taxpayer Deceased or Unable to Make Return. – If ~~the~~ a taxpayer is unable to file ~~the~~ an income tax return, ~~the return shall be filed by~~ a duly authorized agent of the taxpayer or ~~by~~ a guardian or other person charged with the care of the person or property of the ~~taxpayer.~~taxpayer must file the return. If an individual who was required to file an income tax return for the taxable year while living has died before making the return, the administrator or executor of the estate ~~shall~~ must file the return in the decedent's name and behalf, and the tax ~~shall be levied upon and collected from~~is payable by the estate.

(c) Information Required With Return. – The income tax return ~~shall~~ must show the ~~taxable income and adjustments~~adjusted gross income and modifications required by this ~~Part~~ Part, and any other information the Secretary requires. The Secretary may require a taxpayer to provide the Department with copies of any other return the taxpayer has filed with the Internal Revenue Service and to verify any information in the return.

(d) Secretary May Require Additional Information. – When the Secretary has reason to believe that any taxpayer conducts a trade or business in a way that directly or indirectly distorts the taxpayer's ~~taxable income~~adjusted gross income or North Carolina taxable income, the Secretary may require any additional information for the proper computation of the taxpayer's ~~taxable income~~adjusted gross income and North Carolina taxable income. In computing the taxpayer's ~~taxable income~~adjusted gross income and North Carolina taxable income, the Secretary ~~shall~~ must consider the fair profit that would normally arise from the conduct of the trade or business.

(e) Joint Returns. – A husband and wife whose ~~federal taxable income~~adjusted gross income is determined on a joint federal return ~~shall~~ must file a single income tax return jointly if each spouse either is a resident of this State or has North Carolina taxable income and may file a single income tax return jointly if one spouse is not a resident and has no North Carolina taxable income. A husband and wife filing jointly are jointly and severally liable for the tax imposed by this Part reduced by the sum of all credits allowable including tax payments made by or on behalf of the husband and wife. However, if a spouse qualifies for relief of liability for federal tax attributable to a substantial understatement by the other spouse pursuant to section 6015 of the Code, that spouse is not liable for the corresponding tax imposed by this Part attributable to the same substantial understatement by the other spouse. A wife and husband filing jointly have expressly agreed that if the amount of the payments made by them with respect to the taxes for which they are liable, including withheld and estimated taxes, exceeds the total of the taxes due, refund of the excess may be made payable to both spouses jointly or, if either is deceased, to the survivor alone.

(3) Receipts showing the payment of income taxes to another state or country and a true copy of a return or returns upon the basis of which the taxes are assessed shall be filed with the Secretary when the credit is claimed. (b) If any taxes paid to another state or country for which a taxpayer has been allowed a credit under this section are at any time credited or refunded to the taxpayer, a tax equal to that portion of the credit allowed for the taxes so credited or refunded is due and payable from the taxpayer and is subject to the penalties and interest provided in Subchapter I of this Chapter."

"§ 105-114.3. Nature of tax.

This Article imposes a privilege tax on a business entity for the privilege of doing business in this State in an organizational form that confers limited liability on one or more owners of the entity. The tax is an accrued tax and is imposed for the exercise of this privilege during the period covered by a tax return. Payment of the tax imposed by this Article is a condition precedent to the right to do business in this State and, for a business entity that is organized or formed in this State, to the right to continue in the entity's organizational form. When a noncorporate business entity is doing business in this State, each owner of the noncorporate business entity is doing business in this State.

"§ 105-114.4. Business privilege tax imposed.

(a) Rate. – An annual privilege tax is imposed on a business entity doing business in this State at the rate of one dollar ($1.25) per one thousand dollars ($1,000) of the higher of the business entity's adjusted net worth tax base, determined in accordance with G.S. 105-114.5, and the business entity's investment tax base, determined in accordance with G.S. 105-114.6. The tax payable by a business entity may not be less than two hundred dollars ($200.00). The tax payable by a holding company may not be more than seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000).

After the end of the taxable year in which a business entity is dissolved, the entity is no longer subject to the tax levied in this Article unless the Secretary finds that the entity has engaged in business activities in this State not appropriate to winding up and liquidating its business.

"§ 105-114.5. Adjusted net worth tax base.

The net worth of a business entity is the entity's total assets less its total liabilities, computed in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles as of the end of the entity's taxable year. If the entity does not maintain its books and records in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, then its net worth is computed in accordance with the accounting method used by the entity for federal tax purposes so long as the method fairly reflects the entity's net worth for purposes of the tax levied by this section. A business entity's net worth is subject to the following adjustments:

(1) A deduction for accumulated depreciation and amortization is determined in accordance with the method used for federal tax purposes.

(2) An addition for indebtedness the business entity owes to a parent, a subsidiary, or an affiliate. The amount added back to the business entity's net worth may be further adjusted as follows:

a. If part of the capital of the creditor business entity is capital borrowed from a source other than a parent, a subsidiary, or an affiliate, the debtor business entity may deduct a proportionate part of the indebtedness based on the ratio of the borrowed capital of the creditor business entity to the total assets of the creditor business entity.

b. If part of the capital of the creditor business entity consists of indebtedness owed to a parent, a subsidiary, or an affiliate that is directly traceable to capital borrowed from a source other than a parent, a subsidiary, or an affiliate, the debtor business entity may deduct a proportionate part of the indebtedness based on the ratio of the borrowed capital of the creditor business entity to the total assets of the creditor business entity.

c. If the creditor business entity is taxable under this Article, the creditor business entity may deduct the indebtedness from its net worth to the extent the debtor business entity was not allowed to deduct the indebtedness.

(3) A corporation may deduct the cost of treasury stock.

"§ 105-114.6. Investment tax base.

The investment tax base of a business entity is the entity's investment in real and tangible personal property in this State as of the end of the entity's taxable year. A business entity's investment in property is the original purchase price of or consideration for the property subject to the following adjustments:

(1) A deduction for depreciation or amortization is determined in accordance with the method used for federal tax purposes.

(2) The addition of improvements to the property.

(3) A deduction for indebtedness on the property or on an improvement to the property.

(4) For a business entity allowed a tax credit under Article 3E of this Chapter, a deduction for the value of the property for which the credit is allowed.

"§ 105-114.7. Exclusions in calculating tax.

(a) Disregarded LLC. – A single member limited liability company whose single member is a corporation is disregarded under this Article if it is disregarded for federal income tax purposes. The corporation that is the single member of the disregarded limited liability company must include the net worth and property of the disregarded limited liability company in the corporation's tax base.

(b) No Tax Tiering. – A noncorporate business entity's ownership interest in another noncorporate business entity that is taxable under this Article is excluded in determining the owner's net worth under G.S. 105-114.5.

(c) Investment Companies. – The following exclusions apply to investment companies in determining their tax liability under this Article:

(1) A regulated investment company may deduct the value of its investments in stocks, bonds, debentures, or other securities or evidences of debt. A regulated investment company is an entity that qualifies as a regulated investment company under section 851 of the Code.

(2) A REIT may deduct the value of its investments in real property, unless the REIT is a captive REIT. The terms "REIT" and "captive REIT" have the same meanings as defined in G.S. 105-130.12.

(3) A venture capital company may deduct the value of its capital under management. A venture capital company is an entity whose purpose is to provide financing for start-up businesses and that obtains the capital it uses to provide financing only from investors who are accredited investors under 17 C.F.R. § 230.215 or are institutional investors.

(d) Short Year Adjustment. – A business entity that changes its taxable year and files a "short period" income tax return may deduct from its tax liability computed on an annual basis the amount of tax previously paid that is applicable to the period subsequent to the beginning of the new taxable year.

"§ 105-114.8. Determination of ownership after certain transfers.

(a) Transfers by Corporations. – Ownership of the capital interests in a noncorporate business entity is determined as of the last day of the business entity's taxable year. If a noncorporate business entity and a corporation or an affiliated group have engaged in a pattern of transferring assets between them with the result that each did not own the capital interest on the last day of its taxable year, the ownership of the capital interests in the noncorporate business entity must be determined as of the last day of the corporation's or group of corporations' taxable year.

(b) Tax-Free Distribution. – If a noncorporate business entity receives from a person a tax-free contribution of assets under section 721 of the Code within 120 days after making a tax-free distribution of assets to that person under section 732 of the Code with the result that the business entity did not own the capital interests on the last day of its taxable year, the assets that were distributed tax-free are considered owned by the business entity as of the last day of its taxable year.

"§ 105-114.9. Apportionment by multistate business entities.

A business entity that is doing business in this State and in one or more other states must apportion its net worth to this State. A corporation that is subject to income tax under Article 4 of this Chapter must use the fraction it applies in apportioning its income under that Article. A business entity that is not subject to income tax under Article 4 of this Chapter must apportion its net worth by using the fraction it would be required to apply in apportioning its income if it were subject to that Article. A business entity that believes this apportionment method subjects a greater portion of its net worth to tax under this section than is attributable to its business in this State may make a written request to the Secretary for permission to use an alternative method of apportionment, in the same manner as provided in G.S. 105-130.4(t1).

"§ 105-114.10. Return and payment.

The tax imposed by G.S. 105-114.4 is due when a return is due. A return is due on or before the fifteenth day of the fourth month following the end of the business entity's income year. A taxpayer may ask the Secretary for an extension of time to file a return under G.S. 105-263. A business entity must file a return under affirmation with the Secretary at the place and in the manner prescribed by the Secretary. The return must be signed by the president, vice president, treasurer, or chief financial officer of the business entity.

"§ 105-116.2. Distribution in lieu of local privilege license tax.

(a) Findings. – The General Assembly finds that the authority formerly given to cities to levy local privilege license taxes led to inequities in taxation among entities engaged in the same business in different locations as well as among entities engaged in different types of business in the same location. The General Assembly further finds that numerous cities rely on local privilege license tax revenue. This section replaces local privilege license tax revenue with a portion of the State business privilege tax.

(b) Distribution. – Each fiscal year the Secretary must distribute to cities the net proceeds of tax collected in the preceding calendar year under G.S. 105-114.4 at the rate of ten cents ($0.10) per one thousand dollars ($1,000). The Secretary must distribute one-fourth of this amount within 75 days after the end of each calendar quarter. The Secretary must distribute the amount on a per capita basis according to the most recent annual population estimates certified by the State Budget Officer. The share of each city is its proportionate per capita share of the amount set in the following table for the city's population category.

City Population	Share of Net Proceeds
Up to 100,000	10%
Over 100,000 but less than 200,000	18%
Over 200,000	72%

(c) Local Revenue. – The General Assembly finds that the revenue distributed under this section is local revenue, not a State expenditure, for the purpose of Section 5(3) of Article III of the North Carolina Constitution. Therefore, the Governor may not reduce or withhold the distribution.

"§ 105-116.3. Compensating privilege tax on seller that is not a registered retailer.

(a) Tax. – An annual privilege tax is imposed on a person who sells tangible personal property, digital property, or services at retail to a consumer, as defined in G.S. 105-164.3, and who meets both of the following descriptions:

(1) The person is not registered as a retailer under Article 5 of this Chapter.

(2) The person reported gross sales of at least five million dollars ($5,000,000) on its most recent federal income tax return.

(b) Rate and Scope. – The tax is a percentage of the retailer's gross receipts derived from sales within this State. The percentage rate of the tax is the same as the combined rate under G.S. 105-164.3. This tax is in addition to the tax imposed by G.S. 105-114.4. The tax is payable in the same manner as provided in G.S. 105-114.10.

(c) Noncompliance. – A debt owed to a person that does not comply with this section is not collectible and is not subject to execution under Article 28 of Chapter 1 of the General Statutes or any other provision of law. (2) Is not subject to regulation by the North Carolina Utilities Commission.

(3) Received at least five million dollars ($5,000,000) in gross receipts during the preceding calendar year from its sales of electric power.

(b) Rate. – The tax is a percentage of the person's gross receipts derived from sales of electric power produced by use of the State's public waters. The percentage rate of the tax is the same as the combined rate under G.S. 105-164.3. This tax is in addition to the tax imposed by G.S. 105-114.4. The tax is payable in the same manner as provided in G.S. 105-114.10.

"§ 105-125.1. Exempt business entities.

A business entity listed in this section is exempt from the privilege tax imposed by G.S. 105-114.4 unless it has unrelated business income. A business entity that is listed in this section and has unrelated business income is subject to the tax imposed by G.S. 105-114.4 on its adjusted net worth or property attributable to its unrelated business income. Upon request of the Secretary, an exempt business entity must establish its claim for exemption in writing. The exempt entities are:

(1) A business entity exempt from federal income tax under the Code.

(2) An insurance company subject to tax under Article 8B of this Chapter.

(3) A single member limited liability company that is disregarded for federal income tax purposes if the single member is a corporation and the disregarded limited liability company's net worth and property is included in that of its single member.

(4) A real estate mortgage investment conduit, as defined in section 860D of the Code."

SECTION 4.1.(d) Notwithstanding G.S. 105-116.2, as enacted by this section, for fiscal year 2014-2015, the Secretary must distribute forty-five million dollars ($45,000,000) to cities in accordance with the distribution formula in that statute.

SENATE BILL 394:
Lower Tax Rates for a Stronger NC Economy

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Ref to Finance. If fav, re-ref to Appropriations/Base Budget	Date:	April 3, 2013
Introduced by:	Sens. Clodfelter, Hartsell, Jenkins, Meredith	Prepared by:	Finance Team
Analysis of:	PCS to Second Edition S394-CSSVx-9

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 394 makes substantial changes to the tax code by lowering all of the major rates and by broadening the base. The PCS makes several changes to the bill, but the primary changes include addressing the local distribution of revenues and moving to a single sales factor apportionment formula for corporate income and franchise tax.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Part I. Statement of Findings and Purpose

These statements explain the reason tax reform is needed and establish economic development as the primary goal of the legislation. The goal is accomplished by applying the basic broad base/low rate principle of tax policy to lower all major tax rates.

Part II. Individual Income Tax

This Part simplifies the calculation and administration of the individual income tax laws. It significantly broadens the base and lowers the rate. Currently, there are three income tax brackets – 6%, 7%, and 7.75%. Under the bill, there would be a flat 6% tax rate on taxable income.[1] It broadens the base by eliminating most of the credits and deductions allowed under current law. It substitutes a zero percent tax bracket in place of personal exemptions and itemized/standard deductions. The only credits against the tax imposed are a personal credit, a credit for children, and a credit for charitable contributions. The key changes may be found in subsections (e) and (g) of this Part.

Bill Section	Brief Description
Section 2(a)	This Part reorganizes the individual income tax Article. In so doing, this subsection recodifies several of the administrative statutes: short title, purpose, definitions, definition of taxable income, credit for income taxes paid to another state (to prevent double taxation), and income tax returns.
Section 2(b)	• Repeals obsolete statutes: 105-134.7, transitional adjustments from 1989 tax law changes; 105-134.8, a hold-over re: inventories from the pre-1989 tax law; and 105-151.20, a tax credit for federal retirees for taxes paid on income for years 1985-1988. • Repeals statutes, whose contents are incorporated into other newly created statutes: 105-134.2, income tax imposed; 105-134.3, year of assessment; and 105-134.6, adjustments to AGI. Those adjustments include the deductibility of Social Security income above the amount allowed to be deducted for federal income tax purposes, the deductibility of retirement income up to $2,000 for private plans and $4,000 for governmental plans, and the deductibility of itemized deductions. • Repeals the following tax credits that do not have a sunset and that are only applicable to individual income tax: child care credit, credit for the disabled, credit for taxes paid on farm machinery, child credit, credit for charitable contributions made by non-itemizers, and credit for education expenses.

Section 2(c)	Repeals the definitions for educational institution and retirement benefits. Current law allows a deduction for interest paid on obligations of a nonprofit educational institution and for a portion of a person's retirement benefits. Both of these deductions are eliminated in the bill.
Section 2(d)	Changes the statutory references to reflect the statutes in the bill.
Section 2(e)	• Makes significant changes to the individual income tax law by greatly reducing the number of adjustments that must be made to determine NC taxable income, by providing a zero percent bracket as a substitute for personal exemptions and standard or itemized deductions, and by imposing a flat tax of 6% on all income above the zero percent tax bracket. • To determine NC taxable income, the only adjustments a person would make to AGI are as follows: o Those required to be made by federal law or North Carolina court order – amounts received under the Railroad Retirement Act, income derived from a federally recognized Indian tribe, and pension income received to the extent the amount is exempt under the Bailey decision. o Those generally accepted as long-standing practice – interest on federal and State obligations. o Those designed to prevent double taxation – refunds of income taxes. o Those to conform to legislative decisions to decouple from federal income tax law. • The tax brackets eliminate the marriage penalty. • The tax brackets provide a zero percent rate on income up to $11,000 for MFJ, $8,800 for heads of household, and $5,500 for other filers. • The zero percent bracket is indexed each year the same as the federal tax brackets are indexed to prevent "bracket creep" through inflation.
Section 2(f)	Makes technical and conforming changes.
Section 2(g)	Provides the following tax credits: • A personal tax credit of at least $200 is allowed to each taxpayer. The credit may not exceed $800. The amount of the credit is equal to 0.6% of the taxpayer's AGI less the amount of the zero tax bracket. • A child tax credit is allowed to each taxpayer who is allowed a federal child tax credit. The amount of the credit varies from $450 per child to $0 depending upon the taxpayer's AGI. Under current law, the child tax credit is $100 and is available to taxpayers whose AGI is less than $100,000. Under this bill, the credit amount is $450 for taxpayers whose AGI is less than $110,000; $200 for taxpayers whose AGI is between $110,000 and $200,000; and $0 for taxpayers whose AGI is over $200,000. • A tax credit for charitable contributions that may be deducted under federal law. The credit is equal to 6% of the amount deductible under federal law, not to exceed $600.
Section 2(h)	Provides that a taxpayer may not be penalized for the underpayment of income tax for the 2015 taxable year to the extent the underpayment is created or increased by this act.

Section 2(i)	Provides the changes to the individual income tax laws become effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2015.

Part III. Corporate Income Tax

This Part makes two significant policy changes to the corporate income tax laws. First, it sets the corporate income tax rate at the same flat rate imposed on individuals – 6% – to ensure that all business entities are taxed at the same rate, regardless of whether they are organized as corporations, limited liability entities, partnerships, or sole proprietors.[2] Secondly, it moves from an apportionment formula that is based 20% upon sales to one based 75% upon sales.[3] This method of apportionment provides a tax reduction to a corporation with relatively large shares of its nationwide property and payroll in North Carolina but a relatively small share of its nationwide sales in North Carolina. This Part also broadens the corporate tax base by eliminating many deductions and credits and by requiring corporations to report interest expenses as income.

Bill Section	Brief Description
Section 3(a)	Reduces rate from 6.9 to 6%.
Section 3(b)	Signals the intent of the General Assembly to increase the weighting of the sales factor in the apportionment formula until it is the only factor.
Section 3(c)	Increases the weight of the sales factor from 2 (2 of 4) to 6 (6 of 8).
Section 3(d)	Conforms the interest expense deduction for financial institutions to federal law. Adds a cross-reference to the add-backs for accelerated depreciation adjustments.
Section 3(e)	Adds a cross-reference to the deductions for the add-backs for accelerated depreciation adjustments.
Section 3(f)	Repeals add-backs for prior accelerated depreciation because they are obsolete or moved to new 105-130.5B.
Section 3(g)	Repeals the following deductions: • Deduction for interest on obligations of nonprofit educational institution [105-130.5(b)(1a)b]. • Depreciation deductions because obsolete [105-130.5(b)(7) and (21)] or moved to new 105-130.5B [105-130.5(b)(21a), (21b), and (26)]. • Obsolete deductions for payments received as a result of prior hurricanes [105-130.5(b)(19), (22)]. • Deduction for part of proceeds from sale of manufactured home community [105-130.5(b)(24)].
Section 3(h)	Gathers the provisions on add-backs and deductions for accelerated depreciation into a new section for ease of understanding but does not change the substance of the provisions.
Section 3(i)	Expands the royalty reporting option to include interest expense as well as royalty payments.
Section 3(j)	Repeals the credits listed below, which do not have a sunset. The repeal of credits in this section and any other section of the bill does not affect installments or

[2] The rates in the surrounding states are as follows: GA - 6%; SC -5 %; TN – 6.5%; VA - 6%.

[3] Eighteen states, including NC, use a double-weighted sales apportionment formula. At least 15 states use a single sales factor apportionment formula. It appears GA uses single sales; VA, SC, TN, and FL appear to use double-weighted sales. NC enacted single sales factor apportionment for "capital intensive companies" in 2010 at the request of Apple.

	carryforwards of credits for which the taxpayer qualified before the credit was repealed. o Constructing dwelling for handicapped persons (105-130.22 and 105-151.1) o Constructing cogenerating power plant (105-130.25) o Donating real property (105-130.34 and 105-151.12) o Purchasing conservation tillage equipment (105-130.36 and 105-151.13) o Gleaning crops (105-130.37 and 105-151.14) o Savings and loan supervisory fees (105-130.43) o Constructing poultry composting facility (105-130.44 and 105-151.25)
Section 3(k)	• Repeals the add-back for credits as part of simplification (105-130.5(a)(10) • Makes a conforming change to the repeal of the credit for donating to a nonprofit that acquires renewable energy property and repeals the add-back of the credit amount (105-130.5(a)(20))
Section 3(l)	Extends the sunset on the low-income housing credit from 2015 to 2020.
Section 3(m)	Extends the sunset on the research and development credit from 2014 to 2020.
Section 3(n)	Sets tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2014 as the effective date for the changes made in Section 3.

Part IV. Franchise Tax

This Part replaces the current franchise tax with a business privilege license tax applicable to all business entities that enjoy limited liability protections so that all business entities with limited liability are treated the same, regardless of whether they are organized as corporations or limited liability entities. By broadening the tax base to include more business entities, the Part is able to reduce the tax rate. This Part also repeals the annual report filing fee.

Bill Section	Brief Description
Section 4.1(a)	Renames the Franchise Tax the Business Privilege Tax.
Section 4.1(b)	Repeals various franchise tax statutes that are incorporated in the rewritten statutes in Section 4.1(c). G.S. 105-116 and 105-116.1 are repealed in Section 5.3(a) of the bill.
Section 4.1(c)	Modifies the franchise tax to: • Lower the rate from $1.50 to $1.25 per $1,000. • Increase the minimum rate from $35 to $200. • Apply to all entities that enjoy limited liability. • Eliminate the 55% of appraised property base. • Simplify the calculation of the tax by eliminating differences in GAAP accounting and the determination of the net worth base. • Specify when indebtedness owed to a parent, a subsidiary, or an affiliate can be deducted. • Prevent tax tiering by allowing a noncorporate entity to exclude its ownership interest in another noncorporate entity that is subject to the tax (105-114.7(b)). • Provide exclusions for regulated investment companies, REITs, and venture capital companies (105-114.7(c)). • Impose compensating privilege taxes at the State sales tax rate on nonregistered retailers and on nonregulated companies that produce electric power using public waters.

	• Provide revenue to cities each year in lieu of local privilege license taxes in an amount equal to a tax of .10 per $1,000 (approximately $45 million dollars). To make the distribution, cities are grouped in three population categories and varying percentages of the "in lieu" amount are distributed to cities in each category on a per capita basis.
Section 4.1(d)	Sets the initial distribution amount under new 105-116.2, which provides revenue to cities in lieu of local privilege license taxes, at $45 million.
Section 4.1(e)	Sets effective date of franchise tax changes as January 1, 2015 and applies to taxes payable in that year.
Section 4.2(a)	Eliminates the annual report fee for corporations.
Section 4.2(b)	Rewrites the annual report statute to eliminate the role of the Department of Revenue in receiving the annual report or approving the annual report form and reorganizes statute for clarity.
Section 4.2(c)	Eliminates $200 annual report fee for limited liability companies.
Section 4.2(d)	Eliminates $200 annual report fee for limited partnership.
Section 4.2(e)	Eliminates $200 annual report fee for limited liability limited partnership.
Section 4.2(f)	Makes conforming change to repeal the annual report fee credit for LLC taxed as corporation, which is no longer needed if there is no annual report fee.
Section 4.2(g)	Makes conforming change to elimination of annual report fee.
Section 4.2(h)	Makes conforming change to elimination of annual report fee by repealing statute specifying how to account for the fees.
Section 4.2(i)	Deletes reference to annual report fee.
Section 4.2(j)	Sets effective date of repeal of annual report fee at January 1, 2015.

Part V. Sales Tax

This Part begins to balance the State's tax structure to one more equally balanced between sales tax, individual income tax, and business taxes. The State's current tax structure relies heavily upon the individual income tax and 20% of the State's General Fund revenue comes from volatile sources of income, the corporate income tax and the non-withholding portion of the individual income tax. To provide greater stability to the State's revenue structure, this Part shifts a greater share of the revenue stream to a broad-base tax on consumption of both goods and services. As the base is broadened, the bill reduces the State rate from 4.75% to 4%.

Bill Section	Brief Description
Section 5.1(a)	Repeals exemptions for nutritional supplements sold by chiropractors (13c), newspapers (28), vending machine items (30) and (50), advertising supplements (36), and components of free circulation publications (39).
Section 5.1(b)	Sets the effective date for the repeal of these exemptions as July 1, 2013.

Section 5.3(d)	Preserves the prohibition on local privilege taxes on electric power companies between the date the State franchise tax on these companies is repealed (January 1, 2014) and the date the general authority for cities to impose privilege taxes is repealed (July 1, 2014, under Section 6.3(b) of bill).
Section 5.3(e)	Makes repeal of special taxes on electric companies and piped gas effective January 1, 2014.
Section 5.4(a)	Adds several definitions to the sales tax statutes and makes technical changes to two sales tax definitions. The added definitions are: • Alteration, repair, maintenance, cleaning, and installation services for tangible personal property (new (1c)). The items in this definition become subject to sales tax. • Capital equipment (new (2b)). The substance of this definition is the same as in several existing exclusions or exemptions. • Datacenter equipment (new (5e). These are warranty and maintenance contracts for tangible personal property. • Short-term lease or rental (new 38(d)). Cross-references the definition used in the highway use tax, under which short-term is less than a year. Definition is applied to lease or rental of storage unit by the military. The definitions that are amended to make technical changes are: • Combined general rate (4a). Changes the terminology from combined general rate to combined rate, but substance the same. • Retailer (35). Adds a reference to sellers at flea markets. This provision is currently in 105-164.4(a)(4b).

Under new 105-164.4(a)(d), the sale of a manufactured home will be treated as a sale of real property with the result that the sale of the home is not subject to sales tax but the purchase of the items used in manufacturing the home are subject to sales tax. o The 3%, $1,500 cap rate on boats and aircraft in current 105-164.4(a)(1b). These sales become exempt under revised 105-164.13(10) in Section 5.7(c).

The digital property category, other than computer software, is currently taxable under 105-164.4(a)(6b). The exemptions for computer software in 105-164.13(43), (43a), and (43b) apply. ○ Service contracts for tangible personal property (new 105-164.4(b)(5)a.) ○ Alteration, repair, maintenance, cleaning, and installation of tangible personal property (new 105-164.4(b)(5)b.) ○ Short-term lease or rental of a mini-warehouse or other self-storage space, clothing storage, boat storage or docking, aircraft storage (new 105-164.4(b)(5)c. ○ Entertainment and recreation – see explanation of new 105-164.4F in Section 5.4(d). • Recodifies but does not change tax on accommodations, prepaid telephone service, satellite radio, telecommunications service and ancillary service, video programming, and liquor.

The section also revises numerous sales tax exemptions allowed various industries to exempt only capital equipment and to make items used to construct real property taxable.

Part VI. Privilege License Taxes

This Part eliminates State and local privilege taxes imposed on various business entities. In 1995, the Revenue Laws Study Committee found that the privilege license tax structure was outmoded, inefficient, and not designed on proper principles of taxation such as tax fairness, ability to pay, responsiveness to growth, or administrative cost. Chapter 14 of the 1996 Session Laws, Second Extra Session, repealed most of the State privilege license taxes imposed under Article 2 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes. The Revenue Laws Study Committee has studied the elimination of the remaining State privilege license taxes and reform of the provisions governing local privilege license taxes several times, but no statutory changes have been enacted since that time. The result is a system of taxation that applies only to a limited portion of businesses or the work force and that has a different and inconsistent tax rate for each different class of business. Consequently, the tax has become more of a nuisance tax than a properly designed source of revenue. The bill also provides a source of replacement revenue for cities from a portion of the new business license tax (See p. 16, new G.S. 105-116.2).

Bill Section	Brief Description
Section 6.1(a)	Repeals State privilege license taxes imposed on attorneys and other professionals (105-41), installment paper dealers (105-83), loan agencies (105-88), banks (105-102.3), and newspapers (105-102.6).
Section 6.1(b)	Sets January 1, 2014 as the effective date for repeal of the enumerated privilege license taxes.
Section 6.2	Repeals local alcoholic beverage privilege license taxes imposed in Article 2C of Chapter 105 but retains the requirement to obtain a local license. Taxes apply to holders of State beer and wine permits.
Section 6.2(a)	Deletes reference to local ABC taxes in title to Article 2C.
Section 6.2(b)	Deletes statement of purpose for local ABC license taxes.
Section 6.2(c)	Deletes requirement to pay license tax before obtaining local ABC license.
Section 6.2(d)	Deletes schedule of city beer and wine privilege license taxes.
Section 6.2(e)	Deletes schedule of county beer and wine privilege license taxes.
Section 6.2(f)	Deletes authorization for cities and counties to impose a tax on beer and wine wholesalers.
Section 6.2(g)	Sets May 1 (due date of annual payment of local ABC privilege tax) of 2014 as effective date of repeal.
Section 6.3	Repeals the authority for cities and counties to impose privilege license taxes, effective July 1, 2014.
Section 6.3(a)	Repeals the authority for counties to levy a local privilege license tax on the listed businesses; these businesses were subject to State privilege license taxes imposed until the 1980s. Counties do not have general authority to impose a privilege license tax.
Section 6.3(b)	Repeals the authority for cities to levy a local privilege license tax. Cities now have general authority to do so, subject to a hodgepodge of limitations and restrictions stemming from State privilege license taxes imposed until the 1980s.

Section 6.3(c)	Sets July 1, 2014 as the effective date for repeal of the authority to impose local privilege license taxes.
Section 6.4	Eliminates the discounts now allowed two types of taxpayers when paying their taxes, effective July 1, 2014.
Section 6.4(a)	Repeals the 2% discount allowed to cigarette distributors when paying the cigarette excise tax.
Section 6.4(b)	Repeals the 2% discount allowed to sellers of tobacco products other than cigarettes when paying the excise tax on those products.
Section 6.4(c)	Repeals the 2% discount allowed to beer and wine wholesalers and importers when paying the excise tax on beer and wine.
Section 6.4(d)	Sets July 1, 2014, as the effective date for the repeal of the discounts.

Part VII. Replace Local Distributions with Expanded Local Sales Tax Base

This Part recognizes that the expansion of the sales and use tax base will increase local sales and use tax revenue and eliminate the need for the current level of State tax revenues distributed to local governments. This Part reduces and simplifies the commingling of revenues as far as is practicable.

Bill Section	Brief Description
Section 7.1(a)	Repeals the annual distribution to cities and counties of part of the State excise taxes on beer and wine.
Section 7.1(b)	Deletes a reference to the beer and wine distribution repealed by Section 7.1.
Section 7.1(c)	Sets July 1, 2014 as the effective date of the repeal of the distribution of beer and wine tax revenue. Distribution is made in May of each year.
Section 7.2(a)	Repeals the local "sales tax adjustment" formula by which revenue allocated to a county on a per capita basis from the second half cent tax is increased or decreased based on sales in 1987.
Section 7.2(b)	Sets January 1, 2014 as the effective date of the repeal of the sales tax adjustment formula.
Section 7.3(a)	Reduces the county Medicaid Hold-Harmless by 50% for the 2013-2014 fiscal year.
Section 7.3(b)	Repeals the county Medicaid Hold-Harmless effective for the 2014-2015 fiscal year.
Section 7.3(c)	Sets effective dates of changes made by Section 7.3.
Section 7.4(a)	Repeals the distribution of corporate income tax revenue to the Public School Building Capital Fund. No distribution of corporate income tax has been made to that Fund since the 2008-09 fiscal year.
Section 7.4(b)	Repeals the county distribution method that applies to revenue credited to the Public School Building Capital Fund from corporate income tax revenue.
Section 7.4(c)	Sets effective date for repeal of allocation to Public School Fund. The last distribution is to be made in the final quarter of fiscal year 2013-2014.

Part VIII. Transitional Provisions

Bill Section	Brief Description
Section 8(a)	Gives the Secretary of Revenue the authority to compromise a sales tax liability if the tax is owed on an item or service included by this act in the sales tax base and the person liable for the tax made a good faith effort to comply with the law. Effective for liabilities incurred before January 1, 2024.
Section 8(b)	Directs the Revenue Laws Study Committee to study the fiscal impact of the changes made by the act, with particular attention to the application of the expanded State business tax, the impact on local governments, and the remaining methods by which the State shares revenue with local governments.

Section 8(c)	Preserves rights of taxpayers and State under taxes repealed by the act.
Section 8(d)	Makes transitional provisions effective when the bill becomes law and sets an expiration date of January 1, 2024 for the Secretary's authority to compromise a sales tax liability on items made taxable by this act.

Parts IX through XIII. Conforming Changes

These Parts make numerous technical and conforming changes to statutes affected by the substantive changes made in Parts II through VIII of the act. The statutes that require conforming changes are generally set out in their numerical order in Chapter 105.

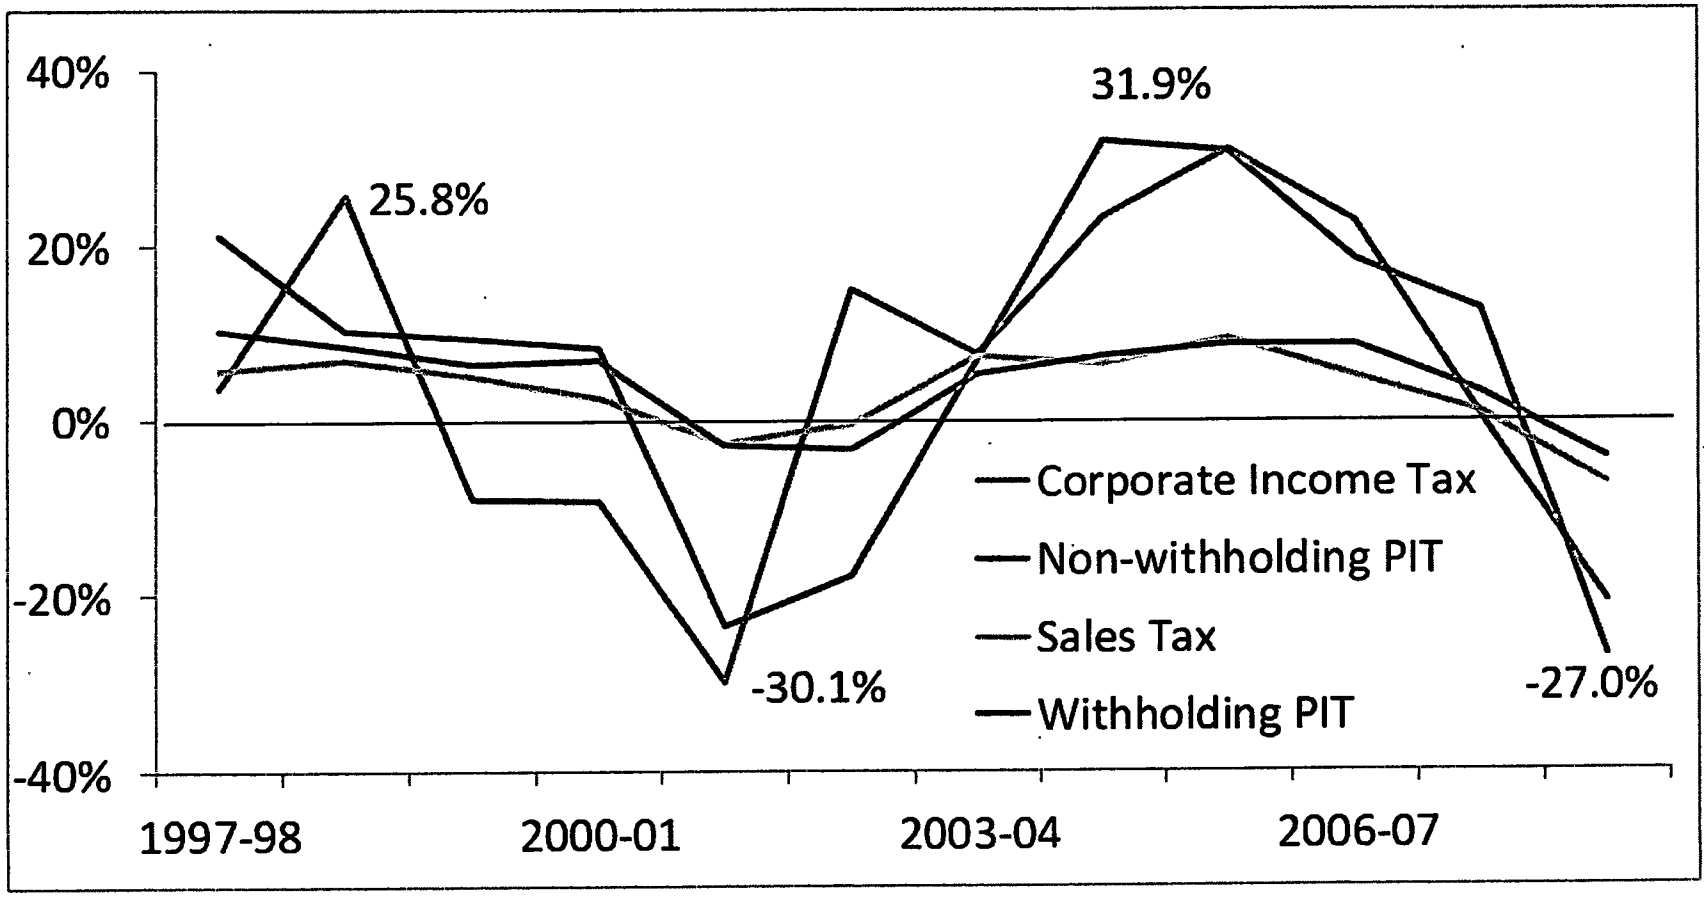
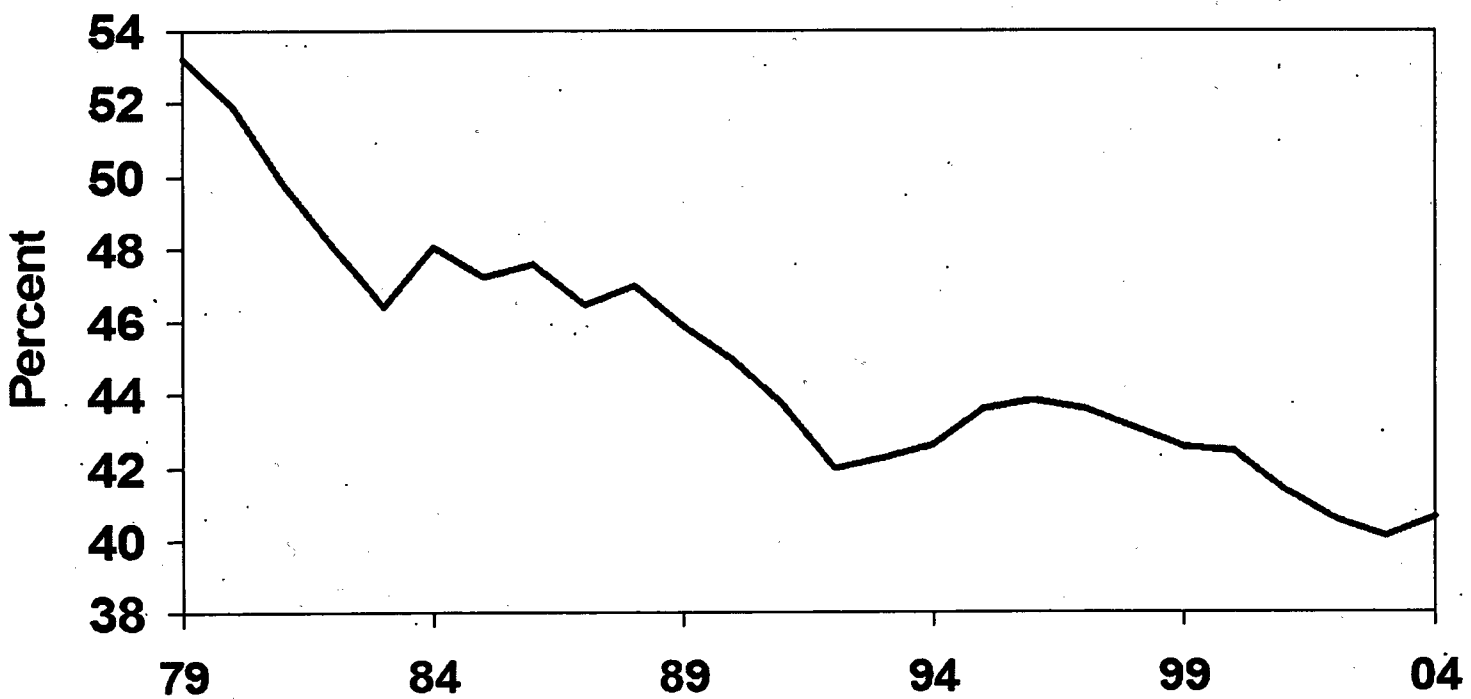
Growth & Stability

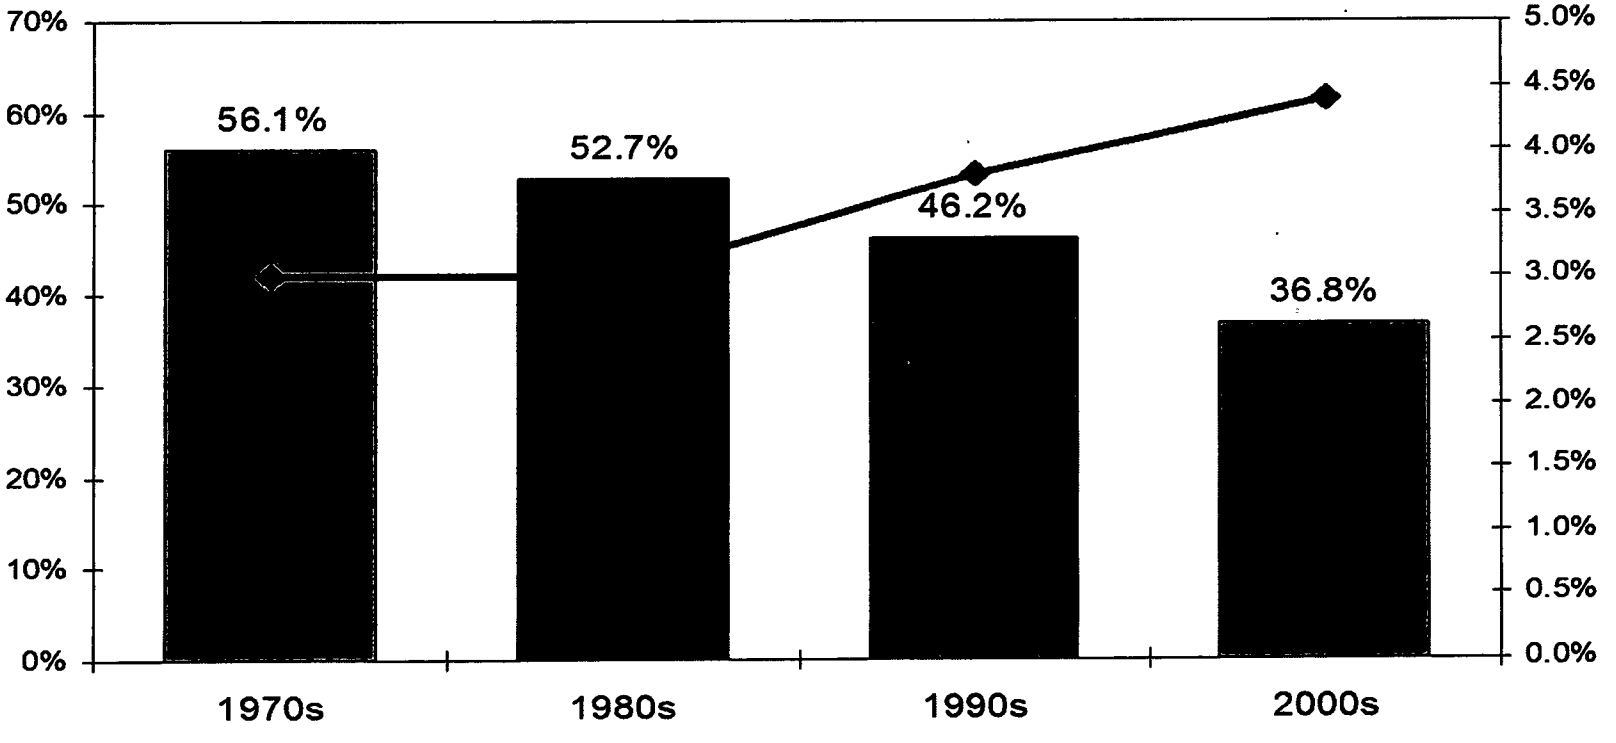


20% of General Fund revenue comes from two volatile sources: CIT & non-withholding portion of the PIT

Sales Tax Base Is Shrinking as Percentage of Total Economy



The Sales Tax Base



Due to shifts in consumption and an eroded base, the State rate has increased from 3% to 4.75%. Despite the rate increase, sales tax as a share of GF revenue has declined.

Just the Facts:

Key Concerns with Senate Bill 394

BUDGET & TAX CENTER FACT SHEET

April, 2013

The first legislation of the 2013 legislative session to overhaul the state's tax code—Senate Bill 394, entitled "Lower Tax Rates for a Stronger NC Economy"— was filed by Senators Clodfelter, Hartsell, Jenkins and Meredith in March. This bill proposes changes to the personal, corporate, franchise and sales taxes, with the overall goal of achieving revenue neutrality by eliminating exemptions and loopholes and lowering all rates.

Here are some of our key concerns with this legislation:

The bottom 80 percent of taxpayers would pay slightly more on average in taxes while the top 1 percent would get a tax cut.

Primarily because the plan relies on a broader sales tax to make up for the revenue lost from the personal and corporate income tax changes (as well as other business tax changes), the bottom 80% of taxpayers would actually pay slightly more on average while the top 1% would see a tax cut on average under the plan.

Of those in the top 1 percent of taxpayers, 87 percent would receive a tax cut while just 35 percent of those in the bottom 20 percent would see their tax contributions reduced as a result of personal income tax changes. Overall, the bottom 80 percent of taxpayers would experience a slight tax increase, failing to address the already upside-down nature of the tax system.

A zero tax bracket is no substitute for a refundable Earned Income Tax Credit.

A zero tax bracket benefits all taxpayers, providing a costly way to reach low- and moderate-income families. The slight cut in the sales tax rate and the 0% bracket are not enough to offset the greater reliance on the sales tax to make up for lost revenue from personal income tax changes. Maintaining a refundable Earned Income Tax Credit would be the best way to ensure low- and moderate-income working families are not negatively impacted under the plan.

Cutting the personal income tax rate is unlikely to generate improved economic growth.

Adopting a flat rate and cutting the personal income tax rate is unlikely to generate improved economic growth as promised in the bill title and preface. Research shows that such an approach has not delivered returns to the states that have pursued such an approach. The loss of a progressive rate structure can hinder the ability of the tax system to grow with the economy and thus for the state to adequately meet long-term investment needs in key areas.

Opportunities exist to improve this legislation.

The legislation includes a number of base-broadening measures which represent positive steps towards reform. Moreover, there are ways in which the impact on low- and middle-income taxpayers can be addressed through less costly tax changes. We welcome the opportunity to work with bill sponsors and others on tax reform.

Testimony on Senate Bill 394
Alexandra Forter Sirota, Budget & Tax Center

- Thank you Mr. Chair and members of the committee. My name is Alexandra Sirota and I am Director at the Budget & Tax Center.

- We are grateful for the chance to make comments on this bill. I would like to start by saying how appreciative we are of the comprehensive approach taken with this legislation and the clear effort that was taken to address the upside-down nature of the tax system.

- We have produced a more complete analysis of this legislation that we will hand around to everyone. But there are three main points of concern that we have with Senate Bill 394 that I would like to highlight in my brief remarks.

- First, the bottom 80 percent of taxpayers would pay slightly more on average in overall taxes while the top 1 percent would get a tax cut. Primarily because the plan relies on a broader sales tax to make up for the revenue lost from the personal and corporate income tax changes (as well as other business tax changes), the bottom 80% of taxpayers receive just 4% of the overall tax cut while the top 1 percent receive 20%. 87 percent of those taxpayers in the top 1 percent would receive a tax cut.

- Second, the slight cut in the sales tax rate and the 0% bracket are not enough to offset this impact. Moreover, a zero tax bracket benefits all taxpayers providing a costly way to reach low- and moderate-income families. Maintaining a refundable Earned Income Tax Credit would be the best way to ensure low- and moderate-income working families are not negatively impacted under the plan.

- Finally, the adoption of a flat rate and cut in the personal income tax rate is unlikely to generate improved economic growth as promised in the bill title and preface. Research has shown that such an approach has not delivered returns to the states that have pursued such an approach. Furthermore, the loss of a progressive rate structure can hinder the ability of the tax system to grow with the economy and would erode resources for schools, health care and other services.

- There are good provisions in this legislation that seek to broaden the base of various taxes. However, overall, these provisions are not sufficient to fully address the problems with our state's tax system that it is upside-down and inadequate.

- We welcome the opportunity to work with the bill sponsors, members of this committee and other legislators to address these concerns with the legislation.

Minutes

The Senate Committee on Finance met on Tuesday, April 9, 2013, at 1:00 p.m. in room 544 of the Legislative Office Building. Samantha Sparks of Southport, Morgan Bass of Farmville, Sophia Stoddard of Rolesville, and Ruth Smith of Wilmington served as pages. Senator Rabon served as Chair to the meeting.

S.B. 677 – Corporate Income Tax Reduction & Reform

Senator Rucho was recognized to explain the bill. It reduces the corporate income tax rate to 6% over three years, phases-in single sales factor apportionment for multi-state corporations over three years, and reforms the corporate income tax base as follows: 10 follows federal treatment of losses; 2) eliminates special deductions and exclusions allowed in excess of what is allowed for federal purposes; 3) expands the royalty reporting option to include interest expenses as well as royalty payments; and 4) eliminates adjustments for expense related to dividends, deductions for charitable contributions, obsolete deduction, and tax credits that do not have a sunset date. Jonathan Tart, a fiscal analyst with the Fiscal Research Division was recognized to explain the bill's fiscal impact and answer questions. Cindy Avrette, a staff attorney with the Research Division, was recognized to answer questions. Cedric Johnson, a public policy analyst with the Budget and Tax Center, was recognized to speak in opposition to the bill. Businesses want quality of life and an educated workforce before a cut in taxes. No vote was taken on the bill. A copy of the bill, the summary, the fiscal note and a Budget and Tax Center handout is attached.

The meeting adjourned at 1:46 p.m.

A corporation that apportions part of its income to this State shall make the addition required by this subdivision after it determines the amount of its income that is apportioned and allocated to this State and shall not apply to a credit taken under this Chapter the apportionment factor used by it in determining the amount of its apportioned income.

In addition, a taxpayer who was allowed a special accelerated depreciation deduction under section 168(k) or section 1400L of the Code in a taxable year beginning before January 1, 2002, and whose North Carolina taxable income in that earlier year reflected that accelerated depreciation deduction must add to federal taxable income in the taxpayer's first taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2002, an amount equal to the amount of the deduction allowed in the earlier taxable year. These adjustments do not result in a difference in basis of the affected assets for State and federal income tax purposes. The applicable percentage is as follows:~~

~~2003~~	~~70%~~
~~2004~~	~~70%~~

~~a. A taxpayer must add to federal taxable income in the taxpayer's 2008 taxable year an amount equal to the applicable percentage of the~~

~~accelerated depreciation deduction reflected in the taxpayer's 2007 North Carolina taxable income.~~

These adjustments do not result in a difference in basis of the affected assets for State and federal income tax purposes.~~

For purposes of this subdivision, the definition of section 179 property has the same meaning as under section 179 of the Code as of January 1, 2011. These adjustments do not result in a difference in basis of the affected assets for State and federal income tax purposes.~~

~~(23a) For taxable years 2012 and 2013, eighty five percent (85%) of the amount by which the taxpayer's expense deduction under section 179 of the Code for property placed in service in taxable year 2012 or 2013 exceeds the amount that would have been allowed for the respective taxable year under section 179 of the Code as of May 1, 2010. SECTION 4. Effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2014, Part 1 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 105-130.5B. Adjustments when State decouples from federal accelerated depreciation and expensing.

(a) Special Accelerated Depreciation. – A taxpayer who places property in service during a taxable year listed in the table below and who takes a special accelerated depreciation deduction for that property under section 168(k) or 168(n) of the Code must add to the taxpayer's federal taxable income eighty-five percent (85%) of the amount taken for that year under those Code provisions.

A taxpayer is allowed to deduct twenty percent (20%) of the add-back in each of the first five taxable years following the year the taxpayer is required to include the add-back in income. The table below indicates the applicable five-year period.

Taxable Year of 85% Add-Back	Five Taxable Years of 20% Deduction
2010	2011 through 2015
2011	2012 through 2016
2012	2013 through 2017

(b) 2009 Depreciation Exception. – A taxpayer who placed property in service during the 2009 taxable year and whose North Carolina taxable income for the 2009 taxable year reflected a special accelerated depreciation deduction allowed for the property under section 168(k) of the Code must add eighty-five percent (85%) of the amount of the special accelerated depreciation deduction to its federal taxable income for the 2010 taxable year. A taxpayer is allowed to deduct this add-back under subsection (a) of this section as if it were for property placed in service in 2010.

(c) Section 179 Expense. – For purposes of this subdivision, the definition of section 179 property has the same meaning as under section 179 of the Code as of January 1, 2011. A taxpayer who places section 179 property in service during a taxable year in subsection (a) of this section must add to the taxpayer's federal taxable income eighty-five percent (85%) of the amount by which the taxpayer's expense deduction under section 179 of the Code exceeds the amount that would have been allowed for that taxable year under section 179 of the Code as of May 1, 2010.

A taxpayer is allowed to deduct twenty percent (20%) of the add-back in each of the first five taxable years following the year the taxpayer is required to include the add-back in income. The table in subsection (a) of this section indicates the applicable five-year period.

(d) Asset Basis. – The adjustments made in this section do not result in a difference in basis of the affected assets for State and federal income tax purposes."

SENATE BILL 677:
Corporate Income Tax Reduction & Reform

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	April 5, 2013
Introduced by:	Sens. Rucho, Rabon	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	First Edition

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 677 reduces the corporate income tax rate to 6% over three years, phases-in single sales factor apportionment for multi-state corporations over three years, and reforms the corporate income tax base as follows:

- Follows federal treatment of losses.
- Eliminates special deductions and exclusions allowed in excess of what is allowed for federal purposes.
- Expands the royalty reporting option to include interest expenses as well as royalty payments.
- Eliminates adjustments for expenses related to dividends, deductions for charitable contributions, obsolete deductions, and tax credits that do not have a sunset date.

CURRENT LAW AND BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 677 reduces and reforms the corporate income tax rate and base as follows:

Corporate rate reduction. – Section 1 reduces the corporate income tax rate from 6.9% to 6%[1] over three years, beginning in the 2014 taxable year:

- In 2014, the tax rate is 6.5%.
- In 2015, the tax rate is 6.25%.
- After 2015, the tax rate is 6%.

Single sales factor apportionment formula. – Section 2 phases-in a single sales factor apportionment formula over three years, beginning in the 2014 taxable year:

- In 2014, increases the weight of the sales factor from two to three.
- In 2015, increases the weight of the sales factor from three to five.
- After 2015, the apportionment formula is based only upon sales.

A corporation that does business in more than one state must pay income tax to each of the states in which it has nexus. The U.S. Supreme Court cases have upheld the right of states to tax the income of multistate corporations so long as the income is fairly sourced to the taxing state. The conventional method used by states to source income has been the apportionment formula, which is used to derive an apportionment percentage. Generally speaking, a taxpayer multiplies its taxable income by its apportionment percentage to determine the amount of its income sourced to a state. The state's corporate income tax rate is applied to the corporation's income apportionable to that state.

Most states use an apportionment formula based on or substantially similar to the Uniform Division of Income for Tax Purposes Act (UDITPA).[2] The UDITPA formula is a composite of three factors: a property factor, a payroll factor, and a sales factor. The property factor represents the ratio of the taxpayer's real and tangible personal property in the taxing state to its real and tangible personal property everywhere.

[1] Corporate tax rate in surrounding states: SC is 5%, GA is %, VA is %, and TN is %.
[2] UDITPA dates back to 1957.

Likewise, the payroll factor and the sales factor represent a ratio of the taxpayer's payroll and sales in the taxing state to its payroll and sales everywhere. Under UDITPA, the sum of the three factors is divided by three, resulting in a taxpayer's apportionment percentage.

North Carolina shifted to a double-weighted sales factor apportionment formula in 1988 at the request of RJR Nabisco.[3] A double-weighted sales factor tends to favor home-state industries that have a concentration of their total facilities in a state but sell their products all over the country. Under North Carolina's current apportionment formula, the payroll and property factors are each weighted 25% and the sales factor is weighted at 50%; the sum of the four factors is divided by four. Eighteen states currently use a double-weighted sales factor.[4]

This section creates a single sales factor apportionment formula. Under the single sales factor formula, the total allocation of a corporation's nationwide profits to North Carolina is solely based on where the corporation's sales occur. This method of apportionment provides a tax reduction to a corporation with relatively large shares of its nationwide property and payroll in North Carolina but a relatively small share of its nationwide sales in North Carolina. In 2009, North Carolina provided single sales factor apportionment formula for capital intensive corporations at the request of Apple.[5] Fifteen states currently use a single sales factor apportionment formula.

Capital gain or loss. – Section 3[6] repeals the different treatment North Carolina tax law provides for capital gains and losses. For State tax purposes, all gains or losses recognized on the sale or other disposition of an asset must be included in determining State net income or loss in the year of disposition. For federal tax purposes, a gain may be offset by a capital loss carryover and a capital loss may be carried back two years and carried forward for five years. To the extent North Carolina income tax law conforms to federal law, tax administration and compliance are simplified because the taxpayer is required to make fewer adjustments to taxable income in order to calculate State net income.

Net economic loss. – Sections 3 and 6[7] repeal North Carolina's net economic loss (NEL) deduction and instead piggybacks the federal law that allows a net operating loss (NOL) deduction. Generally, NOLs are more favorable to the taxpayer than NELs:

- How to apply the loss: A NEL must first be offset by any nontaxable income. A NOL does not.
- When to use the loss: A NEL may be carried forward for 15 years. It may not be carried back. A NOL may be carried back for two years and carried forward for 20 years.

To the extent North Carolina income tax law conforms to federal law, tax administration and compliance are simplified because the taxpayer is required to make fewer adjustments to taxable income in order to calculate State net income. Other states with a corporate income tax appear to allow a deduction for NOLs; about half of those states do not allow a carryback for NOLs.

Expenses related to dividends. – Sections 3 and 6[8] repeal the adjustments and caps allowed to corporations for expenses related to deductible dividends received from subsidiaries. Under current law, the caps on the amount of related expenses that must be netted from deductible dividends are as follows:

[3] RJR Nabisco had plans for a large automated bakery in the Garner area. After the change was adopted, RJR Nabisco was bought out and forced to cut back on capital expenditures. The company never built the plant.
[4] Surrounding states: SC, VA, GA, and TN have double-weighted sales apportionment formulas.
[5] Apple built its East Coast data center in Maiden, NC. To receive the single sales factor apportionment formula, it had to invest at least $1 billion in the infrastructure hub and employs at least 50 full-time employees.
[6] G.S. 105-130.5(b)(8) and G.S. 105-130.8. Technical correction: The corresponding add-back in G.S. 105-130.5(a)(5) should also have been repealed.
[7] G.S. 105-130.5(a)(6), (b)(4), and G.S. 105-130.8.

- Most companies. – 15% of dividends.
- Bank holding companies. – 20% of dividends. The additional tax that a bank holding company and its related companies must pay as a result of the expense netting is subject to a maximum of $11 million per corporate family. Bank holding companies also received a tax credit. For bank corporate families that reach the $11 million maximum, the credit is $2 million. For other bank corporate families, the credit is equal to the amount of tax reduction that would result if bank holding companies were subject to a 15% cap rather than a 20% cap. The credit may be taken against income tax or franchise tax and must be taken over four tax years.
- Electric power holding companies. – 15% of total interest expenses. Electric power holding companies also receive a credit equal to one-half of the additional tax that each must pay as a result of the expense netting. The credit is taken it h following year. The credit may be taken against income tax or franchise tax. As an alternative, an electric power holding company may elect to allocate the credit among the members of its affiliated group. If the company makes this election, then the credit is taken over four tax years.

Prior to 2001, a corporation could deduct from taxable income all dividends received from corporations in which it owned more than 50% of the outstanding voting stock. In 2001, North Carolina began piggybacking the federal dividends received deduction; the State expected the tax law change to generate approximately $32.8 million. The change generated revenue because it meant taxpayers could no longer deduct the expenses related to the untaxed income. However, the new law had a greater than expected impact, especially on bank holding companies and electric power holding companies.[9] In response to this impact, the 2002 General Assembly limited the additional tax liability imposed on subsidiary dividends by enacting the adjustments and caps repealed by this bill.[10]

Other changes. – The bill makes the following changes to the corporate income tax base:

Bill Section	Brief Description
Sections 3 and 5	Expands the royalty reporting option[11] to include interest expenses. For purposes of computing its State net income, a taxpayer must include royalty payments made to, or in connection with transactions with, a related member. A royalty is an amount paid for a copyright, patent, or trademark.[12] The bill further expands the payment option to include interest expenses. An interest expense is an amount directly or indirectly allowed as a deduction under section 163 of the Code. 105-130.5(a)(14); 105-130.5(b)(20); 105-130.7A
Sections 3 and 4	Gathers the provisions on add-backs and deductions for accelerated depreciation into a new section for ease of understanding but does not change the substance of the provisions. Repeals add-backs for prior accelerated depreciation because they are obsolete or moved to new 105-130.5B. 105-130.5(a)(15), (15a), (15b), (23), (23a), (24); 105-130.5(b)(21), (21a), (21b),

[8] G.S. 105-130.5(c)(3) and G.S. 105-130.6A. Technical correction: A conforming change needs to be made to G.S. 105-130.5(b)(3a) to remove a reference to G.S. 105-130.6A.

[9] Federal law requires banks and electric power companies to have multiple subsidiaries.

[10] S.L. 2001-327 changed the treatment of subsidiary dividends to federal law; S.L. 2002-136 provided limits on the potential tax liability.

[11] In cases where the recipient and the payer are related, they have an option on how the income is reported to North Carolina. Either the payer can deduct the North Carolina royalty payments on its North Carolina return and the recipient can include them on its North Carolina return, or the payer can add them to its North Carolina income and the recipient can deduct them on its North Carolina return.

[12] S.L. 2001-327 clarified the tax treatment of trademarks. S.L. 2006-66 expanded the reporting option to patents and copyrights.

BILL SUMMARY:

The following is a concise summary of the provisions in this bill. For a more detailed summary, please see the summary prepared by Committee Counsel, Research Division.

Reduce corporate income tax rate over three years from 6.9%:

- 2014 6.5%
- 2015 6.25%
- 2016 and after 6%

Phase in single sales factor apportionment over three years

Multistate businesses apportion income and the franchise tax base to the state using a formula that is the total of the following ratios divided by four: the ratio of payroll in the state to total payroll; the ratio of tangible property in the state to total tangible property; and two times the ratio of sales in the state to total sales. The bill increases the weight of the sales factor in the apportionment formula in 2014 and 2015 and eliminates the property and payroll factor for tax years 2016 and after:

- 2014 triple-weighted sales
- 2015 five times-weighted sales
- 2016 single sales factor

Eliminate the following adjustments, deductions, and credits, effective 2014

- Adjustments for expenses related to dividends: Corporations are required to attribute a portion of their expenses to dividends not taxed. Under current law, the amount of expenses required to be attributed for bank holding companies and electric power holding companies is subject to certain caps. The bill would eliminate this tax preference.
- Charitable contributions deduction: In general, corporations are allowed to deduct charitable contributions up to a maximum of 5% net income. The bill would eliminate the deduction for charitable contributions.
- Tax credits eliminated for expenses incurred for the following:
    - Construction of dwelling units for handicapped persons
    - Construction of cogenerating power plants
    - Construction of poultry composing facility
    - Real property donations for conservation purposes
    - Conservation tillage equipment
    - Gleaned crop
    - Telephone subscriber line charges
    - Savings & Loan supervisory fees

Conform more closely to federal law

- Follow federal treatment of losses. The bill would conform to the federal net operating loss. Under current law, corporations are allowed a net economic loss instead of a net operating loss. The differences between the net economic loss and the net operating loss are that the net economic loss has to be offset by income not taxed and it can only be carried forward to offset income in future tax years. The net operating loss does not have the same limitation and can be carried back and used to offset income in prior years, generally for two years. Additionally, the bill would conform to the federal treatment of capital losses. Under current law, capital losses must be recognized in the year that they are incurred. For federal tax purposes, capital losses in excess of capital gains can generally be carried back two years and forward five years.

- Eliminate the following special deductions and income exclusions allowed in excess of what is allowed for federal purposes:

    - Expenses for reforestation and cultivation of commercially grown trees
    - Income exclusion for an international banking facility
    - Marketing assessments on tobacco
    - Deduction for amortization in excess of depreciation allowed under the Code for air-cleaning devices, waste treatment facilities, and recycling facilities (105-130.10)
    - Deduction for amortization in excess of depreciation allowed under the Code for equipment mandated by OSHA (105-130.10A)
    - Deduction for sale of a manufactured home community to manufactured home owners

Reporting option for intercompany interest expense paid to affiliate

Under current law, related companies with intercompany royalty payments can elect for either the payer or the recipient of the royalty payment to report the royalty income for North Carolina tax purposes. The proposal would expand this reporting option to include interest payments between related members.

Repeal obsolete provisions

- Deduction for payments received from Hurricane Floyd Reserve Fund
- Deduction for payments received from Disaster Relief Reserve Fund
- Special Depreciation Provision for emergency facilities acquired prior to January 1, 1955

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: The estimate for the impact of the reduction to the corporate tax rate is based on the consensus revenue forecast. To calculate the impact of the transition to single sales factor apportionment, Fiscal Research developed a query of corporate income and franchise tax return data and analyzed what taxpayers would have paid if income and the franchise tax base was apportioned using only the sales factor instead of the current apportionment formula. The impact to conform to the federal treatment of losses, to eliminate the cap on the adjustment for expenses related to dividends, to repeal the credit for donations of real property, and to eliminate miscellaneous tax credits, deductions, and exclusions from income is based on tax expenditure statistics compiled by the Department of Revenue. The fiscal impact associated with the reporting option for interest expenses between related members is unknown. Fiscal Research made timing adjustments to align the impacts with the State's fiscal year. The local impact is based on the reduction in corporate tax collections that would be transferred to the Public School Building Capital Fund. Under G.S. 115C-546.4, 5/69 of corporate income tax is transferred to this fund.

Senate Bill 677:

Corporate Income Tax Cuts Unlikely to Promote Growth

BUDGET & TAX CENTER FACT SHEET

April, 2013

Senate Bill 677 filed by Senators Rucho and Rabon last week would cut corporate income taxes. The bill would cut the corporate income tax rate to 6 percent from 6.9 percent. It also would change the formula used to determine a multi-state corporation's income tax in North Carolina to a single sales factor formula.

Here are three key concerns with this legislation:

Corporate income tax cuts don't pay for themselves and will put at risk key investments
Due to balanced budget requirements, North Carolina will not reap any short-term benefits from corporate tax cuts. Every dollar given away in a tax cut has to be made up for with a tax increase on another business or individual or with a cut to state services. At best, any benefit from a tax cut will be offset dollar for dollar, and result in no net economic stimulus in the short-term.

If lawmakers cut investments in education, transportation or public safety, all of which are building blocks of a strong economy over the long haul, then North Carolina's economic future could be compromised. Businesses themselves could be directly harmed since a well-educated, highly productive workforce, access to markets and suppliers, sound infrastructure, and high quality of life for employees are more important to corporate leaders than state taxes, according to numerous surveys, studies and popular rankings of "business friendly" states.

A small share of North Carolina's businesses will benefit, and some are based out-of-state
The proposed cut in the corporate income tax rate would mostly benefit a relatively small share of profitable corporations, many of which are multi-state corporations headquartered outside of North Carolina. The more than 70 percent of C corporations filing tax returns in the state with net taxable incomes of zero or less and the much larger share of the state's businesses set up as pass-through entities would not benefit from the corporate income tax cut.

The proposals to change the formula used to determine how much state corporate income tax would also benefit a relatively small share of the state's businesses. While these multi-state corporations may be headquartered in North Carolina, the evidence shows that a single sales factor system would fail to produce growth, be a revenue-loser for the state, and pick winners and losers among businesses.

Corporations are Unlikely to Expand or Relocate Because of State Income Tax Cuts
Regardless of whether a corporation is headquartered in North Carolina or not, there is little reason to believe that cutting corporate income taxes will result in substantial investment in North Carolina or relocation of headquarters to the state. State and local taxes are typically only 2 percent or less of business costs—expenses for labor, property, equipment, and transportation are much more substantial.

The PCS was recommended by the Revenue Laws Study Committee. The bill contains both programmatic changes and appropriation provisions to enable the State to more quickly retire the $2.6 billion advance the State has borrowed from the federal government to pay unemployment insurance benefits. The PCS would transfer more than $17 million from three funds and accounts to the Unemployment Insurance Fund to make principal payments on the $2.6 billion advance. Senator Hise moved for a favorable report and the motion carried. A copy of the PCS, the summary and the fiscal note is attached.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO EXPAND THE PERMISSIBLE USES OF THE LOCAL MECKLENBURG COUNTY AND CITY OF CHARLOTTE LOCAL TAXES.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Section 9(a) of Part IV of Chapter 908 of the 1983 Session Laws, as amended by Chapters 821 and 922 of the 1989 Session Laws, Section 2 of S.L. 2001-402, Section 1 of S.L. 2011-160, and Section 69 of S.L. 2012-194, reads as rewritten:

"Sec. 9.(a) Distribution and Use of Proceeds. – The local administrative authority, acting on its own behalf or as agent for each taxing entity, shall distribute the proceeds of the taxes levied in this Part as provided in this subsection. The distribution shall be made by the 20th day of each month following the month in which the tax is collected.

(2) Distribution to Charlotte for ~~Convention Center~~ Facilities. – After deducting the amount provided above, the local administrative authority shall transfer an amount equal to three percent (3%) of the gross occupancy receipts and the entire net proceeds of the prepared food and beverage tax to the City of Charlotte. The net proceeds transferred to the City of Charlotte pursuant to this subdivision shall be applied in accordance with the following priorities. No application of any net proceeds to any class of the priorities set forth below in this subdivision shall be made until, with respect to each preceding class of priorities, either all payments for the current fiscal year have been provided for in full or no such payments are required for the current fiscal year.

...

d. To pay costs of acquiring, constructing, financing, renovating, maintaining, and controlling traffic for a professional sports facility located in the City of Charlotte. A "professional sports facility" is a stadium, ballpark, or similar public place that has a seating capacity of at least 60,000 that is used for professional sporting events and may include ancillary, associated facilities. Article 8 of Chapter 143 of the General Statutes does not apply to the expenditure of proceeds for a professional sports facility by a private entity that is the owner or primary tenant of the facility.

e. To pay costs of acquiring, constructing, financing, renovating, and maintaining amateur sports facilities, including ancillary, associated facilities, located in the City of Charlotte.

SECTION 2. Article II of Chapter 5 of the Charter of the City of Charlotte is amended by adding the following new section:

"Section 5.24. Limitation. The Charlotte Regional Visitors Authority has no power or duties with respect to City-owned improvements or equipment in a privately owned professional sports facility. This limitation does not apply to services or activities that a private entity that is the owner or primary tenant of a professional sports facility contracts with the Authority to provide. For purposes of this section, a professional sports facility is defined in Section 9(a)(2)d. of Part IV of Chapter 908 of the 1983 Session Laws, as amended."

SECTION 3. This act is effective when it becomes law.

HOUSE BILL 193:
Expand Uses for Meck Ct/Charlotte Local Taxes

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	April 10, 2013
Introduced by:	Reps. Samuelson, W. Brawley, Carney, Earle	Prepared by:	Trina Griffin Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	Second Edition

SUMMARY: House Bill 193 would expand the permissible uses of the proceeds of the 3% occupancy tax and 1% prepared food and beverage tax in Mecklenburg County and the City of Charlotte to include professional sports facilities. Currently, the proceeds are designated only for purposes related to the Charlotte Convention Center facilities.

CURRENT LAW: In 1989, the General Assembly authorized Mecklenburg County to levy a 3% occupancy tax[1] and a 1% prepared food and beverage tax.[2] The proceeds from the 3% occupancy tax and 1% prepared food and beverage tax are currently authorized only for uses related to the Charlotte Convention Center. These uses include:

- Financing for new convention center facilities and expansion of existing convention center facilities, which may include off-street parking for use in conjunction with the facilities.
- Any other costs of incurring, constructing, maintaining, operating, marketing, and promoting new or existing convention center facilities.

The Charlotte Regional Visitors Authority[3] is a 13-member body responsible for operating the auditorium-coliseum-convention center-baseball stadium, having full and complete control over granting and denying the use of the facilities, and for advertising and promoting the facilities.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 193 does three things:

- Eliminates the restriction that the tax proceeds be used only for Charlotte Convention Center facilities and authorizes, but does not require, two additional uses for the proceeds:
  - Acquiring, constructing, financing, renovating, maintaining, and controlling traffic for a professional sports facility located in the City of Charlotte. The bill defines a "professional sports facility" as "a stadium, ballpark, or other similar public place that has a seating capacity of at least 60,000 and that is used for professional sporting events. The facility may include ancillary, associated facilities.
  - Acquiring, constructing, financing, renovating, and maintaining amateur sports facilities, including ancillary, associated facilities, located in the City of Charlotte.

However, the City of Charlotte may not use the proceeds for a professional sports facility until all payments for the current fiscal year have been provided for in full (or no payments are required) for the [1] Mecklenburg County's total occupancy tax rate is 8%.

[2] The prepared food and beverage tax sunsets the later of July 1, 2031 or the July 1 following the final satisfaction of debt instruments issued for the financing of the Charlotte Convention Center or the final satisfaction of debt instruments issued for expansion of the facilities.

[3] Formerly known as the Auditorium-Coliseum Convention Center Authority.

repayment of debt service, marketing and promotion, and any other costs of maintaining and operating the convention center.

- Exempts the expenditure of proceeds for a professional sports facility by a private entity that is the owner or primary tenant of the facility from the public contract and bidding requirements of Article 8 of Chapter 143.
- Provides that the Charlotte Regional Visitors Authority has no power or duty with respect to City-owned improvements in a privately-owned professional sports facility unless the private entity that owns or is the primary tenant of the facility specifically contracts with the Authority.

BILL SUMMARY:

House Bill 193 (Second Edition) amends Section 9(a) of Part IV of SL 1983-908, as amended, to expand the uses of the Mecklenburg County occupancy tax and meals tax revenue. It provides that a 3% portion of the occupancy tax and the 1% meals tax is distributed to Charlotte for facilities, eliminating the restriction that the collected tax was to be used solely for Convention Center facilities. The bill adds new subsections (d) and (e) to specify additional uses for the collected tax include (1) paying costs for constructing, renovating, and maintaining public places that can seat 60,000 or more and are used for professional sporting events and (2) to pay costs of constructing, renovating, and maintaining amateur sports facilities, including ancillary, associated facilities located in the City of Charlotte.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

House Bill 193 (Second Edition) would have no fiscal impact, but would allow additional uses for a 3% portion of the occupancy tax already being collected and the 1% meals tax. The total revenue that could be redirected for qualified uses under the bill is approximately $31 million annually. Approximately $11 million of this amount is generated by the occupancy tax, while the remainder ($20 million) is generated by the meals tax.

At the request of the charter school and if the local board of the local school administrative unit in which the charter school is located operates a school bus system, then that local board may contract with the charter school to provide transportation in accordance with the charter school's transportation plan to students who reside in the local school administrative unit and who reside at least one and

(3) An additional amount for children with limited English proficiency attending the charter school, based on a formula adopted by the State Board.

~~In accordance with G.S. 115C-238.29D(d), the~~The State Board shall allow for annual adjustments to the amount allocated to a charter school based on its enrollment growth in school years subsequent to the initial year of operation.

In the event a child with disabilities leaves the charter school and enrolls in a public school during the first 60 school days in the school year, the charter school shall return a pro rata amount of funds allocated for that child to the State Board, and the State Board shall reallocate those funds to the local school administrative unit in which the public school is located. In the event a child with disabilities enrolls in a charter school during the first 60 school days in the school year, the State Board shall allocate to the charter school the pro rata amount of additional funds for children with disabilities.

(c) The local school administrative unit shall also provide each charter school to which it transfers a per pupil share of its local current expense fund with all of the following information within the 30-day time period provided in subsection (b) of this section:

(2) The student membership numbers used to calculate the per pupil share of the local current expense fund.

(3) How the per pupil share of the local current expense fund was calculated.

(d) The court shall award the prevailing party in an action to enforce the provisions of subsection (b) of this section its reasonable attorneys' fees and costs incurred in bringing such an action, plus interest at the legal rate as provided in G.S. 24-1 from and after the date that any such amounts should have otherwise been paid to the charter school for a fiscal year. SENATE BILL 337:
NC Public Charter School Board

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Re-ref to Finance. If fav, re-ref to Appropriations/Base Budget	Date:	April 10, 2013
Introduced by:	Sens. Tillman, Soucek	Prepared by:	Drupti Chauhan Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	Second Edition

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 337 creates a new North Carolina Public Charter Schools Board to approve and monitor charter schools and makes other changes to the charter school laws.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Section 1

Current Law: Part 6A of Article 16 of Chapter 115C establishes charter schools and provides that the State Board of Education is the entity that oversees charter schools in the State by granting final approval of charter schools, monitoring the schools, and revoking charters. Charter schools are prohibited from receiving State monies for obtaining any interest in real property or mobile classroom units other than leases.

Analysis:

115C-238.29A1 – Creates North Carolina Public Charter Schools Board (Charter Board)

- The Charter Board would operate independent of the State Board of Education (SBE) but the SBE would have the authority to veto within 45 days, by a ¾ vote, any action adopted by vote of the Charter Board.
- The Charter Board would have 11 voting members. The Superintendent of Public Instruction would be a nonvoting member and secretary of the Charter Board. 9 members would be appointed by the Governor and the General Assembly. The Lieutenant Governor and State Treasurer would also serve as voting members.
- The Charter Board would have the following powers and duties: to provide technical assistance to charter schools and applicants; adopt rules under Chapter 150B of the General Statutes on all aspects of charter schools; oversee the charter application process and approve charter schools; monitor existing charter schools, and take any actions regarding charter schools including renewals, nonrenewals, and revocations of charters.

115C-238.29B – Eligible Applicants and Submission of Applications for Approval

- Only nonprofit corporations would be able to apply to the Charter Board to establish a charter school.
- The option to obtain preliminary approval from a chartering entity such as a local board of education or UNC constituent institution would be repealed.
- An applicant would no longer have to submit a copy of its charter school application to the local board of education of the local school administrative unit (LEA) in which the charter school would be located and the Charter Board would not have to consider any information received from the local board of education regarding the charter application.
- The Charter Board would establish reasonable fees for initial and renewal charter applications under Chapter 150B of the General Statutes. The fees would be placed in the "Charter Application Fund" and be used by the Charter Board for the administration of Part 6A of Article 16 of Chapter 115C.
- Application fees would not be refunded in the event the application is rejected or the charter is revoked.

115C-238.29C – Preliminary Approval of Applications for Charter Schools

- This section would be repealed.

115C-238.29D – Final Approval of Applications for Charter Schools

- Recodifies the requirement that in order to grant approval, the Charter Board must find that the applicant has the ability to operate the school and would do so in an educationally and economically sound manner.
- The Charter Board would be encouraged to give preference to applications that show the capacity to provide learning experiences for students identified at risk of academic failure.
- In approving enrollment growth for existing charter schools, the Charter Board would not have to find that the local board of education of the LEA in which the charter is located has had an opportunity to be heard on any adverse impact the proposed enrollment growth of the charter would have on the LEA's ability to provide a sound basic education to its students.

115C-238.29E – Charter School Operations

- Charter schools would not be able to agree to be accountable to the local board of education of the LEA in which the charter is located rather than the Charter Board.
- At the request of a charter school, the local board of education of the LEA in which the charter is located would be required to lease an available building or land to the charter school for $1.00 per year unless it can show the lease is not economically or practically feasible or that it needs the space for its own enrollment needs.

115C-238.29F – General Requirements

Employees

- The bill would remove the requirement that sets out that certain percentages of teachers employed in charter schools must hold teaching licenses.
- Each charter school board of directors would be required to adopt a policy on whether and under what circumstances an applicant for employment must be given a criminal background check before the person is given an unconditional job offer.

Admissions Requirements

- If a charter school must conduct a lottery for admission and multiple siblings apply, then the school would enter one surname for all of the siblings and admit them all of the surname is selected. Under current law, the one surname requirement applies only to multiple birth siblings.
- Charter schools must make efforts to reasonably reflect the racial and ethnic composition of the LEA in which it is located or the special population that the school seeks to serve that is residing in the LEA.

Assets

- If the charter school is dissolved or its charter is not renewed, all net assets purchased with public funds would become property of State and returned to the General Fund rather than the LEA in which the charter is located.

115C-238.29G – Nonrenewal or Termination of Charters

- The Charter Board would be able to terminate, not renew, or find applicants to assume the charter through a competitive bid process established by the Charter Board upon the grounds listed in the statute. The Charter Board would develop rules on the assumption of the charter that cover all aspects of the operation of the charter including the status of the employees. Public assets would transfer to the new entity.

115C-238.29H – Local Funds for Charter Schools

- The bill would provide that the per pupil share of the local current expense fund must be transferred to the charter school within 30 days of the receipt of monies into the local current expense fund.
- An LEA would be required to provide to each charter school it transfers a per pupil share of its local current expense fund the following information within the 30 day time period:
  - The total amount of monies the LEA has in each of the funds listed in G.S. 115C-426(c) such as reimbursements, fees for actual costs, tuition, sales tax refunds, etc.
  - The student membership numbers used to calculate the per pupil share of the local current expense fund.
  - How the per pupil share of the local current expense fund was calculated.
- In actions to enforce the provisions of the transfer of local funds, courts must award the prevailing party reasonable attorneys' fees and costs plus interest from and after the date that the monies should have been paid to the charter school. Monies would have to be paid in full within 3 years of the judgment.

115C-238.29H – Review of Charter Schools

- The bill would repeal language that provided that the SBE may establish a Charter School Advisory Committee and what the duties of that Advisory Committee could be.
- The bill would also repeal language that provides that final approval of charter schools must be granted by the SBE by March 15 of each calendar year.

115C-238.29J – Public and private assistance to charter schools

- The bill would repeal this section which provides that (i) local boards of education can provide support to charter schools within their LEAs; (ii) private persons and entities are encouraged to provide funds and help to charter schools; (iii) the SBE direct the Department of Public Instruction (DPI) to provide guidance and assistance to charter applicants; and (iv) the SBE direct DPI to notify the Department of Revenue when a charter is terminated, nonrenewed, or not granted.

115C-238.29K – Criminal History Checks conducted by the SBE

- This section would be repealed.

Section 2 – Uniform Budget Format

Current Law: The Uniform Budget Format allows LEAs to have other funds to account for reimbursements, fees for actual costs, tuition, sales tax revenues distributed through ad valorem taxes, sales tax refunds, gifts and grants restricted as to use, trust funds, federal appropriations made to LEAs and funds for prekindgarten programs and special programs.

Analysis:

- The bill would eliminate the fund for "special programs".
- The bill would add language that provides that special funds of individual schools would not be included as a part of the local current expense fund of an LEA for determining the per pupil share of the local current expense fund to be transferred to a charter school.

Section 3 – Property Taxes

Current Law: Certain real property is exempted from property taxes if all of the following are met:

1. It is owned by an educational institution or a nonprofit entity for the sole benefit of a constituent or affiliated institution of The University of North Carolina, certain nonprofit postsecondary educational institution, a North Carolina community college, or a combination of these.
2. The owner is not organized or operated for profit and no officer, shareholder, member, or employee of the owner or any other person is entitled to receive pecuniary profit from the owner's operations except reasonable compensation for services.
3. The use is of a kind commonly employed in the performance of those activities naturally and properly incident to the operation of an educational institution such as the owner.
4. The property is wholly and exclusively used for educational purposes by the owner or occupied gratuitously by another nonprofit educational institution and wholly and exclusively used by the occupant for nonprofit educational purposes.

Analysis: The bill would modify the 4th requirement for exemption from taxation by stating that the exemption would apply if it is wholly and exclusively used for educational purposes by a charter school even if the charter school is not the owner of the building.

Sections 4 and 5 – Conforming Changes in Retirement Statutes

Analysis: These sections would make conforming changes in the retirement statutes to ensure that the correct entity is referenced.

Section 6 – Initial Appointments the Charter Board

Analysis: Provides for the phase-in of members on the Charter Board.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill would become effective when it becomes law. The provision providing for attorneys fees in actions to enforce the transfer of monies in local current expense funds would apply to proceedings commenced on or after the effective date of the act.

BILL SUMMARY:

The bill creates an eleven member North Carolina Public Charter Schools Board (Charter Board), located in the Department of Public Instruction (DPI), but exercising its powers and duties independently of the State Board of Education (State Board) and DPI. The Charter Board's purpose would be to authorize and oversee high-quality public charter schools throughout the state and to exercise authority for approving charter applicants. The Department of Public Instruction's Office of Charter Schools would serve as the principal administrative unit under the direction of the Charter Board. The Charter Board would have the authority to establish "reasonable" fees for initial and renewal charter applications under Chapter 150B of the General Statutes. The fees would be placed in the "Charter Application Fund" and be used by the Charter Board for the administration of Part 6A of Article 16 of Chapter 115C.

The bill would make several substantive changes to the charter school application process as well as other conforming changes. The bill would make two modifications to current charter school capital statutes. At the request of a charter school, the local board of education of the LEA in which the charter is located would be required to lease an available building or land under the LEA's ownership to the charter school for $1.00 per year unless it can show the lease is not economically or practically feasible or that it needs the space for its own enrollment needs. Secondly, if a charter school is dissolved or its charter is not renewed, all net assets purchased with public funds would become property of State and returned to the General Fund rather than the LEA in which the charter is located.

The bill would also modify certain requirements pertaining to teacher licensure, student admissions, charter review, renewal and revocation. It would also modify the timing of local per-pupil funding transfers from local school administrative units (LEAs) to charter schools, as well as clarifying the eligibility of certain funds in considering the local per-pupil funding transfer. Lastly, the bill would provide for a tax exemption from property that is wholly and exclusively used for educational purposes by a charter school even if the charter school is not the owner of the building.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: While this bill would make a number of substantive changes to charter school approval, operation and review processes, this analysis will solely focus on those items that could have a fiscal impact.

North Carolina Public Charter School Board Operations

The bill would create an independent Charter Board that would replicate many of the same responsibilities currently administered by the North Carolina Charter Schools Advisory Council (Advisory Council). Funding for the Advisory Council is allocated from the State Board of Education's administrative budget. Over the last calendar year, its expenses are as follows:

Advisory Council, Costs by Activity (4/2012-2/2013)
Compensation to Board Members	2,325
Board Transportation	7,944
Board Subsistence	7,772
Miscellaneous Compensation	193
Food Service	3,253
Ground Transportation	80
Printing / Duplicating	3,739
Requisitions	117
Application Review	15,000
Total	$40,426

In that time, the Council has held 5 two-day full committee meetings, 2 one-day full committee meetings, 2 two-day subcommittee meetings and three no-cost webinars. With nine in-person meetings held over eleven months, the Council has been essentially been conducting monthly meetings. Fifteen members sit on the Advisory Council, four more than would be appointed to the Charter Board, not including the Superintendent of Public Instruction, who would serve in a non-voting capacity.

The bill authorizes Charter Board meetings "... upon the call of the chair or the vice-chair with the approval of the chair," without restriction. In the absence of additional information about how often the Charter Board would meet and for how many days those meetings would last, there is insufficient evidence to estimate an additional fiscal impact above and beyond the costs associated with the Advisory Council. The Technical Considerations section of this document further discusses funding for the Charter Board.

Charter School Application Fees

The Charter Board would be authorized to collect "reasonable fees" for initial and charter school renewal applications. The bill does not articulate the extent of those fees. Currently fees are not charged for charter approvals. It may be that the bill would anticipate that fees could be set to cover the difference between the current State Board of Education support for the Advisory Council and any additional costs created by increased number and review of charter school applications by the Charter Board in future years.

This analysis assumes that funding for the primary staff to the Charter Board, the Office of Charter Schools, would remain State-supported through existing appropriations made to the Department of Public Instruction. As such, the anticipated impact of fees would likely be to provide for additional direct resources for the Charter Board's activities or contracted services.

Dispersal of Local Funds for Charter Schools

The bill would provide that the per-pupil share of the local current expense fund legally required to be provided on behalf of public charter school students be transferred to the charter school within 30 days of the receipt of monies into the local current expense fund. Current law does not specify a timeline for this fund transfer. In addition, a variety of information about the calculation of those funds must be provided by the LEA to the charter school.

To enforce the provisions of the transfer of local funds, courts adjudicating a proceeding regarding local charter school funding would be required to award the prevailing party reasonable attorneys' fees and costs plus interest from and after the date that the monies should have been paid to the charter school. Monies would have to be paid in full within 3 years of the judgment. Any impact of this provision would be local in nature. This analysis does not have a basis for estimating the potential LEA costs for legal fees and interest payments that may arise from this bill.

Leasing of Property by LEAs to Charter Schools

Current law holds that LEAs shall lease any available building or land under its ownership to a charter school located within its district, provided that it is economically feasible and the building or land is not otherwise needed by the LEA. That lease may be provided at no cost to the charter school tenant. This bill would modify that arrangement and require that the LEAs shall charge $1 per year for such leases, instead of a rate otherwise set by the LEA. Sufficient data is not available to estimate the impact of potentially lowered LEA revenues from leased facilities. Like most of the preceding sections, any impact would solely be local.

Property Tax Status of Charter School Property
The bill provides that charter school buildings used solely for educational purposes would be exempt from property taxes even if the building is not owned by the charter school. Sufficient data is not available to determine the number and value of charter school buildings that are currently subject to property tax that would become exempt under the bill. To the extent that properties that are currently taxable become tax-exempt, local governments would experience a decrease in property tax revenue; however, no estimate is available on the size of the fiscal impact.

Uniform Budget Format Modifications
The bill would remove "special programs" as a category that may be excluded from calculating the local per-pupil appropriation for transfer on behalf of charter school students. The bill would also exempt LEA special fund proceeds from that calculation. There is no estimate available for the potential changes in the local per-pupil appropriations transfer. Any actual impact would solely involve LEA funding.

SOURCES OF DATA: Department of Public Instruction.

TECHNICAL CONSIDERATIONS:
The bill creates a unique status for the Charter Board, in which it would be located administratively within the Department of Public Instruction but operate independently of the State Board of Education and Department of Public Instruction, with limited exceptions. The following considerations are identified as a result of the Board's special status.

State Board of Education funding. The preceding analysis presumes that funds appropriated to the State Board of Education and used for the activities of the Charter School Advisory Council would be reallocated to the Charter Board. The bill does not identify a financial relationship between the State Board and Charter Board. If the sponsors wish that existing Advisory Council funding be reallocated to the Charter Board, they may wish to consider language to explicitly require that distribution. On the other hand, if the sponsors anticipate that the Charter Board will be entirely fee-supported they may wish to include language that would clarify that status.

Legal Counsel. The State Board of Education currently provides legal services free of charge to the Advisory Council from its counsel. To the extent that the Advisory Council is under the purview of the State Board, no conflict is inherent. However, with the Charter Board's independence from the State Board, additional funding could be needed for the Charter Board to utilize necessary independent legal counsel.

SENATE BILL 290:
Waynesville Annexation

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	April 9, 2013
Introduced by:	Sen. J. Davis	Prepared by:	Judy Collier
Analysis of:	Second Edition		Research Assistant

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 290[1] is a local bill that annexes the unincorporated community of Lake Junaluska Assembly into the Town of Waynesville.

CURRENT LAW: North Carolina Law sets forth four (4) basic ways in which a town or city may annex an area:

1. Voluntary Annexation. The owners of all real property in the area desiring to be annexed sign a petition requesting annexation.[2]
2. Legislative Act. The General Assembly has the authority to extend the boundaries of any town or city. This method is most helpful to a town or city trying to annex an area that they could not otherwise.
3. Satellite Annexation. This method allows a town or city to annex certain non-contiguous areas meeting the statutory standards into the town or city limits.[3]
4. Nonvoluntary Annexation. The town or city brings into the corporate limits an area that has not voluntarily agreed to be annexed.[4]

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 290 would legislatively annex 1,200 acres, more or less, as specifically described in the bill, commonly known as Lake Junaluska Assembly, into the Town of Waynesville.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act becomes effective August 31, 2013.

BACKGROUND: Lake Junaluska Assembly is an unincorporated community in Haywood County consisting of a 200-acre lake, and a Methodist conference and retreat center which currently provides municipal-type services to approximately 800 residential units within its boundary. The request for annexation into the Town of Waynesville was initiated voluntarily by the governing board of Lake Junaluska Assembly, Inc. following nearly two years of extensive study and public input by the affected private property owners.

According to the Town of Waynesville, the Lake Junaluska Assembly, Inc. will continue to be tax-exempt as a religious assembly, and the extension of the corporate boundary will result in the following changes to the Town:

- Population increases by approximately 850 to 10, 872.
- Land area increases approximately 1.4 square miles to 10.16 square miles.
- Registered voters increase approximately 630 to 7,478.
- The total assessed value increases approximately $192 million to $1.339 billion.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO TRANSFER FUNDS TO THE UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE FUND TO MAKE PRINCIPAL PAYMENTS ON THE TWO AND ONE-HALF BILLION DOLLAR ADVANCE MADE BY THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT TO THE UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE FUND TO PAY UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION BENEFITS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. The Office of State Budget and Management, in conjunction with the Office of the State Controller and the Department of Commerce, shall transfer and allocate to the Unemployment Insurance Fund any unencumbered cash balance as of June 30, 2013, of each of the following special funds within the Department and then close each of these special funds:

(1) Worker Training Trust Fund (Special Fund Code 64654-6400).

(2) Training and Employment Account (Special Fund Code 64655-6601).

SECTION 2. There is appropriated from the Special Employment Security Administration Fund to the Unemployment Insurance Fund the sum of ten million dollars ($10,000,000) for the 2013-2014 fiscal year to be used to make principal payments on advances made by the federal government under Title XII of the Social Security Act to the Unemployment Insurance Fund to pay unemployment compensation benefits.

SECTION 3. This act becomes effective July 1, 2013.

SENATE BILL 6:
UI Fund Changes

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	February 6, 2013
Introduced by:	Sens. Rucho, Rabon, Brock	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S6-CSRB-2		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 4 and Senate Bill 6 are companion bills recommended by the Revenue Laws Study Committee. The Revenue Laws recommendation contained both programmatic changes and appropriation provisions to enable the State to more quickly retire the $2.6 billion advance the State has borrowed from the federal government to pay unemployment insurance benefits.

- The General Assembly enacted the programmatic changes in House Bill 4, S.L. 2013-2.
- The appropriation provisions were removed from House Bill 4 and are contained in the proposed committee substitute for Senate Bill 6. The PCS would transfer more than $17 million from three funds and accounts to the Unemployment Insurance Fund to make principal payments on the $2.6 billion advance. The PCS will need to be re-referred to the Appropriations Committee.

BILL ANALYSIS: The proposed committee substitute for Senate Bill 6 would close two accounts that have not been utilized and transfer the balance of those accounts to the Unemployment Insurance Fund. All monies in that fund are swept daily into the State's account in the federal Unemployment Trust Fund and used to make principal payments on the advance made by the federal government to the account to pay unemployment compensation benefits. The proposed committee substitute would also transfer $10 million from the Special Employment Security Administration Fund to the Unemployment Insurance Fund for the same purpose.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill would become effective July 1, 2013.

BACKGROUND: If a state does not have sufficient revenues in its Unemployment Trust Fund to pay benefits, the federal unemployment account provides an automatic advance or loan to the state.[1] North Carolina received its first advance in February 2009. The State currently owes the federal unemployment account $2.6 billion.[2]

The General Assembly created the Worker Training Trust Fund in 1987. It is funded from interest earned on the Employment Security Reserve Fund and monies in the Fund have historically been used for Worker Training Programs at the community colleges. House Bill 4 removes this funding source by providing that all interest earned on the Reserve Fund accrues to it. The money in the Reserve Fund, as amended by House Bill 4, may be used only to fund unemployment compensation benefits and principal and interest payments on advances made by the federal government to the Unemployment Insurance Fund. There is approximately $6 million in this account. Senate Bill 6 would close this fund and remit the unencumbered balance to the Unemployment Insurance Fund.

[1] As of January 3, 2013, 20 states have an outstanding state loan from the Federal Unemployment Account.
[2] NC's debt is the 3rd largest behind California at $10.3 billion and New York at $3.5 billion. The federal advance to NC, as of January 31, 2013, is $2.6 billion.

The General Assembly created the Training and Employment Account in 1991 to capture a mandatory training and reemployment contribution that was levied on employers. Eighty percent of the contributions were allocated to community college training programs and the remaining 20% were allocated to the Employment Security Commission for employment services and administrative expenses. The contributions that funded the account have not been collected since 2005.[3] There is approximately $688,000 in this account. Senate Bill 6 would close this fund and remit the unencumbered balance to the Unemployment Insurance Fund.

The Special Employment Security Administration Fund is funded primarily by interest and penalty[4] payments employers make on past due contributions. There is approximately $16 million[5] in the Fund. Senate Bill 6 would transfer $10 million of this amount to the Unemployment Insurance Fund.

[3] S.L. 1999-321 created the contribution rate and account with a sunset of January 1, 2002. S.L. 2001-424 extended the sunset until January 1, 2006.
[4] Since 2006, the Division of Employment Security has transferred the funds it receives attributable to penalties to the Fines and Forfeitures Account.
[5] Some portion of this amount may be attributed to penalties paid to the Fund prior to 2006.

BILL SUMMARY:

Proposed Committee Substitute (PCS) to Senate Bill (SB) 6 requires the Office of State Budget and Management, in conjunction with the Office of the State Controller and the Department of Commerce to transfer cash balances to the Unemployment Insurance Fund from the Worker Training Trust Fund and the Training and Employment Account and then close these funds. The Special Employment Security Administration Fund will also transfer $10 million to the Unemployment Insurance Fund.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

PCS to SB 6 requires unencumbered cash balances from three special funds to be put toward repayment of the $2.5 billion advance the State borrowed from the federal government to pay unemployment insurance benefits. Effective July 1, 2013, the amount generated by transferring the following funds within Commerce's Division of Employment Security is estimated to be $17.1 M:

- Worker Training Trust Fund –These funds have historically been used for Worker Training Programs. This fund was created in 1987 from interest earned by the Employment Security Reserve Fund. As of June 30, 2013, the unencumbered cash balance is estimated to be $6.4 M and will be available for transfer to the Unemployment Insurance Fund.
- Training & Employment Account – Historically, these funds have been used for Community College training programs and Employment Security employment services. The contribution that supported these programs sunset on January 1, 2011, and no further appropriations were made. As of June 30, 2013, the unencumbered cash balance is estimated to be $0.7 M and is available for transfer to the Unemployment Insurance Fund.
- Special Employment Security Administration Fund – These funds come from the collection of penalties & interest. PCS to SB 6 transfers $10 M of the fund's cash balance to the Unemployment Insurance Fund. The cash balance as of December 31, 2012 is $16.1 M. It is assumed that these funds will remain unencumbered through the end of Fiscal Year 2012-2013.

S.B. 129 – Limit State Facilities Finance Act Debt

Senator Tucker was recognized to explain the bill which was on the agenda for discussion only. Senator Brock moved to adopt the proposed committee substitute (PCS) for discussion. The bill would limit the amount of special indebtedness the General Assembly could authorize to 25% of the amount of general obligation bond indebtedness supported by the General Fund. The PCS applies the limit to all indebtedness supported by the General Fund that was authorized pursuant to legislation enacted after January 1, 2013. Cindy Avrette, a staff attorney with the Research Division, was recognized to answer questions. Vance Holloman, Deputy State Treasurer, was recognized to further explain and answer questions. He explained debt capacity, the legal authority needed to issue debt and the State's available credit. He explained what special indebtedness was issued for – capital improvement. Mark Bondo, a fiscal analyst with the Fiscal Research Division, was recognized to explain capital improvements and certificates of participation. A copy of the PCS, the summary and the 2013 Debt Affordability Study is attached.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO PROHIBIT ISSUANCE OF DEBT UNDER THE STATE CAPITAL FACILITIES FINANCE ACT.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 142-83 reads as rewritten:

"§ 142-83. Authorization of special indebtedness; General Assembly approval.

(a) General Assembly Approval. – The State may incur or issue special indebtedness subject to the terms and conditions provided in this Article for the purpose of financing the cost of capital facilities that meet one of the following conditions:

(1) The General Assembly has enacted legislation describing the capital facility and authorizing its financing by the incurrence or issuance of special indebtedness up to a specific maximum amount.

(2) The General Assembly has enacted legislation authorizing the incurrence or issuance of special indebtedness up to a specific maximum amount for a specific category of capital facilities and the capital facility meets all of the conditions set in that legislation.

(b) Limitation. – The General Assembly may enact legislation to incur or issue special indebtedness under subsection (a) of this section only if it determines at the time the legislation is enacted that the amount of special indebtedness authorized by the legislation does not exceed the limitation in this subsection. The determination of the General Assembly must be based upon reasonable estimations and once made may be relied upon as conclusive.

The sum of the special indebtedness authorized by the legislation and all other special indebtedness authorized by legislation enacted after January 1, 2013, may not exceed twenty-five percent (25%) of the bond indebtedness of the State supported by the General Fund that was authorized pursuant to legislation enacted after January 1, 2013. For purposes of this section, bond indebtedness supported by the General Fund includes both special indebtedness and general obligation bond indebtedness of the State that is supported by the General Fund."

SECTION 2. This act is effective when it becomes law and applies to special indebtedness to finance the cost of capital facilities incurred on or after that date.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 142-84(c) reads as rewritten:

"(c) Final Approval. – Before any special indebtedness may be incurred or issued pursuant to this Article, the Council of State must authorize the indebtedness by resolution, either as part of or separate from the resolution required by subsection (b) of this section. The resolution must do all of the following:

(1) Authorize the providing of a particular capital facility or, in general terms, the types or classifications of capital facilities to be provided.

(1a) Make a determination that the sum of the special indebtedness proposed to be issued and all other outstanding special indebtedness of the State authorized after July 1, 2013, does not exceed twenty-five percent (25%) of the total amount of outstanding debt of the State that is supported by the General Fund. The determination required to be made by this subdivision is not required in connection with the issuance of bonds and notes for refunding purposes pursuant to G.S. 142-89(f).

(2) Set the aggregate principal amount or maximum principal amount of the special indebtedness authorized.

(3) Set the maturity or maximum maturity of the special indebtedness authorized.

SECTION 2. This act becomes effective July 1, 2013, and applies to special indebtedness to finance the cost of capital facilities incurred on or after that date.

SENATE BILL 129:
Limit State Facilities Finance Act Debt

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	April 16, 2013
Introduced by:	Sen. Tucker	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S129-CSRB-7		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 129 would limit the amount of special indebtedness the General Assembly could authorize to 25% of the amount of general obligation bond indebtedness supported by the General Fund. The proposed committee substitute applies the limit to all indebtedness supported by the General Fund that was authorized pursuant to legislation enacted after January 1, 2013.

CURRENT LAW: The State issues two kinds of tax-supported debt[1]:

- General Obligation Bonds. – GO bonds are secured by the full faith, credit, and taxing power of the State. GO bonds are considered to be the highest quality of all the various types of debt and usually carry the highest credit rating because of the legal protections inherent in constitutionally permitted debt. GO bonds are generally the most transparent of the various types of State debt obligations and typically carry the lowest interest rate. The costs of holding a GO bond referendum are modest. As of June 30, 2012, the State has $4,062.4 billion of General Fund supported GO debt.
- Special Indebtedness. – Special indebtedness may also be known as non-GO debt or appropriation-supported debt. This form of indebtedness includes financing contract indebtedness, such as a lease-purchase contract, an installment-purchase contract, and certificates of participation. It also includes bonded indebtedness that may be issued on an unsecured basis or secured by a specific stream of revenues, a lease payment or financing agreement, or a security interest in the project being financed. All special indebtedness obligations are paid from annual appropriated amounts for debt service. Special indebtedness is rated lower than GO bonds and typically carries a higher interest rate. As of June 30, 2012, the State has $2,430.8 billion of appropriation-supported debt.

The State Capital Facilities Finance Act establishes the legal framework providing for the issuance of special indebtedness; it does not authorize debt. Only the General Assembly may authorize debt. Under the Act, the General Assembly must enact legislation that describes the capital facility to be financed and authorizing its financing through the issuance of special indebtedness up to a specific maximum amount or legislation that authorizes the issuance of special indebtedness up to a specific maximum amount for a specific category of capital facilities.

In addition to the General Assembly enactment of legislation authorizing the special indebtedness, the agency wishing to use special indebtedness to finance a capital project must receive concurrence or approval from the Department of Administration, the State Treasurer, and the Council of State. The State Treasurer must report to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations at least five days before the issuance or incurrence of any debt.

[1] The summary relied extensively on the information in the 2013 Debt Affordability Study.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 129 would limit the amount of appropriation-supported debt the General Assembly could authorize, beginning July 1, 2013, to 25% of the total amount of outstanding debt supported by the General Fund. As of June 30, 2012, the amount of General Fund supported debt authorized is approximately $6,493.2 billion outstanding plus $206 million authorized but unissued. Of this amount, approximately 40% is special indebtedness.

The PCS clarifies that the calculation of General Fund supported debt includes both GO bond indebtedness and special obligation indebtedness since both are supported by the General Fund. It also modifies the restriction to apply it prospectively. Under the PCS the amount of special indebtedness authorized by the General Assembly could not exceed 25% of the General Fund supported debt authorized pursuant to legislation enacted after January 1, 2013. The PCS effectively restricts the issuance of any special indebtedness on or after January 1, 2013, until the General Assembly authorizes GO bonds.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill would become effective when it becomes law and apply to special indebtedness authorized on or after January 1, 2013.

BACKGROUND: Prior to 2001, the State only issued GO bonded indebtedness. Most states have diversified their debt portfolios and utilize one or more of the various types of appropriation-supported debt structures. However, the State of North Carolina has relied extensively on appropriation-supported debt structures since 2000. In affirming the State's rating in 2013, Fitch noted that "Over time the state has become more reliant on appropriation debt." Currently, the State's percentage of appropriation-supported debt obligation exceeds the medians reported for the "AAA" and "AA" rated states. In 2008, 18.5% of the State's outstanding debt was appropriation-supported debt; in 2013 it is 40.4%. By the year 2017 it is projected to be 46.3%.[2]

The Debt Affordability Advisory Committee recommended in its 2013 Debt Affordability Study that the State consider the authorization of GO debt as the preferred, but not necessarily exclusive, method to provide debt financing.

[2] The percentage of total outstanding debt includes debt funded by the Highway and Highway Trust Fund.

DEBT AFFORDABILITY ADVISORY COMMITTEE

February 1, 2013

To: Governor Pat McCrory
Lieutenant Governor Daniel J. Forest, President of the North Carolina Senate
Senator Phil Berger, President Pro Tempore of the North Carolina Senate Representative Thom Tillis, Speaker of the North Carolina House of Representatives
Members of the 2012 General Assembly through the Fiscal Research Division

Attached is the February 1, 2013 report of the Debt Affordability Advisory Committee submitted to you pursuant to North Carolina General Statute §142-101. The report was created to serve as a tool for sound debt management practices by the State of North Carolina.

The report provides the Governor and the General Assembly with a basis for assessing the impact of future debt issuance on the State's fiscal position and enables informed decision-making regarding both financing proposals and capital spending priorities. A secondary purpose of the report is to provide a methodology for measuring, monitoring and managing the State's debt levels, thereby protecting North Carolina's bond ratings of AAA/Aaa/AAA.

The methodology used by the Committee to analyze the State's debt position incorporates trends in debt levels and peer group comparisons, and provides recommendations within adopted guidelines. The Committee has also provided recommendations regarding other debt and financial management related policies considered desirable and consistent with the sound management of the State's debt.

SUMMARY

Background and Context

A study of debt affordability is an essential management tool that helps to provide a comprehensive assessment of a government's ability to issue debt for its capital needs. Standard & Poor's, one of the three major bond rating agencies, has stated that "Most of the 'AAA' states have a clearly articulated debt management policy. Evaluating the impact of new or authorized but unissued bond programs on future operating budgets is an important element of debt management and assessing debt affordability." Control of debt burden is one of the key factors used by rating agencies' analysts in assessing credit quality.

The Debt Affordability Advisory Committee (the "Committee" or "DAAC") is required to annually advise the Governor and the General Assembly of the estimated debt capacity of the General, Highway and Highway Trust Funds for the upcoming ten fiscal years. The legislation also directs the Committee to recommend other debt management policies it considers desirable and consistent with the sound management of the State's debt. The Committee hereby presents its study for 2013.

Debt Controls and Ratings

Debt capacity is a limited and scarce resource. It should be used only after evaluating the expected results and foregone opportunities. The Study enables the State to structure its future debt issuances within existing and future resource constraints by providing a comparison of its current debt position to relevant industry and peer group standards. The Study can thus be used to help develop and implement the State's capital budget and is premised on the concept that resources, not only needs, should guide the State's debt issuance program. The Committee's adopted guidelines attempt to strike a balance between providing sufficient debt capacity to allow for the funding of essential capital projects and imposing sufficient discipline so that the State does not create a situation that results in a loss of future budgetary flexibility and deteriorating credit position.

The State's ratings were recently affirmed at Aaa (Moody's), AAA (S&P) and AAA (Fitch). Currently, all of the State's debt ratios remain at or below the median levels for the State's peer group comprised of all states rated "triple A" by all three rating agencies. North Carolina's debt is considered manageable at current levels. In affirming the State's rating, Fitch noted that a key rating driver for North Carolina is "...a low–to-moderate debt burden and strong debt management practices...".

The Committee has adopted the ratio of debt service as a percentage of revenues as the controlling metric that determines the State's debt capacity. The State's current revenue picture is positive reflecting a continued economic recovery. The amount of debt service is projected including the issuance of the State's balance of authorized but unissued debt of approximately $206 million. After a period during which weak revenue growth constrained the State's debt capacity, the model results show that the State's General Fund has debt capacity in each of the next 10 years. The ratio of debt service to revenues will peak at 3.94%, slightly below the 4.00% target.

The combined debt capacity of the Highway Fund and the Highway Trust Fund remains exhausted until FY 2014, despite an improving revenue picture. The ratio of transportation debt service to revenues is projected to peak at 6.09% for FY 2014. This is still above the 6% limit, but it does represent an improvement from the estimates of a year ago. Although Transportation debt capacity does not currently exist, the Committee notes the significant financial support for transportation projects afforded by the issuance of Grant Anticipation Revenue Vehicle Bonds and support for the North Carolina Turnpike Authority revenue bonds. On a combined basis, the General Fund and Transportation Funds debt service is projected to peak at approximately 4.11% of revenues in FY 2014, also an improvement from a year ago.

North Carolina was not alone in the realization that the slow pace of the recovery has constrained debt capacity. In its 2012 State Debt Medians Report, Moody's notes that "...borrowing plans were also deferred as formal or informal debt policies constrained states' ability to issue new debt. Many states set debt limits relative to revenue or personal income, and as these measures declined or stagnated during the recession, so did states' debt issuing capacity." North Carolina not only refrained from instituting new debt-financed capital improvement plans, it rescinded $232 million of previously authorized debt financing in 2011.

Interest rate levels remain at or near historic lows, and the State has been able to capitalize on the very favorable market conditions by refinancing over $1.6 billion of outstanding debt since 2009, achieving aggregate debt service savings of $84.3 million. Additional refundings are anticipated. Not only do refundings increase budgetary flexibility by reducing debt service, they also help to create additional debt capacity.

Other Recommendations

Structural Budget Balance

The Committee confirms its view that North Carolina's priorities of achieving structural budgetary balance and rebuilding the State's reserve funds are strong evidence of financial stability and flexibility. The Committee also recognizes that past legislative action targeting an 8% level of reserves in the State's Budget Stabilization Fund (also known as the "Rainy Day Fund") should serve the State well in the event of future economic downturns and that recently the Rainy Day Fund has begun to be replenished after being severely depleted during the recession.

However, the Committee recommends that permanent solutions be devised that promote long term budgetary stability and that reserve fund replenishment remain a priority. These are key factors in maintaining our "triple A" bond rating.

General Obligation Bonds versus Special Indebtedness

The State has relied extensively on the authorization of Special Indebtedness (for example, Certificates of Participation and lease revenue bonds) to provide debt financing for capital projects since 2000. Such indebtedness is not subject to a vote of the people and its repayment is based on the State's annual debt service appropriation. For these reasons, Special Indebtedness is rated lower than the State's General Obligation "GO" bonds and typically carries a higher interest rate, which increases the cost of projects so financed. The State's General Fund percentage of non-voter approved Special Indebtedness now exceeds the median level for states in its peer group based on a 2006 study by one of the rating agencies. Therefore the Committee highly recommends that the State consider the authorization of General Obligation debt as the preferred, but not necessarily the only, method to provide debt financing for its capital needs. The Committee notes that the State Capital Facilities Finance Act (the "Act", Article 9 of Chapter 142) establishes the legal framework providing for the issuance of Special Indebtedness but does not authorize any additional debt without further General Assembly action. The Act is an important financial management tool that permits the State to respond to urgent needs and market conditions. In addition, any rescission of the Act may be viewed negatively by the financial markets as an indication that North Carolina no longer endorses appropriation support for debt-financed projects, which could impair the value of currently outstanding Special Indebtedness held by investors, including many North Carolinians.

Control of Debt Authorization Authority

As discussed above, the State's debt capacity has recently been constrained by declines in revenue. As an alternative to traditional debt structures, various agencies have proposed "off balance sheet" types of arrangements to provide funding for capital projects. Not only do such structures typically result in more expensive financing costs, they also circumvent the State's historically conservative debt management practices. The Committee strongly recommends that the State of North Carolina maintain its historically conservative debt management practices with regard to (1) centralized debt authorization; (2) debt management and issuance; and (3) classification of debt and debt-like obligations when determining the debt burden. These practices are among those considered by the rating agencies when assigning their "triple A" ratings to the State and ultimately allow the State to maintain a healthy financial position.

The Committee believes that centralized debt management is a key best financial management practice and should be embraced by the State as a matter of policy. Furthermore, the Committee strongly encourages the General Assembly to adopt language restricting the ability of any state department, agency, institution, board or commission to enter into financial arrangements that incur debt or debt-like obligations. The Committee notes that the Treasurer's office has developed proposed legislation for consideration by the General Assembly that would address this concern.

Other Liabilities

The State has significant liabilities that do not impact the calculation of debt capacity for the General Fund and Highway Funds (see Appendix A). One such liability is the unfunded portion of retiree health care benefits (termed Other Post Employment Benefits or "OPEB"), which totaled $29.610 billion as of December 31, 2011. This liability is not considered a "hard" liability because it is based upon estimates of costs the State will incur in the future and because the payment schedule of the liability is uncertain. Although the State has accumulated balances of approximately $725 million and recent changes to the State Health Plan have lowered the unfunded liability, the State should take additional action to fund this liability over time.

As of December 31, 2012 the State had a liability of $2.546 billion to the U.S. Treasury for funds borrowed to make unemployment benefit payments. Although that debt is not an obligation of the General Fund, its repayment, including interest costs, requires increased contributions by our employers. The Committee recognizes that the General Assembly has been working on legislative changes that would enable the federal loan to be retired in approximately 2-3 years and restore structural integrity to the system. It has also been suggested by some that the State should issue debt to repay the federal advances. The Committee recommends that great caution be used in determining whether to proceed with such a borrowing that would 1) shift the liability from the private sector to the State and would 2) exceed our debt capacity limitations and increase the State's debt burden by 35%.

The State has fully funded the annual required contribution ("ARC") for the Teachers' and State Employees' Retirement System for 70 of the last 71 years. At 94%, the System remains one of the best funded in the country. Like OPEB, any unfunded obligations do not represent a hard liability in the same way that debt service does and is not included in the model.

While these other liabilities do not impact the debt capacity of the General Fund and Highway Funds, they could have a negative impact upon the bond ratings of the State. We recommend that the General Assembly determine the best course of action to address each of these liabilities, including measures to contain costs when possible and to appropriate funds or take other action to address these liabilities.

GENERAL FUND REVENUE REPORT & ECONOMIC OUTLOOK

April 2013

Barry Boardman, Ph.D.
Fiscal Research Division
North Carolina General Assembly

FISCAL RESEARCH DIVISION
A Staff Agency of the North Carolina General Assembly

Highlights

- General Fund revenue through three quarters of the fiscal year is $110 million above a $14.3 billion revenue target.
- The State's economy has steadily been gaining strength. We anticipate the pace of economic growth to stay on a steady, upward trend.
- Federal sequestration policies may put the pace of growth at risk and as the effects begin to take hold this summer.
- Unlike the last several years, an "April surprise" is more likely especially given the added volatility from the new $50k business exemption and taxpayers' reactions to federal tax changes.

2012-13 Revenue Through December

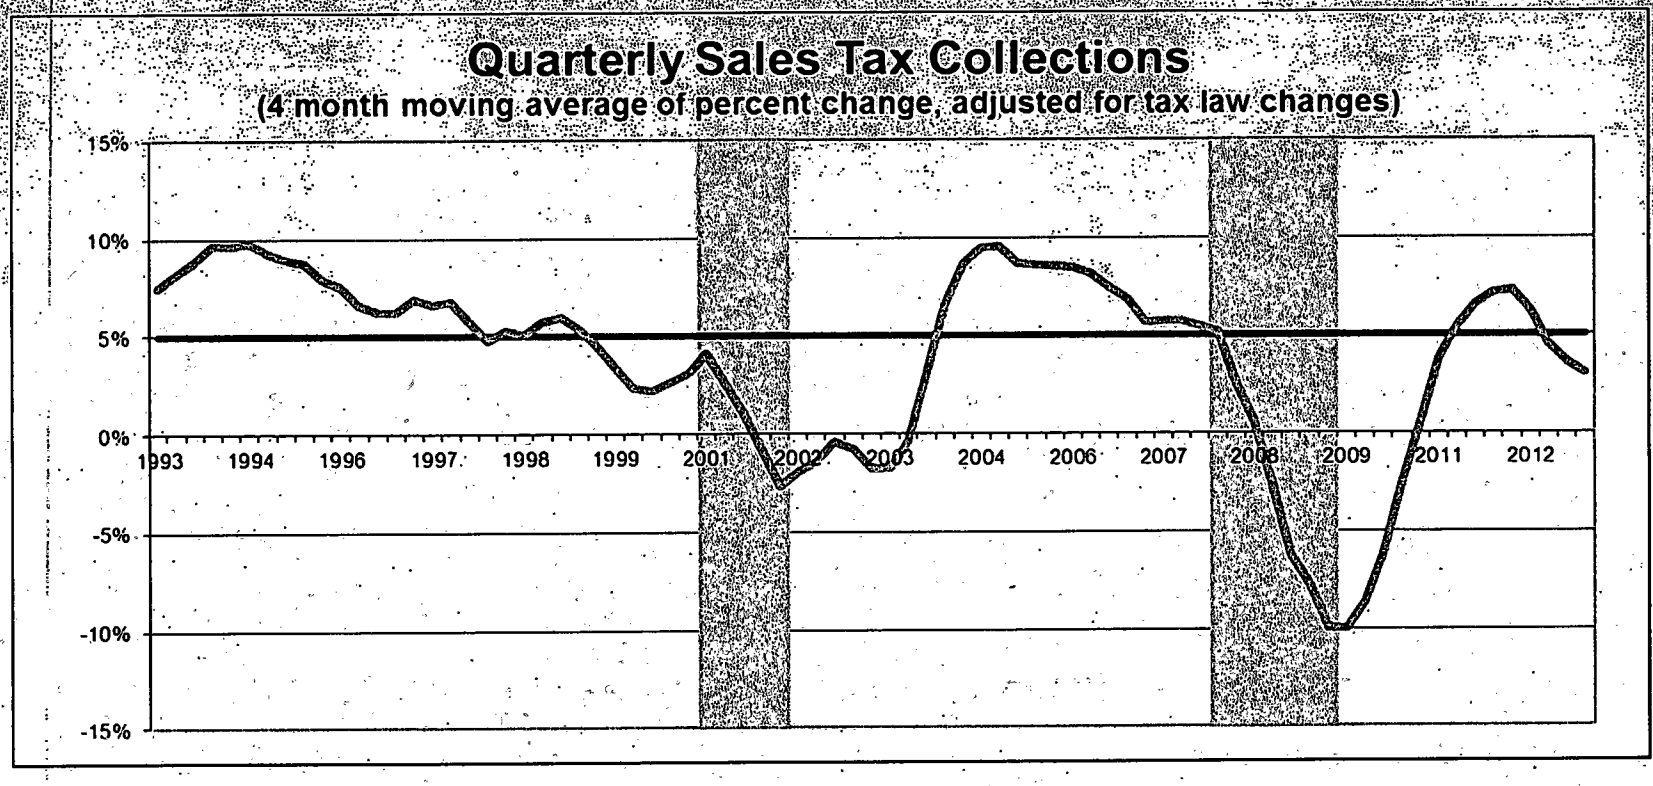
- Through March, General Fund revenue is $110 million above a $14.3 billion revenue target.
  - Tax revenues are $126 million above a $13.5 billion target.
    - Income tax collections are 1.5 % ahead of the budget target.
    - Sales tax collections remain weak with gross collections (total collections before refunds and transfers) 1.4% below target.
  - Non-tax revenues, which include short-term investment income and judicial fees, are $16.3 million below the $613 million target.

2012-13 Revenue Through December

- Through the first three quarters, income tax withholding on wages and salaries is up over last year by 5.6%.
  - The third quarter (Jan. – Mar.) withholding collections were slightly ahead of target with 5.2% growth.
- Baseline sales tax collections picked up the first two months of the third quarter growing above the 3.1% fiscal year target, but in March slowed to 2.8% growth.
  - The slowdown in March has been attributed to the two percent federal payroll tax cut that ended at the start of the year.
  - For the year, net sales tax collections (after refunds and transfers) are $90 million below the $4.0 billion target. The late summer slowdown in the economy is the main reason sales tax collections are below target. Since October, sales have tracked at or slightly above the budget targets.

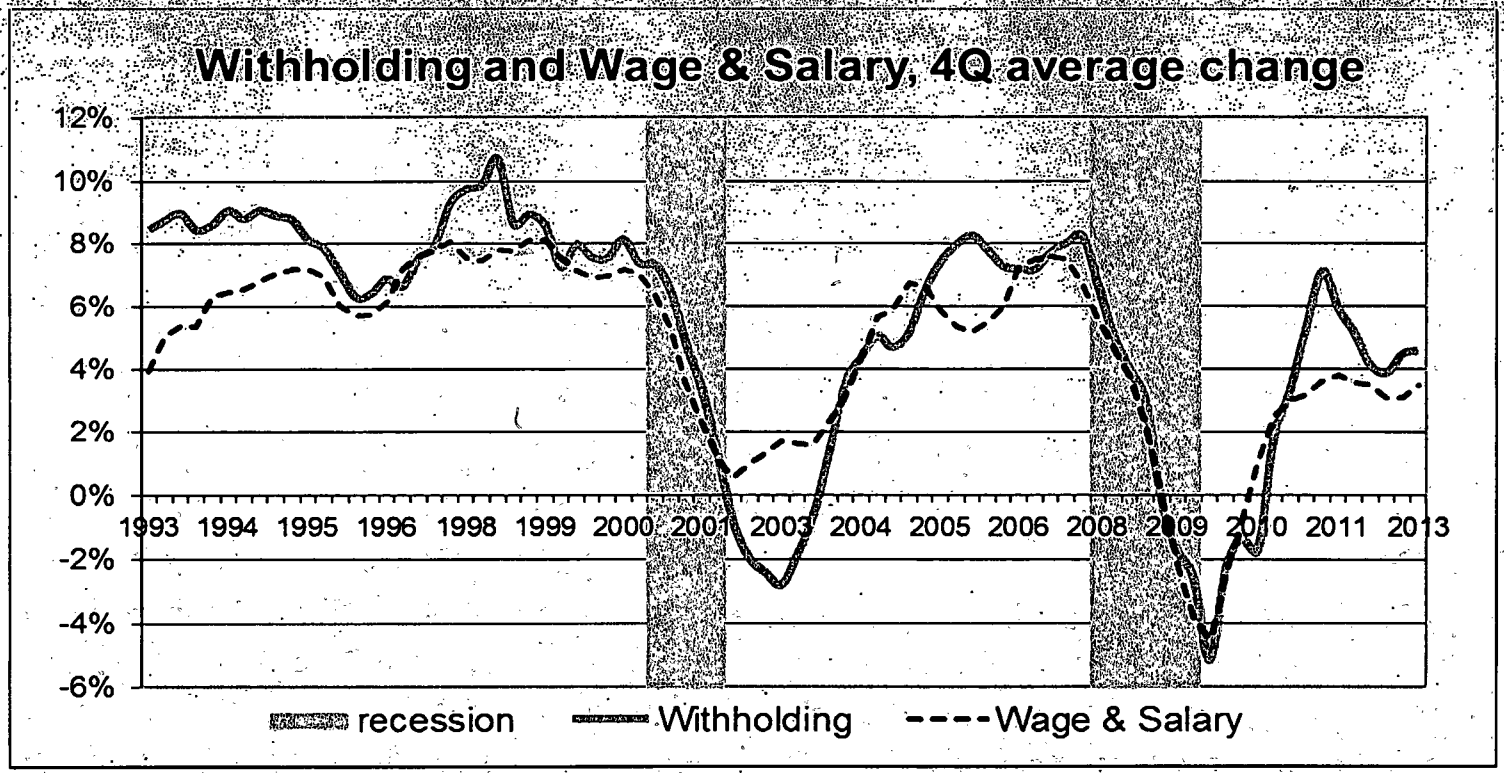
Tracking Economy-Based Collections

The consensus forecast expects baseline sales tax growth for FY 2012-13 to be 3.1%, well-below last year's growth of 6.3%. Weak growth the first-half of the fiscal year has put added pressure on the second-half of the fiscal year to meet this expectation. Thus far, the rebound in sales have not overcome the slow start.



Tracking Economy-Based Collections

The growth in Personal Income withholding continues to be the strongest, most consistent source of General Fund revenue and this fiscal year is no different. Third quarter growth picked up pace with the increase in wage and salary income.



State's Economic Outlook

- Since the economic slowdown last spring, the State's economy has steadily been gaining strength. While we do not anticipate the pace of economic growth to significantly quicken, we do expect it to stay on a steady upward trend.
- Global economic uncertainty fueled part of the slowdown last year. Global conditions always offer some uncertainty, but they have substantially stabilized over the past several months, improving the chances for steady growth.
- The State's employment picture reflects the improvements in the overall economy. Nonetheless, we do not anticipate job growth to be strong enough to significantly lower the unemployment rate until mid-2014.
  - Since last year, the State added nearly 64,000 jobs. At the same time the labor force grew by 64,500 (seasonally adjusted). The combination of modest growth and a growing work force has kept the unemployment rate from falling.

State's Economic Outlook

- The unemployment rate was 9.4% in February. Unfortunately, over the next twelve months the State's unemployment rate is expected to show only slight improvement. In the fourth quarter of 2013 the rate is forecast to be 9.2%.

State's Economic Outlook

- One important element in the strengthening of the State's overall economy, especially the employment outlook, is the housing market. With so many jobs directly and indirectly tied to housing, the recent improvements in housing are encouraging. While the gains have not been statewide, the momentum is spreading.
- Ongoing federal policy decisions remain a question mark. Sequestration policies may have a bigger impact on North Carolina's economy than in many other states due to the strong military presence and the ancillary industries related to defense.
- Despite a possible slowdown this summer, we do continue to forecast that the State's economy will begin to expand faster than the US economy overall. Unfortunately, that outcome is unlikely to occur until we get closer to 2015.
- Key drivers expected to lead us to a stronger economy will be a rebound in consumer spending both here and abroad, that will spur growth in our tourism, export, and construction industries.

State's Economic Outlook

Non-Agricultural employment (seasonally adjusted) has increased by 197,000 jobs since employment bottomed-out in February 2010, but remains 136,400 below the peak in February 2008.

The Revenue Forecast

Revenue Forecast

Since the consensus forecast in early February, changes to the State's economic forecast is a bit of a mixed bag. Economic growth (GSP) for FY 2013-14 has been downgraded since the revenue forecast. Retail sales growth has been cut by nearly a third. However, both wages and employment are expected to improve faster than originally forecast.

FY 2013-14 Growth Forecast	January	April
Gross State Product (nominal GSP)	4.5%	3.6%
Wage & Salary Income	3.9%	5.8%
Employment (Non-Ag)	1.3%	1.5%
Unemployment Rate	8.8%	9.1%
Retail Sales	3.8%	2.7%

Revenue Forecast

- The 2013-15 biennium revenue forecast begins with anticipating how the current fiscal year will end. There are two important components to the end-of-year forecast that add uncertainty to the estimate.

  1. How much did taxpayers increase their 2012 incomes in response to federal tax policy uncertainty that still persisted in December? This will not only have an effect on how the current fiscal year ends, but has implications for the upcoming fiscal year.

  2. How will the new $50k business exemption impact collections? The exemption will add volatility to the second-half of this fiscal year. The business exemption affects every taxpayer reporting non-passive, business income on their personal income tax form.

Revenue Forecast

- April collections always hold the potential to shift revenue forecast assumptions for both the current fiscal year and the upcoming fiscal year due to final income payments and refunds from the past tax year, and estimated payments from corporate and personal income taxpayers on the current tax year. Because of the added uncertainty surrounding this April, this month holds even greater interest than usual.
- The February consensus forecast tried to anticipate the directions the volatility would take, which included estimates on the increase in non-withholding income from 2012 and the reduction of some of those non-withholding dollars in the 2013 tax year. Non-withholding income includes both business income and investment income such as capital gains, interest income, and dividends.
- After April collections have been tabulated we will have a better sense of how well we anticipated the outcomes of these volatile components and whether a revision to the current revenue forecast would be warranted.

Conclusions

- The State's economy is expected to continue along the path of modest yet steady economic growth.
- The economy is on solid footing on most fronts, and improvements in the State's employment growth means the recovery will move along a sturdier track.
- Nonetheless, the ability to continue gaining ground may be sidetracked if the full effects from federal sequestration are allowed to take hold this summer.
- As usual, an "April surprise" provides some risk to the General Fund revenue forecast. With the added volatility this year, the magnitude of the "surprise" may be greater than we have grown accustom to over the last several years.
- Because of the uncertainty surrounding taxpayer behavior affecting income in the 2013 tax year, it will require even greater caution than usual regarding any potential revision to the current consensus forecast.

Senator Rabin assumed the Chair's responsibility at this point of the meeting. Senator Rucho was recognized to explain the bill. Senator Tillman moved to adopt the proposed committee substitute (PCS) for discussion and the motion carried. The penalty for failure to file a return is a maximum of 25% of "the amount of the tax." The bill would reduce the maximum penalty from 25% to 10 % and would define the term "amount of the tax." Heather Fennell, a staff attorney with the Research Division, was recognized to explain the bill. Tom Dickson, Assistant Secretary of Tax Administration – Department of Revenue, was recognized for comments. After much discussion, Senator Rucho decided to pull the bill from the agenda. Senator Tarte was recognized to offer a technical amendment. Vance Holloman, Deputy State Treasurer, was recognized to further explain the amendment. Senator Rabin moved to adopt the amendment and the motion carried. Gary Jackson, Asheville's City Manager, was recognized to speak in opposition of the bill. Senator Brock moved for a favorable

AN ACT TO AUTHORIZE A REFERENDUM OF PROPANE DEALERS AND DISTRIBUTORS REGARDING A VOLUNTARY ASSESSMENT ON PROPANE TO PROVIDE FUNDING FOR PROMOTIONAL, EDUCATIONAL, AND OTHER PROGRAMS OF THE INDUSTRY.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Chapter 119 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new Article 5A to read as follows:

"Article 5A.

"Propane Assessment Act.

"§ 119-63.1. Title.

This Article shall be known as the "Propane Assessment Act."

"§ 119-63.2. Purpose.

It is in the public interest for the State to enable dealers and distributors of propane to assess the product in order to raise funds for the purposes of promoting the common good, welfare, and advancement of the propane industry.

"§ 119-63.3. Definitions.

The following definitions apply in this Article:

(1) Association. – The North Carolina Propane Gas Association, Inc., a North Carolina nonprofit corporation.

(2) Commissioner. – The Commissioner of Agriculture or his or her designee.

(3) Dealer. – Any person who is registered with the Commissioner pursuant to G.S. 119-56 to engage in:

a. The business of selling or otherwise dealing in liquefied petroleum gases requiring handling, storing, measuring, transporting, or distributing liquefied petroleum gas; or

b. The business of installing, servicing, repairing, adjusting, connecting or disconnecting containers, equipment, or appliances using liquefied gas. A person who engages in any of the aforementioned activities only in connection with his or her employer's use of liquefied petroleum gas and not as a business shall not be deemed to be a "dealer" for the purposes of this Article.

Any person who retails liquefied petroleum gas in containers of less than 50 pounds water capacity and whose retail business does not involve the filling or transportation of such containers is not a "dealer" for purposes of this Article.

(4) Department. – The North Carolina Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services.
(5) Distributor. – A person whose primary business involves the sale of liquefied petroleum gas to a dealer.
(6) Liquefied petroleum gas. – Any material which is composed predominantly of any of the following hydrocarbons or mixtures of the same: propane, propylene, butanes (normal butanes or isobutane), and butylenes.
(7) Foundation. – North Carolina Propane Education & Research Foundation, a North Carolina nonprofit corporation that is tax exempt under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code.
(8) Person. – An individual, a partnership, a firm, or a corporation.
(9) Propane. – A liquefied petroleum gas.

"§ 119-63.4. Referendum.

(a) The Foundation may from time to time conduct referenda among dealers and distributors in this State upon the question of whether an assessment shall be levied on propane sold in this State.

(b) The Foundation, upon prior consultation with the Association, shall determine:
(1) The amount of the proposed assessment.
(2) The time and place of the referendum.
(3) Procedures for conducting the referendum and counting of votes.
(4) The proposed effective date for the imposition of the assessment, which shall not be less than 180 days from the date the referendum ballot is required to be returned to the Foundation in order to be considered on the question presented.
(5) Any other matters pertaining to the referendum.

(c) The amount of the proposed assessment shall be stated on the referendum ballot. The amount may not exceed the maximum allowable rate of two-tenths of one cent ($.002) for each gallon of propane sold in this State by distributors to dealers.

(d) All dealers and distributors may vote in the referendum. Each distributor and each dealer shall have one vote regardless of the number of bulk plants or retail sales outlets owned. Any dispute over eligibility to vote or any other matter relating to the referendum shall be resolved by the Foundation. The Foundation shall make reasonable efforts to provide all dealers and distributors with notice of the referendum and an opportunity to vote.

(e) Prior to conducting any referenda, the Foundation shall request a list of dealers and their addresses from the Department, and the Department shall provide such information to the Foundation. In order to be eligible to vote, a distributor shall provide the Foundation with a written statement signed by an authorized individual containing its corporate name, address, and the individual authorized to cast a ballot on its behalf, which statement shall be effective until revoked or modified in like manner.

(f) A proposed assessment shall become effective if more than fifty percent (50%) of the eligible votes cast by dealers in the referendum are cast in favor of the assessment and if more than fifty percent (50%) of the eligible votes cast by distributors in the referendum are cast in favor of the assessment. If the assessment is approved by the referendum, then the Foundation shall notify the Department and the Association of the amount of the assessment and the effective date of the assessment. The Department shall notify all distributors and dealers of the assessment.

"§ 119-63.5. Payment and collection of assessment; refunds.

(a) Each distributor, as the owner of propane at the time of odorization, or at the time of import of odorized propane, shall make the assessment based on the volume of odorized propane sold and placed into commerce in this State. Each dealer must pay the assessment on each gallon of propane purchased from a distributor. The assessment charge shall be identified and listed as a separate line item on each distributor's invoice to a dealer for the sale of odorized propane.

(b) Each distributor shall collect the assessment from the dealer to whom the sale is made. Each distributor shall remit to the Foundation the sum of the amount of the assessment multiplied by the number of gallons of propane sold to any dealer during the preceding quarter not later than the 25th day of the month following the end of the prior quarter. The Foundation shall provide forms to the distributors for reporting the assessment. Each distributor shall file the report not later than the 25th day of the month following the end of the prior quarter regardless of the amount due.

(c) A distributor shall keep records of the number of gallons of propane sold to dealers, including number of gallons, name of dealer, and rate of assessment. All documents or records regarding purchases and sales that are made or kept as required by this subsection or subsection (d) of this section shall be made available to the Foundation upon its written request from time to time for the purpose of determining the distributor's compliance with the provisions of this Article. The Foundation shall keep the records confidential and shall not disclose the records except to its accountants, attorneys, or financial advisors without a court order directing it to do so.

(d) The Foundation may bring an action to recover any unpaid assessments plus the reasonable costs, including attorneys' fees, incurred in the action and may use assessment funds to cover all reasonable costs and expenses incurred in connection with recovery of any unpaid assessment.

(e) A dealer may request a refund of the assessment collected from the dealer in the prior month by submitting a written request for a refund to the Foundation no later than 30 days after the end of the month for which the refund is requested. The refund request shall state specifically the period of time for which a refund is requested, the amount of the refund, the distributors to whom the dealer paid assessments, and the amount of each assessment paid and shall be accompanied by proof of payment of the assessment satisfactory to the Foundation. The Foundation shall mail a refund to the dealer within 30 days of receipt of a properly documented refund request, provided that the Foundation shall have no obligation to make a refund to a dealer of assessments that are not yet paid to the Foundation by the distributor. Any dealer who requests and is paid a refund in accordance with this subsection shall not be eligible to receive the benefit of any consumer rebate programs for a period of one year following the date of a refund request under this subsection and shall not be entitled to the payment of any interest by the Foundation on the amount refunded.

"§ 119-63.6. Use of assessments; reporting.

(a) The Foundation shall use the funds to promote the common good, welfare, and advancement of the propane industry, including, but not limited to, the following activities and programs: education, training, safety compliance, equipment replacement for low-income customers, marketing, advertising, promotion, and customer rebates to encourage energy-efficient appliance and equipment purchases by residential, commercial, or agricultural consumers. The Foundation shall consult with the Association regarding its proposed use of the funds. In addition, the Foundation shall consult with agricultural industry trade associations and other organizations representing agricultural consumers of propane to ensure that some programs and activities benefit the agriculture industry.

(b) No funds collected pursuant to this Article shall be used in any manner for influencing State or federal legislation or for lobbying.

(c) No more than ten percent (10%) of the funds collected pursuant to this Article shall be used by the Foundation for administrative expenses relating to the expenditure of the funds. The Foundation may advance costs of conducting referenda pursuant to this Article and reimburse those costs from the assessment funds. Costs of conducting referenda, litigation expenses incurred in connection with actions authorized by G.S. 119-63.5, and the cost of the audit required by subsection (e) of this section are not administrative expenses.

(d) All funds received by the Foundation pursuant to this Article shall be kept in separate accounts from other Foundation funds. The Foundation shall keep minutes, books, and records that clearly reflect all of the acts and transactions of the Foundation with respect to use and expenditure of the funds. The Foundation shall submit a written report annually, not later than March 31 of each year, to the Commissioner on the use and expenditure of the funds received pursuant to this Article.

(e) The books and records of the Foundation shall be audited by a certified public accountant each fiscal year with respect to the receipt and use of the funds. Copies of such audit shall be provided to the Commissioner, to the Association, and to any other interested party upon written request. The Foundation may pay for the audit from the assessment funds.

"§ 119-63.7. Termination of assessment.

(a) Upon the Commissioner's receipt of a petition signed by at least ten percent (10%) of the dealers requesting a referendum pursuant to this section, or a receipt of a petition signed by at least fifty percent (50%) of the distributors requesting a referendum pursuant to this section, the Department shall notify the Foundation, and the Foundation shall, within six months, conduct a referendum upon the question of continuing the assessment. If a majority of the votes eligible to be cast by dealers in the referendum are cast against continuing the assessment then in effect and a majority of the votes eligible to be cast by distributors in the referendum are cast against continuing the assessment then in effect, or if the Foundation fails to conduct a referendum within the six-month period, the assessment expires at the end of the year that follows the year in which the Commissioner received a petition pursuant to this section. If more than two-thirds of the eligible votes cast by dealers and more than two-thirds of the eligible votes cast by distributors in the referendum conducted pursuant to this section are in favor of continuing the assessment, then no subsequent referendum shall be required to be conducted pursuant to this section for a period of at least three years from the date the petition was received by the Commissioner.

(b) The Foundation may, on its own initiative, conduct a referendum at any time upon the question of continuing the assessment. If a majority of the votes eligible to be cast by dealers in the referendum are cast against continuing the assessment and if a majority of the votes eligible to be cast by distributors in the referendum are cast against continuing the assessment, the assessment then in effect expires at the end of the year that follows the year in which the referendum was conducted.

(c) The Foundation shall certify to the Department the election results of any referendum conducted pursuant to this Article and shall provide the Department, upon written request, with any documents, papers, tallies, or other information related to the conduct of any referendum conducted by the Foundation.

"§ 119-63.8. Association activities deemed not in restraint of trade; pricing.

(a) No meeting or activity undertaken by the Association or the Foundation in pursuance of the provisions of this Article shall be considered illegal under antitrust law or a restraint of trade.

(b) In all cases, the price of propane shall be determined by market forces. Neither the Foundation nor the Association may take any action nor shall any provision of this Article be interpreted as establishing an agreement to pass along to consumers the cost of any assessment provided for by this Article."

SECTION 2. This act is effective when it becomes law.

SENATE BILL 378:
Assess Propane Dealers/Distributors

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	April 24, 2013
Introduced by:	Sens. Jackson, Rabin, Walters	Prepared by:	Peter Ledford
Analysis of:	Second Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 378 would authorize the North Carolina Propane Education & Research Foundation, a North Carolina nonprofit corporation serving the propane gas industry, to assess propane at a rate of two tenths of a cent per gallon in order to raise funds for the purposes of promoting the common good, welfare, and advancement of the propane industry.

[As introduced, this bill was identical to H403, as introduced by Reps. Collins, Brisson, which is currently in House Commerce and Job Development Subcommittee on Energy and Emerging Markets.]

CURRENT LAW: There is currently no law in the State that would allow the propane gas industry to impose upon itself an assessment to be used for the common good of the industry.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 378 would create the Propane Assessment Act.

G.S. 119-63.1 would establish the title of the act as the Propane Assessment Act.

G.S. 119-63.2 would establish the purpose of the act.

G.S. 119-63.2 would establish the definitions used in the act, including the North Carolina Propane Gas Association, Inc. (Association) and the North Carolina Propane Education & Research Foundation (Foundation).

G.S. 119-63.4 would allow the Foundation to conduct a referendum among dealers and distributors of propane in the State to determine whether an assessment should be levied. The assessment could not be levied without the approval of both more than fifty percent of the votes eligible to be cast by dealers and fifty percent of the votes eligible to be cast by distributors. The assessment, if authorized, may not exceed two tenths of a cent ($0.002) per gallon of propane.

G.S. 119-63.5 would require distributors to make the assessment based on the volume of odorized propane sold and placed into commerce in the State. It would require dealers to pay the assessment for each gallon of propane purchased from a distributor. The dealers would pay the assessment to the distributors, who would remit the assessment to the Foundation. The section also includes provisions for recordkeeping, unpaid assessments, and refunds.

G.S. 119-63.6 would set requirements for how the assessment could be used. The assessment may only be used to promote the common good, welfare, and advancement of the propane industry. It may not be used to influence legislation or lobby. No more than ten percent (10%) of the assessment may be used for administrative expenses that are not related to the referenda. The assessment funds must be kept in a separate account and the records of the Foundation must be audited every fiscal year.

G.S. 119-63.7 would establish the procedures for terminating the assessment. The Foundation may, on its own initiative, conduct a referendum at any time on the question of continuing the assessment. In addition, a petition signed by either ten percent (10%) of the dealers or by fifty percent (50%) of the distributors will require the Foundation conduct a referendum within six months. If more than fifty percent of the votes eligible to be cast by dealers and fifty percent of the votes eligible to be cast by distributors are against continuing the assessment, the Foundation must terminate the assessment. If more than two-thirds of the votes eligible to be cast by dealers and two-thirds of the votes eligible to be cast by distributors are against continuing the assessment, the Foundation may not conduct another assessment within three years of the date of the petition.

G.S. 119-63.8 would state that the activities of the Foundation and the Association under this Act are not in restraint of trade and would prohibit the Foundation and the Association from establishing an agreement to pass the costs of the assessment on to consumers.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

SENATE BILL 523:
Returns W/Refunds Filed Late Penalty

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	April 24, 2013
Introduced by:	Sens. Rucho, Rabon, Rabin	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S523-CSTD-9

SUMMARY: The penalty for failure to file a return is a maximum of 25% of "the amount of the tax." Senate Bill 523 would reduce the maximum penalty from 25% to 10% and would define the term "amount of the tax."

CURRENT LAW: The Department of Revenue is authorized to impose penalties for violations of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes, including penalties for failure to file a return and failure to pay a tax due. The penalty for failure to file a return is applied to "the amount of the tax" and is a minimum of $5 or 5% for the first month and 5% for each additional month, not to exceed 25%. The penalty for a taxpayer that fails to pay a tax is a minimum of $5 or 10% of the tax.

The current practice of the Department is to apply the penalty to the net amount due: the tax imposed minus any credits and any tax paid. This practice results in no penalty for a failure to file a return for which a refund is due.

G.S. 105-236 currently does not define "the amount of the tax." Starting in October, when the new computer system known as the Tax Information Management System (TIMS) is operational, the Department has indicated it will enforce the statute by applying the penalty to the total amount due, not the net amount due. This will result in a penalty for a failure to file a return, even if a refund is due. The penalty will be imposed on the total tax liability, not the tax due at the time of the filing of the return.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 523 would clarify the penalty for failure to file a return. The bill would define the "amount of the tax" for in the following ways:

For the franchise tax, income tax, and gross premiums tax the "amount of the tax" would include any credits allowed. However the "amount of the tax" would not reflect any payments made, including estimated payments and withholding amounts. The "amount of the tax" would be reduced by the tax credits allowed under Chapter 105, for example, the credit against the income tax for children, or for charitable contributions by nonitemizers. This could result in a failure to file penalty applying to returns for which a refund is due.

For all other taxes, "the amount of the tax" is the total tax imposed for the period covered by the return.

The bill would lower the amount of the penalty for failure to file to file to 5% for the first month, and 5% for each additional month not to exceed 10%.

Sections 2 and 3 of the bill are conforming changes. The minimum amount for both the penalty for failure to file and the penalty for the failure to pay were repealed at the request of the Department.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective for penalties assessed on or after October 1, 2013.

Any person assessed a civil penalty by the district shall be notified of the assessment by registered or certified mail, and the notice shall specify the reasons for the assessment. If the person assessed fails to pay the amount of the assessment to the district within 30 days after receipt of notice, or such longer period, not to exceed 180 days, as the district may specify, the district may institute a civil action in the General Court of Justice of the county in which the violation occurred or, in the discretion of the district, in the General Court of Justice of the county in which the person assessed has his or its principal place of business, to recover the amount of the assessment. The validity of the district's action may be appealed directly to General Court of Justice in the county in which the violation occurred or may be raised at any time in the action to recover the assessment. Neither failure to contest the district's action directly nor failure to raise the issue of validity in the action to recover an assessment precludes the other.

(c) An ordinance may provide that it may be enforced by an appropriate equitable remedy issuing from court of competent jurisdiction. In such case, the General Court of Justice shall have jurisdiction to issue such orders as may be appropriate, and it shall not be a defense to the application of the district for equitable relief that there is an adequate remedy at law.

(d) Subject to the express terms of an ordinance, a district ordinance may be enforced by any one, all, or a combination of the remedies authorized and prescribed by this section.

(e) An ordinance may provide, when appropriate, that each day's continuing violation shall be a separate and distinct offense.

"§ 162A-85.29. No privatization.

The district board may not in any way privatize the provision of water or sewer to the customers of the district unless related to administrative matters only."

SECTION 3. G.S. 159-44(4) reads as rewritten:

HOUSE BILL 488:
Regionalization of Public Utilities

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	April 22, 2013
Introduced by:	Reps. Moffitt, McGrady, Ramsey	Prepared by:	R. Erika Churchill
Analysis of:	PCS to Third Edition H488-CSSTf-35		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: The pcs for House Bill 488 would establish a statutory framework for the creation and operation of a metropolitan water and sewerage district, and require regionalization of certain large water systems and interconnected sewer systems.

CURRENT LAW:

Chapter 162A governs water systems and sewer systems which are not operated as a public enterprise or department of a county or city. In particular that chapter provides the creation and operation of water and sewer authorities, metropolitan water districts, metropolitan sewerage districts, and county water and sewer districts. The method of establishment varies, but generally upon creation, each of the entities has a governing board appointed by the units of local government involved that operate the system, with specific authority to set rates and fees, power to sue and be sued, and authority to contract in the name of the entity, amongst other powers and duties.

Additionally, water and sewer authorities have the authority charge special assessments (G.S. 162A-6(a)(14a)), and metropolitan water districts, metropolitan sewer districts, and county water and sewer districts have the authority to tax (G.S. 162A-45, 162A-71, 162A-91). All have the authority to issue bonds (G.S. 162A-8, 162A-37, 162A-70, 162A-90).

All are subject to the open meeting law and public records law.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Section 1. Transfers the all of the assets and liabilities of any public water system serving more 120,000 people that is not part of a joint or regional system to the metropolitan sewerage district in the county where that water system is located, to be operated as a metropolitan water and sewerage district (MSWD). Also transfers the assets and liabilities of any public sewer system interconnected with that water system to the metropolitan sewerage district, to be operated as a MSWD, and the assets and liabilities of the metropolitan sewerage district are transferred to the MSWD.

Section 2. Establishes a framework for the creation and operation of a metropolitan water and sewerage district (MSWD), as follows:

- Creates a district board, of no more than 15 members appointed by the counties and cities served by the MSWD. Counties with a population over 200,000 and cities with a population over 75,000 that are served by the MSWD would have increased membership on the board. The board would elect officers from within its membership, serve 3 year terms, and may be removed by the appointing authority.

- Grants authority to the MSWD to exercise any of the powers and duties of a metropolitan water district or a metropolitan sewerage district. The MSWD would be subject to the Local Government Budget and Fiscal Control Act.
- Grants authority to the MSWD to set rates and fees, issue bonds and notes. Any rates and fees may not apply differing treatment within and outside the corporate limits of any city or county within the jurisdiction of the MSWD.
- Requires the MSWD to seek the approval of the county or city in which the MSWD constructs new water systems or sewer systems.
- Prohibits privatization of the provision of water or sewer, except for administrative matters only.

Sections 3-5. Conforming changes.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS ABOUT THE ASHEVILLE WATER SYSTEM

I. Does Asheville's regional water system require higher rates to customers outside the City?

NO. The law requires just the opposite. Customers inside and outside the City pay the same rates. The Sullivan Acts ensure that. The City of Asheville has no desire to pursue legislation or policies that result in inequitable treatment to rate-payers who live outside the city limit.

II. Does Asheville take $3 million a year out of the enterprise fund to subsidize the City's general fund?

NO. Similar to other City departments, the Water Fund pays for expenditures associated with shared central support services, otherwise known as overhead costs (e.g. human resources, financial management, information technology, legal services). The City utilizes the services of a third-party to annually prepare a cost allocation plan (CAP) to identify indirect central service costs, determine a reasonable basis for allocating those costs to operating activities, and then calculate the costs to be allocated to each operating department. This process follows generally accepted accounting principles.

The water utility consists of more than 140 employees and provides water to more than 125,000 people. The City's water system is comprised of 3 water treatment plants (WTPs), 40 pump stations, 32 ground storage tanks, and approximately 1,660 miles of pipe. An enterprise of this size certainly requires functions covering financial management and billing, payroll, purchasing, fleet maintenance, human resource management, and other related central services. The table below shows Asheville's indirect cost allocation compared to other cities in North Carolina. Asheville's cost allocation for central services related to water are in line with other water utilities'.

Utility	Year	Transfer	Operating Expenses	Transfer as a % of OE
Asheville	2012	$ 2,349,404	$ 18,351,872	12.80%
Cary	2012	5,326,178	38,245,284	13.93%
Charlotte	2011	9,424,014	100,592,389	9.37%
Durham	2010	5,797,679	54,183,477	10.70%
Raleigh	2012	13,270,843	96,862,398	13.70%

III. Are most water meters outside the City, even though most usage is inside the City?

NO. 56% of the system's 56,900 meters are inside the City, and a majority of the consumption is inside the City.

IV. Does the City of Asheville withdraw $3 million a year from the water receipts that can be used for sidewalks and roads that are affected by water system improvements?

NO. While the Sullivan Act allows the City to use up to 5% of water revenues for infrastructure improvements associated with waterline projects, the City uses much less for these purposes. To date, the amount the city has spent from water transfers is $140,000. Money that is budgeted but not spent is returned to the fund.

V. Does the City use these funds for more than infrastructure affected by water improvements?

NO. The City uses the funds strictly as allowed by the 2009 amendment to the Sullivan Act.

Proposed legislation, HB252 (Asheville Transfers), passed the House 74-40 on April 3. The proposed bill would take away the city's ability to use water revenues to fund future street and sidewalk projects related to waterline repair. The Sullivan Acts currently provide the city the legal right to make such infrastructure investments.

While the proposed bill aims to take away the city's ability to use water revenues to fund these types of related infrastructure improvements, it does contain language that provides funding for street and sidewalk improvements currently planned which further legitimizes the city's historic use of these funds.

VI. Did the City of Asheville use revenue from the Asheville/Buncombe Water Authority to subsidize its general fund?

NO. The City of Asheville, Buncombe County and the Asheville/Buncombe Water Authority maintained interlocal agreements during the years of 1982 – 2005. While these agreements mainly covered the operating and governance structure of the Authority, they also called for the City and County to be paid a percentage of gross water revenues annually, 5.0% and 2.5% respectively. Known to some as the "Asheville-Buncombe Compromise", these transfers were a regulatory solution for the inability of the Asheville/Buncombe Water Authority to charge differential water rates. Audits of available records (1991 – 2005) show that City transfers were in accordance with the agreements[1].

VII. Does the City of Asheville intend to pursue policies to "double, triple and possibly quadruple increases" in water rates (Metropolitan Sewerage/Water System Committee 2012)?

NO. The City understands that sound economic development depends on predictable policy and accountable government. In our region, water customers know that rates and policies will be the same across the service area, inside the City and out, and that they can work with elected officials to ensure stability of policy and service.

The City of Asheville has worked to ensure that residential and commercial water rates are fair and predictable. To that end, water rates are projected to increase by no more than 1.5% annually for residential, multi-family, small commercial and manufacturing customers. Annual rate increases are capped at 3.5% for large commercial customers.

VIII. Would the proposed forced transfer of Asheville's water system to a non-elected regional system board save the ratepayers $3 million a year?

NO. The City is working on developing shared functions with the Metropolitan Sewerage District that can lead to savings, if implemented over a timely fashion. However, the proposed forced transfer of the water system will cost the taxpayers of Asheville $33.8 million over the first 9 years.

It is also important to understand that placing the utility in the hands of an appointed board does not provide the same level of transparency and accountability as having oversight by elected officials that are easily identified in the city, county and region.

IX. Will consolidation of MSD and City of Asheville Water Utility save utility customers millions of dollars annually?

NO. True economies of scale are achieved with utility consolidation when there is an opportunity to share plants and treatment facilities. Since water and wastewater use different treatment systems, they cannot share plants. As a result, the only savings that come from the consolidation of water and wastewater are through sharing "central services" – Human Resources, Finance, Purchasing, IT Services, etc.

[1] City of Asheville, NC, Budget and Audit Documents, 1991 – 2005, 02 February 2013. http://bit.ly/WyGABG

If economies of scale and financial savings were the goals of consolidation, then the most cost efficient models would be to consolidate under the City of Asheville or Buncombe County. These organizations already provide central services to a wider range of services, making them more affordable for the taxpayer. The City of Asheville conducted a financial analysis that shows consolidation under MSD will cost city taxpayers $33 million over nine years while not providing significant cost savings to water rate payers.

Asheville and MSD already share some central services, like customer service and billing. Additional consolidation could be achieved without state legislation through interlocal agreements among the City, the County and MSD and other interested parties. Such an agreement would capitalize on shared services - such as purchasing, warehouses, fleet maintenance, employee benefits and information technology - while avoiding the high costs of a complete merger.

X. Does the City of Asheville have one of the highest leakage rates in the state? Does it waste approximately 30% of the water it pumps?

NO. The 30% figure more correctly represents the current non-revenue or unbilled portion of the water produced. It includes water that is used for water treatment, fire training, fire suppression, flushing for water quality and hydrant testing, inaccurate metering, and theft as well as leakage. The actual number for leakage is much lower than the 30 percent. The non-revenue uses of water are similar for other systems and are not a unique circumstance for the Asheville system and are not related to the expenditure of water revenues.

The mountainous terrain requires 39 independent pressure zones to avoid extreme (i.e., excessive or minimal) pressures. The current system supplies water to areas that range in elevation from 1,950 to 3,700 feet mean sea level (MSL). This system experiences unusually high pressures in some areas that contribute directly to water loss. Added to this is the system miles of pipe (over 1650 miles) that also contribute to the water loss. Our consulting engineers, Brown and Caldwell, have stated publically that our water loss is acceptable when the pressures and miles of pipe are considered. Based on the Infrastructure Leakage Index used to compare systems, Asheville compares favorably to other systems. There is a calculation for "unavoidable annual loss" and Asheville's loss is reasonable. The economic benefit from aggressive leak reduction activities is marginal when compared to the cost of water production according to Brown and Caldwell.

XI. Hasn't the City of Asheville allowed the system to fall into disarray?

NO. Asheville has invested more than $70 million in capital infrastructure since Fiscal Year 2005-2006, which is more than two and a half times than in the previous six years when the systems was governed under a regional water agreement. The City's financial forecast projects $125.9 million in system improvements over the next ten years.

XII. Hasn't the NC Treasurer's Office determined the City of Asheville will not be negatively impacted by the transfer of water assets and liabilities to the proposed Authority?

No opinion or finding of this fact by the North Carolina Treasurer's Office Local Government Commission has been provided to the City of Asheville. The statement seems to refer to what impact a forced transfer might have on the City's balance sheet by transferring assets and liabilities to another entity, thereby reducing the City's overall net assets, which is a different issue than the annual financial impact a forced transfer would have on city taxpayers.

S.B. 129 – Limit State Facilities Finance Act Debt

Senator Tucker was recognized to explain the bill and moved to adopt the proposed committee substitute (PCS) for discussion. The motion carried. The bill would limit the amount of special indebtedness the General Assembly could authorize to 25% of the amount of general obligation bond indebtedness supported by the General Fund. The PCS applies the limit to all indebtedness supported by the General Fund that was authorized pursuant to legislation enacted after January 1, 2013. Senator Cook moved for a favorable report and the motion carried. A copy of the PCS and the summary is attached.

S.B. 25 – Hunting & Fishing/Active Duty Military

Senator Brown was recognized to explain the bill which amend G.S. 113-130(4)e. to define active duty members of the U.S. Armed Forces outside the State of North Carolina as individual residents of the State for the purposes of obtaining certain hunting, fishing, trapping, sportsman, and special activity licenses. Senator Clodfelter moved for a favorable report. The motion carried. A copy of the bill and the summary is attached.

S.B. 368 – Inmates Prescriptions/Pistol Permits

Senator Bingham was recognized to explain the bill. Senator Brown motioned to adopt the PCS for discussion and the motion carried. The PCS would authorize county jails to charge a fee of $10 for prescription drugs, and would amend the fee for pistol permits. Senator Bingham offered an amendment that changes the fees. Heather Fennell, a staff attorney with the Research Division, was recognized to explain the amendment. Senator Bingham moved for the amendments adoption and the motion passed. Senator Hise motioned for a favorable report and the motion carried. A copy of the PCS, the summary and the amendment is attached.

S.B. 547 – Energy Savings Contracting Amendments

Senator Hunt was recognized to explain the bill and moved to adopt the PCS for discussion. The motion carried. The bill does two things as it relates to energy savings contracts: 1) Sections 1-3 make changes to the law governing guaranteed energy savings contracts to provide for an initial selection process based on qualifications rather than cost. The PCS further deletes the current law requirement that a governmental unit publish a second notice of a request for proposals if fewer than two proposals have been received; and 2) Section 4 limits the self-performance of an energy conservation measure by a constituent institution of the UNC system to a project currently being piloted by NCSU and any other energy conversation project for which it issues an RFP and secures financing before the end of 2014. Senator Brown moved for a favorable report and the motion carried. A copy of the PCS and the summary is attached.

The meeting adjourned at 1:48 p.m.

Insurance Committee Substitute Adopted 4/18/13

Short Title: NC Captive Insurance Act. (Public)

March 28, 2013

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO ENACT THE NORTH CAROLINA CAPTIVE INSURANCE ACT.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Article 10 of Chapter 58 of the North Carolina General Statutes is amended by adding a new Part to read:

"Part 9. Captive Insurance Companies.

"Subpart 1. General Provisions.

"§ 58-10-335. Purpose.

(a) This Part shall be known and may be cited as the "North Carolina Captive Insurance Act."

(b) The purpose of this Part is to establish the procedures for the organization and regulation of the operations of captive insurance companies within this State and thereby promote the general welfare of the people of this State.

"§ 58-10-340. Definitions.

The following definitions apply in this Part:

(1) Affiliated company. – Any company in the same corporate system as a parent, an industrial insured, or a member organization by virtue of common ownership, control, operation, or management.

(2) Alien. – An alien company as defined in G.S. 58-1-5.

(3) Alien captive insurance company. – Any insurance company formed to write insurance business for its parents and affiliates and licensed pursuant to the laws of an alien jurisdiction which imposes statutory or regulatory standards in a form acceptable to the Commissioner on companies transacting the business of insurance in such jurisdiction.

(4) Association. – Any legal association of individuals, corporations, limited liability companies, partnerships, associations, or other entities that meets the criteria set forth in either sub-subdivision a. or b. of this subdivision:

a. The member organizations of the association or the association itself, either alone or in conjunction with some or all of the member organizations, are described by any of the following:

1. Owning, controlling, or holding with power to vote all of the outstanding voting securities of an association captive insurance company incorporated as a stock insurer.

2. Having complete voting control over an association captive insurance company incorporated as a mutual insurer.

3. Constituting all of the subscribers of an association captive insurance company formed as a reciprocal insurer.
4. Having complete voting control over an association captive insurance company formed as a limited liability company.

b. Each member organization of the association is one of the following:
1. A not-for-profit corporation, nonprofit association, or similar nonprofit organization.
2. An entity or organization exempt from taxation under Section 501(c) of the Internal Revenue Code, 26 U.S.C. § 501(c).
3. A municipality, metropolitan government, county, authority, utility district, or other public body generally classified as a governmental body or governmental entity, whether organized by local act or public act of the General Assembly, or any agency, board, or commission of any municipality, metropolitan government, county, authority, utility district or other public body generally classified as a governmental body or governmental entity. This sub-sub-subdivision shall be liberally construed.

(5) Association captive insurance company. – Any company that insures risks of the member organizations of an association, and that also may insure the risks of affiliated companies of the member organizations and the risks of the association itself.

(6) Branch business. – Any insurance business transacted by a branch captive insurance company in this State.

(7) Branch captive insurance company. – Any alien captive insurance company licensed by the Commissioner to transact the business of insurance in this State through a business unit with a principal place of business in this State. A branch captive insurance company is a pure captive insurance company with respect to operations in this State, unless otherwise permitted by the Commissioner.

(8) Branch operations. – Any business operations of a branch captive insurance company in this State.

(9) Captive insurance company. – Any pure captive insurance company, association captive insurance company, industrial insured captive insurance company, risk retention group, protected cell captive insurance company, incorporated cell captive insurance company, or special purpose financial captive insurance company formed or licensed under this Part.

(10) Commissioner. – Defined in G.S. 58-1-5.

(11) Control, controlling, controlled by, or under common control with. – The possession, direct or indirect, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of a person, whether through the ownership of voting securities, by contract other than a commercial contract for goods or nonmanagement services, or otherwise; provided that such power is not the result of an official position or corporate office held by the person. Control shall be presumed to exist if a person, directly or indirectly, owns, controls, holds with the power to vote, or holds proxies representing ten percent (10%) or more of the voting securities of another person. This presumption may be rebutted by a showing that control does not exist. Notwithstanding this definition, for purposes of this Part, the fact that an SPFC exclusively provides reinsurance to a ceding insurer under an SPFC contract is not by itself sufficient grounds for a finding that the SPFC and ceding insurer are under common control.

(12) Controlled unaffiliated business. – A person meeting all of the following:

a. The person is not in the corporate system of a parent and its affiliated companies in the case of a pure captive insurance company, or is not in the corporate system of an industrial insured and its affiliated companies in the case of an industrial insured captive insurance company.

b. The person has an existing contractual relationship with a parent or one of its affiliated companies in the case of a pure captive insurance company, or with an industrial insured or one of its affiliated companies in the case of an industrial insured captive insurance company.

c. The person's risks are managed by a pure captive insurance company or an industrial insured captive insurance company, as applicable, in accordance with G.S. 58-10-470.

(13) Counterparty. – An SPFC's parent or affiliated company or a ceding insurer to the SPFC contract. A nonaffiliated company may be designated a counterparty, but that designation is subject to the prior approval of the Commissioner.

(14) Court. – Defined in G.S. 58-30-10.

(15) Department. – Defined in G.S. 58-1-5.

(16) General account. – All assets and liabilities of a protected cell captive insurance company not attributable to a protected cell.

(17) Incorporated cell. – A protected cell of an incorporated cell captive insurance company that is organized as a corporation or other legal entity separate from the incorporated cell captive insurance company.

(18) Incorporated cell captive insurance company. – A protected cell captive insurance company that is established as a corporation or other legal entity separate from its incorporated cells that are also organized as separate legal entities.

(19) Industrial insured. – An insured that meets all of the following:

a. It procures the insurance of any risk or risks by use of the services of a full-time employee acting as an insurance manager or buyer.

b. Its aggregate annual premiums for insurance on all risks total at least twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000).

c. It has at least 25 full-time employees.

(20) Industrial insured captive insurance company. – Any company that insures risks of the industrial insureds that comprise the industrial insured group, and that may insure the risks of the affiliated companies of the industrial insureds and the risks of the controlled unaffiliated business of an industrial insured or its affiliated companies.

(21) Industrial insured group. – Any group of industrial insureds that collectively are described by any of the following:

a. Own, control, or hold with power to vote all of the outstanding voting securities of an industrial insured captive insurance company incorporated as a stock insurer.

b. Have complete voting control over an industrial insured captive insurance company incorporated as a mutual insurer.

c. Constitute all of the subscribers of an industrial insured captive insurance company formed as a reciprocal insurer.

d. Have complete voting control over an industrial insured captive insurance company formed as a limited liability company.

(22) Insurance securitization or securitization. – A transaction or a group of related transactions which meet the requirements of sub-subdivisions a. and b. of this subdivision:

a. The transactions include capital market offerings that are effected through related risk transfer instruments and facilitating administrative agreements where all or part of the result of such transactions is used to fund the SPFC's obligations under a reinsurance contract with a ceding insurer and by which one of the following occur:

1. Proceeds are obtained by a SPFC, directly or indirectly, through the issuance of securities by the SPFC or any other person.

2. All of the following occur: (i) a person provides one or more letters of credit or other assets for the benefit of the SPFC; (ii) the Commissioner authorizes the SPFC to treat such letters of credit or other assets as admitted assets for purposes of the SPFC's annual report; and (iii) all or any part of such proceeds, letters of credit, or assets, as applicable, are used to fund the SPFC's obligations under a reinsurance contract with a ceding insurer.

b. The transactions do not include the issuance of a letter of credit for the benefit of the Commissioner to satisfy all or part of the SPFC's capital and surplus requirements under G.S. 58-10-575.

(23) Member organization. – Any individual, corporation, limited liability company, partnership, association, or other entity that belongs to an association.

(24) Mutual corporation. – A corporation organized without stockholders and includes a nonprofit corporation with members.

(25) Mutual insurer. – A company owned by its policyholders where no stock is available for purchase on the stock exchanges.

(9) Failure to carry on insurance business in or from this State.

(10) By request of the captive insurance company.

(b) Before the Commissioner suspends or revokes the license of a captive insurance company under subdivisions (a)(7) or (a)(8) of this section, the Commissioner shall give the captive insurance company notice in writing of the grounds on which the Commissioner proposes to suspend or revoke the license, and shall afford the captive insurance company an opportunity to make objection in writing within the period of 30 days after receipt of notice. The Commissioner shall take into consideration any objection received by the Commissioner within that period and, if the Commissioner decides to suspend or revoke the license, cause the order of suspension or revocation to be served on the captive insurance company.

"§ 58-10-440. Investment requirements.

(a) Except as may be otherwise authorized by the Commissioner, association captive insurance companies and risk retention groups shall comply with the investment requirements contained in G.S. 58-7-167, 58-7-170, 58-7-172, 58-7-173, 58-7-178, 58-7-179, 58-7-180, 58-7-183, 58-7-185, 58-7-187, 58-7-188, 58-7-192, 58-7-193, 58-7-197, 58-7-200, and 58-7-205, as applicable. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Chapter, the Commissioner may approve the use of alternative reliable methods of valuation and rating.

(b) No pure captive insurance company, industrial insured captive insurance company, protected cell captive insurance company, incorporated cell captive insurance company, or special purpose financial captive insurance company shall be subject to any restrictions on allowable investments, provided that the Commissioner may prohibit or limit any investment that threatens the solvency or liquidity of any such company.

(c) No pure captive insurance company shall make a loan to or an investment in its parent company or affiliates without prior written approval of the Commissioner, and any such loan or investment shall be evidenced by documentation approved by the Commissioner. Loans of minimum capital and surplus funds required by G.S. 58-10-370 are prohibited.

(d) Notwithstanding this section or G.S. 58-7-167, 58-7-170, 58-7-172, 58-7-173, 58-7-178, 58-7-179, 58-7-180, 58-7-183, 58-7-185, 58-7-187, 58-7-188, 58-7-192, 58-7-193, 58-7-197, 58-7-200, and 58-7-205, an association captive insurance company of an association described in G.S. 58-10-340(4)(b) may hold any interest in qualified headquarters property, and the qualified headquarters property shall be admitted assets and authorized investments of the association captive insurance company. The net book value of the qualified headquarters property deemed admitted and authorized under this subsection may not exceed two million five hundred thousand dollars ($2,500,000), and an association captive insurance company holding qualified headquarters property pursuant to this subsection shall at all times maintain total surplus, without regard to the qualified headquarters property, of at least the sum of (i) fifty percent (50%) of the net book value of the qualified headquarters property and (ii) the minimum capital and surplus requirements. For purposes of this subsection, "qualified headquarters property" includes the real property and the building in which the principal office of the association captive insurance company is located and also includes any improved and unimproved real property of the association captive insurance company that is located within 1,500 feet of the company's principal office.

"§ 58-10-445. Reinsurance.

(a) Any captive insurance company may provide reinsurance as authorized by this Chapter on risks ceded by any other insurer.

(b) Any captive insurance company may take credit for the reinsurance of risks or portions of risks ceded to reinsurers complying with this Chapter. If the reinsurer is licensed as a risk retention group, then the ceding risk retention group or its members must qualify for membership with the reinsurer. The Commissioner shall have the discretion to allow a captive insurance company to take credit for the reinsurance of risks or portions of risks ceded to an unauthorized reinsurer, after review, on a case-by-case basis. The Commissioner may require any documents, financial information, or other evidence that such an unauthorized reinsurer will be able to demonstrate adequate security for its financial obligations.

(c) In addition to reinsurers authorized by this Chapter, a captive insurance company may take credit for the reinsurance of risks or portions of risks ceded to a pool, exchange, or association to the extent authorized by the Commissioner. The Commissioner may require any documents, financial information, or other evidence that such a pool, exchange, or association will be able to provide adequate security for its financial obligations. The Commissioner may deny authorization or impose any limitations on the activities of a reinsurance pool, exchange, or association that in the Commissioner's judgment are necessary and proper to provide adequate security for the ceding captive insurance company and for the protection and consequent benefit of the public at large.

(d) Insurance by a captive insurance company of any workers' compensation or accident and health-qualified self-insured plan shall only be in the form of reinsurance.

(e) No credit shall be allowed for reinsurance where the reinsurance contract does not result in the complete transfer of the risk or liability to the reinsurer.

(f) No credit shall be allowed, as an asset or a deduction from liability, to any ceding insurer for reinsurance unless the reinsurance is payable by the assuming insurer on the basis of the liability of the ceding insurer under the contract reinsured without diminution because of the insolvency of the ceding insurer.

(g) Reinsurance under this section shall be effected through a written agreement of reinsurance setting forth the terms, provisions, and conditions governing such reinsurance. The Commissioner may require that complete copies of all reinsurance treaties and contracts be filed and approved by the Commissioner.

"§ 58-10-450. Membership in rating organizations; exemption from compulsory associations.

(a) No captive insurance company shall be required to join a rating organization.

(b) No captive insurance company shall be permitted to join or contribute financially to any plan, pool, association, or guaranty or insolvency fund in this State, nor shall any such captive insurance company, or any insured or affiliate thereof, receive any benefit from any such plan, pool, association, or guaranty or insolvency fund for claims arising out of the operations of such captive insurance company.

"§ 58-10-455. Taxation.

(a) Each captive insurance company shall pay to the Department of Revenue, on or prior to March 1 of each year, a tax at the rate of four-tenths of one percent (0.4%) on the first twenty million dollars ($20,000,000), and three-tenths of one percent (0.3%) on each dollar thereafter on the direct premiums collected or contracted for on policies or contracts of insurance written by the captive insurance company during the year ending December 31 next preceding, after deducting from the direct premiums subject to the tax the amounts paid to policyholders as return premiums. Return premiums shall include dividends on unabsorbed premiums or premium deposits returned or credited to policyholders.

(b) Each captive insurance company shall pay to the Department of Revenue, on or prior to March 1 of each year, a tax at the rate of two hundred twenty-five thousandths of one percent (0.225%) on the first twenty million dollars ($20,000,000) of assumed reinsurance premium, and one hundred fifty thousandths of one percent (0.150%) on the next twenty million dollars ($20,000,000), and fifty thousandths of one percent (0.050%) on the next twenty million dollars ($20,000,000), and twenty-five thousandths of one percent (0.025%) of each dollar thereafter. However, no reinsurance tax applies to premiums for risks or portions of risks that are subject to taxation on a direct basis pursuant to subsection (a) of this section. No reinsurance premium tax shall be payable in connection with the receipt of assets in exchange for the assumption of loss reserves and other liabilities of another insurer under common ownership and control, provided that the Commissioner verifies that such transaction is part of a plan to discontinue the operations of such other insurer, and that the intent of the parties to such transaction is to renew or maintain such business with the captive insurance company.

(c) Except with regard to a protected cell captive insurance company, as defined in G.S. 58-10-340, with more than 10 cells, the annual minimum aggregate tax to be paid by a captive insurance company calculated under subsections (a) and (b) of this section shall be five thousand dollars ($5,000), and the annual maximum aggregate tax shall be one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000). For a protected cell captive insurance company with more than 10 cells, the annual minimum aggregate tax to be paid under subsections (a) and (b) of this section shall be ten thousand dollars ($10,000), and the annual maximum aggregate tax shall be the lesser of (i) one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) plus five thousand dollars ($5,000) multiplied by the number of cells over 10 and (ii) two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000). If a captive insurance company is a special purpose financial captive and if such captive insurance company is subject to subsection (e) of this section as a captive insurance company under common ownership and control with one or more other captive insurance companies (collectively the "consolidated group"), the premium tax calculated with respect to the consolidated group under subsections (a) and (b) of this section shall be allocated to each member of the consolidated group in the same proportion that the premium allocable to such member bears to the total premium of all members. The consolidated group shall pay an aggregate premium tax equal to the greater of the sum of the premium tax allocated to the members and five thousand dollars ($5,000), provided that:

(1) If the total of premium tax allocated to all members of a consolidated group that are special purpose financial captives exceeds one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), then the total premium tax allocated to such members shall be one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000).

(2) If the total of premium tax allocated to all members of the consolidated group that are not special purpose financial captive insurance companies exceeds one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), then the total of premium tax allocated to such members shall be one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000).

(d) The tax provided for in this section shall constitute all taxes collectible under the laws of this State from any captive insurance company and from any insured on its payments to a captive insurance company, and no other occupation tax or other taxes shall be levied or collected from any captive insurance company by this State or any county, city, or municipality within this State, except ad valorem taxes on real and personal property used in the production of income.

(e) Subject to subsection (c) of this section, two or more captive insurance companies under common ownership and control shall be taxed as though they were a single captive insurance company.

(f) There shall be created a special fund known as the Captive Insurance Regulatory Fund which shall receive appropriations to cover cost of staff and other expenses incurred by the Commissioner in both regulating captive insurance companies and promoting North Carolina's captive insurance industry. All premium taxes paid to the Department of Revenue under this Part shall be deposited in the Captive Insurance Regulatory Fund. At the end of each fiscal year, the balance in the Captive Insurance Regulatory Fund, in excess of such amount reasonably necessary to fund the Commissioner's administration of this Part and the promotion of North Carolina's captive insurance industry during the upcoming fiscal year, shall be transferred to the General Fund. Within 30 days after the end of each fiscal year, the Commissioner shall submit to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations and the Fiscal Research Division of the General Assembly a written report stating:

(1) The total amount of funds paid into the Captive Insurance Regulatory Fund, including taxes paid, as reported to the Commissioner by the Department of Revenue.

(2) The total amount of the Commissioner's costs to administer this Part and promote North Carolina's captive insurance industry during such fiscal year.

(3) The Commissioner's estimate of the total amount of the Commissioner's costs to administer this Part and promote North Carolina's captive insurance industry during the current fiscal year.

(g) The tax provided for in this section shall be calculated on an annual basis, notwithstanding policies or contracts of insurance or contracts of reinsurance issued on a multiyear basis. In the case of multiyear policies or contracts, the premium shall be prorated for purposes of determining the tax under this section.

(h) Nothing in this section shall be construed to provide an exemption from sales and use tax.

(i) In the case of a branch captive insurance company, the tax provided for in this section shall apply only to the branch business of such company.

"§ 58-10-460. Adoption and amendment of rules by Commissioner.

The Commissioner may adopt and, from time to time, amend such rules relating to captive insurance companies as are necessary to enable the Commissioner to carry out the provisions of this Part.

"§ 58-10-465. Applicable provisions.

No provisions of this Chapter, other than those contained in this Part or as expressly provided in this Part, shall apply to captive insurance companies. Risk retention groups shall have the privileges and be subject to Article 22 of this Chapter in addition to the applicable provisions of this Part.

"§ 58-10-470. Establishment of standards regarding risk management.

The Commissioner may adopt rules establishing standards to ensure that a parent or its affiliated company, or an industrial insured or its affiliated company, is able to exercise control of the risk management function of any controlled unaffiliated business to be insured by a pure captive insurance company or an industrial insured captive insurance company, respectively; provided, however, that until such time as rules under this section are adopted, the Commissioner may approve the coverage of such risks by a pure captive insurance company or an industrial insured captive insurance company.

"§ 58-10-475. Supervision; rehabilitation; liquidation.

Except as otherwise provided in this Part, the terms and conditions set forth in Article 30 of this Chapter shall apply in full to captive insurance companies formed or licensed under this Part.

"§ 58-10-480. Authority for expenditure of public funds.

Any municipality, county, authority, utility district, or other public body generally classified as a governmental body or governmental entity whether chartered or organized by local act or public act of the General Assembly, or otherwise, or any agency, board, or commission of any municipality, metropolitan government, county, authority, utility district, or other public body generally classified as a governmental body or governmental entity may expend public funds for the purchase of capital stock in a captive insurance company or to provide guaranty capital in a mutual captive insurance company, provided that at the time of authorization of expenditure of public funds adequate insurance markets in the United States are not available to cover the risks, hazards, and liabilities of the public body or that the needed coverage is only available at excessive rates or with unreasonable deductibles.

"§ 58-10-485. Violations and penalties.

(a) If, after providing the opportunity for a contested case hearing held in accordance with the provisions of Article 3A of Chapter 150B of the General Statutes, the Commissioner finds that any insurer, person, or entity required to be licensed, permitted, or authorized to transact the business of insurance under this Part has violated any provision of this Part or any rule or regulation authorized by this Part, the Commissioner may order:

(1) The insurer, person, or entity to cease and desist from engaging in the act or practice giving rise to the violation.

(2) Payment of a monetary penalty pursuant to G.S. 58-2-70.

(3) The suspension or revocation of the insurer's, person's, or entity's license.

(b) Whenever the Commissioner has evidence that any person has violated or is violating any provisions of this Part, or has violated or is violating any order or requirement of the Commissioner issued by the Commissioner under this Part, and that the interests of policyholders, creditors, or the public may be irreparably harmed by delay, the Commissioner may issue an emergency cease and desist order that shall become effective on the date specified in the order. The emergency cease and desist order shall also include a notice of hearing, which shall be conducted as provided under Article 3A of Chapter 150B of the General Statutes. However, the person ordered to cease and desist under this subsection may request and shall be granted an expedited review of the order. The emergency order shall remain in effect prior to and during the proceedings, unless modified by the Commissioner.

(c) Any monetary penalties collected pursuant to this section shall be deposited into the Captive Insurance Regulatory Fund created in G.S. 58-10-455(f).

"§ 58-10-495. Captive insurance companies reinsuring life insurance policies.

(a) A captive insurance company that reinsures life insurance policies, including term, universal, and variable life policies, and related guarantees and riders, shall maintain reserves that are actuarially sufficient to support the liabilities incurred by the captive insurance company in reinsuring life insurance policies.

(b) For purposes of the annual report required pursuant to G.S. 58-10-405, a captive insurance company described by subsection (a) of this section shall comply with the following requirements:

(1) If the company uses statutory accounting principles, it shall submit the annual report in the form of the annual statement approved by the NAIC for life insurers, as modified or supplemented by the Commissioner, unless the Commissioner requires or approves a different form of annual report.

(2) If the company uses generally accepted accounting principles, including any appropriate modifications or adaptations thereto approved by the Commissioner, it shall submit the annual report in a form approved by the Commissioner.

"Subpart 2. Protected Cell Captive Insurance Companies.

"§ 58-10-500. Forming a protected cell captive insurance company.

(a) One or more sponsors may form a protected cell captive insurance company under this Subpart.

(b) A protected cell captive insurance company shall be incorporated as a stock insurer with its capital divided into shares and held by the stockholders, as a mutual corporation, as a nonprofit corporation with one or more members, or as a manager-managed limited liability company.

"§ 58-10-505. Additional filing requirements for applicant protected cell captive insurance companies.

In addition to the information required by G.S. 58-10-345(c), each applicant protected cell captive insurance company shall file with the Commissioner all of the following:

(1) Materials demonstrating how the applicant will account for the loss and expense experience of each protected cell at a level of detail found to be sufficient by the Commissioner, and how it will report such experience to the Commissioner.

(2) A statement acknowledging that all records of the applicant, including records pertaining to any protected cells, shall be made available for inspection or examination by the Commissioner or the Commissioner's designated agent.

(3) All contracts or sample contracts between the applicant and any participants.

(4) Evidence that expenses shall be allocated to each protected cell in a fair and equitable manner.

"§ 58-10-510. Establishment of protected cells.

(a) A protected cell captive insurance company formed or licensed under this Part may establish and maintain one or more incorporated or unincorporated protected cells, to insure risks of one or more participants, subject to the following conditions:

(1) A protected cell captive insurance company may establish one or more protected cells if the Commissioner has approved in writing a plan of operation or amendments to a plan of operation submitted by the protected cell captive insurance company with respect to each protected cell. A plan of operation shall include, but is not limited to, the specific business objectives and investment guidelines of the protected cell, provided that the Commissioner may require additional information in the plan of operation.

(2) Upon the Commissioner's written approval of the plan of operation, the protected cell captive insurance company may attribute insurance obligations with respect to its insurance business to the protected cell in accordance with the approved plan of operation.

(3) A protected cell shall have its own distinct name or designation that shall include the words "protected cell" or "incorporated cell."

(4) The protected cell captive insurance company shall transfer all assets attributable to a protected cell to one or more separately established and identified protected cell accounts bearing the name or designation of that protected cell. Protected cell assets must be held in the protected cell accounts for the purpose of satisfying the obligations of that protected cell.

(5) An incorporated protected cell may be organized and operated in any form of business organization authorized by the Commissioner. Each incorporated protected cell of a protected cell captive insurer shall be treated as a captive insurer for purposes of this Part. Unless otherwise permitted by the organizational documents of a protected cell captive insurer, each incorporated protected cell of the protected cell captive insurer must have the same directors, secretary, and registered office as the protected cell captive insurer.

(6) All attributions of assets and liabilities between a protected cell and the general account shall be in accordance with the plan of operation and participant contracts approved by the Commissioner. No other attribution of assets or liabilities shall be made by a protected cell captive insurance company between the protected cell captive insurance company's general account and its protected cells. Any attribution of assets and liabilities between the general account and a protected cell shall be in cash or in readily marketable securities with established market values.

(b) The creation of a protected cell does not create, with respect to that protected cell, a legal person separate from the protected cell captive insurance company, unless the protected cell is an incorporated cell. Amounts attributed to a protected cell under this Part, including assets transferred to a protected cell account, are owned by the protected cell. No protected cell captive insurance company shall be, or hold itself out to be, a trustee with respect to those protected cell assets of that protected cell account. Notwithstanding this subsection, the protected cell captive insurance company may allow for a security interest to attach to protected cell assets or a protected cell account when the security interest is in favor of a creditor of the protected cell and otherwise allowed under applicable law.

(c) This Part shall not be construed to prohibit the protected cell captive insurance company from contracting with or arranging for an investment advisor, commodity trading advisor, or other third party to manage the protected cell assets of a protected cell, if all remuneration, expenses, and other compensation of the third-party advisor or manager are payable from the protected cell assets of that protected cell and not from the protected cell assets of other protected cells or the assets of the protected cell captive insurance company's general account.

(d) A protected cell captive insurance company shall establish administrative and accounting procedures necessary to properly identify (i) the one or more protected cells of the protected cell captive insurance company and (ii) the assets and liabilities attributable to each protected cell. The directors of a protected cell captive insurance company shall keep protected cell assets and liabilities:

(1) Separate and separately identifiable from the assets and liabilities of the protected cell captive insurance company's general account.

(2) Attributable to one protected cell separate and separately identifiable from protected cell assets and protected cell liabilities attributable to other protected cells.

If this subsection is violated, then the remedy of tracing is applicable to protected cell assets when commingled with protected cell assets of other protected cells or the assets of the protected cell captive insurance company's general account. The remedy of tracing shall not be construed as an exclusive remedy.

(e) When establishing a protected cell, the protected cell captive insurance company shall attribute to the protected cell assets a value at least equal to the reserves and other insurance liabilities attributed to that protected cell.

(f) Each protected cell shall be accounted for separately on the books and records of the protected cell captive insurance company to reflect (i) the financial condition and results of operations of such protected cell, (ii) net income or loss, (iii) dividends or other distributions to participants, and (iv) such other factors as may be provided in the participant contract or required by the Commissioner.

(g) No asset of a protected cell shall be chargeable with liabilities arising out of any other insurance business the protected cell captive insurance company may conduct.

(h) No sale, exchange, or other transfer of assets shall be made by such protected cell captive insurance company between or among any of its protected cells without the consent of such protected cells.

(i) No sale, exchange, transfer of assets, dividend, or distribution shall be made from a protected cell to a protected cell captive insurance company or participant without the Commissioner's approval. In no event shall the Commissioner's approval be given if the sale, exchange, transfer, dividend, or distribution would result in the insolvency or impairment of a protected cell.

(j) All attributions of assets and liabilities to the protected cells and the general account shall be in accordance with the plan of operation approved by the Commissioner. No other attribution of assets or liabilities shall be made by a protected cell captive insurance company between its general account and any protected cell, or between any protected cells. The protected cell captive insurance company shall attribute all insurance obligations, assets, and liabilities relating to a reinsurance contract entered into with respect to a protected cell to such protected cell. The performance under such reinsurance contract and any tax benefits, losses, refunds, or credits allocated pursuant to a tax allocation agreement to which the protected cell captive insurance company is a party, including any payments made by or due to be made to the protected cell captive insurance company pursuant to the terms of such agreement, shall reflect the insurance obligations, assets, and liabilities relating to the reinsurance contract that are attributed to such protected cell.

(k) In connection with the conservation, rehabilitation, or liquidation of a protected cell captive insurance company, the assets and liabilities of a protected cell shall, to the extent the Commissioner determines they are separable, at all times be kept separate from and shall not be commingled with those of other protected cells and the protected cell captive insurance company.

(l) Each protected cell captive insurance company shall annually file with the Commissioner such financial reports as required by the Commissioner. Any such financial report shall include without limitation accounting statements detailing the financial experience of each protected cell.

(m) Each protected cell captive insurance company shall notify the Commissioner in writing within 10 business days of any protected cell that is insolvent or otherwise unable to meet its claim or expense obligations.

(n) No participant contract shall take effect without the Commissioner's prior written approval. The addition of each new protected cell, the withdrawal of any participant, or the termination of any existing protected cell shall constitute a change in the plan of operation requiring the Commissioner's prior written approval.

(o) The business written by a protected cell captive insurance company, with respect to each protected cell, must be secured by one of the following methods:

(1) Fronted by an insurance company licensed under the laws of any state.

(2) Reinsured by a reinsurer authorized or approved by this State.

(3) Secured by a trust fund in the United States for the benefit of policyholders and claimants, funded by an irrevocable letter of credit, or other arrangement that is acceptable to the Commissioner. The amount of security provided shall be no less than the reserves associated with those liabilities which are neither fronted nor reinsured, including reserves for losses, allocated loss adjustment expenses, incurred but not reported losses, and unearned premiums for business written through the participant's protected cell. The Commissioner may require the protected cell captive insurance company to increase the funding of any security arrangement established under this subdivision. If the form of security is a letter of credit, the letter of credit shall be issued or confirmed by a bank approved by the Commissioner. A trust maintained pursuant to this subdivision shall be established in a form and upon such terms approved by the Commissioner.

(p) Notwithstanding this Chapter or other laws of this State, and in addition to G.S. 58-10-525, in the event of an insolvency of a protected cell captive insurance company where the Commissioner determines that one or more protected cells remain solvent, the Commissioner may separate such cells from the protected cell captive insurance company and may allow, on application of the protected cell captive insurance company, for the conversion of such protected cells into one or more new or existing protected cell captive insurance companies, or one or more other captive insurance companies, pursuant to such plan of operation as the Commissioner deems acceptable.

"§ 58-10-515. Participation in a protected cell captive insurance company.

(a) Associations, corporations, limited liability companies, partnerships, trusts, and other business entities may be participants in any protected cell captive insurance company formed or licensed under this Part.

(b) A sponsor may be a participant in a protected cell captive insurance company.

(c) A participant need not be a shareholder of the protected cell captive insurance company or any affiliate thereof.

(d) A participant shall insure only its own risks through a protected cell captive insurance company.

"§ 58-10-520. Combining assets of protected cells.

Notwithstanding G.S. 58-10-510, the assets of two or more protected cells may be combined for purposes of investment and such combination shall not be construed as defeating the segregation of such assets for accounting or other purposes. Protected cell captive insurance companies shall comply with the investment requirements contained in G.S. 58-7-167, 58-7-170, 58-7-172, 58-7-173, 58-7-178, 58-7-179, 58-7-180, 58-7-183, 58-7-185, 58-7-187, 58-7-188, 58-7-192, 58-7-193, 58-7-197, 58-7-200, and 58-7-205, as applicable; provided that compliance with such investment requirements shall be waived for protected cell captive insurance companies to the extent that credit for reinsurance ceded to reinsurers is allowed pursuant to G.S. 58-10-445 or to the extent otherwise deemed reasonable and appropriate by the Commissioner. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Chapter, the Commissioner may approve the use of alternative reliable methods of valuation and rating.

"§ 58-10-525. Application of supervision, rehabilitation, and liquidation provisions to protected cell captive insurance companies.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this Part, Article 30 of this Chapter shall apply to a protected cell captive insurance company.

(b) Upon any order of supervision, rehabilitation, or liquidation of a protected cell captive insurance company, the Commissioner or receiver shall manage the assets and liabilities of the protected cell captive insurance company pursuant to this Part.

(c) Notwithstanding Article 30 of this Chapter:

(1) No assets of a protected cell shall be used to pay any expenses or claims other than those attributable to such protected cell.

(2) A protected cell captive insurance company's capital and surplus shall at all times be available to pay any expenses of, or claims against, the protected cell captive insurance company.

"Subpart 3. Branch Captive Insurance Companies.

"§ 58-10-530. Establishment of branch captive insurance companies.

(a) A branch captive insurance company may be established in this State, in accordance with this Subpart, to write in this State any insurance or reinsurance of the employee benefit business of its parent and affiliated companies that is subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended, or any insurance or reinsurance permitted to be written by captive insurance companies pursuant to this Part.

(b) No branch captive insurance company shall do any insurance business in this State unless it maintains the principal place of business for its branch operations in this State.

"§ 58-10-535. Security for payment of branch captive insurance company liabilities.

(a) No branch captive insurance company shall be issued a license by the Commissioner unless it possesses and maintains as security for the payment of liabilities attributable to the branch operations:

(1) An amount equal to the amount set forth in G.S. 58-10-370 as the minimum capital requirement for a pure captive insurance company.

(2) Reserves on such insurance policies or such reinsurance contracts as may be issued or assumed by the branch captive insurance company through its branch operations, including reserves for losses, allocated loss adjustment expenses, incurred but not reported losses, and unearned premiums with regard to business written through the branch operations; provided, however, that the Commissioner may permit a branch captive insurance company to credit against any such reserve requirement any security for loss reserves that the branch captive insurance company may post with a ceding insurer or that may be posted by a reinsurer with the branch captive insurance company, and in either case if such security remains posted.

(b) Subject to the prior approval of the Commissioner, the amounts required in subsection (a) of this section may be held in the form of:

(1) A trust formed under a trust agreement and funded by assets acceptable to the Commissioner.

(2) An irrevocable letter of credit issued or confirmed by a bank approved by the Commissioner.

(3) With respect to the amounts required in subdivision (a)(1) of this section only, cash on deposit with the Commissioner.

(4) Any combination of subdivisions (b)(1) through (3) of this section.

"§ 58-10-540. Petition for certificate of authority.

In the case of an alien captive insurance company seeking to become licensed as a branch captive insurance company, the alien captive insurance company shall petition the Commissioner to issue a certificate setting forth the Commissioner's finding that, after considering the character, reputation, financial responsibility, insurance experience, and business qualifications of the officers and directors of the alien captive insurance company, the licensing and maintenance of the branch operations will promote the general good of the State.

After the Commissioner issues a certificate of authorization, the alien captive insurance company shall comply with all other applicable State statutes or common law.

"§ 58-10-545. Filing of reports and statements.

Prior to March 1 of each year, or with the approval of the Commissioner within 60 days after its fiscal year-end, a branch captive insurance company shall file with the Commissioner a copy of all reports and statements required to be filed under the laws of the jurisdiction in which the alien captive insurance company is formed, verified by oath of two of its executive officers. If the Commissioner is satisfied that the annual report filed by the alien captive insurance company in its domiciliary jurisdiction provides adequate information concerning the financial condition of the alien captive insurance company, the Commissioner may waive the requirement for completion of the captive annual statement for business written in the alien jurisdiction.

"§ 58-10-550. Examination of a branch captive insurance company.

(a) Any examination of a branch captive insurance company pursuant to G.S. 58-10-430 shall be of branch business and branch operations only so long as the branch captive insurance company files annually with the Commissioner a certificate of compliance, or its equivalent, issued by or filed with the licensing authority of the jurisdiction in which the branch captive insurance company is formed, and demonstrates to the Commissioner's satisfaction that it is operating in sound financial condition in accordance with all applicable laws and regulations of such jurisdiction.

(b) As a condition of licensure, an alien captive insurance company shall grant authority to the Commissioner for examination of the affairs of the alien captive insurance company in the jurisdiction in which the alien captive insurance company is formed.

"Subpart 4. Special Purpose Financial Captives.

"§ 58-10-555. Creation of special purpose financial captives.

Special purpose financial captives (SPFCs) are provided by this Subpart exclusively to facilitate the securitization of one or more risks as a means of accessing alternative sources of capital and achieving the benefits of securitization. SPFCs are created for the limited purpose of entering into SPFC contracts and insurance securitization transactions and into related agreements to facilitate the accomplishment and execution of those transactions. The creation of SPFCs is intended to achieve greater efficiencies in structuring and executing insurance securitizations, to diversify and broaden sources of capital for insurers, to facilitate access for many insurers to insurance securitization and capital markets financing technology, and to further the economic development and expand the interest of this State through its captive insurance program.

"§ 58-10-560. Controlling provisions when conflict exists; exemptions.

(a) No provisions of this Chapter, other than those expressly provided in this Part, shall apply to an SPFC. If any conflict occurs in this Part related to an SPFC, the provisions of this Subpart shall control.

(b) The Commissioner, by rule, regulation, or order, may exempt an SPFC or its protected cells, on a case-by-case basis, from this Part if the Commissioner determines regulation under this Part to be inappropriate given the nature of the risks to be insured.

"§ 58-10-565. Application requirements.

(a) An SPFC, when permitted by its organizational documents, may apply to the Commissioner for a certificate of authority to transact insurance or reinsurance business as authorized by this Part. An SPFC shall only insure or reinsure the risks of its counterparty. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Part, an SPFC may purchase reinsurance to cede the risks assumed under the SPFC contract as approved by the Commissioner.

(b) To transact business in this State, an SPFC shall:

(4) Maintain its principal place of business in this State.

(5) Appoint a resident registered agent to accept service of process and to otherwise act on its behalf in this State. If the registered agent, with reasonable diligence, is not found at the registered office of the SPFC, the Commissioner shall be an agent of the SPFC upon whom any process, notice, or demand may be served.

(6) Provide such documentation of the insurance securitization as requested by the Commissioner immediately upon closing of the transaction, including:

a. An opinion of a duly licensed North Carolina legal counsel with respect to compliance with this Part and any other applicable laws as of the effective date of the transaction.

b. A statement under oath of its president and secretary demonstrating its financial condition.

(7) Provide a complete set of the documentation of the insurance securitization to the Commissioner immediately following closing of the transaction.

e. The applicant SPFC's financial condition, including the source and form of the minimum capital to be contributed to the SPFC.

(3) A plan of operation consisting of a description of or statement of intent with respect to the contemplated insurance securitization, the SPFC contract, and related transactions, which shall include:

a. Draft documentation or, at the discretion of the Commissioner, a written summary of all material agreements that are entered into to effectuate the SPFC contract and, before the effectuation of the SPFC contract, the insurance securitization, to include the names of the counterparty, the nature of the risks being assumed, the proposed use of protected cells, if any, and the maximum amounts, purpose, and nature and the interrelationships of the various transactions required to effectuate the insurance securitization.

b. The source and form of additional capital to be contributed to the SPFC.

c. The proposed investment strategy of the SPFC.

d. A description of the underwriting, reporting, and claims payment methods by which losses covered by the SPFC contract are reported, accounted for, and settled.

e. A pro forma balance sheet and income statement illustrating various stress case scenarios for the performance of the SPFC under the SPFC contract.

(4) Biographical affidavits in NAIC format of all of the prospective SPFC's officers and directors, providing the officers' and directors' legal names, any names under which they have or are conducting their affairs, and any other biographical information as the Commissioner may request.

(5) An affidavit from the applicant SPFC verifying:

a. The applicant SPFC complies with this Part.

b. The applicant SPFC operates only pursuant to this Part.

c. The applicant SPFC's investment strategy reflects and takes into account the liquidity of assets and the reasonable preservation, administration, and asset management of such assets relative to the risks associated with the SPFC contract and the insurance securitization transaction.

d. The securities proposed to be issued, if any, are valid legal obligations that are either properly registered with the Commissioner or constitute an exempt security or form part of an exempt transaction.

(6) Any other statements or documents required by the Commissioner to evaluate and complete the licensing of the SPFC.

(d) In addition to the information required by subsection (c) of this section and by G.S. 58-10-585, when a protected cell is used, an applicant SPFC shall file with the Commissioner:

(1) A business plan demonstrating how the applicant SPFC accounts for the loss and expense experience of each protected cell at a level of detail found to be sufficient by the Commissioner and how the applicant will report the experience to the Commissioner.

(2) A statement acknowledging that all records of the SPFC, including records pertaining to any protected cells, must be made available for inspection or examination by the Commissioner.

(3) All contracts or sample contracts between the SPFC and any counterparty related to each protected cell.

(4) A description of the expenses allocated to each protected cell.

(e) Information submitted pursuant to this section shall be and remain confidential, and shall not be made public by the Commissioner or the Commissioner's designee unless disclosure is ordered by a court of competent jurisdiction. In addition, the Commissioner shall have the discretion to disclose such information to a public official having jurisdiction over the regulation of insurance in another state, provided that:

(1) Such public official shall agree in writing to maintain the confidentiality of such information.

(2) The laws of the state in which such public official serves require such information to be and to remain confidential.

(f) G.S. 58-10-430 applies to SPFCs.

(g) SPFCs are subject to any rules or regulations promulgated pursuant to G.S. 58-10-460.

(h) The Commissioner may retain legal, financial, and examination services from outside the Department to examine and investigate the application, the cost of which may be charged against the applicant. The Commissioner also may use internal resources to examine and investigate the application based upon an hourly rate for the services performed or the usual and customary fee charged by the financial services industry for similar work subject to a minimum fee of twelve thousand dollars ($12,000), six thousand dollars ($6,000) of which is payable upon filing of the application and the remainder upon licensure.

(i) An SPFC shall be subject to payment of premium taxes as required by G.S. 58-10-455.

(j) The Commissioner shall grant a certificate of authority authorizing the SPFC to transact insurance or reinsurance business as an SPFC in this State, upon a finding by the Commissioner that:

(1) The SPFC's proposed plan of operation provides a reasonable and expected successful operation.

(2) The terms of the SPFC contract and related transactions comply with this Part.

(3) The proposed plan of operation is not hazardous to any counterparty.

(4) To the extent required by law or regulation, the Commissioner or an equivalent regulatory authority of the state of domicile of each counterparty has notified the Commissioner in writing or otherwise provided assurance satisfactory to the Commissioner that it has approved or not disapproved the transaction.

(5) The certificate of authority authorizing the SPFC to transact business is limited only to the insurance or reinsurance activities that the SPFC is authorized to conduct pursuant to this Part.

(k) In evaluating the expectation of a successful operation, factors the Commissioner shall consider include whether the proposed SPFC and its management are of known good character and reasonably believed not to be affiliated, directly or indirectly, through ownership, control, management, reinsurance transactions, or other insurance or business relations, with a person known to have been involved in the improper manipulation of assets, accounts, or reinsurance.

(l) To ensure the proposed plan of operation is not hazardous to any counterparty, the Commissioner may require reasonable safeguards in the SPFC's plan of operation where applicable and appropriate in the circumstance, including, without limitation, that certain assets of the SPFC be held in a trust to secure the obligations of the SPFC to a counterparty under an SPFC contract.

(m) A foreign or alien corporation or limited liability company, upon approval of the Commissioner, may become a domestic SPFC after complying with G.S. 58-10-345(c)(1). After such documents are successfully filed, the foreign or alien corporation or limited liability company is entitled to the necessary or appropriate certificates or licenses to transact business as an SPFC in this State and is subject to the authority and jurisdiction of this State. In connection with this redomestication, the Commissioner may waive any requirements for public hearings. It is not necessary for a corporation or limited liability company redomesticating into this State to merge, consolidate, transfer assets, or otherwise engage in another reorganization, other than as specified in this section.

"§ 58-10-570. Organization of an SPFC.

(a) An SPFC may be established as a stock corporation, limited liability company, mutual, partnership, or other form of organization approved by the Commissioner.

(b) The SPFC's organizational documents shall limit the SPFC's authority to transact the business of insurance or reinsurance to those activities the SPFC conducts to accomplish its purpose as expressed in this Part.

(c) The SPFC shall not adopt a name that is the same as, deceptively similar to, or likely to be confused with or mistaken for another existing business name registered in this State. Any name adopted by an SPFC shall comply with State law.

(d) An SPFC shall have at least three incorporators or organizers, of whom at least two shall be residents of this State.

(e) At least one of the members of the management of the SPFC shall be a resident of this State.

(f) An SPFC formed pursuant to this Part has the privileges of and is subject to all other requirements of this State's law applicable to its formation, as well as the applicable provisions contained in this Part, provided that this Part controls if a conflict exists in this State's law.

"§ 58-10-575. Minimum capital.

(a) An SPFC shall initially possess and maintain minimum capital of not less than two hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($250,000). All of the minimum initial capitalization shall be in cash. All other funds of the SPFC in excess of its minimum initial capitalization shall be in the form of cash, cash equivalent, or securities invested as approved by the Commissioner.

(b) Additional capitalization for the SPFC shall be determined, if so required, by the Commissioner after giving due consideration to the SPFC's plan of operation, feasibility study, pro formas, and the nature of the risks being insured or reinsured, which may be prescribed in formulas approved by the Commissioner.

"§ 58-10-580. Authorized activities.

(a) An SPFC shall only insure the risks of a counterparty.

(b) No SPFC shall issue a contract for assumption of risk or indemnification of loss other than an SPFC contract. However, the SPFC may cede risks assumed through an SPFC contract to third-party reinsurers through the purchase of reinsurance or retrocession protection on terms approved by the Commissioner.

(c) An SPFC may enter into contracts and conduct other commercial activities related or incidental to and necessary to fulfill the purposes of the SPFC contract, insurance securitization, and this Part. Those activities may include, but are not limited to:

(1) Entering into SPFC contracts.

(2) Issuing SPFC securities in accordance with applicable securities law.

(3) Complying with the terms of such contracts or securities.

(4) Entering into trust, guaranteed investment contract, letter of credit, swap, tax, administration, reimbursement, or fiscal agent transactions.

(5) Complying with trust indenture, reinsurance, or retrocession, and agreements necessary or incidental to effectuate an insurance securitization in compliance with this Part or the plan of operation approved by the Commissioner.

(d) An SPFC shall do all of the following:

(1) Discount its reserves at discount rates as approved by the Commissioner.

(2) Maintain reserves that are actuarially sufficient to support the liabilities incurred by an SPFC in reinsuring life insurance policies.

(3) File annually with the Commissioner an actuarial opinion on reserves provided by an approved independent actuary.

"§ 58-10-585. Establishment of protected cell accounts.

(a) This section and G.S. 58-10-590 provide a basis for the creation and use of protected cells by an SPFC as a means of accessing alternative sources of capital, lowering formation and administrative expenses, and generally making insurance securitizations more efficient. If a conflict exists between other provisions of this Part and either this section or G.S. 58-10-590, then this section or G.S. 58-10-515 shall control as applicable.

(b) An SPFC may establish and maintain one or more protected cells with prior written approval of the Commissioner and subject to compliance with the applicable provisions of this Part and all of the following conditions:

(1) A protected cell shall be established only for the purpose of insuring or reinsuring risks of one or more SPFC contracts with a counterparty with the intent of facilitating an insurance securitization.

(2) Each protected cell shall be accounted for separately on the books and records of the SPFC to reflect the financial condition and results of operations of the protected cell, net income or loss, dividends, or other distributions to the counterparty for the SPFC contract with each cell, and other factors as may be provided in the SPFC contract, insurance securitization transaction documents, plan of operation, or business plan, or as required by the Commissioner.

(3) Amounts attributed to a protected cell under this Part, including assets transferred to a protected cell account, are owned by the SPFC, and no SPFC shall be or hold itself out to be a trustee with respect to those protected cell assets of that protected cell account.

(4) All attributions of assets and liabilities between a protected cell and the general account shall be in accordance with the plan of operation approved by the Commissioner, and no other attribution of assets or liabilities by an SPFC between the SPFC's general account and its protected cell or cells is permitted. The SPFC shall attribute all insurance obligations, assets, and liabilities relating to an SPFC contract and the related insurance securitization transaction, including any securities issued by the SPFC as part of the insurance securitization, to a particular protected cell. The insurance obligations, assets, and liabilities relating to the SPFC contract and the insurance securitization transaction that are attributed to a particular protected cell shall be consistent with:

a. The rights, benefits, obligations, and liabilities of any securities attributable to that protected cell.

b. The performance under an SPFC contract and the related securitization transaction and any tax benefits, losses, refunds, or credits allocated, at any point in time pursuant to a tax allocation agreement between the SPFC and the SPFC's counterparty, parent, or company or group company, or any of them, in common control with them, as the case may be, including any payments made by or due to be made to the SPFC pursuant to the terms of the agreement.

(5) No assets of a protected cell shall be chargeable with liabilities arising out of an SPFC contract related to or associated with another protected cell. However, one or more SPFC contracts may be attributed to a protected cell only if the SPFC contracts are intended to be and ultimately are part of a single securitization transaction.

(6) No sale, exchange, or other transfer of assets shall be made by the SPFC between or among any of the SPFC's protected cells without the consent of the Commissioner, counterparty, and each protected cell.

(7) Except as otherwise contemplated in the SPFC contract or related insurance securitization transaction documents, or both, no sale, exchange, transfer of assets, dividend, or distribution shall be made from a protected cell to a counterparty or parent without the Commissioner's approval and the sale, exchange, transfer, dividend, or distribution shall not be approved if the sale, exchange, transfer, dividend, or distribution would result in a protected cell's insolvency or impairment.

(8) An SPFC may pay interest or repay principal, or both, and make distributions or repayments with respect to any securities attributed to a particular protected cell from assets or cash flows relating to or emerging from the SPFC contract and the insurance securitization transactions that are attributable to that particular protected cell in accordance with this Part, or as otherwise approved by the Commissioner.

(c) No SPFC contract with or attributable to a protected cell shall take effect without the Commissioner's prior written approval, and the addition of each new protected cell constitutes a change in the business plan requiring the Commissioner's prior written approval. The Commissioner may retain legal, financial, and examination services from outside the Department to examine and investigate the application for a protected cell, the cost of which may be charged against the applicant, or the Commissioner may use internal resources to examine and investigate the application, the cost of which may be charged against the applicant, or both.

(d) An SPFC utilizing protected cells shall possess and maintain minimum capitalization separate and apart from the capitalization of its protected cell or cells in an amount determined by the Commissioner after giving due consideration of the SPFC's business plan, feasibility study, and pro formas, including the nature of the risks to be insured or reinsured. For purposes of determining the capitalization of each protected cell, an SPFC shall initially capitalize and maintain capitalization in each protected cell in the amount and manner required for an SPFC in G.S. 58-10-575.

(e) The establishment of one or more protected cells alone shall not constitute and shall not be deemed to be a fraudulent conveyance, an intent by the SPFC to defraud creditors, or the carrying out of business by the SPFC for any other fraudulent purpose.

"§ 58-10-590. Protected cell accounts.

(a) All of the following shall apply to a protected cell:

(1) The creation of a protected cell shall not create, with respect to that protected cell, a legal person separate from the SPFC.

(2) Notwithstanding subdivision (a)(1) of this subsection, a protected cell shall have its own distinct name or designation that includes the words "protected cell." The SPFC shall transfer all assets attributable to the protected cell to one or more separately established and identified protected cell accounts bearing the name or designation of that protected cell.

(3) Although a protected cell is not a separate legal person, the property of an SPFC in a protected cell is subject to orders of the court by name as the property would have been if the protected cell were a separate legal person.

(4) The property of an SPFC in a protected cell shall be served with process in its own name in all civil actions or proceedings involving or relating to the activities of that protected cell or a breach by the SPFC of a duty to the protected cell or to a counterparty to a transaction linked or attributed to it by serving the SPFC.

(5) A protected cell exists only at the pleasure of the SPFC. At the cessation of business of a protected cell in accordance with the plan approved by the Commissioner, the SPFC shall close out the protected cell account.

(b) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit an SPFC from contracting with or arranging for an investment advisor, commodity trading advisor, or other third party to manage the assets of a protected cell, if all remuneration, expenses, and other compensation of the third-party advisor or manager are payable from the assets of that protected cell and not from the assets of other protected cells or the assets of the SPFC's general account, unless approved by the Commissioner.

(c) Creditors with respect to a protected cell are not entitled to have recourse against the protected cell assets of other protected cells or the assets of the SPFC's general account. If an obligation of an SPFC relates only to the general account, the obligation of the SPFC extends only to that creditor with respect to that obligation, and the creditor is entitled to have recourse only to the assets of the SPFC's general account.

(d) The assets of the protected cell shall not be used to pay expenses or claims other than those attributable to the protected cell. Protected cell assets are available only to the SPFC contract counterparty and other creditors of the SPFC that are creditors only with respect to that protected cell and, accordingly, are entitled in conformity with this Part, to have recourse to the protected cell assets attributable to that protected cell. The assets of the protected cell are protected from the creditors of the SPFC that are not creditors with respect to that protected cell and who, accordingly, are not entitled to have recourse to the protected cell assets attributable to that protected cell. If an obligation of an SPFC to a person or counterparty arises from an SPFC contract or related insurance securitization transaction, or is otherwise incurred with respect to a protected cell, then the obligation shall:

(1) Extend only to the protected cell assets attributable to that protected cell, and the person or counterparty, with respect to that obligation, is entitled to have recourse only to the protected cell assets attributable to that protected cell.

(2) Not extend to the protected cell assets of another protected cell or the assets of the SPFC's general account, and the person or counterparty, with respect to that obligation, is not entitled to have recourse to the protected cell assets of another protected cell or the assets of the SPFC's general account. The SPFC's capitalization held separate and apart from the capitalization of its protected cell or cells must be available at all times to pay expenses of or claims against the SPFC and may not be used to pay expenses or claims attributable to any protected cell.

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, an SPFC may allow for a security interest in accordance with applicable law to attach to protected cell assets or a protected cell account when in favor of a creditor of the protected cell or to facilitate an insurance securitization, including, without limitation, the issuance of the SPFC contract, to the extent those protected cell assets are not required at all times to support the risk, but without otherwise affecting the discharge of liabilities under the SPFC contract, or as otherwise approved by the Commissioner.

(f) An SPFC shall establish administrative and accounting procedures necessary to properly identify the one or more protected cells of the SPFC and the protected cell assets and protected cell liabilities to each protected cell. An SPFC shall keep protected cell assets and protected cell liabilities:

(1) Separate and separately identifiable from the assets and liabilities of the SPFC's general account.

(2) Attributable to one protected cell separate and separately identifiable from protected cell assets and protected cell liabilities attributable to other protected cells.

(g) All contracts or other documentation reflecting protected cell liabilities shall clearly indicate that only the protected cell assets are available for the satisfaction of those protected cell liabilities. In all SPFC insurance securitizations involving a protected cell, the contracts or other documentation effecting the transaction shall contain provisions identifying the protected cell to which the transaction is attributed. In addition, the contracts or other documentation shall clearly disclose that the assets of that protected cell, and only those assets, are available to pay the obligations of that protected cell. Notwithstanding this subsection, and subject to this Part and other applicable laws or regulations, the failure to include this language in the contracts or other documentation shall not be used as the sole basis by creditors, insureds or reinsureds, insurers or reinsurers, or other claimants to circumvent the provisions of this section.

(h) An SPFC with protected cells shall annually file with the Department accounting statements and financial reports required by this Part, which shall:

(1) Detail the financial experience of each protected cell and the SPFC separately.

(2) Provide the combined financial experience of the SPFC and all protected cells.

(i) An SPFC with protected cells shall notify the Commissioner in writing within 10 business days of a protected cell becoming insolvent.

"§ 58-10-595. Issuing securities.

(a) An SPFC may issue securities, including surplus notes and other forms of financial instruments, subject to and in accordance with applicable law, its approved plan of operation, and its organizational documents.

(b) An SPFC, in connection with the issuance of securities, may enter into and perform all of its obligations under any required contracts to facilitate the issuance of these securities.

(c) Subject to the approval of the Commissioner, an SPFC may lawfully:

(1) Account for the proceeds of surplus notes as surplus and not as debt for purposes of statutory accounting.

(2) Submit for prior approval of the Commissioner periodic written requests for payments of interest on and repayments of principal of surplus notes. In lieu of approval of periodic written requests for authorization to make payments of interest on and repayments of principal of surplus notes and other debt obligations issued by the SPFC, the Commissioner may approve a formula or plan, which shall be included in the SPFC's plan of operation as amended from time to time, for payment of interest, principal, or both, with respect to such surplus notes and debt obligations.

(d) The Commissioner, without otherwise prejudicing the Commissioner's authority, may approve formulas for an ongoing plan of interest payments or principal repayments, or both, to provide guidance in connection with the Commissioner's ongoing reviews of requests to approve the payments on and principal repayments of the surplus notes.

(e) The obligation to repay principal or interest, or both, on the securities issued by the SPFC must reflect the risk associated with the obligations of the SPFC to the counterparty under the SPFC contract.

"§ 58-10-600. Asset management agreements.

An SPFC may enter into swap agreements, or other forms of asset management agreements, including guaranteed investment contracts, or other transactions that have the objective of leveling timing differences in funding of up-front or ongoing transaction expenses, or managing asset, credit, or interest rate risk of the investments to ensure that the investments are sufficient to assure payment or repayment of the securities, and related interest or principal payments, issued pursuant to an SPFC insurance securitization transaction, or the obligations of the SPFC under the SPFC contract.

"§ 58-10-605. Reinsurance.

(a) An SPFC may reinsure only the risks of a ceding insurer pursuant to a reinsurance contract. No SPFC shall issue a contract of insurance or a contract for assumption of risk or indemnification of loss other than such reinsurance contract.

(b) Unless otherwise approved in advance by the Commissioner, no SPFC shall assume or retain exposure to insurance or reinsurance losses for its own account that are not funded by:

(1) Proceeds from an insurance securitization, letters of credit, or other assets described in G.S. 58-10-340(22).
(2) Premium and other amounts payable by the ceding insurer to the SPFC pursuant to the reinsurance contract.
(3) Any return on investment of the items described in subdivisions (1) and (2) of this subsection.

(c) The reinsurance contract shall contain all provisions required or approved by the Commissioner, which requirements shall take into account the laws applicable to the ceding insurer regarding the ceding insurer taking credit for the reinsurance provided under such reinsurance contract.

(d) An SPFC may cede risks assumed through a reinsurance contract to one or more reinsurers through the purchase of reinsurance, subject to the prior approval of the Commissioner.

(e) An SPFC may enter into contracts and conduct other commercial activities related or incidental to and necessary to fulfill the purposes of the reinsurance contract, the insurance securitization, and this Part, provided such contracts and activities are included in the SPFC's plan of operation or are otherwise approved in advance by the Commissioner. Such contracts and activities may include the following:

(1) Entering into SPFC contracts.
(2) Issuing SPFC securities in accordance with applicable securities law.
(3) Complying with the terms of such contracts or securities.
(4) Entering into trust, guaranteed. investment contract, letter of credit, swap, tax, administration, reimbursement, or fiscal agent transactions.
(5) Complying with trust indenture, reinsurance, or retrocession and other agreements necessary or incidental to effectuate an insurance securitization in compliance with this Part or the plan of operation approved by the Commissioner.

(f) Unless otherwise approved in advance by the Commissioner, a reinsurance contract shall not contain any provision for payment by the SPFC in discharge of its obligations under the reinsurance contract to any person other than the ceding insurer or any receiver of the ceding insurer.

(g) An SPFC shall notify the Commissioner immediately of any action by a ceding insurer or any other person to foreclose on or otherwise take possession of collateral provided by the SPFC to secure any obligation of the SPFC.

(h) In the SPFC insurance securitization, the contracts or other relating documentation shall contain provisions identifying the SPFC.

(i) Unless otherwise approved by the Commissioner, no SPFC shall enter into an SPFC contract with a person that is not licensed or otherwise authorized to transact the business of insurance or reinsurance in at least its state or country of domicile.

(j) No SPFC shall:

(1) Have any direct obligation to the policyholders or reinsureds of the counterparty.
(2) Perform any of the following activities with anyone convicted of a felony, anyone who is untrustworthy or of known bad character, or anyone convicted of a criminal offense involving the conversion or misappropriation of fiduciary funds or insurance accounts, theft, deceit, fraud, misrepresentation, or corruption:
a. Lend or otherwise invest assets.
b. Place any assets in custody, trust, or under management.
c. Borrow money or receive a loan or advance, other than by issuance of the securities pursuant to an insurance securitization.

"§ 58-10-610. No securities considered to be insurance or reinsurance contracts.

No securities issued by an SPFC pursuant to an insurance securitization shall be considered to be insurance or reinsurance contracts. No investor in these securities or a holder of these securities, by sole means of this investment or holding, shall be considered to be transacting the business of insurance in this State. The underwriter's placement or selling agents and their partners, directors, officers, members, managers, employees, agents, representatives, and advisors involved in an insurance securitization pursuant to this Part shall not be considered to be insurance producers or brokers or conducting business as an insurance or reinsurance company or agency, brokerage, intermediary, advisory, or consulting business only by virtue of their activities in connection with an insurance securitization.

"§ 58-10-615. Disposition of assets; investment limitations.

(a) The assets of an SPFC shall be preserved and administered by or on behalf of the SPFC to satisfy the liabilities and obligations of the SPFC incident to the reinsurance contract, the insurance securitization, and other related agreements.

(b) In the insurance securitization, the security offering memorandum or other document issued to prospective investors regarding the offer and sale of a surplus note or other security shall include a disclosure that all or part of the proceeds of such insurance securitization will be used to fund the SPFC's obligations to the ceding insurer.

(c) No SPFC shall be subject to any restriction on investments other than the following:

(1) The Commissioner may limit investments by an SPFC to those categories and amounts of authorized investments delineated in G.S. 58-7-167, 58-7-170, 58-7-172, 58-7-173, 58-7-178, 58-7-179, 58-7-180, 58-7-183, 58-7-185, 58-7-187, 58-7-188, 58-7-192, 58-7-193, 58-7-197, 58-7-200, and 58-7-205, as applicable and as amended from time to time.

(2) No SPFC shall make a loan to any person other than as permitted under its plan of operation or as otherwise approved in advance by the Commissioner.

(3) The Commissioner may prohibit or limit any investment that threatens the solvency or liquidity of the SPFC unless the investment is otherwise approved by the Commissioner in writing.

"§ 58-10-620. Dividends.

(a) No SPFC shall declare or pay dividends in any form to its owners other than in accordance with the insurance securitization transaction agreements, and in no extent shall the dividends decrease the capital of the SPFC below two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000). After giving effect to the dividends, the assets of the SPFC, including assets held in trust pursuant to the terms of the insurance securitization, shall be sufficient to satisfy the Commissioner that the SPFC can meet its obligations. Approval by the Commissioner of an ongoing plan for the payment of dividends or other distribution by an SPFC must be conditioned upon the retention at the time of each payment of capital or surplus equal to or in excess of amounts specified by or determined in accordance with formulas approved for the SPFC by the Commissioner.

(b) The dividends may be declared by the management of the SPFC if the dividends do not violate this Part or jeopardize the fulfillment of the obligations of the SPFC or the trustee pursuant to the SPFC insurance securitization agreements, the SPFC contract, or any related transaction and other provisions of this Part.

"§ 58-10-625. Changes in plan of operation; filing of audit and statement of operation; examinations.

(a) Any material change of the SPFC's plan of operation, whether or not through an SPFC protected cell, shall require prior approval of the Commissioner. The following transactions do not constitute material change for purposes of this section:

expiration, redemption, or satisfaction of all of these, of part or all of the securities issued pursuant to initial insurance securitization transactions.

(b) No later than six months after the fiscal year-end of the SPFC, the SPFC shall file with the Commissioner an audit by a certified public accounting firm of the financial statements of the SPFC and the trust accounts.

(c) An SPFC shall report using statutory accounting principles, unless the Commissioner requires, approves, or accepts the use of generally accepted accounting principles or other comprehensive basis of accounting. In each case the Commissioner may require, approve, or accept any appropriate or necessary modifications or adaptations to the accounting basis, and may require the report to be supplemented by additional information.

(d) Each SPFC shall file by March 1 a statement of operations, using either generally accepted accounting principles or, if approved, accepted, or required by the Commissioner, statutory accounting principles with useful or necessary modifications or adaptations for the type of insurance and kinds of insurers to be reported upon, and as supplemented by additional information required by the Commissioner. The statement of operations shall include a statement of income, a balance sheet, and may include a detailed listing of invested assets, including identification of assets held in trust to secure the obligations of the SPFC under the SPFC contract. The SPFC also may include with the filing risk-based capital calculations and other adjusted capital calculations to assist the Commissioner with evaluating the levels of the surplus of the SPFC for the year ending on December 31 of the previous year. The statements shall be prepared on forms required by the Commissioner. In addition, the Commissioner may require the filing of performance assessments of the SPFC contract.

(e) An SPFC shall maintain the SPFC's records in this State unless otherwise approved by the Commissioner and shall make its records available for examination by the Commissioner at any time. The SPFC shall keep its books and records in such manner that its financial condition, affairs, and operations can be ascertained and so that the Commissioner may readily verify its financial statements and determine its compliance with this Part.

(f) All original books, records, documents, accounts, and vouchers shall be preserved and kept available in this State for the purpose of examination and until authority to destroy or otherwise dispose of the records is secured from the Commissioner. The original records, however, may be kept and maintained outside this State if, according to a plan adopted by the management of the SPFC and approved by the Commissioner, the SPFC maintains suitable copies instead of the originals. The books or records may be photographed, reproduced on film, or stored and reproduced electronically.

"§ 58-10-630. Cessation of business.

At the cessation of business of an SPFC following termination or cancellation of an SPFC contract and the redemption of any related securities issued in connection with the SPFC contract, the authority granted by the Commissioner expires or, in the case of retiring and surviving protected cells, is modified, the SPFC is no longer authorized to conduct activities unless and until a new or modified certificate of authority is issued pursuant to a new filing under this Part or as agreed by the Commissioner.

"§ 58-10-635. Supervision, rehabilitation, or liquidation of SPFC.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the terms and conditions set forth in Article 30 of this Chapter pertaining to supervision, rehabilitation, and liquidation of insurers apply in full to SPFCs or each of the SPFC's protected cells, independently, or both, without causing or otherwise effecting a supervision, rehabilitation, or liquidation of the SPFC or another protected cell.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of Article 30 of this Chapter, and without causing or otherwise effecting a rehabilitation or liquidation of an otherwise solvent protected cell of an SPFC and subject to the provisions of subdivision (g)(5) of this section, the Commissioner may apply by petition to the court for an order authorizing the Commissioner to rehabilitate or liquidate an SPFC domiciled in this State on one or more of the following grounds:

(1) There has been embezzlement, wrongful sequestration, dissipation, or diversion of the assets of the SPFC intended to be used to pay amounts owed to the counterparty or the holders of SPFC securities.

(2) The SPFC is insolvent and the holders of a majority in outstanding principal amount of each class of SPFC securities request or consent to rehabilitation or liquidation pursuant to the provisions of this Part.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of Article 30 of this Chapter, the Commissioner may apply by petition to the Court for an order authorizing the Commissioner to rehabilitate or liquidate one or more of an SPFC's protected cells independently, without causing or otherwise effecting a rehabilitation or liquidation of the SPFC generally or another of its protected cells on one or more of the following grounds:

(1) There has been embezzlement, wrongful sequestration, dissipation, or diversion of the assets of the SPFC attributable to the affected protected cell or cells intended to be used to pay amounts owed to the counterparty or the holders of SPFC securities of the affected protected cell or cells.

(2) The affected protected cell is insolvent and the holders of a majority in outstanding principal amount of each class of SPFC securities attributable to that particular protected cell request or consent to rehabilitation or liquidation pursuant to the provisions of this Part.

(d) The Court may not grant relief provided by subdivision (b)(1) or (c)(1) of this section, unless after notice and a hearing, the Commissioner, who shall have the burden of proof, establishes by preponderance of the evidence that relief must be granted. The court's order may be made with respect to one or more protected cells by name, rather than the SPFC generally.

(e) Notwithstanding another provision in this Chapter, rules adopted under this Chapter, or another applicable law or regulation, upon any order of rehabilitation or liquidation of a SPFC, or one or more of the SPFC's protected cells, the receiver shall manage the assets and liabilities of the SPFC pursuant to the provisions of this Part. The receiver shall ensure that the assets linked to one protected cell are not applied to the liabilities linked to another protected cell or to the SPFC generally, unless an asset or liability is linked to more than one protected cell, in which case the receiver shall deal with the asset or liability in accordance with the terms of any relevant governing instrument or contract.

(f) With respect to amounts recoverable under an SPFC contract, the amount recoverable by the receiver must not be reduced or diminished as a result of the entry of an order of rehabilitation or liquidation with respect to the counterparty, notwithstanding another provision in the contracts or other documentation governing the SPFC insurance securitization.

(g) Notwithstanding the provisions of Article 30 of this Chapter or other laws of this State:

(1) An application or petition, or a temporary restraining order or injunction issued pursuant to the provisions of Article 30 of this Chapter, with respect to a counterparty does not prohibit the transaction of a business by an SPFC, including any payment by an SPFC made pursuant to an SPFC security, or any action or proceeding against an SPFC or its assets.

(2) The commencement of a summary proceeding or other interim proceeding commenced before a delinquency proceeding with respect to an SPFC, and any order issued by the court does not prohibit the payment by an SPFC made pursuant to an SPFC security, SPFC contract, or the SPFC from taking any action required to make the payment.

(3) A receiver of a counterparty may not void a nonfraudulent transfer by a counterparty to an SPFC of money or other property made pursuant to an SPFC contract.

(4) A receiver of an SPFC may not void a nonfraudulent transfer by the SPFC of money or other property made to a counterparty pursuant to an SPFC contract or made to or for the benefit of any holder of an SPFC security on account of the SPFC security.

(5) The Commissioner may not seek to have an SPFC with protected cells declared insolvent as long as at least one of the SPFC's protected cells remains solvent, and in the case of such an insolvency, the receiver shall handle the SPFC's assets in compliance with subsection (e) of this section and other laws of this State.

(h) Subsection (g) of this section does not prohibit the Commissioner from taking any action permitted under Article 30 of this Chapter with respect only to the rehabilitation of an SPFC with protected cell or cells, provided the Commissioner would have had sufficient grounds to seek to declare the SPFC insolvent, subject to and without otherwise affecting the provisions of subdivision (5) of subsection (g) of this section. In this case, with respect to the solvent protected cell or cells, the Commissioner may not prohibit payments made by the SPFC pursuant to the SPFC security, SPFC contract, or otherwise made under the insurance securitization transaction that are attributable to these protected cell or cells or prohibit the SPFC from taking any action required to make these payments.

(i) With the exception of the fulfillment of the obligations under an SPFC contract, and notwithstanding another provision of this Part or other laws of this State, the assets of an SPFC, including assets held in trust, must not be consolidated with or included in the estate of a counterparty in any delinquency proceeding against the counterparty, pursuant to the provisions of this Part for any purpose including, without limitation, distribution to creditors of the counterparty.

SENATE BILL 476:
NC Captive Insurance Act

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	April 30, 2013
Introduced by:	Sens. Meredith, Apodaca	Prepared by:	Peter Ledford* Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	Second Edition

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 476 would allow captive insurance companies in the State and establish procedures for the organization and regulation of their operations.

[As introduced, this bill was identical to H473, as introduced by Reps. Dockham, Howard, Johnson, Tine, which is currently in House Commerce and Job Development.]

BACKGROUND: Captive insurance companies are insurance companies that are established solely to insure the risks of a specific company or group. The captive insurance company is a wholly owned subsidiary of a parent company or an industry association. The parent company pays premiums to the captive insurance company, who covers any claims against the parent company. Unlike traditional insurance, when the captive insurance company profits, the parent company does as well. Captive insurance companies are typically used to self-insure against predictable risks, such as workers' compensation and malpractice. Captive insurance companies can purchase reinsurance to cover any claims that may exceed the premiums collected.

CURRENT LAW: Captive insurance companies are not allowed under current North Carolina law.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 476 would establish the procedures for the organization and regulation of the operations of captive insurance companies within the State.

Section 1 would create a new Part in Article 10 of Chapter 58, the North Carolina Captive Insurance Act.

SENATE BILL 129: Limit State Facilities Finance Act Debt

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	April 30, 2013
Introduced by:	Sen. Tucker	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S129-CSRB-7		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 129 would limit the amount of special indebtedness the General Assembly could authorize to 25% of the amount of general obligation bond indebtedness supported by the General Fund. The proposed committee substitute applies the limit to all indebtedness supported by the General Fund that was authorized pursuant to legislation enacted after January 1, 2013. The PCS is the same one discussed in Senate Finance on April 16, 2013.

CURRENT LAW: The State issues two kinds of tax-supported debt[1]:

- General Obligation Bonds. – GO bonds are secured by the full faith, credit, and taxing power of the State. GO bonds are considered to be the highest quality of all the various types of debt and usually carry the highest credit rating because of the legal protections inherent in constitutionally permitted debt. GO bonds are generally the most transparent of the various types of State debt obligations and typically carry the lowest interest rate. The costs of holding a GO bond referendum are modest. As of June 30, 2012, the State has $4,062.4 million of General Fund supported GO debt.
- Special Indebtedness. – Special indebtedness may also be known as non-GO debt or appropriation-supported debt. This form of indebtedness includes financing contract indebtedness, such as a lease-purchase contract, an installment-purchase contract, and certificates of participation. It also includes bonded indebtedness that may be issued on an unsecured basis or secured by a specific stream of revenues, a lease payment or financing agreement, or a security interest in the project being financed. All special indebtedness obligations are paid from annual appropriated amounts for debt service. Special indebtedness is rated lower than GO bonds and typically carries a higher interest rate. As of June 30, 2012, the State has $2,430.8 million of appropriation-supported debt.

The State Capital Facilities Finance Act establishes the legal framework providing for the issuance of special indebtedness; it does not authorize debt. Only the General Assembly may authorize debt. Under the Act, the General Assembly must enact legislation that describes the capital facility to be financed and authorizing its financing through the issuance of special indebtedness up to a specific maximum amount or legislation that authorizes the issuance of special indebtedness up to a specific maximum amount for a specific category of capital facilities.

In addition to the General Assembly enactment of legislation authorizing the special indebtedness, the agency wishing to use special indebtedness to finance a capital project must receive concurrence or approval from the Department of Administration, the State Treasurer, and the Council of State. The State Treasurer must report to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations at least five days before the issuance or incurrence of any debt.

[1] The summary relied extensively on the information in the 2013 Debt Affordability Study.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 129 would limit the amount of appropriation-supported debt the General Assembly could authorize, beginning January 1, 2013, to 25% of the total amount of outstanding debt supported by the General Fund. As of June 30, 2012, the amount of General Fund supported debt authorized is approximately $6,493.2 million outstanding plus $206 million authorized but unissued. Of this amount, approximately 40% is special indebtedness.

The PCS clarifies that the calculation of General Fund supported debt includes both GO bond indebtedness and special obligation indebtedness since both are supported by the General Fund. It also modifies the restriction to apply it prospectively. Under the PCS the amount of special indebtedness authorized by the General Assembly could not exceed 25% of the General Fund supported debt authorized pursuant to legislation enacted after January 1, 2013. The PCS effectively restricts the issuance of any special indebtedness on or after January 1, 2013, until the General Assembly authorizes GO bonds.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill would become effective when it becomes law.

BACKGROUND: Prior to 2001, the State only issued GO bonded indebtedness. Most states have diversified their debt portfolios and utilize one or more of the various types of appropriation-supported debt structures. However, the State of North Carolina has relied extensively on appropriation-supported debt structures since 2000. In affirming the State's rating in 2013, Fitch noted that "Over time the state has become more reliant on appropriation debt." Currently, the State's percentage of appropriation-supported debt obligation exceeds the medians reported for the "AAA" and "AA" rated states. In 2008, 18.5% of the State's outstanding debt was appropriation-supported debt; in 2013 it is 40.4%. By the year 2017 it is projected to be 46.3%.[2]

The Debt Affordability Advisory Committee recommended in its 2013 Debt Affordability Study that the State consider the authorization of GO debt as the preferred, but not necessarily exclusive, method to provide debt financing.

[2] The percentage of total outstanding debt includes debt funded by the Highway and Highway Trust Fund.

SENATE BILL 368:
Inmates Prescriptions/Pistol Permits

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	April 30, 2013
Introduced by:	Sen. Bingham	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S368-CSTDf-16		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: The PCS to Senate Bill 368 would authorize county jails to charge a fee of $10 for prescription drugs, and would amend the fee for pistol permits.

CURRENT LAW: S.L. 1995-385 authorized county jails to charge a fee for the provision of nonemergency medical care. The fee was initially set at $10 per incident, and was raised to $20 per incident in 2011. When the fee is established, the county must also establish a procedure that waives the fees for indigent prisoners.

G.S. 14-404 provides the procedure and fees for the issuance of a pistol permit. The fee for a pistol permit is $5.00 upon the issuance of a license. Typically, the fee is paid at the time of application, and refunded if the permit is denied. Before issuing or denying a permit, the sheriff must conduct a background check and determine if the applicant is eligible for the permit.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Section 1: Authorizes county jails to establish a fee of not more than $10 for a 30 day supply of prescription drugs. The county must also establish a procedure that waives this fee for indigent prisoners.

Section 2: Amends the fee for a pistol permit to apply when the application is filed. Fees will no longer be refunded for applicants that are denied a permit. Also clarifies the fee is $5 for each permit requested.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective July 1, 2013, and applies to fees assessed or collected on or after that date.

The statement shall disclose any shortfalls or surplus between guaranteed energy and operational savings specified in the guaranteed energy savings contract and actual, not stipulated, energy and operational savings incurred during a given guarantee year. Any guaranteed energy and operational savings shall be determined by using one of the measurement and verification methodologies listed in the United States Department of Energy's Measurement and Verification Guidelines for Energy Savings Performance Contracting, the International Performance Measurement and Verification Protocol (IPMVP) maintained by the Efficiency Valuation Organization, or Guideline 14-2002 of the American Society of Heating, Refrigerating, and Air-Conditioning Engineers. If due to existing data limitations or the nonconformance of specific project characteristics, none of the three methodologies listed in this subsection is sufficient for measuring guaranteed savings, the qualified provider shall develop an alternate method that is compatible with one of the three methodologies and mutually agreeable to the governmental unit. The guarantee year shall consist of a 12-month term commencing from the time that the energy conservation measures become fully operational. A qualified provider shall pay the ~~State~~ governmental unit or its assignee any shortfall in the guaranteed energy and operational savings after the total year savings have been determined. ~~A~~ In the case of a governmental unit, a surplus in any one year shall not be carried forward or applied to a shortfall in any other year."

SECTION 4.(a) G.S. 143-64.17L and G.S. 143-64.17M are repealed.

SECTION 4.(b) G.S. 143-64.17F(b) reads as rewritten:

"(b) The Department of Administration, in consultation with the Department of Commerce through the State Energy Office, shall adopt rules for: (i) agency evaluation of guaranteed energy savings contracts; (ii) establishing time periods for consideration of guaranteed energy savings contracts by the Office of State Budget and Management, the Office of the State Treasurer, and the Council of State, and (iii) setting measurements and verification criteria, including review, audit, and precertification. Prior to adopting any rules pursuant to this section, the Department shall consult with and obtain approval of those rules from the State Treasurer. ~~The rules adopted pursuant to this subsection shall not apply to energy conservation measures implemented pursuant to G.S. 143-64.17L.~~"

SECTION 4.(c) G.S. 143-64.17H reads as rewritten:

"§ 143-64.17H. Report on guaranteed energy savings contracts entered into by State governmental units.

A State governmental unit that enters into a guaranteed energy savings contract ~~or implements an energy conservation measure pursuant to G.S. 143-64.17L~~ must report ~~either~~ (i) the contract and the terms of the contract or (ii) the implementation of the measure to the State Energy Office of the Department of Commerce within 30 days of the date the contract is entered into or the measure is implemented. In addition, within 60 days after each annual anniversary date of a guaranteed energy savings contract, the State governmental unit must report the status of the contract to the State Energy Office, including any details required by the State Energy Office. The State Energy Office shall compile the information for each fiscal year and report it to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations and to the Local Government Commission annually by December 1. In compiling the information, the State Energy Office shall include information on the energy savings expected to be realized from a contract or implementation and shall evaluate whether expected savings have in fact been realized."

SECTION 4.(d) G.S. 142-63 reads as rewritten:

"§ 142-63. Authorization of financing contract.

~~Subject to the terms and conditions set forth in this Article, (i) a State governmental unit that is implementing an energy conservation measure pursuant to G.S. 143-64.17L and financing it pursuant to this Article, (ii) a State governmental unit that has solicited a guaranteed energy conservation measure pursuant to G.S. 143-64.17A or G.S. 143-64.17B, or (iii) the State Treasurer, as designated by the Council of State, is authorized to execute and deliver, for and on behalf of the State of North Carolina, a financing contract to finance the costs of the energy conservation measure. The aggregate outstanding amount payable by the State under financing contracts entered pursuant to this Article shall not exceed five hundred million dollars ($500,000,000) at any one time.~~

Subject to the terms and conditions set forth in this Article, a State governmental unit that has solicited a guaranteed energy conservation measure pursuant to G.S. 143-64.17A or G.S. 143-64.17B or the State Treasurer, as designated by the Council of State, is authorized to execute and deliver, for and on behalf of the State of North Carolina, a financing contract to finance the costs of the energy conservation measure. The aggregate outstanding amount payable by the State under financing contracts entered pursuant to this Article shall not exceed five hundred million dollars ($500,000,000) at any one time."

SECTION 4.(e) G.S. 142-64 reads as rewritten:

"§ 142-64. Procedure for incurrence or issuance of financing contract.

(a) When a State governmental unit ~~(i) is implementing an energy conservation measure pursuant to G.S. 143-64.17L and financing it pursuant to this Article or (ii)~~ has solicited a guaranteed energy conservation measure, the State governmental unit shall request that the State Treasurer approve the State governmental unit's entering into a financing contract to finance the cost of the energy conservation measure. In connection with the request, the State governmental unit shall provide to the State Treasurer any information the State Treasurer requests in order to evaluate the request. In the event that the State Treasurer determines that financing efficiencies will be realized through the combining of financing contracts, then the State Treasurer is authorized to execute and deliver, for and on behalf of the State of North Carolina, subject to the terms and conditions set forth in this Article, a financing contract for the purpose of financing the cost of the multiple energy conservation measures.

SECTION 4.(f) Notwithstanding this section, North Carolina State University may continue to self-perform any of the projects listed in this section. The projects are subject to the requirements of Part 2 of Article 3B of Chapter 143 of the General Statutes, including any of the requirements in the statutes repealed or amended by this section. The authorized projects are:

(1) The Phytotron Energy Savings Performance Contract authorized pursuant to Section 9.6D of S.L. 2011-145 and S.L. 2012-164.

(2) An energy conservation measure for which a request for proposal has been issued prior to December 31, 2013, and financing has been put in place by December 31, 2014.

SECTION 5. This act is effective when it becomes law.

SENATE BILL 547:
Energy Savings Contracting Amendments

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	April 30, 2013
Introduced by:	Sen. Hunt	Prepared by:	Trina Griffin
Analysis of:	PCS to Second Edition S547-CSSV-16		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 547 does two things as it relates to energy savings contracts:

- Sections 1-3 make changes to the law governing guaranteed energy savings contracts to provide for an initial selection process based on qualifications rather than cost. The PCS further deletes the current law requirement that a governmental unit publish a second notice of a request for proposals if fewer than two proposals have been received.
- Section 4 limits the self-performance of an energy conservation measure by a constituent institution of the UNC system to a project currently being piloted by NCSU and any other energy conservation project for which it issues an RFP and secures financing before the end of 2014.

CURRENT LAW: Local governments have had the authority to enter into financing contracts to finance the cost of energy conservation measures since 1994.[1] The General Assembly extended this ability to State agencies in 2002; the law limits the aggregate principal amount payable by the State under these contracts to $500 million at any one time.[2] An energy conservation measure is a facility or meter alteration, training, or services that will provide anticipated energy savings with respect to a facility. The financing contracts are known as guaranteed energy savings contracts. Under the contract to implement energy conservation measures, all payments, except obligations on early termination, are to be made over time, and energy cost savings are guaranteed to exceed the cost of the contract.

The law provides that a guaranteed energy savings contract is not a pledge of the government's taxing power. The debt is secured by a lien on, or a security interest in, any part of the property with respect to which an energy conservation measure is undertaken and/or the land upon which the property is or will be located. It is anticipated that the energy savings will generate enough money to pay the debt service on the contract. This is a method of funding repair and renovation projects without impacting the State's debt capacity.

State agencies that enter into guaranteed energy savings contracts are required to report to the State Energy Office which in turn reports annually to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations. State energy conservation measures are subject to inspection and compliance by the State Construction Office or the local building inspector. The cost of the evaluation of the contract by either an independent architect or engineer, or by the State Construction Office, and the costs of the necessary building inspections are included in the cost of the contract.

Before a guaranteed energy savings contract can be entered into, the Office of State Budget and Management must certify that resources are expected to be available to pay the amounts due under the contract. Next, the Council of State must approve the contract by resolution that sets out the maximum maturity and the maximum interest rates. The maximum maturity may not exceed 20 years. The State Treasurer also must approve the financing, finding that the amount to be borrowed is adequate and not excessive and will not require an excessive increase in any State revenues to provide for repayment, and that the special indebtedness can be incurred or issued on terms favorable to the State.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Section 1 would require that a qualified provider meet the prequalification criteria established by the State Energy Office. The prequalification criteria are designed to ensure that a provider has adequate technical expertise and financial backing. It would also add a definition for a "qualified reviewer." Under current law, a governmental unit seeking to enter into a guaranteed energy savings contract must have proposals evaluated by a licensed architect or engineer. Section 1 incorporates the term "qualified reviewer" and defines it as an architect or engineer who is licensed in this State and is experienced in the design, implementation, and installation of energy efficiency measures.

Section 2 of the bill does the following:

Regarding the issuance of requests for proposals:

- It would delete the requirement that a governmental unit publish a second notice of a request for proposals if fewer than two proposals have been received or if fewer than two qualified providers attend the mandatory pre-bid meeting. Under current law, the unit is required to publish a second notice if fewer than two proposals have been received from qualified providers. The purpose of this change is to speed up the process when the unit knows there is only one possible bidder.

Regarding preliminary proposal evaluations:

- It would eliminate the requirement that a preliminary proposal include detailed cost information. The purpose of this change, which goes hand-in-hand with the changes to the criteria for selection, is to provide governmental units with additional flexibility during contract negotiations. Under the current process, when costs are included in the preliminary proposal, they are essentially non-negotiable. The intent is to change to a more qualification-based system of identifying the top choices of qualified providers and negotiate costs at a later stage in the process. Preliminary proposals must be reviewed by a qualified reviewer who will prepare a detailed evaluation of the proposal. The reviewer may include a recommendation for selection, but the governmental unit is not obligated to follow it.

Regarding criteria for selection of a provider:

- It would delete from the criteria to be considered by a governmental unit when selecting a provider consideration of prices offered, proposed costs of construction, financing, maintenance, and training, and the amount of energy savings. The reason for this change is twofold. First, it should reduce costs in the preliminary stages. Requiring a provider to provide a detailed estimate of costs at the preliminary stage is costly and that cost is ultimately borne by the government unit. Second, it would give governmental units more flexibility in negotiating the contracts.

Regarding the process for the selection of a provider:

- It would set out the selection process as follows: The governmental unit would rank qualified providers and identify a short list of finalists based on written proposals and references from past clients. The unit would require the highest-ranked provider to prepare a cost-savings analysis. If the unit and the provider are unable to negotiate acceptable terms, the unit may begin negotiations with the second highest-ranked provider. The State Energy Office must review the proposal and analysis prior to the unit announcing the award of the contract.

Section 3 of the bill does three things:

- It would require that a qualified provider provide security for the full amount of the contract. This is consistent with the fact that the total energy savings must be fully guaranteed and that the energy savings company is responsible for any shortfall.
- It would require that the energy and operational savings be determined using one of the methodologies listed below. These references are already named in the applicable regulations in the NC Administrative Code, but this would codify them in statute.
    - The U.S. Department of Energy's Measurement and Verification Guidelines for Energy Savings Performance Contracting.
    - The International Performance Measurement and Verification Protocol maintained by the Efficiency Valuation Organization.
    - Guideline 14-2002 of the American Society of Heating, Refrigerating, and Air Conditioning Engineers.
- It would recognize the situation where a loan for these contracts is assigned to another party in order to allow for payment.

Section 4 of the bill would allow NC State University to fulfill the self-performance of the Phytotron Energy Savings Performance Contract and to self-perform any other energy conservation measure for which an RFP has been issued prior to December 31, 2013, and for which financing has been put in place by December 31, 2014.

However, it would not extend the authority previously granted to NC State to any other projects by NC State or other constituent institutions of the UNC system. It does this by repealing the statutes enacted in 2011, which were limited in application to NC State only. Section 4(f) specifically preserves NC State's authority to complete the above-named projects despite the repeal of these statutes.

The Appropriations Act of 2011 (S.L. 2011-145) enacted two new statutes that authorized the Board of Governors to allow specifically named constituent institutions of the UNC system to implement energy conservation measures without entering into a guaranteed energy savings contract. The only named institution in those statutes is NC State University. The 2012 Nonappropriated Capital Projects Act (S.L. 2012-164) further approved self-liquidating authority for a particular project being piloted by NC State under this authority identified as the Phytotron Energy Savings Performance Contract. This project is underway and ongoing. NC State anticipates beginning construction activities in October of this year.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

Minutes

The Senate Committee on Finance met on Wednesday, May 1, 2013, at 1:00 p.m. in room 544 of the Legislative Office Building. Annie Linn Johnson of Fayetteville and Odom Williford of Asheville served as pages to the Committee. Senator Rabon served as Chair to the meeting.

S.B. 58 – Increase Funding for Dredging

Senator Brown was recognized to explain the bill. Senator Brock moved to adopt the proposed committee substitute (PCS) for discussion. The motion carried. The PCS would increase vessel numbering and titling fees and allocate a portion of the excise tax on motor fuel to provide additional funding for the dredging of the State's shallow draft navigation channels. Senator Brown offered an amendment changing the effective date from July to October. Senator Cook moved to adopt the amendment and the motion carried. Chris Dillon, the Wildlife Resources Commission's legislative liaison, was recognized to answer questions. Senator Cook moved for a favorable report and the motion carried. A copy of the PCS, the summary, the fiscal note and the amendment is attached.

S.B. 365 – Affordable and Reliable Energy Act

Senator Brock was recognized to explain the bill. Senator Hise moved to adopt the PCS for discussion and the motion carried. The PCS would revise the Renewable Energy Portfolio Standards (REPS) requirements enacted in S.L. 2007-397 in the following ways: 1) keeps the REPS requirement at the current requirement of 3% through 2023; 2) repeals the REPS requirements as of 2023; 3) requires the costs recovered for the REPS requirement to be separately stated on customer bills and identified as a special surcharge for green energy; and 4) allows electric suppliers to recover all costs incurred in compliance with the REPS requirements, including the provisions repealed by this act. Don Conrad, a staff attorney with the NC Utilities Commissioner, was recognized to answer questions. Summer Lanier, Prestige Farms, was recognized to speak in opposition to the bill. Tom Butler, a hog farmer, was recognized to explain that the captured methane was key to a new industry at his farm. Ralph Thompson, Holocen Energy's President, was recognized to speak in opposition to the bill. Paul Sherman, Farm Bureau, expressed original skepticism at S.B. 3, but investments by farmers have borne fruit and funds. Don Butler, Vice President of Smithfield Foods, was recognized to oppose the bill and expressed concern that technology companies might flee the State taking money and jobs with them. Senator Rucho moved for a favorable report. The motion carried. A copy of the bill and the summary is attached.

The meeting adjourned at 1:48 p.m.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO PROVIDE ADDITIONAL FUNDING FOR DREDGING OF THE STATE'S SHALLOW DRAFT NAVIGATION CHANNELS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 75A-3 reads as rewritten:

"§ 75A-3. Wildlife Resources Commission to administer Chapter; Vessel Committee; funds for administration.

(a) The Commission shall enforce and administer the provisions of this Chapter.

(b) The chair of the Commission shall designate from among the members of the Commission three members who shall serve as the Vessel Committee of the Commission, and who shall, in their activities with the Commission, place special emphasis on the administration and enforcement of this Chapter.

(c) The Boating Account is established within the Wildlife Resources Fund created under G.S. 143-250. Interest and other investment income earned by the Account accrues to the Account. All moneys collected pursuant to the numbering and titling provisions of this Chapter shall be credited to this Account. Motor fuel excise tax revenue is credited to the Account under G.S. 105-449.126. The Commission shall use revenue in the Account, subject to the Executive Budget Act and the Personnel Act, for the administration and enforcement of this Chapter; for activities relating to boating and water safety including education and waterway marking and improvement; and for boating access area acquisition, development, and maintenance. The Commission shall use at least three dollars ($3.00) of each one-year certificate of number fee and at least nine dollars ($9.00) of each three-year certificate of number fee collected under the numbering provisions of G.S. 75A-5 for boating access area acquisition, development, and maintenance. The Commission shall transfer on a quarterly basis forty-five percent (45%) of each one-year certificate of number fee and forty-five percent (45%) of each three-year certificate of number fee collected under the numbering provisions of G.S. 75A-5 to the Shallow Draft Navigation Channel Dredging Fund established by G.S. 143-215.73F."

SECTION 2. G.S. 75A-5 reads as rewritten:

"§ 75A-5. Application for certificate of ~~number and fees;~~number; fees; reciprocity; change of ownership; conformity with federal regulations; records; award of certificates; renewal of certificates; transfer of partial interest; destroyed or junked vessels; abandonment; change of address; duplicate certificates; display.

(a) Application for Certificate of ~~Number and Fees.~~Number. – The owner of each vessel requiring numbering by this State shall file an application for a certificate of number with the Commission. The Commission shall furnish application forms and shall prescribe the information contained in the application form. The application shall be signed by the owner of the vessel or the owner's agent and shall be accompanied by a ~~fee. The fee is fifteen dollars ($15.00) for a one-year period or forty dollars ($40.00) for a three-year period.~~fee, as set out in subsection (a1) of this section. The fee does not apply to vessels owned and operated by nonprofit rescue squads if they are operated exclusively for rescue purposes, including rescue training. The owner shall have the option of selecting a one-year numbering period or a three-year numbering period. Upon receipt of the application in approved form, the Commission shall enter the application in its records and issue the owner a certificate of number stating the identification number awarded to the vessel and the name and address of the owner, and a validation decal indicating the expiration date of the certificate of number. The owner shall paint on or attach to each side of the bow of the vessel the identification number in such manner as may be prescribed by rules of the Commission in order that it may be clearly visible. The identification number shall be maintained in legible condition. The validation decal shall be displayed on the starboard bow of the vessel immediately following the number. The certificate of number shall be pocket size and shall be available for inspection on the vessel for which the certificate is issued at all times the vessel is in operation. Any person charged with failing to so carry a certificate of number shall not be convicted if the person produces in court a certificate of number previously issued to the owner that was valid at the time of the alleged violation.

(a1) Fees. – The fees for certificates of number are as set out in this subsection:

(1) The fee for a certificate of number for a one-year period is:

a. Twenty-five dollars ($25.00) for a vessel that is less than 26 feet in length.

b. Fifty dollars ($50.00) for a vessel that is 26 feet or more in length.

(2) The fee for a certificate of number for a three-year period is:

a. Seventy-five dollars ($75.00) for a vessel that is less than 26 feet in length.

b. One hundred fifty dollars ($150.00) for a vessel that is 26 feet or more in length.

(b) Reciprocity. – The owner of any vessel already covered by a number in full force and effect pursuant to federal law or a federally approved numbering system of another state shall record the identification number prior to operating the vessel on the waters of this State in excess of the 90-day reciprocity period provided for in G.S. 75A-7(a)(1). The recordation shall be made pursuant to subsection (a) of this section, except that no additional or substitute identification number shall be issued.

(c) Change of Ownership. – Should the ownership of a vessel change, a new application form with a fee in the amount set in subsection ~~(a)~~(a1) of this section shall be filed with the Commission and a new certificate bearing the same identification number shall be awarded to the new owner in the same manner as an original certificate of number. Possession of the certificate shall in cases involving prosecution for violation of any provision of this Chapter be prima facie evidence that the person whose name appears on the certificate is the owner of the vessel referred to on the certificate.

(d) Conformity With Federal Regulations. – In the event that an agency of the federal government shall have in force an over-all system of identification numbering for vessels within the United States, the numbering system employed pursuant to this Chapter by the Commission shall be in conformity therewith.

(e) Repealed by Session Laws 2006-185, s. 1.

(f) Records. – All records of the Commission made or kept pursuant to this section shall be public records.

(g) Award of Certificates. – Each certificate of number awarded pursuant to this Chapter, unless sooner terminated or discontinued in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter, shall continue in full force and effect to and including the last day of the month during which the certificate was awarded after the lapse of one year in the case of a one-year certificate or three years in the case of a three-year certificate. No person shall willfully remove a validation decal from any vessel during the continuance of its validity or alter, counterfeit, or otherwise tamper with a validation decal attached to any vessel for the purpose of changing or obscuring the indicated date of expiration of the certificate of number of the vessel.

(h) Renewal of Certificates. – An owner of a vessel awarded a certificate of number pursuant to this Chapter shall renew the certificate on or before the first day of the month after which the certificate expires; otherwise, the certificate shall lapse and be void until such time as it may thereafter be renewed. Application for renewal shall be submitted on a form approved by the Commission and shall be accompanied by a fee in the amount set in subsection ~~(a)~~(a1) of this section. ~~No fee is required for a period of one year for renewal of certificates of number that have been previously issued to commercial fishing vessels as defined in G.S. 75A-5.1, upon compliance with all of the requirements of that section.~~

(i) Transfer of Partial Interest. – The owner shall furnish the Commission notice of the transfer of any part of the owner's interest other than the creation of a security interest in a vessel numbered in this State pursuant to subsections (a) and (b) of this section within 15 days of the transfer. A transfer of partial interest in a vessel shall not affect the owner's right to operate the vessel, nor shall a transfer of partial interest in a vessel terminate the certificate of number.

(i1) Destroyed or Junked Vessels. – The owner of any destroyed or junked vessel shall furnish the Commission notice of the destruction or junking of that vessel within 15 days of its occurrence. Destruction or junking terminates the certificate of number and renders the hull identification number invalid for that vessel.

(i2) Abandonment. – A person may acquire ownership of an abandoned vessel by providing proof to the Commission that the lawful owner has actually abandoned the vessel. The Commission shall adopt rules by which a person seeking to acquire ownership may demonstrate that the vessel is actually abandoned. At a minimum, the rules shall provide for a reasonable attempt to locate the lawful owner and, if the owner is located, notice by the claimant of an intention to claim ownership of the vessel.

(j) Change of Address. – Whenever any person, after applying for or obtaining the certificate of number of a vessel, moves from the address shown in the application or upon the certificate of number, that person shall notify the Commission of the change of address within 30 days of moving in a form acceptable to the Commission.

(j1) Duplicate Certificates. – The Commission shall issue a duplicate certificate of number for a vessel upon application by the person entitled to hold the certificate, if the Commission is satisfied that the original certificate of number has been lost, stolen, mutilated, or destroyed, or has become illegible. The Commission shall charge a fee of five dollars ($5.00) for issuance of each duplicate certificate.

(k) Display. – No number other than the identification number set forth in the certificate of number or granted reciprocity pursuant to this Chapter shall be painted, attached, or otherwise displayed on either side of the bow of a vessel, except the validation decal required by subsection (a) of this section.

(l) Repealed by Session Laws 2006-185, s. 1."

SECTION 3. G.S. 75A-5.1 is repealed.

SECTION 4. G.S. 75A-7 reads as rewritten:

"§ 75A-7. Exemption from numbering requirements.

(a) A vessel shall not be required to be numbered under this Chapter if it is:

(1) A vessel that is required to be awarded an identification number pursuant to federal law or a federally approved numbering system of another state, and for which an identification number has been so awarded: Provided, that any such vessel shall not have been within this State for a period in excess of 90 consecutive days.

(2) A vessel from a country other than the United States temporarily using the waters of this State.

(3) A vessel whose owner is the United States, a state or a subdivision thereof.

(4) A ship's lifeboat.

~~(5) A vessel that has a valid marine document issued by the federal Bureau of Customs or any federal agency successor thereto.~~

(6) A sailboat of not more than 14 feet on the load water line (LWL).

(7) A vessel with no means of propulsion other than drifting or manual paddling, poling, or rowing.

(b) The Commission is hereby empowered to permit the voluntary numbering of vessels owned by the United States, a state or a subdivision thereof.

(c) Those vessels owned by the United States, a state or a subdivision thereof and those owned by nonprofit rescue squads may be assigned a certificate of number bearing no expiration date but which shall be stamped with the word "permanent" and shall not be renewable so long as the vessel remains the property of the governmental entity or nonprofit rescue squad. If the ownership of any such vessel is transferred from one governmental entity to another or to a nonprofit rescue squad or if a vessel owned by a nonprofit rescue squad is transferred to another nonprofit rescue squad or governmental entity, the Commission shall issue a new permanent certificate of number, displaying the same identification number, without charge to the successor entity. When any such vessel is sold to a private owner or is otherwise transferred to private ownership, the applicable certificate of number shall be deemed to have expired immediately prior to the transfer. Prior to further use on the waters of this State, the new owner shall obtain a certificate of number pursuant to the provisions of this Chapter. The provisions of this subsection applicable to a vessel owned by a nonprofit rescue squad apply only to a vessel operated exclusively for rescue purposes, including rescue training."

SECTION 5. G.S. 75A-34 reads as rewritten:

"§ 75A-34. Who may apply for certificate of title; authority of employees of Commission.

(a) Any owner of a motorized vessel or sailboat 14 feet or longer or any personal watercraft, as defined in G.S. 75A-13.3(a), that is applying for a certificate of number for the first time in this State pursuant to G.S. 75A-5(a), and any new owner of a motorized vessel or sailboat 14 feet or longer or any personal watercraft to whom ownership is being transferred under G.S. 75A-5(c) shall apply to the Commission for a certificate of title for that vessel. Any other vessel may be titled in this State at the owner's option. A vessel may not be titled in this State if it is titled in another state, unless the current title is surrendered along with the application for a certificate of title in this State. The Commission shall issue a certificate of title upon reasonable evidence of ownership, which may be established by affidavit, bill of sale, manufacturer's statement of origin, certificate of title in this State, certificate of number or title from another state, or other document satisfactory to the Commission. Only one certificate of title may be issued for any vessel in this State. A vessel may not be titled in this State if it is documented with the United States Coast ~~Guard.~~Guard, unless the documentation has expired or been deleted by the United States Coast Guard. The Commission shall issue a certificate of title upon receipt of a completed application, along with the appropriate fee and reasonable evidence of ownership. The Commission shall require a manufacturer's statement of origin for all new vessels being issued a certificate of number and a certificate of title for the first time. The Commission may request a pencil tracing of the hull identification number (serial number) for vessels being transferred, in order to positively identify the vessel before issuance of a certificate of title for that vessel.

(b) Employees of the Commission are vested with the power to administer oaths and to take acknowledgements and affidavits incidental to the administration and enforcement of this section. They shall receive no compensation for these services."

SECTION 6. G.S. 75A-38 reads as rewritten:

"§ 75A-38. Commission's records; fees.

(a) The Commission shall maintain a record of any title it issues.

(b) The Commission shall charge a fee of ~~twenty dollars ($20.00)~~thirty dollars ($30.00) to issue a new or transfer certificate of title. The Commission shall transfer on a quarterly basis at least ten dollars ($10.00) of each new or transfer certificate of title to the Shallow Draft Navigation Channel Dredging Fund established by G.S. 143-215.73F. The Commission shall charge a fee of ten dollars ($10.00) for each duplicate title it issues and for the recording of a supplemental lien."

SECTION 7. G.S. 105-449.126 reads as rewritten:

"§ 105-449.126. Distribution of part of Highway Fund allocation to Wildlife Resources ~~Fund.~~Fund and Shallow Draft Navigation Channel Dredging Fund.

(a) The Secretary shall credit to the Wildlife Resources Fund one-sixth of one percent (1/6 of 1%) of the amount that is allocated to the Highway Fund under G.S. 105-449.125 and is from the excise tax on motor fuel. Revenue credited to the Wildlife Resources Fund under this section may be used only for the boating and water safety activities described in G.S. 75A-3(c). The Secretary must credit revenue to the Wildlife Resources Fund on an annual basis.

(b) The Secretary shall credit to the Shallow Draft Navigation Channel Dredging Fund one-sixth of one percent (1/6 of 1%) of the amount that is allocated to the Highway Fund under G.S. 105-449.125 and is from the excise tax on motor fuel. Revenue credited to the Shallow Draft Navigation Channel Dredging Fund under this section may be used only for the dredging activities described in G.S. 143-215.73F. The Secretary must credit revenue to the Shallow Draft Navigation Channel Dredging Fund on an annual basis."

SECTION 8. Article 21 of Chapter 143 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new Part to read:

"Part 8B. Shallow Draft Navigation Channel Dredging Fund.

"§ 143-215.73F. Shallow Draft Navigation Channel Dredging Fund.

The Shallow Draft Navigation Channel Dredging Fund is established as a special revenue fund. The Fund consists of fees credited to it under G.S. 75A-3, G.S. 75A-38, and G.S. 105-449.126. Revenue in the Fund may only be used to provide the State's share of the costs associated with any dredging project designed to keep a shallow draft navigation channel located in State waters navigable and safe. Any project funded by revenue from the Fund must be cost-shared with non-State dollars on a one-to-one basis. For purposes of this section, "shallow draft navigation channel" means (i) a waterway connection, with a maximum depth of 14 feet, between the Atlantic Ocean and a bay or the Atlantic Intracoastal Waterway; (ii) a river entrance to the Atlantic Ocean through which tidal and other currents flow; or (iii) other interior coastal waterways."

SECTION 9. Nothing in this act shall affect the validity, term, or cost of any certificate of number or certificate of title issued prior to July 1, 2013.

SECTION 10. This act becomes effective July 1, 2013.

SENATE BILL 58:
Increase Funding for Dredging

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 1, 2013
Introduced by:	Senator Brown	Prepared by:	Jeff Hudson
Analysis of:	PCS to Second Edition S58-CSSBxf-3 [v.6]		Staff Attorney

SUMMARY: The Proposed Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 58 would increase vessel numbering and titling fees and allocate a portion of the excise tax on motor fuel to provide additional funding for the dredging of the State's shallow draft navigation channels.

CURRENT LAW:

Under G.S. 75A-4, every watercraft or vessel used on the waters of the State must obtain and display identification numbers provided by the Wildlife Resources Commission (WRC). There are several types of vessels that are exempt from this requirement, including sailboats of 14 feet in length or less; vessels with no means of propulsion other than drifting or manual paddling, poling, or rowing; and vessels that are covered by documentation issued by the federal government. The fees for vessel numbering are $15.00 for a one-year period and $40.00 for a three-year period.

Under G.S. 75A-34, the owner of a motorized vessel or sailboat 14 feet or longer or any personal watercraft that is applying for a certificate of number for the first time, or any new owner of such vessel to whom ownership is being transferred, must obtain a certificate of title for the vessel from the WRC. The fee for vessel titling is $20.00.

G.S. 75A-3 establishes the Boating Account within the Wildlife Resources Fund. All funds collected for the numbering and titling of vessels are credited to the Account, as is a portion of the motor fuel excise tax. Funds in the Account are used by the WRC to administer and enforce the boating laws of the State; for activities relating to boating and water safety, including education and waterway marking and improvement; and for boating access area acquisition, development, and maintenance. The WRC must use at least $3.00 of each one-year certificate of number fee and at least $9.00 of each three-year certificate of number fee for boating access area acquisition, development, and maintenance.

BILL ANALYSIS:

The Proposed Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 58 (PCS) would change vessel numbering and titling fees and requirements and allocation of the excise tax on motor fuels as follows:

Vessel Numbering Fee for a One-Year Period

Current Law	PCS for Senate Bill 58
$15.00	• $25.00 for a vessel that is less than 26 feet in length. • $50.00 for a vessel that is 26 feet or more in length.

The PCS would also direct the WRC to transfer at least 45% of each one-year certificate of number fee to the Shallow Draft Navigation Channel Dredging Fund.

Vessel Numbering Fee for a Three-Year Period

Current Law	PCS for Senate Bill 58
$40.00	• $75.00 for a vessel that is less than 26 feet in length. • $150.00 for a vessel that is 26 feet or more in length.

The PCS would also direct the WRC to transfer at least 45% of each three-year certificate of number fee to the Shallow Draft Navigation Channel Dredging Fund.

Exemption from Numbering Requirements

The PCS would repeal the exemption from numbering requirements for vessels that are covered by documentation issued by the federal government and would repeal the exemption from payment of fees for the numbering of commercial fishing vessels.

Vessel Titling

The PCS would increase the vessel titling fee from $20.00 to $30.00. It would also direct the WRC to transfer at least $10.00 of each new or transfer certificate of title to the Shallow Draft Navigation Channel Dredging Fund.

Allocation of the Excise Tax on Motor Fuel

The PCS would direct the Secretary of Revenue to credit to the Shallow Draft Navigation Channel Dredging Fund 1/6 of 1% of the amount allocated to the Highway Fund from the excise tax on motor fuels.

Shallow Draft Navigation Channel Dredging Fund

The PCS would establish the Shallow Draft Navigation Channel Dredging Fund, which would consist of fees credited to it from the numbering and titling of vessels and from allocation of the excise tax on motor fuel. Revenue from the Fund may only be used to provide the State's share of the costs associated with any dredging project designed to keep a shallow draft navigation channel located in State waters navigable and safe. Any project funded by revenue from the Fund must be cost shared with non-State dollars on a one-to-one basis.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act would become effective July 1, 2013.

BILL SUMMARY: The Proposed Committee Substitute (PCS) for Senate Bill 58 increases vessel registration and titling fees to provide additional funding for the dredging of the State's shallow draft inlets. It also repeals the North Carolina exemption from registration requirements for vessels that are covered by documentation issued by the federal government, and the exemption from payment of the registration fees by commercial fishing vessels. Lastly, the PCS directs that 1/6 of 1% of the excise tax on motor fuel that is allocated to the Highway Fund be credited to the Shallow Draft Navigation Channel Dredging Fund.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

For the purpose of estimating the amount of the revenue generated by the increase in registration and titling fees, the following assumptions were used:

1. The total number of active vessel registrations and title transactions does not change. This is supported by the stable number of registrations (and funds generated) over the past several years.
2. The breakdown between 1-year registration sales and 3-year registration sales does not change. The increase in vessel registration fees may cause a small percentage of boat owners to change their current behavior of purchasing three-year registrations to purchasing one-year licenses, but not in large enough numbers to cause a significant impact on total revenue collected annually.

REVENUES:

The PCS proposes the following four changes to increase revenue for dredging:

1. Increases vessel registration and title fees,
2. Makes federally documented vessels subject to the NC vessel registration fees,
3. Makes commercial fishing vessels subject to the NC vessel registration fees, and
4. Transfers 1/6 of 1% of the motor fuel tax deposited in the Highway Fund to Shallow Draft Navigation Channel Dredging Fund.

1. Increases in vessel registration and title fees: The PCS changes the vessel registration fees by moving from a flat fee of $15 per vessel per year (or $40 for a 3-year registration) to a two-tiered fee structure based on vessel length (see Table 1). The bill retains the option to purchase a 3-year registration, but it removes the $5 discount for the multi-year registration. The cost of 3-year registration is now three times the amount of a 1-year registration.

Table 1

Current 1-Year Fee	Proposed 1-Year Registration Fees
$15.00	• $25.00 for a vessel that is less than 26 feet in length
	• $50.00 for a vessel that is 26 feet or more in length
Current 3-Year Fee	Proposed 3-Year Registration Fees
$40.00	• $75.00 for a vessel that is less than 26 feet in length
	• $150.00 for a vessel that is 26 feet or more in length

In calendar year 2012, the Wildlife Resources Commission reported a total of 46,280 vessel title transactions and a total of 358,790 active boat registrations. The number of 1-year and 3-year registrations by vessel length can be found below in Table 2.

Table 2

North Carolina Active Vessel Registrations and Title Transactions in 2012
Vessel Length	Active Registrations*	1-Year Registrations	3-Year Registrations* boats less than 26'	347,414	27,844	111,484
boats 26" and greater	11,376	992	3,622
Total Registrations	358,790	28,836	115,106
Vessel Title Transactions	46,280

*Active registrations include each year of 3-year registrations. The number of 3-year registrations shown on the table is the actual number of 3-year registrations issued in 2012. This fiscal memo assumes that the number of 3-year registrations issued each year remains constant. The actual number of active registrations varies from year to year.

The estimated total amount of revenue generated is approximately $11 million (see Table 3), which the bill proposes to be distribute between the Boating Account administered by the Wildlife Resources Commission and the newly created Shallow Draft Navigation Channel Dredging Fund (Dredging Fund) to be administered by the Department of Environment and Natural Resources' Division of Water Resources. The Boating Account would retain 55% of the all registration fees and the Dredging Fund would receive 45%.

The PCS also increases the title fees from the current fee of $20 to the proposed fee of $30. Ten dollars of each new or transferred title would be credited to the Dredging Fund.

2. Documented Vessels subject to the NCs[1]: Currently, vessels that are required to be documented with the federal government are exempt from North Carolina's registration requirement. Vessels requiring documentation are those of five net tons or more used in fishing activities on navigable waters of the U.S. This roughly equates to a vessel 26 feet in length or longer. Because NC does not register these vessels it is difficult to know how many additional vessels could be subject to the registration requirement. Of the 355,434 documented vessels contained in the US Coast Guard database, a total of 5,200 vessels had NC listed both as a home port as well as the address of the vessel owner. This note assumes that these 5,200 vessels are located in North Carolina and thus would be subject to the proposed registration fees. Based on this assumption, a total of $260,000 in additional revenue is estimated to be generated on an annual basis from repealing the documentation exemption. [5,200 vessels 26'or more x $50 = $260,000] Because the actual number of documented vessels in NC is unknown, the amount of revenue collected from these vessels could be high than estimated.

3. Commercial Fishing Vessels: Currently, commercial fishermen are required to obtain a commercial fishing vessel registration from the Division of Marine Fisheries (DMF) and to pay annual registration fees to the Division based on vessel length (see Table 5). Commercial fishermen are also required to register their vessels with the Wildlife Resources Commission (WRC). They are, however, exempt from paying the WRC registration fee if they hold a valid commercial fishing vessel registration through the DMF.

Table 5

Current Commercial Vessel Registration Fees Charged by Division of Marine Fisheries (G.S. 113-168.6)
• $1 per foot for a vessel up to 18 Ft
• $1.50 per foot for a vessel that is over 18 feet but not over 38 feet in length
• $3.00 per foot for a vessel over 38 feet but not over 50 feet in length.
• $6.00 per foot for a vessel that is over 50 feet in length

[1] The following states require documented vessels to be registered: Maryland, Georgia, Florida, Louisiana (except for commercial fishing vessels), Texas (except for commercial fishing vessels), Tennessee and Missouri.

According to the DMF's records, 83% of commercial fishing vessels are less than 26 feet in length. WRC reports that a total of 2,173 commercial fishing vessels were given one year free registration renewals in FY 2011-12. Making these 2,173 vessels subject to the new two-tiered fee structure would generate a total of $63,550 on an annual basis. [1,804 vessels less than 26'in length x $25 = $45,100 plus 369 vessels greater than 26 x $50 = $18,450]

4. Motor Fuel Tax: The PCS directs that 1/6 of 1% of the excise tax on motor fuel that is allocated to the Highway Fund be credited to the Shallow Draft Navigation Channel Dredging Fund. Using the Department of Transportation's five year motor fuel tax forecast for the Highway Fund, the amount of new revenue generated for the Dredging Fund can be seen in Table 6.

All registration and title fee revenue will initially be deposited into the Wildlife Resources Commission's Boating Account. On a quarterly basis, 45% of registration fees and $10 from each title fee deposited in the Account will be transferred to the Shallow Draft Navigation Channel Fund, which will be administered by the Division of Water Resources (DWR) in the Department of Environment and Natural Resources.

The 55% of the funds that remain in the Boating Account will be used by WRC for the following purposes: 1) administration of the registration and titling system, 2) enforcement of boating laws, 3) activities related to boating and water safety including education and waterway marking and improvement, and 4) boating access area acquisition, development, and maintenance.

Currently, the Wildlife Resources Commission receives 100% of all vessel registration and title fees, which average just over $5.1 million in registration fees and $925,600 in title fees annually. The proposed changes in the PCS results in a net increase in the amount of revenue WRC receives from registration fees by approximately $400,000. There is no impact on the amount of revenue received from title fees.

Funds transferred to the Shallow Draft Navigation Dredging Channel Fund will be used to provide the State's share of the costs associated with any dredging project designed to keep a shallow draft inlet located in State waters navigable and safe. Any project funded by revenue from the Fund must be cost shared with non-State dollars on a one-to-one basis.

SENATE BILL 365:
Affordable and Reliable Energy Act

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Re-ref to Finance. If fav, re-ref to Commerce	Date:	May 1, 2013
Introduced by:	Sen. Brock	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S365-CSTD-18

SUMMARY: The PCS to Senate Bill 365 would revise the Renewable Energy Portfolio Standards (REPS) requirements enacted in S.L. 2007-397 in the following ways:

- Keeps the REPS requirement at the current requirement of 3% through 2023.
- Repeals the REPS requirements as of 2023.
- Requires the costs recovered for the REPS requirement to be separately stated on customer bills and identified as a special surcharge for green energy.
- Allows electric suppliers to recover all costs incurred in compliance with the REPS requirements, including the provisions repealed by this act.

[As introduced, this bill was identical to H298, as introduced by Reps. Hager, Collins, Avila, Cleveland, which is currently in House Public Utilities and Energy, if favorable, Environment, if favorable, Regulatory Reform.]

CURRENT LAW: In 2007, the General Assembly enacted a Renewable Energy Portfolio Standard (REPS) requirement for electric power suppliers.[1] Renewable Energy Portfolio Standards (REPS) require that electric power suppliers operating within a state provide a designated amount or percentage of power from renewable energy resources as a portion of their overall provision of electricity. Iowa enacted the first REPS in 1991 and as of March 2013, REPS have been enacted by 29 states and the District of Columbia.

Types of Renewable Energy: Renewable energy resources that can be used to meet the REPS requirements are:

- Solar electric, solar thermal, wind, hydropower, geothermal, or ocean current or wave energy resource.
- A biomass resource, including agricultural waste, animal waste, wood waste, spent pulping liquors, combustible residues, combustible liquids, combustible gases, energy crops, or landfill methane.
- Waste heat derived from a renewable energy resource and used to produce electricity or useful, measurable thermal energy at a retail electric customer's facility.
- Hydrogen derived from a renewable energy resource.

"Renewable energy resource" does not include peat, a fossil fuel, or nuclear energy resource.

[1] S.L. 2007-397, also known as "Senate Bill 3." The provisions of SB3 that are not amended by the H298 are briefly outlined in the "Background" section of this summary.

REPS Requirements: The REPS requirements varies based on the type of electric supplier, and is as follows:

Electric Public Utilities
Calendar Year	REPS Requirement
2012	3% of 2011 North Carolina retail sales
2015	6% of 2014 North Carolina retail sales
2018	10% of 2017 North Carolina retail sales
2021 and thereafter	12.5% of 2020 North Carolina retail sales

Electric Membership Corporations and Municipalities
Calendar Year	REPS Requirement
2012	3% of 2011 North Carolina retail sales
2015	6% of 2014 North Carolina retail sales
2018 and thereafter	10% of 2017 North Carolina retail sales

All electric power suppliers may meet the REPS requirements by:

- Generating electric power at a new renewable energy facility.
- Reducing energy consumption through the implementation of an energy efficiency measure.
- Purchasing electric power from a new renewable energy facility.
- Purchasing renewable energy certificates derived from in-state or out-of-state new renewable energy facilities.
- Using electric power that is supplied by a new renewable energy facility or saved due to the implementation of an energy efficiency measure that exceeds the requirements for any calendar year as a credit towards meeting the requirements in the following calendar year or sell the associated renewable energy certificates.
- Reducing electricity demand with a program that is voluntary, under the real-time control of both the electric power supplier and the retail electric customer, and measured in real time, using two-way communications devices that communicate on the basis of standards.

Electric public utilities may also meet the REPS requirements by using a renewable energy resource to generate electric power at a generating facility. Electric membership corporations and municipalities may also meet the requirements by purchase electricity from renewable energy facilities, and acquiring all or part of its electric power from an electric power supplier who meets the REPS requirements.

Set-Asides

Part of the REPS requirements must be met with certain energy resources. Commonly known as "set-asides" these additional requirements are as follows:

Requirement for Solar Energy Resources
At least the following percentage of the total electric power in kW hours sold to retail customers in the State must be supplied by a combination of new solar electric facilities and new solar thermal electric facilities:
2010	0.02%
2012	0.07%
2015	0.14%
2018	0.20%

Requirement for Swine Waste Resources[2]
At least the following percentage of the total electric power in kW hours sold to retail customers in the State must be supplied by swine waste.
2012	0.07%
2015	0.14%
2018	0.20%

Requirement for Poultry Waste Resources[3]
At least the following megawatt hours of total electric power sold to retail customers in the State must be supplied by poultry waste combined with wood shavings, straw, rice hulls, or other bedding materials.
2012	170,000 megawatt-hours
2013	700,000 megawatt-hours
2014	900,000 megawatt-hours

Cost Cap: Electric power suppliers are allowed to recover costs of compliance with the REPS requirements through an annual rider proceeding. The recovery of costs may not exceed an amount equal to the per-customer annual charges in the following schedule:

Customer Class	2008-2011	2012-2014	2015 and thereafter
Residential per account	$10.00	$12.00	$34.00
Commercial per account	$50.00	$150.00	$150.00
Industrial per account	$500.00	$1,000.00	$1,000.00

BILL ANALYSIS: The PCS to Senate Bill 365 would revise the Renewable Energy Portfolio Standards (REPS) requirements enacted in S.L. 2007-397 in the following ways:

The REPS requirements would remain at 3% of 2011 jurisdictional sales until 2023. The requirements would be repealed as of 2023. The set-asides would not be amended; however, the set-asides are also repealed as of 2023.

[2] In November of 2012, the Utilities Commission issued an order that eliminated the swine waste set aside for 2012.

[3] In November of 2012, the Utilities Commission issued an order that delayed the poultry waste set aside for one year.

The costs of compliance with the REPS requirement are currently recovered through a separate rider proceeding each year. The PCS would require that the amount recovered under the rider to be separately stated on customer bills and identified as a surcharge for green energy.

Electric suppliers are allowed to recover all costs incurred in compliance with the REPS requirements, including the provisions repealed by this act.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act becomes effective July 1, 2013.

BACKGROUND: S.L. 2007-397, also known as Senate Bill 3, enacted the REPS requirements that would be amended by House Bill 298. The act also contained the following additional provisions, which are NOT amended by House Bill 298:

Demand-side management and energy efficiency programs. – S.L. 2007-397 directed electric power suppliers to implement demand-side management and energy efficiency measures to establish the least cost mix of demand reduction and generation measures that meet the electricity needs of its customers.

Cost recover for electric power suppliers. – S.L. 2007-397 amended the cost recovery procedures for electric power suppliers to provide for:

- Recovery of additional costs under the annual fuel charge.
- Ongoing review of construction costs and the inclusion of construction costs in rates.
- Recovery of construction work in progress when reasonable and prudent and subject to an ongoing review by the Utilities Commission
- Recovery of construction costs for out-of-state electric generating facilities.
- Recovery of project development costs for nuclear facilities.

Public Utility and EMC Regulatory Fees. – S.L. 2007-397 adjusted the public utility and electric membership corporation regulatory fees. These fees are adjusted each year, typically in the budget.

Sales tax of fuel. – S.L. 2007-397 phased out the sales taxes paid by farmers and manufacturers for electricity, piped natural gas, and other fuels.

Tax credit. – S.L. 2007-397 provided a tax credit to a taxpayer that makes an eligible contribution to a nonprofit organization organized under section 501(c)(3) of the Code for investment in renewable energy property.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT AMENDING THE REQUIREMENTS RELATED TO NOTICE OF LAND-USE PLANNING AND ZONING CHANGES TO BE GIVEN TO A MILITARY BASE BY COUNTIES OR CITIES NEAR THE MILITARY BASE.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 153A-323(b) reads as rewritten:

"(b) If the adoption or modification of the ordinance would result in any of the changes ~~to the zoning map or would change or affect the permitted uses of land~~ listed in this subsection and those changes would be located five miles or less from the perimeter boundary of a military base, the board of commissioners shall provide written notice of the proposed changes by certified mail, ~~return receipt requested,~~ or by any other written means reasonably designed to provide actual notice, to the commander of the military base or the commander's designee not less than 10 days nor more than 25 days before the date fixed for the public hearing. Prior to the date of the public hearing, the military may provide comments or analysis to the board regarding the compatibility of the proposed changes with military operations at the base. If the board does not receive a response within 30 days of the notice, the military is deemed to waive the comment period. If the military provides comments or analysis regarding the compatibility of the proposed ordinance or amendment with military operations at the base, the board of commissioners shall take the comments and analysis into consideration before making a final determination on the ordinance. The proposed changes requiring notice are:

(1) Changes to the zoning map.
(2) Changes that affect the permitted uses of land.
(3) Changes relating to telecommunications towers or windmills.
(4) Changes to proposed new major subdivision preliminary plats.
(5) An increase in the size of an approved subdivision by more than fifty percent (50%) of the subdivision's total land area."

SECTION 2. G.S. 160A-364(b) reads as rewritten:

"(b) If the adoption or modification of the ordinance would result in any of the changes ~~to the zoning map or would change or affect the permitted uses of land~~ listed in this subsection and those changes would be located five miles or less from the perimeter boundary of a military base, the board of commissioners shall provide written notice of the proposed changes by certified mail, ~~return receipt requested,~~ or by any other written means reasonably designed to provide actual notice, to the commander of the military base or the commander's designee not less than 10 days nor more than 25 days before the date fixed for the public hearing. Prior to the date of the public hearing, the military may provide comments or analysis to the board regarding the compatibility of the proposed changes with military operations at the base. If the board does not receive a response within 30 days of the notice, the military is deemed to waive the comment period. If the military provides comments or analysis regarding the compatibility of the proposed ordinance or amendment with military operations at the base, the board of commissioners shall take the comments and analysis into consideration before making a final determination on the ordinance. The proposed changes requiring notice are:

(1) Changes to the zoning map.

(2) Changes that affect the permitted uses of land.

(3) Changes relating to telecommunications towers or windmills.

(4) Changes to proposed new major subdivision preliminary plats.

(5) An increase in the size of an approved subdivision by more than fifty percent (50%) of the subdivision's total land area."

SECTION 3. This act is effective when it becomes law and applies to planning and zoning changes initiated on or after that date.

HOUSE BILL 254:
Zoning Changes/Notice to Military Bases

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 7, 2013
Introduced by:	Reps. Glazier, Lewis, Szoka, Lucas	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell
Analysis of:	Second Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: House Bill 254 identifies additional proposed land use changes that would require notification by a local government to a nearby military installation.

CURRENT LAW: Counties and municipalities are required to notify nearby military installations of proposed zoning ordinances or other changes that would change or affect the permitted uses of land located five miles or less from the perimeter boundary of the installation. Prior to adopting an ordinance that would make these changes, the local government must consider any comments or analysis from the installation command relating to compatibility of use issues.

BILL ANALYSIS: The bill does the following:

- Adds the following matters as requiring notification to nearby military installations:
  - Changes relating to telecommunications towers or windmills.
  - Changes to proposed new major subdivision preliminary plats.
  - An increase in the size of an approved subdivision by more than fifty percent (50%) of the subdivision's total land area to proposed subdivisions, telecommunications towers, or windmills.
- Broadens the means by which notification can be made, by adding "any other written means reasonably designed to provide notification," and deleting a requirement for return receipt on certified mail.
- Allows the commander of the installation to appoint a designee to receive the required notice.
- Provides a 30-day timeframe in which the military has to provide comments to the proposed changes before it is considered to have waived the comment period.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This bill would be effective when it becomes law and apply to planning and zoning changes initiated on or after that date.

SENATE BILL 380:
Adjust Landfill Permit Fee Timing

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 6, 2013
Introduced by:	Sen. Jackson	Prepared by:	Jennifer McGinnis Committee Counsel to Agriculture/Environment/Natural Resources
Analysis of:	Second Edition

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 380[1] would make adjustments to the fee schedule for permits for sanitary landfills, transfer stations, and tire monofill facilities to reflect extension of the duration of these permits as directed by legislation enacted in 2012. The legislation was a recommendation of the Environmental Review Commission.

CURRENT LAW and BACKGROUND:

Prior to legislation enacted in 2012, the duration of permits for sanitary landfills and transfer stations was five years. S.L. 2012-187 directed the Commission for Public Health to adopt rules to allow applicants for permits for sanitary landfills and transfer stations the option to apply for a permit to construct (and operate) a facility for a period of ten years, with a limited review of the permit five years after issuance. In addition, the legislation directed the Department of Environment and Natural Resources (Department) to examine the fee schedule for permits for sanitary landfills and transfer stations and to formulate recommendations for adjustments to the applicable fees that would be sufficient to address any additional demands associated with review of permits issued for a longer period of time. The legislation further provided that the rule changes to allow permits of extended duration would not become effective until the fee schedule was amended to address any additional demands associated with review of permits issued for longer periods of time. The Department reported its findings and recommendations, including a legislative proposal, to the Environmental Review Commission (ERC) in December 2012. Senate Bill 380 embodies the Department's legislative proposal concerning needed fee adjustments, and was a recommendation of the ERC.

BILL ANALYSIS:

In conformance with the legislation enacted in 2012 that extended the duration of permits for sanitary landfills and transfer stations to ten years, the bill would add language to the statutes specifying that permits for sanitary landfills and transfer stations may be issued for a design and operation phase of 10 years, with a limited review five years after the date of issuance. In addition, the bill would make changes to the fee schedule under the General Statutes for sanitary landfills and transfer stations, based on the directive for an extended duration.

EFFECTIVE DATE:

The bill would be effective when it became law and apply to permit applications submitted on or after July 1, 2013.

BILL SUMMARY: Senate Bill 380 makes adjustments to the fee schedule for permits for sanitary landfills and transfer stations to reflect the extension of the duration of these permits as directed by the Regulatory Reform Act of 2012 (S.L. 2012-187). The bill also makes conforming changes to add language to the statutes specifying that permits for sanitary landfills and transfer stations may be issued for a design and operation phase of ten years with a limited review five years after the date of issuance.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

Background: The Regulatory Reform Act of 2012 required the Commission of Public Health to adopt rules that would allow the applicants for permits for sanitary landfills and transfer stations the option to apply for a new permit to construct and operate a facility for a period of ten years, with a limited review of the permit five years after issuance. At the end of the first five years, facilities issued new 10-year permits are required to submit a "permit modification" application. At the end of the first ten years, facility operators are required to submit a 10-year "amendment."

At the end of year five of the 10-year amendment, a "permit modification" is again required. Any time a facility operator makes a significant change to a 10-year permit, a "major modification" permit and associated fees are required.

To conform with the legislation that was enacted in 2012 and the subsequent rules, the bill adjusts the current statutory fee schedule for sanitary landfills and transfer stations by 1) adding fees for new permits of 10-year duration, 2) adding fees for 10-year permit amendments, and 3) adding new fees for a 10-year "major modification" (see Table 1 at end of memo).

Prior to the legislation enacted in 2012, the duration of new permits for sanitary landfills and transfer stations was five years. This 5-year permit option is still available and the existing fee structure for five-year permits has not changed. (see Table 1 at end of the memo).

The bill sets the fee structure for new 10-year permits such that a facility would pay the same amount in fees over a 10-year period regardless of the chosen permit option (five or 10-years).

The fees collected by the Division of Waste Management are deposited into a special fund and are used to support the staff in the Division's Solid Waste Management Section.

Assumptions:

1. The option of obtaining a 10-year permit versus a 5-year permit will not affect the number facilities seeking permits. The Division of Waste Management (DWM) projects the number of sanitary landfills to increase by less than five facilities over the next five years and the number of transfer stations to increase by approximately 10 facilities within the same timeframe. This increase is not due to the option of obtaining a 10-year permit, or its associated fees.

2. The services provided by the DWM will not change. There is no expected change in the current type of service provided to applicants of 10-year permits for sanitary landfills and transfer stations. The same type of permit review will be conducted in accordance with the statutory and rule requirements for facilities that seek either a five or 10-year permit.

3. DWM estimates that the amount of time it will take to review a 10-year permit will be approximately 30 percent more than the current five-year permits. This initial increase in the review time however, is offset by a five-year review of a 10-year permit that is projected to take 30 percent less time than a conventional five-year permit renewal (amendment). According to DWM, the projected workload can be accommodated within the agency's existing staff levels but the permit fees need to be adjusted in order to preserve the current program budget amounts.

4. Sanitary landfill and transfer station operators have the choice of selecting a 5-year or 10-year permit term; however, DWM projects that 75 percent of the facilities will choose permits of 10-year duration. This assumption is based on the fact that private solid waste companies initiated the 2012 legislation to lengthen the permit term for sanitary landfills and transfer stations. In addition, a 10-year permit offers potential savings to facility owners because the necessary engineering and hydrogeological work must only be completed once for a permit of 10-year duration versus repeating the work for two five-year permits. A 10-year permit also allows facilities the flexibility to construct individual landfill phases as needed by volume instead of by a particular date.

Fee Structure: The new fee structure for sanitary landfills and transfer stations is illustrated in Table 1. While the fee for a 10-year permit is higher than for a 5-year permit, the new fees are structured so that the total cost of a 10-year permit and its required 5-year modification is the same as the total cost of a 5-year permit and its required 5-year amendment over a ten-year period of time. As a result, the overall amount of permit fee revenue collected from sanitary landfills and transfer stations will not change under the proposed permit fee adjustments, but the timing of payments will be different. Permit fee revenue will increase during the first five years and will decrease on an equal basis during the second five years.

Fiscal Impact: The amount of additional revenue collected by the Division of Waste Management from proposed fee increases is approximately $270,000 each year for the next five years with a corresponding reduction in fees collected in the subsequent five years. This estimate is based on the following information:

1. The Division of Waste Management currently collects an average of $400,000 in permit fees from sanitary landfills and transfers stations.
2. The assumption that 75% of the facilities will switch to the new 10-year permit option. No new facilities have been permitted in recent years, so the switch to the 10-year option would require a 10-year amendment.
3. The 10-year permit amendment fees are about 90% higher than the five-year permit amendments.

Using this information, the annual amount of additional revenue from the proposed fee increase for next five years is calculated to be ($400,000 x 75%) x (90%) = $270,000. There is an equal reduction in fee revenue for the subsequent five years due to small fees associated with required 5-year modification permit. Over the ten year period the amount of fees collected by the division does not change, just the timing of revenue collection.

"§ 119-33. Investigation and inspection of measuring equipment; devices calculated to falsify measures.

(a) The gasoline and oil inspectors shall be required to investigate and inspect the equipment for measuring gasoline, kerosene, lubricating oil, and other liquid petroleum products. ~~Said~~ The inspectors shall be under the supervision of the Commissioner of Agriculture, and are hereby vested with the same power and authority now given by law to inspectors of weights and measures, ~~insofar as the same may be necessary~~ in order to effectuate the provisions of this Article. Inspectors of weights and measures appointed and maintained by the various counties and cities of the State shall have the same power and authority given by this section to inspectors under the supervision of the Commissioner of Agriculture. In all cases where it is found, after inspection, that the measuring equipment used in connection with the distribution of such products is inaccurate, the inspector shall condemn and seize all incorrect devices which in his best judgment ~~are not susceptible of satisfactory repair,~~cannot be satisfactorily repaired, but ~~such as are incorrect, and in his best judgment~~measuring equipment, that in the judgment of the inspector may be repaired, ~~he shall mark or tag~~shall be marked or tagged as "condemned for repairs" in a manner prescribed by the Commissioner of Agriculture. SENATE BILL 454:
Registration of Petroleum Device Technicians.-AB

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 6, 2013
Introduced by:	Sens. Cook, Barefoot, Rabin	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	First Edition

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 454 would authorize the Gasoline and Oil Inspection Board to regulate petroleum device technicians who perform necessary repairs to equipment used to measure petroleum products.

CURRENT LAW: The Gasoline and Oil Inspection Board regulates and enforces provisions of the law related to inspection of petroleum products. Gasoline and oil inspectors are responsible for inspecting the equipment used for measuring gasoline, kerosene, lubricating oil, and other liquid petroleum products. When an inspector finds that measuring equipment is inaccurate but is reparable, the owner is notified and must have the equipment repaired within 10 days.

Although it is not specifically authorized in statute, the Board currently registers petroleum device technicians who perform necessary repairs to the equipment. The Board has adopted rules establishing qualifications for registration, and registration is subject to revocation due to misrepresentation of fact, incompetency, or failure to render satisfactory service. Registrants must pay an annual fee of $20.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 454 would specifically authorize the Gasoline and Oil Inspection Board to provide for registration of petroleum device technicians, codifying in statute what is already the current practice. It would also specifically authorize the $20 annual registration fee in statute.

The bill would make clear that noticed repairs to measuring equipment must be done by registered petroleum device technicians. It would also make several technical and grammatical changes to the existing statutory language.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The bill would be effective when it becomes law.

SENATE BILL 490*
PROPOSED COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE S490-PCS95084-TM-32

Short Title: Exclude Custom Software from Property Tax. (Public)

Referred to:

March 28, 2013

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO EXCLUDE CUSTOM SOFTWARE FROM PROPERTY TAX.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. G.S. 105-275(40) reads as rewritten:

"§ 105-275. Property classified and excluded from the tax base.

The following classes of property are designated special classes under Article V, Sec. 2(2), of the North Carolina Constitution and are excluded from tax:

...

(40) Computer software and any documentation related to the computer software. As used in this subdivision, the term "computer software" means any program or routine used to cause a computer to perform a specific task or set of tasks. The term includes system and application programs and database storage and management programs.

The exclusion established by this subdivision does not apply to computer software and its related documentation if the computer software meets one or more of the following descriptions:

a. It is embedded software. "Embedded software" means computer instructions, known as microcode, that reside permanently in the internal memory of a computer system or other equipment and are not intended to be removed without terminating the operation of the computer system or equipment and removing a computer chip, a circuit, or another mechanical device.

b. It is purchased or licensed from a person who is unrelated to the taxpayer and it is capitalized on the books of the taxpayer in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, including financial accounting standards issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board. A person is unrelated to a taxpayer if (i) the taxpayer and the person are not subject to any common ownership, either directly or indirectly, and (ii) neither the taxpayer nor the person has any ownership interest, either directly or indirectly, in the other. The foregoing does not include development of software or any modifications to software, whether done internally by the taxpayer or externally by a third party, to meet the customer's specified needs.

This subdivision does not affect the value or taxable status of any property that is otherwise subject to taxation under this Subchapter.

The provisions of the exclusion established by this subdivision are not severable. If any provision of this subdivision or its application is held invalid, the entire subdivision is repealed.

...."

SECTION 2. This act is effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2013.

SENATE BILL 490:
Correct Taxation of Computer Software

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 7, 2013
Introduced by:	Sens. Gunn, Barefoot, Walters	Prepared by:	Greg Roney Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S490-CSTM-32

SUMMARY: The Proposed Committee Substitute (PCS) for Senate Bill 490 would exclude custom computer software from local property tax.

[As introduced, this bill was identical to H453, as introduced by Reps. J. Bell, Hager, Lewis, T. Moore, which is currently in House Finance.]

CURRENT LAW: The only forms of intangible personal property subject to local property tax are leasehold interests in exempt real property (G.S. 105-275(31)) and certain computer software (G.S. 105-275(40)).

Under G.S. 105-275(40), computer software and documentation related to the software is excluded from local property tax except the exclusion does not apply to:

- Embedded software or microcode – Computer instructions that reside permanently in the internal memory of a computer system and are not intended to be removed without terminating the operation of the computer system and removing a physical part.
- Capitalized, third-party software – Computer software that is purchased or licensed from a unrelated person and that is capitalized by the taxpayer under generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP). A person is unrelated to a taxpayer if (1) the taxpayer and the person are not subject to any direct or indirect common ownership and (2) the taxpayer and the person do not have any direct or indirect ownership interest in the other.

BILL ANALYSIS: The PCS for Senate Bill 490 would narrow the definition of computer software subject to local property tax. The capitalized, third-party software currently subject to local property tax would be limited to software that was not customized through development or modification to meet the customer's specified needs. The PCS excludes customized software from local property tax regardless of who customized the software (i.e., internally by the taxpayer or externally by a third party).

The PCS would leave embedded software subject to local property tax. The PCS would only subject the prewritten portion of capitalized, third-party software to local property tax.

BACKGROUND: On July 21, 2011, the NC Department of Revenue issued a memorandum to county tax assessors explaining the taxability of modifications to computer software. The Department of Revenue concluded that modifications to taxable software are taxable and modifications to excluded software are excluded. The Department of Revenue's position is based on the interpretation that software, including any modifications, is either taxable or excluded and that property is not subdivided into parts to determine taxability.

The Department of Revenue's memorandum addresses only modifications to software. The PCS addresses both modifications to software and the taxability of customized software that would be taxed as capitalized, third-party software.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The PCS for Senate Bill 490 would be effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2013.

BILL SUMMARY:
The PCS to SB 490 would exclude customized software from the property tax base.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:
Under current law, computer software is subject to property tax if it is purchased or licensed from a person unrelated to the taxpayer and it is capitalized on the books of the taxpayer.

The PCS to SB 490 would exclude customized or modified software. Because the property tax is a local revenue source, the PCS would have no General Fund Impact. There would be an impact to local governments, however, the value of customized software currently taxed is unknown and a fiscal estimate is therefore unavailable.

Minutes

The Senate Committee on Finance met on Wednesday, May 8, 2013, at 1:00 p.m. in room 544 of the Legislative Office Building. Senator Rabon served as Chair to the meeting.

H.B. 484 – Permitting of Wind Energy Facilities

This bill was removed from the agenda.

S.B. 473 – HealthCare Cost Reduction & Transparency

Senator Rucho was recognized to explain the bill. Senator Hise moved to adopt the PCS for discussion and the motion carried. The PCS establishes the Health Care Cost Reduction and Transparency Act of 2013. Part II of the bill creates new reporting requirements for hospitals on pricing for the 100 most common in patient diagnostic related groups (DRG's) in each hospital. The bill also creates similar reporting requirements for hospital outpatient departments and ambulatory surgical facilities (ASCs). These facilities must report on the 20 most common surgical procedures and the 20 most common imaging procedures, along with the appropriate CPT and HCPCS codes, performed in each setting. The North Carolina Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) must publish this information reported by the hospitals and ASC's on its internet website available to the public. The Medical Care Commission is charged with adopting rules identifying the DRG's, surgical procedures and imaging procedures on which the facilities will report. In addition, non-profit hospitals and ASC's must also report on their annual expenditures on financial assistance and bad debt and make this information available to the general public by posting on their premises and the internet. Part III of the bill makes it unlawful for any provider of health care services to charge or accept payment for any health care procedure or component of a health care procedure that was not performed or supplied. Part IV of the bill prohibits the UNC Health Care System and its affiliates, and other schools of medicine, clinical programs, facilities, and medical practices affiliated with one of the constituent institutions of UNC that provides medical care to the general public, from utilizing setoff debt collection procedures to collect outstanding debts from tax refunds and lottery winnings of debtors. Part V of the bill establishes fair billing practices for hospitals and ASC's. These include requirements that bills that are written so as to be comprehensible to the ordinary lay person, that notice be provided before a bill is sent to collections, and that facilities provide prompt refunds in the event of overpayment. The bill also prohibits a lien for a debt owed a hospital or ASC from attaching to a debtor's principal residence held by spouses as tenants by the entireties or that was held as tenants by the entireties prior to the death of either spouse where the tenancy terminate as a result of the death of either spouse. Execution on, or forced sale of, the primary residence of a custodial parent or parents to collect an unpaid bill for a debt owed for care provided to a minor is prohibited until the minor leaves the home or reaches the age of majority, whichever comes first. Part VI of the bill provides guidance for the governance of entities to manage care and control costs statewide. Barbara Riley, a staff attorney with the Research Division, and Denise Canada, an analyst with the Fiscal Research Division, were recognized to answer questions. Chuck Stone, a lobbyist for the State Employees' Association of NC, was recognized to support the bill. Cody Hand, a lobbyist with the NC Hospital Association, was recognized to request changes to the bill. Senator Cook moved for a favorable report. The motion carried. A copy of the bill, the summary and the fiscal note is attached.

The meeting adjourned at 1:27 p.m.

PART VI. GOVERNANCE OF ENTITIES TO MANAGE CARE AND CONTROL COSTS STATEWIDE

SECTION 9.(a) The General Assembly finds that the internal governance of entities contracting with the State to provide centralized care coordination, cost containment, or management of care on a statewide basis for the Medicaid program is of significant importance to the State, its taxpayers, and its Medicaid recipients; especially given the considerable amount of public funds expended on such contracts. The General Assembly further finds that the public has a profound interest in ensuring the quality of the entities' internal governance and, therefore, it is appropriate that the public should have an influence in the entities' internal governance.

SECTION 9.(b) Based on the legislative findings of subsection (a) of this section, the Department of Health and Human Services shall not enter into a new contract with an entity to provide cost containment or management of care on a statewide basis for the Medicaid program unless the entity adheres to the following governance provisions related to the entity's governing board:

(2) The board shall provide for public, voting members to be appointed as follows:
   a. Two persons appointed by General Assembly on the recommendation of the President Pro Tempore of the Senate.
   b. Two persons appointed by the General Assembly on the recommendation of the Speaker of the House of Representatives.
   c. Two persons appointed by the Governor.

(3) No more than two members on the board may directly benefit from any per member per month (PMPM) payments or incentive payments that are distributed or administered by the entity.

(4) No more than twenty-five percent (25%) of the members of the board may be providers or come from the provider community.

(5) No member of the board, or immediate family of a member of the board, may be a registered lobbyist or be employed by an entity that lobbies on behalf of a health care provider association.

(6) The board size may not exceed twice the number of persons to be appointed under subdivision (2) of this section plus one.

SECTION 9.(c) Subsection (b) of this section shall not apply to existing contracts or renewals under existing contracts when the renewal is at the option of one party.

PART VII. EFFECTIVE DATE

SECTION 10. Sections 4 and 5 of this act become effective January 1, 2014. BILL SUMMARY:

Section 4 enacts G.S. 131E-91.1, which requires each hospital licensed under Article 5 of G.S. 131E to provide to the NC Health Information Exchange, annually beginning on January 1, 2014, specific information regarding costs, payments, and reimbursements for the hospital's 50 most common episodes of care. Section 4 also requires hospitals to provide this information in writing to any patient requesting it within 24 hours after receiving the request.

Section 10 amends the definition of "state agency" found in G.S. 105A-2(9). G.S. 105A, The Set-off Debt Collection Act, requires State agencies to satisfy debts of more than $50 owed to them by individuals and corporations by garnishing state income tax returns and lottery winnings. Section 10 of this bill specifies that the following not be considered state agencies for the purposes of the act:

- Any school of medicine, clinical program, facility, or practice affiliated with one of the constituent institutions of The University of North Carolina that provides medical care to the general public; and
- The University of North Carolina Health Care System and other persons or entities affiliated with or under the control of The University of North Carolina Health Care System.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY:

The University of North Carolina

Section 4:

Section 4 requires each hospital to calculate and make public certain information about the hospital's 50 most common episodes of care. Although this requirement will have a financial impact on the hospitals affiliated with the University of North Carolina, no cost estimate is available at this time.

Section 10:

By redefining "State agency" as it applies to the Set-off Debt Collection Act (SODCA), this bill limits the debt collections methods available to the ECU Medical Faculty Practice Plan (ECU) and the healthcare entities affiliated with The University of North Carolina.

Both entities have charity care policies to help minimize the financial impact on patients with a limited ability to pay; these policies significantly reduce the amount of debt that would otherwise be subject to SODCA.[1] For debt not relieved by these policies, both the UNC Health Care System (UNC) and the ECU Medical Faculty Practice Plan (ECU) use their authority under SODCA to [1] Both ECU and UNC have adopted charity care policies to provide relief to patients with incomes at or below 250% of the federal poverty level. Both programs have detailed policies, but generally:

- Under UNC's policy, patients pay co-payments of at least $25 per primary care clinic visit, $35 per specialist clinic visit, $50 per Emergency Department visit and $100 per admission.
- Under ECU's policy, patients pay co-payments of $50 per primary care visit; $30 per specialty visit and $50 per Emergency Department visit.

Additionally, UNC's Community Care discount program grants a 35% discount on physician and hospital charges to any uninsured patient, and its Catastrophic Care Program allows eligible patients who do not qualify for charity care and who have incurred significant hospital and physician costs to have their medical debt reduced to 20% of their yearly income.

garnish tax refunds and lottery winnings of patients who have not made a debt payment in over 120 days old and who are not on a payment plan. By restricting these debt collection practices, the bill would reduce the amount of revenue that UNC and ECU collect on past due accounts. Table 1 shows the revenue that the entities collected over the past five fiscal years under SODCA.

Table 1: UNC and ECU SODCA Collections, FY07- FY12

Fiscal Year	UNC	ECU	Total
2007-08	4,802,386	3,350,558	8,152,944
2008-09	5,202,743	4,175,267	9,378,010

2012-13 Est.	7,314,496	5,500,000	12,814,496

To estimate the bill's impact over the next five fiscal years, the FY 2011-12 total SODCA collection was grown using the medical services inflationary growth rates as projected by Moody's Economy.com. Table 2 shows these estimates; because expenditures and revenues for UNC and ECU are recorded outside of the General Fund, there is no General Fund impact.

HealthCare Cost Reduction & Transparency

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 8, 2013
Introduced by:	Sens. Rucho, Brown	Prepared by:	Barbara Riley
Analysis of:	PCS to Second Edition S473-CSRF-19		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 473 establishes the Health Care Cost Reduction and Transparency Act of 2013. Part II of the bill creates new reporting requirements for hospitals on pricing for the 100 most common in patient diagnostic related groups (DRG's) in each hospital. The bill also creates similar reporting requirements for hospital outpatient departments and ambulatory surgical facilities (ASCs). These facilities must report on the 20 most common surgical procedures and the 20 most common imaging procedures, along with the appropriate CPT and HCPCS codes, performed in each setting. The North Carolina Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) must publish this information reported by the hospitals and ASC's on its internet website available to the public. The Medical Care Commission is charged with adopting rules identifying the DRG's, surgical procedures and imaging procedures on which the facilities will report. In addition, non-profit hospitals and ASC's must also report on their annual expenditures on financial assistance and bad debt and make this information available to the general public by posting on their premises and the internet. Part III of the bill makes it unlawful for any provider of health care services to charge or accept payment for any health care procedure or component of a health care procedure that was not performed or supplied. Part IV of the bill prohibits the UNC Health Care System and its affiliates, and other schools of medicine, clinical programs, facilities, and medical practices affiliated with one of the constituent institutions of UNC that provides medical care to the general public, from utilizing setoff debt collection procedures to collect outstanding debts from tax refunds and lottery winnings of debtors. Part V of the bill establishes fair billing practices for hospitals and ASC's. These include requirements that bills that are written so as to be comprehensible to the ordinary lay person, that notice be provided before a bill is sent to collections, and that facilities provide prompt refunds in the event of overpayment. The bill also prohibits a lien for a debt owed a hospital or ASC from attaching to a debtor's principal residence held by spouses as tenants by the entireties or that was held as tenants by the entireties prior to the death of either spouse where the tenancy terminate as a result of the death of either spouse. Execution on, or forced sale of, the primary residence of a custodial parent or parents to collect an unpaid bill for a debt owed for care provided to a minor is prohibited until the minor leaves the home or reaches the age of majority, whichever comes first. Part VI of the bill provides guidance for the governance of entities to manage care and control costs statewide.

BILL ANALYSIS: Section 1 of the bill designates the bill as the Health Care Cost Reduction and Transparency Act of 2013.

Section 2 creates a new article in Chapter 131E establishing the price reporting requirements for hospitals and ASC's and requiring DHHS to make that information available to the public on its website. The Medical Care Commission is directed to adopt rules establishing the DRG's, surgical procedures, and imaging procedures on which hospitals and ASC's must report.

G.S. 131E-214.5 sets out the intent of the General Assembly to improve transparency in health costs by providing information to the public on the costs of the most frequently reported DRG's for hospital inpatient care and surgical and imaging procedures performed in hospital outpatient settings and ASCs. DHHS is to make this information available to the public on its website. The information is to be provided in a manner that is easily understandable. The data disclosed to the Department shall not be used by any person or entity for commercial purposes.

G.S. 131E-214.6 provides for disclosure by hospitals of pricing information on the 100 most frequently reported admissions by DRG as established by rule by the Medical Care Commission. Beginning on March 31, 2014, and quarterly thereafter, hospitals must report:

1. The amount that will be charged to a patient for each of the 100 most frequently reported admissions by DRG if all charges are paid in full without a public or private third party paying for any portion of the charges, along with a separate listing of the facility fees charged by health care providers affiliated with the hospital for each episode of care (i.e., uninsured individuals).
2. The average negotiated settlement on the amount charged to an uninsured patient.
3. The total amount of Medicaid reimbursement for each DRG, including claims and pro rata supplements.
4. The total amount of Medicare reimbursement for each DRG.
5. For the 5 largest health insurers providing payment to the hospital on behalf of insureds, the range of the total amount of payments made for each of the 50 most frequently reported admissions by DRG. Hospitals and ASCs must redact the names and identifying information of health insurers prior to providing this information to the NC HIE. (Health insurers do not include self insured plans or group health plans as defined under ERISA.)
6. The total amount of payments made by the State health Plan for each of the DRG's.

Hospitals must provide this same information about their 100 most frequently reported admissions by DRG to a patient, in writing, within 24 hours after receiving a patient request for it.

G.S. 131E-214.6 also provides that beginning with the quarter ending June 30, 2014, and quarterly thereafter, hospitals and ASCs shall report information on the total cost for the 20 most common surgical procedures and 20 most common imaging procedures, by volume, performed in hospital outpatient settings or AS's, along with the related CPT and HCPCS codes, to DHHS for publication on its website. The information shall be reported in the same manner hospitals reported its cost information on DRG's. The Commission must adopt rules establishing the 20 most common surgical procedures and 20 most common imaging procedures by March 31, 2014.

G.S. 131E-214.7 provides that hospitals and ASCs required to file Schedule H, federal form 990, must provide the public access to their financial assistance policies and financial assistance and bad debt costs. This information must be posted in a public location on the facilities' premises and published by the Department on its website.

Section 3 of the bill directs the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) to inform hospitals and ASCs by July 1, 2013, of the new reporting requirements pertaining to the most common episodes of care and charity care.

Section 4 of the bill excludes from the definition of competitive health care information the information hospitals and ASCs are required to report pursuant to Sections 4 and 5 of the bill concerning common episodes of care.

Section 5 of the bill provides that information hospitals and ASCs are required to report pursuant to Sections 4 and 5 of the bill and that is included in health care contracts entered into by hospitals and ASCs is not confidential and that this information is considered a public record under Chapter 132 of the General Statutes.

Section 6 of the bill makes it unlawful for a provider of healthcare services to charge or accept payment for any health care procedure or component of a health care procedure that was not performed or supplied.

Section 7 of the bill amends the definition of State agency for purposes of the Setoff Debt Collection Act to exclude (i) any school of medicine, clinical program, facility, or practice affiliated with one of the constituent institutions of UNC that provides medical care to the general public, and (ii) UNC Health Care System or any persons or entities affiliated with them or under their control. These entities will not be able to use setoff debt collection procedures to collect outstanding debts from debtors' State tax refunds and State lottery winnings.

Section 8 of the bill establishes fair billing and collections practices for hospitals and ASC's. G.S. 131E-91 is amended to provide that:

1. Non itemized bills must contain a statement that a patient has a right to an itemized statement, free of charge detailing in language comprehensible to an ordinary layperson the specific nature of the charges or expenses incurred by the patient. A patient may request an itemized bill any time within 3 years after discharge or as long as the hospital, a collections agency, or other assignee of the hospital or ASC asserts the patient has an obligation to pay the bill.
2. If a patient has overpaid, and the amount is not disputed or on appeal, a refund shall be issued within 45 days of the facility receiving notice of the overpayment.
3. Patients shall not be billed for charges that would have been covered by their insurance had the facility submitted the claim or necessary information within the allotted time.
4. Hospitals and ASC's shall not refer an unpaid bill to a collections agency or other entity during the pendency of a patient's application for charity care or financial assistance.
5. Hospitals and ASC's shall provide a patient with written notice 30 days prior to referring a bill to collections.
6. A hospital or ASC that contracts with a collections agency or other entity shall require that the collections agency inform the patient of the hospital's or ASC's charity care and financial assistance policies when engaging in collections activity.
7. A hospital or ASC shall require a collections agency or other entity to obtain the written consent of the hospital or ASC before filing a lawsuit to collect the debt.
8. A lien for a debt owed a hospital or ASC shall not attach to a debtor's principal residence held by spouses as tenants by the entireties or that was held as tenants by the entireties prior to the death of either spouse where the tenancy terminates as a result of the death of either spouse.
9. There shall be no execution on, or otherwise forced sale of the principal residence of the custodial parent or parents for debts arising from the provision of care to a minor, until such time as the minor is either no longer residing with the custodial parent or until the minor reaches the age of majority, whichever occurs first.

Section 8.b. repeals Article 2A of Chapter 131E providing for garnishment for debts owed public hospitals.

Section 8.c. provides a cross reference to the provisions in Section 11.a. in the ambulatory surgical facilities licensing act.

Section 8.d. amends G.S. 58-3-245 regarding the provision of provider directories to require that a health benefit plan shall ensure that a patient is provided current and accurate information on each provider's network status through the phone system and any online system. The amendment further requires a healthcare provider to provide a patient or prospective patient, on request, information on the provider's network status with a particular benefit plan.

Section 9 of the bill makes findings of fact regarding the State's significant interest in the internal governance of entities contracting with the State to provide centralized care coordination, cost containment, or management of care on a Statewide basis for the Medicaid program. Based on those findings, Section 9.(b) prohibits the Department of Health and Human Services from entering into a new contract with such an entity unless the entity adheres to the following governance provisions:

1. The board shall contain individuals with experience in health care including:
   - A health actuary.
   - Someone with expertise in health information technology, informatics, or provider performance measurement.
   - Two representatives of the provider community.
   - A representative of the health insurance industry.

2. The board shall provide for public, voting members to be appointed as follows: Two persons appointed by General Assembly on the recommendation of the President Pro Tempore of the Senate; two persons appointed on the recommendation of the Speaker of the House of Representatives; and two persons appointed by the Governor.

3. No more than two members on the board may directly benefit from any per member per month (PMPM) payments or incentive payments that are distributed or administered by the entity.

4. No more than twenty-five percent (25%) of the members of the board may be providers or come from the provider community.

5. No member of the board, or immediate family of a member of the board, may be a registered lobbyist or be employed by an entity that lobbies on behalf of a health care provider association.

6. The board size may not exceed twice the number of persons to be appointed under subdivision (2) of this section plus one.

Section 9.(c) of the bill provides that Section 9.(b) of this section shall not apply to existing contracts or renewals under existing contracts when the renewal is at the option of one party.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Sections 4 and 5 of this act become effective January 1, 2014. Section 6 of this act becomes effective December 1, 2013, and applies to health care procedures and services rendered on or after that date. Section 7 of this act becomes effective January 1, 2014, and applies to tax refunds determined by the Department of Revenue on or after that date. Section 8 of this act becomes effective October 1, 2013 and applies to hospital and ambulatory surgical facility billings and collections practices occurring on or after that date. The remainder of this act is effective when it becomes law.

Minutes

The Senate Committee on Finance met on Tuesday, May 14 2013, at 1:00 p.m. in room 544 of the Legislative Office Building. Jamarlo Williams, Katie Steg, and James Averette of Henderson; Emily Rundle of Raleigh; Dillon Phillips of Louisburg; and Jamera Williams of Weldon served as pages. Senator Rabon served as Chair to the meeting.

H.B. 484 – Permitting of Wind Energy Facilities

Senator Brown was recognized to explain the bill. Senator Rucho moved to adopt the proposed committee substitute (PCS) for discussion and the motion carried. The bill would establish a permitting program for the siting and operation of wind energy facilities in North Carolina. The PCS would (i) eliminate the proposed change to the policy of the State to promote development of renewable resources in a manner compatible with the efficient use of resources and the State's military and economic interests, and (ii) provide that an applicant must comply with the applicable requirements of Chapter 62 of the General Statutes. Wayne Harris, Director of the Albemarle Economic Development Commission, was recognized to speak in opposition to the bill. He said that wind energy is a job creator in poor sections of the State. David Burton was recognized and said that the bill needs improvements – testing needs to be conducted by DENR instead of by the developers. Brad Ives, Assistant Secretary – DENR, was recognized to speak in favor of the bill. Attila Nemecz, Friends of Pocosin Lakes National Wildlife Reserve, requested an independent assessment of wildlife concerns. Doris Morris, Friends of Pocosin Lakes National Wildlife Reserve, requested that DENR have control of inspections. Senator Apodaca moved for a favorable report and the motion carried. A copy of the PCS, the summary and a favorable letter from John Nicholson, Governor McCrory's military advisor, is attached.

S.B. 523 – Returns w/Refunds Filed Late Penalty

Senator Rucho was recognized to explain the bill. Senator Brock moved to adopt the PCS for discussion and the motion carried. The penalty for failure to file a return is a maximum of 25% of the "amount of the tax." The PCS would impose a flat penalty of $100 for failure to file a return for personal income, tax and clarify the amount of the penalty for failure to file a return for all other penalties. Tom Dixon, Assistant Secretary – Department of Revenue, was recognized to answer questions. Senator Apodaca moved for a favorable report and the motion carried. A copy of the bill and the summary is attached.

S.B. 269 – Salisbury/Deannex Rowan Cty Airport Property

Senator Brock was recognized to explain the bill which would deannex a described area from the corporate limits of the City of Salisbury. He then offered a technical amendment which changed the effective date. Senator Tillman moved to adopt the amendment and the motion carried. Senator Tillman moved for a favorable report and the motion carried. A copy of the bill, the summary and the amendment is attached.

S.B. 103 – Amend Assessments for Infrastructure Needs

Senator Hartsell was recognized to explain the bill. Senator Hise moved to adopt the PCS for discussion and the motion carried. The bill addresses two issues in the special assessment for critical infrastructure needs that have arisen as local governments have considered its use. The PCS extends the sunset on this program for two years, from July 1, 2013 to July 1, 2015. Senator Tillman moved for a favorable report and the motion carried. A copy of the PCS and the summary is attached.

S.B. 248 – Choice of Hearing Aid Specialist

Senator Hartsell was recognized to explain the bill. It adds hearing aid specialists to the list of providers from which an individual has the right to choose the provider of services under a health benefit plan. The bill also increases the amount of the fee for licensure that the Board may assess from $250 to $500. Senator Hartsell offered a clarifying amendment and moved for its adoption. The motion carried. Senator Hise moved for a favorable report as amended and the motion carried. A copy of the bill, the summary, the actuarial note, and the amendment is attached.

S.B. 463 – Jail Dormitory Minimum Standards

Senator Woodard was recognized to explain the bill which would modify the requirement regarding the maximum number of inmates that may be housed in a dormitory of a county detention facility located in certain counties. Heather Fennell, a staff attorney with the Research Division, was recognized to answer questions. Senator Woodard offered a technical amendment to correct the title and moved for its adoption. The motion carried. Senator Tillman moved for a favorable report as amended and the motion carried. A copy of the bill, the summary and the amendment is attached.

Referred to:

April 1, 2013

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO ESTABLISH A PERMITTING PROGRAM FOR THE SITING AND OPERATION OF WIND ENERGY FACILITIES.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Chapter 143 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new Article to read:

"Article 21C.
"Permitting of Wind Energy Facilities.

"§ 143-215.115. Definitions.

In addition to the definitions set forth in G.S. 143-212, the following definitions apply to this Article:

(1) "Major military installation" means Fort Bragg, Pope Army Airfield, Marine Corps Base Camp Lejeune, New River Marine Corps Air Station, Cherry Point Marine Corps Air Station, Military Ocean Terminal at Sunny Point, the United States Coast Guard Air Station at Elizabeth City, Naval Support Activity Northwest, Air Route Surveillance Radar (ARSR-4) at Fort Fisher, and Seymour Johnson Air Force Base, in its own right and as the responsible entity for the Dare County Bombing Range, and any facility located within the State that is subject to the installations' oversight and control.

(2) "Wind energy facility" means the turbines, accessory buildings, transmission facilities, and any other equipment necessary for the operation of the facility that cumulatively, with any other wind energy facility whose turbines are located within one-half mile of one another, have a rated capacity of one megawatt or more of energy.

(3) "Wind energy facility expansion" means any activity that (i) adds or substantially modifies turbines or transmission facilities, including increasing the height of such equipment, over that which was initially permitted or (ii) increases the footprint of the wind energy facility over that which was initially permitted.

"§ 143-215.116. Permit to site wind energy facilities.

No person shall undertake construction, operation, or expansion activities associated with a wind energy facility in this State without first obtaining a permit from the Department.

"§ 143-215.117. Permit preapplication site evaluation meeting; notice; preapplication package requirements.

(a) Permit Preapplication Site Evaluation Meeting. – No less than 180 days prior to filing an application for a permit to construct, operate, or expand a wind energy facility, a person shall request a preapplication site evaluation meeting to be held between the applicant and the Department. The preapplication site evaluation meeting shall be held no less than 120 days prior to filing an application for a permit to construct, operate, or expand a wind energy facility and may be used by the participants to:

(1) Conduct a preliminary evaluation of the site or sites for the proposed wind energy facility or wind energy facility expansion. The preliminary evaluation of the proposed wind energy facility or proposed wind energy facility expansion shall determine if the site or sites:

a. Pose serious risk to civil air navigation or military air navigation routes, air traffic control areas, military training routes, special-use air space, radar, or other potentially affected military operations.

b. Pose serious risk to natural resources and uses, including to species of concern or their habitats.

(2) Identify areas where proposed construction or expansion activities pose minimal risk of interference with civil air navigation or military air navigation routes, air traffic control areas, military training routes, special-use air space, radar, or other potentially affected military operations.

(3) Identify areas where proposed construction or expansion activities pose minimal risk to natural resources and uses, including avian, bat, and endangered and threatened species.

(b) Permit Preapplication Package. – No less than 45 days prior to the date of the permit preapplication site evaluation meeting scheduled in accordance with subsection (a) of this section, the applicant for a wind energy facility or wind energy facility expansion shall submit a preapplication package to the Department. To the extent that any documents contain trade secrets or confidential business information, those portions of the documents shall not be subject to disclosure under the North Carolina Public Records Act. The preapplication package shall include all of the following:

(2) A map showing the approximate location of the proposed wind energy facility or proposed wind energy facility expansion.

(3) A description of any known potential impacts of the proposed wind energy project location on civil air navigation or military air navigation routes, air traffic control areas, military training routes, special-use air space, radar, or other potentially affected military operations. The applicant may use data made available by the Department pursuant to G.S. 143-215.123 to satisfy this requirement.

(4) A description of species of concern, habitats that support species of concern, critical areas of wildlife congregation, and protected lands, as those species, habitats, and critical areas are referenced in the March 23, 2012, United States Fish and Wildlife Service Land-Based Wind Energy Guidelines (OMB Control No. 1018-0148) that are or believed to be present at the site of the proposed wind energy facility or proposed wind energy facility expansion. The applicant may use data made available by the North Carolina

Wildlife Resources Commission, the Department, or other governmental agency to satisfy this requirement.

(5) A list of the federal, State, and local agencies from which approvals will be obtained and the name of those approvals required in order to authorize the construction, operation, or expansion of the proposed wind energy facility.

(6) A schedule showing the anticipated dates for commencement of construction, testing, and commercial operation of the proposed wind energy facility or proposed wind energy facility expansion.

(c) Notice to Interested Parties. – No less than 21 days prior to the date of the permit preapplication site evaluation meeting scheduled in accordance with subsection (a) of this section, the Department shall provide written notice of the meeting to the United States Army Corps of Engineers, the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, the North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission, the commanding military officer or the commanding military officer's designee of any potentially affected major military installation, and any other party that the Department deems relevant. "§ 143-215.118. Permit application scoping meeting and notice.

(a) Scoping Meeting. – No less than 60 days prior to filing an application for a permit for a proposed wind energy facility or proposed wind energy facility expansion, the applicant shall request the scheduling of a scoping meeting between the applicant and the Department. The scoping meeting shall be held no less than 30 days prior to filing an application for a permit for a proposed wind energy facility or proposed wind energy facility expansion. The applicant and the Department shall review the permit for the proposed wind energy facility or proposed facility expansion at the scoping meeting.

(b) Notice of Scoping Meeting. – No less than 21 days prior to the scheduled permit application scoping meeting with an applicant, the Department shall provide written notice of the meeting to the commanding military officer of each major military installation, or the commanding military officer's designee, the Federal Aviation Administration, the North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission, the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, the board of commissioners for each county and the governing body of each municipality in which the wind energy facility or proposed wind energy facility expansion is proposed to be located; and those local governments with jurisdictions over areas in which a major military installation is located. b. A description of the proposed wind energy facility or proposed wind energy facility expansion.

(5) A description of civil air navigation or military air navigation routes, air traffic control areas, military training routes, special-use air space, radar, or other military operations that may be affected by the construction or operation of the proposed wind energy facility or proposed wind energy facility expansion.

(6) Documentation that addresses any potential adverse impact on military operations and readiness as identified by the Department of Defense Clearinghouse pursuant to Part 211 of Title 32 Code of Federal Regulations (July 1, 2012 edition) and any mitigation actions agreed to by the applicant.

(7) Documentation that the applicant has either (i) submitted Federal Aviation Administration Form 7460-1 for the turbines associated with the proposed wind energy facility or proposed wind energy facility expansion or (ii) initiated an informal review by the Department of Defense Siting Clearinghouse of the proposed wind energy facility or proposed wind energy facility expansion. If the applicant has submitted Federal Aviation Administration Form 7460-1 in order to fulfill the requirements of this subdivision, the applicant shall provide any determination reached by the Federal Aviation Administration at the time the application is submitted to the Department. If the Federal Aviation Administration has not made a determination at the time the application is submitted to the Department, the application shall include a description of the status of the applicant's engagement with the Federal Aviation Administration and the Department of Defense Siting Clearinghouse.

(8) A study of the noise impacts of the turbines to be associated with the proposed wind energy facility or proposed wind energy facility expansion.

(1) The North Carolina Utilities Commission.
(2) The Office of the Attorney General of North Carolina.
(3) The commanding military officer of any potentially affected major military installation or the commanding military officer's designee.
(4) The board of commissioners for each county and the governing body of each municipality with jurisdictions over areas in which a potentially affected major military installation is located.

"§ 143-215.120. Criteria for permit approval; time frame; permit conditions; other approvals required.

(a) Permit Approval. – The Department shall approve an application for a permit for a proposed wind energy facility or proposed wind energy facility expansion unless the Department finds any one or more of the following:

(1) Construction or operation of the proposed wind energy facility or proposed wind energy facility expansion would be inconsistent with or violate rules adopted by the Department or any other provision of law.
(2) Construction or operation of the proposed wind energy facility or proposed wind energy facility expansion would encroach upon or would otherwise have a significant adverse impact on the mission, training, or operations of any major military installation or branch of military in North Carolina and result in a detriment to continued military presence in the State. In its evaluation, the Department may consider whether the proposed wind energy facility or proposed wind energy facility expansion would cause interference with air navigation routes, air traffic control areas, military training routes, or radar based on information submitted by the applicant pursuant to subdivisions (5) and (6) of subsection (a) of G.S. 143-215.119, and any information received by the Department pursuant to subdivision (2) of subsection (c) of G.S. 143-215.119.
(3) Construction or operation of the proposed wind energy facility or proposed wind energy facility expansion would result in significant adverse impacts to ecological systems, natural resources, cultural sites, recreation areas, or historic sites of more than local significance; including national or State parks or forests, wilderness areas, historic sites, recreation areas, segments of the natural and scenic rivers system, wildlife refuges, preserves and management areas, areas that provide habitat for threatened or endangered species, primary nursery areas designated by the Marine Fisheries Commission and the Wildlife Resources Commission, and critical fisheries habitat identified pursuant to the Coastal Habitat Protection Plan.
(4) Construction or operation of the proposed wind energy facility or proposed wind energy facility expansion would have a significant adverse impact on fish or wildlife.
(5) Construction or operation of the proposed wind energy facility or proposed wind energy facility expansion would have a significant adverse impact on views from any State or national park, wilderness area, significant natural heritage area as compiled by the North Carolina Natural Heritage Program, or other public lands or private conservation lands designated or dedicated due to their high recreational values.
(6) Construction or operation of the proposed wind energy facility or proposed wind energy facility expansion would obstruct major navigation channels or create a significant obstacle to navigation in coastal waters, as determined by the United States Army Corps of Engineers and the United States Coast Guard.

(7) A permit for a proposed wind energy facility or proposed wind energy facility expansion would be denied under any other criteria set out in G.S. 113A-120.

(8) Construction of the proposed wind energy facility or proposed wind energy facility expansion would be prohibited under Article 14 of Chapter 113A of the General Statutes, the Mountain Ridge Protection Act of 1983.

(9) The applicant is not in compliance with all applicable federal, State, or local permit requirements, licenses, or approvals, including local zoning requirements.

(b) Permit Decision. – The Department shall make a final decision on a permit application within 90 days following receipt of a completed application, except that the Department shall not be required to make a final decision until the Department has received a written "Determination of No Hazard to Air Navigation" issued by the Federal Aviation Administration pursuant to Subpart D of Part 77 of Title 14 of the Code of Federal Regulations (January 1, 2012 edition). If the Department requests additional information following the receipt of a completed application, the Department shall make a final decision on a permit application within 30 days of receipt of the requested information. If the Department determines that an application for a wind energy facility or a wind energy facility expansion fails to meet the requirements for a permit under this section, the Department shall deny the application, and the application shall be returned to the applicant accompanied by a written statement of the reasons for the denial and any modifications to the permit application that would make the application acceptable. If the Department fails to act within the time period set forth in this subsection, the applicant may treat the failure to act as a denial of the permit and may challenge the denial as provided under Chapter 150B of the General Statutes.

(c) Permit Conditions. – The Department (i) may include as a condition of a permit for a proposed wind energy facility or proposed wind energy facility expansion a requirement that the permit holder mitigate any adverse impacts and (ii) shall include as a condition of a permit for a proposed wind energy facility or proposed wind energy facility expansion a requirement that the permit holder obtain a written "Determination of No Hazard to Air Navigation" issued by the Federal Aviation Administration pursuant to Subpart D of Part 77 of Title 14 of the Code of Federal Regulations (January 1, 2012 edition) for the facility. No permit for a wind energy facility or wind energy facility expansion shall become effective until the Department has received and reviewed the "Determination of No Hazard to Air Navigation" issued by the Federal Aviation Administration for the facility. If the specific location of a turbine authorized to be constructed pursuant to a "Determination of No Hazard to Air Navigation" or the configuration of the wind energy facility varies from the information submitted by the applicant upon which the Department has made its permit decision, the Department may reevaluate the permit application and require the applicant to submit any additional information the Department deems necessary to approve or deny a permit for the facility as reconfigured.

(d) Other Approvals Required. – The issuance of a permit under this section shall not obviate the need for the applicant to obtain any and all other applicable local, State, or federal permits, licenses, or approvals. Furthermore, nothing in this Article shall be interpreted to limit, as applicable, (i) the application of Article 7 of Chapter 113A of the General Statutes to facilities permitted under this section, including the permitting requirements of G.S. 113A-118, (ii) the ability of a city or county to plan for and regulate the siting of a wind energy facility in accordance with land-use regulations authorized under Chapter 160A and Chapter 153A of the General Statutes, or (iii) the applicable requirements of Chapter 62 of the General Statutes.

"§ 143-215.121. Financial assurance requirements.

The applicant for a permit or a permit holder for a wind energy facility shall establish financial assurance that will ensure that sufficient funds are available for decommissioning of the facility and reclamation of the property to its condition prior to commencement of activities on the site, even if the applicant or permit holder becomes insolvent or ceases to reside in, be incorporated, do business, or maintain assets in the State. To establish sufficient availability of funds under this section, the applicant for a permit or a permit holder for a wind energy facility may use insurance, financial tests, third-party guarantees by persons who can pass the financial test, guarantees by corporate parents who can pass the financial test, irrevocable letters of credit, trusts, surety bonds, or any other financial device, or any combination of the foregoing, shown to provide protection equivalent to the financial protection that would be provided by insurance if insurance were the only mechanism used.

"§ 143-215.122. Monitoring and reporting.

The applicant shall annually submit copies to the Department of any post-construction monitoring, such as reports on the impacts on wildlife in the location of and in the area proximate to the wind energy facility or wind energy facility expansion and any impacts on military operations that are required by the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, the North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission, the North Carolina Utilities Commission, or any other government agency.

"§ 143-215.123. Annual review of military presence.

The Department shall consult with representatives of the major military installations to review information regarding military air navigation routes, air traffic control areas, military training routes, special-use air space, radar, or other potentially affected military operations at least once per year. The Department shall provide relevant information on civil air navigation or military air navigation routes, air traffic control areas, military training routes, special-use air space, radar, or other potentially affected military operations to permit applicants as requested.

"§ 143-215.124. Record keeping.

The Department shall serve as the custodian of all data, information, and records received from a permit applicant or a major military installation pursuant to this Article and shall ensure that information provided to the Department that constitutes trade secrets, as that term is defined in G.S. 66-152, and that is designated as confidential or as a trade secret under G.S. 132-1.2, is limited only to the Department, State employees, and other persons who have executed a confidentiality agreement with the owner of such information. Information designated as confidential or as a trade secret under G.S. 132-1.2 shall not be subject to disclosure pursuant to G.S. 132-6.

"§ 143-215.125. Rule making.

The Environmental Management Commission shall adopt any rules necessary for the implementation of this Article. In adopting rules, the Commission shall consult with the Coastal Resources Commission to ensure that the development of statewide permitting requirements is consistent with and in consideration of the characteristics unique to the coastal area of the State to the maximum extent practicable.

"§ 143-215.126. Civil penalties.

(a) The Secretary of Environment and Natural Resources may impose an administrative penalty on a person who constructs a wind energy facility or wind energy facility expansion without obtaining a permit under this Article or who constructs or operates a wind energy facility in violation of its permit terms and conditions. Each day of a continuing violation shall constitute a separate violation. The penalty shall not exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000) per day.

(b) The Secretary of Environment and Natural Resources, irrespective of all other remedies at law, may institute an action for injunctive relief against a person who constructs a wind energy facility without first obtaining a permit under this Article or who constructs or operates a wind energy facility or wind energy facility expansion in violation of its permit terms and conditions."

SECTION 2. This act is effective when it becomes law and applies only to those wind energy facilities or wind energy facility expansions that have not received a written "Determination of No Hazard to Air Navigation" issued by the Federal Aviation Administration on or before that date.

HOUSE BILL 484:
Permitting of Wind Energy Facilities

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 8, 2013
Introduced by:	Reps. J. Bell, Dixon, McElraft, Whitmire	Prepared by:	Jennifer Mundt
Analysis of:	PCS to Fifth Edition H484-CSTAf-14 [v.1]		Legislative Analyst

SUMMARY: House Bill 484 would establish a permitting program for the siting and operation of wind energy facilities in North Carolina.

The PCS would (i) eliminate the proposed change to the policy of the State to promote development of renewable resources in a manner compatible with the efficient use of resources and the State's military and economic interests and (ii) provide that an applicant must comply with the applicable requirements of Chapter 62 of the General Statutes (Public Utilities).

[As introduced, this bill was identical to S491, as introduced by Sen. Brown, which is currently in Senate Ref to Agriculture/Environment/Natural Resources. If fav, re-ref to Finance.]

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 484 would establish a permitting program, to be implemented by the Department of Environment and Natural Resources (Department or DENR), for the siting and operation of wind energy facilities in the State. The bill would create a new Article 21C in Chapter 143 of the General Statutes (Permitting of Wind Energy Facilities).

Definitions: Three new terms are defined for purposes of the Article, "major military installation," "wind energy facility," and "wind energy facility expansion."

Permit to site wind energy facilities: Provides that no person may undertake construction, operation, or expansion activities associated with a wind energy facility without first obtaining a permit from the Department.

Pre-permit application requirements: At least 180 days before filing an application for a permit to construct, operate, or expand a wind energy facility, a permit applicant must request a pre-application site evaluation meeting with DENR to determine if proposed sites pose a serious risk to civil air navigation, military activities, or natural resources. The pre-application site evaluation meeting must be held within 120 days prior to filing an application.

At least 45 days before the date of the pre-application site evaluation meeting, the applicant must submit a pre-application package to DENR that includes: a narrative description and map of the proposed facility, a description of potential impacts to civil air navigation, military activities, or natural resources; and a timetable for development through commercial operation.

At least 21 days before the pre-application site evaluation meeting, DENR must provide written notice to interested parties of the meeting, with an invitation to participate in the meeting, to the United States Army Corps of Engineers, the United States Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS), the North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission (WRC), the commanding military officer of any potentially affected major military installation, and any other party the Department deems relevant.

Scoping meeting and notice: At least 60 days prior to filing an application for a permit to construct, operate, or expand a wind energy facility, the applicant must request a scoping meeting with the Department to review the permit. The scoping meeting must be held within 30 days prior to filing an application.

At least 21 days prior to the scoping meeting, DENR must provide written notice to the commanding officer of each major military installation, the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), WRC, USFWS, the board of commissioners for each county and governing body of each municipality in which the facility is proposed to be located, and those local governments with jurisdictions over areas in which a major military installation is located.

Permit requirements: A permit application for a wind energy facility must include:

- A narrative description of the proposed facility and map showing the location of each turbine.
- A description of civil air navigation or military activities that may be affected by the construction or operation of the proposed facility.
- Documentation addressing any potential adverse impacts on military activities as identified by the Department of Defense (DOD) Clearinghouse[1] and any mitigation actions agreed to by the applicant.
- A study of the noise and shadow flicker[2] impacts of the turbines associated with the proposed facility.
- A study of the proposed facility on natural resources.
- The permit application fee of $3,500.
- A plan for decommissioning and removal of the facility.

Within 10 days of receiving a complete permit application, DENR must provide notice of the permit application, accompanied by a request for information related to potential adverse impacts of the proposed facility, to the commanding military officer of all major military installations, the commanding military officer of any military installation located outside the State that is within 50 nautical miles of the proposed facility, and the board of commissioners and the governing body of each municipality in which the facility is proposed to be located.

Within 75 days of receipt of a complete permit application, the Department must hold a public hearing in each county in which the facility is proposed to be located.

Permit approval and conditions: The Department must approve an application for a proposed wind energy facility unless the Department finds that construction or operation of the facility would:

- Be inconsistent with or violate rules of the Department or any other provision of law.
- Encroach upon or otherwise have a significant adverse impact on military operations.
- Result in significant adverse impacts to natural resources, fish, wildlife, or views from State or national parks and other areas with high recreational values.
- Obstruct major navigation channels.

The Clearinghouse coordinates the efforts of all DOD Components (including the Joint Staff, Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines, and other critical offices) in the assessment of energy project proposals and the coordination of official DOD positions on the impacts of those projects on military missions. http://www.acq.osd.mil/dodsc/

[2] Shadow flicker from wind turbines is the effect resulting from the shadows cast by the rotating blades of the turbine on sunny days. The effect may be more or less pronounced depending on the intensity of the sun/shadow contrast and the distance from the turbines to a receptor. From: Maine Department of Environmental Protection.

- Be denied based on criteria under the Coastal Area Management Act or prohibited under the Mountain Ridge Protection Act.
- Not comply with all applicable federal, State, or local permitting requirements, licenses, or approvals, including local zoning requirements.

Following receipt of a complete application, DENR must make a final a decision on a permit application within 90 days and within a total of 120 days if additional information is requested by the Department. The Department is not required to make a final decision on a permit application until the Department has received a written "Determination of No Hazard to Air Navigation3" (Determination) issued by the FAA. If the application is denied, the Department must return the application to the applicant with a written statement of the reasons for the denial and any modifications that would make the application acceptable.

A permit for a facility may not become effective until the Department has received and reviewed the FAA Determination. If the specific location of a turbine authorized by the FAA Determination or the configuration of the facility varies from the information submitted by the applicant upon which the Department has made its permit decision, the Department may reevaluate the permit application and require the applicant to submit any additional information the Department deems necessary to approve or deny a permit for the facility as reconfigured.

Issuance of a permit for the construction and operation of a wind energy facility by the Department does not obviate the need for the applicant to obtain any and all other local, State, and federal permits, licenses, or approvals.

Financial assurance: The applicant or permit holder must establish financial assurance that will ensure sufficient funds are available for decommissioning of the facility and reclamation of the property to its condition prior to commencement of activities on the site even if the applicant or permit holder becomes insolvent or ceases to reside in, be incorporated, do business, or maintain assets in the State.

Monitoring and reporting: The applicant must submit copies of any required post-construction monitoring annually to the Department.

Annual review of military presence: The Department must consult with representatives of the major military installations to review information pertaining to military operations at least once per year and provide relevant information to permit applicants as requested.

Record keeping: The Department will be responsible for all data, information, and records received from a permit applicant or a major military installation. Information constituting trade secrets or designated as confidential must not be disclosed.

Rulemaking: The Environmental Management Commission must adopt any rules necessary to implement Article 21C and is directed to consult with the Coastal Resources Commission to ensure that the rules are consistent with and in consideration of the characteristics unique to the coastal area.

Civil penalties: Authorizes the Secretary of Environment and Natural Resources to impose an administrative penalty on a person who constructs a wind energy facility without a permit or operates a facility in violation of the permit terms. The Secretary may institute an action for injunctive relief

Dear Representative Bell,

I thought it was important to provide you with some additional information and reinforcement in support of H484. On April 11, 2013 the NC Commanders' Council (NCCC) provided a letter to the NC Advisory Commission on Military Affairs containing the results of their review of proposed bills before the current session. The NCCC selected a variety of bills to provide comment on given their potential impact on military installations, personnel and operations. In particular, the NCCC supported H484/S491. The NCCC is a group comprised of the Commanders of all the military and homeland security installations in North Carolina organized to collectively address military issues impacting their mission and operations in conjunction with the Governor's office and various Cabinet and Council of State representatives.

Sustainment of our military infrastructure is by far one of the most important tasks I have in my role in the Governor's office. The efforts of H484/S491 directly support the development of long-term sustainable land use for both the military and civilian sector by establishing the procedures for coordinating the formation of wind turbine facilities that could potentially impact the military's ability to train in North Carolina. As a reminder, the most heavily weighted factor our installations are graded on in a round of Base Realignment and Closure is their ability to support their training mission. It is important to note that we fully support the economic development of wind energy; however, it must be responsibly coordinated and sited to avoid interfering with critical military missions.

Sincerely,

SENATE BILL 523:
Late Filing Penalty

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 14, 2013
Introduced by:	Sens. Rucho, Rabon, Rabin	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S523-CSTDx-21

SUMMARY: The penalty for failure to file a return is a maximum of 25% of "the amount of the tax." Senate Bill 523 would impose a flat penalty of $100 for failure to file a return for personal income tax, and clarify the amount of the penalty for failure to file a return for all other penalties.

CURRENT LAW: The Department of Revenue is authorized to impose penalties for violations of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes, including penalties for failure to file a return and failure to pay a tax due. The penalty for failure to file a return is applied to "the amount of the tax" and is a minimum of $5 or 5% for the first month and 5% for each additional month, not to exceed 25%. The penalty for a taxpayer that fails to pay a tax is a minimum of $5 or 10% of the tax.

The current practice of the Department is to apply the penalty to the net amount due: the tax imposed minus any credits and any tax paid. This practice results in no penalty for a failure to file a return for which a refund is due.

G.S. 105-236 currently does not define "the amount of the tax." Starting in October, when the new computer system known as the Tax Information Management System (TIMS) is operational, the Department has indicated it will enforce the statute by applying the penalty to the total amount due, not the net amount due. This will result in a penalty for a failure to file a return, even if a refund is due. The penalty will be imposed on the total tax liability, not the tax due at the time of the filing of the return.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 523 would clarify the penalty for failure to file a return.

For failure to file a return for personal income tax the amount of the penalty is $100.

For all other taxes, the penalty is 5% for the first month and 5% for each additional month, not to exceed 25% on "the amount of the tax." Based on the interpretation of the Department "the amount of the tax" will be interpreted as the total tax imposed for the period covered by the return.

Sections 2 and 3 of the bill are conforming changes. The minimum amount for both the penalty for failure to file and the penalty for the failure to pay were repealed at the request of the Department.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective for penalties assessed on or after October 1, 2013.

SENATE BILL 269:
Salisbury/Deannex Rowan Cty Airport Property

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 13, 2013
Introduced by:	Sen. Brock	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette
Analysis of:	First Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 269[1] would deannex a described area from the corporate limits of the City of Salisbury.

CURRENT LAW: Under Section 1 of Article VII of the N.C. Constitution, the General Assembly is empowered to "provide for the organization and government and the fixing of boundaries of counties, cities and towns, and other governmental subdivisions, and, except as otherwise prohibited by this Constitution, may give such powers and duties to counties, cities and towns, and other governmental subdivisions as it may deem advisable."

Pursuant to this Section, the General Assembly enacted Article 4A of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes, which governs municipal annexations by creating a statewide statutory process for cities to expand their territories. The General Assembly has not provided a like process for removing territory from a city's jurisdiction — that power remains with the General Assembly and is accomplished by local act.

BILL ANALYSIS: House Bill 260 would deannex 10 parcels totaling 175.2 acres from the City of Salisbury. These parcels are located near or within the Rowan County airport and are owned by Rowan County. The largest parcel, 470 0010000011 (147.90 acres), constitutes the south end of the airport's runway. The north end of the runway is not in the corporate limits of the City.

The property owned by Rowan County is not subject to municipal property taxes. The private property located at the airport, such as private planes and hangers, would be subject to municipal property taxes. The act also provides that it does not affect the validity of any liens of the City of Salisbury for outstanding ad valorem taxes or special assessments.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

Shelly DeAdder and Brad Krehely contributed substantially to the drafting of this summary.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO AMEND THE AUTHORITY COUNTIES AND CITIES HAVE TO USE SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS TO ADDRESS CRITICAL INFRASTRUCTURE NEEDS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1.(a) G.S. 153A-210.1 reads as rewritten:

"§ 153A-210.1. ~~Purpose.~~Purpose; sunset.

(a) Purpose. – This Article enables counties that face increased demands for infrastructure improvements as a result of rapid growth and development to issue revenue bonds payable from special assessments imposed under this Article on benefited property. This Article supplements the authority counties have in Article 9 of this Chapter. The provisions of Article 9 of this Chapter apply to this Article, to the extent they do not conflict with this Article.

(b) Sunset. – This Article expires July 1, 2015. The expiration does not affect the validity of assessments imposed or bonds issued or authorized under the provisions of this Article prior to the effective date of the expiration."

SECTION 1.(b) G.S. 153A-210.2(c) reads as rewritten:

"(c) Method. – The board of commissioners must establish an assessment method that will most accurately assess each lot or parcel of land subject to the assessments according to the benefits conferred upon it by the project for which the assessment is made. In addition to ~~the~~ other bases upon which assessments may be made under G.S. 153A-186, the board may select any other method designed to allocate the costs in accordance with benefits conferred. In doing so, the board may provide that the benefits conferred are measured on the basis of use being made on the lot or parcel of land and provide for adjustments of assessments upon a change in use, provided that the total amount of all assessments is sufficient to pay the costs of the project after the adjustments have been made."

SECTION 1.(c) G.S. 153A-210.3(a) reads as rewritten:

"(a) Petition. – The board of commissioners may not impose a special assessment under this Article unless it receives a petition for the project to be financed by the assessment signed by (i) at least a majority of the owners of real property to be assessed and (ii) owners who ~~must~~ represent at least sixty-six percent (66%) of the assessed value of all real property to be assessed. For purposes of determining whether the petition has been signed by a majority of owners, an owner who holds title to a parcel of real property alone shall be treated as having one vote each and an owner who shares title to a parcel of real property with one or more other owners shall have a vote equal to one vote multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is one and the denominator of which is the total number of owners of the parcel. For purposes of determining whether the assessed value represented by those signing the petition constitute at least sixty-six percent (66%) of the assessed value of all real property to be assessed, an owner who holds title to a parcel of real property alone shall have the full assessed value of the parcel included in the calculation and an owner who shares title to a parcel of real property with one or more other owners shall have their proportionate share of the full assessed value of the parcel included in the calculation.The petition must include the following:

(1) A statement of the project proposed to be financed in whole or in part by the imposition of an assessment under this Article.

(2) An estimate of the cost of the project.

SECTION 2.(a) G.S. 160A-239.1 reads as rewritten:

"§ 160A-239.1. ~~Purpose.~~Purpose; sunset.

(a) Purpose. – This Article enables cities that face increased demands for infrastructure improvements as a result of rapid growth and development to issue revenue bonds payable from special assessments imposed under this Article on benefited property. This Article supplements the authority cities have in Article 10 of this Chapter. The provisions of Article 10 of this Chapter apply to this Article, to the extent they do not conflict with this Article.

(b) Sunset. – This Article expires July 1, 2015. The expiration does not affect the validity of assessments imposed or bonds issued or authorized under the provisions of this Article prior to the effective date of the expiration."

SECTION 2.(b) G.S. 160A-239.2(c) reads as rewritten:

"(c) Method. – The city council must establish an assessment method that will most accurately assess each lot or parcel of land subject to the assessments according to the benefits conferred upon it by the project for which the assessment is made. In addition to ~~the~~ other bases upon which assessments may be made under G.S. 160A-218, the council may select any other method designed to allocate the costs in accordance with benefits conferred. In doing so, the council may provide that the benefits conferred are measured on the basis of use being made on the lot or parcel of land and provide for adjustments of assessments upon a change in use, provided that the total amount of all assessments is sufficient to pay the costs of the project after the adjustments have been made."

SECTION 2.(c) G.S. 160A-239.3(a) reads as rewritten:

"(a) Petition. – The city council may not impose a special assessment under this Article unless it receives a petition for the project to be financed by the assessment signed by (i) at least a majority of the owners of real property to be assessed and (ii) owners who ~~must~~ represent at least sixty-six percent (66%) of the assessed value of all real property to be assessed. SENATE BILL 103:
Amend Assessments for Infrastructure Needs

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 10, 2013
Introduced by:	Sen. Hartsell	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette
Analysis of:	PCS to First Edition S103-CSRBx-14		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 103 addresses two issues in the special assessment for critical infrastructure needs that have arisen as local governments have considered its use. The proposed committee substitute extends the sunset on this program for two years, from July 1, 2013, to July 1, 2015.

CURRENT LAW: In 2008, the General Assembly gave counties and cities the opportunity to use special assessments on benefitted property as a financing tool for long-term capital projects. Although some local government units have considered using assessment-based financing, sometimes in conjunction with project development financing, no unit has done so to date. The ability to use this financing tool expires July 1, 2013.

Assessment-based financing may be used for any purpose for which project development financing may be used. Those purposes include water and sewer systems, public transportation facilities, school facilities, gas systems, electric systems, industrial parks, parks and recreation facilities, and streets and sidewalks. Special assessments may be pledged as additional security for project development financing debt instruments as well as revenue bond financing debt instruments. If the assessment is pledged to secure financing, the city or county must covenant to enforce the payment of assessments.[1] Special assessments must be paid in annual installments over a period not to exceed 30 years.

A county or city may only impose special assessments if it receives a petition for the project to be financed through assessments that meets a two-prong test:

- The petition must be signed by a majority of the owners of the property assessed.
- And those owners must represent ownership of at least 66% of the assessed value of the property to be assessed.[2]

The county board of commissioners or city must adopt a preliminary assessment resolution that describes the project, the proposed basis for making the assessment, and information concerning the cost of the work and the terms of payment of the assessment. The proposed basis for making the assessment method most accurately assess property according to the benefits conferred upon it by the project for which the assessment is made. The county or city must hold a public hearing on the matter, prepare a preliminary assessment roll, and publish a confirmation of the assessment roll once it is adopted. An owner of property against which an assessment is made may file a notice of appeal to the General Court of Justice if the owner is dissatisfied with the amount of the assessment.

[1] Unpaid assessments bear interest at a rate fixed in the assessment resolution. A county or city may foreclose assessment liens under procedures provided by law for the foreclosure of property tax liens.

[2] For example, if there are 21 owners involved and 10 hold 67% of the assessed value of the property to be assessed, at least one of the other 11 owners would have to sign the petition for the county or city to be able to impose the special assessments. Likewise, if 21 owners are involved and one owner owns 67% of the assessed value of the property, that one owner would have to be one of the signatures on the petition for the county or city to impose the special assessments.

BILL ANALYSIS: The Proposed Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 103 addresses three issues:

- An extension of the sunset date from July 1, 2013, to July 1, 2015.[3]
- An adjustment of the assessment in cases where the use of the benefitted property changes.
- Clarification as to how to apply the two-prong test to parcels of property owned by more than one person.

The original legislation enacted in S.L. 2008-165 contained a sunset date of July 1, 2013. Section 3 removes the sunset date from the effective date of the session law and places it in the statutes. Sections 1(a) and 2(a) extend the sunset date from July 1, 2013, to July 1, 2015.

One assessment method that may be used is one designed to allocate the costs in accordance with the benefits conferred. Sections 1(b) and 2(b)[4] provide that the benefits conferred on an assessed property may be measured by how the property is used and that the assessment on that property may be adjusted over time if the use of the property changes. However, the assessment may not be changed unless the total amount of all the assessments is sufficient to pay the cost of the project after the adjustment is made.

Sections 1(c) and 2(c)[5] address the two-prong ownership tests for properties owned by more than one person:

- A majority of the owners of the properties to be assessed must sign the petition. For purposes of determining a majority, each parcel of property is given one vote. The sole owner of a parcel is given one vote. Multiple owners of a parcel are given a percentage vote equal to one vote multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is one and the denominator of which is the total number of owners of the parcel.
- The petition signers must represent at least 66% of the properties to be assessed. For purposes of determining whether the assessed value represented by those signing the petition constitute at least 66% of the assessed value of all real property to be assessed, 100% of the assessed value of property owned by one person is included in the calculation. For property owned by more than one person, that person's proportionate share of the assessed value of that property is included in the calculation.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act becomes effective when it becomes law and applies to special assessments imposed on or after that date.

[3] Senate Bill 104, also introduced by Sen. Hartsell, would repeal the sunset provision.

[4] Section 1 makes the change in the statutes pertaining to counties and Section 2 makes the same change in the statutes pertaining to cities.

[5] Section 3 pertains to counties and Section 4 pertains to cities.

SENATE BILL 248: Choice of Hearing Aid Specialist

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 13, 2013
Introduced by:	Sen. Hartsell	Prepared by:	Cindy Avrette Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	PCS to Second Edition S248-CSMEf-10

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 656 adds hearing aid specialists to the list of providers from which an individual has the right to choose the provider of services under a health benefit plan. The bill also increases the amount of the fee for licensure that the Board may assess from $250 to $500.

CURRENT LAW:

G.S. 58-50-30 lists the various types of health care providers from which a policy holder, insured, or beneficiary ("insured") may choose under a health benefit plan, subscriber contract, or policy of insurance ("policy"). The services must be of a nature that the policy provides coverage of, or payment or reimbursement. If the policy requires use of network providers, the insured must choose a provider of services within the network. If the policy requires use of network providers as a condition of obtaining a higher level of benefits, the insured must choose a provider of services within network in order to obtain the higher level of benefits.

G.S. 58-50-30 also lists the provider types who are able to complete a certification of disability. When a policy provides for a certification of disability that is within the scope of the enumerated providers, the insured is entitled to benefits as long as one of the listed provider types has completed the certification of disability, notwithstanding any provisions contained in the policy. The insured has the right to choose the provider of services.

The provisions of G.S. 58-50-30 are applicable to the State Health Plan pursuant to G.S. 135-48.51.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Section 1 amends G.S. 58-50-30 to add "a duly licensed hearing aid specialist" to the list of health care providers from which an insured may choose under a policy. A "duly licensed hearing aid specialist" is defined as a person licensed by the North Carolina State Hearing Aid Dealers and Fitters Board (Board) pursuant to Chapter 93D of the General Statutes. The remainder of Section 1 contains technical changes meant increase the readability of the statute by reorganizing the list of providers accounted for under G.S. 58-50-30.

Section 2 changes the amount of the fee for licensure the (Board) may assess. Currently, the Board may assess a fee not to exceed $250. Under Senate Bill 248, that amount is increased to $500.

Section 3 makes a conforming change to G.S. 135-48.51(12), the statute applying G.S. 58-50-30 to the State Health Plan.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The act becomes effective October 1, 2013.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF NORTH CAROLINA

Session 2013

Legislative Actuarial Note

HEALTH BENEFITS

BILL NUMBER: Senate Bill 248 (First Edition)

SHORT TITLE: Choice of Hearing Aid Specialist.

SPONSOR(S): Senator Hartsell

SYSTEM OR PROGRAM AFFECTED: State Health Plan for Teachers and State Employees (Plan).

FUNDS AFFECTED: State General Fund, State Highway Fund, other State employer receipts; premium payments for dependents of active employees and retired employees of State agencies and universities, local public schools and local community colleges; premium payments for coverages selected by eligible former employees; premium payments for coverages selected by firefighters, rescue squad workers, members of the National Guard, and certain authorized local governments.

BILL SUMMARY:

Section 1 of Senate Bill 248 (First Edition) amends G.S. 58-50-30 to add that insured persons have the right to choose any duly licensed hearing aid specialist for services offered within the scope of practice for a duly licensed hearing aid specialist. This change applies to the Plan because G.S. 135-48.51(12) states that the provisions of G.S. 58-50-30 apply to the Plan. The Plan currently covers hearing aids for those members under age 22 and this bill would not expand the set of members or type of hearing aids covered. The Plan typically only covers hearing aids provided in a physician's office and this bill would require the Plan to also cover hearing aids provided by a hearing aid specialist operating independently of a physician. However, the Plan would be able to charge higher out-of-pocket amounts for independent hearing aid specialists, in line with its rules for out-of-network services.

The bill also amends G.S. 93D-5 to increase the licensure fee for persons fitting and selling hearing aids to $500 from $250, which has no effect on the Plan.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The effective date in the First Edition is October 1, 2012, but we understand this to be a typographical error and have assumed, for the purposes of this note, that the effective date will be changed to October 1, 2013.

ESTIMATED IMPACT ON STATE:

The Segal Company, the consulting actuary for the State Health Plan for Teachers and State Employees, estimates that the bill will generate a negligible cost or savings for the Plan based on the very low volume of services and the limited impact of a change in providers.

Hartman & Associates, the consulting actuary for the General Assembly's Fiscal Research Division, estimates that the bill will not have a material financial impact on the Plan based on the Plan's out-of-network rules and the low number of members affected.

ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODOLOGY: The actuarial analyses used by each respective consulting actuary are on file with the Fiscal Research Division. Copies of each respective consulting actuary's analysis, including assumptions, are also attached to the original copy of this Legislative Actuarial note.

Summary Information and Data about the Plan

The Plan administers health benefit coverage for active employees from employing units of State agencies and departments, universities, local public schools, and local community colleges. Eligible retired employees of authorized employing units may also access health benefit coverage under the Plan. Eligible dependents of active and retired employees are authorized to participate in the Plan provided they meet certain requirements. Employees and retired employees of selected local governments may also participate in the Plan under certain conditions. Members of fire, rescue squads, and the National Guard may also obtain coverage under the Plan provided they meet certain eligibility criteria.

The State finances the Plan on a self-funded basis and administers benefit coverage under a Preferred Provider Option (PPO) arrangement. The Plan's receipts are derived through premium contributions, investment earnings and other receipts. Premiums for health benefit coverage are paid by (1) employing agencies for active employees, (2) the Retiree Health Benefit Fund for retired employees, and (3) employees and retirees who participate in the Standard plan or who elect dependent coverage. Total requirements for the Plan are estimated to be $3.05 billion for FY 2013-14 and $3.30 billion for FY 2014-15. The Plan's PPO benefit design includes two alternative benefit levels listed below:

1) The "Basic" 70/30 plan that offers higher out-of pocket requirements in return for lower premiums from employees and retirees; and

2) The "Standard" 80/20 plan.

The Basic plan offers coverage to employees and retired employees on a noncontributory basis. The Standard plan offers coverage to employees and retired employees on a partially contributory basis. Coverage for dependents under both plans is offered on a fully contributory basis.

SENATE BILL 463:
Jail Dormitory Minimum Standards

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 14, 2013
Introduced by:	Sens. Woodard, McKissick	Prepared by:	Heather Fennell Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	First Edition

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 463 would modify the requirement regarding the maximum number of inmates that may be housed in a dormitory of a county detention facility located in certain counties.

CURRENT LAW: Under current law, the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services is directed to establish minimum standards for the operation of local confinement facilities with a view to providing secure custody of prisoners and to protecting their health and welfare and providing for their humane treatment.

The Secretary has adopted an administrative rule (10A NCAC 14J .1226) which provides that each dormitory shall house no more than 40 inmates and shall have:

(1) A minimum floor space of 70 square feet per inmate, including both the sleeping and dayroom areas.

(2) One shower per eight inmates, one toilet per eight inmates, one sink with a security mirror per eight inmates, and one water fountain.

(3) A telephone jack or other telephone arrangement provided within the dormitory.

(4) Space designed to allow a variety of activities.

(5) Sufficient seating and tables for all inmates.

(6) A way for officers to observe the entire area from the entrance.

In 2008, the law was amended to authorize certain county detention facilities to increase dormitory capacity to up to 56 inmates, notwithstanding the administrative rule which required a capacity of no more than 40 inmates. This exception was limited to counties with a population in excess of 600,000 according to the most recent decennial federal census. The initial exception only applied to Wake and Mecklenburg counties.

In 2011, the exception was amended to allow for the housing of 64 inmates in a dormitory and the exception was extended counties with a population in excess of 300,000. This extended the exception to Cumberland, Guilford, and Forsyth counties.

BILL ANALYSIS: Senate Bill 463 would extend the exception for dormitory standards to counties with a population in excess of 250,000. This would extend the exception to Durham County.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This act is effective when it becomes law.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT AUTHORIZING COUNTIES TO ASSUME RESPONSIBILITY FOR CONSTRUCTION, IMPROVEMENT, OWNERSHIP, AND ACQUISITION OF PUBLIC SCHOOL PROPERTY.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Chapter 153A of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 153A-158.1A. Authority to assume responsibility for construction, improvement, ownership, and acquisition of public school property.

(a) Scope. – This section applies only in a county that elects by resolution to assume responsibility for some or all of owning, siting, acquiring, constructing, equipping, expanding, improving, repairing, and renovating property for use by a named school administrative unit located wholly within the county but only to the extent and under the terms and conditions specified in the board of county commissioners' resolution. If such election is made, that school administrative unit shall no longer exercise such power for any construction, improvement, ownership, or acquisition of any property for which the county has made that election; the election may, however, leave the school administrative unit with responsibility for equipment and for maintenance and repairs in categories or amounts named in the resolution.

Any responsibility for school property transferred by resolution pursuant to this section shall be for a minimum period of 10 years, renewable by subsequent resolution of the board of commissioners in 10-year increments.

(b) Construction or Improvement by County. – A county may by resolution elect to construct, equip, expand, improve, repair, renovate, or otherwise make available property for use by a school administrative unit within the county. The county shall consult the board of education in the siting, design, construction, equipping, expansion, improvement, or renovation of the property.

(c) Ownership of School Property. – A county may by resolution provide that any interest in real property or school capital funds presently held by the board of education shall vest in the county. A county may also by resolution provide that any interest in real property or school capital funds acquired for the use of a school administrative unit in the future shall vest in the county. A copy of any such resolution shall be certified by the clerk of the board of commissioners and sent to the clerk of the board of education. The board of education shall, within 30 days of entry of the resolution, execute any documents or deeds necessary to effectuate the transfer under the exact terms set forth in the resolution. The county shall pay the costs of executing the documents or deeds and effectuating the transfer.

As used in this section:

(1) Interest in real property includes, but is not limited to, (i) fixtures, (ii) leaseholds, and (iii) other capital assets.

(2) School capital funds includes, but is not limited to, all or part of (i) funds appropriated to the school capital outlay fund as provided in G.S. 115-426(f)(1) and (2), and (ii) funds allocated for school capital from the Public School Building Capital Fund to the county or to local school administrative units located wholly within that county in accordance with G.S. 115C-546.2(a) and (d).

(d) Insurance of Public School Property. – For school property affected by a resolution entered pursuant to this section, a county may elect to (i) leave current risk management programs operated by the local board of education in place, (ii) secure insurance from the system of insurance operated by the State Board of Education pursuant to Article 38 of Chapter 115C of the General Statutes, (iii) secure insurance from other sources, or (iv) utilize any combination of these options.

Monies paid to a county pursuant to contracts of insurance against loss of capital assets through fire or casualty shall be used to repair or replace the damaged asset or if the asset is not repaired or replaced, placed to the credit of the county capital outlay fund for public schools for appropriation at some future time.

(e) Liability. – A county shall not be liable for the acts or omissions of school employees in or on school property owned, acquired, leased, or improved by the county by a resolution entered pursuant to this section.

(f) Use of School Property. – Any interest in school property, whether real or personal, acquired by a county under the provisions of this section shall be conclusively presumed to be for the exclusive use of the school administrative unit for public school purposes to the same extent as if the property were owned by the local board of education. Therefore, property acquired by a county from a board of education under the provisions of this act shall not constitute the exercise of eminent domain power and shall not otherwise entitle the board of education or school administrative unit to any funds or other consideration for any property so acquired by or transferred to the county.

For school property affected by a resolution entered pursuant to this section, the board of education shall continue to have the exclusive authority to determine whether and when such school property is unnecessary or undesirable for public school purposes, in which event the board of education shall so inform the county board of commissioners. The county shall then either (i) dispose of the property and use the proceeds to reduce the county's bonded indebtedness for schools or for school capital outlay purposes or (ii) use the property for nonschool purposes and use an amount negotiated by the two boards as the fair market value of the property to reduce the county's bonded indebtedness for schools or for school capital outlay purposes."

Prior to the joint meeting, the Senior Resident Superior Court Judge shall appoint a mediator unless the boards agree to jointly select a mediator. The mediator shall preside at the joint meeting and shall act as a neutral facilitator of disclosures of factual information, statements of positions and contentions, and efforts to negotiate an agreement settling the boards' differences.

SECTION 5. G.S. 115C-517 reads as rewritten:

"§ 115C-517. Acquisition of sites.

Local boards of education or boards of county commissioners acting pursuant to G.S. 153A-158.1 or G.S. 153A-158.1A may acquire suitable sites for schoolhouses or other school facilities either within or without the local school administrative unit; but no school may be operated by a local school administrative unit outside its own boundaries, although other school facilities such as repair shops, may be operated outside the boundaries of the local school administrative unit. Whenever any such local board of education is unable to acquire or enlarge a suitable site or right-of-way for a school, school building, school bus garage or for a parking area or access road suitable for school buses or for other school facilities by gift or purchase, condemnation proceedings to acquire same may be instituted by such board under the provisions of Chapter 40A of the General Statutes, and the determination of the local board of education of the land necessary for such purposes shall be conclusive. A board of county commissioners may acquire such property pursuant to G.S. 153A-158.1 or G.S. 153-158.1A."

SECTION 6. G.S. 115C-519 reads as rewritten:

All deeds to school property owned by a county shall, after registration, be delivered to the clerk of the board of county commissioners, and the clerk shall provide a safe place for preserving all such deeds."

SECTION 7. G.S. 115C-521 reads as rewritten:

"§ 115C-521. Erection of school buildings.

(a) It shall be the duty of local boards of education to provide classroom facilities adequate to meet the requirements of G.S. 115C-47(10) and 115C-301. Local boards of education shall submit their long-range plans for meeting school facility needs to the State Board of Education by January 1, 1988, and every five years thereafter.

In developing these plans, local boards of education shall consider the costs and feasibility of renovating old school buildings instead of replacing them. For school facilities for which a county has assumed responsibility pursuant to G.S. 153A-158.1A, the county shall provide the local board of education with information necessary for this consideration.

(b) It shall be the duty of the boards of education of the several local school administrative school units of the State to make provisions for the public school term by providing adequate school buildings equipped with suitable school furniture and apparatus. The needs and the cost of those buildings, equipment, and apparatus, except those for which the county has assumed responsibility pursuant to G.S. 153A-158.1A, shall be presented each year when the school budget is submitted to the respective tax-levying authorities. If the county has assumed responsibility pursuant to G.S. 153A-158.1A for school buildings, the local board of education shall present each year, concurrent with submission of the school budget, the needs for school buildings necessary to provide adequate provisions for the public school term. The boards of commissioners shall be given a reasonable time to provide the funds which they, upon investigation, shall find to be necessary for providing their respective units with buildings suitably equipped, and it shall be the duty of the several boards of county commissioners to provide funds for the same. If the county has assumed responsibility pursuant to G.S. 153A-158.1A for school buildings and there is a dispute regarding whether adequate school buildings have been provided for the public school term by the county, the local board of education and county commissioners may resolve the dispute using the mediation process provided in G.S. 115C-431(a) and (b).

Upon determination by a local board of education that the existing permanent school building does not have sufficient classrooms to house the pupil enrollment anticipated for the school, the local board of education may acquire and use as temporary classrooms for the operation of the school, relocatable or mobile classroom units, whether built on the lot or ~~not, which~~not. If the county has assumed responsibility pursuant to G.S. 153A-158.1A for providing such classrooms, the county may acquire these units upon notice of a determination by the local board of education that the existing permanent school building does not have sufficient classrooms to house the pupil enrollment anticipated for the school. If there is a dispute over the sufficiency of classrooms and need for mobile units between the local board and county commissioners, the local board of education and county commissioners may resolve the dispute using the mediation process provided in G.S. 115C-431(a) and (b). These units and method of use shall meet the approval of the School Planning Division of the State Board of ~~Education,~~ Education and ~~which units~~ shall comply with all applicable requirements of the North Carolina State Building Code and of the local building and electrical codes applicable to the area in

The acquisition and installation of these units shall be subject in all respects to the provisions of Chapter 143 of the General Statutes. The provisions of Chapter 87, Article 1, of the General Statutes, shall not apply to persons, firms or corporations engaged in the sale or furnishing to local boards of education or boards of county commissioners and the delivery and installation upon school sites of classroom trailers as a single building unit or of relocatable or mobile classrooms delivered in less than four units or sections.

(c) The building of all new school buildings and the repairing of all old school buildings shall be under the control and direction of, and by contract with, the board of education for which the building and repairing is ~~done.~~done, or if the county has assumed responsibility pursuant to G.S. 153A-158.1A for such activities, under the control and direction of and by contract with the county. If a board of education or a board of county commissioners is considering building a new school building to replace an existing school building, the board shall not invest any construction money in the new building unless it submits to the State Superintendent and the State Superintendent submits to the North Carolina Historical Commission an analysis that compares the costs and feasibility of building the new building and of renovating the existing building and that clearly indicates the desirability of building the new building. No board of education or board of county commissioners shall invest any money in any new building until it has (i) developed plans based upon a consideration of the State Board's facilities guidelines, (ii) submitted these plans to the State Board for its review and comments, and (iii) reviewed the plans based upon a consideration of the comments it receives from the State Board. No local board of education or board of county commissioners shall contract for more money than is made available for the erection of a new building. However, this subsection shall not be construed so as to prevent boards of education from investing any money in buildings that are being constructed pursuant to a continuing contract of construction as provided for in G.S. 115C-441(c). All contracts for buildings shall be in writing and all buildings shall be inspected, received, and approved by the local superintendent and the architect before full payment is made therefor. Nothing in this subsection shall prohibit boards of education from repairing and altering buildings with the help of janitors and other regular employees of the board.

In the design and construction of new school buildings and in the renovation of existing school buildings that are required to be designed by an architect or engineer under G.S. 133-1.1, the local board of education or the board of county commissioners shall participate in the planning and review process of the Energy Guidelines for School Design and Construction that are developed and maintained by the Department of Public Instruction and shall adopt local energy-use goals for building design and operation that take into account local conditions in an effort to reduce the impact of operation costs on local and State budgets. In the design and construction of new school facilities and in the repair and renovation of existing school facilities, the local board of education or the board of county commissioners shall consider the placement and design of windows to use the climate of North Carolina for both light and ventilation in case of power shortages. A local board shall also consider the installation of solar energy systems in the school facilities whenever practicable.

In the case of any school buildings erected, repaired, or equipped with any money loaned or granted by the State to any local school administrative unit, no board of education or board of county commissioners, if the county has assumed responsibility pursuant to G.S. 153A-158.1A for such activities, shall invest any money until it has (i) developed plans based upon a consideration of the State Board's facilities guidelines, (ii) submitted these plans to the State Board for its review and comments, and (iii) reviewed the plans based upon a consideration of the comments it receives from the State Board.

(c1) No local board of education or board of county commissioners shall apply for a certificate of occupancy for any new middle or high school building until the plans for the science laboratory areas of the building have been reviewed and approved to meet accepted safety standards for school science laboratories and related preparation rooms and stockrooms. The review and approval of the plans may be done by the State Board of Education or by any other entity that is licensed or authorized by the State Board to do so.

(d) Local boards of education shall make no contract for the erection of any school building unless the site upon which it is located is owned in fee simple by the board: Provided, that the board of education of a local school administrative unit, with the approval of the board of county commissioners, may appropriate funds to aid in the establishment of a school facility and the operation thereof in an adjoining local school administrative unit when a written agreement between the boards of education of the administrative units involved has been reached and the same recorded in the minutes of the boards, whereby children from the administrative unit making the appropriations shall be entitled to attend the school so established.

In all cases where title to property has been vested in the trustees of a special charter district which has been abolished and has not been reorganized, title to the property shall be vested in the local board of education of the county embracing the former special charter district.

(e) The State Board of Education shall establish within the Department of Public Instruction a central clearinghouse for access by local boards of education or boards of county commissioners that may want to use a prototype design in the construction of school facilities. The State Board shall compile necessary publications and a computer database to distribute information on prototype designs to local school administrative ~~units.~~ units and to counties that have assumed responsibility for construction of school facilities pursuant to G.S. 153A-158.1A. All architects and engineers registered in North Carolina may submit plans for inclusion in the computer database and these plans may be accessed by any person. The original architect of record or engineer of record shall retain ownership and liability for a prototype design. The State Board may adopt rules it considers necessary to implement this subsection."

SECTION 8. G.S. 115C-524 reads as rewritten:

"§ 115C-524. Repair of school property; use of buildings for other than school purposes.

(a) Repair of school buildings is subject to the provisions of G.S. 115C-521(c) and (d).

(b) It shall be the duty of local boards of education and tax-levying authorities, in order to safeguard the investment made in public schools, to keep all school buildings in good repair to the end that all public school property shall be taken care of and be at all times in proper condition for use. It shall be the duty of all principals, teachers, and janitors to report to their respective boards of education immediately any unsanitary condition, damage to school property, or needed repair. All principals, teachers, and janitors shall be held responsible for the safekeeping of the buildings during the school session and all breakage and damage shall be repaired by those responsible for same, and where any principal or teacher shall permit damage to the public school buildings by lack of proper discipline of pupils, such principal or teacher shall be held responsible for such damage: Provided, principals and teachers shall not be held responsible for damage that they could not have prevented by reasonable supervision in the performance of their duties.

Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 115C-263 and 115C-264, local boards of education may adopt rules and regulations under which they may enter into agreements permitting non-school groups to use school real and personal property, except for school buses, for other than school purposes so long as such use is consistent with the proper preservation and care of the public school property. If a county has assumed ownership of school property pursuant to G.S. 153A-158.1A, the local board of education shall permit the use of that property by nonschool groups only as authorized by the county commissioners. No liability shall attach to any board of education, individually or collectively, or any board of commissioners, individually or collectively, for personal injury suffered by reason of the use of such school property pursuant to such agreements."

SECTION 9. G.S. 115C-526 reads as rewritten:

"§ 115C-526. Reward for information leading to arrest of persons damaging school property.

Local boards of education and counties are authorized and empowered to offer and pay rewards in an amount not exceeding three hundred dollars ($300.00) for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any persons who willfully deface, damage, destroy or commit acts of vandalism or larceny of, the property belonging to the public school system or the county under the jurisdiction of and administered by any local board of education."

SECTION 10. G.S. 115C-530 reads as rewritten:

"§ 115C-530. Operational leases of school buildings and school facilities.

(a) Local boards of education or counties acting pursuant to G.S. 153A-158.1A may enter into operational leases of real or personal property for use as school buildings or school facilities. Operational leases entered into by local boards of education for terms of less than three years shall not be subject to the approval of the board of county commissioners. Operational leases entered into by local boards of education for terms of three years or longer, including periods that may be added to the original term through the exercise of options to renew or extend, are permitted if all of the following conditions are met:

(1) The budget resolution includes an appropriation authorizing the current fiscal year's portion of the obligation.

(2) An unencumbered balance remains in the appropriation sufficient to pay in the current fiscal year the sums obligated by the lease for the current fiscal year.

(3) The leases are approved by a resolution adopted by the board of county commissioners. If an operational lease is approved by the board of county commissioners, in each year the county commissioners shall appropriate sufficient funds to meet the amounts to be paid during the fiscal year under the lease.

(4) Any construction, repair, or renovation of the property is in compliance with the requirements of G.S. 115C-521(c) relating to energy guidelines.

For purposes of this section, an operational lease is defined according to generally accepted accounting principles and may be for new or existing buildings.

(b) Local boards of education or counties acting pursuant to G.S. 153A-158.1A may enter into contracts for the construction, repair, or renovation of leased property if (i) the budget resolution includes an appropriation authorizing the obligation, (ii) an unencumbered balance remains in the appropriation sufficient to pay in the current fiscal year the sums obligated by the transaction for the current fiscal year, and (iii) the construction, repair, or renovation is in compliance with the requirements of G.S. 115C-521(c) relating to energy guidelines. Construction, repair, or renovation work undertaken or contracted by a private developer is subject to the requirements of Article 8 of Chapter 143 of the General Statutes. Contracts for new construction and renovation entered into by a local board of education that are subject to the bidding requirements of G.S. 143-129(a) and which do not constitute continuing contracts for capital outlay must be approved by the board of county commissioners.

(c) Operational leases and contracts entered into under this section are subject to approval by the Local Government Commission under Article 8 of Chapter 159 of the General Statutes if they meet the standards set out in G.S. 159-148(a)(1), 159-148(a)(2), and 159-148(a)(3). For purposes of determining whether the standards set out in G.S. 159-148(a)(3) have been met, only the five hundred thousand dollar ($500,000) threshold shall apply."

SENATE BILL 236:
Counties Responsible for School Construction

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Ref to Education/Higher Education. If fav, re-ref to Finance	Date:	May 15, 2013
Introduced by:	Sens. Hunt, Apodaca, Brunstetter	Prepared by:	Kara McCraw and Drupti Chauhan Committee Counsel
Analysis of:	Second Edition

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 236 would allow certain counties to be responsible for the construction, improvement, ownership and acquisition of public school property. The bill would apply to the following counties: Beaufort, Dare, Davie, Guilford, Harnett, Lee, Rockingham, Rowan, and Wake. The bill would not apply to the Kannapolis City School System.

CURRENT LAW: Local boards of education acquire and own public school properties primarily with funds appropriated to them by local boards of county commissioners. The local boards of education are also responsible for repairs and renovations of public school property. Counties may acquire interest in real or personal property within the county for use by a local school administrative unit (LEA) but only upon the request of the local board of education of that LEA and after a public hearing.

BILL ANALYSIS:

Section 1—County Ownership of School Property: Senate Bill 236 would allow certain counties to elect by resolution to assume some or all of the responsibility for the owing, siting, acquiring, constructing, equipping, expanding, improving, repairing, and renovating of property for use by an LEA located entirely within the county. The resolution of the county commissioners must specify the terms and conditions under which the county assumes such responsibilities and can leave the LEA with the responsibility of equipment and for maintenance and repairs in categories or amounts named in the resolution. Any responsibility transferred by resolution to the county must be for a minimum of 10 years and is renewable by a subsequent resolution of the board of county commissioners in 10 year increments. Items such as furnishings and school buses would not be included in any transfer.

Consultation with LEA: The county must consult the local board of education in the siting, design, construction, equipping, expansion, improvement, or renovation of the property.

Property presently held by LEA: The county resolution may provide that any interest in real property or school capital funds presently held by the local board of education vests in the county and that any future interests in real property acquired for the use of an LEA also vest in the county. Within 30 days of the resolution, the local board of education must execute any documents or deeds needed to effectuate the transfer under the exact terms in the resolution. The county must pay for the costs of executing the documents or deeds and effectuating the transfer.

Insurance of Public School Property: A county can elect to leave current risk management programs operated by the local board of education in place; secure insurance from the insurance system operated by the State Board of Education; secure insurance from other sources; or use any combination of these options. Funds paid to a county through insurance against loss of capital assets through fire or casualty must be used to repair or replace the damaged asset or placed to the credit of the county capital outlay fund for public schools for future appropriation.

Liability: A county is not liable for the acts or omissions of the school employees in or on school property owned, acquired, leased or improved by a county by the resolution.

Use of School Property: Any real or personal interest in school property acquired by a county through the resolution would be conclusively presumed to be for the exclusive use by the LEA for public school purposes to the same extent as if it were owned by the LEA. Any property acquired by the county from the LEA would not constitute the exercise of eminent domain and would not entitle the LEA or local board of education to any funds or other consideration for property acquired by the county through such a transfer.

Property No Longer Needed by LEA: For school property affected by a resolution, the local board of education would continue to have the exclusive authority to determine whether and when the school property is unnecessary or undesirable for public school purposes. When so informed by the local board of education, the county would then either dispose of the property and use the proceeds to reduce the county's bonded indebtedness for schools or for public school capital outlay purposes or use the property for non-school purposes and use an amount negotiated by both boards as the fair market value of the property to reduce the county's bonded indebtedness for schools or for public school capital outlay purposes.

Section 2—Use by Non-School Groups: If a county has assumed ownership of school property, then the local board of education would be able to permit the use of that property by non-school groups only as authorized by the county commissioners.

Section 3—Capital Outlay Fund: To the extent that a county has assumed responsibility for the ownership, acquisition, construction, and improvement of school property through the resolution, the capital outlay fund would not include appropriations for those purposes.

Section 4—Dispute Resolution Between the 2 Boards: This section would make conforming changes and would provide that the procedure for dispute resolution between the local board of education and board of county commissioners regarding funding would not apply to disputes over capital outlay funds for public school buildings if the county has assumed that responsibility by resolution.

Sections 5 and 6—Conforming Changes

Section 7—Erection of School Buildings: Local boards of education are required to submit long range plans for meeting school facility needs to the State Board of Education every five years and must consider the costs and feasibility of renovating old school buildings instead of replacing them. Local boards of education are responsible for providing adequate school buildings, and must provide those needs and costs as a part of the annual budget resolution to the county commissioners. This section would provide that if the county has assumed responsibility for the school buildings, the local board of education would present the needs for school buildings along with the submission of the school budget. Any disputes on the adequacy of school buildings or mobile classrooms would be resolved through mediation. The section would also make conforming changes.

Sections 8, 9, and 10—Conforming Changes

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO AMEND MARINE FISHERIES LAWS, AMEND THE LAW GOVERNING THE CONSTRUCTION OF TERMINAL GROINS, AMEND CAMA PERMITTING LAWS, AND CLARIFY THAT CITIES AND COUNTIES MAY ENFORCE ORDINANCES WITHIN THE STATE'S PUBLIC TRUST AREAS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

PART I. AMEND MARINE FISHERIES LAW

SECTION 1. G.S. 113-172 reads as rewritten:

"§ 113-172. License agents.

(a) The Secretary shall designate license agents for the Department. ~~At least one license agent shall be designated for each county that contains or borders on coastal fishing waters. The Secretary may designate additional license agents in any county if the Secretary determines that additional agents are needed to provide efficient service to the public.~~ The Division and license agents designated by the Secretary under this section shall issue licenses authorized under this Article in accordance with this Article and the rules of the Commission. The Secretary may require license agents to enter into a contract that provides for their duties and compensation, post a bond, and submit to reasonable inspections and audits. If a license agent violates any provision of this Article, the rules of the Commission, or the terms of the contract, the Secretary may initiate proceedings for the forfeiture of the license agent's bond and may summarily suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew a designation as a license agent and may impound or require the return of all licenses, moneys, record books, reports, license forms and other documents, ledgers, and materials pertinent or apparently pertinent to the license agency. The Secretary shall report evidence or misuse of State property, including license fees, by a license agent to the State Bureau of Investigation as provided by G.S. 114-15.1.

(b) License agents shall be compensated by adding a surcharge of one dollar ($1.00) to each license sold and retaining the surcharge. If more than one license is listed on a consolidated license form, the license agent shall be compensated as if a single license were sold. It is unlawful for a license agent to add more than the surcharge authorized by this section to the fee for each license sold."

SECTION 2.(a) G.S. 113-168.5 reads as rewritten:

"(a), (b) Repealed by Session Laws 1998-225, s. 4.14.

~~(c) Menhaden Endorsements. Except as provided in G.S. 113-169, it is unlawful to use a vessel to take menhaden by purse seine in coastal fishing waters, to land menhaden taken by purse seine, or to sell menhaden taken by purse seine without obtaining a menhaden endorsement of a SCFL. The fee for a menhaden endorsement shall be two dollars ($2.00) per~~

~~ton, based on gross tonnage as determined by the custom house measurement for the mother ship. The menhaden endorsement shall be required for the mother ship but no separate endorsement shall be required for a purse boat carrying a purse seine. The application for a menhaden endorsement must state the name of the person in command of the vessel. Upon a change in command of a menhaden vessel, the owner must notify the Division in writing within 30 days.~~

(d) Shellfish Endorsement for North Carolina Residents. – The Division shall issue a shellfish endorsement of a SCFL to a North Carolina resident at no charge. The holder of a SCFL with a shellfish endorsement is authorized to take and sell shellfish."

SECTION 2.(b) G.S. 113-169 is repealed.

SECTION 2.(c) G.S. 113-168.2(a1) reads as rewritten:

"(a1) Use of Vessels. – The holder of a SCFL is authorized to use only one vessel in a commercial fishing operation at any given time. The Commission may adopt a rule to exempt from this requirement a person in command of a vessel that is auxiliary to a vessel engaged in a pound net operation, long-haul operation, or beach seine ~~operation, or menhaden~~ operation."

PART II. AMEND TERMINAL GROIN CONSTRUCTION LAW

SECTION 3.(a) G.S. 113A-115.1 reads as rewritten:

"§ 113A-115.1. Limitations on erosion control structures.

(a) As used in this section:

(1) "Erosion control structure" means a breakwater, bulkhead, groin, jetty, revetment, seawall, or any similar structure.

(1a) "Estuarine shoreline" means all shorelines that are not ocean shorelines that border estuarine waters as defined in G.S. 113A-113(b)(2).

(2) "Ocean shoreline" means the Atlantic Ocean, the oceanfront beaches, and frontal dunes. The term "ocean shoreline" includes an ocean inlet and lands adjacent to an ocean inlet but does not include that portion of any inlet and lands adjacent to the inlet that exhibits characteristics of estuarine shorelines.

(3) "Terminal groin" means ~~a structure that is~~one or more structures constructed on the side of an inlet at the terminus of an island generally perpendicular to the shoreline to limit or control sediment passage into the inlet channel.

(b) No person shall construct a permanent erosion control structure in an ocean shoreline. The Commission shall not permit the construction of a temporary erosion control structure that consists of anything other than sandbags in an ocean shoreline. This ~~section~~ subsection shall not apply to any of the following:

(1) Any permanent erosion control structure that is approved pursuant to an exception set out in a rule adopted by the Commission prior to July 1, 2003.

(2) Any permanent erosion control structure that was originally constructed prior to July 1, 1974, and that has since been in continuous use to protect an inlet that is maintained for navigation.

(3) Any terminal groin permitted pursuant to this section.

(b1) This section shall not be construed to limit the authority of the Commission to adopt rules to designate or protect areas of environmental concern, to govern the use of sandbags, or to govern the use of erosion control structures in estuarine shorelines.

(c) The Commission may renew a permit for an erosion control structure issued pursuant to a variance granted by the Commission prior to July 1, 1995. The Commission may authorize the replacement of a permanent erosion control structure that was permitted by the Commission pursuant to a variance granted by the Commission prior to July 1, 1995, if the Commission finds that: (i) the structure will not be enlarged beyond the dimensions set out in the original permit; (ii) there is no practical alternative to replacing the structure that will provide the same or similar benefits; and (iii) the replacement structure will comply with all applicable laws and with all rules, other than the rule or rules with respect to which the Commission granted the variance, that are in effect at the time the structure is replaced.

(d) Any rule that prohibits permanent erosion control structures shall not apply to terminal groins permitted pursuant to this section.

(e) In addition to the requirements of Part 4 of Article 7 of Chapter 113A of the General Statutes, an applicant for a permit for the construction of a terminal groin shall submit all of the following to the Commission:

(1) Information to demonstrate that structures or infrastructure are ~~imminently threatened by erosion, and nonstructural approaches to erosion control, including relocation of threatened structures, are impractical.~~threatened by erosion.

(2) An environmental impact statement that satisfies the requirements of G.S. 113A-4. An environmental impact statement prepared pursuant to the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA), 42 U.S.C. § 4321, et seq., for the construction of the terminal groin shall satisfy the requirements of this subdivision.

(3) A list of property owners and local governments that may be affected by the construction of the proposed terminal groin and its accompanying beach fill project and proof that the property owners and local governments have been notified of the application for construction of the terminal groin and its accompanying beach fill project.

(4) A plan for the construction and maintenance of the terminal groin and its accompanying beach fill project prepared by a professional engineer licensed to practice pursuant to Chapter 89C of the General Statutes.

(5) A plan for the management of the inlet and the estuarine and ocean shorelines immediately adjacent to and under the influence of the inlet. The inlet management plan monitoring and mitigation requirements must be reasonable and are not required to address unduly speculative or remote matters or impose requirements whose cost outweigh the benefits. The inlet management plan is not required to address sea level rise. The inlet management plan shall do all of the following relative to the terminal groin and its accompanying beach fill project:

a. Describe the post-construction activities that the applicant will undertake to monitor the impacts on coastal resources.

b. Define the baseline for assessing any adverse impacts and the thresholds for when the adverse impacts must be mitigated.

c. Provide for mitigation measures to be implemented if adverse impacts reach the thresholds defined in the plan.

d. Provide for modification or removal of the terminal groin if the adverse impacts cannot be mitigated.

(6) Proof of financial assurance in the form of a bond, insurance policy, escrow account, or other financial instrument that is adequate to cover the cost ~~of:~~

~~a. Long-term maintenance and monitoring of the terminal groin.~~

~~b. Implementation of mitigation measures as provided in the inlet management plan.~~

~~c. Modification~~ of modification or removal of the terminal groin as provided in the inlet management plan.

~~d. Restoration of public, private, or public trust property if the groin has an adverse impact on the environment or property.~~

(f) The Commission shall issue a permit for the construction of a terminal groin if the Commission finds no grounds for denying the permit under G.S. 113A-120 and the Commission finds all of the following:

(1) The applicant has complied with all of the requirements of subsection (e) of this section.

~~(2) The applicant has demonstrated that structures or infrastructure are imminently threatened by erosion and that nonstructural approaches to erosion control, including relocation of threatened structures, are impractical.~~

(3) The terminal groin will be accompanied by a concurrent beach fill project to prefill the groin.

(4) Construction and maintenance of the terminal groin will not result in significant adverse impacts to private property or to the public recreational beach. In making this finding, the Commission shall take into account the potential benefits of the project, including protection of beaches, protective dunes, wildlife habitats, roads, homes, and infrastructure, and mitigation measures, including the accompanying beach fill project, that will be incorporated into the project design and construction and the inlet management plan.

~~(5) The inlet management plan is adequate for purposes of monitoring the impacts of the proposed terminal groin and mitigating any adverse impacts identified as a result of the monitoring.~~

(6) Except to the extent expressly modified by this section, the project complies with State guidelines for coastal development adopted by the Commission pursuant to G.S. 113A-107.

~~(g) The Commission may issue no more than four permits for the construction of a terminal groin pursuant to this section.~~

~~(h) No permit may be issued where funds are generated from any of the following financing mechanisms and would be used for any activity related to the terminal groin or its accompanying beach fill project:~~

~~(1) Special obligation bonds issued pursuant to Chapter 159I of the General Statutes.~~

~~(2) Nonvoted general obligation bonds issued pursuant to G.S. 159-48(b)(4).~~

~~(3) Financing contracts entered into under G.S. 160A-20 or G.S. 159-148.~~

(i) No later than September 1 of each year, the Coastal Resources Commission shall report to the Environmental Review Commission on the implementation of this section. The report shall provide a detailed description of each proposed and permitted terminal groin and its accompanying beach fill project, including the information required to be submitted pursuant to subsection (e) of this section. For each permitted terminal groin and its accompanying beach fill project, the report shall also provide all of the following:

(1) The findings of the Commission required pursuant to subsection (f) of this section.

(2) The status of construction and maintenance of the terminal groin and its accompanying beach fill project, including the status of the implementation of the plan for construction and maintenance and the inlet management plan.

(3) A description and assessment of the benefits of the terminal groin and its accompanying beach fill project, if any.

(4) A description and assessment of the adverse impacts of the terminal groin and its accompanying beach fill project, if any, including a description and assessment of any mitigation measures implemented to address adverse impacts."

SECTION 3.(b) Sections 3 and 4 of S.L. 2011-387 are repealed.

PART III. AMEND CAMA PERMITTING LAW

SECTION 4. G.S. 113A-120 is amended by adding a new subsection to read:

"(d) Review of a permit application submitted pursuant to this Article shall be limited to consideration of areas of environmental concern officially designated as such at the time the application was submitted and shall not include consideration of any areas that have not been designated as areas of environmental concern or for which a designation as an area of environmental concern is pending at the time the application was submitted."

PART IV. CLARIFY THAT CITIES MAY ENFORCE ORDINANCES WITHIN THE STATE'S PUBLIC TRUST AREAS

SECTION 5.(a) Article 8 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read as follows:

"§ 160A-203. Municipalities may enforce ordinances in public trust areas.

(a) Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 113-131 or any other provision of law, a city may, by ordinance, define, prohibit, regulate, or abate acts, omissions, or conditions upon the State's ocean beaches and prevent or abate any unreasonable restriction of the public's rights to use the State's ocean beaches. A city may enforce any ordinance adopted pursuant to this section or any other provision of law upon the State's ocean beaches located within or adjacent to the city's jurisdictional boundaries to the same extent that a city may enforce ordinances within the city's jurisdictional boundaries. For purposes of this section, the term "ocean beaches" has the same meaning as in G.S. 77-20(e).

(b) The authority of a city under this section includes, but is not limited to, the following:

(1) A city may regulate, restrict, or prohibit the placement, development, maintenance, repair, alteration, improvement, location, or use of structures, equipment, personal property, or debris upon the State's ocean beaches located within or adjacent to the city's jurisdictional boundaries.

(2) Any ordinance adopted by the city may provide for summary procedures to remove or abate any unreasonable restrictions on the public's rights to use the State's ocean beaches located within or adjacent to the city's jurisdictional boundaries. However, any procedure potentially resulting in the removal or demolition of an otherwise lawful building or structure that is not in imminent danger of collapse shall include provisions that provide the record owner of the building or structure with notice and a hearing and the city with a means to recover costs that are the same as or equivalent to the following: service of complaints and orders as provided in G.S. 160A-445; notice and hearing as provided in G.S. 160A-443(2); findings of fact and order as provided in G.S. 160A-443(3)b. and G.S. 24 160A-443(5); liens as provided in G.S. 160A-443(6); and remedies as provided in G.S. 160A-446.

(3) A city may enforce a violation of any ordinance adopted pursuant to this section by any remedy provided for in G.S. 160A-175. A city may, in lieu of any other remedy provided for in this section, seek a court order from a court of competent jurisdiction to remove or abate a building or structure that is in violation of an ordinance adopted under this section.

(c) Nothing in this section shall be construed to (i) limit the authority of the State or any State agency to regulate the State's ocean beaches as authorized by G.S. 113-131, or common law as interpreted and applied by the courts of this State; (ii) limit any other authority granted to cities by the State to regulate the State's ocean beaches; (iii) deny the existence of the authority recognized in this section prior to the date this section becomes effective; or (iv) impair the right of the people of this State to the customary free use and enjoyment of the State's ocean beaches, which rights remain reserved to the people of this State as provided in G.S. 77-20(d). Nothing in this section changes or modifies existing common or statutory law with respect to the riparian, littoral, or other ownership rights of owners of property bounded by the Atlantic Ocean."

SECTION 5.(b) G.S. 113-131 reads as rewritten:

"§ 113-131. Resources belong to public; stewardship of conservation agencies; grant and delegation of powers; injunctive relief.

(a) The marine and estuarine and wildlife resources of the State belong to the people of the State as a whole. The Department and the Wildlife Resources Commission are charged with stewardship of these resources.

(b) The following powers are hereby granted to the Department and the Wildlife Resources Commission and may be delegated to the Fisheries Director and the Executive Director:

(1) Comment on and object to permit applications submitted to State agencies which may affect the public trust resources in the land and water areas subject to their respective management duties so as to conserve and protect the public trust rights in such land and water areas;

(2) Investigate alleged encroachments upon, usurpations of, or other actions in violation of the public trust rights of the people of the State; and

(3) Initiate contested case proceedings under Chapter 150B for review of permit decisions by State agencies which will adversely affect the public trust rights of the people of the State or initiate civil actions to remove or restrain any unlawful or unauthorized encroachment upon, usurpation of, or any other violation of the public trust rights of the people of the State or legal rights of access to such public trust areas.

(c) Whenever there exists reasonable cause to believe that any person or other legal entity has unlawfully encroached upon, usurped, or otherwise violated the public trust rights of the people of the State or legal rights of access to such public trust areas, a civil action may be instituted by the responsible agency for injunctive relief to restrain the violation and for a mandatory preliminary injunction to restore the resources to an undisturbed condition. The action shall be brought in the superior court of the county in which the violation occurred. The institution of an action for injunctive relief under this section shall not relieve any party to such proceeding from any civil or criminal penalty otherwise prescribed for the violation.

(d) The Attorney General shall act as the attorney for the agencies and shall initiate actions in the name of and at the request of the Department or the Wildlife Resources Commission.

(e) In this section, the term "public trust resources" means land and water areas, both public and private, subject to public trust rights as that term is defined in G.S. 1-45.1.

(f) Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, a city may adopt and enforce ordinances as provided in G.S. 160A-203."

PART V. EFFECTIVE DATE

SECTION 6. Sections 3 and 4 of this act are effective when the act becomes law and apply to permit applications submitted on or after that date. Section 5 of this act becomes effective July 1, 2013. The remainder of this act is effective when it becomes law.

SENATE BILL 151:
Coastal Policy Reform Act of 2013

2013-2014 General Assembly

Committee:	Senate Finance	Date:	May 15, 2013
Introduced by:	Senator Rabon	Prepared by:	Jeff Hudson
Analysis of:	Second Edition		Committee Counsel

SUMMARY: Senate Bill 151 would amend laws relating to marine fisheries licenses, the construction of terminal groins, Coastal Area Management Act permitting, and the ability of cities to enforce ordinances within public trust areas.

CURRENT LAW AND BILL ANALYSIS:

Senate Bill 151 would make the following changes to State coastal law:

Part I. Amend Marine Fisheries Law

Under current law, the Secretary of Environment and Natural Resources (Secretary) is required to designate at least one license agent in each county bordering coastal fishing waters. Section 1 would remove this requirement.

In 2012, the General Assembly made it unlawful to take menhaden by the use of a purse seine net deployed by a mother ship and one or more runner boats in coastal fishing waters. Section 2 would repeal various licenses for the taking of menhaden by these means.

Part II. Amend Terminal Groin Construction Law

In 2011, the General Assembly authorized the permitting and construction of up to four terminal groins on the ocean shorelines of inlets under certain circumstances. Section 3 would make the following changes to the 2011 law:

- Provide that an environmental impact statement prepared for a terminal groin pursuant to federal law is sufficient to satisfy the requirements of the State terminal groin law.
- Repeal the requirement for financial assurance adequate to cover the cost of:
  - Long term maintenance and monitoring of the terminal groin.
  - Implementation of mitigation measures set out in the inlet management plan.
  - Restoration of public, private, or public trust property if the groin has an adverse impact on the environment or property.
- Provide that the requirements of an inlet management plan must be reasonable and may not be required to address speculative matters or impose requirements whose costs outweigh the benefits.
- Repeal the requirement that an applicant for a terminal groin demonstrate that structures or infrastructure are imminently threatened by erosion and that nonstructural approaches to erosion control, including relocation of threatened structures, are impractical.

- Provide that the Coastal Resources Commission (CRC) consider the benefits of a terminal groin when determining whether the terminal groin will result in significant adverse impacts to private property or the public beach.
- Repeal the requirement that the inlet management plan be adequate for purposes of monitoring and mitigating the impacts of the terminal groin.
- Repeal the limitation that no more than four terminal groins may be permitted.
- Repeal the prohibition on the use of certain types of local government financing to construct a terminal groin.
- Repeal the prohibition on using State funds to construct a terminal groin unless the General Assembly enacts legislation appropriating funds explicitly for such purpose.
- Repeal the direction to the Department of Environment and Natural Resources to adopt rules to implement the terminal groin law.

Part III. Amend CAMA Permitting Law

The Coastal Area Management Act (CAMA) requires any person developing property in an area of environmental concern to obtain a CAMA permit. Section 4 would limit areas of environmental concern to those areas so designated at the time the permit application is submitted.

Part IV. Clarify that Cities May Enforce Ordinances within the State's Public Trust Areas

In 2012, the North Carolina Court of Appeals held that only the Attorney General may initiate an action to abate and remove unreasonable interferences with public trust rights on the State's ocean beaches. Section 5.(a) would clarify that cities may adopt and enforce ordinances on the State's ocean beaches and abate unreasonable interferences with public trust rights on State's ocean beaches. Any ordinance allowing the removal of a structure to abate an interference with public trust rights must provide the owner of the structure with notice and a hearing. In order for the city to recover the costs of demolition and removal of a structure, the ordinance must set forth procedural requirements equivalent to those in the Minimum Housing Standards in Chapter 160A of the General Statutes. Section 5.(b) would make a clarifying change to provide that cities may adopt and enforce ordinances on the State's ocean beaches as provided in Section 5.(a).

EFFECTIVE DATE: The provisions governing the issuance of terminal groin and CAMA permits would become effective when the act becomes law and apply to permit applications submitted on or after that date. The provisions governing the ability of cities to enforce ordinances within public trust areas would become effective July 1, 2013. The remainder of the act would become effective when the act becomes law.

Revenue received from local sales and use taxes that is restricted for public school capital outlay purposes pursuant to G.S. 105-502 or G.S. 105-487 may be used to meet the local matching requirement. Funds expended by a county after July 1, 1986, for land acquisition, engineering fees, architectural fees, or other directly related costs for a public school building capital project that was not completed prior to July 1, 1987, may be used to meet the local match requirement.

The Office of State Budget and Management shall ensure the savings from any authorized agreement shall be included in the IT Internal Service Fund rate calculations before approving annual proposed rates. Any savings resulting from the agreements shall be returned to agencies included in the contract in the form of reduced rates. Beginning October 1, 2013, the Statewide Information Technology Procurement Office shall report to the Joint Legislative Oversight Committee on Information Technology and the Fiscal Research Division on its progress toward standardizing information technology personal services contracts. For projects where the capability already exists, the Office of the State CIO shall assist the agency with implementing the existing capability.

(2) Identify existing projects that can best support a specific information technology capability for multiple agencies and work to transition all agencies requiring the specific capability to the identified projects.

(3) When State agencies request approval for new projects, determine if the information technology project can be implemented using an existing application, or if the new project has the potential to support multiple agencies' requirements.

(4) Provide quarterly reports on progress toward eliminating duplication to the Joint Legislative Oversight Committee on Information Technology and the Fiscal Research Division.

(5) Ensure that contracts for information technology allow the addition of other agencies' requirements within the terms of the existing contracts.

SECTION 7.9.(c) All State agencies shall coordinate any Geographic Information System (GIS) initiatives through the Center for Geographic Information and Analysis (CGIA) in the Office of Information Technology Services, as well as the Office of the State CIO, to ensure that existing capabilities are not being duplicated.
